Park Will Ring With Caroling Tonight

Christmas words and music will ring out in Pampa Central Park tonight as eight Nativity Scenes, designed by local artists, are illuminated. The traditional Nativity Scene lighting program will begin at 7 p.m. with instrumental and vocal music from secondary school groups and narration by two High School speech students.

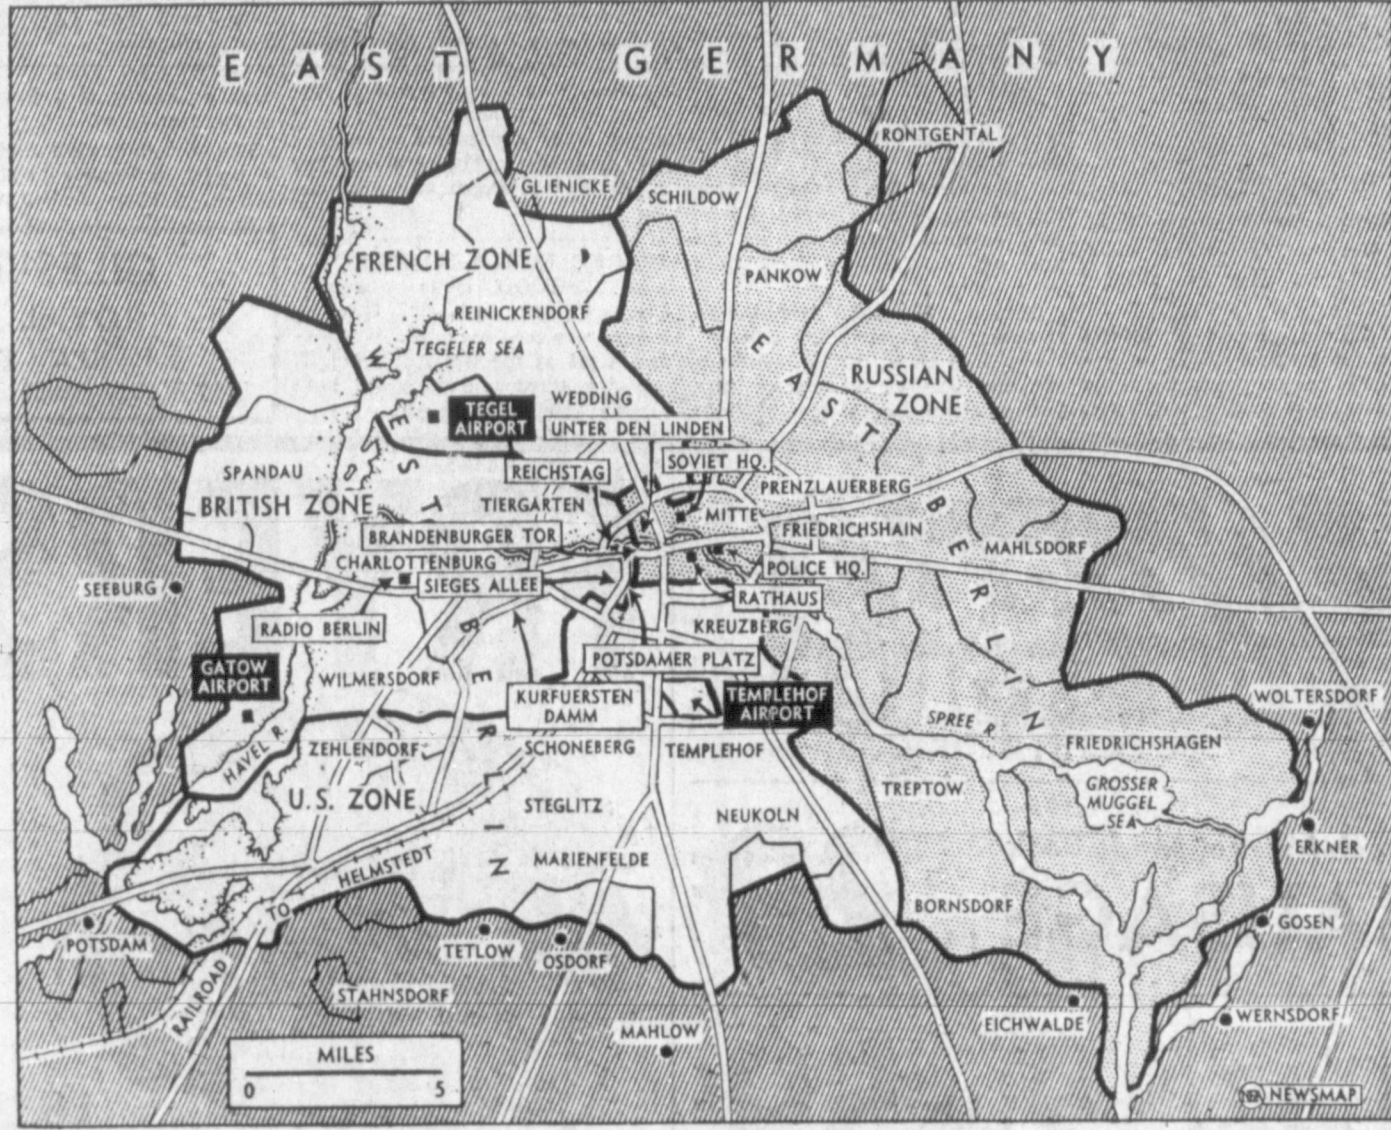

Carolers and narrators will assemble at the Park House half an hour before the lighting. Following an organ prelude, the Harvester Band will give a brass introduction.

Individual scenes will be lighted by Johnny Gross, a member of the Pampa High School A Cappella Choir and other vocal groups will account for nine Christmas carols.

In the role of narrators, Eugene Weinheimer and Sue Foster will take the audience through the Biblical Christmas story.

The Nativity Scenes, ranged around Central Park south, were designed by Mrs. Claudine Vall, Roger Long, Charles Thomas, Florence Jackson, Mrs. A. D. Wells and others.

Choral groups involved tonight will be: the High School Choirs, William A. Hunt, director; Lee ninth grade choir, Mrs. "Lavinia" Webb; Lee seventh and eighth grade choirs, Mrs. "Patsy" Martin; Pampa Junior High ninth grade choir, Mrs. "Louise" Richardson; Pampa Junior High seventh and eighth (See PARK, Page 2)

HALF BILLION IN 'COMMUNES'

By LEROY HANSEN
United Press International

TOKYO (UPI)—Peiping Radio indicated today that the beehive-like "communes" which have swallowed up most of China's half-billion peasants are a source of widespread dissension in the Communist-conquered country.

A Peiping broadcast said 99 per cent of China's farm population is now living in communes, while "some experiments have begun in the cities." It added, however, that large-scale development of city communes is likely only "when the skeptics and doubters have been convinced."

"In the cities, intellectuals still have misgivings about the establishment of communes," the broadcast said. "The urgent task at present is to quickly achieve unity of views...among all members of the party and among the people."

This appeared to mean that Communists as well as non-Communists oppose the creation of the new institutions, which are in effect little more than forced-labor camps.

This week's Time magazine reports that inmates of a commune outside the Portuguese China-coast colony of Macao rise at 5 a.m. go through three hours of calisthenics and military drill, and then work straight through to midnight with three 15-minute breaks for meals.

"The rural communes have not had time to consolidate their organizations, perfect their working systems, systematically settle the new questions concerning production, distribution, livelihood and amenities, management and administration..." the Red broadcast said.

"This is because the communes were only recently set up. The party has had insufficient experience in successfully running them."

Despite these shortcomings, the Red radio said, the Communist Central Committee in China endorsed the commune system at the meeting Dec. 10 at which Mao Tse-tung decided to quit his job as president of Red China.

There has been speculation that Mao actually was forced to resign because of serious opposition to the communes.

The fact that the Reds waited more than a week before making a public announcement of the system appeared to suggest trouble behind the scenes.

It waited almost as long to announce Mao's resignation, apparently in hopes of easing the shock to rank and file members of the party.

Union and the Newspaper Publishers Association, which represents the affected newspapers, were standing by, prepared to resume bargaining talks. But no new meetings were scheduled.

Meanwhile, Mayor Robert F. Wagner was to meet today at city hall with federal mediators Walter A. Maggillo and Frank H. Brown to discuss possible means to end the strike, which has resulted in the furloughing of an estimated 20,000 newspaper employees and dealt a severe blow to advertisers. Wagner, who has offered his services in the dispute, intervened for the first time Wednesday night for an hour and a half with Joseph F. Finegan, chief of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

Finegan returned to Washington Wednesday after a four day effort to end the walkout of the union's 4,500 drivers and other distribution workers.

Santa Calls On Young Interne

HOUSTON (UPI)—The real spirit of Christmas will greet the tragedy-stricken family of a young Houston interne doctor when they return home Sunday from Nacogdoches.

The interne, Dr. Charles W. Morgan Jr., his wife and three sons are in Nacogdoches to bury their two-year-old daughter and sister, Malinda Lou, who died in a fire last Sunday night which gutted their home in suburban Bellaire.

What they will find when they return will be a real Christmas gift from their friends — another home completely furnished, food and clothing for the family, a Christmas tree banked with gifts and $3,600 in cash.

Possessions Gone
Dr. Morgan, who has worked at Hermann Hospital since July 1 when he graduated from Baylor University College of Medicine, makes only $100 a month as an interne, plus food and sleeping accommodations while working.

His wife taught school to help support the family until it increased in size and she had to quit to take care of the children.

The fire wiped out nearly all their possessions, in addition to taking the life of their only daughter. A baby sitter, Sarah Stewart, 15, heroically saved the couple's three small sons, but was turned back by roaring flames when she tried to save the little girl.

Nineteen homes and summer cabins have been destroyed in the blaze which erupted Sunday and roared through the western slopes of the Santa Ana Mountains which run north-south parallel to the coast about 10 miles inland.

The western extremity of the brush and small tree-fed blaze was about five miles from this historic mission town and spreads over a three county area bounded on the north by the small community of Trabuco and to the south by 110,000-acre Camp Pendleton. To the east it extends high up into the mountains to within about five miles of Lake Elsinore.

There was no present danger to any homes and the fire in an isolated area of Camp Pendleton was almost completely controlled.

Elwood Stone, U. S. forest fire investigator, said Jerry Stewart, 21, admitted firing a tracer bullet Sunday during target practice. Stone said the glowing-hot bullet touched off a fire which Stewart was unable to beat out.

Stone said Stewart was unaware that a tracer bullet was among the shells he was using. No charges have been filed against the man.

Everything Furnished
Off-duty doctors, doctors' wives and neighbors donned work clothes after a three-bedroom frame house was rented and pitched in to completely re-decorate it. Students at the school where the oldest son, Charles III, 7, attends collected a big box of Christmas toys. Other toys, food, clothing and furniture began rolling in until the list of donors filled two pages.

When the family comes home Sunday, they will find the house complete for occupancy — even down to toothbrushes.

"It's one of the most wonderful things I've ever seen," Dr. Leith J. Croder, Hermann Hospital administrator, said in summing up the success of the drive.

It comes from a hardware store, we have it. Lewis Hardware.

East, West Give Up On Hopes Of Warning System

Little Rock Causes Rift

By FRANK ELEAZER
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Little Rock's write-in election of a segregationist congressman was boiling up today into a national issue almost certain to split the House in a bruising fight at the opening of Congress on Jan. 7.

The issue was drawn by an elections committee's 3-2 recommendation Wednesday that the House refuse to seat Dr. Dale Alford pending a "thorough investigation" of his Nov. 4 election victory over veteran Rep. Brooks Hays, an avowed moderate on the school integration question.

Opinions were divided on the probable outcome of the House test. There was general agreement, however, it would be difficult now to avoid it, and that sectional and racial considerations, rather than alleged irregularities in the election, might decide the issue.

Can Reject Member

The House practically always accepts whatever members the voters may send. But, it does not have to. Under the Constitution, each house of Congress is the judge of its membership.

A clue to the probable cleavage on Alford's seating came in Wednesday's split decision. Two Northern Republicans and one Northern Democrat voted in effect against Alford while two Southern Democrats voted for him.

House Democrats, at their caucus on Jan. 6, also face a probable row over the Alford case.

Caucus Chairman Melvin Price (D-Ill.) did not invite Alford to the party session, presumably because he ran against the recognized Democratic candidate, Hays, who had won the party primary.

Denounces Decision
Alford, in Little Rock, denounced the committee decision and said, "further action will be taken in my behalf immediately." He declined to say what this action would be.

Hays welcomed the committee's call for a full investigation, but continued to insist he was "not a contestant." He pointed out that the complaint was filed not by him but by John F. Wells, a Little Rock weekly newspaper publisher.

The Little Rock moderate did not close the door, however, to the possibility he might accept the House seat should the House eventually declare him entitled to it.

10-Nation Delegates End Talks

GENEVA (UPI)—The East and West abandoned today their fruitless attempt to set up a global surprise attack warning system.

Delegates to the 10-nation talks on prevention of surprise attack met for the last time before recessing for the Christmas holidays. Even this final meeting was marred by the almost continual disagreement which has marked the conference from its start six weeks ago.

The West has refused to set a date for reconvening the conference until new negotiations between Washington and Moscow break the deadlock over the scope of the conference.

The Soviets have agreed that new diplomatic contact was needed at the government level, but have demanded a reconvening date be set. They accused the West of trying to bury the talks for good.

The conference never has been able to work out an agenda because the West has insisted the talks be held on a technical level only and the Russians want political discussions of disarmament and other issues.

Informed sources said the Soviet delegation was ready to lose a strong propaganda blast at today's session pinning the blame for the conference's failure on the West.

The United States was prepared to submit a short, factual summary of where and when the talks were held with no extensive conclusions or recommendations.

School Board Prepared To Let Contracts

The Pampa School Board is preparing to let contracts for construction of a new elementary school and expansion of Senior High School facilities, according to Knox Kinard, superintendent of Pampa Public Schools.

The new school, to be located in the North Crest Addition, will be built from the Austin Elementary School plans. Cantrell and Company, Inc. of Pampa are the architects in charge.

Improvements in the Pampa Public School system were authorized in a recent bond election calling for the issue of $1,250,000 in school bonds. Work is also contemplated at Baker elementary school. Since architects will have to start from scratch on this addition, contracts will be let much later.

Kinard states that all details have been worked out with Cantrell for the two immediate projects and that a bidding date will be set in the near future.

Eventually one wing of the main Pampa Junior High School building will be remodeled to make room for a cafeteria and band room, now contained in a red brick building on the school grounds. This is one of the smaller items in the bond issue. It will involve shifting partitions in the main building and demolishing the old schoolhouse.

Mrs. Knutson Will Seek Employment

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congresswoman Coya Knutson kept a smile on her face despite a hurt look in her eyes and said "I'm going to look for a job."

"I've been a working girl all my life," the blonde, 45-year-old Minnesota Democrat said in a tone of resignation. "I've always had to earn my bread and butter."

Until Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Knutson had clung to a feeble hope that somehow she might be able to hold on to her seat in the House despite the Nov. 4 elections returns which gave her Republican opponent a 1,390-vote margin.

The Texas Railroad Commission voted to keep the state's crude oil production in January on the 12-day basis in effect this month. Since January also is a 31-day month, allowable output will not change from the current level of 3,128,366 barrels daily except for the additional flow from new wells.

Railroads placed orders in November for 6,295 freight cars, the largest volume of new business booked since April, 1957, according to trade figures. At the start of this month unfilled orders amounted to 27,962 cars—up from 23,670 a month earlier, but far below the year ago total of 59,194.

The Du Pont Co. announced plans for two projects to increase plastics production. The company said work will start shortly on a new plant in Orange, Tex., for first commercial production of linear polyethylene. At Circleville, Ohio, the company will boost capacity by making mylar polyester film by 30 per cent.

The upturn in steel demand is gaining speed, Iron Age said, adding that the big push will take hold after the turn of the year. Meanwhile, the magazine reported that new capacity for the industry on Jan. 1 will be about 146 million tons, against 141 million on Jan. 1, 1958.

The USDA's final production report for 1958, out Wednesday, revised the 1958 Texas crop harvested last summer to 73,040,000 bushels. An earlier estimate pegged the crop at 77,441,000 bushels.

The 22-bushel-per-acre yield was three- and one-half bushels above the previous record combined in 1944. It was double the 10-year average.

This year's wheat crop was more than double the 1957 crop of 33,669,000 bushels.

LIKE A FAIRY PRINCESS IS FRANCE SEEN BY DE GAULLE

(EDITOR'S NOTE: France elects Gen. Charles de Gaulle president on Sunday with the greatest presidential powers in the history of the French Republic. This is the first of two dispatches by a veteran reporter on French affairs providing a close-up study of De Gaulle as he prepares to take formal leadership.)

By ARTHUR HIGBEE
United Press International
PARIS (UPI) — "All my life I have thought of France in a certain way. This is irrefragable sentiment as much as by reason. The emotional side of me tends to imagine France, like the princess in the fairy stories or the Madonna in the frescoes, as dedicated to an exalted and exceptional destiny."

So begins Volume I of the memoirs of Gen. Charles de Gaulle. The new French leader says... "To my mind France cannot be France without greatness."

This is the testament of De Gaulle. The testament of a man who has done deeds to match his words.

A Lonely Prophet
It is a coincidence the name Charles de Gaulle means Charles of France, recalling to his countrymen Charlemagne, who unified Europe a thousand years ago, and Charles Martel, who drove the Moors from French soil.

It is a happenstance that De Gaulle is tall in stature and aloof in temperament in a country where neither characteristic is especially common.

But it is De Gaulle's own doing come in a lather. Whether a live variety format is the way out for Burns depends upon the strength of his material and the sturdiness of his support in the field. There are reports that forces are at work trying to woo Gracie Allen back to the fold. I hope so. I'd hate to have to watch Eddie Fisher blowing smoke on two NBC-TV shows a week.

Short Shots: ABC-TV's "Naked City" continues to turn out dramas that are not strong narratively, but make admirable use of the backdrop of New York. Also, it should be pointed out that "Naked City" turns out the most un-routine chase scenes in TV.

Several cuts above those in TV Westerns, Wally Cox proved again on the CBS-TV "Garry Moore Show" Tuesday night that he is a terribly funny fellow and it's a shame TV doesn't make more use of him. CBS-TV's "To Tell The Truth" Tuesday night trotted out three contestants who all had the same name and home town — Ray Wetzels of Anderson, Ind. The show had planned to use all three Wetzels last April Fool's Day as a gag, but was forced to postpone it when one of them got sick.

ried Yvonne Vendroux. They had three children — Philippe, now a lieutenant commander in the French navy; Elizabeth, the wife of an army officer, and Anne, who died as a child.

In 1921 De Gaulle was a graduate student at the Ecole de Guerre, France's military staff college. At that time the French general staff was steeped in the Maginot Line concept of a defensive war.

Toward the end of his studies Captain De Gaulle, commander of the "Blue Army" in maneuvers, put to the test the spearhead-offensive tactics that he was beginning to develop and routed the "White Army" which was using the tactics of massive defensive.

The victory started a furious debate which raged all the way up to the chief of staff — Petain. The marshal summoned De Gaulle, listened to his arguments, and said, "De Gaulle is right."

But he let the matter drop there — perhaps the first official act of omission that led to the defeat of France in 1940.

On May 15, 1944 — the day after the German armies knifed through the Maginot Line and began rolling into France — De Gaulle was given command of the newly organized 4th Armored Division.

De Gaulle's division launched the only successful large-scale French counter-attack in that dismal campaign, at Abbeville, on May 28.

On June 6 De Gaulle was summoned to Paris by the new premier, Paul Reynaud, to become undersecretary of state for national defense. But the battle of France was already lost.

On June 17 Reynaud resigned and Petain was asked to form a government: "That meant certain capitulation. My decision was taken at once. I would leave as soon as morning came."

The following day De Gaulle flew from Bordeaux to London in a British aircraft. It would be four years before he would win his way back to France.

"I seemed to myself, alone as I was and deprived of everything, like a man on the shore of an ocean, proposing to swim across."

Public Enemy," a one-half hour series out of Warner Bros. looks like a contender for a starting berth on ABC-TV next season. ABC-TV will telecast the all-star football game from Chicago next Aug. 14.

NBC-TV's "Hallmark Hall of Fame" has had to give up plans to do "Time Remembered" as its February spectacular — one of the play's owners threw a wrench into the TV plans. Genevieve, are regular on the NBC-TV "Jack Paar Show," will cross over to ABC-TV's "Voice of Firestone" Jan. 12 to guest along with Jean Sablon.

Guy Lombardo is involved in negotiations to do a TV series from his restaurant in Freeport, N.Y. Kate Smith will fade off Mutual Radio on Dec. 31. NBC-TV is knocking off its daytime soap, "Today Is Ours," and replacing it with the old radio serial, "Young Dr. Malone" on Dec. 29. One odd note — the six main characters of "Today Is Ours" will be integrated into "Young Dr. Malone" during January until their story runs out.

In 1900, the total number of passenger cars registered in the U.S. was 8,000. There are more than 56 million today.

Brown 'N Serve Rolls Take On Festive Wonder With Holiday Touches Added

The wonder of Christmas! It is the myriad smaller wonders — from the season's glitter to the holiday touches added to foods.

One of the oldest customs has been the serving of Christmas breads. The busy homemaker who may double as career woman, too, can keep the tradition alive by making them with Brown 'N Serve rolls or dressing up sliced, enriched bread.

Delightful for the tree trimming supper, will be hot Brown 'N Serve bread, its slices jeweled with chopped pimiento and green pepper. Make it according to the recipe, Jiffy Christmas Bread. For the open house, the Glazed Cherry Loaf is a merry treat. What holiday meal isn't prettier for cranberries and so fashion Cranberry Orange Rolls from dinner-type Brown 'N Serve rolls purchased at bakery or food mart. Combine these rolls with holiday foods to create breads for the Christmas spirit. Here are recipes for Rum Club Rolls, and Mint-Cocunut Rolls.

JIFFY CHRISTMAS BREAD
1/2 cup soft butter or margarine
1 tablespoon finely chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon finely chopped pimiento
1 teaspoon minced onion
1 teaspoon lemon juice
2 (5-ounce) loaves Brown 'N Serve French bread
Combine butter, green pepper, pimiento, onion and lemon juice. Slice bread, diagonally in 1/4-inch slices, being careful not to cut through bottom crust. Spread bread slices with butter mixture. Place on a cookie sheet and bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 12 minutes, or until golden brown. Yield: 10 servings (2 slices each)

GLAZED COCONUT-CHERRY LOAF
1/2 cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/4 cup soft butter or margarine
2 tablespoons strained honey
1 (1-pound) loaf sliced enriched bread
2 tablespoons shredded coconut
1 tablespoon chopped maraschino cherries (4 cherries)
Combine brown sugar, cinnamon, butter and honey. To make:

Reassemble loaf by stacking slices as each one is spread with about two teaspoons of the sugar mixture. Hold stack firmly and with a sharp knife, trim away crusts. Turn loaf on its side and set in a greased shallow pan. Loosely tie a string, lengthwise, around the stack. Spread remaining sugar mixture over top of loaf. Slice lengthwise, cutting completely through center of loaf. Gently pull tops of slices apart in several places and sprinkle coconut over loaf top. Pat cherries with absorbent paper to dry them. Arrange cherries among shreds of coconut.

Bake loaf in a moderate oven (375 degree F.) for 8 minutes, or until lightly browned. Yield: 15 servings

CRANBERRY - ORANGE ROLLS
1 dozen dinner rolls
1/4 cup soft butter or margarine
1/4 cup cranberry-orange relish
Cut rolls in half, horizontally. Combine butter and cranberry-orange relish. Spread inside of each roll with 2 teaspoons of butter mixture. Place rolls in baking pan. Cover top of pan tightly with foil. Heat rolls in a moderate oven (375 degree F.) for 8 minutes, or until rolls are heated through. Yield: 1 dozen Cranberry-Orange Rolls.

RUM CLUB ROLLS
1 dozen Brown 'N Serve club rolls
2 tablespoons rum
1-3 cup soft butter or margarine
Make four or five slits diagonally across the top of each roll, being careful not to cut through bottom crust. Blend rum with butter. Insert about 1/2 teaspoon butter mixture into each slit in the rolls. Spread any remaining butter mixture over top of rolls. Place on baking sheet. Bake in a hot oven (400 degree F.) for 12 minutes, or until golden brown. Yield: 1 dozen Rum Club Rolls

MINT - COCONUT ROLLS
2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons shredded coconut
1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine
2 tablespoons water
1/2 teaspoon mint extract
1 drop green food coloring
6 Brown 'N Serve dinner rolls
Combine sugar, coconut, butter, water, mint extract and green food coloring. Put 2 teaspoons mint coconut mixture into each of six ungreased muffin cups. Place rolls, tops down, in cups. Bake in a hot oven (400 degree F.) for 15 minutes. Let rolls stand in pan one minute, or longer, after removing from oven. Invert pan to remove rolls so that coconut side is up. Yield: 6 Mint-Cocunut Rolls

Acres Of Home-Grown Beef Provide Ingredients For Favorite Pot Roast

Virginia Welder, charming wife of Leo J. Welder, who has served the Texas Beef Council as president since 1955, has a menu-planning advantage not shared by all Texas homemakers — acres and acres of home-grown beef.

This plentiful supply, however, makes her more conscious than some of the rest of us that a beef is not just a steak or a roast—but several hundreds of pounds of many cuts of beef. And she utilizes all these different cuts to feed a family of three growing boys.

Mrs. Welder has developed her own dry barbecue seasoning which she prepares in quantity and stores on the spice shelf for future use. With it, she seasons the family's favorite pot roast, adding vegetables when she plans a one-dish meal.

"However," Mrs. Welder adds, "we usually cook pot roast with out vegetables to preserve the beef flavor. Hash served on hot pancakes is another of our favorites, and I just add potatoes and onions to the leftover roast and the hash is ready."

This recipe for Mrs. Welder's barbecue beef seasoning is sufficient to prepare 20 pounds of ribs, and is delicious on any cut beef.
5 tablespoons celery salt
1 tablespoon red pepper
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup black pepper

2 1/2 oz. cumin (or ground comiso)
To prepare Mr. Welder's favorite pot roast, to feed a family of five, Mrs. Welder advises:

Rub a chuck roast (3 or 4 pounds) with garlic and the above seasoning (or salt and pepper) and dredge with flour. Brown either in a 450 degree oven or on top of the stove, and add:

1 can tomato sauce
3/4-cup water
1 chopped onion
3 tablespoons catsup
3 tablespoons steak sauce
Cover and reduce heat to 350 degree. Cook 2 1/2 to 3 hours or until thoroughly done. Add vegetables to this recipe to make a one-dish meal, or omit them if you plan to use the leftover roast in a hash.

BOLOGNA AND POTATOES

Sometimes during the winter months, you might prepare a handsome bowl of your favorite potato salad. It may be for a Saturday night snack or a Sunday evening supper. For an added change, dice some bologna and mix it into the salad. It's colorful as well as tasty.

Forty-five million bushels of potatoes went into potato chips in this country last year and another seven million bushels were turned into commercially marketed French fries.

CHRISTMAS CAKE
Gay as a tinsel-trimmed tree is this Christmas Cake. Make it with a baker's uniced cake layer and top with a sauce that glistens with glazed fruit and nuts. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in a small saucepan; add 1 tablespoon cornstarch and blend. Flavor with 1 tablespoon orange marmalade and 2 tablespoons lemon juice; add 1 cup chopped, mixed glazed fruit. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Cook mixture until it becomes thick. Then stir 2 tablespoons silvered almonds into fruit mixture. Place a yellow or white 8-inch fruit-nut mixture, and heat in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 10 minutes. Serve warm with whipped cream.

During Busy Season Quick-Made Meal Welcomed As True Friend

This busy season is the time a quick-made meal idea is as welcome as a true friend. Here's a supper suggestion that exchanges a minimum of expense and effort for a maximum of enjoyment and convenience.

Gouda-burgers, grilled tomatoes, and herbed French fries . . . prepared quickly on table top grill . . . mighty good eating! To prepare Gouda-burgers snape your favorite hamburger mixture into rectangular burgers 3 x 2 x 1/4 inches, or follow the recipe given below. They're a perfect size for electric grill cooking . . . just right for sliding between halves of buttered crispy Vienna herd rolls.

Grill burgers as usual, topping each with a slice of Gouda cheese, 4 to 5 minutes before end of cooking period. You'll like the unique flavor the softened and warmed Gouda cheese gives to your favorite burgers.

Convenience foods are the key to this quick-made supper. Grill tomato slices on both sides; top with buttered crumbs and garnish with tiny onion rings. Heat frozen French fries in another corner of the grill and serve piping hot sprinkled with minced parsley or herbs. Cook on and serve from the grill . . . to save dish washing and to keep foods piping hot until served.

Here's the recipe for Gouda-burgers.

2 eggs, beaten
1 cup milk or tomato juice
1 teaspoon barbecue seasoning
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
Dash of pepper

AND AWAY WE GO! — (ALMOST) — Salina, Kan., auto mechanic Bob Beggs ground tests his "gyro-copter," a homemade affair, as it's hoisted on a truck. The 20-m.p.h. wind velocity is sufficient to make the midget 'copter strain against the ropes holding it to the trailer. Beggs says he'll test the machine thoroughly before taking off for real. Power will be supplied by pusher propeller.

WALTER ROGERS SAYS:

Scandalous Publicity Due South When Congress Meets

The South, which refers to several southern states, will constitute the whipping boy during the next session of the Congress. This does not mean that it has not been the whipping boy in the past. The point is that it will be in for a great deal more publicity of a scandalous nature.

This will be true not only in this country, but also in many other countries of the world. Efforts to associate the South with racial hatred, lynchings, and intolerance will be stepped up. This will be done not only for political purposes, party-wise, but also for the purpose of trying to do damage to the prestige of the South in the Congress.

Many of the key committee assignments are held by Southerners because of seniority in point of service. This has been a thorn in the side of ultra-liberals on both sides of the aisle. It is the desire to break this power and influence that has been the real cause behind the efforts of those who continually flail the southern states.

The South has traditionally been conservative; therefore, the general political philosophy of the South has not been in keeping with the philosophy of those who would create an all-powerful Federal government and concentrate all of the powers in Washington. The racial controversy has afforded an excellent weapon for those who desire to beat the South over the head.

It can be expected that isolated transactions will be advertised as the general policy throughout the South. This is an unfair and dishonest approach, and it is hoped that the people of the United States will demand the full truth concerning such accounts.

There are rabble rousers in all camps, and it should not be expected that they will not be heard from in loud and vociferous tones during the next year or two. It is not unusual for members associated with the southern group in the Congress to be referred to as "Confederate Generals".

Notice is being served in many quarters that the days of effective southern influence and prestige are numbered; that unless they fall in line and do as they are told, they can expect no mercy.

Some others who appear to be calling the tune, and having such a good time deciding what they are going to do to the South, would better read the history books and find for themselves that the South has never yielded to threats in war or peace. It would be much to the benefit of this country if some of those who so loudly castigate the South and would undertake to destroy its history and traditions would try to apply the yardstick of reason before it is too late.

Visitors

We were honored to have as visitors in our office this week Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Stein and their daughter Nancy, and Mr. H. A. Berry, all from Amarillo. They had a very nice visit in the Nation's Capital, and we hope they can return again soon.

Also visiting the office was Lt. Jack Ramsey of Tulsa, who is stationed here at Walter Reed Hospital.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas
A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas death shall be deemed to have been made in contemplation of death and shall be taxable in the estate of the one who dies.

It may be advisable to "look a gift horse in the mouth" for the gift may cost the one who receives the gift in income taxes as well as the giver in gift taxes.

For income tax purposes the cost basis of property received by gift is the cost to the giver regardless of the fact that the giver may have paid a gift tax on the gift. The other rule is that in case of property received by inheritance, the cost basis is the fair market value at the date of the decedent's death.

An example will show the application of the rules. Suppose a farmer acquired his land in the early days at a cost of $10,000. This property is now worth $50,000. The farmer wishes to retire and to escape estate taxes, so he gives the farm to his daughter.

Although he may pay federal gift taxes totaling several thousand dollars, when the daughter decides to sell the farm for its $50,000 value, she still has to pay income tax on $40,000 profit (difference between the sales price and her father's cost of $10,000.)

On the other hand, if the farmer had not given the farm to the daughter, but had left it to her under his will, he would have saved the gift tax. The daughter would have taken the property at a cost basis of $50,000 so upon the sale she would not have had to pay any income tax.

Of course, there would have been some estate taxes and administration expenses in the father's estate, but that would have been much less than the taxes which resulted from the gift. However, depending upon individual and particular circumstances, there may be occasions when a gift is advisable. Your lawyer can advise you on this matter.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Sunray Launches Intensive Search

TULSA (SpI) — Mid-Continent Oil Co. has launched an intensive search for "solid minerals" in California's Mojave desert. Sunray officials announced today in Tulsa.

A six-man exploratory crew is conducting core-drilling operations on a 75,000-acre expanse of this comparatively unexplored plateau. The crew started geophysical and core-drilling activities in May and will continue through February.

F. W. Borden, vice-president of California operations, said the company is searching for common minerals which exist in commercial potential.

HOT WATER REPLACES HOT JAZZ ON PIANO

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — It takes hot jazz to warm some keyboards. Rosalyn Tureck prefers hot water bottles.

The Chicago-born concert pianist, famous throughout the classical music world for her interpretations of Bach, laughingly explained that in many auditoriums, where even heat is a problem, the ivory keyboard sometimes feels like an 88-compartment ice cube tray. This chill affects a pianist's skill. Ergo — hot water bottles across the keyboards.

"This amuses the audience, but it does the work," she said.

Miss Tureck does not expect to have to use the warmers, in concerts Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Carnegie Hall, where she will perform with the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra.

She also will conduct as she plays Bach Concerti, a rare thing for a woman. The last female to lead the philharmonic was the French pianist, Nadia Boulanger, 25 years ago.

authority, practices yoga for relaxation, collects ancient musical instruments as a hobby, and also makes long wool mittens to keep her fingers and wrists warm and flexible before concerts.

She also owns a miniature dachshund named "Billy Budd," after the hero of a Benjamin Britten opera. Billy used to be permitted backstage. That is, until applause once excited him and he joined the orchestra in an off-key howl.

Rosalyn Tureck was a child prodigy who grew into a mature musician praised by the critics. Her concerts in the United States and abroad are sell-outs, and this season alone she will travel three continents and 30,000 miles.

Debut at 9
She made her solo debut in her home town when she was nine years old. By 11, she was a soloist with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra. She began to specialize in Bach while she was still a teenager, at the suggestion of her second teacher, Jan Chlapusko, a Bach scholar.

She graduated Cum Laude from the Juilliard School of Music in New York, and later taught both at her alma mater and at the Philadelphia Conservatory of Music.

Her New York debut was in 1936, but like many a musician she won recognition abroad before she was a hit at home.

The pianist is not bitter on the subject. "We are a younger country," she said. "We don't have the years of building a musical background the Europeans have had. They get into music like we get into politics.

"But I like to remind my European friends that in this country more people go to concerts than to baseball games."

There were 1,783 women studying for engineering degrees in the U.S. in 1957, compared with only 683 in 1950.

First Movie In Three Years Slated By Lynx-Eyed Linda

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Linda Christian, lynx-eyed and as sultry as Mississippi in August, will make her first movie in more than three years next month in the sensuous role of a voodoo femme fatale.

Linda is the last girl in the world to deny it's type-casting. The red-haired beauty, who greeted me draped only in a brief white towel, is foot-loose and ready to pick up the threads of her career — but not because she needs the money.

"Finances aren't the reason why I'm returning to work," she purred.

"Many people work because they want to keep busy. I'm sure Elizabeth Taylor doesn't have to make movies for a living. I am the same way. A career is stimulating for a girl."

Mentioning Liz's name brought a note of sadness to the shapely actress.

May Settle In Mexico
"Every time I drive by my house — the one Ty and I bought — I think I would like to move back in," she sighed. "Liz lives there now."

"But I've decided against settling in Hollywood. I think I will have the house duplicated in Mexico City where life is less placid for my restless nature. When I did live here I never got out of the house."

"My globe-trotting days are over, too, I think. I've done enough traveling to satisfy three lifetimes."

"And I have no particular boyfriend right now. I don't feel my life is bereft of anything without a man. What has happened in the past is over with. I'm looking toward a big career."

Linda slipped into a green satin robe and walked to another room of the home where she is staying as a guest.

Bewitching is the word for the Mexican-born temptress. Her every movement is feline and feminine. Her role in "Witchcraft" won't take much acting on her part. She will more than fill the bill by simply playing herself.

Has Mixed Accent
It's no wonder millionaires and playboys on three continents have fallen all over them, eyes winning her favor.

Her accent — a mixture of German, French, Spanish and Italian — adds to Linda's allure. Frequently in conversation she throws in a word from one or another of the languages.

"I never spoke any one language long enough to lose my accent," she giggled. "But no one has raised any objections about the way I talk."

"In the picture I portray a voodoo girl who is initiated into a cult. Some of the costumes are quite revealing, but it is the best role that has come along in three years. That's why I accepted it."

"After this film I will return to Mexico to form my own company and make my own movies — in several language versions.

"This is the beginning of a permanent and continuing career for me. Just wait and see."

Matter of FACT

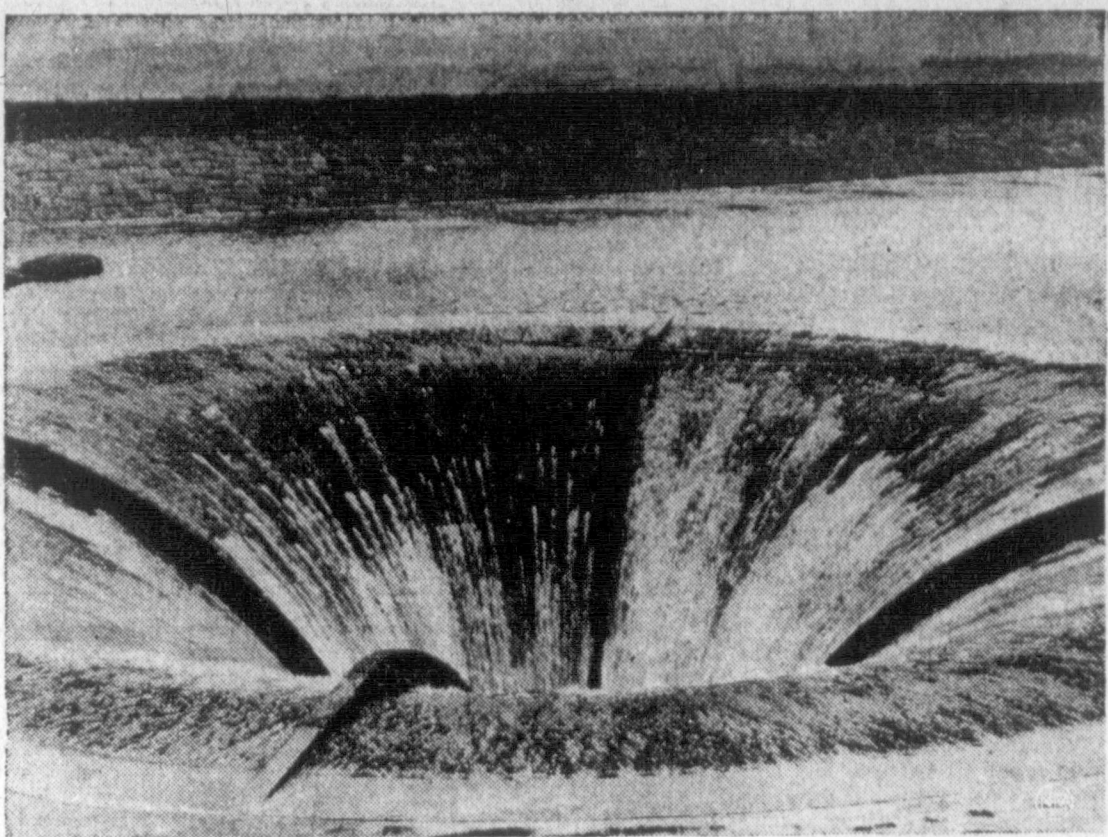

CARIBBEAN

Although it won its place of fame in naval history during the War of 1812, the 44-gun frigate The Constitution was launched in 1797. In 1798, it was put in service against French privateers who were invading American waters. Later it was used against the Barbary pirates. During the great sea battle of Cape Race in the War of 1812, American sailors saw British shot bound off the solid oak sides—hence the nickname "Old Ironsides."

Freckle-Faced Youth Will Be Santa Claus Mayor

SANTA CLAUS, Ind. (UPI) — A red-haired namesake of the Archangel Michael will reign as honorary mayor of Santa Claus Dec. 20-21.

Michael Langenfeld, Hastings, Minn., who will be 11 on Christmas Eve, won the annual mayoralty contest held by the Santa Claus Chamber of Commerce. Judges announced the winner today.

Michael is one of eight children of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Langenfeld. His mother, Eleanor, will accompany him on an expense-paid train and plane trip here. She described the new mayor as having "auburn red hair, blue eyes, lots of freckles and a sense of humor." The latter was important when Michael broke his leg a few years ago while doing an Indian war dance. However, his mother said he is not much for dancing. His main hobbies are fishing and ice skating. He is a sixth grader at the Guardian Angel Catholic school in Hastings.

Michael has five older brothers and sisters—Mrs. James Drier, John, Robert and Thomas Langfeld, all of Hastings, and Miss Maureen Langenfeld, an airline hostess who lives in Los Angeles. The new honorary mayor is "big brother" to David, 8, and Danny.

AND THE PUPILS?

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie H. Gray

Allison-Gray Say Marriage Vows

SKELLYTOWN (Sp) — Miss Naomi Betty Allison became the bride of Jimmie Harlan Gray in a ceremony performed by Rev. S. J. McMullen in the parsonage of the First Assembly of God Church on Nov. 29 at 8 p.m. Double-ring vows were read before an improvised altar banked with baskets of white gladioli. The bride wore a ballerina-length gown of Chantilly lace over satin and net. The fingertip veil of illusion fell from a head band of satin decorated with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses and white carnations showered with blue satin ribbons atop a white Bible.

Mrs. F. C. Gee served her sister as matron-of-honor wearing a navy blue sheath complemented with a blue half-hat and a corsage of white carnations.

Jerry Gray, twin-brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Mrs. Allison chose a gray suit with blue accessories and a pink carnation corsage. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Gray, wore a brown two-piece dress with beige accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

A reception was held in the parsonage following the ceremony. Mrs. Tommie Allison, bride's sister-in-law, presided at the punch. Robbins, Lefors, bride's sister, served cake.

Following the reception, the couple left for Austin, where they will reside at 706 E. 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Gray were graduated from White Deer High School. Mrs. Gray attended Pampa School of Business. Mr. Gray is in his junior year at Texas University, Austin.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Tom Allison, Barry and Ginny fo Olney; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Robbins, Mike and Danny of Lefors; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Gray of Phillips.

RUTH MILLETT

A lot of the incompatibility between husbands and wives is nothing more than pure laziness on both parts.

She is too lazy to learn to do the things he likes to do and he is too lazy to make the effort to share her interests.

For five years Mr. Brown grumbled because Mrs. Brown wouldn't learn to play bridge. And for five years Mrs. Brown tried to persuade Mr. Brown how to dance—without success.

Mrs. Brown claimed she hated bridge and Mr. Brown said he not only didn't know how to dance he didn't intend to learn.

Then the Browns finally made a deal. If Mrs. Brown would take bridge lessons Mr. Brown would take a course of dancing lessons.

It has worked out fine. Mr. B. is proud of the way he can rhumba and Mrs. B. is often the one who says, "If you had led a spade we could have set the hand."

Other married couples who find they have few interests in common could make the same kind of deal the Browns made.

In doing so, they would not only become more compatible—but each would add a little variety to his own life by taking on a new interest or learning a new skill.

When a woman learns to hunt or fish because her husband is a hunter or a fisherman, or when a man learns to enjoy good music because his wife does, each adds to his own pleasure as well as to his partner's.

So don't look down your nose at your husband's or your wife's latest enthusiasm. Give it a try. say, "I'm not interested."

The average American consumed 205 quarts of milk, 46 pounds of cream, eight and a half pounds of butter, eight pounds of cheese, 15 pounds of condensed milk 20 quarts of ice cream and five pounds of cottage cheese in 1957.

Members Honored At B&PW Party

Mrs. Mattie Crowson, immediate past president of the Business and Professional Women's Club, was hostess for the club's Christmas Party on Sunday afternoon in the City Club Room. Mrs. Crowson introduced Mrs. Bonnie Hutchinson, who delighted the members with a Christmas story, "Miracle on 34th Street."

Also participating in the program were Mrs. Ruth Hutchens and Mrs. Lucille Turner, who honored two outstanding members for their work in the community, in the form of a skit, "This Is Your Life. Mrs. Gladys Jaynes and Mrs. Nell Tinnin". The honorees were presented with a gift from the club.

Members were greeted by Mrs. Cordelia Mayes, Mrs. Jaynes and Mrs. Jewell Howell, who were also in charge of the gift exchange.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Tinnin and Mrs. Jaynes from a table decorated with the traditional Christmas Holly and candles.

Members brought toys for the colored nursery, which will be presented by Mrs. Inez Carter and Mrs. Flossie Anderson; they also brought food for a needy family to be presented at Christmas.

Mrs. Newton Leads Missionary Lesson

CANADIAN (Sp) — The Woman's Council of the First Christian Church met in the church recently for a luncheon meeting. Mrs. F. A. Blue, president, presided.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: Mmes. F. A. Blue, president; W. W. Burnett, vice-president; Troy Newton, treasurer; and Wayne Newell, secretary.

Mrs. Troy Newton was in charge of the lesson on missionary work in Mexico.

Manners Makes Friends

Because the Smiths live in the same building that houses their small business, some of their customers feel they ought to "open up" at any hour.

But business hours should be respected—even when the owner combines his home and office, business place.

Those present were Mmes. J. V. Guthrie, Robert Vought, Juanita Rollins, J. B. Horn, R. N. Cypert and hostess.

Mrs. Ed Lehnick was hostess to the Nina Hankins Circle with the book of Romans taught by Mrs. L. M. Berry. Mrs. W. B. Minter presided over the business session in which reports were given and approved. Mrs. David Robinson led in prayer, and the group went in pairs for visitation after being dismissed.

Present were Mmes. Alba Shores, Harold Teel, Bob Stricker, W. B. Minter, David Robinson, Edward Lehnick.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a woman who made a mistake and married the wrong man. I lived with him for two years and tried to make a go of it, but it was no use. There is this guy who has been after me for years. He always liked me but I thought he was too old for me. Now I am 23 and he is 44 and he doesn't seem too old for me. He wants to pay for my divorce. He has wanted to marry me for a long time (even before my marriage) but I always thought of him as a brother, not a lover. Should I let him pay for my divorce even though I don't care for him? He says he expects nothing from me in return.

ELLIE
DEAR ELLIE: I hate to spoil your Christmas, Honey, but there aren't no Santa Claus. Refuse his "generous" offer.

DEAR ABBY: The man who boasts that he buys only one suit a year while his wife had "thirty dresses hanging in her closet" caused me to write this. Too many women dress beautifully while their husbands go around in shiny, outdated suits. (Those wide lapels have been "out" for years, but you still see many so-called successful business men wearing them.) I blame the woman. If she weren't so selfish, she'd see to it that her husband dressed as nicely as she did. When I see a beautifully-dressed woman with a poorly-dressed husband, I don't admire either of them. She shouldn't put everything he makes on her back, and he shouldn't let her.

OUTSPOKEKN JOAN
DEAR OUT: And spoken like a sensible woman.

DEAR ABBY: I have a certain relative who gets on my nerves so bad I can hardly stand her. No matter what I say she gives me an argument. For instance, if I say, "I like Steve Allen," she says, "You are crazy. Ed Sullivan is much better." She will argue with doctors about medicine or with lawyers about law. She even quarrels with the minister about what the Bible means. Nothing is too much for her to tackle. She is an authority on everything. How do you get along with a person like that?

GIVE UP
DEAR GIVE: The only way to get along with some people is to get along without them. Avoid her.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter was married recently. Her wedding gown was very beautiful and quite expensive. A close girlfriend is getting married pretty soon and has asked my daughter if she could wear her wedding dress. I was shocked at this as I have always felt that a wedding dress is something sacred and one doesn't just borrow a wedding dress. Am I foolish or old-fashioned to feel this way? My daughter says it would be selfish not to let her wear it. The decision is up to my daughter. Do people outside the family borrow wedding gowns?

NOTHING SACRED
DEAR NOTHING: Close friends have been known to lend their wedding gowns. If your daughter wants to lend it—I see no reason why she shouldn't.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "MISERABLE": For goodness sakes, tell your parents you've changed your mind and return his ring! A broken engagement will heal a lot faster than a broken heart.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

If you want a collection of Abby's best letters and answers in one book, ask your bookdealer to get "DEAR ABBY" for you.

Consumption of cement in the United States is expected to be about 293,000,000 barrels in 1958. (Read The News Classified Ads.)

WHITE DEER—You remember the citizen who took liver pills for five years, then died of a heart attack. And his liver was so strong, they had to beat it with a stick for three days before it would give up?

... real proud citizen

The man who has made like a modern-day Moses and led this Top O' Texas city from gridiron oblivion to state prominence, stopped scratched his balding head and laced on a pair of cleated moleskins, saying, "I've never had a club look any better or work any harder than we have this week. I'd say that's a pretty good sign, wouldn't you?"

Teeth For Title!

There's a gay sign outside the modest office of White Deer school superintendent, H. W. Laycock, here which was composed and directed by his numbingly typewriter slave, Mrs. Lois Hughes, who goes by the title of private secretary.

Two Cinderella Clubs

This is White Deer High's first venture into the state finals. In fact, it's the first time after four heart-breaking Buckles have struggled out of regional play.

toughness of Coach Otis Holladay's White Deer Bucks. "They don't seem to be a bit football weary. It's amazing when you stop to consider we're in our 17th week of workouts. They would be pretty pooped if it wasn't for the psychological effect of having a state championship fight in front of them. Even our young frosh and sophomore subs have the best spirit a coach could hope for." It was White Deer High's wise ole football fox, Holladay, taking a couple practice swings before he smote the nail squarely on the head.

"I guess you could say the big factor in our gaining the finals is the kids' general attitude. Why, every game seems to be a matter of do-or-die with them. And, you know, when you hit the playoffs that is just the way it is too."

It says: "Dear Santa, all I want for Christmas is a state championship for the Bucks." "There's barrels of that kind of loyalty and enthusiasm flowing about this wheat city. Nobody's asking for two front teeth this year in White Deer. NOTE TO AREA DENTISTS: Business could be brisk indeed next week, for they're 28 eager young gentlemen here who are willing to swap any of their crown molars against Elgin in the Big Classic at Sweetwater Saturday night.

Nine District 2-A Gridders Nominated For State Honors

BRENHAM (Sp)—Nine footballers from District 2-A have been nominated for the Class A all-state grid team. It was revealed here today by Tommy Blake, sports editor of the Brenham Banner-Press and chairman of the Class A all-state team.

White Deer's Bucks, champions of 2-A have five players currently being voted on by sports writers across the state for the mythical eleven. The Bucks, who lock horns in Sweetwater Saturday night with Elgin for the Class A title, had Tailback Hershel Powell, Ends Jeff Bearden and Ronnie Cade, Tackle Scott Barnes and Guard Bryan Coday nominated for the team.

Other four District 2-A nominees are Tommy Johnson, Lefors quarterback; Kenny Abraham, Canadian quarterback; Billy Crockett, McLean fullback; and Calvin Stracner, Lefors guard.

Serving as co-chairmen on the nominating committee for District 2-A were Rick Pezdirtz, Pampa Daily News; and Bob Bailey, Amarillo Globe-News.

Player-by-player briefs: HERSHEL POWELL, White Deer—Leads team in rushing and carrying with 1,970 yards on 246 carries and 130 points respectively. Top-notch line-backer.

TOMMY JOHNSON, Lefors—Tallied 130 points in ten games... all 30 in a 30-0 win over Sumner... led Pirate offense with 1,812 yards... 1,216 rushing and 546 passing... runs 100 in 10.4.

BILLY CROCKETT, McLean—Averaged 123 yards per game for Jack Riley and scored 110 points, despite playing behind smallest line in Top O' Texas (145 pound average). Fine linebacker.

KENNY ABRAHAM, Canadian—Scored 123 points and fired nine TD passes. At 6-0 and 185 pounds rated a terrific college prospect by his coach, Grady Burnett.

JEFF BEARDEN, White Deer—Fine pair of hands. One of state leaders in scoring for an end with 62 points, nine TD catches. At 6-3 and 185 pounds rated good college prospect.

RONNIE CADE, White Deer—Top downfield blocker for Bucks. Snagged six TD passes. Stands 6-2 and tips scales at 180, as college prospect.

Don Adams and Jackie Burns will both be in the lineup Saturday for White Deer when the Bucks play Elgin for the class A state championship.

Adams, a wingback, was unable to play in last week's game against Mason, because of a badly sprained ankle. However, he has been running in practice and will see some action, according to White Deer coaches.

Burns, who turned his ankle in the Mason game, is almost completely recovered and should be able to go full speed. Burns was not taken out of the Mason game, but he was slowed down somewhat.

Adams, a wingback, is the team's third leading rusher, with 869 yards. Burns is White Deer's quarterback and top passer. He has completed 24 passes for 648 yards and 10 touchdowns.

The only man missing from White Deer's lineup will be Don Driskill, who was injured three weeks ago in the Gruver game and knocked out for the rest of the season.

The White Deer-Elgin game will be played Saturday at 7 p.m. in Sweetwater.

Elgin Unimpressive—According to scouting reports by White Deer coaches, Elgin has not been impressive so far in the playoffs.

However, one of its "unimpressive" wins was a 14-6 decision over defending co-champion Mart—a team which White Deer coaches admit is one of the best in the state.

Elgin's other playoff wins were 26-18 over Waco Midway, 28-24 over Warren, and 14-6 over George West.

According to scouting reports, Elgin has a good defense but only a fair offense. They usually gain less than 200 yards on the ground, and put together only two or three drives per game.

However, the Elgin attack has been good enough to win, and that's all that's necessary.

Tourney Starts Day Early, Due to Mixup in Schedule

LAWTON, Okla. (Sp)—The Harvesters play tonight in the first game of the Lawton tournament—one night earlier than expected.

There had been a mixup in scheduling. Harvester coaches thought the tournament was to be played Friday and Saturday, and the tourney had been listed for those dates on the schedules. However, Lawton officials called Wednesday and said that the tournament would be played Thursday and Friday.

The Harvesters open the tournament at 7:30 p. m., against Duncan, Okla.—a team which was beaten by Hobbs. The Harvesters won a pair from Hobbs last weekend.

Coach Clifton McNeely said Wednesday that Craig Winborn, a 6-3 regular starting forward, may not see much action in the tournament.

The younger of the Winborn brothers missed the Hobbs series, with a bad case of flu. He has just returned to school, and may still be too weak to play much.

If Craig Winborn is unable to play, Joe Timms (5-11) will probably be the fifth starter. Timms played in place of Winborn at Hobbs, and did a creditable job.

The second game of the two-day, four-team tournament will be played at 9 p.m. Going in that one will be Bowie and Lawton. Consolation finals are set for 7:30 p.m. Friday, and the championship game for 9 p.m. Friday.

The Harvesters will be shooting for their 21st consecutive win in the opening game of the tournament, and their 22nd Friday night if they get through the first one as expected.

Pampa fans will get their first look at the Harvesters in more than two weeks Tuesday, when they return home to play Phillips. Denton will be here next Friday and Saturday.

Coyle Winborn, 6-4 all-state forward, is expected to lead the Harvesters attack. He is averaging almost 20 points per game, with 138; has a .631 shooting percentage, and has grabbed 72 rebounds.

Mack Layne, 6-5 center; Charlie Minor, 5-11 guard, and Bob Ginty, 6-4 forward will all be scoring threats, and Timms should make a very capable fifth starter.

Phillip Gist, 5-11, can do an adequate job if any of the starters foul out or leave the game because of injury.

Layne has been the top rebounder, with 74, and has lately found his shooting eye. He netted 24 points in the last Hobbs game.

Minor, a consistent player, has fallen below 10 points only once this season. He is the team's second leading scorer, with 97 points.

Ginty has a great percentage both from the field and from the free throw line. He has hit 360 on his field goal attempts, and leads the team with an .813 percentage on charity tosses.

Timms and Gist have done well in the shooting department, to o. Gist has scored 27 points, Timms 26. Timms, in addition, has grabbed 28 rebounds.

Others making the Lawton trip will be Billy Wray, Don McGuire, Hershel Terrell, and Mert Cooper (all Harvesters reserves) and Shocker captain Pat Carter.

The Shockers will not play at Lawton, since the B team games are scheduled.

Clemson is Deep In Bench Strength

CLEMSON, S. C. (UPI)—The Clemson Tigers, who meet the nationally top-ranked Louisiana State Tigers in the Sugar Bowl football game New Year's Day, don't have the big-name stars of the Bayou Bengals but compiled an 8-2 season record, primarily on depth.

However, the South Carolina Tigers don't go three teams deep as do LSU's much-publicized "white team, go team and Chinese bandits."

But Clemson did have eight backs who gained more than 130 yards each during the 1958 season which produced an Atlantic Coast Conference championship and senior Charlie Horne, a half-back standout the two previous years, found himself at season's end on the third team.

So did senior fullback and co-captain Rudy Hayes, who gained 310 yards rushing despite finishing the season playing behind junior Doug Cline and senior Mike Dukies. Cline led the team in rushing with 438 yards.

Harvey White, who had more than 1,000 yards in total offense as a sophomore in 1957, was hampered by shoulder and ankle injuries during the second half of the 1958 schedule but still posted 738 yards passing and running.

Sophomore Lowndes Shingler wrote a capable understudy for White at quarterback, piling up 336 yards total offense although he, too, was hampered by a bad ankle. Coach Frank Howard hopes ailments to White, Shingler and other members of the squad will be healed by Jan. 1.

PAMPA BOXERS HOST CLOVIS TEAM FRIDAY

Clovis, New Mexico, will bring a squad of at least 14 boxers here for bouts Friday, at Pampa Optimist Boys Club.

Preliminary matches, between the smaller boys, will begin at 7:30 p.m. The main matches begin at 8 p.m.

The Clovis squad includes five state champions—or runners-up: Blaze Garcia, 115-pound runnerup; Billy Nelson, 118-pound champion; Theo Nance, 145-pound champ; James Stepp, Heavyweight champ; and Wilbur Washington, five-time welterweight champ.

Stepp is considered the best fighter on the squad. He reached the quarterfinals in last year's national Golden-Gloves matches in Chicago, before losing a close decision to the eventual national champion.

Stepp, a 210-pound colored fighter and a southpaw, will definitely fight Carl McClure, according to Pampa boxing coach Oren James. McClure is the Texas heavyweight runnerup.

Nelson won the bantamweight open class title last year, but has moved up to the featherweight division. Nance is the novice welterweight champ, and Blaze is the bantamweight runnerup.

Other Clovis fighters who will make the trip are Clarence Archie, 105; Wade Stevenson, 135; Apache, 120; Wade Stevenson, 135; Pat Walker, middleweight; Bob Foreman, middleweight; Gene Torres, 136; and Joe Garcia, 100. At least two or three other fighters are expected to make the trip.

In previous matches this year, Pampa won four of 10 at Amarillo; beat Herford and Dumas eight matches out of 11; topped Fort Sill in seven of nine; split with San Angelo, two and two; and won five of eight from Amarillo, Dum and Lefors fighters.

Next bout for Pampa, after Friday, will be here Jan. 3 against Sheppard Air Force Base of Wichita Falls. They then travel to Fort Sill Jan. 10, and to Sheppard Jan. 17.

The District Golden Gloves Meet will be held Jan. 21-24 in Pampa, and the regional meet will take place Feb. 4, 8, and 7 in Amarillo.

At Dallas, little Maxie Williams had his jump shot and his free throw techniques working to perfection, as the Mustang hit six of 18 shots from the field and dropped in seven of nine free throws for 19 points for SMU.

Williams delighted the crowd of 4,000 with his floor wizardry and back-handed passing.

SMU jumped ahead quickly, and aside from ties at 2-2, 6-6 and 8-8, led all of the way. The Mustangs were in front 26-21 at the halftime, and was ahead seven and eight points much of the time.

Sooner senior center Bob Stoermer hit 18 points for Oklahoma.

At Fayetteville, Arkansas matched the Phillips Oilers race-horse brand of basketball during the first half, with a brand of its own, and forced the 66-ers into a freeze that deadlocked the game at 50-50 at the close of regular play.

Clyde Rhoden, Hot Springs sophomore, led Arkansas with 18 points, which was high for the game.

Bowl Briefs

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—Texas Christian had a better day of it on the practice field Wednesday afternoon, than their miserable workout the day before.

The team showed a lot of enthusiasm and fire, and the first team stopped the Air Force plays cold.

ABILENE, Tex. (UPI)—The Hardin-Simmons Cowboys took it easy Wednesday to give time for injuries of the previous day's workout to mend.

The Cowboys held contact drills but concentrated on dummy drills to polish their offense for the game with Wyoming in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Dec. 31.

NORMAN, Okla. (UPI)—Oklahoma University may spice its post-season bowl appearance with more of the "smorgasbord offense" it showed fans early in the season.

Here's One 'Worried Man' Who Fears Losing His Job

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The political beat where I work is more noise than substance just now, so I've been browsing again in the little volume of the collected writings of my father, the late Harmon D. Wilson.

My father used to write a column in Arthur Capper's Topeka (Kan.) Daily Capital. He often wrote about a character he called "The Worried Man." He used to write, and mean it, that he was perfectly reconciled would be wholly satisfied—if he just could succeed in being a good average man. He was, in fact, way above average.

He never tasted alcohol in any form, but he was not a prohibitionist. He didn't smoke much, but he had a pipe and old Carrie A. Nation, a battle-ax if ever was, stormed into his pipe with her hatchet. My father thought that was funny and wrote a piece about it for his column, but the piece I am borrowing today is one he wrote about "The Worried Man." My father knew what men worried about. This is the piece:

"I frequently wonder how it is that I hold my job. Half the time, when I receive my check at the end of the week, I expect also to get a note informing me that my services are no longer needed; that it is time for me to hunt a new job. There may be no real reason for this, but I cannot get over the feeling. I do my best with the tasks that are assigned to me, and try in every manner to please my employers. But in spite of all I can do, I am continually meeting people who tell me how my work should be done.

"They tell me that I did this thing wrong, and that I fell down miserably when I attempted to do something else. They are continually pointing out errors of judgment and telling me how much better things could have been done. I am painfully aware of the deficiencies in my work, but I find that my wise friends are onto my failings in better shape than I am. It is on this account that I wonder so frequently how it is that I manage to hold my job. I meet so many people who are doing nothing, and who tell other people how much better they could do my work, that it is a constant source of surprise to me that my employer does not give me the bounce and put some man in my place who is really competent.

"I am beginning to think that

Cold Means Feeding Of Livestock

AUSTIN (UPI)—Feeding of livestock became a general practice over the state last week because of cold, wintry weather, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports.

The USDA has reported that the cotton harvest and land bedding slowed as many operators preferred waiting rather than brave the cold winds.

The northwest needed additional moisture as many high plains wheat fields still have not rooted down, the USDA said.

The development of oats slowed in the North and northeastern counties due to the cold weather. The USDA said, however, that in the southeastern counties farmers were back in the fields working land for next year after being held out by rains of two weeks ago.

Cotton harvest in western and northwestern districts approached the "scraping" stage. Gins in these areas reduced backlogs as cold weather slowed stripping, and the crop was expected to be all out by Christmas.

Fine seedling plantings were active in eastern counties, and the USDA said a few farmers were getting ready to apply dormant oil spray to fruit trees.

Only scattered peanut fields in the cross-timbers and South Texas remained for harvest, while the pecan harvest was about over.

The USDA said feeding of hay, bundle feed and oats was materially increased as the cold northerly whistled downstate, with unprotected stock showing considerable drawing, but otherwise holding up.

Dry-land wheat pastures on the High Plains are furnishing some grazing but not as much as expected earlier, the USDA reported. Oats and barley pastures in central counties are still providing good grazing, but low temperatures retarded growth.
