'Rights' Bill Boils Down To More Federal Control

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, (UP) — In its simplest term, the wind-up civil rights controversy now boiling in the Senate adds up to this: Shall the federal government be given perfected machinery by which to compel southern states to permit Negroes to register and to vote?

The Eisenhower administration holds that the machinery available by constitutional guarantees and acts of Congress since reconstruction days is ineffective. The 15th Amendment, which became part of the Constitution in 1870, provides that Congress shall have the power to enforce by legislation against the denial of the right to vote by the United States or by any state for reasons of race, color or previous condition of servitude.

Reasons For Ineffectiveness
The enforcement machinery created by Congress made the denial of the right to vote a criminal offense. The Eisenhower administration holds that this machinery has proved faulty for these reasons:
—Southern juries have refused or been reluctant to convict their local officials on such criminal charges.
—Such criminal proceedings, by their very nature, have had to take place substantially after the event — that is, criminal action could not be obtained in time to assure the vote to a qualified Negro.
The proposed change consists in essence — of substituting civil for criminal action in the enforcement of the prohibition stated in the 15th amendment.

Preventive Action Also
Not only that. Under the voting right provision of the pending civil rights bill, the attorney general could begin civil proceedings "whenever...there are reasonable grounds to believe that any person is about to engage in any act or practice which would deprive another" of the right to vote.

Moreover: Such proceedings would be a civil action for preventive relief which would dispense with a jury and leave both verdict and the punishment to the federal judge of the appropriate United States District Court.

Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. insisted that the foregoing is a moderation of existing machinery

Lefors Swimming Classes To End

The Lefors summer swim program will end Saturday according to Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Johnson, owners of the pool.

Miss Martha Skelly, Red Cross instructor, of Pampa will visit the pool Saturday to give the swimming tests. Those who pass will receive Red Cross swim cards.

Ed Lehnick and Dale Prescott, Lefors coaches, have been giving because it would substitute civil for criminal action.

"It is a moderate bill," said Brownell.

"It is not," the southerners replied. They hold that the constitutional right of southern whites to a jury trial is being flushed down the drain to guarantee the constitutional rights of southern Negroes to vote.

the swimming instruction. Mrs. Johnson commended them for a job well done.

A Junior and Senior Life Saving class will be conducted Aug. 14, 16, and 17 at the Lefors Pool by Mrs. Marietta Baird, Pampa Red Cross instructor.

Ally Unity Is Dulles' Job

Foreign News Commentary
By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' No. 1 job in London will be to get the Western Allies together on disarmament procedure.

Negotiations between the Western Allies on one side and Soviet Russia on the other are being emphasized in reports about the London disarmament talks.

The fact is, however, that before any further progress can be made toward reaching a "first step" agreement with Russia, the Western Allies have got to reach agreement among themselves.

The London negotiations have been in progress since March 18. Represented are the United States, Canada, Britain, France and Russia. These five countries constitute a subcommittee of the United Nations Disarmament Commission.

Pessimism Succeeds Optimism

At the outset of the talks, there was an atmosphere of optimism. Russia for the first time agreed in principle to a system of inspection to guarantee compliance with any disarmament measures.

As the months passed, pessimism set in. The Western Allies are seeking agreement with Russia on the area which again.

Recently, United States chief delegate Harold Stassen has been the chief optimist. Britain and France have been pessimistic.

At the moment, while the Western Allies are seeking agreement with Russia on the area which would be covered by a system of inspection in Western Europe, they are far from agreement themselves.

But the big factor in the negotiations for some time has been the position of Western Germany, which is not even represented in the London talks.

Western Germany has become the key country in disarmament negotiations and in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization defense system as well.

Unification Poses Problem
West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer faces a national parliamentary election on Sept. 15. He is meeting a strong challenge by the Socialist Party, which opposes German rearmament and Adenauer's close cooperation with the Western powers as against Russia.

Adenauer is afraid that any disarmament agreement at this time might hurt the chance of attaining German reunification and help the Socialists.

He does not want to see any agreement reached in London before the election, and Adenauer's agreement to include West Germany in an aerial inspection plan is essential.

Last Blast Set At San Simeon

(This is the second of two articles on California's newest tourist attraction, the Hearst castle at San Simeon.)

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Hollywood Writer

SAN SIMEON, Calif. (UP) — The last of the fabulous parties at San Simeon will be staged Aug. 25 when friends of the late William Randolph Hearst and his sons gather to bid farewell to his famous castle.

The museum-like estate, made out of ancient European castles, chateaux and convents, has been turned over to the state and will be open to the public early next year.

Even this farewell party will be pale compared to the lavish living that made a week-end at San Simeon a social ambition for world figures from the castle's birth in 1920 until Hearst's death in 1951.

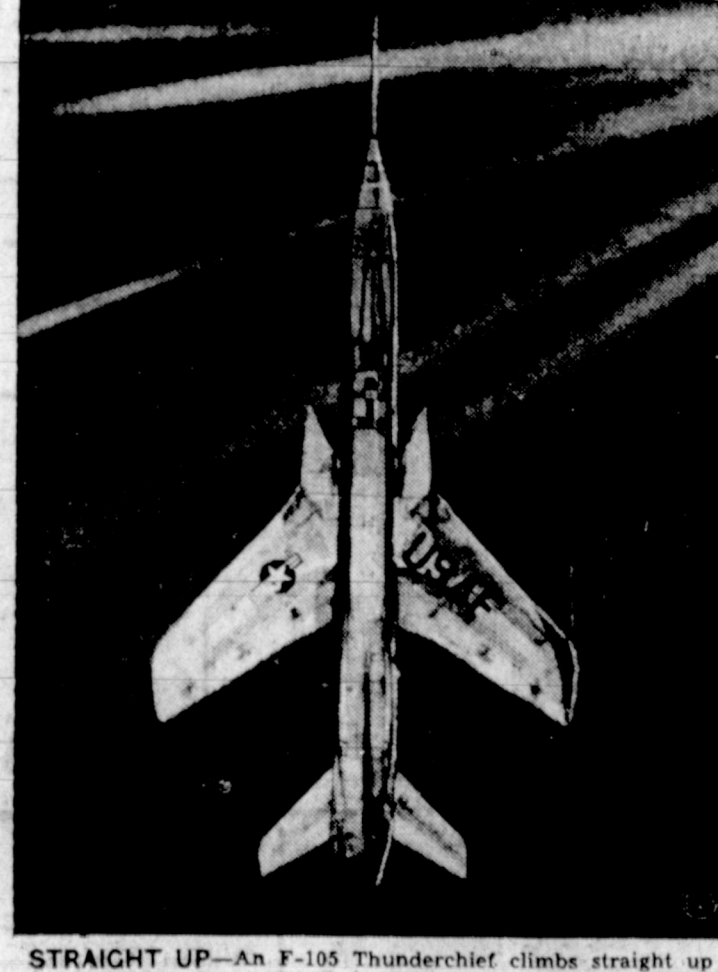

Winnie To GBS

Tourists who visit San Simeon will follow in the footsteps of such guests as Winston Churchill and the late George Bernard Shaw.

Hearst's guests arrived at this 270,000-acre cattle ranch, midway between Los Angeles and San Francisco, by his private planes, trains or cars.

Guests stayed in any of 60 bedroom suites, filled with furniture of the Renaissance era in Italy, France and Spain. On a recent tour I sampled one bedroom resplendent with carved wood ceiling, 18th century chests, four-poster bed and marble bathroom. Although overwhelming to the eye, a week-end in a Renaissance bedroom did not appear comfortable.

Breakfast At 11 a.m.
In San Simeon's heyday, guests could eat breakfast up to 11 a.m.

STRAIGHT UP—An F-105 Thunderchief climbs straight up demonstrating its tremendous power. The two "half-V's" where wings meet the fuselage are newly designed air-intake ducts that inhale air at great speeds to help the airplane fly faster than sound without "choking" the engine. Scheduled for service with the U.S. Air Force's Tactical Air Command, the Thunderchief is a single-seater, which, officials say, can carry conventional or nuclear weapons inside or outside.

BANS BUSSES—Pat Boone, new idol of teendom, has a problem. He doesn't want to play roles that involve kissing an actress. It's a matter of principle and his religious background. Pat thinks he shouldn't ever give a kiss—a real smacker, that is—to anyone but his wife. He hasn't solved the problem yet. "I'll do a lot of soul-searching," he says.

Pills May Be Cause Of Reliable Drivers Becoming Dangerous

SCIENCE TODAY By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UP)—Pills as well as alcohol can make unsafe auto drivers out of otherwise reliable ones, an authority on drugs said in urging doctors to warn their patients...

Dr. W. J. R. Camp, professor of pharmacology, University of Illinois School of Medicine, put barbiturates at the head of the list of drugs which can decrease the ability to drive safely...

This drug has "an action closely paralleling that of alcohol—pure depression of the central nervous system, and often leaving a hangover," he said.

"Many patients are on a daily diet of barbiturates with resulting laziness in thought, forgetfulness, and slowing of reflexes. There may even be signs and symptoms of iritability, depending on dosage, but without the aroma of alcohol and of course with a negative breath-alcohol test."

Breed Obituaries Should a person who has had barbiturates, take a drink "the effect of the two substances is at least additive" he continued...

Other Dangerous Drugs His point was that "while alcohol is a serious problem" in "this use."

Jacoby On Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service The unlucky expert was holding forth: "I went down two tricks at three no-trump. Every other table in the duplicate game played some no-trump contract also. They weren't all at game but every one made at least eight tricks. A n d someone actually made five odd."

I asked how it happened and the unlucky expert explained: "I don't hold any brief for the bidding but the final contract of three no-trump was certainly reasonable. It was my luck that West was one of those players who automatically lead fourth best of their longest suit. He opened the three of diamonds and, as you can see, the lead killed me."

"I won in dummy with the ace and dropped the queen from my hand. I wanted him to be sure that I held the jack also. I led the ten of clubs and let it ride. West won with the queen and went into a huddle. I hoped for a shift to one of the major suits but out came another diamond. This pulled my last tooth and, although I did set up the club suit, I was never able to get back to my hand to make them. I don't suppose you want to hear about the rest of the play?"

"No, I don't," I replied. "I am curious about one thing, though. How did someone manage to make five no-trump?"

"I really don't know," was the reply. "What's more, I couldn't be less interested. Would you like some more sad stories?"

My answer was negative, and just to make sure I got away from the unlucky expert as rapidly as possible.

OMAHA, Neb.—Mrs. Harry Woodruff on caring for an escaped Army sentry dog who had been trained to kill. "Why, he's gentle and minded well. He's a beautiful thing—loves to have his coat brushed."

less slaughter" resulting from automobile accidents, "we should not forget other drugs." In some ways, he said, alcohol is not the most dangerous drug potentially in the driver because "the effects of over indulgence are usually obvious," which is not so of the other drugs. "Many persons, of their own volition, or on advice of a physician, are taking drugs which have a definite effect on the central nervous system," he said. "We need not stress that users of marijuana, morphine, heroin or cocaine have no business driving a car, but insufficient thought has been given to the effect of more commonly used drugs."

He didn't think that all the efforts to educate the public on the dangers of mixing drinking and driving, were getting very far, since the "use of alcoholic drinks is so common." The public seems indifferent, and "drinkers continue to drive, and drivers to drink, and with an indifference that endangers themselves and others."

MIAMI (UP)—Anthony Clausi, 35, has discovered a great way to do business but a mighty poor one for staying out of trouble. Police charged the used car dealer with buying the same 1957 Cadillac four times with bogus checks and returning it for cash for a net profit of $20,000.

Stars Trying To Keep From Testifying

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Movie stars began to challenge their court appearances in the criminal libel trial against Confidential and Whisper magazines which has stirred up a storm in the scandal-shy film capital.

Nearly 50 stars have been subpoenaed to appear as defense witnesses at the trial of Fred and Marjorie Meade, operators of a Hollywood listening post for the magazines. The trial begins Friday.

Actor Rory Calhoun's attorney will present a motion today in superior court to kill his subpoena. The attorney claims Calhoun's testimony would not be relevant, that Calhoun was not mentioned in the indictment and his testimony would be immaterial. Other film celebrities were conferring with their lawyers on ways to keep from testifying in connection with charges of lewdness and obscenity leveled against the magazines.

The state will base its case on articles about such stars as Maureen O'Hara, Robert Mitchum, Corinne Calvet and Dick Powell. The articles included "Maureen O'Hara Cuddled in Row 35" and "How Long Can Dick Powell Take It."

Assistant Attorney General Clarence A. Linn said there would be "no more deals" to let the gossip publications "off the hook." Sukins Drug Store.

Ultra Creamy And Smooth Homemade Ice Cream Is Year 'Round Favorite

"Hey, mom, is this really homemade ice cream?" will be the first question and "Seconds, please?" will follow when the youngsters dive into homemade ice cream. Ice cream probably comes closer to being an ideal dessert than any other. It's universally popular, it's nutritious and its perfect for any occasion from barbecue to banquet.

Roman Emperors had to send swift runners into the hills for snow in order to have ice cream for dinner. Henri II of France had a whole battery of cooks preparing his dish of this frozen delicacy and Charles I of England actually had a man beheaded to keep his recipe for making ice cream. All this fuss and bother over ice cream that can't begin to compare to the following recipe, developed by Carnation Company's home economists, that you can make right in your own home.

Because of evaporated milk's better blending qualities, there's no need to stir every half hour during the freezing process nor any back-breaking crank to turn to obtain a velvety texture. . . simply spoon the mixture into containers to freeze and forget for three hours.

The preparation process may be modern, but both the flavor and cost (about 30 cents per quart) are as old fashioned as a Gay Nineties ice cream parlor.

HOMEMADE PEACH MELBA ICE CREAM (Makes about 2 1/2 quarts)

- 2 cups sliced fresh peaches or 12-ounce packages frozen sliced peaches thawed (omit sugar).
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 1/2 cups (7/8 to 8-ounce jar) marshmallow whip
- 12-3 cups (large can) undiluted evaporated milk

TRIO—Variety meats add new flavor interest to meat meals at low cost. Here stuffed veal hearts, baked liver with apples, and deviled kidneys illustrate three ways in which the nutritious meats may be used in dinner menus.

New Interest And Flavor Introduced Into Meat Meals And At A Savings

Variety meats, such as liver, kidneys, sweetbreads, heart, and tongue are important in the diet nutritionally and for the new interest and flavor they introduce into meat meals, often at a savings. Nutritionally, they're important in the diet because of the vitamins and minerals they contain. Liver, especially, is a rich source, not only of iron, but also of the B vitamins and vitamin A.

Cooking of variety meats depends upon the meat selected. Some of the more tender meats—youthful beef liver, lamb kidneys, sweetbreads—may be broiled. Others, such as heart and tongue are best when braised or cooked in water.

Heart, the least tender of the variety meats since it is the most exercised muscle in the animal body, requires slow, moist heat cooking. The following recipe for baked, stuffed hearts recommends oven-braising the flavorful meat.

- STUFFED VEAL HEARTS
- 2 veal hearts
 - 1 1/2 cups fine dry bread crumbs
 - Salt, pepper
 - 1/2 teaspoon marjoram
 - 1/2 medium onion, minced
 - 3/4 cup butter or margarine, melted
 - 1/4 cup flour
 - 3 tablespoons lard
 - 1 cup water

Trim white tubes from heart cavities, using scissors or sharp point of knife. Combine bread crumbs, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, marjoram, onion, and butter. Blend thoroughly and stuff into hearts. Skewer openings closed. Roll in hot lard. Add water, cover pan, and bake at 325 degrees F. or over low heat on top of the range 2 1/2 hours or until tender. Make gravy from any liquid remaining. 4 servings.

Beef kidneys properly prepared are delectable and may be served in a variety of ways. The kidneys, after braising, may be served in their savory gravy topped with rice, macaroni, or meaty baked potatoes.

- DEVILED KIDNEYS
- 2 pounds beef kidneys
 - 1 1/2 cups flour

A Southern Coffee Punch For A Summertime Party

SUMMERTIME is party-time. In the cool of a summer evening, let's have a party for old friends and new! Get out the Japanese lanterns and string them across the lawn. Make up platters of tiny sandwiches, bake some dainty cookies, frost an angel food cake. Then get out the punch bowl and fill it to the brim with a cool, delicious southern party drink—Creamy Coffee Punch. Here is a party that every member of the family can attend and all can enjoy.

Creamy Coffee Punch

- 1 quart strong coffee
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 1 1/2 cups ice cream
- 1 1/2 cups vanilla ice cream
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 1 1/2 cups cream
- 1 1/2 cups fruit

Hamfurters Start Picnic Off Right

August is picnic month—so hunt up the picnic basket, the portable grill, the Kooler Jug and the oil coffee pot. To start your picnic grill off to a summer of successful barbecuing here is a recipe for barbecued Hamfurters that will delight and satisfy those fresh air appetites. The ham steak is grilled and then cut into crosswise strips that fit snugly into the hot dog rolls. And don't forget to pack the prepared horseradish and pickle relish!

HAMFURTERS

- 2 tablespoons oil
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon-kitchen bouquet
- 1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1 slice precooked ham, 1 inch thick

Combine oil, lemon juice, kitchen bouquet and ginger. Cut fat edge of ham slice to prevent curling and brush generously with sauce. Broil over low heat on outdoor grill, 10 minutes on each side. Cut crosswise into approximately 1/4 inch wide strips and serve on toasted hot dog rolls. Serve with prepared horseradish and pickle relish. Makes 6 servings.

ONION RINGS, CHEF'S STYLE

- 1/2 cup sifted flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 1/2 teaspoons paprika
- 1 1/2 teaspoons pepper
- 2 egg yolks
- 2-3 cup beer
- 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
- 2 egg whites
- 3 large mild sweet onions, sliced into rings

Sift together flour and seasonings. Beat egg yolks until light. Add beer and mix into dry ingredients, stirring only until blended. Stir in butter or margarine. Let stand at room temperature 3-1/2 hours. Beat egg whites until stiff, not dry. Fold into batter. Dip onion rings in batter. Fry in hot fat (about 1-1/2 inches) 2 or 3 minutes, turning to brown both sides. Drain on paper toweling. If desired, fry onions ahead and reheat at 400 degrees after pork roast is removed from oven. Makes 6 servings.

Deviled Steak Is Sour Cream, Rice, Cucumber Salad Epicurean Dish

Beef arm steak can present economical as well as epicurean meals. Deviled Steak is one such dish. There's a hearty goodness about this entrée that makes it a natural during some of the cooler days in July.

Arm steak is a less-tender cut of beef; therefore, it is cooked by moist heat . . . in this case, braising.

Reba Staggs, well versed in the field of meat and meat cookery, emphasizes that a meat cut may be simmered slowly on top of the range or in a slow oven (300 degrees F.).

DEVILED STEAK

- Beef arm steak, cut 1 inch thick
- 3/4 cup enriched flour
- 2 tablespoons lard or drippings
- 1 large onion, sliced
- 1 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1/2 teaspoon paprika
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 3/4 teaspoon pepper
- 3 tablespoons vinegar
- 1 cup hot water

Cut steak into individual servings. Dredge steak with flour and brown both sides in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Place sliced onion over meat. Add seasonings, vinegar and water. Cover tightly and cook slowly on top of range or in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) for about 1 1/2 hours or until tender. Thicken the remaining liquid for gravy. Yield: 6 servings.

Dedicated To Salad Connoisseurs

This is a salad dedicated to the sour cream and Blue cheese lovers. They'll enjoy having small portions served as an appetizer. Since it's mostly white in color, garnish it with radishes, pimiento strips, tomato wedges or a generous dash of paprika. Sour cream and Blue cheese are stirred into hot cooked rice. That way, the rice absorbs lots of piquant flavor. When the rice cools, diced cucumbers are added. The rice may be served topped with slices of onion soaked in vinegar if you like onions this way. The rice is placed on lettuce, topped with sour cream and garnished attractively.

METHOD

Put the water, rice and salt in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil over a high heat. Turn the heat down low. Cover with a lid and simmer over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but leave the lid on 10 minutes.

Stir 1/2 cup of the sour cream, the Blue cheese and pepper into the hot rice. Cool. Stir in the cucumbers. Cover and store in the refrigerator.

If desired, soak onion slices several hours in vinegar to cover with 1/2 teaspoon salt and a dash of black pepper. The onion slices are to be served over the rice mixture.

To serve, place the rice mixture on lettuce leaves. Top with the onion slices if these are used. Top with the rest of the sour cream. Garnish with pimiento strips, radishes, tomatoes or paprika. This is extra delicious with tomato.

Serve small portions as an appetizer or large portions as a salad.

This recipe makes about 10 servings as an appetizer and 6 to 7 servings as a salad.

Get Your $2 Critic Kit Here

By DOC QUIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—Over in Philadelphia, the City of Brotherly Love, a clever fellow is peddling "registered critic kits." For two bucks you can get a registered critic certificate, ready for framing; a bronze critic pin, and a membership card.

"Give your opinions the authority they deserve!" he advertises. "Become a registered critic. Criticize TV, music, literature, waitress service, Presley, politics, your in-laws . . . with exciting new intensity. Turn thumbs down with new authority."

The man is going for a rich market. There are more half-baked opinions floating around this country, anxious to be aired, than there are Roentgens in a mushroom cloud.

Who Asked You?
An occasional opinion, openly arrived at and casually cast adrift, is every man's privilege. But let's do something about the chronic critics, those who are always yammering, for whom there is only one retort proper: Who asked you?

Herewith, at no extra charge, is Quigg's handy list of most-unsolicited critics of our time. (Oh, all right, shuffle them into any order you like.)

Wives who criticize their husbands' clothing—Why don't they take a look at their own? (Particularly those new pinpointed shoes for women.)

Backseat drivers—A good exterminator might help here.

People who can't stand success—Always criticizing (and scandalizing) bigwigs just because they're big.

Tourists who holler about how much better things are back home than wherever they are. Let 'em stay home, if they don't like anyplace else.

For Weather Critics—Weather critics—Even if heaven descended to earth, some of these people would complain the climate was too monotonous.

Umpire baiters—These people are a cult—a tiny one—below Monday morning quarterbacks.

Self-appointed proprietors of the English language—These, almost always, are pathetically ignorant but nevertheless dangerous.

New York taxi drivers—Don't they ever like anything?

Motorists who bark at pedestrians and restaurant customers who complain about the service—Straitjackets are indicated in some of these cases.

New generation alarmists—Members of the present generation who are continually predicting where the upcoming generation is headed and at the same time are providing it with the handbasket to get there in.

DOG TIRED—This must be the little guy that all those things that shouldn't happen to a dog did. The "best friend" who appears to need a pal is "Linda," a two-year-old Albino Pekingese. It's a tough life, or maybe it's just the heat in New York City.

Grass Roots Cause School Bill Defeat

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower is being accused of scuttling his own bill for federal aid to schools, but that seems not to be what actually happened.

What hit the school-aid bill last week was a blast of grass roots indignation against high taxes and high levels of government spending. There were other factors, of course, in the five-vote margin by which the House refused to appropriate funds for school construction. Racial integration had a big part.

Both major parties met last summer in national nominating conventions which also drafted statements of political principles commonly known as platforms. These worthy documents, read by few and understood by fewer, each bore one strong resemblance to the other. That resemblance was that each tried to promise a little something for everybody, more, if possible, than the other promised.

By such devices both major parties formally committed themselves before the 1956 presidential campaign to spend a lot of federal money on local schools. Came the whopping new Eisenhower budget last January and things began to happen.

Get New Chairman
On Jan. 22 the Republican Party got a new national chairman, hand-picked by the President and his advisers. The new man was Meade ALCORN, of Connecticut, tagged as a modern Republican evangelist.

ALCORN proceeded immediately to a series of huddles with congressional Republicans from whom he heard bad news—the Eisenhower administration was in serious trouble with the voters. The new chairman hustled to the White House to talk it over. He subsequently received from Eisenhower a letter which, the United Press was informed, stated bluntly that the people should have the greatest and most effective voice in determining party policy.

The letter instructed ALCORN to go forth among the people to discover what was wrong. He was to return to tell the President how things stood. There followed regional Republican meetings in five cities, Omaha, Neb.; Salt Lake City, Utah; Louisville, Ky.; Cincinnati, Ohio, and Trenton, N.J.

The grass roots participants in those meetings came later—last May—to Washington. The regional meetings were closed to the public. The assembled Republicans spoke frankly of their troubles. A digest of their gripes jeers and cheers was compiled for presentation to Eisenhower by ALCORN escorted by Sen. Andrew SCHOEPEL (R-Kan.) and Rep. Richard M. SIMPSON (R-Pa.).

Not Made Public
This report has not been made public. The United Press was informed, however, that Eisenhower's school-aid spending was the most aggressively challenged of all his policies. The grass roots repudiated both the President and the party platform on that issue.

The President's enthusiasm for some big time spending to build schools probably began to wilt about the time he got the ALCORN-SCHOEPEL-SIMPSON report and it did not thereafter stiffen. The word around town shortly before last week's House vote killed the school bill was that Eisenhower would make a sudden and dramatic appeal for its approval.

There was no such appeal and persons familiar with the background of the controversy were not surprised when it was not forthcoming. It has been said of some politicians that they detect grass roots trends by the unlikely method of simultaneously putting both ears to the ground. Eisenhower did not have to accomplish that feat to hear what Republican grass roots thought of building local schools with federal funds.

ROYAL POWER DISPLAY

CLYDESDALE, England (UP)—Britain's Princess Alexandra smashed a bottle of champagne against the bow of the new Royal Navy frigate Jaguar—and the ship stayed put. While embarrassed officials scurried about, the princess rose to the occasion and gave the ship a mighty shove. It slid down the slipway.

JACKSON, Miss. (UP)—Mr. and Mrs. James Sprull have a ceiling light fixture that started to rise straight up, apparently under its own power. The couple discovered an opossum in the attic had tugged at the cord from which the light hung.

ARCHERS "NAME" PRESIDENT
LARAMIE, Wyo. (UP)—Charles Yeoman has been elected president of the Wyoming Archery Association.

Wisconsin still is governed by its original constitution, the oldest state constitution west of the Alleghenies.

Southern Negroes Now Voting More

EDITOR'S NOTE: One of the main points of controversy in the congressional debate on civil rights is Negro voting practices in the South. The United Press surveyed the situation throughout the area to prepare this dispatch.

By JAMES RUSSELL
United Press Staff Correspondent

ATLANTA, Ga. (UP) — More Negroes are registered to vote in the South today than ever before and the number is growing steadily. But they still lag far behind the white voters.

Negro leaders say the fact that only 25 per cent of the eligible members of their race are registered to vote is largely due to discrimination. About 60 per cent of eligible southern whites are registered.

Many southern officials — all of them white — attribute the low Negro registration to a low educational level among Negroes. In other words, fewer Negroes than whites are able to meet state-prescribed vote qualifications.

In its latest survey, the privately-financed Southern Regional Council reported that at least 1,238,000 Negroes in 13 southern states are registered among a Negro voting population of nearly five million. This is a gain of nearly a quarter million since 1952.

Registrar Holds Power
The storm center of the Negro voting controversy is the county registrar of voters who in some states — like Louisiana and Mississippi — is given broad latitude in determining who passes qualification tests. Other states, such as Florida and Georgia, have more specific laws.

A registrar in Mississippi, for example, can rule a person unqualified to vote if he fails to interpret a given section of the Constitution to the official's satisfaction. Under new voter laws, an essay on good citizenship is also a requirement for a new Mississippi voter registration.

Gov. J. P. Coleman insists that Negroes as a race are not denied the right to vote in Mississippi and says the reason for their low registration, estimated at 25,000 last year, is that others are simply not qualified.

Georgia law lets any law-abiding citizen who can read and write a section of the Constitution register. If he cannot meet this requirement, he can still get on voter rolls by answering at least 10 of 30 questions. Examples: Who is the President? How many U.S. senators are there from Georgia? "Negroes are not denied the right to vote in Georgia," says Gov. Marvin Griffin, an unwavering segregationist.

In Atlanta and other metropolitan areas, Negro registration is heavy, but in two Georgia counties with a total Negro population of more than 3,000, not a single one is a registered voter.

Two years ago, officials in Randolph County, Ga., purged some 500 Negro voters from the polls but, through a Federal Court injunction, 125 gained their voting rights again on grounds they were removed solely because of color.

Sen. Richard Russell has used the case to back up arguments that voters who are discriminated against are adequately protected under present laws.

Purge Backfires
The fear that Negro bloc voting might swing the balance of power in local elections has touched off scattered efforts in the South to purge voters and ward off heavy registration in the future. White citizens councils attempted this in some Louisiana counties with considerable success, but in one instance it backfired.

In Minden, La., Mrs. Winnice Clement, 58, a county registrar, began administering the registration laws in what she regarded as a non-discriminatory manner. The first dozen voters she bounced off the rolls were white.

One of the most direct assaults against Negro voting majorities was launched this summer at Tuskegee, Ala., where the state Legislature altered city boundaries to push all but 10 Negro voters beyond the city limits. Another bill is pending which would abolish Macon County, predominantly populated by Negroes, and divide it among five neighboring counties.

In Virginia, even the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People concedes that "in most cases, Negroes are not denied the right to vote." Virginia and four other southern states still have poll taxes, one of the big deterrents to registration by Negroes in low economic classes.

Negroes in Richmond, Va., have doubled their voting strength since 1945 and their votes came close to electing a member of their race to the state Legislature this summer. "The embarrassing fact is that Negroes voted on July 9 at approximately double the rate at which white voters turned out," said the Richmond News-Leader.

NEW YORK — Kunsar Das Gupta, Indian student arriving in New York, irritated at newsmen's interest in the similarity between his name and that of the Indian woman romantically linked with Roberto Rossellini: "No, no, no. Big Three Give Adenauer Boost

United Press Staff Correspondent
By CHARLES M. MCCANN

The Big Three Western Allies have given Chancellor Konrad Adenauer a big boost in his campaign for the West German parliamentary election.

That seems likely to be the most important result of the declaration on German unity which the United States, Britain, France and West Germany issued Monday.

The statement also gave Adenauer personally further assurance that West Germany's interests will not be sacrificed in the attempt to reach a disarmament agreement with Soviet Russia.

It would be unfair, perhaps, to call the declaration a campaign document. Nevertheless, it makes a pretty good one.

The declaration called on Soviet

Call's For Election
The declaration called on Soviet Russia to agree to a free all-German election to unify the country.

It reaffirmed the right of a united Germany to continue the membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization which West Germany now holds.

It further ruled out as impossible the Russian demand that West Germany negotiate a unification agreement with Communist East Germany.

One significant feature of the declaration was that it was issued in West Berlin instead of in Bonn, the West German capital. This emphasized the fact that Berlin is Germany's real capital.

R & K To Visit East
The decision to issue the unification declaration at this time undoubtedly was made partly because Russian Communist Leader Nikita S. Khrushchev and Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin are to visit East Germany in August.

Khrushchev and Bulganin are sure to hit the unification issue hard in their speeches during this visit. They may be expected to call again for direct negotiations between the two German governments and to repeat that West Germany's membership in NATO is a bar to a unification agreement.

The four-power declaration seems to pull the rug out from under this Soviet propaganda line.

Buhl Spurs Braves Over Pirates, 4-2

Robinson Begins Training For Title Bout

NEW YORK (UP)—Sugar Ray Robinson planned to go to Greenwood Lake, N.Y., today and begin training for his million-dollar defense of the middleweight crown against welterweight champion Carmen Basilio at Yankee Stadium, Sept. 23.

Basilio, already in training at Alexandria Bay, N.Y.—on the St. Lawrence River—interrupted his work to come to New York for Wednesday's formal signing of contracts for the bout, which was closed on June 28.

Thirty-year-old Basilio, favored at 13-10, will not be risking his 147-pound title when he tries to take the 160-pound championship from Robinson. Carmen expects to weigh about 151 pounds against Ray's probable 159.

Bob Buhl, who might be pitching the Chicago White Sox toward a pennant except for a little mistake the Sox made, kept the Milwaukee Braves atop the wild National League flag scramble today and is now their big money pitcher.

Bettle-browed Buhl posted victory No. 13 for the Braves Wednesday night, 4-2, on an eight-inning lead over the Pittsburgh Pirates to maintain their half-game lead over the St. Louis Cardinals.

It was the fourth straight win for the hard-throwing right hander and left him second only to the Phillies' Jack Sanford for most victories in the National League.

All this is so much applause for the White Sox, who first signed him to a minor league contract in 1947, developed the signing took place before his class graduated from high school, so the baseball commissioner made him a free agent and this time he signed with the Braves.

The Braves gave Buhl a 4-0 lead on homers by Red Schoendienst in the third and Johnny Logan in the fifth, plus two unearned runs in the sixth. He missed his fourth shutout of the year when the Pirates rallied for two runs in the ninth.

The Cardinals kept pace with a 5-1 victory over the Giants behind Herm Wehmeier and third place Brooklyn moved within two games of the top by beating Chicago twice, 3-2, and 2-1. Fifth-place Cincinnati beat fourth-place Philadelphia, 6-5, in an 11-inning night.

In the AL pennant chase, the New York Yankees increased

Johnson Is Toronto's Only Hope

By UNITED PRESS

Don Johnson, a temperamental veteran who just a month ago vowed he'd never play again for Toronto, today appears to be the only hope left for the Leafs' International League pennant hopes.

The 30-year-old right hander came through with a clutch 4-3 victory over Richmond in the second game of a double-header Wednesday night after the Leafs had won the opener, 3-1, to gain temporary possession of first place. Toronto, in third place, has won only three of its last 12 games, and Johnson has won them all with complete game victories.

In other action, Buffalo defeated Miami, 3-2, in 12 innings after dropping the opener, 2-0, Montreal and Columbus split, the Royals winning the first, 3-2, and then losing the second, 7-5, and Rochester beat Havana, 3-0, in a single game.

Bell Faces Investigators For His 'Drastic' Powers Over Football

By TOM NELSON
United Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (UP)—Commissioner Bert Bell faced questioning by House investigators today about the "drastic" powers he can wield over the National Football League.

Bell and Chicago Bears President George S. Halas were called as final witnesses in a House anti-trust subcommittee's hearings on pro football operations.

Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) said he wanted to question Bell about the "very, very drastic provisions" in the league by-laws which Celler said give Bell powers ranging from censorship of radio and television to authority to fix admission prices.

Celler praised Bell, who testified two days last week, as "instinctively a man of honesty" but added that Bell won't "be around here forever."

Clies The "Danger"

"The power he has in the hands of an arbitrary, selfish, grasping individual would be highly dangerous," Celler said.

The subcommittee is considering gloves."

Basilio is scheduled to fight midweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson late this month. As the champion, Gavilan claimed Basilio in 1953 and deposed Wednesday night he "could do it again any time."

The decision over Ortega, before a capacity crowd at the Miami Beach Auditorium and a national television audience, was a triumphant end to a losing "jinx" which began after Gavilan lost his title in a much disputed fight with Johnny Saxton in 1954. Since then, the bolo-punching Cuban has won only six of 20 bouts.

Kid Gavilan Demands Bout With Basilio

MIAMI BEACH (UP)—Former welterweight champion Kid Gavilan, with his old cocksureness, demanded a title fight with Carmen Basilio today while even his victim in Wednesday night's 10-rounder, Gaspar Ortega, admitted he was soundly trounced.

"That Gavilan looked like he did when he was champion. He fought a really great fight," said Api Rodriguez, trainer of Mexican Ortega, who claims to speak no English. "Sure, he won and we were beaten good."

From Gavilan, who said he "felt just fine—I could go another 10 rounds right now," came a chorus of challenges to Basilio to fight the Keed or "hang up the

The investigators heard criticism of the league Wednesday from Creighton E. Miller, lawyer for the league's Player Association which has tried in vain to gain recognition from owners.

Miller said the contract given an NL player is a legal monstrosity which makes the commissioner's decision in disputes between players and owners "final, binding, conclusive, and without further appeal."

Ratterman Also Testifies

Miller said players ought to have some voice in the selection of the commissioner or else the system should be changed so the game is run by a board with one member representing players.

George W. Ratterman, a pro player for 10 years, told the subcommittee he had to pay a $1,200 fine to rejoin the NFL after he jumped from the New York Yankees to play Canadian football with the Montreal Alouettes.

Ratterman, who filed a suit in the dispute, said he told Bell a New Jersey judge had said the matter was a proper one for the courts to settle. Bell said he didn't care what the judge said and that Ratterman would have to settle it through Bell's office, which he finally did, Ratterman testified.

the game will be in the event and most of them were exempt from the qualifying tests and will play their first round today. Among Doug Ford, also the leading money winner with earnings of $39,546.55.

Hurricane May Quit Fighting

NEW YORK (UP)—Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, who has his own ideas on medical treatment as well as boxing, is considering his fistie future at home these days.

Jackson left Meadowbrook Hospital Wednesday and came home, against the strong advice of doctors who wanted him to remain a few more days for examination of the kidney bruises he suffered in his technical knockout by heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson Monday night.

"Thank God, I'm still alive," said Jackson as he left the hospital.

Jackson said he hasn't made up his mind whether he'll fight again.

All American Tourney Entries Gear For Next Week's World

CHICAGO (UP)—More than 220 golfers began Tam O'Shanter's All American Tournament today with their shots geared more for next week's lucrative World than for this week's $25,000 stake.

The World will pay the men pros, of which some 150 played today, a total of $101,200 with the top prize a guaranteed $50,000 cash, the largest single payoff on the pro tour.

Hence, if experimenting this week could pay off next week, the pros probably will be willing to lose a stroke or two in the $25,000 event if the venture might save a stroke or two in the World.

Already the field has been cut somewhat in two days of qualifying from which the top 72 scorers and ties in the men's pro division advanced to the 72-hole four-day tourney. After 36 holes, the field will be reduced further and only the select top scorers this week will get into the World.

Competition will be held among men pros, women pros, men amateurs and women amateurs. Virtually every "name" player in the game will be in the event and most of them were exempt from men pros, women pros, men amateurs and women amateurs. Virtually every "name" player in

Pete Wants Bout With Patterson But Suicide Is Against The Law

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE
(Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.)
By OSCAR FRALEY

United Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (UP) — Congress, the governor of the state of Washington and the National Boxing Assn. are on trial today in the case of amateur boxer Pete Rademacher.

Rademacher is the Olympic heavyweight champion. But Rademacher, who is scheduled to fight heavyweights Floyd Patterson at Seattle on Aug. 22, is a comparative novice who never has gone more than three rounds and never had a professional bout.

He is a potential corpse. Just as the police stop people from destroying themselves, so with the evidence at hand should those with the power — Congress, Washington's governor or the NBA—step in and prevent this dangerous farce.

"I want to get the feel of one good pro fight," Rademacher said recently.

Should See Jackson

He could get it first hand today from a man named Tommy Jackson. Jackson had 35 pro fights before he faced Patterson's sledgehammer Monday night. Against Patterson, a punishing puncher, he was a human shock absorber whose kidneys collapsed in painful protest.

"They tell me I can make $10,000 out of this fight," said Rademacher several weeks ago.

He might ask young Courchesne, a veteran of 80 professional bouts, how much that money is worth when you lie in a hospital bed fighting for your life after a delicate brain operation.

Courchesne's experience didn't save him in a fight against Bobby Bell last week.

Rademacher is 29, a part-time amateur who didn't even make the 1952 Olympic team and whose victory in 1956 was a distinct upset. He can punch but he is an unprotected target for a man of Patterson's punishing skills.

11 Killed Last Year

They talk of the possibility that he could win with one "lucky" punch. They forget that Patterson, for six years, daily has been studying the grim art of destroying the man who stands in front of him.

Eleven men were killed in the ring last year.

Ten died of beatings the year before.

In 1953 there were 22 men slain just as surely as if they had been battered with an iron pipe.

Putting Rademacher in against Patterson is a disgrace even to a brutal industry which long has masqueraded as a sport. If it goes through, it may be time to outlaw this bloody business once again.

Eagles Drop Houston, Up League Lead To 10 Games

By UNITED PRESS
Dallas downed Houston again Wednesday night and drew its Texas League lead out to 10 games.

The Eagles rallied for five runs in the ninth to stop Houston 10-8 and take a 2-1 edge in the four-game series. Tulsa tripped San Antonio 6-3 to remain tied for third with Austin, which slapped Oklahoma City 8-5. Shreveport edged Fort Worth 3-2.

Series are wound up tonight with Houston hosting Dallas in attempt to come back to nine games away, and Fort Worth at Shreveport. Tulsa goes to Austin and Oklahoma City is at San Antonio.

Don Taussig poled a three-run homer in the first to put Dallas in the early lead but the Eagles trailed 8-5 going into the ninth. However, the Eagles parlayed six hits and a walk, including a two run double by Alex Comidid, to take the victory. Harry Klester and Benny Valenzuela homered for the Buffs.

Jim Grimm brought his record to 10-11 for Shreveport with help from Bill Tremel. He held the Cats to six hits until he retired with one out in the eighth.

Plate Umpire Mike Bricease tossed out Fort Worth Manager Gene Handley and players Don Swanson, John Briggs and Jim Mangus.

Tulsa scored four times in the eighth to stop San Antonio, after Mike Lutz gave the Missions a two-run lead with a homer in the sixth. The Oilers then worked over two Mission hurlers in the eighth to take their third victory in the series.

Austin used a six-run sixth to wallop Oklahoma City.

Top Softball Teams Battle Tonight

The first division of the Top of Texas Softball Tournament opens tonight with two of the top teams of the area slated for the opener at Lions park at 7. Frank Phillips Mens Club of Borger will oppose Jims Grocery in the nightcap scheduled to begin at 9.

In the southwest corner of Hobart Park Philblack of Borger will play the Pampa League at 7 in the other first division tilt.

Games scheduled for the second division are Texas Co. vs Celanese at Hobart NW; and Amarillo Packing Co. vs Magnolia at Hobart SE.

Caldwell To Participate In Abilene All-Star Contest

Geoffrey Caldwell, of Mobeetie, District 1B six man football team to play with the West in the East-West All-Star game to be played in Abilene Friday night in McMurry Stadium at 8:00.

Caldwell was high scorer in district last season with 150 points in 10 games.

He will play freshman football at West Texas State next year, and at 155 pounds, will be one of the smallest men on the football squad.

Coaches selected Caldwell for the all-star game on the strength of his exceptional speed and ability as a ball handler, as well as his sportsmanship and driving ambition for grid achievements. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Caldwell of Mobeetie.

The All-Star game is being played in connection with the Six-Man Football Coaches Association of Texas Clinic. More than 300 coaches are expected for the meeting.

Pony League All-Stars Play Hereford

The Pony League All-Stars depart today for their first game in the District Optimist playoffs, to be against Hereford there at 8 p.m. The series will be two out three, with all three games being played at Hereford if the limit is necessary.

The winner of the playoff series will travel to Abilene to participate in the Area playoffs.

Hurricane's Rating Drops To Fifth

MILWAUKEE (UP) — The National Boxing Assn. dropped Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson to No. 5 in its ratings because in losing to champion Floyd Patterson "Jackson's ability was only to absorb punishment," Fred Saddy, NBA Championship Committee chairman, said today.

Eddie Machen of California was moved up to the No. 1 contender's spot in the heavyweight division, followed by Zora Polley of Arizona and Roy Harris of Texas.

Argentine heavyweight Alex Mitteff, who vaulted from the non-rated ranks to No. 8 with a "workmanship" decision over Julio Mederos, was chosen the NBA boxer of the month for July, Saddy said.

NY's Last Hope Wanes In Keeping Giants

NEW YORK (UP) — Another hope, perhaps the last, of keeping the New York Giants here disappeared today with the announcement they definitely will not move into the Yankee Stadium.

Giants owner Horace Stoneham and Yankees owner Dan Topping revealed that they met Tuesday and Wednesday to discuss "the possibility of the Giants moving into Yankee Stadium," which had been suggested as an alternative to the Giants leaving town.

But the owners agreed that they couldn't live together in "the house that Babe Ruth built."

In a joint statement, Stoneham and Topping said they agreed "there were so many obstacles in the way of operating two clubs successfully in one park that neither club could consider such a move."

The Giants declined to comment on a prediction made Wednesday by Mayor George Christoper of San Francisco that they probably will announce a decision to move to San Francisco in about two weeks.

Putting Tourney Held Tonight

The regular weekly partnership putting tournament will be held tonight at the Pampa Country Club at 7:30.

Entries to the tourney should register prior to 7:30, however, names can be drawn before play begins.

The tournaments, held each Thursday night, are sponsored by the Ladies Golf Association.

In last week's contest Demarest Holt and Shorty Layne won the championship with W. E. Davis and Sammy Houchins runner-up. Deck Wolft and Tommy Adkins were consolation winners.

THE HOME OF GREATER VALUES

BREAK SOUND, SIGHT BARRIER—Though both blind and deaf, master mathematician Dr. Gerrit Van Der Mey, left, of the Netherlands, "listens" to a telephone conversation in Brooklyn, N.Y., where a new Braille telephone had its first U.S. demonstration. Staff Writer Rachel Fowler, right, of the New World-Telegram and Sun "talks" to the doctor, who is two blocks away at a home for the blind. The message is written on a special typewriter which is hooked up to regular phone lines. With his fingertips, the doctor receives it by feeling a set of Braille raised in Braille patterns by an electronic impulse. He replies vocally, using the headset he wears. The machine was developed in the Netherlands.

Military Leaders Advocate Europe Can Be Defended

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series by the United Press military affairs writer. The following dispatch analyzes Europe's defensive capabilities.

By CHARLES CORDRY
United Press Staff Correspondent
PARIS (UP) — Europe can be defended.

That claim admittedly is controversial and much debated in military circles in this age of nuclear weapons.

It represents the best judgment, however, of many military leaders consulted during a 6,600-mile tour of North Atlantic Treaty Organization defenses in Europe and the Mediterranean area.

Top officers at Allied headquarters here point to evidence that Russia well respects NATO's ability and intention to defend itself. Despite political and economic stresses and troubles ranging from Greek-Turkish disputes over Cyprus to the French army deployment into Africa, NATO has been 100 per cent successful militarily. It has prevented war and it has protected its territory for eight years. If the deterrent should fail and Russia should be foolish enough to start a war, NATO strategy does not envision any prolonged land campaigns fought over European terrain so far as can be told from non-secret information.

Can Prevent Enslavement
Whatever the destruction, strategists believe they can prevent the continent from being overrun and enslaved.

The aim would be for ground and air elements comprising NATO's forward shield to hold at or near the Iron Curtain until retaliatory air forces could deal crushing blows to the Soviet Union. That would not take long, according to available estimates.

Vice Adm. Charles R. Brown, U.S. 6th Fleet commander in the Mediterranean, estimated to visiting reporters that the U.S. Strategic Air Command could rain down the bulk of its punishment in something like 16 hours. The fleet, too, would get in some blows in that time, he indicated. Other officers said if the shield force held for 72 hours, Europe could, by aerial attack on enemy forces, be spared from invasion. Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme Allied commander in Europe, was questioned recently in a U.S. Senate hearing on the ability to hold.

Defenses Could Hold
"I am not talking now of carrying on a land campaign," the Air Force general said. "... If they (the Russians) start the war I think we can hold until the effect of our retaliatory force is felt ... It might take several days or weeks for most of the attacking forces to feel the full effects of our retaliation."

Norstad said Russia could not knock out all NATO's retaliatory air fields in a simultaneous attack.

The assumption is that if Russia started a war it would have to go after the Strategic Air Command first, or simultaneous with an attack on Europe. Otherwise, it would have no chance whatsoever for survival.

But if it started a smaller-scale, would-be local war in Western Europe, the aim approved by the North Atlantic Council is to use atomic weapons to the extent necessary to win.

According to Allied headquarters, NATO's greatest need today to insure against being overrun is the full complement of promised German forces. The Germans have just turned over three divisions and two more are expected this year. Their first air wing will be ready this fall, with four more next year.

Have Nike Missiles
These other reinforcements are scheduled or already being received:

—Nike anti-aircraft guided missiles will reinforce the slowly gathering air defenses of NATO this year, being assigned to both U.S. and Allied forces.

—NATO air bases still are increasing. In a year, 67 more will be added to the present 150.

—In 1959, a radar warning net will be completed from northern Norway to eastern Turkey, able to look "several hundred" miles into Communist territory and further guarantee against surprise attack.

—New supersonic interceptors will reach the U.S. Air Force in the coming year and the 6th Fleet is receiving increasing missile armament.

WASHINGTON — Robert T. Secret, acting chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, speaking for himself and other tobacco chewers, on the decline in their ranks:
"I don't think anyone in the country cares a damn if we live or die. It's a lost art."

WASHINGTON — Assistant Air Force Secretary David S. Smith on the imminent possibility of combat planes flying 2,000 miles an hour at altitudes of 75,000 feet:
"The era of fantastic air vehicles is a real and growing part of our socio-economic complex."

MILWAUKEE (UP)—Clark Lefler's bachelor party was a howling success, but his five companions each had $10 hangovers. A judge imposed the fines on the five party-goers after they raised so much whoopee in a downtown bar that the band refused to play.

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (UP)—Kidnapers had their hands full when they carted off an imported beauty from the front of a lamp shop. The 2,300-pound nude statue, a lifesize lamp base brought here from Italy, was stolen Tuesday night.
