Ike Speaks Out Against Big Cuts In The Budget

By RAYMOND LAHR
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower said today, "We must not weaken ourselves militarily or destroy our leadership in the free world...in our desire to reduce our own tax burden."

"To make such an attempt," he said in a telephoned message to a Republican regional conference at Cincinnati, Ohio, "would prove the most costly mistake of our entire national life."

The President again defended his record $71,800,000,000 peace-time spending budget and prodded Congress to enact his proposals on federal aid to schools, civil rights and higher postal rates.

"Peace will be maintained only by unrelenting day-by-day sacrifice," he said. "Any sound political program for America must have this determination as its foundation stone..."

"To date, this program has made little progress in Congress. Unless that body begins to act on it soon, the country and our people will be the poorer."

Defended in Senate
The President spoke as key senators voted to defend his $36,200,000,000 defense budget against a possible House slash of $2,500,000,000. The senators who do not wish to be identified by name foresaw the possibility of trimming the House cut to around one billion dollars.

Eisenhower's message was addressed to Republican leaders from Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Missouri and West Virginia who gathered at Cincinnati for the fifth GOP regional conference sponsored by the Republican National Committee.

The President said the nation must "continue to wage the peace with every tool, every facility at our command, knowing that Americans will make any necessary sacrifice to keep the peace and strengthen the free world."

Eisenhower called on Midwest Republicans to push for a GOP majority in both houses of Congress next year.

Silent on Reaction
White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty declined to tell reporters what the public's reaction has been to Eisenhower's radio-television defense of his budget Tuesday night.

Key senators supporting the President said there is no chance that the Senate would go along with the full $2,500,000,000 House cut or accept any reduction for aircraft or missile production.

The House Appropriations Committee had been reported ready to propose the big cut next week including reductions in the missiles and aircraft programs.

Road Construction Bid-Letting Delayed

A bid-letting has been delayed for another month in connection with the construction of the Bowers City-Lefors farm-to-market road with no word being heard from the Texas Company relative to the lowering of their pipelines which must be done prior to any bid-letting, according to County Judge Bruce Parker.

Parker said this morning that no word has been received at this time from the company since they last asked payment by the county for the lowering of their pipeline near the Bowers City end of the road.

The County Commissioners recently refused a company petition for additional pipelines on the Lefors end of the road until such time as the pending matter of lowering of pipelines is settled.

After this refusal, the commissioners allowed one line to be put in which lessened the number of lines to be lowered in the controversial area. No word has been heard, however from the company in regard to the lowering of the balance of the lines.

Parker said that it is his understanding that all other companies with lines in this area have agreed to lower their lines without cost to the county.

This marks the second major set-back in the building of the farm-to-market road, the first being the refusal of the Phillips Petroleum Company to pay for the lowering of their pipelines.

This question was settled, however, after several meetings between County engineers and engineers of the Phillips Company, and communications between County commissioners and officials of the company. Work was scheduled to resume on the proposed road until the Texas Company notified county authorities that it would not consider paying for the lowering of pipelines which run across the proposed route without compensation from the county.

As a result, the contract, which must be approved for letting by the State Highway Commission in Austin, was pulled from the lettings for another month by engineers of the state highway commission's office in Pampa until such time as all questions in connection with the construction of the road are cleared.

Should this letting be pulled for another month, officials have said, it will result in the delay of the project for another year since the asphalt cannot be laid in the winter.

Driving Charge Facing Man After Collision

Jack E. Fletcher of Spearman entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated in the only case heard in County Court this morning.

A bond of $1,000 was set and Fletcher was still in the county jail this morning pending the making of the bond.

He was arrested by city police at 10:03 last night following a collision at the intersection of Browning and Ballard at 10 p.m. He was driving a '56 Ford and was in collision with Derrel Fayne Davis, 1921 S. Sumner.

Fletcher and Miss Helen Hickox, 412 N. Somerville, a passenger in Davis' car, were injured and taken to the hospital. Miss Hickox was taken to Worley Hospital where she was treated for head injuries and released. Fletcher was taken to Highland General Hospital and stitches were placed in his lip. He was to return to the hospital today after posting bond to have chest x-rays made.

Damages to Fletcher's Ford were estimated at $500 and the Ford driven by Davis met with damages estimated at $375.

Two other collisions within the city limits yesterday were reported to the police department. The first of the collisions occurred at 3:37 p.m. on Browning, 80 feet west of Ballard, Mary S. Clark, 2425 Christine, driving a '55 Dodge station wagon, was in collision with Charlotte H. Hogan, 1176 Prairie Dr., driving a '56 Ford. The Dodge met with damages estimated at $25 and damages to the Ford were estimated at $3.

The other collision occurred at 11:32 p.m. at the intersection of Cuyler and Atkinson. William Jerry Welch, 401 N. Roberts, driving a '55 Mercury, was in collision with Gwendolyn Jane Pryor, Pampa, driving a '55 Chevrolet. Damages to the Mercury were estimated at $180 and the Chevrolet encountered damages estimated at $175.

7-Year-Old Boy Trapped In Well

By HENRY PRICE
United Press Staff Correspondent
MANORVILLE, N. Y. (UP)—Rescuers fought sand and death 21 feet below the ground today in a desperate effort to reach a 7-year-old boy trapped at the bottom of a well shaft since 8 o'clock Thursday night.

Chances dimmed that Benjamin Hooper Jr., was still alive.

Dr. Joseph H. Kris, who maintained an all-night vigil at the top of the boy's narrow prison, estimated 14 hours after he was trapped that there was just a 20 per cent chance Benny was then alive. And he added, "each moment the chances grow slimmer."

Kris said that the sand and death worker saw movement at the bottom of the shaft at 8 a. m., indicating the boy still was alive at that hour.

A huge, industrial type vacuum cleaner was brought in to suck out sand and debris which had sifted down on the boy. But Kris and the fire department vetoed its use for fear the vacuum would loosen more sand and also remove oxygen.

The last physical contact with Benny was at 10:30 Thursday night when he grasped briefly a hook which firemen lowered into the hole. His hand slipped off as firemen tried to pull him free.

Rescuers completed a parallel hole 15 feet from the narrow well shortly before dawn. Using hydraulic jacks, they began forcing three-foot pipe through the sand toward the trapped youngster. A conveyor belt carried the sand clear of the excavation in the backyard of the Hooper home in this Long Island community some 70 miles east of New York City.

Shortly after 10 a. m., three feet of pipe had been laid in and cleared of sand and workmen started pushing through a second section. They planned to work to within two feet of the child with the pipe and then resume hand digging.

Early in the night the boy's screams had faded to muffled sobs, then silence. Since midnight, there had been no sound from the well shaft, only an occasional movement of the upraised hand.

As hundreds of spectators looked on, improvised searchlights played on the well shaft throughout the chill night while a huge bucket crane excavated an adjacent hole 20 feet in diameter. An ambulance stood close by. At the head of the well shaft, a doctor supervised the pumping of oxygen into the hole, only 10 inches in diameter at the point where young Benjamin had become wedged when he toppled in while playing with a companion.

API Group To Meet Tonight

The Panhandle Chapter of the American Petroleum Institute will meet this evening at 8 o'clock in the Palm Room of City Hall to hear of progress being made, and the prospects for future development, in the Anadarko Basin. The speaker will be Robert B. Totten, geologist for the Sun Oil Company in Amarillo.

The Anadarko Basin has become one of the most active areas in the state of Texas during the past year with an unusually high percentage of successful wildcat wells being drilled. During the last two years, development has been so rapid that between 20 and 30 per cent of the oil produced in the Texas Panhandle has been coming from this area.

Totten has followed progress in this area very closely since the first wells were drilled and will tell those members of the API present of his studies.

Awards will also be presented at the meeting of two of the past chairmen of the Panhandle Chapter in recognition of their outstanding work in API affairs.

Iran Will Up Living Conditions

By JOSEPH MAZANDI
United Press Staff Correspondent
TEHRAN (UP)—The Shah of Iran today announced a campaign to improve living conditions in Iran in a drive to wipe out Communism.

He disclosed his intentions in an exclusive interview with United Press.

The better-living program will include the setting up of an opposition political party to give the Moslem nation's 20-million inhabitants a bigger voice in the government.

"The people of this country have a right to a better existence and a decent way of life, and it is the responsibility of the government to see that it is achieved," Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi said.

The 37-year-old Swiss-educated monarch said a more effective system of collecting taxes and the "proper" use of oil revenues and technical aid from the United States would help to achieve this goal.

He said a party system of government soon would begin to operate in the country to allow the people greater latitude in their own affairs.

The formation of an opposition party was announced Thursday.

Work On Bridges And Roads In Progress After Wednesday Rains

The task of repairing damages to bridges in the Top O' Texas, that resulted from high water running down streams following Wednesday night's violent weather, is in progress with a possibility of one bridge being opened late today.

A spokesman of the Pampa office of the Highway Department maintenance section reported this morning that repair work was in progress on the bridge on Highway 152 across Sweetwater Creek between Mobeetie and Wheeler. An abutment of the bridge was damaged by the swift water in the stream Wednesday night but emergency repairs started yesterday by the highway department are expected to be completed late today and traffic will be able to cross the bridge.

The bridge across Sweetwater Creek on Highway 83 north of Wheeler will have to be replaced, according to the highway department, and plans at the present time call for traffic to be detoured through Mobeetie as soon as the work on the bridge between Mobeetie and Wheeler is completed. Emergency work is also in progress on the bridges across McClellan Creek on Farm-to-Market Road 291 between Lefors and Alanreed. These bridges were not seriously damaged and as soon as the repairs can be completed traffic will be allowed on that road.

On Highway 273 between Lefors and McLean, the bridge across McClellan Creek suffered damage at two points from the high water. Two spans near the middle of the bridge dropped when a supporting pillar settled. The spans were not damaged and the highway department reported that if these spans do not fall into the stream they will.

New Downpours Pose More Flood Perils In Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY (UP)—New rains of up to eight inches posed more flood perils today in Oklahoma, where, eight persons are dead and six missing from 48 hours of violent weather.

More than 40 major highway routes were closed by flood waters and practically every bridge on the wild Cimarron River was heavily damaged or washed out. The weather bureau forecast a record flood for the Cimarron from Waynoka, Okla., to its mouth at Keystone where it joins the Arkansas near Tulsa.

The weather bureau alerted residents of Perkins to evacuate in expectation of serious flooding there.

Residents in lowland areas near Guthrie were also alerted, but the city itself was not in danger.

Six Persons Missing
Meanwhile, new rains in southern Oklahoma in another watershed pushed the total to eight inches at Healdton since Thursday night.

The Highway Patrol said six persons were unaccounted for earlier.

Walter Rogers To Inspect Area Where Tornado Struck

SILVERTON, Tex. (UP)—The survivors of the Silverton tornado set about burying their 20 dead today and clearing out the wreckage which the twister scattered about the southwest section of town Wednesday night.

A Department of Public Safety list showed 20 bodies, not including that of Mrs. J. D. Puckett, 30, who was killed in the Lone Star community near Lockney. Her two children were hurt.

Congressman Walter Rogers of Pampa and William Rosch, a Civil Defense official, were expected in Silverton later today to inspect the ravaged area and see what can be done about helping those whose homes were lost.

Eighty persons were injured, and of these, 27 remained in hospitals. Seven were in critical condition and five others in serious condition. One of the injured was reported to have a sliver of wood in his throat.

The tornado howled through the southwest corner of Silverton, a town of 850 persons about 68 miles southeast of Amarillo. What was believed to be the same twister killed a woman at the community of Lone Star near Lockney, 25 miles south of Silverton.

Eighty persons were reported injured. The Highway Patrol said this morning that 32 still remained in hospitals.

The tornado destroyed 25 homes, badly damaged 15 and slightly damaged 15 more. In some cases foundations were left intact. In others, only the condition of the earth revealed where a house was before the twister picked it up, tore it to shreds and hurled them far away.

It ripped up five grain elevators, a cotton gin and a barracks where Mexican migratory workers lived in cotton picking season.

It uprooted the gin, stripped the metal into slivers and dumped them in a huge heap blocks from their original site. It left a 20-foot deep crater at the site of the gin.

Rance Stephens Jr., his wife, their three children, and Mrs. Stephens' parents were killed. They lived next door to each other.

Appeal For Contributions To Disaster

A plea for contributions to disaster relief at Silverton was made by local Red Cross Executive Secretary Libby Shotwell this morning.

Mrs. Shotwell, calling The News from Highland General Hospital where she is recuperating from a virus, said the Amarillo office of the American Red Cross had informed her that funds were needed to help relieve the situation in Silverton.

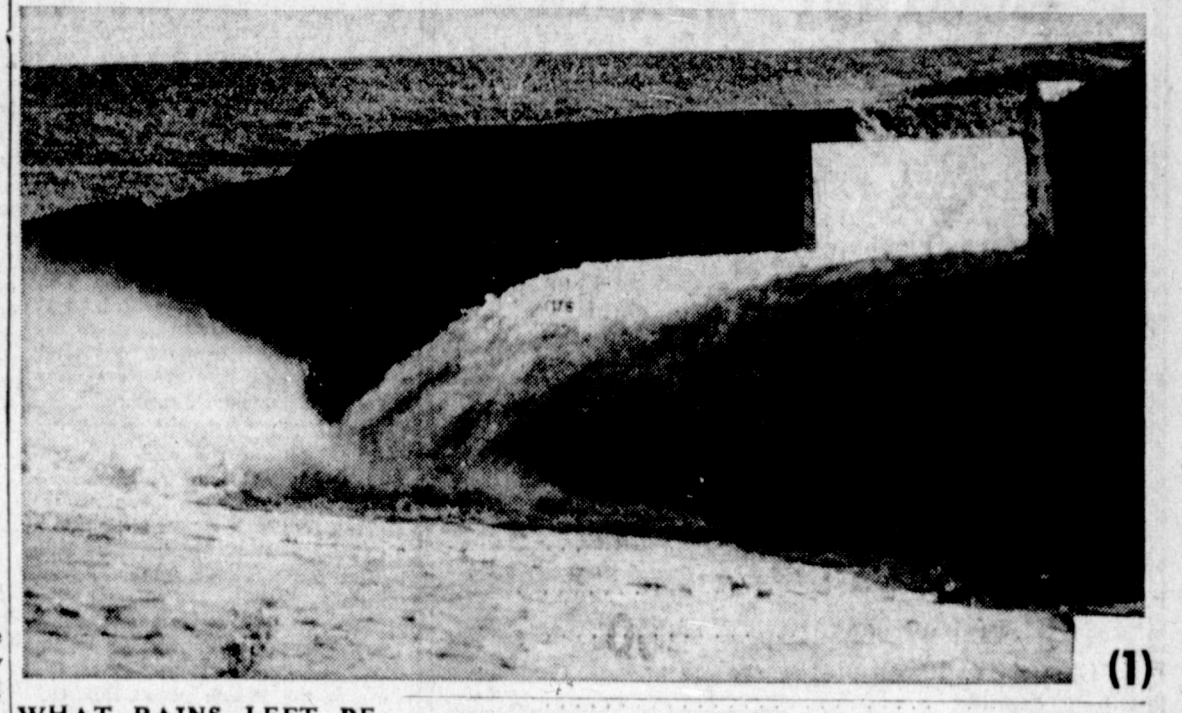

Red Cross disasters throughout Texas during the recent floods and other natural disasters have cut deeply into Red Cross disaster funds. Hence, the call for contributions.

About $200,000 is needed at Silverton, Mrs. Shotwell said. She added that those making contributions to the specific Silverton area should mark their checks "Disaster relief for Silverton tornado."

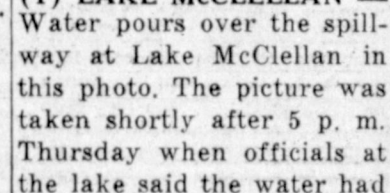

The Amarillo chapter is also gathering clothes for distribution in the Silverton area, she said. Top O' Texans wishing to donate clothes may take them to the Pampa office and they will be sent to Amarillo for distribution in the Silverton area. Donations were reminded, however, that only usable clothes would be sent and they should not send clothes they would not wear themselves.

A group from the local chapter took a program of entertainment and refreshments to the Airmen in Amarillo Air Force Base hospital this week.

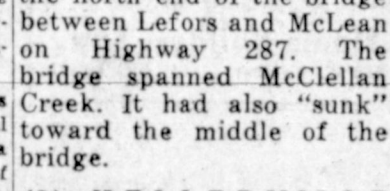

Those going to Amarillo included Mrs. A. D. Hills, Mrs. W. J. Ladd and Mrs. Roy Kretzmeier, Gray Ladies; Mrs. V. J. Castka and Mrs. Lindsey Johnson, Theta Rho advisors - officers, and Barbara Whitney, Sally Parsley, Barbara Graham, Cathy Smith, Mildred Johnson and Jo Ann Johnson, Theta Rho members.

Split Between Red China, Russia Seen

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
Foreign News Commentary

There are indications that a big split has developed between Red China and Soviet Russia on the proper relationships between Communist countries.

It has been known for a long time that Wladyslaw Gomulka, the Polish Communist leader, has received strong and perhaps decisive support from Red China in his fight against Soviet domination.

It now appears that Mao Tse-tung has warned Soviet leaders that they had better recognize the right of East European countries to handle their own affairs if they want to keep out of trouble.

Dispatches from Warsaw, the Polish capital, indicate that Gomulka regards Mao and Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai as his chief supporters against any new attempt by the Russians to get Poland back under Soviet domination.

Mao Congratulated Gomulka
Mao sent a message of warm congratulation to Gomulka at the time of the Polish revolt last October.

It was disclosed also at that time that Mao and Chou strongly disapproved of Russia's brutal suppression of the Hungarian revolt.

Later, they half-heartedly said that Russian intervention was justified because the Hungarian revolt was inspired by "imperialists."

But the Chinese leaders have consistently supported Gomulka, who managed to win a great measure of independence from Russian domination because—unlike the Hungarians—he succeeded in keeping anti-Russian feeling under control.

Gomulka's position was materially strengthened last January when Chou visited Poland.

Last month, Polish Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz paid a visit to Peiping, the Chinese Communist capital.

At that time, Mao accepted an invitation from Cyrankiewicz to visit Poland in September, incident to a long-set visit to Moscow. Cyrankiewicz obtained from the Chinese leaders a new endorsement of Poland's bid for independence.

Apparently as the result of Cyrankiewicz's visit to Peiping, it has now been disclosed in Warsaw that Chou made a speech last February in which he openly condemned the Russian intervention in Hungary.

Expected More Revolts
In that speech, Chou said that Russia must expect further revolts in Communist satellite countries if it tried to dominate their affairs.

Chou also said that Communist governments individually must give more freedom to their peoples.

Soviet leaders have reason to be worried over the attitude of the Chinese Communist leaders.

Mao and Chou are the top men in the biggest Communist-ruled country in the world. Red China has 600 million people, three times the number of those in the Soviet Union.

Red China was long regarded as a sort of Russian satellite. That idea was completely incorrect because evident at the time of Josef Stalin's death. It is now recognized that Chou regards himself as the equal, if not the superior, of any Russian as an authority on Communist doctrine.

DECISION FOR DEVIL

TV Mail Bag

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—The mail bag:

Question: My small boy is a fan of CBS-TV's "Robin Hood." Lately, he has taken to shooting arrows around the house much to the discomfort of my mother-in-law who almost has been nicked a couple of times. Do you have any solution to this problem?

Answer: Try CBS-TV's "Air Power." Instruction in the use of modern weapons may improve his aim.

Question: A face keeps appearing in the middle of my TV screen even after I have turned it off. What does this mean?

Answer: You have what TV repairmen call a "ghost." Try for one more face and you'll have a ghost-to-ghost set.

QUESTION: Baseball has become a problem at our house. My husband wants to watch it on TV at night while I prefer comedy shows. Any suggestions?

Answer: Watching the New York Giants should satisfy both of you.

Questions: Why do the musicians on the Lawrence Welk show smile all the time?

Answer: They're not really smiling. They're gritting their teeth so they won't have to listen to the music.

Question: My husband loves science-fiction TV shows, but recently he has been acting rather strangely—he seems to believe he is a flying saucer. This isn't too bad except that he keeps the children awake by zooming around the living room at night. Are we in trouble?

Answer: Be thankful for small things, madam. There is a gentleman in Asbury Park, N. J., who has seen so many westerns he thinks he is a horse. He was last seen galloping through Trenton.

Weather Outlook

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Weather Bureau's 30-day outlook: The period from mid-May to mid-June calls for temperatures to average below seasonal normals over most of the nation, except for above normal in the Northwest and extreme Southeast. This marks a major reversal from the unseasonable warmth which has prevailed over the eastern half of the country during the past 30 days.

Precipitation is expected to equal or exceed normal over most areas, except for a subnormal amount along the West Coast and in the northern tier of states westward from the Great Lakes.

FLYING SAUCERS AGAIN

ALBERT, France (UP)—This peaceful community got its second flying saucer scare in recent days Wednesday night when a frightened farmer spied a strange shape in a pasture, complete with bright lights and explosions. The local constabulary, alerted by telephone struggled into uniform, strapped on pistols and rushed to the scene. The "saucer" turned out to be a string of firecrackers a practical joker had tied to a fence.

House Group Approves Hike In Teacher's Pay

By O. B. LLOYD JR.
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 AUSTIN (UP)—Legislation giving 75,000 Texas school teachers a $399-a-year pay raise was unanimously approved today by the House Appropriations Committee.
 The measure, costing an estimated 48 million dollars over the next two fiscal years, will sop up all but the last dribble remaining of the state's general revenue fund. Whatever is left is expected to be used to finance pay boosts for judges.
 The teacher pay bill, sponsored by Rep. James A. Turman of Grober, now goes to the House floor where early action, possibly today, was expected.

 The north approach of the bridge was washed out when the stream changed course and cut into the north bank. One slab of concrete fell into the stream. The final appraisal of damage to the bridge has not been completed and as a result no plans have been made as to what work will be done on the bridge or when it will start.
 A wooden county bridge between Kellerville and Highway 273 was washed out by the storm waters. All county roads in Precincts 1, 2 and 3 were open today with the exception of the Kellerville road.

DOWNPOURS

 Heavy Rain
 But torrential rains pounded southern Oklahoma Thursday night. Ardmore received nearly seven inches up to midnight. The Highway Patrol evacuated families from 41 homes in lowlands near Healdton, west of Ardmore, after more than five inches fell there.
 Two children were drowned late Thursday when a new steel and concrete bridge over the north fork of the Red River at Sayre collapsed. Two others fell into the river but were rescued. The dead were Katherine Paxton, 9, and her brother, Tommy, 11, children of George Paxton, Sweetwater, Okla., school superintendent.
 Don Ross Miller, 64, Marshall, Okla., was drowned in his automobile on U.S. 81 between Dover and Hennessey.
 A Blaine county couple, Mr. and Mrs. George Seneker, both in their 80s, died in their storm cellar east of Okene, Okla.
 Officers said heavy rains penetrated an underground carboxide system used years ago for lighting and forced gas into the cellar.
 Robert E. Young, 52, Oklahoma City, was killed by a lightning bolt in his yard.
 Eight-year-old Larry Dauphin was drowned near Quinlan in Woodward county when a flash flood swept him down a creek.
 Another 8-year-old, Cathy Dawn Marks of Hitchcock, died when a tractor driven by her mother slid off a muddy bridge into a creek. Dozens of bridges, some on main highways have been washed away by the floods.

ARE YOU OLD ENOUGH TO REMEMBER MAY 21, 1927?

The flood gates were still open at the lake last night and plans called for the gates to remain open until the level of the lake was approximately five feet below the spillway, according to D. P. Kilgo, concessionaire at the lake.
 Kilgo reported that approximately 7 1/2 inches of rain was received at the lake during Wednesday's storm.
 A special meeting of the County Commissioners will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow in the Court House for the purpose of working out arrangements for the repairing of roads and bridges washed out in Precincts 1 and 3.
 The commissioners of these two precincts have asked for help from the commissioners of Precincts 2 and 4 in making emergency repairs to county roads damaged from Wednesday night's storm and high waters. Judge Bruce L. Parker told The News this morning.
 It is expected that an agreement will be reached for all county equipment to be used on the emergency repairs so that the roads can be opened.

Billy Graham's Sin Crusade Is Successful

NEW YORK (UP)—Evangelist Billy Graham said Thursday night his crusade against New York's crime and sin already appears to be more successful than any campaign he has ever undertaken. He said the New York Crusade is backed by "probably the greatest concentration of prayer in the history of the Christian Church."
 "People the world over are praying for the success of this crusade," he said. "This is the one everyone is interested in. I can feel their prayers."
 Graham's second night audience at Madison Square Garden was logged by Garden officials at 13,000, a drop of 5,500 from the near capacity gathering at opening night. But Graham said he thought it was proportionately a record for a second night. "It always drops off the second night and then it gathers momentum," he said.
 The energetic evangelist said he was so encouraged by the turnout for his war on sin that he expects to extend it well beyond the originally planned six weeks. He said he hoped to hold a giant outdoor meeting for 100,000 persons this fall in Yankee Stadium or the Polo Grounds.

Egypt Determined To Run Suez Canal

By WALTER LOGAN
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 Egypt stiffened its determination today to run the Suez Canal on its own terms and informed French pressure in the forthcoming U. N. Security Council debate would not change its stand.
 Egyptian sources said the country was optimistic that outcome of the debate would weaken Egypt's authority over the canal. They said shipping companies using the canal have made no complaint.
 Egyptian newspapers attacked President Eisenhower for the second day for saying Israel has a right to send a test ship through the canal.
 The government newspaper Al Goumhouria said "any person endowed with common sense will realize that the words 'rights, security and justice' by Eisenhower constitute a screen vainly designed to conceal American policy aimed at sowing the seeds of unrest among the Arabs for the sake of both imperialism and Zionism."
 An Israeli government spokesman said in Jerusalem that Israel would wait until after the U. N. debate before deciding whether to send a ship through the canal to test the Egyptian boycott of Israeli shipping.

Narcotics Available To Convicts

TYLER, Tex. (UP)—Narcotics are available to Texas convicts "who have the money" according to an addicted ex-convict.
 R. C. Maulden, a 23-year-old Tyler Negro, said he took drugs during a four-year prison stretch and they were available to "anyone who had the money."
 Maulden made his revelations while being questioned by District Judge Otis T. Dunagan, before whom he pleaded to a charge of possession of a hypodermic syringe in violation of state law.
 Judge Dunagan sentenced him to five years in the penitentiary.
 The judge described Maulden's statement concerning use of narcotics in the state prison as "shocking." He said, "this situation should be investigated immediately by proper authorities."

Smuggled In

"How long had you been on narcotics?" Judge Dunagan asked Maulden.
 "About four years," he replied. "Then you got it while you were in the penitentiary?"
 "Yes," Maulden answered. "How did you get hold of it?" Judge Dunagan asked.
 "It was smuggled in. Anybody could get it if he had the money," Maulden said.

Macmillan Wins Commons Support

LONDON (UP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan defeated a Laborite vote of censure in the House of Commons Thursday night but ran into demands today that Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd resign.
 Lloyd's opponents felt that he personified the last vestige of former Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden's ill-fated Middle East policies and that he should be replaced.
 Macmillan himself was turning his attention to a major new campaign to guarantee future British oil supplies regardless of developments in the Middle East.

Beveridge Recants
Lord Beveridge, Britain's famous coiner of the "cradle to the grave" phrase has apparently brewed up for himself quite a cup of tea.

Now, each of those pounds is worth about 6s 8d (about $1—ed. note) Like many other healthy people in the seventies, I am in danger of living longer than I can afford to live.

There is another thought worth considering here. Lord Beveridge admits that all his life he has been either an educationist or a politician.

Limits Of Tolerance
In the last issue I was quoting from F. A. Harper's article in "Limits of Tolerance" in "The Freeman" magazine.

Harper contends there are two concepts of morals. One concept is that there are moral principles that are unchanging with passing time and human ignorance of them.

"Proof of principles lies outside human experience, which merely confirms the proof. Or according to the legal maxim, Principia probant, non progantur (principles are not proved; they prove).

When Humphrey proposed that the huge road building program be financed through the issuance of private bonds, thereby removing the cost as a current charge against the budget, Byrd denounced it as "legerdemain."

Floral Arrangement Open House Fetes Given HDC Meeting 50th Anniversary

(Special to The News) LEFORS — "Pick the place in your home where a bouquet is needed and choose a vase accordingly," stated Mrs. L. D. Rider in her demonstration of flower arrangement before the Lefors Home Demonstration Club at their regular meeting in the civic center, recently.

"Always use a knife, not scissors, when cutting flowers and place them immediately in hot water upon cutting, which seals in the life," she went on to say, as she prepared three different arrangements using tall, medium and flat vases to convey her topic to the group.

She demonstrated how to make a lovely bouquet, using only one rosebud and filling in around with several different green leaves; also, how to cover a flat vase with greenery as a base to be used as a table centerpiece.

Mrs. J. D. Smith, president, presided over the business meeting, leading the group in unison in the club prayer.

Plans were made to attend a demonstration in Pampa by Miss Joy Parnell, home economist for the Southwestern Public Service on May 15.

Plans were also discussed for the all-day pattern alteration training to be held on May 16, in the civic center by Miss Helen Dunlap with a sack lunch served at the noon hour.

A THDA state delegate was not elected for the current year, due to the short time the Lefors Club has been organized and due to the inexperience of its members.

Those present were Mmes. A. M. Dickerson, H. L. Braly, B. J. Leninger, E. J. Deihl, J. D. Smith, and Charles Roberts.

Dorcas Class Has Social Meeting

(Special to The News) LEFORS — The Dorcas Sunday School class of the First Baptist church met Thursday night in the home of Mrs. C. R. Barnett for its monthly social.

Secret pal gifts were exchanged by the group and names of pairs were revealed, which is the custom of the club every three months.

Opening prayer was led by Mrs. John Pritchard followed by a short business meeting presided over by Mrs. J. F. Morris, president.

The next meeting date of the club has been changed to the fourth Thursday in May; the place will be decided at a later date.

Refreshments of cake, cookies, coffee and soft drinks were served.

Those present were Mmes. George Delver, Jeff Williams, Jennie White, John Pritchard, Henry Wetsel, J. F. Morris and the hostess, Mrs. Barnett.

RUTH MILLET

Wives are always being told that if they want their marriages to last and to be happy they must "keep up with their husbands" and stay as attractive as possible.

There is nothing wrong with that advice. Only someone ought to tell husbands to offer their wives some incentive and encouragement along the way.

If a man refuses to talk shop to his wife and let her know the important things about his work, how can he expect her to keep interest in his career?

If a husband doesn't bother to try to sell his wife on whatever leisure-time activities he most enjoys, how can he blame her for not being more companionable?

If a husband doesn't show his wife that he is proud to introduce her to his friends and that he has complete confidence in her as a hostess, he shouldn't be surprised if she fails to grow in graciousness and charm and self-confidence.

If a husband never seems to notice when his wife looks pretty or has on a new dress or has her hair done in a different way, how is she expected to know that her looks are important to him?

And if a man grumbles every time a woman spends money on clothes, he ought not to be shocked if she begins to look dowdy.

A wife can't keep in step with her husband through the years unless he is willing to pick her up when she stumbles, encourage her when the going is rough, and pause now and then to pay her a compliment.

When more husbands understand their obligation to help their wives there will be fewer wives who quit trying somewhere along the way.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

A. BRUNS, Pastor
1210 Duncan St.

ZION LUTHERAN CHURCH
Pampa, Texas

Most parents mean to do well with their children. Parents wish and dream great things for their children. Parents hope that their children will be more of a success than they were. To bring about success in life, most parents do a good job of feeding the child a balanced, vitamin-packed diet. Most parents buy good clothes for their children and call the doctor before the child is seriously ill. Parents desire their children to have every educational advantage and often make long-range plans to make such dreams financially possible. When parents discover a special talent in a child, usually they make real effort to cultivate that talent and again they will often go to considerable expense and sacrifice to do so. But here is an inconsistency—in the matter of the soul, in the matter of soul education, not many parents exhibit an intelligent interest. There is an old saying that says: "First things first". This is good sense—the most important things should be given top priority. Yet as citizens of this great country we are more concerned with the condition of the sole of his shoe than with the most valuable possession the child has, namely, that which is eternal in him—his SOUL. Religion is the body and substance of life. Christianity makes life meaningful. Faith in Jesus saves. The Word of God develops nobility of soul and Godpleasing behavior. Much less the tail of life, the physical, and materialistic values, have real influences worth while upon the child. Jesus says that first of all we should seek the Kingdom of God and the physical things will be taken care of. Truly the tail wags the dog. It should not be, but it is. Life is a big display window with a lot of desirable and undesirable items shown. A price tag is on each. From God's point of view, which we know from the Bible, someone has gotten into the window and changed things all around. Valuable things were priced cheap, and unimportant, even hurtful things, are marked very expensive. Now somewhere the idea has gotten out that because things are expensive therefore they are valuable. Nothing could be farther from the truth. A clear case in point is Christianity. True religion, the only solution to this world's problems, is marked down to such low figure that it seems hardly worth reaching for. Many think of it as a leisure-time activity like canasta or golf. Others think that it is only for the very young and the very old—but red-blooded people don't need it. If you want to do the best possible for your children, bring them to Christ and keep them with Him. There isn't a child in the world who wouldn't be proud and happy to have his parents attend the same church with him. The child knows all too well that if religion isn't good enough for the parents to participate in it isn't worth much. The mark of the parent's religious life is on the child. By putting first things first the soul of the child may be as strong and robust as that healthy little body. With Christian training the soul will become even stronger and healthier than the body and mind. First things first. Take your child to Sunday School. Go to church yourself. Take a real interest in this most important phase of your responsibility to God and to your children—the religious education of your child.

Snead, Hogan Close Behind Harney In Greenbrier Open

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (UP)—Two old pros—Ben Hogan and Sam Snead—set out together today to determine whether newcomer Paul Harney is the man to beat out for the 1957 Greenbrier Open golf championship or merely a "one-day wonder."

Pitchers Have Their Day In Majors

By FRED DOWN United Press Sports Writer

It's a slugger's era but those long-suffering pitchers have their days and nights, too. And a few more feats like those of Thursday will have the hitters asking who took the rabbit out of the lively ball.

Casey's Boy—Billy Martin— Falls Out Of Yankees' Grace

NEW YORK (UP)—Billy Martin, Casey Stengel's "boy," has fallen out of grace with his New York Yankee bosses, and because of his part in the Hank Bauer nightclub brawl may be headed for Washington in a multi-player deal.

Wally Moon tripled home two runs in a four-run Cardinal fourth inning and McDaniels did the rest as no Philadelphia base runner reached third.

Whoopers Trade Out On Nest

NEW ORLEANS (UP)—Josephine and Crip, the only pair of whooping cranes in captivity, are quietly taking turns sitting on a nest at Audubon Park Zoo.

A chirp Saturday or Sunday from either of two brown and white speckled eggs in the nest would send ornithologists, aviculturists and bird watchers whooping with delight.

That would raise new hopes that the white feathered, stem-legged birds could be bred in captivity.

This is Josephine's seventh try at hatching her eggs. And in Jo and Crip lie the experts' last hope that the species can continue.

Now in perfect plumage, they went into their nuptial dance early this spring and shortly before Easter Josephine laid the two eggs.

A high wire fence surrounds the cage. Overhead a net prevents a predatory bird from swooping down on either eggs or young chicks.

A 24-hour guard has been placed around the grassy enclosure which is floodlighted around the clock to protect the precious nest. The guards carefully report the next sitting times of Jo and Crip.

"Crip likes the cool of the evening, and Josephine sits mostly during the day," a guard reported.

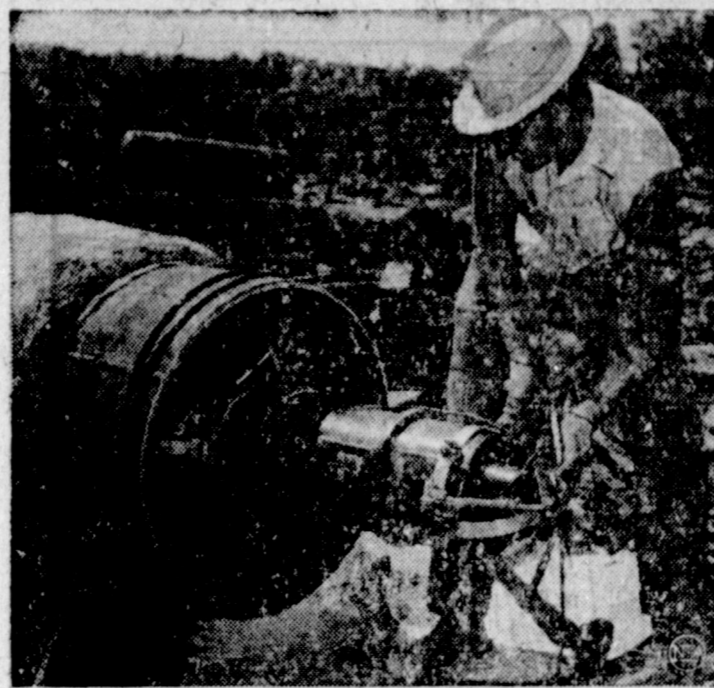

When Josephine wants to stretch her spindly legs, she calls Crip with a low, throaty "rolling call." Crip, who stands guard like a sentinel within a few feet, comes running.

As each bird takes over the nest, it gently nudges the eggs with its long pointed beak and packs in bits of reeds and grass to keep the eggs from breaking against each other.

The 18-year-old mother crane laid her first egg at the park zoo in 1955. It was broken the same morning when an overzealous television cameraman came too close, causing Jo to become nervous and squish the egg.

Last year two eggs were hatched. One chick was snatched away, probably by an owl, the day it was hatched. The second chick died of a disease after 47 days.

Motto of the famous Paulist Fathers is "Let the highest achievement of yesterday be the starting point of today."

CREEPING EYEBALLS—When building a pipeline it is now the thing to use the magic of X-ray to check the perfection of each weld. This is from the inside out—and the X-ray eye can crawl down the pipe by itself. Above, a Texas Corporation technician is starting the mechanical monkey on its journey. It will be stopped at a joint and rays emanating from it will be picked up on film on the outside of the pipe. Later technicians study the developed film for any defects which might make a weld unacceptable.

EBERGER & BRYNNER
CANNES, France (UP)—A bosomy actress and a scowling gentleman with a completely bald head stole the spotlight from Russia Wednesday at the film festival. Shots by photographers of "This Way, Please, Mr. Brynner!" and "Miss Eberger, let's have more frontage, please," greeted the "stars" when they arrived for the showing of the Soviet film "Don Quixote." The man with the shaved head and the bosomy girl with the startling décolletage evening dress were treated as royal personages. It was not until after the showing, which no one paid very much attention to, that officials admitted they didn't know who the two celebrities were.

NEW YORK (UP)—The penny-ante bandits who steal coins from parking meters apparently hit the jackpot last year. Traffic Commissioner T. T. Wiley said about $25,000 was stolen from parking meters during 1957.

This Marriage Business Has Become Pretty Expensive

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—Happy is the bride the sun shines on... and happy are the retailers catering to her needs.

For the bridal business has become big business and manufacturers hear a cash register jingle throughout the wedding march.

The research department of Retailing Daily estimated that spending for the bride averages $4.5 billion a year. This sum covers everything from a bridal gown to the pots and pans for the new house or apartment. It includes the engagement and wedding rings, gifts to — and from — the couple, the reception, even the honeymoon.

Retailers Are Happy
 Retailers look happily to the future too — they estimate that marriages will increase to 2.5 million yearly by 1975. Last year, the U.S. Census Bureau said, the total was 1,569,000.

June was the peak month, followed closely by August and September.

Retailing Daily did not try to estimate how the total spending is doled out. But other organizations have.

"We figure each bride means about $3,000 in sales," said Mrs. Dorothy Cavanaugh, who as head of the bridal department at Macy's, each year helps outfit 10,000 brides. "But only a small part of that is on the town alone... she spends from $150 to $250 on it."

Mrs. Cavanaugh also noted two other trends. "Brides are younger, on the average, each year," she said. "And the formal wedding is making a comeback."

Modern Bride magazine recently hired an outside research organization to make a comprehensive study of the bride.

This gives you a total of nine and you are ready for the finale.

You throw East in with a low spade. He is down to clubs and must lead that suit. If he plays the king or jack of clubs dummy will make two club tricks. Therefore he plays the three spot. West must play the five and now you are ready with that four that you have kept in dummy. You must play that card.

West is now in the lead with only the eight and a small spade left. He must play one of those cards whereupon you take the last two tricks with the king and seven.

Jacoby On Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Forget about the bidding of today's hand. It happens to be a bridge problem which occurs when the contract is no-trump.

The opening lead is the six of clubs. Dummy plays the seven and East the deuce. Declarer wins with his singleton ace and the problem, therefore everyone knows where all the cards are.

If you want the fun of working this out stop here. If you want the solution, here it is:

Lead a heart to dummy's king; return the suit and finesse the jack. Cash the two remaining hearts and discard the eight of clubs from dummy. Be careful not to throw the four spot. It is a most important card.

The only tough defense is if West

sive study of bridal spending and moon to home furnishings. came up with these findings: The cost of trousseau runs about $243; cost of the wedding dress alone averages $96; cost of bridesmaids' gowns, each $32.

By the end of eight weeks of marriage, the newly-weds are responsible for the concentrated purchase of $3,224 in merchandise and services — from honeymoon to home furnishings.
