Dulles Claims Russia Won't Risk War On Berlin Issue

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
United Press International

PARIS (UPI)—The Atlantic Pact Council unanimously rejected the Kremlin ultimatum on Berlin today after hearing Secretary of State John Foster Dulles express confidence that Russia will not risk war on the issue.

The Council decided at a secret session, however, to leave the door open for possible East-West negotiations on the whole question of Germany which might restore Berlin to its "rightful place as the capital of a united Germany."

A formal declaration covering these points will be published later today.

The official pact spokesman said Dulles told the Council that giving an inch to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Berlin would be "a beginning that might end in disaster."

The U. S. leader told America's allies that they are strong enough to ignore the Kremlin's propaganda threats.

"We do not need to worry about Soviet threats . . ." he said. "I am quite certain the Soviet Union will not risk war over Berlin. Therefore, we can proceed with confidence."

Before beginning the 2½ hour closed session, the Council heard a "tough, hard-hitting" speech by its president, Dutch Foreign Minister J.M.A.H. Luns.

Conference sources said Luns told the council that Western abandonment of Berlin would amount to "abdication by the free world."

Delegates leaving the secret meeting said there was "complete unanimity" on the decision that the West should reject Russia's demand for the conversion of Communist-encircled West Berlin into an undefended "free city."

They said the United States, Britain, France, West Germany, Canada and Italy were appointed to a committee which will draw up the formal declaration on Berlin.

Earlier today, authoritative diplomatic sources said the pact, despite its unanimity on the questions of Germany and Berlin, has developed "alarming rifts" on other issues.

France at Odds
They said France is at odds with the United States and Britain over a French proposal for Big Three "leadership" of the pact, and with Britain alone in a dispute over European trade.

Today's council decision ratified the stand taken by the United States, Britain, West Germany and France in preliminary talks here. The Western "Big Four" had been waiting only for formal council approval before drafting notes to the Kremlin.

CLEARED OF CHARGE

Harvesters Get District Okey

By RICK PEZDIRTZ
Daily News Managing Editor

AMARILLO — Coach Clifton McNeely and the Pampa Harvesters, defending state schoolboy champions of AAAA basketball, were given a clean bill of health by the executive committee of District 3-AAAA this morning.

Wild rumors that had been floating about the surface, and that had even reached the office of Dr. Rhea Williams, head of the Texas Interscholastic League, were thus curbed.

The unfounded rumors, which originated from an unknown source, had alleged charges of Pampa's scrimmaging Clarendon Junior College before the Nov. 1 starting date set aside as the first possible date for AAAA high school basketball scrimmages of an interschool nature to take place.

Pampa High Principal, Jack Edmondson brought the subject up upon request of Charles Matthews, executive committee chairman from Plainview. Edmondson presented a notarized letter submitted by Buddy Travis, athletic director and head coach at Clarendon Junior College, stating that McNeely and his Harvesters basketball squad scrimmaged for the first time in 1958 at Clarendon on Nov. 4, and that the two schools had not conducted any inter-school scrimmages prior to that date.

The letter was also signed by Mr. Pinkerton, president of Clarendon Junior College, and superintendent of schools in Clarendon.

It was decided, however, that the written statement from Clarendon officials, plus oral statements from both McNeely and Edmondson, should be written into the executive committee's minutes to protect District 3-AAAA, should the question arise later in the season from schools outside of 3-AAAA in any playoffs the Harvesters might take part in, should they repeat as conference champions.

Knox Kinard, Pampa school superintendent, stated to the committee, "We at Pampa would only want to field an eligible team, in any competitive athletic contest."

He stated that both McNeely and Edmondson would be happy to submit notarized statements on behalf of the Harvesters.

In other business, the executive committee set dates for spring events. April 17-18 was established as dates for conference track, field, and tennis meets, to be held in Amarillo. April 1 has been set aside for one-act play competition, and April 11 has been set aside for the literary events contest. Both of the latter will be held at West Texas State College in Canyon.

The committee also approved the 1959 baseball schedule and the 1959-60 basketball schedule. They will study further whether 1959 golf competition will be held on a round robin basis.

Pampa Man Shot In Family Fight

By MARVIN OLSEN
Daily News Staff Writer

James Guffey, about 35, was shot and wounded late Monday afternoon during a family argument in his home at 1056 Huff Rd.

Held under suspicion is his wife, Mrs. Jennie Guffey, 27.

Guffey, shot through the lower abdomen, is reported in "good" condition by doctors at Highland General Hospital.

Police Chief Jim Conner reported Guffey was shot at about 5:30 p.m. in the kitchen of the Guffey home. The weapon used was a .32 caliber foreign-made pistol. One shot was fired. Two bullets were still in the gun.

Mrs. Guffey Monday night was able to give a barely coherent account of the shooting.

"I wanted to be left alone," she told officers. "I didn't want him bothering me."

Police reported she recently began divorce proceedings from her husband. Mrs. Guffey last night told officers she and Guffey and a family friend, Maurice "Jumbo" Roberts were talking in the living room before the shooting took place.

Guffey got up and went into the kitchen and she followed. Roberts stayed behind.

If it comes from a hdw. store, we have it, Lewis Hdw. adv.

She said her husband drew the pistol from a kitchen shelf and began threatening her. She walked toward him and he placed the gun in a back pocket.

She said she reached behind him, got the gun and backed away. She said she warned him to leave but he came towards her and she fired. The bullet struck Guffey in the abdomen.

Roberts drove Guffey to Highland hospital in Guffey's Ford. While enroute his car was chased by Officers A. B. Turner and Bill Robinson.

When they learned Guffey had been shot they drove to the Guffey home where Mrs. Guffey was taken into custody.

The gun was found later under the front seat of Guffey's car.

Guffey is an auto parts salesman for an Oklahoma City, Okla., firm.

6-4 YOUTH ADMITS HE BUTCHERED 5 OF FAMILY

By CLARENCE RAWLINGS
United Press International

EL CAJON, Calif. (UPI) — A lanky 16-year-old runaway youth tearfully admitted Monday night that he killed the wife and four children of his benefactor because one of the children "wouldn't stop screaming." The youth was captured by an off-duty policeman.

"I guess I just flipped my lid," 6-foot, 4-inch Carl Eder told police.

"I pray that God will take mercy on him," grieving Thomas

Pendergast, 39, husband and father of the victims said.

"Why did you do it? Why? Why?" Pendergast asked Eder when he confronted Eder, a runaway from Irondequoit, N.Y., at the police station.

Surrenders Peaceably
Eder was captured Monday night after a civil engineer told an off-duty police officer of seeing him in San Diego, about 12 miles from the scene of the killings. The officer arrested the youth who surrendered peaceably.

Nobody In Oswego Dreams Of A White Christmas Now!

By ANDREW PURCELL
United Press International

OSWEGO, N.Y. (UPI)—No one here is dreaming of a white Christmas.

With nearly a season's worth of snow already on the ground all the melodic sentimentality in the world would have a hard time getting anyone to wish for any more. The 85-inches of snow began falling on Dec. 7.

For a while it brought normal life to a standstill in this northern New York community. And although normalcy is slowly returning it will be a long time before any one will forget this particular December 7 and its aftermath.

The snow, piled into huge drifts by winds and packed into solid walls 15 feet high by plows, brought hardship and some danger to the 23,000 residents of this community at the southeastern bend of Lake Ontario. But no real crisis developed.

Little Car Travel
Despite the tons of snow which fell between Sunday and Thursday, all but the sick or elderly managed to get in and out of their homes with little trouble. Food and supplies were available. It was just a little more difficult than usual to get them.

Until the end of the week, for example, there was virtually no passenger car travel. But anyone who wanted food could get it by trudging waist-deep through the snow to the city's main business area.

Police, Red Cross and civil defense personnel were kept busy bringing supplies to people who could not get out for them. While many neighborhood grocery stores had to close because of a lack of deliveries, supermarkets in the downtown section operated as usual.

Tavern-Business Good
A tavern-owner reported that at the height of the snow-siege, "business was twice as good as any warm summer day." He attributed his good fortune to the fact that his was one of the few establishments in the area which kept a path open from the street, where pedestrians found it easier going than on the walks to his door.

Although many industries were shuttered, along with all schools in the city, the snow provided work for many. Police and firemen were kept busy directing emergency service for 18 to 20 hours a day. And the regional unemployment office channeled jobless workers to snow shoveling chores at $2 an hour.

It's hard to estimate the cost of the storm to the city. Mayor Vincent Corsall Monday night asked the Common Council for an extra $20,000 to help handle the snow expenses.

Brush Fire Nears Populated Area

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Calif. (UPI)—A gigantic brush fire that has blackened nearly 40,000 acres and destroyed 17 homes raged out of control today toward a populated area.

About 1,100 firefighters manned lines around the 90-mile perimeter of the blaze. Officials reported the blaze has been about 50 per cent contained but said it was burning out of control along the north and headed toward an area known as Trabuco Canyon.

Elmer Osterman, fire coordinator for the State Division of Forestry said the blaze at its closest point was about a mile and a half from homes in the canyon but that they were in no immediate danger.

Firemen said depending on weather conditions complete control could not be expected before late today.

The huge blaze, the second large brush fire in southern California in two weeks, broke out Sunday and, pushed along by 40-mile-an-hour winds, spread quickly through the tinder-dry canyons and mountains in Cleveland National Forest.

Walls of flame 40 and 50 feet high cut a swath through the brush and small tree-covered canyons and steep mountain-sides to San Juan Hot Springs about 10 miles north of this historic mission town and destroyed 17 summer cabins.

All residents in the burned area have been evacuated and no injuries have been reported.

MAO RUMORED READY TO QUIT AS LEADER

TOKYO (UPI) — Experts on Red China said today Mao Tse-tung may be preparing to step down as head of the Chinese Communist government to make a final, supreme bid for equal billing with Karl Marx and V.I. Lenin as communism's top thinker.

This was suggested as an important reason behind Mao's rumored decision to turn his job as chairman of Red China's government over to Marshal Chu Teh next month. Mao would still wield power as chairman of the Communist Party.

A Taipei dispatch said Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek met today with his top aides to study the reports, first brought to Taipei by Nationalist agents on the mainland.

Some Nationalist government sources speculated that a rift had developed inside the Peiping hierarchy, but most sources noted Mao would retain power as party boss.

Nationalist newspapers speculated that Mao had run into trouble with the Kremlin because he moved too fast in setting up the giant communes under which all men and women in Red China are organized into labor battalions.

Tokyo experts said Mao would need most of his energy to meet what may be the greatest challenge of his career—making a success out of the people's communes.

There is a strong possibility that Mao is dissatisfied with the way these giant labor-camps have been operating.

He wants more time to whip them into shape, for his reputation as a Communist thinker—and probably the future of the nation he brought into being—may depend largely upon the communes.

Top rating as a Communist theoretician is something Mao has been shooting for ever since he defied Marxist-Leninist theory in the 1930s and got away with it.

City Commission Sets Zone Hearing

Clinton Evans, a director of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority, dropped in on a Pampa City Commission meeting this morning to report on a water rate schedule proposed Monday in Plainview. Pampa's rate, as proposed by directors, would be 15.64 cents per thousand gallons of raw water plus five cents for treatment costs.

Under a plan proposed by Amarillo, Pampa's rate would be 14.46 cents per thousand raw gallons plus five cents. Evans recommended the Amarillo plan to the City Commission.

The Commission has set a zoning hearing for Jan. 13 at 10 a.m. At this time zoning changes will be considered on N. Hobart, aimed at keeping out undesirable types of businesses.

Commissioners looked over a plat of the Terra Alta Addition and decided to hold it over until their next meeting.

cancelation was issued, correcting an error on the tax rolls.

The question of trash rates and taxes brought two individuals before the Commission. Jake Sell, proprietor of the Brown Derby, 117 W. Foster, contended that his business establishment was misclassified for Dempster-Dumpster rates.

It appeared that a classification of "Cafe" does not apply here since no meals are served. However, trash rates are determined by floor space and the case was shot back to the water office, where trash rates are payable.

L. L. Sone asked for the Commission's opinion on the tax status of his Berger Highway filling station. Sone said that his station has been out of operation for a year. Commissioners stated that tax assessments are made on the basis of property valuations rather than on income. Taxes are based on the valuation as of Jan. 1.

4 Belgians Rescued By Soviets

LONDON (UPI) — Four Belgian explorers lost in the Antarctic since Thursday were flown back to their base early today by a Russian pilot in a rescue that cut across East-West differences.

Moscow Radio said in a broadcast heard here that the Belgians were well and apparently none the worse for their experience of being stranded at the bottom of the world. They were delivered to the Belgian King Baudouin base by Soviet Polar Pilot Viktor Perov, who spotted them in the crystal ice mountains 130 miles from the King Baudouin base.

The four Belgians were expedition leader Gaston de Gerache, Prince Antoine de Ligne, Jacques Loddys and Charles Huishagen. Their plane crash-landed in some of the wildest country in the world.

Russian polar exploration crews based at the Soviet Mirny establishment stayed true to the code of the snowy wastes and immediately volunteered help when the Belgians were reported missing last Thursday.

The rescue came just in time. The Belgians' emergency food supply was sufficient to last until Dec. 22, but they already had started carefully rationing it.

Perov, chief pilot attached to a Soviet expedition in the Antarctic, found them after several unsuccessful sweeps over the area. He

Warming Trend Promises Break In East Cold Wave

United Press International
A warming trend surging out of the plains today promised at least a temporary break in a record December cold wave gripping the East.

The warmer weather, boosting readings an average of 10 to 15 degrees in its path, was expected to reach into the East today, although it may arrive too late to prevent damage to northern Florida's citrus and vegetable crops.

Overnight readings again plunged to near or below zero in the Great Lakes region and the Northeast, with below freezing weather ranging southward through the Ohio Valley into the Gulf Coast states.

Atlanta, Ga., had an early morning reading of 25 degrees, while Kansas City in the warmer belt recorded a 27-degree temperature at the same time.

Snow flurries swirled across the Great Lakes region during the night and into parts of the Ohio Valley and New England with the heaviest snow falling in western New York.

The weather bureau at Buffalo, N.Y., warned of a 5-to-10-inch snow accumulation in the area with poor visibility due to blowing and drifting snow. Speed limits were cut from 60 to 35 miles an hour on the New York Thruway south of Buffalo to the Pennsylvania border and in the Niagara and Tonawanda sections.

In the northern Great Lakes, where readings again skidded below the zero mark, Coast Guard ice breakers cleared a path for freighters to return to their winter berths before the Soo-locks closed at midnight, officially ending the 1958 shipping season. The stragglers were routed through the St. Mary's River into the lower lakes.

Liberal Democrats Challenge Rayburn

By FRANK ELAZER
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Liberal Democrats in the House put it squarely up to Speaker Sam Rayburn today to support their proposed change in House rules. Otherwise they said much of the legislation to which the Democratic Party is pledged probably can't be enacted by the 86th Congress.

They denied they were in revolt against the House leadership. They pledged their wholehearted support and admiration for Rayburn and House Democratic Leader John W. McCormack (Mass.).

Without the speaker's support, liberal spokesmen said, they haven't a chance to put across the curb they seek on broad existing authority of the conservative House Rules Committee.

They said that as a group they probably won't even try unless the speaker gives his assent. However, some individuals among the 10 or so members for whom the group claimed to speak said they will make the pitch anyway, first in the Democratic caucus and then in the House, on opening day of the new Congress.

Drafting Messages
Group leaders, including Rep. Frank Thompson Jr. (N.J.), were drafting messages for Rayburn and McCormack today outlining the liberal contentions and suggesting conferences with the two leaders sometime before Jan. 7, the first day of the session.

At a closed meeting Monday attended by about 30 of the group plus their aides agreement was reached on three proposals to assure that conservatives on the rules committee could not block liberal legislation on such subjects as alum clearance, civil rights, and school aid.

If approved by the House, the proposals would:

- Change the party ratio on the rules group from eight Democrats and four Republicans to nine Democrats and three Republicans, with the expectation that Rayburn would appoint a liberal to the extra Democratic post and thus thwart a conservative coalition that frequently has ruled the committee.
- Restore the so-called 21-day rule that was in effect during the 81st Congress, limiting to three weeks the period in which bills approved by legislative committees can be halted in the rules committee en route to the House floor. Now the committee sometimes can hold bills indefinitely.
- Increase the Democratic-Republican ratio on all House committees to reflect the 385 to 153 margin the Democrats will hold over Republicans in the House in the new Congress as a result of the election on Nov. 4.

A liberal-conservative fight also is in store for the Senate on opening day of the new Congress. The liberals there seek to impose new control on the filibuster, traditional weapon of the Senate's Dixie bloc against civil rights legislation.

Barge Blaze Under Control

PASCO, Wash. (UPI)—A barge unloading its cargo of gasoline exploded today causing a fire which threatened 16 storage tanks before it was brought under control.

The barge, City of Longview No. 535, had pumped out most of its cargo of 328,000 gallons but still had about 30,000 gallons aboard when the explosion occurred.

The blast rattled windows a mile away and hurled a portion of the superstructure 15 feet above water and caused a fire. Flames swept beneath the dock causing about $25,000 damage to the dock, Pasco Fire Chief Lytle Conroy said.

Walter Pirtle, 28, Kennewick, Wash., was hurled into the water but made it to shore and was taken to a hospital here where his condition was reported as fair.

The storage tanks, about 150 feet from the barge fire, were kept drenched to prevent any explosion.

Cause of the explosion was not known. Firemen fought the blaze for more than three hours before bringing it under control.

The occupation of West Berlin." Dulles' Sees De Gaulle Secretary of State John Foster Dulles met Premier Charles de Gaulle Monday to discuss France's differences with its allies, notably over the idea that the United States, Britain and France should form a sort of "super-group" to formulate policy for the entire pact.

De Gaulle was said to be disturbed over the U.S. failure to take sides in last week's U.N. vote on Algeria.

The British-French trade wrangle was the chief subject at a meeting of the Council of the Organization for European Economic Cooperation, which adjourned Monday until Jan. 15 without solving the problem.

Britain is trying to set up a 17-nation "free trade area" in Western Europe, while France favors a six-nation "common market." The controversy could kick off a trade war capable of tearing the pact wide open.

Fine Levied For Firearms
Sammy Dale Floyd, 21, was fined $100 plus costs this morning after pleading guilty to a charge of unlawfully carrying firearms. Floyd, who resides at 1123 S. Dwight, was arrested at 7:15 p.m. Monday following an exchange of words with his father-in-law at 832 E. Denver. The gun, a pistol, was found in Floyd's car.

The misunderstanding followed a difference of opinion over the telephone between Floyd's father, J. B. Floyd, and Floyd's separated wife.

The elder Floyd, charged with profanity over the phone, told county Judge Bruce Parker this morning he was not guilty. His bond was set at $500.

'I Was Duped' Says Knutson

By TOM NELSON
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Coya Knutson's husband charged today that his wife's political foe duped him into making his public "Coya, come home" appeal.

Andrew Knutson testified he was driven to sign the appeal by persistent rumors that his wife was "running around" with her administrative assistant Bill Kjeldahl, and was being dictated to by Kjeldahl.

The 50-year-old Oklee, Minn., hotel operator admitted he was "steamed up" by the stories which circulated before the Nov. 4 election in which his wife was defeated. But he said he now believes they were untrue.

The blond Democratic congressman sat at the side of the room as Knutson testified before a House elections subcommittee. She blinked frequently and appeared to be fighting back tears.

Knutson said he did not write the "Coya come home" letter which was issued in the form of a press release May 4. He said it was handed to him by a man named Jimmy Turgeon after a meeting he attended at Turgeon's home.

The letter, which drew national attention to the Minnesota congressional campaign, called on Mrs. Knutson to quit Congress and return home to be with Andy. It also contained unfavorable comments about Kjeldahl.

Knutson said he accused Turgeon had written the press release. He said "it sure surprises me" to hear that a handwriting expert testified the writing was that of Maurice O. Nelson, an officer in the campaign of Mrs. Knutson's Republican foe, Odin Langen. Nelson denied it.

Knutson testified he signed a typewritten copy of the press release because "they told me that Kjeldahl was dictating to my wife and how they were running around together."

Under questioning, he said most of the stories were relayed to him by Mrs. Millie Melby, operator of a store across the street from his hotel.

Mrs. Knutson's lawyer, Walter Surrey, asked if Knutson felt "you were used by opponents of your wife."

"Yes, I do," Knutson replied. "Knutson said he would not have signed the press release had he known that Nelson drafted it and that Democrats opposed to his wife were working with Republicans."

Committee Will Probe Hayes Defeat
WASHINGTON (UPI)—A House elections subcommittee probably will launch a formal investigation of the Arkansas election defeat of veteran Democratic Rep. Brooks Hays, informed sources said today.

Segregationist Dale Alford, a write-in candidate, defeated Hays for Arkansas' 5th District seat in the House of Representatives.

Chairman Clifford Davis (D-Tenn.) said the committee would decide at a closed session today just how far the committee will go in exploring the Hays case and others brought before it.

The subcommittee Monday heard charges by John F. Wells, a Little Rock, Ark., weekly newspaper publisher, that forces of Gov. Orval E. Faubus were responsible for "irregularities and violations of law" that defeated Hays in the Nov. 4 election.

Alford denied that he and Faubus engaged in any conspiracy in the race.

If the subcommittee decides to look into the election with greater scrutiny, it will have to move swiftly. The committee goes out of business Jan. 3.

Matador Missiles Now In Korea

SEOUL, Korea (UPI)—The United Nations Command announced today that Matador missiles capable of carrying atomic warheads have been brought into South Korea to boost its defenses against a huge Communist military buildup in North Korea.

The United Nations Command said introduction of the missiles was "in accordance with the spirit and intent of the UNC position stated at the 13th MAC (Military Armistice Commission) on June 27, 1957."

At that meeting, the UNC charged that the Communists had built up military capability "vastly superior to that which they possessed when the armistice agreement was signed."

This Red buildup, the UNC charged, seriously upset the relative military balance which the armistice agreement was intended to preserve, "since the UNC had scrupulously observed the armistice terms prohibiting such buildup."

The UNC said "it considered itself entitled to be relieved of corresponding obligations" of the agreement "until the relative military balance has been restored and the Communists, by their actions, have demonstrated that willingness to comply."

Time Short In Berlin, Says Commies

BERLIN (UPI)—The East German Communists told the West today that time is running out for West Berlin and that the city's future must be negotiated.

The statement in the official Deutschland coincided with Soviet and satellite calls for a Big Four summit conference.

The newspaper sharply attacked the Western foreign ministers' decision in Paris to reject Soviet proposals for the conversion of West Berlin into a "free city" and said "the Soviet note must be answered, the future of West Berlin must be negotiated."

One Soviet call for a summit conference was contained in a note to all members of NATO last week. This was backed by a Polish and East German Communist communique issued after six days of talks in Poland.

Neues Deutschland said the West must know that it cannot get by with simple rejection of Communist plans and reminded it that the original Soviet proposal made on Nov. 27 contained a six month deadline.

SHADES OF THE SULLIVANS

It may be best not to mention the Army, Air Force or Marines around Pampa's Rexroat brothers, Norman, Jimmy or Billy (left to right above). Like the five famous Sullivan brothers of World War II, they are Navy men first, last and always. Billy, (Seaman First Class Rexroat) who joined nine months ago, has talked Jimmy into joining, and now Norman, a 17-year-old Pampa high school senior, plans to sign up after graduation in January. Jimmy will be sworn in Dec. 28. Under peacetime Navy rules the Rexroats will be allowed to serve together. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Rexroat, 1020 Neel Rd.

Pampan Studying In Mexico City

MEXICO CITY (SpI) — In the land of ancient archeological ruins and ultra-modern architecture, Roger Allen Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Long of 114 N. West, is studying at Mexico City College for the fall quarter. The institution, whose motto is "Wisdom - Peace - Brotherhood", is the only American-type liberal arts college south of the Rio Grande and awards B.A. and M.A. degrees.

In the 18 years since its founding by two American Educators, Dr. Paul V. Murray and Dr. Henry L. Cain, the college has grown from a student body of seven to an average enrollment of 800. Graduates from MCC have entered the diplomatic corps, foreign trade, the business world, engineering, the teaching field, and many of them have continued their academic studies to achieve doctorate degrees. Long attended Pampa High School and served the Navy for four years before coming to MCC. A fine arts major, he is in a position to study the works and attend the lectures of some of the most famous artists in contemporary Mexico and America.

Modern, bustling (5 million) Mexico City is located only 13 minutes distance from the appealing site of the campus in the hills of the Nevado de Toluca which overlook the twin majesty of Mexico's most famous volcanoes, Ixtaccihuatl and Popocatepetl. The sprawling, cosmopolitan center, third largest in the western hemisphere offers the student a bewildering choice of interests including symphonic concerts, museums, theaters, art shows, bull fights and the fastest sport in the world, jai alai. All classes are taught in English by an internationally-trained faculty. Buy practically all students learn Spanish not only in the classroom but by their daily association with the people of Mexico. Most of them live in college-approved private homes and as a re-

Contract For Gas Purchasing Filed By Pioneer

An application for the approval of a contract covering the purchase of gas in the Merizon area of Iron County has been filed with the Federal Power Commission by Pioneer Gathering System, Inc. The announcement was made by Burton P. Smith, President of the company.

The proposed contract with The Atlantic Refining Company will provide for the purchase of gas from wells which have been heretofore flared for lack of an available market.

To tie the wells to its system, Pioneer Gathering has made application to the FPC for approval to construct seven miles of three-inch high-pressure pipeline. Pioneer Gathering System, Inc., a subsidiary of Pioneer Natural Gas Company, expects to begin construction of the line early next year.

Army Pains Russ In Various Ways

By VERNON SCOTT UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Private Russ Tamblin stopped by Movietown for their first time since beginning of a two-year hitch in the Army and said, "the country must feel mighty safe with Elvis, me and Lindsay Crosby in the service."

"We could sing the enemy to death."

The jaunty young star is on a 21-day furlough and dreads returning to Fort Sill, Okla., for the holidays.

"I guess I should be looking forward to it," he grinned. "The colonel promised to have breakfast with the troops in the mess hall Christmas morning. How're you gonna top that?"

Russ says the Army is working overtime to make a man of him, and at the same time convinced the 24-year-old actor that he's no different from other GIs.

Given Lecture "When I took basic training an officer called me into his office and lectured me for 20 minutes on how I would be treated just like the other soldiers," Russ related. "He said I was no different from anyone else."

"But I made the mistake of asking him if he was going to call in the other 499 guys for the same lecture. I ended up scrubbing floors for a week."

Russ is paid $76 a month, compared to $100 a week he earned at MGM while starring in "Tom Thumb." His furlough has been spent touring 11 cities plugging the picture — without pay.

"You wouldn't believe some of the things that have happened to me in the eight months I've been in the Army," Russ said. "I'm in the entertainment section of special services. But I don't do any entertaining except to hand out programs for a little theater group, and once I gave out certificates for children who had read 12 or more books during the summer.

Crowns A Queen "Oh, yeah, I did go to Wichita Falls, Texas, to crown the fire prevention queen. And the Army gave me a dollar to cover gasoline expenses."

"During a training session we were forced to charge up a big hill firing empty rifles at a sign reading 'I am the enemy.' We were yelling 'bang bang' instead of shooting bullets."

"It struck me so funny I sat down and laughed till I cried."

"Then a big red-faced sergeant rushed up to me boiling mad. He said, 'that's the trouble with you actors. You all live in a world of make-believe.' Then I really broke up."

Young Tamblin says there is a possibility he will make PFC within the next month or two, but he isn't excited about the prospect.

"All it means is I'll have to sew the stripe on about 20 shirts and jackets."

SAFETY COUNCIL PLEADS FOR HELP

CHICAGO (UPI) — The National Safety Council has asked for help from the pulpit in cutting the death toll.

Executive Vice President George C. Stewart sent telegrams to church leaders calling for "personal and official influence" with clergy and laymen to avoid "another tragic record of unnecessary death and injury."

"We believe you and other leaders of organized religion can wield great influence for more sober, thoughtful, considerate behavior by the public over the holiday season," Stewart said.

Two, rosebud-studded trees "bloom" on the buffet, left, which gleams with brass and glass accessories on a light red cloth. Melmac dinnerware, foreground, repeats the rose motif on plates and saucers. At right, a Christmas brunch for all the family is set for serving with provincial-patterned tableware, casual casseroles and other table service.

Rich Inheritance Not Necessary To Achieve Memorable Holiday Setting

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

If time and distance prevent the gathering of the family for the big, traditional Christmas dinner, look for new ways to share holiday feasting.

If you're new to the suburb or neighborhood, you might hunt up another newly arrived family or two and have a Christmas brunch for adults and youngsters.

Or you might prefer to switch from the traditional sit-down dinner to an open house for neighbors. If you're nostalgic about family Christmases and the children are at the age when they savor every minute of the day, you will most likely want to cook a dinner for your family. Consider splurging a bit during the holidays with a buffet supper for grownups only, too.

To point up the festive occasion, call your cupboards for the "props" to make a colorful table setting.

Two completely different settings planned by Stanford Squire are full of ideas and prove also that you don't need a rich inheritance to achieve memorable tables.

His plan for a country brunch,

Mrs. Tracy Has Ragland Circle

Leona Ragland Circle met in the home of Mrs. D. W. Tracy, 601 E. 13 recently for Bible study presented by Mrs. M. B. Smith.

Mrs. Gene Winegart read the minutes of a previous meeting. Prayers were offered by Mrs. LeRoy Allen. The devotional was presented by Mrs. Jimmy Fowler.

Attending in addition to those mentioned were Meses. Jack Crowover, M. B. Smith, D. W. Tracy, and Tom Trout.

The next meeting will be on Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Jimmy Fowler, 1029 S. Sumner.

for example, makes good use of simple ingredients: Melmac tableware, stainless flatware, wire lettuce basket, wicker baskets, bright, enameled steel cookware, boldly checked cotton and a tall hurricane lamp.

Blue and green checked cotton covers a long table. If you have no table large enough, don't forget the simple substitute of a length of plywood on saw horses, padded with a table pad under the cloth.

A garland of green outlines the table edge. The blue-red scheme is underscored by the provincial bird motif on the dinner plates and the fireplace, toaster or oven, casseroles.

The wire basket holds eggs ready to cook to order; toast, made in the fireplace, toaster or oven, stays hot and cozy in a napkin-lined wicker basket.

The line-up of fruit juice glasses filled with orange juice adds a colorful note to one end of the table.

The tall hurricane lamp bowl is filled with nuts and lemons for a rustic touch at the opposite end. A big kettle holds hot coffee. The menu is meant to be simple, with the eggs the only item subject to individual order.

Equally festive but in a different manner is a setting inspired by "roses in the snow," a theme from an early carol. Pink, red and white, together with highly polished brass and gleaming gold metal flatware, make the color scheme outstanding.

On a table covered with a light red cloth, two shaped trees announce the rose theme. Trees are made of short lengths of broomstick painted green and bedded with moss and pebbles, in white pots.

A hunk of green, water-absorbent plastic foam is pushed onto the top of each stick and is studded with green sprigs of privet, huckleberry, pink and red rosebuds and Christmas ornaments. The rose is repeated in the fresh pink, olive and gilt motif on the dinner plates, designed by Raymond Loewy in top-quality melamine plastic.

Pink and white bowls for dessert are also of melamine. Squire suggests using small tables set for two for dining, and adds a seasonal bouquet of roses and tiny ornaments in small jars in the center of each table.

The suggested menu is as elegant as the setting: Fruit punch, served in a tall pitcher, curry, cheese and crackers and a strawberry-topped mousse.

Mrs. Brown Has Wednesday Club

WHEELER (Sp) — The Wednesday Study Club met recently in the home of Mrs. R. Wm. Brown.

The business session was conducted by Mrs. George Porter, president.

"American Women in the News," was the program theme presented by Mrs. Max Wiley, assisted by several members.

A Federation report on various topics and phases of Federation Club work was given by Mrs. Fred Farmer.

Refreshments of fruit cake, coffee, nuts and mints were served to the following members: Meses. T. M. Britt, Fred Farmer, R. H. Forrester, Lee Guthrie, Cora Hyatt, Carl Laflin, Grainger McIlhenny, M. McIlhenny, C. J. Meek, Shelby Pettit, George Porter, T. G. Puryear, George Taylor, C. J. Van Zandt, H. M. Wiley, Max Wilsey, W. L. Williams, Frank Wolford, Harry Wolford, F. J. Ross, Carlton Thomson, J. W. Barr, and R. J. Holt.

Volunteer Fire Department And Families Are Guests At Dinner

LEFORS (Sp) — Lefors Volunteer Fire Department members and their families were guests of the Home Demonstration Club members and their families for a Turkey dinner in the civic center on Thursday night.

As the guests arrived, Christmas carols were played softly on the piano by Mrs. Wanda Schebilla.

The banquet tables were covered in white panquet paper centered with red candles, holly, pinecones, holly, arranged in the seasonal motif.

A welcome to the firemen was made by Mrs. A. T. Cobb, and invocation was by Mrs. O. O. Bishop.

An angel scene placed beneath five golden snowflakes formed a background of the head table. Christmas ornaments were hung from the ceiling lights, and a decorated, ceiling-high, Christmas tree stood in one corner.

The meal was served buffet style, with Meses. W. K. Davis, Mrs. J. M. McPherson, hostess to the 20-30 Club in her home on Thursday, presented the program on "Christmas Ideas."

Christmas and New Year's parties were discussed at the business meeting presided over by Mrs. Calvin Lacy.

It was decided to let the Home Demonstration Club take over the landscaping of the City park.

One new member was welcomed, Mrs. R. E. McDonald, and the following guests Meses. M. E. Bigham, Bob Casey, Merideth Cox. Members present were Meses. Calvin Lacy, Jimmy Pennington, Duane Howard, Ernest Foshee, Ray Dickerson, Bob Wilson, Wayne Sims, Leonard Cain, Edward Lehnick, Bud Means, and Chestene Dunn.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please print this in defense of married women on the Postman's Route. After I moved into a new neighborhood, the Postman kept asking me for a drink of water (you'd give a dog a drink of water); and also for the use of my telephone. Then I found out he only lived around the corner from me. There are two sides to every story.

MARRIED WOMAN

DEAR ABBY: It was nice of you to stick up for the women, but I was a postman, and believe me, there were plenty of married ladies on my route who were never too busy or too tired in the morning to invite me in.

"RANG TWICE"

DEAR ABBY: That "Postman" who wrote that all the women on his route were after him sounded as phony as a three-dollar bill. "POSTMAN" is the traditional Canadian - British designation. In AMERICA we call them "CARRIERS" or "MAILMEN" and it's a long time since the Redcoats left Pennsylvania. Another thing, Abby: The Postal Department has regulations for the behavior of their employees — and if anyone pulled any tricks resembling what POSTMAN claims, he'd be out before he could say "Civil Service." It used to be the "Milkman" and the "Ice-man" — now it's the POSTMAN. I've toted a mailbag for 30 years and I can say that our housewives are a clean and moral lot.

TABELLARIUS

DEAR ABBY: I belong to a card club. I took pity on a woman because she's widowed and her social life is limited and she hinted many times she'd like to join our club. We took her in and all the other members have been on my neck ever since. The reason is this newcomer complains constantly about the smoke. She fans herself with a newspaper all during the game, gives the smokers dirty looks and asks how we can stand such a filthy habit. What can we do with "Mrs. Nudnick"?

CARD PLAYER

Dear Card: Since you sponsored "Mrs. Nudnick" out of the kindness of your heart, tell her, privately, that she'll either have to put up with the smoke without complaints, or take up solitaire.

DEAR ABBY: A certain boy at school kept pestering me for a date so I went out with him just to get rid of him. He has a reputation for being fast and he sure lived up to it. I let him know he couldn't get a thing off me, but according to the stories going around school, my name is mud. What can a girl do about a boy who makes up dirty lies about her? I want to clear my name. "MUD"

Dear Mud: You can avoid this boy (and his kind) like small pox, and charge it off to experience.

Confidentially to Pete: Be generous — while you're able. Love is like money. You can't take it with you.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

If you want a collection of Abby's best letters and answers in one book, ask your bookseller to call life is limited and she hinted get "DEAR ABBY" for you.

TB Scientists Pondering Unexplained Improvements

SCIENCE TODAY
By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Tuberculosis scientists would be much happier people if only they could explain (to their own and one another's satisfaction) why tubercle bacilli seem to be less lethal than they used to be.

In 1908 these chemically clever bacteria killed half the Americans in whom they succeeded in establishing colonies, and made a mark on just about all of them before their lives were finished. Now they kill about one in five, and two-thirds to three-fourths of us live out our spans without ever being touched.

The wonder-working drugs are not the whole answer. The oldest drug has been in use only 11 years and the best drug, only six. They don't explain what has happened. Nor is it wholly explained by the vast anti-tuberculosis drive of the past 50 years.

A number of epidemiologists point out that man was getting an upsurge on the bacillus before there was any anti-tuberculosis movement anywhere, even before anyone knew the bacillus existed.

Peak Year 1850
The change began somewhere around 1850 which was the evident peak year of a world-wide epidemic of some 50 years duration, and the death rate of American and European cities was 400 or more per hundred thousand population. By 1904 when the anti-tuberculosis movement got fully underway in the United States with the organization of the National Tuberculosis Association, it was down to a little under 200 per hundred thousand. It had been more than halved in 50 years while nothing worthwhile was being done.

Since 1904 the association and its some 3,000 affiliated societies have been zealously arousing Americans to the TB danger. Public opinion was mobilized and educated. Great health campaigns were waged. Special departments were formed at all levels of government — federal, state, county, municipal — to fight tuberculosis. Sanatoriums and clinics were set up in the thousands. Unquestionably all this has speeded the decline of the disease while improving public health in general immeasurably.

Unknown Force At Work
Nevertheless a second and unknown force has been at work, too. Scientists which they knew what it was. Is the power of the bacillus to sicken people and then kill them less than it used to be? Definitely not.

The strains isolated from today's patients will kill laboratory animals as surely as those isolated by Robert Koch, who discovered the bacillus in 1882.

So it must be assumed defensive human body chemistry has been improving its collective ability to deal with the bacillus. But how? There are several possibilities. One is that most if not all the Americans whose defensive chemistry was not up to the task, have been killed off by the bacillus, along with descendants who inherited their susceptibility. The Americans with the best defensive chemistry for the bacillus survived and bred the present generations which inherited their good defenses.

Or, perhaps, defensive human body chemistry "adapted" to and thus became increasingly resistant to the onslaughts of bacilli. That sort of thing happens in bacterial chemistry routinely; disease-causing microorganisms "learn" how to deal safely with drugs which once killed them. It could happen in human chemistry.

There is reason to believe that in centuries past, tuberculosis peaked and then declined on its own, only to peak again. If that is so, and the evidence is more suggestive than reliable, who is to say it can't happen again?

At any rate, tuberculosis scientists can't feel completely confident that a total victory is in sight. There are just too many unknowns. They'll have the confidence only when they thoroughly understand defensive body chemistry against the bacilli and are able to manipulate that chemistry at will.

DISCOVER NEW PEAK
LONDON (UPI)—Soviet antarctic explorers have discovered a pyramid-shaped peak more than 10,000 feet above sea level during a flight near the "pole of inaccessibility," Moscow Radio reported Sunday night. The broadcast said that only half of the peak was covered with snow.

Free Throw Points In the other game played in Louisiana, at Baton Rouge, LSU won its fourth straight game of the season with its win over Texas, scoring more than half its points at the free throw line.

Low Scoring At Lincoln, Neb., the Texas Tech team was doomed when it managed only four points in the first 10 minutes of the second half while the Nebraska team rolled up nine.

HOPE COULDN'A DONE BETTER

Lubbock Pastor Entertains Cagers at Church Banquet

By RED GRIGGS Daily News Sports Editor The Harvester basketball team got a maximum of good food and good laughs Monday night — and a minimum of speech making.

THAT'S THE WAY THE BALL BOUNCES

FORMFUL LIKE WHAT? Cincinnati Widens Lead As Number One Cage Team

NEW YORK (UPI) — Oscar Robertson-led Cincinnati widened its lead over Kansas State today in the United Press International ratings as the college basketball powers began the flurry of preholiday activity that is bound to rekindle the top 10 teams. Except possibly for 8th-ranked Xavier of Ohio and 10th-ranked Texas Christian, there's trouble ahead for the eight other teams in this week's top 10.

San Francisco Fans Capture Sportsmanship Booby Prize

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Move over, Boston, Mass., and Columbus, Ohio, and the rest of the beligerent sports cities. Let San Francisco take over as the most intolerant sports town in the nation.

The city by the Golden Gate, once noted for having the most fair-minded sports people in the world, now has developed a band of vicious blood-thirsty, name-calling "fans" who won't take "no" for an answer from authorities. Just the facts: —Herman Franks, very competent third base coach for the San Francisco Giants during the 1958 campaign, resigned under the consistent booing and abuse given him by the fans because rookie runners wouldn't heed his instructions and were thrown out going for home.

Peterson Funeral Services Today

PERRYTON, Tex. (UPI) — Services will be held in the high school auditorium at 3 p. m. Tuesday for Perryton High Football Coach James Peterson, who died early Sunday of a heart attack.

The 43-year-old coach, who had been here nine years, was stricken at his home Saturday night and died a few hours after being admitted to a local hospital. Survivors include his widow and two daughters. Peterson's team this past season won its district title and carried an 8-2 season record into the state Class AA playoffs where it lost to finalist Stamford 34-14.

Klaus Traded For Busby

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston Red Sox, long known as one of the most reluctant traders of the American League, completed their third trade in less than two weeks when they dealt spare shortstop Billy Klaus to the Baltimore Orioles in return for outfielder Jim Busby Monday night.

Brigham Young Upsets Kansas State Wildcats

By JOHN GRIFFIN United Press International A knee injury suffered by star Bob Boozer drew a large measure of the blame today for a stunning upset that sent second-ranked Kansas State tumbling from the ranks of the nation's unbeaten basketball teams — and only a rival's "boner" kept Kentucky from suffering the same fate.

Pampa Stands Alone

Lubbock, Borger Bite the Dust

Pampa now rides like the lone ranger at the top of District 3-4A. Lubbock and Borger both hit the dust like two Redskins in last week's cage wars.

Borger's Bulldogs were the first to go, losing a shocker to class AA Childress Tuesday, 72-62. However, the Bulldogs came back during the weekend to win the Snyder tournament.

In the first meeting this year of district teams, Borger knocked off Lubbock, 78-71, in the Snyder finals. This was the first loss for the Westerners after six straight wins. Monterey remained a close fourth in unofficial standings, with a 5-1 mark. The Plainsmen downed Levelland 75-60 and Lamesa 76-52. In other action involving district teams, Palo Duro won two and lost one, Plainview took its only scheduled game, Amarillo won two and lost one, and Tascosa lost three. Only Tascosa has a losing record for the year.

THIS WEEK'S SCHEDULE Tuesday Lubbock at Seminole; Amarillo at Phillips; Palo Duro at Dumas; Vernon at Tascosa; Hereford at Plainview; Guymon, Okla., at Borger. Thursday Plainview at Howard Payne Tournament, Brownwood (Thursday through Saturday). Friday Pampa at Lawton, Oklahoma tournament; Monterey at Odessa; Ector; Lubbock at Odessa; Amarillo at Vernon tournament; Ok-Jahama City Capitol Hill at Palo Duro and Oklahoma City North-West Classen vs. Tascosa at Palo Duro (doubleheader); Borger at Norman, Okla., Saturday Pampa at Lawton tournament; Monterey at Midland; Lubbock at Levelland; Amarillo at Vernon tournament; Northwest Classen at Palo Duro and Tascosa vs. Capitol Hill at Palo Duro (doubleheader); Borger at Norman, Okla.

whole second half and scored only eight points Monday night as Brigham Young upset Kansas State, 77-68, at Provo, Utah.

That ranked as the biggest upset so far this season, but Maryland almost matched it before bowing to second-ranked Kentucky, 58-56, in overtime at Lexington, Ky. Fired-up Brigham Young fought its way to a 37-36 halftime lead over Kansas State and then the break of the game occurred early in the second half when Boozer hurt his knee. Almost immediately Brigham Young broke the game wide open as sophomore Gary Earnest led the way with 28 points, 16 of them in the second half.

Wildcat Shooting Off Boozer returned in the closing minutes of the game but it was too late to save the Wildcats from their first defeat in five games. Another factor in the Wildcat loss was poor shooting — State sank only 27 per cent of its shots against 42 per cent for Brigham Young.

Maryland, defending champ of the Atlantic Coast Conference, apparently had Kentucky beaten with the Terrapins' Bill Murphy sank two free throws for a 54-51 lead with only 12 seconds to play. But that's when the "boner" saved Kentucky. Substitute Bill Coffman of the NCAA champs drove down the right sideline and cut across to the baseline for a layup shot. If he'd been allowed to score unmolested, Maryland still would have had a 54-53 lead and possession of the ball with just three seconds left.

But Maryland center Al Bunge fouled Coffman as he sank the free throw to tie the score. In the overtime a 15-foot jump shot by Johnny Cox and two free throws by Dick Parsons gave Kentucky the victory.

Foul Shots Save Kentucky Free throw shooting kept Kentucky in the game most of the way. The Wildcats, outshot and outscored by Maryland, sank 24 of 29 free throws while Maryland sank only 14 of 27.

LSU Will Get Champ's Trophy

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — The UPI Cup, emblematic of the national collegiate football championship, will be presented to Louisiana State University tonight. The presentation will be made by Leo H. Petersen, United Press International sports editor, at the annual football banquet sponsored by the university's athletic department and the National "L" Club, an organization of former LSU lettermen. More than 1,000 persons are expected to attend.

Red Griggs the pipeline

Within a week, the Pampa Harvesters may be the most cordially hated group of athletes this side of the New York Yankees.

They've already made plenty of enemies in Texas and New Mexico, because of their unforgivable habit of winning too many ball games.

They've gained their share of enemies in Oklahoma, too, by beating Mustang twice. This week, if they win the Lawton tournament, they may not have a friend left in the world, outside of Pampa.

While the Harvesters will probably never match the Yankees' record of being hated by most sports fans in 47 states (and maybe New York, too) they could well draw the ire of a host of fans in three states before the week is over.

The World Hates a Winner

Jimmy Walker, the colorful mayor of New York in the roaring 20's, said that "the world loves a winner." But it just ain't so. The world may love an underdog team which comes off the floor to win, but love the consistent winner — never. This is true, whether it's the New York Yankees, the Pampa Harvesters, or the 11th Street Tigers.

Art Gaits, Hobbs sports editor had this to say: "Coach Clifton McNeely, always cautious with his reserves, used one sub in the middle of the third quarter, a second near the end of the final period, and put in a complete new five (only for the last minute of the game)." Actually, one reserve played the entire game. Joe Timms was playing in place of Craig Wintorn, who had the flu.

Besides, a basketball game is always in doubt, unless one team has a lead of, say, 40 points with four minutes to play. It's possible for a team to get not and score 20 points in two or three minutes. Hobbs did put on a rally almost that strong, scoring 25 points in the last quarter.

Sticks, Stones, and Words

With reserves playing the entire last half, as Mr. Gaits seems to think they should have, maybe they'd have scored 25 in the third period, too.

seems incredible, though, that the Harvesters would get that rough in a game of this sort. There was no blood-rivalry, as there is with Amarillo; the game meant nothing except prestige; and the Harvesters were too far ahead to be mad at anybody.

Oh, well, you know how it goes about sticks and stones and words. We just hope they don't give plenty of other people reason to join the "Hate the Harvesters" club.

TB CHRISTMAS SEALS FIGHTING BIG WAR

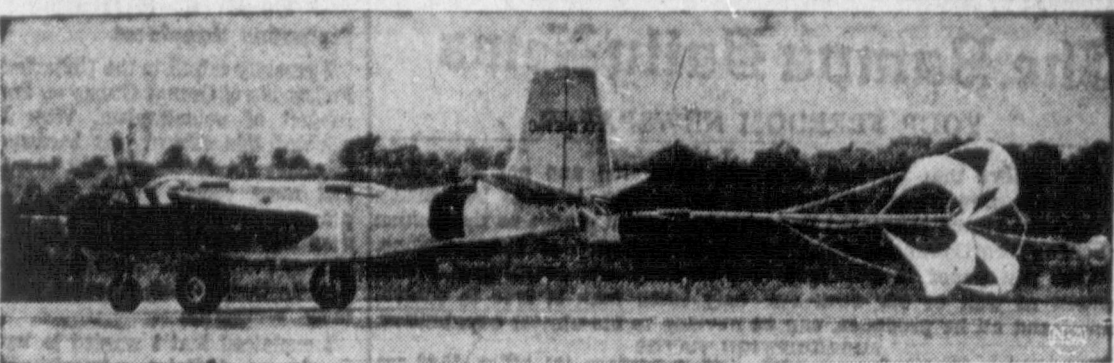

NEW YORK (UPI)—Let's play a guessing game. What are Christmas seals for? If you are vague in your answer, it dramatizes the greatest public health achievement in the history of the Western world. The first buyers of Christmas seals 51 years ago weren't merely buying traditional decorations for their Christmas mail. They were fighting the dreaded "white plague" — tuberculosis — which was all around them and might well kill them, as it was killing their relatives and friends. How astonished our forefathers would be if they could know that in 1958 it is necessary to explain the white plague to many people, and to identify "the captain of all these men of death," as the English preacher and author, John Bunyan, characterized it some 30 years ago. Readers with the longest memories may not realize that the younger generations have had little or no personal knowledge of tuberculosis.

"The Captain" today is a faint shadow of his old self. It killed only 7.8 out of every hundred thousand Americans last year. It killed almost 200 out of every hundred thousand in 1900. In 1958 there is no unchangeable reason why any person must die of TB. Some believe tuberculosis is done for in our country. One of these is Dr. Louis I. Dublin, one of the world's most respected statisticians. He believes, on a statistical basis, that tuberculosis will be "eradicated" from the United States within 20 years even if no more is done to combat it than is being done now. But medical and other scientists who know "The Captain" on much more intimate terms than the statistical, doubt very much Dublin is right, as much as they'd like to have the same faith. They have an abiding sense of unease. They know the enemy well and what alarms many of them most is that a large and growing segment of the public hardly knows the enemy at all any more. Nothing big-scale can be done in this country without full public support, and this is written at the urging of bacteriologists, microbiologists, public health authorities and physicians who treat tuberculosis, and whom this writer meets on his reportorial rounds. They want everyone to know this enemy—weakened though it may be—and to be on guard against it. Unknowns Complicate Predictions The rub is that the disease, tuberculosis, and the bacterium (the tubercle bacillus) which causes it, hang onto many of their mysteries, as do the processes of defensive human body chemistry which the bacterium kills or has little or no effect. These unknowns enormously complicate guesses as to TB's future. The more experienced the tuberculosis scientist, the more like he is to shun predictions and say simply, "I don't know."

Boy Scouts To Conclude Round Up

Twenty-two leaders of Scouting units will receive Round Up and "Evasive Elmer" awards tonight at a District Round Table program in the Palm Room of Pampa City Hall. Tonight's presentations will wind up the fall Round Up program according to W. L. Veale, Round Table commissioner. "Evasive Elmer" stands for the 5,800th boy to register with a Scouting unit in the Santa Fe District. As yet this boy has not registered and no unit has received a grand prize "Elmer" portrait. The theme of the Month Round Tables will convene in the Palm Room at 7:30 p. m. Veale will lead Cub leaders in "Pack Program Planning," at this time each unit will take part in demonstrations of new techniques. Bob Barrett, Boy Scout Training chairman, will assist Paul Turner with the Scout theme, "Junior Leader Training," designed for Scoutmasters and Troop Committeemen. John Ayres will handle the Explorer program. Plans will be made for a trip to Amarillo Air Force Base in January. Interested Explorers may send a $1 registration fee to Boy Scout Headquarters in City Hall. The deadline is Jan. 1.

TV's 'The Christmas Tree' Had Several Bright Moments

By WILLIAM EWALD United Press International NEW YORK (UPI)—NBC-TV officially opened the heart-warming season Sunday with "The Christmas Tree," a one hour in conventional holiday pie. The trappings of "The Christmas Tree," a "Hallmark of Fame" variety entry, were admirable — stylish, uncluttered, glossy. Unfortunately, much of the content was glutinous — a fatty pudding of self-conscious sentiment. One of the hour's skits—a piece that featured Tom Poston and Ellen McCrae — jumped off to a nice hard start, but quickly shriveled into the standard assembly line kind of gush that TV pours out in huge gobs at this time of year. Two other sketches on the show were of the level of particularly mediocre ladies magazine type fiction. There were a few fairly pleasant moments: A Cyril Ritchard caper with Carol Channing and a brace of skating routines. But these are hardly the stuff of which spectacles are made. "The Christmas Tree" was a little like a well-mounted Ed Sullivan show that had somehow become entangled with three "Schlitz Playhouses." The viewer has come to expect something a little bit better from "Hallmark of Fame." The Weekend: Jackie Gleason turned Friday night CBS-TV half-hour into a chat session with Arthur Godfrey. It was moderately spellbinding. The team of Ford and Hines is not as funny as NBC-TV's Jack Paar seems to think they are — their material is pretty melancholy. The premiere of Leonard Bernstein's "Young People's Concerts" on CBS-TV Saturday afternoon was a delightful hour. Arlene Francis, hostess on NBC-TV's "Amahl and the Night Visitors" Sunday, seemed to be fighting a case of sniffles. As for "Amahl," it amazes me that everyone continues to treat it so reverently when it is, in fact, periously close to being a bore. Jonathan Winters was wonderfully funny on the NBC-TV "Steve Allen Show" Sunday night in a spoof of "Wagon Train". Ed Murrow took CBS-TV and the other networks to task Sunday on his CBS-TV "Small World" for their failure to maintain regular correspondence in Latin America. Said Murrow: "I think it's disgraceful." The Channel Swim: NBC-TV has a "Project 20" special planned for Feb. 11 called "Mr. Lincoln". ABC-TV will carry 90 minutes of the "Bing Crosby Golf Tournament" on Jan. 18 from Pebble Beach, Calif. Dick Butch has been added to the cast of "Dancing — A Man's Game" which Gene Kelly will turn out for NBC-TV's "Omnibus" on Dec. 21. Other sports figures who'll probably join the show in order to demonstrate their grace include Bob Cousy, Vic Seixas, Doug Ford and a clump of fencers. Mickey Shaughnessy will star in a TV comedy series about the Navy, "Mickey McGonigle," which MGM soon will start shooting. CBS-TV's "Top Dollar" has decided otomphropcasease ttil F decided to limit the appearances of its contestants to five shows.

The Pampa Daily News YOUNG FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is not license. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, The Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

Who Was Martyr?

Remember Annie Moss? Mrs. Annie Lee Moss was one of the reasons the late Sen. Joe McCarthy was castigated to the high heavens. McCarthy was accused of finding a communist behind every bush because he held a hearing in which Mrs. Moss, a Negro, was identified as a member of the Communist Party while holding a sensitive position with the Army.

Some Useful Figures

Figures are useful. By means of them we can frequently interpret trends and conditions which would otherwise remain mysterious. But there is no mystery about tax figures. Any possible mystery was removed years ago when our various governmental agencies moved into high gear.

The Doctor Says:

Dr. Edwin P. Jordan. Many thousands of people are faced each year with the problem of whether or not their gall bladders should be removed by surgery. Frequently this is because of the presence of stones. When stones are involved, operation may or may not be advisable, depending on individual circumstances such as the symptoms produced, the location of the stones and the age of the patient.

BETTER JOBS Promoting Happiness

I recently talked to the Unitarian Fellowship of Orange County on the subject of voluntarism. Why I selected this subject was because I believe in the degree that more and more people believe in and practice voluntarism, to that degree will they increase their happiness, their physical and spiritual health, their peace of mind and their prosperity.

I explained that I wanted to try to do, as Voltaire admonished, when he said, "If you would discourse with me, define your terms, and as Lord Calvin said, "If you can reduce to numbers, if you can measure what you are speaking about, you know something about it. If you cannot, your knowledge is of meagre and little value."

I explained that "voluntarism," according to Webster's and Funk & Wagnall's and Oxford's dictionaries, had two different definitions. One was that voluntarism meant that religion and schools were supported and managed on a voluntary basis rather than by the state. The other meaning was, which was the one I was discussing, that a person got or services that a person got were secured on a voluntary basis. That is, by benefiting the party from whom one received. It meant more than one party being the judge of whether the other party was benefited but that both parties believed they were benefited. And when both parties were actually benefited, then everybody else in the world was benefited.

I had stated before in a talk before the Freedom School at Colorado Springs that I wished everybody had more wealth and more understanding than I did. Not that I would want to have less, but that they'd have more. I think that wish was a mistake. So I revised this to say that I believed I would be benefited if every other person in the world could create more wealth than I could and could gain more understanding. I made the revision because I do not believe it would benefit mankind if people could have wealth without earning it or getting it on a voluntary basis. It probably would do them infinitely more harm than it would do them good.

The reason I believe I would be benefited if all people had more understanding than I and had more ability to produce than I was because what little I produced then could be exchanged for more, and if all people had more understanding than I do, then it would be easier for me to gain additional understanding. It was just another way of expressing what Bastiat had pointed out, that in creating wealth the gain of one was the gain of all, and in the loss of wealth the loss of one was the loss of all. That is different than getting by gambling, by wars or by fraud where one person gains and the other loses.

To come to this belief that you are benefited by others having more than you, one had better start with one's own children. It is easy to see that if one's children and their children could produce more and discover more of natural laws, then it does not hurt the parent. If that is true with one's own descendants, it is also true universally.

I explained that voluntarism was in perfect harmony with the Coveting Commandment, the Golden Rule, and the Declaration of Independence; that most people are doubtfully believed in voluntarism as far as they, personally, were concerned in getting what they get, but they seem, for some mysterious reason, to believe that in groups or in government voluntarism need not be applied; that they can get things in groups or by government on an involuntary basis. But certainly if it is harmful for one to get things on an involuntary basis, or two people,

Robert Allen Reports:

Chances Reported Good For Hawaiian Statehood

WASHINGTON — Odds are now better than even that Hawaii will become a state in 1959. Supporters hope the long fight for the 50th state will be won before a new 49-star flag is ready to fly on July 4th.

This new optimism is based on a decision by House Democratic leaders to make Hawaiian statehood the first major order of business in the 86th Congress.

The House Interior Committee will start considering a statehood bill immediately after Congress convenes January 7. A favorable report is expected before the 20th.

NEW MOONS — The super-satellite the Air Force plans to launch early next week is only the first of a projected series.

KNOWING YOUR ATOM — Atomic Energy Commissioner Willard F. Libby is on the horns of a dilemma about a gift he received recently.

It is harmful for any number of people or for the government to get things by using involuntary means.

Happy Days are Here Again! Unemployed Americans had better oil up their rakes and whet up their hoes because a big job is coming up. Following the crashing victory of New-Fair Democrats in the recent election, Senator Lyndon Johnson, who is nothing if not adaptable, met the situation with the announcement that a big Public Works program would probably be initiated soon after Congress meets in January.

Little Liz. By the time a woman can afford a fancy figure for her clothes, her figure isn't fancy any more.

Looking Sideways

NEW YORK — This is going to be about staples. Not grocery staples or larger staples or even refrigerator staples. Or even cotton goods where staple cotton is a mean. This is about staples that fasten things together so that they don't stray apart. It all came about because of overhearing two men in a commuter train discussing stapling and one said: "Why, the darn things will staple a pile of papers a foot thick and hold."

But one autumn day some years ago, Roy W. Howard and others spirited Mr. Bickel away from his lawful abode in Gramercy Park and set him down in a hunting lodge up there where city people moose. Mr. Bickel later complained to me that he had been dragged by a subtle oriental philtre called whiskey. The next morning they assigned a hairy woodsman to attend him and pointed him off into the deep-tangled wildwood under a gun so big that, as he said, it should have had wheels, a trail, a caisson and six horses.

He had gone hardly a mile when he encountered a blood-thirsty moose and in self-defense shot it dead. He then trudged back to camp, shucked his burdensome wrappings of out-door, Abercrombie-and-Fitchie apparel and gear and went to sleep.

It was dark when he was awakened by the bird-like trilling of Mr. Howard's familiar voice. Neither Mr. Howard nor any of the rest had caught a smell of a moose all day and Mr. Howard was excited over Mr. Bickel's success, but, as always, skeptical. He asked where Mr. Bickel had shot his moose.

"Right between the eyes," Mr. Bickel said. "It was a desperate situation, but I waited until I saw the whites of his eyes and then I let him have it. Now can I go home to New York?"

Mr. Howard called in Mr. Bickel's keeper, or caddy, swore him, explained his rights, warned him of the penalties and examined him. Mr. Bickel's keeper admitted that the moose was not on all fours. Mr. Howard then asked: "Is it not true that this moose was asleep?"

"I do not know," said Mr. Bickel's keeper. "He may have been day-dreaming. Can one say?"

"That moose," Mr. Bickel cried, "was crouching to spring. It was lashing its tail. By gad, man, I do not want to go through that again!"

Mr. Howard's lust for truth, something in his irrepressible psych, has kept the issue alive all this time and only the other day he exclaimed: "You know, I would not believe Karl's soul, but I examined that moose's head at the taxidermist's that night. And there is absolutely no doubt about it. That moose was asleep, because the bullet went right through one of his eye-sockets."

"Moreover," Mr. Howard said, "the antlers were only about the size of Lady Windermere's fan; so small, that to save Karl embarrassment among real mourning people, I got that guide to peel back the skin and stick a wedge in the forehead to spread the antlers. This man had some really majestic handlebars in stock and he riveted in a set with a spread about eight feet. Good Old Karl! Let him dream!"

It is one of those issues that are lost forever. Because when the truck hove up at the Bicketts' love-lover on Gramercy Park, Mrs. Bickel called down, "Don't you

UPI Prexy Shanghaied Into Hunting Safari by WESTBROOK PEGLER

I believe this is the moose season in New Brunswick. But if not, let that be the pretext for today's lesson.

Karl A. Bickel, whom I inducted into the United Press and who did me proud as president thereof for 20 years, has enjoyed life-long notoriety for his indifference to golf, craps, boxing and safaris through bosky dells with intent to inflict bodily harm on our furred and feathered friends. Although he lives in Sarasota now he even doesn't fish.

But one autumn day some years ago, Roy W. Howard and others spirited Mr. Bickel away from his lawful abode in Gramercy Park and set him down in a hunting lodge up there where city people moose. Mr. Bickel later complained to me that he had been dragged by a subtle oriental philtre called whiskey. In his endless BATTLE OF WITS with Nixon, it is very brave of Harold Stassen to go UNARMED.

There would have been no FIRST RAPE of Berlin, if certain American politicians, infatuated by Communist promises, had not stopped victorious American armies at the Elbe. It is unthinkable that America should countenance a abandoning the West Germans to the Communist wistlings of East Germany. We gave West Berlin, amid much publicity, a FREEDOM BELL. If the Germans ring it now, will we hear it?

The Roman castellum, built when legionnaires were protectors of Gaul, was the ancestor of European castles. The castellum was a square or quadrangle surrounded by a high wooden fence, outside of which was a deep ditch. A large earth mound, also surrounded by a ditch, was in the center of the enclosure. The mound was a place for a last stand, when necessary.
