Syria Agrees To End UN Debate

By BRUCE W. MUNN
United Press Staff Correspondent
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—Syria, which has rejected all mediation efforts in its dispute with Turkey, today reluctantly agreed to give King Saud of Saudi Arabia three days to settle it.

Despite "soothing statements," Gromyko said, the United States was attempting to have Turkey start a major war and drag in the entire North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Strength Of Turkish Fighting Force Remains Close Secret

By RUSSELL JONES
United Press Staff Correspondent
ISTANBUL, Turkey (UP)—The strength of Turkish fighting forces is the best kept secret in this land of secrets.

The unanimous opinion of both the Turks and foreigners here is that Turkey could mop up the entire Mideast without serious trouble and give a first class account of itself even against Russia.

Macmillan, Ike In Conference

By DONALD J. GONZALES
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan joins President Eisenhower today in summit talks on Russia's challenge of Sputnik and Syria.

Missile Fired

A cheering note was supplied on the eve of the talks in the firing of a U.S. Jupiter 1,500-mile ballistic missile at Cape Canaveral, Fla. The administration grabbed the offensive in the propaganda war with Russia over space rocketry by informing the world for the first time that one of its intermediate range ballistic missile tests was successful and had hit the target.

Opposes Summit Talks

Diplomats were cool to a report from London that Macmillan will urge a new top level meeting with the Russians. The Eisenhower administration opposes three-power "summit" talks at a time when the Reds are likely to be tougher negotiators than before their satellite success.

Cage Trial Is Continuing

DALLAS (UP) — Attorneys for Ben Jack Cage were expected to continue cross-examination today of a prosecution witness in an attempt to prove Cage had complete authority to transfer notes and loans within his 74-company empire.

Cage is on trial accused of embezzling $100,000 from ICT Corp., a subsidiary of the defunct ICT Insurance Co., which Cage once headed.

Francis J. Knoll, former secretary-treasurer of ICT Corp., testified Cage ordered him to execute a draft and payment of $100,000 from ICT Corp. to Missouri Union Corp. of Kansas City, Mo. Similar firm.

Knoll said Cage was trying to make Missouri Union a company similar to ICT Insurance Co. Knoll said the payment was executted June 22, 1956, and carried on ICT Corp. books as an account receivable from Missouri Union.

Ivan Irwin, heading Cage's defense, told Judge J. Frank Wilson before he started cross-examination of Knoll he could prove Cage had authority to make such transactions.

Knoll said no money was received in payment of the loan to Missouri Union before he left ICT Corp., but he said the books showed later the debt was repaid four months after he left.

Asked if Cage had permission from the board of directors to draw the draft, Knoll answered, "he told me of no authority."

Irwin, before he began questioning Knoll, told Judge Wilson "there was no written contract but Knoll knows about the plan. Missouri Union was affiliated with ICT and was to take over Missouri liabilities of the ICT Insurance Co."

Governor Asks South To Fight For Freedom

HOUSTON (UP) — Georgia Gov. Marvin Griffin Tuesday night called on the South to unite in a "mighty battle for preservation of government and freedom from judicial tyranny."

Griffin, a leading segregationist, spoke before a crowd of 2,000 equally militant segregationists. He said our constitutional government is being attacked on every front. The occupation of Little Rock Central High with federal troops, he said, is "indicative that our constitution has been replaced by the New Republican's concept of rule by force."

"The Supreme Court decision has brought the people of the South face to face with a monstrous situation... which indeed menaces our very existence as a democracy," Griffin said.

"We are united in the mighty battle for the preservation of government and freedom from judicial tyranny from the shores of the Atlantic touching Georgia through Texas and back to Virginia."

"If we are united and resolute, they won't move us one little foot," he said.

His speech was accompanied by blaring high school bands and shouting and waving of Confederate flags. It was sponsored by the White Citizens Council of America.

A delegation of 22 Texas legislators, led by House Speaker Waggoner Carr and Rep. Reagan Huffman of Marshall, attended the meeting. Gov. Price Daniel was represented by aide Jacob Jacobson.

A Lot Of Engineers
CHICAGO (UP) — Illinois Institute of Technology annually enrolls more students for engineering than any other university in the nation. More than 7,800 day and evening students currently are enrolled.

MONTROSE, Ill. (UP) — The communities of Montrose and Dieterich sponsored a "Dr. Albert E. Goebel Day" for the doctor who has served them 41 years and brought an estimated 1,800 babies into the world. "This has been the thrill of a lifetime," commented the doctor.

The population of Uruguay, Australia, and New Zealand consume more red meats and poultry than the U. S. population on a per capita basis.

Mistrial Ruled In Murder Case

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (UP)—A mistrial was declared Tuesday in the murder trial of Mrs. Ruth Payne, 33, charged with forging her 8-year-old daughter to shoot her father, because a juror broke an arm.

The trial, which began Monday, was beginning its second day. Six jurors had already been selected when one of them, Mrs. Garland Eubank of Wichita Falls, caught her on a step entering the jury box and fell, breaking her arm.

Judge Arthur Tipps, of the 30th District Court, ruled a mistrial on $5,000 bond.

because of the accident. Mrs. Payne is accused of influencing her daughter Sharon to shoot her father, L. D. Payne, the defendant's husband, with a shotgun. She has been released on $5,000 bond.

CAIRO (UP)—Scientists today reported an important new archaeological find in the discovery of ancient tombs near Tura. El Asmant dating back 5,000 years to the first Egyptian dynasty. They said its historical importance was that the tombs were built of limestone, an architectural feat previously believed to have been first accomplished in the second dynasty. All previous first dynasty remains have been made with mud and bricks.

Americans In Saigon Stay Off Streets As Vietnamese Mass

By AL KAFF
United Press Staff Correspondent
SAIGON (UP)—Americans, alerted by sabotage bombings of three U.S. buildings, stayed off streets this morning while thousands of Vietnamese massed in the city hall to celebrate the first anniversary of the Hungarian revolution.

between homes and the mission headquarters. One bomb Tuesday was tossed under an American Army bus. Small cars, carrying two or three Americans, shuttled through the city in place of American government buses. A Vietnamese carrying a briefcase and riding a bicycle was stopped by police near the downtown Mayfair Bar patronized largely by Americans. Police searched his briefcase, then released him. Extra police patrolled a parking lot reserved for buses and passenger cars assigned to ministers and officials of the 21 nations attending the Colombo Plan Conference. The Vietnamese government believes the bombings have been engineered to embarrass the South Vietnam government during its first international conference. All Americans were told to park their cars behind guarded walls instead of leaving them along the curb during the night as usual. Police moved all cars normally parked during the night alongside the poorly-lighted sidewalk outside the big downtown Continental Hotel.

US On Propaganda Offensive In Space Battle With Russia

By WILLIAM E. HOWARD
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States seized the propaganda offensive today in the battle with Russia for space rocket supremacy. It told the world it has successfully fired a 1,500-mile Jupiter ballistic missile "on target."

It is the first time the Defense Department has ever given any material information on a missile shot. The abrupt departure from strictest secrecy which marked other firings is an apparent attempt to restore public confidence in the U.S. missile program as well as warn Russia of its capabilities. There have been some sharp congressional attacks against "unnecessary" U.S. missile secrecy since Russia launched an earth satellite with something believed close to an intercontinental ballistic missile. Observers who saw the Army's intermediate range Jupiter leap into the sky over Cape Canaveral,

Fla., Tuesday night said it was one of the biggest missiles fired there recently. It is expected to set the stage for test firing the Vanguard missile which will attempt to launch a U.S. satellite next year. Distance Kept Secret In its announcement, the Pentagon withheld the distance flown by the Jupiter as secret. But it said: "The missile flew its prescribed course and impacted in the pre-selected target area." Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy previously has said there would be a speed-up in testing the Jupiter and the Air Force's Thor intermediate range missile to determine which one would be adopted for operational use. The testing is expected to take several months. Murray Snyder, assistant defense secretary for public relations, Tuesday night said the department had been making information available on new weapons within security bounds. But now the Canaveral range tests have "reached a stage where certain additional information may now be made public."

West and South Texas through the night and winds were so high at Lubbock a pedestrian was blown down and slightly injured. Others had to cling to parking meters. Bee Landrum, farm editor of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, said farmers told him damage in the South Plains to crops during the past week could run as high as 50 million dollars. Landrum said most of the damage would be to the young cotton crop. Four Homes Damaged A tornado smashed the Tarkington Prairie community east of Cleveland in South Texas, damaging four homes and a store and injuring Mrs. E. R. Powell, 90. The Little River was rising rapidly near Cameron, and stockmen were hustling their stock out of lowlands. Heavy rains in San Antonio blocked an estimated 80 blocks at one time before the rain slackened and water began draining off. The weather bureau said today the Canadian cold front, originally scheduled to send temperatures tumbling in Texas today, probably won't have any effect in Rains Tuesday included 3.24 inches at San Antonio, 1.75 at Austin, 1.48 at Waco, .89 at Wichita Falls and .69 at Lufkin. Nearly every reporting station recorded some moisture. High winds moved out of the state along with the rain this morning. Gusts Tuesday night were reported up to 50 miles an hour through parts of the state.

Ike Made Decision
The White House, however, made the final decision on giving out the information, it was learned. The President said Tuesday night in New York he would go before the American people soon to try and strengthen their confidence in U.S. scientific ability and in the domestic economy. In other developments: —The Sputnik continued to trail its rocket around the globe by 29 minutes. This was a 24-hour loss of nine minutes as the rocket picked up more speed. —Rear Adm. Rawson Bennett, chief of U.S. Naval Research, said "it does not follow at all" that Russia has a perfect intercontinental missile simply because it successfully launched a satellite. —Rep. Melvin Price (D-Ill.) said today the Russians may be about

Ike Plunges Into "Chins Up" Campaign To Bolster Public

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Writer
NEW YORK (UP)—President Eisenhower is throwing himself personally into a "chins up" campaign to bolster public confidence in the domestic economy and in America's ability to keep scientific pace with Russia. The Chief Executive, himself, will embark shortly on a series of speeches around the country to bolster the faith of the nation in its ability to meet the many problems pressing on the United States in growing complexity. The President was not specific, but the United Press learned that his speeches will be delivered in several widely separated parts of the country. He outlined his "chins up" campaign Tuesday night in a speech before a Waldorf Astoria Hotel audience of 1,500 persons gathered under the auspices of the National Fund for Medical Education. The President planned to fly back to Washington early today to begin three days of meetings with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan. His take-off from the Marine Terminal at L'Guardia Field was scheduled for 7:30 a.m. e.d.t., with arrival in Washington about an hour later. Overtly the occasion for the dinner Tuesday night was to honor Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., retired head of General Motors, for his "outstanding leadership in medical education." Sloan received the Frank H. Lahey Memorial Award established in 1954 to honor the late, eminent Boston surgeon and founder of the Lahey Clinic. Shortly before he spoke, however, the White House released a new version of the opening portion of his speech, and when it was delivered, the Chief Executive elaborated on his plan to go to the people in an effort to generate public confidence in the government's ability to cope with the problems of today.

On the particular point of the state of the domestic economy, Eisenhower said he was glad to hear Sloan say in his speech accepting the award that he could not understand why Americans were apprehensive about the state of the economy since it was "Actually the greatest thing man ever produced."

Which is the right sleep prescription?

You can't get a first-class sleep on a second-class mattress!

You can spend a lot of money on sleeping pills, tranquilizers, and other sleep promoters. But they can't solve your sleep problem if you've got a sagging, worn-out mattress. No matter what you do, you can't get a first-class sleep on a second-class mattress!

You need Beautyrest comfort. In 11 years of research, using actual people sleeping on every leading type of mattress, it was proved that Beautyrest gives longer periods of sleep, unbroken sleep. The reason is that Beautyrest is made differently. It's the only mattress with separate, independent springs that adjust to you... give you the kind of firm support that encourages sounder sleep.

And, at $79.50, Beautyrest is the least expensive mattress to own. In durability tests Beautyrest stood up 3 times longer than the next best!

"Davis and I find we have a great many mutual interests — for one, we both hate homework!"

Zza Zza On Date Diet; Is Rationing Her Time

By VERNON SCOTT
United Press Hollywood Writer
HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Zza Zza Gabor is on a date diet — not the kind that grow on palm trees nor the calendar variety, but the two-legged type who squires her to the Sunset Strip night spots.

The Hungarian beauty, one of filmtown's most sought-after glamour girls, is rationing her time.

"From now on two nights a week are for men. Five nights are for study," she says.

Zza Zza is serious about her fast-rising acting career and has been studying with her friend, actress Angas Moorehead. In addition, she spends long hours of analytic watching in front of her television screen.

Known for Looks
"I've been known for my looks, my diamonds and my romances. Now I want to be admired for my acting," Zza Zza smiled.

Word has been getting around, and Zza Zza has been deluged with film and television scripts. If she accepted half the deals the colorful Gabor gal could buy all the diamonds she wanted.

She recently returned from London where she played opposite Shakespearean actor Anthony Quayle in "The Queen and Smith." London's film row says Zza Zza has arrived as a strong dramatic actress. Hollywood got the message with her performances in "Death of a Scoundrel," and "The Girl in the Kremlin."

All this doesn't mean Zza Zza is forsaking her reputation as a glamor girl. She is as incapable of entering a room unnoticed as would be the Santa Fe Superchief.

With Marilyn Monroe inactive in the East, Grace Kelly retired in Monaco and Ava Gardner self-exiled in Spain, La Gabor is Hollywood's current number one glamor girl.

"Glamour and being a personality are good," she admits. "So are diamonds. Husbands are good — or at least some of them. But it is also good to be a good actress."

Zza Zza sets the pace for other actresses when it comes to witty remarks, too. One of her classics: "Never have I hated a man enough to insult him by returning his diamonds."

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (UP)—Guillermo Treau, called for jury duty because he has property listed under his name on county tax rolls, was excused when he reported for duty Monday. He is six years old.

The arrival of autumn is the cue for a complete change in your make-up colors. This fall, fashion offers lots of blue and red as well as the perennial black. This girl begins (left) with a tinted foundation to achieve a polished-pearl look. She uses cleansing cream and lotion before she applies the foundation. Now (center), she uses two bright accents; royalty blue eye shadow stick applied in a light blending across the lid and in a single stroke at the lower edge of the lid for a bolder effect. Final touch is creamy lipstick in a vivid new red (right) that's perfect with the blues, reds and blacks of autumn.

Family Night Friday For Sam Houston

Mrs. Julian Key, Family Night chairman for Sam Houston School, announces that plans for Family Night to be held Oct. 25 have been completed. Dinner will be served in the cafeteria from 5:30 to 8 p.m. Two serving booths have been planned, with serving moving rapidly and no one having to wait in line. The dinner menu will be Turkey, spaghetti, baked ham, green beans, salad, French bread, homemade pie, coffee, tea and milk. Following dinner, parents may visit in their child's room, where their work will be on display. Tickets are on sale now from any Sam Houston student: 75 cents for children, $1 for adults. It has also been announced that the executive board is to meet in the school cafeteria at 2 p.m. Friday.

Mrs. Patterson Has Bradley Circle Meet

WHEELER — Mrs. Faye Patterson was hostess to the Lucille Bradley Circle of the Baptist W.M.U. recently. Mrs. John Manning presided during the business session. The program was led by Mrs. Bob Douthitt. Refreshments were served during the social hour. Members attending were Meses. Albert Marshall, Myrtle Lane, G. Dodd, Charles Grimshaw, Adrian Risner, Bob Douthitt, Roy Ford, Carroll Killingsworth, John Manning, Donald Reeves.

Make-Up Accents Fall Fashion Colors, Adding Allure To Milady's Complexion

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Something new in beauty always brings spice and excitement to the life of a woman who cares how she looks.

When the cool weather ends, we're delighted to put aside dark dresses and meet the summer sun in pretty pastels. But now with fall here, we find we're tired of summer cottons and look forward eagerly to the new autumn styles.

'Women In News' Topic For Club

(Special To The News) WHEELER — The Progressive Club met recently in the home of Mrs. A. O. Vanpool. Mrs. Jess Moore presided over a short business session, which was followed by a program, "Women In The News."

Mrs. Wayne Edwards gave a discussion of the life of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. Mrs. James Verdon's topic was "Queen Elizabeth of England." Members present included Meses. J. C. Moore Jr., C. C. Robinson, Wayne Edwards, Lyndon Sims, Jess Moore, Al Thomas, Ebb Farmer, Roy Bailey, Lewis Lancaster, Ocie Ford, James Verdon, A. E. Brown, C. B. Kirk, and Bill Owen. Mrs. Alex Hopkins was welcomed as a guest.

In honor of Queen Elizabeth's visit, blue and red are predominantly featured this year and elegance is the keynote of fall fashions. Brown, gray and the ever-popular black will also be plentiful.

To look your best in any season, your make-up should highlight the colors you elect to wear. The regal fashions this autumn call for striking accents in lip and eye make-up base, chosen a shade lighter than

Halloween Party Planned By Club

Mrs. E. M. Culbertson Sr., 828 E. Malone, was hostess to the Southwesterner's Club on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Charles Bailey was elected treasurer following the resignation of Mrs. Robert L. Elliott.

Final plans were discussed for the Halloween Party, which is to be held on Oct. 28 in the company truck barn.

Members attending were Meses. Charles Bailey, Ed Culbertson Sr., Gene Dougherty, Robert Elliott, Norman Fisherty, Kenneth Hamilton, Leonard Husted, Carl Loflin, Floyd Lassiter, Ewart Revard, Herman Topper, Joe Wilson, Clyde Wofford, and Bill McClendon.

the skin tone, and face powder in a shade a bit darker will give you the delicate look of a fair skin that has been teased into color by a fresh breeze.

A clear red lipstick is called for, and one leading cosmetic house offers this shade, tinged with blue. It should be lustrous with browns and blacks, an exciting accent with gray, and perfection with the great blues and reds of fall.

Rouge and nail polish should be clear red, too, and rouge should be applied more lightly than usual and more widely over the cheeks.

When eye make-up is applied properly, the eyes can be almost any woman's best feature.

Whenever possible, the natural line of the brows should be followed and darkened with short, feathery strokes of an eyebrow pencil. Long, heavy lines that will give an artificial look should never be used.

You will want, of course, to choose the shade of eye shadow and mascara that best complement your coloring and costume. But you might want to try a new clear, bright, eye shadow now available that's been especially designed to enhance the regal styles of fall.

Medium length hair styles, soft to the face, will be popular. They are easy to manage and pretty to see.

Plans Are Made For Halloween

(Special To The News) WHEELER — Parent-Teacher Association met recently for its monthly meeting with the president, Mrs. Roy Ford, in charge. Minutes from the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Adrian Risner.

A business session followed during which plans were made for a Halloween Fun Night to be held Oct. 31 at 7 p.m. in the gymnasium. A turkey dinner with all the trimmings will be served from 5:30 p.m. until 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria. The Harvest Royalty Contest will close at 9 p.m. and the coronation ceremony will begin at 9:30. Committees were appointed by the president to take care of all the necessary arrangements.

A Texas PTA procedure course to be instructed by Mrs. James Lewis of Pampa was discussed. Several members expressed a desire to take the course.

Following the business session, Rev. Carlton Thomson presented the program in the form of a film, "CROP", which explained its purposes and aims.

Refreshments were served by the first grade room mothers and a social hour ended the evening's activities.

Homemaking Girls Entertain Faculty

(Special To The News) WHEELER — The Homemaking Girls of the high school, under the leadership of Mrs. Gordon Whitenor, instructor, were hostesses to members of the school faculty and their families recently. The affair, in the form of a salad supper, was held in the Homemaking Cottage.

Salads made by the girls, cheese, crackers, coffee and iced tea were served buffet style from a candlelight table appointed with seasonal flowers.

A program, composed of group singing, skits, "Mock the Teachers," and readings was presented.

Guests present were Messrs. and Mrs. Louis Boyton and Kim; Harley Davis and sons, Richard Gaines, A. E. Brown, A. O. Vanpool, E. Barham, Carroll Killingsworth, Harold Nash, Charles Abercrombie, E. Wood, and Charles Grimshaw and Boyd.

Lipstick-smearing teeth have a way of distracting anyone talking to you. For this reason it is wise to check your teeth after each application. Also there is less opportunity of lipstick shifting to your teeth if it has been properly blotted and not applied excessively.

WHIZ BANG MINSTREL SHOW

Jokes, Songs, Dances and a Style Show will be the order of the night at the Horace Mann School's Fun, Feast, and Frolic Night to be held Friday in the school. Serving will begin in the cafeteria at 5 p.m. Fun booths will be set up in the various classrooms. Two performances of the minstrel will be given by the fifth and sixth grade choirs; one at 6:30 p.m. and the final performance at 7:30. Three of the minstrel performers, who visited the News Office yesterday afternoon, were Gregory Warden, End Man; Miss Terry Brown, fashion model; and Danny Turner, master of ceremonies. (News Photo)

Fun, Feast, Frolic At Horace Mann

Horace Mann School's annual Fun, Feast, and Frolic Night will be held on Oct. 25 in the school, it has been announced by Mrs. H. L. Meers, PTA president.

Mrs. Ott Shewmaker, chairman of the cafeteria service, reports that serving will begin at 5 p.m. with hot dogs, hamburgers, stew, homemade pies and cakes, coffee, milk and soft drinks on the menu.

In the class rooms, a variety of booths will be set up for a fish pond, country store, dart gallery, fortune telling, soft drinks and candy. Pie, cake and coffee will be available for those patrons, who do not wish to be served a complete meal.

The highlight of the evening will be a Negro minstrel presented by the students, under the direction of Mrs. John Branham. Two performances will be presented; one at 6:30 and one at 7:30 p.m.

Out here in the 'Top o' Texas, the fall of the year doesn't present such a problem of what to do with fallen leaves, as it does for our neighbors in other cities. But there are places around town, where the leaves pile up in drifts and become a fire hazard to a casually-tossed cigarette. And they are unsightly, too.

As pleasant as the odor of burning leaves can be, because it seems to be the epitomy of autumn weather, it can get out of hand and cause irritation to our neighbors, as well as being rather dangerous, if certain precautions are not taken. So here are some sidelights on how to keep your neighbor from getting hot during leaf-burning time.

Burning damp leaves only annoys the neighbor next door. Wait until they are dry. Rake often and burn in smaller fires. Don't heap the leaves up like a haystack. Leave the big bonfires to the peapollies at the schools.

Don't use the city streets for an incinerator. Find a spot in your own yard. When the fire is going, stay with it and keep children away.

Small fires and dry leaves keep smoke hazard to a minimum, but if smoke does prove to be irritating to your eyes, it can be relieved by a few drops of eye lotion such as Murine.

The smart leaf-burner uses many tools. He keeps his fire confined in a bucket or a hose to take care of any emergencies. Leaf fires can be spread in a wind at an amazing speed. Every year there are needless casualties because proper precautions were not taken.

But to keep your neighbor from really getting hot has nothing to do with fires at all. It's that discour-

Don't blame your husband if he hasn't the foggiest notion of what a hectic day-to-day existence you lead.

Unless he has had to pinch hit you for at least a week at a stretch, he can't possibly understand the things that complicate a homemaker's life.

To most men the job of house-keeping is just a matter of buying groceries and cooking meals, making beds, etc.

They don't know anything about the hundreds of extra jobs that come up any week like getting Junior to the dentist, Sis to dancing lessons, baking a cake for the church bazaar and so on.

And no matter what the job being done, there are the interruptions — the telephone, the doorbell, the children's squabbles that have to be settled, the spilled milk that has to be mopped up, the dog that wants in or out, the neighbor's child who wants a drink of water.

One housewife recently decided to find out just how many times she would be interrupted while baking a cake, and so she kept score. The number of interruptions — before the cake was iced — was 27.

So that's why it's foolish for a woman to blame her husband for not realizing how hard she works. How could a man who has never kept a house and looked after children possibly know what a complicated, never-ending job it is?

When buying a new carpet it is desirable to see it in the home, if possible. This way you can see how it harmonizes with other furnishings. Also, you will see it under your own lighting conditions.

Lawmakers Favor Swap Of Secrets

By WARREN DUFFEE
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—A sampling of key lawmakers indicated today Congress may be willing to change the atomic energy law to permit greater sharing of scientific secrets with Britain and other European allies.

Sentiment was by no means unanimous. Some legislators emphasized they would support changes only if carefully safeguarded. But a high administration official insisted "there is room for more exchange" of atomic information between America and Britain.

This official, who will participate in upcoming talks between President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, told United Press, "it doesn't make sense to keep from our friends information our enemy has already got."

Plans for greater pooling of Western scientific talent and know-how was expected to be a key part of the talks between Eisenhower and Macmillan. U.S. participation in such plans probably would involve changes in the basic Atomic Energy Act which now forbids disclosure of secret weapons data.

Insurance Head To Appear For Questioning

AUSTIN (UP)—Largent Parks, president of Preferred Life Insurance Co., was to appear today before the Senate Investigating Committee, which wants "to ask him some questions."

Sen. Charles Herring, disgruntled after what looked like a star witness flizzed and another was out of pocket, refused to elaborate on reasons for calling Parks.

Another subpoena was issued for Pierce Brooks, chairman of the board of National Bankers Life Insurance Co. of Dallas, but Herring said "we now learn that he is in California."

"Seems Strange" Herring, head of the committee, said a summons was issued for Brooks several weeks ago "and he turned up in Jamaica." "It seems strange to me that whenever this committee wants to question Brooks, he always turns up somewhere else," Herring observed.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan Told United Press

Views of key legislators were obtained by the United Press in a survey.

Rep. Melvin Price (D-Ill.), a member of the House-Senate Atomic Energy Committee who recently returned from a visit to Russian nuclear energy plants and other European scientific facilities, said he thinks the "general idea is good."

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he was "absolutely" in favor of a broader sharing with allies.

Congress Might Respond Rep. Chet Holifield (D-Calif.), a member of the Joint Atomic Energy group, said if the President "furnishes firm leadership in the field, I believe there will be a favorable response" from Congress.

Pay TV 'Hostile To Public Interest'

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Robert W. Sarnoff, president of the National Broadcasting Co., said today that pay television "is hostile to the public interest."

"The public would have to pay for entertainment now free; and in the process might lose all the other benefits of free television," Sarnoff said.

Speaking at a lunch given by William Block of WIC, NBC's newest television affiliate in Pittsburgh, Sarnoff said that pay TV would be able to use box office revenue to outbid free television for programs, even if the pay system had smaller audiences.

He said this would result in "a movement of the major attrac-

RIDGEWOOD, N.J. — Hiram Blauvelt, 60, president of a coal and lumber company in Hackensack, died Wednesday after a brief illness. During World War II, Blauvelt was a liaison officer in Africa for the British-American Ambulance Corps and served as a correspondent for the New York Herald Tribune.

Mule deer antlers always fork as they grow out to form a succession of "y's" while white tail deer have all the prongs shoot off the main stem like the teeth of a rake.

"Instead of being available to everyone without charge, the programs would be available only to the minority of the public willing and able to pay for them," he said.

Stock Market In Record Drop

By ELMER C. WALZER

United Press Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UP) — Paper values of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange have dropped $47,700,000,000 since mid-July; a record break for a three-month period.

Back in 1929 in the months of September, October, and November, the dollar value of the listed issues declined $25,800,000,000. But the 1929 break continued on to mid-1932 and the total loss for the stock exchange amounted to 74 billion dollars.

This year's loss in a period about similar to that of 1929 is 46 per cent higher. That's all on paper. The actual 1929 break was more vigorous in volume and, hence, because more shares were traded, the losses to individuals were larger. Many now have paper losses that have not been realized, but they are there nonetheless.

The bluest of the blue chips have been the biggest losers dollar-wise. Ten of them have fallen $15,000,000,000 or about 22 per cent of the total paper loss for the whole market.

General Motors with its 281 million shares outstanding has dropped by $3,100,000,000 in market value and Standard Oil (New Jersey) by $2,400,000,000 on its 187 million shares.

Paper losses of more than a billion dollars each have been made by General Electric, American Telephone, and U.S. Steel. Du Pont is down nearly two billion dollars.

At the opening today, the Dow-Jones industrial average showed a decline of 10.98 points from its 1957 high set on July 13. That's a drop of 19 per cent.

Railroad shares have suffered more — 50.46 points or 32 per cent loss in their average. Utilities are down 17 per cent and the 65 stocks in the three averages are down 21 per cent in their average.

The industrial average closed Tuesday at its lowest level since May 18, 1955; railroad since June 9, 1954, utility since Oct. 30, 1955, and 65 stocks, since Dec. 2, 1955.

The average loss for each of the stock listed amounts to $10.15 on the basis of the Standard & Poor's 500-stock index which closely parallels true market valuation.

CHICAGO (UP) — Cattle are grown on almost five million of the more than six million farms in the United States, according to the American Meat Institute. Hogs are grown on nearly four million farms, sheep on about 60,000 farms.

Matter of FACT

George Washington took the first step toward establishing an American military decoration on Aug. 7, 1782, when he permitted his soldiers to wear a heart of purple cloth for unusually meritorious action. This decoration was the forerunner of the present-day "Purple Heart" award conferred upon members of the armed forces wounded in action. The present form was established on the 200th anniversary of Washington's birthday, Feb. 22, 1932.

AID TO SPAIN

MADRID (UP) — The United States will supply the Spanish aircraft industry with more than five-million dollars worth of tools and equipment, the U.S. Embassy said today. Industries selected by the Spanish government will receive tools to inspect and repair American-built aircraft used by the Spanish Air Force.

Psychotherapy Explanation

By DELOS SMITH
United Press Science Editor
NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (UP)—This will tell you what psychotherapy is — since you're bound to have wondered. It is one of those words which gets kicked around without anyone — including many doctors — being quite sure of its meaning.

Psychotherapy is "helping psychologically disturbed people to a better adjustment" with themselves and the world they live in, according to Drs. Abram Blau and Bertram Slaif who explained it in simple terms at a recent medical meeting.

"Help is the essence of psychotherapy," they said, but to apply it you must have a clear understanding of the emotional processes of the person who needs the help, some idea of what the person is up against, extensive training in how minds work, but "most of all, good common sense."

Five Level Application

Psychotherapy can be applied on any or all of five levels — "insight," "educational," "emotional," "environmental," and "physical." They cited psychoanalysis as an example of "insight" psychotherapy in which a person is made aware of the meanings of "various competing tendencies" within himself.

The "educational" level is when psychotherapy uncovers "a real lack of knowledge. Common instances of this sort are sex information, other biologic facts, and the differences in thinking of children as compared with adults."

The "emotional" level permits the person "to talk more openly about his fantasies, and in some cases to accept direct advice when this is urgently necessary."

"Although it is accepted that psychotherapists should avoid direct advice and direction because it tends to "infantilize" the patient and encourage dependency rather than independence, there are times when it is necessary to sick patient may be regressed and, like a little child, may need to be controlled and led until he can do better by himself."

Need For Change

With children and the severely ill mentally there may be a need for changes in the environment.

And the psychotherapist must also be aware that bodily conditions "may sap the individual's energies." They referred specifically to allergies, acne, and disorders of the endocrine glands.

So far the psychotherapist has been treating only the symptoms of the psychologically disturbed person. Having done that, he shifts his part and "it then becomes related to that of the teacher, the parent, and the friend."

"We believe that psychotherapeutic effects derive from the whole range of human experience," the doctors said. "The parent raising the child, the teacher instructing his student, the friend befriend his friend, the doctor treating his patient — all are instances of constructive psychotherapeutic activity."

The professional medical psychotherapist differs from parent, teacher, friend because his training and experience permits him to work with a knowledge of what he is doing and to have both "working principles" and "a well-defined goal."

Drs. Blau and Slaif are psychiatrists at Mount Sinai Hospital, New York.

UN Demands Reds To Account For Prisoners

INS 2-24 U N DEMANDS
PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP)—The United Nations Command demanded yesterday that the Communists account for 1,084 Allied soldiers taken prisoner of war in the Korean conflict.

Maj. Gen. Homer L. Litzenberg, senior delegate of the U.N. military armistice commission, said the Communists thus far had only "crudely fabricated" an accounting of 1,084 U.S. prisoners.

He said the Communists must "have some knowledge of their fate." He cited the names of three American servicemen as an example of "only a few instances in which the evidence of eyewitnesses, the report of your own news services, or broadcasts on your side showed beyond doubt that your side had information of the missing U.N. personnel."

The Communists, led by North

REPARATIONS OFFER
TOKYO (UP)—Japan has decided to propose an 800-million dollar plan to settle the long-standing World War II reparations issue with Indonesia, it was reported here today. A cabinet meeting late Monday decided to offer 200-million in "pure" reparations, 200-million in long-term loans and 400-million in the form of technical cooperation schemes, the reports said. Indonesian authorities have said there was no possibility of a change in their demand for 400-million dollars in "pure" reparations.

Tito May Have Blundered On East Germany Decision

Foreign News Commentary
By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
President Tito of Yugoslavia may have blundered in recognizing the East German puppet government.

In recognizing a regime which owes its continued existence solely to a Soviet Russian army of occupation, Tito deliberately affronted West Germany.

He helped Russia and indirectly helped Communist Poland, which now occupies 38,900 square miles of German territory and wants to keep it for good.

Tito also, by recognizing the puppet regime as a legitimate government, dealt a blow to the hope of reunifying Germany.

Just what Tito's motive was remains uncertain. One thing is sure, however—he did it in what he thought was his own interest.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's retort to Tito's action was to break off diplomatic relations with Yugoslavia.

In doing this, Adenauer made good his threat, which he had made known to the world, that he would break relations with any government that recognized the East Germans.

But it is evident that Tito did not expect Adenauer to make good his threat. This has been shown clearly by the pained surprise with which his action was received in Belgrade, Tito's capital.

Now Tito seems to be worried about the future of Yugoslavia's trade with West Germany and the substantial trade credits which have gone with it. West German-Yugoslav trade totaled $96 million in 1956. He is worried also whether West Germany will annul the agreement under which it contracted to pay Yugoslavia $72 million for damages that country suffered in World War II.

Incidentally, it was reported from Washington immediately after Tito's recognition of East Germany that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles intended to make a reappraisal of his policy of granting aid to Tito.

Some Question Move
There are some in West Germany who question Adenauer's decision to break relations. But it is hard to see how he could have avoided it.

The position of the West German government is that any country which recognizes the East German regime is recognizing the existence of two German governments and thus making unification harder.

Adenauer also was afraid that if he let Tito get away with it, other countries might follow suit, including especially the Asian "neutrals" and some Arab countries.

Adenauer's breach of relations certainly seemed to make it likely that these countries would think carefully before they followed Tito's example.

West Germany is the most prosperous country in Europe. Its trade and its ability to grant trade credits to needy countries are important.

However slowly it is rearming, West Germany also is potentially the most powerful country in Europe outside of Russia.

Tito is a smart man. It remains to be seen, however, whether in recognizing East Germany he hurt Adenauer more than he did himself.

US Bureaucracy Complex Can't Be Beat By Sputnik

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA)—Russia's sputnik may be logging more global circles than the U.S. Vanguard, but the Soviet satellite program can never hope to catch up with the exquisite bureaucratic complexity of its American space competitor.

President Eisenhower reveals: "The first serious discussion of an earth satellite as a scientific experiment to be incorporated in the program for the International Geophysical Year took place at a meeting of the International Council of Scientific Unions in Rome in October, 1954."

Today, three years later, the ICSU still has its finger in the U.S. satellite pie which they started baking at that meeting. Other cooks which have moved in at the so-called policy level include the National IGY Committee, National Science Foundation, National Academy of Sciences, White House, State and Defense Departments, Army, Air Force, Navy, Smithsonian Institution and Martin Aircraft Company.

Each of these outfits has jealously guarded and exercised its prerogative of making decisions about Vanguard. The State Department is in the act because tracking stations had to be built in foreign countries. Army engineers built the stations. And the Air Force is supposed to provide launching facilities at its Patrick Air Force Base in Florida.

The Smithsonian is in charge of visual tracking of the satellite from its observatories around the country. The science organizations and the IGY group have exercised a nebulous kind of clearing-house, advisory function.

And of course, the U.S. taxpayer has paid for it to the tune of $110 million, which may be increased since the Russians got into space first.

"The only thing out of this world about Vanguard is the tape connected with it," says a harassed Navy administrative officer who has tried in vain to streamline the organization.

With all of these agencies having to approve almost all decisions, there have been incredible delays. It took six months before a decision could be reached on what markings to put on the rocket which would fire it, for example.

Below this confused, complex policy level the administrative jungle gets even more dense. Within the Navy, which has theoretical over-all control of Vanguard, there have been disputes between the Naval Research Laboratory, Office of Naval Research and Office of the Chief of Naval Operations over authority.

The Martin Company is supposed to have the nominal authority over Vanguard given any prime military contractor. But it has been hopelessly hobbled by scores of extraneous orders from all of the policy agencies.

For example, the U.S. Small Business Agency convinced the White House that Martin should subcontract practically every nut and bolt. SBA said this would be great propaganda when the first satellite got into space.

As a result more than 200 subredcontractors, each with special problems, delayed delivery schedules and clearances to get in on the program.

At his first press conference as Secretary of Defense, Neil McElroy said he would look into ways of removing "bottlenecks" in the missile and satellite programs. Making the Vanguard project efficient and free of bottlenecks will be a nice first test of the administrative experience he gained as head of Procter and Gamble.

NAACP To Withdraw Its Texas Appeal

TEXARKANA, Tex. (UP)—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has decided to withdraw its appeals of the permanent injunction against it in Texas.

Robert Carter, an NAACP attorney from New York, filed motions with the Sixth District Court of Civil Appeals here saying the NAACP "does not desire to further prosecute the appeal and desires that the appeal and all proceedings be dismissed."

Two suits filed by the NAACP were before the court. One appealed the injunction handed down in Tyler last May by Federal Judge Otis Dunagan and the other asked the proceedings be removed from Dunagan's court.

Dunagan granted the injunction, which limited the NAACP's activities in the state. It gave stipulations for the operation of the association which the NAACP must follow or be barred from TEXAS. U. Simpson Tate, a regional attorney for the NAACP in Dallas, said the decision was made "some three or four weeks ago" by the board of directors in New York, which voted first to push the appeals and then decided not to.

Marine Of Quiz Fame Has Moved On To New Plateau

By ROSS CACCAVALE
United Press Staff Correspondent
GALLION, Ohio (UP)—The Marine captain who came through the battle of the isolation booth with $64,000 has moved on to a new plateau.

Richard S. McCutchen has turned in his dogtags, become a civilian and gone to work as a salesman.

While a Marine, McCutchen became something of a national hero two years ago when his knowledge of cooking won him the first $64,000 quiz jackpot in broadcasting history. His mental exertions in the isolation booth tantalized millions of television viewers and whetted many an appetite.

Life has changed since then for the 30-year-old ex-Marine.

On Sept. 23, McCutchen started work at Gallion, Ohio, as a trainee in sales and advertising for the Perfection Steel Body Co. The firm makes hydraulic equipment and dump bodies.

Field Interests Him
Enthusiastic about his job, McCutchen says the offer he received from company Vice President Herbert F. Cobey was too good to turn down for it presented a challenging opportunity in a field that interested him.

In his first weeks on the job, McCutchen commuted 60 miles daily between Gallion and suburban Columbus, where he lived with his wife, Patsy, and three daughters, Sherrill, 7; Anne, 5; and Catherine, 3.

However, he has since found a place in Gallion and now plans to buy a home and settle in this community of 10,000.

McCutchen said his success on television played no part in his decision to leave the Marines. When he began appearing on the celebrated quiz show Aug. 16, 1955, he was a naval ROTC instructor at Ohio State University in Columbus.

He recalled that his appearances on the show, which culminated in his triumph on Sept. 13, did little to change his life, except for the phone calls.

Goaded For Bear
"One time I got a call in the middle of the night from a hunter who wanted to know how to prepare bear steaks," he said.

The decision to leave the service was made last August and McCutchen said he did all he could to avoid publicity at the time.

"The services," he said, "are quite concerned about the number of personnel leaving because of more attractive offers from private industry. I don't want to add to their troubles. The Marine Corps has been very good to me."

He added that most of his life has been spent in a military setting. His father is a retired naval captain. McCutchen himself joined the Navy at 17 for five years and then spent eight more years in the Marines.

The former Marine, a native of Long Beach, Calif., said he was very happy with his new career, for it gave him more time to pursue his hobbies of hunting, fishing and, of course, cooking.

But in recent weeks, cooking has been more than a hobby for

National Airlines Resumes Flights

MIAMI (UP)—National Airlines resumes flight operations Thursday after a 99-day shutdown of its service in 36 U. S. cities.

J. M. Rosenthal, national senior vice president, announced Tuesday night that company officials had signed an agreement with the Air Line Agents Assn.

He said service will be restored beginning Thursday and that the air line will be back in full operation by Sunday. First service to be restored will be between Miami and major cities on the route such as New York and Washington, plus inter-change service with other airlines to the West Coast and South America.

The airline has estimated it lost about $4,800,000 during the shutdown, which began Sept. 22 after union ticket agents and reservations clerks walked off their jobs here and at New York and Tampa.

Rosenthal said notices were being sent to National's 3,000 employees who were laid off when the airline decided to suspend its entire operation because of the walkout. They will be brought back to work as soon as possible.

YOUR NEXT PLYMOUTH JUST TAMED THE TOUGHEST TEST TRACK ON EARTH!

That's the "track" scrawled across the map: 58,000 miles... more than twice around the world. Six years of driving crammed into 58 days by a brand-new 1958 Plymouth. Read below, see how it affects your future.

When you step into an auto showroom and plunk down hard-earned cash for a new car, you've got a right to more than just surface beauty. You've got a right to a car that's going to stand up under the punishment of day in, day out driving. A car that can go on delivering new-car comfort and economy season after season.

We designed the 1958 Plymouth to do just that. But we didn't settle for endurance in theory. We wanted proof.

See that route outlined above? It spells out "Plymouth '58" across 37 states. We ran a new Plymouth—one of the first stock production models to roll off the lines—across the route three times to roll up 58,000 miles in just 58 days. That's 1000 miles a day!

Here are just a few of the results. And even experienced, automotive editors who were there when the Plymouth braked to the final halt were impressed by the results of this extraordinary test.

- Total miles traveled: 58,000
- Total days elapsed: 58
- Number of brake applications: 37,551
- Number of wheel revolutions: 47,732,000
- Number of engine tune-ups: 6

And for all its punishment, the test Plymouth still rode, handled and looked like new. The figures above are just a few of the hundreds collected during this trip. Your Plymouth dealer will be glad to furnish you with lots more details.

You'll be able to see and drive this amazing new Plymouth in a very few days. Wait for it. It's going to show you how much you can expect in a low-price car. And you can expect it only in Plymouth for '58!

Food Served Cafeteria Style

Pigs Now Wallow In Luxury Instead Of Mud

By HENRY LESSENE
NEA Special Correspondent
RALEIGH, N.C. (NEA) — The pig, a noble meat producer, is beginning to live these days in a cooled concrete luxury with all manner of self-service and automatic gadgets at his command.

Increasingly the feeder-size pigs are moving into places of porcine magnificence or swank which are described as "Pig Parlors," "Hog Palaces," "Swine Salons," and "Pig Cafeterias."

No more wallowing in the mud. In fact, pigs would probably never wallow in the mud anyway, if they had any other way to keep cool on hot days. Pigs have no sweat glands, and that's why they crave cool comfort.

The more fortunate pigs stay delightfully cool now on the hottest of mid-summer days, sprayed constantly by a cool mist from overhead. Minerals? They get them right out of a mineral box, a self-service gadget which a pig, with his natural curiosity, learns to operate right off. There's no more rooting in the ground for them.

His regular food comes to him in the same manner, cafeteria style, at any time he feels the urge. The concrete floor of his domicile is kept clean by the frequent use of a hose. A pig drinks an awful lot of water, and all he has to do is to go to the "Pig Bar," something like a water fountain. This quickly learns to operate by poking his nose against the right spot.

Not all pigs, by any means, have reached this state of affluence. But a lot of them are, and it begins to look as though the pig will soon be taken out of the underprivileged class of the barnyard kingdom.

The idea of these relatively low-cost porcine housing developments is spreading rapidly, particularly throughout the Southern states, where pigs can get mighty hot in summer, so hot, in fact, they won't eat except early in the day and after sunset.

Basically, these housing developing or year-round use in warm climates. The materials for winterizing a pig parlor of this type cost about $135.

Sometimes these new-type pig establishments may be barns or other farm buildings converted to "confined rearing" of pigs on concrete. There have also been conversions of new broiler houses into a "parlor house," which is a project larger in size than the usual concept of a shed-type of "pig parlor."

The United States at last count had a pig population of around 55 million. Pigs, however, aren't native to the continent; perhaps the first ones to reach here landed with DeSoto in Florida in 1539.

Nowhere else than America, however, is the pig apparently climbing toward so high a standard of living. It's because research has demonstrated that with modern feeds, management and sanitation, hogs can be made to grow faster on concrete than on pasture.

The leaves of the acanthus plant were the inspiration for the heads, or capitals, of Corinthian columns in Greek architecture. The Romans preferred the wider, blunt-pointed acanthus, known as brankursine, or bear's-breach. The pattern of the acanthus leaf was used in early Christian, Byzantine and Romanesque architecture, and later by the French.

There is not much to the play of today's hand at six clubs. All South has to do to make his contract is to lead a heart from his hand toward dummy and West can take his ace or not as he pleases but he won't be able to beat the slam.

The hand is an exercise in bidding and if you don't think so get hold of a couple of experts and give one the North and the other the South hand and see where they get.

The bidding shown is that of Milton Ellenby and Emmanuel Hochfeld of Chicago, two of our young and very expert experts.

Milton's two heart overall was normal, and Manny sitting South had quite a problem. His decision to bid three clubs was eminently correct. Should his partner pass, as was likely, he would expect to make it or should his partner bid he would have an opportunity to give a clear picture of his hand by showing his diamonds.

Milton's four club bid was easy and Manny went to four diamonds. Now Ellenby made a really fine bid. Instead of merely bidding five clubs he bid four spades to show the ace.

This put the burden of going to the slam right on Hochfeld's shoulders and Manny responded nobly. He recognized the four-spade bid as a slam try and realized that his partner would hold either second

TV Viewers Urged To Join Special Club

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP) — If this TV season strikes you as dismal, you are invited to join a club.

"I call it the bring 'em back alive club," said producer David Suskind today. "It's my feeling that when they introduce those TV shows from Hollywood, they should say — 'and now, dead from Hollywood...'"

"This is the most lackluster and inept of all the TV seasons. It makes last season look like academy award time. And if you remember last season, it hit a low in 'drivel'."

Suskind is executive producer and vice-president of Talent Associates, which packaged such shows as "Mr. Peepers" and "Philco Playhouse." The firm's current entries are "Armstrong Circle Theatre" and six specs for CBS-TV, the next of which will be "The Prince and the Pauper" on Oct. 28.

"The trouble? It's this: 90 percent of our nighttime drama shows now come to us on film from Hollywood," said Suskind. "Hollywood is the land of the fast buck boys, the place where they've been wallowing in mediocrity and blandness for years."

round diamond control or first round heart control to warrant that bid. Manny leaped right to six clubs and had no trouble making it.

"The fast buck boys don't belong in this business. Let 'em go open a supermarket if they want to make money. Let 'em go dig an oil well or go hunt uranium. This is a craft to take pride in, but the only object of the Hollywood fast buck boys is to film shows as fast as possible, then cash in on the re-runs."

Suskind feels the competition for stars is another evil in the TV business. "It's a real sickness, this belief that if you get enough stars and just throw them on the air, you can make up in quantity what you lack in quality," he said.

Hollywood Formula
"And those Westerns! They're leftovers from the Hollywood formula. Let's make a Western, they cry in Hollywood. They never miss. Well, TV has taken a dreadful step further — let's make 'em all Westerns, TV says, and as a result they all miss. It's depressing and incredible."

Suskind sees some hope though. "I think most of the viewers realize there's something wrong with TV this season. I think in time the sponsors will learn, too, that mediocre filmed shows cost more in the end because you're stuck with a whole batch of them and can't change them."

NEW YORK — Queen Elizabeth, preparing to leave for home after visiting America's largest city. "At the end of a wonderful journey I am very glad that I have been able this time to see New York..."

Logrolling, a term applied to the practice of some members of Congress of trading votes for each other's favorite bills, comes from the pioneers' custom of helping one another cut down trees and rolling up the logs for building. The congressional practice is often criticized because some bills pass which serve only a small number of people.

Chiang's Government Now Facing Crisis Of The Spirit

EDITORS NOTE: Correspondent Fred Sparks, who in years past scouted the Red mainland with anti-Communist guerrillas and has seen the Nationalist armies reborn from their mainland defeat, reports Free China today after a return visit to Taipei.

By FRED SPARKS
NEA Special Correspondent
TAIPEI, Formosa (NEA)—The Nationalist Chinese Government faces an historic crisis. It is a crisis of the spirit.

I have been calling here at regular intervals since President Chiang Kai-shek fled—with remnants of his vast armies—from the Communist conquered mainland in 1949. Never have I found morale lower.

Shopworn is the theme that in the misty tomorrow there will be a "counter-attack," a return to the mainland. It is simply no longer believed; such is the cost of pledges constantly made, constantly unfulfilled.

More than that, further repetition of the "counter-attack" theme is seeded with danger; the Chinese, ever cynical, ever wise, resent being treated like children. (A Navy officer, an old friend, tuned off the radio that had blared another "counter-attack" speech and said: "What an insult! The government must think we're fools.")

World realities relegating activities in the Formosa Straits to a minor role as scientists labor for supremacy has finally made its impact here at all levels of power. The United States will not support even the smallest offensive war in Asia at this time; alone the Nationalists would stand naked before the yet growing military might of the Communist Chinese.

Practically every government leader of substance except per now tells visiting intimates it is haps President Chiang himself now tells visiting intimates it is essential to present the two million Chinese refugees here with a new purpose in life, a positive goal.

But what will be the fresh slogan, the new theme to maintain anti-Communist unity in this artificial state? Here is the challenge for Free China—and the United States.

Failure to give the exiles something to strive for could mean the slow disintegration of this valuable base. Today Formosa garrisons 20 excellent divisions. Despite the shadow of the moon satellite, they help deter Communist adventures elsewhere in Asia. The base and its precious trappings must be preserved.

Can the exiles be told to accommodate themselves, for the time at least, to "two Chinas;" that Formosa might be their permanent home?

This, wishful thinking aside, is the situation in being today. Our policy seals off Formosa from outside conflict like a beloved child firmly secured in a playpen; on the loose he might damage the next door garden, involve daddy in a neighborhood brawl.

Since the U.S. forced Chiang to evacuate the Tachen Islands in 1955—used by guerrillas to harass the mainland—there has would be obligated to shoot down their planes; then the kettle would boil.

The frustration, the claustrophobia engendered by eight years refuge on this tight, drab island, plus the realization that Washington doesn't intend to finance "counter-attack," were contributing factors to the flash of madness that stirred the mob and left our embassy a shambles May 24.

A Chinese friend, whose sense of mass thinking I value, said: "Homelessness is Peking's most cutting weapon, cruelly exploited in propaganda broadcasts. If there were 10, 20, 100 defections in high places the whole fabric might start tearing."

One reason why many Americans who wish the Nationalists well favor a new look is that the current liberal rate of U.S. economic grants are by no means forced. Particularly now that the Soviets have invaded outer space, necessitating a dreadfully expensive scientific crash program.

As long as "counter-attack" is

Safety First For Trick Or Treaters

Witches cavort and black cats howl as they prepare for their annual Halloween prowls.

And your little Trick and Treaters may have a pleasant Halloween, too, if they will observe a few simple safety rules, warns J. M. Smith, vice president and general manager of Farmers Insurance Group.

Youngsters wearing flimsy costumes take special care not to get close to fire, and, of course, the modern Trick and Treaters use a flashlight in his pumpkin.

Motorists should use extra caution in driving along streets and highways, after dark because thou-the sole theme, the Nationalists are disinclined to seriously promote long range industries like tourism. When you wear to take your people home how can you at the same time advise them to settle down on a strange island?

sands of youngsters will be out and they will not be thinking about traffic. Part of the costume should be light so that the child may be more easily seen by motorists.

Smith advised youngsters to experiment with make-up instead of a mask so that their vision would not be impeded. Small children should be accompanied by adults on their rounds.

A further reminder for both adults and children was to cooperate with their local fire department by being sure that those party decorations are marked flame resistant. Whenever possible it is a good idea to take advantage of the well-supervised parties at playgrounds.

Keeping these few simple rules in mind, said Smith, will help make All Hallows eve one of fun for all.

Buffalo, Cowboy Aces Set To Clash In Homecoming Game

CANYON, Tex. (UP)—Hardin Simmons' Ken Ford, Sammy Baugh's newest passing protege, and Charlie Sanders, West Texas State's power runner, moved into the spotlight in the Border Conference football statistics this week.

Ford took over the passing leadership by throwing for 133 yards against Wichita last Saturday and Sanders shot into first place in both rushing and total offense, gaining 52 yards against New Mexico A&M last Saturday.

The two will throw their offensive skills at each other this Saturday when Hardin-Simmons invades West Texas State.

Bob Mulgado of Arizona State also holds the No. 1 spot in two departments—pass receiving and punting. The senior halfback has caught eight passes for 196 yards and has a punting average of 41.3. He and a teammate, Leon Burton, still are on top in scoring with 30 points.

Sanders unseated Burton as the rushing leader with 530 to 470 yards. Sanders' total offensive yardage is 520 as compared to 478 by Ford and 470 by Burton.

Ford now has 484 yards passing to 404 by John Hangartner of Arizona State, who had held first place.

Undeclared Arizona State (4-0), although idle last week, still holds the No. 1 spot in four team departments—total offense, passing offense, total defense and rushing defense. It has averaged 395 yards a game offensively while holding its opponents to 184, of which only 116 has been rushing. The Sun Devils' passing total is 569 yards.

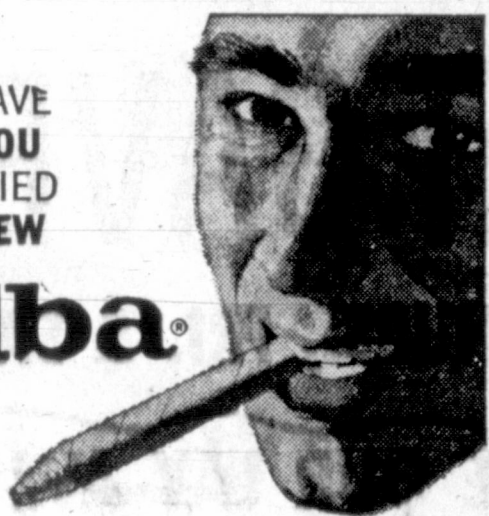

West Texas is the best in rushing offense with a 260 mark. New Mexico A&M has the best forward passing defense, yielding only 158 yards in four games.

In addition to the Hardin-Simmons-West Texas game, New Mexico A&M visits the league's other undefeated team, Texas Western, in the only other league contest.

Reapers Meet Phillips There Tomorrow In Conference Tilt

The Pampa Reapers will travel to Phillips tomorrow afternoon for their third district encounter as they meet the Junior High at 3:45.

The Reapers have a record of three wins and one loss as they go into their fifth game. In non-conference play they won over Bowie of Amarillo, 6-0, Sam Houston of Amarillo, 20-13, and in district play defeated Dalhart, 13-0. Their loss came at the hands of Borger, 13-6.

One district game, with Dumas, was cancelled and rescheduled for Oct. 31 there at 3:45 p.m. It is the only game remaining on the schedule after Phillips.

Probable starters for tomorrow night's game will be:

Followell, Left End	8
Sangley, Left Tackle	74
Garren, Center	56
Crouch, Right Guard	67
Leith, Right Tackle	73
Warner, Right End	85

UP Coach Of Week Named

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (UP)—He has a habit of starting out as an assistant and winding up as a highly successful head coach.

He is a fundamentalist, a perfectionist and a plain pain in the neck to other Big Ten coaches who never know when his first-up defense may spring a most unlikely upset.

He's Kenneth Jack Mollenkopf Purdue, the United Press Coach of the Week after his winless Boilermakers, 21-point underdogs, upended Michigan State, the nation's No. 1 team at the time, 20-13.

Mollenkopf, a chunky man of 82 who was a football end and baseball catcher at Bowling Green of Ohio, attributed the stunning Purdue victory to his play, sticky fingers and desire.

"I think we had more desire than Michigan State," he reflected. "Our defense did a tremendous job. Our line played real well and that's where we won it. We were fumbling all season but this time we hung onto the ball. And we recovered five of their fumbles, too. We had a bunch of scrum-kids who believed in themselves."

"Perhaps we could win them all if we played as well as we did Saturday. But we're really not strong."

Mollenkopf started his coaching career at two Ohio high schools, each time as an assistant; and each time advancing to the top job. He spent nine years as Purdue line and defensive coach, turning out consistently tough rock'em lines, before taking over the reins as head man last year. While his 1956 Purdue team won only one conference game, it was significant that it never took a bad beating.

Wants Perfection

The perfectionist in Mollenkopf makes him run the same play in practice four or five times until he is satisfied. The fundamentalist in him brings a warm smile for a hard block or low, savage tackle.

Mollenkopf, lounging in his home near the Purdue campus, said: "I thought all along we could beat Michigan State...well, I think I did, anyhow. But I'd sure hate to play them again next week!"

Texas, Rice Go Through Stiff Workouts For Saturday Game

By UNITED PRESS

Coach Darrell Royal of Texas sent his Longhorns through their stiffest workout in two weeks Tuesday, with his two alternate teams going through an offensive scrimmage in an effort to add zip to their running attack.

Quarterback Joe Clements gave the defense a thorough test of Rice's vaunted passing attack, emulating King Hill. The Longhorns also worked on goal line defense.

Rice also went through a rugged workout for the game that matches teams unbeaten in conference play. The Owls practiced early to beat the rain, and got in more than an hour of scrimmage. Coach Jess Neely planned another vigorous workout today. He said the team needs it because of being rained out last week and because several players who have been out of action need added work.

White Promoted

Claude White, Fort Worth junior, replaced Don Phillips as a first string tackle on the basis of his play against SMU. Ken Williams will probably start at right half because Pat Bailey appears to be on par with the team, giving that unit the advantage of his punting ability.

Halfbacks John Crow and Loyd Taylor had their first contact work since before the Aggies' opener as Coach Paul Bryant sent Texas A&M through a practice session between showers on a sloppy field.

"It was better than nothing," Bryant said of the playing field. "Our players were conscientious and did the best they could under the circumstances."

Rains all day Monday and Tuesday morning left the field muddy and under water.

Baylor went through defensive drills with the freshman team running Texas A&M plays. The freshmen, in turn, set up an Aggie defense against the varsity plays.

Coach Sam Boyd said the Bears scrimmaged with only moderate success against the simulated Aggie attack.

Southern Methodist went back to fundamentals with an open date facing them Saturday. The Ponies next game will be Homecoming against Texas Nov. 2.

Willard Dewveall, the No. 1 right end, and Boyd Waggoner, the No. 3 right end, missed today's workouts because of injuries.

Fearless Fraley's Follies And The Week End Football Winners

By OSCAR FRALEY

United Press Sports Writer

TOKYO (UP)—Fraley's follies and the weekend football "winners" — done with sheer Oriental omnipotence and a Sukiyaki shiver.

Game of the Week

Duke over North Carolina State — This one will decide the Atlantic Coast Conference race and looking through the wrong end of the telescope it looks like Duke has too much offense and too strong a defense for N.C. State.

The East

Navy over Penn.—I'm an auto racing buff.

Penn State over Syracuse—I've been 150 at Indianapolis.

Brown over Rhode Island — And belong to Dayton's 100 m.p.h. club. Princeton over Cornell — But Tokyo cab drivers scare me stiff.

Also: Yale over Colgate, Columbia over Lehigh, Dartmouth over Harvard, Boston U. over Holy Cross and Lafayette over Bucknell.

The South

Army over Virginia — Bambo

poles are a dime a dozen here.

Miami over Kansas— They got 'em all shapes and sizes.

Florida over LSU— Bob Richards would go wacky.

Georgia over Kentucky—But the Japanese aren't much on vaulting.

Also: Mississippi State over Alabama, Maryland over Tennessee, Georgia Tech over Tulane, North Carolina over Wake Forest, South Carolina over Clemson, West Virginia over William & Mary, George Washington over VMI.

The Southwest

Texas Aggies over Baylor—Japanese too busy playing baseball.

Auburn over Houston—I bought what's called a "happie" coat.

Arkansas over Mississippi— The salesman explained it.

Texas over Rice — "Like in 'hoppi' Chandler."

Also: Tulsa over Air Force Academy, Hardin-Simmons over West Texas and Texas Tech over Arizona.

The Midwest

Notre Dame over Pitt — Golf is ruining the geisha houses.

Ohio State over Wisconsin— The patrons would rather roam the links.

Michigan State over Illinois— Intriguing description for entertainers.

Iowa over Northwestern — They call 'em people "selling spring-time."

Also: Minnesota over Michigan, TCU over Marquette, Indiana over Villanova, Nebraska over Misoua, Oklahoma over Colorado, Boston College over Detroit, Purdue over Miami, Ohio.

The West

Oregon State over Washington— Athletes are goodwill ambassadors.

California over Oregon— Jimmy Demaret and Sam Snead draw big crowds.

Washington State over Southern California — They know all our ball players.

UCLA over Stanford—And when you mention Ted Williams the Japanese get right down and bow.

Also: Idaho over Fresno State, San Diego State over Temple, Denver over Brigham Young and Wyoming over Utah.

Top-Rated Harvesters Announced

GARY WILHELM BAILEY CLEMENTS HAROLD STOKES

After grading the film of the Pampa - Amarillo game, coaches reported that Jess Ingie, Harold Stokes, and Bailey Clements were the top defensive players, while Jim Scott, Robert Langford, Don Bigham and Gary Wilhelm led the field offensively.

In grading each film, the number of plays participated in are considered, along with the number of mistakes made by each player.

On defense, Ingie was in the game 59 plays, rating a grade of 80 per cent, while Stokes participated in 42 plays with a grade of 64 per cent and Clements had 49 plays with a grade of 63 per cent. Stokes is a sophomore, Clements a junior and Ingie a senior.

Offensively, Scott had 80 plays with 80 per cent, Langford had 34 plays with 78 per cent, Bigham had 53 plays with 69 per cent and Wilhelm had 26 plays with 69 per cent. All men are seniors except Scott, who is a sophomore. In ground gaining, Bigham led with 51 yards in 15 carries for a 3.3 yard average, and Langford was second with 33 yards in 11 carries for a 3 yard average.

Pampa's strongest offensive department was passing, completing four of seven passes for 51 yards.

The Harvesters rest next Friday night before meeting Monterey here Nov. 1 at 8 p.m. The Plainsmen are one of the three undefeated teams remaining in district 3-AAAA play, having downed Borger, 14-7 and Palo Duro, 6-0. They lost their first three opening games to Paschal of Fort Worth, Highland Park of Dallas and Abilene.

Pastrano Ready For Top Men

LONDON (UP)—Willie Pastrano's easy victory over lumbering Dick Richardson of Wales today moved the New Orleans boxing master into a position to challenge any of the world's top three heavyweights.

The 21-year-old Pastrano won't improve his No. 4 rating of his 10-round decision over the rugged-but-inert Welshman but he obviously is ready to shoot for the "big dough." Pastrano's victory was so decisive that Richardson raised Willie's hand in token of the win before the official verdict.

There were no knockdowns but the 155-pound Pastrano slapped his 198-pound opponent around like a TV private eye handles the villain and might have finished him off if he had been willing to close in.

But Willie stayed at long range, content to cut Richardson's face to ribbons.

By contrast, Pastrano was completely unmarked after the bout.

The victory was Pastrano's 42nd in 52 fights. A sellout crowd of 6000 at Harringway Arena.

HOWELL BECOMES FAVORITE

NEW YORK (UP)—Defenseman Harry Howell of the New York Rangers, who was practically booted out of Madison Square Garden last season, has become a favorite of the "gallery gods" this year because of his rugged play. Says Howell, "I can't afford a bad game this year, not after the season I had last year."

Shockers Battle Monterey In Lubbock Tomorrow Afternoon

After winning their first two games and losing the next two, the Pampa Shockers will travel to Lubbock tomorrow afternoon to meet the Monterey "B" team at 4:30.

The Shockers began the season by defeating the Dumas "B", 28-6, and the Perryton "B" team, 25-13, before losing to Borger, 58-14 and Plainview, 19-13. They had one game, with Tom S. Lubbock, cancelled.

The sophomore gridgers, at mid-season, have Phillips, Amarillo and Palo Duro remaining on the schedule after the Plainsmen.

Injuries and sickness over the past two weeks have considerably weakened the team, having lost quarterback Ronnie Smith, who received a broken collar bone in practice. Gary Willis was moved from the halfback slot into the key position and Duane Urbanskyk was placed at right half.

Probable starters for tomorrow night's game will be:

Player	Wt.	No.
Huffaker, Left Tackle	140	78
Stone, Left Guard	185	69
Dunham, Center	155	59
Coombs, R. Guard	145	65
Vesle, R. Tackle	188	75
Mitchell, Right End	128	88
Willis, Quarterback	145	22
Daniels, Fullback	155	31
Urbanskyk, R. Halfback	135	24
Neeley, L. Halfback	140	34

Nederland Still On Top In Class AAA

By UNITED PRESS
Sweetwater's marauding Mustangs soared from ninth to fourth place in a general shakeup of the United Press Coaches Board Class AAA Texas schoolboy football ratings this week.

Coach Elwood Turner's Ponies made the big leap after delivering a 35-28 licking to previously undefeated, untied and unscored-on Graham, which dropped from a strong second place to fifth.

The turn of events only served to strengthen Nederland's hold on the No. 1 spot, which the Bulldogs have held all season. The Bulldogs, who rapped Beaumont High 41-0, got 11 first-place ballots and 146 points.

Big Bulge
That gave them a 23-point bulge over their neighboring rival, Port Neches, which polled the other five top places awarded by the 18-member UP Coaches Snyder snarling Tigers, roaring Board.

Along stronger each week after an opening upset loss to Borger, climbed a notch into third place with 109 points, only 14 behind Port Neches. The Tigers won the No. 1 spot a year ago only to be upset in the playoffs.

Rounding out the top 10 below fifth - place Graham's 75 points were Andrews with 61, San Antonio Edison with 53, Palestine with 50, Kilgore with 37 and Breckenridge with 29.

Brenham bounced back to the top of the second 10 with 15 points, just ahead of undefeated-untied Beaville and once-beaten San Benito.

Held Steady
Port Neches and Snyder both turned in impressive performances last week, the Indians beating Port Arthur 15-14 and the Tigers mauling Midland 40-14.

Nederland, Andrews and Edison were the only teams to hold onto the same spot in the ratings. Idle Palestine and Breckenridge dropped from fifth and eighth while Kilgore gained one notch by knocking off undefeated, untied Carthage 26-19.

Weekly Role Named Of Outstanding Gridders

Five districts were underway in last Friday night's action as Perryton, Stinnett, Clarendon, Lefors, Groom and Wheeler all stayed on top to keep a bulk of the power close to home.

In District 1-A, Stinnett cut the first notch in a state title defense by crushing the Panhandle Panthers, 40-18. White Deer, having an open date last week, remains the only real threat to the Rattlers bandwagon. The two teams meet Nov. 2.

District 2-A is fast coming to a decision as the two winners of last week, Lefors and Clarendon, meet next Friday night. The Broncos got by on forfeit last week while the Pirates battled to a close 14-13 win over Canadian.

The Wheeler Mustangs had a close shave also as they squeezed by Turkey, 7-6, to add third district victory, in 2-B, Groom, in 1-B, also added their third district win by roaring over Pollett, 41-13.

In 3-AA, the Perryton Rangers conquered one of their biggest foes as they dropped the Quanah Indians, 27-13. Perryton is also defending a district championship.

Wheeler vs Turkey
As the Mustangs edged the Turks, Wheeler quarterback Harold Crossland proved himself a valuable man as he capped a first-quarter drive by plunging over for the lone touchdown and added the winning score by booting the vital extra point that proved the deciding factor.

Crossland, though injured in a previous game, has proven through the first half of the season to be one of the leading field engineers of the area.

Perryton vs Quanah
As the Rangers pulled from behind to power over their first district contender, they were paced by hard running Don Seymour who galloped for many yard-gaining runs while accounting for two touchdowns and one scoring pass.

In the Ranger line, it was Ben Flowers who provided the bulk of the strong defense that held the Indians scoreless in the second half.

Lefors vs Canadian
In the close win over the Wildcats, the Pirates were spurred offensively by Junior Taylor, who rolled for consistent yardage during the evening, and accounted for the first Buccaners tally on a 32 yard gallop. Bolstering the Pirate defense was Calvin Stracere and Mark Braly.

Powering the Wildcat attack was for both the Canadian score, Yar-Harold Yarnold, who accounted for both the Canadian scores. Yarnold plunked six yards for the first and galloped 30 for the second. Defensively, Lary Schaefer contributed a vital part in stifling the Lefors running attack.

Groom vs Pollett
Willard Smith raced his way to the unusual mark of four touchdowns in one game as he sparked the Tigers to the 41-13 drubbing they handed the Panthers. He scored one in the second quarter, one in the third and two in the fourth.

East To Conformity

It could be said, we believe, that all reasonable men want peace. But the problem is large. And hence the cry occurring at regular intervals, like the methodical 'beep' from Sputnik, 'to have world peace we must have world government.'

The end is desirable, of course. The means to the end are not only destructive in themselves, but entirely unworkable as a device for bringing the desirable end.

An example is in order. Is there any place on this troubled old sphere where 'peace' has been obtained after the manner of the one-worlders? Yes, there are several such places, with perhaps the most outstanding example existing right today in Hungary.

Have you ever seen the twin cities of Buda and Pest, spanning the Danube? We call the place Budapest. It has peace. Still today, a year after the peace came, there are tanks in evidence; the people do not talk openly on the streets and many of its most prominent citizens are still in hiding, here are armed men everywhere.

If the local advocates of one-world-peace do not feel they can hazard a trip to Budapest at this time in order to check on the results of government induced peace, perhaps a trip to Huntsville might be in order.

And, in essence, this is what a one-world government would bring. It would bring this kind of peace. The price of one-world peace, induced by government, would be slavery. It would mean imprisonment without the prisons. It would mean death without burial, a living death.

This is why we do not like to conform to the one-worlder's ideas. The one-worlder has given up thinking and doing on his own. He imagines that all problems can be solved by governments and that super problems, such as world peace, need only a super government and the solution is at hand.

But we cannot agree. To us, peace becomes a meaningless term unless it is the peace that exists AFTER individual freedom is assured. If we have individual freedom, then peace can come. Without freedom, peace is an empty pretext, a fraud, a cheatment.

Our government sycophants of the one-world school have taken peace to mean the absence of war. And if their definition is to triumph, all that is necessary for the absence of war, is sufficient force in the hands of one man or one political grouping, and war will cease. Certainly it will. Just as war has ceased in Budapest.

But to us, peace is a positive, not a negative condition. Peace is freedom in action. War is force, induced and then invoked by governments out to bring a cessation of hostilities by employing super hostilities. War is one of the tragedies of our times, and occurs when freedom is betrayed.

All about us, men of insight and cogitation are saying that conformity is an evil, spawned by mass production civilization. Why cannot these same men see that government, is the greatest conformity of all, and for more to be dreaded and avoided than any factory assembly line? By all means let us have done with conformity.

We are certain that the martyrs of Budapest know what we mean.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. Hollies... Quotations On Friendship VI.

Here is the best explanation of a friend that I have ever run across. In other words, a friend when you are having plenty of trouble will not be pointing out your errors and faults, but will be assisting you with his hand and heart, and then when you are not in trouble, he will point out your errors. It is hard to think of a more useful service one man can give to another than pointing that it is summarized by Smith in this way:

"A real friend is one who will tell you of your faults and follies in prosperity, and assist you with his hand and heart in adversity." -Horace Smith

"A faithful and true friend is a living treasure, inestimable in possession, and deeply to be lamented when gone. Nothing is more common than to talk of a friend; nothing more difficult than to find one; nothing more rare than to improve by one's own efforts."

"He who has made the acquisition of a judicious and sympathetic friend may be said to have doubled his mental resources." -Robert Hall

"Men may prove and use their friends, and not presume upon their friendship in things contrary to the decrees of heaven." -Cervantes

"A friend is a fellow who knows all about you, but likes you." -A Ten-year-old School-boy

"No word is oftener on the lips of men than 'friendship,' and indeed no thought is more familiar to their aspirations. All men are dreaming of it, and its drama, which is always a tragedy, is enacted daily. It is the secret of the universe." -Thoreau

"When true friends meet in adversity hour, 'Tis like a sunbeam through a shower. A watery ray an instant seen. The darkly closing clouds between." -Scott

"A friendship that makes the least noise is very often the most useful; for which reason I should prefer a prudent friend to a zealous one." -Buddell

"The art of friendship is not in effacing self, so that there is nothing for a friend to love: such selfishness is, in the last analysis, selfishness. It is not the colorless, characterless persons, however well meaning they may be and however much they sacrifice themselves for us, who really help us most. The best friend is the one who endeavors to be his best self for our sake, and to provoke us to our best. This is a higher, harder task than that of surrendering one's own will for a friend's sake." -Anon

"My friend is that one whom I can associate with my choicest thought." -Thoreau

"Sincerity, truth, faithfulness, come into the very essence of friendship." -William Ellery Channing

"The surest bulwark against evil is that of friendship." -Cicero

"A friend is like a life line in more to us than twice five thousand kinsmen, one in blood." -Euripides

"Friendship is the only point in human affairs concerning the benefit of which all, with one voice, agree." -Cicero

"Our friends see the best in us, and by that very fact forth the best from us." -Hugh Black

"A friend is a person with whom I may be sincere. Before him, I may think aloud." -Emerson

"Thus nature has no love for solitude, and always leans, as it were, on some support; and the sweetest support is found in the most intimate friendship." -Cicero

"I believe the main purport of these States is to found a superb friendship." -Walt Whitman

"True friendships are eternal." -Cicero

"We can live without a brother, but not without a friend." -German Proverb

"To God, thy country, and thy friend be true." -Vaughan

"Friendship is the greatest bond in the world." -Jeremy Taylor

"True friendship between man and man is infinite and immortal." -Plato

"Friendship is a union of spirits, a marriage of hearts, and the bond there of virtue." -William Penn

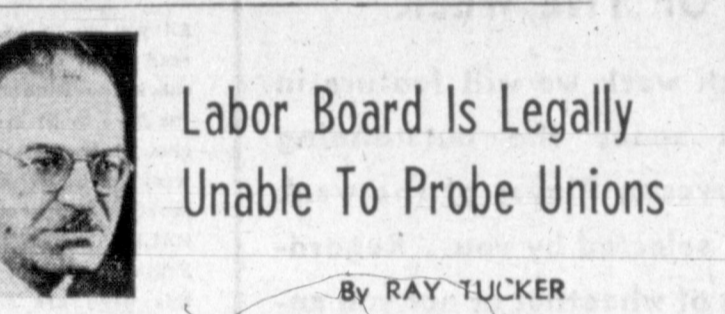

"Who seeks a faultless friend, rests friendless. A true friend is better than a relation." -Turkish Proverb

"He who is his own friend is a friend to all men." -Seneca

Labor Board Is Legally Unable To Probe Unions

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower recently ordered the Department of Labor and the National Labor Relations Board to keep a close check on certain unions' questionable activities as a result of the Beck-Hoffa scandals.

But the Chief Executive apparently does not realize that those agencies are legally powerless to interfere with the "internal affairs" of these organizations so long as they are not actually criminal or in restraint of trade.

CONSIDERED LIMITATIONS—Senator McClellan resorts to this extrajudicial and extracurricular action for the simple reason that the agencies responsible to the White House have no jurisdiction at the present stage of developments, and Eisenhower believes that it would be unwise for him to exert moral pressure. Moreover, there is another factor operating in Hoffa's favor.

Federal courts are extremely loath to interfere with the affairs or activities of private organizations, whether they be labor, social, fraternal or political in nature. Such an invasion is only legally justified in the event of actual corruption and criminality subject to laws now on the books, including those which Hoffa is charged with violating — perjury and wiretapping.

NLRB MAY INTERVENE — NLRB can intervene, according to Chairman Boyd Leedom, only under limited and well defined circumstances. It can act to prevent a worker from losing his job because a union official or employer, as frequently happens, wants him fired in retaliation for the employee's complaint or revolt against their oppressive and illegal behavior.

In numerous cases involving Teamster Union officials' "head-heart" deals with employers, NLRB has saved the workers' jobs. It has also protected them when they tried, unsuccessfully, to remove crooked officers who were discriminating against the unions' best interests.

As a result of the McClellan disclosures, Chairman Leedom says that he has been bombarded with criticism for his agency's inaction. Before employer and employee groups, he has felt compelled to conduct a seminar on his "head-aches." Like McClellan he urges new legislation covering what he calls "nefarious activities" and "prevailing evil practices."

Oil Town Of Odessa Is No Longer A Wide Spot

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

ODESSA, TEX. — Ten years ago Odessa was a wide spot in the long stretch of highway across the Western half of Texas, often ankle-deep in mud, with a few thousand pioneers hoveled in an ugly jumble of tanks, pumps, valves, pipes and other machinery and for drilling wells and pumping and moving oil. Midland, 20 miles to the East, was a little more slightly, but no Venice, either. Today they are extravagant young cities with a developing eye for beauty and confidence in their ultimate future, but quietly, privately scared of next week and next year. Odessa's population is 75,000; Midland's 50,000. Even Port Arthur and Brownsville bring the total of this fabulous oil country to hardly 300,000. You could hide them all in the Bronx.

Last week, Olin Culberson, the chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, which controls the rate of oil production, openly proclaimed the ominous news that the oil of the Middle East and Venezuela is drowning the prosperity of all Texas. Under the Texas rationing system, wells are permitted to pump only 12 days a month at conservative capacities fixed by law. The purpose is to get the utmost out of the well in the long pull. The number of days is called the "allowable" and the current legal allowable of 12 days is the lowest ever set in the history of the efforts of the state of Texas to conserve her treasure by prevention of waste.

Twelve days is a squeeze point, but even that meager limit is not really allowed nowadays because the big fellows, who own most of the pipelines and the principal refineries down on the Gulf of Mexico, are further reducing their quotas to seven days a month by refusing to buy. They cannot refuse to move the oil produced by "independents" because their pipelines are carriers, like railroads. But they insist that they do not have to buy it. On this point the big fellows are confronted with a demand, political and emotional, that they do buy a certain amount of Texas oil under legal compulsion and give it priority over oil which they now bring in from abroad. Foreign oil is about a dollar a barrel cheaper.

There is no evidence of poverty here. Last year, Odessa's average family had an income of $7,102. The national average was $3,856. Odessa's average family "household" bought $5,137 worth of stuff in retail stores. Such statistics seem to be an Englishman if you stayed in England, but it must be a frightful bore to travel a broad road with a national characteristic that prevents you from speaking to strangers.

Half the fun for an American over here is not only speaking to strangers when you pass them, but chasing them down the street to say hello and strike up an acquaintance. I have even seen Americans stop their rented cars, and block traffic, to shake hands and make new friends.

It would have been lonesome in the Colosseum this morning, where I was sitting and taking the sun, had there not been another American there, and had we not come together as baseball and bat.

In fact, we talked of baseball right off the bat, and when I found out that he was from Brooklyn I hesitated to ask him how he felt about the Dodgers moving to Los Angeles. I was afraid he'd be so mad about the change that he might decide to play lion and Christian in the original setting — with me as you know what.

But I ventured the subject, anyway, and while he was sore about his beloved Bums moving a continent's breadth away, he was still madder about another subject — The Leaning Tower of Pisa, of all things! He was hopping mad about it, and almost choked when he mentioned it.

"Doesn't it lean enough for you?" I asked. "Do you think it's a fake?" "That's not it at all," he said, bristling like a Colosseum lion must have done centuries ago. "It leans too much, if you ask me. No use in it leaning at all."

This was a new view on the Leaning Tower to me. I had heard people say it should be condemned lest it fall some day and knock ten thousand tourists to kingdom come, and that it didn't lean enough to suit them, and that it wasn't tall enough to be exciting — but never have I heard that it shouldn't lean at all!

"I'm an engineer," the man from Brooklyn said, "and I could straighten that Tower easier than a lot of things I have done. Give me the job, and in a year I'd have it as straight as the Empire State building. Makes me mad to see it looking as if it were going to topple over any second. I hope the contractors who built it never got another job."

I asked my new friend if he had thought of asking the town officials of Pisa about his straightening the Tower for them.

"No, it wouldn't be any use," he said. "They love it that way. The more it leans the more they like it. Look at the money Pisa must make from that fool thing. Who would go to Pisa if the Tower didn't lean? I mean, what's there but that had engineering job? When the wife and I were there a few days ago the park around the Tower was packed with people — and paying to climb up it!"

"Did you and the wife climb it?" I asked.

"The wife didn't, but I did. It's just like any other tower, except for that leaning, which makes you feel as if you were falling when you stand on the leaning side."

"When we got around to baseball again, my friend was so bused from blasting the Tower that he had little anger left for the Bums. Indeed he was quite philosophical. 'Let 'em run some other town crazy,'" he said. "It's about time. And they'll run you crazy, those Bums. I wish 'em luck! The Los Angeles fans, too! There'll be days when they'll wonder why they gave 'em a park, and wanta run 'em out of town."

MAEBASHI, Japan — Army Specialist William S. Girard, when asked by Judge Yuzo Kawachi if he didn't feel sorry for shooting and killing metal scavenger Mrs. Naka Sakai on an Army firing range last January: "I feel very sorry, sir."

Engineer Wants To Correct Leaning Tower Of Pisa

By HENRY McLEMORE "I'm an engineer," the man from Brooklyn said, "and I could straighten that Tower easier than a lot of things I have done.
