CROWNING MISS PAMPA

Linda Kay Steele is crowned "Miss Pampa of 1958" in the photo above by Johnnie Lee Smith, last year's winner. Miss Steele was named "Miss Pampa" at Friday's pageant sponsored by the Pampa Jaycees. She will represent the club in the Miss Texas contest in Amarillo next month. Bonnie Lou Glaxner, back, was named first runnerup in Friday's judging and Dianne Zachry, left, was second runnerup. Linda Steele Named 'Miss Pampa' In Beauty Pageant Here Friday

Pretty pianist Linda Steele touched the top of the Miss Pampa beauty-talent rank Friday at Miss Pampa of 1958.

On stage in the Pampa High School Auditorium, her runners-up Bonnie Lou Glaxner, second, and Dianne Zachry, third, had added piano solos to the performance.

Things happened last to Miss Pampa. The Pampa Chamber of Commerce, in the person of Manager E. O. Wedgeworth, thrust her a trophy and Johnnie Lee Smith, queen of last year, came up with the crown.

Miss Steele not only turned in a "professional" performance in beauty and bathing suit but showed her keyboard talent in "Gitanerias" from the "Andalucia Suite" by Ernesto Lecuona.

Likewise, Miss Glaxner sparkled in "Claire de Lune" by the French romantic composer Claude Debussy.

Miss Steele will come up against many Miss Texas contest beauties in Amarillo, July 31. One from Texas will enter the Miss America pageant, the big event in Atlantic City, N.J., Sept. 1.

Of the other Miss Pampa contestants, Maynette Loftus covered the stage as the ballet character "Coppelia" and Karla Cox made a one-woman show of her Pampa drawings. Martha Gordon and Kay Sprinkles gave much-appreciated monologues.

B. R. "Bunny" Shultz' comment added to the pageantry. This was the second Miss Pampa pageant in two years staged by the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Up Three Per Cent

Texas Business Activity Rises

AUSTIN (UPI) — Texas business activity rose in May for the second consecutive month, showing "good progress" in recovering from the year's low in March, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported Saturday.

The index of Texas business activity rose 3 per cent in May, coming after a 5 per cent increase in April, and raised the level to within 4 per cent of the all-time high posted in May, 1957.

Freight carloadings in May dropped 1 per cent below April, and were 7 per cent below May of last year.

"The increasing volume of freight hauled by air, truck and barge has deprived this index of much of its former value as a measure of the volume of goods transported," the research bureau pointed out.

Trend Should Continue
"This trend seems likely to continue, for this index has not been above the 1949 average since April 1953. The rate of decline of the index does seem to be slowing, however," the report added.

The report said May crude oil production rose 1 per cent in May, after adjustment for seasonal variation, and added the demand for gasoline in the summer vacation months "will materially affect the short-term prospects of the industry."

"April demand showed an encouraging improvement, but May was a trifle behind the May, 1957 consumption figure. If June, July and August are good months, the industry should approach the winter heating season with its affairs in good order," the research bureau said.

Oil Outlook Better
The report said "another encouraging fact" was the nine-day allowable production set by the Texas Railroad Commission for July, ending three months of eight day schedules.

Crude oil runs to stills in Texas. If it comes from a hardware store, we have it, Lewis Hardware.

Retail Sales In Department Stores Surpass May Of '57

DALLAS (UPI)—Retail sales in department stores of the Eleventh District, comprising all of Texas and parts of Louisiana, surpassed totals for the corresponding period last year during May, while unemployment declined again last month.

A report in the Business Review, issued by the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, showed that May sales this year were 3 per cent above sales recorded over the same period last year, and exceeded April, 1957 retail sales by 16 per cent.

Meanwhile, new car registrations during May dropped off in Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, and San Antonio.

The registrations were 3 per cent under the preceding month and fell 33 per cent below figures for the corresponding period last year.

Agriculture's Outlook
The report said that agricultural prospects are good.

The winter wheat crop in the district states stood at double last year's output on June 1. The condition of ranges and pastures was improved over last year despite a seasonal decline this month.

Value of construction contracts awarded in district states during April reflected gains of 11 per cent over March and 29 per cent

Beirut Fighting Said 'Fierce'

By LARRY COLLINS
United Press International

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Army troops supported by rocket-firing planes broke up strong rebel attacks on every army position in and around Tripoli Saturday, the government announced.

The rebels said they lost five men killed and 20 or 30 wounded in a "terrible night" of fighting. They said the government troops suffered one killed and four wounded.

The rebels claimed earlier they lost 5 men killed and 20 or 30 wounded in a night of fighting. They said government losses were one killed and four wounded.

Rebels Driven Off
The Army said it launched a counterattack following an all-night battle which one rebel leader called the fiercest in Tripoli since the rebellion began several weeks ago.

It said its troops and planes firing rockets broke up the rebel attacks Saturday afternoon.

The army communique said that rebels fired on army positions at Sidon in southern Lebanon but were driven off. The rebels also fired on a tanker-truck convoy in the Sidon area but were repulsed, it said.

Five Irish army officers arrived, meanwhile, to bring the United Nations observer team to full strength of 100, enabling an extension of observer operations.

The fighting in the northern port city of Tripoli broke out Friday night and still was going on Saturday. Tripoli is one of the key spots in the fight between the rebels, who are trying to overthrow the pro-Western government and install a government that favors President Gamal Abdel Nasser and his United Arab Republic.

Man Karame, brother of Tripoli rebel chief Rashid Karame, said the Army said it launched a counterattack following an all-night battle which one rebel leader called the fiercest in Tripoli since the rebellion began several weeks ago.

He said his troops and planes firing rockets broke up the rebel attacks Saturday afternoon.

New Note On Geneva Meet

By HENRY SHAPIRO
United Press International

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union Saturday gave the United States a new note on next week's nuclear conference in Geneva and the signs were growing that Russia will attend after all.

An authoritative source said the Soviet delegation applied for and received the Swiss visas needed to attend the East-West scientific conference scheduled to begin in Geneva Tuesday.

Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko called U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson to his office Saturday afternoon and turned over a reply to the latest U.S. note requesting Russia's final answer on the talks.

The contents were expected to be released later Saturday night. The Soviets, in an unexpected reversal Wednesday, told the United States they could see no point in attending the Geneva conference unless the United States agreed in advance the talks would lead to a nuclear test suspension.

The Wednesday note said U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had, in a news conference statement June 17, "nullified the position laid down in President Eisenhower's message on the need to reach agreement on the supervision of the cessation of tests of atomic and hydrogen bombs."

The United States quickly replied Thursday with a note that said the Geneva meeting would be held in accordance with the exchange of correspondence between Moscow and Washington.

It did not refer to Dulles' news conference statement that the United States would not commit itself in advance to a nuclear test suspension.

Governor Asks Safe July 4

AUSTIN (UPI) — Gov. Price Daniel Saturday called upon all drivers and law enforcement officers in Texas to join in an all-out drive against traffic deaths during the July 4 holiday week-end.

The Department of Public Safety has predicted that 28 persons will die on Texas highways and streets during the three-day period from 12:01 a.m. July 4 through 11:59 p.m. July 6.

Craft Burns But All Aboard Survive

MOSCOW (UPI) — Two Russian fighter planes Friday forced down a U.S. Air Force plane with nine men aboard which flew over the Soviet Armenian frontier, the Soviets said Saturday night. The plane "burned up" after landing and all aboard survived and were arrested.

Russia charged that the plane flew over the border to a distance of 105 miles when it was met by the fighter planes. A formal protest note handed to U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson did not mention any shooting, nor did it say how the plane burned, or whether there were any injured. Radio Moscow broadcast details. A U.S. embassy spokesman declined comment.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko handed the note to Thompson in the foreign office. The note said the border crossing was "deliberate" and called on the United States to "prevent violations" of the sort in the future. It said that the United States would not be able to "deny the fact of the violation."

The plane was forced down at a point 19 miles from the frontier, the Soviets said. They charged it was a "crude violation" of the Soviet airspace.

"As is evidenced from their testimonies and the papers found on them, all the detained men are American air servicemen" the Soviets said.

It was the second such incident this month. On June 7, a helicopter with nine American soldiers aboard came down in Communist East Germany. The East German government still is holding the nine men.

The Soviets said all the men aboard the plane that came down in Armenia were in US military uniforms. The plane involved was not specified but it was described as a four engine aircraft. The incident occurred at 6:30 p.m. Moscow time, (10:30 a.m. CDT).

"A four engine plane bearing the identification marks of the United States Air Force violated the USSR frontier and penetrated 170 kilometers (105 miles) into the airspace of the Soviet Union," the US aircraft was met by two Soviet fighter planes which ordered it to make a landing. The intruder plane did not comply and the fighters compelled it to land. It landed 260 kilometers (149 miles) from the place where it violated the frontier and burned up," Radio Moscow said.

The nine men aboard were arrested though there was no mention of any shooting and the cause of the fire was not explained.

De Gaulle Shakes Up Army Brass

By ARTHUR I. HIGGEE
United Press International

PARIS (UPI)—Premier Charles de Gaulle's government shook up the top command of the army Saturday and mapped new measures to help bring peace to Algeria.

After a 90-minute cabinet meeting, the government announced the resignation of Gen. Henri Lorrillot as army chief of staff and appointment of Gen. Andre Marie Zeller, 62, to replace him.

Announcement of the new measures for Algeria was withheld until De Gaulle goes to the straits North African territory next week.

The change in the army command was unexpected and no reason was given. But it could be interpreted as a victory for the extreme right wingers in the army.

Lorrillot was appointed chairman of the joint chiefs of staff last month by Premier Pierre Pflimlin when Gen. Paul Henri Ely resigned because he refused to stop seeing De Gaulle.

Lorrillot thus was identified with the stop-De Gaulle movement.

When De Gaulle took over the premiership June 1, he reappointed Ely as chairman of the joint chiefs. Lorrillot resumed full time duties as the army commander. A job he never had relinquished.

Zeller has been military governor of Paris.

In Sydney, Australia, the Sydney Herald reported Saturday that Gaullist forces in the French Pacific colony of New Caledonia had "overthrown the government and seized control of the island."

Saturday marked the end of De Gaulle's first four weeks in office and the signs were that he was getting impressive national support for the record of things he has done so far.

Crash Of Airplane Kills Two

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI) — The crash of a light plane killed the pilot, Maynard F. Dagle, 40, and passenger, Benny Joe Durham, 23, Saturday when they tried to land on the Durham farm.

Dagle, who normally operated the plane as a crop duster, had a landing strip on the farm near the Wolforth community and was headed for the strip when the aircraft suddenly plunged to the ground.

He and Durham were returning from Amarillo where they had gone to renew Durham's pilot license.

Dagle, who formerly operated a flying service, had taught his 23-year-old friend to fly about five years ago.

Durham's body was removed from the wreckage by his brother, Donald, 19, and a cousin, David Durham, 22.

Donald said the plane came low over their home, pulled up and started to turn, then fell to the ground.

US Official To Talk With Reds

By FRANCIS L. MCCARTHY
United Press International

HAVANA (UPI) — A U.S. government official walked into the Sierra Cristal Mountains Saturday night to negotiate directly with the Cuban rebels for the release of 10 Americans and two Canadian kidnaped from the American-owned Moa Bay Company mine in Oriente province.

Park Wollam, U.S. consul in Santiago, acting under orders from the U.S. embassy here, drove to Moa Bay accompanied by Val Darnell, a company representative in Santiago.

The two men drove to the Sierra Cristal foothills, where they left their truck and followed Cuban guides into the mountains on foot.

The rebel hideout was believed to be about 20 to 25 miles south of the American mining properties.

The Cuban Army announced it had cancelled all patrol activities in the area and had grounded reconnaissance aircraft in an attempt to avoid military activity in the area during the negotiations.

Wollam was sent to the kidnap

Man Faces Bigamy Charge

JACKSON, Tenn. (UPI)—The weekend John E. Richardson, 36, spent away from home led to his downfall — and a charge of bigamy.

His wife told police Richardson had been away every weekend since they were married April 20, claiming he was visiting his mother. She said a surprise visit on the "mother" herself and found instead a woman who claimed she married Richardson last August, eight months before her own marriage.

Talkathon Hinders Alaska's Chances

By JOHN A. GOLDSMITH
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) said Saturday that unless a southern "talkathon" against the Alaska statehood bill is broken, the measure may be pigeon-holed.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.), floor manager of the legislation, said, however, that the vote is clear for "an overwhelming vote for final passage, probably by Wednesday."

Wednesday is July 2. The text of the bill already passed by the House requires that President Eisenhower notify the Alaska scene Friday when word of Thursday night's attack on the mining company reached Havana. He was instructed to "contact the Cuban rebels immediately for the purpose of obtaining the immediate release of the Americans and Canadians."

American Embassy officials here said they hoped the men would be released during the weekend.

An embassy spokesman said Wollam's latest instructions were a reversal of policy and negated the orders he received earlier not to negotiate directly with the rebels.

He said Wollam's first orders were given because Ambassador Earl Smith "did not want to jump into the matter first."

The rebels themselves were reported to have told their victims they would be "held in the hills a couple of days."

In Washington, the State Department said persons identifying themselves as rebels had said the men would be freed soon.

Observers said they believed the U.S. decided to step in when officials of the American-owned

Shoplifting Charged To Ballerina

By WILLIAM ANDERSON United Press International BRUSSELS (UPI)—Bolshevik ballerina Olga Lepesjinskaja was picked up Saturday by police on charges of shoplifting two pairs of gloves, an umbrella and other items from a Brussels department store. She was released after nine hours of questioning.

Miss Lepesjinskaja, the Soviet ballet company's No. 2 ballerina, was freed when Soviet Ambassador Viktor Avilov intervened in her behalf.

Police refused to say whether they would file charges, but informed sources said officials had no wish to repeat the scandal in London in 1956 when Soviet discus thrower Nina Ponomareva was accused of shoplifting five hats worth $4.68. Miss Ponomareva was fined and returned home to Russia.

The sources here said the case probably would be dropped, but the store refusing to press charges.

Miss Lepesjinskaja, who is the company's second ballerina after Janiova, did not appear at the opera house Saturday night. However, she was scheduled to appear in Swan Lake Sunday.

Secret Documents Published

By WILLIAM GALBRAITH United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secret documents published by the State Department Saturday claimed Britain gave Russia a "half promise" in 1941 that the Soviets could dominate eastern Europe after World War II.

They quoted a British official as saying London gave Russia that impression but never really expected the Soviet Union to be able to gain such strict control of the area which is now behind the Iron Curtain.

The story of the "half promise" was told in a memorandum by Adolf A. Berle Jr., assistant secretary of state in 1941, in a talk he has with Ralph C. S. Stevenson, principal private secretary of the British Foreign Office.

Berle said he asked Stevenson whether Britain had entered any "real agreements" with Russia. He reported Stevenson said he thought the United States knew Russian officials had entered into negotiations with Poland, Czechs and Yugoslavs in London.

Berle replied he was aware of proposed Russian arrangements for a "federated system" linking the four nations. He asked Stevenson whether that didn't really mean Russia "were to dominate that entire area."

Kennel Club Formation Is Planned

A number of people in Borger are interested in forming a kennel club and have invited dog lovers of Pampa to join with them in the enterprise. The club will fill the purpose of training and showing in both audience and conformation.

Mrs. Mary Ruth Flaharity and others in Borger feel that Pampans in the Amarillo Kennel Club might like a shorter trip to attend training classes.

"Amarillo being much larger than either of our cities, there are more persons to belong to a kennel club but if we could combine our members, I feel we could get up enough persons together to form a very nice club for our common interest," writes Mrs. Flaharity.

The Borger woman asks Pampans concerned to contact her, giving their name and address and telephone number. She will notify them when she receives rules governing organization from the American Kennel Club.

Letters should be addressed to Mrs. Mary Ruth Flaharity, 116 Arline St., Borger. Or phone Broadway 3-3076.

U. S. OFFICIAL

According to a Moa Bay official, the company did not deal directly with the rebels in the mountains but "word was passed on to the rebels in the hills that they better get their prisoners down, but fast."

The rebels took the attitude that the kidnappings were a "propaganda victory." Mining company officials as well as Smith stressed that Castro's men were doing themselves more harm than good by their "useless defiant gesture."

Castro's Brother Leader Moa Bay officials said it was safe to assume the kidnaped men were being well cared for.

He had no knowledge of reports that army troops were hot on the heels of the rebels.

The rebel band, 200 strong, was believed to have been led by Raoul Castro, brother of rebel leader Fidel Castro. The army called the raiders "Communist elements."

The Castro radio hidden in a cave near rebel headquarters in the Sierra Maestra range on the south coast of Oriente Province made no reference to the Moa Bay incident Saturday.

It said only today that a "high-ranking army officer" was killed in a clash with rebels near Bucycto. There was no mention of rebel casualties.

The army in Havana said its troops were hard on the heels of the rebel raiders and predicted they "will be captured soon."

Smith warned Friday night that the United States would "use every means possible" to get the men back alive and safe. He said the first step was to see what officials of the Moa Bay Mining Company could do.

Iron Worker Strike Due Monday

AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI)—Some 275 iron workers are expected to strike Monday in West Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Kansas.

Officials of an iron workers union, representing 331 workmen in the four states, said that failure to settle a wage dispute with contractors prompted the strike call.

F. M. Hall, business agent of Amarillo Local 408 of the International Union of Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Workers (AFL-CIO) said that the strike will be aimed at all contractors in the four states who have not signed contracts calling for higher wages.

Hall said the union local has rejected a wage hike offer made by the Panhandle Chapter of the Association of General Contractors in Lubbock.

He added, however, that six contractors signed agreements providing wage increases for "40 or 50 men" this morning.

The present wage scale for iron workers is $3.12 1-2 cents hourly. Hall said the union is asking a 10 cents hourly raise now, another similar increase on Oct. 1, a third on April 1, 1959, and a two-year contract retroactive to April 1, 1957.

The largest project which would be affected by the strike is expansion work at Phillips Petroleum carbon black plant near Borger. School construction jobs over the four states and expansion work at Amarillo Air Force Base would also be affected.

Perryton Pair Build Their Adobe Home

(Special To The News) PERRYTON — Mr. and Mrs. Bud Battin are going even farther than most people do in making their own home. Not only are they building the home themselves, but they are also making most of the building materials. They are making a form of adobe blocks for their home. They began this about two years ago and now have up the walls and are working on the flooring.

The only part of the whole operation they are not doing themselves is the rough structure, including the foundation, actual laying of the blocks and the roof. J. W. Brown is contracting that portion of the construction.

When completed the house will have over 2,000 square feet of floor space and will include three bedrooms, living room, kitchen, bathroom, and a big 14 by 28 foot family room. A large garage will be attached on the front.

The Battin's idea originally came jointly from Brown and a book called "How to Build Your Own Home of Earth," which was published in 1943 by the Oklahoma State University extension division.

After doing some careful study of the contents of the book, and making a few adaptations to their own needs, the Battin's started to work. Not content with merely making his own materials, Battin, a machinist by trade, went one step further and made his own mold for the blocks and his own mixer. He started with a hand mixer, but found that much too slow and constructed the mechanized one.

They used a mixture of one part cement and 12 parts sand and dirt. After mixing, it was poured into the mold, where Battin thoroughly tamped it down, then lifted the whole thing out by use of a lever and set it out to dry. By using a number of boards the same width and length of the blocks, they were able to remove them

Six More Executions Expected

VIENNA (UPI)—Six Hungarian revolutionaries, all close associates of executed Freedom Premier Imre Nagy, are facing the same fate meted out to him before a secret military court in Budapest, reliable reports reaching here said Saturday.

One of the defendants is Mrs. Julia Rajk, wife of sometime Hungarian Foreign Minister Laszlo Rajk who was hanged in 1949 as a Titoist traitor.

The reports coincided with a statement Friday by the International Commission of Jurists in the Hague, Holland, that at least three persons were being tried for "counter revolutionary" activities in Hungary.

The commission, which asked Hungary for information, said the defendants, like Nagy, had taken refuge in the Yugoslav embassy during the Russian counter-attack of Nov. 4, 1956, and had left as Nagy did, only to be seized.

Seaway Is Mecca For Tourists

By HASKELL SHORT United Press International MASSENA, N.Y. (UPI)—The St. Lawrence Seaway, the dream come true for shippers and explorers for centuries, will be a mecca for tourists with about four million persons expected to visit the area each year.

The tourist industry is one of the major by-products of the seaway development which will open the ports of America heartland to ocean going ships.

Next Tuesday is I-Day for Inundation Day. A blast of dynamite will knock out one of the temporary dams built to control the river during the billion-dollar construction project. It will send the water cascading into the channels for ships and swirling against the big dams built to generate electric power.

The midwestern tourist, accustomed to thinking of the seaway in terms of ships coming to the Great Lakes ports, will be surprised to find the most spectacular sights are the big power dams.

The additional power from the dams has brought new industry here and more is expected. Two plants have located here recently.

Sharing the house with Mr. and Mrs. Battin will be their three children, Judy, George and J. W.

The L Ranch Motel, Pampa Hotel, Murphy's Court and the Ranch House Motel will serve as official hosts to the lucky tourists.

At first, tourists will not consider themselves so fortunate as they will be stopped on the highway by a police car. Entertainment will consist of dinner and rodeo with two local couples.

There are more than 7,000 pleasure boats now in use in the United States.

Seeds Of Evil

It could be rightfully claimed that much of our civilization can be traced to lines of thought which originated with the ancient Greeks. These remarkable people, peaceful and productive for many centuries, provided us with our beginnings of introspective thought. Philosophy and ancient Greek thinking are nearly synonymous.

If for example, we wish to trace the beginnings of communism or socialism we have only to turn to Plato and others of similar school. The only contribution of Marx to the socialist format was his peculiar and distorted economic sense added to the collectivist theories of the Platonic school.

Since so much of our culture can be traced to the Attic peninsula, it would be logical to look there for the seeds of error which today, and thru the centuries have produced a bumper crop. While much of ancient Greek celebration was good and constructive, much was also filled with mistaken concepts. Both good and bad have continued thru the years.

There is a tendency to revere everything of ancient Greek origin. So long as we are tied to Grecian lines of thought, so long will we continue to make progress in the same direction, and to fall short of our goals in the same manner. If 20th century America continues to use a 6th century B. C. blueprint, we can expect 6th century B. C. results. What is needed is a 20th century philosophy, based on sound moral precepts, and not subservient to Plato, Epictetus or Aristotle.

A precise illustration of something radically in error from the mind of this last and highly respected member of the philosophic fraternity, is the following:

"The citizen should be molded," said Aristotle in his "Politics," "to suit the form of government under which he lives; it is undeniable that education should be regulated by law and should be an affair of state."

This error, which has plagued so-called civilized man from the days of Aristotle to the present hour, now finds repetition in this country as the National Education Association defines the American school system as "the creature of the state."

From Aristotle to William G. Carr, the state has considered the business of "molding" the citizen as one of its prime duties. But the fact of the matter is that the state has aims and ambitions which are not within the ken or the framework of a citizen's life and purpose. Thus, so long as the state is in a position to mold our young people, so long will our young people be molded. And so long will the molding be one of conformity and subservience, from which, with each passing year, it becomes more and more difficult for the citizen to extricate himself.

As Anthony Gilkes, high master of St. Paul's in England, recently put it:

"What is the logical outcome . . . ? First, the establishment of a state monopoly of education, a process which has already been openly advocated under the disguised form of forbidding the payment of educational fees. (See all American government schools.) Second, the kind of extension of the molding process which has in fact sapped the sense of freedom in so many modern states . . . (It is) the sinister technique by which whole areas of the mind can be literally annihilated, so that men and women are today being conditioned both in Russia and China to complete conformity with Marxist ideology . . . It is, after all, the natural outcome of (the Aristotle idea) and it is only through criminal apathy about modern techniques of establishing power that we remain indifferent to the possibility of its insidious extension."

The error of Aristotle lives after him. What is needed now is a philosophy, clearly worded, which explains that man must not be molded by the state, but that the state must be reduced and contained by man.

Good And Bad Of The Week's News

Foreign News Commentary
By CHARLES M. McCANN
UPI Foreign News Analyst

The week's good and bad news on the international balance sheet:

Soviet Russia indulged in an outburst of temper this week over developments in the field of foreign affairs.

Mobs, obviously officially organized, engaged in hostile demonstrations against the United States, West German and Danish embassies in Moscow. The demonstrations were staged in retaliation for anti-Communist demonstrations in New York and Bonn in protest against the execution of Hungarian revolt leader Imre Nagy and Pal Maleter.

A Soviet note to the United States threatened to boycott a meeting of experts, already set for next Tuesday in Geneva, Switzerland, on means of assuring compliance with a possible ban on tests of nuclear weapons.

Official statements and the officially-controlled Moscow newspapers denounced the United States, its allies and the United Nations for considering Lebanon's request that action be taken to stop the flow of weapons and men which are being sent to the Lebanese rebels across the frontier of Syria from the United Arab Republic.

On Monday, while police watched idly, a mob smashed the windows of the West German Embassy in Moscow. Incendiary rags, stones and bottles of purple ink were thrown through the broken windows. Draperies and furniture were damaged seriously. It followed the same course as last Friday's attack on the Danish Embassy.

On Wednesday, a much more temperate mob demonstrated in front of the United States Embassy. Without much enthusiasm, the demonstrators shouted "Fascists," "dogs" and similar epithets. But no missiles were thrown and no damage was done.

Everything had seemed set for the Geneva meeting of experts on a possible agreement to suspend nuclear weapons tests as the Soviet government demands.

The United States, Canada, Great Britain and France were ready to send their delegates, expecting to confer with experts from Russia, Czechoslovakia, Poland and Romania.

But on Wednesday, Soviet Foreign Secretary Andrei A. Gromyko handed American Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson, Jr., an "aide memoire" or informal note demanding that the problem of insuring compliance with a test ban be subordinated to reaching an immediate agreement on the suspension.

Gromyko threatened to boycott the meeting unless his views were accepted.

But the allied governments went ahead with plans to send their delegates to Geneva and await developments.

United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold returned to his New York headquarters after conferring with Lebanese President Camille Chamoun and Premier Sami Solh and United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Hammarskjold sought first to try to get Nasser to stop the flow of aid from Syria to the Lebanese rebels and secondly to police the

Farm Prices Drop

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Lower prices for vegetables, wheat, potatoes and cattle sent the nation's farmers home from market with less money this month.

The Agriculture Department reported prices received by farmers for their crops and livestock dropped more than 3 per cent in the month ended June 15. The cost of things farmers must buy to live and produce their goods dropped 1-3 per cent.

Apples and new crop peaches were the only products to bring more money during the month. Average beef cattle prices were $22.30 per hundredweight compared with $23.10 in mid-May and $17.80 in mid-June last year.

Meanwhile, Agriculture Department figures showed that the national average price support rate for 1958-crop wheat will be $1.82 a bushel, 4 cents above the department's preliminary rate.

The increase was forced by a rising general price level which boosted the parity price on which farm crops are based.

Help in planning savings programs, loans to meet emergencies, low-cost financing of expansion, helpful counseling . . . are all part of our service.

O, SUSANNAH!

Here you have a picture of Tommy Adkins trying to keep up with the limitless range of his guitar. Adkins has played since his Pampa High School days and has not sighted the limit yet. In Adkins' hands, the guitar is a sensitive instrument that brings forth the best in popular songs. In its' own way, he will tell you, it is as evocative as the piano or violin.

On The Business Scene

The Interstate Commerce Commission approved a 30 per cent increase in mail hauling rates for 14 major eastern railroads, effective Sept. 1, and varying retroactive increases. The increases would give the carriers an estimated 60 million dollars in back mail pay and a $2-million-dollar increase in annual revenues.

Soft coal production this year should amount to 420 million tons, against 490 million in 1957, the National Coal Assn. forecast. For the year starting this July 1 the association predicted output of 483 million tons, reflecting an expected economic pick-up.

The American Telephone & Telegraph Co. and Western Union Telegraph Co. asked the Federal Communications Commission for increases in their teletype service rates. AT&T proposed an interim increase of 35 per cent on private-line teletype circuits and Western Union an average rise of 41 per cent.

Retail trade this week slipped below a year ago reflecting unseasonably cold and rainy weather, Dun & Bradstreet reported. The most noticeable declines from the similar 1957 week were in summer apparel, outdoor furniture and air conditioners.

KINDER, LA. (UPI)—A car-truck collision killed Junior Herman, 28, of Rockport, Tex., and Fred Wilson, 44, of Robstown, Tex., Thursday on U.S. 190 east of Kinder. The truck driver, Joseph A. Skelly, said his vehicle had stalled in the middle of the highway when the Texas car hit it.

Guitar 'Grows On' Tommy Adkins

By WALLACE TRUEDELL
Pampa News Staff Writer

Guitar grows on him. He's Tommy Adkins, living east of Pampa, teaching math to Hopkins fifth and seventh graders.

Math teacher for eight years, guitarist twice as long. With 16 years' practice, Adkins is getting pretty good.

On occasions he plays in a three-piece band. The other pieces are organ and bass drum. Lions' Minstrels and the March of Dimes have partaken of the Adkins' guitar. Mostly he plays for himself.

No singing cowboy is Adkins. "Anyone can pick up a guitar, pick up three or four chords and play a hundred western songs," he says. "Leaving out the chord progressions," he goes on.

Adkins is in search of a new chord pattern every time he picks up the guitar. Changing patterns, he gets a "different idea of how to play the sound."

Enter jazz. "Limitless possibilities. All your worries, all your cares are gone."

With Adkins, jazz is what strikes the chord, evoking a Duke Ellington jam session and a "Negro boy with a violin."

Although the guitar cannot "sustain a vibrato," Adkins is not about to trade it for a Strad. Nor will he stray to the piano, another "fretted instrument." He recalls the strings of the lute that the Chinese were the first to play. And he is satisfied with the guitar.

Music has always been a part of Adkins. He was at Pampa High School when he picked up his first chords on the guitar. After a year in the Wayland College's Little Theatre, he strummed his way through West Texas State College, all the way to an education B. A. Five years later he received his M. A.

The "lost progression" was spent in New London, Conn., with the

SALT AND PEPPER SHAKERS

Mrs. A. D. Fish, 1000 W. Buckler, appears here with just a few of her salt and pepper shakers. They come from all over the globe. Her collection is probably unparalleled in size and variety and instead of shrinking, like the globe, it's growing larger. (News Photo)

Pampa Woman Has 'Shakers' Collection

By RONALD WATERS
Pampa News Staff Writer

The saying of one of the nations leading salt companies, "when it rains, it pours," must have had Mrs. A. D. Fish in mind. She owns over 1,000 pair of salt and pepper shakers.

Geography plays an important part in her collection, "Agenis" search the world over for her, with samplings coming from as far as the Gold Coast of West Africa, Nigeria, the British Crown Colony on the Gold Coast, boasts the largest set in her whole assemblage of shakers housed in three china closets in such a precise order they resemble military legions. The African contribution seems large enough to serve not for table use but more for canisters.

Global communication has built up the innumerable varieties in an array of shakers proud in their display of global geography. Mrs. Fish has in part built her collection through avid correspondence with the aid of the National Salt and Pepper Club at Denver.

Another two sets of her collection came from a pen pal in the British Commonwealth from "way down under." They made the long voyage from Invercargill, New Zealand, and from another part of the South Pacific, a young girl in the Philippines dispatched shakers, making for a "United Nations" of shakers from not only the continents and islands in the Southern Hemisphere but gleaned from Germany, England, France, and Italy.

Italy's representation has its local connotation. Mrs. Lucy Reeves of 1001 S. Wells, a native of Rome, had her mother send wine bottle shakers in a festive maize basket to Mrs. Fish.

Sons, grandsons, brother-in-law have been among her overseas "emissaries." Mrs. Fish's son, Alfred Hodges, parceled many of her "gems" to the states while he served with the Army in England and Germany during World War II, and correspondents in Borger's

Stocks Show Gain On Average

By ELMER C. WALZER
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks gained on average during the past week with daily average sales volume declining.

It was a market lacking strong leadership and smacking of speculation.

Thirteen per cent of all the trading done centered on 10 issues selling at an average of $11.25 a share.

The real market leaders, General Motors and U.S. Steel drew up in 12th and 14th places respectively in volume of trading.

The week's market story is a series of stories on special situations.

The AM Story

Penn-Texas Corp. seemed to have a big weight lifted from it when Leopold D. Silberstein, who stirred up several proxy fights, resigned as president. The stock led the market in volume with sales of 315,800 shares and rose 2 1/2 points or 6 1/2 per cent to close the week at its high of 6 1/2.

Serve, No. 3 in turnover, had sales of 269,100 shares, ranged between 6 and 9 and closed at 8 1/2 for a weekly gain of 1/4 point. This is a company without a business. It has cash and a tax carry back and announced it was acquiring a West Coast oil drilling company.

Then came American Motors and most of the stock's real fire works. That stock ran up sales of 258,200 shares, touched a low of 11 and came back to 12 1/2. It closed the week at 12, off 1/4 point.

On June 20, a dispatch in a New York paper said Louis E. Wolfson, who had owned 400,000 shares of American Motors was selling and had disposed of 100,000 shares. That announcement brought selling. On Monday AM fell to $11 a share.

Hupp Shows Activity

Then the Securities & Exchange Commission cracked down on Wolfson. It charged in federal court that he had disposed of all his American Motors holdings and had gone short of at least 150,000 shares. The dispatch saying he had sold part of his holdings, the SEC said, brought the price down so that he could cover his short position. Wolfson has been enjoined in trading in the stock and will have to face a hearing on charges of manipulation.

To show the speculative bent of traders, they bought rather heavily in Hupp, apparently in the belief that this company makes automobiles. It hasn't made one since the depression of the 1930s. Anyhow the stock rose 1 1/2 cents on 111,600 shares.

Other low-priced issues that made the market included Minute Maid which closed at 1 1/4, up 1/8; Rexal 1 1/4, up 2; Libby, McNeill & Libby 10 1/4, up 1/4; Standard Packaging 17 1/4, up 2 1/4; and Armour 1 1/4, up 1/8.

The steels did nothing and neither did the leading auto shares. Oils produced some good gains, including 7 points for Richfield and 2 1/2 for Skelly. Union Carbide rose 3/4 in the chemicals, Pfizer 4 in the drugs and Lorillard 4 1/4 in the tobaccos.

Rails Close Strong

Some institutional buying was reported in such issues as Du Pont and Eastman Kodak. It wasn't a one-way market by any means. Out of the 1,396 issues traded 544 declined while 676 advanced and 176 held unchanged. New highs totaled 188 against 19 new lows for the year.

The railroads made the best showing of the week and they closed on their high which was off 0.22 point from last week's close but was more than two full points above the week's low.

Demand for the rails came when the Congress passed a bill eliminating all excises on freight and other transportation except passenger travel. Car loadings had another week-to-week rise and reached their best level for the year.

At the close of the week the industrials were 3.55 points under their 1958 high; rail 0.62 point; and utilities 0.31 point.

Sales averaged 2,666,824 shares daily against 2,746,429 shares daily in the previous week.

'Cheapest' Three-Bedroom House No Longer Built

By EDWARD COWAN
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A house that was the cheapest three-bedroom model in 29 cities six months ago no longer is being built because it wasn't popular enough, the 1958 National Housing Conference "Housing Yearbook" reported today.

The yearbook also found that it is cheaper to live in a three-bedroom house than a three-bedroom apartment. This was based on a comparison between average rents and average monthly charges on a home.

The cheapest three-bedroom house available at the end of 1957 was a stripped $8,295 model in Phoenix, Ariz. The yearbook quoted the builder as saying the model "failed to justify continuance in the ranks of fast-selling, volume production houses."

Lacked Luxury Features
He attributed this unpopularity to the fact that the house lacked custom woods, colored bath fixtures, extra storage space, built-in kitchen appliances, arched doors and other refinements.

The survey found that the cheapest three-bedroom houses in the 29 cities surveyed ranged as high as $15,000, in Rochester, N. Y. The median (numerical middle) was $10,990 in Philadelphia. The median was $12,000 in northern cities and $10,075 in the South.

Figuring that a family should not spend more than one-fifth of its income for shelter, the yearbook estimated that about three families in 10 could afford the lowest-priced houses on the market.

Variations Noted
The yearbook noted that "because of variations in taxes and utilities, there are variations in the family incomes required to purchase similarly priced houses in different cities."

"Thus, it takes an income of $8,561 to swing the $12,500 house in Long Beach (Calif.) but a $12,500 house in Kansas City, Kan. can be handled with an annual take of $7,058," it said.

In Norfolk, Va., a combination of low prices, taxes and utility costs made it possible to buy a house on an income of $4,864, the yearbook said.

Many families, however, presently violate the five-to-one rule, the publication said.

The brilliantly colored Central American quetzal is the national bird of Guatemala.

In Ison, Spain, it is against the law for fishwives to go barefoot.

Outside it was a bright oven and the scattered golfers and spectators were becoming rare frankfurters. Inside, in the Pampa Country Club pro shop, it was shady and cool and informative.

There were clusters of men, some in loud Bermuda Shorts, listening to lectures on tournament golf and the problems thereof.

The old golf legend that tournaments are won and lost on the green was taking a thorough buffeting from some of the more muscled citizens. The ones who blast tee shots out of eye sight.

It was disproven and then proven again, about as often as the pro shop screen door popped open and banged shut, that the theory of Putting Tells The Tale.

Long Drive Like Homer!

HART WARREN ... sticks to schedule

Every golfing fan likes to watch the man who can belt the ball a mile down a fairway off the tee.

It's human nature or something. Just like in baseball. You leap to your toes and scream lungs sore for the homerun, but hardly blink an eye lash for the single.

In golf, a check with the majority of the money-makers, the pros, and you'll 9 times out of 10 be told, it's the guy who is pitching and putting, what walks off with the blue chips.

It ain't always the case, mind you. But usually. There was one guy smacking the legend in the teeth, complaining he won his match, but might as well have putted with a cow yoke, a plumb line and a blindfold.

Then over in another corner, another citizen said he putted like a sleepwalker who could do no wrong. Everything he tapped ran in the hole like a homesick gopher.

Plaudits For Hart

On into the twilight hours they gabbed, neither side budging the length of a "give-away" putt. Many of the lower flight titles had been decided. In less than 24 hours the Championship and First Flight crowns would be up at 1 p.m. in the City Wide Golf Tournament wrap-up.

The four tight-lipped swingers who'll be trudging down the fairways after the top two flight chapters, are the lone remainder from an original field of 104. That 104 number of entries brought good cheer to the heart of club pro, Hart Warren, who three brief weeks ago remarked, "We'll be lucky to land 80 players, what with everybody taking off on vacations."

Devil's Handicraft

Golf is the game that is said to bring out the good and the bad... especially the bad... in the human mind. Like the thunder coming back to Tommy Bolt, who found cause while in a fit of rage to fire four clubs onto the ground Friday in the Pepsi Open.

While closet-cleaning the other afternoon, we stumbled across a poem, applying the old Faust idea to the game of golf. Remember "The Devil and Daniel Webster," and "Dr. Faustus?" Or you might recall reading the book "The Year the Yankees Lost the Pennant," which was converted into the recent stage success, "Damn Yankees."

Well this is the links sequel to those literary masterpieces. It is dubbed, "The Dissatisfied Golfer"

Onto a golfer sick with shame Late one eve the devil came And the Old Boy said with his oily leer, "Why are you sitting grieving here? What on earth do you want to do? Would you sell your soul for a 7?" The golfer cried to the grinning Nick, "For a 7 I'd sell it quick." "Done," cried the devil, "put her thar! Tomorrow you'll shoot the course in par. Now get you to bed and rest content, I'll see you later," and out he went. True to his bargain the Devil kept. From tee to tee that golfer stepped, Making the short holes and the far As he has promised him, in par. Twice he had putts for a birdie three, But more than he'd asked for couldn't be. His friend rejoiced, as good friends do, But he shook his head at that 77. "Once I was stymied by a tree. There were two short putts I missed," said he. "And but for that rotten luck of mine, I'd have shot that course in a 69." All that is left to be paraphrased Is that deep in Hell the devil laughed.

Today Is The Day They Settle City-Wide Golfing Differences

C. F. MCGINNIS ... drops semi-final match

GROVER AUSTIN JR. ... in 1st flight finals

Top Flight Finals Slated For 1 p.m.

By RICK PEZDIRTZ Daily News Sports Editor

Not meaning to pilfer a line from Winston Churchill or any of those other prolific citizens, but this is a "momentous day of decision."

At least it's that way for a handful of local linksters, who're hoping to exchange the best shots of their careers in return for flight titles in Pampa's annual City Wide Golf Tournament.

Five of the meet's 11-flight champions have already been crowned, following Saturday success stories. They'll have to be content to be "sweaters" with the rest of the gallery.

Most of the tourney's attention will be focused on the 1:15 teeing-off of the Championship Flight finalists, young Don Prigmore and Harry Wilbur.

Match-O-Gram

CHAMPIONSHIP FLIGHT

10th FLIGHT

FINALS: Bill Lincecum vs Bill Cooper.

However, there'll be plenty of interest scattered among five other title matches and still some left over for seven consolation title matches.

Two-time city champ Dr. Foster Elder, was thwarted in Saturday's Championship semi-finals, as he strove to annex a third crown. It was the sharp-shooting of Harry Wilbur, who booted Elder from the title running. Wilbur scored a skin-tight 21 triumph.

Meanwhile, Prigmore, who played in Plainview's West Texas Golf Meet last week, was sticking a pin in C. F. McGinnis' bubble, by a top-heavy 6-3 score. Prigmore was one-under par at the end of 12 holes when he cinched the match.

Five flight titles claimed Saturday included Jim Triplehorn over Dr. Julian Key, 4-3, in the Third Flight; C. R. Finlayson over Jack McCreary, 2-1, in the Sixth Flight; G. C. Shay over M. A. Grappe, 2-1, in the Seventh Flight; Joe Reid over Clarence Ward, 4-3, in the Eighth Flight; and Art Dobbin over Walter Pung, 4-3, in the Ninth Flight.

Consolation disputes were also settled in the Seventh and Ninth flights Saturday with John Hatcher topping Harold Anderson, 2-1, in the Seventh, and Ralph Sidwell nicking Bill Derrington, 1-up, in the Ninth.

Grover Austin Jr. tackles A. L. Leonard in the First Flight finals Saturday while Bill Ellis and James Cantrell meet in the finals of the Second Flight.

Other championship matches Sunday include, Jerry Boston against Gene Hall in the Fifth, and Bob Lincecum against Bill Cooper in the Tenth.

"The greens were fast on some holes and not so fast on others," Ham Lusk, who is co-director of the tournament with Leslie Hart, commented Saturday night. He added that they'd probably be in similar shape for the top flight's finals today.

Lusk also allowed, "If it should rain us out on Sunday, we'll have to put off the final matches until next weekend, and we'd hate to do that because of it being the July 4 weekend and all. So let it be sunny, eh."

He informed that the course would be loaded with finalists seeking to win gift merchandise certificates. The Championship Flight winner, either Prigmore or Wilbur will get a trophy to boot.

105 Runs Score In Farm League

Home plate took an unmerciful pounding in Little Farm League play Saturday as the loop's eight teams cracked the century mark in denting home 105 big runs.

Motor Inn was the chief assailant, stopping Sportman Store in a wild and woolly 2-6 tilt. Pacesetter Highland Lumber kept its record clean with a 21-7 win over Miller Hood Pharmacy with Johnny Clark posting the victory and Larry Stephens absorbing the reversal.

In other games, Rex Ross Ford eked out a tight 14-13 win over Radcliff Supply while GK Trucking Inc. sped to a 11-1 conquest.

In the Motor Inn runoff, Emmitt Saltzman picked up the win. He gave way to Jackie Thompson in the fifth inning, however, when the score mounted past the danger point. Thompson, who started at shortstop before moving to the mound, laced out a perfect 5 for 5 including three doubles. Teammate, Raymond Edwards, did him one better, however, with 5 for 5 and four doubles.

Allen Wilson recorded the win for GK Trucking as Jimmy Free rapped out a perfect 3 for 3. GK's Gregory Jewell started defensively at third base, twice tagging out runners coming over from second.

REBELS RAP BORGER, 13-6

PLAY PERRYTON IN HOME OPENER TODAY

BORGER — Coach Deck Woldt's Pampa American Legion Rebels had on their hitting clothes here Saturday night, spraying 15 baseballs over Huber Park, to hand Borger's American Legion forces a solid, 13-6, whipping.

It was the opening game of the season for the Pampa club, and they were impressive all the way. The Rebels return home for their home opener Sunday at 2:30 p.m. against the Perryton Legionnaires. Woldt has given the starting pitcher's job to Righthander Buddy Rawls for Sunday's game with portsider, Keith Yager, ready for relief work. Southpaw Kippy Williams handcuffed the Borger nine with six hits here Saturday night, while his mates were committing but one error behind him.

Williams had his change-up working to perfection as he checked Borger. He was relieved by Mack Taylor in the fifth and the latter turned in a good performance, banking on a sharp breaking curve to keep the hosts' bats silent.

Newcomer Larry Stroud, a 15-year-old first sacker who will be only a sophomore at Pampa High next fall, paced the Rebel plate attack with 4 for 5, including three doubles. He drove home three of the winner's tallies.

Clean-up batting De Wayne Glover rapped out a pair of two-baggers for Pampa, while Bobby Stephens had 3 for 5, with a double; Terry Joe Harrison had 3 for 5, all singles; Gary Willis had 2 for 4, including a double; and Don Hazel and Gary Hill had singles.

Stephens turned in the defensive play of the game for Pampa in the bottom of the sixth when he made a spectacular running shooting stab of a sizzling sinking liner, to choke off a Borger rally. The hosts had men on second and third when Stephens made his fine catch.

Pampa drew quick first blood with four top of the first tallies but Borger did them one better in the home half of the frame with five tallies.

However, Williams weathered that rocky start, settled down and blanked the Borger Legion the rest of his pitching stint. Pampa cashed in for two runs in the top of the second to leap back into the lead, 6-5, and they were never headed thereafter.

It wasn't until the last inning that Borger managed to shove over its sixth run and by that time the Rebels had pushed their 13 markers over home plate.

Score by innings: Pampa 420 130 3 — 13 15 1 Borger 600 000 1 — 6 6 4 Batteries: Pampa — Kippy Williams, Taylor (5), and Harrison, Hazel (7), Borger — Tommy Lindsey, Bud Moreland (5) and Adkins.

Cats Want Games A new youngster's baseball team is currently in the process of being formed. Tommy Berry stated Saturday that he has banded together a group of 12-14 year-olds who had been playing street baseball, and is now seeking games with other teams of similar ages, preferably organized Little League teams. The new team is working on a park at 900 Gordon and Henry streets. The new team is going under the name of Alley-Cats. Berry can be reached at 5-8003 by any persons

IT'S WORKING—Trading Frank Lane, left, gives a friendly greeting to new Cleveland manager, Joe Gordon, who won his second straight game Saturday, 6-5, over Baltimore, since replacing Bobby Bragan as the Tribe skipper, Friday. The Cleveland front office is hoping Gordon can do like new Detroit manager, Bill Norman. The latter, who replaced nice-guy Jack Tighe, lifted the Tigers from last to third, beating the leading Yankees seven straight times.

PONY PLAYOFF LIKELY

Kid Loops Enter The Home-Stretch

Like the song says, "Something's Gotta Give." That's the way Pampa's three kid baseball loops shape up this week. The Pony Leaguers climax their regular season with Tuesday and Wednesday night games, and a possible deadlock for the pennant between Cree Drilling Company and Pampa Daily News is quite possible. Both are currently tied for first with identical 10-4 records, and play second division clubs in final games.

First National Bank gets a chance to play the role of spoiler against Cree Tuesday night while Kist gets a similar chance against the Newamen Wednesday night.

In the Eastern Little League, Cabot and Duncan Insurance, currently tied for first with alike 11-2 marks meet Friday night to settle their differences and perhaps give the circuit an undisputed leader. Duncan plays Celanese Tuesday night and Cabot tackles the Optimists Wednesday, to warm-up for the big battle, Celanese and the Optimists slug it out to escape the basement on Thursday.

In the Western Little League, Utility Oil, present leader, by a half game over, E. M. Keller, has a grand opportunity to all but ice the flag, when it faces the two second division clubs, One Bull Ranch on Tuesday and C. R. Hoover on Thursday. Keller plays Hoover on Wednesday.

In Friday night games Duncan clubbed the Optimists, 9-2, as C. Kist 4 10 286 4 Hoover on Thursday. Keller plays Hoover on Wednesday. Keller plays Hoover on Wednesday.

Recall Fortin's 4 HR's? He's Still Rapping 'Em

Who of those present in old Oilers Park on the Saturday night of August 23, 1948, could ever forget Joe Fortin losing four homerun balls over the outfield fences, and batting home 11 big runs to spearhead a 20-4 Pampa win over Lamesa. He tied a West Texas-New Mexico League record in the process.

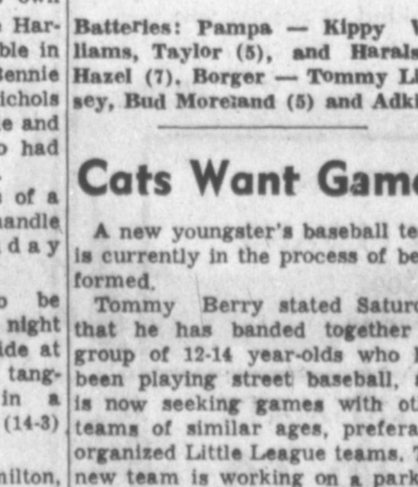

All this came on the heels of an even more lopsided 29-14 win over the same club the previous night.

It's been almost a decade now since Fortin poked his four homers, but he hasn't slowed down much. Now playing with Kempa Humber in the Industrial Softball League, Fortin had a couple more big nights Thursday and Friday. Here's all he did. Against Phillips Thursday night he singled in the winning run in the last inning to give Bill Stephens a 4-3 victory and hand James Shaw the loss.

Friday night, Fortin smacked a pair of homers to again pace Stephens to a win, this time by 17-9 over the Richardson Oilers. A 11 told, Kempa had half dozen homers Friday night, with Gene Gipson also rapping two, and Ed Dudley and Buddy Sharp poling one apiece. Kempa leads the loop in homers with an even dozen.

It was the Kempa infield who beat the Oilers and Bill Howard single-handed. Fortin plays first base, Gibson plays third, Sharp plays second and Dudley is the shortstop. Kempa's twin wins pushed them a half game out of first, behind KP Lodge. In other games Friday, Phillips copped an extra-inning 11-10 win from the Lefors Merchants as James Shew notched the win over Larry Rider. Shew had a single, double and triple to aid his own cause while teammates Gene Harrington had a single and double in as many official trips and Bennie Sparks had a triple. Mike Nichols with 4 for 4, including a double and triple, led Lefors. Rider also had a two-bagger for the losers. KP Lodge swept both ends of a double-bill from hapless Panhandle Packing, 11-3 and 21-12, Friday night to hold first. However, there's liable to be some changes made Monday night when the four top teams collide at Bowers Park. Kempa (13-3) tangles with Richardson (12-5) in a 7 p.m. opener and KP Lodge (14-3) nightcap. League director, Ben Hamilton, announced Saturday that plans were underway for a team of teams to enter the Skellytown Lions Club Softball Tournament.

US BANKING ON STRANAHAN

ST. ANNE'S-ON-THE-SEA, England (UPI) — Frank Stranahan, the Toledo, Ohio, muscleman, appeared the best bet of a weak 12-man American contingent which starts play in the British Open golf championship Monday.

nations will seek the title which Bobby Locke of South Africa won last year for the fourth time. Stranahan, who would like the British Open crown to go with the British Amateur championships he won in 1948 and 1950, was the only American on whom the British bookmaker offered odds. Handicapper Frank was quoted only at 20 to 1.

Stengel & Haney Go Wild Picking Own For Star Tilt

By MILTON RICHMAN United Press International Casey Stengel of the Yankees and Fred Haney of the Braves, relying heavily on the players they know best, picked a total of 11 of their own men Saturday to represent the American and National League All-Star teams which will meet in Baltimore, July 8.

ish bookmaker offered odds. Handicapper Frank was quoted only at 20 to 1. Stranahan, dressed in a scarlet pullover sweater and using white varnished clubs, shot a practice 70 on the 6,635-yard Royal Lytham and St. Anne's Course.

Stengel really went whole hog, naming seven of his Yankees, while Haney selected four of his Braves to round out the teams originally chosen by players of both leagues.

Redlegs for his National League pitching staff. Stengel chose 17 players in all, including outfielder Ted Williams of the Red Sox, who was named on the starting team selected by the votes of his fellow players.

"Stengel's choices from his own Yankee roster were pitchers Whitey Ford, Bob Turley, Ryne Duren, infielders Gil McDougald and Tony Kubek, outfielder Elston Howard and catcher Yogi Berra."

The Yankee manager also selected outfielders Al Kaline and Harvey Kuenn of the Tigers; catcher Sherm Lollar of the White Sox; shortstop Rocky Bridges of the Senators, and first baseman Mickey Vernon of the Indians.

"Stengel's choices from his own Yankee roster were pitchers Whitey Ford, Bob Turley, Ryne Duren, infielders Gil McDougald and Tony Kubek, outfielder Elston Howard and catcher Yogi Berra."

All told, the Yankees will have nine players on the squad, including first baseman Bill Skowron and center fielder Mickey Mantle, who were named on the players' ballots.

The White Sox, who had starters in shortstop Luis Aparicio and second baseman Nellie Fox, will have five. Boston will have three in third baseman Frank Malzone, right fielder Jackie Jensen and Williams, who is appearing on an All-Star squad for the 14th time.

Stengel picked Luman Harris of the Orioles and Jim Turner of the Yankees as coaches; George Zverink and Ken Lehman of Baltimore as batting practice pitchers; Bob Swift of Kansas City as batting practice catcher, and Ed Weidner of Baltimore as trainer.

"Stengel's choices from his own Yankee roster were pitchers Whitey Ford, Bob Turley, Ryne Duren, infielders Gil McDougald and Tony Kubek, outfielder Elston Howard and catcher Yogi Berra."

In picking the remainder of his National League squad, Haney named rookies catchers John Roseboro of Los Angeles and Bob Schmidt of San Francisco; infielders Don Blasingame and George Crowe of Cincinnati, and outfielders Richie Ashburn of Philadelphia and Walt Moryn and Lee Walls of Chicago.

"Stengel's choices from his own Yankee roster were pitchers Whitey Ford, Bob Turley, Ryne Duren, infielders Gil McDougald and Tony Kubek, outfielder Elston Howard and catcher Yogi Berra."

Some Stars Out They'll augment those originally chosen by N.L. players, managers and coaches — catcher Del Crandall of Milwaukee; infielders Stan Musial, St. Louis, Ernie Banks, Chicago, and Bill Mazeroski and Frank Thomas of Pittsburgh, and outfielders Hank Aaron, Milwaukee, Willie Mays, San Francisco and Bob Skinner, Pittsburgh.

"Stengel's choices from his own Yankee roster were pitchers Whitey Ford, Bob Turley, Ryne Duren, infielders Gil McDougald and Tony Kubek, outfielder Elston Howard and catcher Yogi Berra."

Among the established stars Haney passed over were Duke Snider and Gil Hodges of Los Angeles, Robin Roberts of Philadelphia, Ted Kluszewski of Pittsburgh and Red Schoendienst of his own Milwaukee club.

"Stengel's choices from his own Yankee roster were pitchers Whitey Ford, Bob Turley, Ryne Duren, infielders Gil McDougald and Tony Kubek, outfielder Elston Howard and catcher Yogi Berra."

Twelve of the N.L. players are appearing on the All-Star squad for the first time, and at the other end of the scale is Musial, who will be making his 15th appearance.

"Stengel's choices from his own Yankee roster were pitchers Whitey Ford, Bob Turley, Ryne Duren, infielders Gil McDougald and Tony Kubek, outfielder Elston Howard and catcher Yogi Berra."

Maglie whose last win over Philadelphia was his no hitter while a Brooklyn Dodger in Sept. 1956, had a shut out going until Carl Fawcett homered with one out in the ninth. Before that, only two Phillies had reached second base and none got that far until the seventh.

"Stengel's choices from his own Yankee roster were pitchers Whitey Ford, Bob Turley, Ryne Duren, infielders Gil McDougald and Tony Kubek, outfielder Elston Howard and catcher Yogi Berra."

"Stengel's choices from his own Yankee roster were pitchers Whitey Ford, Bob Turley, Ryne Duren, infielders Gil McDougald and Tony Kubek, outfielder Elston Howard and catcher Yogi Berra."

WILLEY WINS IT

Braves Snap Bum Streak At Nine

By RAY W. DOHERTY United Press International MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Rookie Carlton Willey won his second game in a week for Milwaukee Saturday with a four-hit, 7-3 victory over Los Angeles that broke a nine game Dodger winning string against the Braves.

Willey had only three bad moments in his second major league start. He yielded a run and two hits in the first inning, a homer to Gil Hodges in the sixth, and another run in the ninth on two walks and a throwing error by Eddie Mathews. Last Monday he shut out the San Francisco Giants, 7-0, on six hits.

Home runs by Hank Aaron and Johnny Logan and the wildness of Dodger pitchers made Willey's job easy.

Left-hander Johnny Podres started and lasted only one-third of an inning for the Dodgers. Lead off singles by Red Schoendienst and Eddie Mathews and a walk to Hank Aaron loaded the bases with none out. Podres struck out Joe Adcock but passed Andy Pafko and Logan to force in the first two runs. He was lifted for Johnny Klippstein who got Felix Mantilla to bounce into a double play.

The short stint cost Podres his seventh loss on the road against only one victory. It was the first time the Braves had beaten a left hander in ten tries.

Klippstein had control trouble in the second, walking two batters, one of whom was driven home by Aaron's single. Logan hit his home run in the fifth, and Aaron got his in the seventh. Aaron's two hits gave him five in his last six trips to the plate and indicated that he may be coming out of his prolonged slump. A single, 1-0 walk and an error by shortstop Don Zimmer gave the Braves their final two runs in the eighth.

Hodges accounted for two of the Dodger runs. Besides his sixth homer of the season, he fled to left in the first to score Junior Gilliam from third base.

In the ninth, Dick Gray, who had walked and advanced on a followup walk and a fielder's choice, scored from third when Mathews' throw to the plate hit him on the back.

The loss broke a four-game Dodger winning streak, their longest of the season.

Willey's victory was the Indians' second straight under new manager Joe Gordon, who succeeded Bobby Bragan.

Don Mossi, the third Indian pitcher scored his sixth victory while Zverink suffered his first loss of the season. It was Mossi's second victory in as many days.

The Orioles got the runs off starter Jim Grant in the first inning and held the lead until the eighth when Woody Held doubled and Bob Lemon hit a pinch single to tie the score.

Three of the Indians' runs were driven in by pinch hitters. Zverink entered the game in the sixth, relieving Billy Loes.

White, who played on Detroit's pennant winning team of the mid-30's, socked one of Lefty Grove's pitches into the stands when he led off the bottom of the first. He shook hands with all Boston players, the umpires and Grove as he circled the bases.

Boston's run came in the top of the first on an error, a single by Marty McManus, Bobby Doerr's walk and a wild pitch by Eldon Auker.

Nearly 50 former Detroit and Boston greats were on hand, including Ty Cobb. But Cobb, who holds more major league records than any other player, didn't suit up for the game.

Round Table Cops Arch Ward Stakes

CHICAGO (UPI)—Round Table won his eighth stake race of 1958 convincingly Saturday, taking the Arch Ward Memorial at Arlington Park to win $33,000 and become racing's second highest money-winner in history.

Round Table's earnings soared to $1,090,014, a total exceeded only by Nashua with $1,288,565. The victory moved him past Citation, the only other horse ever to earn a million dollars, with $1,085,760.

Round Table, a 4-year-old owned by Travis M. Kerr, had little trouble. With his running mate, Tall Chief 2nd, he went off as the 1-5 favorite and never was far out of contention as jockey Willie Shoemaker kept him close behind the early pace-setter, Healy House Farm's Aysah.

Aysah, carrying 107 pounds, compared to the top weight of 129 on Round Table, broke fast in the mile-and-three-sixteenths run on the turf course, and set the pace until the field turned into the stretch. Then Round Table moved in front with three-sixteenths remaining and held the edge handsly as Tall Chief, ridden by John Sellers and carrying 115 pounds came up to take place money of 10,000.

Aysah held third for 7,500. Round table was timed in 1:54.5, only 1-5 of a second off the track record set by Swaps three years ago and tied last year by Hoops Band.

Defensive tackles Fred Williams and Bill Bishop signed for their seventh season with the Bears, while rookie halfback Jim Swink, formerly of Texas Christian, also signed up.

Dick "Night Train" Lane returned his signed contract to the Cardinals.

Into The Finals WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass. (UPI)—Big Ten king Johnny Kossak and Phil Rodgers, heir apparent to the national collegiate golf crown, fired their way into the 1958 NCAA finals Saturday.

The 18-year-old Kossak, a Purdue pre-med student from Chaska, Iowa, N.Y., destroyed a possible all-Houston final when he eliminated Bob Pratt, 4 and 2, in a 36-hole match.

Rodgers, the 20-year-old Houston pacer seeking the crown won by teammate Rex Baxter in 1957, blasted out Art Hall of Oklahoma State, 5 and 6.

Sunday's final was also scheduled for 36 holes.

Tigers Ink Trio DETROIT (UPI)—The Detroit Tigers Saturday announced the signing of three players to "substantial bonus contracts."

The trio included pitcher Larry Foster of Michigan State, George Ferrer of Oakridge Junior College in North Carolina and first baseman Bob Patrick of Palmetto, Ala.

Panhandle Outdoor Life

By STARKEY WHITEHORN

The knowledge of the finer arts in fishing is many times the difference between a successful trip and one that is not so successful. Getting an education in the ways of catching fish sometimes comes about quite accidentally.

For example, last week Dr. Henry Hamra was fishing in a private pond, together with friends, when he cast his plug (an eel) into an open hole on the lake. The reel backlashed and it was some time before Dr. Hamra got the line straightened out. The plug had settled to the bottom of the lake for a minute or so before it was reeled in.

Just as soon as the plug was moved from the original casting location, a 3 1/2 pound bass connected and was landed. The next time Dr. Hamra cast out, he deliberately gave the plug time to settle to the bottom and then moved it an inch or so.

Wham! another 3 1/2 pounder was landed.

Altogether, five bass were caught from the same place in the lake by the same method. Usually Dr. Hamra, and practically all of the other fishermen, cast the lure out and reel it in quickly.

It wasn't but a few minutes until all of the fishermen on this particular outing were using the same modus operandi and the trip produced something like 40 pounds of black bass for the four fishermen.

Will Zorro Use His Claw?

The Great Zorro, who claims no kin to teevie's swashbuckling swordsman of the same name, will nevertheless have something in common with his video namesake in Monday night's main event at the air-conditioned Top o' Texas Sportsman Club.

Week after week, the television Zorro finds his writers giving him a script whereas he goes galloping headlong into the badmen's lair, seeking revenge, and cutting wide Z's in his victim's clothing, or skin.

Only difference in the grappling Zorro who'll appear here Monday night is in his role. He's not exactly considered a do-gooder in the ring.

Take last week for instance, he lost a dishonorable disqualification match to Tokyo Joe, when he was found guilty of using an outlawed "claw hold." What's more, wrestler Zorro took law into his own hands and flipped referee Tommy Phelps out of the ring away from the scene, when he applied his dangerous "claw hold."

When Tokyo Joe, who was out on his feet, shivering and quaking from the "claw hold," was though he lost the match, he had the satisfaction of seeing both Tokyo Joe and Phelps carried from the ring.

Iron Mike DeBaise, who's often been dubbed a "no-goodnik" by opposing wrestlers, faces the Great Zorro and his infamous "claw hold" in the main event here Monday night, and Iron Mike has silently vowed, "I'm going to get to him before he can get to me."

Iron Mike and Zorro meet in a best two-of-three fall hour time limit event.

Dirty Don Curtis tackles Art Nelson in a 45-minute time limit best two-of-three semi-final match and Danno McDonald tries to capture a decision from Ricky Romero in the 8:30 p.m. opener. The two opening match grunt-and-growlers battled to a draw in last week's opening fight. There is a 30 minute limit match.

Cecil Travis, a brilliant infielder for the Washington Senators, was one of the older stars whose careers were interrupted by service in World War II and never quite were the same again. Innertube Fishing!

H. W. Stidham and H. A. Shipley returned recently from Lake Marvin with 30 bass that weighed from 1 to 4 pounds. Two of the 30 weighed 4 pounds. Mr. Stidham and friend were employing the innertube method and were using a new lure called "Heddon's Dying Flitter." This lure is very similar to the "Devil's Horse" but has a spinner at the front as well as the back of the plug. Mr. Stidham also said that they fished parts of two days. The first day they began fishing at 6:30 p.m.

Aerial Wildlife Survey

Norrel Wallace, Wildlife Biologist, and Lake Black, Flying Game Warden, recently completed an aerial survey of deer and turkey in the eastern part of the Panhandle. They put in 17 hours of flying time and covered a large part of the game areas east of Highway 70. The Washita and Canadian Rivers, plus Gageby Creek, made up the largest part of the survey.

During much of the flying time the visibility was very poor; however, these two fellows tabulated

About a quarter of a mile on each side of these streams was all that was observed. There is a considerable amount of game from Highway 70 west, including Roberts and Hutchinson Counties.

One calculation that Mr. Wallace made was that there was an adequate amount of bucks per number of does and also an adequate amount of strutting turkey gobblers for the number of turkey hens. He also surmised that it might

US Lassie Gives Wimbledon Upset

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI)—Mimi Arnold, a pint-sized giant-killer from Redwood City, Calif., gave the Wimbledon tennis tournament its biggest upset in years Saturday by ousting second-seeded Christine Truman of England, 10-4, 6-3, to enter the women's singles quarterfinals.

Mimi, 19, is 5-foot-1 and perhaps the smallest player in the tournament. Miss Truman is 6 feet and easily the tallest woman entered. But in an hour of tense dueling that held a standing-room center court crowd of 15,000 enthralled, the Californian cut Miss Truman down to her size in a performance that overshadowed everything else on the program.

It was the first time in years that an unseeded player defeated a seeded performer so early in the two-week tournament.

Five other Americans also advanced before a capacity crowd of 27,000: Barry MacKay, Dayton, Ohio, top Yank hope in men's singles, rallied to whip Australia's Bob Mark, 4-6, 10-8, 6-4, 6-4. Althea Gibson, New York, top seeded and defending women's champion, humbled Lorraine Coghlan, one of Australia's top players, 6-0, 6-2, to gain the quarterfinals.

Gardner Mulloy, 44-year-old Denver, lawyer, gave 21-year-old Mike Green of Miami Beach, Fla., a 3-6, 6-4, 6-4, 6-2 tennis lesson. Budge Patty, the 34-year-old star from Los Angeles and Paris, eliminated Torben Ulrich of Denmark, 4-6, 7-5, 6-1, 6-2, to join Mackay and Mulloy in the fourth round.

Margaret Osborne Dupont, Wilmington, Del., defeated Wimbledon champion, gained the fourth round by defeating Norma Marsh of

TV's 'The Great Gatsby' Was Not As Fitzgerald Wrote It

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—After "The Great Gatsby" was over on "Playhouse 90" Thursday night, I thought: I may never write this review; I don't know what to say.

The reason, I think, was that the CBS-TV drama was a muddle. It was somebody's "Great Gatsby," but it was not "The Great Gatsby" that I knew.

The TV Gatsby was not bad in its own way — it had a swift, logical plot, the sets had the sumptuous smell of Long Island in the 1920's, and Robert Ryan and Jeanne Crain who played Gatsby and Daisy both turned in jobs that suited the script.

The only thing is, I'm not sure the script was "The Great Gatsby." Oh sure, the plot was pretty true and so were the relationships of the major characters. But somehow, it all had very little to do with Scott Fitzgerald's story.

I don't want to plead any case for Fitzgerald. He knew his craft and could write rings around almost any American writer, but he wrote for the post part about a bunch of bubbleheads and just dribbled his talent away.

"The rich are very different from you and me," he is supposed to have said to Ernest Hemingway once. And Hemingway who recorded the remark in a short story also recorded this reply: "Yes, they have more money."

In "The Great Gatsby," Fitzgerald, who was fascinated by the silly set, drew a picture of a power figure, Jay Gatsby, who has always struck me as romantically improbable — a curious combination of Lord Bryan and Al Capone. Gatsby was in love with Daisy, a member of the aristocracy — or what passes for it on Long Island — and Gatsby's love destroyed him.

But, of course, Fitzgerald had a twist. Daisy was a bubblehead and so was her whole set, while the raw and inelegant Gatsby was "better than the whole lot of them."

Thursday night "Playhouse 90" shed out all of the Fitzgerald irony and turned Gatsby into a love story. Gatsby was a kind of sensitive guy and Daisy was a slightly flighty girl who was really made of good stuff and who suffered terribly when Gatsby died.

As a result, the TV version was a distortion, slicked-over and pointless. And Gatsby as Ryan was forced to play him, was nonsensical — almost all dreamer, hardly any of him, fraud.

And that's why... but why go on. I did write this review after all.

Short Shots: NBC-TV's nighttime "The Tao Dough" has had a wonderfully engaging contestant — Mrs. Pat Sullivan of White Plains, N.Y. — for the past month and I recommend her highly if you're in the vicinity of the show next Thursday night. She looks like a motherly Kay Kendall but talks like a Brooklyn comic.

I watched ABC-TV's "Zorro" Thursday night and about all I can say is that it was there and I was there, but not much happened in-between. CBS-TV's "Climax" was a real chiller for about a half-hour Thursday night, but its last-half failed to measure up, or even tie up its loose ends.

A representative of Jack Paar's headache remedy sponsor (Bufferin) showed up on Paar's NBC-TV show Thursday night to assure Paar that all was forgiven for what happened Wednesday night when a bottle of the remedy exploded on camera. The rep was not only funny, he got himself a free five-minute commercial.

"Sunday highlights: "Ed Sullivan Show" (CBS-TV). The Moiseyev Dancers, a visiting Russian troupe that knows all the steps, takes over the full hour.

Monday daytime: Today is game day. CBS-TV premieres two morning quizzes, "For Love or Money," and "Play Your Hunch." NBC-TV unveils "Lucky Partners" and "Haggis Baggis." And if you're still game, there's the premiere of two NBC-TV soap operas, "Today Is Ours" and "From These Roots."

The Channel Swim: CBS-TV's "U.S. Steel Hour" is preparing an hour drama based on the life of Sigmund Freud for next fall... A. T. & T. has decided to stick its eight special shows on NBC-TV next fall — No dates have been picked yet.

CBS-TV's "Your Hit Parade" has made a cast change even before it goes on the air next fall — Gogi Grant, previously named as in, is now out. Dorothy Collins, say sources close to the show, is now about 80 per cent coaxed in.

The Chris Scherrels — he's the CBS-TV sportscaster — have named their new arrival Ted, after Ted Husing. Tony Marvin, Arthur Godfrey's CBS-TV splier, is branching out — he'll do the announcing at the Flushing Meadow aqua circus in New York this summer.

Bob Paige will take a two-week breather from NBC-TV's "The Big Payoff" starting July 7 — Johnny Desmond and Bob Haymes fill in. The Steve Allen will spend their summer in Europe, arriving in London July 15, then moving to Paris, Monte Carlo, Venice, Capri. They'll take Steve's two older boys, Steve Jr. and Brian.

By PATRICIA McCORMACK
United Press International
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A psychologist, diagnosing ill doctors who get sued, told the American Medical Assn. today that physicians can stay out of court by resisting the temptation to "play the God-like role."

Richard Bloom, research director of the California Medical Society, unloaded his frank remarks about "suit-prone" doctors at the annual meeting of the AMA here, saying:

"These unrealistic doctors are likely to think of themselves as all-knowing; they are less concerned with the human side of medical practice; they tend to be strong disciplinarians and they try to protect their patients from the medical facts."

Bloom said his portrait of suit-prone doctors was drawn from a study of California doctors who wind up in court.

California leads the nation in the patients suing doctors situation with about one physician in 10 having been named in a suit.

Bloom said about 1 per cent of the doctors are suit-prone and account for about 25 per cent of the unpleasantness.

And, he revealed, it is costly to the profession, since the cost of insuring California doctors against malpractice has shot up from $1,850,000 in 1951 to around 12 million dollars this year.

The doctor who is sued for malpractice, according to the psychologist, very often resembles the patient who is suing—from a psychological point of view.

He said both are "suspicious, immature, difficult to get along with, have a low opinion of self and crave approval. Plus that, he said, they both are fearful."

Bloom said a lot of the trouble could be avoided if doctors would admit they don't know it all.

WHAT WITH CHRISTMAS decorations swaying in the breeze downtown week before last and a winterish day this week, we are going around in a little more of a confused state of mind than usual. . . . but isn't it wonderful to live in such a versatile weather spot? . . . where else, without tourist prices, would you need a sweater over your summer cotton or need to light the fireplace logs and still gaze out on a rose-filled garden? . . . as far as the Christmas decorations are concerned, we can't help but feel a lot of admiration for the Chamber of Commerce committee, headed by B. M. Behrman, who is doing its Christmas planning early. . . . wish we could. . . . but somehow with a bushel of fruit awaiting our canning attention and daily trips with our tadpoles to the swimming pool for instruction, we just can't start thinking yule-wise. . . . more to our liking and seasonal thinking is the Old Plantation Party given last week end in the Country Club. . . . hosted by the Bob Tripplehorn, the Dr. Ed Williams, the Clinton Evans, the Eben Warners and the Bob Curry's. . . . the Plantation mood was set as guests drove up the drive entrance to the Country Club, which was lined with hurricane lamps. . . . the foyer of the club was furnished with white, wrought iron furniture and guests were greeted by the hosts and hostesses, who were dressed in all white. . . . a real conversation piece, was the figure of a colored boy with a pole, lazily fishing and surrounded by watermelons on the vines. . . . no Plantation Party, suh, would be complete without mint juleps. . . . so the clever hostesses designed and created their own to decorate the entranceway to the lounge. . . . they used buckrum shaped as glasses and colored and inserted a long, straw-colored stick. . . . to complete the illusion, a styrofoam lime slice graced the lip of the glass. . . . and down the long buffet tables, watermelon slices made of styrofoam and painted to resemble a big juicy slice of watermelon were used as centerpieces. . . . Ted Herriman, complete with chef's cap presided elegantly at the carving service and Mrs. Herriman out-did her usual catering talent with a delightful array of salads arranged on carved-out pineapple shells. . . . the whole delightful party was a charming prelude to summer.

RICE AND OLD SHOES DEPARTMENT. . . . or "they lived happily ever after". . . . we've heard the breath-taking news that today is Marilyn Weiss and Lester Lanin's wedding day! . . . you recall that in one of our winter columns we mentioned the fact that Marilyn had accepted a job in New York as secretary to that internationally famous orchestra leader, Lester Lanin. . . . Marilyn and her family used to live here and Marilyn attended our schools. . . . well, certainly not as a postscript, but as the beginning of a whole new book of happiness. . . . she is being married today in York, South Carolina. . . . and for a wedding trip they are going to London, England, where the Lanin Orchestra will play for the international debutante's Ball. . . . engaged no less by other than Lord Marlborough himself. . . . and it was interesting to note that the July issue of Good Housekeeping carried three of the band leader's favorite recipes. . . . seems he is as talented with a spatula as he is with a baton. . . . and on the local scene. . . . saw pretty and blonde Rosalie Deal at a party recently wearing the prettiest blue-floral chiffon afternoon dress. . . . looking like the very pretty bride-elect that she is. . . . and another very talented little Miss who is now a very talented little Mrs. . . . is Rochelle Smith. . . . who traipsed down the First Methodist Church aisle last night to be joined in matrimony to Blair Edward Wilkins. . . . whom she met at the University of Texas. . . . prior to her wedding, we had the privilege of seeing her perfectly gorgeous wedding gown of bluish-pink Duchess satin and rosepoint Chantilly lace. . . . which she had designed and her mother, Irene made. . . . you don't buy gowns like that in even the most expensive shoppes. . . . in addition to the originality and talent shown into the dress. . . . there was another ingredient, never for sale. . . . love and care. . . . we still can't figure out why we get all weepy at weddings. . . . there isn't any rhyme or reason to our tears, when you stop to think about it.

JUST AROUND TOWN. . . . we'd like to "cop" (as the younger generation says) those pretty bronze, cluster-leaf earrings we saw Ruth Hutchens wearing the other evening. . . . they dangle way down and were so attractive with her brown cotton summer dress and the auburn highlights of her hair. . . . little Miss Karen Green of Fort Worth is certainly getting around town this week. . . . we saw her at two "outings" with her grandmother, Maxine Etheridge. . . . we hear that Heidi Schneider, Martha Gordon and Cynthia Duncan are really getting "the rush" from college sororities. . . . just one round of parties after the other in Amarillo. . . . Heard that Jeanne Willingham is studying and vacationing in California this summer. . . . and that Sara Gordon is attending ballet-training sessions in Interlocken, Michigan this summer. . . . that certainly looked like a "fun party" the Esquire Club was having last Tuesday night in the park near Williston Street. . . . bright red, juicy watermelons were lining the picnic tables. . . . Esquires Mack Layne, Ronnie Etheridge and Karl Kitto were hosting the party for prospective pledges Jimmy Crowell, Bill Cooper, Eben Warner Jr., Bill Byerly, Robert Woodard, Gene Weinheimer, Gary Shultz, Pete Lewis, Russell Bowen, Tommy Locke and Jerry McGuire. . . . we know that Mrs. J. P. Heath is happy to have her daughter, Meribelle and three grandchildren, E. J. III, Pamela Ann and Randy, here for a visit from Monterey, Calif. while Meribelle's husband is in New York on business.

HATS OFF DEPARTMENT. . . . to all the Girl Scout Leaders and workers who were guardian angles to the Intermediate Girl Scouts last week at Day Camp. . . . who guided and counseled them through two nights of "severe weather" warnings and sent the girls home, tired but happy, and "raring" to attend Day Camp next year. . . . we know that Martha Holt, Mrs. Calvin Duncan and Mrs. Tony Smith, who headed the camp activities, really had some bad moments. . . . that didn't show through to the girls. . . . but we know we express the appreciation of a lot of parents when we say "thanks" to them and to all of the other leaders, whose names we did not know. . . . we didn't know that there was a girl's baseball team in Pampa. . . . until we heard Beverly Langley and Paula Sealey talking over ball scores the other evening. . . . they belong to a church league.

FASHION TIP DEPARTMENT. . . . when we had to don a sweater this past Wednesday we were reminded of a unique idea that helps the summer sweater wardrobe make the transition from utilitarian step-sister to glamour queen. . . . but since, our Pampa Belles are in the same category, we'd like to pass along this tip. . . . all you have to do is dip the sweater, after thorough washing and rinsing in clean water containing a few drops of your favorite cologne. . . . since cologne is less concentrated than perfume, the fragrance will cling to the wool but will not harm the fibers. . . . and your sweater will carry a softly perfumed scent until the next laundering.

Sooooo, on that sweet-smelling note, we'll sign—30— and extend a wish for a sane and sensible, but fun-filled Fourth of July.

Peg.

Miss Rochelle Rhea Smith Bride Of Blair E. Wilkins

In one of the most impressive weddings of the summer season, Miss Rochelle Rhea Smith pledged wedding vows with Blair Edward Wilkins last night at 7:30 in the First Methodist Church.

Miss Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irl M. Smith, 1008 N. Somerville. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Wilkins, 2422 W. Mulberry, San Antonio.

Rev. Woodrow W. Adcock performed the double-ring rites in front of the altar adorned with arrangements of pink gladioli flanked by gold candelabra holding pink tapers. The background of the wedding scene was formed with jade palms and 15-branch candelabra holding pink tapers. The altar rail and choir rail were entwined with huckleberry. Fifteen inch pink tapers were alternately placed along the choir rail. The bride and groom knelt on a white satin prie dieu for a wedding prayer.

Proceeding the ceremony, Tom Atkin played "Water Music Suite" (Handel); "Sinfonia" (Bach); "Air And Gavotte" (S. S. Wesley).

Vocal selections were presented by Misses Barbara and Dortha Blair of Odessa, which included "Entreat Me Not To Leave Thee" (Gaul); "Day of Golden Promise" (Hamblen); Moffett's "The Lord's Prayer."

During the ceremony, Mr. Atkin softly played "Intermezzo" (Cavalleria Rusticana) by P. Mascagni.

The bride entered the sanctuary on Lohengrin's "Bridal Chorus" (Wagner) and was escorted down the cloth-covered aisle and given in marriage by her father. Her gown, designed by her and made by her mother, was of bluish-pink Duchess Satin and Rosepoint Chantilly lace. The fitted bodice featured scalloped lace over satin with a V-neckline and long, lace-trimmed sleeves which came to bridal points over the hands. The full floor-length skirt of bluish-pink satin tapered to a chapel train in back. Back interest was provided with a butterfly bow of rose-point lace over pink satin topped twin panels of pink satin with lace insets, which fell to the chapel train hemline.

Her waist-length veil of scalloped, bluish-pink illusion tulle was secured to a seed pearl and rhinestone Queen's Crown. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink rosebuds.

Bulb Flower Gardens, Jelly Making Program Topics For LHD Club

(Special To The News) LEFORS — Raising beautiful flower gardens from bulbs and jelly-making were the two program topics given to the Lefors Home Demonstration Club at its regular meeting held at the Lefors public school on Thursday at 2 p.m.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE John, aged 5, is painfully shy. In comparison his older sister and little brother are paragons of self-assurance. If you ask Linda what class she's in at school, she says promptly, "The second grade. We have two tittles."

If you admire Ted's stuffed rabbit, his response is nearly as fast. After giving you a look of appraisal to estimate your trustworthiness, he puts his rabbit on your lap—and trots off to assemble other treasures that may merit your admiration. But while Linda and Ted are putting on these creditable social performances, John stands hesitating across the room. Told by his mother to say "hello" to you, he starts wriggling miserably against his impulse to run away. If she insists on his greeting you, the impulse overcomes him—and he does run away. As his mother's always saying to his father, she finds this shyness "terribly embarrassing."

If she could see that her "embarrassment" is just an adult version of the same shyness that afflicts John, she might discover the way to help him. It's composed of the same ingredients—fear and self-reproach. Where she is afraid people are secretly blaming her for John's shyness, he's afraid they are secretly blaming him for being less attractive than Linda and Ted. Where she reproaches herself for her failure to prove John a self-assured little boy, he hates himself because he can't prove himself as interesting as his sister and brother.

Once we become conscious that our shy child is feeling the same fear and self-reproach that we feel, understanding overwhelms our embarrassment over him and we stop caring what other people think of us. Instead of wanting a creditable social performance from him, we feel only a need to draw him closer to us. We go to John and whisper, "I need you to help me with the tea party." In the kitchen we enthuse over his arrangement of cookies, jug and sugar bowl. Then, carrying the tea pot, we follow his triumphant entrance into the living room with his handwork.

And we continue to set up situations that demonstrate his usefulness to us instead of his shyness before strangers.

It isn't a mania toward cleanliness that makes several baths a day essential during summer. During a heat wave, sponging yourself several times a day is healthful. You suds away pore-clogging particles and thus allow perspiration to flow freely.

Cologne is a cooling addition to a summer beauty routine. Add some to bath water for a luxurious feeling. And for cool relief during a day, dab on cologne at intervals.

Nuptial Pledges Repeated In Ceremony By Miss Sandra LeBlanc, Gene Tipton

(Special To The News) SHAMROCK — Miss Sandra LeBlanc, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. LeBlanc of Lela and Gene Tipton, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Tipton of Coleman, were married on June 12 at eight o'clock in the First Baptist Church in Lela.

Rev. T. L. Burns, of Tyrone, Okla., former pastor, performed the double-ring ceremony beneath a white arch entwined with emerald leaves, flanked with floor candelabra and tall white baskets of Majestic daisies and white gladioli. Pews of honor were marked with white satin bows.

Miss Lee Henderson sang, "I Love Thee," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." She was accompanied by Mrs. Lyle Holmes, Shamrock, who played the traditional wedding marches and played softly during the ceremony. Miss Sue Anderson and Miss Marilyn Wells of Henrietta lighted the altar candles wearing street-length dresses of aqua, polished cotton with fitted bodices and boat necklines with an organdy overshirt.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over satin, with a low scalloped neckline, fitted bodice and sleeves extending below the elbow. The full skirt, covered with net ruffles in back and a lace overshirt in front, fell to a ballerina length. Her Veil of Illusion was attached to a band of seed pearls. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom.

She carried a white Bible topped with a colonial bouquet of white carnations showered with meline and satin ribbon. Miss Sharon LeBlanc, sister of the bride, was maid of honor wearing a sleeveless dress of pink glazed cotton with fitted bodice and boat necklines. Her bouquet was of pink carnations with aqua puffs of meline and showered with pink satin ribbon. She wore a white lace hat with white accessories. Albert Tipton, brother of the bridegroom was best man, Wendell LeBlanc, brother of the bride and Dalon Perkins were ushers. Miss Tressa Coisin, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl in a dress of pink. Jimmy Colvin, cousin of the bride, was ring-bearer.

Mrs. LeBlanc chose for her daughter's wedding a brown dress with beige accessories. Mrs. Tipton, bridegroom's mother, wore a dress of navy with white accessories. Their corsages were of white carnations.

A reception was held in the church dining room, where Miss Carolyn Tinkler registered guests. The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth with the attendants' bouquets forming the centerpiece, flanked with crystal candelholders holding white tapers. The three-tiered cake, topped with a bridal pair, was first sliced by the bride. Miss Ann Griffin presided at the coffee service. Miss Edwyna Hembree, Mrs. Carmen Terry and Mrs. Bert Starkey assisted with the reception.

Mrs. Tipton was graduated from Shamrock High School with the class of 1958. The bridegroom was graduated from Coleman High School and has had four years military service. He is presently employed by the Colvin Drilling Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Tipton at home at 408 S. Oklahoma in Shamrock. The woman who can be well-dressed from one suitcase is not just a woman who knows how to pack. She's also a woman who knows how to buy. She will pick a short, floaty evening gown in preference to a full-skirted beauty because she knows it will get her through many an evening away from home.

Miss Deal Feted At Bride's Party

RUTH MILLETT

There is one choice that mothers have to make over and over again. Who comes first—Papa or the children?

Should Mama listen to Sally who claims she simply has to have a new dress for a party? Or to Papa who is worrying about how he is ever going to pay all of last month's bills?

Should she send Papa off alone on a business trip, so that she can stay at home and look after the children? Or should she go along with him, as he wants her to, and entrust the children to someone else for a few days?

Should she send Papa off alone peaceful and quiet so Papa can get some rest when he gets home from work? Or should she let a teen-ager feel free to have a noisy crowd around most of the time?

And so it goes day after day—the children with their needs and demands and a husband with his. And it is Mama who has to decide whose needs are most important.

Modern mothers all too often decide in favor of the children. They put up the biggest squawk. It's easy for a mother to keep telling herself, "They're only young once, and at their age everything is so important."

And it is easy, too, for a woman to think that a husband is selfish, or childish, or unreasonable if he gets tired of playing second fiddle to his children.

But it isn't wrong for a husband to expect to come first part of the time. It isn't good for the family for the head of the house to have his needs and preferences catered to only when they don't interfere with what the children have their hearts set on.

Children need to come first occasionally. They have to come first occasionally. But not all the time. It isn't marriage for them or for their parents' marriage when they do.

Pack frozen food in cardboard cartons or wrap in paper when defrosting the home freezer. This prevents as much thawing as possible while the food is in warmer air.

A scarf or clever hat are welcome travelers during summer. They not only keep the hot rays from making a person ill but also protect the hair and scalp from severe drying.

Miss Rosalie Deal, bride-elect of James S. Hollingwood, whose marriage will be an event of July in the Central Baptist Church, was honored at a wedding shower given recently in the home of Mrs. G. N. Massey, 1900 Williston. Mrs. L. B. Robertson, assisting hostess, presided at the guest register.

The bride's table was covered with a pink cloth centered with a crescent arrangement of white daisies surrounded with pink and white Danish pastries and pink and white were served by the hostesses.

Guests attending were Mrs. J. F. Tepe, William Deaton, bridegroom's aunt, L. B. Robertson, A. Pendergraft, D. L. Turbett, Louise O'Dell, Fletcher Brown, Tullie DeBajlithy, G. A. Wiley, W. D. Anderson, J. R. Reese, H. E. Joyce, L. R. Brummett and Walter Flynt.

Sending gifts, but unable to attend were Mrs. Doug Lawrence, H. E. Stanfield, Lon Nickens and Lee Garrison.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow of 51 and when my friends say they have just the man for me to meet — the first question I ask is: "Is he a bachelor?" If they say "Yes" I ask, "What's the matter with him? I would much rather have a man who at least tried marriage, even if he flopped, a couple of times. I wouldn't even object to a man who, by his own admission, kicked the stuffings out of his old lady. But don't give me any of those mamma's boys who reach the age of fifty and is still looking for his dream girl."

PEARL: Dear Pearl: If you are looking for a man who is thoroughly "spouse-broken" the world is your oyster, Pearl!

DEAR ABBY: We have neighbors who borrow everything but the kitchen sink. My mother doesn't mind this, but she always sends me over with it and also I have to run over and bring it back. I know my legs are younger than my mother's but I have a ten-year-old brother and his legs are younger than mine. Don't you think she could send him sometimes?

THIRTEEN: Dear Thirteen: His legs may be "younger" — but perhaps his hands aren't as steady? Eggs and "spilables" are for you — the empty tins for him!

DEAR ABBY: I will start out by saying that I am just as respectable as the next one and the fact that I am a divorced woman should not automatically make me a second-class citizen. I have been keeping company with a young man who knew when we met that I was divorced. We went around together for almost two years and I had every reason to believe that he would marry me. Now he tells me when he takes me to meet his mother I should tell her a story about losing my husband in an accident. I refuse to lie to his mother and am beginning to wonder if this fellow is worth breaking my heart over. What would you do?

GRAY COUNTY Soil Conservation District News

By JIM SMATHERS

John Winters of Kingsmill has signed the first Great Plains Conservation Program contract within the Gray County Soil Conservation District.

Winters is the owner and operator of some ranch land eight miles southeast of Pampa. Winters has worked out a complete conservation plan for his place. He plans to carry this plan to completion during the next three years.

Winters will use assistance from the Great Plains Conservation Program for a livestock water dam and for some cross fencing. These practices are needed on the place in order to get better grazing distribution.

Proper uses of the native grasses will be practiced so as to improve and maintain the better grasses. Also a system of deferred grazing will be carried out after the construction of the cross fencing.

Winters has been improving this place since he took possession two years ago. He can now carry out his plans.

G. W. Schaffer, 23 miles south of Pampa has also submitted a conservation plan for approval under the Great Plains Conservation Program.

Potential Oil Boom In Alaska

By HARRY WILSON SHARPE United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress is about to open up inland Alaska to a potential oil boom.

It is putting the last touches on a White House-approved bill to permit oil and natural gas exploration in the vast territory's non-tidal navigable waters—millions of acres not yet surveyed but believed rich in oil and gas.

Ocean tides and inland tidal waters would not be affected. Under a compromise being worked out by Senate and House agents, these would be reserved for Alaska's decision if and when she joins the union as the 49th state. This could be soon.

Safeguard Future

The bill, which presupposes statehood, was requested by Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton and was pushed by Sens. Clinton P. Anderson (D-N.M.) and Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.), both statehood advocates. It has several major purposes:

—It would safeguard Alaska's future oil and gas revenues to finance schools, roads and other public necessities.

—It would prevent "squatters" from drilling lakes and streams and thus draining oil from land wells already in operation.

—It would allay fears of oil prospectors that money invested in waterside land might be lost through later legislation opening the water bottoms to leasing by others.

—It would give preferential leasing treatment to pioneer companies which gambled heavily to make the first oil discovery.

—With minor exceptions, it would make the Interior Department's Alaskan leasing and royalty payment rules conform with federal public land rental laws in the 48 states.

Boomlet Underway

It would outlaw all concessions intended to encourage oil development.

The first oil strike caused a boomlet which is still underway.

Provisions of the U. S. mineral leasing act would apply to oil and gas lands, and the Interior Department would decide what waters are covered by the act.

The Senate Interior Committee, in a report on its amended version of the House bill, said that "only moderate interest" was shown in Alaska's oil potential prior to July 23, 1957.

But on that date a joint gamble by Richfield Oil Corp., Ohio Oil Co., and Union Oil of California paid off. They brought in a 900-barrel-a-day, good-quality well on Kanai Peninsula, setting off a rush for acreage.

Dairy Industry 'Not What It Used To Be'

On the Farm Front By GAYLORD F. GODWIN United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI) — The dairy industry is not what it used to be. It has changed considerably, especially in the production and marketing of milk.

Since World War II, dairy farming has become more specialized and more commercial.

The specialization is seen in the declining number of farms with milk cows. Herbert C. Kriesel, editor of the Agriculture Department's "Dairy Situation," reports that each year, 4 or 5 per cent of the farms in the United States quit keeping milk cows. At the same time, the total number on farms has declined an average of only 1 per cent a year. Further more, production per cow has risen enough that total milk production has increased.

A gradual boost in milk marketing is proof of the increased commercialization of dairying. Dairy farmers now sell about 90 per cent of their milk output. In the mid 1920s they marketed only about 75 per cent. Where farmers formerly used about one-fourth of their milk for home consumption and animal feed, they now use only 10 per cent.

These figures do not take into account a big increase in farm sales of non-fat component of milk. Dairy farmers now sell only about 10 per cent of their total marketings in the form of separated cream.

Cream sales in the 1920s and the early 1930s amounted to 33 per cent.

The importance of milk and cream retained by farmers and sales of farm-churned butter also have declined over the years. Money from these sales used to be important to the farm pocket-book. It was everyday living cash. Farmers themselves are using less of the milk they prod-

SLINGSHOT

Attached to rocket sled platform, glider will be driven along two-mile track to take-off, accelerating to 500 m.p.h. in 25 seconds. At airborne speed, pilot sits in glider's own rocket power and drops sled platform.

(1) Under own power, glider ascends steeply to 100,000 feet. (2) Glider levels off, gains speed up to 15,000-18,000 m.p.h. and continues gradual climb to 200,000 feet. (3) It then enters a ballistic course, like a bullet.

Ballistic trajectory takes it back into earth's heavier atmosphere, where glider's controls again become workable. At 100,000 feet, speed is reduced to about 2,000 mph. Sighting his base some 100 miles away, pilot could bring craft down in a glide.

MAN-IN-A-ROCKET AT 15,000 M.P.H.—Now in the design stage is a manned, hyper-sonic rocket glider expected to outfly the fastest intercontinental ballistic missiles. Dubbed "Slingshot" the glider would be launched from a high-speed rocket sled, like those used by the U.S. Air Force to test the effects of high speed flight on human beings. Pictogram above illustrates how the rocket glider would be flown. Experts foresee possible commercial use for it. The gliders could be used for 600-mile hops, for global travel with a range of 12,000 miles or as intercontinental passenger aircraft.

THIRTY YEAR MEN

TWENTY-FIVE YEAR EMPLOYEES

Three 25-year employees received watches at the Cabot Carbon Company's annual barbecue recently. Their wives received luggage. The couples are, left to right, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Nyles Franklin and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Klinger. The men are employed in the Pampa Plant.

Cameron Recovers From Hurricane

By HARRY TRIMBORN United Press International CAMERON, La. (UPI) — The long road to recovery has been a hard one for the people of Cameron.

What nature destroyed in a few brief hours one year ago today when Hurricane Audrey slammed into the tiny Gulf Coast town has been almost completely repaired or replaced—thanks to the generosity of government and private relief agencies and the iron will of the people.

About 85 per cent of the town has been rebuilt. New homes stand today beside the sun-bleached piles of lumber, masonry and rusting fixtures that had been houses before the storm hit.

New churches have risen out of the ruins. New stores, business offices and a modern new school all offer clear evidence of the town's recovery.

Damage Not Repaired

But in the hearts of the relatives, friends and neighbors of the 411 dead and missing who were swept into oblivion by the hurricane, the damage has not been repaired.

They don't like to talk of that terrible morning of June 27, 1957. They want to forget it, if that is possible. As one Cameron housewife said, "I don't want to talk about the storm. . . it happened long time ago."

But not long ago enough for Rodney Guilbeau, 35. For him, that morning will be etched forever in his mind.

"I remember it like it was yesterday," he said. "The storm destroyed my home. It killed my wife and daughter. It killed my daughter's son and her husband. It killed my son-in-law's mother and father, too."

Guilbeau is alive today thanks to a wooden door. When his home was destroyed by the hurricane-caused flood, he used the door as a raft for more than eight hours before he was rescued by a fishing boat.

Guilbeau lives and works once again in Cameron. Now he is a salesman for a furniture store. He had owned a dry cleaning plant,

Humble Gives Party For Retiring Two

Messrs. and Mmes. D. F. Robinson and W. P. Fade were honored at a retirement party given by Humble Pipe Line Company Employees in the Parish Hall, 612 West Buckler, recently.

Robinson, district chief clerk, employed as pipeline at Burnett Station in Borger, retired with 24 years and one month's accredited service as of June 17. Fade, connection foreman, employed as pipeline at Breckenridge, retired with 34 years and seven months' accredited service as of June 1.

One hundred persons were served barbecue and fish dinners prepared by John McFall, M. K. Griffith gave the invocation. Miss Ramona Hudgins, featured at the piano, presented background dinner music. A mural, painted by Ed Albers, depicted the retirees enjoying their hobbies. . . . Robinson, "riding the range," F. A. d. fishing in a nearby stream.

M. G. Day, emcee, introduced guests, visitors, and members of each retiree's family. Walter Fade, his wife, Nola; 15 year old son, Rocky; son, Major Wayne Fade, en route to Korea; his wife, Virginia, and three daughters, Debbie Kay, Patricia, and Cynthia, who will live in El Paso during Major Fade's absence. Frank Robinson: his wife, Marie, C. J. Smiles, his wife Betty, and two sons, Davey and Scotty.

J. F. McCarthy, assistant division superintendent at Cisco, presented the retirees with the following company awards: Laminated Service Certificates, together with miniature replicas; Lapel Service Emblems; and Engraved Leather Billboards. Robinson also received his Company Retirement Watch. Fade had received his watch on completion of 30 years' service.

Numerous highlights of Robinson and Fade's early careers were related by Messrs. W. O. Prewitt of Borger and W. L. Hill of Pampa. "Silver Ulcers" were then presented to the retirees as mementos.

H. V. McCorkle, district superintendent, on behalf of the employees presented the Robinsons with Western apparel and an electric pressure cooker; the Fades, fishing equipment and electric coffeemaker. The honorees expressed their thanks and appreciation.

John Cardinal Takes Helm Of Canadian Lions

Installed as president of the Canadian Lions Club at the regular meeting Friday, was Johnny Cardinal, Canadian high school principal. He succeeds Supt. Woodie E. Beene.

Other officers installed were Rex Kennedy, first vice-president; Don Williamson, second vice-president; Charles Vignal, third vice-president; Ben Mathers, tall twister; Charles Cook, Lion tamer and George Hand, re-elected as secretary-treasurer.

Canadian Rotary Club Installs W. Harrington

New Rotary Club president, Warren Harrington, will be installed at the Rotarians' regular luncheon meeting Monday. He will succeed A. S. Jackson.

Other officers will be Rev. James Price, club secretary, succeeding J. B. Reid Jr.; Jim Waterfield, sergeant-at-arms; Erbin Crowell, song leader; and Jimmy Cline, pianist.

Directors for the coming year are Gilbert Dickens, club service; James Price, vocational service; Potts Micou, international service.

This reflects somewhat the decline in the number of households that keep milk cows and a shift away from churning butter for farm use.

A number of factors have encouraged the farmer to shift from the sale of cream to whole milk. Improved facilities for preserving and handling whole milk have allowed the farmer to increase his production volume. Also, he finds it more profitable to spend more time on other phases of his farming business.

Freight Tax Repeal To Be Okayed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House was ready to stamp its approval today on legislation to repeal freight taxes yielding 485 million dollars a year in revenue.

House action was all that was needed to rush the compromise measure to the White House for President Eisenhower's certain signature.

Despite the administration's no-tax-out stand, the bill was regarded as veto-proof. In addition to the tax repeal it would grant the administration's request for a one-year postponement in tax cuts scheduled to take effect Tuesday on corporations, whiskey, beer, cigarettes and automobiles.

Unless the tax extension bill is signed by midnight Monday, the federal government would lose $2,500,000,000 in annual revenue from these scheduled reductions, some of which could not be recaptured.

The compromise measure drafted Thursday by Senate-House conferees represented a compromise between the House's stand against any tax relief and the Senate's proposal to repeal both the freight tax and the 10 per cent tax on airline bus and railroad passenger tickets.

The repeal applies to the 3 per cent tax that is added to freight bills, the 4 cents a ton tax on coal shipments and the 4 1/2 per cent levy on shipment of oil by pipeline.

Since the tax now adds to the cost of producing and marketing almost all products, some of the relief is likely to be passed on to the consumers in the form of lower prices.

RACINE, Wis. (UPI) — The "Wisconsin Agriculturist" revealed today that American brick cheese was strictly an accident.

The publication reported that a Wisconsin cheesemaker somehow made a mistake in 1876 and came up with brick.

"Oh, my! Der I'm b a r g e r schmill las' lot," was his only comment, according to the publication.
