Ike Sends Congress Program To Drive Racketeers Out Of Unions

Taft-Hartley Act Revisions Asked

By WILLIAM J. EATON
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower sent Congress today a broad 20-point legislative program designed to drive racketeers out of labor and protect union treasuries from corrupt officials.

In a special message, Eisenhower also called for major revisions in the Taft-Hartley Act to place tighter curbs on secondary boycotts and outlaw coercive picketing.

He said enactment of the program would eliminate abuses disclosed by the Senate Rackets Committee and “protect the public interest and insure the rights and economic freedom of millions of American workers.”

Eisenhower said his program would be “complete and effective” and not a “piecemeal” one. This obviously was a criticism of the bill introduced by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), Republican congressional leaders have called the Kennedy measure “half-hearted.”

Enact Criminal Penalties

The President said his recommendations would end improper practices “without imposing arbitrary restrictions on punitive measures on the legitimate activities of honest labor and management officials.”

The President proposed that Congress enact criminal penalties for such “willful violations” of the act as “bribery between employers and employe representatives” and the “embezzlement of union funds.”

The President recommended public disclosure of union finances secret ballot election of union officers and other provisions which would put union affairs in a “gold-fish bowl” to protect rank-and-file members.

He also asked Congress to change the law which now bars dismissed strikers from voting in union representation elections and allow the National Labor Relations Board to determine their eligibility. This Taft-Hartley provision has been attacked as a union-busting device by organized labor.

Bipartisan Labor Board

He also asked Congress to extend the Taft-Hartley requirement (See REVISIONS, Page 3)

Trials Halted For Marti Celebration

HAVANA (UPI) — The revolutionary government halted its “war crime trials” and executions today for a nationwide observance of the 106th birthday of Jose Marti, the “George Washington” of Cuba. They resume Thursday.

Revolutionary leader Fidel Castro, who has not appeared in public since his return Tuesday from Venezuela, was expected to lead the Marti memorial observance here.

In Santiago, the stronghold of revolutionary sentiment which has been the scene of the bloodiest “war crimes” executions, trials and shootings were postponed Tuesday as well as today. They are expected to resume Thursday.

In The Good Old Winter Time....

PAMPA PUTS ON A FROSTY COAT

Goat Gets $180

J. C. Roberts, Keeper of the Goat, said today that he was proud of the way Pampans came through with contributions of $5 to keep the March of Dimes goat moving yesterday. The total of $180 was contributed from thirty-six individuals.

The essence of the event is that a $5 contribution to the MOD enables an individual to take the live MOD goat to someone else who in turn has to contribute $5 in order to pass the goat on.

The name of the goat is Nannie and it is a pet of James Bowers who lives south of Pampa on the Lafors highway.

Almost everyone participated gladly in the promotion, Roberts reported, with only a few making goals of themselves by registering complaints.

“Since the $5 goat has been so successful,” Roberts said, “we are going to put her to work again today for it is our hope to raise at least $300 by getting the goat of the people of Pampa.”

Employment Is Up By 17 Here Over Last Year

Seventeen more persons have been employed in Pampa during the past month than were employed a year ago, William Ragdale, manager of the local office of the Texas Employment Commission, reported today. One hundred and one persons were placed during the one month period which ended Monday. Eighty-four placements were made in the corresponding period of 1958.

New applications received this period totalled 194, compared to 288 last January. Three hundred and six new claims were filed this time. Last January the figure was 309. However, the number of persons filing claims this period was 380 as opposed to 220 a year ago.

MCLEAN RAISES $1,065 FOR MOD

McLean has raised over $1,065 in its March of Dimes drive, it was reported today by Rev. Jerry Hill, McLean MOD chairman.

The bucket brigade yielded $501 last Saturday and the Mother's March Monday evening brought in $366, according to Rev. Hill.

The McLean grade school raised $67 and coffers over the community brought in $125, the chairman said. There were also several miscellaneous sources accounting for less than $100.

Still to be reported was the high school collections and canisters which had been placed about town, Rev. Hill stated.

D-J's Awake 191 Hours

United Press International. Two disk jockeys on a marathon race to stay awake longer than anyone were in the home stretch today. A third dropped out with a headache.

Red Evans of Tallahassee, Fla., quit his attempt to stay awake for 200 hours or longer after 190 hours and 45 minutes today. He began to develop a headache and a doctor suggested it might be prudent for him to drop out.

The withdrawal of Evans, who had previously announced he would try for 216 hours, left New York's standard bearer, Peter Tippi, and Dave Hunter of Jacksonville, Fla., as the only two remaining. (See AWAKE, Page 3)

Read the instructions on it carefully and mail it to the News or drop it in a voting box at the News, Chamber of Commerce, First National Bank or Citizens Bank & Trust Co.

You can vote as many times as you like. You don't want to vote for all the owners or managers, however, because this contest has been established for the purpose of naming the city's top employees in the friendliness department. Top vote getters will each receive $50 and a framed certificate.

With this list of 25 nominees, it brings to 300 the number of names that have now been run in this paper. They'll be lots more if you keep on marking those ballots.

New Atlas Not Headed For The Moon

By RICHARD F. KOPEK
United Press International

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — A mighty Atlas thundered into the skies on a brilliantly high course Tuesday night but the commander of the test center said today that it was “not an attempt to go to the moon.”

Maj. Gen. Donald N. Yates, boss of the missile testing center, told reporters the firing of the 100-ton Atlas was “a perfectly routine test.”

To reporters who watched the firing, the missile's engine seemed to burn longer even than in the launching which put an Atlas into orbit Dec. 18. The latest Atlas also appeared to climb to an unusually high altitude.

But in reply to a query from United Press International, Yates said the shot was “a perfectly routine test in the Atlas ICBM series. We didn't attempt anything other than that.”

There was widespread speculation that the firing may have been another satellite shot or even an attempt to send an Atlas to the moon.

“It was not an attempt to go to the moon or anything like that,” Yates said.

Yates declined to disclose the objectives or the range of the new Atlas test. But informed sources told UPI before the launching that the range was supposed to have been 4,800 to 4,900 miles to test the missile's nose cone on re-entering the atmosphere in high atmospheric friction heat.

Meanwhile, missile men studied secret data on the test, the first since an Atlas intended to go 6,300 miles buzzed only 200 miles after blastoff. Tuesday night's firing was spectacular. The glowing 80-foot high missile climbed gracefully from a special extension of the ICBM piode. (See ATLAS, Page 3)

Truck Burns Near Pampa

A Gruber truck, Olanley Ledford, jumped from his burning gas transport truck about 8 this morning eight miles south of Pampa on the Clarendon highway.

Ledford, 30, suffered injuries to both legs. He was taken by ambulance to Highland General hospital where he is reported in good condition.

Highway Patrolman Royce Logan said the transport was moving at about 45 miles per hour when Ledford “bailed out.” He was taken immediately to a nearby farmhouse.

The truck continued down the Clarendon highway until it fell into a hill and burned. Ledford said the truck contained no gasoline.

Ledford was not aware of the fire until passersby in a pickup truck hollered to him. He told Patrolman Logan he feared an explosion and jumped. The fire began near a hose connection on the end of a pump directly behind the cab. The tank itself caught fire but did not explode. (Daily News Photo)

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: They say "His story repeats itself" and I know it is true because my mother says she married my father because she felt sorry for him and now the same thing is happening to me. I accepted an engagement ring from a boy because I felt sorry for him. The only reason I started going with him in the first place was because I felt sorry for him and never had the nerve to break off with him. I am 21 and he is 22 and I wish I knew how to tell him I really don't love him without hurting his feelings. Please help me.

SORRY FOR HIM

DEAR SORRY: If you marry a man because you "feel sorry for him" you will be feeling sorry for yourself in a few years. The kindest thing you can do for him is to return his ring NOW and let him find a girl who will give him love not pity.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is engaged to marry a brilliant young man who is studying Political Law. He was president of his fraternity, president of his class and has been awarded a Student Senate Key for outstanding service to his college. He was recently honored by the Masonic Order for potential future leadership and now he has made Law Review. With all these accomplishments he has the most disgusting table manners I have ever seen. Mature Parent

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Recently Mrs. T. asked Mr. T. to increase her housekeeping money. She chose an evening after he'd lunched with his boss and was feeling expansive about his future. She spoke of the higher class of food, the children's clothes and the obligation to maintain Mr. T.'s reputation as an up-and-coming young TV executive by matching their neighbors' dinner parties. But it wasn't any use. As soon as Mr. T. realized what she was up to, he lost all optimism about his future, asked if she wanted to give him an ulcer, and yelled, "Not another buck!"

With that he drove downtown for a double bourbon to ease his sorrow. Since then Mrs. T. has been foolishly nagging her children.

She starts pushing John to hang up his coat the moment he enters the house. The hour after dinner is made tense by Patty's resistance to reminders to clear the table.

Sensing the pressure behind their mother's hammering, the children respond to it with stubbornness.

Why doesn't Mrs. T. break the tension by hanging up John's coat and clearing the table herself?

She can't. The financial restriction imposed on her by Mr. T. has overwhelmed her with a sense of dependence on other people. It doesn't occur to her that she will possess considerable independence, and by her own action, can get what she wants done with John's coat and the dinner dishes.

Nagging our children is one of the ways of expressing our resentment at restrictions put on us by people other than the children.

We are not aware of being manipulated by this resentment. If we were, we'd say to ourselves, "Why, because I'm restricted by my husband's refusal to give me more household money, do I feel restricted by my eight-year-old's refusal to hang up his coat?"

"Though I can't increase my household allowance without my husband's cooperation, I'm an able-bodied woman quite capable of hanging up John's coat without his cooperation. Why then do I nag this child to hang it up for me as though I were unable to serve myself?"

We humans are odd creatures. Because we can't get everything we want, we start assuming we can't get anything we want and start nagging other people to get it for us.

Not Diamonds But Sleep Is Gal's Best Friend

By ALICIA HART NEA Beauty Editor

That sleep is one of the greatest boons to beauty is an established fact. Yet, the number of women who sacrifice it to dawdling is legion. Housewives who complain that they never get enough rest and are always tired can spend hours "visiting" on the telephone. Career girls who talk of exhaustion can stay up late to watch old movies on TV.

Both are fooling themselves and guaranteeing that in middle age they are going to look a sagging middle age when they might have looked fresh, youthful and bright-eyed.

It's true that it's far more enticing to putter about in the evening than it is to pick yourself up, draw your bath water and get ready for bed. But it's every-bit as easy to form a good habit as it is to form a bad one. And getting enough rest is definitely a good habit, one that produces clear skin, sparkling eyes and sufficient energy for the whole day's tasks.

Best cure for thin, splitting or ridged fingernails does not lie in another coat of nail polish. It lies in two envelopes of plain gelatin taken daily in water or milk.

Take one at morning and one at night and if you are at home, take one at noon just to speed the process. What the plain gelatin provides is what your nails need: protein. It takes about three months to show results, but then they're startling. Your nails become strong, growth increases and splitting or peeling stops. They lose that papery feeling and become flexible enough to pull out thumb tacks if that's your inclination. The investment is small and the reward in lovely nails is great. Then you can go ahead with all of the manicures you like. Pretty up your nails with the most luscious shade of polish you can find.

If you sometimes feel that beauty chores take a good deal of time, stop to consider. Back in 1858, you would have had to make your own face cream, hand lotion and hair cream as well as your own soap. Before you could even get started on your beauty tasks, hours of labor had to go into concocting preparations that often were heavy, greasy and therefore not very satisfactory.

Traffic Safety and "The FBI Story" Topics For Twentieth Century Cotillion

Twentieth Century Cotillion met Jan. 20 with Mrs. Thejira Bray, 1305 Hamilton. Roll call was answered with an interesting fact about "Our Government." Mrs. Jim Brown gave a resume of the Kennedy-Lives Labor Bill.

Mrs. Malcolm Douglas was welcomed as a new member. Mrs. Bray quoted highway safety statistics and stated that safety on the highways was the number one item on the national program. We should all drive safely and keep our cars in good repair at all times. Pedestrians are a main factor in traffic accidents; therefore, we should walk safely as well as drive safely.

Mrs. Gene Barber reviewed the "FBI Story" by Don Whitehead and reported that "John Edgar Hoover was born Jan. 1, 1895 in Washington, D.C. He attended Brent Public school and was graduated in 1913 as valedictorian of his class. He obtained his bachelor of law degree three years later and in one more year his master of law degree."

Mrs. Barber continued her report with "In 1924, young Hoover became director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. There are some 14,000 men and women in this organization today."

Mrs. Barber gave illustrations of how finger-printing is made and gave detailed cases of how the FBI works.

She stated that in the protection of the country, the FBI maintains a "rigid-around-the-clock system of checks and controls over agents and their activities. Hoover can pick up his telephones and within a matter of minutes learn where an agent is at any given time; the case he is working on; and the progress being made," she said.

"Despite the strict discipline, long hours and hard work, relatively few agents leave the FBI for easier, higher-paying jobs. There is something in the FBI which holds them; an intangible spirit identified as Americanism," she concluded.

IKE CURBS RIFT RUMOR INVOLVING E. WARREN

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower today branded as irresponsible a report of a rift with Chief Justice Earl Warren. He said he felt that if Warren had some criticism of his conduct of the presidency he was capable of telling the President himself.

The question of cool relations between the President and Warren was brought up in the chief executive's news conference because of a story printed today by the New York Herald Tribune.

The question about his relationship with Warren was prompted by a story by Robert J. Donovan, chief of the Herald Tribune's Washington bureau. Donovan wrote that their relationship today "is cold and distant and marred by disapproval on both sides."

Eisenhower spoke gravely and swiftly when he was asked about it. He said it was well-known that he thought a chief executive should not offer his personal opinions on the actions of the high court and that he knew of no personal rift, whatever between himself and Warren.

Other news highlights at the President's conference:

Responding to demands by key Republicans that he take a more decisive role in outlining the aims of the GOP, he said that if Republican leaders did not know what he stood for they had simply failed to read, as carefully as they should, six State of the Union messages and two platforms that the Republicans themselves drafted.

He would like to go to Mexico in the near future, but definite plans have not been made.

He said American production and development of intercontinental ballistic missiles was showing remarkable progress and should be a constant source of American pride, not any reason for hand-grip humiliation.

As for the claim Tuesday that Russia is now mass-producing ICBMs, Eisenhower doubted whether 100 per cent credence in such statements was justified.

Eisenhower said he would welcome conferences at any time with Democrats, as well as Republicans, in Congress on pending legislation. He said the same held for governors from both parties.

He said he might meet former President Truman for the first time since the 1953 inauguration at a dinner here next month celebrating the 150th birthday of President Lincoln.

Brother Of Pampan Dies In Wreck

Word has been received by Mrs. Nannie Belle Mosby McLain, 1294 S. Barnes, of the death of her brother, William Howard Mosby and his wife, Martha, both of Eugene, Ore., in an auto accident on Friday, Jan. 23 at 3 p.m. near Florence, Ore. Mr. Mosby's car skidded on slick pavement, went out of control into a nearby river, where Mr. and Mrs. Mosby were drowned in five feet of water.

Funeral services were held Tuesday in Eugene. A second service will be held Saturday in the Russell Hoffman Funeral Home in Haddam, Kan. Burial will be in Adams, Kan.

Mr. Mosby, born July 12, 1887, in Indian Territory, was active in the oil industry in this area in the early boom days. He and his brother, Jack, who preceded him in death on Feb. 9, 1949, were cable-tool drillers in and around Pampa for a number of years. Mr. Mosby left this area in 1927 and moved to Collinsville, Okla. In 1947, he moved to Oregon, where he entered the water-well contracting business. He was married in 1949 to his present wife, Martha.

In addition to his sister, Mrs. McLain, he is survived by a son, Herbert and a grandson, Richard Gerald Mosby, both of Anchorage, Alaska; two sisters, Mrs. Ethel McClaren of Vinita, Okla., Mrs. Ruby Rountree of Skiatook, Okla., and a brother, Ed Mosby of Durango, Colo. He was preceded in death by his father, W. R. Mosby on Jan. 7, 1944; his mother, Mary Francis Mosby on Nov. 28, 1956; and a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Witmer of Van Buren, Ind. on July 7, 1929.

Mrs. McLain left today by car for Skiatook, where she will join her sister and brother to attend the funeral and burial in Kahaska.

Hunter has said he intends to outlast Tripp and claims he is defending a 187-hour stay awake record which he set last August. He says he has used no stimulants.

Tripp, however, agreed to start taking pep pills two days ago in the interest of scientific research. Despite the pills, he has begun having visions of spiders spinning webs, mice, snakes and insects. This morning he had a swim and steam bath at the New York Athletic Club and was reported "holding up well."

Pioneer Gas Pipeline Near Completion

Arey Construction Co. of Pampa, under contract with the Pioneer Natural Gas Co., began construction this week on the final 10-mile segment of a natural gas pipeline from Dimmitt to near Farwell.

The new line, known as Line 196, completes an "exchange agreement" between Pioneer and El Paso Natural.

Norman Henry, manager of Pioneer in Pampa, said Tuesday the agreement "will make it possible for Pioneer to serve additional customers and provide additional service" in several upper Panhandle counties.

launching pad on blast-off, bathed in the fluorescence of huge floodlights. It bored through two separate low-hanging cloud layers.

Then its flame-spouting rocket engines were visible in the dusk for a full six and a half minutes — far longer than even the Atlas which boosted America's talking satellite into orbit Dec. 18.

It curved off in a more easterly direction than the course of any other Atlas observed by veteran birdwatchers here.

Sources said the arc was planned to send the 100-ton missile much higher than the 800-mile maximum height attained on usual Atlantic missile range shots, but for only 4,500 to 4,900 mile longitudinal range, far short of the full-range ICBM capability of 6,500 miles or more.

No Injuries In Two Collisions

A three-ton truck and trailer, in an accident at 9:40 this morning, rammed the rear of a 1955 sedan driven by Roger Roland Jr., 512 Elm, Police Officer Bob Crouch reported.

The mishap occurred at the intersection of Hobart and Kentucky streets. Neither Roland nor the trucker, Max Stapp, Beaver, Okla., were injured.

Stapp was tagged for failure to control his speed to avoid a collision.

An earlier collision this morning at 8:25 two cars bumped fenders at the intersection of Decatur and Duncan.

The drivers, Jerry D. Banton, Rt. 4, and Charles D. Warren, Rt. 2, both escaped injury. Damages totaled an estimated $200. Warren was cited for cutting a corner on the left.

Pampa Trucking Companies Are Fined Heavily

Two Pampa trucking companies have been fined $900 and $1,000 for violations of the Interstate Commerce Act, according to a report Tuesday from the Interstate Commerce Commission in Ft. Worth.

The companies, C. M. Jeffries Trucking and J. D. Wright and Son, were charged with "permitting or requiring drivers to be absent on duty in excess of the weekly hours of service regulations."

The Jeffries Co., charged in 10 counts, was fined $1,000. Facts in both cases were presented by the Board of Inquiry and Compliance. Both trucking companies entered pleas of guilty in proceedings in United States District Court at Amarillo.

for a non-Communist oath to employers who wish to use agencies of the NLRB. He said this would "equalize the onus" of the affidavit provision which now applies only to union officials.

The Eisenhower recommendations were practically the same as those he submitted last year in an unsuccessful effort to get Congress to approve an anti-racketeering bill.

He made one new request in asking Congress to make the labor board legally bipartisan by providing that not more than three members of the five-member board may be of the same political party.

He also requested two other Taft-Hartley changes favored by unions. One would speed up NLRB election procedures by eliminating a hearing where no substantial objections to an election are received. The other would authorize the labor board to certify building trade unions as bargaining representatives without an election under certain conditions.

Gene Holtar, Jaycee president, asked Pampa residents to return bells that fell from the decorations and might have gone astray. They can be turned in to the chamber or to the police department.

Directors, led by Warren Hesse, O.C. president, discussed ways of helping the Civic Improvement Club, an active organization in colored town, to get new housing and other necessities for the people of that section.

DID SOMEBODY MENTION GASOLINE MILEAGE?

Although we deliberately engineered improved gas mileage into the '59 Buicks, we have not made much point of it in previous advertising for THE Car. People's driving habits can get very different results even from the same car. So we are now happy to report that our plans for greater economy of operation have been very successful indeed, in everyday owner experience.

Owners report excellent records

Most owners are naturally proud of their new cars, and may sometimes overstate a little. But even allowing for that, listen to these reports from owners: A Detroit man drove his Electra 9,000 miles around the country, and reports a little over 19 miles a gallon. A Louisiana

LeSabre, with Twin Turbine Transmission, after 4,000 miles is giving its owner 17.6 miles per gallon. A St. Paul man reports 18.1. From Atlanta comes 17.5. From Pittsfield, Mass., 20. Some are even higher. Some lower. But these are typical.

Tests confirm new economy

Recently a very thorough set of tests was run, putting Buick LeSabre and another car of comparable size which is known for good economy, through identical tests under all sorts of driving conditions. The Buick came out best in every single test.

How Buick mileage was improved

It took a combination of several steps. New, more efficient Wildcat engines was one compression up to 10.5, better carburetion. In the case of LeSabre there is also a new, twin-barrel economy carburetor as standard equipment. All this to get more power out of the fuel. In addition, new combinations of transmissions and rear axles put this power to work more efficiently.

Owners also report QUALITY outstanding

"Best-performing Buick ever" . . . "My sixth Buick and the best I ever owned" . . . "Best operating car I've driven in thirty years" . . . "Much the best Buick yet!" . . . Learn for yourself why this year's Buick owners are so enthusiastic. Go to your Quality Buick Dealer and see why The Car is The Buy.

BOB GINDORF ... scores 13 points

Pampa Squeaks By Sandies, 50-43

Last Period Rally Scares Harvesters

By RED GRIGGS Daily News Sports Editor

AMARILLO — It may be possible for a high school basketball team to beat the Pampa Harvesters, but it's hard to see how. The Harvesters survived bad shooting, bad passing, and an Amarillo rally, with only four regular starters in the lineup here Tuesday night, to take their 33rd straight win. In stumbling to a 50-43 victory over the Amarillo Sandies, the Harvesters picked up their seventh district victory and their 20th straight triumph of the year. Pampa has now beaten every team in the district once, and will begin the second round Friday at Borger. If the Harvesters can win that game, they will have a very comfortable two-game lead in District 3-A. The Harvesters scored first in the game, when Craig Winborn drove under the basket for a lay-up, with only eight seconds gone in the first quarter. However, Pampa didn't hit another field goal for five minutes. The Sandies were in complete charge during the first quarter, thanks to the sharp shooting of Bill Dean, who sank three long set shots and a layup. Dean's shooting, and some bad passing by the Harvesters, gave Amarillo an 11-8 first quarter lead. Both teams looked bad in the second quarter, but the Sandies managed to look just a little worse. Pampa hit four of 18 shots in the second period, three on follow-ups, and Amarillo netted only two of 13 shots. Thanks to two follow-up shots by Coyle Winborn and one by Mack Layne, a short jump shot and three free throws by Winborn, and a free toss by Bobby Gindorf, the Harvesters led 20-15 at halftime. Winborn led the Harvesters in scoring with 21 points, and Gindorf was second with 13. Layne, Coyle Winborn, Craig Winborn, and Gindorf all got into the scoring act in the third quarter, and the Harvesters padded their lead to 35-26. To start the fourth quarter, the Sandies matched a crisp shot by Craig Winborn and a 10-foot jump shot by Coyle Winborn with a 20-foot set shot by Gary Pattinson and a steal-and-layup by Joe Terrell. A free throw by Terrell and a 30-foot set shot by Pattinson were sandwiched between two free shots by Gindorf and a layup by Coyle Winborn, and the Harvesters led 43-33 at the four-minute mark. Then lightning struck, as the Sandies used a full-court press to score six points in 50 seconds and gave the Harvesters one of their biggest scares of the year. Successive 25-foot jump shots by Dean and Ken Greenwald cut the Harvesters lead to six within 40 seconds; then Terrell stole the ball as the Harvesters were attempting to pass it in after the basket, and dunked an easy layup. Then the Harvesters pulled themselves together. Coyle Winborn sank two free throws after being fouled in the act of shooting, then moments later dunked a layup. Greenwald hit another 25-foot jump shot to cut the margin to a still-uncomfortable six points, 47-41; but with one minute remaining Gindorf sank a crisp, well-fouled while shooting, and tossed in a free throw. That was the game.

Yannigan Rally Beats Shockers

AMARILLO — The Sandies couldn't quite make their last ditch rally tell here Tuesday night, but their little brothers, the Yannigans, were successful. The Yannigans came from behind in the last quarter to hand the Pampa Shockers their second loss of the season, 47-40. The Yannigans outscored the Shockers in the last quarter, 17 to 4. The Shockers led until early in the fourth quarter, 36-30. But then the Amarillo teamers sank three quick baskets to tie the score, and after that they made it a rout. The Shockers didn't score a field goal in the last quarter. They attempted five. Their only points were tallied on four free shots. The Shockers led until the fourth quarter, grabbing an 11-10 first quarter lead, a 25-18 halftime margin, and a 36-30 lead at the end of three quarters. Amarillo outshot the Shockers from the floor, 19 field goals to 12, and only 16 free throw connections in 22 attempts by the Pampans kept the game as close as it was. Jerry Avery and Harold Denny led the Yannigan offensive with 12 points each, and Johnson had 12. For the Shockers, Hershel Terrell netted 13 and Allen Wise bucketed 11. Captain Pat Carter, usually among the high scorers, was held to two field goals and seven points. The Shockers only previous loss was by one point, to a Hobbs B team which had won more than 20 straight — and the Shockers beat Hobbs B the following night. The Pampa B team now has a season record of 16 wins and 2 losses. Rebs Score 24 in Fourth Quarter; Top Dumas, 50-40

Lee's Rebels used a full-court press here Tuesday to score more than 30 points in less than 10 minutes, and defeat Dumas 50-40 in a Panhandle Junior High Conference game. The Rebels now stand 3-2 in the conference and 9-3 for the season. Lee was trailing by 12 points when Coach Bill Anders decided to try the full-court press. The Rebels began clicking immediately, and the gap had been narrowed to 31-26 at the end of the third quarter. The Rebels went on to score 24 points in the last period, breaking the game wide open. Junior high quarters are only six minutes long, so the Rebels were averaging four points per minute during the final period. Dumas led all the way, until Anders put on the full-court press. They held leads of 9-7 at the end of the first quarter and 21-15 at the end of the second. Butch Crossland scored 21 points for the Rebels, and Jim Crinklaw tallied 16. Jim Stephenson tallied six points. Lloyd Batsch four, and Mike Stewart three. Lee eighth grade won over Dumas as 39-30, despite a big height disadvantage. All of John Dobson's Rebel cagers saw action. Dumas had one boy 6-2 and another 6 feet, but the Lee eighth graders still managed to grab more rebounds. Jerry Glover scored 14 points for the Rebels and Darrell Doss hit 12.

Mantle Goes Deeper Into Case's Doghouse

By OSCAR BRALEY United-Press International

NEW YORK — Mickey Mantle, the man the New York Yankees expected to be the "new DIMAGGIO," obviously was a step deeper in Casey Stengel's doghouse today as a result of his salary holdout. Mantle reportedly receives from $20,000 to $25,000. He is believed to be asking for $30,000. Stengel believes Mantle could earn $125,000 but adds "he has kept himself from earning it." The Mick obviously was one of Stengel's main targets as the disgraced Yankee skipper announced a new get tough policy in which laggards will be fined and those who fracture training rules "had better be able to tell midnight from noon" on the threat of being hit in the ear bumper by a moving van. In other words, those who don't put out 100 per cent may be traded. This could include Mantle. Cites Fielding Deficiencies Mantle is a man of great baseball talents. But he has not become either "the new" DIMAGGIO or a fairly acceptable facsimile of the old one. Last season he drew official wrath when he missed the train on a western trip. Stengel has made a point of his fielding deficiencies and said on signing his current managerial contract, that Mantle "was" his "greatest disappointment." Mantle is inclined to be sulky and petulant. Thus you can draw your own conclusions when Stengel says:

PJH LOSES TWO TILTS

Pampa Junior High lost two games to Perryton Tuesday, a 32-19 decision in the varsity game and a 20-19 squeaker in the eighth grade contest.

In the ninth grade game for the Reapers, Randall Cross, a new boy, scored eight points. John Arthur seven, and Max Patton three. Cross became eligible for the team at mid-term. Perryton led during the first three quarters of the eighth grade game, but the Planters stayed close. The game was tied several times in the last quarter, but Perryton managed to pull ahead by four points. The Planters pulled to within one point, but that was all she wrote.

Dragon Attempt Was A Publicity Coop

States and has threatened punishment on Henry Feinstein, a typical Civil-Service nonentity who became theoretical president of the hypothetical Union of the Cops...

Commissioner Kennedy, a cop for 30 years himself, and a lawyer by his own diligence, has no juvenile illusions of the work of the personality of the New York policeman...

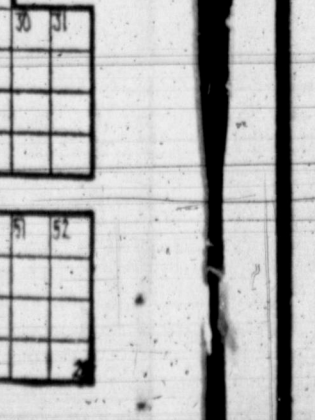

However, Kennedy insists that the FBI, which is the goal of his program of education for New York policemen, he likes the FBI. The police pay begins at $4,800 a year, rising to $5,881 for patrolmen in three years...

The Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, the agitator force in the Hoffa campaign, never was acknowledged as a "bargaining agent" and commissioners have had trouble with it for years as a political nuisance...

However, good 'Gove' out of evil. The mayor, the son of the old slob who lent his name to the Wagner Act, has been pushed to repudiate his own name...

It is in this, Mayor Wagner has rejected collective bargaining for a non-military force of 19,000 of the best citizens in the United States...

NEW BOYS RANCH DORM

Pictured above is an architect's sketch of a cottage-type dormitory to be built soon at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch near Amarillo. The dorm is the 1959 project of the United Peace Officers of America, an organization created in 1955 to assist in the building program at the ranch.

Boys Ranch Will Get New Dorm

Construction of a cottage-type dormitory at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch near Amarillo will be the 1959 project of the United Peace Officers of America, Sheriff Rufe Jordan has reported. The project was approved at a recent meeting of the organization's board of directors. Jordan said the new dormitory will be especially designed for boys in the four to eight-year age bracket. It is hoped that funds for the new dormitory can be raised to build the structure by May, the month of the Boys Ranch annual convention. The dormitory is expected to house eight youngsters and house parents. At the present time 17 boys are living in the overcrowded Old Tascosa courthouse. The dormitory, Jordan said, is expected to provide the boys with a more homelike atmosphere.

Wallace Battles Washington Might

GEORGE C. WALLACE (UPI) — Former Circuit Judge George C. Wallace learned how to swap punches as a teenage golden glove. He earned a name for himself by winning the featherweight Golden Gloves title two years in 1937. Last year he slugged it out with Atty. Gen. John Patterson only to lose in the Democratic runoff primary for the governorship. Now the "little judge" is swapping legal punches with the Civil Rights Commission and the Justice Department in Washington. Political observers predict Wallace's defiance—which could put him in jail—could win him the governorship in 1963. Wallace was born 39 years ago in the small town of Clio in Barbour County, located in the heart of Alabama's cotton-growing black belt. His father died when he was 18. He began campaigning for the governorship right after he graduated from the University of Alabama law school where he was a friend and classmate of U.S. District Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. Upon graduation Wallace began driving a state dump truck for 30 cents an hour. "My life has not been an easy one," says Wallace. "We never had a silver spoon in our family. I can remember when I was going to the university I had to sell old clothes and coat hangers to collect $4.50 to help meet tuition expenses." Wallace was discharged from the Air Force in 1945 with appendicitis after seeing combat against the Japanese. He was appointed assistant attorney general in 1946 and later was elected to the Legislature. The 5-foot, 7-inch, 150-pounder became the "bantam judge" of the Third Judicial Circuit in 1952. He was elected to the Democratic National Convention in 1956 and he fought against civil rights legislation while at Chicago. He also appeared before the Senate Judiciary Committee in opposition to the bill which created the Civil Rights Commission in 1957 and threatened to jail any FBI agents who tried to take records from his circuit. Electric utilities expect to spend $4,900,000,000 on new construction this year or about the same as in 1958, Electrical World magazine reported. Generation, while still holding claim, to the largest single budget item, is slated to drop 4.1 per cent, reflecting a decline in expenditures for new steam plants.

FALSE ALARM

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Police and newsmen rushed to the mayor's office Monday when a major riot was sounded. Everything was quiet at the office and an investigation disclosed that a short circuit caused the alarm button to sound the alarm (500,000 yen). Police had little trouble locating the sender. He included his correct return address on the note.

QUAKE HITS JAPAN

TOKYO (UPI) — The strongest earthquake of the year rocked Japan today but the great depth of its center prevented any serious damage. The Japanese Central Meteorological Agency said the epicenter of the quake was 30 miles underground on the Pacific coast of Fukushima prefecture, 120 miles north of Tokyo.
