Atcheson, Ike In Dispute

WASHINGTON (UP)—A stinging dispute raged today between the White House and former Secretary of State Dean Acheson over whether President Eisenhower recommended in 1957 that American troops be pulled out of Korea.

A tornado struck the John Sims ranch, located ten miles northeast of Pampa on the Miami highway, between 4:30 and 5 yesterday afternoon and last night. reconsider the group's tentative $2,500,000,000 cut in the defense budget. "I think the President is absolutely right in opposing rash, indiscriminate reductions," Mahon said. "Whatever cuts are made by our subcommittee will be designed to improve efficiency and economy of our military forces."

The President, who warned Tuesday night of "probable consequences" from any "material" cut in his $36,200,000,000 defense budget, told his news conference Wednesday he could "not see" how an "honest" cut of such magnitude could be made.

Other Budget Blows Elsewhere on the budget front, observers were referring to a "Black Tuesday" for the President's program. In solar plexus blows: —The Senate, by overwhelming 61-15 vote, slashed another $15,000,000 from the U.S. Information Agency despite a last-minute plea from the President—making a total cut of 37 per cent in requested funds for the overseas propaganda agency. It then passed a conference on an economy-style appropriation for the State and Justice Departments including the USIA money.

Texas Solon Riled At Ike, Montgomery

AUSTIN (UP)—State Sen. Dorsey Hardeman was loudly applauded Wednesday when he lashed out at President Eisenhower and British Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery for criticizing Gen. Robert E. Lee.

north side of the house where it had damaged trees. Shingles were blown from the roof of the house and from the garage but no other damage was apparent to these buildings. A windmill located on the north side of the group of buildings was blown down but the water tank next to it was undamaged.

At least three other places were damaged in Old Mobeette area. The D. C. Pruet place, about 1 1/2 miles northeast of the Patterson place, was damaged by the storm and a barn was damaged at the Otis Vernon place about one-half mile southeast of the Pruet place. About one-half mile southeast of the Vernon place several buildings were blown away and trees uprooted on the Henry Snelgrove place.

A tornado damaged the barn and garage on the Alfred Cowan farm located nine miles northwest of Miami, according to reports received from the Miami Chief this morning. Two employees of the Windsor Well Servicing Company reported that a tornado struck the ground on the Old Miami highway about two miles east and two miles north of the intersection with the Perryton highway. They did not know the name of the owner of the place the storm hit but reported that the storm blew over the garage and pinned a man under the debris. This is believed to have been the Alfred Cowan place but attempts to confirm this today were unsuccessful.

GROOM REPORTS FUNNEL Another tornado was reported four miles east of Groom yesterday afternoon. Max Wade at the Groom News said that the twister had blown over a windmill and damaged a garage and barn on the J. W. Angel place and that reports of damage to other farms in the area had been received but had not been confirmed this morning. Wade also reported that a metal grainery from one of the farms south of Highway 66 four miles east of Groom was in the ditch on the south side of the highway. A total of 6.40 inches of rain was (See TWISTERS, Page 3)

OLD MOBEETTIE HIT Another tornado hit Old Mobeettie at about 8:30 last night and took the porch and the roof from two front rooms of the Jess Patterson place. The Pattersons, their daughter and a friend of the daughter took refuge in a storm cellar. The storm blew the door off the cellar and bricks from a porch pillar landed in the cellar. None of the people were injured, however.

At least three other places were damaged in Old Mobeettie area. The D. C. Storm Hits Sleeping South Plains Town

SILVERTON, Tex. (UP)—A tornado descended upon the sleeping town of Silverton late Wednesday night like an exploding cloud of red sand and 18 torn bodies were recovered today from ditches and under piles of wreckage.

Sheriff John Lanham said at least 80 were injured. Eight of these were in critical condition. "My man up there tells me he has seen and counted 18 bodies and identified them at least to the extent of probable age," Highway Patrol Capt. J. W. Blackwell said at his district headquarters in Amarillo. "He says there are other bodies he has just not been able to get to yet."

"It looks like 19 to 20 dead is about right." "Dipped and Popped" "It dipped and popped and looked like red sand boiling and rumbling when it hit," Mrs. Billy Stevens said. "It looked like a real low cloud that had a belly on it and then it began moving through town."

The tornado was one of at least a dozen that ripped through the Texas Panhandle and South Plains Wednesday night, injuring at least six other persons and shattering homes and barns at scattered points. The tornado destroyed 25 homes in Silverton, a town of about 850 residents. Fifteen more were badly damaged and another 15 slightly damaged. A cotton gin was destroyed, along with four grain elevators and a barracks for Mexican cotton pickers.

Tells of Losing Family Rance Stephens Sr., wandering about in a daze picking up scattered belongings, told a pitiful story of losing his son, Rance, 29, his daughter-in-law, Mildred Stephens, and three grandchildren — Bruce, 5; Allen, 4, and Rhonda Kay, 2.

The house next to the one Rance Stephens Jr. and his family lived in was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Verall L. Vaughn, who were Mrs. Stephens' parents. They also were killed.

The elder Stephens said that since the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn, Mrs. Mildred Stephens and the Vaughns were all in nightclothes, it looked as if they were in bed.

The body of his son was fully dressed and turned up in front of his home. The elder Stephens said his son apparently was up watching a favorite TV program.

Heard Roar Raymond Grewe said he heard a roar, ran to his front door, looked out and saw it coming. "I told my wife, 'Honey, it's too late to run now,'" he said. "I looked at it a few seconds. I knew my house was on the edge of it."

"It sounded like the darndest freight train you ever heard. My wife went into a closet. I went into a kitchen and, like a fool, closed the door. Consequently, it blew out all my windows. It passed the south side of the house, but the only damage was to the north side."

The tornado disgorged pieces of lumber and furniture from the homes it wrecked for a mile around. There was nothing except the foundation left of some homes. Five members of one family were reported killed.

United Press correspondent Tom Higley said six bodies were loaded into one pickup truck. The dying and injured were parceled out to hospitals in larger towns surrounding it.

Dr. C. H. Black said he had treated 50 or 60 persons himself, all covered with mud and suffering from shock, head injuries and cuts. The more seriously injured were sent to larger hospitals at Lockney, Lubbock, Dimmitt, Tulia and Amarillo.

Sensed Something Wrong Capt. Blackwell's figure of 58 injured evidently included only those in serious enough condition to be kept in hospitals.

The Rev. James Patterson, pastor of the First Methodist Church, said he stepped out on his front porch the instant it was over. "I knew something was wrong, because it was so still," he said. "But I never did see the funnel."

A. L. Chick, member of a geological team that was staying in Silverton, walked through the stricken area after it hit. He saw the bodies of an old man and an old woman lying in the water in the street.

The tornado hit the southwestern part of the town's residential section, Higley said. It looked as if the funnel smashed squarely upon five houses in a row. There was nothing left of them but the foundations. "Cars looked as if a giant had picked them up in his fist and (See SILVERTON, Page 3)

FRANK SWEENEY ... to speak here

Realtor To Speak Here On Friday

Frank Sweeney, field executive of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, will spend the next few days here consulting with local realtors and other business leaders.

Sweeney will come here from the Lincoln, Neb., office of the association, which has its headquarters in Chicago.

During his visit, Sweeney will address the Pampa Real Estate Board at its noon meeting Friday in the Pine Room of the Pampa Hotel. He will speak on "Good Business Ahead in Building Better Communities." Everyone in Pampa is invited to attend the Friday meeting, Campbell said.

"We are looking forward to Sweeney's visit," Campbell said, "not only for the information that he will bring us about our business, but for the opportunity we will have to show him our community and discuss with him its future. We are proud of Pampa and hope that he will find occasion to refer to it in his visits to other local boards in our state and neighboring states."

Sweeney has been engaged in real estate activity for more than 20 years.

Atcheson, Ike In Dispute

WASHINGTON (UP)—A stinging dispute raged today between the White House and former Secretary of State Dean Acheson over whether President Eisenhower recommended in 1957 that American troops be pulled out of Korea.

Acheson, in a rare outburst against a government leader, charged angrily Wednesday night that Eisenhower proposed the withdrawal while he was Army chief of staff in 1947. He said the State Department opposed the recommendation "but eventually bowed to the insistent views of the military."

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty retorted that Acheson's statement "missed the entire point." He said the troop pullout—which was made in 1949—was a "political decision, not a military one."

He said he would issue further comments today when he had studied Acheson's statement in detail.

Acheson's remarks, issued through the Democratic National Committee, were prompted by remarks Eisenhower made while defending his budget in a televised speech Tuesday night.

Ernie Is Doing Everything But Perform As TV Comic

By ALINE MOSBY
 United Press Hollywood Writer
HOLLYWOOD, (UP)— Thanks to one half-hour TV comedy show four months ago, Ernie Kovacs is making his debut as a movie star, novelist, dramatic TV actor and nightclub performer — everything but TV comedy.

Ernie has been the unsung comedy genius of TV with a spotty career. He has been under contract to NBC for so long he has almost lost the exact number of years.

His offbeat humor, wide mustache and $2 cigars were seen mainly as a summer replacement on the "Tonight" show until he finally was starred on one program Jerry Lewis' debut as a TV single.

NBC executives paled when they heard he was writing, directing and starring in an all-silent comedy program, he recalled over the other day. But the final result brought him magazine covers, happy reviews and a booming career — in every field but TV comedy.

Kovacs quickly was signed for his first film job as a comedy heavy vs. Jack Lemmon in Columbia studio's "Operation Mad Bull." His first novel, "Zoomar," about the TV industry, was snapped up for publication. He plans to turn it into a screenplay and direct same for his own independent movie firm.

CBS sent him offers of dramatic roles on "Playhouse 90" and "Climax." He is ready to sign a contract for big money at the Sahara hotel in Las Vegas, marking the first time he will entertain in a club. But Ernie Kovacs

BRAVE BOY—All togged out in cowboy duds, five-year-old Johnny Pair, who lost both eyes to cancer a few months ago, aims a six-gun at an unseen outlaw in his Atlanta, Ga., home. Johnny's mother, Mrs. Bessie Pair, and his teachers say the youngster's adjustment to his misfortune has been "thrilling to watch." Johnny, who is getting along well in the kindergarten, tells wellwishers, "I can see with my hands."

BOWLER SCORES 299
MEMPHIS (UP)— The No. 5 pin wobbled on its edge but refused to topple and so bowler Julian Levitch lost $10,000. After 11 consecutive strikes, Levitch missed the No. 5 pin on the 12th roll, making his score 299. Levitch wasn't very happy, for the alley manager has a standing offer of $10,000 to any bowler who rolls a perfect 300 game.

still isn't scheduled for a regular comedy show on TV.

"NBC offered me a show for next year on a budget of $35,000 and that's like trying to run a restaurant on $8," said Ernie in his usual casual way.

"If I can't have the budget I want I just won't do a show. I've been 'exposed' on television so much it's funny. It's about time I get to do things I want for the sum I specify."

Kovacs makes it plain that he (1) cares about little except working the way he wants to, and (2) is desperately homesick for his wife, Broadway star Eadie Adams.

"I'd like to work with my wife again," reflected Ernie, sadly flicking his cigar (he smokes 15 for 20 of those foot-long things a day).

Flexible Laws For The Pink Bollworm

AUSTIN (UP)— Agriculture Commissioner John White has promised to keep the pink bollworm control laws as flexible as possible for farmers whose cotton planting has been delayed by rain.

White said his department faces a "great dilemma." He said cotton planting conditions in 25 central and southeastern counties are in doubt and the deadline for seeding is May 20.

The deadline was extended from May 10 to May 20 for another 22 South Texas counties but he said five of the 22 were still in serious trouble.

White said a close check was being made of field conditions in affected areas and said he will announce his decision on further planting deadline extensions later this week.

White said farmers have had "a little too much rain at the wrong time."

"We must give the cotton farmers every consideration in allowing them to get their cotton planted. Yet, if we relax our control rules too much, we face the prospect of a major pink bollworm infestation."

East German Reds Showing Anxiety

Foreign News Commentary
 By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
East German Communist leaders are showing signs of acute anxiety over increasingly open opposition to Red rule.

There has been no violent outbreak. But the Red leaders plainly are aware that they rule only by sheer force. Their actions show that they fear a revolt.

The latest manifestation of opposition to the Communists has come in what is really a minor strike by students in the veterinary college of Humboldt University in East Berlin.

The strike came after Dean Guenther Schuetzer of the college fled to West Berlin early this month. Schuetzer has been warned that the Reds intended to arrest him.

Anti-Red Demands
 Schuetzer's crime was that he had supported anti-Communist demands by students, including the abolition of the compulsory study

New Demo Group To Be Set Up

HOUSTON (UP)— A new organization of liberal - loyalist Democrats will be set up at a statewide meeting in Austin this Saturday.

Formation of the group was announced by Texas Democratic National Committeewoman Mrs. R.D. Randolph. She said the new group would not be a "splinter" group.

"Loyal Democrats of Texas will convene in Austin to organize for the furtherance of the platform, the principles, and the candidates of the Democratic party," Mrs. Randolph said.

"These Democrats of Texas will come together... because for the last five years the official party organization has been controlled by a Dixiecraft - Republican coalition, and true Democrats have been denied fair representation."

Mrs. Randolph said the "Loyal" Democrats will set up an organization "that can be trusted to carry out the mission of the Democratic party."

Mrs. Randolph said U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough and former Agriculture Secretary Charles Brannan will be among the speakers.

PREVENTIVE MEDICINE
LOS ANGELES (UP)— William J. Fox, a beekeeper, brought suit for $5,225 Sunday against county agriculture inspectors who didn't mind his "bees-ness." Fox charged the inspectors came to look for bee diseases but left hives unlocked, exposed the insects to cold temperatures and smashed queen bees.

Canadian River Authorities Plan Meet With City

Canadian River Municipal Water Authority directors will meet with the City Commissioners at a luncheon meeting on Tuesday, May 28, for the purpose of outlining the present status of the project for building of a dam across the Canadian River, near Fritch.

The original request of the three directors who asked for the meeting, had been to meet during the regular city commission sessions. However, due to a heavy business schedule planned for that day, it was decided to hold a luncheon.

Robertson, whose parents live at Oklahoma City, described the state's handling of liquor as "ridiculous, a farce and hypocrisy."

The star appeared here for this northwestern Oklahoma city's semi-centennial celebration, marking Oklahoma's 50th year of statehood.

"Oklahoma is one of the wettest states I've ever seen in my life even though it professes to be dry," Robertson told the town's civic leaders at a luncheon.

"The ridiculous handling of liquor at present in the state causes a lot of Oklahomans to be ridiculous in their handling of booze. They don't know how to drink in a social way."

Star Hits Oklahoma Dry Laws

WATONGA, Okla. (UP)—Dale Robertson, Hollywood television and movie star, criticized his home state's dry laws Wednesday, declaring that "Oklahoma has more drunks per acre than any other state."

Robertson, who is in Oklahoma City, described the state's handling of liquor as "ridiculous, a farce and hypocrisy."

New Photostat Machine Arrives

The photostat machine which was ordered several months ago by the Gray County Commissioners Court for use in the county clerk's office, arrived this morning and was expected to be pieced together as soon as all the parts were assembled.

The new machine, when installed, will be an automatic, self-developing operation, requiring only the need for someone to snap the picture of documents. With the old machine, which was taken out several days ago, it was necessary to photograph, develop, and dry all photostatic copies in separate operations.

received in Groom from 3 p.m. yesterday until 3 o'clock this morning. Britten Lake, located on the north side of Groom, is full and one house on the north edge of town is surrounded by water. Wade reported. He stated that another couple of inches of rain could cause a serious situation in Groom from the high lake waters.

.72 INCH OF RAIN HERE
In Pampa, a total of .72 of an inch of rain was recorded by the rain gauge on top of The News Building. Radio station KPND recorded a total of .54 of an inch and radio station KPAT recorded a total of .33 of an inch.

At Lefors, a total of 3.60 inches of rain was recorded during the storm by the rain gauge located on top of the City Hall. Over two inches of rain was reported at Grandview.

The floodgates at Lake McClellan were opened at 5 p.m. yesterday and a small amount of water was reported running over the spillway early this morning. Reports from the lake indicated that both roads leading from the lake were washed out.

At Wheeler, over two inches of rain was received in some places, Sheriff Bus Dorman reported this morning. He said that no damage was reported in the Wheeler area from the storm.

Radio station KEYE in Perryton reported that a total of .68 of an inch of rain had been received there and that heavier rains had been reported south and east of Perryton. No reports of any damage from the storm had been received in that area, however.

The sheriff's office at Canadian reported that about two inches of rain had been received there and also that the storm had caused no damage.

3 Inches at McLean
A total of 3 inches of rain was received at McLean and even though the storm siren blew four times yesterday afternoon and last night, no damage from storms was reported in that area.

The Miami Chief reported this morning that a total of 1.07 inches of rain had been received in Miami. No other reports, other than at the Cowan farm, had been received, the paper reported.

At Lefors, the Mori Fork of the Red River flooded the southwest part of town last night and several of the streets were washed out. Strong winds lashed the town last night.

Bridges Washed Out

Jack McDowell, supervisor of the local highway maintenance office, reported that high water had washed out several bridges on highways in the area.

He reported that two spans on the bridge across McClellan creek on Highway 273, seven miles north of McLean, had been washed out and that the road from Lefors to McLean was closed.

McDowell also reported that two bridges between Lefors and Alameda on Farm-to-Market Road 291 had been damaged. The bridges are across McClellan Creek and the north fork of McClellan Creek.

A later report this morning also said that the bridge across McClellan creek on the Farm-to-Market crushed them," Higley said. "I saw two cars that had been picked up from a street and dropped 100 yards away in a field."

"There were two big tank trucks 75 yards off the road in a field and a school bus was turned over."

The tornado knocked out Silverton's communications and lights. State police units from Amarillo and county and local officers from surrounding towns rushed in with portable generators and radio transmitters.

Among the injured treated at Lockney hospital were five members of the Joe D. Gallington family. Three other members of the same family were hurt, but not badly enough to remain in the hospital.

Claude Witten of the Plainview hospital and clinic said the injured were "badly beaten up."

Five were treated in the Plainview hospital.

One of these, a boy about 14, died shortly after he was received.

"The ones we have here are all severely injured," Witten said. "They have brain concussions, lacerations all over their bodies. All of them are in critical shape. The one who died was beaten up all over. It looked like a house fell on him."

"So far, none of the relatives has shown up, but we're assuming that one of the adults, two of the kids that we have and the one who died are all from the same family."

Watching TV
A. L. Chick, member of a geophysical team staying in Silverton, said he and his party were watching television in the town hotel lobby. It had been hailing violently. Suddenly the hail quit and in a sudden hush the electricity went off.

"I remarked to one of the boys, 'You know what that means,'" he said.

He had barely gotten the words out of his mouth, he said, when he heard a "loud noise" that lasted for what "seemed like an hour but probably wasn't more than a minute or two."

It was the twister. He said he walked through the section of town that was hit. The lights were out and it was too dark for him to make out details of the damage.

But he saw the bodies of an old man and a woman lying in pools of water. Chick left Silverton and went to Quitaque, Tex., to telephone his parents.

This Dish Simple For Young Cooks

A help-yourself buffet party is easiest meal for the young cook to manage. Tiny Swedish Meat Balls can be completely made ahead, frozen and then simmered gently in a sauce just before serving. Easy to serve and eat, they're a wonderful idea for an informal buffet. This interesting version has just the right amount of rolled oats added to the ground beef so that the meat balls are juicy, yet retain their shape.

SWEDISH MEAT BALLS
Meat Balls:
2 1/2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1 1/2 pounds ground beef
3/4 cup Quaker or Mother's Oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked)
1 egg
2 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
3/4 teaspoon caraway seed
Gravy:
1/4 cup flour
3 beef bouillon cubes
2 cups water
For meat balls, combine ingredients thoroughly. Shape into 48 balls (about 1 inch in diameter). Slowly brown meat balls in butter or margarine (about 1/2 cup); shake pan frequently to brown evenly. Remove from pan. Blend flour into fat left in pan. Add bouillon cubes and water. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until thickened. Heat meat balls in gravy. Makes 8 servings.
Note: Meat balls may be frozen with gravy. To serve, let stand at room temperature an hour; heat in double boiler.

Tomato Dill Sauce Over Baked Fish

1 cup chopped onions
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon flour
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) Heinz Condensed Consomme undiluted
1/2 cup Heinz Tomato Ketchup
1/4 cup sliced Heinz Dill Pickle
1 pound fish fillet
Heat water to 400 degrees F. (moderately hot). Sauté onions in butter. Stir in flour; gradually add consomme and ketchup. Simmer 25 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add pickles. Place fish in baking dish (10" x 6" x 1 1/2"); cover with sauce. Bake 25-30 minutes or until fish flakes easily with fork. Makes 4 servings.

"Happy Birthday!" With Posy Cake And Coffee

Who has the most fun at a birthday party? Next to the birthday child himself, it is undoubtedly the lucky lady who has all the pleasure of making the birthday cake and decorating it.
At every birthday party, coffee and cake hold the center of the stage. Here is a springtime birthday cake that is touched with inspiration. The cake itself is half white, half lemony yellow and its fluffy white icing is set off by a ring of bright gumpod flowers. The flowers themselves are fun to make — just cut out a batch of gumpod petals, a few centers and stems. Then "arrange" to your heart's content until you have tulips, daisies and a few rare exotic specimens. Posy Cake, we call it — and that's just what it is!
Of course, you'll want to ring your befloored cake with steaming coffee served in your prettiest cups. You'll make sure, of course, that there are plenty of seconds in the coffee pot. A cake like this will be eaten to the last gumpod petal and it's going to take a lot of coffee to go with.

POSY CAKE
1 cup sifted cake flour
1/2 cup sugar
1 1/2 cups egg whites (12)
1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
1 teaspoon vanilla
Sift flour and 1/2 cup sugar 3 times. Combine egg whites, cream of tartar and salt in large bowl. Beat until foamy. Add remaining 1/2 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating well after each addition. Continue beating until meringue will hold stiff peaks. Sift the flour mixture, a little at a time, over meringue, folding in gently after each addition until all is added. Divide batter in half. Fold egg yolks and lemon extract into one half. Fold vanilla into other half. Drop alternating spoonfuls of white and yellow batters into 10-inch tube pan. Cut through batter with knife starting at tube and going around pan in widening circles 5 or 6 times, to outer rim. Bake in moderate oven, 275°, 30 to 35 minutes. Invert pan until cold. Remove cake. Frost with any desired white icing. Decorate with stylized flowers cut from gumpods.

Bring Springtime To Your Dining Table With Bright-Colored Beet Salad

Everyone likes bright color in their food. Even before you can say, "that salad is the best ever," it has had to look appetizing enough for you to want a bite.
There are many foods today which add gay color to your favorite recipes. Beets are certainly one of these. Shoestring Beets combined in a tossed salad add a bright touch of color and a delightful flavor.

BEETS — EXTRA

Blend 3 Tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 Tablespoons prepared mustard, 1 Tablespoon sugar, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, and 1/2 teaspoon salt together and heat. Pour this mixture over 1 can (1 lb. 13 oz.) Small Whole Beets, drained, and cook until the Beets are hot.
CRUNCHY BEET SALAD

1 cup boiling water
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 Tablespoon horse-radish
2 Tablespoons vinegar
2 teaspoons grated onion
1 cup Diced Beets, drained
3/4 cup diced celery
Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add Beet Juice. Cool slightly and add remaining ingredients. Pour into gelatin molds. Makes six 1/2 cup size molds. Serve attractively in a crisp lettuce cup.
HONEYED BEETS
Combine 1/4 cup honey, 1/4 cup vinegar, 6 thin onion rings, and a pinch of salt with a 1 pound can of Diced Beets, drained, in a sauce pan.
Bring only to the boiling point so that onions will still be crisp.

Waffles Served With Ice Cream

Waffles are a new idea in desserts. Combined with ice cream, whipped cream, or hard sauce, they are gaining new enthusiasts every day.
These are not just common waffles. There are chocolate nut, gingerbread, date, banana, cheese, and even peanut butter waffles.
More than a dozen fancy waffle recipes and ways of serving them are listed in the Arvin electric grill cook book. One of the most mouth-watering suggestions is to serve ice cream and waffle sandwiches with peaches, strawberries, or blueberries. Recipes can be obtained free by writing to Recipe Book, 40th floor, 221 N. LaSalle St., Chicago 1, Ill.

Cinnamon Muffins Sure Fever Cure

Of course, Grandma has remedies to cure spring fever. Here's a pleasant and effective modern way. Start the family off with a Spring Tonic Breakfast. Chances are that foods eaten first thing in the morning will be converted to quickly available energy, and energy is what is needed these lazy spring days.
Since rhubarb is in season, serve it as a sauce. Complete the menu with the family's favorite ready-to-eat cereal served with plenty of fresh milk, a sweet roll and butter and coffee. Clock watchers should take special note to this menu! Here's a breakfast designed for them... one that takes only ten minutes or less to prepare.
For the homemaker who has ample time in the morning, why not substitute hot muffins for the sweet roll? The family will love these Cinnamon Bran Muffins.
CINNAMON BRAN MUFFINS
1 cup Kellogg's All-Bran
1/2 cup milk
1 tablespoon molasses
1 egg
1/4 cup soft shortening
1 cup sifted flour

Strawberry Pie Is Fruit Pie Winner

It's strawberry time again! At this time of year, strawberries are seen either in or on top of short-cake, ice cream, sponge cake, tortes and last but certainly not least... strawberry pie.
Fruit pies of all kinds march in a continual parade to the table during the spring and summer to the delight of the family.
What is it about Mom's homemade pie that makes the family clan take note? Is it the pastry or the filling?
To some people, the filling is the most important part of a pie... but ask any homemaker.
She undoubtedly admits one of the most difficult tests of a good cook is her ability to make a good pie crust... one that is tender, flaky and has a golden, even brown.

The shortening used in making a pie crust helps to determine, to a great extent, these standard characteristics of a pie crust so valued by a good cook. Lard is one of the best shortenings to use for making pie crust. It is pliable, easy to work with and has a great shortening power which gives a pie crust its tender, flaky texture.
Remember, beginners as well as experienced homemakers can make a perfect pie crust. It takes just a bit of practice and technique.
So continue being a culinary adventurer and serve your family famous fruit pies... one of the brightest jewels of all fruit pies is the strawberry pie.
FAVORITE STRAWBERRY PIE
1 cup sifted enriched flour
3/4 teaspoon salt
4 to 6 tablespoons lard
2 to 4 tablespoons cold water
Add salt to flour. Cut lard into minutes total cooking time for rare, 20 minutes total cooking for medium, and 22 to 25 minutes total cooking for well-done meat.

STRAWBERRY FILLING
1 quart fresh strawberries, cut in half lengthwise
3 tablespoons cornstarch
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
Few drops red coloring
Ice cream or whipped cream, if desired
Combine cornstarch, 1/2 cup sugar and 1/4 cup water. Add 2 cups strawberries and cook, stirring constantly until thickened and clear. (Mixture will be very thick.) Add remaining 1/4 cup sugar, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Stir in lemon juice, red coloring and remaining 2 cups of strawberries. Chill thoroughly. Pour into baked pie crust and serve with ice cream or whipped cream, if desired.

Broiling Technique Is Easily Followed

One of the most popular beef steaks is sirloin, ideal for family service. Here, a wedge bone sirloin steak, broiled until medium done, is accompanied by fried onion rings on a heated serving platter. Add individual combination salads, if you like.
Follow these directions when broiling steak:
1. Preheat broiler with regulator set at "broil."
2. Slash fat edge of steak to keep meat from curling during cooking. Place steak on rack in broiler pan with top of steak two to five inches from source of heat: A one-inch thick, two-three inches from heat source; a two-inch steak three to five inches from heat source.
3. Broil until top side is cooked to the preferred degree of doneness, then season and turn, using tongs rather than fork which might pierce the meat and allow juices to escape.
4. Broil second side to preferred degree of doneness. Season and serve immediately. A 1 1/2 inch thick steak will require about 16

It's unwise to allow towels to become so soiled that they need long soaking or harsh laundering methods. Change the family towels often during the week if you want to make your laundry load easier to handle.

Editor Innocent In Libel Trial

CONROE, Tex. (UP) — The criminal libel trial of a newspaper editor which promised to turn into a circus ended Wednesday with the editor being found innocent and the complainant fined $500.

County Judge W. S. Weisinger fined County Commissioner T. J. Peel for contempt of court when Peel refused to testify and shouted in the crowded courtroom at the judge.

"I'd be glad to testify if I didn't think you were highly prejudiced in this case!"

Judge Weisinger replied in a soft but stern voice: "I fine you $500 for that statement."

Watson Not Guilty

Prosecutor George Morris, who threw the case into an uproar Tuesday by refusing to prosecute the editor, Ed Watson of the Conroe Courier, because of a defective indictment, then moved for dismissal.

Judge Weisinger then declared Watson not guilty.

Watson was indicted on the libel charge, initiated by Peel, after the Courier published a series of editorials accusing Peel of converting county funds for his own use.

The Montgomery county grand jury also indicted the Courier's publisher, Rigby Owen, and a Willis cattlebuyer, H. K. Ray, who gave the Courier some information regarding a cattle transaction with Peel.

Six Men Fined

Owen and Ray, however, were not on trial in the current case. Peel and five other men — called as prosecution witnesses — failed to appear in court Tuesday when subpoenaed and Judge Weisinger fined each $25 and sent deputies to arrest them.

Peel and the others were arrested and put in $200 bond Tuesday night to guaranty their appearance in court after Watson refused to go along with Morris' attempt to dismiss the indictment.

Watson said he wanted a "full airing" of the case and Judge Weisinger agreed to hear the case without a jury. Morris refused to present any prosecution witnesses and spent Tuesday afternoon reading a lawbook while the defense paraded eight witnesses to the stand to support the Courier's charges against Peel.

Refuses to Testify

Morris refused to cross-examine any of the defense witnesses.

When Peel entered the court and refused to testify against Watson, defense attorney Cleo McLain asked the court to find Peel in contempt and jail him until "he purges himself of contempt."

"I do not believe that Mr. Peel is bigger than the law even though

Mrs. Billy Graham Speaks Out Against Working Wives

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP) — Mrs. Billy Graham, who says "One speaker in the family is enough," spoke out today about working wives, happiness in marriage and juvenile crime.

She deplored the steady increase in the number of women filling dual roles as homemaker and career woman.

"But I just don't approve of the working wife," she said in an interview. "Except, of course, in the case of those who for financial reasons must work. But career in preference to a home? No!"

Something Missing

"So a job may mean a second car in the garage, or a mink coat. But something still will be missing."

Did she think the growing number of working women also might be a factor in the nation's high divorce rate? "Could be," said Ruth Graham. "I hadn't thought about it much. . . . But tension has a lot to do with family arguments. If both husband and wife work, it means two people coming home tense."

Mrs. Graham believes religious training should begin early with part of the family's daily life. "Check the statistics!" She is not worried about the children, she said, "and I think you'll find New York crusade, which has few juvenile delinquents come from homes where prayer is a preparation for more than a year."

What card do you lead from a three-card suit?

The best rule is to lead from another suit but sometimes a three-card suit lead is indicated and you have to pick one of your three cards.

The old-fashioned textbook lead is the top card unless it is an honor. The advantage is that when you lead low your partner knows that you either hold four cards or an honor. The disadvantages are two-fold. The declarer knows that he can play your partner for all mission high cards in the suit and your partner never knows whether you hold two or three.

The middle card colloquially called "the middle of the top of nothing" is popular with some losing players but winning players shun it like plague.

The modern expert leads the lowest. Partner cannot tell if he holds three or four but neither can declarer, nor can declarer tell if the leader holds any high cards in the suit.

West decided to open his three-card heart suit and chose his lowest card, the deuce in today's hand.

The play went eight-nine-queen and declarer had a problem. He needed four heart tricks or a club finesse for his contract.

Declarer played the three of hearts right back and finessed dummy's ten. This lost to the jack. A club came back. Declarer finessed the queen and when that lost to the king he was down one trick.

Perhaps South misplayed the hand but if West had opened the five of hearts declarer could not possibly have gone wrong.

Marketing researchers warn that marketing costs will make up
an increasing share of the consumer's food dollar.

Urban and suburban families with average income will spend about $500 more for food this year than 10 years ago. The House committee wants to know how much more essential food per extra dollar spent will go to our kids' ribs
and how much will go for processing, promoting and trading stamps.

Omer W. Herrmann, deputy administrator of Agricultural Marketing Service, gave one answer.

"Customers are more and more being attracted by convenience and service," he testified. "Under such circumstances retailers, in particular, look for new promotional techniques."

Earl L. Butz, assistant Secretary of Agriculture, addressing a canners group, hinted why victuals stuffed with built-in services and "improved merchandising techniques" cost more.

"The essence of self-service retailing is that products must sell themselves," Butz explained. "As a result, vast expenditures for advertising and promotion have become necessary to make consumers product and brand conscious."

Marketing researchers warn
that marketing costs will make up
an increasing share of the consumer's food dollar.

Urban and suburban families
with average income will spend
about $500 more for food this year
than 10 years ago. The House committee wants to know how much more essential food per extra dollar spent will go to our kids' ribs
and how much will go for processing, promoting and trading stamps.

The men who grow, catch or herd the food for the family dinner plate will get only $45 of that $500 ante. Economists predict the farmer's share will continue to diminish. In 1955, for example, it was less than in any year since the early 30's.

About $400 of that inflated food budget will go to processors, transportation people, packers, canners and middlemen. A big hunk will be grabbed by advertising and motivational research experts, TV stars and publicity boys.

All these people contribute to your higher standard of living. But you can't eat them.

Government economists report that in 1955, city families were spending on an average $32 a week to feed their families. That was $6 more than in 1948. Today's figure is higher.

The fact that families have increased their food expenditures by about 25 per cent indicates what is sometimes referred to as "upgrading" of the diet — either by use of more expensive foods or inclusion of services, such as pre-cooking, they report.

This upgrading — extra services and fancier processing — has added six billion dollars a year to cost of marketing food.

This should indicate that today we are better fed in terms of our nutritional requirements.

But the Nutrition Education Conference in Washington last month revealed that although our food expenditures for urban families had increased — one-fourth between 1948 and 1955, diet improvement had not kept pace despite the 6,000 items on super-market shelves.

The conference, piloted by Agriculture's Institute of Home Economics, and based on the official household food consumption survey of 1955, concluded: Regardless of fatter take home pay envelopes and the multiplication of new canned and frozen convenient foods, the country as a whole needs better diets.

In 1930, during the depression, studies disclosed that one-third of our family diets were poor or very poor. By 1948 the number dropped to one out of 10.

The bread and flour enrichment program, started at the time of the National Nutritional Conference for Defense in 1941, was a big improvement factor. Better nutritional education in schools and through newspaper and magazine food pages was another. The biggest, however, was more spending money.

But the trend toward better diets slowed down after 1948. Agricultural Research stresses that there has been relatively little nutritional improvement since 1948.

The Food and Nutrition Board of the National Research Council, composed of outstanding scientists,
is the nation's nutrition watchdog.
The most recent dietary survey of household food consumption spotlights the fact that the nutritional quality of many family food supplies still falls short of the board's practical goals.

In market-cart terms, that means: 29 per cent aren't getting enough calcium through milk, cheese and other milk products;
25 per cent need more ascorbic acid through more fruits, especially citrus, certain vegetables and tomatoes. Also, that 15 to 20 per cent are short on carrots and other deep yellow vegetables or dark green vegetables for vitamin A, and on whole grain or enriched cereals and lean pork for thiamin.
About 10 per cent are still shy on meat, fish, fowl and egg protein.

The same report warns that practically all family meals in these halcyon days of upgraded diets are overloaded with fat. The share of calories derived from fat is around 44 per cent.

Scientists studying the relationship of fat to cardiovascular disease and overweight say this is a dangerously high proportion. They advise it be cut to between 25 to 30 per cent.

Food technology, merchandising and promotional techniques have taken giant steps. But buying habits, nutritionally measured, lag behind. However, there is plenty of money around and women are buying like crazy.

Processors insist that the 25 billion dollar increase in their overall food marketing job is due largely to the modern housewife's insatiable demand for expensive built-in services and fancy merchandising. They say that since World War II, these increasing demands have changed the marketing picture in the United States.

Although they lay most of the blame on the consumer, they don't seem unhappy about her economic influence. The top executive of one of our largest food processing companies told this reporter:

"The American woman is the great force behind the whole productive system. If she wants her husband to work harder so she can buy more expensive foods with built-in services, and at the same time get a step ahead of her neighbor socially who has to prepare and cook all her own food, this may not necessarily add up to a great nutritional advantage, but it does add to America's productive power and that is one of the forces that is keeping much of the world free."

Economic adolescence is another reason for unchecked spending. In the recent Betty Crocker national scholarship contest for the most promising homemaker of tomorrow, the 49 state and territory winners were interviewed.
Their answers to 150 questions indicate that although they want large families and as many labor-saving devices as science can think up, they simply don't know what money is all about.

However, despite the highly paid ington, families are starting to raise more conventional items.

TV OR NOT TV?—That was the question facing C. J. Buckley of Casper, Wyo., who, while he could receive the TV programs from his local outlet, wanted to be able to view the wider variety of programs offered by Denver stations (225 miles) and others farther away. His immediate problem was 8,500-foot Casper Mountain, so Buckley, lower left in picture, enlisted the help of three friends to construct this 112-foot-high antenna tower. The tower, including a specially tuned all-channel antenna and controls, cost $600 and was completed in five days. Bill Wilson, a Casper TV expert, believes that the tower, located in Buckley's backyard, should receive a clear signal from a radius of 250-500 miles and skip signals from up to 1,000 miles. If he's right Buckley should be able to see what some Texas and Alabama stations are telecasting.

Who Said Whose Budget Would Curl Whose Hair?

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower's telecast effort Tuesday night to rally the voters behind his spending policies makes it appropriate today to give another thought to who said whose budget would curl whose hair.

A lot of voters would miss that one if it were the $64,000 question. And would they be surprised? Just for fun, ask yourself what Secretary of Treasury George M. Humphrey did say about a hair curling depression back there in early January when the new Eisenhower budget had just hit Congress between the eyes.

What Humphrey actually said and the question to which he was responding went like this:

Q: Mr. Secretary... looking at this budget, I find that the lion's share of the increased expenditures is for mutual security and defense. Is there any hope anywhere in the world situation that you can do any cutting in defense spending in the next few years?

Humphrey: I think there is; Yes, I do. I think that there is some hope you can reduce expenditures all along the line. I would certainly deplore the day that we thought we couldn't ever reduce expenditures of this terrific amount, the terrific tax take we are taking out of this country. If we don't, over a long period of time, I will predict that you will have a depression that will curl your hair, because we are just taking too much money out of the economy that we need to make jobs that you have to have as time goes on.

The point of all of this, if any, is that Humphrey did not predict a hair curling depression or any depression to come merely from adoption of the one-year spending program proposed in the new budget. He was thinking years ahead.

Humphrey thought then, and the President now is publicly in agreement with him, that the budget could be cut some. Moreover, Humphrey felt then and now that it should be cut.

The phrase "hair curling depression" caught public fancy and remains today as the average voter is likely to remember of Humphrey's January budget remarks.

However definitely Humphrey

Negroes In Texas Plan Organization

SAN ANTONIO (UP)—A group of Texas Negroes have announced plans for a new organization in which one leader said he hoped to include "white liberals, white conservatives and even Ku Klux Klan members."

The Rev. C. W. Black, minister of Mount Zion First Baptist Church, denied that the new group is a political party "despite published reports that it is."

He said the organization grew out of court-victories "that have been paralyzed by legislative action in Texas."

"We want to try and encourage heavy or block voting among Negroes because we believe this is to their best interests," Black said. "This matter is not academic, but one of meat and bread as well as personal dignity."

Harland Randolph of San Antonio, who was named public relations director of the still unnamed group, said he hoped "to get white liberals, white conservatives and even Ku Klux Klan members if they will join."

Black said he thought Randolph was "a little enthusiastic about including KKK members because I don't believe they will consider joining."

The San Antonio minister said "most of this legislative threat" has come from East Texas, where there is the biggest percentage of Negro population in Texas.

INSECT REPELLENT PAPERS PHILADELPHIA (UP)—A paper prepared by three British scientists, consisting of 22 pages of typewritten copy plus 11 pages of graphs and charts was read to scientists Monday at the midyear meeting of the American Petroleum Institute. It was all about beetles and flies and how to kill them.

TEXAN ASKS CITIZENSHIP

TAMPA, Fla. (UP)—Federal court observers blinked at first when they heard that a native Texan was asking to become a naturalized citizen. Then it turned out James E. Merriman, born in San Antonio, had become a Canadian citizen after the war, then decided to regain American citizenship after moving to Florida.

What Happens During Your Middle Age?

By DOC QUIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—The towers of Manhattan looked tired and almost limp in a fog that curled and hung, and a young fellow in our office lamented wearily that time was gaining on him.

"This is the spring of the year," this sprout muttered darkly, "but it is the autumn of my life."

We assisted him to a chair and got him a drink of water and told him to stop fiddling with his polka-dot bow tie and go ahead and talk out his troubles.

"There comes a time, when you pass 30, that you realize you are in the throes of middle age, and what is the use of going on?" he said.

Loss of Bounce
Middle age? What's that, old boy?

"It's when young people begin addressing you as 'mister,' that's what it is... When you have to wear your glasses every day... when you realize you've lost your resilience in the morning..."

Lost your resilience? How?
"I always did 30 pushups before breakfast," he explained. "Now I don't even feel, most mornings, like doing more than 10. And when I get on the subway, I race old ladies for the privilege of plopping into the nearest seat."

He put the paper cup to his lips, drank deeply of the water, and then became eloquent.

"Middle age is when you get nostalgic about songs. If I get the least bit reminiscent about Benny Goodman and Glenn Miller, I'm middle aged—I can tell by the way the kids look at me when I talk."

Things you bought with a lifetime
"Middle age is when all the things you bought with a lifetime guarantee start wearing out. My wrist watch is wearing out. My refrigerator is going."

"Middle age is when you go out on a picnic and the gang starts a ball game and you say, 'I'll coach.' It's when you want no starch in your collar—you start dressing for comfort."

"It's when your wife says 'put on your galoshes'—and you do it. It's when you're standing on the corner and don't watch the girls go by. When you have to have eight hours of sleep every night. When you need that extra cup of coffee in the morning but can't take an extra cup after dinner because..."

Neatly put—but what set you off on this agonizing appraisal?
"Just this," he groaned. "Last night at the neighborhood young men's society I got the annual most likely to recede."

More Than 1 Wet-Dry Liquor Election Can Be Held In Year

AUSTIN (UP)—The Texas Supreme Court has ruled that more than one wet-dry liquor option election may be held in a county within the same year if they are submitted to the voters on different issues.

The high court ruled in a suit brought in Moore county by Walter J. Burgess against County Judge Ezelle Fox and members of the county commissioners' court.

The Supreme Court ruling reversed the action of the Court of Civil Appeals and upheld the trial court's decision. The action was a victory for wet forces in Moore county.

The plaintiff sought an injunction and a ruling declaring void an election on Aug. 3, 1956 at which Moore county citizens voted in favor of legal sale of all alcoholic beverages for off-premises consumption.

They claimed it was illegally held because the election submitted the same issue that was voted upon in an election on June 9, 1956, when a majority of voters cast their ballots against legal sale of all alcoholic beverages.

The Supreme Court, in an opinion written by Associate Justice Frank P. Culver Jr., said the only question in the suit was whether the issues voted upon in the two elections were the same — and ruled they were not.

The law states no subsequent election upon the same issue may be held within one year from the date of the last preceding local option election in a county, justice precinct, or incorporated city or town.

The Supreme Court said in its opinion the two issues voted upon in Moore county "are not the same and therefore the election of Aug. 3 is valid."

New Light Is Thrown On 'Happy Pills'

By DELOS SMITH
United Press Science Editor
NEW YORK (UP)—An "unhappier light" is being thrown upon the "happy pill" meprobamate, which is marketed as "Miltown" and "Equanil", the American Academy of General Practice has warned its members—the family doctors.

This "light" is the "growing worry" among medical scientists that people who take it indiscriminately run the risk of not being able to get along without it. The "light" cannot be reconciled with earlier statements that the drug is non-addictive," said the academy.

Two Disclosures
At the same time it made two disclosures. One was that a medical reference is going to say meprobamate "is habit-forming in the sense that patients become quite dependent on the drug."

The other was revelation of a forthcoming scientific report which will indicate that meprobamate is not a true "tranquilizer" like chlorpromazine or reserpine but a sedative more like phenobarbital which definitely is habit-forming.

This report, said the academy, will "sustain the thought that there is risk of drug dependence (or of abstinence syndrome) when meprobamate is prescribed for prolonged use by patients suffering from anxiety, alcoholism, and other emotional-behavior states."

It added that a Baylor University publication will "note also

Life Of Service With Little Public Notice

By DOC QUIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—There was little national note of the death recently in Manchester, N.H., of Louis E. Wyman at 78.

Fame is a peculiar thing. Wyman never sought it; indeed, he seemed to shun it. Yet there is little doubt in my mind, or in the minds of many who were privileged to watch him at work, that he could have become a nationally famous figure as a criminal trial attorney if he had so chosen.

He chose to remain in his community and devote his talents as a lawyer to his own state. Within those boundaries he was well known.

Until his 72nd year, he never had taken a criminal case. The one he took then was his only one. It was enough to prove him for what he was.

It was the internationally publicized "mercy killing" case of Dr. Hermann N. Sander, of Manchester. At the trial's end, it took the jury less than an hour to bring in an acquittal verdict.

An Unknown
The horde of newsmen and feature writers who invaded Manchester for that trial never had heard of Wyman. Most of them were accustomed to covering trials in which the attorneys were celebrated figures whose courtroom personalities made headlines.

They found the head of the defense staff to be a dignified, even courtly, figure. His conduct of the case was gentle but firm and sure.

Wyman had practiced law in New Hampshire since 1902. When he finally decided — in 1950 — to take a criminal case, he didn't fool around. He brought all the partners in his firm—as I remember there were at least four, and maybe five—into court every day with him as assistant trial attorneys.

Commanding, Eloquent
He was a man with a deep and penetrating voice and he used it eloquently. When he made his final plea to the jury, his eyes, under his fine shock of white hair, were moist, and I never presumed it to be other than genuine emotion for his client.

One of his master strokes—one I as a reporter always will remember — was in parading, for most of one day, patients of the defendant doctor as character witnesses for him.

In the course of being a reporter, I have seen many famed trial attorneys but none seemed greater—few as great—as Louis Wyman.

That is only a layman's opinion, of course, and here's another: There must be many men in many professions in many communities, big and small, who can match the brilliance of the "big names" but who serve out their lives without public notice.

INSIDE AN AIRHOUSE—This is the modernistic interior of the air-supported double-bubble house designed by architect Frank Lloyd Wright. The Airhouse, made from a series of vinyl-coated nylon panels sewn together and shaped into two huge balloons, will sell for approximately $2,245. A blower with sufficient capacity to inflate the house will cost about $75.

that withdrawal symptoms—restlessness, insomnia, convulsions—may occur in patients who have been habituated to high doses."

The academy's views followed publication of the results of carefully controlled experiments in laboratory animals which showed that meprobamate in high doses produced severe "withdrawal symptoms"—in the animals—when they were deprived of it.

The new warning was being prepared at that time and the two events were coincidental, although both were reflective of a concern among medical scientists lest the public is being overly "tranquilized" with drugs.

Man May Live To Age 150, Says Doctor

CHICAGO (UP)—A noted doctor says man some day may attain a life span of 125 to 150 years.

Dr. Edward L. Bortz, past president of the American Medical Assn., stated this possibility Monday night at a dinner sponsored by the Devereux Foundation, in conjunction with the annual meeting of the American Psychiatric Assn.

Bortz used as evidence the life span of animals, which approximates six times the length of time required for the completion of physical growth.

In man, he said, physical maturity is reached at about the age of 25. He said that if the problems of aging tissue can be overcome sufficiently, man could achieve a life span proportionate to that of animals.

Already, Bortz said, there is evidence of a "fantastic future" for mankind in the offing.

"There is already exciting evidence that we are on the verge of the control of arteriosclerosis, cancer and nervous exhaustion," he said.

"If we control the diseases and deteriorations of human tissues we are at the frontier of an exciting new existence."

Escape Artists' Tricks Were No Secret To Trunkmaker

A UNITED PRESS Extra By DOROTHY FLANDERS United Press Staff Correspondent ST. LOUIS (UP)—The tricks with a trunk used by such great escape artists as Houdini and Blackstone, the magicians, were no secret to a St. Louis business man. He made the trunks.

Walter Rogers Reports: Gas Bill Before Congress Is Limited Federal Control Bill

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT: Administration Attempts Advance Veto Gas Bill The hearings on the new Harris - O'Hara gas bill commenced this week. You will recall that the old gas bill, the one that was passed by the Congress last year and sent to the White House, was vetoed by the President. You will also recall that he stated the bill was a good bill and one that was needed, but that he was vetoing it because of arrogance on the part of some of the proponents of the legislation. I thought then, and I think now, that was a pretty lame excuse for penalizing hundreds of small producers and land owners, and forcing them under the dictates and controls of a centralized federal bureau in Washington. Nevertheless, the veto stuck, and the small producers and land owners were kept under the boot heel of federal bureaucracy.

corrective amendments to provide safeguards under the circumstances. We proceeded with the hearings in good faith. It was the first witness who appeared before the Committee who dropped the bombshell. The witness was Mr. Charles Kendall, a career employee of the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM). This agency is an arm of the White House. Mr. Kendall appeared as a witness for ODM and the Bureau of the Budget — another arm of the White House; in fact, the right arm. It has been expected he would announce the position of the Administration in support of the legislation which had been prepared and drafted after consultation with, and full understanding of, Administration forces. He testified that the Administration was in support of the legislation only upon the condition that it be amended in two respects. It was this condition that constituted the bombshell, because the two amendments insisted upon by the Administration, with the other terms of the bill as written, would actually leave the small producers and landowners in almost the identical position in which they were placed by the Supreme Court, if not worse. In other words, these small producers and landowners would be under the absolute domination and control of a bureau of the federal government.

Children Didn't Approve So They Elope

DENVER (UP)—An Indiana couple who eloped because their children thought octogenarian romance was foolish planned a new life in Denver today. "We don't plan to go back to Indiana," said the bride, 84-year-old Ellen Belle Utley. "We both have neat eggs and can be independent," she said. "We like Denver and hope to settle here." Her fond, smiling husband, William Sandford Utley, is 88. "We really did elope," he said at their Denver hotel. "Our children didn't like it when we started keeping company. They thought it was a lot of foolishness. But we decided to get married anyway."

New Turn In The Mid-East Expected

ROLES REVERSED—With the warm weather moving in all across the nation, this New York mother figured sunny Bronx Park would be the perfect place for baby's afternoon nap. But—it's Mom who's snoozing, with the wide-awake tot playing Foreign News Commentary By CHARLES M. McCANN United Press Staff Correspondent The current conference of Arab kings in Iraq promises to mark an important new turn in Middle Eastern affairs. King Feisal of Iraq is playing host to King Saud of Saudi Arabia. These two monarchs are to be joined by King Hussein of Jordan, who with their help has just defeated a pro-Russian, anti-Western plot against his throne. Dispatches from Baghdad, Feisal's capital, indicate that the result is pretty certain to be a new line-up in the relations of the principal Arab countries. Meaning Of Line-Up This line-up would include Lebanon, it would bring together four of the nine countries in the Arab League. It would mean a diplomatic victory for the United States and its allies, and a corresponding defeat for President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt and for Soviet Russia. Iraq and Lebanon are pro-Western. Iraq is the only Arab member of the so-called Baghdad Pact, formed to oppose Communist aggression—and penetration—in the Middle East. Its members are Iraq, Turkey, Iran, Pakistan and Great Britain. The United States has all but joined it outright. Saudi Arabia and Jordan have been listed as "neutralists." But King Saud has been swinging around to cooperation with the Western Allies since his visit to Washington in January. King Hussein has had some strong second thoughts about his neutralism since pro-Russian political leaders in Jordan tried, with the help of Egypt and Syria, to overthrow him. The way things look now, Nasser's hope of making himself the leader of the Arab world, and to unite the Arab countries in a neutralist policy which really would be anti-Western, has finally vanished. This hope which Nasser long entertained began to get dimmer when in order to get weapons which the United States denied him he turned to Soviet Russia. Communism is a threat to every king, for one thing. For another, Saudi Arabia and Iraq receive immense revenues from their oil resources, which are exploited by Western countries. Also Nasser worried King Saud and King Feisal by his open propaganda campaign against Hussein, which the pro-Russian, anti-Western leaders of Syria actively supported. Saud and Feisal suspected that they, too, might become targets. Cooperation In Crisis When young King Hussein challenged his political enemies in Jordan, who seemed in full control of the country, to a showdown both Saud and Feisal pledged him their full support, with military aid if necessary. The conference of kings in Iraq is a natural sequel to Hussein's victory. It looks as if the result can only be to lessen Nasser's influence in the Arab world and to strengthen the position of the Western Allies. Naturally, there would be no formal announcement of any such development. But Nasser and the Soviet leaders who are trying so hard to penetrate the Middle East, will realize painfully what it means.

WILMINGTON, N. C., May 11 (UP) — Wilmington switches to daylight saving time May 19 because of a straw vote. Voters, in the informal balloting, endorsed daylight time, 3,754 to 1,813, and the city council made it official yesterday. Wilmington will become the first community in North Carolina to switch to daylight time in several years. Read The News Classified Ads

NEW ORLEANS, May 11 (UP) — A Jefferson Parish elementary school principal says some of her pupils are going hungry because they are playing slot machines with their lunch money. Mrs. Elaine Charles said school children are losing their coins in one-armed bandits in grocery stores near the school. Mrs. Charles said she will appeal to the school board for removal of the machines.

GUELPH, Ont., May 11 (UP) — Mrs. Florence Young got out of the one remaining door of her automobile somewhat shakily yesterday after a Canadian National Railway train sliced the vehicle in half and left the back portion strewn along the tracks. She was not injured. GOOD DEED FOR DAY VETTURA, Calif. (UP) — Mrs. Edythe Lowe made an unexpected contribution to the Boy Scouts' clothing drive Monday. When the scouts came to the door and asked for clothes her little boy thought for clothes had been sent by the laundryman and turned over a bundle containing the family wash. More than 32,000 Americans were killed in 1956 traffic accident.

Von Stroheim Was One Of First Controversial Directors

By ALINE MOSSBY United Press Hollywood Writer HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Though current movie-goers remember Erich Von Stroheim as a monocular, bullet-headed actor, his greatest days were as the first director to go in for sex themes, big budgets, long movies and realism. Von Stroheim, who died last Sunday in Paris, was one of the great directors of the '20s. Film experts rank him with D. W. Griffith, Charles Chaplin and Orson Welles as a controversial individualist, pioneer and fine creator. He was years ahead of his time. He was a pioneer in introducing stories concerning sex — including rape, orgies, Freudian symbols and fetishes, illicit affairs and passionate love scenes. Reels of "The Merry Widow," "Greed" and other Von Stroheim masterpieces were chopped by censors, but those that remain still seem daring today. In his last silent, "Queen Kelly," never released, a queen marched naked through her palace wearing only a white cat on her shoulder. With "Greed" in 1921 Von Stroheim became the first director to demand absolute realism. For seven months he filmed the picture in an actual San Francisco apartment house, a novelty at the time. To get his stars (Zasu Pitts, Gibson Gowland, Jean Hersholt) in the mood he made them live in the apartment. The rest of the film was shot in Death Valley in temperatures of from 140 to 160. Fourteen technicians became ill. Hersholt lost 27 pounds and wound up delirious in a hospital. Day after day, Von Stroheim made Hersholt and Gowland crawl, blistered and bleeding, over the scorching desert. For another movie, he kept 400 actors on a set for three days waiting for a dog to sneeze. For "Foolish Wives" he spent weeks getting real army uniforms from Vienna and teaching extras to drill in the historic Austrian manner. After one expensive scene, Von Stroheim noticed the soldiers' saddlebags were empty. He ordered the scene re-shot with the saddlebags filled while studio executives fumed. Once he had a marksmen actually shoot a cigarette out of the mouth of actress Anielka Elter. Nowadays fans are used to three-hour epics, but when Von Stroheim tried to make films of that length his bosses mercilessly cut them in half. His "Greed" was 42 reels long (about seven hours) but axed to 10 by MGM. Recently Von Stroheim sadly remarked that the studio burned the leftover reels "to get the 43 cents worth of silver nitrate out of the film."

Brownie Troop In "Fly-Up" Service

Brownie Scout Troop No. 12 with Mrs. Vernon Stuckey, leader and Mrs. J. M. Kimbrough, assistant, conducted "fly-up" ceremonies in Girl Scout Little House on Monday evening.

Proceeding the ceremony, the troop entertained its parents with group of Girl Scout songs, accompanied by Miss Claire Ann Alford at the piano.

Opening with the Pledge of Allegiance, the Girl Scout promise, laws, motto, and slogan were repeated by the girls, as they lit a candle representative of their lines. After which, they received their "fly-up" wings from their leaders, and their Intermediate Girl Scout pins were placed on their blouses by their mothers.

Giving the Girl Scout promise, as they lit candles, were Misses Gene Kelly, troop president; Diana St. Clair, vice president; and Beverly Ann Langley, secretary.

Repeating the ten Girl Scout laws in the candlelighting ceremony were Misses Patricia Ann Masterson, treasurer, Carletta Jo Johnson, Annette Grappe, Carol Kimbrough, Suzanne Johnson, Teresa Mack, Claire Ann Alford, Carlo Matson, Rebecca Roach and Marion Neslage. Pampa Oilers
Born April 25, 1937
Died May 15, 1957
R.I.P.

Professional baseball died in Pampa last night after a lengthy illness attributed to lack of support. Cause of the death was malignant financial difficulties, a contagious disease growing rapidly in organized baseball circles.

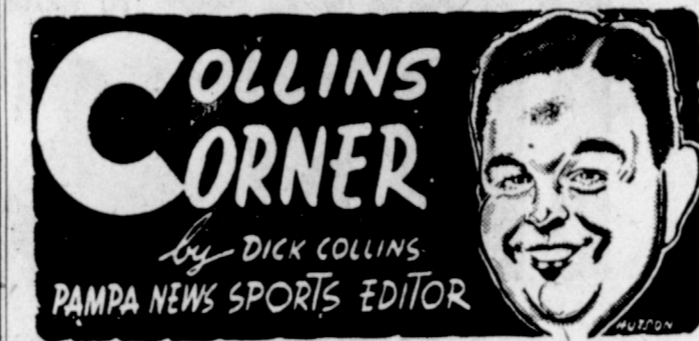

The Pampa Oilers are no more. Survivors include only the team roster, a stack of financial woes and a few die-hard fans. The Oilers were born April 25, 1938 when a group of Pampa citizens, headed by the late Grover Seitz, organized the club and entered it in the West Texas-New Mexico League.

The Oilers grew from a Class D club in 1938 to a Class B organization in the Southwestern League in 1956. Except for the World War Two years when the minor leagues were disbanded, the Oilers represented Pampa in the two leagues. They won several pennants and gained the playoffs perennially.

The club has faced years of prosperity intermingled with seasons of financial difficulties. The Oilers were organized as a community project and died a community project. Decreased attendance the past two years kept the club on the brink of folding, but a group of local businessmen kept the team going.

What effect the death of professional baseball in Pampa will have on the people no one knows. Other cities have faced the same occurrence. Although professional baseball is no longer a paying proposition, it's still America's No. 1 sports pastime.

Pampa Oilers Give Up Southwestern League Franchise

THE OILERS MOVED OUT OF PAMPA YESTERDAY—lock, stock and barrel. Their destination was San Angelo, their probable second home this season. The players carried all of their possessions with them because this was to be their last time to leave Pampa for a road trip.

Many of them were sad to be leaving Pampa and others were happy to be seeing new sites. Although nothing is definite about the franchise move to San Angelo, everything is just about set. Southwestern League president W. J. Green is pushing the move to his home town. San Angelo dropped out of the league last year because of financial difficulties.

Pampa made the first move toward folding this season and others may follow. Hobbs and El Paso are reported to be in financial difficulties while Clovis has threatened to fold if the government enforces its threat to attach that club's gate receipts for back payment of taxes. If Clovis folds, the league will go with six teams and a new schedule will be revised.

It's possible that Pampa could have professional baseball again, perhaps in a few years, if the national pastime goes into a new era such as the one enjoyed just after World War Two when attendance was at its highest.

Many cities have done that. Wichita Falls, which folded this week, made its third try in organized ball last year while Lamesa, Waco and other cities did the same thing. In the event baseball does return to Pampa in the future a new ball park would have to be built.

The present site is owned by Santa Fe and will likely be sold for industrial sites or the railroad company may hold onto the land for its own use. The club acquired a long-term lease on the property for as long as baseball remained here. The facilities on the land are privately owned.

Should the park be torn down this summer the American Legion team will be forced to start looking for a new place to play and lights will have to be constructed. There is talk of organizing a semi-pro team again this year and they too must look elsewhere.

Pampa High School has a playing field but it is unlighted. The school should take steps to try and purchase the lights and poles for the high school diamond. Harvester Stadium could also use a little more lighting.

It would be nice for the city to have a lighted park for amateur and semi-pro games and for its recreation program. When the Berger Gassers folded several years ago the park remained but because of lack of maintenance the park has become an eyesore in the city. Many games are still played in Huber Park despite its ramshackled condition.

PAMPA'S FAILURE to receive a grant from the $500,000 slush fund set aside by the major league teams for needy National Association organizations must be attributed to one of the six reasons trust co-ordinator Bill DeWitt gave for refusing aid to clubs in difficulty.

Among those reasons were: 1. No grant is to be made to a club unable to open the 1957 season; 2. No grant is to be made to a club to pay any existing indebtedness incurred prior to the opening of the 1957 season; 3. No grant is to be made to any club that does not respond within a reasonable length of time to our requests for financial statements and other information.

DeWitt said that six clubs had applied for grants but had been turned down because of the restrictions. Pampa Community Baseball Association president Pinky Branson said he asked DeWitt for a $10,000 grant but was turned down.

WHAT IS DEFEAT? Nothing but education, nothing but the first step to something better.

—Wendell Phillips.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UP)—Tennessee Coach Bowden Wyatt and three of his assistants will leave for Frankfurt, Germany in June to conduct a series of football clinics for Army personnel.

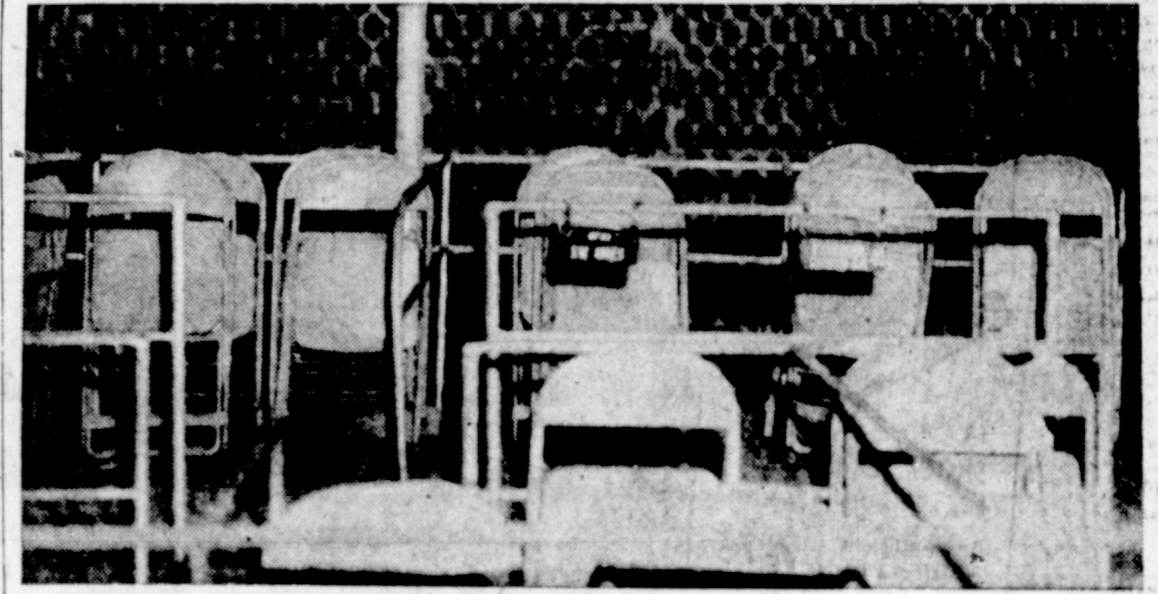

The baseball season for Pampa's Oilers ended the same way as it began when rain washed out their Southwestern League contest last night.

Last night's contest was to be the conclusion of the 19-year streak of professional baseball in Pampa. The Oilers' management threw in the towel after a week of rain-outs and decreased attendance at the gate.

The Oilers were slated to meet the Plainview Ponies in the last of a three-game series at Oiler Park last night. When the rain began the team packed up and headed for Hobbs where it plays tonight and tomorrow night. Two games were scheduled with Clovis here Saturday and Sunday but those games will be switched to San Angelo, the Oilers' new home site, if arrangements are completed for the change of the franchise.

The Oilers will become a road team until plans are completed for San Angelo's entrance into the Southwestern League once more. That is expected Saturday night. Clovis, on the brink of folding, may dissolve the Oilers and change the Class B circuit into a six-team league.

Last night's rained-out contest was the eighth here this year. The Oilers have played five games in Pampa since the season began April 23.

Jim Wilson's Pitching Gives White Sox Hold On AL Lead

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer

Jim Wilson, a strong, silent pipe-smoking type, wouldn't sit too well with Joe McCarthy, but the White Sox are sitting pretty in first place today because of his three shutouts and 1.04 earned run average, best among all pitchers in the majors.

McCarthy made no bones about his dislike for pipe-smokers. White Sox skipper Al Lopez, on the other hand, wouldn't care if the 25-year-old Wilson puffed on cornstarch as long as he pitches the way he did Wednesday night when he stopped the Senators for four hits, 5-0.

Wilson didn't allow a hit until the fifth and pitched his way out of bases-loaded jams in the eighth and ninth as he chalked up his fourth victory and ran his string of consecutive scoreless innings to 18. Walt Droppa homered off Washington southpaw Chuck Stobbs, who dropped his seventh straight game without a victory.

By winning their fourth straight game, the White Sox retained the American League lead by a half-game over the Yankees, who defeated the Athletics, 3-0, on Tom Sturdivant's five-hit performance. Cleveland used seven pitchers in scoring a 16-inning, 11-8 triumph over Baltimore, and Boston beat Detroit by the same 11-8 score.

Redlegs, Braves Share First

In the National League, Cincinnati climbed back into first place tie with Milwaukee by defeating Philadelphia, 7-2, as Brooks Lawrence struck out 11 batters; St. Louis licked New York, 6-5, in 14 innings; Brooklyn topped the Braves, 3-2, in 10 innings, and the Pittsburgh-Chicago game was postponed because of cold weather.

The Yanks scored all three of their runs in the first inning off Ned Garver with the aid of shortstop Joe DeMaestri's error. Sturdivant, who gained his second triumph, has now gone 30 straight innings without giving up an earned run.

Rain Ends Season

For Harvester 9

Rain cancelled the final game of the 1957 season for the Pampa Harvesters when their contest with Palo Duro was called before the two teams had completed three innings of play.

The Dons were leading 6-0 at the time the rain began falling. David James was pitching for Pampa and Don Beck was on the mound for Palo Duro. Beck hit a two-run homer in the third to aid his cause.

The Harvesters finished the season with a record of seven wins and nine losses. Their District 3-AAAA record was 3-6 for fifth place. Amarillo won the title with a 10-1 mark followed by Palo Duro with 7-4, Lubbock 7-5, Plainview 6-4, Pampa 5-6, Borger 3-9 and Monterey 2-9.

Majors Trim To 25-Man Rosters

By UNITED PRESS

You could field a fairly representative team from the list of players released Wednesday night when the 25-man roster limit went into effect in the major leagues.

For a pitching staff, you could take your pick of Karl Spooner of the Brooklyn Dodgers, Pete Burnside of the New York Giants, Bob Trowbridge of the Milwaukee Braves, and Dick Brodowski and Garland Shifflett of the Washington Senators. The catcher would be Haywood Sullivan of the Boston Red Sox.

Infielders released included first baseman Preston Ward of the Cleveland Indians, second baseman Woody Held of the New York Yankees, shortstop Billy Harrell of the Indians, and third baseman Rocky Bridges of the Cincinnati Redlegs.

The outfielders bounced were Neil Chrissy and Dick Tettibach of the Senators, Wes Covington of the Braves, and Chick King of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Keith Andrews Killed

Speedway Classic Marred By Death

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UP)—The auto racing fraternity mourned the death of Keith Andrews today and wondered whether the crash in Nino Farina's new roadster would wreck the Italian's plans to compete in the 500-mile Speedway classic.

Andrews, 36, Colorado Springs pilot, was instantly killed Wednesday doing a practice spin around the 2½-mile brick and asphalt oval.

He lost control of the sleek, maroon colored car on the north-west turn, slammed into the inside retaining wall at a speed of about 136 m.p.h. and died of a broken neck and internal injuries.

The last section of the American made car, which Farina purchased to race here and in Monza, Italy, was a twisted heap of metal—apparently too badly wrecked to be repaired in time for qualifications which open Saturday and end May 26.

Chief mechanic Miles Spickler said Farina's plans were uncertain.

"He's pretty upset about Andrews' death," Spickler said. "I don't think we can run this car here or in Monza," where the Italian version of the "500" is scheduled for June 29.

Greenbrier Open Scheduled Today

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (UP)—Ben Hogan, making one of his infrequent tournament appearances, moved into Sam Snead's own backyard today for the opening round of the Greenbrier Open golf tournament.

A record field of 49 top professionals were entered in the $10,000, 72-hole event which will be conducted over two courses at the swank Greenbrier Hotel.

Hogan, who has appeared in only three other tournaments thus far this year, won the Greenbrier title in 1950 when he tied the world's record for a championship tournament with a blistering 21-under-par 250.

Snead has won the Greenbrier three times and has been the runner-up twice in the last three years.

Midland Moves To 5th In S'Western

By UNITED PRESS
Carlsbad and Midland traded places in the Southwestern League standings last night in the only game played.

The Potashers beat Midland, 10 to 3, to take over fifth place after Midland had held it for a day.

All other games were postponed, including the last game of the season for Pampa, which is folding due to lack of finances.

It was not immediately determined whether the Pampa franchise would be shifted to San Angelo or not.

Tonight's action calls for Plainview at Clovis, Ballinger at Carlsbad, Midland at El Paso and Pampa at Hobbs.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas

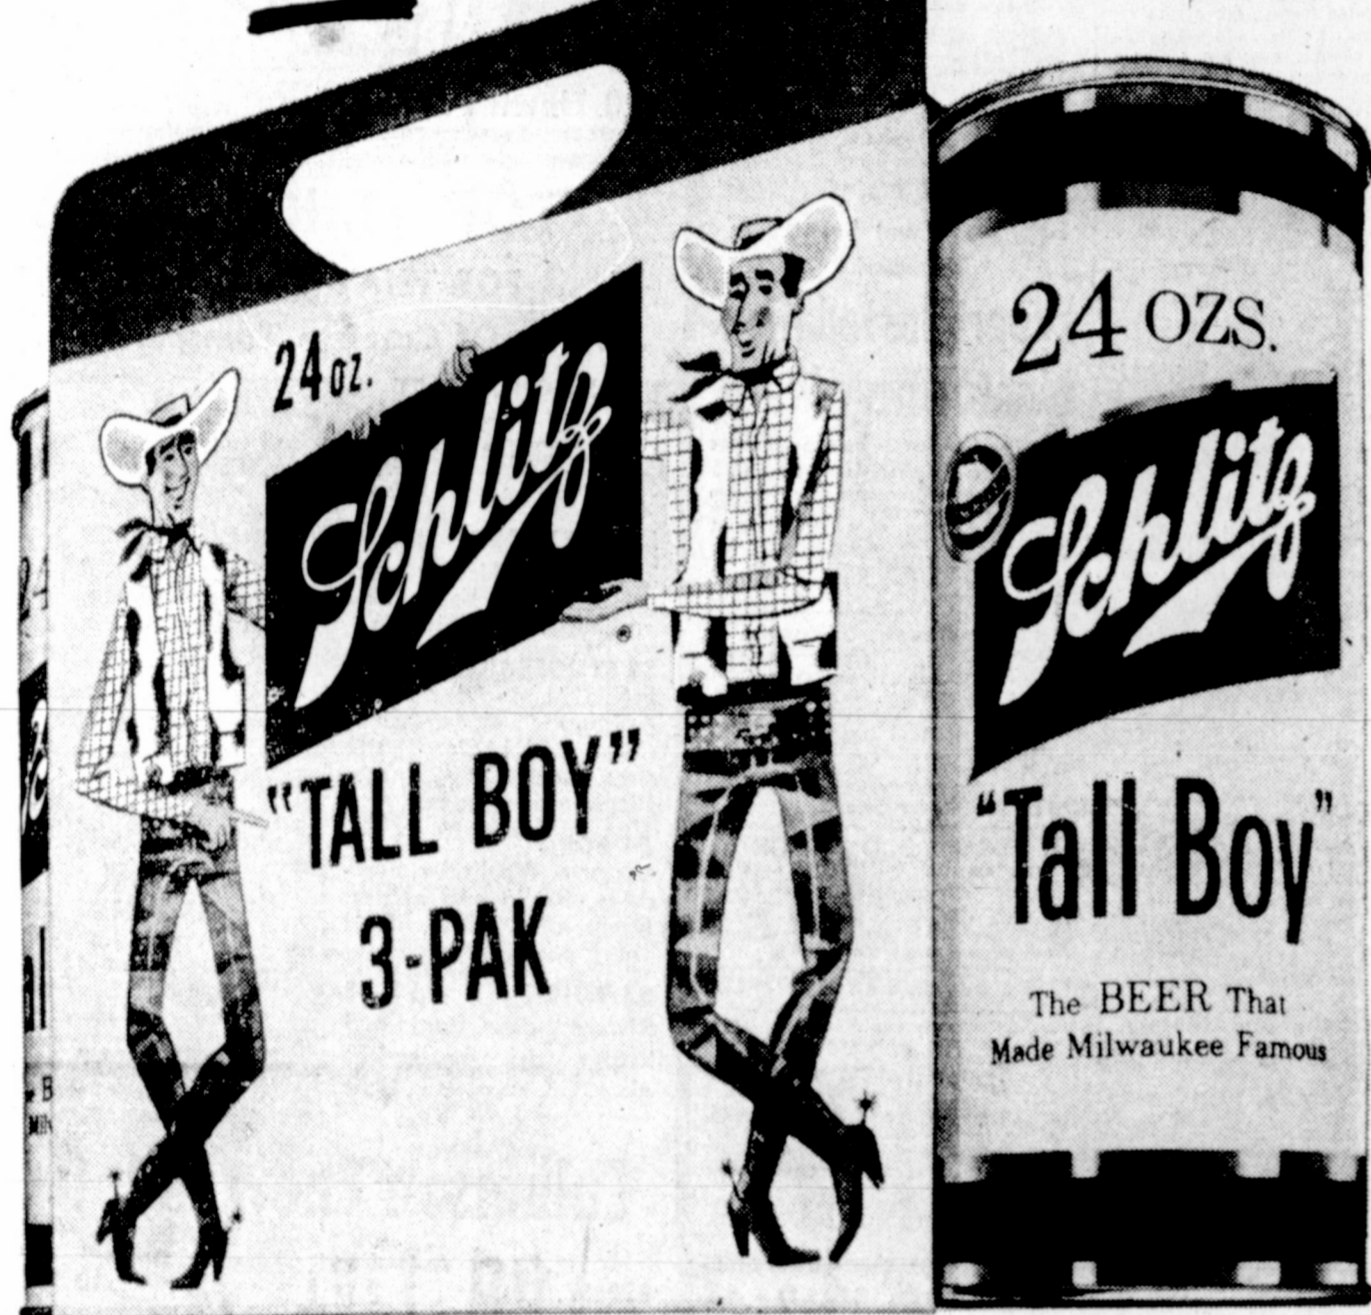

FUTURE TENSE LAW
You can tell a lot about people by the way they regard time. Do they put stock mostly in the past — their record; the present — their direct joy in work or play; or the future — their plans? Why not use all three dimensions of time? Past experience to guide, the present for zest, and the future to realize dreams. Lawyers report a sharp shift in the way people regard time and the law: Of old they thought of law in terms of past facts like failures to meet legal duties, misdeeds, etc. — facts useful chiefly in lawsuits. You still have to think of the record, since you may have to go to trial some time. So keep good records of your affairs. But more and more people now also think of the law in the future tense — in terms of built-in safeguards for plans which they want to go through without legal hitch-ess. Our heavy income and death taxes have made people plan ahead legally, rather than wait for the axe to fall. Any time you buy or sell a home or a business or make an investment you have choices of how you may do it — some wise, some not in view of your circumstances. Should you do business as a sole proprietor, a partnership, or corporation? Do your contracts set out ways of meeting unexpected events? How best may you serve your estate (and also carry out your wishes) — by a will or a trust or by direct gifts? While all of these point forward, the past in the form of court records can serve you by showing where trouble may come from. As more and more people know the symptoms of legal trouble — where to look for legal hitches in plans before big trouble starts, there will be fewer law suits and better human relations. And where does trouble sometimes start? Most often where you lack a clear grasp of your relationship, your rights and duties, and your own and the other fellow's resources — in transactions involving large personal or financial stakes. (This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

MILWAUKEE, May 11 (UP) — The Klingbergs were back together today, but for a while there the going was rough. Julius Klingberg, 75, stopped his wife's divorce proceedings by promising a California vacation. They have been married 48 years. "I was ready to take him back," his wife Wilhelmina, also 75, said. "I just wish he wasn't so bossy." The Klingbergs had almost broken up because of: A disagreement about where to place a potted geranium. An empty instant coffee jar. Klingberg's complaint that his wife shouted at him. (She said she only wanted to make sure he heard her through his hearing aid.) MITCHELL, S. D., May 11 (UP) — A supermarket has installed an automatic machine which dispenses minnows. The tank is called the "minnow-matic." Read The News Classified Ads
