Democratic Convention Tomorrow

The Gray County Democratic Convention will convene at 2 p.m. tomorrow in the District Court room, announces Jimmy Thompson, County Democratic chairman.

At this time, delegates from the 12 precincts in the county will choose the representation for the State Convention, Sept. 9 in San Angelo. The delegates were elected in their Precinct Conventions last Saturday.

Those at the State Convention will elect the members of the State Democratic Executive Committee, the controlling body of the Democratic Party in Texas for the next two years.

Gray County will have 19 votes in the State Convention.

Streamliner Jumps Rails; 58 Injured

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—A swaying Milwaukee Road streamliner packed with vacationers jumped the rails at 90 miles an hour Thursday, injuring at least 58 persons but killing no one.

Eleven cars of the line's 18-car deluxe Olympian Hiawatha left the tracks and plunged down an embankment near suburban Oak Creek south of here.

A United Press International count showed 49 persons hospitalized with injuries today, but only one was reported in serious condition. Nine other persons were treated at Milwaukee area hospitals and released.

Among the 497 passengers, most of them headed for vacations, was Leo T. Crowley, chairman of the board of the Milwaukee Road. Crowley who was en route to Seattle, the train's destination was thrown from his seat but was not injured.

Railroad officials said a preliminary check failed to reveal a cause.

The six rear cars broke free from the rear of the train in the jolting derailment and tumbled down an embankment. None overturned.

Five other cars rolled 300 yards down the track before derailing. A fire broke out in the dining car, momentarily trapping passengers.

Witnesses said Al Sawczyn, Chicago, played a heroic role in smashing a window in the dining car and, although cut and bruised, helping a score of passengers to safety.

Tariff Cutting Bill Is Worked On By Senate-House Group

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate House conferees began closed-door negotiations today to work out a compromise bill extending President Eisenhower's power to cut tariffs.

The House approved the President's request for a five-year renewal of the reciprocal trade program, which expired July 1. Its bill would permit him to sign tariff-cutting agreements including selective cuts of up to 25 per cent in U. S. duties, with the reductions spread over the next three to five years.

However, the Senate voted only a three-year extension with tariff cuts of five per cent a year.

There appeared to be a good chance the conferees would settle on a four-year extension—longest in the trade program's 24-year history—carrying authority for tariff cuts of up to 20 per cent at any time during the next four years to take effect during the succeeding two to four years.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI)—Terrorists shattered Lebanon's post-

dent Camille Chamoun. At least two persons were killed and 15 wounded by the heavy bomb blast near headquarters of the Lebanese army troops outside the rebel-held Basta quarter of Beirut.

Missile-Borne Warhead Tests

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States today exploded high in the sky over Johnston Island in the Pacific a missile-borne nuclear warhead which may be the forerunner of rocket defenses against Russia's intercontinental ballistic missile.

This suggested that the explosion was the proof-test of a completed weapon such as the Nike Hercules or Talon missiles designed to knock out fleets of enemy H-bombers.

It was believed to be the first time this country has test-fired an atomic warhead shot into the air by a missile. It tested a plane-launched nuclear missile in Nevada last year.

Another possibility was that the weapon was a prototype device designed to test the feasibility of anti-ICBM missiles which this country is trying to develop.

The super-solar flash and mushroom cloud of today's shot was witnessed by thousands of residents of the Hawaiian Islands hundreds of miles northeast of Johnston Island. In Washington the Atomic Energy Commission and Defense Department announced.

Today's was the 15th officially confirmed shot of the nuclear test series which started at the Eniwetok-Bikini proving ground in April and are continuing there and at Johnston Island.

The test detonation of a nuclear warhead in a missile occurred above the Johnston Island area in the Pacific today. The test was part of the Hardtack nuclear weapons test series.

The bomb exploded shortly after noon in the Schrow building near the Basta Moslem quarter.

The official announcement gave no time, but Honolulu reported that the dazzling flash was seen through the Hawaiian Island chain at 5:45 a. m. c. t.

The blast, coupled with the "Americans Go Home" leaflets, was an ugly aftermath to the peaceful election.

The government did not describe the size of the missile and warhead and did not reveal the altitude at which the detonation occurred. But past official announcements have said the Johnston Island tests would be of "short-range defensive missiles with nuclear warheads."

Observers said the phrasing of the leaflets indicated they were published by pro-Nasser or pro-Communist wings of the rebel movement.

A Salam spokesman said the anti-American attack probably was launched by extremist sections of the insurgent movement.

"These are our ideas but we would not express them in such bad language," he said.

More responsible rebel leaders would only say "wait and see" when asked about possible moves to write off the revolution now that both sides had settled on Chamoun as next president.

producers soon would follow the Alcoa lead.

The new increases mean higher price tags on everything from hairpins and toasters to the family car. About a ton of steel and several hundred pounds of aluminum are used in an average car.

Both Alcoa and the steel producers said they were increasing prices to offset higher wage costs and emphasized the increases will only partially offset these higher costs.

Steel costs moved up July 1 when the industry gave workers an additional 20 cents an hour under a three-year contract with the United Steelworkers.

The companies said the steel price boost, which averages 8 to 13 per cent and lifts a ton of steel to about $150, will enable them to recover less than half of the higher costs.

In the aluminum industry the higher wage costs went into effect today under a three-year contract with the same union. They also amounted to 20 cents an hour.

Yarborough, Daniel Power Fight Due

AUSTIN (UPI)—Sen. Ralph Yarborough has challenged Gov. Price Daniel's self-styled "titular" rule of the Democratic party in Texas and paved the way for an all-out fight for power at the state Democratic convention.

Yarborough called upon Democrats to vote down Daniel's proposal to abandon precinct conventions when they attend their county conventions Saturday.

The Senator bluntly challenged Daniel's bid for backing at the Sept. 9 convention in San Antonio, which will probably determine which of them is top man in Texas politics for the next two years.

Yarborough said he looked up "titular" in the dictionary and found it defined to mean "bearing a title derived from a defunct monarchy."

He said that "such a person could only be the titular head because he couldn't stand for actual Democrats, only Eisenhower Democrats, and the latter brand are practically extinct now."

Daniel claimed overwhelming control by "conservatives and moderates" at last week's precinct conventions, but he said delegates must attend the county conventions "and win there in order to preserve the victories at the grass roots and win the state Democratic convention."

Another Note Sent To Khrushchev

By STEWART HENSLEY
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower today asked Nikita Khrushchev to meet Western leaders face to face in the United Nations Security Council to cope with "indirect aggression against independent states" of the Middle East.

In a new note to the Soviet premier the President suggested that the meeting start "on or about Aug. 12"—the same date proposed by Britain—in New York or somewhere else but not Moscow.

"If such a meeting is arranged," the President told Khrushchev, "I expect to attend and participate and I hope that you would do likewise."

So far the steel price increase has been on a selective basis, affecting only sheet and strip products used by auto and appliance makers.

However, Bethlehem Steel Corp. predicted Thursday that by the end of this month the increase will be "across the board."

Still to be affected are steel products like bars, tin plate, heavy plates and structural shapes used by such industries as shipbuilding, canning and construction.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I see something every day (Monday through Friday) from my kitchen window that puzzles me. Between 4:00 p.m. and 4:05 p.m. a nice looking woman drives up in a station wagon and waits for a man who meets her in a Chevy coupe. She gets out of her car and gets into his and they drive away. At exactly 5:45 they both come back. They start kissing goodbye like they are never going to see each other again, then they get into their own cars and drive off. This has been going on since Spring. I have both their license numbers and if you think this would be called "disturbing the peace" or "disorderly conduct" I will report it to the police. I think they are breaking some laws.

WITHIN THE LAW
Dear Within: The "laws" that this couple are breaking are not visible from your kitchen window. As I see it, you've nothing to report.

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 years old and have been married and divorced and have a little girl a year old. I'm in love with a man who is 29 and would make a wonderful father but he has five kids by another man's wife. She has her divorce but won't marry him. He's waited three years for her to change her mind and marry him. We love each other, but he thinks he should be married to the mother of his kids. I would wait for him forever but I have my own child to consider. I've made a big mess of my life and need some advice. Don't tell me to give him up. I need him.

MESSED UP LIFE
Dear Messed Up: You need this man like Custer needed another Indian. Get out of his life and find yourself a decent man who respects the laws of marriage.

Baby-Sitting Job Rates Know-How

NEW YORK Baby sitting doesn't always involve babies and rarely entails sitting. Phone numbers where the parents can be reached in an emergency, plus the phone number of the family doctor.

A thorough knowledge of "how to win parents and influence children" is the key to successful baby sitting. The July issue of Seventeen Magazine tells teenage girls who plan to pad their purses through child care jobs this summer. And there's a three-part bonus for doing your job professionally: a sense of achievement, parents' approval and the top-going hourly rate. Here's some of Seventeen's advice on how to be "the kind of siter parents clamor for and children love."

Arrive on time for your job and in good health. Never show up with a cold. On the first visit, come early so you can get acquainted with the children before the parents leave. If the mother doesn't remember to tell you all the things you should know, ask. It's perfectly proper for you to inquire how to work the range, where the baby's diapers are kept, and such. Write down the address and phone number. If the children are asleep, you are there to check on them from time to time, to stay awake and be alert for cries or other signs of trouble. If they awake and are frightened, you must comfort them. When it's your job to feed, bathe and dress the children, in their pajamas, try to do so as much as possible the way their mother does.

On daytime assignments, when you're supposed to watch over the children at play, remember that you're there as a substitute mother and not as another child in the family; help make a muddle but don't end up in the mud yourself. A cardinal rule of baby sitting is never leave a child alone. Others: Don't entertain your friends unless you have specific permission to do so; be friendly to the children but don't force yourself on them; don't attempt to improve the children's manners or change an accepted way of doing something. Read up on baby care in the public library.

DEAR ABBY: Every time I buy my wife a present she makes me tell her how much I paid for it. When I do she blows her top and says I got robbed. What do you do with a dame like that?

ROBBED
Dear Robbed: Your wife is more practical than sentimental. Give her money instead.

DEAR ABBY: We live on a farm, but I was brought up in the city. My husband still believes in lots of things that can't possibly have any truth to them, such as if a hatching done it will mark her child. He said his aunt was frightened by a bat before her child was born and the baby had a bat's form on his back as a result. Am I mistaken or can there be any truth in those stories?

EXPECTING AND NERVOUS
Dear Expecting: You need not be nervous. Your husband has swallowed some fishwives' tales, hook, line and sinker. Don't let him feed you the same.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think it is fair to reserve a seat right in your own house? I am 12 and my big sister who is 15 always gets the best chair to watch TV and when she wants to go get something to eat or drink she says she is reserving that chair so nobody else can sit in it. I sat in it once when she left it to go to the phone and when she came back she pulled me out of it so fast she tore my dress. Do you think this is fair?

JUDY
Dear Judy: Ask your mother to see to it that you and your sister "take turns" getting the best chair. It will eliminate all arguments, hard feeling and torn dresses.

Half-Circle Aprons Become Keepsakes At Conclusion Of "Different" Party Idea

Let youth do the serving at a party to fête the visiting college roommate or to bring the old school crowd together to review the past year at the upcoming semester. Mom can make suggestions in the food department, but most of the work and "hostessing" is up to daughter.

One mother came up with the following idea to add extra color to the tables set up on the terrace and, more than incidentally, to put the girls in the self-service mood.

Gave tiny aprons color-matched to the homemade, fringed tablecloths were presented to each feminine guest and, in this case, became lovely keepsakes of a memorable party.

THE TABLECLOTHS made of a vat-dyed topaz with white background and a random flower pattern of light blue, deep blue and chartreuse, are useful and lovely additions to the linen supply.

The fabric selected is inexpensive but it's strong and tightly woven for use indoors or out, being vat-dyed, it won't fade in the sunlight nor bleed when laundered.

The same fabric in coordinated solid colors and stripes makes aprons equally gay and serviceable.

Along about midsummer, most of us have gotten a good start on a tan. We find that we can wear some colors that wouldn't do with pale skin and that we need a deeper shade of powder and a change of lipstick color.

The summer range of pinks, coral tones and reds is fun to try out. Somewhere there's a shade which will enhance your tan and make you look even prettier. It depends on the depth of your tan, the color of your hair and eyes, the new colors in fashion that you want to wear.

While you're experimenting with new lipstick shades, try blending two shades for a special effect. Or for an upward lift at the corners of the mouth, fill in the natural outline with your favorite new shade and use a slightly darker tone at the outer corners.

Moslem Religion Is Discussion Topic

To continue with their study on Moslem Religion, members of the Young Women's Association of the First Baptist Church met recently in the church.

Participating in the topic discussion, "An Ancient Door" were Tany Tolbert, Delma Franklin, Sally Pullen and Peggy Hutto. Zelma Franklin was in charge of the program.

Members present, in addition to those already mentioned were Clo Ann Johnson, Nancy Jones, Sara Naylor, and the sponsor, Mrs. Owen Johnson.

Pampan Is Awarded Scholarship

A group from Celanese met in Poole's Steak House yesterday to award a $250 scholarship to Pampan High School alumnus Marvin Berry and $250 to Pampa High School Earl Schmieding, representing the Texas Chemical Council, presented the award.

L. J. Edmondson, PHG principal, was on hand to accept the $250 laboratory equipment fund which Berry's win had made possible.

Berry was one of five winners in the Texas Chemical Society essay competition. The society released the names of the winners in late June.

Fred med will be Berry's major. His college will be West Texas State.

Berry titled his essay, "Why Science is a Key to Our Security."

The men gathered in Poole's for the presentation were Herchel V. Wilks, Robert Lemmons, Robert Perkins, Donald T. Beamon and Schmieding. All are members of the Texas Chemical Society, operating in the Celanese Corporation of America, Pampa Division.

Berry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Berry, attended the awards luncheon as well as Knox Kinard, Pampa School superintendent, and Edmondson.

Oregon was the first state to make Labor Day a legal holiday.

'Arsenic And Old Lace' Is On Tonight

(Special To The News)

WHEELER — The Community Players, completing their fifth season, will bring to life the highly acclaimed Broadway play, "Arsenic and Old Lace" in the Wheeler Gym at 8 p.m. today.

Tillie Green and Dorothy Hall, both veterans of the Summer Playhouse, will star as Abby and Martha Brewster. The Brewster family history has been rather sad for years and in this play we see why as Abby and Martha continue putting lonely old gentlemen such as Bill, "Mr. Gibbs," Green out of their misery. A nephew, Carroll, "Teddy," Killingsworth, who thinks he is Theodore Roosevelt, digs the Panama Canal in the cellar and fills it with Yellow Fever victims. Two other nephews, Buck, "Mortimer," Holcomb and Garth, "Jonathan," Nash come back to live with their Aunties and find there isn't room for them both under the same roof. Dr. Einstein (Joe Richard Hyatt), a plastic surgeon, accompanies Jonathan and plans to open his "beauty parlor" in the old ladies' house for, as he says, "There are many people today who need their faces changed."

Mortimer is in love with Carolyn, "Elsaine," Sims, daughter of the Rev. Harper (Marshall Watson) but can't marry her because "insanely practically, gallops in the Brewster family."

Policemen Kenneth Ferris, Dean Sims, Jim Jolly, and Frank Walker and Robert, "Mr. Witherspoon," Beauchamp of Happy Dale Sanitarium finally get the family under control and bring the play to a most unusual climax.

The Wheeler Kiwanis Club, sponsor of the Summer Playhouse, urges everyone to see this play as it is one of the most outstanding shows to be presented by the Summer Playhouse group.

Hussein Is Ready To Die For Freedom

AMMAN, Jordan (UPI)—Young King Hussein of Jordan, whose cousin, King Faisal, was slain in the Iraqi revolt, said Thursday he is ready to die to defend his country against "Communism and atheism" if he need be.

Hussein has been under heavy attack by the propaganda organs of the United Arab Republic, Cairo and Damascus radio, have labeled him a tool of "Western imperialism" and have urged his overthrow and assassination.

In a direct reply to the barrage of U.A.R. propaganda, Hussein told loyal tribal leaders the country has "offered lessons in nationalism to those who brag about nationalism."

He also told the chieftains, gathered at his Amman palace to renew pledges of allegiance to him at a time when his throne appeared under heavier attack than ever, that "some neighboring states" had fallen prey to Communism and atheism.

Observers said it was obvious Hussein was referring to the U.A.R. and its president, Gamal Abdel Nasser, although he did not name names.

Concern Over Jordan Chamoun has been under heavy attack from the Egyptians and Syrians, whom he accused of smuggling in weapons and reinforcements to the rebels.

Salam, whose forces hold the Moslem Basta quarter of Beirut, ordered his troops not to fire on government troops unless attacked but to remain on the alert at their positions.

"But don't call it a truce," he said. However, the immediate urgency of the Lebanese crisis apparently over, the concern of the free world in the Middle East appeared to be turning to neighboring Jordan.

Reports leading out of Jordan indicated a real threat to young King Hussein from pro-Nasser forces.

Carnegie Class Graduates

The Dale Carnegie Pampa Class graduated 24 in a ceremony last night. John McCausland was the prepared speech champion and Helen Trimble the champion of "What I Got Out of the Course."

The impromptu speech champion was Bill Chapman.

Dixon Plans To Submit UN Request

By BRUCE W. MUNN

United Press International
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—British Ambassador Sir Pierson Dixon planned to submit a formal request today for the convening of a U. N. Security Council meeting to be attended by the heads of government on Aug. 12, informed sources reported.

The site of the meeting was left open, but most U. N. diplomats believed that if it is held it would be in Geneva, U. N. European headquarters.

Britain's request, which the sources said Dixon would present to French Ambassador Guillaume Georges-Picot, council president for August, is the first formal move to get things started for a heads-of-government meeting within the United Nations.

Georges-Picot took over the chair today under the rotation system among the five permanent members. They are the United States, Britain, France, Nationalist China and Russia.

Georges-Picot, in line with tradition, was expected to consult the other 10 members of the council on arrangements. Normally, however, the council is convened whenever one of the 11 members requests it.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan said in a note to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev Thursday that the permanent representatives here on the Security Council should discuss arrangements for the meeting and where it will take place.

Khrushchev's attitude still was unclear on a summit-council meeting. However, he has made it clear he wants a meeting of the heads of government of the United States, Russia, Britain, France and India anywhere and as soon as possible.

Macmillan suggested the Aug. 12 date in his note and said the meeting would be held in New York, Geneva "or any other place generally agreeable." That ruled out Moscow, a Khrushchev suggestion, since the United States is adamantly opposed to talks in the Soviet capital.

Lefors Lions Club Elects Sweetheart

(Special To The News)

LEFORS — Miss Janie Nichols was elected Sweetheart of the Lefors Lions Club in a meeting of the Board of Directors Monday.

Miss Nichols, 17, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Knox F. Nichols and a senior student in Lefors High School. An accomplished pianist, Miss Nichols also plays the Bell Lyre in the Pirate Band. Listing science as her favorite subject in school, she has also been very active in choir and pep squad activities. She will serve the Lions club as Sweetheart for the coming six months.

Earl Atkinson, representing the zone chairman, spoke on "Lionism" before the regular club meeting, held in the civic center Monday night.

Interest in the betterment of the community, encouraging more community service, building better Lions club, recommending a twenty percent increase in membership were topics stressed by Atkinson.

A project of purchasing street markers made of aluminum, was begun at the meeting with 30 markers donated at the meeting. The markers are approximately $3 each. Any person or club wishing to donate one or more is welcome to do so.

Will Take Initiative
Dulles, in a preview of American strategy at the summit, made it clear President Eisenhower plans to take the initiative and not merely to "dispel the fiction" of Russian charges that British and U.S. landings in Jordan and Lebanon were "aggression."

Dulles said the United States hopes to get Soviet agreement on some form of U.N. control to end "indirect aggression" in the Middle East.

"If the practices of indirect aggression as they are being developed at the present time are allowed to persist in the world, and if no way is found to check that, then I think the world is in grave danger of war," Dulles declared.

"Also, I believe that if the Soviet Union does not want a war they will almost have to agree that these practices should be brought under some kind of control by the United Nations."

Recalls Past Conflicts
Asked how far back the United States would go in documenting its indirect aggression charge, the secretary said that while the current issue is the Middle East "the problem is more general."

"You may remember that before the Second World War there was aggression against small countries, some of it indirect aggression going on in the Far East," he replied. "You also had it going on in Africa."

Nothing Bogus About Glue Footed Police

OKMULGEE, Okla. (UPI)—

With a flair for the unusual, three bogus check passers from Tulsa, Okla., rode through Arkansas and Oklahoma this week in a car equipped with an eyecatcher. Now, they wish they hadn't.

Merion Earl Foster, 30, Alfred Earl Foster, 20, and Clarence Lorenzo Turner, 23, unwitting service station attendants in Ft. Smith, Ark., and three Oklahoma cities — Bartlesville, Okmulgee and Tulsa.

They succeeded in cashing fony checks totaling $700. But two of their victims remembered the eyecatcher.

They told authorities about a sign on the back of the check passers' car.

It read: "If you can read this, you're too damn close."

And police were — close enough to nab them.

Youth Seeks Its' Christ In Fort Worth Convention

MYF Looks At Its' Program This Week

Youth Activity Week in Pampa's St. Paul Methodist Church is building up to the point Sunday when Jerry Trice will address the evening congregation. Trice is president of the Senior Methodist Youth Fellowship.

Youth activity has been going on since Sunday night when Mrs. Janice Whisenand, a Sunday School teacher, led the group in a consideration of worship.

The youth have had research leaders rather than speakers in their inventory of the MYF program. Monday, the pastor, Rev. Burgin Watkins, joined them in a discussion of programming. The choir director, Mrs. Helen Conway, had charge of the activity Wednesday night. Last night Rev. O. M. Butler of the Harrah Methodist Church, Pampa, took up Projects.

The activity for tonight will be a hamburger fry and swimming party at Cargray Lake. The group will get off for the Lake at 5 p.m.

Other members of the Intermediate and Senior MYF groups will participate in the closing service Sunday.

Rev. Watkins' sermon that morning will be titled "Reinvestment."

For entertainment Sunday, the youth took part in the Family Night program before meeting on worship.

CONSECRATION

"Consecration" will be Sunday's Soul Winner theme, announces Broadcaster Delbert Priest. Priest carries on the Soul Winner broadcast at 7:45 a.m. Sunday over KPDN. He is pastor of the Assembly of God Church in Letors.

A CAPPELLA HAS LEADER

Adams Heads Fine Arts Department

(Special to The News)
PLAINVIEW—Donnie J. Adams, Oklahoma City, has been named head of the department of fine arts and director of the International A Cappella Choir at Way-

FAITH IN ACTION

These Baptist girls seem very anxious to get whatever it is that Gary Griffin is handing out. As a matter of fact, the booklets are youth directories, very laboriously compiled by the members of the Youth Fellowship in the Pampa First Methodist Church. With the summer revival coming up Aug. 13, the youth are spreading the word. Griffin is a leader in the summer council. Peggy Hutto, left, and Pat Nichols are Youth Council members.

FEET TO THEIR PRAYERS

Revival Plans Have Youth On The Alert

"I am the way, the truth, the life." In the First Baptist Church 203 N. West, Christ's words have become the theme for the coming revival. Ed Crow, hard hitting evangelist from Cisco, is looked to for the variations on the theme.

This is the summer revival with youth emphasis, Aug. 13-17. Since the revival will be for the whole church, the young people are wasting no time preparing every one for the five days of revival.

So what are the youth doing? They're having a banner made up so everyone will know what the theme is. "I am the way, the truth, the life." That's as important now, they feel, as it ever was.

Then there's a lot of leg work to be done. They have a directory that lists the name of every young person in the church. The Youth Council compiled it to make phone calls and work from. If they have their way, no one will be in the dark about the Revival program.

They know what they want. They want 130 at the opening breakfast Aug. 13. They want every college student, every church youth, to sing in the choir. "We have 42 seats, let's have 42 in the choir," they say.

They want everyone to pray for the success of the Revival. Crow will be here Aug. 12 to speak for the Brotherhood Luncheon. The Revival will get off the ground with the big breakfast Wednesday. Everyone will then be ready for the first Revival meeting that evening. At 7:30 p.m. Wednesday through Sunday, Crow and his song leader will take up the theme of the Revival.

Pastor of the First Baptist Church, Cisco, Crow has preached five years of revivals. He was only recently called to the Cisco Church. The evangelist is a native of Fort Worth and a graduate of Southwestern Theological Seminary. He went there from Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene.

In Fort Worth's Poly High, he was heavyweight boxing champ. He was a four year football letterman in Hardin-Simmons.

The youth are expecting great things of Ed Crow.

'LOVE IS PRIESTESS OF TRUTH'

How strength and freedom are gained through understanding God, divine Love, will be a topic dealt with at Christian Science services Sunday.

One of the selections from the Bible in the Lesson Service entitled "Love" is this from Matthew: "And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the Kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people" (4:23).

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (454:18-23): "Love inspires, illumines, designates, and leads the way. Right motives give pinions to thought, and strength and freedom to speech and action. Love is priestess at the altar of Truth. Wait patiently for divine Love to move upon the waters of mortal mind, and form the perfect concept."

First Church of Christ, Scientist, Pampa, welcomes you to its services and the Christian Science Reading Room located in the church building at 901 N. Frost, where further information about Christian Science may be obtained.

Nominee For State CYF Office Is Linda Skewes

By WALLACE TRUESDELL, Pampa News Church Editor

Down to Lake Brownwood for the Texas CYF Cabinet meeting, on to Fort Worth for the Texas Youth Convention of the Christian Churches. Pampa Churches will have three District Christian Youth Fellowship Officers in both meetings.

Linda Skewes, Glenna Lewis, Judy Huff are their names. Miss Skewes is District 1 president of the Texas CYF. She is immediate past president of the CYF group in the Pampa First Christian Church. This year she is nominated as secretary of the Texas CYF. Miss Lewis, another First Church girl, is District secretary. Judy Huff, from Lamar Church, is enlistment chairman.

The girls will leave Sunday for Lake Brownwood for the three day Cabinet meeting. Wednesday they will join the Pampa group on TCU Campus for the opening of the Convention.

Six youths from First Church and three from Lamar will be waiting for them. Rev. David Mills from Lamar and George Taylor, First Church education director, will be in Fort Worth with the young people. With Mrs. Mills and Taylor along, 16 from Pampa will seek the living Christ at Texas Christian University.

Some 1,300 will turn out from the 21 district Youth Division, predicts the Texas Board of Christian Churches.

"Seek Ye the Living Christ" will be the theme of the annual convention. Seeking this truth, Dr. M. Jack Suggs, will give the three lectures on the role of Jesus in shaping human life. Dr. Suggs, New Testament professor in TCU's Brite College of the Bible, once pastored a church in eastern North Carolina.

Rev. Bob Richards, former Olympic pole vault champion, and Milton Patton of the United Christian Youth Movement, will be the featured speakers. Richards comes to the Convention from his church in Laverne, Calif.; Patton, from Movement headquarters in New York.

Linda Hillsamer, Texas CYF president from Victoria, will give the keynote address Wednesday. The installation of CYF's 1958-59 officers will be a feature of the Convention.

Dr. Suggs will be concerned with the importance of Christ's spirit to the contemporary church and to youth.

The speaker is an old friend of Taylor's. They both served churches in North Carolina before going to TCU. Suggs is professor and Taylor as student.

A Communion service Aug. 9 will close the three day Convention.

First Church has sent in registrations for Betty Sprinkle, Raymond Smith, Linda Warden, Mary Sturgeon, Betty Barnes, Jim Crinklaw, Linda Skewes and Glenna Lewis. Lamar has spoken for Mike Spinks, Judy and Dian Huff.

Sermon Topic Will 'Life's Interruption'

"Life's Interruptions" will be Rev. Woodrow Adcock's sermon topic in the two morning services of the Pampa First Methodist Church. The pastor holds services at 8:30 and 10:55 p.m. every Sunday. The early service is carried by Station KPDN.

"Our Father Has Light" by the Carol and Wesley Choirs will be the anthem of the early service. The choir will present the Danish hymn under the direction of Tom Atkin, minister of music. During the 10:55 service, the Sanctuary Singers will do the Negro spiritual "Steal Away."

"What is Happiness?" will be Adcock's Sunday evening sermon. Shermin's "Day is Dying in the West" will be the special music provided for the evening. The MYF singers will make this contribution to the 7:30 p.m. service.

The other activities of the day will be Church School classes at 9:45 a.m., Methodist Sunday Evening Fellowship at 6 p.m., MYF Singers meeting at 7 p.m., Senior MYF Afterglow at 8:30 p.m.

Monday begins the Junior Camp in Ceta Canyon near Happy. The Primary Choir will rehearse at 11 a.m. Troop 80 will meet at 7 p.m. At 7:30 p.m. the Planning Committee will meet in Fellowship Hall.

The Kindergarten Choir rehearsal is set for Tuesday and Wednesday at 10 a.m. Carol and Wesley Choir rehearsals will take place at 11 a.m. Wednesday. At 7 p.m. the commissions will meet at 8 p.m., the Official Board.

The Planning Committee will meet at 7 p.m. Thursday in Fellowship Hall. The Sanctuary Singers will get together at 7:30 p.m.

The Laymen's retreat begins Friday in Ceta Canyon.

Ceta Canyon Is Scene Of Lay Retreat

Around 600 laymen from the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference are expected to gather in Ceta Canyon-Friday for their 11th annual retreat. Fred Cary, Lee Harrah, Dr. Ed Williams, Jack Skelly and Waldon Moore expect to attend from the First Methodist Church in Pampa.

The Lay Retreat will get underway Friday evening and close Sunday noon at Ceta Canyon Methodist Camp close to Happy.

The main speakers will be Dr. Roy L. Smith, San Diego, Calif., and R. J. Genins of Chicago, Ill. Smith is former editor of the Methodist national magazine, Christian Advocate. Genins is associate director of the Department of Stewardship and Finance on the General Board of Lay Activities of the Methodist Church.

The three day meet will involve study, worship, inspiration and fellowship, reports Ray H. Nichols, conference lay leader from Vernon.

The Junior Camp will begin Sunday in Ceta Canyon. Aug. 4-8 are the dates. Gloria Bearden, Rodney and Ronnie Bray, Susan Carr, Juanita Colville, Beth Dunn, Diana Edminster, Toni Hawkins, Judith Kito, Beverly Langley, Janie Leverich, Paula Searley, Carol Sears, Tiara Timmons, Terry Watson, Jane Wells, Kimberly Wilson, Charles Graham and Cheryl Dosier plan to attend.

Central Church

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

ROBERT E. CALLAHAN
Minister of Music and Education
Central Baptist Church

"He that findeth his life shall lose it: and he that loseth his life for my sake shall find it."

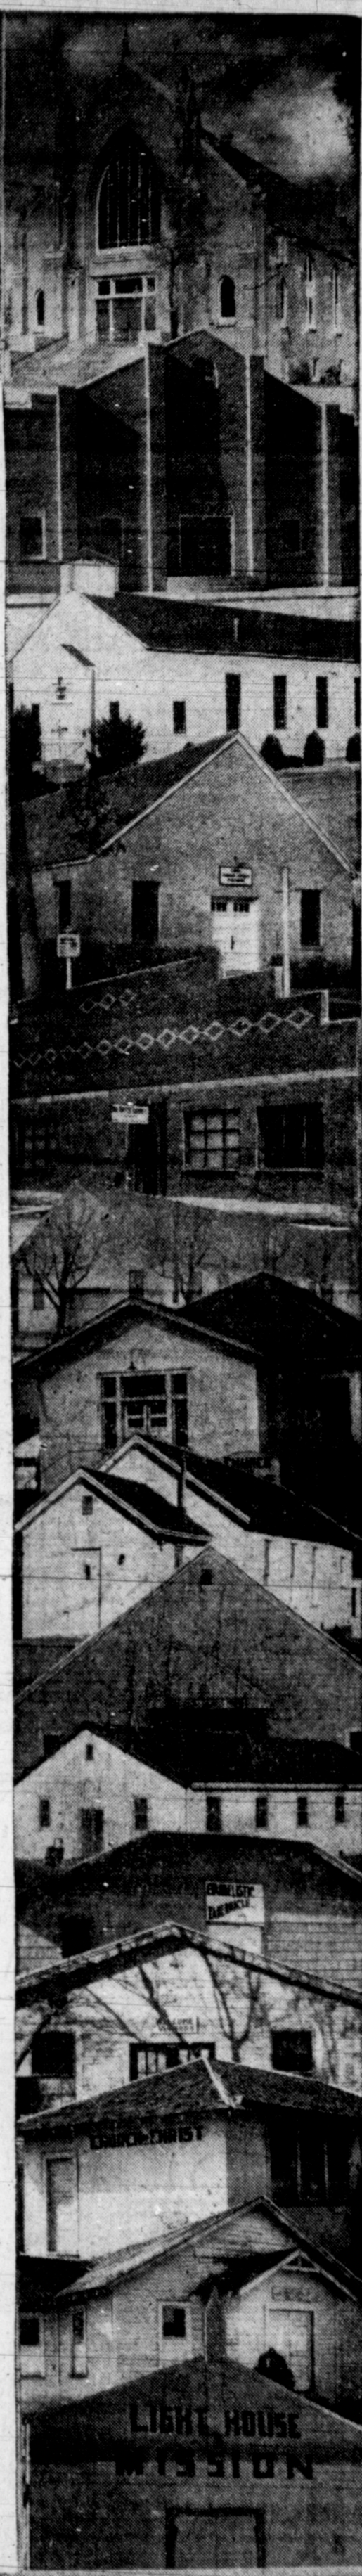

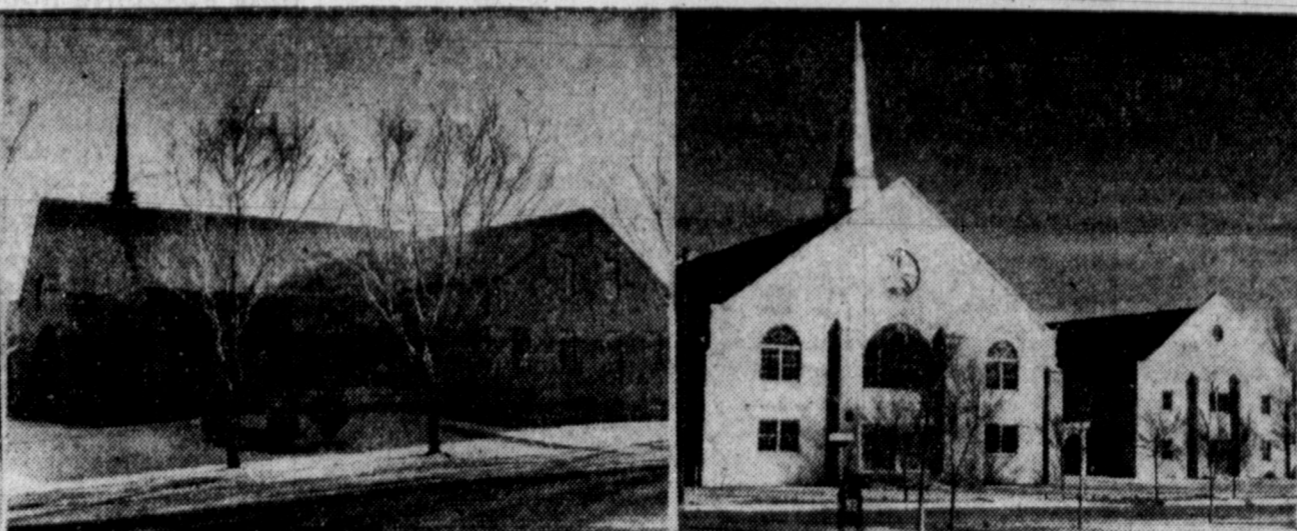

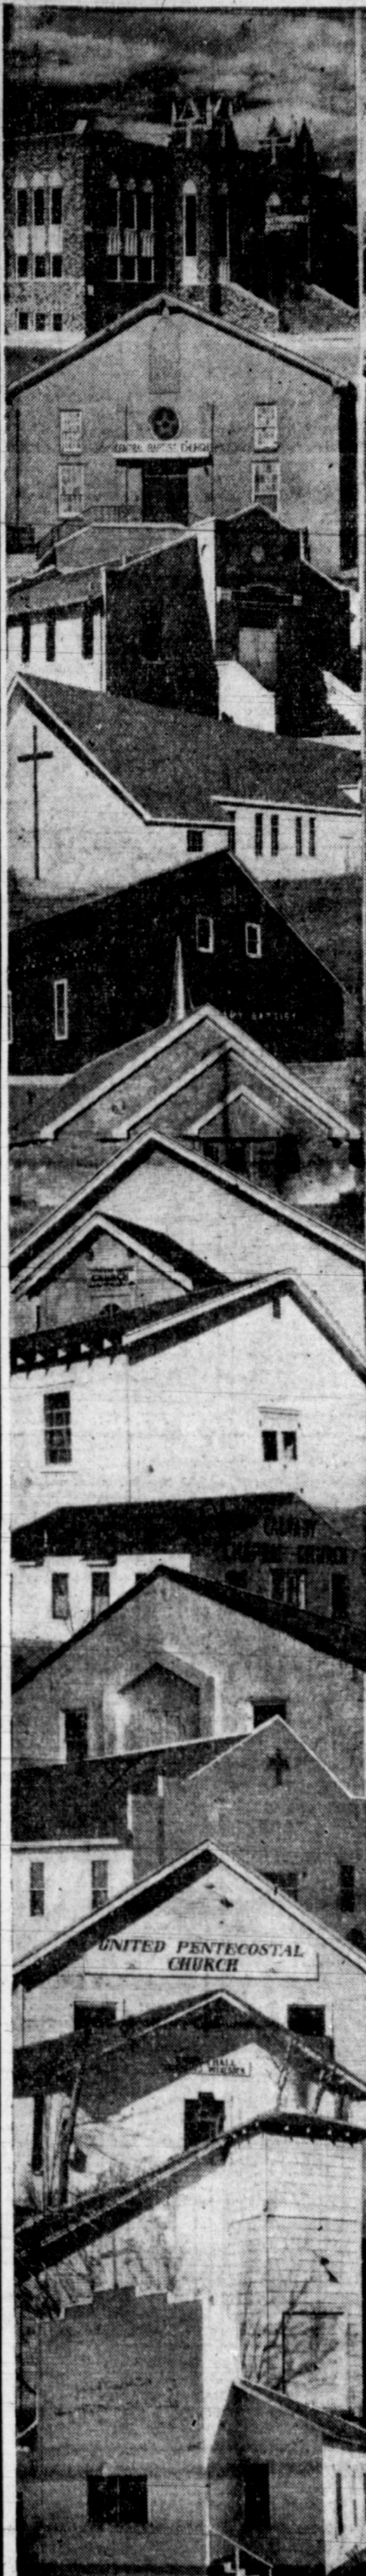

—Matthew 10:39

In a day of such international turmoil, the search for happiness and peace of mind has become more pronounced than ever before. We are possessed with a craze to secure material things thinking that these will bring complete satisfaction. When these things are secured our desires turn to more and better "things" as we continue our search for satisfaction and completeness in life.

Albert Sweitzer, upon leaving for the African jungle, was scorned by many of his friends. A doctor of medicine, doctor of theology, and a doctor of music, wasn't he wasting his vast knowledge by leaving Europe for the African jungle? Not at all! He lost himself in God's service only to find the greatest joy known to man, that of serving God and serving his fellow man.

Many faithful servants of God are known to all of us. They do not broadcast it from the housetops but they are day by day engaged in faithful service in their own particular church. These people are not crowding doctors' offices in a search for peace of mind. They aren't crowding the book stands searching for the latest best seller on the subject. They have already found that which will bring greater joy and more peace of mind than can be found anywhere else. They have lost themselves in the Master's service only to find joy and satisfaction in life which is not found anywhere else.

You can find that satisfaction to as you confess Jesus as Savior and Lord, and devote your energies to His service.

Kempa's Power Too Much, KP's Drop Crown 8-4

Kempa Humble, a brash young band of "Johnny Come Lately's" wrapped up the Pampa Industrial Softball League championship Thursday night as they sprayed nine hits over Lions Park-rear-estate and throttled KP Lodge in the process, 8-4.

Except for a four-run explosion by Kempa in the fourth frame, the two clubs were matched in a similar-strength manner.

Both finished their double round-robin regular season schedule in a dead-heat, with identical 20-4 records. Thus, forcing Thursday night's sudden-death winner-take-all championship playoff game.

The Dodgers, after a slow getaway from the starting gates, picked up steam after the second week of play and fashioned a long winning string that showed them into undisputed first place until last Monday night when Kempa subdued Lefors to catch up at 20-4.

Kempa used a simple method of disposing of the Dodgers Thursday night — power from the plate.

They picked the offerings of Delbert Daniels to pieces for nine safeties, including two homeruns and a two-bagger.

Buddy Sharp batted in three runs for the winners with a homer and a single while team-mate, Harold Anderson, also unloaded on a four-base blast for Kempa. The sacks were vacant when Anderson found the range with his round-tripper.

Bill Stevens, who hurled a neat five-hitter and posted seven strikeouts along the way, chipped in with two-for-three in the hitting department. The Kempa moundsman cracked out a double and single to drive home three tallies, in aiding his own cause.

Gene Gipson also contributed a hefty punch to the Kempa offensive singling twice in three official appearances, and hitting in one run off Daniels, who managed only four strikeouts and wasn't his usual sharp old self all night.

Paul Husley was the only real thorn in Stevens' side, regarding damage-doers with a stick for the Dodgers.

Husley slammed out two for four, a double and single, off Stevens to knock in half the loser's runs. Kempa drew first-blood in the game, chasing two markers over the plate in the opening inning. But the Dodgers pecked back with single runs in the top of the third and fourth to knot the score at 2-2.

However, in the home-half of the fourth, Kempa streaked to a 5-2 advantage, scoring four times. Come the bottom of the fifth and the Humble crew was still hungry. They added insult to injury, broke the game wide open and put it on ice by building their lead to 8-2.

The Dodgers tried in vain to get back into the game in the last frame, scoring twice, but their rally was short-lived and Kempa held them off to grab the title.

Both clubs committed two errors during the tense struggle.

Score by innings:

KP Lodge 001 100 3-4 5-2
Kempa Humble 200 420 x-8 2-2

90,000 To See Poles-US Track Meet

WARSAW (UPI) — The two-day United States vs Poland track and field meet starts today before a capacity crowd of 90,000 at "Fifth Anniversary" Stadium, with the Poles hoping to hold the U. S. victory margin to 20 points.

ANCEL ROBINSON of Fresno, Calif., was heavily favored to win the first event on the program, the men's 110-meter high hurdles, and that was expected to touch off a U. S. victory parade.

Polish sports experts figured the U. S. men would capture their events by a margin of 15 to 25 points. On the other hand, the Polish women's squad was expected to beat the American women by about 10 points. Points for the two competitions will be counted separately, according to a promise by Polish officials.

Whatever the Polish victory prospects, it appeared the stadium would be sold out for both days of competition. Officials of the Polish Athletic Association reported 150,000 tickets already had been sold.

That a sale was considered amazing since the good seats cost 21 zlotys (85 cents), or about one-half a day's pay for the average Polish worker. And there were reports of "under the counter" sales for as much as 40 zlotys.

However, in the home-half of the fourth, Kempa streaked to a 5-2 advantage, scoring four times. Come the bottom of the fifth and the Humble crew was still hungry. They added insult to injury, broke the game wide open and put it on ice by building their lead to 8-2.

The Dodgers tried in vain to get back into the game in the last frame, scoring twice, but their rally was short-lived and Kempa held them off to grab the title.

Both clubs committed two errors during the tense struggle.

Score by innings:

KP Lodge 001 100 3-4 5-2
Kempa Humble 200 420 x-8 2-2

Time Running Out On Sports 'Trust Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Time was running out on the House-approved sports bill today.

Chairman Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) of the Senate anti-monopoly subcommittee scheduled a meeting to decide what action to take on it in the wake of hearings which ended Thursday.

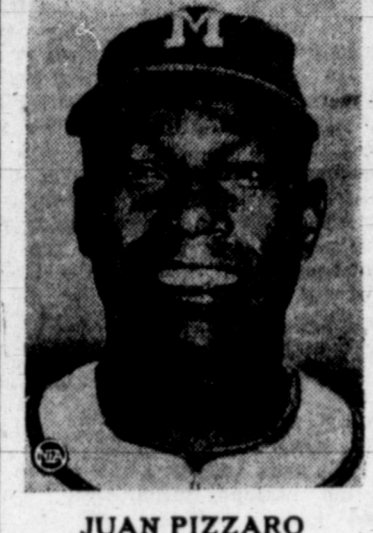

There was a chance the subcommittee would decide to blow the whistle on the drive to give anti-trust immunity to team sports. Kefauver said bluntly, "I am not satisfied with the House-passed bill."

The dissatisfaction of other members of the subcommittee is well known. Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) has called it a "blank check... an owner's bill," and Sen. John A. Carroll (D-Colo.) has criticized some of its features.

But the major threat to the bill, and its exemption for many phases of team sports from the anti-trust laws, was the clock—the congressional adjournment pitch which was beginning to run to fever.

Kefauver said the subcommittee — if it decides to go ahead with the bill — could perhaps secure passage of a version by mid-August. Any earlier congressional adjournment would catch the sports bill, he said.

Reds Ruin Giants As Braves Zoom To Lead

JUAN PIZZARO
... fires 4-hitter

By FRED DOWN
United Press International

Win or lose, those fabulous San Francisco Giants make news. Eighteen times a winner in the last inning this season the Giants did a fantastic turnaround Thursday night and blew a 10-9 decision when the Cincinnati Redlegs tied the score with five runs in the eighth inning and won the game with a single tally in the ninth.

It was a bitter defeat for the Giants because they dipped one game behind the Milwaukee Braves, who beat the Los Angeles Dodgers, 4-1, behind Juan Pizarro's four-hit pitching in an afternoon game. And, it was doubly bitter, because once again Ruben Gomez failed in the clutch. Gomez is the pitcher the Giants have been waiting to come through all season. He hadn't won a game in two months until he beat the Philadelphia Phillies Monday night in a performance Manager Bill Rigney hoped marked a sharp upturn in Ruben's work.

But Thursday night it was Gomez who came out of the bullpen in the eighth with the Redlegs one run behind and threw a game-tying single to Don Hoak. Two singles, a walk and Pete Whisenant's game-winning single then tagged him with his eighth defeat against six wins in the ninth.

Rookies Show Power
The Giants appeared on their way to an easy victory on the strength of heavy slugging by rookies Leon Wagner and Willie Kirkland. Wagner had four hits, including two homers, and knocked in three runs while Kirkland drove in three runs with a homer and two singles.

Big blows in the Redlegs' five-hit rally were a two-run pinch homer by Walt Dropp and singles by Dee Fondy, Jerry Lynch, Ed Bailey and Hoak. Joe Nuxhall, who pitched a hitless ninth inning, was the winner.

Pizarro, winning his second game since being recalled from Wichita, struck out eight Dodgers and got the runs he needed when the Braves erupted for three runs to snap a 1-1 tie in the eighth.

The Phillies shaded the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-3, and the Chicago Cubs scored a 5-4 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates in a rain-shortened eight-inning game in the other N.L. activity.

The New York Yankees increased their first-place lead to 15 games with an 8-3 triumph over the Kansas City Athletics and the Detroit Tigers edged the Boston Red Sox, 3-2, in the only American League action. Washington at Chicago and Baltimore at Cleveland were rained out.

FLOYD MAKES READY FOR FULL 15-ROUNDS

FLOYD PATTERSON
... respects Roy Harris

This is the second of two dispatches in which world's heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson gives his own assessment of his coming title defense against Roy Harris in Los Angeles Aug. 15.

By FLOYD PATTERSON
Written for UPI

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Every body asks me my plan of action for my fight with Roy Harris. I have to say honestly that I haven't any — except, I guess, to follow the rule my manager, Gus D'Amato, learned in his Army days. That's always to be ready for anything that might happen. I'm training to go 15 rounds, although I naturally hope I can end it earlier.

Harris is an unknown quantity to us, although his undefeated record and everything we've heard about him makes me expect the toughest fight I've had. I've met Roy just once — in street clothes — but he impressed me as a strong, calm and intelligent fellow. We know he is a wonderfully conditioned athlete, but this time he'll be meeting someone who also believes in keeping in perfect shape.

Cus saw Harris fight an exhibition and says Roy knows his way around in the ring. But naturally he wasn't going all out with my manager watching him. Otherwise, we've had nothing to do with his hands. Some say he keeps them low. Some say he can hit others that he can't. You hear he likes to jab, and then again that he doesn't.

All in all, the only thing to do is just to ignore all those confusing reports. That's all right with me. I never have liked to know too much about an opponent's style. Then he might do something you don't expect and really surprise you.

A fight rarely follows a set plan anyway. You just have to make up your pattern as you go along. If a fighter is any good, and worthy of being called a champion, he should be able to cope with any situation that may arise. One thing we do expect is that Harris can take a punch. The only man to have him on the canvas was Bob Baker. And when a 218-pounder like Baker happens to get a punch in, he can knock any fighter down. The important thing is that Harris got up and won the bout.

Well, all I can say is that the meander and the more rugged Roy is, the better I'll like it. I hope

Billy Says Breaks Win Batting Title

By IRA LURVEY
United Press International

CHICAGO (UPI) — Chicago White Sox infielder Billy Goodman, who at 32 is fighting for his second American League batting crown, said today it all was a matter of breaks.

"Sometimes they go with you. Sometimes they go against you. Right now they're going with me," he said.

Goodman, Boston's Pete Runnels, Kansas City's Bob Cerv, Cleveland's Vic Power, and the Sox' Nelson Fox were all scrambling for the lead.

Goodman, however, has jumped to contention with a white-hot five-week streak. The only White Sox ever to win the crown was Luke Appling, who took it with .388 in 1936 and .328 in 1943.

Yama Favored
SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UPI) — Ninth-ranked middleweight Yama Bahama, who outpointed Kid Gavilan in his last start, is a 3-1 favorite to whip Joe Miceli in a 10-round nationally-televized fight tonight.

RAIN DELAYS CHICAGO OPEN GOLF TOURNEY

CHICAGO (UPI) — Play was scheduled to get underway today in the rain-postponed $50,000 Chicago Open golf championship at the Glenelg Country Club.

The tournament sponsors announced the postponement Thursday morning as a downpour held up the scheduled start.

The first 18-holes of Chicago's only major golf attraction of the year will be played today with the tournament now set to end Monday instead of Sunday.

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Outfielder Harry Anderson of the Philadelphia Phillies has a right to call pitcher Larry Jackson of the St. Louis Cardinals "cousin."

Anderson has batted against Jackson nine times this season — and smashed three homers, two doubles and a single.

He hit a two-run, first-inning homer off Jackson Thursday night to pave the way for the Phillies' 4-3 victory.

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) — Billy Womack, Florence, S.C., held the lead going into today's rounds of the National Junior golf championship following a five-under par double win Thursday.

At the end of the third round of play Womack had chalked up successive wins over Johnny Stevens, Wichita, Kan., 3 and 2 and Kenney Goldman, Dallas, Tex., 6 and 5.

Womack's Florence running mate, Gordon Baker, shooting steady par for the day downed George Hipson, Oklahoma City, 5 and 4 and Gerard Barnett, Brielle, N.J., 2 and 1, to stay in contention.

GRAYLING, Mich. (UPI) — Sixteen of the nation's leading archers, eight men and eight women, bid today for 35,000 in cash awards in a special tournament for the top finishers in the National Archery meet.

The four-day national championships concluded Friday with Leo Stanton, Lake of the Ozarks, Mo.; Joe Fries, Los Angeles; Jo McCubbin, Santa Ana, Calif.; and Ann Marston, Wyandotte, Mich., claiming the final individual titles.

ENGLAND GETS MATCH

LONDON (UPI) — The Ladies' Golf Union decided Thursday the United States-Britain Curtis Cup golf match for 1960 will be played at Lindrick, near Sheffield.

Goodman's current pace at the plate is all the more noticeable because he's missed better than five weeks of the season, plagued with such things as a strained knee ligament, a bruised hip, an infected throat and a stomach disorder.

"I feel fine now," he said.

Food Stamps

We are moving grandly and inexorably toward total serfdom. To the man on the street, this motion is hardly detectable. Wherever he is the average American looks at life through his own surroundings. He doesn't see the things behind the scenes in Washington which are stripping away his freedom and if continued will, in a few more generations, leave him little better than a slave.

But, in the interests of our posterity, let us record this little item from the passing progress toward a socialist conclusion.

Recently, in the House Agriculture Committee, Congressmen took a long step forward toward removing what is left of the American spine. Eighteen Democrats, faced with a lone Republican who opposed the scheme, went on record as favoring the idea that feeding the people of the nation is no longer a job for private persons. Food has become the next item to be considered as a responsibility of the state.

All the other Republicans in the committee walked out of the meeting. The one remained to cast the single dissenting vote.

The details of the meeting concern a move on the part of certain forces in the administration to cause the state to furnish "free" food stamps to persons who are allegedly "needy." Those who get the stamps can simply trade them in the market place for groceries and live without effort.

The most exact parallel to this procedure has been recorded by Gibbons in his monumental work, "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire." So long as the people were compelled to feed themselves, Rome had a chance. But when the Roman Senate decided that it was its task to feed and amuse the Roman populace, the die was cast irrevocably. Rome never recovered from this policy. Grain and circuses became the major items in a vast program of vote-getting bribery which assured the Roman populace of a dictatorship.

The American Congress is not going to content itself with grain. It is planning to go the Roman Senate one better, by making life not only effortless but more enjoyable. No mere subsistence ration, this. The food stamps idea is aimed at providing viands to the nation's poor on a basis which will keep them all fat and in good health while their less fortunate brethren scratch for a living.

Under this plan, it would be best to be poor. What few incentives remain to cause a person to make major effort, would be apt to vanish in the plethora of goodies to come rolling from the confiscatory troughs. If this food stamp bill is ultimately passed by Congress, it would mean that any man or woman without a job could find himself paid in unemployment insurance, bolstered by large pension-sums in his declining years, and provided additionally with public housing and with public food, so that a life of leisure could be his.

While this may be a desirable end for any of us, the means to that end, when they entail a virtual enslavement of the productive side of our population, would finally destroy all that is left of American freedom and independence.

Why should any person get out and strive to produce under such circumstances? What he earns would be taken from him almost as fast as he could produce it, so that great hordes of non-productive "needy" could fatten on his energies.

How much wiser he would be to surrender to the inevitable and bask in the shadow of his manhood, rather than foolishly trying to amount to something.

Don't say we didn't warn you. Republican opposition, while it did appear in committee, can melt away once such a measure gets to the floor of the House. The way things are going, the truly needy in this country are the producers. Those to receive all benefits are those who do not care to lift a productive finger.

Our nation can never survive if the people in the nation become soft and supine under stolen bounty. We commend the action of the Republican in this instance. We also urge your wholehearted opposition to the food stamp plan.

How important is Middle East Oil?

It would seem the only rational reason for sending the Marines into Lebanon was to protect transporting oil to the Mediterranean. On the importance of this oil to the United States, the "American Institute for Economic Research" has an article on this subject.

This is the way their bulletin discusses this subject: "That Middle East oil is vitally important to several international oil companies is obvious, but how important is Middle East oil to Western Europe and the United States? There has been much comment in the press and radio to the general effect that the loss of Middle East oil to the free world would be catastrophic. However, consideration of the facts in the case leads us to conclude that the loss to the Middle East of the markets of the free world would be catastrophic for the Middle East rather than for the free world. Here are the facts.

"World crude oil production recently has been at the rate of nearly 17,000,000 barrels daily. Of this total, about one-fifth has come from the Middle East. Production in the United States has been more than double that of the Middle East; and, in North and South America combined, production has been more than triple that of the Middle East.

"When the Suez Canal was closed last year, many dire predictions were made about the disastrous effects of the loss of Middle East oil, especially to Western Europe. However, the deficiency was readily made up by shipments from the Western Hemisphere without even lessening the full potential of the restricted Texas production. Inasmuch as Curacao is only a little more than half as far by sea from Liverpool as is the head of the Persian Gulf, the cost of transporting Venezuelan oil to Western Europe is less than the cost of shipping Middle East oil via Suez. A rapidly accumulating surplus soon exposed the fallaciousness of the dire predictions and helped to create problems from which the oil industry still is suffering.

"The known reserves of oil in the ground in the Middle East are tremendous; in fact, are more than half of present known reserves in the entire world. However, this does not by any means imply that half the oil in the world is in the Middle East; it simply means that the reserves in that area have been more adequately explored than have reserves in North Africa, Caspian, Alaska, other parts of the United States, and elsewhere in North and South America.

Oil From Shale Cheaper
"Of even greater significance, scientists at the University of Denver recently have reported success in the production of oil to produce oil cheaply from the oil shales of Colorado. They now assert that such shale oil can be delivered in California at about half the present price of crude oil from California wells. In Colorado alone the reserves of recoverable shale oil are estimated at 7 times the world's known reserves of crude oil and 50 times known United States reserves (enough for 350 years at the present rate of consumption.) Moreover, extensive additional oil shale reserves are in Wyoming, Utah, several other States, and in Canada.

"For many years production of oil in the United States has been increasing, but proven reserves have increased even more rapidly. Every few years some event such as the closing of the Suez Canal or a war scare serves as an excuse for those who, either through ignorance or in support of the oil industry's pricing policies, attempt to convince the public that oil is scarce and soon may be in short supply. But always the alleged crisis passes as another oversupply of oil floods across the scene. The fact is that already proven reserves in the Western Hemisphere are adequate for many years and that known but not accurately measured reserves are many times the proven reserves.

"The scaremongers' alternative fear raiser frequently is encountered in arguing that we must not let Russia have Middle East oil, that somehow Russia would gain some advantage in having more than she could possibly use if we and our allies had ample for our needs. Again the facts are enlightening.

"Russia produces more oil than she uses. Russian refining capacity is less than one-tenth that of the free world exclusive of the Middle East. There is not the slightest reason to believe that Russia in the foreseeable future will use all her own oil, and certainly she will not have a use for that from the Middle East. "The facts are that the markets of Western Europe and the United States are vital to the Middle East, but that Middle East oil is not vital to either the United States or Western Europe. Life in the rest of the world would change greatly, not of course for the pauperized wandering tribesmen and poverty-stricken masses in the cities; life for them simply would remain much as it is and has been for centuries. But for their lords and masters who squander the oil royalties and dole out portions to those near enough to have some claim on their affections, for all those individuals life would indeed be different.

"Middle East oil reserves are

Robert Allen Reports:

Iraq Wants Production Boost By British, US

WASHINGTON — The new revolutionary Iraq government is making a dynamic-loaded demand on British and U.S. oil interests. They have been notified by Premier Karim el-Kassem that a new oil agreement is to be negotiated for a big increase in production, as much as 50 percent. Present output averages around 630,000 bbls. a day.

No change is being sought in the existing 50-50 percent split. The key factor is not being raised. Sole Iraqi demand is a large boost in oil production.

Behind this wily move in a great deal more than meets the eye. Premier el-Kassem says his only purpose is to immediately obtain additional revenues for urgently-needed internal improvements and strengthened defenses. Iraq's current oil income is approximately $18,000,000 a month — third highest in the Middle East.

British and American officials strongly suspect el-Kassem's explanation is not being raised. Doubts as to its real motivation and intent, for these reasons: "This production-increase demand is directly in line with the policy Gamal Nasser is urging on the oil-rich Arab countries. He is advocating the raising of every possible concession short of outright nationalization."

The Egypt-Syria ruler is vigorously stressing more oil revenues for three basic objectives: (1) Rapid expansion of Arabian military forces; (2) Intensifying the operations and scope of Arab nationalism; (3) "Eliminating" Israel, and all Western influence throughout the Middle East.

Expanded Middle East oil output would mean a wide economic and political repercussions. It would confront the great international oil concerns with grave price and production problems in other highly sensitive areas—such as the U.S., South America and Iran.

Interior Department oil experts would be among the first and point out that Texas, for example, hardest hit.

Production there already is cut back to around nine days a month. That is the estimate of the State Department — State Department authorities are particularly disturbed for still another reason.

They view a bid increase in Iraq oil production as certain to trigger similar demands in the other Middle East nations — Iran, Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, Bahrain and Qatar.

Increases in their output would still further depress prices and production in the U.S., South America, Canada and other major oil regions. In all of them the economic and political impacts would be extensive.

Upwards of $1 billion a year is the present total income of all the Middle East oil countries.

That is the estimate of a private report in the hands of the House Judiciary Committee, headed by Representative Emanuel Celler (D., N.Y.). Other significant details are as follows: Tiny Kuwait, at the head of the Persian Gulf, has the biggest income — $28,000,000 a month. U.S. interests have 50 percent of this immensely-rich concession. Saudi Arabia is second with $24,000,000 a month. American-owned ARAMCO dominates this concession. Iran is fourth with approximately $13,000,000 a month, of which U.S. interests own 40 percent; Qatar gets approximately $3,000,000 a month, with Americans owning 23 percent and Bahrain is receiving some $800,000 a month from U.S. companies.

Britain is the principal oil interest in Iraq, whose reserves are estimated at 25 billion bbls. Also with sizable holdings in the Iraq Petroleum Company are U.S., French and Dutch companies.

STILL UNANSWERED — The revolutionary coup in Iraq continues to be an unexplained surprise. Senate Republican Whip Everett Dirksen tried to get an explanation of this far-reaching upset from President Eisenhower, but without results. Dirksen is telling colleagues, "I informed the President that I am getting a lot of letters from constituents wanting to know how and why we got caught that way. But the President didn't say much. I came away without any answers." Syria is rationing meat, rice, sugar, bread and oil. This sharp food curtailment has been ordered by the Ministry of Rural and Municipal Affairs. Reason for this unpublicized curtailment is failure of Syria's fellow-republic Egypt to provide promised food supplies. . . . A causal letter from Senator Theodore Green (D., R.I.), head of the Foreign Relations Committee, is the reason for those daily briefings on the Middle East situation the State Department is now giving senators. Last week Green wrote Secretary Dulles, "Since our exchange of letters nearly three weeks ago, and the deepening crisis in the Middle East, there have been but two meetings dealing with that situation. . . . Inasmuch as this crisis may be of some duration, it seems to me that steps should be taken immediately to provide the means to maintaining the 'hour-by-hour' contact which the President stated would be done in his message of January 5, 1957." Shortly after Dulles got this blunt letter, he telephoned Green that arrangements were being made to daily brief him and other senators.

Dick Nixon still has his sense of humor. He says some of the people who tried to get at him in Venezuela may have been Democrats because they kept yelling Nixon is a donkey!

Too many jobs are being held by people who should be classed as unemployed.

It's amazing how quickly the youth of America catches on. The other night our newspaper said the Space Age would make it necessary for human beings to develop gills. And not two hours later, I clocked a young couple kissing for ten minutes on a parked motorcycle (with its engine idling) right in the middle of Sixth Street. I couldn't see whether or not they had gills. But they must have been breathing some way. JACK MOFFITT

The New York Times Hits McCarthy On Pretext

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK — The New York Times should be no more influential than the voice of any individual sounding off at the end of a tavern bar. However, the printed word mysteriously acquires grotesque and often dangerous importance even though the author of the words is a famous rogue, as some influential publishers have been, a maniac as Lord Northcliffe was toward his end, or a protector and patron of individuals—fairly suspected of pro-Soviet tendencies. We observed that throughout the Alger Hiss case and in dogged defense of J. Robert Oppenheimer in publications which offer no denial of the facts.

The New York Times has shown as instinct to bait red-baiters, particularly Joe McCarthy, the most successful and tragic of all the specialists in that patriotic work. The Times recently seized on a flimsy pretext to remark that McCarthy's disclosures of treachery by Communists in the Signal Corps at Fort Monmouth, N.J., and in a network of electronic laboratories thereabout had been absolutely discredited. The pretext for this conclusion was a decision by the U.S. Court of Appeals, which did nothing of the kind.

The court did not evaluate the disclosures or the guilt or innocence of anyone. The court held merely that the Army had no right to suspend six individuals because one of the Army's own rules forbade such dismissals without a statement of the reasons. The Times seemed jubilant because "it wasn't enough to have told a man in a sensitive position that he was fired in the national interest."

There are a variety of reasons for the Times' jumpy readiness to strike this attitude. One came out when a Congressional inquiry turned up ex-Communists within the intimate household of the New York Times itself.

In the editorial under scrutiny here, the Times tried to have it that because one decision of a federal court strings along with a notorious series of decisions, "The whole McCarthy era was a sorry episode and the Monmouth affair one of its sorriest footnotes." In all such cases, there have been questions ranging from discretion and reliability on the leastward side to flagrant disloyalty on the other extreme.

Anyway, the truth is far from the wan desire of the New York Times. The truth is that a certain Army "rule" was so ill drawn or so cleverly drawn that the Army lost authority to eliminate employees from sensitive position without telling them all it knew about them and many others. Actually, Monmouth was a cesspool of treachery, draining disloyalty out of seven famous American centers of higher learning including two in New York. Ike's own Columbia where he served a hitch—self-consciously in the role of "president," and the heavily infested College of the City of New York.

And Ike, far from upholding loyal officers such as General Kirke B. Lawton, the commandant of Monmouth, supported officers who were plainly in the wrong. Lawton was put on sick report and posted to Walter Reed Hospital wearing a muzzle. He told me at the time that he had never felt better in his life. He was eager to testify, but explained that if he spoke then or even later, he would risk loss of his pension after 37 years in the Army. He was not willing to make that sacrifice in view of the fate of most other generals, admirals, journalists and politicians who had fought Communists, especially in New York and Washington.

On the stand, General Lawton said: "I have been working 21 months trying to accomplish what McCarthy hearings in two weeks." But when McCarthy asked him to go into detail he answered: "I had better not. I am working for Mr. Robert T. Stevens," then Ike's

Too many jobs are being held by people who should be classed as unemployed.

Early diagnosis is important because the results of treatment are much better when started promptly. Indeed, there seems to be quite a difference in results between those children treated under three years of age and those between three and six. For the writer's children, one would expect that in all probability good results will be obtained in both babies because the diagnosis was made so early.

Secretary of the Army. The Monmouth scandal broke in the fall of 1953 and McCarthy caught worse hell than most of the traitors who were turned up. About two years later the Senate subcommittee on Internal Security, under Senator Eastland, a Democrat from Mississippi, made an official report vindicating the whole Monmouth expose which the Times so feelingly deplored. The new committee also published a statement from an exiled Soviet officer living in the United States who said: "I have the function of examining documents, 90 per cent of them American in origin, from the Secret Police section . . . thousands." Most of them concerned radar, the subject of the Monmouth expose.

On this matter, McCarthy dutifully observed: "It was the business of our committee in 1953 to find out how the Communists were getting our radar secrets."

"We now have a clearer idea why it was so important to provoke the Army-McCarthy investigations and divert attention from espionage at Monmouth."

The court decision from which the New York Times took such joy did not diminish by a single word the evidence produced by McCarthy and his staff.

The Doctor Says:

By EDGAR F. JORDAN, M. D.

A distressed father asks for a discussion of congenital dislocation of the hip.

He says that he and his wife have played the part of parents as religiously as possible and nothing was left undone. A fine sturdy son was born to them, and 14 months later a fine daughter. Both births took place in a maternity hospital and everything went to perfection.

At the age of 18 months the boy was noticed by his mother to have a slight limp. She promptly had him X-rayed and congenital dislocation of the hip was revealed. The daughter was similarly checked as soon as she could walk and the same ailment was found.

"Is this ailment likely to repeat in a third child?" the father asks. I want to emphasize first that the parents should not consider themselves responsible for this disorder because of anything they did or did not do.

Congenital dislocation of the hip is not rare and is said to occur in about one child out of 1,500. It is observed more often in some regions than in others, and is found particularly often in the Latin races.

It is from six to ten times as frequent in girls as in boys. It involves one hip more often than both, and for some unknown reason the left hip is more likely to be affected than the right.

It is difficult to answer the question on the chance of a third child having the disorder. According to one reference which I have seen, such risk is about one in 20 if both parents are normal in this respect, and around one in ten if one of the parents also has a dislocated hip.

Several theories have been offered to explain congenital dislocation of the hip. It may be a developmental defect similar to other congenital disorders. Another possibility is that it is the result of something which has taken place before birth.

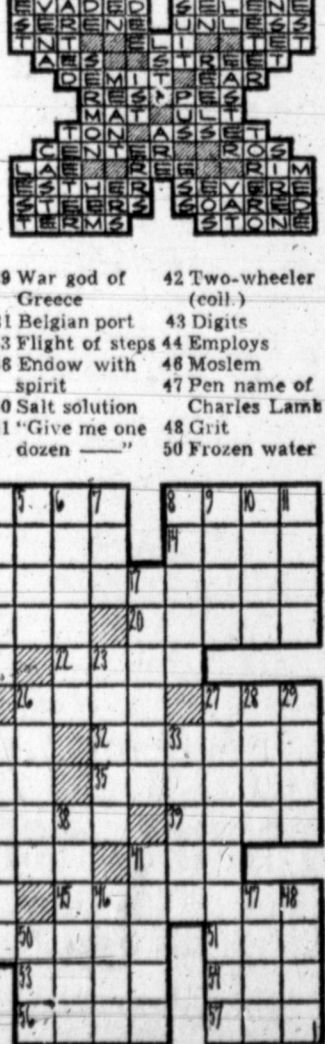

In some instances, but the fact remains that the exact cause is still obscure. It may be difficult to recognize a dislocation of the hip when a child is extremely young. However, when a youngster starts to walk a characteristic limp is probable. If both hips are dislocated there is a typical "duck waddle" gait.

Early diagnosis is important because the results of treatment are much better when started promptly. Indeed, there seems to be quite a difference in results between those children treated under three years of age and those between three and six. For the writer's children, one would expect that in all probability good results will be obtained in both babies because the diagnosis was made so early.

Exhaust Fume Control Soon?

NEW YORK (UPI)—Many cities may compel motorists to control the exhaust fumes of their automobiles within the next few years, an air pollution expert said Wednesday.
Dr. Leonard Greenburg, city commissioner of air pollution control, said automotive exhaust fumes could be legally curtailed by devices attached to cars. He told the 22nd annual conference of the National Association of Sanitarians such a device would be perfected in a few years.

Yellow Page advertising pays off

no matter how well known your business is

HERE'S WHY: There's really no mystery about why so many shoppers (96 out of 100, by actual survey) rely on Yellow Pages when they're in a buying mood.

Few people, even your regular customers, can remember every product you sell, every service you offer. And when they're looking for something and can't remember who has it, they turn to the handiest, most complete shopping guide in town... the Yellow Pages.

The same goes for families who move here from other cities. And for shoppers looking for "brands" they've seen advertised in the paper, on TV or radio.

If you don't now have the kind of Yellow Page advertising that attracts these shoppers, you're missing out on valuable new business.

A new phone book will go to press soon. When the telephone company's Yellow Page man calls on you, take advantage of his services. Make sure you're listed under all the classifications that can bring you customers. Make sure your Yellow Page advertising spells out all the products, services and special features you offer.
