The wardrobe of a well-dressed gentledog is demonstrated by Monsieur Boutique in his Cleveland, Ohio, hotel suite. First, there's the warm turtle-neck sweater he's wearing. There are the royal blue velvet lounging robe trimmed with mink cuffs and collar, a plaid raincoat, leather winter coat, and a mink coat (for which you can pay as much as $1000 for the standard-sized poodle—Boutique is a toy poodle). At left is a luscious nylon bone impregnated with the scent of ham.

Turnback Orders Given By US Army If Roads Blocked

NIXON TELLS WEST US WON'T BUDGE!

By NORMAN RUNNION
United Press International

LONDON (UPI) — Vice President Richard Nixon bluntly told the West today that the Communist world in Berlin until an acceptable solution to the city's problems is reached.

Speaking at a luncheon of the Pilgrims Society, a British-American group dedicated to "furthering closer friendship between the two nations," Nixon warned against faltering in the face of Red challenges.

"The lesson of history is clear," Nixon said in the speech which marked the first formal event of his four-day good will visit to this country. His program got off to a delayed start when his plane from Washington ran headlong into a London fog and was diverted to another airfield 30 miles away.

"Rewarding aggression does not stop it," the vice president said. "It only encourages more aggression in the future."

Disrupts Red Plans
Despite the night change in plans that caused the Nixon party to land at Gatwick, take a train to London, and hastily adjourn to the Savoy Hotel for the Pilgrims luncheon, it had another good side. It disrupted any plans the Communists might have had for staging a threatened anti-American demonstration at London Airport.

As it was, the Nixons were welcomed at Victoria Station by a small crowd of onlookers and a large group of newsmen. The vice president waved and smiled and quipped that "We have smog in California, too."

Nixon postponed scheduled protocol stops at Buckingham Palace and the town house of the Queen Mother to go directly to the Pilgrims luncheon.

Scotland Yard has been alerted to deal with any repetition of the Red-led mob violence which greeted the vice president on his tour of Latin America last spring.

The Communists have scheduled a mass meeting and a "march on the U.S. Embassy" tonight.

Recall Ridgway Visit
The last American to be honored by such a bristlingly hostile reception from the Reds here was Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, then allied supreme commander in Europe.

"We can't prevent the Communist meeting, but we will watch it closely to make certain it doesn't get out of hand," a Scotland Yard spokesman said. "We wouldn't want any unpleasant incidents while Nixon is in England."

British police in uniform and plainclothes are certain to be on hand throughout Nixon's visit, but the spokesman said so far as he knows Britain will furnish no bodyguards for Nixon as such.

The vice president will be guarded by a Secret Service detail which accompanied him from Washington.

Addresses Pilgrim Society
Nixon came here to represent President Eisenhower at the dedication of an American war memorial chapel. He is to meet both government and opposition leaders during his stay.

"He made his first appearance today at a luncheon given for him by the Pilgrim Society, where he reaffirmed Anglo-American determination to stand firm in Berlin and declared that the Kremlin could make "no greater misc-

On Berlin Borders By Commie Guard

By WELLINGTON LONG
United Press International

BERLIN (UPI)—The U. S. Army issued orders today for all American civilian and military road traffic to or from Berlin to turn back if they found any border checkpoints manned by East German Communist guards.

The order was issued in anticipation of any move by the Soviet Union to withdraw its own troops now manning the checkpoints and turn them over to East German authorities, as Moscow indicated it would do.

It made clear that the West was determined not to submit in any way to attempts to exercise authority by the East German regime, which is not recognized by the United States, Britain or France.

The order was issued in preparation for the transfer of Soviet occupation functions to the East German government in a move to force western recognition of the Communist zone government.

East German Communist leader Walter Ulbricht predicted today the Soviet Union would announce such a transfer by the end of the week.

The Army said American traffic to and from isolated Berlin by road or rail will submit only to the customary controls exercised in the past by Soviet guards at border checkpoints.

Western diplomatic circles had expressed belief the Russians may be having second thoughts about precipitating a major crisis, but the Army's action today showed it was preparing for one.

The order said individual Americans driving to or from Berlin by automobile must turn back if East German Communist police are manning checkpoints in place of the Soviets.

The same order was given to military traffic.

By the order the Army served notice it will not recognize the East German claim it may control western traffic passing through East Germany.

Soviet diplomats in Germany today supported Ulbricht's stand that the only way the West can avoid a new blockade is to negotiate directly with the Communist regime.

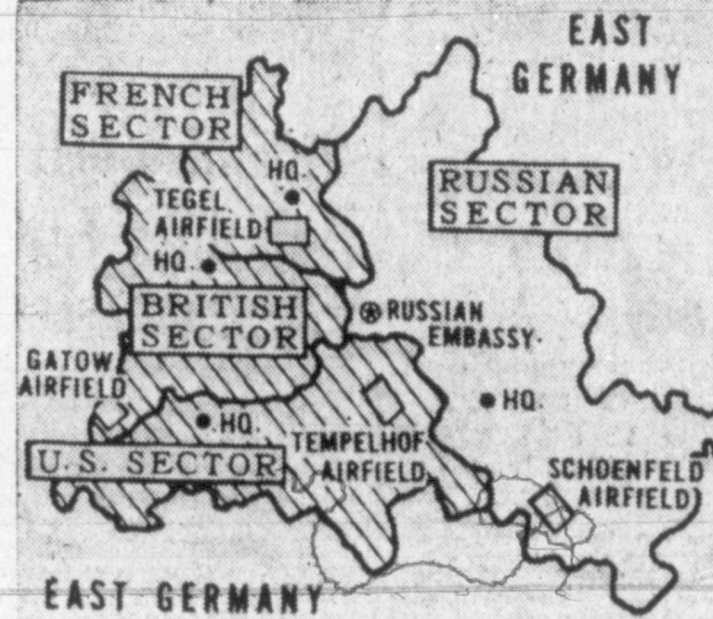

Asked what would happen if the West refuses to reach such agreements with the East Germans, one Soviet diplomat said, "That is a good question."

Ulbricht outlined for a London newspaper the price the West would have to pay to avoid a new Berlin blockade — negotiations with the East German government. His statements were trumpeted by newspapers, radio, television, newsreel and every means of propaganda at his disposal.

He said he thought the 7,500-man American, British and French garrison in free Berlin must go. He said as long as it remains the price the Allies must pay is full recognition of the East German government and its right to grant or withhold permission for supplies to be carried into the city.

Ulbricht dismissed as a "grue-

ON AMERICAN AIRLINES

Despite Federal Court Order Pilots Set Big Walk Out

United Press International

A federal judge issued a temporary order against a threatened pilots strike on American Airlines, third of the major air carriers beset by labor troubles, but a spokesman for the pilots' union said tonight's walkout deadline remained in force for the time being.

Two major lines, Eastern and Trans World, were grounded and their planes silent instead of warming up for the Thanksgiving rush. The strike of the Air Line Pilots Assn. against American, in a long wage dispute, was set for a minute before midnight.

U.S. District Judge Frederick Bryan Monday night signed a temporary restraining order in New York to halt the threatened walkout by 1,491 pilots.

On the surface it eased the situation, but at Chicago a spokesman at pilots' headquarters said no official of the ALPA had been served with legal notice, that the strike deadline remained, the pilots were ignorant of the terms of the order, and that not until formal notice was received would he be decided what the pilots would do.

"Other developments in one of the severest outbreaks of labor trouble to hit the airline industry included:

—Eastern Airlines grounded the last of its planes late Monday following twin strikes by 600 engineers and 6,000 mechanics.

—Trans World Airlines was strike bound for a fifth day by a walkout of 6,700 machinists. No progress was reported in negotiations with federal mediators at the carrier's headquarters in Kansas City.

Stewardesses Hopetful
—Lake Central Airlines continued service despite the industry's first strike by stewardesses. However, the stewardesses were hopeful pilots would refuse to cross their picket lines today, thereby halting operations.

—West Coast Airlines was expected to resume full operations in a day or two after an agreement was reached to end a strike by mechanics. Mechanics for Pacific Airlines set a Dec. 2 strike deadline in negotiations for a new contract.

The strikes against Eastern, the nation's biggest air carrier last year, and TWA idled about 700 planes, or approximately one-third of the country's domestic airliners.

The Air Transport Association said the strikes, coming during the holiday week, could upset travel plans for an estimated 150,000 persons.

Judge Bryan's temporary order restraining a strike by pilots against American is returnable in court Friday morning. In the meantime, Leverett Edwards, chairman of the National Negotiation Board, arrived in Chicago to try to arrange new meetings between American and the Air

Two States Are Hit By Blizzard; Midwest Next

United Press International

A blizzard piled road-blocking drifts across parts of Montana and North Dakota Tuesday and weathermen warned of heavy snows expected in Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan.

A cold wave surging southeastward from the Yukon plunged readings to near zero in northern Montana during the night. Cold wave warnings were issued for North Dakota and Wyoming and the plains states into northwest Kansas.

The blizzard dropped readings as much as 40 degrees in one half hour in Montana Monday and dumped an average of six to eight inches of snow across the state.

Winds up to 50 miles per hour scopped the snow into drifts, forcing schools to close, snarling traffic and isolating an Air Force radar outpost north of Cutbank, Mont. However, officers said the 250 men stationed at the 681st Air Control and Warning Squadron base had sufficient rations on hand to prevent hardships.

Temperatures Skid
Helena, Mont., reported temperatures skidded from 38 degrees to 18 in a half-hour period Monday. As the storm moved eastward, it blocked highways in the southwestern part of North Dakota and cut visibility in the area to about one-fourth mile.

Another band of stormy weather hit the northeast Monday, bringing cold air into the mountains of New England, New York and western Pennsylvania. Two inches of snow fell at Massena, N.Y., and snow flurries persisted early Tuesday in central New York.

To the south of the western storm, a warming trend occurred from the southwest to the upper Mississippi Valley, while cooler temperatures overspread the eastern third of the nation.

Warn Stockmen
Weathermen warned that as the storm drives eastward during the day, additional snow depths of up to four inches could be expected in the upper Midwest along with high winds.

Stockmen in Colorado were advised to take precautions against locally severe blowing snow, with winds up to 60 miles an hour, and cold wave conditions.

In Utah, Air Force searchers Monday found the frozen body of the last of eight men who parachuted from a disabled plane near Huntsville 11 days ago. An Air Force helicopter pilot spotted the body of Capt. Donald Liggett, 40, Indianapolis, wrapped in his parachute. Four of the men who bailed out of the plane during a snow storm died of exposure, and four others were rescued.

Thick fog rolled across the southern California coast Monday, causing an estimated 100 or more traffic accidents in beach cities and in the Los Angeles area, including one fatal highway crash.

Two Anti-Red Revolts Are Reported

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — Nationalist Chinese sources claimed today that villagers on the mainland opposite Quemoy staged two anti-Communist revolts recently when they believed Nationalist troops were landing from Formosa.

Communist troops, however, rushed to the scene and sprayed the rebelling townspeople with machine gun fire that killed about 500 persons, the sources said. They estimated 50 Chinese Communist troops were killed in one of the uprisings.

Mainland troops today resumed their alternate day firing at Quemoy. The Nationalist ministry said 201 Communist shells had fallen on the offshore islands up to noon.

The Nationalist sources said an uprising was touched off last Sept. 23 by Nationalist artillery fire from Quemoy.

They said the bombardment destroyed several Red gun emplacements and killed and wounded scores of Communist troops. The surviving troops withdrew to the village of Liu Wu Tien.

They said the villagers thought the soldiers were retreating in the face of a Nationalist landing and immediately attacked the Red soldiers, killing about 50 of them.

Red reinforcements later surrounded the village and shot 200 persons to death with machine guns.

The sources said a similar revolt occurred early last month near Chenli. In this instance, they said, the communists were on maneuvers and were retreating from a mock Nationalist invasion.

The villagers thought it was the real thing and attacked the soldiers. Again military reinforcements were summoned, and this time they killed 300 persons, the sources said.

Two Pampa Men Killed In Crash

GROOM (SpI) — Two Pampa men died when a Ford pickup truck in which they were riding crashed into a Rock Island train at Jericho, 10 miles east of here.

The dead are: Boyd Bennett, 43; and Leland Dorman, 20. They are employees of Groninger & King Pipeline Company, Pampa.

A third man, Don Gallaher, 20, survived the crash. A Clarendon veterinarian, Charles E. Deyhle, took Gallaher to Groom Hospital. Gallaher was badly bruised, but his condition is not considered critical.

The men were returning from Sonora in a company truck when they hit the train. The tragedy occurred at 11 p.m. Monday.

Mr. Bennett is survived by a wife and two children. Mr. Dorman was unmarried. Funeral arrangements are pending with Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home, Pampa.

Mr. Bennett, 811 E. Locust, lived in Pampa for 24 years. He was a foreman for Groninger & King. He was a member of Pampa Lodge 966 AF & AM, Royal Neighbors and Eastern Star.

He is survived by his wife Maxine and two sons, Boyd and Donald of Pampa, three brothers, Roy, Troy and Eugene of Pampa and three sisters, Mrs. Naidine Morse, Mrs. Bobby Moore and Mrs. Evadene Herring of Pampa.

Mr. Dorman, 619 S. Ballard, was born in Skellytown and lived in Pampa 20 years. He was a Groninger & King pipeline worker and a member of the Marine Reserve Corp and Calvary Baptist Church.

He is survived by his father and stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Dorman of Pampa and his mother Mrs. Ruby Smertley of Sun Valley, Calif.; and a sister, Mrs. Juanita Farmer of Los Angeles, Calif.

Man Keeps Auto For 'A Trial Run'

A 1956 Chevrolet was stolen from the Rex Rose used car lot, 300 E. Foster, Monday by a young man who told the salesman he wished to buy the car but first wanted "a trial run around the block."

Salesmen, busy with other customers, let the man take the car, Canary Carruth, one of the salesmen, phoned police the man never returned.

Carruth described the man as about 21, 5 feet, 8 inches tall, and about 165 pounds. The car is a two-door BelAir, light blue bottom and white top. It carries 1958 Texas plates AV 6779.

GAS PIPELINE CRACKED; TRAFFIC IS RE-ROUTED

Members of the Pampa and Borger Highway Patrols sped to a danger area east of Borger Monday where a butane liquid gas pipeline had been cracked open. Traffic was re-routed through Phillips.

Pending the arrival of a machine from Hobbs, N.M., it is expected that the break will be closed today.

At 3:30 p.m. Monday a road grader cracked the pipeline, setting butane and propane vapors adrift. The Hutchinson County Sheriff's Department, the Highway Patrol and the State Highway Maintenance Department moved in to re-route traffic out of the danger area.

Phillips workers were able to shut off the flow of gas at 9:30 p.m.

Ten patrol cars blocked off a mile and a half of the road as gusts of vapor fogged Highway 152. The vapor could easily have become ignited, Highway Patrol Sgt. E. G. Albers of Pampa observed. Hence, the reroute.

FORMER RED AMBASSADOR DIES

MOSCOW (UPI) — The official Tass news agency today announced the death of Deputy Foreign Minister Georgi Zarubin, 58, former ambassador to the United States, Great Britain and Canada.

The report said Zarubin died Monday "after a serious illness." The 43-word statement broadcast in Russian did not disclose the nature of the illness.

In Washington, Soviet embassy sources said they understood Zarubin had been suffering from lung cancer.

The death was announced with "profound regret by the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union and the U.S.S.R. Council of Ministers."

Chief Lauds Radar; Requests Hobart Speed Limits Hiked

By MARVIN OLSEN
Daily News Staff Writer

Police Chief Jim Conner, in a report to Pampa City Commissioners this morning, credited a recently acquired radar unit with a "substantial reduction in Pampa's accident record the past two months."

Conner said that before the radar unit was started here, there were only two less accidents in Pampa than during a corresponding period in 1957. Since mid-October the accident rate has dropped quickly, he added. Through Oct. 24 there were 475 reportable accidents in Pampa, compared to 506 last year at the same date.

The commission also heard Conner's request that speed limits on North Hobart and Brown streets be raised from 30 miles per hour to 35 or 40. Zones around Highland General hospital and Horace Mann school would be lowered.

Commissioners generally were cautious about increasing speed limits. Mayor Lynn Boyd, however, said the idea had merit and felt an increase to 35 would do no harm. Commissioner Ed Myatt said he would "hesitate to vote for any increase."

Speed recommendations are presently before the Traffic Commission. It was felt by all present that some speed adjustments are necessary, especially near Horace Mann where traffic signs are "easily overlooked."

Following Conner's report the Commission approved without dissent a plan of a four-block addition to Country Club Heights. The plan had been given verbal approval two weeks previously pending written approval from the F.H.A. Most homes in the addition are F.H.A.

The Commission also voted to annex almost two blocks of the Jarvis-Sone West Addition. Annexed were the west half of blocks 21 and 22, and the east half of block 23 and 24.

In other business the Commission set Jan. 6 as a bid date for a new water and sewer pipes which will be installed in a number of additions presently inside city limits.

Commissioners also heard a request from Jiggs Cook, director of Pampa Public Works, to let workmen begin cleaning a 3 million gallon water tank on Hobart St. near pump station No. 3. Cook said the tank is "nearly empty now" and is in urgent need of repair.

COUNTY OFFICE BUILDING SET

A county office building, with an estimated price tag of $55,000, is tentatively planned for construction in the near future on land east of Pampa on the Miami highway. County Judge Bruce Parker revealed this morning.

The building, a multi-purpose structure measuring 40 by 200 feet, will be built on a tract 450 by 583 feet, next to the County Barns, precinct 20, according to plans heard this morning by Pampa City Commissioners.

Commissioners were requested by the county to give their approval to sale or lease of the land for the building site. The land is currently under lease to the Rodeo Association. The Commission gave its approval pending similar approval from Washington, D.C. and the Rodeo Association.

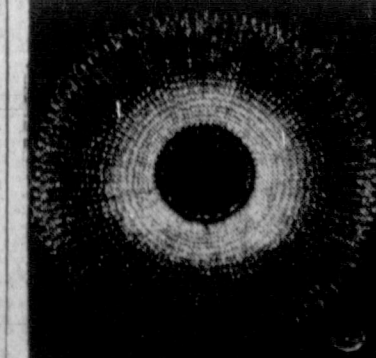

The land is an old W.P.A. project and needs a federal "O.K." The Rodeo Association presently holds a five-year lease on the land, and an option on another five-year lease.

At press time today limited information was available, but it is expected the county agricultural offices will be moved into the proposed building.

Judge Parker and County Commissioner "Nat" Lunsford, however, both stress that the building will have many purposes. It will house an auditorium and a kitchen with ample facilities for meetings and other public uses.

Judge Parker said bids will be sought on the building as soon as approval of a lease is given. It is hoped the building's cost can be paid from a "surplus of county funds," county commissioners said.

Winners To Get Cups

The Pampa Chamber of Commerce will furnish 24 loving cups for the Home Decorating Contest this year, Chamber Manager E. O. Wedgeworth told a Pampa Garden Club Committee Monday.

The cups will be given in four categories: Complete House Decorations, Window or Door Decorations, Religious Theme and Non-Religious Theme. Judging will begin Dec. 23 at 7 p.m.

For the judging, the City will be divided into six districts with at least two judges to a district. Judging points will be General Appearance and Beauty, 30 per cent; Relationship to Christmas Theme, 25 per cent; Originality and Work Involved, 25 per cent.

The following Garden Clubbers met with Wedgeworth: Mmes. W. A. Breining, Thelma Eray, Loyse Caldwell, Carl Axleson, Martin Stubbs, C. C. Matheny and Ervin Pursley.

Jordan Will Speak To Night Kiwanians

Sheriff Rufe Jordan will speak at the Top O' Texas Kiwanis Club meeting tonight, Charlie Cross, president, announced. Jordan will talk on Boys Ranch, an institution near Amarillo.

Boys Ranch is largely supported by the United Peace officers of which Jordan is a member. The Sheriff, a member of the Noon Lions Club, is expected to show a Boys Ranch film made by the United Peace Officers.

Also the Club will hold a second reading of nominee list. Listed are nominations for officers and board members. The group will meet at 7 p.m. in the Parish Hall of St. Mathew's Episcopal Church.

Christian Scientists Announce Service

Spontaneous expressions of gratitude for God's goodness will be featured at a Thanksgiving service announced by First Church of Christ Scientist, 901 N. Frost for 10 a.m. on Thanksgiving Day.

The special service is open to the public and local church members have invited everyone to attend.

A lesson-sermon for the day entitled "Thanksgiving" will emphasize the importance of living one's gratitude to God. To be read in all Christian Science churches, the lesson-sermon will consist of selections from the King James Version of the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

Testimonies from the floor will include gratitude for spiritual growth, physical healing and other blessings.

Engineers Will Watch Rubber Film

A film dealing with the synthetic rubber industry will be shown tonight at the November meeting of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers. Meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at Sam Houston Junior high school, Borger.

The film produced by the Rubber Reserve Branch of the R.F.C., presents the development of the nation's synthetic rubber industry from the early '30s to the World War II period.

Publicity Chairman J. B. Wallace reports tonight's business meeting will be of special importance because of upcoming nominations for local section officers for 1959. Nominations may be made from the floor. Refreshments will be served.

Even Newer from Behind the Wheel!

Oddly as you've seen the new 1959 Cadillac by now—perhaps sweeping regally past you on the boulevard... perhaps making its majestic arrival at a fine club or hotel. And odds are, too, that you've wondered if this 1959 "car of cars" could be as superlative in performance as it is in appearance.

Well, once you've found out for yourself, we think the truth will very likely amaze you. For this Cadillac is even newer from behind the wheel! You will sense it, in fact, the moment you hear the whisper-quiet response of its great new engine.

And your sentiment will grow to conviction as you discover the other wonders of Cadillac's new performance... responsiveness so immediate and so silken in every driving range that it is difficult to believe... handling ease so remarkable that you follow the curves and corners with the lightest imaginable movement of hand and wheel... a quality of ride so smooth and level and quiet that even the byways travel like boulevards.

Indeed, the evidence will be overwhelming—a journey at its wheel is the world's most glorious interval between start and stop.

And the proof of all this is no farther away than your nearest authorized Cadillac dealer. He'll be delighted to make you his guest—to explain the virtues of each of Cadillac's thirteen new Fleetwood-crafted models, including the fabulous new Eldorado Brougham—and to let you take the wheel for yourself.

If you enjoy the fun of making some of your Christmas decorations, it's time to start thinking of what you'll do this year.

New ways to put Christmas cards on display are usually welcome. Cards don't have to be propped up along the mantel like so many pieces of wood.

One new method is to use a wall hanging of glitter cloth with ribbon pockets, each embroidered with international holiday greetings.

This isn't expensive or difficult to make and it forms a sparkling frame for multicolored cards.

I wanted to make one this year to dress a narrow wall space between two windows, but the dimensions can be varied to suit the space you want to fill.

If you want to keep costs down, use the glitter fabric you can usually find at florists; for a hanging that will last longer without shedding its sparkle, use metallic cloth.

IN THE SAMPLE made for us by Martha Blair, director of the Pfaff Sewing Institute, two-thirds of a yard of 36-inch-wide glitter fabric is used. This is backed by a like-size piece of peltex for firmness.

Red grograin ribbon, two inches wide, is used for pockets to hold the cards.

Cut the ribbon into lengths to fit the width of the hanging. On each length, draw or trace the holiday messages: "Merry Christmas," "Felices Pascuas" (Spanish), "Joyeux Noel" (French).

Embroider each greeting in white or silver thread.

If you have an automatic sewing machine, satin-stitch the words. Sew each ribbon to the fabric along its lower edge, to form long, snail-like pockets. Brace pockets with two or three vertically stitched rows across each pocket.

Dieter Who Wins Stirs Up Jealousy

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

At a gathering of women the other day, a friend who had just successfully shed 15 pounds on a diet became upset at remarks made by another friend.

The second woman remarked that she couldn't see why she had bothered to lose all that weight since she had looked much better before she dieted. What the dieter failed to take into account was that her friend is about 40 pounds overweight herself and therefore not a reliable source of opinion.

In dieting or changing a hairdo or switching to a new fashion color, it doesn't pay to lean too heavily on the opinion of friends. Often, they are colored by personal feeling. The fatty was made uncomfortable by the fact that her friend had disciplined herself sufficiently to take off weight while she herself was still waddling about.

But she couldn't bring herself to say so. Rather, she took out her discomfort in criticism.

The woman who has her hair set in a beauty salon week after week without giving a thought to hair health is headed for trouble. Trouble may come in the form of dry, lifeless hair, thin hair, limp hair or actual baldness.

For while beauty salons do an excellent job of cutting and styling, many of them are not set up to give hair treatments and therefore do not suggest them.

A hot dryer is hard on your hair, no doubt about it. So is bleaching. So are temperature changes or large doses of sun or an inadequate diet.

The salon that undertakes hair treatments will emphasize the importance of circulation to a healthy scalp and subsequently, healthy and beautiful hair. So, by all means, have your hair done each week but don't neglect treatments if you need them.

A sleeping pill is not the way to beauty. If you have trouble sleeping at night, don't form this insidious habit. Instead, cut down on your nighttime activities.

Give up the late movies on television, cut down on coffee, take a hot bath to soak out tension and drink a glass of warm milk. See to it that your bedroom is both dark and quiet.

These simpler remedies actually do work if they're given a chance. And the sleep that results is more healthful and therefore more beneficial to your good looks.

To hang, turn a small open hem at the top and insert a dowel rod. Tie a silver cord to each end.

THE FLOOD of Christmas mail, small packages and cards alike, can pile up in untidy disarray on a hall table. An idea for organizing the confusion in the decorative and practical manner is the brainchild of Mary West, an inventive stylist for a large Chicago gift-wrapping manufacturer, Chicago Printed String.

She takes an ordinary dishdrainer and weaves multicolored ribbons around the sides, twisting them together at the corners. The satin-shed of the ribbons catches and reflects the light, the brighter the colors the better.

The separations for dishes laid sorted mail upright and neat.

The same thing could be done to an openwork plastic clothes basket if you need a larger container for gift boxes.

Miss West also suggests saving aluminum foil pans from frozen foods or mixes. Of those, she makes bright ornaments.

Two shallow, oblong baking pans, for example, cut in tree shapes and notched so one alder at right angles over the other, or trimmed with tiny, tightly grained ribbon circles at each "branch" tip.

The result: a shining decoration that resembles one of the polished Mexican tin ornaments.

You can cut star shapes from foil baking pans or tie two small ones together with ribbon bows and bells to make tree ornaments.

Hang a "kissing ring" in a well-traveled spot. Embroidery hoops, wrapped in ribbon and set one inside the other at right angles, can be put to this use.

Pretty them with lavish tulle and ribbon bows. Don't forget the necessary sprig of mistletoe for the center.

A Thanksgiving luncheon was planned for Tuesday, Nov. 25, in the Hill Plains Cafe. After which members will go to the home of Mrs. John Hamlyn for Canasta and "42".

Mrs. M. Fletcher, home demonstration agent, presented a program on "Farmstead Safety" and "Sanitation in Home Grounds Testing Water."

Nine members answered roll call with an idea for a Thanksgiving dinner. Present were Mrs. V. J. Casika, A. M. Giesler, Leroy Allen and Gene Winegart.

The next meeting will be on Dec. 2 at 1:30 at which time the Christmas party will be planned.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband is having an affair with a widow who lives right across the street. I see with my very own eyes when he passes her house he blinks his lights and she flips her Venetian blinds. They signal back and forth and then he makes up excuses to get out of the house to meet her. He says they are only good friends, but I know that she is man-hungry and not at all fussy who she goes with and she likes my husband. How should I put a stop to this?

Dear Jealous: You can't stop a man from blinking his lights, neither can you prevent a woman from flipping her Venetian blinds. If you think he is "blinking" for her and she is "flipping" for him — get them both together and have a turtur or consequence session.

DEAR ABBY: We have a friend who is a wonderful person, but she has the strangest cough, which to us sounds like T.B. We knew someone who had T.B. and the coughs sound identical. I know we are not doctors but we would like to find out for sure because this person visits us often and eats and drinks from our cups and plates. We also have little children around and this bothers us. We hate to hurt her feelings, but how can we find out?

Dear Concerned: Tell your friend at once that she should contact her local TUBERCULOSIS ASSOCIATION. They will examine her free of charge and there will be no guessing about her condition. If she does have T.B. you would be doing her a tremendous favor — and if she doesn't she will be happy to know she is well.

DEAR ABBY: Whoever started the "ethical" idea that the male should pay the way for a girl on the date? The girls enjoy it as much as the fellows and in some cases are better able to pay for it. If it weren't for the silly rules set years ago, the girls would be tickled to death to ask the fellows and pay the tab. Now, what do you say to that?

RON AND PETE

Dear Ron and Pete: The male reserves the privilege of "hunting," choosing and asking. The female must wait to be discovered, chosen and asked. The male can pay for this privilege.

DEAR ABBY: I haven't been married six months yet and I'm having a terrible problem with my husband. I am 19 and he is 27 and he is insanely jealous of me for no reason at all. He accuses me of encouraging the delivery men or any neighbors I happen to smile at. He is even jealous of my own brother and says he doesn't want him around here unless he is home. I'll take truth serum or even go to the police station and let them give me a test on the lie-detecting machine. I'll do anything you say to prove I am a faithful wife. I can't take any more of his jealousy. Please help me.

Dear Faithful: Your HUSBAND has the problem. Constant false accusations are symptoms of a sick mind. He should see a doctor.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ABBY: It takes two to tango. Sit this one out!

Christmas Gifts Discussed By Club

Goodwill Home Demonstration Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Lewis Epps, 1906 Duncanson. Mrs. A. P. Coombes, president, opened the business meeting with the club prayer. Roll call was answered by each member telling what she wanted for Christmas.

The project of having Secret Pals was discussed favorably.

Mrs. Tom Haggard presented a program on "Making Accessories To Match Garments." She said the purpose of home demonstration training was to create with materials at home. She demonstrated making a matching purse and hat. For the purse, she used cardboard, lined the inside and covered the outside with a fabric which matched a dress; the handles of the purse were those from a discarded purse. Mrs. Haggard created the hat using as the base, cardboard, using a style which had appealed to her. The top of the hat was padded with cotton, lined on the inside and covered with the same material as the purse; trim for the hat was a corsage.

Members also showed items which could be used as Christmas gifts. Among the suggestions was a wastebasket covered with lace and decorated with a corsage. Christmas aprons, cat pajama bag made from a baby's blanket and lines; sock doll, pajamas and housecoat to match, stuffed toys, puppets, lace blouse, candy and cookies in an attractive basket, washrag househoes.

Refreshments were served during the social hour to two guests, Mrs. H. O. Hightower and Mrs. B. E. Bearden; and members, Mrs. Lewis Epps, A. P. Coombes, W. E. Autry, Boyd Maule, George M. Perkins, Tom Haggard, Ray Frazier, and James Smathers.

Mrs. Frazier will be hostess to the Dec. 2 meeting at 9:30 a.m. in her home, 512 Doyle.

Mrs. Burger Has Deborah Circle

Deborah Circle of the Church of the Brethren met recently in the country home of Mrs. Dean Burger. Assisting with hostess duties were Mrs. Russell West and Cleo Goff.

During the morning session, Rev. Darryl Fryman led in the continuation of the study of Job.

A covered-dish luncheon was served during the noon hour.

The afternoon session was spent rolling bandages; making pillow slips and pillows for the Red Cross. Those attending were Mrs. M. Alie Byrum, Ray Burger, Charley Ellington, Don Ellidge, Wayne Irwin, Bill Cobb, Bill Kent, Bob Swope, Darryl Fryman, George Maul, and Harry Miller.

Next time a standing rib roast of beef is scheduled for the menu in your home... serve an Apple-Horseradish Sauce as a nippy accompaniment. Combine 2 tablespoons white vinegar, 3 apples, 3 tablespoons grated horseradish and 2 tablespoons sugar. Remember to grate the apples directly into the vinegar so they'll remain white.

Sophisticettes Plan Christmas Reception

The Sophisticettes held its monthly meeting in the home of Miss Linda Kay Andis, 1710 Mary Ellen. Plans for the reception following recital on Dec. 14 were discussed.

A program was given by Misses Sue Foster, Glenda Derring, and Carolyn Jelineck.

Those attending the meeting were Misses Mary Buchanan, Glenda Derring, Sue Foster, Tommie Kelly, Carolyn Kelly, Carol Jelineck, Mrs. May Carr, and Linda Kay Andis.

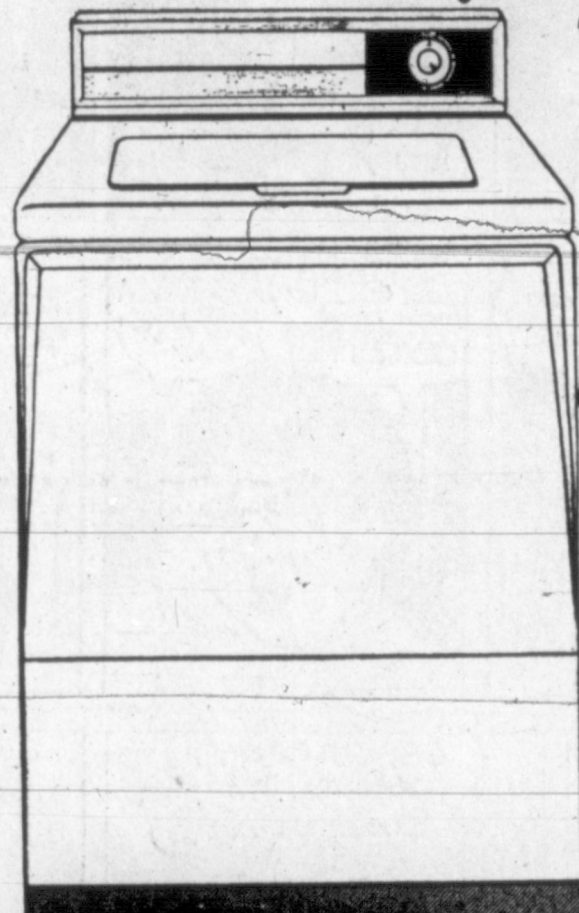

The next meeting will be held in the home of Miss Foster in January.

1958 All-America

Rice's Buddy Dial, LSU's Cannon Lead NEA All-American Squad

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA) — The 1958 NEA All-American team forever refutes the old belief that a good football player can't match his work on the field in the classroom. While this squad most certainly was not selected as an all-scholastic array, it easily could pass as one. It epitomized the new type of college athlete.

You start with Pete Dawkins, Army's all-time All-American, and Bob White, the fantastic Ohio State fullback. Not in the 156-year history of the United States Military Academy has a cadet held the four honors with which Dawkins will be commissioned in June at the age of 20 — brigade commander, class president, football captain and a star student, seventh in the class.

White, a junior majoring in industrial arts, is a straight A student.

Silver anniversary All-American teams are now being named in connection with the Hall of Fame at Rutgers. These show whether the football-luminary is still an All-American in his life's work 25 years later. Everybody acquainted with the members of the 1958 All-American team is confident that they will pass this test when the time comes.

The 1958 NEA team also makes the point that the All-America has to have vastly more than a pre-season build-up. These young men got there strictly on performance. Dawkins was hardly a big name West Point halooack at the outset, for example, nor did the general public know that Syracuse had great expectations for the tackle, Ron Luciano. Mighty few outside of members of the North Carolina coaching staff, had even heard of Al Goldstein, the end.

Here are the brilliant combatants adjudged, the finest in the land at their respective positions and elected by the nation's coaches and football writers to the 1958 NEA All-American team:

To each of these hand-picked stalwarts goes an engraved handsome gold Bullock watch and a specially designed NEA All-American certificate. Each will be further honored by a testimonial in his home town.

On the 1958 NEA All-American team are seven seniors and four juniors, the latter proving a shock trooper can scale the heights without going the complete distance. Sectionally, three each are from the South and East, two each from the Midwest and Southwest and one from the Pacific Northwest.

All-America Teams

FIRST TEAM
E-Al Goldstein, North Carolina
E-Buddy Dial, Rice
T-Ted Bates, Oregon State
T-Ron Luciano, Syracuse
G-John Guzik, Pittsburgh
G-Zeke Smith, Auburn
C-Bob Harrison, Oklahoma
QB-Randy Duncan, Iowa
B-Billy Cannon, LSU
B-Pete Dawkins, Army
B-Bob White, Ohio State

SECOND TEAM
E-Jim Houston, Ohio State
E-Curt Merz, Iowa
T-Don Floyd, TCU
G-Boh Novogratz, Army
G-George Diederich, Vanderbilt
C-Jackie Burkett, Auburn
QB-Joe Kapp, California
HB-Dick Bass, College of Pacific
HB-Bob Anderson, Army
FB-Nick Pietrosante, Notre Dame

THIRD TEAM
E-Monty Stickles, Notre Dame
E-Chris Burford, Stanford
T-Vel Heckman, Florida
T-Brock Strom, Air Force
G-Jerry Stalcup, Wisconsin
G-George Fritsinger, Navy
C-Max Eugler, LSU
QB-Tom Greene, Holy Cross
HB-Jack Crouthamel, Dartmouth
HB-Don Perkins, New Mexico
FB-Fred Pickard, Florida State

HONORABLE MENTION
Those from the southwest receiving honorable mention were: Jim Wood, Oklahoma State; Ross Royle, Oklahoma, and John Tracey, Texas A&M; tackle Bob Salerno, Colorado; guard Tom Koenig, SMU; quarterback Don Meredith, Southern Methodist; and backs Charles Millstead, Texas A&M; Leon Burton, Arizona State; Larry Hickman, Baylor, and Freddie Gault, Oklahoma.

Randolph Duncan, Jr., who would call signals for this outfit, was told by Forest Evashevski that he could never become a second Ken Ploen, the Iowa stickout when this boy, who is taking a pre-law course, was a sophomore. But, the coach reminded him, he could become a first Randy Duncan. He did.

Red Grange, the legendary Galloping Ghost who telecasts college games, calls Cannon the most formidable college back he saw this season. Paul Dietzel compares Cannon, a halfback, with D.O. Blanchard, Army's outstanding war-time fullback. "Save that Cannon would pull away from Blanchard with every stride," testifies the Louisiana State coach who formerly assisted on the Hudson Highlands.

At West Point, any one of 2,498 cadets will tell you that Dawkins can do anything at any instant in any situation. Pete, the good-looking, blond son of a Detroit dentist, beat polo while in grammar grades, as a football player had to overcome the advantages of attending silk stocking Cranbrook School of Bloomfield Hills, Mich. He prepared for the Navy engagement as the leading scorer of major colleges.

Dawkins iced the Notre Dame game and won the battle with Rice in the last 61 seconds with individual brilliance. Army is undefeated and was tied only by Pittsburgh when a charley horse limited Dawkins to only a few seconds.

Only his size betrays White, being thick glasses, as a football player. He wears contact lenses in battle. He set an all-time Ohio State record for number of times carrying, extraordinary when you consider that he was faking into the line when not jugging the leather. He was charging on Howard Cassady's total yardage by rushing mark. When the Buckeyes shook this son of a Cincinnati newspaper composing room foreman loose for 71 yards and a touchdown, Duncan and Bob Jeter of Iowa couldn't catch him.

Goldstein played freshman football at North Carolina in 1954, served two years in the Army before returning. The Flatbush lad quickly earned a reputation as a spectacular catcher of passes, seven against North Carolina State, four in the Notre Dame

SKINS SIGN BUKICH
CHICAGO (UPI)—Rudy Bukich, the former Southern California quarterback obtained on waivers from the Washington Redskins, has signed his contract with the Chicago Bears. Room was made on the roster for him when end Bob Carey was placed on the injured reserve list.

LSU Leads Poll; TCU Is Seventh

NEW YORK (UPI)—Louisiana State, which has ended its regular season with a perfect record and a Sugar Bowl berth, led the United Press International college football ratings today by a wide margin and awaited next week's final balloting to decide the national championship.

Coach Paul Dietzel's Tigers were the No. 1 choice of 30 members of the 35-man UPI Board of Coaches this week. And their point-total of 333 out of a possible 350 was the highest received by any team since early in the 1957 season.

In the two most noteworthy changes in the top 10 group, Iowa's Rose Bowl entry moved into a tie for second place with Army, and Orange Bowl-bound Syracuse joined the select group.

Borger Places 8th In Schoolboy Poll

DALLAS (UPI)—The Abilene Eagles will be the 1958 state Class AAAA Texas schoolboy football champions by beating San Antonio Jefferson in the finals, if the United Press International coaches board final season ratings are followed.

Coach Chuck Moser's Eagles were voted the No. 1 team in the state ahead of Wichita Falls and defending champ Highland Park, which finished in strong second and third positions, while San Antonio Jefferson was the top rated team from the southern bracket in the No. 4 spot.

Following the ratings to an even further extent it will be Wichita Falls against the Eagles in the quarterfinals and Highland Park again in the semifinals.

In the South it would be Waco against Jefferson in the quarterfinals and Pasadena against the Ponies in the semifinals.

Aggies Have Bad Practice

United Press International Texas A&M had what Coach Jim Myers called the "sorriest practice of the year" Monday as the Aggies began to warm up for their Thanksgiving Day clash with the University of Texas after an off-week.

Myers said his players lacked the spirit which marked the game with Rice the Saturday before last.

The short session was devoted to offensive and defensive plays with no contact work.

At Austin, the Longhorns trundled back to the field after a two-day layoff and an open-date Saturday for a light workout, concentrated mostly on a defense designed to hold the Texas A&M attack.

Top Performance
Halfback Rene Ramirez was performing in top condition at his No. 1 right-half post after being held back for three weeks by back injuries.

The University ticket office said there were still tickets available for the game Thursday.

Baylor quarterback Buddy Humphrey tossed three touchdown passes as the Bears' first unit scored a decisive victory over the second and third teams in an hour-long touch football game.

Mildred Ott May Recover

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Doctors said today Mrs. Mildred Ott's chances for recovery were good, following a two-hour operation for multiple injuries she received in an automobile accident that claimed the lives of her husband, all-time baseball great Mel Ott, and another man.

The operation was delayed because Mrs. Ott suffered a severe head injury in the collision near Bay St. Louis, Miss., Nov. 14. She was unconscious five days and doctors waited until her mental condition improved before operating.

Mrs. Ott also suffered a crushed chest cavity, multiple fractures to her left arm and elbow, two broken legs and internal injuries.

Doctors wired Mrs. Ott's ribs into place and set broken bones in her left arm and right leg Monday. Metal pins and wires were used to tie the many fractures together.

"The operation went very good," a surgeon said. "Barring any complications, Mrs. Ott should come through this all right."

Quarterback Club Meets Tonight

Further plans for the Dec. 4 Harvester-Schooler football banquet will be discussed tonight at 7:30 p.m., in the quarterback club meeting, at Robert E. Lee Junior High School.

Principal speaker for the banquet will be Odus Mitchell, coach of the North Texas State College Eagles, football champions of the Missouri Valley Conference.

The banquet will be held in the Lee Junior High Cafeteria. Tickets have been on sale at Richards Drug and Malone Pharmacy. Progress of ticket sales will be reported tonight.

Virginia Education

During the first century after Christ, religious persecution caused thousands of Christians to huddle in caves, catacombs and other dark places to escape death and torture. The sound of their anguish has keened down the ages reminding us of man's inhumanity to man respecting religious conviction. In those days it was considered orthodox to be a pagan. And orthodox has customarily punished and persecuted the unorthodox.

During the first half of our own twentieth century, in Stalin's Russia and Hitler's Germany, persons holding political views contrary to the clique in power huddled in back rooms, garrets, barns and sheds in order to escape detection and persecution. Discovery meant a concentration camp, a firing squad, or perhaps an interlude with a torturer.

Now we come to the second half of the 20th century. And again we hear a strange sound. It is the sound of school doors slamming shut in a number of our southern states. For the educational orthodoxy of the moment is, that governments must run schools and therefore to refuse to follow a government edict is to deprive you of education.

Death in Paradise

Exponents of the cradle to the grave philosophy of governmental benevolence have loudly boasted the virtues of Swedish and Danish socialism. Ever since World War II, these Scandinavian countries have entered the socialist sphere of operation with something close to total abandon.

It seems that a veteran correspondent of more than 40 years' experience recently traveled through both of these countries. Our readers may find his name familiar. He was Negley Farson, author of "The Way of a Transgressor."

There was just one nagging flaw that kept ticking away inside his brain. Why, he asked himself, should Sweden and Denmark, these two socialist paradises have the largest rate of suicides of any nations in the world?

Student Attitudes

Ben Moreell, in his analysis of our educational system in "The Freeman" magazine, discusses good teachers, good pupils, proper curricula and suitable equipment for use in instruction.

On student attitudes he relates how difficult it is to get students to accept loans at low interest rates. He quotes Rear Adm. L. B. Combs, who is head of the Department of Civil Engineering at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, as saying that when it was suggested that students could borrow from the Loan Fund at the Institute at a nominal interest rate and long payback periods, he was almost invariably told, "I don't want a loan. I want a gift."

He quotes Dr. Frank Sparks of Pittsburgh as stating that the usual loan funds of all American colleges was approximately $32 million; that they had great difficulty in placing them because the young folks wanted gifts, not loans.

On adequate facilities he admits that they might have more facilities for the present number of students but wonders whether we are using these facilities to the best advantage.

Moreell realizes that there is more than mere knowledge of things. He puts it this way: "Permit me to digress here for a moment to raise a question which has been discussed with far more heat than light, namely, the place of the humanities and social sciences in an engineering curriculum. I have long believed that while a knowledge of things is important, it must fall far short of achieving its fullest value unless it is accompanied by a knowledge of the meanings of things.

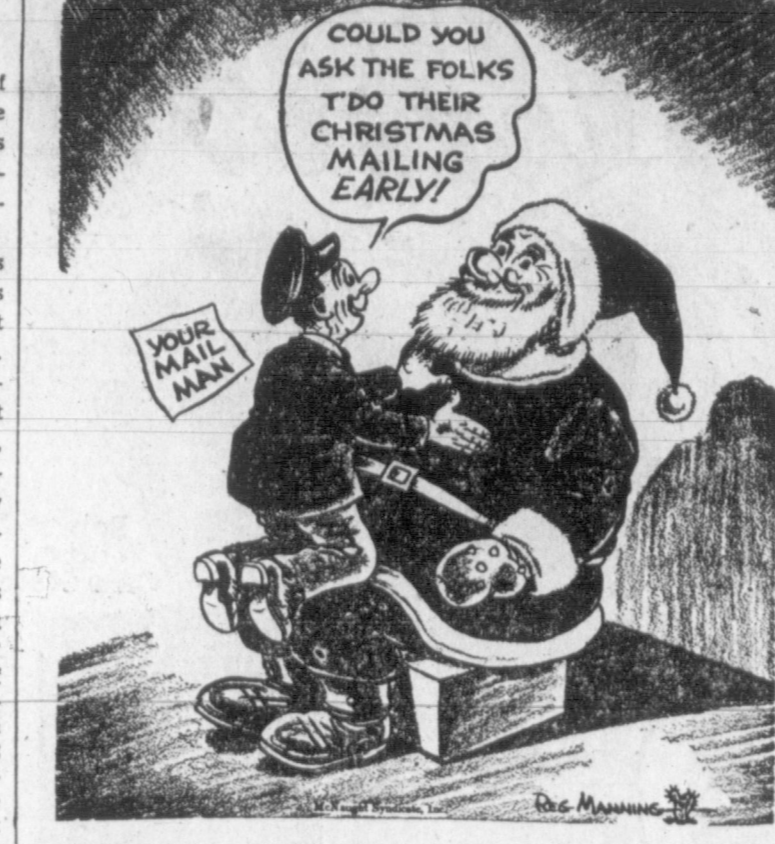

My considered judgment is that before we yield to the panic engendered by the Sputniks and other claimed advances in Soviet capabilities, we should make a thorough and unhurried appraisal of the adequacy of our entire educational structure in the four areas I have mentioned, beginning with the grade school and proceeding through the graduate schools. Decisions made under the stress of hysteria are usually wrong."

Return to Individualism "Our American society is based on individualism. But it is not an individualism. It is not an undisciplined individualism. The Founding Fathers held that individual freedom must be exercised within the limitations imposed by the moral code which, as a minimum, I would define as the Ten Commandments and the Sermon on the Mount. If we are to charge individuals with the responsibility for voluntary self-discipline, we must do our utmost to see that they have sufficient education to achieve understanding in order that they may grow in wisdom. It is only in this way that each of us can make his maximum contribution to that enhancement of human values which is the ultimate goal of our efforts.

Under this provision, prior to January 1, Glennan has a free hand in acquiring military and civilian centers and personnel. All he needs is the acquiescence of the President. But after that date, congressional approval is required.

So if the Army and Navy can stall Glennan's far-ranging proposals until after January 1, their prospects will be greatly improved to either lick him or to force him to compromise.

Please, Santa—

Robert Allen Reports:

Glennan Has Army, Navy Up In Arms.

WASHINGTON — Dr. T. Keith Glennan, head of the new National Aeronautics and Space Administration, is throwing Army and Navy chiefs into another furor.

These unannounced acquisitions would be in addition to Glennan's avowed intention to take over the Army's Signal Corps Laboratory, at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., and the Navy's Ordnance Test Station, at China Lake, in Kern County, Calif.

Both sides favor it — but for very different reasons. Dr. Glennan wants to dispose of this issue by December 31, and deems direct action by the President the best way to do that.

Under this provision, prior to January 1, Glennan has a free hand in acquiring military and civilian centers and personnel. All he needs is the acquiescence of the President. But after that date, congressional approval is required.

At the least, such authorization means a lot of time and effort as the armed forces have strong supporters in both the House and Senate.

Already the Army is urging that regarding its Ballistic Missiles Agency, at Huntsville, Ala. Major General John Melearis, BMA commander, is proposing to

NEW YORK — One of the most successful candy stores in New York is an area of cool, calm and self-assured, low-pressure salesmanship. How low? This low: the door is locked. Mrs. Madelyn Hoey does not want any transient trade, thank you, and if you'd like to know what kind of clientele she has you could list the Social Register of New York, the remaining crowned heads of Europe, the Duke and Duchess of Windsor and families in Texas and Oklahoma who can afford her confections.

"On December 5th I double-lock the door and draw the blinds," she said the other afternoon. "Too busy with Christmas orders. If they haven't placed them by then, they don't get placed. Fortunately, they all know that now."

"I don't know. I never open it except to people who have called in. I did once: I saw Marlene Dietrich at the door. A lovely woman. I let her in and after we talked she wanted to see the kitchen and the ovens, the pots and pans. A real woman, no nonsense. I showed them to her."

"Two. The late King of Norway ordered direct from me and, of course, the Duke of Windsor is a regular customer now."

"Some Social Register people told me about you. They say your packages are unique and, if you will, fabulous."

"Here at Plumbridge we try to do the best," she said. "There is a pecan grower in Las Cruces, New Mexico. He specializes in giant pecans. I contract for his entire crop. There is a special cocoa bean which results in a deep, dark chocolate that is not cloying but not too bitter, either. It is the only chocolate I buy. It costs more than the standard cocoa bean but I have an exacting list of customers. I bought this business from a woman who insisted it be maintained as it was founded. She worked with me a long time and slapped my hands smartly. I did it anything wrong. I learned honest merchandise and how to deal with select customers. I am grateful to her."

Before becoming confection purveyor, Mrs. Hoey was an Oriental art expert. In one case, she worked for the government helping to locate the famed Yamana's on Fifth Avenue after Pearl Harbor.

The family histories of nearly 2,000 victims of epilepsy were studied in an attempt to answer this question. These 2,000 patients had over 12,000 parents, brothers and sisters and children. Of the 12,000 only about one in 40 had a history of more than one seizure.

On the average, therefore, a person with epilepsy could expect one child out of 40 to have the disease. In other words, any given child of an epileptic parent has 39 chances out of 40 of being normal so far as epilepsy is concerned. However, even this chance of having epilepsy is about five times that which would be expected in the general population.

Hankering

By Henry McLeMorie

Go Now — Pay Later! This slogan belongs to the air-travel, but it is even more applicable to the dude who comes West and insists on riding a cow pony.

Whatever it is, almost the first thing I did after registering at the Broadmoor Hotel here in Colorado Springs, was to buy a pair of jeans (what a sight!) and start looking for a horse.

I didn't have to look far. The stables are just a bridge's length away. What I should have done, of course, was to forget about horses, and use one of the other Broadmoor recreational facilities. Play golf on the great mountain course, bowl, or swim, play tennis, badminton, or shuffleboard. It would have even been wiser to have visited the Broadmoor's Ice Palace and tried ice skating for the first time.

But it was a cow pony or nothing for me! It wouldn't have been so bad if I had told the man at the stables the truth right off the bat — that I hadn't ridden a pony since I was a child, and to please give me a cow pony that was more cow than pony.

Pete's a starrer. At least, he started hard and long at me, swooping his eyes from my tennis shoes (lacking boots, they were the best I had) to the green eye shade I was wearing to protect my eyes from the glare of the sun on the mountain trail.

With a bounce and a creak I was in the saddle, and gave Pete my best hellob — for — leather go-ahead click. Pete turned his head my way as if to see if I really were there, and started off. Pete never did run away, or anything like that. He just never would stop, but kept running along at a most peculiar pace — a pace that kept me alternately thumping down on the saddle or sailing a foot or so in the air. I tried standing up in the stirrups, but that only cost my my eyeshade. Bounced clean off. Pete got tired of me after about three hours and returned home, most of the way by a trail overhanging belligerent branches.

Go Now — Pay Later! That's what I did — and what I'm doing!

It's Up To You L. H. D. by Howard Kershner

Agreement With Reds Is Next To Worthless

We are indebted to the Outlook of Toronto for the following quotation from Lenin in 1920:

"We seek peaceful coexistence to put our enemies to sleep. As long as capitalism and socialism exist we cannot live in peace; in the end, one or the other will triumph. A funeral dirge will be sung over the Soviet Republic or over world capitalism. As soon as we are strong enough to defeat capitalism as a whole, we shall immediately take it by the scruff of the neck."

We commend this statement to the attention of the rising demand for secular and religious groups that agreement be reached with Russia in the field of nuclear disarmament, as well as, in other types of armament. Will these groups never face the fact that an agreement made with Communists is not worth the paper it is written on? It would disarm the West but it would not disarm the Communists. They would use this as a cloak to cover their continued preparation for our destruction.

The wild chorus of demands for a Summit Conference are only playing into the hands of the Kremlin tyrants in their effort to destroy us. For one thing such a conference would go far toward ratifying the Communist rape of Eastern Europe. It is intended to ally fear in the West, to relax our efforts, while the Communists would only redouble theirs, in their destruction to attain sufficient power to crush Freedom. That is one danger we must guard against by not lowering our guard on the strength of mere promises made at a Summit Conference.

An even greater danger is the ability of the Communists to promote a spending policy in our government that if continued will eventually destroy us. Nothing plays into the hands of the Communists so directly as continued excessive spending for foreign, civilian and military aid; and for an ever-enlarging program of welfare-statism at home.

The Communists are fishing with a double hook and we seem eager to take the bait offered on both prongs.

The Doctor Says:

Dr. Edwin P. Jordan

"A young man from a large family has a brother and sister who take epileptic spells quite often," a reader says.

There are reasons for believing that epilepsy is an hereditary disease and runs in families to a certain degree. However, this does not mean that children of epileptic parents (or brothers or sisters of those who have epilepsy) should never marry or that their children will always develop the disease.

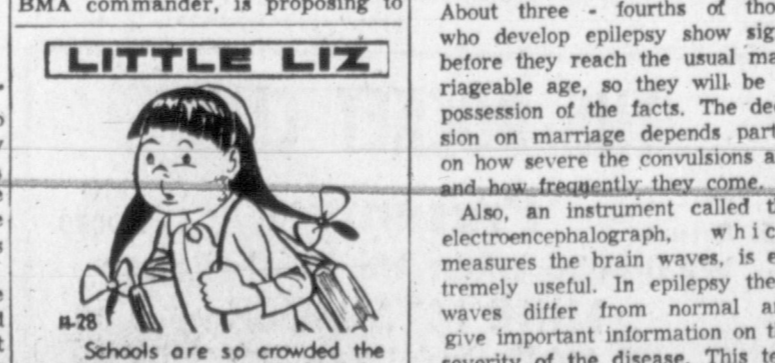

What are the chances that a person with epilepsy will have an epileptic child? The family histories of nearly 2,000 victims of epilepsy were studied in an attempt to answer this question. These 2,000 patients had over 12,000 parents, brothers and sisters and children. Of the 12,000 only about one in 40 had a history of more than one seizure.

On the average, therefore, a person with epilepsy could expect one child out of 40 to have the disease. In other words, any given child of an epileptic parent has 39 chances out of 40 of being normal so far as epilepsy is concerned. However, even this chance of having epilepsy is about five times that which would be expected in the general population.

In the light of what we know now, therefore, marriage with or without children is not necessarily to be shunned because epileptic seizures have been present in an individual or his family.

With the help of the history of past seizures, the family history of epilepsy and the results of the electroencephalograph, the physician is able to give a rough estimate on the chances that any given child of a marriage would be subject to seizures.

Entire Red Skelton Show To Be Pantomimed Tonight

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Comedian Red Skelton gives televisioners an opportunity to exercise their imaginations tonight when his half-hour TV show is performed totally in pantomime—except the commercials, of course.

As Freddie the Freeloader, the balaust redhead won't speak a word.

"Silence is golden," Red cracked from his bed where he is recovering from the removal of an impacted wisdom tooth.

"I've wanted to do a pantomime show since I first started on television. Audiences like to relax in their living rooms once in a while without being shouted at. Even my little girl, Valentina, complains about the yakety-yak."

Red took time out to massage his swollen jaw.

"See, you laughed," he said. "And I didn't have to say a word. People like to use their imaginations."

"Pantomime isn't a lost art. The public laughs at silent comedy every day. Take a man chasing a train, the wind blowing off a hat, or a set of false teeth falling out at a banquet. These things break people up without any dialogue whatever."

"Sid Caesar and Jackie Gleason are terrific pantomimists, but they never devoted an entire show to it."

Surprisingly, Red olasted Charlie Chaplin — generally credited with being the greatest pantomimist in history — as a bogus performer.

"Chaplin talked in all his silent pictures, but that was before sound came in, and you couldn't understand what he was saying. Nobody could hear what he was saying," Red explained.

"He talked so audiences could hear him in his last four pictures, and all of them were flops."

Plans "Silent" Film

"The best pantomimists in the silent days were Laurel and Hardy, and Harold Lloyd. They told their stories with their eyes and gestures and rarely used their mouths for dialogue."

"I have a completed script for a movie in pantomime that I'd love to do, but producers aren't willing to gamble with it. I guess it would be the first silent picture to be made since the talkies took over."

Red's bedroom, a spacious boudoir crowded with TV sets, books, and dozens of cups, plaques and awards, was a madhouse.

Three pet poodles romped under and over the bed and a pair of colorful parrots squawked ceaselessly. Red was oblivious of the din.

"Someday, in years to come, commercials will be in pantomime, too," he ventured. "One picture is better than a thousand words, as they say. And sponsors are beginning to wise up. The 'hard sell' is on the way out."

"No matter. If reaction is good to a half-hour of Freddie the Freeloader in pantomime, I'll do it again sometime soon."

Business Views

United Press International

The number of workers drawing unemployment compensation rose in the week ended Nov. 8 for the first time since mid-July, according to the Labor Department. It blamed the upturn on employment cuts in seasonal industries.

Industry's outlays for new plant and equipment will rise to a record 53 billion dollars annually by 1961-30 per cent ahead of the present spending pace and 12 per cent more than in 1957. Fortune magazine predicted. The magazine said "sharp revivals" in continued growth of trade and service spending and a recovery in farm capital goods should provide much of the fuel for the expected boom.

Steel magazine reported that steelmakers are not as optimistic as they were a few weeks ago, despite the fact that automakers will step up their production schedules during the final weeks of the year. The trade magazine said it appears that the steelmaking rate, which was 75 per cent of capacity last week, is near its 1953 peak.

The Treasury reported excise tax collections of 2,746,156,000 in the third quarter of the year, about 96 million dollars less than in the July-September period of 1957. Revenue from alcohol and tobacco levies was up while receipts from manufacturers' excise taxes dipped.

Woody Partakes In Army Exercises

FORT LEWIS, Wash. (Sp) — Army PFC Randolph M. Woody, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayland B. Woody, 1136 Crane Rd., Pampa, recently participated with the 4th Infantry Division Artillery in "Exercise Rocky Shoals," a joint Army-Navy maneuver held on the California coast.

Woody is regularly assigned as a draftsman in the artillery's Headquarters Battery at Fort Lewis, Wash. He entered the Army in March 1957 and received basic training at Fort Bliss.

A 1953 graduate of Will Rogers School, Tulsa, Okla., the 25-year-old soldier attended the University of Oklahoma before entering the Army. His wife, Nylia, lives in Tacoma, Wash.

TUNISIANS ON TRIAL

TUNIS (UPI) — Fifty-eight Tunisians are being tried here on charges of plotting with Egyptian agents to assassinate President Habib Bourguiba and overthrow his pro-Western government.

KEEP THOSE COTTON PICKIN' HANDS OFF MY CAR

LONDON (UPI) — Police have found the patience of Job no substitute for the wisdom of Solomon. They still couldn't decide who owns a car put together from two stolen vehicles.

"To get in you open my door and you drive with my steering wheel," said Charles Capell, a truck driver.

"You have to sit on my driving seat. And you could not make it go without my engine," said Mrs. Fay Strom, a housewife.

They each claim the "Mongrel" 1939 eight-horse-power Morris Sedan, rebuilt by a crooked mechanic from two similar cars. The mechanic complicated the problem by selling the left-over pieces as spare parts and scrap.

Capell has offered Mrs. Strom 28 for "the bits and pieces that are hers," but she rejected the offer. "No, it's my car. The bodywork and the chassis are his, and I would be willing to give him a few pounds for those."

The argument has been going on for nearly a week now—most of the time at police headquarters. The police would gladly give up the car, but can't until Capell and Mrs. Strom agree who owns it.

Skelly To Attend Cancer Meeting

Jack Skelly will attend the 13th Annual Meeting of the Texas Division of the American Cancer Society at the Driskill Hotel in Austin on December 4 and 5 as the official delegate of the Gray County Unit.

Advance registration for the Annual Meeting indicates that more than 300 delegates and members of the Texas Division will attend the two day meeting.

Delegates to the Annual Meeting will participate in a program which will consider problems on cytology, crusade, service to cancer patients and public education and will seek ways and means of increasing the effectiveness of the Texas Cancer Control program.

Matter of FACT

The pack of canned fruits, vegetables, juices, specialties, milk, meat and fish in the U.S. and its territories during the 1956-57 season was 710,000,000 cases, a new record. Canned milk was the only group which registered a decrease. Canned juices were up 20 per cent over the previous year, vegetables were up 19 per cent and canned meat and fish were each up 15 per cent. The increases were in part due to a 25 per cent increase in exports during the years 1956-57.
