To Ride In Parade

Santa Will Visit Here Tomorrow

Christmas activities in Pampa will be launched tomorrow with a Santa Claus Parade which will begin at 3:30 p.m. with floats, bands and special attractions featured. Parade marshal for this year will be Bill Leonard, Warrant Officer of the local National Guard Unit. Members of the unit will provide the color guard for the parade. Seven bands including Lefors, White Deer, McLean, Shamrock, and three Pampa school bands, will be in the parade. The parade, which will form at the intersection of Craven and S. Cuyler, will proceed north on Cuyler, around the Junior High School building, south along Frost to the Court House where the Pampa Junior High band will "fall out" for a concert of Christmas music. The remainder of the parade entries will proceed down Frost to Foster where they will turn right and march down to Gray, then south one block and break up on Atchison.

Santa will be on the Court House square after the parade to talk to the kiddies and hand out candy-filled stockings which, according to the Merchant Activities Committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, are in the number of some 4,000.

Appropriate prizes will be awarded to outstanding parade entries. The parade will be the first recognition of the Yuletide season other than the Christmas decorations which were installed Sunday by the local Jaycees.

The decorations this year have an added touch with boy and girl carolers being attached to the light posts and giant Santa cut-outs on the intersection posts.

Immediately following the Santa Parade activities, a pancake supper sponsored by the Jaycees will be held at 5:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

Items necessary for the supper will be furnished by the Quaker Oats Company, Kennedy Distributing Company, Morton's Distributing Company, Panhandle Packing Company, Fite Food Market, Mead's Bakery, Plains Creamery, Kraft Foods and Ideal Food Stores.

The cooking and serving for the supper will be completely under the direction of the Jaycee members, acting as chefs.

The affair will be highlighted by the presence of "Aunt Jemima" and Santa Claus.

Tickets may be purchased from Jaycee members at $1 for adults and 50 cents for children with children under six being admitted free of charge.

A door-to-door ticket sales campaign will be held tonight by the Jaycees. In order to purchase tickets tonight, the club members urge Pampans to leave their porches open.

Leonard R. Cain, Walter Elliott, W. B. Minter, and W. A. Perkins, of Lefors.

From McLean Homer Abbott, J. L. Andrews, Clyde Magee, Neville Beck, Ernest Beck, Ted Glass, Mrs. Miro Pagan, and E. J. Windom, Sr.

May Preside At Cabinet Meeting

Ike Heads Back To Washington

By NEIL MACNEIL
United Press Staff Correspondent
GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UP)—President Eisenhower headed back to Washington today after a long weekend of recuperating from his mild stroke. He hoped to preside at a Cabinet meeting at the White House this afternoon.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the chief executive was continuing to make an "excellent" recovery from the seizure he suffered a week ago.

The President left his farm by automobile with his personal physician, Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder. A final decision whether he can attend the cabinet session was to be made after he reached the White House.

"Good Night's Rest" The President and Mrs. Eisenhower went to Gettysburg Friday after spending Thanksgiving Day in Washington. Eisenhower relaxed over the long weekend by frolicking with his four grandchildren, watching Saturday's televised Army-Navy football game and touring his farm.

Hagerty told newsmen that the President "had a very good night's sleep again" last night. He said Eisenhower went to bed about 10:30 p.m. and did not wake until 7:30 this morning.

Hagerty relayed to reporters Snyder's judgment of the President's health this morning: "Progress continues to be excellent."

On the Cabinet meeting, Hagerty said "all I can say is that the President hopes to attend the Cabinet meeting."

Hagerty also was unable to say whether Eisenhower would attend a White House meeting with congressional leaders and Adlai E. Stevenson Tuesday. If he does not, Vice President Richard M. Nixon will substitute for him.

Activity Not Confined
In answer to another question about the President's increased activities, Hagerty said that he did not know of anything Eisenhower had wanted to do since his illness that his doctors have forbidden.

If Eisenhower attends Tuesday's meeting with congressional leaders, he will come face to face for the first time since his reelection with Stevenson, his defeated Democratic opponent.

The State Department announced Sunday night that Stevenson, acting as special consultant to the President on plans for the Dec. 16 Atlantic Alliance "summit" meeting, will participate in the portion of the legislative meeting dealing with the Dec. 16 Paris conference.

While the White House had no official word on whether the President will attend the legislative talks, he is known to be anxious to do so and presumably will attend if his doctors do not veto such action.

May Follow Schedule
The fact that they were willing to give him a go-ahead on attending today's cabinet session indicated he probably will be able to carry out his original plan to attend the legislative get-together barring any setback in his current "excellent" recovery from a mild stroke.

Among other things expected to be discussed is a Defense Department budget of around $19 billion dollars, including more money for missiles, that may be given close to final approval. Modifications in some of the spending and legislative plans (See IKE, Page 3)

On Ending War Tensions

Dag, Jordanian Officials Deadlock

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
Dag Hammarskjold was reported deadlocked with Jordanian officials today on ways of ending the current tension between Israel and Jordan. Israel also showed no indication of retreating from its position.

Hammarskjold flew to the Middle East at request of the Jordanian government. He plans to go to Israel Tuesday for talks with Premier David Ben-Gurion and Foreign Minister Golda Meir. He is to visit Syria later, but a spokesman said he had no plans to visit Egypt now.

The situation was made more difficult by reports of two border incidents Sunday, one a sharp engagement in which Israel charged that Jordanian troops attacked with automatic rifles and hand grenades.

Amman dispatches said the United Nations Secretary General began the second day of his talks today with King Hussein and other Jordanian leaders but that neither side appeared ready to climb down.

Wants Leary Out
Jordan demands the ouster of U.S. Marine Col. Byron T. Leary, acting head of the cracky truce machinery, and insists that Hammarskjold visit Mount Scopus, the Israeli enclave Jordan claims Israel is militarizing inside Jordan Jerusalem.

While Hammarskjold was talking Sunday with Foreign Minister Samir Rifai and Hussein, Israel alleged that Jordanian troops opened fire in hopes of increasing border tension. Jordan denied the Israeli charges.

An Israeli military spokesman in Jerusalem said a group of Jordanians attacked a watchman at the settlement of Adhain, north of Beit Govrin, early Sunday morning. The watchman called Israeli reinforcements who beat off the attackers, the spokesman said. One Israeli was wounded.

Claims Second Incident
Israel also alleged that a group of Jordanians fired on Israeli workers in an olive grove near Ramat Rahel on Jerusalem's southern outskirts. No casualties were reported. Jordan denied this charge too.

Nina Winds Blast Island

HANEPEPE, Kauai, T.H. (UP)—Some one thousand persons on the island of Kauai moved into shelters manned by Red Cross workers early today as Hurricane Nina bore in with 80-mile-an-hour winds.

No major damage was reported from Hawaii's first recorded hurricane, although power failures were commonplace and the Aloha Theater in Hanepepe was flooded with three feet of water.

The storm shifted course early Sunday, thus saving Honolulu which is 96 miles southeast of here from a serious battering. However, Honolulu reported the first casualty attributed to the storm. A line-man was electrocuted while repairing a 400-volt power line that was damaged by the gale force winds.

The major danger to Kauai was flooding. Rains reported at three and one-half inches per hour Sunday night threatened to flood low-lying areas and inundate domestic water supply systems.

Storm warnings were lowered for the southernmost island of Hawaii, 200 miles south of Oahu, and similar action was expected for the other major islands except Kauai.

The storm was expected to deliver its hardest punch early today and then taper off.

No hurricane has hit any of the Hawaiian Islands in recorded history although one came close to Kauai in 1850. Nina was expected to come within 80 miles of the island, possibly the closest one ever got.

75 Enrolled In PR Course

Advance enrollment for the public relations course scheduled to begin tonight at 7 in the Palm Room of City Hall stands at 75, with the Celanese Corporation of America heading the list with 25 persons enrolled.

Even though advanced enrollment is desirable, it is not absolutely necessary and anyone who would like to take the course should report to the Palm Room of the City Hall at 7 Monday evening. CoC officials have said.

Enrollment fee for the course, to take care of materials, is $2. E. A. Willeford, public relations specialist for the University of Texas, division of extension, will be instructor.

Death Toll For Holidays Over 500

By UNITED PRESS
Traffic accidents killed more than 500 persons during the four-day Thanksgiving week and to wreck hopes of safety officials that the fatality count would be held below that of a similar non-holiday period.

The United Press counted at least 507 persons killed on the nation's highways from 6 p.m. Wednesday to midnight Sunday night. Plane crashes killed 9 persons and 101 were killed in miscellaneous accidents for an overall holiday toll of 617.

The traffic toll ran well ahead of this year's Fourth of July holiday, when 431 fatalities were recorded, and the three-day Labor Day holiday, which killed 445. However, it still was well below the tragic 706 traffic deaths counted during the four-day 1957 Christmas holiday.

The National Safety Council did not issue a traffic death estimate for the Thanksgiving holiday, but noted that about 500 persons would be killed during a normal four-day period at this time of year.

The traffic toll had been running near normal during the early stages of the long week end, but an upswing in accidents Sunday night as motorists hurried home wiped out all chances of posting a holiday safety mark.

Who's On First?

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UP)—Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told the big city reporters the President went out Sunday to look at four sides of beef. It went something like this:
Q—What's four sections of beef?
Hagerty—Those are sections of beef that have been slaughtered and hung up for food.
Q—Four quarters?
Hagerty—Quarters, sections—I don't know. I am a city boy.
Q—What did he do, take four and have them slaughtered?
Q—Four quarters then? That makes one.
Hagerty—Half a steer—I don't know—maybe.
Q—Four sides?
Hagerty—Sides, all right.

Mother In 6th Day Of Long Pilgrimage

RAY CITY, Tex. (UP)—The tired feet of a Mexican mother with a vow to keep were swollen and aching today as she began her sixth day of a 387-mile walk to the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Mrs. Manuela Carreon, who left Galveston, 78 miles away, last Wednesday on a pilgrimage to the Mission of Our Lady of San Juan, slept on the floor of a motel room on Highway 35 Sunday night. Her vow prohibits her sleeping in a bed.

"My feet don't hurt too much," she said before starting out again this morning. "My God helps me; he helps my feet. I will reach the mission and he will help me from getting sick."

Yow Follows Son's Acquittal
The 46-year-old woman is making the pilgrimage to San Juan, Tex., because a jury in Galveston last week acquitted her son, Alfonso, 27, of a murder charge. She promised to light a candle in thanks.

"I am thanking my God for giving me my son again," she said, simply.

Mrs. Carreon ate only some cookies and coffee for breakfast. She said she can walk longer by eating lightly.

Mrs. Carreon started out on her marathon walk from Galveston clad only in a thin black dress, an imitation leopard half-jacket and terry-leop topped moccasins.

Saturday night, when she reached West Columbia, the cold forced her to seek shelter at a filling station. She tried to sleep in the restroom but it was too cold.

Had to Keep Walking
"I had to keep walking around to keep warm," she said. She said she had only one hour's sleep Saturday night but "I feel good inside," she said.

Santa's Helpers Need Paint, Other Equipment

Santa Claus' local helpers, the firemen, stated today that they are still in need of aluminum paint, masking tape, small stove bolts and washers to aid them in repairing used toys.

The need for the small stove bolts and washers developed today when the firemen started to rebuild several of the toys. The rusted bolts on several of the toys could not be re-used.

The making tape is needed in stripping the various vehicles, they reported.

Persons having these articles, who would like to help the firemen in this project were requested to bring the items to Central Fire Station. Anyone unable to take items to the station can call the firemen and they will pick them up, according to Bill Powers, captain.

UF Total Is $52,058.10
Subscriptions in the Pampa-Lefors United Fund totaled $52,058.10 late this morning, according to Mrs. Elsie Gee, United Fund office secretary.

4 Missiles Reported Readied For Firing

By ROBERT S. McNEILL
United Press Staff Correspondent

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UP)—The "bird watchers society" of newsmen and photographers began gathering on the beaches in force today to check reports the guided missile test center would put on its biggest display of rocket launchings this week.

Unofficial reports indicated at least four missiles, including the Vanguard satellite-launcher rocket, were being readied on the launching pads.

The reports listed a Snark ready for firing Tuesday, the Vanguard Wednesday, an Atlas Thursday and a Thor on Friday. In the jargon of the missile center, such rockets are called "birds," and the corps of spectators "bird watchers."

Snark Tested Already
The Snark, however, is not a rocket. It is a 5,000-mile range pilotless plane with a rocket booster for takeoff and a ramjet engine for flight. It has been tested successfully numerous times and is slated as the chief weapon for a new Air Force combat group.

The Vanguard is a 72-foot long, three-stage rocket developed by the Navy. Reports indicated that scientists will attempt to put into orbit around the earth with the Vanguard a test satellite measuring 6.4 inches in diameter and weighing almost four pounds.

Atlas May Be Delayed
Informed sources said the Atlas may not go off as scheduled on Thursday. There have been published reports from California, where the Atlas is manufactured by Convair, that the huge intercontinental ballistic missile was damaged during a hold-down test of its engines here last Wednesday.

The Atlas, developed here under an Air Force contract, has been tested twice before and each time had to be destroyed at a comparatively low altitude because of malfunctioning of some of its parts.

The Thor is another Air Force ballistic missile in the intermediate range class. It was launched successfully for the first time only recently. The Thor is the Air Force counterpart of the Army's 3,000-mile Jupiter which also has been tested successfully here.

To Call News Conference
A news conference will be called "within two hours" afterward at the naval research laboratory here, Hagen said. This will be the first time the public will learn whether the U. S. satellite is successfully hurled into an orbit around the earth, he said.

That presumably excludes the possibility that the rocket may visibly fall before disappearing into space.

While the satellite is being prepared for imminent firing, government missile experts were thinking ahead to further space exploits including the launching of satellites capable of bearing death-dealing nuclear bombs.

Double Research
Dr. Simon Ramo, Air Force chief ballistic missile scientist, said this country should double its research on ballistic missiles "beyond the Thor and Atlas" and on other long-range rocket projects, indicating he meant space ships, space platform projects and the like.

Brig. Gen. A. W. Betts, the Pentagon's executive assistant for guided missiles, said there was "no question" that this country eventually could put up a satellite that could drop "its nuclear warhead on target."

The United States plans a brilliant display of rocket fireworks at Cape Canaveral this week. Besides the launching of the satellite-carrying Vanguard rocket, scientists also prepared to set off an Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile, a Thor intermediate range ballistic missile, (IRBM) and a long-range Snark guided missile.

Pays $5 for Pills
An agent who called upon naturopath H. S. Vevers in Houston and complained about a sick stomach and back pains, reported that he was examined with a stethoscope and magnifying glass. The glass was used to examine his finger nails.

According to the agent, Vevers told him that his trouble was due to an ulcerated stomach and his left leg being shorter than his right. He was charged $5 for pills for his stomach and an adjustment for his leg.

A woman investigator went to the office of R. W. Frydenlund in Dallas. She complained of eye trouble.

Told Glasses Unneeded
The investigator said Frydenlund told her her trouble was partly due to her eye muscles being placed too far apart, to eye strain and to dust in her left eye.

He told her to throw away her glasses and look cross-eyed at a diagonally striped stick. He charged her $5 for the striped stick.

US Hopes To Put Satellite Up This Week

By ANTHONY DELEONARDIS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—This is the week the United States hopes to put its own space satellite into an earth-circling orbit.

Launching of the first American entry in the space race is slated for some morning during the week, probably Wednesday at 7 a. m. ct. It will be a six-inch test sphere with a radio transmitter but no scientific recording instruments.

Dr. John P. Hagen, head of Project Vanguard, told the United Press there will be no advance announcement of the launching. But he said the Defense Department will give the word to the press here the moment the huge three-stage rocket is fired from its Cape Canaveral, Fla., launching pad.

A news conference will be called "within two hours" afterward at the naval research laboratory here, Hagen said. This will be the first time the public will learn whether the U. S. satellite is successfully hurled into an orbit around the earth, he said.

That presumably excludes the possibility that the rocket may visibly fall before disappearing into space.

Why Gospel Singing Is So Popular Throughout Country

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UP) — "Guess everybody's got a little trouble," said Clara Ward. "That's why gospel singing's got appeal. It's a glad-denning, cheering, live happily ever after kind of music."
Miss Ward, at 33, is one of the top gospel singers in the country today. She and her Ward Singers, a group of six women, are enjoying the steadily growing popularity of hymn singing to the tune of half-a-million dollars a year on concert tours alone.
In addition, she runs a publishing firm in Philadelphia which publishes and distributes gospel songs. The group's recordings sell in the millions.
"We didn't start out to make money," said Miss Ward in an interview here, between theater and church dates. "It just happened."
The first appearance of the group, then a trio, was at a church in Philadelphia. Fee, $5. Now for a theater or armory date, they get as much as $5,000. "But when we sing in churches,

Travel By Auto
They've worn out 15 automobiles on tour. Now, they travel in a chauffeur-driven car, custom-built at a cost of $12,000 and capable of carrying 13 passengers.
These days, Mama Ward acts as emcee. Clara does most of the solo numbers, plays the piano and writes many of the tunes. A concert may range from the old-time spiritual, "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" to "Packing Up," one of her own numbers.
"A gospel song is just a modernized spiritual... given more life," said Miss Ward, who is proud that she comes from the same town as another singer, Marian Anderson. "They are taken from the Bible, and like the Bible, will stay."
"Teen-agers enjoy them just as much as the older folks."
"Gospel songs used to be popular just with the church-goers. They were the only people exposed to them. But with records and so many singing groups on tour, we're reaching a lot of people who confess they've never been to church."
"We hope our kind of singing starts them going."
University Invention
The betatron, which produces X-rays or an electron beam with millions of volts energy, was invented here, said Miss Ward, who is the University of Illinois in 1940.

NO FISH STORY—Aquarium attendant Bill Duncan has a fish to dinner every day at the Park Aquarium, Vancouver, B.C. The fishy guest, some 14 inches long, is known only as the "mystery fish." He takes morsels of food right from Duncan's lips. The fish was caught in a gill net some 400 miles off the west coast of Vancouver Island. Where he acquired his table manners is as much a mystery as is his species.

Church Leader: 'Spiritual Resources Needed By US'

By LOUIS CASSELS United Press Staff Correspondent ST. LOUIS (UP)—A church leader warned today that America cannot achieve security in the space age by outstripping Russia in "technological development." Dr. Roy G. Ross, general secretary of the National Council of Churches, said the "ultimate answer to the problems posed by man's possession of physical out-reach into space" will be found not in scientific laboratories, but in the spiritual resources of religious faith. Ross spoke before 2,000 church leaders from 30 major Protestant and orthodox denominations at the first business session of the general assembly of the National Council of Churches. His reference to "the spiritual crisis" created by Russia's Sputniks accompanied an announcement that a special commission of church leaders will meet in New York Dec. 12 to discuss "our responsibility and nuclear-space problems."

IKE

may be made later as a result of the congressional talks. The meeting with leaders of both parties Tuesday is expected to deal largely with international and overall defense aspects of the President's program. Purely domestic issues, if previous procedure is followed, will be saved for discussions with GOP congressional leaders which will follow at the White House Wednesday.

If Eisenhower does not attend the legislative meetings Vice President Richard M. Nixon will sit in for him.

First Participation The Chief Executive's attendance at the cabinet meeting would be his first personal participation in formal councils of state since he was stricken a week ago today with a mild cerebral attack. The cabinet decision appeared also to strengthen somewhat the possibility Eisenhower will go to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) meeting in Paris Dec. 16 as originally planned. This however, would be a more strenuous business and awaits a further ruling from his doctors.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, who announced the President's decision to preside "for a short while" over the cabinet meeting, said the Chief Executive still faces several weeks of rest and greatly reduced activity. Asked for his evaluation of how the President has snapped back from his attack, Hagerty said he looked "increasingly better" each day and "I for one get a kick out of seeing him each morning looking better."

Hagerty quoted Snyder as saying "the President had another good night's rest (Saturday night) and his progress continues excellent."

Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, retiring council president, predicted in another address that the national council will arrange an exchange of visits with Protestant leaders of Communist China "whenever it appears that the Chinese churches themselves wish and are prepared for such a project."

Blake recalled that the council sponsored a two-day visit of American and Russian churchmen last year. He said this exchange "worked out more fruitfully than any of us dared hope."

A St. Louis Baptist leader, Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, is slated for election as council president, succeeding Blake, when the assembly votes Thursday on officers for the next three years. In the meantime, the delegates will review past achievements and future plans for 75 co-operative programs which protestant and orthodox churches now carry on jointly through the council, and will consider resolutions voicing "the conscience of the churches" on a number of national and international problems.

Dave Beck Trial Starts

SEATTLE (UP)—Dave Beck Sr., retiring president of the giant teamsters union, goes on trial here today on charges of grand larceny.

The portly union boss is charged with retaining $1,900 from the sale of a teamster-owned Cadillac. The car allegedly was sold to Martin E. Duffy, Seattle truck driver, Dec. 30, 1956. Duffy is expected to appear in court as a witness.

Beck will be defended by Charles S. Burdell and John J. Keough. They are the same Seattle attorneys who defended Beck's son, Dave Beck Jr., on similar charges two weeks ago. Beck Jr. was found guilty.

The younger Beck was convicted of grand larceny involving the sale of two teamster-owned Cadillacs. Burdell has started appeal proceedings in the case.

Mother Of Pampan Dies

Mrs. Louella Shipley, Borger, died at 6 p.m. Friday in a rest home in Borger. She was 82 years old and is survived by one son, Paul of Pampa; one step-son, Ernest, of Borger; three step-daughters, Mrs. Minnie Hanes, Borger, Mrs. A. G. Crause, Kellyville, Okla., Mrs. Ada Sullivan, McLain; two sisters, Mrs. Lillie Wilson, Tulsa, Okla., Nettie Robbins, Chico, Calif.; one brother, John Spikes of Walnut Ridge, Ark.; five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be tomorrow in the Church of God in Borger at 11 a.m. with the Rev. Shires, pastor of the Church of God officiating. Burial will be in Borger under the direction of the Minto Funeral Home.

Year Wrong On Earliest Teacher

Mrs. C. A. Tignor of Pampa, who was honored at last Friday's Pampa High School homecoming activities for being the teacher who taught here at the earliest date among those present, said this morning that she taught in 1909 instead of 1910, as reported.

Mrs. Tignor also said that there was no school taught here until 1905, not 1901 as reported.

"Why, I had no idea I was this wonderful!"

DAVIS HOMELESS AGAIN

Water Needs To Be Talked

The discussion of water to be obtained from the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority at the meeting of the City Commission tomorrow morning was the only item on the agenda today. The city has been asked by the authority to pass a resolution giving the expected amount of water Pampa will want from the authority over a long-range period.

Final action is expected tomorrow, according to John Kooz, city manager. He stated that the amounts given to the authority will not obligate the city to purchase the water.

Officers in Tarrant county raided the offices of three naturopaths.

Naturopaths in Dallas county raided, in addition to Frydenlund, were M. C. Smith, William Oliver Nance, L. Hugh Gano, Olive Crawford, Frances Braxton, William T. Hart, Elinor Somerville, J. Claude McCoy, B. R. Strange, Raymond Binion Hoyle, Paul Landry and Fred A. Garland.

Charges were filed in Fort Worth against naturopaths Mary Sparger, Olen Walker and Bernard Walker. An agent who called upon the Sparger woman said she told him he had kidney trouble.

She showed him a kidney stone, which she said another patient had passed, and told him that he might pass a stone if he faithfully took the "medicine" she showed him.

Wilson Directs Action

In Dallas, criminal complaints and informations were filed in Judge Jim Guthrie's court. Wade said he may file more charges, if the raids turn medical equipment naturopaths aren't supposed to have.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson in Austin, announcing the actions, said he wants to put the naturopaths out of business for good.

His action followed the U.S. Supreme Court decision of Nov. 12, which held that Texas naturopaths were practicing under an unconstitutional law.

He meant the recent trial in which former Rep. James E. Cox of Conroe was found guilty of consenting to take a $5,000 bribe to kill a bill to put naturopaths out of business.

Naturopath Howard Harmon of San Antonio, president of the naturopaths association, recorded the offer on a tape recorder in his Austin hotel room.

Buick Firm To Handle French Car

Tex Evans Buick Company, 123 N. Gray, will put on display Friday a foreign-made car, the Simca, made in France.

Officials of the firm announced this morning that it would handle the cars in addition to the German-made General Motors car, the Opel. The Opel will go on display shortly after the first of the year.

The Simca, French import economy car which reportedly gets 35-40 miles to the gallon of gas, is in the small car class, having a 96 inch wheel base and weighing about 2,000 pounds. Its sale prices start at $1,895.

Tex Evans officials had this to say about the car this morning: "We feel that this car is particularly suited to the Panhandle area in that it is a little heavier than most foreign cars you see... a little heavier... and the amazing thing about it is that, even though it is in the small car class, you don't have the feeling of being in a small car when you ride in it. It has the ride and stability of a large car. Also, it's plenty comfortable. Four cars ride comfortably."

"In a recent test in California, a Simca was driven from San Francisco to Los Angeles on nine gallons of gasoline, averaging 42.6 miles to the gallon."

Simca is one of the largest car manufacturing firms in Europe. The Simca is a late entry in the imported car field in the U.S.

Tex Evans Buick will handle 19 models including the standard four-door sedan and a deluxe model called the Elysee. Also included will be a two-door hard-top called the Grand Large. All of these cars are in the Aronda 1300 series, which boasts of 48 horsepower.

Simca also makes a larger car which the local firm will handle. It is the Vedette, with an 85-horsepower, V8 engine.

The local firm will also service the cars, keeping parts available. All prices include a fresh air heater and defroster, white sidewall tires, directional signals, electric windshield wipers and undercoating.

The firm will have one of the smaller cars in tomorrow's Santa Day Parade.

It's going into my Christmas savings account with all the rest of my revenue! Just call me Santa Claus!

The teen-ager who's planning to have fun at holiday parties should get her clothes lined up now. She should remember that the best way to look pretty and thus have a good time is to look her age. This teen-ager (left) is sitting out her first formal dress in borrowed finery that's all wrong. The dress is too fussy and too old for her. She couldn't dance in those shoes even if someone asked her. Her make-up is heavy and her hairdo unbecoming. We show the same teen-ager transformed (center), wearing her hair in a soft, natural style and using a pink plastic date case at intermission to touch up her light make-up. She looks entirely different (right) in a simple dress of rich red silk faced with satin and printed with an all-over rose pattern. She's pretty, comfortable and she's having a good time. And all because she looks her age.

Mature Parents

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
"Six months ago my husband and I separated," writes Mrs. O. "Yesterday my little boy's nursery school teacher said he was emotionally disturbed and needed treatment at a child-guidance clinic. It's been a terrible shock to be told I'm a bad mother so soon after losing my husband."

"I'm almost sure that the teacher did not call Mrs. O. a 'bad' mother. People in her work are carefully trained against making such wholesale condemnations of other human beings."
Then who is really making this ruthless judgment?
I think it comes straight from Mrs. O. herself.

Perhaps she is the person who needs the child-guidance clinic.
For it is very juvenile indeed to damn herself as worthless because a little boy who's been living in parental turmoil develops some of his own. If this natural effect scares her so that she wants to fling herself into the garbage disposal, she is the problem, not the child.

She's a lady who must make no mistakes. Her rage at herself exactly measures her demands for a perfect performance from herself.
"Anxiety" a distinguished psychoanalyst said recently, "is the conflict between what we can do and what our idealized image of ourselves tells us we ought to be able to do."

Sometimes we cannot make a marriage work. Sometimes, in our distress at its failure, we cannot protect a child against the influence of our distress. But we're doing the best we can do at the moment. When we start hating ourselves because we're not doing better, we are experiencing anxiety that has little to do with our husband or child.

We are terrified by the exposure of our own limitations.
"However, we don't always overcome this terror because a somebody writing in a newspaper says we should."

"So maybe Mr. O. had better find someone who accepts his limitations calmly, and the example of his self-tolerance can lead her to feel, 'If this fellow human can put up with himself, I can do the same with myself.'"

Then her little boy will lose his fear of his limitations and be able to stop hating himself for objecting to parents who have hurt and confused him.

Plans for a holiday dance or party can make a teen-ager's heart beat faster weeks before the big night.
Gay music, a pretty gown, her favorite escort — she looks forward to them all with pleasurable excitement.
The evening will be everything she hoped for, too, if in trying to look her best she remembers to look herself.

Sleek, sophisticated fashions are designed for older women, and the young girl who wears them will seem to be dressed for masquerade. She'll be odd and out of place among the swirling, softly pretty dresses of her companions, and her escort, sensing this, will be embarrassed.
Remember that the mature wo-

Sixty guests were present. man who wears sophisticated clothes, heavy make-up and intricate hair styles, adopts them because she can no longer rely on the glow of youth for beauty. You can, and it would be foolish on your part to hide this precious gift.

To be pretty and comfortable, too, you should choose your costume wisely. You know you'll spend the evening dancing and moving about; not making weighty conversation. So if you want to have a good time, wear a dress that has free lines, designed for action.

For a girl unused to stiletto heels, walking is a difficult enough feat, and dancing downright impossible. So be smart and don't wear them.

Fix your hair in a simple style that won't tumble down if you're active, and one that can be put into place with a flick of the comb.

Heavy eye make-up and too much lipstick will look garish, not attractive. For as the evening progresses, lipstick will smear, mascara will run, and you'll resemble a rag doll left out in the rain.

You can make your eyelashes shine and curl upward with a light application of petroleum jelly, and a rose-pink lipstick is just right.
Since you won't want to clutter yourself with a tiny, pink plastic "date" case, which contains its own mirror, puff and a generous supply of foundation and pressed powder in one.

This will keep your purse free of spilled face powder, and that annoying shiny nose can be repaired inconspicuously in a jiffy.

Above all, don't lose sight of the fact that you're going out to have fun. You can't miss if you make a point of being a prettier-than-ever you, rather than an unflattering caricature of someone years older.

Miss Baten Feted At Bridal Shower

(Special to The News)
WHITE DEER — Miss Guyda Baten, bride-elect of Bill Webb, of Pampa, was complimented with a bridal shower Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. W. C. Powers.
Assisting were Messrs. H. T. Baten, Jay Phillips, M. C. Doas, B. O. Bentley, E. L. Colgrove, Ralph Smith, Dee Lemley, Ray Roles, Albert Matheson, Frank Evans, and John B. O'Keefe.
Mrs. Frank Imke, of Austin was guest registrar. Mrs. Jerry O'Neal presided at the refreshment table, which was laid with a white linen cloth and decorated with a doll in full bridal attire.
The honoree, her mother, Mrs. Winburn Baten and the mother of the bridegroom-elect, Mrs. J. F. Webb, of Pampa, formed the receiving line.
For best results, polish silver by rubbing it up and down with long horizontal strokes. Circular strokes are not recommended by silver experts. Wash silver in hot soap or detergent suds after polishing and rinse and dry with a soft towel.
Ants can take over a kitchen and put up a long battle to stay in the house. Cover foods and keep the kitchen as clean as possible so do arrive, spray window sills, doorways and ant trails with 2 per cent chlordane or 5 per cent DDT. They won't be attracted. When they die, Placitulture is the culture of fish.

Mrs. Nace Reviews Book At Varietas

Friends of the Varietas Study Club were entertained recently with a tea and book review. Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. J. C. Vollmert, R. W. Lane, S. C. Evans, J. R. Kirckman, and H. P. Doster.
Mrs. W. A. Wagoner, club president, welcomed guests and read a poem on "Friendship."
Club members introduced their guests.
Mrs. Wagoner presented Mrs. Otis Nace, who reviewed the book, "Speak To The Winds," by Ruth Moore.
Mrs. Wagoner presided at the tea table, which had for a centerpiece a floral arrangement of autumn flowers.

Makes Friends Manners

The woman was telling a group about what a perfectly "grim" evening she and her husband had spent at a party given by some new acquaintances. She named the host and hostess. A gracious person never criticizes or makes fun of the hospitality he accepts. So this woman was unconsciously painting as "grim" a picture of herself.

HOME NURSING CARE—No. 2

Three Minutes Is Required Time Length It Takes For Thermometer To Register

By AILEEN SNOODY
As children playing nurse or doctor, we all had fun pretending to take a temperature. But when it comes to doing it, many of us are stumped.

Taking a patient's temperature is part of caring for him when he is ill at home. Different types of thermometers are used for mouth and rectal temperature. To use either, you will need to know how to read a thermometer, insert it and clean it properly.

And not everyone should be given a mouth thermometer. This includes a young child, a confused or unconscious patient or one who can't keep his mouth closed. In many cases, persons may cut themselves by breaking the thermometer.

For an accurate reading, wait 15 minutes after the patient has had anything to eat or drink.

Reading a thermometer is actually very simple if you know what to look for. And that is a silvery line of mercury which rises to indicate degrees of body heat.

Hold a thermometer between thumb and two fingers by the end opposite the one that is inserted.

Each long line you see is one degree and the short lines between are each two-tenths of a degree. However, there is a special line between 98 and 99 degrees. For most persons, a normal temperature is 98.6 degrees F. and the special line is helpful in noting this. You may have to turn the thermometer back and forth between your-fingers to locate the mercury.

Now, notice the end of the mercury column. Look at the long line to the left of it and read the degree. Then look at the short line at which the mercury is stopped and read the tenths if the mercury is not stopped directly on a degree mark.

Before taking a temperature, rinse the thermometer in cold water so it will not stick to the patient's mouth. If the reading is above 96 degrees, shake down the thermometer before using it on the patient.

To do this hold it two-thirds down from the top with thumb nearest the mercury end. Relax the wrist and with a jerking motion

Homemakers Fete Mothers At Dinner

(Special to The News)
WHEELER — The Future Homemaking Class members honored their mothers with a Thanksgiving dinner and program recently.

The receiving rooms of the FHA cottage were attractively decorated in the Thanksgiving motif. Dinner was served buffet style and the class room was converted into a candlelight dining room, where the mothers and daughters were seated together.

Miss Carolyn Farris, chairman for the entertainment was assisted by Misses Linda Burka, Carroll Jean Caswell, Betty Cooksey, Shirley Meadows and Tillie Green. Miss Phyllis Callan conducted a sing-song and Miss Annette Hutchison sang "The Meaning of Thanksgiving." Miss Georgia Pond gave a Christmas poem. Games were played.

Miss Linda Burka explained the meaning of the Future Homemakers of America's emblem. Miss Nancy Whitener told the group "What My Mother Means To Me." Mrs. Gordon Whitener, instructor, made a few remarks and the closing prayer was given by Miss Elaine McCasland.

After this preparation, slip the bold running water.

Using the cotton, soap the thermometer from top to bottom with a firm, rolling, downward motion. Discard the cotton in a paper bag to be burned and rinse the thermometer in cold, running water. Dry with a clean, dry cotton ball.
Store it in a safe place out of reach of children and away from heat of sun or radiator.
With an accurate, daily record of temperature you help your doctor determine the patient's progress. Also, you will know when to call for immediate medical help.

Ohio State Vote d 1957 College Champions

Auburn, Michigan State Follow In Second, Third

By JOE SARGIS
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UP)—Ohio State's Buckeyes today were named the 1957 mythical college football champions after a close ballot battle with unbeaten Auburn and Michigan State.

Ohio State, winner of eight of nine games and the Big Ten representative to the Rose Bowl game, Jan. 1, was chosen the top team in the final voting by 14 of the 35 coaches who make up the United Press College Football Rating Board. The Buckeyes also drew nine second place ballots, seven third place ballots, three fourths, one sixth and one seventh for a total of 307 points.

Auburn, winner of 10 straight games in a perfect season, was named first by 11 coaches, while Michigan State drew eight first place ballots. The other two first place ballots went to Arizona (Tempe) State, which also won 10 straight games without defeat this season.

Auburn finished with 290 points, while Michigan State, whose only midway through the season, had 283 points in one of the closest races in the eight-year history of the coaches rating board, which is recognized as the most authentic.

Others — Texas Christian, 4; Illinois, Oregon State and Princeton, 1 each.

Defense discovered the Mustangs, who had scared the Aggies and beaten Arkansas and Baylor with an apparently unstoppable spread formation under the expert guidance of sophomore sensation Don Meredith, discovered to their sorrow last week that there was, after all, a defense against the spread.

The Pampa Harvesters will play their second game of the season tomorrow night as they travel to Phillips to encounter the Blackhaws in a non-conference tilt slated for 8:30.

An amount of confusion arose from the Harvesters first clash, played in Childress Saturday night, when a late field goal by a Bobcat player was debated as to whether or not it was in time to be counted.

Childress school officials stated that the game officials had signed the scorebook, making the win valid for Childress, 49-48, but other sources reported that both sides agreed to call it "no contest." An official decision was expected to be reached today.

For tomorrow night's game, the Blackhaws have only one game for the season, that being a 65-56 loss to Palo Duro.

Following tomorrow night's game, the Harvesters will open in Pampa Friday night with Elk City, Okla.

The Buckeyes, who lost their season opener to Texas Christian rolled to eight straight wins in their climb to the national championship.

Oklahoma's Sooners, national champions in 1950, 1956 and 1956 and sixth in the ratings last week, moved up two notches to fourth, gaining 195 points. Iowa, third in the Big Ten race behind Ohio State and Michigan State, finished fifth with 192 points.

Navy, Rice, Mississippi, Notre Dame and Texas A&M rounded out the top 10 in that order. All the first 10 members with the exception of Auburn, Michigan State, Iowa and Notre Dame have received various bowl bids. Ohio State plays Oregon in the Rose, Oklahoma is paired against Duke in the Orange-Navy meets Rice in the Cotton, Mississippi plays Texas in the Sugar and Texas A&M meets Tennessee in the Gator.

Second 10 group—11, Texas, 36; 12, Arizona (Tempe) State (2), 33; 13, Army, 20; 14 (tie), Duke and Wisconsin, 19 each; 15, Tennessee, 8; 17, Oregon, 7; 18 (tie), Clemson and UCLA, 6 each; 20, North Carolina State, 5.

PAYMASTERS—Cleveland's Browns head for the National Football League jackpot with Quarterback Tommy O'Connell, left, and Jimmy Brown, a bulldozer listed as a fullback, handling the money plays. O'Connell, formerly of Illinois, was rated average at first, but blossomed as Brown, fresh from Syracuse, broke records and paved way for passing attack.

Browns, Colts Need One Win For NFL Championship Game

United Press Sports Writer
The Cleveland Browns, who Baltimore Colts, who never have played in a championship game, will clash for the 1957 National Football League title if they win next Sunday.

Cleveland can win the Eastern Division title for the seventh time in eight tries by whipping the Lions at Detroit. A Cleveland victory over the Lions, parlayed with a Baltimore triumph over the 49ers at San Francisco, would give Baltimore the Western crown.

Each of the five leaders has two more games but Cleveland and Baltimore victories next Sunday would give them unbeatable leads.

The Browns took a 1½-game lead Sunday by shutting out the Chicago Cardinals, 31-0. The 49ers gave Cleveland a big assist by upsetting the New York Giants, 49-17, setting league and Eastern Division champions, 27-17. A victory or a tie against the Lions or the Giants Dec. 15 at New York would give Cleveland the Eastern title.

The Colts remained a game ahead of Detroit and San Francisco in the Western race by defeating the Los Angeles Rams, 31-14, before a record Baltimore pro football crowd of 82,000. Detroit kept within range of Baltimore with an 18-6 Thanksgiving Day triumph over the Green Bay Packers.

The Washington Redskins beat the Chicago Bears 14-3, as Eddie Le Baron threw a 10-yard touchdown pass to Jim Podoley and set up Ed Sutton's four-yard scoring dash. In Sunday's other game, Sonny Jurgensen's seven-yard pass to Dick Bielski gave the Philadelphia Eagles a 7-6 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Cleveland missed a division title last year for the first time in four campaigns in the All-America conference and seven in the NFL when it wound up with a 5-7 record. If the Browns win the 1957 Eastern title, it will be the best NFL comeback since the old Cleveland Rams (now Los Angeles) won the Western crown in 1945 after stumbling to a 4-6, mark in 1944.

O'Connell Sparked Win
Tommy O'Connell threw touchdown passes of 23 and 65 yards to Ray Renfro and set up Lew Carpenter's 10-yard scoring run as the Browns romped at Cleveland against the Cardinals.

Lenny Moore scored three times for Baltimore. He caught scoring passes of three and 50 yards from Johnny Unitas and ran 23 for a touchdown. Unitas also threw a 10-yard scoring pass to Ray Berry to raise his season total of touchdown passes to 22, high for the league. Y. A. Tittle's passing and ball-handling plus San Francisco's recovery of six New York fumbles probably will cost the Giants their title. The fumbles led to touchdowns by fullbacks Gene Babb and Joe Perry plus two field goals by Gordie Soltau. Tittle threw 14 yards to Billy Wilson for the other Forty-Niner touchdown.

Cardinals Get First Chance At Draft
PHILADELPHIA (UP)—The Chicago Cardinals get the bonus choice today during the National Football League's early draft of college stars and probably will select halfback John Crow of Texas A&M or quarterback King Hill of Rice.

Other college players who figure to go as the bonus choice of in today's first four rounds of the draft are: halfbacks Walt Kowalczyk of Michigan State, Clendon Thomas of Oklahoma, Phil King of Vanderbilt, Jim Pace of Michigan and Leonard Lyles of Louisiana, tackles Charles Krueger of Texas A&M, Lou Michaels of Kentucky and Alex Karras of Iowa, center Dan Currie of Michigan State and end Jimmy Phillips of Auburn.

The remaining 28 rounds of the annual draft will be conducted during the league's annual January meeting.

After today's preliminary draft, the 12 clubs went into an important executive session. The club owners planned to set up possible play-off games in the event of ties in the division races at this meeting. They also discussed their squabble with the player association, a proposed new six-year schedule to increase inter-division games, recommendations made to the league by a congressional committee last summer and the 1958 pre-season schedule.

rather smash into the middle of the line than run around it, was vogue college football's back of the year today in a nationwide United Press poll.

Balloting by 206 sports writers and sportscasters gave Crow 101 votes or 49 per cent. Far behind in the next three positions were Walt Kowalczyk of Michigan State with 33 votes, Bob Anderson of Army with 16 and Clendon Thomas of Oklahoma with 13. Those three and Crow made up the back field of the United Press All-America announced last week.

Crow Line Smasher
Although Texas A&M uses the T formation, Crow drew the line-smashing assignment from his halfback post, single wing style. "I think the way the Aggies play football—grinding out three or four yards at a time—is real football," he said.

On some plays, Crow swept the ends with exceptional speed and was a constant danger in the open. He has run the 100 yard dash in 10.5 seconds. He is built like a bruiser—six-two and 210 pounds—and his crew-cut blond hair gives him the authentic look of a football hero.

Crow, who comes from Spring Hill, La., also excels on defense. (Bear) Bryant, the head coach of the Aggies, said he's never seen anyone back a defensive line as well as Crow.

Hopes to Play Pro Ball
While majoring in business, Crow hopes to play professional football for the next few years after his graduation in June. He said he never had an interest in coaching.

Other vote-getters in the poll: 12—Don Clark of Ohio State, 9—Lee Grosscup of Utah, 7—Bob Newman of Washington State and Bob Stransky of Colorado.

6—Jim Pace of Michigan and Nick Pietrosante of Notre Dame, 4—Tom Forrestal of Navy, Dick Christy of North Carolina State and Bobby Muigado of Arizona (Tempe) State, 3—Jimmy Jones of Washington,

Eagles, Sandies To Clash In Amarillo Saturday Afternoon

By UNITED PRESS
Ablene and Garland, the defending Class AAAA and AAA state champs who had been given but scant hopes of repeating, have suddenly thrown a new light in both races as the 32 survivors hurtle toward this week end's quarterfinals in all four divisions.

Coach Chuck Moser's Ablene crew, winners of three straight titles and 48 straight games, opened its playoff bid with a 60-0 romp past El Paso Austin, while Garland, a runner-up and champion in the past two seasons, did almost as well by blasting Amarillo 35-7.

The other half of the northern bracket quarterfinals sends Highland Park to Wichita Falls for an explosive encounter, while in the South, Port Arthur is at Houston Bellaire and Austin, which knocked off highly-touted Corpus Christi Ray, will be at San Antonio Jefferson.

Amarillo polished off Fort Worth Paschal 28-4 last week, while Highland Park ousted Dallas Tech 25-7, Austin dumped Ray 26-14, Jefferson romped by San Antonio Burbank 48-0, Port Arthur cut down Galena Park 19-7 and Bellaire whipped Houston Sam Houston 28-3.

Nederland, 49-7 victor over El Campo, invades Brenham, which

Saturday afternoon in Amarillo in the prime attraction of a glittering 16-game weekend program and both teams have ample backing in what promises to be a slam-bang affair.

The appearances of Rice and Texas in bowl games are two of the biggest surprises of the 1957 season. The teams won only one conference game between them last year and that was Rice over Texas. And both were picked to finish in or near the cellar this year. Instead they ended up one-two.

Rice, a perennial strong finisher, compiled a 5-1 conference mark and was 7-3 overall. Texas finished 4-1-1 in the conference and 6-3-1 overall. The Aggies, consistently rated as one of the nation's best, were 4-2 in the league and 8-2 for the season.

Baylor and Texas all had bowl appointments. The 1948 post-season classics saw SMU, Texas, Texas Christian and Arkansas participating.

Another top Pampa slugger, Jesse Ring, will meet John Fred Brown of Floydada, who has ranked among the top welter and middle weights of the area.

In the heavyweight division, Harry White is slated to fight either Doug Simmons or Tommy Richardson.

The Pampa boxers stand for the season team-wise with three wins and one loss, having beaten Herford twice and Clovis, N.M. once, and having lost to Clovis once.

After Memphis, the boxers are scheduled to meet Dyeas Air Force Base next Saturday night.

SW May Have New Champ In Basketball

By ED FITTE
United Press Sports Writer
The Southwest Conference championship football race was over, but still Rice, runner-up Texas, dethroned champion Texas A&M and deflated Southern Methodist still eyed the football future today.

The first three could afford to relax a bit since they won't have to answer the kickoff whistle for nearly a month in bowl games strung out across the Southland.

But, the story is different for SMU, which is involved in a "post-season" affray of its own this coming Saturday when the Mustangs wind up the schedule with what is becoming a traditional meeting with Notre Dame in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas.

Defense discovered the Mustangs, who had scared the Aggies and beaten Arkansas and Baylor with an apparently unstoppable spread formation under the expert guidance of sophomore sensation Don Meredith, discovered to their sorrow last week that there was, after all, a defense against the spread.

Armstrong To Battle Stubbs On TV Tonight

NEW YORK (UP)—Gene (Ace) Armstrong, unbeaten middleweight of Elizabeth, N.J., seeks his 13th straight victory tonight in a TV 10-rounder with Reyon Stubbs of Pittsburgh at St. Nicholas Arena.

It will be televised by Dumont at 10 p.m. e.s.t.

Armstrong is favored at 3-1 because of the lopsided licking he gave ex-contender Randy Sandy in his last fight, Dec. 4. Also because Stubbs, the harder puncher, hasn't fought since June 27.

Armstrong, 25, is two years older than Stubbs, but he's had less professional experience.

Stubbs won 19 of his 22 bouts. He dropped two decisions and had one no-contest affair. He scored 12 knockouts.

Childress school officials stated that the game officials had signed the scorebook, making the win valid for Childress, 49-48, but other sources reported that both sides agreed to call it "no contest." An official decision was expected to be reached today.

For tomorrow night's game, the Blackhaws have only one game for the season, that being a 65-56 loss to Palo Duro.

Harvesters Set For Tilt With Phillips Tomorrow Night

The Pampa Harvesters will play their second game of the season tomorrow night as they travel to Phillips to encounter the Blackhaws in a non-conference tilt slated for 8:30.

An amount of confusion arose from the Harvesters first clash, played in Childress Saturday night, when a late field goal by a Bobcat player was debated as to whether or not it was in time to be counted.

Childress school officials stated that the game officials had signed the scorebook, making the win valid for Childress, 49-48, but other sources reported that both sides agreed to call it "no contest." An official decision was expected to be reached today.

Barrie Finds Fame In Both Painting And Playing Golf

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UP)—Erwin S. Barrie, a golf nut who was stymied 35 years in his ambition to be either a famous painter or golfer, finally has made it both ways by swapping his brassie for a brush and easel.

Barrie's was an unfortunate case for years because he was in the dormie position of being a fine artist who represented other artists. Naturally, if he sold his own paintings they probably would have taken it unkindly.

But at long last he has hit the jackpot simply because there aren't many good painters who are golfers and not many good golfers who are painters.

Palms Golf Hoies
So Barrie has painted 55 famous golf holes he has played and they are in a fair way to becoming collectors' items. Which makes him famous, at long last, as an artist and also as a source of notes in the game of golf.

His works, as examples, are in the private collections of such famed golfing figures as President Eisenhower and Bobby Jones. A number of them are on exhibition at Pinehurst, which is among the famed courses in the painting along with such others as St. Andrews, Augusta, Apawaminis, Yale University, Saucon Valley, Sleepy Hollow and Winged Foot.

Three of the golf holes he has painted the 14th at Pine Valley, the fifth at St. Andrews and the 10th at Augusta—are being reproduced by Spalding this year for their Christmas packages. It is a move which promises to help make Barrie's paintings of golf rank with the boxing masterpieces of George Bellows and the scullery art of Thomas Eakins.

Success At Last
It is rather late recognition, because Barrie is 71. The nice part is that he doesn't look it for the sturdy little man has a shock of steel gray hair, twinkling blue eyes, ruddy cheeks and a young man's spring to his step.

Success came late to Barrie because the Canton, Ohio, native got a job in a Chicago department store's run-down art department when he was graduated from Cornell. Barrie began improving the quality of the art being carried and, as part of his campaign, neglected his own painting to put on exhibitions and manage fellow artists.

Thirty-five years ago, Barrie, who will discuss golf or art with the drop of a putt or a Picasso, co-founded the Grand Central Art Galleries in New York.

Golf, at which he still is a 14 handicap player, finally became his painting outlet and at last the fame he sought personally has arrived.

Hall & Pinson Shows Mud, Snow Tires At Low Cost

SHOWING POWERFUL MUD AND SNOW TIRES—Leymond Hall, owner of Hall & Pinson Tire Co., 700 W. Foster, MO 4-3521, displays two of the available, tread designs in mud and snow tires at Hall & Pinson. These tires are available with nylon cords at no extra cost. They look like new, wear like new and are guaranteed like new at less than half the cost of new tires. This firm also features a good selection of factory treads in the new 7:50x14 tires in both black and white sidewalls and with nylon cords. Bring your tire problems to us. We're specialists at Hall & Pinson Tire Co., 700 W. Foster.

Mud and snow tires that give your car get-up-and-go traction are among the 1,500 guaranteed used tires featured by Hall & Pinson Tire Co., 700 W. Foster, MO 4-3521.

These mud and snow tires — just what the doctor ordered for winter driving — and other guaranteed used tires are yours for less than half the cost of new tires. Yet these guaranteed tires give you new tire service!

Hall & Pinson Tire Co. carries one of the largest stocks of used tires in the Panhandle, and guarantees that you will receive satisfactory service from each tire.

Save Half

Check the selections and the hard-to-get sizes. Hall & Pinson features all sizes of passenger car and truck tires in common use. This tremendous stock includes many new tire take-offs as well as very nearly new tires — at half the cost of new tires.

There are tires manufactured by all manufacturers for just about every car. And all tires sold by Hall & Pinson are safe, clean, inspected and guaranteed.

Tire Truing, Wheel Balancing

Tire service at Hall & Pinson Tire Co. includes repairs and tire truing and balancing — the combination that increases the life of your tires.

The Hall & Pinson tire truing and balancing team gives you:

1. Longer tire mileage by thousands of miles.
2. Lower car repair bills because tire truing and wheel balancing eliminate front end damage due to excessive vibration and shimmy.

3. Less driving fatigue because of easier, smoother driving.
4. More driving pleasure.
5. Greater safety.

Research proves that 8 out of 10 tires that have been driven more than 2,000 miles are out-of-round, although the same tires were within .125th of an inch of roundness when they left the factory.

Tire irregularities cause immediate, excessive tire wear around the high spots, a condition that increases vibration, causes front-end damage, shortens both car and tire life, and increases driver fatigue.

Seat Covers

Hall & Pinson, your tire headquarters, is seat cover headquarters with the largest stock of seat covers in the Panhandle and one of the 10 largest in the State of Texas.

This stock of famous Arthur Fulmer Seat Covers includes a variety to fit just about all makes and models of automobiles, and in the special order department there are additional hundreds of colors and patterns to choose from.

Seat covers prolong the life and beauty of your car. They protect in true "decorator" fashion with your choice of color coordinates, luxurious plastic trim panels, and new patterns.

Expert Installation

Arthur Fulmer Seat Covers have the hidden seams, double stitching reinforcement at all points of strain, and are available in all price ranges: standard, imperial, supreme, coloprene and monarch lines.

Walter Rogers Reports:

Attacks On US, Soil Bank, Flying Saucers Discussed

FLYING SAUCERS

The recent new stories about the Panhandle of Texas has given us quite a bit of publicity all over the country. Whether it is good or bad is a debatable question.

In fact, I have had several visits from people who are interested in flying saucers. Incidentally, there are a number of organizations devoted to the subject of flying saucers. These are private, not government, programs. It is interesting to talk to these people who make a business of studying the different reports about these objects. I expect several of them have been out in the Panhandle digging into the reported sightings near Friona.

One of these fellows was in the office the other day and told me about the man in Nebraska who reported he had seen one of these ships and had communicated with its occupants. I asked where this man was at the present time, and I was told he had been confined in a mental institution.

I asked my informant if he was placed there because of his report about the flying saucer. My informant told me the Nebraska man had been placed in the institution not because he reported seeing a flying saucer and communicating with the occupants thereof, but because he had told this story the same identical way a great number of times. This came as quite a surprise to me, because I had always thought people got into trouble for not telling the story the same way each time.

According to my informant, this is old-fashioned. According to the new rules, if you tell the story the same way every time, you are possessed of a fixation, according to psychiatrists and, therefore, subject to being confined in the mental institution. This creates quite a problem, because you will have to be fully aware at all times of the rule which is being applied in the particular jurisdiction in which you find yourself.

The point is that, if you see a flying saucer, don't report it until you find out what rule is being applied in that locality. If you stay with your original story you might end up in a mental institution and, on the other hand, if you change any of the facts after you have repeated the story several times, you may find yourself in the same place. It might be best to say nothing.

SOIL BANK GRAZING

I have had many requests wanting the Department of Agriculture to permit grazing of wheat acreage before January 1, 1955, that is subject to the 1957 Soil Bank Acreage Reserve Agreement. I have had a thorough discussion of this problem with the Department of Agriculture several times, and they advise me they will not, under any circumstances, authorize the grazing of this wheat land that has been placed in the Soil Bank program unless applications to graze the same have been approved and a penalty of $5 per acre paid on the acreage to be grazed.

This is the present regulation—that is, if a participant in the Soil Bank wants to graze land that has been placed in the 1957 Soil Bank Acreage Reserve Agreement, he may file application to do so. These applications may be obtained at the ASC County Office. The Department advises me that it will require the full payment of $6 per acre penalty before any grazing is authorized.

ATTACKS ON UNITED STATES

The mail brought an inquiry just the other day from Mrs. Dolly Lynch, a school teacher at Mobetle, as to the number of attacks on the U. S. mainland during the last war. We have this information from the Library of Congress, and I thought it might be interesting for all of you, as well as Mrs. Lynch, in view of the recent talk about missiles. The report of the Library of Congress is as follows: "During the last war there is evidence that the mainland of the United States was shelled by enemy submarines only twice. The first occasion was in California (reported on February 23, 1942), and the second in Oregon (Fort Stevens, reported in June, 1942).

There were certain other reports about attacks by balloons and other flying objects, a summary of which (as reported in the New York Times) is given below:

On June 1, 1945, U. S. Forestry Service aides reported 3 isolated recent attacks by Japanese on U. S. West Coast.

On June 10, 1942, Lt. Col. J. W. Fraser reported that incendiary bombs had been dropped on Oregon forests in an attempt to start fires in 1942.

On January 1, 1945, a giant balloon, believed to be of Japanese origin, was found in Portland, Oregon.

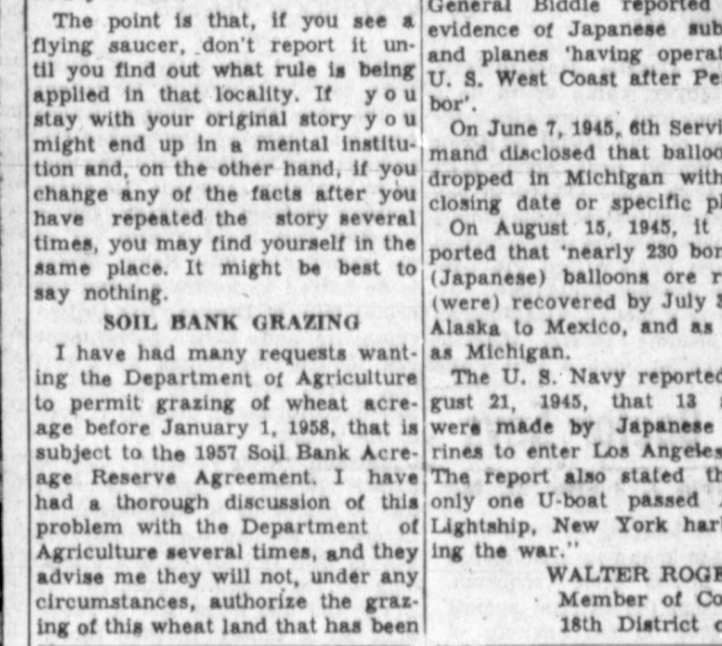

On January 14, 1945, Attorney General Biddle reported on the evidence of Japanese submarines and planes having operated off U. S. West Coast after Pearl Harbor.

On June 7, 1945, 6th Service Command disclosed that balloons were dropped in Michigan without disclosing date or specific place.

On August 15, 1945, it was reported that "nearly 230 bomb-laden (Japanese) balloons or remnants (were) recovered by July 30", from Alaska to Mexico, and as far east as Michigan.

The U. S. Navy reported on August 21, 1945, that 13 attempts were made by Japanese submarines to enter Los Angeles harbor. The report also stated that only one U-boat passed Ambrose Lightship, New York harbor during the war."

Pampa Lumber Features Yule Decorations

A free plan showing 18 ideas for Christmas decorations and telling how to make them out of Tempera Masonite or Peg-Board panels is available at Pampa Lumber Co., 1301 S. Hobart, it was announced today by W. M. A. Wagoner, (Manager).

For easy transfer and cutout, the various decorative ideas are drawn against a grid pattern. In addition, Pampa Lumber Co. has templates of full-size outlines for seven of the most popular patterns — Santa Claus and sleigh, Santa Claus standing, reindeer, carolers, Christmas bow, choir boy, and Christmas tree. The templates make it easy to trace a full-size outline for cutting and painting.

Detailed in the free plan are the following ideas, besides those mentioned above: Yard decorations, indoor tree for displaying Christmas cards, a realistic mock fireplace for the kiddies' stockings, window silhouettes depicting the Star of Bethlehem, a series showing Santa and his helpers, and a series of cutouts for decorating the entryway of the home.

Masonite hardboard panels are specified in the plan because they are splinter-free, durable and weather-resistant. They will last year after year. Thousands of home owners use these versatile tempered boards, which may be painted or otherwise decorated to the taste of the family. The free plan is keyed for color, so that anyone can paint the figures attractively.

Full directions for working with hardboard are given, and there are construction hints for making the various items.

Educational toys at B & B include the Holgate Toys designed to make learning fun. Building blocks, bricks, logs, puzzles, novelties to stimulate young imaginations — to help to teach children to think.

Giant Gift Department

Visit, at your convenience and as you are, the giant B & B Pharmacy gift department to find ideas for all your Christmas lists.

For instance your gift cameras: Brownie Starflash and Holiday Flash Outlets, Kodak Duaflex Flash Outlets; the movie cameras by Brownie, Keystone and Bell & Howell; also the Polaroid Land Camera.

Problems Of The Aged

As a letter to Grace Friend recently indicated, our oldest are having a tough time getting along on their small incomes. Whether the incomes come from private pensions or taxes, still the incomes are fixed, and they are small.

Some older persons have been forcibly confined by their children to state mental hospitals. An estimated 2,300 completely sane older people were confined in California state mental hospitals at last count.

The oldesters living on small fixed incomes must steadily reduce their standard of living as inflation makes the cost of living go up.

The situation is intolerable. We asked for your suggestions, and we specified that your suggestions should not involve more inflation or taxation as an answer. There is a reason why more taxation for higher pensions will not work.

At present about 8 1/2 per cent of our total population is over 65. This is roughly 12 million older people.

The science of geriatrics (which studies the problems of the aged) tells us the average life expectancy is continually going up. By the year 2000 (43 years from now, extrapolating from present rates of increase) we will have 72 million senior citizens over 65.

This will be about 20 per cent of population of more than 300 million.

Psychiatrists who study geriatrics tell us one reason why children force their parents into mental homes is because of a feeling of unconscious resentment. The son or daughter knows he is supposed to "honor thy father and mother" but often he can't see any honest reason why he should. He feels dad didn't have the wisdom to save, to buy annuities or provide for a private pension; instead he "lived it up."

The son wants to provide for his wife and children and their old age. To have to provide for dad and mom who have already lived their life seems to him too burdensome to bear. Complaining that junior is ungrateful, unfeeling, and that he is breaking a commandment probably won't change his feeling of resentment.

Another basis for unconscious resentment is that the older people haven't done much to deserve Junior's respect. They have left him a world of debts and wars which he didn't ask for. By submitting to deficit financing they mortgaged his future and expected him to pay without a crumb. But, he asks: "What with?" How are we going to support 72 million people over the age of 65? Do they deserve to be put before his children, and his children's education? "Why didn't they do more for themselves?" he asks. No doubt this attitude is often irrefragable. Psychiatrists think it is also sometimes justified.

Anyway we couldn't provide pensions for 72 million people out of taxes even if we wanted to. So another suggestion must be found.

Our suggestion is drastic. We believe America must change its national philosophy and policy to the idea of self-reliance, sound money, abolish paper inflation and deficit financing. Restore the gold standard (we had very little inflation while on the gold standard, for gold is hard to inflate).

Our suggestion probably won't be followed. But what's the alternative?

The most likely course is that the government will be forced to repudiate its promise to old people, as governments always do with all promises. Then the older people would starve.

We suggest reducing taxes to the absolute minimum, and taking care of older people privately. Either alternative is drastic. Which is better?

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. Holles

Shooting A Myth.
Dr. F.A. Harper has a timely and informative article in the November "The Freeman" under the heading "To Shoot A Myth." I want to quote some of the gems of this article.

After relating various forms of myths, he writes: "Economic myths are too numerous to shoot — economic fog, we might call it."

'The Major Myth'

"Perhaps the greatest economic myth of all is one that the government should — and can — do for us what we cannot otherwise do for ourselves. In social science this is the counterpart of a principle that the whole is greater than the sum of its parts; for if you remove the 'we' out of any social agglomerate, nothing is left but the shell of a dream. And so if we translate this myth into real equivalent, it becomes: 'We can do for ourselves what we cannot do for ourselves.' For in doing things for ourselves, we can do anything for each other, cooperatively and by means of exchange, to any extent we desire and are capable of doing under any man-made scheme that we can design."

"The myth about government is comparable to what might be called a mythical law of social dynamics: 'For no governmental action is there any equal and opposite reaction.' Or in accounting terms, this myth is comparable to saying that when the government does things, you need not use double entry to balance accounts; that you can enjoy the debit side and forget the credit side; that people can generally get something from nothing; that the government is capable of spontaneous generation of the goodly things of life."

'Derivative Myths'

"In a sense the government seems capable of spontaneous generation — the generation of endless minor myths begotten from this major myth. The list of offspring is seemingly endless. A few items will illustrate."

"When the government gives indiscriminate aid to mothers of children born out of wedlock, it seems like a fine, humane thing to do when viewed only on the debit side. Why should the innocent children of irresponsible parents be made to suffer privation? Why not legalize aid to them? The myth of the matter comes into focus only when one looks at the credit side of the matter. You cannot legalize the economic support of illegitimacy without inducing more of the same thing — without stimulating the production of the subsidized product. The fruits of this action have become more and more conspicuous with passing time, as in the instance in Illinois where for the third generation one household is living on the alms of illegitimacy and has abstained from any other form of gainful employment. The process is not quite the same as profitable barnyard reproduction of calves and pigs since the cow and the sow do not resolve their economic welfare by choice in quite this same manner. But otherwise, there is some striking similarity. If the market pays for raising pigs, farmers will raise them. If the government pays for having illegitimate children, that product will be forthcoming, too. So if pity for one illegitimate child leads to one additional case of illegitimacy that would not otherwise have occurred, the merit of the process is certainly debatable; if two or three or more are the result, it is clear that the myth has generated the object of its pity. The myth is found by looking at the credit side. Why can't someone invent a means of myth control?"

"Even then, having generated that which was the object of our sympathy, other troubles arise as not only unmarried mothers but also myths reproduce offspring. Cook County officials found that Elsie M. had illegally obtained $5,864 relief for ten children sired illegally by five men. So they sent her to jail for six months. The ten children then had to be kept in foster homes — all at an additional expense of $19,948."

"As another illustration, take the case of alcohol production and consumption. Year after year has been found in the federal budget, on pages so far apart that their disharmony was not easily detected, two items of interest in relation to one another. On one page is an assessment for all taxpayers to help make up the deficit of the government-operated rum factory on the Virgin Islands; on another page is an assessment on all taxpayers to help cure alcoholism in the District of Columbia. Now whether the neurotic residents of that city of government officials overdid their alcohol consumption, with the product from that particular factory, or on vodka, there seems to be a myth or two buried somewhere in this contrast. The two together seem like a make-work tax project of the first order."

"Then there is the case of untold millions of dollars of taxpayers' money being spent to increase agricultural production, while billions of what taxpayers have left thereafter are being spent to study the problem of how to dispose of 'surplus' farm products, to buy and store those products, and to dump them at far below purchase price. The similarity between this and the alms to illegitimate children, both produced in surplus because of reliance on the forthcoming alms, is too close to escape notice. The myth is evidenced on the credit side of the account."

Ex-Ranger Seeking Funds For Honor Medal Reunion

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

BOSTON—Charlie MacGillivray, an old Ranger, came up to do a little sitting and talking about the convention of The Medal of Honor men in Boston next April. His problem is to raise $10,000 to pay the fare and rations of those among 300 men who hold the star-spangled ribbon who can't afford the trip. Donations are not deductible.

Charlie is a blocky, black-haired Boston Customs House, married man, rising 40, with a job in the post-war and the father of three girls, the oldest now 11. He fought in the shambles of Dieppe where American Rangers and picked Canadians and English were butchered in a wretched escapade. He came through without a scratch, but a German shot his left arm off at the shoulder at The Bulge. There is no hatred as he talks about the brutal folly of Dieppe. The British command and their government just thought the troops were getting bored and could do with a bleeding. But that's the way it goes in the world.

The Doctor Says

By Edwin J. Jordan, M. D.

There is sobering evidence that the disease known as syphilis has by no means been conquered. Even though the struggle against it has gone on for hundreds of years there are still some elementary things about syphilis which many people still do not appear to realize.

This is one of the two great venereal diseases and is acquired almost without exception from the opposite sex. It is an infection caused by a tiny living body commonly called a spirochete.

The question of contagiousness is most important and two questions on this have been submitted by Mrs. B. She asks first whether a person can have the disease and not be contagious.

The answer to this is yes, and it is for this reason, as well as others, that the disease should be treated promptly by penicillin, arsenic or other methods. This will remove the danger of contagion quickly even if the disease itself takes longer to cure entirely.

Mrs. B. also inquires whether a mother with syphilis can have a healthy child. This also relates to contagiousness since the spirochete can pass through the blood from mother to child and cause what is known as the congenital form of the disease.

But here, too, the answer is yes, since by modern methods the mother can be treated so that there is very little danger to the child.

THESE POINTS are of the utmost importance since the quick conquest of the spirochete of syphilis, at least to the stage where it cannot be passed to another person, means that new infections would become few and far between.

The victim of the disease therefore has a great responsibility to seek proper treatment at the earliest possible moment. This is as important for his own sake as it is for others.

A LOCAL SORE is the usual first symptom and the best time to get a diagnosis and treatment. After a few weeks a skin rash is likely to develop.

As time goes on the spirochete spreads elsewhere in the body and may in time attack the blood vessels or the nervous system. Except in its initial stages, a blood test — Wassermann test or one of its modifications—will reveal the presence of the disease. From all angles, treatment and observation should be early, complete and prolonged. Formerly this treatment consisted principally in injections of various preparations made from some of the heavy metals. The discovery of penicillin has brought a great advance to treatment but the progress of the disease still has to be watched closely.

Final Note On Munich; Charming German City

By HENRY McEMORE

MUNICH — Eavesdropping on a conversation carried on in a language you understand is comparatively simple. You're free to fasten onto all of it, pick out the parts you want or, when bored, simply ignore the whole thing.

Eavesdropping abroad can be comparatively simple if you follow a few basic rules. The Italian is bragging about his love affairs, the Frenchman is delicately pressing for favors, the Spaniard is being wildly extravagant.

This yardstick, though, throws you for a loss in Germany, especially in Bavaria where the complicated German language is made twice as complicated by the presence of the Bavarian dialect. "Don't worry about it," a wise old Muenchner advised me. "Take my word for it, they're all talking about money. They talk of nothing else. Just fit the dialogue to the situation and you can eavesdrop as casually as though you were back home."

Right now all Munich conversation on the street cars is centered around the raise in fares that will take place after the first of the year. A single 40 pfennig fare is going to replace the present rate of 25 pfennigs for short rides, 30 pfennigs for longer rides and an additional fee of 5 pfennigs for transfers. On any street car in Munich, you can hear the pfennig how much this is going to increase each individual's basic expenses.

Beer is going up, too, from 12 1/2 cents a pint to about 15 cents. Here, silence is more eloquent than conversation. Mention the price-rise anywhere in Munich, and there is just a stillness as though Doomsday could not be more threatening.

A visitor in Munich should never expect praise for getting a bargain — even if he shows up with a triple Hi-Fi set with radio, television, remote tuning, an extra speaker, and a complete set of spare parts for $23. The Muenchner will eye the purchase dubiously and mutter a polite German equivalent of "I think you were robbed."

No one, from the waitress at the corner wirthaus to your best friend, will hesitate to ask you what rent you're paying. Rents, anywhere in the world, create vast conversational dismay, but in Munich anything over 100 marks — about $26 — is considered wild, foolish, frantic, unforgivable. Beer steins have been known to drop at some of the figures people are paying these days. One American friend thought he had solved this problem simply by claiming to be a German; his friends that he was paying half the actual figure. All this got him was, "Well, you could do better if you tried."

When the Muenchner isn't talking about money, he's counting it, especially in restaurants where each waiter keeps his own cash box. This can become complicated in the big Munich beer halls where you pay one waitress for the beer, another for bread, a third for butter, and a fourth for radishes. If you want sausages, there's a fifth.

This can add up to a healthy distrust about money that happens when one Muenchner sends money to another. He buys a money order at the post office and the next morning, a postman appears at the door of the recipient. "Herr X," he announces, "I have money for you."

There's no pussyfooting about it, no discreet going to the post office with a piece of paper. Out of the sack of cash he carries with him he pays you real, honest-to-god money — cash! real stuff!

Red Triumphs Cause Spirit Of Skepticism

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Russia's technological triumphs have accomplished far more than awakening the American people — and the Administration — to the extent of our military and scientific backwardness, and the need to sacrifice for national survival.

The Communist's spectacular achievements have generated a widespread spirit of skepticism concerning the Federal government's official and contrived reports on the State of the Union, whether they refer to domestic or foreign, minor or major problems. They have created an atmosphere of disillusionment with respect to the secrecy which surrounds almost every operation at Washington.

This reaction has been reflected in an unusually heavy volume of mail to members of Congress and to the White House. It appears in newspaper editorials, magazine articles, on radio and television and in the statements of businessmen, industrialists and scientists.

LEGACY PASSED ON — This outburst is not directed specifically against President Eisenhower, although he happens to be the immediate target of the skepticism and criticism. He has merely inherited an unhappy legacy. There was probably more secrecy, suppression and a father knows best" attitude under Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S.

Truman than there is at Washington today. F.D.R. frequently referred to himself as "Papa" or "Doctor."

In fact, the withholding of facts from the people has a historic background. It results partially from official ignorance of actual conditions at home and abroad, and partly from the dominant political Party's natural desire to pat itself on the back and strut its stuff.

In the 1928-29 era, for instance, we were assured that the American economy had attained a permanent and impregnable peak of prosperity, and by such experts as Calvin Coolidge, Andrew W. Mellon and Herbert Hoover. Mr. Hoover confided that "We have banished poverty from our land."

LULLED — The few who dared to doubt these Pollyanna peans were denounced as "unpatriotic" (the equivalent of "Communist" in those days); until the disillusioning crash of October 29, 1929.

F.D.R. and Harry S. Truman boasted of our military strength before World War II and the Korean "police action," respectively, while they cut defense appropriations. But when we were faced with those challenges we found that we were wholly unprepared. We had to make up for the lag in men and money. Once again, the people had been lulled into complacency and overconfidence by false and phony assurances from their national leaders.

They'll Do It Every Time

HEALTHY EFFECT

Fortunately, today's disillusionment may have a healthy effect. The people are demanding the truth in their letters to Capitol Hill and to the newspapers. Half a dozen Congressional committees will try to peer behind the domestic "Iron Curtain" in many different but related fields — military, scientific, financial, labor, railroads, aviation, agriculture.

The Administration itself has broken the barriers of secrecy. Since the appearance of the Sputniks it has given out more information on military and scientific progress — or the lack thereof — than in all the 12 years since the end of World War II.

Had it pursued this policy in the last five years, when it had definite data on Moscow's prospective achievements, it could have cushioned the shock from which the Free World now suffers. More importantly, had the Adameses, the Cutlers and the Wilsons been required to tell us the bad news, an aroused Congress and public would have forced the Administration to "contain" the Communists in the skies as well as on the ground.
