Underpass Dedication Set

Dedication ceremonies for Pampa's new million-dollar Hobart Street Underpass will be staged at 2 p.m. Friday.

Yarborough To Attend Dedication

AUSTIN (UPI)—Sen. Ralph Yarborough has announced a tour of the South Plains and Panhandle area today and Friday, to "thank Texans of that area for their wonderful support and to stress the importance of the Nov. 4 election."

Yarborough said Wednesday he would fly to Lubbock this morning, with a luncheon address before the Kiwanis Club at 10:30 a.m. and a speech at the high school there at 2 p.m.

The senator scheduled a series of coffee meetings during the afternoon at Lockney, Floydada and Ralls, and a speech before the Crosby county Farmers Union at Crosbyton tonight.

Friday morning Yarborough will speak at the Dumas High School, moving on to Pampa for a noon dedication luncheon for a Highway 70 underpass.

Friday afternoon coffee meetings were scheduled at Miami and Canadian, and buffet dinner with supporters Friday night at Borger, where the senator will witness the Berger-Lubbock high school football game.

Yarborough will return to Austin Saturday.

with state and local officials expected to be on hand when the Honorable Marshall F. O. R. M. by, chairman of the State Highway Commission, snips the ribbon officially opening the convenient new Highway 70 structure. The ceremonies will take place on the south-side of the new underpass.

Besides State Highway Department and Sante Fe Railroad officials, representatives from eight cities through which Highway 70 runs will attend the underpass dedication and a special noon luncheon to precede the event. Visitors will come from Sweetwater, Roby, Rotan, Spur, Matador, Clarendon, Turkey and Perryton.

The new underpass was built at a cost of $1,125,319.73, and is considered one of the most modern and best lighted of its kind in this area.

The noon luncheon, sponsored by the Pampa Chamber of Commerce's Highway Committee, will be held in the Palm Room of the City Hall.

Senator Ralph Yarborough, making a tour of the South Plains and Panhandle, will also attend the luncheon and dedication. He will be met upon arrival by air in Amarillo Friday morning by a Pampa reception committee headed by County Judge Bruce Parker, and whisked back to Pampa for the dedication.

City Manager John Koontz suggests that the public park in the Hobart Street Park or on the former McLaughlin Grocery property for the dedication ceremony. From 1 p.m. until 3, Hobart will be blocked at Brown and at Rhame.

E. L. Henderson, president of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, will preside at the luncheon. The invocation will be by Rev. Dick Crews, pastor of the Pampa First Christian Church, and luncheon music will be rendered by Maxine Milliron, organist.

Fred Thompson, chairman of the C-C Highway Commission, will make the general introductions. Charles W. Smith will then introduce the District Highway Department officials and G. K. Reading, the local Highway Department men.

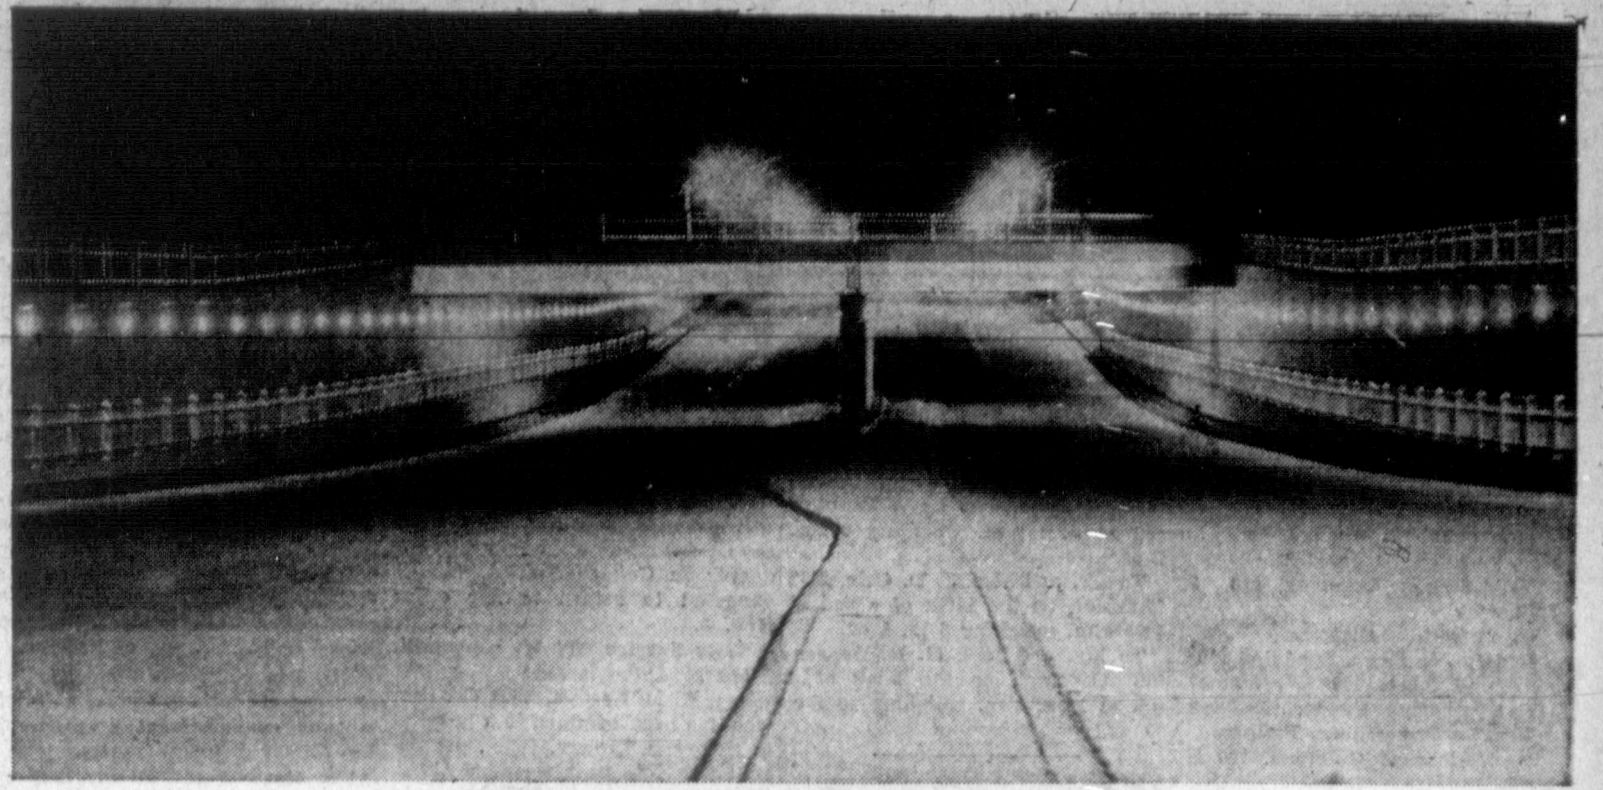

Special entertainment will be provided by the Milliron Trio.

made up of Marilyn Myatt, Barbara Lunford and Nancy Stevenson.

Mayor Lynn Boyd will introduce the speaker.

The Pampa Harvester Band, directed by W. R. Tregoe, will start playing at 1:45 south of the underpass. At 2 p.m. Thompson will call the meeting to order and the Band will present the National Anthem. Dr. Burgin Watkins, pastor of St. Paul Methodist Church, will make the invocation. Brief remarks are expected from Mayor Boyd, Judge Parker, G. R. Buchanan, general manager of Sante Fe and Judge Vance Gilbreath, president of State Highway 70 Association.

After his address, Formby will cut the ribbon, flanked by Mayor Boyd, Judge Parker, Senator Yarborough, Congressman Rogers, C. R. Buchanan and Judge Gilbreath.

US Links Defense With Nationalists

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI)—The United States and Nationalist China today linked the defense of the offshore islands with the defense of Formosa itself and expressed hope for the peaceful liberation of the Communist-held Chinese mainland.

A joint communique issued at the end of three days of talks between Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek reaffirmed the solidarity of the two nations in the face of renewed Communist aggression — the new bombardment of Quemoy.

The communique took no note of repeated rumors of a rift between Dulles and Chiang — officially denied by spokesmen of both sides — and attacked the Communists for breaking the Formosa Strait cease-fire and turning the Dulles-Chiang talks from peace to possible war.

The three days of conferences "dealt largely with military aspects" because the Communists broke the cease-fire on the eve of the conference with a heavy bombardment of Quemoy, the communique said. The bombardment continued today almost without letup.

The statement said it had been hoped that the Chiang-Dulles conversations "could have been given to measures which would have contributed to stabilizing the actual situation of non-military."

The joint communique made these other points: —The two governments reaffirmed their solidarity in the face of the new Chinese Communist aggression now manifesting itself in the bombardment of the Quemoy's.

—"It was recognized that under present conditions the defense of the Quemoy's together with the defense of Taiwan (Formosa) and the Pescadore's."

—"The two governments took note of the fact the Chinese Communist with the backing of the Soviet Union avowedly seek to conquer Taiwan, to eliminate free China and to expel the United States to abandon its collective (See LINKS Page 2)

Contributions Are Flooding In Fast

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—Dr. T. J. Raney, president of the Little Rock Private School Corp. said today that contributions to his private, segregated institution are coming in at "a faster rate than ever before."

Raney said the increased flow of donations makes the $600,000 estimated operating cost for the complete school year "seem perhaps not quite so formidable as before."

He said he believed letters sent all over the country signed by him and Gov. Orval Faubus recently appealing for funds had been doing "a lot of good."

The school is presently entirely dependent upon donations but Faubus has hinted he may get the Arkansas Legislature to vote money for the school.

Seniors, 240 strong, held their first day of classes in the one-time Methodist orphanage Wednesday. W. C. Brashears, private school superintendent, termed the day "fine and according to schedule."

About 245 juniors registered Wednesday although that number was not official, and sophomores will sign up today. Neither of the two lower grades will be able to attend school until facilities and teachers are found. Twenty-five to 30 more teachers are needed, Brashears said.

BUS PLUNGES OFF MOUNTAIN

TOLUCA, Mexico (UPI)—A crowded suburban bus skidded off a mountain road near here Tuesday and plunged 200 feet into the Tlaxcoac River, probably killing 25 of the 27 persons aboard, it was reported today.

The Communist government gave the people a grim reminder of its hard and unyielding power Wednesday night by refusing an American request that Josef Cardinal Mindszenty be permitted to leave the country.

Reports also circulated that several hundred persons have been taken into protective custody during the past three days in a new campaign of intimidation designed to prevent trouble today.

The government identified two prisoners as Ferenc Mercey, a former university professor, and Sandor Fekete, a former journalist. They were picked up Saturday for "anti-state activities."

Red Troops Alerted But the Communists used more than intimidation to prevent any resurgence of the violent outburst that toppled them from power for those few short days in October, 1956.

Police patrols have been strengthened, and it was understood that worker militia units were ordered on a day-long alert, ready for action at any moment.

In addition, the Communists counted on the 50,000 Soviet troops still in Hungary to make any outbreak useless.

Reports from Budapest said the people greeted the anniversary with an apathy generated by two years of arrests and executions.

The government of Communist party leader Janos Kadar has admitted executing 138 "counter-revolutionaries," but unofficial reliable reports put the figure at 2,000.

Safe in U.S. Legation During the same period, other thousands of persons have been sent to labor camps and prisons. Some reports said 20,000 political prisoners were being held.

The most famous executions were those of Imre Nagy, who was premier at the time of the revolt, and Gen. Pal Maleter, the "hero of Budapest."

Hungary Marks 2nd Anniversary

VIENNA (UPI)—Hungary marked the second anniversary of the Hungarian revolt today with bitter resignation and no hope of smashing the chains of Communist oppression.

Reports also circulated that several hundred persons have been taken into protective custody during the past three days in a new campaign of intimidation designed to prevent trouble today.

Army Gives Up Hope On Orbit For Beacon

De Gaulle Offers Rebs Safe Conduct

PARIS (UPI)—Premier Charles de Gaulle offered safe conduct today to any Algerian rebel group that wants to come to Paris to negotiate peace.

The move was the farthest yet De Gaulle has gone in his public statements aimed at laying the basis for a peaceful settlement of the bloody and costly Algerian rebellion against France that will be 4 years old on Nov. 1.

At his first news conference since he came to power this summer, De Gaulle also: —Announced that "France will soon have her own atomic bomb."

—Refused to lend his name to any political party in France on the Nov. 23 and Nov. 30 parliamentary elections.

Balloon Satellite Develops 'Upper Stage Difficulties'

By RICHARD F. ROPER United Press International

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—America's 13th attempt to launch a satellite ended in failure early today because of "some difficulty with the upper stages" of its launching vehicle.

The Army disclosed it gave up hope that the "Beacon" balloon satellite had orbited only two hours and 40 minutes after its Jupiter C. launcher blasted off late Wednesday night.

Brig. Gen. John A. Barclay, commander of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency at Huntsville, Ala., said there was "some difficulty with the upper stages" of the launching vehicle, but "we haven't determined precisely what went wrong."

Dr. Jack Froehlich of the Jet Propulsion Laboratories at the California Institute of Technology said that the transmitter in the payload "started giving abnormal signals after about 110 seconds, but we don't know whether this was caused by difficulties in the transmitter or the rocket."

It was the 13th satellite launching attempt since the first Navy Vanguard blew up just off the launching pad last Dec. 7, and the try proved bitterly unlucky. If the gleaming inflatable balloon had gone into orbit, Americans would have been able to point to a man-made moon that rivaled in brilliance "the stars of the Big Dipper."

Third Unsuccessful Attempt But the novel experiment, aimed at gathering information on the density of the earth's atmosphere at more than 400 miles up, apparently ended in failure. It was the third satellite-launching attempt in a row that did not make the grade.

It also was a blow to the Army's prestige and to that of the Jupiter-C, which had a record of three successful Explorer satellite launchings in five tries. The Army has described the rocket as its "old reliable," but it let its makers down Wednesday night.

Probe Of Crash Is Launched

ANZIO, Italy (UPI)—British and Italian air experts today began an investigation of "the crash that shouldn't have happened"—the collision of a British airliner and an Italian jet fighter which killed 31 persons over this World War II beachhead.

The 26 passengers killed in the crash included an American heiress and the Briton who had been her husband for less than 24 hours.

The collision, in broad daylight and crystal-clear weather, touched off an immediate controversy. The Italian air force charged that the airliner was off course, while British airline agents argued that it was well within the charted London-to-Naples airline.

Eleven Italian investigators, led by air force Gen. Domenico Ludovico, met here this morning to try to determine the cause of the crash. Britain was represented by Anthony Milward, president of the Nationalized British European Airways Corporation.

The condition of the wreckage indicated that the U. S. made F84 fighter ripped into the side of the BEA turboprop Viscount, exploding its pressurized cabin and killing all of its 31 passengers and crewmen.

The air force pilot's parachute saved him from death, but he was critically injured. He told interrogators in a hospital in nearby Nettuno that "I don't know what happened."

Victims of the crash included Mr. and Mrs. Desmond Cubitt, an American heiress and her British bridegroom of a day. Mrs. Cubitt was the former Diana Muckerman, of New York City, a granddaughter of the late publisher Bernard MacFadden.

Charges Not Pressed Against Auto Prowlers

No charges are being brought against the 15-year-old Pampa boys involved in a car-prowling incident at Friday night's Amarillo-Pampa football game in Amarillo.

Juvenile Officer H. A. Doggett said today he talked with the boys and their parents. He said there were indications that several boys were involved in what happened at Amarillo, not just the two arrested. He reported that the boys' parents will make restitution for the damages reported.

Amarillo police arrested the boys Friday night on the Amarillo Stadium parking lot, inside a parked convertible. The car's top had been left open, and in the youth's possession were three neckties, a cigarette lighter, electric shaver and a bicycle chain, stolen earlier in the day.

Ike Returns From His Barnstorming

By MERRIMAN SMITH United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower returned to Washington today from a hard-hitting, 5,300-mile political campaign tour and was told his barnstorming on behalf of Republican candidates was "terrific."

The President, who stepped off his plane in a chipper mood, remarked that the vigorous swing which took him to the West Coast and Midwest was "worth it."

"If there was any pessimism among Republicans, I didn't find it," he told members of his staff and Cabinet members who met him at the airport when he arrived from Chicago.

GOP National Chairman Meade ALCORN grasped Eisenhower's hand in greeting and said: "Welcome home, Mr. President. You were terrific."

Eisenhower, before heading for the White House, arranged a meeting to see ALCORN, possibly this afternoon, to make plans for further campaigning in the congressional fight and to evaluate results of the western trip.

The chief executive himself was convinced his one week swing had helped Republicans in the battle for control of Congress.

His tough-talking trip won him acclaim from party ranks as a "new" and "fighting" Eisenhower who is willing and able to heap scorn and ridicule on the Democrats.

City Mgr. Returns From Dallas Confab

"California leads in the city manager form of government. Michigan runs a close second. Texas is third and on the way up," Pampa City Manager John Koozitz said upon his return from the International City Managers Meeting, ending Wednesday in Dallas. Texas has 123 city managers and is about to add nine more, Koozitz stated. City managers from 44 states and Canada came to Dallas Saturday for the 44th annual conference, celebrating the 50th anniversary of the city manager profession. Five Hundred and seventy-four city managers, including Koozitz, were registered. Koozitz said that in one of the discussion groups a manager called attention to Pampa as one of the cleanest, most up to date cities in Texas.

Performance "Not Normal" In a statement issued 50 minutes after the rocket streaked up, project officials said it was "unknown whether or not an orbit will be achieved." The statement said visual observation would be needed to determine whether Beacon had started circling the earth. But two and one-half hours later, the Army said radio signals from the instrument package in the satellite casing showed the Jupiter-C's performance was "not normal," and that it was "practically certain" the experiment was not successful and an orbit was not achieved. "The Army would not comment further. But it appeared any of a number of things could have gone wrong. One of the Jupiter-C's upper stages may have failed to ignite. The fourth stage may have fired at the wrong angle, or the rocket may never have achieved the 18,000-mile-an-hour speed needed to attain the orbit.

Second Stolen Bicycle Reported

A girl's blue and white Ranssatta bicycle was reported stolen Wednesday by Helen Farber, 420 N. West. The 26-inch bike was a just two months old. Police Chief Jim Conner said the stolen bicycle was the second reported during the past week. On Oct. 15, Ralph McClure, a pupil at Woodrow Wilson elementary school, told police his boy's Montgomery-Ward bike was taken from the school grounds. Pampa police would appreciate the help of residents in locating both bicycles.

Predicts Income Increase

He predicted personal income would rise to new all-time records without price increases if Americans reject the "counterfeit logic" of Democratic "radicals." During the recent recession, Eisenhower charged, the Democrats would have tossed private enterprise into a "federal wheelchair" of hysterical government spending. Instead, he said, the steady policies of the administration prevailed and now the nation's economy is on its way up from coast to coast.

Before the President started his campaign swing last week, he had spoken repeatedly of apathy and defeatism within his own party and was concerned by the sluggish flow of campaign contributions. He rolled up his sleeves and started stalling at the Democrats in the first real public political battling he has undertaken since his own re-election in 1956.

Finds Great Enthusiasm

As a result, he told Wednesday night's audience of 4,700 GOP workers gathered at a $10-a-plate dinner that he was finding great enthusiasm within the party for the November battle with the Democrats. He did not go as far as to predict that this enthusiasm would produce a Republican victory next month but he said hard work within the GOP could assure the United States of "pound, efficient, progressive, trustworthy government."

Eisenhower's next scheduled political speech is Oct. 27 at Charleston, W. Va. He will speak the same night in Pittsburgh, covering the east by radio and television.

He goes to New York on Oct. 28, ostensibly to speak at the National Football Foundation that night, but also to operate politically in the important New York state campaign.

AEC

(Continued From Page 1) had held its 12th shot in its current series—the AEC again indicated the series would be expanded. The first shot held Wednesday, dubbed Socorro, exploded at 8:30 a.m. c.d.t. with a force equal to about 10,000 tons of TNT. Its bright flash was visible from Los Angeles 300 miles away, and its blast was heard as far away as St. George, Utah, about 110 miles. The heat wave from the device which packed a wallop half the size of the bomb which demolished Hiroshima was clearly felt by reporters 11 miles away. Socorro was followed in three hours by Wrangell which also had an explosive force of 10,000 tons of TNT and like Socorro was exploded as it dangled from a balloon 1,500 feet above the desert floor. The final shot of the day code-named Rushmore flared at 6:40 p.m. c.d.t. and was a "baby" shot with a force of between 1,000 and 2,000 tons of TNT. A shot dubbed Stanford was set to be exploded from a balloon today at 6 p.m. c.d.t. It was scheduled to be followed Friday by a device named Meema.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Court officials had to change the wording of a warrant under which Doyle Dixon was arrested. The warrant accused him of being "dumb to cruel animals."

SHAGGY CAT STORY

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A top government official said the stock market boom reminded him of the old story of the man who said he sold his dog for $28,000.

A friend, somewhat incredulous, asked if the man had received cash.

"No two $12,500 cats," was the reply.

TRADING STAMP PRIZES

NEW YORK (UPI) — Members of the Sales Executives Club are all set to cash in on the trading stamp craze.

One million stamps — said to be worth up to $5,000 — were given away in drawings at the club's weekly lunch Tuesday.

Scale Moon House Unveiled By Chicago Engineering Firm

NEW YORK (UPI) — A scale model of a "moon building" in which man could live out of this world was unveiled here Wednesday by a Chicago engineering firm.

The lunar housing project is a cigar-shaped corrugated metal cylinder topped by an umbrella to keep off the rain of meteoric dust.

The building is designed to float on the several miles of dust which may cover the surface of the moon. It can be anchored if the moon proves solid.

The model was designed and engineered by the Wexler Building Corporation of America, Chicago, under the technical direction of Dr. John S. Rinehart of the Colorado School of Mines and former associate director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory, Cambridge, Mass. It was displayed at a news conference in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Rinehart said he believed man could put such a building on the moon in 10 years. It would have to be taken there in sections by cargo rocket ships.

The moon building would be 340 feet long, 160 feet wide and 65 feet high. It would be anchored in the dust by heavy weights suspended by cables.

Space inside would be divided into: Living quarters; physics, chemistry and biological laboratories; a control tower for communication, meteorological studies, earth observations, astronomical observations and traffic control, air conditioning, heating, power and refrigeration plants; oxygen producing units; extreme temperature regulating devices; water supply and sewage processing plants; and machine shop and equipment maintenance areas.

The building was designed to withstand temperatures ranging from 214 degrees Fahrenheit at lunar midday to a midnight reading of 243 degrees below zero.

Ramps and stairs were built at a much steeper angle than in earth buildings because the reduction in gravity on the moon would permit man to lift himself with one-sixth the effort required on earth.

There would be no windows because ultraviolet radiation would discolor them.

American Women Not Good Cooks!

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — The average American woman knows little about selecting food and preparing meals, according to culinary expert George L. Wanzel.

She shows poor taste in picking out meats and vegetables, Wanzel told members of the Tennessee Restaurant Assn., and uses too much hard fat in cooking.

"By the time she learns to be a really good cook," he said, "her husband has attained business success and they can afford to eat out."

SECOND OFFICER FACES COURT MARTIAL TODAY

FT. JACKSON, S.C. (UPI) — A second non-commissioned officer of a Ft. Jackson training company faces a court-martial Thursday on charges of mistreating recruits similar to those that brought conviction Tuesday to the company first sergeant.

Sfc Charles L. Moman, 28, Empire, Ala., will be tried on charges of forcing indignities on trainees of Company B, 4th Battalion, 1st Training Regiment. His attorney, William H. Townsend, was expected to ask a delay to prepare the case more fully.

M. Sgt. George R. Sovie, Ogdensburg, N.Y., was convicted Tuesday of charges that included forcing a recruit to eat a dollar bill and ordering three recruits to dunk another's head down in a slimy mess hall grease trap. He was sentenced to a reduction in grade to sergeant first class from master sergeant and fined $75 a month for six months.

His conviction is subject to automatic review.

Moman, 28, is field first sergeant of the training company. The field first sergeant is the non-commissioned officer in charge of training exercises.

Now there's an Impala Sport Sedan... one of Chevy's full series of Impalas for '59.

NEW ENGINEERING THAT GOES DOWN DEEP-'59 CHEVY

It's new in a way no car has ever been new before. Beautifully new—from grille to rear deck. Sensibly new—from its wide-stance stability to its visibility. And new in important engineering refinements it brings for the first time to the low-price field.

High-Compression V8's give a choice of standard 283-cubic-inch V8 and seven others,* including 348-cubic-inch engines with compression ratios all the way to 11 to 1.

Engine Cooling Covers, housing new parking and directional lights, circulate an extra stream of cooling air under Chevy's hood.

Easy-Rate Steering is the next thing to power steering for ease and maneuverability. Overall ratio is now 28 to 1.

New Area of Visibility provide up to 50 percent more seeing area. Windows are larger on most models and the new Vista-Panoramic windshield curves back to let you see traffic lights and other overhead objects. There's Safety Plate Glass all around, of course.

Comfort Tailored Interiors, with door upholstery extending snug to the windows, invite you to travel in tasteful elegance.

New Hi-Thrift Six gets up to 10 percent more miles a gallon, gives more zip at normal speeds.

Magic-Mirror Finish — with long-lasting acrylic lacquer base—requires no waxing or polishing for up to three years!

More Head Room—up to 1 1/2 inches—adds to your comfort in the stylish new Chevrolet.

Gentler Air Ride*, superbly engineered to combine easy action with rugged durability, takes ripples out of the roughest roads.

Wide-Stance Stability—a result of the '59 Chevrolet's wider tread and lower center of gravity—brings you a new road-hugging feel.

Larger Luggage Compartment on sedans and sport models allows extra room for long trips. Station wagons are roomier, too.

New Tyrex Cord Tires roll easier, last longer, make driving safer. Wheels and tires are balanced as a unit at the factory!

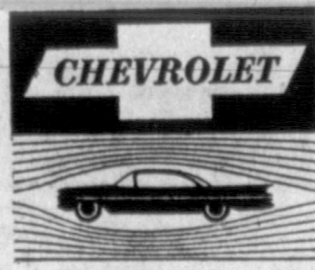

Stiffer, Quieter Underbody insulates you from the roughest roads, helps muffle noise and vibration to make driving more serene.

High Road Clearance helps take you over the roughest roads. Approach angle has been increased for clearing inclines.

Superior Rear Suspension, with lateral control bar, improves handling and ride. You'll feel the difference on any road!

New Safety-Master Brakes last up to 66% longer. They're bigger, better cooled for safer, surer stopping.

More Hip Room—up to 4.2 inches in front, 3.3 inches in rear—gives you spaciousness that rivals costliest cars.

NO TRICK TO THESE TREATS...

Goodies For 'Goblins'

(Courtesy Clark Condit.)

You simply melt wild cherry caramels, banana caramels or peanut blossom kisses to make the candy coating for these jack-o'-lantern apples and trick-or-treat cereal balls. The chewy concoctions have distinctive new flavor and eye catching color certain to delight Halloween "tricksters". Perky faces are made with raisins, miniature marshmallows and coconut.

These Treats Will Be "Bell-Ringers" On Erie Eve When Goblins Come A-Calling

Bewitch your youngsters and their migratory pals on Halloween with these tooth-some jack-o'-lantern apples and trick-or-treat cereal balls.

They are easy to get ready for a school or home costume party, or those "special Bell-ringers" on the galk day. Just pick up a few packages of the wholesome caramel candies that now come in interesting flavors and colors, some small, rosy apples and ready-to-eat cereal and nuts to make both treats.

No tricky candy recipes must be followed, and no special decorating prowess is required.

To vary the sweets, however, select two or three flavors of Clark's caramels — wild cherry, banana or peanut blossom kisses. Each is a popular flavor with youthful goblins and ghosts.

JACK-O-LANTERN APPLES
Butter the top part of a double boiler. Place pan over boiling water and add two 8-ounce packages of either banana caramels, wild cherry caramels or peanut blossom kisses. Melt caramels, stirring frequently. Remove double boiler from heat and with spatula swirl sauce on medium size apples impaled on wooden skewers. Set apples upright on waxed paper. Form eyes, nose and mouth by pressing raisins, currants or miniature marshmallows in appropriate places on apples. Press a top-notch of shredded coconut into caramel apple around base of stick. Place in refrigerator till firm. Makes six.

Reliable Casserole Excellent Standby

An old reliable for a family casserole is macaroni, either with cheese, seafood or beef. Here is a Borden Kitchen tested recipe for Beef and Macaroni Casserole in which the sauce is made with instant nonfat dry milk. It is an excellent standby for the food budget for this recipe provides six hearty servings for only about 36 cents per serving.

BEEF AND MACARONI CASSEROLE

(Makes 6 to 8 servings)

- 1/2 cup butter
- 1 cup finely chopped onion
- 1/2 cup finely chopped celery
- 2 (3-oz.) cans sliced mushrooms, drained
- 1 pound ground beef
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 2 tablespoons tomato paste
- 1/2 cups liquefied instant Starlac nonfat dry milk
- 1 cup uncooked elbow macaroni, cooked according to package directions

Melt butter in large saucepan over medium heat; add onion and celery. Sauté until tender. Stir in mushrooms and beef; sauté until beef is brown, stirring occasionally. Reduce heat. Add flour, salt, pepper and tomato paste; mix well. Add liquefied instant Starlac nonfat dry milk gradually; heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Combine with macaroni; pour into 1 1/2 quart casserole. Bake in moderate oven (350 degree F.) until macaroni is browned, about 15 minutes.

Spicy Braised Beef Seasoned To Taste

"Anything you can do, I can do better," is the title of a song which might well be the theme of American homemakers, and the Texas Beef Council is this month helping them to prove the point.

When the recipe says "season to taste," she can season to her own family's taste, which is something not even the most expensive restaurant can do.

This recipe serves 6:

SPICED-BRAISED BEEF

- 3 lb. beef chuck (boneless)
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 teaspoon dry mustard
- 2 teaspoons poultry seasoning
- 2 teaspoons brown sugar
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 2 tablespoons cooking oil or shortening
- 1 tablespoon cider vinegar
- 1 small onion, diced
- 2 cups water (approximately)

Cut beef chuck into 1- to 2-inch cubes. Mix dry ingredients together. Coat beef with flour mixture and brown in hot fat in heavy skillet or Dutch oven saving the remaining flour mixture. Add vinegar, onions and 1 cup of water. Cover skillet and bake in preheated 325 degree F. oven for approximately 2 hours or until tender, adding remaining water 1/2 cup at a time as necessary. Thicken beef mixture with the remaining flour, taste and add seasonings as desired.

Here Is Honey Of Idea For Serving Sweets During National Honey Week

HONEY IN VARIOUS WAYS

What qualities do you as a homemaker expect of foods you serve your family? Do you demand that food be pure and easy to digest? What additional qualities make a food even more desirable? Do you choose a food that can be served to all members of the family, that adapts itself to a variety of uses, and that has eye and taste appeal?

If your answer is a firm "yes" to these questions, then Honey is the food that can well serve you. Now during National Honey Week, October 27 to November 2, you can get acquainted with this superb food.

Honey is a natural sweet, pure and safe to use. Bacteria which harm human beings cannot even grow in Honey. It is thus safe food for use in infant feeding.

Because Honey is largely made up of simple sugars that are immediately absorbed by the body, it puts no tax upon the digestive system. For this reason also it is excellent for the baby's diet. It is likewise a good source of quick energy for those active in work and play.

You can use Honey in so many ways that your meals need never grow monotonous. What is still a greater advantage, Honey does not deteriorate if kept in a dry place of average temperature even for a long period of time.

What are some of those uses? Honey can be used as a spread for bread, biscuits, waffles, and wheatcakes. Honey is delicious with fresh fruits at breakfast time. Honey is good in an eggnog or fruit drink for mid meal or bedtime snacks. Honey is excellent in cooking, as when used to glaze vegetables and meats. Honey is superb in baking, because since Honey tends to absorb and retain moisture, it will keep the baked goods from drying out. Honey lends its tasty goodness to canned fruits, to jellies, and to marmalades.

To convince yourself of this all-around goodness of Honey as a food, try a few of the following kitchen-tested recipes.

HONEY APPLE CRISP

- 4 cups sliced apples
- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1/2 cup Honey
- 1 cup flour
- 1/2 cup brown sugar, well packed
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup butter

Spread sliced apples in a 1 1/2 quart heat resistant glass utility dish. Sprinkle with granulated sugar and lemon juice; pour Honey over all. Mix flour, brown sugar, and salt in a heat resistant glass bowl. Work in butter as for biscuits, making a crumb-like mixture. Spread flour mixture over apples. Bake in moderate oven 375 degrees F., about 40 minutes, or until apples are tender and crust is crisply browned. If desired, garnish with tiny cheese "apples", and serve warm with plain cream or with whipped cream topped with a dash of ground cinnamon. Yield:

about six servings.

CHEESE "APPLES"

- 1/2 pound American process cheese
- 6 whole clove stems
- 6 miniature mint leaves

Roll cheese into six small balls. Stick clove stems and tiny mint leaf into each "apple"; color with vegetable coloring.

HONEYED APPLES AND CRANBERRIES

- 6 medium-sized apples
- 1/2 lb. (2 1/2 cups) cranberries
- 3/4 cups water
- 3/4 cup Honey
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 cinnamon sticks

Pare and core apples and place in flat-bottomed pan. Add cranberries and water and simmer 5 minutes, turning apples once during cooking period. Add remaining ingredients. Simmer 15 to 20 minutes longer, or until apples are tender. (Turn apples carefully during cooking so they are evenly red.) Remove apples to dish in which they are to be served, skim the cranberry sauce, and pour around apples. Cool. Cover tightly and place in refrigerator until ready to use. Approximate yield: 8-10 portions.

Cinderella Coach For Party Fare

Any Cinderella would hate to cut this party cake, but remember it turns to a pumpkin at midnight. Use it as the centerpiece, it's both decoration and dessert.

CINDERELLA'S COACH

Make up 3 packages of Dromedary Pound Cake Mix according to the directions on the package for a Pound Cake Ring. When cold frost lavishly with icing (your own or a mix), tinted orange. Draw the tip of a spoon from lower edge of cake up over sides and into center all around to form fluted pumpkin shape. For the stem: Ice Nabisco Vanilla Wafers with green tinted icing, stack in center of cake. Ice outside of stack and run lines of fork from bottom to top to form ridges. Make wheels of Chocolate Fudge Sandwiches, coachman's seat and door to coach of Swiss Creme Sandwiches. Door has gumdrop trim. Barmum's Animals Crackers work with cocktail picks pull the coach with reins of ribbon. Fashion a whimsical coachman from pipe cleaners and a scrap of ribbon.

TRICK OR TREAT CEREAL BALLS

(Makes Eight)

- 1 8-ounce package wild cherry or banana caramels
 - 2 teaspoons water
 - 2 cups crisp rice cereal
 - 1/2 cup salted Spanish peanuts
- Butter the top part of double boiler. Place pan over boiling water and add caramels and water. Heat until caramels melt, stirring frequently. Mix together cereal and nuts in a well buttered bowl. Pour hot sauce over mixture and toss with fork just enough to coat cereal. With buttered hands, gather and form into about 2-inch balls. Place each ball in a 2-inch Halloween trimmed nut cup.

Baked Veal Steak Something Special

Here is a recipe similar to Veal Parmesan except that it's oven-baked. If you are planning to have guests and want to serve something extra special — with the least possible last minute preparation, why not serve a complete main course from the oven. Perhaps baked zucchini or scalloped tomatoes, and cooked noodles combined with a parsley white sauce and oven baked. For a starter serve canned minestrone or ravioli. For dessert crackers and cheese is always a delicious dessert — fruit and cookies. Then you will want plenty of hot coffee. Perhaps expresso or double-strength coffee served in demitasse cups.

BAKED VEAL STEAK WITH MUSHROOMS

- 1 1/2 lb. veal steak, 1/2-inch thick
- 1 teaspoon kitchen bouquet
- 1/4 cup fat
- 1/4 cup flour
- 6-oz. can sliced broiled mushrooms

1 1/2 cups milk
1/2 teaspoon onion salt
1/2 teaspoon celery seed
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1 tablespoon Parmesan cheese

Brush veal on both sides with kitchen bouquet. Melt fat in skillet over moderate heat and brown steak on both sides, about 10 minutes. Remove steak to shallow baking dish 12 x 8. Stir flour into fat in skillet. Add contents of can of mushrooms, milk and seasonings. Cook, stirring constantly until sauce thickens and is smooth. Stir in cheese. Pour over meat and bake in a preheated 325 degree oven 1 hour or until meat is tender. Remove from oven and serve immediately.

Makes 4 servings.

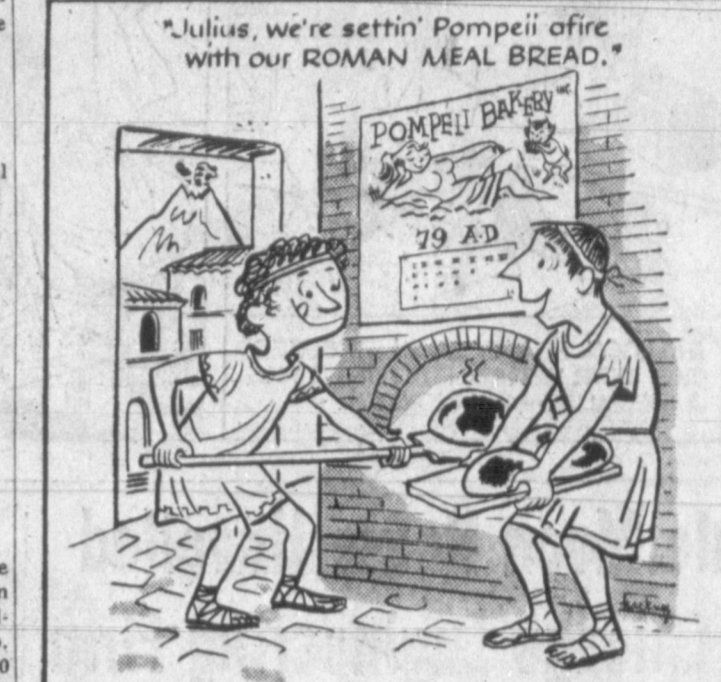

Three-minute hot lunch suggestions from the Texas Beef Council: slice cold leftover roast on a hot plate and ladle on very hot gravy. Or serve cold sliced beef on toasted buns with your favorite hot barbecue sauce.

Quick-Cooking Rice Used As Basis For Glamorous And Nourishing Casserole

In the Caribbean Islands a favorite combination is that of beans and rice. Combined in casseroles and stews they offer the high protein of dried beans with the blandness of rice. Here a quick-cooking rice cereal is used as a base for a savory bean mixture in a Frijole Casserole that's both glamorous and nourishing. Serve it with sliced cucumbers and raw vegetable relishes.

FRIJOLE LUNCHEON CASSEROLES

- 2 cups water
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 cup quick-cooked rice cereal (cream of rice)
 - 1 egg beaten
 - 1/2 cup butter
 - 2 tablespoons fat
 - 1/2 cup thinly sliced onion
 - 1/2 cup diced green pepper
 - 1/2 cup diced celery
 - 1 teaspoon kitchen bouquet
 - 1 lb. 4-oz. can kidney beans, drained
 - 1/2 cup seedless raisins
 - 8-oz. can tomato sauce
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 - 1 teaspoon chili powder
 - 1/2 cup grated American Cheese
- Bring water and salt to boil in saucepan. Sprinkle in cereal gradually so that boiling does not stop. Cook, stirring constantly for 30 seconds. Turn off heat, cover and let stand 3 minutes. Stir cereal into

Guests Rally Round Texas-Size Stew

Crisp Fall evenings in Texas tingle the air with excitement — razzle-dazzle football passes, waving pennants, deep-throated cheers for the home team — and the tantalizing aroma of hickory chips curling over glowing coals in the grill.

Smart Texas hostesses partially cook a Texas-sized pot of stew in the kitchen, then rally their guests in the back yard around the barbecue grill where the men can knowingly discuss end runs and split-T formations while curls of hickory smoke add the final sparkle of flavor to the simmering stew.

Served with buttered rolls and wedges of apple pie kept warm on the edge of the grill; this recipe serves 6:

COOK OUT BEEF STEW

- 2 pounds beef stew meat
 - 2 tablespoons flour
 - 3 tablespoons fat or drippings
 - 2 teaspoons salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 - water
 - 6 small potatoes
 - 6 small carrots
 - 6 small onions
- In the kitchen, roll the meat in flour and brown in hot fat. Season with salt and pepper and add water to cover. Simmer over low heat about 1 hour. At the outdoor grill, add the potatoes, carrots and onions and continue cooking until the meat and vegetables are tender, about 30 minutes.

South went right up with dummy's king of spades. He had nothing to gain by playing low. East cashed the ace and queen and followed with the ace of diamonds. West played the eight and East continued the suit whereupon South went right up with his king and proceeded to make the hand by means of a squeeze against West.

All he did was to lead a trump to dummy, ruff dummy's last spade with a high trump and play out the entire trump suit.

He discarded his ten of diamonds on dummy's last trump and West had to unguard his queen of diamonds, whereupon the ace, king and jack of clubs were all good.

All very easy if you have seen all the cards and to all intents and purposes South had. East had passed originally and had already shown up with a spade suit headed by the ace and queen and the ace of diamonds. Give East one other queen and he would have opened the bidding.

Incidentally, East had chucked the hand. If he had led a low squeeze.

Term Explained

The term "love" in a tennis match comes from the French "l'oeuf," meaning "egg" or "zero." When tennis came to England from France, the term was spelled "love."

TV Bandwagon Slates Visit

AMARILLO (Sp) — A real old-fashioned bandwagon from KFDD-TV, star-spangled with personalities well-known to area viewers will reach Pampa at approximately 5 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 25, to stage a scintillating street spectacle, cavorting at curbside in the heart of Pampa.

The purpose of the Bandwagon Brigade of KFDD-TV is to take the folks from the station through the screen direct to the folks in the living room, den, or kitchen, and Ed Moore, general manager, stated that it is the sincere desire of the KFDD personnel that they may be able to express their gratitude to their many loyal watchers and listeners in person.

Among those KFDD-TV personalities who will be on the caravan are Warren Anderson, Billy Briggs and his Band, Ralph Wayne, Dog Raines and many others.

The KFDD-TV Bandwagon Brigade is making 15 stops in Panhandle towns on successive Saturdays beginning on Oct. 25, and is looking forward to its visit in Pampa.

Meats, Poultry To Have Good Prices

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Food shoppers with an eye on the budget will find numerous good buys at their favorite marketing centers this weekend.

Broilers, fryers, and pork lead the protein food parade, but some markets will have features in chuck and rib roasts, as well as ground beef.

Medium and small eggs continue a best buy this weekend, and cheeses will stand out as good values also.

Among the vegetables, shoppers will have a fairly wide variety. They include cabbage, potatoes, sweet potatoes, lettuce, cauliflower, carrots, squash of several varieties, snap beans, celery, tomatoes and spinach.

Fruit bins will offer such popular items as apples, from this year's bumper crop, grapes, cranberries, and pears. Western oranges will be featured at some markets, along with grapefruit coming in from Florida in increasing quantities.

Among the best buys in fish will be shrimp, fish sticks, and canned tuna.

Rebels May Be Girding For Attack

HAVANA (UPI) — Travelers from Santiago have reported that intensified rebel activity around the big eastern provincial capital suggests the insurgents may be preparing to emerge from hiding and attempt a frontal attack on loyal forces defending the city.

The only actual violence reported this week was attacks on two trains, in which one person was killed and five were injured.

However, the travelers say sizeable rebel bands have been sighted on the heights surrounding the city and that more than a miles-of-telephone-wire have been rebel communications net.

GOP Head Calls On Texas Demos

HOUSTON (UPI) — State GOP Chairman Thad Hutcheson has called on Texas Democrats to repudiate Paul Butler, the Democratic National Party chairman.

Hutcheson said that Butler and former President Harry Truman had "invited" southern Democrats out of the party. Hutcheson called this "inscience," and said if Texans can take it they had "better forget about the Alamo and all their great traditions."

AERIAL APPLE—Jet-powered, free-flying targets will be used for the first time in an Air Force weapons meet when the 10-day "Project William Tell" begins Oct. 29 at Tyndall AFB, Fla. Shown above is a close-up view of the "enemy"—the Ryan Firebee, which can streak through space at 600 m.p.h. and at altitudes as high as 50,000 feet. It will try to evade the Air Force's top interceptors, hurling deadly missiles and rockets against it in what Gen. Curtis LeMay describes as "a major test of our ability to stop an air attack against this country." Wing-tip pods on the Firebee carry electronic scoring devices, cameras and radar reflectors. The drone is capable of being recovered and used again, unless destroyed by direct hit.

Lawyers To Serve 3-Day Sentence

AUSTIN (UPI) — The Texas Supreme Court in a 7-2 split decision Wednesday ordered two Laredo detectives to serve a three-day jail sentence.

The two detectives, A. H. Jimenez and Juan M. Puente, were held in contempt last June 11 when they declined to testify before a court of inquiry investigating alleged election irregularities. Jimenez and Puente appealed to the Court of Criminal Appeals, which ordered them to serve the sentence. They later filed a plea for writ of habeas corpus in the Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court's majority opinion refusing their request was written by Associate Justice W. St. John Garwood. A dissent was written by Associate Justice Clyde E. Smith, in which Associate Justice Meade Griffin joined.

Garwood's majority holding said the case "has developed to be somewhat unusual."

Released on Bail

He pointed out that the district attorney of Webb county—James E. Kazen, initiated the court of inquiry, subpoenaed and sought to question the two detectives, and moved the judge to commit them for contempt.

However, Garwood said, the district attorney argued before the Supreme Court that the two men should be released, because the district court's commitment order became invalid after Jimenez and Puente were "released" on bail by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

"On the other hand," Garwood added, "counsel for the relators (Jimenez and Puente), while necessarily agreeing that relators should be released, yet appear to oppose their release unless it be granted on one or more of the grounds advanced by themselves."

The majority opinion also pointed out "a confusing mass of affidavits pro and con" has been filed on the question of whether the two detectives had actually been taken into custody on the day they were held in contempt.

Never Questioned

Garwood said Jimenez and Puente argued that the election code, under which the court of inquiry was called, is unconstitutional. But Garwood in a lengthy opinion struck down that contention.

However, Smith's dissenting opinion said that wasn't the main question in the case. "This court should not permit itself to be in a position of rendering an advisory opinion on the constitutionality of the act involved. A holding on its constitutionality should only be made where it is necessary to a decision of the law question involved," Smith said.

Smith said the "real reason" why the two detectives failed to testify — and the reason why he said they should be freed of the contempt charge — was that they were never asked questions which legally justify a contempt holding if they failed to answer.

"How can they be held in contempt? The witnesses were told in one breath that the law does not compel a statement, and in the next they would be sent to jail if they refused," Smith said.

Poll Shows Demos Potent

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A poll of Washington correspondents shows they believe the Democrats will substantially increase their control of the House and Senate in the Nov. 4 elections.

The survey, conducted by Newsweek Magazine, disclosed that not one of the 50 newsmen polled thought the Republicans would gain any seats in Congress.

Averaging out their predictions, they forecast a Senate line-up in the next session of 58 Democrats and 40 Republicans. The Democrats controlled the Senate in the 85th Congress by a margin of 49 to 47.

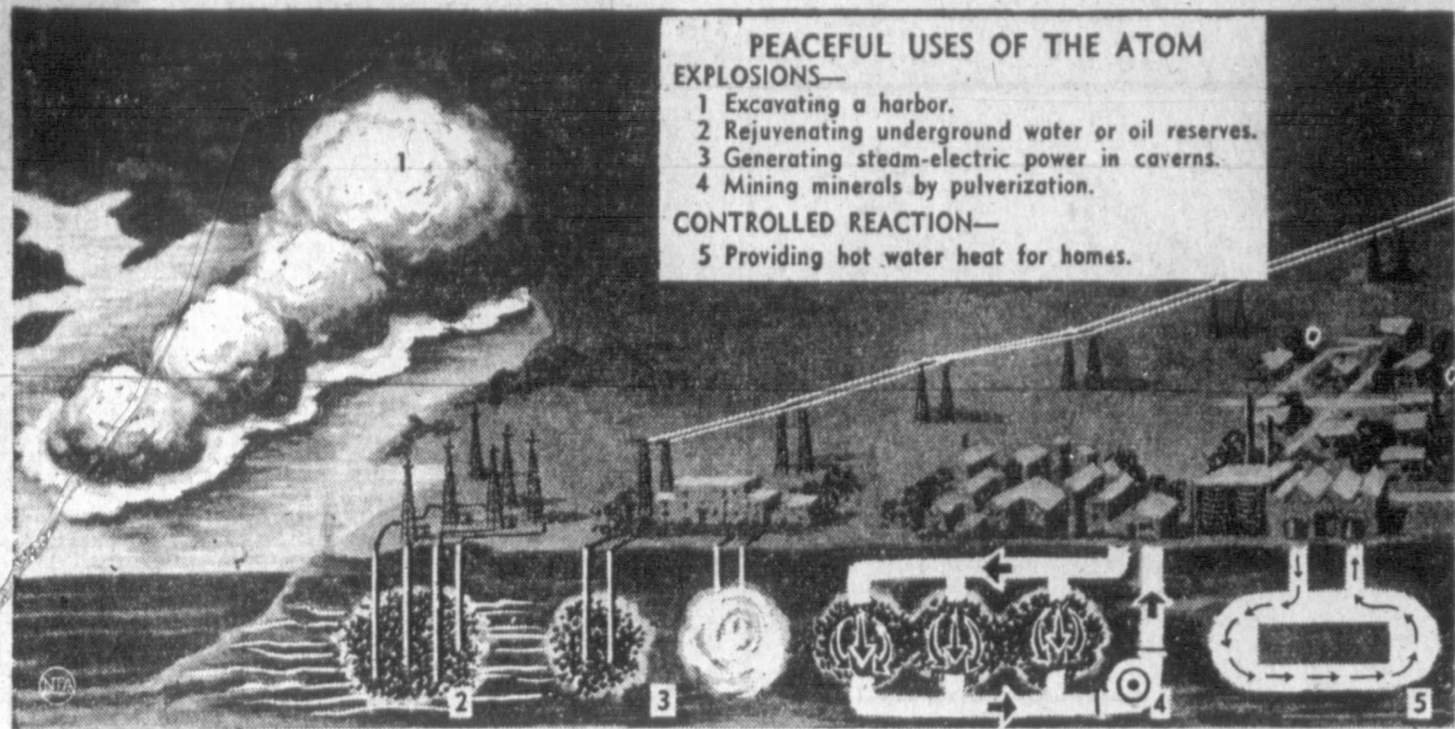

In the House, the newsmen foresaw a new line-up of 266 Democrats and 170 Republicans. The old line-up was 235 Democrats to 200 Republicans.

The correspondents listed four factors for the expected Democratic sweep. They were: — The recession and related "pocketbook" issues. — Dissatisfaction with White House leadership. — Uneasiness over international developments.

Holy Souls Plans Pre-Halloween Fun

Saturday at 7 p.m. the doors will open on one of the biggest pre-Halloween celebrations ever staged at Holy Souls School. In true carnival style, the Fun Night booths will challenge all comers with games of skill.

First grade features a fishing pond, second grade, a miniature bowling alley; and third-grade, a penny toss. Fourth grade will manage the dart board and fifth, the ring toss. Sixth expects lots of action at the clown and bean bag booth. The seventh grade has invested in a milk bottle and ball throwing booth. The cake walk is the eighth grade project. As an extra attraction, live music will perform in a new game of chance. Home made cakes and pies, coffee, soft drinks and caramel apples will be on sale at the annual Pre Halloween Fun Night.

PEACEFUL USES OF THE ATOM
EXPLOSIONS—
 1 Excavating a harbor.
 2 Rejuvenating underground water or oil reserves.
 3 Generating steam-electric power in caverns.
 4 Mining minerals by pulverization.
CONTROLLED REACTION—
 5 Providing hot water heat for homes.

FORGING PLOWSHARES—Some of the ways in which the tremendous power of an atomic explosion may revolutionize everyday life are depicted in panoramic drawing above. Already electricity, generated from the heat of controlled nuclear reactors, is being produced in numerous plants. But so far actual explosions have not been harnessed for peaceful use.

- One of the first such attempts may be the dredging of harbors (1). A possible site in Alaska is being studied by the Atomic Energy Commission.
- Another use (2) envisions the rejuvenating of worn-out oil fields, or the creating of underground reservoirs to catch run-off water in ordinarily parched areas of the earth.

- Or, water pumped into two caverns (3), in which atomic explosions alternate, could be turned into steam to run electricity-producing turbines above the ground.
- Mining with A-bombs is yet another possibility (4). Following the explosions, leaching solution pumped through a deep-lying ore body could extract valuable minerals.
- In the controlled reaction field, a new application has been announced by Sweden (5). Here a reactor is buried safely underground, water circulates around it and is pumped through pipes to provide residential heating. This project is already underway at the city of Vasteras, near Stockholm.

Gracie's Retirement Didn't Exactly Help Ole Mr. Burns

Television in Review
 By WILLIAM EWALD
 United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—The debut of the new "George Burns Show" Tuesday night on NBC-TV may be the most convincing argument yet put forth in favor of togetherness.

Not that the George Burns-minus-Gracie Allen show was a bad effort. Not at all. It was a situation comedy with several funny lines, although not quite as funny as the sound track seemed to indicate.

It had Burns, a performer who seeps professionalism even to the end of his cigar.

It also offered the happy double land of reality and make-believe that made the old Burns and Allen show such a weird delight—Burns pulling himself right out of the plot, for example, to turn and talk to the audience with outrageous disregard for TV's dramatic conventions.

What the show lacked, however, was collision, counter-balance, antithesis, and I might add, nullities. These were the things Gracie Allen, now-in-retirement, provided. Miss Allen—in her professional capacity—lived in an intellectual antipode at the opposite end of the mental globe from the rest of humankind.

What she provided was a strong counter-weight to the sanity of Burns. And what happened as a result was that the styles of the two pulled against each other. It gave their relationship what the pros call "bounce."

Tuesday night Burns tried to bounce off the secondary members of his old cast—Harry von Zell, Bea Benaderet, Larry Keating—but the effect just wasn't the same. They're all fine performers, but they simply lack the extravagant genius of Gracie Allen which made Burns' frustrations seem so comic.

No Judgment Yet
 I will concede that it may be too soon to pass judgment on the new Burns show. But whatever the future course of the show, I still feel that Burns without Allen is a little like cowboys without Indians.

Short Shots: CBS-TV's Garry Moore notched his finest show of the season by far Tuesday night. As I've said before, as soon as Moore succeeds in stamping the imprint of his own personality on the show and ditches formula production numbers, the program will begin to click. . . . The NBC-TV "George Gobel Show" broadcast its show in stereophonic sound Tuesday night. The effect was fine, but the music played was pretty ordinary. As someone said to me the other day—in TV, we have created the greatest communications system in the history of the world and yet it has very little to say to us.

The Channel Swim: Ida Lupino temporarily has given up acting to direct her husband, Howard Duff, in a proposed new private eye TV series, "The Green Peacock" . . . Nina Foch looks like a strong possibility for the lead in "Ten Little Indians," an NBC-TV special on Jan. 18.

There's some rather odd casting for the CBS-TV "Playhouse 90" Joseph Conrad drama, "Heart of Darkness," on Nov. 6—Roddy MacDowell, Eartha Kitt, Boris Karloff and Oscar Homolka . . . Lucille Ball will depart from her "Lucy Ricardo" role for the first time in seven years of TV when she portrays a dance teacher who inherits a prize fighter on "Rayo Kitty," a CBS-TV "Desilu Playhouse" on Nov. 17.

Jim Backus, the voice of "Mr. Magoo" and the judge of "I Married Joan," is having his autobiography, "Rocks on the Roof," published this Friday . . . Larry Puck, the producer who was fired by Arthur Godfrey a couple of years back, will head a new outfit which will manage talent and package shows—Puck is the husband of Marion Marlowe, a singer who also was sacked by Godfrey.

George Washington Carver discovered more than 300 uses for the peanut.

Flood Victims In Clean Up Campaign

HARLINGEN, Tex. (UPI)—Most of the estimated 11,000 residents driven from their homes by the flooding Rio Grande were back scraping away mud and repairing belongings Wednesday as officials continued to add up the damage caused by the brackish waters.

Damage to the vegetable crop alone was estimated at $13 million. Hidalgo County Agent A. H. Karcher said only 10 to 20 per cent of the valley's normal crop will be harvested. He said 75 per cent of the crop was never planted because of month long rains which preceded the flood.

Hidalgo county Judge Milton D. Richardson estimated flood damage in his county at three or four million dollars on crop losses, washouts of contour plowed fields, holes gouged in land levees and road damage.

He put building damage at $30,000 to $40,000.

Star County Judge J. M. Rodriguez put the loss in his county at about the same figures.

Starr and Hidalgo counties comprised most of the territory hit by the floods on the American side.

Rodriguez said 100 per cent loss was suffered on 25,000 to 30,000 U.S. 83. "Our income for the next six months is gone," he said.

The Agriculture Conservation Committee office in Hidalgo county stated that a survey lasting

INTO THE UNKNOWN—The rapidly approaching first flight of the X-15, America's first manned space craft, will mark another step toward the day when man himself follows the Sputniks, Explorers, Vanguard and Pioneers into space. Sketches above detail the intended purpose of the X-15—to send a man faster and higher above the earth than ever before, beyond fully 99 per cent of the atmosphere, and bring him back safely. This full-scale flight is scheduled for late 1959. In the meantime, beginning in February, low-altitude proving tests will be carried out.

Mobeetie Homecoming Is Nov. 1

MOBEETIE (Sp) — Homecoming day for Mobeetie ex-students and teachers has been set for Saturday, Nov. 1. The seniors of Mobeetie High School are sponsoring the occasion this year as they have for several years. The classes to be honored this time are the graduates of 1936-40, inclusive. Since the high school building was destroyed by fire the night of Aug. 13, at main topic of conversation for the "exes" is likely to be quite different from the past. As usual, a dinner will be served from 4:30 to 6:30, but it will be served this time in the gymnasium. The charge will be $1 per plate. Any ex-students who may find it more convenient to bring the whole family are invited to do so. The program will start at 6:30 and the football game with Plomat at 7:30.

Plans are progressing nicely on re-building the high school, but clearing away the remains of the old building and getting the details worked out are taking time. The seniors this year especially want to leave a nice gift to the school. Since everything was lost in the fire except a few records from the office, there are many things they could present. They are considering replacing the small piano which had been in the school just a little over a year and also the senior pictures which hung in the hall. Several ex-students have already shown great interest in homecoming for this year. Any help they can pass along as to telling others about the date will be appreciated by the seniors. Anyone wanting these notices about homecoming sent to

Smith To Be Initiated Into Honor Society

CANYON (Sp) — Two students from the Pampa area are among 21 juniors and seniors to be initiated for membership in Alpha Chi, national honor society, at West Texas State College.

Members for the scholarship group are chosen from the upper ten per cent of the junior and senior classes, and those initiated as juniors may continue membership as seniors through maintenance of high records.

Wayne Smith, Pampa junior English major, is a member of the Baptist Student Center, vice president of the Student Education Bills, service organization. He is also a member of the Student Senate and president of the English of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Smith.

Wendell Lee Seitz, Mobeetie junior physics major, is the son of Mrs. Alma Seitz of Mobeetie. He is reporter of Epsilon Beta, men's social club.

Certain persons can have that done by contacting one of the officers of the ex-students association, who are: Mrs. George B. Dunn, president; Mrs. Winifred Quarles, vice president; and Mrs. Clinton Stribling, secretary. The president of the senior class is Paul Hathaway and the secretary is Kay Quarles. The senior sponsor is Mrs. J. H. Scribner.

As usual, all ex-students, teachers, and trustees are invited to attend along with the present teachers and trustees. All are asked to come early so as to have a longer period of visiting with old friends and classmates.

It's Getting Easier To Buy A Home

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A government-authorized reduction of down payments on medium-priced homes financed through federally-down payments on medium-priced chartered savings and loan associations was seen Wednesday as helping counteract any tightening of credit.

The Home Loan Bank Board announced Tuesday night that the associations may write mortgage loans up to 90 per cent of a house's appraised value. The limit had been 80 per cent.

Thus, a buyer who is financing a $15,000 house will be able to borrow up to $13,500 instead of $12,000. The down payment may be, therefore, as little as $1,500 instead of $3,000.

The amended rules become effective Thursday. The new ceiling will apply on loans up to $18,000 in an effort to funnel money into financing of low and medium priced housing.

Harold P. Braman, managing director of the National League of Insured Savings Associations, hailed the ruling and said it "could result in expansion of home construction by 10 per cent or more annually."

Under the rules, where the home buyer makes only the 10 per cent down payment, he will not be permitted to take out a second mortgage.

Adlai Raps Nixon In Counter Charge

CHICAGO (UPI) — Adlai Stevenson answered Republican charges of "radicalism" within the Democratic Party Wednesday by calling Vice President Richard M. Nixon "intolerant demagogue."

The former Democratic presidential candidate addressed a meeting of party precinct workers.

"The Republicans," he said, "can't talk about corruption, prosperity, deficit spending or peace so they have fallen back on the old charges of radicalism and left wingers."

"All of us realized when the going got tough for the Republicans, the old Nixon would emerge," Stevenson said. "But even sadder than that is the fact that the old Nixon has been joined by the new Ike."

Begins 3rd Tour

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Maj. John Eisenhower, the President's son, is beginning his third tour of duty at the White House.

Young Eisenhower will help Brig. Gen. Andrew J. Goodpaster, the President's staff secretary, on liaison activities connected with national security.

VISITS AGAIN

OTTAWA (UPI) — Prince Philip returns here next week for one of his increasingly frequent Canadian visits.

This time he is not coming as the husband of the queen but rather as the president of the English-speaking Union of the Commonwealth, which with its American counterpart, holds a conference here Oct. 24-31.

Harry Attacks Ike's Party On Their Foreign Affairs

By RAYMOND LAHR
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former President Truman, praised by top Republicans last week for soft-pedaling foreign policy in politics, attacked the Eisenhower administration Wednesday for "blunder, bluster and brinkmanship in foreign affairs."

That was his answer to the foreign policy remarks of President Eisenhower in a Los Angeles campaign speech Monday night and of Vice President Richard M. Nixon in a Baltimore speech Tuesday night. Both spoke out against appeasement of Communism and asserted peace had been preserved under six years of the Eisenhower administration.

Both Eisenhower and Nixon praised Truman last week for taking the position that foreign policy did not belong in the 1958 congressional election campaign.

In a few off-the-cuff jabs, Truman later replied the Republicans had made campaign debate on foreign policy inevitable by doing it themselves since 1952.

In a speech prepared for a Democratic rally today at Wilmington, Del., the former president gave his version of the "price" the nation has paid for the Eisenhower administration. This included an all-time high cost of living, a 12 billion dollar federal deficit, a 20 billion dollar decline in farm income, a doubling of the rate of small business failures and a "dangerous delay" in strengthening national defense.

His final item in the "price" was "a decay of our world position, through blunder, bluster and brinkmanship in foreign affairs."

The Truman attack came while Eisenhower was in Chicago preparing for his second major campaign speech of the week — this one over a national radio and television network.

Before leaving the West Coast Tuesday the President told GOP workers the nation should elect a Republican Congress to insure passage of legislation to "militarize" corrupt labor union leadership. He blamed the present Democratic Congress for killing his labor program this year.

Eisenhower also said the federal budget is too big and appealed to housewives to join a campaign for less federal spending. And he charged the Truman administration with short-changing the missile development program.

In his Baltimore speech Tuesday night, Nixon said the Truman administration had followed a policy of "weakness and vacillation" under then Secretary of State Dean Acheson. He said the Eisenhower administration believed Communism could be defeated without war only by "military strength and diplomatic firmness."

But he tempered his criticism of the Democrats by saying "there is no war party in the United States" and adding, "there is only one party of treason — the Communist Party." Democrats have interpreted some of Nixon's previous remarks as applying the war and treason labels to the Democratic Party.

Nixon called Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson a "notable example" among Democrats who have supported the Eisenhower foreign policy. He said the criticism came from leaders of the Democratic Party wing "which is radical in its approach to economic problems."

Nixon was scheduled to campaign today in Hartford, Conn., Burlington, Vt., and Providence, R.I. — three states with both governorships and U.S. Senate seats at stake.

In a New Castle, Pa., speech Tuesday night, Truman said the GOP was afraid to run on its own record and had dug up "the old scare-words like socialism."

to attack the Democrats. He also said the business recession had not ended and would not end so long as Republicans controlled the administration.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been crazy about Paul ever since I can remember. He fell off his bicycle and when they carried him to his porch I was there talking to his sister. He reached for my hand and said, "Margaret, I love you." It was plain as day. Now he claims he was unconscious and never said any such thing. If he WAS really unconscious does it mean anything, or should I forget the whole thing and find somebody else?

MARGARET: DEAR MARGARET: Find a nice fellow who doesn't have to be knocked unconscious to declare his love.

DEAR ABBY: I was somewhat annoyed and annoyed upon reading GRANDMA's letter in which she states that her grandchildren as if they were raised in the hills of Africa. I spent ten years in interior Africa, during which time I had occasion to observe much of the tribal life in various regions. African children do NOT act as Grandma's grandchildren. They are taught to obey and questions. May I suggest that you act accordingly and asks no when a parent speaks, the child acts accordingly and asks no questions. May I suggest that GRANDMA find a more suitable simile.

SINCERELY, "TSHISUABANTU" (Mr. W.M.P.)

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my boyfriend who thinks he is a modern Tarzan. He's big and handsome and he knows it. We were swimming almost every day last summer just so he could show off his muscles. When we go bowling he strips down to his tee shirt for the same reason. At parties he challenges everyone there to do more pushups than he. He says he loves me, but instead of saving toward getting married, he is saving toward going to Hollywood so somebody can discover him. Should I break off with him?

JANE: DEAR JANE: Unless you want to be left out on the limb, I suggest you let "Tarzan" swing through the trees in the jungle alone. Find a man with both feet on the ground.

RUTH MILLETT

Any woman has lived quite a while before she learns...

That the easiest way to sell a man an idea is to make him think it was his idea in the first place.

That what she wears to a party isn't nearly as important as having something to say to people after she gets there.

That the most successful spur-of-the-moment parties are given by women who plan for such emergencies carefully in advance.

That some kinds of news should never be given to a husband until after a good dinner.

That other women's houses don't always look as perfect as they do at party time.

That a woman who can't train her family to be neat hasn't a ghost of a chance of being a good housekeeper.

That a man really can be too tired to play bridge with another couple, but not too tired to play poker with the boys.

That nothing irritates a man more than having his wife tell him, "I told you so."

That the surest way of getting a good-looking dress is to take her husband, rather than her best friend, along when she goes shopping.

That when a man starts talking about how much oil the old car is using, he already has a new car picked out.

That if she treats her husband like a VIP, she will never have to worry about other women.

That a man's idea of a good-natured woman is one who never brings up an old grievance, never points out his faults and never blames him when things go wrong. That it's foolish to envy another woman's possessions.

Advance planning with a four-foot tape measure establishes a proper location for a wall telephone in this teen-ager's bedroom. Located between bed and desk, the telephone is easily reached and frees the desk surface for work and writing.

Alexander Graham Bell's 'Baby' Needs Proper Consideration In Home Plans Mrs. Wiley Has Study Club Meet

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

One of the most used (and abused) household mainstays, the telephone, is receiving more attention from homemakers these days. The long-range program of telephone companies to convert nationwide to the dial system means to a homemaker that a new telephone will replace her old one. So she may want to consider relocating the phone at that time.

Planning in advance can save regrets and expense later. For remodeling or building so that telephone wiring can be planned as carefully as electrical wiring. Certain types of telephones may be more useful to you than other models or special features, newly developed, may be important to consider. The lovely new colors in telephones have earned praise from interior designers as well as homemakers.

Although the desk type of telephone continues to be most popular, the new streamlined wall telephones are growing in use. Because they are mounted on a wall they free valuable space on kitchen counters, tables or narrow desks. Placement of a wall telephone, however, can be the source of regret if not thoughtfully planned.

To give yourself an idea of what the finished installation will be, use a tape measure and figure a conventional phone cord can be comfortably stretched about four feet. A telephone placed too high on the wall may not be usable if a person wishes to sit, too low of the wall, it may be awkward to reach for dialing. Within the radius of four feet of the phone, most homemakers will wish to arrange comfortable seating and access to a writing surface.

If you're building, a free consultation with the telephone company helps you chart placement of several phone outlets. This means you can relocate a telephone easily should the need arise or furniture arrangements change.

An extension telephone in the bedroom is widely accepted now for its convenience and as a safety measure. If you plan to add a telephone, consider some of the special features — you can get telephones with night lights, with extra long cords, with volume control for the hard-of-hearing.

One of the maddening aspects of this wonderful ability to telephone each other is the frustration you feel when you're outdoors in the yard, hear the bell ring, race indoors only to hear the click of the other receiver as you lift yours. Or to be summoned into the house repeatedly by eager little neighbors wanting to know the whereabouts of your offspring.

If this upsets you often enough you may want to think about a portable phone which connects with a plug-in jack. The phone can be plugged into an outlet on the terrace or porch as a step saver.

WHEELER (Sp) — Wednesday Study Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Max Wiley.

Following a brief business meeting, Mrs. T. M. Britt, leader, presented a program, "Departments of Club Work" in the form of a style show with each department chairman modeling a fall hat, trimmed to represent club work in her department.

Refreshments were served during the social hour.

Attending were Mrs. Tom Dearing, a guest and the following members, Mmes. D. O. Beane, T. M. Britt, William Brown, Fred Farmer, R. H. Forrester, Cora Hyatt, L. C. Laffin, M. McElhany, Grainger McElhany, C. J. Meek, Shelby Pettit, George Porter, Madge Porter, Nelson Porter, George Taylor, C. J. Van Zandt, H. M. Wiley, W. L. Williams, Frank Wofford, Harry Wofford, Frank Walker, P. E. Yarrowburgh.

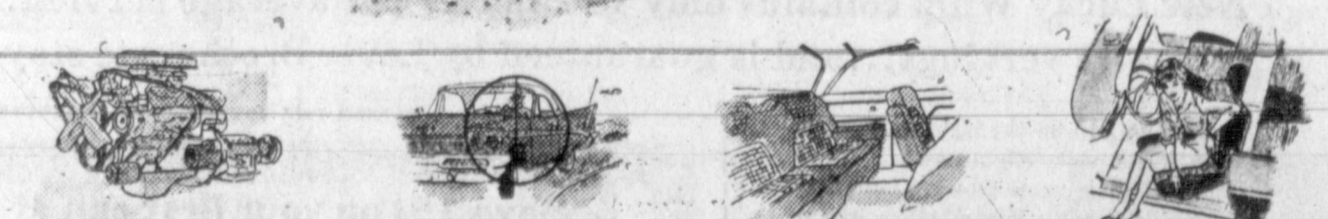

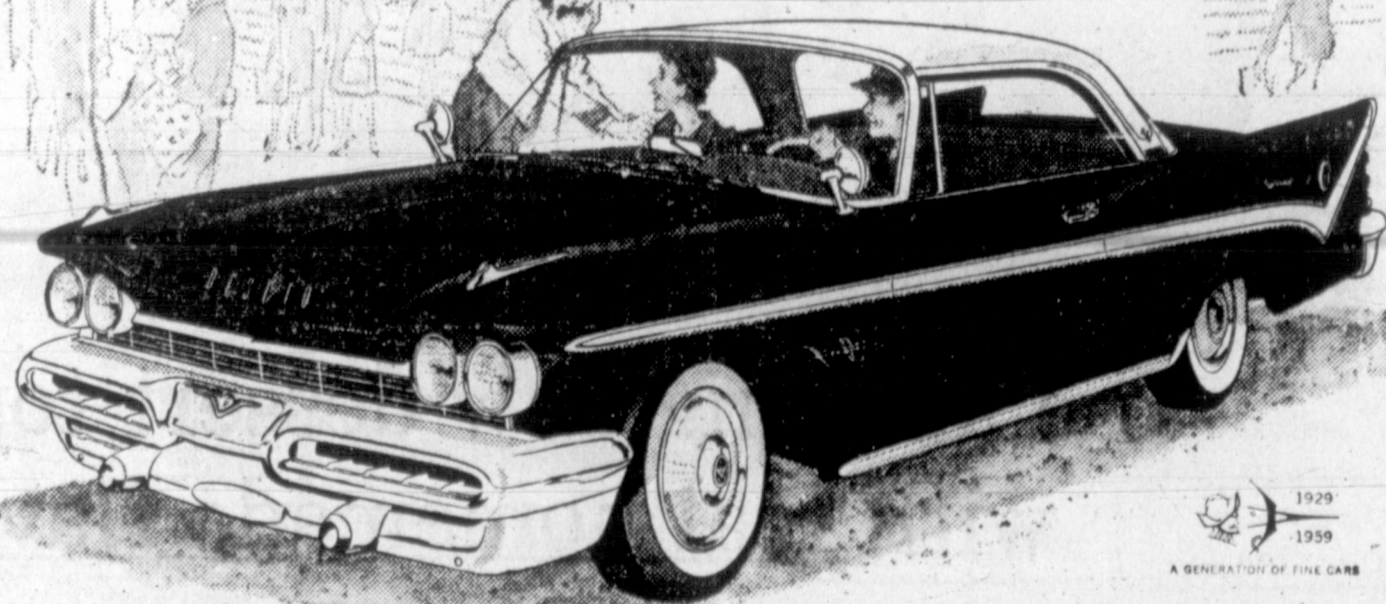

Although boys may think it sissy, good grooming should be part of their daily routine. It's surprising how much clean, well-combed hair and clean hands and fingernails improve a young man's appearance. And from the hair and nails he is likely to progress to being neater in his dress, too.

Another plug-in jack might be put in the basement or garage workshop to give a portable phone added usefulness.

'Very Chinese' Fete Given By Students

WHEELER (Spl) — Members of the Wheeler School Faculty and their companions were guests recently for a "Very Chinese Chopstick Supper" in the homemaker cottage. The Homemaker Department and instructor, Mrs. Gordon Whitener, entertained as a conclusion for unit study on foods, clothes and customs of China. Each guest was presented a Chinese hat upon arrival.

Miss Ella Mae Richerson was department hostess for the evening. Miss Gracie Moore gave the invocation.

The banquet room was decorated with Chinese lanterns. The floor was covered with blankets for the guests to sit upon while eating at the Chinese-type tables, which were lighted with candles. Plate favors were miniature umbrellas. Chopsticks completed the table setting.

Miss Katherine Underwood welcomed guests. Misses Shirley Chapman, Juanice Wegner, and Frances Alexander explained the Chinese customs, religion and history. Mrs. Fred Tankersley sang "China Boy."

A few Chinese games were played to provide after dinner entertainment. The Mustang Fight Song was sung with everyone keeping time with their chopsticks completing the evening's activities.

Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wood, Mrs. A. E. Brown, C. M. Abercrombie, Mmes. Dee Lison, Willis Rogers, Orlie Wilson, Messrs. and Mmes. Harley Davis, Fred Tankersley, A. O. Vanpool, Dan Stewart, T. R. Helton, Carroll Killingsworth, and Dennis Wilks.

Manners Makes Friends

If a man is talking to a woman at a cocktail party he shouldn't walk off and leave her standing alone if he spots someone across the room he wishes to speak to.

Instead, he should take her with him to join the other person, or else wait until someone else joins them and then break away.

Newly-Organized Sunday School Class At First Methodist Has First Social

The newly-organized Sunday School Class of young single adults of the First Methodist Church met Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. in the Senior Department in the Old Parsonage for its first social.

Party arrangements were made by Miss Betty Boswell, Gerry Caruth, Alice Brotherton, Martha Montgomery, Adelaide Colwell, John Hart and Bob Black.

Guests were greeted at the door and given pumpkin-shaped name-tags and directed into a room decorated with skelton hands hanging down from the fireplace chimney, a cat caught in a door, and witches.

During a get-acquainted session, guests were required to name all the other guests present. Winners of this game were Miss Shirley Wilson and Don Nelson, who were awarded two free movie tickets and 10 cents for a bag of pop corn with the stipulation that they were to wear clothes provided by the class. Giving the winners an early start to the movie, because of their appearance, other guests joined them at the LaNora Theater for the film, "Onion Head."

WSCS Circles Meet for Study

CANADIAN (Spl) — Circle No. 1 of the WSCS of the First Methodist Church met in the church recently with Mrs. W. H. Stroud, vice-chairman, presiding.

The lesson was presented by Mrs. W. H. Stroud on "The World Became Flesh."

Attending were Mmes. W. R. Hines, Daisy Hood, W. A. Kessie Sr., Bert Babitzke, W. H. Stroud and G. F. Hoover.

Circle No. 2 of the WSCS of the First Methodist Church met in the home of Mrs. Marvin Longhofer.

Mrs. Dale Nix, circle leader, presided and the devotional was given by Mrs. Ted Rogers. Mrs. P. D. Moseley presented the program.

Attending were Mmes. John D. Glenn, Dale Nix, Jim Waterfield, Bob Lewis, P. D. Moseley, Charles Teas, Horace Rivers and Ted Rogers.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

This June, for the sake of 15-month-old Tim, the G.'s moved from the city to a suburb. Tim didn't appreciate the favor. The very first night in his new home he howled determinedly against bedtime. Mr. G., noting the tired shadows under his wife's eyes, walked the floor with Tim until 10:15.

At the end of two weeks she phoned her city pediatrician who said, "Leave him alone. Let him discover he can fall asleep by himself."

But Mrs. G. could not take his advice — and is still spending an average of three hours a night trying to soothe Tim to sleep. Why couldn't she take the advice?

Well, Mrs. G. used to get gold stars for spelling. Now she wants one for excellence in motherhood. The idea that she has produced a child so "insecure" that he howls at bedtime is intolerable to her. Rather than accept the possibility that she's committed some error contributing to Tim's "insecurity," she will sacrifice her own comfort and rest indefinitely.

In the Middle Ages, when someone got the idea that he had committed a sin, he'd go on a pilgrimage to some holy place. He would go barefoot, wearing sackcloth, carrying no money to buy comforts on his journey. For he'd been taught that the more harshly he afflicted himself, the more certain would be forgiveness of his sin.

Mrs. G., the sophisticated young mother who reads child psychology, closely resembles him. Like the pilgrim, she will put up with anything to get away from the possibility that she's done something wrong. Such pride in sinlessness is an awful thing because we don't know we suffer from it. As the pilgrim believed he suffered for a holy purpose, poor exhausted Mrs. G. thinks she's suffering for love of Tim. Both are very proud people, lacking true humility.

If we've committed some sin in treatment of a baby that produces howls at bedtime, humility does not require us to do penance for it night after night. It just requires us to accept ourselves as capable of mistake.

It was Jesus who said, "Thy sins are forgiven thee."

with a centerpiece fashioned of pink and white rosebuds, a stork and flanked with blue tapers. Mrs. W. C. Holdeman poured.

The honoree was presented with a corsage of baby socks and rattlers.

Approximately thirty guests called or sent gifts during the appointed hours.

Creative Hobbies Topic At Reception

"Shared interest, regardless of what form they may take, make for greater happiness and create family solidarity," were Mrs. Eugene Olds' opening remarks at the fall reception given by the Pampa Branch of the American Association of University Women on Monday evening in Lovett Memorial Library.

Mrs. Olds displayed an interesting collection of bottles and discussed their history; how they had been found and details of cutting.

Smith Takes Lead In 3-4A Punting

Ronnie Smith kicked his way to the top District 3-4A in punting, last week at Amarillo. Smith's two boots gave him a whopping 40.0 yards average.

Two other Harvesters are also among the leading punters. Clovis Shipp is third with one kick for 37 yards and Mert Cooper is ninth with five punts for a 32.8 yard average.

Gary Wills, with his 107 yards rushing at Amarillo, jumped to fourth place in total offense and rushing. He is the only Harvester placing in either department.

Wills has 189 yards rushing and 19 passing in district play, for total yardage of 202.

Buddy Rawls is fifth among district passers, with six completions in 13 attempts for 87 yards. Jerry Daniels is the ninth rated pass receiver, with two catches for a total of 30 yards.

As a team, the Harvesters are fourth in total offense with 694 yards—an average of 231.1 per game—fourth in rushing with 563 yards, an average of 187.7 per contest, and fifth in passing with 131 yards, an average of 43.7.

Pampa ranks third in team punting, with nine kicks for an average of 35.7 yards. Defensively, the Harvesters are eighth in total defense and pass defense, and fourth in rushing defense.

The Harvesters have drawn more penalty yardage—186—than any other team in the district, and are second in penalty yardage per game, with 62.0.

West Texas Buffs Declare New Season Starts Saturday

CANYON — After declaring a "close-out" on the five games played to date, Coach Clark Jarnagin and his West Texas State football team will open a "new season" Saturday night against Mississippi Southern at Hattiesburg.

Going winless through the first half of the schedule, Coach Jarnagin said: "Our boys want to turn over a new leaf, and mentally, we will start a new season this weekend."

The kickoff game of the 'new' campaign promises to be a corker. Mississippi Southern, undefeated and untied in four starts, will be celebrating Homecoming. The last year after West Texas took a 20-13 Tangerine Bowl win over Coach Pie Vann's crew Jan. 1, 1957.

So far this year, Southern has outclassed Trinity, Louisiana Tech, Southeastern Louisiana and Memphis State. Only common opponent has been Trinity, 35-7 conqueror of West Texas Saturday. Two weeks earlier, Southern pinned a 15-0 defeat on the San Antonio club.

"Coach," we asked, "do you know your starting lineup for Thursday?"

Half-serious, half-laughing, Gene Chance replied, "Man, I always know my starting lineup."

That was Chance's way of saying that he doesn't have many boys to pick from. Only 20 boys are out for Chance's Pampa Junior High Reapers, and only six of them have any football experience.

Pampa eighth grade coach Frank Craig is in about the same position—in fact, he made almost the same remark when asked about his starting lineup. Only 17 boys make up the PJH eighth grade team.

Chance and Craig are in this predicament, not because the boys at Pampa Junior High are less football-minded than their cross-town rivals at Robert E. Lee, but because there are less boys going to school at Pampa than at Lee.

Unequal School Population

Chance and Craig don't complain about this situation. They have a philosophical "that's the way the ball bounces" attitude about the whole thing, and mention it in passing if at all.

Such an attitude would be unusual for many coaches, since some coaches get out the crying towel at the least provocation. (None of the Pampa coaches are guilty of this, though, as far as we know.)

Phillips was so careful to avoid "alibiing" that he didn't even mention the unequal division of football talent between Lee and Pampa, or his squad's inexperience.

Craig mentioned these facts, almost as an afterthought, and without even a trace of bitterness. In fact, he indicated that if he'd been given the job of dividing the school population, he'd have done it the same way.

"Entirely too many boys and girls were going to school downtown," said Craig, "and that created a bad situation. The bad situation included both overcrowding and traffic hazards, he explained.

"It was decided to keep about 450 students down here," continued Craig, "and send about 740 to Lee. Only those students living downtown and to the South would continue to go to school here."

Put Them All Together—

Unfortunately for Chance and Craig, most of the football players happened to live on the Lee side of the dividing line.

However, the two Pampa Junior High mentors aren't discouraged about the situation. They have hustling, hard-working ball clubs which could, with a few breaks, give anybody a rough time.

The next team they want to give a rough time, of course, is Lee. The Reapers and the Rebels meet Thursday night at Harvester Park for the first time in history.

Any "first" is almost always a big occasion; any junior high football game is always a big occasion for the students of the two schools and their parents and fans; and any cross-town game is always a cause for excitement.

Put all three together, and you squad than Pampa. Many of the Rebels have eighth and seventh grade experience, while only six of the 20 Reapers played football before this season.

The Rebels have a 13-pound weight advantage in the backfield and a 23-pound per man weight margin on the line. Lee's starting line, bulwarked by 202-pound center Dicky Hopkins and 180-pound tackle Larry Braly, averages 163 pounds, and the Rebels' backfield averages 141 pounds.

Pampa's backfield, which includes 115-pound halfback Riley Walters and 122-pound quarterback Max Patton, averages 128 pounds. The average weight in the Reaper starting line is 140.

"Catch 'em Napping"

Chance said he bases the Reapers' victory hopes on "catching the Rebels napping a couple of times." He promised the Lee gridders that "there'll be a few surprises. We've been working on some plays we've never used before."

Phillips expressed doubt that his team could stop any unorthodox formations or plays thrown at them by the Reapers. "We'll just have to try to be ready for anything," he said.

Chance said that the Rebels have a better balanced offense than any squad his Reapers have faced so far. "They can run or they can pass," he explained. "You can't be ready for any particular type play when you play them."

The overall picture of the two squads seems to show Lee as at least a two-touchdown favorite. However, previous records sometimes mean little in games such as this one. If Pampa can "catch 'em napping" it might be a very good ball game.

Shockers, 7th Take To Road

The Shockers and Pampa seventh grade are on the road today. The Shockers will play Palo Duro B in Amarillo, and the Pampa seventh graders will meet Lefors' seventh graders in Lefors.

Friday, Lee's seventh graders host Borger at 4 p.m. in Harvester Park. They will get the only local team in action Friday, as the Harvesters have an open date.

The Shockers will be trying to even their season record at 3-3. They lost last week to the Tom S. Lubbock Cowboys.

Pampa seventh will be gunning for its second straight, after taking the "big one" last week. The little Reapers downed Lee's seventh grade 18-0.

Junior Highs Clash Tonight—First Time

Rebels Heavily Favored; Eighth Grades Play at 4

By RED GRIGGS
Daily News Sports Editor

The most important junior high game in the history of Pampa begins tonight at 7 p. m. in Harvester Park.

Robert E. Lee, a brand new school with an experienced football team, clashes with Pampa Junior High, an established school with an inexperienced squad. It will be the first athletic contest, of any kind, between varsity squads of the two schools.

Preceding the varsity contest, however, will be a game between PJH and Robert E. Lee eighth grade squads, at 4 p. m. in Harvester Park. That's expected to be a defensive battle.

Pampa has already taken one-third of this year's football series between the two schools. The Reaper seventh graders downed the Lee seventh graders 18-0 last Friday.

Cotton Bowl Tickets Sell

DALLAS (UPI)—The annual rush for tickets to next New Year Day's 23rd annual Cotton Bowl football classic starts a six-day run next Monday.

That's the official start of the period during which the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association receives mail applications—limited to four tickets per order—for the 25,000 seats available to the general public.

This allotment usually is oversubscribed and a drawing is held to determine which applications are filled and in what order.

The remainder of the 75,504 tickets go to bond and option holders (20,000) and the competing schools (about 30,000 tickets). Ticket applications should contain a self-addressed envelope and a 25-cent mailing fee and may be sent to the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association, Inwood Station, Dallas 9.

The Southwest Conference champion will be the host team in the game, but with Texas Christian, Texas, Rice and Baylor still undefeated in league play the issue probably won't be settled until late November, at which time the guest team will be invited.

Last season, Navy felled Rice 20-7.

Roller Skating Contest Slated

A roller-skating contest for 11 girls between the ages of 16 and 22, married or unmarried, will be held at Pampa Roller Rink Nov. 2.

The winner and runnerup in the contest will be eligible for a state contest, and state winners will be eligible for a national contest, to be held at Miami, Fla., Nov. 17-19. First prize nationally is a $2500 college scholarship.

Entry deadline is Oct. 31. For further information contact Bill Watson at Pampa Roller Rink or call MO 4-2902.

YANKS SIGN KELLERS
NEW YORK (UPI)—Charley Keller Jr. and Don Keller, teenage sons of the ex-New York Yankee outfield great, have signed with the club's Fargo-Morehead, N. D., club of the Class D Northern League.

SACHS TO SEE ACTION
PRINCETON, N. J. (UPI)—Princeton Coach Dick Colman announced Wednesday that tailback Dan Sachs will be available for action against Cornell Saturday.

Sachs has been sidelined since suffering a back injury in the Penn game, Oct. 11.

The Rebels are favored to come back and make it two out of three for Lee. The varsity is a solid pick over the Reapers in tonight's game, and the Reb eighth graders are hair-breadth favorites over the Pampa eighth graders in the afternoon contest.

Lee will bring a 3-2 record into tonight's game, while Pampa Junior High has an 0-5 mark. Lee holds the edge against common foes, having beaten Perryton 26-14 and lost to Dumas 35-0. The Reapers were walloped 47-0 by Dumas and defeated 30-16 by Perryton.

The Rebels have a balanced offense and a strong defense. Lee is capable of either moving through the line or going to the air. Lack of speed, their only big weakness, has prevented them from using many "razzie-dazzle" running plays.

The Reapers have also suffered from lack of speed. Gene Chance's gridders have been able to contain most of their opponents' running plays, but were unable to catch enemy runners once they broke into the open. Slow running has also forced the Reapers to stick almost entirely to power plays on offense.

Lee Weight Advantage
Lee has been a much better passing team than Pampa. Rebel quarterback Butch Crossland has connected on several long gainers, one for a touchdown. Halfback George Fant, end George Simmons, and many other backs and ends have angled Crossland's passes.

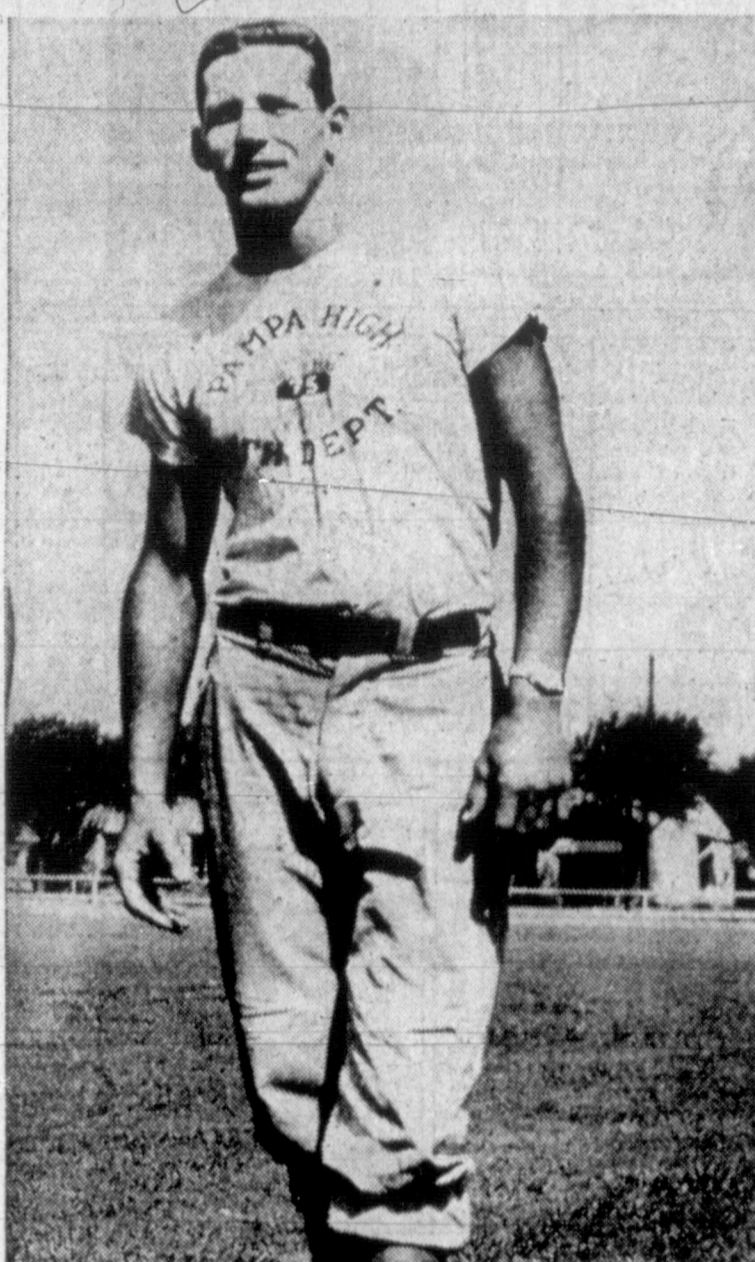

The Reapers have thrown an occasional running pass, but have not been able to consistently make yardage via the airways.

The Rebels are much deeper in manpower than the Reapers. Norman Phillips has a 41-man squad, while Chance has only 26 gridders to pick from.

Lee is also more experienced. (See REBELS, Page 14)

NEW YORK (UPI)—Fraley's follies and the weekend football "winners"—or making the book-makers rich the way I played the card.

Game Of The Week
Ohio State over Wisconsin — This will be a bone cruncher in which the Buckeyes could get bounced. But giving Wisconsin the six points is like a rabbit spitting in a hound's eye.

The East
Army over Pitt — Giving away a touchdown.
Syracuse over Penn State — taking the two I'll points.
Princeton over Cornell — Which means giving up six.
Also: Navy over Penn, Boston College over Miami, Dartmouth over Harvard, Brown over Rhode Island, Yale over Colgate, Holy Cross over Boston U., Lafayette over Bucknell, Rutgers over Lehigh, Villanova over Richmond and Connecticut over Delaware.

The Midwest
Minnesota over Michigan — The blueplate special, with seven points.
Michigan State over Illinois — Giving two points.

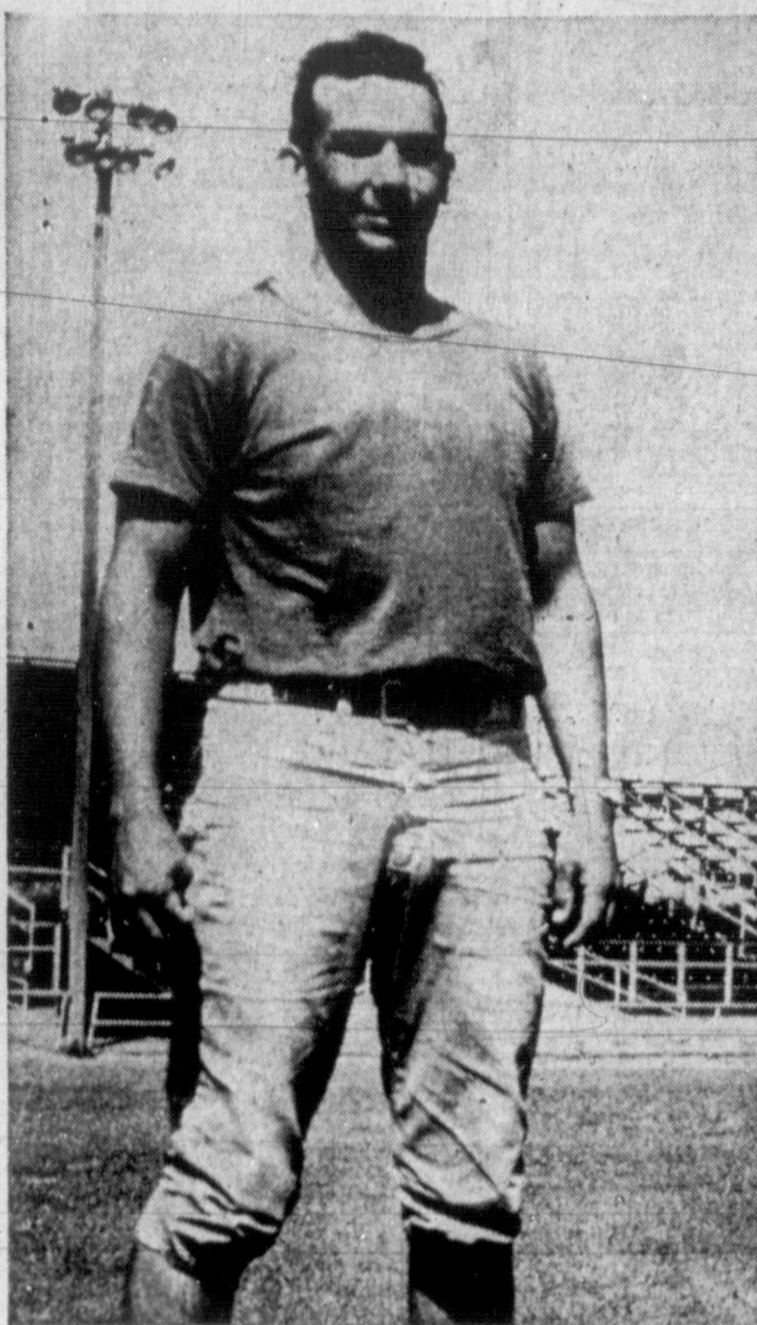

Notre Dame over Purdue — And give two more.
Also: Iowa over Northwestern, Tulane over Kansas, Indiana over Miami, Ohio, Oklahoma over Kansas State, Colorado over Nebraska, Oklahoma State over Cincinnati, Missouri over Iowa State and COP over Marquette.

The West
California over Oregon — Getting two points.
Southern Cal over Washington State — And taking seven.
Oregon State over Washington — Shakily giving 10.
Also: UCLA over Stanford, Air Force over Utah, Colorado State over Utah State, Brigham Young over Montana and Wyoming over New Mexico.

The South
Georgia over Kentucky — Donating a point.
LSU over Florida — And giving a shaky 13.
Auburn over Maryland — Spurling away 14 points.
Also: West Virginia over VPI, North Carolina over Wake Forest, Mississippi State over Alabama, Vanderbilt over Virginia, Duke over North Carolina State and Tennessee over Florida State.

The Southwest
Texas over Rice — Even-Stephen.
Georgia Tech over SMU — Like-wise no points.
Baylor over Texas A&M — And giving a desperate seven.
Also: Mississippi over Arkansas, Tulsa over North Texas State, Idaho over Arizona and Hardin Simmons over Wichita.

Murtaugh Named Manager of Year

By FRED DOWN
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—Danny Murtaugh, who recalls his first day as manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates as "my saddest day in baseball," is the United Press International's 1958 National League Manager of the Year.

A 24-man UPI committee, composed of three baseball writers from each city in the league, made the 41-year old native of Chester, Pa., an overwhelming selection by giving him 18 votes.

Fred Haney of the Milwaukee Braves and Bill Rigney of the San Francisco Giants received three each.

Panhandle Has Own Game Laws
Hunting in Texas, you can bag tea squirrels a day during hunting season but in the Panhandle you'd better stop at five. Panhandle seasons bag limits and bagging methods are removed from the general game laws of Texas, Slim Davis, State Game Conservation officer from Shamrock, explained.

New hunters on the Panhandle would do well to familiarize themselves with the region's game laws, Davis said. Hunters also should get a landowner's permission in writing before hunting on his property.

The squirrel limit on the Panhandle is five a day and five in possession.

The one-time utility infielder with both the Philadelphia Phillies and Pirates was honored for his part in the spectacular rise of the 1958 Buccaneers from a tie for last place in 1957 to second place. It was the Pirates' best finish since 1944 and their best in a non-year since 1938.

Actually, the Pirates showed a gain of 22 games over their 1957 performance when their record was 82-92. Their final 1958 mark was 84-70.

Murtaugh's rise to the top of his profession was every bit as sensational as the Pirates' progress in the National League race because he wasn't even expected to be their manager this year. When Murtaugh replaced Bobby Bragan on Aug. 3, 1957, Joe E. Brown Jr., general manager of the club, specified that Danny was only "an interim manager."

The next day is the one Murtaugh recalls as "my saddest in baseball."
"The next day," he recalls, "we played the Cubs. We started the doubleheader in seventh place with a six-game losing streak. At the end of the day we had dropped a doubleheader, extended our losing streak to eight games and fallen into the cellar."
In spite of that start, Murtaugh's Pirates played over 500 ball (26-24) over the last two months of the season and his 26-26 record as "interim manager" persuaded Brown to extend his contract one year.

Badger State Demos Feel This Is Their Year Again

Editors Note: Here is another in our series of dispatches on the political situation in key states.

By RAY W. DOHERTY
United Press International

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—Wisconsin Democrats feel this is their year of deliverance from 20 years of Republican beatings.

Observers agree that the Democrats apparently have an excellent chance to crack the GOP state-house front, return Sen. William Proxmire to a full term in the U.S. Senate and pick up some congressional seats.

Democrats are banking on Proxmire to pull a big vote, and carry some state office candidates, including gubernatorial candidate Gaylor Nelson, to victory with him. The forecasters feel that Proxmire will easily beat Roland S. Steinle, former state Supreme Court Justice.

A veteran newspaper political writer said the gubernatorial fight between incumbent Republican Vernon Thomson and Nelson is "too close to call."

YOU COLO, ME BONGO

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Jungle boy Bongo met city kid Colo. She was ecstatic. He was reserved.

This boy-meets-girl affair took place at the Columbus Zoo. It was meant to start an eight-year courtship between the world's only gorilla born in captivity and a baby gorilla from Africa.

Bongo is 16 months old and a black 21 pounds, wearing a reflective expression.

Colo, six months older and 12 pounds heavier, shows signs of being spoiled.

Dr. James Vickers, zoo veterinarian, approached Colo's cage with the little immigrant from the French Camerons clinging tightly to him.

Bongo poked an inquiring paw at Colo and she responded enthusiastically, indicating apparent success at the meeting.

Zoo Supt. Earl Davis ordered Bongo at an estimated cost of $5,000 as a playmate for Colo, he said, when it appeared she was beginning to act as though she thought she were human.

Vickers said Bongo's cage will be moved next to Colo's so they can get acquainted. Eventually they will share a suite, and if all goes well, eight years from now they may start a family.

He said there had been a "move toward Nelson" in recent days.

On Personality Basis

The Wisconsin Agriculturist at Racine, whose polls in the past have been remarkably accurate, confirmed that Nelson had gained favor with rural voters since August. The magazine said Thomson was "slightly ahead" of Nelson.

One writer said he felt the Thomson-Nelson race, like the Proxmire-Steinle battle, will be decided on a "personality basis."

In other words, the better-known candidate will win. That would mean Thomson will be returned to the State Capitol for his second term and Proxmire to the Senate for a full six years in the seat once held by the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy, a Republican.

Besides banking on Proxmire's vote-getting appeal, Democrats also are hopeful that voters are dissatisfied with the national GOP administration enough to either stay home or vote Democratic. A small turnout favors the Democrats, it's felt.

Nelson has conducted the most spirited campaign, attacking what he calls "20 years of Republican dry rot." Thomson has replied that the continued GOP rule indicates that voters are satisfied with the job being done.

Steinle has done most of the attacking against Proxmire, who has ignored the former judge in his campaign talks. Proxmire has dwelt largely on his record in the Senate since winning a special election last year.

Steinle has accused Proxmire of being a spendthrift and in the

Jones Speaks At Board Meeting

Aubrey L. Jones, City tax assessor and collector, highlighted the meeting of the Pampa Real Estate Board Tuesday with a talk on the tax problems confronting the City. Roy C. Sparkman, vice president, conducted the meeting.

Meeting in the Pampa Hotel, the Board inducted P. O. Gaut, local insurance man and realtor, as a director. Visitors were Dale Thut, L. V. Grace, Olga Smith and Burl Lewter.

camp of Walter Reuther, the president of the United Auto Workers. He also has brought the issue of communism into the campaign.

Both men have had to deny they were behind anti-Catholic and anti-Reuther pamphlets that began appearing in the state—the church literature directed at Steinle and the Reuther stuff at Proxmire.

It didn't appear that any of the issues raised at either the gubernatorial or senatorial level has caused much of a stir among the voters.

But, on the basis of the Sept. 9 primary, in which the Democrats made their best showing in history, the election in less than two weeks should be a close one.

Library Closes Hour Earlier On Trial Basis

Lovett Memorial Library will be closed at 8 p.m. effective tonight, the board of directors decided in a called meeting this week. Hereafter, the Library has been open until 9 p.m. The early closing will be on a trial basis for a month.

At their meeting, directors read a letter received from Mrs. Dell C. Gunter, 314 W. Browning, which constitutes an able summary of the problems faced by the staff and Library user during the past year. The letter reads:

"Please allow me to express my appreciation for the superior library facilities which are available in Pampa. It has been my privilege to enjoy these facilities for some months past and I feel that they are generally without parallel in communities of this size. Lovett Memorial Library represents a highly commendable effort on the part of its directors and staff.

"Because this effort is apparent I feel compelled to point out that, in my considered opinion, the library's function as a public service institution is in jeopardy. Some weeks ago your librarian spent almost an entire evening politely subduing visitors who apparently had no desire to utilize its facilities or who perhaps had no precise conception of its proper function. Since then there have been repeated recurrences of this situation. On each occasion the librarian in charge has attempted to deal tactfully with the situation but it is obvious that an increase of these disturbances will inevitable result in a more serious problem. "The unfortunate thing here is that quite possible a small group may cause their fellows inconvenience, for it is a lamentable fact that the persons causing these disturbances are students. This fact presents several questions to my mind. What are the obligations of the library staff to youth? Is it the responsibility of a librarian to serve as a disciplinarian—a baby-sitter? To what extent do serious patrons of the library, of any age, owe tolerance to youthful antics? And inevitably, are not parents who impose these questions upon us somewhat remiss in their duty? "Unquestionable a library which does not serve young minds has sacrificed its major objective, but do not the questions stated above present a problem which constitutes a jeopardy to all other objectives? I sincerely believe so and commend them to your attention."

The Pampa Daily News YOUR FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is not license. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, The Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to promoting and preserving YOUR freedom as well as our own. For only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

Hobart St. Underpass

Tomorrow's dedication of the Hobart Street underpass represents one of the most eventful strides Pampa has ever made in eliminating a traffic hazard and inconvenience. Since the beginning of Pampa as a community, most west bound traffic out of Pampa proper has had to hurdle this obstacle which manifested itself in the form of great caution at the rail crossing or a long wait on a passing freight train.

The Tidal Wave

In a sea of iniquity, it is difficult to select the most fearsome wave. In the sea of federal taxation and extravagance, were we to seek out a particular corner of enormously destructive potential, we would center our attention on the running tide of foreign aid. This is a tidal wave.

Filibuster Situation

The results of a Congressional Quarterly poll released today indicate that the Nov. 4 election will help those fighting to revise the Senate's filibuster rule.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES Thompson Products On Right-To-Work

In the last issue I was quoting from Thompson Products' folder to their managers and stockholders explaining what the right-to-work initiative really means.

They showed beyond the shadow of a doubt, that the free rider argument was false; that majority by way of seniority could get the wages up so high that those with small seniority were thrown out of work.

Under the heading of majority rule they have this statement to make: "Anti-Right to Work propagandists also have a lot to say about the virtues of majority rule, contending that the unorganized minority in an organized shop should be compelled to support the union or get out."

"We subscribe wholeheartedly to the majority rule where it applies, but there are certain areas of our lives which it may never touch. The Constitution and Bill of Rights protect minorities with respect to a number of precious personal freedoms, such as a man's right to join the church of his choice, regardless of the preference of the majority."

"Anyone who values freedom, and who thinks at all deeply about it, is bound to conclude that the right to work stands with the highest of these inalienable rights that never should be tampered with by the majority vote of any group."

"Opponents of the Right to Work seek to spread the impression that if the proposed amendment carries in November it will either weaken unions or prevent their formation altogether. This is plain nonsense."

"Anyone who thinks, understands that the pressure for compulsory union membership is not exerted until AFTER the union has been formed and is functioning as a full-fledged organization in a plant. How can such a prohibition against compulsory union membership interfere with the formation of a union or the continuation of a union that is already established and doing a good job?"

"Union leaders who make this contention are, in effect, arguing that unless members of an already-established union are locked into that union by compulsory membership, so that they cannot effectively protest or resign, the union will fail. In other words, they're arguing that the union cannot continue to exist on the merits of the services it renders to members — that only compulsory union membership, extending from here to hereafter, can save its life."

"It is significant that in England, where unionism is more highly developed than anywhere else in the world, there are no union shop contracts providing for compulsory membership. Union membership in Britain is entirely voluntary, and unions and union leaders stand or fall on their records."

"Labor monopolists say that a Right to Work law would 'cripple' unions by permitting the wholesale withdrawal of workers in plants now under union shop contracts. Eighteen states have passed right to work laws and statistics show that in those states the total union membership has increased at a faster rate than in all of the other states combined!"

"Corrupt and racketeer-controlled unions, and others whose leaders notoriously abuse their powers, can crush out or scoff at the protest of a membership made captive under a union shop contract. The record of the McClellan Committee is replete with examples of many unions in which members find themselves helpless to protest against bad leadership."

"In the 18 states where voters have rallied at the polls to throw off compulsory union membership by passing right to work laws, unions have tended to become stronger because their leaders no longer can depend upon compulsion but must attract and hold members by performing honest and efficient service. Ohio is one of six more states that are voting on this issue in November."

"The (union called) AWA in TP (Thompson Products) Cleveland plant is a shining example of a labor organization that has prospered without compulsory membership. The AWA is one of the strongest, lustiest independent bargaining groups in all of Cleveland and the United States. It has achieved its enviable record among labor organizations by selling its wares on merit, and because people believe in it and want to belong to it, not because they are forced to join on pain of losing their right to work."

"Well over 90 per cent of all eligible Thompson people in the Cleveland area are affiliated with the AWA. They have joined it and support it, not through COM-PULSION, but through the exercise of their FREEDOM OF CHOICE, because they think it is good. Meanwhile, people who are out of like mind are free to go about their business without molestation."

"How compulsory membership operates in the national power unions to deprive men of their right to protest union action and still keep their jobs has just been demonstrated by the AFL-CIO union's action to expel a furnace charger named Donald Rarick and a group of other workers for questioning the policies of Dave McDonald, the union's top boss. Their protest was about a large dues increase."

"McDonald says the men must be 'purged' as 'traitors' for questioning his decisions. Once they are booted out of the union, Rarick and his supporters must be fired from their jobs by the steel companies which have signed union shop contracts, and the men will thereafter be denied the right to work at their occupations in the industry."

World's No. 1 Good Joe

IN 1958 HE AND OTHER AMERICANS WILL DIG INTO THEIR POCKETS AND GIVE AWAY SEVEN BILLION DOLLARS TO HELP OTHERS AT HOME AND ABROAD!

Robert Allen Reports:

Dulles Has Two Primary Factors

WASHINGTON — Two urgent factors are primarily the reason for Secretary Dulles' personal negotiations with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

Despite vigorous U.S. disapproval, the Nationalists have been increasing their already large forces on Quemoy. In the past week, 1,500 troops were added to the 70,000 manning this offshore outpost.

Defense Secretary McElroy got nowhere in his lengthy discussion with Chiang. Not only did the Nationalist chief flatly refuse to cut back the Quemoy-Matsu garrisons, but he demanded an unequivocal U.S. commitment to fight for these Red-beleaguered strongholds.

Aim of these significant backstage moves, in the opinion of State Department and Pentagon officials, is to enhance Chiang's "bargaining position" with the U.S.

This was stressed in Secretary McElroy's report to President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles. McElroy informed them that Chiang is "taking a very stiff-necked attitude" regarding the reduction of Nationalist forces on Quemoy and Matsu.

McElroy was told by Chiang, "This might be considered at an appropriate time, but the present situation is not appropriate."

The Nationalists are being vague as to the purpose of the 1,500 reinforcements.

It is admitted these troops are not reinforcements for casualties from the Communists' recent shelling. The toll from that so far is "several hundred" killed and wounded.

Latest explanation given U.S. authorities is that the 1,500 reinforcements are "specialists" to handle the numerous new big guns which have been placed on Quemoy. Largest of them are 8-inch howitzers, that fire 200-lb. shells approximately 17 miles.

In addition to more than 70,000 troops on Quemoy, the Nationalists have another 30,000 on Matsu and nearby small islands.

UNEASY TRUCE — The Chinese Reds were far from sitting on their hands while the ceasefire lasted.

They have been very active building and strengthening military installations opposite Quemoy and Matsu.

An estimated 10,000 civilian workers and several thousand soldiers are toiling on a series of fortifications aimed at Matsu, escaped heavy battering so far. This is viewed as an ominous development, as this smaller of the Nationalist strongholds has a more disquieting development in the appearance of numerous small Red craft along the coast in the vicinity of Matsu. Whether this presages an invasion attempt is still uncertain.

Similarly, the Reds have been building new airstrips and enlarging others in the Quemoy-Matsu sector. They now have more than 15 there.

While outnumbered in the air, the Nationalists have outgunned the Reds by a big margin. Since August 14, the Nationalists have shot down 32 MIGs against a loss of 15 of their own.

According to an intelligence report, the Red Chinese are pressuring the Kremlin for "volunteer" Iron Curtain pilots.

Looking Sideways

By Whitney Bolton

NEW YORK — You can go almost anywhere in the world, except possibly the Middle East where they veil their women, in a succession of French, Spanish, Italian, Basutoland, Mexican, Turkish, British or even Cayenne bar-restaurants and find a dour, marcelled, blank-faced and somewhat hard-looking woman presiding over the place and handing the money.

Our own land is relatively free of this Gorgon custom, but in New York we have at least one such establishment. The lady, however, is neither dour, marcelled, blank-faced or compelled to earn her living this way. She simply likes it and has an ingrained sense of responsibility to her customers.

It seems to me I have known Gloria Saifer since she was 18 years old and I can testify she could not have been more than 17. In those gauzy days she was a youngster pointed for the executive end of a show business. That was her aim, her goal, her determination and eyes at that age no one ever doubted but that she would make it, feet first and in her right mind. She knew everybody for theaters around, their strength, their weaknesses, the exact level of their talents and what, predictably, they would amount to and about when. She had then and still has a mind that is cool, able and at times staggering in its capabilities.

In time, Miss Saifer, as slim as a shoot and equipped with lovely eyes and a Niagara of dark hair, became an agent. An agent is a person whose job it is to get work for professional talents: players, writers, directors. There are good agents, there are fine agents, there are superlative agents. And, also, there are agents who would make themselves and all others happier if they ran a steam shovel or dug coal. Gloria is one of the superlatives. Her clients are the cream and top shelf of talent in several categories. She chose them on potentials, she chose them on potentials, she chose them on potentials, she chose them on potentials, she chose them on potentials.

A few months ago, finding no surplus in these complex duties, she cast about for a hobby that would keep her fascinated. She decided on a bar-restaurant operated for men and women of charm, taste and scintillation. This is like choosing a bed of nails or sleeping across five naked swords — a hobby that can be more painful than pleasing. Second, once you open a place like this with a public license to conduct an ordinary (a fine British word for saloon), you cannot totally control your customers as to charm, scintillation and taste. Some mults with money can always creep in and mess up the premises. All they have to be is sober and have cash in their wallets.

A parade of willing investors badgered her into accepting them as shareholders in the enterprise and then came the moment of naming the place. In an East Side area festooned with waterholes called by a multitude of fancy, phony French names, Miss Saifer showed the clipped, smooth nature of her brains.

"We'll call it 'Brown's,'" she said. And "Brown's" it is, with brown and white decor, book match covers and menus. The walls are chastely but smartly touched with six-inch wheels of cork, two inches thick in the dead center of each of which is the medallion for a foreign automobile club. I dislike to cast aspersions on ourselves or our friendly neighbor, Mexico, but our two auto club emblems are the dead ends of the collection — dull, colorless and unimaginative. All the others have color, beauty and eye-smacking design. The unoccupied walls have old-fashioned brass auto horns on them.

And, as presiding over this quiet retreat favored by the rich, the famous, the known and talented, all of whom consider it a personal cave in which to hide from the world's vulgarities, Gloria Saifer, girl hobbyist.

But she handles no money. She simply, at lunch, dinner and after theater, sits in her own chair and sees to it that no troglodyte squirms in and spoils things for everybody.

Let me say that Miss Saifer does not represent me or anyone thus connected and this is a simple, unpaid advertisement for a terrific girl.

CRACKER BARREL

Do you remember that ridiculous little dancing dance Hitler did, in the newspapers, when he received the news of the fall of France? Well, it now comes out that he didn't do it. Lawrence Stallings, writing in Esquire Magazine (Oct. 1958) says he suspected it as a fake when he first saw it while working for Fox Movietone during the early days of World War II. But he wasn't sure until John Grierson, who'd been in charge of British film propaganda told him that he had created the fake from German newsreel sources secured from neutral countries. What actually happened was — Hitler had made a little leap of excitement when he heard the news of surrender. Grierson "looped" the film so that the action was repeated several times so that Hitler seemed to jig.

"I did it," Grierson told Stallings, "so that the Nazi tyrant would seem effeminate and ridiculous at his moment of great triumph." He succeeded and the result was one of the greatest propaganda strokes of the war.

Bid For A Smile

An old man was having trouble with the sight of his left eye, so he went to his doctor. The doctor gave him a thorough examination and then said: "Doctor — There's really nothing wrong with your eye — its dimming sight is caused by old age. Old man — Nonsense and poppycock — the right eye is the same age and I see fine with it."

The Doctor Says

Dr. Edwin P. Jordan

I suppose millions of parents have worried and fussed over children who would not eat the food the parents thought they should. In this connection, I always remember one of my much loved teachers in pediatrics in medical school, who said "Treat the only child as though he were one of seven."

By this he meant that if there were seven children in the family they simply was not time to coddle and coax each one of them into eating. Just put the food on and, if not eaten, take it away again.

A similar position has been taken by a recent writer in the Journal of Pediatrics, based on a study of over 1,000 otherwise healthy children who "just won't eat." The writer found that in many of them there was a history of forcing and physical punishment which led to a feeling in the youngster that all meal times were intensely unpleasant.

The treatment suggested was based on several principles: "That no reasonably healthy, normal child will starve if food is available; that anything made hard to get would be more desirable; that a child's inherent negative mechanism (desire to say no) is increased by efforts to make him eat more than he wants; and that this negativism can be made useful by reversing the previous approach."

The standard program recommended for children under six was as follows: First day: fruit juice and water in unlimited amounts, but nothing else. Second day: add fresh fruits also in unlimited amounts. Third and fourth days: at each meal, one teaspoon each of protein, such as meat, eggs or seafood, fresh fruit or vegetable; and a starch, such as rice, potatoes, white bread, etc. Fruit and fruit juices are still given without limit between meals.

On the fifth day these foods are increased to two teaspoons of food at each meal, and on the sixth day to three. From then on until the youngster is given as many helpings of each food as desired, but only one teaspoonful at a time. Extra helpings are given only when the child so requests.

It was pointed out that the child's reaction to this regime is always the same. "The child's surprise at having food denied instead of urged, plus the unfamiliar sensation of hunger, which is kept just above hunger cramps by the calories from the fruit and juices, combine to have him 'begging for food' by the fourth day."

Children over six, the doctor suggested, must be handled somewhat differently. Once their appetite is well established they are told they must take the responsibility for their own eating. This consists in letting the child serve his own plate, choosing the kinds and amounts of food he wants with the stipulation that if the plate is not cleaned no dessert is allowed.

A word of caution is in order. A child can have eating problems as a result of disease, and before embarking on any program it is important to make sure that the child is "otherwise healthy."

SO WHAT ABOUT A CONDUCTOR!

TOKYO (UPI) — A Japanese firm Wednesday unveiled an electronic instrument that can produce the sounds of a 24-piece orchestra.

The organ-like instrument, called the "Electone," uses 184 keys, 32 pedals, eight rhythm buttons and four rhythm pedals to produce the sounds of 24 percussion instruments, brass, wood and string instruments.

A total of 3,000 transistors and 15 microphone sound amplifying units went into the instrument.

It was displayed at Japan's week-long audio fair, which opened today at the National Athletic Stadium in Tokyo. The Nippon Musical Instruments Mfg. Co. of Tokyo made the "Electone," which it plans to display at an audio fair in the United States in 1959.

To Be or Not to Be

Actually the Pentagon Building is in Virginia, but for legal purposes it is not. Virginia courts do not have jurisdiction over such federal properties.

First Democrat

While his predecessors held office under the name of Democrat-Republicans, Andrew Jackson was the first U.S. president to be elected the slaves of the North.

LAZY MAYOR
VALENCE, France (UPI)—Mayor Rene Arnoux of nearby Uple was fired by the town council for "administrative idleness."
A council spokesman said Arnoux hadn't done any official paperwork in months.

A BIG OFF-YEAR ELECTION—Newsmap above shows what type of election each state in the United States will hold in November. Citizens of every state will be called on to vote for members to the House of Representatives; 33 states will elect senators; and 33 will also choose governors. Alaska's election of two senators and one representative is a necessary prelude to its becoming officially the 49th state. Maine has already elected a senator and governor.

Slackening In French Economy Is Being Noted

PARIS (UPI)—Government experts are studying signs of an economic slowdown in France which some feared could jeopardize Premier Charles de Gaulle's plans for French prosperity. A slackening has been noted in the industrial boom France has enjoyed for the past few years, and the work week has been cut to 32 hours in some key sectors of the economy. Finance Minister Antoine Pinay called a special meeting Monday to examine the nation's credit situation. Unemployment still is low. Only 15,600 of the nation's 12.5 million workers drew unemployment benefits last month. Sales of consumer goods and other products have dropped off this fall, however, leading to cutbacks in production schedules and sharp reduction of the work week in many plants. As a direct result, the mass purchasing power of French workers is heading downward, threatening a chain-reaction of still less buying which could bring recession.

Business Views

United Press International
Ford Motor Co. reported a net loss of $16,200,000, against a profit of $229,500,000 in the similar 1957 period. Sales declined to $2,600,000,000 from $4,400,000,000 in the 1957 period. The company said production of its 1958 models now is proceeding on accelerated schedules and it expects a "substantial profit" for the final three months this year.

Domestic oil demand in November, December and January will top the similar 1957 period by 3.8 per cent, according to the Independent Petroleum Association of America. It said supplies needed for this demand will be 125,000 barrels daily above current output.

Supplies of sheet and strip steel used largely by the auto industry — could become "tight as a drum" in some areas during the next month, Iron Age said. The trade magazine said the degree of tightness will depend on the pace of new car sales. Pinay was believed thinking of relaxing credit restrictions to stimulate consumption, much as the United States did when it parried a short-lived slump earlier this year. Experts here believe the U.S. recession contributed to the French slowdown. Some said the recovery sparking the American economy may ease the strain in France.

The Agriculture Department reported farmers' cash returns in September amounted to $3,300,000,000 or 12 per cent more than in the similar 1957 period. This brought nine-month receipts to $22,800,000,000 or 11 per cent over the similar 1957 period.

Counting System
The first fully developed system of counting was based on the number 60. Traces of this system still are evident in the way space is divided into 360 degrees and the hour into 60 minutes.
