Officials Discuss Goodwill

A group of goodwill ambassadors from the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce were in Pampa yesterday for lunch with a group of Chamber, Pampa Industrial Foundation and city officials.

The meeting was one of a series of similar meetings being held throughout the Panhandle area by officials of the Amarillo chamber to discuss area economic conditions and business in general.

Representing the Amarillo Chamber at the meeting were Charles Woodburn, chairman of the Community Relations Committee of the Amarillo Chamber, Jack Edmondson of West Texas State University, John Kritzer, committee member, and Don Hileman, manager of the Amarillo Chamber.

Pampans attending the meeting were Jerry Sims, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Rex McAnelly, vice president, Gene Steel, finance director, Fred Neslage, president of the Pampa Industrial Foundation, Mayor Jimmy Wilkerson, City Manager Mack Wofford and Chamber manager E. O. Wedgeworth.

RELATIONS WORK — A group of Amarillo Chamber of Commerce officials hosted a goodwill luncheon for a group of Pampa officials yesterday at Coronado Inn as part of their efforts to improve area relations. IN LEAVING FRANCE

Guerrillas Taking Arab Diplomats As Hostages

PARIS (UPI) — France permitted five Palestinian guerrillas to fly to an unnamed Arab country today with six Arab diplomats as hostages, more than 24 hours after they seized the Saudi Arabian embassy in a bid to free guerrilla leader jailed in Jordan.

A Syrian Arab Airlines Caravelle jetliner left Bourget airport at 2:41 p.m. (8:41 a.m. CDT). Officials said the plane filed a flight plan, but the destination was unknown.

The guerrillas released four women hostages before proceeding to the airport in a minibus, accompanied by Arab diplomats and a single police car. But dozens of uniformed and plainclothes police mingled at the airport which was shut off to all other air traffic.

Airport officials said there were five guerrillas and six hostages aboard. The only other hostages were crew members.

Millions of Frenchmen watched the plane liftoff via a television broadcast from the airport in north Paris.

Interior Minister Raymond Marcellin appeared glad to have the problem out of his hands. "I am reassured. I can tell you I did not sleep very much," he said.

The guerrillas sent a message to "the noble French people" which said: "Thank you for your welcome, your wisdom and your understanding."

The guerrillas released three Frenchwomen and a Tunisian girl they held as hostages. None was harmed, but they told of their terrifying 28 hours under the guns of the guerrillas. They said they were forced to sit and were constantly threatened with death.

"Every three hours, the Arabs came to tell us we would be killed because the authorities failed to deliver a plane," said Mrs. Francois Goussault.

"We had to ask permission to go to the bathroom."

After more than 27 hours of tense waiting, the gunmen filed from the modern embassy building with their hostages and quickly climbed into a minibus that police parked in front. The bus, its windows covered by green curtains, sped off immediately in a convoy of cars to the Le Bourget airport six miles away.

A white Caravelle jetliner belonging to the Syrian Arab Airlines arrived only minutes earlier under orders from President Hafez Assad of Syria, who promised the men a plane for a trip to an undisclosed Arab country.

The agreement hammered out between the guerrillas, Arab ambassadors and French authorities provided for the release of the French and women hostages and conduct out of the country for the guerrillas and Arab hostages.

Police chief Jean Paolini said, "I was there when they liberated the women hostages. I cannot give you their identities but there was a young girl, a young woman, an older woman and a Tunisian woman. They said they were well treated."

The guerrilla gunmen, who attacked the embassy early Wednesday and took 15 hostages, said they accepted an offer from President Hafez Assad of Syria to fly to an unnamed Arab country in his personal plane.

Police announced the Palestinians would leave the embassy at 11:30 a.m. (5:30 a.m. CST), free their women hostages there, then travel with the remaining Arab hostages to Le Bourget Airfield for a flight scheduled at 12:30 p.m. (6:30 a.m. CDT).

The guerrillas, believed to total five and armed with pistols and hand grenades, warned negotiators: "We will open fire at the first sign of betrayal."

Destination Unknown
There was no indication which Arab country the gunmen had selected for their destination. Assad is in Algiers for a summit meeting of non-aligned nations.

An agreement reached in night-long bargaining with France and Arab officials provided safe conduct for the guerrillas with their Arab hostages provided they released their French hostages unharmed.

Insurgents Shell Vital Capital City

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Communist-led insurgents shelled the strategic provincial capital of Kompong Cham today and infiltrators fought government troops in the streets. Communists cut the last remaining overland supply route to Phnom Penh.

Cambodian air force helicopters flew through withering ground fire to bring in reinforcements to the besieged town of Kompong Cham, 50 miles north of Phnom Penh, military sources said.

The rebels again cut the road linking Kompong Cham with its airport three miles away today, the sources said. This cut the defending force in half—one half in the town and the other half on the airport side of the road blockage.

Communist artillerymen shelled the town and airport with captured 105 mm American-made guns, the sources said.

A helicopter pilot returning to Phnom Penh from a supply mission said his "Huey" utility helicopter was flung about violently by the force of a 105 mm shell exploding beneath him.

The Communists received an unexpected supply of the big shells today when a parachute drop went astray and landed in Communist-held territory, military sources said.

The sources said an estimated eight to 10 infiltrators were inside the town and were fighting government troops house to house and in the streets, sources said.

Nixon Disappointed In Congress Action

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon charged Congress Wednesday with a "very disappointing" performance and said he will send it a new State of the Union message next Monday calling for inflation-fighting budget cuts, except in defense, and enactment of proposals for meeting the energy crisis.

Nixon's remarks at a televised press conference were made at a time Democratic leaders are offering the olive branch in a new spirit of bipartisanship.

Democratic leaders used such phrases as "grossly unfair" and "shot back his 'very disappointing' label" in responding to Nixon's assessment of Congress' performance. House and Senate Democrats went ahead with a meeting this morning to map a priority schedule while GOP leaders met with Nixon at the White House on the same subject.

A presidential aide said today that public response to the Nixon news conference, based on telephone calls and telegrams to the White House, was very favorable. Republican supporters in Congress and elsewhere gave him excellent marks.

In his second televised news conference in two weeks, Nixon said his message to Congress on Monday would stress bipartisan cooperation in cutting federal spending without damaging the national defense, and acting to ease the mounting U.S. energy shortage.

Regarding oil, the President strongly warned Arab countries against threatening to restrict oil shipments to the United States as a way of pressuring the administration to modify its support of Israel.

Nixon said the United States and Western Europe, the two biggest consumers of Arab oil, would be forced to develop other sources of the petroleum and ease Arab producers without a market if they continued to increase prices and expropriate foreign oil company holdings without fair competition.

On other subjects in his 37-minute news conference, broadcast live from the White House East Room, the President:

—Said he would veto a $2.20 hourly minimum wage bill passed by Congress on the ground it would cause an "enormous" increase in inflation and deny job opportunities for unskilled and youthful workers.

—Said a private audit of his finances "gave the lie" to allegations he had used $1 million in campaign contributions to acquire property at San Clemente, Calif. He denied his San Clemente and Key Biscayne, Fla., properties had been enhanced in value by government-financed improvements for security purposes.

—Said it would be a "grave infringement" on Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's rights for the President to comment on "hypothetical" questions about the legal situation as a result of a federal criminal investigation involving Agnew.

Leaders Dislike Nixon's Labeling

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic congressional leaders today protested as unfair and disappointing President Nixon's own labeling of the Democratic-controlled Congress' performance so far as "very disappointing."

Although Nixon referred favorably to a proposal by House Democratic Floor Leader Thomas P. "Tip" O'Neill for peace talks between the administration and Congress, the President at his news conference Wednesday was critical of legislative progress to date.

O'Neill labeled Nixon's remarks "grossly unfair" while at the same time agreeing to meet with White House adviser Melvin R. Laird for conciliation talks next week.

"If you're as low on the totem pole with the American people as Mr. Nixon is, you'd try to get the monkey off your back, too, and that's what he's trying to do to the Congress," O'Neill commented.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield contended that "we've been doing pretty good workmanlike job" and the assistant Senate leader, Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia said "Congress has an excellent record."

Byrd had urged Wednesday in advance of Nixon's news conference that the White House and Capitol Hill negotiate an end to what he termed a "civil war" between them. Byrd used the phrase again today, saying: "We're getting tired of this civil war."

Democratic congressional leaders set up a meeting this morning to discuss a list of "must" legislation and a target date for adjournment. This had been planned prior to Nixon's criticism of the House and Senate for alleged slowness, saying Congress "is usually a last quarter team (and) in that last quarter, we have to score a lot of points."

Mansfield, in a football-parlance response, said: "In the first two quarters, we crossed the goal-line several times and we scored from yardage. He can always call us back into session."

While Democrats responded angrily to Nixon's charge that Congress' record was "very disappointing in terms of administration initiatives... of vital importance to all of the American people," Republican leaders praised Nixon's news conference performance.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan said of Nixon's reference to O'Neill's conciliation offer: "I'm pleased the President indicated the executive branch would work with Congress trying to get these things done."

Ford said Nixon's performance came off "very well."

Post Office Offers Stamps Through Mail

Postmaster Carl English announced today a new "Stamps by Mail" service will be offered in the Pampa area, beginning later in September.

According to the postmaster, the new service will permit customers to purchase stamps and stamped envelopes through the mail using a personal check or money order.

"This service will be of great benefit to all our customers and especially shut-ins, the elderly and working wives," English said. "It will enable them to satisfy their postal needs simply, rapidly and inexpensively from their own homes."

Leaflets spelling out the details of the service will be distributed to area households and small businesses during the next few weeks, he stated.

According to the postmaster, the new service has been tested in selected cities nationwide with positive results.

A 40 cents fee will be charged to defray the cost of two-way postage, internal processing of checks and other costs associated with this new service.

IN YABLONSKI DEATHS

Murder Charge Filed On Boyle

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former United Mine Workers President W.A. "Tony" Boyle was indicted today by a federal grand jury on a charge of conspiring to kill Joseph A. Yablonski, his rival for the union leadership in 1969.

The indictment was returned by a U.S. District Court grand jury in Pittsburgh and first announced by the Justice Department in Washington.

Boyle was arrested in Washington by two FBI agents moments after the indictment was announced and he was led to an unmarked car from an office building.

A short time earlier, Pennsylvania state police filed a murder charge against Boyle in Washington, Pa., for the slaying of Yablonski at his western Pennsylvania home over the New Year's period after Boyle won a bitterly fought UMW election late in 1969.

The federal indictment formally charged that Boyle conspired to kill Yablonski in order to deprive him of his right to participate in union affairs.

The indictment said Boyle and others named as coconspirators tried to keep Yablonski from expressing his opinions and running for office in his unsuccessful attempt to unseat Boyle.

"According to the indictment, it was part of this conspiracy that the conspirators would kill Yablonski to prevent him from exercising those rights and the conspiracy resulted in the deaths of his wife and daughter," the Justice Department said in announcing the indictments.

A separate criminal information was filed with the indictment charging William J. Turnblazer, president of UMW District 19, with being involved in the same conspiracy to kill Yablonski.

A death sentence was recommended for Martin, 24, of Cleveland, following his trial in 1971 as a triggerman in the slaying of Yablonski, his wife and daughter at their home near Clarksville, Pa., on New Year's eve, 1969.

The Gillys, Vealey, Huddleston, Prater and Pass are awaiting sentencing on Pennsylvania state murder charges.

The Pennsylvania state police murder charge against Boyle was accompanied by a similar charge against Turnblazer.

President Instructs Filing For Appeal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Though President Nixon refused to say he would obey the Supreme Court on the issue, he instructed his lawyers to file an appeal today on the District Court order instructing the president to yield his secret Watergate-related tape recordings for judicial inspection.

The appeal comes on the final day that Chief U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica allowed them.

Sirica last week ordered Nixon to turn over the tapes so he could personally listen to them before deciding whether to turn them over to the Watergate grand jury. The White House promptly said Nixon would "not comply" with the order and later said the decision would be appealed.

The U.S. Court of Appeals, in an unusual move, already has set hearings on the appeal for next Thursday. It said it was doing so to expedite the process so that the case, brought by Special Prosecutor Archibald Cox, could reach the Supreme Court by the time its fall term begins Oct. 11. The grand jury will expire Dec. 4.

The Senate Watergate committee asked Sirica Wednesday to speed proceedings in its separate suit to get the tapes by holding a hearing Sept. 12. The White House simultaneously asked Sirica to delay the hearing until Sept. 24.

At his news conference Wednesday, Nixon acknowledged that he had taken a "hard line" on the tapes and that "we are going to fight the tape issue."

He had earlier said he would abide by a definitive Supreme Court decision, but he refused to say Wednesday what he meant by "definitive."

He stated again the White House position that to release the tapes would harm the constitutional separation of power and "seriously jeopardize" the President's confidentiality with his advisers.

He also seemed to hint that if he wins his case in the Supreme Court he might voluntarily disclose the contents of the tapes, which he contended again verify that he did not know about the Watergate cover-up.

Area Highway Work Okayed

Highway construction in Gray, Hemphill and Dallam counties in the Texas Panhandle was approved yesterday by the Texas Highway Commission.

The 14.6 miles of paving will cost about $750,000.

Four miles will be paved in Gray County, originating at a point 4.8 miles east of U.S. 60 on State 152. The pavement will run south from that point and cost $220,000.

A 5.1 mile stretch of road will be constructed in Hemphill County from FM 277, 7.6 miles east of U.S. 83, to a proposed farm-to-market road along the Wheeler County line. Approximate cost is $330,000.

Astros Studying Solar Eruptions

HOUSTON (UPI) — The sun is exploding with unexpected fury, spewing eruptions of gases more powerful than the hydrogen bomb from its surface. Elated solar scientists asked the crew of Skylab to watch the activity throughout the day today.

A period of relative calm for the Earth's nearest star had been predicted during the last three weeks of the mission, but the astronauts Wednesday caught two flares or giant eruptions of gases off the sun on film and expected to photograph more.

Flight controllers scheduled one of the three spacemen in front of the solar watching telescopes and cameras almost all day because the sun was exploding with such an unexpected fury.

A trained solar physicist, Garriott was manning the controls when one of the flares started, and tracked it through its rise and fall.

Solar scientists on the ground, usually an untruffled lot, find it hard to contain their elation with the data being collected.

The Skylab flights are the first time a battery of instruments have been operated by men above the interference of the Earth's atmosphere.

"We've never had data of this superb quality," Dr. Neil R. Sheeley said of the flare pictures. "We've now actually got the possibility of answering the questions that we've had clues on the last 16 years."

Sheeley predicted there may be disruptions of worldwide communications and a number of auroras, or showers of light across the night sky, caused by the flares.

He said it is important to understand all we can about flares because, "The amount of energy from one of these things far exceeds the amounts of energy we're used to on Earth, such as in a storm, or a hurricane or even an H-bomb."

Flight controllers canceled another planned sweep with the space station cameras to photograph Earth's resources Wednesday afternoon, so the crew could stay close to the sun-monitoring gear.

TREATENS OIL EXPORT

Saudi Arabia Prodding U.S. To Reject Israel

By PHIL NEWSOM UPI Foreign News Analyst When King Faisal of Saudi Arabia visited Washington in 1971, he gently prodded the United States to bring pressure on Israel to withdraw from the Arab territories she seized in the 1967 war. Today, a steel tip has been added to the prod. That's because in the world's energy crisis, Saudi Arabia is a super power. And what in 1971 may have seemed an academic question, in 1973 becomes grim reality. As the United States grapples with inflation and goes through two devaluations of the dollar, the ideological and economic goals of the Arab oil producing states merge and become one.

This is especially true of King Faisal. A Holy War Saudi Arabia played no active role in the 1967 Arab-Israeli war. But as protector of two of Islam's holy places, Medina and Mecca, Faisal also feels a responsibility for Israeli-held old Jerusalem. His opposition to Israel therefore takes on the aspects of a holy war.

Saudi Arabia long has been regarded as one of the United States' few friends in the Middle East. In the face of American pressure to nearly double her present export of around eight million barrels of oil per day, Saudi Arabia is dropping her velvet glove approach and stating bluntly the relationship she sees between the export of oil to the United States and the role she believes the U.S. should play in the Middle East.

Shortages Being Met

By United Press International

With a week to go until the freeze on meat prices is lifted, it appears that the threat of a beef shortage has been met in many cities. Most stores have been able to keep their meat counters stocked, if not full.

The limit on meat prices that has been in effect since mid-June ends Sept. 12. Many cattlemen have been holding their animals back from market until then, but supermarket operators surveyed by United Press International said they did not expect a big boost in prices.

"By the end of September," said Jack Evans, vice president of A.W. Cullum Co., of Dallas. "I feel everything will be normal, except maybe for price. Of course, we hope the market will adjust itself downward by then."

In a prediction that was typical of those surveyed, he said, "Personally, I see a small upsurge in prices after the 12th and then I think it will level off."

Many supermarkets have gone in for buying live cattle and having it custom slaughtered," among them the Ralph's organization, which owns 75 stores in California.

A spokesman for the American Meat Institute in Chicago said earlier fears of an almost total lack of beef proved unfounded. "We were predicting a complete dry-up," he said, "but custom slaughtering changed that picture markedly."

A spokesman for Arden-Mayfair stores in Los Angeles said his firm turned to custom slaughtering because "we didn't want our shoppers to come to the store and be chased away because there was no meat on the counter."

In Atlanta, a spokesman for Publix Markets reported the firm has been getting about 65 per cent of its normal beef supply for the last month. The meat buyer for Handy Andy Inc., a Texas firm which also sells custom-slaughtered beef, said all cuts of meat are available and "we can buy anything we want in meat right now."

"We realize that this is an important case and that the district judges are very anxious to have a decision because they are being bombarded with petitions for resentencing," he said.

Drug Law Resentencing Gives Battle Of Interests

AUSTIN (UPI)—Frank Allen Demolli was caught with 21 pounds of marijuana and sentenced to 25 years in prison.

He missed Texas' new drug laws which went into effect Aug. 27 and would have given him a maximum of 10 years and a fine, but there was still hope for his case because the new laws allowed offenders like him to be resentenced under the new provisions.

But now a suit has carried Demolli's case to the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals and in that appeal, the merits of his case are of little interest. It is now a larger question, a battle of interests hanging in a constitutional balance.

Travis County District Attorney Robert O. Smith, in his argument Wednesday before the appeals court, said the resentencing power granted in

Parents Criticize Schools Funding

AUSTIN (UPI)—An organization of parents of retarded children said Wednesday the deaths of three patients at state schools "were definitely unnecessary" and were the result of the legislature's failure to appropriate the required funds to staff the schools. Carl Bearden, the group's president, said the legislature allocated state schools $22.4 million less than they had requested for the 1974-75 biennium. He said the funds requested would have brought the schools up to national standards.

Bearden also denounced charges made by a group called "Free the Slow, Inc.," which accused state mental health officials of covering up the deaths of two students at the Austin State School. "Such statements are false," Bearden said. "These deaths were made known to our association. The deaths and all the conditions in the dormitory in which they occurred were investigated by our committee in April and May of 1972 with the full cooperation of the department and school officials."

David Sloan, the executive director of the parent group, said the causes of death of the two patients were changed following demands by Free the Slow for official inquests.

Terrorists Now Using AA Rockets

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Military sources report Arab terrorists now have sophisticated anti-aircraft rockets with which they could shoot down airliners—or threaten to—instead of hijacking them.

The first evidence of this came Wednesday when Rome police arrested five Arabs and seized two Soviet-made SA7 Strela missiles. The missiles, which are fired from the shoulder, are designed for shooting down planes at low altitudes such as during take-off and landing, military sources said.

The Rome police said the terrorists were arrested only hours before a planned attack on an Israeli airliner.

Military sources said there have been unverified reports for the past few months that Strelas belonging to the Syrian military had turned up in the hands of Arab guerrilla groups. Whether the rockets were given by the Syrians or stolen from them remained an open question.

The small Russian rockets would be very useful to guerrillas operating inside Israel since Israeli forces generally hunt for and pursue the Palestinians from low flying helicopters.

There was no way of knowing how many of the rockets were in guerrilla hands or whether the Rome attack was the sole one planned or only the first of many.

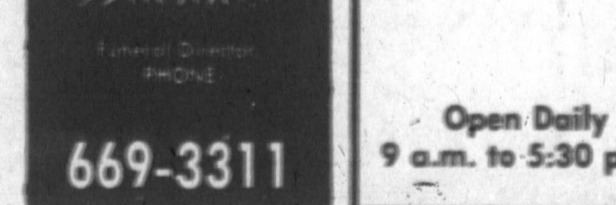

Delia Pounds Cotton Crops

BAY CITY, Tex. (UPI)—Tropical storm Delia pounded $60 million worth of cotton and what was left of the rice crop along the Texas coast.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White toured the area Wednesday with Lt. Gov. William P. Hobby and state and federal disaster relief personnel.

"It's impossible to say 'X' number of dollars worth of cotton were damaged," White said. "But we can say $60 million worth of cotton was exposed and still is exposed as long as that storm is out there."

"We were probably 75 per cent still in the field with our cotton," said Wayne Buss of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. "Most of the cotton that was still on the bolls got strung out."

Vietnamese Clash In Several Battles

SAIGON (UPI)—The South Vietnamese command said today government troops clashed with guerrillas in the first major ground battle since the start of a three-week-old Communist shelling campaign against defense lines near Hue.

Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, the command spokesman, reported seven government soldiers and 11 guerrillas slain Wednesday in the fighting 15 miles south of the former imperial capital.

Hien said another 18 Saigon soldiers were wounded in the battle near coastal Highway 1, a vital road linking Hue and Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city.

The spokesman said two more government troops were wounded Wednesday in a 74-round mortar barrage along the Hue defense line, the 22nd consecutive days of shelling.

In the Central Highlands, the command reported three Saigon soldiers and 12 Communist slain Wednesday in fighting along the defense line guarding Kontum City, 260 miles north of Saigon. Seven government soldiers were reported wounded.

On the Central Coast, Hien reported, five hours of bloody ground fighting within four miles of Tam Quan district town in Binh Dinh Province Wednesday left 29 Communists dead. He said only one government soldier was killed and six wounded.

Seventy-five miles farther west, three hours of clashes around the defense perimeter guarding the provincial capital of Kontum city in the Central Highlands killed 12 Communists at a cost of three government soldiers dead and seven wounded, Hien said.

In Quang Ngai Province, small arms fire directed at a barge on a stream 335 miles northeast of Saigon killed four civilians and wounded five Wednesday morning, Hien said.

The Viet Cong Wednesday asked the International Commission of Control and Supervision (ICCS) for an immediate investigation of alleged spraying of toxic chemicals by South Vietnamese Air Force planes on croplands around the Viet Cong's de facto capital of Loc Ninh, 75 miles north of Saigon.

The Communists said the spraying occurred Aug. 22 and 25. The note to the ICCS claimed 267 acres of rice, 185 acres of other crops and 500 acres of rubber trees were damaged.

ON BELFAST STREET Boy Shoots Irish Police Reservist

BELFAST (UPI)—A teenage boy walked up to a strolling police reservist in Belfast early today and shot him at point-blank range in the back and chest.

A police spokesman said the gunman critically wounded the officer on a street near his home in the Cliftonville district of the city.

A powerful bomb exploded in Belfast's Springfield Road area Wednesday, causing heavy damage to a bakery and 15 nearby houses. There were no reported injuries.

A Protestant group called the Ulster Freedom Fighters later claimed responsibility for the blast.

The group called newspapers and threatened to renew attacks on Roman Catholic bars and churches, saying the bomb was intended to show it "meant business."

Police said no warning was given before the bomb went off, but authorities spotted the device in advance and managed to clear streets.

The army said a land mine explosion killed a 19-year-old farmer riding a tractor Wednesday near the border with Ireland.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — There's no question Burt Reynolds has become a major star, but my own feeling is that television thus far has been, if anything, a negative influence on his career and potential stature.

He has starred in two network video series, "Hawk" and "Dan August," neither of which had the kind of impact that makes overnight sensations. He also, as a television talk show guest, has capitalized even further on the famous magazine pinup photo he posed for—and, though this video aspect made his name better known, the fact is that the basic publicity came from the photograph itself.

But, while the photograph helped Reynolds in terms of publicity, he has helped himself as a performer in the most essential way—by showing in motion pictures that he really has talent. For example, his new movie, "The Man Who Loved Cat Dancing," has some major flaws in it, but Reynolds' quietly virile, sympathetic performance is marked by the kind of powerful personal clarity that lets you know a genuine film headliner is on the screen.

At Distinct Odds
I was really surprised by some of the low-key sympathetic moments Reynolds offered in "The Man Who Loved Cat Dancing" because they are at distinct odds with the sort of flip, wisecracking image he projects on television talk shows. I personally think this kind of video image is a detriment to the stature he is building in motion pictures.

Whether television has or hasn't done much for Reynolds' career in the past is a matter of personal conjecture. But he is certainly keeping a definite connection with the home medium, as indicated by NBC-TV's announcement that he will do half a dozen late-night specials for the network this season. The first will come from the Leavenworth Penitentiary in Kansas and will air the weekend of Oct. 13-14. NBC-TV says this outing is "an entertainment program," and adds:

The Guest Stars
"Reynolds is joined by guest stars Dinah Shore, Jonathan Winters and the Merle Haggard Band. They entertain the inmates and, in turn, are entertained by some of the prisoners from Leavenworth and by others who were brought to Leavenworth from the federal penitentiary at Terre Haute, Ind., for the show."

The actor's late-night NBC-TV specials will run 90 minutes each, and executive producer Henry Jaffe has said: "The programs will be produced at different locations around the country or abroad, and each will be a 'special event' rather than a traditional television special."

The series was to have been called "The Late Burt Reynolds Show," a charming and witty title. Unfortunately, this title has been scrapped and the specials will be called "The Burt Reynolds Late Show." I'd like to think that Reynolds personally has the sense of humor to have preferred the first title.

Investment Chatter
NEW YORK (UPI) — Against a backdrop of confusing economic indicators, "corporate profits have stood out as a star performer," according to First National City Bank's Economic Week. Although corporate profits before taxes averaged an annual rate of growth of 50 per cent in the first half of 1973, "they owe much of their luster to an inflationary veneer," the letter says. After subtracting gains stemming from price appreciation in inventory values, the increase in corporate profits for the first two quarters of this year is reduced by more than half, it adds.

Despite the view of many economic soothsayers that the economy will tumble to zero growth in 1974 or enter a full-blown depression, Blyth Eastman Dillon says the economy and corporate profits will slow in keeping with the pace of inflation. The firm says "no recession and no absolute decline in profits is likely for the year as a whole." It projects an annual growth in corporate profits of 8 per cent after 1974 to match the nominal growth in Gross National Product.

In the face of soaring interest rates and the last dog days of August, "the market has been making a creditable showing," says Alexander Hamilton Institute, Inc.'s Business Conditions Weekly. Although volume still is disturbingly light, "the market appears to be building a base for a strong upward move," it continues. The letter urges investors to take advantage of "some of the countless blue chips that are selling at distress prices."

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal law requires that before certain projects can be undertaken there must be an environmental study to determine their impact on the ecology.

The U.S. Interior Department has published a number of environmental impact statements, most recently one on shale oil development.

After looking over that document, which runs to six volumes and covers 3,200 pages, I would now like to propose a follow-up study.

What I have in mind is a study to determine the environmental impact of environmental impact statements.

In calling for such a study, I do not mean to imply that the shale oil study was unneeded. It obviously will be put to good use in setting up guidelines to protect the environment should the shale oil project proceed.

No One Could Complain
And certainly no one could complain that it skimps on details.

The study examines the potential impact on dozens of varieties of birds, including the ferruginous hawk, the flammulated owl, the long-billed dowitcher and the marbled godwit.

It considers the mammals of the area, not overlooking the Magnificent mission.

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Los Adas, a site west of Natchitoches in northwest Louisiana, in colonial days was the most magnificent Spanish mission east of San Antonio and for more than half a century served as capital of the Spanish province of Texas.

western jumping mouse and the sagebrush vole. It takes into account piscatorial species (squawfish, humped-backed sucker, etc.). It regards the interests of the side-blotched lizard, the chorus frog and other reptiles.

Nor is flora neglected. One can consult the study and learn how shale oil development might affect myriad plants, among them seepweeds and serviceberry bushes.

It is apparent, however, that the very act of publishing a 3,200-page study is itself an environmental factor. Among the ecological questions that arise are:

—How many trees did it take to provide enough wood pulp to make the paper on which the study was printed?

Were There Adverse Effects?
—Did the felling of so much timber have any adverse effects on squawfish, side-blotched lizards, flammulated owls, western jumping mice and other creatures of the forest?

—To what extent will disposal of the documents, once they are no longer needed, add to the pollution problem?

—How much auto mileage was required to compile the information during a period of gasoline shortages?

The purpose of an environmental impact statement is to help officials determine whether the ecological disadvantages of a project outweigh its economic advantages.

That is indeed a worthy objective. But first they need to determine whether the environment can withstand the impact of environmental impact statements.

U.S. Troops In Bavaria Face Hepatitis Epidemic

NUERNBERG, Germany (UPI) — An army doctor said "needle freak" drug abuse has touched off a hepatitis epidemic among U.S. troops and dependents in Bavaria, the frontier outpost of Western defenses.

Capt. Ward Cates, preventive medicine officer of the Army's 130th General Hospital, said the epidemic, although sparked by drug users, was spreading rapidly among non-addicts also.

Beat the bang
OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — Oklahoma was unique in instituting legally organized "land runs" which were begun with a pistol shot. The term "Sooners," a nickname for the state and its people, referred to those who "jumped the gun" and crossed into the land rush areas before the official starting time in order to stake out claims to the best land.

Room to pass
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The standard width of lanes on new interstate highways is 12 feet, compared with eight or 10-foot lanes on older roads. Better engineering such as this, according to The Road Information Program, will prevent as many as 8,000 fatal accidents a year when the 42,500-mile interstate system is completed.

Windmills could produce twice the electricity now obtained from hydroelectric power.

"A GI needle freak who develops hepatitis could infect his family and friends who have never main-lined anything," Cates, 30, of Rye, N.Y., said in an interview.

Cates said hepatitis, an infectious inflammation of the liver often caused by unsanitary injections, could soon spread to one out of every 50 soldiers and dependents in northern Bavaria at its present rate of spread.

The captain reported 82 hepatitis cases last month in northern Bavaria and 81 the month before. He said the incidence of the sometimes fatal disease contradicted Army claims that drug use has leveled off in Germany.

"We are seeing a hepatitis epidemic despite pronouncements by officials that the drug problem has leveled off or is going down," Cates said.

He said urine tests on which the army bases its claims are "full of loopholes that render the validity of the results wide open to question."

"On the other hand, with hepatitis results we can better gauge the seriousness of the problem we have on our hands," he said.

The captain said "one out of every four patients" admitted to his Army hospital has hepatitis. "The vast majority of the cases are between 18 and 24 years old and have contracted the disease from main-lining drugs or from living in close contact with drug abusers, he said.

An estimated 90,000 American soldiers occupy such major U.S. bases in Bavaria as Nuernberg, Bamberg, Fuerth, Erlangen and Ansbach. The region faces Czechoslovakia and East Germany.

Travel greetings
NEW YORK (UPI) — The travel bug that hits most Americans in the summer is being spread more and more through greeting cards. As more people than ever before set out by car, train, plane or ship for pleasure trips and longer vacations this year, the mailman's load of bon voyage cards and "wish you were here" notes should reach record proportions.

In line with the nationwide travel trend, Hallmark has introduced a series of cards called "Trip & Travel." Practically all take the humorous approach in teasing transportation, including even roller skates and gas balloons.

WORRY CLINIC

Elmo is pandering for votes. And thus is trying to destroy our great Republic by imitating Pontius Pilate's deference to mere majority vote. "Right makes right" is the standard rule of democracies. But in our Republic, "Right makes right."

CASE Y-510: Elmo R., is a member of the U.S. House of Representatives.

"Dr. Crane," one of his constituents protested, "I consider Elmo merely a political chameleon."

"For he recently announced in his monthly Newsletter that he would always vote for whatever 51 percent of his constituents wanted."

"If he is thus merely reflecting what the Gallup and Harris or other pollsters find out, why should we spend $42,500 on his annual salary?"

"Shouldn't a legislator vote for what he knows is right and just, after he gleans the secret facts from classified documents and Congressional Committee investigations?"

"We voters on the firing line may not have access to all the facts, so what we apparently may WANT at the moment may not be RIGHT!"

PONTIUS PILATE
Pontius Pilate was one of those chameleons, too, who ignored what was just, in order to curry favor with the majority.

Alas, far too many members of state and national legislatures do the very same thing.

But a true statesman should imitate the good family physician.

The usual doctor doesn't give a child just what he wants, for that may be candy.

Instead, the child may NEED castor oil, so the physician prescribes what his superior knowledge shows is best for his patient.

Indeed, if Congressmen merely push their voting button according to the latest surveys, why not let Dr. George Gallup do that for us and thus save the Congressman's $42,500 annual salary, plus the other $400,000 allotted to each one for his office expenses?

Dr. Gallup has expert pollsters all over the U.S.A., so they could do such button-of pandering to the 51 percent majority is ruining our once great Republic.

It is changing it into a democracy, which Chief Justice John Marshall showed is an intolerable type of government. "Democracy," said John Marshall, "is mobocracy!"

"The difference between our Republic and a democracy," he added, "is the difference between order and chaos!"

Please note that "order" and "chaos" are not synonyms! Instead, they are opposites or antonyms!

Pontius Pilate ignored the rules of the great Roman Republic and transformed his courtroom into a democracy.

In fact, it was the most perfect democracy in world history, for apparently men, women and children all were allowed to vote.

And they voted 100 percent wrongly!

For they had been propagandized into sending an innocent Christ to his death, as they screamed for the release of a known multimurderer, Barabbas.

That's what happens when democracy subverts a Republic!

So view with suspicion ANY legislator who says he merely follows the will of his constituents!

Send for my booklet "How to Save Our Republic," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents.

Dear Abby

Be a best friend—Tell Jane her house is filthy

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I have this best friend I'll call Jane. She has been over here asking me what's wrong with her because she and her husband have been fighting a lot. She says he hasn't been coming home for supper lately. He eats out and comes home at bedtime.

I know one thing that is wrong, but I can't find the words to tell her. The minute you walk into Jane's house you smell this funny smell. It's like food decaying. And that's probably what it is, because you never saw such a filthy house. You have to step over boxes and sacks to get from one room to the other.

You can't sit down anywhere because every chair and couch is covered with stuff—books, newspapers, clothes, boxes. Her dining table is loaded with more stuff, and so is her kitchen table.

I noticed she served John his dinner every night on a tray in front of the TV because she's too lazy to clear off space on the table.

Anyway, I think you get the picture. I just hate to hurt Jane's feelings, but I'd like to tell her to clean up her house and keep it that way and maybe John would feel like coming home more often.

JANE'S BEST FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: A "best" friend should do the friendly thing and TELL Jane exactly what she thinks is the matter. What are you waiting for?

DEAR ABBY: A neighbor in my condominium complex recently suffered a heart attack, and within minutes after the police and ambulance arrived, a crowd gathered.

Some of the onlookers interfered with the ambulance attendants so they could get a good look at the victim as he was being placed in the ambulance. One man actually stopped the man's wife as she was getting into the ambulance with her husband, and asked: "What happened?"

Let me tell you I was part of that crowd. I viewed all this from my apartment window.

How can people be so cruel and nosy? And then they attempt to excuse their action by saying they were "concerned."

NOT NOSY IN LAUDERDALE

DEAR NOT NOSY: Call it "morbid curiosity." There will always be people who chase fire trucks and ambulances and who take some perverse pleasure in witnessing the suffering of others.

DEAR ABBY: Having always believed that it is customary for your future in-laws to suggest the manner in which they wish to be addressed, I waited, but nothing ever was said.

I've been married for two years, and I still have the problem of not knowing what to call my in-laws, and "hey, you," is not my style.

I would feel awkward at this late date continuing to call them, "Mr. and Mrs. _____," as I did before I married their son.

I cannot call them by their first names, as some of my friends address their in-laws.

"Mother and Dad" is unnatural for me, as that is what I call my own parents. (They have told my husband to call them "Mom" and "Pop," which he does very naturally.)

My in-laws are both avid readers of your column, so perhaps if you print this, they will see it and my problem will be solved.

For heaven's sake. . . . NO NAME

DEAR NO: For heaven's sake, why don't you come right out and ask: "What would you like me to call you?"

DEAR ABBY: Speaking of signs in offices of professional men, one of the best I've seen was in a medical doctor's office in San Diego.

It said: "Morticians dig cigaret smokers."

By Oswald & James Jacoby

One of the standard questions bridge experts ask one another is along the line of, "If someone held a gun to your head and told you to lead a diamond which one would you lead?"

South wins the heart lead in dummy; leads the jack of spades and plays low from his hand. West wins the trick with his ace and while he is considering his next play the man with the gun appears and says, "Lead a diamond!"

Actually this threat wasn't necessary. In a rubber bridge game anyone worth his associate membership in the experts' union would be planning to lead a diamond.

The reason is obvious. He isn't going to defeat the contract unless his partner holds the ace of that suit.

It is his choice of a specific card that determines if the man on lead is an associate or a full member.

The full member leads the jack! Let's see what this does to South. If South covers with the queen, East takes his ace and leads a diamond back and South's 10 is dead. If South doesn't cover he is also a good golfer.

Now try the lead of any other diamond. South will lose just two diamond tricks and will make his game.

Nuptial Mass Unites Miss Grayson-Phil Miller

Miss Ila Fay Grayson became the bride of Phillip James Miller Friday Aug. 17, at 8 p.m. in the Sacred Heart Catholic Church of White Deer.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Grayson, White Deer, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Miller, also of White Deer, are parents of the bridegroom.

THE CEREMONY

The Rev. James Gurzynski, pastor, assisted by Rev. Marvin Roark, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Organist, Bill Miller, Houston, uncle of the bridegroom, played traditional wedding music and accompanied Albert Thomas, who sang, "A Time For Us," "My Sweet Lady," and "How Great Thou Art."

The church was decorated with arrangements of white gladioli and orchid mums with candelabra holding orchid candles. Pews were marked with orchid and white bows.

Nina Wheeley, White Deer, registered guests and Janice Stocking, Oklahoma City, presented each guest with a "Thank - You" scroll from the bridal couple.

THE BRIDE

The bride, presented in marriage by her mother and father, wore a gown of white crystalline mera mist over taffeta, which featured a modified bell skirt. The lower portion of the skirt was enhanced with antique lace appliques above accordin pleats. Lace appliques accented the empire bodice and short cap sleeves of the gown. Her chapel-length veil of white tulle fell from a Juliet cap which was made of antique lace encrusted with tiny seed pearls.

She carried a bouquet of white roses, orchid asters, baby's breath, and white streamers. She carried out the traditional something old, new, borrowed, and blue, and wore a sixpence in her shoe.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Bethie Gallegly was maid of honor, and bridesmaid was Teri Miller, sister of the bridegroom. They wore floor-length gowns of orchid trimmed with lace and enhanced with ruffles at the sleeves. Both wore headpieces of white daisies and heather. They carried nosegays of white daisies, aster, heather and baby's breath, entwined with greenery and white streamers.

Robert Blaylock served as best man and groomsmen were Mike Williams. Ushers were Joe Ledgerwood, Oklahoma City, and Jerry Urbanczyk. All were dressed in black tuxedos with orchid shirts and white boutonnières.

Clifton Williams was lector for the Mass and Mrs. John Garcia led the congregation in the Mass responses. Steve Williams and Rodney Miller, brother of the bridegroom, served as altar boys.

RECEPTION

For the reception in Parish Hall, the bride's table was covered with a white net cloth.

Crystal appointments, candelabrum and bridesmaids' nosegays served as centerpieces.

The bride's three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with orchid trim and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

Patti Lowrance, Amarillo, served the bride's cake and Jan Wheeley, Lubbock, presided at the punch bowl.

The bridegroom's table, with silver candelabrum and coffee service, was covered with a white net cloth and centered with an arrangement of white and orchid carnations.

The two-tiered chocolate cake was topped with a ceramic bride and bridegroom in a loveseat. Mrs. Robert Blaylock served cake assisted by Gail Williams serving coffee.

For the honeymoon, the bride wore a two-piece floor-length dress of seersucker and lifted the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The couple is at home at Norman, Okla.

AFFILIATIONS

The couple are both 1971 graduates of White Deer High School and the bridegroom is a junior attending Oklahoma University, majoring in Medical Technology.

PRE-NUPITAL EVENTS

The bride was honored with a miscellaneous shower at the Parish Hall, recently and a kitchen gadget shower, in the home of Mrs. Joe Wheeley.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bridegroom's parents at Harvester Barbeque in Pampa.

FASHIONETTES

By United Press International
The Fashion House of Norell believes in the small shoe look while many other stylists keep turning out those thick, thick soled numbers for both day and evening. David Evans did the shoes for the New York firm's fall and winter clothes collection. For day, the models wore "little girl" looking footwear, almost flat-heeled pumps done in alligator calf, lizard, patent and suede with program ribbon bow. For evening, bare sandals had skinny medium heels.

however, are the mannish swagger felts, with creased crowns, and the knit toques or stocking caps.

If you're a pearl girl, there are new ways of wearing them with the coming season's revival of the black short or long evening dress. Fasten one end to the shoulder with a jeweled pin, the other end of the strand (or strands) falling diagonally to the hipbone, and another fastener. Designer Donald Brooks showed a number of off-beat ways to wear pearls.

But don't jump off the platform yet, advises the American Footwear Institute. "There's a lot of happy hoofing left there, especially for the young, who still have their hearts set on sole," the institute stylists report.

Colored bedsheets make attractive summer bedspreads.

The hat styles take off in assorted directions for fall and winter. Among the leaders, Plats are back on the fall scene. So are circular skirts, after several seasons of the straight and narrow.

'FOXX IS WHITE TO THE CORE'

'Sanford And Son' Authenticity Debated

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — A national debate has arisen over the authenticity of the black humor in "Sanford and Son" among black viewers, some of whom think the Redd Foxx show is white to the core.

In response to the critics, pro and con, it should be noted that co-stars Foxx and Demond Wilson are proud, determined black men and in no regard subservient to their white associates on the NBC series.

In defending the show, producer Aaron Ruben admits that his writers are caucasians. But he adds:

"Even if a script were white oriented, Redd would interpret the dialogue and situation his way. Originally I wrote the show as black as possible but as a white I had my limitations."

Translating the Show
Ruben also was handicapped in translating the show from its origins as "Stephoe & Son," an English series about a pair of Cockneys.

"The black subculture is incomprehensible to most caucasians. I had never had much contact with blacks and the longer I'm with the show the more clearly I see the wall between the races."

To scale that wall Ruben hired a young black story editor, Ilunga Adell, 25, who says he didn't speak to a white person until he was 18. Ilunga says, "White people were as remote from my existence in Memphis as Martians."

Last year Adell wrote five scripts. This season he sifts every story and line of dialogue to make sure they reflect the black experience.

"We can't make the show an absolute abstract of the ghetto," Ruben continued. "There's a black argot we can't use because it would completely bewilder white viewers."

"Much of the language of the black subculture begins in the ghetto and ends up in the white community years later—usually by the time blacks have quit using it. So we must take that gap into consideration. Our show is for viewers of all races. We can't make it too 'inside.'"

Only Humor
"But there is no black humor or white humor per se. There is only humor."

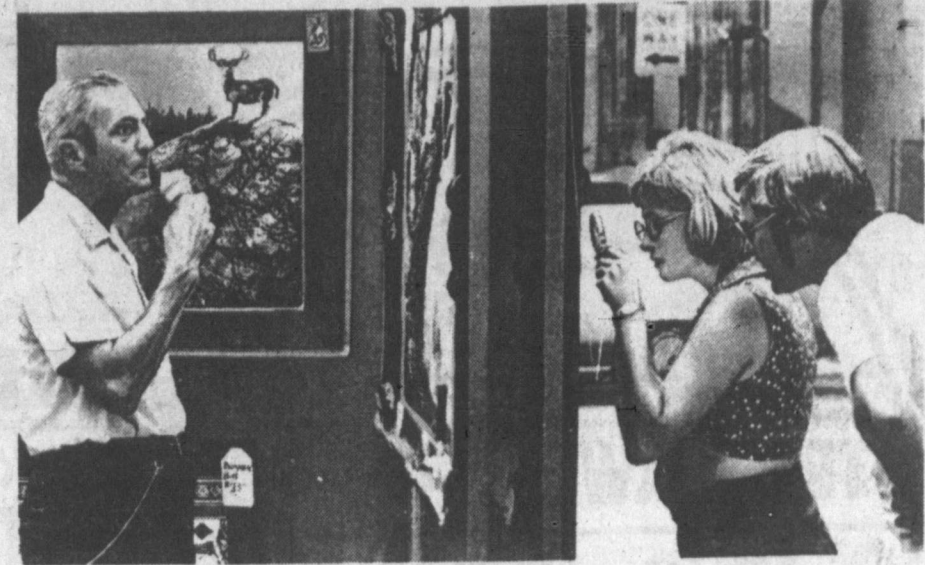

Not so, says Eugenia Collier, co-editor of "Afro-American Writing," who wrote in the New York Times: "Black humor has always been based upon solid reality... White American humor—at least as shown on TV—is frivolous, cruel and often absolutely stupid."

Ruben replies, "Granted, I don't know black humor but I don't think it is different from the white variety."

"If our mail is any indication, black viewers relate to Redd Foxx and the show. Only occasionally do whites even appear in an episode. This is the first television series with blacks living in a black environment."

"Sanford and Son" is at the top of the ratings, proving it has captured both the black and white audience.

DRAWING POWER is under test here as onlookers move through the Gold Coast Art Fair in Chicago. The ice cream cone eater looks a bit nonplussed. The couple seems to be interested in details.

Cambodian Bombing Was Not Really So Secret

By WARREN L. NELSON
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The secret bombing of Cambodia certainly is no secret any more. It really wasn't all that secret when it started, but few people apparently noticed.

Many members of Congress have said they knew nothing about the bombing and documents have been produced to show the lengths to which the Pentagon went to keep the whole thing hidden and to divert the press from the facts.

Yet in Newsweek's issue dated March 10, 1969—eight days before the first reported raids—the magazine said: "Diplomatic sources in Saigon claim Cambodia's Prince Sihanouk is tacitly permitting U.S. air raids on North Vietnamese and Viet Cong bases and supply lines in sparsely populated areas along the Vietnam frontier."

On May 9, 1969, six weeks into the bombing campaign, the New York Times carried a long front page dispatch out of Washington saying, "American B52 bombers in recent weeks have raided several Vietcong and North Vietnamese supply dumps and base camps in Cambodia for the first time..."

A week later, on May 16, 1969, the Wall Street Journal carried a story reporting the raids, and the following day a United Press International dispatch from Saigon said: "United States informants today reported the first air raids of the Vietnam War by B52 jets against Communist troop sanctuaries in nominally neutral Cambodia." That night David Brinkley carried the report on the NBC evening news program.

In the spring of 1969, with a major ground war raging in Vietnam and with antiwar activity prevalent on college campuses, the Cambodia bombing was one story that didn't catch on.

Then last spring, four years later, came disclosure that the White House had been so disturbed by news leaks in 1969 that it set up a group called the Plumbers to plug those leaks.

One of the first stories to arouse White House ire was the Times' article on the Cambodia bombing (apparently the White House didn't read Newsweek) and the telephone of the Times reporter who wrote the story, William Beecher, was tapped in the search for his sources.

The Times wrote of the bugging and the Cambodia bombing on Page 1 last May 16. It and other news media made frequent and repeated references to the bombing story, and the Plumbers' telephone taps, during the next several weeks.

Yet on July 15, the report of a former Air Force major that Cambodia had been bombed secretly for 14 months was received as a brand new revelation.

This curious turn of events leads to a few questions: —Why did congressional committees, which read the New York Times, the wire services and other news media, not raise questions about the bombing in 1969 after the reports first appeared? (Congressmen often ask questions in hearings based on obscure two-paragraph news items. This had been a front page story.)

Press Queries —Why did the Pentagon continue its involved techniques for hiding the bombing long after it had been publicized? (A November, 1969, Pentagon memorandum, since declassified, shows the B52s were flying missions then to cover targets to provide "a credible story for replies to press queries.")

—If the rationale for the original secrecy was really to comply with the wishes of Cambodia's chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk who supposedly didn't want his acquiescence to the bombing publicized, why was the cover-up continued for years after Sihanouk's 1970 downfall?

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

FRIDAY, SEPT. 7
Your birthday today: Opens a lively year of sudden breaks, sweeping changes of external conditions, the challenge of ending an obsolete enterprise while originating one which is an awkward leap ahead of present general acceptance. Your initiative is tested, likewise the depth of your understanding of what has happened in the past. Today's natives are serious minded, prefer conservative methods.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Extend yourself to do a complete and tidy job, wind up your workweek in good style. Accept any opportunity to increase your skills, particularly in directions not part of your normal work.

Taurus [April 20 - May 20]: Start early to devise plans for expansive changes, with detours around those who insist on things remaining as they are. Unexpected assistance is available, but diverts your main efforts; choose.

Gemini [May 21 - June 20]: Move now to close a good deal, collect earnings. Responsibility taken on now should reflect in improvements later, but keep your resources in readily available form.

Cancer [June 21 - July 22]: Go ahead with the local team, enjoy whatever pastimes and sports you're able to find. You can get included in many things by asking. There's much news to discuss this evening.

Leo [July 23 - Aug. 22]: Anything you do is almost certain to come to the immediate attention of people whose opinions are important to you. Competitors are ready to talk, so go ahead with your best effort, regardless.

Virgo [Aug. 23 - Sept. 22]: Personal projects progress quite well if you will put in a reasonable effort. If you change your mind as to what you want, allow plenty of time for people to switch their plans about.

Libra [Sept. 23 - Oct. 22]: Many issues teeter on a critical balance today. You can turn everything around in your favor by a forthright effort, some clear expression of your personal ideals. Find time for prayer.

Scorpio [Oct. 23 - Nov. 21]: Extra rewards attend almost any consistent effort toward constructive goals. Don't be surprised when others reverse their plans. Distribute any surplus among those you feel need it.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22 - Dec. 21]: Press forward on career-building moves; you can sell almost anything now, including good ideas. Announce your recent achievements. Gifts for loved ones are in order.

Capricorn [Dec. 22 - Jan. 19]: Today's appearances are symbolic—there is more to any transaction than first appears. Watch to see what happens next; count yourself in for a share. Seek changes which make life more comfortable.

Aquarius [Jan. 20 - Feb. 18]: Do the essentials of your regular work quietly, avoiding dissension. Bringing neglected projects up to date brings higher compensation, generally. Long-term benefits can begin now.

Pisces [Feb. 19 - March 20]: Include friends and family in your plans; ask for the chance to show what you can do. Clear your working space of clutter. Find a new home for objects which are of no further use.

White Deer Homemaker Shares Favorite Family Casseroles

By BOBBY COMBS
With a large family, it sometimes becomes necessary and economical to stretch the flavor of the more expensive ground beef. Casseroles are great for this, and prepared in advance, are more convenient.

Mrs. Art (Joyce) Robertson of White Deer likes to experiment with low cost, yet attractive new dishes for her large family, who are Eddie, 16, Randy, 14, Tim, 13, Melissa, 9, and Lois Ann 2½. Her husband drives his own truck and is employed by Trans - National Trucking of Amarillo.

Mrs. Robertson enjoys cooking and her favorite recipe is Anadama Bread.

They are members of the First Baptist Church of White Deer and she is a very active member of WMU, and all other church activities.

Brighten your day, and try her favorite recipes.

ingredients and beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally.

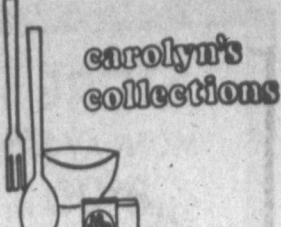

Add ¼ cup flour, or enough flour to make a thick batter. Beat at high speed 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Stir in enough additional flour to make a soft dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 to 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover; let rise in warm place-free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Punch dough down; turn out onto lightly floured board. Divide dough in half and shape into loaves. Place in 2 greased 8½x4½x2½ - inch loaf pans. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 45 minutes.

Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) about 35 minutes, or until done. Remove from pans and cool on wire racks.

GREEN CHILI CASSEROLE

1 lb. ground beef
1 medium onion
1 small can green chilies
1 small can Pet milk
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1 can cream of chicken soup
Grated cheese
Doritos
Saute onion and ground beef. Drain off fat. Line baking dish with doritos, add ground beef, onions, soup, green chilies and canned milk. Top with grated cheese. Bake 20 minutes at 350 degrees.

APPLE PIE FILLING

4 Tart Apples
¼ Cup Orange Juice
¼ Cup Lemon Juice
½ Cup Sugar
1 Tsp. Cornstarch
2 Tsp. Melted Butter

Peel and chop the apples. Combine with the other ingredients. Put into unbaked pastry shell. Top with strips made with other half of pastry. Sprinkle a little sugar over the top. Bake in hot oven for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake 20 minutes more.

PEPPER VINEGAR

"One dozen pods red pepper, fully ripe. Take out stems and cut them in two. Add three pints vinegar. Boil down to one quart; strain through sieve, and bottle for use."

Salt crisp green salads before serving. Salting too soon can cause the greens to wilt.

ONE BOWL ANADAMA BREAD

5 ½ to 6 ½ cups unsifted flour
2 ½ teaspoons salt
1 cup yellow corn meal

2 packages active dry yeast
¼ cup (½ stick) softened margarine
2 cups very hot tap water
¼ cup molasses (at room temperature)

In a large bowl thoroughly mix 2 ½ cups flour, salt, corn meal and undissolved yeast. Add softened margarine. Gradually add very hot tap water and molasses to dry

PEANUT BUTTER PIE

One-third cup peanut butter
¾ cup sifted confectioner's sugar
1 baked 9" pastry shell
One-third cup all purpose flour
½ cup sugar
¼ t. salt
2 cups scalded milk
3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
2 T. butter or margarine
½ T. vanilla
Blend peanut butter with powdered sugar until mealy. Sprinkle two-thirds of this mixture in baked pie shell. Combine flour, sugar, and salt in top of double boiler. Stir in milk. Cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Stir a small

For back to school what's strong this year: the unisex look. In the big mail order house books, at least, for boys and girls what's being promoted is: pants and jackets and sweaters, and pant tops in a variety of colors, styling and novelty knits. Even the girls, to make the look complete, are shown with floppy bow ties on their man-tailored shirts.

By LEROY POPE
UPI Business Writer
NEW YORK (UPI) — By and large American businessmen still are not yet export conscious enough, says Joel D. Honigberg, president of J.D. Marshall International, a Chicago export managing firm.

The dollar was devalued to make American products more competitive abroad and to help reduce the balance of payments deficit, but Honigberg said a surprising number of American firms simply raised prices to offset the fall of the dollar instead of trying to export more goods.

This works against the national interest, Honigberg said, but it has happened in the

Seeks New Trial

LAREDO, Tex. (UPI) — Kenneth Adami, a 61-year-old hermit rancher who contends his life sentence for killing a Mexican alien is "a miscarriage of justice," is seeking a new trial. Adami filed a motion this week in 49th District Court asking for a second trial and that he be declared a pauper. Adami contended his murder conviction in the court of Judge E. James Kazen was "erroneous and a miscarriage of justice." The motion also asked that Adami be declared a pauper because he lacked funds to appeal his conviction.

electrical, food processing and building machinery industries as well as air conditioning and refrigerating and other industries.

He also said many American businessmen have a defeatist attitude towards exports.

Must Be Unique
"They say American goods can be sold abroad only if they are unique—if the customer can't find them anywhere else," he said.

Honigberg said that's nonsense. It's true that some machine tools and some other American products of a conventional nature are hopelessly overpriced. But unwillingness to cultivate the market abroad and try hard to compete, he said, is the real reason for American failure to export enough.

He said too many American firms are unwilling to meet the special needs of foreign customers.

"For example, customers in some countries want to supply their own motors for motorized machines and some American companies don't want to sell anything less than the complete assembly. You can't have that attitude and hope to expand export sales," Honigberg said.

Capt. Juan Bautista de Arza in 1774 blazed the first overland trail from Sonora, Mex., to California.

Khadafy Out To Establish Himself As Strongman

By United Press International
Young Libyans with long haircuts and bell-bottom trousers and girls in T-shirts and tight slacks are not exactly the prototypes of Arab youth as envisioned by Moammar Khadafy, Libya's strongman.

Khadafy, only 31 himself, still has not established himself and his strict moral code as the model young Libyans would most like to emulate.

Beyond Libya's puritanical borders, he has been disappointed in his efforts toward immediate and total union with Egypt and thus to establish a firm power base from which to take over leadership of a vast Arab nation.

But these are personal and perhaps only temporary disappointments for Khadafy who must be recognized as the most dynamic figure to emerge in the Arab world since Gamal Abdel Nasser.

He is no favorite of the United States' state department and if the price of petroleum products to American consumers shoots upward faster than that of other basic commodities, Khadafy will have been one of the major reasons.

U.S. Dependence
American oil companies were the major factors in finding and developing the oil wealth beneath Libya's sandy wastes and American oil companies are Khadafy's chief targets today as he spearheads and offensive which links U.S. dependence upon Middle East oil and U.S. support of Israel against the Arab nations.

"The time has come for us to deal America a strong slap on its cool, arrogant face," cried Khadafy last spring before a crowd in Tripoli.

The "slap" was in his expropriation of the American-owned Nelson Bunker Hunt Oil company, producer of about one-tenth of Libya's oil output.

For Khadafy it was the dramatic step he needed to re-establish himself as a leader among Arab revolutionary states after the Egyptian disappointment.

Stolen Goods
In the showdown sure to follow the oil companies could be expected to attempt with state department backing to block the sale of Libya oil elsewhere in the world, labeling it stolen goods.

If the companies were to lose the fight the repercussions could be expected to extend eastward to the Persian Gulf where producing countries earlier had agreed not to press for a controlling interest until 1982.

For President Anwar Sadat of Egypt it had been a good week, indeed.

He had obtained firm promises of financial aid from King Faisal of Saudi Arabia, the Mideast's largest oil producer, and from Kuwait, another major producer. Faisal already was bringing pressure on the United States to revise its policy toward Israel, and it was Faisal's help that had enabled Sadat to stand firm against Khadafy's demands for union now.

Area Footballers Begin Seasons Friday

By PAUL SIMS
Texas high school football, 1973-style, officially begins this weekend.

Most area teams open their seasons Friday night with a few games scheduled for Saturday, as districts in and around the Panhandle should be among the most balanced in the state.

Districts involving teams close to Pampa 1-AAA (Perryton), 1-A (White Deer and Canadian), 2-A (McLean and Wheeler), 1-B (Groom and Lefors) and 1-B, eight man (Miami). Those teams have games Friday night.

Forecasters haven't indicated a clear-cut favorite in any of those districts, except for Groom, which last year advanced to the state quarterfinals.

Friday's area games are Perryton at Borger, White Deer at Memphis, Canadian at Phillips, Shamrock at McLean, Wheeler at Lefors, Vega at Groom and Miami at Forgan, Okla.

Perryton vs. Borger 3-AAAA Borger should be the kind of test Don Beck's Ranger's need early to determine just how much of a chance they'll have of unseating 1972 champ Dumas for 1-AAA's crown.

Perryton's offense will be headed by quarterback Jim Dear, split end Russ Elledge and center David Johnson, three of the best players at their respective positions in the Panhandle. Elledge and Johnson will also start at defensive ends, and play there just as effectively.

Borger, 4-6 last year, is picked last in 3-AAAA, but Bobby Ingham could give Sonny Lang's Bulldogs the incentive they need to finish near the top.

The game's really a toss-up, but since it's Perryton at Borger — Borger by three.

White Deer vs. Memphis White Deer returns five offensive and seven defensive starters from a team which under first-year coach Larry Anthony tied for third in 1-A with Stinnett. Canadian and Sanford-Fritch were co-champs.

Among those returning are Donny Thurman, the third link in a powerful chain of brothers, who will start at right tackle offensively and noseguard on defense. Junior fullback Billy Lynch will pace Bucks' running attack, according to Anthony.

Memphis has won eight games each of the last two years in 2-A and has material (five offensive and nine defensive returning regulars) at least that many this year.

James Beck, a junior running back and defensive safety, will lead the Cyclones both ways.

Memphis doesn't have a proven quarterback, as passing whiz Mike Browning was graduated. White Deer has Buddy Cummins, who is tall, a power runner and a promising thrower so — Bucks by six.

Canadian vs. Phillips

Jack Hawthorne's Canadian Wildcats finished 7-3-1 last season, bowing to state finalist Clarendon in the bi-district contest, 6-0.

This year, the Cats are led by all-district halfback Kem Carr, who rushed for 967 yards and 10 TD's in 1972. Bob Dickinson, also all-district last year, returns at defensive end.

Phillips (1-AA) is led by all-district back Ted Rogers. Phillips finished 5-3-2 in its last campaign and returns three starters both ways off that team.

Another tough pick, however, since Canadian is 1-A — Phillips (AA) by three.

Shamrock at McLean

Experience is McLean's strong suit as the Tigers return seven offensive and eight defensive starters off a 3-7 team. Among those regulars are quarterback Joe Ray Riley, who was injured much of last season, big Wesley Brown, a 6-5, 225-pound tight end, and Milton Best, an offensive guard and defensive tackle.

Shamrock in District 2-AA is also experienced, in fact very much so, returning nine offensive and nine defensive starters.

The Irish, under head coach Pat Casey, are led by backs Ronald Gragg and Steve Galmour and monstrous defensive lineman Walter Bond (6-8, 225).

McLean, although experienced, doesn't quite have what it takes to pull an upset as big as this one would be, so it's — Shamrock by 16.

Wheeler vs. Lefors

2-A Wheeler against 1-B Lefors will match experience against experience. Both teams return seven defensive starters and Wheeler lists one more regular on defense than the Pirates, as the Mustangs bring back eight off a 5-5, fourth-in-district squad.

Senior Lewis Britt, who gained 1,000 yards rushing at tailback and won all-district honors last year, will lead Wheeler's run-oriented offense. Defensively, Jim Bateman's Mustangs will be strongest in the line, with all-district middle guard Dale Helton and Danny Hardcastle at right tackle.

Leonard Tolbert's Pirates return all-district right tackle Henry Duckworth and quarterback Randy Klein. Both will head the T-formation offense. Duckworth also starts at noseguard on defense.

Wheeler's solid everywhere — Mustangs by 12.

Vega vs. Groom

Groom started slowly last year (0-6) but got stronger as the season progressed, winning its last four district contests, the bi-district contests, the bi-district title over Happy, 28-7, and the regional title over Buena Vista, 34-14. Don Sessoms' Tigers finally bowed to Windhorst, 6-0 in the quarterfinals.

Groom's been picked to repeat that district-winning performance because seven starters return both ways. The Tigers will be led by split end Tom Treadwell, all-district in 1972, and quarterback Randy Sustaite, an accurate passer with exceptional speed for his position. Tim Britten, also all-district last year, returns in Sessoms' defensive secondary.

Vega returns the same number of starters as Groom, including tackle Ralph Paschel and running back John Fangman. Both are possible all-stars.

Groom's tough, but Vega's the best team in 3-A this year — Horns by two.

Miami vs. Forgan, Okla.

Orville Shook, Miami head coach, lists lack of size and experience as the Warriors' weaknesses, and backfield quickness as the strong point as Miami returns three starters on both offense and defense off a district co-runner-up team.

Goree took 1-B, eight man last year and will probably repeat as champs. The Warriors tied with Follett for second.

Jay Strahan, offensive guard, and freshman quarterback Kirk Flowers will be players to watch this season for the Warriors.

Forgan won 42-14 last year so a revenge-minded Miami will take the field Friday — Miami by five.

AFC East:
Miami Dolphins

By Murray Olderman

PROSPECTUS —

What do you say about a team that won 17 straight? Simply, that this year everyone will be setting ambushes for the Dolphins, starting with the 49ers in the league opener. Then they get Oakland the next week. That's some tough beginning. But this is some tough team that's imbued with Don Shula's hard-nosed togetherness — and talent.

OFFENSE

PASSING — Bob Griese's no firebrand, but he knows what it takes to move a team and in his seventh season is a finished quarterback in every way. And old Earl Morrill continues to be an amazing back-up. Very good.

RECEIVING — Paul Warfield is the epitome of receiving greatness. Only drawback is occasional injury. Howard Twilley is supposed to be only adequate on one side, but he manages to ward off competition. Now he has tall (6-5) Ron Sellers breathing down on him hard. Look for Jim Mandich, better receiver, to cut into Marv Fleming's playing time at tight end. Good.

RUNNING — The way to go now is with a troika, as Dolphins proved last year. First team ever with two 1,000-yarders. Larry Csonka, once called too slow, pulls heavy load in paring enemy lines. Jim Kick's not happy splitting time with Mercury Morris, but that's the way it's got to be. These guys do it all running, catching, blocking. Excellent.

LINE — Larry Little gets all the attention as all-pro pulling guard, but some people tell us Bob Kuechenberg at the other guard is steadier. Good young center in Jim Langer. The tackles, Norm Evans and Doug Crusan, spelled by Wayne Moore, are just average. Good.

DEFENSE

LINE — Mobility is the key, and that starts with Manny Fernandez, the real hero of the Super Bowl. Bill Stanfill at right end is only one who came to Dolphins with big college rep, and he's starting. But the real pass ripper up front is rangy Vern Den Her. They could use some more depth up front. Very good.

LINEBACKING — You've got to wonder how long Nick Buoniconti can keep reaping far and wide and plugging gaps. But squad Nick is a marvel in the Dolphins' highly disciplined system. The corners, Mike Kolen and Doug Swift, are helped out by Bob Matheson, the swing linebacker-lineman, who enables them to use "53" defense in pass spots. Good.

SECONDARY — It took awhile for them to get recognized, but now everyone knows the guts of the Dolphins' zone is located around their safeties, Dick Anderson and Jake Scott, who both rate all-pro acclaim. At the corners, Curtis Johnson and Tim Foley also do competent job. Very good.

KICKING — As long as he sticks to sidestepping the football with his left foot, Garo Yepremian is an asset. The little Coyot booter is terrific long or short. Larry Seiple's a heady (and toes-y) punter. With Mercury Morris and Jake Scott around, the Dolphins cause palpitations every time a kick comes their way. Very good.

PREDICTION

Lombardi always said the toughest thing was to win again after you've once won, but this division isn't too strong — first in AFC East.

Nebraska-UCLA Top Grid Game

By United Press International
A grudge match on Sept. 8? It sounds absurd, but it's true.

The college football season, which seems to open earlier every year, will begin Saturday as it did a year ago — with a game that will have a direct bearing on the national rankings and perhaps go a long way toward determining the top challenger for the national title.

The game of the day will be the nationally televised contest at Lincoln, Neb., between Nebraska, ranked second in the pre-season ratings, and UCLA, which was ranked No. 8. Last year UCLA snapped Nebraska's 32-game unbeaten string by defeating the Cornhuskers, 20-17, and thus spoiled Nebraska's chances of repeating as national champions.

Both teams are considered a good bet to give defending national champion Southern California a battle for No. 1 honors this fall, and the winner of this one is the most logical contender.

Making our weekly selections from the various regions of the country will be Fred McMane of New York (East), David Moffit of Atlanta (South), Ed Sainsbury of Chicago (Midwest), Charlie Smith of Kansas City (Midlands), Tracy Ringolsby of Denver (Rockies), Mike Rabun of Dallas (Southwest) and Joe Sargis of San Francisco (Far West).

The East
Massachusetts 22 Holy Cross 6 — UMass is candidate for small college national honors; Crusaders not much improved from last year.

Temple 28 Xavier 7 — Owis slowly building into an eastern power.

Delaware 35 Akron 6 — Blue Hens open smoothly in quest for third straight small college national championship.

The South
Mississippi 35 Villanova 7 — Ole Miss has too much firepower for downgraded Easterner.

Memphis St. 28 Louisville 19 — Tigers leave Missouri Valley to regain independent status.

Also—Clemson 20 over Citadel, N.C. State 17 over East Carolina, VPI 14 over William and Mary, Virginia 12 over VMI, Davidson 6 over Wofford.

The Midwest
Dayton 3 over Youngstown, Northern Illinois 6 over Indiana St., Western Michigan 10 over Central Michigan.

The Midlands
UCLA 17 Nebraska 14 — With David Humm, Husker coach Tom Osborne's debut in jeopardy.

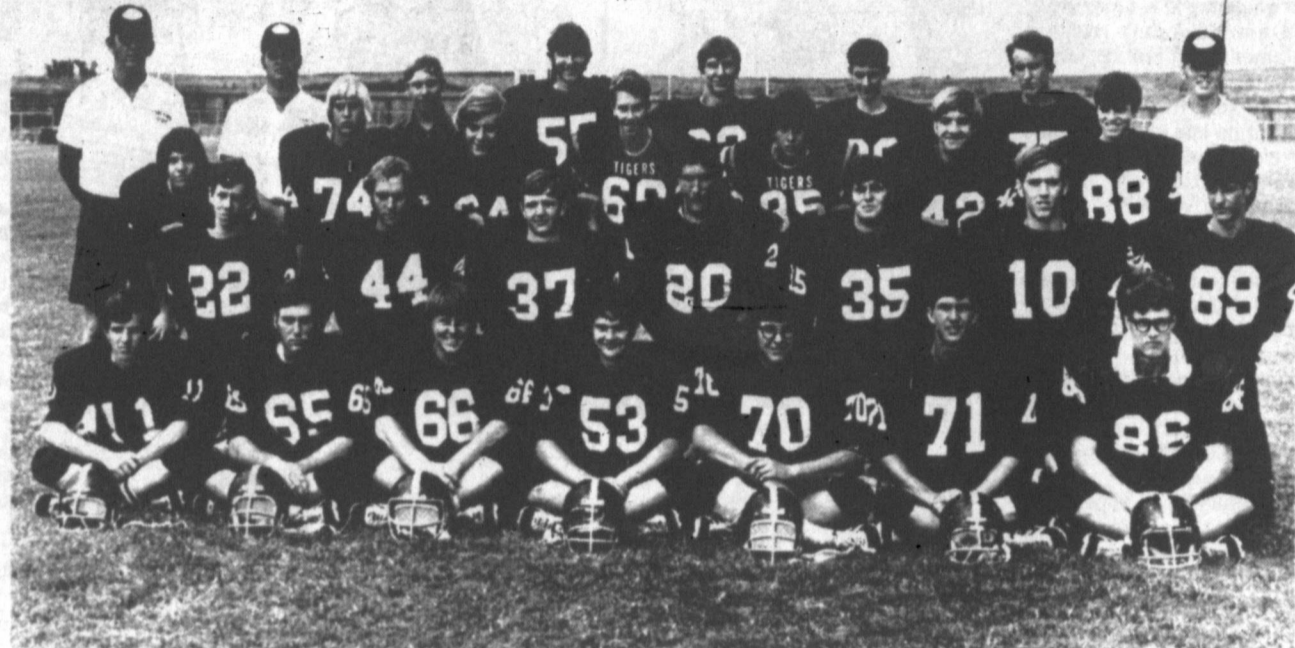

The Southwest
New Mexico St. 30 Lamar U. 12 — Quarterback Joe Pisarcik puts on good show for new coach Jim Bradley.

North Texas St. 22 Tex-Arlington 10 — Things will get tougher to new coach Hayden Fry.

West Texas St. 23 Drake 21 — Both teams strong contenders for MVC title.

The Rockies
Arizona 31 Colorado St. 21 — The Wildcats a bit tougher on defense.

The Far West
UTexasElPaso 35 Idaho 7 — Miners tune up for bigger and better things.
San Jose St. 21 Santa Clara 14 — No cinch for Spartans against little Broncos.
Pacific 45 Sacramento 7 — Tigers show early claws.

Dale Steel, Billy Terry, Morse Haynes, Keith Martin; fourth row: Bill Nicholous (head coach), Mike Stewart (assistant), Todd Darsey, Craig Cunningham, Leland Myers, Dave Jefferson, Rickey Lowery, Joel Nelson (assistant). 2-A McLean opens its 1973 season at 8 p.m. Friday against Shamrock in McLean.

FRIDAY NIGHT

Harvesters Open Against Herd

Pampa's Harvesters go into their final pre-season workout at 3 p.m. today as Hereford kicks off Pampa's 1973 football season at 8 p.m. Friday in Harvester Stadium.

Hereford started the Harvesters off on a losing note last year, winning 20-0. And the Whitefaces (Herd) coaching to Pampa head coach Buddy Williams, are "stronger than last year." The Herd went on to win its next four non-conference games, but finished with an 8-2 slate, bowing to Lubbock Monterey and Lubbock High.

"Hereford runs a strong flanker offense, where all the running backs line up on one side of the center. It's a real good offense," said Williams and then added, "We've been working on defending it for three weeks."

"We've had some real fine practices, I'm pleased with our progress."

The Whitefaces return two regulars each way, so inexperience is the main obstacle coach Larry Dippel's 4-AAAA team must overcome in order to have any chance of dethroning 1972 champ and 1973 pre-season favorite Monterey.

But Hereford definitely isn't hurting for talent. James Harris, senior tailback, should be one of the region's best ground-gainers. The 6-2, 165-pound speedster is "the best running back we'll play all year," says Williams.

Harris runs a 4.640. In the backfield with Harris is senior fullback Charles High (6-2, 165), quarterback Franklin Higgins (5-10, 155), also a senior, and senior wingback Wayne Schumacher (6-0, 165).

Right tackle Jim Marsh (6-3, 195), a senior, is back. Marsh made all-district last year and heads the Whiteface line.

Schumacher, who also starts at linebacker, paces the Hereford unit defensively.

Jack King, Pampa senior fullback dislocated his elbow Friday night in a scrimmage against Vernon and will be out at least three weeks says Williams.

Season tickets to Harvester home games are available at the high school business office (119 N. Frost) for $10 and $3.75 for students.

Bufs, Drake Meet Saturday In Canyon

By TOMMY BRYANT
Special Correspondent

CANYON — West Texas State's Buffaloes kick off their 1973 football season Saturday night here and their minds will be on revenge.

The Buffs host Drake in the 7:30 p.m. game at Frank Kimbrough Memorial Stadium.

West Texas tied with Drake and Louisville last fall for the Missouri Valley Conference championship, and the Drake Bulldogs were the team which handed West Texas its only MVC defeat.

The Buffaloes turned the ball over eight times (six fumbles and two pass interceptions) in the 40-12 defeat in the 1972 season opener for both teams.

Drake Falls, 27-12. Drake has one game under its belt this year. The Bulldogs lost 27-12 to New Mexico State in an MVC game Saturday at Des Moines, Iowa.

Friday night in a scrimmage against Vernon and will be out at least three weeks says Williams.

Season tickets to Harvester home games are available at the high school business office (119 N. Frost) for $10 and $3.75 for students.

The Buffaloes will still keep the Wishbone in their playbooks but will use the I to vary the offense.

A two-way battle is underway at the quarterback berth. Letterman Mike Wartes and junior college transfer Don Nava are in a heated contest for that position.

Coach Mayfield is undecided on his starter at quarterback but said the two players will divide time on a near equal basis during the first game.

Explosive Buff Backs
The explosive group of Buff running backs will feature both Billy Pritchett and Cole Fraley. Both will play at the tailback position and should share playing time. Pritchett and Fraley are pre-season picks for all-conference honors.

Pritchett will probably get the starting nod in Saturday's game.

The defense is led by all-conference end Walter Hibbler. The 195-pound Lubbock senior is one of the quickest defensive linemen in collegiate football.

Saturday's contest is designated as Maroon Night and all Buffalo fans are invited to wear something maroon to the contest.

Hargett To Start

HOUSTON (UPI) — Coach Bill Peterson plans to start Edd Hargett at quarterback in the Houston Oilers' final exhibition game Saturday night against Hargett's former teammates, the New Orleans Saints.

Oriole Lead Dwindles After 7-5 Loss To Boston Red Sox

By United Press International
Earl Weaver has it all figured out.

Weaver had just seen his Orioles drop a 7-5 decision to Boston Wednesday night for their third straight loss to the Red Sox. The defeat cut the Orioles' first place lead in the American League East to four games over Boston but the bouncy Baltimore manager hardly seemed bothered.

"We've just finished series in New York and Boston and now we head for Cleveland for four games," said Weaver. "We left home eight ahead in the loss column and we've still got six left in the loss column. If we take three of four from Cleveland I'd call it a super road trip, especially if we pick up one more game (in the loss column) in that series."

"The Red Sox now play Detroit and they're 1-10 against them," Weaver continued. "But if Boston does take three from Detroit it will be interesting in Baltimore next week when we play two games against the Red Sox. I'd say Detroit is due to get real hot. They're due to win three in a row I figure."

"All we have to do is go 16-10 the rest of the way and they'll (Boston) have to go 18-4 to tie us and we've been hitting better than that."

Dallas To Face Miami

IRVING, Tex. (UPI) — The Dallas Cowboys and Miami Dolphins meet for only the second time ever tonight, and the pressure on the clubs for this occasion will be considerably less than it was at their first game.

That first meeting was for Super Bowl VI and Dallas won 24-3.

Since then, Miami has become the hottest property in football and Dallas has dwindled somewhat from what the Cowboy hierarchy had hoped would be a dynasty.

Cowboy Coach Tom Landry, however, thinks he sees signs in his current team of the greatness that was Dallas' two seasons ago.

Double-Talk On Budget

Pity the poor bureaucrat in charge of the expenditure of billions of tax dollars trying to explain how government is fighting inflation and holding down government expenditures.

Such is the position of Roy L. Ash, a presidential assistant who is director of the Office of Management and Budget.

The title of the office is a joke. What management and what budget?

Anyway, we thought we would permit Mr. Ash to have his words circulate to give us an opportunity to present another point of view on the same page. While columnist Victor Riesel is on a special assignment until after Labor Day, he turned over his column to guest writers. Today's guest is Ash.

What is frustrating to us at times is to hear the political leaders of the nation confess that government spending is the principal cause of inflation and then proceed to explain how they are attempting to spend more money more wisely.

Ash begins his commentary explaining that people seem to expect magic to suspend the laws of reality. This suggests he is aware of the reality of economics. He acknowledges that inflation is the number one concern of the American people then lists three ways to deal with the problem. He lists "a restrictive monetary policy" but does not explain what he means by that and says no more about it. He lists through Phase IV wage and price controls as another way, which indicates he has learned nothing from 5,000 years of history and finally says the fundamental way is to aim for a balanced budget in the current fiscal year.

He then points out that the current budget calls for an expenditure limit of $268.7 billion. You will note that the words are "calls for an expenditure limit." We have seen the debt limit adjusted upwards through the years to enable greater spending as the federal programs find themselves in trouble.

Aside from the inflexibility of the so-called budget, it is doubtful that individuals can understand what $268.7 billion is. But a bit of arithmetic would show that that kind of annual expenditure works out to about $100 a week for every American family if we use four as the average size family. To simplify our arithmetic problem, we used 200 million people, divided the $268.7 billion to get $1,343 per year per person and rounded that off to $5,200 per year per family. We did that to get the spending down to something we can visualize. The figure is $268.7 billion is unreal, but $100 per week per family is real. And remember please, this is merely the federal budget. Taxpayer share of state and local budgets place additional burdens on each family. It would be a monumental task to boil all that down because of the confusion of the "matching funds" system.

This should help give the reader a realistic look at the intended spending for the current year. And while Ash talks about curtailing inflation and balancing a budget he concludes his commentary with a list of new programs the Nixon Administration has or will put into effect.

If any of them sound good to the reader, let him be forewarned that they represent added millions in expenditures which leads us to confidently predict that that "called for expenditure limit" will become "inoperative" before the year is out.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Hartke Still Confident of His Proposal

By ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — Sen. Vance Hartke, chairman of the Veterans Affairs Committee, says flatly he has "more than enough votes" to incorporate his recomputation amendment into the pending military procurement authorization bill.

The multi-billion-dollar measure, finally completed just before Congress recessed for its August vacation, is due to be taken up by the Senate next week. Last October, Hartke attached his "one-shot" recomputation proposal to similar legislation by an overwhelming 62 to 4 majority.

"I am absolutely confident my amendment will do just as well this time as last year," Hartke told this column. "I know of no loss of support, and the need and justification for recomputation are just as compelling as before."

While certain of decisive Senate approval of his bill, Hartke is not minimizing the one big obstacle still barring the way to enactment of recomputation.

As in the past, this is the opposition of the Democratic leaders of the House Armed Services Committee — coupled with the House's germane rule, which they have repeatedly invoked to bar consideration of recomputation legislation.

It is this parliamentary barrier that has effectively blocked action on recomputation in the House for years.

There is no question that if such a measure could be maneuvered before the chamber, it would be conclusively approved. Rank-and-file members, regardless of party, are heavily in favor of recomputation.

The sole problem is how to get the legislation to a vote of the full membership.

Last October, Sen. Hartke's overwhelmingly passed amendment was deleted in the secret deliberations of the House-Senate conferees on the military procurement authorization bill.

That happened because leaders of both conference panels were hostile to recomputation — and still are.

As the same Senators and Congressmen are vitally certain to be conferees this year, that again spells dire trouble for Hartke's proposal notwithstanding how big a vote it wins in the Senate.

It will be the painful 1972 story all over again — unless there is a crucial change in the makeup of the conferees or their attitude.

SOME HOPE
There is one new factor that could make a vital difference.

This is the $360 million item for recomputation of military retired pay the President Nixon included in his budget.

This is the first time that was done — and it could be of utmost consequence.

Sen. Hartke is definitely counting on this factor playing a major role in what happens in the House. He feels there is a good possibility that rank-and-file pressure there may force the House conferees to bring the recomputation issue to a vote in the chamber.

If that does happen, approval is a cinch.

The whole question revolves around whether the House conferees, headed by Rep. Edward Hebert, D-La., chairman of the Armed Services Committee, can be induced, in one way or another, to temper their previous adamant insistence on adhering to the germane rule.

If they will ease up on that by permitting, for example, a direct House vote on the Senate-approved recomputation amendment, the long fight will be over and a measure of fiscal justice will finally be accorded some 900,000 military retirees.

The prospects of that are conjectural.

It depends on a number of things — foremost among them how much weight retirees can bring to bear on the legislative leaders directly involved and their own Congressmen.

Pentagon flunks its weapons tests

By Ray Cromley

WASHINGTON (NEA) — There's much in the news these days about major Soviet advances in intercontinental missiles, warships and submarines. But equally alarming is information leaking out in bits and pieces on weaknesses, and possible unknown weaknesses, in a range of U.S. weapons — in part a result of insufficient testing before purchase.

Unpublicized Pentagon studies made at the request of Congress raise questions as to both the reliability and vulnerability in actual war conditions of weapons on which this country would depend in a crisis.

Back in July 1970, the blue ribbon panel found that Pentagon testing of new weapons before procurement was inadequate. There was, of course, development testing by the contractors; but the Defense Department rather consistently fumbled when it came to operational testing of new weapons in a realistic (simulated wartime) environment. And when such testing was done, it was carried out too late to influence key procurement decisions.

The panel reported also that testing new weapons against the capabilities of other weapons, or in conjunction with other weapons, was generally lacking, even though this is the way most weapons are used in actual war.

Recent evidence suggests that while some improvements have been made in testing and more planned, the Department of Defense has not made the progress it should have in this matter. As a result, we have met up with unhappy surprises in Vietnam and are likely to have more rude shocks if we ever become engaged in a nuclear war for our existence.

Note these admissions in recent Pentagon statements to congressional committees: "Our testing ranges have still not been "structured" to permit realistic multi-aircraft operational test and evaluation."

"Before Vietnam, we expected AA (anti-aircraft) guns to have only limited effect against attacking aircraft. Yet we lost heavily to such guns..."

"Most radar bombing accuracy tables are based on drops made in open ranges against uncluttered radar reflectors... When our forces in Southeast Asia attempted such missions, errors were normally much larger than expected."

The Pentagon is just now preparing to make radar bombing test runs in simulated battle conditions with cluttered radar and other distractions.

It is not pleasant to see our neighbors to the south suffer under a communist-oriented government. Their plight is not god. They have experimented with socialism and found it a failure. We of this great Republic know that the profit-motive system and individual initiative will work. We must emphasize this fact as we select our leaders at the ballot box. The lessons of Chile are obvious and we should study them and profit from them.

All Blood Has Uric Acid

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb — My husband's doctor tells him that he has uric acid in the blood. He takes one tablet a day and has uric acid blood tests yearly. He's been doing this for three years now. His doctor tells him he will have to take this medicine for the rest of his life. Would you say his doctor is correct in saying that he has uric acid in the blood? My husband does not have gout.

Dear Reader — Everyone has uric acid in the blood. The point is how much. This is the same thing as saying everyone has blood glucose (sugar). We all do, but the diabetic has too much and the person with low blood sugar, doesn't have enough. Your doctor probably meant that he had too much uric acid, more than we usually see in individuals who do not develop gouty arthritis or attacks of gout later in life.

Most of the uric acid in the blood is a result of protein metabolism within the innumerable cells throughout the body. If you have protein metabolism, and we all do, you will form uric acid.

Normally the amount of uric acid produced by the cells, compared to that eliminated through the kidneys, is small enough that you do not have a very high level in the blood. One method of treatment for a high uric acid level is to increase its elimination by the kidneys. In the process of eliminating large amounts of uric acid one may develop kidney stones or damage the kidneys. Another approach is to give a medicine to prevent the cells from forming too much uric acid during protein metabolism.

Most animals are able to metabolize or break down uric acid in the cells and never accumulate the amount that we do. This is just a difference in body chemistry. Man is relatively unique in producing uric acid. Medicine that prevents cells from producing an excessive amount of uric acid keeps the blood level low and avoids excess elimination through the kidneys.

During an acute gout episode, special medicines are used to stop the attack. Thereafter, if the uric acid level is high, one of the methods of treatment that I've just mentioned may be used. The gout attack is caused by an inflammatory reaction to uric acid crystals forming in a joint. The slow painless accumulation of uric acid salts cause deformed arthritic joints.

Both acute inflammatory attacks and slow arthritic deformity are more apt to occur when the blood uric acid level is too high, causing the crystals or salts to form. I'm certain that the doctor is trying to prevent your husband from developing gouty arthritis or attacks of gout by prescribing medicine to be taken regularly. This is a sound approach in patients who need such medicine.

Dear Dr. Lamb — Do vitamins contain calories, and, if so, how many?

Dear Reader — Vitamins do not contain calories. They do not react with oxygen in the body to form energy. They are not used to build body structures. Vitamins act with enzymes to stimulate vital metabolic functions within the cells, but are not, used for energy in the process.

Watergate Testimony Leaves More Loose Ends Than Answers

By ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON — With the Senate Watergate investigating committee self-righteously poised to resume its grillings, one conclusion stands out strikingly regarding its previous televised spectacles.

This is the numerous important loose ends and unanswered questions left dangling provocatively and tantalizingly in the air.

These matters directly involved every aspect of the probe so far. They surfaced during the questioning of almost every witness, and stand out glaringly throughout the thousands of pages of stenographic transcript.

If and when this verbatim account is published, it will be a bountiful treasure trove for researchers and sensation hunters.

The committee has a large army of lawyers, accountants, investigators and various other specialized personnel (including computer experts), but there is little indication they are being used to do anything consequential to clear up the numerous "dangling participles."

Certainly the august senatorial inquirers are evincing little interest in ferreting out these matters.

As a whole, the panel appears far more preoccupied with limelighting and grandstanding than clearing up the host of unanswered questions and significantly intriguing loose ends.

Asked about that, committeemen argue, "That isn't our function. It's up to the prosecutors and the courts. We are legislators and now law enforcers."

Denial is also vigorously voiced that in "hitting only the headline-making high spots" they are primarily interested in personal and partisan effects rather than conducting a penetrating expose.

Contented one committeeman: "There is only a limited amount of time, and neither individually nor as a group can we fully explore everything. There are a number of things I would have liked to have gone into more thoroughly, but time wasn't available. So I brought out what I could, and left the rest for the prosecutors and the courts."

"What makes you think they will do anything?" "That's their job," was the reply. "That's what they are paid to do."

The Dean Case
Time will tell whether this Senator's judgment or hopes are well founded.

There is plenty to keep the prosecutors and courts busy. For example, all they have to do is turn to the voluminous testimony of John Dean III, dapper former special counsel to the President, who unleashed a whole flock of sensational harpoons.

Dean's account of his handling of a $15,200 fund, which for some unexplained reason was put in his custody, is one of the most intriguing of the loose ends. It's an involved and fascinating story that, at one point, caused Sen. Edward Gurney, R-Fla., to sternly exclaim:

"Isn't that embezzlement?" "Well, there was no intention on my part never to account for the full amount," said Dean. "I knew that there were people aware I had custody of the money, that I was to account for it and that I was perfectly willing, able and capable of accounting for the full amount."

"Did anybody know you had taken the money out?" "I persisted Gurney, after Dean revealed he had withdrawn $4,850 for honeymoon and household expenses.

"Not to my knowledge, no." "Did you tell anybody?" continued Gurney.

"No, I did not." "When did you tell somebody about the handling of this money?"

"When I first began talking to the prosecutors," said Dean. "I explained it to them."

Handy Cash
Sen. Gurney, who sought to get at the bottom of this strange affair, frankly declared himself "puzzled" by Dean's tortuous account of his handling of the $15,200.

Under Gurney's questioning, Dean disclosed that he didn't go on the honeymoon, after all; that he used the money for personal expenses; and that the fund presumably is "in trust" in a bank. Also that he used the money for "everything from groceries to other incidentals."

Following is a revealing exchange between Sen. Gurney and Dean:

"Why didn't you pay for those things by check?" asked Gurney.

Dean: "Because I had the cash in my possession and I was using it for that purpose."

Gurney: "You have credit cards?"

Dean: "Yes, I do, but I try to use credit cards as infrequently as possible because I don't like to live on credit."

Gurney: "Here is a check made out to American Express Company for $908.47. Is this in payment of credit card bills?"

Dean: "Yes, it is."

Gurney: "Here is another check drawn to Bank Americard for $250.51. Is this also for credit card bills?"

Dean: "Yes, it is."

Gurney: "Still another check to Bank Americard for $106.50. Did that go for credit card payments?"

Dean: "Yes, it did."

Gurney cited other checks that Dean admitted were in payment for credit card accounts.

And that's the way this curious matter was left dangling in air — with the record showing Dean making himself free with the $15,200 fund mysteriously put in his custody, and that while professing averse to using credit cards, he had written a number of checks to pay credit card accounts.

Strength is born in the deep silence of long suffering hearts; not amid joy. — Felicia Hemans, English novelist.

THE PAMPA ROTARY CLUB PRESENTS THE WONDERFUL WORLD OF TRAVEL

LOOK FOR these men to buy your tickets. Most of the members of the Pampa Rotary Club were present for this picture at yesterday's luncheon. Each and every member of the club will have tickets available for purchase for you or your family. A complete list of the membership appears elsewhere on this page. Pick out a member, stop him on the street or telephone him right now to reserve your tickets to the "Wonderful World of Travel." Become a charter member of this fine film series. Charter members will have first preference for the next season (74-75). If you don't know a Rotary member or wish to purchase tickets before the auditorium is sold out, tickets are available at the following locations: First National Bank, Citizens Bank & Trust Co., Security Federal Savings and Loan, Panhandle Savings and Loan, Southwestern Public Service, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company and the Pampa Chamber of Commerce.

TRAVEL SERIES COMING TO CIVIC AUDITORIUM

Residents of Pampa and the surrounding area will have an opportunity to visit Persia, Argentina, Siam, Scotland and Wales and the Bible Lands when the Pampa Rotary Club presents five travel film programs in its Wonderful World of Travel series this fall and winter.

C. D. Zlomke, general chairman for the community service series, said each film presentation will be accompanied by a lecturer who has traveled in the land and made the movie film that he narrates.

Mrs. Margaret Thompson is chairman of the women's division.

A campaign is now under way to sell season tickets for all five presentations at $7.50 for adults and $5 for students.

Prices for individual performances will be $2.50 at the door for an adult and $1.50 for a student.

A complete family membership covering all five travel presentations may be purchased for $20.

With one exception, each of the five travel film lectures will be presented at 7:30 p.m. on the announced dates in the M.K. Borwn Auditorium.

First in the series, "All About Argentina," is scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 27, with Clay Francisco, a former reporter for Time and Life Magazines, whose travels have taken him to more than 40 countries.

"Legendary Siam" will be explored Tuesday, Nov. 27, with Ken Wolfgang, whose ability to record vividly events that make up the lives of the peoples he visits, and his keenly sensitive camera eye, make him a favorite with audiences everywhere.

Third in the series will be "Persian Panorama," with Nicol Smith, a native Californian, has an enviable reputation as an explorer of strange, remote and interesting places.

The exception to the night programs will be on Sunday, March 10, when Dr. Charles Forbes Taylor is scheduled with his film visit to "The Bible Lands" at 2:30 p.m. in the M.K. Brown Auditorium. Dr. Taylor will narrate this non-sectarian motion picture, evoking scenes from the life of the Man from Nazareth.

The fifth and final performance will be on Tuesday, April 2, with Ed Lark's presentation on Scotland and Wales. Lark, a perfectionist with a movie camera, along with his personable platform manner, has become a favorite with groups of all ages.

According to Rotary Club president, Rex McAnnelly, and general chairman Zlomke, the club decided to sponsor the series as a community service to give residents of Pampa and surrounding communities a rare opportunity to become familiar with foreign lands and their people.

"Those who avail themselves of the opportunity," Zlomke said, "will find the travel films to be highly educational and different from anything they have seen. The lecturers who will appear with each film have personally captured their subjects on film and will be unusually entertaining."

FILM NUMBER 2

"LEGENDARY SIAM"

by Ken Wolfgang

"Legendary Siam" introduces us to the people of Thailand, showing not only what the Thais do, but how they do it: not only how they look, but how they feel and think. We share together the emotional experiences of their daily life. Ken Wolfgang was not content merely to see Thailand and its people. He had to live and feel it. Consequently, he worked with the Thais at their jobs, and explored their world. Only then did he produce for you "Legendary Siam". We find ourselves in the world of Khow Boonsookmak, a Bangkok taxi driver, and his family, sharing their daily life at home, work, and play. It's early morning when we also begin sharing with Dang Seajong, and her family, life in the floating market, including preparing and selling tempting tropical fruits to families living along the canals. Ride with Khow as he picks up customers, first a railroad engineer who takes us on a nostalgic trip aboard one of Thailand's colorful wood-burning steam locomotives. At lunch time, we stop at the Golden Mount, where Khow presents an offering of gold leaf. Then on to watch the King's birthday celebration, visit the Royal Palace, and the Temple of the Emerald Buddha. Khow's second passenger is a Royal Thai Dancer who shows us a glimpse of her rigorous child-hood training, then performs one of her beautiful classic dances. After a restful visit at Pattaya Beach, we go to the weekend market, then join the Loy Krathong festival. Khow ends his day by attending a boxing match, which in Thailand is set to music. We go with Khow to visit his brother's farm, where we join in the planting and harvesting of the rice. The local temple is our next stop, as we follow Khow's nephew through his day as a Buddhist monk, begging for his daily food in order to learn humility, eating his only meal, studying and praying. We see the spirit houses where offerings are made and prayers are said to the spirits will be favorable to the intentions of the worshiper. With Khow's cousin we visit Chiang Mai for the Songkran festival. For three days and nights the people drench each other with scented water. Nearby villages specialize in the arts and crafts for which Thailand is so famous... silver smithing, umbrella making, and teak carving. We end our journey to Khow's world with a visit to a teak plantation, where elephants still work, play, and exhibit their skills at the famous elephant round-up in Surin.

KEN WOLFGANG

Rotary Club officials are expecting a sellout in their ticket campaign for the fall and winter "Wonderful World of Travel" series to be sponsored by the club during the 1973-74 season.

The film visits to foreign places, with narration by the men who actually made the movies, have attracted full houses everywhere they have been presented.

These season sellouts include Los Angeles, Chicago, Dallas, Cleveland, Omaha and many other cities.

"We think Pampans and the people from nearby towns are going to be just as interested in this unusual opportunity," Rex

McAnnelly, Rotary president, said.

Season tickets will sell at $7.50 for adults and $5 for students.

Tickets to single performances will be $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for students.

A family membership for all five presentations may be purchased for $20.

Persons residing out of town may obtain tickets by writing to Floyd Watson, First National Bank, P.O. Box 781, Pampa, Texas, 79065.

Locally, tickets may be purchased from any club member. Here is the club membership roster:

"SCOTLAND AND WALES"

by Ed Lark

SCOTLAND'S magnificent and varied scenery continues to lure every Scotsman back to his beloved homeland. Ancient ruins dating back thousands of years trace a vivid history of an unfriendly land gripped in conflict. At some unknown time in history the kilt became the traditional garment of the land. As peace finally settled over the turbulent countryside, the arts flourished, and Robert Burns became Scotland's national poet. EDINBURGH, the capital of Scotland, has much to offer the visitor: Prince's Street Park, fashionable department stores, the Royal Mile and St. Giles' Cathedral in the Old Town, Order of the Thistle ceremony with Queen Elizabeth officiating, Military School of Piping, bagpipe factory, Royal Highland Show, and the Edinburgh Zoo containing the largest penguin colony in captivity. We leave EDINBURGH and cross the FIRTH OF FORTH to ST. ANDREWS where we trace the history of golf and visit the famous Old Course. ST. ANDREWS is a cultural center, having the oldest university in the country. We take part in a sheep round-up in the DEE VALLEY and visit Balmoral Castle, the private home of Queen Elizabeth. Aberdeen's wholesale fish market is a lively and often humorous experience. LOCH NESS, which divides the Highlands from the rest of Scotland, is the home of the famous Loch Ness monster. The inhabitants of the ISLE OF SKYE in the Hebrides still follow a traditional life. The Skye Woolen Mill produces a wide variety of tartans and tweeds. The ORKNEY and

"BIBLE LANDS"

by Rev. Dr. Charles Forbes Taylor

WASHINGTON, D.C., The Rev. Dr. Charles Forbes Taylor, minister, lecturer, author, and producer of films, is the 1972 recipient of the Gold Medal Film of Fame Award presented by the Religious Heritage of America, Inc. The Gold Medal Award recognizes superior achievement on behalf of religious freedom, brotherhood, and service to God and Man, and is presented to a clergyman for 50 years or more of service. The Gold Medal Award is one of five major awards presented at RHA's 22nd annual National Awards Banquet, held in Washington, D.C., June 23, 1972, with some 500 religious, political, and business leaders from across the nation in attendance. Religious Heritage of America, Inc. is an interreligious and educational organization dedicated to preserving America's Judeo-Christian Heritage and working to instill its principles and ethics into all people annually. He has made a new vocation upon retirement in the lecture and film fields, and at age 72 fulfills in excess of 150 lecture and public appearances per year, presenting inspirational messages affirming America's faith and religious ideals. His most popular presentation, a unique travelogue film on "The Story of Jesus" has been presented by Dr. Taylor in more than 500 cities throughout the United States and Canada, frequently repeated annually by popular request, and has attracted an interfaith - interdenominational - non-denominational audience usually beyond the reach of the clergyman.

CHARLES FORBES TAYLOR

FILM NUMBER 1

"ALL ABOUT ARGENTINA"

By Clay Francisco

An Argentine says his country is neither the New World nor the Old, but the best of both. His roots are in the cities and villages of Europe; his heritage is a wide-open land that begins in a tropical forest, spreads across the vast Pampa shielded by the majestic Andes, and ends in Antarctic seas. In his film, Clay Francisco explores Argentina through glimpses into the lives of its people, and sometimes of its animals. He finds urbanity in the bright lights of Buenos Aires, elegance in chic shops and sidewalk cafes, and gaiety in the cantinas of La Boca, the Italian quarter. But he gauchos tradition persists: Dinner is a massive meal of beef cooked ranch-style over open fires. Even construction workers barbecue their lunch at the job site. Buenos Aires is a fresh-air city. The people through the parks, favor outdoor markets, and play every kind of sport. Polo is popular; also the steeplechase and basketball-on-horseback, called Pato. The passion for horses culminates in La Rural, the Americas' most elaborate cattle show and agricultural fair. Holidays are spent by the sea at Mar del Plata, or perhaps at breathtaking Iguazu Falls, mightier than Niagara, in an unspoiled tropical wilderness. Colonial Cordoba is Argentina's second city, at the foot of the Sierrita. Nestled in the hills are charming villages - one styled of Bavarian gingerbread, another of clay, peopled by Spanish poets; in another houses display modern Argentine murals. Above the villages, the Pampa de Achala resembles the moon's surface; only hardy Gauchos herd cattle through corridors of stone. The traditional Gaucho is found in the Pampa, an almost endless plain without trees or stones - just loamy soil, yards deep. Here is the heart of Argentina, and the wealth. Gauchos clad in leather and silver melt around the campfire for mate, herb tea, drunk through silver straws. It's found-up time; the men are expert with lassos and the bolo. Again to the mountains - this time, the towering Andes. Bariloche on Lake Nahuel Huapi is a swinging winter resort, renowned for scenery, ski runs, chocolate specialties, artisans, and a thriving night life. Argentina's animal life thrives on the Peninsula Valdez, an ecological paradise. Ostriches, guanaco, hare and armadillos, flamingos and many other migratory birds find sanctuary here. On the beach sea wolves gather huge harems, and gigantic sea elephants battle for superiority, the male whale frolics frolic offshore. Then along Darwin's trail to the Straits of Magellan and Ushuaia, the world's southernmost city, the penguin population reminds us we're at the end of Tierra del Fuego and the beginning of Antarctica. "All About Argentina" tells the story of a fabulous country and its people. It explores the past, including the saga of Juan Peron; it places Argentina into today's world; it points to what might be tomorrow.
