APPROPRIATIONS, SECRET BOMBING

Group Eliminates Several Grounds Of Impeachment

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Some members of the House Judiciary Committee said Saturday they have eliminated at least two possible grounds for impeachment of President Nixon—the impoundment of appropriations and the secret 1970 bombing of Cambodia.

Several Republicans and some Democrats on the committee said Nixon was unlikely to be impeached for these reasons. But they hesitated to rule out any of the other issues raised in an impeachment resolution listing over 20 possible impeachable acts.

The committee, which is conducting an inquiry into possible grounds for impeaching Nixon, has instructed the staff to submit a legal brief by Feb. 20 with conclusions on what constitutes an impeachable offense. Among the other possible grounds were obstruction of justice, knowledge of a felony and accepting favors for campaign contributions — most of them related to Watergate.

"Impoundment and bombing are not impeachable and border on being frivolous," said Rep. Charles E. Wiggins, R-Calif. One Democrat who asked not to be identified added: "We've got 30 or 40 other things we can impeach him on."

One impeachment resolution charged Nixon with violating his oath to uphold the law when he refused to spend an estimated $40 billion after signing appropriations bills into law.

Another resolution charged the President with "misleading the American people" and submitting perjured testimony to the Senate concerning the secret bombing.

Rep. Wiley Mayne, R-Iowa, answered "clearly not" when asked if these two charges would lead to impeachment.

"I'm sticking with the language of the Constitution" which lists bribery, treason and "high crimes and misdemeanors" for impeachment, Mayne said.

Rep. Robert W. Kastenmeier, D-Wis., said impoundment and bombing were politically sufficient to bring impeachment. He said there was no national consensus the acts were wrong.

"Maybe technically you could prove the case, but politically they would not have sufficient culpability to impeach," he said.

Shapp Calls Conference On Trucker Strike Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gov. Milton J. Shapp of Pennsylvania, shaken by a truck driver's death in his state, called Saturday for an emergency conference in Washington to find a solution to high diesel fuel prices that have spawned a coast-to-coast trucker's strike.

"There are many things I find frustrating about the Nixon administration and this is just one of them," Shapp said. "The federal government has treated the problems of truckers as if they didn't exist."

Invited to the conference at a downtown Washington hotel starting at noon Sunday were governors of nine states, senators and congressmen including chairmen of the House and Senate Commerce and Interior committees, federal energy director William E. Simon and representatives of 14 independent truckers' associations.

Shapp, a Democrat, called out the Pennsylvania National Guard and ordered state police to patrol highways and overpasses after a truck driver was killed near Allentown, Pa., Thursday when a rock smashed through his window.

The truckers' protest freight hauling shutdown, which began in Ohio and Pennsylvania, has spread across the country with increasing reports of gunfire, rock throwing, sabotage and injuries among non-participants despite two recent government concessions on fuel prices.

A Federal Energy Office agreement to increase the diesel fuel allocation for truckers by 110 per cent was followed Friday by Interstate Commerce Commission authority for a 4 per cent increase in charges for hauling iron and steel to help offset rising fuel costs.

William J. Hill, president of the Pittsburgh-based Fraternal Order of Steel Haulers and a leader of the shutdown, called the rate boost "too little and too late." Hill plans to attend Shapp's conference in Washington.

The Dallas Morning News reported that the Federal Energy Office plans late next week to order major oil companies to share gasoline and other fuels with competitors in short supply.

In a copyrighted story, the News quoted a "high official" in the office's fuel policy division as saying that "the goal is to make everybody run out of gasoline at the same time in February, if we do our job right," by spreading available supplies equally to all areas.

In another development, Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said the administration might be breaking the law by failing to roll back crude oil prices and set reasonable price ceilings to encourage increased production.

"There is no economic justification for domestic crude oil prices at $10 per barrel," said Jackson, chairman of the Senate Interior Committee. "The administration's failure to impose ceilings on crude oil prices may well be unlawful."

Jackson was reported prepared to propose Monday that House-Senate negotiators write a price rollback provision into the emergency energy powers bill as a substitute for the windfall profits tax section opposed by the White House and the oil industry. The Federal Energy Office was said to have agreed to this plan with some reservations.

182 Die In Fire In Brazil

SAO PAULO (UPI) — Firemen searching through smoke still pouring from a fire-gutted Sao Paulo skyscraper found more bodies Saturday, raising the death toll to at least 182. Police probed reports that a bomb threat had been telephoned shortly before the inferno in the 22-story building.

Sao Paulo authorities voiced angry accusations that inflammable construction materials and inadequate exits contributed to the disaster that trapped hundreds of persons on the roof and upper floor of the modern downtown Joelia Building Friday.

By noon Saturday, the city morgue reported 182 bodies—many burned beyond recognition—had been brought in. Only 110 have been identified. Many bodies were mangled from falls as the victims, desperately trying to escape the intense heat and smoke, leaped from the building.

Amid the accusations that the building was constructed with flammable materials and lacked adequate fire exits, civil authorities vowed Saturday to take prompt action to alter the city's construction code.

Mayor Miguel Colasuonno said the flames shot rapidly through the office tower because the builder had used "inflammable material" in the upper floors and said a new building code would be drawn up immediately. "It will contain new safety and preventive measures against fire and all kinds of disasters," he promised.

"Most of the victims were cooked," said Fire Chief Jonas Flores Ribeiro Jr. "At least 80 per cent of the deaths were caused by panic."

Ribeiro said the building had inadequate sprinkler systems and the fire stairs "were only 11 inches wide."

Several newspapers reported a telephone operator said she received an anonymous phone call on Thursday threatening that a bomb would go off in the building Friday morning.

Fire officials, however, said "our experts have determined that there was initially only one focal point to the fire, which would seem to halt the supposition that it was intentionally set."

"But we cannot make hasty conclusions and we prefer to await the results of our investigation," he added.

Syria And Israel Engage In Battle

By United Press International — Syria and Israel fought a three-hour artillery battle Saturday amid reports the United States had sent "new ideas" to the Syrians and Israelis on disengagement of their troops from the Golan Heights cease-fire lines.

In Cairo political sources said that Mohammed Hassanein Heikal, the editor of Cairo's semi-official daily newspaper Al-Ahram and a confidant of Egyptian presidents, had been fired from his editorship for "non-conformist" writings.

Heikal was fired, sources said, because he criticized Arab oil-producing countries for lack of militancy and expressed skepticism about U.S. sincerity in trying to bring about an Arab-Israeli settlement.

Syria said its forces killed or wounded about 25 Israelis and knocked out several tanks in the artillery clash on the Golan Heights, but Israel said it suffered no casualties in shelling exchanged at four points.

In the latest of daily clashes on the Golan Heights, a military spokesman in Damascus said that Syrian antitank weapons scored a direct hit on an Israeli armored personnel carrier, destroying it and its occupants. Several Israeli tanks and artillery pieces were also knocked out of action, the spokesman said.

On the Suez front, Egyptian troops have begun thinning out from the Sinai, with disengagement between Egypt and Israel reported proceeding "smoothly."

Al-Ahram reported, meanwhile, new American suggestions on Syrian-Israeli troop disengagement with the aim of creating a "formula acceptable to the two parties."

Earlier this week, the newspaper reported that Syria had suggested that Israel withdraw from all occupied Syrian territory but that the Israelis expressed willingness only to pull back from lands captured in the October war.

The newspaper said Cairo has received a copy of the American "ideas" and that Syrian President Hafez Assad sent an "urgent" message to Egyptian President Anwar Sadat on the subject.

Assad discussed disengagement and the Arab oil weapon Saturday in Riyadh with Saudi Arabia's King Faisal and was to visit Kuwait later.

Did you ever think you'd see the day (asks Ty Kuhn) when a guy with two Cadillacs would have a problem? ... Rodney Dangerfield grumbled about his hard luck: "I bought some stock at 12 — and it went down 15 points" ... It's true that you can't fool all the people all the time — but some highway signs come pretty close to it ... AFTER FRIDAY STUDY

City Considering Pioneer's Request

City commissioners spent two hours Friday afternoon studying Pioneer Natural Gas Company's request for a monthly cost-of-gas rate adjustment in Pampa.

City Manager Mack Wofford and the councilmen went through all the correspondence from the utility company and from a steering committee representing cities on Pioneer's West Texas distribution system. Approximately half of the 58 cities have followed the steering committee's recommendation that the request be granted. The others are studying the proposal. Two or three reportedly have turned it down.

It was the consensus of Pampa commissioners at the Friday afternoon session that they were deeply interested in keeping Pioneer competitive with other companies in the production of gas.

The commissioners also agreed that Pampa's situation was such that the governing body wants to maintain protection for local gas consumers.

Several questions arose at the meeting for which the commissioners are seeking answers.

As a result, City Manager Wofford and one of two of the commissioners plan to go to Amarillo this week for a conference with Pioneer officials to get the answers.

"We want to be fair to the gas company," the city manager said, "but we also want to take a cautious approach to the problem."

Wofford said the commission hopes to get the answers to its questions in time to take action at the next city commission meeting Feb. 12.

Mayor R.D. Wilkerson and Commissioners Ray Thompson, Joe Curtis, Leo Braswell and Arthur Rohde attended Friday's study session along with the city manager and City Atty. Bob Gordon.

FOR PRIMARIES

Candidates Filing Deadline Monday

Tomorrow at 6 p.m. is the deadline for candidates filing for the May 4 primary election for any county, district or state office.

Persons seeking to become candidates for county offices must file with their county Democratic or Republican chairmen.

Gray County Democratic chairman is Atty. Harold Comer and Republican chairman is Dr. Julian Key.

State law requires a candidate's campaign chairman be named at the time of filing.

Those who had filed on the Democratic ticket by Friday afternoon were Don Cain, for re-election as County Judge, Mrs. Wanda Carter, re-election as County Clerk, Mrs. Helen Sprinkle, re-election as District Clerk, and Mrs. Jean Scott, re-election as County Treasurer.

Also, Don Hinton, re-election as county commissioner from Precinct 2, and Mrs. Mary Dwyer, re-election as county commissioner from Precinct 4. Also filing for the Precinct 4 post were John Guill and Ted Simmons.

E.L. Anderson has filed for re-election to the Precinct 2, place 2, Justice of the Peace post. Mrs. Margaret McPhillips has also filed for that post.

How Is Your Acting Talent?

How's your acting talent? The Pampa Noon Lions Club is looking for actors and actresses for the cast of its old-time "melodrammer" to be staged early in March.

There will be parts available for the villain, the hero, the heroine and any number of supporting roles.

The first try-outs will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Madeline Graves Studio, 600 W. Browning.

Lions Club president Mack Wofford urges local talent to turn out for the auditions. Anyone interested is invited, he said.

PPROA To Fight Excess Profits Tax Bill

By TEX DEWEESE — The Panhandle Producers and Royalty Owners Association has joined the fight of the Independent Petroleum Association of America against federal legislation that proposes an excess profits tax on oil and gas profits.

Jack M. Allen of Perryton, president of PPROA, has filed a statement with the U.S. House Ways and Means Committee which will begin a hearing on the Excess Profits Tax in Washington tomorrow.

It was this tax proposal on the Oil & Gas Industry that the Joint Committee could not agree on just before Christmas and which prevented passage of the National Emergency Energy Act. The Excess Profit Tax bill was sent back to the House and the new hearing is scheduled for this week. Allen, recently named to the board of the IPPA, will be in Washington for a meeting of the association Wednesday and Thursday.

The Excess Tax Profits Bill is aimed at oil producers and would label crude oil prices above ceiling prices ($4.20 in the Texas Panhandle at the time the bill was drafted) as a windfall price subject to the excess profits tax. Prices above 50 cents more than the ceiling price would be taxed from 10 pct. to as much as 85 pct., depending on the production level.

The PPROA statement filed for consideration by the House Ways and Means Committee, headed by Rep. Wilbur Mills, Ark-D, when it convenes tomorrow follows:

"Statement of Panhandle Producers & Royalty Owners Association before House Ways and Means Committee, U.S.

House of Representatives, concerning legislation proposing excess profits tax on oil and gas profits.

"Panhandle Producers and Royalty Owners Association, Box 2226, Barfield Building, Amarillo, Texas, an organization consisting of 424 members, opposes an Excess Profits Tax on oil and gas profits for the following reasons:

"1. — Profits in the oil industry are not excessive if any consideration is given to investment, risk and comparison of oil industry profits to all industry profits.

"2. — An Excess Profits Tax will create problems similar to dislocations created in attempting to control the price of beef. This will compound rather than help solve energy problems.

"3. — An Excess Profits Tax aimed solely at the oil industry constitutes rank discrimination. Any such tax should apply equally to all segments of the economy. No clamor was made for an Excess Profits Tax on agriculture when it finally had a good year in 1973 which helped offset many, many lean years for farmers. No attempt has been made to penalize any other industry because developments in any one year might have allowed a profit in excess of normal prospects.

"4. — The oil industry is sorely in need of capital for re-investment. Most profits remaining after income taxes will be re-invested and should not be subject to excess tax rates, thereby depriving investment in additional oil and gas projects.

"5. — Independent oil and gas producers are the key to addition of meaningful new oil and gas reserves in the United States. Major oil companies must and will somehow survive irresponsible penalties imposed on oil and gas producers by ultimately passing on to the consumer such costs. If the Independents are regulated and taxed out of business as many congressional witch-hunters apparently intend and hope to do, the U.S. will never attain self-sufficiency in either oil or gas production. Consumers will pay for more than today's seemingly high prices when there are only a few overly-controlled or nationalized major companies and foreign governments to furnish necessary energy.

"6. — Energy problems will be solved sooner if the Administration, Congress and the News media will listen to knowledgeable oil people and cease the current demagogic attack against the oil industry."

Official To Visit Knights Templar

CHARLES WESBROOKS
...Grand Junior Warden

Sir Knight Charles W. Wesbrooks of Abilene, Grand Junior Warden, Grand Commandery Knights Templar of Texas, will visit the local Knights Templar lodge Monday for an official visit and inspection.

Wesbrooks will inspect Pampa Commandery No. 97, Knights Templar, in the Masonic Lodge No. 966 AF&AM Bldg., 420 W. Kingsmill, at 7:30 p.m. Monday. Prior to the inspection, members, wives and guests will attend a banquet at

AFS Seeking Host Families

The Pampa chapter of the American Field Service is now seeking sponsors for an exchange student for the 1974-75 school year, according to chapter president Don Lane.

Applicants for sponsorship will be screened and interviewed by the local committee, Lane said. Applications must be sent to the national headquarters in New York City by Feb. 15.

This year, 2,622 students from over 60 countries are living and studying with American families, according to an AFS release.

Financial obligations to a host family include only food costs and some small incidental expenses.

Other expenses are borne by the student, the local chapter and Pampa High School. The student receives a monthly allowance from the AFS.

Host families are entitled to take a monthly tax deduction for expenses, according to an IRS ruling.

Lane said any family is eligible to serve as host. Many times the family has a student in school the same age as the exchange student.

Persons seeking further information or applications may contact Lane at 669-3729 or Mrs. Jimmy Massa at 665-5720.

the Pampa Shrine Bldg., south of the city.

A civil engineer with the Texas Highway Department, Wesbrooks will grade the commandery on the opening and closing ceremonies and the ritualistic conferral of the Order of the Temple.

The Grand Commandery is divided into nine Templar districts, and each year a Grand Officer visits lodges in each district to grade the commanderies on proficiency. Lodges receiving the highest grades receive the J.C. Kidd and Fred M. Gilbrough plaques for excellence.

A graduate of Burk Burnett High School, Wesbrooks received his bachelor of arts degree from Hardin-Simmons University. He served in the U.S. Navy in World War II and again in 1950-52. He is a member of the Society of Professional Engineers.

He became a Master Mason in 1955 and is a past Master of Stamford Lodge No. 853. He is a past High Priest of Stamford Chapter No. 257, Royal Arch Masons, and a past Thrice Illustrious Master of Stamford Council No. 192, Royal and Select Masters.

Wesbrooks was Commander of Abilene Commandery No. 27, Knights Templar in 1965. He is a member of Waco Scottish Rite Bodies and a member of the Holy Royal Arch Knight Templar Priests.

Fire Destroys Supply Store

McLEAN — The Smith Farm and Ranch Supply here was destroyed by fire Friday in a blaze which began around 9 a.m.

Fire units from both McLean and Shamrock answered the call, according to a spokesman for the McLean fire department.

The fire apparently began in some grass and tall weeds beside the store, perhaps from a discarded cigarette.

Owner of the store is Carey Don Smith. The building had recently been remodeled.

Board To Hear Coach's Report

The Pampa Independent School District Board of Trustees will meet at 7 a.m. tomorrow at the Coronado Inn to hear a report from athletic director Ed Lehnick on the subject of selecting a head football coach for Pampa High.

After convening in open session, the board will enter into a closed executive session authorized by state law for the consideration of personnel.

Money for Movement NEW YORK (UPI) — Young business executives with families rarely are willing to pull up their roots, so a sizeable increase in compensation should be used to encourage movement from one area of the country to another.

Paul R. Ray of Fort Worth, an executive recruiter, says that executives now are placing values on many factors besides their salary.

Cates spent the weekend in Pampa.

Cates is currently serving as a delegate to the history making Constitutional Convention of 1974. At the convention, delegate Cates was appointed to the Committee on the Executive by convention president Price Daniel Jr.

Rep. Cates has sponsored legislation against persons involved in child abuse, the bill to allow spraying instead of dipping of cattle for scabies protection, and he supports the concept of the right to work law.

Cates is the only graduate of West Texas State University now serving in the state Legislature, although there have been others in the past. Cates served as assistant dean of student life at WTSU prior to his election to the 62nd Legislature in 1971.

He is married to the former Nancy Kay Holt of Pampa. He represents 10 Texas counties, which include Gray, Wheeler, Collingsworth, Floyd, Armstrong, Childress, Briscoe, Hall, Motley and Donley.

After filing with the State Democratic Executive Committee in Austin, Cates stated, "Nancy and I are grateful to the Panhandle - Plains area for allowing us to represent them in state government. We feel even greater need for good government in the future since we are looking forward to the birth of our first child in September."

Price Asks Americans To Restore Confidence

U.S. Congressman Bob Price announced his candidacy Friday for re-election to a fifth term in the U.S. House of Representatives from the 13th Congressional District of Texas.

Price made the announcement before an audience of slightly more than 100 supporters and media representatives at 6:30 p.m. in the Hospitality Room of the Citizens Bank & Trust Co. (See photo, Page 1.)

In making the announcement, Price, 46, and in his eighth year in office, called for the American people to once more have "confidence in their ability to do things for themselves."

"America was founded on individual initiative and I am confident that the country can make it in the future only if the citizens have a say in the decisions affecting their lives."

"Washington, D.C., is not the final repository of wisdom, nor does wisdom lie with the so-called 'wise men' in various fields who develop an elitist approach and tell people what their futures should be."

Price also listed accomplishments made in America in 1973 — an end to direct American involvement in South Vietnam, initiatives in opening communication with China and the Soviet Union, leading Mid-East antagonists to the peace table and improvements in the status of the dollar and the economy in general.

International affairs (the need for America to be prepared to defend itself militarily) was named number one and the energy crisis number two in his list of priorities for the United States in the immediate future.

Speaking further on the energy crisis, Price said in answer to a question after completing his prepared candidacy speech, "The American people are fooling themselves if they think they can hit big oil companies over the head (with complaints about shortages, excessive profits and prices) and still get oil out of the ground."

In response to a question about Watergate he said, "I think the American people are tired after one year of Watergate and want to get on with the country's business."

That statement drew applause from the audience.

Price continued on Watergate, "There is an element in this country dedicated to overthrowing the government of the United States." And he likened some "liberal elements" with Angela Davis and other radicals in the country.

State Democratic Senator Jack Hightower of Vernon and Ray Ruffin of Amarillo have filed their candidacy for the 13th Congressional District post in the May 4 Democratic primary election.

The winner of that race will face Congressman Price in the November general election.

Bumper jacks Used To Knock Out Windows

Bumper jacks were used to knock out windows in two cars in Pampa Friday night and the police know who did it. But the owners of the cars told officers they don't prefer charges in the matter.

Police were called to the scene of a disturbance at 910 Murphy in the city shortly before 10 p.m. Friday.

As told officers, this is what occurred: Guadalupe Rodriguez of Pampa began taking the spark plug wires from a vehicle belonging to Sylvester Diaz.

When that happened, reports said, Diaz took a jack and knocked out the front, back and two side windows on Rodriguez' 1966 Pontiac.

Next it was Rodriguez' turn. He got his hands on a jack and broke out the front, back and left rear windows of Diaz' car, a 1962 Falcon, reports said.

After officers talked to the two men involved and others at the scene, they were told no charges would be filed.

Police are investigating the burglary of Clarence's Garage, 315 W. Foster, late Thursday or early Friday.

Garage owner Clarence Hale told officers the thief or thieves entered the business through a door he apparently left open after finishing work Thursday.

Missing were an adding machine valued at $97, a $40 socket set, a $9 case of transmission fluid and a case of soft drinks worth $2.

Investigation is also continuing in a hit and run incident Thursday. A 1966 Oldsmobile owned by Jimmy Hale, 1121 S. Christy, was hit by another vehicle while the car was parked in front of the Hale residence. Damage was estimated at $250.

Masonic Group Picks Officers

Officers for the ensuing year were elected at a meeting of the Top O' Texas Scottish Rite Association Friday night in Masonic Lodge 1381.

Eddie Polnac was elected president. He will be assisted by the following officers:

Robert Keller, first vice president; Muri Winegeart, second vice president; Clyde Hodges, third vice president; Hugh Shotwell, secretary-treasurer, and Elmer Radcliff, outer guard.

Seven directors were elected. They are Warren Chisum, Glenn Radcliff, A.N. King, Mack Harmon, Lloyd Gooch, D.A. Rife and James Jennings.

Price also listed accomplishments made in America in 1973 — an end to direct American involvement in South Vietnam, initiatives in opening communication with China and the Soviet Union, leading Mid-East antagonists to the peace table and improvements in the status of the dollar and the economy in general.

International affairs (the need for America to be prepared to defend itself militarily) was named number one and the energy crisis number two in his list of priorities for the United States in the immediate future.

Speaking further on the energy crisis, Price said in answer to a question after completing his prepared candidacy speech, "The American people are fooling themselves if they think they can hit big oil companies over the head (with complaints about shortages, excessive profits and prices) and still get oil out of the ground."

In response to a question about Watergate he said, "I think the American people are tired after one year of Watergate and want to get on with the country's business."

That statement drew applause from the audience.

Price continued on Watergate, "There is an element in this country dedicated to overthrowing the government of the United States." And he likened some "liberal elements" with Angela Davis and other radicals in the country.

State Democratic Senator Jack Hightower of Vernon and Ray Ruffin of Amarillo have filed their candidacy for the 13th Congressional District post in the May 4 Democratic primary election.

The winner of that race will face Congressman Price in the November general election.

Bumper jacks Used To Knock Out Windows

Bumper jacks were used to knock out windows in two cars in Pampa Friday night and the police know who did it. But the owners of the cars told officers they don't prefer charges in the matter.

Police were called to the scene of a disturbance at 910 Murphy in the city shortly before 10 p.m. Friday.

As told officers, this is what occurred: Guadalupe Rodriguez of Pampa began taking the spark plug wires from a vehicle belonging to Sylvester Diaz.

When that happened, reports said, Diaz took a jack and knocked out the front, back and two side windows on Rodriguez' 1966 Pontiac.

Next it was Rodriguez' turn. He got his hands on a jack and broke out the front, back and left rear windows of Diaz' car, a 1962 Falcon, reports said.

After officers talked to the two men involved and others at the scene, they were told no charges would be filed.

Police are investigating the burglary of Clarence's Garage, 315 W. Foster, late Thursday or early Friday.

Garage owner Clarence Hale told officers the thief or thieves entered the business through a door he apparently left open after finishing work Thursday.

Missing were an adding machine valued at $97, a $40 socket set, a $9 case of transmission fluid and a case of soft drinks worth $2.

Investigation is also continuing in a hit and run incident Thursday. A 1966 Oldsmobile owned by Jimmy Hale, 1121 S. Christy, was hit by another vehicle while the car was parked in front of the Hale residence. Damage was estimated at $250.

Masonic Group Picks Officers

Officers for the ensuing year were elected at a meeting of the Top O' Texas Scottish Rite Association Friday night in Masonic Lodge 1381.

Eddie Polnac was elected president. He will be assisted by the following officers:

Robert Keller, first vice president; Muri Winegeart, second vice president; Clyde Hodges, third vice president; Hugh Shotwell, secretary-treasurer, and Elmer Radcliff, outer guard.

Seven directors were elected. They are Warren Chisum, Glenn Radcliff, A.N. King, Mack Harmon, Lloyd Gooch, D.A. Rife and James Jennings.

IN AMARILLO

Med Group Sets Cancer Program

The Potter-Randall County Medical Society president, Dr. Louis R. Devanney, has announced a program on diagnosis of cancer of the colon and rectum will be presented at the Feb. 11 meeting at the Amarillo Club in the American National Bank Bldg., 600 Tyler, at 6:30 p.m.

Cancer of the colon and rectum will strike 99,000 Americans this year. It occurs about equally in men and women. Some 48,000 die of it annually, Dr. Devanney said. Physicians know that almost three out of four patients might be saved by early diagnosis and prompt treatment.

The program will be led and moderated by Robert J. Rowe, M.D., clinical professor of surgery and head, Division of Colon and Rectal Surgery, University of Texas Southwestern Medical School, Dallas and head, Division of Colon and Rectal Surgery (Department of Surgery), Presbyterian Hospital of Dallas.

The panel will include Robert E. Hodges, M.D., clinical professor of radiology, University of Texas Southwestern Medical School at Dallas, and head, Department of Radiology, Presbyterian Hospital of Dallas, and J. Sloan Leonard, M.D., assistant clinical professor of pathology, University of Texas Southwestern Medical School at Dallas, and associate attending staff, Department of Pathology, Presbyterian Hospital of Dallas.

Topics included on the program are "Clinical Diagnosis of Cancer of the Colon and Rectum," "Radiological Diagnosis of Cancer of the Colon and Rectum" and "Pathology of Cancer of the Rectum in Relationship to Precancerous Lesions."

In a unique format developed by the American Cancer Society, Texas Division, the traveling speaker teams consist of leading physicians from Texas medical schools and hospitals. This is the 10th year the American Cancer Society has sponsored teams to visit meetings of county medical societies.

Subjects discussed by earlier panel members were Diagnosis and Management of Oral Cancer, Colon-Rectum Cancer, Leukemia and Lymphomas, Genitourinary Tract Cancer and Early Detection of Breast Cancer, with a total attendance of nearly 8,300 physicians.

In addition to the concentrated panel discussions, the American Cancer Society sponsors education for the medical profession through films, exhibits and lectures at medical meetings. Including research fellowships in Texas and cancer programs in medical institutions, the total professional education program annually costs more than $250,000 of funds raised by volunteers in Texas.

Working as a steel laborer and providing janitorial and maintenance service, Hassell began working for the company on Aug. 20, 1943. He has been a resident of Pampa since 1935.

Born at Plainview in 1909, he is married to Ellener Marie and has two step children.

He received an engraved watch during retirement ceremonies Friday afternoon.

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

SUNDAY, FEB. 3

Your birthday today: Coincides with a succession of many incidents which together add up to a complete break with most of your past, and entry onto a wholly fresh field of action. Relationships continue or fail as others grow with you or don't — it's not altogether your responsibility, in any case. Today's natives are children of fate, equipped for almost any vocation, often masters of several, seldom stopping with one.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Be up early to do what your community expects of you. News of distant events is surprising, distracting you from more important changes.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: For once you're better out of sight and away from your regular rounds. The temptation is to say too much, too abruptly, on any discrepancy or disagreement.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Put together detailed plans for the coming week. Younger people tend to get involved in anything that's happening — to be taken along without extra fuss.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Without notice, it's suddenly time for you to speak up — just don't overdo it or add comments on previously unstruck issues.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Being conservative and discreet brings success today as nothing else does. When you scatter resources for extra amenities, do not expect much return.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Contrary opinion exists on all points at issue but is not often openly expressed. Plans made earlier have yet quite a time to mature — patience!

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Being serene is the goal in today's mixed going. Urgent ly, old issues reach the decision stage, but with little new understanding to go on.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Crisis is implied all around but seems beyond your personal circle for the most part. Stick close to home; busy yourself with household improvements.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: As is often the case, your opinion stirs controversy or precipitates some confrontation. Limit your range to what is properly your own business.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Force no issues now, and where you can, lay aside your work for a day of attention to the needs of others. Your persuasive talents are not very strong now.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Be prepared for developments, advances beyond the Sunday customs of your community. People may do things they usually do not try, with odd results.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Abruptly an opening exists, and you have to settle quickly on a course of action or some way of getting out of the center of attention, as you choose.

Youth Center Report

Women's Exercise Class

An activity which is just for the men to appreciate and the women to enjoy is the twice-a-week exercise class. On Monday and Friday mornings at 9:30 the women meet in the Center to exercise as a group through a recording of instructions. There is a leader to instruct these sessions each morning.

The exercise class lasts about 30-40 minutes and then you have an option to an informal swim time in the pool. There are no lessons given during the swim period, but just leisure swimming.

To participate in these activities for the women you need only be or become a Center member. Memberships are always available for purchase at the front desk. Both individual and family memberships are available.

Calico Capers Square Dance Club

Although we are not actually sponsoring any dancing now, there is an adult square dance club that we call our own. This is the Calico Capers Square Dance Club which is a member of the Panhandle Square Dance Association.

The Calico Capers meet on each Saturday night except fifth Sat. nights from 8-11 p.m. to dance to a visiting caller. There are some 30 couples who are members of the club and enjoy this type of dancing.

Health Club Memberships

If you are not acquainted with our new health facility, now is the time to come by and let us show you around. The Center has one of the most complete health clubs in the Panhandle area. Hours are split between women users and men users.

The health club houses all the health exercise equipment such as the beauty bars, barrell rollers, vibrator belts, bicycles, sit-up boards, exerciser machine, rowing machine, leg and thigh curl machine, leg press machine, barbells, dumbbells, multi - press machine, jungle pulley machine, sun lap, two handball and racquetball courts, dressing room, showers, facial machine and sauna.

The health club membership is called our unlimited membership. It is always available to individuals and to husbands and wives in a combination membership.

An individual membership for six months is only $65 total which may be paid out on an installment plan for $15.50 the first month and $10.50 each of the other five months.

The husband-wife combination plan calls for $90 for six months. On the installment plan this would be $23.87 the first month and $13.87 each of the other five months. We have a one visit tryout plan

Dolphin Swim Team
The Center has a youth A.A.U. Swim Club called the Dolphins. This team is open to all interested young people who are interested in competitive swimming. No swim lessons are given during the workout periods, but we do give helpful instruction on the various strokes that are used.

The swim club is open to boys and girls ages 8-18 who know how to swim and have a desire to compete. Workouts are held on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Fridays from 6-7 p.m. and at other specified times.

To enroll you need only be a Center member and come by and talk to our swimming coaches Mrs. Ruth Steger and Malcolm Douglas. They will be happy to give you further information.

Volleyball Leagues
Some of our former players have been asking when the volleyball season will start. To answer all questions the leagues will start sometime in March after the current basketball season and invitational tourney. Further information will be mailed team members.

Profits And Emotions

Nothing seems to bring out the emotions more quickly than comments about "excessive profits" made by big companies, especially the oil companies during the current petroleum situation. Politicians are quick to make points with the emotionalists by calling the companies bad names and by initiating legislation to limit profits through special taxation. We have attempted to explain some simple economics in these columns, but it is difficult to persuade individuals to think clearly when they are emotionally upset over rising prices and short supplies. We pointed out that gasoline prices had not risen over the years to any degree near what inflation had created in other commodities. We also pointed out that petroleum industry spokesmen had warned of coming shortages more than a decade ago. But this doesn't seem to persuade those who have preconceived opinions that bigness is bad.

Well, let us put all that aside for the moment and examine the current idea of placing new taxes on oil companies and eliminating their tax deduction for oil exploration. There is no question that the dollar amount involved is huge, and the expected reaction from large segments of the public will be that the companies can afford it, they're too rich anyway. But it is a basic fact of economic life that people put their money where they believe they will get the greatest return, provided they are free to do so. The idea behind the depletion allowance oil companies were given, was to encourage them to continue exploration for new sources of crude oil. If the incentive is removed, the search for oil will diminish. After all, the demand certainly exists to the degree that all the petroleum products that can be produced from existing crude supplies no doubt can be sold with little marketing effort. Companies no doubt, could shorten their distribution lines, sell all their products to those residing closer to the source of supply. This would decrease the company expenses and no doubt would increase their profits considerably. The companies would make out fine, and those customers residing near the supply source would be provided with fuel in sufficient quantities. But those customers in distant areas might be cut off entirely. Further, it is not likely that any searching for new supplies would be undertaken. If the company could not profit by expanding, why should it be expected to try? The profit motive is what encourages people to work harder to produce more. The most sensible statement energy czar William Simon has made was in opposition to increased taxes for oil companies. We recalled the cases during the early stages of the wage and price freeze in which poultry supplies were reduced. Baby chicks were drowned because it would cost the poultry raiser more money to feed and care for them than he would receive when they reached market size. Emotionalism aside, is there anyone out there who really believes a business should be compelled to operate at a loss? Is there anyone out there who really believes a company should not be permitted to profit as best it can? Is there anyone out there who really believes a worker should not be free to earn as high a wage as he possibly can?

Cripple the Mails? Postal Union Seeks Right to Strike

By VICTOR RIESEL
WASHINGTON — There were straws — and rocks — in the wind outside a huge U.S. mail installation the other day. Striking post office workers locked arms, clogged gates, blockaded entrances with their cars and tangled with some police around the unique New York (Jersey City, N.J.) Bulk and Foreign Mail Center — all in defiance of the federal court. Though the stoppage was illegal and in violation of their no-strike contract, the postal employees cheered when their militant veteran union president Moe Biller told them, "We have won a beautiful victory and you have proved yourselves much stronger than those in the private sector." Generally the story died. But to insiders watching closely a startling story was born. Especially when it is linked to the virtually unreported drive in Congress by the strong AFL-CIO postal unions for a law permitting their 600,000 members the same right to strike as their fellow unionists in the "private sector" — the auto, steel and trucking industries, for example. Thus for the first time, Congress actually is considering granting a bloc in the federal work force the right to strike the government. This is the earliest, almost imperceptible, movement towards the "foreignization" of American labor laws. These now contain prison, monetary and dismissal punishment for those striking government services. Also, the bill, which in effect has 68 sponsors in the House, is the first signal of what eventually will be a successful public workers campaign (police, fire fighters, et al.) to win the same paralyzing strike rights as the private sector. This development is going unnoticed since it is a long way from the heavy up-front headlines reporting the crippling of vital governmental operations in cities, counties, states, and in the federal sector. Such early warning alerts as this bill, now being pushed by Rep. Charles Wilson (D-Calif.), usually are ignored by the public. Hysteria comes mostly when travelers rush into an airport only to be earthbound by a strike; or when the citizenry awakens to mounds of uncollected garbage; when fire fighters and police refuse to make their swift rounds; or the railroads turn into toy train sets. There are businessmen and some who will recall the March 1970 postal strike. It began with rebel action by the same articulate, mike-thumping Moe Biller, president of the New York Metro Area Postal Union, unleashing his legions. Soon President Nixon — mostly as a symbolic gesture — called up the National Guard. It was a "short" strike, some eight days. But its cost ran over a billion dollars. Mr. Nixon had been shown a confidential study, made during Lyndon Johnson's administration, of the potential impact of a paralyzing national mail strike. It disclosed that the experts believed a five-day stoppage of the mail would wreck the nation's economy. There are other public strike bills in Congress — all with the support of influential labor leaders. But the Wilson bill now is moving quicker than the others. It is expected to move right through the Rules Committee and onto the House floor this session. Postal union chiefs have launched a national write-your-Congressman campaign. Powerful AFL-CIO lobbyists are pushing it. Rank and filers see pots of gold at the end of the bill's rainbow. More strike action. More money. Of course, more deficits and higher postage rates if the rank and filers use their strike weapon to prevent the U.S. Postal Service from pulling the system out of the pony express era. The word for such a move is somewhat dryly called "productivity." Meaning automation, trimming of staffs and, as in the case of the fantastic bulk mail center in Jersey City, organizing the work so that trucks don't idle or don't make trips empty. Well, the Wilson bill, modeled on a Canadian law, would give federal workers the right to strike for the first time — after a cooling-off period (like Taft-Hartley's 60 days) and the National Mediation Board's handling of rail and airline labor). The bill also would force the postal workers to deliver checks such as welfare and Social Security payments and food stamps. This angers Francis Filbey, president of the big American Postal Workers Union (Moe Biller's parent outfit). Says Filbey: "We want the same right to strike as in the private sector. We would like to be able to shut all the mails down. We don't want to be restricted." It may all be academic. The rank and file doesn't appear to care much whether there is or isn't a new law. They just strike. (All Rights Reserved)

'Scoop' Jackson Adding Pizzazz To Second Try

By VIG GOLD
WASHINGTON — A great many obstacles await Henry "Scoop" Jackson as he proceeds down the road to the 1976 Democratic national convention. But his opponents in the presidential race should take notice: this time around the Senator from Washington state doesn't intend to be outflanked in the area of public relations pizzazz. A new Jackson is in the making, or haven't you noticed? The candidate who plodded his way unsuccessfully through the 1972 presidential primaries is undergoing an imageotomy. Counseled by political p.r. experts, Jackson is trying to invest his candidacy with the dash and style he was criticized for lacking two years ago. Will the New Jackson capture the public's imagination? It's too early to tell. But if he doesn't, nobody can blame the Senator for failing to catch the spirit of the thing. Which is too bad, really. A sad commentary on what presidential ambition, even in this post-Watergate era, does to men. Once recognized by members of both parties in Capitol Hill as lawmaker who tended to his legislative homework and bypassed p.r. fluff, Jackson has emerged in recent months as one of the Senate's most avid publicity-seekers. Like others taken with the presidential fever, image has replaced substance in his day-to-day political calculations. For a capsule study of the New Jackson at work, consider two events that took place in the nation's capital last week — one major, one minor. First, there was that Jacksonian innovation in Senate committee inquiry, a fine art developed over the years by such masters as Estes Kefauver and Joe McCarthy. Neither of these Senate committee inquisitors, however, conceived the magnificent photographic possibilities of lining up witnesses up before them like ducks in a row, Moscow purge-style. Jackson's decision to do that in the case of oil company

The Scouting Program

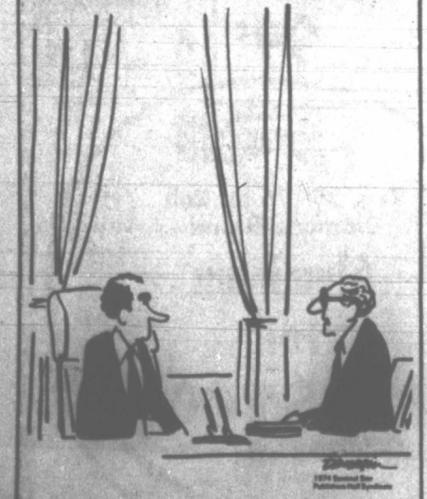

With civil respect for the past and solid vision of the future, the Scouting program in Texas stands among the more promising pictures for the current year. Near the end of 1973, Gov. Dolph Briscoe sponsored a scout Roundup whose goal was to enlist 50,000 new Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers. Between Sept. 14 and Dec. 31, the Governor's Roundup exceeded that goal by 10,000 Scouts. Briscoe, himself a recipient of the Silver Beaver award, Scouting's highest honor, noted that "the most important thing is that every eligible youth in Texas have the opportunity to join Scouting and to participate in this program of adventure and development." Scouting is worthwhile. The philosophy of physically and spiritually preparing for tomorrow is an important investment. Young men of Texas benefit from the Scouting offers — the adventure of outdoors and the discipline of leadership. The Governor observed that "these boys are the ones who don't make the headlines, but they are our leaders of tomorrow." We congratulate Governor Briscoe's success with the Scouting program in Texas and, of course, in our local Adobe Walls Scout Council area.

Gordon Liddy's Silence Is Still a Watergate Mystery

By WILLIAM A. RUSHER
As the serious plea-bargaining gets under way among the Nixon Administration's former higher-ups, Watergate buffs are offering various odds on which will be the first to crack. Most handicappers favor John Ehrlichman, if only because he is known to have granted repeated audiences, recently, to Seymour Hersh of the New York "Times." Whoever the season's first songbird turns out to be, however, his opening warble will signal the onset of Richard Nixon's final crisis: for only a handful of men were close enough to Nixon to be able, with any plausibility, to implicate him personally in either Watergate or its cover-up, and his fate probably depends upon how many of these can be persuaded, by fair means or foul, to do so. Meanwhile there sits in a prison cell a man who must be watching the whole sorry spectacle with a certain detached amusement, not unmingled with contempt. Gordon Liddy, it will be recalled, was the official of the Reelection Committee who with Howard Hunt actually organized (among other things) the break-in at the Democratic headquarters in the Watergate complex in June 1972. When the police caught James McCord and four companions red-handed on the premises, Liddy and Hunt were scooped up in a matter of days and indicted with the rest. Then and there, Gordon Liddy stopped talking. Throughout the remainder of 1972 the White House managed, more or less, to preserve the fiction that "the Watergate carrier" was a zany frolic carried out by these seven men on their own hyperthyroid initiative. Then, early in 1973,

Judge John J. ("Maximum John") Sirica cracked the case wide open. Liddy, who had not only refused (as was his right) to testify at his own trial, but had also refused, despite offers of immunity, to say anything to either the House Armed Services Committee or the Senate's special Watergate Committee, was sentenced to 18 months for contempt and 7 to 20 years, plus a $40,000 fine, for his part in the break-in. On the remaining defendants (five of whom had pleaded guilty), Sirica employed the cruel and unusual but eminently successful expedient of threatening maximum sentences (35 to 40 years) for their first offenses. McCord duly broke, and implicated Deputy Reelection Director Magruder; Magruder pled guilty, and implicated Attorney General Mitchell. Slowly the whole vast facade crumbled before the eyes of an astonished world. So now Gordon Liddy sits in his cell and watches his quondam superiors peaching to save their own skins. We say — we must — condemn the moral insensitivity that permitted him to use against another domestic political party, in the cause of reelecting Richard Nixon, means that would have been forgivable only in some high intrigue involving the national security. But, without abandoning that point, we should remember how matters looked to Liddy at that spring of 1972. By all accounts he was a dedicated foe of those New Left forces that were busy taking over the Democratic Party and preparing the way for the nomination of George McGovern. He was acting, moreover, under orders whose ultimate derivation spiraled upward into the impenetrable mists surrounding the Oval Office itself. Editor of The News

YOU PROBABLY read a day or so ago that your government is busy printing more than 1.6 billion coupons for gasoline rationing. It's being done at the government printing office in Washington and the officials say, although gas rationing has not been authorized yet, they're printing the coupons "just in case." It's only a standby thing, they say. Nobody in Washington stated how much this is costing you and no one suspects anybody up there cares as long as you feed the kitty to foot the bill. It kind of sets one to thinking and wondering what else is being done on a "standby basis" to tighten the clamps of regimentation. The tragic thing about restrictions and regulations that seem to grow day by day — is that indications are that a majority of the American people already have been brain-washed into conforming and "going along" with anything government does to them. If the government says "jump" — well, "jump" has become the popular thing to do. Of course, that may come about because if you don't "jump" the gendarmes may round you up and deposit you 'way back in a far corner of the bastille. As an afterthought, has it ever occurred to you — that's the way they do it in Russia? Does it make you think about the closing line of the Pledge of Allegiance: "with liberty and justice for all"?

WHILE ON the subject of the Wonderful Wizards of Washington, the President appeared on radio and television the other night to tell Congress and you about the State of the Union. Even before he started to speak, most of his subjects had a fairly good idea about what kind of a state it was in. He will go before Congress tomorrow and again be on radio and television with his annual budget message. Among other things the President's message will propose a dandy salary boost for your congressmen, Cabinet members and others in the top echelons of the federal government. Our Washington correspondents tell us the pay raise is almost automatic once the President proposes it formally. The only thing that could stop it would be a negative vote of Congress within 30 days after it goes to Capitol Hill. Members of Congress will have their pay boosted from $42,500 a year to nearly $46,000 by early March unless someone raises a lot of hullabaloo. In addition, the proposal calls for similar raises to go into effect in 1975 and 1976. Cabinet officers who now get $60,000 also would get a $4,000 hike in pay this year and again in '75 and '76. We know you will think it's a shame, but the President's annual pay of $250,000 and the vice president's salary won't be increased. They'll have to struggle along. Maybe they can talk the welfare department into helping out. Do you really believe the congressmen are going to vote to kill that $4,000 salary hike? And, by the way, how much will your income be raised tomorrow?

THE THOUGHT just struck as that writing stuff like that might give the federal gendarmes an idea to toss us into the bastille for low treason — or for not yielding right-of-way to the Wonderful Wizards. You can't be too careful about stepping on toes, executive privilege and stuff like that there. So, let's get off that subject. AND TURN to something local to the Texas Panhandle. It's not real timely, but it is interesting to know about the report given to the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission at its annual meeting by Charles L. Reynolds, associate justice of the Seventh Court of Civil Appeals in Amarillo. Judge Reynolds pulled out a Harris Poll that showed only small percentages of public confidence in government officials. The judge called it "an indictment of our system." The poll he referred to shows only 33 percent of those polled have confidence in the U.S. Supreme Court, 30 percent in the U.S. Senate, 29 percent in the House and only 19 percent in the executive branch of our government. The poll, commissioned and released by Congress, also shows that only 24 percent of those surveyed have confidence in state and local officials.

WOULD IT be out of order to wind up now with a reminder that the mayor of El Paso is awaiting trial for alleged violation of the Texas Open Meetings Law by barring news reporters from a council meeting? If convicted, he could be fined $500 and put in the pokey for six months. THE CITY Hall Cat reports the lights went out at the Hall the other day — but adds there's no truth in the story that the city manager "blew a fuse."

David R. Burton, EM3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Burton, is completing his fourth year with the U.S. Navy as electrician and motor repairman.

With three tours of sea duty, Burton was recently home on leave in Greenville.

He is married to the former Cindy Deering, formerly of Pampa.

FRANK D. McLENNAN BEVILL, Tex. — Navy Aviation Machinist Mate Third Class Frank D. McLennan, husband of the former Deborah K. Buckingham, 1806 Chestnut, Pampa, was promoted to his present rank while serving with the Training Squadron 26, at the naval air station, Chase Field, here.

He is a former student of West Texas State University.

LLOYD E. ENGLE
DENVER — Airman Lloyd E. Engle, son of Mr. and Mrs. H.L. Engle Sr., 445 Hughes, Pampa, has graduated Lowry AFB, Colo., from the U.S. Air Force supply inventory specialist course conducted by the Air Training Command.

The airman, trained to inventory supplies by use of electronic data processing machines, is being assigned to Altus AFB, Okla. for duty with a unit of the Military Airlift Command.

Airman Engle is a 1973 graduate of Pampa High School.

BILLY F. SHOUSE
AIC Billy F. Shouse, stationed with the Air Force in England, was selected to represent his unit in the Quarterly Recognition Program competition for the period Oct. 1 to Dec. 31, 1973.

knowledge and overall performance of duty, but also on his off-duty activities.

In a letter notifying Shouse of his nomination he was told, "Knowing that personnel of your caliber are a part of our maintenance organization is most gratifying."

Shouse is a 1971 graduate of Pampa High School and joined the Air Force in 1972. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Shouse, southeast of the city.

Shouse is a radio relay repairman with the United Kingdom Microwave System in England.

STEPHEN M. JOINER

Stephen (Monty) M. Joiner, AN, United States Navy, has reported for duty at Cecil Field, naval air station, at Jacksonville, Fla., where he is an aviation electrician specialist working on the Navy's A7B Corsair II jet aircraft.

Joiner spent the Christmas holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Joiner, 1228 S. Dwight.

He enlisted in the Navy in July, 1972 and received his basic training at San Diego, Calif., and electrician training at the Aviation Electrician School at Jacksonville. After graduating in the upper half of his class, Joiner was given an additional 12 weeks training.

He was attached to the Attack Squadron 72 aboard the USS Kennedy, CVA-67, for five months.

He received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, combat tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid and Army history and traditions.

Gasoline Mileage Is Sore Subject In Detroit

By EDWARDS S. LECHTZIN
UPI Auto Writer

DETROIT (UPI) — Privately, most automotive executives will tell you what's wrong with the fuel economy figures the government has tagged their cars with. Publicly, however, they don't want to get into a numbers battle.

With gasoline prices rising above 50 cents a gallon and the threat of rationing hanging over every motorist, a car that gets 20 miles per gallon may be more valuable than one getting half as much.

When the figures were published by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) last September, U.S. automakers whose models showed up badly — especially with the big cars — said they were basically meaningless.

Then they began advertising campaigns designed to show that big cars actually aren't as bad as the EPA says.

Buick ran a 2,811-mile "economy run" from San Diego to Washington which showed its luxury Electra could squeeze 18.3 miles per gallon traveling at 50 miles per hour. The EPA said mileage for the car in its simulated urban test cycle was 8.3 m.p.g.

"What the EPA test really tells us is that a small, light car gets better gas mileage than a big, heavy car," observed Robert Knoll, director of the independent Consumers Union Auto Test Center — which has probably put together more economy figures than some automakers.

"If you use it as a general thing along those lines, it's okay," said Knoll who cautions, however, against using the figures to make a buying decision between two cars in the same class.

He pointed to the figures in the 5,000-pound class which showed a Buick Century wagon getting 16.7 m.p.g. while a Mercury Montego wagon gets 11.4 m.p.g.

"The real danger there is that if one guy buys the Buick wagon and his neighbor buys the Mercury, they'll probably get about the same actual mileage — around 12 miles," Knoll said. "So what do those numbers mean?"

Most of the foreign automakers are happy since their cars showed up well in the EPA tests. Some even proudly advertised the fact, especially since the fuel shortage scare worsened.

Mazda Exception
One importer who isn't too happy is Mazda Motors of America whose rotary engine car is the only one of its kind on U.S. roads and may stay that way for sometime.

C.R. Brown, Mazda general manager, says the combination of the EPA figures along with the decision by General Motors to delay introducing its rotary engine car, have hurt sales.

"It's virtually impossible to duplicate the EPA tests in actual use," Brown said, pointing out they were obtained as a secondary project while checking emissions.

The EPA test, Brown said, is 50 per cent idling and decelerating.

"That particular cycle is the absolute worst for fuel economy operations of the rotary engine," he said. "Besides, if you spent 50 per cent of your time idling or decelerating, you wouldn't get anywhere."

Bum Rap
Brown also feels his cars got a bum rap because of the association of the rotary engine with GM. Eric O. Stork, deputy assistant EPA administrator, recently cited the EPA's tests and GM's decision as examples of the inefficiency of the rotary engine.

The energy crisis served as a useful excuse for GM to delay its rotary engine while they get the other technical problems worked out," Brown said.

As far as the EPA is concerned, Brown recently took a briefcase-full of information to present to Stork, hoping at least to gain some changes in the EPA test procedures.

The EPA admits its simulated fuel economy figures are lower than in many other test cycles because of the testing from a "cold start," the short trip length, transient nature of the cycle and relatively frequent idle periods.

The EPA ranked Mazda down at the bottom in the 2,750 and 3,000-pound classes with the RX-2, RX-3 and RX-4 getting between 10.3 and 10.8 m.p.g. Brown says independent tests and owners report mileage figure ranging from 17 to 21 m.p.g.

Test Problem
"We don't have any fuel economy problem," he said, adding the problem is with the particular EPA test.

Another government agency, the Department of Transportation, (DOT), last fall ran a series of tests to determine the effects of speed on gasoline consumption.

At a constant 50 m.p.h., the DOT test found a Mazda RX-3 with an automatic transmission obtained 19.11 m.p.g. which dropped to 16.72 m.p.g. at 70 m.p.h. With a manual transmission, fuel economy was 22.22 m.p.g. at 50 and 17.21 m.p.g. at 70.

"The only test should be on the road," Brown said. "The objectives of the EPA are admirable, but they need a better method to achieve the objectives."

Admitting sales were down, partly because of the EPA results, Brown said the future of the rotary will be determined by what people think of it.

"Nine out of 10 owners recommend it," he said. "That's a very essential issue."

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — When Stephen Bull, President Nixon's appointments secretary, denied this week he had erased any White House tapes, or had any idea how it happened, only one possibility remained.

If nobody did it deliberately, and if, as tape experts have testified, it wasn't done accidentally, then the 18-minute blank on one of the tapes must have been caused by extrasensory perception.

Earlier in the week, I would have regarded that likelihood as a bit far-fetched. But that was before I read an article on ESP in the current issue of Business Week.

Some months ago, according to the magazine, the Stanford Research Institute in California ran a series of experiments to test the psychic powers of a controversial Israeli parapsychologist named Uri Geller.

Several Tapes Erased
Coincidental with these tests, several computer tapes belonging to the Pentagon's Advanced Projects Research Agency were mysteriously erased.

The magazine says the institute "refuses to correlate the erasure with Geller." And perhaps there was no connection.

But pending proof to the contrary, the incident offers the best explanation yet as to what happened to the White House tape.

Certainly the ESP thesis seems more logical than the theory that Rose Mary Woods did it with her foot.

Assuming that recording tape can, under certain circumstances, be erased by ESP, all the pieces in the White House tape mystery drop into place.

It may be deduced that someone at the White House was unhappy about turning over the tape to Judge Sirica. This person began to wish very strongly that one portion of the tape would somehow disappear.

Might Be Done Unknowingly
Now if that person, perhaps unknown even to himself, had unusually potent psychic powers, he might well have erased the tape without being aware of it.

In which case he could have denied any knowledge of erasure in the belief he was telling the truth.

This also would explain the humming noise that was heard on the erased portion. It was caused by thought waves oscillating on the magnetic tape.

If Geller can move objects without touching them, through an ESP process known as psychokinesis, then it stands to reason that thought waves also have a tape erasing capability.

This conclusion need not be left hanging unverified. As the next step, Judge Sirica should arrange for the President and his aides to take the ESP tests that Geller underwent.

Should one make an exceptionally high score, that would stand as virtual proof that the tape was psychically expunged.

Then all the Watergate investigators will have to worry about is: What will he think of next?

HOW TO COOK WITH HONEY

By JOHN SHUTTLEWORTH
So many people have asked me how to cook with honey (instead of white sugar) that I breathed a noticeable sigh of relief when Margaret T. Hasse recently sent in a rather definitive article on the subject. Margaret, you see, has spent more than a year sweetening all her baked goods, puddings, jams and jellies with nothing but honey ... and she writes with the authority of firsthand, successful experience.

sweetening or one-quarter cup per pound. Even when you allow for that, however, your baked goods will tend to be more moist than those made with sugar ... and the longer, slower baking which prevents burning will — if anything — reserve that moist texture."
Margaret further advises that honey is slightly acidic and, for this reason, she adds a little soda (about 1/4 to 1/2 teaspoonful per cup of the thick liquid) to most batters and doughs. "Not to yeast breads, though, because the leavening thrives in thumb is to replace the sugar in a recipe with an equal weight of light honey. This works out to about two-thirds cup of liquid sweetener to one of the dry. And don't forget to deduct approximately three tablespoons of the other liquids in the list of ingredients for each cup of honey you use."

And how do all these rules of thumb look when they're actually translated into something good to eat? Here's John (Margaret's husband) Hasse's recipe for date bread:
Heat three cups of pitted and cut-up dates in two cups of water. Then add two-thirds cup of honey, one-third cup of any light-flavored vegetable oil and two eggs. Beat the mixture well with a wooden spoon.

Next, sift together three cups of whole-wheat flour (add the bran back after sifting), one cup of soybean flour (if you don't care for the taste, use less of this and more wheat flour and dry milk), one-half cup non-fat dry milk, two teaspoons of soda, one teaspoon of salt, one teaspoon of double-acting baking powder and two-thirds cup of wheat germ and-or chopped nuts.

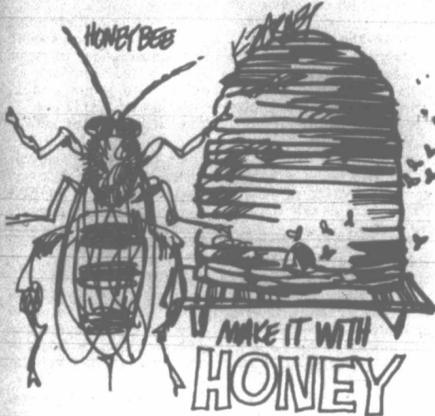

Mix the dry ingredients together, add them to the wet and stir well. Then grease two 5"x9" loaf pans, line their bottoms with wax paper and grease the paper.

Turn the batter into the containers and bake it at 325 degrees (300 degrees in glass) until a toothpick inserted into the loaves comes out clean. Continue the baking another five minutes and turn the finished product out onto racks to cool (remove the wax paper right away).

This date bread may be eaten hot or cold and it keeps well when given a chance. The Hasses especially like it sliced and spread with a mixture of cream cheese and honey.

See! There's nothing complicated about cooking with honey at all!

For more tips on cooking with honey — and muffin, whole-wheat bread, jam, jelly and rice pudding recipes — send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed long envelope to the Mother Earth News, in care of the Register and Tribune Syndicate, Des Moines, Iowa 50304. Ask for Reprint No. 168, The Honey Trip.

The first tip offered by Ms. Hasse to anyone who would emulate her switch to this more natural sweetener is, "Buy direct from a nearby source. If you use honey for all or most of your cooking, you'll need a lot ... and you should purchase it in bulk so you'll get the best possible price."

"Buying direct will also give you a chance to specify that the product meet the highest natural food standards — that is, it has not been heated and it comes only from bees that have not been fed white sugar or drugs."

Our guide has even more definite ideas when it comes to the actual substitution of honey for sugar.

"Number one, slow down! Naturally sweetened baked goods brown faster (a difference I like). To keep my modified breads and muffins from overbrowning before they've cooked through, I bake them a little longer at a lower temperature. When I'm converting a new sugar recipe to honey for the first time, I automatically knock 20 degrees F off the oven setting."

Margaret states that the same consideration applies to other cooking methods too. All dishes made with honey seem to stick a little sooner or burn a little faster. Stir each recipe more than you used to as if cooks, and figure on holding the flame somewhat lower than if you were putting the dish together with sugar.

"Another point to remember," says Ms. Hasse, "is that honey adds liquid to a recipe: about three tablespoons of extra fluid per cup of the mildly acidic environment."

If you're really serious about using honey instead of the sugar that a recipe normally calls for, bear in mind that your substitute sweetener is a natural food and not a standardized, "purified" product. It has a taste of its own.

Some varieties (Tupelo, for instance) contain more levulose and less dextrose than others. The very weather conditions prevalent during the time a hive of bees makes a particular batch of honey can affect its consistency, flavor, keeping qualities and sweetening power.

"In general," says Ms. Hasse, "I've found that light honey is easier to use than dark because it's more predictable in flavor and less likely to overwhelm other tastes. I'm also told that a hive's output is 'safer' — tastewise — to use if it's aged at least a year."

"At any rate, my rule of

TV In Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Notes to watch television by:

A spoof of beauty contests is set for ABC-TV's late-night series Feb. 13 when Steve Allen emcees "The Unofficial Miss Las Vegas Showgirl Beauty Pageant," with Phyllis Diller as color commentator ... ABC-TV says the 90-minute outing will emanate from the Tropicana Hotel in Las Vegas, and adds:

Liza Minnelli and Charles Anavour, the noted French singer-composer-actor, team up in an hour NBC-TV musical special April 30, with the broadcast originating at London's Rainbow Theatre.

Frank Sinatra will be the host of CBS-TV's March 18, 90-minute presentation in which James Cagney is saluted by the American Film Institute.

NBC-TV's middle-of-the-night talk series, "Tomorrow," hasn't had a studio audience while broadcasting from its home base at the network's Burbank, Calif., facilities ... But the show's recent, successful group of programs from New York City did include studio audiences, and now the series is going to have such audiences at Burbank as well, starting next week.

Today's CBS-TV drama special "The Migrants," dealing with a family of poor, itinerant farm workers, is a disappointment ... Taken from a Tennessee Williams story and adapted by Lanford Wilson, the production only succeeds in being as tedious as the existence it depicts, and the mere photographing of conditions does not automatically qualify as art ... Cloris Leachman is solid as the boy's mother, and Ron Howard is believable as the young man, but the drama lacks impact in its structure, its pacing and the presentation of its basic conflict.

"All in the Family" is back in the top spot in the latest national television ratings ... "Happy Days," ABC-TV's new comedy series about a 1950s high school boy, his family and friends, has knocked its head-on competitor, CBS-TV's "Maude," out of its usual lofty position in the statistical rankings.

Uranium Lead
MENDOZA, Argentina (UPI) — The Sierra Pintada uranium deposits in this western Argentina province will produce between 1,000 and 2,000 tons of crude ore daily when production starts in the near future. The announcement was made by members of the National Atomic Energy Commission. They said the Sierra Pintada mines should produce 400 tons of concentrated uranium annually, worth $10 million.

U.S. CIVIL SERVICE TESTS!

Men-women age 18 and over. Prepare now for U.S. Civil Service exams for job openings during the next 12 months. Government positions pay high starting salaries. They provide greater security than private employment and opportunity for advancement. Many positions require little or no specialized education or experience. But to get one of these jobs, you frequently must pass a test. The competition is keen.

Lincoln Service has helped many people prepare for these tests every year since 1948. It is one of the largest and oldest privately owned schools of its kind and is not connected with the Government.

Sweetheart Presentation Will Highlight BSP Ball

The annual Beta Sigma Phi Sweetheart Ball will be held Saturday, Feb. 9, honoring seven favorites of the Pampa and White Deer chapters.

The Dick Morton Orchestra will serenade members and their guests in the Heritage Room of the M. K. Brown Civic Auditorium.

Being presented will be: Mrs. Danny Stokes by the 1973 princess of Phi Epsilon Beta, Mrs. Jenny Dorman; Mrs. Myron Aftergut of Rho Eta by Mrs. Willie Rich, chapter president; Mrs. Calvin McConnell by Mrs. Rodnie Winborne, Upsilon's 1973 sweetheart; Mrs. Haldane Suttle by the Xi Theta Iota 1973 sweetheart, Mrs. Roy Morris; Mrs. Darrell Danner, Xi Beta Chi's sweetheart by Mrs. Robert Benyshek, 1973 sweetheart; Mrs. James Trusty, queen of Preceptor Chi by Mrs. Jack Vaughn, 1973 Queen and Mrs. Elizabeth Hawkins, sweetheart of Alpha Theta Omega of White Deer.

Beta Sigma Phi is an International Sorority founded in 1931 by Walter W. Ross. Each year princesses, sweethearts, and queens send their pictures to the international office to be picked by a well known entertainer as International Valentine Favorites.

The Pampa chapters recently held a successful New Year's Eve Dance to raise money for their high school scholarship fund.

Other activities through the year will include the Woman of the Year Tea, where some outstanding woman of Pampa will be honored for her service to the community. Chapters will celebrate the organization's Founder's Day on April 30, and most of the chapters will be helping to serve the Senior Citizens during the summer months.

BSP Sweethearts

LINDA

Rho Eta Chapter will present their sweetheart, Mrs. Myron D. Aftergut, 2724 Aspen, at the Valentine Dance. Linda joined Rho Eta chapter in Oct., 1972 and is currently corresponding secretary and courtesy chairman for that group. She enjoys art, oil painting, needlepoint and crafts. She is the mother of Stephanie Jyl, 2, and Kent Stuart, 1.

DEBBIE

Phi Epsilon Beta chose Mrs. Danny Stokes, 2225 Hamilton, as Valentine Sweetheart. Debbie is currently serving as president of that group. She is employed by the First National Bank. Motorcycle riding and playing the piano are included among her hobbies.

SHARON

Serving her chapter as Valentine Sweetheart will be Mrs. Calvin McConnell, of Upsilon chapter. Mrs. McConnell's interests include snowmobiling, dancing, water skiing, and helping her husband work around the farm where they reside with their children, Rustin, 5, and Stacy, 3. She is currently serving her sorority as vice president.

HELEN

Mrs. Darrell Danner, Sr. 2125 Williston, will represent her chapter, Xi Beta Chi, at the dance. Helen, as well as being the mother of Darrell Jr., Terry, Tammy and Monty, and wife and homemaker, has been employed with the Texas Railroad Commission as clerk supervisor for the past 11 years. She has served as social chairman, extension officer, treasurer, friendship chairman and at the present time, holds the office of vice president of that organization. She enjoys poems by Elizabeth Barrett Browning and Helen Steiner Rice. Mrs. Danner's favorite hobbies are swimming, baseball at Optimist Park, camping out, travel, but most of all, she enjoys her family.

MARIETTA

Valentine Sweetheart for Xi Theta Iota is Mrs. Haldane Suttle, 2134 Beech, who is a native Pampan. Marietta is serving her 16th year as a member of Beta Sigma Phi. The family, consisting of three children, Randy, 18, Jeffie, 15, and Jenifer, 13, are members of the First Christian Church. She is employed by Drs. Falkenstein and Elder. Fishing and cooking are listed among her hobbies.

VALTA

Representing Preceptor Chi as their sweetheart, will be Mrs. James Trusty, 1927 Holly Lane. Valta and her husband are the parents of a son, Philip, age 11. Her hobbies are cooking, reading and fishing. She has been a member of Beta Sigma Phi for the past 14 years and has held various offices. She is currently president of BSP City Council, and is employed by Field's Men's Wear.

ELIZABETH

Alpha Theta Omega chapter of White Deer named Mrs. Elizabeth Hawkins as sweetheart of their group. She is a charter member of ATO, which was organized in March of 1973. She held past offices of vice president, 1972, 1973, and is currently scrapbook chairman. Mrs. Hawkins is also a member of the Pathfinders and of Delta Kappa Gamma, teacher's sorority and works with Brownie Scouts. Art is listed as a favorite hobby.

Chandler-Kitchens Vows Are Solemnized

Nuptial vows were solemnized Saturday, Feb. 2 at 7 p.m. in the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin L. Chandler, 414 Doucette, are parents of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson D. Kitchens, 909 Beryl, are parents of the bridegroom.

THE CEREMONY

Wedding selections were the love theme from "Romeo and Juliet," "Close To You," "We've Only Just Begun," and traditional wedding marches.

The wedding was performed before a background of two-seven branched candelabra holding pink tapers entwined with lemon leaves.

THE BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, with the "her mother and I," avowal, the bride wore a formal gown of lace over soft bridal taffeta. The empire bodice was fashioned with a square neckline, and long lace sleeves. The floor-length skirt was highlighted by three-gathered tiers. The attire was designed by the bride's mother. She wore ribbons in her hair and carried a bouquet of orchids, carnations and greenery. She carried a handkerchief belonging to her great-grandmother; a blue garter and a penny in her shoe.

RECEPTION

The bride's parents hosted the reception in their home. The serving table was covered with a blue, overlaid with white, crocheted cloth, made also by the bride's mother. The table held a pink floral and candle centerpiece, surrounded by orchid candles.

The three-tiered chocolate wedding cake, with white frosting, was decorated with pink, blue and orchid flowers, and topped with wedding bells. The cake was made by the bride's aunt.

Mrs. Bob Ringo, aunt of the bridegroom, assisted at the punch bowl and Mrs. Henry McDonald, served cake.

Mrs. Elmer Balch and Mrs. J.E. Flynt assisted with the reception.

For traveling, the bride wore a fitted A-line dress of orchid and floral with short puffed sleeves. She lifted the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will reside in Lawton, Okla., where the bridegroom is serving with the US Army.

AFFILIATIONS

The bride is a 1973 graduate of Pampa High School and the bridegroom is a 1972 graduate of PHS.

PRE-NUPTIAL EVENTS

The bride was honored with a miscellaneous shower given in the home of Mrs. Russell Abbott, recently. Hostesses were Mes. Theresa Moness, Darlene Courtney, Melba Hester, Marlene Shaw, Thelma Darnell, Vera Rasco, Jean Hogsett, Beula Cox, Wanda Mitchell, Levena Abbott, Lois Harris, and Betty Epperson.

OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS

Attending the wedding from out-of-town were Mrs. L.D. Ringo, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ringo, Mr. and Mrs. David Ringo, Mr. and Mrs. T.C. Kitchens, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Henry McDonald, Mrs. John Lauen, Dr. and Mrs. Witt, Mrs. Bonnie King, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Booth, Mr. and Mrs. H.E. Chandler, Mr. and Mrs. Garvin Chandler, and Clinton Chandler.

Area Residents Make Ski Trip

Area ski enthusiasts consisting of 26 young people and ten adults were busy recently on the slopes or relaxing and watching at a Ski Lodge in New Mexico. With two inches of new snow and a 30 inch base several of the group enjoyed three days of excellent skiing.

Those making the trip from Skellytown were Jim Wayne McCann, David Saxon, Maria Snodgrass, Carla Duckworth, Tommy Chaney, Paula Lane, Neal Wayne Crawford, Cindy Moreland and Debbie Simmons, those attending from White Deer were Mr. and Mrs. Everett Butler, Gordon Satterwhite, David Hodges, Scott Lowrance, Rohna Tackett, and Miriam Carroll.

From Groom were Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Jones, Andrea Jones, Sharon Jones, Troy Ritter, Sandy, Kathy, and Sherrie Britton, attending from Pampa were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith and Brenda and

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Buchanan and Mr. and Mrs. Neal Dale and Randy Dale of Fritch.

Others were Butch Hensley from Oklahoma City, Okla., Mrs. Charles Downlearn and son Jimmy Cox, Hobbs, N.M., and Tom (the foreign exchange student from Brazil) who is making his home with the Satterwhites.

Two tons of paint are applied to the steelwork of the Golden Gate Bridge each week.

Karen Warner-Ronald Kleiboeker Exchange Nuptial Vows Saturday

Karen Warner and Ronald Wayne Kleiboeker were married Saturday, Feb. 2 at 8 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Martin Hager officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Greeley Warner are the parents of the bride. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arno Kleiboeker of Monett, Mo.

THE CEREMONY

The ceremony was performed before the altar decorated with massive arrangements of mixed white chrysanthemums. A tall arched candelabrum with white tapers and garlands of salal foliage was in the background. Arched candelabra and greenery flanked the wedding party. The bridal aisle was decorated with tall arrangements of candles and garlands of smiles.

Jerry Whitten played traditional organ music. He accompanied Paul Andrew who sang, "Because," and "The Wedding Prayer."

THE BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory chantilly lace fashioned with a satin tab and button front from the standup collar to the hemline, tapered sleeves with satin cuffs, and a princess A-line silhouette with an attached chapel train. Her fingertip veil cascaded from a crown of chantilly lace embroidered with seed pearls. She carried a bridal bouquet of white gardenia, stephanotis and white roses.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. John B. Horton, III, twin sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her floor-length dress of royal blue chiffon was trimmed with matching lace and belted with satin ribbon. She carried a colonial nosegay of mixed spring flowers which included pink elegance carnations, white daisies, blue cornflowers and baby's breath. Michael and Sandra Warner lighted the candles. Sandra's dress was light blue crepe with A-line skirt, lace trimmed at sleeves and neckline, with a blue velvet sash and hair bow.

MRS. RONALD WAYNE KLEIBOEKER ...nee Miss Karen Warner

She wore a wristlet of feathered blue carnations.

Best man was Larry Kleiboeker, brother of the bridegroom. John Warner, brother of the bride, and John B. Horton, III, were ushers.

RECEPTION

For the reception at the Pampa Country Club, the bridal table was covered with a floor-length white satin cloth with clusters of flowers. A tall candelabrum holding white tapers and holding an arrangement of mixed white flowers, decorated the table.

Mrs. C.W. Henry, Mrs. Parks Brumley, and Mrs. John Warner assisted with the guest book and serving.

MOTHERS

Mrs. Warner's gown was coral chiffon with full skirt and long sleeves. Mrs. Kleiboeker wore a long dark blue polyester dress with white collar and cuffs and matching accessories.

AFFILIATIONS

Mrs. Kleiboeker was graduated from Churchland, Va., High School and Texas Tech University. She is employed as a TWA hostess. After graduating from the University of Missouri, the bridegroom was a captain in the Marine Corps, spending 14 months of his duty in Vietnam. He is employed as a TWA pilot. The newlyweds will be at home in Kansas City after a honeymoon trip to Acapulco, Mexico.

Amarillo Will Host Library Workshop Feb. 8

Allie Beth Martin, Director of the Tulsa City - County Library and past president of the Southwestern Library Association, will give an all-day workshop in Amarillo Friday, Feb. 8 on making today's public library a "Communication Information Center."

Lovett Memorial Library will be represented by Barbara Cockrell and Mrs. Winifred Crinklaw. Announcement of the meeting, planned for all public librarians in the Texas Panhandle area, came from Mrs. Elizabeth Crabb, assistant librarian and coordinator of extension services for the Amarillo Public Library. It is scheduled for the Amarillo library discussion room from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., 10th and Polk.

Pre-registration forms are available and inquiries should be directed to Mrs. Crabb. Her workshop is jointly sponsored by the Amarillo Public Library and the Texas State Library. It is particularly for small and medium-sized libraries, Mrs. Crabb said.

Allie Beth Martin was project coordinator for a study of public library goals for the American Library Association, which concluded in 1972 with a report called "A Strategy for Public Library Change." She summarized the problems facing the public library, "never truly secure in terms of general use of public support except in the large cities until recent years," and concluded:

"In spite of gloomy conditions thoughtful library leaders are saying that opportunities have never been more promising. These are the people that say that libraries should call a halt on 'business as usual,' based on what is felt to be 'good for the community.' Instead, planning, research, development and service should 'begin with the user and his real needs.' If this is done, ... a vital, purposeful agency will emerge which will replace the passive, peripheral institution which in the past has waited for people to seek its service.

"Community services which the public library can best perform are needed and will be increasingly necessary in light of societal developments anticipated for the remainder of this century. Public libraries need not be doomed to extinction. They are on the threshold of renaissance."

Back in the 1940's and early 1950's, one of our nation's better players was Fred Snite, Jr., of Miami Beach. Snite, who passed away in 1955, was a victim of poliomyelitis, and spent the last 15 years of his life in an iron lung. Despite the physical handicap of the iron lung in which he was enclosed, he was a regular competitor in the national tournaments conducted by the American Contract Bridge League. Here is one of the deals that he played during one of these tournaments. He was the South declarer.

The bidding:

South West North East

1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass

3 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass

4 ♠ Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Ace of ♠.

The most frequent contract on the North-South cards was five clubs, which was arrived at with North bidding five clubs directly over South's raise to three clubs. At this contract, North's only losers were two tricks to West's ace of hearts and East's king of spades. For fulfilling this contract, North-South scored 400 points (trick score of 100, plus 300 for a non-vulnerable game).

Against Snite's four-spade contract, West, after cashing the heart ace, continued with another heart, which South ruffed. Then came a spade to dummy's ace, after which a spade was returned, East playing low, with South's queen winning. With the prayer that the two outstanding spades were divided 1-1, South next made a third spade lead. As luck would have it, the spades were divided 1-1, East's king taking the trick.

A heart lead was then made. South ruffing with his last trump. Next came the queen of clubs, and the finesse taken when West followed suit with the nine-spot. The rest of the tricks belonged to declarer. Of course, if the finesse had lost, the defenders would have cashed a couple of heart tricks.

For bidding and making four spades with an overtrick, North-South secured a score of 450 (30 for the overtrick, 120 for the trick score and 300 for a non-vulnerable game). And no matter what arithmetic system is used, 450 counts more than 400 (five clubs bid and made). Thus, the fulfillment of the inferior four-spade contract netted Snite the top score on the deal.

Your Horoscope

By Jean Dixon

MONDAY, JAN. 28

Your birthday today: Brings on a wave of optimism which likely will be proved correct in the overall analysis. You have the time and the space for a full year of personal experiments. Vocational choices are modified by added experience and specialization. Today's natives are sensitive, restless, willing to work long and hard in the service of an ideal. Many have shown penetrating insight into human nature.

Aries (March 21-April 19): What you do today needs special handling to serve as a buffer between you and the people who will use or benefit from your work.

Taurus (April 20-May 20): Enter into your work place now as though you were making a completely fresh start, but with what knowledge you now have. Evening offers fun and games, casual promises.

Gemini (May 21-June 20): Stop and take a good look around, think where you want to go in life and revise your plans accordingly. Your friends tend to have other views.

Cancer (June 21-July 22): The sources of your difficulty are not what you think, so withhold any drastic corrective effort until you've checked a bit further.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22): Find personal peace of mind in your own fashion; but give your partner a chance to shine, your competitor a chance to undo himself. Neither one needs any help from today. Evening brings a lighter mood.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): If you are not happy with today's challenges, then you need to find another way of looking at life. Remember your own people in later hours.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Pay no serious attention to what others say, but watch what they are up to. Full understanding comes only later. Don't depend on luck.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Today's conscientious effort brings progress, liberates you from some long-standing obligation. Taper off on self-indulgent pastimes.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): With very little encouragement, you can go too far in speculative projects. Your offhand remarks may fall to meet approval or acceptance, so bring literal proof of your reasons.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Start an organized drive to get better channels of information opened up. You may be needlessly duplicating the work of others.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Convert recent advances into ready cash wherever convenient. Then find some extra-safe reinvestment for those funds outside your modest budget.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20): It's your turn now to draw on your intuition and make your bid for recognition. Get directly to the crux of the matter in any negotiations, keeping your calm focus on principles rather than minor details.

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Libby Lehew-James C. Stevens

The marriage of Miss Libby Louise Lehew and James Clifford "Bubba" Stevens was solemnized Saturday, Jan. 26 at 7 p.m. in Lamar Full Gospel Assembly Church, Pampa.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Louise King, 519 N. Frost. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stevens of Pampa, are parents of the bridegroom.

THE CEREMONY

The Rev. Gene Allen, pastor, officiated for the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. Gene Allen, organist, played traditional wedding selections, and accompanied Mrs. Wanda Tigrett, cousin of the bride, who sang, "Twelfth of Never," and "The Wedding Prayer."

The church was decorated with two candelabra entwined with salal foliage and purple and orchid ribbons. Two pedestal arrangements of white and orchid gladioli and carnations and an open Bible placed on the organ, in memory of the deceased grandparents, completed the setting. Pews of honor were marked by orchid and purple ribbons.

THE BRIDE

The bride was presented in marriage by her uncle, R.F. Hill. She was attired in a formal gown of peau de soie and re-embroidered Alencon lace. The gown was styled with an empire waistline, wedding ring neckline and full sleeves gathered into deep cuffs tapering over the hands. Appliques of matching lace enhanced the neckline, bodice, sleeves and front panel of the skirt. Her chapel-length train, edged in lace appliques, fell in the back from a satin bow. Her elbow-length veil of illusion was trimmed with lace and fell from a bandeau of lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of orchid and white carnations.

ATTENDANTS

Renel Tigrett, cousin of the bride, Pampa, was maid of honor and Sherry Stevens, Pampa, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. Miss Tigrett wore a floor-length dress of deep purple polyester knit and Miss Stevens wore a light orchid floor-length dress. Both gowns were fashioned with empire waistlines, long sleeves and V-necklines. They wore orchid, wide-brimmed hats trimmed with purple ribbon and carried nosegays of orchid and white carnations.

Flowergirl was Denise

MRS. JAMES CLIFFORD STEVENS
...nee Miss Libby Louise Lehew

Hogan, cousin of the bride, Cedar Hill, and ringbearer was Garland Allen, Pampa. Candlelighters were Sandy Hurdle and Jimmy Donn Messer, Amarillo, both cousins of the bride.

Jimmy Don Gabbett, Pampa, was best man, and Gary Tyrrell, Pampa, was groomsmen. Serving as ushers were Mike Stevens, brother of the bridegroom, Pampa, and Ernest Wayne Messer, cousin of the bride, Amarillo.

RECEPTION

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church. The serving table was covered with a white satin cloth and held an orchid and white carnation and three-candle centerpiece. The three-tiered white cake was decorated with orchid and purple roses and sweetpeas and was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom in a gazebo. Pat Shelton, aunt of the bridegroom, served cake, and Pat Hogan and Jerry Hurdle, both cousins of the bride, assisted at the punch bowl and coffee service. Registering guests was Judy Pearce. Others assisting were Doreen Bruce, Jean Allen and Dorothy Duck.

For the wedding trip, the bride wore a pink and beige pantsuit with matching accessories and lifted the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will reside at 519 N. Frost.

AFFILIATIONS

The bride is a student in Pampa High School. The bridegroom is a 1973 graduate of PHS and is presently employed by Schiffman Machine Shop.

PRE-NUPTIAL EVENTS

The bride was honored with a miscellaneous bridal shower recently hosted by Doreen Bruce, Melba Jo Riddle, and Wanda Tigrett.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bridegroom's parents at Furr's Cafeteria.

OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS

Attending the event from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shelton, Borger; Mrs. O.E. Hext, and David, Spearman; Mrs. Kenneth Messer and family, Amarillo; Mrs. Don Hogan and family, Cedar Hill.

Tex.: Mrs. Clifford Morris, Santa Anna, Tex.; and Jo Dell Tigrett, Spearman.

Proof that only man is capable of blushing

By Abigail Van Buren
 © 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: You said that "Man is the only animal that blushes. Or needs to."
 Your observation caused me to recall what David Elton Fineblood wrote in his "Philosophy of Religion."
 "It has been said that man is the only animal who laughs, the only one who weeps, the only one who prays, the only one who walks fully erect, the only one who makes fires, the only one who can invent, the only one with a written language, the only one who is proud, the only one who can make progress, the only one who guides his own destiny, the only one who is penitent, and the only one who needs to be."
 ARTHUR H. PRINCE

DEAR MR. P.: Thank you for giving me the opportunity to say that I'm not the only one who made that observation about man and his need to blush. Mark Twain also said it. First.

DEAR ABBY: I am a secretary and I love my job. My boss is the original "Mr. Wonderful"—considerate, generous and easy-going. My hours are ideal, and the pay is excellent. Of course there is one problem, or I wouldn't be writing to Dear Abby.

I am asked to pick up the cleaning woman and/or the baby sitter; I frequently am asked to drop my work and go to school to pick up the children. I also have been asked to do "a little marketing," or to return the boss' wife's girdle which she purchased on a sale several months ago. Well, I think you get the picture.

I hate to complain to my boss because I really love this job, but I was hired to do secretarial work, not the above mentioned errands. So, Dear Abby, how would you handle this problem?
 JILL OF ALL TRADES

DEAR JILL: Candidly, openly and with no pussyfooting. Tell "Mr. Wonderful" exactly what you have told me. How else can he know what's on your mind?

DEAR ABBY: This is my third marriage and I want to make it work. I MUST! But my husband has a falling that has me at the end of my rope.

He says he will be home for supper at 6 p. m., and doesn't come home until 8 p. m. or even 9 p. m. most of the time. Of course the roast is ruined, and I am not in the mood to even speak to him by then.

I have tried to be a good sport about it, but my patience is exhausted. Please tell me how to handle it.
 THREE TIME LOSER

DEAR LOSER: If he is late getting home, expect it. Don't nag him. Serve him the overcooked roast for supper, and make a stew out of it the next day.

DEAR ABBY: I take public transportation to and from work every day, and many times I have sat with people who must be very tired and sleepy, because they bob and nod until they are half on my shoulder or in my lap.

Yesterday a woman fell fast asleep on my shoulder! I felt that I should have tapped her on the shoulder and awakened her because she was quite a load, but somehow I didn't have the courage. Have you any suggestions?
 DEARBORN HEIGHTS, MICH.

DEAR DEARBORN: The moment you notice your seat partner nodding and bobbing, smile and say: "I hope you aren't going to fall asleep on me. That happened to me once, and it was very embarrassing." [And if it happens anyway, screw up the courage to administer an effective poke.]

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69706, L.A., Calif. 90088. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

How to write letters? Send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Cal. 90212, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

The bride-elect is a 1971 graduate of White Deer High School and is a senior student at Wayland Baptist College, Plainview. She will receive her BS degree in secondary education in May. She is listed on the Dean's honor roll. Her fiancé is a 1970 graduate of Roy High School, Roy, N.M. He attended WBC, where he was a member of Circle K service fraternity. He is presently employed by the First National Bank of Raton.

Lynn Hoyler Named BPW Girl Of Month

Business and Professional Women's Club met in regular business meeting recently in the City Club Room, with Dovie Breeze, president, presiding, with 20 members and one guest present.
 Lynn Hoyler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Hoyler was the girl of the month for January. Mrs. Ruby Cunningham was in charge of the program.
 Mrs. Clara Lee Rhodes conducted initiation of new members. They were Dovyve Massie, Mildred Wilkie and Florette Burns.

Mrs. Rhodes gave a brief history of the B&PW Club. The Pampa club was organized in 1929 and federated in 1930. First president was Grace Higgins Poole, who was one of the members who later went to Geneva, Switzerland for the organization of The International Federation. At the end of the initiation all members repeated the collect.
 Florette Burns was appointed new public relations chairman. Dovyve Massie, chairman of the local Heart Fund Drive announced it would be conducted February, the week of the 27th.

 There are plans to start a heart chapter in Pampa with the first meeting to be Feb. 5, for organizing.

A pretty way to look for formal occasions this spring—a bare top dress in sherry pimiento over peach double-layered silk chiffon. The long dress is accompanied by its own flowing poncho. It is accented by a gem studded belt.

Mrs. Harmon Gives Talk On Exceptional Children

Mrs. Stanley Harmon spoke to members of the Junior Service League at the regular monthly meeting of the club held recently at the First Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Harmon is a teacher of exceptional children at the Satellite School. She told of her work there as a teacher.

Mrs. Harmon has been teaching the retarded at the Satellite School for five years. The Satellite School was begun in 1968.

Mrs. Harmon teaches five pre-school age children in morning sessions at the First Presbyterian Church and nine post-school age children in afternoon sessions.

The pre-school curriculum consists of large and small muscle development, large amounts of language development, and special emphasis on self-care routines. "The exceptional child," says Mrs. Harmon, "needs to know the same things for daily living that the normal child does."

With her special concern, Mrs. Harmon tries to give each child a sense of his own worth to himself, his family, his community, and his God.

The post-school classes are involved in crafts and often sell their finished work to finance group field trips. They are regular participants in the Pampa Arts and Crafts Show.

The Satellite School has 21 regular volunteers who work with these children. Mrs. Harmon explained what a volunteer does, including in her talk some of the special concerns and problems a volunteer might encounter.

The Satellite School in Pampa is an affiliate of the Satellite School of Amarillo State Center for Human Development.

Anyone desiring further information about the Satellite School may contact Mrs. Harmon at the First Presbyterian Church.

Following Mrs. Harmon's talk, Miss Jean Sims, president, Junior Service League, presided over a business meeting and introduced the new Provisional Members for 1974 who are: Mmes. Myron Aftergut, Gene Barrett, John Eschle, B.L. Hoover, Roy F. Fraswell, R.S. Markham.

Borger Bulldogs Stun Pampa

By PAUL SIMS

Pampa hit only two of eight field goal attempts in the fourth quarter and watched a 12-point lead disappear as the inspired Borger Bulldogs came from behind to upset the Harvesters, 68-62, Friday night before a packed Harvester Fieldhouse.

The result of Pampa's inability to shoot in the last quarter was a three-way tie for the top spot in the first half of district play between Pampa, Borger and Palo Duro. The Dons edged Amarillo High, 58-54, Friday. The three top teams are all 4-1 in district games.

Pampa, now 20-4, led by 12, 55-41, on a 20-foot jumper by guard Ray Powell with 20 seconds to play in the third quarter. Pampa led by 16, 53-43, at the end of the period and by 10, 55-45, early in the fourth quarter.

Then the Bulldogs began their spectacular comeback which left Pampa fans in a near state of shock.

Kerr Starts It
Six-five Joe Kerr hit a jumper from the right side of the free-throw line to make the score, 55-47. Then Pampa's Howie Lewis was slapped with a technical foul after banging the floor after a called jump ball. Chuck Forrest put in the free shot and Pampa's lead was cut to seven.

A minute later, Borger's Richard Mitchell hit a 20-foot jump shot from the right side and the Harvesters only led 55-50. Borger got the ball back and Joel Brown dropped in a 22-footer from the left side to make it 55-52 with 4:42 left in the game.

Then Brown fouled Rick Beesley and the Pampa forward hit the first end of the one-and-one to give Pampa a four-point advantage.

With 4:20 to play, Billy Wilbon gave the Harvesters a comfortable six-point lead by hitting two free throws to make the score 58-52. However, Kerr got the two points back by putting in a shot from under the basket.

Borger got possession again and Brown hit a six-foot jumper from the left baseline to make it 58-56 with 3:27 to go.

Margin Only One
Wilbon fouled out with 2:54 left and was charged with a technical after he disputed the foul. Kent Dyson missed the personal-foul shot, but Mitchell put the technical-foul shot in to narrow the margin to one.

Borger stole the ball on Pampa's next possession, took it down the court and then Kerr scored from under the basket as the Bulldogs took the lead, 59-56, for the first time since the game's start.

The score became tied, 62-62, and then the Bulldogs put in six consecutive points to win the contest. Those points came on four free throws by Dyson and two by Brown.

In the fourth quarter, Borger connected on eight of 15 fieldgoal attempts while Pampa, due to outstanding defensive play by the Bulldogs, could only put up eight shots.

Throughout the first three quarters, the Harvesters controlled the game and it looked like Pampa was going to wind up the first half of district with a perfect 5-0 mark.

Lewis, Young Score 12
Lewis and Robert Young were the only Harvesters in double figures with 12 apiece. Beesley had nine and sophomore Matiga Buntion scored eight. Every Harvester who played scored — Randy Warner had seven, Wilbon and Ray Powell had six each, and Keith Samples had two.

Lewis, a 6-5 junior, led the Harvesters on the boards with 14 rebounds. Borger outrebounded Pampa, 44-35.

Brown scored 19 points to lead the Bulldogs and was followed by Mitchell with 18 and Kerr with 13. Forrest pulled down 10 caroms to lead Borger in rebounding. Kerr and Brown had nine each.

Pampa coach Robert McPherson and his players didn't have much to say after it was over. "Borger deserved to win it, they played good," said the dejected coach shortly after the upset.

Team Makes Wow
Lewis expressed his teammates feelings. "We've made up our minds that we're going to go to Borger and beat them," Pampa and Borger will tangle in Borger Feb. 19, the last district game for both teams.

For Pampa, it's now a situation of play and hope. Pampa will have two games at home in the second half, while Borger plays at home three times. Should any of the three leading teams win the second half outright, it would capture the district title.

If two of the three teams have identical records in the second half, those teams will play for the district championship in the playoff.

One thing in Pampa's favor is the fact that the Harvesters get to play Palo Duro at home.

Pampa will meet Caprock at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in Amarillo. The Shockers experienced a similar situation to that of the varsity Friday. Pampa led 41-33 at the end of the third quarter and watched Borger's JV come back and win, 54-52. High for the Shockers, now 19-4, was Noel Hanson with 17. Ed Drew added 12.

The Shockers play the Caprock Shorthorn preceding the varsity game Tuesday in Amarillo.

Jack Making Runaway In Hawaiian Tournament

HONOLULU (UPI) — Jack Nicklaus all but wrapped up the $220,000 Hawaiian Open Saturday when, sweeping across the fairways of Waialae Country Club, he shot his third straight sub-70 round and opened up a six shot lead.

About the only way Nicklaus could lose the tournament title Sunday is if he gets lost some place among the palm trees on the back nine.

Competing in only his second tournament of the year, Nicklaus made his chances for his first victory almost certain by shooting a three-under-par 69 to go with his previous rounds of 65 and 67.

That put Jack at 15-under-par 201 for 54 holes, and in the minds of most of his competi-

Baylor Stops Texas Aggies In SWC Clash

WACO, Tex. (UPI) — Freshman Gary McGuire led all scorers with 25 points and grabbed 18 rebounds Saturday to lead the Baylor Bears to a 71-62 South west Conference basketball victory over Texas A&M.

The 6-9 McGuire had been averaging about nine points per game but he moved with authority in the Aggie game, repeatedly hitting jumpers from outside and blocking several shots on defense.

Teammate Charlie McKinney led everybody with 22 rebounds and scored 14 points. McKinney is one of the leading scorers in the conference but in the last several games has concentrated more on his rebounding.

Jerry Mercer led A&M with 18 points and Mike Floyd had 12. The tactic, plus a strong defense, paid off as the Aggies trailed 37-28 at the half and dropped 18 points behind in the second half.

Baylor is now 4-2 in the SWC and Texas A&M is 2-4. Baylor is 11-6 on the season and the Aggies are 10-8.

tors left them playing for second place.

"Unless he falters completely, like going three-over-par on the front nine Sunday," said John Lister, one of those nearest Nicklaus. "I'd say no one else has a chance. But maybe we can believe in miracles."

J. C. Snead, tied for second with Gibby Gilbert at 207, nine-under-par and six swings behind Nicklaus, wasn't quite as pessimistic. But he isn't making plans for the $44,000 first prize either.

"If Jack shoots 73 or 74," said Snead, "some one here might catch him. But if he shoots 69 or better, there's no way. But that doesn't mean I'm not going to try."

Tied for fourth at eight under 208, seven shots behind Nicklaus, were Rod Curl, who had one of the day's better rounds, a five under 67. Dwight Nevel, Eddie Pearce, Lister and Tom Watson.

Another shot behind at seven under 209 were Bobby Nichols, winner of last weekend's Andy

Sandra Palmer Gets 64 To Earn Burdines Lead

MIAMI (UPI) — Sandra Palmer, who hopes jogging will keep her on top of her golf game this year, fired a four-under-par 69 Saturday to take a four-stroke lead into the final round of the $25,000 Burdines Invitational golf tournament.

Tied for second place in the first tournament of the LPGA tour, four strokes behind Miss Palmer's two-round 139, were third year pro Carolyn Kertzman from San Diego and tour veteran Donna Caponi Young.

Miss Kertzman fired a 71 Saturday and Mrs. Young shot a 70 for their 143 total. Mary Mills shot a 74 for a 144 total, five strokes off the lead.

First round leader Pam Higgins soared to a 77 and wound up the day trailing the leader by six strokes at one-under-par 145. Also six strokes

Pampa Takes Volleyball Title In '74 Opener

BORGER — Pampa, in its first competition of the season, captured first place in the round-robin Borger Invitational Volleyball Tournament Saturday here.

Pampa downed Perryton, 15-6, and 15-2, in the final match of the tourney. The Harvesters also defeated Borger, 12-4, 12-8, 13-8, and Hereford, 15-10, 15-10.

Pampa meets Tascosa in conference play Thursday night in Harvester Fieldhouse. The junior varsity games are set for 6:30 p.m., followed by the varsity games.

TWO POINTS — Billy Wilbon (44) shoots and scores over the outstretched hands of Borger's Joe Kerr. Wilbon scored six points in the contest as Pampa lost, 68-62. The loss threw the first-half final district standings into a three-way tie with Borger, Pampa and Palo Duro on top. The Harvesters open second-half play at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday night against Caprock in the Longhorn gym.

13 TEAMS COMPETE

Ted Brown Wins First Places In Amarillo Invitational Meet

AMARILLO — Ted Brown, Pampa's high school swimming sensation, finished first in both the 200-yard freestyle and the 500 free, highlighting Pampa performances in the 13-school Amarillo Invitational Swim Meet Friday and Saturday here.

Six El Paso teams, Lubbock and Lubbock Coronado, Tascosa, Caprock, Palo Duro, Amarillo High and Pampa competed in the meet.

Teressa Glasscock finished second in consolation of the 500-yard freestyle (girls) and Jamie Hood won fourth place in consolation of the 100-yard backstroke.

Tim Anderson won sixth in the 100-yard butterfly to round out Pampa's individual finishes.

The girls' relay team of Marita Carter, Miss Hood, Miss Glasscock and Vickie Carter finished fourth in the 200-yard medley relay. The boys' 400-yard freestyle relay saw Pampa's Johnny Cook, Brown, Anderson and Scott Smith finish eighth.

Pampa will next compete in the Wichita Falls Invitational Swim Meet Friday and Saturday. The high school swim team is coached by Bonnie Grantham.

In 1946 a group of men and women organized the Junior Bowling Congress. The children were previously bowling with adults and this jeopardized their eligibility for any scholastic awards given by the AJBC.

This took care of all the children from eight to eighteen. With the organization of AJBC came the fact that now bowling was indeed a family sport.

When the children started taking lessons and forming their leagues, bowling grew by leaps and bounds. Now we have changed some of the ABC, WIBC and AJBC rules so little ones, five and six, can bowl, as long as they can handle the bowling ball.

We have six-pound balls but feel like if they can handle a seven- or eight-pound ball they are ready to learn to bowl. The AJBC has raised the age limit to twenty-two years of age for membership, as long as the bowler is attending school.

Some years back the AMP company made a survey and found that 600,000 boys and girls bowled in league play in the United States. At this time the survey found that about four million ladies and over six million men were bowling. Just about a year ago, the National Bowling Council made a survey and found that 800,000 youngsters were bowling and that over six million women and eight million men bowled in league.

As a whole the survey taken, which included open bowling as well as league play, showed that over fifty-two million people bowled. This made the sport of bowling the largest in the world. The main reason for this is because not many five-year-olds can play any other sport, nor can an eight-year-old person. But they CAN bowl!

In league action this past couple of weeks, we find quite a few games and series rolled that are due mention. The Men's Classic: Joe Wells 576, Ken Baker 542, Pete Cole 546, Don Slaybaugh 534, Gil Wuest 579. Women's Petroleum - Industrial: Bea Wautham 216 game 513 series, Pats Rowe 205-530, Jeannie Sells a 204-514 series.

Harvester Women: Abbie Archer 214-524, Fay Bentley 200-542, Virginia Pettit 213-506 series, Hits & Mrs.: "Wag" Waggoner 214-519-501 (634), R.O. Johnson 205-202-244 (652), Ron Campbell 214-559, Dwayne Hill 531, Iley Earp 215-531, Hood Earp 200-554, Gene Hanson 200-525, John Hervey 201-540.

Harvester Men's: Jim Clifton 215-612, Howard Musgrave 589, Tim Knox 556-509, Carroll Pettit, 554, Buddy Epperson 217-585 and 578, Ron Campbell 200-535, Lee Mathis 201-563, David Wortham 589, Roscoe Mounce 200-544.

Men's Doubles: Bill Abernathy 588, Howard Musgrave 584, Leon Harris 213-573, Ken Smith 205-561, Gil Wuest 605, David Wortham 573, Jim Adkins 561-562, Walter Fletcher 204-541, Benny Horton 577, Rudy Taylor 565, Ladies Doubles: Nadine Fletcher 230-541, Dot Osborne 540.

Evans 201-555, Maurice Cross 536, Raleigh Rowland 522, Carroll Pettit 216-518-172 (603), Hank Dennis 223-572, Dale Pankratt 214-538, Harvester Couples: Gil Wuest 590, Raleigh Rowland 230-542, 230-546, Alvin Helms 217-572, Ben Wortham 210-538, Donna Bates rolled an all spare game on Thursday night.

Hi-Low League: Kathy Brownlee converted the 6-7-10 split. We also had seven six hundred series rolled this past week. Carroll Pettit 638, Roy Morris 605, Ted Erickson 607, Roy Stephens 619, Howard Musgrave 616, Larry Yearwood 602, Nancy Loper 624.

BENCHED — But it's not because he's playing bad. Dwight Rice injured (broke) his ankle against Palo Duro and has had to sit out Pampa's last two games. Rice watched the Harvesters lose to the surprising Borger Bulldogs, 68-62, Friday in Harvester Fieldhouse. Here he watches his teammates at in the pre-game workout.

SPORTS FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Brought to you by B.F. Dorman

Do you know who holds the all-time college basketball record for getting the most rebounds in one season of play? ... It is not any of the big super stars you might think of first like Wilt Chamberlain or Kareem Abdul-Jabbar ... Answer is Walter Dukes who set the record when he played for Seton Hall in the 1952-53 season with 734 rebounds.

With all the big scores in pro basketball these days, did you ever wonder what the record is for the LOWEST scoring game in the history of the National Basketball Association? ... It happened Nov. 22, 1950 when the Pistons beat the Lakers 19-18 ... Believe it or not, that was the final score.

If your favorite basketball team wins a few games in a row, you get excited ... if they win 10 in a row — that's really something ... if they would win 75 in a row — well, that seems almost unbelievable ... But what about a team winning more than that? ... 100 in a row? ... 150 in a row? ... Impossible? ... Well, do you know a basketball team once won the amazing total of 159 games in a row? ... That's the all-time record for any organized team in either high school, college or pro sports ... This record was set by the Peapack (N.J.) high school basketball team ... Between 1919 and 1925 they won 159 consecutive games!

I bet you didn't know there's a safety belt of steel inside the MICHELIN tire ... It carries a warranty of 40,000 miles of tread wear (many owners get more).

Texas Cruises To Indoor Title

By United Press International
FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — There has been no reduction in the power of the Southwest Conference dominant track and field force during the winter.

If anything, the Texas Longhorns look stronger than ever.

The Longhorns cruised to a victory in the first Southwest Conference Indoor Track and Field Championships Friday night, winning 10 of the 15 events on the program. Texas' win could have been even more one sided if the Longhorns had not been upset in the two-mile relay and the mile run.

Texas dominated as usual, in the middle distance running events — paced by Paul Craig, Rudolph Griffith and Don Sturgal. John Berry in the long jump and the shot put combo of Dana Leduc and Bishop Dotegiewicz also give the Longhorns a threat in the field events.

So the race is on for second place this year in the conference, and it appears the Baylor Bears have the best shot at that.

The Bears provided most of the thrills in the first conference indoor meet, pulling off the night's two major upsets.

Baylor's Walker, Lea, a sophomore miler, surged off the final turn to spring past Reed Fischer and capture the mile in 4:15. The Bears' two-mile relay team also surprised the Longhorns, with Mark Lawless whipping Texas' Mark Klonow on the anchor leg for a 7:54.8 clocking.

The Longhorns scored 962-3 points to Baylor's 43 while Texas A&M finished third with 26 and Arkansas a surprising fourth with 21 in the first league indoor affair. Next came SMU with 15 points, Houston with 13-2-3, Rice with 12 and Texas Tech with 10.

The meet, while not altogether popular with the crowd, 5,553 turned out in the 15,000 capacity Tarrant County Convention Center. There were assurances that the meet would be an annual affair.

"We met our expenses," said James Cox, president of the Fort Worth Coaches Association. "We will have it here again next year."

The meet, however, will probably be moved to late February, which will bring it closer to the NCAA indoor meet held each year in March.

Texas' top wins came from Hurler Randy Lightfoot, who ran a 7.2 in the 60-yard hurdles; Rudolph Griffith 1:12.3 in the 600-yard run; Paul Craig 2:11.6 in the 1,000-yard run and Tim Patton 9:15.9 in the two-mile run.

PJH 9th-Grade Teams Run By Stanton, Dumas

Pampa Red travels to Hereford to play Stanton while Pampa Blue visits Borger White in Monday's junior high basketball action.

The two ninth-grade Pampa teams won in their last outings as the Blue traveled to Hereford and whipped Stanton, 66-45, and the Red went to Dumas and won, 64-40.

Don Hughes led Blue Scorers with 25 points, followed by Claude Steele with 14. Blue, 14-0 in conference, led at the end of the first three quarters, 22-9, 34-27 and 42-37.

Red scorers in double figures were Randy Britton with 20, Mark Ebancamp with 16 and Mike Lancaster with 14. Red led after the first three periods, 12-9, 33-19 and 63-40 as the Pampa team upped its conference mark to 10-3, second best behind Blue.

In the eighth-grade games, Pampa lost both, 31-13 in the Blue-Stanton game and 31-29 in the Red-Dumas clash.

Blue's high-point men were Tim Reddell and Braddock with four apiece. Red was led by Tommy Albus with 10 and Dusty Hudson with nine. Blue is now 8-6 while Red is 0-13 in conference games.

Another highlight of the meet came from freshman Kenneth Delorey of Baylor, who in his first collegiate competition won the high jump with a leap of 6-10.

Petibon Hired To Oiler Staff As DB Coach

HOUSTON (UPI) — Former all-pro defensive back Richie Petibon has been hired by the Houston Oilers as a defensive backfield coach.

The Oilers also announced Friday the signing of their 12th 12th round draft choice—Ricky Browne, a 6-2, 232-pound line-backer from Florida.

"We had an agreement with them," Spurs' Secretary-Treasurer Angelo Drossos said in

SPURS WANT GERVIN ABA Sale Getting Confusing

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two more twists developed Friday night in the rumored but never completed $400,000 straight cash sale of Virginia Squires star forward George Gervin to the San Antonio Spurs.

At 5 p.m. Friday, the ABA trading deadline passed without the trade being consummated. Gervin, the league's fourth leading scorer, thus will remain with the Squires the rest of the season.

San Antonio then filed a "six-figure" suit in U.S. District Court charging the Squires and their owner, Earl Foreman, with breach of contract. The suit alleged a deal had been completed but Gervin had not been delivered before the deadline.

FRIDAY Woods Breaks Indoor Shot Record In Examiner Games

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — All his shot putting life, George Woods was a disciple of Parry O'Brien.

But after "going stale" in 1973, he made the big switch, with all due respect to O'Brien, and suddenly he is the hottest shot putter in the world.

Friday night in the San Francisco Examiner games, the 6-foot-2, 300-pound strongman, using a modified torque style since the start of the year, took the world indoor shot put record to an unbelievable 70 feet, 4 1/2 inches, nearly five inches better than the old mark of 69-10 1/2 he set only a week ago in the Portland Classic.

It marked the fifth consecutive event in which he has come up with a better throw.

"This is going to have to stop somewhere," laughed the giant.

"I've got a thing going but I'm not shooting for a particular mark, just trying to improve."

Getting back to O'Brien, whom Woods thinks is the best ever in the shot put, big George said, "when I was a kid his technique was the one I patterned myself after."

"History will show," Woods continued. "O'Brien is the best ever in the event, mark-wise and technique-wise for his time."

Al Feuerbach, the world outdoor record holder at 71-7, and Ron Semkiw completed Friday night's field with Feuerbach finishing second at 69 feet even and the 19-year-old Semkiw third at 68-9, the best throw ever by a teen-ager.

Woods' performance overshadowed fine efforts by three foreigners—Miruts Yifter of Ethiopia over Olympic marathon gold medalist Frank Shorter in the two-mile, by Marcello Fiasconaro of Italy over Frank Bolding in the 600 and by Fannie Van Zijl of South Africa over Marty Liquori in the mile.

Fiasconaro and Van Zijl won for the eighth time each in America. Fiasconaro, a South African who runs for Italy, scored in the 600 in 1:10.4. Van Zijl won the mile in 4:01.3, and Yifter won the two-mile in 8:43.4.

Martha Watson, whom some rate as America's leading female track athlete, won two events, taking the 60-yard dash in 6.8 and the long jump with a leap of 20-11 1/2.

Rockets Coach Johnny Egan said the club has had its eye on Kunnert since last year's college draft when Houston picked Ed Ratleff in the first round.

"We were going to draft Kunnert last year before we saw that Ratleff was still out," Egan said. "Now we have him and Ratleff, the two guys we touted highly last year."

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

Nobody's Too Old For Anything

By EARL WILSON NEW YORK — "Nobody is too old for anything," the explosive lady said.

Klara Barlow, the Brooklyn sexprano, was speaking. She got all that publicity as the new overnight isotope after only 20 years of preparing for it.

But they said when I was 30 that I was too old and should give it up. Miss Barlow, the former cigar girl at the Latin Quarter, simmered as she sat with a cognac before her at the St. Moritz.

"Where you there long?" "One night. A man came up and said, 'Baby, I'll give you $500 ...' So I turned in my cigarette box."

She remembered also that 20 years ago who was offered a part in a Broadway musical to replace somebody leaving — either Monique Van Vooren or Julie Newman — probably John Murray Anderson's "Almanac."

"I got down to 130 pounds, I was gorgeous, I had a great figure. But I couldn't belt. It's another style singing from opera where you use a different set of muscles. So I didn't get the job and I looked around for other work such as being a cigarette girl to pay for voice lessons."

cablegram to Charles Reicher, the Met casting director, saying I was free. On New Year's Day I left Munich for New York, I sang for them on Jan. 3, and I was engaged."

The new star, of Swedish extraction, is happy to be well built. "I'm no scarecrow; our designers are trying to put us all down to a size 12. They don't like women."

Married over 20 years ago to Steve Roland of TV, and a second time ("Let's forget that one, it was a very dull affair"), she confessed "a million love affairs in between," and said, "I'll get married again if some man can stand an old woman of 45 who is very lively and wants somebody just as lively as she is."

Mary Small, back from a tour with "Follies," said at Bill's Gay '90s she's putting together a rock group called Mary and Her Little Lambs ... Gay Goodenough, who'll be in the film "A Fanatic Named Jones," moonlights as a "baby sitter" for a boss constrictor. The snake's owned by film director John Delaney, and Gay charges $3 an hour.

"I'D RATHER BELIGHT TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A man grumbled that his wife has always been ahead of her time: 'She was serving me TV dinners long before TV.' WISH I'D SAID THAT: The average American condemns X-rated films, attends them to see if they're as shocking as advertised, and complains if the sexy parts have been cut out. REMEMBERED QUOTE: 'Many a standing ovation has been caused by someone jumping to his feet in an effort to beat the rest of the audience to the parking lot.' EARL'S PEARLS: Stella Stevens discussed her home town of Hot Coffee, Ark.: 'There are more people just sitting around on park benches in New York than we had in the whole town.' Morty Gunty brought his wife flowers, and she said suspiciously, 'Either you did something, or you forgot to do something.' That's earl, brother. All Rights Reserved.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH Concerned About Vegetable Lack

By G.C. THOSTESON, M.D. Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am barely 16 and have been a vegetarian for about three weeks now. Actually, I don't eat many vegetables, in fact I eat very few. I call myself a vegetarian because I quit eating meat.

Before, I always ate meat three meals a day and sometimes for snacks. I've been told my hair will fall out and I'll be very tired if I don't eat meat. I feel very tired anyway because I won't get enough sleep, but will my hair fall?

And do you know? I'm not sure that I'm not more concerned about your lack of vegetables, over the long haul, than I am in your avoidance of meat. Daily fruit and vegetables are one of the several basics of a balanced diet.

of meat won't. And at present food prices it makes sense for people to make some use of the less expensive protein foods. Your tiredness may, as you say, just be from loss of enough sleep. Instead of tampering with your diet — and going at it blind as you seem to have done — why not start getting the sleep you need, meantime spending a little effort to understand a good diet instead of arbitrarily avoiding meat?

COUNTRY MUSIC

By PATRICK CARR The last place in the world you'd expect to run into Doyle Holly is inside a Salvation Army van. A sleek, leopard-lined cocktail lounge or a perfumed red parlor, perhaps — but a Salvation Army van?

about as likely to be slumming around with low-rent women as does Roy Acuff. "Sometimes I kind of regret falling into this bag," he moaned from the Salvation Army van. "I've been fortunate to have a couple of hits, but my reputation is getting ruined. I'm really not such a bad guy, but nobody believes me."

The "fuel" is converted into heat and energy; the protein is the necessary ingredient for building the cells which make up bone and flesh in the body. Some of the protein is converted into "fuel" by the body, but the opposite is not true. That is, "fuel" foods are not converted into "building" ingredients.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am easily awakened by any kind of noise at night and lose hours of sleep. I have heard of ear plugs but do not know where they can be purchased. —M.A.W.

That's no place for the baddest boy on vinyl since Conway Twitty: no place for a Destroyer of Virtue and Creator of Fallen Angels, but there he was playing a benefit in a Chicago shopping plaza, pumping hands like a preacher, calling the ladies "Ma'am" and singing the praises of the Salvation Army to anyone who would listen. What a switch. Doyle Holly, whose "Leila" and "The Queen of the Silver Dollar" were recent country hits, is part of a new trend toward the risqué in country music. Traditionally, you could always take your kids to a country concert confident that they wouldn't hear anything daring from the stage.

There may be a few hundred budding songwriters ready and willing to brave a lynch mob of outraged puritans to be afflicted with that particular problem, but you can see Holly's point all the same. "I've got some pretty nasty mail, y'know," he complains. "All from women. I've been called a woman hater and a chauvinist pig, but these songs of mine are about things that really exist. I see a Queen of the Silver Dollar in every club I play. Except for the fact that I sing them, these songs really have nothing to do with me. I love girls!"

So ample protein is necessary for health, but while meat is an excellent source of protein, it is not the only source. It is plentiful in eggs, cheese and fish. Some is available in certain vegetable products, and soy beans are a widely known source of vegetable protein. Nuts have a good deal. So do peanuts which, by the way, are not true nuts at all. Milk and cereals contain useful quantities of protein. Fruits and vegetables in general contain little if any protein — but they do contain varying amounts of carbohydrate, are rich in necessary vitamins and minerals, provide bulk which is needed for good intestinal actions. Some are rich in vegetable fats, some are not.

Most pharmacies or drug stores carry them. Note to S.M.: Although some people maintain that citrus juice is "bad for arthritis," that simply is not so. Go ahead and enjoy your orange juice and ignore what you hear. How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple. Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of Publishers - Hall Syndicate, 401 North Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60611, for the booklet, "How To Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling. Dr. Thosteson welcomes all mail from his readers, but because of the great volume received daily he is unable to answer individual letters. Reader's questions are incorporated in his column, whenever possible. Copyright 1974 Field Enterprises, Inc.

But now it's different. Home is no longer always where the heart is; love sounds sweeter in a bar on the back side of the tracks or in a double bed at a flashy motel. The subject of "slippin' around" has probably accounted for more country songs than any other theme. But now, like most everything else, it's coming out of the closet of veiled hints and "tasteful" ways of telling it like it is. "Honey, let me be your salty dog" used to be considered suggestive, but it now sounds like a ditty for the kids when put up against something like a Merle Haggard ballad which proclaims, "I don't have to wonder who she's had; it's not love, but it's not bad." And while this new frankness may send some radio programmers into coronary shock, the fact is that country record buying public can't get enough of it. Hence the success of Doyle Holly. Holly, however, is somewhat perturbed by it all. The problem is that like most new stars, all that people know about him is his song lyrics. Most fans didn't know at first that Charley Pride was black or that Ronnie Milsap was blind, and they don't realize that Doyle Holly is not necessarily the rambling stud responsible for ruining Leila and that Queen of the Silver Dollar. In fact, Doyle is a clean-cut, soft-spoken young man who looks

One should note that Doyle Holly, unlike other newcomers like Freddie Weller and Jimmie Buffet (or, for that matter, old hands like Waylon Jennings, Tompall Glaser and Willie Nelson) has not so far begun to explore subjects like drugs, politics or homosexuality, which are traditionally taboo in the country field. He has merely taken a couple of steps closer to the reality of traditional themes. One should also note that evidently he does love girls. He's married to one and he has a one-year-old son — facts that would sink like martini olives in a singles bar. Holly's career has the familiar elements of paying dues and waiting for the magic moment that may never come. Born and raised in Perkins, Okla., his working career began in the oilfields at age thirteen. He was drafted into the Holly family band a few years later, then graduated to playing bass in Buck Owens' band, the Buckaroos. As Owens got bigger, Doyle Holly participated in the benefits. His life became somewhat rough when in 1970 he left the security of the Buck Owens Show to go after a solo career. Now he's living in a trailer, and the only reminder of the days of jumbo jets and his name in lights is his own name spelled out on the door in adhesive mailbox letters.

Cattle Feeding Turns Down... Some Up, Some Down... Texas Poultry Value Increases.

It came as no surprise when the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service noted that cattle being fed for slaughter as of January 1 is down in both Texas and the nation.

The number of cattle on feed in Texas totaled 2,205,000, down two per cent below a year earlier, three per cent below December 1 and five per cent below October 1.

Nationwide, cattle on feed were down six per cent below a year ago.

Placements are down 21 per cent from a year ago in Texas. Feedlot operators reported intentions to market 1,150,000 cattle between now and March 31. This would be 52 per cent of the number on feed as of January 1 and would be six per cent more than the total marketed during this period a year ago.

In the state, large feedlots—those with 1,000 plus capacity—numbered 233 and held 2,158,000 cattle on feed for slaughter. Of that number, 81 per cent reported cattle on feed, while the remainder reported their feedlots empty as of January 1. Capacity for all 233 feedlots showed a 71 per cent occupancy.

Small feedlots—those with less than 1,000 head—held 47,000 head.

Nationwide, there was a decrease of 15 per cent in the number of cattle and calves placed on feed October through December of last year. Anticipated marketings now through March are one per cent below those actually sold during the same period a year ago.

INVENTORY of the Texas chicken flock shows a value of $22,120,000. Value per head is set at $1.40, which is up 15 cents from 1972.

The December hatch of egg-type chickens in Texas is down 10 per cent from a year ago. The December hatch of broiler chicks increased five per cent from a year ago. The total poult turkey hatch for December increased seven per cent from a year ago.

Egg production in the state was six per cent above a year ago. The number of chickens on Texas farms as of December 1 (excluding commercial broilers) was 15,800,000. This is three per cent above the 1972 total. There were 3,630,000 hens and pullets of laying age, 11 per cent under the 1972 total.

TEXAS planting intentions show increases in major crops including corn, grain sorghum, cotton, and soybeans. Decreases in acreage are indicated for oats, barley, rice, and sugar beets.

An indicated corn acreage of 800,000 is up 50,000 from 1973 planting of that crop. Grain sorghum indications are that 8,500,000 acres will be planted in 1974. This compares with 8,100,000 in 1973.

Cotton acre indication for 1974 in Texas is 5,800,000; this compares with 5,400,000 acres in 1973.

Soybean acreage indications show an increase over 1973 plantings for Texas. Indications are that 500,000 acres of soybeans will be planted in the state this year.

Oat acreage in Texas in 1974 shows that the crop will be less than in 1973; barley will also be down as will rice.

A huge increase in flaxseed acreage in Texas is indicated for 1974. Acreage this year is indicated at 40,000 acres compared with only 9,000 acres in 1973.

Economist Tells Farmer To Utilize Depreciation

(Editor's Note: This is the second of six weekly articles on tax management for farmers and ranchers.)

COLLEGE STATION — This may be the year for farmers and ranchers to claim as much depreciation as possible, says Dr. Wayne Hayenga, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"This means claiming the full amount of extra first-year 20 per cent depreciation on new or used tangible personal property acquired during 1973 that has a useful life of six years or more," explains the Texas A&M University System specialist.

On joint returns such depreciation per year cannot exceed $4,000. The limit is $2,000 on other returns.

The extra depreciation is taken the same year regular depreciation is first claimed. After claiming the extra first-year depreciation, regular depreciation should be claimed on the remaining value.

The extra depreciation allowance does not apply to property acquired by gift or inheritance or to property from a spouse, ancestor or lineal descendant.

Where possible, use fast methods of depreciation on new machinery and equipment that has a useful life of three years or more, suggests Hayenga.

However, such methods do not apply to used items.

Most machinery and equipment will qualify as well breeding stock if they meet the useful life test and have not been used.

The double declining balance is the simpler of the two fast depreciation methods, Hayenga points out. "Just double the straight line rate and apply that factor each year against the undepreciated balance. For a tractor with a 10-year life, 20 per cent of the undepreciated balance could be deducted each year."

In explaining the sum-of-the-year-digits method, Hayenga says the annual depreciation allowance is figured by applying a declining fraction to the cost of the property reduced by salvage value. In the fraction, the numerator is the remaining years of useful life and the denominator is the sum of the digits of each of the years of useful life. For an item with a 10-year life, the first year's depreciation would be 10/55 (10 + 9 + 8 + 7 + 6 + 5 + 4 + 3 + 2 + 1 equal 55) of property cost reduced by salvage value. The final year's depreciation would be 1/55 of this cost.

Hereford Ass'n. Will Offer Scholarships

JACKSONVILLE — Two scholarships will be awarded by the Texas Polities in the sum of $300 each this year. The Texas Polities, who are deeply interested in young people, offer these scholarships as a means to assist young people in furthering their education in the various fields of agriculture. The scholarship may be used at any junior college, college or university in the state of Texas.

An applicant should be a high school graduate and a resident of the state of Texas. Each applicant must have three recommendations: one being from either the county agent, club advisor, FFA advisor or high school principal.

The deadline for receiving scholarship applications is May 1, 1974. All youths interested in the scholarship fund should mail their applications to Mrs. M.D. Arrington, Route 1, Jacksonville, Tex. 75766.

Alabama's principal crops are cotton, corn, soybeans, peanuts, potatoes, truck crops and hay.

Panhandle Water

By FELIX W. RYALS
Last week this column carried the new policy statement of the Southwestern Division U.S. Corps of Engineers. The Division office is located in Dallas. There are five districts under the command of the Division office. Brigadier General Harry A. Griffith is the Division Engineer. He is another in a long line of brilliant engineer officers who have commanded the Southwestern Division Corps of Engineers. District Corps offices are located at Fort Worth, Albuquerque, Tulsa, Galveston, and New Orleans.

General Griffith was one of the speakers for the Jan. 9 meeting of the Governor's Task Force on Water. Today we are carrying a key portion of his address.

"There was a time, not very long ago, that when talking about Corps water programs we spoke mostly in terms of flood control, navigation, water supply, recreation, and so forth, and about the Federal Government's leading role in water resources development. Now our lexicon has acquired some new terms, like 'Ecology,' 'Environmental Impact,' 'Flood Plain Management,' 'Urban Studies,' 'Deep Port Development,' 'Cost-Sharing,' 'User Fees,' and the latest, 'Principles and Standards.' The latter were published recently in the Federal register and exemplify the new trend, which is toward less financial and policy-making involvement by the Federal Government and more participation by the states and other local interests.

"In order to understand the new trends in water resources development, I believe you must first understand the office of management and budget and the fact that their principal goal is to reduce federal spending. The President and the Congress agreed to establish a ceiling on national expenditures, and land and water resources programs are set within those ceilings. Recent adoption of the 6-7-8 percent discount rate for amortizing federal investment in projects was the first big step. This will wipe out about half of the Corps' presently authorized by unfunded projects. Beyond this, they have set up cost-sharing, under which local interests must take a bigger bite of the federal-non-federal dollar mix.

"Prior to adoption of the new principles and standards, the effect of the B-C Ratio method of screening projects had already been watered down by new federal goals relative to the environment. In fact, under the old standards more than half of the projects studied by the Corps at the direction of Congress failed to pass the B-C test and were not recommended by the Corps of Engineers. Thus, the Congress and the President were not required to spend their valuable time considering unworthy projects. The screening system filtered them. Under the new policies, more clearly defined economic, environmental and social analyses will have to be applied to all projects considered. Thus, a much finer screen will be used.

"The new principles and standards, including the 6-7-8 percent interest rate, went into effect Oct. 31, 1973. While it is impossible to make any accurate detailed assessment of the new principles and standards on Corps of Engineers projects, these effects can be expected: Marginal projects will drop out as the new discount rate is applied. Projects that have seriously adverse environmental effects will not be built, especially if the offsetting economic benefits are marginal. Power projects generally will be favored because of the expected energy shortfall.

"Functions of projects which require greater non-federal participation will diminish or drop out. These include water supply, recreation and water quality. Controversial projects will be delayed or dropped. The problems of urban areas will have priority over rural needs. Projects with delayed future benefits will be more difficult to justify."

Pampa, Gray County Youths To Houston

HOUSTON — Several members from your area are entering livestock in the judging contests at the 1974 Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo. They are Pampa FFA members Marilyn Couts, Dusty Morrison, Grant Gething, Kenneth Gage, Bret Bell, Steve Snelgroves and Thornburn Snelgrove.

Gray County 4-H members entered are Chris Skaggs, Bobbie Skaggs, Hank Jordan, Phil George, Kevin George and Crystal Atchely.

Entries in the 1974 Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo are expected to exceed 19,000 in number proving it is really the largest livestock show in the world. When the '74 show opens, the Livestock Exposition Building will be bulging at the seams again with classes provided for 12 beef cattle breeds, 5 dairy cattle breeds, 5 swine breeds, 11 sheep breeds, 6 horse breeds, 5 rabbit breeds, 22 poultry breeds, and Angora goats. In addition, a record number of 19 auction sales will be held during the two weeks of the show.

The Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo initiated and maintains one of the finest scholarship programs in the nation. This year, there are 102 students on scholarships in 12 Texas colleges and universities — 65 are four-year, $4,000 scholarships; the remainder are one-year, $1,000 scholarships. The program also provides graduate assistantships for six students who are completing advanced degrees.

The first such organization in the country to underwrite agricultural research, the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo funds selected research programs at colleges and universities throughout the state. Some $100,000 is set aside annually for research designed to improve agricultural practices.

The '74 show opens Feb. 20 and runs through March 3. Nine great entertainers are scheduled to appear at the rodeo: The Jacksons, Feb. 22; Sonny and Cher, Feb. 23 and 24; Johnny Rodriguez, Feb. 25; Charlie Rich, 26; Doc Severinsen with Today's Children, Feb. 27; Tony Orlando and Dawn, Feb. 28; Conway Twitty, March 1; Vikki Carr.

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY
Starting at 2 p.m. Monday, Feb. 11 in the Casper Smith Building in McLean there will be a meeting of alfalfa growers. The meeting is being sponsored by the Extension Service and certain alfalfa growers in the McLean Area.

Dr. Bill Clymer, Extension entomologist from Amarillo, Dr. Frank Petr, Extension agronomist, Amarillo, and Bill Masch, economist - management, Amarillo, will cover all aspects of alfalfa growing. This will include insect problems, agronomic problems as well as methods of harvesting and pricing. Any one interested in growing alfalfa is invited. Refreshments will be served. Contact me and we will travel together to McLean and save fuel.

SOIL TESTING

We have an ample supply of soil testing cartons and information sheets available for the asking. With today's price of anhydrous ammonia, I can't think of a better time to have your soil tested. The motto "don't guess - soil test" would be more timely today than ever before. When anhydrous ammonia was selling for $50 per ton, application of twenty-five pounds too much per acre would cost you only sixty-two cents an acre. At today's quoted prices, this could cost you as much as two dollars per acre. For every five hundred acres of land, you are spending a thousand dollars too much.

FUEL ALLOCATION FORMS

We have a few forms on hand of the revised Federal Energy Forms, FEO 17, for your use in establishing or increasing your allocation of the various fuels if you have certain priorities, such as farming. We will be happy to pass them out as long as they last. We have very little knowledge of how the program works. For more information and emergency allocations you should contact: Federal Energy Office, Suite 1725 Corrigan Tower, 212 Paul Street, Dallas, Texas 75201 or, telephone Area Code 214-749-7631, Dallas, Texas.

SHORTAGES

Remember all the shortages of World War II. Well, rationing coupons, allocations, OPA, and other terms such as OPA have long been forgotten by many of us today. The new generation of kids under thirty never heard of the term "victory garden." Fact is some of us that were chasing Germans up and down the roads of France with General Patton didn't get too familiar with these terms.

Well, I've got an idea how each of us can do something about the shortages. The Extension Service has a vegetable specialist stationed at Lubbock. He is available to this district when we need him.

Let's get him and other available specialists on soils, insects, and other related subjects and hold a clinic on raising a "victory garden."

"Don't you think we have grown too dependent on others? Don't you think we need to become more self-sufficient?"

I've had many calls about this subject. Some are planning to kill out the grass in a part of their yard and place it to garden. A garden can be little more trouble than a yard. It can require even less water than a lawn kept at a high level of attractiveness. It will need even less fertilizer. I know some people who are now buying their canning supplies - jar lids, jars, etc. Let me have your thoughts. If there is enough interest, we will have a clinic. Learning about new varieties, when to plant, how to can, and a host of problems might help in fighting the empty grocery shelf.

THE HOUSE DOCTOR

Banging Steam Pipes Are Noisy

By HERMAN BAUM
Dear House Doctor:
Last year our steam heating system banged and popped every time the burner came on. I had hoped that some miraculous cure would occur over the summer but, alas, it still bangs and pops. I suppose this is due to expansion in the pipes, but how can it be stopped?

—P.W.
ANSWER — Unfortunately, fairy godmothers know absolutely nothing about steam heating systems. A cure will require a bit of know-how and a considerable amount of energy.

The noise in your steam heating system is not due to expansion, although expansion does produce noise in some systems. The trouble is due to improper slope of some sections of the piping.

In a steam system, all pipes, starting at a radiator, must slope back to the boiler. If some section of a pipe slopes in the opposite direction, water will accumulate in this section. When steam rises in the pipe, it reaches this water, blocking its passage. The steam is condensed by the water, creating a vacuum. Water or air rushing into the vacuum produces the noise that you hear.

These low spots are usually found in the relatively short length of pipe between the header and the radiator. It is generally possible to place small wood blocks beneath the radiator legs so as to raise it and the connecting pipes and reverse the slope in so doing. Care must be taken not to place so much strain on the pipes as to cause damage.

You should also use a spirit level and check the slope of the headers. Adjustment of the pipe hangers may be required.

When noise is concerned, hot air heating systems are more frequent offenders than steam systems. When metal ducts are used in high quality work, each face of each section of the duct is made with two diagonal creases. The purpose of these creases is to prevent the popping noise caused by expansion and contraction of the metal. You are familiar with this noise occurring when the top of a tin can is pressed in.

Heating contractors correct this trouble by attaching pieces of folded sheet metal to the faces of the ducts with sheet metal screws. They call these pieces S-strips, and make them from scrap metal.

You can buy these from a sheet metal shop. Small angle irons will serve the same purpose, although the cost will be higher.

OUTPATIENTS' CLINIC
Mrs. N.O.H. — If a bathtub has been used as a washtub for soaking fabrics in strong bleaches and chemicals, or through years of scrubbing with abrasive cleaners, the surface glaze has been damaged, stains may be impossible to remove, or, if removed, they will return almost immediately.

R.H.A. — The black substance on the wood in your attic is a fungus. It will cause rot if not controlled. Spray with a 5 percent solution of pentachlorophenol.

G.M. — Your house windows are not efficiently weatherstripped. Damp air from inside the house is leaking into the space between the house windows and the storm windows, and is fogging the glass of the cold storm windows.

BASEMENT WALL
Dear House Doctor:
A concrete block wall in the basement of my sister's house is pushing in. How can she prevent it from collapsing?

—MRS. T.F.
ANSWER — There is no practical way to prevent this wall collapsing, which it will do. The damaged section must be torn down and rebuilt. Next time, have the masonry contractor place two half-inch electric heat

the myth of high cost doesn't have a leg to stand on.
