House Takes Up Move For Economies

Allred Asked To Submit Subject Of Cutting Costs

AUSTIN, Oct. 18 (AP)—The house, after two hours of stirring debate, joined the senate today in urging Governor James V. Allred to submit to the current special session the subject of reducing governmental costs.

"Stab In Back" With the session ending one week from tomorrow, the chief executive so far has pleaded only for new taxes. He had declined to reopen appropriations on grounds they probably would be raised instead of lowered.

A small house majority disregarded the plea of Rep. Abe Mays of Atlanta that the resolution was "a stab in the governor's back" and had the support of the "hypocritical senate" and the "special interests who don't want to pay their share of taxes."

An effort to kill the resolution, which requested Allred to reopen appropriations, failed 61 to 70, and it then was adopted by a wide margin. Rep. Walter E. Jones of Jordanton, the resolution's author, urged its approval in an attempt to remove the impediments against trimming expenses. The attorney general's department had expressed the opinion that unless the governor changed his special session call the house could not consider the departmental reduction bill passed by the senate.

"Sincerely Questioned" Speaker Robert W. Calvert said privately his present intention was to hold that expense-slashing proposals were not within the call. Charges the senate was not sincere in its move to cut expenses and would send appropriations for higher educational institutions and the judiciary raring through the house chamber.

"In the departmental bill, the senate whacked the little fellows and let the big ones go," said Rep. Penrose Matciffe of San Angelo. "I'll wait and see if the senators really mean business. Let's wait till they agree to trim the judiciary and educational bills."

Jones maintained time remained in the current session to effect material savings in governmental costs. Rep. J. Bryan Eldredge of Abilene pointed out that the governor's submission of the subject would make possible an increase in governmental expenditures. He said he favored an additional appropriation for rural school aid.

Other house members claimed the session was too near an end for intelligent economies to be made. Governor Allred meanwhile said he would not call another special session immediately after the close of the present one October 26 unless he was confident something would be accomplished.

RANCH INSPECTION NEARS COMPLETION

County Agent O. P. Griffin said Monday that final inspection of ranches participating in the federal range program would be started this week.

He said the check was being made necessary at this time because operators will be permitted to use pastures after November 1 on which deferred grazing has been practiced.

Griffin expressed the hope that operators will have other practices ready for reports when the inspections are made.

Subordinate lodges of the I.O.O.F. will confer the third degree on two candidates in rituals beginning at 7:30 p. m. in the lodge hall.

NEW ESTIMATE OF TREASURY DEFICIT IS DUE TOMORROW

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—The administration will make its third guess this week, possibly tomorrow, at the size of the 1938 treasury deficit.

The figure will be received with intense interest in political and financial circles.

Politicians are interested chiefly in the possible effect on the next sessions of congress and the 1938 congressional elections. Financial men will watch for its effect on the markets.

Man Wanted In Burglaries Here Held At Roswell; Shooting Attempt Fails

A man identified by Sheriff Perry Bean of Roswell as B. H. "Cotton" Huddleston was lodged in the Chaves (N. M.) county jail late Sunday after his daring attempt to shoot his way out of jail failed. Huddleston had been arrested late Sunday in a Roswell hotel by Sheriff Bean, Deputy Dean Stewart and State Policeman James Durett without show of resistance.

When taken to the jail, he suddenly drew a pistol concealed on his person. Twice he pulled the trigger, but the weapon jammed and officers disarmed him.

Wanted in connection with burglaries of several drug stores and filling stations over West Texas, including a drug store and liquor store here, Huddleston is also a fugitive from the Waxahachie jail. He figured in a break Sept. 12. Arrested with him were two young women, who identified themselves as Opal Green and Billie Evans, Lamesa, Tex., carnival dancers.

Sheriff Jess Slaughter said here Monday morning that he had been informed that a quantity of stolen goods was found in a car supposedly driven by Huddleston, known as the "Singing Bandit." It was the Howard county sheriff's impression that some of the things were articles missed from the Collins Bros. drug store and Rex Liquor store following burglaries here last week. Some member of the department was due to go to Tahoka, where it was understood that Huddleston was being returned for the time being.

Chief of Police Dick Hickman and Sheriff Dick Gregory of Colorado left Monday for Roswell in an attempt to gain custody of Huddleston. They wanted him in connection with the hi-jacking of a drug store in that city, Waxahachie, Tahoka and Lamesa also wanted the suspect.

According to Deputy Lacy Shortridge of Roswell, the prisoner broke jail at Waxahachie after he had been sentenced to terms aggregating some 210 years on several charges of jobbery and while awaiting trial on another count.

Huddleston became the object of a widespread search Saturday after officers found his picture in an undeveloped roll of film left in a car at Lamesa. The car was one of several abandoned in the wake of a wave of depredations reported in this territory during the past week.

"City Policeman Alfred Moody jumped a trio, resembling the suspect and his companions, gave chase but was finally outdistanced 10 miles north of here.

Martial Law Halts Racing

Natl. Guard Machine Guns Trained On Narragansett

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Oct. 18 (AP) With national guard machine guns set up at the entrance of the Narragansett Park race track, officials of the track today called off this afternoon's racing "because of martial law."

Armed national guardsmen patrolled the area about the million-dollar racing plant to enforce Governor Robert E. Quinn's command the plant be closed.

Three hundred guardsmen, under command of Adjutant General Herbert R. Dean and Colonel Earl C. Webster, moved into the area yesterday after Governor Quinn proclaimed "a state of insurrection" existed at the million-dollar track.

The troops had hardly taken their positions when Henry F. Currier, director of public safety in Pawtucket and democratic majority leader in the Rhode Island house, announced he had sent a letter to the governor threatening to bring impeachment proceedings against him for ordering out the militia.

The governor's proclamation, issued Saturday night, declared the "danger" of attendance of "gangs, thugs, criminals and persons of ill repute" at the fall meeting scheduled to open this afternoon, would cause "injury to our citizens" which civil authorities would be "unable to compete with."

WTCC Office Removal Is Taken To Court

ABILENE, Oct. 18 (AP)—Question of the home of the West Texas chamber of commerce headquarters today had become one for the courts to decide.

Removal of the office from Stamford to Abilene had been scheduled this morning, but D. A. Bauden, general manager of the regional chamber, yesterday was enjoined from so doing by a court order issued by Judge Dennis P. Ratliff of the 39th district court at Haskell. Action prompting the temporary injunction was brought by the Stamford chamber of commerce and board of city development, joined by C. M. Francis and others. Mr. Francis is treasurer of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and the only member of the executive board to cast a dissenting vote when the board last Friday accepted Abilene's offer to house the WTCC offices in the old federal building here.

Date for the injunction hearing was set November 15, the site yet to be determined.

Expressing regret that controversy had developed over the proposal to move offices of the West Texas chamber of commerce to Abilene, B. Reagan, member of the executive board of the regional organization, said Monday he believed the board had acted for what it thought to be the best interests of the organization as a whole. Reagan, director for this district, attended the meeting in Abilene last week when the decision was made.

Final Appeal To Kidnapers

Officers To Get Busy By Tomorrow

CHICAGO, Oct. 18 (AP)—Whether the grief-stricken wife of kidnaped Charles S. Ross will ever see her husband—dead or alive—rested today on a possible answer to her statement directed at the "seemingly heartless individuals," who abducted the wealthy manufacturer 23 days ago.

Ill, and under the care of a physician, Mrs. Ross yesterday dictated and signed her final appeal to the abductors to release her 72-year-old husband.

She declared that, at her request, federal agents and police have held back their efforts to find the kidnapers until Ross' safety was assured.

The statement warned, however, that if the retired greeting card manufacturer is not safely returned to his home by 8 o'clock tomorrow morning, Mrs. Ross "will request all law enforcement officers to proceed with a vigorous effort to locate and punish those responsible for the disappearance."

Her statement, handed to reporters by a lawyer in the Ross apartment, did not indicate any ransom had been paid.

Concerted Action By Farmers Asked By County Agent

A plea for standardization of cotton staples in this county was voiced Monday by County Agent O. P. Griffin in a radio talk over station KBST.

Declaring that communities and counties producing good, bnd and mixed staples were penalized with low prices, the agent urged farmers to get "behind this movement for a one-variety cotton." It will require the cooperation of about 100 farmers to make a start. That many farmers will have to give up their prejudices about cotton varieties and get together, that chosen by their committee (named at a mass meeting more than a week ago) as the best for this locality.

Griffin pointed to a fixed demand for short staple cotton and said that when the supply exceeds that demand as it has for the past several years, the price drops. Mixed bales of short and long staple must be used for coarse fabrics and twine, and consequently command lower prices he said. A larger number of producers

Court Attack On Subpoenas A Failure

Complaint Against Message Seizure Overruled

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—Three Florida companies lost in the supreme court today in an attack on a securities commission attempt to subpoena their telegrams.

The tribunal refused to review a decision against the companies by the fifth circuit court of appeals. The latter sustained the subpoenas, as well as the 1933 "trust in securities" act under which the subpoenas were issued.

Justice Black was assigned to have participated in the action announced today on approximately 30 controversies appealed from lower courts.

No announcement was made that he had not participated. An announcement ordinarily is made when justices disqualify themselves for any reason from passing on litigation.

Refusal of the high tribunal to review the attack on the securities commission produced a favored speculation as to whether Black's supposed participation would give the companies grounds to challenge the court's ruling.

While chairman of the senate lobby committee Black used telegrams, obtained by the communication commission, which had been sent and received by persons under investigation by the committee.

In other actions by the court, the Jeffrey-Dewitt Insulator company of Kokomo, W. Va., lost an attack on an order by the national labor relations board which held the company guilty of unfair labor practices.

The tribunal refused to review a decision against the company by the fourth circuit court of appeals.

Those attacking the subpoenas were the Ryan Florida corporation of Tampa; Income Royalties company of St. Petersburg, and the Florida Tex Oil company of St. Petersburg.

"They contended the commission's subpoena action 'was an exploratory search for evidence' and 'constituted an unlawful search and seizure.'"

PLANE ON MERCY ERAND GROUNDED

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 18 (AP)—An army plane on an errand of mercy, the return of Miss Dorothy Chastain from Tulsa, Okla., in an iron lung recently purchased here, was reported grounded indefinitely at Oklahoma City Monday.

The plane, piloted by Sgt. C. P. Smith of Duncan field, San Antonio, picked up the city's "iron lung" Sunday afternoon, and if plans had worked out on schedule, the girl, 16-year-old Wichita Falls college student, would have been returned to her home town this morning. She was flown to the nearest available respirator, at Tulsa, September 21 when infantile paralysis affected her lungs.

Oil Allowable Figures Due For Paring

Thompson Says Adverse Business To Bring Reductions

AUSTIN, Oct. 18 (AP)—Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the interstate compact commission, said today oil producers of the nation might as well expect lower allowable quotas from now until spring.

Business Slower Thompson's statement was issued two days before a state-wide production hearing at which evidence would be taken to base Texas' allowable for November will be received.

"No amount of statistics alters the fact that largely business over the nation has appreciably slackened," he said. "Prices of basic commodities have dropped materially. Thousands of men have been laid off. All this affects market demand of oil adversely."

"We cannot under the law allow oil to continue to build up above ground storage and waste the valuable lighter ends. It can be stored later when and as needed, it is wiser to not over-produce, when over-production means waste and loss for those who produce it and to the state. The consumer is best protected by allowing only enough oil to be produced to meet consumer demand."

New Production He pointed out a new producing bit well had been brought in in Texas every 45 minutes of the day, and night this year, asserting smaller allowable for each well was the only way the state railroad commission could keep production within the limits of market demand.

"It seems to me this is a simple statement of fact and oil producers of the nation should be prepared for lower allowable production quotas throughout the months from now until spring," he said. "Operators can figure this out just as well as we can if they really want to do it."

"In Wyoming they have absolutely shut in 20 oil fields for lack of market."

"Thus far in Texas we have been able to distribute the allowable so that every oil well gets to produce an average of 19 barrels per well per day and market that much oil as it is produced."

Spanish Issue Up To Franco

Insurgent Chief Has Say-So On Withdrawal Of Troops

By The Associated Press Insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco was advanced today as holding the final say-so in any non-intervention set up to get foreign volunteers out of the Spanish civil war.

Some observers said that Germany and Italy might agree to demands of France and England for withdrawal of volunteers, but it was pointed out, Franco could throw a monkey wrench into the proceedings by refusing to order the foreign troops to leave Spain.

Although Franco has agreed to a withdrawal it was pointed out he denied that foreigners be withdrawn equally from both the insurgent and government forces, as Italy has proposed.

Five For One England, however, will want the withdrawals on a basis of five men from the insurgent side to every one removed from government ranks, British diplomatic quarters said. The ratio was worked out on the British belief that 100,000 foreigners are with the insurgents, 20,000 with the government.

An official (Stefani) news agency bulletin, in Rome today estimated Italian volunteers in Spain at about 40,000, including combatants and non-combatants.

"This is the truth which fears no denial from any source—verified and unverified," the bulletin said. It added "Valencia's volunteers are much more numerous." Indications from informed London sources were that if Franco refuses the removal of foreign fighters, Britain and France will resume "full liberty of action" and permit arms shipments to Spain.

LOCAL PEOPLE AT COLORADO RITES

Many Big Spring people drove to Colorado Sunday to join residents of that town in mourning the death of two of its prominent citizens. Large crowds joined in last rites for C. L. WRECKAGE SIGHTED AFTER HOURS OF INTENSIVE HUNT

In Remote Region, Can Be Reached Only By Wagon Road; Observers Unable To Tell If Anyone Alive

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 18 (AP)—An air liner lost more than 14 hours with its 19 occupants was sighted from the air today 12 miles southwest of Evanston, Wyo., and first indications were it was badly wrecked or burned.

Whether any of the 15 passengers or crew of four escaped alive could not be immediately learned.

Arthur Willoughby of San Francisco, postal inspector who flew here today, said he "understood" the plane was "burned or badly cracked up."

"They have nothing definite on it yet, but it is my understanding the men who found the ship got the impression it either had been badly smashed or had been partially burned," Willoughby said.

On Mountaineer R. W. Schroeder, vice president and former chief of federal air line inspection, announced the mighty transcontinental transport was sighted by Bob Bergenson, United Air Lines pilot, and observer Bill Williams, who then radioed they would land at the Knight, Wyo., field, near the Utah border.

"The plane definitely has been wrecked," Schroeder said later. "It cracked up on the side of Chalk mountain, about 26 miles south of Knight, at an altitude of 10,000 feet. The observers could not fly close enough to see whether anyone was alive."

Immediately afterward Schroeder and a party of air line officials left by automobile for Knight.

In rough, broken country, the scene of the apparent crash can be reached only by a difficult wagon road, Schroeder said. Rain and snow may make access even more difficult.

Searching parties set out for Knight from Salt Lake City and from Evanston, planning to go into the remote region by horseback from that small town. Knight is about 75 miles northwest of Utah's Capital city, on the eastern edge of the mighty Wasatch range.

Pilot Earl D. Woodgerd last reported from his plane over Rock Springs, Wyo., at 8:16 p. m. Mountain standard time last night, saying "slightly rough," Alt. O. K.

Later, Sheriff Frank L. Narrmore of Evanston, Wyo., said the scene of the crash is 35 miles from Knight government airport, near east landing field and new base for the search.

He said he believed wagons and horses could force their way to within five or six miles of the crash scene, but beyond that point not even a trail exists.

"I doubt if we'll be able to reach the plane before rainfall," he said. "We had a miniature cloudburst in this region last night. That will make things worse."

HOPES HELD LABOR FACTIONS WILL REACH AN AGREEMENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—Some leaders in each faction expressed high hopes today that next week's peace conference of A.F. of L. and C.I.O. representatives will lead to a new, united labor movement.

"Each side will go into the conference here October 25 without any commitments. Neither has indicated any willingness to yield on the conflicting theories of union organization. Nevertheless, members of each group said privately they believed something could be worked out to unite the 7,000,000 members of the two organizations in one following a major surgery.

Hatcher but intimated he would place the officers who confiscated the machines under arrest when they appear in Kingsville Tuesday. A hearing on four complaints filed against owners of the machines in justice of the peace court at Kingsville yesterday, is set for tomorrow afternoon.

HOSPITAL DETAILS NEAR COMPLETION

Work on clearing details on the state hospital site continues here Monday and there were indications that there would be an important pronouncement from the chamber of commerce eleemosynary committee Tuesday.

The committee, through some of its sub-agencies, has virtually completed all matters barring preparation of the site and railroad spur right-of-way to the state board of control.

labor observers was acceptance by the American Federation of Labor of the C.I.O. as an autonomous department. Under this suggested reconciliation, the C.I.O. would continue its industrial organization—that is, organization of mass production workers in one union—and the A.F. of L. would continue organization by craft. Unionization would be carried on cooperatively, however, instead of in the open warfare of the last year. Labor authorities said they expected some of settlement to come from the conference because they believed neither side would like to bear the onus of withdrawal without an agreement.

Both Shindler and Bill Ratliff, Carter county deputy sheriff, said they expected no trouble.

New Federal Air Regulations In Effect Nov. 1

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—Many of the familiar rules governing highway traffic have been incorporated in new federal air regulations effective Nov. 1.

For example, pilots who fly in good weather were instructed today by the bureau of air commerce that they must obey only the "broad rules of the road."

The familiar green, amber and red lights of surface traffic will have a counterpart in green, amber and red airway lights established at prescribed altitudes. Green, in the air just as on a city street, will give one the right-of-way; amber will give way to green, and red to both green and amber.

Rigid restrictions will be placed on aircraft flying under adverse weather conditions. Two-way radio equipment flight plans outlining in detail the pilot's movements, sufficient fuel not only for the plane's destination, but far beyond, are only a few of the new requirements.

The bureau's goal is to make the civil airways of the United States the safest and best in the world.

"RUSSIA TWENTY YEARS AFTER," by Victor Serge; (Hillman-Curt; $2.50).

Victor Serge (whose correct name is Kibalchich) is another Leninist who judges harshly the regime of Stalin and the latter's growing bureaucracy in Russia. This must be overthrown, Serge holds through the bulk of his new book, "Russia Twenty Years After." Then, in a paragraph, he says what the result of the new revolution must be, more aptly than this reader has so far seen it expressed. Says Serge:

"It (the coming revolution) will demand a more socialist distribution of the national income; increase in wages and restrictions on the privileged, first step toward their abolition; the freedom of opinion and, now, the legalization of Soviet parties, the separation of the parties from the state, the freedom of speech, of press, of assembly, of association, of demonstration; guarantees of individual liberty at least equal to those that capitalist society accords its members in the most civilized countries; and the immediate suppression of the unspeakable regime of interior passports, the destruction of the police apparatus (G. P. U. secret service, provided with discretionary powers, administrative punishment); the passing over from the permanent army to the armed nation and, immediately, the democratization of the army by the suppression of ranks and decorations; the establishment of the legality and impartiality of the courts; the restoration of the right to defense counsel...."

This is one of the most pathetic paragraphs in all the immense literature on the "new Russia," for it will be observed by the dullest that if the situation now is so bad that these simple rights do not exist in fact, then what Serge is asking is not a betterment of conditions beyond those of capitalist countries, but merely a set of conditions approximating those of capitalist countries. This indicates that, if his figures and his deductions are even passably correct, present Russian conditions are shocking.

One might read "The Case of Leon Trotsky" (Harcourt, Brace; $3) in connection with all this. This is the report of the "trial" in Mexico last April, and though perhaps not so important in the broad sense, since Trotsky has said all he has to say elsewhere, it could be useful in research.

NEGRO ACCUSED IN SLAYINGS IS NABBED

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Oct. 18 (AP)—Death early today climaxed a grim manhunt for the negro slayer of two St. Petersburg policemen after officials had saved him, through a ruse, from possible mob action.

Chief of Police D. D. Vaughn said the negro was J. O. Moses, who was wounded and captured last night after he had been hunted since Saturday night for the slaying of motorcycle Officer James A. Thornton and Patrolman William G. Newberry at a circus here.

Vaughn said Moses was shot while resisting arrest when discovered at a negro dwelling, and that he was carried in a mortuary basket through a crowd that quickly gathered at house.

The police chief said an effort was made to tear the cover from the basket until he told the crowd that the negro had been killed.

The instructions include small, medium, and large sizes.

The pattern envelope contains complete, easy-to-understand illustrated directions, with diagrams to aid you; also what crochet hook and what material and how much you will need.

To obtain this pattern, send for No. 533 and enclose 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to cover service and postage. To obtain pattern for beret and scarf, send for No. 508 and enclose 10 cents additional. Address Big Spring Herald, Inc., Needlework Department, P. O. Box 172, Station D, New York, N. Y.

THE Opening Matches Sports Up In Muny Meet

PARADE BY HANK HART

According to Bob Flowers, who spent some time in the Texas University freshman football camp, Dana Bible is going to have to depend on something besides material if he hopes for a Southwest conference championship next season.

Elwin Ricketts, giant Amarillo mainstay of 1936, is the only boy worth mentioning that is reporting to the freshman mentor.

Bohn Hilliard's brother is coming out but his performances on the gridiron are raising very little comment. He may be a Hilliard but he's no Bohn.

Plans begun last week by an Abilene business club to arrange for a game between Hardin - Simmons and Texas Tech later in the year eventually fell through.

Failure of the two clubs to get together can be explained in several different ways but most important is the fact that the Abilene ball club has by far the stronger grid.

Jones Earns Medalist Honors

Golfers Have Week In Which To Complete Rounds

Doug Jones earned medal honors for the Fall Municipal golf tournament when scores of four late entrants were checked by Pro Harold Akey of the Mundy course Sunday afternoon.

Jones had a 76 for the 18 holes, four strokes better than D. C. Filkins who placed second among the players who will strike out this week in quest of the honors.

Qualifiers Sunday and their scores included J. D. Dwan 90, Dr. M. H. Bennett 95, M. K. House, Jr., 93 and Murlan Smith 110.

Jones will play his first round match one day this week opposing E. D. McDowell. Other championship flight pairings are Loe Hubby vs. Dwan, Filkins vs. L. B. Coffee and Jake Morgan vs. O. S. Black.

First flight pairings: L. N. Millon vs. Lawrence Robinson.

Harry Staleup vs. M. K. House, Sr.

D. B. Gentry vs. E. W. Lowrie, Jr.

Dr. M. H. Bennett vs. W. W. Bennett.

Jimmy Shipman vs. Sam McCombs.

Jimmy Brigham vs. O. C. Hart, M. K. House, Jr. vs. Glen Hancock.

W. W. Barber vs. Murlan Smith. Golfers will have until next Monday to complete their first round matches.

COWBOYS PLAY ON FOREIGN FIELDS NEXT 3 GAMES

ABILENE, Oct. 18.—The Hardin-Simmons Cowboys, undefeated and unscathed in four starts, have an open date this week, in which to get ready for their next three games in a row away from home.

In accession, the Cowboys meet the East Texas Teachers at Commerce, Oct. 20, the Kansas State Teachers at Emporia, at Wichita Falls, on November 6, and travel to California to take on Fresno State College, at Fresno, on Armistice Day, before playing at home again.

The Cowboys, paced by Ed Cherry, high scoring fullback, and Ed "Scooter" McKinney, have piled up 119 points in victories over the Kentucky Teachers, Wichita Falls College, Loyola University at Los Angeles, and the West Texas Teachers at Canyon.

Coach Frank Kimbrough's proteges galloped through the West Texas Buffaloes Friday, 40 to 0, with Cherry leading the attack to score three touchdowns. Scoring rambles of 35, 34, and 4 yards appeared the thin-skinned Shamrock boys' scoring journey.

Jack Hatcher, "Fuzzy" Breckenridge, junior, and understudy to the injured McKinney, Luke Raley, blonde Hamlin quarterback, and Neal Davis, sophomore end from Shamrock, turned in other scores.

To turn in their twelfth straight victory on the gridiron, the Cowboys, undefeated since they were noosed out by Texas A. and M. more than a year ago, mixed effective passing and running attack.

Cherry, playing in the Texas Panhandle country, his home stamping ground, turned in one of his best days of the fall, and boosted his point total to 42 for the season, and his ball carrying average to more than 19 yards per try for four games this season.

Cleaning the cuff: The Benny Leonard-Lou Tandler lightweight championship fight, fought in New York City in 1923, grossed $452,648, a record.

Harry Vardon won the British Open golf championship five different times. France captured the fencing title of the 1932 Olympics. 29 horses ran in the 324 Belmont Futurity, captured by L. Coose.

Cooper, Smith Still Lead In Tourney

Revolta, Mangrum Trail By 1 Point, Meet Ends Today

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 18 (AP)—Sixteen of the nation's classiest professional golfers marched out two by two in the last 18-hole round of Oklahoma City's first annual four-ball tournament today to $5,000 in prize money.

At the head of the parade, but only a short step, were Horton Smith and Harry Cooper, sharp-shooting pair from Chicago. Close on their heels came Johnny Revolta of Chicago and Ray Mangrum of Dayton, O.

Revolta and Mangrum, the latter blazing around the water-logged course in 66, five under par, passed Ky Laffoon and Dick Metz, another Chicago team, by defeating them, 3-up, in yesterday's sixth round.

Smith and Cooper watched their lead shrink to a single point when they lost by a two-hole margin to Lawson Little of Chicago and Paul Runyan of New York.

Smith and Cooper went into the final round with nine points on the plus side of the score board. Little and Runyan stood third with five points on the plus side. A point ahead of Laffoon and Metz.

Only these four teams are conceded a chance to finish in first place and grab the $1,200 first prize.

Devils Play Odessa Soon

Daniel-May Divide Team Into Groups For 2 Games

Ben Daniel's squad of Devils, beaten in their first start of the season last Thursday night when Cokhoma trounced them, 20-6, in Steer stadium, will oppose the Academy high school gridgers and Odessa's junior gridgers sometime within the next two weeks, Daniel announced Monday morning.

Daniel has such a large squad of boys that he may divide them and send them against both clubs this weekend but plans to that effect have not been worked out yet.

The fresh gridgers will go back to work this afternoon on the high school grounds to learn of the mistakes they made against the Coahoma club and to get new plays for the coming clashes.

The team came out of the Bulldog clash in good physical condition and the starting eleven should be intact for the weekend clashes. Johnny Miller, who played last Thursday despite an injury received earlier in the season, should be ready to practice this week.

Daniel still has more than 30 boys reporting each afternoon. That number could be increased if more suits were available.

SW Stars Mentioned

By the Associated Press. Saturday's football stars, a national list compiled by the Associated Press included two Texas players:

Ken Mills, Texas A&M — his passes gained 45 yards in five plays for touchdown to the Texas Christian 7-7.

MUSTANGS TRY FOR HOGS' SCALP— Baylor-Texas A&M Clash Shares Spotlight With TCU's Jaunt

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT. DALLAS, Oct. 18 (AP)—Two games in slightly different settings—one down along the Brazos river bottom and the other up in New York's Polo Grounds—are the Southwest's contribution to the nation's grid hysteria next Saturday.

They'll be there from the crossroads for the Baylor-Texas Aggie game at College Station while a sellout throng is likely to watch Texas Christian's potent offense try to dent Fordham's "seven blocks of granite" in New York's choice intersectional game.

The Southwest's only undefeated teams, Baylor and the Aggies, with the habitually underdog Baylor a revived outfit that holds championship potentialities, may draw one of College Station's largest crowds, exclusive of the Thanksgiving Day classics. Some 20,000 are expected.

Baylor rolled along last Saturday with a crushing 20-0 defeat of Centenary, featuring its Bullet Bill Patterson, but the Aggies had to click with a last-minute passing attack to tie a Texas Christian team, 7-7, that had outplayed them from the start.

Trouble Looms. Tiny Davey O'Brien, the Christians' 150-pound quarterback and triple-threat, was everything to the TCU attack, accounting for their touchdown and extra point. Twice before he threatened to score on a field goal and a long pass to Looney, end, that just failed to connect on the goal line. The Fordhams may wish they had never heard of O'Brien before nightfall Saturday.

It was Ken Mills, the Aggies' erstwhile third-stringer, who passed three times for a touchdown in the last four minutes. His scoring pass found Smith on the goal line.

Down at Austin two teams who have failed to shove off potent offenses, Texas and Rice, will meet in another conference game. Rice remained scoreless in three games after holding Tulsa to a 0-0 tie in the mud at Houston while Texas, off to an early lead, couldn't hold Arkansas and finally lost, 21-10.

The Arkansans, playing without Jack Robbins, pined up two touchdowns in the last period on a pass. Rawlings took across and Cole's interception of a wild Longhorn pass. Hugh Wolfe brought in all the Steer points.

Arkansas, still clinging to a faint hope of protecting their title, goes into Fort Smith, Ark., game favored to beat Southern Methodist, which took a 6-0 licking from Vanderbilt at Dallas.

However, the Methodists were an improved club in their muddy game against Rice. Morrison's stronger Yandy team. They traveled to the Commodore four once on a sustained aerial drive led by Jack Morrison, but there a penalty halted them.

Steers Back To Work

Locals Have Only 3 Days In Which To Plan For Ranger

Eat Murphy and his boys have only three days in which to work for their next game but should be ready by that time to take what thus far has proved to be by far the weakest team in the entire Oil Belt district.

Thursday afternoon, in a feature of an oil day of celebration, the Longhorns, smarting under their third conference licking of the year, will seek their second win of the year in a game with the Ranger Bulldogs.

A year ago the locals smashed the Bulldogs' defense to bits in winning a 45-0 decision and they should win by four or five touchdowns again although little is known of Coach "Fats" Wright's team.

Fans who follow the Herd to Ranger may see the local eleven seek to sound out their scoring punch before the expected large crowd. The local eleven may find out many things they did not know beforehand if they can get their offense to clicking against the Bulldogs.

It is hoped that enough fans will accompany the team Thursday to arrange for a special section of cars over the Texas & Pacific railroad. If plans are completed, a round trip ticket will cost $2.60, according to Clarence Gurnes who is promoting the idea.

Miss Virginia Walker spent the weekend with relatives in Ranger this weekend.

WACO'S MEN OF MIGHT

Here is the backfield of a starting Southwest conference team, an outfit that has scored victories over such outstanding elevens as Centenary and Arkansas this season. It's the secondary of Baylor university, which plays the Texas A&M Aggies Saturday for the conference leadership.

Yale, Syracuse Stand Out Along With Northwestern And LSU

By HERBERT W. BARKER. NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—Intercollegiate football approached the seasonal half-way mark today with the ranks of undefeated and united teams drastically reduced and sectional championship races turned upside down by another series of farm reversals that struck every section of the country.

Today only 17 major teams still could boast perfect records and there will be materially depleted after next Saturday's practice. Figures tell best the carnage wrought among favorites last week. Twelve major teams suffered their initial defeats; eight others escaped defeat but were tied. The net result left 17 undefeated and untied arrays and 13 unbeaten but tied.

Here's how the undefeated list stands now: Dartmouth, Syracuse, Holy Cross, Yale, George Washington, undefeated and untied, 20-0; Fordham, Navy, Harvard, Boston College, Temple and Villanova undefeated but tied.

MIDWEST—Wisconsin, Northwestern and Detroit unbeaten and untied; Nebraska tied.

SOUTH—Vanderbilt, Louisiana State and Alabama undefeated and untied; Tulane, Auburn, Duke and North Carolina tied.

SOUTHWEST—Baylor undefeated and untied; Texas A. & M. tied.

FAR WEST—California and Santa Clara undefeated and untied. Rocky Mountain—Colorado, Western State (Gunnison) and Montana undefeated and untied.

Prospects for this week seem about as follows: EAST—Pitt, which outplayed Fordham by a wide margin but could be otherwise kicked away its chances for victory in the third consecutive scoreless tie these teams have played, tackles Wisconsin's revived Badgers whose fourth consecutive victim was Iowa, 13-6. Alabama, which upset Tennessee, 14-7, plays George Washington in a clash of undefeated and untied teams.

Detroit, which removed Catholic from the unbeaten brigade last week, faces Boston College, held to a scoreless tie by Temple. Colgate, impressive in holding Tulsa to a 7-0 score, tackles undefeated Duke which whipped Georgia Tech at Atlanta, 20-19.

Keeping the intersectional ball rolling Fordham plays Texas Christian, which surprised by holding powerful Texas A. & M. to a 7-7 draw.

Syracuse, which beat 14-6, undefeated Cornell, plays Maryland, 3-0 victor over Virginia. Army, whipped by Yale plays Washington University of St. Louis.

Yale meets Cornell. Carnegie Tech, held to a net gain of seven yards by rushing but 9-7 victor over Notre Dame just the same, plays Temple in a Friday night game.

Columbia, after crushing Penn 26-6, finds Brown, crushed 41-0, by Dartmouth, next on the slate. Dartmouth plays Harvard which held Navy to a scoreless tie.

Holy Cross, which topped Georgia 7-0, should ease past Western Maryland and Villanova, who routed Manhattan, 20-0, should hurdle Bucknell.

Princeton, which beat Chicago, 16-7, plays Rutgers, undefeated and untied. Penn plays Georgetown, unexpectedly upset by Lafayette, 6-0.

SOUTH—Louisiana State's Ti-

Be Sure Of Equality

President Roosevelt has, in his public utterances, made it clear that he expects the congress to enact legislation that will cure the ills of the farmers, the lower paid workers and in fact the whole country. That is a consummation devoutly to be wished but how to do it is the problem. Having traveled over several sections of the country the president states that he has acquainted himself with conditions, needs and the mental processes of the people. That he has done this with respect to a part of the people there is no doubt. That he or any other human can get, in such rapid flitting from place to place, such brief stays in any, a true and complete knowledge of these things, is doubtful. Problems as great as those to be solved require more time and the hearing of both sides. The president heard only one, as matter of course.

But even at that, the congress should try to do what is recommended provided it is not too divergent from the information and conviction of the members of the congress. Much can be done, even if not everything is possible at this time. But in enacting the bills required to make effective the plans of the president, the congress should be sure it does not advantage one section of the country to the disadvantage of another section—that people engaged in one industry are not favored over those engaged in others. The president's inference that one section of the country is benefiting at the expense of another section, in his demand for wage standards, will disadvantage the South if its manufacturers are required to pay wages equal to those in the North. The representatives from the South must take care that we are not harmed while other areas are being benefited.

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—In the Times Square area are two vast news stands where are sold newspapers from every important city in the world. These include all principal American cities and the European capitals, with especial emphasis being placed on English language papers from Shanghai and other Oriental ports. New York being a cosmopolitan center, composed of people from every city, state, and nation in the world, it is an assured fact that if you stand near these stands for any length of time you will see a cross-section of the world pass in review. Less publicized but equally true is the fact that plainclothes men and detectives keep a watchful eye on these stands. They scrutinize closely anyone purchasing a paper there, and their logic is simple. Criminals frequently give way to impulse or curiosity to see how much ado the "local" press is making over their activities. A fugitive, say, from Minneapolis is likely to ask for his hometown paper, and when he does a copper usually is ready to slip the irons on him.

Then again, spies are sometimes detected in this way. There is one case on record where a rather harmless looking fellow was in the habit of buying a large number of papers every second Monday at one of these stands. Finally it became noted that he purchased coast papers only—that is, he bought Savannah, Miami, New Orleans, Galveston, San Diego, San Francisco, and Seattle papers. This, in effect, drew a "ring" around the United States.

Before making a move the authorities purchased these papers themselves and, in time, succeeded in breaking down a code in the classified advertisements. The purchaser was a spy and was receiving certain information in this way twice a month. This was shortly after the war, and so the fellow was, as I recall, deported. Had he been captured during the war he would have been shot.

Another favorite ambush for detectives is the nightclubs. Plainclothes men frequent the "lush" late-hour places, aware that fugitives, with a lot of loose "scratch," break out now and then on spending sprees. More than one important capture has been made in the dusky glow of a nightclub.

I remember meeting a detective one night in a pre-repeal place near 52nd street. "I've been here every night for two weeks," he said. "We're after a safe-cracker from Boston. He's a good-time guy and can't keep out of the gay spots for long. He'll come in one of these nights and when he does I'll put the irons on him."

They got him two nights later, during a private champagne supper, with one of his sweeties. Richard Maney, the theatrical representative, is a collector of printed dramas. In his office at 120 West 42nd street are more than 100 copies of plays. "For quick reference work" he says. His apartment is stacked to the ceiling with books, all on the theater.

IS IT WAR OR PEACE IN EUROPE?

Less than twenty years ago the British and French were the masters of Europe, and along with the United States the three great Atlantic powers exercised an almost undisputed supremacy throughout the world. Today we are all of us driven from the Orient and in Europe Britain and France are uncertain whether they can still defend the vital links of their empire.

It is not very enlightening to ascribe this revolutionary change in the balance of power to the rise of the dictators. For the German and Italian dictatorships were conceived and created in the very period when the democracies were all-powerful in arms, in prestige, in commerce and in finance. The plain fact is that when the western democracies had supreme power they failed to conciliate the peoples of central Europe; and now that they no longer have supreme power, now that there have been raised against them formidable challengers, the democracies do not know whether they can face the risk of defending themselves.

From the armistice to the accession of Hitler, the western nations, including our own, abused their power by failing to be just and to be liberal. Since the accession of Hitler they have been unable to make concessions, and yet they have been unable to resist the demands made upon them. Lacking magnanimity when they exercised supremacy, they now lack resolution when they are challenged.

What the democracies would like is to remain undisturbed in the enjoyment of all their possessions. They would like to keep what they have, not only their colonies and their dependencies, but also their monopolies and their preferences. They would like never to have to defend what they have. They would like to make the relatively small concessions embodied in Secretary Hull's policies, and for the rest they would like to keep the world in order by reminding it that it would be as noble as it would be convenient for them if all treaties were habitually respected. They would like to placate the challenges and to overcome them by rhetorical threats.

But, whether we like it or not, the challenging powers are as realistic as they are ruthless. There is no way to satisfy them by promises and there is no way to combat them by making speeches. The challengers are prepared to fight for what they want; they are completely persuaded that they are entitled to have whatever they can take. So they are not to be put off by promises, no matter how pronounced they are, and they are much too shrewd and much too bold to be bluff.

When, for example, they hear the president of the United States talk about a quarantine against treaty-breakers, they are impressed only in so far as they think he means to institute a quarantine, and to back it, if called upon, with the whole military power of the United States. They do not care about his language, however pleasing it may be to newspaper readers in London, Paris, Berlin, Moscow, and Nanking. What they care for is whether he would really act, and when they find him hesitating to promise the American voters that he will do nothing which involves the risk of war, the word "quarantine" has no present value and is merely stage-manoeuvring.

Since we cannot deceive the challengers, let us not deceive ourselves. We are living in a world in which great militarized nations are bent on conquest. The democracies are potentially stronger than the dictatorships, but they are softer, more self-indulgent, and more confused. They are unwilling to face the fact that in dealing with governments—that are willing to fight, there is no form of influence which really counts unless it is backed by a willingness to fight.

Thus it is not only useless but dangerous to talk about sanctions and quarantines and other preventive measures, unless that talk is founded on a willingness to face the final risk of war. There is no such thing as a half-way and half-hearted policy in the ultimate issues; there is no such thing as proposing to choke the Japanese, but not to strangle them. There is no way of threatening the Japanese if the threats are not meant seriously. There is no such thing as fighting the Japanese without sincerely fighting them.

Provocative talk without sincerity of purpose can end only in humiliation, in the exasperation of the challengers, and in providing them diplomatic triumphs which will increase their strategic power. Emerson used to say that when you strike at a king you must kill him; Germany, Italy and Japan will respect the western powers only in the degree to which they are convinced that there are definite points at which the western powers really mean to stand absolutely and to fight totally. If the

Hollywood

Sights and Sounds
By Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—Picture people spend time and money insuring authenticity of costumes for period pictures unless the "period" is the 1920's. Then they spend time and money trying to stimulate authenticity without achieving it.

When they make a picture nowadays like "Madame X," which they've modernized to the extent that its period covers the 20's, they don't dare use the actual fashions. They're afraid the audience, most of which remembers the styles will laugh and forget the drama. That is why Gladys George wears hats and gowns which are a modified form of the 1920 fashions, and why Warren William's cutaway coat is not the three-button type then popular.

Fifteen years from now, perhaps, the fashions foregone in "Madame X" will be acceptable, definitely "dated" and therefore not so funny. But what will they do, 15 years from now, when they set a picture in the year 1937, and have to do things about the clothes women are scheduled to wear this fall—clothes to be specific, such as Loretta Young wears in "Wife, Doctor and Nurse"?

Maybe this has happened before, but I don't recall it. Jamiel Hanson, who technically advises Hollywood on Arabian settings, costumes and customs, has received a bid from Egypt to advise technically on American scenes, costumes and customs for a picture to be made in Arabic.

"Every Day a Holiday" is a Gay Nineties setting, and it may be that it will prove the turning point for Mae West. She's one actress I'd like to see typed in period—specifically the period of "She Done Him Wrong," her first and best picture.

"Hollywood" defines Director Edward H. Griffin on the run, "It's a town where many people strive to be alone on the front page." (But have I seen that somewhere before?)

Things they worry about: Allan Jones wondered for weeks whether his shoes really squeaked as he walked down the aisle at the Macdonald-Raymond wedding, as was reported.

RACIAL SEGREGATION IS PROPOSED AT CHURCH MEETING

CINCINNATI, Oct. 18 (AP)—The Protestant Episcopal church, told that 7,500,000 American negroes have no religion, considered today a plea for segregating members of the race into racial missionary districts.

The plea came from the Rev. Robert L. Johnson of New Bern, N. C., a leader among negroes of his state for 27 years, who said "there is a trend away from religion as he has known it, on the part of the negro."

He suggested to the Episcopal general convention a 10-point program, in which negroes would administer the church to their own people.

Chapter 16
ALONE WITH RICHARD
Honey was still looking anxious so Nina asked: "Darling, don't you feel well?"
Her mother gave a little laugh. "It didn't sound quite like her, somehow."
"It's probably naughty of me to say this to you, baby, but being married—just newly married—to Richard does not tend to make one feel exactly... placid. Sometimes, I feel a trifle worn out..." She blushed at herself and looked more anxious. "It will pass... though I hope not!"
Nina felt a stirring in her breast. She knew it for what it was—jealousy; but she tried to tell herself that it was concern for Honey. Horrible state of affairs.
But the next time she heard of it, it was all settled.
Honey was going to Palm Beach with Horaceface in a week and Richard was not.
Nina's knees almost sagged beneath her as she heard the news; but in a moment she felt better, for Honey went on.
"Richard had a marvelous inbackgammon, and Bridget had just come in to ask if there was anything else she could do for them, before retiring.

Nina said: "No, thank you, Bridget," and Richard said the same; and then the house had settled down to that stillness for the night, which is more—enfolded—than anything else in the world... he rose quietly and lifted the table away.
For a delicious half-second Nina knew what was coming... and then it was reality. She was in his arms.
"Nina... Nina... it just is, that's all. It's bigger than we are. Bigger than right or wrong... or life. We couldn't stop it any more than we could stop the sun from rising. Precious... beautiful..." His lips again, tender, demanding.
It was a misty, delicious dream... it was heaven on earth... it was wrong.
"Richard..."
He was looking at her with all the things that had been in the back of his eyes, quite open now; tenderness, and admiration, and a burning desire that was so fierce

Landon's Talk Is Topic Of Speculation

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—All M. Landon's announcement of a radio speech tomorrow night aroused speculation today on two questions:
1. Will the 1936 republican presidential nominee comment directly on President Roosevelt's talk of Tuesday outlining his program for a special session of congress?
2. Will he discuss republican preparations for the 1938 campaign, including the proposed off-year convention?

Landon gave no clue to his subject in announcing the address. He said only that he would discuss "certain questions of the day."
(The address will be broadcast over the NBC blue network, 8:30 to 9 p. m., central standard time.)
Political observers were considered it likely that he might take issue with the president on some legislative recommendations, or at least outline the republican viewpoint.

The speech, in any event, will be regarded as another step in the early republican campaign to increase the party's seats in congress in the 1938 election.
Organization for the campaign has been under way for weeks, but no major figure in the party has yet discussed publicly the issues on which votes will be asked.
Some indication of which way the political winds are blowing may come in scattered off-year elections next month. Leaders of both parties are vying in the gubernatorial contests in Virginia and New Jersey, several special congressional races, and mayoral contests.

Support of the president was mentioned in a factional campaign in Arkansas, where voters picked a successor today to the late Senator Joseph T. Robinson, majority leader.
Governor Carl E. Bailey, regular democratic nominee, declared his independent opponent, Rep. John E. Miller, was anti-Roosevelt. Miller, endorsed by Senator Hattie Caraway (D-Ark.) among others, said he admired the president and objected to making him an issue.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Donnelly and Francis Donnelly were among those from Big Spring who attended the football game in Fort Worth Saturday.

When it happened, it came like a bolt from the blue. Nina and Richard were playing

SYMPATHY STRIKE OF SEAMEN THREATENED

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 18 (AP)—A sympathy strike of seamen in southern ports threatened today as differences between striking longshoremen and shippers passed into the third day without a settlement.

Vessels with cargoes to load or unload in harbors from Wilmington, N. C., and south around the Atlantic seaboard to Tampa, Fla., on the gulf coast lay idle in port for the most part. At Miami, Fla., and Savannah, Ga., efforts to discharge cargoes with non-union workers were being made.

Longshoremen asked increased wages, an eight-hour day and other concessions.

Joseph P. Ryan, president of the I.L.A., said in New York any "sympathy strike" of the International Seamen's Union would be called by South Atlantic leadership.

Wind Welcomed To Dry Out Cotton

Farmers smiled Monday for the wind in the west.

Any other time, perhaps, he would have frowned upon the possibility of a dust storm or prolonged dry weather.

But Monday, with cotton open in the fields and a week of cloudy, damp weather ended, the farmer welcomed a wind that would team with the sun in popping open the county's largest money crop.

Continued fair weather during the week will cause some 3,000 bales of cotton to roll into the county's seven gins, boosting the season's harvest to around 14,000 bales—about half of the estimated crop.

Faces Charges In Death Of Couple

EIGHTEEN-year-old Paul Dwyer today faced police charges that he murdered an elderly South Paris physician and his wife and drove an automobile through New England, New York and New Jersey with their bodies in the car.

In nearby Norway municipal court Dwyer was scheduled to be arraigned for slaying Dr. James G. Littlefield, 67, last Wednesday during the doctor's visit to his home.

Regardless of the outcome, police said, the slim sallow-faced youth would be called to answer a second murder charge tomorrow in Portland in the death of the doctor's 65-year-old wife, Lydia.

Police said Dwyer strangled Mrs. Littlefield Friday when she became suspicious after he had driven her around since Wednesday night seeking her husband, whose body was stuffed in the rear trunk of the automobile.

FALL PLANTING, GRAIN CROPS HELPED BY WEEKEND RAINS

By Associated Press

A weekend of steady rains over a wide area in Texas today had aided fall planting and provided needed moisture for grains already under ground in some sections.

Sections about Fort Worth, Gainesville, Stephenville, Palo Pinto county, and Dallas, where precipitation ranged from one to 2.80 inches, reported little damage to cotton, most of which had been harvested, and help for wheat, oats and other grain already seeded, with aid to planting operations.

Houston reported that week-end rains of almost torrential intensity amounting to about 3 inches, would keep the third wing of the GHQ air force, there for annual aviation maneuvers, grounded.

In that area some late, unharvested rice, was reported damaged, but truck crops needed the rain.

Beaumont recorded 3 inches of rain yesterday, still falling late last night.

The Colorado river rose a half foot in 24 hours at Austin, where 2.66 inches of rain fell in a 24-hour period ending yesterday.

Llano reported 1.16 inches, Taylor 3.14 inches, Throckmorton county 1.2 inch, Decatur, Wise county 3 inch, Abilene .07 inch, and Eastland light showers.

Heavy rains at Bonham sent the Red river on an 8-foot rise; the Trinity river at Dallas was almost bankfull. Streams at Cleburne were, temporarily up Saturday night, but no damage was reported.

Like It Or Not, Garner's Booked To Give Formal Dinner For FD

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—Vice President Garner may have thought he had abolished once and for all the old custom of exchanging an annual dinner with the president, but he hasn't.

For on the winter social calendar of the White House, just made public, is this line:

'Jan. 6, Thursday—Vice president's dinner, 8 p. m.'

Many a Washington dwager, however, was willing to wager today that when Garner arrives for the special session of congress next month, he will telephone President Roosevelt and say something like this:

'Say, boss, let's call the whole thing off.'

That is what he did last year, when President Roosevelt, chuckling heartily, consented.

'Until that time, the president and the first lady had entertained at a state dinner every year, for the vice president and his wife, and the latter in turn had been host to the presidential couple.'

Garner's customary bedtime is 9 p. m. and those annual dinners were virtually the only occasions when he stayed up later.

The banquet question is not the only one to which the ruddy-checked Texan will supply an answer when he returns next month. Members of congress have been asking one another whether he will resume the active behind-the-scenes role in directing legislation which he assumed last summer.

After the death of Majority Leader Robinson (D-Ark), Garner acted as intermediary in ending the heated battle over the Roosevelt court bill. After the measure was sidetracked, he held many conferences trying to patch up the split in democratic senatorial ranks.
