ULTIMATE AIM

President Eisenhower has announced that control of Syria, centered in the Middle East, is the "ultimate goal" of the Soviet Union. President Shukri El Kuwattiy of Syria today said that belief by Ike is "regrettable." (NEA Telemap)

Syria Says 'Hands Off'

By WALTER LOGAN

United Press Staff Correspondent
President Shukri El Kuwattiy of Syria said today President Eisenhower's statement on Syria was "regrettable" and that the West, particularly the United States, "should leave us alone."

Kuwattiy made the statement in an interview in the independent Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram as he prepared to join Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser in talks today in Alexandria, Egypt, on Syria's future.

Kuwattiy joined acting Syrian Defense Minister Khalid El Azm in denying that Syria was Communist-dominated and renewed charges of an "American plot" to overthrow the Syrian government.

Kuwattiy's statement blasting Eisenhower's contention that the Soviet Union's ultimate aim was to control Syria highlighted a series of Middle East developments including:

—Reports in Cairo that Saudi Arabian Ambassador Sheikh Ibrahim Sulaiman Ibn Okel might join Nasser and Kuwattiy for talks on the Syrian crisis.

—A meeting in Istanbul today of King Hussein of Jordan with King Feisal of Iraq and Turkish Premier Adnan Menderes. Hussein flew to Istanbul Thursday for the conference on Syria.

—A charge today by Moscow radio that the United States used "Machiavellian methods" in Syria in an effort to overthrow the government and that Syria's only fault was rejecting the Eisenhower Doctrine.

Convert Tells Of New Life

NEW YORK (UP)—A self-admitted former juvenile delinquent who was "thrown in jail about 18 times" told Billy Graham and an audience of 17,000 Thursday night how "God decided to put himself in my heart."

Anthony Zecchino, 20, of Newark, N. J., dressed in a brown suit and chewing gum, stood in Madison Square Garden and recited the story of his life of not caring "nothing about nobody."

"All I want now is to respect people and have them respect me. Before, when I went out with a girl it was a one-way proposition, and I got in trouble over that, too. Now, I want to respect the girls and get married and have kids."

Zecchino, who since his release April 2 had been working as a truck driver, said he now practices his religion and "I always feel God is with me."

Following the sermon, 481 persons recorded "decisions for Christ," bringing the total in 88 meetings to 51,601. More than 1,861,000 persons have attended the meetings.

Graham announced that "between 300 and 400" persons connected with the entertainment business have recorded "decisions." This is remarkable, he said, because "so often show business people have been called hard and impossible to save for Christ."

He said a Bible study group composed of show business people is now operating under the chairmanship of Metropolitan Opera basso Jerome Hines.

Myatt Asks End To Commissioners' Pay

A proposal by Ed Myatt for city commissioners to forfeit their salaries in order to increase those of city employees was the highlight last night of a called commission meeting to discuss the city budget and traffic problems.

Commissioner Myatt said this morning, "If we don't increase city employees' salaries, we're going to lose them, and Pampa is in no position to lose these people." He added that present city salaries are out of line with the cost of living and are grossly insufficient.

At $10 per meeting per commissioner, in one year this would mean a total boost of $2,600 to be added to employees' salaries.

He further explained that many new houses were being built in Pampa now and the city was called on to pay for services to these homes. However, he pointed out, Pampa will receive no tax income from them until 1959. This, he said is pinching the city's budget at the present.

No action was taken on the proposal at last night's meeting and the mayor, Lynn Boyd, took the matter under advisement. Myatt said he did not expect the issue to come before the commission again until a budget hearing on Sept. 17.

Last night was the first crack the commissioners had had at the new city budget prepared by Acting City Manager John Koonox and City Secretary Ed Vickers.

After a public hearing on the budget, it will be adopted and forwarded to Austin for checking.

Monte Cotter, head of the traffic safety committee and Police Chief Jim Conner met with the commissioners to discuss traffic problems.

Of particular interest at this time is how to police and control the school zone.

Hoffa Asked If Alliance Was Formed

By HERBERT FOSTER AND JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate Rackets Committee recalled teamster chief James R. Hoffa today to ask him if his 1953 friendship with New York mobster Johnny Dio blossomed into an underworld alliance.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy, summoning Hoffa to a fourth day in the witness chair, said he would explore the Teamster vice president's relations with Dio after mid-1953. He also planned to question him about setting up "phony" union locals in 1955 with Dio to rig a Teamster election in New York.

He indicated the committee would dig deeper into its file of wiretaps obtained legally in New York.

"We hope his memory is improved," said Kennedy, referring to Hoffa's frequent lapses when quizzed Thursday on three recorded wiretap telephone conversations with Dio in 1953. Kennedy accused Hoffa of being "evasive" in his replies to his relationship with Dio, a convicted extortionist.

Hearing Nears End
Kennedy said he hopes the committee can finish up with Hoffa—and its current New York hearings—before tonight. But Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) has announced that Hoffa probably will be called for more testimony later.

Other committee sources have stated that Hoffa is to be recalled probably before he makes his bid to succeed Teamster President Dave Beck at the union's convention in late September.

In Thursday's session, McClellan said he had a report that former world heavyweight boxing champion Joe Louis received $2,500 for sitting two hours in the courtroom during Hoffa's bribery-conspiracy trial, presumably to influence the predominantly Negro jury.

But Louis, later contacted in Chicago, denied it. He said "I never got no $2,500. I never got 25 cents."

Swimming Pool, Too

New Motel Under Construction Here

A new, 29-unit motel with swimming pool, restaurant, and all the "trimmings" is under construction here.

Jim Hendrix, who has moved here with his wife and two children from Plainview, announced the construction this morning as Pampa's "Story of Progress and Growth" continues to unfold.

The new motel is being built at 1110 E. Frederic (Highway 60) and will be Pampa's first motel with a swimming pool provided for its patrons.

Hendrix purchased a plot of land 250 feet by 350 feet and the building area, exclusive of the restaurant space, will be comprised of some 11,000 square feet.

A bright, colorful structure is being planned, Hendrix said, and the swimming pool area will be "fenced" in a "very bright colored transparent plastic" which is purported to resemble glass, only colored.

The name chosen for the new business is "Black Gold Motel" and the sign, which Hendrix says he is planning on constructing 27 feet high if possible, will bear a "gusher." A 70-foot canopy will

GOP, Demos Deadlock Over Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (UP)—Democrats and Republicans remained deadlocked today over the civil rights bill.

But behind the scenes, House Democratic leaders were discussing bargaining for a possible halfway measure between their compromise on the jury trial amendment and the one offered by the Republicans.

House Democrats want to allow jury trials in all criminal contempt cases involving voting rights. The Senate version of the bill would make the jury trial provision apply to all criminal contempt cases generally.

Under the House GOP plan federal judges would be given discretion to grant a jury trial in voting rights cases. The judges would be allowed to impose a top penalty of a $300 fine, 90 days in jail, or both, without a jury.

Southern Democrats have denounced the GOP compromise as a "bargain basement" proposal and a "legal monstrosity." Some key senators said it would never be accepted by the Senate.

Other Congressional news:
RACKETEERS—Recorded wiretaps spun again for Teamsters leader James R. Hoffa, in the Senate Rackets Committee witness chair for the fourth day. Investigators tried to find out if Hoffa's friend Johnny Dio in 1953 bloomed into an underworld alliance.

WEATHER—Rep. John E. Fogarty (D-R.I.) said he has his fingers crossed that storms will strike just on weekdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Those are the only hours the weather bureau's storm warning service will be operating, Fogarty said, because a House-Senate conference committee has trimmed its budget to a "totally inadequate" $100,000 this year.

BUDGET—Sen. Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash.) said he would introduce legislation to make the federal budget year conform to the calendar year. He also wants Congress to hold an

House Cat Bites Pampa Baby

Police reported yesterday that a baby belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Connie E. Cole, 1809 Coffee, was taken to the hospital after being bit by a house cat.

Police said the cat was put into the pound. The child was not thought to be seriously hurt.

Russia Resumes A-Testing

WASHINGTON (UP)—Russia resumed testing of big nuclear weapons at its Siberian proving ground Thursday just as Moscow radio was rejecting a compromise Western offer to suspend such tests for two years.

A brief bulletin this morning from the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission hinted that Russia is testing H-bombs or megaton-size weapons. It said the explosion was "of substantial size."

A Moscow radio broadcast rejected the new Western offer to suspend the tests for two years, as Russia has insisted. Moscow's official voice repeated Russia's demand that the suspension of tests not be linked to over-all disarmament terms.

AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss said in the announcement: "The Soviet Union has resumed testing of nuclear weapons at its Siberian proving ground. A detonation of substantial size took place on Aug. 22."

4-H Leaders Make Trip

The Gray County 4-H junior leaders will leave Sunday morning for the Texas 4-H Junior Leadership Training Laboratory that will be held from August 26-31 at the Bastrop State Park at Bastrop.

Miss Earlene Plank, junior assistant home demonstration agent from Moore County, will accompany the three girls who will make the trip. These girls are Carolyn Anderwald of White Deer, and Sue Evans and Nancy Tate, both of McLean.

Robert Adamson, assistant county agent of Gray County will take Jim Eakin of White Deer and Bob Weaver of McLean, the two boys making the trip.

The lab is sponsored by United Gray in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of A&M College and will be directed by extension personnel.

Touring Youths Call For 'Free Interchange'

TOKYO (UP)—Thirty six of 41 American youths who visited Communist China over the objections of the U. S. State Department today called for "free interchange between China and America," Peiping radio reported.

The youths issued the statement upon their arrival today in Peiping. The government radio said the youths received "a rousing welcome" in the Red China capital. It added that the visitors were "holding hands, hugging each other and singing songs."

The Americans were among 90 young people who accepted a free trip to Red China following the Russian world youth festival in Moscow.

In a statement broadcast by the New China News Agency, the youths who signed the statement declared:

"We feel that mutual understanding can best come about through friendly exchange by all kinds of individuals. The world has long recognized China's ancient and rich cultural heritage and we are particularly interested in learning how these old traditions are merging with the many important new developments of which we have learned."

The American youths said they had come "not only to learn and carry back to America our impressions of contemporary China, but also to try to give the Chinese people some understanding of our own country."

The students traveled overland from Moscow by rail.

The radio said that the Americans would tour the Chinese mainland "for a brief period."

The Americans were invited by the Chinese people youth league, the radio said.

The radio, however, gave no further information on where the American students were to visit or what they might be allowed to see.

The New China News Agency reported that the visiting students received "a rousing welcome at the railway station."

The English language report said other countries represented included India, Burma, Nepal, Ceylon, West Africa, Australia and New Zealand.

Man's Body Is Found In Auto Trunk

PITTSBURGH (UP)—An autopsy failed today to determine the cause of death of a West Virginia gambler whose decomposed body was found crammed in an automobile trunk.

Police had believed that Nick Miller of Wheeling, who had a long criminal record, was the victim of a gangland slaying. But a coroner's pathologist said after the autopsy that the cause of death was unknown. Pathologist Theodore R. Helmholdt said the body bore no carbon monoxide traces, fractures or wounds.

Miller's body was found Thursday in the trunk of his flashy hardtop convertible, which had been parked on a quiet street in suburban Wilkensburg for six days. A mail carrier called police when he detected a strong odor emanating from the trunk. The body had been jammed in the trunk head first.

Identification was made by Milan Vovcock, a brother of the victim.

Wheeling police said Miller had a record of 37 arrests, 32 of them on gambling charges. They said he had last been seen in Wheeling last Saturday. Miller's wife and three young children were located Thursday at a vacation lodge in Oglebay Park in Wheeling.

Authorities here said Miller was a friend of William (Big Bill) Lias, former Pittsburgh-Wheeling rackets czar and one-time owner of Wheeling Downs race track.

Still No Clues On Bird Basher; Police Baffled

Police today say they still haven't a single clue on the bird basher case.

But subsequent investigation has turned up some interesting parallels in the cases reported by two Pampa families who returned from vacations to find all their parakeets—except one—killed. And the shocked survivor in each instance wouldn't say a word.

The hammer-wielding slayer in both cases slipped into the locked, deserted house between 4 a.m. and 6 a.m. in the morning and left no trace of entry. Nothing of value was taken in either case.

About 6 a.m. Monday morning neighbors of the James Barrettts heard a commotion in their house. When the family returned, three of their four birds—Mattie, Perky and Ruthie—were found crushed to death. A fourth, Rodney, was glumly perched in his cage unhurt. Four books that Barrett kept records of his employees working hours were missing, while a $400 camera in the same room was untouched.

Last Sunday morning at precisely 10 minutes until 4 a.m. the phantom somehow managed to get into the locked home of Mr. and Mrs. James Ross, 325 Fisher, and slayed Molly—leaving Polly perched forlornly aloft.

How did they know it was 10 minutes until 4? Well, they were gone from their home from late Saturday afternoon until Sunday afternoon, and the phantom for some reason decided to unplug their electric clock.

The Ross family and the Barrett family live across town from each other and are not acquainted.

Meanwhile back at the police station, bird lovers were keeping the local cops jumping, reporting mysterious suspects and a killing protection for their birds.

Nuclear Device Fired 1,500 Feet Above Proving Grounds

ATOP ANGELS' PEAK, Nev.—(UP)—Scientists won their battle against the weather and unexpected mechanical problems today by firing the 13th nuclear device of the 1957 test series from a plastic balloon 1,500 feet above the Nevada proving grounds.

The device, given the code name "Doppler," was set off by a mechanical timer at 5:30 a.m. It unleashed a loud "boom" and power equal to about 10,000 tons of TNT.

Thunderstorms and a leaky balloon had forced postponement of the shot since Monday. But perfect weather conditions prevailed during the last 24 hours and the Atomic Energy Commission ordered the launching in the pre-dawn hours of its now "leak proof" balloon.

About 30 military planes took part in support missions minutes after the familiar mushroom cloud resulting from the earth-quaking blast zoomed skyward.

An orange glow appeared for nearly 40 seconds following the blast. The mushroom cloud rose to 20,000 feet but its long-fingered stem didn't reach the ground.

Check Being Made On Lake Request

Clearing his desk today after four days in Colorado, Gray County Judge Bruce Parker received a letter from the Forest Service saying that were checking to see if they could offer Lake McClellan to Gray County.

Even if the offer is made, according to the judge's office, it cannot be accepted until Gray County has called a bond election to appropriate money for spillway repairs at the lake. This was a stipulation on the original offer, and it is anticipated that the same "strings" will be attached this time.

Fred H. Kennedy, regional forester from the Albuquerque office, wrote the letter which acknowledged Parker's letter of Aug. 14.

Kennedy said he had written the office of the Secretary of Agriculture in Washington, D.C., asking if they were willing to transfer the offer from Pampa to Gray County.

He promised to contact county officials as soon as an answer was handed down.

Navy Tests Engine Which Will Thrust Up Satellite

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States has passed a crucial milestone in its race with Russia to shoot a man-made earth satellite into space.

The Navy Thursday night successfully ground-tested the powerful rocket engine that will supply the major thrust in sending the 2 1/2 pound satellite up.

The big General Electric engine was bolted to a test stand at the Air Force missile test center at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The successful trial was a forerunner for the first test firing of the full 72-foot launching assembly. The mighty engine delivers 27,000 pounds of thrust and will power the first stage of the three-stage satellite launcher.

A defense official said the ground test was "routine—nothing unusual." There was no indication of when the next test will be made.

There will be four or five test launchings before a serious effort is made. On some of these, baby-sized satellites will be carried in the nose of the test vehicles but the Navy does not expect them to become artificial moons.

'Big Five' Conference Reconvenes

LONDON (UP)—The Big Five disarmament conference here reconvenes today, with the United States, Britain, Canada and France hoping against hope that some substantial agreement with Russia can be achieved.

The principal topic for discussion today was certain to be the U.S. proposal for a two-year moratorium on nuclear tests, which was publicly announced after the conference's last session.

The test-suspension proposal was the final detail of a Western "package" plan which will be submitted formally to the Russians in about two weeks. The 10-page statement of Western intentions is now being studied by America's Atlantic Pact allies.

The disarmament conference probably will adjourn next week until sometime in November, giving the Kremlin time to prepare a formal reply.

MAKES PILGRIMAGE
BORDEAUX, France (UP)—Dr. Albert Schweitzer made a pilgrimage to the high Pyrenees monastery where he spent much of his time during World War I. Schweitzer, 82-year-old Nobel Peace Prize winner, lunched with the director of the Lannemezan Psychiatric Hospital and then went on to the Garaison Monastery which he usually visits on his European vacations.

NOT TOO BAD
BRENTWOOD, England (UP)—An English Army officer, testifying Wednesday on behalf of two of his men charged with car theft, said the men were lawless, slovenly, irresponsible and lazy but had "good" army character. Prosecutor John Marriage said, "I read to think what one has to do to get a bad character in the army."

Cocker Spaniel Proves To Be Reader Of Human Minds

DAVENPORT, Iowa (UP)—A 10-year-old cocker spaniel whose category is mathematics has convinced a college professor it can read minds as well as solve complicated arithmetic problems.

Mrs. Rhea White of the parapsychology laboratory at Duke University, announced her conclusions Wednesday after a three-day test of the floppy eared pooch, which answers to the name of Cookie.

"There is no doubt that Cookie can guess what number is in her owner's mind, but it is hard to say just how she is able to do this," Mrs. White said.

The university expert figures Cookie apparently has an "extraordinary" sixth sense which enables the dog to read minds.

The aging but nimble-minded dog, reported to be a little hoarse after answering so many questions, is owned by Mrs. Jane Duggan.

Mrs. White, who has made a study of extra-sensory perception, began conducting tests on Cookie Monday. Mrs. Duggan had written the Duke laboratory claiming she had discovered that her dog could read her mind.

During the tests, Mrs. Duggan and Cookie sat facing each other in a "totally" darkened room. Mrs. Duggan then would write out a mathematically problem like "2 x 2 plus 5 equals what?" The dog, without verbal instruction, would bark the correct answer.

"I have to keep the figures low," Mrs. Duggan said, "so she won't keep the neighbors up all night barking out the answer."

Mrs. Duggan said she began teaching Cookie mathematics when she ran out of other tricks, but now wonders if she did the right thing.

Speaker Is Arranged For Carson Fair

PANHANDLE — An outstanding herford breeder and a community builder, Max Blau of Lipscomb County, has been secured by J. P. Smith as the speaker for the 1957 Old Settlers Reunion during the Carson County Fair.

Blau, president of the American Beef Cattle Performance Registration Association, an organization started in Carson County, has spoken before many gatherings. He is well known to many residents of this area and has been in Carson County on several occasions.

Some will remember him as the breeder of some of the highest gaining bulls ever entered in the Pan Tech Farms trials and other will remember him for his philosophy on getting things done in a cooperative way. Mr. and Mrs. Blau entertain the cattle producers of the entire Golden Spread each year at the ranch home in Lipscomb County. Carson County residents have been attending these functions for several years.

Those who want to hear one who has taken the ups and downs in the cattle business over quite a period of years and come through with a smile, have been urged to arrange their schedule so as to be at the courthouse in Panhandle to hear Blau at 11 o'clock Saturday, Sept. 7. The visit with Blau will be the first feature after the big parade and just ahead of the VFW barbecue during the Carson County Fair. The talk Blau will give is one of the several outstanding features of the 1957 Carson County Fair.

A 1952 green Chevrolet pickup truck was stolen yesterday morning from Ray Robertson, 424 Doyle, while parked in front of his home.

The sheriff's department said today that no trace of the pickup has been found.

Robertson said the theft had occurred between 2 a.m. and 9 a.m. yesterday.

Dissected Body Of Woman Found

CHICAGO (UP)—The dissected, headless body of a woman was found jammed in a steel drum floating in Lake Michigan yacht basin Thursday and authorities today said it appeared to be the work of a "professional butcher."

Deputy Coroner Norman Gibbons said the woman, believed to be between 35 and 40 years old, had been dead at least three days.

He said identification would be difficult because the head, the right arm and both hands had been neatly severed.

The drum, with its grisly cargo, was sighted floating in Montrose Harbor Thursday morning and was reported as a hazard to boatmen.

Every Person Taxed $545

WASHINGTON (UP)—Government—federal, state and local—took a record $545 in taxes from every man, woman and child in the nation during the last fiscal year.

All three government levels also set a record in spending a total of $60 a head.

They more than made up the difference by taking in from general revenue other than taxes another $79 a head. That brought the total per capita take from general revenue to $624.

The Census Bureau said Thursday night in releasing the report that the per capita breakdown on taxes was: Federal $388; state $80; local $77.

Masons Slate Rally Monday

The manner in which you handle the clothes you own makes a great difference in the impression you create. Careful treatment of a small and inexpensive wardrobe can make you seem more effective and gracious than if you used expensive fashions carelessly.

When you enter a room, don't drop your coat just anywhere and pull off your gloves, crumpling them into a ball. No matter how little you paid for your coat, remove it carefully and smooth it over a chair. Your gloves should be removed by the fingers and paired together.

When you seat yourself, don't flop down, rumpling your skirt under you. Smooth your skirt as you sit down. Your hostess will retain an impression both of good grooming and self-respect.

Miss Dunihoop Is 4-H Baking Queen

(Special to The News)
PERRYTON — Miss Bonita Dunihoop of Progressive Misses 4-H club of Waka was named Ochiltree county baking queen at the annual county 4-H baking show in Perryton this week. She will represent Ochiltree county at the district baking contest in Amarillo in September.

Points for the award were based on rolls, cake, and 4-H records, each of which counted one-third. Thirty-one club girls brought in rolls and cakes to be entered in the competition.

A score card was made out for each product and ribbons were awarded for all products according to score. Peggy Barnett, of Country Girls club had the highest scoring foods in the show but turned in incomplete records.

Judges were Mrs. D. C. Wilson and Mrs. Bruce Baumann, both of Perryton, on foods, and Miss Barbara Fain, Hansford county home demonstration agent from Spearman, judged the records.

Blue ribbons for cakes were awarded to Misses Helen Barnett, Peggy Barnett, Diana Cudd, Bonita Dunihoop, Patricia Dunihoop, Cheryl Frantz, Ernestine Jines, Grace Hardy, Linda Rogers, Janice Schwalk, Paulette Schoreder and Carol Wiebe.

Blue ribbons for rolls went to Misses Peggy Barnett, Beverly Blurton, Bonita Dunihoop, Patricia Dunihoop, Jeaneane Frantz, Cheryl Frantz, Ernestine Jines, Linda Rogers, Judith Reimer, and Carolyn Wagner.

As it is to look grumpy. And you'll find that it will do something special for you in that it's hard to feel grumpy while you're looking pleasant.

Posture And Costume Important Items In Acquiring Glamorous Attractiveness

By MARGARET LEIGHTON
Written Especially For NEA Service

EDITOR'S NOTE: In "Separate Tables," an English play now on Broadway, a actress Margaret Leighton undertakes two difficult roles. In one, she plays a dazzling beauty; in the other, a dowdy spinster. Miss Leighton tells women in this story written exclusively for NEA, just how she achieves the transformation from one role to the other.

The question most frequently asked me regarding "Separate Tables" is:

"How do you make the amazing transition from the glamorous model of the first play to the frumpy spinster of the second?"

I suppose make-up, posture and costume are the answers. But I was amused to find everyone jumping to the conclusion that I use special make-up for Sybil, the dowdy maiden lady.

The fact is, I don't use any.

Other than a wig and glasses, my major preparations are a good face scrubbing and drooping, hunched shoulders. In fact, Sybil's dress is worn thin in spots from frequent, off-stage massages for shoulders that ache from bad posture.

As Anne Shankland in the first play, I use little more than an intensified street make-up. That and standing up straight make what difference there is in my appearance.

That cosmetics today are as much a part of us as the clothes we wear is proven when a face minus make-up looks like a disguise. I suppose my mother was about the only one who wasn't fooled. When she saw the play for the first time in London, she delighted me by saying after the second half, "That was my little Margy, just as she really is!"

Sybil is a wonderfully comfortable part. The big, sensible shoes, the warm cardigan, the roomy dress — they're so easy to work in. But they'll never get me a prize for beauty.

I've always felt that "Separate Tables" could be quite an object lesson to anyone discerning enough to be aware that the drab spinster is, in the main, the glamorous model, with a defeated slouch and without her lip rouge and mascara.

It's not just the prim wig and unattractive eyeglasses. I'd still look like Sybil, neurotic and dominated, as long as I moved as though I were downtrodden and defeated, and refused to apply any color to my face.

There's truth in the belief that people's opinion of us is merely a reflection of our own opinion of ourselves.

Decide that you are unattractive and everyone will agree with you. It will show in your walk, your manner, your dress — because your own despairing attitude will prevent you from making the effort necessary to be pleasant to look at.

We are lucky nowadays in the countless aids to beauty at our finger tips. We can minimize our imperfections so that they are barely evident, and highlight our good points to a beauty far exceeding that which is naturally ours.

Try New Hair-Do During Shampoo

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

The teens are the time when experiments with hair styles are frequent. They may change every week, in fact.

This is fine, but not if you decide to make the big change the night of the school dance. If the hairdo is a flop, you'll feel that your evening is ruined.

Best time to try out a new style is when you're shampooing your hair. Work up a good, sudsy lather and then, when you look into the mirror, you'll find you can shape this soapy cap into any hair style that happens to catch your fancy.

If it doesn't suit you, your mirror will tell you at once. And if it's right for you, you can go ahead and try it, new part and all. You may find that you can wear hairdos you never dreamed were flattering and that the way your best friend wears her hair is fine for her but not for you.

As you finish your shampoo, don't forget to rinse with clear, warm water three or four times, not just once.

A woman with silvery hair needs to spend more time with her complexion. A warmer tint in face powder will add color. The hair is losing. Also, try rouge and lipstick with more blue-red tint.

If you feel your home is bare of ornaments as compared with a neighbor's home, take heart. Interior decorators point out it is better to have too few accessories in a room than too many.

HDC Names Fair Queen Candidates

White Deer Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Jack St. Clair. For the program, members made earrings with instruction from Mrs. Janie Fletcher, county home demonstration agent.

Miss Sandra Ulrich, White Deer High School sophomore, was chosen as the club's candidate for queen at the Carson County Fair on Sept. 6.

Announcement was made of a polio clinic to be held in White Deer at 7 p.m. on Aug. 26 in the grade school. First and second polio shots will be given free of charge to all children up to the age of 20.

Mmes. W. G. Eller, Carolyn Ryals, an F. S. Ulrich were appointed members of the nominating committee.

Other members present in addition to those mentioned were Mmes. Loy Collis, W. D. Newman, and Lawson Shaw.

RUTH MILLETT

The problems of a 13-year-old can be pretty big.

And one of the biggest problems of a teen-age girl is not being able to get along with her mother.

A 13-year-old girl writes: "My mother and I aren't getting along at all since my father died three years ago.

"I don't have a steady boy friend because my mother doesn't approve of anyone I want to go steady with. She doesn't seem to try to understand me and she is making me almost hate her by being so strict and so hard on me."

There's more than one problem here. It is just as important for you to try to understand your mother as for her to try to understand you.

Has it ever occurred to you that your mother is lonely and maybe even frightened? She no longer has your father to share problems with, to depend on for earning a living, to help make decisions, to share the responsibility of bringing you up.

All the responsibility is hers. She alone is responsible for your safety, your welfare and giving you your chance to make something of yourself.

Fear of making a mistake, of doing the wrong thing, of losing her control over you probably makes her much more strict than she would have been had your father lived.

So try to understand what she is up against. And instead of resenting your mother's hard and fast rules, try by cooperation and love and dependability to let her see that you are growing up, that you can be trusted.

You aren't the only one who is having a rough time and don't forget it.

However, hard as it has been for you since your father's death, you must realize it has been even harder for your mother. And she needs your help and understanding.

Manners Make Friends

To say, "You've really got a problem," is no help to a troubled person.

A wish for success in the problem is the least you can offer.

Floyd Mangles Pete In Six Rounds

By HAL WOOD
United Press Sports Writer
SEATTLE, Wash. (UP)—Floyd Patterson, 22-year-old tiger of the prize ring, relentlessly stalked the audacious amateur, Pete Rademacher, through five rounds here Friday night, knocked him down seven times—and finally out in the sixth.

In the greatest massacre since Custer's last stand, Rademacher took an even more severe pasting than did Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson when the latter lost to the champ only three weeks ago.

But the upstart Rademacher, making his first start as a professional, had the satisfaction of decking the champ before the roof caved in.

One wild swinging right floored Patterson in the second round for a four-count.

"I never knew what hit me and never even knew I went down," said the champion later.

"All I remember is getting up and fighting back."

Pete 15 Pounds Heavier
Patterson, who weighed only 137 compared with 202 for Rademacher, had things his own way from there in.

Referee Tommy Loughran gave both the first rounds to the challenger—but when the fifth round came along and Patterson poleaxed the challenger four times, the referee scored the round 10-0 for the champ.

The end came after 2:57 of the sixth. Rademacher went down from a sharp right to the jaw. When he lumbered to his feet after a count of nine, Patterson stunned him with a swinging right and then combination right and left sent him to the floor for keeps.

Outside of that second round, when the champ was on the floor, the 16,961 fans who paid $243,030 to watch the uneven battle, didn't have much chance to cheer for their home-state lad.

But they couldn't fault the former football player on his courage. Nobody had expected him to win; and most had thought that he would go out in a round or two. But he kept getting up and going for more.

"When a man with an axe starts chopping at you, sooner or later you are bound to go," was the way Rademacher summed it up after the fight.

Floyd Denies "Carrying" Pete
It appeared that after the third round, the champion could end it any time he wanted. But Patterson denied that.

"Rademacher is an Olympic champion. I was an Olympic champion and I know how Olympic champions fight."

"However, I was never worried. I knew I would win after the third round."

Patterson got a $250,000 guarantee for the fight and his manager, Gus D'Amato, said he would take every cent of it.

"We are going to take the $250,000 despite the fact that the promoter will lose money," D'Amato said. "But I want to say that Seattle is a great sports town. They should have a major league franchise here."

Neither Patterson nor Rademacher revealed their future plans. There didn't appear to be much on the horizon in the way of opposition for the champion; and as for Rademacher he will have a rough time taking on any of the top 10 rated heavyweights.

Title Bout Nears Record Knockdowns

SEATTLE (UP)—Pete Rademacher's seven knockdowns by Floyd Patterson Thursday night were the most suffered by any principal in a heavyweight title bout in 23 years.

They were the most since June 14, 1934, when Max Baier floored Primo Carnera 11 times before giant Primo was knocked out in the 11th round.

Jack Dempsey decked Luis Firpo nine times on Sept. 14, 1923—seven times in the first round—before Firpo was counted out in the second round. Dempsey also floored big Jess Willard seven times in the first round on July 4, 1919, when Jack won the title. Willard quit during the rest period after the third round had ended.

SALEM, N.H. (UP)—Henry Wajda booked home three winners at Rockingham Park Thursday. Wajda scored on Big Mark ($9,200) in the second, Slatime ($11,800) in the third and Hamma ($7,800) in the sixth.

Texas Goes For 19th Win In Oil Bowl Grid Game Tonight

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (UP)—Texas and Oklahoma bitter football rivals on either the high school or college level, square off in the 20th annual Oil Bowl game at 8 p.m. tonight under the lights at Midwestern University Stadium.

As opposed to the Texas University-Oklahoma University series, Texas has had all the best of it in these matches pitting stars who have completed their high school eligibility.

Oklahoma has never won in 19 previous games although the Sooners managed one tie. But most of the games have been hard-fought.

Texas will send a lighter line but a heavier backfield than the Sooners. The Texans average 198 pounds up front and 187 in the backfield. Oklahoma's averages are 198 in the line and 181 in the backfield.

All the players involved were standouts in high school but the boy Oklahoma must watch is 195-pound Glynn Gregory of Abilene, who is headed for SMU this fall. The standout back for Oklahoma is 193-pound Ronnie Hartline of Lawton, a pile-driving runner.

The Texas squad includes:

Ends — Bill Elkins, 175, Dallas Highland Park; Bufch Goodman, 200, Denton; Newell McCallum, 200, Tyler (switched from full-back); tackles — R. W. Warren, 195, Wellington; Dale Robinson, 195, Stamford; Alvin Dalton, 205, Grand Prairie; guards — Bob Scholl, 185, Wichita Falls; Jerry Gee, 190, Burkburnett; Gerald Emerson, Henrietta, 170; Johnny Bronson, 190, Midland; Stuart Pea'e, 188, Abilene; centers — Billy Zaleski, 205, Temple; Roy Northrup, 200, Amarillo; quarterbacks — Larry Dawson, 190, Stinnett; Glen Amerson, 181, Munford; halfbacks — Glynn Gregory, 195, Abilene; Mike McClellan, 175, Stamford; Ferman McBeth, 185, Hale Center; George Johnson, 190, Sonora.

Oklahoma — Ends — Bob Yingling, 205, Lawton; Jerry Tillery, El Reno, 195; Stanley Ward, 190, Stillwater; Frank Swafford, 185, Norman; tackles — Walter Metcalfe, 210, Northwest Classen; Brent Morford, 225, Lawton; John Graig, 190, Tulsa Will Rogers; Ronald Smith, 194, Ardmore; guards—Harold Beaty, 205, Pauls Valley; Harvey Singer, 190, Tulsa Central; Bob Banister, 195, Altus; centers — James Frazier, 207, Ada; Charles Willingham, 185, Lindsay quarterback — Bob Cornell, Oklahoma City Northwest Classen, 180; Jerry Keeling, 170, Enid; Bob West, 180, Oklahoma City John Marshall; halfbacks — Phil Lohmann, 195, Pauls Valley; Jim Beauchamp, 180, Grove; John Factor, 180, Morris; fullbacks — Ronnie Hartline, 193, Lawton; Scott Millington, 195, Edmond; Larry Bahner, Ardmore, and Don Salmon, 170, Lawton.

Pampans Compete In Boxing Tonight

Top Pampa fighters will compete with other panhandle boxers against the winners of the Ft. Worth regional tournament tonight at the Sports Arena in Amarillo.

Bobby Wilhelm is matched against Jimmy Saenz in a 147-pound welterweight battle in one of the top fights on the schedule.

Gary Wilhelm, Bobby's brother, will tangle with Joe Castillo in the 135 pound division. Both are rated as top of the best ever to compete in Amarillo.

Another Pampans, Charles Snider, will battle Billy LaFavers of the ABC. Snider won over LeFavers in the regional Golden Gloves last January in one of the closest battles during the matches.

The Pampa team is coached by Ollie Wilhelm and Ben White.

Other top notch matches will feature:

Mervie Johnson, a finalist for Amarillo in the state Golden Gloves tournament last year will be in action against Fort Worth's Burton Gilliam.

A 118-pound battle will see the Hernandez boys, Jessie of Fort Worth and Arthur of Amarillo.

Joe Lira, of the ABC, meets Charles Caram of Fort Worth in what is expected to be a perfecting battle. The 115-pounders are both seasoned fighters and a fine exhibition of boxing skill should result from the match.

Twelve matches have already been made for tonight's fights but others will be made, with at least 15 fights on the card.

Matches will begin at 7:30, with advance tickets being on sale in the lobby of the Herring Hotel until 8 p.m.

Referees and judges for the fights for the matches will be J. C. Oakley, Plainview and Dean Webb and Laddell Pugh of Amarillo. Les Kilgore will be the time keeper.

Braves Hold To 6 1/2 Game Lead In Win Over Bums

Yankees Drub A's, 11-4

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer
Add Lew Burdette to the roster of the Milwaukee Braves as they steadily drive their nails into the coffins of their National League rivals.

It was just about this time a year ago that the controversial right-hander went into a tailspin that contributed to the Braves' failure to win the flag. Lew finished the 1956 season with a 19-10 record but he won only 11 of 13 games after Aug. 22, as the Braves faltered in the stretch.

It appears that there'll be no late slump this year, however, for Burdette, who whipped the Brooklyn Dodgers, 6-1, Thursday night to keep the Braves' 6 1/2-game lead intact. The St. Louis Cardinals beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-5, the Pittsburgh Pirates dealt the Cincinnati Redlegs their 10th straight loss, 8-3, and the New York Giants defeated the Chicago Cubs, 6-2, in the other National League games.

The New York Yankees increased their American League spread over the idle Chicago White Sox with an 11-4 victory over their "country-cousin" Kansas City Athletics while the Boston Red Sox drubbed the Cleveland Indians 11-3, and the Detroit Tigers downed the Baltimore Orioles, 4-0.

12th For Burdette
Burdette, who hadn't beaten the Dodgers at Ebbets Field since Aug. 31, 1955, did it Friday night behind an 11-hit attack that included homers by Hank Aaron and Red Schoendienst. It was Lew's fourth victory in his last five decisions and his 12th triumph of the year.

Aaron sent the Braves off winging against Sal Maglie in the first inning when he smashed a three-run homer, No. 35 of the year, and Schoendienst, who had three hits in all, bashed his 14th homer in the fifth. The Braves now have beaten the Dodgers 10 times in 17 meetings and six different pitchers have victories over the defending champions.

Joe Cunningham's two doubles, a homer by Ken Boyer and a triple by Al Dark sparked an early Cardinal attack that routed the Yankees winner Jack Sanford. Billy Muffett gained credit for his second win when he shut out the Phillies for the last four innings after they knocked out Larry Jackson. Stan Musial went 0-for-3 for the Cardinals and left the game in the fifth with an ailing left shoulder.

Bob Friend scattered nine hits as the Pirates extended the Redlegs' losing skid to the longest of the NL season. Gene Freese and Frank Thomas had three hits each for the Pirates and Dick Groat had a triple.

Mays Hits 28th HOMER
Willie Mays boosted his average to .332 with his 28th homer and two doubles to lead a 10-hit Giant attack that handed strikeout whiz Dick Drott his 10th loss. Ray Cross won his sixth game for the Giants although he needed help from Jim Constable and Marv Grissom.

Harry Simpson's grand slam homer was the big blow as the Yankees whipped the Athletics for the 17th time in 20 meetings. Jerry Lumpe also had three hits to help Johnny Kucks win his eighth game. Wally Burnette suffered his ninth defeat compared to six victories.

Ted Williams snapped out of his two-day slump to go 2-for-4 and raise his average to .386 in the Red Sox' rout of the Indians. Mike Fornieles carried a shutout into the ninth to win his eighth game while Early Wynn suffered his 16th defeat for the Indians. Williams now leads Yankees star Mickey Mantle by nine points in the AL batting race.

Frank Lary pitched his second straight four-hitter and Harvey Kuenn, Ray Boone and Al Kaline had two hits each for the Tigers. Billy O'Dell was charged with his seventh loss in nine decisions for Baltimore.

Pete Gives Own Views

By PETE RADEMACHER
As Told To United Press
SEATTLE, Wash. (UP)—Speaking as my own manager, there is nothing like starting at the top and working down.

I feel in good condition right now and would fight Patterson again tomorrow if I had a chance. I prepared myself for 15 rounds and felt I was getting stronger and more relaxed as time went on.

The entire promotion from the beginning to the end has been a wonderful and exciting experience. I enjoy fighting. I love fighting, but no decision has been made yet on whether I will continue as a professional. I can say right now that I was real pleased to have this fight in the state of Washington.

I went into this fight knowing I would have my hands full but it was going to be a good fight. I guess for a while it looked like I was going to be a loser. I thought I could last longer. I felt I was getting stronger at the start of the sixth round.

But when somebody is in there chopping away with an axe, pretty soon it gets to you.

You spend two years planning to build a house. You hire the carpenter and other mechanics. Then Floyd Patterson comes along and opens the door and has a house warming. We really had one tonight.

Robinson Bout May Be Held

NEW YORK (UP)—The on-again, off-again middleweight championship fight between Sugar Ray Robinson and Carmen Basilio may be staged as scheduled at Yankee Stadium Sept. 23.

Robinson called off his title defense against welterweight king Basilio Tuesday night because of a dispute with promoter Jim Norris over theater television.

However, Robinson now feels he might be able to settle his differences with Norris at a New York State Athletic Commission hearing next Monday.

"I think I can go back into training and be ready for Sept. 23 if we work this out Monday," Sugar Ray said.

Williams Out Of Batting Slump

CHICAGO (UP)—Ted Williams snapped out of a two-game batting slump Thursday and now leads Mickey Mantle, .386 to .377, in their race for the American League batting title.

Williams, hitless in the last two games of the series, had two hits in four tries Thursday as the Red Sox pummeled the Indians, 11-3. The Yankees whipped the Athletics, 11-4, and Mantle had only one hit in four attempts. Mantle leads in homers, 22-21, and runs batted in, 86-73.

Injury May Stop Musial Tonight

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—A shoulder injury appeared almost certain today to snip Stan Musial's National League record string of consecutive games played tonight when the Cards face the Phillies.

The injury, which also may deprive the St. Louis Cardinals of The Man's brilliant play in their efforts to hang on to the pace setting Milwaukee Braves, occurred in Thursday night's game with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Musial was to undergo X-ray examination today to determine the full extent of the hurt, but C. A. (Bob) Bauman, Cardinal trainer, said it looked like Musial would be sidelined for at least several days.

Thompson, Austin Win Putting

Lila Austin and George Thompson were the top putters in last night's final Partnership putting tourney of the summer.

Runners-up were Lesley Howard and Burt Watkins, with Perry Richardson and Ava Swafford winning consolation.

Honors for the most aces of the evening went to Chunky Leonard and Eva Kitchens, with 11.

The tournament, sponsored by the Ladies Golf Association, have been held each Thursday night, but have discontinued now until next season.

SMITH LEADS IN SAILING
CHICAGO (UP)—Defending champion Bob Smith of Chicago was in a commanding lead at the Penguin international sailing championships after winning both of Thursday's opening day races.

De La Torre Leads Open

MILWAUKEE (UP)—Manuel De La Torre of Milwaukee, the first day leader in the Miller Open, might win his first major golf tournament since he turned pro seven years ago if his iron continues to behave as they did Thursday.

The 35-year-old pro at Milwaukee Country Club made five birdies on the last 11 holes to wind up with a five under par 65 Thursday, tops in the field of 152.

Only 24 of the golfers were at or under par, despite what some of the pros had described in pre-tournament play as "a crazy course." A stiff crosswind was blamed for keeping scores higher than expected.

Only one stroke behind De La Torre at the start of today's 18 holes were Bo Winger of Odesa, Tex., and Jackie Burke Jr., of Kiamassee Lake, N. Y.

Five players were bracketed at 67—Don Whitl, Alameda, Calif.; Al Beaslink, Grossinger, N. Y.; Bob Rosberg, San Francisco; Howie Johnson, Houston; and Walker Inman, Pensacola, Fla.

Defending champion Ed Furgol, who gives signs of regaining his early season form, had a one-under-par 69 along with Cary Mideoff of Dallas, Tex. Furgol has predicted that the winner of this year's tournament will wind up with less than the 865 with which he won last year.

Logart, Byers Meet Tonight

DETROIT (UP)—A pair of rangy welterweights, Isaac Logart and Walter Byars, who have only the best of hopes for welter champ Carmen Basilio, will meet tonight in a 10-round nationally televised bout.

Logart and Byars don't have any special fondness for Basilio, but if Basilio could win the middleweight title from Sugar Ray Robinson Sept. 23, then tonight's winner might get a chance at the welter title.

The two ranking 147-pounders aren't expected to draw enough people to take the echo out of Olympia Stadium tonight. There's no local interest and with newspapers shut down by a strike, promoter Nick Londea has had a hard time letting people know there's a fight.

But Logart and Byars will be fighting for a television audience and a chance to meet Tony DeMarco, top-ranked welter, in any case.

Two Braves Injured

BROOKLYN (UP)—The injury jinx which has been working overtime on the Milwaukee Braves this year today claimed pitcher Bob Buhl and outfielder Wes Covington.

Buhl, the team's leading winner with a 16-6 record, is returning to Milwaukee to have his ailing right shoulder examined by Dr. Bruce Brewer. Buhl left last Sunday's game with the St. Louis Cardinals after pitching to two batters and has complained of soreness in his shoulder since then.

Covington is feared lost for three or four games after being hit by his own foul ball on his left Achilles heel in the fourth inning of Thursday night's game with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

But Logart and Byars will be fighting for a television audience and a chance to meet Tony DeMarco, top-ranked welter, in any case.

Billy Graham On U.N.

Evangelist Billy Graham visited the United Nations the other day and came away with misgivings as to whether that monstrous political organization has the answer to solving the world's problems.

"The United Nations, in my opinion, will never be permanently successful unless a great moral and spiritual resurgence comes to supplement the efforts now being made," Graham told newspaper reporters in a press conference after the evangelist had talked privately with Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld.

"Problems of the world are not quite as complex as we make out," he continued. "Visit the Aucas Indians, who live in a kind of stone age, and you will find lying, hating, stealing, cheating, lusts and all manner of evil. The things those people need, you say, are education and economic security. Take a look at New York, Washington, Paris and Moscow. They have education and economic security but they also have the same symptoms and problems as the Aucas Indians. Our greatest wars have been fought by so-called civilized people."

With that comment, we rest our case.

Rights And Powers

We hear a great deal about states' rights. We also hear such things as "The government has right to defend itself; the government has a right to arrest criminals; the government has a right to collect taxes." We would like to question the use of the word right, in each of these cases.

What is a right?

The Declaration of Independence sheds some light on the subject. It says that there are certain truths which are self-evident; that all men are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights—life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness—these rights among others.

Here is the basic clue. Rights come from the Creator. They are divinely ordained. This must mean that ALL men have equal rights. It could not be that some men would have some rights, other men other rights, and perhaps some men have no rights at all. This would be absurd if we believe that rights come from God.

What then are states' rights? There can be no such thing. No state has any right. To believe it, would be to believe that God, Himself, has approved of a state. It would be, in fact, to suppose that therefore the governor, whoever he may be, is the direct appointee of God and is divinely ordained in his office.

What about the right of the government to protect itself, to arrest criminals, to collect taxes? The government has no such right. Only men have rights. And all men have them equally for they come from God.

Well surely the government has something. Indeed it has. The government has power. The separate states have power. And the power each government and each state has, is a power passed over to the state or to the government by individual men who, in themselves, retain all rights.

Clearly there is a great difference between power and right. Power denotes ability to use force, particularly as applied to any government. Right denotes correctness; harmony and divine plan; exalted justification. No government made by men which employs itself in the use of force is necessarily correct, in harmony with divinity or contains exalted justification for its actions. Governments are tools created by men and not by God.

Perhaps what we need to understand is the difference between rights and privileges. Individuals, in passing their power over to their various governments, have given to the governments an exclusive privilege to employ force. This does not become a right. It is a privilege rising from the rights of the people but it is not a right.

A privilege is a special prerogative handed by some people to some other people. It is never universal. It always applies to a few. And of course some privileges are not handed over by some to others, but rather they are usurped by some in their use of force.

Let us hear no more about the rights of any government. It may be that state governments retain certain privileges which the people have not granted to their federal government. We would not question this fact. But we deplore the use of the phrase states' rights. In the interest of clear understanding, we should insist on saying that states have privileges, including the privilege of sovereignty which is not a privilege of the federal government at all. This makes them, in certain specific respects, superior to and prior to the federal machinery. But this does not grant a right to any state.

We believe there is some danger arising from the popular assumption that states have rights. We recognize that the popularity of this position is found in the growing abhorrence of too much power in the hands of the federal government. To offset this power, people are turning to their state governments, requesting that the state governments exercise their privilege of using power, too. It is felt that by the exercise of state power that the federal power may be checked. This may be true. But even if it is true that is not justification for the assumption that states have rights.

All states, big and little, and all other governments, hold their power by the consent of the people. Only the people have rights.

BETTER JOBS

A Treasury Of Catholic Thinking

I've just finished reading a very informative book published in 1953 called "A Treasury of Catholic Thinking." It was compiled by Ralph L. Woods. It had an introduction by Rev. James M. Gillis, C.S.P.

One of the reasons the book was of special interest to me was that it had a lot of short articles by men I had read in the past. It had several by Thomas F. Woodlock, Mr. Woodlock, before his death, used to write for the Wall Street Journal. I always read every article I found that he had written. It also had several articles by Christopher Dawson. I had read a couple of his books and always found him well worth reading. I have always read Gillis when he appeared in one of the Catholic magazines and I always read Bishop Fulton J. Sheen in his Sunday newspaper articles.

The time range of the articles runs from 412 to 1952. Writers include Popes and laymen.

An article on sin by Rev. John B. Harney, C.S.P., helped me better to see what Jesus meant when he said, "Judge not, that you not be judged." I always figured that life was largely a question of judgment, so I couldn't understand that statement, but with Harney's explanation of the meaning of sin, it seems to me that you should not judge the motives of another individual because you are not the other individual. You can judge whether his acts are good or bad but whether he is doing it in ignorance or doing it maliciously and knowing it is wrong is quite a different matter. This is the way Harney explains sin:

"Sin . . . is not chiefly the external act of theft, or adultery, or murder, or any other evil deed that man may do, but it is the immaterial act of his will by which he freely chooses and determines to do something that he knows or fully believes to be contrary to the law of God. . . . The core of sin is in the heart of him who wills it, not in any physical action by which he makes it manifest. Its external completion is but the husk and shell, adding little more than intensity as a rule to its wickedness. . . ."

"To have a clear and accurate realization of what constitutes a mortal sin we must consider carefully much more than the deed, the words, or the desires which are objectively against the laws of God. The individuals against whom they seem to stand are not always accountable or responsible for them in the same measure and degree. That is obvious and is universal. Apparent culprits who are insane or are plainly delirious at the time that they say or do what is objectively reprehensible. It is also quite certain that many other people who seem to be normal are at times partially or even wholly irresponsible for various misdeeds done while they were hardly more than half conscious, or were laboring under some serious mental handicap. It is always difficult to estimate the extent, the importance, and the actual value of those extenuating circumstances. Happily, it is rarely our duty to do that for others. We can and we must do it for ourselves. We know all the facts. One principle, however, must be kept clearly in mind. It is this: No man does or can commit a mortal sin unless he knows, or strongly suspects that the contemplated action is mortally sinful, and yet decides to do it. To act while uncertain on that point is to sin gravely."

"It has already been indicated that there can be no question of sin unless one's intellect and one's will are both involved in the act under consideration. Those two spiritual powers are separate and distinct faculties of our souls, with wholly different objectives and functions. They are, however, very intimately related. Neither can carry on, even momentarily without the other. Of these two, the intellect is always the first to act, for the will is a blind, unseeing faculty. Its function is to choose, to decide, to determine. It cannot inaugurate any activity of the soul or of the body, but must wait until a signal of one sort or another has been given to the intellect. That signal may come from outside the man, a ray of light, a noise, a spoken word. It may come from within him, the twitching of a nerve, the stirring of an appetite, a recollection, a dream. It may be clear or vague, strong or weak, but it must be at least enough to make an impression on the intellect; otherwise, the will cannot come into play. But once that signal has been perceived, however faintly, the will springs into action and thereafter remains in charge of the intellect's subsequent activity."

"The ignorance of a man who could easily have known the truth, who should have known it, who deliberately neglected or refused to become acquainted with it, is not an excuse for his misdeeds."

"Happily, it is not for any among us to form definite judgments about any man except ourselves. The demand of Christ is clear and all-embracing: 'Judge not, that you not be judged.' For with what judgment you judge, you shall be judged, and with what measure you meet, it shall be measured to you again." (Matt. vii, 1-2)

I judge from the above that we must judge good from evil but seldom, if ever, do we actually know whether a man is willfully sinning.

STEEL FACTS

By George Peck

The per capita production of ingot steel is a mighty good yardstick of a nation's standard of living because steel is required for all labor-saving and power-producing machines. So let's take a look at some of the statistics regarding steel production in the U.S.A., in comparison with that produced in other countries.

In 1956 the steel production per person in the following countries was:

United States . . .	1390 pounds
West Germany . . .	993 pounds
Great Britain . . .	909 pounds
Sweden . . . . .	725 pounds
France . . . . .	678 pounds
Russia . . . . .	535 pounds

As steel plays such an important part in the making of automobiles, the figures as to the number of motor vehicles per thousand people in these same countries should be of interest: United States . . . . . 390 autos Sweden . . . . . 104 autos Great Britain . . . . . 95 autos France . . . . . 91 autos West Germany . . . . . 47 autos Russia . . . . . 14 autos Steel production in the U.S.A., in 1956 totalled 115.2 million net tons of ingots. This was exceeded only by the 117 million tons produced in 1955. This was more than double the output of Russia, the world's second largest producer, and amounted to 28 per cent of the world's steel production for 1956. Compared with the average production in 1947-49, output in the United States increased 37 per cent, in Soviet Russia 152 per cent; in the Soviet orbit including Russia, 177 per cent.

The charge that big business in the U.S.A. is getting bigger at the expense of small business cannot be leveled at the steel industry. Between 1939-1957 the number of companies producing steel increased from 73 to 85.

Companies producing ingot steel now operate plants in 119 communities located in 28 states. This output is finished for ultimate markets by an estimated total of 255 companies, with plants in 270 communities located in 31 states.

The smaller companies have outpaced their larger competitors in rate of growth. The 11 largest producers of 1939 increased capacity 57 per cent by 1957, while the other 74 smaller producers showed a 96 per cent increase in capacity in this 1939-57 period. The largest company 50 years ago had over half the industry's ingot production, while today, the three largest producers account for only 33 per cent of the industry's ingot capacity.

Now as to profits. Since 1951, the steel industry has paid out 47 per cent of its profits to investors as dividends, and used the balance for modernizing and expanding the industry's facilities, and for increasing operating capital. Millions of dollars of the industry's so-called profit must now be used for replacing old plants, because depreciation funds that should pay for this essential rebuilding are wholly inadequate, due to today's inflated cost.

In 1956, the steel industry did a volume of $15.2 billion. From each dollar received the industry paid 8 1/2 cents in taxes, compared to 3 1/2 cents paid in dividends to stockholders.

As to the future, while over 5 million tons were added to steel making capacity in 1956, iron and steel companies are on schedule with plans for adding 15 million additional tons capacity by the end of 1958.

If you have found the numerous foregoing statistics a bit boring, I ask you just how otherwise

The Doctor Says

By Edwin J. Jordan, M. D.

WORD ARTHRITIS DOES NOT MEAN CONDITION'S HOPELESS

When people speak of arthritis they may mean any one of several diseases of the joints, some of which are curable and some of which cannot be treated so successfully.

Everyone should realize that the word arthritis means only that there is inflammation in a joint. It does not necessarily mean that the condition is incurable.

Several forms of arthritis can be treated with complete success. That type of inflammation of the joints, for example, which is caused by certain germs, like the pneumococcus (cause of lobar pneumonia) can be treated in almost all cases with complete success by one of the sulfa drugs or antibiotics.

Gout acts on the joints and, of course, the treatment for this is entirely different from that of other forms of joint disease. An attack of gout leaves the joints practically free of damage, unless the disease has existed for a great many years.

There are other forms of arthritis which cannot be treated so successfully. The most important of these is called rheumatoid or atrophic arthritis. This is a disease which starts as an inflammation of the thin membrane surrounding the joints called the "synovia." It may start in almost any joint, but is particularly common in the fingers, knees and wrists, gradually spreading to other joints.

Swelling appears early and an involved joint usually feels warm to the touch and is painful and stiff on motion.

The cause of this disease is not known and there is no sure cure for all cases. However, in many victims of rheumatoid arthritis the disease does not develop into the progressive type and the condition may stop before it has done much permanent damage. If it does go on this is the type which severely damages the cartilage and bone of the joint itself and may cause complete stiffness.

Finally, there is a condition commonly called osteoarthritis or hypertrophic arthritis, which really should not be called arthritis at all. There is little or no inflammation in the joints and discomfort is present but complete crippling does not occur. This really should be called degenerative joint disease.

Because of the many different kinds of joint disease the outlook for prognosis cannot be expressed until the particular variety has been identified and the possibilities for treatment outlined. Even then, there is considerable difference between one person and another.

1960 Election May Not Have Any Major Issues

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — The question of political equality as embodied in the civil rights bill may not be the only aggravating issue to be eliminated from American politics at the current session of Congress. The other divisive and disconcerting problem heading for the political graveyard appears to be the 50-year-old conflict between the advocates of a vast public power empire and the defenders of private interest in that expanding field.

Although relatively minor disputes will remain, for nothing is settled too permanently in politics, this important issue is on the way to a reasonable solution for the first time since Theodore Roosevelt raised it in acute form as White House conservator of natural resources.

Politically, its disappearance may hurt the Democrats, especially the ultraliberal faction. For 25 years, or since F.D.R. took up his cousin's electric torch in the 1932 campaign, they have won re-votes and carried elections championing consumers against what they denounced as the "power trust."

LIFELESS QUESTION — The Morse-Neuberger public power apostles will try to preserve the issue, for they think that it is politically advantageous to them in the Great Northwest, but Congress and most voters in other sections indicate that it is now as lifeless a question as prohibition.

The settlement has been a split victory, as usually happens in difficulties that require compromise. But the struggle — and deadlock — over this subject lasted almost as long as the historic battle over abolition of slavery and the grant of unhampered voting rights to Negroes.

As a result, the last three great power projects in this country have now reached the construction instead of the debating stage. After a seven-year squabble and delay, the Niagara River undertaking has been turned over to the New York State Power Authority. That agency is also constructing the St. Lawrence River development, and will operate it.

CONGRESSIONAL MOOD ON POWER — But the modified terms, which were opposed by the public power group, are eminently satisfactory to the private interests. Neither Niagara nor the St. Lawrence will be developed as the basis of a public power monopoly in that area. In fact, Pennsylvania and Ohio Senators complained because they did not receive a larger allotment of electricity.

The third massive site — Hell's Canyon — has been given to the Idaho Power Company over Morse-Neuberger objections. Neither the Federal Power Commission nor Congress showed any sympathy for their demands that it be recaptured by the Federal Government. Two other Western sites in the same area — Mt. Sheep and Pleasant Valley — will probably wind up in private hands.

Congress seems in no mood to favor Federal invasion of the atomic power realm. A bill to this effect was defeated in the House by a 382-14 vote. The Senate reversed that decision by a 42-34 count, but 10 Southern conservatives voted for Federal construction of a few experimental reactors.

CIVIL RIGHTS STRUGGLE — It was their way of expressing gratitude for public power liberals' support in the civil rights struggle. They could afford to be generous in the Senate skirmish because the huge adverse vote in the House measure, especially as it is expected to be vetoed by President Eisenhower in the unlikely event that it reaches his desk.

In a subsequent column, I shall discuss the effect of the application of F.D.R.'s "yardstick" theory to electricity rates and consumption. He entered upon the TVA "experiment" in an attempt to lower costs and to expand service to both rural and urban dwellers.

He did not seek or want a nationwide system of public power, envisaging the projects he started only as an economic challenge to the private industry. And, as he promised, he really "lit up the countryside" for the profit and benefit of both the consumers and "the power trust."

Court Protects Socialist

"The United States has been responsible for killing a vastly greater number of human beings than has the Soviet Union." This was said to be "doubly damned; once for itself and once for its purpose." These quotes are from an editorial "Trials and Purges," in the March, 1953 Monthly Review, New York, Mr. Paul Sweezy, co-editor. They appear in Herbert A. Philbrick's column, New York Herald Tribune, June 23.

The article continued: "Those of us who have socialism in our bones . . . must necessarily judge the violence of the socialist countries differently." The author referred to "the majestic successes" of communism and declared that "we can say that violence is being used to protect regimes which are doing their utmost to create a society which will be able to dispense with violence. That makes all the difference."

In 1954 Mr. Sweezy, a member of the faculty of Harvard University refused to answer certain questions about his background addressed to him by New Hampshire's Attorney General, Louis C. Wyman, and about lectures he had given at the University of New Hampshire. Later the Supreme Court of New Hampshire adjudged him to be in contempt.

The United States Supreme Court has now reversed the decision of the New Hampshire Supreme Court, Chief Justice Warren commenting that "to impose any straightjacket upon the intellectual leaders in our colleges and universities would imperil the future of our nation." The Supreme Court furthermore declared that "there is nothing in the record to justify the questions put to Sweezy."

Consider, for instance, the AFL-CIO's recent statement which paid high tribute to private, voluntary hospitalization and medical plans: "Private prepayment plans for medical care insurance have grown mightily in the last decade. . . . Already 116 million Americans have some coverage for hospital care, 101 million some form of prepaid surgical insurance, and four million have insurance for comprehensive medical care."

You would expect such a view to be followed by a plea for further extension and improvement of this highly successful development. But the AFL-CIO abruptly reverses the field and advances a proposal which is an implicit attack on free enterprise plans.

It calls for hospitalization and medical care under Social Security for persons receiving benefits, then goes on to declare its ultimate goal as Social Security health benefits for "everyone in covered employment."

Attainment of this goal very likely would mean destruction of most of the private plans. Surely, no friend of free enterprise would advance it.

But a great deal more than an unfriendly attitude toward private enterprise becomes apparent in a comparison between private insurance and the national social benefit system.

Private plans are based on freedom of choice and the Social Security proposal is based on compulsion. The unions chose compulsion as they have in such other instances as union membership. Why would they turn their backs on a voluntary system they recognize as successful and espouse compulsion?

In such a situation, the answer obviously isn't humanitarianism. That leaves only one explanation. The triumph of the welfare state would be the triumph of union political power. You need only glance at labor dominance in such countries as Norway and Sweden to realize the identity of the welfare state and unionism.

Thus, the preference for a national compulsory health program over the successful private enterprise approach is the union road to control of the nation. They don't fear the all-encompassing power of statism for they expect to be wielding it.

MAHOUT MNEMONICS
PORT-LEE, N.J. (UP)—Elephants never forget but their chauffeurs are less infallible. Five men were arrested while driving elephants over the George Washington Bridge, had somehow forgotten to obtain drivers licenses.

MEN ARE INNOCENT
MARGATE, England (UP)—Organizers of a mass channel swim scheduled to start at midnight weren't going to let any of the women participants get out in front if they could help it. They ordered Marshal Sam Rocket to inspect the 17 men and 7 women swimmers for buoyancy aids including inflatable bras.
