NM Police Search For Triple Slayer

TINNIE, N. M. (UP)—Police cordoned off a 100-mile square area around this small town today in a hunt for a man who terrorized a woman postmaster and is believed to be the madman murderer of three persons.

Postmaster Mrs. Virginia Guest, 40, told the state police the man entered the post office Tuesday and asked for a bed for the night. He then tried to cash a money order. Mrs. Guest refused both requests.

The man looked at the criminal wanted posters on the bulletin board and asked her: "How come my picture isn't up there?" Mrs. Guest said the man asked her to accompany him to his car, but she refused.

"I have something in my car that will make you come with me," she quoted him as saying. Then he started for his car, a red 1952 Hudson.

Fired Shot at Man
Mrs. Guest took a revolver from a drawer and fired a shot in the man's direction. She said the man dropped and she thought she had hit him. But he got up, ran to his car and drove away.

One of the madman murderer's victims, truck driver J. D. Cantrell, 26, was found early Tuesday, 30 miles east of Carlsbad. Cantrell had been shot five times at close range with .22-caliber bullets.

Thirty-five miles away the bodies of two divorcees were found. They were Mrs. Barbara Lemmons and Mrs. Dorothy Gibson, both 23 and both from Hobbs, N. M. They, too, had been killed with .22-caliber slugs. Their bodies were discovered 10 miles south of Hobbs six hours after Cantrell was found.

No Motive Obvious
Sheriff Jewell McAdoo said the former husbands of the dead women, Charles Lemmons of Carlsbad and Pete Gibson of Hobbs, and Hoyt Lynch, who had accompanied the divorcees to a dance the night they were killed, all had agreed to take lie detector tests. He said that none was a real suspect.

There was no obvious motive for the killings. Robbery was ruled out because neither Cantrell's wallet nor the women's purses had been rifled. Neither of the women apparently had been sexually molested.

"The killer obviously is dangerous," state policeman J. A. Smith said.

Seaman Sure Of Sheppard Case Motorist

WATERLOO, Iowa (UP)—A merchant seaman held fast today to his identification of a suspicious motorist who gave him a ride at Bay Village, Ohio, several hours after Marilyn Sheppard was killed three years ago.

But, temporarily at least, he called off a plane flight to Florida to positively identify Donald J. Wedler, 23, who "confessed" the slaying, as the motorist.

Wedler's confession has been called a "phony" by the Ohio officials who investigated the murder and prosecuted Dr. Sam Sheppard, who is now serving a life term.

Sheppard's attorney, William J. Corrigan, at first told the seaman, Ernest J. Kolofolias, 32, he would pay his expenses for a flight to Florida to see Wedler, the seaman said.

But Corrigan said later in Cleveland Kolofolias' identification "means nothing to me."

Corrigan withdrew the expense offer and told Kolofolias to go to Florida "if you want to." Kolofolias said. With that, Kolofolias canceled his flight plans and said only that "maybe" he would go to Deland, Fla., to see Wedler.

"That still doesn't change my identification of the man, Ko identification of the man, Kolofolias said. "He is the man or his twin brother."

"I want to go to Florida for the fact that I don't want anyone to think I'm afraid to face that man," he said.

Kolofolias, shown United Press Telephotos of the bushy-haired, 23-year-old Florida convict Tuesday, declared he was the motorist he saw the day after the murder of Mrs. Sheppard at her suburban home.

Police said that a neighbor had been checking the house regularly, but that they had gone on vacation July 9, and returned yesterday. Evidentially, according to the police, the house was wrecked sometime during this period.

Sheetrock walls inside the house had been kicked in and other fixtures badly damaged. There was no estimate of the damage.

Officers said they hoped to have something on the case today.

Election Tuesday Commissioners Favor Rejoining CRMWA

The election next Tuesday to determine whether Pampa will rejoin the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority was a topic of discussion late yesterday in the meeting of the City Commission.

The election next Tuesday was set by the directors of the water authority after that group received a petition from Pampa to have the election held.

An election will be held in Amarillo on the same day to see if that city will rejoin the authority. The same type of election will be held in Plainview on August 6.

Pampa was an original member of the CRMWA but when the cost of water to be supplied by the authority appeared too costly in 1955, Pampa withdrew from the authority. Since that time the authority has decided against private financing and has decided to make an attempt to obtain federal financing.

In the meeting yesterday, Mayor Lynn Boyd pointed out that the election next Tuesday is only for the purpose of rejoining the authority. If it develops that the cost of water will be too high under the present plan Pampa can once again withdraw from the authority, he pointed out. "Pampa has certain rights to the water from the Canadian River and we should go back into the authority so that we can be represented in any action and protect these rights," Mayor Boyd stated.

Robert D. Olson, commissioner of Ward 4, stated, "I'm in favor of going back into the authority, the cost of protecting our rights to the water will be low and we should do everything we can to make sure Pampa has adequate water in years ahead."

Ed Myatt, commissioner of Ward 1, declined to make a statement while R. K. Parsley, commissioner of Ward 3, and J. A. Vaughn, commissioner of Ward 2, were both in favor of protecting our rights to the water.

If Pampa rejoins the authority there will probably be a small assessment on all water meters in town so that the cost of operations of the authority can be paid. This will be similar to the assessments made when Pampa was formerly a member of the authority, directors of CRMWA have informed local businessmen.

Pampa will not be responsible for any debts contracted by the authority while Pampa was not a member of the authority and it is the responsibility of the authority to pay them.

Rackets Group To Question Union Heads

By HERBERT FOSTER
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate Rackets Committee wants two top officials of the United Textile Workers to explain the use of more than $100,000 in union funds for such items as slips, brassieres, TV sets and private homes, a spokesman said today.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy told reporters the committee would go into alleged misuse of union funds in the past three years by Union President Anthony Valente and Secretary Treasurer Lloyd Klenert. He said prior union records have been destroyed.

Today's morning committee session was cancelled so Kennedy could testify in the federal contempt trial of a Teamster Union official, Nugent Lapoma. An afternoon session was planned if the court appearance did not interfere.

$100,000 Involved
Kennedy told newsmen the union officials would be questioned about more than $100,000 including $57,000 Klenert has admitted they used as down payments on two plush homes in a Washington suburb.

Kennedy said the committee would also inquire where Klenert and Valente raised another $37,000 to replace the union funds they originally used. He said this would involve loans endorsed by employers with whom the union held contracts.

The committee accused Klenert Tuesday of loading his union-paid hotel bills with charges for brassieres, slips, radios, a TV set, and—though they were not further explained—a "milk stool" and a "golfer's lamp."

Klenert told reporters the items might have been charged to his $6,500 a year personal expense allowance, which he said the union recently discontinued after raising his salary that amount.

He said he used the expense allowance to buy gifts for persons who had done favors for the union—or for himself. For instance, he said, he might buy stockings for female organizers who had done a good job for the union.

Elks Receive Five Transfers

Five transfers were accepted into the Pampa B.P.O.E. Lodge, No. 1573, as well as nine initiations during a ceremony held at 9 p.m. yesterday in the Elks' home on North Hobart.

Transfers were F. N. Anderson from Borger; W. H. Lantz and Miles "Red" Edwards from Perryton; H. B. Cox from Abilene; and Raymond E. Wilson from Mt. Carmel, Ill.

Those initiated into the lodge by LeRoy McBride, initiating officer, in the absence of Clayton Husted, exalted ruler, were R. C. Forrester, George A. Mitten, Leland R. Enterline, John R. McBride, George Quibble, Ed McDonnell and Harry Hoyler Jr., all of Pampa. Compton "Bull" and J. T. Foster, both of Perryton, were also initiated.

Explains Reasons: Legion Head Refuses To Sign Beer Permit Request

Lester A. Jones, commander of the Kirley Crossman American Legion Post here, said today that he would not sign a request for renewal of a beer permit for the club. "I am operating as the American Legion Club."

"I feel the club has been operated as a detriment rather than a benefit to the principles of the American Legion," Jones said. Post rules state that the renewal request must be signed by the commander and the adjutant. A majority vote of the members present is also called for, but according to Jones this has not been strictly adhered to in the past.

The present beer permit is to expire in August. Jones said that many of the members of the local post had not been satisfied with certain practices and policies which had been carried on in the club.

"The title to the building is not in the name of the American Legion, but in the name of the trustees who control the club's operation. Post members do not receive income from the club or control its operation," he stated.

He pointed out that funds had been raised for the purchase of the building by members of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, but that a group of trustees have been in control of its operation.

Jones felt that the Veterans of Foreign Wars Commander, Elmer D. Young, would not sign a request for renewal either. Another meeting of the post is not anticipated until September.

All requests for renewal of beer permits must first be approved by the city and county and then submitted to the State Liquor Control Board for final action.

Gray County Judge Bruce Parker said this morning that a Liquor Control Board official would be in the city in a few days, and the case would be turned over to him. The American Legion Building is located at 113 S. Russell.

Grand Jury Meets Friday

The Grand Jury of the Gray County 31st District Court will be called into session at 10 a.m. Friday to hear evidence in all cases pending in District Court. Bill Waters, district attorney, reported today.

The Wheeler County District Court yesterday heard a plea of guilty by Truman Shiver, 19, of Shamrock on a charge of burglary of a private residence. Waters reported.

Shivers was charged with taking $40 from the basement of Mrs. Nora Chapman in Shamrock last December. The court gave Shivers a five year probation and ordered him to repay money not recovered from the theft to Mrs. Chapman within 30 days. Waters stated.

Decision Overrules U. S. District Court

By UNITED PRESS
The Fifth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans Tuesday ordered public schools of Dallas, Tex., desegregated "with all deliberate speed" and opened the way to a court test of school segregation at Miami.

The sweeping decision coincided with historic decisions of three North Carolina cities to accept at least 12 Negroes voluntarily in previously all-white schools.

The appeals court overruled the northern U. S. District Court of Texas which had thrown out the complaints of 28 Negro children and their parents who sought admission to white schools through court action.

The court held that the Negroes had been denied a right to attend the public schools of their choice "solely on account of their race or color, but did not order Dallas schools integrated immediately.

Under the ruling the schools may remain segregated until a detailed study can be made of 12 key questions relating to the possible effects of integration. But this ground work for integration must proceed "with all deliberate speed," the court said.

In a second decision the court overruled a finding of the southern U. S. District Court of Florida that Negro plaintiffs in Miami had not been denied their rights. This decision opens the way for integration of Dade County schools.

The school boards of Charlotte, Winston-Salem and Greensboro, N. C., voted to admit the scattered Negro applicants to white schools under a state pupil placement law that had been regarded as intended to forestall integration.

The board's official position had been that it realized that the schools must be integrated but pleaded for time to make study of the problems. The original petition urged that the schools be opened to Negroes immediately.

Dr. Edwin L. Rippy, president of the school board, said Tuesday night the board was not surprised by the court's action. He said the board had planned to give a statement of policy in early August.

"You will recall the same complaints appealed—Judge (William H.) Atwell's ruling two years ago that they had filed suit to integrate prematurely following the U. S. Supreme Court integration edict," Rippy said.

The appeals court reversed the district court. In view of that, we are not surprised this time that the appeals court has reversed Judge Atwell's thorough and plainly stated decision that Dallas schools were to remain segregated pending detailed study.

"The appeals court ruling two years ago was two-to-one in reversal. So we expected about the same situation this time. So far as we are concerned, we considered it the same case that merely has been pending for two years."

W. J. Durham, attorney for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said "naturally I am very happy" about the decision but reserved broad comment until he has had time to read the decision.

Durham was one of the attorneys who brought suit in Dallas in September, 1955, when some 20 Negro students showed up at white schools and asked to be enrolled. When they were turned down, the NAACP brought suit. See BOARD, Page 2

Lloyd Kuntz Toastmaster Top Speake

Winning speaker at the weekly dinner of the Pampa Toastmaster's Club, held at Poole's Drive in last night, was Lloyd Kuntz. Griswald Rogers, toastmaster for the evening, presented the speakers.

Table-top master was Bill Pelly, who introduced eight topical speakers. Evaluators for the evening were Bill Goff, Otis City and C. B. Lutes. General evaluator was Horton Russell.

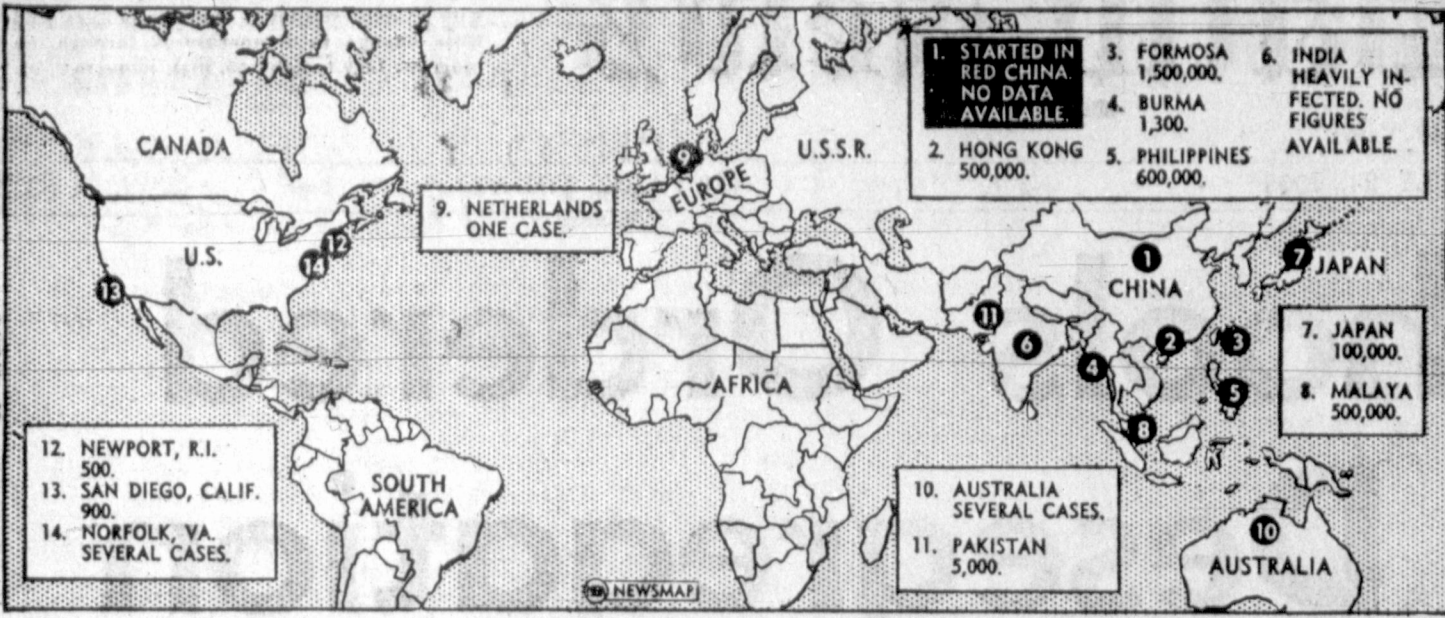

The members and two guests attended the meeting. Guests were Alfred J. Smith and Loren S. Atlaway. The club welcomes any newcomers to Pampa to visit the weekly meetings held each Tuesday at 6:15 p.m. at Poole's Drive in.

LATEST ADDITION TO FIRE DEPARTMENT
The latest addition to the Pampa Fire Department is the 85-foot aerial ladder truck which arrived yesterday morning. On the ladder platform, left to right, are Fire Chief Ernest Winborne; Henry Ginn, Seagraves engineer; and Bill Powers, department shift captain. Ginn, who delivered the new truck from the Seagraves factory yesterday morning, is explaining the operation of the ladder controls to the two men and will remain in Pampa to give instruction to all firemen. The new aerial ladder truck will be stationed at Central Fire Station. (News Photo)

WHERE FLU SWEEPS—The mysterious influenza—dubbed "Asiatic flu"—raging through the Orient has the U.S. Public Health Service and other health agencies speeding preparations for any large-scale outbreak in this country. Rush tests are being made of a new serum, which is not a cure but a preventive. The serum can be developed quickly in a culture of fertile hen eggs, now in ample supply. Complications accompanying the worldwide "Spanish flu" pandemic of 1918-19 accounted for most of the 20 million dead. The current virus is comparatively mild and not expected to be a great killer. Only half of 1-per-cent-afflicted—about 300 persons—have died so far. Newsmag shows areas affected and number of cases reported.

Allies Discuss Red Note

LONDON (UP)—Western delegates met in secret today to decide if Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin's new letter on disarmament means a breakdown in the five-power conference here.

The letter, expected to be released later today, firmly rejects British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's attempt to speed a first-step agreement on arms cuts.

U. S. Delegate Harold Stassen and chief delegates from Britain, France and Canada huddled at the Foreign Office to study the Bulganin message before going into the main disarmament conference.

The U. N. disarmament subcommittee is due to report to its 12-member parent committee a week from Thursday. Some officials believed Bulganin's stern letter was part of Soviet preparation for breaking off talks then.

So far, informed sources said, Soviet deputy foreign minister Valerian Zorin had not officially indicated what he has in mind for after Aug. 1.

The recent Soviet moves jeopardizing prospects of nearly agreed intensified Britain's drive to attain self-sufficiency in the production of nuclear weapons, according to informed sources.

A strong hint of this was given by Defense Minister Duncan Sandys in House of Commons debate. Sandys said banning of tests would penalize Britain in the drive to match the nuclear weapons stockpiles of the United States and Russia.

Sandys made it clear that the issues of conventional and nuclear disarmament are linked. He pointed to the numerical superiority of Communist conventional armed forces and stressed the Western reliance on nuclear weapons strength to keep the peace.

Southern Senators To Give Civil Rights Jolting Blow

WASHINGTON (UP)—Southern senators today readied a jolting blow to President Eisenhower's civil rights bill.

The Senate scheduled a vote this afternoon on an amendment that would strike from the bill Part III—the provision giving the attorney general broad powers to seek injunctions in civil rights cases generally.

Supporters of the amendment confidently forecast passage. One authoritative source forecast 55 to 60 votes in its favor. Opponents of the amendment privately conceded defeat.

Passage of the amendment would leave the bill primarily aimed at protecting voting rights.

The southern forces prepared their next attack at this section of the bill. They seek to make it include the right of jury trials for persons accused of contempt in voting rights cases.

The southerners said the conviction Tuesday of 11 segregationists for contempt at Knoxville, Tenn., clinched the argument for jury trials. Civil rights backers have contended that southern juries would not convict in civil rights contempt cases.

Wedler, who confessed to the bludgeoning slaying on July 11 to Thursday to "get a murder off my mind," was called a "phony" by Cleveland authorities who questioned him Tuesday.

Three police investigators from Cleveland denounced Wedler's confession.

But Lt. Gov. Paul M. Herbert of Ohio told United Press in London, where he is attending the annual convention of the American Bar Assn. that he did not think they were competent to express an opinion of Wedler's purported confession.

Dr. Samuel R. Gerber, Cuyahoga County, Ohio coroner, one of the officials who denounced Wedler's confession after the questioning Tuesday, said Wedler became "angry and aggravated" when they told him they believed it to be phony.

Herbert commented that Gerber and the others "were all competent," who was one of Sheppard's defense attorneys, said he thought Gerber should submit a lie detector test regarding his testimony at the trial.

Cage Wants To Turn State's Evidence

FORT WORTH (UP)—Ben-Jack Cage wants to turn state's evidence in an investigation of his defunct ICT Insurance Co., according to the Fort Worth Press. District Attorney Henry Wade of Dallas said Tuesday he hasn't had any "direct" dealings with Cage.

He refused to comment on whether Cage's representatives have approached him with a deal whereby Cage would turn state's evidence and tell all, "including dealings with the Texas Insurance Commission, in return for special consideration."

Cage is under indictment by a Dallas county grand jury for embezzlement of funds from the ICT, which he once headed.

During two legislative investigations and two grand jury investigations, Cage was painted as a playboy promoter who spent the ICT into receivership.

Cage has been in Brazil for several months. He has promised to return to face the charges but has continually put off the date he sets for appearance in Texas.

Judge Atwell turned down the request for immediate integration. The NAACP then took the case to the New Orleans court which ordered Judge Atwell to hear the case.

In the second hearing, Atwell ruled that the school board was fulfilling its obligations toward the Supreme Court decree and again dismissed the suit, pointing out there were "civil wrongs" as well as "civil rights."

No Deadline

Tuesday's decision did not lay down a deadline for compliance with the ruling. But the order written by Judge Richard T. Rives pointed out that the Negroes "at least are entitled" to the "deliberate speed" for which they pleaded.

Rives noted the school board's good faith but said that "faith by itself, however, without works, is not enough." He referred to the school board plan of keeping school segregated until a detailed study could be made of 12 key questions on the effects of integration.

Rippy said the board would go ahead with plans for its statement of policy in August. He did not say the school would integrate nor did he say that further court action was planned. But he said the board would give out a "fuller statement" after its attorneys had a chance to read the decision.

The board president said the board has been studying state legislation that was passed "in an effort to correlate with the federal court decree." He said the board probably would report soon on the studies of the 12 key questions.

A Cairo dispatch said Egyptian military intelligence officers were questioning Eylon today to establish whether he was an Israeli army man. Officials said Tuesday they suspected he was.

Krushchev Has Trouble Uniting Reds

Foreign News Commentary
By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Nikita S. Khrushchev is having a lot of trouble in his attempt to re-establish what he calls unity in the Communist world.

In his recent speeches, Khrushchev has emphasized that he wants to form "a broad socialist front" and to "strengthen friendly relations within the socialist camp."

What he means is that he is determined, if he can, to stop the drift away from Soviet Russian domination of other Communist countries and to restore Moscow as the authority on Marxian doctrine.

Confers With Leaders
Especially, Khrushchev wants to get President Tito of Yugoslavia back in the "socialist camp."

In this attempt Khrushchev conferred in Moscow last week with Yugoslav, Bulgarian and Albanian leaders.

But Tito shows no disposition to give up any of the independence he won when he broke with the late Josef Stalin in 1948.

Mao Tse-tung and Chou En-lai of Red China seem well contented also in continuing to assert themselves as co-equal authorities on Communist philosophy.

And now Premier Joseph Cyrankiewicz of Poland has joined Polish Communist Leader Wladyslaw Gomulka in restating Poland's position as at least a semi-independent unit in the Communist world.

Poland, Cyrankiewicz said in a speech in Warsaw Sunday, is impelled to "follow attentively" what is happening in Yugoslavia and China.

Poland Improves Relations
Cyrankiewicz said that Poland has improved its relations with fellow Communist countries in recent months, and especially with Russia.

But he added that Poland also had improved its relations with other countries, including the United States, Britain, France and Yugoslavia.

This may draw a retort from Khrushchev. During his tour of Czechoslovakia which ended last week Khrushchev spoke somewhat bitterly of Marshal Tito's improved relations with the United States and other non-Communist countries.

Skiffle Sweeps England

By TOM A. CULEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
LONDON (NEA) — Two thousand shouting, stomping, skiffle-mad Britons invaded Calais on a quiet Sunday recently to conquer France in the name of the newest jazz craze.

The skiffles who swarmed ashore from the Channel ferry, the S. S. Royal Daffodil, were bearded Teddy-boys in jeans and their long-haired Teddy-girl friends, the oldest of whom was pushing 18.

They came armed with guitars, banjos, washboards, tea-chests, rattles, drums, whistles, many of their instruments being assembled from the local rubbish dump.

Then, while the startled French looked on, they took over seaside bistros, made the cobblestone rock with their wild, insistent rhythms.

complete families of guitars," Emile Grimshaw, a leading London music dealer, told me. "Now we are importing hundreds of them from Germany, Spain, Czechoslovakia and Italy."

"Skifflers buy cheap guitars," Grimshaw added. "None of them is interested in music, only in learning to vamp a few elementary chords."

For banjos skifflers must comb the pawn-shops, as no British firm makes them. "Besides, new banjos with the purchase tax added are too pricey for the average skiffler," Grimshaw explained.

Despite the shortage of instruments, skiffle is flourishing in youth clubs and schools, has been carried to Germany on the backs of the British Army, River "skiffles" and cross-Channel excursions, such as the recent one to Calais, are of common occurrence, the skifflers chartering an entire boat for their outing.

One group meets at weekends in the pre-historic Chislehurst Caves in Kent, advising its fans to bring their own candles.

burst out in three or four-part vocal harmony in support of the soloist; the British having a tradition for part-singing which dates back to the Elizabethan madrigal.

Skiffle isn't everyone's cup of tea. Jaxx traditionalists hate it, seldom miss an opportunity to attack it as "Teddy-boy jazz." Thus, Humphrey Lyttelton, the elder statesman of British jazz, describes it as "a hybrid invention."

Music based on "a knowledge of three or four chords on the guitar and the ability to thrash a washboard" cannot possibly survive, according to Lyttelton.

Skifflers are the first to admit that their technique is primitive. Few among them can even read music. A whole generation of teenagers is learning to make music, instead of passively sitting back and listening to the canned variety on discs.

The most serious criticism leveled at skiffle is that it is slavish in its imitation of American folk-tunes.

"Frankie and Johnny," for example, has become "Stanley and Dora," the saga of a British movie usherette and a Teddy-boy. (Sample: "Dora was quickly promoted — To the Circle she rose in a dream — But who should see her but her Stanley — With the girl who sold ice cream.")

Disney To Add 'Sex Appeal' To Shows

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Walt Disney's two TV offerings have featured youngsters and cut animals, but this fall he'll launch a third show — with sex appeal.

Disney has been known as the man who put the ABC-TV network on the map with his "Disneyland," followed by "The Mickey Mouse Club." He's also the only movie producer who has yet to have a TV failure.

Now the unpredictable Disney will present what he hopes will be his third blockbuster on the home screens, a suave, mustache, sword-losing actor named Guy Williams.

Williams will start in a weekly series, "Zorro," recreating a role first immortalized in the movies by bounding Douglas Fairbanks Sr., and later by matinee idol Tyrone Power. The new show is taken from the classic novels and short stories about the legendary hero of southern California's Spanish rancho days.

With Disney's record for success, Groucho Marx on NBC and Bob Cummings on CBS may be in for a tough rating fight when "Zorro" is shown Thursday nights

Dixie Dugan
WHAT IF MY REQUEST ISN'T GRANTED?
TELL 'EM IT'S A MATTER OF LIFE OR DEATH!
DIXIE DUGAN!! WE HAVEN'T BEEN WONDERING GOT TIME TO TALK NOW, SALLY—I'VE GOT TO DEAD-HEAD IT ON THE AIRFREIGHTER
YEH—I BROUGHT HER HERE—I'M A FRIEND—HER MOTHER IS VERY ILL
THAT'S STRANGE! I JUST TALKED WITH YOUR MOTHER A FEW HOURS AGO—SHE WAS WONDERING WHAT HAPPENED TO YOU, TOO!

The Jackson Twins
WHAT DID WE FORGET THAT'S SO IMPORTANT, JAN?
THE FIELD GLASSES DADDY USES FOR BIRD WATCHING!
SAY, THAT IS AN IDEA, JAN—I ONCE SAW A CORNER OF A ROSE-BREADED GOSPEL AT THAT LAKE!
I THINK JAN'LL BE LOOKING FOR SOMETHING MORE LIKE THE BARREL-CHESTED TOM-HEAD TYPE, MR. J.
I THOUGHT WE WERE GOING UP THERE TO ESCAPE FROM BOYS! I THOUGHT JAN WAS OFF MEN!
I AM, BUT HOW LONG DO YOU WANT ME TO STAY OFF 'EM? A WHOLE WEEK?
OKAY, LET'S GO!

Blondie
WAKE UP IN THERE
THIS SLEEPING ON THE JOB HAS GOT TO STOP
WHAT WOULD HAPPEN AROUND HERE IF I TOOK NAPS DURING BUSINESS HOURS?
WELL, IT SURE WOULD TAKE THE PRESSURE OFF OF US

Alley Oop
WELL, SEEMING HOW DR. WONDOLG'S TIME MACHINE'S GONE TEMPERAMENTAL AGAIN, I GUESS I'M ON MY OWN FOR A SPELL.
I HAVEN'T THE SLIGHTEST IDEA WHERE I AM...
I COULD BE IN MESOPOTAMIA, ARGENTINE, OR JUST PLAIN OLD WESTERN KANSAS!
HMM, THERE'S A LIGHT!

Connie
I'VE GOT GOOD NEWS, DADDY, I LEARNED HOW TO MY SHOELACE!
GOOD GIRL! I KNEW YOU COULD DO IT IF YOU WOULD JUST-- --PRACTICE!

Joe Palooka
WHEN WE GET WEST WOODSTOCK FALLS, WE'LL GO ON A PICNIC ALONG THE BANKS OF THE BE-YOU-FUL-OLD-MISSIS-PRUNEY, WILL COME ALONG... TOO...
UH... I'M SURE I'LL LOVE HER... I'M GLAD WE'RE ALL LEAVING FOR HOME TODAY!
GOOD NEWS, IVY... YOUR BOSS RADICED HIS CONGRATULATIONS ON YOUR SENSATIONAL SCOOP!
HE WANTS YOU TO REMAIN IN TARANIA PERMANENTLY... AND SEND WEEKLY REPORTS... YOU'RE GETTING A RAISE AND A BYLINE!
FER GOSH SAKES, MISS IVY, DEAR... WHAT ARE YA GONNA DO!!!

Martha Wayne
HOW DID EVERYTHING GO AT THE OODS AND BENDS SHOP?
GO WHILE I WAS AWAY, THELMA?
MARTHA YOU SHOULD GO TO MORE CONVENTIONS! OUR SALES ARE UP TEN PER CENT OVER LAST JULY!
HOW'S YOUR EDITOR HUSBY?
JUST FINE!
HEY, AUNT THELMA, TELL HIM I'M ENTERING THE ESSAY CONTEST IN HIS PAPER!
BILLY WOULD YOU WANT ME TO TRY TO INFLUENCE ONE OF THE JUDGES?
GOSH, NO, I ONLY MEANT--
DON'T LOOK NOW, BUT YOU'VE JUST HAD YOUR LEG PULLED!

Bugs Bunny
BUGGY'S MEN'S SHOP
RATA TAT RATA TAT
RAT-A-TAT
RAT-A-TAT

Mutt and Jeff
SALESMEN, I CALLED YOU ALL IN TO TELL YOU THAT WE ARE STARTING A BIG SALES CONTEST!
AH!
THE CONTEST STARTS IMMEDIATELY AND I WILL BE THE JUDGE!
WHAT DOES THE WINNER GET, BOSS?
HE GETS TO KEEP HIS JOB!

Priscilla's Pop
I'm not afraid of mountain lions. Of bears I have no fear...
I know I'm safe because my brother's near.
My brother is so big and tall that I can't help but feel
No bears are going to eat me when He'd make a bigger meal!

OUR BOARDING HOUSE with MAJOR HOOPLE
THAT BED'S GOT A PEDIGREE, MAJOR!
MY BOSS IS ANTOINE PHILIBERT WHO CLAIMS HE COMES FROM A LONG LINE OF DUKES-- THE STORY IS THAT MADAME DE POMPADOUR DID A BIT OF SNOOZING IN THIS BUNK!
MY WORD, MONTMORENCY! HOW RARE-- HEY-HEY! WAIT-- TELL THOSE COARSE BOARDERS HEAR I'VE SLEPT IN A BED IN WHICH A LADY OF THE FRENCH NOBILITY ONCE GLUMBERED!
CONGRATULATIONS! EVEN ON AS HOT A DAY AS THIS, YOU GOT BACK WITH MY CONE AND ANCHOR OF THE ICE CREAM IS STILL IN IT-- YOU'RE IMPROVIN'
YEAH-- I THOUGHT SO TOO! THAT DOES DOWN THE STREET ONLY MANAGED TO LICK A LITTLE BIT OF IT THIS TIME!

The Berrys
PUT YOUR FOOT DOWN, PETE! YOU'RE GOING FISHING AND THAT'S THAT!
YEAH...
PAT (THIS IS WHERE I PUT MY FOOT DOWN!)
YOU DO AND I'LL HIT YOU RIGHT ON TOP OF THE HEAD!
WELL, DID YOU PUT YOUR FOOT DOWN?
SHE WOULD! I LET ME SHE'S BAKING A SPONGE CAKE IN THE OVEN!

Marty Meekle
I HAVE A NEW HOBBY, DOGS. WANT TO SEE MY COLLECTION?
PICTURES OF DOGS? THAT'S NICE
NOT PICTURES... DOGS
SHE WOULD! I LET ME SHE'S BAKING A SPONGE CAKE IN THE OVEN!

Little Doc
CAN YOUR LIL BROTHER TALK YET?
HE DOESN'T NEED TO WAAH!
HE HAS ONLY TO YELL AND HE GETS WHAT HE WANTS!

Wash Tubbs
PARKED NEAR SCARBO'S HOUSE, TED WAITS FOR "JOCK WHITTLE" TO EMERGE

Credit Original Ensemble Is Symbol For Credit Women's Club Installation

The Pampa Credit Women's Club held its installation of officers in the home of Mrs. C. J. Bryan, 1145 Wells.

Preceding the installation, the outgoing president, Mrs. Ethel Egan, gave the annual report and expressed appreciation to all for their cooperation during the year. An over-all report of club activities was sent by Mrs. Mary Ellen Elliott, recording secretary, who has moved to Perryton.

Mrs. Bryan presented the installation of new officers in the form of a new ensemble, "The Credit Original." Mrs. Ethel Stilwell served as the model.

"We begin with a good basic dress, just as the Lone Star Council begins with basic plans for a credit club," Mrs. Bryan began. "The belt is 'a must' for it keeps her costume together and adds distinction. Our president, Mrs. Virginia Cox, fastens the clasp assuring all that under her leadership she shall be clasped together with love for our club and for one another."

"The shoes protect the busy feet of our first vice president, Mrs. Bobby Brummett, who is kept busy visiting and encouraging members and helping to enlarge the membership. Just as the hat is used to accentuate the entire costume, so the second vice president, Mrs. Virginia McDonald is to accentuate the entire fellowship among credit clubs."

"Gloves match the other accessories and as she slips a dainty hand in each, she is reminded that her hands must be very busy about the club's work. So our recording secretary, Mrs. Ruby Crocker and our corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ethel Stilwell, will find many tasks for their efficient and capable fingers. Our well-groomed lady must have an appropriate bag for the treasurer, Mrs. Claudia Nees, to dispense it with care and caution."

"Earrings," Mrs. Bryan continued, "are added for sparkle and dignity, just as the program chairman, Mrs. Vena Riley, strives to collect and carefully choose the most interesting and challenging material to best fit each program."

"One of the most useful and necessary articles is a handkerchief. It's usefulness covers many phases and cannot be overlooked as a real value, just as the finance chairman, Mrs. Mamie Peoples has a vital function."

"The bracelet adds charm, so the entertainment chairman, Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis, must work to add thrills and excitement to the credit original. Her compact, to take a brief look and check to make sure everything is in place is the purpose of the hostess chairman, Mrs. Leola Higgenbotham. A string of pearls adds an air of quiet dignity and charm and symbolizes the office of the employment chairman, Mrs. Marie Wood. As the watch on her arm is a constant reminder of things to be done and time for meetings, so will our attendance chairman, Mrs. Lydia Gilchrist, keep reminding us of our duty to be at our place at all meetings."

"Now you have the Credit Original complete. This costume may be procured in any size, but not without considerable price, because of the high quality of its service. It's price cannot be measured in dollars and cents, but in time, effort, prayer, talents and love. Remember, it takes time to develop such a costume. Please keep the Credit Original before you as a reminder of the aim or goal in presenting a well-groomed credit club," Mrs. Bryan concluded.

Refreshments were served during the social hour.

Members present were Meses. Ethel Stilwell, Virginia Cox, Elizabeth Lewis, Lydia Gilchrist, Juanita Suttle, Leola Higgenbotham, Leola Nicholson, Claudia Nees, Virginia McDonald, Ruby Crocker, Billie Tarvin, and Ethel Bryan.

Members surprised Mrs. Bryan with a house-warming, following the meeting.

RUTH MILLET
Glorious Autumn Is Reflected In Dress

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK (NEA) — Though the bride may tuck her beautiful dress away in folds of white tissue paper, bridesmaids usually have party plans for their dresses.

be most becoming. Then go to a good beauty salon and have it styled the way you want it.

Then start paying careful attention to every woman you see who is about your age. When you think a woman looks especially well-dressed and attractive, figure out why.

When a woman looks overdressed or drab or if her clothes are so much too young for her that they make her look ridiculous, size up the situation and find out how she has done wrong.

Then start out and plan one outfit, starting from scratch. Take plenty of time, looking until each article you buy is not only harmonious with the rest of the outfit but is as becoming as possible to you.

The girl who's a bridesmaid in autumn will have her eyes cast in the direction of coming holiday parties just as the June bridesmaid had in mind country club parties. And the autumn bridesmaid is lucky in this, for most fall brides like vivid color in their bridesmaids' dresses as contrast to the drama of the white bridal gown.

The bridesmaid who's going places after the wedding (maybe with her own wedding in mind) will cast her vote for a dress that stresses simplicity of line and rich color.

We show two such dresses here, one in the short and one in the floor length. Both are woven of chromspun acetate, a fabric that will keep its color indefinitely.

Short dress in satin (left) has topping of lace that's scalloped and banded just below the bustline. The very full skirt is made with two back panels. Color for this is gold.

The formal bridesmaid (right) wears a gown of taffeta in brilliant green. Her dress has a V-neckline, slim bodice and skirt that keeps its bell shape through an underskirt of net ruffles.

One of my women readers admits to a problem that probably troubles a good many women here.

She writes: "I know I don't know how to dress, and I'd like to know, I am well past middle-age and for the first time in my life I can afford a few good clothes and now I don't know what to buy. I am a little overweight, which makes my problem more difficult."

"I don't want to try to dress like a young woman but I know I don't look well in the kind of clothes I have been wearing. Where can I find how to dress becomingly and appropriate for my age?"

Not from fashion magazines, I'm afraid. In them you'll see a lot of extreme styles on a lot of undernourished models — all young and glamorous.

What you could do is study your face and figure in a mirror as carefully as you did way back when you were in your teens.

Make a fair appraisal of your good points and your bad points so you can learn how to play up the former and play down the latter.

Mrs. Tinsley Has Worthwhile HDC

The Worthwhile Home Demonstration Club met Friday morning in the home of Mrs. Roy Tinsley for a coffee.

Mrs. Tinsley, president, presided at the meeting, which was opened with prayer.

Mrs. May Cude demonstrated the making of kitchen curtains. "In making the cafe-style curtains, you should turn a three and one half inch hem down at the top," Mrs. Cude said. "Measure your window with the half of a three inch circle; a small saucer is a good measurer. Turn this back and stitch on the machine after you have cut your scallops. The material in between makes the tabs for the rods. Curtains can be made from unbleached muslin, bias tape or rick-rack. Any cottage-style curtain can also be made of plisse or thinner material and trimmed with ruffles."

Mrs. R. F. McCallip led the group in games for recreation.

The next meeting for the group will be with Mrs. J. C. Payne, 226 N. Ballard at 9:30 a.m. on August 2.

Members present were Meses. N. L. Welton, G. G. Smith, R. F. McCallip, J. L. Carlton, May Cude, W. G. Kinzer, and the hostess. Guests were Meses. Matilda Smith, Fatsy Vehon, and Danny Carlton.

Mrs. Pletcher Is Feted At Shower

(Special To The News)
PERRYTON — Mrs. B. R. Pletcher Jr. was honored with a pink and blue shower recently in the home of Mrs. Roy Entfield.

Co-hostesses for the occasion were Meses. Buddy Wilkins, George Detrich, Milton Sweigart and Rex Clark.

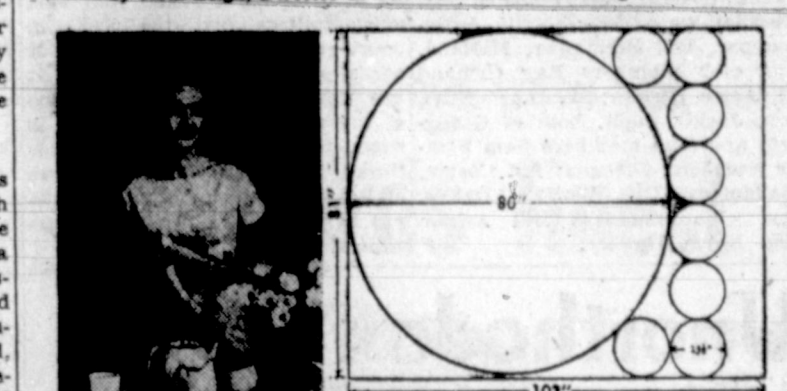

The entertaining rooms were decorated with arrangements of spring flowers.

Mrs. Wilkins received the guests and Mrs. W. J. Miller, mother of the honoree, assisted with the gifts. Mrs. B. R. Pletcher, Sr., Mrs. Miller, and the honoree were presented corsages.

Approximately thirty guests called or sent gifts during the afternoon.

Idea for A Charming Summer Table

By Ruth Leigh, Director of The Canning Homemaking Institute

Here's a new way to set a charming summer table. Make a round tablecloth and eight round napkins, from one combpun percale sheet. It's easy, decorative, and extremely economical. A double-bed size sheet, 81" x 108", yields enough material to make a round tablecloth 80" in diameter, and eight circular 13 1/2" napkins. For a Victorian effect, sew deep washable white cotton fringe around the tablecloth and edge your napkins with narrow white washable moss fringe.

To make this charming set, rip sheet hems, and in this way, gain five extra inches. All sheets shrink in length, so it's best to launder beforehand. To cut out the huge circular tablecloth, tie a pencil on a string forty inches long. Put a thumbtack or a pin at the other end of the string. Then set your pin in the center of the upper portion of the sheet, measuring first, to be sure you can draw a complete circle. Using string and pencil, compass fashion, outline the circle for the tablecloth. For the napkins you draw eight circles in the same way, measuring with a 6 1/4" string.

Isn't it amazing that a double-bed size percale sheet costing around four dollars, can give you this beautiful table setting? Ready-made, it would cost almost three times as much.

DCCW Conducts Summer Session

The board meeting of the Pampa district of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women was attended by members from six towns, when they met in summer session in the parish hall at White Deer.

Delegates to the Institute of the National Council of Catholic Women, which is to be held in San Antonio, August 12-16, were elected. Mrs. Charles Warminski, White Deer, will be the delegate, and Mrs. David Poundstone, Borger, is the alternate.

Mrs. Sam Kotara of Lark presented the message to the parish presidents. She explained the work of the DCCW.

Mrs. Warminski, district president, conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Fred Haiduk, diocesan president, Pampa, conducted the

Putting Tourney Tomorrow Night

The regular weekly putting tournament will be held tomorrow night at 7:30 on the putting green at the Pampa Country Club. Tournaments are held each Thursday evening, sponsored by the Ladies Golf Association. All entries should register before 7:30, so names can be drawn for partners before play begins. Tournaments are open to all persons interested, hosting both men and women contestants. Previous tournaments have had nearly 50 entries competing.

Gold Sox Host Pampa Fans Saturday Night

Pampa Night will be held Saturday night July 27 in Potter County Stadium for the Gold Sox game with the Des Moines Demons. A special section will be reserved for Pampa people. The Rebels, Pampa's American Legion district winners, will be guests for the evening.

Also attending will be a delegation of JCs and Rodeo officials, announced Kay Francher, who is heading the Pampa Night committee. Currently the Gold Sox lead the league in team batting at .299. They also lead in team fielding with a .958 average.

Plans Made For Pampa Entries To State Softball Tournament

Arrangements are now being made to enter two teams in the Men's State Softball Tournament to be held in Brownwood August 8 to 11. Charlie Wilkerson, Amateur Softball Association Commissioner for this district, announced that the two top teams in the Pampa tourney, to be held July 31 to August 4, would be the entries to the state tourney. The tourney to be held in Pampa is sanctioned by the Softball Association and qualifies the winners, with the approval of Wilkerson, to enter the state playoff.

The Brownwood tourney will be double elimination, with the winners and runners-up taking 25 percent each of the net receipts. Wilkerson stated that the league paid $10.00 to the state association for each team entered in the district tourney, and $20.00 for the two state entries. Winners in the Brownwood tournament will advance to the regional playoffs to be held in Houston on Labor Day weekend.

YOU'RE OUT! — It should have been pleasant sitting in the patio of his home in Meadowbrook, outside Philadelphia, but Robin Roberts preferred pitching for the Phillies to listening to the broadcast of their games. The right-hander was banished for "chuback" which followed "disputed play" in which he wasn't involved.

Shreveport Downs Dallas

Dallas slipped back to eight games in front of Houston in the Texas League Tuesday night. The Eagles bowed to Shreveport 8-4 while Houston was handing Fort Worth its second straight shutout, 4-0. Austin blanked Tulsa 3-0 in 10 innings and San Antonio split a doubleheader with Oklahoma City, winning the first game 8-0 and dropping the second 9-3.

Hoffman Nips Utility, 15-4

Hoffman continues to lead the Eastern Little League Race after trouncing Utility, 15-4, last night in a game played in Optimist Park. Winning hurler for the Hoffman team was Robins, who was relieved in the fourth by Mike Stone. C. Fletcher was credited with the loss for Utility. Stricklin, third base for Hoffman, sparked the winning attack with four hits and four runs for four times at bat. Score by innings: Hoffman 2 6 4 2 1 Utility 1 1 0 0 2

"Sunny Jim" Still Chuckles At Calendar In 83rd Year

By OSCAR FRALEY United Press Sports Writer OCEANPORT, N.J. (UP)—The man said he didn't have any stakes horses which looked promising for next year and he'd probably have to wait until 1959. What's so startling about that? Well, the man was "Sunny Jim" Fitzsimmons—and he was talking on his 83rd birthday. Don't bet against him, in the matter of hours or horses, either, because "Mister Fitz" has been chuckling at the calendar for those many years. His 83rd birthday was observed Tuesday at a party at Monmouth Race Track which he requested be "restrained in size."

He's had a lot of great horses, has "Mr. Fitz." Two of them, Gallant Fox and Omaha, won the coveted triple crown which includes the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes. It was he who saddled such recent greats as Nashua and Bold Ruler. One of his brightest memories is of that day in 1955 when he sent Nashua out in a match race at Chicago against Swaps. Nashua had been beaten by Swaps in the Derby and, in agreeing to the special race in which Nashua won easily, "Sunny Jim" was living up to his credo: "There's only one way to decide who's best — and that's to have 'em run against each other." His Biggest Thrill That wasn't his biggest kick, though, he admitted. "The greatest was by first winner as a jockey, at the old Gloucester Track in New Jersey," he recalled. "I rode a horse named Crispy and won by a sixteenth of a mile—but I was so eager I was still whipping him when we crossed the finish line." He has a pair of two-year-old stakes. "But the veteran who saddled more winners in 1954, when he was 80, than he ever had before, isn't too optimistic. "I might," he twinkled, "have to wait until the year after next."

Yankee Slugger Has His Greatest Day In Baseball

By FRED DOWN United Press Sports Writer Mickey Mantle's homer wasn't quite out of this world and the Chicago White Sox aren't quite out of the American League pennant race—but both points seem academic today in the wake of the New York Yankee slugger's "greatest day in baseball."

Frank Sullivan scattered 10 hits to pitch the Boston Red Sox to a 14 victory over the Kansas City Athletic and Billy Hoert won his third decision as the Detroit Tigers whipped the Baltimore Orioles, 5-2, in other AL games. Cleveland at Washington was rained out.

The Red Sox scored the only run of their game in the fourth inning when Jackie Jensen singled, went to third on Joe DeMaestri's error and tallied on Billy Conzolo's single. Sullivan struck out nine Athletics as he gained his ninth victory. Virgil Trucks suffered his fourth defeat. Bill Tuttle and Ray Boone had a double and two singles each to lead the tigers' nine-hit assault on four Baltimore pitchers. Hoert yielded seven hits in 8-2-3 innings before Harry Byrd came in to retire the last batter.

Braves Keep NL Lead The Milwaukee Braves retained their one-game lead in the feverish National League scramble when Bob Buhl's two-hitter gave them a 1-0 decision over the stumbling Philadelphia Phillies. The Brooklyn Dodgers beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 1-0; the Pittsburgh Pirates downed the Cincinnati Redlegs, 6-3, in 15 innings; and the Chicago Cubs blanked the New York Giants, 4-0, in the other NL games.

Johnny Logan tripled home Del Crandall in the second inning for the only run Buhl needed to notch his 11th win and second shutout. Milwaukee's Red Schoendienst singled in the eighth inning to run his batting streak to 20 games but Hank Aaron, back in action after five games, went hitless. Johnny Podres pitched a five-hitter to gain his fifth shutout and eighth victory for the Dodgers, who scored the game's only run in the second inning on reserve catcher Rube Walker's bases-filled single. Stan Musial singled in the first inning for the 2,900th hit of his career.

Pony League All-Star Team Picked

The Pony League All-Stars are practicing now for their opener in the series for district scheduled with Hereford there at 8 p.m. on August 1, announced John Pharr, manager of the team. Hereford will come to Pampa for the second game on August 2, and if a third is necessary, will be determined at that time.

The winner of the series will participate in the District 6 tournament at Abilene August 6 to 9. Pampa Pony League All-Stars, with the team they represent are: Randall Cross - Kist, George Duke - Pampa Paint & Glass, Dennis Duncan - Kist, Lucky Dunham - First National Bank, Don Hazel - Pampa Paint, Bill Langly - First National Bank, Don Owens - First National Bank, Frank Pryor - First National Bank, Jim Scott - Pampa Paint, Jim Stephenson - Pampa Paint, Larry Stroud - Cree Drilling Co., Larry Taylor - Kist, Le Roy Watson - Kist, Dicky Wills - First National Bank, Larry Wilson - Cree Drilling Co., and alternates Gerald Owens - Cree, and Keith Gregory - Cree.

Carlsbad Drops Ballinger, 4-3

By UNITED PRESS Slumping Ballinger dropped his third straight Southwestern League game Tuesday night as Hobbs and Carlsbad closed the gap between them and the West-erners.

Carlsbad whipped Ballinger 4-3 and Hobbs stopped Midland 11-8. It brought Hobbs to within five and a half games of league-leading Ballinger, and Carlsbad to seven and a half in third place. The Potashers put on a ninth inning rush to overcome a one-run deficit. Bob Boyd singled and John Yanchura tripled him home with the tying run. With two out, Don Risinger's single sent Yanchura home with the run that won.

All-Stars Favored Over League-Leading Dallas

DALLAS (UP) — The Texas League All-Stars are slight favorites to stop league-leading Dallas tonight in the circuit's annual classic at Burnett Field. Houston Manager Harry Walker, with eight members of his second - place crew on the All-Star squad, will send right-hander Billy Muffett (14-6) against Dallas' Murray Wall (15-7) for the first three innings of the game. No hurler can work over three innings unless the games goes into extra frames.

Manager Sally Parker plans to use every pitcher on his staff with the exception of Charles Fowler, who worked against Shreveport Tuesday night, and Tommy Bowers, who goes against Fort Worth Thursday. A capacity crowd of 10,320 is expected for the game. Dallas mashed the favored All-Stars 7-1 last year.

The All-Stars boast a trio of 300+ hitters in outfielders Jim Frey of Tulsa, leading the league with .326; Alberto Baro of Houston, .306; and Houston catcher Nelson Burbrink .305. Also outstanding are Houston's Ben Valenzuela at third, first baseman Pluge Brown and outfielder Eddie Haas of Fort Worth. Five Buffs Start Walker, with five Buffs in the starting lineup, has hurlers Howie Nunn (10-3) and Phil Clark (9-5) on call. The rest of the mound staff includes Ron Moeller of San Antonio (10-4), Mike Clark of Austin (9-7), Carroll Berringer of Fort Worth (7-8), Fred Baczewski of Shreveport (10-10) and Frank Baumann of Oklahoma City (4-4).

Pep Takes 19th Straight Over Tague

HOUSTON (UP) — Veteran Willie Pep won his 19th straight victory Tuesday night, a unanimous 10-round decision over Russ Tague. It was his second win over the 133-pound Tague, from Davenport, Iowa. He previously took a split decision from Tague. Pep, 181, fought in flurries and used his vast experience edge for the victory.

Yank's Dugout Air Conditioned

NEW YORK (UP)—It's great to be a Yankee these hot days at Yankee Stadium. When the Yankees returned home Tuesday night to open a 17-game home stand, they found their dugout has been air-conditioned—a five-ton unit wafting cool breezes up and down the bench while a de-humidifier gets rid of all that nasty moisture in the air. All this, of course, has been done in the Yankees' dugout. The visiting team still has to sweat it out.

Team Tourney Held At Odessa

ODESSA, Tex. (UP)—Another 21 teams shoot today in a special pro-am Odessa Country Club member tourney preceding the $10,000 Odessa Pro-Amateur tournament opening Thursday. The 21 teams were stilled Tuesday by a heavy downpour. They resume today where they left off when the rain fell. Three teams brought in 10-under-par 62's Tuesday. Among the 72 teams teeing off for the tournament Thursday will be Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn., and Billy Joe Denton of Wilton, Ark.; Bo Winger, Odessa, and Bobby Goetz, Tulsa, Okla.; Billy Maxwell and Bill Roden of Odessa; Byron Nelson of Roanoke, Va., and Mac Boring of Odessa. The three teams finishing low Tuesday were Elroy Martin, Houston, pro, Bill Hightower, Midland, and club members Ray Ormand of Cotton Kirklind; W. H. Parvino, pro, Jackie Cupit, both of Greggton, and club members Sam Fisher and John Dickens; Art Corbin, Dallas, pro, Dick Whetzie, Dallas, and club members Bill Ashton and Norm Hessler.

Anti-Trust May Doom Pro-Football

By TOM NELSON United Press Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON (UP)—The car of professional football laid today the sport may be "doomed" unless Congress acts to exempt some of its key features from anti-trust laws. Bert Bell, commissioner of the National Football League, proposed a four-point plan of exemption from a Supreme Court edict subjecting pro football to anti-trust regulation. Bell said in testimony prepared for delivery to a House anti-trust subcommittee that the Feb. 25 court ruling jeopardizes "the four essentials which in our judgment are necessary to the continuance of professional football as it is conducted today." The player "draft" system; The reserve clause; The commissioner's powers to govern the game; and territorial rights of teams.

Jackson's Unorthodox Style--He Never Stops Punching

By HARRY GRAYSON NEA Sports Editor NEW YORK (NEA) — Emil Lence was reminded that Hurricane Tommy Jackson was slightly unorthodox. "Well," replied Promoter Lence, "if throwing punches for three minutes a round makes Jackson unorthodox, he most certainly isn't stereotyped."

Practically all of the stories from Harry's Farm on the Delaware River, where Jackson trained for his return match with Floyd Patterson, had to do with Nature Boy's clowning. Those that didn't probed into his inner-sanctums in an effort to get a slant on his thinking, if any. Few have been disposed to take Jackson for just what he is and then go on to figure out just what chance the crazy-quilt clouter has against Patterson in 15 rounds at the Polo Grounds on July 29.

Hurricane Jackson Floyd Patterson had better not be tired in the ninth-round first trip.

As Tommy Loughran, the old light-heavyweight leader, points out, Jackson starts with his second wind. While the Hurricane can't dent an old felt hat, six feet two-and-a-half inches and 194 pounds is a lot of height and weight to be hurled at you for 15 rounds. Jackson's whirlwind attack is his chief defense and to date this young man with the inexhaustible stamina has been immune to punishment. Not even Patterson, the perfect boxer in the eyes of many, can have a plan of battle against Jackson. The reason is simple. Jackson doesn't know what he is going to do himself as he wades in slapping, backhanding and double uppercutting. As someone remarked, as champion Jackson would have schoolboys fighting backwards. Freddie Brown insists that Jackson is cute in his own way, although this is hard to observe from a ringside seat. "He lets go with some good ones here and there," testifies Trainer Brown. "He's more effective inside than you'd suspect. The reason is that he never holds and the other guy never gets any rest."

Jackson deserves to be better than "4-to-1" underdog. In 15 rounds, as opposed to the 12 he went with Patterson 18 months ago, the Hurricane could stir up considerable trouble. Harry Kessler, the most competent of the three officials in their previous outing, gave the decision to Jackson, only to be outvoted by two judges. A number of schooled observers agreed with the referee on the ground that Jackson never stopped logging the headaches. Nat Fleischer, editor of Ring magazine, was one. George Farnasus, the veteran manager, was another. A couple of old-line boxing writers concurred, including this one. Jackson made a strong fight, had a couple of big rounds. The ninth is remembered because it was then that Patterson looked like an awfully tired youngster. To the former Olympic champion's credit, he bounced back like an election repeater.

Construction Bids Due August 2

(Special To The News)
PERRYTON—Aug. 2 has been set as the deadline for submitting bids for the new Chamber of Commerce building in Perryton.

The sealed bids will be opened at the Chamber office at 10 a.m. that day.

Directors of the Chamber met recently and approved the plans submitted by Amarillo architect John Work for the new building. It will be located at the rear of the lot occupied by the present building.

The new building will be 50x25 feet, outside dimensions, and will be constructed of cinder block with brick veneer. It will face south, toward the courthouse.

The building will have a reception room, conference room, work room, storage room, and manager's office. It will have central heating and air conditioning.

When completed, the present structure will be torn down and the front portion of the lot converted into a parking and service area for the Baumann Cleaners.

Miss Perryton To Be Named August 20

(Special To The News)

PERRYTON—Plans have been announced for the "Miss Perryton" contest in which the city's representative for the "Wheatheart of the Nation" contest will be selected.

It will be held at 8 p.m. Aug. 20, at the Perryton Swimming Pool. A water show, featuring local performers, will be staged in connection with the contest.

Prizes of $50, $25, and $10 will be given the first three winners. The first and second place winners will compete in the Wheatheart contest.

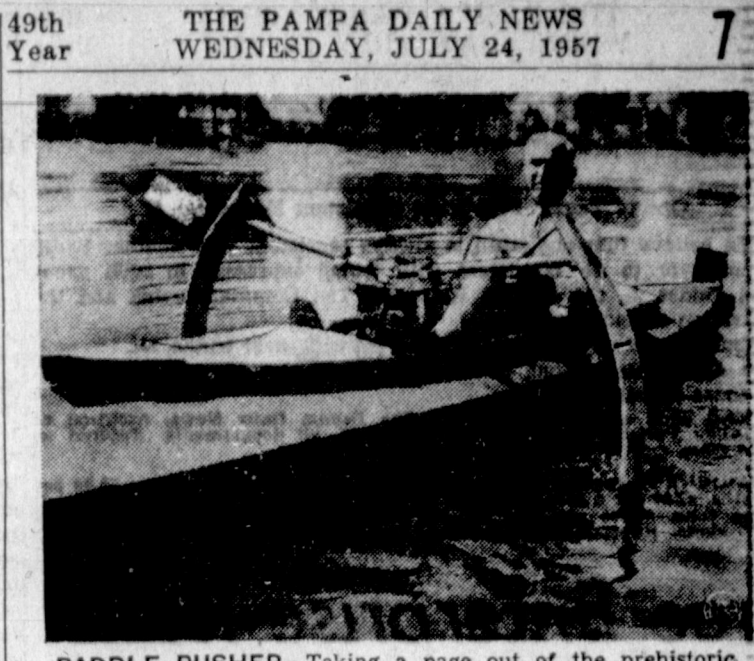

The first entry in the "Miss Perryton" contest was received this week. She is Miss Maurine Pearson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. D. Pearson Jr. She is a sophomore in Perryton High School and active in all school activities.

She will represent Suito's Service in the contest.

Members of the Wheatheart committee, who are making arrangements for this contest, are Mrs. Nellie Bryan, chairman; Mrs. C. A. Sooter, Bert Neeley; Mrs. Pearl Teeter, Mrs. W. C. Sanders, and Ken Roller.

The "Wheatheart" will go to Toronto, Canada, where she will be guest of honor at the Canadian National Exhibition, largest exposition of its kind in the world.

The Ministry of Publicity and Travel in Toronto is making arrangements for public appearances.

PADDLE PUSHER—Taking a page out of the prehistoric past, 75-year-old Friedrich Budig designed this pedal propelled craft, utilizing twin fins copied from the fins of saurians that lived millions of years ago. Cruising down the Rhine River at Offenbach, Germany, Budig drives the boat along via the foot pedals, with each movement of the fins, downward as well as upward, propelling the craft smoothly through the water. Budig estimates that maneuvering his boat requires only half the effort needed to propel a similar craft with regular paddles.

Tranquilizers Prove Useful In Treating Heart Patients

By DELOS SMITH
United Press Science Editor

NEW YORK (UP)—Tranquility-pill is an extremely useful thing in persons who have had heart attacks—since there rarely if ever is any tranquility in those persons without pills, two heart specialists have reported to their colleagues.

They "tranquilized" with pills 80 heart patients who were displaying much anxiety and tension about their illnesses, but anxiety and tension which seemed to arise from their minds rather than from diseased hearts.

In most cases, they continued, the "intense anxiety usually associated with acute cardiac disease" was relieved. This, "in many instances," helped "recovery from an acute episode" of heart trouble.

Much Study Needed
The specialists were Dr. Samuel Waldman of Long Island College, and Dr. Louis Felner of Brooklyn. In publishing their report, the editor of the technical journal, "American Practitioner," remarked:

ed that "obviously" their "thought is difficult of statistical evaluation and much clinical study will be needed to confirm this idea."

Their "thought" in brief is that emotional stress places a strain on the heart muscle. In the normal heart, this emotional stress, no matter how great, is less than the heart's ability to bear it.

"Every heart has a failure threshold, that is, a maximum work load that cannot be outdone without failure," they said. "In a normal organ it is difficult to force myocardial (heart muscle) function beyond the critical level, but the threshold of a damaged heart can be exceeded rather easily. At rest an impaired myocardium may still be clinically competent, but agitation, emotional upheaval or physical stress may precipitate cardiac insufficiency and failure."

They felt that the connection between anxiety and heart function was well established, both scientifically and in the accumulated folk-lore observations of unscientific people. For instance, they pointed out the physical mechanisms which "may account for the age-old belief that one could 'die of fright.'"

Dies In Rage
The great 18th Century surgeon, John Hunter, they recalled, had angina pectoris for 20 years and was so well aware of how his own emotions acted on his diseased heart that he said: "My life is at the mercy of any rascal who chooses to tease or annoy me."

While lecturing, he was contradicted. He struggled to contain his rage, and dropped dead.

Whether or not tranquility-pill aided their patients, Waldman and Felner reported, depended upon the amount of heart damage present.

"In dangerously ill patients with extensive infarction, in whom the disease appeared irreversible and rapidly progressive, there was no alteration of the inevitable fatal course."

They spoke of the tranquilizing drugs as a class, that is, the "ataraxics," thus suggesting trials with any of them. They themselves used meprobamate which is the best known to the general public as "the happy pill."

North Plains Co-op Gets $325,000 Loan

(Special To The News)
PERRYTON—North Plains Electric Cooperative of Perryton has received a loan of $325,000 from REA to make extensive system improvements and to extend their services to new members.

Earl Waide is manager of the co-op which serves Ochiltree, Hansford, Hemphill, Lipscomb, Hutchinson, and Roberts counties.

The major item in the improvement program is a sub-station to be built between Farnsworth and Waka. Work will be started on the steel structure sub-station this fall and it will include three transformers, with 1,000 kilovolt amperes capacity.

A number of single-phase and two-phase lines will be converted to three-phase because of the increased load. Studies are being made to determine which lines are to be converted.

Service will be extended to 120 new members at various locations in the six-county area.

Engineers for the project will be J. V. Payne and Associates of Enid, Okla.

Free Enterprise Rails

The Billings, Montana Gazette has given us an assist in understanding a little more about the American railroads. We have long hailed the railroads as a great pioneering adventure in free enterprise. Yet, we have also kept a mental reservation concerning these high iron steeds.

Wasn't it true that the railroads got their land originally with some kind of a special grant given them by the politicians? After all, the story goes, if it weren't for that original federal help, there would not have been any railroads at all. It was the government, then, not the private enterprisers, which bridged the continent. The roads would never have come into existence without the government.

Now comes the timely and important revelation. The railroads did NOT receive great tracts of land free of cost. What happened was this. There were a total of fourteen extensive grants made by the federal government to the various pioneering railroad companies. Additionally there were numerous state grants given which added to the territory to be spanned by iron girders. But in each of the federal cases, and in at least most of the state cases, the grant was not a free gift of land.

There was a string attached to the gift, which made each gift little more than the initial gambit in a deal. It was understood that the government would get to use the railroads and that the grant of land would entitle the government to reduced rates.

The total grant of land to all railroads by the federal government came to 130 million acres. At the time the grants were made, the value of these lands came to 94 cents an acre, for a total value of $122.2 million.

In 1944, the Board of Investigation and Research, a federal government agency, checked the records and disclosed that up to June, 1943, reductions in rates to the government had totaled $580 million. So that in fact, instead of a free grant of land, the federal government had been reimbursed with a profit of over $400 million for the 94-cent an acre land it had deeded to the roads at the outset. From 1943 on, the federal government has saved approximately $20 million per month on its use of the rails.

By the end of 1945, this reduction came to $1,180 million. This is 9 1/2 times as much as the estimated value of the lands at the time they were originally passed over to the rail companies.

The process has been continuing right on up to the present day, for the railroads have never denied the government the reduced rate originally secured by the federal land.

So it is true that the federal government did help out the roads when they started. But in the operation of the roads, the companies have repaid the federal government many times over. Thus it was never something for nothing that got our country underway as a great throbbing unit of industry and production from coast to coast. It was something for something. And while we have questioned the morality of the railroads in accepting this grant, we now see that our questioning was unfounded. The taxpayers were not deprived of what was truly theirs with special interests raking in the gravy. Rather, the so-called special interests have paid for what they received over the long years of their operation and it is undoubtedly true that that payment will be continued indefinitely, in addition to the payment of taxes made by all the companies on the land that they own.

We are most grateful to the Billings Gazette for clearing up this matter.

It's Up To You

By HOWARD E. KERSHNER L. H. D.

Group Urges Surplus Be Sent To Commies

The National Planning Association is urging that some of our surplus farm products be sent to Iron Curtain countries.

According to Herbert A. Philbrick, most of the anti-communist refugee organizations oppose such sendings.

Mr. Philbrick quotes The International Peasant Union as follows: "For some years now, the democratic powers have been appealing to the people subjugated by the Communist dictatorships and victimized by Soviet imperialism, to resist with all their strength and by all means at their disposal, the forcible political, economic and social enslavement of the Soviet system. They were urged to work slowly, to sabotage the economic plans of their oppressors and exploiters (who) threaten the very existence of human freedom and civilization in general."

"At great sacrifice, the Peasant Union points out, this was done with the result that the Communist economic system was shaken to its very foundation."

According to the Peasant Union, it was this sabotage which caused the repudiation of the "infalible Red deity, Stalin." This development signified nothing short of ideological and political collapse of the Communist tyranny in the Soviet Union as well as in the subjugated countries.

Continuing, the International Peasant Union declares "It is incomprehensible that at the moment when the captive peoples had succeeded in disrupting the economic system of the whole Soviet sphere, the free world should appear with proposals of affording material aid to Communist regimes that had been shaken and weakened by the resistance of the peoples."

According to the Peasant Union, all aid to Communist countries, including Poland and Yugoslavia, makes it that much harder for free, loving people, living in Communist countries, to overthrow their oppressors.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. Hoiles

Reader Pities My Ignorance And Bigotry

Lt. James P. Maguire of Harlingen, Tex., pities me for my ignorance and bigotry. He is referring to an article I had pointed out that President McDonald of a steel company contended that there was no need for an increase in the price of steel, I had contended that the financial reports made by corporations did not show the true profits because the government did not permit the corporations to set aside enough reserves to replace the tools worn out.

Mr. Maguire in his letter leaves out the word "enough," and because they permit some reserves, he contended it reports the true earnings statement.

The government only permits reserves equal to the original cost of the equipment. If it costs two or three times as much, as it does in most cases, the reserve does not take care of this extra cost. So the difference between the reserves allowed by the Federal government and the replacement cost of the machine is the amount that has to be deducted from profits before you have the true profit. Evidently Mr. Maguire overlooked the word "enough."

Natural Right To Associate Mr. Maguire submits the premise of the natural right to associate. There is no question that a man has a natural right to associate to create, or to use defensive force; but men do not have the natural right to associate to do something that would be wicked and a crime if done by an individual.

Would Mr. Maguire contend that men had the natural right to associate to rob a bank or to burn a building? Men have a natural right to associate to create but never a natural right to associate to destroy or to deprive any individual of his right to use his creative ability the way he best thinks he can use it.

Lower Total Wages Parasitical labor officers all admit that they cannot raise wages for their members without interfering with other workers' natural right to help establish values. Those who will answer questions without evasion or contradicting themselves about how to arrive at a fair and just wage (as no labor official will) do know that labor unions can not increase total wages; cannot raise the standard of living of all people. They well know that the standard of living of all people would be a lot higher if it were not for the policies of labor unions—limiting apprentices, limiting the rapidly with which they can learn, jurisdictional disputes, strikes, featherbedding, picketing, causing unemployment by too high wages or reducing the purchasing power of the dollar.

Will Mr. Maguire cite one national union that does not try to take away from an individual his right to make an individual bargain? Collective bargaining means just exactly what it says—there is no independent or individual bargain, that each and every man must become a pawn of the labor bosses. And collective bargaining keeps the individual from developing his faculties, and anything that does that is harmful to those interfered with and even to those in the collective bargaining unit. It stifles and puts them in a treadmill. They are hindered from advancing and developing their faculties to the fullest.

Mr. Maguire takes exception to my contention that no one knows what prices should be; that we cannot have a fair price of anything unless all people are permitted to help establish prices or values. He contends the newspaper sets the price of their newspaper, but the newspaper or no other producer has any way to coerce anybody to buy his product. They do not threaten to injure the individual who does not buy his product, as do collective bargaining labor unions. Of course the word "bargaining" is a misnomer. There is no bargain under duress, and when labor unions say, "This is our price. If you do not pay it we will strike and try to injure your customers, your stockholders and your suppliers," such an agreement is not a bargain or a contract. It's a case of surrender, where one man loses, that others may gain by choosing what he thinks is the lesser of two evils.

Who Pays? Mr. Maguire seems not to understand that the consumer, which is invariably other workers, in the end pays the wages. It is true that the employer advances the wages until he sells the product, but if he does not sell the product, the wages cease.

Question Would Mr. Maguire contend that it was fair and right and just for the employers to associate together for the purpose of keeping wages down by agreeing that if any employer paid more than agreed, he would pay a fine? The labor unions do this in reverse.

Does Mr. Maguire contend that it is right for the labor unions to have a law (the Clayton Amendment to the Sherman Anti-Trust Law) that makes it a crime for employers or others to associate together to interfere with the democratic market where all people are permitted to help establish values and not a crime for employees to do that?

Fight On Bill To Give Foreign Airlines Break

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Prominent aviation experts in House and Senate are backing legislation to prevent the Administration from granting concealed "giveaways" to foreign airlines for political and diplomatic rather than economic reasons. Unless checked, they charge that this policy will throw our great international carriers back on subsidy at tremendous expense to taxpayers.

In granting licenses to foreign lines to crisscross this country, President Eisenhower has frequently overlooked adverse reports from the Civil Aeronautics Board. He takes his advice from Secretary Dulles, who insists that these favors are necessary to retain the friendship of these competing nations. A Dulles spokesman recently said that the policy would be expanded.

When CAB turns down one of these requests, foreign governments owning or subsidizing these firms appeal to Dulles, threatening retaliation. Queen Juliana of Holland got permission for KLM to fly to Houston, Tex., simply by writing a letter to Ike, although CAB had voted unanimously against the Dutch firm's application.

REPEAL TWO LAWS (Down by FRANK CHODOROV)

As a result of the Senatorial investigation of the management of the Teamsters union, Congress will shortly be discussing corrective legislation. It isn't necessary. Such malpractices as have crept into the unions are the direct result of their size and powers, and their size and powers are the direct result of laws. It is the Wagner Act and the Norris-LaGuardia Act that made the unions what they are. To undo the evils that have grown out of these laws, no new legislation is necessary or desirable; all that should be done is to repeal these two laws — just wipe them off the books and leave the spaces blank. New laws to correct the effects of the old laws will be futile, because they will not remove the cause.

Incidentally, repeal of the Wagner Act will automatically do away with the costly and ineffective National Labor Relations Board, thus saving the taxpayer a much needed dollar.

MOPSY

person flying to this country, it is estimated that overseas airlines haul 70 on the return trip.

For one thing, European governments do not permit their nationals to take enough money abroad for extensive or expensive visits.

ONE-WAY BARGAIN — Two examples suffice to reveal the inequity of this procedure. An Australian line will soon be granted a license to fly to San Francisco and New York, thence to Europe. In return, an American firm will be permitted to fly to Australia, the South Pole, Tasmania and South Africa, a route traveled only by hardy birds. That is, of course, a one-way bargain.

TWA, under this supposedly reciprocal arrangement, can now fly through London to Frankfurt in Germany. It sought permission to fly on to Zurich, a distance of 178 miles, where its regular route continues to Athens, Cairo, India and Ceylon. But British BOAC blocked the request for fear of TWA competition. TWA lost $700,000 on this leg alone, although BOAC has been given lucrative routes in this country.

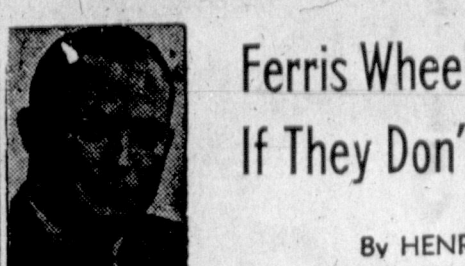

ENDEAVORS TO CURB GRANTS — The Senate has sought to curb these grants by passing the Smathers Bill for the second straight year. It requires the President to give Congress a full justification for overriding CAB in these matters. It also provides that a representative of the aviation industry sit in with Dulles' diplomats in negotiations on international air agreements.

Representatives Owen H. Harris of Arkansas, Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee Chairman, has a bill on the same subject. It would force foreign lines to furnish CAB with data on their traffic operations, which they refuse to do now. The publicity would show whether they fly empty planes to this country, and return with full pay loads. The purpose is to reveal that these are "sucker agreements."

Hankering

By HENRY McLEMORE

COPENHAGEN — I have shied away from amusement parks for many years. Ever since, to be exact, I spent the better part of a night on a Ferris wheel that got stuck in mid-air.

So, when I was told that no trip to Copenhagen would be complete without a visit to Tivoli, I said, "Okay, then my trip is going to be incomplete, for if Ferris wheels stick in Georgia in the summer, they are much more apt to stick here within sight of the aurora borealis."

But I went to Tivoli anyway. I always go where I say I won't. It's one of my virtues.

Now I'm glad I did. And I'm going back again.

There isn't anything quite like Tivoli in any other city of the world.

It's an amusement park all right, but one with a difference. The Danes call it a "pleasure park," and that's a happier choice of words. It sits right in the middle of town — all 850,000 square feet of it. Everywhere you turn there seems to be an entrance to the place.

Tivoli Gardens, to give it its full name, has been in operation since 1843, and in 114 years you'd expect the owners to have learned a thing or two about running a park. They have.

There is something in Tivoli for every taste. The young American sailors who were there the night before last — two destroyers are in the harbor — found all the liveliness they wanted. Tivoli hops and jumps from its opening at nine in the morning until its closing at midnight.

For the more sober-minded there is the concert hall, with three daily performances by a symphony orchestra. Only occasionally is there an admission fee to the concerts.

Tivoli's Pantomime Theatre is unique in Europe — in the world, for that matter. Nowhere else is the pure, unadorned pantomime performed, just as it was done in Italy centuries ago. This is for free, too.

If pantomime is a bit quiet for you, there is always the open air stage where there is an almost continuous performance in the evening. Singers, dancers, trapeze artists, performing bears, jugglers and magicians entertain thousands. And you can't beat the price — free.

Tivoli would be well worthwhile even if there were no effort made to entertain the customer. The gardens are among the most cultivated in Europe, and it's difficult to say whether they are more beautiful in sunlight, or at night under the soft lighting.

In wandering around the Gardens sharpens your appetite, then Tivoli is prepared to feed you. There are more than twenty restaurants in the place and they range from elegant to garden variety.

On summer nights it seems that all of Copenhagen, and most of its visitors, are in Tivoli. Crowds of 50,000 to 75,000 at an evening are common, and yet there is no

I look like we're going to have to alter our ideas of military training. Every American soldier needs to be taught how to charge a machine gun nest and how to throw himself on the mercy of a foreign court.

LONDON — The Rev. Canon H.G. Rorison, chaplain at Glamis Castle, on why he refused to marry a cousin of Queen Elizabeth to a commoner: "I considered it unsuitable to marry them. I could not do it without the consent of the rest of the family."

CHIP: MY DAD IS A BIRD WATCHER. WHAT IS HE WATCHING?

THE CHICKS ON MAIN STREET!

I can think of no nicer way to end an evening than having a late supper on the terrace of one of the many restaurants that border the lake, and watching the splendid fireworks that are fired near midnight. Not one of our little, puny fireworks displays, but one that would do credit to the Iowa State Fair on closing night.

BEFORE THE DISHES ARE DONE

BETTY KNOWLES HUNT EISENHOWER AND JEFFERSON

"I see with the deepest affliction the rapid strides with which the Federal branch of our government is advancing towards the usurpation of all the rights reserved to the States, and the consolidation in itself of all powers, domestic and foreign; and that, too, by constructions which, if legitimate, leave no limits to their power." Thus spoke Thomas Jefferson when our Republic was a mere baby!

Speaking to the State Governors the other day, President Eisenhower spoke in the same vein, and also expressed his opposition to the growth of Federal power in Washington. On this Fourth of July anniversary of our freedom's birth, there could be no more important subject, but it so both sad and alarming to note that Federal power has not only gone right on spreading its tentacles since Jefferson, it has gone right on since Eisenhower too! How come? He says it is because the 48 States neglect their own responsibilities, and since "nature abhors a vacuum," the Federal Government is forced to fill the breach. He implores the governors to stop "running to Washington" for help and start standing on their independent feet.

All well and good, but surely the entire blame, and the entire solution, does not lie with the 48 states. When a child becomes overly dependent upon its parents, it behooves the parents to "wean him," and embark upon a gradual, but persistent loosening of the apron strings and guiding hand. If these are always available to be grabbed the child is apt to cling. And this is quite as true of dependent children. The parent, or Federal Government, cannot always blame the child. At some point, it must say: "Sorry, but you're a big boy now, and besides, Papa is broke, so you'll have to solve this problem for yourself!" The States will assume their responsibilities much faster if Papa Government isn't quite so eager and willing to come to Junior's assistance.

Of course, Junior can't be blamed for holding out his hand if Papa has already taken most of his earnings! So the Federal Government might well start the process by letting Junior keep most of his own money, instead of taking it away and then doling it back again, minus a "managerial" fee. So long as Federal Taxes stay at their present level, it is a bit arrogant to lecture the States on taking care of themselves.

And if "diffused power" as well as "a balance of power" is truly the Eisenhower goal, then he will have to take note of some contrary tendencies in his own Administration. For example, Jefferson deplored any attempt by the Executive to dominate the legislative branch, yet on many occasions, President Eisenhower has seemed miffed, and even downright angry, when Congress has criticized one of his programs and policies. Likewise, the current Supreme Court, (including four of his own appointees, headed by Chief Justice Warren) seems to be showing little interest in "diffused power" or even "a balance of power." Rather it seems bent upon making all the 48 states surrender and conform to Federal decrees by the Judicial branch, and to be telling Congress what it can and cannot do! A government by "5 men" is hardly an example of "diffused power!"

Then too, there is the Constitutional "diffusion of power" in foreign affairs embodied in that phrase "with the advice and consent of the Senate." Has President Eisenhower encouraged this "diffusion," or has he tended to increase Executive "exclusiveness" in foreign agreements?

The President's speech was fine, and the governors should take it to heart, but it now behooves the Federal "parent" to practice what it preaches, and thereby set the example for the "children" to follow. Concrete action is always worth a thousand words, so before some of us uncross our fingers, we shall have to see the Federal Government give back some of its tax powers and policy prerogatives to the States!

PAINTED WITH SAND—Z. M. O'Neil, Provo Canyon, Utah, displays two samples of his sand art which he is painting using the colorful sands of his native Utah. Flat, non-removable sandpaintings are common in Paris, but O'Neil, a 34-year-old resort manager, claims that his sand pictures are the only ones which can be turned down without getting out of shape. After constructing a simple natural wood frame with double glass spaced about two inches apart, O'Neil carefully makes the picture from the bottom up, using colored sand and following up gradually with plain sand for support until frame is full and then sealed. Everything must be kept completely dry throughout the "painting" operation. The painting is left in the "Delicate Arch" South Utah, the original "The Great White Throne," Zion National Park, Utah.

Giants To Take Good Record To Frisco

By DOC QUIGG

United Press Staff Correspondent NEW YORK (UP) — "Somewhere in this favored land the sun is shining bright." Somewhere is probably not San Francisco, which is one of the country's foggiest and loveliest cities.

But since mighty Gotham has struck out as a home for the baseball Giants, the enchanting, hill-happy metropolis on the West coast will be interesting for us. Giant fans to wait one year and then see if San Francisco can make the same boast. In the ace of the present trend, we feel rather safe. Still, earth-shaking events have happened out there before.

There has been a suggestion that, until San Francisco can get a new stadium built, the Giants play their home games in the Cow Palace, the king size quonset hut.

AMARILLO (UP) — The Santa Fe Railway has agreed to resume talks on a demand for a union shop by non-operating labor organizations. Renewal of discussions has been suggested for July 29 in Chicago.

RENOUNCES TITLE—Father Andrei Urusov, a Catholic priest and teacher of anti-communism at the University of San Francisco, renounced his title of a prince of Imperial Russia to become an American citizen. Born in Moscow in 1914, the son of Prince Alexander Oroussoff, he was taken eastward by relatives during the Red revolution in 1917 in which his parents were slain. He came to the U.S. from the Philippines in 1949.

In which the Republicans triumphed over Joe Smith last summer. This would provide long-ball Coast is being touted as the town most likely to succeed in luring Willie Mays and friends to its midst.

All right, let 'em go, God bless 'em. If they know they're leaving while they're still ahead. Ahead of what? That's a good question.

But there is at least one good answer. While they're winning, that's what. Since the turn of the century, they have won 4,784 games and lost only 3,837. They're ahead in games won over games lost while a New York club.

Feel Rather Safe
hitters with outfield fences as close as they are in the Polo Grounds and almost as close as those in Ebbets Field.

The news that the Giants will leave Coogan's Bluff for Nob Hill was not so disquieting as the additional utterance by Horace Stoneham, president of the ball club.

"New York City is slipping," he said, adding that the potential baseball audience was moving to the suburbs and the city couldn't expect to support three baseball teams and maybe not even two.

Slipping? Well, to tell you the truth, some of us around here have felt a bit unsteady of late, although we were hesitant to come right out and use an ominous word like "slipping." The town seems to be doing all right, on the surface.

However, according to the city official in charge of water mains, the rash of broken mains which has moistened our traffic arteries recently is due to unrest beneath the surface. The ground is shifting, he says, causing the breaks.

And it is true that we've lost population, as shown by a recent quickie census. New York now must bow to both Tokyo and greater London and take a third-biggest-city rating.

Could it be that we're on our way to becoming a ghost town? What a prospect that is. One vast and empty pile of mouldering, shuttered skyscrapers, completely surrounded by the world's largest suburbs.

'Suwannee River' And 'Old Black Joe' Getting Censored

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UP) — The wailing from the banks of the Suwannee River to the state capital didn't sound like the gentle voices of Stephen Foster's song today.

"Suwannee River" and "Old Black Joe," dear to the sentimentalities of the grins and molasses belt, are getting censored!

Officials of three major radio-television networks confirmed that they are deleting such words as darkies, massa, mammy, colored man and even "Black Joe" from the lyrics of Foster's melodies.

Earl W. Brown, chairman of the Stephen Foster Memorial Commission, said he will demand an investigation by the Federal Communications Commission.

Florida Gov. LeRoy Collins called the censorship "so absurd I cannot believe the networks are serious."

The state has claimed Foster as its own, has built a big memorial to him along the banks of the Suwannee and adopted his folksong as the official state song.

There may be a lot of things going out over the air that we could get along better without."

said the governor, "but let's not put the whammy on mammy."

"If they persist in any such ridiculous policy, there are a lot of people who will feel the networks, not massa, should be put in the cold, cold ground."

"America could never be America without Stephen Foster's songs or without the Al Jolson's who sang them with such feeling," Collins added.

Foster L. Barnes, superintendent of the Foster memorial near White Springs, Fla., was indignant.

"As Americans, we deplored book burning," he said. "Is it any better to mutilate musical classics which bespeak goodwill in every line?"

"If pressure can censor Stephen Foster, could not pressure also bring about censorship of news?" Barnes charged the networks were forced to invoke the ban by "minority group pressure."

He said Foster's folksongs were "full of love and regard for the Negro, individually and as a race."

"Not one of Foster's compositions say anything detrimental to any race, creed or color," Barnes said. "His works constitute the greatest collection of American folklore music."

Four Building Permits Issued

Building permits were issued for three new residences and one new business building by the City Engineer's office this week.

New residences include one at 222 Chestnut with the permit issued to B. R. Parrish, contractor. The $15,100 home will have five rooms.

Another new seven room and bath residence at 2101 Chestnut will be built by G. E. Groninger, contractor. It will cost an estimated $21,000.

The last residence, a four room and bath home at 1818 N. Faulkner will cost $10,500, and the contractor is W. L. Stark.

The new business building will be located at 2093 Francis. The 25x70 structure will cost about $5,000. R. K. Parsley was awarded the permit.
