New Tropical Storm Heads For Louisiana

'Bertha' Is Aiming For The Same Area 'Audrey' Ravaged

BY JOHN CORPORON
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW ORLEANS (UP)—A new tropical storm with winds of 65 miles per hour roared today toward Louisiana coastal lowlands which hurricane Audrey ravaged and sent residents fleeing in droves to higher ground. The storm was expected to reach hurricane strength as it moved closer to shore today. Gales of storm Bertha tossed the disabled tug "Whitman No. 5" in the rough waters of Pass A Loutre in the Mississippi Delta with possibly three men aboard. The U. S. Coast Guard sent a cutter to its aid.

Paper Reports Cage, Wade Meet Today

DALLAS (UP)—District Attorney Henry Wade plans to meet Ben Jack Cage in Mexico City today and bring him back to Texas, the Dallas Morning News said. Wade, a member of a local investigative body, and M. R. Iron, Cage's attorney, were to leave today for Mexico City, the News said, and said Cage was reported on his way there Thursday night. The News said reports from sources "outside of Dallas" the plans were to return Saturday or Sunday with the playboy promoter—charged with embezzling $600,000 from his now-defunct ICT Insurance Co.

Wade refused comment on the reported trip. He said, however, "No deals or promises have been made with Cage." The district attorney said Cage, charged by some with spending the ICT into receivership, will "come back to Dallas and testify before the grand jury."

The report followed Wade's statement Thursday he believes Cage will return to Texas within a week.

Cage flew to Havana Wednesday and immediately dropped out of sight.

Under indictments Wade earlier made the flat statement he believed Cage would return to Dallas by Aug. 16. He refused to comment on reports he made a deal with Cage to return.

The promoter, who has been in South America most of the time since his ICT crumbled, is under two indictments from a Dallas grand jury. He is accused of embezzling $500,000 from ICT to buy insurance stock without company authority and theft and embezzlement of another $100,000.

Riding Club Fetes Girls In Rodeo

The Top o' Texas Girls Riding Club was host for a breakfast and swim for the girls entered in the Cowgirl Sponsor Contest this morning at the Pampa Country Club.

The riding club entertained rodeo spectators last night with the Texas Star square dance on their horses. Flag bearers for the routine on horses were Norene Urban, who carried the girl's riding club flag in first, and Alice Coombs, Barbara Epps, Zip Hall, and Linda Arey.

Couples in the square dance were JoAnn Mayo, Leatrice Urban, Norma Jean Dillman, Janice Dillman, Betty Osborne, Jean Hopkins, Linda Kay Andis, and Bobbie Lee Andis, Russell Kennedy called.

Mrs. Elmer Hopkins is wagon boss for the group; Mrs. Bob Andis and Mrs. Jake Osborne, trail scouts; Buck Hines, George Dillman, Clayton Mathis and Joe Looper, horse wranglers.

The group will perform again tomorrow night at the rodeo grounds.

FBI Agents Try Deciphering Notes Found In Spy's Room

NEW YORK (UP)—Thirty FBI agents today tried to decipher a series of coded messages and cryptic notes found in the hotel room and studio of master Soviet spy Col. Rudolf Trappenberg, who was necessary to give Abel time to obtain counsel. If convicted, he could receive the death penalty under the so-called Rosenberg espionage law.

"Abel, a 30-year veteran of Soviet intelligence, was to be arraigned today in Brooklyn federal court on a charge of masterminding a spy network that transmitted American defense secrets to Russia. Accompanied by two federal marshals, the mild-mannered Russian colonel arrived at Newark Airport late Thursday night by plane from Houston, Tex. He was spirited to the federal detention center here.

Abel was reported in government custody at an undisclosed hideaway. He is expected to be the key witness at Abel's trial, probably in October.

Authorities indicated the long delay was necessary to give Abel time to obtain counsel. If convicted, he could receive the death penalty under the so-called Rosenberg espionage law.

Government investigators doubted that the 55-year-old Russian secret police official, who masqueraded for nine years as a down-and-out artist-photographer, would talk. But they anticipated incriminating testimony from his chief aide, Soviet Lt. Col. Reino Haynanen, who defected to the West after years as a Russian spy. ### Asks GOP Help Rayburn Backs 'Rights' Bill

By BETTY PRYOR
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—Speaker Rayburn threw his support today to the Senate's amended civil rights bill. He called on Republican leaders to help Democrats pass it.

Dixie Democrats in the House, who heretofore has kept silent on the hot civil rights issue, said he will ask the House to concur in changes made by the Senate in measure passed earlier by the House.

Everything Okay For Siren Test

The wall at 5:30 this afternoon will be the test of the new storm siren.

Sheriff Rufus Jordan, Civil Defense coordinator for Gray County, told The News this morning that everything was ready for the test and that the weather should be clear enough to blow the siren.

He reported that the test will be made at 5:30 and will last for approximately two minutes. During the test, officers of the police department and sheriff's office will be stationed at various points throughout town and will report the range of the sound of the siren.

The sheriff stated that the only thing that will stop the test this afternoon would be a large group of thunderclouds moving into the area at the last minute. "We do not want to make the test when there is a danger of a storm," he stated.

The siren, which is mounted on top of the Hughes building, is reported to have a range of five miles and the test today is to determine if all residents of Pampa will be able to hear the wall.

Pampans are urged to call The News, phone MO 4-2525, and report if the siren could be heard at their residence.

RUBY NANCE... pigeon-fancier, too

No Single Music Type For Nance

By GWEN T. STARK
Pampa News Staff Writer
"Dance, Show, Concert, Rodeo." This is the phrase which describes Ruby Nance's World Chameleon music-making himself.

Ruby Nance is a man who not only likes all types of music, but plays them.

"Rodeo is just one type of the band's music," Nance stated. "It is, however, my favorite kind. I get to mix with the people so much more."

Nance not only has a rodeo band, but a 30-piece concert group that has played for such shows as "The Sonny Henne Ice Show," "South Pacific," "Kiss Me Kate," "Oklahoma," and many others in New York City. Being a resident of Oklahoma City since he was a small child, he has played "Oklahoma" 17 times.

"They really accepted 'Oklahoma' for their state song by hearing me play it so much," he said.

Nance went on to tell that he started his colorful 30-year career by blowing a scrap of newspaper off his lips.

"I've only had one trumpet lesson in my life, if you could call it one," Nance said. "It was an old violin teacher who was supposed to know a little about horns that I went to. He just tore off a piece of paper, struck it on my lips and said 'blow it off,' and I did."

"I never went back to the teacher," Nance laughed, "but I kept right on playing. 'I really think the violin teacher used a spelling book to teach me out of that day."

"My parents bought me the $8.45 trumpet I used to divert my interest from pigeons," Nance confessed. "I always had a fascination for them (pigeons) and spent a lot of time building pigeon houses as a boy. Now, after these many years, I've become interested in them again."

Nance said that he raises many pigeons now at his home in Oklahoma City.

"When we drive up in the bus, they come flying in the windows and land all over me," he said. "They even eat out of my hand."

With a 12 piece pop band, Nance also plays popular music.

"I think I'd go crazy if I had to play one type of music or do the same thing all day long every day," he stated. "I really enjoy the variety."

Nance seemed to be very happy and contented with his type of work, and the traveling he does. "We're going swimming this afternoon. They're really a swell bunch of guys."

Nance stated that he had a "wonderful" wife and three "fine youngsters. I'm very happy about them all," he said.

The tall, tanned musician contributes his success to having a "nice clean band," but there's lots of talent in there too.

More Testimony In Probe Of Rackets

By HERBERT FOSTER
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate Rackets Committee called for testimony today from an official of the union which Johnny Dippo became reputed Kingpin of New York's labor racketeers.

The committee sent the tight-lipped Dippo back to the jail from which it borrowed him, after he invoked the Fifth Amendment about 140 times, and tabbed as its next witness Earl Heaton, outgoing president of the Allied Industrial Workers of America. The group is a catch-all outfit formerly known as the AFL United Auto Workers.

The committee charged that Dippo roosted his racketeers in this union's locals, then transferred them into seven membership "paper locals" of the Teamsters Union in order to help his friend James R. Hoffa, teamster vice president.

win control of the Teamsters organization in New York.

Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said the committee would ask Heaton about a $18,000 check made out to Dippo, signed by Anthony Doria, secretary treasurer of the UAW-AFL. This check was dated in December, 1955, while Dippo was the union's New York boss.

The counsel said the committee also was curious about $50,000 which the union paid Doria when he retired as secretary-treasurer early this year.

Kennedy said Heaton did not run for re-election when the Allied Industrial Workers elected a new president Thursday. He said Heaton agreed to step down after "pressure was brought on him," presumably from the AFL-CIO which has ordered its affiliate to clean house.

Two Engines Conked Out

Pilot Refuses Credit For Heroic Flight To Hawaii

By ROBERT C. MILLER
United Press Staff Correspondent
HILO, Hawaii (UP)—A handsome pilot refused today to take any personal credit for nursing his crippled plane more than 1,000 miles over the choppy Pacific to a safe landing with 87 persons aboard.

Instead, Maj. Samuel Tyson, 37, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, and Vavaville, Calif., insisted his passengers, including 10 women, deserved all the praise for their determination to stay calm.

"They suffered untold miseries and discomforts with no complaint," Tyson said after landing his four-engine Boeing C97 at Hilo's Lyman Airport Wednesday on its two starboard engines.

"They watched their baggage being thrown overboard and they were fully aware of the situation—and they remained calm," he said.

same wing and putting it out of commission.

Gives Inspiring Exhibition
Tyson himself gave an inspiring exhibition of courage and nerve. But the strain of holding his aircraft aloft for nearly six hours on only two engines told on him.

"I snapped my watchband straining at the wheel and I was soaked with sweat when we finally landed," he said.

Tyson had 30 minutes of gas remaining in his tanks—enough for three more passes at the airfield had he failed in his initial attempt to land.

Air Force officers said Tyson's decision to drop his plane to altitudes ranging between 50 and 100 feet was what enabled him to make land. By dropping so low, he picked up a 20-knot tailwind that spelled the difference between a safe landing and a ditching on empty tanks.

First Rodeo Go-Round Over; Winners Named

By BILL NEAL
Pampa News Staff Writer

Stop watches clicked off faster roping lines and bronc riding spurs began to flash last night at the Top o' Texas rodeo as the more than 300 entrants settled down to the business of splitting up $5,000 plus in prize money.

An enthusiastic crowd of approximately 5,500 saw competition stiffen as the show turned the mid-point last night and started down the home stretch.

At the end of the first "go-round," a slender Abilene cowboy, Jack Newton, had monopolized the honors in calf roping, double mugging and the cutting horse contest.

Newton, riding "Peco Stampede" owned by Mrs. G. K. Rhodes, is currently on top in the cutting horse contest and is tied for second in the calf roping while holding down the fourth slot in double mugging.

In the bulldogging, Eldon Teague of Elk City, Okla., was high man for the first "go-round" with his lightning throw of 4.7 seconds. Bud Coffee of Morse stood second with 7.4; Walt Krier of Ashland, a close third with 7.5, and Bobby Newsome of Lefors, fourth with 8 seconds flat.

At the end of the first "go-round" in the double mugging contest, Jimmie Bird of Post was first with 13.5, John McMardie second with 14.3, Lee Tugman third with 16.1 and Jack Newton of Abilene fourth with 16.9.

In the bull riding, Delbert Hadaway and "Booger" Townsend were tied for first with 75.5 points. In second place was Bruce Reeves with 74.5 while Bobby Wedeking of Anson was third with 74 points. Dennis Hill ranked third with 73 points.

The bareback bronc riding contest was extremely close with two cowboys tied for each of the top four positions. Duke Holland and David Rushing were seated in first place with 74.5 points. Jim Sealy and Gerry Eggleston were in second with 74. Jimmie Moore and Delbert Hadaway were third with 73.5 while Don Workman and Brad Long rounded out the top four places with 73 points each.

Bob Palavador of Martin scooped first prize money for the first "go-round" in the calf roping contest with his speedy 11.5 catch. Jackie Newton of Abilene and Johnnie Johnson tied for second, catching their calves in 12.7 seconds each. Another tie developed in the third spot with Rufus Hart and Kennie Wood sacking up their Brahams in 13.2 seconds. It was the same story in the fourth peg as W. T. Kirk and Harvey Brothers caught in 14 seconds.

The cowgirl barrel race also saw some hot competition. Jo Ann Mayo finally emerged victor by blazing around the barrels in 15.3 on "Rondo." Close behind with a 15.7 second circle was Betty Osborne of Pampa. Sis Newsom of Amarillo and Mildred Farris of Iowa Park made the dash in 15.9 seconds, tie for third place.

In the cutting horse contest last night, Jack Newton rode "Peco Stampede" into first place taking 146 points. Willard Davis, riding "Slats," and Matlock Rose, riding "Cactus Breeze," tied for second with 145 points. "Slats" is owned by George Pardi and "Cactus Breeze" is owned by the Phillips Ranch.

Of the 17 horses entered in the cutting horse contest, the bottom five were trimmed out in preliminary competition Wednesday morning. Then of the 12 horses (See RODEO, Page 3)

Truck Load Catches On Underpass

Trying to take a truck, with a load measuring 14 feet from the ground, under the Barnes street underpass, with a clearance of 13 feet and 10 inches, resulted in the only accident reported to the police department during the 24 hours.

Investigating officers reported that the accident occurred at 9:45 this morning as a 1946 Dart truck and trailer, driven by Homer M. Weems, 728 E. Campbell, attempted to go under the underpass. The truck, owned by Spicknall Enterprise-Drilling and Exploration, Inc., La Belle, Mo., was traveling north at the time.

A doghouse and other oilfield equipment was loaded on the trailer and the extra height of the doghouse caught the bottom part of the underpass, the officers reported. The underpass angles across the street and caused the doghouse to fall from the trailer and land in the southbound lane of traffic.

Damages to the doghouse were estimated at $50 and the curb and street were damaged with the estimated cost of repair listed at $15. No report was available on the amount of damage to the underpass.

Bridge Is Now Open To Traffic

Jack McDowell, maintenance foreman for the State Highway Department, announced that the McCrellan Creek bridge on Highway 273, north of McLean, was opened to through traffic at 2:35 p.m. yesterday.

McDowell said that the job isn't completed but that traffic can go through. Repairing is still being done on the washout caused by rains last week end.

Teenage Crime In New York Comes In Regular Spurts

By FREDERICK M. WINSHIP

NEW YORK (UP)—New York's police, the City Youth Board and a host of official agencies are ganging up on juvenile crime, but lack of money and lack of cooperation on the part of parents may doom the clean-up campaign. Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy has been begging City Hall for appropriations for 5,000 additional, fully trained policemen. He has had to settle for a night patrol of 536 rookie cops with only five weeks of training. They are permitted to carry service revolvers and night sticks. Despite the rookie reinforcement, criminals continued their war against society Wednesday. From the time the rookie patrol went on duty at 6 p. m. Tuesday until 8 a. m. Wednesday there were 53 arrests. A 16-year-old boy was arrested for burglary and four youths, ranging in age from 15 to 17 years, were arrested as car thieves.

None of the arrests was made by a rookie, but officials cast no blame on the fledgling officers. "It's too early and too soon to evaluate the effectiveness of assigning the rookies to patrol," Acting Police Commissioner James R. Kennedy said.

The City Youth Board, which gets $1,800,000 from the state, has pleaded for more money so workers could be assigned to all 110 known "fighting" teen-age gangs instead of the 60 now covered by the board's program. Now it has had to deploy its entire gang staff to aid police in curbing the present reign of terror.

School officials and social workers consider the wayward adolescent the natural product of heartless, unconscionable parents who offer neither love nor recognition to their unwanted children. The gang offers a sense of belonging and praise for achievement. Movies, television, magazines, and comic books often portray delinquency—especially among adults—as socially acceptable.

America already spends 25 to 30 billion dollars a year in the war against crime. Nobody seems to know the answer. The Salvation Army wants permission to work with the police in reforming hoodlums. Evangelist Billy Graham has proposed educational youth camps and ranches where teenagers can "sound off" in constructive ways.

If New York follows the pattern of the past, the current crime

Advert. "wave" will taper off and the city will be lulled into a false sense of security for another six months or a year. Then a series of murders or gang wars will bring the problem to the surface again, and again there will be talk of "getting to the roots."

An official recently suggested that nothing will really be accomplished until it is unsafe to walk on Park Avenue after sunset.

Texas Cotton Crop Increase Is Expected

AUSTIN (UP)—The U. S. Department of Agriculture today estimated Texas' 1957 cotton crop at 3,775,000 bales, up 4 per cent from last year's production. The forecast compares with the 1946-55 average of 3,742,000 bales. "The highest yield since 1866 is expected from a relatively low acreage," the USDA said.

Yield per acre prospects continued to reflect the effects of growing cotton "on the best land, use of more and higher analysis fertilizers, and other improved cultural practices," the report said.

The prospective yield of 306 pounds harvested in 1955 and 1956. The USDA said development of irrigated crops in the West and Northwest was "especially favorable" during July. However, as the month ended, considerable acreage of dryland cotton in the Plains country and eastward needed moisture for continued development.

Insect infestations required control weather has "generally favored stant" checking. But hot, open effective control measures except in the lower valley," the USDA said.

Insects reduced the lower valley crop and failure to receive follow-up rains lowered prospects in other southern areas, the report said.

However, lower valley and Coastal Bend yields were described as "very good."

A record-large crop was indicated for the Trans-Pecos. Production of American-Egyptian cotton, grown only in that district, was placed at 30,000 bales, compared with 18,000 produced last year.

MISSING LINK FOUND LONDON (UP)—Violet Meshor, 17, who works in a sausage factory, got her gold wristwatch back Thursday. The watch was found in breakfast sausage last week by a clerk in a London area grocery store.

BENTON HARBOR, Mich. (UP)—Police are looking for a burglar with a coupon book who broke into an auto parts shop, skipped the cash box and extensive tools, and stole 25,000 trading stamps.

Decrease In U. S. Cotton Crop Seen

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Agriculture Department today estimated the 1957 cotton crop at 11,897,000 bales, down 11 per cent from last year's harvest. The first cotton production estimate of the year compares with 13,310,000 bales last year and the 10-year average output of 13,689,000 bales.

Although this year's estimate is below last year's output, there is no danger of a cotton shortage in the United States. There is a carryover of about 11,400,000 bales. The carryover, plus estimated 1957 production, will meet consumption demands, both foreign and domestic, and leave a large surplus.

The department estimated cotton yields will average 415 pounds of lint per acre on the 13,723,000 acres expected to be harvested. Last year's yields averaged 400 pounds an acre. The 10-year average yields were 300 pounds.

The 13,723,000 acres estimated for harvest were based on the acres in cultivation July 1 minus the 10-year average abandonment for natural causes.

The condition of the crop on Aug. 1 was estimated at 81 per cent of normal, compared with 83 per cent on Aug. 1 last year and a 10-year average Aug. 1 condition of 78 per cent.

Following is the estimated cotton production, in bales, for major producing states, compared with 1956 harvests:

Table with 2 columns: State, 1956 Crop, 1957 Crop. Includes Tennessee, Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, California, and Other states.

Virginia, Florida, Illinois, Kentucky, Kansas, Nevada.

Included in today's estimated production was a 95,500 bale crop of extra-long staple American-Egyptian cotton. Last year, farmers produced 50,300 bales of American-Egyptian cotton. This cotton is grown in Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and California.

A Tour Recommended For Queen During Visit To US

By GAY PAULEY

United Press Staff Correspondent NEW YORK (UP)—The word is out that Queen Elizabeth II wants to see the view from the Empire State Bldg. and circle Manhattan Island by boat on her visit here Oct. 21.

Well, Your Majesty, these are pleasant sights indeed for a tourist. But to get to know us Americans, go West, young Queen. Skip New York. Expand your study, bring the two kids as well as Philip, and let's get acquainted coast to coast.

The view from Pikes Peak is more spectacular than the one from the Empire State Bldg. anyway. You ought to see Boulder Dam, the Grand Canyon, a sunset on the Golden Gate Bridge, Yosemite Park, and the red and gold of New England's forests in October.

Try to take in Niagara Falls again. You caught them the last time you were on this continent when you were a princess. But it was from the Canadian side.

The ticker tape parade up Broadway which they've planned for you is a great honor. But you mustn't miss a football game at South Bend, Ind. Unfortunately it'll be too late for a baseball game and hot dogs at the ball park.

To know the real us, you should visit an automut, shop in a supermarket, dig clams and attend a clam bake on Cape Cod.

Sample apple pie in Washington, fish for trout in Colorado or for catfish along the Mississippi, listen to jazz on Bourbon Street in New Orleans.

Attend a picnic or a backyard barbecue. Visit Disneyland in California, and a rodeo in Cheyenne (the kids will love both).

Since you're a thoroughbred fan, you must see the horse farms in the Kentucky bluegrass. While you're there, get someone to stage a burgeo feast for you.

Visit an automobile plant in Detroit, see "Hazel" and "Nancy," the famous steel blast furnaces at Morrisville, Pa., visit an oil well in the Southwest.

Sample pecan pie and fried chicken in any southern state, taste chili in Texas, visit the gaming tables at Las Vegas. (If you don't gamble, it's still a sight to see.)

More Suggestions Ski at Sun Valley, go antiquing in New England, and visit Independence Hall in Philadelphia to see the document which officially proclaimed our freedom from some of your predecessors several years ago.

You mustn't miss Chinatown, and Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco and the redwoods of California. Eat a steak in Chicago, pumpkin pie in any Midwestern state, see a granary in the corn and wheat belt, visit a dairy farm in Wisconsin. Don't miss the moon over Miami, or a chance to sample cold beer in St. Louis. Go on a shopping tour of any main street in America.

And to appreciate a traffic jam the likes of which you haven't seen since London at your coronation, spend a day on a Connecticut Jamestown, Va., and New York, along the Merritt Parkway at around 7 p.m. on a Sunday evening.

In other words, Your Majesty, don't let your advisers limit your trip to a few days in Washington, beach and then head for New York. For already, one observer — taking a look at the brief tour they've planned — has decided, "There are more angriophobes in Devon than in Virginia."

Jayne Mansfield Takes Congressmen By Storm

By PATRICIA WIGGINS

United Press Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON (UP) — Congress goes all right with atoms, budgets and civil rights. But when it comes to a curvaceous blonde, the greatest deliberative body in the world is tongue-tied.

At least that's what happened Tuesday when actress Jayne Mansfield showed up in the U. S. Capitol with her husky small voice, platinum hair falling over her eyes and her famous 40-18-35 figure displayed to advantage in a tight blue sweater and pink skirt. (The figures are inches around the bust, waist and hips, in that order.)

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson blushed and stammered. Seventy-five-year-old House speaker Sam Rayburn grinned like a schoolboy. Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) offered her a coonskin cap. Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) left the field in confusion when she called him "cute." Talkative Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R - S.D.) chewed on his pipe in silent and contemplative appreciation.

Observers agreed that in terms of her effect on the intrepid lawmakers it was like Grant taking Richmond. Only Miss Mansfield led her attack in teetering white sequin-trimmed spike-heeled shoes that required publicity agents at each elbow to help her maneuver down the marble corridors.

On an alleged "sightseeing" trip — her first here — Miss Mansfield came to town under the sponsorship of the tourist-conscious Greater National Capital Committee and publicity-conscious 20th Century-Fox Film Corp. Not quite coincidentally, her new movie, "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" opens here next week.

Actual sightseeing seemed unimportant as an air-conditioned bus hurried her and her press agents past most Washington landmarks for a first stop at the Lincoln Memorial. The statue of the great emancipator was deserted by tourists who flocked to watch the full-bosomed Jayne, breathe deeply and pose on the marble steps holding a tiny (borrowed) Mexican chihuahua dog.

"Lucky dog," murmured its owner, Joseph Sellers from Columbus, Ga.

At the capitol, here only other tourist stop, Texas-raised and educated Miss Mansfield teetered first into Johnson's office. She listened brightly as the lanky Texan stammered words of welcome ending with a remark that "Texans always do well."

"That's right," replied Jayne softly, "with you representing them."

When she added "That's a pretty shirt and tie you're wearing," Johnson blushed, smiled and replied, "Thank you, ma'am." He recovered enough to introduce his 10-year-old daughter Lucy, who promptly hid her head against her father's side.

In the office of the usually brusque Rayburn, the dignified speaker gallantly led Jayne to a chair by his desk. She said she had heard (a second earlier when her agent told her) that he had been speaker longer than anybody.

"Mr. Sam" beamed. "Here, where is the Texas delegation? Get 'em all in here," he barked. As 18 of the 23 House members from Texas filed in, Rayburn posed grinning with Jayne and beamed approvingly as she signed autographs.

At Last! This Woman Doesn't Want To Be Rated 'An Equal'

By VERNON SCOTT
United Press Hollywood Writer
HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 8 (UP)—A blonde Georgia peach, who began her movie career a few months ago by working in three pictures simultaneously, threatens to crank up the Civil War all over again among the petticoat brigade.
She's Joanna Moore, a green-eyed rebel who says Yankee women have lost the battle of the sexes.
"Northern girls have been fighting for equal rights for women all these years," Joanna declared in a rich Magnolia accent. "And it's made them the most frustrated females in the world."
"Women were born to play a subordinate role in life—the way Japanese girls do. I don't want to compete with men, nor should any girl in her right mind. Southern girls know this instinctively."
A native of Americas, Ga., the well-rounded newcomer is trying to undo the work of the suffragettes and latter-day women's rights.

Cameron, where more than 500 persons died before Audrey's onslaught last June 27, or at Galveston, Tex., or somewhere in between them.
This prediction was unofficial. Weather Bureau officials, wise to the many unforeseeable shifts in a tropical storm's behavior, refused to pinpoint any mainland "target."
Orders Hurricane Watch
Instead, the Weather Bureau ordered a "hurricane watch" along the Louisiana and upper Texas coasts.
Sheriff O. B. Carter said residents of the Louisiana lowland areas began a swift, orderly retreat that was expected to empty most of the small fishing towns dotting the area.
"Everyone is leaving," he said. "We didn't have to urge too much. When we announced a new storm you could see the understanding written on their faces."
The sheriff and several others remained behind in Cameron's court house, one of the few buildings that withstood Audrey's tidal wave, to keep the town's power generator running.
Refugees streamed out of Golden Meadow, which lies six inches below sea level about 20 miles north of the Gulf shore. More than 200 men, women and children fled in trucks and cars.
Louis Rodriguez, a newsmen from Larose, said the people were afraid "it will be Cameron all over again."

RAYBURN

amendment limiting the jury trial amendment or to concur in a feature to voting cases.
As the amendment now stands, it would apply to any federal criminal contempt case.
Rayburn declined at this time to speculate on what will happen if the Republicans do not cooperate in the rules committee with supporters of the measure.
Presumably in that event he will seek to send the differing House and Senate bills to a conference committee for drafting of a compromise version.
Possible Blockade
Northern Democrats hope to have this as another source of delay and possibly of a blockade that could prevent the bill's passage this year.
"If the Republicans want a bill they will give us some of their votes on the Rules Committee," Rayburn said.
For himself, the speaker endorsed the bill as amended by the Senate, saying the Senate had stricken from it proposals injected by the administration that have no bearing on its main purpose: The guarantee of the right to vote.
Rayburn supported the Senate's decision to guarantee a trial by jury for officials charged with criminal contempt for violating court orders.
He said trial by jury is traditional for persons accused of criminal offenses, and he saw no reason why that right should be denied to contempt cases under this bill.
Partial Clarification
Rayburn's long-awaited pronouncement only partially clarified the complex parliamentary situation confronting the House.
He left unanswered the question of timing. He declined to say when a move would be made to get Rules Committee action. He also declined to speculate on what will be done if the committee does not act, as seems likely to many House members.
The Rules group has eight Democrats in addition to its four Republicans. With its heavy Democratic majority, it is presumed to act as an agent for the House leadership.
Actually, on some issues such as this one, it does not do so.
Its chairman is Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va.), an ardent opponent of the civil rights bill, who is pledged to delay it in any way possible. Another Democratic member is Rep. William M. Colmer (Miss.) who is equally adamant against the civil rights bill.
The Indecisive Veto
President Eisenhower has indicated he may veto the bill unless the jury trial proviso is removed, or at least limited to the voting rights section of the bill. House Republicans are ready to battle for such changes.
House GOP Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. (Mass.) told newsmen that if Congress passes an unsatisfactory bill, he is prepared to recommend that Eisenhower veto the measure and call Congress back in the fall to tackle the issue again.

2nd Tourist Couple Is 'Arrested'

Mr. and Mrs. Francis H. Schramm of Fort Wayne, Ind., were the lucky couple to be named Pampa's "tourists of the day," yesterday.
The couple was returning from Los Angeles, Calif., to Fort Wayne where Schramm is employed by the schools.
"What'd I do, buddy?" was Schramm's bewildered query when local officers stopped the Schramm car on highway 60 yesterday.
"I knew I wasn't speeding, and I couldn't figure why they were stopping me," Schramm said.
Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rose and Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Trimble acted as hosts to the Indiana couple while they were here.
The couple was taken to the Ranchhouse motel last night, received flowers from Parker's Blossom Shop and had their car serviced by Kitchen's Gulf station. They were treated to dinner at the Pampa Hotel.
Last night, the Schramms were guests of the Top o' Texas rodeo. Mrs. Schramm had never seen a rodeo before.
Sponsored by the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, the "tourist of the day" program is being held for four days during rodeo week. Another couple was honored Wednesday and a couple will be stopped today, Saturday will end the program.

Maguire Heads Legion Post

J. B. Maguire Jr. was elected to succeed Lester Jones as commander of the Pampa American Legion. Francis Schwind was chosen to serve along with Maguire as vice commander for the new term.
Other officers will be installed on Sept. 12, when another meeting of the Legion is scheduled.
Retiring commander Jones stated that the policies of the American Legion, pending the installation set for Sept. 12, will be as determined by the new commander.

RODEO

left, four work each of the first three nights of the rodeo. At the final performance Saturday night, the top five horses will work to determine the champion. After the first two shows, "Poco Stampede" is leading with 146 points.
Excellent between events entertainment was furnished by an outstanding array of acts. Leading these was Leon McAuliffe and the Cimarron boys from Tulsa, Okla., who rumbled into the arena on a flat-bed truck and proceeded to "cut down" on several western swing numbers.
Hubert Castle left the crowd gasping by accomplishing a backward somersault through a hoop—all done on a tight wire.
The Top o' Texas Girls Riding Club did a mounted quadrille to square dance calls. Ruby Nance and his rodeo band played throughout the show.
Pampa Jaycees presented Miss Pampa, Johnnie Lee Smith, plus two runners-up, Misses Mary Kennedy and Peggy O'Neal, and the "outstanding young farmer," Bill Stockstill, during a break last night.
Nat Fleming, popular rodeo announcer and TV personality from Wichita Falls, is doing the announcing.
Both of the remaining shows, tonight, and Saturday, will begin at 8. It has been necessary because of the large number of entries to have "after-show" competition. Those who wish may remain after the regular performance is over and watch.
Tickets, on sale at the rodeo office in the lobby of Pampa Hotel or at the gate, are $2 for box seats, $1.75 for reserve seats, $1.25 for general admission and 75 cents for children.
Bob Andis is president of the Top o' Texas Rodeo Association, and Goat Mayo of Petrolia is rodeo producer. Mayo has furnished stock and produced this show each year since its beginning.

Guard Units Work Hard At Fort Sill

Things got off to a flying start for the 474th Field Artillery Battalion as soon as it arrived at Ft. Sill Sunday, with a briefing by Brigadier General John L. Thompson, XLI Corps Commander, of Houston.
General Thompson has been a Pampa visitor many times as he visits the three National Guard Units with Pampa as their home station, Headquarters Battery, Service Battery and the Medical Detachment, all of the 474th Field Artillery Battalion.
Sunday afternoon was spent by the officers and men of the units in attendance in preparation for field training during the following days of camp. Monday, classes got underway, and on Tuesday, the battalion went to the field as they will every day during the camp period.
The officers and men of the 474th FA Bn., under the command of Lt. Col. Dock A. Stuart of Pampa, will have an opportunity to work with the 155mm Howitzer, along with much of the other equipment which is now inherent to the artillery. Ft. Sill is the artillery and guided missile center of the world, located in the Wichita Mountains near Lawton, Okla.
Tuesday evening all of the units in attendance took part in a practice retreat and review, and the formal parade was held Wednesday afternoon. At five o'clock, more than 800 officers and men took part in the formal review, at Lucas Field, a most impressive ceremony.
On Wednesday night and Thursday night, the officers of all of the Guard units here, 47th FA Bn., 802nd FA Bn. of New Mexico, 8th FA Group and XLI Corps Artillery Headquarters, attended a two-hour class in civil disturbances and martial law held in beautiful, air conditioned Snow Hall, not far from where, not many years ago, Geronimo, the famous Apache, was held prisoner by the army in the Ft. Sill Stockade, a building which still stands, and is used today as an artillery museum.

Experts Meet Today On Tax Cut In 1958

WASHINGTON (UP)—House Democratic leaders secretly summoned their tax experts to a huddle today to lay plans for a possible tax-cutting drive next year.
Advance signs indicated the Democrats will decide to hold extensive hearings on tax revision soon after Congress returns next January for its election-year session.
The unannounced afternoon huddle was called by Speaker Sam Rayburn (D - Tex) who has already ruled out a tax cut this year.
In addition to House Democratic Leader John W. McCormack (Mass) all the 15 Democrats on the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee were summoned to the meeting.
It was at a similar meeting that the same 17 Democrats decided to launch the abortive Democratic drive for a 20-a-persons income-tax-cut-in-1958. The legislation was quickly passed in the House without committee hearings but killed in the Senate.

Fritch Resident Commits Suicide

FRITCH, Tex. (UP)—George W. Gibbs, 57, a field superintendent of the Natural Gas Pipeline Co. of America killed himself yesterday.
Gibbs sent his wife out for a newspaper and while she was gone shot himself.
A verdict of suicide was ruled by coroner J. D. Miller.

Welcome to Pampa

Each day brings new families into this Top of Texas city. The News takes this opportunity to extend its welcome to these families with the wish that they will quickly feel "at home."

Liberal, Kan., is the former home of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Hutto, who have just recently moved here and are opening a drapery shop in their home at 1915 Williston. Mr. and Mrs. Hutto have no children at home, but they have a daughter, Mrs. O. O. Westbrook, who lives just south of the city; three sons who live in Lubock, Grand Junction, Colo., and Oakland City, Calif., and a younger daughter, who resides in Shawnee, Okla. When asked about their hobbies, Mr. Hutto said that they had been too busy preparing for the opening of their drapery shop to spend time with their hobbies. He is a retired Baptist minister, who formerly had pastorates in Liberal, Elk City, Walters, Seminole, Okla., and Wichita, Kan.

The light of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Conley's eyes these days is their 7 1/2 month-old adopted daughter, Jane. The Conley's moved here around the middle of July from Minneapolis, Kan., and are living at 400 N. Somerville, Apt. 12. They attend the Presbyterian Church and list among their favorite hobbies, playing bridge. Mr. Conley is chief inspector on the gas line that is being brought from Wise County to Fritch by the Natural Gas Pipeline Co. of America.

Water-skiing is one of the favorite hobbies of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Conner, who are newcomers to Pampa from Berger and are living at 1121 Stackweather. The Conners moved here around July 20 with their young son, David. They expressed a preference for the Christian Church. Mr. Conner is a field salesman with Continental Emaco Supply Co.

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Wilks are new residents in town from Sweetwater, where they lived for little over a year. Their former home is in Abilene, where they both attended college and met. They have one son, Jimmy, 2 1/2, and are expecting another "present" around Christmas-time. Mr. and Mrs. Wilks are Methodist and are, at present, living at 923 S. Hobart. While in Sweetwater, he was a TV station manager and is now manager and part-owner of radio station KPAT.

In their first move away from their hometown, Houston, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Morgan and children, Wayne Derrick, 10, and Linda Louise, 9, are now living at 1130 S. Christy. Mr. Morgan is a division electronic technician with Haliburton Oil Well Cementing Co. The family attends the Catholic Church. They enjoy all out-door activities, especially hunting and fishing. Wayne has a gun and knives collection, while his sister, Linda has a doll collection.

One of the first of the Franks' families to be welcomed by this column are Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Grider and Dennis, 6, who are residing at 2301 Rosewood. Mr. Grider, who is in the employ of Franks' Division of Cabot, are former residents of Tulsa, Okla. They enjoy out-door sports and are members of the Church of Christ.

(Editor's Note: Your editor would like to have the names of newcomers to Pampa. If you have a new neighbor, will you please let us know about it so that we may welcome them through this column?)

COOK'S NOOK

Hot Chicken, Cold Drinks Make Tasty Picnic Fare

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

We have licked the good food on a picnic problem.

The new duffel cooler bags make it easy to carry hot food in one and cold in the other.

Hot and Cold Picnic Menu: (In smaller duffel cooler for hot food) — hot barbecued whole chickens. (In larger duffel cooler for cold food) — deviled eggs, whole ripe tomatoes, potato salad, cold carbonated drinks, chilled whole fruit, butter and rolls.

BARBECUED WHOLE CHICKENS (6 servings)
Three broiler-fryer chickens, whole, 2 to 2 1/2 pounds each, 2 teaspoons onion salt, 2 teaspoons dry mustard, 1/2 teaspoon ground pepper, 1/2 teaspoon hot pepper sauce, 1/4 cup Worcestershire sauce, 2 cans (4 ounces each) tomato paste, 2 1/2 cup vinegar, 1/4 cup salt.

ad oil, 2 cups chicken broth or water.

Hook wing tips behind shoulder joints onto back to expose thick breast meat to heat. Tie wings and any neck skin in place. Tie drumsticks to tail. Run spit lengthwise through body cavities. Place spit on rotisserie so that chickens are 9 to 12 inches from heat.

Meanwhile, prepare barbecue sauce. Mix remaining ingredients and heat to boiling. When chickens are almost fork-tender (1 1/2 to 2 hours), brush well with the barbecue sauce. Sauce may also be put inside chickens for added flavor. Brush occasionally with sauce until chickens are done. Serve hot with remaining sauce.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Barbecued whole chickens, large hot buttered rolls, corn-on-cob, whole tomatoes, blackberry turnovers, coffee, tea, milk, carbonated beverages.

GOOD EATING WITH PORK
Hot, smoky slices of picnic shoulder and crisp corn fritters make a perfect treat for a family dinner. A picnic is prepared the same way as a ham... roasted in a 300 degree F. oven allowing 30 to 35 minutes per pound for cooking. Leftover picnic shoulder slices are always good for sandwiches or casserole dishes.

CASSEROLE NEWS
Instead of having the usual hot dogs and frankfurters at a picnic outing, plan on serving a casserole dish. They're so easily transported. What to serve? Try preparing a meat ball and spaghetti casserole. It's sure to whet appetites. Spanish rice and frankfurters is always a welcomed hot dish too.

Gardening is the favorite summer hobby of many women. It's relaxing, rewarding and just plain fun. But it can be rough on the gardener unless she takes measures to protect herself from sun, chemicals and soil. This gardener (left) wears a cotton blouse and patch-pocketed denim skirt as she uses spray. She wears gloves to protect her hands. Boots (center) can be worn over shoes or socks. Soles and sides are waterproof fabrics, can be wiped off with a sudsy sponge and rinsed with a garden hose when chores are finished. Washable denim apron (right) matches boots, has knee guards attached to protect knees while you dig in the dirt. Altogether, it's simple for a gardener to stay pretty while she uses a green thumb.

If Blooms Threaten Garden's Beauty Outsmart Sun, Dirt With Precautions

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

With the increasing exodus from the city to country and suburban living, gardening has become a very popular hobby.

The wise gardener with naturally choose the sunniest spot available near the house in which to do planting. So it is vitally important that she protect herself against the hours she will spend in the bright sunlight.

A good lotion that will screen the rays of the sun is a must if she wants to indulge in her hobby and still preserve her good looks. Blisters and scaly, peeling skin are most unattractive. Serious damage often can result from a bad sunburn.

The hair, too, can be harmed by the hot sun in summer weather. But injury to the hair can be avoided by wearing one of the many attractive gardening hats. They are light and comfortable and, above all, are easily kept clean by sudsing either in a basin or with a sponge.

To keep your hair in top condition, wash it often, for oil and dirt accumulate more rapidly in hot weather.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Frank's mother carried a supporting pole under her line of wet laundry and went down to the cellar for more. When she returned, Frank had shimmied halfway up the pole and was hanging from it upside down like the sloth in his alphabet book.

Then the line broke. Frank fell — and with him, mother's row of just-washed sheets.

She punished him. In his room she spanked him as hard as she could. Then she slammed the door on his howls because she wanted so to howl herself she couldn't stand the noise of his.

Luckily, the fallen sheets weren't a total loss. When she'd fixed the line, she turned the hose on them. As the water sprayed them clean, anger at Frank began to subside. She thought, "After all, at this age, they all climb everything. I wish we could afford a jungle gym in the yard."

When she'd finished hanging up all her wash, she called Frank down and gave him a plate of ice cream.

I hope she doesn't make a habit of this.

To a hurt child, ice cream is not a fair substitute for an expression of affectionate feeling. It would have been more nourishing to say to Frank, "I've been thinking about what you did. I understand now that you climbed up the laundry pole not to ruin my laundry but to show me how well you can climb."

It is not wise to depend on food to comfort a hurt child.

Psychiatrist Hilda Bruch is cited for her research into the causes of obesity in children. In her recently published book, "The Importance of Overweight," she writes, "Quite often food has been offered by the mother as a substitute for love and emotional satisfaction."

If we insert food into Frank whenever he feels hurt or discouraged, he begins to equate comfort with food. As he's hungry for a non-material intake of our respect and confidence, it can't feed him. But with no experience in true comfort, he seeks the only kind he's known. And begins to develop a morbid, unending craving for food that leads to overweight.

A hurt child can no more find real comfort in the grocer's merchandise than he can in the merchandise of the liquor store.

Mrs. Tinney Feted At Pink-Blue Party

Mrs. Bobby Tinney was honored with a pink and blue shower recently in the home of Mrs. Jack Hasselvander, 2207 N. Nelson. Co-hostesses were Meses. Vernon Cates, George Kilcrease, and J. W. Tinney.

Mrs. Hasselvander received the guests who were registered by Mrs. Cates.

Mrs. Tinney was presented with a corsage composed of two rattlers tied with blue ribbon.

The serving table was laid with a white linen cloth centered with twin storks carrying a miniature doll-baby.

Mrs. Kilcrease and Mrs. Hasselvander assisted with the refreshments of punch and cake. Miniature pacifiers were given as favors.

Guests were Meses. J. W. Tinney, R. J. Tinney, Leory Allan, Bill Clement, Ralph Barnett, Frank Totty, H. L. McCaughy and Miss Wanda Tinney.

Sending gifts, but unable to attend were Meses. T. J. Lowery, Walter Gentry, Frank Boyles, Virgie Atkinson, Jack Atkinson, Bob Moore, Gordon Carter, M. A. Greene, R. D. Fitzpatrick, Woodrow Davis, Bill Wilshire, J. C. Weede, C. O. Gallaway, Dee Dumas, Vernon Hooker, Leon Gudgel, Frank Holman, Garland Fielding, and Miss Opal Buyles.

Well-kept hands and nails are a great beauty asset. But their beauty will be short-lived if they are subjected to planting and weeding without the protection of gardening gloves. Gloves that are easily laundered are best. You'll find many that have a lining to absorb perspiration and that are water-repellent on the outside.

Whether your taste dictates blue jeans, shorts or voluminous skirts for gardening, you'll want to look pretty while you're at work. This season there are many delightful costumes for the green-thumbs, but it would be foolhardy not to be sure that the garments you choose fit comfortably, with plenty of room for action.

Make certain, too, that you select clothing that is thoroughly washable, for it should be washed after each session in the garden. Give extra attention to the neck and sleeves of your blouse, for sunlight lotion can cause stains that are difficult to remove.

Planting things and watching them grow is a wonderful experience. And everyone takes a good deal of pride in her garden.

But be sure to take equally good care of yourself. Bathe and change as soon as you get indoors, guard your hair and skin against the drying sun rays. You'll be as lovely to look at as the garden you've taken such pains to create.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

JON E. JONES, Pastor
Church of Christ
Mary Ellen at Harvester

THE MEANING AND IMPORTANCE OF REVERENCE

Reverence means "Profound respect mingled with fear and affection." It is an internal trait. And this attitude of heart is to be maintained at all times.

Though reverence exists in the heart, it is expressed and manifested in many ways.

I. THE PERSON THAT HAS REVERENCE FOR GOD WILL LIVE A DAILY LIFE THAT WILL SHOW PROFOUND RESPECT. God is everywhere. If we would always remember that the God who sees the sparrow's fall is watching our every act it would be a great influence for good in our lives.

II. THE PERSON WHO HAS REVERENCE FOR GOD WILL SHOW REVERENCE FOR THE NAME OF GOD AT ALL TIMES. "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain" (Ex. 20:7). See Leviticus 24 for proof that God meant what he said. The order was given for the man who profaned God's holy name to be stoned. Wherever we go we hear the name of God profaned. Profanity has become so common that it is approved in many circles. There's nothing that shows a greater lack of reverence than using holy names in a profane manner.

III. THE PERSON WHO HAS REVERENCE FOR GOD WILL MANIFEST IT IN WORSHIP SERVICES. Many people show more respect at a funeral than they do for the Lord in worship services. Church gatherings have in some instances become arenas of laughter. It is very difficult, if not impossible, to shift from such a frame of mind to an attitude of worship in an instant. Worship demands and deserves preparation.

When worship is done in the spirit and in the truth, it is one of the most potent ways of self-development. The person who reverences God, and who shows that respect by worship, will become more Godlike each day.

Let us be constantly striving to develop a proper respect for divine things. Let us develop an eye for values that are real. Be aware of God's constant presence. Walk before Him in humility and fear. Speak His name cautiously. Worship Him in spirit and in truth. (Jno. 4:24)

Rev. Moynihan Leaves After 6 Years As Catholic Pastor

Rev. Myles P. Moynihan, who has been pastor of Holy Souls Catholic church for the past six years was honored by the parish with a dinner in the church hall Sunday Aug. 4.

There were about 250 in attendance. Rev. Edward Whoolery of St. Louis, Mo. and Rev. John Jankowski of Canadian were special guests.

Following the dinner a short program was given. At this time many expressions of appreciation were tendered Father Moynihan for his work in the parish.

During Father Moynihan's pastorate here, the parish membership has almost doubled in number and the school enrollment has increased to such an extent that the present facilities are no longer adequate.

Methodist List Sunday Topics

The 8:30 a. m. service is broadcast over radio station KPDM. The special music for the 8:30 a. m. service will be "Prayer of the Norwegian Child" by Knoutz sung by the Carol and Wesley Singers.

Methodists Have Vacation School

(Special to The News) LEFORS — "Meet Your Neighbors" is the theme of a vacation Bible school now in progress at the First Methodist Church. It is to continue throughout the week ending in a program Sunday night, Aug. 11, which will be presented for anyone who wishes to attend.

Power Of Goodness Is Scientists Topic

The practical power of goodness and spirituality will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday. Keynoting the Lesson - Sermon entitled "Spirit" is the Golden Text from I Corinthians (2:12): "Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God."

Protestants Start 'Prayer Cells'

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP) — A little-publicized "prayer cell" movement is spreading through American Protestantism.

Many churchmen have been dubious about the sincerity of the religious revival that has swelled U. S. church rolls to a record high. But prayer cells are not easily explained by any of the superficial motives that are sometimes attributed to church membership.

Prayer cells are small groups of Christian laymen who take their religion seriously. They meet privately, usually in a member's home, to pray together, read the Bible and talk over the problems which beset an ordinary man and woman in the effort to "draw near to God with faith."

They are impressed with the movement for several reasons. It is growing rapidly in all parts of the country. It is largely spontaneous in the sense that most cells are formed by laymen on their own initiative, rather than organized by churches.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Plummer and their two children will take up residence Sept. 1 in the Bavaria Unit of St. Francis Boys' Homes located near Salina, Kans.

Plummer has been appointed by the Rev. Robert Mize, Founder and Director of the homes as Boys' Supervisor there. The work of the homes is to deal with boys who are in trouble.

During the time that St. Matthew's was without a priest, Plummer was one of the men who conducted the services and helped maintain the congregation.

Dale Shenefelt, college minister, will deliver the morning message at the Church of the Brethren, Sunday Aug. 11.

Dr. Leonard Brummett, missionary to Luzon, will preach in the First Christian Church Sunday morning at 11.

Graham To Close With Huge Rally

NEW YORK (UP) — Billy Graham will definitely close his New York crusade Sept. 21 with a tremendous climactic rally right in the heart of Times Square.

Graham has drawn more than 1,538,500 persons to his Garden City stadium, Wall Street, Brooklyn, Harlem and Central Park meetings.

Police estimate that on several occasions, such as New Year's celebrations, as many as 850,000 persons have jammed into the teeming Times Square area.

Graham, who has packed the 1,538,500 persons to his Garden City stadium nearly every night since his crusade began May 15, drew another 100,000 persons to a Yankee Stadium rally July 20.

"I believe this meeting in Times Square will be a testimony to the whole world that God has moved mightily in New York," Graham told his Garden audience of 17,200 Thursday night.

He later told the United Press: "It should be a truly glorious service. Can you imagine it? The word of God going out to thousands of people gathered under the neon signboards!"

Just picture it: Our 2,000-voice choir singing the Gospel, hymns echoing off those tall buildings, even being heard down in the Latin Quarter and other night clubs and bars! It's wonderful!"

He said that "Times Square is drunk 40 bottles of stout but denied being drunk and disorderly. Asked if he remembered falling down the steps of a subway, he replied: "That was a minor detail."

CHICAGO (UP) — Jack Burke Jr., of Klamath Lake, N. Y., a professional golfer for 18 years and winner of the 1956 Masters and PGA, has been named captain of the 1957 U. S. Ryder Cup team.

LONDON (UP) — A minor detail cost Michael Waters, 35, exactly 10 shillings ($1.40) Tuesday. Waters admitted in court that he "vacations from school had worked as guide for the center's tours."

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

JON E. JONES, Pastor
Church of Christ
Mary Ellen at Harvester

THE MEANING AND IMPORTANCE OF REVERENCE

Reverence means "Profound respect mingled with fear and affection." It is an internal trait. And this attitude of heart is to be maintained at all times.

Though reverence exists in the heart, it is expressed and manifested in many ways.

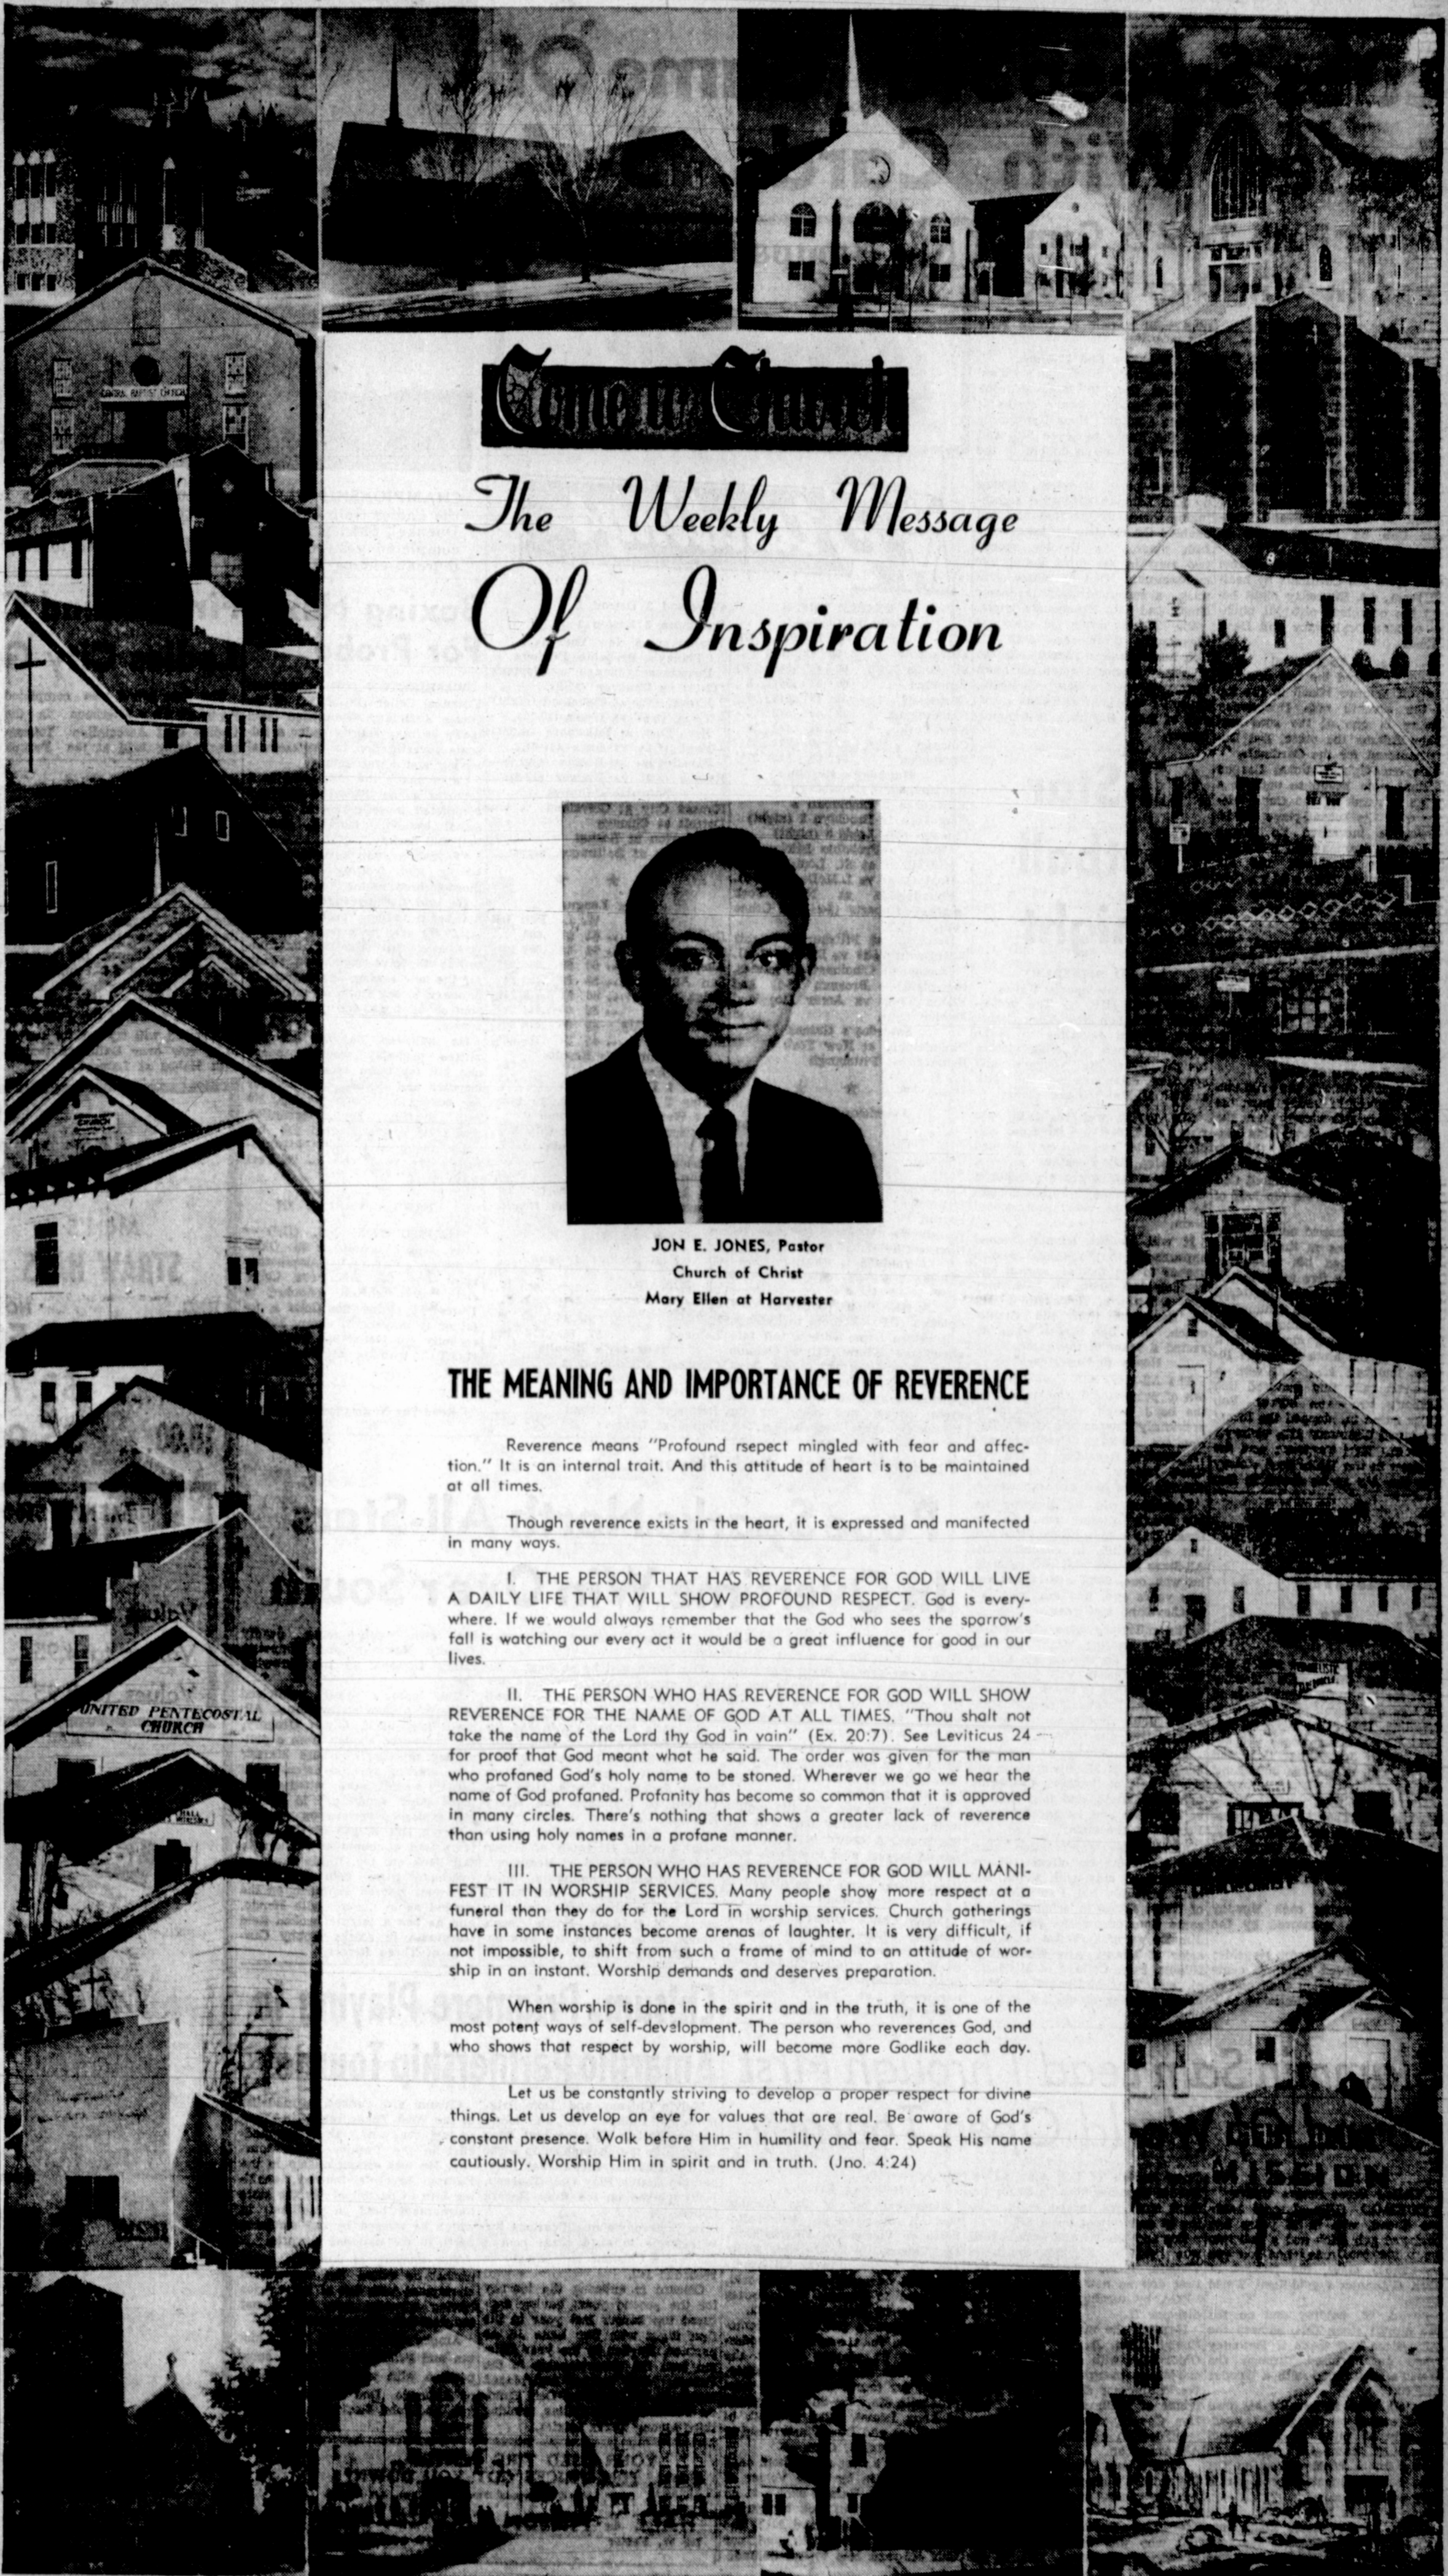

I. THE PERSON THAT HAS REVERENCE FOR GOD WILL LIVE A DAILY LIFE THAT WILL SHOW PROFOUND RESPECT. God is everywhere. If we would always remember that the God who sees the sparrow's fall is watching our every act it would be a great influence for good in our lives.

II. THE PERSON WHO HAS REVERENCE FOR GOD WILL SHOW REVERENCE FOR THE NAME OF GOD AT ALL TIMES. "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain" (Ex. 20:7). See Leviticus 24 for proof that God meant what he said. The order was given for the man who profaned God's holy name to be stoned. Wherever we go we hear the name of God profaned. Profanity has become so common that it is approved in many circles. There's nothing that shows a greater lack of reverence than using holy names in a profane manner.

III. THE PERSON WHO HAS REVERENCE FOR GOD WILL MANIFEST IT IN WORSHIP SERVICES. Many people show more respect at a funeral than they do for the Lord in worship services. Church gatherings have in some instances become arenas of laughter. It is very difficult, if not impossible, to shift from such a frame of mind to an attitude of worship in an instant. Worship demands and deserves preparation.

When worship is done in the spirit and in the truth, it is one of the most potent ways of self-development. The person who reverences God, and who shows that respect by worship, will become more Godlike each day.

Let us be constantly striving to develop a proper respect for divine things. Let us develop an eye for values that are real. Be aware of God's constant presence. Walk before Him in humility and fear. Speak His name cautiously. Worship Him in spirit and in truth. (Jno. 4:24)

Cubs Sweep 3rd Game Of Series With Cards, 5-4

Braves Push To 2 1/2 Game Lead In Win Over Redlegs

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer
Even if they don't do much the rest of the season, the suddenly-awakened Chicago Cubs appear to have saved Manager Bob Schmirer's job for 1958.
Things didn't look too bright for Scheffing a few weeks ago, what with the Cubs flopping in and out of the cellar, but today they own a six-game winning streak—their longest in two years—and boss-man Bob no longer seems in danger.
The Cubs swept a three-game series from the Cardinals by beating them, 4-3, Thursday night behind the combined eight-hit pitching of Moe Drabowsky and Dave Hillman.
Begins To Unravel
Chicago scored the two deciding runs off Wilmer Mizell in the top of the seventh with Drabowsky driving in one of the runs and Bobby Adams the other. Del Ennis homered for the Cardinals.
The one-tact National League pennant race began to unravel a bit as a result of the Cubs' victory over the second-placed Cardinals. Milwaukee increased its league lead to 2 1/2 games with a 5-3 triumph over Cincinnati, and the Giants dropped Brooklyn five games back by walloping the Dodgers, 12-3. Philadelphia defeated Pittsburgh, 6-3.
In the American League, the White Sox shaved the distance between themselves and the first-place Yankees to five games with a 7-4 decision over Kansas City as Washington beat the Yanks, 6-1. Baltimore defeated Boston, 3-1, and Cleveland topped Detroit, 3-1.
Jinx For Redlegs
Red Schoendienst' two-run single in the eighth inning gave the Braves their 11th victory over the Redlegs in 13 meetings this season. Schoendienst came through with his game-winning smash off Raul Sanchez after Cincinnati tied the score at 3-3 in the top half of the frame.
The Giants jumped on Sal Maglie for four runs in the first inning and rapped his successor, Don Bessent, for five more in the second as Ruben Gomez scattered seven hits for his 12th triumph.
Southpaw Curt Simmons of the Phils was breezing along with a 6-0 lead in the ninth when the pirates knocked him out with a three-run rally that featured Bob Skinner's two-run homer. Bob Miller came in, stopped the threat and saved Simmons' 11th victory.
Veteran Earl Torgeson was the big man in the White Sox' victory over the A's as he drove in five

A HEAP OF RUBBISH
Chicago (UP)—Visitors to Chicago will return home with a tall tale about the Windy City's cleanup week campaign. A 20-foot high basket capable of holding 40,000 pounds of rubbish was put on a street corner and billed as "the world's largest litter basket."

Pampa's Coach And Player

Jerry Pope, 6-1 guard from Pampa, was the hero last night with a one-handed jump shot from 18 feet out with 29 seconds left in the overtime to provide a 43-42 victory for Clifton McNeely's North All-Star team.
Pope nosed out Merkel's Bob McLeod for outstanding player honors, leading both teams in scoring with 12 points.
The North's win was the eighth in the series against only four for the South. A crowd of 5,500, the second largest ever to attend, was on hand to witness the first overtime all-star game to be played.
Coach Chuck Moser's powerful running northerners will be an even stronger favorite to turn the trick on the gridiron than their cage counterparts were on the hardwoods at SMU coliseum where they barely managed a 43-

Pope Sparks North All-Stars In Overtime Win Over South

42 overtime victory Thursday night.
The North will be at least a 12-point choice when they take the field before an anticipated 15,000 or more fans in the Cotton Bowl.
Tonight's football clash was expected to be a free-scoring affair with the North's powerful running game built around speedsters Frank Jackson of Paris, Mike McClellan of Stamford and Harry Moreland of Fort Worth pitted against the sharp passing of the South's Alvin Hartman of Hondo and Robert Hanson of Beaumont.
The South, boasting a more touted line, might be able to put a crimp in the North's running game. If it does, North Coach Chuck Moser is expected to counter with some deadly passing of his own with some deadly Tommy Newman and Stinnett's Larry Dawson on the throwing end.
The game's most publicized player, Abilene's two-time All-State half back, Glynn Gregory, has recovered enough from a pulled-leg muscle to assure himself of a starting role on defense, but Moser wasn't sure whether his prize pupil would get to exhibit his explosive powers on offense.
Coach Bill Stages of the South team had a couple of runners to fall back on, too, if his expected overhead game gets smothered. Hartman starred as much on the ground as in the air with Hondo, and he has a terrific broken field teammate in stocky Bobby Gurtwitz of Three Rivers.

Slammin Sam Lead Through First Round Of World Open Tourney

By IRA LURVEY
United Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (UP)—Samuel Jackson Sneed, who in 23 years has parlayed golf stick and ball into some $800,000, today had his eye on $50,000 more, the jackpot of Tom O'Shanter's gold-lined World Open.
Sneed, 45, balding and on the pro circuit since 1934, showed the youngsters how to do it Thursday when he blazed through the World's first round with a 7-under par 65.
Sneed, who is usually his own worst enemy on the greens, needed only 32 putts to get around sprawling team. He sank a 12 footer for a birdie three on the first and a 13-footer for a birdie four on the second.
Kuala Front Nine
Right behind Sneed going into today's second round in the four day, 72-hole, $101,200 tourney, was

Chisum, Prigmore Playing In Amarillo Partnership Tourney

Melvin Chisum and Don Prigmore of Pampa tee off today against Frank Wharton and Dick Whetzle in the championship flight of the Amarillo Invitational Partnership Match Play Golf Tourney, being played on the Ross Rogers Course.
In yesterday's qualifications the Wharton-Whetzle team scored 336 while Chisum and Prigmore recorded 143.
Chisum is entering the tourney for the second year, having captured top honors last year in the first flight with Ben Lane Jr. as partner. Earlier in the year Chisum won the championship in the Pampa City tourney and placed eighth in the National Left Hand-Ed Tourney in Dallas, ranking third among Texas entries.

Chisum, Prigmore Playing In Amarillo Partnership Tourney

Chisum also ranked as medalist in the West Texas relays in Odessa last year and was again medalist in the Pampa Junior tourney. He took championship in the Pampa Jaycee's tourney, enabling him to participate in the state tournament held in Midland, in which he missed by one stroke a berth in the national playoffs.
The tourney in Amarillo could almost be called the contest of champions with ten of the entries having already won invitational tournaments this summer.
Among the notables that Chisum and Prigmore will be in competition with will be Rex Baxter of Amarillo, Don Kaplan of Borger, and John Paul Cain of Sweetwater.

Boxing Next First Round Completed In Ladies City Golf Tourney

The first round was completed yesterday afternoon in the Ladies Golf Association Tourney, being held at the Pampa Country Club.
In the championship flight Lila Austin scored 78 to gain a ten stroke lead on second place Jean Duenkel, who scored 88. Shirley Austin finished third with 91, having a one stroke lead on fourth place Lil Hall, who scored 92. The championship flight of the tourney is medal play with one round being played each week. The tourney will end August 23.
In the first flight Peg Kastein downed Sally McGinnis, Fran Noblitt defeated Mildred Smith and Eva Kitchens won over Ava Swafford.
In the only first round match played in the second flight Lois Watkins defeated Jeanne Wade. Both 1st and 2nd flights are match play.

Boxing Next For Probe

WASHINGTON (UP)—Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) of the House Judiciary Committee said today he may shortly order a full-scale investigation of professional boxing and horse racing.
Celler made the disclosure to a reporter as he discussed his just-completed investigation of professional baseball, football, basketball and hockey.
"I think we will have to go into boxing and trotting, races and thoroughbred racing," Celler said. He didn't begin until "probably this fall." He said he expects his special sports investigating subcommittee to have legislation ready for the new session of Congress in January to set limits on anti-trust control of organized professional sports.
He indicated that the subcommittee probably would propose one bill for team sports such as baseball and football, and another for boxing and horse racing. He said drafting such legislation would be a complicated job because the present sports arrangements are so diverse — "a real mish-mash."

PRICER CHECKS IN

WESTMINSTER, Md. (UP)—Billy Pricer, fullback on Oklahoma's national championship team and the Baltimore Colts' sixth draft choice, checked in Thursday, giving the Colts a total of 49 players in camp. Pricer recently completed six weeks of R.O.T.C. training at Fort Hood, Tex.

McGinnis, Boston Are Top Putters

C. F. McGinnis and Jerry Boston were champions last night in the partnership putting tourney held at the Pampa Country Club. Runners-up were Ham Luna and Haskell Maguire, with Demarest Holt and Terry Richardson winning consolation. Honors for the most aces went to Tommy Adkins and Grace Malone, who scored seven for the evening.
The putting tourneys are held each Thursday night at 7:30, sponsored by the Ladies Golf Association.
In last week's contest C. F. McGinnis paired with David Marler to cop top honors with Lloyd Jones and DeLea Vicars as runners-up.

Sonora Ace May Attend Rice

HOUSTON (UP)—The Houston Press said today that George Johnson, the fabulous running back from Sonora, Tex., may change his mind again and go to Rice Institute after all instead of the University of Colorado.
In a story from Dallas, where Press sportswriter Zane Chastain interviewed Johnson, the Press quoted Johnson as saying that "I definitely haven't decided whether I will go to school at Colorado or change my mind and play for Rice."
This announcement came less than a month after Johnson told Rice officials he was going to Colorado and would not honor a letter of intent he had signed with Rice in June.
"I want to stay in Texas and play," the 17-year old halfback told Chastain. "I think I owe something to the people in Sonora who have backed me for five years. And if I went to Colorado they wouldn't get to see me play."
"There's no doubt about it," Johnson was quoted. "I'm confused. Frankly, a little convincing would send me back to Rice."
Johnson disclosed that Norman Burroughs, a Robstown end who also was in Dallas with Johnson to play the Texas All-Star high school football game, had discussed the matter with him.

A Strange Look In Hats Sprouts Over The Ocean

By DOC QUIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—The boys who make dresses for the more frilly girls of the world have been having their annual unveiling ceremonies in Paris, showing what's new for fall and winter, and from this distance, the whole business sounds like a holy mess.

Nobody asked me for a philosophical opinion, but my notion always has been that the idea of putting clothing on the female body was to keep it warm and to try to make it look pretty, or fetching.

But the results of the Paris designers' latest brainwaves seem to be not so much pretty as well, just plain ominous. That's the picture that emerges from the acres of earnest prose turned out by the scribes covering the shows.

Now you take hats. Are the new ones pretty? They're downright scary. Listen to this:

Permanent Gone Wrong
"Hats often look like a frizzled home—permanent gone—wrong. Head hugging and hair hiding, they hook the way a hangover feels, bulky and fuzzy."

And this: "An enormous hat which looked like a sea urchin..."

Or this: "Latest hats have been put on a dummy and cut with a special razor to give a new fuzzy look."

And still another: "Long, jut-ting-out bonnets, resembling dunce caps and blown-up helmets..."

The strange look in hats that are sprouting on the other side of the ocean inspired a lady in our office to observe: "They sound as if they'd be ideal for girls with pointed heads."

Spent and panting from one of the shows, a lady reporter gasped out a paragraph beginning: "Hats are pie-plate flat, lie smack on top of the head. Upside-down bowls covering the hair are worn at any angle. Any and everything gets into the hair. Black feather-dusters perch above the eyes... a bowl of sea-moss fresh from off a sea rock was tipped with a pink rose and jauntily spiked one eyebrow."

Her Crowning Glory
It gets into my hair, too. A woman's hair is her crowning glory, and why should it be topped with an absurdity or a monstrosity?

"Turban hats," wrote one journalist, "start at the hairline and stretch out behind like wind-socks at an airfield."

As for the rest of the body, the consensus seems to be that this year it be clothed in stuff that is as shapeless as possible.

"Just a gunny sack with diamonds," is the way one reporter described the new dress look which she said is sweeping Europe.

Taking the whole effort of the designing boys—with special emphasis on the hat creations—and trying to find an overall title for their 1957 work, let's give it a name it's begging for:

The clown look.

DROWNS IN WASHBUB
REAU, France (UP)—Georgette Poedere, 20, fainted while doing her washing Wednesday and drowned in the washbub though it contained only two quarters of water, police said.

Legislative Oddities Turn Up In Survey

CHICAGO (UP)—State legislators in one of their busiest years have found time to pass laws affecting minnow pickers and moss gatherers.

Legislative oddities such as these were turned up in quantity in a survey by Commerce Clearing House, national reporting authority on tax and business law. Now you can be fined $25 to $100 in Nebraska if your clock doesn't show standard time. Picketing a cemetery during a funeral is illegal in Ohio. Giving out trading stamps is a crime in Kansas.

In Tennessee it's illegal to use the telephone to embarrass someone. Indiana passed a similar law—but made the offense punishable only if it occurs repeatedly. Cash on liquor prizes at bazaars or raffles are illegal in Connecticut.

New Hampshire has established a navy militia.

Trying to kill wild birds with salt is illegal under a new law in Michigan, but it's legal now to use firecrackers to frighten birds away from fish hatcheries in Florida.

A legislative committee in Massachusetts is studying the fairest way to tax machinery used for in Minnesota, dealers in pickled minnows must now comply with gathering moss.

The state's requirements for licensing regular minnow dealers. And Indiana amiably passed a law permitting persons and corporations who are not subject to tax to donate whatever they wish to help pay the state's bills.

BOOST VODKA PRICES
WARSAW, Poland (UP)—Poland will boost its vodka prices 40 per cent this week end in an attempt to reduce drunkenness, it was disclosed today. Vodka presently costs about $9 a pint at the official local rate of exchange and about $1.50 at the tourist rate.

New York City Wars On Segment Of Youth

By DOC QUIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—This city is going through a sickening "war" on a segment of its youth: The segment is a lawless fringe bred in poverty, brought up in bitterness in broken and alcoholic homes, left unloved and neglected by parents.

In the face of a flare-up of youth crime—three persons killed and four critically injured within a few days—the police department has thrown in 600 additional men, rookies from its academy, for patrol duty. It has called on parents to awaken to duty.

Juvenile offenders have killed 22 persons in New York City since the start of the year. This is not the result of gang warfare, although New York has about 500 juvenile gangs with about 8,000 members. Of these, 110 are listed as "fighting gangs" which stir up trouble.

Individual Type Crime
—But the latest streak of beatings, assaults, and killings seems to be of individual, rather than gang, origin — "spontaneous, senseless attacks," in the words of Walter Arm, police deputy commissioner in charge of community relations.

"It is true that juvenile crime reflects periods of adult tension, such as war or other unrest, or anxiety, a study of the police figures in New York City indicates a six-year period right now.

The published figures on yearly arrests of youths under 16 show a jump to 5,000-plus for each of the war years 1943-44-45, with the last of those three showing nearly 6,000. In the postwar years of that decade the arrests ran along rather evenly at 3,500-plus, and in 1950 were 3,424—lower than they were exactly 10 years earlier despite the population increase.

The Korean War started in 1950, and during the next three years the arrests were up to 4,000-plus. Then, instead of going down, they went like this: 4,012 in 1954; 4,578 in 1956; 8,714 last year.

Youth "Need Somebody"
Willie Mays, the baseball player, used to spend a great deal of his spare time away from the ball park playing stickball with the kids in his neighborhood. When asked why this extra expenditure of energy on the part of a man who was already expending a great deal at his regular job, he pointed to the youngsters and said simply: "They need somebody."

You might be interested in contrasting this attitude of a man who obviously loved kids with a paragraph in a New York Times news story about neighborhood youth crime:

No wonder every one of us is so glad to fix it up so someone else can get the $990 HE needs—gets it quick, easy and private. And with that great big S.I.C. SMILE thrown in. And look: $177.1 a month, 24 months, repays that $990 S.I.C. loan. How about that? Come down and see.

Gimmicks Of Union

Union "economists" are at the business of fooling us again. There's a new gimmick they are bringing out which is supposed to indicate to the American public that what is really fiction is soundly based fact.

The gimmick is a graph. The graph shows some rising jagged lines proceeding from a low on the left side to a high on the right side. This line is labeled "production." A second line appears under the first. It, too, is jagged and meanders across the graph to a point not nearly so high as that obtained by the first line. This second line is labeled "employment."

We are supposed to draw the conclusion that employment is not keeping pace with production. According to union reasoning, for us to have a sound economy would be for these two lines to merge and rise simultaneously. The implication, and it is stated clearly in so many words, is that employment is not keeping pace with productivity. From this we are supposed to conclude that business and industry are not fulfilling their obligations with respect to labor. Production in the lexicon of the unioner, must always equal and never exceed the number of persons employed.

This assumption is totally false. If we are to expand our economy, we must see to it that the line marked "production" rises much more rapidly than the line marked "employment." What is actually taking place is good. It indicates once more the veritable reservoir of strength in our sadly besieged free economy. If productivity can be made to rise faster than employment, that means that wealth, in terms of per-capita production, is increasing. It is only then that we can have more wealth and greater economic achievement.

Progress, if it can be defined economically, must be defined as rising productivity. When production increases faster than employment that is progress, pure and simple. When employment increases just as fast as productivity, then we are standing still. And if employment were to increase faster than productivity then we would be going backward.

If there is to be any rise in our standard of living, it must come out of increased productivity per worker employed. It is the surplus above actual consumption which provides us with this surplus. And all wealth we enjoy is related directly to the amount of production which exceeds the labor costs of such production.

We must really examine this gimmick so that we are not fooled. The appearance "log" insofar as employment is concerned, is actually a "spurt" insofar as production is concerned. If the production of goods and services, things people want, only rose in relation to employment, then to have a rising standard of living, we would have a corresponding rise in per unit employment. This would provide nothing but subsistence for all of us. Over the long run, any gains in output per capita would be severely limited by the number of people at work and the number of hours worked. This would mean that in order to prevent a collapse of our economy we would have to employ more people longer hours.

Fortunately, sound economists will see through this gimmick. But it is important that individuals who are not economists also see through it.

The reason and the only one—that we are able to increase our productivity faster than we increase our numbers employed, relates to the better use of better tools. It is no advantage to the economy if, to make a dozen safety pins, a dozen men must be employed. What is needed, so that everyone may have an abundance of pins, is that each man making them shall make thousands of them. If we can up that per capita production to the point where each man so employed is making millions of pins, this means more pins, lower costs and better jobs all around.

What all of us want is more things for less money. What we do not want is fewer things for more money. The union belief is that we can increase wealth by decreasing output per capita. This is sheer nonsense. Let's not any of us be fooled by this new union gimmick.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. Hoiles

Who Suffers Most From Strikes?

It seems to me, there is nothing that should be discussed more frankly than strikes. Strikes have been so generally accepted as being necessary and good for the wage earner that a careful analysis is seldom made. If one rationally discusses strikes, he is quite often accused of being a hater of labor, when, in fact, he has goodwill toward all labor and is convinced that strikes are harmful to the very people they are supposed to help.

From a purely materialistic standpoint, strikes hurt most the employee who gets all his income from wages and has a large family. Strikes cause him to do without many of the things that would be beneficial to him and his family. It does this because strikes reduce production, and what is not produced, of course, cannot be consumed.

If the contention is made that it takes from those who have plenty and benefits those who have little, that contention is not borne out by facts. Strikes, of course, reduce the income of the strikers, reduce the income of the owners of the business, reduce the income of the suppliers and reduce the real income of those who are benefited by buying the product. All this reduction of production and income increases the cost of the product. And since all costs have to be passed on to the consumer, it results in higher prices for all the consumers, and the persons who consume most are not the men who are rapidly adding to the wealth of the world. They get their happiness out of production, knowing that it benefits every other person. Waste and extravagant living give them little pleasure. Of course those who happen to get wealth by inheritance or by a lucky mineral find are quite often wasteful, but this is a minor factor in consumption. Besides the increased price doesn't bother them nearly so much as it bothers the great majority of wage earners who are doing without a lot of things they would like if prices were not so high. That is, if they could get more in exchange for their labor.

Would any believer in strikes contend that it was good for the employer and the employee and for everybody, for the employers to go together and simultaneously quit production in order to intimidate and coerce the employees to take less than a competitive wage? If it is harmful for the employers to do it, it is also harmful for the employees.

Strikes that reduce the profit of an employer simply mean that he has less money to reinvest in better tools. This, of course, means the workers will have poorer tools to use and thus cannot produce as much, and consequently cannot earn as much.

If Frederic Bastiat's contention was correct, that in creating wealth, the gain of one is the gain of all and the loss of one is the loss of all, then strikes are harmful to everyone.

Those people who will answer questions about what they are advising, labor, who contradict themselves are convinced that they would have a much higher standard of living if there were no strikes. And it is hard to find a man who believes strikes are beneficial to mankind who can answer questions without contradicting himself. Usually they attempt to evade the answers and blacken the reputation of the man who thinks out loud as to the end results of strikes. If it were not for strikes, labor unions could not curtail production.

Decline In Income
Dr. Emerson P. Schmidt, Director of Economic Research, Chamber of Commerce of the United States, in an address before the Mortgage Bankers Assn. in New York in April, 1957, gave some figures that should cause everyone who is interested in our future progress to do some serious thinking. He said: "Our per capita real income has increased only $12 since 1946, or approximately $18.00 per year per capita. Personal per capita disposable income has increased only $137 in the ten-year period since 1946, or $13.70 per capita per year."

That means, if our average annual income is $2,200 per year, then the increase was four-fifths of 1 per cent.

Carl Snider, in his great book, "Capitalism, The Creator," a few years ago pointed out that the average annual increase in real income increased at the rate of 1 per cent a year for 150 years. Now that so many people believe that strikes are good and beneficial, no matter how much unemployment they cause, our increase is declining when, in fact, with a larger population and thus a better division of labor and all our modern knowledge as to how to create and harness the forces of nature, it ought to be increasing rather than declining.

The columns, of course, are open in this newspaper for anyone to refute the above and explain how strikes can be beneficial rather than harmful. No newspaper or magazine that operates with men who believe in strikes dare throw its columns open for discussion on the subject of the benefits or harmfulness of strikes.

FREEDOM OR ELSE (Christian Economics)
Recent events in the U.S.S.R. and Eastern Europe have made it clear that Socialism without Stalinism is impossible. People will not abide the controls and loss of freedom involved in Socialism unless they are coerced.

IS THE SENATE AFRAID OF REUTHER?

Chicago Daily Tribune
The United Automobile Workers union has spent $11,300,000 on its strike against the Kohler company of Kohler, Wis., says the union's secretary-treasurer. The strike was lost long ago, and the Kohler local of the union wrecked, but the union expenditures continue in an effort to wreck the Kohler company by a boycott. On this the UAW has already spent more than $2,000,000. Casely Manly recently concluded a summary of this bitter, bloody industrial conflict in our news columns. A reign of terror was instituted in Kohler and neighboring cities. Criminals were hired to direct acts of violence against the company and its employees. One of the union's strong-arm men remained in Michigan, protected by Gov. Williams from extradition to Wisconsin to stand trial on a charge of beating a Kohler workman. The victims' death has been attributed in part to the injuries he suffered.

Here certainly is as flagrant abuse of the power and funds of an international union as the nation has witnessed in many years. The strike was lost, yet the vindictive campaign against the company goes on. The purpose, it is plain, is to show the American people that no employer dares say "No" to Walter Reuther, boss of the UAW.

The Kohler case is far more menacing in its implications than any misuse of union funds by Dave Beck and his associates in the Teamsters union. Sen. McClellan and his colleagues, however, seems strangely disinclined to give their attention to Mr. Reuther or any of his works. Mr. Reuther is one of the bosses of the left wing of the Democratic party, who style themselves Americans for Democratic action.

Sen. Kennedy (D. Mass.) is a member of the committee. His brother, Robert, is its counsel and director of its investigations. Sen. Kennedy is an aspirant for the Democratic Presidential nomination. The enmity of Reuther and his radical associates could be fatal to the senator's hopes.

So long as Sen. McClellan fails to investigate Reuther's power and the ways in which it is abused, he sustains the suspicion that the Democratic majority in the senate is afraid of the union boss.

SOCIAL SECURITY IN SPAIN (Christian Economics)

A Madrid dispatch before us, as these lines are written, declare the social security tax in Spain amounts to about 50 per cent of the nation's basic payroll. Even so, life is very hard for the aged and indeed for the greater portion of the people in Spain.

There is no adequate accounting of these funds, nor indeed of other tax contributions, and General Franco is said to believe that the public is not entitled to know how its tax money is expended.

When people lose their liberty to government, socialist or fascist, life becomes hard and they no longer control their own destinies.

Walking Is Proper In Vaduz—Hank Sits

VADUZLIECHTENSTEIN — To be proper here, one must walk a lot.

Walking is the smart thing to do in Vaduz, just as shooting craps is the smart thing in Las Vegas, and feeding the elephants in the zoo.

The most proper folk — the English and the Germans are tied for this honor — breakfast early and are on the mountain paths before the dew is dry.

They disappear into the trees and are not seen again until the sun is almost down. The English, and there are a lot of them here, travel light. About all the equipment they carry is a stout cane, and one can't help but wonder what they do for food and water while high in the mountains.

The Germans do not travel light. They leave the hotel burdened down like Llamas. Massive rucksacks ride their shoulder blades, big bags swing in their hands, and they are clothed in leather shorts, socks half an inch thick, and shoes reminding of those deep-sea divers wear.

No one would worry about the Germans if they didn't show up again for days, because they are prepared to set up light housekeeping in the hills if it need be.

It will come as no surprise to those who know us to learn that the McLemores are completely out of the swim — or the walk — in Vaduz. Neither Mary nor I are enthusiastic walkers. In fact, we could well be called grumbling walkers.

Not that we haven't tried it, for we have. Our room is on the third floor, and there is no elevator, so we have had to walk — except on those lucky occasions when no one else was around and we could slide down the banisters!

I wish you could see Mary ride banisters side-saddle. She is as poised and graceful as the Queen of England is on her horse on her birthday. I, myself, ride Texas style.

As for walking mountain paths, we gave that up for good after one effort. For some reason, mountain paths always lead up, and then up a more. To climb them is to get to better scenery, I suppose, but for my part I'd rather have the scenery at the bottom of a well rather than climb half-way to heaven to see it.

Walking along the paved roads of Vaduz is not so bad, but to do that draws looks of scorn from the real walkers. One might just as well shoot fish in a barrel or cuff small children about the ears.

To keep my standing at the hotel, and to prevent my being considered a sissy, I have hit upon a plan. I tell everyone who speaks English that Mary has been frail from childhood and is unable to walk more than fifty yards at a time without fainting. And I, while as healthy as a horse, would like nothing better than to walk from morning until night but am too thoughtful a husband to leave her alone.

This should bring me appreciative looks from all the guests and allow me to lean back on the veranda and sit to my heart's content.

Brownell Faces Tough Sledding For Court Post

WASHINGTON — Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr., will be given the major blame — or credit — by foes and friends of the Civil Rights Bill, if Congress fails to pass it in a form satisfactory to the White House and to GOP politicians striving to recapture the colored and allied votes.

In this controversy and in other politico-judicial matters, Thomas E. Dewey's gift to the Administration and a supposedly smart ballot-box operator has not been a successful servant to President Eisenhower on Capitol Hill. The criticism once reserved for Secretaries Benson, Dulles and Wilson now falls on him.

Nobody Touches Biggest Labor Racketeer Of All

Dave Dubinsky's union, the International Garment Workers, is the most impudent cabal in the entire system of chartered labor, but just the same he has not been called by the Senate committee's investigation. Nobody dares challenge Dubinsky even though his union is crawling with Marxian socialists, some of whom profess to have reformed.

With the help of Reader's Digest, the Luce Magazines, and some daily papers, Dubinsky has been able to foist on the American nation, and Congress, some individuals who broke with Stalin long ago and formed their own American Communist party. Their leader is Jake Lovestone, born in Russia. His chief agent abroad is Irving Brown. They both intimidate that they renounced Communism long ago.

Lovestone is a gaseous fourflusher. Neither has any credentials from any portion of the American people or American "labor." The partiality of magazine editors to these men is a mystery. The editors of dailies, however, are mostly too young to have personal knowledge of Lovestone's record and they are carried by a thousand details every day. They rely somewhat on "indoctrinated" school of a journalism sprouts, taught by misanthropic failures, and on syndicated eastern publicity men who abuse their trust.

Dubinsky's union is a political asylum for veterans of this type. Lovestone, at the top, is lodged in Dubinsky's headquarters in New York. Dubinsky sits in an office designed for and occasionally occupied by Henry Ford, Sr., when the building was the regional capitol of Ford's empire.

After the Lovestone apparatus broke with Stalin they started their own party, intending frankly to seize power in our country. Brown, a nonentity and a strictly rhetorical fighter, was one of the organizers. His press agents claim he was a football star at NYU where, on inquiry, it turned out he never even went out for bean-bag. He has been a paid parasite on American union workers for a quarter of a century.

Lovestone was chief of the actual Soviet party in the United States. Ben Gitlow, who was associated with Lovestone, has been through hell for his sins and still Lovestone lives in mysterious splendor as commander of an international political machine financed by Dubinsky's union and in unknown parts by the AF of L and the government's Central Intelligence Agency. When Gitlow abandoned Communism, he left no doubt.

But the McClellan committee, with its false alarms and publicity about Dave Beck and cheap, unknown thieves, carefully steps around Dubinsky.

Dubinsky throws the earnings of his subjects to the winds in multiples of quarter and half millions. He accounts for it by telling them so.

Gitlow begged him for a job, even a job sweeping out, and Ben said Dave told him the best solution of his problem would be a dive off Brooklyn Bridge.

So Dubinsky, the merry, light-hearted, benevolent boss, has his iron mode and phases too. He might live to reveal them in a wider scale.

The report that the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors has removed its UAW-requested "boycott" resolution against the Kohler Company seems much less important than the fact that his seemingly union-led group appears to have lacked the ability to act fairly in this matter of letting contracts to the lowest bidder, until someone discovered a LAW which made him do it.

Suppose there had been no such law. There is no law requiring the Board to pass "boycott" resolutions against anyone, even at the request of the union. But it did so, before knowing that it would be a violation of law.

When it has reached a point where responsible representatives with a great deal of authority cannot or will not act fairly without a LAW to guide or control them, then there is no further good use for such (governments). All that the people then need are laws controlling their every act, and police to enforce them.

Rather than remark about the defeat suffered by Reuther or the union because of the removal of this "boycott" against the Kohler Company, wouldn't it be wiser to be considering the defeat of the Board which passed the resolution, and its like, before it again assists in attempting to ruin another fair and respected concern which cannot immediately find a LAW to protect it?

Along with this matter, it should be understood that altho "rights to work" laws are fair while strikes are legal, anyone who is waiting for such a law to affect him, as an excuse to get out of the union, is not much different, in effect, from the above mentioned County Supervisors.

Just what kind of a person is it who waits until the LAW requires, or permits, him to do something which he wants to do and CAN do WITHOUT such a law?

Jacoby On Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY
 Written for NEA Service
 North's raise to four no-trump was somewhat questionable and the final contract of six no-trump a trifle optimistic.
 West opened the deuce of hearts and East played the queen. South won with the ace and continued with the king. East dropped the nine and South marked West with the ten and seven.
 South proceeded to count 11 sure tricks represented by three spades, three hearts, four diamonds and one club. A successful club finesse would give him his 12th trick but there was time for that and maybe an end play could be developed against West.

Nothing could be lost by playing diamonds, so South took four diamond tricks and discarded his six of clubs.
 West had to make two discards and simply dropped the deuce and finally came to the conclusion that West did hold that last spade and hence only held one club.

 Was it the king? South decided it wasn't and led a club and finessed the queen. West made his singleton king and the nine of spades and South was down one.
 West's clever discarding had paid off!

TO VISIT VATICAN

BONN, Germany (UP)—President Theodor Heuss will be the first German head of state in more than 50 years to visit the Vatican, it was announced today. A West German government bulletin said Heuss, a Protestant, would make a two-day official visit in November. The last Vatican visit by a German state chief was made by Kaiser Wilhelm II in 1903.

SAVES ON BIRTHDAYS

PINE RIDGE, S.D. (UP)—Mrs. Marcella Big Crow, 34, has 16 children but only gives nine birthday parties each year. She's not playing favorites though. Mrs. Big Crow recently gave birth to her seventh set of twins.

DULLES SURPRISES NEWSMEN

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Washington newsmen today agreed that official communiques on international meetings aren't too informative. Newsmen had known this for years. They were surprised, however, to hear Dulles, an old hand at communique writing, admit it.

WON'T BURN THEIR BRIDGES—These two Minneapolis, Minn., men didn't burn their bridge behind them, but they might as well have, for the shape it's in. They have to park each day on one side of the Solomon River, walk across the bridge and take a truck to work. The bridge was hit by an auto and knocked askew. The men, Vince Pieschl Jr., left, and Don Charon take it all in stride.

Ford Official Boosts Seat Belts As Aid To Auto Safety

By ROBERT J. SERLING
 United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—A Ford Motor Co. official believes use of seat belts in all cars and trucks would cut the nation's highway deaths by more than 50 per cent. Moreover, he said use of the controversial belts in all cars and trucks would cut in half the number of serious injuries resulting from traffic accidents.

Ford Vice President Robert S. McNamara said in a statement prepared for the House traffic safety subcommittee: "It is our opinion that the use of seat belts in all cars and trucks on the American road today would reduce the 40,000 fatalities annually to less than 19,000 and would reduce the 1,000,000 serious injuries to no more than 500,000."

Belts Most Effective
 Alex L. Haynes, Ford advanced product study director, said in presenting McNamara's statement that "tests and experience have proved beyond all reasonable doubt that seat belts are the most effective single item available in reducing traffic injuries and deaths."

 "Ford Motor Company strongly recommends the use of seat belts in all cars and trucks," he said. Haynes said seat belts are "not a panacea for all accident injuries."
 But he said they will "materially reduce critically forces imposed on vehicle occupants at any speed whether the seat belts remain intact or not." He said they also "tend to keep the passenger inside the car" where chances of serious injury are cut 50 per cent.

Haynes said in prepared testimony that Ford has sold more safety belts than the rest of the automobile industry combined. Installation Falls Off
 He said since 1956 Ford sold 160,000 vehicles equipped with seat belts and supplied 200,000 more to dealers for installation. However, he said the company is disturbed because the rate of seat belt installation has fallen off in the last few months. He blamed the reduction in part on opposition from a "small vocal minority." He said the opposition was based on "misinterpretation of data from a relatively small number of accidents and tests."

 Col. John P. Stapp, an Air Force flight surgeon who traveled 632 miles an hour on a rocket sled and stopped in one and a half seconds—endorsed seat belts Monday before the subcommittee. "I wouldn't be caught dead without them," he said.
 Stapp's testimony added more evidence piling up before the subcommittee that seat belts can lessen or prevent injuries and save lives. However, the subcommittee also expects to hear from at least one independent researcher who claims belts are dangerous.

HOLLYWOOD—Deputy District Attorney William L. Ritzki on the prosecution's case in the Confidential Magazine criminal libel trial: "We do not intend to introduce an abundance of bills. Let them (the defense) try the case that way if they want to, but we will prove the articles are obscene and libelous without reading them into the record."
