Sukarno Quashes Rumors Of Ouster

By ROBERT MONAHAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
JAKARTA, Indonesia (UP)—President Sukarno of Indonesia issued an official statement today to quash rumors he had been ousted from power.
The statement was distributed while Sukarno presided over a session of the National Council. It said:
"Rumors from Amsterdam say that I am ousted. I am still here. I am at this present moment presiding over the session of the National Council. I think Amsterdam is full of wishful thinking."
The statement bore the president's signature.
Press Conference Called
Foreign correspondents were summoned to the National Council building for a press conference at which they were told Sukarno would personally spike the rumors. (A rash of rumors concerning Sukarno had circulated through Holland and other Western countries, ranging from reports of his "arrests" to the seizure of power by an anti-Communist triumvirate headed by former Vice Premier Mohammed Hatta.

(The Dutch Protestant Radio Association "NCRV" said it had received information from reliable sources in Jakarta that Sukarno was a prisoner of the Indonesian army. The broadcast said the government was taken over by a junta made up of Hatta, Premier Djuanda and Chief of Staff, Gen. Abdul Harris Nasution.)
Denies Coup Rumors
An official denial of the "coup" rumors also was issued by the Indonesian foreign Office. A spokesman declared Sukarno "is in town and doing his job."
Djuanda told parliament Thursday that Sukarno had been advised by his physicians to go abroad for a "complete rest" and would probably leave Indonesia some time in January.
Djuanda said Sukarno, who was the target of an assassination attempt two weeks ago, was "physically and mentally tired."

Quakes Rake Iran

TEHRAN, Iran (UP)—A series of earthquakes thundered across northwestern Iran today in a wintry disaster that killed scores and left thousands homeless in sub-zero weather.
One unofficial estimate listed 300 dead and 500 injured.
The snow-covered disaster zone was so widespread that no immediate casualty count was possible.
Lesser earthquakes were reported in Greece at the same time.
Scattered reports reaching government offices in Tehran said intense earth shocks lasting up to two minutes practically leveled the countryside in the three northwestern provinces of Kurdisthan, Hamadan and Kermanshah.
Thousands Homeless
Thousands were feared homeless in the big area which borders on Iraq, Turkey and the Soviet Union.
Even greater tragedy was expected from the fact that homes were destroyed in the midst of the season's worst freeze. The temperature had been well below zero and the area was covered with snow before the tremors hit.
It might take days for aid to reach the hundreds of villages in the stricken area.
Shah Reza Pahlavi was informed immediately of the scope of the disaster. He ordered all necessary aid rushed into the three northwest provinces.

CRMWA To Petition Bond Sale

The board of directors of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority voted yesterday to petition the Texas Water Development Board as soon as it is appointed by the governor and set up for business, for a maximum limit of $5 million in the purchase of the authority's bonds.
It was explained that the authority believed that the interest rate on bonds purchased from the Texas Water Development fund will be much less than could otherwise be obtained by cities elsewhere, and would result in a saving of money for the member cities.
According to A. A. Meredith, secretary of CRMWA, the federal government does not build treatment plants for the cities and it will be necessary for member cities of CRMWA to finance construction of a water treatment plant.

The parcel postage and stamp windows at the post office will be open until 5 p.m. Saturday, according to O. K. Gaylor, postmaster.
Gaylor said the windows would be left open to help handle the large volume of mail always expected in the Christmas season. He urged Pampans to use the facilities Saturday and to delay no longer than necessary in getting their Christmas mailing done.

NATO Statesmen Gather

Ike To Start Momentous Mission

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Staff
WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower files the Atlantic under a doctor's care today on a momentous mission to revamp the Free World's defenses against Russia's space-age missile threat.
But his mission to install new force and unity into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) allies promised to be extremely difficult.
The President was expected to prepare an "affirmative as possible" answer to the Soviet proposal for high level East-West talks which is spearheading their campaign to upset the vital NATO "summit" conference starting Monday in Paris.
Such a reply was urged by Adlai E. Stevenson, two-time Democratic presidential opponent, who said the Allies must continue to try and negotiate a settlement with the East "not by capitulation, but by agreement."
Ike Leaves Today
Eisenhower was scheduled to leave for Paris aboard the Columbus III late today. He is expected to land in Paris Saturday morning.
Russia threw a warning at Britain against being a base for NATO missiles on the eve of the attempt to reveal the West into a stronger scientific and military unit. The warning was contained in a 3,000 word letter from Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin to British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.
There was no indication whether Eisenhower would reply to Bulganin before or after the Paris meeting. But a State Department official said the reply would "try to be as affirmative as possible" when it comes.
Precaution Taken
Every precaution was being taken to insure the President's safe flight across the ocean. British and American warships have been deployed along the route in the event the plane is forced down.

RECEIVE PARADE AWARD

The jolly old man in the red suit, Santa Claus, right, made a hurried visit to Pampa yesterday afternoon and stopped in the Chamber of Commerce office long enough to present the first place plaque for the best float in the recent Santa Day Parade to the Kit Kat Klub. The plaque was received by Miss Raima Storms, center, president of the club, while Miss Linda Steele, left, vice-president, watched. Miss Storms is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Storms, 1337 Duncan, and Miss Steele is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Steele, 1334 Charles. (News Photo)

Air Force Sets New World Speed Record

LOS ANGELES (UP)—A new world speed record for manned flight was set Thursday by Air Force Maj. Adrian E. Drew, 37, streaking across a 30.1-mile course at an average 1,207.6 miles per hour.
Drew, in a twin-jet F101A Voodoo fighter bomber, broke the British-held world mark of 1,132 miles an hour, set in March 1956 in a Fairey Delta aircraft.
The flight, at 39,000 feet, was timed by clock cameras at Edwards Air Force Base and certified by a group of timers from the National Aeronautic Association.
The new record is far below speeds attained by military research aircraft in flights made without official timers.
Capt. Millburn G. Apt set an unofficial mark of 2,100 miles an hour in the U.S. Air Force Bell 2 rocket plane Sept. 27, 1956, according to recording instruments recovered after the plane crashed, killing Apt.
Drew, of Bremen, Ga., is a squadron Air Force Base, Tex. After completing the record flight, he flew to Los Angeles where he was presented the Distinguished Flying Cross.
"Not half bad," Drew said. He had actually made a new record two days earlier, but it was not recognized because of a malfunctioning camera.
"I am thrilled and honored in flying this mission," he said. "I've worked with the Voodoo for a long time and I believe its global capabilities as a part of Tactical Air Command will do much for the U.S. Air Force."

School Building Collapses; 40 Students Buried
PALERMO, Sicily (UP)—A school building collapsed today in a gale at the nearby village of Altofonte and buried 40 kindergarten students under tons of bricks and mortar. Ten other children escaped.
There was no immediate report on casualties, but authorities who rushed to the scene said they hoped many of the victims were still alive.
The gale had been raging for the past 24 hours and sank six small unmanned fishing boats moored in the port of Palermo and severely damaged three others.
Altofonte is a village of 5,300 inhabitants in the hills of the Sicilian interior.
The reports said about 50 boys and girls, between 4 and 6, were in the kindergarten school when it collapsed. About 10 escaped. The others were caught under falling masonry.

AFL-CIO In 'Get Tough' Policy

By WILLIAM J. EATON
United Press Staff Correspondent
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UP)—The AFL-CIO, purged of three scandal-stamped unions, pursued a get-tough policy today toward what it considers government interference in labor's affairs.
The federation regained the offensive at a convention where its ranks were thinned by ouster of the giant Teamsters Union, the Bakery Workers and Laundry Workers.
Delegates endorsed only a very few of the dozens of laws proposed by the Eisenhower administration to correct labor-management abuses.
Official AFL-CIO attitude on the Senate Rackets Committee cooled considerably at the convention. A resolution condemning the committee for "political retaliation" and several of its members for "anti-labor bias" won unanimous support.
Businessmen were bluntly informed that the AFL-CIO recommended healthy wage increases for union members next year to offset an economic slide.
AFL-CIO President George Meany predicted the federation would be "better off" because of the expulsions which took 1,735,000 members off its rolls.
Meany, re-elected by acclamation, said the federation was endangered by the ouster moves. He could have been referring to a war in the bakery industry, this seemed imminent.
Meany granted a charter to a new union — the American Bakery and Confectionery Workers — representing the clean-up group in the expelled bakery union.
Blasts Three Republicans
The AFL-CIO marked three Republican members of the rackets committee for attack. It said Sens. Barry Goldwater, Arizona; Carl Curtis, Nebraska and Karl Mundt, South Dakota, were guilty of anti-labor bias.
Going on record against investigations that ignored management misdeeds, the AFL-CIO warned that its unions might not cooperate with Senate probers.
The convention heard Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell announce for the first time the labor legislation President Eisenhower will ask of Congress next month.

The club meets here only on Friday's falling on the 13th because members feel it's their lucky day.

Intoxicants Confiscated

A charge of selling alcoholic beverages during prohibited hours was filed in County Court today against Leon Gay, 509 Elm, by the Texas Liquor Control Board.
Approximately 3600 in beer and wine was confiscated by an agent of the LCB Thursday morning after the agent observed the sale of beer during prohibited hours.
The beer and wine was taken to the district office of the LCB in Amarillo and the agent was expected to file the necessary suits for the seizure of the beverages by the state.
Gay has a package store permit for the selling of both beer and wine for off premise consumption, according to the LCB agent. The package store is operated in the residence of Gay, who is paralyzed.
The seizure of the beer and wine yesterday morning was a result of investigation by local officers and the LCB over a period of several weeks, the agent reported.

US, British Fighting Russian Propaganda

PARIS (UP)—The United States and Britain organized a counterattack today to smash the Soviet propaganda onslaught aimed at wrecking the NATO alliance and frightening Europe out of setting up U.S. missile bases.
Secretary of State John Foster Dulles flew in from Washington to join British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd who arrived Thursday night. They were expected to throw their full weight behind the Anglo-American counterattack.
With statesmen of the 15 NATO countries streaming in by plane and train for the greatest international gathering here since the 1919 Versailles Conference, Moscow laid down a massive, drumfire barrage of pleas and threats to the West. The summit meeting starts Monday with the heads of state of all NATO members present.
Diplomatic sources said the Moscow statements were carefully worded to take advantage of individual fears and distrusts in a major effort to split the North Atlantic alliance wide open.
Tried All Tricks
Moscow took advantage of the split over Suez, French anger at Anglo-American arms shipments to Tunisia and a host of minor grievances of NATO members against the United States.
U.S. and British diplomats already here moved swiftly to counteract the Soviet moves in behind the scenes talks with other delegates.
It will be strengthened even more Saturday when President Eisenhower flies in from Washington and joins British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, French Premier Felix Gaillard and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in major "little summit" talks.
The Moscow drive began Wednesday with "peace" notes to the Western "Big Three" and Germany. In a second round Thursday night Moscow proposed a peace treaty between the Soviet Union and the United States and in notes to all United Nations members called for a non-aggression treaty between NATO and the Communist Warsaw Pact.
The official reply to the peace treaty proposal comes today at the United Nations when U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge is expected to give a "soft" answer—an approach suggested Thursday night by Democratic Party leader Adlai Stevenson.
But U.S. and British diplomats were frankly worried that some European NATO members, already disturbed by Soviet threats of retaliation against U.S. rocket bases on their territories, might be included to head the latest Moscow moves.
U.S. Defense Secretary Neil McElroy spoke out against these fears Thursday night. He assured West Europe that any Russian attacks "if they are to come, would be based on matters not having solely to do with the basing of American-made missiles on European soil."

Beck, Hoffa Subpenaed As Witnesses

WASHINGTON (UP)—Teamster Union bosses Dave Beck and James R. Hoffa have been subpoenaed as witnesses at a federal trial here charging Hoffa illegally won the Teamsters presidency, it was learned today.
The surprise move came as attorneys for 13 "rebel" rank-and-file teamsters reported they have been deluged with "volunteers" who have offered to testify about "corrupt" Teamster officials.
Beck and Hoffa will be called to testify early next week, according to attorney Thomas Dodd, former Democratic Congressman from Connecticut representing the "rebel" teamsters.
Dodd said however that exact dates for their testimony will depend on how soon each can be available. Beck, former Teamster president, is under trial for income tax evasion in Seattle, Wash. Hoffa is standing trial on wire-tap charges in New York City.
Hoffa and other teamsters have been charged with conspiring to rig the 1957 Miami Beach, Fla., Teamster Convention to assure Hoffa's election as president. The 13 rank and file teamsters have asked federal district court here for an order forbidding Hoffa to take office.

Social Council Directory Is Mailed

A new directory which has been put out by the Pampa Council of Social Agencies is off the press and has been mailed to all civic and welfare organizations within the city, according to Jimmy Massa, chairman of the council.
The Pampa Council of Social Agencies, as one of its services to health, welfare, and recreation agencies, and the community at large, offers for the first time this comprehensive directory. Civic and welfare agencies and organizations in Gray County have been included. Every effort has been made to obtain complete and accurate coverage, inclusion in the directory does not mean endorsement of an agency, nor does exclusion indicate disapproval.
The Pampa Council of Social Agencies is proud to present this directory and hopes it will meet a real community need, according to Massa. The directory has been edited and published under the direction of W. L. Loving.
The 150-page directory gives complete information on all county, state, and local civic and welfare organizations including locations of offices, telephone numbers and the objectives of the organization listed.
The primary objective of the Pampa Council of Social Agencies is to promote the general welfare of the community through such activities as study of community needs and resources, cooperative planning of health and welfare services, promotion of social improvements, and creation of public opinion.
Officers of the Pampa Council of Social Agencies are: Jimmy Massa, president; Herman Whitley, vice president; Mrs. Jack P. Foster, secretary; directors: Calvin Whitley, E. O. Wedgeworth, Bill Loving, C. C. Whiney, Mrs. Frank Culbertson, C. P. Bunker, Fred Thompson, Arthur Teed, Clinton Evans, Rev. Ronald Hubbard, McHenry Lane and D. C. Overton.

Do-It-Yourself Projects Widen Opportunities For Accidents

Science Today
By DELOS SMITH
United Press Science Editor
NEW YORK (UP)—Power tools in the hands of enthusiastic amateurs are "homicidal" tools, according to an authoritative medical summing-up of the wave of do-it-yourself casualties now sweeping the country.

Fatalities have been relatively few, fortunately, but lacerations, multiple fractures, and burns have been common contrary to medical expectations, however, relatively few fingers of do-it-yourselfers have been amputated by hand power saws—the deep cuts into flesh haven't been that deep.

The tone of the summing-up in the technical publication "Pitner Spectrum" was tolerant and resigned. "Perhaps there will always be a totally idiotic sector of the population to climb a metallic ladder near electric wires," it remarked.

Doesn't Know
"Do-it-yourself has merely widened the opportunities for these people to wipe themselves out, or at any rate present themselves tattered and bleeding all over the (doctor's) office floor."

The summing-up had no fault to find with the "do-it-yourself spirit." Indeed, it found the spirit admirable. "The catastrophe of do-it-yourself is in not knowing," it said.

"Professional workmen may be less than gifted," the publication said. "Often their sole advantage is a body of information which, as a matter of fact, rather limited and not even up-to-date. Presumably the patient who amassed funds enough to buy a glittering new homicidal tool has the wit to learn techniques that are simple enough but, at first, merely unknown to him."

Too Eager
But the average do-it-yourselfer doesn't undertake even to read up on those techniques before he "unwraps" his new gadget and looks eagerly about for a place to use it. "Now, take the hand power saw, the summing-up continued. Usually it has a wire by which it may be grounded, but often there is no ground to which it can be attached.

So the do-it-yourselfer standing on damp ground runs it on, ignorant that perhaps a short-circuit will direct 110 volts of alternating current into the handle and so in-

IN RED ORBIT?—Over-shadowed by recent world events is a significant Communist gain in Southeast Asia. Recent moves have put the little-known country of Laos on the skirts toward complete Communist domination. In the past month the Laotian government has reached an agreement with the Pathet Lao, a group of Communist guerrillas, and the legislative assembly approved plans to bring part of these Red guerrillas into the royal army. The United States, which has striven to keep Laos neutral, says it is "seriously concerned." For three years the U.S. has supplied military, economic and technical assistance to Laos—now running at about 50 million dollars a year.

School Party Held

(Special to The News).
LEFORS — The annual Christmas party of the Lefors school faculty, school board members, and other school employees was held Monday night in the high school cafeteria.

The buffet style banquet consisted of baked ham, potato salad, green beans, relish, cranberry sauce, French bread, pie and coffee.

Games led by H. W. Callan furnished entertainment after the meal.

The baby, a seven-pound boy, was born to Mrs. Elizabeth Raics, a Hungarian refugee who had not informed airline officials the birth was expected almost immediately.

Hostesses Deliver Baby On Airliner

SHANNON, Ire. (UP)—An American airliner circled the Shannon airport Wednesday while its two hostesses delivered a baby on radioed instructions from the ground.

Shortly after 1:15 a. m. Clarke spotted a break in the fog and landed. "We just got down in time," Clarke said. "As the last passenger left I heard the cry of a baby."

Flynn reported, "It's a fine boy. The mother is in excellent condition." It was Mrs. Raics' first child.

The plane took off again for North America at 4:20 a. m., with Mrs. Raics, the baby and her husband all aboard. Part of the crew's quarters of the chartered U. S. Overseas Airlines plane was converted into a flying maternity ward.

Flynn said there was no danger to either mother or child.

Russia Strengthens NATO Success

Foreign News Commentary
By CHARLES M. MCCANN,
United Press Staff Correspondent

Soviet Russia probably has strengthened the likelihood that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization meeting will be a success. In an attempt to sabotage the conference, Soviet Premier Nikozi A. Bulganin has sent personal letters to the heads of government of the chief NATO allies and to "neutralist" Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India.

But the attempt is so obvious that it is pretty sure to backfire. Only a few days ago, the outlook for the big meeting which is to open in Paris Monday was grim.

Outlook Brighter
The outlook for the conference became much brighter when it was announced that President Eisenhower would attend after all. Even though he might have to restrict his activities somewhat, Eisenhower is the outstanding figure in the NATO alliance. His mere presence will help.

Another boost was given when leading delegates of the chief allied countries decided to go to Paris well before the start of the meeting to hold private talks among themselves. They may reach agreements which will simplify the situation.

Now Bulganin has entered the picture.

Nothing in Statement
There seems to have been nothing in any of Bulganin's statements that adds a thing to Russia's known position on East-West issues.

Another bid for a "Big Four" meeting of the United States, Great Britain, France and Russia... disarmament "proposals" that would give no guarantee against Communist cheating under any agreement... an offer to suspend nuclear weapons tests

When a telephone man drives, safety comes first!

One of the first things telephone people learn is that no job is so urgent it can't be done safely. The remarkable safe driving records made by telephone men is proof they've learned that lesson well.

By telephone news reporter
Don Davis

SAFE MEN BEHIND THE WHEEL. Courtesy and thoughtfulness are trademarks of telephone people who drive on the job—one of many ways telephone employees try always to be good neighbors and good citizens of the communities they serve.

It's too bad that safety records are often thought of as dull and not newsworthy while a major accident makes front page headlines. The greatest human drama is in the accidents that don't happen—the accidents that good safety habits prevent from happening!

Not long ago, a newspaper editor wrote, "We salute the drivers of telephone company trucks. They never drive fast or recklessly, time and again we've seen them yield truck fleet, but it must be excellent. It is nothing short of inspiring to see an entire corps of drivers display the courtesy and friendliness that is habitual with telephone company drivers."

BEST IN NATION
With thanks for such praise, we'd like to confirm the editor's feeling that the safety record in the telephone business must be excellent. It's among the best in the country. The National Safety Council's award of honor—its highest award—was again presented to Southwestern Bell for its safety performance in 1956. Scores of state and local safety awards also were earned, including many presented to telephone people as individuals.

But more important than the awards for safety are the results. When you consider that Southwestern Bell vehicles logged some 72 million miles last year, it's easy to see how the public benefits. Telephone company safe driving practices are a major protection of life and property—a way of working that's summed up in the slogan: No job is so urgent it can't be done safely.

ADD EXTRA VALUE
Safety behind the wheel is, of course, the form of telephone company safety most apparent and closest to the public. But telephone safety behind the scenes is a very real and constant thing, too. Motor vehicles get regular inspections, are kept in top condition. Tools, equipment and methods are constantly being studied to improve the safety factor, designed to reduce accidents.

Telephone service shows its value in many ways. Not the least of its value is the thoughtful way telephone people bring it to you—safely, with always a sincere regard for life and property.

SAFETY-RATER DEVICE provides checks and tests of company's drivers. Device rates reflexes and vision, points out weaknesses that practice and extra caution can overcome.

Men aren't so mysterious—When a man starts grumbling to his wife about how expensive it is to run an old car he has already decided to buy a new one. When a man is open in his admiration of a beautiful woman his wife doesn't worry. It's when he says with elaborate casualness, "I guess she's good looking—if you like the type," that his wife begins to feel uneasy. When a man suddenly starts wearing bow ties or loud sports jackets his wife knows that he is worried about his receding hair line. When a man comes home from a poker party and doesn't say how he came out his wife knows better than to ask.

When a man demands that the family go on a strict budget, keep track of everything they spend, etc., his wife knows that if she quietly agrees to all his economy plans he'll be the first to grow tired of the penny-pinching. When a man asks "Does it have to be done now?" to his wife's suggestion that he do some chore around the house or yard he is hoping that if he can put it off she'll forget all about it. When a man buys his wife a fishing rod or gun for her birthday he is paying her a bigger compliment than if he bought her a dozen long-stemmed roses and a bottle of expensive perfume. When a man says, "I'll have to talk it over with my wife," he isn't talking to his wife. He is just stalling for time and giving himself a footproof alibi if he decides the answer is "no." When a man turns over his pay check to his wife and lets her hand him back pocket money it isn't always a sign that he is more generous than husbands who hold onto the purse strings. It well may be that he just doesn't want the responsibility for making ends meet. Six to ten sealisks go into the average fur coat.

Pampa News Women's Editor

AROUND TOWN THIS WEEK: Mrs. Mae Foreman Carr set exactly the "right spirit with 'Jingle Bells' as she played pre-luncheon Christmas music for the Altruus Club meeting in the Pine Room of the Pampa Hotel Monday noon. And Ann Kay fashioned the most beautiful Christmas corsages for each member using the Altruus colors of blue ribbon and white leaves with silver and blue balls. We were sorry, indeed, to hear at the luncheon of the injury Oia Gregory's mother, Mrs. Nancy Norton, who is 90, incurred when she fell and broke her hip. Oia is with her mother now in Crane, Mo. Miss Sara Gordon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Gordon, 1811 Charles, is to be a featured ballet soloist in the Nutcracker Suite Ballet to be presented in the Little Theater, located in Wolfing Village in Amarillo. The production is to be presented by the Musical Arts Conservatory under the direction of Maestro M. Pianowski. Two performances are scheduled for Dec. 20-21 at 8 p.m. This Christmas ballet with its story of the Sugar Plum Fairy will make a delightful adult and children's entertainment fare for the holidays. Our "Do you Remember" column, which appeared last week, sparked the memory of one of our readers, who wrote to ask, "Do you remember back before TV and radio became such an on-the-spot coverage, newspapers would send their newboys out into the residential neighborhoods yelling, 'Extra! Extra! Read all about it...' if an important news story broke after press time. And it seemed that all the important stories broke after 9 p.m. in the evening and the young newboys' voices would rent the evening air with their important headlines." We know of a very thoughtful Bridge hostess, who served coffee and carrot sticks as munching tidbits to her dining friends this week. Which, we think, merits her a gilt-edge Certificate of Thoughtfulness and wish the custom would become more popular. Troop 41 of Baker-Woodrow Wilson Neighborhood were invested as

First Year Brownies this week in the traditional Brownie Scout Service held in Girl Scout Little House. Mrs. Davis Staggs is leader for the troop with Mrs. Bill Oler as assistant. Nothing matches the enthusiasm of a Brownie Scout in her new uniform wearing her new and shiny Brownie pin, as she eagerly enters this field of activity, which is adult planned to bring her so much fun and cultural growth. Nothing matches it, that is, unless it is the Intermediate or Senior Girl Scout, who has come along through the Brownie Fun and Learning Years and still finds that Girl Scouting is so enriching and still fun! We hear that Scout Troop 38 with its leaders, Mrs. M. H. Taylor, assisted by Mrs. Beth Olson and Mrs. T. E. Francis are to present a Girl Scout program for the Colored Day Nursery on Dec. 23 in the nursery. We heard a most hilarious story week. Let's see if we can retell it the way Althea Davis told it to us. It seems that Elsie Gee of the United Fund office shares a birthday anniversary with Libby Shotwell, executive secretary of the American Red Cross, who has a wedding anniversary on the same date. They usually exchange mutual anniversary cards. Well, one day this week, Libby celebrated a birthday and thinking of her custom with Elsie brought her a wedding anniversary card, but Elsie's wedding anniversary isn't until in March. So Libby's card was either awfully early or awfully late. For it isn't Elsie's wedding anniversary and Libby's birthday that they share. It is Elsie's birthday and Libby's wedding anniversary. Not that they have in common. Clear? Not, too eh? It's going to take us a while, too, to sure this one out. A long-handled dish mop or rubber gloves will keep hands looking lovelier. These keep the hands out of reddening hot water. For extra protection and care, smooth on hand cream before putting on gloves.

Honorees Feted At New Moo-Moo Fashion Even Baggiest Birthday Luncheon Than Sack Dress, But What Comfort!

(Special to The News) PERRYTON — Mrs. Bob Larabee and Mrs. Chris Vines were honorees at a surprise birthday luncheon and bridge party recently in the home of Mrs. Clyce Ragsdale at 422 S. 15. Co-hostess for the surprise occasion was Mrs. Woodrow Brillhart. Fall flower arrangements decorated the serving table and bridge tables. Those present were the honorees and Mmes. A. L. Schnell Jr., Fred Adcock, Roger Tandy, J. B. Matherson, C. R. Butler, Oras Busch Jr., Jack Pitzer, T. E. Osborne, George Saled, Gordon Shackelford and the hostesses. The group presented Mrs. Larabee and Mrs. Vines with gifts. At the end of the bridge play Mrs. Shackelford held high score and Mrs. Busch second high. Mrs. Matherson won the traveling prize.

in motion around home, I realized how wonderfully comfortable and versatile it is." Wasn't long until Mrs. Konheim was making the garments for Barbara's friends at Western, and then for coeds across the nation. She has given her garments the trade name, "moo-moo". Shaheen features more than 100 prints in the island-made muu-muu. Mrs. Konheim, who uses U. S.-made fabrics, has introduced bold plaids, zodiac prints and ivy league stripes. She doubts if the muu-muu ever will show much variation, as have the sack silhouettes.

Mrs. King Hostess To Circle Meeting

(Special to The News) CANADIAN — Members of Circle No. 3 of the WSCS of the First Methodist Church met in the home of Mrs. A. R. King recently. The program was presented by Mrs. F. D. Teas. Those present were Mmes. Tom Parker, a guest, and Mmes. F. D. Teas, Paul Patton, W. W. Owens, Van Petree, and Edna Fisher.

Ace High Club Meets With John D. Glenns

(Special to The News) CANADIAN — The Ace High Bridge Club was recently entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Glenns. Members present were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Abraham, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Riley, Dr. and Mrs. Ted Rogers, Mrs. Hub Hess and the hosts. Mrs. Rogers won high for the women and Mr. Riley high for the men.

By GAY PAULEY United Press Women's Editor NEW YORK (UP)—Well, men, you thought the chemise robbed you females of curves. Wait'll you see us in a muu-muu! It's even baggier, but that doesn't slow its progress into our wardrobes. I happily report that so far, unlike the chemise or sack, the muu-muu isn't for street wear. Only for our leisure hours. But give this comfortable garb time. By way of explanation, the muu-muu is a native of Hawaii, is ankle or floor length, cut full and completely unfitted except at the yoke. Theories On Muu-Muu There are various theories on how the muu-muu migrated from native garb in the islands to at-home-fashion on the mainland. Gloria Buchner, fashion coordinator for Alfred Shaheen, a Honolulu manufacturer, said this firm has been featuring muu-muus for six years at least. But it suddenly caught on after a promotion by a California store. Shaheen's muu-muus all are made in Hawaii and shipped to domestic stores. There are muu-muus for the patio, the pool, the dormitory, and for formal at-home occasions. And Shaheen features a "mama muu-muu" for those expecting."

Mrs. Shirley Konheim, boss of a New York firm which specializes in sub-teen wear, found herself in the muu-muu business because of daughter Barbara, a coed at Western College, Oxford, Ohio. Barbara was one of 16 coeds who last summer made a college-sponsored tour of the Far East. En route home, the group stopped off in Honolulu, where Barbara bought a couple of muu-muus. "She got off the plane at Idlewild in one of the things," her mother said, "and I was mortified. My daughter traveling in something like that! Comfortable and Versatile "But after I watched the dress

Manners Makes Friends

The person who carefully makes a mental note of the bits of news he hears about acquaintances is never at a loss to know what to say to a person when he sees him. "How was the fishing trip?" "How is that new grandchild?" "That was a lovely picture of your wife I saw in the paper the other day." Such comments make it clear that you are interested in what is happening to him. A woman may do her nail biting in private but she can't sit on her hands in public to hide the result. Try popping a mint into a mouth when the urge to bite a nail comes. Or seek a doctor's advice on calming nerves that may be behind this habit.

God's healing and saving power will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday. Keynoting the Lesson - Sermon entitled "God the Preserver of Man" is the Golden Text from Deuteronomy (33:27): "The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms." A number of experiences of the Apostle Paul are related in the Bible selections to be read which include Paul's healing (Acts 14) of the "man at Lystra, impotent in his feet, being a cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked."

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (343:25): "Anciently those apostles who were Jesus' students, as well as Paul who was not one of his students, healed the sick and reformed the sinner by their religion. Hence the mistake which allows words, rather than works, to follow such examples!"

Don't Get Burned Up At Christmas

CHICAGO — Don't get burned up at Christmas! You can, easily, if you are careless with the yule log and the Christmas tree.

"The Christmas tree is one of the most combustible objects known," the National Safety Council says. "Christmas trees, filled with natural pitch and resin, can burn so quickly it is almost impossible to extinguish the flames by ordinary methods."

"Trees should be taken down when the needles start to fall, even if the holidays are not over. And they should be disposed of out-of-doors, in fire-safe areas."

"Never attempt to burn an old Christmas tree in a fireplace, furnace or stove — they burn with almost explosive violence and the fire is most likely to get out of control."

To help prevent Christmas tree fires, the Council offers six simple precautions:

- 1. Buy a fresh tree and keep it in a cold place until you are ready to put it up. Before setting up the tree, saw off, diagonally, at least an inch of the trunk. Place the base in a water-containing holder and keep the holder filled with water while the tree is up.
- 2. Locate the tree well away from fireplaces, radiators, television sets, powerful electric lights and other sources of heat. 2. Use only electric lights, and be sure they bear the Underwriter's Laboratories label. Check wires for defects and loose sockets before putting on tree. 3. Too many light circuits on one outlet may overload house wiring and blow a fuse. Reduce the load if this happens, or connect part to another circuit outlet. Never increase the size of the fuse, or substitute a penny for a blown fuse. 4. Be sure ends of metallic foibles or other decorations do not dangle into light sockets where they can cause a short circuit and flash fire. 5. Do not operate electric trains or other electrical toys, which may spark, under the tree.

Thompson—'Need Larger Pipe Lines'

AUSTIN (UP)—The pressing need today in the U.S. oil picture is construction of more large-capacity pipe lines, a veteran Texas oil official believes.

Ernest O. Thompson, member of the Texas Railroad Commission, the state's regulatory body, said in a prepared statement released Tuesday night, that there would be scant time and materials in wartime to build such pipelines.

He pin-pointed two lines he said needed building — one from the Texas-Louisiana area to the East Coast, and one from the West Texas-New Mexico area to the West Coast.

Ample Oil Supplies Texas has "ample shut-in oil to easily supply both of these lines at the wells' most efficient rate of production," Thompson said.

"Why delay the construction of these vital defense lines when we know the risk of delay, and when we know we have adequate oil-producing ability to supply them without harm to our oil wells?" he asked.

Thompson noted that Texas' oil allowable production schedule has been cut to 12 days due to an excess of oil, after the reopening of the Suez Canal. However, he said, "there are encouraging signs of more balanced inventories in the air."

"The voluntary imports limitation program seems to be working."

"Pipeline proration is being relaxed, and Gulf and Magnolia are both now taking the full 12 days allowable from their connections."

"Inventories seem to be headed slightly downward, with the heavy consuming season just now getting into full play," Thompson said.

BOUNTY REMAINS—The National Geographic Society reports that skin divers have located the coral encrusted hulk of the notorious mutiny ship, HMS Southey, which was burned and sunk off Pitcairn Island in the South Pacific in 1790. Here the discoverer, veteran undersea photographer Luis Marden, examines copper fittings from the ship on the ocean floor. Marden was assisted by Tom Christian, 21-year-old great-grandson of Fletcher Christian, leader of the Bounty mutineers. Photo copyrighted by National Geographic Magazine.

... the SIMPLICITY of the LORD'S CHURCH

The Lord is unimpressed with the pomp and ceremony which so often impresses men. Not only so, He actually warns us against being impressed by tradition, ritual, and elaborate church organization. "But all their works they do for to be seen of men: they make broad their phylacteries, and enlarge the borders of their garments, and love the uppermost rooms at feasts, and the chief seats..." (Matthew 23:5, 6). "... Beware of the scribes, which desire to walk in long robes..." (Luke 20:46) "And call no man your father upon the earth..." (Matthew 23:9).

The Lord's plan for His church is simplicity itself. The purpose of the organization and worship of the church that Jesus built is not to please or awe mankind, but to please and honor the Father.

The churches of Christ are presented in the New Testament as independent, self-governing congregations. Each congregation is ruled by elders, also called pastors, bishops, overseers or presbyters. The church is also served by deacons. Preachers work with the local congregations, declaring the word of God, but the preachers are not pastors or overseers of the church.

The worship Christ ordained consists of singing, prayers, the observance of the Lord's Supper on the first day of every week, giving, and the study of the scripture. Worship is from within the individual; it does not require symbols, images, robes, musical instruments and the like. It is a pure and simple expression of devotion to God. It takes no thought of display or pretention. "... For the Lord seeth not as man seeth; for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart." (1 Samuel 16:7)

LOVE

Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God.

He that loveth not knoweth not God: for God is Love.

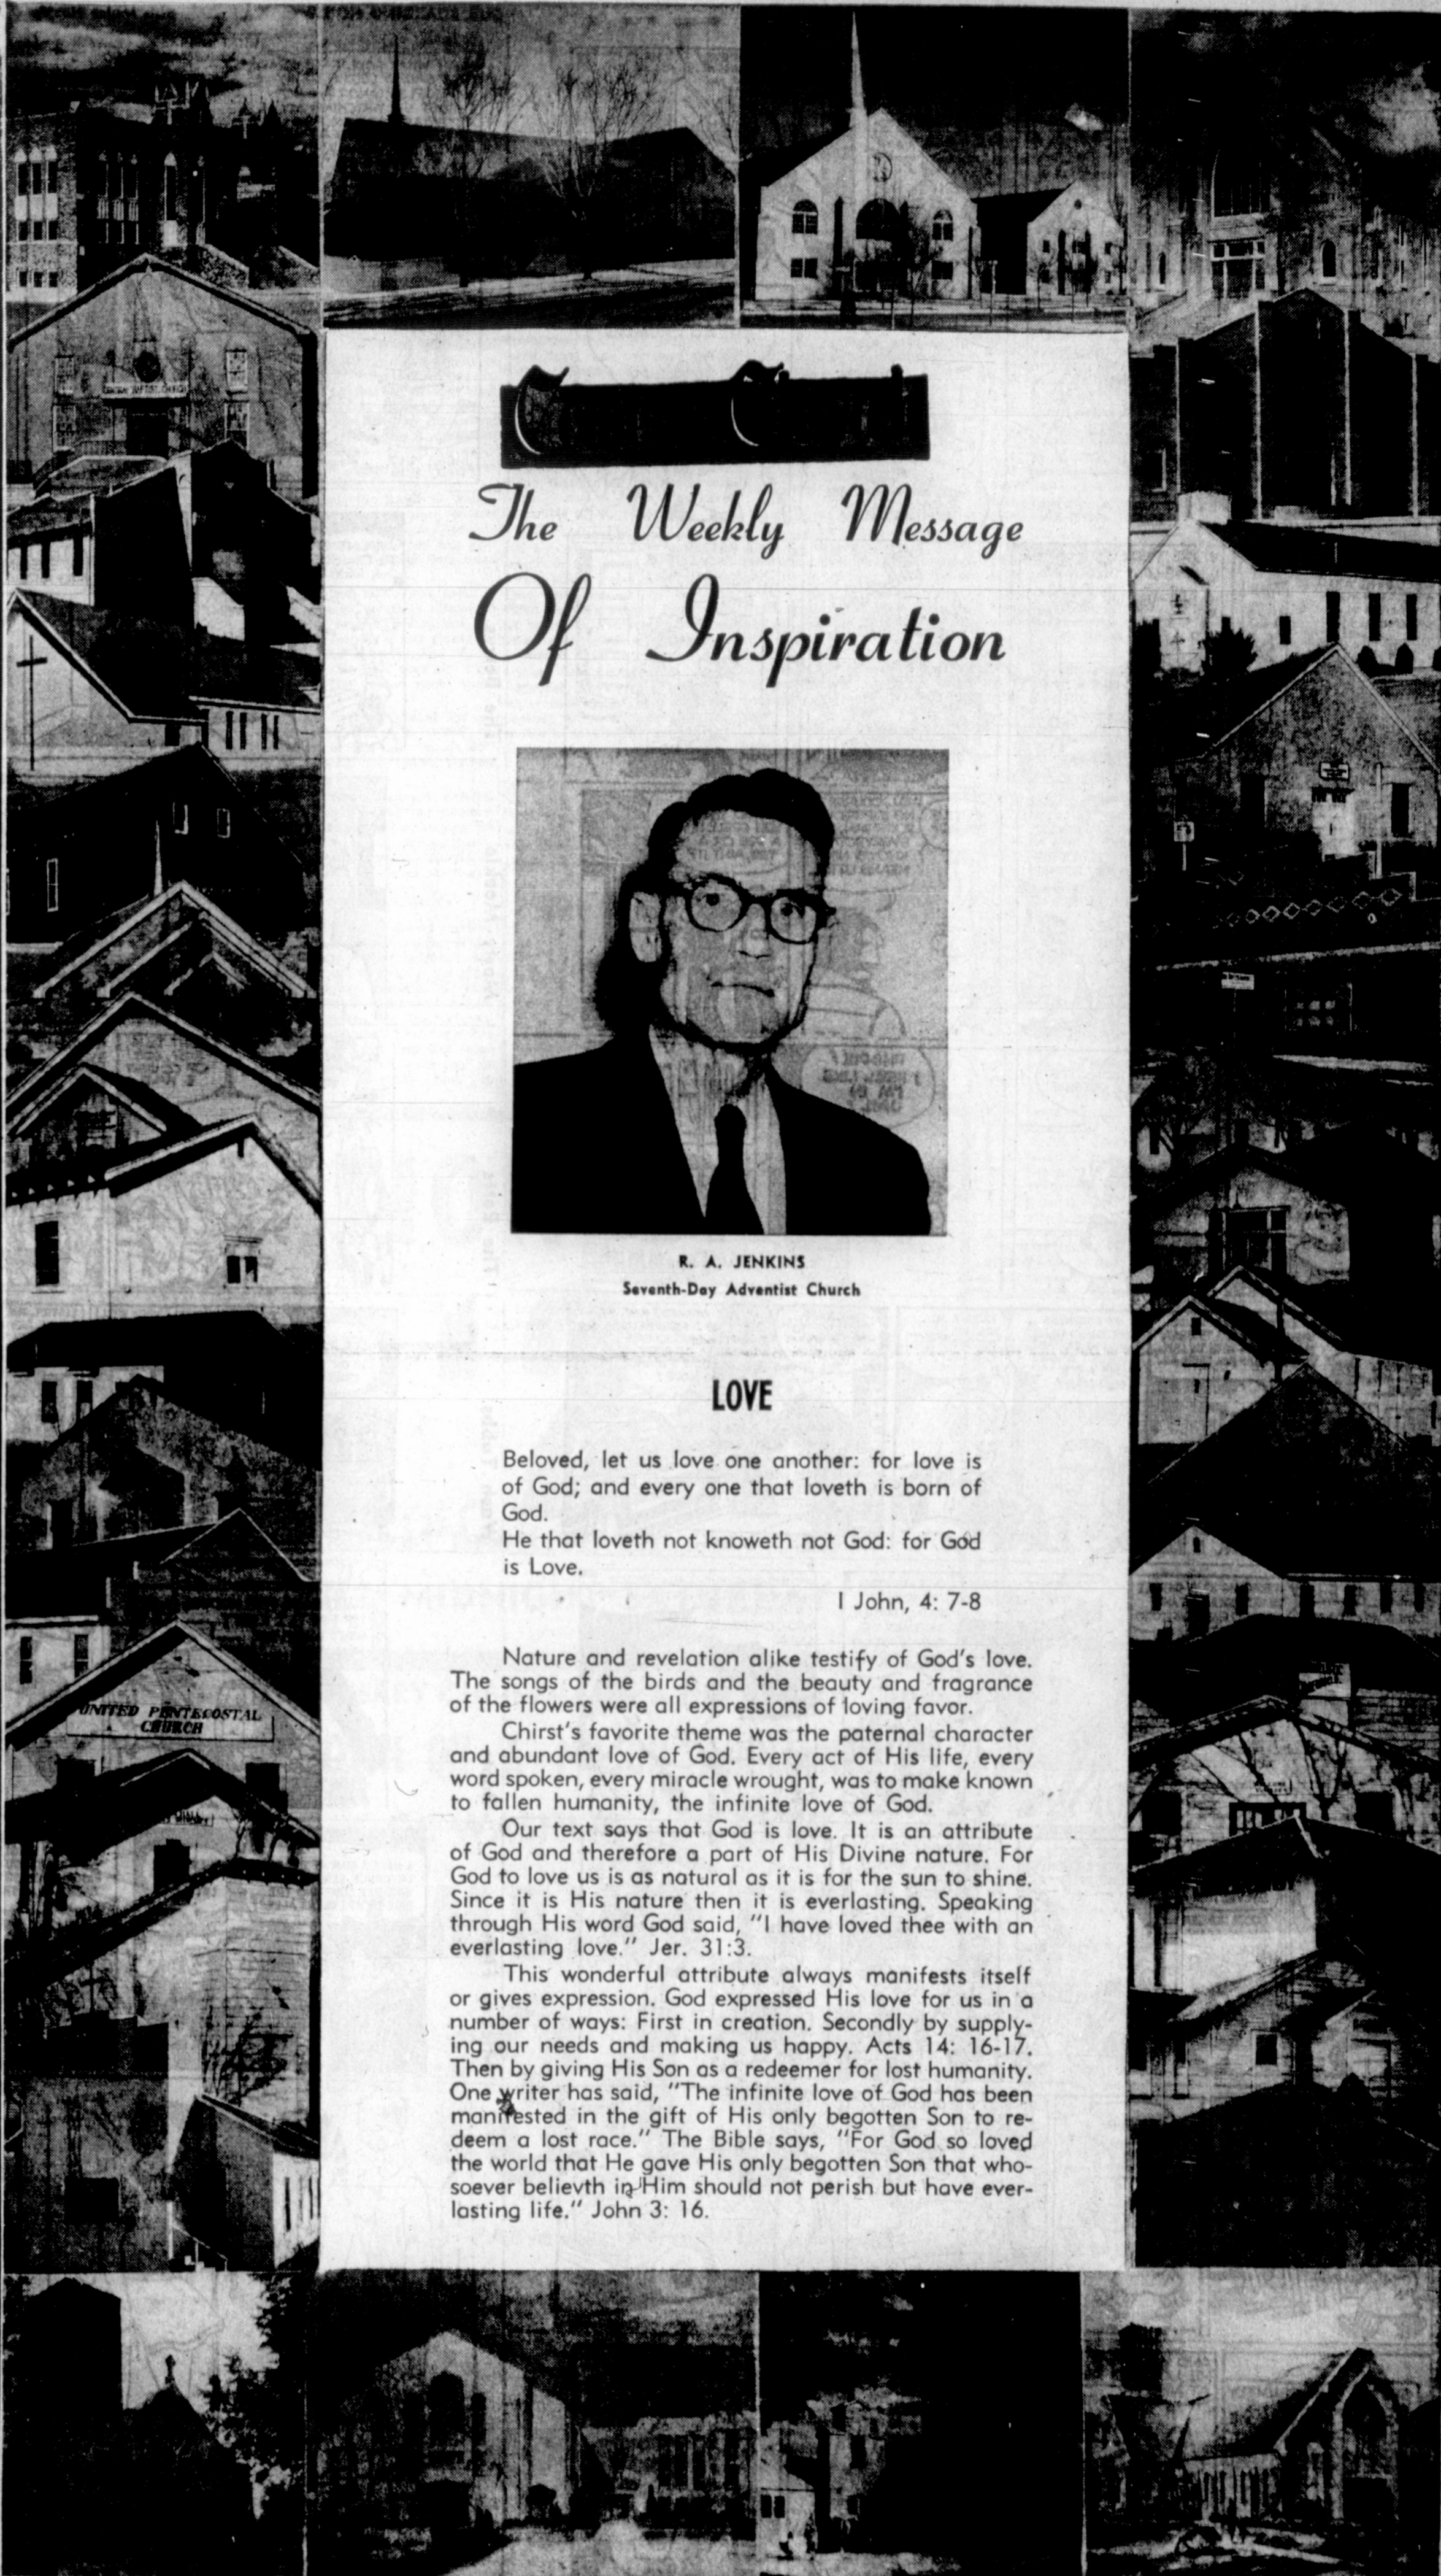

I John, 4: 7-8

Nature and revelation alike testify of God's love. The songs of the birds and the beauty and fragrance of the flowers were all expressions of loving favor.

Christ's favorite theme was the paternal character and abundant love of God. Every act of His life, every word spoken, every miracle wrought, was to make known to fallen humanity, the infinite love of God.

Our text says that God is love. It is an attribute of God and therefore a part of His Divine nature. For God to love us is as natural as it is for the sun to shine. Since it is His nature then it is everlasting. Speaking through His word God said, "I have loved thee with an everlasting love." Jer. 31:3.

This wonderful attribute always manifests itself or gives expression. God expressed His love for us in a number of ways: First in creation. Secondly by supplying our needs and making us happy. Acts 14: 16-17. Then by giving His Son as a redeemer for lost humanity. One writer has said, "The infinite love of God has been manifested in the gift of His only begotten Son to redeem a lost race." The Bible says, "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life." John 3: 16.

Less KP Seen For Scientists

WASHINGTON (UP)—G.I. scientists and engineers may be able to use their brains more and their feet and hands less in a new Army program to free them from kitchen, police and guard duty. In fact, many scientists and other professional men may not have to serve in the Army at all under a new missile-arms program outlined by Maj. Gen. Herbert M. Jones, adjutant Army general. Jones said the Army hoped to discharge some G.I. experts whose talents cannot be fully used by the Army to make them available to private industry. It also will look into the possibility of advising draft boards to pass over more such men so they can continue in their present jobs. Jones outlined the program in a letter to Rep. Albert W. Cretella (R-Conn.). In making the letter public Thursday, Cretella renewed a charge that the Army has grossly misused the talents of its G.I. scientists and technicians. The Congressman said he had just received "thoroughly documented information" that 53 engineers at the Aberdeen, Md., Proving Ground were spending an average 22 per cent of their time on such traditional GI chores as washing dishes and standing guard. Jones told Cretella the Army shared his concern at possible waste of scarce scientific talent. For this reason he said the Army's whole scientific and professional program is being subjected to a "critical reexamination."

Students Picket Diner

EL PASO (UP)—For the second day in a row, students at Texas Western College picketed college dining rooms Thursday with signs reading "Give Us Better Food" in a protest against beans and high prices. About 60 students formed a picket line at the dinner hour and were joined by a mob of other mess-bound students who helped boo the hungry few who braved the mob to enter the dining room. The rebellion started Wednesday night when a number of cots dumped their chili, rice, beans and canned peaches back into their trays and carried them back to the kitchen. The food service is handled by an El Paso caterer, and the college recently announced costs would be raised $20 a month next semester. Present charges are breakfast, 55 cents; lunch, 75 cents and dinner, 80 cents.

WASHINGTON (UP)—G.I. scientists and engineers may be able to use their brains more and their feet and hands less in a new Army program to free them from kitchen, police and guard duty. In fact, many scientists and other professional men may not have to serve in the Army at all under a new missile-arms program outlined by Maj. Gen. Herbert M. Jones, adjutant Army general. Jones said the Army hoped to discharge some G.I. experts whose talents cannot be fully used by the Army to make them available to private industry. It also will look into the possibility of advising draft boards to pass over more such men so they can continue in their present jobs. Jones outlined the program in a letter to Rep. Albert W. Cretella (R-Conn.). In making the letter public Thursday, Cretella renewed a charge that the Army has grossly misused the talents of its G.I. scientists and technicians. The Congressman said he had just received "thoroughly documented information" that 53 engineers at the Aberdeen, Md., Proving Ground were spending an average 22 per cent of their time on such traditional GI chores as washing dishes and standing guard. Jones told Cretella the Army shared his concern at possible waste of scarce scientific talent. For this reason he said the Army's whole scientific and professional program is being subjected to a "critical reexamination."

Timebombs Explode At US Air Base

ATHENS, Greece (UP)—Two small timebombs exploded at the United States Air Base at nearby Hellenikon early today. Four American airmen and a Greek guard were slightly injured. The American embassy announced.

The bombing followed a similar attack on the U.S. Information Service Center Thursday night in the downtown Athens. There was no report of casualties in the blast or the fire that followed. Police were alerted throughout the country, and all American buildings in the city and surrounding areas were placed under heavy guard.

Police said two bombs — weighing two and a quarter pounds each — were placed on two generators at the airbase. Both were knocked out of action.

A 10-pound bomb was used in the attack on the USIS offices on the attack on the USIS offices, according to police. It was placed on a shelf. The explosion and fire destroyed the first floor of the building. The second floor was a hard hit.

It was first speculated the attacks stemmed from Greek resentment of the U.S. "hands off" policy during the United Nations debate on Cyprus. But Athens afternoon newspapers implied that the Communists were responsible, staging the attacks as a demonstration against establishment of NATO missile bases on Greek territory.

WASHINGTON (UP)—Soviet weather missiles are being launched in the Antarctic, a Soviet scientist disclosed today. Writing in the magazine Literary Gazette, scientist A. 'Safety Patrol' For President Is Formed LONDON (UP)—Three British warships raced into an Atlantic gale today to help the U.S. Navy and Coast Guard operate a "safety patrol" for President Eisenhower's flight from Washington Paris.

The storm, which has raged throughout the North Atlantic for three days, was centered off the coast of France this morning. It packed surface winds up to 50 miles an hour over a 700-mile radius but gradually was decreasing in intensity.

It was not enough to interfere with regular commercial transatlantic flights, but four U.S. warships — not on guard duty — were in trouble off Portugal.

Other British ships stood by to aid another four U.S. destroyers caught in the storm off Lisbon. The Manley was heavily damaged and one of its crewmen killed instantly when a huge wave hit broadside and smashed the superstructure. It was limping slowly toward Lisbon.

Three accompanying destroyers — McCord, Vogelgesang and Gearing — radioed that they were desperately short of fuel and were unable to take on oil from a tanker because of the rough seas. A U.S. Navy spokesman said the Gearing had enough fuel to last until this evening and the McCord and the Vogelgesang could last a bit longer. If they are unable to take on fuel by then they

Harvesters Clash With Hobbs Tonight

Game Marks First Of Two-Day Series With New Mexico Team

Pampa's Harvesters will find a tough opponent in seeking their fifth straight victory tonight as they host the Hobbs, N.M., quintet in Harvester Field House at 8.

After losing the season's opening tilt to Childress, 49-48, the Harvesters have waited for four easy victories in downing Phillips, Elk City, Okla., and Vernon in games both there and at home.

The Hobbs team also carries only one loss for the season, that being to Duncan, Okla., 53-52. In a return clash, however, the New Mexico team clubbed Duncan, 71-76.

By mutual comparison, of Phillips, the Harvesters stand about equal with Hobbs, having downed the Blackhaws, 76-47, while Hobbs swept the Phillips game, 73-40.

Leading the scorers for Hobbs is senior #11 Richard Hall, who has sacked 39 points in the three games played for a 13 point per game average. Heading the Harvesters' scoring column is center Mack Layne, accounting for 78 points in five encounters for a 15.6 point per game average.

Offensively Pampa takes the edge having established a 78 point-per-game average, compared to 65 points per game scored by the Hobbs team. On the defensive side, however, Hobbs has allowed an average of 49 points per game while the Harvesters have allowed a 57 point average.

Hobbs is slated for a two-game series with the Harvesters, with the second tilt set for 8 p.m. tomorrow win Harvester Field House.

The Shockers will battle the Hobbs "B" team both evenings at 6:30 prior to the Harvester tilt. Boasting a 5-1 record, the Sophomore squad suffered its lone defeat from Claude in the first encounter of the season, and has since marched over the "B" teams of Childress, Phillips and Vernon.

Following the series with Hobbs, the Harvesters will have an opportunity to revenge their lone defeat as they host the Childress Bobcats in Harvester Field House tonight, Dec. 17.

Probable starters for tonight's game are:

Optimist Boxers Sweep Ten Of Thirteen Home Matches

San Angelo Slated Next

Pampa's Optimist Club boxers slugged their way to an outstanding team victory as they won ten of thirteen bouts with entries from Borger, Hereford and Memphis last night in Recreation Park Arena.

Highlighting the night for Pampa mittmen were three TKOs, scored by James Snyder, Bobby Williams and Dicky Powell.

Leading off in 80-pound bracket, Williams solved the southpaw style of John Johnson of Memphis midway in first round, and finished the battle 40" deep into the final by a called technical.

Also at 80 pounds, Powell managed to slug his way to a victory in the early seconds of the second round as he routed Don Cornelius of the Hereford team.

Rounding out the TKOs for the Pampa sluggers was James Snyder in the 145 pound division over Sherman Newsom of Memphis. In the hard-slugging fray, Snyder had his opponent staggering in the second and third rounds with a hard driving rights, but was deep into the final when a right to the mid-section collapsed Newsom to finish the contest.

At 112 pounds, Kenny "Tiger" Powell of Pampa and Donnie Leslie of Borger brought the fans to their feet in one of the wildest, hardest swinging battles of the evening. Constantly aggressive, Powell met a steady drubbing of hard, straight rights during the entire fight until his determination began to pay off in the final round as he succeeded in stunning Leslie, but never managed to bring him down. Powell took the decision in the gamely contested slugfest.

Another of the top bouts took place as Charles Snyder gained a decision and near-TKO over Shorty Morris of Memphis. A relentless fighter with a smashing right, Snyder bore in on the two exchanged a vicious series of blows through the first round and midway through the second until the power of Snyder's punches began weakening Morris. In the final round, Snyder had Morris dazed and stumbling and as the referee checked the fighter for a possible technical decision, the final bell ended the bout.

At 135 pounds, Charles Coffee battled to a decision for Pampa as he defeated A. B. Fincher of Amarillo in one of the more unusual fights of the evening. Coffee, always lethal with a powerful and ranging right, did little feeling out and a lot of swinging as he crashed his way to the win over Fincher in a fastmoving bout, marked mainly by the constant action of the two sluggers.

In a slightly unorthodox but impressive match Robert Bigham of Pampa took a decision over Kayro Riddle in one of the more unusual fights of the night. Bigham packed exceptional power in alternating punches to batter his way to the victory over Riddle.

Next on tap for the Pampa sluggers will be matches with San Angelo next Thursday, Dec. 19. The visiting teams boasts some of the top fighters in the central Texas area and will furnish matches for all of Pampa's top ringmen.

Complete results, by weight, of last night's bouts are as follows:

SMU, Aggies Drop Tilts In Southwest Encounters

By UNITED PRESS

Defending champion Southern Methodist and Texas A&M, the two of most losing basketball teams in the Southwest Conference, did it again Thursday night.

Oklahoma's Sooners and the Spiders of the University of Richmond turned back the two Texas entries, with SMU losing 66-58 and the Aggies 70-50.

The Mustangs played one of their better games of the year, but couldn't cope with the accuracy shown by Oklahoma. The Sooners hit a torrid 47 per cent of their shots, and 54 per cent in the final half.

Sooner ace Joe King led scoring with 23 points, while SMU's Bob James was second with 21.

The Aggies fell behind from the opening gun and never even threatened as Richmond won its fourth straight.

Hitting an icy 26.7 per cent of their shots, the Aggies fell as far behind as 25 points several times during the game. They trailed 33-22 at halftime.

Aggie center Wayne Lawrence led scoring with 16 points, 14 of them coming after the intermission.

H-SU Downs Howard Payne

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (UP)—Hardin-Simmons, behind the 41-point total of Carl Knight and Doyle Edmiston, handed Howard Payne a 72-62 basketball beating Thursday night.

Knight dumped in 26 points for the Cowboys and grabbed off 15 rebounds, while Edmiston tossed in 15 points and grabbed 26 rebounds. Top scorer for the Yellow-jackets was Stanley Owen with 15.

Eagles Meet Highland Park In Highlight Tilt Of Week End

By UNITED PRESS

They start trimming the field to the surviving eight finalists in the Texas schoolboy football playoffs tonight with once-beaten Terrell in Class AA and perfect-record Mart in Class A favored to make the grade in the two games on tap.

Terrell's terrific Tigers tackle undefeated-untied Seymour at Terrell in the North half of the AA semifinals, while Mart's Bulldogs face Jourdan's once-beaten outfit at Dalling in the lower bracket game in Class A.

These contests, however, serve only as teasers for the main show coming up Saturday afternoon when Abilene meets Highland Park and Austin takes on Port Arthur in Class AAAA penultimate games and Sweetwater faces Cleburne and Nederland meets San Antonio Edison in the Class AAA semifinals.

Brady Slight Favorite

The other semifinals contests will have Sundown meeting White Oak at Breckenridge Saturday afternoon in Class A and Brady playing West Columbia at San Marcos Saturday night in Class AA. The Class A game is a toss-up, while Brady rules a slight favorite over West Columbia.

Coach Chuck Moser's mighty Abilene Eagles, whose 49-game winning streak is the best in the nation's schoolboy football history, will rule a slight choice to nip

South won and played ace and one diamond finessing the jack. Then the club finesse was worked while dummy still held another diamond entry. Dear Santa, Please bring me a bicycle, a sewing machine, a viewmaster, by veterans in the last few years about percentage reductions in disability ratings. In some of these cases, a veteran has had his percentage of disability measurably reduced on the basis that previous examinations had been in error. The veterans have found it most difficult to understand how 6 or 7 doctors on previous examinations could have committed the same error in rating their disability. Some also have found it difficult to understand how the Veterans Administration can reach a conclusion that a disability was not connected even though the case had been reviewed on several occasions in the past and service-connection of the disability had always been established. Many have speculated that a program has been in effect to reduce the benefits to veterans by gradually cutting down their percentage of disability. Many veterans, in all walks of life, are deeply disturbed, because they feel if the veterans benefits are to be reduced, the last to suffer should be those bearing the scars and disabilities of actual battle. Watch for some fireworks on this issue. WALTER ROGERS Member of Congress 18th District of Texas

Same Old Scheme

Last year, under the leadership of President Eisenhower, and encouraged by the largest lobby in the country, the National Education Association (NEA), efforts were made to bring about a massive program of federal "aid" to education. The leadership, the encouragement and the program failed.

And not long ago, the NEA, carefully judging the temper of the time, announced that it would forego a similar move in 1958.

We wondered at the time just what such an apparent retreat signified. Now we know. Dickson Preston, a writer for the Scripps-Howard organization, has come out with the scoop. The NEA, the President, and others, are going to carry on the same fight, but under a different flag. Instead of seeking to put through a multi-billion dollar grab in which the federal government itself will pay for the erection of new and extravagant school construction, the federal government will engineer the grab, and then pass the loot over to the several states so they can handle their own building programs with federal money.

It's the familiar back alley approach to an otherwise front door robbery.

And behind it this time is a committee of ten governors, five Democrats and five Republicans, chaired by Governor Lane Dwinell of New Hampshire.

Quite naturally, the other collectivized forces of the country will all be in the wings or on stage, speaking their lines right on cue.

It seems that the federal program of lifting so much money from the taxpayers ran into some snags which, by this new device, the promoters hope to eliminate. To wit: By turning the federal money back to the states, they hope the onus of "federal control of education" can be overcome. Also, the integration issue is largely sidestepped, since the federal coin would be used by integrated or segregated states under their own cognizance.

But, of course, the new program, which will probably be announced in the President's first-of-the-year State of the Union Message, provides a distinction without a difference. Federal control will still exist, but it will be one step away from visibility. And so far as the race problem is concerned, there is little reason to suppose that this, too, can be solved by anything so frightfully transparent as the little dodge of passing the coin of the realm back to the several states.

The major fact is this. Even under its disguise, the victim of the whole program will be the nation's taxpayer. If billions are to be taken from him, he will be short those billions, whether the plunder occurs in his bedroom or on the front porch. And the schools will still be the political monstrosity they presently have become, despite all camouflage and protective coloration.

This battle over our nation's school system is actually an outrage. It is totally unnecessary. Our educational problems cannot be politically solved. The more a solution is sought by means of the tax gun and the use of compulsion, the more the problem will grow and spread out to cover still more ground.

Education, like religion, is a private affair. It concerns individuals. It does not become a matter of government fulmination, despite the desire of the politicians to intrude and make the schools into hot houses of propaganda favorable to themselves.

The forceful regimentation of America's young minds, whether the man with the gun wears a state or a federal uniform, is a carry-over from barbarism. Thought control is abhorrent to any rational person. But so long as we resort to political cures for educational problems, we will find our politicians playing Svengali, and our youth losing interest, able only to do as its mentor subtly suggests.

Here is what the committee of governors, the "joint-federal-state action committee" has been asked to do:

1. Reassess the schoolroom needs of each community according to the most optimistic and rosetate dreams possible.
2. Measure the financial ability of each community on the most glorious and extravagant base possible.
3. Request new laws which will facilitate state control and state financing of all schools.
4. Plan for a state referendum where something like this is essential in order to remove the last vestiges of local control.

How will it all be financed? Oh, yes, there is that detail. You can look for the federal government to institute gigantic increases in the telephone tax, the tobacco tax and in estate and gift taxes.

Regimentation, here it comes!

LESSON FROM DOWN UNDER

(Chicago Tribune)

Late Saturday the highly favored governing National party was turned out of office in a general election in New Zealand and the Socialists reinstated in power after an absence of eight years. In 1949 the National party ended 34 years of socialist rule and was the first conservative party to reverse the postwar socialist domination over many countries.

The National party remained in office through two subsequent elections and went into Saturday's contest holding 45 seats in parliament to the Labor opposition's 35. A third party which made its appearance in 1954 under the banner of Social Credit won no seats in that election but did cut into the established parties by taking 110,000 votes, damaging the National party most. On Saturday it played the same role of spoiler. During their long tenure in office before 1949 the Laborites pushed socialization of the economy to the limit. Comprehensive social security made the burden on the New Zealand taxpayer the heaviest in the world. Railroads and domestic air lines were nationalized, and radio was a state monopoly. Government corporations worked coal mines, operated a flax industry, a woolpack and textiles enterprises, communications, electricity, coastal shipping, and large public housing developments. The largest branch bank was nationalized. Prices were rigidly controlled.

The voter rebellion eight years ago sought the end of all this, but the hopes of New Zealanders were disappointed. The supposed conservatives of the National party went into the recent election championing the welfare state, social security, child allowances, and old age benefits. Enterprises already nationalized remained so. And how did the Socialist stage their comeback? By pressing for more socialization of the means of production? Hardly, for they almost had to be reminded that they remained in their

American State Papers On Freedom In Religion

One of the things that astounded me in the book by the above name, was how a man who was as devoted to liberty as was Patrick Henry introduced a resolution in the General Assembly of Virginia in May, 1784, favoring a general tax for the support of religion.

In spite of this slip in Henry, the book relates how Henry went 50 miles to defend a Baptist minister who had been arrested on violating religious laws. Certainly "Consistency, thou art a jewel," even with men like Henry.

The book relates how Washington opposed government interfering in religion. He said:

"... and if I could now conceive that the general government might ever be so administered as to render the liberty of conscience insecure, I beg you will be persuaded that no one would be more zealous than myself to establish effectual barriers against the horrors of spiritual tyranny, and every species of religious persecution — For you, doubtless, remember that I have often expressed my sentiment that every man, conducting himself as a good citizen, and being accountable to God alone for his religious opinions, ought to be protected in worshipping the Deity according to the dictates of his own conscience."

Property In Religion

The author relates how Madison regarded one's time and religion in property. He puts it this way:

"... its larger and juster meaning, it (property) embraces everything to which a man may attach a value and have a right; and which leaves to every one else the like advantage. A man has property in his opinions and the free communication of them. He has a property of peculiar value in his religious opinions; and in the profession and practice dictated by them. In a word, as a man is said to have a right to his property, he may be equally said to have a property in his rights."

"Government is instituted to protect property of the various sorts, as well that which lies in the various rights of individuals, as that which the term particularly expresses. This being the end of government, that alone is a just government which impartially secures to every man, whatever is his own.

"According to this standard of merit, the praise of affording a just security to property, should be sparingly bestowed on a government which, however scrupulously guarding the possessions of individuals, does not protect them in the enjoyment and communication of their opinions, in which they have an equal, and in the estimation of some, a more valuable property. More sparingly should this praise be allowed to a government, where a man's religious rights are violated by penalties, or fettered by tests, or taxed by a hierarchy. Conscience is the most sacred of all property; other property depending, in part, on positive law, the exercise of that (conscience) being a natural and inalienable right. To guard a man's house as his castle, to pay public and enforce private debts with the most exact faith, can give no title to invade a man's conscience which is more sacred than his cattle, or to withhold from it that debt of protection, for which the public faith is pledged, by the very nature and original conditions of the social pact."

On "The Sphere of Civil Government and The Natural Rights of Man," Jefferson is quoted as follows, in 1816:

"Our legislators are not sufficiently apprised of the rightful limits of their power; that their true office is to declare and enforce only our natural rights and duties, and to take none of them from us. No man has a natural right to commit aggression on the equal rights of another; and this is all from which the laws ought to restrain him; every man is under the natural duty of contributing to the necessities of the society; and this is all the laws should enforce on him; and, no man having a natural right to be the judge between himself and another, it is his natural duty to submit to the umpirage of an impartial third. When the laws have declared and enforced all this, they have fulfilled their functions; and the idea is quite unfounded, that on entering into society we give up any natural right. The trial of every law by one of these texts, would lessen much the labors of our legislators, and lighten equally our municipal codes."

William Lloyd Garrison, on religious freedom, made this statement:

"Certain we are that all attempts to coerce an observance of the Sabbath by legislation have been, must be, and ought to be, nugatory."

platform. Instead of trying to sell socialism, they resorted to the oldest political device in the book: They borrowed conservative bait and promised to lower taxes.

What has happened in New Zealand has its parallel here. A Republican party was voted control of the government in 1952 to end the excesses and statism of the New Deal. It promptly discovered that it was not the traditional Republican party which the voters thought it to be, but was a "modern Republican" party. It embraced the whole body of New Deal doctrine. Hardly a law, hardly a measure, introduced by Roosevelt and Truman was junked.

Demos Signify Direct Attack On Eisenhower

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — The Democrats have finally decided to dilute their co-operation with the Administration in the Sputnik controversy by making full political capital out of America's original unpreparedness and what they will regard as a "lack of feeling of urgency." It is one of the most important decisions in partisan warfare in many years, and signifies a direct attack upon President Eisenhower.

They will unveil their determination when the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee, headed by Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, resumes hearings within a few days. Johnson's staff has uncovered startling evidence of Administration indifference to scientific and military experimentation since the November inquiries.

The Democrats will receive considerable support from some Republican colleagues in House and Senate, especially the most powerful Republican in the Upper Chamber — Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire.

SENATOR DISTURBED—Bridges is seriously disturbed over this country's condition. Together with Vice President Nixon, he was among the first to call for sacrifices when Sherman Adams was referring to the "red moon" as a "scar" in a basketball game in outer space.

Bridges, incidentally, is a member of the anti-Adams political faction in their home state. He obviously shares the belief of numerous Democrats that Adams' policy of official secrecy and protection of the President from the receipt of disturbing information is partially responsible for our failure to at least keep pace with the Russians. Thus, the Democrats are not alone in making the Sputniks a political issue. Numerous anti-Eisenhower and pro-Nixon Republicans are only too willing to go along. They have never felt comfortable under the pressures and policies of the Administration's "modern Republicanism."

WANT CRISIS ACTION — The Capitol Hill critics believe that they can pursue this strategy without endangering national security because the whole world, including the Communist Empire, recognize our technological failure. Only by raising the specter of political reprisal and defeat at the polls, in their opinion, can they force the White House, the State Department, the Pentagon and the Budget Bureau into crisis action.

There is another underlying reason for this bipartisan decision. It stems from the historic struggle for power between the Executive and the Legislative arms of the government. The current national defense emergency simply provides a new battlefield, and what many legislators believe to be a suspicious terrain for the Capitol Hill brigade.

Although his predecessors — Roosevelt and Truman — inaugurated the system, Eisenhower has expanded the program under which the Budget Director has almost final judgment over policy matters affecting Federal finances. He has robbed Congress of its constitutional control of the public purse, as Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia so frequently warns.

CHAIN OF COMMAND — Eisenhower has also delegated authority through a chain-of-command arrangement, especially to Adams, to such an alarming degree that Congress finds difficulty in filing complaints, and in assessing the blame for blunders. They cannot ferret out the responsible official.

The President, in effect, has disassociated himself from the members — and from the politicians — of a co-equal body.

Thus, the forthcoming controversy over the Sputniks embraces a larger and more important field than merely the military. It will represent a Congressional Challenge and protest against the 25-year-old attempt to three Chief Executives — and a co-operative Supreme Court — to take over and centralize power which, in the belief of many legislators, belongs by constitutional definition to Congress or to the States.

The Doctor Says

By Edwin J. Jordan, M. D.

THERE are a number of possible causes for such unpleasant symptoms as dizziness, ringing in the ears and hardness of hearing. A large group of inquirers asks for a discussion of these symptoms, either singly or in combination.

Probably the most common cause is the disorder (or possibly group of disorders) known as Meniere's syndrome, or Meniere's disease. It was first described over a hundred years ago by Prosper Meniere, a Frenchman, who gave it his name.

Occasionally, the symptoms which make up Meniere's syndrome are the result of tumors, injury, fractures or infection, for example, but in most cases the cause is not so obvious. Most frequently it is considered to be the accumulation of fluid or dropsy in the deep portion of the ear called the labyrinth, though just what brings this about remains rather obscure.

THIS DROPSICAL condition does not develop in young people, but becomes more and more common after the age of 45. It may involve both ears. Actually the attacks of dizziness generally bother patients more than the unpleasant noises, or even the loss of hearing.

The treatment of Meniere's syndrome is not due to accumulation of fluid or dropsy depends on what can be done for the original cause. In the case of Meniere's disease of the dropsical variety, the problem is difficult.

Many victims find that drinking a lot of fluids tends to bring on an attack. As a result some forms of treatment are aimed at reducing the intake of fluid or trying to remove as much fluid from the body as possible.

SEVERAL MEDICAL treatments have been tried. Surgery

The rest of the United States may not be very interested in the moon, but California sure ought to be. Since one state can have but one Governor, one Vice-President, one Presidential candidate, and a limited number of Senators, California is greatly in need of a celestial annex in which to store surplus politicians.

Harvard-Smith Rivalry And A New Invention

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK — A friend of mine, the son of an old bootlegger who made many millions anticipating the majesty of the Twenty-First Amendment, which is the Law of the Land (hats off in the court, everybody rise, no smoking), has just been in with a great bundle of stuff. It is a formula for skin whiskey, a wonderful discovery which removes the deleterious elements and leaves a concentrate of all the best ingredients. These build character and contribute calcium to the dental and osseous apparatus (the plural, you know) and therefore are especially desirable for teething babies and young mothers. Young fathers thrive on it too. These ingredients also sharpen the intellect. My friend's son said this would be a great asset now that we are in such a hurry to overtake the Russians. The Russians have been drinking vodka for a thousand years while we were drinking 40-proof, red eye and panther. I guess I need not tell you about the Russian dog that jumped over the moon in a tin can.

The father of this young man, this old bootlegger, never had no advantages in life himself so he sent this son to a prominent Eastern university which is noted for the lousiness of its football teams and the ruddiness of its professoriat. Years and years ago, when I was covering Ivy League football and bean-bag, the daisy chain and the maypole in the Hudson River-Berkshire Women's Intercollegiate Conference, some drunk got the assignment book balled up and I found myself up at this prominent Eastern university where the Smith girls were caught off guard, a very embarrassing thing for girls named Smith. All of a sudden they were down there on their own 600-yard line screaming and squalling and yelling "Hold 'em Yale!"

I never could make out what Yale had to do with this situation, because this was up at Harvard. I remember that big red bass drum on the rubber-tired wheels. But, as I said, earlier, this drunk, his name was Gregory Feeny, but not his real name. His real name was Coppola and he came from the hills back of Naples and his family were practically the backbone of the Mafia. I think the American press deserves great praise for coming right out with it every time some hoodlum gang is also employed with success in some cases and not in others.

Recently a new theory on the cause of Meniere's disease has been suggested. This proposes that the underlying cause is a chronic progressive neuritis in the labyrinth of the ear with the formation of a kind of crop of blisters. The theory also holds that the symptoms are the result of breaking of these blisters from time to time.

It should be emphasized that this theory has yet to be fully confirmed.

For I reckon that the sufferings of the present time are worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us. — Romans 8:18

There comes a time for all of us when we must give up and trust Can never, never die. Although the "red moon" is that a cause to grieve? The future's fairer than the past if only we believe in it. And trust in God's eternal care. So when the "red moon" is shining, let's say that life is still more fair. Although the curtain falls.

We take this means to express our most sincere appreciation to our friends who called and who came to attend the last rites of our beloved father and grandfather, William G. Supper and evening star. And one leaf call for me. And may there be no moaning of the lark. When I put out to sea. But such a tide as moving seems asleep. Too full for sound or foam. When that which drew from out the boundless deep.

Turns again home. Turns again home. Twilight and evening bell, And after that the dark. And may there be no sadness of farewell. When I embark: For though from out our bourne of time and space The flood may bear me far, I hope to see my Pilot face to face When I have crossed the bar.

And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are called according to his purpose. — Roman 8:28

We wish to thank our many kind neighbors and friends who were so thoughtful of us during the illness and death of our beloved father. For the lovely flowers sent in respect, for the meals prepared by the Sunday School class of Highland Baptist Church and every kind deed we are grateful. We especially wish to thank Rev. M. B. Smith of Highland Baptist Church for the beautiful sermon which comforted our hearts, and for the lovely music. May God bless each of you.

Well, there I was up at Harvard and the little Smith girls Margaret, the one with the braces on her teeth, and Helen, who wore bifocals, were screaming something very strident. I thought they were screaming "Stop that kick! Stop that kick!" I turned to Paul Gallico, who was quite an authority on foreign languages because his father gave violin lessons, I said, "Gallico, old one, dit moi, why are those crazy little girls yelling 'Stop that kick!'"

Gallico answered me in German. He said, "They are not yelling 'Stop that kick!'" he said, "They are yelling 'Stop that!'" I said, "I said, 'Stop what?'" I said, "Those Harvards are notorious for their gentleness. In fact, girls complain of it. Ask Wellesley! Ask any girl at Skidmore. After all, there will always be a Saltonstall. He said, "That is what puzzles me," he said, "Confidentially, I have been puzzled all day long because I am supposed to be down at Annapolis for Notre Dame-Navy and here we are upside down."

I said, "Let us listen some more." So we listened and there came from the great throng on the Harvard side of the arena a wild, strident, piercing, soprano wail: "We want a touchdown! We want a touchdown!" I said, "Listen to those daffy Harvards yelling for a touchdown! What good would one touchdown do? Score 106 to 0, 11 seconds to go, and they want a touchdown." Gallico said: "I wonder how vassar made out."

The Smith girls were yacking away, "Stopit, stopit, stopit-stopit!" Pantomime reigned. This invention has another great advantage. It comes in plain little gelatine capsules although when the Madison Avenue stylizers conference the proposition they probably will turn out all kinds of beautiful color designs. You can carry a handful of whiskey concentrate capsules in your pocket and pop them into your mouth like salted peanuts and get loaded right in class or in the office. And no breath, either. This marvelous retractor that my friend's kid invented takes that out, too. No hang-over, either. Smith married a lawyer from C.C.N.Y., and he is now a judge of the First U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. Her teeth got straightened out okay and she writes a column on juvenile delinquency for the New Republic.

The other one never married. I didn't have to tell you this, but I thought it better to give it to you straight rather than the distorted versions that get talked around. The grand old Harvard-Smith rivalry is one of the most beautiful traditions in the lore of our country, but some nasty minds would make amut of anything.

Unusual Diamond Displays Gene Moore's Responsibility

(Woman's View)
By GAY PAULEY
United Press Women's Editor
NEW YORK, Dec. 13 (UP)—It makes me wince to see what Gene Moore does with a girl's best friend, diamonds.

They're supposed to be precious stones, but Gene drags them casually through mud puddles, tosses them into snow, even "bakes" them in a pot-bellied stove.

It's part of his job as the display man responsible for all the local and visiting gawkers queuing in front of Tiffany's on Fifth Avenue these days.

Unveils Christmas Displays
This week, Moore unveiled his Christmas window display displays and had quite an audience in spite of the rain and subway strike. Maybe the $300,000 Tiffany diamond, a rare canary type, helped. Moore suspended it in one window, with a backdrop of a Venetian street scene. He said he was inspired by a visit to Venice last summer. But to give a Yuletide touch, he replaced the usual pigeons with snow and sprinkled it with lesser diamonds.

"Handling that $300,000 stone always scares me," said the young display man, whose unorthodox settings for jewelry have made him the talk of the town. "And emeralds... I'm always afraid I'll drop one and it'll shatter. I suppose these are fears no girl would have."

Blames Hunger
Moore, a native of Alabama, studied at Chicago's Academy of Fine Arts and started in life as a portrait painter. He said hunger drove him to the display field, first for a chain of shoe stores, then to specialty shops, and now to the jewelry store.

In two years at Tiffany's, he has had diamonds "floating" on a running stream (using a fish tank motor to agitate the water and invisible plastic discs to hold the diamonds on the surface); rubies pouring forth, like blasts of heat, from pot-bellied stoves, and pearl bracelets casually draped across a miniature highway lined with telephone poles.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J.—United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther on new wage demands by labor in 1958:

"While American labor will cooperate wholeheartedly in the national defense effort, no need has been demonstrated for any wage freeze or nationwide extension of the statutory work week."

DALLAS, Tex.—Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson on his suggestion the 40-hour week may have to be abandoned for missile workers:

"There has never been a thought in my mind of repealing any wage and hour law or any other such law."

Matter of FACT

It took Noah Webster 20 years to prepare his first dictionary of the English language. For 10 of those years, Webster studied English and its connection with other languages. Another year was spent in Europe before the dictionary was completed in 1827. The dictionary, first published in 1828, contained 12,000 words and 40,000 definitions that had never appeared in any similar work before.
