Harmony Hopes Flickering Fast For Nuclear Ban

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
United Press International

GENEVA (UPI) — The West pressed a two-front drive today to break the East-West deadlock at the nuclear test and surprise attack conferences here, but hopes for agreement were waning fast.

The first part of the Western offensive was spearheaded by a U.S. offer to the Russians of a four-point treaty providing for an East-West ban on nuclear tests with built-in controls to police the ban.

The second was a stepped up drive to get the Soviets to agree to the idea of purely technical discussions at the meeting on prevention of surprise attacks.

The fourth session of the conference began with still no agreement on an agenda. The Communist nations want a "political" agenda, tying prevention of surprise attacks with disarmament, while the West continued to demand a purely technical conference.

The United States presented its nuclear plan Thursday night and the immediate Soviet reaction was negative and discouraging.

However, the Soviets agreed to adjourn the conference for three days to study the U.S. plan. They promised to reply to the plan Monday.

The plan proposed the following main points:

—It called for U.S., British and Soviet agreement to discontinue tests themselves and to try to persuade other nations, presumably France and Communist China, not to test nuclear weapons.

In the same paragraph it pledged the three atomic nations to cooperate with a control organization to be set up under the planned treaty.

—It proposed establishment of a control system with provisions for an executive board, and a general conference of the three powers and suggested administrative measures for the control system.

—It outlined the manner in which agreement could come into force, its duration and its membership.

—It suggested that technical questions on operational details of the control system be laid down in a series of annexes to the agreement.

Purviance Memorial Underway

The board of directors of Lovett Memorial Library is receiving contributions for a memorial to the late Dr. Walter Purviance, a former board member. The memorial will be a loudspeaker in the auditorium, according to Mrs. Lillian Snow, librarian. Those who wish to help may contact the board through the library.

At a meeting this week the board decided to continue the 8 p.m. closing hour. Mrs. Snow explained that heavy traffic in the evening keeps more of the staff on duty and necessitates the early closing.

Library hours are 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday - Friday and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday.

The board also inspected a table which had been disfigured. Three librarians are on duty in the evening whereas in quieter times, the number was two or one. Mrs. Snow said that the early closing hour would remain in effect until the library calmed down.

The library has received $300 worth of adult books and is working on the literature department. Also, by an arrangement with Am- arillo, the library can secure films for individuals and clubs. Films are available from the Am- arillo Library for $2 plus postage per film.

Caril Tells Of Trying To Save Family

By MARGUERITE DAVIS
United Press International

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI) — Caril Ann Fugate, 15, today tells her story of how a frightened little girl tried to save the lives of her family and wound up being charged with murder.

This was Caril's version of how she came to accompany her boy friend, Charles Starkweather, 19, during the nine days last January which left 10 persons dead. The prosecution charges she was his willing accomplice.

Defense attorney John McArthur planned to call Caril to tell her story of how she returned from school last Jan. 21 and found Starkweather, armed with a gun, hiding behind the door. Starkweather is awaiting a state supreme court ruling on his appeal from a death sentence imposed for the murder of Robert Jensen, 17, one of the victims. Caril is being tried for aiding and abetting in the slaying, and also is subject to the death penalty if found guilty.

Starkweather said Caril heard the shot which killed her step father, Marion Barrett, and saw him kill her mother, Betty, and her baby half-sister, Betty Jean. Caril said he told her the family was being held hostage, and that she thought their safety depended on her obeying Starkweather. During the following six days she remained with him at her home, turning away relatives and friends.

Testimony by Caril's grandmother, Mrs. Pearl Street, Thursday tended to bear out this story. Mrs. Street said she went to the Barrett home Jan. 27, "screaming" to see her daughter, Mrs. (See CARIL Page Two)

Bulganin Is Linked With Soviet Anti-Party Group

By HENRY SHAPIRO
United Press International

MOSCOW (UPI) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev has linked former Premier Nikolai Bulganin for the first time with the "anti-party group" of Soviet leaders who were expelled from the Soviet leadership in July 1957.

Official explanation of the downfall of Bulganin came in a report by Khrushchev to the central committee of the Communist Party in which Khrushchev outlined a new seven-year program to increase industrial production by 80 per cent.

Pravda, official organ of the Communist Party, devoted eight of its ten pages today to the Wednesday Khrushchev report. The news had been broadcast to the world Thursday night by Moscow Radio.

First Disclosure

The Khrushchev report disclosed for the first time why Bulganin was ousted after he remained in office for more than a year after the disgrace of the five other party leaders who opposed Khrushchev.

The four other members of the "anti-party group" were former Premier and Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov, former Premier Georgi Malenkov, former Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov and Lazar Kaganovich, former member of the Presidium. All were sent to minor jobs in remote places.

It was never officially announced but it was reported that one reason Bulganin stayed in office longer was that he switched his vote at a meeting of the central committee in 1957 and voted against the Molotov group. Today's reports made it clear he was a member of the anti-party group.

Sent To Caucasus

Last summer, Bulganin was removed from the Presidium and appointed chairman of the Economic Council of Stavropol in the north Caucasus. Khrushchev visited Stavropol a few weeks ago and did not see Bulganin although he saw other local leaders.

The government in announcing the new seven-year economic plan boasted that it would enable Russia to outstrip the United States in heavy industry and consumer goods production in the next 15 years.

NO RING 'ROUND RUSSIA!

US Might Cut Overseas Bases For Home Missiles

By CHARLES CORDRY
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States appeared ready today to cut back its program of ringing Russia with overseas missile bases and concentrate instead on intercontinental missiles based at home.

That prospect was unfolded late Thursday at a news conference by Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy. It apparently means a rather drastic revamping of some North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) military plans.

The move could be at least partly as result of Russia's barrage of warnings to U. S. overseas allies against allowing American 1,500-mile range Thor and Jupiter ballistic missiles on their soil.

Reappraising Requirements

McElroy, however, did not allude to the Soviet warnings or to the political issue that intermediate range ballistic missiles (IRBMs) have become in many NATO countries.

The defense secretary said that there was "currently underway... a reappraisal of our military requirements for IRBMs."

He made it plain the Intercontinental Ballistic Missile (ICBM), based in the United States completely under American control and with 5,500 mile range, is now a more desirable military weapon than the IRBM based overseas and subject to joint U.S.-Allied control.

Atlas Capability Nears

"We might not have the requirement for the numbers of either one of these or both of them combined (Thor and Jupiter) that we have been thinking about up to this point," he said.

"The further you go down the road toward an operational capability of the ICBM, the less interesting it is for us to deploy additional IRBMs and we are coming closer to the time of operational capability" of the Atlas intercontinental missile.

He said Jupiter and Thor missiles now on order will be produced and the full planned complement will be sent to England. The United States also has arranged to supply Jupiter missiles for Italy.

Otherwise there has been far less than an overwhelming welcome to the American offer of IRBMs for Europe, France, considered by NATO military authorities a vital spot for IRBMs, has resisted up to now.

Red Political Rally Made Fiasco By Rock Throwers

By JOSEPH B. SMITH
United Press International

BERLIN (UPI) — Three thousand angry young West Berliners tried Thursday night to break up a Communist political rally in blockade-threatened West Berlin. Riot police kept them from mauling the Reds but the rally was turned into a fiasco.

The Communists, targets of a stone-throwing barrage and taunts of "traitor" and "down with the Communists", returned to East Berlin later by devious ways to escape the wrath of the West Berlin youths. Some straggled home in the early hours today.

Ironically the West Berlin police who prevented the West Berliners from mobbing the Communists learned their technique in training to halt Communist riots. There have been frequent clashes in recent years and the West Berlin police are masters of riot technique.

The Communists called the political rally in hopes of picking up votes for the Dec. 7 municipal elections in West Berlin. The Reds won 27 per cent of the votes in the last election and are not represented in the West Berlin government. Five per cent is necessary to win seats under the City's proportional representation system.

About 8,000 Communists attended the rally. Most of them were from East Berlin and betrayed their origin by automatically displaying their identity cards as they entered the building. The practice is in West Berlin.

Communist speakers echoed the Monday statement by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev that the Western Allies should give up their occupation rights in Berlin.

Fear Crippling Blockade
The anger displayed by the West Berliners reflected their fears the Soviets might permit the East German Communists to impose a crippling blockade on Berlin—once far worse than that of 1948-49 when Allied planes saved the city with a gigantic airlift.

This time the Westerners feared the Reds would close the air routes as well.

The city already was checking its food stocks in event of emergency. The city government announced it had six to nine month stocks of coal, gasoline, sugar, flour, cereals, meat, milk, fat, potatoes and other goods for 2,200,000 persons.

One big fear was that any blockade would ruin West Berlin's thriving economy. Food might be flown in but not supplies for industry.

OVER 500 REBS REPORTED KILLED

HAVANA (UPI) — The government says loyal forces killed more than 500 rebels this week in a series of smashing victories over the insurgents in eastern Cuba.

An army commander reported also that loyal fighters shot down three planes running guns to the rebels in the first air battle of the revolt.

It was not clear whether the planes shot down were operated locally by the rebels, possibly including the two DC3 airplanes hijacked in recent weeks by the insurgents—or whether they were bringing in arms from the United States.

'He Had To Die' Says Brother Killer

ALTADENA, Calif. (UPI) — "He had to die. He was an inferior personality."

Bruce Harlow Ginn, 18-year-old "intellectual," thus Thursday patiently explained to Los Angeles sheriff's deputies why he secretly bought a mail-order revolver and used it to kill his athletic and fun-loving brother, Edward, 14. He was charged with murder.

"I decided a year ago I'd have to kill Ted (Edward's nickname) because he was no good."

"I couldn't stand the thought of Ted being married and bringing kids into the world. Everything he did was bad."

"I'm not sorry a bit. If I had to relive it over again I would relive today with every detail the same."

Ginn made his statement as though trying to make deputies understand why it was necessary for him to shoot his brother seven times Wednesday in the family home. He also killed a pet Boston terrier dog, Razz, with one shot through the head.

You Can Now Have Three Big Degrees

Pampa Noon Lions Thursday learned that AB stands for more than a Bachelor of Arts Degree. In the words of Dr. Ben Lehmburg, a visiting minister, it may mean Ardent Believer. And that's not all. Take an MD and you're a Magnificent Dreamer. You're a DD and you're a Doer of Deeds.

Rev. Woodrow Adcock introduced Dr. Lehmburg following a Lions luncheon in the basement of the First Methodist Church, Colorado Springs, Colo., Dr. Lehmburg has been preaching at First Church, Pampa, this week. He is the author of "What's Right With the World."

"We have to broaden our lives," said the speaker. "It's a very small world. What narrow bounds we have made for ourselves." Dr. Lehmburg took note of the "Ediths" of the world who have "just a few interests, just a few friends." He quoted a contemporary novelist: "Edith was a little country, bounded on the north and the west by Edith."

Dr. Lehmburg called out for "a stubborn sort of faith." He said: "We must be ardent believers in ourselves. The trouble with the world is not conceit but too low an opinion of ourselves." He affirmed that we are what we think we are. We can also get an AB in honesty and can be "Ardent Believers in the Eternal," he holds. "There wouldn't be anything if there weren't dreams," he declared. "You drive over a bridge. First of all, the bridge had to be there. The American way of life is the result of a dream. It takes a genius to count his chickens before they're hatched. Anyone can count them after they're hatched. We've got to produce some dreams if we're going to save this country," he declared.

But "dreams can die unless given reality and immortality through action," Dr. Lehmburg added. "You can be doers of deeds."

With an Explorers' Basic Training Session completed in Skellytown, the Explorer instructors will hold sessions for Scout leaders in Pampa.

UN Expected To Reject Standby Force

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—The U. N. General Assembly was expected to vote today to reject President Eisenhower's call for a standby police force.

Eisenhower included the proposal in the six-point program he placed before the assembly's emergency session on the Middle East last Aug. 13. U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold recommended that no action was needed on the plan at this time.

The assembly also was expected to give overwhelming approval late today to its ninth call for reunification of Korea.

The Soviet bloc already has served notice that it considers the call invalid and predicted it would have no more chance of changing the situation in Korea than had the eight previous U. N. Korean resolutions.

The resolution, which passed the main political committee by a vote of 54-9 with 18 abstentions, was sponsored by the United States and 12 other countries. It calls for "genuinely free" elections to unite the peninsula now divided between the Republic of Korea and Communist North Korea.

The resolution continues for another year the U. N. commission for the unification and rehabilitation of Korea, whose abolition Russia had demanded. It also puts the Korean question back on next year's assembly agenda.

Thurman Is Still In Highland As Result Of Injuries

A. C. Thurman, Lefors, remained today in critical condition at Highland General Hospital with serious rib and chest injuries. Thurman, involved in a two-car wreck last Friday noon near Lefors, is being tended by Dr. Joe Donaldson of Pampa.

Texas highway patrolman "Rich" Richardson reported Thurman's car was struck virtually head-on on Friday by a car driven by Billy L. Owen, 29, Amarillo. Thurman was attempting a left turn off Market Road 2375 about two miles west of Lefors.

Owen, suffering a broken left leg, was taken by ambulance to Worley Hospital. He was released earlier this week.

Protection Of Ike By SS Is Lauded

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Backstairs at the White House: The files of the United States Secret Service bulge with information, descriptions and photographs of men and women who have made known their desire for intention to kill President Eisenhower.

However, there hasn't been an overt attempt on Eisenhower's life during his six years under the protection of the federal agents.

Much of the credit for such a clean record must go to the tacit protective techniques of the Secret Service, itself. But the absence of truly serious assassins is due in part to the very nature of the President. Apparently, he has not engendered the hatred or been in office during such highly emotional times as his two immediate predecessors, Presidents Roosevelt and Truman.

Two men are in mental hospitals now because they wrote the President rather stern threats, then followed up their letters by obtaining firearms.

It still puzzles veteran Secret Service men why would three tough convicts add to their troubles by writing death letters to a president? That happened in this administration. Three inmates of an Oklahoma reformatory fired letters at the White House, blaming the President for their plight and promising to now him down once they got their freedom.

Needless to say, they didn't get it.

Modern drugs, medical science and better living conditions have lowered the once terrible death rate of tuberculosis in Texas, but new cases continue to be found each year. In our country today an American dies of tuberculosis every forty minutes and each six minutes another person becomes ill with this disease.

THE 1959 LINCOLN

The 1959 Lincoln reveals its classic design consistency by retaining its clean, long, low sweeping lines. Styling refinements include an enlarged sculptured steel scallop that extends into the front door, an aluminum applique at the rear quarter, and a new front grille that extends into the headlamp area. A new wrap-around bumper encloses the grille. Overall length has been reduced two inches. Lincoln will have an improved all-welded unitized body that provides added strength and eliminates squeaks and rattles. It is now on display at the J. C. Daniel Motor Co.

Daniel Proclaims Christmas Seal Days

Governor Price Daniel proclaimed Christmas Seal Days from November 14 to December 24 as he viewed Designer Alfred Guerra's original drawing for the 1958 seals.

Guerra, a former San Antonio who now lives in New York, submitted the winning design for the seals in nation-wide competition. In the proclamation, Governor Daniel said, "Throughout most of the world tuberculosis remains as mankind's chief fatal disease."

with the king. He cashed the ace and king of diamonds and led a third trump. South won in dummy and discarded one club on the jack of spades.

Now South ruffed dummy's last diamond and led a small club toward dummy's ten. West went up with the jack, but now had to lead a club right back to declarer's ace-queen.

Both cars were heavily damaged, Richardson said. No charges have been brought against either driver, but an investigation continues.

It is worthy of note that there are lots of lines of defense, but not one will beat the hand if declarer plays it right.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter plans to announce her engagement at Thanksgiving and hopes to be married at Christmas. She is 22 and he is 24. My daughter was raised in a good Christian home and so was the young man. Even though they are practically engaged, do you think it is proper for this young man to come over every night in the week and stay until three and four in the morning? Naturally they are unchaperoned as who is able to stay up that late to watch them? Do parents have a right to set a time limit under these circumstances or not? I wish someone who has had the experience would help me.

DEAR ABBY: I have a hundred dollars cash for him, but my wife is the one who trained him. We were offered $600.00 for him and turned it down. The wife says she is entitled to the dog. I say he is mine. What do you say?

RALPH: You've got a legal problem. Better find yourself a dog-gone good attorney.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

If you want a collection of Abby's best letters and answers in one book, ask your bookdealer to get "DEAR ABBY" for you.

MRS. J.: "There's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip." Until your daughter and her fiancé are married they should have some sort of supervision. Why combine a maximum of temptation with a maximum of opportunity?

DEAR ABBY: Should a single woman ride in the front seat of a taxi if she knows the taxi driver is married? Yours truly, ELLA

RUTH MILLETT

Memo to men: Could your wife have written this letter?

"Please tell me what to do about a husband who comes home every night with the same line what a busy day he's had and how tired he is. I always listen sympathetically. But when I start to tell him about my day or what I've done he walks over and starts to read the mail or switches on the TV set, without even pretending to listen to what I have to say. "It's true, my days aren't too exciting, but I do sometimes have news I think he ought to be interested in. And, anyway, I feel he ought to listen when I talk, just out of common courtesy. "If we are driving in the car and I start to tell him something that I think is worth talking about, he interrupts to talk about the mileage, or turns the car radio up full blast. "This may sound like a small complaint. But it really hurts to be made to feel so stupid and unimportant. "Don't tell me to try not talking for an evening. If I do that he accuses me of being mad. What's the matter with my husband, anyhow?"

DEAR ABBY: My widowed father is driving me and my family crazy. He's lived with us since Mamma died four years ago and every year he is getting harder to live with. During a cocktail party he wandered out among the guests in his pajamas and asked for the olives and cherries from their drinks - then he turned on the TV so loud that nobody could talk. I promised Mamma I would keep him in my home, but it is going to be a decision between my husband and him pretty soon if something isn't done. He is moody, quarrelsome and sulky when he doesn't get his own way. How can I handle this problem?

DAUGHTER

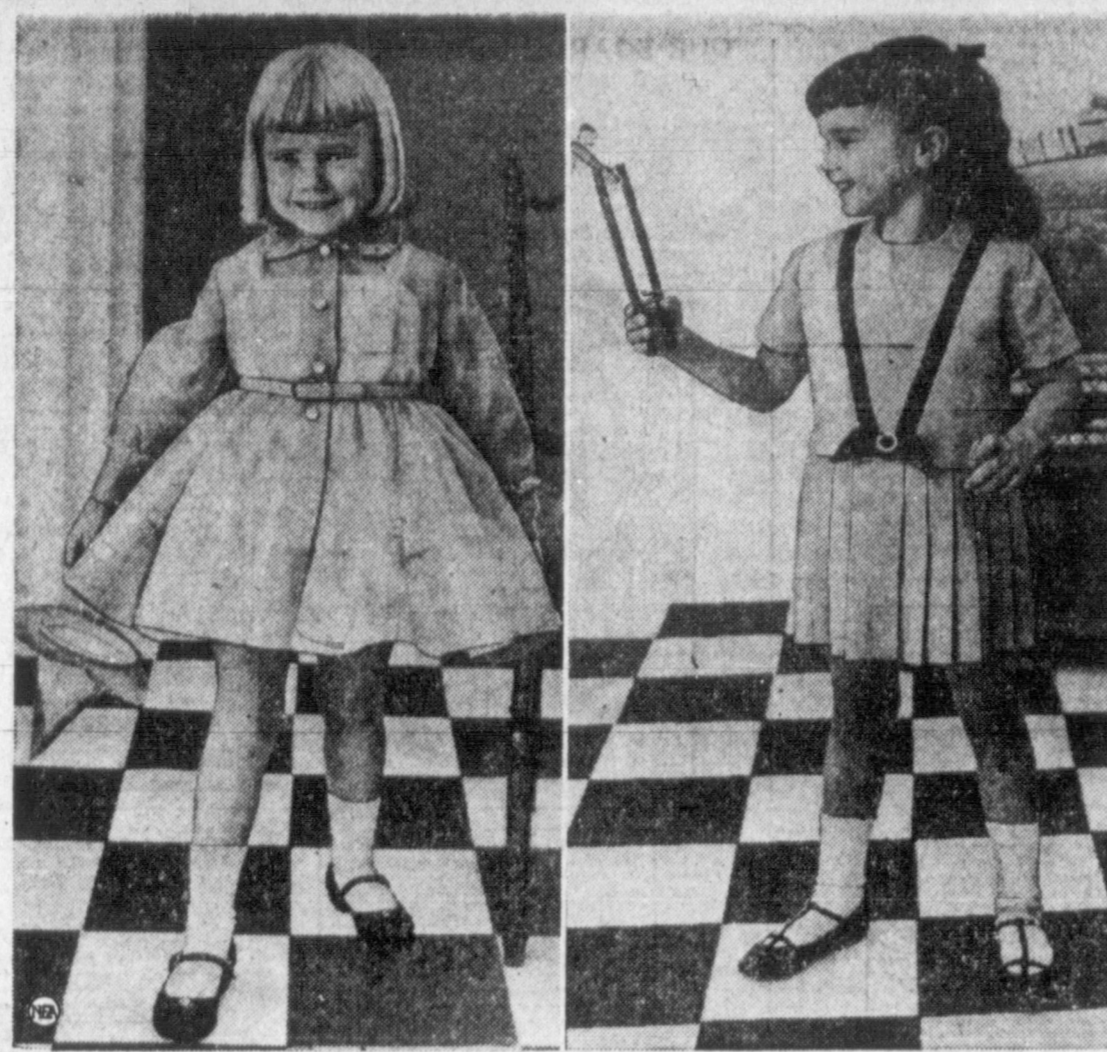

DEAR DAUGHTER: Use child psychology on him! When he misbehaves, send him to his room as you would a child and tell him he is not to return until he can behave. He needs firm discipline, but he also needs attention. Make him feel wanted and a part of the family, but let him know he will be punished if he doesn't behave.

DEAR ABBY: I notice you came running in defense of the women (as usual) when a mail carrier's wife complained about the indecent way some women answered their doors in the morning. Well, I am a postman and I can tell you from my own experience that I've had plenty of invitations from married women to come in for coffee "and."

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have been married for eight years and I won't go into details, but we are splitting up. My problem is about our dog. I got him when he was five weeks old and I paid one

Pre-Packaging Of Merchandise Might Result In Medium-Grade Products

By GAY PAULEY UPI Women's Editor NEW YORK (UPI) — We're headed for the age of the "bland" in consumer goods. It'll be a sameness brought about largely by the increase in pre-packaging, says a package designer. Saul Nesbitt predicts that within the next eight to 10 years, pre-packaging will just about reach the saturation point—almost all foods, much of our clothing and other consumer products will come in take-home-as-is packages. "See what will result?" said the industrial designer, who stands to profit from the trend, even as he realizes its flaws. "Sameness. Medium grade everything. Blandness. Look at beer already; all of the big brands now are light and less strong. "As companies get larger, they will try for products the least offensive to the greatest number. Taste soups. The big companies don't make a strongly flavored soup. To get one, you have to go to the small manufacturer who still turns out the gourmet product. Nesbitt, who has had his industrial design firm for 13 years, conceded that some consumer products will offer quite a packaging challenge. It isn't likely for instance that coats, suits or dresses will be sold this way; they need trying on and often alteration. "But already women are buying pre-packaged hose, slips, bras, girdles, and some accessories," he said. Furniture probably won't come pre-packaged although Nesbitt sees the day the housewife may look at one model displayed and order from it. Pre-packaging has its faults, but Nesbitt also listed some advantages—the biggest one, being in price. As labor costs soar, he said, merchandisers must find some way to keep prices down.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE Mrs. B. writes: "Four years ago when my only child was three years old, I was divorced from his father. But I did not tell him this until recently, always speaking about his father nicely. Now he's suddenly developed bedtime fears of nightmares and ghosts. As I work, we live with my parents who are very good to him. Why has Mrs. B. postponed telling her child of her divorce? "Was she ashamed to tell him? Did she hate confessing that she had deprived him of a "normal" home by choosing the wrong man for his father? The besetting problem of all divorced parents is their excessive sense of guilt toward their children. If Mrs. B. told the truth to her son apologetically, he might indeed respond with bedtime fears. For she was presenting herself to him as a bad mother who had injured him, and so invited him to expect more injury at her hands. Naturally he would clutch at her for reassurance at bedtime and other times of separation. It is essential for divorced parents to become aware of the guilt they feel toward children. Unless we recognize what a poor opinion we have of ourselves, we can't begin to see how unreasonable it is. So long as we're content to secretly believe ourselves bad parents, children give us an awful time. They fiercely resent our self-depreciation and will badger, demand and defy until we're able to say to ourselves, "I've had enough of this. I am sick and tired of being punished for my sins." This is a point that Mrs. B. may need to reach. To reach it she may acquire someone to help her. Not those parents who are so "good" to her little boy, but a priest, minister or social worker who can open her eyes to the truth that makes us free — the fact that she did the best she could. Guilt is an evil thing because it tells us that we should have done better than we could. It is hate of our limitations as they existed in the past. It imprisons us in a child's fairyland where no human limitations exist — and we can change the self we were as readily as we can fly over the moon.

Those attending were Mmes. Hugh Wilson, Charles Signal, W. J. Adams, Frank Guthrie, Lonnie Selby, Thomas Chitwood and Leo Field.

For co-eds who believe in playing no favorites, the Pfaff Sewing Institute suggests a happy way to advertise the fact—sew up a circular skirt of gay-colored felt and applique different school pennants around the bottom. A pennant skirt, good for classroom and party wear, throughout winter and spring, is an easy after class sewing project or a fun job to tackle during Thanksgiving or Christmas vacation. Of course, the girl whose loyalties are strictly of the "steady" variety can repeat one school pennant all around her skirt—and be immediately appointed head cheerleader for all school games. Whatever her preference, wearing her own pennant skirt is one sure way for a girl to be noticed in class, on campus and at parties.

Floral arrangements of fall flowers arranged by members of the Garden Club decorated the entertaining room. Mrs. J. H. Woodward welcomed the guests and introduced the George Sisters, Mrs. Calvin Cook, Mrs. Ronald Dieball and Mrs. Jack Wooster, who presented a program of old-fashioned songs and music. ## Stephens Replaces Smith For Plainview Contest and to balance some of their weight. The Bulldogs average more than 185 pounds in the line, and have a 220 pound fullback. The Harvesters scrimmaged and worked on almost every phase of their offense and defense, from Monday through Wednesday. They tapered off Thursday, and will have only a light workout today. Curfman and his assistants, Earl Matlock and Dwayne Lyons, have introduced what they call a new offense. "It's been working pretty well," said Curfman. Curfman added, half-jokingly, that the new offense "will either go for us or kill us."

Defensive starters for the Harvesters will be ends Harold Stokes and De Wayne Glover; tackle Benny Stout and Delbert Simmons; guards Bailey Clements and Larry Helaskell; linebackers Gary Matlock and Jim Scott; and halfbacks Williams, Stephens, and Urbanczyk.

Miami Can Clinch 1-B Title By Beating Booker Tonite

Miami can clinch the District 1-B (six-man) championship tonight by beating or tying Booker. The Warriors are favored, because the last time the two teams met, Miami won 56-6. That game was at Booker, and this one will be in Miami.

Booker however, is no pushover. They upset Mobeetie last week 19-15; and since being routed by Miami their only loss was a 20-13 defeat by Mobeetie, several weeks ago.

If Booker wins tonight, they will share the title with Miami and Mobeetie, as all three teams will then finish with 6-2 records. This is assuming that Mobeetie beats Channing.

In case of a two or three way tie, a coin flip may be necessary to decide the district's playoff representative.

In the big game for District 5-AA, Wellington travels to Quanah for a contest which will decide the runnerup position. Both the Sky-rockets and the Indians have 2-1

Rebels Rout Dalhart, 38-14; Close Successful First Year

DALHART — Robert E. Lee Junior High's rock-ribbed Rebels put the finishing touches on their very first football season here Thursday afternoon, ending up just as they started — on a winning note.

Despite a whopping 160 yards in penalties which were stepped off against them, the Rebels romped to a touchdown in each of the first three quarters and then picked two TD's on the scoreboard in the fourth period to stagger the Dalhart Junior High Cubs, 38-14.

The wrap-up victory gave Coach Norman Phillips and Lester Remsey a fine 6-3 season record. The coaches cleared their bench, letting 48 players log action, including a dozen eighth graders who made the trip.

Dalhart opened up like they meant business, launching a 54-yard march after taking the opening kickoff to score and leap to a 6-0 advantage. But halfback W. E. Pool, a silk southpaw aerial artist on the running-pass play, connected on the first of three touchdowns, hitting halfback Charlie Fant with a 16-yarder to cap a 63-yard drive knotting the score at 6-6. But Crossland sped across the goal on a run for the two extra points, but an off-side penalty nullified his effort and a similar play from the eight failed to click.

The Rebels, however, forged to a 14-6 halftime edge when Crossland climaxed a 43-yard drive by cracking over two yards out. Robby Robison hit the line for the two-point conversion.

Crossland triggered a 22-yard scoring pass to right end, George Simmons, for the third Pampa tally in the third stanza and Crossland bucked the line for the two-point conversion, giving the Rebels a 22-6 lead entering the fourth period.

Dalhart crept to 22-14 early in the fourth on a 40-yard TD dash and a successful two-point conversion, but the Big Grey iced the game with two more scores; Pool passing 10-yards to Robison following a 58-yard march and then finding Simmons in the open on a 43-yard aerial thrust with only 43 seconds left in the game. Robison tallied the two-point conversion after his TD and sub left halfback, Gerrit Owens, belted over for the two-point conversion after the finale counter.

Both teams booted the ball all over the field, the Rebels fumbling eight times with Robison losing four bobbles himself. However, James Webb, rugged Red Leslie, recovered three Dalhart fumbles himself to help ease the strain.

Besides Webb, defensive standouts for Robert E. Lee were Van Melton, Roy Dyer, Dennis Mills and Randy Haralson.

Score by quarters:
Robert E. Lee 6 8 8 16-38
Dalhart 6 0 0 8-14

Monterey Downs Shockers; 42-12

Monterey B team came into town Thursday with 18 wins to their credit in two years — and they made it 19 in a hurry.

The underdog Pampa Shockers held the highly-rated Monterey squad to a 6-0 lead until just moments before halftime, but then the Lubbock gridders struck for two quick touchdowns to take a 20-0 halftime lead.

The Shockers outscored Monterey in the third period, 12 to 8, as they tallied two touchdowns. Steve Dobbin passed 30 yards to Jim Wilburn in the end zone for the first Shocker score.

The Shockers marched 60 yards to their second touchdown, as Larry Taylor ran the final five yards to paydirt. Conversion tries failed after both touchdowns.

Monterey scored twice in the last quarter. Shocker Coach Weldon (Bird Dog) Trice used nearly all his players in the closing minutes of the game.

An alert pass defense kept Monterey from running the score higher. Roy Don Stephens, John Spotts, and Jimmy Storms all intercepted Monterey passes.

Other players who looked good on defense were Taylor, Terry Rexroat, Lynn Schoolfield, and Charlie Giese.

The loss gave the Shockers a season record of 5-4.

Bowl Bids At Stake

Conference championships and bowl berths dominate Saturday's college football program with top-ranked Louisiana State and Oklahoma heavy favorites to land the lucrative New Year's Day assignments in the Sugar and Orange bowls.

LSU, one of only two major perfect record teams in the country, is a solid 15-point favorite to whip Mississippi State in a night game at Jackson, Miss., while Oklahoma, ranked sixth, is a 16-point favorite to whip Missouri at Norman, Okla.

Clemson, another team with an eye on a bowl berth, is in a strong position to land the assignment alongside of Oklahoma if it beats North Carolina State, while California, which has the inside track to the Rose Bowl berth against Iowa, can begin getting ready for the New Year's Day festivities if it defeats Washington.

California 4-1 is favored over Washington in their Pacific Coast game at Seattle, but Washington State 5-2 and Oregon State 4-2 are in contending positions if the Golden Bears falter. State plays outside opponent College of Pacific, while Oregon State meets Stanford.

Outlaw Baseball Loop Threatened

NEW YORK (UPI) — Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) warned organized baseball today to accept a proposed third major league as "free and equal" but baseball men stressed "orderly expansion" as opposed to the formation of an outlaw circuit.

"Organized baseball must accept any new league or be branded a monopoly under federal anti-trust laws," said Celler after a New York City baseball committee announced plans to form a third major league "inside or outside" the current structure of organized baseball. "I applaud such action although I expect terms—like the New York Yankees will attempt to veto the plan."

Baseball officials, from Commissioner Ford Fick to executives of organized baseball, are interested in a third league "provided New York is the leading member."

"If we can proceed under the umbrella of currently organized major league baseball, that would be fine," Shea said. "If not, we are willing to go ahead on our own."

possible new league, however, sought to head off a "war" such as rocked baseball when the Federal League was formed in 1914 and plagued pro football when the All America Conference was created in opposition to the National Football League in 1946.

Other Cities Interested

The sensational proposal to form a third major league "inside or outside" the current structure of organized baseball — was made Thursday by William Shea, chairman of the New York City Mayor's Baseball Committee which has been working to obtain a franchise since the Giants and Dodgers left town. Shea said Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, Atlanta, Denver, Toronto, Miami, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Detroit and several West Coast cities were interested in a third league "provided New York is the leading member."

"If we can proceed under the umbrella of currently organized major league baseball, that would be fine," Shea said. "If not, we are willing to go ahead on our own."

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Rev. PAUL F. BRYANT, Pastor
Bethel Assembly of God Church
Hamilton & Worrell Streets

THE WORD OF GOD

II Timothy 3:15-17 The holy scriptures are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus. All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works.

Romans 10:17 So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God.

One of the main sources of power in the life of George Mueller of Bristol, England, was his devotion to the Bible. He read it reverently every day, and gave the following principles for reading the Bible for personal profit:

- Read regularly. Read alternately from the Old and New Testaments. Begin at the beginning of each. Mark where you leave off each day. When you have finished each Testament, begin it again.
- Read prayerfully. Seek carefully the help of the Holy Spirit so that He will enlighten you.
- Read with meditation. Ponder the truth so that it may be applied to your heart. Better read a little and think much than read much and think little.
- Read with reference to yourself. Never read only with a view to instructing others. Ask yourself, "How does this affect me, my faith, my life, my service?"
- Read with faith. Not critically, but to discover the revealed Word of God. Rest upon God's promises, warnings and commands as of vital importance.
- Read to carry into practice. Accept God's Word as being the revelation of His will. He expects us to do as well as to know.
- Read it to find Christ in the whole Word of God. As He is promised, incarnate, atoning for sin, resurrected, ever living, coming again.
