Top O' Texas Covered With Inch of Snow

United Press International

A Pacific cold front chased shirt-sleeve weather out of North Texas today, replacing it with snow, chilly rains and electrical storms.

Dalhart reported three inches of snow on the ground at 7 a. m., and it was still snowing lightly. Amarillo and Texhoma had one inch.

A line of thundershowers moved southward along and just behind the front. Anson Carter Field near Fort Worth reported light hail about 2:30 a. m.

South Texas temperatures were in the balmy 60s this morning ahead of the cooler air. Brownsville reported the highest minimum, with 64.

Dalhart, with 29, was the coldest spot in the state. Fog collected along the middle and upper sections of the coast and as far inland as San Antonio and Cotulla. There was rain over the eastern part of the state.

The forecast called for more snow in the Panhandle and South Plains today, with temperature readings down to 12 to 24 tonight. Predicted lows in north-central Texas are 22 to 48.

A heavy thundershower hit Dalhart before dawn and a thundershower passed over Fort Worth. There was light rain at Waco and Wichita Falls, and drizzle or very light rain at Tyler and Texarkana.

About an inch of snow fell at Texhoma on the Oklahoma line in Dallas before dawn and a thundershower passed over Fort Worth.

Cuban Firing Squads Echo Again; 'War Criminals' Die

'LET'S GET IT OVER WITH, I HAVE A PAIN...'

EDITOR'S NOTE: Luis de Cabo Garcia, 23, a mechanic for Autobuses, Modelo A Santiago, a bus company in the Cuban provincial capital of Santiago in eastern Cuba, was one of the few civilians who witnessed the mass execution Monday of 21 "war criminals" by Fidel Castro men. His account, obtained by UPI Correspondent Charles Schuman, follows.

By LUIS DE CABO GARCIA
Written for UPI
SANTIAGO DE CUBA (UPI)—I was out on the city streets on Monday morning when I heard an officer say, "Let's get this over with quick. I have a pain in my soul."

I felt the same way. I knew these men were murderers and deserved to be shot, but I couldn't help thinking and wondering myself with them every time the volley sounded. It began for me early Monday morning when I was in the garage working on a motor. Army headquarters telephoned to send a bus to La Carcel de Boniato Prison. There was no bus driver around so I went myself.

At La Carcel, 12 of the convicted ones, their hands tied in front of them with rope, were waiting for the firing squads.

Six July 26th (rebel) guards were with them.
I climbed into the bus and I was told to go to the city jail where I picked up 11 more prisoners. Then one guard told me to drive to El Campo de Tiro, a firing range near San Juan Hill.
I knew what was up. It was common talk in town during the past few days that there would be executions.

Dawn was beginning to break as we arrived at the range. A volley of shots broke out as we stopped, and my passengers, who had been chatting en route, suddenly became silent.

They were ordered to death and they got off, awkwardly, their bound hands somewhat of a hindrance. They broke up into little groups of three, four and five.
There were two buses and an army truck parked to one side when I got there. Mine was the last load. Later, I learned that shootings had begun at 4 a. m. When I got there it was about 5:30 and one of the July 26th officers told me 22 had already been shot.

Castro Down With Fever; Civilian Army Will Disarm

By FRANCIS L. MCCARTHY
United Press International

HAVANA (UPI)—Firing squads echoed throughout Cuba at dawn today but authorities in Havana said the "No. 1 war criminal" of the Batista regime temporarily had escaped revolutionary justice.

The reports said Maj. Gen. Canfillo had been hospitalized for an operation for stomach ulcers. Fidel Castro has accused him of a "doublecross" for allowing ex-President Fulgencio Batista and his principal henchmen to flee Havana.

Castro himself was reported running a fever caused by gripple (flu) and was ordered by his doctors to remain in bed.

At the same time the government announced the first step towards demobilization of the civilian army which obtained the military dictatorship and presented Cuba with its first citizen president in six years.

Former Junta Head
Trial and execution of "war criminals" was reported interrupted throughout most of Cuba Wednesday although Cuban radio station CMQ announced 19 more had been executed by firing squads Wednesday morning.

Today the trials and executions resumed and Castro pledged they would continue until the last of the Batista assassins are shot. Several thousand suspects are in jail, 600 of them in Havana.

Among the 600 taken to Cuban fortresses was Canfillo who attempted personal peacemaking negotiations with Castro a few days before Batista's flight and who headed a short-lived junta government ousted by the fallen strongman.

Informed sources said Canfillo was removed from the Habana fortress to Camp Columbia military installation near Havana.

WILLY LEY
... K-F Club Speaker

ON ROCKET HISTORY

Willy Presents 'Way Out' Talk

By WALLY TRUESDELL
Daily News Staff Writer

"The theory of artificial satellites was conceived several centuries ago," Willy Ley, German rocket authority, said in opening a talk to the Top O' Texas K-F Club and Park Club Thursday night.

Newton, back in the 17th century, prophesied that if an object attained the speed of five miles per second it would go into orbit.

Ley told of the rocket fever which produced rocket societies in America, England, Russia and Germany. He was in on the founding of the German Rocket Society.

"We tried to raise money," he said. "In 1929 we started experimenting. The Russians also started in 1929."

The German Army believed that liquid fuel rockets could be used as long range artillery. The Germans were the first ones to think of ballistic missiles.

"Then followed a small comedy of errors," said Ley. "The Army didn't want to do it itself. It wanted the universities to do it. Industry was approached next."

In 1931, the Army had to do it itself. Their orders were to make rapid progress and spend very little money. You always get these conditions, you know."

Before the Army launched its program, an officer came to the Society's proving ground and drafted Werner von Braun. In 1939, Germany's closest competitor, Russia, discontinued rocket launchings and did not resume operations until after the war. German scientists developed the first ballistic fuel missile, the one-ton payload V-2 rocket.

The end of the war was hectic, like the end of most wars," Ley continued. The German research and planning staff was on an island in the Baltic Sea and escaped to Bavaria to give themselves up to the Americans rather than to the British or the Red Army.

An underground rocket factory was located in the Harz mountains, an area that was supposed to come under Russian jurisdiction. "The Americans overran it first and cleaned out the factory very nicely," Ley recounted. "Parts were packed neatly away. We left aboard a Liberty ship and sent to the United States."

In 1947, Ley wrote a paper stating that the rocket world did not have to wait for better fuels and the question arose of whether present day rockets could do it. Project Orbiter, using a Redstone rocket with smaller rockets on top, was begun in 1954.

It was abandoned and Project Vanguard started. In 1956 and 1957, articles appeared in Aviation Week and in the New York Times, giving full information on Russian rocket plans. These articles were translations of articles from Russian journals—that anyone could buy.

On Oct. 4, 1957, Ley was sitting in a club in New York City when a waiter called him to the telephone. Ley's wife informed him that the first Russian satellite was in orbit. "They are late," said Ley. The original firing date was Sept. 17.

Jupiter C was tried in mid-December in January Explorer was orbited.

Sputnik I had a fantastic publicity and propaganda value. Sputnik II, with its canine passenger, made a medical accomplishment. Explorer I recorded internal temperature in space and discovered that the sun is hot.

Traffic Snarled Here As Streets Badly Iced Over

An inch of snow following on the heels of treacherous street-coating sleet and ice snarled traffic all over Pampa this morning. However, a bright sun and clearing skies greeted wary motorists just before noon and most of the street's "hard pack" had already begun melting by lunch time.

Most serious traffic snarl occurred about 9:30 a. m. when three vehicles stalled going up a small incline of the South Cuyler Street underpass. While the vehicles were stalled, a truck driven by Audie Morris, 34, of Pampa also stalled. A car slammed into the back of Morris' truck and a second truck skidded into the car. Morris was given medical attention for a bruised shoulder.

STILL 'TOUCH AND GO'

NEW YORK (UPI)—The spectacular touch-and-go visit of Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan to New York City neared an end today with another rugged schedule on the agenda for the Soviet Union's "top salesman."

Russia's 63-year-old deputy premier was fitted to tour the headquarters of the United Nations, scene of many a Soviet veto, where he was to be interviewed at noon, and to attend a reception this evening at the Council on Foreign Relations before departing for Pennsylvania Station at midnight for Washington to see President Eisenhower.

But what else Mikoyan will do during the day, nobody knows. To the dismay of the array of police guards, there is no telling where he will suddenly decide to go. Since arriving in New York, he has been getting more mileage than almost any visiting dignitary within memory.

Matched with and exchanged views with some of America's best capitalistic brains at a banquet of the Economic Club at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Hobnobbed and sipped American-made vodka with its prominent business and political leaders at the home of ex-Gov. Averell Harriman, former U.S. ambassador to Russia.

Lunched with Wall Street bankers on the 20th floor of a financial district skyscraper.

Topped Matt's Department Store where he looked at everything from kitchen pots to frozen meats and sipped especially captivated by synthetics and modern furniture.

Under the personal supervision of Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy, "New York's finest" States would not accept current Mikoyan stay where he went. Waiting sirens and chugging motors were aimed at completely demilitarizing the country and trying to isolate it from the rest of Western Europe. This won't work, Eisenhower said.

No disturbing incidents have marred Mikoyan's visit, although the President said he did not expect any definite proposals to be picked in the Wall Street district.

A COLD LUNCH!

In the Top O' Texas or Kansas where this photo was taken, this pair of bison would be thanking Mother Nature for their "buffalo robes" on these cold and snowy days. Despite recent record snowfalls at Fort Hays State Park in Kansas these two replicas of the Old West manage to find grazing grass. Cold maybe, but still pretty good chewing.

Miss Andis To Ride Cloverleaf Pattern In Cowgirl Contest

MISS Bobbie Lee Andis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Andis, 1710 Mary Ellen, will represent the City of Pampa and the Top of Texas Rodeo Association at the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show January 30 through Feb. 8. She will be presented at the matinee performance on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 1.

Miss Andis is a junior in Pampa High School where she is prominent in social affairs of the school. She has been riding in rodeos since she was a very small girl and has taken top honors in numerous rodeo events in recent years.

Miss Andis will also be a contestant in the Cowgirl Cloverleaf Contest as a part of the regular rodeo program where she will be competing in a field of 36 cowgirls of the Southwest.

She comes from one of the Top of Texas area's most prominent ranch families. Her father, Bob Andis, is the president of the Top of Texas Rodeo Association, her official sponsor.

Critical Body Low Is 80.3; Watch It!

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—In the depths of one of the coldest winters in years, there is small comfort in knowing "the critical temperature" for most naked people is 80.3 degrees, which is that for tropical animals. A critical temperature is the lowest one in which a naked creature can relax enough to rest and sleep.

However, there are some naked people who can do much better. The Indians of the southern tip of South America are among them. They live, naked, in snow and sleet and never complain about the weather. Also some aborigines of Australia.

Before white men put them into clothes about 10 years ago, they slept naked on the bare and heavily frosted ground, snoring blissfully. And then, of course, there are the "abominable snowmen."

Everyone Has "Cold Adaptation"

To science all this is a matter of "cold adaptation" with which everyone has some experience in winter. Dr. P. F. Scholander, of Oslo (Norway) University, one of the world's leading scientific authorities, came to this country to chew it over with other authorities in a symposium sponsored by the American Physiological Society.

Whereas science knows how most animals adapt to cold, it knows next to nothing about how people do it.

But they do, he said on the basis of his own weather experiments with naked people. (You can't measure cold adaptation in people who are clothed and sheltered.) He took eight students into high mountains above the tree-line and had them bed down nights in the all-together on the bare ground with the temperature at freezing or a few degrees below.

Encased in Sleeping Bags

Each student was encased in a light sleeping bag. Each one had

Hinkley, Miller Play Big Role

CANYON (Spl.)—Two Top of Texas students attending West Texas State recently took part in activities which officially nationalized the Lambda Pi Delta fraternity.

Milton Miller, junior of Lefors, and James Hinkley, Pampa junior, are full initiates of the fraternity.

On hand for the ceremonies conducted at the First Methodist Church in Canyon were George W. Spawik, Service Secretary of Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity from Indianapolis, Indiana and a degree team from North Texas State College in Denton.

Following the ceremonies, an installation banquet was held at Bob Dowell's Restaurant in Amarillo.

Lambda Pi Delta was founded April, 1958, and was the fourth fraternity at West Texas State. The movement to nationalize fraternities and sororities was encouraged by President James P. Cornette and college deans.

Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Miller, is a physical education major.

Hinkley, speech major, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hinkley.

Milton also noticed that entries to dummy might be a problem and manufactured one by discarding the queen of spades on his club ace. He cashed the ace of hearts, led a spade to the king, ruffed a heart, trumped his ace of spades in dummy, led another heart and ruffed it high.

Since the king of hearts dropped on this trick he was able to draw trumps and make the slam.

The discard of the queen of spades at trick one was "most unusual. It was also necessary. Any other play and the way the cards lay he would not have made the hand."

Matter of FACT

Under the Articles of Confederation, which governed the infant United States from 1781 to 1789, there was no chief executive. The "president" was the officer who presided over the congress created by the articles. It was not until the Constitution went into effect in 1789 that there came into existence the office of president as we know it today.

Ford Motor Co. disclosed plans to resume new car financing operations after 20 years. The second biggest auto company said details have not yet been worked out but reports circulated that Ford will form a subsidiary similar to General Motors Acceptance Corp. CIT Financial Corp. has been financing a substantial part of Ford's dealer inventories and retail sales.

Production of raw steel rose to 3,713,000 tons in December from 3,569,318 the previous month and was the second largest monthly output of the year, the American Iron & Steel Institute reported. Meanwhile, Iron Age said that despite dangers of a steel strike this summer, and the lowest stocks in nine years, steel users are taking their time about rebuilding acts from some inventories.

Louis A. Green, an opposition director on the Loew's Inc. board, resigned removing the threat of a proxy fight. Joseph Tomlinson, another director who had opposed management, resigned last week.

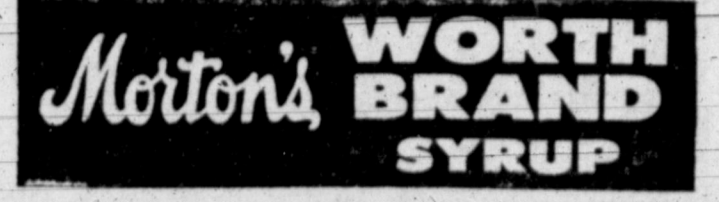

The corn refining industry processed a record 143 million bushels of corn in 1958, against the previous high of 141 million bushels in 1956, the Corn Industries Research Foundation reported. Refiners manufacture starches, syrups, sugars, corn oil, livestock feed-stuffs and numerous other products.

Wheat flour production in November totalled 20,191,000 sacks, an average of 1,682,000 sacks per working day, the Commerce Department said. Wheat flour mills operated at 97.6 per cent of capacity last November compared with 92.5 per cent in October.

IT'S THE LAW

in Texas

Man, Made Law?

With the opening sessions of Congress and the Texas Legislature, thoughts naturally turn to the products of their labors — our state and national laws.

Some people find confusing our different state and national laws dealing with the same things.

Surely, they say, you can have no real justice, unless there is some one "best way" to do each thing — to hold property, to manage traffic, to pay taxes, or to enforce contracts.

So it bothers them. Why should Englishmen drive on the left, side of the street? Why should married couples hold title under community property laws in some states and not in others?

"Is law merely a man-made contraption?"

Is it true that like good manners much law is man-made, growing out of custom or local problems. In card games you can play many different games with one deck. You merely change the rules. But the law is deeper than convention into man's basic needs for order for a grasp of the part he is to play, and for a way to settle disagreements.

Law provides an orderly way to do things so that people can make longrange plans and work together. Its rules help you to find out where you stand — your rights and duties. And last, law has bind ways to settling disputes if need be. First to keep the peace, and then win people over by dealing with them in ways that satisfy their sense of fairness.

You can find these traits of law in most groups "from the most primitive to the civilized.

As man finds out more and more about himself and his world, as his experience and wisdom grow, the law may get better. For example, as the psychological laboratories find out more about man's reaction times, his fears and faults, our laws about driving, for instance, may improve.

And here is another purpose the different kinds of laws may serve. You may look upon each as a sort of public discussion, these efforts may bring us more nearly to the "one best way" — if any such thing exists.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance if facts may change the application of the law.)

SLIGHT OF HAND—Just a drop in the bucket himself, this sleepy Chihuahua puppy is simply too tired to take his bottle in Lake City, Fla. Though he weighed but two ounces at birth, the two-week-old has a mighty name—Pablo Romasdo Chihuahua VanZile Peacock.

Familiar Foods Take On Oriental Air As Homemakers Combine Old With New

LAMB AND LIMA—Bolster your January menu plans with this Lamb and Lima Go-Together. A mild flavored combination of lamb cubes and lima beans in a velvety mushroom sauce, this dish makes a perfect twosome when served with crisp Chinese noodles.

JANUARY MENU
Lamb and Lima Go-Together
Chinese Noodles
Tomato-Chicken-Sticks
Rye Bread
Butter or Margarine
Lemon Pudding
Coffee Tea Milk

Are you among the scores of homemakers now making the change toward creating more picturesque, flavorful and interesting menus?

Perhaps this was a resolution on your list of New Year promises? If so, the change need not be as radical as one might think. Let's take meat purchasing as an example. Go ahead and plan on purchasing the majority of your year's same favorite meat cuts, but incorporate some new ones into your menu pattern. . . . meat cuts you've never tried.

This is easily done and recipes are not too difficult to find. However, finding new ways or recipes to prepare some of the more familiar cuts may be the difficult part.

Undoubtedly you've often used boneless lamb cubes in the preparation of lamb stew or shish kabobs, but here is a new combination using lamb cubes that'll more than please your family. The recipe is called Lamb and Lima Go-Together. The simplicity in preparation is another asset in the increasing popularity of this "new" some.

To begin, just brown 2 pounds of Kraut-n-Wieners.

Good-to-Eat Fare

We all like to prepare favorite foods in new ways. This Baked Kraut Ring with Frankfurters would make a good-to-eat, eye appealing dinner during National Kraut and Frankfurter Week, January 20th-February 7th.

BAKED KRAUT RING WITH FRANKFURTERS
(Makes 4 Servings)
1 1-pound (11-ounce) can sauerkraut, drained
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1 cup grated processed American cheese (about 1/4 pound)
1 tablespoon chopped chives
4 frankfurters
Salt and pepper to taste
Combine kraut, butter or margarine, cheese and chives, mix well. Press kraut mixture into an oiled 1-quart ring mold. Cut frankfurters crosswise into quarters; place in greased baking dish. Bake kraut ring and frankfurters in moderate oven (350 degrees) 20 minutes. Unmold kraut ring on a platter; place frankfurters in center. Season with salt and pepper. If sauce is desired for frankfurters: Combine 1/4 cup water, 1 teaspoon butter or margarine, 1 teaspoon grated onion, 2 teaspoons parsley and 1/4 cup water. Cook over low heat 5 minutes; stirring occasionally.

APPLE BUTTER SPICE CAKE
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup chopped nuts
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1/2 cup apple butter
1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
1/2 cup whole bran cereal
1 cup sour cream
To make topping: Combine brown sugar, cinnamon, nutmeg and chopped nuts. Set aside. Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Blend butter and sugar. Add eggs, beat well. Stir in apple butter, vanilla and whole bran cereal. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with sour cream, blending well after each addition (begin and end with top ingredients). Spread 1/2 the batter into greased 13 x 9-inch pan. Sprinkle with half of topping. Spoon remaining batter into pan; spread evenly. Sprinkle with remaining topping. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 40 minutes. Cut into squares and serve warm or cold, plain or with whipped cream, if desired.
Yield: 12 3-inch squares

CRISPY APPLE PUDDING
6 cups corn flakes
1-3 cup butter or margarine, melted
2 tablespoons confectioners' sugar
2 cups applesauce
1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon butter or margarine melted
1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup finely chopped nuts
1/2 cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
Vanilla ice cream or whipped cream
Crush corn flakes slightly; mix with melted butter and confectioners' sugar. Press corn flakes mixture into bottom of 8 x 8-inch pan, reserving 1/2 cup for top.
Mix applesauce, sugar, butter, vanilla and cinnamon; spread over crumb crust. Combine remaining corn flakes crumb mixture, nut meats and sugar; sprinkle over section. This then classifies them in the least tender category and the meat therefore requires slow moist heat cookery such as braising.

It might be well for the homemaker to keep these few facts in mind concerning lamb. Lamb is easily and completely digested.
Lamb, like all meats, should be cooked at low to moderate temperature. And when serving lamb, make a point of either serving the meat piping hot or cold. Lamb should never be served lukewarm.

LAMB AND LIMA GO-TOGETHER
2 pounds boneless lamb cut into 1-inch cubes
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
1/2 cup water
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) cream of mushroom soup
1 package (10 ounces) frozen lima beans
Brown lamb in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add water, salt, pepper, ginger, nutmeg, and garlic salt. Cover tightly and simmer 7 1/2 hours. Add soup and lima beans. Simmer 30 minutes longer or until meat is tender and beans are done. Serve with noodles, if desired. 6 to 8 servings.

Winter Dessert Round-Up Tests Cooks Skill With Bivy Of Tempting Desserts

May as well accustom ourselves to the idea—winter has settled down for a spell. What to do about it? Why, enjoy it, of course. While the wind whistles outdoors, we'll be testing our culinary skills on a bivy of desserts best appreciated this time of year.

FRAGRANT APPLE BUTTER SPICE CAKE, like many desserts, has extra appeal when served still warm from the oven. The sugar-nut topping bakes both inside and on top of the cake, contrasting temptingly with the rich creamy sour cream imparts.

Winter time cookie baking is rewarding, too. Not the least of its satisfaction is in the receptive on hand to show their active approval. Make a batch of Krispy Spice Drops and fill the cookie jar for the onslaught of youngsters with appetites whetted by skating and other outdoor fun.

Another homey desert, and one that's wonderfully simple, is Crispy Apple Pudding. Applesauce, sugar and spice make up the nucleus filling for a crisp corn flakes crust.

KRAUT-N-WIENERS
1 1-pound (11-ounce) can sauerkraut, drained
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1 cup grated processed American cheese (about 1/4 pound)
1 tablespoon chopped chives
4 frankfurters
Salt and pepper to taste
Combine kraut, butter or margarine, cheese and chives, mix well. Press kraut mixture into an oiled 1-quart ring mold. Cut frankfurters crosswise into quarters; place in greased baking dish. Bake kraut ring and frankfurters in moderate oven (350 degrees) 20 minutes. Unmold kraut ring on a platter; place frankfurters in center. Season with salt and pepper. If sauce is desired for frankfurters: Combine 1/4 cup water, 1 teaspoon butter or margarine, 1 teaspoon grated onion, 2 teaspoons parsley and 1/4 cup water. Cook over low heat 5 minutes; stirring occasionally.

1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup finely chopped nuts
1/2 cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
Vanilla ice cream or whipped cream
Crush corn flakes slightly; mix with melted butter and confectioners' sugar. Press corn flakes mixture into bottom of 8 x 8-inch pan, reserving 1/2 cup for top.
Mix applesauce, sugar, butter, vanilla and cinnamon; spread over crumb crust. Combine remaining corn flakes crumb mixture, nut meats and sugar; sprinkle over

KRISPY SPICE DROPS
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon mace
1/2 cup soft butter or margarine, melted
1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
3 eggs, well-beaten
1/2 cup milk
1 cup seedless raisins
1/2 cup cut dates
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 cup ready-to-eat high protein cereal
Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and spices. Beat butter and sugar. Stir in eggs, milk, raisins, dates and lemon rind. Add sifted dry ingredients together with ready-to-eat high protein cereal; mix well. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto greased baking sheets. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 10 minutes.
Yield: about 8 dozen cookies, 2 inches in diameter.

Braised Beef Nips Panhandle Breeze

Texas isn't as big as Alaska. It isn't as cold either, but when a winter wind is screaming down across the Texas Panhandle, a few degrees don't make much difference. . . . it's cold! And for cold weather, a dinner of hearty braised short ribs as a meal is easy to fix, easy to enjoy and easy on the budget.

To serve short ribs at their most tender and most flavorful best, the Texas Beef Council reminds homemakers to braise them slowly over low heat and add vegetables about 30 minutes before the beef is done. This recipe serves six.

BRAISED SHORT RIBS WITH VEGETABLES
1/2 to 3 pounds beef short ribs
Salt, pepper
1/2 cup flour
2 tablespoons fat
1/2 cup chopped celery leaves
1 medium onion
2 sprigs parsley
1 1/2 cups hot water or bouillon
6 medium carrots
8 small onions
8 medium potatoes
Have butcher cut short ribs into individual servings. Sprinkle with salt and pepper to taste and roll in flour. In a large, heavy utensil, brown ribs in hot fat. Add onion, celery leaves, parsley, and liquid. Cover pan and cook over low heat (275 degree F.) for 2 hours, adding more liquid if necessary. Add vegetables, sprinkle with salt and pepper to taste and continue cooking, covered, 30 minutes or until meat and vegetables are tender. Remove meat and vegetables to hot platter. For gravy, skim any excess fat cooking with a smooth flour and from liquid, and dilute liquid to preferred strength. Thicken with water paste. Serve gravy over meat and potatoes.

CRISPY APPLE PUDDING
6 cups corn flakes
1-3 cup butter or margarine, melted
2 tablespoons confectioners' sugar
2 cups applesauce
1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon butter or margarine melted
1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup finely chopped nuts
1/2 cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
Vanilla ice cream or whipped cream
Crush corn flakes slightly; mix with melted butter and confectioners' sugar. Press corn flakes mixture into bottom of 8 x 8-inch pan, reserving 1/2 cup for top.
Mix applesauce, sugar, butter, vanilla and cinnamon; spread over crumb crust. Combine remaining corn flakes crumb mixture, nut meats and sugar; sprinkle over

Nancy Haven Suggests—
USE A MIX FOR THESE SWEET BISCUIT ROLLS

Tasty, attractive . . . serve them hot

There's something appealing about a hot bread. Nothing else can take its place, whether served at breakfast, at brunch—or for dessert. For the most enjoyment, be sure to serve hot bread hot—and fresh from the oven.
You'll enjoy making and serving these Sweet Biscuit Rolls, suggested by Nancy Haven of Western Beet Sugar Producers, Inc. They're attractive, tasty and easy to start with biscuit mix.
And except for baking, you can prepare them several hours in advance—the night before if serving for breakfast—and refrigerate until time to bake. If you do refrigerate, allow a little extra baking time.
Two kinds of filling are suggested—jam and applesauce. You'll want to try them both.

SWEET BISCUIT ROLLS
3 cups biscuit mix
2 tablespoons beet sugar
1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted
1/2 cup milk
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, softened
FILLING:
1 cup peach, apricot or strawberry jam
OR
1 cup unweakened applesauce, 1/4 cup beet sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, and 1/2 cup chopped walnuts.
Combine biscuit mix, beet sugar, melted butter or margarine and milk; stir until well blended. Turn out onto lightly floured pastry cloth or board; knead lightly.
Roll out into rectangle, 10" x 13". Spread evenly with softened butter or margarine; then with FILLING. Starting from long side, roll up dough, jelly-roll fashion. Cut crosswise into 16 slices.
Overlap slightly, place slices around edge of buttered 9" pie plate; fill in center with remaining slices. Bake in 375° F. oven 25 minutes or until done. Let cool 5 minutes; remove from pan. Glaze with thin powdered beet sugar icing. Serve warm.

"Charlie The Cook" Advises European Tourists to Pack Pot O' Beef For Trip

For Texas homemakers, the Texas Beef Council has searched avidly for new and interesting recipes for the economical cuts of beef, and this month we turn to an expert—"Charlie the Cook," who writes a food-for-men column for Texas cattlemen, the men who know beef best.
Charlie's column appears regularly in the Cattleman Magazine, official publication of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association.

On his return from a recent European visit, Charlie reported sadly on his "inability to make contact with a really good hunk of beefsteak in the eateries of Germany, Italy and France."

He found the British beef supply excellent, but "you miss chili and hamburger and stuff like that over there," he said. "When I got Mrs. Charlie from Washington and back to these shores, I. phone d told her to get dinner ready, preferably something with hamburger."

Mrs. Charlie's response was a "Stuffed Onions in Hamburger Hoops."

"And if you're heading for Europe, better take a pot of it with you," Charlie advised.

STUFFED ONIONS IN HAMBURGER HOOPS
(Serves 6)
1 1/2 lbs. ground beef
6 large mild onions
2 1/2 cups cooked rice
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 cup canned green peas, drained
1/2 teaspoon black pepper
5 tablespoons milk
1 egg
1 1/2 teaspoons steak sauce
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
6 small slices of American cheese
Remove skins from onions and simmer until tender; drain and cool. Cut a large hole in the tops of the onions and remove centers, leaving a substantial wall of two or three layers of onion. Mix 1 1/2 cups of rice, Worcestershire sauce, peas, 1/2 teaspoon of pepper and 3 tablespoons of milk. Fill onions with this mixture.

Combine ground beef, 1 cup rice, steak sauce, salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, and 2 tablespoons milk. Form into 6 equal-sized balls, place on a large, well-greased baking pan, and flatten into patties, making a hole in the center of each patty. Place an onion in each hole and press the meat up around the onions to within about half an inch of the top. Bake in a preheated 350 degree oven for 20 minutes, or until meat is done. Cover rice filling with cheese and heat until cheese melts. Serve with tomato sauce or a gravy made from the drippings.

BACON ROUNDABOUTS
Franks split, stuffed with cheese and wrapped in bacon are grilled to mouthwatering doneness for an ideal luncheon or supper dish. With salad, potato chips and relishes, they complete a "fork" meal; pop them into buns for a sandwich meal the kids will love.

SPLIT SECOND PIZZAS
The flavor is Italiano, the ease of preparation strictly Americano. Halves of English muffins form the pizza base, topped with salami, tomato, spices and cheese. Teen-agers can concoct these pizzas themselves for their next platter party.

FURR'S

FORTY-SEVEN SECONDS OF HELL—The battered nose of an Air Force B-52 jet bomber bears testimony to the savagery of a storm encountered by the plane 8,000 feet over Carswell A.F.B. in New Mexico. The plane, flying at about 400 m.p.h., struck a hail pocket undetectable on weather radar. Damage was severe but the pilot managed to get the valuable ship back to the base where repairs will make it serviceable.

Rifleman, Naked City Still Going Strong; Attitudes Differ

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Rifleman and Naked City stand back to back on the Tuesday night ABC-TV schedule. It is quite fitting therefore that they should face in different directions.

Both shows, as I said back on Sept. 30 when they bowed in, are respectable additions to the TV catalogue. The Rifleman is a Western of good manners and occasional penetration. Naked City is a cops and robbers piece, photographed in New York, and possessed of a keen eye for the city's triumphal disunion.

Each is set in a period following one of the two great traumas this nation has undergone—the Civil War and the Great Depression—and each carries the scars of these experiences.

However, there is a sharp difference in the attitude of each show. The Rifleman, like most good Westerns, has a feeling of unbounded space built into it. The horizon seems unlimited and so does the potential of each life. The Western is a container for the American dream. And therein, lies its great attraction—it reassures us.

In Naked City, the dream has been shattered. The people of Naked City feel a terrible need for space, for freedom. They are hemmed in, squeezed. They talk about touching the sky.

"Mama, all my life I've lived under a rug—like dust," is the way one character Tuesday night put it. And the people in Naked City break out in the one way they know how—through violence.

Despite their differences in attitude—one rooted in the myth, the other faced with the loss of the myth—the two shows do meet on one common ground. For want of a better word, I'll call that ground compassion.

The hero of The Rifleman, a former Union officer, feels a deep concern for binding up the wounds caused by hatred, stupidity, intolerance. He carries within him the built of the winner, Tuesday night, for example, the plot centered around a maimed Confederate veteran, horrible in appearance, dubious in character.

"I can't stand to look at him," cried the hero's son.

"Neither can I, son," replied the hero, "which means we're in worse shape than he is." This, I would say, is several cuts above the usual TV gush.

Within Naked City, charity also is frequently the note struck. It recognizes that not all juvenile delinquents are punks, that violence is a symptom of something out of joint, that life isn't merely a matter of the good guys versus the bad guys. And although its plots are usually thin, sorrow and pity wash over its flesh. It faces up to the human condition, unlike other slicker action shows like, say, Peter Gunn or 77 Sunset Strip.

The Channel Swim: NBC-TV's one-hour Phil Harris special on Feb. 6 will star Dean Martin, Betty Hutton and Alice Faye. ABC-TV will revive another Western, Tombstone Territory, in late March, probably in a Friday night spot.

Jack Webb's TV firm is ready to launch a newspaper series with a San Francisco background. "The Black Cat"—the test film will be shot in March. Jeannie Carson, Edna Best and Janet Munro have joined John Kerr in the cast of "Berkeley Square," a 90-minute NBC-TV Hallmark Hall of Fame Drama set for Feb. 5. A Benny Goodman one hour special will be offered by CBS-TV April 10.

The ABC-TV Dick Clark Show, which originates from West 44th St. in Manhattan, will feature stars from four legit shows on that street this Saturday—The Music Man, The World of Suzie Wong, Whoop-Up and The Flower Drum Song. Chances are strong that NBC-TV's Omnibus will receive its five-part Abe Lincoln series in a telescoped version for its Feb. 1 show.

Adam West has signed to star in "Doc Holiday," a Western series that ABC-TV is interested in. "Willie," another proposed ABC-TV series which stars Robert Morse, will have its test film shot on Jan. 26. The sponsor of the recent ABC-TV Art Carney-Peter and the Wolf special has signed on for three more specials on the network.

Quotes In The News

United Press International

NEW YORK — Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan after a tour of New York City: "Yours is a very good country. I especially like the people of this country. I have had many interesting and useful talks."

HOLLYWOOD — Actor Ward Bond on learning that the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences had repealed an amendment banning Communists from receiving Oscar awards: "All these Fifth Amendment Communists are working now. We've lost the fight and that's all there is to it."

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower during his visit to the National Press Club when asked if he preferred having press conferences on a regularly scheduled basis: "I never like to conform too much. And just to say that one particular day each week I am going to be in the same exact spot, the same exact time, sort of gets me down."

FT. LEAVENWORTH, Kan. — Army Secretary Wilbur M. Brucker on the continuing need for infantrymen: "We must be prepared for limited war. If we are not prepared, that is the very thing that will cause it to happen."

NEW YORK — TV columnist Marie Torre after serving a 10 day jail term for contempt of court for refusing to reveal the source of a news story: "If I had to reveal any source, I'd feel that I had betrayed my profession, myself, my church, my paper and everything I stand for."

ACUTE OBSERVATION

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—C. W. Weston, an attorney from London, England, noted in a speech before the Iowa Senate Wednesday that President Eisenhower apparently has a deep respect for the British way of life. "Golf, you know, is a British game," he said.

Americans Consuming 36 Million Rotten Eggs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Americans are unwittingly consuming about three million dozen rotten eggs a year.

This statistic comes from the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, which is trying hard to break up what one official calls "the smallest racket we've come across in a long time."

The small is figurative. By the time the spoiled eggs reach the dinner table—usually in the form of bakery products—their telltale odor has been processed away.

Rotten eggs won't poison you. In fact, they may have almost as much nutritional value as fresh eggs. But very, very few American consumers would choose to eat them if they knew what they were getting.

Under the federal pure food laws, overripe eggs are defined as an "adulterated" product. It's illegal to ship them across state lines unless they have been smashed and mixed with some substance such as charcoal, kerosene or creosote to make them unusable for food.

Investigations by the Food and Drug Administration indicate that this law is currently being flouted on a wide scale throughout the East and Midwest.

Here's how the racket works, according to FDA officials:

Shady operators go around to poultry hatcheries and buy up eggs that have been removed from incubators as infertile. Some of the rejects have lain in the incubators for as long as 18 days and are in "advanced stages of decomposition." The going price is about 7 cents a dozen.

There is a legal market for such eggs. If broken up and denatured, they can be used industrially for such purposes as tanning leather.

But racketeers have found a more lucrative market. They take the eggs to concealed processing plants, shell them, process out the horrible smell with chemicals such as sodium benzoate or by pasteurization and freeze them in 30-pound cans.

The frozen eggs are then peddled to bakeries at prices that are about 10 per cent below the market price for good eggs.

The Food & Drug Administration is trying to get at the racket in two ways:

1. By reminding poultry hatcheries and bakeries that they are accessories to a federal crime if they sell to or buy from the rotten egg processors.
2. By seizing illegal shipments of eggs and bringing charges

Internal Revenue Has Questions For Farmers, Ranchers

If you're a farmer or rancher-employer and have one or more agricultural employees, then Wiley E. Davis, Administrative Officer, Internal Revenue Service, Pampa, has some questions for you.

"Have you paid an employee $150 or more in cash wages during 1958, or has the employee performed agricultural labor for you on 20 or more days during 1958 for cash wages figured on a time basis?"

If your employees meet either of these two tests you must withhold social security tax from the cash wages paid to the employees at the rate of two and one-fourth percent of such cash wages. This percentage, together with another two and one-fourth percent representing your share as the employer, must be sent to the IRS district director in Dallas.

Davis says that if you find that you are subject to this tax, "you're required to file a return, Form 943, with the district director before January 31 of the year following the year covered by the return."

IRS recommends the "Farmers' Tax Guide, 1959 Edition," for non-technical explanation of income tax rules. It's free for the asking at Revenue, or from your agricultural agent.

Collett Ranks High In CS Examination

Robert Collett, a freshman at Rice Institute, Houston, has attained the highest score of all the young men who participated in the 1958 Civil Service designation examination, according to Walter Rogers, representative of the 13th Congressional District.

Collett's father, F. B. Collett, 1104 Crane, has received a letter from Rogers, offering to nominate the young man to one of the service academies.

West Point is Collett's choice but writes Rogers, there will be no vacancies until 1960. Rogers is willing to name Collett his principal candidate for either the Naval Academy or Air Force Academy, enabling him to take appropriate exams.

Esther Williams; Glamour Girl To Business Executive

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Esther Williams, Glamour girl or executive?

Last year the former swim star was mostly corporation president, appearing only four times on television, and not at all in movies. In 1959 it will be 50-50 for Esther, who will launch a new video series in addition to her duties as chief of her own swimming pool company.

She's beautiful, talented, bright and rich — and she knows it. "I don't think I should try to hide what I am," Esther said candidly. "The fact that I'm pretty smart at business shouldn't offend anyone. Actually, it separates me from the boys. Smart men don't resent smart women."

The athletically-built Miss Williams indulged in a bit of self-analysis.

Reached Summit In Movies

"A successful business woman can escape being hard, cold and calculating. I think I have. If you try to cover up the fact that you're intelligent with the old feminine tricks you lose the respect of people whose friendship you value," Esther said.

The actress-executive added that she walked out on her movie career because "it would have destroyed me."

"I had reached a summit as a motion picture actress, and I walked out on five years of salary and contract rather than do less than my best. I refused to make mediocre films."

"By going into business I was able to capitalize on the property that MGM studios developed — namely Esther Williams."

"It is a valuable image, a girl who likes to swim, who is well-adjusted, wholesome and energetic. The All-American girl. A good commodity. And while making the transition I found that show business and business are very close. Only instead of playing a role, I play myself."

Has New Pool.

This week Esther will reveal a revolutionary new pool which her company will be manufacturing in the coming year. She says it will cost less than a new automobile.

"It can be installed a few feet above or at ground level," she explained. "The pool measures 16 by 32 feet, with a deck area 35 by 42 feet which completely encloses the pool."

Is pool manufacturing as profitable as acting?

This year, according to Esther, her pool outsold all other swimming pool companies combined, grossing some 12 million dollars. The operation nets the actress approximately $40,000 a month.

"You see, I can't complain about finances," she concluded. "And I enjoy the work as much as I ever did acting."

Lefors Lions Club Talks Dimes Drive

LEFORS (Sp) —The Lefors Lions Club met in the Civic Center Monday night, Jan. 12, with Boss Lion, Boyd Beck, in charge.

The annual Merch of Dimes campaign was discussed, and 22 members appointed on committees to work shifts in a street blockade.

The Lions decided also to have concrete tables and chairs made for the Lefors city park in cooperation with other clubs of the community in a Park Beautification project.

Lions Jerry Jacobs, Floyd Hines, George Duncan were appointed to investigate the possibility of Lions Queen contest, the winner of which will be entered in the district convention to be held at Plainview, April 25-28.

A report was given on the Lions Mid-winter conference held in Amarillo which was attended by Messrs. and Misses Boyd Beck, David Robinson, Walter Elliott, and Earl Atkinson.

Lion W. D. McBee introduced the entertainers of the evening, Misses Pat Berry, Margie Nichols, and Paula Cumberland who sang, "It Was A Miracle," and Sharon Hines, who gave a reading. Other guests were Miss Jane Nichols, club secretary, and Larry Blair.

An installation ceremony was conducted by Jerry Jacobs in which

New Capes Change Fashion Silhouette

NEW YORK (UPI) — The new Christian Dior collection recalls the old line that made the house famous.

The "rounded" look, which the firm's designer, young Yves St. Laurent, endorses for spring, resembles the "new look" of 1947. Shoulders are rounded, skirts are belted or softly rounded, and often pleated. The overall effect is graceful femininity.

No trace of the chemise in this collection. Waistlines are slightly above the point nature put them, but far from empire. Bodies are less fitted around the ribs than in other New York collections.

The house emphasized that the "general trend of fashion is very definitely to longer lengths," but said the actual lengths vary "to suit the proportions of the specific dresses or suits and also the wearers."

Manufacturer Larry Aldrich, who went all-out for the chemise last year, stuck to definite waistlines in his spring and summer collection. Most were slightly higher in front, natural in back. He offered the cardigan look in brief jacket costumes, young styling, feminine collars on dresses, open necklines which point to a rounded bosom, and the short, high-waisted, bare and bouffant look for evening.

Ben Zuckerman showed short suit jackets, peplums barely reaching the hipbone, large cabbage-leaf collars, and edges that curl like a lettuce leaf. Many suit jackets had double-breasted closings, enormous buttons, and a high-bosomed effect.

Patullo-Jo Copeland specialized in dress and jacket costumes. Designer Copeland used lots of tabs on necklines, pockets, lapels and belts, shawl collars with little flowers tucked into slits, ribbon roses at front center, cape effects, white sleeves on navy dresses and tunic effects. Waistlines are natural or slightly raised.

TRUTH WILL OUT

MILAN, Italy (UPI) — A beggar posing as a deaf mute was arrested Tuesday when he became involved in a dispute with a streetcar conductor and started yelling.

"I think Richard is handsome, intelligent and dreamy — the trouble is he thinks so, too!"

On The Shelf

The following books are available at Lovett Memorial Library, according to Mrs. Lillian Snow, librarian.

'Only In America' Harry Golden. A newspaper publisher in Charlotte, N.C., whose newest book "Only In America" is made up of selections from his newspaper. He dared to reveal that 25 years earlier he had served a prison sentence and the result was the reverse of what he had feared. The response was overwhelming and sympathetic sentiment welled up for his courage. It gave new and poignant meaning to the title of his now-famous volume "Only In America."

'The Story Of An American Communist' John Gates. John Gates, former editor of The Daily Worker, tells the story of his years in the Communist Party of America and why he left the party in January of 1958.

'Designing Your Own Dress Patterns' Helen Tannous. To have original clothes which are truly expressive of your own feelings and taste, you have to design your own clothes. If you are going to design them, then you must also make patterns for them. This book gives a background for creating your own patterns and altering others to fit your individual type.

'Sheet Metal Pattern Drafting And Shop Problems' Daugherty. This meets every requirement as a text book and is also well adapted for reference use by apprentices and sheet-metal workers.

'College Bound' Samuel C. Brownstein. Planning for college and career, plus maps and detailed data on 965 accredited colleges and universities.

'Getting The Most Out Of College' Margaret K. Beinhil. This lively book speaks directly to the college student and tells how to enjoy and make use of every opportunity of the years at college.

'Teen-Age Diet Book' Ruth West. This is your own private diet book, the first and only one with calorie counts and low-calorie slimming recipes for your favorite foods. And you'll be amazed when you read Chapter 2 and see how it debunks myths about weight. By the way, you'll also want to make sure that your mother gets a look at the "For Parents Only" chapter.

'Wooden Toy-Making' Winifred Horton. This book serves a two-fold purpose. It is a treatise on toy-making that will prove a source of delight to young and old. Furthermore, it offers to teachers an entirely new outlet for the creative instinct.

'Mexican Journal' Selden Rodman. More than a journal, more than a superbly illustrated travel book, more than a person-to-person report on Mexico's arts and artists. It answers these questions: What is it like to be an American in Mexico? And why do so many Mexicans distrust and resent us while they tolerate the Communists?

'TWA Vacation Guide And World Atlas'. This will provide hours of enlightening and entertaining reading about the places you'd like to see. It has maps, gives highlights about the main attractions of each country, shows the flags of each country and gives valuable travel tips.

Rho Eta Chapter Plans March O' Dimes Coffee For Beta Sigma Phi Members

PRE-COFFEE COFFEE — Mrs. James Deaton, Mrs. Ray Jordan, Mrs. Jim Wallace, and Mrs. Vernon Bell, seated left to right, members of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority and hostesses for the March of Dimes Coffee to be sponsored by the Rho Eta Chapter, gather around coffee cups to complete plans for the Coffee to be given Friday morning from 9:30 till noon in the home of Mrs. Bell, 2244 Mary Ellen. BSP cordially invites Upsilon, Exemplot, and Rho Eta Chapter members to attend and bring guests.

dew tell!
by Doris E. Wilson
Pampa News Women's Editor

Asked to tell what beauty secret blonde, overnight, thousands and today's women may glean from thousands of women appeared with ten of the great feminine person-platinum tresses and the Factoralities of the past 50 years (with had to create a whole new color in his and Max Factor Senior's harmony make-up to give women memory.) Max Factor Jr. names the "Harlow" look.

Each of the ten capitalized on her fame, whose audience, compared with the millions a movie actress attracts, numbers only a few thousand, and, carrying international attention any time she pleases. Her electrifying personal distinction leads him to believe that a glamorous warmth may be returning to the feminine scene to out the cold, reserved, scrubbed wholesomeness and standardization of the young on-comers.

5. The late Lady Mendel (the former Elsie de Wolfe) who, with-out her lively, liquid brogue eyes might have been called plain, is named for her great and imaginative gift for fantasy in dressing, entertaining, personal make-up artistry, ability to attract friends, and creating an exciting environment around her. At 89, Factor says, she was still amazing her younger friends by intriguing them with her flair for fashion, fun and her cerise-lean-blue hair.

6. Theda Bara of the early days of the movies is chosen for conveying more than any other actress a femme fatale, vampire allure which is too noticeably missing today. "She was seldom seen without a veil, a mystery, woman's most charming weapon," comments Factor, "and she was the first to realize what allure there is in contrasting dark lashes and brows against a pale, white complexion."

7. Gloria Swanson, one of the earliest women who made herself into a woman whose magnetizing attraction has more than spanned the years. One of the most imitated women on the screen, says Factor, her clothes, make-up, hair styles, and mannerisms have been copied by a feminine audience

Plans for a "March of Dimes" Coffee were discussed at the meeting of Rho Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority held Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Jack Florence, 607 Powell. The Coffee, sponsored by Rho Eta, will be held Friday, Jan. 16, from 9:30 to noon in the home of Mrs. Vernon Bell, 2244 Mary Ellen. All chapters of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority are invited to attend and bring a guest.

The business session of the meeting was followed by a study of Parliamentary Procedure led by Mrs. Thelma Bray, member of the Exemplot Chapter. A question and answer period followed the study.

Hostesses during the social hour were Mrs. Florence, Wade Court Bill Terry and Miss Betty Tom Riddle.

Those attending were Mrs. Vernon Bell, James Deaton, Chester Huff, Ray Jones, Ray Jordan, R. D. Dunham, H. L. Meers, A. C. Parsley, Haldene Suttle, Jack Taber, Bill Terpley, Jim Terrell, Jim Wallace and Hart Warren.

whom she can hold as easily as crooking her little finger. Because slinky black gowns gave her small stature, height, she capitalized upon them as a trademark, and they became the rage of fashion. Today the slim black sheath is still following in the Swanson wake.

8. Queen Elizabeth epitomizes everything gracious, beautiful, and lady-like which we idealize. When you are in her presence, you know you are in the presence of a Queen among women. The sincerity and honesty of a great lady reflects in her beautiful eyes and her complexion represents the clear skin for which England is so famous. This royal lady's make-up, clothing and her entire grooming emphasize this queenly manner.

9. Alice Roosevelt Longworth is named for her sparkling princess-like qualities in the White House when her father was President of the United States. These regal qualities, Mr. Factor believes, should be developed in the young women of today who are seeking outstanding beauty.

10. With Katherine Cornell, Factor winds up his list, insisting that this stage actress' beauty is not only in her appearance alone, but in an inner light that seems to illumine it; not in form, but more in the classic "Presence" of stateliness which she carried with among women. The sincerity and

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We live directly over a woman who needs a keeper. She's on an Old Age pension and spends all her time visiting the neighbors, but not us because she had her TV on very loud one night and my husband asked her if she was deaf and she was. Soon as she gets home she starts pounding on the ceiling. My husband "answers" by pounding on the floor. Then she starts up pounding on the ceiling again. This foolishness is getting me down. My husband doesn't start it, but how can I stop him from answering her?

DEAR HEADACHE: The poor woman is obviously not well and if your husband doesn't realize this, HE needs a keeper. I suspect your husband enjoys this little game because he could put a stop to her pounding by simply ignoring it.

DEAR ABBY: My sister is getting married. She's a Catholic and he's an alcoholic. She is 24 years old, says she loves him and won't listen to anybody. We hate to see her throw her life away on him. Is there any way we can break it up?

SISTER: DEAR SISTER: You can't stop a 24-year-old woman from marrying whom ever she chooses. If she really loves him she'll introduce him to the "A.A." and let him help himself.

DEAR ABBY: Please don't think I am terrible but I am very much in love with a fellow my age (19) who keeps asking me to "prove my love." Miss Abby, I know it is a sin but he keeps after me and I'm afraid if I don't give in or else give him a good reason for refusing to, I'll lose him. Please tell me what to do.

A GIRL IN LOVE: DEAR GIRL: Tell him if there is any "love proving" to be done, he should prove HIS by controlling his physical desires until he's able to put your name on a marriage license.

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl who is 5 feet 11 in my stocking feet, and believe me, I've never owned a pair of heels! The man I go with is 5 feet 8 with built-up shoes.

Rebekah Lodge Convenes In Hall

Mrs. Lucille Kessinger, noble grand of Pampa Rebekah Lodge No. 355, presided at the recent meeting of the lodge in the IOOF Hall, 210 W. Brown.

Members reported ill were Mrs. Myrtle Johnson's daughter, Joan, who has undergone surgery, also, Mrs. Johnson's mother and mother-in-law were reported ill; Mr. E. S. Kessinger, father-in-law of Mrs. Kessinger; Mrs. Alice Frazier, sister of Clyde Gray and Mr. Art Brown were also reported ill.

It was also reported that Mr. Jim Kersey's mother had passed away; and the granddaughter of Mrs. Mary Smith had died recently overseas.

Among the announcements made were those that new lodge officers will be installed at the next meeting of the group; that the "Pamphlet Circle" will meet with Berger Lodge No. 286 on Jan. 26; that the Esther Club was to have met on Jan. 11 with Mrs. Cordelia Mayes, 1333 N. Starkweather.

Correspondence was read by Mrs. Pauline Ragdale, president of the Rebekah Assembly, requesting the lodge to observe the birth-presented in the form of a television program with Miss Leahwana Nowlin in charge.

Refreshments of spudnuts and punch were served by Mrs. A. G. Roberts.

Members present were Misses Neta McCool, Angie Atchley, Loretta Parks, Marlene Cates, Marcia McDonald, Jeanette Maberry, and Leahwana Nowlin.

days of the founders of the Order. A report was given of the degree team's activities, who with their team captain, Mrs. Mary Delf McNeil, went to Spearman recently to assist with the initiation of 24 members in the new-organized Spearman Rebekah Lodge. Mrs. Hazel Lockhart was awarded the travel fund.

Twenty-seven members were present.

AROUND THE WORLD

MAKING A SWAP—The American League's "walking man" Eddie Yost, traded from the Washington Senators to the Detroit Tigers, holds a snowball on a terrace of the office of J. Norman Lewis, a baseball players' attorney in New York. The popular third baseman is a players' representative.

THIS IS THE LIFE—It was so warm in Palm Springs, Calif., that Kae Rae Dirlam (left) and Judy Scott just had to do something about it. They got that enormous piece of ice into a hotel swimming pool and paddled around on it to cool off.

ALL FOR SYRACUSE—That team's Pete Chudy (44) and Cornell's Bill Sullivan are scrambling for a loose ball during their consolation game in the holiday festival tourney in New York. The Orangemen topped the Big Red, 66-60.

SLAM BANG!—Some crowbar fishermen have shouldered their catch and are now watching other workmen beat the water of a shallow pool near Peshawar, Pakistan. Thousands of fish, some weighing up to 40 pounds, were trapped in the water, formed through the erection of two dams. They were attacked with crowbars, sticks and boards—and caught.

JUST MISSED—Toronto goalie Ed Chadwick looks surprised as the puck bounces past him for a seeming goal during a game in Detroit, Mich. Actually, the puck, deflected by Detroit's Alex Delvecchio (10), sailed harmlessly past the cage. At right is Toronto's Dick Duff. The Maple Leafs won the game with a final 2-0.

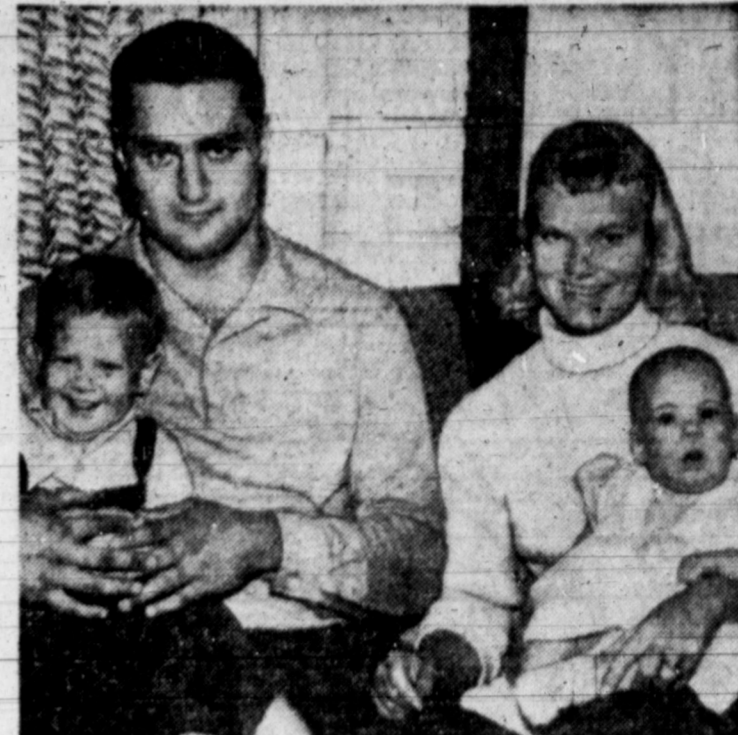

FROZEN ASSETS—Opening up a Christmas Club account is ice skater Candice Taylor. She took time out after performing a holiday ballet on a full-sized ice rink in the lobby of a New York bank. Candice decided to make further use of her working quarters by making them work for her future.

HITTING A SINKER—Pitching to ex-major league slugger Johnny Mize in New York's Coliseum, Denise, a porpoise is serving up a high hard one. Denise, who can catch as well as throw a ball, was one of two trained porpoises transported by truck from Marineland, Fla. They were on display as part of a Florida exhibit.

BELLE WITH BALL—She's Carol Davore, holding her head in the clouds at Daytona Beach, Fla., as she holds a beach ball aloft in a demonstration of how to really enjoy winter weather. Carol was looking for a partner in a game of catch.

HAPPY AS A JAY—And no wonder, for they're all Jays—Milwaukee's pitcher Joey Jay, that is, with his wife Lois and their two youngsters. Jay was vacationing in Middletown, Conn., with relatives. He had to miss this year's World Series because of a broken finger on his left hand.

HUDDLING—East's Tom Lorino (25, Michigan) is nailed by West's Don Miller (65, Denver) at right, with an attempted assist by Burr Davis (54, Houston), after receiving a pass good for 20 yards gain from East quarterback Frank Fremblas (Ohio State). The action took place during the East-West Shrine Game in San Francisco.

SEEING DOUBLE—There was no ice available at this place in London, England, so these gals stood on their skates and are reflected in a puddle. Costumed as members of Britain's Life Guards, the girls posed between rehearsals for a new ice show that will tour the U. S. after a run in London.

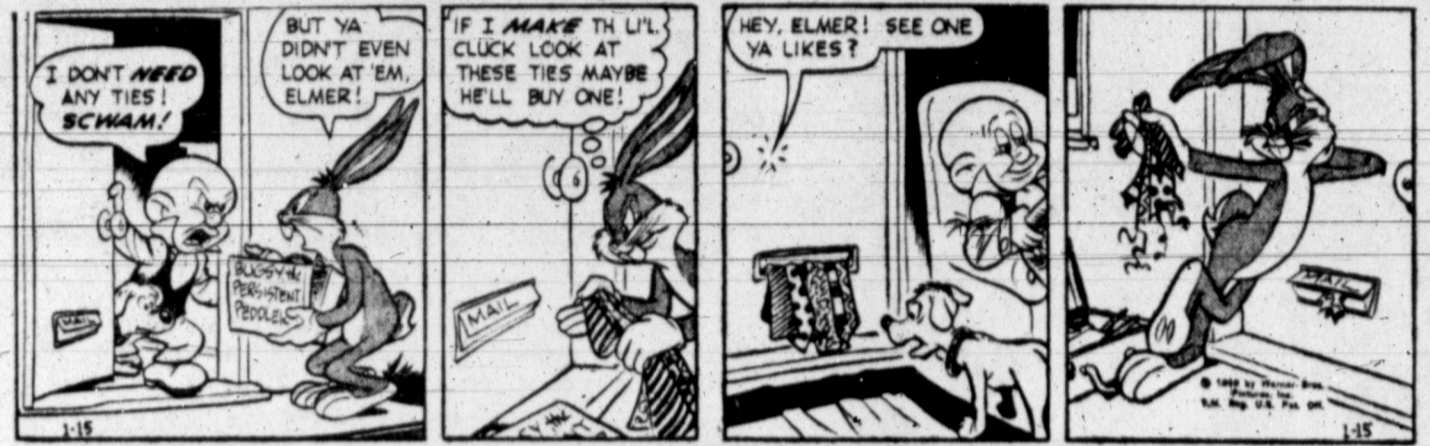

BOW SHOW—Brandishing a bow, a Japanese gives a demonstration of archery on horseback, an ancient martial sport in that country. The exhibition at the 70,000-seat National Stadium in Tokyo was a pre-game feature of the Rice Bowl, that's the annual American football championship match between all-star teams of servicemen stationed in the Far East.

Organizing The Cops

Most Americans, if they care to admit it, are fully aware of the fact that labor unions operate beyond the law. Instances of labor boss violence, including property damage, extortion, mayhem and even murder abound. It would take an enormous encyclopedia simply to list the instances in which cars have been wrecked, windows broken, electric wiring cut or dismantled, dynamite planted and exploded, heads beaten, bones broken, blood shed and even death invited.

Constitutional Action

Those thoroly conversant with political action have long been aware of the tremendous role played by a particular group of Americans, known as the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA). This is an aggressive outfit containing such personages as Adlai Stevenson and Eleanor Roosevelt, and in all ways a simple, military extension of the Democratic Party.

The Pampa Daily News

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is not license. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, The Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

By R. C. HOILES Five Postulates—Assumptions—To Judge The Morals Of The Welfare State

I have been quoting an essay written by F. A. Harper published by the Foundation for Economic Education in "Essays on Liberty" under the heading of "Morals And The Welfare State." He has listed five postulates, or assumptions, to use as a guide to determine moral laws. He summarizes them in this manner:

"The concept of the Welfare State can now be tested against the background of these five postulates: (1) Harmony exists between moral principles and wise economic practices. (2) There is a Universal Law of Cause and Effect, even in the areas of morals and economics. (3) A basic moral code exists in the form of the Golden Rule and the Decalogue. (4) These moral guides are of an uncompromising nature. (5) Good ends are attainable only through good means.

"Moral Right to Private Property" Not all the Decalogue, as has been said, is directly relevant to the issue of the Welfare State. Its program is an economic one, and the only parts of the moral code which are directly and specifically relevant are these: (1) Thou shalt not steal. (2) Thou shalt not covet. (3) Thou shalt not covet what thy neighbor's wife has, or his ox, or his ass, or anything that is his. (4) Thou shalt not desire thy neighbor's house, or his land, or his man-servant, or his maid-servant, or his ox, or his ass, or anything that is his. (5) Thou shalt not desire thy neighbor's wife, or his land, or his man-servant, or his maid-servant, or his ox, or his ass, or anything that is his.

Robert Allen Reports: Half Billion If U.S. Puts Atomic Plane In Air

WASHINGTON — It will cost taxpayers at least another one-half billion dollars if the U.S. is to put an atom-powered plane into the air within two years.

That is the private report Representative Edward Boland (D., Mass.) has made to the House Appropriations Committee. This information was based on a detailed study he made at the behest of Representative Clarence Cannon (D., Mo.), long-time committee chairman, following the reports that Russia has an atomic plane.

NEW YORK — THE FROZEN WALK: You have been sitting in a steam-heated office and you begin to get restless, the heat being both stupefying and giving you nervous, jumpy legs. As cold as it is, you decide to take a walk. . . . You drive from the Hudson River to Fifth Avenue at 23rd Street, park and start walking down Fifth Avenue in its most unattractive sector, except to people who write books or like to buy $100 suits for $67.50. This is the heart of the wholesale clothing trade, plus a scattering of book publishers.

Fair Enough

Striking Unions Fostered By Newspapers of Past

by WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK — The Free Press of New York harked excitedly after a silence of 19 days imposed by a strike of mammals whom George Sokolsky, in a sentimental rap-ture, described as "These Crude People." But the Free Press could not persuade itself to tell the truth about this because the papers, themselves, back in the barbarian age of the circulation wars had fostered the union that called the strike.

They are, on the average, a distinct headline above intellectual zero, expressing their formless ideas in a porcine gulph. A haah-her, with amusement, a gentle, aging drama critic who is a bird-watcher by hobby. He was concealing himself behind shrubbery there one day, keeping a delighted eye on a rare bird, when two nurses decided he was a Peeping Tom. At least, if not even something more evil and called a policeman. It took some earnest discourse at the precinct station for the critic and his publisher to convince the police that this sedate and charming man was exactly what he said: a bird-watcher and nothing more. . . .

about religious beliefs. This is because the moral code of these great religions, as we have seen, strikes at the very heart of the violation of the other Commandment, though still short of actual theft.

"The moral right to private property, therefore, if consistent with the moral codes of all the great religious beliefs. It is likely that a concept of this type was in the mind of David Hume, the moral philosopher, who believed that the right to own private property is the basis for the modern concept of justice in morals.

"Nor is it surprising to discover that two of history's leading exponents of the Welfare State, one of the efforts which have been made and which are now being made, this one seems most likely of winning some kind of note-worthy support.

"The ACA appears to be under some vigorous leadership which is surely capable of meeting the challenge. For example, the chairman, Admiral Moreell, won fame in World War II for organizing the industrialists for Sea Bees.

Others working with him include: Henning W. Prentiss Jr., chairman of the board of the Armstrong Cork Company; Charles Edison, chairman of the board, McGraw-Hill Company; T. Jefferson Coolidge, board chairman of United Fruit; Ed Gossett, legal counsel for Southwest Bell Telephone; Dr. Walter B. Martin, one of the past presidents of the American Medical Association; General Robert E. Wood, former chairman of the board of Sears Roebuck and Company and Robert B. Snowden, former chairman of the Campaign for the 48 States.

"The purpose, then, of ACA isn't just to get Republicans elected, but it is rather to fight for freedom in the political arena. In their declared purposes and objectives in fact, they say: 'To this end, it shall be our endeavor.' '(a) To revive appreciation of the spiritual, cultural, and ethical premises that undergird our

Bosses Night Banquet Set In Palm Room

Jaycees will bring their bosses to a Palm Room banquet Monday, Gene Hollar, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce has announced. The Bosses Night Banquet will be a feature of Jaycee Week in Pampa, Jan. 18-25.

"We try to give them an evening of entertainment and tell them a little bit about Jayceism," Hollar said.

As a speaker, the Jaycees have secured Leon Hill, an Amarillo evangelist, who spoke at the Jaycee installation last year.

ToT Coin Club Meets Thursday In Johnson's Cafe

A large crowd is expected Thursday for a meeting and election of officers of the Top O' Texas Coin Club. Coin collectors will meet at 7 p.m. in Johnson's Cafe.

Features of the meeting will be a drawing for door prize, a coin auction and a drawing for Indian Head pennies.

Anyone from the Top O' Texas area is invited to visit or join. Visitors are expected from Claude, N.M. and Perryton Thursday night.
