CASTRO, WITH & WITHOUT

Suspect Held As Would-Be Assassin

By FRANCIS L. MCCARTHY
United Press International

HAVANA (UPI) — Edward A. Nye, 31, of Chicago and Coral Gables, Fla., has been held for more than a month as the suspected triggerman in a plot to assassinate Fidel Castro, it was reported today.

Police said the rebels who seized Nye in eastern Cuba Dec. 26—five days before ex-President Fulbright Batista fled—reported that he had a rifle with a telescopic sight and a pistol in his possession at the time.

Nye, who is being held at a police station here, told UPI that he never has heard what charges have been filed against him or any. He denied complicity in any murder plot.

"It's all a big mistake," he said. "I came to Cuba to join Castro, not to kill him."

Nye, who was a military flier during World War II, said he came to Cuba to offer Castro the benefit of his experience. He said he was looking for Castro when the rebels seized him in Santa Rita.

accident caused when a hand grenade he was carrying with the safety pin pulled out, exploded when it slipped from his hands.

Dunay said he had meant to use the grenade to seize arms from revolutionary troops for an underground organization made up of anti-Castro veterans to halt the war crimes executions and put a stop to demobilization of the regular army.

He said he had meant to go to the U.S. naval base town of Trinidad, intending to kill Castro when he visits there during his current tour of the provinces.

Dunay's efforts to form an underground group apparently failed. He was turned into the rebels by three young soldiers whose support he had sought.

The money will be borrowed on the completion of the hotel with the interim financing handled by Pampa and other Panhandle banks.

The terms of the loan give a lien to lending institutions of all the hotel property north of Red Deer Creek with the sale of any property to apply on reducing the loan. The property south of the creek will be unencumbered and can be disposed of by the hotel board of directors for use either in the hotel's construction or retiring the loan.

George Cree Jr., hotel corporation president, notified the news today that working plans would be completed around March 15 and that the Houston construction firm of Farnsworth and Chambers would start actual construction the first part of April.

Though there are many variables which could influence a completion date, Benson Ford, Farnsworth and Chambers representative, stated this morning that the structure should be completed in from nine to ten months after ground is broken.

Hail and rain fell upon the ice and snow in North and West Texas today, but a gradual warming trend was taking hold.

It won't last long though. The weather bureau said that cold air will enter the Panhandle again Wednesday.

$400,000 Borrowed For New Community Hotel

Construction Will Begin

The Pampa Community Hotel was given its biggest boost to reality since over $800,000 was raised in the sale of securities, a little over two years ago, when it was announced today by E. L. (Gene) Green that a loan for $400,000 had been consummated with Western National Life Insurance Company and the Small Business Administration.

Western National and SBA will participate to the extent of $200,000 each with an interest rate of 5 1/2%. Of the total amount borrowed, $150,000 will come due in two years and $250,000 will be borrowed over ten years, Green stated.

The money will be borrowed on the completion of the hotel with the interim financing handled by Pampa and other Panhandle banks.

The terms of the loan give a lien to lending institutions of all the hotel property north of Red Deer Creek with the sale of any property to apply on reducing the loan. The property south of the creek will be unencumbered and can be disposed of by the hotel board of directors for use either in the hotel's construction or retiring the loan.

Hail and rain fell upon the ice and snow in North and West Texas today, but a gradual warming trend was taking hold.

It won't last long though. The weather bureau said that cold air will enter the Panhandle again Wednesday.

Thunderstorms, carrying light hail, developed early today and moved from west to east across North Texas. The thunderstorms hit both Fort Worth and Dallas but dropped little rain, lasted only a short time, and then moved northeast.

This latest stage of bad weather, which was coming to an end today, played a part in taking at least 18 lives in the state. Fourteen died in traffic accidents, three in the crash of an airplane near Kessville, and one by drowning in the Gulf of Mexico.

But the weather bureau said a high pressure system to the north of Texas, which produced the turbulence had moved off to the east and a warming trend will spread over the state today.

Some light freezing drizzle continued early today from the Fort Worth-Dallas area to Wink. Fog covered much of East Texas, from Houston and Beaumont north through Tyler and Longview all the way to the Red River.

The temperature dropped to 13 degrees at Dalhart early today. One inch of snow was still on the ground at Dalhart, and an inch of snow remained on the ground at Lubbock. Freezing drizzle reached as far into the state as Waco.

United Press International
Rival groundhogs at Punxsutawney, Pa., and Sun Prairie, Wis., and the Weather Bureau agreed on one thing Monday—the nation is in the grip of one of the severest cold waves of the winter.

Shadow or no shadow, any groundhog which didn't pump back into its warm burrow after sampling the morning air risked a case of frostbite.

An arctic air mass which invaded the nation during the week-end spread from the Rockies to the Atlantic. The severe cold pressed as far south as Missouri, where Kirksville registered three below zero early Monday.

The cold air advance touched off a band of snow and freezing drizzle in the southern plains through western Oklahoma and most of Texas. Roads were open in the storm area but extremely hazardous.

New snow Sunday accumulated to a depth of eight inches at Gage, Okla., and the northeastern section of the Texas Panhandle. Wichita, Kan., was hit by a seven-inch snowfall, and amounts ranged up to a foot in rural areas between Wichita and Gage.

Heavy Rain in Texas

During the night, a band of freezing drizzle stretched from Wichita Falls, Tex., through Abilene and San Angelo. West of that line snow extended into most of New Mexico, while rain fell to the east.

The heaviest rain was along the Texas coast with more than an inch at Houston in a six-hour period Sunday night and three-fourths of an inch at Beaumont, Galveston and Kingsville.

Elsewhere in the north, it was mostly fair and cold. Temperature plunged to zero or below throughout the northern tier of states from Montana to northern New England.

Groundhog Snowed In
Lone Rock, Wis., recorded an early morning reading of 28 degrees below zero Monday after registering 40 below early Sunday. By contrast, Key West, Fla., reported a 72-degree reading early Monday.

Other early morning temperatures below zero at Chicago-O'Hare International Airport, 5 at Boston, 14 at New York City, 24 at Washington, 49 at Atlanta, 2 below at Minneapolis, 33 at Dallas, 28 at Seattle and 41 at Anchorage, Alaska.

Trailer Law Is Passed 2nd Time

By MARVIN OLSEN
Daily News Staff Writer

Ordinance 514, which would bar trailer homes from residential areas, passed on second reading at this morning's meeting of the Pampa City Commission. No persons appeared to contest the ordinance.

The commission, after reading a letter endorsing the ordinance from trailer park owner Cliff Armstrong, passed the ordinance without a dissenting vote.

Armstrong, owner of the Pampa Trailer Court, stated he felt the ordinance "was not discriminatory to mobile home owners," and in fact was for their own good.

He said it would ultimately bring more trailers into the city's trailer parks, and hence would lower park costs and enable park owners to make their parks more attractive.

Armstrong said at present his 56-trailer park is seldom over half occupied. He said the city's two other large parks were in similar straits. He said he usually $7 a week, bills paid, and they might go lower if business picked up.

He concluded: "Mobile home owners will profit by this ordinance." Armstrong said he and others realized the city's difficulty in taxing trailers that were not on permanent foundations.

Turning to other matters, the commission decided to call a meeting of builders and contractors next week before approving a building code drawn up for Pampa by Southern Builders Association.

Reds Warn Of Their Missile Might And Target Accuracy

By HENRY SHAPIRO
United Press International

MOSCOW (UPI)—Defense Minister Rodion Malinovsky warned the "imperialists" today that Russia has an arsenal of rockets that can carry hydrogen warheads accurately to any point on earth.

Malinovsky told the 21st Communist Congress these rockets cannot be stopped by any known means of anti-aircraft defense.

He said Russia's rockets "constitute a fighting force capable of accomplishing the most important tasks" in any future war.

"Your arms are too short," he told the "imperialists," who he said are "continuing their preparations for a new war and the use of the most powerful weapon of mass extermination—nuclear weapons—and are threatening with the might of their aviation and navy."

Malinovsky added, however, that "we are not contemplating attacking anybody."

"But we have all the means of inflicting retaliatory blows on aggressors—no matter where they are, in order to end any desire to attack on our part," he said.

"Intercontinental ballistic rockets cannot be stopped by any means of anti-aircraft defense and can carry their hydrogen charges to any point on earth—to the very point," for they are very accurate."

Malinovsky said he was replying to "militant statements by the war ministers of several Western countries which contain threats against the Soviet Union and socialist countries."

He said the Atlantic Pact was an "aggressive bloc not only intended for the struggle against socialist countries but also as a weapon for subjugating the capitalist countries of Europe to the United States."

He said the pact "is characterized by deep internal divergences" which do not "minimize the threat of war in the least."

Referring to reports that the U. S. Navy could land troops "at any point of our coast," Malinovsky said:

"It appears to me that it would be a good thing for those overseas to give a thought about the vulnerability of their own coasts."

Former Deputy Premier Mikhail Pervukhin apologized to the congress today for his failure to support Russia's leaders against the "anti-party group."

Pervukhin told a closed session of the congress that he "fully agrees" with the denunciation of the opposition group published in the report of December's Central Committee meeting.

"To my bitter regret, I must state that at a time fraught with responsibility for the party, I was unable to discern the anti-party plottings of that group," he said.

It was not immediately certain whether others of the group would appear before the congress.

The demand for a "public accounting" by the disgraced former party leaders was raised by the head of the Leningrad Communist Party during the early days of the current 21st party congress.

The observers said the congress appeared to be about ready to wind up. They said the time schedule now makes it unlikely that members of the "anti-party" group would appear before the congress to recant, confess or defend themselves.

Speaker after speaker had attacked the group, which includes former premiers—Georgi Malenkov and Nikolai Bulganin, former premier and foreign minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov, former presidium member Lazar Kaganovich and ex-foreign minister Dmitri Shepilov.

January Was Good Month For Services

The Pampa Red Cross has gained two staff aides, Mrs. Bill McCormick and Mrs. K. A. Sorenson. Mrs. F. W. Shottwell, Chapter executive secretary, welcomed the new recruits to a recent meeting of staff aides. The meeting took place in the home of Mrs. C. S. Boston, 2425 Christine.

Home services, notably financial assistance to service men and veterans, were discussed. Mrs. Shottwell took up referral to other agencies. The Red Cross has a "permissive" policy that allows the Red Cross to handle certain situations if no other agency is equipped to.

The Red Cross works closely with the Salvation Army, the American Legion Auxiliary, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Auxiliary, according to Mrs. Shottwell.

During January the local Red Cross handled 105 cases. Fifty-four involved service men and their families. Fifty civilians came under the permissive policy.

The office made service loans amounting to $184 plus loans of $149 to veterans. $137 to civilians. A total of $330 was expended, exclusive of communications.

Communications is another home service. Last month, four verifications of emergency leaves and extensions were sent. The Red Cross also helped eight veterans' families to apply for government benefits and sent 18 health and welfare communications for servicemen's families.

Staff aides, working in the Red Cross office, are compiling a Red membership list from the United Fund roster. Everyone who gave to the United Fund is considered a Red Cross member.

A folding wheel chair is now available in the office for anyone who needs the use of it. At the moment, no hospital beds are available.

The next staff aide meeting will take place Feb. 11 in the Red Cross office.

Rooney Back In Business As An All-American Gangster

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Mickey Rooney "made it" the first time around as the all-American boy (Andy Hardy). Now he's back in business as the All-American gangster.

The sawed-off actor, who admits to making a comeback every two weeks, returned to the limelight more than a year ago playing "Baby Face Nelson." His latest, "The Last Mile," is another crime story in which he is tougher than a two-week shooting schedule (the lensing time for his new picture).

"Juveniles aren't popular anymore — and I couldn't go on playing them all my life," Rooney explained.

"The public wants one of three things, love, sex or violence. It so happens I fit into violence. And in a way it's off-beat casting. The fact that I'm the tall, handsome, leading-man type playing a gangster has shock value."

Rooney's size will come in handy for his next picture, "The Gravy Train," in which he plays a jockey — "an honest one."

Mickey is 28 years old now and looks it. His hair is thinning and crow's-feet are prominent at the corners of his eyes.

Right now he's busy starring in "The Big Operator," a story of crooked unionism.

Paris Fashions Reflect Austerity

By PAT HERMAN
United Press International

PARIS (UPI) — Paris fashion designers are reflecting the austerity of Gen. Charles de Gaulle's Fifth French Republic.

Just as De Gaulle has sternly set the new France against the financial and political excesses of the past, the Paris collections for the spring season have thrown the extravagance of the sack, the trapeze and the empire line into the rag bag.

of the silhouette that has brought back to life the female figure. Admittedly, if you're too well-endowed above the waist, you'd do better to pass up some of her ravishing necklines. But they're still in graceful line with the princess silhouette.

One fashion writer suggested the new fashions be dubbed the "republican line" in De Gaulle's honor.

Not that there's anything severe about the new styles.

Have Paris Charm
They may be economical in outline, padding bust, waist and hips where nature did, but they have all the usual Paris charm, and of course at no reduction in price.

Young Guy Laroche and Jacques Griffe, who designs for Maggy Rouff, were showing their spring collections today and it was doubted they would buck the no-nonsense trend back to simplicity and reality.

The return to normality of busts, waists and hips remains the fashion news. Skirts are worn decorously at the top of the calf and most slender dresses hit the ankle.

Corset Look Absent
Exaggeration is absent. Balmain and Ricci, who showed Tuesday, could go into the belt business with all the waist cinchers, they use. But their dresses don't look tightly corseted.

Young Michel Goma, who also showed his spring clothes Tuesday, played with them even more loosely than the others.

Even the décolletés that appeared only in Nina Ricci collection seemed appropriate as part

Children Use Typewriters In School Study

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — "Hitting the books" also means hitting typewriter keys for some very special fourth and fifth graders in 39 Illinois, New York and Massachusetts schools.

The children are using typewriters during class in connection with research directed by educators from Boston University, Columbia University Teachers College and the University of Illinois.

The purpose: To determine the influence of typewriter use on educational development of elementary school children.

At the end of the school year, achievements of the typewriting children will be compared with those of children of the same age who did not use typewriters.

Writing Found Slow
Dr. Lawrence W. Erickson, professor of education at Columbia, said a fourth or fifth grader can write about 12 words a minute with a pen or pencil.

"Because children of this age are so concerned with the mechanics of penmanship, writing is a clumsy and slow process," Dr. Erickson said.

"Earlier research has demonstrated that 10 and 11-year-olds can learn to type by the touch system, but this is the first time that children in so many different school systems have a typewriter on their desks for use during the entire school day."

Dr. Donald D. Durrell, professor of education at Boston University, another of the experts directing the experiment, said "typewriting should prove especially useful to bright pupils working at advanced tasks. It should be equally advantageous to the child who is poor in reading, spelling and written expression."

Concerned With Handwriting
"Quality and speed of handwriting is of course of concern to us during the experiment. But possibly the neatness of typewritten work will encourage improvement in handwriting."

The research is supported by grants from the Royal McBee Corp. Philip M. Zinner, president of the firm, said "we believe it is our place as a major manufacturer of typewriters to take the lead in providing financial support for this completely scientific and professional study."

Contract Farming Is Staked Solid In Livestock Industry

By GAYLORD P. GODWIN
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Contract farming has staked its claim in the livestock industry. It already has a firm foothold in the broiler industry and some specialized minor field crops.

Department of Agriculture economists predict, however, that this type of farming in cattle and hogs will not move either as fast or as far as in the broiler industry. Neither does it appear the location of livestock production will shift as dramatically.

Contract farming — called integration by economists — is intended to promote efficiency, reduce costs, and provide a higher income both for the farmer, and the middleman. Production and processing are linked closely by contracts or agreements.

The system has grown rapidly in recent years and has taken many forms.

In hogs, integration may refer to either of two types of production arrangements. These are sow-and-pig contracts or feeder-pig contracts. With the sow-and-pig arrangement, bred sows are leased to the farmer who then finances the production program on his own. Under the feeder-pig contract, the farmer usually contributes only the housing, equipment and labor necessary for production. A feed company or other integrator provides everything else.

Cattle Integration Differs
Cattle industry integration is somewhat different. It occurs mostly in the large commercial feed lots of the West Coast and may extend either backward from the packer or chain store. In the first instance, the rancher retains ownership of the cattle through the feeding period. In the second, the packer or chain store owns

Growth of the large commercial feed lot has been one of the most significant developments, particularly in the West. About onethird of the feed cattle come from the West.

The lots often are in continuous operation the year around. They feed from 1,000 to 30,000 head annually.

The department said that while the large commercial feed lot is not always a contract operation, it has given rise to contractual arrangements for the feeding of beef cattle. Some contracts are written. Others are verbal. They also vary in the extent of coverage. Usually the feed lot operator receives a daily per head handling fee, the actual cost of the feed, and perhaps an allowance for the cost of milling the feed grains.

Both the commercial feed lot and custom feeding arrangements appear to be more characteristic of the West rather than the corn belt. A few large commercial lots are in the Missouri River area, and some contract feeding is carried on in the corn belt. But most of these contracts are production credit arrangements for feeding commercial protein supplements manufactured by certain firms.

Integration in the swine industry is on a somewhat smaller scale. Marketing specialists estimate that about 2 to 5 per cent of hog production comes under contract arrangements.

Under the feeder-pig contract, the integrator, who is frequently a feed dealer, supplies the pigs and their feed. He also handles management problems, takes care of veterinary expenses and later takes the hogs when they are ready for market. Feeder-pig contracts most often are found in the South and Middle Atlantic states.

The sow-and-pig contracts vary greatly as to the amount of control and management exercised by the integrators. One feed company has a sow-and-pig contract that provides for a 50-cent bonus above the high-low average for No. 1 hogs. The No. 2 and No. 3 hogs are sold at the local market price.

A number of sow-and-pig contracts have been introduced along the fringes of the corn belt, in the Southeast, and in North Texas, Oklahoma, and Kansas.

Children Still Have Healthy Interest In Reading As Book Field Flourishes

By AILEEN SNODDY
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (NEA) — What happens to a woman who once upon a time covered murder trials for a metropolitan newspaper? Well, if it is someone like New Yorker Hanna Simons, she writes children's stories.

Miss Simons sees no reason for raised eyebrows as she discusses her rough-and-tumble reporting background and her present avocation.

"After all," she says, "I believe writing for children is the same as being a reporter. Both jobs call for curiosity, humor and accuracy."

Actually, she made up charming stories for her son and the neighborhood children when her son was very young. Now that he is 13, "he's a little embarrassed by it all."

However, he is proud when his classmates ask for autographed copies of mother's "Ellie, the Musical Girl" for their younger brothers and sisters.

How Hannah Simons got into the children's field is of interest to all would-be writers.

"While in Florida several years ago, I told my son a story about a pelican. When I heard another child reciting it, I thought I had better write it down. Why? Because children are the hardest audience to please. . . they insist on changes and are so precise."

For those demanding reasons she proposes a revolution in publishing houses. They all should have a child as a consultant on children's books.

It may hurt, she admits, but a child will give a straight-from-the-shoulder opinion of a story.

Parents who are worried about their children reading poorly should take stock. Too many parents, Miss Simons feels, use TV as a babysitter and neglect reading to their youngsters.

Incidentally, publishers are seeking manuscripts aimed at children. According to the Children's Book Council, 1,400 new titles were published in 1958. An increase in population is a big factor in this field's growth, but so is increased interest, says Joanne Foster of the council.

Mrs. Wrinkle Is Feted At Shower

Mrs. Ronald Wrinkle, the former Betty Jo Smith and recent bride, was honored with a miscellaneous shower on Jan. 19 in the basement of the White Deer Baptist Church.

Pink and white, bride's chosen colors, were used in the decoration of the room and gift table.

Miss Leta Mae Savage registered guests as they arrived. Miss Ruth Smith presided at the punch bowl. Lady finger-cakes, nuts and punch were served from a lace over pink-covered table centered with two hearts and a miniature bride and bridegroom.

Mrs. John Hamlyn led the guests in the "Hiding Game." Preceding the "Gossip Game," read the poem "Gossip" by Hilda Farr.

With missiles and satellites banging away at outer space it looks as though the dragon and the shining knight may be going out of style. However, Miss Foster feels a balance has been established between the fairy-tale and factual stories. But the editors at Whittsey House, juvenile division of McGraw-Hill, disagree. They say there is a definite shift from fantasy to fact mainly because of the poor coverage of factual materials in past years.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Von Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 years old and live near a couple who have four children under five years old. Over-Christmas vacation they asked me to stay at their house and take care of their children while they went on a four-day trip. I cooked, did the house-keeping and laundry and took full charge of the children alone. When they came back they gave me TWENTY DOLLARS for four days work! I took it and left. My mother said I should have asked them for more and my Dad said if I didn't have brains enough to make a deal in advance I have no complaint. What do you say?

CHEATED
DEAR CHEATED: Caring for children is a JOB and the matter of payment should have been discussed and settled beforehand. Your father is right. I'll bet you'll know better next time. SORRY.

DEAR ABBY: Are you getting soft in the head? When you advised the mother to take her ten-year-old son to a doctor because he like to bake cookies and decorate cakes, I really saw red. Don't you know that the best chefs and bakers in the world are MEN? Boy-nuts are taught to cook and look at the he-men who cook for the Army, Navy and Marine Corps! There is nothing sissy about a man cooking and I think you owe your readers an apology.

SEEING RED
DEAR SEEING: Unfortunately almost all letters printed in my column must be cut. You can be sure that there were many pronounced feminine tendencies mentioned, (playing with dolls, saying, "I wish I were a girl," etc.) plus the fact that he was shirking from all normal boyish activities. I wouldn't have suggested a doctor just because the boy liked to cook.

DEAR ABBY: I am glad you told that woman to take her son to a doctor when her son showed signs of acting more like a girl than a boy. We had a case like that in our family and the doctor said it was a hormone imbalance. Thank heavens we were advised to go to a doctor right away.

A READER
DEAR ABBY: I would like to get a little information about a certain party, but I don't know how

"When being ribbed about his native Long Star state Pete Runnels of the Nats cracks back, 'I know that Alaska is biggest now, but wait until the ice melts and Texas will be No. 1 again!'"

Being a personal pal of Pete's, we hurriedly pointed out to Johnny that Runnels is now a member of the Boston Red Sox, has been over a year and only lost the AL batting title to teammate Ted Williams in the waning days of last year's campaign.

What's more Runnels is following in the footsteps of bowling palace building Mickey Mantle in Dallas by sinking sizable capital into a 16-lane bowling alley in his home town of Lufkin. NEWCOMBE CLEARED IN ASSAULT CHARGES

NEWARK, N.J. (UPI)—Cincinnati Redlegs pitcher Don Newcombe and his two brothers have been cleared of charges of assaulting and threatening to kill a former policeman in a 1957 brawl at their Newark tavern.

An Essex County jury of 10 men and 2 women Monday acquitted Don Norman and Harold Newcombe of the charges after deliberating for an hour and five minutes.

Don and Norman had been accused of booting former East Orange policeman Ulysses Ross, one of their tavern. Ross claimed he suffered serious injuries as a result of the episode and brought a civil action for $150,000.

He further alleged that Harold Newcombe threatened to kill him with a gun as a footnote to the fight.

The jury said it found all three Newcombes innocent of the charges.

"I feel there is a better future in business," Brennan said Monday night. "I think I can rule out coaching as an occupation in the time to come."

Brennan announced he would join in April the banking firm of Goldman, Sachs & Company.

Cincy Zips On In Poll

NEW YORK (UPI)—Kentucky, North Carolina and Kansas State remained 1-2-3 today in United Press International's major college basketball ratings but Cincinnati replaced North Carolina State in fourth place.

St. Louis was the only newcomer in the top 10. St. Louis, one of two teams which whipped St. John's (N.Y.) last week, moved from 11th to 9th and appeared in the select group for the first time since the first weekly ratings of the season Dec. 9. St. John's, beaten also by Loyola (Ill.) Saturday night, slipped from 8th to 11th. There were several minor changes in positions by other teams in the top 10. While North Carolina State slipped to fifth, Michigan State advanced from seventh to sixth. Auburn, only unbeaten major college team, slipped from sixth to seventh. Bradley moved from ninth to eighth. West Virginia remained 10th.

AS YANK CATCHER

Howard Hoping To Replace Yogi

By FRED DOWN United Press International

Elston Howard, whose fifth-year "catch" proved to be the turning point of the 1958 World Series, will make an all-out bid this year to replace Yogi Berra as the New York Yankees' regular catcher.

"I'm a much better ball player when I'm catching," said Howard after signing a new contract estimated at $25,000 Monday. "I get stronger as I go along when I'm catching. But after I've been catching a while and then shift to the outfield, I'm shaky."

The 29-year-old Howard, who played 87 games behind the plate last season, 24 in the outfield and five at first base, was chosen by the New York baseball writers Monday for the Babe Ruth Award as the outstanding player of the 1958 World Series in which he starred as an outfielder. But even so he is a stern critic of himself as an outfielder.

"When I go to the outfield, I worry a little about doing a good job," Howard explained Monday. "I have a tendency to get a bad jump on fly balls. So far I've been lucky not to mess up too many."

Some one asked Howard if his desire to be a catcher meant that Berra would have to be shifted to the outfield.

"I guess that's the way it would have to be," he said. "I'm not trying to manage the team. I think there's room for both of us on the club."

Howard made his "big play" in the sixth inning of the 1958 World Series. Inserted as a replacement for left-fielder Norm Siebern, who had messed up three fly balls the previous day, Howard made a diving catch of a short fly by Red Schoendienst and turned it into a double play. One inning later the Yankees scored six runs and went on to win, 7-0.

An Exemplary Athlete

Howard hit 314 last season—a 10-point rise over his 1957 mark. An exemplary athlete, he certainly was not one of the players referred to in Manager Casey Stengel's recent tirade against "night life."

Monterey Here For 8 p.m. Scrap

By RED GRIGGS Daily News Sports Editor

With the district race practically decided, Pampa's Harvesters begin mop-up operations tonight in Harvester Field House against the Monterey Plainsmen, at 8 p.m. The main attraction will be preceded by a B game at 6:30.

Despite their poor 2-6 District 3-AAAA record, the Plainsmen have been one of the toughest teams Pampa has faced this year. They rallied three weeks ago at Lubbock to give the Harvesters a good scare before bowing, 52-49.

What made the Plainsmen's showing even more impressive was the fact that they outscored the Harvesters, who averaged 6-3 to the Plainsmen's 5-11. The man most responsible for this accomplishment was Dick Dieke, 6-4 all-state candidate.

Dieke grabbed 21 rebounds in that contest, out of Monterey's total of 47. Dieke's abilities are not limited to defense, however. He averages around 20 points per game, and has the single-game high of any player in the district—36.

Only One Over 6-Foot

Dieke is the only man on the squad over six feet tall. The other Plainsmen starters are David Hutson, 5-11; August Luederke, 5-9; Mike Gooden, 5-8; and Greg Smith, 5-10. Of the starters, only Dieke and Hutson are lettermen.

Monterey has a season record of 12-9 and a district mark of 2-6. In loop competition, the Plainsmen have lost to Plainview, 67-46 and 53-52; Pampa, 52-49; Borger, 57-39; Amarillo, 54-48; Palo Duro, 81-66. They have defeated Tascosa, 65-39, and Lubbock, 55-51.

The Harvesters have won 34 straight games, including 21 this year, and eight in district play. In loop battles, the Harvesters have beaten Borger, 74-61 and 64-50; Monterey 52-49; Lubbock 71-57; Tascosa 73-56; Palo Duro 57-40; Plainview 81-51, and Amarillo 50-43.

Minor May Go

Charles Minor may be available for action tonight, if needed. The injured guard played for almost three quarters against Borger, with his shoulder in a harness, and did a creditable defensive job. He scored only two free throws, however.

The other Harvester starters looked good on the attack against Borger, as all four hit in double figures. Coyle Winborn tallied 25 points, one of the high individual totals of the year.

A letdown would be only natural after Friday's crucial win over Borger, but even when they're on the Harvesters are double-tough at home. They haven't lost a game in Harvester Field House since Borger beat them there in 1957.

The Shockers will be trying to break a two-game losing streak in the B game. After winning 18 of 17 previous contests, they dropped tilts to Amarillo B and Borger B last week.

ANNOUNCE CARLING OPEN

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—This year's Carling open golf tournament will be held here Aug. 6-9 as part of the Cleveland Seaway year celebration. The tourney last year was held in Cleveland in 1953. This year's event will be played over the Seneca public golf course.

BENCH STRENGTH — Mert Cooper, the only Harvester football player to earn a berth with Pampa High's cage squad has been used sparingly this season, but has shown up well while he's been in the game. The junior, who wears No. 44 in both basketball and football has hit one of four field-goal attempts and five of six free throws for seven points in addition to pulling down 11 rebounds for the undefeated McNeelymen.

Hefty Win Skeins Being Marked Up

By JOHN GRIFFIN United Press International

Auburn's streak of 25 basketball wins is amazing, all right, but how about the streaks being run up by Marquette, Kansas State, St. Louis and Cincinnati?

These four high-ranked teams, bidding for even more attention as their winning strings build up, all added another notch Monday night—No. 13 in a row for Eddie Hickey's rebuilt Marquette team, 12 in a row for both Kansas State and St. Louis, and eight straight for Cincinnati. Marquette, a real surprise package squad which has climbed to the No. 13 national ranking with a 15-1 season record, romped to a 78-63 win over Detroit as the razzle-dazzle style installed this year by ex-St. Louis tutor Hickey paid off again. Big Mike Moran led the winning Warriors with 17 points, although Larry Hughes had 18 for Detroit.

K-State Beats Nebraska Kansas State (16-1), the nation's No. 3 team, remained in first place in the Big Eight as it downed Nebraska, 50-43, in a ball-control battle. Six-eight Bob Booz once again was high gun for K-State with 22 points as the Wildcats snapped Nebraska's home-court winning streak at 13 games. The ninth-ranked St. Louis team and George Burkel 20 to pace the DePaul, Fordham, Holy Cross, first half for North Texas State but was held to seven in the second.

National scoring leader Oscar Robertson rolled up 27 points despite double-teaming defenses by pace fourth-ranked Cincinnati (14-2) to an 81-71 win over Tulsa. The victory kept the Bearcats in first place in the Missouri Valley Conference.

MST, Bradley Win Two other teams with high national rankings but no long streaks also posted important wins Monday night. Sixth-ranked Michigan State clung to first place in the Big Ten with an 88-57 rout over Wisconsin as Johnny Green led a well-balanced attack with 18 points. And eighth-ranked Bradley remained tied with St. Louis for second place in the Missouri Valley Conference with a 60-52 victory over Wichita as Bobby Joe Mason scored 20 points.

Tournament time, target of all court winning streak at 13 games. The ninth-ranked St. Louis team and George Burkel 20 to pace the DePaul, Fordham, Holy Cross, first half for North Texas State but was held to seven in the second.

Borger Takes Skate Games

Sixteen dollars was raised for the March of Dimes Tuesday night at Pampa Roller Rink, at a Pampa-Borger skating doubleheader.

The first game, played under roller hockey rules, was won by Borger, 9-4. Borger also took the second game, played under ice hockey rules, 2-1. A game with Amarillo was cancelled, since the Amarillo team could not make it due to inclement weather.

All proceeds from Tuesday's matches went to the March of Dimes.

PAMPA FIGHTERS WEIGH FOR REGIONAL GLOVES

Fighters weighed in today from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. for the 23rd annual Regional Go on Gloves tournament, which begins Wednesday in Amarillo. The tournament continues Friday and Saturday, with a break Thursday.

Under a new weigh-in system, each team is weighed in its home town. The Pampa weigh-ins were conducted at the Optimist Boys Club.

Pairings will be available Wednesday morning; on Wednesday night's fights. In previous years, when all teams weighed in at Amarillo, the pairings were not known until shortly before fight time Wednesday.

Northwestern Colorado May Yield Oil To Nuclear Blast

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Atomic Energy Commission Saturday announced plans to blast open with nuclear explosions what may be the largest untapped oil reserve in the world.

Two Pampano In North Texas Concert Band

DENTON (SpI) — Mary Kennedy and Tommy Alliston of Pampa are members of the North Texas State College Concert Band which will give performances in 19 Texas cities Feb. 12-20.

The 90-piece band is directed by Marice McAdow of the NTSC School of Music faculty. Highlight of the annual spring tour will be a concert at Galveston for the Texas Music Educators Association convention Feb. 20.

closed no spectacular advances in civilian atomic power and mentioned weapons only briefly.

The AEC has scheduled no weapons tests for the new fiscal year. It does, however, expect to conduct "flowshare" experiments starting not earlier than late summer.

Can Recover Oil
The commission said nuclear explosions can break up huge masses of oil-bearing shale so that the oil can be recovered. It added that shale deposits in Colorado, Utah, and Wyoming "are believed to be the largest untapped oil reserve in this continent if not in the world."

The three-state reserve has been estimated at 3,000 billion barrels. The report said the AEC and Bureau of Mines have reached "an inter-agency cooperative agreement" in connection with the shale project and that the oil industry will be invited to participate.

Tentative plans are to use a nuclear device equal to 10,000 tons of TNT. It would be fired at the end of a 1,450-foot tunnel 900 feet deep in a mesa situated in the Maghogy Zone of the Piceance Creek Basin in Garfield County, Colo.

The project would cost about $1,500,000, not counting the explosive. The AEC has $7,500,000 in its new budget for Plovershare.

Other Tests Plan
Another oil recovery project has been proposed for the Athabasca tar sands of northeast Alberta. The Richfield Oil Co. of Los Angeles and representatives of the Canadian and U. S. atomic commissions have discussed informally the feasibility of a 2,000-ton test shot in the spring of 1960.

Nuclear fuel and explosives production "met or exceeded" goals. Weapons proof-test in the Pacific last year are going into the stockpile. Although no new tests were scheduled, "emphasis continued on research and development to improve and increase the U. S. arsenal of nuclear weapons."

Space—A flightless forerunner of nuclear spacecraft is almost ready for tests in Nevada. "Encouraging results" were obtained in research on an atomic Ramjet "with essentially unlimited range" within the atmosphere. A tiny nuclear generator is being developed with 20 times the power of the five-watt gadget recently demonstrated at the White House. Two other types of auxiliary power plant for space vehicles are nearing the test stage.

Nuclear Navy — Congress authorized 12 new atom-powered naval craft, bringing total authorizations to 36 — three surface ships and 33 submarines.

Atomic Plane — "Many important milestones" were passed. They included ground operation of turbojet engines in parallel with a common nuclear heat source and 47 flights aboard a conventionally-powered plane of a 1-million-watt reactor designed to test crew shielding. (By the end of fiscal 1959 the Defense Department and AEC will have spent nearly 1-billion dollars on this project without actually building a plane.)

Union Will Start Work On Farmers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — AFL-CIO leaders are considering plans for an organizing campaign among farm workers starting in the corporation-owned fields of California.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, is reported to be ready to ask the AFL-CIO Executive Council next month for a go-ahead on the program.

Labor leaders are also playing a major role in attempts to get congressional hearings on the depressed living standards of the nation's estimated two million farm workers.

The plight of the farm hand and his family will be dramatized next week at a two-day conference sponsored by the National Advisory Committee on Farm Labor.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, who recently approved the principle of minimum wages and maximum hours for agricultural workers, is scheduled to be a featured speaker.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther and AFL-CIO Secretary-Treasurer William F. Schanitzle also will appear on the program.

The conference will take "testimony" from migrant workers, government experts, social welfare organizations and farm employers on conditions on the farms.

Only a few AFL-CIO unions have farm workers in their ranks. The National Agricultural Workers Union, headed by ex-Senator Homer H. Mitchell, claims 10,000 members.

Other unions with farm membership are the United Packinghouse Workers and the Amalgamated Meatcutters and Butcher Workmen. These three AFL-CIO affiliates have advocated a bigger role for trade unions in the agricultural field, largely unorganized.

THE PRESSURES OF BIG BUSINESS—Five-year-old Ricky Wright checks the stock market from his dad's office in Wellston, Ohio. A financial paper on his lap brings the youngster up to date in the heady world of finance. Why such interests in one so young? Because Master Wright, who threatens to wind up as a h-i-g businessman some day, is a stockholder in the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad. Just two shares, mind you, but Ricky calls it HIS railroad.

Methodist Church Still Most Typical Of US Denominations

Methodists are, naturally, in the thick of the currently controversial over racial segregation. Machinery was set in motion at the 1956 general conference to eliminate the "central jurisdiction" in which most Negro members of the Methodist church have previously been grouped.

Denomination Grew
The denomination grew with young America. Its famous "circuit-riding" ministers, among the most heroic missionaries of all time, followed the pioneers as the frontier moved westward.

Agitation by northern Methodists for abolition of slavery split the church in 1844. The breach was not healed until 1939, when the principal northern and southern branches merged to form the present Methodist church.

Methodism once claimed to be the "church of the poor." Its ranks, churches now are predominantly middle-class in membership — so much so that a national conference was summoned last year to study ways of reviving a Methodist ministry to working people.

The Methodist church no longer casts an official frown on dancing and card playing. But it still teaches total abstinence from alcoholic beverages, its books of temperance seeks to further, in local option elections, the cause of prohibition which Methodists like Carrie Nation and Bishop James Cannon Jr. once succeeded in writing into the national Constitution.

A few weeks ago, the Methodist Council of Bishops appealed unanimously for obedience to Supreme Court school desegregation orders, despite warnings that this would not be popular with southern Methodists.

First Family Fans Of Lawrence Welk

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Backstairs at the White House, Ladies and gentlemen closely familiar with the reaction of President and Mrs. Eisenhower to professional entertainment say never have they seen the chief executive and his wife enjoy anything quite as much as Lawrence Welk.

The champagne music man who confounds the jazz moderns by his smashing success on television came to dinner at the White House this week. Welk, this orchestra and Alice Lon, the "champagne lady," entertained in the East Room after dinner.

Mrs. Eisenhower confided to Miss Lon that she and the President watch the Welk organization on television whenever possible—and Welk is on twice a week with his bubbling music beloved of those who think Benny Goodman is a folk hero.

The President enjoyed the East Room musicale so much that he stayed up quite later than usual to have a private 20-minute chat with the orchestra leader.

Lady reporters who covered the musicale were somewhat unprepared for the split-second timing of the wavy-haired maestro. One girl reporter, intent about her business, walked up with pad and pencil to ask Welk a question.

Before a word could be exchanged, the band leader snatched the pad and pencil away from the lady, scrawled his autograph and handed it back to her with a great big smile.

Being a man of sensible taste, naturally Welk made no mention of his TV sponsor during the musicale. Knowing that he can count on the President and his wife as a rock-solid segment on his nationwide audience, it was in keeping that Welk, as the band completed its evening serenade, called out to the Eisenhower assembly of Cabinet members and congressional leaders, "I'll see you on television."

Hemphill's MOD Nets Over $1,000

CANADIAN (SpI) — A total of $1012.96 has been collected in Hemphill County for the March of Dimes according to Mrs. Ben Parrell, county chairman of the drive.

A March of Dimes duplicate bridge tournament netted $73 for the drive with trophies being awarded to Bill Jackson and Charles Wright for the North-South high score, and to Mr. and Mrs. Ted Rogers, winning East-West team.

Other activities included the Mothers' March conducted by the Hemphill High School, a society which collected $211.78; contributions by school children, $61.16; TAP, $62.35; maters, $427.54; club contributions, $14.25; and miscellaneous activities $162.94.

Men Undergoing Cosmetic Surgery

NEW YORK (UPI) — You'd be surprised if you could look in on the 250,000 cosmetic surgery operations performed annually in the United States.

One out of every four patients is a man.

The statistics come from Dr.

EGGHEAD — A money-swallowing beast is created on a street in Munich, West Germany. A passer-by made the lopsided egghead on the parking meter after a heavy snow.

Robert A. Franklyn, a pioneer cosmetic surgeon who's performed more than 25,000 "made to order" operations in Hollywood.

With women the most frequently ordered operations are nose jobs, face-lifts and bosom boosting—in that order.

The men get face lifts, floppy ears pinned back and receding chins built out.

Why do men go to the Dr. Fix-its?

"We have found that salesmen earned an average of $1,300 a year more the year after they underwent facial surgery to correct some facial defect," Franklyn said.

The male patients come from all walks of life. After salesmen, most numerous are professional actors. That's not all, Franklyn said.

"Now that television is so successful as a medium for politicians, some of the distinguished chins you see being led with are mine."

Cosmetic surgery isn't the same as plastic surgery. The latter applies to skin grafting and major reconstruction in the case of severe burns and injury.

Compared with such major operations, cosmetic surgery is minor.

Asked what goes on in his Hollywood surgical suite, Franklyn said:

"The circles-under-the-eyes removing process, a simple procedure, requires only a few minutes. Many movie stars begin undergoing it around age 25. Some film stars get their first facial tightening up when they're 30."

Some famous starlets have had five or six face lifts. Two to a career is the average.

Our national economists who bask in governmental favor, continually invoke the doctrine that our prosperity—in this country—is the result of what we consume, not so much in what is produced.

spade response to my diamond opening and even if you have a minimum I want to play game. South's hand was far better than a minimum one spade response. In fact it was a full opening bid in itself. Hence, South was fully justified in checking for aces and then for kings. A small slam was not outside the realm of possibility.

Naturally enough, when North showed only one king, South counted himself with the small slam and it was well that he did. The trump finesse was wrong and all he could make was six.

Segregation Maneuvers To Plague South This Year

Editor's Note: This is the second of two dispatches on the segregation picture in the South by Jack V. Fox, roving reporter for United Press International.

By JACK V. FOX
United Press International
ATLANTA (UPI)—Where does the South go from here in its struggle over integration of Negroes and whites?

Anyone who could answer that question successfully could be sure right now that his statue would go up in town squares besides Jefferson Davis.

In the past 10 days, I have talked with many Southerners in Virginia, Alabama and Georgia—judges, businessmen, housewives, politicians, newspapermen, negro ministers, businessmen, teachers, filing station operators.

The picture the outsider gets is that the Deep South will go on fighting integration with a series of legal maneuvers, school closings, makeshift private education and occasional violence by the extremists. These tactics are pugnant to many Southerners, but they have found no alternative.

On the other hand, the Negroes, through the NAACP and with the backing of the federal government, will press ever harder, not only on integrating schools but also on Negro voting and an end to discrimination in the parks, swimming pools, restaurants and other public places.

Could Be Tragic

It could be another tragic year of dissension, possibly even surpassing the summing of federal troops to Little Rock.

Atlanta itself has a case pending that may make Little Rock seem small potatoes, indeed.

A federal court will hear early this year a suit demanding that segregation be ended in Atlanta's entire public school system—quite different from the token and gradual integration started in Little Rock's Central High school.

It is expected the Atlanta suit will reach the U.S. Supreme Court for decision before next September's school openings and thereby pose the biggest test the South has had yet.

The nation Monday will get another look at how the south is going to accept forcible integration when Negroes enter white schools in three Virginia communities. The state's largest city, Norfolk, is the spot to watch.

Winn E. Martin has a small bank in Clayton, Ala., in a heavily Negro populated area. Martin is a pleasant and articulate man whose son is getting his engineer's degree at M.I.T.

Ratio Is Crucial

"The numerical ratio of Negroes and whites is the crux of this whole thing," Martin says. "That is obvious but it needs to be said over and over again. It's a far different thing to integrate schools in a community with Negro minority and to do the same thing in one of these counties where they outnumber whites 5 to 1."

"I definitely and sincerely believe the Negro has rights of equality in education and voting. But I just as definitely believe that in many places the Negroes are so far behind in cultural and civic understanding that integration would have the effect of pulling the whites down to their level. And that we cannot have."

"I think integration is coming in the South. But I don't think it is coming in my lifetime. And I doubt if it will be accomplished in my son's lifetime."

I asked the president of Tuskegee Institute, Dr. Luther Foster, whether Negroes would not turn in vengeance on whites, voting only Negroes into office and putting on economic pressures to drive the whites out if they ac-cured full voting equality.

"I don't think the southern whites have any reason to fear retaliation and vengeance by Negroes," he said. "I think they will vote for the best men—and not as a racial bloc. In the places where the Negroes have won greater equality, their conduct has been excellent."

Says R. Carter Pittman, one-time head of the Georgia States Rights Council:

"Racial inferiority heaped on devil's brew that leads to penitentiaries and execution chambers—and worst of all to a demoralized and degraded social order."

Dr. Martin-Luther-King, spokesman for southern Negroes, says: "Gradualism in the White South means never. The only way we will get equality for the Negro is to maintain unrelenting legal and moral pressures."

J. B. Matthews, former member of the House Un-American Activities committee:

"Throughout the years the communists have so infiltrated the NAACP that it has become a more effective organization for the Communist line than many Communist front organizations."

Taking A Toddler To Church Like Sitting On A Time Bomb

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI)—It's hard to watch small children in their Sunday-best, toddling up the church steps.

It's the reverse sometimes to watch what happens when the darlings—speaking of those still too young for Sunday school—are put in a pew and services start. The antics may be short-circuited by spring-planned distractions; quickly, on the distraction, "P.D.Q.'s" are little surprise mother can fish out of her purse or dad's coat pockets during church.

Start off in a positive frame by giving the toddler a child's prayerbook, nicely illustrated in color. This works best if, beforehand, you have told stories about the pictures.

The psychology: The toddler will recall the nice stories and day-dream about them for from 10 to 15 minutes.

The minute attention wanes, quickly draw another planned distraction. In an emergency, a small chunk of candy can keep the little loud-speaker quiet for from 5 to 10 minutes.

Eating Scheme Backfires

If your conscience curls at the thought of candy in church, calm it by thinking of the day-son, you pray the child will take to church, rather than taking it by storm.

An eating-key case or watch-chain is good for tiny, restless hands. The trick: keeping the ear-ring from rolling in the aisle, while stopping the other objects from when a bell tinkled on the altar, clicking against the pew. I almost died.

Four Sundays in a row, one of the "bell" inspired the lot to pause every other for some thing a plump 14-monther could eat. A record of sort was set. Four Sundays straight, the baby didn't peep.

Strategy was the same on the fifth Sunday, but the rule of the turned. The youngster was sitting on mother's lap meditating, apparently, on the beauties of the church windows. Suddenly, a sneeze—and soggy potato chip crumbs specked over the pew, hitting the Sunday best of five grown-ups Direct hits.

Cries Down Out Preacher

Another day, an infant's fierce squeals "jammed" the airways just as an aged pastor reached the high point of his sermon. The cleric turned-up the microphone and volume. The child yelled louder. Some in the congregation added to the noise by clearing their throats at the baby, and snushing. The voice from the pulpit paused. The baby and the snushing ers did a duet. Then the fatherly voice from the pulpit said:

"If the sound of that child from heaven bothers any adult, let that person leave this church. The snushes stopped, the groans cleared. And into that pastor's record went, perhaps, a minor miracle. Because baby quieted.

"Taking a toddler to church is like sitting on a time-bomb," one mother confessed, recalling: "My two-year-old usually behaves in church, but one Sunday when a bell tinkled on the altar,
