

Union Request For Injunction Is Denied Here

Request for a temporary injunction against operators of City and Ideal Laundries was refused in 118th District Court Tuesday afternoon at the close of hearing on petition filed by the International Union of Operating Engineers Local 826.

Attorneys for the plaintiff, Tom Adams and Mack Rodgers, gave notice of appeal.

The defense offered no testimony in the hearing. Several employees of the laundries and representatives of the union testified for the plaintiffs.

Tom South, one of the defendants who was called to the stand by the plaintiffs, testified that he would have no objection to the formation of a union of laundry employees if they met any place except at the laundry.

Plaintiffs had alleged that owners and operators of the laundries had attempted to prevent the holding of an election to determine if employees should be organized and affiliated with Local 826, I.U.O.E.

Alfred G. Goodson, business representative for Local 826, said he and D. A. Brazel, district representative for I.U.O.E., had attempted to discuss with G. B. South and other owners of the laundries the matter of employee organization.

He said South told them he didn't want to talk and asked that they contact his attorney.

Goodson also said that employees of the laundries had called him "several times" and that they said they were afraid of losing their jobs. On cross examination, Goodson testified he has heard of no discharge of employees at either City or Ideal Laundry.

The plaintiffs have filed with the National Labor Relations Board an application for the NLRB to take jurisdiction and conduct an election among employees. A ruling on the application is not expected until mid-December, Adams said today.

Attorneys for the defendants were Walter Morrison and Carroll Smith.

Rail Strike Vote Begins

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fifteen unions started the machinery today for polling one million telegraphers, clerks and other nonoperating railroad workers on whether they would strike for a health plan and other non-wage benefits.

But a union leader indicated a strike is unlikely, at least for several months.

The unions—which do not cover engineers, firemen, trainmen or conductors—announced the strike vote yesterday after, they said, the railroads failed to accept an invitation to begin conferences here.

George E. Leighty, head of the telegraphers union and chairman of a joint negotiating committee set up by the 15 organizations, said at the same time that the unions have called on the national mediation board to step in. Generally, a strike—if authorized—is postponed when the board intervenes.

The issues in the dispute center around the health and welfare proposal and four others—longer paid vacations, pay for holiday work, overtime for Sunday duty, and a free transportation plan.

The unions, accusing the railroads of "protracted stalling," made public a letter sent to the carriers' representatives Oct. 12 in which they said they were "unwilling to countenance any further delay" in starting negotiations.

Leighty characterized counter-proposals made by the railroads as "stone age, bourbon" ideas which he said would "practically write off" seniority and other provisions in present agreements.

Justice Department Gives McCarrhy Its Okay To Quiz A-Spy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarrhy (R-Wis.) said today the Justice Department has agreed to let him question the confessed atomic spy, David Greenglass, in the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa.

Greenglass is the man whose testimony helped to send his sister, Ethel Rosenberg, and her husband Julius to the electric chair last summer as spies. He is serving a 15-year sentence for espionage.

Way Is Cleared For State Drought Aid

By MAC ROY RASOR
AUSTIN (AP)—An attorney general's opinion has cleared the way for a drought relief program in Texas without an immediate special session of the Legislature, Gov. Shivers said today.

Shivers said Attorney Gen. Shepperd advised him in a legal opinion that Agriculture Commissioner John White has authority to administer an emergency hay program in Texas for needy drought-hit farmers and ranchers.

The opinion also held that the governor's $200,000 deficiency appropriation may be used to supplement White's funds to carry out the hay program.

Shepperd had the opinion on the governor's desk early, less than 24 hours after it was requested. Shivers said further steps in the relief program would have to await the return of White from a conference in Kansas City tomorrow and a price survey being conducted by the Extension Service of Texas A&M.

White was asked by the governor yesterday to attend the Kansas City conference of agriculture commissioners from the federally-designated drought disaster states.

Shivers had asked Shepperd late yesterday to decide on the legality of using the $200,000 deficiency appropriation to buy and transport hay to help Texas cattle through the winter in the 86 drought counties.

The governor said if this could be done, it would delay a special session at least until that fund is used, possibly one or two months.

Another look then could be taken at the situation to decide whether a session was needed, he said. Unless the fund could be so used, the governor viewed a special session as the only answer for finding money for the state to go along with a state and federal program.

The cost-sharing program was agreed on at a conference last week between President Eisenhower and the governors of the drought disaster states.

Shivers had asked White and the Extension Service last week to report to him on the amount, location and price of hay in Texas and how much would be needed to feed drought-area livestock during the winter.

"We are in accord that a minimum of 70,000 tons of hay are available in Texas at the present time, possibly 100,000 tons, and it will take 40,000 tons a month to supply the 86 drought counties," the governor related.

"The big question," he said, "is the amount local farmers and ranchers can afford to pay for the hay."

The governor said the Extension Service would consult local committees set up by the Production Marketing Administration to get their estimates on how much farmers and ranchers could pay in their area. The survey will take about 10 days.

Under the program, White would use state money to supplement federal funds to buy and transport hay for resale in the drought areas at the prices determined by the local PMA committees.

Applications would be received and processed by the PMA committees and distribution would be through local dealers, Shivers said.

The governor said if Shepperd should decide the deficiency fund could not be used for the hay program, he would wait until the PMA price survey report was in before recommending further where the money to finance the program might come from.

The deficiency appropriation ordinarily is used to supplement legislative appropriations for state departments and agencies when their funds for necessary operations run out between legislative sessions.

Commissioners also pointed out to property owners that buildings now extending into Union and 4th Streets will have to be removed. Alternative will be for the city to take title to the street structures, they said.

City Manager H. W. Whitney informed commissioners that 20 right-of-way deeds must yet be signed for 4th Street. Negotiations are being completed for several of these, he said.

Commissioners decided to lease part of the 14-acre tract east of the city limits to Clyde McMahon for a concrete plant. However, the part of the tract which will be left adjacent to the proposed 4th Street highway will not be leased at this time, they decided. If the highway is constructed, part of the tract will be on each side.

A petition signed by 15 property owners asking that an alley be opened in Block 4 of the Thixton Addition was acted upon. Opening of the alley brought favorable comment, but commissioners found their access is not available in the block.

Payment of $81 damages to R. E. Haskell was voted. Haskell's car was damaged Monday night when it dropped off into a ditch cut across an alley on San Antonio Street between 3rd and 4th. The ditch was cut during road repairs Monday.

Uniform allowance was also voted for A. V. Brown, who recently resigned from the police force.

Security Council Votes To Hold Off On Trieste Issue

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. Security Council voted over Soviet opposition last night to hold off on the Trieste issue and cleared its decks for an exhaustive probe into the explosive Palestine situation.

The 11-nation council faces its next Palestine debate tomorrow when it takes up Syria's plaint that Israel is endangering Middle East peace by diverting the waters of the historic River Jordan.

Gen. Vagn Bennike, chief of staff of the truce supervision organization in Palestine, has been summoned to report on the general Palestine situation. He left Jerusalem by plane last night and is expected to arrive here later this week.

The front was expected to reach Mineral Wells by early Thursday. In its wake it left five persons injured in a twister at Amarillo, half-damaged cotton fields in the Olton-Spring Lake area, and rains reported as heavy as 3.82 inches around Dalhart.

The twister that struck Amarillo apparently was the real thing and struck out of a black, funnel-shaped cloud about 5:30 p. m. Tuesday. Its worst damage was to a trailer court in the northeast section of the Pauhhandle city.

Folks Ready To Welcome POW Home

BIG STONE GAP, Va. (AP)—Folks around this community in mountainous southwest Virginia have a message for Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson:

"Tell him nobody hereabouts thinks hard of him for what he done, and we will all give him a big welcome home. Ain't no hard feelings on our part."

Those were the words last night of a grateful mother, Mrs. Bessie C. Dickenson, after receiving news that her son had changed his mind and wanted to come home after first refusing repatriation in Korea.

The Dickensons—the father is 72 the mother in her 40s—live in a remote cabin "straight up" a mountainside about three miles from the nearest village. The home is about six miles from the nearest telephone.

"We weren't exactly surprised," Mrs. Dickenson told a reporter later from a party-line telephone at Cracker's Neck, a community six miles from here. "We had done heard on our radio early tonight, that one of the boys had decided to come home. They didn't say what his name was, but my husband said to me: 'Bessie, I just feel like that's Ed.' Well, I tell you, I felt like that too."

The happy mother said "nearly everybody" in the area had written to her son urging him to accept repatriation.

22,400 North Korean and Chinese POWs, meanwhile, were canceled again today for the fourth straight day.

Dickenson angrily crumpled a pack of Chinese cigarettes and asked of Indian officers, "Is it all right to smoke, sir?" The officer replied, "Yes," and the smiling corporal lit an American cigarette.

After the 10-minute transfer process, Dickenson was whisked by helicopter to the 121st Evacuation Hospital in Seoul for a medical checkup and processing.

Dickenson made up his mind to come back some time before 10 Tuesday night. The soldier approached an Indian guard, complained of being ill and asked to be taken to the medical station outside the stockade.

Once there, he asked for an officer, and an Indian noncommissioned officer asked him: "What is wrong with you?"

Dickenson replied: "Nothing's wrong with me. I want to be repatriated."

He was segregated from the other nonrepatriated prisoners.

President Voices Full Confidence In Benson Says Farmers Less Upset Than Politicos

City Moves To Complete 4th Street Plans

City commissioners made their move on the Camp Coleman problem Tuesday afternoon by offering property owners a much smaller sum than was asked for 4th Street right-of-way.

Although Camp Coleman property owners Worth Peeler and Wallace Milburn had asked for damages in excess of $30,000, the commissioners offered to pay $3,500 and install curb and gutters.

Peeler and Milburn made no decision at the commission meeting but said they would refer the offer to L. E. Coleman, who has a lien on the property.

Commissioners also pointed out to property owners that buildings now extending into Union and 4th Streets will have to be removed. Alternative will be for the city to take title to the street structures, they said.

THIS WAS ONE GRAND BAG OF GROCERIES

Mrs. H. O. Ware found a surprise package in her bag of groceries Tuesday.

Following a shopping trip to Piggly Wiggly she emptied the bag at home and found a small sack full of money, all in currency.

Excited and not knowing what to do, she turned the money over to her husband. Ware immediately called police and said they had received money by mistake and wished to return it.

Patrolman E. W. McCain said Mrs. Ware handed him the money like it was a hot potato when he arrived. "She was scared stiff and just didn't want that money," he said.

A quick count revealed the bills totaled exactly $1,000. Police deduced that the clerk had accidentally placed the money in the bag while sacking up groceries.

Needless to say, the grocery manager was mighty happy to get the money back and immediately made arrangements for a reward.

Moisture did come at an opportune time. Thousands of acres had been planted to small grains after the Oct. 1 rains. Wednesday's seasoning will either brighten that already up or help bring up recently planted fields to a good stand.

Ranges were among chief beneficiaries. While the showers lacked soaking qualities, it was sufficient to give the reviving grass roots a boost at a critical moment. Thus, it kept alive hopes that pasture would get a chance to do some mending before frost.

After blustery, dusty weather for several days, townpeople welcomed the settling of dust.

The rains were accompanied by a spirited electrical display that huffed and cracked until it squeezed out some water.

Among area towns reporting were: Colorado City .55 (TESCO downtown gauge showed .76), Morgan Creek (southwest of Colorado City) .42, Coahoma .5, Vincent .5, Reef Fields gasoline plant north of Gay Hill .75, Ackerly approximately half an inch, Knott .7, Stanton .5 with amount heavier in northern Martin County, Midland 1.01 Snyder .39, Snowwater 1.2, Eskota 1.00, Olchabik in southeast Howard .33, Forsan .4 to .5, Garden City shower.

A cool front pushed weakly southeast Wednesday after spawning a twister at Amarillo that injured five persons and kicking up spotty thunderstorms over the dry Texas Panhandle and Plains.

At mid-morning the front curved from between Big Spring and Abilene north to Childress into Oklahoma. Rain had stopped but the Weather Bureau forecast more scattered storms as it inched deeper into the state.

Temperatures behind the front were 5 to 10 degrees cooler. Morning minimums ranged from 45 at Dalhart to 76 at Galveston.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today voiced full confidence in Secretary of Agriculture Benson who has come under fire from some Congressmen.

Eisenhower also told a news conference he believes the nation's cattlemen and farmers are taking their current problems in stride and are not as upset about them as some politicians are.

The President said he is not going to be critical of his secretary of agriculture because Benson has not yet produced a quick solution of the farm problem.

His statements came when he was asked about assertions by Sen. Young (R-ND) that Benson should resign because, Young said, the Cabinet member had "lost the confidence of the farmers."

Eisenhower said he thinks it is up to the President to decide who should be his principal advisors in each field of government.

And he declared he has seen no one more dedicated than Benson to working out the problem of the conflict between producers and consumers.

Eisenhower declined, with a laugh, to say whether he thought farm policies was the chief factor in the recent election of a Democrat to Congress from a normally Republican congressional district in Wisconsin.

Eisenhower was buoyant and touched a wide range of subjects in his news conference. He said among other things:

1. He does not plan to take any part on the state or local level in next year's elections for Congress but hopes he can help the Republican party by trying to establish policies which the overwhelming majority of Americans approve.

2. About Corp. Edward Dickenson, the soldier who changed his mind about remaining in Communist hands—considering the intense indoctrination to which American prisoners were subjected, he sometimes wonders there weren't more who elected to stay behind.

3. He does not know whether it would be possible to sell the Tennessee Valley Administration to private industry without wrecking the entire system. Clarence Manson, head of a commission studying federal-state relations, had said TVA never should have been built and ought to be sold by the federal government.

4. On Israel, he replied with a firm yes, but did not elaborate, when asked if he had discussed with Secretary of State Dulles the cutting off of economic aid to that country.

The United States is withholding further aid because Israel will not accept a U. N. ruling as to diversion of Jordan River water.

Mainly, today's news conference centered on the drought, falling farm prices and related matters with which the President concerned himself during his recent visit to the Midwest and his swing to Texas.

The President did say however, that while the general cost of living has continued to rise it is leveling off to a considerably greater extent than in recent years.

He said he knows no one more dedicated than the agriculture secretary to American principles.

Eisenhower said he knows of no one more anxious to get a fair treatment for consumers and producers alike. Eisenhower declared that just because Benson can't produce a miraculous cure for farm problems he, for one, is not going to be critical of the secretary.

Eisenhower volunteered the comment he was deeply gratified that the drought stricken areas, including Oklahoma, Texas, where he met in Kansas City had agreed on a program of federal-state cooperation to relieve their emergency conditions rather than seeking to depend on federal aid alone.

Price Supports May Be Extended

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) said today he "wouldn't be surprised" if the Eisenhower administration asks Congress to extend present farm price support laws for two years without change.

Flanders had a half hour's talk with Eisenhower at the White House yesterday. He said in an interview afterwards:

"From what the President said, I wouldn't be surprised if the administration plans to continue the present price support plan through the end of 1956.

Benson has said the present method of supporting farm prices is inadequate, in part because it piles up big surpluses in government hands. Eisenhower, in a speech at Kansas City last week, said the farm program his administration will present to Congress early next year will retain the principle of price supports.

Eisenhower listed three possible courses of action: "First, to extend present laws exactly as now written; second, to extend them with changes; and third, to revise them radically in favor of a new program."

Benson, meanwhile, said "I certainly do not agree" that lack of confidence in administration farm policies was the primary reason for the Democrats' victory last week in a special congressional election in Wisconsin's 9th District. They had never before won that House seat.

He indicated he has no intention of resigning, or of altering his approach to the farm price problem. Flanders said he hoped "that Benson will last in the Cabinet, because in his fundamental position he is right."

The mandatory 90 per cent price supports for basic crops expire at the end of the 1954 crop year, to be replaced by a flexible system ranging from 75 to 90 per cent of parity, unless Congress acts to extend them.

Flanders said he is against a long-range farm program with high-level supports and prefers the flexible system, but he added: "You can't reverse the field overnight. The administration has started studies into this whole question. These should continue, and by the end of 1956 the administration should come up with a new approach. Until then, it's probably best to continue the present system."

Benson, meanwhile, announced the Agriculture Department will support the price of oats, barley, rye and grain sorghums produced in 1954 at 85 per cent of parity—the same level as this year. A shift to a new parity formula, however, will mean slightly lower dollars and cents prices than this year for each of those products except rye.

Benson also announced that from 90 per cent to 75 per cent of parity in the support level for the 1954 flaxseed crop.

UF Reports Due Today

Nest to last report meeting of the United Fund campaign was scheduled for noon today.

Workers in all divisions were asked for progress reports at what was termed a critical phase of the campaign. Final reports will be heard next Tuesday.

Pledged so far toward a $74,144 goal has been $57,865.59. All workers are being urged to redouble efforts to complete contacts in order to successfully complete the nine-agency fund campaign.

The United Fund drive will be the only major fund raising effort in the county for the next year. All welfare and youth agencies are provided for in the UF budget.

Negro Found Nude In Auto In Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—Police held today a Negro man nude in a car with a small pan and a bar of soap.

The man, 33, said he had parked to take a bath.

A couple reported seeing the naked man in the car next to Dal-Hi Stadium yesterday afternoon. Dallas has had several reports of nude prowlers recently.

'HAD ENOUGH' First Of 23 Reluctant U. S. War Prisoners Leaves Reds

PANMUNJOM (AP)—A corporal from Virginia's mountain country—the first of 23 unrepatriated American war prisoners to quit Communism—said today "I had enough" of life under the Reds.

Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson, a 25-year-old former farmer from Big Stone Gap, Va., said it was "more than likely" some of the other Americans who spurned a chance to return home would change their minds.

"Communism is not my belief," he told a news conference. "I have my own beliefs."

Dickenson, whose parents live in a remote cabin high in the Allegheny Mountains, returned to the Allies of his own free will.

Rushed to a hospital near Seoul, he told newsmen he had contemplated returning for quite a while.

The young soldier flatly refused to answer questions that would have shed light on why he or the other Americans chose to remain with the Reds.

"I can't answer that. . . I don't know what them (the 22 others) want to do. . ."

Dickenson, appearing slightly bewildered and choosing his words carefully, asked after about 10 minutes that the interview be halted. Then he agreed to a brief appearance before newsreel and television cameras.

He said he had not been briefed by Army officers before meeting with newsmen—the decision not to answer questions was his own.

In contrast to his appearance before the newsmen, Dickenson was smiling and seemed in good spirits when he was transferred to Allied control earlier today at Panmunjom.

"It sure feels great to be back in the hands of the Americans," he said

National Income Still Expanding, Government Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—National income continued to expand during the first half of 1953, the government said today, with a big gain in on-farm income more than making up for a decline in farm receipts.

Department's monthly publication, Survey of Current Business, said net farm income appears to be headed downward this year to a level of about 12 1/2 billion dollars, about the same as the postwar low of 1949 and 3 1/2 billion dollars under the level of 1951. In contrast, wage and salary earners' income in the second quarter of this year reached an annual rate, after seasonal adjustments, of 208 billion dollars, or 7 per cent more than last year.

Observers Convinced Turks No Pushover If War Should Come

By TOM MASTERSON
GALLIPOOLI, Turkish Thrace (AP)—Allied observers who watched the Turkish army go through its paces in recent maneuvers here are convinced: the Turks won't be a pushover for anybody if war comes.

Turkey has a 450,000-man army, ample reserves and a growing air force that now numbers 20,000 men. Forty per cent of the Turkish budget goes for defense. The swarthy Turk is a rugged soldier, well-trained, well-equipped and disciplined. He's quickly learning how to get the most out of his American fighting tools.

More important, the Turks hate the Russians. It's a traditional hatred, dating back centuries in the time of the czars, and Turk soldiers are not allowed to forget it.

The Turks, who have a 1,000-mile land and sea frontier with Soviet Russia and Bulgaria. The "imaginary enemy" used the same routes in recent maneuvers that Russia has used for centuries to invade Turkey.

The treeless rolling plains of Turkish Thrace are ideal for tank warfare, and Allied military leaders don't think the Kremlin would be stupid enough to attempt an invasion without superior mechanized forces.

To protect the Bosphorus and the area around the Golden Horn, the Turks have built up the Chataldja Line, which cuts across a narrow isthmus from the Sea of Marmora to the Black Sea, 40 miles north-east of Istanbul.

If Russia struck, the Turks probably would fall back on this line, leaving Thrace to the invaders. The Turks also have built up a strong defense line before Gallipoli and the Dardanelles, but here they have a natural barrier to help. A few miles before Gallipoli, gentle slopes and pastures suddenly sprout into steep rocky hills covered with forests.

The whole area bristles with defense works of all descriptions. It's restricted, and signs in Turkish and English are plastered at every road junction forbidding entry. U. S. military leaders did some high-powered persuading to get Turkish officials to permit a tour of the defense area by foreign newsmen covering the Weidfast maneuvers. Even then, newsmen didn't see much. They were taken by jeep convoy through the region—Weidfast, while it proved Turkish and Greek troops to be among the world's best, showed conclusively that neither country can defend itself without substantial help from U. S. and British forces.

Outmoded Weapons Have Some Devoted Supporters

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon, in its drive to outfit the military with modern arms, faces the problem of persuading old-line officers that cherished but outmoded weapons and systems must be pruned away.

Overnight, the Defense Department's new weapons program, framed by Secretary of Defense Kyes, gained support from a powerful administration source.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, in an address at San Francisco last night, said that in an age of revolution in scientific and production techniques "the surest formula for defeat would be static defense—committed to old-fashioned defense, served by obsolete weapons."

Wilson said on Tuesday a current reappraisal of strategy and arms includes "all kinds of weapons"—supersonic planes, atomic weapons, guided missiles, and he told a news conference:

"In another area we are facing a change in the military situation, like when the cavalry was replaced by the armored division, a fundamental new thing that has to be given recognition, and should be."

Defense chiefs haven't pointed a finger to the precise areas in which they think changes are coming. However, there are indications one may be the Army's anti-aircraft weapons and units. Wilson recently commented that the new missile named the Nike is a form of anti-aircraft weapon. That mis-tile is intended to supplant some present conventional anti-aircraft artillery.

The Army said last March some Nike installations would be ready by this summer, but Wilson told reporters Tuesday that he thought none had been completed so far. He indicated he thought the March announcement was overoptimistic.

Another area where the move to discard obsolete weapons may be felt is in the Navy. The continued use of battleships has been questioned before now.

No Navy Women in Abnormal Ring

WASHINGTON (AP)—No Navy servicewomen are involved in a reported "ring" of 25 women members of the armed forces accused of engaging in abnormal sex practices, a Navy spokesman said last night.

And an Army spokesman refused to say whether any such group had been apprehended by military investigators. The findings of the Army's Criminal Investigation Division (CID) are secret, he said.

The Times-Herald reported yesterday the CID had broken up the alleged sex ring, which it said was composed of about 25 enlisted servicewomen—all said to be WACs except for "three or four" WAVes. The newspaper said today it had learned that two WAVes "still are under observation."

Chemicals Prove Worry To Town

HORSE CAVE, Ky. (AP)—This area is gripped in one of the worst droughts in its history, but nobody prays for rain here. It could turn the community's biggest problem into a killer.

Officials have been seeking a solution for four years, but who wants 45,000 gallons of arsenic trichloride? The chemicals, stored in large tanks along the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, were left behind after the Shaw Oil Co. closed its offices.

There were no complaints until last summer when leakage from one tank killed vegetation in an area almost a mile wide. Started residents in this community of 1,545 were told that moisture reacts on the chemicals by producing hydrochloric acid fumes and a worse byproduct, arsenic oxide.

The city tried to get rid of it but could find no agency to do the job. It even tried the Defense Department.

Only July 9, the County Health Board issued an ultimatum to the railroad and the oil company to get rid of the chemicals within six days. Nothing happened.

Both were indicted later on charges of maintaining a common nuisance but that was no help since the case is yet to be tried.

"We don't know what to do," says Mayor L. H. Vensel. "We've been safe ever since this dry weather, but we don't know what will happen if it ever rains."

Magician Proves Talent Before Jury And Wins $2,275

CHICAGO (AP)—Magician Robert Sharpe gave a performance before a jury in Municipal Court yesterday and won an award of $2,275 damages in a breach of contract suit.

Highlight of Sharpe's magic act was when he pulled four eggs from what appeared to be an empty bag, put the eggs in a skillet under a lid and then displayed eight chicks when he lifted the lid.

Sharpe won the award from the Ralston Purina Co. of St. Louis. The company had engaged Sharpe as an entertainer at nine sales conferences but canceled the contract when it said Sharpe failed to pass an audition. The jury ruled in his favor.

Streets Already Wet

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—A city water truck crew stuck to its schedule and drove out yesterday to sprinkle dirt streets in north-west Albuquerque. But it didn't get the job done. The truck got stuck in mud from the heaviest rain the city has had in six months.

The Tower of London was built in 1078 by William the Conqueror.

Acoma Indians Turn Down Liquor Selling

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—Tribesmen of Acoma pueblo, the "sky city" built atop a cliff-topped mesa west of here, turned thumbs down on sale and use of liquor on their land.

Last month, New Mexico voters approved a proposed amendment to the State Constitution doing away with the ban on selling liquor to Indians.

But the resolution made public yesterday by pueblo leaders says the Acomas will retain prohibition on their reservation.

Wable Reward Has New Mexico Town In Tizzy On Who Gets It

By JULIUS GOLDEN
ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—If a man charged with the "Phantom of the Turnpike" slayings is convicted in Pennsylvania, a grab-bag style feud may ensue in the little town of Belen, N. M.

There's a matter of $11,000 offered by truck companies for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the murder of two truck drivers on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

John Wesley Wable, 24, charged with the slayings, was captured in Belen Oct. 11 after being spotted by two young women—Caroline Smith and Midge Harmon of Belen.

For a while, everything was hunky-dory with a pat on the back and a "good work" for the girls. A Pittsburgh reporter called Miss Smith and told her she would be in line for a fancy sum if Wable were convicted of the crimes. Little Belen exploded and confusion reigned.

The Belen News-Bulletin, a bi-weekly newspaper, ran a banner story. The headline read: "Even Thousand Dollar Reward Poses Big Problem After Capture of Murder Suspect in Belen Sunday."

The matter became a town problem. Dist. Atty. Filo Sedillo said: "I feel everyone should claim the reward if Wable is convicted and if they had any connection at all with events leading up to his capture. This includes about a dozen people in New Mexico."

A total of about 12 persons, including police officers, were parts of the net which slowly closed about Wable as he tried to make good his escape. But Miss Smith and Miss Harmon were the ones who actually spotted the wanted man and whose tip led to his capture.

"We've done nothing about the reward," Miss Smith said. "All we know is what the newspapers stated and what a Pittsburgh reporter told us over the telephone. Everybody looks at us all the time. And everyone's talking. No one knows what's going on."

Rumors that several Belen peace officers saw lawyers to find out their chances of getting in on the money appeared groundless after checking.

A spokesman for one of the three companies offering the reward said in Pittsburgh his company will pay money without a claim being filed upon conviction. He said the money would go to those designated by proper authorities. Spokesmen for the other two companies could not be reached for comment.

At any rate, Belen once was a quiet town. Now—well, it just goes to show what prospects of a little money can do.

Baptists Told Need Is Return To Jesus Christ's Gospel

SAN ANTONIO—A return to the gospel of Jesus Christ is the greatest need of our time, a British evangelist told the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Some 7,000 Baptists heard the Rev. Thomas Rees address the convention last night. He said man's past progress and his hope for the future came from the gospel.

"All our civilization has come from people who believed in the Bible," Rees said. "The influence of the Bible brought our modern educational systems, our hospital and our social reforms. These were all pioneered by men who believed in the gospel."

Some 12,000 Texas Baptists are expected to attend sessions of the convention, the State Brotherhood and the Woman's Missionary Union Conventions opened Monday.

VICTORIA (U)—Gilbert Venglar, 43, Inez, was killed six miles east of here yesterday when his car crashed into the rear of an oil truck. Herbert Evans, 67, driver of the truck, was in a serious condition.

May Share Reward

Two young New Mexico women, Midge Harmon and Caroline Smith, left to right, probably will share the $11,000 reward for their tip which resulted in the arrest of John Wesley Wable, 24, wanted on a charge that he is the phantom killer of the Pennsylvania turnpike. Wable denied the killing of a truck driver. He implicated another man he refused to name, when questioned by officers in Albuquerque, N. M. The two women spotted Wable hitchhiking near Belen, N. M. Ike's Tariff Study Board To Hear Stevenson, Hoover

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (U)—President Eisenhower's 17-member study commission has decided to ask the advice of Adlai E. Stevenson and former President Herbert Hoover in a search for a nonpartisan solution of the foreign trade problem.

The commission, headed by Clarence Randall of Chicago, president of the Inland Steel Corp., scheduled hearings behind closed doors today and tomorrow. It asked for testimony during the two days by Republican Paul G. Hoffman and Democrat W. Averell Harriman, former foreign aid administrators in the Truman administration.

Sen. Bush (R-Conn), a member of the group, said the commission will open its doors next week for public testimony by Hoover and Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee.

Ray Millands Reveals Separation Plans

HOLLYWOOD (U)—Actor Ray Milland and his wife announced jointly today that they have separated.

The statement said they "have come to the decision that it might be best for both of us to separate temporarily. The problems which have ended in this decision are purely personal. There is no third party involved."

Milland, currently appearing in a television series, and his wife have been married for 22 years. They became reconciled after a brief separation in 1945.

Texas University To Get Famous Museum

TULSA, Okla. (U)—A nationally famous Indian museum here will be moved to the University of Texas, founder Thomas Gilcrease says.

The famed Gilcrease Indian Museum contains an estimated 12 million dollars worth of books, art and artifacts of Indian culture.

Gilcrease, an Oklahoma oil man, said cost of maintaining the museum was forcing him to get rid of the privately-owned institution.

Just last week, Gov. Johnson Murray of Oklahoma revealed he was attempting to raise funds from individuals in an effort to keep the museum here. The governor said Oklahoma state funds could not be used legally for the purpose.

Texas Draft Quota For December To Be 1,264, Up By 54

AUSTIN (U)—Texas' draft quota for December will be 1,264 men, State Director Paul Wakefield said yesterday. The November quota was 1,210. Local board quotas will be mailed next week. A state call for physical examination of 986 men also went out. National headquarters has instructed that December inductions through Dec. 18 should avoid taking men during the Christmas holidays. Where possible only men 20 or older are to be inducted, but younger men may be called if nec-

Record Egg Prices Expected This Year

WASHINGTON (U)—Egg prices may set a record this year but should dip slightly in 1954, the Agriculture Department said today. A spokesman for the department said average prices for all of 1953, which cannot be computed until the end of the year, will either surpass or approach the previous high of 1951. A special "outlook" report by the department also had this to say: 1. Production of eggs and of broilers for 1953 are likely to be new records. But egg production next year probably will top the 1953 total. This, coupled with about the same demand, is expected to drop egg prices slightly.

Riding THE GRUB LINE With Franklin Reynolds

Pink bollworms are showing up in this area this year in about the same numbers as last year, or maybe in just a little lighter infestation, according to Bert Badger, field inspector for the Division of Pink Bollworm Control of the Texas State Department of Agriculture, which is working in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture on the problem of these extremely pesky and tremendously damaging insects. Badger says he will be glad to have all cotton farmers, especially those who have expressed doubt as to the existence of such insects, to visit the gin trash machine which was set up and put into operation yesterday on the lot of the delinting plant on the south side of the Andrews Highway just inside the Big Spring city limits. The machine, which is owned and operated by the USDA, is in charge of Myron Moritz of Fredericksburg, who operated a similar machine here in 1949. He was then recalled to the Army and only recently returned to his work with the USDA. Gin trash is being brought to this machine from crops grown in Glasscock, Reagan, Howard, Scurry, Martin, Midland and Mitchell counties. Badger says the heaviest general infestation being found is in cotton grown in the St. Lawrence Community in Glasscock County. Moritz says he certainly notices a tremendous difference in this country now and what he found here in 1949. Then this country was covered with grass and crops, he recalls. The gin trash machine will, it is anticipated, be in operation here at least through this week and maybe just a little longer. Visitors are welcome.

The Grub Liner was having dinner with B. F. White of the White Motor Company at Mrs. Flora Morris' Eat Shop in Stanton when Mr. and Mrs. Jack Arrington came in. "I'm buying your dinner!" Jack asked. "Well," I explained, "it's this way. I've found out that when a fellow gets hungry if he will drop in an automobile sales room just before meal time and start pricing new cars he'll likely be invited out to a free meal. See there?" I pointed to White who was paying the check. "I can understand," said Jack, "and if a man comes in my place and starts pricing my merchandise, and I think he is really interested, I'll take him out and buy him a dinner, too." So if you feel the need for a free meal drop in and see Jack's merchandise there in Stanton. He sells caskets and other funeral services. One of the big problems of school administration these days is, of all things, chewing gum, according to O. W. Winstead, school superintendent at Stanton. Now that the Stanton students are in their new and remodeled buildings, Winstead is trying to eliminate chewing gum from the establishment entirely. Last year school was held in various buildings scattered all over town while new buildings were being constructed and the old buildings completely modernized. During the summer while the old desks were being cleaned up the gathering of chewing gum from the underparts of those desks averaged a gallon and a half to the school room. This year there are 357 students enrolled in the Stanton Elementary School and 157 in the High School. The cafeteria is feeding an average of 250 students a day. The cafeteria menus indicate a good meal at 30 cents, but a noon-time visitor in Stanton is also aware of the fact that many of the High School and upper grade students prefer a hamburger and Coke, and a little liberty for the hour, to a better balanced meal. Maybe that's well in keeping with

Extradition Papers Readied In Dr. Sammons Theft Case

WHEELING, W. Va., (U)—Extradition papers were prepared here today for two men held in Dallas, Tex., in the robbery last week of Dr. W. P. Sammons home near here. Dr. Sammons revealed last night that nearly $150,000 was taken Tuesday from his home in three strong boxes. Previously he reported about $100,000 was taken from the house in two boxes after his sister and a maid were tied up by the gunmen who entered the residence. Prosecutor Joseph A. Gompers said last night the doctor informed him he had discovered a third box containing between $40,000 and $50,000 was missing. Quick strikes early in the week by police at Dallas and Corpus Christi, Tex., and Lima, Ohio, resulted in four arrests and recovery of about $96,000. The two men held in Dallas are Jimmy Fugitt, 34, and Harry Ward, 43, who refused to sign extradition waivers after admitting, according to police, that they helped Philip C. Anderson rob Dr. Sammons' three-story residence in suburban Warwood. The other alleged principal in the case—32-year-old Mrs. Mary Balderson—sought her release from jail on a writ of habeas corpus. The petition filed yesterday in Ohio County Clerk's office by Defense Atty. Thomas P. O'Brien said Gompers wished on a promise of immunity to the woman. She reportedly informed on the male trio after they failed to give her

Ripps has said some mighty mean things about the Republicans, but now he confesses that he has a brother in San Antonio who is making more money off cattle right now than he ever made in his life—even under Truman. This brother has grown good corn and alfalfa crops this year; has plenty of Johnson Grass, and has to buy only a little meal and molasses. He is fattening cattle for sale to San Antonio packers at a good profit. "He is making more money on cattle than he ever made in his life before (even under Truman)," says Ripps, "and he has his bank book to prove it."

Dulles Says Parley Avoided Platitudes

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles says the recent foreign ministers meeting in London "sought unifying principles which might relax tension" in the world but "avoided platitudes without practical relevancy."

Dulles adds that what the meeting did not do is as important as what it did do, asserting:

"We did not undermine the moral strength of the free world by resort to measures of short-range expediency."

The secretary of state, in a speech last night at the 22nd annual New York Herald Tribune Forum, gave a panoramic view of the talks he had at London with British Foreign Secretary Eden and French Foreign Minister Bidault. Dulles returned Monday from the meeting.

One of the chief results of the London sessions was the sending to Russia of a proposal for a meeting of foreign ministers at Lugano, Switzerland, Nov. 9.

"This (proposal)," Dulles said last night, "will provide an answer to whether the Soviet government is willing to have a meeting on terms which will provide an actual testing of its intentions in terms sufficiently concrete to be significant."

"That is the single project now before the Soviets. Their decision in relation to that is what we now await. We hope that the answer will be affirmative. In any event it will be revealing."

Dulles said a meeting on the foreign ministers level was proposed since "it is our view that few things would be more dangerous than a meeting which produced illusion of agreement, without the reality of agreement."

British Prime Minister Winston Churchill has suggested a meeting of heads of state of Britain, France the United States and Russia.

The secretary of State made these comments on other decisions reached at London:

Trieste—"A new concept is in the making which could bury these bitternesses. It would draw Yugoslavia together with Italy and the other NATO allies in a common strategy designed to ensure the safety and well-being of south Europe. Yugoslavia cannot be sure as an independent nation without association with its NATO neighbors . . ."

The Western ministers believe their decision to relinquish the administration of Zone A of Trieste to Italy will pave the way to a final peaceful solution."

Korea—"The division of Korea is wrong and, unhappily, there are similar wrongs elsewhere, as in Germany, but new war is not the way to right such wrongs. They should be made to respond to peaceful treatment applied with patience, persistence and wisdom."

Indochina—"The ministers 'welcomed' developments seeking to meet the aspirations for freedom of the people of Indochina while protecting them 'from being taken over by the enemies of freedom.'"

Israel—"It is the United Nations which played an essential part in creating the state of Israel . . . So we agreed to join in asking the United Nations Security Council to take jurisdiction of this matter (of recent Israeli-Arab tensions)."

ALL DOLLED UP

Shirley Booth Gets Some Class In Latest Movie

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Shirley Booth, the incumbent Oscar winner, is before the cameras for her second picture—but not as the sloppy housewife of "Come Back, Little Sheba."

When I saw her on the set of "About Mrs. Leslie," she was dolled up in a handsome suit and fancy hairdo. She plays a Beverly Hills boarding house operator who has a lengthy affair with a government official (Robert Ryan).

"A little of his class rubs off on her," Miss Booth remarked. "She starts out as a fairly brassy woman, then acquires some taste. I have some really fancy outfits."

"It's quite a change from 'Sheba.' I used to come on the set, do my own hair and wear a kimono around myself. Now I have to come in early, put on these fancy clothes and have a big makeup and hair session. People are always fixing my curls so they're just right. I'm not so sure I didn't like it the other way."

She gets the full glamor treatment in the film, with 33 costume changes, including a negligee. Also a bathing suit scene!

"I've never been the cheese-cake type," she grinned. But she recalled one play in which she was to appear on stage in a filmy gown. The director assured her she would have no worries, since the scene would be dimly lit.

She took no chances. She dyed some underthings a dark color and wore them underneath. When she walked on stage, the lights were full up. She reports the stagehands were bitterly disappointed.

Winning the Oscar in her first picture has put her on a spot, Miss Booth commented.

"Will the public want to see me in a different sort of a role?" she asked, admitting that she herself didn't know. But she added that she thinks the success of "Sheba" was a healthy sign.

"I had never entertained the notion of doing pictures," she said, "because I was only interested in doing character roles. They have never seemed to worry much about character parts in the movies, although that is what make the English and French pictures so great."

Miss Booth is under contract to Hal Wallis for two more pictures, but they are to be made when she approves the scripts and arranges free time. She won't have much of the latter, since she leaves for New York as soon as she is finished here. She goes right into a musical show about Coney Island in the 1900s.

Nation's Fire Losses Show Increase For 4 Years Now

BOSTON (AP)—The nation's fire losses during 1952 crept toward the billion-dollar mark and increased for the fourth successive year, the National Fire Protection Assn. estimates today.

And the outlook for 1953 is even worse. Preliminary estimates by the National Board of Fire Underwriters for the first eight months of this year indicate an increase of about 17.9 per cent over the same period of 1952.

The NFPA in its quarterly report estimates there were 2,014,000 fires of all types in the United States in 1952, and that they caused a loss of $942,650,000. It says further:

"It is interesting to note that the number of building fires for 1952 has increased 12.5 per cent over 1951 figures, while the loss for 1952 is 7.3 per cent more than the previous year."

Here are some notable changes estimated for 1952 compared with 1951:

An 18 per cent increase in the number of dwelling fires, a 20 per cent boost in the number of school and college blazes, a 15 per cent jump in forest fires, and a 20 per cent upswing in building fires caused by smoking and matches and by lightning.

The NFPA estimates building fires in 1952 totaled 703,000 and caused 79 1/2 million dollars damage. An additional 1,311,600 fires accounted for an estimated $149,150,000 loss. These include aircraft, motor vehicles, forest, ships, rubbish and grass fires.

Children and matches caused 22,500 fires and $8,200,000 damage. Smoking and matches caused 116,000 fires with a loss of 61 million dollars.

Lightning touched off 39,000 fires with the loss of $33,200,000, while $2,870,000 damage resulted from 2,000 fires that followed attempts to thaw out frozen pipes.

There were about 6,300 incendiary or suspicious fires causing damage of 18 million dollars. Misuse of flammable liquids, including vapor, tar, grease, started 33,000 fires that caused a loss of 45 million dollars.

Actress Fails To Get Rooney Cited For Court Contempt

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Martha Vickers has failed to obtain a contempt of court citation against her former husband, Mickey Rooney.

A judge refused yesterday to cite Rooney for contempt for all-mony arrearage after hearing testimony that his earnings dropped from $268,000 in 1952 to $128,000 so far this year. The earnings statement came from the actor's manager, George Gottfried.

The third of the actor's four wives testified he is $16,253 behind in payments. At the time of their divorce two years ago she was awarded $2,000 a month alimony, decreasing to $300 monthly by 1952, and $150 a month support for their son, Teddy, now 3.

Rooney now is married to the former Elaine Mahnken. Besides Miss Vickers his previous wives were Ava Gardner and Betty Jane Nash.

This prophecy came about doubtless for a good purpose. Jews have supplied countless men of genius to nations some of which treated them very badly. The great nations of Hosea's day had things too easy. They dropped out of the race. "They shall be wanderers among the nations." - Hosea 9:17.

Czech and Polish Check-Out May Be Tip Of Reds' Alibi-In-Advance

The reported walkout of the Czech and Polish members of the "neutral" nations repatriation commission because the other three members—Sweden, Switzerland and India—refused their demand to forcibly deliver reluctant anti-Red Koreans for "persuasion" may be the first obvious move in a Communist sidestroke that would provide them with an alibi for failure to persuade more anti-Reds to change their minds.

Information Indicates Air Force Concept Retained, Gains Support

In a featured article in this week's issue, U. S. News & World Report declares that if attacked the U. S. can start dropping A-bombs on Russia in two hours. "A highly trained elite group of about 150,000 Americans, their headquarters in Omaha, now stand between the non-Communist world and any attack by Russia," declares the magazine, referring to the Strategic Air Command.

Americanization Program Has Been Valuable To Immigrants

Way back in my boyhood, it was called Americanization. It was an approach to the children of immigrants or to the immigrants themselves so that they might more readily understand this country, its traditions, its ideals and its institutions without so uprooting the individual that he was left without a moral basis for life.

It is now half a century since I was absorbed in this process and I now try to thank the YMCA's and Jewish community centers all over the United States for celebrating the centennial of the first such organization, which was established in Baltimore Md., in 1854.

Old Spanish Treasure Hoax Is Still Going In Modern Dress

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald-Editor's Note.

Ever hear of the old Spanish treasure hoax? A lot of people have, and to their sorrow. This ancient trick apparently flowed from Ponce de Leon's magic fountain of youth, for it persists in popping up and in fleeing a new crop of suckers. Basically, the scheme works like this: A prisoner in Mexico writes to you because your name was furnished in confidence by a mutual acquaintance as one who can be trusted. The prisoner has a map to a fabulous buried Spanish treasure, but it is secreted in a warehouse in some of his personal belongings.

When customers seem to become wary of this exact formula, it is altered slightly. If you think it ever dies, read this fresh from Mexico City to one of our townsmen recently: "A person who knows you and who has spoken very highly about you and who has spoken to you a very delicate matter on which depends the entire future of my dear daughter, as well as my very existence, I am in prison sentenced for bankruptcy, and I wish to know if you are willing to help me to save the sum of $450,000 in U. S. Currency which I have in bank bills hidden in a secret compartment of a trunk that is now deposited

Little Vs. Big Business Is Certain To Be Issue In '54

WASHINGTON - Little business versus big business is an issue bound to be injected into the politics of '54. With so many big business executives in top positions in the Eisenhower Administration, the shadow this dispute will cast is already clear.

Because he had confidence in his fairness and integrity Toby named Senator John Sherman Cooper, Republican of Kentucky, to be head of the subcommittee. In a letter outlining the inquiry, Cooper pointed out that since the passage of the Civil Aeronautics Act in 1938 no Congressional committee had reviewed the way in which the Civil Aeronautics Board had administered the act.

No ABC's? There's A Reason, Teacher Says

"Well, for heavens sake, why don't they teach the alphabet in order, the way we learned it when we were children?"

That's something many parents may have asked themselves when they found their first grader was learning to recognize letters like "c" and "m," instead of being taught his ABC's.

But the reason is simple. Children don't need to know the alphabet in order when they are in the first grade, according to Mrs. Aleen Hamilton, first grade teacher at Washington School.

They aren't introduced to the dictionary until the third grade at least, she says. Besides, there is a danger that although the child can rattle off the alphabet without a single mistake, he may not have the faintest idea of what he is saying.

While the children are learning to recognize certain individual letters and the sounds the letters represent, they are also learning to become familiar with the letters as used in a story.

For example, the teacher may read them a story and they will be asked to pick out a picture to fit something she is talking about. This is called the "context" method.

Some children finish the beginning book, "Getting Ready," in a minimum of six weeks but others may use it all year long. It all depends on the maturity of the child.

The class is divided into groups on the basis of maturity. The groups, of course, are very flexible, because some children can't go as fast as the rest in their group. Others speed ahead.

A readiness test and teacher observation determine when the children are equipped to leave the "Getting Ready" book and move onto the primers, which gradually introduce them to new words. The children aren't allowed to take any of these home with them until they know them perfectly. They will be given supplementary readers of a very easy nature, which they may take home and read from to their parents.

The don't-take-it-home rule has a sound basis. Parents who may not understand the overall plan the teacher is following may try to teach the youngster themselves. This can actually do harm by confusing the child.

The teacher does try to keep in close touch with the parents, however, by having conferences with them throughout the year. Parents are always consulted when the child falls behind in his work.

"What can I do?" the parents always want to know in such a case.

Mrs. Hamilton says that the most important things they can do to help develop the child's independence, his ability to keep his attention on what he is doing and the habit of completing a job he starts.

It's also a good idea for parents to read to a child—just so they don't try to teach him to read! When report card time comes around, each child is marked as to whether his work "maintains grade standard" or is "satisfactory but below grade standard."

But the teacher never marks "unsatisfactory" at this grade level. This she takes complete responsibility for seeing the child is doing his best. The theory is that by grouping the children, each will go with the group he is capable of going on with.

Thus the reading program, not only in the first grade but all the way through the sixth as well, is geared both to the child's needs and to his abilities.

(This is the second of two articles on the reading program in the first grade.)

Mrs. Angel To Present Book Review

The refreshing story of the experiences of a teacher at a private boys' school in Arizona will be reviewed at the Thursday Review Club at Howard County Junior College auditorium Thursday at 3 p.m.

Mrs. Clyde Angel will review "Snips and Snails" by Louise Baker, author of "Party Line" and "Out On A Limb."

The author is now director of Public Relations for the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

"Louise bravely battles the boys' schemes and scholastic shortcomings and finds time in between to wipe away tears of homesickness, change wet beds, pull teeth, referee fist fights and even love livestock," the publishers write in summary.

The public is invited. Season tickets for the monthly reviews are $3. Individual tickets will be sold at the door for 60 cents.

Mary Margaret McBride Says...

It was one of those days. I knew it the minute I opened my eyes to the gray morning. It was Monday and in the park across the way I could see late fall bananas skins and scattered newspapers, part of a municipal picture that has caused at least two important women in the past year to call New York the dirtiest city in the world.

Like the idiot I am, I stepped on the bathroom scales first thing. The news was worse even than I expected, until in a great burst of enlightenment I remembered the two helpings of Paula's luscious almond soufflé night before last (it takes two days for such deliriums to reveal themselves).

I proceeded to my meager tea-and-one-piece-of-toast breakfast and the headlines. No balm there—discord, dishonesty, tragedy—all over.

The telephone rang. A reproachful voice reminded me that I'd failed to keep my promise to appear somewhere the night before.

I turned again to my newspaper only to find that my reading glasses had simply walked away. One minute they'd been right there in plain sight. The next they'd hidden themselves in the malign manner that inanimate objects have on such days.

Dismally, I began to dress. An important zipper stuck—why do I ever wear zippers? Then a button popped off—butons are as bad as zippers. This one rolled under the dresser and may be there yet for all I know.

The world was treating me. All day long everybody and everything seemed to be conspiring against me. Typewriters stuck, pencils snapped their points, pens ran dry, people were not only late for appointments but behaved stubbornly and boorishly when they did turn up.

An unbearably cocky messenger delivered an artfully involved letter, the gist of which was that something I wanted very much I was not going to get.

All the while I seemed to myself to be behaving with admirable calm and poise, only every few minutes or so breaking into rages and-or tears.

Well, the philosophers are right—everything passes. Even one of Those Days. A small boy with a large box arrived—a wonderful, sweet-smelling mass of yellow roses. I accepted these with a stony-faced dignity indicating that I felt it was a poor enough recompense for my tribulations.

Suddenly I began to laugh. I knew very well why nobody had told me. Nobody would have dared, because of the mood I was in. How much of everything that had happened to me, I wondered wildly, had I brought on myself by my attitude.

I changed my shoes and had a wonderful supper. I knew tomorrow the sun would shine brightly and all would be right with the world.

Noneakers Are On Trip To Alabama

2nd Lt. and Mrs. Daniel O. Non-aker are on a wedding trip to Alabama and Tennessee following their wedding Friday at St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

The bride is the former Mary Kathryn Waters of Cullman, Ala. The bridegroom who has been stationed at Webb Air Force Base, will be stationed at Moody Air Force Base, where the couple will live.

Chaplain Francis E. Jeffery read the double ring ceremony. White mums and gladioli were used in the church decorations.

Given in marriage by her grandfather, the bride wore a blue suit and carried an orchid on a white Bible. Mrs. Charles Zipperer of Big Spring was matron of honor and 2nd Lt. Charles Zipperer was best man.

The next meeting will be on Nov. 5 at 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Claude Hodnett. A program on floors and floor coverings will be presented.

Mrs. Guy Guffee was hostess to the Vincent Home Demonstration Club when it met recently.

Mrs. Edd Carpenter presided at the business meeting. Mrs. F. C. Appleton, incoming president, announced her selections for committee chairmen for 1954.

Sue Milligan, county home demonstration agent, presented slides on living room accessories.

Refreshments were served to nine members and one visitor, Mrs. Carl Griffin.

The Midland Council of Garden Clubs will have their fall garden show on Oct. 25 at the David Crockett Elementary School from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Refreshments will be 50 cents for adults and children free.

In addition to the horticulture and flower arrangements this year there will be a tropical fish and aquariums entered for competition.

The group discussed buying a new foreign mission book. Mrs. Harvey Coffman gave the benediction.

Mrs. W. L. Lemmons was honored on her 70th birthday recently at the home of Mrs. W. C. Underwood. Co-hostesses were Mrs. J. B. Calverley, Mrs. J. H. Crouch and Mrs. J. H. Cox.

The table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a three-tiered birthday cake. Gifts were displayed on the table.

Forty-two was played and high score went to J. B. Calverley. Consolation prize went to Steve C. Cuttle.

Refreshments were served to about 40 guests. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Underwood and Bill and Mrs. Mrs. Luther Rainwater, all from Midland, and Mrs. Buck Harris and son from Ft. Stockton.

Mrs. W. D. McDonald and nephew, Bobby McDonald, returned Tuesday from Willis where they were called by the illness of Mrs. McDonald's mother-in-law, Mrs. N. M. McDonald.

WMU Circle Begins Study Of New Testament Women

Elizabeth, the mother of John the Baptist, was discussed at the meeting of the Mary Willis Circle of the First Baptist WMU Monday in the home of Mrs. C. T. Clay.

The discussion was based on the first chapter of the study book, "Women of Destiny in the New Testament."

Mrs. H. H. Squyres opened the meeting with prayer. Mrs. J. E. Hardesty played accompaniment while the group sang.

Roll call was answered with favorite Scripture verses.

New officers recently elected include the following: Mrs. Theo Andrews, chairman; Mrs. Squyres, co-chairman; Mrs. O. B. Hull, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. C. T. Clay, reporter; Mrs. Beulah Bryant, program and literature; Mrs. Della K. Agnell, stewardship chairman; Mrs. Hardesty mission study; Mrs. W.

B. Buchanan, telephone chairman; Mrs. Hardesty, Mrs. Squyres and Mrs. Hull, social committee.

The next meeting will be a luncheon in the home of Mrs. E. E. Bryant, 900 Abrams, Nov. 16. Mrs. R. C. Howell and April were visitors.

The Christine Coffee Circle met in the home of Mrs. R. D. Urey. Mrs. G. H. Hayward gave the opening prayer and the group recited Psalm 67.

Mrs. T. C. Jester, Mrs. W. L. Hussey and Mrs. Urey led the study on prayer. Mrs. Royce Boyd was introduced as a new member.

Eight attended. Mrs. F. W. Bettie will be the next hostess.

The Credit Women's Club installed officers Tuesday night at a candlelight ceremony at the Wagon Wheel restaurant.

The table was centered with two straw cornucopias filled with fruit. Yellow candles were also on the table. The place cards were decorated with a fall motif.

Out-going president, Johnnie Morrison, presented each member with a gift.

Following the installation bingo was played by the 17 members and three guests, Virginia Strouse, Grace Miller and Iovn Phillips.

The Big Spring Rebekah Lodge 284 was entertained at a recent meeting by the Cayloma Star Theta Rho Girls Drill Team.

Audrey Cain, district deputy, held a school of instruction. It was announced that Maude Cole, district deputy supervisor, District 32, would visit the lodge on Oct. 27 and hold a school of instruction.

A silver coffee was planned for today in the home of Mrs. Bonnie Phillips between the hours of 8 and 10 a.m.

Mrs. Lucille Petty presided at the meeting. Thirty-one sick visits were reported. Twenty-eight members attended.

Lina Wren was elected president of Girl Scout Troop 13 at the Little House Tuesday. Other new officers are Julia Flynn, vice president; Mary Ella Bain, secretary-treasurer; Luan Lawson, reporter.

Letha Duke continued a series of first aid lessons. Twenty attended.

Mrs. Ike Reddell presented a mission study on Korea for members of the Blanche Simpson and Lucy Belle Circles of the E. 4th Baptist WMS Monday. The joint meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Lyndall Ashley. Ten members attended.

The Coahoms pep squad has received new sweaters. They are white wool turtle-necks with a red "C" in the center front. Members will wear them with red skirts.

THIS IS GOOD EATING

PANTRYSELF BLUEBERRY PIE

Ingredients: Pastry for 9-inch double-crust pie, 3 tablespoons quick-cooking rice cereal, 1 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon, 4 cups drained canned blueberries, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine.

Method: Roll out pastry and place bottom crust in pie plate. Mix together the rice cereal, sugar and cinnamon. Pour over the blueberries and mix lightly with fork. Pour berry mixture into pie plate, arranging evenly over the bottom. Sprinkle with lemon juice and dot with butter. Cover pie with top crust. Bake in hot (400F) oven until crust is golden brown and filling has bubbled about 35 minutes. Serve warm or cold.

Note: Be sure to drain blueberries well before measuring, reserving the juice for other use. Four No. 303 cans (16 or 17 ounces) will be needed for this recipe. Serve with the menu below.

Tech's Win Streak Due To Be Ended

By BOB HOOBING
NEW YORK (AP)—Georgia Tech's 31-game unbeaten streak—longest in major college football today—is in serious danger, but Michigan State's record of 28 consecutive victories, also tops, looks good for at least a few more weeks.
The Engineers expect the toughest fight since they embarked on their undefeated efforts with a 46-14 victory over Davidson in 1950 when they set foot on South Bend turf against top-rated Notre Dame. The Techmen were tied by Duke in 1951 (14-14) and by Florida (0-0) earlier this year over the course of the 31 contests.
Michigan State, which has won every game since it dropped a 7-34 decision to Maryland early in '50, expects to be under considerably less pressure in facing Purdue.
Yet the situation is not without its dramatic aspect. Purdue, in a similar underdog role the same year State and Tech began their strings, ended the best modern major college defeatless streak at 29 games. Its victim was Notre Dame—now a strong possibility as a stumbling block for the Georgians.
Actually, Tech is carrying the fourth best unbeaten mark of modern times against Notre Dame. Behind the Irish 39-game skein stretching from 1946 to 1950 comes Tennessee with 33 (1929-50) followed by Army with 32 (1944-47).
The Spartans need just three to pull even with Oklahoma (1948-51) in the consecutive-contest win column and have already bypassed arch-rival Michigan and Princeton, who posted 24 straight triumphs.
The Spartans are also in the best position to keep their string going. After Purdue, they face Oregon State and Ohio State. The biggest threat is Michigan Nov. 14. After that comes Marquette.
Georgia Tech has games with unimpressive Vanderbilt and Clemson following the Notre Dame contest, but the trio of Alabama, Duke and Georgia at the end of the season mean more rough going.
One thing is certain. Neither Georgia Tech nor Michigan State have to worry about catching up to the all-time records. University of Washington went 63 games without a loss from 1907 to 1917 while Yale won 48 in a row back in 1885-89.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Scouting a football team, as essential to the success of an eleven as learning to block and tackle, perhaps, is a fascinating occupation and one—from all indications—that few persons outside the ranks of the mentors know little about.
A scout observes a club in action, looks for its weaknesses down in the line or in the secondary, takes his reports back to his employers and a team works from that report to try and find the clinks in the opposition's armor.
Often, detection by an observer that a back might plot a particular play by leaning in one direction or that a tackle or a guard is an easy mark for a trap play can mean the difference between victory and defeat for a team.
Perhaps the readers would be interested to know how Big Spring was scouted by Plainview prior to that game last weekend. Who ever watched the local team in action saw them against San Angelo and Pampa.
Here are excerpts from his voluminous file on individual performers in Big Spring's offensive and defensive platoons:
OFFENSE
WAYNE MEDLIN—Good blocker, rough and aggressive, favorite pass receiver of ends. J. W. THOMPSON—Fair blocker, possibly best blocker in line. PASCHALL ODOM—Good blocker and leads all plays outside of left tackle. NORMAN DUDLEY—Good center. TINY ELLISON—Moves very good for big man and does a good job of blocking. Leads plays outside of right tackle. Run power plays over him. LOUIS STIPP—Good blocker on off tackle plays. JIMMY PORTER—Fair pass receiver and blocker. FRANK LONG—Good play selector and fair passer, has some very good fakes on off tackle plays and pithouts. CARLISLE ROBISON—Very hard to bring down, runs very hard, if given time to get speed. Slow starter. Exceptionally good punter. Throws passes after receiving pithouts. Plays up back some. J. C. ARMISTEAD Best back on team—carries ball most of time. Carried 12 times first half against Brownwood and 17 times against Pampa in first half. BILLY MARTIN—Fastest man on team, used mostly on cross backs and outside.
DEFENSE
MEDLIN—Plays double duty, very rough and aggressive, charges very hard and is hard to block. Rushes passers very HARD. THOMPSON—Very rough and hard charger. ELLISON (man over center)—Does not charge too much but cannot be moved out, hits and slides. BILLY EARLEY—Rough, slides quite a bit. JERRY GRAVES—hard charger, slides, also, stays low. JIMMY PORTER—Very hard charger on all plays and particularly hard to block. Very hard charger on all plays and fair on pass defense. Good all-around linebacker. BUDDY COSBY—Very good linebacker, best defensive backer-up, hard tackler and diagnoses play very fast. DUDLEY—Another very good linebacker, big and hard tackler. ROBISON—Good inside, little weak on outside plays. DON SWINNEY—Comes up fast on sweeps. TOMMY McADAMS—Best defensive halfback, comes up fast and makes good tackles.
The report then went into detail on Big Spring plays and how many times each was used against Brownwood and Pampa.
And the baffling play which Big Spring used against Plainview, only to have it called back because the referee couldn't follow the ball.—The Bulldogs knew it was coming. The Plainview scout emphasized it as "Dangerous! Very Dangerous!"
Incidentally, one of the visiting scouts who worked the Big Spring-Plainview game closed his book before the third period was out and glumly stalked out of the press box with the remark:
"I've seen enough."
Wonder what he meant by that?

Cage Workouts Begin At WT

CANYON — Eighteen candidates reported for cage drills at West Texas State this week as all Border Conference basketball squads hit the hardwood. Conference rulings prevents the start of drills before Oct. 15.
Leading the pack of Buff prospects is Troy Burrus, 6'7" Canyon senior, who last year captained the All-Conference quintet, was selected second team NAIA All-American and honorable mention NCAA All-American. Burrus will captain the Herd this winter.
Coach Gus Miller has a total of seven lettermen back from last season's squad. Only loss to the squad was Dennis Walling, captain and starting guard who graduated.
Varsity boys reporting for drill other than Burrus are senior Bob Finley, 6', Floydada; juniors Tommy Rasberry, 5'10, Longview; Bill Winterk, 6'4, Amarillo; Bill Clifton, 6'5, Childress; James Scott, 6'2, Borger; and John McClure, 6'2, San Angelo.
Sophomores Buddy Gray, 6'4, Phillips; Lawrence Overcast, 6'2, Samnorwood; Fred Green, 5'11, Stratford; Ray Burrus, 6'6, Canyon; Dwaine Coggins, 6'2, Phillips; and James Morgan, 5'10, Borger.
Freshmen reporting for duty were Johnny George, 6'6, Amarillo; LeRoy Knott, 6'2, Childress; Rookie Rogers, 6', Borger; Carl McCabe, 6' White Deer; and Guy Hamblen, 6'1, Canyon.

West And College Heights Meet In Ward Loop Battle

The feature Ward School Football League game at Steer Stadium Saturday morning will pit Earl Penner's West Ward Mustangs against College Heights at 10 a.m.
The two teams are undefeated. West has won four straight decisions while College Heights has copped three in a row.
The Pones had a narrow squeak their last time out. They squeaked by Frank Hunt's Airport team, 2-0, scoring a safety in the last four minutes of play to turn the trick.
Washington Place, which also owns an undefeated record in conference competition, takes on East Ward at 9 a.m. Saturday. The Senators are favored to win that one. Washington has won three straight games.

Gophers Likely To Turn Back Wolverines

By JERRY LISKA
CHICAGO (AP)—After a weekend of splendid recuperation (missing only Wisconsin over Purdue), the Midwest football seer takes another peer into the crystal ball:
Notre Dame 21, Georgia Tech 13:
Here's where the Fighting Irish learn whether they're really the best team in the nation. The Yellow Jackets of Bobby Dodd will be hard to handle as they seek to stretch their unbeaten skin to 3 games.
Minnesota 14, Michigan 13:
The Wolverines have been snatching 'em out of the fire lately. At Minneapolis, the Gophers will have that friendly home town feeling Michigan has had for four straight games.
Wisconsin 18, Ohio State 13:
The invading Buckeyes will miss injured Johnny Borton. With a new-found quarterback, Sophomore Jim Miller, the Badgers can harness Alan (The Horse) Ameche for added power. It looks like Ohio State will take a long time recovering from that Illinois pasting.
Illinois 28, Syracuse 7:
If J. C. Caroline and Mickey Bates don't rest up for future Big Ten scurrying, the Illini should keep the boys from Syracuse in a quandary. Those camera-men on TV's panorama stint will have to work fast to keep up with Caroline.
Northwestern 21, Pittsburg 14:
The Wildcats are ready to make a little flare fly after being flattened by Minnesota and Michigan. Pitt's Panthers will be down after scaring Notre Dame.
Iowa 20, Indiana 13:
Iowa hasn't played a poor game yet, despite two losses in four starts. The Hoosiers had a lot of starch removed by Michigan State, a team that had considerable difficulty downing the Hawkeyes.
Michigan State 21, Purdue 7:
The Spartan victory parade may end, but not Saturday. The Bollermakers can't seem to rivet together an attack, much less a good grip on the ball.
Marquette 21, College of Pacific 20:
Only because it's homecoming for the Hilltoppers. COP has offered sturdy opposition to West Coast biggies.

Spec Can Tap A Fine Team

DALLAS (AP)—David (Spec) Goldman, co-captain of the amateur team that plays the professionals here Saturday and Sunday in the Texas Cup Matches, isn't predicting a victory—he remembers last year—but he says he has a great team to call on.
In 1952 Goldman made quite a few statements that nettled the pros. He intimated that they were afraid to play the amateurs because they had lost to them two years before. The pros accepted the challenge and showed up with their greatest team. They beat the amateurs in a series of close matches.
"But we've got just as good a team as we had last year," Goldman said. "For instance, six of our team members finished in the top 20 of the Texas PGA at Midland last weekend. Ernie Vossler tied Byron Nelson of the pros for second place."
Goldman tied for fourth, Don Addington and Joe Conrad for seventh, Dick Jennings for eleventh and Wesley Ellis for fourteenth. Some of the amateur team members didn't play in the PGA.
"Looks like we have a real team," said Goldman. "I won't predict we'll win it but it's going to be a real match."
The professionals are Fred Hawkins, Texas PGA champion; Nelson, Ray Gafford, Abe Beckman, Tommy Bolt, Jack Harden, Iverson Martin, Warren Smith, Jack Smith, Sam Schneider, Elroy Marti, Boyd Huff, Jackson Bradley, J. T. Hammett, Harry Todd, Bob Morris and Bill Trombley.
The pros will have 17 men, the amateurs 14. Some of the amateurs, who, however, wouldn't be quoted by name, hinted that the pros were trying to "manpower us."
Doubles will be played Saturday and singles Sunday.
The Cup Matches will be highlighted by an exhibition Saturday afternoon in which Ben Hogan, National Open and British Open champion; Betty Rawls, Woman's National Open champion; Betty McKinnon, another top woman golfer, and Randolph Scott, the motion picture actor who is a good golfer, will participate.
Proceeds from the matches will go to the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation for crippled children.

Ray George Says Honeymoon Is Due To End On Saturday

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Ray George, whose Texas A&M team already has done twice as good as anybody expected, says the honeymoon is due to end Saturday. That's the day the undefeated, once-tied Aggies play all-winning Baylor.
"I can't beat them," said George with tongue in cheek, "because they're so erratic I don't know how to play them. One game they'll make 200 yards running and 300 passing. The next they'll make 300 running and 200 passing. They're too inconsistent."
"We only have two things to worry about—their running and their passing—but we don't know which they're going to be weakest at. One thing about it: We won't humiliate them. We've tried to play everybody a close game this season so nobody will be mad. I will gladly settle for a 7-3 victory."
"My scouts say there are some weaknesses in the Baylor third and fourth teams, which makes me somewhat doubtful that they can help hold the score down. And I understand their speed isn't too good. Take Jerry Coody. He's the slowest man in the backfield. He only runs the hundred in 8.2."

But anyway, the biggest crowd of the season will be here—35,000 to 41,000—because it's always a close one when these deep rivals get together. And the game this time is the only one in the South-western Conference that matches unbeaten teams.
There has been only one point difference in the last two games. In 1951 they played a 21-21 tie. Last year Baylor won 21-20. Individual duels galore are promised. The big one will be between Don Ellis, A&M's great quarterback who is leading the conference in passing with 442 yards on 40 completions in 33 throws. Francis Davidson, Baylor field general, has just 16 yards less—he has thrown 52 and completed 26 for 432 yards.
Baylor hasn't won a conference championship since 1924. A&M last took the title in 1941. So both teams are hungry. And that means an old-fashioned, slam-bang battle with the lines likely to tell the story. Both have been very tough. Mike Michalska coached the Baylor line until this season when he transferred to A&M. His Aggie forward wall has allowed five opponents only 645 yards. Baylor's line has given up only 425 to four foes. Jack Russell and Bulldog Turney are coaching the Baylor line this season. It'll mean two lines schooled in the professional style. All three men are former pro linemen.

Dragons Meet Eagles Friday

FLOWER GROVE — The Flower Grove Dragons face a major challenge in their Friday afternoon District Six six-man football game, at which time they meet Roy Barrett's Courtney Eagles.
The War Birds gave the Ackery Eagles all they could handle last week before losing, 30-25, and give every indication of getting better as the season progresses.
Flower Grove is still very much in the running for the conference flag and must defeat the Eagles in order to retain their chances to finish in first place.
Charles Nance provides the big punch for the Flower Grove team while Darrell Payne is Courtney's chief threat.

Notre Dame Tackle Named AP Lineman

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Varrichione, a husky 205-pound tackle for Notre Dame who contributed a key play in the Irish triumph over Pitt Saturday, was picked today as the Lineman of the Week by The Associated Press.
The play that earned him the coveted weekly honor came in the third period. Pitt held a surprising 14-7 lead. After the kickoff a penalty shoved the Panthers back to their 2. Bobby Epps tried to run the ball from behind his own goal line, but big Frank broke through and smeared the Pitt player for a safety.
That gave Notre Dame two points and put the Irish in a position where a touchdown would put them ahead instead of merely tying. It was acknowledged as a key play as the Irish went on to a 23-14 victory.

Russell Says Trieste Timing Was Mistake

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) terms the State Department's timing of the announcement of the withdrawal from Trieste a blunder which would not have happened under the Democrats.

He said in an interview yesterday that officials should have been prepared for Yugoslavian opposition and should have worked out a solution before the announcement.

OLD FASHIONED REVIVAL HOUR HEARD ALL OVER THE WORLD

The Old Fashioned Revival Hour, which has been heard over KTXC since 1948, has listeners throughout the world. Last Sunday's program gave examples of listeners in England and other parts of the world who have received inspiration and help from this program, which originates in California and which is heard every Sunday night over KTXC at 9 p.m. Conducted by the Rev. Chas. E. Fuller, these inspired programs feature gospel singing and the word of God. Mrs. Fuller reads letters received from listeners throughout the world, and stories of inspired reaction to the program. The Old Fashioned Revival Hour has been one of the most popular religious programs heard over KTXC, which has always provided the public with religious programs covering most denominations every Sunday. The Old Fashioned Revival Hour is a work of faith, and any letters or voluntary contributions should be addressed to P. O. Box 123, Los Angeles, California.

Root Memorial Hospital Open House

There Was Reason For Gravedigging

MASON, Mich. (AP)—Halloween is two weeks away, but Ingham County sheriff's men were investigating a report of some weird goings-on Monday night in the North Aurelius graveyard near here.

There in the moonlight they found someone digging a grave. It turned out to be Bill Peters, the official gravedigger.

Why the night work? Peters told the deputies the grave was going to be used the next day and "I've got to get this job done so I can go pheasant hunting."

Open House Event Held At Hospital In Colorado City

COLORADO CITY — An estimated 600 visitors paraded through the remodeled Root Memorial Hospital in Colorado City Tuesday night, as Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Root Jr., and Mrs. Charles L. Root Sr., and hospital employees held open house. Root is the hospital manager and son of the founder and Mrs. Charles L. Root Sr., the widow of the founder—Dr. C. L. Root Sr.

The Root Hospital was built in 1927 by Dr. Root on a site a few blocks north of the Colorado High School and at that time, nothing but acres of sandy, "shinnery" land, lay between the hospital and the north wind. The hospital is now flanked with blocks of modern housing in some of Colorado City's newest subdivisions.

The work just completed was a $20,000 project, according to Root, with building remodeling accounting for $20,000 and new equipment for the balance.

The Root Memorial Hospital is a 28-bed hospital, with emergency facilities for 6 additional patients, and is operated by a staff of 44.

Dr. Root entered the medical profession late in life—at the age of 36 he made his decision to change from teaching school to medicine and entered on his new career at 39.

He practiced in Florence and Westbrook before moving to Colorado City. His son took over the management of the hospital in 1937, following the doctor's death, and has continued to expand and improve its facilities.

Nicky Hilton Subpoenaed In John Wayne's Divorce Case

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Nicky Hilton, former husband of Elizabeth Taylor, today was subpoenaed to explain his week-long stay last year at the John Wayne home as the guest of Mrs. Wayne while the rugged movie star was in Honolulu.

Wayne charged yesterday during the couple's stormy divorce trial that his wife entertained Hilton during his absence. This followed an accusation by Mrs. Wayne that the movie box office king once had an all-night tryst with actress Gail Russell.

Hilton, son of hotel magnate Conrad Hilton, said he would save comment until "I testify in court."

Atty. Jerome Rosenthal, counsel for Mrs. Wayne, said actress Betsy von Furstenberg would testify that she asked Mrs. Wayne to house Hilton while he recuperated from accident injuries. Hilton and Miss Von Furstenberg were sweethearts at the time.

On the stand yesterday, Mrs. Wayne testified her brawny husband hit her with everything from the back of his hand to upholstered pillows during six years of Hollywood married life. But they always kissed and made up, she added.

One reconciliation scene, she said, took place in a Burbank hospital. She quoted the husky actor: "I know I have been a horrible jerk with you. I need you very much. Please give me one more chance."

Just as she was about to give in, she added, Wayne's press agent arrived and asked: "Shall I call the reporters?"

Mrs. Wayne said she snapped: "What is this, a reconciliation or a publicity stunt?"

She said Wayne agreed that the scene misfired and ordered the publicist out of the room by yelling that he "had spoiled everything by coming in too soon."

Another time Wayne embarrassed her, she testified, was when he left her stranded at a party while he took off with the boys.

"They all went someplace where there were stripteasers, call girls, prostitutes or whatever you want to call them. He came home the next morning very drunk and with a bee, black bite on his neck."

Asked to explain what kind of a bite, Mrs. Wayne's large Latin eyes grew big and she emphasized:

"There was a human being bite."

She said Wayne told her that one of the stripteasers bit him without his consent.

She said her husband slapped her around and various police departments in trying to eliminate the "sure thing" man. He is a skilled manipulator of cards and dice himself, and gives demonstrations of how the crooked gamblers operate and shows how they can be detected.

Czech Says Underground Exiles' Myth

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Czech specialist in underground warfare says that most resistance organizations in Russia's European satellites "exist mainly in the minds of the exiled politicians."

I. Col. F. O. Miksche gave the opinion in an interview yesterday. He was formerly an officer in the Czech army and in Gen. Charles de Gaulle's Free French forces.

A military attaché after the war, Miksche anticipated the 1948 Communist takeover in Czechoslovakia and resigned. Now he divides his time between England and Portugal and is presently en route to lecture at the Air University Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala.

Miksche said U. S. financial aid to Europe could not continue indefinitely and "people do not realize that the small part of Europe that is still free cannot remain long under the great pressure of the Pan-Slav empire."

If the present division of Europe continues, he predicted, the free portion "will become Communist even without a war." He estimated 10 to 15 years might be required to bring this about, and said North America might not be able to stand against an Asian-European Communist empire.

"The only alternative he suggested was 'to push the Russian beyond the Carpathians, beyond the Polish borders."

"I am not pessimistic," he said. "I am realistic."

Novel Type Of Lecture Slated At K-F Meeting

A novel type of lecture is in store for members of the Knife and Fork Club Thursday evening, when they hear an international card detective.

He is Michael "Mickey" MacDougal, a smart hombre who has caught many a sharper dealing a "cold" deck, and has put his slick knowledge to good use in exposing crooked gamblers.

The session will be at the Settles Hotel, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

MacDougal has written numerous magazine articles, and has worked with Army and Navy authorities and various police departments in trying to eliminate the "sure thing" man. He is a skilled manipulator of cards and dice himself, and gives demonstrations of how the crooked gamblers operate and shows how they can be detected.

School Children See Puppet Show

A total of 697 Howard County school children attended performances of the puppet show, "Jack Goes West," which was sponsored here by the Big Spring-Howard County Health Unit.

Also in attendance at the Monday and Tuesday showings were 30 teachers and 12 adults. The puppet show was brought here by the State Health Department, and it dealt with dental health.

Students went in groups to the six performances. They were from Big Spring, Forsan, Coahoma, Vealmoor, Gay Hill, Midway, Center Point and Elbow.

Red Potential Up

ATHENS (AP)—Gen. Alfred Gruenther, NATO supreme commander, said today the Soviet potential is increasing. He said within the last 19 years the Soviet bloc population increased from 190 million to well over 800 million, constituting the largest empire in the world.

10,629 Bales Of Cotton Are Ginned In Area

According to the weekly report of the Texas Employment Commission, which is making the survey, 10,629 bales of cotton have been ginned in the tri-county area of Howard, Martin and Mitchell.

The total estimated production for the three counties has been set at 47,569 bales, which means that approximately 22.5 per cent has been harvested.

Most of his harvest has been accomplished by Mexican Nationals brought into the area under contract, since the report says native crews are reluctant to stop at dryland farms because of the short, thin crops. These native crews also dislike picking such as is being done in the Acala cotton in Martin County, and prefer to go on into pulling areas.

In Martin County 4,841 bales of the estimated production of 24,000 have been ginned or approximately 21 per cent. In Howard County the harvest is 1,619 bales out of an estimated production of 7,500 bales or 21.6 per cent, while in Mitchell County 4,169 bales out of the estimated production of 16,000 bales, or 26 per cent, have been harvested.

Federal Injunction Extended To 80 Days

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal court injunction, extended to the full 80 days permitted by the Taft-Hartley labor law, today barred any Atlantic Coast longshoremen's strike until Christmas Eve.

The original injunction, which was to have expired last night, brought an end to a five-day walk-out from Maine to Virginia by members of the International Longshoremen's Assn.

Federal Judge Edward Weinfeld extended the restraining order in an action yesterday.

Rehabilitation Plans

SEOUL (AP)—The 8th Army authorized today the use of up to $180,000 in military supplies and funds to boost rehabilitation of South Korea.

Chinchillas Perish

CHICAGO (AP)—Some 300 chinchillas valued at an estimated $10,000 perished yesterday in a fire which destroyed the breeding and sales plant of the World Wide Chinchilla Ranch in suburban Norwood Park.
