WINCH HELPS OUT TOO

Well-digger Claws Out Of Cave-In With Bare Hands

By DONALD U. REED
United Press International

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (UPI)—A 45-year-old well-digger trapped in a cave-in for nearly 13 hours clawed his way free from a steel and sand prison today with the help of a winch.

Leslie Stafford Jr., once given up for dead, was trapped at the 20-foot level of a narrow four-foot diameter sump hole by a steel strip which pinned his ankle and prevented rescuers from pulling him out after tons of gravel had been removed from atop him following the cave-in at 3:22 p.m. Tuesday.

NO EVIDENCE OF X-RAYS HARMING THE UNBORN

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A noted radiation expert said today there is no evidence of children being deformed before birth because of X-ray examination of mothers during pregnancy.

The expert, Dr. Shields Warren, is chairman of the Committee on Pathologic Effects of Atomic Radiation of the National Academy of Sciences.

A large hook was lowered, in which to which the hook was attached by a steel cable managed to lift the metal a few inches. Stafford was able to free his ankle between the space opened by the winch and the frantic digging he had done with his hands.

The metal, used to shore up the sides of the 30-foot-deep sump hole, buckled under the tremendous weight of cascading gravel when the walls of the hole collapsed. The metal strip formed a hood-like air-pocket around his head and allowed him to breathe while buried.

Halleck, Dirksen Win Elections

By WILLIAM THEIS
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The 86th Congress, recast in a heavier-than-before Democratic mold, convenes today for a session that must try to fit moon-shot ambitions into an economy budget.

Republicans went into the historic new Congress with leadership fights rocking their membership in both houses. They turned House GOP Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr., Mass., out of party office and elected Rep. Charles A. Halleck, Ind., in his place by a 74-70 vote.

Senate Republicans today elected Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois as their floor leader and Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California as party whip. The vote was 20-14 in each case.

In contrast, Democrats lined up their top-heavy majorities in harmony, with Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, Tex., as Senate leader and Rep. Sam Rayburn, Tex., as speaker.

Cuban Chief's New Ministers Take Office

By FRANCIS L. MCCARTHY
United Press International

HAVANA (UPI)—President Manuel Urrutia's ministers reported to their offices for the first time today to launch the revolutionary government's program of reconstruction and reform.

Urrutia held his first formal cabinet meeting Tuesday night, just a few hours after he had dissolved the Cuban congress and announced he would rule by decree for the next 18 months.

The new president has emphasized his talks with newsmen that his government would concentrate on a broad program to raise Cuba's living standards, especially in the rural areas.

He planned to implement the 26th of July Movement's land reform program calling for breaking up of the state-owned lands into five-acre parcels which would be deeded to the tenant farmers now working them.

The government also planned a road rebuilding program designed to assist the sugar industry in making its 1959 harvest. Another project would facilitate the development of the mining industry, especially Oriente Province.

Informed sources said Tuesday night's cabinet meeting discussed plans to dissolve all political parties that grew up in the Batista era and to disqualify for public office all candidates who ran under the Batista banner in the recent elections.

The revolutionary regime appeared stronger than ever after a 24-hour factional dispute that threatened to split the rebel forces.

44 Die In Fires Since Last Monday

United Press International

Butter cold which froze the nation at the close of the New Year weekend was blamed for an out break of fires which took a heavy toll in lives and property damage.

A United Press International count showed at least 44 persons died in fires since Monday.

A father and five children died in a pre-dawn fire Wednesday at Brandon, Minn. Only the mother escaped the blaze which destroyed the house.

The dead were identified as Mark Kelly, 45, and his children: Jim, 18; Pat, 14; Denny, 11; Mary Lee, 7; and Peggy, 3. Mrs. Kelly was taken to a hospital suffering from burns and shock. The fire was believed caused by a defective five foot lamp.

Fourteen persons, including seven firemen in a single blaze, died in New York State, six were killed in Mississippi, five in Virginia, four in West Virginia, two in California, and one each in Washington, Missouri, Tennessee, Illinois, Florida, Alabama and Connecticut.

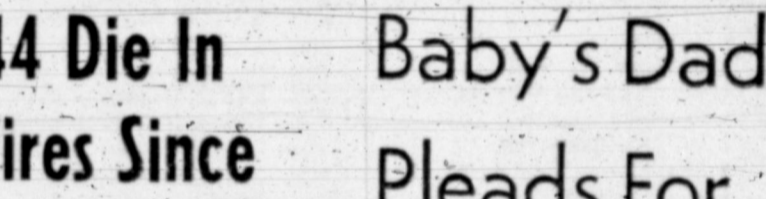

Property damage appeared to climb well into millions of dollars.

A costly blaze gutted a city block in downtown Niagara Falls, N.Y. injuring nine firemen Tuesday. A midnight explosion in a West Frankfort, Ill., garment factory destroyed $300,000 worth of merchandise and the plant building owned by Rep. Kenneth J. Gray (D-Ill.).

Airmen Killed—Five airmen were injured and $100,000 worth of damage caused Tuesday in a fraternity house fire at Williams College. A rash of home fires added thousands of dollars more damage to the tally. At least 15 other airmen were injured in more than 12,000 shells at the U.S. outpost islands.

PRAYS FOR RETURN

A flicker of hope still gleams in the eyes of Mrs. Frances Chionchio as she prays for the return of her kidnaped, two-day-old daughter, Lisa Rose, from her hospital bed in Brooklyn, N. Y. Search for clues by police and FBI agents has proved fruitless. The baby was taken from the hospital nursery a scant two hours after she was born.

Baby's Dad Pleads For Her Return

NEW YORK (UPI)—Authorities hoped today that the kidnaper of Lisa Rose Chionchio would heed her distraught father's plea to return the infant and be permitted to visit her.

Speaking for his wife, Frances, 26, and himself, attorney Frank Chionchio tearfully promised that if their 2-pound daughter was returned unharmed, the couple would bear no grudge and permit the abductor to visit the child.

Police continued to operate on the theory that the baby was taken from her bassinet in the nursery of St. Peter's Hospital 2 1/2 hours after her birth by a frustrated mother who recently had lost a child at birth.

But they remained without any tangible leads, other than a vague description furnished by several nurses who said they saw a heavy set, blond woman, about 30, enter and leave the hospital's nursery about the time of the kidnaping last Friday night.

REDS REOPEN QUEMOY FIRING

TAIPEI (UPI)—Communist shore guns hurled saturation shrapnel at the Quemoy outpost islands today, reopening the "war" of the Formosa Strait, the Chinese Nationalist Defense Ministry announced.

The ministry said the bombardment, threatened in retaliation for the "retrograde" killing of a number of children by a Nationalist bombardment, started at 2 p.m. and went on for at least two hours.

A communiqué said that by 4 p.m. the Red batteries had hurled at least 15 other airmen were injured in more than 12,000 shells at the U.S. outpost islands.

$800 UNDER NOVEMBER

December Traffic Fines Amount To $3,759 Here

Pampa motorists in December paid $3,759 in fines, a report from the city's Corporation Court showed today.

Police Chief Jim Conner said fines paid in November were $800 less than in December when Pampa motorists paid a record $4,561 in fines.

Of the total collected in December, $732.25 was paid for overtime parking. There were 2,377 overtime parking tickets written by Pampa's meter maids, about 1,000 fewer than in November.

Chief Conner reported that Pampa police officers tagged 158 drivers for speeding violations in December, 19 for failure to grant right of way, 36 for passing violations.

Eight motorists were tagged for making unsafe starts from parked positions. Conner said in almost every case one of these starts was to blame for a traffic accident.

4 KILLED IN HOWLING GALES

LONDON (UPI)—Howling gales with a hurricane punch lashed northern Europe today, killing at least four persons and filling the air with SOS calls from stricken shipping.

The known fatalities occurred in Kjoellefjord, Norway, where an avalanche swept a hillside home into the sea. A 60-year-old man, his daughter and her two infant children were carried away with the house.

If it comes from a hide, store, or home, it, Lewis Edna, adv.

His condition appeared to be good.

For example, the U.N. report said unborn infants might suffer bodily malformations as a result of radiation doses.

But there is no evidence, Warren said, that any child ever was born deformed in any way solely because a physician had examined its mother with X-rays.

Hot, soup and water was fed to the woman said when he was freed. (See WELLDIGGER, Page 3)

In other police department business last month, 32 persons were arrested for drunkenness, 13 were arrested for driving while intoxicated, 10 were arrested for disturbing the peace, and two persons were arrested for liquor violations.

In the 48 previous months, November, 40 persons were arrested for drunkenness and 13 were cited for disturbing the peace. There were also a total of 204 streets made of motorists either speeding or exceeding a safe speed.

Conner said fewer arrests for parking and driving violations were made in December because weather conditions kept traffic down somewhat.

Bright Colors Glint Across The Snow

By DICK KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (NEA) — It's getting as the snow-covered ski slopes look like spring gardens. That's because skiers, who used to be conservative dressers, are blossoming out in all manner of bright outfits.

This is particularly true in the realm of bulky sweaters, which comprise the main feature of most skiers' wardrobes. Time was when a skier wore black or nothing, and if you wear nothing white skiing you may not make the next valley. But nowadays you'll see very little black in ski sweaters. At the moment, the blues are the most popular colors, followed closely by the various reds. Then you'll see many ski sweaters in summery yellows and oranges and an occasional model with the unexpected (because they're rarely used in sportswear) shades of aquamarine and turquoise.

Of course, most of these are not solid. Generally, they're paired with white, gray, beige or, in some cases, black. But even as a secondary color, black has for some reason or other fallen on dark days. And dark black is pretty sad-looking.

Regarding ski sweater styling, the most popular these days is the double sweater. That's the one that looks like two sweaters, but is really one comfortable garment. It can appear in many styles, itself, but all are selling well and you'll look great in them as they cart you off to the hospital.

There are interesting patterned effects being marketed now, done by tricky work in texture, surfaces and dimensional rib knits. And textured-tweed effects are popular, too. Blazes, stripes are also important at the moment even out-shilling the traditional Scandinavian geometric patterns.

And so, if you're the skiing sort, be prepared with a rousing colorful wool sweater wardrobe. The snow will look like a rainbow or, more accurately, a snow-bow.

The latest in socks, as reported by the National Association of Hosiery Manufacturers:

DUAL SWEATERS

The trend to match up socks with some other article of apparel continues to grow. You can find socks mated with handkerchiefs, ties, shirts, sweaters, even sports coats and suits.

There's more experimentation with blending various fibers — such combinations as nylon-dacron and silk and nylon, cotton and silk are available. The blends are being tried to reach an optimum of both appearance and wearability. For cold weather protection, sock manufacturers are blending synthetics like dacron, orlon and nylon with alpaca, lamb's wool and cashmere.

Dress socks, made from lisle or nylon but looking exactly like silk, are available. These are being made in the increasingly popular midcalf length (sometimes called "half-hose") which prevents any bare leg from peeking out when you cross your legs.

Innovations include some patented sock tops — nonelastic and thus nonbinding, yet they anchor the sock up without garters. There are also socks with solid white cotton soles, for men who need the protection of pure white, but they have colored tops so nobody knows you have problem feet. Other socks have cushioned soles.

Finally, for the outdoorsman, there's the new "Thermal" socks, which are made from a special fabric that keeps body heat in. Hot dog!

Man's Smallest Enemies Virus Studies May Help Solve Many Serious Health Problems

Editor's Note: This is the third of three articles on viruses, the harm they cause, what is being done to control them, and even what good they may do. By Dr. Henry W. Kumm, chief of virus research for the National Foundation, veteran of 22 years on investigation of malaria, yellow fever and yaws while with the International Health Division of the Rockefeller Foundation.

By HENRY W. KUMM, M.D.
Chief of Virus Research,
The National Foundation

Viruses, which we think of as harmful and deadly, may help mankind solve some of its most serious health problems, including the challenge of cancer. This may appear strange, but it is so because we have learned to use viruses as laboratory tools to help us study the mysteries of life. We still do not know exactly what life is, and we must understand it if we are to combat some of the processes that interfere with life.

If anyone asks us what a human being is, we are apt to say that it is a creature with two arms, two legs, a nose and so on. But if we go further, we would find that a human being is a collection of living cells, working together in an orderly and wonderful way. At least they work together in an orderly fashion when we are well.

In every human disease what is really wrong is that cells within the body have themselves become sick. To prevent disease, we have to prevent cells from becoming sick and we have to know what makes them sick.

Important in Cancer
Nowhere is this more important than in cancer, where cells grow wildly and multiply far more rapidly than they should. It is important in arthritis and in any disease condition that can be named.

Human cells are very small. They have to be examined under a microscope. Even then it is very difficult to determine just what is happening inside of them. We have to use indirect methods to find out, since in most cases just looking will not give the answer.

It happens, sometimes unfortunately and sometimes conveniently, that viruses will grow and multiply only within living cells. Viruses can't multiply by themselves because they are too primitive. They depend on the machinery of the cell itself. And when they invade a cell they generally take over control of that machinery and direct it to produce more virus.

How to Study Cells
Man cannot enter a living cell to study it. But he can send a virus. By carefully observing what happens in hundreds of experiments, he can learn more about the cell, as well as more about the virus.

The more such experiments are performed, the clearer it becomes that at the basis of all diseases are chemical reactions within or near living cells. Actually, we are concerned with something even more specific than this: with the behavior of certain molecules within cells. This has been called molecular biology. Complicated as all this seems, it is very practical. When you have the sniffles it is really because within some of your cells certain molecules are reacting with other molecules or atoms to produce certain effects. Result: a runny nose—While a runny nose is not serious by itself, matters like arthritis or influenza are. And they, too, are the ultimate result of what molecules do.

Nucleic Acid
One of the molecules we are interested in is a long, slender, complex affair called nucleic acid. It occurs in all living things, including viruses and cells. It is the nucleic acid in human germ cells that determine whether you will have blue eyes or brown, five fingers or six.

March of Dimes funds are supporting studies of such molecules in laboratory from one end of the country to another. Viruses are helping in this job. Already we know that if a cell is injected with a virus nucleic acid the nucleic acid in the cell becomes abnormal.

Control All Disease?
We are a long way from knowing all about his molecule and what it does. Yet it is probably no exaggeration to say that if we knew all about it and could control it precisely, we would be able to control most human disease. We may never reach that point. But the American people, through their investment in the March of Dimes, are bringing us closer to that knowledge.

Viruses diseases are a major phase of the expanded program of the National Foundation. Other areas of March of Dimes activity are polio, arthritis and birth defects.

Tokyo Social Worker

Miss Mildred Anne Paine, of Albion, N.Y., a missionary of the Methodist Church, has been cited by Welfare Minister Ryogo Hashimoto, of Japan, for devotion to the welfare of children and youth.

In 1928 Miss Paine was assigned to rebuild the social work of the Methodist Church in an underprivileged section of east Tokyo following a severe earthquake. The quake had destroyed a social evangelistic center for the ragpickers of the city who lived in squalid quarters in this community. Starting "from scratch" and working with a Japanese staff,

Miss Paine established Al Kei Gakuin, a social center which over the years has become one of the best known in Japan. The varied program includes a baby clinic, a nursery school, a kindergarten, children's clubs, youth activities and an extensive religious education program. Much relief work was done through the center after World War II. In 1951, a seaside camp was opened, making it possible for children and young people to leave the city in the summer for inspiration and recreation. The latest additions to the Al Kei Gakuin program were in 1955, a child guidance clinic and a course in adult education. The first Protestant church in the area also was dedicated in 1955. Born in Barre, N.Y., Miss Paine attended Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio, and was graduated in 1919 with a bachelor of arts degree in psychology and sociology. In 1920 she sailed for Japan and served for five years in Kagoshima.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Von Buren

DEAR ABBY: What would you do if your husband bought food like he was feeding a family of 12 and couldn't get to a grocery store for a year? That's my Gus. I'm a wreck from shifting canned goods, sacks of flour and cases of detergent around. He hunts up bargains in the newspapers and runs to food sales and fills up the car. My cellar and cupboards are so crammed full we could feed an army and there's just the two of us and we never entertain. We live one block from a supermarket. I think he's crazy. This has been going on for years. I bought a freezer but it only made matters worse because now he's got that filled with frozen foods. What's ailing him, anyhow?

DEAR ANXIOUS: A psychiatrist would probably call this a "compulsion to hoard." Your husband really should stop and see a doctor on his way home from the store sometime.

DEAR ABBY: I am a woman in my thirties who, about six months ago, decided to have plastic surgery on a nose that was so big it gave me a complex. It was a very successful operation, but my problem is this. When I see friends I haven't seen in a long while and they say, "You look simply wonderful but there is something different about you and I can't figure out what it is," should I tell them or not?

DEAR RIVA: Certainly if you don't — somebody else will.

DEAR ABBY: My fiancé is stationed in Germany and will be there for two years. Before he left we became engaged in the Church and he gave me a beautiful diamond. My fiancé says it is okay for me to go out on dates with other boys while he's gone to take my mind off my loneliness. My parents say that no engaged daughter of theirs is going out on dates. Don't you think that if my fiancé doesn't mind, my parents have no say in the matter? I am almost 18.

DEAR LONESOME: I agree with your parents. It was generous of your fiancé to give his approval, but since you accepted his diamond, you should decline his offer to date others. You made your choice.

DEAR ABBY: There is this girl at school who I am sure is a very nice girl underneath it all, but if

I told anybody that I liked her they wouldn't associate with me any more. She wears so much makeup that you would think she was made up to go on a stage. Her hair is up and she boasted that she had 101 bobby pins in it. One of the teachers made her wash her face once, but the next day she had the make-up on as thick as ai.

ways and said that was the style and the teacher was square. Do you know of any way I could help this girl without insulting her?

DEAR CAROLYN: The girl you describe is not likely to accept criticism from anyone who is merely a nodding acquaintance. If you are sincere about "helping" her gain her confidence by offering your friendship first. Then move in with the helpful suggestions.

THE DIFFERENCE TO THELMA: The difference between a successful marriage and a mediocre one consists of leaving about 3 or 4 things a day unsaid.

PLOT TO MURDER MAN FOR INSURANCE FOILED

HOUSTON (UPI)—A 42-year-old Louisiana house painter confessed today that he and a Pasadena, Tex. housewife planned to kill her husband so they could collect his insurance.

The painter, Stess James Westbrook of Pineville, La., was held in county jail on charges of conspiracy to commit murder. Held on the same charge was Mrs. Maude Berger, 38.

The two were arrested Tuesday following a five-day investigation by Texas Rangers, Galveston police and deputy sheriffs of Harris and Brazoria counties.

The involved investigation included a hurried trip to Alexandria, La., Friday after another man hired for the job, Walter Sands, 28, also of Pineville, notified police of the plot.

Hires Famous Lawyer The man Westbrook said he was to kill is Walter George Berger, 49-year-old painting contractor and husband of Mrs. Berger for 18 years and father of her three children.

Mrs. Berger, a slight woman with graying hair, refused to make a statement. She hired noted criminal lawyer Percy Foreman to represent her.

Westbrook, in his statement, told a long story of an affair with Mrs. Berger whom he met while he and Berger were working on a Brazoria county job as painters in 1953.

The original idea was to get rid of Berger because of matrimony plans between me and Mrs. Berger.

At Wellsville, N.Y., Mrs. Nellie Cusick, 83, died when an apartment heater set fire to her clothes.

Battle Forest Fire Gerald Masterson, 42, died when he rushed back into his burning home at Stratford, Conn., unaware his four children had escaped the blaze.

A mother saved two of her children, aged 4 and 2, in St. Louis. A third child, Joyce Ann Hoeneschell, 6, was burned to death.

At least three firemen were injured in a general alarm fire that raged out of control Tuesday night in the heart of the Paterson, N.J., business district, causing considerable damage to three stores.

In the Long Branch, N.J., area, three residential fires caused more than $37,000 worth of damage, injured three persons, including two firemen, and resulted in the collision of a fire engine and an auto.

Hundreds of firefighters battled a forest fire driven by gale-force winds which ravaged a five-mile area in the town of Cortland, N.Y., near Bear Mountain Park, Tuesday night and early today. There were no reports of property damage, but the wind-whipped flames threatened scores of homes in the area.

Banks Rites Are Thursday

Funeral services for Mr. James Banks, who died of asphyxiation Sunday in the Banks' Quonset hut, on Price Road, have been announced for 10 a. m. Thursday in the chapel of Duengel-Carmichael Funeral Home. The Rev. Ennis Hill, pastor of Pampa's Calvary Baptist Church, will officiate.

Mr. Banks is survived by his wife Bonnie, who is recovering in Highland General Hospital from near-asphyxiation. The Banks' were in their overheated home at 203 Price Road when the tragedy occurred.

Mr. Banks was born on Feb. 10, 1899 in Texas. Other survivors are his mother, Mrs. Georgia Culverhouse and sister, Mrs. Mary Dimmock, of Wichita Falls; one brother, Charles of Los Angeles, Calif.; and two step-brothers, Lester and George Allam of Pampa.

The body will be shipped to National City, Calif. for burial.

Police Stakeout Sunday Mrs. Berger returned to her husband and the same day the couple moved from their Angleton house to Pasadena. Police staked out the Berger home Tuesday.

Mrs. Berger went to her job in Pasadena and Berger took their children to school. When he returned Sands knocked on the door and grabbed him.

Officers took him into custody immediately and picked up Westbrook and Mrs. Berger.

Henson said Westbrook and Mrs. Berger were charged in Houston and held in Pasadena.

Mikoyan is Guest Of Cyrus Eaton

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan arrived here today to spend the day as a guest of financier-industrialist Cyrus Eaton.

The Soviet official and his party were welcomed with a warm handshake by Eaton, but banners on a group of 100 cars, some with out-of-state license plates, which assembled at Hopkins Airport some two hours before Mikoyan's arrival from Washington, were not so cordial.

"Mikoyan go home and take Eaton with you!" was one of the sentiments expressed on placards carried by six organizations in the protest demonstration.

Conspicuous in the crowd were life-size pictures of Mikoyan and Eaton, bearing the caption: "Poison!" one banner read: "Mikoyan—mass killer!"

More than 100 policemen were on hand to guard Mikoyan and the seven other Russians, including Mikhail Menshikov, Russian ambassador to Washington, and Mikoyan's son, Sergio, but there was no indication of violence.

Eaton, in welcoming Mikoyan and his party to Cleveland, applauded the increasing "exchange of visits between the United States and the U.S.S.R.," which he termed the "two most powerful nations in the history of the world."

Eaton, a vigorous advocate of better Soviet-American relations, said he hoped the visit would give the deputy premier an impression of a "community hard at work, prosperous and without envy of the successes of the Soviet Union."

As Mikoyan flew into Cleveland, he left a two-day trail of cold war "peace" feelers through official and unofficial Washington, but American officials said it is too early to tell whether the Russian's frequently expressed desire to negotiate on Berlin and other

East-West tensions would lead to some compromise on these problems. The real test of the usefulness of Mikoyan's U.S. visit, officials said, will come in talks with President Eisenhower, Dulles and others when Mikoyan returns to Washington after a 19-day swing around the country.

Stafford during his struggle. About a hundred on-lookers who had remained into the early morning hours watching the struggle let out a cheer of joy when Stafford was brought up.

A large 30-foot concrete sewerage pipe nearly as round as the stump hole itself was raised by a huge crane and lowered into the hole over Stafford to save him from another cave-in.

The spectators, at first numbering in the thousands, dwindled to about a hundred in the early morning.

Oxygen was pumped to him steadily from the time he was first uncovered, four hours after the cave-in.

A doctor and minister both risked their lives to enter the hole and encourage Stafford.

Dr. T. Yumbie said Stafford appeared in remarkably good shape considering the ordeal. He said the man was in a daze and possibly had suffered internal injuries.

Stafford, who remained unconscious throughout the horrifying experience, was denied participating relatives because rescuers said he had to be alert freeing his ankle.

Business Views

United Press International Cold weather in many sections of the country has caused natural gas suppliers to curtail deliveries to many industrial users and divert it to homes. Many companies were forced to turn to standby oil. But no losses in production were reported.

A top Chevrolet truck sales official predicted the truck industry will sell at least 25 per cent more new units in 1959 than it did in 1958. Herman P. Sattler, assistant general sales manager for Chevrolet trucks, said he based the prediction on a strong surge of Chevrolet truck sales in December.

West Germany announced plans that would make the mark one of the world's few fully convertible currencies. Soon German residents will be permitted to convert marks freely into the currencies of other nations, the announcement said. U.S. officials said the step should spur some German purchases in the U.S. and other lands.

Officials attending the winter home furnishings market in Chicago predicted sizable gains in their industry this year. Furniture sales are expected to climb 10 per cent above the $2,300,000,000 last year and might top the record $2,600,000,000 in 1959. Carpet producers' shipments in the final quarter last year were 25 per cent above the average of the first three quarters.

Funeral arrangements are pending for Mrs. Lillie B. Gant, 58, who died at 6:20 a. m. today in her Pampa home. Mrs. Gant came here in 1929 from Dallas. She resided at 803 S. Gray.

She is survived by one cousin, Mrs. Miles McNeil of Pampa. Services will be announced by Duengel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

Pampa Chains Bulldogs, 74-61

Gindorf Leads Harvesters To Victory in Loop Opener

By RED GRIGGS
Daily News Sports Editor

Pampa's Harvesters put the Borger Bulldogs on a short leash here Tuesday night, 74-61, in the District 3-4A cage opener for both teams.

The win, the 27th straight for the Harvesters, and their 14th of the year, removed one of the big hurdles on the road to the district championship. Borger is ranked second in the district, behind the Harvesters.

After the first four minutes, Pampa took complete command of the game, and was never in danger afterward. The Harvesters led 25-15 after the first quarter, 43-29 at halftime, and 59-41 after three quarters.

Bob Gindorf had his best night in several weeks, as he led the Harvesters in scoring with 22 points. Gindorf also grabbed 11 of Pampa's rebounds, to become the big man under the backboards. The Harvesters snagged 44 rebounds to 24 for Borger.

Three other Harvesters scored in double figures, as Pampa had an effective, well-balanced attack throughout the game — with Mack Layne and Coyle Winborn hitting the short shots, Charlie Minor connecting on the long ones, and Gindorf hitting some of both.

Coyle Winborn tallied 15 points, Layne and Minor both netted 14. Craig Winborn scored only eight, but was a valuable man in the rebound department. He grabbed 10 off the backboards.

It seemed the Harvesters could do no wrong Tuesday. Their offensive patterns worked almost perfectly, and their defense was better than usual. Borger got few shots under the basket, and the Bulldogs had the ball stolen from their several times. Pampa, obviously "tup" for the game, made a rough one look easy.

Packed House
A packed house of more than 2500 fans, including a good number from Borger, watched the contest. The enthusiasm was terrific and noisy, as one side or the other had something to cheer about on almost every play.

Borger had good shooting percentages Tuesday, considering the fact that nearly all their shots traveled 20 feet or more. Four Bulldogs hit double figures, as James Wilson bucketed 12, Don Seamster netted 11, and Cotton Lamb and Tracy Cox each got 10. Sam Smith just missed the charmed circle, with nine.

The Bulldogs hit 37 percent in the first quarter, 27 in the second, 35 in the third, and 56 in the fourth.

For the Harvesters, the percentages were 53, 70, 41, and 45. Borger's cause was damaged in the third quarter when two of its top players fouled out. James Armstrong went the five-foot route at 2:30 deep in the period, and Smith fouled out at 4:30.

Shockers Top Borger B

The Shockers used a tremendous second quarter to take their 11th win of the season here Tuesday, 70-49 over Borger B.

The Shockers scored 26 points in the second period to grab a 41-29 halftime lead. The Shockers led 15-13 at the end of the first quarter, and 57-44 after three quarters.

Pat Carter tallied 23 points for the Shockers, and two other Pampans hit in double figures. Allan Wise netted 15 and Marshal Terrell sank 14. Vernon Welch, led Borger B's scoring with 11.

The Shockers scored 10, 34, 3, 23, 3, 2-3, 2, 8, Neslake 2, 4-5, 2, 8, Stroud 5, 5-5, 2, 15, Wise 4, 6-9, 5, 14, Terrell 1, 0-0, 0, 2, McGuire 1, 0-0, 0, 2, Warner 0, 0-1, 0, 6, Totals 25 20-27 15 70

MEMPHIS (Sp) — The White Deer Bucks edged Memphis Tuesday, 51-50, and the White Deer girls took a 69-49 win over the Memphis girls.

White Deer was forced to come behind for their win in the boys' game, as they scored only 13 in the first quarter, all on free throws. It was a nip-and-tuck contest most of the way. Jeff Bearden tallied 19 for the Bucks. Two White Deer girls hit the 20 mark, as Mary Ann Freeman bucketed 24 and Juana Jo Moore tallied 20.

AMARILLO — Palo Duro used a full court press effectively against Lubbock here Tuesday night, to take a 52-43 District 3-4A triumph. Ronnie Covington and Richard Barker each netted 12 for Palo Duro, and Mike Frasier hit 18 for Lubbock.

AMARILLO — The Amarillo Sandies walloped Tascosa, 44-39, in the first basketball clash between the two Amarillo schools. Bill Dean hit 17 points for Amarillo, and Curtis Walters tabbed 16 for the Rebels. This was a District 3-4A contest.

McLEAN — Clarendon defeated McLean 36 to 24 Tuesday in a boys' game, but the McLean girls captured a 62-55 decision over the Clarendon girls.

Red Griggs ★ the pipeline

The White Deer Bucks, state champions of class A football, have announced their captains for 1958. The Bucks usually name their captains at the start of the season, but this year they decided to wait until the end of the year, to see which boys were most deserving of the honor.

Buck tri-captains are Allen Harmon, Ronnie Cade, and the middle Bob McCreary; so the backfield, the ends, and the middle linemen were all remembered when the honors were passed out.

Harmon was the second leading ground-gainer for the Bucks, with well over a thousand yards to his credit. He is a senior.

Cade, a senior end, was a defensive standout for the Bucks, as well as a fine pass receiver. McCreary, a senior tackle, was possibly the most underrated lineman on the team. He was great on defense and a team leader.

Congratulations to the captains of the '58 state champs. This is an honor which comes to one man in a million, once in a lifetime.

Boxing Meet Set Jan. 21

The boxing season is coming down to the wire in the next couple of weeks, with several district Golden Gloves meets scheduled in the Top of Texas.

The Pampa Golden Gloves meet will be held Jan. 21, 22, and 24. Borger will have its meet Jan. 15-17, and Plainview will have its district fistfight Jan. 20-23.

Pampa's boxing team, undefeated so far this year in eight team matches, will enter both their own meet and the Borger tournament.

Several of Ollie Wilhelm's fighters have won previous titles in the Borger and Pampa meets, and some of them are good bets to repeat as district champions.

Lucky Dunham, who has done most of his fighting this year as a featherweight, was regional champion last year in the bantamweight division. He didn't lose a fight all year.

Norman Rexroat was Golden Gloves champion of the Pampa district in both 1957 and 1958. He is a welterweight.

Johnny Ironmonger, a 105-pounder, won both the Borger and Pampa district championships last year, and went on to take the regional crown. He did the same thing in 1957.

Dickie James, now a bantamweight boxer, won the Pampa district four times boxing at 105 and lighter weights. He took the Pampa titles in '53, '55, '56, and '57, and captured the Borger meet in '54, '55, and '57.

Among the "rookies" are Gary Willis, Dickie Willis, Glenn Ward, Trent Olsen and Herman Giese. All five have done some great boxing, and have dropped few matches, between them.

The University of Texas may have an All-American halfback about 1978. The Randall Clays are parents of a boy, Randall Martin, who was born Dec. 29.

Clay, a former Pampian, made some All-American teams at the University of Texas in '47, '48, and '49. He played for the New York Giants in 1950 and 1953, and in '51-'52 made the All-Army football team, while he was in the service.

Randall is a 1946 graduate of Pampa High, where he was a discus champion. He is now sports director of radio station WOAI in San Antonio.

Phillips Nips Rebs, 59-39

Robert E. Lee's Rebels took a 59-39 licking from Phillips Tuesday, but the high school topped Phillips eighth, 36-25.

The Rebels took a 13-7 first quarter lead, but Phillips rallied to take a 25-19 halftime lead. Phillips upped the margin to 40-25 after three quarters.

Jim Stephenson led Rebel scoring with 11 points, and Jim Crinklaw had seven. Loyd Balch netted five and Mike Stewart made four. Harold Burgess, Bob Neslage, Darrell Cox, Jerry Ford, and Butch Crossland each sank two.

Darrel Doss led Lee eighth's scoring with 14 points, and Mike Shale netted seven.

Lee's next game will be an intracity battle with Pampa Junior High, next Tuesday. The Rebels will be idle the rest of this week.

First Loss for No. 1 Team

Unranked Vanderbilt and an unassuming but hot-shooting little Hoosier proved to be the undoing of previously unbeaten Kentucky.

It all happened at Nashville, Tenn., Tuesday night when Vanderbilt handed top-ranked Kentucky its first licking in 12 starts this season, 75-66, for possibly the biggest upset of the basketball campaign so far.

Jim Henry, a New Albany, Ind., native who barely stretches six feet, was the man chiefly responsible for Kentucky's first loss since last Feb. 24.

Henry, whose chief hobby is tropical fish, also collects points and the 29 he came up with Tuesday night were enough to snap a Wildcat winning streak which had extended to 18 games over two seasons.

Kentucky, last year's NCAA champions, fell behind early, stayed ice cold throughout the first half and never was able to catch up. The inspired Commodore State also suffered quite a scare before coming in to down Virginia, 73-65, for its 10th victory in 11 games.

The Wolfpack blew a 10-point lead in the first half and the underdog Cavaliers rallied again to go in front in the second half. But Bob MacGillivray, put North Carolina State ahead to stay, 35-33, with 7:38 remaining and Virginia never again came closer than two points.

3A All-State Team Named By Writers

United Press International

Size isn't everything when it comes to making the all-state schoolboy football teams.

The 1958 Class AAA mythical team picked by the Texas Sports Writers Assn. has a 155-pound end noted for his vicious line-backing on defense and a 160-pound guard who specializes in pass interceptions and who played both ways on a rugged defensive team.

The lightweight end was Larry Parker, one of three members of the state championship Breckenridge team being honored with berths on the team, while the pin-sized guard was Melvin Peoples of Weatherford.

The remainder of the all-senior team, which included two players from Andrews and one each from Levelland, San Marcos, McKinney, Sweetwater, and Kingsville, was about average in size.

The backfield has two hefties in 191-pound James Parker of Sweetwater and 192-pound Douglas Harvey of Kingsville and two flashy speedsters in Joe Ed Peach of Breckenridge and Ronnie Brice of Andrews, who weigh in at 180 and 169, respectively.

Parker's running mate at end was 180-pound Jerry Garrison of Levelland, while tackles Gay Buckner of San Marcos and Charles Huddleston were right at the 200-pound mark.

Peoples' lightness was partially offset by the presence of 205-pound Robert Burk at the other guard. Center Jerry Shaw of McKinney weighed 180.

McNeely Places Second In Voting For Coach of Year

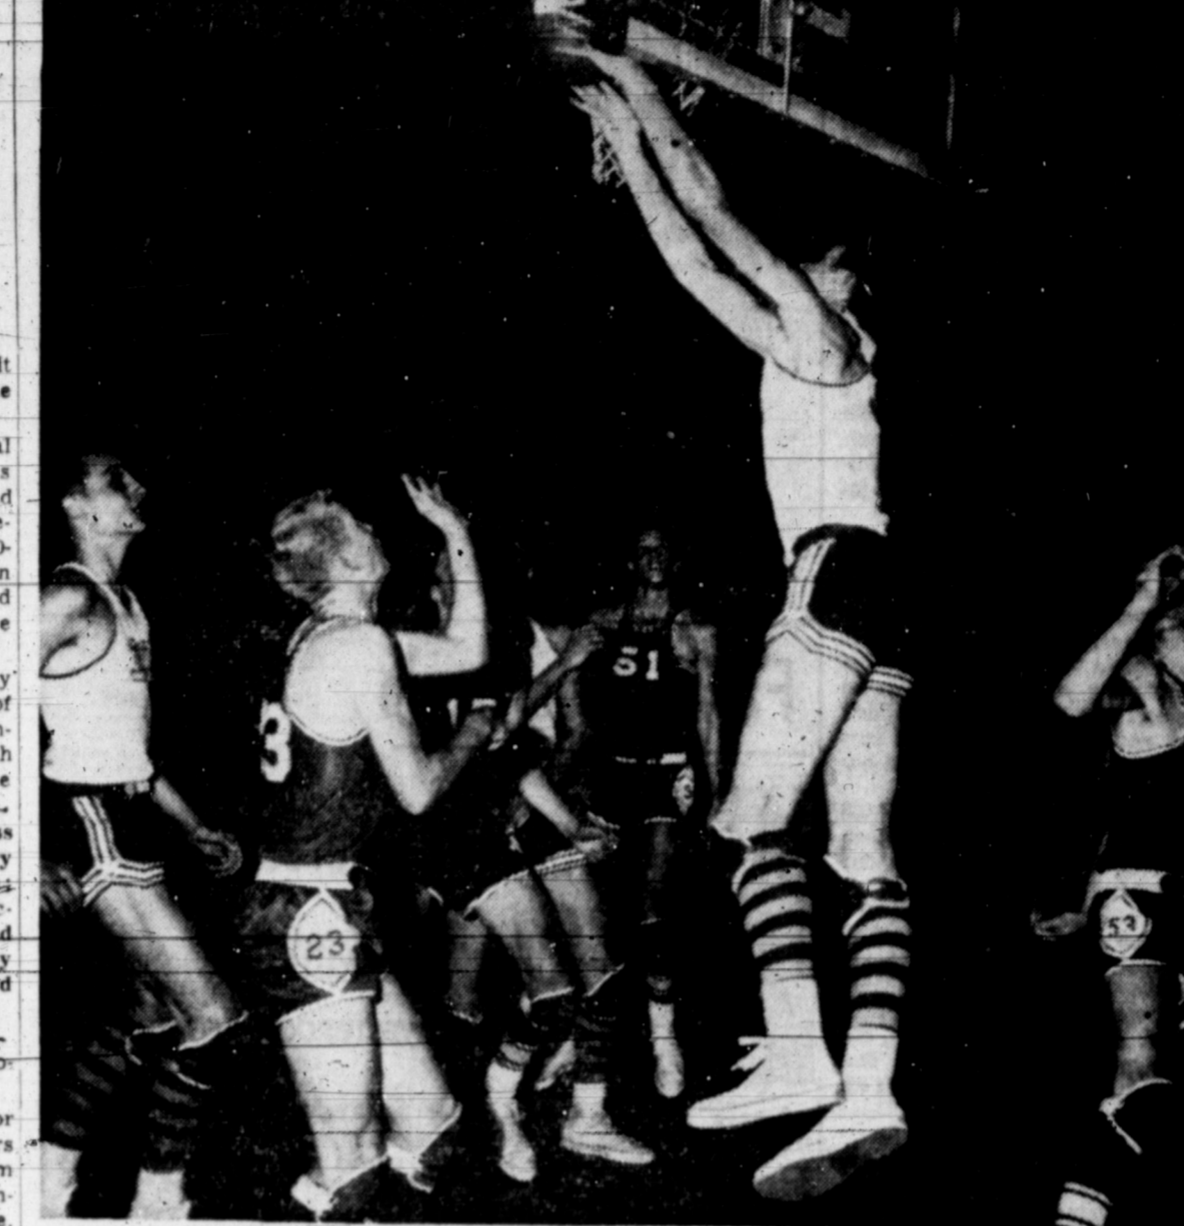

DALLAS (UPI) — Coaches of three state championship teams and one whose team almost made it have been voted the Texas High School Coach of the Year for 1958 by the Texas Sports Writers Assn.

Those honored by the writers were James Lyda of Elgin in football, B. C. Esnary of Blossom in basketball, Max Goldstein of Andrews in track and Cliff Gustafson of South San Antonio in baseball.

All but Lyda had state title outfits, but his team finally fell after a Cinderella drive to the finals.

The schoolboy coaches and their 1958 honorees will be feted at the annual Sports Achievement Dinner next month in the Downtown, Dallas YMCA.

Previously awards had been announced for boxer Ray Harris as Southwesterner of the Year, Southern Methodist quarterback Don Meredith as Amateur Athlete of the Year, Texas Christian's Abe Martin as Senior Col-

Among the 87 cast of others receiving votes included Pasadena's Bob Barfield with 7 write-ins, Buster Dixon of Fort Worth Carter with 6, Amarillo Tascosa's Bill Ellington 4 and one write-in each for Rus Mellett of Kingsville, Emile O'Brien of Beaumont, French, Joe Simpson of McKinney, Joe Golding of Wichita Falls and Hayden Fry of Odessa.

Only Unbeaten Team
Esary's state Class B championship team from near the Red River in Lamar county was the only undefeated school boy basketball team in the state last season with a 39-0 record. He polled 30 votes to 21 for Clifton McNeely of Pampa, 19 each for Metz LaFollette of Seminole and Max Birtcher of Belton, 9 for J. W. Williams of Waxahachie and 1 write-in for Jimmy Littleton of South San Antonio.

Empty Palaces

Dorothy Thompson has done it again. Don't miss her fine article in the January 'Ladies Home Journal.' It is called 'Palaces Empty of Education.' You'll want to read it.

Cycle Called '59

We owe far more to the ancient and scholarly savants who devised our calendar than we are usually aware. By means of our amazingly effective tracery of days we are able to tell when the earth has completed one circuit about the sun.

The Pampa Daily News YOUR FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is not license. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, The Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOBLES

'Where Karl Marx Went Wrong'

I have been reproducing an article by Samuel B. Pettengill under the heading of "Answering the Sweat Shop Argument For Labor Unions." In the last article Pettengill showed that Karl Marx had completely rejected the only economic system on earth upon which it is possible for workers themselves to own, to control and to manage directly the facilities of production.

"Well, the other day I did a little simple arithmetic. The results may be as amazing to you as they were to me. At today's market prices, the employees of U. S. Steel could buy every share of the outstanding common stock of the Corporation just as easily and just as cheaply as they can purchase one of the higher-priced automobiles.

"We have approximately 300,000 employees. That is not just steelworkers of course. It is all our workers - including me. And together, they could buy all the common stock of the corporation by purchasing just 87 shares apiece. At today's prices, the total cost of 87 shares is less than $3,500. And at today's wages, the average steelworker earns that much in approximately ten months.

"But in order to control U. S. Steel, the employees would not even have to purchase 87 shares apiece; they would need only to purchase enough of the stock to give them a voting majority. Then they could elect their own Board of Directors, fire the present management, put their own president in his job, and run the business to suit themselves.

"Before they become too overjoyed at this prospect, however, they should be warned that they still would not be their own bosses; for the true bosses of every American business are its customers. And unless those customers are satisfied as to the quality and price of the product, there will be no business and there will be no jobs.

"Suppose the workers take operation in Suffolk. Six other large ones are underway in the British Isles.

"1959 will mark some notable steps being taken in atomic development.

"For example, this nation is now considering experimentation with atomic power in place of dynamite. If use of this kind of power is feasible, it may be employed to blast out harbors; to punch holes for giant reservoirs; to assist in locating rich oil deposits.

"And in the realm of space travel, it is possible that 1959 will find us taking enormous leaps into the future by bringing nearer the day when man may adventure beyond the pull of gravity in some hurtling 'Atlas' or 'Pioneer.'

"But the largest frontier to life before us relates to the human mind and to education of that mind. If human beings in this country, at least, can discover the facilities of education and for other things which private persons can produce or provide, then 1959 will be a memorable year.

"In any case, and despite the dangers of the world in which we live, it is reasonable to predict that the cycle of 1959 will go the full circuit. There's still lots of time ahead for the human race if it will employ its time and its brain power constructively, and free of governmental intrusion.

'Your New Suit, Sir'

Fair Enough

Union Racketeer's Killer Is Thanked

by WESTBROOK PEGLER

I have received a form letter from a New York lawyer thanking numerous citizens who congratulated his client for killing a union racketeer. I was one of the many who wrote the client to that effect.

The client is Malcolm R. White, president of a small manufacturing company in Orange County, N. Y., on the west side of the Hudson River. He plugged a professional criminal and ex-conflict with a pistol and left him dead in the road after the bum had driven him frantic with picket lines and other harassment.

"In a decent community, a trial jury would not even leave the box except perhaps to smooch a couple of free meals from the Greasy Spoon on county expenses. However, Orange County, which includes the United States Military Academy, is a rotten ground, long infested by loathsome parasites holding credentials from the unions of the sanctimonious George Meany's American Federation of Labor.

"It was the scene of much of rum-dum Joe Fay's deprecatations in the construction of the great Delaware Aqueduct. Most contractors in this phase of public construction are as crooked as the hoodlums who shake them down.

"If the owners receive for the use of these tools - suppose they wipe out all the dividends completely and forever - what would each get? Less than a dollar a day! And meanwhile this process would destroy the company, destroy our jobs, work infinite harm upon a vast segment of our national economy, and wipe out the savings which more than 275,000 of our fellow Americans have invested in our business.

"All this is well within the general situation surrounding the public service performed by Mr. White in killing Alfred Dugan after Dugan had pursued White's car up a lonely road near Chester, N. Y. Because notwithstanding the disclosures made in these dispatches by dint of hundreds of hours of hand-hewn leg work performed in person and not by any phony 'staff,' it came out years later that Fay was holding court in a private office adjoining the chapel at Sing Sing where he received George Meany at least twice and Arthur H. Wicks, the lieutenant governor of New York. Tom Dewey, then governor, hove him out of the job for that, but Wicks got himself re-elected to the state senate on that very issue. That went to prove that the human race is a curious appetite and that is why I misdoubt Mr. White's chances in Orange County of receiving the acclaim which he deserves.

"Wicks went on the radio after Dewey blasted him and explained that there was two governments in this country, the lawful constituted government and the union racketeers. Therefore he had to go to Sing Sing to get things ironed out by orders of a criminal doing ten.

"I have hounded Meany to tell why he made those homage visits and I have needed Father Heaburg of Notre Dame to explain how he could hang that pewter bottle-cap, the Laetere Medal, on Meany, all this considered. But Meany sent me word by his press agent that he wouldn't even let me in his office and Heaburg doesn't answer his mail.

"Mr. White's lawyer, David Tang, said in the form letter under White's name: 'It is good to know that so many Americans have raised their voices in my behalf and I would like to express my deepest thanks to each one of them.'

"When he beats this rap I will try to organize a chicken-wing banquet for White at the Waldorf, of course (where else?), and send him stoop-shouldered with a gold medal as big as a hitching post. Dugan's racket had no AFL-CIO charter, but that means nothing. Fay had a hundred of them.

Looking Sideways

By Whitney Bolton

NEW YORK - CUFF NOTES:

The invitations which come to a desk cover a range only slightly less ample than the distance between Bangor, Maine, and Angel's Camp, California. In one day I've received a card suggesting a meeting with George Oppenheimer, a fellow critic who has written a book, and it is on a Saturday, which for country-type people is awkward, so a note to George is indicated. From the Helen Hayes Theater, an admittance card to an afternoon memorial to Tyrone Power, and you make time for that. Never close friends, not even much more than bare acquaintances, it is still true that you admired him as a man and an actor.

An invitation from an airport hotel to help celebrate the opening of a new million-dollar wing. And while the invitation is considerate and what truck have you with an airport hotel. If you are flying elsewhere, you leave from home or office, board the plane and go. Returning, you go to either home or office. If you're a business man with appointments in the city, why would you hotel so far from town. But all of these must not be valid, for here they are only a year old and already they have had to add a million-dollar wing.

Approaching holiday time, a truck bearing trucking licenses from nine different states, and on the back of it a printed sign: 'If you send me a greeting and spell it Xmas, I throw it in the wastebasket.' Good for him, whoever he is. For along, weary time this reporter has conducted losing crusades against spelling Christmas any way but Christmas and against indecent Christmas cards. The latter crusade is doing a little better than the former, but not well enough.

That disposed of, you think of a recent party at the home of Robert Lewis, a stage director of renown. There, talking to perhaps the best actress in the English language today, you learn sadly of fears, regrets, disappointments and resentments that clutter her life and keep her from serenity. At her age and her eminence, she should be a woman of contentment, but she isn't.

Deeply fond of her, it causes you pain to think of her boiling emotions and you wonder if, after all, there is any personal reward in perfection in a profession. Money is not at issue, it is personal satisfaction that seems always awry and tormented. One of the most noted novelists in the United States is a creature of vast unhappiness and dissatisfaction, a man rarely at peace with himself or his world. What demanding force first gives great talent to an individual and then exacts the harsh payment of emotional turmoil as the price?

A man came in to paint a dining room the other day because this reporter does not at this season in New York have time to do it. It was suggested that because two walls had an unbroken spread they could be sprayed. 'I don't spray,' he said. 'I'm union. We don't use anything but a brush. Spray is too fast.' No comment. Things I'll Never Understand: men with pneumatic hammers and drills have been digging a long, deep trench out in front of the office in 53rd Street. A few minutes ago they obviously pierced a water main and a huge jet of water is rising 15 feet into the air and filling the street. They all, from this window, look bewildered and as though Fate had done them a dirty trick. The subsurface of New York is a tight network of pipes and cables of all kinds.

Are diggers going down six feet or even less, not provided with maps and blueprints showing where water and gas mains are, so that this kind of accident can be avoided? To dig six feet down into a New York street without one is like conducting a heart operation without knowing where the heart or its arteries are located. The street is filled with emergency vehicles, as well as water, and all concerned seem terribly agitated. Pumps are not at work and a man in a rubber suit is going down in the trench to try, probably, to cap the main. Some more of the taxpayers' money being used carelessly. Reminds me of a thing about the Southern Railway in the old days. They used to say that if a community had lost a cemetery it had only to ask the Southern to lay some tracks - they'd find it. Every time they put in a spur line they found a graveyard, long forgotten.

By HENRY McEMLERE

It's a good thing I don't mind sticking out like a sore thumb, else I'd have to keep my preference for college football over professional football, a deep, dark secret.

The smart, popular thing to do these days, when you find yourself among Sportivos, is to knock the game played by the college ladies as dull, uninspired, unimaginative and ready for discard.

And, when this is off your chest, to praise the pro game for dash, and spine-shredding thrills. To me, the amateurs and the pros play two different games that just happen to have the same name. The colleges are using the original game - the one designed, in theory, at least, to give pleasure to the players.

The pros are using the game whose sole aim is to provide entertainment for the spectators. And, I might add, for spectators who think the forward pass is the only really thrilling sight in football, and who are likely to go to sleep at a 7-3 game, even in zero-weather.

A loud demand that the college rules-committee change its rules to conform with those of the pros is now going up all over the land. It is the same thing that happened in baseball all over again.

When Babe Ruth and his home run bat appeared on the scene, the old game of baseball was finished. In came the lively ball, with its frequent but cheap home runs, and out went the finesse of the original game. Base stealing became almost extinct as the dodo bird, and so did pitchers' batties. There are those who like the game of today, in which the teams get runs in bunches like grapes, but is it baseball as it was originally meant to be played?

College football is a game of strategy. There are plays for when a team is behind, and plays for when a team is protecting a lead.

In pro football there is but one strategy, if it may be called that. Pass. Pass all the time. Pass behind your goal line. Pass at midfield. Pass when you're ahead. Pass when you are six touchdowns behind. Pass when it's wet. Pass when it's dry. Pass long. Pass short. Pass medium.

Pro football should change its name to Quarterback. Or, better still, Great Quarterback. A college team can get by with an ordinary one. A pro team is dead before the whistle blows, unless the Quarterback is a super Deadeye Dick. It isn't college football rules that need changing. It's the pro rules. A maximum of five passes to a period, and it would be tremendously improved.

Critics of college football point to the great growth of pro football as a reason for a change. They growl that college football has grown a bit, too. How many people paid to see the first game between Rutgers and Princeton? And there was no fight for seats at the first Rose Bowl game.

The complete regimentation of Communist China into a slave state is said to be horrifying the Reds of Europe. According to the New York Times, a current gag now going around in Warsaw is: 'Thank God we've got Russia between us and the Chinese as a buffer state.'

Russian visitors to Hollywood lately said their countrymen had invented CinemaScope (though they had no facts to prove it). They had nothing to say about an American's invention of the Russian Navy. His name was John Paul Jones.

BRONCHOPNEUMONIA is still a dangerous disease. The damage done to the lung tissue cannot always be repaired. Even in those who recover, symptoms may persist for many weeks.

The maintenance of good general health and the avoidance of unnecessary exposure to respiratory infections are helpful preventive measures.

TOO COLD TO DIE MELUN, France (UPI)—French soldier Georges Pilot had an understandable change of mind when he jumped into a canal with the intention of committing suicide Monday.

Too Much Eating May Mean Trouble

BY DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Too much eating rather than too much eating of this food or that food, may well be the real cause of premature hardening of arteries and consequent premature death, in the view of a scientist specializing in the aging processes of the human body.

Dr. Chester Soles, aged member of the American Geriatrics Society to set their research guns on testing the ancient saying that it is possible to dig one's grave with a knife and fork. Science has gone along with that idea in a general way but has never paid much attention to seeking out the why and wherefore.

It should seek them out and once, said Soles, because there is evidence over-eating shortens life, although the evidence is in bits and pieces scattered through the accumulated knowledge of medical science. In his opinion, over-eating can keep the body machinery busy turning out new tissue to replace old tissue — constantly overwhelmed.

Inferior Tissue Results. This leads to the machinery turning out inferior tissue, which means blood vessel walls suffer in a way that causes them to degenerate before they should. Moreover, "if the dietary over-indulgence consists of 'empty calories,' even worse tissue is formed," he said.

The most common source of "empty calories" is alcoholic beverages. Soles was concerned with the chemical activators of the body machinery which construct new tissue to replace old. These are enzymes which get the build-up chemistry into motion, step-by-step, and the hormones which regulate both the speed and the amount of the motion.

In certain people the supply of some of these enzymes and hormones may be limited at best, and the result of over-eating "is a relative or absolute shortage." Insulin, for example, is a hormone produced by the pancreas gland and failure of the pancreas to produce enough of it results in diabetes. Soles argued that insulin deficiency in an individual could cause deterioration of tissue and degeneration of arteries before it causes recognizable diabetes, if it did.

Can Uptake Balance. Another hormone he suspected of being involved in artery hardening is the one secreted by the adrenal glands which counters the building up of proteins for body repair. When all is well, this hormone is useful because it prevents an over-supply. But if there is too much of it being secreted, there is an under-supply of protein and resultant damage to arteries.
