

Nixon Says He Made No Secret Deal In His Talks With Chou

WASHINGTON (AP)—Returning from his historic journey to China, President Nixon has told the nation his talks with Communist leaders sowed the seeds for "a more-enduring structure for peace" without secret deals undercutting any ally.

He sought upon his return to soothe conservatives fretting about his pledge to ultimately withdraw all U.S. troops from Taiwan—an effort being continued today in a meeting with congressional leaders.

"We did not bring back any written or unwritten agreement that will guarantee peace in our time," Nixon said in nationally televised remarks minutes after he concluded his 12-day, 20,395-mile trip to the long-hostile and isolated Asian nation.

But, he said to the cheers of several thousand persons jammed into a hangar at Andrews Air Force Base for ceremonies, "We made some necessary and important beginnings."

Nixon delivers a more-detailed private report today at a mid-morning meeting with congressional leaders, then meets with his Cabinet.

Even as he flew home from China and what he called a "week of intensive talks at the highest level," several congressional leaders praised his journey.

But some conservatives in Nixon's own Republican party fretted about his pledge to ultimately withdraw U.S. troops from Taiwan.

Nixon sought in his airport speech to reassure them that the communique pledge would not undermine the Nationalist Chinese regime of Chiang Kai-shek.

Emergency Aid Sought In Disaster

MAN, W. Va. (AP)—With 16 Appalachian coal camps in flood-devastated ruin, relief agencies began in earnest today the job of finding living quarters for the thousands of homeless from Buffalo Creek hollow.

Officials of federal and relief agencies Monday night cleared the books out of the public library and began setting up offices to provide emergency aid.

National Guardsmen manning bulldozers and other heavy equipment, continued to sift debris in search of bodies and survivors.

Surveying the splintered buildings and twisted metal frames of cars in the community of Lundale, perhaps hit hardest by the raging floodwaters, State Police Cpl. Walter Garrett said: "We estimate that 1,000 people or more lived here. Now there's nothing left but the company store."

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—The defense subpoenaed Houston Mayor Louie Welch and four others today in the bribery conspiracy trial where Texas House Speaker Gus Mutscher, more than ever, stands alone as the big target.

Woman Charged With Passing False Prescription

Carol Babitzke, Rt. 2, Canadian, was charged on two counts of passing forged prescriptions and Judge E.L. Anderson fixed bond at $1,000 each on the charges.

Major Ted Arrowood of Dallas, divisional young people's officer of the Salvation Army, called the Pampa Corps the "sleeping giant of the community," with "unmeasured potential," in an address at the corps' annual meeting and banquet Monday.

Divided Senate Returns To Bitter Busing Issue

Solons Agree To End All Work Wednesday

WASHINGTON (AP)—A sharply divided Senate today returns to the bitter dispute over busing of school children for desegregation purposes.

Forces supporting a tough antibusing stance appeared nearly evenly matched against those backing a milder approach.

The Senate Monday considered other aspects of the bill authorizing $23 billion for higher education and $1.5 billion for school desegregation.

Civil rights forces were cautiously hopeful they had the votes to reverse a 43-40 tally last Friday in favor of a far-reaching antibusing rider.

Woman Charged With Passing False Prescription

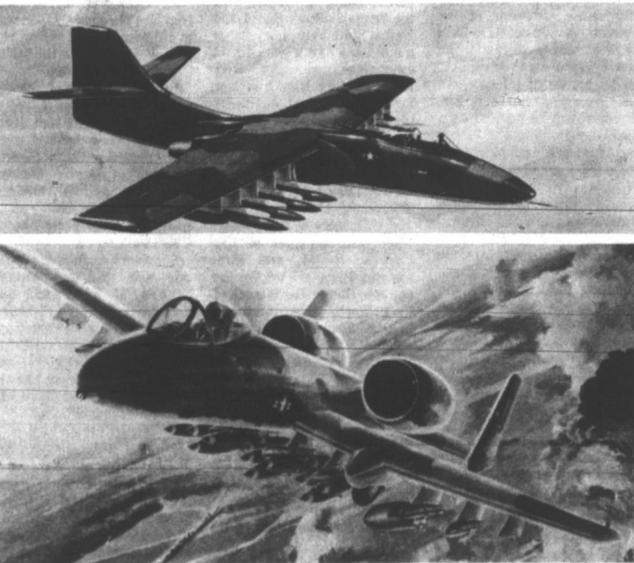

Carol Babitzke, Rt. 2, Canadian, was charged on two counts of passing forged prescriptions and Judge E.L. Anderson fixed bond at $1,000 each on the charges.

The doctor said he had treated the woman some time ago. He said a prescription pad was missing but attached no significance to it when nothing turned up.

Divided Senate Returns To Bitter Busing Issue

TWO VERSIONS of a new fighter proposed for the Air Force bristle with bombs, but all conventional. Conceived as an attack plane operating from forward airstrips to support ground forces in nonnuclear combat, the twin-jet could carry a bomb load of 16,000 pounds. Prototypes are being built for a flight test in mid-1972 between designs of Northrop, above, and Fairchild, below.

Expert Presents Principle Promoting City Prosperity

By TEX DEWEESE

If a town is to survive in tomorrow's economic jungle it must work together for the good of the entire community, James A. Barnes, retail trade researcher from Waterloo, Iowa, told the Chamber of Commerce February luncheon audience Monday in the Coronado Inn Starlight Room.

Barnes, executive vice president of Midwest Research and Analysis, Inc., of Waterloo, said shopping centers and downtown areas must work together for the economic survival of both.

"Splinter groups working against each other make a whole city suffer," Barnes said.

"In order for a city to be dynamic and cause people to want to come from outside to shop, merchants must have the things people want and are interested in.

"Get together, work together, and plan together for the survival of both."

When the planning is done, the speaker stated, it should be done locally and not by researchers brought in from outside.

Barnes cited several reasons why people will come from distances to trade. He pointed to clothing and automobiles as the top attractions a town can have to bring in outside shoppers.

"Nothing will bring people quicker than apparel stores—fashions," he said. "Fashions are the principal interest that attracts people, with automobiles second.

"When these businesses are on the ball, other businesses benefit from the shoppers they attract."

Barnes said the merchants of a community must be concerned about having available the things people want and they must be deeply concerned with what is going to happen tomorrow.

"Plan your own destiny," he said. "Meet together, talk over your needs and develop city-wide projects and promotions. That's what interests people on the outside."

The Iowa trade area analyst declared that research on future needs "is ninety per cent common sense and the other ten per cent is doing it."

The speaker illustrated his talk with slides made in other cities of comparable size to Pampa.

In opening his talk he complimented Pampa on being a clean city.

"That was the first impression I got as I drove into Pampa and that is a highly important city asset," he added.

Roy Sparkman, chamber president, announced the April membership luncheon of the chamber will be held in the new civic auditorium and said plans already were under way for a special program to mark the event.

DR. T. J. WORRELL

Dr. Worrell Dies At 78

Funeral services will be held at 4 p.m. Wednesday in the Duenkel Memorial Chapel for Dr. T. J. Worrell, 78, of 1707 Christine, who died Monday in Highland General Hospital.

Rev. Dan Cameron of the First Baptist Church will officiate, and burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Born Jan. 4, 1894, he was graduated from Arkansas Veterinary College in 1917, after which he served with the Sanitary Commission of Texas four years. He left this commission to enlist during World War I, serving as a second lieutenant in the veterinary corps in San Antonio.

He came to Pampa in 1928 and was married there to Gussie K. Elrod in 1931.

A bacteriologist, veterinarian and rancher, he held various positions during his professional career of 56 years, including working with the Texas Sanitary Board, the United State Veterinary Corps and various local commissions. He was Pampa's City Health officer for 10 years and, at the time of his death, was still employed by the city.

Survivors include his wife, Gussie, of the home; four daughters, Mrs. Leroy Thornburg of Pampa, Mrs. Joe Y. Rogers of Big Spring, Mrs. Dan Martinez of Las Creces, N. M. and Mrs. Dorothy Price of Fort Worth; one son, Homer Lee Worrell of Fort Worth; two brothers, Champ Worrell of Lubbock and Sid Worrell of Snyder; one sister, Mrs. Pauline Morgan of Wichita Falls; and 21 grandchildren.

SUZANNE BOND PHS Student Named NFSM Chapter Head

Suzanne Bond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel W. Bond, 2228 Aspen, today was appointed chairman of the Pampa Chapter of the National Fraternity of Student Musicians, student affiliate organization of the National Guild of Piano Teachers. The organization is active in all 50 states and numbers over 14,000 members in Texas alone.

A piano student of Tracy D. Cary and a sophomore at Pampa High School, Suzanne was a first place gold medal winner for her performance Saturday of the "Two Part Invention No. One" by J. S. Bach in the piano solo division contest of the University Interscholastic League held in the Fine Arts Auditorium of West Texas State University at Canyon.

Suzanne has also achieved for eight straight years the rank of national winner (gold pin rating) in the annual auditions of the National Piano Guild and was awarded the honors trophy in May 1971 for greatest achievement in piano during the year. She is a member of the Girl's Choir at Pampa High School and is active in the youth department of the First Presbyterian Church.

Auditorium Program Will Carry Contributors' Names

Plans are under way for dedication of the M.K. Brown Memorial Auditorium scheduled at 2 p.m. Sunday, April 23.

A distinctive souvenir program is being designed to honor Mr. M.K. Brown. Since the M.K. Brown Foundation is financing the entire construction program, committee members in charge of the dedication felt the community might wish to finance the major cost of the dedication program. It was the opinion of the committee that advertising in such a program would detract; therefore, no display advertising will be used.

The souvenir program will be distributed free. The committee also was of the opinion it would not be in good taste to make a charge for the souvenir program.

The names of all sponsors making a contribution of $25 or more will be carried on a special page.

Anyone who would like to be included is urged to fill out the coupon below exactly as they would like their name to appear and run with a check of $25 or more to Box 1942, Pampa, Texas 79065, no later than March 10, which is the deadline for copy with the printers. From Paris

From Paris comes the slick suit signed Molyneux (left) featuring cape sleeves. The suit is in gray and black check. Designed by Gaston Berthelot and unmistakably from the house of Chapel, the suit at the right comes in navy, white and pink tweed, and is topped with a cardigan in white jersey, edged with the skirt fabric. The navy surrah shirt has a large bow tie. Both are from spring collections.

Dear Abby She can't break the Christmas gift cycle

DEAR ABBY: I sure do agree with "Sick of Christmas." And your advice on how to break the endless cycle of giving gifts to relatives and friends you never see was the only sensible solution.

We tried to do it in our family three years ago. We all said, "Okay, no more Christmas presents!" Then at Christmastime here comes my husband's sister with gifts for everybody! Then we all had to rush out and buy her and her family something. I could have kicked her in the teeth!

Right now I have four waffle irons, five electric blankets, and three steam irons that have never been out of their original boxes. I won't even tell you how many bottles of perfume and toilet water I have stuck away on my shelf. What's wrong with people, Abby?

ALSO SICK OF CHRISTMAS
DEAR ALSO: They? You should give to the needy—not the greedy. Why don't you give some of those duplicate gifts to some poor soul who could use them?

DEAR ABBY: We work in a large, busy office where 14 girls are employed. During the year, many salesmen call on our boss. When the boss is tied up we girls will make small talk with these salesmen to make their waiting more pleasant.

Around Christmastime many salesmen send us presents, we assume, to show their appreciation for making them feel at home in our office. Last year there were 14 boxes of chocolates, and as many bottles of good perfume, but these gifts were sent to "the company" and not addressed to us girls individually, so the boss took everything home to his wife!

Our question: What do we say to these salesmen who come in and ask us how we liked their presents?

DEAR GIRLS: Ask, "What presents?"

DEAR ABBY: I think you owe us beauty operators an apology! One grabby hairdresser wrote to say she would much rather get a few dollars from each of her patrons for Christmas than some of those costly, but useless doo-dads she receives. And you agreed it would be nicer.

Well, we are six hairdressers who are insulted. We welcome any gift from a patron. After all, it's the thought that counts at Christmas.

ANGRY WITH ABBY

DEAR ANGRY: Sorry. Please read on:

DEAR ABBY: I heartily agree with that hairdresser who said she'd prefer a gift of cash at Christmas.

I am a secretary-bookkeeper for two gentlemen who have a thriving business. Each year one of their wives selects a Christmas gift for me, and I have yet to receive one that I can use.

One year it was a tablecloth, purchased on one of their trips to Europe. It was expensive, I am sure, but I neither needed nor wanted it. Nor did it fit my table. Of course, I couldn't return it.

Another year I received a piece of modern sculpture, also purchased abroad. I didn't care for it, but couldn't return that, either.

A gift of cash, even a more modest amount than the price of either gift, would have been so much more appreciated.

PREFERS CASH IN N. Y. C.

DEAR ANGRY AND PREFERS: My mail ran two to one in favor of cash!

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Help Yourself To Dividends

Yes, State Farm is still paying big car insurance dividends. Eligible Texas

WIRED FOR WIPING. these all-weather spectacles are an unusual new fashion note on the Paris scene. Powered by battery, the busy little blades give a lady a clear outlook on the world in all kinds of weather.

policy holders are now receiving a big 20 per cent dividend on expiring six-month policies—one of the many reasons why more Texans insure their cars with State Farm than with any other company.

State Farm Mutual insures over 12 million automobiles and is the largest auto underwriter in the United States and bringing this closer to home, is the largest in Texas.

Many people think that State Farm Mutual is an auto insurance company only. Pampans can find State Farm Homeowners policies, disability-income policies, life and boat insurance, along with many others right in town.

State Farm is proud of being number one in the sale of Homeowners policies throughout the nation. State Farm can give you all the protection needed for your home and its contents and they are paying 10 per cent dividends on eligible Homeowner policies.

What happens when you're offered $16,000 for your $22,400 pile of ashes? You take it if you haven't increased your home insurance to keep pace with inflation.

Remember when you bought your house? The real estate man probably told you it was a smart investment, because it would increase in value over the years.

FEATURING CHANNEL MASTER--Leymond Hall is shown demonstrating some of his Channel Master tape players. Best Tapes Available At Local Tire Firm

Hall Tire Co., operated by Leymond Hall is the headquarters of "Channell Master" tape players for the Pampa area. They carry one of the largest, most up to the minute stocks of tapes in the area. Complete price range of eight track tape players for both home and automobile is available there.

Also custom installation is available accompanied with an efficient service department.

If your "red" is in need of rubber as well as portable music, Hall Tire is the place you need to visit.

According to Leymond Hall, the firm offers a full line of automobile tires as well as light truck tires and a full line of glass belted tires at the most "popular prices."

"Through our direct volume buying," said Hall, "we are able to offer tires at very reasonable and competitive prices."

The company services everything it sells. A main specialty of Hall Tire Co. is that it balances wheels electronically. This type of balancing is an expensive and complicated process. Only three or four shops in town have it, according to Hall. The procedure requires a well trained man who must have had several months training if he uses the machine correctly.

Hall assures his customers that "we still know who you are if you have a tire adjustment problem."

The business also offers other services: re-upholstering, and custom made seat covers made to the liking of the customer.

Hall, though not born in Pampa, has lived here most of his life, and has been in business for better than 25 years. That is just another assurance to you that you are getting the best possible deal.

Visit Hall Tire Company at 700 W. Foster and see for yourself what real service is like.

Clements Has 'Style'

The word around Clements Barber Shop is that Bob Clements has the best customers in the world and the customers have the best barber in the world.

A stop by Clements Barber Shop will show why.

Clements, who has been a barber since 1946, has satisfied customers from Miami, Canadian, McLean, Wheeler, Pampa and other points around the Panhandle.

"I went to some of those styling shows and saw what some of these barbers were doing that I couldn't do, and I said to myself, that's for me," Clements said in his best chairside manner.

Clements massages the hair and scalp 20 minutes to bring about circulation and relaxation to the scalp. "If this procedure is not followed, the hair stands straight up—making a good styling or cutting job near impossible," Clements, who has had training at Amarillo, Tyler and Dallas, has a practicing knowledge of hair-loss retardation.

"I can't bring the hair back," said Clements, "but I can help you keep what you've got."

The wife of one of Clements' former customers who moved from the Pampa area wrote requesting more of the Roffler's products handled by Clements, with this comment, "His hair is a lot thicker than it has ever been since we've been married. It's really been growing a lot lately."

Clement stated, "When he first came to me I was doubtful about my being able to help him. He had a very severe scalp condition."

Clements recently received an award for being the best Roffler salesman in the Lubbock-Pampa-Amarillo area.

"The natural look" is Clement's specialty, but he does regular barbering as well as styling.

Business Mirror

NEW YORK (AP)—The United States last year ran up a trade deficit with the rest of the world of $2.9 billion. In some degree it meant that we were out-produced and out-traded, and the shock is having reverberations.

Should the country react to stiffer competition by fighting harder? Or should it protect itself by barricading its markets? Should it work with other nations to build trade, hoping thereby to reverse the trade deficit?

The alternatives sound like something you once read in your history book, but they are very current considerations.

If passed, for example, the Burke-Hartke bill would build barriers to foreign competition in American markets. And at a meeting between U.S. and European businessmen in Versailles, France, this week those alternatives will underlay every discussion.

One of the main reasons why this decision is before the American people especially is that the United States obviously has lost some of its unique advantages in world trade.

At one time American technology and marketing know-how was so superior to that of other nations that it was common to hear Europeans and others talk of American economic domination.

The United States no longer has any corner on technology. In production and marketing it has much to learn from the amazing performance of Japan. And in government-industry cooperation it can learn from a dozen nations.

And while the country faces a new economic world, it must also adjust domestically to factors that seem to be exerting a strong drag on its ability to produce efficiently.

Strikes, the lack of enthusiasm in spending for research and development, the lack of access to training in labor skills, the oligarchic nature of pricing in some areas of the economy have all weakened productivity.

There is the likelihood also that Americans are slightly more inclined to settle for security rather than compete for the dazzling prospect of a higher economic level, which was one of the great lures to productivity.

Inflation, of course, makes American goods less competitive abroad. And since it puts money into the hands of buyers, it tends to make the market for foreign goods more attractive.

Whatever the reasons, the United States must decide again, as it has in the past, which way it is to go: more trade through open markets or less trade because of restricted markets.

The United States still can dangle before any other nation the largest market in the world, one that it shared openly with nations that once were weak but which now are able to care for themselves.

Banker Gives Guns

DALLAS (AP)—When bank president William E. Adams hit on the idea of giving shotguns to his Texas depositors he hit on one of the fastest draws in the West.

"The response has been fantastic," he said, glancing at the shiny new Browning automatic near his desk in Dallas International Bank, while deftly fielding telephone inquiries from as far away as California and Nebraska. "I reckon we'll shift more than a hundred guns today."

Here's the deal: You take out an $1,800 30-month savings deposit certificate and get the instant interest in the form of a $232 Browning automatic, which you can carry out of the bank then and there underneath your arm. You also get a carrying case, a cleaning kit, and two boxes of shells.

Just in case there are any nervous old ladies around who don't want a gun in the house, you can take $225 interest in cash instead. But so far no Texan depositors have done that.

What are the chances of a customer turning his newly acquired gun around on a teller to hold up the bank?

Not much, according to Bill Adams. He says the guns are broken down and stored for safety in a locked vault. Even the ammunition boxes with the display model are empty. So anyone with his sights on hitting a quick barrel of money must bring his own armament.

Adams, who is also a director of the American National Bank in Amarillo and First National in Canyon, said he tried out his gun idea in West Texas a year ago. It went so well there that he imported it to Dallas.

Handsome cowboy model John Carlisle of Canyon was hired to put the idea over in a 30-second television commercial. The news soon got around.

People started calling for guns from out of state. To be in line with firearms regulations, those shipped out of Texas go to the customer's nearest Browning dealer and the freight is charged.

The guns come in 12, 16 or 20 gauge, and twice the supply has temporarily run out.

CENTER OF ATTENTION--is a new communications satellite, the second Intelsat IV, assembled in a 10-nation cooperative effort. Nearly 18 feet high and equipped to handle as many as 6,000 two-way telephone calls or 12 simultaneous color TV channels, it will serve the 81-nation Communications Satellite Corp. from stationary orbit over the Atlantic. A similar satellite has been orbiting since January 1970.

Texas Co-ed Queen

LAREDO, Tex. (AP)—Rosanne Louise Winch, 19, junior coed from Laredo Junior College, has been elected queen of the 1972 Border Olympics.

She will preside over the track and field event March 3 and 4 and the golf tournament which begins on March 2.

More than 1,200 athletes are expected to participate, including some of the Southwest's outstanding athletes who will compete in four divisions—high school, junior college, college and university.

Sara Shelby of Nuevo Laredo and Alice Burni of Laredo were named attendant duchesses for the queen.

Ag Department Says Farmers Make Profit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department says in November farmers received $2 more for a "market basket" of retail food items while middlemen got $1 less than in October.

The market basket list includes farm-produced food items needed by a typical family for one year. Overall, consumers paid an annual rate of $1.245 for the market basket in November, up $1 from October, according to the Economic Research Service.

"Of the total cost, farmers received $480 as their share in November; and middlemen

$765 for transporting, processing and selling the items to consumers. On a percentage basis, the farm value increased 0.3 per cent from October, while the middleman spread shrank 0.1 per cent.

Although a minor reduction, the middleman spread was the second monthly decline in a row. In October, it narrowed by 1.8 per cent.

Most food items in retail stores remained about the same as in October. However, the ERS said, there were "sharp" retail price increases for some fresh vegetables—mainly lettuce, tomatoes, celery and peppers—which were offset by decreases for poultry, eggs and fresh fruit.

Local Cabot Corp. Man Named AAEE Diplomate

CURT B. BECK

Curt B. Beck, associate director of Research and Environmental Control with the Cabot Corp. in Pampa, has been named a Diplomate of the American Academy of Environmental Engineers, having successfully completed the specialty certification examination given by the Environmental Engineering Intersociety Board.

Established in 1955 to improve practice, elevate standards, and advance the cause of environmental engineering to better serve the public, the board is the first, and at present the only, engineering organization certifying to the professional qualifications of practitioners of its specialties.

In addition to the satisfactory completion of the written and oral examinations, the stringent requirements for certification include graduation with a degree in engineering from an institution approved by the board; registration as a professional engineer; and at least eight years of engineering experience, four of which must have been in responsible charge of environmental engineering work.

Born in Dallas, and the grandnephew of the late Col. A. H. Belo, founder of the Dallas Morning News, Beck received his B. Sc. and M. Sc. degrees in Chemical Engineering from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He joined the Cabot Corp. as a junior chemical engineer in 1945 and was appointed to his present position in 1965. Beck is a member of several professional organizations and is director of the Texas Panhandle Section of the American Society of Chemical Engineers. He is married to a Pampa physician, Dr. W. P. Beck, and they have three children.

Ag Commissioner Featured Speaker At SW Farm Show

AUSTIN — Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White will be the featured speaker at opening ceremonies of the Southwest Farm and Ranch Show to be held in Fort Worth March 3 and 4.

White will speak at 10 a.m. March 3. He will discuss rural development.

The Farm Show is open to the public and is free. The show is open from 10:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. each day, and will be held in the new, air conditioned Tarrant County Convention Center.

The show will cover nearly 100,000 square feet of exhibition space. More than 300 manufacturers featuring the latest and newest in farm products will be exhibitors.

Also featured will be a national tractor pull. More than 65 tractor pullers from throughout the nation will compete.

Carl Bell Announces Candidacy For State Ag Commissioner

CARL A. BELL

Carl A. Bell recently announced his candidacy for State Commissioner of Agriculture in the May 6 Democratic Primary.

Bell, 43, was born and reared on a farm near Henrietta, Texas. He attended Ft. Lewis A & M College in Colorado. He was an enlisted man in the Adjutant General Corps of the Army from 1952 to 1954 during the Korean War. He served in municipal government four years at Durango, Colo., three years as city councilman and one year as mayor. He resigned from office to return to Texas. He is married and has two sons, ages 15 and 7. The Bells reside at 1001 Carmel Parkway in Corpus Christi. Bell says that "most honest and taxpaying citizens know for sure that now is the time for a change in some of our public officials entrenched with the establishment" in Austin. Most of our elected officials are forgetting that they are in office to represent the people, not their selfish prosperity.

"Because of the recent reports of scandal and corruption around Austin and Houston involving our elected state officials, bankers, insurance people, and probably many others, we cannot afford to be represented by this type of people. It's time for a change."

Bell said he is running for the office of Commissioner of Agriculture to "work with" the farmers and ranchers of Texas not "against" them.

Texas Said Losing $12 Million Yearly In Tax Receipts

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Senate investigators claimed Monday that Texas is losing at least $12 million a year in sales tax receipts because State Comptroller Robert S. Cavert is not going after the tax dollars hard enough.

Other estimates for sales tax losses in 1971 ranged from $17.5 million to $58.6 million.

The 4 per cent statewide sales tax is Texas' most important tax, raising $586 million last year, or nearly one-third of the state's total tax revenue.

It was enacted by the legislature in 1961 at 2 per cent and has been raised three times.

The staff of a special Senate committee told the committee Monday that businesses not paying the tax ranged up to 8 per cent in 1961-68, even after the businesses had been notified once, and the delinquency rate appears to be getting worse among the some 250,000 firms which should pay the sales tax.

Doctors Ask Parents To Keep Medicine Away From Children

More than 500,000 children—like the little girl next door or the toddler in your own home—will swallow poison this year. Most cases reported will involve children under five years of age. Most of these poisonings, say state health officials, are preventable.

"In Texas last year there were nearly 200 fatal poisonings listed as accidental," said James Doughty, director of Food and Drug Division, Texas State Department of Health.

"Aspirins, tranquilizers, pep-pills, diet pills, sleeping pills, and furniture polish are among the chief culprits. The simple act of 'poison-proofing' the home could remove these substances from the inquisitive hands of youngsters."

Over three-fourths of all the fatal poisonings occurred in the home. The reason is simple. Common household products used for housekeeping and medicinal purposes represent the greatest potential poisoning hazards.

Among these are detergents, furniture polishes and waxes, drain and bowl cleaners, lighter fluids, and pesticides. Add to this list all the medicines kept in your medicine cabinet, from aspirins to tranquilizers.

Many of us are aware of the potential dangers of medicines, or household substances for that matter. Even salt and pepper may chemically produce an injurious or deadly effect when used in large amounts. A five-year-old youngster in Rhode Island died after swallowing about two tablespoons of ordinary pepper. In another case, a 22-month-old child died after inhaling a large amount of talcum powder.

Doctors recommend that when you give a child medicine, you should never tell him it is "candy." He'll go for the "candy" when you're out of the room. "All medicines should be treated as medicines," said Doughty, "and all medicines should be bought in child-proof containers."

Gender Of God
NEW YORK (AP)—"What in thunder is gained by reversing 'God is a He' to 'God is a She' except irritating people?" said Dr. Margaret Mead, an Episcopalian and anthropologist, at a meeting on improving women's role in the church. "It gets us nowhere."

Q & A On Income Taxes

EDITOR'S NOTE—This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the Pampa office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers.

Q) Are tax rates any lower for single people this year?

A) Yes. The lower tax rates for single persons are reflected in the tax tables and tax rate schedules in the instructions for your 1971 Federal income tax return.

Q) I have two jobs. Can I deduct transportation expenses between one place of work and the other?

A) If you work at two places in a day, whether or not for the same employer, you may deduct the expense of getting from one place to the other. However, if for some personal reason you do not go directly from one location to the other, you may deduct only the amount it would have cost you to go directly from one location to the second. Transportation expenses incurred in going to and from a part-time Saturday job are commuting expenses and nondeductible.

Q) If I pay someone to fill out my tax return, is he responsible for any mistakes?

A) If you are not going to prepare your own return, you are still responsible for the accuracy of every item entered on your return. Therefore, you should exercise the utmost care in choosing as a preparer one who is both knowledgeable in tax matters and scrupulous in preparing a complete and accurate return.

Q) What are the most common mistakes that might delay a tax refund?

A) Some of the most common errors that may delay a refund include: failure to use the label that came with your tax return package; Failure to attach all Forms W-2 and other required statements and schedules; incorrect or missing social security numbers; mathematical errors; using the wrong tax table, line or column; and missing signatures.

Richard Presents Liz With Another Diamond

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Richard Burton has held a two-day birthday party for his wife, Elizabeth Taylor, and presented her a diamond "with a carat figure large enough to make a turnip."

Among the some 160 guests celebrating the American actress' 40th birthday Sunday were Princess Grace of Monaco, U.S. stars Michael Caine and Suzanna York and former Beatle Ringo Starr.

"I set out to buy the Taj Mahal for my wife's 40th birthday," Burton said Sunday. "Finding it difficult to buy the Taj, I bought this diamond for her instead."

Burton said the diamond was originally given by Indian Emperor Shah Jehan to his favorite wife Mumtaz Mahal in 1621. When Mumtaz Mahal died, the emperor erected the Taj Mahal in her memory.

Set in a heart-shaped gold mounting, the diamond is ringed by rubies and emeralds. Engraved in the gold mounting is "Eternal love till death."

Burton did not disclose how much he paid for the bauble, but he said an amount equal to its purchase price would be donated to British charities at the end of the year.

Burton said his wife will gradually withdraw from films and form a triumvirate with actors Marlon Brando and Peter Ustinov to work for the United Nations Childrens Fund.

Baseball Roundup

By Associated Press

Buzzie Bavasi, general manager of the Padres, isn't about to jump off the roof of San Diego Stadium over Mike Ivie's attack of homesickness. "I lived through Sandy Koufax' retirement when I was general manager of the Dodgers, so I can live through this," Bavasi said Monday after the Padres' 19-year-old catching prodigy flew home to Decatur, Ga., from the team's Yuma, Ariz., training camp after becoming depressed and homesick.

"I should be concerned about this I guess, but I'm not," said Bavasi, even though Ivie was conceding a shot at remaining with the National League West cellar-dwellers after batting .306 last season in the California League and .471 in a six-game stint with the Padres.

It was a bad day all around for the Padres, who lived up to their last-place status by losing baseball players as fast as other teams were gaining them.

While Juan Marichal signed with San Francisco, Billy Williams with the Chicago Cubs, Norm Cash with Detroit, Al Downing and Don Sutton with Los Angeles, Andy Messersmith with California and Deron Johnson with Philadelphia, the Padres were notified that infielder Tommy Dean, 26, was retiring and workhorse relief pitcher Al Severinsen, 27, might follow suit unless traded to an eastern team.

Marichal, an 18-game winner in 1971, agreed to a two-year contract with the Giants for an estimated $140,000 a year. Second baseman Tito Fuentes also agreed to terms and both players were expected in camp today.

Williams, the Cubs' slugging outfielder, signed for an estimated $115,000 after a 1½-hour session with John Holland, club vice president, during which the player said both sides "gave a little." Williams was the last Cub to sign.

Cash, Detroit's hard-hitting first baseman, got a reported $70,000 worth of his last name, leaving pitcher Mickey Lolich and infielder Cesar Gutierrez the only unsigned Tigers.

The signing of Downing and Sutton left pitchers Jose Pena and Mike Strahler as the only Dodgers outside the fold while infielders Ken McMullen and Sandy Alomar are the only unsatisfied Angels following Messersmith's signing for an estimated $70,000.

Two other teams signed the last of their recalcitrants when infielder Fred Stanley okayed his pact with Cleveland and Minnesota inked catchers George Mitterwald and Fred Rico.

But a number of players remained loth to put pen to contract including Oakland's Cy Young Award winner, Vida Blue.

The A's have offered $50,000 while Blue, still at home in Mansfield, La., is demanding $22,500, a raise of $78,000.

Atlanta reliever Cecil Upshaw stormed out of a contract meeting with vice president Paul Richards and told The Atlanta Journal:

"He's going to have to trade me, that's what he's going to have to do. And I hope he does. I don't like Atlanta that much. You've got to go where the money is."

Later, Upshaw said his outburst was "an emotional reaction and I was just upset."

Bruins Maintain Top Spot

By Associated Press

And then there was one. Marquette's stunning 70-49 defeat at the hands of Detroit Saturday left the UCLA Bruins as the only unbeaten major college basketball team—and the unanimous choice for the top spot in The Associated Press' nationwide poll of sports writers and broadcasters released today.

UCLA, 23-0 after defeating Pacific-8 rivals Washington State, Oregon and Oregon State last week, garnered all 41 first place votes to lead this week's poll with 820 points.

Marquette, which won its first 22 games of the season, had received one first place vote a week ago. But after bowing to Detroit in their second game since star center Jim Chones signed a contract with the New York Nets of the American Basketball Association, the Warriors dropped from the second spot in the poll to No. 5.

Louisville, 20-2, edged North Carolina, 20-3, for the runner-up spot, but both were well behind UCLA. The Cardinals, who whipped Cincinnati 93-73 in their only outing last week, received 637 votes while the Tar Heels, victors over Georgia Tech and Virginia last week, had 620.

Retaining the fourth spot in this week's rating was Pennsylvania with 573 points. The Quakers upped their record to 20-2 by beating Ivy League rivals Cornell and Columbia over the weekend. Marquette, 22-1 overall but 1-1 since losing Chones, was No. 5 with 442 points.

The next two spots were unchanged, No. 6 going to Long Beach State, 23-3, with 409 points, and No. 7 to Brigham Young, 20-3, with 354. South Carolina and Marshall exchanged the next two places, the 19-4 Gamecocks moving up to eighth with 321 points and Marshall 22-4, dipping to ninth with 271.

Florida State, 11th last week, climbed into the Top Ten with 235 points, beating out Southwestern Louisiana for the No. 10 spot.

Southwestern Louisiana, 22-3, headed the second 10 with 149 points. Virginia moved from 13th to 12th, Houston from 16th to 13th, Ohio State from 15th to 14th and Hawaii from 17th to 15th.

Michigan, a newcomer to the Top Twenty, grabbed the No. 16 spot, followed by Oral Roberts, Maryland, Missouri and Memphis State.

College Roundup

AP SPORTS WRITER

It was happy birthday for Tom Riker, happy hunting for Southwestern Louisiana and a happy hot hand for Travis "The Machine" Grant in college basketball Monday night.

Riker celebrated his 22nd birthday by pouring in 31 points and leading eighth-ranked South Carolina to a 109-83 romp over Notre Dame—the 20th victory of the season for the Gamecocks.

Riker hit 12 of 16 field goal attempts leading six SC shooters in double figures. The winners shot 63.2 per cent from the floor. "It was the best exhibition of shooting we've had in my years at South Carolina," said Coach Frank McGuire. "It was sensational."

If Riker was hot, Grant was hotter. The Machine, leading small college scorers in the nation, exploded for 68 points in Kentucky State's 121-76 victory over Eastern Michigan. The output pushed Grant over the 3,000-point mark—only the fourth collegian in history to pass that plateau.

The defeat ended an 18-game unbeaten streak for Eastern Michigan, the No. 5 small college team in the country.

Southwestern Louisiana, ranked No. 11 in the country, completed its regular season with a 90-73 victory over arch-rival Northwestern Louisiana. Dwight Lamar, the nation's No. 1 scorer, had 33 points and 11 assists for the winners, now 233.

"We really hated to lose any games," said Coach Beryl Shipley. "But looking back, three losses don't look that bad. In fact, it looks like a pretty good year. Now we can sit back and see what happens Wednesday when the National Colleague Athletic Association extends its at-large bids for the post-season tournament and the National Invitation Tournament officials start making their bids."

Most conference champions, of course, automatically qualify for the NCAA showdown. Tennessee took a step in that direction, moving back into the Southeastern Conference lead by whipping Louisiana State 76-66 to slip past Kentucky as the Wildcats bowed to Alabama 73-70.

Tennessee, 12-3 in the conference, avenged an earlier loss to LSU with Len Kosmal's 26 points leading the attack. The Vols won the game on free throws, outscoring LSU 24-4 from the foul line.

Kentucky dipped to 12-4, one half game back, with Ray Odums hitting 20 points to pace the Alabama attack. The Wildcats were hurt by a late technical foul, assessed when they called a timeout after exhausting their timeouts. Bob Ellis canned the free throw and Alabama retained possession, eventually running out the clock.

Tennessee and Kentucky clash March 9 in a game that could determine the conference champ and NCAA berth.

Nicklaus Leading Golfing Cash Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Well ahead of his record-breaking earnings pace of last year, Jack Nicklaus has taken the lead in professional golf's money race.

Nicklaus, who garnered second prize money of $29,640 in Jackie Gleason's Inverrary Classic, has earned $63,867 this year, according to figures announced Monday by the PGA Tournament Players Division.

Tom Weiskopf, who won first place money of $52,000 at Inverrary, was about $1,000 behind Nicklaus with $62,817, catapulting from 26th to second place.

Nicklaus, who won $244,490 last year, is more than $15,000 ahead of his winnings a year ago at this time.

The first American Bowling Congress tournament was held in 1901.

AT THE MOMENT, it is Walter Kennedy, center, commissioner of the National Basketball Association, who is in the spotlight as the Senate looks into the proposed merger between the NBA and its only competitor, the American Basketball Association. But the results of the Senate Inquiry will have a large impact on two existing monopolies, major league baseball, whose commissioner is Bowie Kuhn, left, and the National Football League, headed by commissioner Pete Rozelle.

Ivan The Terrible Dies In Old-Age Loneliness

NEW YORK (AP) — The obituary will take up only a couple of lines of agate type. It will say Ivan Vakturoff, 72, passed away over the weekend. People will glance at the name and shrug.

But Ivan Vakturoff wasn't just another old codger. Thirty years ago, he was "Ivan The Terrible, The Mad Russian," and a big name on the professional wrestling circuit.

Ivan fought them all—Gene Stanley, Mr. America, World champ Jim Londos, Jack Taylor, the Canadian champ, Two-Ton Tony Galento, who turned to wrestling after his boxing career was over, and Gorgeous George, among others.

"He didn't brag, but he kept all the clippings and pictures," said Marty Alma, a city employee who met Vakturoff when Ivan's career was just about ending around 1947. Alma was a chief life guard at Coney Island where many wrestlers used to spend their summer days before climbing through the ropes at night.

"He was a nice old guy and we remained friendly," said Alma. "He never had any family and he wasn't really close with anyone."

As the years began creeping up on Ivan, Alma started taking care of the old wrestler. "He didn't talk much about his wrestling but we'd visit each other. After awhile, he couldn't get around very well and I'd go to his house and take care of him."

Three months ago, Ivan, destitute and ailing, entered a nursing home. The only name on his papers was Alma's. "They'd contact me when he was moved from one ward to another. My name followed him. I signed the papers when he was admitted. Alma made it a point to visit Vakturoff at least once every week. "He was a lonely old guy. He just wanted someone to talk to."

Last week, the old wrestler's condition deteriorated and Alma was notified. "I got to the hospital at 9 a.m. Friday and stayed until about 2. He was in an oxygen tent. When I got home, they called and said he had passed on."

Social Security and welfare benefits will take care of Vakturoff's funeral. The only mourner will be Alma. "I'll be there," said Alma. "I was his friend."

The 1972 junior amateur golf championship will be played Aug. 15 at the Brookhaven Country Club, Dallas.

Perryton Seeks Football Coach

PERRYTON — The Perryton Rangers are seeking a new coach for the head football coaching position at Perryton High School after the contract of Don Smith was not renewed.

Applications for the position are currently being accepted by Gilbert Mize, school superintendent.

Smith, who had been the head coach for the past four seasons, coached the Rangers to a won five, lost four and tied one last season.

Rangers Prepare To Beat Pitchers

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — When the new home of the Texas Rangers was called Turnpike Stadium and was a minor league diamond, they called the place a "pitchers' park."

Now it's Arlington Stadium, and the American Leaguers will be coming to town, so the park's reputation might be tarnished a big, believes Ted Williams.

"Someone said that only 26 home runs were hit out of there all last season," said the manager of the Rangers, "but I'll bet on at least 50 going out this season, maybe more."

The dimensions of the park aren't that lengthy—330-feet down both lines, 380 feet in the power alleys and 400-feet to center. And a prevailing west to east wind that used to sweep in over the rightfield fence toward home plate will not be blocked to some extent by the new bleachers being built in the stadium expansion.

But when the major leaguers do start to flex their muscles at Arlington Stadium this summer, there's a question whether or not the host club will be able to keep pace in the home run derby.

Outside the Frank Howard, the 6-7, 300-pounder who had an off season last year with just 26 homers, there is no other definite power threat, although there are a couple of good possibilities for development along those lines.

Roy Foster, a 6-foot, 185-pounder, came to the Rangers in an off season trade with Cleveland, and power was his No. 1 attraction as an Indian. He had 23 homers in 1970 and 18 last year despite some injury problems that he hopes to escape this season.

Then there's Jeff Burroughs, only 21 years old and a disappointment last year in the power department. But he's a solid 6-1, 200-pounder on whom Williams is extremely high. "Jeff looks so good that at times there's a tendency to forget that he's only had two years of experience," noted Williams. "He had a lot to learn, but when he does learn things like not trying to pull the ball every time up there, then they'll start to go out for him."

Burroughs has also put on glasses this spring for the first time in his career "and once I get used to them," he said, "they could really help."

Veteran Don Mincher, expected to alternate at first base with Howard, is also a power threat although he hit just 12 last season.

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Our Capsule Policy

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces can he develop to his utmost capability.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

Real Power Balance

In calculating the "balance of terror" between East and West in this nuclear age we are accustomed to measuring the preponderance of power in terms of missiles and megatons. It is behind the ramps, however, where the real balance of power is determined—in the technology and industrial capacity that creates modern armies and weapons and stands behind the threat of their use.

We can see evidence that both the Soviet Union and Communist China are haunted by the imbalance between their own productive capacities and those of the major industrial nations of the Free World. We see both reaching outward to redress the balance.

The Soviet Union trails the United States of America in almost every field of industrial production—especially in the so-called "high technology" fields, such as computers and mass-produced motor vehicles. Thus Soviet officials are prowling the industrial capitals of Western Europe in search of deals to obtain the manufacturing technology their own heavy-footed system has failed to develop. Their lures are trade agreements opening up new markets for European goods, and the chance for European firms to take part in developing the Soviet Union's vast natural resources.

The Chinese Communists are more desperate than the Russians. When the Communists took power in Mainland China in 1949 they pinned their hopes for industrialization on the help they would receive from the more advanced Soviet Union. Soviet tools and technicians poured into China—only to be withdrawn abruptly with the ideological break between Mao Tse-tung and the Kremlin. While achieving a nuclear capability, the country failed to make its "Great Leap Forward" to become an industrial power.

Meanwhile the Communist experiments with cooperative and communal farms also failed to develop the agricultural surplus which would have given the Chinese farm products to export—the only possibility for earning foreign credits to buy tools and technology for heavy industry and mass production.

Where can China turn? Western European businessmen would jeopardize their budding relationship with the Russians if they tried to play both sides of the Communist street. Peking sees that the only route for building bridges for the help she needs lies toward Japan and the United States.

For all the dread which the world feels toward the arsenals of missiles that make up a "balance of terror," there is comfort in knowing that nations of the free world are being lured into handing their enemies the technology and manufacturing skills which can only make it harder to keep the real measure of power between East and West in balance.

About Barbiturates

Give credit to government, from Washington to Beaumont, for its concern about young people and drugs. Now comes testimony before a Senate subcommittee that in the world of illicit drug use, 1972 may well become the year of the barbiturate.

Expert testimony was heard from Dr. Sidney Cohen, of the University of California, Los Angeles. He is a former director of the Division of Narcotic Addiction and Drug Abuse of the National Institute of Mental Health. He said "if 1966 was the year of 'acid' (LSD), 1968 the year of 'speed' (amphetamines), and 1970 the year of 'smack' (heroin), then 1972 may well be the year of the 'downer'."

Dr. Cohen said the "downers"—the street name for barbiturates—have in some respects a greater potential for danger than other classes of drugs, including heroin. He said the combination of alcohol and barbiturates was particularly hazardous. He indicated their increasing popularity was because they were easy to obtain, were not expensive—"escape" for the price of lunch money.

Sen. Birch Bayh, Democrat of Indiana and chairman of the subcommittee on Juvenile Delinquency, said that in 1970 drug companies in the United States produced more than 525 tons of barbiturates; enough to give every man, woman and child about 30 pills—Beaumont (Tex.) Enterprise

'ANOTHER SPIN-OFF FROM MOON EXPLORATION!'

Paul Harvey News Risk On Moon Reduces Yours Here On Earth

By Paul Harvey

Watch the medical reports on Al Worden. He's the third man of the Apollo 15 team.

While the others were rock hunting on the surface, Al Worden remained days comparatively inactive in lunar orbit.

From these missions we are learning about a human blood disorder which kills 900 Americans every week.

More Americans die from lying in bed than from being smashed up in cars.

About 900 each week die from pulmonary emboli—from blood clots. About a fourth of those were postoperative. Perhaps sophisticated heart or lung surgery was entirely successful—but a clot in a leg moved to a valve in the heart and the patient was suddenly dead.

That 13 pints of blood in you is pumped by the heart muscle out through your arteries. It returns to your heart by muscular contraction in your extremities. The movement of leg muscles "pushes" the blood back through the veins to the heart with a kneading action similar to that by which a cow is milked.

Gravity, and your body's resistance to it, requires sufficient muscular response to keep venous blood moving.

In a gravity-free environment, the muscular response is lacking, venous blood flow is reduced, with two potential complications:

The likelihood of blood clotting is increased.

And chronic anoxia may result in euphoria or sluggish mental function.

NASA medics call it "cardiovascular deconditioning": heart and blood vessels get lazy.

As when you've sat a long time during a lecture, only more so.

As when you first get out of bed in the morning, only more so.

In space, even though you are breathing pure oxygen, it is theorized you live for days with a suboptimal oxygen supply to the brain.

Is this what caused the Russian cosmonauts to make a fatal mistake?

Reportedly spaceman Lovell "pushed some wrong buttons" both times he was up.

Humans in space, required to exercise within the limits of their confinement, get some relief. But they cannot exercise while they sleep and they have none of the gravity pressure which keeps you and me "wrestling with gravity" even during sleep.

Biomedical engineers are presently developing a device to simulate the muscular movement which causes venous blood flow. Rubber cuffs are placed over the legs, thigh and abdomen—similar to that with which the doctor measures blood pressure in your upper arm. These are alternately inflated by a device called a phlebo-dynastat—thus to simulate muscular contraction even in weightless space.

Or for the postoperative patient, even while prone and motionless in bed.

Thus pulmonary emboli—which prematurely kills 47,000 Americans every year—soon will be preventable.

Exercise And Motion Sickness

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—As ridiculous as this sounds, I bought a lounge exerciser so I could start a swimming and conditioning program for myself. My problem isn't sore muscles. I just can't do the exercise without becoming nauseated and this sick feeling lasts for hours. I have always had motion sickness from cars and tumbling when in high school, but this is really a disappointment. Is there any way I can get my money's worth out of this exerciser, or do I chalk this up as money down the drain? Any suggestions, any advice on controlling my weak stomach will be greatly appreciated. I am a woman of 20, if age and sex make any difference.

Dear Reader—Since you seem to be prone to motion sickness and have had this kind of difficulty with acrobatics, I doubt very much that you are going to be able to use this device. Don't feel too bad about that. It probably wouldn't have helped you a great deal anyway, and, as far as losing your money on the device, you won't be the first one. You would be surprised how many millions of dollars are being spent every year on worthless "exercise" devices.

Good exercise is wonderful for the body, but there are a lot of devices on the market that in no way really promote health. The only way I can see that you are going to get your money's worth out of this device is take it back where you bought it and demand your money back.

As far as controlling your weak stomach muscles, your best aid is do some simple exercises at home. One of these is the simple sit-up exercise. Stretch out flat on the floor, bend your knees up and then do sit-up exercises. The only reason for raising the knees is so you will be using your abdominal muscles instead of the muscles that bend your hips.

Since this is difficult to explain so that people can understand it without illustrations, I might make another suggestion. Lie down on the floor and put the part of your legs from the knee down, up on a couch of the right height and then do your sit-up exercises. This effectively makes the body assume the same posture that you have when you are sitting in a chair only you will be lying on your back.

To exercise the lower abdomen, stretch out on the floor, put your feet together and then, keeping your knees straight, raise the feet up in the air, then let them back down to the floor.

Please send your questions and comments to Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Lamb cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Inside Washington

Private Polls Show McGovern Not Even Serious Contender

By Robert Allen

WASHINGTON—For Sen. George McGovern, it's definitely all over—but the alibing!

The first to announce (early in 1971), the ultra-liberal South Dakotan is irreversibly headed straight for being the first to be washed up.

Highly authoritative private polls show McGovern running far in the ruck in the first four crucial primaries—New Hampshire March 7, Florida March 14, Illinois March 21, Wisconsin April 4.

The shattering significance of these dismal backstage canvasses is graphically highlighted by:

(1) McGovern's near-the-bottom standing is basically little different from what it has steadily been for months. Nationally, regionally and in these four portentous states, he is still trailing as far behind as other polls rated him six months ago.

(2) He wasn't going anywhere then and he isn't now—despite 15 months of frenetic stumping about the country and embracing virtually every leftist cause, from extreme dovishness in Vietnam and open-handed amnesty for deserters, defectors and cop-outs to greatly expanded welfare programs and all-out school busing, although his daughter goes to a private school at a cost of $1,400 a year.

The strident South Dakotan is still talking loudly and defiantly, still hurling peevish castigations and querulous challenges to his numerous rivals, still going through the publicity-seeking motions of being a serious contender.

But the plain fact is McGovern is clearly out of the running—and no one knows it better than the savvy members of his staff.

Privately, among themselves, they are steeped in deep gloom. Outwardly, they are grimly maintaining a cheery front. But actually, they are aware McGovern has had it, and the only question is when and how he'll call it quits.

Several months ago, an intimate credited him as saying that if he didn't make an impressive showing in New Hampshire, Florida and Wisconsin, he would pull out of the race.

The coming weeks will tell the story, and from the backstage outlook, McGovern is sadly out of luck. His long and costly gamble for the White House hasn't paid off.

Own Worst Enemy
Ironically, the ultra-liberal South Dakotan has largely himself to blame for getting nowhere.

Both his personality and tactics are among his biggest drawbacks. Remarkably one veteran Democratic politico, "If George and his hot-shot leftist masterminds have missed any mistakes, it's because they didn't think of them."

Truculent, abrasive, given to petulant partisanship and carping personalities, opportunistic and with his eye constantly fixed on garnering publicity, McGovern has little of what is popularly known as charisma.

The role he inevitably seems to prefer and seek out is that of a clangorous and bellicose denouncer and crusader.

No issue, problem or controversy arises that he doesn't leap for the headlines with a shrill pronouncement, challenge or complaint. Rhetorically, he has handy solutions for just about everything—invariably from the leftist viewpoint.

No one is faster on the trigger when it comes to publicity. In this facility, he is aggressively aided and abetted by a highpowered staff headed by a Kennedy veteran and zealot. A distinctive characteristic of McGovern's campaign organization is the pervading presence of Kennedys.

None of McGovern's rivals will be surprised if, when he throws in the sponge, he loftily calls for the "drafting" of his close ally Sen. Edward Kennedy.

From the very start of McGovern's race way back early last year, many Democratic insiders have deemed him a secret stalking horse for Teddy—a belief strongly reinforced by McGovern's persistent sorry showing while Kennedy has consistently placed high in the polls.

Note: Sen. Henry Jackson, leading sponsor of legislation to provide Israel with combat planes and other armaments, is blasting McGovern as a dubious friend of Israel. As proof, Jackson cites McGovern's statement at a B'nai B'rith meeting that "America must do whatever is necessary to insure the survival of Israel," and a few days later before an ultra-liberal audience advocating a $20 billion slash in the military budget.

Says Jackson indignantly, "How can you reconcile anything like that? How are you going to help Israel defend itself when you cut the U. S. defense budget to ribbons? Obviously, that's downright intellectual dishonesty."

End of Road

It looks like the end for the once-powerful Green political dynasty in Philadelphia.

Democratic Rep. William Green, who although only 33 years old is serving his fifth term, is in a tough uphill race and appears headed for defeat. It'll be the second for him in two years. Last year, he lost by 49,000 votes to now-Mayor Frank Rizzo.

Elected to Congress at 25, Green succeeded to the seat long held by his father, Rep. William J. Green, Jr., who was also Philadelphia Democratic Chairman.

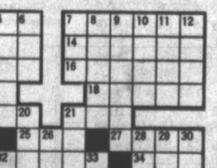

Young Green, who in 1971 broke with the powerful city organization, is in trouble because of redistricting. As a consequence, Philadelphia's all-Democratic Congressional delegation is cut to four from five, and Green's district has been extensively changed. To remain in the House, he has to run against Rep. James Byrne, 69-year-old funeral director who has held his seat for some 20 years.

Byrne is not only in the good graces of the city organization, but has the potent backing of Mayor Rizzo.

BOSTON (AP) — Song and dance numbers from "Fiddler on the Roof" were performed Thursday on Atty. Gen. Robert H. Quinn's office table.

Karol Kosta and Ron Coralian offered the costumed interlude during a meeting with Quinn to set plans to present the musical at Walpole state prison March 3.

"It's a tremendous idea," Quinn said, adding that he would try to attend.

The show currently is running in Framingham.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Marie Gates and her feline friends rejoiced after the Dade County Commission ruled the elderly woman could keep her cats... all 90 of them.

The commission voted unanimously Thursday to permit the 79-year-old woman to keep the cats as long as she lived.

Neighbors who complained of nocturnal howling and excessive meowing had sought to force Mrs. Gates to get rid of a significant number of her cats.

Furr's Cafeterias, Inc. Reports Profit Growth

LUBBOCK--Furr's Cafeterias, Inc. today reported 1971 net income of $1,361,958, an increase of 38 per cent over the previous year. Per share earnings were $1.37 compared with $1 per share in 1970.

Sales of $25 million were 15 per cent above the prior year.

At the same time, Don Furr, president, announced that the company, which has a cafeteria in Pampa, has recently acquired and opened a cafeteria in Tempe, Ariz. and completed construction on another in Greeley, Colo.

Furr's currently has five additional cafeterias under construction--two in Oklahoma City, two in Tulsa, Oklahoma, and one in San Angelo, Texas. These additions will give the company 43 cafeterias and four pie shops in six Southwestern states.

Three new cafeterias were opened by Furr's during its fiscal year ended Jan. 1, 1972. Net income in the fourth quarter of 1971 was $536,710, a gain of 44 per cent over the same quarter of 1970. Per share earnings of 52 cents compared with 38 cents in the previous year's fourth quarter.

The company's board of directors has declared a 15 cent per share semiannual dividend, payable April 5, 1972, to shareholders of record March 2, 1972.

Social Security Hike Means Higher Benefits In Future

Social security deductions have been increased this year—but the increase will mean higher benefits in the future, according to Howard L. Weatherly, social security branch manager in Pampa.

The percentage rate of social security deductions from earnings remains the same. But the amount of earnings subject to social security—the "earnings base"—has increased $1,200 this year.

"Employees this year still contribute 5.2 percent but it will be on the first $9,000 you earn in work covered by social security," Weatherly said. "Last year the contribution was 5.2 percent of the first $7,800."

Employers pay an equal amount. Self-employed people contribute 7.5 percent of their covered earnings to social security.

People who earn more than $7,800 a year can expect higher social security benefits in the future because the amount of the social security check is based on average earnings. But in figuring that average, we can only count earnings on which social security contributions have been paid.

The "earnings base" that counts for social security has gone up gradually over the years as income levels have risen in the country. In 1937 when the social security program began, contributions were paid on the first $3,000 earned in a year.

The increase in the earnings base will not generally affect the monthly social security checks of the 27 million people already receiving payments, according to Weatherly.

9 Pampa Youth On Deans' Honor Roll At Tech

LUBBOCK, Texas--Nine Pampa youths were among students in the College of Business Administration at Texas Tech University qualified for the dean's honor list for the fall semester, according to Dean Jack D. Steele.

To qualify for the honor list, a student must be enrolled in 12 semester hours of courses, excluding pass-fail courses, and have at least a 3.0 grade point average. Texas Tech uses a 4.0 point grading system.

The College of Business Administration is one of six colleges and two schools at Texas Tech University, with a total fall enrollment of more than 21,000 students. The others are the colleges of Arts and Sciences, Agricultural Sciences, Education, Engineering and Home Economics and the Graduate School and the School of Law.

They are: James P. Little; William D. Campbell; David A. Bray; 2223 Chestnut; Gregory J. Gunter, 1940 Evergreen; Joyce E. Briscoe, 1429 Charles; Coreta S. Mills, 1900 N. Banks; Carl A. McLaughlin, 1811 Christine; Johnny D. Carlos, 204 N. Sumner; Dan A. Craig, 2143 N. Faulkner; James M. Edminster, 2128 Aspen; Michael R. Ruff, 601 E. Browning.

Governor And Barnes Ordered To Appear In Mutscher Trial

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — The defense ordered Gov. Preston Smith and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes Monday to appear as witnesses in the bribery conspiracy trial of Texas House Speaker Gus Mutscher.

The state's two top officials were named in twin subpoenas issued by the defense two hours after jury selection began in the trial of Mutscher and two colleagues.

The surprise action calls for Smith and Barnes to appear Wednesday "or at such other call as defendants may from time to time inquire."

Mutscher, 39, a powerful and personable figure in state government, is the highest ranking Texas official to face criminal charges since Gov. Jim Ferguson 55 years ago. Mutscher aide Rush McGinty and State Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth also are named in the conspiracy indictments and are on trial with the speaker.

Mutscher is accused in a separate indictment of accepting a bribe from Houston financier Frank Sharp, who is one of 27 witnesses subpoenaed by the state. Trial date on this indictment has not been set.

Gov. Smith previously said he reaped a quickie $62,500 profit on insurance stock purchased with a loan from the nowdefunct Sharpstown State Bank of Houston.

Sharp was in control of both the bank and the insurance company involved—National Bankers Life Insurance Co.

The revelations of quick profits came at the height of an extensive investigation conducted by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. The probe sent shock waves rumbling through state government circles.

Opposing lawyers questioned prospective jurors as a group Monday morning and then switched to interrogation of individuals after the noon recess.

Travis County Dist. Atty. Bob Smith of Austin told the prospective jurors that the penalty upon conviction in this case is 2 to 5 years in prison.

"That can be probated if the jury so desires," he added.

Wives of the defendants were in the courtroom.

"This is not a game to these three men on trial," Davis Scarborough, a Mutscher lawyer, told the court. "It is a very serious situation to them. We feel very strongly that there is no guilt and no fault on the part of these men."

A second defense lawyer said later that "The state's case is a very weak, circumstantial case, we believe, that will not convince anybody."

Abilene lawyer A. L. Rhodes, defending only McGinty, told the prospective jurors that "the evidence in this case both by the state and the defense will be substantially and totally different than what you've been reading in the newspaper."

In that regard, he predicted, "you will be amazed."

The defense alluded to the summoning of Smith and Barnes only briefly and offered no clues as to what it hopes to establish from the two. The defense had issued only five subpoenas previously.

Texas Leads Nation In Deer Production

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas has more deer than any other state, but Texas hunters have to kill two or three times as many deer to get as much meat as hunters elsewhere.

This is just one of the conclusions which could be drawn from a survey made by Sidney W. Wilcox of Arizona State University in Tempe. The survey is titled "Deer Production in the United States."

Subtitled, "A Survey By States Showing the Dollar Value of Deer As Table Meat in the Years 1969 and 1970," the survey is based on data received from game departments in all 50 states.

Wilcox found that Texas leads the nation in deer production.

The average field-dressed white-tailed deer came to around 50 pounds in Texas and produced approximately 25 pounds of boneless meat.

Minnesota, at the other extreme, whitetails average 138 pounds field dressed and produce 70 pounds of boneless meat.

Extensive studies in other states show that approximately 50 per cent of the weight of a field-dressed deer is edible meat.

Using as a guideline the price of chuck beef, Wilcox estimated the value of the boneless deer meat in Texas, both mule and whitetail, to be $5,034 in 1969 and $6,088,297 in 1970.

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert Fryer has been signed to produce "Mr. M." film version of the Broadway musical, for Warner Bros.
