More Unions Join N. Y. Subway Strike

NEW YORK (UP)—New York City's strike-crippled subway system was virtually paralyzed today when six more small unions joined striking motormen in their fight against domination by the giant Transport Workers Union.

The Transit Authority admitted defeat in its efforts to maintain at least a minimum service and appealed to New Yorkers to stay out of the subways except on "essential business."

The city's transit authority said service on the TWU-dominated Interborough Rapid Transit (IRT) System was down to 33 per cent of normal at the beginning of the morning rush hour today. IRT lines had operated at 90 per cent of normal throughout the first day of the strike Monday.

Service on the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit (BMT) line, estimated at 50 per cent of normal Monday, was down to 25 per cent this morning, the TA said.

On the independent lines, stronghold of the striking splinter unions, only an occasional train was running.

The strike of some 2,600 members of the Motormen's Benevolent Assn. at 3 a.m. Monday threw rain-swept New York City into one of the worst transport jams in history. It was still raining this morning. The expected snarl staggered the imagination of the oldest traffic experts.

Streets, highways and rail lines were clogged from the center of Manhattan for miles into the suburbs. Business was disrupted by tardy or non-arriving workers; stores said they could never recover Christmas sale losses which were guessed to run into many millions. Even air travel suffered—passengers were delayed up to an hour in reaching airports.

No negotiations on the issue have been in progress or are scheduled. The MBA said it would call off the strike on two conditions—the release of its president and three other top officers from jail where they were sent for contempt of court Monday morning, and accession by the TA to their demands for a bargaining election among craft units.

Red Cross Board Hears Address By Field Director

William Scott, Red Cross field director of Amarillo Air Force Base, was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Red Cross board of directors this morning at 7 in Johnson's Cafe.

Scott spoke to the group concerning Red Cross activities at the base and pointed out that a bid given to the men last year by Red Cross amounted to $30,000 at Amarillo Air Force Base alone. He also reported that plans are being made to cut down on the amount of money spent without cutting down the Red Cross program.

Expenses are high to cover the services Red Cross is doing, but also the services are outstanding and essential, he said. Questions and illustrations were given by Scott to point out the service man's connection between him and his home community that Red Cross makes possible.

"In other words," according to Scott, "The American Red Cross is the strongest link between a military man and his home, and it is the main factor in a case of emergency."

Local business handled at the meeting, which was presided over by Johnny Campbell, chapter chairman, included reports given by Sam Bergert on Junior Red Cross, reports by Mrs. Libby Shotwell on the Council of Chapters meeting, the report on the Lefors JRC drive by Mrs. Mary Hatfield, reports on the First Aid courses by Frank Stallings and appointment of a committee by Campbell to revise the by-laws of the Pampa chapter. Persons on the committee are Mrs. C. E. Jefferies, chairman, Mrs. Glen Richeart and Mrs. Euna Lee Moore.

Bills were approved to cover the expenses of Christmas programs which will be handled by the Pampa Chapter at the Amarillo AIF

Ends Talks With British

Defense Sec'y Flies To Berlin

LONDON (UP)—Defense Secretary Neil McElroy flew to Berlin today for an inspection tour of U.S. forces. Bonn government officials said he was returning to "occupation days" by snubbing his West German counterpart.

McElroy's three days of London talks firmed up plans to station U.S. intermediate range ballistic missiles (1,500-mile) in Britain and coordinate the armed forces of the two countries more closely.

The British apparently were well satisfied with the talks. But McElroy was faced with indignant Germans who complained they were not getting the same treatment.

McElroy will spend three days in West Germany before going to Paris for the NATO "summit" conference.

Met With British Leaders
McElroy held several conferences with British leaders, including Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and Defense Minister Duncan Sandys.

Britain's military chiefs of staff were called into a special meeting Monday. Informed sources said they were told agreement had been reached to build several IRBM launching sites in Britain, one probably to be manned by U.S. troops.

A communique issued Monday night said Sandys and McElroy had reviewed the progress of plans made at the Bermuda conference last March to supply Britain with IRBM's and "it is hoped to finalize the agreement very shortly."

U.S. Adm. Jerauld Wright, commander in chief of NATO's North Atlantic fleet, flew into London Monday night for talks with top

Intent To Murder Charge Filed

(Special To The News)
SHAMROCK — Luther R. Bliss of Shamrock was in critical condition this morning in a Shamrock hospital as the result of a shooting that occurred at 3:30 this morning.

The attending physician reported that two bullets were lodged in Bliss and that the most serious was in the left side of his brain. Bliss was paralyzed on the right side, the doctor stated, and is unable to speak.

According to the Justice of the Peace, Mrs. Rena Edwards admitted shooting Bliss and stated that the shooting took place while she was defending her home, located at 900 W. Third.

County Attorney Jim Dougherty stated that Mrs. Edwards waived the examining trial and was charged with assault with intent to murder. Bond of $2,000 was set and Mrs. Edwards was being held late this morning pending the making of the bond.

Sheriff Bus Dorman of Wheeler could not be contacted by The News on the shooting and it was reported that he was investigating an accidental shooting which occurred approximately 12 miles east of Shamrock this morning.

Cleo Boren of Oklahoma City, formerly of Shamrock, was reported to have accidentally shot himself in the temple when he reached for a single-shot .22 caliber rifle as he prepared to shoot a coyote. The bullet entered his temple, according to reports, and emerged at the back of his head.

Boren was in Shamrock General Hospital late this morning and reports of his condition were unavailable.

City Manager Gets Assistant

Homer E. Hollars, 800 N. Somerville, will assume the duties of administrative assistant to the city manager effective Dec. 15.

The announcement was made this morning by John Koonz, city manager, who stated that Hollars will handle the duties formerly handled by Koonz. These will include assistant to the city manager and purchasing agent.

Hollars was formerly manager of P-K Supply in Pampa, Koonz stated.

Names Submitted For Planning Commission

Eight persons were listed this morning by the City Commission as possible members of the seven-member Planning Commission to be formed by the city.

Definite appointments to the new planning group were not made by the commissioners, pending the contacting of the persons to determine if they will be interested in serving on the advisory group.

It was decided this morning that membership in the planning group would be limited to seven persons with the city manager, city engineer, city attorney, chairman of the zoning commission and other city officials serving as ex-officio members of the group for advisory purposes.

The commission expressed a desire to meet with the Planning Commission when it is formed so that the commissioners can express their views on various problems now facing the city.

The new planning group will study various problems of city utilities and services brought on by the expansion of Pampa and will advise the commissioners on possible solutions.

Engineer's Estimate
Estimate No. 8 of Foran Construction Co. for work completed on the new pumping facilities, in the amount of $13,215.95 was approved for payment.

Also approved for payment was Estimate No. 5 for the Chicago Bridge and Iron Co. in the amount of $30,149.50. This was the final estimate for construction work on the overhead water storage tank and the surface storage tank at Pump Station No. 3. The total cost of the two new tanks was $218,310.

Final estimates of Lyle K. Stout on the construction of the two new fire substations were approved for payment. Estimate No. 5 on the north station, located at 17th and Aspen, was approved in the amount of $7,182.85 and Estimate No. 4 for the south station, located at 1010 S. Barnes, was approved in the amount of $12,323.45.

Fees for engineering services by Roberts, Merriman and Bowden were also approved. These were: pumping facilities, $308.37; sewer lines, $169.58; waterworks, $729.35; Cook street bridge, $605.20; and curbs, gutters and paving, $650.46.

Paving Work
A total of $5,344.32 was approved for payment to Ray Boswell for construction work in the widening of the 100 block of E. Foster and the 100 block of S. Bailard.

The widening of the street in these two blocks was undertaken by the city to help solve the traffic problem at the Post Office.

Garbage Disposal
The contract for the disposal of wet garbage was awarded to Louis O'Neal this morning after the commissioners ruled that his bid was the most advantageous to the city. A total of four bids were received by the commission.

The cost of wet garbage disposal will remain at $300 per month with the contract becoming effective immediately. O'Neal had the previous contract with the city.

Other Business
The third reading of Ordinance No. 483, providing for the extension of the city limits to include two blocks of Country Club Heights, was postponed until a later date.

It was the decision of the commissioners to obtain information upon the total width allotted for Harvesters from Duncan to the Country Club before final action is taken on this ordinance.

Monthly bills in the amount of $25,952.57 were approved for payment and the only other action today was the approval of a tax cancellation certificate to correct an error in taxation.

Mrs. Ashby Dies Monday; Rites Set

Mrs. Charles Ashby died at about 11 p.m. yesterday in her home at 918 Christine.

Mrs. Ashby had been ill for about six months. She was born Nov. 1, 1925, at Big Heart, Okla., but had lived in Pampa the last 22 years. Her husband, Dr. Charles Ashby, is a prominent Pampa physician.

Mrs. Ashby's survivors include her husband; one daughter, Michael Sue of Pampa; one son, Bobby Charles of Pampa; and her mother, Mrs. Don Cole of Pampa.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Thursday at the First Presbyterian Church with Rev. Ronald Hubbard, pastor, officiating. The casket will be opened at Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home until 10:30 preceding the funeral. It will not be opened at the church.

Palbearers will be H. E. McCarty, Louis Brumley, C. W. Henry, Louis Epps, H. L. Ledrick, Ray Hampton, Phil Gates and Ed Daley.

Pampan's Mother Injures Hip

Mrs. Ola Gregory, county treasurer, was called to Springfield, Mo., Monday to the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Nancy Norton, 90, who fell at her home in Crane, Mo., and broke her hip.

Mrs. Norton had recently returned to her home in Crane after spending the summer here with her daughter. Her address is Room 209, Baptist Hospital, Springfield, Mo.

Sputnik Would Control World Communications; Jam Radar

WASHINGTON (UP)—Atomic expert Rep. James T. Patterson (R-Conn.) said today Russia is building a super television satellite capable of controlling the world's communications—and even jamming out the vital U. S. early warning radar defense system.

Patterson said "most reliable and authoritative sources" also told him the Soviets are making Sputniks which may be "utilized as bomb-carry vehicles."

The TV Sputnik, Patterson said, is being designed to jam not only radar and radio and television signals but also broadcast "its own propaganda on any TV channel anywhere in the world."

Patterson, a member of the House Armed Service and the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee, said the "big brother" Sputnik would weigh one ton and be shot into an orbit 22,000 miles above the earth, making a revolution every 24 hours.

In a speech prepared for delivery to the Middletown, Conn., American Legion, Patterson called for a "super-accelerated crash program in all research and weaponry."

Failure of the Budget Bureau to release all appropriate funds for nuclear-powered rockets was hit by Chairman Rep. Carl T. Durham (D-N.C.) of the Atomic Energy Committee in a letter to President Eisenhower.

A top level inspection of the Army Jupiter (1,500-mile) IRBM headquarters at Huntsville, Ala., was begun today by Pentagon missile director William M. Holaday, Army Secretary Wilber M. Brucker and Air Force Secretary James H. Douglas.

Although a spokesman for the Army ballistic missile agency at Huntsville, Ala., said no fully assembled Jupiter C's were at the site, the Restone believed to be sitting in one of two Army service towers here is the fundamental unit of the Jupiter C.

The Air Force kicked off what almost certainly will be another busy week at this Air Force test center Monday by triggering a ground-to-air BoMarc, a small but swift missile which sped away leaving only a thin trail of smoke.

Monday the Navy issued a statement listing the reason for the Vanguard misfiring as "a mechanical failure in the propulsion system."

The statement said the specific trouble was "classified," but that damage to the launching stand was only "moderately serious." Repairs can be made in a short period of time. Work is proceeding on the preparation of another test vehicle for firing.

The statement added that the repairs "are not expected to jeopardize the launching of an earth satellite according to previously announced plans."

The 90-foot Atlas is capable of delivering a nuclear warhead up to 5,000 miles. When tested in June and September it had to be destroyed by remote control a few thousand feet from the ground when it malfunctioned.

Plans Formed For Hereford Show, Sale

Plans for the 1958 Show and Sale of the Top of Texas Hereford Breeders Association were formulated in a meeting of the directors yesterday at 2:30 p.m. in the conference room of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce.

According to Clyde Carruth, president of the association, until the meeting yesterday there was some doubt as to whether the show would be held this year due to the fact that there is a shortage of Herefords in the Top of Texas area this year. This fact was obviated in the meeting yesterday, however, when the enthusiasm was high for a show and sale.

The directors voted a definite go-ahead for the plans and details of the show which is scheduled for March 3, 4, and 5, 1958.

Walter Britton, College Station, was named auctioneer of the sale which will be held on Wednesday, March 5, in the Sale Barn at Recreation Park.

A catalogue committee has been chosen to work out the details and plans for a show catalogue with Ralph Thomas in charge. Other members of the committee are Jake Hess and Wayne Maddox. Deadline for catalogue entries is Jan. 15, 1958.

Clyde Carruth presided at the meeting.

The Annual Hereford Breeders Association banquet will be held in connection with the show and sale on Tuesday, March 4.

Hotel Company Stockholders Meet Today
A meeting of the stockholders of the Community Hotel Company of Pampa was to be held today in the Cabot Auditorium of the Hughes Building at 2 p.m. according to George B. Cree Jr., president of the company.

Primary reason for the meeting was to have been the election of eight new directors to succeed eight whose terms of office expire in the year of 1957. There was to have also been the transaction of other business.

Nominees for the replacements on the board of directors are M. K. Brown, Frank Culbertson, E. L. Green Jr., H. O. Darby, Ed Myatt, E. Roy Smith, R. G. Hughes, and R. L. Pugh.

All stockholders were urged to attend the meeting in person and to vote their stock.

CoC Directors OK Projects, Hear Reports

Members of the board of directors of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce heard reports from eight projects and okayed 1958 committee chairman at their meeting yesterday at noon in the Palm Room of City Hall.

THE BOARD also accepted the 1958 program of work of the chamber as submitted by E. L. "Smiley" Henderson, president.

The program of work, in addition to a broad range of projects worked on this year and not yet completed, has 23 new projects included.

NEW PROJECTS listed in the program include giving some thought and planning to an underpass to be constructed at the Starkweather street crossing; cooperating with the City and County in the widening and general realignment of Alcock Street to the City Limits; bringing to the attention of City officials the advisability of extending streets running north to Hobart Street; sponsoring a series of meetings to which the public would be invited in advancing the cause of the free intercity system; explore the possibilities of more downtown off-street parking; encourage the improvement and general appearance of store fronts and to secure tenants for vacant buildings that now exist; explore the use of sign boards in neighboring towns relative to shopping in Pampa; cooperate with the Pampa Youth Council in making possible a Youth Center for the community; study the possibility of establishing a Junior college in Pampa; cooperate with the City Commission in the establishment of a long range City Development Planning Board; cooperate with the American Legion on plans to provide a baseball park to be erected at Recreation Park; sponsor quarterly membership luncheons in order to keep the membership better informed on the activities of the chamber and give members an opportunity to offer suggestions; study advisability and feasibility of an all-sports activity banquet honoring Harvesters (including all school athletic teams) to be held in the Spring each year; work with the Texas

Highway Department in getting a better road from McLean to Pampa; and others.

KAY FANCHER, chairman of the chamber's public relations committee, reported that the public relations classes sponsored recently for City employees and the general public was "a success."

Fancher said 255 took part in the classes and expressed such satisfaction that a request has been made for another session in April.

It was also reported that the chamber had received letters of appreciation from Cabot officials expressing appreciation for the recent banquet honoring Franks Manufacturing representatives and for support in getting the new Franks employees' families situated here.

HOMER CRAIG, chairman of the Fire Prevention and Safety Committee of the chamber, said his committee was working on dedication services at the two new fire substations. Dedication ceremonies will be conducted at the new stations Saturday. The ceremony at the south station, 1010 S. Barnes, will be held at 10 a.m. and at the north station, 321 E. 17th, at 11 a.m.

A REPORT on the activities of the Legislative and National Affairs Committee was made by Mack Hiatt, chairman. Hiatt said preparatory steps toward the

Tito's Health Is Cause For Alarm

NEWS OUTLOOK
By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
The world look ahead at the news that will make the headlines.

TITO
President Eisenhower isn't the only chief executive whose health has caused alarm in the last few weeks. Word has leaked to a European capital that President Tito of Yugoslavia recently collapsed while trying to get up from his chair and fell to the floor at his Belgrade residence. Specialists were hurriedly called in. They found, however, that Tito's collapse was not serious — it was due to physical exhaustion and lumbago.

STEVENSON
Adlai E. Stevenson has high hopes for the way Secretary of State John Foster Dulles cooperated with him during his short tour as State Department policy adviser. But Stevenson isn't sure about the White House attitude. There is some suspicion in Stevenson's office that Sherman Adams, the President's assistant, and James C. Hagerly, his press aide, never really went along with Dulles on the role given him. That undoubtedly figured in Stevenson's decision not to attend the North Atlantic Treaty Organization meeting in Paris next week.

"NO, THANKS!"
The experts expect a firm "no" from the European allies at the NATO meeting to the American proposal to set up missile bases aimed at Russia, on their territory. The continental NATO Allies don't want them. They heed Moscow's threat that they would be obliterated if war came, because they say Russia obviously has the missiles necessary. And they aren't convinced after last week's Vanguard fiasco that the United States will even have rockets to equip the bases for a long time.

BEACHHEAD
The State Department fears Communism may again establish a Latin-American beachhead in Guatemala soon. The left-wing Revolutionary Party, backed by the Communists, is out to sweep the Jan. 19 presidential election. Its opposition is split five ways and there's little chance of closing ranks. Guatemala was well on the way to constitutional government

WHAT GIVES?—Pretty Maxine Gillette seems to have suddenly grown an Amazon body upon which to perch her pretty head. Trick photography is not involved in the "growth," however. The clear water at Silver Springs, Fla., acted as a giant magnifying glass in "split level" photo made from glass boat.

RARE FIND—Jan Paul, Holland-born violin maker in San Francisco, purchased six run of the mill instruments from a musician for $2,600. The one he's carefully polishing turned out to be a rare, 224-year-old Bergonzi cello, valued at $6,500. The battered and scarred instrument was made in 1733 by Carlo Bergonzi of Italy, one-time apprentice to Guarneri and Stradivari.

Cotton Crop Estimate Is Down

AUSTIN (UP)—The U.S. Department of Agriculture today estimated Texas' 1957 cotton crop at 3,575,000 bales, down approximately 5 per cent from the Nov. 1 forecast.

The USDA figure represented a decrease of 325,000 bales from the previous figure. More than three-fourths of the loss was in the Northwest and High Plains counties of Texas, the USDA said. The major trouble was wet, cool weather which started in late September and continued through November with scarcely a break. These unfavorable conditions came at a time when open weather was urgently needed for drying and opening of late bolls that had been checked by the October freeze. As a result, many of these late bolls rotted rather than opened and maximum losses from freeze damage was experienced, the USDA reported.

In addition, the wet weather caused some loss of open cotton

A Christmas Story

and a substantial lowering of grade.

Unprecedented bad weather was reflected in figures which showed 59 per cent of the estimated harvest was ginned on Dec. 1, as contrasted with 96 per cent for the same date last year. A USDA spokesman said the lowest figure prior to that this year in modern times was 71 per cent in 1919. The figures underline growers' inability to get their cotton out of the fields because of the wet weather.

However, yield per acre is still expected to hit 291 pounds, the highest since 1866 when a high of 325 pounds per acre was reached.

Postmaster Urges Early Yule Mailing

Postmaster O. K. Gaylor said today, "We hope to keep up our good record on the Christmas mails by getting everything processed and delivered well before Christmas Eve." He said further that much depends on your cooperation in mailing your Christmas cards and gifts during the next ten days.

The Postmaster asks for your special cooperation to be sure the recipients address is plainly typed or written on all labels and Christmas cards. Use zone numbers, and it's always a good idea to include an extra label inside your packages. Parcel Post size and weight limitations vary according to destination. Ask about them when you go to the Post Office to buy stamps.

Response to his "Mail Early" appeals to date have been excellent, the Postmaster said. Now it's a case of keeping up the good work to avoid those last minute Christmas mail pile-ups. You can do both yourself and the Post Office a real favor by securing free labels at the Post Office which read, "All For Out of Town Delivery" and "All For Local Delivery." Place these labels on bundles of cards for local addresses, and on those for out-of-town destinations, and mail your out-of-town Christmas cards several days in advance of those intended for local delivery.

Beginning Dec. 9, service windows at the Post Office will be until all patrons are waited on, open from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. or The windows are most crowded at lunch time, so the Postmaster suggests that packages be mailed before 10 a.m. or between 1:30 and 3:30 p.m.

A pre-Christmas Workshop for the Junior and Senior High School students of Mrs. H. A. Yoder will be held on Saturday evening at 7 p.m. in her home, 1215 Williston. Hostesses will be Mrs. B. R. Nash and Bob Andrus. Mothers of the students are cordially invited to attend. Each student is to bring a new toy for exchange and later to be donated to needy children.

The Junior High Freshman Trio, composed of Misses Zip Hall, Melody Hunter and Jan Hall with their accompanist, Miss Burt Nash will present a program of songs for the Miami Lion's Club at its meeting tonight in Miami. (Continued From Page 1) forming of an advanced economics study class has been made by representatives of the three classes which have studied the economics course sponsored by the chamber.

Also, economics study group number four is now forming for studies similar to those undertaken by the three earlier classes.

NEWT SECRET, chairman of the Sports and Recreation Committee, reported that 250 attended the football banquet sponsored by the committee at the termination of the football season and that his committee would sponsor the annual banquet honoring the basketball team when the season ends next spring.

Secret also invited all those present and the general public to visit the Boys Club building under construction by the Pampa Optimist Club at the intersection of Barnes and Craven.

At the suggestion of Warren Hase, finance director, the possibility of having next month's board meeting at the new building will be looked into.

CHAIRMAN Paul Bowers of the Agriculture and Livestock Committee, reported that the Top of Texas Hereford Breeders' annual show and sale will be held in March next year, a little later than in the past.

Bowers expressed his appreciation to the chamber for the support it has given the event. He said that agriculture and livestock conditions look "mighty good" to farmers and livestock men in the Panhandle area and that the wheat and grassland is looking good for this time of year.

A REQUEST that it be informed when new businesses move into Pampa was made by the New Business Growers Committee, Lewis Hackley, chairman.

The possibility that a bulletin could be gotten out regularly, reporting on new business moving in was discussed.

The Merchants Activities Committee report was given by Bunny Behrman, chairman.

BEHRMAN SAID the Santa Parade last week was "one of the best in years" and expressed his appreciation to Bill Leonard of the local National Guard unit for acting as parade marshal and to Ed Anderson for being in charge of the distributing of 4,000 candy-filled stockings to children after the parade.

Behrman said that the lighting of the Nativity Scenes in Central Park will take place on Dec. 18. He expressed the committee's thanks to Mrs. Claudine Vail, Mrs. AM. D. Ellis and Mrs. Janette Lyons, who have repainted most of the scenes. The high school speech and music departments will have charge of the program to be presented at the lighting ceremony.

Local stores will start remaining open until 8 p.m. on Dec. 16, Behrman said, and Santa Claus will be on the streets visiting with children from that day until Christmas.

The Home Decoration Contest will be held with six divisions this year. Judging will take place on the night of Dec. 23 and plaques will be awarded to the winners in each division.

Behrman said that members of the local Business and Professional Women's Club have been "doing a good job" assisting the chamber in collecting funds for the Christmas decorations.

The committee is sponsoring free movies on Dec. 18 and 19 for Christmas shoppers and their children.

Behrman said he had visited with local merchants and they reported that their businesses are generally in better shape than the surrounding Panhandle area.

Some cities in the Panhandle and South Plains have experienced a slackening off of business since last year, he said, but Pampa merchants reported that business was "on a par with last year." He said that Pampa merchants will have a good year if the Christmas business is as good as last year.

HENDERSON, chamber president, reported that he had been told the completion of installation of the new street lights would be soon. Henderson also reported that he and E. O. Wedgeworth, chamber manager, attended an Open House held by the Perryton Chamber of Commerce Sunday for the purpose of showing its new chamber building to the public.

Wedgeworth reminded those present that a meeting would be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the Cabot Auditorium in the Hughes Building to elect eight new directors in the Community Hotel

Company. THE BOARD approved the members of the various chamber committees and their chairmen as submitted. This year, a representative of the board has been assigned to each committee to let the board's feelings be known concerning any project the committee might consider. Also, the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce will have a member on each committee this year.

Committee chairmen for 1958 are Arthur Rankin, agriculture and livestock; C. R. Hoover, aviation and safety; Fred Thompson, highways and transportation; Frank Culbertson, industrial; H. I. att, legislation and national affairs; Behrman, merchants activities; Hackley, new business growers; Max Bolick, oil and gas; Clinton Evans, public improvements; Fancher, public relations; Joel R. Combs, publicity and general information; Secret, sports and recreation; and Jim Poole, tourist development.

YONKERS, N. Y., (UP)—Yonkers Raceway offers harness racing's two richest two-year-old events next year as part of its 1958 schedule. They are the $50,000 added Hilltop Trot and the $50,000 added Empire Pace, both to be run off sometime in September. The track opens on Aug. 1.

There is absolutely no need for us to discuss anything else for the next two weeks... but Christmas. No longer can we avoid the fact that it is just around the corner. So, let's talk about Christmas gifts for Dad today.

The gift that will be remembered the longest is probably the one you buy for the home. And leather offers the perfect combination; its luxurious for Christmas... and practical for the year around.

Whenever you enter a living room that has a really comfortable leather easy chair, you know that Dad's the head of this house and that his reign is popular. Christmas is a good time for the whole family to acknowledge Dad's place by chipping in to buy him a chair that everyone can take pride in.

You can find practically everything in the way of comfort in a leather chair, from a reclining back and footstool to extensions that slide out from under the arm for holding drinks or evening paper, are, of course, permanently situated on a stationary table nearby.

One really voluptuous leather chair is in three parts attached to one another with flexible joinings so that each part can move with the sitter. An investment like this, however, should also be made a decorative asset. You can accomplish this by choosing among the hundreds of leather colors available the one that does the most for its setting. A glossy chair on a beige rug is one idea. Olive green on a gold rug is another.

Next to buying Father a new car for Christmas... which might not be quite practical for you... we suggest a huge soft chamois cloth, which will enable him to make his current car look as good as new... or nearly so.

The large sized chamois, which will cost you about $4 comes in a variety of packages, depending on the brand. But all are suitable for wrapping as a small extra Christmas gift. Or even as a sole gift for some car devotee to whom you want to give a small token of your regard.

The best chamois will be identified by label or stamp as "conforming to U. S. Government Standards," which indicates that it has been tanned by a newly developed process which makes it more water absorbent... thus speeds washing.

A genuine chamois does double duty as washer and polisher. Used with ordinary soaps and water, it wipes all dirt from the car surface... soaking up layers of dust and grime. After it is rinsed and wrung out in clean water, the millions of soft sueded fibers of dry chamois will produce a high gloss that is rubbed over the car. Unlike some chemical cloths and non-oxidizing tanned skins, it is completely non-abrasive, protecting the paint surface of the car.

Ladies Club Plans Christmas Party. The Hamilton Ladies Club met recently in the Cities Service Recreation Hall west of town. Hostesses were Mrs. B. R. Skinner, Eddie Parker, E. E. Klingenberg, Roy Smith, Lloyd May and Earl Weatherford.

Ladies Of Dorcas Society Contribute Time And Money To Helping Needy. The Ladies of the Dorcas Society, of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, which meets the second and last Thursday of each month have prepared a report of this past year's activities.

Christmas Thoughts To Be PTA Theme. Sam Houston PTA will meet in the school auditorium Thursday at 2 p.m. with Mrs. H. C. Grady Jr. presiding.

Teenager, "Most Maligned Group", Want Parental Help In Understanding Life

NEW YORK (NEA) — Parents with a teen-ager or two rocking around the house may feel they are going down for the third time and are in need of a life preserver.

But what would they do when confronted with waves of problems issuing from 45,000 adolescents in the throes of growing up? If they were Dr. Ruth Fedder, they would write a book. Or, perhaps two.

Not that she hides behind a typewriter in despair. Her books for teen-agers are a result of questions they ask her about growing up.

Dr. Fedder has been working in the 12 high schools of Bucks County, Pa., for 16 years as a school psychologist and assistant superintendent of schools.

Dr. Ruth Fedder

When publishing firms felt a woman couldn't write about boys. But her second venture into the teen-age world is as valuable to the boys as the girls.

The question, I guess, they ask the most, in one way or another, is how to live on good terms with themselves and others.

honest, more able to see and face problems and more willing to talk about them. In fact, they are more grown up in a more complicated world," she pointed out.

"Take dating," she said. "It used to revolve around the home. Now cars which them miles away to a dance, party or movie. Teen-agers have to get there and back, and handle any situations that might arise along the way.

"They're marrying younger, men at 22.5 and women at 20.2 years old, and having larger families. Teen-agers learn the cold facts of budgeting, shopping for groceries, and diapering baby from their married contemporaries. And it hits home harder than listening to their parents.

"And all this publicity about steady dating," she laughed. "I think it is a matter of confused terminology. Many girls say they go steady. Then they explain they go steady by telephone with one boy and date another. Or they have a steady for Saturday night dates. When I was young, 'going steady' meant an approaching marriage. Today it means someone to count on for big dates."

RUTH MILLETT

"I don't know whether my husband is deliberately trying to make me feel like a has-been or whether he just doesn't realize how deflating it is to a middle-aged woman's ego to have her husband always loud in his admiration for every good-looking young thing on TV."

"I'm 51 and so is my husband, but his comments make me feel like I'm 60, married to a man who thinks if a woman doesn't have youth she doesn't have anything."

"It hurts and it makes me mad, but I don't know how to make him stop. Do you?"

If you really want to get back at him there are a few comments you might make which would bring home the idea that age doesn't leave men any less changed than it does women.

Ladies Of Dorcas Society Contribute Time And Money To Helping Needy

The Ladies of the Dorcas Society, of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, which meets the second and last Thursday of each month have prepared a report of this past year's activities.

Mrs. Gordon Johnson states that the ladies, who can spare the time, work all through the year donating their time to helping mend clothes, repairing shoes, fixing food baskets, and boxes of clothing, which are kept in readiness for relief of local and foreign needs.

"We ship clothes to different states in the United States and many boxes go to our foreign friends. We assist in education, medical needs, as well as, spread the gospel. We cooperate with county, Red Cross, or any local church that calls on us. We care for unfortunate as far as possible, regardless of religion, creed or color. Every member of our church from adult to cradle-roll gives to our mission relief work each Sabbath. We are small in number, but we give a generous mission offering each week."

"Once a year, our entire church is called upon to go out ingathering. We have music and a friendly solicitor calls from door to door giving the people of Pampa a chance to share in the blessing of helping our neighbor, who might be less fortunate than they are. We are very grateful for this help. The pamphlets which we leave with each house is paid for by our own local church members. All expenses incurred from this ingathering is all also paid for by our local church members and all labor is donated free of charge."

MATURE PARENT Hobart Street Church Women's Units Observe Lottie Moon Week Of Prayer

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Five weeks before Nina G.'s 15th birthday, her parents offered to give her a party.

She accepted delightedly. But several days later when her mother asked for her guest list, she said she hadn't had time to think about it. The next afternoon, pressed again for the list, she suddenly turned on her mother.

Flushing, Nina cried, "Do you think I want kids I don't know well to see the old carpet in the upstairs hall? Do you think I want them to discover I haven't got a bathroom of my own? I have some pride. Goodness, Mother, you're dense sometimes!"

Nina's attack on her one-bathroom home is simply a new variation of general adolescent dissatisfaction with what we can give them. We cannot remove it. The truth is, we shouldn't want to satisfy the adolescent child. He is prepared to leave us and find satisfactions in what other people than his parents can give him. It is part of this preparation to find fault with everything we've got from our second floor.

The Hobart Street Baptist Church Women's Missionary Unit observed the Lottie Moon Week of Prayer during the past week. The group met in the chapel each morning with Mrs. A. V. Hale, president presiding. Each program was opened with those present quoting John 3:16, followed by a solo.

Foran, "Senor Lucrecia Corvelan"; Mrs. Preston Wallace, "Signora Lydia Schiro"; Mrs. Loyd New, "Mrs. J. M. Nyathi"; Mrs. I. H. Woodward, "The Orient and East Asia"; Program was closed by Mrs. C. C. Tackett. There were thirteen members present.

FRIDAY'S program was presented by the Letha Saunders Circle with the topic "For God So Loved, That We Must Love Him Too". Those participating on the program were Mrs. A. V. Hale, "A Vision Of Whiteden Fields and No Laborers"; First Woman, Mrs. James Schaub; Second Woman, Mrs. B. T. Clark; Third Woman, Mrs. Dean Dalton; "Personal Dedication"; Mrs. A. V. Hale; First Woman, Mrs. Warren Finney; Second Woman, Mrs. James Schaub; Third Woman, Mrs. Warren Jackson. The meeting closed with a directed silent prayer under the direction of Mrs. Warren Jackson. Eighteen members were present.

On the program were: Mrs. Delmer Barefoot, "The Call and Preparation of Missionaries"; Mrs. H. C. Wilkie, "Educational Qualifications"; Mrs. Bertie Cope, "Practical Experience"; Mrs. Bill Wright, "Steps in the Procedure Toward Appointment"; Mrs. Chester Tackett was in charge of the closing meditation. Twenty one members were present.

Hale, "Unfavorable Government and International Crisis"; Mrs. Mage Keyser, "New Christians and Untrained Leaders"; Mrs. Harold Beckham, "Negative Influence From The Home Base" and "Limited Resources for an Overwhelming Task". The program was closed by Mrs. Harold Beckham. Twenty two members were present.

5 Science Has Broken The Elberta Peach Barrier!

By DELOS SMITH
United Press Science Editor

NEW YORK (UP)—Science has broken the Elberta Peach barrier which, in its way, is no less exciting than breaking the sound barrier was during the first years of the jet propulsion age.

You see, nothing is quite so stubborn as a natural "law," and no natural law was any more stubborn than the one which seemed to govern the behavior of the Elberta peach tree.

After it dropped its leaves in the fall, nothing whatever would induce it to put forth new ones until after it had endured a period of cold days.

You could put it in a hot house, into the soil most liked by Elberta peach trees. You could create artificially the weather it likes best. But all this to no avail.

Productive in Georgia For that reason the Elberta peach tree is unknown in all-year warm climates. This is why the trees are most productive in such areas as Georgia where winters are long enough for the purpose of the trees, but still short enough for growing seasons to be long ones.

Alberta peach trees must first go through 950 hours—or 39 24-hour days—in which the temperature is below 45 degrees. It doesn't matter if there are more than 99 such days. But there can't be fewer.

Clive W. Donoho, Jr., and David R. Walker of North Carolina State College, are the peach scientists who broke the barrier. They did it with the experimental plant growth substance, gibberellic acid which is a chemical manufactured by a Japanese fungus.

They experimented with trees which had had no more than 164 hours of cold before they were transplanted from orchard into large cans and put into a storage room with a continuous temperature of 65 degrees.

After 95 days, the trees still were dormant, as was to be expected. Donoho and Walker then sprayed them twice with solutions of gibberellic acid, and behold! The barrier was broken—the trees began growing and putting forth leaves!

Finding Right Solutions Not many sprays were needed in any experiment, but the strength of the solutions was all-important. Solutions containing 1,000 to 40,000 parts of the substance per million parts were highly effective. Weaker solutions were not.

In reporting to the American Association for the Advancement of Science, they said that gibberellic acid evidently either put the whammy on a specific Elberta peach chemical which kept it dormant or needed its over-all chemistry into functioning despite the "law."

This is the newest horticultural wonder attributed to gibberellic acid which is exciting horticulture scientists throughout the world. It has hastened the germination and the early growth of a number of important food plants. It may some day put a new face on food-growing.

'Elite' in Arts Get Place To Study, Think, Write, And Gab

By FRED DANZIG
United Press Staff Correspondent

PRINCETON, N.J. (UP)—The Institute for Advanced Study here is the only full-time incubator for eggheads on this planet. It provides the elite in the arts and sciences with a place to study, write, think—and gab.

The 27-year-old institute is unique because it is not a college or research institute, has no formal curriculum or classes, awards no degrees, has no teachers in the accepted meaning of the word. With assets of some 21-million dollars, the institute has only one major piece of scientific equipment—a computer.

The institute owns a square-mile of land southwest of the Princeton University campus, which makes for a cozy relationship between the two although they are completely separate. A four-story main building, Fuld Hall, is set in the center of an arc-like pattern of five brick colonial-style offices and seminar buildings.

Maintain Einstein Traditions In this setting, where ordinary worldly cares are absent, the heirs of the late Albert Einstein continue to make important discoveries.

Founded in 1930 with a five-million-dollar gift from Newark Department store owner Louis Bamberger and his sister, Mrs. Felix Fuld, the institute has two schools: mathematics, devoted to logical analysis, and historical studies, including art, music, archeology and literature.

One member of the historical studies school got a laugh recently when he referred to the math school as "se user side."

A layman visiting the institute soon gets lost trying to follow the 107 temporary members as they ponder the mysteries of nature and the import of man's scientists throughout the world. It has hastened the germination and the early growth of a number of important food plants. It may some day put a new face on food-growing.

JUST DUCKY—This design has been chosen for the 1958-59 "duck" stamp. Drawn by Leslie C. Koubs, of Minneapolis, Minn., it depicts Canadian geese feeding in a picked corn field. It is the 25th in the series of migratory bird-hunting stamps.

US 'Pushed Into' Vanguard Test

EDITOR'S NOTE: The blowup of the U.S. satellite just Friday has put the United States in a tough propaganda spot. Disappointment and ridicule have been heaped on the government at home and abroad. Publicity given the event has come in for sharp criticism. Following is an appraisal of how the situation came about by Joseph L. Myler, veteran UP Washington correspondent specializing in scientific and atomic reporting who is intimately acquainted with the feelings of scientists about the misfiring.

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
United Press Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON (UP)—Last Oct. 9 President Eisenhower remarked at a news conference that this country would launch a small test satellite in December.

The sequel, on Dec. 6, was an appalling blow to U.S. prestige. The three-stage rocket that was to launch the little moon exploded on the ground at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

To the men of U.S. satellite project Vanguard the international furor over what happened is a marvel, a wonder, a thing not to be explained in terms physical scientists are accustomed to using.

Odds Were for Failure Their rockets failed. They were disappointed, being human. But the failure was not as surprising to them as complete success would have been. As one of them had said before the fact, the odds did not want to be in the position of staging a "smack" launching.

In a case TV-3—the rocket that misfired in Florida last week—was strictly a test, not an "earnest try," and it never was intended to be anything but a test. It would have to work almost perfectly to put its test sphere into an orbit. On Sept. 30, 1957, Vanguard director John P. Hagen said if TV-3's sphere got into an orbit it would be "by chance."

Sputniks Launched Four days later Russia announced Sputnik I. Five days after that President Eisenhower said this country would put a test sphere in orbit in December and would launch a genuine scientific satellite in March.

The pressure became greater after Sputnik II. The impression went abroad that the United States would try in December to "match" Russia's successes.

This was not the case. Nobody would claim, even if it orbited, that a 6.4-inch sphere weighing 8 1/4 pounds was a match to 184-pound Sputnik I and 1,120-pound Sputnik II.

Nevertheless when last week's now notorious "count down" started on the cape, the world was watching.

Defense officials deny any unprecedented plans for publicizing their considered a reflection of public interest.

When TV-3 blew up, politicians and diplomats went into a "flip. Hagen just said "nuts" and went on working.

DON'T DO AS I DO... HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Groucho Marx looked at the sizeable audience before the start of a preview of "The Bridge on the River Kwai." "OK," he said, "Why aren't you all at home watching my television show?"

Harvesters In Home Action Tonight

To Battle Vernon Lions In Harvester Field House At 8

The Pampa Harvesters will take the court tonight in quest of their fourth straight victory of the season as they host the Vernon Lions in Harvester Field House at 8.

In the first engagement of the two teams, last Saturday night, the Harvesters swept to an 86-52 victory on the Lions home court.

For the four games played this season, the Harvesters have stacked up 303 points for an average of 76 points per game, as compared to 223 points for their opposition, establishing an average of 57 points per game.

At present, center Mack Layne leads the field in individual scoring with 84 points, an average of 16 points per game. Layne is junior on the squad, standing 6'5", having had only Shocker experience prior to this year.

Following closely on the heels of Layne in scoring is Coyle Winborn, another junior, at 6'3", who has racked 63 points for the four encounters of the year.

Other top scorers on the squad are guard Bill Brown with 53; Ray Stephenson with 50; Bobby Gindorf with 30; Charles Minor with 15, and Robert Murray with 14.

The high mark set for a single game also goes to Layne, having scored 28 points in the tilt against Vernon.

Following tonight's contest, the Harvesters have the next three also slated for their home court. They will host Hobbs, N.M., Friday and Saturday night and Childress the following Tuesday, Dec. 17.

Slated for an early game tonight, the Pampa Shockers will battle the Vernon "B" team at 6:30. Coached by Terry Cudley, the Shockers also stand with only one defeat, having fallen to Claude in the season inaugural before downing Childress "B," Phillips "B" and Vernon "B."

Probable starters for tonight will be: Pampa; Bob Gindorf, Coyle Winborn, Mack Layne, Bill Brown and Ray Stephenson. Vernon: McAuffee, Phillips, Percival, Beard and Bolton.

Spahn Only 20-Game Man In League

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UP)—Warren Spahn was the grand "old master" of National League pitchers this year but the circuit's real strength lies in its young stars.

Spahn, 38, is the only pitcher aged 18 to 28.

The release of official statistics by the Elias Baseball Bureau showed that the 36-year-old Spahn's 21 victories for the Milwaukee Braves made him the league's only 20-game winner. It marked the eighth time Spahn entered the 20-win circle — extending his own league record for a left-hander.

At the same time, the figures actually were dominated by younger pitchers.

Podres ERA Leader
Johnny Podres, 25-year-old Brooklyn Dodger left-hander, was tops in the earned run average with 2.66 and also led with six shutouts. Spahn and 21-year-old Don Drysdale of the Dodgers tied for second at 2.69 in the ERA department.

The Braves' Bob Buhl, 29, ranked fourth with a 2.74 ERA and his .720 percentage (18-7 won-loss record) was the best among pitchers who appeared in 154 or more innings.

Jack Sanford, 28-year-old rookie of the Philadelphia Phillies, had a 19-8 record and led the circuit with 188 strikeouts. Next game the Chicago Cubs' precocious 21-year-old right-hander, Moe Drabowsky and Dick Drott, who tied at 170 strikeouts each.

Friend A Workhorse
Bob Friend, 27, had a 14-18 record with the Pittsburgh Pirates and led the league in three departments — innings pitched, 277, most starts, 38, and faced the most batters, 1148.

In all, 12 of the 15 pitchers with the lowest earned run averages over at least 154 innings were less than 30 years old. The three exceptions were Spahn, the 31-year-old Newcombe and 32-year-old Brooks Lawrence of the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Southwest Favorites Sweep Wins In Intersectional Tilts

By UNITED PRESS
Pre-season favorite Rice, defending champion Southern Methodist, Texas Christian and Texas A&M all racked up basketball wins over intersectional foes Monday night, with Rice's 23-point margin over LSU proving the largest of the night.

The Owls, behind the rebounding and scoring of 6-10 Temple Tucker and 6-9 Tom Robatallie, controlled the game pretty well much at will, holding a 40-25 halftime lead and maintaining a 15-to-20 point margin during the second half.

Tucker led scoring with 18 points and rebounding with 17 in leading the Owls to their third straight win.

SMU Outclasses Hamline
Southern Methodist, playing little Hamline College, won its 36th regular season home game with a 66-50 win over the outmanned Pied Pipers.

The Mustangs, sparked by the floor play of Max Williams, led by only four points at halftime, but quickly opened the margin to seven points and kept it that way the rest of the game.

Rick Herscher, Wilbur Marsh and Ned Duncan led the Pony scoring with 17, 16 and 15 points respectively.

The Aggies, playing their second game of the season, came up with a three-point come-from-behind 71-68 upset of Memphis State.

Bob Johnson dropped in a field goal and a free throw and Neil Swisher tacked on another with 55 seconds remaining in the game to give the Aggies their margin of victory over Memphis State.

The Aggies trailed 38-31 at the intermission, but accurate shooting on the part of Johnson, Swisher, Wayne Lawrence and Archie Carroll turned the tide, giving the Cadets their first win of the season.

Lawrence paced Aggie scorers with 22 points, while Swisher and Carroll dumped in 16 apiece.

The wrestling, held each Monday evening at 8:30, is sponsored by the Pampa Shrine Club. Sportsman Club is located one mile south of town on the Lefors highway.

Mulloy May Play In Davis Match

BRISBANE, Australia (UP)—Billy Talbert, non-playing captain of the United States Davis Cup team, today admitted "we might play Gardner Mulloy in the inter-zone final starting Thursday."

"I know it would be a surprise decision to make, but we are far from happy about Herbie Flam's form," Talbert added. "Herbie's not sleeping well. He appears physically okay but there's something not quite right."

Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., and Vic Seixas of Philadelphia each won two singles matches against the Philippines squad in the inter-zone semifinals last week at Adelaide, while Seixas and Mulloy whipped the Filipinos in doubles.

Now 44 years old, Mulloy was being counted on only for the doubles assignment against Belgium, too, but with Flam suffering from the jitters, the old war horse from Denver, Colo., may also wind up playing in the singles.

Tarheels On Top In First Weekly Rating

By FRANK LITSKY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UP)—The University of North Carolina Tar Heels tarheeled the opposition today in the first weekly ratings of the 1957-58 season by the United Press Board of Basketball Coaches.

The coaches, rating the teams first week of the season which ended Saturday, gave the defending national champions 325 of a possible 350 points. North Carolina was the only team mentioned on every ballot, collecting 19 votes for first place, 10 for second, four for third and one each for fourth and fifth.

Points are awarded on the basis of 10 for a first-place vote, nine for second and so on down to one point for a 10th-place ballot.

Kansas, runnerup in the ratings with 283 points, drew 10 first place ballots. Two coaches rated San Francisco on top while Kentucky, Kansas State, Michigan State and St. Louis each drew one first place vote.

Kentucky Rated Third
Kentucky was third, in the overall ratings, with 210 points. Bradley won a close battle for fourth place with 177 points to 173 for fifth place San Francisco, 165 for sixth place Kansas State and 153 for seventh place Michigan State. Temple was eighth with 88 points, UCLA ninth with 57 and Notre Dame 10th with 43.

Every member of the top 10 was undefeated through the first week except Temple, which dropped an 85-83 triple overtime thriller to Kentucky Saturday night.

North Carolina, the No. 1 team last year with a 32-0 record, won its 1957-58 opener Saturday with an impressive 69-58 victory over Clemson.

Others — North Carolina State, 7; Oklahoma State, Michigan and Iowa, 6 each; Memphis State and St. Bonaventure, 4 each; Duke, Yale, Oregon State, Purdue and Auburn, 3 each; Iowa State, Pittsburgh and Mississippi, 2 each; Xavier (Ohio), California, Texas Christian and Idaho State, 1 each.

Second 10 group—11, Rice, 42; 12, St. Louis (1) 31; 13, Seattle, 26; 14, Utah, 20; 15, Minnesota, 19; 16, West Virginia, 18; 17, Cincinnati, 12; 18, Ohio State, 10; 19, Illinois, 9; 20, Washington, 8.

Ranking as high scorer for the Holmes crew was Gene Brown, posting 32 points for the evening. Leon Martin accounted for top scoring on the Panhandle team, sacking 20 points for the night.

In the recent Top of Texas Invitational Basketball Tournament, the Holmes team was turned back in the losers bracket from a crack at the tourney title game by the Red-Mix squad, who went on to down Amarillo Air Force Base for the tournament championship.

Area Boxers To Tangle With Pampans In Thursday Bouts

Top boxers from throughout the Panhandle and South Plains will converge here Thursday night as Pampa's Optimist Club boxing team will host an array of sluggers in a full night of top boxing in Recreation Park's Bull Barn at 8.

Fighters competing will represent Berger, Amarillo, Hereford, Memphis and Guymon, Okla., in combining with the Pampa ringmen for the night's bouts.

Sporting a 5-1 record for the season team-wise, the Pampa squad's most recent victory came over a rugged group of fighters from Dyess Air Force Base in Abilene last Saturday night.

Other victories during past weeks came over Hereford, in bouts both there and at home, over Clovis, N.M., and over Memphis. The only defeat of the year came at the hands of Clovis in bouts held there.

The Pampa boxing force boasts an array of well-known favorites, ranked among the top boxers throughout the Panhandle area.

Heading the list in the 160 pound division will be Bobby Wilhelm, who has scored one KO and one decision for his two appearances of the season. At 140 pounds, Gary Wilhelm fought his first tussle of the year Saturday night, coming through with a decision over Maurice Gagger of the Dyess Air Force team.

Actress Seeks Humane Way To Get Rid Of Woodpeckers

By VERNON SCOTT

United Press Hollywood Writer
HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Esther Williams hollered for help today for her house is being splintered by woodpeckers and she can't do anything to stop them.

The swim star, clad in skin-tight bullfighter pants, climbed atop the roof of her ranch-style canyon home to survey the wreckage. Shingles were scattered helter skelter, holes the size of silver dollars were punched through to the attic, and acorns were wedged into every cranny. "It began when a man, who had been oiling roofs in the neighborhood, offered to fix our roof for half price," Esther explained unhappily.

Peppermint Flavored Oil
"So he spread some evil smelling stuff all over the place, collected his money and disappeared. That oil must have been peppermint flavored.

"A few weeks later I woke up to hear horrible pounding noises. It sounded like a mob of process servers trying to break down the doors. Looked all over the house before I spotted two dozen woodpeckers drilling away on the roof.

"Since then it's been open warfare." Esther called her insurance company, but got the horse laugh.

"They said woodpecker damage was an act of God and I couldn't do anything about it. I've tried everything I can think of, but nothing works. I've even tried shooting them, but I don't want to hurt them. I just want them to go away."

Well, let's get the bad news out of the way first. Musically, it wasn't too satisfying. For one thing, there were just too many musicians, around 30 of them, ranging from two-beaters like Pee Wee Russell to modern beaters like Monk. There was also Billie Holiday who just looked beat.

There were a lot of cold horns. I said cold, man, not cool. Count Basie is a great bandleader, but he has never played particularly interesting piano and didn't Sunday. Roy Eldridge indulged in some of the unfortunate trumpet pyrotechnics that are his specialty in an early solo, but he did redeem himself on a beautifully conceived flight behind Miss Holiday later on. Miss Holiday still phrases well, but the voice and vitality are gone.

If all this sounds harsh, I don't mean it to. I enjoyed the show. And it did avoid one pitfall—the tendency to become pompous about jazz. "Arts," thank goodness, presented music—plain, unadorned, I'm for it.

Francis Poulenc is one of the most witty of contemporary composers. Witness his "Concerto for Two Pianos" and "Le Bal Masque." But a deeper current runs through his work, too. Witness again his violin sonata dedicated to the memory of Garcia Lorca.

Sunday, NBC-TV unveiled this second side of Poulenc, his "Dialogues of the Carmelites," an opera that has been received favorably at Milan's La Scala and in San Francisco.

It is a study of a group of Carmelite nuns, an order devoted to contemplation, who choose martyrdom during the French Revolution. In particular, it pretends to be a study of one who joins their group out of fear of life, who deserts them out of fear, but who returns to choose martyrdom, too.

Dramatically, the text by Georges Bernanos suffered from a confusion of focus—a secondary character, Mother Marie dominated its center and then was quietly abandoned. Too, the motivation for the deserter's climactic decision to choose martyrdom was lacking.

Poulenc's music was properly lean and spare and in the closing moments of a "Salve Regina" serenely majestic. But somehow the whole thing never seemed to soar.

The channel swim: NBC is giving the heave-ho to "What's It For"—"High Low" will replace it. I'm afraid I don't understand the appeal of Sal Mineo who sang on NBC-TV's "Steve Allen" show—I'm convinced he should be televised from the knees down. Victor Borge, who's slated to do a spec on Feb. 15, has notified CBS he won't be able to make rehearsals until Feb. 18. Wild, man.

I dig Shirley MacLaine who was on Nan Fabray's "Chevy Show" Sunday, but I don't get the message of Rowan and Martin. Dupont's March spec on CBS-TV will be "A Tale of Two Cities".... Adolph Menjou will star in an adventure series, "Target," for Ziv, an independent outfit.

The Bedouins of the deserts give water to each other and to travelers, not as a gift, but as a sacred duty.

collect on my policy. Each hole came under my $50 deductible clause—which meant I'd have to pay that much for each of 500 holes.

Bought Gun, Couldn't Shoot

The actress climbed down from the roof and into the attic where shafts of light from the holes made a pleasant polka dot pattern.

"I bought a pellet gun, but I couldn't bear the thought of shooting the darned birds. I considered a scarecrow, but the neighbors would think I'd lost my mind."

"I read a book on woodpeckers. I learned they store more acorns than they can eat. After a while the acorns attract mice, jays and chipmunks. That's all I need."

A leaky roof and constant drumming noises aren't the only problems. Esther's closets are being invaded.

"I have lingerie drawers built into the walls, and every once in a while I open one of them to find a brassiere filled with acorns," she said grimly.

"I don't think it's very funny at this stage. If anybody knows a humane way to get rid of woodpeckers I'd certainly appreciate hearing from them."

Television In Review: Sunday's 'Jazz' Show

Television In Review

By WILLIAM EWALD

United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—TV fears the ad lib.

Television writes jokes for its quizmasters and panelists. It can laugh for its comedies. It manufactures in advance jolly-type banter for its emcees and singers. It's safer that way.

Jazz is the art of the ad lib. And for the most part, jazz and TV are strangers. Jazz buffs, like winter sparrows, feed on crumbs Sunday. "The Seven Lively Arts" threw out a whole loaf of bread. It was called "The Sound of Jazz."

Working with some light and shadow and a minimum of props, the CBS-TV hour staged a studio jam session. Coleman Hawkins wore his hat and Jimmy Rushing sported a plaid shirt. Thelonus Monk, a weird cat from way back, brought his sunglasses for the occasion.

Well, let's get the bad news out of the way first. Musically, it wasn't too satisfying. For one thing, there were just too many musicians, around 30 of them, ranging from two-beaters like Pee Wee Russell to modern beaters like Monk. There was also Billie Holiday who just looked beat.

There were a lot of cold horns. I said cold, man, not cool. Count Basie is a great bandleader, but he has never played particularly interesting piano and didn't Sunday. Roy Eldridge indulged in some of the unfortunate trumpet pyrotechnics that are his specialty in an early solo, but he did redeem himself on a beautifully conceived flight behind Miss Holiday later on. Miss Holiday still phrases well, but the voice and vitality are gone.

If all this sounds harsh, I don't mean it to. I enjoyed the show. And it did avoid one pitfall—the tendency to become pompous about jazz. "Arts," thank goodness, presented music—plain, unadorned, I'm for it.

Francis Poulenc is one of the most witty of contemporary composers. Witness his "Concerto for Two Pianos" and "Le Bal Masque." But a deeper current runs through his work, too. Witness again his violin sonata dedicated to the memory of Garcia Lorca.

Sunday, NBC-TV unveiled this second side of Poulenc, his "Dialogues of the Carmelites," an opera that has been received favorably at Milan's La Scala and in San Francisco.

It is a study of a group of Carmelite nuns, an order devoted to contemplation, who choose martyrdom during the French Revolution. In particular, it pretends to be a study of one who joins their group out of fear of life, who deserts them out of fear, but who returns to choose martyrdom, too.

Dramatically, the text by Georges Bernanos suffered from a confusion of focus—a secondary character, Mother Marie dominated its center and then was quietly abandoned. Too, the motivation for the deserter's climactic decision to choose martyrdom was lacking.

Poulenc's music was properly lean and spare and in the closing moments of a "Salve Regina" serenely majestic. But somehow the whole thing never seemed to soar.

The channel swim: NBC is giving the heave-ho to "What's It For"—"High Low" will replace it. I'm afraid I don't understand the appeal of Sal Mineo who sang on NBC-TV's "Steve Allen" show—I'm convinced he should be televised from the knees down. Victor Borge, who's slated to do a spec on Feb. 15, has notified CBS he won't be able to make rehearsals until Feb. 18. Wild, man.

I dig Shirley MacLaine who was on Nan Fabray's "Chevy Show" Sunday, but I don't get the message of Rowan and Martin. Dupont's March spec on CBS-TV will be "A Tale of Two Cities".... Adolph Menjou will star in an adventure series, "Target," for Ziv, an independent outfit.

The Bedouins of the deserts give water to each other and to travelers, not as a gift, but as a sacred duty.

One of the cardinal principles of defense is to try to work out some play that will beat the contract.

Now put yourself in the place of East and look at the East hand and the dummy only.

Police Seek Girl's Body In Car Trunk

SYCAMORE, Ill. (UP)—Police in eight northern Illinois counties today named roadblocks in the belief that a kidnapper may be carrying the body of missing seven-year-old Maria Ridulph in the trunk of his car. Authorities agreed at a meeting here Monday night to stop all cars on main and secondary highways and search them for clues in the baffling week-old mystery. At the same time, police in nearby Rockford questioned a man identified as Donald R. Arbutle, 34, in whose car they found a missing seven-year-old Rockford girl, Leni Toll. Leni was found early today sleeping unharmed in the back seat of Arbutle's car. Arbutle was found asleep in the front seat of the car, parked in the driveway of his home. Leni had been missing about 12 hours after vanishing while walking to school Monday afternoon with her sister. Police said Arbutle, who admitted he picked up the girl and took her to a movie, was questioned intensively about the disappearance of Maria under similar circumstances last Tuesday. Arbutle, who told authorities he had "been drinking," was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Police said he had been arrested in 1950 on a charge of taking indecent liberties with a seven-year-old girl. The theory that the killer may still have the little girl's body in his possession was advanced after a week of intensive searching failed to turn up a trace of the missing victim.

Schools In Dallas May Lose Funds

DALLAS (UP)—Dallas school officials today were still faced with the prospect of losing $1,500,000 in state funds if Dallas schools are integrated without a local option election. Federal Judge William Hawley Atwell Monday threw out the school district's suit to enjoin the state from withholding school funds in case the schools integrate. He said his court has no right to rule on the constitutionality of a state law. A new state law stipulates no school may integrate unless the action is first approved by the people in a local election. Penalty for failure to adhere to this procedure is loss of state funds. In dismissing the case, Atwell said a federal district court does not have the right to determine the constitutionality of a state law. It was the first court test of the law passed by the last legislature. School Supt. W. T. White said if Dallas schools lose the state funds they would be forced to close. "The action was most surprising," White said. "Our attorneys had thought the proper place for this litigation was in the federal district court." Atwell, in dismissing the case, reprimanded school attorney Andrew J. Thuss. "Why don't you go to a state court?" he asked. "It seems you are trying to get me to set aside a state statute. I am not going to do any such thing as that, Mr. Thuss. You are just displeased with this court for ruling against you in these school cases," Atwell continued. An appeal of Atwell's order for Dallas schools to integrate by mid-term is being considered by the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals. Atwell said the problem of whether the schools would receive state funds if they integrate without an election "is not even an issue in this court."

Driver Ed Departments Get Award

UPTT DRIVERS R650am 12-10 AUSTIN, Tex. (UP)—Texas Dept. of Transportation awarded the highest award to the state has won in national competition. Gov. Price Daniel accepted the plaque given in the 1957 National Driver Education Award program, sponsored by the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies. An announcement from the governor's office said it is the second ranking award given by the association. "We are proud of the progress we have made in driver education but are mindful that there is room for further improvement," Daniel said. Presentation of the award was made by Lloyd F. Palmer, Oklahoma City, southwestern public relations director for the association. Texas had 77,577 students enrolled in driver education courses during the 1956-57 school year. This was 33,000 more than were taking driving courses in 1948-49. However, more than half of those enrolled have only classroom instruction and no behind-the-wheel training, and only 40 per cent of the Texas high schools offer driving training courses.

When Ike Suffered Mild Stroke

WASHINGTON (UP)—What went on in the White House when President Eisenhower suffered his mild stroke Nov. 25? The inside story was told publicly for the first time by Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams Monday night in a speech to the Republican finance dinner at St. Louis. Adams gave this sequence of events: "The first indication that the President was indisposed was his own statement of feeling chilled after returning from the Washington airport, where he went to meet officially the head of a foreign state. He had to stand in the cold for a considerable time, he thereupon went to the White House and went to bed. The doctor was called at once. "In turn the President's doctor in consultation with other doctors diagnosed that the President had sustained what people commonly diagnosed that the President had sustained what people commonly call a minor stroke. "Staff Acts Swiftly "Meanwhile, on the business side of the White House, a lot of things were going on. "I at once telephoned the Vice President and advised him of the President's illness. The same message was communicated to various members of the President's cabinet. Key members of the White House staff were notified. "The night the President sustained his latest trouble, he was almost adamant about attending the state dinner he had arranged for the King of Morocco. The day afterwards he put up a vigorous argument about coming to his office, then talked seriously about holding a press conference. Failing to talk the doctors into either of these ventures, he directed that staff members bring him certain documents, and this was done. "Activity Increases "The next day...he got more heavily into the business of his office. The following day he left the White House to go to church with Mrs. Eisenhower. The next day he drove with Mrs. Eisenhower to his Gettysburg farm and spent the weekend there. He drove back to Washington last Monday to attend a cabinet meeting, met with his staff on certain pending problems, and the following two days met with the leaders of the Congress. On Thursday attended a two-hour meeting of the national security council."

Government Accused Of 'Subterfuge'

HOUSTON (UP)—Dallas attorney Pat Coon Monday accused the government of "subterfuge" in suspending his client before an investigating grand jury. The grand jury had subpoenaed Willis V. Lewis of Little Rock, Ark., for questioning about the collapse of the U.S. Trust & Guaranty Co. Lewis is president of the Arkansas Fire & Marine Insurance Co. Coon represented Lewis on 17 motions filed on behalf of Lewis and five other defendants in the insurance scandal. Coon said the "U.S. attorney's office had a mass of evidence in which Willis V. Lewis was accused of mail fraud before he ever entered the grand jury room. "Lewis should have been told he was under investigation. The first time he knew he was under investigation was when he was arrested in Little Rock after he testified for nine hours before a grand jury. "That's not fair play," Coon said. "That's subterfuge." Coon was denied permission by Judge Joe Ingraham to examine secret files in the possession of Postal Inspector J. D. Main, but Ingraham instead ordered Main to turn over to the court all such records pertaining to the U.S. Trust case for study. Attorney David D. Panich of Little Rock, who was hired to represent the Texas receiver in recovering $500,000 in U.S. Trust funds used to set up Lewis' insurance firm, testified Lewis has agreed to turn over $374,000 to the Texas receiver as settlement.

BenJack Cage Indicted Again

DALLAS (UP)—Genial BenJack Cage was indicted again Monday on another charge of embezzlement from ICT Insurance Co. of Dallas, the firm he once headed. Cage, who is free while on appeal from a previous conviction for embezzlement, faces a number of other indictments stemming from his operation of the ICT company. The latest indictment charges him with embezzling a $500 check made out to former insurance commissioner Byron Saunders. The indictment charges Cage was unauthorized to write such a check.

An appeal of Atwell's order for Dallas schools to integrate by mid-term is being considered by the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals. Atwell said the problem of whether the schools would receive state funds if they integrate without an election "is not even an issue in this court."
