U. S. FIRMS' STAKE IN CUBA

Despite rebel leader Fidel Castro's avowed intention of nationalizing foreign industries in Cuba, American investors seem optimistic regarding the security of their island properties. Newsmap shows some outstanding investments of American companies. Total U.S. stake in Cuba is estimated at about 774 million dollars, including 285 million in agriculture—largely sugar—51 million in petroleum and 316 million in public utilities.

Ike Asks Farm Plan

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower urged Congress today to abandon "excessively expensive" farm price supports conceived in depression and war, and adopt a new program keyed to prosperity and peace.

Heart of Eisenhower's new program was abandonment of price supports based on a parity formula dating back to 1910-14 in favor of new federal supports tied to average market price of immediate preceding years.

The President's proposal applied to the six basic crops now covered in the mandatory support program—wheat, corn, cotton, peanuts, rice and tobacco.

Eisenhower recommended that the secretary of agriculture be given flexible authority to scale new price supports between 75 and 90 per cent of the average market price of a supported commodity during the immediately preceding years.

The President did not spell out this time period in his message.

But it apparently would apply to the previous three years, because this is the time element specified in the new corn program which begins this year.

Underlying Eisenhower's proposal for a new price support and production control program was his deep concern over the mounting surplus of farm commodities purchased by the government under the current support program.

He stressed in his 1,500-word message to House and Senate that revolutionary progress made in farm production over the last 50 years make changes in the government's farm program imperative.

THE SAND MAN COMETH!

D-J Snoozes Sweetly Following 200 Hours

NEW YORK (UPI)—Disc jockey Peter Tripp slept "a man's sound sleep" today, completing a 200-hour sleepless vigil for the sake of science.

Tripp, 32, ended his wake-a-thon at 7:14 o'clock Wednesday night. An hour later he fell into a deep sleep at the Astor Hotel after physicians assured him he had broken all records for scientifically controlled wakefulness.

"Now he's sleeping a man's sound sleep," said Dr. Louis J. West, who heads the team of scientists watching Tripp. "He has done something no man has done before, and it's fantastic."

The scientists here did not record his big wake-a-thon of disc jockey Dave Hunter of Jacksonville, Fla. Hunter began his vigil two hours before Tripp and has vowed to stay awake for 225 hours, but his experiment has not been scientifically controlled or documented.

Another Gives Up
A third disc jockey, Red Evans of Tallahassee, Fla., tried to stay awake 200 hours but gave up at 190 hours and 43 minutes on advice of his doctor. He had developed a headache.

West said he would awaken Tripp at 11 a.m. e.s.t. his usual rising time, for some psychiatric observations and medical tests after 15 hours of sleep. But he anticipated the big wake-a-thon of disc jockey Dave Hunter of Jacksonville, Fla. Hunter began his vigil two hours before Tripp and has vowed to stay awake for 225 hours, but his experiment has not been scientifically controlled or documented.

Even while he was sleeping, Tripp was working for science. He dropped off to sleep Wednesday night for arrangements for a recording of his brain waves to be completed. But his pulse, body temperature and other physical activities were being measured.

West said he did not believe the long vigil had caused Tripp any harm which sleep could not erase. He said the experiment had proved that "there is a measurable disorganization of mental functions tantamount to a major personality change when a great deal of sleep is lost."

"Religence and Submissiveness"
Tripp vacillated between belligerence and submissiveness," he said. "There was a progressive disturbance in his thinking and feeling, a deteriorating in his performance tests—that was getting worse and worse. Prolonged loss of sleep is not good for anybody, and I can testify to that."

The scientist likened Tripp's experiment to some of the pioneering volunteer work done in the fields of yellow fever, polio, and cancer research.

Tripp had started off with no stimulation—not even coffee. But since Monday he has been taking a chemical stimulant in pill form as a part of the scientific tests.

He admitted he probably couldn't have gone on without the pills and the presence of his wife and friends.

"I've learned one major thing," Tripp said. "You can't stay awake alone. You need someone there to keep you awake, to keep telling you 'Up, boy, up.'"

Panhandle Bands To Perform Here

High school musicians from eight Panhandle cities and towns will bring their instruments to Pampa Thursday for the performance of an All-Region XI Band. Pampa High School will be host to the students. William A. Hunt, PHS choral director, told the Daily News.

Groups are expected to start streaming into Pampa at 8:30 a.m. Thursday with a public concert set for 2 p.m. in the auditorium of Robert E. Lee Junior High School. The band will rehearse from 9:30 to 4 p.m.

Gene Kenney, Texas Tech choral director, will be the conductor. Each band is sending its top eight members, according to Hunt.

Amarillo's three high schools will be represented along with Borger, Canyon, Dumas, Hereford, Lefors, Pampa; Perryton; Phillips and Tulia.

Pampa's members are Marilyn Myatt and Nancy Stevenson, sopranos; Nancy Goodnight and Barbara Lumsford, altos; Douglas Redmon and Jerry Baxter, tenors; and Jerry Oliphant and Eddie Reimer, basses.

Hunt's A Capella Choir will also have three members in the All-State Choir Feb. 19-21 in Galveston. They are Miss Stevenson, Mary Sturgeon and John Campbell. Past members of the All-State Choir are Marilyn Myatt, Barbara Lumsford and Joe Ann Johnson.

Lefors students in the All-Region Choir are Margie Nichols and Sandy Call, sopranos; Judy Atkinson and Betty Williams, altos; Pat Barry and Jan Atkinson, tenors; and Calvin Stracener and Bill Phillips, basses. Mrs. Josephine Oehlschlaeger is Lefors' choir director.

Perryton's representatives are Pat Haywood and Frances Crawford, sopranos; Joy Clark and Mirion Riley, altos; Larry Vriesma and Charles Peterson, tenors; and Rex Jameson and Barry Ackers, basses. A trio is made up of Mirion Riley, Nanjean Rowell and Anita Slaughter. Perryton's choral director is Cloyd Webb.

Snow Expected Tonight In Panhandle, South Plains

United Press International
Another blast of Arctic air hurtled south towards Texas today, bringing with it snow and freezing drizzle.

The weather bureau said snow is expected tonight in the Panhandle and South Plains. The mercury was expected to slide to freezing or below over the state, except for parts of West Texas.

Light rain or drizzle fell around Laredo and Brownsville, early today, and patches of fog hovered near San Antonio and Austin.

Sky was generally cloudy early today from Abilene north, westward into the Panhandle, where skies were clear.

A low pressure system in West and northwest Texas was causing winds to build up. A few thunderstorms were expected to result from the pressure system and the weather bureau said thunderstorms could develop in south central Texas.

Temperatures varied from a low of 36 at Lubbock to a high of 43 at Pampa early today. Dalhart, usually the state's coldest spot each morning, reported a moderate 43 today.

Cubans May Get New Trials

WAITS & PRAYS

Handcuffed Maj. Pedro Merejon Valdes, second "war criminal" to be tried in Havana, Cuba, awaits word about a new trial. Valdes, sentenced to death by the firing squad, has slim hopes for his life.

Weeding Out Of Witnesses Is Reported

HAVANA (UPI)—Two Cuban army "war criminals" convicted and sentenced to death in Havana may be granted new trials in eastern Cuba, far from the "Roman coliseum" atmosphere of the first war crimes trial here, it was reported today.

The reports were touched off by disclosure that hundreds of farmers brought to Havana as witnesses from Oriente Province in the eastern end of Cuba have begun a mass exodus to their homes and the scene of the alleged crimes.

Some sources said there may have been only a weeding out of the witnesses, with actual eyewitnesses retained and those giving hearsay evidence being sent home. But the general belief was a change in venue was coming for the 600 Batistianos held in Cabana Fortress here.

The two army officers convicted and sentenced to death before a firing squad were Maj. Jesus Sosa Blanco and Maj. Pedro Merejon Valdes. Their appeal is still under consideration, but informed speculation was they would be granted new trials near the Oriente Province scene of the crime.

The trial of a third "war criminal," former Col. Ricardo Luis Grao is now scheduled to open at 8 a.m. Friday at the Superior Military Courthouse, at Camp Freedom. He is accused of such crimes as mass murder.

The reports coincided with rumors Fidel Castro may pass the word to rebel authorities to grant Sosa a trial if response to criticism of the "Roman Coliseum" atmosphere where a meeting crowd of 30,000 attended the trial at the Sports Palace.

Castro also was reported to have taken a personal hand in an attempt to resolve the deadlock between the diplomatic corps and the Presidential Palace over the rights of safe conduct for 86 Batistianos who have been granted asylum in Latin American embassies here.

Batista Army Major Jesus Sosa Blanco, right, listens as a priest, the Rev. Xavier Arzuaga, talks to him in the La Cabana Prison in Havana, Cuba. The first "war criminal" to be tried, Sosa was sentenced to death in a 12-hour trial in the Sports Palace Stadium before some 30,000 spectators. It was announced Thursday, however, a new trial may be granted for Sosa.

YOUTH GUNS DOWN FAMILY

By ANDREW T. PURCELL
United Press International

AUBURN, N.Y. (UPI)—A high school sophomore who nursed grudges against his family shot and killed his father, mother, brother and sister. Police said he confessed to the slayings early today.

John Jayne, 17-year-old farm boy, apparently shot each of them twice—the second shot a kind of coup de grace.

"I didn't want to see them suffer," he told police.

Jayne showed no remorse, police said, and matter-of-factly told how he came home from Mirvick High School on the bus Wednesday afternoon and was eating ice cream in his family's farm home.

He found his father Willie in the barn and killed him in the same manner.

Jayne waited 45 minutes for his older brother, Willard, 19, to return home and shot him as he got out of his car. He then walked a mile to the neighboring farm of Horace Young and told him there had been an accident.

Young investigated while his wife called police.

State police found Willard still alive and took a dying declaration from him. He said John did the shooting, police reported.

John, according to his confession, bore a grudge against his parents for a whipping he got last summer. He also carried a grudge against Willard and believed his sister sided with his older brother.

SEVEN KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

KARACHI (UPI)—A Pakistani Air Force Wayfarer transport carrying seven passengers including two American servicemen crashed in flames today in the mountains near Rawalpindi, about 160 miles northwest of Lahore.

American Army officers who reached the wreckage said there were no survivors.

The U.S. embassy here said the two Americans were members of the U.S. military assistance advisory group in Karachi and that they would be identified as their relatives had been notified.

Denounced Reds Face More Woes

MOSCOW (UPI)—Ivan V. Spiridonov, leader of the Leningrad Communist Party, demanded today the "anti-party" group of Vyacheslav M. Molotov and other disgraced party members be brought before the 21st Communist Congress for an accounting.

Members of the group are Molotov, former Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Georgi M. Malenkov, former Foreign Minister, Dmitri Shepilov and former member of the party Presidium Lazar Kaganovich. All have been denounced before for trying to wreck the party program.

Spiridonov praised the seven-year plan outlined by Premier Nikita Khrushchev, saying it had received the immense enthusiasm of the entire Soviet people.

"How paitry and treacherous, when viewed against this background, are the attempts made by the conspiratorial anti-party group," he said.

"This group which had until now been brought to account only before the party's central committee should now be brought to account before the congress, the party's supreme authority," he said.

It had been generally believed the "anti-party group," all of them removed from their high positions and exiled to relatively minor posts, would come under attack at this session.

A particular onus appeared to be on Bulganin, last to be linked with the anti-party clique. Leaders of the party central committee last month accused him of falling to tell the whole truth in his conversations. They also called him a double-dealer and demanded that he "come clean."

At today's meetings, Russia's allies lined up to profess their unity and support of Soviet aims. Hungarian party chief Janos Kadar expressed thanks for the "brotherly assistance" given by the U.S.S.R. at the time of the 1956 uprising in Hungary.

Denunciation of the Molotov group came as the congress began developing into a show of (See REDS, Page 3)

Harvesters Hit Hoop For Polio At Borger Friday

Pampa basketball fans will be playing Points For Polio by pledging to the March of Dimes. John Gikas, Pampa campaign chairman, reported today. A $1,000 can play by pledging an amount of money for every point that Pampa makes against Borger in Friday's vital District 3 AAAA game at Borger.

Pledges can be made by calling Mrs. Jo Edwards at B & B Toyland, Warren Hesse at KPND or Gikas at the Coney Island Cafe. The game will be played in Borger and carried by KPND.

An all-night telethon conducted by KHHH is believed to have netted well over $1,000 for the polio foundation.

Pampa's marching goal is still in town, taking $5 contributions to the March of Dimes. The goat began its rounds Tuesday, accompanied by J. C. Roberts, official keeper of the goal. Roberts deposited $5 in a MOD container when he delivered the goat to another businessman and that procedure has been repeated ever since. In its two days of service, the goat has collected $347.95.

Tickets are on sale at Richard Drug for "Around the World in 80," a musical-style show produced by the Teenage Campaign Committee. Prominent features of this production are dancers and models from Pampa High School and Jean Wellingham's Braux Arts Dance Studio.

Adult tickets are selling for 75 cents and student tickets for 50 cents. The show will be staged at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the PHS Auditorium.

Pampa service clubs are preparing for a Saturday Bucket Brigade and have their street corner locations all picked out. Men of the service clubs will work in shifts, filling buckets.

FRENCH TROOPS KILL 205 REBELS

ALGIERS (UPI)—French troops killed 205 Algerian rebels in two major battles in the past 24 hours, military headquarters announced today.

One of the engagements was fought in the mountains near Constantine, close to the troubled Tunisian frontier. The other took place in the rugged hills southeast of Algiers.

The battle south of Algiers, in which 40 rebels were slain, broke out when French patrols fanned out in search of a nationalist band that killed eight civilians and wounded 18 others in the ambush of a highway bus.

POLL TAX TRAILER

With the help of Pampa Jaycees it should be "easy" for residents to pay their poll tax before Saturday's deadline. Jaycees, including Melvin Jayroe, Dick Cooke and Lee Jackson (left to right) stand along a 44-foot trailer that Saturday will be parked in front of the LaNora theatre. Persons will enter the trailer to obtain their poll tax receipts. Poll taxes, which this year cost $1.75, may also be paid Saturday at the Courthouse Tax Office where Jim Perkins will keep the door open until 3 p.m. The huge trailer is being used courtesy of Best Trailer Sales. Television Rivals Ride Each Other At Lunch In Hollywood

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Friendly rivals Walter Brennan and Jack Mahoney, whose shows vie for ratings on different networks every Thursday night, sat down to lunch today for a session of meedling.

Brennan, a weather-beaten old pro, stars in "The Real McCoys" opposite Mahoney's "Yancy Derringer."

Old Walter's comedy shows has a 10-point rating edge over Mahoney's western, which pleases Brennan mightily. Thus, it was Jock who loosed the first barb just as Brennan was sitting down.

"Yes sir," Mahoney said with a twinkle, "you're a great actor, Walter. I used to watch you when I was a little boy."

"How old are you anyway?" Brennan snapped. Mahoney just grinned.

"Our shows are filmed right next to each other here on the Desilu lot," Jock explained. "We visit back and forth on the stages."

"Mahoney does," Brennan said. "I don't have time."

Knows His Lines
"That's because I know my lines and don't study 'em all day," said Jock.

Brennan snorted and took another tack. "Mahoney's a bad one. He beats his kids because they watch my program."

Jock protested. The programs are opposite each other throughout the country except in the western time zone. This allows both performers to watch the opposition.

"I wouldn't miss seeing Jock's show," Brennan went on magnanimously. "I like all the western series. Never miss any of 'em."

Jock interrupted. "Our show is gaining in the ratings."

"Sure I'm worried," Walter chuckled. "I cried all night long."

My pillow was soaking wet this morning. But seriously, there's plenty of room for two good stunts is crazy."

Mahoney, an ex-stunt man who takes his own spills and fights his own fights without the use of a double, told Walter he was jealous because he requires a double for rough and tumble scenes.

"Here now," Brennan admonished, shaking a bony finger. "I've got kids as old as you ate. And I'm not having any young scallawag tell me how to play my survival. People who like Jock's kind of show will watch it. Those who like our program will watch eating lunch."

Eisenhower Takes New Interest In Job

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Friends and associates of President Eisenhower say the Chief Executive is wading into operational areas of government and politics more than at any time since he has been in the White House.

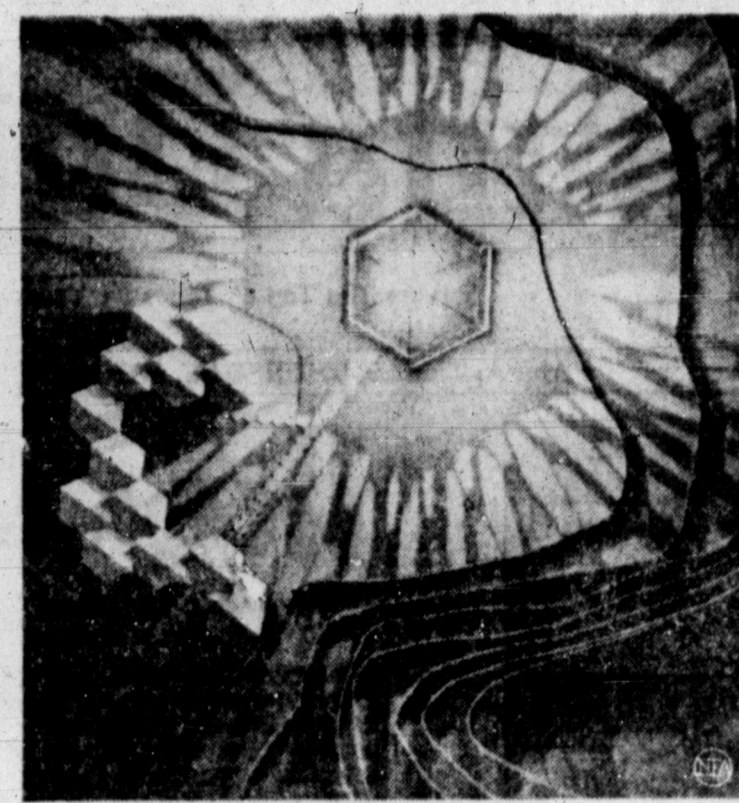

"My?" These sources say a part of the answer is "No Sherman Adams."

Last fall, after the Republicans took their lumps from the Democrats in the congressional elections, top White House sources told United Press International that Eisenhower would exercise more direct control over his administration during his final two years in office than ever before.

The departure of Adams was given then as partial support for this theory. When the former New Hampshire governor served as a few years when he was in the Range-Rider program.

"We've got Walter scared now," Jock interrupted. "Our show is gaining in the ratings."

"Sure I'm worried," Walter chuckled. "I cried all night long."

WHATITZ?—Well, it isn't a photo of the other side of the moon snapped from a space vehicle. It's a bird's-eye view of a scale model of a chapel and detached Sunday school and other auxiliary rooms. It is proposed for St. Alban's Episcopal Church, Worland, Wyo., by the Architects' Guild of Casper, Wyo. The extremely modernistic structure features honey-comb-windowed walls designed to illuminate the surrounding landscape with eye-catching light patterns from their hundreds of small windows pointing in all directions. This effect was created in the photo by a small flashlight bulb located inside the model chapel. The heavy black, curved lines are the edges of cardboard used to simulate the surrounding hilly terrain.

President put forth his own point of view," Kuchel said.

Other top Republicans, however, said the President has become increasingly conscious of the threat to the record of his administration, his own standing with the people and history because of political opposition of the Democrats, and some Republicans, too.

He doesn't like the situation and intends to do what he can to improve it. Hence, there has been a discussion in high White House circles of plans for the President to maintain a steady and frequent series of appearances before the public in behalf of his program.

People Hard On Defective Babies

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—This is about so-called "birth-defect" babies. There are 250,000 such infants born in the United States each year. Some die at birth or soon after—but many live.

For those who survive, and their parents, life can be hard—but sometimes we ourselves add to the pain.

Maybe you know such a child. A boy or a girl with palsy. A tot with only one ear or one hand or a twisted foot or leg. What happened to make them so?

According to Dr. Thomas Rivers, parents, neighbors and relatives must first of all accept that there is no stigma attached either to the child or his family when nature doesn't stick to its usual blueprint.

Engaged In Research
It is suspected that something made nature's complex reproduction machinery zig when it should have zagged during the months preceding birth. Rivers said,

The National Foundation, of which Dr. Rivers is medical director, is engaged in research aimed at pin-pointing the causes of these defects, so that some day they may be prevented.

Right now "we all can help to clear the air about malformed babies," he said, making these points:

If there's one "birth-defect" baby in a family—mothers and fathers should be discouraged from fearing needlessly that subsequent children will be similarly afflicted.

Have Suspected Causes
German measles, powerful drugs, narcotics, excesses of alcohol, extensive X-ray and prosthesis during pregnancy are among suspected causes of birth defects.

Through rehabilitation, many malformed babies can be helped to become useful and productive adults, for rehabilitation is "much more of a miracle than many of the so-called miracle drugs."

Families should seek the benefits that modern medicine and surgery can provide for these children.

DENY TROOP CHARGES
MEXICO CITY (UPI)—The Defense Ministry has denied Guatemalan charges that Mexico is concentrating troops and heavy weapons in the Guatemalan border area.

The Navy Ministry announced simultaneously that a gunboat and a coast guard cutter have been assigned to protect Mexican fishermen in the area where Guatemalan warplanes strafed Mexican fishing boats Dec. 31.

entment program essential.

The President also announced a new, but undefined, program of surplus disposal overseas which he said would amount to "using food for peace." He did not spell out details, but said he is putting into motion an exploratory plan for cooperating with other friendly nations in getting the greatest possible use of farm surpluses in each.

His proposal was certain to run into stiff opposition in Congress, however. The big Democratic majority has resisted administration efforts to lower farm price supports.

Program Has Not Worked

Eisenhower said that by the start of the new fiscal year next July 1, the government would hold more than nine billion dollars in farm surpluses. He said the huge stock of government wheat was by large that if America did not harvest one bushel this year, the surplus supply was more than enough for domestic use, export sales, foreign donation, and need to carry over for an entire year. "The price support and production control program has not worked," he said. The President pointed out that, even though the government recovers some of its investment from surplus disposal, the final cost of fixed price supports would be "impressively large."

He objected to the present support program because it uses the federal money involved went to those storing the surpluses and to "relatively few producers of a few crops."

"It does little to help the farmers in greatest difficulty," he said. Eisenhower's message was in keeping with the administration drive to balance the federal budget in the neighborhood of 77 billion dollars, partially by cutting federal expenses, and also by getting more for the federal dollar.

Bench Outlines Proposals

The message was accompanied by a memorandum from Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson outlining specific recommendations for a new program. These called for changes in the wheat, tobacco, and peanut programs. Extension of the surplus disposal law under which this country sells farm surpluses abroad for foreign currency; a three-year extension of the conservation reserve; expansion of agricultural research; participation of the states in programs to meet problems caused by drought and other natural disasters; a change in the Rural Electrification Administration program; changes in the Farmers Home Administration and extension of the Sugar Act.

massive unity behind Khrushchev. Only Yugoslavia has come under attack for failing to triumph over "revisionism," and the way was left open for the Yugoslavs to enter the fold again some time in the future.

Speaker after speaker painted a picture of triumph over "revisionism" which reared its head since the previous congress in 1956.

Approve Ideological Issue

On the prime ideological issue, the path to be followed by socialist countries, Khrushchev's concepts were approved by Polish Communist Leader Wladyslaw Gomulka and Palmiro Togliatti, head of the Italian Communist Party, the largest in Western Europe.

Khrushchev set the stage for this in his opening address Tuesday when he said it was all right for countries to follow different paths to socialism if they do not waver from Marxist-Leninist principles.

No Editorial Comment

The official newspaper in Belgrade printed Tass news agency reports of the speeches and the Anti-Yugoslav criticism had made no immediate editorial comment; recently the editorial columns were filled with blasts against Russia and its satellites.

One of the biggest boasts for Communist unity came Wednesday from Chou, who reaffirmed Khrushchev's leadership of the entire Communist world. He also delivered a message of greetings from Communist Chinese leader Mao Tse-tung and pledged the solidarity of China's millions with the Russians.

Both Chou and Mao called Soviet friendship unbreakable.

Last year's winner was John Davis of Pantex Village. His 1500-word essay earned him first prize of $150.

Ryals announced that letters with contest rules have been sent to superintendents and principals of high schools within this district. Included with the letters is a copy of John Davis' prize-winning essay of 1957.

Rules state that only high school seniors are eligible and the subject "shall be adequately covered in not more than 1500 words." Entries must be mailed to the District Manager, Box 637, White Deer, no later than April 15. Essay rules may be obtained from school principals.

PARIS (UPI)—The Western Big Three are preparing to renew their offer to Moscow of a meeting with Soviet leaders on Berlin diplomatic sources here said today.

Reports from London said the talks would be held at the foreign ministers' level. They said no firm date would be proposed, but that the meeting probably would take place toward the end of April in Geneva.

The London sources said the foreign ministers of Britain, the United States, France and West Germany would meet in Paris in March to align Western strategy and agree on proposals to be made at the Big Four talks.

Diplomatic sources in the French capital said the West, in renewing their offer of a Berlin conference made last Dec. 31, would make it plain to the Russians that they were not being "panicked" by the Soviet demand that the West get out of Berlin by next May 27.

Funeral services for Wayne E. Larsh, 42, will be held at 10:30 a.m. Friday in the Chapel of Duengel-Carmichael Funeral Home. Mr. Larsh died in an auto mobile accident near Winters at about 6 p.m. Tuesday.

Rev. Ronald Hubbard, pastor of Pampa's First Presbyterian Church, will conduct the services. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Other survivors are five sisters: Mrs. Joe Lewis, Mrs. C. R. Tigler, and Mrs. G. C. Stockstill, Pampa; Mrs. Gould Jennings, Wilmington, Calif.; and Mrs. Ralph Dodds, Laredo.

Funeral arrangements are pending for Mrs. Ida Banks, 303 N. West, who died in Fort Worth during the night. Mrs. Banks was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Emma Roach, in Fort Worth.

Other survivors are five sisters: Mrs. Joe Lewis, Mrs. C. R. Tigler, and Mrs. G. C. Stockstill, Pampa; Mrs. Gould Jennings, Wilmington, Calif.; and Mrs. Ralph Dodds, Laredo.

The fire, which began at about 5:15 p.m., was out when firemen arrived. No cause for the blaze was given.

Earlier Wednesday afternoon, at 2:30, a small grass fire sprang up behind the Heiskel Well Co., 917 W. Brown. No damage was reported.

Firemen blamed the blaze on a cutting torch.

ASSUMES GUN DUTIES NEW YORK (UPI)—Jack White, a former professional football star, assumed duties today as general manager of the New York Yankees, newly purchased Richmond farm club in the International League.

Meers Rites Set Saturday

Mrs. J. F. Meers, 518 Somerville, prominent pioneer of Gray County, died this morning at 3:45 in Highland General Hospital. Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the First Christian Church with Rev. Richard Crews and Roy King, grandson-in-law of the deceased, and minister of the First Christian Church near Stakely, officiating.

Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery beside her husband, who preceded her in death on April 13, 1953.

Mrs. Meers was born Jan. 20, 1879 in Woverly, Kan., moved to Miami in 1888 and to Gray County in 1901, where she resided, until recent years, south of Pampa. She was the last surviving member of the founding committee of the First Christian Church. In 1947, she was named Woman of the Year in the church.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Mary Wilson of Orange, Mrs. Dorothy Nelson of Berger, Mrs. Helen Sprinkle of Pampa, and Mrs. Nellie Blake of Arizona; two sons, Lewis of Pampa; Robert J. of Houston; two brothers, Joe and Earl Lewis, both of Pampa; two sisters, Mrs. Marvin Williams of Pampa, Mrs. Nellie McCarthy of Albuquerque, N.M.; 15 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Rotary Views Colored Slides

The Pampa Rotary club yesterday viewed colored slides of the Mexican countryside taken by Ray Neithercut, owner of the El Capri Motel and formerly with Loughland Bros. Drilling Co.

Club visitors and guests were H. T. Wilson, Bill Bellamy, Al Metz, Leon Olson, Joe Reardon, Robert Bloomer, Robert Gluke and Kim Watson.

Radix is still in operation on Pampa city streets, Police Chief Jim Conner said today, and motorists are warned to "slow down."

Wednesday afternoon Officer Dan Lewis, working with radar, tagged 11 drivers for speeding and gave one warning. The unit was stationed at noon near Lamar school, and during the afternoon hours was located on N. Hobart, Alcock and McCullough streets.

To date, since October, officers with radar have written 417 speeding tickets, 267 warnings.

Residents who have lost lawnmowers, bicycles or wheelbarrows may find their lost possessions at the Pampa police department, Chief Jim Conner said today.

In recent months officers have found two hand-powered lawnmowers, a wheelbarrow and two more bicycles. They are now stored in police station hallways.

6 PARAKEETS ARE SWIPED

Six parakeets, locked inside a backyard fly pen at 514 S. Beames, were filched sometime Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Wiley G. Manos told police officers this morning.

One of the tiny birds met foul play and was left behind, stone dead. The birds, all hens, were setting on eggs.

Mrs. Manos reported the loss was about $18 in finely-bred parakeets. She noticed the birds missing Wednesday evening.

Officers reported a key to the cage was on a nearby string out reach of youngsters. Mrs. Manos, meanwhile, is hoping for the return of her six valuable birds.

Meeting Slated By Hotel Group

The Building Committee of the Pampa Community Hotel Corporation will meet at 9:30 a.m. Friday, C. P. Buckler, chairman, announced today.

Final plans and specifications suggested by architects and hotel operators will be studied. Members will meet in the Chamber of Commerce conference room.

Leftovers Test Homemaker's Skill With Palatable Pork And Fruit Plate

NO PROBLEM—There's no need to ponder the problem of what to do with leftover pork slices. By carefully preparing a sauce which highlights grapefruit juice, pineapple tidbits and maraschino cherries, your worries are at an end. Serve the sauce over the meat and this Pork and Fruit Blend is ready... it just takes minutes.

When a dinner deadline approaches and leftover pork slices are the bill of fare available, prepare this easy Pork and Fruit Blend.

A tropical flavored fruit sauce checks the meat in distinctive honor. No longer will leftover meats be marked with the family's disapproval. Here's why! The delightful fruit sauce is a glistening coat made from pineapple tidbits, grapefruit juice, cornstarch and maraschino cherries. This sauce is then served over the cooked pork slices which have been dipped in an egg flour and salt mixture and browned on both sides in lard or drippings.

Corn Bread and Little Sausages With Tureen Of Cream Gravy Hearty Fare

JANUARY SUPPERS
Traditional as a New England January thaw is a hearty winter supper. Somehow the foods found on a January menu have a January air. By nature of their substance, temperatures or quality—or a subtle combination of these qualities—they hold more appeal than at any other time of year.

Corn Bread and Little Sausages is a case in point. This wheel of golden corn bread is spiced by savory pork links. Serve it on a warmed platter; then bring on a tureen of creamy gravy. This is the heart of a supper that begins with old-fashioned vegetable soup, includes a generous cabbage slaw and ends, triumphantly, with apple dumplings.

Ground beef is always in season, but enlist it in Delicious Meat Ball Pie and you have a January natural. Light parsley biscuits top this meat and vegetable medley. Cut them out with a doughnut cutter and bake the "hole" separately to dunk in honey butter.

This is the time of year for oysters, make no mistake. Vary the oyster stew and scalloped oysters routine with a Bacon and Oyster Fry. Omelet-like, it turns an ordinary Saturday night supper into a delightful event.

CORN BREAD AND LITTLE SAUSAGES
1 pound link pork sausage
1 cup sifted flour
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
3-3 cup corn meal
1 egg, well-beaten
1 tablespoon sugar
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup whole bran cereal
1.5. tablespoon melted shortening.
3. tablespoons sausage drippings

Mama's Melazana Mozzarella Recipe Offers Intriguing Use Of Egg Plant

Here's an intriguing way to use eggplant, a vegetable which has been a popular food in the Near and Far East for centuries. From Greece to Asia Minor, the eggplant is baked in its skin or stewed in oil. In Turkey, Greece, the Balkans, Persia and India, eggplant is often combined with lamb or mutton, placed on skewers and cooked over an open fire.

Here, Melazana—a Italian for eggplant—is given an Italian touch—its combination with Mozzarella cheese and tomato sauce. And don't forget, rice is also a popular food in Italy. The crisp fried slices of eggplant contrast festively with the tender rice and the cheese and tomato sauce make a wonderful topping for this casserole.

INGREDIENTS:
1 cup uncooked white rice
2 3/4 cups water
2 teaspoons salt
1 small eggplant
1 egg, beaten
1 tablespoon water
About 1 cup cracker crumbs
5-6 tablespoons cooking fat
1/4 teaspoon black pepper
1 teaspoon oregano
6-8 oz. Mozzarella cheese, thinly sliced
2 cans (8 oz. each) tomato sauce
METHOD: Put the rice, 2 cups

Flavorful Cookies Homecoming Treat

There are at least three good reasons why you may wish to surprise the children with peanut butter cookies next time they come home from school.

First, the pleasing nutty flavor of peanut butter combined with a glassful of milk is a treat that's hard to beat. Children love it. Second, peanuts and peanut food products rate high in food value. They are a good source of proteins, B vitamins and energy. Active children need a lot of all three.

Third, peanuts and peanut butter are currently abundant. The 1958 peanut crop was 20 per cent larger than in 1957, and 9 per cent larger than average, according to the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Here is a tempting filled peanut butter cookie recipe, tested by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It will make 50 two-inch cookies:

PORK AND FRUIT BLEND
8 to 10 thin slices cooked pork
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 can (8 3/4 ounces) pineapple tidbits
1/2 cup grapefruit juice
1 tablespoon cornstarch
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons sliced maraschino cherries
1 egg
1/2 teaspoon salt
Drain pineapple, reserving liquid. Add grapefruit juice and cornstarch to pineapple liquid. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and clear. Add pineapple and cherries and heat through. Beat together egg, flour, and salt. Thoroughly coat cooked pork slices with lard or drippings. Serve browned pork slices with fruit sauce. 4 to 5 table a palatable and pleasing dish.

Food Page Corn Pudding Is Favored By South

In the South, a favorite vegetable is corn pudding or custard. This recipe is a glamorous version of that treat because of the gay bits of red pimiento. Another exciting addition is the tender white rice. Here's a quick idea for the vegetable spot on your lunch or dinner menu. Served with crisp strips of bacon, this Rice and Corn Custard can serve as a main dish.

INGREDIENTS:
2 1/2 cup uncooked white rice
1 1/2 cups water
2 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 1/2 cups cream style yellow

sugar. Add egg, milk and vanilla, and mix well. Sift dry ingredients; stir into first mixture; chill. Roll dough thin. Cut rounds with cookie cutter. Drop a spoonful of filling in the center of one round, and cover with another. Press edges together. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in a hot oven, 425 degrees for 10 minutes.

Favorite Spaghetti Recipe Scaled To Serve Large Pre-Basketball Gathering

It is indicative of wide social interests that Mrs. Joe A. Clarke's favorite recipe is party-sized. Mrs. Clarke is treasurer of the Texas Beef Council, vice president of the Fort Worth National Bank, and is prominent in a wide variety of civic organizations.

"This recipe will easily serve ten guests at a pre-basketball party," Mrs. Clarke says, "or makes an ideal family dish when halved." Mr. Clarke's interest in cattle and the cattle industry dates back to his childhood in Albany, where his father built the 17th house in the newly-organized town in 1877. Although the Clarkes lead a definitely "city" life in Fort Worth, they have retained many interests and friendships among Texas cattlemen, and are aware, as are cattlemen, of the great diversity of beef cuts.

Mrs. Clarke suggests that her spaghetti sauce recipe, which specifies inexpensive ground chuck, be served with a green salad and hot buttered French bread. To serve 10:

SPAGHETTI SAUCE
2 lbs finely ground beef chuck

6 tablespoons cooking oil
3 6-ounce cans tomato paste
1 medium-size stalk celery
2 medium-size bell peppers
1 large red onion
3 buds garlic
Salt, pepper and oregano to taste
Grated Parmesan cheese
Chop celery, peppers, onion and garlic. Sauté in about 2 tablespoons of cooking oil. Add ground beef and let it sear, but do not brown, stirring to separate. Place beef mixture in a large vessel (bean pot or well on stove is ideal), add tomato paste and seasonings and simmer slowly for 2 hours or until well done. Cook spaghetti as directed on package. Serve with meat sauce on top, sprinkled with grated Parmesan cheese.

SAUSAGE EGG FOO YUNG
From the Far East comes Egg Foo Yung, given zip by the addition of shredded cervelat. This kind of meal, besides being rich in protein, is a grand way to break the family in gradually to exotic tastes. "Serve-a-lot" with fluffy rice, crunchy relishes, and tea.

Curtis Plugging Continental Look For Men Of Hollywood

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Tony Curtis, the fanciest fancy dan in Movietown, is spearheading a campaign to revive the "Edwardian look" in men's clothes — and he's already won over some disciples.

As a member of the town's "in" group, Tony's sartorial influence is affecting Dean Martin, Frank Sinatra, Peter Lawford and Sammy Davis Jr.

So what does the 1959 Edwardian look mean?

"It's a continental look," Tony explained. "The trousers are tight fitting with no cuffs. The jackets have narrow lapels with cuffs that fold back and button. There are no buttonholes in the lapels. I don't go to many funerals or weddings, so who needs a buttonhole?"

He's Dead Serious
"My coats fit tight, too, like your shoulders would bust out of the seams. People ask if they're comfortable. I say 'Yes' unless you plan to play tennis or get in a barroom fight."

The tousle-haired leading man led the way to his wardrobe closet where some 25 suits were hanging in neat rows.

"You'll notice the colors range from black to light gray," Tony pointed out. "No blues or browns. Blue is an indiscriminate color, not flattering to men. Brown is tricky and dull."

Curtis was dead serious.

Tony says he could outfit any man for $200—suit, shirt, shoes and tie. Then he added that three suits are enough for any wardrobe.

Relies On Six SUITS
"I rely on only six suits myself," he said. "A black suit is the basic item in a man's closet. It's a necessity. You can wear it for a tuxedo. At least I do. I do. I don't own a tux. Then you need a light gray suit and an intermediate gray suit, or perhaps a Glen plaid."

"Black shoes are a must, too. They make your feet look smaller."

"My clothes may be somewhat extreme, but I'm careful not to come on too strong and end up looking hokey."

Inspiration for Tony's "new look" came from a photograph of his father taken in 1928. He said he had his dad's suit copied exactly.

Tony returned from his bedroom to his expensively appointed den and sat down.

Though his closets and wardrobes bulge with thousands of dollars in wearing apparel, the muscular young actor was nattily dressed in a "T" shirt, shorts and a pair of gray socks.

But they now have recovered almost all of their lost ground, the Chase Manhattan Bank reported. Ike May Take Trip To Mexico In Near Future

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower is considering a trip to Mexico in the relative near future.

Both the President and the State Department are giving serious thought to a presidential visit, which probably would be an informal weekend trip rather than a full-fledged state visit.

Discussions also were being held by the U.S. and Mexican governments on the trip.

Informed sources said the President was more likely to visit a low-lying city, such as the seaside resort of Acapulco, than Mexico City. The Mexican capital is on a plateau 7,200 feet above sea level, a height probably prohibitive to persons with a history of heart trouble.

Univac Cannot Match Spark Of Love Light

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—UPI—When it comes to playing cupid, Art Linkletter makes a swell TV emcee, or maybe even a ditchdigger.

After three years and so couples, Art and his Univac electronic brain have married off only one pair.

Though romance has been great for Art's "People Are Funny" TV ratings, his batting average as a matchmaker has disenchanted him.

"It's surprising how many of our couples have everything in common," he sighed. "Then one or two little things ruined the potential marriage. I guess the human quality can never be equated, and Univac can't match the spark of love.

"Couldn't Be Happier"

"There's a poem that applies to the situation. It goes:

"I like her style, I like her smile.

"I like her talk, I like her walk.

"I just don't like HER."

The couple who did make it to the altar, Robert Kardell and Shirley Saunders, have been happily married since last Oct. 19. They write Linkletter regularly and are great boosters of Univac's selection system.

"I couldn't be happier," Shirley says. "I think Bob and I are perfectly matched."

Some Became Engaged

As in the cases of other couples brought together through Link's screening process, the Kardells they preferred double to single camp nations would bring their beds; the number of children they wanted; and other personal questions.

Several couples became engaged through Linkletter's hankypanky, but only one pair still are going steady.

The others broke up for a variety of reasons—mothers-in-law, loss of interest after initial excitement of appearing on TV, the more they got to know each other the more they hated one another.

Some of the mismatches were pipe.

Recently, Art tried to bring opposites together in accordance with the old saw opposites attract.

The man was 5-foot-4, a Democrat who liked home cooking; the mountain and hated dancing. His partner was 5-foot-1, a Republican

Anastas Mikoyan Arrives Home In Time For Congress

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Editor

Anastas Mikoyan, a Russian deputy premier and one of the Kremlin's top salesmen, arrived back in Moscow this week in time for the 21st special congress of the Soviet Communist Party.

He was returning from a visit to the United States, during which he:

—Commented favorably on Americans' ability to drink vodka.

—Commented unfavorably on U.S. foreign policy, particularly as regards Berlin and the U.S. ban on shipment of strategic goods to the Soviet Union.

—Reacted with considerable irritation when prevented from placing U.S. troop landings in Lebanon in the same category with Soviet "deceit and butchery in crushing the revolution in Hungary."

The first and third points were incidental to the main purposes of his visit, which probably were two.

Peasants Will Help Premier Beat West

By HENRY SHAPIRO
United Press International

MOSCOW (UPI)—Russian peasants pledged themselves at rallies throughout the land today to carry out Premier Nikita Khrushchev's program to outproduce the West and win the world for Communism.

Mass meetings at factories and collective farms hailed the seven-year economic development plan which Khrushchev laid before the 21st special Communist Party congress Tuesday, the state radio reported. They pledged to over-fulfill their quotas.

Trade First Objective

Mikoyan, as the Kremlin's foremost expert on merchandising, probably had an expansion of trade as his first objective.

One of the projects which the party congress will be asked to rubber stamp is Premier Nikita Khrushchev's ambitious seven-year plan for the economic development of the Soviet Union.

The announced purpose of the plan is ultimately to make the Soviet Union superior to the United States in everything from production of milk to steel.

Thus Mikoyan was in the market here for a wide variety of products ranging from entire chemical plants, to pipelines to credits.

And thus, too, his sour reaction when the State Department blocked his project.

"The cold war in the State Department is continuing," he said. To which the State Department replied: "Fatuous."

Mikoyan's second purpose here is more conjectural but may have met with greater success.

Force Summit Meeting

A diplomatic view of the sudden pressure applied by the Soviet Union two months ago to the Berlin problem is that the Soviets were acting with an ultimate view to forcing another meeting at the summit.

There is no belief that the Communists deliberately were inviting a war when they announced that in six months they would turn all land and sea controls of East Germany over to the East Germans.

But neither there is any confidence that a war could not break out over the Berlin issue.

The West is determined that West Berlin remain free and that Allied forces retain their rights to remain and be supplied there.

Danger Remains

But there remains the danger that even after his visit to the

Russia Could Overtake US In Economics

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Russia stands a good chance of overtaking the United States economically but not in the 12 years predicted by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, U.S. officials said today.

They said Khrushchev's forecast was based on a too-rosy view of the Soviet production potential. The experts doubted that the Soviet Union can score the 8 per cent a year gains Khrushchev mentioned.

U.S. officials said that because it is bigger both in area and population, the Soviet Union eventually might surpass the United States in total production.

They added, however, that it would be difficult to foresee the day when the average Soviet citizen would enjoy as high a standard of living as the average American.

One economist estimated that if Russia could achieve 8 per cent a year expansion and the United States continued to move ahead at about 3 per cent, the Soviets might achieve economic parity in about 20 years.

The experts doubted that the 8 per cent annual Soviet expansion could be achieved because of the difficulty of sustaining a big percentage gain as the size of a nation's economy increases.

The limited information available here does indicate, however, that the Russians have been scoring bigger relative gains than the United States. They said Russia has probably averaged 5 to 7 per cent growth annually. This country has grown in the 20th century at an average rate of 3 per cent.

Best estimates are that the Soviet economy is about 40 per cent

LOVE that cake! For an engagement announcement or Valentine's Day, this strawberry angel creation is a thing of beauty.

COOK'S NOOK

Making Strawberry Angel Cake Is Labor Of Love

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Wherever the heart and love are concerned, there belongs a strawberry angel cake. Especially if there's to be a party. So for the next engagement-announcement party, or for St. Valentine's, use this recipe:

STRAWBERRY-ANGEL VALENTINE OR ANNOUNCEMENT CAKE

One package strawberry angel food cake mix, 7-minute frosting. Prepare angel cake mix batter according to package directions. Four two-thirds of batter into 2 greased 8-inch layers. Pour remaining batter into 12 paper baking cups set in muffin pans. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.)

RUTH MILLETT

Sometimes it is a couple's friends rather than their enemies who put the greatest strain on their marriage.

Here's a letter from a 30-year-old wife who has "friends" to thank for her husband's growing discontent and feeling of frustration.

She writes: "My husband has a good job with a bright future. Until recently the two of us got a real feeling of satisfaction out of buying our own home, making plans for the future, budgeting our money and in general trying to get ahead."

"But about a year ago we became friendly with a couple who have no children (we have two) and who believe in living for today only. They are always kidding us about our budget, telling my husband he is a fool to work so hard, and pointing out how much better off they are by renting an apartment and struggling to pay for a home and working to keep up a yard, as we are."

"It personally have come to the conclusion that they are too lazy to try to get ahead themselves, and yet are jealous of us for having some goals and working to achieve them."

"But their ideas have impressed my husband and he is becoming dissatisfied with our way of life. He has been to enthusiastic about his job. Now he talks about the old treadmill. He used to be proud of our home. Now he keeps saying it's a constant financial drain."

"It worries me—but I don't know what to do about it. What do you suggest?"

"That you make some new friends and stop seeing much of the couple who have nothing to offer but their discontent."

"A discontented couple is like a rotten apple in a barrel of sound ones. Their softness spreads by contact."

"You needn't feel badly about dumping these people. They aren't really friends. Friends don't try to make you dissatisfied with your lot or get you to doubt your own aims. True friends encourage and stimulate you and take pleasure in your successes."

"Make some real friends—and let this dissatisfied pair go their own soft, easy, aimless way."

LEFORS (Sp) — Art and Civic Club met recently in the civic center for an officer election and a program on "Bible Study."

Persons now holding the offices of president, vice president, secretary and treasurer, and re-elected were: Mmes. G. H. Gustin—president; Babe Hall, vice president; Miss Mickey Johnson, secretary and Mrs. W. D. McBea, treasurer. Mrs. James E. Jinks was elected finance chairman; Mmes. C. C. Mullins, year-book; R. H. Spring Breezes To Stir Soft Hairdo As Bangs Wait For Hat To Cap Them

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

This spring's hairdos have been chosen to make every woman look as graceful and feminine as possible. Hats that are graceful and flattering have been designed to complement new hair styles.

Men are appreciative when women look charming and pretty. So the new spring coiffures have many features aimed at pleasing the male population. A good thing, too. For it's a rare girl who isn't delighted by an approving glance from the man in her life.

The hair is short enough to be neat four inches at the crown and one to three inches at the nape of the neck) yet long enough to curl and fluff around the ends. Never stiff-looking, these hair styles are treated with a soft and gentle touch that gives them an artless air.

Bangs play an important role in the new spring hairdos. For whether waved, curled, fluff or carved, they have an endless number of virtues. They can hide a long forehead, make a thin face look fuller, and even conceal the wrinkles on your brow.

And, more important still, hair brought forward on the face makes a woman look soft and feminine. Be sure, though, to have your hair styled professionally. It is very possible that the kind of bangs you like most won't be coming to you. Perhaps just a tiny suggestion of a bang will give you the needed softness, and a full bang would not look good.

However, some softness should be added. You can prove it to yourself by pulling your hair severely back. You'll find out how prettier you look when it frames your face.

The spring hair styles also are designed to expose the ear tips, for they are the prettiest part of the ear, especially when earrings are worn. Yet the tops of the ears are concealed, for they are usually not attractive.

Hats this spring are particularly lovely and are created to complement the new coiffures. In addition to being in the same feminine spirit as the hair styles, they are wonderful "hairdo hats" that, for a place of business, I would like to see this published together with your answer.

BUSINESS WOMAN

DEAR BUSINESS: In an office frequently overdressed at first in an effort to make a good impression. Give her a little time to observe how the rest of the office girls dress. If she doesn't "catch on" tip her off in a friendly way.

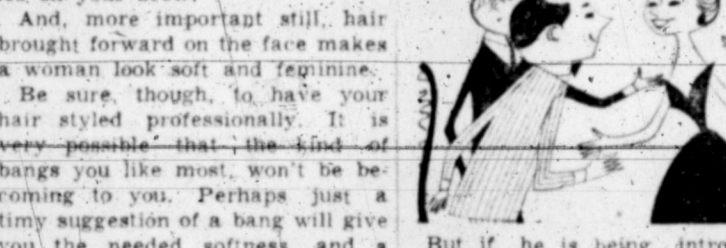

DEAR ABBY: We are married and have one child. My husband is a checker in a grocery store and he is the friendly type; with a real good disposition, but everywhere we go I catch him smiling at girls. If I smiled at men the way he smiles at girls, believe me, I would have a few teeth missing. When I ask him to quit smiling at girls he says he doesn't even know he was smiling. But I notice they smile back at him. (Does he think they are smiling at him for nothing?) Please tell me if I am being silly for my complaint.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Von Buren

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine called me up and said, "If you promise not to tell anyone, I will tell you something about So and So." Naturally I promised and she told me. The next day another friend called me up and told me the very same thing about this Mr. So and So and she said, "Everybody knows it so I don't care if you repeat it." Now, please understand, Abby, when I repeated what I had heard I did not feel that I was letting the cat out of the bag or that I had broken my promise but I got into the biggest fight over this that I cannot sleep nights. Was I wrong or was I not?

SICK AT HEART

DEAR SICK: When anyone offers you "gossip" about a third party if you "promise not to tell" — tell them that you don't want the responsibility of knowing such confidential information. You see, wrong in repeating gossip, whether it was "out of the bag" or not, is yours.

DEAR ABBY: We have a new girl in our office who comes to work dressed like she was going to a square dance. She wears scoop-necked blouses and flared skirts with three and four stiff petticoats. I can't see outfits like that for a place of business. I would like to see this published together with your answer.

BUSINESS WOMAN

DEAR BUSINESS: In an office frequently overdressed at first in an effort to make a good impression. Give her a little time to observe how the rest of the office girls dress. If she doesn't "catch on" tip her off in a friendly way.

But I notice they smile back at him. (Does he think they are smiling at him for nothing?) Please tell me if I am being silly for my complaint.

NOT SMILING

DEAR NOT: A smile need not always be a signal for "encouragement" — but merely a pleasant expression. Let him smile.

DEAR ABBY: I am starting to go out on dates. When I come home my mother wants to know what happened. I tell her and by the next morning it is spread around the neighborhood. I have asked her time and again not to tell anyone but she keeps doing it. I can't say I don't want to tell her anything any more. What should I do?

NEEDS HELP

DEAR NEEDS: Your mother doesn't realize that she is violating a very sacred trust. Ask her to promise she'll keep your secrets, and tell her if she doesn't keep her promise you'll keep your secrets — to yourself.

DEAR UNPOPULAR: A smile is a curve that can set a lot of things straight. Try it!

Only 22 per cent of a beef carcass consists of "choice" cuts which are tender enough to broil, according to the Texas Beef Council. The remaining 78 per cent of a beef animal, however, can be cooked slowly for more tenderness, is just as nutritious, and is often considered more flavorful.

AROUND THE WORLD

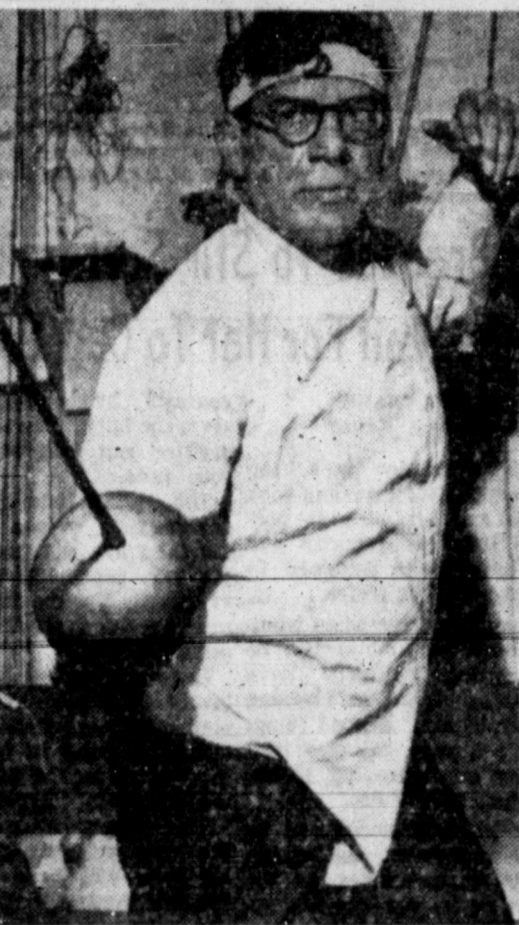

TO EACH HIS OWN

ON HIS WAY—Jack Redmond, famed trick shot golfer, is practicing with his own sand wedge for his sixth round-the-world tour at an indoor golf club in New Haven, Conn. That new golf bag has a telephone, bar and grill, all set for his tour of 36 countries in the near future.

PERSONAL TASTE—Hobbies are a matter of preference, and a skindiver named Tripodi likes to prove that underwater fishing is as good a sport in winter as in summer. He's holding a catch he made at Marseilles, France (left). In London, England, writer Paul Gallico keeps in trim by fencing (center).

His pen could be mightier than his sword, but he's willing to try both ways. TV cowboy Chuck Connors gets his off-camera kick by swimming in his pool in Hollywood (right). The ex-ballplayer is diving through a floating hula hoop, and that ought to be hobby enough to satisfy anyone.

U. S. WINNER—She's Betsy Snite (right) of Norwich, Vt., standing with an arm around runner-up Daniele Thelinge, of France, after winning the giant slalom race at Grindelwald, Switzerland. The race was the first of the Alpine events at the 21st International Ladies' ski races held in the Bernese Oberland section of the country.

A WINNING PAIR—Two good sports, tennis star Shirley Bloomer and her fiance, runner Chris Brasher, are strolling hand-in-hand in London, England, shortly after announcing their engagement. Shirley is a top court star and a member of the famed Wightman Cup team. Brasher won a gold medal in the steeplechase event at the Olympics in Melbourne, Australia. The two athletes plan to be married in the spring and will probably make their home in the British capital.

UPSADAISY—Jim Waldo, 24, and a junior at the University of Minnesota, is shown as he limbered up on his ice skates in Duluth. Waldo is head over heels at the moment, and is probably making a snap decision about where—and how—he'll land.

BALL BOUNCER—Completing 24 hours of continuous dribbling with a basketball is Lew Lewis, of Utica, N. Y. The freshman pledge of Zeta Beta Tau fraternity at the University of Syracuse won the silver cup held by a fraternity brother.

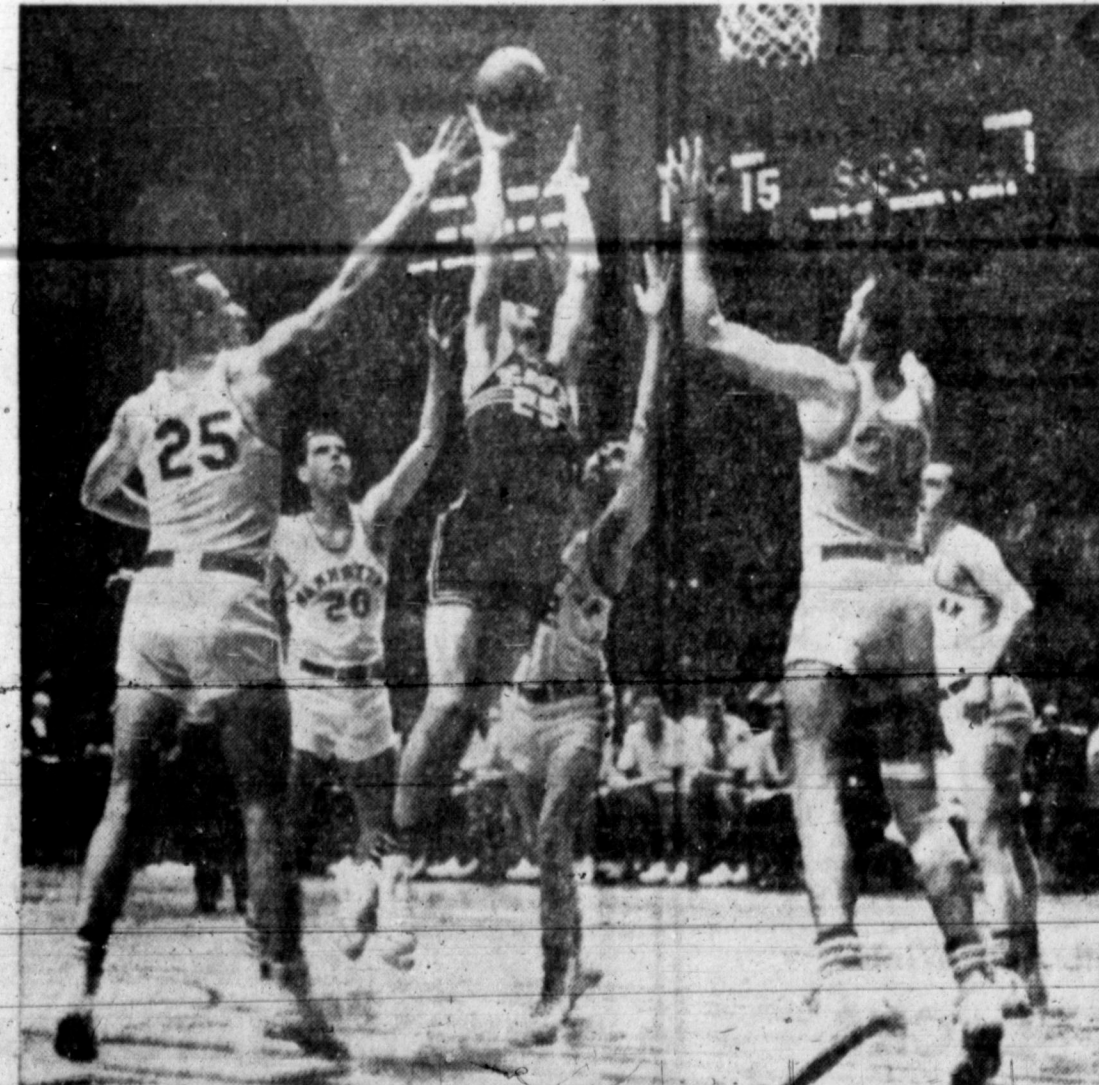

IT'S ALL HIS—Middleweight Eddie Dixon (right) of Newark, N. J., lands a right to the body of Ace Armstrong, of Elizabeth, N. J., during their 10-round bout in Manhattan. Armstrong, unbeaten middleweight contender, scored his 16th straight victory with a unanimous decision over Dixon.

GAY BLADES—Skimming over the ice at Sun Valley, Idaho, TV star Bob Cummings (right) tries to hold the same position as skating instructor Herman Maricich. Cummings made a skating movie with Sonja Henie some years ago, so he knows what he's doing.

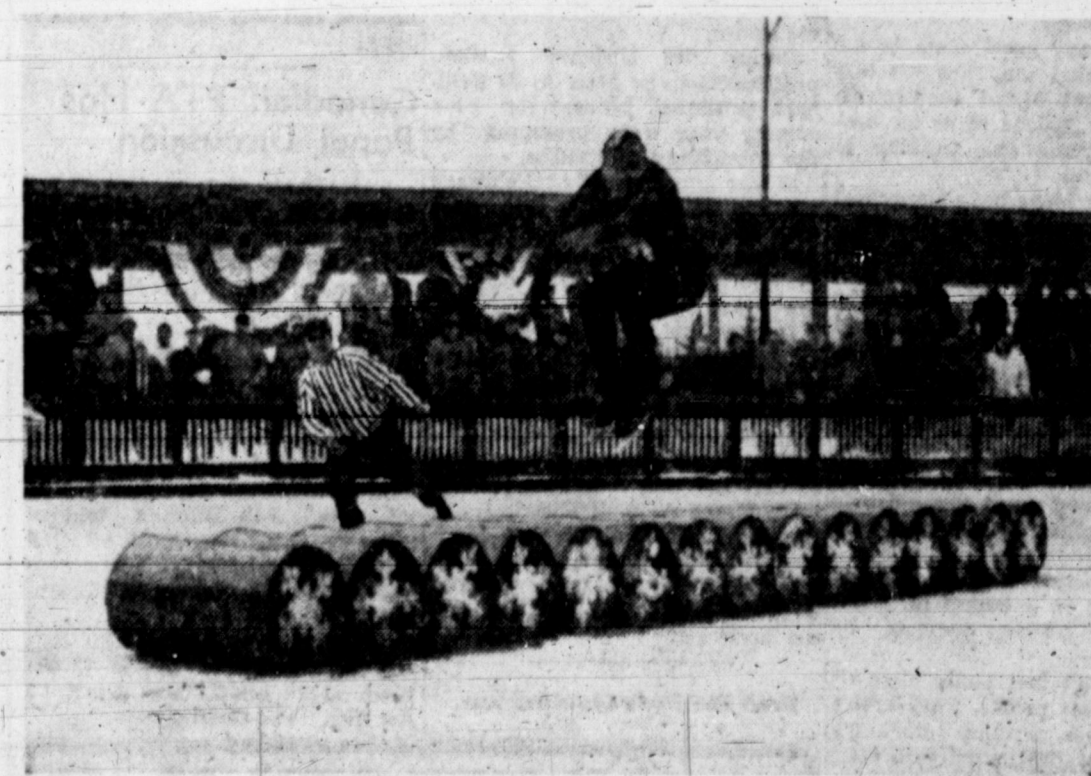

RESTING UNEASILY—Goalie Glenn Hall, of the Chicago Blackhawks, is down on the ice in New York as he blocks a scoring attempt. Hall successfully handled 25 Ranger shots and is registering his first shutout of the season. Also in on the action are Andy Heberton (left) of the New York Rangers; Pierre Pilote (3) of Chicago, and Rangers' Jack Bownass.

IN A SPOT—Navy's Dick Johnson (25, center) is alone in hostile territory as Manhattan College players surround him during the game at Madison Square Garden. The sailor leaves his opponents as he leaps to intercept a rebound in their midst. It appears to be too many to one, so Manhattan took the game with a final 70 to 66.

FAMILY ON A HORSE—They're Tony and Joan Beristevangs, horse racing's only "exercise-boy-girl" team. Holding their six-month-old son Michael, they're atop a horse at Hialeah, Fla., where they gallop the animals for the Calumet Farm.

RETAINING A TITLE—Up in the air, Leo LeBel, 28, is hurtling over 15 barrels on the ice skating arena at the Country Club in Grossinger, N. Y. He cleared almost 26 feet to clinch his fifth victory as World Barrel Jumping Champion.

Red Griggs the pipeline

We were unable to believe our eyes Wednesday morning when we read that the mighty Borger Bulldogs had been held to a mere eight-point victory by the lowly Tascosa Rebels.

To add insult to injury, the Bulldogs were outshot from the floor by the Rebels, 12 to 9. If it hadn't been for 19 free throws sunk by the Bulldogs in 23 attempts, Borger would have lost to probably the worst class 4A basketball team in the state of Texas.

It's a good thing this didn't quite happen, because if it had the Borger-Pampa basketball game Friday would have been almost meaningless. The way things stand now, Borger could tie the district race by winning Friday's game.

Judging by Tuesday's game against Tascosa, the Bulldogs would be lucky to beat the Shockers. But you can't place too much stock on Tuesday's performance, because the Harvesters would also be lucky to beat a good B team playing again like they did Tuesday.

Still, we can't quite stretch our imagination enough to see the Harvesters being held to an eight point win by Tascosa, on the worst night they could ever possibly have.

Borger Must'a Been Lousy

Tommy Bryant, Amarillo ball of fire against Amarillo, they were at least playing a team which belongs in class 4A basketball. Tascosa, with no experience and no height, can't be expected to beat a 4A team that's worth its salt. But to their credit and Borger's shame, they almost did.

Clothes Will Be Sold Like Canned Goods

Woman to Prime By MARY PRIME. United Press International. NEW YORK (UPI)—In 1964, women will shop for clothes as they do for food—in supermarkets.

"Within 25 years, clothes will become supermarket stock. You'll put your money in a slot and a dress will come out packaged," said Cole in an interview.

"We're already heading toward supermarket selling," he added. "Look at fashionable Fifth Avenue stores. Customers used to remain seated while clothes were brought to them. Today, more and more stock is put on the racks for women to thumb through."

"Displays and decorations still are more elegant than in self-help stores, but the fashionable shops are basically the same as cut-rate stores."

"What about custom tailoring?" "There won't be any. Clothes will be vulcanized and seamed by machine, not hand-sewn. When clothing becomes a grocery store item, the emphasis will be on warmth and wearability, not style."

"The only tangible thing in fashion is a woman's figure. Styles are a variation of what to do with the neckline, bustline, waistline, line, hips and hemline."

"In the future, clothes will be more functional. Space travel will affect all fashion. Even if a woman doesn't go to the moon, her clothes will reflect the demands of those who do."

"What will space fashions look like?" "Synthetics are coming trend. Who knows. Maybe pale blue one-piece jumpsuits of plastic. One thing is certain. Eventually all clothes will be made entirely of synthetics," he said.

"Synthetics are the coming trend, although we may not abandon pure fibers in our lifetime," he continued. "Synthetics don't have the rich appeal of wool and silk, because we haven't created the romance about them. But you can bet your dollars there will be romances. Even with super-market fashions, the dress business will be bigger than ever. And we might be clothing Mars."

Red Skelton Remains On Top Of Television Comedy Heap

By WILLIAM EWALD United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Television has digested most of its funnymen, but Red Skelton manages to remain unbeaten.

Tuesday night CBS-TV offered Skelton twice — once on a painfully limp Arthur Godfrey show and again on his own show. Skelton obviously is not only a study in survival, he is an étude in semi-ubiquity.

There is a lesson in Skelton's durability and I think it is a fairly melancholy one. It is this: There is a section of the TV audience that does not want freshness or wit in its comedy, as it does not want freshness or wit in its Westerns, family series or dramas. I suspect that most of these are children of varying ages, unweaned and seeking security in the familiar.

Skelton's show is burlesque in its dosage. Much of the comedy is physical and the sort of thing that amuses retarded schoolboys. Tuesday night, for example, Lon Chaney hit Skelton for one laugh and then kicked him in the shins for two more laughs.

Chaney also did such things as eating a chair, a plate, a spoon and Skelton's hand. Skelton replied by making faces.

When the flow of physical fun runs down, there are always the jokes. At one point Tuesday night Skelton fell flat on his face and guest Marilyn Maxwell said: "He's ready for the North Pole — he's out cold."

You may not think this much of a joke and you know, you're right. But when the ordinary jokes don't work, Skelton's script usually offers some leer-twee sex-bosom jokes, long underwear jokes or jokes like this one Tuesday night: Skelton, after looking at a sexy girl: "She kind of steamed me up which is unusual because my boiler is burned out."

This, I submit, is plainly gross, it is not honest ribaldry, which has a vitality and even a certain rough innocence, but merely vulgarity. Worse still, like the Skelton show as a whole, it is tired, witless and painfully cheap.

Short Shots: Sheila MacRae's Autry.

imitation of Dinah Shore on the CBS-TV Garry Moore show Tuesday night was wonderful, wonderful. Moore happily broke an unofficial TV taboo on the show.

Fiesta Time In Lower Rio Grande Valley

EDINBURG, Tex. (UPI) — It's fiesta time in the lower Rio Grande Valley.

The first one has already been held and four more cities have celebrations scheduled during the next two months.

The beneficiaries are the valley's 100,000 tourists who join in the festivities.

Mission started the fiesta scheduled last Wednesday with the Citrus Fiesta, which continued through last Saturday.

Next came a $1,000 fishing rodeo at San Benito Wednesday through Saturday. Fishermen from Colorado, Minnesota, Oklahoma and Michigan will be after the first prize of $500.

The day after the fishermen hang up their lines to dry, golfers will tee off in the Life Begins at 40 Golf Tournament in Harlingen.

The tournament is the grandfather of 40 other similar tournaments from coast to coast.

The valley's oldest festival is the colorful Charro Days in Brownsville and Matamoros, Mexico, Feb. 5-8. The celebration will be highlighted by three dances featuring Les Elgart and his orchestra. It also includes a golf tournament.

Harlingen will get back into the act Feb. 15-18 with the Fiesta Turista, which includes a mid-winter bathing beauty contest in the semi-tropical, lower valley climate.

The last show of the season is the Rio Grande Valley Livestock Show in Mercedes, March 18-23. It will feature a world championship rodeo and cowboy star Gene Autry.

Moore, who has Winston cigarettes for a sponsor, presented the dancing group, the Dunhills, which is the name of a rival tobaccoist. Dagnet opened its eighth year on NBC-TV Tuesday night with a ho-hum effort. Tony Randall and NBC-TV's George Gobel spoofed TV chat shows in an amusing skit that would have benefited from some cutting.

The Channel Swim: Jeanne Crain, Jane Powell, Tah Hunter, Ed Wynn, Myrna Loy and Walter Pidgeon are shaping up as the cast for the two-hour April 26 CBS-TV special, "Meet Me In St. Louis." CBS-TV's Sunday afternoon show, behind the news, is preparing a script on the TV ratings systems. Dennis the Menace looks like a definite starter on the CBS-TV fall schedule — it stars Jay North.

CBS-TV's Yancy Derringer got a renewal through September. Betsy Palmer will substitute for vacationing Bess Myerson on CBS-TV's The Big Payoff for two weeks starting Feb. 16. NBC-TV is pitching a spectacular at Louis Prima and Keely Smith. CBS-TV will yank off Invisible Man for six weeks starting Feb. 10 and fill in with re-runs of Schlitz Playhouse.

Wayde Preston of ABC-TV's Colt 45, who'll guest in ABC-TV's Sugarfoot next Tuesday, also has been signed to appear in another ABC-TV Western — The Feb. 15 Maverick — "Sage of Waco Williams."

Robert Crawford, who'll star in CBS-TV's Playhouse — 90 — drama, "Child of Our Time," on Feb. 5, is the older brother of Johnny Crawford of ABC-TV's The Rifleman.

Ed Sullivan will tape eight of his CBS-TV summer shows in advance to give his crew a hot weather breather. CBS films is planning a low budget 13-week drama series that'll be produced by Robert Herridge. Eli Wallach has been added to the cast of "For Whom The Bell Tolls," set for CBS-TV's Playhouse 90 the first two Thursdays in March.

Automatic transmissions, a novelty in 1946, are found on nearly 75 per cent of 1956 automobiles.

OUTLAWS BABY SALES
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) has introduced legislation to outlaw interstate sale of babies.

Kefauver said in a statement that the measure was needed to stamp out "interstate baby racketeers" and to protect the estimated 160,000 illegitimate children born in the nation each year, their mothers and prospective foster parents.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas
A public service feature of the Blue Bird of Texas

Newcomers To State May Have Legal Problems

We're all proud that Texas is a growing state. Each year thousands of people swarm here from other parts of the country to benefit from the many opportunities in business and industry. In addition to their skill and brainpower, these newcomers bring with them a variety of legal papers and ideas which are based upon the laws of other states.

We don't always remember that federal laws are only a part of our system and that each of the 48 states has "reserved powers" under the constitution to make its own laws. "States' rights" is one of the most jealously-guarded principles in American government.

Because of this difference in state laws, for example, a state like Nevada becomes a popular spot to get a divorce, many businesses incorporate in Delaware, and some other states become havens for quick marriages. But there are many lesser-known variations in state laws which can have quite a bearing on your legal affairs.

If you own property in another state, or prepared your will before moving to Texas, or have business interests elsewhere, no matter how small, the variations in state laws could make a difference to you and your family.

If one is new in Texas he should take a second look at his legal standing in the light of Texas law. If one should move to another state, he should do the same thing when he gets settled there. Or if one has a plot of land in Florida or California as part of his retirement plans, let's say, or even minor interests in another state, he should protect himself beforehand against any possible complications due to differences in state laws.

The best-laid plans in your home state might put you or your heirs to a disadvantage when interpreted under the laws of another state. (This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Castro, a man about whom the outside world knew little, chewed thoughtfully on a cigar in a Cuban retreat deep in Oriente Province's Sierra Maestra Mountains.

"Batista has made fools of the Cuban people for 17 years," he said. "They won't stand it any longer."

He was speaking to Charles Schuman, a United Press International correspondent who for 17 days had lived and marched with the rebels, trying to learn what manner of man this was who believed that with 2,000 men he could overthrow a government which commanded an army of 25,000 men, a police force of 7,000 plus a small navy and air force.

Even in Cuba, Castro's words attracted scant attention. The outside world paid no attention at all.

Collapse Surprises World
And so it was with a sense of complete unreality that the news burst on New Year's morning that President Fulgencio Batista had fled and that Castro had won.

Three weeks earlier, UPI's chief correspondent in Havana, Francis McCarthy, had come out of Havana to Miami in order to telephone his New York office free of Cuban government censorship. The climactic moment, he said, was near.

But even veteran newsmen were unaware how far the crumbling process had gone inside the Batista regime.

When McCarthy telephoned to New York the news of Batista's flight he still was wearing the tuxedo in which he had welcomed in the new year. He was to continue to wear it for many hours longer.

What had happened?

Today, Batista's collapse is attributed to four principal factors — rebel nerve, rebel bluff, demoralization of the regular army and economic pressures.

Rebels Demoralize Army
Of rebel nerve and bluff there is no doubt.

At Santi Spiritus in Oriente Province, 35 men firing firecracker rockets so demoralized an army garrison of 700 men that the troops took a vote whether to fight, surrender or "retire." They chose the latter course. In the final hours' eight men 195k over Cabana Fortress, whose guns snarled Havana's Four Winds gate over Havana Airport and 90 men captured Cuban army headquarters at Camp Columbia outside Havana, wherein there were 5,000 regulars.

In the so-called decisive battle of Santa Clara at Cuba's narrow waist, it is now known that dead on both sides totaled no more than about 70.

But this is the battle which now is believed finally to have made up Batista's mind.

Economic Pressures Heavy
Batista's chief reliance always had been upon the army and his police force.

In the pre-dawn hours, at his refuge inside Camp Columbia, Batista realized the army was falling apart around him.

In addition, there had developed enormous economic pressures.

Harvest time was near for the sugar crop, Cuba's chief economic crop. But a great portion of this crop lay at the mercy of Castro's hit-run raiders. In Havana, tourist trade had been reduced to a trickle.

Now Castro's "26th of July" movement rules Cuba. The movement takes its name from Castro's first armed attack against Batista forces. It was an abortive attack on the Moncada Barracks in Santiago on July 26, 1953, in which about 150 students and soldiers died and for which Castro went to prison.

Credit Union Declares Dividend

LEFORS (Sp) — A three-and-one-half percent dividend was declared by officials and members of the Columbian Carbon Federal Credit Union at the annual meeting of the group recently. The Union was organized in 1958.

Arthur Hammer, president, presided at the meeting at which officers were elected. The new Board of Directors include C. A. Hammer, J. L. Lockard, Alfred Cated, Lee Arlington, and Howard Archer.

Elected to the credit committee were L. W. Ables, Horace Blair and E. W. Jones.

Bill Eads, Charles Roberts and Elsie Smith make up the supervisory committee. Some of the officers have held the offices in the past year and were re-elected.

A $19 bonus was also given to Bill Teel, resigned treasurer of the group who recently moved to Amarillo. His office is now being filled by Lee Arlington.

J. D. Luton of Lubbock, field representative from the Credit Union League, was the speaker of the evening.
