Yarborough To Be Here On Tuesday

Senator Ralph Yarborough, seeking reelection to the U.S. Senate, will be in Pampa Tuesday to visit with his political supporters and friends.

Senator Yarborough is expected to arrive at Perry Lefors Field from Lubbock at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday. He will fly directly to Lubbock from McAllen Tuesday morning for a whirlwind tour of the larger Panhandle cities, and then return to McAllen by air Tuesday night.

From Pampa he will go to Borger and then to Amarillo.

Paul G. Crossman, Gray County campaign manager for Yarborough said Saturday afternoon, "The Senator will try to give special attention to any individual's problems while he is here, although his stay in Pampa will be a very brief one."

Yarborough will meet with his backers in the County Court Room and then go out onto the street for a quick hand-shaking trip through several local stores.

Agents Nab Aged Pusher In Amarillo

AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI) — Authorities Saturday announced the squelching of a major source of narcotics by the arrest of a 78-year-old widow who became addicted 45 years ago when she used drugs to offset effects of tuberculosis of the bone.

W. E. (Dub) Naylor, head of the narcotics section of the Department of Public Safety, said "today's work knocked out a major source of narcotics supply in the northern part of Texas, eastern New Mexico and western Oklahoma."

Mrs. W. N. Roberson, 78, was charged with possession of narcotics estimated at $100,000 in "street sale" value.

Included in the seizure were three ounces of uncut European heroin and capsules, tablets and powdered morphine codeine.

Mrs. Roberson, a 117-pound, five-foot-five widow, said she takes about two or three grains of morphine or codeine daily. She has lived in Amarillo since 1926.

Federal and state narcotics officers and city police took part in the raid at 1:10 p.m. Saturday after staking out the Apache Motel, which she operated, for several hours.

District Attorney Wayne Bagley, who directed the raid, said it was the biggest haul in Amarillo since 30 lbs. of marijuana were confiscated three years ago.

Board To Vote

The Welfare Index will be included in the Pampa United Fund, directors of the fund voted Thursday. The directors met in the City Hall office of the United Fund to hear the report of the budget and admission committees.

The United Fund goal for the coming year was accepted at $64,000. The reason given for the increased budget was the increase of the Pampa population.

Texas Political Campaign Grows Tense In Final Weeks

By LLOYD IARRABEE
United Press International

Hot Texas political campaigning moved into the final two weeks stretch Saturday with candidates centering their attention on South Texas before moving into other parts of the state next week.

Gov. Price Daniel carried his re-election campaign to the lower Rio Grande Valley and said in a speech at Donna that his opponents "are doing their best to pick apart my program because they have no constructive programs of their own."

One of his opponents, State Sen. Henry Gonzalez, spoke Saturday night at a Laredo rally. He said in an earlier statement at San Antonio that "creeping pessimism" had entered Daniel's campaign.

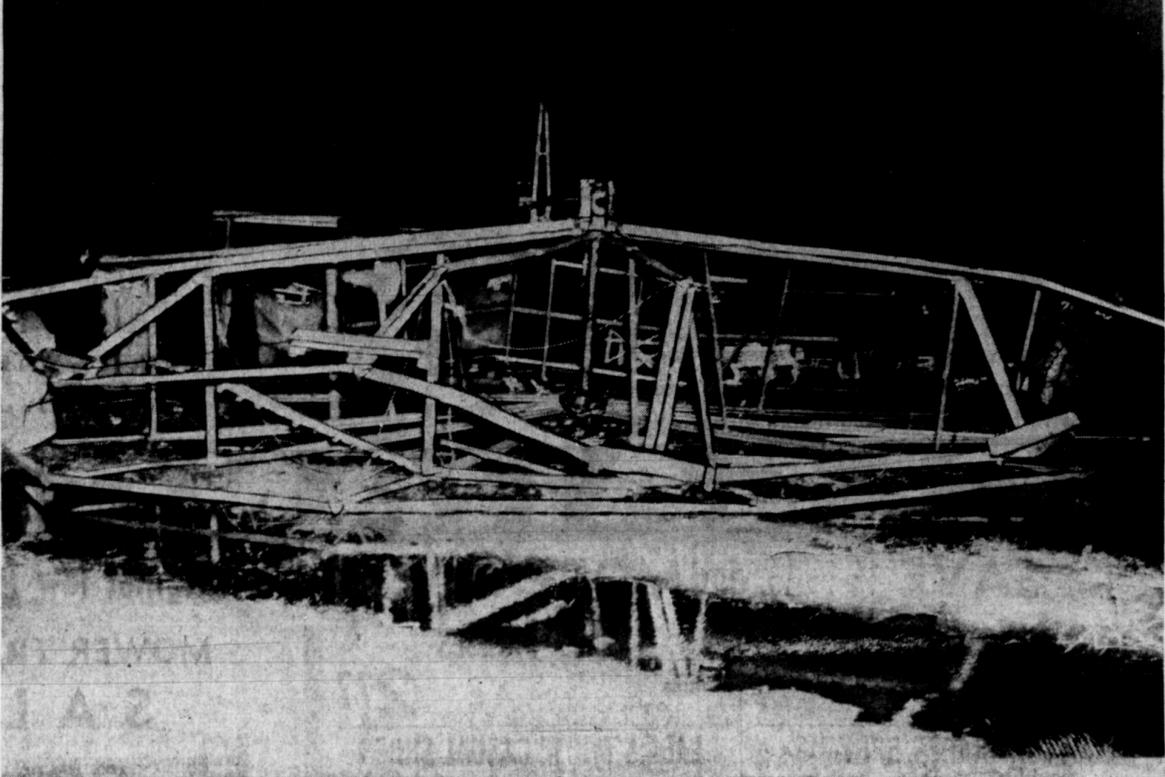

"This week he really got scared and now he's running like all get-out to get into the runoff," Gonzalez said.

Former governor and U. S. Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel, also opposing Daniel's bid for a second term, rode a white charger in a parade at Grand Prairie Saturday.

U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, seeking a full six-year term, made a morning speech at a retired Army officers meeting at San Antonio and a night televised speech there at a $10-a-plate fund-raising dinner.

William A. Blakley, opposing Yarborough, toured the Gulf Coast and opened his Galveston campaign office.

In the lieutenant governor's race, Waco attorney George Nokes, opposing incumbent Ben Ramsey's bid for a fifth term,

WIND TAKES TOLL

One of the fatalities in the freak storm last night was the 45-foot ferris wheel in the amusement park on Hobart. Loyse Caldwell, owner, estimates damage to the wheel to be at least $5,000. The wind did "quite a bit of damage to the merry-go-round," said Caldwell. Across Hobart, the rising walls of the new Furr Super Market caught the full force of the winds. The east wall remains standing. Five trailers overturned in the Pampa Trailer Park, 1213 E. Fredereric. And high line wires snaked out of the sky, stopping people at the entrance to the trailer park. Virgil R. Romack, 2428 Christine, reported seeing a funnel form on the edge of town, east of Hobart. At that time Romack was standing in front of the Owl Liquor Store, 314 S. Cuyler. Romack later reported that the wind and rain had damaged his roof and ruined his flower bed.

New Furr Food Walls Are Felled

By WALLY TRUESDELL
Pampa News Staff Writer

Vicious winds of an unknown origin whipped through Pampa early Saturday night, followed by hail and heavy rain. Extensive damage was reported from all parts of the city, with three walls of the new Furr Food store, under construction on North Hobart, knocked to the ground by a heavy wind blast.

High velocity winds also toppled a 45-foot ferris wheel nearby on Hobart at Caldwell's Toy Land. A merry-go-round was also damaged.

Five house trailers were over-turned by the high winds at the Pampa Trailer Court, 1213 E. Frederic.

Large plate glass windows were pelted with hail and broken in the downtown area at Rex Rose Motor Company and a thick swinging glass door at the Gray County Court House was blown out of its frame and shattered.

The hail started pelting the downtown district about 7:05 p.m. and lasted approximately 12 minutes.

About one-fourth of a tin roof was ripped loose and blown off the horse barn at Recreation Park and falling limbs smashed in the rear end of an automobile, owned by Robert Wong. The vehicle was parked outside the Burl Lewter residence, 805 E. Francis, when it was struck by a large limb.

Elsewhere in the area Saturday night, the business district of Shamrock, including Station KEEA was in darkness for several hours with electrical power knocked out. Shamrock Correspondent Mrs. Merita Bumpers reported that the entire south side of the city was out of power. Most of the telephone lines were also reported down.

Since there was no electrical power, the Shamrock storm warning siren never sounded. J. P. Davis of the Ground Observer Corps at Shamrock estimated winds at 65-70 miles per hour.

All but the east wall of the Furr Food construction is down, Manager Earl Barnett told the News late Saturday night. Almost six-weeks work went down with the storm, but Barnett expects that the fallen walls will be put back in position within two or three weeks. Barnett made no estimate of the financial damage.

The picture at the Pampa Trailer Court was one of three trailers on their side, one upside down and one leaning against a tree.

One woman, Mrs. W. H. Hale was in her trailer when the winds caught it. "The icebox blew over on my daughter but she wasn't injured," said Mrs. Hale.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Armstrong, at the trailer court, were sitting down to dinner when wind and hail poured into their trailer camp. "It was like a hurricane," reported Mrs. Armstrong. "You couldn't see just what it was because the wind and the rain made a kind of film. All you could see were the trees bending, like in a hurricane."

Wong's auto suffered damages when the limbs, one of them at least eight inches in diameter, struck the back end.

Numerous reports also poured into the News of limbs in driveways and blocking streets.

In Caldwell's Toyland the 45-foot high ferris wheel met the ground. Loyse Caldwell said that it might have to go back to the factory for repairs, but Caldwell expects the merry-go-round will be back in working shape by Tuesday night.

Probing Might Have Caused Fire

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Rackets Committee will try to find out next week whether it is investigation of the underworld touched off a "Chicago fire."

The blaze under inspection occurred last May 13 at Allgauer's restaurant and caused about a million dollars in damage. Two gunmen entered the place, sprang it with gasoline, and set fire to the interior furnishings.

It was speculated at the time that the arsonists might have been trying to frighten into silence some of the restaurant operators who were being interviewed by the committee in connection with its current investigation of mobster domination of some labor unions.

If so, they wasted their matches.

A number of Chicago restaurant men testified before the committee this week and several more are scheduled as witnesses next week. One of them is Gus Allgauer, owner of the burned out cafe.

Prio Declined Answers
Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy declined to say what information he expected to develop. The fire figured only briefly during last week's hearing.

Kennedy asked Ross Prio, identified as one of the neighborhood leaders of the Chicago crime syndicate, whether the syndicate leaders held meetings at Allgauer's and whether he knew anything about the two arsonists.

These were some of the numerous questions Prio declined to answer on grounds of possible self-incrimination.

Kennedy said the committee (See PROBING, Page 3)

ANTI-UNION PRACTICES

Ralph J. Gutzell, former counsel for the Chicago Restaurant Association, told the Senate Rackets Committee that the Association followed anti-union practices which would have been illegal in interstate commerce.

Goldfine Is Mighty Mad

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Bernard Goldfine, bristling with anger, bluntly accused House influence investigators Saturday of conducting a "smear, pry and spy" campaign against him.

The New England textile millionaire told reporters as he left for Boston for the weekend that the subcommittee was carrying on a "fishing expedition" in its inquiry into his relations with chief Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams.

He issued his statement at Washington Airport as he and his wife boarded a plane. He characterized the subcommittee, which has had him on the grid for five days, of acting like a "detective agency."

Goldfine was particularly incensed by the fact Rep. John B. Bennett (R-Mich.), a subcommittee member, predicted that new revelations would come to light if the group could lay hands on Goldfine's business records.

Calling Charge "Ridiculous"
Reading from a prepared statement, Goldfine declared:

"That is exactly the point I have been making. This proves (See GOLDFINE, Page 3)

Driver, Boy Both Get It In The End

GATLINBURG, Tenn. (UPI) — When the scene opens, here is a truck driver leaning into the fan belt on his vehicle.

And over there is the 11-year-old son of Elmer C. Carter, He has a slingshot.

The boy watches the truck driver. What he sees is a target — one he can't resist.

The boy aims, fires. The truck driver jumps.

Now we switch to the office of U. S. Commissioner Harve Duggins, where the truck driver is complaining that the boy used a good sized rock for ammunition, and that more than his pride has been injured.

Duggins hears all the facts, orders Carter to pay a $15 fine for contributing to his son's temporary delinquency and instructs the boy to find something besides a slingshot with which to amuse himself.

And finally we flash to a scene involving just Carter and his son. The father is inflicting a bit of discipline — in the same general region that the truck driver was wounded.

Man Dies At Car's Wheel

A 50 year old Pampa man, James J. McCarthy, suffered a fatal heart attack at the wheel of his car last night and plunged down a creek bed seven miles east of Wheeler, injuring his wife and seven year old daughter.

McCarthy and his family were returning from Tulsa, Okla., where they had been on their vacation when the accident happened.

Highway patrolman, Royce Logan said that Mr. McCarthy died of natural causes and that the car wreck was not the cause of death.

Logan said that "McCarthy and his family were going West on Highway 152, seven miles east of Wheeler, when McCarthy suffered the heart attack and died. His car went off the north side of the road and plunged down a creek bed injuring Mrs. McCarthy and their daughter.

Officials at Worley Hospital, where Mrs. McCarthy and the young girl were taken, said that Mrs. McCarthy was in a "fair" condition and the little girl was treated and taken home by relatives.

Mr. McCarthy's body was taken to the Kirk Funeral Home in Wheeler and was examined there by a doctor to determine the cause of death.

Forger Caught, But Who Is He?

AUBURN, Calif. (UPI)—Auburn authorities have captured a forger, but they were not sure who it is.

They said he had identification papers in his wallet positively identifying him as Lawrence Milton Hammer, or Laurence Michael Hammer or Allen Balati or Melvin Anelrob, who is 18, 21, 22 or 23 years old.

They said he was an Army sergeant because he had an Army sergeant's uniform, or they said he was a Marine sergeant because he had a Marine uniform or else he was discharged from the Marines because he had discharge papers to prove it.

TORNADO WARNING OUT

Winds Clocked At 69 Miles Hit Amarillo; Damage Slight

By United Press International

Near-hurricane force winds raced through Amarillo Saturday night tearing down tree limbs as a column of thunderstorms pelted a West Texas area which had been warned of possible tornadoes.

Winds clocked up to 69 miles an hour in gusts hit Amarillo about 6 p.m. as more than one inch of rain fell in 15 minutes in parts of the city. Damage was not severe and no injuries were reported.

The weather bureau issued a tornado forecast at 4:30 p.m. Saturday warning of severe thunderstorms with an isolated tornado possible until 10 p.m. The area warned included a strip 75 miles on either side of a line from 50 miles northeast of Dalhart, Tex., to 20 miles east of Childress, Tex.

The alerted area took in the Texas Panhandle and portions of the South Plains in West Texas, the Oklahoma Panhandle and the extreme west portion of Oklahoma.

Scattered thunderstorms developed in the Texas Panhandle late in the afternoon and started a southeastward trek across the state. Earlier in the day thunderstorms were in the coastal vicinity but they diminished by night-fall.

Temperatures ran the thermometer as high as 113 degrees at Presidio Saturday afternoon. Other maximums included 106 at El Paso and 105 at Wink and Van Horn, ranging downward to 91 at Galveston.

Forecasters looked for little change in the weather pattern over the weekend. Temperatures were predicted to continue high in the western half of the state and be a little lower in the eastern half ranging from the middle 60s upper 90s.

Scattered showers were expected during the weekend along the coast with scattered thunderstorms in the Panhandle and South Plains mostly at night.

Argentina To Get South Pole Station

By HARRY W. FRANTZ
 United Press International
 WASHINGTON (UPI) — U. S. government scientists are preparing to turn a South Pole station over to Argentina next year because of budget problems.

The scientists, planning for the next phase of the International Geophysical Year (IGY), anticipate that the Ellsworth IGY station in the Antarctic Weddell Sea will be in Argentine hands when 1958-59 South Pole summer operations get under way.

Main feature of the U. S. IGY program in the coming season will be a surface crossing from Ellsworth Station to Byrd Station.

Negotiations with Argentina for the transfer have been in progress for several months. Informed sources said some points of the agreement still remain to be clarified. Officials are reluctant about the negotiations until their actual completion.

Interested unofficial quarters understand that the arrangement would be similar to an agreement between the United States and Australia, by which the Australian expedition will operate Wilkes Station. At the end of the 1957-58 Antarctic season it was announced that the United States would curtail its Antarctic program for budgetary reasons.

Dr. Phillip Garth Law, director of the Antarctic Division, Australian Department of External Affairs, has been in Washington recently to coordinate scientific plans, logistics and other matters pertaining to the Wilkes Station.

Under the arrangement with Argentina, scientific equipment at the Ellsworth Station would be taken over by an Argentine party. Administrative and maintenance personnel would be Argentinians. But the United States would leave scientific observers at the station. The United States disclosed on Feb. 18, that it would concentrate its post-IGY operations at four stations in Antarctica, the South Pole, Byrd, McMurdo Sound and Cape Hallett. Operations at Little weather reporting would continue but on a curtailed scale.

This prospect was discussed by Rear Adm. George Dufek, Antarctic projects officer, before the Overseas Press Club in New York, April 29. He disclosed that Argentina concerning arrangements at the Ellsworth Station, and Australia concerning the Wilkes Station.

The United States IGY committee, in a review of the Antarctic program at expiration of its first 12 months, said: "The IGY—Ellsworth Station, now in midwinter of its second year of studies, is located at 41 degrees 3 minutes west, 77 degrees 44 minutes south, two miles from the sea. The station is about 135 feet above sea level but the ice beneath it is about 760 feet thick. Ellsworth Station is manned by 40 scientists and technicians who conduct a full program of Antarctic research. The station scientific leader is M. J. Brennan."

The Navy Department disclosed recently that scientists at Ellsworth Station are making preparations for the 1,200-mile over-ice traverse to Byrd Station during the next Antarctic summer. It would be of major scientific importance because the ice-depth soundings en route would enable solution of the long-suspected question whether the Antarctic continent is divided by a strait beneath the great field of ice.

This would be a notable accomplishment in many parts of Antarctica because ice-depth soundings in many parts of Antarctica have suggested that the presumed single land mass may in fact consist of two continents or even an archipelago of great islands.

Democratic Digest Salutes Nixon; Snubs Goldfine-Adams

By LYLE C. WILSON
 United Press International
 WASHINGTON (UPI) — It would be reasonable to write that the current issue of "The Democratic Digest" is a solid if not deliberate salute to Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

The digest is published by the Democratic National Committee. It is a well edited political pamphlet. The July issue arrived on news desks here with a mimeographed attention-caller to the fact that the pamphlet's emphasis had been diverted from the Adams-Goldfine episode to center on the vice president.

The digest's cover bore a Nixon cartoon and the lead story dealt with Nixon, undeniable evidence that Democratic strategists rate Nixon their No. 1 political opposition, the man most likely to cause the Democratic Party serious trouble in the elections of this year and in 1960.

"Nomination Sewed Up"
 That is a solid tribute to a young man who occupies an office which traditionally is a political dead end. How dead an end it has been is indicated by a paragraph from this week's Saturday Evening Post in which Stewart Alsop writes of Nixon, as follows:

"Since 1836, when Martin Van Buren inherited the crown from crusty old Andrew Jackson, no vice president has been nominated as his party's presidential candidate. Yet already, two years in advance, Vice President Nixon has the 1960 Republican presidential nomination sewed up in a nearly puncture proof bag. He unquestionably has a better chance than any other man to be the next president of the United States."

It is with such as that in mind that Democratic strategists hammer away at Nixon in preference to beating their drums about the currently timely story of Sherman Adams' friendship with Bernard Goldfine. The fact that Democratic sharpshooters are diverted from the fine target offered by Adams to concentrate on Nixon does to a considerable degree endorse the judgment of columnist Alsop that Nixon has the 1960 Republican presidential nomination in the bag.

This Democratic judgment was not recently come by. The Democratic high command has been on the offensive against Nixon consistently. During the early Eisenhower years, the opposition was reluctant to tackle the President, personally. He still was too much the popular hero. A bruising political attack on him could have aroused public resentment.

Nixon's Political Problems
 Nixon became the presidential whipping boy. That phase is long past, however. The opposition no longer fears to attack Eisenhower but seems to count Nixon as the major target and the more formidable obstacle to Democratic election victories.

The digest calls the roll of Nixon's political problems and they are substantial. The lead story is titled "Nixon's California Dilemma." The pamphlet wonders whether Nixon will campaign this year for Sen. William F. Knowland, the Republican candidate for governor of California, remarking that Knowland is running on "a

Ousted Judge Will Return To Law Practice

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (UPI)—Raulston-Schoolfield, stripped of his judicial robes by the state Senate which convicted him on impeachment charges, today planned to return to the practice of law.

The Senate voted Schoolfield flagrantly reactionary anti-labor program."

Knowland is making a reform-the-unions campaign and advocates right-to-work legislation which would bar the closed shop. The digest happily scents trouble there for Nixon because, if he campaigns for Knowland, "Nixon will seem to put himself in the old guard camp of the GOP."

"Nixon has been working for years to gain coloration as an internationalist and economic moderate to win support from the (Thomas E.) Dewey wing of the party. How can he keep this camouflage suit on and still work for Knowland?"

The Democrats would be pleased if Nixon found it impossible to campaign for Knowland. It will not be that way, however. Nixon will be there!

guilty on three of 22 impeachment charges Friday and removed him from office as Criminal Court judge.

Schoolfield, 52, came to his home here shortly after his conviction. He said he planned to set up a law practice and hoped his son, Carter, a student at Cumberland University Law School, would eventually join him.

The Senate convicted Schoolfield on charges of accepting an automobile bought with contributions from persons with cases pending in his court; of entering into political activity with gamblers; and of personal misconduct, including obscenity.

Divorce Suit, Levant Faces Kids On TV

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Oscar Levant, perennial enfant terrible of show business, Saturday faced a divorce suit filed by his wife of 18 years.

The witty musician whose natural talent at the piano has taken him to the door of greatness but never beyond it, was living with friends and doing his twice-weekly local television show alone. His wife used to appear with him.

June Levant, the former actress June Gale, filed the divorce suit Friday in Santa Monica Superior Court after a family row that brought two car loads of police and charges by Oscar that she tried to kill him with a scissors.

She charged Oscar with extreme cruelty, and sought custody of their three daughters and a restraining order keeping Oscar out of their Beverly Hills home.

Oscar opened his television show Friday night with the quip: "Since I last saw you Tuesday nothing of any great moment has happened. There was something of a slightly personal problem at which the newspapers hinted, I involved myself for the Republican Party. I did it to get Bernard Goldfine off the front pages."

Levant, who never tired of publicly thanking his wife for putting up with his controversial ways and seeing him through a two-year period during which he was confined in a mental hospital, from time-to-time alternated between sadness and spite on the show.

"I have a prepared statement in answer to my wife's statement that all I have contributed is some nervous breakdowns to the world. I think that's a rather puny estimate of what I've done."

ON DOORS

Reading her prize essay on Morley, Miss Thera Lee Warner, 1221 Christine, looks as if she's glad to be away from it all. For the past year Miss Warner has been one of the girls in Ferry Hall, Lake Forest, Ill. But an essay that she wrote on a book of essays by Christopher Morley earned her two books and enough money to buy two more. (News Photo)

THERA LEE: A STUDY IN PIANO & CHARM

By WALLACE TRUEDELLE
Pampa News Staff Writer

On doors and Thera Lee Warner: One day last week, Thera Lee opened the door. The Hi-Fi was playing classically and Thera Lee said she would love to build one herself.

Thera Lee lives at 2221 Christine with her parents and her dog when she's home. But little Miss Warner has just completed a year at Ferry Hall in Lake Forest, Ill., and is ready for SMU.

Thus the Hi-Fi carries us back to the girls' school on the shores of Lake Michigan. There is not much a girl can do at girls' school. She can go to a movie a week with the chaperones, or she can listen to the Hi-Fi or read.

Thera Lee is a slight non-conformist and if you take her for granted it's your loss. She can acquaint you with Bach, Brahms, Beethoven, Chopin and Tschakovsky on the piano. On "Twenty-one" she would be a stiff match for Elfrida von Nordhoff.

Not that Thera Lee is a "brain" as crude northerners would put it. Her charm goes back to Cleopatra on her barge. Looking a little bit like the famous Audrey Hepburn, she plays and smiles for the Pampa Noon Lions Club.

Someone named Thera Lee probably has "The Sound and the Fury" out of Lovett. Faulkner wrote it. She'll read it. Christopher Morley wrote essays that she reviewed.

Three years at Pampa High School and a year at Ferry Hall, she had a "walk on and walk off" part in "Remember, Mama," the PHS junior play. Ferry Hall was different. "The stage was in the gymnasium," she recalls. Thera Lee blossomed into an essayist. She wrote one on Morley's "Mince Pie." "It may seem strange to write an essay on a book of essays," she says for Morley fans. It was not strange to the Ferry

Hall trustee who offered the essay prize. Rather it seemed original, light and touching with the beauty of Morley and it's own. Thera Lee won $7.50 and two books from the Peter Pauper Press. A teacher recommended that she take her prize money to old bookstores in a Morley. Thera Lee is in the market for used books.

Her piano career goes back farther, all the way to grade 1. Thera Lee is a classicalist in her music and her literature. How many of us have read Tolstoy? "I love music in any form except hillbilly and rock and roll," she admits, admitting further that she could play Elvis if someone held a gun in her back.

Now Thera Lee is on vacation. No one holds a gun in her back with "Do this" or "Do that." She plays "Can't Your Hear Those Lions Roar" and "America" once a week for the Lions Club. For an hour on Thursday she is a little like Dorothy of Oz.

Thera is too cool to say what she'll do ten years from now. So don't try to pin her down. The daughter of Thera Lee Warner will not necessarily have to go away to school. Thera does feel that her time at Ferry Hall was not wasted. She met girls that she never met before.

But every institution has its

"Der Bingo" Still Very Much In Demand: He Won't Retire

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Forget everything you've heard about Bing Crosby quitting show business. He may be, as he says himself, "too old to win the girl and not old enough to give her away"—but he intends neither to retire nor even bow out slowly.

Bing has plans. One reason he's still looking forward to it that heads one of the most fabulous family-clans in Hollywood and feels he can't let any member of the clan down, and that includes his sons, all four of them.

I spoke with Bing about his plans and his family. And here's the picture:

Bing is today a millionaire, a fellow who can call his shots. He is in demand in TV, motion pictures, radio and records, and he's got a lot of other things going for him such as oil wells, gas production, a big cattle ranch, several homes, real estate and other investments.

He has obligations, too, and feels them strongly. He has a wife, four grown sons whose future is important to him, a couple of brothers who are in business with him, and a legion of loyal employees who have been closely associated with him over the years.

"I think I could bow out of show business but I've changed my mind," Bing told me. "You accumulate obligations, financial and otherwise."

"You just can't close up the show. A lot of people are dependent upon me and besides I have to meet taxes."

I showed Bing a magazine clipping of a few years back which estimated his wealth at $15,000,000. He donned a pair of specs, glanced at the story, and turned it back with a skeptical smile.

"Well," he said, "I have some real estate and a few homes and other properties. If I could sell these holdings and wind up with a million dollars I'd be lucky. If I had what I have to support you'd have a little trouble."

you took my income and support. Bing said he has a nouse "for me and the kids" at Beverly Hills, a "little place" in Palm Springs, another "little place" at Keeping the appointment for our interview, Bing sauntered into the office of his agents, the firm of Rosenberg - Coryell in Beverly Hills. He was pleasant, as always. We were shown to a sumptuous, white-carpeted office.

"What are your immediate plans in show business," I asked.

Putting at his pipe, Bing replied:

"I have in mind two spectaculars for American Broadcasting Company, to be sponsored by Oldsmobile. The first will begin on October 1. The second will come off in the spring."

"I'm not pushing myself on television. TV is a great medium for entertainers but over-exposure has always been a bugaboo to me. I don't want to wear out my welcome by coming into the living room too often."

Bing, who over the years has starred in more than fifty motion pictures, including "Going My Way" which won him an Academy Award, said he has "no immediate picture in sight."

"But I have two pictures in abeyance which I may be able to fit into. One is 'The Bells Are Ringin,' a Broadway show, which may be made into a picture next spring, and 'The Travels of Jamie McPheters,' a story of the gold rush. MGM may make this last one and I may have a part in it."

On Radio For Ford

On Radio, Bing is currently doing a 5-minute five times a week show for the Ford Motor Company. The show is taped in advance by Bing, wherever he may be, and is fed to a nationwide audience.

Bing also still cuts records from time to time. He has made some highly successful ones with his eldest-son, Gary, who seems to have the makings of "another Bing."

Like any normal father, Bing is hopeful his sons will make good in whatever careers they choose. But he is not trying to impose his will on the young men regarding the vocations they undertake.

"I never stopped advising them," Bing told me. And with a wry smile he added:

"But they stopped listening when they were 16."

SIMMS HAS RR IN HIS BLOOD STREAM

By RONNIE CROSS
Pampa News Staff Writer

Have you ever gone by the Santa Fe Railroad station about 6:30 in the evening when the San Francisco Chief arrives from Chicago? Well, the place literally jumps with railroad enthusiasts.

Pampans really turn out for the event, and joining the crowd with much enthusiasm is railroad clerk, Walter Simms. Simms, small of stature, brings a zeal to his job which all but carries him away. "Railroading just gets in your blood," he says.

Every day it is his job to check 4 1/2 miles of track, and keep account of approximately 300 freight cars. He can tell you in a matter of minutes the location of any car in the yard.

The arduous task of "surveying" all that track doesn't faze Simms. "I just hop on my bicycle," he said, "and I get into every nook and cranny getting car numbers, checking seals, and making sure there are enough cars to handle out-going freight."

Simms, a native of Hopkinsville, Ky., has been in Pampa since 1945. "I came out here to visit with my mother, and sort of ran out of cash, and, well, the old lady (his wife) came from Borger, anyway."

He is quick to emphasize his attachment to this country, though. "We sure do get the crowds here when some of our crack trains come through. After dinner people park their cars, and just wait to see the San Francisco Chief."

"We also have a crew of high school kids who are always checking on our operation. In fact, one of the boys is such an authority, we all call him Alco."

"They recognize our engine whistles, and often times we get calls from them at any time of the day or night, checking if engine number so and so has just passed through."

Simms' ardent zeal for "his" work is readily apparent. "Our diesels in flat country can haul trains with as many as 200 freight cars. The average size is generally between 90 and 120. Kansas has a law for instance," he said, "limiting their size to 124 cars."

"Size: Well we sure are big, and we haul everything from wheat to whiskey," one of the telegraph operators emphasized.

It was about 10:40 p.m. and the slow mail train to Amarillo had just pulled out of the station.

And as Simms tossed about a few mail sacks, he turned the conversation to a few of the personal incidents amusing the hands about the station.

A ring of authority was voiced in this matter when E. L. Barton, telegraph operator and ticket seller said, "We had a woman come in the station not long ago who needed urgent help in what seemed to be desperate need for transportation to the west coast."

"I whipped out the schedules, checked all the fast routings, including the fare to the state of Washington, and said 'when do you want to leave?'"

"Well," she said, "I have a birthday card here, for my son and all I want to know is whether it is going to arrive on time."

"But giving out information is our job," Barton jokingly added, "In fact, if you need any word on stray cats, lost dogs or wandering husbands, call the Santa Fe."

How would you play today's hand at a six spade contract and against a trump opening with East following suit?

Pedro Cabral of New York who might serve as a real life model for pessimistic Pete decided to play safe for his contract and to guard against a possible four-one heart break.

Here is Pedro's safety play. He won the first trump in his own hand and led a heart to dummy's ace. His next play was a low heart from dummy. This gave up all play for seven but just happened to be the only play to bring home six. Furthermore, it guaranteed six once both opponents followed to the first heart.

East chose to return a club. Pedro went up with the ace, led a trump to dummy, trumped a low heart, and got back to dummy with his last trump.

Now dummy's three remaining hearts provided parking places

Youngster Saddled With TV Worries

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD Correspondent

UPI Hollywood (UPI) — For the first time in TV history a little girl has been saddled with the responsibility of keeping a series afloat for 39 weeks.

The youngster is 10-year-old Patty Ann Gerrity, the star of an upcoming video series titled "This Blue-eyed, freckled and with Is Alice."

braids done up in red ribbons, Patty portrays an impish trouble-maker who keeps her TV family in an uproar. To assist in this onslaught against organized family life is a drooling St. Bernard dog.

Viewers who dread the thought of another "kid" show can relax. Both Patty and the St. Bernard are old pros.

The pooch is the same oafish canine that slurred up murgins in the defunct "Topper" series. Patty is a veteran of six movies and more TV shows than she can count.

Desi Arnaz, whose Desilu outfit is producing the series, characterizes Patty as a miniature Lucille Ball.

Patty is a charming lunch companion, never at a loss for words. "I just have one boy friend now," she confided. "His name is Bruce. That's much better than two years ago when I had 18 boy friends."

"In this series I play a tomboy. And mommy says I'm a tomboy at home, too. I guess that's because I play football with the boys. I like baseball and horseback riding and running around."

"Acting in a regular series isn't real easy, but I don't consider it hard work."

"It doesn't interfere with my school work, and all the kids at home treat me the same as they do everybody else."

The program hits the video waves Sept. 26 on a network of 15 stations under the aegis of National Telefilm Associates. NTA and Arnaz are bucking the trend of westerns and quiz shows with a situation comedy based on a mischievous little girl.

EARTH, Tex. (UPI) — An interplanetary hitchhiker, who has stopped at Pluto, Jupiter, Mercury and Mars, will arrive at Earth a week from yesterday and be granted honorary citizenship.

He is D. Von Smith, whose last layover was at Stars, Idaho.

Smith was hitchhiked across the United States, visiting all towns named after planets and stars.

He notified the Chamber of Commerce at Earth Friday that the Texas city would complete his itinerary, and officials immediately responded by saying they would present him with a plaque, honorary citizenship and a seal from the post office.

New Crop Production Mark Coming?

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. Department of Agriculture's crop report shows that the nation's farmers may set a new crop production record this year on the smallest planted acreage in 49 years.

The report indicates that as of July 1 total crop prospects are equal to the all-time highs reached in 1948, 1956 and 1957.

Last year, production estimates increased from July 1 through the end of the harvest season, of that pattern repeats itself, the nation will have a new total crop production record in 1958.

USDA estimated the 1958 corn crop at 3,311,000,000 bushels, down slightly from last year but well above average.

The winter wheat crop was estimated at 1,129,000,000 bushels, bringing the estimate of the total wheat crop to 1,343,000,000, up 70 million bushels from the June forecast.

The big corn crop, coupled with a forecast of average-or-better crops of other feed grains, points to another year of heavy feed supply. That, in turn, adds to the prospect of increasing livestock production and lower hog prices in 1959.

Flower Business Means Big Money

By GAYLORD P. GODWIN
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — As a casual shopper admiring a display of flowers, do you wonder how a retail florist manages to grow such things of beauty in his greenhouse?

Sometimes he does, but more often he doesn't. Usually, the retail florist is the outlet for large commercial production enterprises hundreds of miles from market.

The cut-flower business is big. Dollar sales are in the multi-million class. Commercial cut flower production is an important segment of agriculture.

A survey by the Agricultural Marketing Service (AMS) covering four selected flowers—carnations, chrysanthemums, gladioli, and roses—in 10 selected states throws considerable light on the magnitude and distribution of the commercial cut-flower business.

Fantastic Market

These states, California, Colorado, Florida, Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, New York, Ohio, Oregon, and Texas—were selected largely on a regional basis to get a cross section of commercial production.

The list includes the leading state in production of each of the four cut flowers. The survey covered all of the 2,786 commercial growers in the 10 states. A commercial grower was defined as one growing and selling annually $1,000 or more of cut flowers, flowering, and bedding plants.

A fantastic number of cut flowers were produced and marketed in the 10 states in 1957. There were 253 million gladioli spikes, 235 million carnation blooms, 178 million roses, 43 million standard chrysanthemum blooms, and 15 million bunches of pompon chrysanthemums.

'Mums the Leader'

The wholesale value of these flowers was 58 million dollars. Additional income was realized by growers who have marketing facilities and by growers performing additional services. On the basis of available information, it appears that the 10 states surveyed grow about three-fourths of the country's commercial crop of gladioli and about one-half each

Fallout Recovery Would Take 26-40 Generations

AUSTIN (UPI)—Three University of Texas scientists have announced it might require 26 to 40 generations—500 to 900 years—for human beings to recover from the effects of atomic or hydrogen bomb fallout.

The estimate, applying to genetic damage, was made by Dr. Wilson S. Stone and Florence D. Wilson in an article on radiation genetics published in proceedings of the National Academy of Science.

Source of the estimate were investigations conducted by the two scientists with irradiated fruit flies collected in 1955, 1956 and 1957, at Pacific atomic and hydrogen bomb test sites.

Cross-breeding and in-breeding studies made on fruit flies at Bikini and Rongerik showed severe genetic damage resulting from radiation and fallout from a March 1954 thermonuclear test at Bikini.

The two scientists said fruit fly populations on nearby Rongerik atoll had recovered from the fallout by August, 1955, a period roughly equal to 26 generations.

Pope Healthy

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—A high Vatican source said today Pope Pius XII "has never been in better health" and intends to maintain his heavy work schedule.

The source denied press reports that the 82-year-old pontiff had fainted Sunday and that his doctors advised him to cut down his audiences because of "chronic exhaustion."

Cat-N-Mouse

IUKA, Miss. (UPI)—For about a month, Mrs. Sue Vinson was continually having to chase the cat from atop the radio.

And the radio had been emitting a strange squeaking sort of static.

Finally Mrs. Vinson removed the back panel from the radio, and a mouse ran out, the cat pounced and the case was closed.

BUSIEST AIRPORT? — Air traffic at U.S. airports reached new all-time levels during 1957, the Civil Aeronautics Administration has announced. Operations at airports having CAA control towers numbered 25,151,000, an increase of 14 percent over 1956. Newschart above lists five leading fields in terms of total operations; that is, itinerant, plus purely local traffic. It is interesting to note that New York airports were not among the busiest five.

Come to Church

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Jonah Parker, Minister of St. Mark Methodist Church

And when he heard that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out, and say, Jesus, thou son of David, have mercy on me. St. Mark 10:47

Subject: "A DETERMINED SEEKER"

This man was blind and had a good excuse to be lazy and trifling but rather than offer excuses he started as early as he heard about Jesus to seek Him.

Sin, destroys sight.

Sin, makes one helpless

Sin, makes men depend upon others,

This man decided to seek Jesus inspite of his physical conditions. So ought it be with the world today. We ought to seek Him regardless to our conditions: If one is blind, cripple, lame, dumb, or any other condition, let him seek The Christ, and He will cure all evils.

This man was not content to remain in this condition, so he sought The Lord. Jesus had never passed that way before but this man waited his arrival. We of today could find Him if we would wait on Him.

This man had a Hope against Hope, he had a secret hope, an inner hope, that He would come one day. Men of this day should have that something within which is hard to explain, all I know there is something within.

This man made supreme efforts:

1. Waited at the right place.
2. He heard; He acted.
3. First time Jesus passed.
4. Mercy, only, not riches, etc.

Finally, Jesus Heard his cry.

Jesus stood still. Until Jesus spoke to him. Until Jesus gave him sight.

Amen,

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (UPI) — The coastal fishing town of Morehead, N. C., is being represented in this year's Miss North Carolina pageant by Miss Bonita Fish.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI) — Mike Gibbons, 38, shot a hole-in-one recently while playing his first round of golf.

Foreign News Commentary

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has won one of his most important political victories.

For the first time, his Christian Democratic party has won a clear majority in the legislature of North Rhine-Westphalia, West Germany's largest state.

Adenauer's victory means that about 25 per cent of the electorate of West Germany has approved his decision to equip the country's armed forces with tactical atomic weapons.

For months, the Socialists had campaigned not only in North

Rhine-Westphalia but throughout the country against "the atomic death."

Voters Not Intimidated
Soviet Russia had helped—or thought it did—by making dire threats of the catastrophe that would overwhelm West Germany in a nuclear weapons war if Adenauer carried out his decision.

It was intimated that if West Germany's armed forces were equipped with tactical atomic weapons, Russia would arm East Germany similarly.

The voters evidently were not intimidated by either the Socialist admonition or the Russian threats.

By his victory, Adenauer has 104 seats in the North Rhine-Westphalian legislature against 81 for the Socialists and 15 for their Free Democratic party allies.

Adenauer also will have, as the result of his victory, 31 of the 41 seats in the Bundesrat, the upper house of the West German Parliament. That is because the state legislatures elect Bundesrat members.

Wants Atomic Arms
Thus Adenauer will have a nearly three-to-one majority in the upper house, in which any changes in the federal constitution must be approved by a two-thirds majority.

Adenauer took the decision to equip the armed forces with atomic weapons reluctantly.

He decided, however, that West Germany's armed forces must have the best possible equipment and that no modern army can be properly equipped without atomic arms.

As for the Russian threats Adenauer—and the voters—were not impressed.

They realize the terrible implications of an atomic war. But they realize also that if there is an atomic war, West Germany will be in the first line of all defense. They realize that despite any promises to the contrary,

Russia would use nuclear weapons against West Germany whether it had nuclear weapons or not. As for the threats to arm East Germany with atomic weapons, Adenauer undoubtedly shares the widely-held opinion that Russia would be asking for trouble if it did.

Woman Will Be Appointed In Costa Rica

WASHINGTON (UPI) — One of the last male strongholds of the diplomatic world—the Council of the Organization of American States—is about to succumb to feminine invasion.

Costa Rican Ambassador Manuel Escalante confirmed that his country will appoint a woman—Angela Acuna de Chacon—as its ambassador to the council about Aug. 1.

It will mark the first time in the history of the organization that a woman has sat at the 21-nation council table. However, if this departure from unwritten tradition is raising any qualms among the all male members of the body, United Press International it.

Generally, the ambassadors said they welcomed the appointment and Ambassador Escalante, said none of his colleagues had expressed any reservations.

A woman in their midst may raise some protocol problems for the ambassadors but these problems already have been met and conquered by the United Nations, an early victim of the feminine march.

Mrs. Chacon, a widow, is one of the outstanding women of the Americas. The first woman to obtain a law degree in Costa Rica, she has long been prominent in inter-American affairs.

She has been a delegate to the Inter-American Commission of Women and last year she was named "Woman of the Americas."

Mrs. Chacon is currently living in Ann Arbor, Mich., with her daughter. Ambassador Escalante said she plans to return to Costa Rica shortly and that her appointment will be effective Aug. 1.

Code Is Just The Beginning Says Senator

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.) said today a code of ethics spelled out by Congress should be "the beginning and not the finish" of congressional action to tighten up standards of conduct in office.

The Oregon Democrat, author of a bill to write such a code into a law with "teeth" in it, said the resolution passed by the Senate Friday was "fine as far as it goes."

However, Neuberger told United Press International it should be reinforced by actual legislation, particularly in the line of strengthening conflict-of-interest laws and better regulation of political campaign contributions.

The Senate late Friday dusted off the old House-Approved resolution and passed it by voice vote with no debate, no advance warning and very few members on the floor.

A key point in the congressional resolution says a federal official or employee should:

"Never discriminate unfairly by the dispensing of special favors or privileges to anyone, whether for remuneration or not; and never accept, for himself or his family, favors or benefits under circumstances which might be construed by reasonable persons as influencing the performance of his governmental duties."

Heat's On... But Umps Still Win The Hot Ones

They say when man bites dog, that's news. Well it'll be worth a banner headline when a baseball gets the best of one of those "boys in blue" during one of many player-ump run-ins this summer. From left-to-right in picture No. 1, Umpire Frank Tabacchi merely adjusts his mask, hearing no evil while being blasted by Sherm Lollar of the Chicago White Sox about a called ball he believed over the plate. . . in picture No. 2, Ump Shag Crawford yells, "Out! Yes. You!" at Birdie Tebbets, skipper of the Cincinnati Redlegs, who popped out of the dugout to inquire further, only to be thumbed from the game. . . and in picture No. 3 veteran arbitrator Jocko Conlon presents a pained expression as he gives William Schmidt of the Redlegs the old heave-ho when the latter blew up when Conlon ruled a shoe-string high liner back to the hill wasn't a fly ball, and that the runner was safe. And thus the story goes all through the long hot summer.

Rick Pezdirtz

purely paydirt

Prospecting while wondering whatever happened to Ish Kabibble:

No sir, don't call Pampa American Legion coach, Deck Woldt, superstitious. He wears a big No. 13 on the back of his uniform. . .

And it's a crying shame, the tennis court situation here in Pampa. There's only a couple at Central Park, one at Huber Park and those at the high school. You drive by any of them, and there's always a string of youngsters standing on the sidelines, hot little rackets ready in hot little hands, for a court to open up. It's a bet the present courts were built for a city of about 10,000. . .

New Robert E. Lee Junior High principal, Jack Nichols, scotches rumors that "Dixie" will be the school fight song for the Rebels this fall. He ain't saying if "On Dear Old Robert E. Lee Junior High School" is gonna be used. Here's one vote for the nay side. . .

If you're wondering why Rebel outfielder, Terry Haralson, wears his protective helmet while roaming about in leftfield, it's to save from being clipped on the noggin by misjudged flies. Bill Brown used to do the same thing last summer for the Rebels. . .

And then there was the wife who called her husband Vesuvius because he belched and threw ashes all over everything. . .

Dudley, "A Sleeper"

Add Pampa Junior High Schooler, Michael Lee Ditmore, 12, of 512 Magnolia, to the growing list of local youngsters winning the Expert Rifleman Medal, second highest award in American Junior Shooting given by the National Rifle Association out of Washington D.C.

Pleasing to hear from Putt Powell that Texas A&M's head grid taskmaster, Jim Meyers, has lauded Pampa's Ed Dudley, and not Tyler's press-clipping rich Charles Milstead, as the key man in the Aggie single wing attack this fall.

Dudley, former Harvester grid and track great, played under Bear Bryant during the 1955 and '56 seasons, but was red-shirted last season.

Mistead, a powerfully built blond bruiser, logged plenty of playing time last season, but it's Dudley that Meyers says about, "I think we have the big sleeper in Ed. Somehow he didn't fit into Bear's system, probably because of his pass defense, but he worked hard for us this spring, and he runs, passes, and kicks well. I think he will do a fine job."

Also happy to have Putt little Spider Dillon, former coach and now a sporting goods salesman, for uncalled for cracks in the direction of Pampa's ultra-successful Harvester cage coach, Clifton McNeely.

Dillon, writing a guest sports column in the Snyder newspaper, listed Phillips as the top AAA team in the Panhandle, and had Amarillo, Borger, Plainview and Lubbock Monterey as quad-favorites for the 3-AAAA championship in football.

He wound up with a pot-shot at McNeely, saying, "Pampa should win in basketball with its state championship team nearly all back. Incidentally, after the state tournament, the Harvesters quit practicing for three whole days and then resumed two-a-day workouts."

Putt said, "I'm sure Pampa doesn't work out any more than most of the other AAAA rivals. Dillon wasn't successful enough as a coach to stay in the business so why should he take a crack at a successful one?"

Mite-Sized Football!

Something for the small-fry might be in the makings if Elmer Wilson and Johnny Campbell are given some sturdy backing. Elmer talked with us one afternoon last week about forming a grade-school football league here.

This doesn't sound like a good idea. It sounds like a great one. Chuck Moser is a hard pusher of a similar program at Abilene, has been for years. Net results show the Eagles with a string of 50 games without a loss and three straight grid championships neatly tucked away. They have only a 20-20 tie and penetrations loss to Highland Park of Dallas in last December's semi-finals blotting an otherwise perfect four years.

Speaking of Wilson, Industrial League director Ben Hamilton was gleefully frothing at the mouth over Elmer's performance with the Richardson Oilers in a double-header Friday night.

"I've seen Scooter Rizuto and plenty of the other fast baseli-ners, but I've never seen an athlete who could hold a candle to Elmer when it comes to getting around the bases. He's terrific."

Wilson, former Pampa High and Texas Tech star halfback, didn't have to do much of his lickety-split galloping Friday night, however, he walloped three long homer.

Musta been foot-sore!

WILHELM WILL PLAY IN PANHANDLE TILT

By RICK PEZDIRTZ
Daily News Sports Editor

Gary Wilhelm, a slippery little guy who's considered better with his fists than he is with a football, has accepted an invitation to play in the first annual Panhandle Grid Classic to be staged at Amarillo's Price College field.

Texas Interscholastic League rules forbid all-star games being played on public school property.

The game matches the top schoolboy footballers from the Panhandle area from last year's high school elevens with the Class 4-A and 3-A stars forming a team called the City Slickers and the 2-A, 1-A and Class B youngsters forming a Sodbuster outfit.

Hodnik, who doubles as an insurance man in Amarillo, will coach the Sodbuster squad and former little all-American at West Texas State, Bill Cross, who lived in Pampa as a small boy, will tutor the City Slickers.

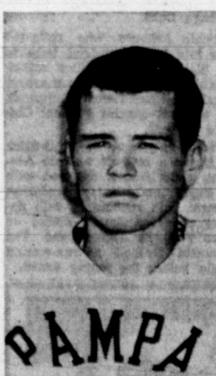

Pampa's all-District fullback, Robert Langford, also received an invitation to play in the classic, but turned it down. He'll perform for the East squad in the ninth annual Greenbelt Bowl game at Childress, the previous week, August 15.

Wilhelm, an honorable mention selection for all-District last season ranked as the conference's seventh leading passer at quarterback for the Harvesters, completing eight of 18 tosses for 140 yards.

The two-year letterman ranked tenth in the district's total offense department with 367 yards, 227 rushing and 140 via the air-planes.

He weighed in at 135 while boxing here for the Optimist Boys Club but has since added about 15 pounds roughnecking in the oil fields. He hopes to report to the grid training camp in Amarillo a week prior to the game at a fighting trim of 150 pounds or better.

Wilhelm will be joined on the City Slicker squad by 15 other District 3-AAAA players, including Plainview's triple-threat tailback, Jesse McGuire, who was TACKLES — Tom Cox, J. W. Witt, Amarillo; Harold Smith, Borger; Eddie Curry, Levelland; Wallace Lee, Littlefield.

GUARDS — Don Whittenburg, Palo Duro; Tony Moyers, Lubbock; Curtis Hamilton, Monterey of Lubbock; Joel Cookston, Levelland.

CENTERS — Franklin Brunson, Palo Duro; Bruce Miller, Levelland.

One other player is expected to be picked for the squad in the near future.

The Sodbuster squad will be composed of:

ENDS — Jerry Elbert, Wellington; Roy Sessions, Canadian; Stanley Coleman, Lefors; Henry Hardaway, Claude.

TACKLES — Leon Anglin, Groom; James Wilburn, Price College; David Hutto, Tulsa; Al McClellan, Gruver.

GUARDS — Dory Funk, Canyon; John Hansel, Lockney; Don Walkup, Quanah.

Bowling Classes To Start Here

A trio of late-summer bowling leagues will be organized here this week, Bob Hoekendorf, alley manager at the Harvester Bowl has announced.

Plans are underway to form a men's, women's and mixed league, each with eight teams.

Teams are also being signed up at the Harvester Bowl for the winter leagues, including both men and women bowlers.

Adult beginning classes will also be offered this week, with everything furnished free, balls, shoes, lanes, and instruction. Two separate classes are set, one on Mondays and Wednesdays from 10-11 a.m. and the other on Tuesdays and Thursdays at the same morning hour.

Fern pin smashers from Pampa, seven-teams; Borger, Dumas, Amarillo, Plainview and Lubbock met at the Harvester Bowl Saturday night in a 20-team Invitational Match Meet and a House Sweep.

Eastern LL Stars Are Ready To Go

Pampa's Eastern Little League all-Stars begin workouts this week pointing toward the opening round of post-season playoffs here in a nine-team sub-District meet, July 21-23.

Named to the Eastern League all-Star team were 15 of the loop's top players.

They were Gary Sikes, Optimist; Rickey Stewart, Gary Laramore, and Mike Shaw, Celanese; De E Wright, Bob Price, Jim Brashears, Phil Woodring and Rickey Fritz, all of Cabot; and C. E. Cantrell, Kenny Miller, Charles Woods, Danny Heil, James Strickland and Jim Arthur, all of champion Duncan Insurance.

The all-Stars were picked by manager Homer Miller. He will be assisted with his managerial chores by George Wallace and Earl Hendrix.

The two finalists from the sub-District tournament to be held in the new Western Little League Park, being completed today for the tournament, will advance to the District Tournament at Canyon, July 25-26. Four clubs will be in the District meet.

First round games in the district meet here pits Canyon against Hereford, Canadian against Dumas, Pampa East against Pampa West, and Borger North against Borger South.

Borger Central has drawn a first round bye and will tackle the winner of the Borger South-Borger North game.

The Pampa Western Little League team will be played at the conclusion of regular season play this week. Both Utility Oil and E. M. Keller are in the race for the flag, with a win by Keller in their last game giving them an 11-7 record and dead-locking them with Utility for first place. Utility finished its season with a win Saturday morning.

From the District Meet at Canyon, the winner in the single-elimination playoffs will advance to an Area Tournament at Rotan, July 28-30. From Rotan the winner will go to Regional play at Beaumont, with that winner going to Louisville, Ky., for a Sectional Tournament, and the victor there earning a trip to the Little League World Series in Williamsport, Pa.

Pampa's Pony League all-Stars will enter double-elimination district play at Hereford on July 21-24, with two Borger teams, one Hereford and one Littlefield club providing the opposition.

In 2:30 p.m. Tilt Here

Strutting about with a gaudy .343 team batting average and a 3-1 won-lost record, Coach Deck Woldt's Pampa American Legion Rebels seek win No. 4 at Harvester Park here today in a 2:30 p.m. battle weather permitting.

Furnishing the opposition will be a 16-17-year-old's team from Amarillo, D&D Pharmacy.

Young Mack Taylor, a right-handed fastballer with an 0-0 showing thus far, has been given the opening pitching assignment by Woldt. He turned in two good innings during the Rebels' 14-10 triumph at Perryton nine days ago, but was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the third.

Ready for relief chores should Taylor fail is Keith Yager, a smooth lefthander. He owns a 1-1 record.

D&D Pharmacy has three top-rated hurlers to put on the rubber against the Rebels, Bert McLean, Larry McFathers and Ken Grenwald, who was named to the all-District 4-AAAA baseball team this spring as a pitcher off the championship Amarillo High Sandies outfit.

Along with Taylor, Pampa's starters with batting averages in parenthesis are expected to be: Wendell Ridgway (.182) at shortstop; Bobby Stephens (.625) in centerfield; Larry Stroud (.421) at firstbase; Terry Haralson (.500) in leftfield; Harry Price (.429) in rightfield; Gary Hill (.357) at third; Clovis Shipp (.250) catching; and Ruben Strickland (.231) at second base.

The Rebels have only one other scheduled game, that here with Stinnett next Sunday. They walloped Stinnett, 17-1, there last Wednesday night, despite pinch runner Buddy Rawls receiving a double fracture of the collar bone. Stroud being severely spiked on the right heel, and four other players being hit by wild pitches.

Woldt said Saturday afternoon he would try to line up several more games for his club, with one likely to be booked for the middle of this week.

PAMPA'S FIRST?—So far as anyone could tell, the perfect 300 game Harvester Bowl alley manager, Bob Hoekendorf, rolled here last Thursday night was the first perfect game ever turned in at a Pampa alley. It was also the first 300-game rolled by Hoekendorf during a 17-year career. He had one strike before his 12-straight for the perfect game and one afterwards, giving him 14 strikes in succession. He remarked the next day, "I once had 17 straight strikes, but never could put them together in such a way as to have a 300 game. A former minor-league pitcher, Hoekendorf rolled his perfect game on alley No. 5 at the Harvester Bowl. (Sports Photo by Red Cross)

Palmer Tops PGA Cash Loop, $35 G's

DUNEDIN, Fla. (UPI)—Arnold Palmer, 28, the Coast Guard veteran from Latrobe, Pa., who currently is playing in the Insurance City golf tournament, topped the game's professionals in winnings Saturday with $35,890.83.

Latest figures released by the Professional Golfers' Assn. showed Palmer leading his nearest rival by more than $10,000. Bill Casper Jr., Chula Vista, Calif., was second with $25,373.75.

Tommy Bolt, the Open champion who recently was fined $500 by the PGA for quitting a tournament in New York, was third in winnings with $22,433.62. Then came Ken Venturi with $20,686.25 and Jay Hebert with $17,809.82.

Dow Finsterwald and Cary Middlecoff, the last two men to win the PGA's Vardon Trophy for the best stroke average for a season, currently rank 1-2 in that compe-

PGS Seeks Its 40th Champion This Week

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The Professional Golfers' Assn. sets out to find its 1958 champion Thursday when about 160 of the sport's moneyed gentry tee off at suburban Llanerch Country Club.

This year's 40th annual tournament—which ends next Sunday, barring a playoff—has reversed the National Open pattern by changing from match to medal play for the 72-holes.

Defending champion Lionel Hebert figures his chances of repeating are better at medal, although he will be bucking a 20-year jinx. The last repeater was Denny Shute, who won in 1938 and 1937.

Tournament officials believe medal scores will provide greater public interest, paying off in increased attendance.

Playing 18 holes a day, the field will be pared to 90 after 36 holes and 60 after 54 holes. Sunday will see the championship decided, unless there is a tie after 72 holes. In that event, there will be a playoff the following day.

The year's top money winners among the entries are paced by Arnold Palmer, who through the National Open had won more than $22,400, and include Ken Venturi, Bill Casper, Frank Stranahan, Billy Maxwell and Julius Boros.

National Open champion Tommy Bolt will be trying to join the ultra-exclusive club of Ben Hogan and Gene Sarazen—the only golfers ever to win the Open and PGA in the same year. Sarazen turned the trick in 1922, Hogan in 1948.

Mizell Hurls 2-0 Shutout

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Vinegar Bend Mizell pitched his first shutout of the season to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 2-0 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Saturday.

The big lefthander yielded six hits, with Bill Virdon's eighth inning double the only extra base blow. He struck out four and walked only two to run his season's record to 4-6.

Bob Friend, starter and loser for the Pirates, almost matched Mizell's hurling. But two mistakes, both by himself, led to his downfall.

In the third inning, Don Blasingame singled with one out and took second when Friend's delivery bounced in front of the plate and eluded Hank Folles for a wild pitch. Wally Moon, the batter, was an easy victim and Stan Musial was intentionally passed but Ken Boyer singled home the run.

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The Philadelphia Phillies' pitcher, Harry Chitt, pitched a 2-1 victory over the Baltimore Orioles Saturday in the last half of the fifth inning with the A's holding a 2-1 lead.

After a wait of an hour and six minutes, the game was called and will be replayed in its entirety at a later date.

The A's had scored the tie-breaking run in the top half of the fifth on a triple by Harry Chitt and a sacrifice fly by pitcher Murry Dickson. With one out and a runner on first in Baltimore's half of the fifth, the rain which had been falling since the third inning forced a halt.

The Orioles had scored a run in the first inning, but the A's tied the score against left-hander Jack Harshman in the third when Joe DeMaestri singled and scored on a double by Bill Tuttle.

TIGERS SIGN TWO

DETROIT (UPI)—Gerald Blanks, a Detroit native who went west to Denver University, and Jim Harrold, Thomasville, Pa., have signed Class A contracts with the Detroit Tigers. Blanks, an infielder-outfielder, signed with Lancaster of the Eastern League and Harrold signed with Augusta of the South Atlantic League.

Chisox Clip Bosox In Pair, Homers Fly

BOSTON (UPI)—Catcher Sherm Lollar and Earl Battey, a pair of supercharged battery men, and former week-hitting outfielder Jim Landis staged a three-ring homer circus Saturday to enable the White Sox to sweep a twin bill from the Boston Red Sox, 7-4 and 13-5, and end an eight-game victory famine at Fenway Park.

All three slammed two homers apiece and drove in five runs each. The 33-year-old Lollar, catching Dick Donovan in the opener, powered his fifth major league grand slam in the first inning and a bases-empty homer in the seventh. Battey hit a three-run four bagger to send the so-called puny-hitting White Sox off to a lead in the nightcap and smacked a two-run homer in the ninth.

Ortega Is After Title Fling

NEW YORK (UPI)—Welterweight contender Gaspar Ortega, who upset Mickey Crawford in a strangely close TV bout, was war-whopping for a $300,000 title fight Saturday.

Co-manager Nick Croby said the lanky Mexican Indian from Tijuana could draw a $300,000 gate with champion Virgil Akins at Los Angeles in September because of his split 10-round decision Friday night over Crawford at Madison Square Garden.

Rain Washes Out Phils Rout Cubs, 12-2

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Philadelphia Phillies belted starter Dick Drott for four runs on four hits in the first inning Saturday to open a 16-hit, 12-2, rout of the Chicago Cubs.

Richie Ashburn, who collected four hits in four official trips to the plate, led the Phillies' attack in which all his teammates except winning pitcher Roman Semproch got at least one hit off four Chicago pitchers.

The Phils jumped on Drott after he issued a lead-off walk to Ashburn. Solly Hemus followed with a single and Harry Anderson brought both runners in with another single. Anderson scored on Dave Philley's double, and Ted Kazanski slashed a run-scoring single before the inning ended.

Neals' Heroics Pace Dodgers

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Charlie Neal coupled a two-run homer and some sensational field Saturday to pace the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 4-3 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs before a crowd of 11,740.

Neal laced a home run down the right field line in the fourth inning, driving home big Steve Bilko before him, to put the Dodgers out in front. Then he turned to his fielding duties and came up with a sensational double play ball in the top of the eighth to save the game for Dodger starting hurler Freddie Kipp.

But Kipp was not around for the finish. After giving up a single to Dan Morejon and a walk to Frank Robinson he was lifted in favor of veteran reliever Clem Labine. It was at this point that Neal came up with his sensational play. Pinchhitter George Crowe slammed a screamer between first and second, forcing Neal well back on the right field grass. He flipped the ball to Peeewe Reese at second, forcing Robinson, then Reese threw out Crowe at first.

It was Neal's play that took the starch from the Redlegs attack and they went down in 1-2-3 order in the final inning.

Giants Pull To 1/2 Game Of NL Lead

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Orlando Cepeda's second three-run homer in as many days capped a five-run blast against Warren Spahn in the fifth inning Saturday and lifted the Giants to a 5-3 victory over the Braves.

The win pushed San Francisco back to within a half game of Milwaukee in the vacuum-packed National League pennant race.

Spahn left after Cepeda's home run with his sixth defeat of the season. Johnny Antonelli, although battered for 10 hits, lasted the distance for the first time in four starts to post his ninth triumph.

Saturday's crowd of 22,806 boosted the season attendance to 664,408 for 36 home dates and passed last year's total turnout of 655,923 at the Polo Grounds.

All of the Braves' runs came on homers. Joe Adcock gave them a 1-0 lead with his 10th of the season in the second inning, and Hank Aaron connected for his 15th in the sixth frame after Mel Roach had singled.

Shower Ruins 2-1 A's Edge

BALTIMORE (UPI)—A prolonged thundershower forced postponement of the game between the Kansas City Athletics and the Baltimore Orioles Saturday in the last half of the fifth inning with the A's holding a 2-1 lead.

After a wait of an hour and six minutes, the game was called and will be replayed in its entirety at a later date.

The A's had scored the tie-breaking run in the top half of the fifth on a triple by Harry Chitt and a sacrifice fly by pitcher Murry Dickson. With one out and a runner on first in Baltimore's half of the fifth, the rain which had been falling since the third inning forced a halt.

The Orioles had scored a run in the first inning, but the A's tied the score against left-hander Jack Harshman in the third when Joe DeMaestri singled and scored on a double by Bill Tuttle.

Jablonski Won't Stay In The Dugout

By SCOTT BAILLIE
United Press International

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—You can't keep a good man down in the dugout—especially if his name is Ray Jablonski and he is out to crash that lineup.

The much-traveled National League veteran recently took the third base job away from rookie Jim Davenport of the San Francisco Giants. Jabbo returned to his regular spot as a part of Manager Bill Rigney's "play 'em when they're hot" policy.

Davenport has the glove but Jabbo has the power—especially in clutch situations.

"Yeah, I'm gettin' my hits now," Jablonski grunted Saturday. "I'm hittin' through those holes. Before I was hittin' right at somebody and makin' the infielders look like a bunch of heroes."

Ray is an avowed foe of the warm bench.

"I'd rather play or go some place else where they'll let me," he had said early this season when Davenport was sparking at third. "Otherwise, when it comes time to talk about salary, an owner can say 'hell, we're cutting you down. What did you do last year?'"

Swede Favored

GOTHENBURG, Sweden (UPI)—Ingemar Johansson, the Swede who holds the European heavyweight championship, is heavily favored to defeat Heinz Neuhaus of Germany in their 10-round, non-title bout Sunday.

Johansson wants to win to set the stage for fights in the United States. But Neuhaus has some important advantages. He is more experienced, has a longer reach and probably will weigh about 16 pounds more than the Swede. Neuhaus is expected to scale about 216 pounds and Johansson 200.

Carey Cracks Pair, Yanks Snow Indians

NEW YORK (UPI)—Andy Carey drove in five runs with his 10th and 11th home runs Saturday to lead the league-leading New York Yankees to their fourth consecutive triumph in a 10-0 victory over the Cleveland Indians in a game interrupted three times by rain.

The game was played under protest by Cleveland manager Joe Gordon from the fifth inning on, when field conditions were so bad that pinch hitter Rocky Colavito claimed he couldn't dig in properly in the batter's box.

It also marked the first appearance since June 14 of southpaw Herb Score, the Indians' strikeout king who came on in relief of Gary Bell, second Cleveland pitcher. Ironically, the first man to face Score was Gil McDougald, whose line drive in May, 1957 almost ended Herb's career. On this occasion, however, the first time he faced Score since the accident, McDougald struck out.

Right hander Art Ditmar, who relieved starter Zach Monroe after rain delayed the game the first time, pitched hitless ball over the last 4 2/3 innings to gain credit for his fourth win.

Western LL Playoff Is Most Likely

By RED CROSS Daily News Staff

Utility Oil slammed out their biggest hit total of the year yesterday thumping C. R. Hoover 18-7 on 17 hits. The win put the Oilers in first place by a half game over E. M. Keller, in the Western Little League.

Jessie Washington walloped two homers, his 10th and 11th of the year, and Walter Ross hit his eighth round-tripper in leading the Utility attack. Second baseman, Terry Holt had four hits in five times at bat including two doubles, for the winners.

Jeff Smiley took the win for Utility, relieving Gary Crossland in the third inning and then being relieved himself in the fifth by Walter Ross.

This was the last regular season game for Utility and the team finished with a 11-7 record.

The Western Little League has only one game remaining, as C. R. Hoover tangles with second place Keller on Tuesday. Should Keller win the league will end in a tie for first between Keller and the Oilers.

A possible three game playoff is being studied by league president, Eddie Lawrence, in case of a deadlock.

One Bull Ranch finished in third place with an 8-10 record and C. R. Hoover wound up in the cellar with a 5-10 record.

The success of some of the clubs has been due to the fact that they haven't had any boys gone on vacation.

Better games would have been played and the league would have been much closer if the teams would have been at full strength all season.

The umpires in the Western League are due praise for the fine jobs they have done this year. They call the games without pay and are jeered, not only by the managers but by the spectators as well.

Among the men calling games in the Western League this year, and deserving prizes were J. R. Abbott, Artie Altgert, Ed Lawrence, Austin Wilson, John Pharr, and E. B. Smith.

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—new additions—including a new coach, and a new quarterback—figure largely in plans of the Philadelphia Eagles to revert to their old form as champions of the National Football League.

General Manager Vince McNally, who has criss-crossed the nation signing players for the start of the summer training program opening at Hershey, Pa., July 28, says he's "very optimistic over his year's prospects."

The Eagles, who last won the league crown in 1949 under Coach Greasy Neale and have gone through four coaches since then, have hired white-haired Buck Shaw, former coach of the San Francisco 49ers, to get them back in championship form.

And they've given him a good right (passing) try in Norm Van Brocklin, the Flying Dutchman by way of the Los Angeles Rams.

With these two old pros under new colors, McNally speaks in superlatives about the coming season.

"Buck is an astute and imaginative coach who will be able to mold a title contender, and we are giving him the best we can get to work with," says McNally.

New Coach, QB May Mean Eagles' Return

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—new additions—including a new coach, and a new quarterback—figure largely in plans of the Philadelphia Eagles to revert to their old form as champions of the National Football League.

They'll Know!

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Los Angeles Dodgers will know Monday whether their contract with the city for Chavez Ravine stands up in court.

Superior Court Judge Arnold Praeger said he would announce his decision on the validity of the contract at that time. He took under advisement two taxpayers' suits against the deal last June 25.

The suits contend there are flaws in the contract and that the city has no legal right to transfer 169 acres in the ravine to the Dodgers because of "public purpose" deed restrictions.

Bears Ink 2

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Chicago Bears Saturday announced the signing of veteran defensive end Jack Hoffman and linebacker Joe Fortunato, both of whom will report when the team begins training at Rensselaer, Ind., July 24.

Hoffman, a former standout at Xavier University, will be starting his fifth season with the Bears. Fortunato, formerly of Mississippi State, is a fourth year man. He is used, at fullback on occasions.

Bengals Bop Sens By 3-1

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Detroit Tigers defeated the Washington Senators, 3-1, in eight innings Saturday in a game halted by rain in the 9th inning.

The Tigers had scored a run in the top of the ninth and the Senators had one run in, a man on first and nobody out when a heavy rain forced curtailment.

According to rules, the game reverted to the last complete inning since the home team was still behind.

The Tigers scored all three runs on four hits off Hal Griggs in the fifth. Oase Virgil started the rally with his second homer of the year.

Panhandle Outdoor Life

By STARKEY WHITEHORN

In less than two months the dove season will be open. September 1 is the usual opening date and probably it will open the same this year as in the past. Large flocks of doves have been observed in many parts of the Panhandle this summer, which should add up to a bumper crop of young doves hatched.

The hatching season is in full swing at this time and will continue in full swing until August and then taper off. There will be hundreds of doves hatched after September 1, however.

Mourning doves are usually quite particular, same as most birds, in the location of their nesting area. Doves prefer an area that consists of small trees and clean terrain underneath.

Cemeteries have long been recognized by field men as choice nesting areas. A clean, quiet, secluded, well-kept area, with trees that have overhanging limbs from five to ten feet in height, near good feeding and watering grounds, is the perfect setup for a colony of doves to begin house-keeping.

Such areas as this aren't in large supply on the high plains, so many times doves will nest almost any place they can find. Many doves nest on the ground in wheat fields, stubble or on the prairies.

The government shelterbelts have been the nesting locations of tens of thousands of these birds ever since they were planted during the dust bowl days.

Only One Shelterbelt

There is one shelterbelt (tree row) east of Pampa a few miles that has furnished wildlife biologists and game wardens hundreds of young doves for banding purposes. (Each year Game Department personnel attempt to band as many doves as possible.) Wildlife Biologist A. S. Jackson and Warden Jack Woodford have each banded more than 500 mourning doves in this particular area.

The Ochiltree County cemetery was, for a long time, my favorite banding area. Another cemetery just east and north of Gruver is usually good for four to eight doves on each trip.

If a person filled a pocket full of bands and started out country with the idea in mind to

Quail Progress

I have contended for some time now that there will be the largest quail crop of bobwhites in the Panhandle that we have had since 1951. It was interesting to know that someone else thought along the same lines.

Jack Woodford, Game Warden for Gray, Carson and Roberts Counties, said today that it appears as though the bobwhites will really be in huge supply in his district, come this fall.

He will not be caught with his plans, however, considering the fact that he will have to highpowered

The Wet Panhandle

For the last ten months or more the rains have been almost perfect, slow soaking rains that have penetrated the soil instead of washing the countryside away. Very few areas in the Panhandle have been washed out this year.

There is not a great supply of stock water in the earthen tanks since the rains came slow, but the grass and hillside are green. This has added up to near the ideal condition for wildlife in the Panhandle.

Fishing Is Slim

This is a horse of another color. Quite frequently I am asked, "Where can a person go and really catch a lot of fish around here?" Perhaps some think that since I am the Game Warden for several counties in the Panhandle I should know.

The bald-faced truth about the matter is that I do know enough about the fishing in these parts to understand that the general fishing prospects are slim, that is if a fellow wishes to fill a deep freeze. Some few fishermen nearly always have good luck on trips but on the average the trip could be placed in the recreation category.

This doesn't mean that there isn't a barrel of fun available at all of the Panhandle lakes. Very few anglers will derive more genuine pleasure from a trip than will a boy who has been pulling out bluegill by the dozen for hours and has them all strung up on a stringer. The bluegill are more than plentiful.

Not long ago, a fisherman said that if bluegill (perch) were properly cleaned and fried, and after this placed in a pressure cooker and pressured for a few minutes, they were delicious. The pressure cooker softened the bones so that they could be eaten the same as salmon.

Ever since then I have intended to try this fried pressure method but haven't gotten around to it.

ABOUT HOMERS, STUART KNOWS

By GENE BLUDEAU United Press International CHICAGO (UPI)—Dick Stuart, past master of four-bagger clouts in the minors, has proven he can wallop Big League pitching, too. The rookie first baseman for the Pittsburgh Pirates pounded two home runs in his first two days in the majors—the latest of the

Ted Presented Silver Bat For Last Year's .388

BOSTON (UPI)—Ted Williams Saturday was presented a gleaming silver bat emblematic of the 1957 American League batting title.

The Boston Red Sox slugger won the title at the age of 39 with a .388 mark. American League President Will Harridge made the presentation in a brief ceremony before Saturday's Red Sox-White Sox double-header.

The full-size bat, officially called the John A. (Bud) Hillerich Memorial Award but better known as the Louisville Slugger Award, was given by John A. Hillerich Jr., head of the Hillerich and Bradshaw Co., major league bat-making firm in Louisville, Ky. Hillerich is a son of the founder.

It was the first time Williams had received the silver bat award but the fifth time he has won the league batting title. The silver bat award was established in 1949. Ted, who turns 40 Aug. 30, holds a .350 lifetime average and is currently hitting .310 in his 17th season in the major leagues. His .388 mark of last year was the highest in the majors since Williams hit .406 in 1941.

Industrial Loop Enters Final Week

Regular season play in the Industrial Softball League comes to a skidding halt this week, with KP lodge almost assured of plucking off the pennant.

The Dodgers, 4-0 winners over fourth-place Phillips Friday night, own a 19-3 record for top rung on the loop's ladder. Delbert Daniels fired a nifty two-hitter to best Ray Cotter, who gave up only six hits, but lost.

Gene Brown had a triple and single and team-mate Don Galleher had a two-bagger and single for the winners.

The Richardson Oilers swept both ends of a twinbill from Motor Inn Friday night, with Texas Tech footballer pulling an iron man stunt and hurling both victories. Raymond McKinney and George Taylor took the losses for Motor Inn. Homeruns in the twinbill were a dime a dozen as Elmer Wilson slapped three, while mates Doug Flynn and Jerry Coley both rapped a pair of round-trippers. Ted Tucker belted a homer for the losers.

Kempa Humble, holding second place with a 16-4 mark ahead of the Oilers' 14-6 record, gets a chance to creep within a half game of first this week, providing they whip Phillips at Bowers Park in a 7:30 p.m. game Monday and pacesetter KP Lodge in a 9 p.m. tilt Tuesday at Lions Park.

Team managers will meet Wednesday night at the city hall to make plans for a softball tournament and discuss the prospects of having a Shaugnessy Playoff.

Stuart's 31 homers in the PCL included three grand slammers. His baseball career goes back to 1951, when he started with Modesto in the California State League as an outfielder.

He played with Atlanta in the Southern Association, Lincoln, Neb., in the Western League, and did a two-year hitch in the Army before joining Hollywood, whose franchise was taken over by Salt Lake City.

Manager Murtaugh said he was also satisfied, so far, with Stuart's fielding. The rookie hit well for the Pirates in spring training, but his work afield left something to be desired, leading to his transfer to Salt Lake City before the season's start.

Murtaugh said Stuart hasn't had any difficult chances since his return, but added that he is "great-

Tag Team Match Is Set Here

Tight-lipped Art Nelson figures to get some help of his own this week, and it won't be "outlaw" assistance the big blonde grappler, who's as hostile towards his fans as he is towards opposing wrestlers, will receive.

Nelson, who purposely turned his back on an autograph seeking youngster at the Top of Texas Sportsman Club last Monday night, will link muscles with hook-nosed Iron Mike DeBaise, an awkwardly constructed Omaha, Neb., onf who like Nelson, doesn't mind falling back on some "under-handed" tactics when the chance allows, or the referee is looking the other way.

The dirty play matters little, however, for facing Nelson and DeBaise are a pair of German countrymen in a tag-team match here Monday night that'll highlight a three-match card. The German grapplers are the Great Zorro and mustached Kirt Von Poppenheim.

Last week, Von Poppenheim leaped into the ring during the main event and lent Zorro a helping hand with Nelson. Together the "Krauts" floored the big fellow, and set the stage for this week's grudge tag-team match.

Nelson gets a double-opportunity to crack back at Von Poppenheim, a veteran ring campaigner who smorts about being a non-crowd pleaser and wears German military insignias on his fancy black leather fighting boots. They meet in a one-fall 15-minute opening match, before returning later, if both are physically able, for the special tag-team brawl.

NO SOONER DO WE get one Golden Spread crop-harvested until another one "sprouts" up on the Plains . . . we are speaking of the beard-growing contest that tall, blonde n' handsome Clyde Dickerson is promoting for the Jaycees in connection with the Top o' Texas Rodeo . . . it is a little too early in the game to determine exactly who is growing one and who has pocketed a one dollar shaving permit to escape penalty . . . but we've heard plans of some pretty fancy ones that fellas around town are planning to groom . . . one aspiring young fella has plans to grow two Van Dykes . . . one for each of his double-chins . . . we can hardly wait for Rodeo Week to start . . . wild and woolly thing do go on . . . it is always so much fun and so exciting . . . especially in this space age, when we can . . . for one week . . . re-live and re-identify ourselves with the colorful past that is our heritage . . . we are anxious to see close-up, too, that beeyootiful beard of Honest Jess of TV fame, who keeps our young ones glued to the set for his cowboy movies and songs . . .

ISN'T "PANHANDLE REFLECTIONS" a beautiful title and theme for a flower show? . . . that is the one that the Pampa Garden Club has selected for its flower show to be held in early August . . . this year should produce some beautiful arrangements . . . we hear from Thelma Bray that the club has a beautification project underway for Central Park . . . they want to start a rose garden there . . . which should add to the beauty of this beautiful spot in the heart of our city . . . there are so many pretty spots around Pampa this Spring and Summer . . . take a for instance . . . neighbors out in the Fraser addition are casting envious looks at the Ed Cleveland's lawn and flowers . . . everyone moved into their new homes out there just about the same time and started their lawns within a few weeks of each other . . . now, not only do the Cleverlands have a beautifully-sodded lawn . . . but flowers by the armloads . . . they've had gorgeous roses, especially a lovely Aztec rose . . . and now the gladioli are blooming . . . pure whites, brilliant reds, and one bloom that defines description but the general idea is orchid at the throat of the blossom, shading out into a peach tint . . . the Jeffries' home in the same block on Beech but down on the next corner and across the street is also the object of neighborly envy . . . already they have trees 20 feet tall or taller . . . and a beautiful lawn . . . until we reasoned that one of the Jeffries' trucks might have had a hand in the planting.

Heidi Schneider is a Busy Gal these days, packing and preparing for her coveted Girl Scout Trip to California next week . . . Nick and Jane Kadingo, Jean and Al Bell had a lot of fun camping out over the fourth o' July week end in a primitive camp they set up near Almagordo, N. Julian and Katy Key are to return this week end from a Colorado fishing trip . . . just as Dr. Ed Williams betook himself and young son, Sam, off on a fishing trip up into the Colorado mountains . . . of course, they will fish in the mountain lakes.

FOURTH O' JULY AFTER GLOW . . . Glenn and Eula Dawson of out Somerville Way entertained a coterie of friends on the fourth with a Barbecue and Chicken dinner in their back-yard . . . intriguing curls of blue smoke and the delicious aroma provoked by Chef Dawson's basting sauce made a few of us uninvited guests want to come over, too . . . and out at the Country Club, enjoying the buffet dinner around the club pool on this cool and pleasant fourth were Bob and Carol Swanson, Virgie and Bill Matejowsky . . . Joan and Cecil Tedrow with a party of friends, the M. Griswold Rogers, the Ivan Boxwells, and the Josh Hopkins . . . also, Mrs. Chilton Hill of Oklahoma City, who is the houseguest of Jean Braly, was there with her four attractive daughters . . . and just the day before the fourth, at the wedding of Rosalie Deal and James Hollingwood, the mother of the bride looked as pretty as the bride herself . . . Blanche wore a blue lace cocktail dress with a matching hat adorned with satin, hand-clipped flowers . . . she is a tiny little thing, too, not quite five feet tall, while her husband, Jamie, towers to a six feet . . . saw Gebrija Crutchfield the other day out and about on errands wearing a slim, slim chemise of black and white checks with black patent pointy-toe pumps . . . looking pert and cool . . . she's the Lady at Lady-B-Love-ly, you know . . . hear that Betty Hinton is doing volunteer work in the Girl Scout office during her summer vacation from studies at West Texas State.

DID YOU EVER SAY to yourself, "Oh, I wish I had thought to say that" . . . well, after considerable experience of wishing ourselves, we have decided that the very clever things you think of saying after an occasion has past are the very same things, in disguise, that you did think of to say and was sorry for afterwards . . . so weep no more that clever retorts escape you when you think you need them most . . . you'll be glad later that you didn't think of them!

SO MUCH HAS ALREADY BEEN said about Alaska's statehood, but feminine-like we must put in our two cent's worth . . . Alaska's star added to our flag, artistically-speaking, is okay for it still balances . . . seven stars across by seven stars down . . . but we are worrying about where Hawaii's fiftieth star will go . . . if and when? . . . never one to pose a question without a ready answer, let us suggest that Texas' Lone Star be superimposed right in the middle of the flag with all the other 49 arranged around it . . . so, with this, may we add our welcome to Alaska, "come on in, the taxes are fine" . . . et tu, Hawaii!

Facetiously yours,
Peg.

Bride Should By-Pass Late Parties To Look Beautiful On Wedding Day

By ALICIA HART NEA Beauty Editor. The bride who glows on her wedding day is the one who has not run herself ragged in the weeks preceding the wedding. She's the one who made an orderly list of things to be done, who got to appointments on time, who spaced both showers and shopping so that she had sufficient time for rest. She's the one who allowed enough time for everything, thus avoiding those last-minute disasters with fittings. She's the one who delegated work to helpful friends and family rather than trying to do everything herself. She's the one who realized that a girl can't have everything and that therefore she couldn't have late hours and a fresh, pretty face on her wedding day. She wisely chose to look radiant on the big day and to let the late parties go by. She's glad she made the choice, for her wedding pictures show her to be the loveliest bride every.

If you want to keep your body lithe and limber, stretch. Animals do it instinctively on awakening. So should you. And if you don't much care for the idea of regular setting-up exercise, a series of stretching and bending exercises will do you worlds of good. Good for the figure, good for the health, good for a feeling of well-being. Touch the floor, reach for the ceiling, bend down sideways. And stretch so that you feel the muscles pulling.

James Patterson, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Silverton, performed the single ring ceremony before a background of white sunburst arrangement of stock, gladioli, and majestic daisies, flanked by white, wrought-iron candelabras holding cathedral tapers. A kneeling bench was covered with white satin.

Mrs. Turner, the bride's mother, wore a blue embroidered dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. A reception following the ceremony was also held in the home of the bride's parents, with Miss Joan Turner, sister of the bride, registering the guests. For a wedding trip to New Mexico and Colorado, the bride wore a two-piece ensemble of coral-rose shantung with white accessories, and her orchid corsage. Mrs. Odom is Home Economics teacher, and Mr. Odom is superintendent of Miami High School.

Miss Charlotte Jean Daugherty

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE Some years ago an explorer friend of ours took his wife on an expedition through an uncharted area in Brazil's Mato Grosso region.

Late one day their camp was visited by a delegation of natives from a nearby village. Its chief accepted their gifts and the carved stick that symbolizes exchange of good will in this area and at once the camp was overrun by an excited crowd of curious women and children.

The native ladies had never seen a white woman before. So they milled around the explorer's wife, fingering her hair, her clothes and body. Then one particularly curious lady, uncertain of whether the guest's blouse and breeches covered a new variety of female anatomy or the kind they themselves so generously exposed, gave her blouse a yank that ripped off its buttons.

Her husband came to her rescue, and with kind firmness made it clear that there were limits to indulgence of the native ladies' curiosity.

He did not misunderstand the motives of these natives. It was clear to both our friends that their interest wasn't sexual at all, but their childish way of making familiar what was unfamiliar to them by exploring it, exposing it. I hope that this story will help a Mrs. D. with her dismay at learning that her 6-year-old boy has been playing doctor to a little girl who lives down their block.

Coming Nuptials For Daugherty-Guthrie

Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Daugherty of Borger announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Charlotte Jean to Terry L. Guthrie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Guthrie of Pampa, former Borger residents. A September wedding is being planned. Vows will be exchanged in the First Baptist Church of Borger with Rev. Samuel E. Ogan officiating.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Borger High School; North Texas State College in Denton and is presently employed in the Borger school system. The prospective bridegroom is a graduate of Borger High School and upon completion of his service in the US Navy in September will be enrolled in Frank Phillips College in Borger.

Child psychologists say that a sex play happens among normal children. I don't want Harry to go near this child again. Is this wrong? A better solution might be that of our explorer-friends — the understanding control of childish curiosity.

In my opinion, Mrs. D. will do well to forget the child psychologists' term of "sex play" to describe what's one on. The term has meaning for her that it can't possibly have for sexually undeveloped children. When we think of their curiosity play as sexual in feeling and purpose, we make it hard for ourselves to end it by quiet, unobtrusive supervision.

"Madhatter's Tea" Given By LC Club

The fourth and final rush party of the season for the Las Creasas Club was given in the form of a tea and salad supper on Monday evening in the City Club Room.

Keeping with the club's chosen theme, "Fantasy Land," the party was based on the "Madhatter's Tea" from the fairy tale, "Alice in Wonderland." Receiving invitations shaped as a "madhatter's hat" and printed "press card," rushees arrived at the party in semi-formal attire.

The table was laid with a white cloth covered with red hearts and diamonds, black clubs and spades and centered with an arrangement of red carnations.

A variety of salads were served buffet-style with iced tea.

Following the salad supper, rushees were presented with bids by Miss Sharon Summers, president.

Miss Lois Lathrop, club chaplain, concluded the party with prayer. Mrs. Clayton White and Mrs. Pat Larner were special guests.

At a meeting held Tuesday evening in the home of Miss Marilyn Shelton, 702 N. Christy, an acceptance tea was planned for rushees, who are planning to join the club. It was decided that the semi-formal affair will be held at 3:30 p.m. on Tuesday, July 15, in the home of Miss Summers.

It's a carefree summertime, when most organizations have suspended meetings until fall. But don't be lulled into the happy thought that you can keep the promise you made to yourself when last year's meetings came to an end. Namely: "No more jobs for me. No matter what committee they ask me to be chairman of, I'm going to say no."

It's easy to make such resolutions, but hard to keep them. For one day, come fall, the telephone will ring and a voice loaded with charm and persuasion and tact will tell you that she has a "little" job for you to do.

It's always a "little" job when you are asked to do it.

As you bring your arguments forward, they'll be mowed down by an expert. "You are the ideal person for the job." "You always have such clever ideas." "You get along so well with people." "This job won't take much of your time." "It's terribly important, and everyone agrees you are the only person who can put it across."

You'll hedge, you'll offer excuses, you'll explain just why this year is going to be such a busy year for you. But before your caller hangs up, she'll have your reluctant agreement to take the job.

And you'll find out what you really knew all along — that the "little" job isn't so little after all. And when it is finished, you'll vow again that you have been roped in for the last time, and that after this you are just going to be firm about saying no.

How do I know that's what is going to happen to you? Because I'm a sucker for that charming, persuasive voice on the telephone, myself.

Hoe Down

by Pampa Garden Club

(Editor's Note: As a public service feature for local gardeners, The Pampa Garden Club will offer weekly articles pertaining to gardening and lawn care during the summer months. Mrs. Henry Gruben, Pampa Garden Club reporter, submits the following information gathered from members and published sources.)

Although it is mid-summer and the early Spring urge to work in the soil has passed, there is much to be done this month. To insure continued beauty in the garden for the remainder of the summer, on into fall, and blooms for next Spring, here are some things to be done this month.

Probably the most important thing is to mulch. Although there has been much rain recently, remember the recent hot dry winds and there will be more. Straw, cotton ginnings, saw dust, leaves or grass clippings (no Bermuda, please!) are good. If none of these are available, at least, cultivate around the plants. This will form a dust mulch and will help the soil retain its moisture, as well as lower its temperature.

Grooming a yard entails more than mowing the lawn and trimming the hedge. Besides looking neater, a flower garden will produce more blooms if it is pruned properly.

Start with your roses... cut old blooms back to the first five-leaf group. From this point new growth will form. This can be practiced when cutting fresh flowers, also. Now is the time to feed roses again and keep well watered for continued bloom. If larger, but fewer blooms are desired, pinch off side buds.

Prune back trees and flowering shrubs, removing old canes. Remember, spring shrubs bloom on growth formed this year so remove only old canes.

Flowers to prune back are delphiniums, columbine, spring perennials, and shasta daisies. Pinch back chrysanthemums at the soft tip now, also, as this will force the plant to branch and produce more bloom. If you garden by the moon or signs, do this on the 15th and 16th.

Lift spring bulbs such as tulips, jonquils and daffodils, if they have become crowded, but do not plant until fall. Store in a cool dry place until then.

Crowded iris clumps, should be divided now, too. This is a very rewarding flower and requires a minimum of care. To divide, cut into separate rhizomes (these are the fat roots—much like a potato), cut back fans to seven or eight inches and plant one inch deep, mounding center of the hole. Place rhizomes on this and spread out the roots. The dates for doing this are July-15, 16, 23 and 24.

Flowers to plant now are pansies, snapdragons, columbines, zinnias and gladioli. Start the first three in cold frames, just as you do your annuals in the Spring. Transplant once when flats become crowded and then to move to beds before the first freeze. Be sure to mulch in the fall and you will be rewarded come Spring. Gladioli and zinnias may be planted now for bloom late this summer.

Bride's Party For Miss Carol Rankin

Miss Carol Rankin, bride-elect of Jim Lawley, whose marriage will be an event of August 10 at five o'clock in the First Methodist Church was complimented with a bridal shower on Wednesday afternoon in the First Methodist Church parlors.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mmes. G. C. Andis, Paul Caylor, F. A. Cary, I. E. Byars, J. S. Fuqua, A. B. Carruth, E. L. Campbell, J. B. Kelly, R. A. Hankhouse, John Jessey, W. M. Morrison, R. Odell, O. H. Odum, C. G. Ryan, J. Flewelling, B. R. Nuckols, and R. Sewell.

The honoree was presented with a blue, split carnation corsage arranged with miniature wedding bells. Mrs. W. R. Rankin, bride-elect's mother, was given a white carnation corsage.

Mrs. Irvin Cole, Mrs. Dan Johnson, and Miss June Gull provided background music at the piano during the afternoon. The bride's table was covered with a white, imported lace cloth centered with a crystal, silver-footed bowl containing white and blue carnations arranged with blue wedding bells. White and blue wedding bell-shaped mints, assorted nuts were served. Crystal and silver appointments complemented with white napkins inscribed in blue with "Carol and Jim" completed the table arrangements.

Mrs. Kelly presided at the register, where approximately 75 guests called or sent gifts during the afternoon.

TO WED IN LOUISIANA

Miss Josie Marie Hanagriff Mr. and Mrs. Charles William Hanagriff of Centerville, La. announce the recent engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Josie Marie to Robert Dixon Herring, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clois Dixon Herring of Franklin, La. The wedding will be solemnized in the Centerville Presbyterian Church on August 24. The Hanagriffs are former Pampanos, now living in Centerville.

This summer, every woman will have at least one pair of colored shoes in her wardrobe. They may be flowered or printed or striped or in solid color but they'll set off black linen beautifully.

It is NOT set up for the convenience of people who feel their relatives are in the way. An experimental patient is sent back to the hospital only if the examining doctor recommends it. Your obvious selfishness and lack of understanding makes you a poor candidate for marriage.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband used to tell me that he had to sleep in another room because my snoring kept him awake at night. Like a fool I believed him until a friend of mine told me that she saw my husband out one night in a little town near her, folkdancing until two o'clock in the morning. I stayed up four nights and nothing happened, but on Friday night after he went to bed I heard him take the screen off and caught him climbing out the window, all dressed up. We had a big fight about this, but he won't admit anything. How can I get him to confess?

CAUGHT HIM
Dear Caught Him: What is there to confess? If he is so crazy about folk-dancing — learn how, and go with him. P.S. Get him back in your bedroom, too.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think it's all right for a boy to ask a girl for her measurements?

DIXIE
Dear Dixie: Not unless he's knitting her a sweater.

DEAR ABBY: If people complain about eating around dogs they should have had my experience at a counter in a snack-fountain yesterday. A lady came in and sat beside me on the fountain stool and ordered a glass of milk. She had a bag of fig bars in a sack, so she ate them with the milk. The seeds must have got under her plates because she took them out (uppers and lowers, and proceeded to wash her plates in her glass of drinking water. Did you, Dear Abby, ever hear of a dog taking out his store teeth and washing them in a glass of water? Some people are disgusting!

DEAR ABBY: Do you suppose there is something the matter with me? I've got two fellows who want to marry me, but I don't care for either of them. My mother is having a fit. She says, "Name me one thing that is wrong with either of them!" And, Abby, I can't name on thing wrong with either of them, but I don't want to marry them. I am 22 years old, have a good job and am not worried about being an old maid.

NOT READY
Dear Not: Your mother had the privilege of picking out ONE husband in the family—hers. Tell her you'd like the same privilege and not to rush you.

DEAR ABBY: I have been going out with a boy whose mother has been in the State Mental Hospital. She doesn't like me because she thinks I am taking her son away from her. I am very much in love with him and we want to get married, but his mother is always butting in. She treats her son like he was her husband (she is widowed) and his only child. What I want to know is this. If we do get married, can we send her back, would we need any signatures or the word of a doctor?

Mother Of New Baby Needs Routine To Regain Figure And Health Glow

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Aren't you proud? You're home from the hospital. You have a bundle of heavenly joy in a brand-new crib. And last, but not least, to every gal, you can see your feet again.

That's your feeling on your first day home. But—comes the disillusionment when you blithely try on the clothes you haven't worn for so long. You can get into them, but there's a strain at the bosom, and your tummy sticks out. Seems like a diligent beauty routine is in order.

Don't let depression dim your initial joy. Your baby is healthy and beautiful, and the rest can be taken care of easily.

If the strain of pregnancy has made your complexion dry, the daily use of a lubricating cream will help. One famous beauty house offers an emulsion that can be used all day under make-up, and at night, too. Because it can work 24 hours a day, it should speedily counteract the dryness and bring back the soft bloom to your cheeks.

If you find you tire easily, sensible, nutritious food and a nap every afternoon will soon dispel the weariness. Don't skip that daily rest period, for the delightful new member of the family will create many additional chores for mom.

From her salon in New York, Mme. Helena Rubinstein offers this advice to new mothers:

Babies sleep a good part of the time, and you can recapture your former figure right on the floor in the baby's room.

There are many exercises that will tone the stomach muscles, and they needn't be too strenuous. Here's one that is particularly effective when done with the help of an elasticized beauty rope.

Lie on the floor with arms overhead and the rope looped over your hands. Bring one knee up close to the chest and lift the other leg high and straight. Then, holding it straight, return your leg to the floor. Reverse legs, and do the same exercise. You can start at five times, then legs, and do the same exercise, time each day.

In firming the bust, the elasticized rope is helpful, too. Hold it, doubled in your hands, and stretch your arms out in front. Keeping your arms straight, raise them above your head and pull them back as far as you can—keeping your back straight, too.

None of these exercises is difficult to do. It's just a matter of getting into the routine and sticking to it until you can once again look into the mirror and smile.

You'll be the pretty mistress of a happy household. And dad will be mighty proud of his two dolls.

A Point Of Socialism

Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D., a writer for the Christian Freedom Foundation, Inc., makes a point that is all too often overlooked in a discussion of the merits and demerits of the communist-socialist theory of government.

The point he makes ought to be of special interest to the clergy, since it points out the incompatibility of Christianity and the socialist philosophy.

Dr. Kershner points out:

By driving men as slaves, stealing secrets, seizing wealth produced by free men, looting the property of surrounding peoples and begging billions from the United States, socialism may make some show of success on the purely physical plane of life. The Kremlin tyrants have erected a facade that deceives the uninformed. Socialism, however, carries within it the seeds of failure, and any show of success it may make by these methods cannot long endure.

As one ascends the scale of human attainment, socialism becomes more and more impossible. One may draw sustenance (food and shelter) from the efforts of others, but if he attains skill in a trade, leadership in a profession or artistry in music, painting, writing or any of the fine arts, it will be by his own efforts. Need, on these levels, won't bring him a share of the talents of others no matter how good a Marxist he and they may be. Genius and skill cannot be divided up and distributed to others. One may devote oneself to the service to the service of others and share his goods, but not his artistry and thinking power. The very thought of socialism in the higher realms of mental attainment is absurd.

In the spiritual world socialism is even more unthinkable. No one can repent for another. One must do that himself or it will not be done. Moreover, one's repentance availeth nothing for any other person. When one is forgiven, it is a very personal matter which one cannot share. When one sets out to "climb the steep ascent to Heaven," he cannot take another with him. He may inspire another to do likewise, but that one will have to do his own climbing. Growth in grace — achieving sonship to God — is something which one must do for himself alone. There is no something for nothing in that realm. In the spiritual world socialism is revealed as the stark skeleton it is.

For a short time Marxism may operate as a counterweight on the lowest plane of human life, but it has no place whatsoever in the higher reaches of the mind and is even less applicable in the world of the spirit.

Perhaps that is why Marxists are so antireligious. They can grovel in the earth but they cannot aspire to Heaven. Their scheme never gets off the ground. It cannot soar. Sputnik notwithstanding, it is an earthbound philosophy that hath no fellowship with candidates for sonship to God.

Texas Still Has It Over Alaska In Many Ways

By HENRY McLEMORE

Like many others who admire the State of Texas, and who list Texans among their good friends, I am worried about the effect the admission of Alaska as a state will have on Texas and its people. No longer will Texans be able to brag about their state's being the largest in the country, for Alaska is nearly two and one-half times as big, and soon we will have jokes about Alaskans visiting Texas and coming down with claustrophobia. As stout and gallant a people as they are, this sudden toppling from their perch could very well send Texans into a decline. So the rest of America should stand by, ready to send Bundles To Texas. The Bundles would include California for the extremely disappointed, faked maps on which Alaska is shown as no bigger than Rhode Island, and a painting showing a cow pony beating a grizzly bear in a hand-to-hand fight. Alaska as a state is going to be tough on Texans. There's no getting away from that. Not only is Alaska much, much bigger in size, but it has at least 100 hours for every one in Texas, a thousand times as many Eskimos, and, I guess, a million times as many seals and sea lions.

When it became evident that Alaska was going to get statehood, I put in a call to a newspaperman friend in Austin, Sam Wood, to find out how Texans were taking the challenge to their boasting. Texas isn't taking it lying down. My call proved that. I reached Mr. Wood at the library, where he was busy compiling data to show that Texas still has it all over Alaska in a thousand ways. It seems that my claustrophobia. As stout and gallant a people as they are, this sudden toppling from their perch could very well send Texans into a decline. So the rest of America should stand by, ready to send Bundles To Texas. The Bundles would include California for the extremely disappointed, faked maps on which Alaska is shown as no bigger than Rhode Island, and a painting showing a cow pony beating a grizzly bear in a hand-to-hand fight. Alaska as a state is going to be tough on Texans. There's no getting away from that. Not only is Alaska much, much bigger in size, but it has at least 100 hours for every one in Texas, a thousand times as many Eskimos, and, I guess, a million times as many seals and sea lions.

It gets colder in Alaska than it does in Texas, and it has more gold, more furs, more mosquitoes, higher mountains, more fish, more coastline, and its Gold Rush days don't have to take much sass from the wild and woolly frontier days of Texas. It's a blessed thing that Texas and Alaska are miles apart. If they adjoined one another the fur caps and ten-gallon hats really would fly. Texans would be whamming Alaskans with saddles and whips and Alaskans would be whamming Texans with kayaks and musket balls.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

I am indebted to John E. Galvin of Lima, Ohio for sending me the booklet "Liberty and Taxes" by Bradford B. Smith as published by The Foundation for Economic Education.

Mr. Galvin is very much interested in good government that will help bring about conditions that will permit free enterprise to promote goodwill among mankind and an ever-increasing standard of living.

Mr. Galvin is an elderly man and devotes a good deal of his time to helping others think clearly, as he did in passing on the booklet "Liberty and Taxes" to me.

Mr. Smith is an economist with the United States Steel Corporation. He realizes, as few other people do, that the kind of a tax system we have will largely determine the liberty we have.

Mr. Smith goes into the three concepts of apportioning taxes. Namely, progressive taxation, which means the more you earn the greater the tax percentage; proportional taxation, where everyone pays the same percentage regardless of income; and equal taxation, where everybody pays the same amount in dollars regardless of income.

Since 1913, or for 45 years, we have been using this progressive taxation. We never nationally used the theory that each person should pay the same total amount. Local governments sometimes had a poll tax that made each person pay an equal amount if he desired to vote. That, it seems to me, is about as close as we ever came to having equal taxation.

Prior to the graduated income tax we more nearly had proportional taxation. During that time we never ran up such debts per capita as we have today. If all federal debts and obligations are included, every man, woman and child today owes about $5,000 to the federal government. We of course had for a short time a graduated tax after the Civil War but it was never steeply graduated and was repealed shortly after the war.

Unemployment and Taxation
Mr. Smith introduces his treatise on "Liberty and Taxes" in this manner:

"In 1940 unemployment in the United States averaged more than it did in 1931. Numerous students believe that unemployment had become chronic in America; that it was promoted by the federal tax structure; that its wartime elimination can prove temporary; and that adherence to the type of tax structure developed before and during the war would greatly contribute to the reappearance of chronic unemployment and the undermining of the American individual enterprise system. These are amply sufficient reasons for re-examining the principles of federal taxation.

"Such re-examination is the more imperative because the tax burdens of the future are expected to be greater than the pre-war burdens. Faulty taxes can be endured without too great damage when the tax rates are low; when the tax rates are high bad taxes are destructive. The basic principles of federal taxation may be established either from the viewpoint of the taxation that will least interfere with attaining and maintaining prosperous production, or from the viewpoint of the taxation that is most in accord with the American system of individual liberty and enterprise. Both examinations lead to substantially the same result, but the following comments are from the latter viewpoint.

The Voluntary Society
"The American society is founded on the idea of individual liberty. It is an abnormal society, for most of the social organizations of history are of the authoritarian form in which a ruling class exploits the governed. Most individuals in America think they believe in individual liberty (not so many really do), but few have sought to define it in specific terms. Yet it must be so defined if it is to be related to the principles of taxation. One approach to a specific definition is to note the ultimate means by which people can be compelled to do things against their wishes or inclination. They are not many. First, there is the infliction of physical injury or confinement. Then, there is the taking away of property backed by the threat of physical injury or confinement. Finally, there is defamation. These, or the threat thereof, constitute virtually the entire list of ultimate means by which one person or group may coerce another. If people can be prevented from exerting such coercions against each other, then what remains is liberty within the limits of individual capacity and desire and within the natural resource environment in which a nation may find itself.

"Individual liberty is definable only as the absence of coercion between men. It means not only that no man must initiate physical injury or confinement of another, or take his property or good name, without his consent; but also and most especially it means that no even government must do these things except to punish those who do them to others, provided private property may be taken for public use if just compensation is given in return. Individual liberty is thus obtainable only when government's superior power to coerce is employed only to cancel our fraud, predation, coercion and monopoly abuse between men."

Robert Allen Reports:

Ike's Pentagon Bill Taking New Twist

WASHINGTON — The stormy battle over President Eisenhower's bill to reorganize the Pentagon is taking a new twist.

Foes of this legislation are suspiciously eyeing a "sleeper" amendment that goes much further, in some respects, than the three major provisions the President is demanding.

Under this "sleeper" amendment the Defense Secretary could reorganize military agencies and activities involving two-thirds of the $40 billion Pentagon budget. Sponsored by Representative John McCormack (D., Mass.), this little-known provision was the only one approved by the House. It was "accepted" by Representative Carl Vinson (D., Ga.), potent chairman of the Armed Services Committee, in exchange for bipartisan support against the President's three demands.

Vinson's wily stratagem worked. The House rebuffed the President on: (1) Eliminating the provision requiring the three services to be "separately administered" through their respective Secretaries; (2) authorizing the Defense Secretary to determine the "roles and missions" of the armed forces; and (3) barring the Chiefs of Staff and other military leaders from expressing their views directly to Congress.

Now opponents of these hotly-discussed proposals have "discovered" that Representative McCormack's unmentioned amendment is, in some ways, even more far-reaching. Following is what could be done under it: Reorganization or transfer from one service to another of all functions relating to — procurement, distribution, warehousing and other supply activities; transportation (land, sea and air), medical and hospital care, budgeting, accounting, surplus disposal, intelligence, public relations, legal, recruiting, military police, training and liaison operations. Any of these could be assigned to one particular service to be performed for the others. WHO'S FOR IT — Former President Herbert Hoover, long-time government reorganization champion, strongly favors the McCormack amendment.

In an unannounced talk with President Eisenhower, Hoover urged full Administration support for this provision. Hoover characterized it as the "most important" in the legislation.

That is also the import of a memorandum being circulated by Senator Stuart Symington (D., Mo.), member of the Armed Services Committee and backer of the measure. He stresses that the amendment does not specify any particular type of Pentagon reorganization, but would open the way for adoption of the kind deemed most desirable.

"Effectiveness is to be the key in making the determinations," states the Symington memo, "with economy and efficiency very important but secondary considerations. The language is intended to permit the Secretary of Defense to designate one Department to operate for the benefit of all, such as is now being done by the Army in handling chemical and biological functions for the Department of Defense.

"Under this amendment it might be considered advisable for the Secretary of Defense to have a joint staff represent the Department before regulatory bodies on transportation matters or utility services generally. Such activities as weapons evaluation could be handled as now in the Office of the Secretary of Defense."

FOREIGN FLASHES — Venezuelan newspapers are heatedly denouncing Dominican dictator Trujillo's offer of a decoration to Edgardo Sanabria, member of the junta ruling Venezuela. A leading Caracas newspaper assailed this as "an insult to our country."

The Russian Academy of Sciences is sending a special expedition to a remote area in Siberia to locate a huge meteorite that reportedly fell there 50 years ago. According to Professor Staryukovich, who heads the group of scientists, the "gigantic Tungus meteorite will be sought not where it has been looked for previously, in the center of the shattered and uprooted region, but further on."

Mexico and Argentina have reached a new trade agreement under which they will exchange wool and hides for railroad and other equipment.

THE TRAGEDY OF SOFTNESS TO EVIL

(Christian Economics)

"By lifting their hand against Comrade Stalin, they lifted it against the best humanity possesses. For Stalin is hope; he is the beacon which guides all progressive mankind. Stalin is our banner! Stalin is our will! Stalin is our victory!"

... Nikita Khrushchev

SO spoke Stalin's official mass murderer, in the Ukrainian town of Vinnytsa alone nearly 10,000 corpses were dug up in 1943 from 95 mass graves. These victims of Khrushchev were those Russians who were not prompt enough in their obedience to Stalin. This is only one pin-pointed example of the bloodthirsty tyrant who now rules the Kremlin.

This is the jolly, good-natured, baby-kissing extrovert whom we invited into our living rooms for a half-hour's television entertainment, whom Queen Elizabeth entertained at Buckingham Palace and to whom she introduced her children; who toasted, laughed and joked with our President and other high officials; who so greatly impressed Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt as a friend of her late husband, and with whom so many Americans in public and private life want to have closer relations, understandings, summit conferences and other evidences that he is accepted as a man with whom useful understandings might be reached.

Some people, it seems, are eager to lay their heads on the block in the hope of reaching an understanding with the axe man before the blow falls. If they wish to do that with their own heads, well and good, but they have no right to put the heads of the innocent, honorable and well-meaning people of the free world in such jeopardy. Such strength as Communist Russia possesses today is largely due to the recognition, help and cooperation extended from America. Had wiser counsel been followed, World War II might have ended with the Russians confined to their own borders and the development of communism in Asia forestalled. Our leaders did not choose to do it, and now the fate of the free world swings in the balance.

THE BOAST OF PAT BROWN

(Santa Monica Evening Outlook)

Interviewed in New York City, to which he flew after his victory in California's primary election June 3, Democratic candidate for governor Pat Brown declared exultantly that not only would he be the next governor of California, but that there would never be another Republican governor in this century.

We are glad to have this warning from the Democratic candidate for governor. A few Republicans, notably Assemblyman Harold K. Levering, have been trying to tell us what a Democratic victory this fall would mean: that it would be followed by a 1960 redistricting of the state, which would make it extremely difficult for any Republican to get elected to the Legislature, to Congress, or to any office. But we needed to hear it from the Democratic standard-bearer, that he and his party are supremely confident of imposing perpetual Democratic and union labor rule on the people of California.

However, there are one or two little details which Pat Brown is glossing over. One is that California voters, even in this election, crossed party lines in considerable numbers. Brown got 383,159 Republican votes and Knowland 317,325 Democratic votes. It is possible that a goodly percentage of the 383,159 Republicans who voted for Brown may switch over when they realize what his election would mean to the state.

It would mean, according to Mr. Brown, complete Democratic control of California for the rest of this century. It would mean that the labor bosses would largely dictate the government of California and the election of all our candidates, the national, state and local. Those bosses are not in favor of any reforms in organized labor, any such nonsense as free democratic elections by rank and file union members, or of opening their books to public view. It was their money and their organizations which got out the big Democratic vote for Brown and other party candidates June 3. It was the union bosses who told Attorney General Brown to make the ballot description of the right-to-work measure as misleading as possible for the voters, and he hastened to do their bidding. He will be their man if elected governor, just as "Soapy" Williams is Walter Reuther's puppet in the governor's office in Michigan, a state which certainly has not prospered since the CIO took it over.

Let the Republicans who voted for Pat Brown wake up and understand the meaning of his gloating prediction.

THE STATES GET IT AGAIN

(California Feature Service)

The United States Supreme Court's recent decision overruling California courts and upholding the 160-acre limitation, was far more than just a settlement of what might be called a jurisdictional dispute between this state and the federal government. It was another of the court's disturbing attacks on states' rights. The 160-acre limitation was an early-century provision designed to help the struggling small ranchers and farmers who were building the mighty economic empire — now have in the western states:

The Doctor Says

Rheumatoid arthritis (sometimes called chronic infectious arthritis or atrophic arthritis) is a serious condition of the joints. The cause is not known and its treatment is still far from satisfactory. Fortunately an increasing amount of research is being conducted on it.

Rest is always desirable, both for the joints which are affected and for the body as a whole. Simple remedies to relieve pain, providing they are not habit forming, are also helpful. Aspirin is still a tried and true remedy.

Many victims of rheumatoid arthritis have a tendency to anemia so that they may need iron preparation or, occasionally, blood transfusions.

The diet for patients with rheumatoid arthritis, especially during the early stages, should contain enough nutrient material and should be high in vitamins. But there is little evidence that any single diet has a direct influence on the joint inflammation.

Some people seem to benefit by a change in climate—a warm, dry climate being the most popular. This also is by no means a sure cure.

Doctors have used treatment with foreign protein injections. These substances, usually induce a kind of reaction which seems to stimulate the resistance. But this treatment is used less frequently now than in the past. Preparations containing gold, given by injection, have been widely employed in this country and abroad. When used during the early stages this seems to have brought about good results in many cases. But it must be employed with caution.

Nearly everyone is now familiar with the use of cortisone and ACTH in rheumatoid arthritis. These substances often bring sudden and dramatic relief of symptoms. Unfortunately, however, the good results usually do not last long and undesirable side-effects are frequent. Consequently the search goes on for better methods.

Prolonged conservative treatment has great value. The comparatively simple methods available often bring good results. Several special mechanical devices have proved useful. And it is important to remember that most victims of rheumatoid arthritis will never become so disabled as to be bedridden or to require a wheelchair.

Its inflexible application to an empire built and flourishing—such as California's great agricultural industry—ignores the economic as well as the political realities.

Worse than that, the court's ruling will have repercussions in fields far removed from federal water regulations. A good many respected legal authorities in the state have interpreted the decision as setting a further precedent for federal usurpation of state prerogatives whenever federal funds are involved. This involves highways, school aid, public health programs, and other such projects, they say. Harry W. Horton, counsel for the Imperial Valley Water District, who opposed the 160-acre limit, put it this way:

"There is no limit now to federal control, and there is not much left of the Constitution as far as states' rights are concerned.

Let all who think that federal aid is really something for nothing ponder this. When government pays the bill, government takes delivery."

LEADERS LOSING FOLLOWERS?

(New York Daily News)

Rep. Charles E. Chamberlain (R., Mich.) comes from a district where 71,000 automobile workers—90 per cent of them United Auto Workers Union members—live and vote. He recently polled these people on how they feel about Walter P. Reuther's current wrestling matches with Chrysler, Ford, and General Motors.

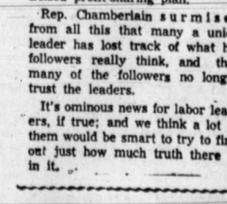

Out of 3,500 workers, replying up to now, 82 per cent are for holding down wages and prices insofar as possible, and 77 per cent favor renewal of the recently expired work contracts without a wage boost. Only 11 per cent favor wage increases, and only 25 per cent like Reuther's much publicized profit-sharing plan.

Rep. Chamberlain's surmises from all this that many a union leader has lost track of what his followers really think, and that many of the followers no longer trust the leaders.

It's ominous news for labor leaders, if true; and we think a lot of them would be smart to try to find out just how much truth there is in it.

New, Short Summer Hair Styles Help Milady Look Cool As Summer Breeze

By ALICIA HART
Every summer short hair styles are as inevitable as grass and green trees. Comfort, and a fighting chance to be well-groomed in spite of the humidity, demand that tresses be short and easily manageable.

This season, though, fashion, as well as the heat, is an added incentive. The chemise dress, with its shortened hemline, and the new styles gives a woman the look of a top-heavy mushroom.

As a result of the new fashions, it is predicted that women from coast to coast will soon be wearing their hair cropped to a brief three inches, or even less, over the entire head. Professional cutting, preferably razor tapering, is recommended. So hasten to your hairdresser, gala. There's no point in looking like last summer's roses.

There's attractive variety in the new short cuts. You can have sleek, simply waved cap coifs, and a number of curly, tumbled and tossed styles.

Two that will undoubtedly be favorites are the ripple cut and the tumbled. In the ripple cut, the hair is shorn to a two and one-half-inch length all over, then curled in a rippling movement, upward from the back of the neck to the forehead.

The tumbled is a more sophisticated style, with a lovely arrangement of brushed curls, soft and tousled, that fall forward onto the temples and cheeks.

The new short hair styles are versatile, to, according to the stylists at Coiffures Americanas. They say you can have so many different looks from just one basic short haircut that you'll be all set for sport or casual daytime wear, or an elegant, formal evening.

Nothing can more easily turn a pleasantly anticipated summer vacation into a nightmare than the inability to cope with long hair after a swimming or tennis session. You're driven to the verge of tears as you view long, damp

"Actual Experience

WITH MY
ELECTRIC HOME FREEZER
PROVES WHAT I USED TO HEAR THE HOME SERVICE ADVISORS SAY!"

says MRS. ROBERT J. ELSEY,
4213 ONG • AMARILLO, TEXAS

"I was a secretary at the Public Service Company and I used to overhear the Home Service Advisors tell about electric home freezers — how they saved money — how you could get better meals — how you could preserve the garden-freshness of vegetables — how a freezer could save a housewife lots of time. What they said made sense to me but the words just can't equal the actual experiences of owning your own home freezer. I find that everything those girls say is true — especially do I find the freezer ideal for entertaining," says Mrs. Elsey.

Ham Fondue Adds Meal Versatility

There's often a bit of let down in planning Sunday night suppers after the bid dinner of the day. Sometimes we have just left-overs from dinner. But it is more fun when we have a light meal completely different from the earlier main dinner and save the left-overs for "dressing up" on the next day's menu. That's when our American Ham Fondue comes in for special favor.

AMERICAN HAM FONDUE
(Makes about 4 servings)
1 cup water
1-3 cup instant Starlac nonfat dry milk powder
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
3/4 teaspoon dry mustard
1 (4 1/2 oz.) can deviled ham
1 cup (3/4-inch) cubes day old bread
3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
3 egg whites

Pour water into top of double boiler. Sprinkle instant Starlac nonfat dry milk powder, flour, salt and dry mustard over surface of water; beat with rotary beater until blended. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens (about 8 to 10 minutes). Blend in deviled ham; add bread cubes. Continue to cook, stirring constantly, until heated throughout (about 5 minutes). Remove from heat; cool slightly. Stir a small amount into egg yolks, then blend egg yolks into remaining hot mixture. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Carefully fold into Starlac-ham mixture. Pour into greased 1 1/2 quart casserole. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) about 45 to 50 minutes or until puffy and golden brown. Serve immediately.

Dixie Dinner Is South's Favorite

Two Southern favorites, rice and corn make this casserole a dinner favorite. Garden ripe red tomato wedges are arranged over the top with strips of bologna or your favorite lunch meat. A sprinkling of cheese adds a golden glow over the top.

INGREDIENTS:
1 1-3 cups water
1 teaspoon salt
2-3 cup uncooked white rice
1 1/2 cups cooked corn or a 12 oz. can golden sweet corn
1/4 teaspoon chili powder
1/4 teaspoon black pepper
1 cup grated American cheese
1-3 cup water
1 10 1/2 oz. can condensed cream of celery soup
6 slices (1/2 lb.) bologna or pickle pimiento loaf
2 ripe tomatoes, cut into wedges

METHOD: Put the water, salt and rice in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat down low. Cover with a lid. Simmer 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but leave the lid on 10 minutes.

While the rice cooks, spread the corn over a shallow glass baking dish holding about 6 cups. Add chili powder. Stir the pepper and half the cheese into the rice. Spread the rice over the corn. Mix the 1-3 cup water and the soup. Pour over the rice. Cut the bologna into strips. Arrange over the top along with the tomato wedges. Sprinkle with the rest of the cheese.

Cover well. Store in the refrigerator until mealtime. Allow dish to come to room temperature. Bake at 350 degree F. about 30 minutes or until hot through and the cheese begins to brown. This recipe makes 6 servings.

Egyptian Motif For Final KKK Party

To continue with the summer rush theme, "The Kit Kat Kruike," Egypt was the country highlighted at the fifth and final rush party of the Kit Kat Klub on Tuesday evening in the Pampa Country Club.

The figure of an Egyptian Queen banked with glitter balloons was placed at the head of the club pool with clusters of balloons paced at intervals around the grounds.

Following the swimming party, the group of rushees and members went to the home of Miss Kay Kolasha, west of the city, for a slumber party. Glitter clouds and stars were suspended in the trees about the yard. Rushees were presented with an Egyptian Dancer nametag printed on it and a miniature pillow.

A buffet supper was served to approximately 50 rushees and members.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Teal, Mrs. Charles Gilson, Mrs. Russell Cartwright, and the sponsors, Miss Jean Chisholm and Mrs. Betty Brown were special guests.

New Carbon Plant Planned For Sonora

AMARILLO — Pioneer Gathering System, Inc., Amarillo, has announced plans to construct a carbon dioxide removal plant near Sonora, Texas. The announcement was made by Burton P. Smith, President of Pioneer Gathering.
To be built on a tract 20 miles northwest of Sonora, the plant will remove carbon dioxide and hydrogen sulfide gases from natural gas sold to Permian Basin Pipeline Company. Located on Pioneer Gathering's main transmission line, the plant will process natural gas from the Clayton Range, Addie and Inegaron gas fields.
The plant will have the capacity to process approximately 12,000,000 cubic feet of sour gas per day, and will be built on a 20-acre plot in Section 4, Blk. "D", G. C. & S.F. Survey in Schleicher County, Texas.
In connection with the plant, a dehydration plant will also be built at this location. The removal plant and the dehydration plant will both be designed for automatic operation. For power drives, natural gas engines will be used throughout the plant.
Design and construction contract have been let to Baird & Company of Tulsa, Oklahoma, and work on the plant will begin around August 15. The plant is expected to be in operation on or about December 1.

Americans Held, Top Week's News

Foreign News Commentary
By CHARLES M. MCCANN
UPI Foreign News Analyst
The week's good and bad news, on the international balance sheet:
The holding of American captives, military and civilian, in three countries featured the news this week.
The ugly details of a Soviet Russian attack on an unarmed United States transport plane roused official and public American anger.
The plane, on a flight from Turkey to Iran, was driven across the border of Soviet Armenia in a storm on June 27 with its nine-man Air Force crew.
Russian Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, protesting against an alleged invasion of Soviet territory, told the State Department the plane was forced down.
The fliers were released Monday and flown to their home base at Wiesbaden, Germany.
One Airman Burned
They disclosed that Russian jet fighters attacked them. Their plane was set afire. Five men were able to parachute from it. The remaining four rode it down. While they were trying to land the flaming plane, the jets attacked again.
Gromyko had said that all the men were in good health. Actually, it developed, one suffered serious burns.
It was disclosed also that Armenian civilians beat the five parachutists and nearly lynched one of them. But there was an odd twist to this incident. As soon as the fliers were able to identify themselves as Americans, the attack stopped. Apparently the Armenians thought the fliers were Turkish—or Russian.
The State Department accused the Russian jets of making an "inhuman" attack on an unarmed plane. It accused Gromyko of lying in his statement that the men were in good health.
Americans Released
The State Department continued a long series of protests to Russia against the detention by the East German Communists of nine Army men who strayed in a fog-bound helicopter into Red territory from West Germany.
In flagrant violation of agreements, the Russians insist that the United States deal direct with the East German puppet regime for the Americans' release. In doing so, the Russians are trying to force the United States to recognize the puppet regime as sovereign.
By trickles, the rebels under Fidel Castro in eastern most Cuba released Americans and Canadians—50 in all—whom they had seized as hostages.
All 17 American civilians and two of three Canadian civilians were freed, finally.
Negotiations continued for the release of 30 American Marines and Navy men and one Canadian civilian still held.
There are fewer men than women in the United States.

"THIS HAPPY FEELING"

Debbie Reynolds and John Saxon reach a romantic impasse in this scene from Universal International's Color CinemaScope film, "This Happy Feeling," which opens at the LaNora Theatre here today for a four day run. The spicy story of the same author who gave us, "The Moon is Blue," also co-stars Alexis Smith, Mary Astor and the Continental favorite, Curt Jurgens.

Marilyn Oversleeps And Keeps Press From Wehrner

By HAZEL K. JOHNSON
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — It was practically anti-American the way Marilyn cut Wehrner dead at the airport the other morning.
It was unintentional, no doubt. How could La Monroe be expected to know that while she wiggled in her clothes at International Airport, Von Braun was sprinkling water on his orchid leis just one airplane ramp away.
But to make it worse she kept the press with her and away from Von Braun the better part of an hour.
("What's taking her so long to dress?" one bystander wanted to know. "What's she doing, putting those fake eyelashes on one at a time?")
The near international incident took place at 7 a.m., the arrival time of Miss Monroe's flight here from New York. Marilyn's arrival time was closer to 8 a.m., however. She'd overslept.
Back to Work
("Do you suppose she realizes she's got a 3 million dollar dressing room?" The TWA cleaner boy turned. "Let's get this show on the road. I gotta go to work on that plane!")
Von Braun, meanwhile, was gracious about it. His plane got in at 7:45 a.m. from Honolulu. And he didn't appear a bit upset that there was less than a handful of press to record his arrival.
He did steal a little thunder, however.
Looking tan and rested, the tall, handsome student cut quite a figure in his tux "Aloha" shirt and ropes of sweet-smelling flowers.
The platinum-tressed Marilyn, conversely, looked almost pale dressed in her skin-tight white silk skirt and matching blouse.
("I don't know why it took her an hour," one observant woman in the crowd grumbled when the movie queen naked her way down the ramp. "She isn't even wearing a girdle!")
Miss Monroe, back in Hollywood for the first time in two years, did not comment on either her tardiness (a trade-mark) or her undergarments.
Not Organic
She did say that she doesn't approve of those high-fashion, bouffant skirts. They aren't organic," was the way she put it. And she acknowledged she had lightened her yellow tresses for her next movie, "Some Like It Hot."
Von Braun, on the other hand, was concerned with Washington's red tape.
"Our two greatest problems are gravity and paperwork," the director of the Army's Ballistic Missile Agency at the Redstone Arsenal said. Sometimes the paperwork is overwhelming.
Von Braun was here to meet with officials of several jet manufacturing companies.
Marilyn came "home" a month early for less scientific—but just as weighty—reasons.
She has to learn to play the ukulele by Aug. 4 for the movie.

Chamber Issues Information To Oil Companies

(Special to The News)
PERRYTON — A booklet inviting oil firms and service business to investigate the facilities for commerce and industry in Perryton will be distributed by the Ochiltree County Chamber of Commerce, starting this week.
Distribution will be made to drilling firms, oil producers, oil-field supply companies and other service businesses and companies considering locating in Perryton.
The booklet covers companies connected with the oil and gas industry in Perryton, retail and wholesale sales, general and civic information, education facilities, agriculture statistics, tax rates, property valuations, bank deposits, postal receipts, automobile registrations and utility rates.
Sufficient information is provided to give a prospective business firm a basis for deciding if a move would be feasible. Firms would be able to determine what facilities are available, approximate operating costs, and what recreational and educational facilities available for employees' families.
The booklet was prepared by Travis Baker, president of the Ochiltree County Chamber, and Harold Hudson, chairman of the industrial contact committee.

IT'S THATAWAY!—Arrow on sign post points way to the longest place name in New Zealand. If you're ever driving your car along this road and you wonder what town you're coming to, it's "The hill where the great husband of heaven, 'Tane,' caused plaintive music from his flute to ascend to his beloved."

HIS HAT'S IN—Multimillionaire Nelson Rockefeller has announced he will seek the Republican nomination for Governor of New York. If successful, he would be pitted this fall against another multimillionaire, Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman. Rockefeller, 49, has never run for political office, but has held high appointive posts under the last three presidents.

VERSATILE VOICE—Gloria Wood, who once dubbed the movie singing voice of Marilyn Monroe, has done some 2,500 singing commercials in her time. "A soap ad cartoon heroine has to have all of the omph of Marilyn," says Gloria. She's the voice, too, for "Minnie Mouse" and also makes recordings.
