Tax-Free Seven Year Plan Launched By Soviet Union

Reds See Cold War Climax With Historic Economic Offensive Move

By HENRY SHAPIRO United Press International

MOSCOW (UPI) — Nikita Khrushchev launched the Soviet Union today on an historic economic offensive he said would win "millions to socialism" and vanquish the forces of war.

Khrushchev was buoyant and jovial as he put forth his tax-free seven-year plan before a cheering Communist Party congress and said it was aimed at ending the cold war by making Russia supreme over the capitalist world.

With it he put an implied Communist doctrine that neither hot war nor cold war is inevitable in the face of growing Communist economic power, and a plan that will increase Soviet production 80 per cent by 1965.

The seven-year plan is a decisive stage in the economic competition of socialism and capitalism, he said. "This plan will greatly influence the entire international situation and prove a new triumph of Marxism-Leninism."

Predicts Decisive Change "Our successes in the fulfillment of the plan will attract to the side of socialism millions of adherents," he said. "They will lead to the strengthening of the forces of peace and the weakening of the forces of war."

A decisive change in favor of socialism will take place in the domain of economy in the world arena," Khrushchev declared.

As a token of the Communist system's rising strength, he said the direct taxes on the people will be abolished in the "near future."

He then called for an 80 per cent increase in overall production to bring Russia abreast of the West. The smiling, wisecracking Khrushchev mentioned that Russia had rockets and intercontinental ballistic missiles, but his aims appeared to be to convince the world the Russians and communism would win out by replacing military force with economic power.

The immense scope of the plan for higher industrial production, higher agricultural output, higher wages for all indicated the Soviet leadership is banking heavily on uninterrupted peace through 1965.

End Taxes in 1965 Russia's national income will rise 62 to 85 per cent over last year as the end of the seven-year plan, he told the 1,275 cheering delegates. "It will be almost six times higher than 1940, he said. And, if, doing this, he said, taxes will be done away with by 1965. Direct taxes on wage earners, now contribute 7.8 per cent of the national revenue under the Communist system.

This meant government operations including defense and social benefits would be financed entirely by kickbacks from the nationalized industries. He noted the Soviet has ICBM's and he lauded Soviet triumph in 1958. (See REDES, Page 2)

$5 GOAT, AND FRIEND!

J. C. Roberts, official keeper of the goat, prepares to lead the March of Dimes $5 goat to Joe Tooley's and the first $5. The goat did not remain long in Tooley's establishment and picked up $5 for the March of Dimes every time it changed hands and moved on. Each businessman contributed $5 to get the goat off his premises and onto someone else's.

Wilson Addresses C-C Here; Watson Is Honored

City Pays Tribute To Worker

Floyd Watson, a young man who went from newsboy to bank vice president in the amazing, short span of 11 years, was honored by his fellow civic leaders at a Monday noon Chamber of Commerce luncheon in the Palm Room of the City Hall.

Watson, who has resided in Pampa 12 years and four months, coming here from Denton, has accepted a position as vice president and Senior Lending Officer with the First National Bank in Midland. He will leave a job here as vice president of the Citizens Bank & Trust Co.

"It was really a tough decision to make," Watson remarked, "leaving Pampa. I mean, some of the finest people in the world live in Pampa and it is indeed difficult to leave here."

It wasn't many years ago that Watson was a newsboy in Brownwood. He is a graduate of Denton High School and has come a long way as a bank executive without the benefit of a college education. Watson is the father of three children: Linda, age 10; Beth, age 7; and Randy, 18 months. All were born in Pampa. His wife's name is Maxine.

Ed Myatt, city commissioner and mayor pro-tem Monday in the absence of Mayor Lynn Boyd, presented Watson with an engraved plaque for his many community services and his good citizenship.

Fred Neslage also added words of praise for Watson and told a few amusing stories about his friend.

Among the civic offices Watson has held are: director of the Chamber of Commerce and on the executive board from 1951-53, finance director of the Chamber of Commerce; vice president of the C-C in 1954; president of the C-C in 1955-56; director of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce; president of the Pampa Jaycees; treasurer of the Pampa Youth and Community Center; Red Cross treasurer; Gray Emphy Parole Officer; financial director of the Girl Scouts; and director of the Pampa Boys Club.

"I'll never forget the people of Pampa," Watson said. (See WORKERS, Page 2)

WILL WILSON ... crime-buster

Attorney General Speaks On Law Enforcement

By RICK PEZDIRTZ Daily News Managing Editor

Pink-faced Will Wilson, who as Attorney General of Texas is looked upon as a modern-day crime-buster, spoke before a sold-out Palm Room audience of Chamber of Commerce members here Monday noon.

A fluent and forceful speaker, Wilson addressed the group on the subject of law enforcement in Texas. He told of two "clean-up" campaigns that have successfully been completed and another that is currently being waged against "loan sharks." The two campaigns against crime already launched and finished by Wilson, who was elected Attorney General in 1956 and then re-elected in 1958 without opposition, resulted in the curbing of gambling and vice in Galveston and the halting of mal-practicing by bogus doctors in the lower income sections of this state's cities, especially in the colored districts.

Don Cain, finance director of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce introduced Wilson as "the next governor of Texas." In a Sunday night interview at Amarillo, Wilson was asked whether or not he would run for governor next election year and he said, "I've not made a decision yet, that will come up next year." It is a strong feeling with many Texans, however, that Wilson will run for governor.

Upon his introduction to the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, Wilson was given a standing ovation.

In speaking on the Medical Licensing and Practicing Field, Wilson said, "We want our physicians to meet up to certain standards." He cited many cases of malpractice in the field of medicine prior to his clean-up. He told of ex-convicts and non-high-school graduates who had only a vague knowledge of surgery from having worked in hospitals in prison or otherwise, performing major operations, and usually doing more harm than good.

Wilson painted an ugly picture of an Odessa "quack" doctor drawing blood from a patient because it was said to be "bad," boiling it and then re-injecting the same blood into the patient's veins, often times resulting in heart attacks.

The Attorney General, an SMU graduate in 1937, reported that prior to the clean-up campaign many of the "con-men" were using narcotics to treat unsuspecting patients. "They were undermining the confidence of the public in the genuine physicians," Wilson related.

Dressed in a grey-suit and wearing a bright green neck-tie with a pattern of small flowers, Wilson said. (See WILSON, Page 2)

Wilson Files Suit Against Three Groups

FORT WORTH (UPI) — Attorney General Will Wilson Monday filed a state anti-trust suit against Sinclair Oil Corp., Lehman Brothers of New York, and Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Co.

Wilson alleged that Sinclair and Lehman Bros., a banking and brokerage firm, had acquired more than 40 million dollars worth of stock in Texas Pacific Coal and Oil for the purpose of carrying out a merger of Sinclair and Texas Pacific.

Judge Jack M. Langdon of 17th District Court issued a temporary restraining order halting Sinclair or Lehman Bros. from offering to merge or consolidate Sinclair and Texas Pacific.

The suit was filed by First Assistant Attorney General James N. Ludlum of Texas.

C-C DIRECTORS MEET TOMORROW

Directors of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce will meet at 10 a. m. Wednesday to hear reports and approve work committees for 1959. Chamber President Warren Hassie announced the meeting for 10 a. m. in the conference room.

Next month the directors will return to their regular luncheon meetings. With a membership luncheon Monday, directors decided to hold the January meeting on Wednesday morning.

Tax Office Will Remain Open Until Noon On Saturday

The Gray County Tax Collector and Assessors Office will remain open until noon Saturday for the convenience of those who have not paid their 1958 poll taxes.

The office, located on the ground floor of the courthouse, will stay open during noon hours this week. About 1,298 persons have paid their poll taxes and 630 have received exemptions, according to office workers. To be exempted from poll taxes, individuals must have turned 60 by Jan. 1, 1958.

To be eligible to pay poll taxes and vote, individuals must turn 21 this year. Poll taxes are $1.75 per voter.

2nd Cuban War Criminal Will Be Shot

HAVANA (UPI) — Maj. Pedro Morejon Valdes, second "war criminal" to be tried here, was sentenced to death early today after an all-night trial.

A three-man revolutionary tribunal found Morejon guilty of assassination, theft and other crimes despite the fact that only about a third of the 85 witnesses called against him were able to offer first-hand testimony about his alleged crimes or to identify him as their perpetrator.

The defendant, wearing prison blues, was seated between two similarly clad men of approximately his height and build. Witness after witness failed in attempts to pick out the prisoner.

The defense argued also that there may have been confusion between the accused and two other men, Pedro Morejons in the army — one a major, the other a lieutenant. The defendant did not always use the "Valdes" his mother's family name which distinguished him from the other Morejons.

The crime most often mentioned in the testimony against Morejon was the killing of 13 farmhands, one of them a 6-year-old boy.

An unexpected sensation was provided for the spectators when Reina Cespedes, a girl from Oriente Province brought here to testify against Morejon, identified a spectator as having been one of his men.

IN CITY'S RESIDENTIAL AREAS

Commission Bans Trailers

By MARVIN OLSEN Daily News Staff Writer

Mayor Lynn Boyd and Pampa's City Commission this morning again thrashed out the house trailer problem in Pampa, and on first reading passed Ordinance 514, to keep the trailers out of residential areas.

Persons directly involved in this action — persons with trailer homes or trailer courts — are invited to air their views at next Monday morning's meeting. Barring wholesale opposition it is believed the Ordinance will pass both second and third readings.

The ordinance, commissioners agreed, should be a boon to trailer court owners.

It was once again stated that trailers "permanently affixed to the ground in residential areas" would not be affected. Also exempted would be so-called "fish-bug trailers."

In other important matters the Commission: 1. Was given a "formal notification" of the accidental death of Charles Poston Jr., city sanitation department employee who died Jan. 4.

2. Accepted the bid of Chiberson Chevrolet for a new Fire Department station wagon.

3. Heard a recommendation to put in operation the traffic signal at N. Hobart and Kentucky.

A letter was sent to the commission by Mrs. Poston, but it was pointed out the letter indicates no suit has, or will be, filed. Poston was not covered by city insurance.

Attorney Gordon was appointed by the commission to investigate the matter more closely. The Chiberson Chevrolet bid was one of five submitted. Other bidders were Rex Rose Ford, Evans Buck, Clyde Jones (Blumberg), and Pursey-Nichols (Plymouth).

City Attorney Robert Gordon emphasized that the notification of Mr. Poston's (accidental) death was a "formality."

In a final order of business the commission accepted a second reading of Ordinance 513, an order making numerous changes in the present ordinance.

No persons appeared this morning to discuss either the trailer home ordinance, Navy Monday's Commission meeting begins at 9 a. m.

Cuberson's low bid was for a net difference of $2,200, about $124 lower than the Pursey bid, and $805 lower than the high bid from Tex Evans. All bids included trade-in of the present Fire Department car, a 1952 Ford.

Police Find Kidnapped Infant Alive

By JOHN CAVANAUGH United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Police found 28-year-old Jimmy Tavarez alive and well today and arrested a 29-year-old mother of three who had a recent miscarriage as his kidnaper.

Johnny's jubilant parents said they were "very, very happy" to have their baby back after more than four days of pleading and praying for his return.

The child was recovered in a basement apartment only seven blocks from the scene of the kidnapping as the result of a tip from the Spanish-language newspaper, El Diario. Police said Johnny was abducted last Thursday afternoon from the Tavarez apartment of Manhattan's West Side.

The confessed kidnaper was identified as Mrs. Antonina Ortiz. She told police she had been possessed since last May and had lost her child by miscarriage within the past 10 days. Thus, she said, she was able to pass off little Johnny, who weighed only 8 1/2 pounds, as her own baby.

Mrs. Ortiz, a short, heavy-set woman, said she fooled her husband, her in-laws, and her own relatives by telling them the baby was delivered by police while she was alone in her apartment. A police spokesman said Johnny was born, Angel Ortiz, believed he stayed and never suspected that Johnny was the kidnapped Tavarez child.

MOM'S MAKE $3,253 IN POLIO MARCHING

By WALLY TRUEDELL Daily News Staff Writer

Emboldened by frosty weather, Pampa's Marching Mothers made a $3,253.10 Monday night in a one-hour March Against Polio. The financial fruits of this house-to-house solicitation were approximately 50 per cent greater than the gain from last year's Mother's March, according to John Gikas, Pampa March of Dimes chairman.

Mothers from seven Parent Teacher Associations provided the woman power for the March. Mothers from the Horace Mann PTA took in $345. The Woodrow Wilson group made $356.26. Sam Houston's total was $951.41. Stephen F. Austin's, $705.69; Lamar's, $390.40; Baker's, $243.92 and Carver's, $206.67. Carver doubled its 1958 gain.

Today the successful campaign took a new twist with the introduction of the March of Dimes $5 goat. J. C. Roberts was the first to have it and, contributing $5, passed it on to Joe Tooley. The goat is making a mint for the March of Dimes since business men have to pay $5 to get rid of it. More activity in the January campaign will commence with a 16-hour Dime-a-Thon, broadcast from Richard Drug from 1 p. m. Wednesday to 6 a. m. Thursday. KHHH will broadcast this auction. Business men with auctioned items to donate are invited to call the drug store, MO 5-5747.

Tickets were to go on sale this afternoon for "Around the World in 80," a musical style show that students will stage Saturday night to benefit the March of Dimes. Student tickets are selling for 40 cents and adult tickets for 75 cents.

The Lefors Mothers' March last night yielded $305.00 for the Lefors March of Dimes chairman reported this morning.

The total of the Lefors campaign now stands at $644 with the following activities raising the following amounts: bucket brigade, $147; games night, $26; coffee day, $82 and the Mothers' March, $235.

Beck reported that the Lefors MOD campaign was now complete except for picking up the commissaries placed over town in various businesses.

Chinese Communists Trying To Starve Out Tibetan Rebels

(EDITORS NOTE: A United Press International correspondent made a 10-day tour of the southern Tibetan border to check reports of the revolt in the Chinese Communist dominated nation. He lived with a chief of the rebel Khamba tribe and spoke with many other refugees in border towns. They made it clear the Communists have run into extreme trouble in the ancient mountain kingdom.)

By M. M. GUPTA
United Press International

KALIMPONG, Swatow (UPI)—Communist China has failed to wipe out a two-year-old revolt in Tibet with bombs and guns and is trying to starve it through starvation, rebel sources disclosed here.

Target of the Red action is the Khamba tribe of eastern Tibet, one of the world's fiercest fighting groups.

Failing to beat or even match the Khambas in tricky mountain guerrilla warfare, the Communist Chinese have resorted to indiscriminate night and day bombings of villages and temples, driving the people from their land.

Some of the rebels have fled to towns along Tibet's southern border with Nepal and the Indian protectorates of Bhutan and Sikkim. Others have taken refuge in mountain-top caves or in the jungles.

But the fight still goes on. "It's a deliberate attempt to starve out our entire race," said one refugee Khamba leader. "But this is not going to help them, just as their military campaign did not."

No authoritative figures on casualties is available, but authorities from 12,000 to 20,000 persons have been killed in Kham Province alone in the last two years.

Chinese Communist deaths are estimated at from 7,000 to 10,000. "They have taken our homes and lands because we do not like troops with guns and daggers, shouting fearless war cries."

"We go out now. But we come again and then they will know whom homes they are defiling in Kham. We shall never like them. Never, never, never."

The Khambas began their resistance in 1936 with hit-run guerrilla tactics, isolated and disorganized. But by last summer they had refined their tactics and coordinated them in concentrated efforts against Chinese Communist troops.

Count on Surprise—They claim that last year they destroyed more than 50 Red military convoys in ambushes and harassed another 50.

Surprise is the main element in the Khamba strategy. Attacks are carried out at night and on difficult mountain roads.

First they roll huge boulders down the mountain sides onto a convoy or Communist Chinese bivouac. Then they fall on the Red

Moon's Craters Are Blow-Holes

By DELOR SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Two scientists reproduced theoretical moon conditions inside laboratory bottles and came up with evidence that the moon's innumerable craters are blow-holes.

What was once blown through the holes was gas trapped beneath the moon's surface, the scientists reasoned, thus giving indirect support to the Russian scientist who recently reported seeing what he thought to be a volcanic eruption on the moon.

Many scientists thought the Russians had made a mistake because volcanic eruptions we know on earth require extremely high temperatures beneath the surface, and the scientific evidence that the moon is a cold moon without any heat of its own is all-but overwhelming. But the evidence from the bottles showed you can have cold volcanic eruptions.

Composed of Dust

A. G. Gaydon and R. C. M. Learner supposed that the moon's surface is composed largely of a fine, powdery dust. There is enough evidence that there is no air on the moon to believe the earth rockets which eventually reach it, will disappear without a trace into a deep outer-layer of dust.

They supposed further that large quantities of gas were trapped under pressure beneath this outer layer. Then the scientists turned their bottles which were partially filled with magnesium carbonate, a very light powder.

Suction was applied to draw out the air trapped in the powder. Blow holes appeared on the surface. These were photographed and when the pictures were compared to pictures of the moon's craters, the resemblance was so close it was hard to tell one set of pictures from the other.

Gaydon and Learner repeated these experiments in bottles partly filled with such dry powders as sand, salt, and magnesium oxide, any of which could exist on the moon. They introduced air launching the first earth satellite and the first artificial planet. He added: "The Soviet Union has everything necessary to hide the frowns of aggression. It is a mighty bulwark of peace."

Will Outstrip U. S.

But the emphasis was on peaceful production—more of everything. More food, more housing, more schools, more consumer goods.

"Now these figures are in the billions," Khrushchev said. "We are not used to quoting trillions—not yet."

Time and again he was wildly applauded.

He predicted Russia would "catch up with and outstrip" the United States within a dozen years and take over "first place in the world."

"With each passing year the U. S. S. R. is growing stronger," Khrushchev proclaimed before the Communist world's most powerful assembly.

"The domestic and international position of the Soviet Union has never been as stable. We are a mighty bulwark of peace. There is every reason to state that the socialist countries stand at the head of all progress."

Khrushchev gave the 1,275 cheering delegates and assembled leaders of world Communism this assignment for the seven years ahead.

"The historic task of catching up and surpassing the leading capitalist countries in per-capita output must be carried out. Make the most of the time factor in socialism's peaceful economic competition with capitalism."

Message All Encompassing

Khrushchev's state of the Soviet Union message was all encompassing, and in it he spoke compellingly but without a hint of warlike posturing, and in his emphasis on a rising standard of living seemed to indicate a consistent de-emphasis of military spending.

The invincible camp of socialism has everything necessary to hide the forces of aggression," he said.

Khrushchev went on to demand "consistent persistence of a foreign policy aimed at 'preserving and consolidating international peace and security' and said, 'it is necessary to put an end to the cold war and to lessen international tension.'"

A large green shamrock backed by a field of white is a gift from the Shamrock Chamber of Commerce before whom Wilson spoke Monday morning in the congenial Attorney General's home.

Wilson, whose receding hairline might be proof enough of his many-sidedness with crime, informed his listeners that only after 600 civic leaders of Galveston had met and let 90 days lapse without turning a finger to eradicate the vice in their city, did his office go to work to rid that coastal city of its crime. "We undertook the reduction of crime in Galveston with a concentrated effort," Wilson pointed out. "An initial 67 injunctions were issued and 15 more have been issued since. It has helped keep an open defiance of the law in Galveston 'closed down,'" the speaker said.

"The Galveston people have misguided ideas that an 'open city' and a laxity of the law helped in bringing in many tourists dollars and therefore an 'open city' would be good for the city's economy. But it has been proven that most of the tourist's dollars were going into the pockets of racketeers and that since the vice has been wiped out, bank deposits and retail sales in Galveston are up. Industry once shielded away from Galveston because of the kind of environment it offered a company's employees," Wilson said.

Currently the Attorney General who served as an attorney in Dallas from 1937-41 and as assistant attorney general in 1941-42 before becoming district attorney in Dallas in 1946 and then being elected as one of the youngest members of the Texas Supreme Court in 1950, is on a campaign against the small loan firms. Four hundred cases have already been filed against such firms.

"There has been no less than 100 such firms in violation of the law in charging rates of interest as high as 500 per cent of the initial loan. Credit insurance is one of the biggest gulches being used. One company asked to re-write its notes legally and was found to owe customers more money than its customers owed them," Wilson commented.

In summing up his office, Wilson remarked, "One of the prime wishes of the attorney general's office is to bring about a better relationship with the people and the law."

Little Demand For Ford's Seat Belts

By JACK VANDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT (UPI)—American motorists are making it difficult for auto companies to try to make cars safer for them.

Ford Motor Co. launched an all-out effort to sell safety to the public in 1956. The results have been disappointing.

Last year Ford sold seat belts, its leading safety item, to only 2.4 per cent of its customers.

Sales of other parts of Ford's optional safety package are more encouraging but still fall far short of what had been hoped for.

The auto company reported 41.4 per cent of the cars it sold last year were equipped with padded visors and a padded dash.

The padded dash and padded visors cost the motorists $19.20. If they had purchased the seat belt in addition to the padding, it would have cost them only $1.40 more.

This year Ford dropped the price of these items even more. A padded dash and visor costs $17.80 and seat belts cost another $1.30 in 1959 models. But sales still seem to be slipping.

In contrast to the 2.4 per cent who purchased seat belts last year, six per cent of all the cars sold by all companies were equipped with seat belts in 1956, the first year that Ford came out with its safety package.

In 1957, while safety package advertising was still fresh in the minds of the public, five per cent of the new cars were equipped with safety equipment.

The only safety items the auto industry has been really able to put across to the public in recent years are those which it made standard equipment on its vehicles.

These items, which include a deep-dish steering wheel and a full-swivel rear view mirror, has won wide acceptance among auto buyers. But the same buyers still won't put out the extra cash needed to get other safety items.

Dr. John Moore of Cornell University, one of the nation's leading authorities on traffic accidents, said, "We know factually from a cold scientific point of view, that if people would begin to package themselves in a car as they do the Christmas gifts they ship, there could be a 50 per cent reduction in injuries and deaths."

"Injuries in auto accidents are a far greater problem than deaths. There are about five million auto injuries a year, and many of them maim and cripple for life."

Rock Island Trims First Class Fares

CHICAGO (UPI)—Another experiment in the quest of railroads to lure back some of their passenger business was getting a test today on the Rock Island Lines.

R.E. King, general passenger traffic manager, said first class round trip fares for sleeper and parlor car service will be trimmed 28 per cent during a nine-month experimental period.

"We hope the public will accept the fare reduction and that sleeping and parlor car accommodations will be more heavily patronized," King said.

King said, "We are not trying to discourage coach travel but rather to interest people who have hesitated to pay the higher fare."

A Rock Island spokesman said results of the experiment will be analyzed at the conclusion of the period and that if patronage increases measurably, the ICC will be asked to put the reduced fares on a permanent basis.

Although the Rock Island's Golden State, between Chicago and Los Angeles, has been running at capacity, some trains, including the Rocky Mountain Rocket between Chicago and Denver, could stand additional business, the spokesman said.

The Milwaukee, the Union Pacific and the Wabash railroads proposed that the one-way rate on these routes be set at a uniform 3 cents a mile.

This would increase the coach rate, now approximately 2 7/8 cents a mile, and cut the first class rate from about 3 3/8 cents a mile.

On the Milwaukee Road, the experiment, if approved, would go into effect between all main line stations from Chicago to Omaha over a nine-month period, starting Feb. 25. The Wabash would put it into effect on all main line stations between St. Louis and Kansas City.

My skin is very oily and an hour after I apply make-up, my face looks shiny and patchy. What can I do?

You should use a foundation that will help control the seepage of skin oil through your make-up. A greaseless vanishing cream for instance.

Before you apply your make-up, dab some white dots of the cream on your forehead, nose, cheeks and chin. Now blend it into your skin.

For best results, use a base or compressed powder. Pat it on over the vanishing cream foundation. This should last for several hours without showing the slightest sign of shine or oily patching.

With Lullaby Shower In Civic Center

LEFORS (Sp) — Mrs. Fred Brown of Pampa was honored with a stork shower in the civic center on Monday night.

Hostesses for the event were Mrs. Herb Klein, J. L. Callion, Orvil Henry, R. H. Bratfield, John Roberts, R. T. Jinks, Alton Plinchum, Earl Lane, Charles Roberts, Luke Glover, D. L. Kinzie, Tom Gee, Ralph Carruth and Johnnie Taylor.

A corsage arranged as a nosegay of two tiny telephone rattlers and pacifier with white and yellow net and lace ribbon was presented to the honoree.

Miss Judy Lane registered the guests in a book of gold arranged in a frame effect, inscribed, "Baby Brown," at a table covered in a white linen cloth and adorned with a single yellow rose in a tall crystal vase.

The serving table was laid with a white cloth with yellow net ruffling around the edge held in place by a gold satin ribbon centered with a teddy bear with a gold ribbon around his neck before a background formed by a double gold picture frame covered in gold glitter and flanked by double crystal candle holders holding white and yellow tapers.

The sheet cake inscribed, "Baby Brown," was placed on one end of the table with the crystal punch bowl holding yellow punch at the opposite end.

Table appointments were sterling silver, crystal and white napkins.

Guests were Meses S. C. Fish, George Fogeman, Ed Brock, Burl Davis, Gene Robertson, Walter Hughes, J. B. Martin, W. L. Pabb, W. K. Davis, Annie Ferris, E. G. Fenno, Dale Brumley, Charlie Tutor, Roy Nobles, John Wellen, Edna Dougherty, Norma Hater, and Miss Judy Lane.

One Way To A Man's Heart!

As a "love potion" for a Valentine's Day party try these delicious little coconut cupcakes delicately decorated in pink. For a lovely looking centerpiece, use these to outline a heart-shaped arrangement of frilly paper doilies. In the middle of the doily heart, place a real Valentine, gay with ribbons... or a heart-shaped box filled with tiny Valentine favors. At dessert time, serve the cupcakes with strawberry ice cream, to carry out the color scheme.

Coconut Cupcakes

1 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
1 1/2 teaspoons double acting baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup butter or other shortening
1 cup sugar

2 eggs, well beaten
1/2 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cups Angel Flake Coconut
1 recipe butter frosting
1/2 cups flaked coconut tinted pink, if desired

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs and beat well. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla and coconut and blend. Turn into paper liners set in muffin pans, filling about half full. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) 15-18 minutes or until done. Makes about 20 cupcakes. When cooled, spread frosting over top and sides and at once dip or roll in flaked coconut which has been tinted pink, if desired.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I'll admit I'm no gorgeous looking movie star but I think I've got the same trouble. I'll do anything to get a man to fall in love with me but as soon as I get him I don't want him any more. Then I go after somebody else and the same thing happens. I come from a good family and have had good bringing up. I am 24 and never married. Believe me, my parents aren't gray-headed for nothing. I'm so ashamed of myself but I can't seem to change. What is the matter with me?

DEAR ABBY: My mother and I are having a little disagreement and hope you can help clear it up. She says it is perfectly all right for a girl to refuse a date for a certain affair and if a more desirable boy asks her to the same affair to accept. I say it would make the boy who got turned down feel very bad if the girl showed up with another boy. My mother says there is no reason for a girl to be stuck with a drip just because he asked her first.

DEAR ABBY: The man I go with was divorced six years ago and has been supporting his wife and three children so he hasn't much money. I have always worked and saved my money. He says he will marry me if he is sure the love between his ex-wife and himself is good and dead. The only way he can find out if that love is dead is to go to Mexico where she is living. He wants me to give him the money for the trip. In a way it is for me, too, because if the love is dead he will marry me. Please give me your advice.

DEAR UNDECIDED: Don't finance any trips for a man who wants to find out how "dead" his love is. If he wants to marry you, he'll find a way.

DEAR ABBY: My girlfriend and I really love each other an awful lot but we fight about who should call who on the telephone. She has a job where it would be much easier for her to call me (and it wouldn't cost her anything) but she expects me to call her all the time. When I do call her just to kid her a little CONFIDENTIAL TO UNHAPPY AND MIXED UP: There is a very wise man at the Newman Club who can answer your question. Pay him a visit.

Patricia Mayberry, Jimmy Breeding Say Nuptial Vows

SHAMROCK (Sp) — Miss Patricia Mayberry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Mayberry of Samnorwood community, and Jimmy Breeding, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Breeding of Dozier were united in marriage in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Breeding at 8 p.m. of January 16. Minister Joe DeKes of the Dozier Church of Christ read the marriage vows.

Tall white baskets of white carnations and silver wedding bells were used in decorations. White tapers were lighted by Sharon and Sherry Mayberry, sister of the bride. Mrs. Don Ward played the traditional wedding marches and "Always, I Love You Truly" and "Melody of Love."

Bill Benyl and Kenneth Martindale were ushers. Mrs. Bobby Dean Ray of Amarillo was matron of honor. Robby Dean Ray of Amarillo was the best man.

The bride given in marriage by her father wore a gown of ice blue organza with white accessories. She carried a white Bible topped with white carnations and silver streamers tied in love knots.

Mrs. Mayberry chose for her daughter's wedding a grey and pink suit with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Breeding wore a brown and gold suit with brown accessories and wore a gold room corsage.

A reception followed. Miss Oreta Gray registered the guests. The tea table was laid with a cloth of lace and white carnations with silver bells forming the centerpiece. Miss Jo Nell Breeding, sister of the bridegroom, poured. Miss Karen Breeding, cousin of the bridegroom, served wedding cake. Miss Sherry Massey assisted with the serving.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Sayre, Okla.

The Red's Information

One direct effect of the Kremlin's new 1953 space rocket was a most unfortunate and almost total eclipse of more important news. By monopolizing the headlines, the big Red "Lunak" effectively blacked out the account of a sensational report released on January 4 by the House of Representatives Committee on Un-American Activities.

The Crustal Theory

How are mountains formed? How can you explain the presence of prehistoric mammoths frozen in the ice of Siberia and Alaska, their fish from stomachs east and within their stomachs tropical flowers and grasses in a state of perfect preservation? How did it happen that during the great glacial period in North America, the glaciers spread southward across what is now Minnesota, Wisconsin, the Dakotas, Iowa and Michigan; but also spread northward into Hudson's bay?

The Pampa Daily News

YOUR FREEDOM NEWSPAPER We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is not license. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, The Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOLLES Reader Asks Questions About Unemployment

Wringing Out The Last Drop Of Blood

Sometimes back I had an article under the heading of "What Causes Unemployment?" At the close of the article I invited other persons' opinions as to the cause of unemployment.

Looking Sideways

NEW YORK, N. Y. — Yesterday, in a few words, it was mentioned that Brooks Stevens, an industrial designer who owns a black floating boat and a black topcoat with fringing in caracol for lapel if you want to be a purist, has put together an expandable (or expandible, if you want to be an advertising man) houseboat on floats and that he also stumped boat lovers and fishermen at the Brussels fair by showing a car-like fishing boat for $11,000. Now let's talk to Stevens directly and in the presence of his "houseboat." It's considerable of a structure.

Hankering

Thoughts While Thinking: Russia can't be too far ahead of us in the scientific race when its No. 2 man, Anastas Mikoyan, has to ask a Washington, D.C., housewife what makes the light in her refrigerator go on and off.

Commrade, That's Only One Of The U.S. Secrets!

We advise the Democrats to stop lively when crossing the Freeways. Traffic on them is faster than a Congressman picking a free stamp, and if the politicians don't watch out they'll all go home lame ducks.

The Doctor Says:

Several years ago a desperate father brought his 13-year-old son in to see me. Apparently the boy's behavior was bad and, as a last resort, the father thought there might be some physical condition at fault.
