Mutscher And Aides To Go On Bribery Trial Tomorrow

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — The high point of the bribery trial of Speaker Gus Mutscher, which begins here Monday, is expected to come when Houston promoter Frank Sharp takes the stand for the state.

A jury will decide whether Mutscher, Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth and Mutscher aide Rush McGinty are guilty of conspiracy to accept a bribe.

Mutscher also is charged with accepting a bribe, but he is not being tried on that charge at this trial.

Sharp testified before the House General Investigating Committee Aug. 19 that he had a "tacit understanding" with Mutscher to finance a stock market venture in return for help in passing two banking bills Sharp wanted.

The prosecution is expected to say this is the way sophisticated bribes of politicians are handled in the 20th century.

On Sept. 24, when he was indicted by the Travis (Austin) County Grand Jury, Mutscher said: "I am convinced the indictments returned against me were politically motivated to protect others and designed to destroy my political future."

The Associated Press learned Thursday that Sharp had big plans for Mutscher's political future—until Gov. Preston Smith vetoed the banking bills.

Sharp asked Vance Newell, Houston public relations counselor, to advise him in 1969 on how a statewide campaign for Mutscher in 1972 should be organized.

Sharp sent Mutscher a copy of Newell's confidential reply on Sept. 19—10 days after the passage of the banking bills. Smith vetoed the bills on Sept. 29.

Newell recommended that two "bright" assistants be hired at a total salary of $50,000 a year, plus expenses, to begin work in 1970 on a statewide campaign for Mutscher in 1972.

This would be worth more, Newell said, than $500,000 injected into a campaign in its final weeks.

The letter did not specify which statewide race was being considered, but apparently it was either the governorship or the lieutenant governorship.

Sharp's bank in Houston was closed Jan. 21, 1971, after the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission filed a stock fraud suit against it and 27 other persons and firms.

According to SEC records, Mutscher, Shannon and McGinty all bought National Bankers Life Insurance Co. stock on the same day, July 28, 1969, and all sold most of their NBL stock on the same day, Sept. 11, 1969—two days after the banking bills passed the legislature.

They borrowed money from Sharpstown State Bank to buy the stock. The loans were secured only with the stock they were used to purchase.

Sharp controlled both the bank and the insurance company.

Mutscher made a profit of $52,500, Shannon $31,125 and McGinty $26,625, according to SEC records.

Mutscher later bought more of the stock just before its price plummeted and he says he suffered a net loss.

Sharp was granted immunity from prosecution by a Houston federal judge in exchange for his testimony and for pleading guilty to two minor banking law violations. He was fined $5,000 and drew a three-year probated sentence.

The Phoenix Theater, a non-profit organization, has presented 132 productions since it was founded in 1953.

PEKING (AP) — Premier Chou En-lai is getting the reputation of a weather man among the Americans visiting Peking.

When he met with President Nixon Wednesday during a snow storm, the premier told Nixon that Thursday would be a "fine day" and the weather would not interfere with the Nixon's trip to the Great Wall. He was right.

Chou warned, however that the weather would get worse by Friday.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The Aga Khan, spiritual leader of 20 million Moslems, is in Las Vegas for a visit that a secretary describes as "strictly business."

The Aga Khan leased a suite of rooms at the Thunderbird Hotel on the Strip amid reports that he was interested in backing a proposed $25-million Strip hotel-casino project.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Now there are two Hubert H. Humphreys seeking political office.

Hubert H. Humphrey III, eldest son of the Minnesota senator who is seeking the Democratic presidential nomination, said Thursday he will run this fall for state senator, his first bid for public office.

Humphrey, 29, is married and the father of three. He has been an attorney in Minneapolis since October 1969.

Exhibit Of Balloon History To Open To Public In Capital

By DONALD SANDERS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — An exhibit that covers the colorful panorama of the history of ballooning from 1782 to the present will open to the public Tuesday at the National Air and Space Museum.

(There is a puppet show, paintings, lampoons, balloons, medallions, documents, mechanical models decorative furnishings and songs—including a catchy tune called "Come up and Spoon in the Colonel's Balloon.")

The show is also instructive. Visitors will learn that Benjamin Franklin, who served as postmaster general in colonial America, saw the first airmail letter, carried by balloon across the English Channel; that the first aircraft carrier, used during the Civil War, carried balloons rather than planes; and that the first intercontinental weapons, employed by the Japanese in World War II, were balloons.

The exhibit, which will continue throughout 1972, chronicles the contributions of balloons as they evolved from early experiments to popular amusements to modern science, and as they were put to use for transportation, warfare, pleasure and research.

The puppet show, with dialogue and musical background on tape, tells the amusing and astonishing story of the first balloon crossing of the English Channel from England to France.

It was achieved in 1785 by Jean-Pierre Blanchard and an American passenger, Dr. John Jefferies. They made it, but to stay aloft they had to jettison all their ballast, books, apples, biscuits, even their coats and pants.

It was Jefferies who carried the first airmail letter, from William Franklin in London to his son William Temple Franklin, who was in Paris serving as secretary to his grandfather, Benjamin Franklin.

The letter has survived and is on display.

The puppet show, which will be performed every quarter hour, was written by Melvin B. Zisfein, deputy director of the Smithsonian Institution's Air and Space Museum, Peter Copeland and Roger Pineau, who helped arrange the entire show.

"This exhibition—the first to be prepared with the proposed new National Air and Space Museum building in mind—has been designed to exemplify the size and quality of exhibits which will be offered when the new building is completed," said the museum director, former astronaut Michael Collins.

President Nixon has asked Congress to appropriate funds for a new museum building on the Mall; Collins hopes to open it on July 4, 1976.

The display which physically dominates the show is an inflated 32 1/2-foot paper Japanese attack balloon, one of two which survive of the thousands which the Japanese launched against the U.S. West Coast in World War II—the first intercontinental weapons.

NEW YORK (AP) — On a Saturday night in early February, almost 56-million people were watching CBS' "All in the Family." A couple of nights earlier, 41-million watched NBC's "Flip Wilson."

These statistics are projected by the A. C. Nielsen Co., based on an audience sampling. Even if they are off by a million or two, they indicate the fantastic amount of attention received by a program that hits a popular chord.

For every enormously popular program, there are usually two victims on rival networks. These two powerhouse shows have knocked off three competitors this season and at season's end, the bag may reach seven.

Winter? Snow Joke In Mexico

By TOM TIEDE
MEXICO
N.Y.—(NEA)—Last century a merchant named George Scriba had a nice dream for this town and the region at the bottom of Lake Ontario. He purchased heavy amounts of property here with the idea of making it, via the nearby St. Lawrence Seaway, the largest, most populous city in the world.

Alas, it didn't happen. Probably because Scriba got cold feet. He must have discovered the terrible truth about this area. Mexico, N.Y., is not like Mexico, Mexico, or even Mexico, Mo. Mexico, N.Y., is, in the words of one of its shivering citizens, "the gad-damndest place I've seen for snow in 82 years on the gad-damned earth."

Snow kidding. It's unbelievable here. Last November it snowed 18 inches, there were 27 more in December and (gulp) an additional 139 in January. Then, couple of weeks later, it really came down. In 48 hours the region was socked with 54 inches—repeat, nearly five feet of it—and nothing could be heard but oh-no's.

What's more, to hear the residents tell it, this year has been nothing. "I remember back in 1966," says Mayor Robert Gray. "Now that was something! We had one spell there, three days, when it snowed 111 inches. My God, you couldn't believe it. We had this one attorney who wasn't a very good driver and so he just got close behind the car in front of him and followed. He went on that way for miles. Pretty soon the car in front turned and stopped. The attorney got out and said, 'Wha'd you stop for?' The guy in front said, 'I'm in my driveway, that's why.' Not long after that, the attorney moved some place else."

Wherever the attorney moved, it almost has to be better than here. Mayor Gray says Mexico gets between 200 and 250 inches of snow every year—that's twice as much as Fairbanks, Alaska, and five times the annual fall in Anchorage.

This is not the snowiest place on earth. Twenty-six feet fell in northern Iran recently. Silver Lake, Colo., once received 76 inches in 24 hours, and Mt. Rainier in Washington has received 1,000 inches in a single year.

But for sheer, stubborn, consistent luck, Mexico, and most of Oswego County, N.Y., does pretty good. Or bad. Right now the four-foot fence posts at George Parson's dairy farm have disappeared. Mrs. Elroy Barnes has to put a red flag out so the school bus can see her mobile home. Downtown shoppers walk along plowed sidewalks that resemble bobsled chutes. And, folks say, some of the cars that got stuck in the most recent blizzard won't be seen again until spring.

Meteorologists, of course, can explain the whole phenomenon very clearly. Robert Sykes of Oswego says it has to do with moisture-laden air coming and blankets to take care of the annual stranded motorists.

Some people, perhaps, enjoy the whole thing. Snowmobilers flock to the area— "driving from bar to bar," says the mayor. Kids look forward to emergency vacations from school. Frank Rose welcomes the storms because he makes his living plowing out driveways. And merchants say that there is a dime or two extra each year from the tourists— "these nuts"—who come in just to look.

But for the most part, frost to the armpits is very discouraging. One-fifth of Mexico's $100,000 budget is spent on snow removal. Conservationists are hollering because road crews are dumping salt-sopped snow into the area's rivers. And, says Mayor Gray: "Man, is it monotonous? Talk about cabin fever. I think it would be great if the people could get out and ski or something. But, wouldn't you know it, this is all flat land here—there isn't a mountain here for miles."

So it is in Mexico this winter and every winter. Mail is being placed on icebergs, about where the letterboxes are buried. Children are running around wide colds in da heds. And everybody is wondering, once again, what old George Scriba had between his ears. "B-B-Biggest city in the world?" says the mayor. "Our p-p-population is 1,500. That's only 30 more p-p-people than we had a century ago."

down from Lake Ontario. Then there's the friction of the earth. And something called orographics. Also convective currents. That sort of thing. Ah, yes. Well, anyway, Sykes adds, short while back meteorologists from along the East Coast gathered in Oswego to mull the whole business over—and, you guessed it, they got snowed in. To be sure, snowed in is a way of life in this region. Even for people who don't understand orographics. Housewives like Mrs. George Parsons have to hoard food each year, "like we were squirrels," against the inevitable periods when the roads close. Mayor Gray keeps a pair of snowshoes in his den, "and I darn well use them." And the city's small Civil Defense headquarters is stocked with two dozen cots

'Abortion Special' Trip To L.A.

Editor's Note: Marilyn Schwartz of the Dallas Morning News went along recently as an observer on the "abortion special," a scheduled weekly flight to the West Coast from Texas. What she saw and heard on the trip seems of special significance in the continuing disputes about abortion laws.

By MARILYN SCHWARTZ
Dallas News Writer
By The Associated Press

DALLAS (AP)—There's a special group fare flight that leaves Dallas every Saturday for Los Angeles. It's always full but never popular.

To qualify for the group rate you have to need an abortion.

"Do you know what it's like having to face something like this?" said Carol D., a Dallas school teacher in her mid 20s who was one of the women who made the 24-hour trip on a recent weekend.

"They tell you it's safe and legal in New York or California but it's still an operation and you still have to face it alone. That's the worst part, being alone. How many husbands or friends can afford an extra $120 to go along and hold your hand?"

The "group" trip is sponsored by Problem Pregnancy Information Services which has telephone answering services in Dallas and Houston.

They offer a "package" deal—plane, transportation, doctor, motel, hospital and counseling—all at a reduced rate.

"My doctor gave me some information about hospitals in New York and California, but California was cheaper and the idea of going to New York scared me," said Miss D. "I wanted to do it as quickly and as quietly as possible. Suppose I got snowed in in New York and had to stay there longer than overnight?"

She picked Problem Pregnancy because of the personal attention it offered and because of the $346 price tag.

Miss D. arrived at the Dallas airport with just a small overnight bag which she carried with her on the plane.

"The 'group' was flying on a regularly scheduled airliner and the waiting room was full.

"How many of these women are here for the same reason?" she asked her boyfriend who was waiting with her. I wonder if they feel as conspicuous as I do? Look at those girls sitting alone. Oh God, I hope they're not with us. I couldn't have started out alone. I hope they are going to L.A. for the AllStar game or something and never get near a hospital all weekend."

Tom Grant, who was among the Los Angeles "welcoming committee," could have easily been a tour director meeting a group about to embark on a tour of California.

He and a girl named Candy quickly checked to make sure that no one was missing and divided the arrivals into groups of 15.

About 70 women from Dallas and Houston were in the weekend.

They were for the most part in their early 20s. The youngest was 15 and accompanied by an older sister. There were three women over 40. One husband, one boy friend and one mother made the trip. Forty per cent were married.

The women walked to a waiting bus. Miss D. described the silence, once everyone was seated, as "deafening."

"There will be a counseling session at 7 tonight," said Grant. "We'll go over tomorrow's procedure step by step. We'll also be given a brief talk on birth control. You might find it informative."

For some reason, the remark broke the ice. The women began to laugh and look to each other for reassurances.

By the time the counseling session began later in the evening, everyone seemed adjusted enough to participate without any embarrassment.

"You're all here for one reason," said Grant. "And that is because Texas is one of the most advanced states scientifically and one of the most backward socially. This little procedure could be done in about three minutes in a doctor's office or clinic in your home town. But the demand is greater than the supply, and you are the victims."

"And even if Texas passed new abortion laws tomorrow, that is just the beginning. You can expect a good many people to take advantage of the situation. Legal abortions in Texas could go as high as $600."

"Everybody keeps telling me how lucky I am that I can come here and get it done safely and legally," said one woman. "There's a nurse in Dallas who charges $450 using the crudest of methods to abort you. She's doing a landslide business. What would we have done if this had happened to use five years ago? But I'm still made mad as hell I had to come all the way out here."

Another added that abortions were going as high as $1,000 in Houston.

The session lasted for about an hour. The atmosphere was somewhat reminiscent of a sorority rush orientation.

Throughout, several managed to maintain a sense of humor.

"The pill," said a worker during the birth control lecture, "is 99 per cent effective." She went through various other methods.

"Don't forget abstinence," said a voice in the back.

"That's 100 per cent."

"I think the worst part of all," said a 23-year-old, "was keeping this from my two younger sisters. My parents know and are being wonderful. But I'm their big sister. I'm supposed to set a good example."

"You ought to tell them," said the sister of the 15-year-old. "I had an abortion four years ago, illegally, in New Mexico. Afterwards I told my mother we were going to have to start telling the younger girls about birth control. She was shocked and avoided the subject. So look who I'm here with."

"I've got three children I'm crazy about," said one. "But my husband and I just can't afford to have another child, mentally or financially. It almost tore us apart to make this decision. But there was no other choice."

Another explained her children were grown and she and her husband were grandparents. She thought she was going through menopause when her doctor told her she was pregnant.

Still another came with her 2-year-old son. She said she was in the midst of a divorce and had no place to leave him.

A 17-year-old who had come alone remained calm and didn't talk much. She said she just wished it was all over. The youngest girl to go through Problem Pregnancy was 11. She was from Houston and a rape victim. The oldest was 49.

For most it was a long night. Miss D. packed her bag and took everything with her because she would be leaving the hospital to go directly to the airport.

The women met in the motel lobby which by 5 a.m. was quite full. Everyone seemed a bit quiet and some a little pale.

San Vicente Hospital is small (about 22 beds) and privately owned by several doctors. The only procedures being done there on Sunday are abortions.

The women had been told they would receive a mild anesthetic called ketamine that would put them to sleep for about an hour. It is one that is usually used on children.

One doctor would be operating on the approximately 40 patients (in this particular group). He uses the "suction" method, more technically known as a vacuum aspirator.

If a girl was more than 12 weeks pregnant, she would be given a more complicated procedure and would have to stay in the hospital overnight.

Panhandle Water

By FELIX W. RYALS
On Friday, Feb. 18, the Texas Natural Resources Study Committee held a public hearing in Plainview. The hearing was held to ascertain the convictions of the people of the Panhandle and High Plains of West Texas regarding possible new legislation concerning water and water projects. Air pollution control was also on the hearing agenda.

John Spearman of Gray County and James B. McCray of Carson County, directors of the Panhandle Ground Water Conservation District, and Felix W. Ryals, the district manager, attended the hearing and entered testimony and exhibits favoring local control of underground water.

Western Beef Has Increase Of Revenues

AMARILLO—Western Beef, Inc. started its fourth year of operations with earnings of 20 cents per share for the first quarter ending Jan. 31, compared to 9 cents for the same period last year, according to George E. Feaster, president of the firm.

Revenues amounted to $11,487,734, or an increase of 31 percent compared to $8,743,026 for a year ago, and the company posted first quarter earnings of $199,255 compared to $87,144 last year, an increase of 128 percent.

Headquartered in Amarillo, Western Beef is a vertically integrated cattle feeding and meat producing company with operations in Texas, New Mexico and California. Western Beef has a plant in Pampa.

Feaster said the company's increased feedlot capacities had a favorable influence on the first quarter results. On Jan. 12, Western Beef acquired the 13,000 head Del Charro Feed Lot near Brawley, Calif., increasing the company's one-time feeding capacity to 173,000 head of cattle.

Western Beef's recently formed CNT Financial Corp., which offers complete financial services to qualified customers, contributed to the increased earnings, according to Feaster. CNT's loan portfolio amounted to $8,906,508 on Jan. 31.

Western Beef formed its fourth cattle feeding limited partnership on Dec. 30, 1971 with a total investment of $578,000 according to Feaster. He said that the partnership will provide an inventory of approximately 7,500 head of cattle. The company expects to close its next partnership by June 30.

Feaster said the company will place emphasis on expanding existing feeding facilities in 1972.

Aswan High Dam
In 1969 a young hippie-type lawyer in attendance at the annual meeting of Water, Inc. berated a panel of water experts for proposing that the Texas Water Plan be pushed ahead and be put in operation before the entire State was in a water crisis.

The young lawyer sided with the ecologists and environmentalists who want Texas and the nation to make no changes in the

Tillage Can Give Benefits

Reduced air pollution, better wildlife habitat—these are some of the environmental benefits of a new practice being used by Texas conservation farmers.

The measure, called minimum tillage, also cuts farming costs by reducing tractor trips required to produce a crop.

"With minimum tillage, farmers plant crops without prior land preparation," Mickey Black, district conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service at Pampa, said.

"Using a coult and other special equipment, they plant directly into a mulch of residues left undisturbed from the previous crop. Herbicides are used to control weeds, so costly and time consuming cultural operations are reduced or eliminated," he added.

Stalks, leaves and stems from the previous crop are left on the surface yearlong with minimum tillage. The protective cover is highly effective in preventing wind erosion and air pollution from blowing dust.

Black said the cover is equally effective in preventing water erosion.

"Scattered seed and cover left on the soil surface by minimum tillage is also extremely valuable to wildlife," Black said.

"Pheasants in the Texas Panhandle are almost entirely dependent on crop residues for survival during the winter months. Quail, geese, turkey, dove, songbirds, deer, antelope, rabbits and other wildlife also benefit from the food and cover."

Not As Well Off As City Dwellers

AUSTIN—Even though food prices are expected to go up four percent this year and net farm income is expected to set a record, the farmer still is less than three-fourths as well off financially as the city dweller, Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said.

White said charges that the farmer is responsible for the expected food cost increase "is sheer nonsense." He said parity—the measuring stick that shows how agriculture is faring in comparison with the rest of the economy—is at 72 percent.

"This means that agriculture will have to increase its income 28 per cent to just be even with the rest of the economy," he said.

environment. To support his contention, he used the building of the Aswan High Dam in Egypt as an example of the environmental and ecological havoc caused by the progress makers.

He pointed out that the waters behind the dam had inundated the breeding ground of certain helpful insects that ate the harmful insects that preyed on the food crops of Egypt. The first year after the water covered the breeding grounds of helpful insects, the harmful insects destroyed the crops, thus causing a food shortage in Egypt.

The properly informed person is aware that the United States has gone all out to assist the backward and emerging nations of the world. The governments of all countries were aware that Egypt desired to build the Aswan High Dam on the Nile River. Dictator Nasser desperately needed the dam for electric power and agricultural purposes.

America offered Nasser the finances and technicians to build the dam. Nasser's power politics became impossible for this country, and the offer of assistance was withdrawn. Russia moved into the vacuum and built the dam.

The young lawyer did an excellent job of leaving the impression that America was the culprit in causing the crop failure and resulting food shortage.

According to C. C. Minicler, Associated Press Writer, who visited Aswan, Egypt, in January of 1972, the Aswan High Dam has been a multi-payoff project and the harmful insect problem has been corrected.

Minicler in his January 17, 1972 news release states: "The story of Gamal with the High Dam... is the story of the revolution," observed engineer Mohamed Sidky Soliman, Egypt's then minister of electricity.

Award-Winning Film Available

AUSTIN—The award-winning conservation film, "Biologist and the Boy," is now being distributed by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's film library.

The 14-minute film, narrated by Arthur Godfrey, deals with the threat to the nation's estuarine areas. It was financed by the five Gulf Coast states in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Interior's Bureau of Commercial Fisheries.

There is no charge for use of the film, and its length makes it suitable for luncheon meetings.

The film won the U. S. Industrial Film Festival's Award for Creative Excellence in Audio-Visual Communication.

Charlie Papa Productions produced the film, and it has been distributed by United Artists to commercial theaters since the summer of 1969.

PAMPA DAILY NEWS 66th YEAR Sunday, Feb. 27, 1972

(USDA-Soil Conservation Service)

OUTSTANDING FARMER—Donald Walberg of Pampa looks over weeping lovegrass that was planted in May, 1970, and cut for hay in the fall of 1970. The seeding was accomplished with assistance from the Great Plains Conservation Program. Walberg is the Gray County Soil and Water Conservation District's outstanding conservation farmer for 1972 and will be entered in the Texas Conservation Awards Program.

Pampa Farmer Believes In Conservation Method

Donald Walberg of Pampa has long been recognized as a leader in the "conservation way" of farming and has been named outstanding conservation farmer for the Gray County Soil and Water Conservation District.

He will serve as the district's entry in the Texas Conservation Awards Program with the winner to be announced in May.

Donald has a 240 acre farm east of Laketon. He had worked at trying to solve his soil and water conservation problems for several years.

Then in February, 1970, he entered into contract with the Soil Conservation Service's Great Plains conservation program.

The soils on the farm were sandy and sandy loams which were causing him tremendous wind erosion problems and the returns from the farm were very low. The land was not economically feasible to farm.

Under the Great Plains conservation program, Walberg, seeded the land to weeping lovegrass. He constructed two livestock water storage facilities, laid underground pipeline from his well to the facilities, and built crossfences so he could better manage his livestock grazing.

"All of this work is just the beginning. The management that follows is the key to any successful conservation program," says Walberg.

A cow-calf type of operation is the basic enterprise, but Donald makes good use of excess forage, when available, by buying additional stocker animals or by baling it for hay.

Donald also rents other farm land in Gray County and is in the process of carrying out good conservation practices that will help him in his farming operations. He is presently trying minimum tillage farming operations as a method to increase his net income and better conserve his soil and water resources.

Donald and his wife, Joyce, have three daughters, Doni is a student at Hardin Simmons University, Zindi is in the 6th grade and Quinn is in the second grade in the Pampa public schools.

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY
The annual meeting of the Canadian Production Credit Association will be held at the Canadian High School on Saturday, March 25, starting at 9:30 a.m. This is a month earlier than normally held.

Gene Hanks, Vice-president, Pampa, advises that an excellent program has been planned.

W. H. Caulkins, president, Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Houston, will be the main speaker. A free barbecue will be served by the Pampa Shriners. All PCA members in the Gray-Roberts County area are urged to attend.

The Canadian PCA is comprised of the six northeastern counties in the Texas Panhandle.

H. H. Keahey, who lives 17 miles southwest of Pampa, serves as Chairman of the Board.

Loan volume over the last few years has been almost unbelievable. In 1950 the loan volume was about two and two-thirds million dollars. In 1960 the loan volume was near six million. In 1971 it had jumped to almost seventy-eight million. The feedlot boom is the key.

The Danadian PCA is the first PCA in the United States to make a feedlot facility loan. They pioneered the feedlot loan business in the United States by financing non-agricultural borrowers in feedlot complex.

Next year it is hoped that we can host their annual meeting in our new auditorium.

Jackie Taylor, who lives three miles south of Pampa, is installing a small dairy and will be selling whole milk in the near future. O. J. Miller of the Grandview Community is the only other dairyman in the county, Jackie says he plans to milk Gurnsey cows. Best of luck, Jackie. We will be dreaming of you at 6 a.m. each morning while you are milking.

Scabies
Rumors are floating that all cattle in the 34-county quarantine area will be required to be dipped. I visited with a representative of Texas Animal Health Commission recently.

The thinking is the dippings would be required of cattle in movement. This would not apply to cows heavy with calves and foundation breeding stock located on farms and ranches unless the herd was infected or was in movement.

One case of scabies has been identified in Gray County.

Brake and Lighting
Our supply of printed illustrations on brake and light requirements is low but we have a few left and have reordered.

One question that has come up several times has to do with additional side-marker lights and reflectors on trailers over 30 feet in length. The overall length is measured from the rear-most portion of the towing vehicle to the rear-most portion of the trailer. The coupling pole will not be construed as part of the load-bearing structure of pole trailers.

Horseowners Urged To Get Vaccinations
Texas horseowners are urged to "get the jump" on VEE (Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis) by vaccinating their animals as soon as possible, says Dr. James Armstrong, Texas A&M Extension veterinarian.

Horses, mules and donkeys that should be vaccinated include (1) unvaccinated animals that have recently moved into the state, (2) foals vaccinated under six months of age, (3) foals born since last year's vaccination drive, and (4) animals that were overlooked and never vaccinated.

Commercial vaccine is available and must be administered by a veterinarian at the owner's expense.

Bridge Event Slated

The 21st annual spring duplicate bridge tournament of Fort Western Unit No. 183, Fort Worth, is to be played at the Tarrant County Convention Center March 10-12. Sanctioned by the national organization, the American Contract Bridge League of Greenwich, Conn., it has been assigned sectional rating for award of master points.

About 600 outstanding bridge players from the Southwest are expected to compete for the difficult-to-earn master points and awards. An innovation in regard to awards is that instead of a trophy, a Neiman-Marcus gift certificate is to be presented to the winners.

Featured during the three days will be the most popular event in tournament bridge inventory, the two-session Swiss team of four. It is to begin at 12:30 p.m., March 12, with the second session to begin at 6 p.m.

Other events on the program are the men's and women's pairs at 1:30 p.m. and masters pairs at 7:30 p.m., March 10. Qualifying round for the open pairs begins at 1:30 p.m., March 11, and the finals and consolation begin at 7:30 p.m.

A Kenneth Stone of Fort Worth has been named senior tournament director by the national organization. The sponsoring unit is to be host to the players at its traditional fillet dinner between sessions on the final day.

Primitive Terror Seizes City Cat At Bird Attack

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Writer

Most parts of Dallas are heavy for cats. This fine feline state of affairs came about because a city ordinance requiring that dogs be penned or attached to a leash when outside the family compound has been passed.

When that law went into effect, cats burst from nearly every house in town. No longer would they be chased up trees and otherwise harassed. It now was their world.

The bird lovers set up an outcry, claiming the now-free cats would kill our feathered friends.

It didn't work out that way. Country cats may prow for food. City felines are afraid of birds. Let a big old jaybird take in after a cat and you find an example of primitive terror.

In fact it would be a great help to one cat owner who knew if he could find someone like the boxing instructor at the YMCA to teach his animal how to defend himself.

This is because this cat, known as Sylvester Rufus, is always losing to some other beast, dragging in most mornings with some new wound, often requiring the attention of the veterinarian. He never seems to win.

This possibly is because Sylvester is a little short-sighted. He recently spent all night, crouched to spring and growling on a parkway behind the sidewalk at what obviously appeared to him as another cat.

Daylight revealed that he had squared off against an empty white gallon bottle dropped by the garbage men.

This particular cat has more problems than President Nixon.

He is allergic to all sorts of shots, so he gets distemper and for all we know he has rabies but is too afraid to bite anyone. His veterinarian can't inoculate him because the cure would be worse than the disease because of the allergies.

So the doctor airily says that is no problem. He gives the cat's owner a bottle of pills with directions to dose the animal every two hours.

This appears easy when the doctor does it. He just pops the pill in, almost throwing it all the way into Sylvester's tummy.

It isn't that easy for the owner.

No sooner does he drop a pill into the cat's mouth than the animal runs off.

Then if no one is watching, Sylvester hides behind the curtains or somewhere and spits the pill out. He has become an expert at holding the medicine in his mouth until he is free to get rid of it.

His owner declares Sylvester has hidden enough pills around the house to stock a good-sized animal hospital.

Sylvester is not the only troublesome cat in the world, says Joe Murray, editor of the Lufkin News, in a recent communication. He owns a female.

Here is Editor Murray's view of one worry about a cat owner:

"It's not that I don't like cats.

"What I don't like is climbing a ladder to the roof on cold, rainy days, calling, cajoling and swearing in an effort to coax and coach a cat down.

"And all the time knowing the neighbors are peeking out their windows, suppressing giggles while making side bets on whether this will be the time I fall and break my neck.

"This is what you have to go through when you have a cat that's a one-way climber—she does fine going up but has yet to learn how to put it in reverse.

"Each time, I've vowed that she can get down on her own or live out eternally up there.

"But each time, when darkness comes and with it a new faint but persistent feline SOS, I get out the stepladder and starting putting on gloves.

"The reason for the gloves is that there is considerable clawing as I pluck the little beast from the roof and start trying to back down the ladder.

"Then there is the dog. "While I'm trying to lure the cat into grabbing distance, down below the dog is playing its game called "Leap Upon the Ladder."

"If you shout at the dog, you scare off the cat. When you start calling the cat, the dog comes back.

"Some nights, shivering from the cold and trembling from fear of falling, I give up, put a bowl of cat food on the roof and shut my ears to the howls.

"She survives quite well nestling in the pine straw and nuzzling up to the ventilators for warmth.

"I've tried several things to teach her to climb down including building a crude bridge from the roof to a nearby pine tree which is the tree she uses to climb up there, I suppose.

"All that did was make it easier for her to get on the roof.

"The other night I noticed that the howling seemed somehow different—more like singing than crying.

"When I stepped onto the patio to investigate, I found myself locked into a stare with a fat black Tomcat.

"Right there I quit as a cat caller. Let him teach her to climb down.

"I'm leaving the field clear for a fellow who really knows how to deal with female felines."

BATTLES BOTTLES

TO HONOR BOSSES—The Pampa charter chapter of the American Business Women's Association will honor bosses of members and name the "Boss of the Year" at a banquet Tuesday in the First United Methodist Church. Shown making plans for the event are, left to right, Mrs. Marilee Elledge, president; Mrs. Lena Mae Wood, banquet chairman; and Mrs. Bernice Nickols, vice president.

ABWA To Honor Bosses At Dinner

The Pampa charter chapter of the American Business Women's Association is having its annual "Bosses' Night Banquet" at the Pampa First United Methodist Church, at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

After the meal, there will be a speaker on "Ecology."

Each member of ABWA has been assigned a number, after which she writes a letter on why she thinks her boss should be selected "Boss of the Year." She signs her letter with the number that has been assigned to her, not giving the name of her boss or herself.

A group of impartial judges selects the best letter, in their opinion, and whomever has the corresponding number is the one whose boss is crowned.

MINISTER EATS OUT
HIGH POINT, N.C. (AP)—Dr. Tom Haggai, a former Furman University quarterback and now an ordained minister, seldom eats meals at home for two reasons.

He logs about 250,000 miles a year as a public speaker and his wife, Burden, owns a restaurant here.

Alaska's Barter Island records the coldest average temperatures in the United States. February usually averages 19.6 degrees below zero.

Betty Canary

By BETTY CANARY
 This is the time of year when we start looking for an easy way out. That is to say, at last I admitted it isn't my dress bunching up around the waist—it's me—and I have to do something (read: as little as possible) about losing weight.

So, when I heard that a woman in Flint, Mich., lost 100 pounds in eight months, I called and asked for her secret.

"Good morning, Mrs. Hildebrandt," I began. "I am trying to get rid of the lumps left by all those Christmas cookies I ate and..."

"Stop eating so much," she answered.

"Well," I said, trying to ignore her, "will you tell me what magic pill you used?"

"The only pill you need is a multivitamin and," she added sternly, "stop eating so much!"

"Did you take a vacation at one of those fabulous health farms?" I begged. "How long did it take to save the money to go?"

"I stayed at home and cut down on the grocery bills and used that money to buy some new clothes," she said.

"Look!" I demanded. "Any woman who went from 240 pounds to 140 owes it to the public to tell the secret."

"I did have a goal," she admitted.

"Now we're getting somewhere! Your husband threaten to leave you? Your children hate you? Your doctor said you were sick?"

"I just decided one day last Spring that I was going to wear a pantsuit."

"And?"

"I lost 100 pounds by cutting down on the portions of food I ate and at the after-holiday sales I tried on pantsuits."

"Anyone who weighs 140 pounds is too big for a pantsuit," she said firmly. "so I'm losing another 20 pounds."

"I'll bet I know how you're going to do it," I sighed.

"You want to get rid of your Christmas cookie lumps?" she asked.

"Lay on the advice," I cried.

"Stop eating so much."

OLD AXE FOUND
MOSCOW (AP)—Some Moscow residents uncovered an axe that archeologists said was a relic of tribes that lived in the area 4,000 years ago.

"Seven Wonders Of US" Is Culture Club Program

Twentieth Century Culture Club met in the home of Mrs. Dan Cameron, 2358 Duncan, with Mrs. Fred Brook serving as co-hostess.

Mrs. M. K. Griffith presented the program, entitled, "Seven Wonders of the United States."

Her first topic was "The Geysers," which are located near Cobb Mountain, 90 miles north of San Francisco, Calif.

The Geysers

"They were discovered in 1847 by William Bell Elliott," she told the women. "Confusing these steadily flowing fumaroles or steam vents with periodic bursts like "Old Faithful," people called them "The Geysers." Today the natural steam is being harnessed to produce electricity."

Redwood and Myrtle

The California redwoods were her next topic. She explained that a few miles north of the Golden Gate Bridge is the Muir Woods National Monument, a redwood park named for the Scottish-born American naturalist and conservationist, John Muir.

The speaker told of another rare tree, the Myrtle, from which comes America's most beautiful hardwood.

The symmetrical, broadleaf, evergreen, Myrtle, grows only in Southwestern Oregon and the Biblical lands of Palestine," she pointed out.

"The coloring of the wood is unique, varying from satiny gray to multi-colored grains of red, yellow and brown. It takes a century or more for the Myrtle to grow to commercial size."

Museums

Among the noted art museums in the United States, Mrs. Griffith told about the Huntington Park Museum, founded by Henry Edward Huntington, to house the original copies of Edgar Allan Poe's poems. Famous paintings to be found there include Gainsborough's original "Blue Boy," she said, as well as "Pinkie" by Lawrence and Stewart's "Unfinished Portrait of George Washington."

Mackinac Island

"There is still left that spot in the United States where one may depart from the usual life, Mackinac Island," Mrs. Griffith told the women. Centuries ago the Indians gave it the name meaning "Great Turtle" and made a shrine of its lofty slopes. Later it became a citadel guarding the Mackinac Straits during many conflicts. It lies just off the world's longest suspension bridge and is a mecca for vacationers."

She told of the ban on automobiles on the island, with access to it being only by boat. The only transportation while on the island is by horseback, horse-drawn buggies or bicycles, she explained, adding the island also boasts the world's largest frame hotel, "The Grand Hotel."

"Old Fort Mackinac looks as it did in 1780, with massive stone walls, heavy cannons, dungeons and uniformed guards," she stated. "Points of interest include the 294-foot Sugar Loaf Rock and the famed Arch Rock, a limestone bridge 150 feet above Lake Michigan."

Roan Mountain

Mrs. Griffith went on to tell of Roan Mountain, located on the border between Tennessee and North Carolina, which instead of a rocky top, has six miles of meadows stretching through the clouds.

Andre Michaux, a French botanist, was the first white man to explore the mountain," she related. "He described and named its rhododendrons which grow in clumps as big as a house. The Rhododendrom Festival usually is celebrated the last of June, but the blossoming period lasts nearly a month."

Kadingo Lingo

By Jane Kadingo

PRESIDENT NIXON'S visit to Red China is causing a stir that reaches far outside the area of world politics and American foreign policy!

Figuring there are quite a few un-liberated females, the fashion designers, cosmetologists and hair stylists are having a great time "climbing on the band wagon" with the "Oriental look" blossoming out everywhere.

Cosmetologists say, when penciling in your eyebrows, to use a long upward sweep at the end to give the Chinese look. Dragon motifs are springing up in materials and fashions, and the Nehru jacket is "in" again, only it's called something else. And, of course, the mandarin collar is back.

AND DON'T FORGET the feminine art of entertaining, with most women in their glory with a "different" idea, especially if they are the first.

Giving a buffet? Serve Chinese family style! All dishes are put on the table at once and each guest helps himself. This "family" approach is also convenient for dining sit-down, as it frees the cook to join the guests.

The more formal banquet manner demands constant service. To present this way, all appetizers and small cold foods are put out first. Hot dishes follow, one at a time, each as a different course. The lighter recipes are served in the beginning. As taste buds dull, heartier fare appears. Usually soups come at the middle and-or the end, except in Cantonese cuisine, where they precede the meal. Sweet and sour dishes are eaten last of all to spark the jaded palate.

Tea is poured at the start and finish of each meal, but keep the teapot full at home, as Americans tend to sip it throughout. If desired, wine may also be served. In China, it is customary to drink this beverage warmed to body temperature. More like a liqueur than the wine of other countries, the Chinese fruit wines, such as plum, can provide an interesting footnote to dinner. Heat and serve in tiny cups, as it is potent!

BE GLAD, GIRLS, that we have the freedom to dress as we choose! A friend, lately from China, told me women there must wear a uniform and, because Chiang Ching, the wife of Mao Tse-tung, chairman of the Chinese Communist Party, cuts her hair short and wears it straight, so must the other women. How they must envy Pat Nixon with her lovely, styled hair and American fashions!

ALL SORTS of articles on Chinese customs, food and styles keep coming across my desk. I was most interested in some of the Chinese customs. Here are a few.

The Chinese began celebrating the "New Year of the Rat" on Feb. 15, an event that is supposed to continue for two weeks. Because rats gravitate towards abundance and will not stay where there is want, the rat is an omen of good fortune, prophesying prosperity.

Bright, clear red raises the spirits and is a lucky color, the Chinese believe. Brides wear it to their wedding ceremonies, children and old people don new red garments to start the year right, food is tinted red for gala occasions and a red table cloth is mandatory for a New Year's feast.

A traditional Chinese centerpiece often seen in private homes and on temple altars is a towering bowl of fresh citrus fruits. Lemons are avoided because they would lend a sour note, but kumquats, difficult to find in this country, are prized. The fruits are passed out to departing guests as party favors to sweeten their New Year.

THIS ISN'T REALLY off the subject of the Orient, I guess, since many drugs come from that area of the world, but I was interested in a report just released by the New York Academy of Sciences, entitled "Marijuana: Chemistry, Pharmacology and Patterns of Social Use."

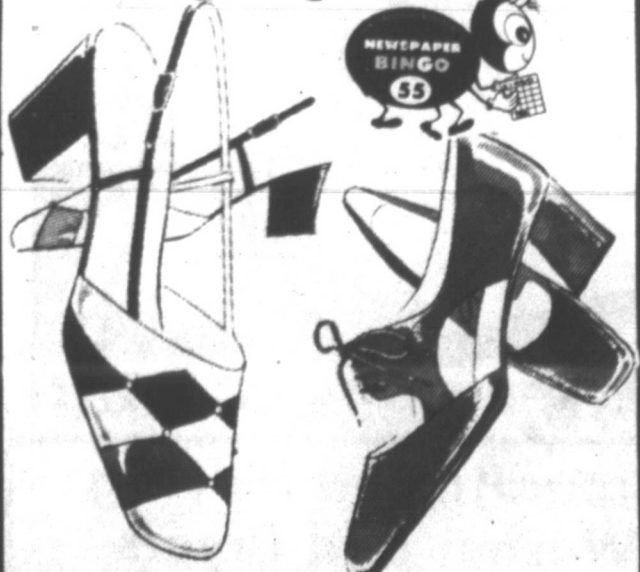

The report states that married people with children who are church-affiliated are less likely to use marijuana than people who are single, childless or of no religious faith. However, it says, also there is no simple relationship between marijuana use and occupation, employment status or race, and only minor differences between city dwellers and suburbanites.

It gives the following interesting information: two surveys conducted in the San Francisco Bay area reveal that more men than women use marijuana; the proportion of men and women who had used the drug declines steadily with age, with the majority of users in the 18-34 age bracket; people who rely on tension-reducers, such as cigarettes, alcohol or prescription drugs are more likely to report marijuana use.

In China, sweet foods have special significance. They are not eaten every day, but are reserved for treats on gala occasions. The day before New Year's is a time honored ritual to kowtow to ChangKung, the Kitchen god, with offerings of candy. This is taken very seriously, as Chang Kung stands for kindness, a quality that the Chinese believe indispensable for a peaceful household.

Generation gap hasn't reached this family

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: With mixed emotions, amusement and annoyance, I read the letter from the mother who was concerned because her eighth grade son insisted on kissing her goodby every morning.

As a small boy, who kissed his parents and grandparents regularly, I had to contend with counselors and a school principal [who hated children] who found me frustrating. As a child with a formidable record of academic achievement, I had many friends. Why were the pseudo-psychologists unhappy? Because my classmates elected me captain of the softball team as well as class president. Everyone knows "gifted" children have social problems, and if they don't, they'd better develop some or some courses in child psychology will be phased out of existence.

Today, I still kiss both parents regularly. As a young Ph.D., still single, I like living at home as part of a closely knit family. I constantly encounter persons who declare, in dismay, "When are you going to move out and lead your own life?" They are especially upset, in this age of hippies, yuppies and malcontents, that I share my parents' sense of values. After all, what respectable young man today gets along well with his parents?

Unfortunately, some parents seem intent on invoking the dubious principles of reverse psychology: They applaud wildly as Johnny "expresses" himself by telling Mom and Dad to jump out the nearest window, but they worry if he displays even minimal affection for parents, who, in many instances, have devoted a large part of their lives to him.

If you are acquainted with any frustrated Freudians, please suggest that they try to solve their own problems before inventing neuroses for the rest of us, in order to satisfy their own preconceived misconceptions of the generation gap. No need for anonymity here.

CORDIALLY, MARK EVANS, Ph.D.

DEAR MARK: You seem unbelievably well-adjusted. Now, if there are any Freudians out there [frustrated or otherwise] who suspect that you have a problem, I hope they will write in and tell us both what it is.

DEAR ABBY: I wrote to you 10 years ago for advice on what to do about a man I had been going with for 20 years. I was married and so was he, but we carried on a real love affair all that time.

Well, he solved my problem for me when his wife left him. He got a divorce and took up with a young girl he hardly knew, and he married her.

I thought I would die when he dropped me for her, but now I realize that he did me the greatest favor in the world.

I can now appreciate what a jewel my husband is. He is ready to retire, and I pray God will give me many years to make up to him for all the heartache I put him thru.

Please tell women that it doesn't pay to be the other woman. I learned the hard way. Thank you.

WINSTON-SALEM

DEAR W. S.: That's what I've been saying for 15 years. But if I had told you that 10 years ago, would you have listened?

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for two years to a man who has a habit of doing something which infuriates me. If he loses his temper, he will kick me or slap me. It is always for something petty like if he wants me to stop talking or do something faster.

I have told him how much this upsets me, and he keeps promising he won't ever do it again, but the next time he loses his temper, he forgets his promise.

To teach him a lesson, I have considered refusing to get up at 5:30 the next morning to fix him a big breakfast. Do you think it would do any good? I just hate to be kicked and slapped.

L. IN FLUSHING

DEAR L.: Try it. And if he forgets again, try "forgetting" to get up to fix him a big breakfast for a month.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69766, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Note to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69766, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Your Horoscope

By Jeanne Dixon

SUNDAY, FEB. 27
 Your birthday today: Developing the added resources implied by increasing personal growth and activity promises to be your major challenge of the year ahead. Sidelines, hobbies, moonlighting are all within reason to consider, along with a reevaluation of your main support. Today's natives are dexterous, able to mimic or swallow examples, usually have talent for figures and mechanical equipment.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Good intentions introduce you to a wide range of people, including several outside your familiar group. Much is gained with these fresh contacts.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Experiment; try new ways of setting forth your charm. Bright ideas fit right into the scheme of interesting things to do.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Offer and accept kindness regardless of previous experiences; nothing is immutable where past errors are concerned.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: The marvelous idea may not be your own, but it works just as well under your handling and promotion. Get an early start.

Leo [July 23-Aug 22]: Gather people of like interests. Share experience, friendly rivalry, understanding for long-range collaboration.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept 22]: Casual talk among old friends implies a big promise. Be sure of what you're hearing and begin working to help make it come true.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: As you are more in touch with your environment, do what you can to develop the esthetic characteristics in others. Build for social peace.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Be inquisitive, independent as you experiment with modern attire. You now get beyond an inhibition or barrier, never to retreat.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: See the work and the world of this Sunday as an opening for gentle personal conquest. If you are free, bring friends along to roam past field and stream.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Make social arrangements involving only a few people. Surprises come from distant sources and younger people nearby.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: A suddenly presented choice doesn't mean you must change or abandon courses. Consult all concerned before acting. If possible, stick with the original decision.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Speak promptly, while things are still amenable to improvement. Meeting others on an even basis works wonders—try!

Stock Market Explained For El Progresso Club

Paul Payne presented a talk, entitled, "Insight Into the Complexities of the Stock Market," at the recent meeting of El Progresso Club in the home of Mrs. Bruce Riehart, 1615 Fir.

"What you buy must increase in valuation," he told the women. "You should not invest just for dividends, but for capital gains."

He explained that a person who is going to play the stock market should have knowledge and know the history of stocks and bonds and should study what to buy and sell.

He pointed out, also, that there are different books available on the stock market.

Mrs. J. F. Malone, president, announced the spring district convention of the Federation of Women's Clubs will be held March 23-24, in Dumas. Theme of the convention will be "Diamond Jubilee of Enrichment." Mrs. Kermit Lawson, J. F. Malone, Roy McMillen, Tom Perkins, Glenn Radcliff, Quentin Williams and Bruce Riehart.

Easter Seal Appeal Letters To Be Delivered

Easter Seal Appeal letters are to be delivered this week in Gray County according to Paul Keim, representative of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas.

As representative, Keim serves as contact for disabled persons needing Easter Seal rehabilitation services and also serves as treasurer of the Easter Seal Appeal in Gray County.

The Easter Seal Society offers physical and occupational therapy, speech and hearing programs, and special equipment loans to enable disabled persons to make the best use of their abilities to overcome handicaps. These services are financed by the annual Easter Seal Appeal.

The Society also provides for research into the causes and cures of crippling conditions, finances public education programs, and provides scholarships for training of professional personnel to staff rehabilitation centers.

Keim pointed out that all the programs are important if Texas is going to continue to provide the best in rehabilitation services for its own disabled citizens. During 1971, the Texas Easter Seal Society provided treatment and services for over 22,000 children and adults who were in need of rehabilitation. These services are available to any disabled person who can benefit from help provided by the Easter Seal Society, he added.

The Easter Seal Campaign will run through Easter Sunday, April 2.

'The Magic World Of Electricity' Will Be Presented On TV In Area

"The Magic World of Electricity," a new educational film program produced for 4-H Club members and potential 4-H members, will be presented soon on television in this area, according to Patricia Henderson and Richard Guggisberg, assistant county extension agents.

The program is composed of six films designed to help youth become better aware of opportunities offered for learning through 4-H and to learn about electricity and its ways of helping man, according to Miss Henderson. The film series is provided jointly by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the investor-owned electric utility companies of Texas.

Astronaut Neil Armstrong, in the first film, "Exploring the World of Electricity," introduces the series. "Sam, Betty and Mr. E," two 4-H members and their adult leader, explore the three basic uses of electricity, how an electromagnet is made, and how broadcasts are made from a television station.

A description of how electricity is made and delivered to the home is shown in the second film, "The Men Behind the Switch." "Sam," a friend, "Maurio," and "Mr. E." visit a power plant and study how electricity is generated, transmitted, and distributed.

Pampa Knights Of Columbus Set Polish Sausage Dinner

The 18th annual Knights of Columbus Polish sausage dinner and supper will be served on Sunday, March 5, 1972. Grand Knight Paul Eakin has appointed Chuck Albus as General Chairman with Jack Sharp and Roy Marchak as Co-Chairmen.

General Chairman Albus said that some 20 chairmen have been appointed to oversee the various phases of producing a successful Polish sausage dinner and supper. These Chairmen duties range from advertising to dishwashing, purchasing supplies to cooking and parking to table waiting.

Plans have been completed to make 1,800 pounds of Polish sausage according to a closely guarded recipe, with two of the Knights mixing and seasoning and overseeing the making of the sausage from start to finish.

This sausage will be steamed and barbecued to serve along with 400 pounds of potato salad and 350 pounds of cole slaw, both the potato salad and cole slaw are made by a recipe that has been used for years. Paul Eakin, head cook, and his able crew will also prepare 20 gallons of apricots and 90 pounds of beans and Paul will add his personal touch to the barbeque sauce.

The Knights are qualified, through experience, to do everything necessary to prepare a most potable sausage dinner, but cakes and home made pies are taken care of by the ladies of the Knights. On Saturday, March 4 and Sunday, March 5, bankers, business men, managers, farmers, and other VIP's will become cooks, table waiters, dishwashers, pie cutters, ticket takers, sausage sellers and coat checkers in order to serve a delicious Polish sausage dinner and supper in a friendly atmosphere to an anticipated crowd of 1,200.

The members of Frank Keim Council No. 2767 invite everyone to make plans to attend the 18th Annual Polish Sunday, March 5 from 11:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. and from 4:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. at Columbus Club Hall, Ward at Buckler Streets in Pampa, Texas.

Prices for tickets are Adults $2.00, Children $1.00, and children under six years of age are free. Advance tickets are available from any member of Frank Keim Council. Sausage to go by the pound, cooked or uncooked, will be available by 11:00 a.m. Sunday Morning, March 5, 1972.

In the third film, "Motors or Muscles," the 4-H's and their adult leader learn how motors are made and look at some of the ways their lives are dependent on motors. Special uses of motors at the Astrodome are explored and the 4-H members have an interview with Houston Astros player, Dennis Menke.

"Electrifying Beauty," the fourth film, shows a 4-H group visiting Six Flags Over Texas where they discover special effects from lighting. An appearance by Vonda Kay Van Dyke, a former Miss America, is a feature of the fourth film. The 4-H's also learn how to make a decorative lamp from a soft drink can and explore special lighting effects at an architect's home.

Music and radio are shown to be fun ways to "turn on" through electricity in "Electricity Turns Me On," film number five. The two 4-H members visit with a popular music group to find out how electronics are involved in their instruments. Also, "Sam" discovers how to make a simple radio after the mystery of radio becomes of special interest to him.

Astronaut Walt Cunningham tells "Betty and Sam" about fuel cells. Also, the two 4-H's and some of their friends explore some of the newest developments in electricity. Electronic cooking is investigated and "Sam" drives a tractor powered by rechargeable batteries.

A booklet titled "Mr. E's 4-H Electric Tricks" is available for each participant in the film series. Youth interested in participating may obtain the booklet by mail from the County Extension Office, Box 2140, Pampa. Youth who want to form 4-H project groups or clubs and explore electricity in more detail may obtain additional materials on electricity from the County Extension office. Miss Henderson said.

Measurement of the yard originally was based on the distance from the tip of the nose to the end of the outstretched arm and hand.

Steve Gobin Signs Letter For Buffaloes

CANYON, Tex.—A trio of high school football players, headed by Perryton all-star Steve Gobin, have signed Missouri Valley Conference letters of intent with West Texas University.

Hereford defensive back Eugene Suttle and defensive lineman Mark McCormick of Savannah, Ga., are the other signees.

Gobin, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Gobin, earned all-district honors three years on defense and two on offense.

The 6-0, 180-pounder was a tight end on offense and linebacker on defense.

Although Perryton didn't pass often this past season, Gobin caught 17 passes for 420 yards and eight touchdowns. He earned all-state honors at linebacker. He was a team captain.

Miss Holm won the 1,000 in 1:31.88, with Mrs. Keulen-Deelstra second in 1:32.37 and Miss Plug third in 1:32.39. Ludmila Titova of the Soviet Union was fourth in 1:32.57 and Miss Sandby fifth in 1:32.73.

Miss Carpenter tied Stien Bass-Kaiser, the Olympic 3,000-meter winner from The Netherlands, for sixth in 1:32.93. Miss Poulos was ninth in 1:33.17, Miss Young 12th in 1:34.87 and Miss Lunda 20th in 1:36.57.

In the over-all standings, Miss Young was seventh with 91.635 points, Miss Carpenter eighth with 91.805 and Miss Lunda 17th with 93.945.

Atje Keulen-Deelstra of The Netherlands was the overall leader with 91.145 points, followed by Leah Poulos of Northbrook Ill., and Miss Holm, also of Northbrook, in 91.270.

Sixteen-year-old Anne Henning of Northbrook, winner of the 500 and third in the 1,000 at the Winter Olympics in Japan, was not competing. Miss Holm won the Olympic 1,500 and was second in the 3,000. Miss Holm won the 1,000 in 1:31.88, with Mrs. Keulen-Deelstra second in 1:32.37 and Miss Plug third in 1:32.39. Ludmila Titova of the Soviet Union was fourth in 1:32.57 and Miss Sandby fifth in 1:32.73.

Taylor and Behagen Stay Under School Suspension

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Marvin "Corky" Taylor and Ron Behagen, their season suspensions unanimously continued by Big Ten athletic directors, are considering still another appeal of their case although time is running out on the 1972 college basketball season.

Attorneys for the two players said Friday a decision to appeal the season-long suspension from the University of Minnesota basketball team to the conference's faculty representatives rests with Taylor and Behagen.

Dr. Jerome Moss, chairman of Minnesota's Assembly Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics, said any university action would await the players' direction.

The Gophers, playing without their 6-foot-9 junior forwards for five games since the Jan. 25 brawl with Ohio State, have four games to play, including this afternoon's showdown for the Big Ten lead at Michigan.

Three Ohio State players were treated at a hospital after the game was stopped with 36 seconds to play and Ohio State awarded a 50-44 victory.

Complying with a U.S. District Court order by Judge Earl R. Larson, Minneapolis, the Big Ten athletic directors met Thursday and Friday to reconsider their suspensions and file a decision by 6 p.m. Friday.

The seven-man panel of directors continued the suspensions, which also prohibit ED HUGHES was the coach of the NFL's Houston Oilers when he posed for the photograph above last year. But things have changed and Hughes, who lost his coaching job in a dispute with Oiler owner Bud Adams, had to take a job at a factory that makes dump trucks when the Oilers said he would not be paid for the remaining four years of the five-year contract he signed in 1971.

State's Top Boxers To Invade Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The state's premier amateur boxers invade Fort Worth this week for the 36th Texas Golden Gloves Tournament in Will Rogers Coliseum.

The four-day show opens Thursday night, continues Friday and Saturday and concludes Monday with the crowning of the state's representatives to the national tournament.

Four of a possible seven defending champions returning are James "Bubba" Busceme of Beaumont, James Martinez of Dallas, Paul Stephens of Fort Worth and Johnny Boudreaux of Houston.

The only definite absentee champs will be bantamweight Johnny Moreno of San Antonio and welterweight Tommy Van Hatten of Fort Worth, who now are professionals, and heavyweight Nick Wells of Fort Worth, who didn't compete in the regionals.

Busceme rules as the top drawing card. The Lamar University student is the reigning lightweight titlist and his achievements read like a who's who list. The swift southpaw is a three-time national gloves winner.

Martinez, a flyweight, also is a defending national champion and is appearing here for the third time.

Stephens will be after his third consecutive national tournament berth. The middleweight, who has captured six Fort Worth regional blue ribbons, also competed in the 1970 national tourney as an alternate.

Boudreaux is a 1970 crown-bearer, but the 19-year-old won't be in the same weight division this year. He took the light heavyweight title last year and is moving up to heavyweight. He also was a runnerup in the 1969 state tourney and fought in the nationals as an alternate.

Other 1971 champions also expected to be back are featherweight Ladislao Vicencio of El Paso, light welterweight Billy Miller of Temple and light middleweight Johnny Calloway of Lamesa.

Some solid contenders include welterweight Pat Ozuna of Wichita Falls, who won the 1969 state lightweight title and has spent the last two years in Vietnam; bantamweight Bobby Vasocu of Tyler, who has been a semifinalist the last three years and represented the United States against England and Russia earlier this year; featherweight Hector Pena of Dallas, who was a 1970 runnerup; and Danny Avalos of Corpus Christi, who has fought in the last three state tournaments and whose brothers, Gilbert and Jesse, were state champions.

Athlete's Friend Is His Attorney

BOSTON (AP) — An athlete's best friend these days is neither his dog nor his mother. Neither one of them can negotiate for him a three-year, no-out contract for $400,000.

But Bob Woolf can. Woolf, 43, calls himself a "sports attorney." In the past seven years he has negotiated more than 300 contracts for athletes and currently handles the business affairs of more than 200, including such stars as Jim Plunkett, John Havlicek and Derek Sanderson.

He is in demand by and represents athletes who play hockey, basketball, football and baseball. He does not recruit clients—they come to him—and he resents being called an agent. He does not collect a percentage of the athlete's earnings, but rather works on an "amiable" annual fee.

The contracts negotiation is only part of the job Woolf does when he takes on an athlete as a client. It is the aspect most evident to the public, "but that's only half of it," Woolf says. The other half involves taking care of his client's finances, from paying his bills to deciding upon a spending allowance.

"We want our clients to have every cent they earned, plus a modest appreciation, when they retire," Woolf said. "I tell them, 'Let's work equally as hard at keeping your money as you do at earning it.'"

Woolf, who has eight lawyers working in his office, owns homes in a fashionable section of Brookline, Mass., and in Hollywood, Fla., and drives a new Cadillac with a telephone within easy reach. He has not made a sudden financial killing through his sports clients. Seven years ago, before he ever represented anyone connected with the sports world, he had eight assistants and two homes and he still had a flashy automobile.

"I had a large law practice and I was proud of it," says Woolf, who was president of his law class at Boston University.

He became involved in athletics about seven years ago when Earl Wilson, then a pitcher with the Boston Red Sox, stopped by to discuss a legal matter unrelated to sports. Wilson later asked Woolf to help him with his taxes, then his contract.

"I've had calls to represent the world's champion mountain climber, the world's trick ski artist and a paraplegic who wants to swim the English Channel both ways," Woolf says, "but I'm just not geared for that."

Buffaloes Win Over OC, 90-66

The West Texas State Buffaloes closed their lackluster season against the Oklahoma Christian Eagles with a 90 to 66 victory. The Buffs have been fighting injuries throughout the season and only in the past few encounters have fielded their normal healthy squad.

Oklahoma Christian entered the game with an 18 and 6 season mark while the Buffs were sporting a 12 and 10 tally.

Class A Champions Advancing

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Defending Class A champion Claude defeated Southlake Carroll 57-55 to win its second straight conference title in girls' basketball Saturday.

Janice Irby, 6-2, a 1971 all-tournament forward, led the scoring with 38 points. Peggy O'Brien, 6-0, scored 26 for Southlake Carroll.

Carroll led briefly at the start of the game, 2-0, but never took the lead again and missed their final shot with eight seconds left.

Round Top-Carmine also repeated last year's championship play, winning a second straight Class B crown by defeating Hockabay of Stephenville, 54-58.

Nina Marburger, 6-1, who won all-tournament honors last year, led Round Top-Carmine's scoring with 30 points. Karen Spain of Hockabay scored 21 points. It was Hockabay's first time in the state tournament.

UCC's Jorge Andrew out-dueled Kenny McMillan in a grueling number one singles matchup 2-6, 6-2, 7-6. Andrew, who upset SMU's Gardner while McMillan was surprising Trinity's Stockton in Friday's semi-finals play, was the only number one singles player to make it through three-day meet undefeated.

Oklahoma City University, seeded third behind Trinity and SMU breezed to a 5-0 victory over Oral Roberts for the consolation title. University of Houston eased by Texas 5-2 in their battle for fifth place, and Oklahoma claimed seventh place with a 4-3 victory over West Texas.

Fort Worth Paschal edged Dallas Pinkston 34-27 for the High School Division crown.

Three meet records fell in the invitational field event. Texas' Bill Smalley set a pole vault record with a 16-1 effort.

Ken Ford of Texas Tech erased the long jump standard with a leap of 24-3 3/4 inches. Gary Kafer of Baylor and Silvio Bosch of Texas each set a high jump record of 6-feet 10 inches, but Kafer won the first place points with fewer misses.

The Longhorns outpointed SMU 84-42 in the invitational division.

Dallas Baptist ran away with the university-college division 78-58 1/2 over Louisiana Tech.

Ranger Junior College totaled 85 points for the junior college division team honors.

Palmer Shot Out Of Gleason Open

FT. LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — South African Gary Palmer shot himself out of it with a horrendous 80.

Player, making his first American start of the season, fashioned a three-under-par 69 and was tied for the lead at 210 with tall Tom Weiskopf and lanky Mac McLendon.

Weiskopf matched Player's three-under-par 69 on the 7,128-yard Inverrary Golf Club course while McLendon took a 70.

Phil Rodgers and John Schlee were one stroke off at 211. The veteran Rodgers had a 70 and Schlee took a 73 under the overcast skies as player after player backed off in the intense pressure of the chase for a $25,000 first prize.

None, however, had the troubles that beset the muscular man from Latrobe, Pa., the game's greatest gate attraction and all-time leading money winner.

Palmer's 80 was his highest score since he shot an 83 in the first round of the 1969 PGA National Championship at Dayton, Ohio.

Player shouldered his way into a share of the third-round lead in Jackie Gleason's $260,000 Inverrary Golf Classic Saturday while Arnold Palmer shot himself out of it with a horrendous 80.

The Pampa High School girls volleyball team made it to semi-finals in the Amarillo High Invitational Meet yesterday.

Fem volleyers of PHS had their hopes high as they raked Amarillo High over the coals in the first series of games. The goal was the best two out of three, but the third confrontation was not necessary as the scores for the first two were 15-8, 15-8 favor of Pampa.

Tascosa's female Rebels faced the fem Harvesters during the semi-finals. Tascosa came up the victor with the scores being 15-7 and 10-12. Time ran out before the last confrontation could be completed.

Next Thursday Pampa's fem fighters will face the Caprock Longhorns, over the net in cow country to begin district play.

Caprock took over the Borger tourney last weekend and volley coach Mrs. Lynn Wolfe predicts them to be quite a challenge.

Mrs. Wolfe seemed pleased that her young squad (mostly juniors and sophomores) did so well against the more experienced teams of Amarillo.

Action begins in Caprock's gym at 6:30 with the B matches first having a string action to follow.

The largest tournament field of its history has entered with some fourteen teams challenging for the trophies. Trophies will be awarded 1st, 2nd, Consolation and Team Sportsmanship. Teams entered are Borger, Spearman, Borger First Baptist Church, Pampa First Baptist Church, T.S.T.I. of Amarillo, Amarillo Pantex, Pampa High School Bank, Davis' Bombers of Pampa,

Games will begin at 6:20 P.M., Borger First Baptist. Games will begin at 6:20 p.m. each evening followed by contests at 7:35 and 8:50 p.m. Monday's first day action finds Borger Eight Day vs Pampa Indep. at 6:20 p.m., Borger First Baptist Church vs Pampa First Baptist Church and T.S.T.I. vs Davis Bombers at 8:50 p.m. The public is invited to attend the tournament. Corpus Christi Meet Swept By Trinity Four Corpus Christi, Tex. (AP) — Defending champion Trinity, using its four All-Americans for the first time, swept all five singles matches in overpowering Southern Methodist 52 for its third straight championship in the fourth annual Corpus Christi Intercollegiate Team Tennis Championship Saturday.

Dickey Stockton, Trinity's top-seeded singles entry, set the trend for the nationally-ranked Tigers by blasting SMU's top-ranked John Gardner 6-2, 6-4 in their number one singles match.

It was the first tournament win for Stockton who along with Paul Gerkin missed Thursday's first day in New York tournament.

SMU did manage to win both doubles matches but Trinity coach Clarence Mabry with-drew Stockton and fellow All-Americans Bobby McKinley, Brian Gotfried and Gerkin from that competition in favor of four other members of the Tiger team.

Host University of Corpus Christi gained four singles victories in defeating Pan American University 4-3 for third place in the 16-team tourney.

Chones Claims: 'I Had To Sign'

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Chones, the latest college basketball player to sign with the pros, admits that the million dollars got the best of him. "I had to sign," said the Marquette star who was presented to the press Friday by the New York Nets of the American Basketball Association.

Chones, attired in a mod brown suit and flanked by three members of his family, answered questions about the ethics of leaving a college team in quest of a national championship.

"What do you have to say about charges that you had no regard for the other kids?" he was asked.

"The kids didn't resent it—they knew I had to sign," said the 6-foot-11 Chones, considered one of the best college centers in the nation as a junior. "I talked with them before I signed. They understood... it was a matter of priorities. They knew I placed my family above everything else.

Chones, who signed for a million-dollar-plus, long-term contract, was asked why he couldn't have waited until after the post-season tournaments.

"Wouldn't the million still have been there if you had waited?" asked someone.

"Maybe," said Chones, "but I couldn't take a chance. What if I broke leg or got hit by a car."

Under ABA rules, Chones is ineligible to join the Nets until next season. He said he will continue his education at the midwestern school.

Baylor Is Committed To Football Program

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Baylor University indicated this weekend that it is not lessening its football goals despite a series of rocky seasons.

Baylor Stadium Corp. directors voted Friday to spend $400,000 to install artificial turf.

Baylor President Abner McCall cited the action as showing "total commitment" to the athletic program.

McCall, who estimated the cost, said friends of the school already have pledged more than half of the amount.

Work on the stadium will begin before spring training.

"There is no middle ground in the Southwest Conference. You're either got to compete or get out," said McCall. "We have come to the conclusion that we will go ahead with artificial turf. There are some who have said that Baylor is not serious about its football program, but I think our actions today will dispel such rumors."

Head coach Grant Taff said he was "overwhelmed" by the news, which would be a recruiting aid.

Steve Judy Named MVP

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Steve Judy, who made a shambles of Sammy Baugh's collegiate passing records, was named Friday night as Texas Christian's most valuable player of 1971.

The longview senior was presented the Dan D. Rogers MVP award at the Horned Frogs' annual football banquet. Previous winners included Baugh, Bob Lilly and O'Brien.

Tightend Ronnie Peoples of Odessa received two awards, the Grassy Hinton Most Conscientious Player Award and the Abe Martin Award for Unselfish contribution to the team effort.

Gary Martinec of Fort Worth was named outstanding defensive lineman and Jerry Wauson of Seminole was outstanding offensive lineman.

Rice University Wins Track Meet

HOUSTON (AP) — Rice University won its first track meet of the season Saturday, besting Texas A&M 70 to 60 in a nonconference event.

Ken Stadel set two new school records, tossing the shot put 55 feet, 11 inches, to break the old record of 53-10 he himself set in 1971, and also setting a record in the discus throw with his toss of 181 feet, 2 1/2 inches. The effort again bested his own record of 177 feet, 2 inches set last year.

In the mile relay, the A&M team of Horace Grant, David Morris, Doug Brodhead and Willie Blackmon took the event with a time of 3:13.6 seconds. Rice's team had the same time but was just a hair behind at the finish.

Rice Owls Stun A&M Aggies With 73 To 69 SWC Upset

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Rice fought off a late furious rally by Texas A&M and stunned the Aggies with a 73-69 Southwest conference basketball upset Saturday.

It was the first league victory of the year for the Owls, who are now 3-3.

The loss dropped A&M's record to 8-4 and momentarily knocked the Aggies out of a share of first place, depending on the Texas-SMU game being played later in the afternoon.

Rice, playing a tight defense, carved out 43-31 halftime advantage but the battling Aggies caught them at 62-62 with 3:58 remaining.

It was tied again at 64-64 but A&M never gained the lead.

The Owls outshot the Aggies 49.2 per cent to 38.2 per cent but A&M controlled the boards with 52 rebounds to 43 for Rice.

Leroy Marion led Rice with 21 points and John Kabbes had 15. Bobby Threadgill scored 25 for A&M while Randy Knowles had 18.

Vida Blue Not Answering Finley's Telephone Calls

CHICAGO (AP) — The telephone isn't ringing for Charley Finley. Vida Blue won't return his calls.

The Oakland A's owner told the Associated Press Saturday that he remains firm in his $50,000 offer to his 22-year-old award-winning pitcher.

"But I want to talk to Vida and explain to him in person the fairness of my offer," said Finley. "In the last week I've placed 10 phone calls to him at his home in Mansfield, La. Seven times no one answered. Twice I reached his mother and once his sister. They told me Vida was out, or somewhere."

"I asked them to have him call me. He hasn't. I want to go down to Mansfield and talk with him. But I can't make arrangements until he tells me he will be there."

Finley said he hopes Blue who led the A's to the Western Division title last season with a 24-8 record, and as a rookie, won the Most Valuable Player Award in the American League and the Cy Young Award, will reconsider and join the team before he is stamped an official holdout March 1.

Ramos Is Unhappy About His Crown

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mando Ramos is unhappy that his lightweight boxing championship has been taken away, but he is more than willing to meet Spain's Pedro Carrasco again.

Jackie McCoy, Ramos' manager, said Friday he'd welcome another fight with Carrasco to settle the issue. It would be the third World Boxing Council title bout between the two since last November.

"Mando feels he wouldn't consider himself the champion until he fights Carrasco again," McCoy said. "Not that he thought he lost, but that he thought he looked bad. He just wasn't sharp."

Ramon Velasquez, WBC president in Mexico City, said Thursday the Feb. 18 fight here will not be recognized as a title fight. He recommends that the next fight between the two have three Mexicans serving as judges and the referee.

McCoy said the WBC with- held recognition "because according to their rules, there should have been a neutral referee, a Spanish judge and an American judge. Since all three were American, they wouldn't recognize it as a title fight."

Carrasco was knocked down four times by Ramos in their first meeting in Madrid before a Nigerian referee disqualified Ramos on a foul. The WBC later ruled the bout a no contest and ordered the rematch.

McCoy said it was "funny" that WBC officials were present and "nobody said anything about why there weren't neutral officials until the fight was over. Whatever they said, we'd have gone along with it."

Velasquez said his recommendation for three Mexican officials "will put an end, once and for all, to those local decisions which have brought so many troubles to us."

Blue, through his attorney, Robert J. Gerst of Los Angeles, is asking for $2,000 this season.

Blue's contract last year was for $14,750, slightly more than the major league minimum. As fringes, Finley said he threw in a luxury auto, a gasoline credit for one year, $1,000 cash for new clothes, and $600 of auto insurance. Finley figures the fringes to be worth $13,100.

Blue is the only Oakland player unsigned, Finley said, after second baseman Dick Green came to terms earlier Saturday.

"I don't mind paying a player that has proved himself, but a player can't prove himself in just one year," said Finley. "I've got five proven players who have signed for $50,000 or more."

Detroit Demolishes Choneless Marquette

DETROIT (AP) — A hot-shooting University of Detroit basketball team scored a smashing 70-49 victory Saturday over second-ranked Marquette, which was playing without star center Jim Chones who turned pro last week.

It was the second game for the Warriors without Chones, who signed with the New York Nets of the American Basketball Association for more than $1 million.

In the first game with Chones they beat Creighton. The Titans streaked to an early 15-point lead in the first half and held a 36-24 bulge at halftime. They never let up in the second half, leading at one point by 24 points.

It was the first less of the year for Marquette, rated just behind UCLA in The Associated Press poll. The Warriors edged Detroit earlier in the season, 68-66 in Marquette.

The absence of Chones was sorely felt, but it was debatable whether his presence would have saved the day for Marquette.

Detroit shot 65 per cent in the first half, featuring deadly outside shooting, and displayed a tenacious defense that usually limited the Warriors to just one shot at a time.

Longhorns Demolish SMU Tangs

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Sophomore Larry Robinson led the Texas Longhorns to a 93-81 basketball triumph over Southern Methodist Saturday vaulting the Steers into a tie for first place in the Southwest Conference.

Robinson scored 37 points as the Longhorns moved their conference mark to 8-4, dropping the Mustangs from a solo lead given them when Rice defeated A&M earlier in the day. Robinson scored 14 of 23 field shots and 9 of 9 from the foul line and gathered 10 rebounds as he notched his career scoring high at Texas.

Junior B. G. Brosterhaus pulled down 14 rebounds and scored 15 points for the Longhorns.

For SMU, Rubin Triplett scored 24 points, hitting 11 of 21 field shots. The victory moved Texas' season record to 15-7 while SMU is now 14-10.

The first half was a nip and tuck affair with the lead changing eight times and the score tied six times. Texas scored the last eight points in the half to lead 46-39 at intermission.

Robinson hit the first two baskets in the second half to give Texas an 11-point margin and the Horns went on to stretch to it as much as 18 points.

Hoover Wright To Referee Meet

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Veteran track coach Hoover Wright of Prairie View A&M, near Houston, will be the referee of the Texas Relays, which have been scheduled for April 7-8.

Wright, a member of the U.S. Olympic staff for 1972, has twice been named coach of the year in the NAIA.

Texas Longhorn coach Cleburne Price also said Saturday that H. C. "Bully" Gilstrap, former Longhorn athlete and coach, will be the honorary referee at the 45th annual relays.

For more than 25 years Gilstrap was in charge of the relay events and was associated with the University of Texas for more than 50 years.

He retired recently to become a rancher near Rosebud, in Central Texas.

ELECTRIC HOME CONDITIONING
designed for your personal comfort - all year long!

The versatility of electric home conditioning equipment makes it possible to fit heating, cooling, air cleaning and humidification to the personal requirements of your family.

Electric heating equipment, for example, is selected after competent engineering studies of your home requirements. Taken into consideration are cost of equipment, installation, operating cost and warmth factors. A variety of equipment is available including baseboard, ceiling cable, furnace, wall heaters, duct heaters.

On the cooling side, electric equipment comes in numerous sizes so that you do not unnecessarily pay for too large an installation nor are you forced to use, in order to save equipment costs, a too small unit that won't do the cooling job your family needs. Automatic humidification is easily available as is automatic cleaning of the air.

Whatever it takes for your personal comfort - electric has!

1 Card of Thanks

David Warren (Red) Weakley
What would we give to see your smile? To sit and talk with you while we often sit and think of you for things you used to say, and to miss you now, our hearts are sore. As time goes on we miss you more. Your living smile your gentle face no one can fill your vacant place. The blow was sudden the shock severe To part with you whom we love so dear. Wonder why you had to die. Without a chance to say goodbye Many a lonely heartache. Often a silent tear, but always a beautiful memory of one we love so dear.

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our many friends and neighbors who were so kind to us during the recent loss of our love one. We wish to express gratitude for the beautiful floral arrangements and the kind words of sympathy. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Weakley

Judo Lessons
There has been a change in meeting time for Judo due to the school schedule of our instructor. Judo will meet only on Thursday nights from 7-8:30. No meeting on Monday because our instructor, Paul Moot, must attend night school. Judo enrollment is still open to boys 8 years of age or older and girls who are 12 years of age or older. Parents, both male and female, are invited to participate with the children. Each participant should be a Center member which is $5. for 6 months or $8. per year. In addition a mat fee of 50 cents per month is charged. If you are interested, please attend the Thursday meeting and full details will be given to you by the instructor.

Dolphin Swim Team
Boys and girls who are interested in competitive swimming, please draw your attention to this column. The Youth Center is the home of the Dolphins. This is a swim club for boys and girls who know how to swim and like to race. Swimmers from 6-18 are invited to participate. The club is A.A.U. sanctioned and they attend several weekend meets during the year. Swimmers are needed in all age groups to complete relay teams so that we can have relay representation at all meets. All interested swimmers are urged to contact coaches Jackie and Gerald Marlar at 665-1965 and come out for practice. The only requirement is that you be a member of the Youth Center. Workout time is 6-7:00 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Calico Capers Square Dance Club
A particular type of dancing for adults in the Panhandle is square dancing. The Calico Capers Square Dance Club meets each Saturday night at the Center except 5th Saturday nights from 8-11 p.m. They have a regular schedule of guest callers from out-of-town. The club at present has some 33 couples and would invite newcomers in Pampa or those interested in knowing how to square dance, to visit their club on Saturday night. They are presently in the process of enrolling couples for a series of lessons to be taught on Tuesday nights. If you are interested in learning how to dance, please call Ocie Stewart, club president, at 665-1446. He will give you all the information about this.

Memberships
For the information of those new in Pampa, the Center is a community building and is a non-profit organization. Revenue to run the Center is derived from a membership dues and contributions from several clubs, organizations and individuals. Absolutely no tax money from our city, state or federal governments is used or has ever been used here.

Our participation is through a membership plan either limited or unlimited. Our regular membership is called the limited plan and this entitles you to full use of the gym, swimming pool and recreation hall. An individual membership is only $5. for six months or $8. per year. A family membership which includes all members of the immediate family is $12. for six months or $20. per year.

Our unlimited plan entitles the owner to the above accommodations and also use of the new health facility. The health facility includes an exercise room with all the latest exercise equipment such as barrel rollers, facial machines, jungle pulley machine, bicycles, weights, vibrator belts, etc., along with two handball and racquet ball courts and a sauna room. Women, our sauna room produces a dry heat and does not affect the hair in any way. An individual membership here costs $65. for six months or $118. per year. A husband-wife combination plan costs only $90. for six months and $166. per year. We do have a six-months installment plan and if you are interested you may call the health facility at 665-4381 and inquire in detail about this.

Basketball League
First National Bank continued to lead the league with a 12-0 record, but Pampa Rotary Club upset Borger and pulled into a tie with them for second place. Scores this week found First Baptist over Coca-Cola 83-60, Pampa Rotary over Borger in overtime 87-86, First National over Pampa Indep. 92-76 and Celanese bumping Cock O' Walk 46-41. League action will take a two-week rest now while the Top O' Texas Indep. Tournament is being played.

Worry Clinic

By George W. Crane, Ph. D., M. D.

Arnold is insanely jealous of his devoted wife. And it is due to an earlier sexual brainwashing that he received from a traveling salesman! Wives, you can stop such faulty erotic notions by the booklet below. Use it to sweeten a bitter mate!

CASE T-511: Arnold J., age 27, is insalely jealous.

"Dr. Crane," his pretty wife began, "Arnold doesn't even let me go to the store to buy our groceries, unless he is along."

"And he shuns social engagements for he thinks all the men are trying to make dates with me."

"If we do go to a party, then he accuses me till almost morning of being interested in other men."

"Why, I am not even allowed to attend church by myself!"

"And if we occupy a pew with other folks, if the stranger near me offers me a hymnal, the Arnold thinks I must have been dating this man behind his back."

"Actually, I am not interested in any other men but Arnold, so why does he make such false accusations?"

JEALOUSY'S CAUSE

"It takes a thief to catch a thief," runs an old adage.

Which means, in effect, a person who cheats is more likely to suspect others of doing likewise.

When you married couples encounter abnormal signs of jealousy in your mate, then consider the above idea as a possibility.

But sometimes the illicit philandering is still in the imagination of the jealous person.

He may merely have contemplated being unfaithful but may not actually have been guilty of physical unfaithfulness.

However, it is a sure axiom of psychiatry that a jealous person is a victim of a sexual inferiority complex!

"I haven't what it takes to hold my wife's undying devotion," is thus the terrifying thought that percolates through Arnold's mind.

"Other men can thus outbid me for her affection," is then the follow-up.

So Arnold becomes chronically suspicious of every male he meets and browbeats his wife by false accusations.

For her ardent and often tearful protests of her love are sweet music to his harassed spirit.

Actually, the root of Arnold's specific problem was due to his wrong notion about a woman's erotic hunger.

As a teen-ager, he had heard a traveling salesman describe experiences with prostitutes in Chicago's "red light" district.

The salesman recounted vivid cases of wild sexual passion that were demonstrated by those commercial female sex pots.

And the salesman then affirmed, positively, that "all women are wildly passionate; even more so than men!"

Arnold thus believed this Don Juan authority, though those women just put on an act to gain a bigger tip!
