Miss Sammie Wood and Mrs. Billie Cox, deputies in the county assessor's office, displayed a set of newly-arrived Texas car plates for 1959 this morning. The '59 colors are black on white and the numbering and lettering remains unchanged from 1958. "AV-9999", incidentally, is the highest number in Gray County.

'59 AUTO PLATES ARRIVE

A truckload of 20,555 Texas car, truck and tractor license plates for 1959 arrived in Pampa this morning at the office of County Assessor-Collector Jack Beck.

The gleaming '59 plates — black lettering on a white background — will go on sale Feb. 1.

Back said Gray county will have the same letters and numbers as in 1958, and added that car plate numbers will run from AU 100 to AU 9999, and from AV 10 to AV 4999.

In addition to 14,890 car plates, the county received shipment of 3,265 commercial plates, 900 farm truck plates, and plates for 1,150 trailers, 100 motorcycles, 100 deal- (See PLATES Page Two)

48,800 Employees Of Chrysler Are Off Jobs

By JACK VANDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT (UPI)—A strike by 48,800 Chrysler workers killed more than half of Chrysler's employees today. A company spokesman said all Chrysler production of 1959 cars has been halted and 48,800 employees—40,800 in the Detroit area—are off their jobs.

The strike was called Tuesday by the United Automobile Workers (AFL-CIO) when negotiators failed to reach agreement on a new contract to cover the salaried workers.

Union and company negotiators have not met since the strike was called and no date was set for resumption of talks aimed at ending the strike.

Major issues are union demands for elimination of wage inequities, step-up in progression pay increases, seniority rights and job transfer rights.

Chrysler accused the union of demanding much more for the salaried workers than it obtained for production workers at Chrysler and other auto companies who have already agreed to new three-year contracts.

The union challenged the company to produce figures to support that claim and said all it was asking was "the same degree of protection as already has been won for their fellow workers in Chrysler production and maintenance units and throughout the auto industry."

The UAW reached agreement with Chrysler on a new contract for the company's 65,000 production and maintenance workers on Oct. 1.

The striking union members represented only a small segment of Chrysler's working force of 30,000 salaried workers. They were able to halt the company's production of new cars by picket lines.

Supplier plants closing

Supplier plants were gradually closing down because, without final assembly, there was nowhere to ship components.

A company spokesman said it was likely that only non-unionized office workers, a few maintenance employees and workers in Chrysler's government missile-producing plant, which was not affected by the strike, would be working next week if the strike continued.

The strike cut off Chrysler's production of new cars just as it was beginning to step-up its output to meet dealer demands. Since the beginning of 1959 production in mid-August, Chrysler has turned out only slightly more than 115,000 new cars. The rate of production had increased by 7,000 cars per week in the past three weeks and still greater increases were scheduled.

Court Collects $3,769 In Fines During October

Police Chief Jim Conner reported today $3,769 in parking and traffic fines were collected during October in corporation court. It was the highest monthly total ever recorded, Conner said. The total was boosted considerably by a record number of speeding tickets (153), of which 127 were credited to the city's new radar device.

Radar, in operation since Oct. 16, has so far clocked 363 motorists exceeding the posted speed limit, Conner said. Of that number 127 were tagged, 227 were issued warning tickets.

During October there were also 5,990 overtime parking tickets written, and $1,194 paid in parking fines.

Other traffic tickets written by Pampa police in October included 291 for "hazardous driving violations," 23 for vehicle violations, 66 for license violations and 211 for parking violations other than overtime parking.

Five School Board Men Quit At LR

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—Five of six members of the Little Rock school board Wednesday night announced their resignation effective midnight Friday, and dismissed school Supt. Virgil T. Blossom.

A new board will be selected in Dec. 6 election.

At a packed public meeting in the school district's conference room the board decided to pay $19,741 to Blossom in severance pay, plus $1,100 for this month. His contract was to run another 18 months.

The only board member who did not resign was Dr. Dale Alford, an outspoken segregationist who defeated incumbent Brooks Hays for Congress in the Nov. 4 general election in a last-minute write-in campaign.

Wiley A. Branton, chief lawyer for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in Arkansas, said at his home the resignations "will not alter our plans any whatsoever."

Branton said he "regretted" seeing five members of the board and Blossom out of office, but added that "any new board will (See SCHOOL Page Two)

AGAINST WEST Paper Renews Brash Demands

By JOSEPH B. FLEMING
United Press International

BERLIN (UPI)—The official East German Communist newspaper Neues Deutschland renewed demands today the Western Allies get out of Berlin. It said the Western Allied occupation of the city could start a third world war.

But despite a new rash of threats, West Berlin's fears of a new blockade abated somewhat in the face of the backdown Wednesday by East German Premier Otto Grotewohl and West Berlin Deputy Mayor Franz Amrehn said "there will be no new blockade."

Mayor Willy Brandt added that the Communist attempt to find a weak spot in the West's armament had boomeranged in the face of the Western promise to fight if necessary to save the city.

The latest threat came from Hermann Matern, deputy president of the East German parliament, whose statement was printed in Neues Deutschland.

"It is necessary to point out clearly that as long as troops of the Western powers are in Berlin there exists the danger of a provocation that could start a world war," he said.

Matern, who also is member of the Communist Party Politburo, said the Western troops must withdraw to restore Berlin life to normal.

East Berlin Mayor Friedrich Ebert said the occupation regime must be eradicated in all of Berlin. He recalled that the Soviets said in 1948 at start of the starvation blockade that all of Berlin is part of the Soviet Zone.

No one thought the danger was past forever, but the feeling was that the exposed Western outpost had gained a breathing spell for the time being.

New threats might come tomorrow, but the blockade measures expected ever since Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's speech in Moscow Monday had not materialized.

Khrushchev posed the greatest danger to the city since the 1948-1949 land blockade when he called for an end of the four-power agreements under which the United States, Britain, France and Russia occupy the former capital.

He raised the specter of a new blockade by saying the Soviets would transfer to Communist East Germany control over the Western air, road, rail and canal lifelines to the West.

The East German Communists followed up Khrushchev's statement with a demand the Western powers get out of Berlin.

Grotewohl failed to follow through at a press conference Wednesday. Instead he halted the Communist campaign and said Khrushchev had been misunderstood.

THUNDERSHOWERS ARE FORECAST

A trace of rain fell on most parts of Pampa during the early morning hours today, the first moisture reported here in several weeks.

The forecast for this afternoon and tonight, however, calls for the strong possibility that scattered thundershowers may hit the Top O' Texas area.

Friday is expected to be partly cloudy with not much change in temperatures. High expected is 60 while the low is 50.

FUGATE TRIAL CONTINUES Defense Hopes To Prove Caril Was Captive Of Killer

By MARGUERITE DAVIS
United Press International

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI)—Defense attorneys attempted to prove today that Caril Ann Fugate, 15, was not a collaborator but a fear-numbed captive of her boy friend, Charles Starkweather, in his 11-murder rampage.

Caril testified Wednesday at her own murder trial that she feared Starkweather would kill her if she refused to do his bidding. But she denied she had helped him slay Robert Jensen, 17, and Jensen's sweetheart, Carol King, 16, last Jan. 27. She is charged with helping Starkweather in Jensen's murder.

The trial was scheduled to open today with continued cross-examination by the prosecution of a pathologist, who testified under cross-examination Wednesday that the knife Starkweather carried could not have inflicted the mutilating wounds on Miss King's body.

Jensen's body, shot six times, and Miss King's, were found in an abandoned storm cellar the day after the slayings.

Once during her testimony Caril reluctantly showed how she said she handled the "broken" shotgun she carried that night. She placed one hand under the barrel and the other at the end of the stock and waved the weapon gingerly. She said she never considered trying to shoot Starkweather because "I have never killed anyone."

If found guilty of helping Starkweather kill Jensen, she faces the same death penalty imposed on him for the murder. He has appealed his sentence to the state Supreme Court.

Caril said she was frightened of Starkweather the night he flagged down Jensen's car to ask for a ride because she had just seen him kill August Meyer, 70, and was sure he would kill her. She said she cried when he thrust his loaded gun at Jensen and told the youth to drive to the storm cellar.

When Starkweather forced Jensen and Miss King to walk from the car to the cellar entrance, Caril said, she begged "Please don't hurt them," and was told to "shut up."

Tragedy In Residential Subdivision

SAVANNAH, Ga. (UPI)—Air Force investigators sought today to determine what caused a loaded KC97 Stratotanker to crash in a residential area Wednesday, killing all 11 crewmen.

The big craft, attached to the 308th Air Refueling Squadron at Hunter Air Force Base here, slammed into the only parking lot at a residential subdivision about 10 miles southeast of here. It had just taken off on a routine training mission.

It was believed that one or more of the plane's four engines failed.

The plane was burning before it hit, witnesses said, and it blew up in several thunderous explosions as it ground across the lot and into two empty houses. C. E. Williams, who was working in his garden near the scene, was burned and at last report was in fair condition at a hospital.

One Resident Burned

Another resident, Charles Wilson, was burned while trying to put out the fire which had spread to his yard. His condition also was reported as fair.

One witness, Lawrence Johnson, said that "fire was coming out (of the plane) before it hit."

An unidentified telephone line man said the plane barely missed the pole on which he was working, and that an object that fell from the plane almost hit him.

Wreckage was scattered over about five blocks, and one of the homes it struck was demolished.

Identify Dead

Lt. George Muelich, information officer at Hunter, said the Stratotankers normally carry a crew of six, but that five observers were aboard on this flight.

The dead men were identified as Lt. Harold G. Laffen, 26, aircraft commander, of New York City; Lt. Freddie Levine, 26, navigator, Charleston, S. C.; M. Sgt. Warren E. Martin, 29, flight engineer, Yakima, Wash.; A-1c Malcolm Rogers, 22, Prattville, Ala.; M. Sgt. Curtis W. King, 27, Waycross, Ga.; S-Sgt. Lonnie E. Owens, 25, Moultrie, Ga.; Lt. William I. Boles, 25, Warwick, Va.; A-1c Douglas Cole, 23, Washington, Iowa; A-2c John M. Scerbak, 21, Wallington, N. J.; A-3c John A. Boyer, 20, South River, N. J.; and A-3c Joseph Turner, 21, Moultrie, Ga.

All the crewmen lived with their families in Savannah, the Air Force said.

US Offers Reds Test Ban Treaty

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
United Press International

GENEVA (UPI)—The United States, in a new move to break the present Geneva deadlock, today offered the Soviet Union a treaty for an East-West ban on nuclear tests and a control system to police it.

A draft of the treaty was handed to the Soviets by U.S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth when the bogged-down East-West conference on ending nuclear test met for its eighth formal session. The conference recessed until next Monday to give the Russians time to study it.

The U.S. move to break the current deadlock in the nuclear ban talks came a few hours after a renewed frontal attack on the West by the Communist block in the other East-West Geneva conference now underway—the parley on prevention of surprise attacks.

The surprise attacks meeting also is deadlocked over its agenda and showed no signs of progress today.

Details of the U.S. draft treaty on nuclear test suspension were not disclosed.

The Soviet Union had submitted a nuclear ban draft treaty of its own at the start of the present talks. But the West turned it down because the Russians demanded an advance pledge to prohibit nuclear testing immediately for all time. The West has insisted throughout that a control system must be set up first.

The U.S. draft presumably was in line with this Western condition and provided for a ban on nuclear testing simultaneously with agreement on a control system. (See TREATY Page Two)

Argentine Revolt Plot Fizzles Out

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—The Argentine armed forces rallied today to the support of President Arturo Frondizi and a plot to overthrow him fizzled before it really got started.

Machinegunners were posted on balconies of Argentina's White House against possible new efforts to unseat Frondizi but all indications were he had beaten the second attempt in two days to oust him.

Vice President Alejandro Gomez reported Wednesday that leaders of the armed forces were plotting against Frondizi. There was widespread belief that some such conspiracy existed—and that Gomez himself was one of its chief leaders.

Despite vehement denials from the vice president that he had any connection with the plot, the halls of Congress rang at emergency meetings early today with demands that he be impeached or forced to resign.

Meanwhile, anti-foreign oil union leaders announced that they have postponed at least until next week an anti-government strike which had been denounced officially as part of the subversive plot.

Hundreds if not thousands of Argentines, including a number of Communist leaders, had been jailed under the terms of a "state of siege"—modified martial law—imposed by the government to meet the strike threat.

The government announced the arrest of 250 persons by federal police. A UPI compilation of reports from 22 major cities listed a total of 419 persons arrested by federal or local forces, and it appeared likely that scores more were in jail in lesser centers.

Seven Children Burn To Death

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (UPI)—Seven children in one family were burned to death today when fire swept the Fort Wayne home of Mr. and Mrs. George Gammons.

The parents escaped with their lives after tossing their 4-year-old daughter Connie Sue, only surviving child of the family, through a window.

Gammons, 34, and his wife, Audrey, 31, were taken to Lutheran Hospital suffering from shock and smoke inhalation.

The fire was blamed on a defective oil stove. Police quoted Mrs. Gammons as saying the family had had trouble with the stove.

The dead children ranged in age from 7 weeks to 11 years. Four of them were boys, three girls.

Junior Red Cross Gets New Members

Junior Red Cross enrollment campaigns will wind up today at Pampa High School and Friday throughout the elementary schools.

Some great gains have been reported with the five students of Seventh Day Adventist pre-school and the 30 of Lollipop School enrolled. St. Matthew's Episcopal School has enrolled 100 per cent.

The "Beat Borger" campaign will hit its peak today at Pampa High School with the estimation that enrollment will hit a peak of 98 to 100 per cent.

The high school campaign blasted off Wednesday when a Borger Red Cross boy challenged Pampa High School to "Do or die." Borger's campaign began Tuesday. The challenger was Sylvia Grider, president of the PHS Junior Red Cross.

Two Deaf Brothers Face The 'Chair'

By JOHN E. SIMONDS
United Press International

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Two brothers will die in the electric chair Friday, unless they get a reprieve, in what is believed would be the first execution of deaf mutes in Ohio history.

Bert, 37, and Joseph Buzas, 21, convicted of first degree murder in the stabbing of an elderly gas station owner, "waited in death row while their family and counsel sought a clemency decision from Gov. C. William O'Neill.

The two have occupied side-by-side cells in Ohio Penitentiary for one year. They were convicted by a Belmont County jury Nov. 15, 1957 and began their sentence one day later.

If clemency is denied, the brothers' death will mark Ohio's second double execution of the year, and second in the last 13 years.

Warden Ralph W. Alvis said that to the best of his knowledge they are the first deaf persons ever placed in Ohio's death row.

Defense attorneys have urged that the brothers, convicted of the slaying of Mrs. Margaret Denham, 76, on April 10, 1957, should receive only life sentences on the basis of their disability.

This view is also taken by Dr. Edward Abernathy, superintendent of the Ohio deaf school.

The brothers, although well-behaved, lead an uneventful existence. Some prison religious officials feel the Buzas are unaware of "what it's all about."

The brothers, who left the state school for the deaf when Bert was in the fifth and Joseph in the seventh grade, find little use for radio or books, the few activities available to death row inmates.

He had been arrested at Borger last week. Wright was recently found guilty of swindling with worthless checks in county court.

New Savings Stamp On Sale Nov. 18

Postmaster O. K. Gaylor announced today the new 25-cent United States Savings Stamp will go on sale in the Pampa Post Office on Nov. 18, next Tuesday.

It will be available in gift books of $2.50 and $5.00 values, in addition to the customary sheet form.

The new red, white, and blue issue marks the first time that Savings Stamps have been printed in more than one color, according to the Postmaster. It will continue to feature the Minute Man, as on the old green stamp, but the American Flag has been added to the background.

"The Gift Books will be especially appropriate as the Christmas season approaches," Mr. Gaylor pointed out. "The $2.50 book contains ten 25-cent Savings Stamps, the $5.00 book 20 stamps and there's no extra charge for the book itself," he added.

At present, only the 25-cent denomination will appear in the patriotic three-color theme. However, all other Savings Stamps will continue to be sold: the 10-cent stamp in red, the 50-cent in blue, the $1 grey, and the $5 brown.

For those who hold the old 25-cent green stamps, in albums or otherwise, the Postmaster offers reassurance. "Don't worry about their losing value," Mr. Gaylor said, "they're just as good as the day you bought them."

TREATY

The renewed attack by the Communist bloc was another phase of the overall Soviet cold war campaign, this time believed to be aimed at trying to force the West into a new summit meeting.

Poland and Romania, following the lead set Wednesday by Russia, sharply attacked the Western powers and called for scrapping of nuclear weapons and the holding of East-West disarmament talks.

The Communist delegates also repeated Soviet demands for the Geneva conference on prevention of surprise attacks be transformed into a political and disarmament discussion.

The West continued firmly to resist any such move and to insist the conference be limited to technical talks between experts.

Western diplomats were studying the stepped up Russian offensive for possible clues to explain the tough Russian stand that has deadlocked the East-West conferences here.

Informed sources said the Western delegations are studying a report on the latest moves in the Moscow offensive including:

—Russia's threat against the Western position in Berlin.

—A sharpened propaganda drive attacking the West in vicious terms in Soviet radio broadcasts.

—The call for a new summit meeting in the joint Soviet-Polish communique issued Tuesday night.

—And the tough, unbending Soviet attitude in both the Geneva conferences.

Diplomats here said they were convinced all these are part and parcel of a single Soviet cold war push against the West which still is in the process of being unleashed — with the worst yet to come. They noted the Soviets have not dropped so much as a hint of a possible summit conference in their talks here so far, possibly hoping to build up some sort of war scare that only summit talks could solve.

Mr. Gumm, a Pampa resident since 1952, traveled to Puerto Rico in 1957 for the Brown and Root Construction Co., Houston. Survivors include his widow, Martha, of Pampa.

Wedgeworth Appointed To Council

Maria Callas Opens Door For Peace Offer From Met

By CLAIRE CO
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Soprano Maria Callas, admitting her dismissal from the Metropolitan Opera had left her without a single operatic engagement this season, left the door unbarred today for a peace offering from the impresario who fired her.

Miss Callas indicated that Met General Manager Rudolf Bing would have to make the first move to soothe her ruffled feelings, and it appeared that such a step was being taken by a Chicago booking agent skilled at dealing with temperamental artists.

Harry Zelzer, head of the Allied Arts Corp., said he would meet in New York with Miss Callas, whom he termed "a little tigress."

She denied at a press conference Tuesday night that she had any plan to see Zelzer, who already has conferred with her and Bing separately once before.

"I feel that this is none of anybody's business except mine and Mr. Bing's," she said.

The Brooklyn-born soprano called the news conference, she said, just to "drink a toast" with reporters who have been writing about her during this difficult period.

But then she proceeded to regale them with a rehash of her now-celebrated battle with Bing, who fired her summarily last week while she was in Dallas.

Miss Callas began by saying she absolutely would not return to Bing's operatic family.

Then she hedged.

She said she could not make any such firm commitment as stating, flatly that she would not return to the Met, where Bing recently signed a new five-year contract.

"I'm afraid that certain statements of Mr. Bing have closed any little door to that," she first said. "He's made many statements that hurt more than the cancellation of my contract, statements that no artist deserves."

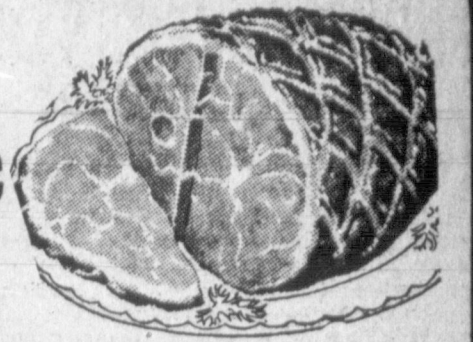

When the matter was pressed, she refused to say anything flatly. "You can never tell what happens in life," she said.

Homemaker's Forecast: Good Cooking Ahead With Holiday Foods On Menu

As the calendar page for November takes over, homemakers realize it's high time to begin thinking about holiday foods. For soon 'twill be necessary to plan the Thanksgiving menu. Not long after, cookies and other Christmas goodies will demand attention.

New Corn Flake Crumbs make this year's holiday cooking just that — a holiday from a time-consuming task. Milled especially for cooking from top-quality Corn Flakes, Crumbs give a golden crispness and flavor to a host of favorite foods.

Use them for topping casseroles and coffee cakes, for extending meat loaves and patties, for breadings and coating chops, fish and croquettes. As a Thanksgiving treat, make a quick Corn Flake Crumbs pie shell for your prized melt-in-the-mouth pumpkin chiffon pie.

Yam Surprise Puffs, coated with flavorful Corn Flake Crumbs and baked, are a pleasant accompaniment to the Thanksgiving turkey or ham. Then, when it comes to finding ways to use what remains of that turkey after the big feast, turn to crumb-topped Turkey and Broccoli Casserole.

Cherry Winkers are a rich, fruit-cake-like goodness. You'll want to make some now and keep the recipe on hand in order to make a hospitable double batch to take care of all your pre-Christmas cookie needs.

YAM SURPRISE PUFFS
2 cups warm, mashed yams
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
6 canned pineapple chunks
2-3 cup Corn Flake Crumbs
Combine yams, seasonings and butter; mix well. Snap yams into balls around pineapple chunks; roll in Corn Flake Crumbs. Place on well-greased baking sheet or in shallow pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degree F.) about 20 minutes. Serve at once.
Yield: 6 servings

TURKEY AND BROCCOLI CASSEROLE
1/2 cup Corn Flake Crumbs
2 teaspoons butter or margarine, melted
1/2 cup flour
1 cup milk
2 cups turkey or chicken broth
1 cup mayonnaise
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon curry powder
2 10-ounce packages frozen broccoli
2 1/2 cups cubed, cooked turkey
Combine Corn Flake Crumbs with melted butter. Reserve for

CHERRY WINKERS
2 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup soft butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
2 1/2 cups milk
1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
1 cup chopped nuts
1 cup finely cut dates
1-3 cup finely cut maraschino cherries
2-3 cup Corn Flake Crumbs
12 maraschino cherries, cut in quarters
Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Blend butter and sugar; add eggs and beat well. Stir in milk and vanilla. Add sifted dry ingredients together with nuts, dates and finely cut cherries; mix well. Shape dough into balls, using 1 level tablespoon dough for each. Roll balls in Corn Flake Crumbs; place on greased baking sheets. Top each cookie with 1/4 maraschino cherry. Bake in moderate oven (375 degree F.) about 12 minutes or until lightly browned.
Yield: 4 dozen cookies, about 2 inches in diameter.

Moistness Added To Noodle Scallop

Cream style cottage cheese gives the nicest results in this delicate scallop, says its originator, Beatrice Cooke of Meadow Gold. The cheese imparts moistness. Because it contains noodles, you might serve the scallop in place of potatoes for dinner or make it the main dish at lunch.

Noodle Cottage Cheese Scallop (Eight Servings)
4 cups wide noodles
1/4 cup butter
1/4 cup chopped onion
3/4 cup chopped green pepper
3 tablespoons flour
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon celery seed
2 cups milk
1 pound cottage cheese
Paprika
Cook noodles until tender in boiling salted water. Drain well. Cook onion and green pepper in butter 5 minutes. Stir in flour, salt, celery seed. Slowly add milk; cook until thickened. Fold in cottage cheese. Combine noodles and sauce; pour into a buttered 2-quart casserole. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake at 350 degrees about 45 minutes.

Chow Mein Noodles Make Tasty Sweet
Sweet tooth often assails you during an evening of tele-viewing? Here's a crunchy confection you can make in minutes with LaChoy's chow mein noodles, blended with melted chocolate and butterscotch.

CHOW CANDY CLUSTERS
In a heavy saucepan combine a 6-ounce package of chocolate chips and a 6-ounce package of butterscotch chips. Melt, stirring constantly, over low heat. Remove from heat and stir in two 3-ounce cans of LaChoy chow mein noodles. Mix quickly to coat each noodle. Dip out tablespoonfuls on waxed paper; cool.

Mind These Hints On Cheese Storage
If you're passing a cheese tray frequently during the coming weeks, here are some tips from Meadow Gold on cheese care: Let cheese stand at room temperature about 30 minutes before serving. This will bring out the cheese flavor.
When storing leftover cut cheese, cover the cut end tightly with aluminum foil or plastic wrap, or dip the cut surface of a large piece in melted paraffin to seal in the flavor. Place on bottom shelf of refrigerator.

WITHOUT CALORIES—Now you can have that good old-fashioned country butter flavor in your cooking and baking without the calories. The secret is in using the new Butter Flavor developed by Adams Extract.

Every one expects a traditional turkey dinner at Thanksgiving, and there is no point in tampering with tradition. But an element of surprise can still be a feature of the meal by providing new variations on some of the old traditional dishes.

Instead of your usual stuffing for the bird, for instance, you might prepare a delicate Banana Stuffing. The light, refreshing fruit flavor goes well with the roast

Old-New Flavors Meet In Extract "Nibbling Food" Preferred At Bridge Parties

With quick mixes and instant meals — the modern housewife often longs for the old-fashioned flavor when real country butter was used in painstakingly prepared dishes. Now — the old and the new have come together! It's the introduction to the market of Adams Extract Company's "all new" imitation Butter Flavor.

When preparing those mixes — cake, pastry, puddings, breads — the addition of Butter Flavor gives a more "home-made" flavor. In cooking rice, cereals and vegetables, Butter Flavor adds the wonderful taste and aroma of food cooked in old-fashioned country butter. When added to cooking oils, fried foods have a richer taste.

For a quick — to — prepare wonderful one-dish dinner, here is Adams Gold'n White Dinner.
2 cups Cooked Rice (cooked with 1 tsp. Adams Butter Flavor added to the water)
1 can Cream of Mushroom Soup, undiluted
Mix well while rice is still hot. Add 1 cup diced Chicken or Tuna. Blend and allow to simmer several minutes. Pile in center of serving platter and surround with 1 can Whole Kernel Yellow Corn (add 1 tsp. Butter Flavor to liquid while heating corn)
Those who are "calory-conscious" will be happy to know that this richer butter flavor carries with it no added calories!

The use of Adams Butter flavor is economical in that a little goes a long way; practical for it is convenient and easy to use; and, versatile as it can be used with almost any food.

Banana Stuffing New Turkey Idea

Birthday Cake Designed For Young People

Chocolate mint angel food cake is the kind of birthday treat you can be certain will please any young celebrator who requests ice cream, cake and candy on his natal day. For it combines all three in one big, glamorous delight.

If you have a light hand with angel cake, you'll want to bake your own. Otherwise order a ten-inch size from your baker. You'll need two pints of chocolate ice cream, a half pint of whipping cream and a cup of pastel mints.

Crush the mints coarsely on paper toweling, using your rolling pin, advise Richardson home economists, so that chunky pieces of confection can be strewn atop the cake.

New Menu Treat Created With Rice

Because Thanksgiving is a traditional early American holiday, home economists at Comet Rice Mills of Dallas have created a new menu treat for the occasion.

Named Comet Rice Betsy by Robert B. Holland, Jr., vice president, the original recipe is a meal within itself.

The Comet executive hopes Comet Rice Betsy will take its place along with other traditional rice recipes.

Mr. Holland said Comet Rice Betsy requires a minimum of preparation. He gave the recipe as follows:

COMET RICE BETSY
1 cup Comet Longgrain Rice
1/4 cup bacon fat
1 medium onion, diced
1 can consommé (beef)
1 tsp. Cornstarch (dissolved in ground)
1 cup water
1 tsp. salt
2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 tsp. Oregano
Brown rice in fat in a large skillet. Add onion. Stir and cook to a golden brown. Add remaining ingredients. Turn heat low, cover and simmer 25 minutes. Stir often. Add water if needed to prevent scorching. Garnish with parsley. Serves six.

Petite Pumpkin Pies

For a change of pace, how about making these Petite Pumpkin Pies especially for entertaining. One of the many fine features about making these tiny treats is they are so easy to serve — no trying to cut the large size pie in enough pieces to go round. They keep well, too, and can be made ahead of time and stored wrapped in foil and tucked in a tin box. Or, wrapped in foil and placed in the refrigerator — all ready for your guests at tea or dinner. Make double the amount of this recipe and you will be sure to have more than enough for even your youngest friends home from school and also for the Holiday parties.

1 bar (1/2 cup) Good Luck margarine
1 3-ounce package cream cheese
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
Pumpkin Filling
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
Let margarine soften in mixing bowl at room temperature about 1 hour. Add cream cheese and work with wooden spoon until smooth and creamy. Scrape bowl and spoon. Add 1/2 the flour and blend thoroughly, then remaining flour and mix well. Work with fingers into smooth dough. (If desired, refrigerate

They are Pat Hayward, first soprano; Frances Crawford, second soprano; Joy Clark, first alto; Marion Riley, second alto; Charles Peterson, first tenor; Larry Vriezelaar, second tenor; Rex Jamison, baritone; and Barry Acker, bass.

The All-Regional members were chosen recently in auditions before a committee composed of Mrs. Gary Bryant, Mrs. Vera Keller, B. D. Walker and Mr. Webb.

The All-Regional Choir rehearsals, under the direction of Dr. Houston Bright of West Texas A State, will be held in Canyon, Nov. 22, in conjunction with the auditions for the All-State Choir. All the above named All-Regional members will audition for All-State positions.

Quotes In The News

TACOMA, Wash.—U.S. District Judge George H. Boldt, trying former teamster President Dave Beck on income tax evasion charges, on a defense attorneys' objections to newspaper coverage:

"Let's not try this case in the newspapers. The gentlemen of the press must do their job just as you must do yours and I must do mine."

Future Teachers Elect Officers

PERRYTON (SpI)—Miss Betty Mahan has been chosen to serve as president of the High School Future Teachers of America Chapter.

Anita Slaughter was elected vice president, LuNette Castle, secretary; Peggy Flowers, treasurer; Theresa Castlebury, reporter; and Pat Malone, program chairman.

The FTA King and Queen will be chosen this week. The candidates for the title will speak on "My Future as a Teacher." Mrs. Rose Powell, sponsor, and other teachers will judge the talks.

NHS Will Take Pledges

PERRYTON (SpI)—The High School National Honor Society will accept pledges following the semester examinations in January, according to Barry Acker, president.

During a meeting held in the coffee shop of the Hotel Perryton, the group decided to meet on the second Tuesday of each month.

NHS is sponsored by Mrs. Gladys Phillips. Besides Acker, officers are LuNette Castle, vice president; Barbara Stollings, secretary; Jane Headlee, treasurer, and Pat Hayward, reporter.

Other members are Billie Mae Gray, Bonita Dunnihoo, Alta Johnson, Pam Williams, Sara Mize, Maurine Pearson, Bud Osborne and Tommy Ellzey.

EASE DRUG RESTRICTIONS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government plans to make it easier to ship wonder drugs behind the Iron Curtain in Europe. The Commerce Department's bureau of foreign commerce said Wednesday it will now consider approving export licenses for such drugs as penicillin, streptomycin and sulfa. The relaxation does not apply, however, to Communist China, North Korea or North Viet Nam.

Although conceding this is likely, some Democrats predict the President will deliberately set his spending estimate on the low side and his revenue estimate high in an effort to make Congress look bad.

Bruxism Is Important To Dentists

DALLAS (UPI)—A New York dentist warned today that patients practicing bruxism should not withhold that information from their dentists.

Bruxism, said Dr. S. Charles Brecker, is the habit of grinding and gnashing the teeth.

Dr. Brecker, former faculty member of the College of Dentistry, New York University, told delegates to the 99th annual session of the American Dental Assn., that bruxism is an important factor to be taken into consideration in providing crowns or bridges for a dental patient.

The noted dental authority said that such abnormal psychological habits of bruxism and unusual swallowing practices or abnormal tongue motions may have been responsible for the damage to the teeth in the first place.

The type of restoration used should be determined in part by mouth habits which the patient cannot be expected to change, he added.

Dr. Brecker described a new dental material, a special alloy of gold to which porcelain is fused, that is showing promise for crowns, bridges and other attachments.

Dr. Maurice J. Saklad, also a former dental school faculty member at New York University, noted that facial grimaces may often be the result of an unnatural rigid appearance of the lip, caused by an individual's determination to conceal unsightly teeth.

Defective speech is also sometimes caused by "the fear of showing an unsightly dentition."

New Tests

Wednesday, delegates were told of new tests for fitting of false teeth to allow the wearer to master his "s" without the hiss.

Dr. Melburn L. Morrison of Riverside, Calif., said for satisfactory dentures, the patient must have at least enough clearance to master the "s" sounds in order to speak satisfactorily.

He said in this group of words, the upper and lower jaws are closer together than at any other time in speaking.

The jaw movements and actions of muscles as the patient talks and the amount of clearance he has are the factors in determining the vertical dimension of the denture, he added.

Crosby Wife And Son In Two Crashes

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Crooner Bing Crosby's attractive wife, Kathy, 24, and his son, Gary, 25, were involved in separate traffic accidents within 24 hours Wednesday.

Kathy, who gave birth to the singer's fifth son Aug. 8, suffered a three-inch gash on her chin which took two stitches to close, according to reports.

Gary was uninjured in the accident he had earlier in the day. Both were driving sports cars and rammed into the rear of cars stopped at traffic signals.

Mrs. Crosby said her car plowed into one owned by Herman Magad, 60, pushing it 75 feet, when her foot accidentally slammed on the accelerator after a heel broke on one of her high-heeled shoes.

Magad was taken to receiving hospital where he complained of neck injuries. "I feel sore all over," he said. "I didn't even see her driving up before the accident."

Gary, who was involved in a bad traffic accident near San Jose, Calif., in 1954 in which one man was killed and he and six other persons were injured, rammed his car into one stopped at a traffic signal in Beverly Hills Tuesday night.

Police Chief Clinton H. Anderson said Gary would be cited for following the other car too closely.

John Sullivan, 57, driver of the other car, was uninjured, but his wife, Ruth, 48, complained of neck injuries and was treated at the Beverly Hills first aid station.

ABUSES PRIVILEGES

LONDON (UPI)—Convicted burglar Daniel Killgallon lost his weekend privileges today because police discovered he was using his time away from prison to pickup extra money by house-breaking. Besides taking his weekend privileges away, the court also sentenced him to another eight years in jail.

This 4-door Hardtop Cruiser is the luxurious Park Lane by Mercury. Also available in the distinctive Montclair and the popular Monterey series.

The brand NEW '59 MERCURY shows you what NEW really means

Americans are looking at the new cars with a new look in their eyes. They're searching for the best combination of all the things that count in a car. The answer in 1959 comes from this completely new 20th Anniversary Mercury.

SEE NEW CLEAN-DYNAMIC STYLING
Distinctive...Mercury has exclusive body design; it is the only car in its class that does not use a body shared by a low-priced car.

RELAX IN A NEW KIND OF COMFORT
No car in its class has more usable room. For easier entrance, doors are wider than those of costliest cars. Up front—9 inches more knee room! The tunnel-hump in the floor HAS BEEN CUT IN HALF! The man in the middle doesn't sit with his chin on his knees. And that lower hump makes room for thicker seat cushions.

FEEL LIVELY NEW PERFORMANCE
Not just high horsepower...although Mercury offers up to 345...but a new kind of response, quiet, obedient, effortless.

ENJOY NEW ECONOMIES
2 out of 3 new-car buyers can afford Mercury. The big special is the Monterey with its new Economy Engine. You get top performance on regular (not premium) gas...it's like "riding free" 10 miles out of every 100.
Add it up and you get everything you want on wheels—the '59 Mercury. We invite you to try this great car—at our showroom.

NEW COMFORT UP FRONT! That tunnel-hump you'll find on other '59 cars is 50% smaller in Mercury. 3 full-size riders can stretch out (including the man in the middle).

MERCURY'S COUNTRY CRUISERS—Unique hardtop styling. Retractable rear window. Fold-away 3rd seat that faces front. Concealed package compartment.

MERCURY'S FIRST WITH SIDE-TO-SIDE WIPERS—They clear a 42" larger area—a 5-foot swath—including the center section. Only Mercury has this aid to safer driving.

Look Who' Back, Ruth Slenczynska!

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—You may remember Ruth Slenczynska from the headlines of another era. She was the fat little girl who at eight made a spectacular American debut as a pianist, who was hailed by some critics as "another Mozart," and who went on to earn as much as $3,500 for a single appearance and more than a million dollars in her brief career.

She was the child whose father, a frustrated musician, claimed he "willed her to be a genius," and who, she claimed, ran her life with a tyrannical sternness and pocketed all the proceeds from her sell-out American and European tours. She was the girl who knew 200 musical compositions from memory, studied with Sergei Rachmaninoff and Arthur Schnabel, and once filled in when a Paderewski appearance was cancelled.

That was Ruth Slenczynska, child prodigy, whose career ended with the start of World War II, in 1940, when she was 14. Well, the prodigy is back—as a musician, not a curiosity," she said, in an interview today. Tonight she appears at Town Hall, 25 years to the day after her American debut. Then begins a tour which will take her to 56 cities, in 20 states.

Chose Teaching
Today, she is an attractive, dark-haired woman of 33. She is just under five feet in height, weighs 103 pounds—five pounds less than when I last played at

Space Fleet To Be Needed?

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
United Press International

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—The time is coming, a scientist said Wednesday, when space traffic will be so heavy that it will be necessary to have fleets of rocket-powered tow trucks ready to dash to the rescue of astronauts in trouble between earth and the planets.

Dr. Norman V. Petersen of Lockheed Aircraft Corp. said there will be "eventual need for rescue and retrieve vehicles to perform emergency missions, assuring crew survival from malfunctioning or isolated satellite and space vehicles."

So far man has been unable to blast even a few pounds of inanimate matter as far as the moon, a next-door neighbor only about 238,000 miles away. But that hasn't prevented Petersen and other space experts from looking ahead to the hazards of interplanetary travel.

They presented their ideas, complete with graphs and complicated equations, on how to make space reasonably safe, at the second international symposium on space physics and medicine being concluded today.

Col. Paul A. Campbell of the Air Force began the session on "rescue in space" with the declaration that, this being an ethical democracy, "a man or a crew or an expedition will not be sent into space by our nation until there is a reasonable chance of a safe journey and of safe recovery in case of accident."

Alfred M. Mayo, chief safety research engineer of the Douglas Aircraft Co., developed the theme with the statement that "the space traveler who fails to survive the journey can not realize adequately his desire for adventure and knowledge."

All agreed that, though space definitely is "hostile," something can be done to improve man's chances of living to tell the tale of his travels out there. "It appears that survival odds can be raised to acceptable values," Mayo said.

ON A TOOT—The music comes straight-out instead of 'round and 'round in this horn which Chief Musician Frank Scimone, 38, plays with the U.S. Navy Band. It's an English post horn, and the band is the only one in the nation to use the slim, 30-inch instrument in a solo performance. Scimone has made 24 tours with the band across the States.

Town Hall," she laughed. "At eight, I weighed 108; at 14, I wore a size 36 dress; now I buy fives and sevens."

"I was fat because my father believed that fat was healthy." "Now," she said, "I'm a firm believer in cottage cheese." She added that it was not so much diet but "abject poverty" which slimmed her down. "I had a choice of teaching music and eating," she said, "or practicing and not eating."

What of the years in between? The pianist said that in 1940, she returned to her native Sacramento, Calif., determined to live a life without her father's dominance. She was accepted as a freshman at the University of California, but her father refused to pay her tuition. She worked her way through school, as a psychology major, with jobs as junior librarian, gymnasium assistant, and pianist for a post-graduate music course.

In 1944, she eloped to Reno with a fellow student, and apparently this was the final break with her father. She said he ordered her out of the house and apparently never forgave her — when he died seven years later, his will left nothing to her.

She returned to work when her husband went into the Army—teaching piano at Mercy College of Music, Carmel, Calif. The marriage ended in 1961, and it was then she resumed her piano studies.

The pianist said there no longer is any bitterness toward her father — "I figure he would be proud of me," she said, "but if he were alive I would not have the courage to do what I'm doing."

Other parents can learn a lesson from her case history, she said. "If a child is gifted, in any direction — music or mathematics — don't push him. Just encourage him. And give a child music for the love of it... don't DOUBLE TIME—The watch in the right photo indicates the strange time of 16 minutes past 21 hours. It's a special time piece commemorating the entry of Alaska into the Union. Since some days have 19 hours of light and some nights 18 hours of darkness in the new state, the watch lets Alaskans easily distinguish between A.M. and P.M. The conventional 1-12 numerals, left, are transformed into 13-24, right, by an automatically regulated mainspring.

get off the road as my father can't make a thistle bear peaches," she laughed. "But She's convinced that prodigies are born, not produced. "You better."

UN Debates Space Control

By BRUCE W. MUNN
United Press International

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—The United Nations Wednesday began a diplomatic exploration of space with the subject up for discussion for the first time in the General Assembly's Political Committee.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin opened the debate in the 81-nation committee Wednesday morning.

Russia already has submitted a resolution linking the control of outer space for peaceful uses with the elimination of all foreign military bases, a measure opposed by the United States and its Western partners and headed for almost certain eventual defeat.

The United States and a dozen other countries were preparing a

Criminal Code To Be Revised

AUSTIN (UPI)—Appointment of a 17-member committee to work on revision of Texas' Code of Criminal Procedure and Penal Code was announced Wednesday by Fort Worth attorney Leo Brewster, president of the State Bar.

Brewster said the goal of the committee will be to draft proposals that will eliminate "unnecessary unjust and outmoded technicalities in favor of the state, as well as the defendant."

Fred Erisman, Longview, was named chairman and George P. Blackburn, an assistant Texas attorney general, vice chairman.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) was named by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to present the American position on the problems of space control. Johnson, chairman of the Senate Space and Astronautics Committee, was expected to come here early next week to speak in the political committee.

The basic outlines of U.S. space policy was to be laid down by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge before Johnson, long an advocate of U.N. action on spatial control, takes over next week.

ing. Various departments will offer for sale many original hand-made gifts and holiday decorations; a frezier furnished for the occasion by Hawkins Snafer Appliance Shop is filled with homemade baked goods, candy and other specialties to add something extra to holiday menus.

One item that will appeal to the teen-age set is an autograph hound, which is a dachshund made of canvas that welcomes signatures or bits of advice. Puppets, bean bags, Raggedy Ann Dolls and soft yarn balls are suggestions for mothers who must keep small children entertained indoors at times.

Mrs. Billie Davis will offer an idea for decorating children's rooms. She has painted prints with storybook themes; these will be on sale in the Christmas and Special Gifts booth. In that both also will be Christmas door decorations, decorated candles, dried flower arrangements, Christmas card-holders and many other articles suitable for adult gifts.

World's Biggest Junk Market Destined To Become Victim Of Progressing Paris

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent

PARIS (NEA) — The Paris Flea Market, a "must" on the itinerary of every bargain-hunting American woman tourist, is about to become a victim of progress.

The gigantic junk pile, where you can buy just about anything, sprawls over 130 acres of land just outside the Porte de Clignancourt, which once marked the city limits. But the area is now well within Paris and too valuable to be left to its current use.

In place of many jerry-built shops and stalls, Paris city fathers have begun work on a vast housing project for low-income groups. Recreation fields, schools and a hospital also are planned.

The authorities were smart enough, however, not to eliminate entirely this major tourist attraction. So the sprawling market is being consolidated on a much smaller piece of land.

Some of the picturesque quality will be lost, but it will be easier on the feet of the shopper hoping to spot an "old master" or valuable antique during his wanderings.

What has developed into the biggest junk market in the world started very humbly 80 years ago. The Paris ragpickers started going to the no-man's-land just outside the city's fortifications (which have now disappeared) to sift through their night's pickings. Although this was a military zone, the army closed its eyes.

Pretty soon the ragpickers organized themselves into a kind of syndicate. Little by little owners of junk shops added their unsold wares to those of the ragpickers, which then were displayed on the ground.

This went on for a while until one bright member of the fraternity built himself a booth made of old tin cans. Before long more and more makeshift shelters were built, which eventually housed entire families, and the area became known as "la zone." This construction was the beginning of the Flea Market.

Until after World War I the majority of Parisians had never visited the Market. Only the impoverished artist or student went there to pick up odd sticks of furniture for a few francs.

It was not until an antique merchant discovered and paid 20 francs for a valuable Jean Fragonard drawing that visits to the Flea Market became a favorite "summing-up" expedition.

Until World War II, it was often possible to unearth valuable art objects which somehow had found their way from the Flea Market. Connoisseurs began haunting the Market for porcelain, antique furniture, pewter pots and candlesticks.

By 1920, the first permanent booths were built. Until then the majority of marketeers were obliged to trundle their wares to and fro during the three days, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, on which the market was held. People in the know would purposely wait until closing time to strike a better bargain.

In the last 10 years however the Flea Market has acquired an air of sophistication. Dotted here and there are signs saying: "Traveler's Cheques Accepted" and "Goods shipped to all parts." On Saturdays and Sundays long lines of limousines are parked along nearby streets.

Many antique dealers have "branches" at the Flea Market where they send articles which they have been obliged to buy in a "lot" and which they could not sell in their elegant shops in the heart of the city.

Progress may dictate that someday the rambling complex of sheds outside Porte de Clignancourt will be forced to a new location. But the love of Frenchmen and tourists for a good value assures that the Flea Market will never be exterminated.

Antique vendor in the Flea Market makes the most of a lull in the day's trading.

Miss Johnson Is Hostess To YWA

The next meeting will be on Thursday Nov. 13 from seven to eight p.m. in the home of Sharon and Brenda McGuire, 636 N. Zimmers.

Refreshments were served during the social hour. Attending were Misses Virginia and Nancy Jones, Sara and Jon Naylor, Barbara Lunsford, Nancy Stevenson, Lynn Stroble, Nancy Bailey, Pat and Kay Ingram, Sally Pullen, Clo Ann Johnson, Sharon McGuire, Mrs. Odell Giddoon and Mrs. Owen Johnson.

Missionary Project Planned By WSCS

Circle 2 of Woman's Society of Christian Service of Hurray Methodist Church met Thursday morning in Fellowship Hall.

The meeting opened with prayer by Mrs. O. M. Butler. Mrs. J. L. Pierce, circle chairman, conducted a business meeting during which it was decided a turkey dinner would be served, proceeds to go toward a missionary project; details and the date will be announced later.

Announcement was made that in the future the roll call is to be answered with the number of calls and visits made, and - or cards sent during the week. Mrs. Bob Chase, program leader, brought the devotional entitled "Start the Day With God." Mrs. Chase concluded with the reading of Saint Francis' Prayer.

The group was given The Methodist Woman, The World Outlook and the Together magazines and was asked to report on articles that were of particular interest or benefit to each. Mrs. Butler gave a report on the visit made recently to the Wesley Center in Amarillo by members of the Society. The meeting was concluded by Mrs. Chase leading the group in praying the Lords Prayer. Others present than those already mentioned were: Mmes. Ton Price, J. C. Humphrey and P. D. Gross. The next meeting will be November 18 at 9:30 a.m.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Pete's best friend attends a Sunday school which gives him colored pictures of Jesus walking on water and looking for lambs on mountains. Envious, Pete asked if he could go to Sunday school too. His father said yes, not because he wanted religious instruction for Pete but because he understood the boy's envy.

One morning Pete came home from Sunday school unusually silent and preoccupied. Finally the trouble came out. His teacher had told him that Jesus said, "Do good to those who hate you."

Worriedly Pete said, "That dopey Bill Sloan hates me. But you told me to kick him in the shins when he tries to shove me off my bike. That wasn't doing good to Bill Sloan, Daddy. Jesus wouldn't have liked it."

"Let me think a minute," his father said. Then, dropping his clipping shears, he sat down on the lawn beside Pete.

"Maybe," he said, "feeling his way, 'Jesus meant that we do good to people who hate us by not letting them push us around. Bill Sloan's got to learn that he can't shove smaller kids off bikes when ever he feels like it. So if you don't let him shove you off yours, I think you're doing good to him.'"

It was the first time in the life of Pete's father that he'd given serious original thought to a religious meaning. Sooner or later all children require this thought of us.

Joan's new kitten gets run over. As you dig the grave behind the garage, you know that your grief-stricken child is thinking, "Where has Fluffy gone? Why is she so stiff and still when just this morning she was purring on my pillow?"

Eddie reads a magazine article on the ICBM and asks you, "What's the sense of my sweating out another year at college when all hell can break loose any minute?"

Both finds a broken chrysalis in the back field and asks you, "How did the butterfly know that it had stopped being a caterpillar and could fly?"

If religion is man's effort to come to terms with life and death, then all these questions are religious ones.

For parents of orthodox faiths, the answers come easier than for those who subscribe to none.

But from all parents the questions rate our serious attention and respect.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me if I can't keep a good elevator man down. Good luck!

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of five children who served their mother breakfast at 7:30 Saturday morning because her birthday is on the following Tuesday and they will be in school? They had no money for presents because they have no father. When I came downstairs they had the dishes all done and had cooked their own breakfast, too. As I sit here writing you, they brought me a cup of tea. This is the most wonderful birthday I have ever had. I just had to tell someone how happy I am. I am so proud I could bust.

Curley Was 'Boss' For Fifty Years

BOSTON (UPI)—James Michael Curley, who would have celebrated his 84th birthday Nov. 20, had been a political force in Massachusetts for half a century.

During that period he served four terms as mayor of Boston, four terms as congressman and one term as Massachusetts governor. He once served as mayor of Boston while confined to a federal penitentiary for mail fraud.

He died Wednesday.

In office, Jim Curley lived high and spent lavishly. Out of office he was usually broke.

Even though he ran afoul of the law occasionally, Boston voters trusted him and kept him in public life for 50 years.

His enemies pictured the man with the silver hair, and tongue to match, as a ruthless dictator of a many-tentacled political machine.

But to his friends, Curley was a man who rose from virtually nothing and never forgot the "little man."

While in his heyday, Curley built and maintained a strong organization, its vote-getting performance largely dependent on the winning Curley personality and his flair for the dramatic to capture the fancy of the electorate.

After his retirement, Curley made only infrequent appearances on the public scene, usually at political rallies or in the annual St. Patrick's Day parade, where his flashing "saunt" step world premiere in Boston just a few weeks ago, Curley accepted an out of court settlement from the movie firm for $15,000.

Whether involved in scandal, investigation, indictment, a bitter political battle or fighting the Boston bluebloods, Curley re-remained irascible, sometimes funny, sometimes irascible, sometimes funny, sometimes bellicose—but usually charming and unquenchable.

Banner headlines of his sins never bothered him. But Curley was sensitive about the huge public works projects, including a tunnel under Boston harbor, that he fathered.

LONDON (UPI)—Moscow has accepted the chemise and sack lines—with reservations.

The Zany One's Flat On His Back

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Jerry Lewis is flat on his back in a hospital suffering the tortures of a bleeding ulcer. He says it came from his inability to smile at in-sults.

An extraordinarily sensitive character, Jerry can be moved to tears by the slightest provocation.

A running feud with Hollywood's trade press and sharp attacks by a few columnists apparently floored the bouncy, 32-year-old comedian.

"It's not overwork that gave me this ulcer," Jerry avers. "So I've done a few TV shows and two movies in a row. That doesn't bother me at all. I've been working hard for years.

"And it's not what you eat. It's the critics."

Jerry spoke foggy from his flower-bedecked room at Mt. Sinai Hospital. He was heavily drugged with sedatives to relieve the pain. An efficient nurse hustled in to administer a pill.

"Get outta here, Sally," he howled. "How do you like this to give me a needle so I can go back to sleep."

Licorice Between Meals

Sally smiled, prettily and handed Jerry a small paper bag.

"Licorice bits," Jerry explained. "It's the only thing I'm allowed to eat between meals. The rest of the time I'm stuck with cottage cheese and pears. But I'm lucky. I like cottage cheese and pears."

The wacky funnyman grew serious, denying that recurrent blasts by Dean Martin (his ex-partner) have affected his health.

"That's all dead and over with," Jerry said. "I've been here 12 days now, and I haven't heard from Dean. I don't expect to. But that has nothing to do with my condition.

"I'm not ashamed to admit my weakness is sensitivity. I want to mature and do better things, but I don't want to learn to smile at insults. Bad reviews don't bother me, but the little unkind gossip things worry me to death. I'm happy here in the hospital because nobody says anything nasty about anyone else. There's no unkindness here."

Jerry has dispatched more than 200 bouquets to less fortunate patients in the hospital, most of

CAMERA CONTEST—Each intent on trying to "upstage" the other and steal the scene, Jean Hagen and Shaggy, the mop-pawed dog, were so intent on the battle that they both got out of focus. Note that Shaggy is even stepping on Jean's foot. It happened while shooting Walt Disney's "The Shaggy Dog," a spoof on shaggy dog stories, in Hollywood.

"Right of Way" Rules Explained

Possibly the most mystifying of all traffic rules to the average driver are those relating to "Right of Way" at an intersection. In reality, however, these rules are quite simple.

In trying to understand the laws regulating intersecting traffic, it is best to start off with the premise that all streets are of equal dignity, legally speaking. Traffic signs and signals may vary this rule somewhat, but when in doubt it is safest to assume that all drivers crossing your path have a claim to the right of way equal to your own.

Obviously, however, in many cases one driver or the other will be legally entitled to the right of way. When it becomes necessary to determine right of way in a particular situation, the driver who reaches the intersection first, or who is going to get there first, is ordinarily favored.

But when two automobiles are an equal distance from the intersection, that one approaching from the other driver's right normally has the right of way.

Some intersections are known as "courtesy corners," having a stop sign or a flashing red signal facing each direction of approach. The first driver reaching the corner and coming to a complete stop will normally have the right of way over other vehicles not already in the intersection. However, don't depend too much on the other fellow's courtesy and be sure to keep a "proper right" and your car under "proper control," as explained in an earlier column.

At intersections involving one through street and another street having a stop sign, a driver approaching the stop sign and coming to a full stop is ordinarily said to be approaching on the through street, but not already in the intersection. However, this last rule must be qualified by saying that you should not proceed, cross or turn onto the through street until you can do so without interfering with oncoming traffic. In other words, if an approaching car will arrive within the intersection before you are completely clear, wait just a little longer. The same rules apply to entering a highway from a side road containing a stop sign.

Many drivers violate the rules of right of way covering left-hand turns at intersections. When turning left, you should always be on the inside (or center) lane, displaying the proper hand signal. You must allow all cars coming from the opposite direction, already in the intersection, to pass through before completing your turn. Even when the intersection is cleared, do not proceed unless other oncoming traffic is far enough away to be able to see your signal and slow down to allow you to turn with safety to all concerned.

Stay in the inside lane until your left-hand turn is entirely completed, and only then move gradually over to the right-hand lane if you wish. When turning right, stay in the right-hand lane at all times. Do not swing wide into the center lane, as to do so is unnecessary, unlawful and dangerous.

Many detailed rules and suggestions for safe driving are included in the official "Texas Driving Handbook" which is available to any person requesting same from the Texas Department of Public Safety, Drivers License Division, Austin, Texas.

(This column, based on Texas law and prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

No Guards For Elvis

BAD NAUHEIM, Germany (UPI)—Pvt. Elvis Presley, the only GI in Germany with personal bodyguards, roughed it in the exposed wilds of the Taunus Mountains today. His two burly "good friends" had to be content with cracking their knuckles in a luxury hotel here.

Army sources indicated that the rock-'n'-rolling GI was doing fine, even without being guarded by his husky pals, as a reconnaissance jeep driver.

But the bodyguards from Memphis and the singer's father and grandmother, with whom they are staying here, may soon journey en masse to the 3rd-Armored-Division's maneuver area to check on how he's making out.

Presley's imported but shy protectors are Lamar Fike, 23, who stands 6 feet and weighs 250 pounds, and Bobby West, 22, also 6 feet but a mere 185 pounds. The singer's father called them "nice young fellas" and insisted they are "just good friends."

"They form a sort of fence around Elvis," he said. The Army was non-committal about one of its enlisted men having two bodyguards. Spokesmen said that whatever Presley does on his own time is his own affair so long as it does not interfere with his Army duties.

Pampa To Meet Plainview

By RED GRIGGS
Daily News Sports Editor

Saturday, the Pampa Harvesters will get probably their last chance this year to break into the victory column for the second time.

The Harvesters will play the Plainview Bulldogs at 2 p. m. Saturday in Harvester Park. The next game after that will be against a more ferocious breed of Bulldog—the Borger type.

Even in Saturday's game, Pampa will be a slight underdog. The Harvesters will be playing without their first-string quarterback, Buddy Rawls, who has a torn ligament and will be out for the season.

Ronnie Smith will take the signal calling position. Smith is a fairly good passer, but is untried as a runner. He lost yardage on his only two rushing attempts this year.

The Harvesters should be aided by the return to action of Rex Williams, who has the best per-carry average of any man on the squad and is a leading pass receiver. Williams was out of last week's Lubbock game with a bad knee.

Pampa will be outweighed by the Bulldogs, who have a line averaging more than 185 pounds, and a 220-pound fullback. Four men on the Bulldog line weigh 190 or more.

Plainview has a slightly better record against common foes than the Harvesters. The Bulldogs lost to Lubbock 15-6, to Monterey 33-14, and to Palo Duro 21-0. They beat Amarillo 21-14.

The Harvesters lost to Lubbock 41-6, to Monterey 40-7, to Palo Duro 15-8, and to Amarillo 15-8. The Bulldogs have a 1-4 record in district play, and the Harvesters 0-5. Pampa has a 1-7 season mark, and Plainview has a 3-5 record.

The Bulldogs use a single wing formation, one the Harvesters have faced only once this year—and that not for a full game. Wichita Falls was the only team to use a single wing against Pampa, but the Coyotes also used the T formation.

The Harvesters used a straight T formation at the start of the season, but have "jazzed up" their offense during the past two games. They now make use of a "lonesome halfback" similar to Army's lonesome end, to loosen enemy defenses.

Bob Turley Named Pitcher of Year

BOSTON (UPI)—Bob Turley, whose strong right arm lifted the wobbling New York Yankees to three final victories for the first World Series championship, has won the 1958 Cy Young Award as the major league pitcher of the year for his regular season work.

The Baseball Writers' Association, which announced the award to the 28-year-old pitcher Wednesday night, voted at the end of regular season play, before the Yankee-Milwaukee Braves World Series.

Ironically, it is a wonder that Turley won the voting despite his 21-7 win-loss season record, which included 168 strikeouts and a 2.98 earned run average.

Ten of the 15 voting baseball writers wanted to name a National League pitcher for the award. Warren Spahn of the Braves received four votes and his teammate Lew Burdette received three, as did Pittsburgh Pirate hurler Bob Friend.

The remaining five ballots were cast for Turley, the only American Leaguer to receive a vote.

When notified of the award, Turley broke his usual midwestern calmness to say, "Hey, that's wonderful news. You always like to win an award like that one."

Skellytown Sets Turkey Shoot

SKELLYTOWN (Sp) — A turkey shoot, sponsored by Skellytown Lions Club, will be held here Saturday and Sunday. The Saturday shoot starts at 10 a. m., the Sunday shoot at 1 p. m.

The shoot will be held behind the school bus barn, and the public is invited to participate. Money made from the turkey shoot will be used in community betterment projects.

Army Won't Go Bowling

WEST POINT, N. Y. (UPI)—The Army football team won't go "bowling" this season, although it has received bids to play either in the Cotton or Orange Bowl.

Lt. Gen. Garrison Davidson, superintendent of the Military Academy, reaffirmed Army's traditional policy against accepting post-season bowl invitations in a formal statement Wednesday.

"The superintendent cannot view with favor any post-season games for the Army football team under any conditions," Gen. Davidson said. "The regular nine-game schedule produces all the benefits which can reasonably be sought from the playing of intercollegiate football and keeps the game within normal proportions."

Red Griggs ★ the pipeline

After today, over 100 young Pampa football players will hang up their game jerseys, football shoes, and shoulder pads for another year.

For the Shockers and the Robert E. Lee Junior High Rebels, it will be the close of a winning season, no matter how they do in today's contests. For the Pampa Junior High Reapers, it will be their last chance for a victory.

The Shockers are playing this afternoon in Harvester Park, and the Reapers are playing in nearby White Deer. The Rebels will be trying to make their season record 6-3 at Dalhart.

The Shocker game here should be a real wide-open affair. The Monterey team they're playing has been beaten just once in two years, and they've been scoring at a clip of between six and ten touchdowns per game. The Shockers will really have their hands full.

Boxing, and a Banquet

Ever feel like punching someone in the nose?

Just about any lad in Pampa can do that, legally, just by joining Olie Wilhelm's boxing program. But not too many boys have taken advantage of the opportunity so far. Wilhelm's lads, in former years, have done a mighty fine job of punching other boxers in the nose, on the chin, and just about everywhere else. They've wrapped up just about every regional and district Golden Gloves title in sight, and have done pretty good in some of the state meets too.

Wilhelm has been coaching young boxers from Pampa for the past twelve years, and in that time he's built up a record just as impressive as the won-lost advantage of his boxers. None of his boxers have ever suffered a serious injury.

Such a record speaks well of the conditioning and training of Wilhelm's boxers. It also shows that boxing is no more dangerous than any other sport.

There's room for boys of any weight or experience on Wilhelm's boxing teams. He has a lot of good fighters in the fold, but the beginners won't be competing against them. They'll be going against boys of their own weight and experience.

Everybody likes to play for a winner, so the boxing teams should have more eager candidates than they know what to do with. The Pampa boxing teams have almost always been big winners. So far, though, the boys have been slow coming in to work out.

Whassamatter with you guys? Don't you like to win? Don't you like to fight? If you do, go down to Optimist Boys Club and sign up for boxing. Don't just stand there, hit somebody!

Tickets are on sale for the Harvester-Shocker football banquet, but they won't be for long, according to Quarterback Club President Charlie Robison.

Robison says that about 500 tickets will be sold to the general public, but that according to Tuesday's banquet at the interest-day's quarterback club meeting, half of them are probably gone already.

The banquet will be held Thursday, Dec. 4 in Lee Junior High Cafeteria. Tickets well for $2.50 per plate. O. B. Worley at Cabot Company is in charge of ticket sales, but several other quarterback club members are also selling the du.

Ed Dudley Out For Season

Just as Ed Dudley comes into his own at A&M, Pow! He gets hurt and is knocked out for the rest of the season. To make matters worse, he got hurt not in a game, or a heavy scrimmage, but in a "dummy" scrimmage.

Dudley, who has sparked the A&M attack for the past three or four games, had a knee ligation torn. The injury couldn't have happened at a worse time for the Aggies, because they'd been counting on him to carry the backfield load this weekend. Charlie Milstead, the Aggies' number one tailback for most of the year, is also ailing, so they'll have to depend on sophomores to replace both Milstead and Dudley.

Ed had really been going strong the past three games. He put the Aggies back into the ball game three weeks ago against Baylor by engineering two touchdown marches in the late third and early fourth quarters.

The next week, against Arkansas

Garren, Wife Make Hole-in-One Within 20 Hours

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Garren both shot holes-in-one this week at Pampa Country Club, within a 20-hour period.

Garren aced the 25-yard number 17 hole Tuesday at about 4:30 p. m., using an 8 iron. Mrs. Garren (Betty) made a hole-in-one on the 90-yard number 7 hole, using a 7 iron, at 11:30 a. m. Wednesday.

A hole-in-one is something many golfers go a lifetime without getting. For a husband and wife to both make one, on the same course, within a 24-hour period, is at least a million-to-one shot.

"I've always been trying to outdo my wife at golf," said Garren Wednesday, "and I thought I'd succeeded when I made that hole-in-one. Now I guess I'll never make it."

Garren was playing with George Hofess, Scott Hatcher, Loyal Davies and Bill Davis. Mrs. Garren was in a threesome with Mrs. Ellen Campaigne and Barbara Dobbin.

Neither Garren had ever shot a hole-in-one before. However, Garren was runnerup in C flight in the men's club tournament, and Betty was consolation C flight runnerup in the women's tournament.

Garren has been playing golf since 1951. Mrs. Garren for the past two years. They live at 2120 Charles Street, in Pampa.

Hart Warren, club pro, said that six holes-in-one have been made at Pampa Country Club this year, and that a total of nine have been made since he took over as pro in 1955.

WD, Perryton Take to Road

Two area District champions close their regular seasons Friday on the road. Perryton is at Shamrock and White Deer at Memphis.

Neither champ is expected to have much trouble in its final game before the bi-district playoffs. Shamrock is in the cellar in 5-AA and Memphis is in the 2-A basement.

White Deer has breezed to eight victories, against one tie and no defeats over the entire season. The Bucks have a 5-0 mark in district play, and have scored 163 points to 34 for their district opponents.

Memphis has lost nine straight games, including five in district play. The Cyclones have been outscored 365 to 44 over the season and 202 to 18 in District 2-A.

Perryton has captured three straight district wins, and has lost only to tough Dumas and Phillips. The Rangers have outscored their opponents 254 to 102.

Shamrock has lost its three district games, and has a 2-7 record for the season. The Irish have been outscored 342 to 146 by their combined opponents.

FIGHTER OF YEAR
NEWARK, N. J. (UPI)—Welterweight Gene Armstrong of Elizabeth has been named the state's fighter of the year by the New Jersey Boxing Writers Association. Vince Martinez of Paterson won the award in 1957.

Three Squads Close Season

The Shockers close their season here this afternoon, and the two junior high football squads end their seasons on the road.

The Shockers play host to Monterey B team, winner of 18 of its last 19 games, at 3:45 p.m. in Harvester Park. Pampa Junior High's Reapers travel to White Deer to meet White Deer B team at 3:30 p.m.

Lee Junior High's Rebels, who have a 5-3 record for the season (the same as the Shockers) play Dalhart Junior High School at 3:30 p.m. in Dalhart.

he scored the only touchdown as A&M went down to defeat. Then last week, he had one of his best days against SMU, even though the Mustangs trounced the Aggies 33-0.

Dudley completed 11 of 17 passes for 148 yards against the Mustangs.

It's a tragic end for the college career of the Pampa speedster. After three years of obscurity, he blossoms into a star — then he's hurt in a dummy scrimmage. That's not the way Cinderella stories are supposed to end, but then life is no fairy tale.

Out Of The Past

Whatever Happened To... JOHNNY MOWERS

United Press International

John A. Mowers generally is rated the best of the Detroit Red Wing goalies in the days before and during part of World War II. He hit the peak of greatness on successive nights on April 7-8 in 1943 when he shut out the Boston Bruins twice on Boston ice to lead the Red Wings to the Stanley Cup. That year Mowers won the Vezina Trophy.

Whatever happened to Johnny Mowers? At 41, he has settled in Detroit where he is an insurance representative for the Automobile Club of Detroit.

Learning Of Freedom

A well-known conservative economist has written to suggest that we must call on the government to make our decisions for us in the areas where we are not capable of self-determination.

The single requirement of our economist friend is that this insurance must be written by private companies. He objects to social security as it is presently handled.

What he is saying, though not in so many words, is that people are too dumb to look after themselves.

We are reminded of a speech by Carl Schurz which appears in a book published back in 1865, in which he said:

"It is an old dodge of the advocates of despotism through the world, that the people who are not experienced in self-government, are not fit for the exercise of self-government, and must first be educated under the rule of a superior authority."

This is analogous to the care evinced by the doting mother who ordered her daughter to go swimming by hanging her clothes on a hickory limb, but by staying away from the water.

It is the same with freedom. There are so many among us at present who have such grave doubts about every other person's ability.

So, on every hand we are counseled that we must learn about freedom before we can be worthy of freedom.

The facts of life and of nature oppose his aim. People are individuals. They are born free.

Most of these editors, like most teachers and parents, have been trained in state colleges or even private colleges that are under the control of the state.

If we would change the trend we must not try to do it a month or so before the election, but the price of liberty is eternal vigilance.

The election is worth all it cost because it shows how few people believe in voluntarism. That people should get what they get by benefiting those from whom they get and not get it by use or threats of using aggressive force by way of the government.

The election should warn us that we better spend more time trying to stop the growth of Communism in the United States rather than in the rest of the world.

In so brief a space as this we cannot even begin to cite specific instances which require your own personal examination.

Dr. Root has performed an even more noble task than his already popular and controversial "Communism on the Campus" has done.

We would like to see other times attempted which analyze the far-famed "social studies" texts which have so largely lumped geography, civics, history, Emily Post and 6-year-old psychology into a lymphatic mass of goo.

In any case, we strongly recommend "Brainwashing in the High Schools." Advance orders are now being received by the publisher.

BETTER JOBS

Election Shows How Collectivist We Are

It seems to me it was a good thing that six states had a right-to-work initiative on their ballots.

The election gave voters an opportunity to think about labor unions and collective bargaining.

Evidently most people believe that labor unions are the cause of our high standard of living; that labor unions can increase total wages.

It seems to me that the results of this election on right to work is a natural result of what we are doing.

These people who have been reading the textbooks on civics in both public and private schools and colleges can see why so many people believe in economic miracles.

I have just been reading a new book "America, Land of Freedom" that is a "must" book in every eighth grade in California.

The whole book is based on the theory that we can create more wealth by a labor monopoly than we can by the competitive system.

Up to then, it was pretty much out and dried among Senate Republican leaders that Dirksen would succeed to the place being vacated by Senator Knowland.

That is Rayburn's solution of a problem which plagued him recently when he arrived in New York.

That is Rayburn's intention to put one or several "trusted" Democrats on this strategic committee.

That's why Bridges' backstage decision to seek the Senate leadership is causing a furor in inner GOP circles.

He is waging his campaign squarely on his views and record. He is not pusey-footing on that one lota.

One senator, in promising to back Bridges, raised the question of his being chairman of the GOP Policy Committee.

That's a break for Senators-elect Kenneth Keating, N.Y., Hugh Scott, Pa., and Winston Prouty, Vt.

NEW YORK — Having given space to General Electric the other day in its little public with fear and prejudice in communities which could use GE's $4,000,000 package nuclear power plant, let us now give equal time to Westinghouse, which is giving serious attention to mental telepathy in communications for the future.

That opposition won't obstruct Bridges this time. Bricker was not re-elected.

The Nation's Press

AN ENDURING FORCE (Chicago Daily Tribune)

President Eisenhower made an extraordinarily sensible statement at his news conference Wednesday. He was talking about the middle east and his first observation was the plain truth — that this nation, far from being the imperialist aggressor of Mr. Khrushchev's propaganda, did not seek to boss or to own any other nation.

"We have sought sovereignty over no country," the President said. "We have not tried to make any country or any people or any nation subservient to us in any way, politically or thru military force... or thru economic means."

"I believe in nationalism. This administration believes in nationalism. We believe in it for ourselves, and we believe that any nation, any peoples, have the right to their independence. Indeed, it is because of our belief in the spirit of nationalism that we are in Lebanon today, and if the Arabs as a whole, want to express their nationalism in the form of a federation, of a larger state, we have no objections to that.

A statement of this sort is bound to have a calming effect on the disturbed Arab world. If there is a flaw in it, it would lie in the fact that a nation which believes in nationalism for itself and for others would appreciate that nationalism implies the obligation of detachment from the internal affairs of other states.

But that, too, can be explained if one accepts the President's thesis that we sent our forces there at the request of the established government to defend the country against external threats.

What is most unusual about President Eisenhower's declaration of belief in the potency of nationalism as an enduring force in the loyalties and affairs of men is that it accepts as a controlling influence in national policy a philosophy which has been honored by the American government for the last 20 years only in the breach.

Indeed, Mr. Eisenhower himself has always presented the aspect of an internationalist. He viewed as a "crusade" a war in Europe into which the United States was led by hopes and promises which, in their nature, could not be fulfilled.

For, if there is one fact that reason then to defend their own lives and let live, it is the undeniable truth that the only real internationalism in the world today is that of communism.

When this is the naked outline of the only genuine internationalism that exists, nations, if for no other reason than to defend their own existence, must embrace nationalism. It can be hoped that this lesson is beginning to dawn on Washington.

There could be a roster nine miles long of similar occurrences, but it would add nothing to the apparent evidence that I am presenting in this view by the fact that no one I know ever has been called by those who make the polls and this omission over the years seems at least curious.

ITEM: Talking artlessly and idly on a street walk a week or so ago, my agent and I were exchanging the most banal of conversations. You know: how were things, the season looked good, what was new, what'd you know?

That kind of thing. It crossed my mind: "What agent represents Julie Newman? I'll ask him." The thought scarcely was completed when Lester Shurr said, suddenly: "I'm Julie Newman's agent, you know. I'm glad you like her in the show. I think this girl has a great chance to become a star."

These all, and many like them, could be sheer coincidence, since they all happened within a frame of locale and acquaintanceship. Miss Newman had just opened, to glowing notices, in the Boyer-Colbert play, my bride and I do usual and at some time I do usual home and have a snack, Mr. Peck and I exchange messages with reasonable regularity.

But if Dr. Peter A. Castruccio, of Westinghouse and its ESP explorations, is interested these fugitive, sketchy notes are his for the asking.

No black magic is implied or intended.

Hankering

By HENRY McLEMORE

It's A Boon, This 'Come As You Are'

"Come As You Are!" This slogan has replaced Semper Fidelis, E Pluribus Unum, and even Caveat Emptor, as my favorite motto.

It is to be seen — thank Heaven — clear across the United States on signs advertising restaurants, drive-ins, motels, hotels, gas stations, and, in one town we passed through, a funeral home.

"Come As You Are!" What a boon it has been to the Migratory McLeMores, now in their seventh, eighth, or ninth day. I have forgotten which — of driving across country with baby and poodle and sports car — we are sights to behold!

We dare not pause long at traffic lights lest we be picked up as vagrants and set to picking peas, beans, or cotton, or whatever crop is ready for harvest at the spot we are at.

But when an establishment files that happy slogan, "Come As You Are," it cannot back down. It must take what comes through the door, even though the procession is headed by me and brought up by "Charlie."

Only one owner has tried to back down on his invitation, and that that was at a motel in the Texas Panhandle. It was a gorgeous motel, even in land of gorgeous motels. The swimming pool was as hot as the complimentary coffee, the grounds were a miniature of Versailles, and the wall-to-wall carpeting as thick as lemon meringue pies.

When we walked in, the guests in the lobby lounging around the TV, looked like extras from a Cary Grant movie.

We looked like extras from a Bowers Boys' movie. Our clothes bore the dust of a state 80 miles behind, and our eyes the fatigue that comes only with five infant feedings a day.

We carried bottles of syrup, strained vegetables and fruit. We clutched strainers, funnels, powder cans, odd blankets and shawls, cereal boxes and bottle brushes.

The owner, who had the manner of a defrocked count, suggested that we would be happier at a tourist court four miles farther down the road.

"The cottages are separate," he said, "and you and your family can be alone and apart and by yourselves."

But even as he said it, I could see frost in his eyes. For too many frigid, dirty, forlorn looking Texans, have turned out to be millionaires, and have bought out all places that sprung them.

We got in, but as we entered our door I saw the help running down the motel flag to half mast.

We had no more than settled ourselves than the manager called and asked if we had noticed that we had a TV set right in the room, and so wouldn't he have to bother ourselves to come to the lobby. Also, that as he could see we were tired, he would be glad to serve us dinner in our room.

A little bit obvious, but also very convenient.

Eddie Will Let Debbie File Suit

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Singer Eddie Fisher, 30, plans to let his wife, actress Debbie Reynolds, 26, file for divorce.

Attorney Martin Gang, Fisher's attorney, denied reports the young singer would seek a "quickie" Mexican divorce in order to marry actress Elizabeth Taylor, 26.

Fisher has said from the start that he would wait for Miss Reynolds to initiate the divorce action, Gang said. "There has been absolutely no change in plans."

It was not known when Miss Reynolds would begin divorce proceedings, Gang said.
