Demos Plan New Swing At President

By VINCENT J. BURKE
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—The Democratic Party's economic strategy committee with former President Truman sitting in, wound-up today for a new swing at President Eisenhower's "go slow" anti-inflation policies.

Lions Clubs See Film On US Waste

The Jayces-sponsored film, "Waste Not, Want Not," was shown at the meetings of both Lions Clubs Thursday. The film was produced for the Hoover Commission by CBS Public Affairs and is being shown at the civic clubs in Pampa by the Pampa Jayces.

Both Noon and Evening Lions Clubs are getting ready for the Lions International District 21-1 Convention in Dallas, Apr. 24, 25, 26. The Evening Lions will send Miss Carol Roundtree to the District Queens Contest at the time of the Convention.

Noon Lions will sponsor Olivia Anne Swain, who was chosen Miss Pampa, Youth and Community Center at the General Campaign Kickoff.

Both Clubs are supporting the Eye Bank project of the Amarillo Downtown Lions Club. A film explaining the Eye Bank program will be on KJNC-TV, Channel 4, at about 6:45 p.m. today.

The Lions, meeting at noon in the First Methodist Church, mentioned Ralph Thomas as a possible candidate for Lions District Governor, two years from now. Thomas has a long record of service to the Club.

The Evening Lions Club, meeting at 8:30 p.m. at Poole's Steak House, heard the report of the nominating committee for 1958-1959 officers. Up for president is Bob Hamilton; for first vice president, Wendell Altmiller; for second vice president, B. G. Gordon; for third vice president, Fred Malone; for directors, Dr. Phillip Galea and Marvin Bowman; for secretary, L. B. Pennick; for Lion tamer, James Edmister; and for tail twister, Gordon Crinklaw.

Nominations will be accepted from the floor if put in writing and submitted before the Thursday meeting, which is Election Day.

has ruled out tax reduction as a weapon for countering the economic decline, and Democratic leaders in Congress so far have made no move to challenge him on this point.

The group meeting today was the Advisory Committee on Economic Policy of the Democratic Advisory Council. Top Democratic Senate and House leaders have never joined the council, conceived by Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler, and opposed its formation.

Truman Joins Session
Truman, who has said he would "be doing something" about the recession if he still were in office, was scheduled to arrive in town today, but did not plan to join the committee's all-day closed session until afternoon. Next week, he will be the leadoff witness at five weeks of public hearings on the national economy by a House committee.

Support for the President's fiscal position came from J. L. Robertson, a member of the Federal Reserve Board of Governors. Robertson said there was nothing wrong with the economy that could not be cured by "reasonable price adjustments, a wise utilization of available monetary and fiscal tools, and a proper frame of mind."

Robertson said there was a "tremendous" backlog of savings and many people anxious to improve their housing and transportation facilities.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) took a dimmer view of the nation's economic state, declaring the administration's own statistics showed a "shocking" slump in industrial employment.

Seasonal Recovery Lacking
The shocking fact is that industrial employment has dropped by 200,000 when it should have been making a seasonal recovery as did agricultural and construction employment, said Kennedy.

Other economic developments: —The Advertising Council launched a four-month anti-recession campaign to combat lack of confidence in the nation's economic well-being. Charles G. Mortimer, president of General Foods Corp. and drive chairman, said "fear is playing the biggest part" in the slump.

Lana Turner Goes Before Coroner Jury

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Lana Turner goes before a coroner's jury today to testify at an inquest that movieland believes will lead to acquittal of the film star's daughter in the fatal stabbing of her mother's lover.

Lana already had given full details of the stabbing of Johnny Stompanato by her 14-year-old daughter to Beverly Hills Police Chief Clinton K. Anderson. The chief said Wednesday he believed Lana was telling the truth in saying the girl was trying to protect her from assault by Stompanato. The belief in Hollywood was that the inquest jury of 10 men and two women would call it "justifiable homicide."

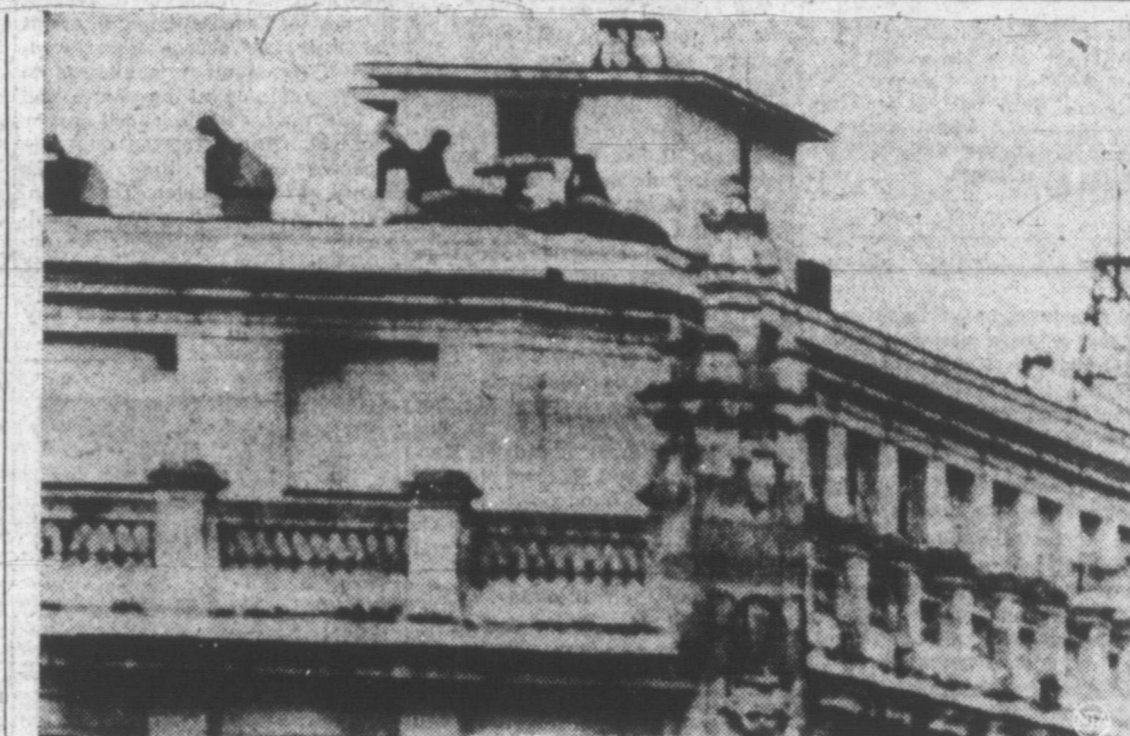

Friends close to Stephen Crane, one of Miss Turner's four husbands and father of Cheryl, theorized that Stompanato, a former Marine and once a bodyguard for ex-hoodlum Mickey Cohen, must have impaled himself on the butcher knife held in Cheryl's hands last Friday night.

Bill Holmes, an agent for Crane, said he had discussed the case with Arthur Crowley, Crane's attorney, in detail. "It's inconceivable to me that a girl the size of Cheryl or any other woman for that matter could have exerted the force necessary to drive a knife into Stompanato's body the way it was," Holmes said.

"He must have been coming at her and did not see the blade in the confusion caused by movement of figures in the room. Shortly after the slaying which climaxed a violent argument between Lana and Stompanato in the actress's pink bedroom, Cheryl told police she had rushed into the kitchen, picked up the eight-inch knife and plunged it into Stompanato's stomach "with all my might" as he stormed out of the bedroom.

But Crane said his daughter told him it was an accident when he talked to her before police arrived.

'Center' Campaign Is Reorganized

The fund-raising divisions of the Pampa Youth and Community Center Campaign met in the Palm Room of City Hall today to reshuffle pledge cards and reorganize the Campaign. "We want just enough cash to get the project underway," said General Campaign Director Johnny Campbell. Campbell said that the average town teenager spends 100 hours a year in Church activities and has approximately 3,000 leisure hours a year left over. "Some of them need directed activity," said Campbell. "Some fathers have time to take their kids fishing. Some don't. The Center will provide professionally directed recreational facilities. This is the vital need. It will give us a facility that we don't have and we need."

Campbell and other members of the Board of Directors, since their election four years ago, have been visiting Youth Centers in other towns and reading articles about towns that have and do not have Youth Centers.

"We're ready to start," says Campbell. "Ready to dig the swimming pool any day."

The Center now has $110,018.50, including the $250 given Wednesday by Pampa Post 1857 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. To attain the $125,000 operating fund pledged by Mrs. Ines Carter, the Divisions will have to hit the $300,000 mark.

Fidel Castro's Rebel Attack Said 'Fizzled'

HAVANA (UP)—Loyal troops, striking back at insurgents whose hit-and-run attacks caused nearly 100 deaths this week, have isolated the "main rebel body" in the mountains of eastern Cuba, the army announced today.

A communique said "many" rebels have been taken prisoner by troops pursuing them into the Sierra Maestra where insurgent leader Fidel Castro has been hiding out for 16 months.

A government spokesman said the "all-out attack" threatened for this week by the rebels has fizzled out, making their eventual defeat certain. He said loyal troops probably will be able to wipe out the last vestiges of resistance within two months.

A rebel broadcast Thursday night called on Castro's supporters to continue fighting in this "crucial hour." The anti-government radio reported rebel attacks on Manzanillo, Bayucito and army outposts at Niquero and San Pablo, but gave no details.

Capital Quiet
Havana was quiet during the night except for scattered shooting audible in suburban Vedado shortly before midnight. Authorities said no one was hurt.

Dirt-Moving Work At Hotel Site Slated

Wayland Merriman, consulting engineer for the Pampa Community Hotel Company, said today that there has been no definite date set as yet to let bids on dirt-moving to be done at the hotel site.

Merriman is currently finishing plans for the work and estimated that the bids would be let within the next 10 days to two weeks.

The dirt-moving work, when started, will probably take from five to six weeks. The dirt will be used to fill in draws in areas just to the south and north of the hotel proper.

It has not been definitely decided yet but there is a possibility two separate bids will be let, one for work on the area where the hotel building will be constructed and the other for dirt work to be done in other areas of the hotel property.

This method is settled on. There will be approximately 47,000 yards of dirt to be moved in the area where the hotel will be constructed and more in other areas.

AEC Says Early Completion Important

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—The Atomic Energy Commission hinted today it may cut short the forthcoming weapons tests in the Pacific.

Last Feb. 14 it announced a danger zone of 390,000 square nautical miles would be established around the Eniwetok proving ground effective April 5 until some time in August.

Today in an unprecedented action it issued regulations, the wording of which suggested the tests might be completed earlier than August.

The regulations, effective today, bar from the danger area all unauthorized persons who are U.S. citizens or persons "subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, its territories, and possessions."

The AEC said in announcing the regulations that "the efficient and early completion of this test series, which is to begin in April, 1958, is of major importance to the defense of the United States and of the free world."

The Feb. 14 danger zone notice went out to all nations. In the past, U.S. ships and planes have searched the danger area before each shot to warn away intruders. Today's prohibition, however, mentioned only U.S. citizens and others subject to U.S. jurisdiction.

Russia recently announced it would not recognize establishment of the danger area.

The need to get the tests completed as quickly as possible was stressed in the AEC's announcement of the new regulations today. Such regulations usually are "proposed" in advance of the effective date.

Measles Keep Play Cast Out Of Competition

Tragedy in the form of measles struck the "Bad Seed" cast and kept the High School Thespians out of District competition today. Troupe 1010 had rehearsed diligently on their scenes from "The Bad Seed" to be presented in the Interscholastic League Contest at West Texas State College.

However, 25 Pampa High students will go to Canyon Saturday to compete in Debate, Declamation, Original Oratory, Typing, Spelling, Ready Writing, Poetry, Reading, Short hand and Extemporaneous Speaking for the Interscholastic League Contests.

Betty Barnes and Sue Foster will enter Debate with DeAnn Thornton as alternate. Carol Rose Miller and Ralph Deepee will enter declamation. Miss Miller's alternate is Heidi Schneider. Deepee's is Louis Neely.

Heidi Schneider and John Mead will take part in Original Oratory. Typists will be Daine Kiff, JoAnn Moxley, Mary Ann Harvey and Dianne Hibbs. In Short hand will be Joanne Addington and Nancy Willis.

Spellers will be Martha Gordon and Bob Jernigan; Ready Writers, Pat Jones and Evelyn Coffey. Barbara Lunford and Donald Darling will enter Poetry Reading. Their alternates are Martha Gordon and Bobby Brown. David Balch and Charlotte Riley will represent Pampa High School in Extemporaneous Speaking with Corky Cambern and Claudia Mooreman as alternates.

In the past three years, two Thespians have become ill just before important productions. But with over half the cast of the "Bad Seed" touched by measles, Miss Helen Schaefer, Thespian sponsor, reluctantly cancelled the production.

"They had a good chance," said Bob Hamilton of the High School Speech Department.

Man Held On Theft Charge

Charges of theft from a person were filed late yesterday afternoon against Ernest L. Huff, of Pampa.

The charges were filed before Wheeler County Justice of the Peace Dick Guynes.

Charges resulted from an altercation Wednesday night between Huff and Jim Stone, also of Pampa.

The complaint alleges that Huff beat Stone and took a $20 bill from Stone's pocket. Wheeler County Sheriff Bus Dorman investigated the affray which occurred west of Wheeler.

Huff is being held in Gray County jail under $1,500 bond pending action of the grand jury.

Cancer Marathon Slated Sunday By Local Students

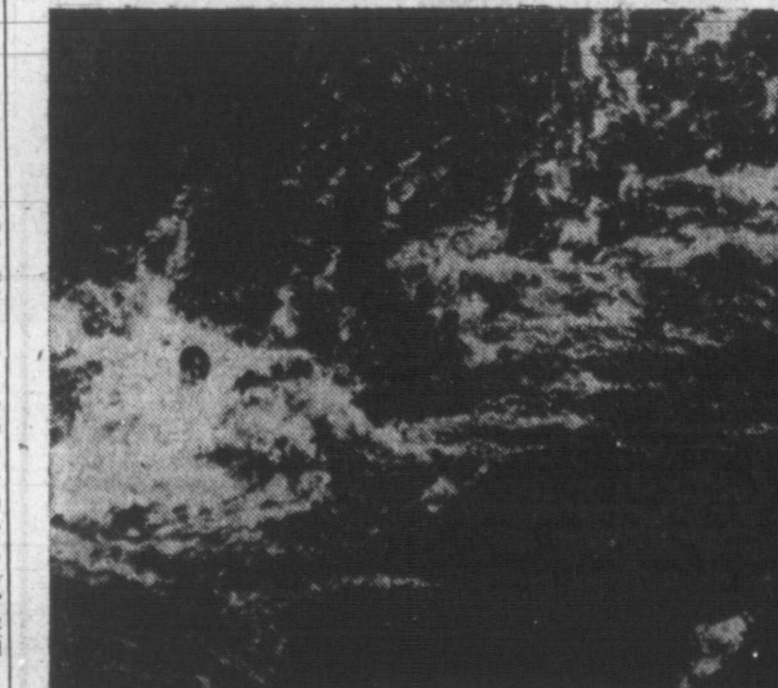

The April Crusade held by the Pampa Chapter of the American Cancer Society will go into its Cancer Marathon Sunday afternoon over KPND. Bob Hamilton's Radio Speech Class from Pampa High School will auction off donated articles as bids come in by telephone from the radio-audience.

Door-to-door solicitation in the Cancer Crusade will start Apr. 15 and will last the evening. Mrs. Roy Kretzmeier is directing the solicitation.

The Cancer Marathon is scheduled to get underway following the major league ball game over KPND. The time will be about 12 p.m.

Mrs. Julia McKernan is Crusade Chairman with Roy Bourland as chairman of the Crusade's Advance Gifts Division. Bourland reports that his Division has been remarkably successful.

President of the Pampa Chapter is Paul Keim.

Dies Promises Election Statement

GALVESTON, Tex. (UP)—U.S. Rep. Martin Dies of Lufkin says he will announce within 10 days whether he will enter the race for the U.S. Senate seat now held by Ralph Yarborough.

A Dallas group has "been working hard and is gaining support for me," Dies said Thursday in Galveston, where he visited his son, who is recovering from injuries suffered in a car wreck last Feb. 28.

"Within 10 days, I will make my decision as to whether to run and will issue a statement at that time."

Should Dies enter the race, he would be the second conservative Democrat to announce, Multi-millionaire William A. Blakley revealed Tuesday he will seek the Senate office.

It has a 102.5-inch wheelbase, overall length of 172.2 inches. Powered by an overhead valve, 4-cylinder engine delivering 67 h.p. at 4,400 r.p.m., it's said to deliver up to 35 miles per gallon in mileage.

Lloyd Nolan To Play Part Of Internal Revenue Agent

By VERNON SCOTT
United Press Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UP) — You've heard of G-men and T-men. They've been lionized in films and TV for years. Now comes the I-man, another federal hero.

Ghastly though it may seem, a new video offering will glorify the exploits of the nation's tax collectors. It's possible the hero will be equipped with a flock of 1040 forms instead of a trusty pistol.

To convince us the tax man is, after all, a sweet character, MCA, which is producing "Special Agent 7," has chosen sweet-faced Lloyd Nolan.

Appear Human

This being income tax season, the soft-spoken Nolan barely managed a grin when he said he was acquainted with several tax agents (G-men) and they appeared on the surface at least, to be human. Then he began to ad lib recklessly.

"I think we can sell the public that the burden of Internal Revenue really is working for the people—not against them," he said. "Basically, it will be a cops and robbers series." Then, proudly, "Did you know that Internal Revenue makes 75 per cent of federal arrests while the FBI and other agencies account for the rest."

Nolan feels right at home in a cops and robbers story. He was detective Martin Kane one season on TV. He portrayed Michael Shane, another sleuth, in a series of nine movies 15 years ago. On two occasions he's been an FBI man, and he's played innumerable city cops.

Not Yet Sold

"We've filmed 11 stories," Nolan said, "but so far the series hasn't been sold.

"We never touch on the technicalities of income tax evasion. I play a roving agent whose duty it is to track down tax dodgers. Some of the villains are criminals, others are ordinary citizens who get too fancy with the tax laws."

As part owner of "Special Agent 7," Nolan thinks the chances of selling it will improve after the April 15 tax deadline. His thinking is that people, sponsors included, have short memories.

Nolan admits he was chosen for the role because he has an honest face, one that would preclude cheating on the income tax.

Hair Specialist Here MONDAY
Will Show How To Save Hair and Prevent Baldness

CORAL GABLES, Fla. — New home treatment methods for saving hair and improving its growth will be demonstrated in Pampa on April 14, Monday only.

Trichologist G. J. Wilson will be in charge, representing the dynamic Harlow Hair Experts organization. He will personally examine hair-worried men and women from 1:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. on Monday at the Pampa Hotel.

The new treatment is neither "mail order" nor "cure-all." It is adapted to the individual after a personal examination and progress is checked personally at regular intervals by a Harlow expert.

Who Can Be Helped?

For many years now Harlow Hair Experts have been checking the hair of thousands of people across the country. They have encountered and dealt with hundreds of cases of every kind of hair trouble. From this experience has grown the body of scientific knowledge leading to the new Harlow Home Treatment.

Will the new Harlow treatment cure baldness? "No!" For we cannot help men and women who are sick bald after years of gradual hair loss. But if you still have fuzz and your scalp is still creating hair, you can at least save and thicken what you have. Some conditions, such as "spot baldness" usually have complete coverage if caught in time!

Other conditions that usually bring on excessive hair loss—dandruff, itching, over-oiliness or dryness, follicle clogged with sebum or seborrhea—can be corrected by the Harlow home treatment if caught before the "hair factories" are destroyed.

Evidence of the success of the Harlow method is that the organization has quickly expanded to serve hundreds of cities in 22 states.

The most important thing is: "Don't wait until it's too late."

Surveys among men and women in all walks of life show that the worst enemies of your hair are (1) skepticism and (2)

Compound Resists Radiation

MADISON, Wis. (UP) — An atomic scientist has revealed the development of a compound called "AET" which may be able to double man's resistance to radiation.

Dr. K.C. Atwood III of the Atomic Laboratories at Oak Ridge, Tenn., spoke Wednesday at a meeting on heredity research at the University of Wisconsin.

Atwood said the anti-radiation compound could be used to protect humans if the need arises, and can be produced in quantity. The drug is technically called aminothionium and must be taken before exposure to have effect.

Atwood said he did not believe science ever would be able to entirely neutralize radiation effects, but said "it may be possible to develop resistance to radiation up to perhaps five times the normal tolerance of a human."

"Too strong a dosage," he said, "would produce such a reaction in the human body that a complete rebuilding of man's molecular system would be necessary. This, of course, is impossible."

WARNS ON SPACE — Col. John P. Stapp, Air Force medic and famous space-flight pioneer, warns that the U.S. must launch a man into space within the next five years to beat the Russians. He urges the U.S. as quickly as possible, to send up a satellite containing a chimpanzee and try to return the animal safely to earth. That done, he says, it would be safe to send a man into space.

An Unusual Institution Is To Observe Its 50th Anniversary

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP) — This is the 50th anniversary of a $320 investment that produced a unique American institution.

The investment was made in the spring of 1908 by 32 Washington newspapermen who chipped in $10 each to found the National Press Club.

The club began life in two rented rooms above a jewelry store. Today it owns the tallest office building in downtown Washington, the National Press Building, and occupies handsome quarters on its top floor.

The original purpose of the club was to provide a place where working newspapermen could get together to eat, drink and talk shop. It still serves that purpose, but it is now far more than a social club. It has become a world-famous forum before which leaders of America and other nations speak, and in which correspondents from 20 countries exchange ideas and ask questions.

VIPs Address Club

The club now has 4,600 dues-paying members, of whom 1,000 are active newspapermen. The rest are former reporters or "news sources." Included in this category are loyal members Harry S. Truman and Herbert Hoover, Presidents Woodrow Wilson, William Howard Taft, Warren G. Harding, Calvin Coolidge and Franklin D. Roosevelt were members during their lifetimes.

President Eisenhower has never enrolled, but has displayed an interest in the club's activities and was invited to the golden anniversary banquet which the club will — as visitors or as new occupants of high government posts — be promptly invited to address the club. Virtually all of them accept.

Reflects Members' Follies

Despite the prestige it has acquired over the years, and the role it plays in national affairs, "VIPs" who come to Washington the club has never taken itself

Previsibly, the "window" depicted a winter scene. Next fall, the frost will be on the pumpkin without benefit of a sharp freeze. Meanwhile, less talented citizens in other, air-conditioned districts dial the phone company's "Weather" service to find out what's happening outdoors. ## Khrushchy Has Just Made First Blunder

Foreign News Commentary
By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
Nikita S. Khrushchy has just made his first blunder since he took over as premier of Soviet Russia two weeks ago.

Addressing a mass meeting of steel workers at Stalinvaros, Hungary, last Saturday, Khrushchy said that Hungary could not count on Russian intervention in the event of a new revolt.

His statement seems to have alarmed Hungarian and other Communist satellite leaders. They feared that it might offer encouragement to the workers, intellectuals and students who are becoming more and more restive under Red rule.

So on Tuesday, Khrushchy reversed himself in another speech at the coal-mining town of Tatabanya.

This time, Khrushchy said that Russia would intervene if necessary.

Claimed Distortion

He explained that "bourgeois journalists" had distorted his speech at Stalinvaros. What he really said, he told the coal miners, was that the Hungarian regime should make itself so strong that no revolt would be attempted.

Unfortunately, Khrushchy's original speech was published by the official Hungarian News Agency M. T. I., not merely by "bourgeois journalists."

Khrushchy's blunder, relatively minor in itself, emphasizes the difference in his status since he assumed the Soviet prime ministry on March 7, after ousting Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin. Bulganin, of colorless personality, what might be called a "safe" man. It was not necessary for him to back-track on any statements he made.

Can't Pop Off

But Khrushchy, as first secretary of the Communist Party before he became premier, became famed for his frank, often highly provocative "off-the-cuff" remarks at diplomatic receptions.

As a Communist leader and not a member of the Soviet government, Khrushchy could make such remarks and get away with them.

But if he continues, in his capacity of leader of the Soviet government, to make such statements it will mean trouble both for himself and for the foreign governments with which Russia does business.

There is a great deal of difference between an inflammatory remark made by a Communist Party leader and one made by a premier who is his country's highest-ranking spokesman.

It will be a good thing for Khrushchy personally, for Russia and for the world if he learns that while a Communist Party leader can pop off and get away with it, a premier can not.

On The Business Scene

By UNITED PRESS
The Federal Housing Administration said that March applications for mortgage insurance on new houses climbed 21 per cent above the February total to the largest such volume for any month since August, 1955. Commissioner Norman T. Mason said the 24,968 new-home units covered by March applications represented an increase of 54 per cent over March, 1957.

The Treasury announced that its offering of $3,500,000,000 in new securities was oversubscribed four to one. Subscriptions for the new cash offering, bearing 2 1/2 per cent interest, amounted to more than $15,750,000,000.

American Telephone & Telegraph Co. reported an increase in its March quarter net income despite the business recession. However, the recession has caused it to defer some construction projects. Union Carbide Corp. estimated a sharp decline in its March quarter net income resulting chiefly from decreased demand from the steel industry.

The Federal Trade Commission said that Shell Oil Co. has denied charges of giving special benefits to customers who agree to handle its oil and grease products exclusively. In a rebuttal to the commission's Jan. 16 complaint, Shell asserted its marketing practices are "wholly proper" and commonly used by the industry.

Sales in February dipped below levels of a year ago for all major classes of retail stores except food and apparel, the Commerce Department said. The food group posted a 9 per cent gain and apparel was unchanged. Auto sales sank 18 per cent, lumber, building hardware and farm equipment fell 10 per cent, general merchandise 6 per cent and furniture and appliances 5 per cent.

Martial Law If Attacked

WASHINGTON (UP) — Americans living in U.S. cities devastated by enemy attack would find themselves under Army-imposed martial law.

Gen. Willard G. Wyman, head of the Continental Army Command, disclosed plans to impose complete martial law in such cases. Such authority, he said in a speech here Wednesday, is necessary for "realism" in nuclear-age defense planning.

Wyman told the National Assn. of State and Territorial Civil Defense Directors that the military would assume authority to "conscript and commander" defense workers and to carry out punishments in areas where civil authorities "are incapable of functioning."

Local Writer Appears On Panel

Miss Helene Huff, local western writer, appeared in a panel discussion Thursday on the first day of the Writer's Round-Up in Amarillo. Writer Huff was on a Panhandle Pan Women's panel with two writers from Amarillo and a writer from Borger.

The panel on "Marketing" was led by Alice Puckett of Amarillo. On the panel were Novelist Laurend Chinn, Borger; Delores Lehr, juveniles writer from Amarillo and Miss Huff, who is an authority on western stories.

"You can be taught to write but no one can do your writing for you," said Miss Huff. "What you do with the knowledge is your own responsibility."

Miss Huff's writings have been published in Adventure Magazine and other magazines that use stories and articles.

"New writers compete with top professionals on all levels of marketing," continued Miss Huff. "Many top writers often submit and sell to small markets their rejects from better markets. Editors like to discover a new writer. Second, he can buy beginning writers' work for less money and that helps his budget."

Following the panel Dr. Lon Tinkle, author of "Thirteen Days to Glory," spoke on writing.

Among the events for the last day of the Round-Up Saturday will be the interview of Elise Miller Dabis by Mrs. Otis Nace of Pampa. Elise Miller Dabis authored the highly successful biography of Roy Rogers and Dale Evans, "The Answer Is God." Mrs. Nace is noted for her confessions and article writing.

S. R. Nelson Rites Set Saturday

Mr. Samuel Reubin Nelson, retired farmer and rancher, died at 12:25 a.m. yesterday in Amarillo. He resided between Miami and Pampa.

Mr. Nelson was born on Mar. 25, 1886. In Miami he was a member of the Methodist Church.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Murray Watts and Mrs. Dewey Randall of Amarillo; by four sons, John of Amarillo, Raymond of Miami, Sam of Ector and Hall of Memphis; and by 11 grand children and 19 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2:30 p.m. in the Miami Methodist Church with Rev. J. V. Patterson, pastor, officiating.

Burial will be in Miami Cemetery under the direction of Duengel-Carmichael Funeral Home of Pampa.

Palbearers will be W. D. Allen, W. R. Forman, H. C. Turner, Ellis Locke, C. V. Wilkerson and Clyde Hodges.

Action Of ROK Airmen Is 'Heroic'

SEOUL (UP)—Lt. Gen. Chiang Duk Chang said today that three Republic of Korea airmen will be cited for "heroic action" in thwarting the hijacking of their plane to Communist North Korea.

The ROK air force chief of staff issued a description of the incident shortly after reporting to President Syngman Rhee today.

He said Choi Jung Il, 30, an air force captain with 10 years service, staged the hi-jack attempt Thursday.

Choi entered the cockpit of the C46 transport plane and immediately killed the radio operator with two 45-caliber pistol bullets in the face, Chang said. He then took the radioman's weapon and ordered the pilot to fly north to Communist territory.

A few minutes later the pilot, Capt. Kim Pak Kim, grabbed Choi's hands and started butting him in the face. Other crew members joined the fight, during which the pilot and the mechanic were injured.

Chang said there were 11 persons aboard the plane, including six passengers, Choi and the crew.

Choi still was unconscious more than 24 hours after the heaving. The co-pilot, only uninjured crew member, landed the plane at Pyongyang, 40 miles south of Seoul.

A preliminary investigation showed no apparent contact with Communist circles. Choi was born in North Korea.

Sputnik Will Fall Over New England

Russia's little dead space dog is expected to come back to earth this weekend in a blaze of glory.

The expected demise of Sputnik II has already brought "eye-witness" accounts of its fall from Louisiana and Australia's "out back" land. But whatever those witnesses saw, it wasn't the dying satellite.

Western observers have sighted the "dog moon" in its diminishing orbit since those reports. Radio Moscow reported it had completed its 2,319th circuit of the earth at 1 a.m. est. today. The broadcast made no mention of the expected end of the "Muttnik," carrying the body of the first living thing to orbit around the earth.

But American astrophysicists figured its bright streak of death may provide a spectacle for New England.

Fall Expected Saturday

Dr. Luigi Jacchia, of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass., calculated the satellite should enter the burning friction of the earth's atmosphere somewhere over New England about 9 p.m. Saturday. It is already slightly past its originally calculated life of five months.

Its fall will leave space exclusively to the orbits of three U. S. satellites unless the Russians have managed to toss a secret satellite into space since they launched the little dog Laika last Nov. 3.

Russia has not reported to International Geophysical Year headquarters what it learned from the dog during the week it received radio signals from her 1,120-pound space ship.

Made Contribution

The Soviets did announce that Laika had made a "considerable contribution to the study of physical and biological phenomena in conditions of cosmic flight". A Soviet magazine said the dog remained "calm" throughout her flight.

Three pilots and three passengers of a commercial airliner and two military pilots reported seeing a flaming object over Baton Rouge, La., Thursday. The Smithsonian Observatory said Sputnik II was actually over the South Pacific at the time.

Residents of Quilpie, Australia, 640 miles west of Sydney, reported seeing a bright falling object which "exploded twice" as it descended. Mounted police spent hours searching for signs of a fallen satellite but Sputnik was later sighted, still in orbit, by an Australian tracking station.

Handicapped Couple Will Wed May 10

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa. (UP)—Bill Beucher, paralyzed from the waist down, and Bonnie J. Egan Pfug, born without arms, have finally set a wedding date.

The couple will be married May 10 at the Church of God in Bonnie's hometown of Means, Ky.

"We've saved up enough money for the wedding," Bill said. "But after that, it's anyone's guess."

Bill, a 24-year-old Navy veteran, was paralyzed as the result of a highway accident. Orphaned since childhood, he has been staying with an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Buchholz. Bill has been confined to a wheel chair since October, 1954.

His bride-to-be wears an engagement ring around her neck and pours coffee with her feet. She was born without arms 19 years ago.

Despite her crushing handicap, she has demonstrated an amazing degree of dexterity.

"She can even bake a cake," Bill said.

By most standards, the couple has little that would evoke happiness. But it is never discernible from their glowing faces.

"We're going to settle down in Means," Bill said. "We don't have money for a honeymoon, but we'll be all right."

Bill said he hopes to find a job that does not entail much physical labor.

"Something like a switchboard operator or watch repairman's helper would suit me fine," he said. "There aren't too many jobs I could work at, but I'm sure God will be kind to me."

Bill and Bonnie Jean met last year at the Woodrow Wilson rehabilitation center at Fisherville,

Display Is Sunday At Library

Silk, screen prints, stone and wood sculpture, wood carvings, glass enamel bowls, glass, tile and wood mosaic and copper jewelry will go on display at 2 p.m. Sunday at Lovett Memorial Library. The exhibit by the 24 Pampa students of West Texas State Dr. Emilio Cabalero will be up for four hours in the Exhibition Hall at the back of the Library.

The pieces were done in a ten weeks craft course taught here by Dr. Cabalero, chairman of the Art Department at West Texas State College.

The exhibits will include a wood sculpture by Mrs. Marion George, miller and Mrs. Puryale, silk glass enamel bowls by Mrs. Madeline Puryale and Mrs. Bethel Shirley, copper jewelry by Dewey Palminter and Mrs. Puryale, silk screen prints by Mrs. John Weber II, a copper enamel mosaic and stone sculpture by Mrs. Lenora Sloan, a ceramic tile mosaic by Mrs. Bill Heskew and mobiles and stables by Dr. Carl Lang.

The exhibition will be open to the public. Coffee will be served and appropriate records will be played.

Miss Olivia Anne Swain, chosen as Miss Pampa Youth and Community Center at the General Campaign Kickoff, will go to Dalt on Apr. 24 to appear in the Lions District Queens Contest. If successful, Miss Pampa Youth and Community Center will be crowned with a tiara and presented a loving cup and a dozen long-stemmed roses. She will also receive $250 in gift certificates from Dalt merchant.

CRMWA Sets Meet Monday

The board of directors of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority will hold a regular meeting at the Hilton Hotel in Plainview on April 14 at 11 a.m.

The purpose of the meeting will be the transaction of any business that may properly come before the board including the approval of minutes, approval of bills for payment, report on position of project at Washington, report from committees, and deciding on a delegation to Washington.

Drive On Underway Crime Is

WASHINGTON (UP)—Justice Department sources said today that a newly-announced stepped-up drive against the nation's 100 top racketeers actually has been under way for some time but was given additional impetus by the Senate racketeering investigation and the Mafia "crime convention," at Apalachin, N.Y. last November.

They cautioned, however, that it may be a "long time" before any of the crime leaders are indicted.

Attorney General William P. Rogers announced late Thursday that the government was intensifying a campaign to bring top criminals to heel through the coordinated efforts of the FBI, Narcotics Bureau agents and other law-enforcement agencies.

There are about 24,000 miles of natural gas pipelines in Texas.

Wreckage Of Plane Sighted

QUITO, Ecuador (UP)—The wreckage of an Ecuadorian airliner which apparently crashed and exploded Monday on the slopes of volcanic Mt. Illiniza was sighted from the air Thursday.

First reports indicated all of the 32 persons aboard were killed.

The 29 passengers of the ill-fated DC-3 included two Americans — Oscar Repp, an engineer from Bohemia, N.Y., and Mrs. Lewis W. Jones, the former Elean Gellenfeld, of Lawler, Iowa.

Mrs. Jones' husband, a Canadian missionary for the Jehovah's Witness sect, also was aboard the plane.

MISS JUNE GUILLE Miss June Guill In Sunday Recital

The Sanctuary Singers of the First Methodist Church will present Miss June Guill, student at North Texas State College, in a recital on Sunday afternoon at 4 in the sanctuary of the church. This is Miss Guill's graduate recital and is to be the same as the one she played at North Texas last week. She will include Variations on 'Ah! You dirajje, Marman' by Mozart; Sonata op. 53 in C Major by Beethoven; Phantasia in F minor, Mendelssohn; Four Preludes, Debussy and Lesghinika by Lisounow. The public is cordially invited to attend the recital. Miss Guill is a member of Pi Kappa Lambda, music sorority, and has belonged to the Green Jackets, service club. She served as treasurer of Sigma Alpha Iota, national honor-music fraternity; president of Alpha Chi, national honor society for scholastic achievement; treasurer of Meritum, an honor society in recognition of outstanding students in scholarship, leadership and service. In 1967, Miss Guill was selected for Who's Who among students in National Colleges and Universities. She was also selected for Who's Who at North Texas State for General Musician for 1968. Miss Guill's instructors have included Mrs. R. C. Wilson, Mrs. H. A. Yoder, Clarence Burg, Leo Podolecky, Mrs. M. Marious, Dr. Isabelle Sciotti, Jack Roberts, and Dr. Silvio Sciotti.

Simmons-Gille Say Vows in Amarillo

(Special to The News) WHEELER — The chapel of the Polk Street Methodist Church, Amarillo, was the scene of the wedding of Miss Elwanda Simmons and John P. Gille, both of Amarillo. Miss Simmons' parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Killingsworth of Wheeler. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gille, Holdenville, Okla. The simple double-ring ceremony was read on Mar. 22 at 4 p.m. by Rev. Uel D. Crosby, associate pastor of the church, before an altar flanked with baskets of yellow gladioli and mums. The bride wore a Dior Blune d'ouptom silk dress with matching jacket. Her corsage was a white orchid. Mrs. Charles Ray, Seminole, served the bride as matron of honor. Will Schroeder, Amarillo, was best man. The bride was graduated from Kelton High School and Texas State College for Women, Denton. She taught homemaking in Seminole High School before recently accepting a position as home economist with Southwestern Public Service Company, Amarillo. The bridegroom was graduated from Holdenville High School and Oklahoma State College, Stillwater, Okla., in 1961 with a BS degree in Industrial Engineering. He is employed with Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Co. The couple are at home in Shreveport, La., where Mr. Gille was recently transferred.

When winter's long siege is over, a girl likes to get her hair in condition for spring. She may need hot oil treatments, shaping and cutting and a permanent. This girl gives herself a hot oil treatment at home (left), using pure petrolatum hair tonic. The bottle releases just one drop at a time so that she can apply tonic directly to her scalp. Next step is massage, followed by steaming with a hot towel. For evening, her short cut is combed back and up (center) for a slightly sophisticated look. The hair is cut in tapered layers of equal length all over her head. For her new spring hat, she combs her hair (right) into bangs and cheek curls for flattering softness. This hairdo is easy to set.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My neighbor just trying to make me feel good or does it mean he loves me? I love him. SHARON: Dear Sharon: This ten-year-old boy is normal and your mother is probably 100 per cent correct. DEAR ABBY: I don't trust my husband. He gets himself tripped up in lies about his working hours and where he is half the time. Last night he came home very late and when he took his shirt off, he had his T-shirt on backwards and that wasn't the way he put it on in the morning. I am not the type to fight and holler but I feel very bad about all this. You see next week we will be celebrating our first wedding anniversary and I so want to make a go of our marriage as I am expecting. What should I do? VIOLA: Dear Viola: Why not call on your clergyman and renew your marriage vows on your first anniversary? Your husband needs a refresher course. CONFIDENTIAL TO MINNIE'S MOM: True... the apple doesn't fall far from the tree... but this one must have rolled a long way. For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

THE WIFE Dear Wife: First I'd test his hearing — and then his reflexes. DEAR ABBY: I am ten years old going on eleven. I asked a boy in my room to write in my autograph book and he wrote: "Dear Sharon, I hate you." I felt so bad I cried and then I showed it to my mother when she asked me why I was crying. When she said it was my mother who loved me. Please tell me, Abby, if my mother was doing your hair by not sparing the brush. One of the most ridiculous notions a gal ever had was the idea that brushing ruins a setting. A setting that has not been brushed will resemble a wig. But brushing will loosen the setting and give your hair a more natural look. More important, it will stimulate and loosen the scalp and bring out the natural oil. Learn how to take care of your hair and scalp at home. Learn to do it from the roots out. It's the only way to real hair beauty. You'll be amazed at how responsive your hair will be to different hair styles once it has become pliable. In addition to hot-oil treatments, you can improve the general condition of your hair by using pure petrolatum hair tonic. You can warm the hair tonic by placing the bottle in hot water if you want to. Section off the hair with your comb so that every part of your scalp can be saturated. The tonic will come out of the bottle drop by drop. Massage the tonic into your scalp with the balls of your fingers, beginning at the base of the scalp and working up. After you've applied the oil, wrap your head in a terry cloth towel that has been wrung out in water hot as your hands can stand. This will help the oil penetrate. When the towel cools, shampoo. Works Of Art To Be Feature Of Kaleidoscope

Exhibiting 19 works of art in the Kaleidoscope Art Gallery at Frank Phillips College in Borger tonight through Sunday is Nancy Teichgraber Davis (Mrs. Billy B. Davis) of Pampa. The gallery is one of the principal features of the fine arts festival produced by Hurshele Journey-McCarthy, Frank Phillips College piano instructor and Pampa music teacher. Mrs. Davis is a graduate of the University of Kansas School of Fine Arts. While at the university, she was president of Delta Phi Delta, national honorary art fraternity. Her professors of art include Albert Bloch, Karl Matern, and Marjorie Whitney. In New York City, Mrs. Davis studied at the Art Students League with Ivan G. Olin and privately with Eugene Higgins. Tonight the Kaleidoscope Art Gallery will open for viewing at 7 p.m. in the north wing of the college, the concert begins at 8 p.m. The same times apply Saturday night, and Sunday afternoon; the gallery opens at 2 p.m., the concert following at 3 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend free of charge.

Short Hair Fashions, Like Flowers Birds, Come Into Own In Springtime

By ALICIA HART NEA Beauty Editor Short hair styles, like the birds and the flowers, come into their own every spring. This year some of the short hairdos are arranged with a studied casualness that makes the hair tumble in every direction. Though very carefully arranged, the hair has a helter-skelter look. These hair styles are perfect for the cloche hats and smart, casual fashions that achieve popularity as soon as the warm weather arrives. And many of these helter-skelter coiffures are cut so that they can be combed back smoothly and smartly for party and formal wear. It's not the easiest trick in the world, however, to transform a short, fluffy, tumbled hairdo into a tamed, sleek one for evening wear. A good hairdresser can help you achieve this discipline. But before you'll be able to do it yourself and be sure it will be effective each time you want it to be, you'll need to do some homework with your own two hands. —Starts Saturday— TYRONE POWER AVA GARDNER "THE SUN ALSO RISES" AT THE TOP O' TEXAS DRIVE-IN Starting Sunday At The LaNora "TARNISHED ANGELS" Based On The Book They Said Couldn't Be Filled Starring Robert Stack • Dorothy Malone • Rock Hunter

Worship Center Focal Point For WS Guild Meet

Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist Church met in the church parlor on Tuesday evening with twelve members present. Miss Jia Pool presented the seventh and eighth chapters of the current study, "The Gospel According to St. Mark." The worship center, which was arranged by Mrs. W. C. Hutchinson, consisted of an open Bible surrounded by a large collection of foreign coins; an attractive arrangement of forsythia, which is representative of the olive family, and a container of water from the River Jordan. During the business session, conducted by the president, Miss Minnie Allen, a nominating committee was appointed to select officers for the coming year. This committee is composed of Mrs. W. C. Hutchinson, chairman, Miss Lillian Mullinax and Mrs. Malcolm Denison. Mrs. Harold Wright gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. J. A. Knox, assisted by Mrs. Hutchinson, gave an inspiring devotional, concerning the parables of Jesus as recorded in the Gospel of Mark. Mrs. Iri Smith, hostess, served refreshments during the social hour. Those present, not already mentioned were Mrs. Mmes. Aubrey Jones, Lillie Mae Fowler, J. M. Turner, and Sherman White.

STUDENT-OF-THE-MONTH

—Helene Madeira School of Dancing has named Miss Donna Marie McDaniel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. McDaniel, Northern Natural Camp, as Student-of-the-Month. Donna Marie is five years old and is in her second year of ballet, tap and character dancing. She was presented in a Hawaiian solo dance in her first year recital and will lead her class in the Spring recital number, "My Little Grass Shack in Kealahua." (News Photo)

RUTH MILLETT

The mother of four boys told me that when her oldest boy entered junior high school she told him: "From now on, when you want advice on any important question or want permission to do something you've never done before, you are to go to your father. My guidance and advice were fine when you were a little boy. But from now on, your best advice will come from your father — simply because he is a man and can see things from a man's viewpoint. When you come to me for advice now, you are getting second best, because though I know how I feel, I can't possibly know how a man feels. "First-rate advice you can get only from your dad." She confessed it took her a while to get her son to start going to his father with his troubles and problems and questions and demands, but she finally made her point. And, she says, she intends to do the same thing with her other boys. I have an idea that if more women took this attitude toward their husbands and their sons, they would have less trouble with their teen-age boys. Instead, a lot of women want their children always to believe that Mother Knows Best. And many of them enter into conspiracies with their children to keep something from Dad — if there is any chance he might be disapproving. These mothers are also "fixers." "Go ahead and I'll fix it up with your father," they say, as they deliberately encourage a child to do something his father doesn't want him to do. There is only one person who can make father the head of the household. And that's a mother who refuses to usurp his place, who refuses to usurp his place.

Mike Palmer To Play In Festival

Ten of the 100 fingers flying over 352 piano keys in the Kaleidoscope Fine Arts Festival at Frank Phillips College in Borger belong to Mike Palmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Palmer, 217 N. Russell. Opening tonight at 8 p.m. in the north wing of the college, the festival will continue Saturday night at 8 p.m. and conclude Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m.; each concert has a varied repertoire. The public is cordially invited to attend the concerts and the Kaleidoscope art gallery free of charge; the gallery opens one hour before performance time. Mike is a member of the Kaleidoscope piano ensemble directed by Hurshele Journey-McCarthy, Frank Phillips College piano instructor and producer of Kaleidoscope. Mike, a pupil of Mrs. McCarty this year, was the first president of the Petites Pianistes de Pampa, Junior federated music club organized by Mrs. McCarty in September. He is also active in the Pampa Junior High Band as tympanist. Other activities include singing in the MYF choir at the First Methodist Church, and boy scout membership in Post 80, seamaniship crew. In addition to the piano ensemble, the concerts will also feature a chorus of students from Frank Phillips College, WTSC, Phillips and Borger High Schools, directed by Mrs. McCarty. The ballet is choreographed by Newcomb Rice and accompanied by the piano ensemble.

Many Unitarians Now Say Flatly They Aren't Christians

By LOUIS CASSELS, United Press Staff Correspondent. Ever since the first Unitarian churches were established in America in the early part of the 19th Century, outsiders have been asking: "Are Unitarians Christians?" In the past few years, the question has become a burning issue among Unitarians themselves.

John Adams, John Quincy Adams, Millard Fillmore and William Howard Taft—were Unitarians. Among the well-known Unitarians living today are Adlai E. Stevenson, Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass.), architect Frank Lloyd Wright, Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.), Chester Bowles, Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks, astronomer Harlow Shapley, and Dr. James H. Killian Jr., scientific adviser to President Eisenhower.

Individual freedom of belief is the basic principle of Unitarianism. The church has no creed, no dogmas, no definitions of faith that members are expected to accept. Each member is urged to "seek the truth for himself" and to believe only what he personally finds reasonable and persuasive.

Rev. Adcock's Topics For Sunday Set. "Eternal Life Begins Here" will be the sermon topic discussed by Rev. Woodrow Adcock at 8:30 a.m. Sunday. The special music for the 8:30 a.m. service will be the anthem "In Joseph's Lovely Garden," a Spanish carol sung by the Carol and Wesley Choirs.

Christian Science Services

How spiritual understanding of God's law of harmony brings healing and redemption will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday. Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the Golden Text from Jeremiah (17:14): "Heal me, O Lord, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved; for thou art my praise."

Spring Clothes Sometimes Reveal Our Winter Bulges

By GAY PAULEY, United Press Women's Editor NEW YORK (UP)—One trouble with new spring clothes, they display the fact that some of us wintered too well. Those bulges which dark winter clothes mercifully concealed, become painfully revealed. Oh, we've had plenty of warning, if we bothered to check the bathroom scales once a week. But there are dozens of other signs, more subtle, for instance.

FAITH IN THE POWER OF GOD

"And I, brethren, when I came to you, came not with excellency of speech or of wisdom, declaring unto you the testimony of God. For I determined not to know anything among you, save Jesus Christ, and Him Crucified. And I was with you in weakness, and in fear, and in much trembling. And my speech and my preaching was not with enticing words of man's wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power: That your faith should not stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God." I Corinthians 2:1-5.

As we read the above scriptures, we find the Gospel is not in-word only, but in demonstration of the spirit and of power. There are many, many preachers in the world today who are preachers of words only. There are expensive words and economical words, eloquent words and unpleasant words; hard words, soft words, clever words, foolish words, humorous words, sad words, witty words and dry words. Shall we give unto lost humanity the Gospel of Deliverance in power, or just in empty words?

Let us review some of the ministry of Jesus Christ. To the sinner, He said, "Neither do I condemn thee, go and sin no more." To the sick, He said, "Take up thy bed and walk." To the raging elements, He said, "Peace, be still." To the diseased, He said, "Be thou clean." Surely the plan has already been placed before us, for Jesus has said, "Verily, verily I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go to my Father."

While the lost stand by saying, "Sirs, we would see Jesus," what do we offer them? The only way they shall see Him in this present world, is through the lives of His servants. "Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on an hill cannot be hid." Matthew 5:14.

We, as Christians, must better learn to depend and rely more fully in the Divine Power of God's Word, and not so much in the wisdom of man.

Harvesters Meet Bulldogs Today

Game Marks 3-4A Opener

The Pampa Harvesters and the Plainview Bulldogs will clash today in a District 3-4A baseball game at Plainview starting at 4 p.m.

After having been rained out of their scheduled meeting with the Amarillo Sandies the Harvesters will be trying for their first conference win of the season. The Harvesters have compiled a 6-2 record in "warm up games" taking Mangum, Okla., 6-4; Childress, 5-4; Borger, 6-2; Frank Phillips, 9-8; and Elk City, Okla., 12-3 and 7-8. Their two losses came at the hands of Childress, 7-4, and Borger, 12-7.

Kippy Williams, who was slated to hurl the opener for Pampa against the Sandies, will start on the mound against the Bulldogs. Williams is a sophomore on the Harvesters staff and has recorded three victories to his credit this season and has been charged with no losses.

Probable starters in the infield for Pampa will be Mike Conway, C; Ray Stephenson, 1B; Merle Terrell, 2B; Robert Langford, 3B; and Bill Brown, SS.

Outfield starters will probably be Larry Cruise, Bobby Stephens and Dwayne Glover.

Probable batting order for Pampa will be:
1B Ray Stephenson
2B Merle Terrell
3B Robert Langford
SS Bill Brown
CF Bobby Stephens
RF Dwayne Glover
LF Larry Cruise
P Kippy Williams

Jim Myers Praises Dudley

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UP)—Texas A&M football Coach Jim Myers has named three backs as being outstanding during the first week of spring training.

He praised fullback Gordon Leboeuf of Port Neches, a sophomore letterman; tailback Ed Dudley, Pampa, 1956 letterman who did not play last fall, and Bill Cauthorn, who played and last fall but is now a blocking back.

He said Leboeuf and Dudley were impressive on offense while Cauthorn looked good on defense from his linebacking slot.

The squad will rest today and resume drills Saturday.

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UP)—Former world heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles, who is planning a comeback, was pronounced "fit and in excellent shape" today by Dr. Giles Decourcy. Charles, who scaled 194 pounds, is expected to make his first start against Buddy Thurman at Houston, Tex., on April 29.

Harvesters Will Represent 3-4A In Regional Golf Meet

The Pampa Harvester golfers will represent, along with Borger, District 3-AAAA in the regional golf tournament at Lubbock April 18-19, due to the disqualification of the Amarillo B-team which finished second in the district tournament Friday at Borger. The Amarillo team was disqualified by a vote of the district executive committee in a meeting in Canyon yesterday.

The meeting was called by Charles Mathews superintendent of schools at Plainview and chairman of the executive committee. Mathews called the meeting after he received a protest from Pampa against Amarillo-B and another from Amarillo against Pampa.

Pampa protested that Amarillo coach Charles Douglas made an illegal substitution after the district tournament was in progress. Amarillo protested that a Pampa player Bill Ellis, signed an incorrect card and later changed it after it had been turned into the scoring committee.

The meeting, presided over by Mathews, began after Article 12 of the Interscholastic League rule book, which deals with protests was read by Edd Todd, High School principal at Plainview, who acted as secretary. A discussion arose at that time when Todd read a section that stated a protest must be made in written form within 24 hours after the event. Amarillo verified that it had lodged its protest within the prescribed time and Pampa said it had telephoned its protest in time but did not send its written complaint until more than the allotted 24 hours had elapsed.

The members decided to pass up the issue at the time and deal with the protests.

Garlington Back As Trapshooter

By RICHARD GLASS United Press Sports Writer ATLANTA (UP)—Four years ago Ed Garlington's love for shooting almost resulted in his blindness.

Today, with a new pair of glasses, a new tick powder for his dogs, and a growing set of calluses on his hand, shoulder and hip, he is ready to resume his fortunes as a tournament trapshooter.

In the 1949 North American clay target championships at the shooting center of Vandalia, Ohio, Garlington broke 347 straight clay pigeons to move into a four-way tie for first place and come out second best in the shootoff.

Eyesight Gets Worse

The winner of some two-score state-titles in his Dixie stamping grounds, Garlington dropped out of competition in 1954 because his eyesight was getting progressively worse. But he continued to hunt quail and to train his dogs.

The tick powder he used then was a powerful one, and it dusted his eyes. In time he developed "hundreds of little ulcers on the membrane." Almost blinded, he underwent months of injections and medication before the condition was cured. With a new addition to his collection of glasses—he travels with 13 pair for various uses—he felt up to shooting again.

In February Garlington went to Sarasota, Fla., for his first competitive shooting in five years and won with 91 of 100 birds in doubles. In the event, the shooter must break two pigeons which fly from the trap at the same time at different angles. Feeling confident, he set his sights for Vandalia again.

"But I won't be tournament-tough," he said, "until my hands are hard for the gun, and I've got a good callus on my shoulder for the butt, and one on my upper right lip from sighting. But I'm progressing, and the eyes are the main thing."

Many Delays

"The bird leaves the trap at around 50 or 60 miles an hour. There's delay while the eye tells the brain, and the brain tells your pointing hand and your trigger finger. There's a time lag in the trigger, one in the spring, one in the ignition and another in the time it takes the charge to catch the bird."

"Your lead has to compensate

Simmons Has Another Top Game

MONTREAL (UP)—Goalie Don Simmons, a disappointment in the Stanley Cup final a year ago, today was the toast of the Boston Bruins camp for his second straight "sensational" game against the Montreal Canadiens.

The 26-year-old left-handed net-minder turned back 31 shots, many of which appeared to be sure goals, as the Bruins upset the Canadiens, 5-2, Thursday night to square the best-of-seven finals at a game apiece. The series now moves to Boston where the third and fourth games will be played April 13 and 15.

Simmons has been the biggest surprise of the series so far. Tuesday night he was also outstanding, stopping all but two of the 44 shots he faced.

for all these things. In the meantime the bird is heading away from you and your shot is spreading out. If you're late in getting the shot there, the pater will be so wide it might not touch the bird."

Garlington has hunted since he was a boy on a 1,300-acre farm near Cedar town, Ga.

Mays, Banks Again On Top At Close Of Spring Drills

By TIM MORIARTY United Press Sports Writer

Ernie Banks and Willie Mays, two of the National League's finest hitters, were in a fence-busting mood today as they approached the final weekend of the spring training grid.

Banks virtually wrapped up the pre-season home run clouting title Thursday as he unloaded his 15th — tops for both leagues—in sparring the Chicago Cubs to a 7-3 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Mays hit two homers—his seventh and eighth of the spring—but also contributed a wild throw in the 10th inning that enabled the Cleveland Indians to down the San Francisco Giants, 15-14.

Banks doubled home two runs in the top of the 10th to give the Giants a 14-12 lead, but the Tribe tied the score in the bottom of the same inning on a two-run double by J. W. Porter. Then Gary Geiger scampared home with the winning run when Mays grabbed Russ Nixon's pop fly in short center and threw all the way to the backstop.

In Thursday's only other exhibition, the St. Louis Cardinals edged the Chicago White Sox, 8-7, scoring their winning run in the ninth on a wild pitch by rookie pitcher Bill Dufour, and the Pittsburgh Pirates whipped Mexico City, 10-2, as Bob Friend pitched a two-hit shutout over the first six innings.

Five games were washed out.

Manager Casey Stengel of the Yankees chose Don Larsen over Whitey Ford as his opening day pitcher against the Red Sox. Mike Higgins already has designated Frank Sullivan as Boston's pitcher against the Senators in the Presidential opener at Washington next Monday, while Willard Nixon will face Larsen the following day.

On other fronts, the Baltimore Orioles placed veteran pitcher Art Houtteman on the waiver list, and the Senators recalled infielder Oswald Alvarez from their Charlottetown farm team.

Bowling Score

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UP)—Falstaff Beer of St. Louis bowled an effort only 14 points shy of the all-time congress record Thursday night to take the lead in the Open Division of the American Bowling Congress championships.

The Falstaffs hit games of 1060, 1034 and 1116 to come close to the ABC record of 3224 rolled in 1938 by Burke Bros. Brewing in Chicago.

Shamrock To Host 3-AA Golf Meet

The District 3-AA Golf Tournament will be in Shamrock this week end. Play will get under way on Friday, April 11, 1958. Participating will be teams from Childress, Quannah and Shamrock. Supt. Kenneth M. Laycock will serve as tournament director. The tournament will be played on the Shamrock Country Club Golf Course. Playing on the Shamrock team is Donnie Dodgen, John Shackleford, Tommy Ryan and Jimmy Holmes, Charles Brothers, Billy Jack Gibson, Johnnie Sanders and Royce Hendrick. The team recently placed third in the Amarillo Relays in spite of a heavy wind.

Boardman Vs. Busso Tonight

BOSTON (UP)—Lightweight Larry Boardman of Marlboro, Conn., will be out for revenge tonight when he meets Johnny Busso of New York in a nationally televised 10-round return bout at Mechanics Building.

Boardman, a 22-year-old bomber with some experience under TV lights, will be trying to even the score against fellow-featherweight Busso who won a lopsided, unanimous decision in their first meeting last June 28.

While Busso has been in the Army and makes his first post-service outing tonight, Boardman has been giving boxing another try in an impressive sort of way. Last month, he flattened Kid Centella in five rounds at Miami. So effective was the bombardment that it took 15 minutes to revive Centella who had previously dropped a split decision to lightweight champion Joe Brown.

Winter Olympics May Be Ended

LUSANNEN, Switzerland (UP)—Because the amateur standing of many skiers, figure skaters, and hockey players is "subject to question," the International Olympic Committee is considering ending the winter Olympics after the 1970 games at Squaw Valley, Calif.

Otto Mayer of Switzerland, chancellor of the IOC, made that disclosure Thursday in discussing the case of Austrian Olympic ski champion Toni Sailer who faces an amateurism investigation.

"We are heading towards the end of the winter Olympics," said Mayer. "If the structure of skiing is not profoundly modified, the 1960 winter games in Squaw Valley may well be the last in the history of modern Olympics."

Marshall Leads Way For Bears

HERSHEY, Pa. (UP)—Willie Marshall, the guiding force behind Hershey's sweep to the American Hockey League pennant this year, is still leading the way in the Bears' quest for the Calder Cup championship.

The league's leading scorer tallied twice Thursday night as the Bears edged Springfield, 3-2, to take the first game in the best-of-seven final playoffs. The third and decisive Hershey goal was scored by Ed Stankiewicz.

The second game of the series will also be played in Hershey on Saturday, with the scene shifting to Springfield for the third and fourth games.

WASHINGTON (UP)—Tackle Don Giantz of Nebraska and end-tackle Jackson Brumfield of Mississippi Southern have returned signed 1958 contracts to the Washington Redskins. Giantz was the Skin's fifth draft choice in 1955, while Brumfield signed on as a free agent.

Billy Brown To Testify

NEW YORK (UP)—Billy Brown, matchmaker for the International Boxing Club, has had his fifth appearance before the New York County grand jury investigating crime and bribery postponed until Monday.

Brown was on the stand for an hour-and-a-half Thursday, making a total of nearly six hours that he so far has been under questioning.

Brown is one of about a dozen boxing figures who have been summoned in connection with District Attorney Frank Hogan's investigation of the ring sport.

When Distance Is Always Tempting!

Take a new Cadillac—point its hood toward some distant destination—and watch what happens!

We would be willing to wager that day's end would find you far closer to journey's end than you could ever have imagined!

We say this because we know how wonderful the miles are when they pass beneath the wheels of a new Cadillac—and how tempting distance is when seen through the windshield of the "car of cars".

First of all, imagine how comfortable and rested you would be! The seat-cushions are soft and deep and perfectly contoured. The steering wheel is ideally positioned... and the car is wonderfully spacious.

Then consider how easy the car is to handle! It is incredibly agile and responsive—and wonderfully smooth and level of ride. In fact, if you have selected the extra-cost option of Cadillac's air suspension, you can scarcely detect the presence of the road.

And think of your pride and contentment! The very knowledge that your motor car is so highly admired and so widely respected adds its own reward to each and every mile.

You ought to try it soon. Your dealer will be happy to explain the virtues of Fleetwood coachcrafting—and to give you the facts on every model, including the exclusive Eldorado Brougham.

Milton Weiss Branches Out Into Insurance For Cats Now

By DOC QUIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP) — Milton Weiss, who formed the world's first concern devoted exclusively to life insurance policies for pedigreed pooches, now is branching out into pedigreed pussycats.

If you want to get your cat's life insured, up to $13,000, you have to send in its noseprint, have the cat inoculated for feline distemper, and prove its pedigree and value. And Weiss doesn't mind telling you it's going to take a heap of proving to get him to set any cat's value at $13,000.

He established that figure because it was already in effect as the maximum in his dog insurance policies. He has issued several thousand dog policies since his Animal Insurance Company of America started business last Aug. 1.

The Nose Knows
He accepts mail applications from anywhere in the continental United States and Canada. With the application form, he supplies a noseprint ribbon which he has developed himself — non-toxic, using a mineral dye that is deep blue-black, good for three or four prints. You press it against the tiny nose, then press the paper against the nose, and you get a print which he says is a positive identification.

Weiss says Jimmy Durante's old aphorism "The nose knows" applies with high certainty to dogs and cats. When the animal dies, the veterinarian puts its noseprint on the death certificate, under the Weiss plan.

"I've never taken a cat noseprint myself," he says, "but they come out very clear. Cats don't seem to shy away from the paper as dogs do. We get some smeared dog's noses."

Good Accelerators
Weiss doesn't believe cats are as accident-prone as dogs. For one thing, they can accelerate fast, in front of a car. And another, you don't see many pedigreed cats meandering around outside—that's a recreation enjoyed almost exclusively by alley cats. The premium rate for dogs and cats is eight per cent annually. He believes the average age for both is about 12 years, although there are records of some that have lived 24. He believes a dog can die of loneliness but doesn't think a cat would.

These pets should be happy to be insured. How else could they get to see their noses in print?

There are 29 state parks and seven state forests in the state of Wisconsin.

Great Plains Country Bracing For '58 Round Of Tornadoes

A UNITED PRESS EXTRA
By HALE MONTGOMERY
United Press Staff Correspondent
TOPEKA, Kan. (UP) — The Great Plains country is getting set for another spring of the killer tornado. It is the most violent storm known to man, with winds at times exceeding 500 miles per hour.

May and June are the prime months for tornadoes, with April not far behind. Kansas is known as "tornado alley" because it ranks No. 1 among the states in number of twisters, although its death toll has been relatively low because of its widely dispersed population.

Sixty-four twisters whooshed through Kansas last year, causing 2½ million dollars damages and seven deaths. The big killer last year came on May 20, ripping a path through extreme eastern Kansas and then bulldozing into suburban Kansas City, Mo., leaving 40 dead.

May 20, incidentally, is a day with tragic memories. The residents of Cordell, Kan., didn't venture out for years on that day. The town was hit in three successive years—1916, 1917 and 1918—on May 20.

History's worst tornado, slammed into the tri-state area of Missouri, Illinois and Indiana in 1925. It came with the sound of a million hornets and left 689 persons dead, scores of others maimed.

The springtime twisters often play ghoulish tricks. They have blown hay straws through oak planks, left baby carriages atop church steeples. A storm at Udall, Kan., three years ago killed 82 persons. The funnel snatched up one man and hurled him to his death, leaving his shoes behind, neatly tied, where he had stood. There is no foolproof method to predict when or where a tornado will strike and no guaranteed safety in the midst of one. They have a relatively narrow path as contrasted with hurricane winds which have scoured an area as wide as 200 miles at one time.

City dwellers are the most helpless in the tornado, open country actually being the best protection insofar as avoiding being hit by flying objects or trapped in buildings.

Gay Pauley's 'Around Manhattan'

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UP) — Around Manhattan.

A segment of the frozen foods industry next week will give a look at the latest in gastronomic labor-savers.

About 30 companies, members of the Eastern Frozen Foods Assn., will display everything from soup to, well, to deserts.

Frank J. Cogan, spokesman for Effa, said new products will include "about 90 hors d'oeuvres, several entrees packed in plastic pouches and ready to heat in boiling water, and even a warm-and-serve coconut custard pie."

Three-Way Mix
"There's a new hot turkey sandwich, a new cream pumpkin pie, a lot of new fruit juice combination. One company's mixed up three — orange, pineapple and grapefruit," said Cogan.

"New appetizers include a combination buckwheat and potato tid-bit. And seems like everybody's freezing pizzas."

Cogan said the association was opening its convention on a cheerful business note.

"Most of the companies report sales up, some say as much as 20 per cent from last year," he said. "The specialty foods are doing exceedingly well."

Anatomy Of The Menu
Another mouth-waterer (?) note comes from the Mystery Writers of America, Inc., which will hold its annual awards dinner April 26 in Manhattan. The "Anatomy of the Menu" came across my desk this week.

It includes fresh fruit crop, Sicilian olives mafia, Maximed celery (with silencer), clammed-up chowder, roast stuffed chicken macabre, drawn and quartered, steak frisked and grilled, stout sweet potatoes a la rex, delinquent young peas, paris green salad with hard-bolled dressing, ice cold finger-ladies, with raven frosting, and caffeine sulphate to finish off the meal.

Most pores of the body are concentrated on the palms of the hands, soles of the feet and the scalp.

Congress, in Article 1, Section 8, of the Constitution, is given the authority to coin money.

Wilmer B. Hunt Files For Post

AUSTIN (UP) — District Judge Wilmer B. Hunt of Houston has filed as a candidate for associate justice of the Texas Supreme Court.

Hunt, judge of the 133rd District court, is a candidate for the post now held by Justice W. St. John Garwood, who has announced he will not seek re-election.

Hunt, judge of the 133rd District at Houston in 1947 and has been re-elected without opposition since then.

He paid his $400 filing fee Wednesday at State Democratic Executive Committee headquarters for a place on the July Democratic primary election ballot.

Tornado weather is usually sticky, sultry, and oppressive and winds are generally southerly. Clouds appear to bulge down instead of up. Although the rotary

Harvesters Meet Bulldogs Today

Game Marks 3-4A Opener

The Pampa Harvesters and the Plainview Bulldogs will clash today in a District 3-4A baseball game at Plainview starting at 4 p.m.

After having been rained out of their scheduled meeting with the Amarillo Sandies the Harvesters will be trying for their first conference win of the season. The Harvesters have compiled a 6-2 record in "warm up games" taking Mangum, Okla., 6-4; Childress, 9-8; Borger, 6-2; Frank Phillips, 9-8; and Elk City, Okla., 12-3 and 7-8. Their two losses came at the hands of Childress, 7-4, and Borger, 12-7.

Kippy Williams, who was slated to hurl the opener for Pampa against the Sandies, will start on the mound against the Bulldogs. Williams is a sophomore on the Harvesters staff and has recorded three victories to his credit this season and has been charged with no losses.

Probable starters in the infield for Pampa will be Mike Conway, C; Ray Stephenson, 1B; Merle Terrell, 2B; Robert Langford, 3B; and Bill Brown, SS.

Outfield starters will probably be Larry Cruise, Bobby Stephens and Dwayne Glover.

Probable batting order for Pampa will be:

Bill Brown	SS
Ray Stephenson	1B
Larry Cruise	LF
Robert Langford	3B
Mike Conway	C
Bobby Stephens	CF
Dwayne Glover	RF
Merle Terrell	2B
Kippy Williams	P

Jim Myers Praises Dudley

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UP)—Texas A&M football Coach Jim Myers has named three backs as being outstanding during the first week of spring training.

He praised fullback Gordon Leboeuf of Port Neches, a sophomore letterman; tailback Ed Dudley, Pampa, 1956 letterman who did not play last fall, and Bill Cauthorn, who played end last fall but is now a blocking back.

He said Leboeuf and Dudley were impressive on offense while Cauthorn looked good on defense from his linebacking slot.

The squad will rest today and resume drills Saturday.

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UP)—Former world heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles, who is planning a comeback, was pronounced "fit and in excellent shape" today by Dr. Giles Decourcy, Charles, who scaled 194 pounds, is expected to make his first start against Buddy Thurman at Houston, Tex., on April 29.

Harvesters Will Represent 3-4A In Regional Golf Meet

The Pampa Harvester golfers will represent, along with Borger, District 3-4AAA in the regional golf tournament at Lubbock April 18-19, due to the disqualification of the Amarillo B-team which finished second in the district tournament Friday at Borger. The Amarillo team was disqualified by a vote of the district executive committee in a meeting in Canyon yesterday.

The meeting was called by Charles Mathews superintendent of schools at Plainview and chairman of the executive committee. Mathews called the meeting after he received a protest from Pampa against Amarillo-B and another from Amarillo against Pampa.

Pampa protested that Amarillo coach Charles Douglas made an illegal substitution after the district tournament was in progress. Amarillo protested that a Pampa player Bill Ellis, signed an incorrect card and later changed it after it had been turned into the scoring committee.

He changed it because the addition in the scoring was wrong, (the score was not changed on any particular hole), therefore the total was wrong.

The Pampa protest against Amarillo-B was upheld by a 3-1 vote and the Amarillo protest against Pampa was voted down by the same 3-1 margin.

The meeting, presided over by Mathews, began after Article 12 of the Interscholastic League rule book, which deals with protests was read by Edd Todd, High School principal at Plainview, who acted as secretary. A discussion arose at that time when Todd read a section that stated a protest must be made in written form within 24 hours after the event. Amarillo verified that it had lodged its protest within the prescribed time and Pampa said it had telephoned its protest in time but did not send its written complaint until more than the allotted 24 hours had elapsed.

The members decided to pass up the issue at the time and deal with the protests.

Garlington Back As Trapshooter

By RICHARD GLASS
United Press Sports Writer

ATLANTA (UP)—Four years ago Ed Garlington's love for shooting almost resulted in his blindness.

Today, with a new pair of glasses, a new tick powder for his dogs, and a growing set of calluses on his hand, shoulder and lip, he is ready to resume his fortunes as a tournament trapshooter.

In the 1949 North American clay target championships at the shooting center of Vandalia, Ohio, Garlington broke 347 straight clay pigeons to move into a four-way tie for first place and come out second best in the shootout.

Eyeball Gets Worse

The winner of some two-score state titles in his Dixie stamping grounds, Garlington dropped out of competition in 1954 because his eyesight was getting progressively worse. But he continued to hunt quail and to train his dogs.

The tick powder he used then was a powerful one, and it dusted his eyes. In time he developed "hundreds of little ulcers on the membrane." Almost blinded, he underwent months of injections and medication before the condition was cured. With a new addition to his collection of glasses—he travels with 13 pair for various uses—he felt up to shooting again.

In February Garlington went to Sarasota, Fla., for his first competitive shooting in five years and won with 91 of 100 birds in double.

But I won't be tournament-tough," he said, "until my hands are hard for the gun, and I've got a good callus on my shoulder for the butt, and one on my upper right lip from sighting. But I'm progressing, and the eyes are the main thing."

Many Delays

"The bird leaves the trap at around 50 or 60 miles an hour. There's a delay while the eye tells the brain, and the brain tells your pointing hand and your trigger finger. There's a time lag in the trigger, one in the spring, one in the ignition and another in the time it takes the charge to catch the bird."

"Your lead has to compensate

Simmons Has Another Top Game

MONTREAL (UP)—Goalie Don Simmons, a disappointment in the Stanley Cup finals a year ago, today was the toast of the Boston Bruins camp for his second straight "sensational" game against the Montreal Canadiens.

The 26-year-old lefthanded net-minder turned back 31 shots, many of which appeared to be sure goals, as the Bruins upset the Canadiens, 5-2, Thursday night to square the best-of-seven finals at a game apiece. The series now moves to Boston where the third and fourth games will be played April 13 and 15.

Simmons has been the biggest surprise of the series so far. Tuesday night he was also outstanding, stopping all but two of the 44 shots he faced.

For all these things, in the meantime the bird is heading away from you and your shot is spreading out. If you're late in getting the shot there, the patter will be so wide it might not touch the bird."

Garlington has hunted since he was a boy on a 1,300-acre farm near Cedartown, Ga.

Mays, Banks Again On Top At Close Of Spring Drills

By TIM MORIARTY
United Press Sports Writer

Ernie Banks and Willie Mays, two of the National League's finest hitters, were in a fence-busting mood today as they approached the final weekend of the spring training grind.

Banks virtually wrapped up the pre-season home run clouting title Thursday as he unloaded his 15th—tops for both leagues—in sparring the Chicago Cubs to a 7-3 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Mays hit two homers—his seventh and eighth of the spring—but also contributed a wild throw in the 10th inning that enabled the Cleveland Indians to down the San Francisco Giants, 15-14.

Mays doubled home two runs in the top of the 10th to give the Yankees a 14-12 lead, but the Tribe tied the score in the bottom of the same inning on a two-run double by J. W. Porter. Then Gary Geiger scampered home with the winning run when Mays grabbed Russ Nixon's pop fly in short center and threw all the way to the backstop.

In Thursday's only other exhibition, the St. Louis Cardinals edged the Chicago White Sox, 8-7, storing their winning run in the ninth on a wild pitch by rookie pitcher Bill Dutoir, and the Pittsburgh Pirates whipped Mexico City, 10-2, as Bob Friend pitched a two-hit shutout over the first six innings.

Five games were washed out.

Manager Casey Stengel of the Yankees chose Don Larsen over Whitey Ford as his opening day pitcher against the Red Sox. Mike Higgins already has designated Frank Sullivan as Boston's pitcher against the Senators in the Presidential opener at Washington next Monday, while Willard Nixon will face Larsen the following day.

On other fronts, the Baltimore Orioles placed veteran pitcher Art Houtteman on the waiver list, and the Senators recalled infielder Oswaldo Alvarez from their Charlotte farm team.

Cincinnati Redlegs outfielder Frank Robinson, hit on the head by a pitched ball in an exhibition game Wednesday, was scheduled to walk out of Christ Hospital today.

Bowling Score

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UP)—Falstaff Beer of St. Louis bowled an effort only 14 points shy of the all-time congress record Thursday night to take the lead in the Open Division of the American Bowling Congress championships.

The Falstaffs hit games of 1060, 1034 and 1116 to come close to the ABC record of 3224 rolled in 1938 by Burke Bros. Brewing in Chicago.

Shamrock To Host 3-AA Golf Meet

The District 3-AA Golf Tournament will be in Shamrock this week end. Play will get under way on Friday, April 11, 1958. Participating will be teams from Childress, Quannah and Shamrock. Supt. Kenneth M. Laycock will serve as tournament director. The tournament will be played on the Shamrock Country Club Golf Course. Playing on the Shamrock team is Donnie Dodgen, John Shackelford, Tommy Ryan and Jimmy Holmes, Charles Brothers, Billy Jack Gibson, Johnnie Sand, Drysdale, Labine (7), Kipp (8) and Roseboro, Walker (8). Hobbie and Tappe, S. Taylor (7). Loefer—Labine. HRs—Roseboro, Banks.

Boardman Vs. Busso Tonight

BOSTON (UP)—Lightweight Larry Boardman of Marlboro, Conn., will be out for revenge tonight when he meets Johnny Busso of New York in a nationally televised 10-round return bout at Mechanics Building.

Boardman, a 22-year-old bomber with some experience under TV lights, will be trying to even the score against fellow-featherweight Busso who won a lopsided, unanimous decision in their first meeting last June 28.

While Busso has been in the Army and makes his first post-service outing tonight, Boardman has been giving boxing another try in an impressive sort of way.

Last month, he flattened Kid Centella in five rounds at Miami. So effective was the bombardment that it took 15 minutes to revive Centella who had previously dropped a split decision to lightweight champion Joe Brown.

WASHINGTON (UP)—Tackle Don Glantz of Nebraska and end-tackle Jackson Brumfield of Mississippi Southern have returned signed 1958 contracts to the Washington Redskins. Glantz was the Skin's fifth draft choice in 1955, while Brumfield signed on as a free agent.

Winter Olympics May Be Ended

LUSANNEN, Switzerland (UP)—Because the amateur standing of many skiers, figure skaters, and hockey players is "subject to question," the International Olympic Committee is considering ending the winter Olympics after the 1970 games at Squaw Valley, Calif.

Otto Mayer of Switzerland, chancellor of the IOC, made that disclosure Thursday in discussing the case of Austrian Olympic ski champion Toni Sailer who faces an amateurism investigation.

"We are heading towards the end of the winter Olympics," said Mayer. "If the structure of skiing is not profoundly modified, the 1960 winter games in Squaw Valley may well be the last in the history of modern Olympics."

Marshall Leads Way For Bears

HERSHEY, Pa. (UP)—Willie Marshall, the guiding force behind Hershey's sweep to the American Hockey League pennant this year, is still leading the way in the Bears' quest for the Calder Cup championship.

The league's leading scorer tallied twice Thursday night as the Bears edged Springfield, 3-2, to take the first game in the best-of-seven final playoffs. The third and decisive Hershey goal was scored by Ed Stankiewicz.

The second game of the series will also be played in Hershey on Saturday, with the scene shifting to Springfield for the third and fourth games.

WASHINGTON (UP)—Tackle Don Glantz of Nebraska and end-tackle Jackson Brumfield of Mississippi Southern have returned signed 1958 contracts to the Washington Redskins. Glantz was the Skin's fifth draft choice in 1955, while Brumfield signed on as a free agent.

Billy Brown To Testify

NEW YORK (UP)—Billy Brown, matchmaker for the International Boxing Club, has had his fifth appearance before the New York County grand jury investigating crime and bribery postponed until Monday.

Brown was on the stand for an hour-and-a-half Thursday, making a total of nearly six hours that he so far has been under questioning.

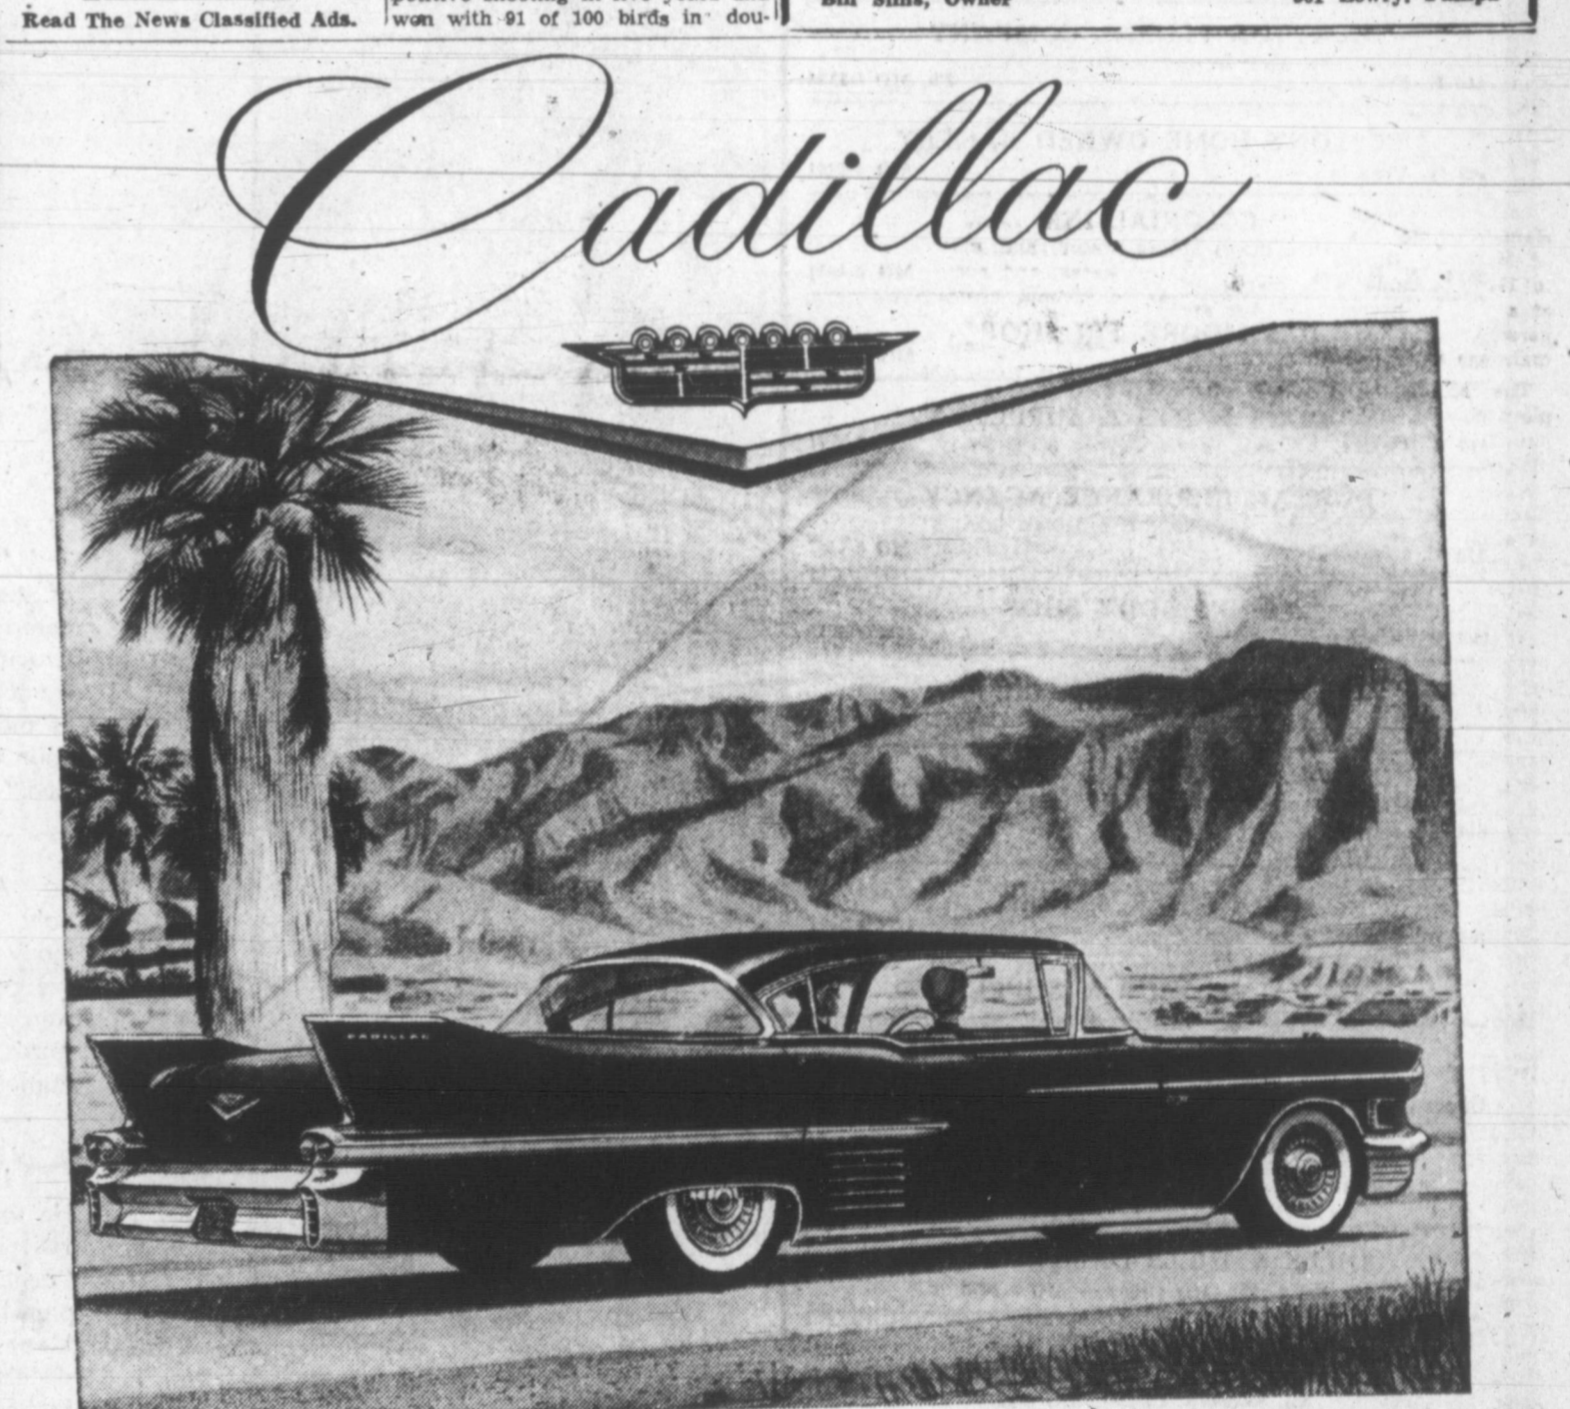

Brown is one of about a dozen boxing figures who have been summoned in connection with District Attorney Frank Hogan's investigation of the ring sport.

When Distance Is Always Tempting!

Take a new Cadillac—point its hood toward some distant destination—and watch what happens!

We would be willing to wager that day's end would find you far closer to journey's end than you could ever have imagined!

We say this because we know how wonderful the miles are when they pass beneath the wheels of a new Cadillac—and how tempting distance is when seen through the windshield of the "car of cars".

First of all, imagine how comfortable and rested you would be! The seat-cushions are soft and deep and perfectly contoured. The steering wheel is ideally positioned . . . and the car is wonderfully spacious.

Then consider how easy the car is to handle! It is incredibly agile and responsive—and wonderfully smooth and level of ride. In fact, if you have selected the extra-cost option of Cadillac's air suspension, you can scarcely detect the presence of the road.

And think of your pride and contentment! The very knowledge that your motor car is so highly admired and so widely respected adds its own reward to each and every mile.

You ought to try it soon. Your dealer will be happy to explain the virtues of Fleetwood coachcrafting—and to give you the facts on every model, including the exclusive Eldorado Brougham.

Milton Weiss Branches Out Into Insurance For Cats Now

By DOC QUINN
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP) — Milton Weiss, who formed the world's first concern devoted exclusively to life insurance policies for pedigree pooches, now is branching out into pedigree pussycats.

If you want to get your cat's life insured, up to $13,000, you have to send in its noseprint, have the cat inoculated for feline distemper, and prove its pedigree and value. And Weiss doesn't mind telling you it's going to take a heap of proving to get him to set any cat's value at $13,000.

He established that figure because it was already in effect as the maximum in his dog insurance policies. He has issued several thousand dog policies since his Animal Insurance Company of America started business last Aug. 1.

The Nose Knows
He accepts mail applications from anywhere in the continental United States and Canada. With the application form, he supplies a noseprint ribbon which he has developed himself — non-toxic, using a mineral dye that is deep blue-black, good for three or four prints. You press it against the tiny nose, then press the paper against the nose, and you get a print which he says is a positive identification.

Weiss says Jimmy Durante's old aphorism "The nose knows" applies with high certainty to dogs and cats. When the animal dies, the veterinarian puts its noseprint on the death certificate, under the Weiss plan.

"I've never taken a cat noseprint myself," he says, "but they come out very clear. Cats don't seem to shy away from the paper as dogs do. We get some smeared dog's noses."

Good Accelerators
Weiss doesn't believe cats are as accident-prone as dogs. For one thing, they can accelerate fast, in front of a car. And another, you don't see many pedigree cats meandering around outside—that's a recreation enjoyed almost exclusively by alley cats. The premium rate for dogs and cats is eight per cent annually. He believes the average age for both is about 12 years, although there are records of some that have lived 24. He believes a dog can die of loneliness but doesn't think a cat would.

These pets should be happy to be insured. How else could they get to see their noses in print?

Great Plains Country Bracing For '58 Round Of Tornadoes

A UNITED PRESS EXTRA
By HALE MONTGOMERY
United Press Staff Correspondent
TOPEKA, Kan. (UP) — The Great Plains country is getting set for another spring of the killer tornado. It is the most violent storm known to man, with winds at times exceeding 500 miles per hour.

May and June are the prime months for tornadoes, with April not far behind. Kansas is known as "tornado alley" because it ranks No. 1 among the states in number of twisters, although its death toll has been relatively low because of its widely dispersed population.

Sixty-four twisters whoshed through Kansas last year, causing 2 1/2 million dollars damages and seven deaths. The big killer last year came on May 20, ripping a path through extreme eastern Kansas and then bulldozing into suburban Kansas City, Mo., leaving 40 dead.

May 20, incidentally, is a day with tragic memories. The residents of Cordell, Kan., didn't venture out for years on that day. The town was hit in three successive years—1916, 1917 and 1918—on May 20.

History's worst tornado, slammed into the tri-state area of Missouri, Illinois and Indiana in 1925. It came with the sound of a million hornets and left 689 persons dead, scores of others maimed.

The springtime twisters often play ghoulish tricks. They have blown hay straws through oak planks, left baby carriages atop church steeples. A storm at Udell, Kan., three years ago killed 82 persons. The funnel snatched up one man and hurled him to his death, leaving his shoes behind, neatly tied, where he had stood.

There is no foolproof method to predict when or where a tornado will strike and no guaranteed safety in the midst of one. They have a relatively narrow path as contrasted with hurricane winds which have scoured an area as wide as 200 miles at one time.

City dwellers are the most helpless in the tornado, open country actually being the best protection insofar as avoiding being hit by flying objects or trapped in buildings.

Wilmer B. Hunt Files For Post

AUSTIN (UP) — District Judge Wilmer B. Hunt of Houston has filed as a candidate for associate justice of the Texas Supreme Court.

Hunt, judge of the 133rd District court, is a candidate for the post now held by Justice W. St. John Garwood, who has announced he will not seek re-election.

Hunt, judge of the 133rd District at Houston in 1947 and has been re-elected without opposition since then.

He paid his $600 filing fee Wednesday at State Democratic Executive Committee headquarters for a place on the July Democratic primary election ballot.

Tornado weather is usually sticky, sultry, and oppressive and winds are generally southerly. Clouds appear to bulge down instead of up. Although the rotary

Accidents are killing, on the average, about 40 farm residents each day and injuring one farm person every half-minute.

Gay Pauley's 'Around Manhattan'

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UP) — Around Manhattan:

A segment of the frozen foods industry next week will give a look at the latest in gastronomic labor-savers.

About 30 companies, members of the Eastern Frozen Foods Assn., will display everything from soup to, well, to desserts.

Frank J. Cogan, spokesman for Effa, said new products will include "about 50 hors d'oeuvres, several entrees packed in plastic pouches and ready to heat in boiling water, and even a warm-and-serve coconut custard pie."

Three-Way Mix
"There's a new hot turkey sandwich, a new cream pumpkin pie, a lot of new fruit juice combination, one company's mixed up three — orange, pineapple and grapefruit," said Cogan.

"New appetizers include a combination buckwheat and potato tidbit. And seems like everybody's freezing pizzas."

Cogan said the association was opening its convention on a cheerful business note.

"Most of the companies report sales up, some say as much as 20 per cent from last year," he said. "The specialty foods are doing exceedingly well."

Anatomy Of The Menu
Another mouth-water (?) note comes from the Mystery Writers of America, Inc., which will hold its annual awards dinner April 20 in Manhattan. The "Anatomy of the Menu" came across my desk this week.

It includes fresh fruit crop, Sicilian olives mafia, Maximized celery (with silencer), clammed-up chowder, roast stuffed chicken macabre, drawn and quartered, steak frisked and grilled, stout sweet potatoes a la rex, delinquent young peas, Paris green salad with hard-boiled dressing, ice cold finger-ladies, with raven frosting, and caffeine sulphate to finish off the meal.

The Pampa Daily News YOUR FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is not license. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, the Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

A Wise Constitution

(Thirteenth of a Series)

We honor the authors of our Constitution and Bill of Rights. We admire them and pay them homage. More than any other group of men at a particular moment of history, did they comprehend the inherent dangers which inevitably come to the fore when men are clad with the robes of power and the insolence which office holding breeds.

The founders of our government sought to nullify these dangers. They provided what we have called our system of checks and balances which deprive an office holder of supreme and perpetual power.

Yet our founders were humble. They knew they were fallible and, therefore, they wrote up the amendment clause and inserted it in the Constitution. They fondly hoped others coming after them would surpass them in high purpose and in penetrating wisdom. How vain those hopes have been, is now demonstrated.

For, since the days of our government's origin, we have never equalled the character and purpose of those who set pen to paper to forge that basic charter. If there was one oversight of which our founders were guilty, this is it. They had too much faith in man's ability to understand their own motives and principles. They failed to comprehend the extent of the venality and lassitude of politicians and ordinary citizens.

Yet, even here were warnings. Franklin said: "We have given you a Republic, if you can keep it." And Jefferson, even in his first years in office, cried out against the mounting tendency of public and private citizens alike to look to the government to solve all problems.

In the end, the Constitution was overcome. Instead of remaining a system of checks and balances, our government has become unbalanced and predatory. The executive branch of the government is very largely ruling the land by means of bureaus and executive decrees. Congress still passes laws. But the decrees put out by the executive department, including treaties, outnumber congressional laws by more than four to one.

And the Supreme Court, instead of testing the validity of laws against the Constitution, has itself, in large measure, become a law making body, enlarging its own functions and approving virtually every other action which enlarges government.

The policies expressed by the chief executive come into force and power either through Congressional enactment or via the back door route of the bureaus. Yet the bureaus are filled with appointees, none of them elected to office, and hence all of them beyond responsiveness when it comes to following the wishes of the people.

What we have yet to see in these United States is the fact that, in fine, the people will command. For government is always nothing but a tool. It takes human energy to employ any tool, even with automation. Somewhere there must be human minds and human energies directing each operation. And the people will not forever support and use that tool which exploits and misuses them.

So much for the American experiment. It was magnificent. But as a safeguard for human freedom and dignity it has been found wanting. Nor can we turn back to it with confidence that it will yet protect us. A wall once breached is no longer a wall. And with mounting political pressure all about us, the dyke with the hole has become a sieve.

Now we have explored both avenues of remedy taken by people who find their government no longer protecting them as individuals. We have discovered that a change of personnel provides us with no certain guarantee of freedom. And now we learn that even the greatest FORM of government ever devised, has also proved inadequate. The reasons in both cases are similar.

Government is a tool. The nature of the tool is that of a weapon, a gun, a sword, a guillotine. And when people, be they politicians or otherwise, call upon a gun, a sword or a guillotine to protect them from others, the device, willy-nilly, works two ways. It can be used defensively. But it always is used aggressively.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

How Do Corporation Profits Benefit Everyone?

Roger M. Blough, chairman of the board of United States Steel Corp., in his address before the Automotive Parts Manufacturers Assn. at Detroit, shows the efforts being made to improve the lot of mankind by pressure groups and by civil law to reduce profits.

Then he takes the profits of United States Steel and shows how they have been distributed. He relates that in 1957 out of every dollar the customers paid, the firm spent 90 1/2 cents to meet its bills - to pay for the wages, salaries and benefits of employees, to pay for all the materials and services to make the steel, and to meet

Then he relates that it takes 2 cents of this supposed - to-be profit to make up the difference between what the government allows to be charged as depreciation so as to keep the plant in the same condition. That, he relates, left nearly 7 1/2 cents actual profit instead of 9 1/2 cents.

Then he points out they had to pay out $300 million on a loan they had borrowed several years ago; that left them six and eight-tenths cents of profit to distribute.

Then they paid 4 cents of this in dividends. That left two and eight-tenths cents "to grow on," as he calls it.

Then he explains that this money was not salted away in the bank, but every bit of it was spent to develop new sources of iron ore and other raw materials to enlarge and improve research laboratories to build sintering plants and coal washers and other facilities that will help hold down the cost of steel. Then says: "So that's what happened to the profit which United States Steel earned last year. Every penny of it came from people; and every penny of it went back to people. From people to people in one operation!"

Working Profits

"But in the course of its travels, that profit made possible the production of millions of tons of quality steel and other products that the American public wanted, needed, and used. This, it added enormously to the material wealth of the nation as a whole. It was in truth a 'working profit' working for the welfare of everyone.

"Yet the profit - squeezers - demanding more consumer purchasing power - still tell us that we made a profit last year and that we could pay a lot of wages out of that, if we wanted to."

Then he explains that to increase the pay of their own employees they could only do so by withholding it from other consumer people - "for example the workers of another employer who is building a new mill for us - and consumer purchasing power as a whole will not have been increased in the process, by so much as a thin dime's worth!"

He goes ahead in this manner: "And second, if the profit-suckers should succeed in forcing us to use these profits in this way, which part of them would they have us take from which people, and what effect will this have upon the welfare and security of the very employees who are supposed to be the beneficiaries of this process? Can they really afford to subtract from these profits - and if so, where?"

He explains that if they did take the money that goes into replacement and put it in the pay envelopes that eventually there would be no plant and no jobs. He says they couldn't refuse to pay off their debts.

Then he explains that if they didn't pay the stockholders a dividend, they would have no machines, and the machines do about 99 per cent of the physical work. He puts it this way: "... Without these machines, we might employ a hundred men for every man now on our payroll - and the whole lot of them together couldn't produce a single pound of finished steel.

"On the other hand, our employees - while they do only one per cent of the physical work - provide the human skill and the brain power, without which the machines could not produce any steel either. So it looks like a kind of fifty-fifty proposition with men and machines teaming up together, to do the job that neither could do alone.

"But isn't a fifty-fifty proposition at all, of course. Not by a long shot; because for every one dollar the shareholders received for the use of these machines, our employees get $10 in wages, salaries and benefits last year."

Then he points out that if they take the money from that two and eight-tenths cent that goes into new equipment and research, the whole business would stand still as far as rendering better service and employing more people. He ends it up in this manner: "The employees of American industry are intelligent people. They are responsible people; and they are just as anxious to preserve and to increase America's industrial strength as you and I are. Given an opportunity they will listen to the facts, weigh them up, and form their own independent judgments. I think, in the light of that horse sense I spoke about.

"And my guess is that their judgment, when it comes, will not coincide with that of the propagandist who would jeopardize the future of the sake of squeezing a working profit."

Oh! Isn't He Sweet?

Fair Enough

Russia Has Tested A New Giant Missile

By Westbrook Pegler

WASHINGTON - Russia has tested a new giant missile which is causing almost as much concern among U.S. military authorities as the launching of Sputnik I. Reason for their backstake perturbation is the astonishing performance of this Soviet projectile. Not only did it far outshine both Sputnik I and II, but its capabilities are clearly superior to anything the U.S. now has or will have for quite a while to come.

Following are publishable key details of this disquieting Red missile as reported to the House Space Committee, headed by Representative John McCormack (D., Mass.):

It is a "single stage vehicle" that is powered by an engine with more than 1,000,000 pounds of thrust.

It soared to a height of 284 miles with a "payload" of more than 3,500 pounds of instruments and apparatus - stabilizing devices that are at least as good as those developed for the VANGUARD rocket - which U.S. scientists have rated as the most advanced in the world.

It returned to earth and "landed in the precise area designated for that purpose."

The U.S. as yet has no "single stage" missile of this magnitude. JUPITER-C, VANGUARD, the intermediate range ballistic missile THOR, and ATLAS, the Air Force's still-to-be-tested intercontinental ballistic missile, "are all 'multi-stage vehicles.'"

The most powerful rocket engine so far developed in the U.S. has 400,000-pounds thrust. It was designated for the NAVAHO, an ICBM that former Defense Secretary Charles Wilson junked last summer after the Air Force had spent more than $700,000,000 on it.

Both the Army's JUPITER and the Air Force's rival THOR are powered with 135,000-pound thrust engines.

The disturbing report to Representative McCormack's Committee is based on information obtained from scientific publications in Russia. The data was deemed so authoritative that it was flown to Washington for translation by ace Russian experts.

Two significant highlights of this report are: "This rocket carried instruments for the comprehensive probing of the upper layer of the atmosphere. The single stage rocket, pushed by more than a million pounds of thrust, was stabilized for the duration of its entire flight, including the coasting, by means of special devices precluding rotation around either vertical or horizontal axes."

"The rocket flight was carried out at a small angle to the vertical line in the given direction, whereupon the rocket came back and landed in the precise area designated for that purpose."

"The rocket carried the following instruments: ultra short-wave, dispersion radio interferometer for measuring the concentration of free electrons in the ionosphere; an instrument for measuring the gandist who would jeopardize the future of the sake of squeezing a working profit.

ionic composition of the atmosphere; an apparatus for studying the concentration of positive ions in the atmosphere; an apparatus for measuring electron temperature; magnetic gauges for measuring air pressure; instruments for recording the impact of micrometeorite particles; and a solar spectrograph for recording the ultraviolet angel of the spectrum."

NEXT SHOT - Contrary to what you might expect - it's hot way up there in outer space.

VANGUARD I has been reporting an "average temperature" inside its 6.4 inch satellite of 104 degrees Fahrenheit.

Not only is this considerably warmer than was anticipated, but it's a much higher temperature than has been reported by the Army's two larger satellites - EXPLORERS I and III.

Target date for launching the long-awaited "big" VANGUARD II is now set for April 24 - weather permitting.

This 20-inch basketball - size "moon" will carry 21 1/2 pounds of instruments. This is double the amount of equipment in the EXPLORERS. Also, the "skin" of this VANGUARD will be very different from the three other U.S. satellites.

This "skin" consists of a magnesium alloy coated with gold, chromium, a layer of silicon monoxide, aluminum and then another coat of silicon monoxide. Purpose of this specially developed "skin" is to enable the satellite's instruments to transmit "finer" recordings.

These instruments include: solar cells, mercury batteries, with an estimated life of at least five years, ion chambers, thermistors, erosion gauges, minitrack transmitter, meteorite collision memory devices, telemetry coding system, and Lyman alpha memory storage units.

These memory units will store up various information on 48 channels, as compared to only about a half dozen for the sputniks and the EXPLORERS.

VANGUARD scientists hope to orbit this "moon" at between 300 and 600 miles above the earth.

"I don't want any cop on those ladders," my friend the work said. "I don't see how they can stand the strain. They never know what they are going to face in a couple of minutes after that darn thing strikes and they jump on. Just piling through the traffic is risky enough, but when they get there they may find lames at the windows makes me sick at my stomach. The sight of red at those windows make me sick a tiny stomach."

That was what a fireman in a house downtown wrote me once. I had done some flippancy about firemen playing pinch and knitting to while away the years until retirement. This fireman said that, confidentially, he and some others he could name, sometimes vomited when their number struck. Soldiers said the same thing in the first war. When zero struck and the whistles shrilled along the trench some soldiers got sick and weak, but up they went. I walked around the corner. The

The Fireman's Dread

When Number Strikes

NEW YORK - From my hotel in New York I sometimes can see the big red wagons roll through the traffic, howling and screaming and snorting on their way to do a little smolder in an awning or a wastebasket or - you never can tell. That is the life of a fireman. He may go for weeks with no more business than you could handle with a bucket of water. But - he never can tell.

In the last few years the loss of life in tenement fires in New York and Chicago has had bad luck, too, and a Boston fireman told me the trouble there was that a lot of "old frame houses and old flat buildings with wooden timbers and floors are still in service through those bitter winters when the people crowd on the heat in gas burners and family stoves and go to bed.

One cold night a few weeks ago I was sitting with a city detective in his own car on Lexington Avenue, facing north, when the engines came yowling out of 49th Street, which is a westbound street, barged through the red light, then turned west in Fifth Street, against the traffic, and dove to alongside the Waldorf Tower. This is a dramatic production in New York, a fire show from a box alarm, even in fireproof buildings. Not all of us react, nowadays, but my ears always come up.

The Waldorf Tower is quality. Herbert Hoover lives there and General MacArthur and, sometimes, the Duke and Duchess, and miscellaneous carriage trade. Not that the firemen would do a ny more for them than for a hive of poor Puerto Ricans in a crowded firetrap in Harlem, where crowds are forever setting their bedding afire, but the presence of such characters, all with great bundles of clippings in the newspaper morgue, lends class to the occasion if a person has any imagination and appreciation. Can you fancy Wally, the Duchess, doing a one-half out of a high window, in her night shirt, onto a fire department trampoline? Or old General Mac strutting down the ladder in his pajamas with his medals up?

I said: "Look at that guy at that tiller," as the lone whipped around from 49th into Lexington and whipped from Lexington into 50th.

"I don't want any cop on those ladders," my friend the work said. "I don't see how they can stand the strain. They never know what they are going to face in a couple of minutes after that darn thing strikes and they jump on. Just piling through the traffic is risky enough, but when they get there they may find lames at the windows makes me sick at my stomach. Any fire is a very dramatic occasion. I doubt whether otherwise you could get young fellows to join the department and ride those wild wagons through the traffic and against the lights and, in their turn, skip up those ladders, now seven or eight stories long, to guide frightened, weak, clumsy people down to the pavements, so often because some bum, of either sex, be it stipulated, has conked off with a cigarette going and set fire to a tenement that goes up like a match.

No wonder, they sometimes vomit when their number strikes.

Hankering

By HENRY McLEMORE

McLemores Have Two Cooks, Mary and Henry

The Eisenhowers, with six, have exactly three times as many cooks as we have.

But I am not one bit envious of the Eisenhowers for this culinary advantage. Rather, I am sorry for them. They must have just three times as much trouble.

Our cooks are named Mary and Henry, and have been with us ever since we were married. A devoted couple, they hardly ever argue or fight except when they're in the kitchen. There they go at it good and heavy, and more than once I have feared for Henry's safety when he insisted on having the lamb hash with Tobacco sauce, of which he is inordinately fond.

This difference in tastes, plus an inability to decide, once and for all, which one is the head cook, is largely responsible for their near knock-down and drag-out skirmishes on and about the stove.

In addition to liking practically everything he eats as hot as a firecracker, Henry also has a tendency for cooking too much, especially when guests are present. I have heard him shout a thousand times that he would rather have a ton too much of a dish than an ounce too little. Mary always argues back that there is a sensible balance between too much and too little.

"There is no sense in the world," I have heard her say in an exasperated tone a thousand times (I'll say I have!) "in cooking for ten when there are only four or six eating. What do you plan to do with the extra chicken legs or lamb chops? Paper a den?"

I will say for Mary that she puts up with a lot from Henry. He'll stay out of the kitchen until the meal is three-quarters cooked, and then march in and start making suggestions, turning up the heat under this pan, turning it down under another, shaking some food spices into a dish that doesn't call for it, and wondering aloud why everything isn't done and ready. I heard Mary say once, just after she had caught Henry slapping a pint of sour cream into a pan of apple fritters as an experiment, that she wished he was an indispensable member of the crew of the Nautilus, particularly on the sub's log, record-setting underwater cruises.

Being a husband, this sort of remark makes Henry sulk and pout, and a sulky husband isn't too much fun to have around. But a little "babbling" usually brings him out of it, and the next thing you know he is being his same old nuisance of a self in the kitchen.

Mary's main fault as a cook, Henry says, is her complete disbelief that breakfast bacon can be served hot, or that it tastes any better hot. Mary always cooks it first, and then proceeds with the toast and eggs. As a result the bacon comes to the table looking like strips of a medium-grade sandpaper, and with much the same texture and taste.

doorman of The Tower has been there for years, but I doubt he has seen the red wagons call more than a couple of times. He said it was somewhere up the service stairs. Firemen were hustling in, making shuffling noises with their boots and heavy slickers, lugging pipes and some mysterious new black boxes, whatever they are for. There were two executive cars with white helmets neatly arrayed in a row on the back shelf of each. And a radio telephone on one of the long wagons was jabbering away about fires here and there over the city in a feminine voice.

Most people just walked by, hardly a glance, but reporters of my generation never get a bias about these things. In London a few years ago, I turned a corner in Soho, a dark, squalid section of aqualid restaurants touted for atmosphere, and a bunch of pomplers were squirting little streams down a cellar window. Their fire engines were not much larger than laundry carts here and the English ladder wagons have a telescope or jack-knife device on top because they could never get over long ones through their narrow, angular streets. I remarked to an English friend that these fellows were very quiet about it.

"Do they make a row in America?" she said.

Make a row in America? That isn't quite the way to put it.

"We raise hell in America. Any fire is a very dramatic occasion. I doubt whether otherwise you could get young fellows to join the department and ride those wild wagons through the traffic and against the lights and, in their turn, skip up those ladders, now seven or eight stories long, to guide frightened, weak, clumsy people down to the pavements, so often because some bum, of either sex, be it stipulated, has conked off with a cigarette going and set fire to a tenement that goes up like a match.

No wonder, they sometimes vomit when their number strikes.

Swing Into Spring Was Just A Television Show

By WILLIAM EWALD

United Press Staff Correspondent NEW YORK (UP) — It's difficult to feel much of anything about Wednesday night's semi-probe into the music of the Benny Goodman era, "Swing Into Spring."

It was a rather tame little essay in nostalgia, shutting the door on the past.

The pre-tub-thumping of the NBC-TV show seemed to indicate that "Swing Into Spring" might journey into jazz like "Poor People" and "Limehouse Blues."

But the group's attack was so stiffly formal that it seemed dejected.

Even Ella Fitzgerald, a very great singer, seemed to be holding herself curiously in check during the session.

As for Goodman himself, the truth is that time has passed him by. He sounds curiously apathetic nowadays — the wonderful tone is still there, his blowing is as technically competent as anyone in the business, but he seems to have been living in a museum over the past 15 years.

He plays a very discreet clarinet — in fact, it is almost as discreet as a fitter in a corsetorium — but it lacks excitement and spark and what I guess you could call a sense of contemporaneity. If there is such a word.

City shall have the power to revoke and repeal any license under which said person, firm or corporation may be acting and to revoke and repeal all permits, privileges and franchises granted to said person, firm or corporation as aforesaid.

SECTION VIII: That all Ordinances or parts of Ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

SECTION IX: That this Ordinance shall take effect immediately after its final passage, approval and publication, as required by law.

PASSED AND APPROVED on its First Reading this 11th day of March, 1958.

PASSED AND APPROVED on its Second Reading this 25th day of March, 1958.

PASSED AND APPROVED on its Third Reading this 1st day of April, 1958.
