Navy Vessels To Evacuate Americans

No Additional Ships To Be Sent To Trouble Zone

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 1. (AP)—Summer White House officials said today the United States government would rely on existing naval vessels in the Far East to evacuate Americans still in danger zones.

"Whole Problem" Talked The announcement was made following a conference between President Roosevelt and Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of naval operations, at the Roosevelt home. Officials said the president and the high naval official went over the "whole problem" in the Sino-Japanese situation. They added there was no need for additional naval vessels at Shanghai and vicinity.

Since the closing of the Port of Shanghai to American merchant ships, following the bombing of the Dollar liner, the President Hoover, "consideration" had been given to augmenting the naval flotilla there to take the several thousand refugees still in the area.

The Roosevelt-Leahy conference preceded a long luncheon party between the president and Robert W. Bingham, ambassador to London. Bingham yesterday discussed the Far Eastern and European situations with Secretary Hull.

Merchant Ships May Return To Area Soon

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1. (AP)—Secretary Roper, said "tension has been relieved" in the Shanghai area, predicted today that American merchant vessels would be "given access to Chinese waters." Discussing navy orders to American merchant vessels to stay out of the war-torn Shanghai area, Roper told his press conference that orders had been issued withdrawing American passenger and cargo vessels from Chinese waters. He added that after the bombing of the S. S. President Hoover, the navy had stated "that merchant vessels should not enter Chinese waters under the conditions then existing."

"However," Roper added, "tension has been relieved and it is my opinion that merchant vessels will be given access" to Chinese waters. Roper declined to say when American cargo and passenger ships might be permitted to go freely into China waters again. It was expected, however, it would be soon.

Lost In Lake After Crash

Pilot Swims Ashore, But Passenger Still Is Missing

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 1. (AP)—Spurred by reports of a reserve army pilot who swam ashore after his ship plunged into the Great Salt Lake at sundown last night, men on land, water and in the air searched today for Henry Pearson, army mechanic, passenger in the plane who is missing.

Lt. Lucian Powell, who swam today to shore, told his commanding officer, Capt. D. W. Goodrich, that Pearson escaped being plunged under water in the crash and that the mechanic had elected to remain aboard the plane.

That Pearson was swimming shoreward was borne out when Powell said he had not seen searching planes during his eight-hour swim. Lt. J. J. Thompson, who sighted the wrecked craft, saw a man swimming away from it. Goodrich was certain the man was Pearson.

Powell, naked and thickly caked with salt, reached shore at 1 a. m. He hitch-hiked a ride to a highway checking station from where he was brought to army flying headquarters at Salt Lake City airport.

Aside from fatigue and a few bruises, Powell was uninjured. He said the crash occurred when the motor quit and he didn't have sufficient altitude to glide to land.

Powell was returning from Wendover, Neb., on a flight with two other army reserve planes.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING

BRADY, Sept. 1. (AP)—Funeral services will be held here today for Charline McNeely, 15, killed by lightning near her home at Doodle yesterday.

Her father, I. B. McNeely, a McCulloch county farmer, and a sister of the girl were knocked unconscious by the bolt, but were reported recovering.

The trio had been working in a field and had started home when the lightning struck.

Elementary School System Here Revised; Junior High Becomes Central Ward

In what may have been a turning point educationally for Big Spring schools and a crucial one financially, the board of trustees of the Big Spring school district Tuesday evening approved reorganization of the elementary schools and studied a proposed budget for 1938.

Abolished was junior high school and revived in its stead was central ward school as the board sanctioned the revision of elementary schools on a six grade basis. The designation of central (junior high) as a ward school will necessitate the redistricting of the city, but the move is believed to be the means by which crowded conditions in south and west wards can be relieved.

The seventh grades will be housed in the basement of the senior high school unit. West ward will have two sections of the six grades, East ward one section of each as will North ward, and South ward, which will have two second grades. Central ward will have two sections of each grade.

The board, after receiving copies of the proposed budget, voted to release it to the public and set date for the public hearing for the evening of Sept. 8. The budget calls for sharp savings in instructional costs and in other departments, partly by reason of curtailment of the instructional staff by two in order to avoid cutting already low teacher salaries.

Taking a step to further smooth the financial waters, the board authorized the floating of a $11,890.66 loan to be amortized over a period of 10 years. In the loan are included outstanding debts of $4,900 on the stadium, $3,077 on paving, and $2,335 on land in the Birdwell purchase.

A 70 per cent for local maintenance and 30 per cent for interest and sinking fund ratio was set up for the tax rate of $1 for the year. Discounts of three per cent for payment of current taxes in October, two per cent in November and one per cent in December, was allowed again.

Edmund Nofestine, business manager, informed the board that the discounts had accounted for early payment of approximately half the roll since 1934.

In the only other financial matter before the board Tuesday, the State National bank was designated as depository for the next two years.

Miss Audria Phillips was given a leave of absence this year in order to complete requirements for her degree and Davis Fischer was named to replace her. Miss Mary Nell McClendon and Miss Joy Fender were added to the teaching staff, Superintendent W. C. Blankenbush said they were the tenth replacements this year.

George Gentry, high school principal, explained the new curriculum planned for the high school under the provisions included with designation of Big Spring as one of five exploratory high schools in Texas for this year. The program, he said, was designed to teach children and not subjects, to reach the 90 per cent who never get to college. The proposed plan, to be instituted gradually on a limited scale, drew commendation from the board.

Faced with the possibility that the PWA grant for construction of a high school and gymnasium building here may not be used for any other purpose, the board instructed its business manager and superintendent to follow up in an attempt to secure PWA funds for repair work to the high school building. There were reasons to believe that such funds would have to be sought in a new application.

Grover Dunham, whose resignation from the board was "accepted" at the conclusion of the meeting, declared that he hoped that the board would "adopt a program and stay with it this year. I believe the success of the school is dependent upon this year's work. While I am leaving the board, I am not quitting."

Dunham will become a member of the city commission, effective Wednesday.

Shanghai, Sept. 1. (AP)—A terrifying series of great new fires roared in Shanghai tonight, kindled by the naval guns and aerial bombs of Japan's big offensive against all of China.

Chinese Fight Stubbornly The blaze, one in the Szechow creek area facing the American-defended sector of the international settlement, formed a magnificent and awful background for the military drama.

Twenty-one Japanese destroyers and cruisers pumped shells into the Chapel and Kiangwan sectors of Shanghai's north end. Japanese warplanes rained bombs on Chinese positions.

Woozung already was in Japanese hands. But the hard-pressed Chinese were fighting on with un-matched courage and tenacity, holding firmly to many important positions.

The Shanghai curtain raiser to the Japanese offensive which is to extend all over China found American and British naval commanders considering the possibility of uniting their protective strength to force a way to the sea for their refugees.

That consideration was the result of Japanese naval warnings to all shipping to steer clear of Japanese concentrations crisscrossing both the Whangpoo and the Yangtze.

Mills Destroyed Shellfire demolished the American-mortgaged Wing On company cotton mills at Woozung. The mills had been flying the United States flag.

The German supported Tungchi university was razed in the bombardment.

Woozung suburbs were occupied by Nippon warriors after hand-to-hand fighting.

Thus Japan gained revenge for her early defeats at Woozung in 1932 but only at heavy sacrifice.

Budget Outgo For Schools Is Reduced

Refunding Operations Plan To Bring Figures In Balance

Proposed budget for the Big Spring independent school district for the year 1937-38 will call for expenditures of $1,997,733 against estimated receipts of $1,610,210, a copy of the document, which will be discussed at a public hearing Sept. 8, showed Wednesday.

The slight discrepancy between anticipated revenues and disbursements will be more than adjusted by refunding of obligations included under capital outlay.

Total outgo of the budget for the school's new fiscal year represents a great saving over the $1,790,645 estimated as expended for operation of the schools here this year.

Revenue Gain Estimated Actual receipts this year have amounted to $1,564,824, or little less than $4,000 under what is estimated for next year. The gain in estimated revenue is shown in money due from the state available fund, or scholastic apportionment.

Last year it amounted to $54,755 and it is estimated that during the ensuing year it will reach $39,532.

Other revenue outlays are $13,000 calculated for the interest and sinking fund from delinquent taxes and $83,750 in current taxes. Cost of operation of the school system is divided thusly: General control, $103,835; instructional service, $36,349 plus $1,195 for colored schools; operation of plants, $3,231; maintenance of plants, $1,859; auxiliary agencies, $1,150; fixed charges (insurance), $2,002; capital outlay, $5,077; and debt service, $33,576.

The general control item includes $5,450 for educational administration, $1,850 for business administration, and $2,900 for assessing and collecting of taxes.

Instructional service, largely teachers salaries, includes the following pay to instructors: elementary, $51,915, about $2,000 less than this year; and high school, $37,109, less than a thousand more than this year.

Plant operation involves expenditures of $4,800 in salaries for janitors and engineers, etc. The auxiliary agencies include such items as $1,000 for library, $50 for health inspector and supplies, and $100 miscellaneous.

Capital outlay's principal item is $2,461 for athletic equipment, about $500 under the amount spent for the same item this year.

Under debt service is embraced a $10,000 obligation on short time loans plus a $800 interest obligation, $15,726 interest on outstanding bonded indebtedness, and $7,000 redemption of serial bonds.

Copies of the proposed budget are available for study by any citizen at the office of the superintendent of schools at the high school.

The finals will be tomorrow. The games are played under the supervision of the Amateur Athletic Union and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

ENDORSE AMERICA'S PEACE EFFORTS

SINAI, Rumania, Sept. 1. (AP)—Collaboration with the United States "politically and economically" in the interest of world peace was endorsed today by the late emperor of Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia and Rumania.

The permanent council of the three nations' foreign ministers ended its two-day summer conference yesterday and sat in a communique that U. S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull's recent statements urging international cooperation were "received with sympathy."

SECOND TRIAL SET

MARSHALL, Tex., Sept. 1. (AP)—Judge W. H. Strength, 71st district court, said today that the second trial of Charles Wair, 33, Longview oil man, charged with criminal assault on a girl, had been set for Sept. 9.

Wair, who is under $7,500 bond, won a reversal after the death penalty had been assessed at the first trial.

Thus Japan gained revenge for her early defeats at Woozung in 1932 but only at heavy sacrifice.

For the first time Japanese artillery reinforcements moved into the international settlement. Four-inch and six-inch guns, mounted on caterpillar tractors, rumbled into Xangzeppoo, a part of the settlement.

Japanese unloaded tons of war supplies from three steamers.

Additional Japanese troops landed at Wayside wharf in Shanghai.

Eight Japanese ships heavily laden with troops and supplies arrived at Woozung from Japan.

In the Lotten sector 12 miles northwest of Shanghai, Chinese regulars held their own against Japanese attacks.

The Anglo-British authorities discussed a convoy plan to force an open and safe path down the Yangtze and Whangpoo rivers—both choked with Japanese warships—after Japan had warned all foreign shipping to steer clear of her naval concentrations.

With the international city hemmed in by fighting, the Yangtze and Whangpoo are the foreigners' only hope of escape.

Japanese threatened meanwhile to accelerate spread of the undeclared war, steadily engulfing all of China. Japanese naval commanders said they were prepared to launch air raids against all Chinese airfields and military bases.

Yesterday, Japanese planes bombed such bases in the far south, around Canton.

Budget Outgo Over 100 Planes Hunt For Missing Cadet

Wide East Texas Area Combed In Aerial Search

SHREVEPORT, La., Sept. 1. (AP)—Fire ruins and a metal object thought to be an airplane wheel were sighted by army air searchers today in a clump of woods near Neches, Texas, attracting to that point air and ground parties looking for Cadet Guy W. Edgerton, of Kenly, S. C., missing for two days.

GRAPELAND, Tex., Sept. 1. (AP)—Army airplanes—more than a hundred of them—crisscrossed East and Central Texas today in Texas' greatest aerial search.

Their goal was to learn the fate of Cadet Guy W. Edgerton, of Kenly, N. C., who became lost two days ago while flying with 12 other planes from Barkdale field, Shreveport, La., to Kelly field, San Antonio, Tex.

A thunderstorm over this section caused the planes to break formation, and seek a haven in widely scattered places in East and South Texas.

Yesterday 72 planes from Kelly and Barkdale fields scanned hundreds of miles of territory without finding a trace of the missing flier. Likewise, land parties, including 300 CCC enrollees, trudged through piney forests and over rugged terrain without results.

More Planes Today 48 planes from Kelly field, from Randolph field, also located at San Antonio, and 41 from Barkdale field continued the search, interrupted only somewhat by heavy weather over part of the area searched.

Determined that every bit of the territory between Shreveport and San Antonio where the airman might possibly have been forced down should be searched, the army air corps laid out a systematic plan for their aerial hunt, assigning to flights from each field a definite section to be covered.

To the Kelly field planes was assigned the area bounded by San Antonio, Crockett, Hemphill, East Arthur, Corpus Christi and back to San Antonio. The Randolph squadron was assigned the area

PENSIONS, PAY HIKES URGED BY POST OFFICE WORKERS

FORT WORTH, Sept. 1. (AP)—Passage of resolutions urging congress to enact laws providing widows' pensions, a longevity plan of salary increases and extension of the civil service was recommended by the resolutions committee at the convention of the United National Association of Post Office Clerks here today.

The longevity plan calls for a $100 salary increase each five years after 10 years of service. The pension law would provide the widow or other designated dependents of a postal employee with 75 per cent of any pension to which the employee was entitled at the time of his death.

The proposed resolution on civil service calls for its extension to all whose tenure of office seems "permanent."

Employment Offices Are Moved

Agency Busy Placing Workers, Obtains Larger Quarters

Local offices of the National Employment Service have been transferred from the old federated clubhouse at 311 Scurry street to upstairs at 105 1-2 E. 2nd street, effective Wednesday.

Plans are afoot to have the office designated as a unit of the Texas State Employment Service soon. The state service is in turn affiliated with the United States Employment Service.

Cause of the move was attributed by Charles F. Carroll to the increased activity of the office which necessitated more spacious and convenient quarters. The local office, in charge of Carroll, is staffed by four trained employees and serves Borden, Dawson, Gaines

Garza, Lynn, Martin, Terry and Younkum counties in addition to Big Spring and Howard county.

Over 2,000 Placed

That the local public is taking advantage of the free employment service, employers and unemployed alike, is attested by the placing in private employment in Howard county and vicinity of 2,174 workers in May, June and July of this year. During the three months a total of 1,883 applications were received by the office.

Active file of the office consists of 1,924 applications. Listed are applicants from practically every walk of life and representing occupations from bookkeeping to bricklaying, cabinet making to typing, cooks to engineers, housekeepers to laborers, maids to mechanics, salesmen to yard workers, and any other skilled or unskilled types of work required by agriculture or industry.

Applicants are referred to employers who call upon the office strictly upon their qualifications for the job in question. This is made possible by classification of applications according to occupations, experience, abilities, educational background, etc., information gained from interviews with trained staff members.

Local Policy

Employers' requests for workers are kept confidential, said Carroll and only selected applicants are referred, thereby eliminating waste in time and money by employers in interviewing large numbers of applicants. It is the policy of the Public Employment office to always fill local jobs from local sources. However, when an order is received that cannot be supplied locally, files from the adjacent counties or districts are consulted.

Carroll suggested that when employers find it necessary to release workers that they suggest to the worker that he register with the local employment office. This, he believes, will help the released worker to more quickly adjust himself and easier for him to be re-hired.

"Since your local public employment office is a community enterprise," said Carroll, "and since this is a service without charge to both employers and employees, employers are urged to use the facilities of this service in filling their personnel needs. The service does not enter into the wages to be paid by the employer to employes. The new office location is being completely renovated and new partitions installed to insure privacy to constituents."

Improvement In Library At School

Complete Shelf List Of Students' Use This Year

The Big Spring high school library will be open to fall students equipped with a complete shelf list, an improvement made this summer.

This is the first time in its history that the library has had a complete list, and because of this improvement, any volume desired by a student may be found with little effort or interference.

Through the supervision of Mrs. Inez Ragdale and Mrs. Cora D. Cole, WPA workers, the library has been opened to all summer students. Another improvement made by the workers this summer was repairing of 200 volumes.

Miss Nancy Enid Avriett is chief librarian and is assisted by five workers. It is desired to add 1,000 volumes this year to the already 4,160 volumes. Of the number, 1,037 are fiction, the remainder are volumes of reference work. The library was organized three years ago beginning with a small room about 12x30 feet and has been enlarged to a room of some four times that size, along with the first small room, which is now used for strictly reserve work and general faculty library.

All volumes are classified by Dewey decimal system, a system which is favored in all leading libraries. There is a newspaper rack, on which editions of five leading newspapers are placed daily. The student is allowed to check out any one of the papers for use that day. The library has subscriptions to 22 magazines and sometimes issues are kept dating as far as 10 months back.

The books for reference are of greater importance, and, states Mrs. Ragdale, material on any subject a student could possibly have use of may be found in the library. It is the aim of the library to keep up with the growth of the world as much as is humanly possible.

Reference volumes are divided into the following classification: general works, history, religion, sociology, filology, natural science, useful arts, literature, history, geography, and travels, ancient history and modern history.

The room for study and reference is equipped with a radio, and news broadcasts are heard twice daily. Other select programs of the air are heard by the students.

What To Do--

If You Get Lost In A Forest

1. Send out an SOS—three signals in quick succession repeated at regular intervals. You can do this by:
  - A. Blowing a whistle. If you haven't one with you use your lips.
  - B. Sending up smoke signals, if there's no danger of a forest fire, regulated by a blanket or coat.
  - C. Using a mirror to flash sun signals.
2. Building three small fires in a row, if it's night, or...
3. Turning a light on and off three times in succession.

By the AP Feature Service

The national forest service approves all these methods—but is trying to make whistling the standard call for help. It urges persons to carry a whistle when they go into the woods. The whistle is light to carry, far more penetrating and less exhausting than vocal calls.

The insistent regularity of the signals, no matter how given, will distinguish them from casual calls, says the forest service. But they must not be used except where help is absolutely required. For anyone hearing them is morally obligated to either go himself or send aid. The person lost is expected to stand the cost of rescue.

When a person hears the SOS he should acknowledge it with the

Oil Situation More Stable

Crude Output Due For Reduction Under September Allowables

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 1 (AP)—Despite a peak in crude oil production, petroleum industry leaders expressed a feeling of stability today not apparent a week ago.

Crude output of August, clocked by the sixth new peak in as many weeks, 3,831,540 barrels daily computed by the American Petroleum Institute as of Aug. 28, was due for a reduction, at least in the mid-continent, starting today.

September allowables set in Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas, indicated a reduction of about 147,650 barrels daily.

This, it was agreed here, was a corrective influence as the industry went into a period of declining demand.

Most executives here were in partial agreement with Ernest O. Thompson of Texas, chairman of the Interstate oil compact commission, who held the industry had not overproduced during the summer and was entering the fall "under control."

There was sentiment for still more reduction of crude output and raising existing lease-stocks should get out of hand.

However, a good fall business was indicated and an A. F. T. survey predicted a big increase in winter motor travel, increased crop and a trend toward greater year-round use of motor cars.

Development of unusual demand for fuel oils for domestic and commercial use, while it produced a gratifying market for those products, brought up another problem.

It was feared a great run of crude to stills through the winter to supply requirements for heating oil would mean manufacture of much gasoline when not needed.

NEW BUILDING IS READY FOR GARDEN CITY SCHOOL TERM

GARDEN CITY, Sept. 1—Glasscock county schools will begin their 1937-38 school term Monday, better equipped to handle the increasing scholastic load by virtue of a new $48,000 high school unit at Garden City.

N. P. Taylor, superintendent, said that the new structure would not be completed by opening time, but that the west wing of the structure would be put to use.

The Garden City schools, hub of the county school system, will have a faculty of 13 people. One teacher will be stationed at the Sandwells and Line schools.

Expansion

Expansion has been the keynote of the school program at Garden City for the past few years. In beginning his third year as superintendent, Taylor can look back on the addition of 24 affiliated units, band and book keeping to the curriculum. The teaching staff has been increased from seven to 13 in Garden City and the number of students has grown from approximately 91 to 260.

This year the elementary school will be housed in the original eight-classroom brick building, in which is located the auditorium. High school students will move into the new structure which has three classrooms, a combined study hall and library, vocational agriculture room, home economics laboratory, science room, band room and one extra room. It is of brick construction with terrazo floors and corridors and can accommodate a maximum of 200 students.

New Unit

This year the curriculum will be broadened by the addition of one unit, first year Spanish. It is the first foreign language course to be offered by the school.

Adult Classes Here To Be Organized

Commercial Training Will Be Offered For Third Year

Preliminary work toward organizing commercial classes for adults underway, it was announced Wednesday by Mrs. W. O. Low, director of the work who has announced that all interested in adult training are requested to contact her.

Entering the third year here, the commercial training for adults is a joint undertaking of the local school system, the state department and the federal government. The work has proved highly popular in the past two years.

Classes will be held four days each week, from 4 to 6 in the afternoon, and all types of commercial work will be offered. Mrs. Low said actual scheduling of work will be determined by demand, and prospective students are asked to advise Mrs. Low of their wishes as soon as possible.

Under the program, 50 per cent of the enrollment must be made of working people, 30 per cent those temporarily unemployed and 20 per cent new students. Many working people during the past year have taken advantage of commercial training offered.

A second course under this general training program was announced Wednesday by Paul Buckner. He said that night class will be conducted this year on business laws, particularly the federal measures which apply employers, such as the social security acts, etc. Merle Stewart, an accountant, will teach the work. Business men interested have been asked to get in touch with him with Buckner.

Spirit Of The Frontiersman As Wonderful As His Work

(The following article is one of a series which have been printed concerning the West Texas Memorial Museum in Big Spring, and which have appeared in this paper. This one is written by John R. Hupp, principal of the Mexican school. —Editor's Note.)

When I realize that the few minutes in which I am to speak to you belongs to our local museum and that the mission of this institution is educative in its scope, I find myself disposed to hurry into the discussion of a few high points that relate to the history of Big Spring with the hopes that something may be said that may be of definite interest.

The spirit of the frontiersman who made the West was as wonderful as the product of his making. The opening of our far-flung western domain by our forefathers to settlements was accomplished amid hardships and privations that doubtless will never be repeated. The luxuries of our 20th century civilization are being handed to our present generation on a silver platter. Our forefathers wrought out of the rough under indigestible privations our present-day civilization which we take as a matter of fact without considering the cost. Tragedies and comedies were enacted almost daily before their very eyes. Whether it were a wounded cowboy suffering from bruises and broken bones received while tending his herd, patiently waiting for the doctor to arrive from miles distant; whether it were the lonely cowpuncher who directed his line of longhorns over trackless trails to market; whether it were the faithful wife and mother who labored in the travail of motherhood, hoping for the coming of the doctor who often arrived too late; or whether it were the daily grind of everyday life of father and mother and of children, as they faced the hardships of frontier conditions, there was a reality in it all that developed character and stamina which should be today our most prized heritage.

The California gold rush of 1849 induced the United States government to look out for the most available route across the continent connecting the East with the West. With such a mission in view the war department sent out Capt. R. B. Marcy with about 80 soldiers, under the escort of Indian guides, who traversed Texas, and on Oct. 3, 1849, discovered the big spring which gave rise to the name of our city. Captain Marcy describes the incident as follows: "October 3: Leaving the salt lake this morning, our bearing was N. 71 E. for eight miles, where we reached the border of a high plain. Here we could see the low bluffs in the direction we were marching, near which our guide informed us we could find a fine spring of water. Fourteen and a half miles travel over a beautiful road brought us to the spring which we found flowing from a deep chasm in the limestone rock into an immense reservoir of some 50 feet in depth." In this report, Captain Marcy refers to it as the "Big Spring of the Colorado." Capt. Charles L. Taplin who visited the spring in March 1854, speaks of the location as being "near whole ledges of petrified oyster shells in rocks of lime and sandstone origin." He refers to the water as being excellent.

The spring doubtless had been visited by white men many times prior to that time. While hiking with the Mexican Boy Scouts a few years ago we came upon a sandstone rock which bore a well executed carving of an Indian, a cross, and the date of 1788. It was ring in the end of it protruding from the ground between the curb and walk near the east entrance to the county jail. On making inquiry many oldtimers stated that it was nothing but an old hitching post. The truth is it is a silent reminder of the effort of our city dads to secure artesian water for the town. This drill bit should be in our local museum. It would not only keep alive that expensive effort to secure "pure and fresh water," but it would serve as a contrast between old and new methods of well drilling.

The very first piece of lumber, according to L. F. McKay who came to Big Spring Jan. 3, 1881, that was tacked up in Big Spring was a little 12x12 box house constructed by a Texas and Pacific engineer, to Mr. Nepley, for a residence on lot 109 on South Gregg street. The interesting thing about it is the house is still standing and in good condition. It is now the kitchen of the residence. The house should be purchased by the citizens of Big Spring, detached from the rest of the building, and located in our beautiful public park. I am willing to subscribe the first dollar towards that end.

I must say a few words directly relating to our museum. It is often the case that the outgrowth of our plans far exceed our planning in the beginning. The museum had its beginning in the thinking of Mrs. Mary Bumpass. Though the beginning was small and progress was slow, yet the founder—such a designation is applicable—laid her plans wisely. Doubtless some thought her a dreamer. If any thus thought, they since have been disillusioned. We are beginning to look on the institution which fits into our present day system of education. The school is placing added emphasis on visual education, and the museum becomes a workshop, a laboratory, for the pupil. Things once trampled under unholly feet as being unworthy of notice become objective means of connecting the past with the present and linking both on to the future. Our entire citizenry should be interested in the growth and well-being of our museum.

Four New Exhibits Added To Museum, Signs Erected

Four new exhibits have been added to the West Texas Memorial Museum and sign boards have been erected at entrance to city limits on highways to guide out of town visitors to the museum.

J. W. Payne, living seven miles north of Big Spring, found on his farm one mile west of the Moore school, a little animal resembling a "phoe" rat, yet quite different in many respects. It remained for a scientist to name him. A number of odd species have recently arrived for the natural history department. One of the interesting new exhibits is a white owl presented by Lloyd C. Howell, Big Spring sign painter. W. H. Messenger found a splendidly preserved meate or Indian grind rock near Monahans. It is now in the West Texas Memorial museum. This rock measures 20 inches by 14 inches and four inches deep in the center. Mary Frances Hale, 309 Lancaster street, gave to the museum a star fish she caught off the California coast while visiting there last summer. It measures eight inches from point to point.

Rebekahs Plan Program For Celebration Of 60th Anniversary

Agnes Sligh Turnbull's Book To Be Reviewed Here At Settles Hotel Under Auspices Of The Rotary Club

A book described as picturing faithfully and vividly one of the important cross-sections of American life is "The Rolling Years" which will be reviewed here Friday evening by Mrs. John W. Hampton of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Hampton, reviewer of wide experience, is coming here under auspices of the crippled children's committee of the Big Spring Rotary club. She will speak in the Settles hotel ballroom beginning at 8 o'clock.

"The Rolling Years" by Agnes Sligh Turnbull, is the story of three generations of a Scotch-American family living in western Pennsylvania—the kind of people who brought to a hard life and a new country a courage and a determination that made them true early Americans. Mrs. Turnbull presents their prejudices and their customs with ready wit and understanding.

Says one discussion of the book: "Mrs. Turnbull is an accomplished narrator, and the story she tells never lags, from the front page to the back. But the outstanding quality of the book is its faithful picturing of the people and their times. Mrs. Turnbull must have spent years among the folk who farmed Pennsylvania in the last half of the 19th century, and she kept her eyes and ears open while she did so. It is a gay, charming book with an underlying philosophy that appeals to all." Members of the Rotary club are directing advance ticket sales for the review. Proceeds will finance the club's work in aiding crippled children of the community.

This Oil-Plating is really like a long-lasting part of the engine. Then where's any chance for too much wear, or needing more oil all the time? THE SPORTS PARADE

BY HANK HART

One thing leads to another here it seems. August disappears in favor of September, September leads to Labor day, Labor day leads to golf tournaments and golf tournaments, it seems, lead to rain.

There's been a bit of a fog hanging around on local event and his approach has been heralded once again. Get out your boots, golfers.

Shirley Robbins, however, is very confident in his belief that a record field will play over the course this weekend. He expects more golfers than competed at Midland last week and fully as many as were on hand for the Lubbock journey.

Taps will be sounding for the baseball season in this part of the country within two weeks. The Coloboma Bulldogs will probably play their final game of the season next Sunday in a game with Ackerly and Manager Forbes of the Continental Oilers. Forsan, is attempting to arrange a closing affair for the weekend. The Cosden Oilers closed their books long ago.

The Chicago Cubs will have the misfortune of playing the St. Louis Cardinals and the Cincinnati Reds in 14 games after they have returned from their eastern road trip. The Cardinals have won only two games from the Bruins this season and are long overdue to fight back to their rightful place. The Reds have never hit their stride nor shown the real ability.

All the way down the line the Giants shape up as the team which will compete with the American League champions in the World series. If they can get Gus Mancuso and Dick Bartell to clicking they will be all right.

The season, incidentally, doesn't end until Oct. 3 this year and the New York Yankee advantage can easily be cut away. All clubs still have 35 or more games to play but the Yanks fortunately will return home for the rest of the season after they complete their series with Cleveland.

True, they encounter the Red Sox, Athletics and Senators in foreign ball parks but they do not make another westward trip. All the world champions close the season with the Boston in Yankee stadium while the Cubs end up with the Cards in Wrigley field.

Cleaning the cuff: The first annual Trans-Pecos golf tournament will be played at Fort Stockton next week. The meeting will be given to different courses west of the Pecos river yearly. Southern Methodist university gridgers play UCLA in Los Angeles Nov. 20 this season. Cotton Lynn, the old Sweetwater footballer, has been

Sammy Expected To Take Field Soon After Kickoff

CHICAGO, Sept. 1 (AP)—Green Bay's Packers will clash with selected college talent tonight before 85,000 fans at Soldier Field in the fourth annual all-star gridiron spectacle.

The Packers will defend the prestige of the professional football against the collegiate brand. The All Stars, 63 huskies selected by more than 5,000,000 fans as the brightest stars of the 1936 college season, will be defending only their individual reputations.

Charles E. (Gus) Dorais of the University of Detroit who was selected by the fans to head the All-Star coaching staff, has drilled his squad for 17 days, with most of the offensive seasons devoted to an aerial game built around "Slingin' Sam" Baugh, Texas Christian's great sharpshooter.

Dorais will start the first 11 men named by the fans—a lineup which did not include Baugh—but after the opening kickoff will be at liberty to send in anyone on the squad, and Baugh is expected to make his appearance without much delay.

In case of rain, the game will be postponed until tomorrow night. Starting lineups for the fourth annual game:

The Huskies defeated the Fort Sill, Okla., army officers for the national intercity championship last Sunday and conquered the Oklahoma team, 7 to 3, again yesterday to qualify.

He finally found the cup where it was all the time—in the middle of the green. E. Svendsen and G. Svendsen will line up against one another in the all-star football game in Chicago tonight.

Murphy Begins To Bear Down

Proof that Coach Pat Murphy Is really letting his high school gridgers "have it" can be brought out by a look at the practice field and an inspection of the entire squad.

Tuesday evening in their second day of blocking instructions the Steer hopefuls had pounded the hard clay of the grounds south of the high school building into dust. Barking out his instruction in machine gun sentences, Murphy went through the motions of drilling into the 24 boys who reported and came off the field with fair success.

The Herd will be issued the plays that will be used in the game against Wink the latter part of the week and should be scrimmaging by next Monday.

The morning practice sessions have been changed from 8 and 10 a. m. to 9 and 11 a. m., but the evening workouts will be conducted at the same hours—4 to 6 p. m.

Halliburton Is 13-3 Winner

HOUSTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—The Barbers Hill Gushers, champions of the 1936 Houston Post tournament, and the Brenham Sun Oilers, 1935 champions, tangled here tonight for the leadership in the Post's third annual tournament. The victor will have two victories and no defeats.

The first round was completed last night. Baytown outpointed the favored Mount Pleasant Cubs in 10 hitless innings, 10 to 3. The Halliburton Cementers of Duncan, Okla., walloped Cameron Iron Works of Houston, 13 to 3.

After the Barbers Hill-Brenham game tonight San Augustine plays Pasadena. The loser in that tilt will be eliminated from the meet.

Hagen Pulls Three Point Landing In Finishing Weber At A. C.

Coming into the stretch it was Hagen by a mile and the Louisiana Lammer crossed the finish line with speed to spare as he tossed Victor Weber in the main event of the Big Spring athletic club's card Tuesday night.

To top it all, "The Hage" bounced a ham off Referee Tex Watkins' neck in as pretty a rabbit punch as has been seen in many a day and smirkingly took a stroll for the dressing room.

He had to come from behind to lick the German. The pansy from Park Avenue broke the barrier and almost left Jackie standing at the post but he got away and finally made it a fight between party of the first part and party of the second part with party of the third part, said role taken by "Stargazer" Watkins, doing a bit of shoulder tapping. The Teuton gave Jackie a flip and pinned him for the first fall but Hagen returned with a bit of tape on the left mitt and the tide turned.

Referee Watkins couldn't see the situation the way the ringsters sized it up and refused to take the tape off Jack's hand.

The adhesive proved the undoing of Vic again. A few body blows had Weber on the run and he didn't stop until Jack clinged with him, fogged his paw across the Hun's eyes and brought him to the mat for the deciding drop.

Watty joined Weber there when Jackie saw his chance at killing two birds with one blow and pumped a clout at the top of the left's spine.

Tarzan Krause and Cyclone Mackey went 30 minutes to a deadlock in the semi-go with the former getting the better of the in-fighting. Watkins, substituting for Olie Erickson in the special event, disposed of Pancho El Pulpo in the opener.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

by EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP)—Guess who's the highest paid manager in the majors? No, not Joe McCarthy of the Yankees ($36,000 per) nor Bill Terry of the Giants ($27,500)...

We figure Mike Jacobs cleared $50,000 for himself out of the Farr-Louis brawl. Jimmy Johnston, the Garden maestro, took one good look at Farr bobbing and weaving against Joe Louis in the first round Monday night, he bet $10 on Tommy to last at 10 to 1.

You can hear Tommy Farr on the air with Jim Tully tomorrow night. Tommy consented to be interviewed, only if the agency which arranged the broadcast would waive its customary commission.

This corner is two years old today...Whoops...New York fight writers are buffaloed at Referee Arthur Donovan (one of the best in the country) giving Louis 13 rounds against Farr...That's one that doesn't make rhyme nor reason.

Donovan said Farr wasn't getting out of the way of Louis' left jab...Have they didn't hurt him, did they?

Wattkins, substituting for Olie Erickson in the special event, disposed of Pancho El Pulpo in the opener.

Giants Get No Help And Drop To Second

Cubs Take Lead By Trousing Brooks In Ebbetts Field

By BILL BONI Associated Press Sports writer Bill Terry long since has discovered that when his ball club is in the thick of the pennant scramble, it can look for little or no assistance from its neighbors on the far side of the Brooklyn bridge.

Three years ago Terry had the bitterest proof of that credo. In the last few games of the season, with the Giants and Cardinals in a "he's up-he's down" scrap for the bunting, the Dodgers invaded the Polo Grounds and won the ugly-looking gratitude of their constituents by easing the Giants out and the Gas House in.

Now he's had a fresh example. His own outfit of course, dropped an 8-1 verdict to the 16-hitting Cardinals yesterday. But even that wouldn't have wiped out their two-point first place margin if the Dodgers had hogtied the Cubs.

The Dodgers, however, lost, 4-2, with the result that both series were resumed with the standings revised thus:

Chicago	W.	L.	Pct.
Chicago	73	47	.608
New York	71	47	.602

Brooklyn, in fact, had quite an afternoon. Besides being thrown for a loss by Carlenton's eight-hit pitching, they lost Woody English, at least temporarily, with a sprained ankle and First Baseman Buddy Hassett, one of the team's consistent hitters on a new play called "the manager's honor."

Grimes Yanks Hasset. As put on by Burt Grimes, it consists of storming onto the field when one of your players commits an error and yanking him right out of the game. Just what dividends it pays in player morale is problematical.

While the Cubs and Giants continue to go up and down on their personal seesaw, the American League has turned over the job keeping its own doing interesting to Rudy York, the back-stopping Indian.

It couldn't, obviously, have been given to anyone better. Rudy's latest fireworks display, set off in the charged faces of the Senators, consisted of two homers and two singles that accounted for seven runs, sufficient to wallop Washington, 12-3.

York thereby not only put himself right behind DiMaggio, Fox and Gehrig in the home run race at 30, but also battered by one Babe Ruth's record of 37 homers in one month. The Bam got that high on the way to his record 60 in September, 1927.

Meanwhile several neat pitching performances were written on the records. Danny MacFayden, with a three-hitter that stopped the Reds, 7-2, and Bucky Walters, with a 3-0 five-hit shutout of the Pirates, led the list.

Bump Hadley, aided by Gehrig's four-bagger with the base full, beat the Indians for the Yankees, 7-3; the White Sox edged out the Red Sox, 7-6, and the Browns and Athletics split a doubleheader, St. Louis winning the first 2-1, and A's the night-cap by 7-3.

The baron, apart from his superb tennis skill, is the sort of fellow who could add tone to a dog fight. Von Cramm has been one of the world's ranking stars for six years, yet this is his first trip to America. At 28 he has just reached the peak of his game. There's only one game among the amateurs to compare with it, and that belongs to Don Budge.

The redhead has beaten the German twice this summer, in the Wimbledon final and in the interzone finals of the Davis Cup, and he probably will make it three straight at Forest Hills. But it will be something to see.

SORELLE STOPS SANTONE, 5-1

San Antonio's Missions who a few days ago were flying high in second place in the Texas League today found themselves on the fourth rung and just within the bracket for the Shaughnessy playoffs.

San Antonio's Missions who a few days ago were flying high in second place in the Texas League today found themselves on the fourth rung and just within the bracket for the Shaughnessy playoffs.

The Padres, though still a notch or so ahead of the Beantown club, failed to help their cause last night by splitting a double bill with the bottom-of-the-list Dallas Steers. The cellar-dwellers took the first 5-1, behind Jolly Sorelle's four-hit performance and dropped the nightcap, 2-1.

Fort Worth extended its winning streak to nine by defeating the Beaumont Exporters twice, taking the opening 10-inning affair 3-2 and the second, 5-2. The wins established the Cats in second place.

The third-place Tulsa Oilers also found things to their liking and annexed a pair from the Galveston Bucs by 8-3 and 12-2.

Houston and Oklahoma City postponed their tilt because of wet grounds.

Entries Total 50 With Four Days Left

Third Of Glen Rose Brothers Here To Qualify

If golfers who enter the Big Spring invitational golf tournament, which begins this weekend, do not have to battle the elements as they have during the past few tournaments, a record number of entrants will probably compete for the 1937 prize, Manager Shirley Robbins confidently predicted this morning.

Ten golfers, four of whom played all or part of their qualifying rounds Tuesday, brought the total number of golfers entered to 50, with four days remaining to qualify.

West Texas mashie welders have until Saturday evening to post their qualifying scores and the bulk of the out-of-town golfers are expected to arrive to post their first score until Friday or Saturday.

Three golfers from out of town paid their entrance fees Tuesday. One is Ted Roden, Glen Rose, whose two brothers have already announced intentions to play in the meeting. Jerry Webb, Odessa, qualified with an 84, while Beverly Rockhold, McPherson, Kas., announced that he would compete for the 37 title.

Dr. G. H. Wood, who played nine holes Monday, completed his round yesterday with an 80, while Tom Coffee was three strokes over that figure for the 18 holes.

Golfers playing nine holes of their qualifying round yesterday were Dr. M. H. Bennett and Bill Tate. Bennett had a 38 and Tate a 42.

Other golfers who entered Tuesday who have not played their rounds are Jim Brigham, Jim Drake, Tommy Hutto and Cledly Hale.

HAAS PAGES GOLF FIELD WITH 71

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 1 (AP)—It may be the western amateur golf championship but a slender lad from New Orleans, Fred Haas, Jr., carelessly left the impression today in the second round of qualifying play that it belonged to the deep south.

Haas handed a tough par 71 on the Los Angeles country club course a fine lacing with a 68 yesterday.

Today the field of 250 starters struggled to get into the match play bracket of 63. Paul Leslie of Joplin, Mo., titleholder, stood by yesterday as the field blazed away.

Nate Marshall of Los Angeles and Howard Earnest, Culver City, were a stroke back of Haas.

On their heels came Tommy Barnes and Charley Yates of Atlanta, Ga., with 70's.

Three were deadlocked at par. These were Bob Drasier, Omaha, Neb., Chick Herbert, Battle Creek, Mich., and Ed Kingsley of Magna City, Utah.

Miller On Hand To Skets' Honors

DETROIT, Sept. 1 (AP)—The nation's crack shots continue their quest for new records and titles in the third national skeet championship at the Blue Rock Gun club today.

Two 100-target events, the national women's championship and the national 20-gauge championship, are on the schedule.

Defending champion in the women's event is 17-year-old Betty Small, of Detroit. K. C. Miller, Tyler, will put his 20-gauge crown on the block.

Don Sperry of Flint, Mich., won the small gauge event yesterday in a shootout with Henry B. Joy, of Detroit, and Grant Haeng, of Los Angeles. Each broke 98 out of 100 in the regular shooting. In the shootout Sperry fired 25 perfect shots, and his opponents had one miss.

Jax Win Opener Over Henderson In ET

MARSHALL, Tex., Sept. 1 (AP)—Marshall and Tyler were even with one won and one lost and Jacksonville had a one-game advantage over Henderson today in the East Texas League playoffs.

Marshall squared its series with Tyler last night, drubbing the latter 7-4 before 1,500 persons. The Tigers got to Charlie Gassaway for three runs each in the first and third innings, a lead which the Trojans were unable to overcome.

Jacksonville walloped four Henderson hurlers all over the lot to score an 18-4 victory. It was the first of their series.

13 Teams Compete In ASA Tournament

GALVESTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—Play in a three-day tournament for the Texas title of the American Softball association will start here this afternoon among 13 classy girls' teams.

Teams from San Antonio, Austin, Galveston, Beaumont, Longview, DeLeon, Eastland, Houston, Wichita Falls and Denton are entered.

The Wichita Falls Red Jax last year's champions, and Alamo Jewellers Texas amateur athletic federation titlists, are among favorites.

Cotton Subsidy Paid In Fall Of 1938

Benefits To Be Dependent Upon Compliance With Control Plan

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—Farm administration officials said today cotton growers must wait until the fall of 1938 before collecting subsidy payments on this year's crop.

They explained these payments—intended to assure growers 12 cents a pound for cotton produced this year—are conditioned upon compliance with an adjustment program in 1938.

Details of this 1938 program—expected to include crop control for cotton—must await enactment of general farm legislation which congress promised to pass when President Roosevelt agreed to the cotton loan and subsidy program.

The subsidy payments will be the difference between the average price of 7-8 inch middling cotton on the 10 spot markets on the day the cotton is sold and 12 cents a pound. The payments cannot be more than three cents a pound.

AAA officials said the subsidy payments would be limited to 65 per cent of the grower's base production. These bases have been established for most cotton growers under previous cotton programs.

exhaust the $130,000,000 subsidy fund congress provided, AAA officials said payments would be made on a larger proportion of the base production.

Cotton must be sold before July 1, 1938, to participate in the subsidy payment. Growers have been advised to retain original sales receipts or similar evidence of sale.

The loans on a basis of nine cents a pound for middling 7-8 inch cotton also require the cotton grower to comply with the 1938 adjustment program.

Officials said a grower may participate in both the loan and subsidy program, providing his cotton is sold by July 1. This is 30 days earlier than the maturity date of the loans, July 31, 1938.

WOMEN'S SUFFRAGE TO BE STUDIED BY MEXICO SOLONS

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 1 (AP)—A new Mexican congress convened today with suffrage for women, already promised by President Lázaro Cardenas, high on its list of projected legislation.

Police details were increased throughout the capital on the basis of reports that supporters of independent candidates defeated at the July elections planned demonstrations.

Cardenas annual report was eagerly awaited by executives of foreign oil companies, who hoped it might indicate the government's attitude on their conflict with labor which they say may force suspension of their Mexican operations.

With the administration's overwhelming control of both houses, it was expected the suffrage or equal rights bill would be promptly enacted.

TEXAS WILL RECEIVE NEARLY A MILLION IN TENANCY FUNDS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—The government will sprinkle only a few of its dollars over mid-west states in its first effort to curtail farm tenancy, but a virtual rain of federal funds will hit the south, where tenancy is more prevalent.

The $10,000,000 set aside by congress for this purpose has not been allocated yet. Secretary Wallace has said he will announce the administrative board of tenancy soon, possibly next week.

Funds will be allotted to states on the basis of farm population and the prevalence of tenancy.

Texas heads the list of preliminary estimates with a possible allocation of $2,072,300. Of all the states, Nevada would receive the least, $1,531.

Britain Offers Varied Attractions In Effort To Boost Army Quota

LONDON, Sept. 1 (AP)—Great Britain, confronted by youths who have been taught to hate war, started her recruiting season today with 23,000 vacancies in the army.

Britain has done practically everything possible with ingenuity and taxes to bring the army up to its quota of 205,000. But with the foreign battalions marching home today some of them to retire for good, who one pretended to know how they would be replaced.

A whole series of reforms has been instituted to overbalance the heritage of world war memories and precepts against war in countless books and educational institutions. The reforms admittedly have not been tested thoroughly but there still are no sidewalk jams outside the recruiting offices.

To interest young men in the army as a career, Britain has offered: Four meals a day, counting tea; uniforms designed to flutter the most pacific feminine heart; steam heat in barracks; three pence (six cents) extra spending money per furlough day, and free shaving mugs and canes.

Besides all these, she has offered to let reservists come back to the colors and, with soldiers now in the ranks, qualify for pensions of 13 shillings ($3.36) a week for the remainder of their lives after 21 years of service.

The latest scheme to fill the quota was the boosting of the upper age limit for recruits from 25 to 28 years.

Observers believe the British youth will be won. Where else, they reason, could a young Briton be sure of a steady job for 21 years—note mention free shaving mugs and canes?

In the 19th century the British army was recruited partly by hunger and partly by the scarlet coats issued when the men signed up. In the 20th century an assurance of an extra meal a day may help.

LOUIS TO REST UNTIL 1938

DETROIT, Sept. 1 (AP)—A defense of the heavyweight title against Max Schmeling this fall was announced as definitely out of the picture for Joe Louis today.

A rest of two months, possibly six, was recommended for Louis by physicians who studied X-ray photographs of the hands he injured in defending his title against Tommy Farr Monday night in New York.

No fracture was disclosed but the X-rays showed badly bruised muscles and tendons around the knuckles of the right hand and slightly less serious bruises on the left.

When the findings were telegraphed to John Roxborough, Louis' co-manager, in New York it was announced the Schmeling bout was definitely off for this fall.

Washington Daybook

By Preston Crover

WASHINGTON—Folks in these parts are convinced the president will renew the fight to remodel the supreme court, but there is some

President Roosevelt has had two previous defeats on important issues. In 1934 he submitted the St. Lawrence power and navigation treaty with Canada to the senate for ratification. A majority of the senate was for it, 46 to 42, but that was not the required two-thirds majority. So he lost.

Again in 1935, the first thing taken up by congress in January was the protocol of adherence to the world court. Again the president appealed for ratification. Again a majority of the senate was for it, but not a two-thirds majority. The vote was 52 to 36, lacking only seven votes of ratification.

Waterway A Dead Letter

In each instance there were intimations the president would again submit the proposals for ratification. He has repeatedly brought up the St. Lawrence questions in speeches, fit letters and in replies to questions at press conferences. But five sessions of congress have slipped by without his again submitting the treaty for ratification.

It rests quietly in the hands of the senate's foreign relations committee, listed for the present as a dead letter. The president himself has publicly recognized that in its present form, it likely would not be acceptable. In a letter to Representative Andrews of New York, made public May 26 this year, the president said "exploratory conversations" were continuing in the hope of drafting a new treaty under which the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway could be opened and power development undertaken.

World Court Dropped

While the margin of defeat was narrower in the world court vote, the effect was almost to blot out the issue. The president made no comment at a press conference following defeat of the proposal, other than to say he would thank the late Majority Leader Robinson for his valiant fight in its behalf.

World court adherence, pledged in the 1932 democratic platform, was not mentioned in the 1936 platform. Now the president has suffered another defeat on the supreme court bill. In the message given at the time he signed the limited court revision bill passed by congress, he implied he would fight for the balance of his original proposal. But he did not say so in such certain words that retreat would be later impossible.

With the supreme court bill he is in the same position as with the world court protocol and the St. Lawrence treaty. He is not pledged to a renewal of the effort. Sincere predictions can be heard here on either side that will be revived, or that it is dead forever. Obviously the answer lies in the amount of brimstone put under members of congress by opposing forces.

Hollywood

Sights and Sounds By Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD — In Hollywood the traditional grain of salt won't do. You need a barrel of it. All you have to do to join the skeptics' club out here is ask one little question and wait for developments. The question is: "And how did you get into pictures?" Every actor has a different answer—sometimes a true one. Miss Millicent Bartholomew and nephew Freddie arrived in Hollywood from England on a vacation. While here, they thought they'd see about getting Freddie the part of "David Copperfield." Wonder of wonders, they went to the studio and the producer jumped up and down and signed Freddie and he didn't go back to England at all. (The true version of Aunt Clara's story has been aired in court.)

Wife In Disguise: Miss Mari Colman was carving out a career on the New York stage when a Paramount scout spotted her and rushed her west. Strangely enough—because use in Hollywood miracles are commonplace—Cecil B. DeMille was even then questing for a "Marginal Diana" for one of his pictures. He chose Mari after testing hundreds. Mari was cool. She could not tell her real name or her real home town—because the family had objected to an acting career. She was a mystery girl—until Gus Sonnenberg got mad and spilled the beans and Mari (now Judith Allen) owned up she was then Gus's missus.

Garden City Ahead Of Big Spring In Residential Construction

Garden City, with a population of probably less than 500, has been carrying on a residential building program during the summer months that far eclipses anything Big Spring has done. Moreover, the total building for the Glasscock county seat is in excess of the Big Spring total for the year, if not almost equal for the year.

Philip Wylie's DOUBLE WEDDING

CHAPTER VI That evening was the worst Margit had ever spent in her life. She was destined to spend many evenings which surpassed it for nervous shock and general uproar but she certainly until that moment she had experienced nothing to equal it.

Margit was not dense. She read magazines. She remembered the ads but her intelligence made her check even greater. "You mean Keough studies this rubbish in his spare time?" Mrs. Keough was now on the verge of tears. She was afraid of her husband's wrath when he learned that she had divulged his secret life. She resented Margit's assumption of Keough's inefficiency. She turned toward the kitchen. "You ought to be glad Keough's a detective," she said, "what with your sister disappearing and Mr. Beaver running off. He's all that stands between you and the unknown."

Madison Avenue and then assumed that she had gone home so he moved around my saloon. "She didn't come home," Mrs. Keough replied. "That is she hasn't as yet."

Margit took off her hat and coat. "Maybe you'd better tell me what happened." Mrs. Keough exhaled tremulously, adjusted her hair, and began to talk like a woman who has witnessed a bank robbery and is telling the police about it—a woman frightened but a woman definitely in the limelight. "At four o'clock Mr. Beaver asked for an egg sandwich."

Margit jumped. "Revolver!" Mrs. Keough jumped. "He has three I think. A little one that he can wear in his sleeve or a string and one that goes under his arm besides a heavy-duty automatic." "Merciful heavens!" "Not to mention his sub-machine gun."

Margit said crazily, "Oh—he has a sub-machine gun, too?" "Flaws and arrows, brass knuckles, three types of blackjacks, thirty complete disguises, lots of 'things.' Margit leaned weakly against the refectory table in the hall. "He keeps these things in his room?" "Yes, madam," Margit pondered for a second. "Possibly we had better take a look at Keough's room."

She turned toward her secretary. "Don't you think so, Felice? Apparently our placid Keough is the bank robber or a gunman or something." Mrs. Keough who had realized that she had given away the life secrets of her butler husband was now thoroughly intimidated. Her voice was a shaky whisper. "I'm afraid we can't get in. Mr. Keough always has a burglar lock on his door. The one he is using now is called a Patent Unpickable-Preston. It cost six dollars." It dawned on Margit that she had never seen the interior of Keough's room. On her rare "tips to the third floor she looked at the spotless perfection of Mrs. Keough's chamber as seen through the door from the hall but otherwise her mind was a blank. She had unconsciously assumed that Keough would maintain his abode as he did every other chamber in the mansion. It dawned on her that it would have been an excellent idea to have inspected Keough's quarters. White-faced, grim-faced, determined she turned toward Felice. "Call the police," she said quietly.

CLAIMS TO FORTUNE ARE REJECTED

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP) - The original field of 1,093 claimants to the $877,000 fortune left by Mrs. Ida Ellen Wood, the little old lady of Herald Square, was narrowed to 131 today.

Surrogate James A. Foley rejected the number drastically last night by disallowing the claims of 406 members of the Mayfield clan in Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi and other Southern states. He said their attempts to prove kinship were "preposterous."

Attorneys for the Mayfields had sought to prove Mrs. Wood was born a Mayfield in Louisiana but changed her maiden name to "Walsh" when she came north to crash society.

Surrogate Foley said he was convinced the eccentric widow was the daughter of Thomas Walsh (or Welch) and Anne Crawford of Oldham, Lancaster, England.

Insurgents Launch Attack From Air

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Sept. 1 (AP) - Using massed planes against the Spanish government's big push on the Aragon front, the insurgents were reported today to have made 13 separate attacks from the air to crack the siege ring around Belchite.

Government forces, which threatened to strangle the strategic town in northeastern Spain, 20 miles south of Zaragoza, reported the aerial counter-thrust failed to halt their steady advance.

The fall of Belchite would facilitate the government's attempts to drive a wedge through the long Aragon salient.

A Valencia ministry of defense communique related that the forces below Teruel at the southern tip of the Aragon front had captured several dominant positions by swift assault with the aid of artillery barrage.

An entire squadron of insurgent cavalry was reported wiped out by artillery fire. An insurgent communique asserted however, that Franco's men had broken "all resistance" in their counter-drive at Belchite and elsewhere on the Aragon front.

Economics, Repayments During Year Due To Help

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP) - Treasury officials expressed confidence today that this year's deficit will be under the predicted $410,000,000 despite a $37,923,000 red ink balance for the first two months.

They said the July-August deficit would be offset by economies and increased repayments of federal loans during the remainder of the year ending next June 30.

Reports showed outgo was $249,000,000 greater than income in July and $108,539,000 higher in August, with the last two days unreported.

This total was $31,000,000 more than the deficit for the first two months operation of the government in the last fiscal year.

ounded by San Antonio, Ranger, Dallas, Huntsville and back to San Antonio. The Barkdale planes were given the Shreveport-Huntsville-Corcoran-Shreveport section.

Report Plane Sighted
It was planned to confer activities for the present in the territory around Rusk, Tex., 100 miles from Shreveport, on calculations based on yesterday's search and reports from civilians.

Army officials said a farmer whose name was not learned, reported seeing a low flying plane in the Rusk vicinity Monday night about the time the planes were in the air.

Barkdale field also sent to Rusk five trucks, five reconnaissance cars, six motorcycles and 30 troops, carrying tents, rations and a portable radio transmitter, to direct land searches from that point.

In the Grapeland area where several persons reported seeing a streak of fire resembling a burning plane plunging earthward, the search was centered in the vicinity of the Murray farm near the Trinity river 14 miles west of here.

BRINGING IN THE SHEAVES

FEELING HIS OATS in a literal sense, this farmer near Crown Point, Indiana, is happy as he holds a sheaf of golden grain and looks forward to a prosperous harvest. Crop forecasts in August predicted an oat crop for the nation far above that of last year, but slightly less than the average of crops during the period from 1928 to 1936. An unusually good harvest is expected this year by mid-western farmers due to the absence of drought which, in 1934 and 1936, destroyed the crops and left them little or nothing.

Newspapers Lead In Freedom Of Discussion, Thomas Asserts

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Sept. 1. (AP)—Newspapers still "are the principal means of communication," Norman Thomas said today, in spite of the "growing importance of radio and moving pictures."

Speaking at the Williamstown Institute of human relations on "The Newspaper and Civil Liberties," the Socialist leader said newspapers determined in the largest degree the reality of freedom of discussion and the scope of the information upon which any worthwhile discussion must be based.

In many cities, however, Thomas asserted, leaders did not obtain pictures of happenings of great social consequence. "This generalization is true almost without exception," he continued, "when the mania of war is upon us. It is likewise true, but to a much less degree, in times of peace, especially industrial conflict approaches war when the bitterness of political or psychological."

George Fort Milton, president and editor of the Chattanooga Times, who presided, said a free press was "an indispensable part of the human mind, which is the greatest thing in the world."

"But let us be sure," he continued, "that we ourselves in the press seek to free us from the internal despotisms of our own contrivance, such external dangers."

James N. Rosenberg, New York lawyer, declared, in a prepared address, "to guard against patrioteers and purveyors of class hate," who, he said, "vilify the weakest" and by group deflation "hegulin nations into throwing away their liberties."

Wiley Speaks To Lions

New Member Outlines Responsibilities To Community

Cliff Wiley, "newest member" of the Lions club, gave the club his conception of "our responsibilities commercially and civic-wise" at the regular weekly meeting Wednesday noon.

A few moments before Wiley had been inducted into the club by Joe Pond, who as district governor, has transferred into the club.

Wiley said that he believed civic and commercial success went hand in hand, that "people make business, and businesses maintain people; and the two working together make for civic development."

He cited clean living and "responsibility to God, ourselves, community, our business and our accomplishments" as fundamentals of progress to commercial success and civic development.

The speaker said in the city's $218,000 monthly payroll from three industrial sources, the apparent bumper crops for this autumn, and other commercial advantages certain opportunities for community growth. Wiley expressed possibilities for Big Spring, including a cotton mill, cotton oil mill, and perhaps a woolen mill.

Virgil Smith was heard in a special selection. Billie Wooster was welcomed as a transfer together with Joe Pond.

Visitors for the day were Leroy Echols of Coahoma, J. E. Brown, Pat Murphy, and Pat Kenney.

CITRUS PACKERS TO FACE MOVE FOR UNIONIZATION

ORLANDO, Fla., Sept. 1 (AP)—The citrus packing season opened today with Florida's biggest industry facing a strong unionization movement for the first time in its history.

The labor situation, holding a threat of loss to thousands of growers if strikers should interfere with movement of the perishable crop, has aroused grave concern within the industry.

Organizers for a new C. I. O. union, the United Cannery, Agricultural Packing and Allied Workers of America, have been working quietly throughout the fruit region for several months. Their goal is 70,000 members.

Progress can not be measured at present but some packing house operators acknowledge union agitators have been extensive. Others minimize the movement and point to the difficulty of organizing seasonal, and in a large proportion, transient, labor.

Operators are following a policy of watchful waiting. Some have posted wage increases for this season.

Favors Ban On Using Troops Abroad

War Policies Just A Racket, Smedley Butler Asserts

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 1 (AP)—Gen. Smedley D. Butler said America's Veterans of Foreign Wars today to seek a law prohibiting the use of American troops abroad.

"In 1917 they sent you fellows over to Germany to defend your homes," the fiery 71-year-old general said, "and they've used them at their national convention."

"Let's American capital invested abroad do so under our sacred emblem and gets us into trouble."

Butler said the United States should use its marines to remove from China immediately "2,000 of our citizens who have been sitting in danger in Shanghai for six months."

"Then we should get our armed forces the hell out of China and keep them out," he declared.

"Our administration," he continued, "can't make up its mind whether there is a war over there or not. The president and his helpers can't decide whether people are being killed by formal arrangements, or not, but it looks like war to me."

Sen. Bennett Champ Clark of Missouri, another speaker at today's session, suggested that June 15 and December 15—the war debt due dates—be made national holidays.

"I would proclaim them 'keep out of war days,'" he said.

Lauds Edison For Showing Organized Research Work

BUTTE, Mont., Sept. 1 (AP)—Thomas A. Edison's most important contribution to the advancement of civilization was his convincing demonstration of the value of organized research, George E. Stringfellow, an associate of the late inventor, said today.

Posing the question, "what would the world be like without Edison?" Stringfellow suggested this answer in an address before the Kiwanis club.

"Take away his inventions but leave what he did to stimulate organized research and his inventions in time would be re-created."

"One of the most inspiring of Mr. Edison's methods of work is that he almost never discovered anything by accident," Stringfellow said.

Stringfellow cited the electric light and commercial generator as being perfect examples.

Tosses a Vase To Thwart Kidnaper

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 1 (AP)—Hurling a heavy vase with accuracy, Mrs. C. C. Cristarella frustrated the attempt of a lone intruder to kidnap her 4-year-old daughter last night when the vase crashed against his head, causing him to release the child.

Mrs. Cristarella said today that the child was asleep in a bedroom of her home. The mother was in a front room and was aroused by the child crying "Mama, Mama, it's the bogey man." The mother rushed to a hallway in time to see a man with a cap pulled far down over his eyes carrying her daughter toward the rear door. She picked up a vase that was on a table and threw it at the man, who dashed the child to the floor and fled through a rear door.

The child was uninjured but badly shaken. The mother notified police and then collapsed but was quickly revived by a neighbor.

Mrs. Cristarella said she could give no reason for the attempted kidnapping.
