UN Assembly In Meet

Security Council In Unanimous Vote

By BRUCE W. MUNN
United Press International

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — The 81 member United Nations Assembly, summoned by a rare unanimous vote of the Security Council, meets in emergency session on the Middle East today.

The council voted 11 to 0 to call the special assembly session after more than six hours of debate Thursday night. The debate resulted in Russia's acceptance of U.S. terms for a sweeping Middle East discussion after two amendments designed to "save face" for the Kremlin.

'Bomb Moll' Discloses Terror Ring

AMMAN, Jordan (UPI) — Evidence supplied by a 20-year-old "bomb moll" disclosed the existence of a terrorist ring organized at the American University in Beirut with support from Syria and Egypt, it was announced today.

A government announcement said Nadia Salti, arrested in connection with a Aug. 2 bombing, cracked under questioning and gave the names of a score of other plotters — almost all, like herself, recent graduates of the American University.

The conspirators, including a number of professional men and some minor officials, sought last year to overthrow King Hussein, the government said. They also were charged with setting off more than 200 bombs here.

Most of the plotters have been arrested, the announcement said, and many have confessed their guilt.

The government said the ring's activities were inspired by agents of the United Arab Republic (Egypt-Syria) in Beirut and Damascus.

It comes from a hardware store we have it. Lewis Hardware.

Kierdorfs Linked To Hoffa's Home Teamsters Union Local

FLINT, Mich. (UPI) — Accused arsonists Frank and Herman Kierdorf today were linked to the home local of Teamsters Union president James R. Hoffa through the private sale of a Teamster-owned Cadillac.

State Attorney General Paul I. Adams said he was ready to charge the Kierdorfs and a third man with setting fire to the LaSalle Cleaners shop here.

"There are indications of other charges, also," Adams said.

Frank Kierdorf, 56, the "human torch" who stumbled into St. Joseph Mercy Hospital at nearby Pontiac at 1 p. m. Monday — burns covering 85 per cent of his body — died at 12:35 p. m. Thursday.

Herman Kierdorf, 68, Frank's uncle and like Frank an ex-convict, and ex-Teamsters business agent, was missing, but police got on his trail Thursday by locating the Cadillac he sold.

The car was owned by Local 299, Hoffa's home local, and the dealer who bought it said a Local 299 official first signed it over.

Adams, Oakland County Prosecutor, said Hoffa was not involved in the sale.

Hoffa sat tight — lipped but unflinching during these verbal barages. Then he hurried back charges that his interrogators were attacking him unfairly.

Hoffa, who has been acquitted in two trials since the committee hearings began last year, also heard McClellan call for a Justice Department investigation of possible perjury in his testimony last year.

This grew out of former heavy-weight boxer Embree Davidson's testimony that he was on the Teamsters welfare fund payroll

British, Greek Ministers In Meeting

By ANTHONY CAVENTISH
United Press International

ATHENS, Greece (UPI) — The prime ministers of Britain and Greece met today to seek a solution to the thorny Cyprus problem.

Informed sources said the United States was bringing heavy pressure to bear on the Athens government to resolve the controversy which has threatened serious repercussions within the Western anti-Communist alliances.

The other nation involved is Turkey. Both Greece and Turkey are members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Turkey also is the keystone in the Baghdad Pact alliance since the Iraqi revolt.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan flew to Athens from London Thursday for talks with Prime Minister Constantinos Karamanlis of Greece. He also planned talks with Turkish Prime Minister Adnan Menderes in Ankara Saturday.

Union Board In Session On Strategy

By JACK VANDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT (UPI) — The executive board of the United Auto Workers union met today to decide union strategy on a strike deadline for the stalemated negotiations with the auto industry.

But whatever decision the executive board reaches today probably will not be announced until Saturday when the national conferences of the Ford, General Motors and Chrysler locals meet to review the board's decision.

The board could decide several ways.

It could decide the target company should be selected at this time but no specific time for the strike should be set.

It could decide the time should be set but not the target.

It could decide both should be set.

Or it could decide neither should be set at this time.

The most likely choice, however, would be to delegate authority to set a strike deadline at each of the companies to the bargaining committees.

Delegation of the authority to set a strike deadline to the bargaining committees would keep the companies guessing about which one will be struck and when. But it would increase the pressure on the companies to reach an agreement because a strike could be started quickly by the bargaining committee at any time it considered advantageous to the union.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther in the past has struck against one company to force it into submission and then used the settlement as a lever against the others.

Red Chinese Planes Mass Near Coast

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — The Nationalist Chinese Defense Ministry warned today that 1,100 to 1,200 Communist jet warplanes are poised along the south China coast facing Formosa.

The estimate was made at a news conference by defense spokesman Rear Adm. Liu Hoh-tu.

The Nationalist government has ordered all military forces, police and civil defense units into wartime alert and is considering proclamation of a national emergency.

These steps were taken after the government reported redeployment of Russian-built MIG17s to new Communist airbases, one of them only 22 minutes' jet flying time from Taipei.

"Our agents saw the planes move in," Liu said.

A Peiping broadcast Thursday night claimed that four Nationalist fighter planes "intruded" over the Fukien province coastal area and one was damaged by Communist jets in an air duel.

Liu said by moving jets to bases closer to Formosa, Communist China "has affected our air supremacy in the Taiwan Straits and along the edge of the China mainland."

Later he denied a report published in a Hong Kong newspaper that the Nationalists have started evacuating Matsu and Quemoy, Formosa's major offshore island groups.

'Ole Purple People Eater' Makes Appearance In Top o' Texas Rodeo

"El Toro," the fighting bull, has proven to be too mean!

"El Toro," who last year and for the first show of this year's Top o' Texas Rodeo carried cash on his horns in the Gold Rush event of the show, has been turned into the stalls to feed and a replacement named.

His replacement started to work last night and promptly tossed a couple of cowboys several feet into the air. His name? "Ole Purple People Eater."

"Ole Purple People Eater" managed to keep his valuable load intact last night ($300), but just barely. A cowboy grappled the certificate off a chain around the bull's neck just a few seconds after the whistle had blown signifying the end of the event. The "Purple Eater" will have $350 on his neck tonight, and a "large appetite," too!

House Meets On Education Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House was scheduled to meet an hour early today to drive for final action on a bill to provide federal scholarships and other aid to education.

Other congressional news:

Defense: The House and Senate unanimously approved and sent to the White House a bill carrying a peacetime record $39,802,827,000 to run the Defense Department in the current fiscal year.

Trade: The House approved and sent to the Senate a compromise bill to extend the reciprocal trade program for an unprecendented four years. The House originally had voted for five years, the Senate only three. The Senate was expected to approve the compromise Monday.

Small business: Congress swiftly approved and forwarded to the President a measure to authorize the government to lend 250 million dollars for investment in small business.

The legislation, approved almost unanimously by the House a week ago, would boost Social Security taxes starting Jan. 1, to pay for the cost-of-living rise in benefit checks.

Rep. George S. McGovern (D-S.D.) claimed today Speaker Rayburn may arrange to by-pass the House Labor Committee and bring up the Senate's Kennedy-Ives labor reform bill directly on the House floor.

McGovern said he believed Rayburn might take the action on Monday to get the "moderate" anti-racketeering measure out of the committee, where it apparently has no chance of approval.

The measure as drawn up by the House Education Committee would cost $1,070,000,000 for a seven-year period, including 20,000 scholarships annually for college students. But some key supporters from both parties were agreed on the desirability of cutting the total figure 160 million dollars by knocking out 10,000 of the scholarships as recommended by President Eisenhower.

The Senate Finance Committee called on Arthur S. Flemming, the new secretary of health, education and welfare, as its first witness on a House-passed measure to raise Social Security benefits for 11,800,000 workers by about 7 per cent.

The legislation, approved almost unanimously by the House a week ago, would boost Social Security taxes starting Jan. 1, to pay for the cost-of-living rise in benefit checks.

Band Plays For Lions

Leon McAuliffe and his Cimarron Boys, straight from the National Guard Armory, livened up a Lions Club meeting yesterday with their unique combination of Western and popular music.

Engaged for the Top o' Texas Rodeo dances, McAuliffe and his band appeared before the Pampa Downtown Lions Club, meeting in the First Methodist Church.

Hilarity was unrestrained when the Band did a take off on Bob Wills and the Texas Playboys, the group in which McAuliffe started out.

Another stellar contribution to the program was cowboy version of "Purple People Eater."

The Church was really rocking.

Britain Working On Satellite

LONDON (UPI) — The government has confirmed persistent reports that Britain hopes soon to set a satellite into orbit.

The Supply Ministry, which handles British rocket research, said in a brief announcement Thursday night that Britain's "bigger rockets" are being considered as possible satellite carriers.

RIDING HIGH

"Red" Rogers of Plainview is riding high on a bucking bull during last night's second performance of the 1958 Top o' Texas Rodeo. There will be but one go round in the bull riding event, which will end with the Rodeo tomorrow night.

Rodeo Starts Second Go-Round Here Tonight

The Rodeo is booming in Pampa. To a crowd of 5,200 last night, riders ended the first go round in five of the seven events. After the show, Leon McAuliffe and his Cimarron Boys packed their bags, into the National Guard Armory.

Tonight, in the Beef Calf Scramble, 10 calves will be pitted against 50 boys. The unique feature of the Scramble is that the boy who leads a calf across the finish line before the whistle blows, will receive the animal as his prize. Boys from the 4-H Clubs and Future Farmer of America Chapters from several counties, will try to get their best of the calves.

Following tomorrow night's performance, the top cowgirl will receive her saddle at the Rodeo Dance in the Armory. The top cowboy will be named in Rodeo Headquarters.

The top cowboy will be determined by the amount of money won in three events, according to Bob Andis, Top o' Texas Rodeo Association president.

Two Rodeo performances have ended the first go round in the bareback bronc riding, double midget, calf roping, bull dogging and cowgirl sponsor events. The last performance tomorrow, will conclude the second go round in these events and the first and only go round in the cutting horse and bull riding contests.

The Beef Calf Scramble will go into tomorrow night's show provided that four calves remain uncaught. If the Scramble is successful, Association directors hope to make it a nightly event for the next Rodeo.

A $350 ticket rides tonight on the horns of "Old Purple People Eater." Last night a Gold Rush contestant was a whistle away from a $300 ticket.

Kelly and Timber, dog stars of movies and television, are turning in some performances that are worthy of any show.

The Jaycees' official car, bearing Linda "Miss Pampa" Steele and Audie "The Beard" Dick, showed up in the arena last night. Dick displayed the "outstanding shaver" that won him an electric shaver in the Pampa Jaycees' contest Tuesday night.

Cowboys are drawing now to see who will ride what in the second go round. Reports from Rodeo Headquarters, in the Pampa Hotel, indicate that the advance ticket sale is on the go. The 750 seats

Home Hit By Rifle Bullets Wednesday

Gray County Sheriff's officers issued a stiff warning today that anyone caught hunting or carrying a gun after dark would face a stiff penalty.

The statement came after a couple who live near Pampa, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Veal, returned from the rodeo Wednesday night and found four bullet holes in their house.

One of the bullets went through a bedroom window, hit a mirror in the room and fell to the floor.

Three other bullets were dug out of the south side of the house by deputy sheriff Buck Haggard.

Haggard said that the bullets were .22 calibre rifle shells and were probably fired by rabbit hunters. He went on to say that "anyone caught hunting after dark or carrying a gun would be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law."

The Veals, who live seven miles northwest of Pampa, returned from the rodeo Wednesday night and found a mirror in the bedroom was broken. After a search they found one window broken and three bullet holes in the side of the house.

Veal said "we probably wouldn't have known anything about it if one of the bullets hadn't broken the window and mirror."

The sheriff's office is still investigating the incident.

BULLET HOLE

Pointing to the hole made by a .22 calibre rifle in their home are Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Veal, who live seven miles northwest of Pampa. The couple found three more bullet holes in the side of the house. Sheriff's officers are investigating the incident.

Senators Curious About Home Sale

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Rackets Committee became curious today about the palatial summer home Chicago mobster Paul (The Water) Ricca sold the Teamsters Union for almost $150,000.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said Ricca himself would be called in for questioning about the deal. It was likely Teamsters president James R. Hoffa also would be queried about it.

It has been reported two Detroit Teamsters locals bought the Ricca mansion at Long Beach, Ind., several years ago intending to use it as a school for union business agents. Because of zoning law difficulties the plan fell through.

The house, which has a dining room capable of seating 60 guests for dinner, now stands vacant. It is said to be guarded by a caretaker and two watchdogs.

Kennedy said the committee also would show, with testimony involving the Restaurant Workers Union in Philadelphia, what occurs when gangsters take over labor groups. He said this phase of the hearing would concern the extent that interests of employees were ignored by the union. He said Hoffa would have a major role.

In clash after stormy clash Thursday Hoffa wrangled with committee members over whether he had lived up to a pledge to clean up conditions exposed by the committee last year.

As the session ended Chairman John L. McClellan (D - Ark.) gave the stocky Teamsters boss a stern dressing down. He said Hoffa was leaving the impression he was falling to clean up because he himself was in the "same category" as those he was supposed to scrub.

Sen. Irving M. Ives (R-N. Y.) accused Hoffa of surrounding himself with "jailbirds, crooks, gangsters and racketeers" to keep his union membership in line. Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) said Hoffa was the "chief stimulus" for the labor reform bill passed by the Senate this year.

Hoffa sat tight — lipped but unflinching during these verbal barages. Then he hurried back charges that his interrogators were attacking him unfairly.

Hoffa, who has been acquitted in two trials since the committee hearings began last year, also heard McClellan call for a Justice Department investigation of possible perjury in his testimony last year.

This grew out of former heavy-weight boxer Embree Davidson's testimony that he was on the Teamsters welfare fund payroll while under management of union vice president Owen (Bert) Brennan.

Hoffa said he was unaware of this when he testified last year that Davidson got no union funds. He promised to see that at least some of the money, estimated at about $8,000 was restored to the fund.

In other highlights of the hearing Hoffa:

— Said he knew nothing about the fatal burning of Frank Kierdorf, official of a Flint, Mich., Teamsters local. He denied any knowledge of arsonist tactics which Michigan authorities suspect were involved.

— Brushed off as "a figure of speech" a remark attributed to him by a Capitol policeman. The policeman said he overheard Hoffa say after Tuesday's hearing that he would break the "some 'sneaky little..."

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a patient in a hospital and have multiple ailments, but let's not go into that, I am practically a permanent invalid, but my problem is not me. It's my visitors. Most of my visitors are better for me than medicine, but this one aunt and uncle who visit me irritate me so much I wish they'd stay home. They come in complaining about how hard it was for them to get up here. Then they start telling me about all the bad news in the family. Then they complain about how bad business is and also how poor their health is and end up telling me MY illness is all in my head and I should snap out of it. What do you do with people like that?

SICK OF RELATIVES
Dear Sick: Patients who are irritated by visitors should enlist the co-operation of their doctors. Simply have the doctor tell them they are not to visit unless called — and don't call them.

DEAR ABBY: We adopted a lovely baby and after having him for two months we had to return him to his unwed mother. We are both heartbroken and it will probably take a long time to get another one. I would like your advice as to what we should do with all the gifts people gave us for this baby. We acknowledged them all immediately and most came from out of town. We feel funny now because we have the baby gifts and no baby. My closest friends said they'd be hurting if we returned them. Awaiting your helpful reply.

SAD PARENTS
Dear Parents: Keep the gifts for your next baby. The givers would want it that way. Good luck!

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law is part French and has lived in France most of her life. She says the beauty operators over there have known for a long time that women who were heavy smokers in their younger years always started to grow dark mustaches after they reached forty. The glands, she says, are stimulated by the nicotine. Is there any truth to this?

DOLORES
Dear Dolores: If nicotine stimulates the growth of hair (be it on a woman's face or a man's head) this is one "claim" the cigarette advertisers have not yet discovered. I'm no authority on glands or the effects of nicotine, but I suspect this tale is without foundation.

DEAR ABBY: I am the "good kid" of the family. I've always knocked myself out for my husband's relatives. When they come to visit me I make them feel so welcome with cooking, baking and cleaning up after them they never leave. My sister-in-law doesn't bother with company. She doesn't cook or bake one thing extra. She lets everything lay where they dropped it and practically ignores them. They call her a slob and it's like water rolling off a duck's back. If anybody called me a slob I'd cry for a week. Why can't I be like my sister-in-law?

CLEO
Dear Cleo: Because you're a lady — not a slob.

DEAR ABBY: Maybe this will help someone other married woman to think twice before she makes a mess of her life like I did. I had been married 18 years, am 35 years old and my husband is 38. I started to work to help buy a few extras and this was my mistake. I should have stayed home where I belonged. I got mixed up with a married man. I broke up his home, my husband left me and I lost my kids. All this happened in 14 months because I thought the things that money can buy were important. Take my advice, ladies. Stay home and let your husbands support you.

If you are to be a guest on a radio or television show, get to the studio at least a half hour before the show goes on. You will be much more at ease if you don't rush in breathless at the last moment.

And so will the person on whose program you are to appear.

Art Exhibition Rescues Small Fry From Doldrums During August's 'Dog Days'

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

Antidote for the restless youngsters often experience during the late summer "dog days" is a long-range activity that will enlist their talents and give them something to look forward to.

One such activity successfully tried in many communities is the junior outdoor art show. Such an event is both creative and flexible. Neighborhood mothers might suggest a show for all the youngsters on the block; junior art shows are often favored by an organized group.

A smaller project: an art show staged within a circle of immediate friends.

ALL CHILDREN should be encouraged to participate, no matter how young. The most interest is usually found in the five-to-11-year-old group.

We're going to try one in our neighborhood as a star attraction on the Labor Day weekend.

I'm indebted to Mrs. Corrine Murphy, program specialist in the arts for the Girl Scouts, for some definite ideas on how to help the venture along.

Mrs. Murphy is the director of a summer arts festival held in Asheville, N.C., this year.

ENCOURAGE CHILDREN to be creative, she says, but remember that most youngsters need some guidance. Discuss general themes for the art work and let them choose what they want to do.

If a circus has been in town recently, there's plenty of subject matter: the circus, the beach, boats or other vacation activities are good subjects to suggest.

Very young children find it easiest to work with crayons.

Rebekahs Have Lodge Guests
(Special to The News)
PERRYTON — Rebekah Lodge held its regular meeting on Monday evening in the I.O.O.F. Hall with Leona Bryan presiding.

After the business meeting, the lodge was hostess to the Panhandle Rebekah Circle with the president, Reba Guess, in charge of the meeting.

Out-of-town guests were Addie Fern Lick, Beadie McBee, Clara Wall, Skellytown Lodge; Ann Chamberlain and Beatrice, Amarillo; Ethel Crescent, Gladys Keith and Reba Guess from the Queen of the Plains Lodge, Amarillo; and Maxie Clark of the San Jacinto Lodge in Amarillo.

Local members present were Mrs. Leona Bryan, Roberta Moulton, Thelma Scott, Willie Hulsey, Alma Pittman, Mildred Hudson, Lou Ella Mooneyham, Gladys Organ, Mildred Shiflet, Rubye Tillman, Clara Stubblerfield, Fannie Jackson, Lois Throckmorton, Ruby Ferguson.

to the background. The afternoon rest periods and rainy days are good times for young artists to work. Encourage them to make several paintings and to select the ones they want to exhibit.

Those can be framed a few days before the show. Shit cardboard or pieces cut from cardboard boxes are useful for backing.

Tape or paste the picture to the board and "frame" with colored construction paper or colored plastic tape.

The site for the show depends on whether it's sponsored by a group or is a more-or-less private event.

Walls and fences are sturdy backdrops for paintings held in place by masking tape which won't hurt the surface.

I think our picket fence will be just about long enough for the ex-chalk, poster paints and tempera, Mrs. Murphy says.

Water colors require more skill. Some older children might want to make their entries with scraps from the sewing basket and other odds and ends.

Backgrounds for pictures or those paste-ups can be any firm white or light-colored paper.

Incidentally, garden paste-ups, or collages, are good for summer: double-faced cellulose tape can be used to hold leaves and flower-fragments.

Mothers, dads and friends are expected to visit the gallery, of course.

In a show staged by an organized group, questions such as charging admissions or selling the paintings should be carefully discussed. For the informally organized neighborhood displays admission is rarely charged nor are paintings sold.

of dry materials this month because by early fall the seed pods will have burst, dock will be shattered and the cattails will be puffs of white.

Some suggestions on materials to dry are pampas grass, straw flowers, glove amaranth, poppy pods, celosias from the garden. Of course, the country side is covered with wonderful plant materials to dry. You can find milkweed pods, sand burrs and to digress for a moment, to fresh material, beautiful Snow On The Mountain, plus many more.

A good rule to observe in gathering material to dry is to cut when one-half to three-fourths mature as growth continues for a time after cutting.

Another practice to follow is to cut materials at midday when plants contain the least moisture. To dry, hang upside down in a shaded dry place, which has some circulation. Of course, there are many more methods of drying but this method will be adequate for most weeds, grasses, seed pods and everlasting flowers.

August is really the month to start rose cuttings, so make a lot of these as a good many are likely to be lost. Some people have fantastically good luck with cuttings (or is it know-how?) but play it safe and make several of each rose you want.

Cuttings for house-plants should be started now. More of this next week.

Miss Ruth Ann Smith, Forrest Duff Exchange Vows In Double-Ring Rites

(Special to The News)

PERRYTON — Miss Ruth Ann Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Smith, became the bride of Pfc. Forrest Duff, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Duff of Boyd, Okla., on July 28, in the First Baptist Church.

Reverend Gerald Johnson, associate pastor, read the ceremony at 7 p.m. before an altar decorated with Ester Reed daisies and palms. Pyramid candelabra stood on either side of the altar.

Mrs. Jerral Allred, organist, played a medley of nuptial selections preceding the ceremony. Miss Pat Haywood sang "Because," "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Wedding Prayer." Traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and the recessional.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, John D. Smith, wore a waltz-length gown of white Chantilly lace and tulle underlined with white satin. The bodice was designed with a scalloped neckline and long fitted sleeves which tapered to points over the hands. Her veil of illusion fell from a three-piece lace headband. The bridal-bouquet was three large gardenias and stephanotis arranged on a white Bible.

Miss Nancy Wright attended the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Pat Haywood and Mrs. Sammy McLain.

Miss Martha Jo Smith, sister of the bride, lighted the candles and Joe Smith, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer. Cindy Smith was flower girl.

Frankie Duff, cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Freddie Smith, cousin of the bride, and Phil Mason. Mrs. Smith, mother of the bride, chose a beige lace dress with pale green accessories for the occasion. Mrs. Duff wore a lavender suit and white accessories. Both had corsages of pink gladiolus.

A reception was held following the ceremony in the church parlor. Mrs. Frank Duff presided at the punch service and Miss Ellen Erickson and Miss Stacy Ellis served the cake. Other members of the house party were Misses Earlene Anderson and Joyce Maberry; Mmes. Horace Smith, Paul Haywood, J. W. Erickson, Coralee Wright, and J. W. Putman.

For a wedding trip to Red River, Raton, and other points in New Mexico, the bride chose a green cotton two-piece dress and white accessories.

Mrs. Duff will remain with her parents in Perryton while Pfc. Duff attends advanced artillery school at Fort Carson, Colorado.

men claim they do. But think of all the little minor worries they have that never trouble men. Such as...

What to wear whenever they receive an invitation to a party.

What to do about their gray hairs — to dye or not to dye. Men solve that problem by getting their hair cropped closer and closer to their heads.

How to work out the chaffering detail so that every child in the family gets to where he is supposed to be on time and is picked up on time.

How to keep their friends from finding out how old they are.

How to plan a party menu that is different enough to impress the women present.

How to break the news to Papa that they've bought something that a woman views as an absolute necessity and a man views as out and out extravagance.

How to get Papa in a relaxed mood before giving him the news that Junior has crumpled a fender on the family car or that Sis has to have a new formal.

How to keep the house spic and span, once it is slogged up for company, until the company arrives. The younger the children, the harder this is to manage.

How to get the kids to do the chores their Dad decides they are old enough to do.

How to look ten years younger than they are.

Picnic Polka Stars Cabbage-Bologna

A new sandwich combination highlighting two old time favorites... bologna and cabbage.

With the month of August being celebrated as National Sandwich Month from coast to coast, it's only natural that you join the parade and try a few new sandwich ideas in your home.

It's no secret that ready-to-serve meats or "cold-cuts", if you please, have been a life-saver to the American homemaker in preparing the number of sandwiches she does for summer picnics and school lunches. However, this bologna and cabbage combination presents something just a little different... different in flavor as well as texture.

A leading home economist in the meat industry, Reba Stagg, comments that this combination helps in providing good nutrition for the family... meat, high in protein... cabbage, high in vitamin C.

- BOLOGNA-CABBAGE SANDWICH SPREAD
- 8 ounces sliced bologna, finely chopped
 - 1 cup finely chopped cabbage
 - 3 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper
 - 1/2 cup salad dressing
 - 1/4 teaspoon salt
- Combine all ingredients and mix thoroughly. Yield: 2 cups.

KING SIZE 'ROLL-YOUR-OWN

A king-size Texas cowboy, Jim Osborne, son of Top o' Texas Rodeo Association vice president Jake Osborne, demonstrates to Pampa's second Tourist of the Day couple, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bentley of Phoenix, Ariz., how Texans roll their own king-size cigarettes. The visitors, who received gifts and services from Pampa merchants during their stay here, peer at young Osborne's actions as if they still have a doubt or two in their minds about the Texas-size cigarette.

Ex Western Union Worker Reminisces On Experiences

By MARGARET SHEPHERD United Press International

DALLAS (UPI)—W. G. Halsey, a Western Union worker, who was there, said today that Galveston had a bigger hurricane in 1915 than the one that ravaged the city in 1900 and drowned thousands of persons. Damage was heavy in the 1915 storm, but not a person lost his life. The reason was the seawall that was put up to protect Galveston after the 1900 storm. Estimates of the dead in the 1900 disaster go as high as 8,000. Halsey remembers the 1915 storm well.

As a young equipment man he helped set up communications between the stricken city and the outside world. Halsey retired last week after 44 years of Western Union service.

He reminisced today about his assignment to Galveston after the big storm roared through the city. "Causeway washed out. 'I was in Corpus Christi when the storm struck," he said. "We got to Texas City and went on to Galveston by boat, because the causeway was out. It took quite a while, but I was there the day after the storm. "We found six inches of silt, full of dead fish and crabs, on the Western Union office floor. All of the equipment was gone. I packed up some equipment I'd carried from Houston, and as soon as the lines were repaired, three or four days after the storm, we opened up. "Customers were standing six and seven deep in the office. "We had stacks and stacks of telegrams—so many that we had to carry some to Houston in a suitcase to send them. "That storm actually was a bigger than the 1900 hurricane. But they put up a seawall after 1900, and it protected the city."

Followed Mexican Bandit Halsey was no stranger to keeping the wires open in an emergency. Though only a three-year man with Western Union then, he already had had experience in following Pancho Villa around the border, repairing lines and establishing offices.

At one time, hard pressed to provide service for an isolated area, he improvised a sending office in a boxcar.

"They seem like wild days now," Halsey recalled. "But at that time, it was just part of the day's work."

Explosions Rock Beirut Today

By LARRY COLLINS United Press International

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI)—Two bomb explosions shattered Beirut's calm today in a grim reminder that anti-government elements have not given up the fight.

Two persons were reported killed and four injured in one of the blasts.

The bombings were the second major outburst of violence since the election of compromise candidate Gen. Fuad Chehab as President July 31. Last Friday, two persons were killed and 15 injured in a bomb blast.

The major opposition forces have been observing an "armed truce" since Chehab's election. It was believed the bombings were the work of some extremist group.

A police sergeant on the scene said two persons were killed and four injured when one bomb exploded in the Ben Azar cafe in the Place Des Cannons, Beirut's main square.

However, no official confirmation was immediately available. No one was hurt in the other explosion in the Bab El Driss section of the capital.

The bombing of the cafe shortly after dawn was the second such attack in two months on the shop owned by Emile Azar—a close friend of pro-Western President Camille Chamoun.

Scattered shooting echoed on the edges of rebel-held sectors of Beirut Thursday night. But the gunfire was far less than was usually heard in the city before parliament elected Chehab last Thursday to succeed Chamoun.

'Bomarc' Test Said Successful

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)

—The remote control experiment which sent a Bomarc interceptor missile speeding toward a target plane over the Atlantic was hailed as a success today even though the weapon failed to seek out its target.

The Air Force said the primary purpose of the advanced pushbutton warfare test was achieved. This objective the Air Force said, was to determine whether the Bomarc could be used with a new automatic air defense system named SAGE—short for semi-automatic ground environment.

The only human element in this operation, the Air Force said, was a technician who decided whether the oncoming plane was "friendly" or "enemy." When he decided the plane was an intruder, he pressed a button signalling the SAGE system to go after it.

"Primary purpose of this test—Bomarc working with SAGE—was achieved," the Air Force said.

But the statement released several hours after firing added that preliminary tracking reports indicated the Bomarc's guidance system "failed to function properly and that the missile did not intercept its target. The cause of the malfunction will not be known until telemetry data on the test has been checked.

Tanker Burns Off Newport

NEWPORT, R. I. (UPI)—Gasoline flames shot high over the hull of a wrecked tanker early today, a vigil light to the 15 dead and 36 injured in a two-ship collision.

Navy and Coast Guard firefighting crews abandoned attempts to extinguish the raging blaze in the S. S. Graham Thursday afternoon after nearly seven hours of futile battling.

The 1,475-ton coastal tanker, carrying a million gallons of gasoline, collided in a heavy fog at the mouth of Newport Harbor with a larger tanker, the 16,000-ton Gulfoll. The resulting explosion and fire formed a funeral pyre for 15 crew members of the Gulfoll, including the skipper, Capt. Monteville Eden of Port Arthur, Tex. Thirty-seven men aboard.

The Gulfoll was outbound from Providence where it had emptied a cargo of oil. But the volatile fumes in her holds made her "a stock of dynamite," according to one survivor.

Though the Graham burned uncontrollably her 13-man crew escaped.

Second Tourist-Of-The-Day Couple From Phoenix, Ariz.

Near-comedy touched the Pampa Chamber of Commerce Tourist of the Day promotion Thursday as Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bentley of Phoenix, Ariz., were flagged down by local law enforcement officers on highway 60 east of town.

The tourist couple, bound for Neon, Ky., had driven to Pampa straight through from Phoenix without stopping overnight. Mrs. Bentley took the wheel some few blocks west of the waiting officers and began to drive east. After driving less than a mile, the officers gave chase complete with sirens and red lights.

"I was scared to death," said Mrs. Bentley following her arrest. "My husband was upset with me since I had driven less than a mile and already had evidently broken a traffic regulation." Bentley had just settled down in the rear seat of the Bentley auto for a well-deserved nap when the Pampa officers made their "arrest."

The Pampa trip was Mrs. Bentley's first time to be in Texas, and, although both guests had seen rodeos and horse shows before, the Arizona couple agreed that the Top o' Texas Show was the finest they had ever witnessed.

Pampa's second Tourist of the Day couple for the 1958 summer season were guests at the Pampa Hotel for Thursday evening, where they got a taste of the real Old West since the Hotel's lobby is this year's Rodeo Headquarters. Top brass of the Top o' Texas Rodeo Association are staying at the Hotel, as well as other rodeo notables such as Ruby Nance, Leon McAuliffe and his Cimarron Boys; and "Goat" Mayo, stock supplier and producer of the show.

Redman's Gardens presented a large spray of gladioli and chrysanthemums to the visitors and Owen Johnson, owner and operator of Johnson's Cafe, entertained the guests with supper in his private dining room. Car service for the Arizona car was donated by the Frank Kempa Humble Service Station. As will be the standard procedure for the remainder of the week for the tourists of the Day, the Bentleys were guests Thursday evening of the Top o' Texas Rodeo Association for the 8 p.m. performance. Also attending the show with the tourists were Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Trimble, official hosts for the occasion, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Keel, co-hosts.

The visitors were presented with maps and informational pamphlets concerning the city by the Trimbles, as well as a souvenir plate depicting Pampa area industry.

On tap for today's Tourists of the Day is lodging at Murphy's Motel No. 2, dinner at the Court House Cafe, flowers by Clayton Floral Company, and car service courtesy of Tom Kitchen's Gulf Service Station. The visitors will attend the 8 p.m. rodeo show as guests of the Top o' Texas Rodeo and Horse Show Association.

Hosts for the tourists will be Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Trimble. Pampa Rodeo.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

J. S. McMULLEN, Pastor
First Assembly of God

"THE NUMBER '1' DESTROYER OF BOTH SOUL & BODY"

Fear is one of the greatest weapons with which Satan has to work. Fear will not only destroy the body, but it will destroy the soul as well. Jesus said in Luke 21:25-26, "And there shall be signs in the Sun, and in the moon, and in the stars; and upon the earth distress of nations, with perplexity; the sea and waves roaring; men's hearts failing them for FEAR and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth."

Our Hospitals, our mental institutions, prisons, jails and other places of confinement are filled to capacity because of FEAR.

In Luke 12:32, Jesus said, "Fear not little flock, for it is your fathers good pleasure to give you the kingdom."

When Paul was in route to Rome by ship, there arose a great storm. To lighten the load the captain had unburdened the ship and they had fasted 14 days. An angel stood by Paul in the night and said, "FEAR NOT PAUL."

As a child of God, we are to be loosed from fear. Romans 8:15, "For ye have not received the spirit of bondage again to fear, but ye have received the spirit of adoption whereby we cry Abba Father." 2 Timothy 1:7, "For God hath not given us the spirit of fear, but of power and of a sound mind." In Luke 10:19-20 Jesus said, "Behold, I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy, and nothing shall by any means hurt you."

I remember when my family was living here in the State of Texas while I was yet a boy. One afternoon a storm cloud arose and it began to thunder and lightning. As my father walked out on the porch, he realized that a tornado was approaching. As we viewed the oncoming freakish phenomenon of nature, the sky was filled with debris of every nature. The wind was moving directly toward us. My father stepped out into the yard and lifted his hands toward Heaven and prayed. Immediately the cloud began to separate into halves and both parts went around us. Father said, "Children, always remember Jesus Christ is the same, yesterday, today and forever."

I will never forget how I felt when I saw my father's faith go into action in the time of storm. He didn't seem the least bit afraid, and knew God would take care of us. I John 5:4, "This is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith."

So many come to me and say, "I am confused, The devil keeps telling me that I am not saved, or I am not living like I should, and I have reached the place that I don't know for sure where I stand with God."

STOP, LOOK AND LISTEN FOR A MOMENT! We either defeat the devil by our confession, or we are defeated by our confession. I said to a person a few weeks ago, "And the devil tells you that you are not a Christian, is that right?" He said, "Yes, that's right." I said, "How about your neighbors, what if they were to come over and tell you that you were not a Christian, what would you say?" He said, "I would say, sure I am a Christian." Then I asked him if he was a Christian and he told me that he was. I said, "Sir, why don't you tell the devil what you told me?" Fear is what keeps people from being positive.

purely paydirt

When Bill Brown bounces out upon the shiny hardwoods of Rice Field House tonight, it isn't likely to be his last official visit into the Owls' nest.

The Pampa High backcourt smoothie, who helped pave the way to another state schoolboy cage championship for the Harvesters just about five months ago, starts opposite Waxahachie slickster, Phil Reynolds, at guard for the North All Stars in the Texas Coaching School's traditional tilt tonight.

Ticketed to take his obvious talents to Austin this fall, where he begins four years in the saddle for the University of Texas Longhorns, the olive-skinned 6-foot hustler has had nothing but glowing reports about him flowing out of Houston all week.

Houston'll See Lot Of Bill

With Brown performing his court magic for Texas, and the Longhorns of course being arch-enemies or somesuch with Rice, he'll play at least one Southwest Conference game a season on the home- and -home plan in the beautiful 6,000-seat Rice Field House.

The all-district, all-state and all-American will do his hard-wood hustling for Dallas Samuel coach, J. W. Black, and the North tonight before pushing out to Austin next month where'll he work his freshman year under Shorthorn cage mentor, Jimmy Viramontes.

Whazzis! Pampa Ranked 7th?

Yesterday a panel of coaches from each of the upper echelon divisions of the Texas schoolboy grid race fingered Highland Park of Dallas and Nederland as strong contenders to successfully defend the 4-A and 3-A championships they snared last December.

Writers hearing DuBose, put their heads together and came up with the following predictions on the outcome of 3-AAAA: (1) Amarillo; (2) 3-4 Plainview; Lubbock and Monterey in any of the three slots; (5) Palo Duro; (6) Borger; (7) Pampa; and (8) Tascosa.

In the 16 AAAA districts the winners were picked thusly: 1. El Paso Austin; 2. Abilene; 3. Lubbock Monterey or Amarillo; 4. Wichita Falls (Team Pampa opens with on Sept. 12); 5. Fort Worth Paschal; 6. Dallas Jefferson; 7. Highland Park; 8. Longview or Texarkana; 9. Houston Milby; 10. Houston Lamar; 11. Port Arthur; 12. Galena Park; 13. Austin S.F.A.; 14. Corpus Christi Ray; 15. San Antonio Jefferson; 16. San Antonio Tech.

Woldt's Wife Watching Him!

Where do they all come from, the record number of 3,000-plus coaches at this year's 26th annual Texas High School Coaches School?

Mr. Anon, they are: Larry Smith, Brady, Wayne Freiling, San Antonio Edison; Gary Finch, Dalhart; John Kelly, Terrell; Oscar Hinojosa, Mercedes; Robert Caskey, Gonzales; Calvin Jamer, Brenham; Dennis Gaudes, Louisiana, Mississippi, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona, California, Washington, Oregon, Mexico and Cuba. Oh, yeah! And Texas.

A reader who signs his name Anon, says he read in our Tuesday column where Texas A&M landed 13 of the 56 youngsters who'll play in the North-South All Star football game in Houston Saturday night.

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Paul Harney and Ernie Vossler led the field into the second round of the $35,000 Miller Open golf tournament today with record tying 43s; but don't bet on them for the championship.

There were 13 players within three strokes of Harney and Vossler and 50 in all who equaled or bettered par in Thursday's 18-hole round. It was the most closely bunched field in the four-year history of the 72-hole medal play tournament.

At 65 were Howie Johnson, John Pott, Jim Turnesa and Bill Johnston.

Defending champion Ken Venturi was bunched with seven others at 66. They were Chick Harbert, Lionel Hebert, Jackie Burke Jr., Tom Nijpote, Bob Goaly and Gil Cavanaugh.

LILA FIRES 76 Amarillo CC Tops PWGA Play Here

Somebody should have told the Amarillo Country Club members they were playing on a stonger course here yesterday.

The ACC linksters entered the fourth monthly Panhandle Women's Golf Association one-day tournament at the Pampa Country Club riding in fifth place.

Pampa, in sixth, brought up the rear and had lofty hopes of moving up the ladder, what with the home course advantage and all that. But a field of 71 golfers didn't bother to rick with the dopeshits, and it was the lowly Amarillo swingers who did the advancing, while Pampa stayed stuck in the cellar despite a fourth place finish in the shooting yesterday.

All was not gloom for Pampa yesterday, however. Odessa Junior College ace, Lila Austin, schooled the fairways with a blistering 78 to capture medalist or low gross honors for the meet. She had shot a 79 last month as Pampa finished third in the July meet at the Tascosa Country Club in Amarillo. With a nine-stroke handicap deducted from her 78, Lila finished with a net of 87.

Under the handicapping system, Tascosa's Bobbie Smith grabbed low-net laurels with a 87. Low-net for Pampa went to Lois Watkins who had a 86. Her cards for the 18-hole meet was 106 with a 40 handicap.

Amarillo Country Club's Juanita Jones and Pampa's Lil Hall tied for low gross over nine holes, both shooting 42's. Low net for the field over nine-holes went to Pampa's Billie Watkins with a 29 on a 16 handicap.

The Pampa foursome's scoring went like this: Lila Austin, gross 76, handicap 9 and net 67; Lil Hall, gross 92, handicap 24, net 68; Lois Watkins, gross 101, handicap 35, net 66; Frances Wade, gross 108, handicap 40, net 68.

Only four golfers showed up for Borger's Huber Country Club, thus forcing the scoring on a foursome against foursome basis.

Amarillo CC barely did capture first place, with a team effort of 266. They were only one stroke ahead of Huber and the season-long leader, Tascosa Country Club, who tied for second at 267 apiece.

Pampa's fourth place finish came on a combined score of 269, only three shots out of first position. Phillips Country Club was fifth with a 273 and Ross Rogers Golf Course trailed off last with a 300.

The day's cards did, however, tighten up the season-long scoring. Tascosa still leads with 1,587, while Huber is second at 1,652, and Phillips is third at 1,662.

Amarillo CC's hot firing moved them 14 shots ahead of Ross Rogers at 1684 to 1698. Pampa is last with 1775.

The September tournament will be held at the Huber course and the October meeting, last of the season is slated for the Amarillo Country Club.

TEE TIME LADIES — These four Pampa Country Club members played a big part in yesterday's Panhandle Women's Golf Association monthly tournament held here. From left-to-right are, Frances Wade who was a member of the fourth place Pampa foursome, Lila Austin also a team member and medalist of the meet with a sizzling 76, Mrs. C. F. McGinnis who is the Pampa delegate to the PWGA and Lil Hall, tournament director yesterday.

IN COACHING SCHOOL CAGE CLASSIC

Pampa's Brown Starts For Underdog North '5

By ED FITE United Press International HOUSTON (UPI) — The world's largest coaching school starts its climactic stretch drive tonight with a North-South All-Star basketball game that may draw a packed house to the sweltering Rice gymnasium.

The cage contest, 14th of the annual series, finds the tall and talented South team a strong favorite to snap a three-game North victory string and chalk up its sixth victory against eight losses.

Practically all of the 6,200 tickets for the game have been gobbled up by more than 2,700 coaches and local basketball fans in anticipation of seeing some of the state's finest schoolboy sharpies performing for the last time before joining the college ranks.

Meanwhile, the rival coaches for Saturday night's football finale in the 70,000 seat Rice stadium announced their starting lineups for the 24th annual grid classic that has the North leading with 11 victories against nine losses and three ties.

Thumper On Tear After AL Bat Title

By MILTON RICHMAN United Press International Ted Williams will be 40 by the end of the month and quite possibly the American League batting champ again by the end of September.

Williams, more or less lying back in the weeds all season, suddenly is sprouting a full-blown .311 average—only 24 points behind the .335 figure of Boston teammate Pete Runnels, who leads the circuit.

Ted's current mark is a far cry from the .388 mark he led the league with last year, but before the season started he promised he'd hit "around .340" and he generally comes pretty close to the mark.

He could make it the way he's hitting now. He blasted his 20th homer and a single to drive in three runs Thursday and help the Red Sox beat the Senators, 8-4, for their fifth straight victory.

His homer was nothing to spit at, either. It traveled approximately 600 feet and landed about 30 rows up in the right field bleachers. Roy Sievers belted his 31st homer and Jim Lemon his 23rd for Washington, both blows coming off Frank Sullivan, who hurled an eight-hitter for his ninth victory.

It was the only game scheduled in the American League.

Braves Increase Lead The Milwaukee Braves stretched their National League lead to seven games with a 3-2 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates, while St. Louis crushed San Francisco, 12-1; Philadelphia edged Cincinnati, 3-2, and Los Angeles defeated Chicago, 3-1.

Southpaw Warren Spahn, shooting for a 20-game season for the eighth time in his career, limited the Pirates to seven hits in chalking up his 15th victory.

Bob Friend blanked the Braves until the seventh when they scored all their three runs with the aid of Eddie Mathews' two-run homer.

Sam Jones scored his ninth victory with a four-hit effort against the Giants while the Cards were pounding out 13 hits, including a home run by Wally Moon. The Giants committed four errors.

It marked the ninth loss for the Giants in their last 10 games and virtually finished them as far as pennant contention is concerned.

Don Cardwell, recalled from the minors not so long ago, scored his first victory of the year for the Phillies with a nine-hit effort against the Redlegs. The victory moved the Phillies into the first division for the first time since Eddie Sawyer took over as manager from Mayo Smith on July 22.

Sandy Koufax of the Dodgers struck out 10 Cub batters and was credited with his ninth win, although he needed help from Johnny Klippstein in the ninth. Klippstein took over with two on and one out, and after rain caused a 20-minute delay he got Lee Walls to hit into a game-ending double play. The Dodgers scored a pair of unearned runs on Alvin Dark's fifth inning error.

Records To Fall! ATHENS, Greece (UPI) — George Eastman, coach of the touring United States track and field team, today predicted "lots of stadium records" will be set when the Americans meet Greece Saturday and Sunday in a special dual meet.

Hodge vs. Ezzard KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Heavyweight wrestler-turned-boxer Danny Hodge of Wichita, Kan., will battle former fight champion Ezzard Charles on Sept. 18 at Kansas City instead of Aug. 19 as planned.

Fladoos Favored CHICAGO (UPI) — Sharon Fladoos, 15, Dubuque, Iowa, had the favorite's role today in the finals of the Women's Western Junior Golf championship on the strength of her ouster of defending champion Sherry Wheeler.

The Dubuque high school girl will face Chicago's Carol Ann Mann for the title at Inverness Country Club. 7 4 Fight 8-8 ms 314s

Big 10 Meeting GARY, Ind. (UPI) — Big Ten basketball coaches will work on the 1960 schedule today at a summer session preceding a day of golf at Gary Country Club.

The coaches have held the summer meeting regularly in the past few years with conference officials also present.

OCEANSIDE, Calif. (UPI) — Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson said he was so satisfied with his training program that "I could fight Roy Harris today."

It was the first time Patterson has had anything to say about his condition in training for the Harris title bout at Los Angeles Aug. 18.

After five rounds of sparring with Jose Torres and Obie (Dusty) Rhodes, Patterson said "For the first time since I came to California I'm satisfied with my condition."

ARROWHEAD SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) — Challenger Roy Harris predicted today that he would beat champion Floyd Harris a week from Monday, whether the fight is won by a knockout or a decision.

"I'll win," said Harris. "I think I punch hard enough to knock Patterson out, but if the opportunity doesn't present itself, I'll win the decision."

Bobby Turman, a fellow Texan who lost his state heavyweight crown to Harris two years ago, predicted also that Harris would win. "He'll break up Patterson's combinations with his constant slight movements from side to side."

Rory Tries Ace NEW YORK (UPI) — Slugger Rory Calhoun gives the big test tonight to unbeaten Gene (Ace) Armstrong, a slick middleweight boxer, in their TV 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

Bank on Loudermilk Jim Loudermilk of Big Spring, a 6-6 whiz who once scored 75 points in one game, will bear the brunt of the North's hopes for an upset, but a lot of help may come from a pair of outside shooters—Bill Brown of Pampa and Phil Reynolds of Waxahachie—who admittedly are a shade ahead of their counterparts on the South. Both are 6-0.

The North's other starters will be 6-4 Jim Curtisinger of Herford and 6-3 Bobby Bernard of Graham.

On the football front, the North will outweigh the South in the line, 204 pounds to 197, and in the backfield, 188 to 180.

The North starters will be ends Ronnie Payne of Breckenridge and David Alexander of White Oak; tackles John Dean of Dallas Tech and Mike Bryant of Abilene; guards Earl Milstead of Athens and Leslie Stewart of Grand Prairie; center Ken Milliken of San Antonio; quarterback Sonny Gibbs of Graham; halfbacks James Porter of Wheeler and Tommy Minter of Gladewater, and fullback Jack Collins of Highland Park.

The South will have Rovert de Sha of San Antonio Jefferson and James Street of Nederland at end; Don Malin of Temple and John Stradinger of Houston Bellaire at tackles; Wayne Freiling of San Antonio Edison and Mickey Walker of Port Arthur at guards; Dennis Gaubatz of West Columbia at center; Mike Cotten of Austin at quarter; Bert Coan of Pasadena and Bart Shirley of Corpus Christi at the halves, and Calvin Janner of Brenham at full.

Mark Busters Praise Track DUBLIN, Ireland (UPI)—Australian record breakers Herb Elliott and Albert Thomas joined today in praise of "the fastest track in the world," the brand new oval in Santry Stadium on which they broke the world one, two, and three mile records.

The lightning fast track was built by Irish sportsman Billy Morton in the announced hope of setting new world records.

"I am interested in the construction of this superb track," said Elliott who stunned the sports world Wednesday by running a 3:54.5 mile here and then came back Thursday to chase Thomas to a new world record of 8:32.0 for two miles.

Thomas, who also set a world record of 13:10.8 for three miles on this track on July 9, declared, "Santry must be the fastest track in the world."

Hearing Set CHICAGO (UPI) — Chairman Frank Gilmer of the Illinois Athletic Commission said today Tony Vone, co-manager of heavyweight Wayne Bethea, has been asked to appear at a hearing Sept. 17 to explain his charges that Bethea's loss to Sonny Liston Wednesday night was dishonest.

Betha lost by a technical knockout at 1:09 of the first round when referee Bernie Weissman stopped the bout. Vone told Weissman in the ring that the outcome was "in the bag."

Later he repeated the remarks and expanded on them to newspapermen.

Vone, in New York, denied he had said the fight was "in the bag" and said he had said "Liston bagged him early—hurt Bethea early."

Principles Of Taxes

On these shores, washed as they are by expediency, we frequently hear a great moan going up respecting taxation. Taxes are on the rise, and that is the truth.

But the groan from the taxpayers is rarely if ever related to principles. Almost without exception, the cries of anguish relate to the amounts of the tax to be taken, not the principle on which taxes are based before collections begin.

And it follows that since so few Americans are concerned with taxing principles, there will never be any real relief from excessiveness in the taxing picture. If we admit of a wrong principle, provided only that amounts to be taken are not large, we will always stand on the threshold of confiscation.

It was not always thus in the United States. Back in 1770, when the British king and parliament combined to tax many of our colonial affairs, a sturdy uprising to the principle behind the tax, became in time the actual reason for the American rebellion against the British crown.

And this was true, despite the fact that the tax on tea, the last tax to be retained, was reduced to only three pence the pound, and ultimately repealed in all but principle.

American colonists found, in fact, that they could buy the legally imported tea from Britain and pay the tax on it to boot, at less cost than they could buy the smuggled article, brought into American ports by John Hancock and other patriotic American black market operators. The colonists refused to be gulled by the lowering of the tax. They insisted that it was not the amount that had to be paid, but it was the principle on which the tax was based which was in error.

The Boston Tea Party was the final culmination of this objection, and to a large measure this particular event is now credited by historians as the decisive act which turned this into a nation of coffee drinkers rather than a nation of tea drinkers. When Americans objected to the principle of the tax, they dumped more than three hundred chests of tea into Boston Harbor. The king and his prime minister, Lord North, would not back away from their error in principle, even though they conceded all in respect to amounts. The American colonists were more concerned with principle than they were with amount.

The final result, as we all know, was the Declaration of Independence and the setting forth of a new nation "conceived in liberty."

In these late times, we could profit by reading again the story of that impassioned stand for principles as set forth by our founding fathers. Too many of us today are delighted to pay any kind of tax, however unjust or unfair it may be, provided only that it is not too large. We'll pay anything if only we can avoid thinking about the problem.

That is why, today, despite the terrible rise in taxing costs, most Americans go right on supporting an income tax, "because the government needs the money." They simply object to the amounts collected, not the principle, which is so bad that the Constitution had to be amended to make it possible.

In the same way the taxpayers go right on paying for government schools when they pay property exactions. They refuse to look at the principles behind the taxes. They'll permit their money to be taken for anything just so long as the amounts taken in each case don't climb too high.

Of course, if we ever reawaken to the evils of bad principles in taxation, a change may come. Until that time, the groaning of the populace, oppressed though it may be, lacks form and substance. It is surely time for us to insist upon a wholesale revision of the present governmental policies respecting taxation. As things stand, and especially under the income tax amendment, the policy is that the government has a right to everything any person can make or save. There is no limit to this whatsoever, except in the minds of those who form a particular administration.

A revision as to amounts taken will not strike at the core of the problem. Rather, such a revision would only weaken our resistance and make us more willing to bear unprincipled and immoral actions, provided only that in dollars we do not lose too much at any one time.

CADILLACS AND OX CARTS

(Christian Economics) MRS. PANDIT, sister of Prime Minister Nehru of India, criticizes our country for tolerating race prejudice. She seems to forget that race prejudice in India is older and more violent than in our country.

Mrs. Pandit further declares "... that half the world cannot move around in ox carts, while the other half rides in Cadillacs." The only remedy is for those who ride in ox carts to adopt the methods used by those who have succeeded in producing Cadillacs. Free enterprise produces Cadillacs; socialism must do with ox carts.

We hazard a guess that free enterprise put oil in the lamps of the wise virgins, while the foolish virgins could not go into the feast because socialism had left their lamps empty. As Socialists always do, these foolish virgins clamored for a division of the wealth. Christ leveled no criticism at the wise virgins for not dividing up their oil with the foolish virgins. Had they done so, perhaps no one would have gotten into the feast. Attempts to support, at comfortable living standards, those who make little effort to provide for themselves, result in impoverishment for all.

If we do not recover our free enterprise (it has been badly damaged), we shall find ourselves riding in ox carts and shall miss the future feasts because, like the foolish virgins, we shall find our lamps empty as a result of socialism.

Why Protections Is Easier To Sell Than Competition

I want to reproduce an article of mine which has been published in "The Freeman" magazine, which is published by The Foundation for Economic Education, Irvington-on-Hudson, New York. From here on the article is as it appeared in the August issue of "The Freeman."

"There must be a reason why protection or the Welfare State is so popular and has made such headway in our country and throughout the world.

"Undoubtedly it is because many people believe it is the best way to relieve poverty and promote more general prosperity. "If that is true, then why do they so believe? Could it not be because the material results of protection, in whatever form it takes, are both concentrated and obvious, while the costs, the consequences, are diffused, concealed, spread out in small amounts? Force is usually quicker and more noticeable than persuasion — getting a person to think and reason.

"When the State gives a man material assistance or protection from competition, it relieves him immediately and temporarily of part of his problems. It is so concentrated and concrete, it is easy to see, while the taxes for this particular protection are diffused and indirect in most cases. Or when labor unions protect a worker from competition of other workers and he gets an increased money wage, it is easy to see. It is also immediate. In short, the benefits are concentrated and present and thus easy to see, while the costs, the disadvantages, are diffused and paid for in small amounts by many other persons and are thus hard to see. Superficially, the costs may seem to be postponed, as though the redistribution were yielding a social advantage for a time; but this is strictly an illusion stemming from inadequate cost accounting methods. The actual costs, if they could be seen, are as real and as immediate as are the presumed benefits.

"The union member sees he gets more dollars in his envelope and thus believes he is benefited. What he does not see is that if he can get temporary material benefits by striking, many other workers will do the same thing. Nor does he see that the employer has to get all the money he pays in wages from his customers — other workers. If he is not able to collect all costs, including wage payments, and if there are no profits or no hopes for profits, there are no jobs. This unemployment reduces production and increases prices. On the other hand, the more profits, the more competition between employers to hire help, the higher real wages will be. Also, the more competition in selling the product, the lower prices the employees have to pay. This is continuous and diffused and thus harder to see.

"So all these extra labor costs are passed back to other workers, past or present, along with any extra costs that stem from lower production, unemployment, feather bedding, seniority strikes, non-productive business agents, lack of individual responsibility, and so on.

"But these costs are diffused — a penny here and there on the hundreds of different items everyone uses — and they are thus harder to see. Besides, they are lumped with all other costs so that it is difficult, if not impossible, to know how much they total.

"The same diffusion that takes place in labor unions' added costs takes place in every protection or subsidy by the government — federal, state, county, city, or board of education. The added costs in the form of taxes are diffused and scattered over thousands of articles and are not as noticeable as the subsidies or the gain resulting from government or labor union protection.

"Most people look at immediate wages or prices they get for what they sell under protection as all benefit, and fail to see the little additional prices added to hundreds of items they buy. Nor do they see that these added costs continue as long as the cause continues.

"It is also difficult to see how a free and unhampered market benefits the worker because the benefits are on everything he buys through small on each item. The benefits are not in one lump sum. Nor are they temporary, as are arbitrary wages, but continuous and cumulative.

"The benefit of personal charity also is concentrated and easy to see because it is a lump sum. Many people believe the donor is benefiting mankind more than the person who puts the same wealth into tools that increase production, thus raising real wages and lowering prices in a continuous process.

"The benefits from more tools are so diffused that many people think continuous charity is more beneficial to mankind than furnishing tools that benefit everyone.

"The duty of every person is to try to understand what means must be used if we are to have peace and more and more prosperity for all.

"Those with practical experience in producing the comforts of life are convinced that the best way is for each and every person and the government to have respect and reverence for the creative energy of all mankind.

"Free, private enterprise is not as spectacular nor as easy to see as the socialist way of temporarily diffusing poverty by eating up the seed corn — the tools — which will increase poverty in the long run. Free enterprise is the sure and so far the only known way

It's Not That We're Shorter-

Robert Allen Reports:

Ike Challenged Over Economic Aid To Tito

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower is being vigorously challenged by top Republican leaders of the Senate over giving Marshal Tito a lot more economic aid. Specifically involved is an unannounced State Department plan to supply Tito with more than $200,000,000 in transportation, mining, road - building and other heavy machinery — which he was to have gotten from Russia under its abruptly - cancelled $285,000,000 credits.

Strongly opposed to the U. S. stepping in and providing this equipment are: Senate GOP Leader William Knowland, Calif.; Senator Styles Bridges, N. H., head of the Republican Policy Committee; and Senator Everett Dirksen, Ill., GOP Whip.

If unable to block this proposed new Yugoslav aid in the Appropriations Committee, the powerful trio will openly fight it in the full Senate.

The State Department would finance the huge equipment program in two ways: Special $75,000,000 grant from the new multi - million dollar foreign aid budget awaiting final action in Congress.

$125,000,000 for more if necessary in counterpart funds growing out of previous U. S. economic aid to Yugoslavia. Since 1951, that has totaled $650,000,000; with counterpart funds approximately $200,000,000 in Yugoslav currency.

Under the State Department's plan, some 90 percent of the desired heavy machinery would be purchased in the U. S. The rest would come from Western European sources.

This program has the support of American steel and equipment manufacturers. No new military aid is contemplated for Yugoslavia. However, it would be allowed to use counterpart funds to buy parts for jet planes and other weapons obtained from the U. S. So far, Yugoslavia has received $800,000,000 in military hardware.

SQUARING OFF — First clash between the President and his Senate leaders over this issue occurred at a closed - door meeting of the Appropriations Committee.

The three Republican leaders sternly grilled Deputy Assistant Secretary of State Frederick Jandrey, who presented the Administration's position on this major foreign aid question. He was assisted by Stuart Van Dyke, of the International Cooperation Administration.

Highlights of this significant inner Administration wrangle, as recorded in the transcript of this meeting, are as follows: Senator Bridges bluntly demanded of Jandrey, "Why are we giving further economic and technical aid to Yugoslavia?"

"We consider that essential to enable that strategic country to maintain an independent status," replied the State Department official. "Marshal Tito's determination to resist Soviet efforts to reassert domination over Yugoslavia has been clearly evidenced in a number of ways in the past several months.

"The basic consideration underlying our policy towards Yugoslavia is not whether we agree with its political and economic philosophies, but whether we want it to continue to stay independent."

Senator Dirksen caustically of constantly improving the well-being of mankind. "What we need is not to be blinded by the transitory benefits of protection but to see the blessings that continuously follow the free, private enterprise system, even if it is harder to see — that the gain of one in creating wealth is the gain of all."

Trackman Rafer Johnson Has Joined Great Company

By HENRY McLEMORE

Get out your chisels, you stonecutters, and high on the pedestal reserved for men who do their best when the chips are down, carve ye there the name of Rafer Johnson.

Those are pretty close to the words I used, way back in 1931, to describe the flaming feats of Pepper Martin when he led the St. Louis Gashouse Gang to a World Series victory over the supposedly invincible Athletics.

Now, 27 years later, they go for Rafer, the California Crackerjack, for his inspired performance in Moscow a week ago. Hitchcock couldn't have set the stage any better.

The stadium packed with 100,000 arrogant Russians, Rafer against the great Russian star and idol, Vasily Kuznetsov, whose 3,013 points in the decathlon last spring, was up for consideration as a new world's record.

Rafer met his man head on, before a savagely partisan audience, and licked him. Not only licked him, but drove to a new world's record of his own — 8,302 points.

Like every other American, I wish I could have been there. But even more, I wish Jesse Owen had been there to see Rafer at work. For had he seen, Jesse would at last have known what he did for me, and all the other of his countrymen, that afternoon in Berlin in 1936.

Like Rafer, Jesse was in the camp of the enemy. That day there were Germans and Hitler instead of Russians and Khrushchev. Jesse took the best the Germans and the world had to offer, and jumped and ran them into the stadium turf.

I remember Lawson Robertson of Pennsylvania, head coach of the American Olympic track and field team, talking about Jesse after he had gone to a new world's record in his final broad jump leap against the German champion, Long.

"Everybody in the stands — and that goes for Hitler and his gang — saw one of the few real champions of all time at work today. No one will forget Jesse, no matter how hard he tries."

And the same can be said of the crowd that watched Rafer. Once you have seen a champion meet a challenge head on, in the face of hostile folk, and meet it with the best effort of his life, the memory will last forever.

I have been fortunate enough to see quite a few inspired men lay it on the line.

There was Angel Brovelli, up until then just another halfback, and his rampage against a Fordham team in the Polo Grounds, when Fordham was a football giant, and St. Mary's its bitter rival.

There was Jesse Owens, a distinguished football referee, then the Little Boy Blue of the Yales, and his one-man rodeo against an Army eleven that figured to rend him limb from limb.

There was Ellsworth Vines, another lanky Californian, winning the national singles championship against Henri Cochet, one of France's Four Musketeers of tennis, on the greensward of Forest Hills.

There was Joe Louis in his second fight against Max Schmeling, the German who had not only defeated him in the first meeting, but, worse still, insulted him. The German paid for it. I can still hear his cry, half-pain, half-fright, as he felt the ring ropes against his back and knew there was no more retreating.

Rafer has joined great company. And he belongs there.

It's Up To You

While Liberals Urge More Fraternalization, Men Die

By HOWARD KERSHNER, L. H. D.

Before there are more conferences at the Summit, cultural exchanges or other civilities between our political leaders and the Kremlin Tyrants, we suggest that the following testimony be carefully considered:

"Berlin. A Lithuanian named Alfred Saunus has provided direct information concerning the hitherto secret existence of special far northern Soviet slave camps from which Saunus is the first inmate to escape to the West. North from Solikamsk at the foot of the Urals stretch a string of camps holding principally Baltic plus some Ukrainians. Many of them are wildly deformed, as a result of interrogation methods that included breaking fingers, arms and legs which were left to heal (if the victims lived) without being set or otherwise treated medically. Saunus himself is heavily marked by scars which were the aftermath of another inquisitorial practice: tying the prisoners with barbed wire, and then rolling them along the ground. In the winter of 1956-57 thousands of kidnapped Hungarian youth were brought into the camps near Vsesviatka, in one of Khrushchev's cultural exchanges."

National Review May 3, 1958. While Khrushchev smiles and our "liberals" urge more fraternalization, some 20 million political prisoners have perished or are slowly dying in Siberian prison camps from starvation, overwork, and torture. Numbered among them are several thousand Americans-forgotten men.

Instead of sending more delegations of students, ministers and others to Russia, we might work for the "cultural exchange" of these prisoners to be returned to their country. When they arrive we could gain from them more relevant information concerning Communist Russia than we get from our visiting delegations and our Summit conferences. Moreover, we shall gain a good understanding of what "peaceful coexistence" with Communist Russia holds in store for us.

On The Business Scene

United Press International
The nation's major railroads in June had estimated net income of $9 million dollars, against $7 million in the same month of 1957, the Association of American Railroads reported. Profits for the first half was estimated $25 million dollars, against $16 million in the corresponding period of 1957.

The Senate Finance Committee approved, with some modifications a bill designed to give tax relief to small business. The bill is expected to mean a tax loss to the government of about 260 million dollars. The House-approved measure would permit a fast write-off of 20 per cent of the cost of new and used equipment in the year of purchase.

Custom smelters cut the price of copper 1/2 cent to 26 1/2 cents a pound, reflecting a falling off in demand. The custom price now is the same as that charged by large U.S. producers.

Guide To Good Buys In Food

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Produce bins will provide about the best price tags for hot weather shoppers this weekend.
Peaches continue to hold the fruit spotlight, as supplies are being increased by shipments from the late-producing states. Summer vegetables are offered at favorable budget prices, and many meats are on the August list of protein foods for out-of-doors eating.

In addition to peaches, lemons, and limes, watermelons and cantaloupes are good buys at fruit counters, along with grapes and apples. Vegetables from nearby producing centers are in abundant supply, too, and include corn and snap beans, lettuce, cabbage, onions, tomatoes, potatoes, celery, eggplant, cucumbers, peppers, and squash. Some markets also will feature endive and escarole.

Protein buys for hot weather eating include ground beef, chuck steaks and roasts, smoked hams, and frankfurters. Poultry counters continue to offer bargain price tags on broilers, fryers, and turkeys.

It's The Personality That Counts, Says Nudist 'Zelda'

By SHERRIE KAHN
United Press International
GRANGER, Ind. (UPI)—Zelda fingered her necklace and said it's clothing, not the body, that is provocative.
"Here," she said, "it's the personality that counts."
Zelda is a nudist (they go by their first names only), and "here" is Sunny Haven recreation camp where 350 men, women and children frolicked in the altogether at the national convention of the American Sunbathers Assn.

peans take to nudism more naturally than Americans but organized nudism is not practiced as much behind the Iron Curtain as it was before World War II.
This is not because Communists have anything against going without clothing, he said, "I guess they just don't want people congregating in groups."

Good Crop Season Is Shaping Up

AUSTIN (UPI)—An "unusually good" crop season continues to shape up across Texas, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports.

Showers peppered north and northwest Texas where crops were still growing last week. Hot, open weather in central, southern and coastal Texas permitted maximum use of labor and machinery in harvesting mature crops. However, moisture was needed across the low rolling plains and cross timbers.

Showers brightened the outlook for the cotton crop in North and northwest Texas. First bales were ginned as far north as Waco. Picking in the coastal bend neared its peak. Valley gins ran full tilt baling that areas "excellent crop." Trans-Pecos prospects were rated "the best in years."
Remaining summer crop vegetables were reported in "good condition." However, the supply of melons exceeded market demand.
Other crops, mainly potatoes and onions, continued to move in good volume, and some seeding of winter crop carrots was started in South Texas.

Grass was green and growing over much of North Texas and in the Panhandle. Showers freshened grass in the Trans-Pecos, but more rain was needed. The same condition prevailed "south of a line about through Snyder - Fort Worth - Marshall, or about the southern two-thirds of the state," the USDA said. However, ample dry grass supplies were reported available in all areas except the Trans-Pecos. All classes of livestock were rated in generally good to excellent condition.

Gregory Peck Has A Problem

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Gregory Peck has a problem.
He figures only one of his pictures in every five is a success and he can't come up with a gimmick to improve his batting average.

"I'd like to do better," says Peck, "but it's not possible. Every time an actor accepts a role he's gambling his career. And when top roles come along they're not always available."
"Producers think of movies as a Brando picture, or a Cooper picture, or a Peck picture."
"For instance, Kirk Douglas and Burt Lancaster are generally cast in action films. Brando gets the heavy drama. Cary Grant has the light comedy field sewed up. Gary Cooper and John Wayne are picked for the strong, silent roles. "Maybe a producer thinks of me about the eighth time around, and by that time there isn't much left."
Peck admits his success is due to the one picture in five that hits the jackpot.
"Five or six poor movies in a row can hurt you badly," he said, "and a single disaster can finish you off altogether. 'Moby Dick' came close to being a disaster. "I owned 10 per cent of the picture, and I'm still waiting for the first dollar to roll in."
To combat poor roles in second-rate films Peck has formed his own production company. To celebrate his newest epic, "The Big Country," the actor is throwing a $20,000 party the night of the premiere.

Bit Parts: Debbie Reynolds has settled her squabble with MGM by signing a new contract and agreeing to star in "Good Girls Get Married." Red Skelton may soon be in orbit. He's discussing a space comedy with 20th Century-Fox. Rumor has it Sidney Poitier, Pearl Bailey and Dorothy Dandridge may walk out of "Porgy and Bess" in protest over Sam Goldwyn's firing of Director Rouben Mamoulian.

Jewels Real Eye-Catchers
Clad in our bathing suits, we drove through the gates. We expected the greeters, at least, to be clothed. But they were "au naturel."
Our credentials screened and bathing suits left behind, we toured the park with Zelda as our guide.
A lawyer from Virginia walked up and told Zelda, "My, you're looking wonderful."
"He means my jewelry," Zelda explained.
She said she wore pearl eyeglasses, earrings and a necklace to make herself noticed.
"Clothing calls attention to body taboos," she said.
Zelda recalled a young man who held a rapt discussion of religion and philosophy with a young singer he met at Zelda's nudist camp in Pennsylvania. Later, Zelda said, he confided:
"That girl has a wonderful mind, but she just doesn't have any sex appeal."
He changed his mind, Zelda said, when he saw the girl in clothes.
Communists Frown on Nudism
We strolled past groups of adults and children swimming and playing tennis, badminton and volleyball.
Our guides said most of the men were professional people who spent their lives in "the clothed world" as lawyers, doctors, teachers, ministers and priests.
The women were mostly housewives and mothers. The guides said the 350 represented 10,000 devotees of nudism from all parts of the United States, Canada, and a few foreign countries.
Botony, a German, said Euro-

Boy Given Up As Dead Recovers

GREENVILLE, S.C. (UPI)—A 10-year-old boy who had been given up as dead has recovered from an appendectomy.
The youth, Warren Crosby Haggood of Greenville, was found prostrate behind a service station Tuesday, authorities said. Station attendants, believing him dead, sent him to a funeral home.
Members of the mortuary staff detected signs of life and summoned police. The youth was rushed to a hospital.
Doctors found the boy was suffering from acute appendicitis and operated immediately. His condition was reported "fair" and medical attendants said chances of recovery were good.

JUST LIKE A HUSBAND
TULSA, Okla. (UPI)—William S. Clark forgot one detail when he raced off to the hospital in his car after his expecting wife got the message Wednesday.
Halfway to the hospital, he realized he had forgotten Mrs. Clark. He went back to get her, and their seven-pound boy was born at the hospital.
WERE THEY SURPRISED?
JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI)—The sheriff's office here received a call Wednesday from Brown County Sheriff Ray Masters, saying he was holding one of their prisoners 125 miles away.
The Johnson City authorities admitted they didn't know the man had escaped.
EACH TO HIS OWN
LONDON (UPI)—Asked why he slept on a bed of newspapers surrounded by 600 empty milk bottles in a rooming house, Ronald Baker, 25, told a magistrate Wednesday:
"I fancied it."
CHANGE COMES HARD
NEW CITY, N.Y. (UPI)—Assistant Postmaster William Madlener believes it's about time this town changed its name.
He said 200 letters destined for New York City reached New City each day, while twice that number reach New York instead of New City.
