Hoffa Elected Teamster Head

By WILLIAM J. EATON
United Press Staff Correspondent
MIAMI BEACH (UP)—A roaring convention voted James R. Hoffa into the presidency of the big International Teamsters Union today in defiance of the AFL-CIO the courts and Senate investigations.

The 5-foot, 5-inch Hoffa prepared to take over the $50,000 a year post as head of the nation's largest union immediately.

United States Recognizes San Marino

By LARRY COLLINS
United Press Staff Correspondent
SAN-MARINO (UP)—The anti-Communists of San Marino today celebrated recognition of their government by the United States and the republic of the South Moluccas.

Christian Democratic leaders gathered in a partly built iron foundry near the Italian border to toast the two countries with orange juice. The occasion was no less warm because none of them knew what or where the South Moluccas was.

Recognition from the South Moluccas, a part of the Indonesian archipelago which claims independence from Indonesia, came in a telegram addressed to "Christian Democratic Government, San Marino, Iron Foundry, San Marino."

Recognition by the United States was not so formal but it was just as effective.

U.S. Consul Dale Fisher sloshed down the muddy road to the iron works headquarters in his automobile Thursday and handed the Christian Democrats documents relating to the International Atomic Energy Agency statute.

He thus bypassed the Communist government ensconced in the government palace six miles away.

"In effect, this act amounts to U.S. recognition of the provisional government," he told reporters.

The Christian Democrats, spirits still buoyant after three days in the factory headquarters without running water or beds, said all they needed was recognition from a few more governments and they would march up the mountain to take the Communists by storm.

Three Killed In Light Plane Crash

LEVELLAND, Tex. (UP)—Three persons were killed Thursday when their Piper Cub stalled on a turn and crashed into a pasture three miles south of Levelland.

The dead were identified as James A. McKenzie, 32, his daughter, Donna, 4, and Bobby Ray Johnston, 23, all residents of Levelland.

McKenzie moved here with his family from Mangum, Okla. about a year ago. He was manager of the Levelland airport and dusted crops in this area.

Sheriff Weir Clem said an unidentified witness said the plane appeared to have started a turn at a low altitude and stalled.

State Fair Opens On Saturday

DALLAS (UP)—The State Fair of Texas opens Saturday morning with Gov. Price Daniel slicing a ribbon at the main gate of the Fair Grounds.

The exposition runs through Oct. 20. Daniel's ribbon-cutting ceremony will be preceded by the traditional parade through downtown Dallas.

Open day will be Rural Youth Day with more than 400,000 4-H members, Future Farmers and Future Homemakers converging from all parts of the state.

On the entertainment agenda is the Broadway musical "My Fair Lady," the "Ice Capades," the Aut Swenson Thrillcade, and a free attraction billed as the "Astec - Mayan Spectacular."

A total of 4,813 head of livestock has been entered in the Pan-American Livestock Exposition and the Junior Livestock Show.

Exhibits from a dozen foreign countries in addition to the U.S., include a replica of a space satellite, priceless Old Master paintings, guided missiles, and an automobile show.

If it comes from a Hardware Store, we have it. Lewis Hilde.

Outgoing Teamsters Boss Dave Beck of Seattle obtained, "for the best interests of the union," a leave of absence beginning Oct. 15. He officially steps into retirement at $50,000 a year on Dec. 1.

Hoffa, in fact, however, has been in control of the 1,400,000-member truckers union since top officers gathered here two weeks ago to prepare for the convention. Not once was one of his suggestions voted down in committee meetings or convention sessions.

From the moment the shouting, stomping delegates rallied around his banner by the hundreds in the first convention session Monday, election of the Midwest teamsters boss from Detroit to the union's top job never appeared to be in doubt. His four opponents rapidly dwindled until there was resistance from only two as the balloting began.

Corruption Charges
The black-haired Hoffa, a youngish-looking 44, taken over the teamsters under a dark cloud of corruption charges that has hung over him, Beck and the union's leadership for more than a year.

The criticism sends the 63-year-old Beck, scandal-ridden and shaken, into retirement to joust with the business world and the Internal Revenue Service.

But the charges aimed at the union and Hoffa, personally, from three fronts outside the union, appeared only to whet the energetic new trucker chief's appetite for the big job.

Hoffa indicated the teamsters could stand alone, if necessary, but said his first job would be an attempt to keep his union in the AFL-CIO federation. He said he would take the new executive board to New York Oct. 24 to hear what the AFL-CIO has to say against the teamsters and then "tell them what we will do."

Korea Police Ask Protest Of Shooting

SEOUL, Korea (UP)—Korean police said today they asked the foreign ministry to lodge a "serious" protest with the United States for the fatal shooting of Korean youth by a U.S. military policeman.

The state, meantime, enjoyed another day of mild temperatures today. Other than a few scattered showers, skies were clear again and temperatures generally mild to warm.

Some ground fog was reported again in southeast Texas, but it disappeared shortly after sunrise.

Low temperatures ranged from 55 at Dalhart to 73 at Corpus Christi. Highs Thursday ranged from 82 at Galveston to 95 at Presidio, which also was the highest temperature in the nation.

FD's New Truck Here

The new pumper for the Pampa Fire Department arrived at the fire station last night.

Ernest Winborne, fire chief, drove the truck from the Mack factory at Sydney, Ohio, where it had been built to the specifications of the local fire department.

This morning the firemen were trying to find a place to put the new truck. The arrival of the aerial ladder truck last month filled the space at Central Station and until the new sub-stations are completed there is not enough room to place the new truck in the station.

Paul Skidmore, shift captain, said today it looks like one of the old pumps will have to be stored at the city barn until the stations are completed. If a truck is put in storage it will be available for use on any major fires, however, he said.

Not Yet Nationwide Epidemic

Officials Concerned Over Flu Outbreaks

WASHINGTON (UP)—Public Health Service officials expressed "concern" today over large scale local outbreaks of Asian flu but said the disease had not yet become a nationwide epidemic.

Some officials believed that New York City, hard-hit by the disease may be in for a month-long flu siege.

One PHS official said "There is not going to be enough flu vaccine available to do a whole lot of good" now in New York, Milwaukee and other areas where large numbers of flu cases are reported.

"It looks as if the flu beat vaccine production to the draw," he said. "Manufacturers are turning out vaccine as fast as they can but the flu won't wait."

A PHS spokesman said there has been no change in the virulence of the disease.

"It is not a killing flu," the spokesman said. He added there

Cold Front Expected In Panhandle

By UNITED PRESS
A new cold front pushing southward from Colorado was expected to touch the Texas Panhandle late tonight, or early Saturday, setting off a round of scattered thunderstorms.

The front will end a week-long series of typical fall days for western and northern Texas by Sunday night. Thunderstorm activity is expected to touch the north-west portion of North Central Texas by late Saturday.

The front dumped considerable snow on high elevation points in Colorado and in Wyoming as it pushed through those areas. It was expected to cool temperature readings by about 10 degrees as it passes through Texas points.

Forecasters expected the front to reach the Dallas-Fort Worth area by Sunday, and possibly push further south Sunday night and Monday.

The state, meantime, enjoyed another day of mild temperatures today. Other than a few scattered showers, skies were clear again and temperatures generally mild to warm.

Commission Talks Underpass Progress

By FRED M. PARKER
Pampa News Staff Writer
Progress on the construction of the Hobart street underpass—and related projects was discussed at the meeting of the City Commission this morning.

THE CONTRACTOR, Ivan Dement of Amarillo, and representatives of the Highway Department met with the commissioners to discuss the cooperation between the city, contractor and state in the construction of the project.

The main item in today's discussion was the moving of all utility services in the right-of-way of the project. Utility poles, gas lines, water and sewer lines must be moved before the construction work can begin.

THE CITY hopes to obtain modern metal standards to replace the wooden utility poles along the project. John Koontz, acting city manager, is to contact the light company in regards to the metal standards.

The city also discussed the possibility of widening Francis street between Hobart and Purviance with the contractor and state engineers and reached an agreement with them for the work to be completed at the time the Hobart, Francis and Alcock intersection is built.

AN AGREEMENT was also made to place the storm sewer, from the underpass to the school property on Hobart, under the pavement on Hobart. This section of the storm sewer will join the underground box, now being constructed, at the school property. The underground part of the storm sewer will empty into the drainage channel in Priest Park.

The local Highway Department engineer, G. K. Reading, reported that work was progressing on the project and Dement stated he expected to complete work on the storm sewer about the middle of December. He said it would take about six weeks after the expected date of completing the out-of-box at Montagu, which is about Nov. 1.

Other Action
The second reading of Ordinance 478, which sets a general service rate for commercial customers of Southwestern Public Service Co., was approved this morning. If the third reading is approved it will mean a uniform rate for all commercial establishments in Pampa.

THE TRANSFER of $2,500 from the general fund to the library fund was approved. This money is set aside to purchase books for the library.

The only other action, late this morning, was the approval of additional car expense for L. E. West, city health officer.

Santa Fe District Scouting Roundup Is 'Well Underway'

The Boy Scout Round-up of the Santa Fe District is well underway, according to Kay Fancher, organization and extension chairman of the District.

Vernon Stuckey has completed a survey on boys who would like to become Scouts, scouts or explorers. Cards have been delivered to unit chairmen and unit leaders in charge of the 20 Pampa units.

However, there are about 400 boys who desire to get in the program who have not been placed as yet. Plans are now underway to organize new units to take care of the boys wanting in the program. New sponsors are needed to expand this ever growing movement. Fancher stated. A new unit committee has been set up. (See SANTA FE, Page 2)

Officials Back Efforts Of Church Leaders

By BRYCE MILLER
United Press Staff Correspondent
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UP)—A dedicated group of 50 clergymen worked in union today to weld the churchgoers of Little Rock into a powerful moral force that can replace armed soldiers as custodians of peace and order.

Officials hoped the efforts of the church leaders, combined with those of a group of 25 business and professional men, would prove the turning point in Little Rock's quarrel with the law of the land.

A "break in their efforts may have been provided by the hot heads themselves when white student agitators staged a walkout at troubled Central High School Thursday. School officials believe things will go smoother as long as the troublemakers stay out.

Endorsed By Ike
The peace movement, which has the hopeful endorsement of President Eisenhower, aims to restore the peace so that 101st Airborne troops may be moved out of Little Rock with an assurance of no more trouble.

"This is a major step toward mobilizing the moral and spiritual resources of Little Rock to achieve a peaceful solution of the crisis," Congressman Brooks Hays (D-Ark.) said.

Hays is active in both movements. He also is president of the Southern Baptist Convention, which represents 9,000,000 Baptists.

The Rt. Rev. Robert R. Brown, episcopal bishop of Arkansas, who is promoting the church movement, said he hopes both movements will merge.

Okayed By Faubus
Gov. Orval E. Faubus praised the churchmen's plans and especially their decision to hold a city-wide day of prayer for peace on Oct. 12.

Military leaders believed most student troublemakers separated themselves Thursday in an abortive walkout and effigy-burning.

All of the approximately 40 students who walked out and about 100 who waited for them in front of Central faced three-day to two Actual, factual development of peaceful conditions" was one of two possibilities he envisioned Thursday at his news conference for the withdrawal of troops. The other was "satisfactory and unambiguous assurances" from Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus that the federal court integration orders will not be obstructed and peace will be maintained.

Both Back Frayer
Faubus replied that such assurances would be unconditional surrender. But both he and Eisenhower supported a day of prayer Oct. 12 by Little Rock church leaders to reconcile the crisis, giving further impetus to the movement to have the citizens settle it.

Eisenhower made it clear that there will be no further immediate action out of Washington to break the deadlock. He was cold toward another meeting with Faubus. And his firm refusal to give ground otherwise was reflected in the reentry of paratroopers into the high school Thursday to quell student disorders.

The President also cleared up the reason why he rejected the statement by Faubus which would have sealed the agreement negotiated Tuesday at the White House by four southern governors to withdraw the troops.

Reversed Situation
He said it was Faubus' use of the words "as I have intended from the beginning," Eisenhower said this meant that anything Faubus stated "merely took the situation back to where it was before federal troops arrived."

He added, "now, under that situation, there was no revocation of the orders to the Guard already issued that they would, the Guard would, prevent the entry of those Negro children into the high school."

The Guard, at that time early last month, was acting under Faubus' direction. Eisenhower also said that after meeting with Faubus at Newport, R.I., he had expected him to modify his order to the guard on barring the Negro pupils. Faubus pulled the guard out Sept. 23 and Eisenhower ordered in the federal troops the next day after mob violence broke out.

Innocent Plea In DWI Case

One driving while intoxicated case was reported by the County Attorney's office this morning. Lester Virgil Altaway, Pampa, was picked up on W. Wilks at 11:40 p.m. last night, after being observed by the arresting officers. A plea of innocence was entered. This morning a $500 bond was set.

Walkout Said Elimination Of Troubles

By JAMES FLINCHUM
United Press Staff Correspondent
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UP)—Officials of Central High and Army officers guarding the troubled school expected a quiet day today—thanks to the troublemakers.

Officials felt that the walkout Thursday of about 40 white students eliminated most of the agitators that have caused incidents at Central since it was integrated.

Ralph Brodie, 17, president of the school student body, said he felt the suspension of students who walked out "may help."

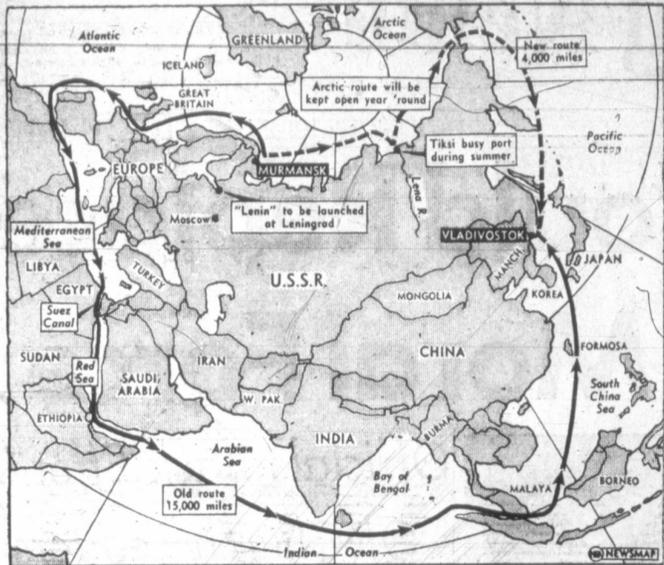

The Negro students, heavily guarded as they walked into the school building Thursday said that they had a "quiet day."

They, too were of the opinion that the "white students who had caused trouble inside the building, were among those who walked out."

Stragglers Easy to Count
Talk of the "mass walkout" had been going on for several days at the school, but when the time came, newsmen at the scene found it easy to count the number of stragglers, most of them boys.

Several of the girl students said they were disappointed. "We had thought about 700

ROUTE OF ATOMIC ICEBREAKER—The world's first atomic-powered surface ship, the Russian icebreaker "V.I. Lenin," will be launched at Leningrad this fall. I. K. Yakimovich, director of the Arctic museum in Leningrad, says the 16,000-ton ship, powered by nuclear-generated steam engines delivering 44,000 horsepower, will be able to keep the Arctic Ocean route from Murmansk to Vladivostok (dotted line on Newmap) open 12 months a year. Ships have previously been able to navigate the frozen wastes, where ice is sometimes 35 feet thick, only two or three months each year. The northern route is 11,000 miles shorter than the 15,000-mile shipping line south from Murmansk to Vladivostok (unbroken line on map) through the Suez Canal and Indian and Pacific Oceans. The "Lenin" is designed to blast through even the thickest ice with "water cannons," delivering steel-hard, thin streams of water that cut ice like a knife.

Guy Mollet Asked To Premier France

PARIS (UP)—President Rene Coty called on ex-Premier Guy Mollet today to become France's new premier and tackle the job of solving the crises at home and abroad.

Faint Hope For Last Quintuplets

TOULON, France (UP)—Mrs. Camille Christoffe, the heart-broken mother of quintuplets, three of whom already are dead, prayed today that her two remaining children would survive.

"I only ask one thing from heaven, that I can keep my two little ones, Roland and Michele," she told reporters.

Doctors have told her there is only faint hope the tiny boy and a girl would pull through.

They were still alive this morning, hospital officials said.

Mrs. Christoffe, 28, and her 33-year-old husband have been childless for eight years. She once took sterility treatment in an effort to start a family.

Wednesday, three months prematurely, she gave birth to quintuplets, three girls and two boys, the first recorded in France. Each weighed only about two pounds and three—Philippe, Helene and Genevieve—died before dawn Thursday.

Author Rescued From Plane Ditched in Ocean

AGANA, Guam (UP)—A United States Air Force C47 with 13 persons aboard, including author James Mitchener, ditched today in the Pacific Ocean three miles north of Two Jima.

The Air Force said all persons were rescued without injury.

The plane was forced to ditch shortly after taking off from the Ryukyuan island of Two Jima for Japan.

Mitchener, who wrote, among other things, "Tales of the South Pacific," arrived here late in September to do research for a book on the Strategic Air Command.

Debt-Ridden Man Asks Cremation In City Incinerator

AURORA, Ill. (UP)—An aged, debt-ridden man "made destitute by several painful illnesses" has asked the Aurora City Council for permission to have his body cremated in the city incinerator when he dies to spare his wife the added expense of burying him.

More Riots Threatened By Polish

WARSAW, Poland (UP)—Defiant students threatened today continuation of Thursday night riots, attacked only by teargas and club charges by reinforced militiamen and police.

More than 30 students were reported arrested in the clashes which erupted in downtown Narutowicz Square Thursday night. The students had assembled in the square to protest against government closure of an anti-Stalinist student newspaper.

There was no report of student casualties, if any. One Western newsmen was reported roughed up during the fighting.

Security forces restored calm around midnight, some five hours after the first clash. But defiant students said they would stage new protest demonstrations this afternoon.

An estimated 700 steel-helmeted militiamen were rushed to the square Thursday night to help police break up the demonstrators. The students were protesting the government ban on the anti-Stalinist student weekly Propaganda.

The students, estimated at around 2,000, had marched on the square after plastering the city with posters proclaiming "Democracy is in danger." The posters signed by the "Socialist Youth Union Committee of the Polytechnic High School," appeared in all high schools in Warsaw.

Elderly Man, Young Girl Honeymoon

HERNANDO, Miss. (UP)—A 78-year-old farmer honeymooned today with the 14-year-old girl he married "because the Lord willed me to."

John G. Tatro, described as "exceptionally alert and full of vigor," married Mary Lou Lawson Thursday in the presence of her parents. Then they headed back to Tatro's home in Zelma, Mo. They had made the trip to Mississippi so they could be married.

James P. Sandefur, Primitive Baptist minister and motel operator, performed the ceremony after the couple got a license in an adjoining county. The circuit clerk's office in Hernando had turned them down.

The wiry Tatro said he got lonely after his wife died last December.

"Then Mary Lou and I fell in love," he said. "I prayed 10 days and nights about this marriage. The Lord willed me to do it."

Sandefur said the bride was quiet and serious before the ceremony, but Tatro was smiling and talkative. "He is exceptionally alert and full of vigor," the minister said.

Tatro was driving back to Zelma, his wife at his side and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Lawson, in the back seat.

Two Fire Calls Reported Here

Two alarms were received by the fire department yesterday.

At 7:02 a.m. the firemen were called to the Texas Truck Co., 1505 Ripley, where a fire had started in the building of the firm. The firemen answering the alarm reported that light damage resulted to the interior of the building.

A house trailer on fire at 9:15 last night resulted in the last alarm yesterday. Heavy damage resulted to the interior of the trailer which was parked at the Davis Courts.

The causes of the fires were not given by the fire department.

Prince Is Aggravated Over Recent Attacks On Queen

By ROBERT MUSEL, United Press Staff Correspondent LONDON, (UP)—Britain's Prince Philip has been losing weight lately and friends say it is partly due to aggravation over the attack on the Queen.

His nerves are obviously on edge. He has averaged two public engagements a day for five months and his commonwealth tour in late 1946 was one of the most strenuous ever undertaken by a member of the royal family.

Everyone hopes Philip will regain his good temper soon—before his visit this month to the United States and Canada. He has a light touch with public affairs that is most refreshing.

After seeing Jimmy Durante at a vaudeville show, he pointed to his own strong nose and cracked: "Shnozle Mountbatten, that's me."

During this year's state visit to Denmark, he downed a bottle of beer as a chaser to champagne—with a sly glance at the Queen. Philip has made a marvelous difference to the normally quiet Elizabeth.

Prefer Cricket The only interest they do not go to the races everytime she goes to horse racing. She loves it, goes to races ever ytime she can, has a fine stable. Philip is frankly bored. He prefers the cricket pitch or the polo field.

He is six feet of fine, all-around athlete with the build of a rangy, light-heavyweight. Add to this a lean jaw, a smile of flashing white teeth blue eyes and blond hair and it is easy to see why he captivates women.

One girl pretended to swoon beside his automobile while he was on tour.

"Steady, girl, steady," he laughed.

He has the knack of keeping the Queen interested in the public duty of the moment and this is not always an easy feat on their often tedious schedule. He has been seen to nudge her into a smile. He often refers to her as "my wife" instead of "the Queen."

He was once introduced to a couple, Mr. and Dr. Robinson. The man explained that his wife was a doctor of philosophy. "She's much more important than me," he said. "Ah yes," replied Philip. "We have the same sort of trouble in our family."

The Queen has a family preference for fuzzy clothes. Philip is credited with persuading her to diet and wear clothes that emphasize the basically good figure thus revealed. He even clothes her casual, except his uniforms. He dismays his tailors by his habit of jamming his hands into suit pockets.

Voice Resonant His speaking voice is a clear, resonant baritone. Even anti-royalists had to agree, after he introduced a BBC-TV program on the International Geophysical Year, that he is one of the most attractive television personalities in Britain.

Philip has far more defenders than detractors and even some of those who oppose him at times only do so out of a real concern that his informality may damage the half-mystical aura of the throne. The Daily Express, for example, warned Philip about being too human.

"Once a royal person makes clear to all that he is just like anyone else—only better off—why should 50,000,000 citizens regard him as royal?" the newspaper asked.

This feeling on the part of the Queen's advisers was partly responsible for the brief tug-of-war over the education of the heir to the throne, nine-year-old Prince Charles. The Old Guard wanted him educated in private, as had been the immemorial custom.

SANTA FE

George Whitten has been selected as head of the Charter Renewals and is recruiting a team of men to help units in conducting their charter reviews when their unit is due to re-register. It is planned that an institution which sponsors all three Scouting programs will have its charter review for all its units on the same evening, previewed by an orientation meeting 30 days prior to the charter review.

The committees are now busy recruiting new personnel to help with the program of organization and extension, it was stated.

The Leadership Training Committee of the Santa Fe District will conduct its Fall Training Sessions, Leonard White, acting leadership training chairman, announced today.

The Cub Scouting sessions will begin Thursday evening, Oct. 10, with a session on "What is Cub Scouting" and will be held in the educational building of the First Methodist Church.

The second session, "The Achievement Plan," will be held on Thursday, Oct. 17, 7:30 p.m. and the session Number three, "Den and Pack Activities," will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 22, 7:30 p.m.

All leaders in Cub Scouting, including Cubmasters, assistants, Den mothers and assistants, and all Pack committeemen are urged to attend.

The Boy Scouting sessions will be held in the Southwestern Public Service Company building at 315 North Ballard, starting on Tuesday, Oct. 22, 7:30 p.m. The Troop Operation session will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 29, and the session on Patrol and Troop Activities will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 5, 7:30 p.m.

The Explorer sessions, which have not been announced, will be reorganization of Explorer posts in Panhandle, Leftors and Rightors. These sessions will be held the last of October.

All Scouters interested in learning more about the Scouting program and learning new techniques are invited to participate in these sessions.

Bonnie Leavitt, 15, another girl who quit classes for the hanging and burning of the effigy of a Negro student, admitted the walkout "a flop."

Students, noticing the lack of interest in the walkout, stood on the sidewalk opposite the school shouting "chicken" loud enough for students in classes to hear through the open windows.

Skellytown Scout Fund Raising Drive Set For Saturday

(Special To The News) SKELLYTOWN—The Boy Scout Fund Raising Drive of the Adobe Walls Council will be held in Skellytown Saturday. The Adobe Walls Council is supported entirely by contributions.

The tremendous increase of eligible boys has caused the need for an ever expanding program.

Field Day Is Set To Show Research

A field day to show research on Panhandle agriculture will be held at the Southwestern Great Plains Field Station, formerly the Amarillo Experiment Station, Thursday, Oct. 10, beginning at 9:30 a.m., according to information received from County Agent Ralph Thomas. The station is located at Bushland, about 12 miles west of Amarillo.

Much of the day will be devoted to tours through test plots of grain sorghum varieties and hybrids, irrigation of grain sorghum fertilization, chemical weed control in connection with summer fallow, and soil and water conservation practices.

Staff members at the station will lead discussions on the various phases of research. County agricultural agents will conduct the tours.

Much of the afternoon will include large scale tests on feed and forage production and feeding livestock on the farm for the market.

Station Superintendent C. E. Van Doren and his staff are conducting new tests to determine how research results may be integrated into a balanced farming program, including feeding of livestock. This should be of particular interest to both farmers and ranchers and businessmen, Thomas said.

How Chain Grocer Spreads The 'Gospel Of Good Works'

By DOC QUINN

United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—Arthur Maisel, a business man who in 15 years has run a $3,000 ham-and-eggery into a three-state chain of 15 restaurants grossing $10,000,000 annually, says he never has been formally religious and does not attend services.

Yet he likes to think he is helping spread the gospel of good works among human beings. "I came from positively nowhere in 1942 and started my business with $3,000 capital," he said. "About 1945, I realized that God had been good to me. I had progressed to three restaurants with a gross volume of three and a half million. I looked at what I possessed and what I had started out with, and I began wondering what I could do for other people. Gives Of Self

"I believe that money is not the only charity. I believe you have to give your time and heart—give of your own self. I looked around and found what seemed to me to be the most neglected charity was help for convicts subject to parole on good behavior but who could not get out unless they could get a job. "The neglect lay in the fact that most employers who were in a position to help these men had fears. They didn't want to hire ex-convicts. I gave it a lot of thought. I said, most people sin occasionally; all of us err sometime in life.

"I decided I would try to help one-time offenders, men who had made a single error and paid the price to society and were entitled to a second chance. I went to the parole people and they were happy. They said it might help influence other employers start such a program."

That first year Maisel took 15 convicts on parole and got them jobs in his own restaurants or in other businesses or industry. He's been doing it ever since, and he believes he's started a movement that is spreading around the country.

Tells of Inquiries
 "Doubtful employers occasionally call me up," he continued. "They ask: 'How's it going? Had any trouble with these men? Is it dangerous? Do you think my wife is right when she says I shouldn't risk it?'"

To such queries, he has only favorable reports. "Ninety-nine per cent of these men have worked out fine as employees, and they're grateful for the opportunity. I know of only one instance where a man used to get out, and then look off. We take people of all races and beliefs." Maisel remembers one ex-convict in the International Church of the Foursquare Gospel, Inc., headquarters at Los Angeles, Calif.

The Foursquare Churches of the Panhandle district will be having a district rally this evening in the Dumas Foursquare Church. Rev. Dwayne Starling of Pampa is the youth director for this district. Rev. Starling's sermon topic for Sunday morning at 11 o'clock will be "The Bond of Christian Fellowship."

First Christian Activities

Cameron Marsh, assistant principal at Pampa High School, will be the guest speaker at the First Christian Church's C.M.P. meeting Monday.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. Bunny Shultz will lead the men in a song session. The title of Marsh's speech will be "The Little Red School House."

In other First Christian news, outside of the regular services Sunday, the Elders will meet next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. The official board will meet at 8 following the Elders' meeting.

The church will observe Layman's Day Oct. 20. The laymen of the church will have charge of the morning service with the exception of the sermon.

The church's School of Missions is scheduled for Oct. 20-25. Dr. C. A. Burch, former missionary to China and now retired professor of missions and religion at Texas Christian University, will be the guest speaker.

Foursquare To Take In Members
 The Pampa Foursquare Church, which was pioneered here two and a half years ago, will be taking in members this Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m.

The church's first goal in membership is 30 so it may be chartered.

Lingerie that looks fragile but is more washable than a kitchen apron since it needs no ironing is an aid to any girl's beauty. ### Change Your Handbags Frequently To Eliminate Jumble Of Odds And Ends

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

The interior of a woman's handbag is fully as important as the exterior. She opens her handbag frequently enough for others to get a good glimpse of the contents.

Frequently, what others see is a weird jumble of odds and ends, a shabby wallet, a soiled powder puff, a comb that needs cleaning. In fact, the lines of the handbag itself may be spoiled by unnecessary clutter. The best way to combat this is to change purses frequently. No one handbag can go with all of your outfits anyway.

When you do change from one handbag to another, throw away the bits that have accumulated and that mean nothing.

Wash comb and purse brush, restore that bulging wallet to its original slim lines. Brush out the lining of the handbag itself, wipe smudges from the little mirror, stuff the handbag with tissue paper and give it a well-deserved rest.

New approaches to beauty are like new approaches to fashion. They take an open mind. They also take sound judgment.

The fact that everybody else is wearing bangs doesn't necessarily mean that you will find bangs becoming. On the other hand, you shouldn't reject them because you've been comfortable with the same hair style for the past 10 years.

Developing a sense of beauty means that you learn, through experience and observation, to choose and reject what's right and what's wrong for you.

B&PW—Mrs. Claudia Hazelwood, left, president of the State Federation of Business and Professional Women's Club and Mrs. Ann Hastings, right, District Nine Director, will be the guests speakers at the 29th Annual B&PW district conference to be held this week end in Plainview.

Easy-To-Care-For Drip-Dry Fabrics Rids Gals Of "Ironing Board Blues"

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Time was when frothy, lace-trimmed lingerie was avoided like the plague. We'd gaze longingly, then reluctantly turn away, dreading the thought of becoming a slave to the ironing board.

But times have changed, thanks to the new easy-to-care-for drip-dry fabrics. We no longer need look and yearn, for even the most delicate of these filmy garments can be laundered in minutes. And, more important, they'll look fresh and new without ever having received more than a passing nod from your iron.

Pleats are permanent and washing won't take them out. Lace ruffles can be finger-pressed — and even jeweled nightgowns and peignoirs can be washed without damage.

Lingerie should be sudsed after each wearing, for light soil is easily removed by light laundering. And these lovely new nylon and arnel tricoils can be laundered as frequently as necessary with no fear of marring their beauty. It's not recommended, however, that they be machine washed. It takes only a few minutes to hand-swish them through lukewarm soap and detergent suds.

If shoulder straps are especially soiled, pretreat them by "massaging" them with fingers dipped into a thick suds lather. Squeeze the garment gently through the suds, but never twist or wring it. Rinse it well in lukewarm water and hang it on a padded hanger to drip-dry.

While it is still damp, it's a good idea to gently pull pleats into shape and straighten the seams. If you have jeweled lingerie, it can be laundered in the same way, but it's wise to wash it on the

Women's Activities

Doris Wilson, Editor

It seems, these days, that the more ornate the garment, the easier it is to launder. That one-time tiresome chore has become a downright pleasure.

Nothing gives you a greater lift than to slip into something delicate and pretty morning or evening. The feeling of luxury is pleasant to us all.

So help yourself to glamorous leisure hours, gals. You can do it now without a thought of the ironing board.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

One rainy morning Larry was working on a portrait of a jet plane. He'd just picked up a red crayon to color its fiery tail when his little brother began to howl.

He looked up just long enough to note that Buddy's new yellow ball had got wedged under the piano bench. It was the kind of thing that was always happening to Buddy.

He dropped spoons at meals — and yelled for help. He failed to open the screen door or disentangle a toy's string from a bush — and yelled for help.

What's more, he always got it. His disgusting helplessness didn't revolt Mommy at all. Instead, she'd pick up his spoon, open the door, disentangle the toy — or say crossly to Larry, "Why couldn't you unlatch the door for him? Can't you see he's not tall enough to reach it himself?"

But strangely enough, this

'The Day Christ Died' Reviewed For Club

(Special to The News)

CANADIAN — The Book Review Club met recently for luncheon in E. J.'s Cafe and then adjourned to the home of Mrs. G. B. Mathews for a book review.

"The Day Christ Died" by Jim Bishop was reviewed by Mrs. John Isaacs.

Guests for the meeting were Mrs. Joe Vernon, Guber Lee Mitchell, John D. Glenn and Red Owens.

Sew Instructions For Lefors HDC

(Special to The News)

LEFORS — Mrs. L. D. Rider was elected president of the Lefors Home Demonstration Club recently at its regular meeting in the civic center.

Other officers elected were Mrs. H. L. Braly, vice-president; A. T. Cobb, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Earl Lane, council delegate. These officers will assume their duties on Jan. 1, 1958.

Mrs. J. D. Smithee, president, presided over the business meeting and lead the club prayer in unison.

Achievement Day for the club will be observed on Oct. 10 at 2 p.m. The public is invited as well as other clubs. Cookies and coffee will be served as refreshments.

Miss Helen Dunlap, HDA for the county, continued her sewing instructions for the speed method to be used in making children's clothes.

Miss Dunlap also explained how to make a three cornered pad stuffed with chopped woolen fabrics which resembles a ham in size and shape with which curved seams can be pressed. "It is the little details which make for a more professional look," stated Miss Dunlap.

Mrs. Earl Lane was welcomed as a new member. Mrs. Cora Bradford was a guest.

Members present were Mrs. H. L. Braly, B. J. Diehl, Charles Roberts, L. D. Rider, M. L. Rippey, J. D. Smithee, A. M. Dickraon, and A. T. Cobb

RUTH MILLETT

McCall's magazine for September has an article that could revolutionize luncheon and dinner party conversation.

The article tells how to diet in secret. Yep, in secret. It gives 5 tips on how a dieter can sit down with her family or friends and not keep to a diet without anyone's being the wiser.

The method is simple. You take a little of everything that is offered you, eat your small portions and don't go back for seconds.

If you keep your mouth shut, no one is the wiser that you are carefully counting calories.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if the idea of dieting in secret would catch on? Then those who aren't on a diet could go back to enjoying their food without being reminded of the number of calories in 'sour cream dressing or a slice of apple pie.

But secret dieting, I am afraid, isn't going to appeal to most dieters. If they had to diet without talking about it most of the time would probably give up in despair.

For one thing, women who have been on-again, off-again dieters for years find calorie talk an easy form of dinner table conversation.

Then, too, since dieting is a form of self-punishment the only joy connected with it is in letting everyone know how much you are suffering.

And there's always the temptation for a woman who has kept her figure fashionably thin to call attention to it whenever she turns down a hot roll or second serving.

Haven't you noticed that the women who talk the most about dieting are skinny women? They do the most talking about calories when there is at least one plump person present.

Program Presented For Mother's Meet

(Special to The News)

CANADIAN — Hostesses for the Mother's Meeting in the WCTU building recently were Mrs. Dan Witt, Bud Webb, L. P. Ward, Ed Little and Carl Cansler.

The meeting, which opened with group singing, "America," was presided over by Mrs. Witt.

The devotional, "Most Forgettable Character," was given by Mrs. Joe Vernon. "Jamestown Festival" was presented by Mrs. Ben Ezzell. Mrs. A. R. King gave a paper on the "National Cathedral in Washington."

Mrs. Ed Little offered the closing prayer.

B&PW District To Meet In Plainview

Mrs. Mattie Crowson, Hattie Holt, Virginia McDonald, Gladys Jaynes, and Mae Etta Powers will attend the 29th annual Business and Professional Women's Club district conference to be held in Plainview on Oct. 5-6.

Honor guest and banquet speaker of the conference will be Mrs. Claudia Hazelwood, president of the State Federation of B&PW Clubs, Inc.

Mrs. Ann Hastings, district nine director, together with Mrs. Wilma Courtney, president of the Plainview B&PW Club, and Mrs. Jo Ann Clements, conference chairman, are completing plans for this two day district meeting. Other conference officers are Mrs. Toney Lynch, secretary; Ruth Hartman, treasurer; and Vaneta Cross, parliamentarian.

Activities of the district conference include a tea on Saturday afternoon, honoring state officers and club presidents, and a banquet

Church Wins Award For Improvement

AMARILLO — A church improvement program extending from the Texas Panhandle to Kansas this week earned the Immanuel Baptist Church of Fritch the District 10 Town and Country Achievement Award...

District Missions Secretary O. C. Curtis said the church completed a new educational building, remodelled the old educational unit and added several Sunday school classrooms during the year.

Pastor W. L. Trice conducted the first revival campaign in the small Kansas town in ten years. Teachers and children in the annual Immanuel vacation Bible school sent their offerings and educational literature to the mission.

Started in 1931 with 35 charter members, the Immanuel church now has a total membership of 253 and an annual budget of $15,824. Twenty-four persons were baptized into the church this year and 58 joined from other Baptist congregations.

District 10 includes six associations, 105 churches, five missions and nearly 50,000 members. The district's 19-county area extends from Hall County on the south to the north, east and west borders of the Texas Panhandle.

It is one of the geographical areas in which the B.G.C.T. promotes the achievement program in each year. The winning pastor in each district receives a parchment scroll, the church a metal plaque which may be displayed in a prominent position outside the building.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon on "Unreality" will include the following from Luke 13 (11-13): "And, behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself. And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity. And he laid his hands on her; and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God."

Correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (142:31): "Truth is God's remedy for error of every kind, and Truth destroys what is untrue, hence the fact that, to-day, as yesterday, Christ casts out evils and heals the sick."

MATAOKA, W.Va. — High school principal Ralph Bird, commenting on Wednesday's quiet day at school although white students had mauled nine Negro students the day before: "Some of the (white) kids were really taken care of at home. They'll think twice before they do anything like that again."

Dr. Douglas Carver has announced as his sermon topic for the Sunday morning worship service, "Lessons from Lingering Lot." For the evening worship service he will bring the sermon, "Where Do We Go from Here?"

St. Matthews Perryton Ministers Fele Teachers

A system of awards and identification for members of the Saint Matthews' Episcopal Church Youth Choir will be started Sunday.

Those young people with one year's experience will be given crosses with white ribbons. The new members will receive crosses with red ribbons and at the end of three years, a silver cross will be presented to each choir member.

The Rev. Joe Frederick was a master of ceremonies and introduced the pastors of the other Perryton churches which included Rev. Floyd LaMyon of the Full Gospel Church; Rev. Carroll B. Ray, First Baptist; Rev. Duane Bruce, First Methodist; Arthur Golden, Church of Christ; Rev. Tommy Brewer, Trinity Presbyterian church; Rev. Wendell Russell, Church of the Nazarene; Rev. Bill Draper, People's Chapel; Rev. Paul Holderman, Mennonite Church; Rev. Bill Moore, Assembly of God and Rev. Frederick of the First Christian.

The pastors' wives, under the direction of Mrs. Duane Bruce, decorated the tables which were covered with green paper and had arrangements of fall flowers in straw hats along the centers.

"The Sweetnotes," composed of Shirlee Simpson, Pay Haywood, and Nancy Simpson, and "The Three Melodies," composed of Nan Jean Bowtell, Anita Slaughter and Marion Riley, sang several numbers. Mrs. Rose Powell presented a humorous skit using the new teachers and Troy Sullivan led the group in several songs.

Teachers present were Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Mize, Joe Ogden, Jose Hopkins, Mrs. Rose Powell, Mrs. Beulah Fagan, Bill Butefish, E. D. Walker, Klith Flowers, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Champion, Mrs. Myrtle Knorrp, Howard Fitzgibbon, Mrs. Gladys Phillips, Mrs. Lois Thurman, Mrs. John Huston, Mrs. Jake Dumble, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Kerns, Mrs. David Hammer, Mrs. Doris Griner, Eddie Williams, James Wright, Mrs. L. E. Thomas, Mrs. O'Dell Ryan, Mrs. E. N. Flathers, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zachery.

Mrs. Vera Keller, Sam Judice, H. E. Smith, Carol Whipple, Nadine Crum, Billie Allen, W. A. Reitz, Claude Shearer, Mabel Bowen, Thelma Davis, Herbert Key, Joe Frederick, Otha Castle, Rose Powell; Misses Ann Jennings, Jean Jefferies, Grace Pyles and Martha Thomas; and Bubba Hillman, Bob Watts, Bill Little, and Troy Sullivan.

"ANGLER" GETS BACKLASH COLUMBUS, Ohio (UP) — Herbert H. Fisher admitted to police that he made a false driver's license application using the name and address of Herbert H. Fisher, which he found listed in the phone book. Fisher's plan backfired when the Bureau of Motor Vehicles checked with Fischer, a city policeman.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

REV. EARL MADDOX
Fellowship Baptist
Pampa, Texas

WHAT THE WORD OF GOD CAN DO

1. It can pierce the heart and produce conviction of sin. Heb. 4:12
12—For the word of God is quick and powerful, and sharper than any twoedged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.
2. It can regenerate and transform the life and character. I Peter 1:23
23—Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liveth and abideth forever.
3. It can produce a living faith in God. Rom. 10:17
17—So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God.
4. It can cleanse and purify the heart and life. Psa. 119:9-11
9—Where withal shall a young man cleanse his way by taking heed thereto according to thy word.
10—With my whole heart have I sought thee: O let me not wander from thy commandments.
11—Thy word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against thee.
5. It can protect from heresy and error. Acts 20:29-32
29—For I know this, that after my departing shall grievous wolves enter in among you, not sparing the flock.
30—Also of your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away disciples after them.
31—Therefore watch, and remember, that by the space of three years I ceased not to warn every one night and day with tears.
32—And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified.
6. It can bring joy and rejoicing to the heart. Jer. 15:16
16—Thy words were found, and I did not eat them, and thy word was unto me the joy and rejoicing of mine heart, for I am called by thy name, O Lord God of hosts.
7. It can speak peace to the troubled soul. Psa. 85:8
8—I will hear what God the Lord will speak: for he will speak peace unto his people, and to his saints, but let them not turn again to folly.
8. It can make us wiser than our teachers. Psa. 119:99
99—I have more understanding than all my teachers for thy testimonies are my meditation.
May the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

Buhl To Oppose Turley In First Milwaukee Game

Odds-Makers Reverse Stand, Braves Given Even Chance

By LEO H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor
MILWAUKEE (UP)—The team which broke the longest reign in National League history took the World Series west for the first time in nine years today with an "even-money" chance of putting the egg in Milwaukee's beer by ending the New York Yankees' Series dynasty.

With Bob Buhl slated to oppose Bob Turley in Saturday's third game, the first of three at Milwaukee's County Stadium, the odds-makers suddenly reversed their "line" on a Series that started with one of the dullest games in the classic's history but "warmed up" Thursday in a wild 4-2 Milwaukee victory marked by beanballs and innuendoes.

Broadway bookmakers were still quoting the Yankees as "automatic" 7-3 favorites to win the Series but the significant line was the "even money" one listed on Saturday's third game. This in effect, means the Braves are "even money" for the Series because if they win Saturday they'll have to be slight favorites, or 50-50 to take it all.

One thing seemed certain: The old familiar pattern of Yankee World Series wins was about to be put to the test of a young, determined, hard-hitting team that is to play the next three games in an atmosphere that the Yankees themselves have never experienced.

Yanks Face New Deal
For true as it is that the Braves have never experienced the problems of vast Yankee Stadium, so it is also true that "their majesties" are about to experience something new in the wild enthusiasm of a city that has shattered every NL attendance record in the book.

Buhl and Turley are basically similar pitchers—low fast-ballers—who will have to keep the ball low in a park with much shorter home run distances than the Yankee Stadium.

Buhl, 29, posted an 18-7 record during the National League season while Turley, a 220-pound giant, had a 13-6 season record.

Manager Fred Haney is expected to make only one change in his Series lineup—late-season batting sensation Bob (Hurricane) Hazle replacing veteran Andy Pafens in right field. Hazle is the kid brought up from Wichita who hit .528 for three weeks and wound up at .403 in one of the most spectacular late-season developments of the year.

Manager Casey Stengel, "down to only 24 players" because Bill Skowron's re-injured back has put him out of the Series, is expected to return rookie Tony Kubek to left field and put rookie Jerry Lumpe at third base. This would keep five left-handed hitters in the lineup without sacrificing defense—a luxury Stengel enjoys over all other major league managers.

Two Rookies To Start
The big question mark, as the Series moved west, was when the power hitters of both clubs would break out. Neither Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra of the Yankees, nor Ed Mathews of the Braves has yet to explode the long ball.

Mantle is .288 with both his hits singles, Berra is 1-for-7 and Mathews 0-for-6. Figuring that such power cannot be contained indefinitely the bookies' odds reflect the idea that the one thing the Braves might be able to do is outslug the Yankees.

The first break in the Yankees', supposedly invincible, Series argument appeared Thursday when the world champions committed two errors which helped pave the way for the Braves' triumph.

The first break came when Mantle fumbled back for Aaron's second-inning fly only to let it fall over his head for a triple. The Braves promptly took advantage of this break when Joe Adcock singled to right center and went to second when Mantle juggled the ball.

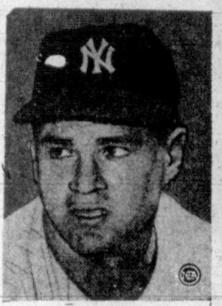

The 29-year-old hurler from Saginaw, Mich., didn't say it defensively. For in Buhl the Braves have a fighter—who almost was one.

Back in his high school days, big Bob had definite ideas about entering the prize ring. There was just one thing wrong. He hit too hard. One day while sparring with a friend he belted the guy such a lick on the chops that he knocked his pal stiff.

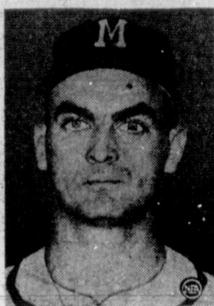

Before he could get his chance, he went into service in 1951 and wound up in the paratroops. Coming home in 1953, he went to the brand new Milwaukee Braves and won 13 games.

The next season he dropped to only two wins, miserably unable to control his breaking stuff. But he gradually recaptured his stride, finally won 18 in 1956 and seemed a club for the 20-game circle this season when, in mid-August, he suffered a sore arm and sat on the sidelines for three weeks. At the end he owned a still-imposing record of 18 wins against seven defeats.

Now he'll get his crack at the Yankees—a team he last faced in spring training during his rookie year of 1953.

Bob Turley

CANADIAN — The Lefors Junior High Bandit football team lost its first game since coach Eugene Collingsworth took over his duties at the school last night.
Canadian Junior High came out victorious in a game played here, 7-6. It was a close game all the way.
Scott Dunnam scored Lefors' tally in the fourth quarter on a plunge. Canadian had scored in the third and added the extra point. Lefors' extra point try was short. Collingsworth's first year, last year, his team came out undefeated. Lefors has won one game this year, over McLean.

Burdette's Story Of Series Game

(EDITORS' NOTE: Lew Burdette of the Braves evaded the World Series at one game apiece when he beat the Yankees, 4-2, today. In the following dispatch, he gives his impressions of the game.)

By LEW BURDETTE
As Told to the United Press
NEW YORK (UP)—I had a little something extra going for me Thursday that the Yankees didn't know about—a piece of Barney Stone I stuck in my jacket pocket before I came out to the park.

And brother, I certainly couldn't help but think about it when Wes Covington made that great catch on Bobby Shantz' liner with two men on in the second inning.

If you ask me which play gave me the biggest kick, though, I'd have to say it was that ninth-inning force play, Johnny Logan to Red Schoendienst. That's the one that would hit all up. Of all the outs in any ball game, that last one always gives me my biggest thrill.

Some of the newspaper boys may think I had some score to settle with the Yankees because they had me once and let me go. Actually, nothing could be further from the truth.

When I go out there to pitch, I don't care what the letters read on the other guy's uniform. I'm out there to beat 'em all, whether it's the Yankees, Cleveland, Baltimore, Brooklyn, Pittsburgh, or what have you.

I gave the Yankees an assortment of everything. They saw some screwballs, sinkers, sliders, change-ups and fast balls.

If I had to pick out one particular batter who gave me the most trouble, it would be Tony Kubek. He got two hits off me so I guess that makes him the most troublesome.

Reapers Down Dalhart, 13-0 To Nab Third Win Of Season
Sparked again by the flashy running of halfback Joe Watkins, the Pampa Reapers rolled to a 13-0 victory over Dalhart yesterday afternoon in Harvester Park.

Watkins opened the scoring in the first quarter when he broke through the line and romped 58 yards for the first Pampa TD. He then followed over line for the extra point.

Remaining scoreless in the second period, Watkins again broke loose in the third for a 67 yard gallop and the second Reaper score. The extra point attempt failed. Also in the third quarter, Watkins raced 47 yards into the end zone, but had the play called back on a penalty.

The Reapers led in the game with yards rushing, 248 to 85, but fell behind in first downs, 8-7. Pampa attempted four passes, failing to complete any, with one interception. Dalhart also attempted four passes without any completions and one interception.

This was the third victory for the Reapers, having suffered only one defeat, to Borger last week, 13-6.

By ED FITE
United Press Sports Writer
The Southwest Conference's undefeated intersectional record is expected to remain intact in four games against outsiders this week end, but the inaugural intra-loop squabble between Arkansas and Texas Christian virtually assures a losing decision by one of them.

Harvesters Play First Game Away In Contest Tonight With Wichita

The Pampa Harvesters play their first game away from home tonight when they encounter Wichita Falls in Coyote Stadium at 8 p.m.

The Wichita team is expected to be at their peak, having had an open date last Friday night. In their first two games they defeated Vernon, 33-6, and lost to Breckenridge, 20-6. Pampa's record carries one win against two losses, having defeated Arlington Heights and dropped to Austin of El Paso and Midland.

In 1956, under coach Joe Golding, the Coyotes rolled to a record of 12 wins against one loss and rank again this year at the top in 7-AAAA. In the 1956 game between Wichita and Pampa, the Harvesters lost to the Coyotes in a close-fought 14-0 contest.

Expected to bear the load of the Coyote offense will be David Allred at tailback and James-Holder at wingback.

In the Harvester running attack will be Robert Langford at fullback, Don Bigham at left half and Jess Ingle at right half.

Probable starters for tonight will be:

Player and Pos.	Wt.	No.

Tonight's Area Grid Scene Features Two District Tilts
The Wheeler Mustangs host Quilake tonight in one of the two district games on tap in the Top of Texas area. The Mustangs have a season record of three wins and one loss, having defeated Canadian, McLean, and Erick, Okla., and fallen to the Stinnett Rattlers. The game tonight will begin the defense of the Mustangs' regional title crown.

In the other district game, Groom will travel to Claude, also defending a title, having won district 1-B in 1956. The Tigers sport a 1-1 record, having lost to White Deer, tied Sunray and defeated Gruver.

Other games scheduled for tonight include Perryton at Phillips. The Rangers have won two games and lost one, including a sound 32-7 win over Clarendon last week.

Remaining the only undefeated team in the area, the White Deer Bucks will go for their fifth straight win of the season when they meet McLean tonight on the Tigers' home ground. White Deer's list of victims include Groom, Clarendon, Lefors and Canadian.

Robinson Enlists
CINCINNATI (UP)—Frank Robinson, hard-hitting Cincinnati Redlegs outfielder-first baseman, has enlisted in the Marine Corps active reserve program and has left for six months of training at Parris Island, S.C. Robinson, who batted .322 during the 1957 National League season, will miss one month of spring training in 1958 because of his Marine Corps duties.

Shamrock, lost their second to White Deer and defeated Wellington last Friday.

Top-Flight High School Teams Have Rugged Battles Tonight

By UNITED PRESS

Abilene's critical battle with Breckenridge and Amarillo High's major test against improving Odessa overshadow a host of top-flight games on this week end's Texas schoolboy football schedule.

Breckenridge's bruising Bucks, the last team to defeat Abilene 40 long games and three seasons ago, are generally given the best chance of any of the defending state AAAA champion's remaining rivals to put a stop to the phenomenal winning streak of the Eagles.

On a comparative score basis, the Bucks aren't in the same class with Coach Chuck Moser's champions, but such comparisons seldom bear out in the rugged games between these two old rivals. Abilene crushed Sweetwater 34-7 while Breckenridge could get no better than a 14-14 tie with Sweetwater. Breckenridge will be the home club.

If any club is to put a halt to the Amarillo Sandies' stamped short of their season finale against cross-town rival, Palo Duro, the Odessa Broncs seem best equipped. The Broncs, however, have been hit by flu this week and may not be at top strength for the road game.

Corpus Christi Ray, which shares the AAAA No. 1 rating with Amarillo, is idle this week, but there are several other major contests on tap in that division, including Austin Travis at Baytown, Victoria at Austin High, Dallas Tech vs. Dallas Samuel, Corpus Christi Miller at Port Arthur, Dallas Sunset vs. Dallas Jefferson and Pasadena at Texarkana.

Nederland, the No. 1 AAAA outfit, has a toughie in hosting Baton Rouge Istroumas, the defending Louisiana state champion. Other major contests in this division include Freeport at Port Neches, San Antonio Edison at Comroe, Levelland at Snyder, Yaleta at Andrews, Sweetwater vs. Big Spring, McAllen at Kingsville and San Benito at Edinburg.

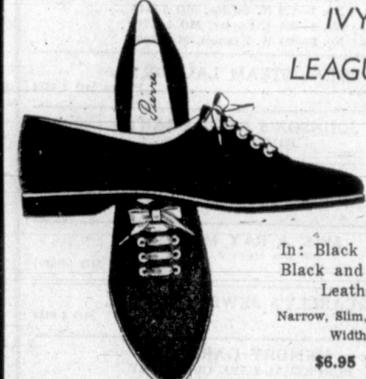

Stamford at Brady
In Class AA, defending champ Stamford, which had its 35-game victory string snapped by Sweetwater last week, plays at Brady in one of the feature games. Other top games include Lockney at Abernathy, Denver City vs. Sundown, Coleman vs. Haskell, Hamilton at Clifton, Bonham vs. Carthage, Georgetown at Hearne, Gonzales vs. Cuero, Liberty at Deer Park and Aransas Pass vs. Falfurrias.

Defending Class A champion Stinnett is expected to breeze to its 19th straight victory at the expense of Price College of Amarillo. Other major games include Rylie at Wilmer, Hutchins, Mart at Hubbard, Houtz vs. Warren and East Bernard at Missouri City.

Tomorrow's Game Will Pit Hardest Throwing Pitchers Of Both Teams

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (UP)—Big Bob Buhl, a man who made 19 parachute jumps with the 11th Airborne Division, waited with understandable nonchalance today for a chance to bomb the New York Yankees in the third game of the World Series.

He'll hook up Saturday against another fireball flinger, bullet Bob Turley, and it will be a battle between the two hardest throwing pitchers on the squads of the all-even series rivals.

But, while the handsome, stern-faced Buhl isn't given to boasting, it is clearly obvious that he faces his task calmly.

"Sure," he acknowledged as the classic shifted from New York to Milwaukee. "The Yankees are supposed to 'eat' fast ball pitching. But I've got a couple of other pitches with which to get 'em out and we'll do the very best we can."

Buhl, who packs 180 pounds on his rugged six foot, two inch frame, isn't singling out any of the Yankees as hitters he respects more than others.

All Are Tough
"You do that and the chances are that the little guy will hit a home run and knock your brains out," he laughed. "They're all tough when they stand up there at the plate and have a bat in their hands, I'll just work on 'em the way we figure they have weaknesses."

The 29-year-old hurler from Saginaw, Mich., didn't say it defensively. For in Buhl the Braves have a fighter—who almost was one.

Back in his high school days, big Bob had definite ideas about entering the prize ring. There was just one thing wrong. He hit too hard. One day while sparring with a friend he belted the guy such a lick on the chops that he knocked his pal stiff.

Before he could get his chance, he went into service in 1951 and wound up in the paratroops. Coming home in 1953, he went to the brand new Milwaukee Braves and won 13 games.

The next season he dropped to only two wins, miserably unable to control his breaking stuff. But he gradually recaptured his stride, finally won 18 in 1956 and seemed a club for the 20-game circle this season when, in mid-August, he suffered a sore arm and sat on the sidelines for three weeks. At the end he owned a still-imposing record of 18 wins against seven defeats.

Now he'll get his crack at the Yankees—a team he last faced in spring training during his rookie year of 1953.

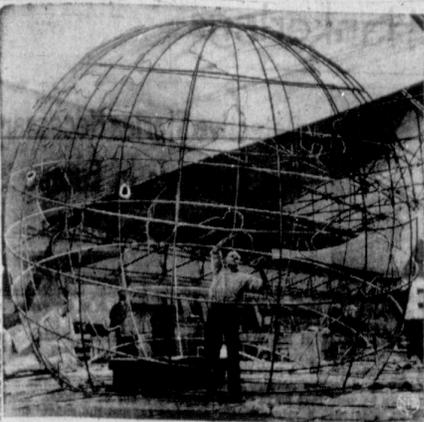

"I had two five-inning jobs against them," he recalls. "I did fair at the time—but they have changed and, I guess, so have I." How much each has changed will be told when the series resumes tomorrow. But one thing is certain. The Yanks don't worry the man with the airborne nerves.

Club Golf Tourney To Begin Sunday
The fourth annual Pampa Country Club Championship Golf Tournament, for members only, starts here Sunday.

Hart Warren, club pro, said that players qualifying for the medalist flight must play their tournament qualifying rounds tomorrow.

The pairings will be drawn up tomorrow night and the first round matches are to be played during the week of Oct. 6-12. There will be 18 players in the championship flight, playing four rounds. The eight players in each of the other rounds will play three rounds. The tournament is expected to be over by Oct. 27.

Cabinet Solution Needed By France

Foreign News Commentary By CHARLES M. MCCANN United Press Staff Correspondent "France appears to be approaching a point at which it must seek a radical solution for its chronic cabinet crisis. Its National Assembly, the controlling house of parliament, has just thrown out Premier Maurice Bourges-Maunoury, leader of its 23rd government since the end of World War II. Whoever succeeds Bourges-Maunoury will inherit two big problems—the future of Algeria and the threat of inflation. It is most unlikely that the successor will be able, any more than was Bourges-Maunoury, to command a solid majority in the assembly. The life of French governments since the end of the war has averaged a little more than five months. Bourges-Maunoury's cabinet lasted 109 days. The only remedy for this situation in sight at the moment is for the multiple political groups in parliament to seek a "strong man" as premier. De Gaulle Only "Strong Man" But the only candidate for the "strong man" role now in sight is Gen. Charles de Gaulle, war time leader of Free France, who headed a provisional government from Sept. 10, 1944, to Nov. 27, 1945, and then became the first constitutional post-war premier. There is strong opposition to de Gaulle. For one thing, he is too strong to suit a lot of politicians. His opponents mention, in discussing him, the danger of a dictatorship. But it looks as if something has got to be done, and more and more Frenchmen are discussing the possibility that de Gaulle may be called upon again to lead France. Some French leaders distrust him on the ground that he is too ambitious, and would rule with an iron hand. But there are others, and their number is growing, who deny that. They say that de Gaulle is not personally ambitious, that he is dedicated to the French Republic, and that he really is democratically-minded. Proposed Self-Rule Bourges-Maunoury sought to end the Algerian rebellion by sponsoring a plan which would have given the Arab natives a great measure of self-rule, but at the same time would have protected the interests of the 1,200,000 Frenchmen in the country. He sought to control the threat of inflation by controlling farm prices. Bourges-Maunoury was thrown out on the Algeria issue. Leftists said his plan did not go far enough. Rightists said it went too far. Had he survived the Algeria vote of confidence, he must have found himself confronted by the equally controversial price control issue. At the moment, the prospect is for the formation of another shaky coalition government which would be at the mercy of contending parties. De Gaulle is the sole strong political figure in France. Unless another candidate for the "strong man" role appears unexpectedly, the politicians sooner or later may have to call upon him to give France real leadership.

'Heat Balance' To Be Studied By Science

By JOSEPH L. MYLER United Press Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON (UP)—An artificial moon with four tiny sensor protruding like eyes on stalks will attempt next year to measure the heat in the gigantic atmospheric cauldron that manufactures the weather. If the attempt is successful it will give weather forecasters vital information now almost completely lacking. The experiment was described by Dr. V. E. Suomi of the University of Wisconsin at a 13-nation conference on rocket and satellite programs of the International Geophysical Year (IGY). The so-called "heat balance" is one of six major scientific missions assigned to the artificial moons, this country will try to launch into 18,000-mile-an-hour flights around the earth starting early next spring. Earth's atmosphere is the moving part of a giant heat engine which gets its energy from the sun. The way the atmosphere moves determines the weather. The tropical regions generally receive more energy from the sun than they lose by radiation. Regions nearer the poles, however, lose more than they receive. This is offset in part by export of heat from the low latitudes to the higher ones. "This differential heating and resulting heat transport by the atmosphere and by ocean currents is," Suomi said, "the very basis of all our weather." Weather forecasters know but can make little use of that fact in their work because detailed information about the "energy budget... is simply too inadequate." So Suomi and his associates have devised a way to measure the "heat input" from the sun and the amount radiated back and thus arrive at the planet's "heat balance."

Spain's Franco To Be Around Awhile

Foreign News Commentary By CHARLES M. MCCANN United Press Staff Correspondent Generalissimo Francisco Franco of Spain evidently has decided to stay around a while instead of putting Prince Juan Carlos on the throne. A few months ago there were persistent reports that Franco was getting ready to retire and restore the monarchy. But now he has made it plain that he still likes his job and that any change in the form of government is a matter for the indefinite future. Franco celebrated on Tuesday the 21st anniversary of the day when, just after the outbreak of the Spanish Civil War, a conference of Nationalist rebel leaders fighting against the Republican government named him chief of state—El Caudillo, the leader. In an interview on the anniversary, Franco said: "Work and difficulties never have tired me. On the contrary they stimulate me. Loves Difficulty "If this post I occupy in the nation's service were easy and simple, I would have retired long ago and would have sought something more difficult. In some ways you might say that I do not fear but love difficulty." The anniversary finds Franco, at 64, in good health, an untrusting hunter and deep sea fisherman, and unchallenged leader of his 28 million people. Spain's economy is weak. There are occasional demonstrations by students who are dissatisfied with political conditions and strikes by workers who want higher pay to meet rising living costs. There is some opposition inside the Falange, the sole legal political party, to Franco's plan to put Juan Carlos eventually on the throne which his grandfather Alfonso XIII lost in 1931 when Spain became a republic. But there is no real challenge to Franco's rule. Franco certainly has brought Spain a long way. Bitterness against him continued in many countries when the Civil War ended in his victory five months before World War II broke out. Boycott Declared In 1946, the United Nations General Assembly declared a diplomatic boycott against Franco as a fascist dictator. That boycott was called off in 1950. In 1953, Franco entered into a treaty conceding the United States facilities for important air and naval bases in Spain. In 1955, Spain was admitted into the U.N. This year Spain, long plagued by drought, has harvested an excellent cereal crop. Franco has received about 600 million dollars in direct and indirect aid from the United States since the bases agreement was signed. Juan Carlos, now 19, is being groomed by Franco to restore the Bourbon dynasty. He has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the army after two years of study at the Saragossa Military Academy. Now he has entered the naval academy for a one-year course. Then he will attend the

Baseball Lingo For TV Viewers Of World Series

By WILLIAM EWALD United Press Staff Correspondent NEW YORK (UP)—Well, here we go again. The summer is past, the time of the singing of birds is come and the voice of the World Series announcer is heard in our land. Last year, almost 60 million viewers ignited their TV tubes to gild some part of the tug between the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers. This year, if the Series goes seven games, NBC expects 75 million viewers to succumb to the charms of the Yanks and Milwaukee Braves. Unfortunately, many of the watchers will be peering at a ball game for the first time and may wind up more baffled than entertained. The terminology of ball announcers is frequently recondite. So, for the benefit of initiates, we present the following lexicon of terms you're apt to hear on your TV set: "One foot in the bucket"—Yogi stepped into the water pail again. "Free swinging outfit"—The Count Basie band. "The autumnal classic"—October issue of "Playboy." "Crafty lefthander"—He always gets the best seat in the hotel lobby. "That ball took a tricky hop"—The shortstop didn't get to bed until three this morning. "One of the greatest catches I've ever seen"—A routine catch. "Positively one of the greatest catches I've ever seen"—Positively a routine catch. "A catch that made baseball history"—He almost dropped it. "Some good-natured heckling from the fans"—The plate umpire was just struck by a seat cushion. "The old ball game is never over until the last man is out"—and if you stick with us, we'll be sure of an audience for our last two commercials. "The pitcher is throwing aspirin tablets"—The catcher needs 'em. He has a handover.

A tight pitcher's battle—Both of the pitchers look tight, too. Promising young bonus player—He'll get to play if everybody else gets Asian flu. Good long ball hitter—He could hit the ball, if they'd make it about three feet longer. Rifle arm—It's shot. Conference out there on the mound—The second baseman is pointing out a pip of a blonde to the pitcher. Good baserunner—He can't hit. He can't field. But he comes cheap. A whale of a ballplayer—He weighs 250 pounds and it's all blubber. The fans are applauding every Young Wreckers CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (UP)—Police halted the demolition of a $250,000 steel building Wednesday. The wreckers, three youngsters aged 12 to 14, said they were tearing off corrugated iron to build a clubhouse.

Practical Example WASHINGTON (UP)—Economist Dr. Louis Sommer, stepped out of the Library of Congress after research on international finance and was bowled over by a monetary problem. A thief knocked her down and stole her purse containing $85.

play out there—It's freezing here in Milwaukee and they're trying to ward off frostbite. Lots of fire in that team—It's so cold somebody's burning the bench in the dugout. The Yankee manager is doing a slow burn—Gad, somebody just set fire to Casey Stengel.

MONEY BUSINESS—Seven-year-old Dawn Darnier of Batavia, Ill., gets a big lift when she adds to her savings account at the nearby First National Bank of Geneva. She gets an assist from a hydraulic lift which whisks her 12 inches above the floor to a proper counter height. The lift retracts flush with the floor for adults.

Conspiracies

Conspiracy is an ugly word. Most of us have lived under the shadow of at least one conspiracy during the past several years. We have lived there conscious of the obvious. There is a group of international schemers out to create a world government and rob us all of our freedom. This is a conspiracy.

The word implies skulduggery and the devious. It hints of dark plots, sinister strategems and a working together of evil and alien personalities. But there is one thing the word conspiracy does not mean. It does not necessarily mean success. Men have always conspired. Some men live by the hatching of plots. But if we may guide ourselves by the history of mankind we will discover that for every conspiracy crowned with success, there are literally thousands which failed.

Our problem then is not with the fact that we live in a time of conspiracy. There has been no other time for men. So long as some men plan to profit at the expense of others, so long have men conspired. What must concern us is the chance of a particular conspiracy to succeed. There's the problem.

If one listens to the stories which travel from mouth to ear, and read them as they go from eye to mind, one will become aware that there are many more conspiracies than one in process at the moment. There are literally hundreds of cunning, emotionally packed, sinister and unscrupulous plots in the making. You can always pick up reports on half a dozen or more without much effort. But once again, we must not concern ourselves with the fact that undoubtedly some men do conspire against other men. What we want to know is which particular conspiracy has the chance of fruition. Examine as we will, there is only one kind of conspiracy which has the ghost of a chance of coming to fulfillment. And that is a conspiracy in which a government—any government—is a participant.

Take a group of men. Let us suppose that they are the most vicious, unscrupulous and villainous men that could ever get together inside a room. They are virtually evil personified. Make them of any race or creed you like. Endow them with every known artifice and skill. But see to it that they do not have a government at their beck and call. Then what? They could sit in that room and conspire 'til doom's day. They would do no harm to anyone but themselves. To translate evil into reality, an agency of aggressive force and violence is needed. That agency must, by definition, be government.

This is not intended to exclude a group of gangsters, robbers, or other villains out to steal from banks, commit murder or some other heinous crime. Such conspiracies also exist. The conspirators, without necessarily resorting to government, furnish their own violence with guns and burglar tools. But their conspiracy is always localized. They do not plot to take over the world. The conspirator who is our subject is the conspirator about whom so much is whispered and feared. He is the one with world wide, or even national ambitions.

For if the evil men have no government to do their bidding; if they themselves are not a government, if they have no way at all of winning a government to their design, and if their conspiracy encompasses more than local crime, then they are simply futile. It takes aggressive force to bring most evil into the world. In fact it could be said that aggressive force is just about all the evil there is, if we can admit that a fraud or a lie is an act of aggressive force against truth.

So what any conspirators must have is an agency of force. And that agency is government. This is not to say that a government must practice aggressive force. But it is to remind us that a government is nothing if it does not have force. And force, like fire, is a dangerous servant and a fearful master. It may do good but it can do and does immense harm. And if force is employed aggressively by an agency of force, government, in following the turnings and twistings of a conspiracy, then that conspiracy could come into fruition and evil would triumph.

We mention this at this time because we believe there is a great temptation for many good Americans to become overwrought simply because they believe a particular conspiracy is in the making. If these same Americans will have a practical turn of mind and recognize both the futility of most conspiracies and the utter impracticability of any conspiracy not hatched or implemented by a government, they can save themselves a lot of needless worry. What we need to be alarmed about are the conspiracies of government, and of the men in government or who can manipulate government. All other conspiracies are so much wasted energy.

Another way of looking at it would be this. If we can limit and reduce the power of government, we can nip practically every conspiracy in the bud, even if we don't know about it. One does not take over the world with an evil mind and a sling-shot. If takes organized evil in the form of politics and armies to do the job.

The Doctor Says

By EDGAR P. JORDAN, M. D.

Both neuritis and neuralgia are painful disorders of the nerves supplying the body.

In neuralgia, the pain extends along the course of the nerve without apparent inflammation of the nerve itself. It may result from disease or irritation in the brain or spinal cord.

Neuritis means an inflammation of a nerve or of nerves which is accompanied by pain and tenderness, disturbances of feeling of sensation, and a certain amount of muscular wasting.

Any one of several causes may be responsible for either condition. The problem is to try to find which one is present. Diabetes (especially if the condition has not been controlled by suitable diet or insulin) and infections are among the common causes.

VITAMIN deficiencies, especially the lack of Vitamin B-1, may produce nerve pain. One type of neuritis is common among the victims of chronic alcoholism. Perhaps at least part of the reason is that such persons substitute alcohol for a properly balanced diet containing enough Vitamin B-1. This type of neuritis often can be much improved, or even relieved entirely, by giving enough B-1.

PAINFUL NEURITIS is present in shingles, or herpes zoster. Severe anemia can produce neuritis. Heavy metal poisoning with lead,

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. Hollas

The Little Rock Double Mistake

One bad law invariably leads to another bad law in attempting to correct the first bad law. This is done in spite of the fact that, under no circumstances, do two wrongs ever make a right.

If the citizens in Arkansas and Little Rock and practically every place in the United States were not using aggressive force, legalized plunder, to make people pay for schooling that they did not want to use and believed was harmful, then the Supreme Court would not have brought on this mess we are in that is playing right into communist hands.

Of course when we adopt communistic tactics, we are likely to be mixed up with communistic ideologies. Remember, the 10th plank of the Communist Manifesto is what is called free government schools.

The Supreme Court's desegregation decision was based on the Fourteenth Amendment, and those who have studied the case are pretty well convinced that the Fourteenth amendment was never legally passed.

David Lawrence, in the Sept. 27 issue of "U. S. News & World Report" has considerable to say on the illegality of the Fourteenth Amendment. The Amendment was proclaimed a law July 20, 1868.

There were 37 States in the Union at the time, so ratification by at least 28 was necessary to make the amendment an integral part of the Constitution. Actually, only 27 States legally ratified it. So it failed of ratification.

Lawrence goes on to explain it in this manner: "The undisputed record, attested by official journals and the unanimous writings of historians, establishes these events as occurring in 1867 and 1868:

"1. Outside the South, six States — New Jersey, Ohio, Kentucky, California, Delaware and Maryland — failed to ratify the proposed amendment.

"2. In the South, ten States — Texas, Arkansas, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Mississippi and Louisiana — by formal action of their legislatures, rejected it under the normal processes of civil law.

"3. A total of 16 Legislatures out of 37 failed legally to ratify the 'Fourteenth Amendment.'

"4. Congress — which had deprived the Southern States of their seats in the Senate — did not lawfully pass the resolution of submission in the first instance.

"5. The Southern States which had rejected the amendment were coerced by a federal statute passed in 1867 that took away the right to vote or hold office from all citizens who had served in the Confederate Army. Military governors were appointed and instructed to prepare the roll of voters. All this happened in spite of the presidential proclamation of amnesty previously issued by the President. New legislatures were thereupon chosen and forced to 'ratify' under penalty of continued exile from the Union. In Louisiana, a General sent down from the North presided over the State legislature...

"7. Congress, in passing the 1867 law that declared the Southern States could not have their seats in either the Senate or House in the next session unless they ratified the 'Fourteenth Amendment,' took an unprecedented step. No such right — to compel a State by an act of Congress to ratify a constitutional amendment — is to be found anywhere in the Constitution. Nor has this procedure ever been sanctioned by the Supreme Court of the United States."

Lawrence further explains it in this manner: "8. President Andrew Johnson publicly denounced this law as unconstitutional. But it was passed over his veto."

The pity of the whole thing is that government, because it is locally attempting to do things it has no moral right to do and is not capable of doing, is losing more and more of its ability to do the only things it is supposed to do — protect men's lives and property. But the federal government now is taking over the theory of protecting men's lives and property, as well as telling the parents what children their children shall associate with. That is collectivism, communism, fascism, or anything you want to call it and as far from Americanism as it is possible to be.

Yes, we are reaping exactly what we are sowing in our states by attempting to do things that violate the Decalogue and the Golden Rule.

arsenic and others frequently affects the nerves. Many of the chemicals used in industry may also produce neuritis.

Infections of almost any kind are often associated with nerve pains.

SUCCESSFUL treatment is almost always a problem. Sometimes the pain is almost intolerable, particularly in people weakened by disease and in the elderly. Relief has sometimes been obtained by killing the nerve by injecting alcohol or by cutting the nerve by an operation. Of course, this does not get at the root of the trouble, but such procedures may be needed to bring relief.

Most victims of neuritis recover, but there are still far too many who continue to suffer for a long time. Thus nerve pains are not only common but constitute a complicated problem.

'Gradual Socialization' Of US Is Continuing

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — More than 50,000,000 people — almost one-third of the population — are now receiving checks for services, subsidies or support from the Federal, State and local government agencies of the United States. For every 16 privately employed or nonworking American citizen, there is one American on a public payroll of one kind or another. To use a military figure, if there are approximately 160,000,000 Americans are thought of as an army, there is one sergeant to keep a platoon of 16 people in step. And, of course, the 16 must dig up taxes to pay the salaries of each platoon's noncommissioned officer.

Despite President Eisenhower's 1952 pledges of economy and a reduction of the ranks of the bureaucrats, this expansion of bureaucracy and beneficiaries has continued during his Administration.

GRADUAL SOCIALIZATION — In 1952, according to official figures, the number receiving checks from agencies of the Federal, State and local governments was 36,983,248.

Today, the total is 40,810,899. To this array, however, must be added 10,274,036, who benefit from loans and insurance policies underwritten by the Veterans Administration. And the Federal government has been responsible for the largest percentage of the 1952-1957 increase.

In submitting this report to Congress, Representative Ralph W. Griffin, Republican conservative from New York, said that he was "deeply disturbed by this trend toward socialism in our society and government."

Other members cited these figures and costs, together with other statistics recently given in this column, as evidence that "The United States today is a nation that is two-thirds socialized." They also warn that pending measures before Congress, which are almost certain to be enacted in a re-election year like 1958, will accelerate this paternalistic parade.

BREAKDOWN — Here is a partial breakdown on this vast army of bureaucrats and beneficiaries of Federal, State and local government agencies, including every category from teachers and recipients of farm subsidies to members of the Armed Forces:

- Employees in this country and abroad, including 276,823 foreign nationals in Allied and satellite lands — 10,173,615. This is approximately, as noted above, one-sixteenth of the population.
- Public assistance programs, such as old age, dependents, the blind and the needy — 5,588,858.
- Old age survivors and unemployment insurance — 12,376,957.
- Civil Service pensioners — 327,111.
- Railroad retirement personnel — 518,240.
- VETERANS' GRANTS, ETC. — Veterans' grants for pensions and disability, educational and vocational assistance — 4,020,644.
- Agricultural payments and subsidies — 2,853,533.
- State and local retirement, survivors and disability beneficiaries — 408,000.
- State and local unemployment beneficiaries — 893,600.
- Federal defense force, reserves

FAKENTS PLEASE NOTE

(Christian Economics)

Nearly four years ago Mrs. Anne Smart of Larkspur, California, did what all parents should do — read a great many of the books contained in the libraries of the local high schools. She found many of them filled with filth, obscenity and subversion.

In an effort to arouse public opinion she multigraphed certain portions of these books and began to circulate these excerpts through the mail. She was advised by the postal authorities that the matter was not mailable. This decision had come from the Solicitor General and it cited Section 1461 of Title 18, U. S. Code, as appears in Postal Manual 124.31, and reads as follows:

"Obscene, lewd, lascivious, or filthy publications or writings, or mail containing information concerning where, how or from whom such may be obtained."

Vigorous protests were made to the local schoolboard but the latter refused to remove the books from the library.

A local Grand Jury reported that the books "were definitely placed in our school libraries to plant seeds of communism in the minds of our children." The Grand Jury handed the case back to the schools, urging that the mess be cleaned up. Nevertheless the books were retained in the school libraries. A second Grand Jury made more urgent representations than the first, but to no avail.

The Editor has read many excerpts from these books. They are indeed unprintable — both obscene and subversive. Nevertheless, these books are still approved for use in the high school libraries, not only in the county where Mrs. Anne Smart lives — Maria County, California — but in other school libraries throughout our country.

There are some things one never understands. One of them is: Why may the books be mailed from publisher to high schools or colleges purchasing them, when the excerpts made by Mrs. Smart are so obscene and subversive to be sent through the mail?

Detective Stories Necessary For Travelers In Europe

By HENRY MCLEMORE

NAPLES — Next to examining his passport, just about the surest way to spot an American abroad is to take a look at his reading matter.

If it consists of a paperback mystery or detective novel, then you may be sure that he is either a Democrat or a Republican, knows all about the Yankees and Dodgers, and would welcome a slice of apple pie.

This is not to say that we Americans are a race whose literary tastes are confined to crime and detection. At home our tastes are as catholic as the next fellow's. But on the continent we read of private eyes and spies from necessity. A good ninety per cent of the reading matter available in English, it would seem, has to do with Scotland Yard and homicide bureaus, and a traveler has no alternative.

Not only are whodunits plentiful, but they are light and cheap. Newspaper kiosks are piled high with them, shelves of them line book stores, and they sell for anywhere from two bits to thirty-five cents.

The traveler has enough encumbrances without staggering around under a load of cloth-bound books brought all the way from home. Perry Mason slips into a pocket, leaving the hands free to fend for seats, dig for tickets, and hunt for change.

No one can truthfully say that detective novels are not without educational value. Until I started reading them by the bucketful over here, I was abysmally ignorant about many things a man should know.

Now, thanks to an average of about one detective story a night, I am sure I could conduct a coroner's inquest, detect a case of arsenic poisoning, make a plaster cast of a footprint, dust for fingerprints and, if forced to, make an autopsy.

Reading detective stories has also changed my habits. For one thing, I keep a fairly accurate check on what time it was when I checked out of a hotel, when I checked in, and the exact time it was when I last saw people alive. Many an innocent character in whodunits gets in trouble because he didn't look at his watch often enough.

I also wear gloves a lot more than I used to. A man runs a pretty delicate risk when he leaves his fingerprints on anything.

I never go anywhere in a straight line. There's no use making it easy for possible "tails." I always change taxis at least twice, and usually jump out of them while they are moving and disappear into the first building I come to.

Almost every accessory is a possible lethal weapon in my eyes. I have read of too many people being killed by clever blowguns, to ever sit directly across from a man using a long cigarette holder.

I am also leery of using a finger bowl in restaurants for fear some villain, disguised as a waiter, has loaded it with those small, sharp-toothed South American fish who ravenously eat everything in sight.

These precautions are not taken because I fear someone is after me, but because I have read enough detective books to know that there are always two or three innocents slaughtered by mistake in the early chapters.

One thing I am glad of is that I am not a rich, rich old lady with a wastrel nephew. If I were, some scoundrel would kill me so that the blame would fall on the worthless nephew.

Pegler Offers Judge's Letter As 'Witness'

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

I am glad to be able to offer today as my witness against the American courts and the judges thereof, the Hon. A. L. Bevil, whose letter will be presented in full, absolutely as is. My criticism had to do with the degree of literacy which is revealed, or better say, betrayed, by these persons when they express themselves by their own efforts unassisted by shy but loyal female reminders and doubtless of the type of Alger Hiss who prompt most of them in spelling, grammar and law.

Judge Bevil's judicial temperament is expressed in his opening and he leaves me in his debt for proof piled on proof.

I give you the Hon. A. L. Bevil, attorney at law and Judge of Hardin County Court of Kountze, Tex.: "I have the clipping you enclosed, Pegler's tirade of August 7:

"The article suggests one of two things. Mr. Pegler was either drunk or had recently been brought before the court for some infraction of the law. Mr. Pegler knows much better than the majority of the people that there is not any truth in the wording or spirit of his article. If he were an ignorant man I could excuse him but I'm certainly disappointed in that I had quite a bit of respect for both his intellect and integrity, and I would lose that respect entirely if I thought he was mentally balanced at the time he wrote the article.

"There are some crooked judges and some crooked lawyers but this is true as to all professions and all some of the worst smelling characters I ever knew were column writers.

"The lawyer is entrusted with everything that is sacred and valuable to mankind, more so than any other profession and his temptations are equally as great.

"The old bastard (Pegler) knows he is lying when he says 'all American lawyers privately admit that the only reason why they observe this contemptible custom is that they have to assume that the judge may take revenge on their clients.'

"Of course the lawyers have primarily in mind their own bread — and butter and booze and general well-being." The last quotation simply shows that he is using himself as a criterion to judge the other fellow.

"In the American Army we salute our superior officers, not necessarily the person, but the uniform and the principal the uniform represents. We salute the American flag, not the cloth but the principal for which it stands. We call our parents 'mother and father,' are subject to their will, not only as an expression of respect, but in deference to their efforts to teach us home law, we might respect the laws of our country, and the laws of our God when we become adults.

"Moses was a great judge, a great law giver. Abe Lincoln was a practicing lawyer and used his every effort for the benefit of mankind.

"It was a lawyer and judge who wrote the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution of the United States, and of each state therein and all the laws by which we are protected in this free country, and which protect Mr. Pegler in his profession and being.

"Mr. Pegler says that their assumption of moral standards cannot be sustained; that lawyers and judges cannot retain respectable moral standards. He knows he is lying. The greatest moral and ethical standards of any profession is that of a lawyer.

"If our friend, Westbrook, does not like the way things are run in this country, why doesn't he move to Moscow?

"It is the tendency of all writers of Mr. Pegler's kind to criticize everyone and everything, but not one of them has ever offered a solution for the perplexed problem.

"His last paragraph, 'The courts, lawyers and the law are the worst oppressors of this country since George III.'

"If the courts, lawyers and the law are as he says — his head would be cut off and not even a basket furnished to catch it in.

"When Pegler has regained his mental equilibrium, I trust that he will write another article retracting the one of August 7, or offer a better plan than we have.

"I'm sending you an extra copy which you may furnish the writer if you desire. Wishing you the best of everything.

"Your brother,
(Signed, in pencil)
A. L. Bevil."

NEW STRIKE THREAT

ROME (UP) - Italy's secondary school teachers threatened a new strike today unless the government accepts their claims for career benefits by the end of next month. The teachers union served notice that it would call a strike of "adequate" length if the government fails to submit to Parliament an urgent bill reforming the teachers' career system. The strike would be the latest in a long series of school stoppages which started about three years ago.
