By FORREST EDWARDS
HANOI, Indochina (AP)—Vietminh legions tightened their pincers on Hanoi today but the war capital's French defenders claimed they had beat back an attack by 3,000 rebels only 20 miles from the city and killed at least 300 of the Communist-led force.

losses were "appreciable" but gave no figures. Other rebel units surged in from the northeast and northwest to strike at French outposts 25 miles above the imperiled city. Clashes were reported yesterday at scores of points as the Vietminh kept up their pressure.

County To Ask Excavation Bids

Bids probably will be asked by next Monday on the removal of excess dirt from the courthouse square, county commissioners said this morning.

Commissioners authorized Judge R. H. Weaver to arrange for engineering work which will be required for the project. Several hundred cubic yards of dirt must be removed, principally from the north and east sides of the square. An engineer will be employed to determine the exact quantity of material to be removed and to supervise the excavation.

The dirt work will bring the square down to the grades required for landscaping and for widening Third, Secury and Fourth Streets adjacent to the block. It is hoped the excavation can be completed in three or four days after contract is let, commissioners said. The commissioners court also authorized the judge to contact Homer Ray, resident highway engineer, concerning a proposal for re-routing the Garden City Highway at the point where it makes a sharp turn approaching the intersection with Highway 87 south of Big Spring. Several serious accidents have occurred at the curve, commissioners said.

Commissioner Earl Hull said the county probably owns enough right-of-way to permit some straightening of the road.

Kohler Says He Got Eisenhower To Drop Praise Of Marshall

BOLTON LANDING, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Walter J. Kohler, of Wisconsin, disclosed yesterday at a news conference that it was he, and not Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), who persuaded President Eisenhower to delete a defense of Gen. George C. Marshall from a 1952 campaign speech in Milwaukee.

McCarthy had criticized Marshall, who was Eisenhower's wartime chief, and later secretary of state and secretary of defense in the Truman administration. In a speech prepared for a Wisconsin audience, Eisenhower had included praise of Marshall.

Kohler and McCarthy rode the Eisenhower campaign train into Wisconsin, and at the time McCarthy was credited with having persuaded Eisenhower to drop the Marshall reference.

Kohler, here for the 46th annual Governors Conference told a news conference that "I don't think McCarthy ever discussed it (the Marshall reference) with the President."

"I thought," Kohler said, "any overt attack on McCarthy would split the party. I didn't want to see the party split."

Washington Governor Seeks Trade On Federal Taxes, Aid

By JACK BELL
BLONTON LANDING, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Arthur B. Langlie of Washington proposed to other state governors today an "action program" calling for the federal government to give up various taxes in return for less federal aid to states.

That was part of a six-point plan Langlie offered at the first business session of the 46th Annual Governors' conference.

While he outlined it, Vice President Nixon arrived at the Glens Falls Airport from Washington and headed by motor for the conference, where he will speak tonight in President Eisenhower's place.

Eisenhower canceled his own plans to address the state executives because of the death of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Milton Eisenhower.

On the sidelines, Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina recommended 50 bring on the Geneva conference to bring on an Allied showdown on the Indochina crisis.

Ex-Convict Quizzed In Miami Death

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Miami detectives returned Walter Lee Yow here from Georgia for further questioning today about his story that he saw 7-year-old Judith Ann Roberts raped and murdered last Wednesday.

Detectives Charles Sapp and I. J. Whitman said the 44-year-old former convict's story was vague and full of discrepancies but consistent enough to warrant bringing him back. He was arrested in Marietta, Ga., Saturday for a variance. Yow told officers he was with the man who stole Judith Ann Roberts from her home in the home of her grandparents. Sapp said Yow related at first that he saw his companion rape the child, then smash her head with a rock, but later insisted he waited in the car some distance away while the other man took the girl into a wooded area off fashionable Bayshore Drive. The Yow declared he made up the story to get out of Georgia and back to Florida because he had been told that Georgia officers would "bash in his head" if he fell into their hands. Georgia officers said the paunchy Yow, who described himself as a Cherokee Indian, had a long record of convictions, including assault on a female, and had been in a North Carolina hospital for criminally insane.

Plea By Parr Delayed Again

SAN DIEGO, Tex. (AP)—Political boss George Parr's chance to escape prior jeopardy to a charge of assault to murder came up again in court today—and ran into another technical delay. The hearing stalled again on the question of what prosecutor is entitled to try Parr. The first delay occurred when both Dist. Atty. Raeburn Norris and Asst. Dist. Atty. J. G. Gonzales were disqualified by Judge J. W. Welch. He ruled Norris was too closely tied in with Parr to be a fair prosecutor and Gonzales, as a Norris subordinate, couldn't do the job either. Welch appointed John May of Karnes County. Gonzales presented a motion at the opening of court today asking by what right May is the prosecutor. Welch recessed court and went into his chambers with May to study the motion.

In legal terminology, it was a quo warranto, by which right motion, a type that cannot actually be entered in the court record without permission of the judge. Parr is charged with assault to murder Cristobal Ybanes of San Diego, a member of the opposition Freedom Party, last August. Ybanes accused Parr of beating him with a rifle. Parr contends the assault-to-murder is a contingent plea since he is in double jeopardy because he already had paid a misdemeanor fine for beating Ybanes.

Dallas' 108 high Sunday was a hottest July day in the 41-year history of the Dallas Weather Bureau.

Martin's New Judge Assesses Two Fines

STANTON (SC) — Judge Bruce Frazier Sr. presided over the first two cases to come up in county court since he succeeded James McMorris, resigned, here last week. Jack Williams, 48, Fort Worth, and Richard Otague, 23, Big Spring, entered pleas of guilty before the court on charges of driving while intoxicated. Judge Frazier imposed $100 fines, suspended drivers' licenses for six months, and probated a six months jail term.

Oliver Vaughn Resigns Martin County Position

STANTON (SC) — Oliver Vaughn, Commissioner of Martin County Precinct No. 1, resigned his post here this morning.

Mr. Vaughn, who is not a candidate for the Democratic nomination to succeed himself, said that he did not feel that any good would be accomplished by his remaining in office the balance of his term. Although the commissioners court, with Judge Bruce Frazier Sr. presiding, gave immediate consideration to naming a successor, it was indicated no selection would be made until after the July 24 primary. Then, in all probability, winner of the Democratic nomination between H. C. (Hub) Phillips and E. W. Holcombe, will be appointed to fill Mr. Vaughn's unexpired term.

Judge Frazier said that he was ordering an inventory of all county property to ascertain where it was located and who was in charge of it. The judge brought up a proposal made recently by Commissioner Joe Froman to sell some county maintainers and commissions' pick ups. If they are not needed, they should be sold, he noted. Froman said that he doubted after considering the matter that the equipment would now bring more than 50 cents on the dollar and that it would not be a well advised move.

"When I brought it up the other day it seemed like a solution but I hadn't had time to fully study it," Frazier said. He estimated by Judge Frazier that if the equipment would bring 50 cents on the dollar, together with the anticipated gasoline taxes from the state, revenues of $31,000 would be in sight.

Tension around the courthouse produced a scuffle in the corridor between Franklin Reynolds, reporter for the Big Spring Herald, and Garvis P. Ross, who has a radio program here before the commissioners court on Martin County activities. The two had words around a Coke machine and exchanged blows. Sheriff Dan Saunders quickly stopped the altercation. Ross had been mentioned in a news item in connection with the grand jury committee's report concerning a fee paid him for public relations services in his radio program the next morning.

Gordon Charlton, San Angelo, representing a bonding company which had contracted to take $35,000 of the Martin County Memorial Hospital bond issue, appeared before the grand jury, which Monday returned to its study of the fiscal affairs of the county. Subsequently, he came before the commissioners court and said that in view of a legal question which had not been resolved concerning the bonds and the current turbulent situation within county affairs, he thought the best thing was to call "the whole thing off." Later, if Martin County wanted to sell the bonds, his firm might be interested in.

Heat Wave To Continue

No relief was in sight Monday for Texas' heat wave. The only interruption in the fair and hot weather was a windstorm at Nacogdoches last Sunday. The storm unroofed buildings, smashed windows, knocked out power service and blew down 50 trees on the campus of Stephen F. Austin College. Two radio stations were off the air for a time. The high temperature Sunday was 110 at Seymour and Llano.

Some representative maximum temperatures: Dallas 108, a record for July; Mineral Wells 107; Fort Worth and Wichita Falls 106; Tyler, Childress, Colleton, Staining, Lytle and Waco, 104; Dalhart and Presidio 103; Abilene, Austin and Texarkana 102; Junction and Amarillo 101; San Antonio, Laredo, Victoria, Alice, Wink and Cotulla 100; Houston and San Angelo 99, highest of the year for Houston; El Paso 96; Lubbock 98; and Corpus Christi 90.

Alabama Attorney General Arrested On Election Charge

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Atty. Gen. Si Garrett was arrested here today on a grand jury indictment charging him with vote fraud in the June 3 Democratic primary. The attorney general, who is Alabama's chief prosecutor, was a witness before the grand jury here which also indicted Solicitor Arch Ferrell of Phenix City and Lamar Reid, chairman of the Jefferson County Democratic Executive Committee, on the vote fraud charges.

The three men were charged with altering the official vote for Lee Porter in the race for attorney general to add 600 votes for him. Porter was beaten in a close race with Albert L. Patterson, Phenix City anticrime crusader. Patterson was slain June 18, a few days before he was scheduled to appear before the Jefferson Grand Jury to testify in the vote fraud inquiry.

British Won't Press Red Chinese U.N. Bid Now

THOUSANDS HOMELESS

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Relief supplies for thousands of homeless victims of central Europe's worst flood in centuries poured into stricken Austria and Germany today. Holland, Sweden, Switzerland and the Saar were the first to offer bedding, food and clothes to thousands of families made homeless by the raging Danube and a dozen tributaries. Their five-day rampage has claimed at least 24 lives on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

The aid began to arrive as rescue workers struggled to reach submerged Austrian and German towns where inhabitants were still stranded on rooftops and upper floors. More than 3,000 American soldiers have been taking part in the rescue work.

Sketchy reports from Czechoslovakia and Hungary indicated those two Danube Valley countries have been hard hit by the floods. Prague and Budapest radios said Communist authorities had ordered entire farm communities evacuated and that many hamlets were under water and crops destroyed.

It was not known what the death toll was in the two Iron Curtain lands. Nine deaths were reported last night in Communist East Germany. In West Germany, skies cleared and flood waters began to subside, but thousands of acres of rich farmland were still under water. Countless houses, bridges and industrial plants were damaged—some beyond repair.

In the venerable town of Passau, surrounded by the Danube, Inn and police to shoot all looters. The Danube spilled over Vienna's commercial docks last night, flooding cellars and halting rail traffic. The main railroad linking Vienna to the west also was inundated and travelers were forced to detour.

Two U.S. C-119 Flying Boxcars dropped 25,000 empty sandbag covers at Straubing. Hundreds of volunteers, U.S. soldiers and German border police worked feverishly to close gaps appearing at Deggen-dorf. U.S. helicopters stood by to fly more sandbags to the critical areas. The 'copters and Army boats have rescued more than 600 persons since the floods began.

China's Chou Back In Geneva

GENEVA (AP)—Chou En-lai returned to Geneva today for a fresh round of bargaining on Indochina. He flew in a few hours after British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden joined French Premier Pierre Mendes-France in a last effort to make peace with the Communists over the revolt-torn South-east Asian land.

The Red Chinese premier was greeted by Soviet Foreign Minister V.M. Molotov as he stepped from the Russian air force plane that brought him here from Moscow. Chou was all smiles, a startling change from the cold and reserved manner he displayed on his first arrival here last April. In a statement, he said peace could be achieved "with a conciliatory spirit for seeking peace on the part of all sides concerned."

Eden also arrived by plane today for the crucial Indochina meetings coming up. The foreign secretary was the luncheon guest of Mendes-France. First on Eden's schedule after the lunch was a meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov. The two ministers, who are co-chairmen of the Indochina conference, will have to set the time of the next meeting.

Molotov arrived last week. In addition to seeing Mendes-France, he has had many meetings with the other Communist delegations here. Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai left Moscow early today and is expected to arrive in Geneva later today. Mendes-France scheduled another meeting today with Pham Van Dong, the Vietnam foreign minister. The French leader entered the crucial week of the conference uncertain of full U.S. backing.

Churchill Says Policy Remains Same On Issue

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill promised today that Britain would refrain from pressing now for the seating of Communist China in the United Nations. Speaking before a jammed House of Commons, Churchill declared: "Although the British government still believes that the Central People's (Communist) government should represent China in the United Nations, they do not consider that this is the moment for the matter to be reconsidered."

Churchill also disclosed that at the recent Washington talks he and President Eisenhower "discussed in general terms" the possibility of their meeting with Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov, and surveyed "difficulties" involved. He did not elaborate on the "difficulties."

In a generalized appraisal of the Washington talks, the prime minister said agreement was reached for wider British-American cooperation on atomic matters. He said he went to Washington because of his deep concern "at the lack of information" Britain possessed about the hydrogen bomb.

As far as Communist China is concerned, he said British policy remains unchanged from the days of the old Labor government; Britain still believes the Chinese Communists should be seated in the U.N. if they give up aggression and show a willingness to abide by international agreements.

He vigorously rejected a Laborite's implied criticism of U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' decision not to return now to the Geneva conference on Indochina. The United States, the prime minister said, is "sufficiently represented" at Geneva.

The prime minister told the House of Commons that Britain's policy toward Red China remains the same—she favors seating Red China in the U.N. after the Peking regime has proved it is willing to forego aggression and abide by international agreements.

Churchill also said his Washington conference with President Eisenhower was the most agreeable and fruitful in his experience. Churchill opened by saying that he went to Washington because he was "deeply concerned at the lack of information" Britain possessed about the hydrogen bomb. He concluded by saying that widespread acceptance of the idea of peaceful coexistence of Communist and non-Communist worlds might with the passage of years solve problems and "avert the mass destruction of the human race."

The prime minister reminded France that the European Defense Community was a French idea. He said Britain and the United States were convinced this still remains the best plan for getting West German rearmament. In firm tones, he declared: "It would indeed be a tragedy if this opportunity were lost of bringing Germany back into the European family and at the same time of recruiting a German national army."

"To me, the bulk of whose life has been spent in war, or preparation for war, with Germany, it seemed little less than madness to leave that active and virile nation with no choice but to raise an independent, national army and to reject association with her and the Western world."

Princess Margaret Visits In Germany

BONN, Germany (AP)—Princess Margaret arrived here today to pay British royalty's first official visit to the West German government. West Germany welcomed the visit as a sign of equality with Britain and that the occupation is nearing an end.

During her strenuous four-day tour—much of it by helicopter—the 23-year-old sister of Queen Elizabeth II also will visit British army, navy and air force units in the British zone of Germany. In a Gowered dress with matching hat, the smiling Princess stepped from her special plane to be greeted by a 21-gun salute and German and allied officials.

Five hundred police lined the 18-mile route as she drove from the airfield to Bonn. The first of West Germany's general, 70-year-old President Theodor Heuss. He was her host for lunch at his official residence alongside the Rhine.

Builder Refuses To Talk In Probe Of Housing Loan

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Tenafly, N.J., builder today refused to testify before senators probing multimillion dollar "windfall" profits in FHA-insured apartment construction. He claimed his "rights" under the Fifth Amendment not to be a witness against himself.

Sidney Sarner, identified as the builder of a Linwood Park, Inc., N.J., apartment project, declined to answer any questions at all. But his attorney, George Marcus of Hackensack, N.J., criticized the Senate Banking Committee and accused its members of "shooting off" their mouths. He shouted at Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.), committee chairman: "We did nothing wrong."

Sarner was the third witness, but the first builder, to take the Fifth Amendment in the course of the hearings. The other two were ousted FHA assistants Clyde L. Fowell, former assistant commissioner in charge of rental housing projects, and Andrew Frost, former assistant state director of the FHA in New Mexico.

At the request of Treasurer E. B. Whitaker, all the bills were initiated by each of the commissioners before being approved by the judge. Among the accounts approved were the $15 payments to R. P. Simpson, V. E. Bearden and Jesse M. Miles, Jr., members of a special committee named by the grand jury to look into Martin County's fiscal affairs for several years. Under the law they could be paid only $3 for a maximum of 5 days, but the three are continuing their study without pay.

Climbs Aerial

A stray raccoon, probably brought to town with a load of produce from the South, entertained a downtown Newark, N.J., crowd of hundreds when he climbed a TV aerial atop a four-story building to escape police. Looking like a small masked fugitive eluding the law, the 15-pound 'coon dodged longhanded nets wielded by the police emergency squad until he lost his grip, fell to the roof and was captured. Moscow Seems Muscling In On Chinese Commies In Indonesia

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst
Moscow seems to be muscling in on the Chinese Communists in Indonesia. Once again there is a hint of conflict of authority in Asia between Moscow and Peking.
Last week's appointment of a Soviet ambassador to Indonesia spells trouble for that politically disorganized country of 70 million people. But it also recalls previous indications of conflict over spheres of influence—for example in the Communist parties of India, Japan and Korea—between the Russians and their Chinese allies.
With Viet Nam in Indochina virtually in the Red pocket, advancing an encirclement of the Asian mainland, Indonesia becomes a key country in Communist planning.
The Russians never had an embassy in Jakarta. Four years ago Indonesia took up the matter with Moscow. Nothing was done. But six months ago—after beginnings of an Indonesian party purge—the Russians agreed on an exchange of ambassadors. The Indonesians named one. The Russians did nothing. Then, last week, Moscow appointed Dmitri A. Zhukov to the post.
Zhukov, former ambassador to Chile, has been chief of protocol in the Soviet Foreign Ministry. In addition, he is an expert on areas which Communist jargon calls "colonial and dependent." Indonesia is such an area. Despite its independence, the Communists still refer to the coming "liberation" there.
The Chinese Communists have had general charge of Red strategy for the Indies. They have a huge embassy in Jakarta with a staff of more than 300. Chinese funds swelled the coffers of the tightly organized Indonesian Communist party.

Last October the party began a purge, eliminating Chinese elements. The party congress four months ago confirmed expulsion from the Central Committee of Tan Ling Djie, Chinese by origin and a party theoretician. Others went out with him.
The Chinese were slighted at the March congress. Only Soviet Premier Malenkov's portrait was displayed with Aldit's on the stage. That of Mao Tse-tung was in the wings.
The Communist party, with about 126,000 members at the moment, is exceedingly strong in Indonesia. It has only 29 seats of 216 in Parliament, but the others are distributed among 18 parties so the Communists hold the balance of power. They have wed themselves to the Nationalist (PNI) party, which now rules unopposed. The Communists can cause the Cabinet's fall at will.

Although the party publicly denounces terrorism, it has infiltrated terrorist groups.
The party is carrying out forceful and incessant propaganda in the countryside to convince the peasants of the worth of communism, never at any time offending the peasants' Moslem religious feelings.
In short, the Indonesian situation may now look so promising to Moscow that the Kremlin may have thought it high time to move in, establish an embassy and take over full direction of the Indonesian Red revolution. Indonesia, riotously rich, is a tempting prize.

TV TALKS SET

Candidates Take Slight Breather In Campaigns

By The Associated Press
Top candidates for governor took a slight breather Monday at the start of the final two weeks of the political campaign for Democratic nominations.
Both scheduled TV talks from Dallas Monday night.
Gov. Shivers and Ralph Yarborough both were active during the weekend. Here were some of the developments:
Yarborough Sunday injected the tidelands issue, asserting Shivers had not protested federal action intended to limit Texas' tidelands authority to three miles from shore instead of 10.35 miles as claimed by Texas.
Shivers spoke at the Baptist church in Woodville as the church observed Layman's Day.
A group of liberal Young Democrats met Sunday in Fort Worth and laid plans to try to defeat Shivers.
Shivers said Saturday night Yarborough has taken no stand on any important issues and charged that Yarborough is simply a front man for the plans and programs of the CIO-PAC, the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People and George Parr's Duval County political machine.
Also Saturday, Yarborough accused Shivers of trying to raise a smoke screen to hide Texas Insurance Commission actions and to keep voters from "asking too many questions about the Hidalgo land fraud cases."
Both candidates return to intense campaigning Tuesday with crowded itineraries.
Yarborough brought up the tidelands issue Sunday at Seaton in Central Texas at a picnic and political rally.
"Since the Texas attorney general let it leak out that Brownell (Herbert Brownell, U.S. attorney general) is now claiming that the Texas tidelands extend just 3 miles into the Gulf, Gov. Shivers hasn't said a word," Yarborough said.

Shivers broke with national Democratic leaders in 1952 over the tidelands and campaigned for Eisenhower for President.
Texas Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepherd recently said that Texas is trying to get the Justice Department to recognize the state's ownership and control of submerged coastal lands outside the 3-mile limit. He said he hoped Texas could win the argument without having to go to court again. Congress, in quit claiming the tidelands in favor of the states, was not specific on this point. Texas' historic boundaries have extended 10.35 miles at sea.
Shivers said Saturday "It is a race between one candidate, Allan Shivers, who believes in the right of Texans to a maximum of self government and self determination, and another candidate, who, in order to get elected, would be willing to turn over the state government to outside bosses who have no interest in the Texas laboring man except as it will serve their own purposes."
Yarborough will speak over a 9-station TV hookup at 9:30 p.m.
The candidates' plans for the remainder of the week:
Shivers will speak in a rally at Center Tuesday night and make five speeches the following day: at Marshall (9:30 a.m.), Carthage (11 a.m.), Longview (2 p.m.), Kilgore (4 p.m.) and Tyler (8 p.m.).
Yarborough will speak in Liberty and Baytown Tuesday prior to a TV address at Galveston at 5:45 p.m., then attend a Houston rally that night.

Pairs of "fire stocks" used by these ancient folk still exist. In each pair, one stick has a stone point and the other has charred holes. It is clear that the Cliff Dwellers whirled the pointed sticks so that they drilled holes, thus producing hot wood dust. By blowing on the wood dust, they were able to make it glow and ignite dry moss or other tinder.
The Cliff Dwellers wove tough grass fibers into sandals. They used axes with stone blades.
Why did these people build houses along the sides of cliffs? The best answer seems to be that the Cliff Dwellers wanted to be safe from attack.
As nearly as we can tell, they were peaceful people. They wanted to be let alone while they raised crops and took care of their children.
Other Indians—perhaps as wild as the Apaches—raided their villages. To guard themselves, they decided to live high on cliffs.
Although they changed their homes, the Cliff Dwellers kept their gardens on lower levels. After the crops were gathered, they were carried to storerooms high on the sides of cliffs.
Tomorrow: Cliff Palace.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

Remains of Cliff dwellings at Casa Blanca, Ariz.

Certain American states have the remains of stone houses which were built on high cliffs. Colorado is the chief center of these ancient homes, but good ones have been found in Utah, Arizona and New Mexico.
Those houses were the homes of old-time Indians who are known today as Cliff Dwellers. Some of the remains date back more than 1,000 years.
Many objects have been found in the ancient villages. These include grain and cloth which were kept "high and dry" during the passing centuries.
The crops of the Cliff Dwellers included maize, or Indian corn, also beans and squashes. Cotton has been found in some villages.

DATE DATA

If There's A Reason You Can't Go, Say So

Dear Miss Brandon:
If a boy asks a girl for a date to do something that she doesn't do, and yet she is dying to date him, what must she do?
Linda

That depends on why she doesn't do it. If it is some game or sport that she just has never taken up and consequently can't play or participate in, she should say, "I'd love to go, but believe it or not, I've never played in my whole life." Then she should add, "But I'd love to learn if you don't mind putting up with a beginner."
Never be a poor sport or back out just because you don't know how to do a thing; grasp the opportunity to learn how. Boys will admire your spirit and you'll become more socially capable.

Now then, if what you "don't do" is against your religious beliefs or your parents' wishes, you can avoid giving the boy the idea that you don't like him by explaining you'd love to accept but your family or religion doesn't permit dancing, for instance.
Just be sure he understands that it is his date suggestion and not him that you are turning down and he won't scratch your number from his list of favorites.

Dear Miss Brandon:
Once you said in your column that a boy should always offer to buy a girl pop corn or candy to eat in a movie. I took your advice and offered my girl her choice at the candy counter. She quickly asked for pop corn, which I got her. Then she looked at me and back at the counter a couple of times, blushed a bright red and hardly nibbled at the popcorn all evening. Now she is busy when I telephone her. What's wrong?

Claude

She'll probably come 'round in time. Right now she's embarrassed because you made her feel like a gold digger by buying her pop corn and yourself none. How could she eat with you sitting there empty handed? This puts a girl in a pretty silly and awkward situation. Don't do it again.
Personally all letters addressed to her in care of The Herald.)

Military Builds New Detector Of Germ Attack

WASHINGTON (AP)—The latest and most valuable gadget the military has for countering germ warfare attack is a filmy disc of paperlike substance, slightly larger than a silver dollar.
The chief of the Army's chemical warfare service, Maj. Gen. William M. Creasy, calls it a significant step toward "development of a revolutionary detection device around which a workable defense" against stealthy bacteriological warfare is being built.
In a recent speech, Creasy mentioned "a very thin filter which will trap bacteria, permitting them to be identified within 15 hours, or one sixth of the time previously required."
The Defense Department, in response to inquiries, today displayed the gadget, an unimpressive disc looking like it might have been cut from a thin sheet of cross-ruled paper.
But its production took the brains of some wartime German bacteriological warfare experts and improvements for mass producing by American experts who captured similar filters at the end of World War II.
Like the membrane filters used in all laboratories, this one is designated as a "millipore" filter. Its extreme porosity allows water to run through it quickly and freely, but trapping on its surface all micro-organisms or their poisonous products which constitute one of the chief instruments of bacteriological warfare.
On the surface of the disc marked off in small squares, are deposited all germs or their products in a liquid—water, milk or other drink. The squares provide a method for bacteria count.
Under a microscope and other common testing apparatus of a laboratory, the presence of a dangerously high bacterial count, together with the type of bacteria, can be spotted in a matter of hours.

Until development of this method a gelatin plate-culture method was needed, a process requiring almost four days.
About 300 filters can be packed in a small, pocket-size container. The former detection system required a case of glass plates as big as a heavy desk for a corresponding amount of equipment.

Common testing apparatus of a laboratory, the presence of a dangerously high bacterial count, together with the type of bacteria, can be spotted in a matter of hours.

A Bible Thought For Today—

No man is saved through the abundance of his crops, or possessions. The thing worth saving in a man is invisible and measureless, eternal. Our crops will soon be used up but we need indestructible treasure. "The harvest is past, the summer is ended and we are not saved." — Jeremiah 8:20.

Billy Graham's Impact May Have Significant Effect Upon British

Billy Graham, the evangelist, is back in this country after a triumphal campaign in London and the continent, twenty pounds lighter due to a kidney ailment, but still full of sparkle and zest. In London he spoke to 2,047,333 people, and on a brief tour of the continent, 308,900 more. That matter-of-fact magazine, U.S. News & World Report, in its current issue gives an accounting of Graham's London campaign under the heading, "Old-Time Religion." Graham had landed in London amid general hoots of derision from the press, and with many ecclesiastical flaggers crossed. He left it with the press subdued and respectful, and the prime of all England, Geoffrey Fisher, Archbishop of Canterbury, saying: "The (Graham) mission has, beyond doubt, brought new strength and hope in Christ to multitudes and won many to Him... It has given an impetus to evangelism for which all churches may be thankful to God." The English had expected Billy Graham...

Few Food Surpluses In Days When Robust Appetites Pegged Demand

An exchange thinks the part played by dieting in our growing agricultural surpluses needs looking into, as a possible answer to the price stability problem. Theory: Make eating a full meal fashionable again, and there'd be no surpluses to worry about. Well, the nation's obsession with slim waistlines and a minimum of fat on the bones has rather got the people out of the habit of eating big meals — that and the high cost of foodstuffs together. Our immediate forebears put away enormous quantities of food, often lacking in variety, but not in quantity. Breakfast was a mainstay in the diet, instead of a piece of toast and a cuppa coffee. People worked long hours in those days, on farm and in factory. Most families, even those living in small towns, kept a cow or two, and these had to be seen to before breakfast. Nearly every family's transportation ate hay and oats, rather than gasoline; and the morning chores around the barn naturally produced a large appetite when finally one got to the table. Now even the farm chores have been reduced to a minimum, compared with the old days. Nearly everything is motorized; both time and energy are conserved, and a fellow brings to the breakfast table an appetite that hasn't been stimulated by having to feed the pigs and chop the ducks. The old-fashioned breakfast was a full and substantial meal, with hot biscuits lavishly spread with butter, bacon or ham and eggs, sometimes a steak as big as a dinner plate, two or three kinds of home-made preserves and jellies, or plenty of ribbons-cane syrup. It took a lot of energy for the tasks of the day, and a half dozen hotcakes laved with syrup, two big hunks of country sausage, three or four eggs and several cups of scalding hot boiled coffee were not uncommon. In those days boys were said to have hollow legs, and they came by them honestly. None of this dab of unbottered toast and gill of orange juice fol-de-rol. One ate a hearty, if one could get it, and usually he could because practically everything except salt and pepper was produced on the farm. It's different now. It is considered dangerous to lay back one's ears and eat one's fill because it is a toss up which will give way first — the old ticker or the belt.

Washington Calling—Marquis Childs Professional Witnesses Have Been Able To Improve Income

WASHINGTON — The employment of professional informers and witnesses by the American government is such a novel practice that its full import, and even the fact of its novelty, are not widely understood. Yet any sharp departure from American tradition deserves to be studied and understood before it is accepted or rejected, as the case may be. Here, then, are the essential facts about this unprecedented group of public servants, who are now to be found on the Justice Department's payroll under the classification of "consultants to the Immigration and Naturalization Service." These people are, first of all, entirely different from the tipsters and under-cover agents that the Customs, the FBI and other police arms of the government have employed from time immemorial. Their jobs are not the same. For the main job of these so-called "consultants to the Immigration Service" is to appear as witnesses in court or other proceedings involving charges of Communism or subversion, and by their testimony to win convictions for the government. The distinction between the tipsters and under-cover agents whom we have always had with us, and the professional witnesses who have now appeared among us, may seem rather fine-drawn unless you think about it. But consider the personal position of this new breed of government workers, and the distinction will be plain enough. Mr. X, let us call him, is an ex-Communist of very slender talent and small ordinary earning capacity. Until he discovered that ex-Communism could become a profitable trade, he was making something between 80 cents and $1.50 an hour at a shabby succession of odd jobs. Then he makes his break with the party, tells his story to the proper authorities, and is taken on by the Justice Department as a "consultant to the Immigration Service." For this new work, Mr. X receives $25 per diem, plus an additional per diem in lieu of subsistence, and reimbursement for transportation when called to work away from home. He is not really a consultant at all. Even his value as an informer is greatly diminished by the fact that he left the Communist party some time ago. His chief task is to appear on the witness stand, and to win convictions for the government lawyers. It is for appearing on the witness stand, remember, that Mr. X gets the $25 per diem which is either his main source of income or a very important supplement of his other earnings. Other witnesses called by the government are paid a trifling $4 per diem but in order to allow Mr. X to make his living by appearing as a witness, the Justice Department has thoughtfully given him his title of "consultant to the Immigration Service" and has thus legalized his reimbursement at the higher rate. So what happens when Mr. X, the professional government witness, is approached by Mr. Y, of the Criminal Division, who has a difficult Smith Act case or deportation case or something similar on his hands? Mr. Y asks Mr. X whether he knows the defendants in the case and can testify against them. If Mr. X says, "Yes, he does know them," he gets his $25 per diem and earns his living. If he says, "No, he doesn't know them," he does not get his $25 per diem and skips payment on a new television set. That, roughly and crudely, is the nature of the positions of this new breed of public servant. The resulting temptations both for the professional witness and the eager-beaver government lawyer, are too obvious to need underlining. Fifty or so persons are now classified as Immigration Service consultants. Although it is questionable practice to pay these people much more than other government witnesses, only a minority are in the professional category. There are 12 who have earned enough so that one may reasonably presume the sums were meaningful to them, and can thus be fairly called professionals. Of these 12, three are now under investigation by the Justice Department for possible perjury. "The Daily Worker" has announced its delight that some of these people are now being investigated, which is proof positive that the original purpose of their employment was a good purpose. But in the first place, by no means all those accused by the professional witnesses come from the Communist underground. An attempt was made by two of them on the distinguished Dr. Ralph Bunche. And in the second place, the desire to root out the Communist conspiracy does not excuse gross impropriety, or even radical departure from the great American tradition of law and justice. That way, the enemy will win by indirection.

President Eisenhower Pretty Pleased With Congressional Okays On Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower says he feels pretty good about the way Congress, almost evenly divided among Democrats and Republicans, has treated his program. The full treatment won't be known until Congress winds up its work, perhaps at the end of this month. Eisenhower wants the voters in the November congressional elections to judge his Republican administration by the kind of program Congress enacts. Here is the record to date: Passed by both House and Senate and now law: American participation in the St. Lawrence seaway; extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act for one year; a defense pact with South Korea; creation of an Air Force academy; extension of major excise tax rates and cutting of others; providing two billion dollars for highway construction; and increasing the borrowing power of the Commodity Credit Corp. Passed by both houses but with differences which require compromise before final passage which seems assured in some form: A general overhaul of the tax laws and a housing act. The Senate gave Eisenhower most of what he wanted on housing; authority to build 25,000 public units a year for four years; loans on homes; and use of one billion dollars for slum clearance. The House, which had acted ahead of the Senate, wanted no part of the 25,000 public housing units. Whether the House will yield now and go along with the Senate is not known. Passed by one house and therefore not law unless the other also approves: The $3½-billion-dollar foreign aid bill; the farm bill; the wire-tapping bill; and the social security bill. The House has passed the foreign aid bill. The Senate hasn't voted yet. But it seems pretty sure Eisenhower will get a sizable chunk of the $3½ billion dollars he asked. Eisenhower won a victory, not yet complete, when the House approved the farm bill with recognition of the principle that there should be a sliding scale — 23½ to 90 per cent of parity — on farm price supports for basic products. They see no reason why a really witty observation by a gangster or a housewife shouldn't be preserved by posterity. As a result, their volume promises to reflect the real mental life of our recent past more accurately than a formal history. Here, for example, are a few gems from their collection which should help give posterity some kind of insight on the kind of human beings who dwell in the middle of the 20th century: "A committee is a group that keeps minutes and loses hours" — Milton Berle. "May the Lord bless you real good" — favorite benediction of evangelist Billy Graham. "Politics is the diversion of trivial men who, when they succeed at it, become important in the eyes of more trivial men" — George Jean Nathan. "Age is no matter... You can be ravishing at 20, charming at 40, and irresistible" — Mme. Chanel, French perfumer. "Behold the turtle: he makes progress only when his neck is out" — James B. Conant, former president of Harvard. "Washington is a place where half the people are waiting to be discovered — and the other half are afraid they will be" — Rep. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania. "A good education is harmful to a dancer. A good calf is better than a good head" — Agnes de Mille. "The way for the armed forces to win an atomic war is to make certain it never starts" — Gen. Omar Bradley. "The only normal and classic things I ever created are my children" — Pablo Picasso. "If a man is vain, flatter. If timid, flatter. If boastful, flatter. In all history, too much flattery never lost a gentleman" — Kathryn Cravens, author of "Pursuit of Gentlemen." "I haven't sold Bibles all my life" — Frank Costello. "The work was killing me: they called me out of bed at all hours of the night to receive the resignations of prime ministers" — Vincent Auriol, on vacating the office of president of France. "American soldiers have taught me better than I could have learned in any other way that America means to me" — Francis Cardinal Spellman.

Quotes Of These Days Cover Many Subjects

NEW YORK (AP) — "It is a rather pleasant experience to be alone in a bank at night." Now who would say a thing like that? Well, as a matter of fact, Willie Sutton, the notorious bank bandit, tossed off the remark while philosophizing on the rewards of a career that has kept him behind prison bars most of his life. It is one of several thousand quotations collected by Jim Shepherd and Ann Gillis, the sprightly lady who bosses NBC's Who Said That? quiz programs. Feeling that Bartlett did a good job for his day but that someone ought to also preserve the antic wit and glided wisdom of the current generation, Simpson and Miss Gillis are bundling together for book publication the quotations collected by Jim Simpson they feel best reflect our times. Most books of quotations lean too heavily on poets and politicians. Miss Gillis and her co-worker have a more cosmopolitan approach. They see no reason why a really witty observation by a gangster or a housewife shouldn't be preserved by posterity. As a result, their volume promises to reflect the real mental life of our recent past more accurately than a formal history. Hat Styles Serve Purpose To Mark Professions, Countries

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald—Editor's Note. If I'm in order, I'd like to ask a question. How in the world are we going to identify an Egyptian by sight, now that the military junta in charge over there has condemned the fez as "unsightly, unhygienic" and even "unpatriotic"? It's been my failing to associate head pieces with classes and races of people since I was an urchin and anted up nine cents to see Tom Mix ride across the screen entirely surrounded by that immense sombrero of his. To me, cowboys always wore the expansive chapeaux and the hero ordinarily was distinguished from the uncouth and unscrupulous element by the fact that he wore a white sky-piece. The shady characters, on the other hand, sported nothing but black hats, probably because the store keepers knew them by sight and wouldn't offer them the other kind. In those days, too, I always associated the banker with the Hornberg and the statesman, as distinguished from the politician, with a stove-pipe lid. They say the hat-makers are concerned over the fact that an increasing number of men who walk this earth are going hatless all too often. I plead guilty to that. If anyone can devise a method for keeping my hair fairly orderly underneath the hat, I'll gladly return to the ranks of those walking beneath head-pieces. After I wear a hat a short while, then remove it, my hair takes on the appearance of the storied Borneo wildman. If I had my druthers, and it were not considered too unusual, I think I'd wear a beret, especially in the winter time. For one thing, they ride out most any sort of weather. For another, they appear to be warmer. For summer wear, I would prefer a baseball cap. Unfortunately, it just isn't done by anyone save the small fry. So, I go hatless and probably will continue to do so, until I lose a bit more hair, at which time it won't be hard to sell me on the idea of adopting a hat as part of my apparel. No trouble at all. —TOMMY HART

If Red China Enters U. N., We Should Stay And Fight

Life is real, life is earnest, all right, and there are days when I wouldn't take a nickel bet that the grave is not its goal. The combination of the dog days and the possibility of a seat in the United Nations for Communist China is almost more than human flesh can bear. The very thought of a Chinese Vishinsky—and I have no doubt there is one ready and waiting in the wings—makes reason totter. My ears today are caulked over beneath the U. N. verbal assaults of the Messrs. Molotov, Vishinsky and Gromyko. (There is no reason either to think that the Chinese can't produce as gifted a walker as comrade Gromyko.) If Chinese battery is added to Russian assault, I shall simply ask the editor to assign me back to the police beat. I'll have had it. But despite my despair at the possibility of such double jeopardy, I cannot go along with Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.), majority leader of the Senate, or Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.), Senate minority leader, who want the United States to pick up its doll rags and go home if Red China is given a U. N. seat. If ever the anti-Communist faction in the United Nations will need a strong, oratory and vocal leader, it will be the day that Communist China is seated in that international body. Uncle Sam is the leader of the democratic world, and to withdraw in pique would be too much like tossing in the sponge. The United Nations still has too much prestige in areas of the world where we can help in the struggle for democracy to let U. N. leadership go by default to the Red bloc. If the worst happens, and Communist China in the foreseeable future gets a U. N. seat, I would like to see Senators on both sides of the aisle come up with a plan that would make Uncle Sam just as ornery, exasperating, difficult, mean, tough and pig-headed to deal with as leader of the democratic faction as Russia currently is as head of the Red satellites. I would like to see Uncle so thoroughly impossible that when Red leaders crept home at eventide from the U. N. not even a triple vodka on the rocks would soothe their ulcers. The democratic forces in the United Nations, and they are still in the majority, would be paralyzed if the United States took a chapter from Gromyko and went for a walk. Can you imagine Great Britain, now Red China's champ, or France, now bowing before the Communists in Indochina, rallying the forces of democracy for a grand stand in the U. N., once Uncle Sam had tipped his hat and said good-bye? If Russia uses the United Nations as a forum to sound off for the Red world, our problem is not to turn the sounding board over to communism altogether in case of a Red China victory in the U. N., but to sound off a hundred times louder and better in behalf of democracy. Uncle Sam is the only fellow who can do it, too. When Pres. Eisenhower said that 95 per cent of the American people were implacably opposed to Red China's admission to the U. N., he was underestimating the percentage, if any. Maybe this will make Communist China's proponents in the U. N. put up and shut up. But if it doesn't, let's not make it easy for the foe by pulling out of the United Nations. Let's stick tight and give 'em the same kind of hell in the U. N. that they hand us, only more so.

These Days—George Sokolsky

Russian Propaganda Hammers That U. S. Started Cold War

In Stockholm, between June 19 and 23, a conference was held for the reduction of tension in international affairs. The conference was initiated by French public men including deputies of the National Assembly. Representatives of 30 nations are reported to have been present, including a Quaker from the United States. This is one of those numerous conferences initiated by Soviet Russia with the object of forming public opinion on particular subjects. This one is part of the revived united front movement which seeks again to bring within the Soviet orbit non-Communist and even anti-Communist elements who can agree on one special objective. The most significant of these united front movements in the United States was the League for Peace and Democracy (The League Against War and Fascism) which achieved a membership of 4,000,000. The Stockholm conference for the reduction of world tension was designed to start an agitation for terminating the "cold war." "Pravda" said of this: "What accounts for the indubitable fact that this initiative by French public figures has been met in all countries of the world with such a great response and support and has made it possible to hold such a representative conference? This is due, above all, to the fact that millions of people in all countries of the world are demanding an end to the 'cold war' waged by the aggressive circles of the United States. The people demand the easing of international tensions. They demand the cessation of the armaments race, of wars now in progress, and thus to free mankind from the sorrow, suffering, and privation caused by these wars." In Europe and Asia the propaganda has been effective that the United States started the "cold war." The rejection by Soviet Russia, inside and outside of the United Nations since 1945, of the American desire to find a formula for peace is forgotten. Those Americans who bitterly opposed the ideas of General Douglas MacArthur when he could have implemented them are now turning to MacArthur as the man who was right about Korea, but what they fail to recognize is that an historic mistake, once made, sets off a chain of events which rarely can be overtaken. An outcome of the rejection of MacArthur is the acceptance by many in Europe and Asia that to the victor belongs the spoils and that the Korean war was a victory for the Soviet Universal State. The Stockholm conference passed a resolution stating: "The difference in the political and social systems does not mean by itself an inevitable cause leading to war. Peaceful coexistence is fully feasible provided that the rights of all peoples, big and small, are recognized both de facto and de jure." What today is meant by co-existence? Politically it can be translated into a demand that the United States withdraw its opposition to a seat for Red China in the United Nations. This is the proposal that Sir Winston Churchill and Anthony Eden brought to President Eisenhower. This is the proposition that aroused the ire of Senators William Knowland and Lyndon Johnson, the Republican and Democratic leaders of the Senate. That co-existence means that politically is stated clearly by "Pravda" in a report on the Stockholm conference: "The participants at the conference demanded that the United Nations reflect correctly the real relationships in the world and should become an all-embracing organization. It can become such an organization only when the People's Republic of China is restored to its lawful place within that organization and when all states which have applied or will apply for membership of the United Nations are admitted to that organization." Co-existence is like a tap, turned on and off by the Kremlin as required for propaganda purposes. Its present manifestation is related to the seating of Red China in the United Nations and the development of East-West trade. It is designed to separate the United States from its allies; in fact, to isolate the United States diplomatically. Let us not underestimate the success of this effort on the part of the Kremlin. Great Britain, France, India and many other countries that are of importance to the United States in the event of war have accepted the idea of co-existence as here defined. They regard the United States as a stumbling block to the establishment of peace in the world—a Russian peace.

Take Care Of Bathing Suit

To keep well swim-suited during the summer, wash your suit after every wearing to protect the color and fabric from body acids, salt water, chlorine and sand. If you use soap, make sure it is gentle. Never rinse in hot water.

Don't put the suit through a mechanical wringer, but squeeze excess water out with a slight twisting action. Keep it away from garments of other colors until it is completely dry. Let the suit dry in a cool, dry, shady but not dark place. Drape it over the clothes line and avoid hanging it with pins.

Ironing is not necessary for most suits. If yours requires it, apply a warm iron to the reverse side of the fabric.

Good advice also is to have another suit and alternate the wearing.

There's Correct Way To Wash The Synthetic Fabrics

Launder nylon articles apart from colored things in water as hot as the hand can stand. Mild bleaches on yellow or stained nylon will not be harmful.

Orlon garments can be machine washed if seams are constructed so they will not fray. If spin-dry equipment is used, the article may require ironing. Orlon washed by hand needs no ironing, provided seams and hems are smoothed out. A moderately hot iron, set at the rayon mark, should be used.

Spots on suits made of Dacron can easily be removed with soap and water. Standard household cleaning fluids also will take care of dirt. If you use soap with hard water, add a softener to the suds and to the first rinse.

For normal soil removal, especially with knit garments of the newer fibers, squeeze the suds through the fabric instead of rubbing it. For heavily soiled areas bar soap is helpful, followed by a thorough washing with a synthetic detergent.

Cleaning Cottons

Many of the new cotton fabrics are treated with resin, to give wrinkle resistance or glazed sheen. To bleach such cottons use a perborate bleach rather than one with chlorine. Garment labels should give this information. Rid grease spots by sponging with a grease solvent cleaning fluid before laundering.

Safeguards Iron

A coat of paint applied to new outdoor iron will keep the metal from rusting.

"I'm all in favor of those signs, but what do we expect him to think WITH?"

Loop Fights Nerve War

By ED CORRIGAN
AP Sports Writer

The American League pennant chase is developing into a war of nerves. Cleveland Manager Al Lopez says he isn't afraid of the Chicago White Sox... Haven't got the pitching to last out the long season... More concerned with the New York Yankees... But the Tribe still has the better club.

Chicago Manager Paul Richards merely shrugs off last month, when he expected it all along... The Yankees are the team to lick the White Sox... But the Tribe still has the better club.

New York Manager Casey Stengel doesn't have much to say... He's been spending his time looking up at the other two hoping they'd eat each other.

Right now, it appears that Stengel's hopes have been coming true. Last week, the Indians swept the Sox four straight games. Had they been able to do the same in the four-game set that just ended, they might have made a run-away of the race.

It has been suggested more recently that Mexico City be admitted to the league, a proposal that caused the moshbacks to snort in unison.

Most of the Texas League officials, everything to west of Fort Worth is still Indian country and anything beyond the port of Houston is part of a vast uncharted sea.

Little wonder Christopher Columbus was so much trouble rallying Queen Isabella to his cause.

It appears now that Corpus Christi of the Big State League will withdraw at least half and possibly five of the Texas League teams.

Baltimore of the American League is already staging promotions to lure the fans to home games of the Orioles, but what is wrong with promotion?

It stimulates business, everybody says. A Baltimore religious group agreed to sell advance tickets for one game there in return for 25 cents on every ducat it sold.

The game drew a paid crowd of 30,000. The advance sale came to 16,000. That meant the religious group realized $4,000 from its efforts.

The club figures it came out was ahead on the arrangement. First, it helped a local charity. Second, it got a lot more people into the park than would ordinarily have come. Third, the team was able to write off that $4,000 on its tax structure in such a way that the promotion cost it practically nothing.

The same thing could be accomplished in a smaller way by any team in the country.

From here, it appears Big Spring's Tony Martinez, Frank Pickens of Midland, Roswell's Duane White and Mickey Sullivan of Artesia are the four leading candidates for Rookie of the Year honors in the Longhorn League.

Pickens is on his way to a 20-game season as a pitcher. Martinez ranks with Odessa's Barney Batson as the best defensive first sacker in the league and can club those extra base hits.

White is about the fastest thing ever seen in the Longhorn League and will get on base often. Offhand, I can't think of a better center fielder in the league.

Sullivan's reputation before he ever came to the Longhorn League will help him. He was All-American as a college player and few pitchers fool him for long.

His chances may suffer because he joined the Artesia team late, then was called up to parent Dallas for a few days. His ability is unquestioned by any one who has seen him play, however.

Over the July 4 holidays, the (three-day) pari-mutuel handle at the Ruidoso, N. M., race track was $470,274.

A total of $157,537 was wagered through the windows on Monday, July 5, alone.

The purses are bigger this year than they were in 1933, which accounts for the fact that a better group of horses are running at the New Mexico track.

LOOKING OVER

With Tommy Hart

The blatant remarks made by some of the Texas League operators when a group of Dallas men proposed to bring major league baseball to this area is in keeping with the record.

A large segment of the men appointed to chart the progress of the league has consistently progressed in the wrong direction.

They have resisted progress as if it were a dirty word. They prefer to do things as they were done 30 years ago.

Denver made overtures to join the family some time back and was slapped down. Since then, Denver has proved itself to be the best minor league city in America in more ways than one.

It has been suggested more recently that Mexico City be admitted to the league, a proposal that caused the moshbacks to snort in unison.

Most of the Texas League officials, everything to west of Fort Worth is still Indian country and anything beyond the port of Houston is part of a vast uncharted sea.

Little wonder Christopher Columbus was so much trouble rallying Queen Isabella to his cause.

Nat'l. Publix Meet Under Way

Texans Favored

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS (U.S.)—The ponderous National Public Links golf tournament got down to championship business today with no outstanding favorite but with Texas a good bet through sheer weight of numbers.

This state has 20 contestants and an ex-Texas, Gus Moreland of Peoria, Ill., on which to pin its hopes. And among the Texas shot-makers eyed most in championship calculations is a big policeman, Andy Sword, Dallas.

Two former champions were in the 200-man field that will be thinned down 128 today with 72 matches and 58 byes. They are Andy Sword, Dallas, Tex., who won in 1930, and Stan Bielst, Yorkers, N.Y., who took the crown in 1930.

Moreland, who in the 30s while playing out of Dallas won most of the important amateur tournaments, is only a "Saturday golfer" now and says he has played just 32 rounds in the past two years.

Par 36-35-71 is due to take numerous trimmings as indicated in final tuneups yesterday. Joe Gallardo, Los Angeles, did a brilliant 70, Harry Missidine, Spokane, and Arlie, Ariz., Dallas, 71's while there were numerous 72's and 73's.

The defending champion isn't back. He is Ted Richards, Santa Monica, Calif., who joined a private club, thus making himself ineligible for Publix play.

Shawnee leading by ten games

By The Associated Press

Shawnee's pace-setting Hawks emerged from the weekend's firing still 10 1/2 games ahead of the Sooners State League baseball field as all teams split in Saturday and Sunday games.

McAlester spoiled Shawnee's bid to expand its lead Sunday night, taking an 11-7 decision. Paul Hinch's 3-run homer, which pulled the Rockets even in the sixth, was the key blow of a 15-hit attack.

Gainesville, the second-place team, trimmed Ardmore, 8-1, with Manager Dick Rigazio driving in four runs with a double and a single behind Lefty Cliff Anderson's 4-hitter. It was his ninth victory.

A grand slam homer by Don Deckman paced Paul Valley to an 8-7 triumph over Lawton.

Ada rallied for five runs in the eighth to defeat Seminole, 7-6. Two of the runs came home on pinch hitter Vern Smathers' single.

The teams complete the series Monday night.

Broncs Rally In Last Two Innings To Beat Odessa

The Big Spring Broncos took asbestos bats and four-leaf clovers to Steer Park here Sunday afternoon.

They had to, in order to pull a decision out of the fire in a series-opening game with the Odessa Oilers. Final tab was 10-9 Big Spring and the Cayuses scored seven of those runs in the last two innings to send the Oilers down to defeat.

Manager Bob Martin, the third Bronc hurler of the afternoon, benefited from the late onslaught. He racked up his first mound win of the year although he only faced three men.

Wes Ortiz, starting Odessa hurler, had the Cayuses eating out of the palm of his hand for the first five innings.

Even when Bob Martin tagged him for a one-on homer in the sixth, things didn't look too bad for him. He had a 9-3 lead going into the eighth.

The Big Springers then began to zero in on his pitches and pulled to within two runs of a tie with a four-run fifth hit outburst, highlighted by a pinch hit single by Bert Baez and a double by Huck Doe.

Ortiz weathered the storm somehow but Julio Delatorre tied matters with his 24th home run of the season in the eighth and Bob Martin scored what proved to be the winning run on a sacrifice fly by Medsell LaGrone.

Glen Woodard started on the mound for Big Spring but proved no mystery to Odessa.

The Oilers built up a seven-run lead through the first five innings. Albert Hill took over on the mound for the Broncos and did very well until relieved for a pinch-hitter in the seventh.

Ortiz did have the satisfaction of clouting a home run before he left, a solo blast in the eighth.

Bob Bauer, with a triple, double and single, was Odessa's big gun. Every player in the Odessa lineup hit safely at least once.

The win was the fourth in a row for Big Spring. The Broncos pulled their won-loss average to an even .500, the first time since May 6 they have been so prosperous.

DIAMOND DUST — Delatorre lost a ball in the sun and let it fall in front of him for a hit in the sixth... Roberto Fabian, Odessa's stellar second sacker, hurt his ankle while trying to LaGrone's long fly in the seventh... Pete Simone, Big Spring shortstop, made a splendid catch of Fabian's line drive in the eighth and turned it into a double play... Tony DiPrimo, Odessa's left fielder, made a great back-handed stab of Huck Doe's long fly in the sixth... The home run by Bob Martin was his 13th of the season... The paid attendance was 411, bringing the year's total to 20,674.

Indians Defeat Big Lake, 8-5

BIG LAKE, (SC) — The Big Spring Indians felled Big Lake, 8-5, in a baseball exhibition here Sunday.

Gus Fierro hurled effectively for Big Spring, fanning 16 batters.

Tommy Arista helped the Indians cause with a one-on home run. The drive occurred in the fourth.

The Tribe will play the VA Hospital team Tuesday. Next Sunday, the Warriors move to Pecos for a game.

Conrad Enters Denver Play

DENVER (U.S.)—The largest field in the 51-year history of the Trans-Mississippi golf tournament—225—starts 36 holes in qualifying play today over the par 72 Cherry Hills course in quest of 63 championship flight berths.

Joe Conrad, former North Texas State star recently named to the 1934 Walker Cup team, drew a championship flight position to defend the title he won a year ago in Kansas City.

Conrad, in Air Force at San Marcos, Tex., at first was not expected to be in the tournament, but he was able to work out a satisfactory schedule with the Air Force.

Quintana Clubs Homer In Win

By ROBERT E. FORD

Home runs made the difference as both Shreveport and San Antonio, standing one and two in the Texas League, each swept double-headers Sunday night. San Antonio's homers broke ties. Shreveport's blows—each with one man on base—produced victories in the ninth innings.

San Antonio beat Beaumont, 5-4 and 3-2, while Shreveport defeated Houston, 6-5 and 3-1.

In other games, Fort Worth beat Oklahoma City, 7-0, and Tulsa defeated Dallas, 9-8.

Jim Pisoni's homer in the first San Antonio-Beaumont game gave blessed relief to a 12-inning marathon that had been scheduled for seven. He had tied it in the seventh with a triple and help from a wild pitch. Wily Quintana hit the winning homer in the second game in the seventh frame.

Shreveport took its two games from Houston in identical manner—a home run with one on base in the ninth inning. Manager Mel McGaha hit the first one as a pinch hitter. Don Spencer hit the winning homer in the ninth in the second extra inning of a scheduled 7-inning tilt. The doubleheader was witnessed by 10,017.

Mike Lemish allowed six hits by Oklahoma City as he hurled a shutout. It was his 10th win of the season. The victory by the Cats cut Oklahoma City's margin over Fort Worth to only two games.

An early lead enabled Tulsa to win over Dallas, despite an Eagle 6-run spurge in the ninth. A total of 23 hits were made in the game, including home runs by Dallas' Willie Brown and Tulsa's Ted Tappe.

Brown's homer was his 24th, putting him one in front of his teammate, Buzz Clarkson. They are fighting for the league home run crown.

Monday night, Dallas is at Oklahoma City, Tulsa at Fort Worth, Houston at San Antonio and Shreveport at Beaumont.

Outlook For Big League Club Dark

DALLAS (U.S.)—The status of a campaign to bring major league baseball to Dallas was unknown today with both of the men who launched it, E. E. Fogelson and Dick Burnett, making no comment.

Indications were that six days after it was started, the drive had ended without Dallas being able to make a serious bid for a franchise.

Burnett, owner of the Dallas club in the Texas League who Friday said $3 million dollars would be sought in a weekend drive and by George Trautman, president of the minor leagues, after saying it was "progressing satisfactorily," left here yesterday. He said he was going to Arkansas.

No Pony League Tilts For 3 Days

Pony League action will take place today and Tuesday but the contests for the remainder of the week will be moved back, due to a conflict in dates with the Sub-District Tournament at Craine.

Big Spring will be represented in the Craine meet.

Odds Soar In Nationals' Favor In All-Star Game

CLEVELAND (U.S.)—Robin Roberts, Philadelphia Phil's right-hander, and southpaw Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees were named today as the starting pitchers for tomorrow's 21st All-Star game.

By JOE REICHLER
CLEVELAND (U.S.) — Two 11th-hour changes in the American League pitching staff have caused the odds on the already favored National League to soar to 8-5 today for tomorrow's annual All-Star Game.

Nobody here could recall when one league ruled such a prohibitive favorite over the other, even during the years when the power-packed American League captured four straight from 1946 through 1949.

Now, on the eve of the 21st clash, the shoe is on the other foot. Not only does the National own a four-game winning streak but it has most of the long-ball hitters.

Until New York's Allie Reynolds and Cleveland's Mike Garcia were declared physically unfit, it appeared the American League's seemingly superior pitching might offset the National's numerous home run hitters.

Reynolds begged off because of a pulled groin muscle and Garcia was excused because of a ruptured blood vessel in a finger. In their places, Manager Casey Stengel chose Sandy Consuegra, crafty Chicago White Sox right-hander, and Irv Noren, currently hot Yankee outfielder. Noren probably will see action only as a pinch hitter.

Both managers — Stengel and rookie Walter Alston — were mum concerning their pitchers but the expected crowd of 65,000 in Cleveland's Municipal Stadium probably was due to see a battle of right-handers — at least during the first three innings.

Based on the starting lineups, which are predominantly right-handed, and by process of elimination, the field narrowed down to Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies and Bob Keegan of the Chicago White Sox as the opposing hurlers. Both will be well rested by Tuesday. Keegan has done no pitching since Friday, nor has Roberts except for a brief mop-up job Sunday.

The only other well rested pitchers are the Yankees' Whitey Ford and the New York Giants' Johnny Antonelli. Milwaukee's Jim Wilson, who replaced the injured Harvey Haddix, does not figure to start. Ford and Antonelli are left-handers.

Roberts, although sporting a subpar (for him) 11-3 record this season, is a veteran All-Star competitor. He was the starting pitcher in three of the last four games,

Congress Heads Into Scheduled Final Three Weeks Of Session

WASHINGTON (U) — Congress heads today into the scheduled final three weeks of its 1954 session with President Eisenhower reportedly prodding for stepped-up action on his program of anti-subversive measures.

Republican leaders are aiming for a July 31 adjournment. Signs are that if they don't make it, they shouldn't miss by more than a week or two.

One of the fields where action has lagged is in the President's suggestions for legislation to deal with domestic subversives. Sen. Ferguson of Michigan, chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, said in an interview yesterday Eisenhower applied some heat at last week's conference with Capitol Hill leaders to get their bills moving.

No major bill in the field has been approved by both branches of Congress. The Senate last year approved a measure to give immunity from federal prosecution to some witnesses in exchange for their testimony. The House this year approved use of wiretap information as court evidence in national security cases.

Neither of these bills is in the form of the administration asked. The House has also okayed bills to provide the death penalty for spying in peacetime and broaden the espionage and sabotage laws, and to increase penalties for harboring fugitives from justice.

There has been committee or subcommittee action on bills aimed at penalizing "Communist-infiltrated" organizations and giving the President authority in an emergency to bar suspected spies and Communists from defense plants.

Other major legislation up for action this week, either in the

Paratrooper Gets Wings Hard Way

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (U) — Angel got his wings the hard way.

Pfc. Angel O. Gomez suffered an appendicitis attack just before his fifth and final jump as a paratrooper trainee here.

He concealed his condition and made the jump anyway. On the way down, he passed out. Medicine in the drop zone disengaged his parachute and rushed him to the hospital.

Gomez had to sit up in bed to have his wings pinned on by Col. Nathaniel R. Hoskot, who said: "What you did wasn't very smart, but . . . it showed a lot of guts and pride in the unit."

Actress Turned Bullfighter Shows Courage At Juarez

JUAREZ, Mexico (U) — In the language of the bull ring, former Broadway model and actress Bette Ford has much courage, bravery and beauty — but her ability is undetermined.

The 23-year-old, curvaceous Miss Ford headed back to Mexico City today for more training to correct a trait that led her under the horns and hoofs of a vicious Mexican bull yesterday and to four narrow escapes.

Bette, from McKeesport, Pa., made her formal bullfighting debut in the Juarez Plaza de Toros, just across the Rio Grande from El Paso, Tex.

She received accolades from the severe audience for her courage, and to a bullfighting fan that's everywhere.

But because of what Bette called "The luck of the Irish," she drew two stubborn, hard-to-work bulls which offered her nothing but trouble and little or no opportunity to show the results of her year's training.

Her training now will concentrate on correcting a tendency to crook her arm in the intricate cape work, instead of holding it extended. That crook led to the bull getting too close to her four times yesterday and she narrowly escaped after each.

But after each incident, she bounced back to the fight, a dis-

Official Oklahoma Count Shows Kerr Lacked Majority

OKLAHOMA CITY (U) — Sen. Kerr (D-Okla.) failed by 9,780 votes to win a majority in Oklahoma's primary Tuesday, final official tabulations showed.

Figures released yesterday show Kerr will have to face former Gov. Roy Turner in the July 27 runoff.

Kerr out-pollled Turner 238,543 to 205,241. Seven other candidates had sufficient strength to prevent a majority.

William Coe, Oklahoma City attorney, had a margin of 2,746 over Raymond Gary, president pro tempore of the state Senate, in the Democratic race for Governor. They will vie in the runoff to see which goes against Reuben Sparks, Woodward attorney, and the Republican nominee, in the Nov. 2 general election.

Coe led Gary 159,122 to 156,376. Fourteen other candidates, including Mrs. Johnston Murray, wife of the present governor, were far behind.
