HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Debbie Reynolds, closing the door on romance as she rebuilds her life, said Saturday she holds no grudge against her ex-husband Eddie Fisher and actress Elizabeth Taylor and wishes them "all happiness possible."

"I believe that bygones are bygones that should be forgotten," Miss Reynolds said. "What's over is over. I hold no grudge."

The perky actress appeared in excellent spirits as she hurried preparations to leave for Spain as soon as work on her latest picture, "Say One for Me," is completed.

She obtained an interdictory divorce decree from Fisher Thursday, paving the way for the boyish singer to marry Miss Taylor.

Fisher was silent on his marriage plans but friends said the wedding would not take place until May at the earliest—and then outside of California for legal reasons.

Whatever Eddie and Liz plan, Miss Reynolds wished them well. "I wish them all the happiness possible and whatever else they want from life. I am very happy and content myself."

But the actress, who said romance "is the least interesting thing in my life," said her current contentment did not come easily.

"It took a tremendous amount of adjustment," she said. "But now I am a whole person with a lot to live for. I am happy."

"Anger, vengeance and grudges only hurt yourself—not the people you feel that way about," she said.

"And self pity is worse. The sooner you rid yourself of those feelings—and I have—the better off you are."

State flower of Vermont is the red clover.

Seven Killed In Chain Collision

OCEANSIDE, Calif. (UPI) — At least seven persons were killed in a massive daylight chain collision Saturday on U.S. highway 101 at the Camp Pendleton Marine Base, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Officers said five or more cars were involved.

Six others were injured and attendants at Oceanside Hospital said two were in critical condition.

Three of the seven known dead in the accident—one of the worst involving autos in San Diego County history—were children. Names were not available.

The Highway Patrol said only jumbled reports of the collision were available, so great was confusion at the scene.

The accident occurred eight miles north of here on the major highway linking San Diego and Los Angeles.

Police Officer E. C. "Cliff" Daniels, wounded early Thursday when his police revolver fired accidentally, was released from Highland General Hospital Friday night.

Daniels was wounded near Pampa during an auto trip from Amarillo to Pampa in the early Thursday morning hours.

Daniels said he was cleaning dust from the gun when his elbow struck an arm rest and the gun fired. The .38 caliber bullet struck Daniels on the right side of his scalp.

A friend of Daniels, driving the car, brought the Pampa officer to Highland hospital.

Twenty-first Child Will Go Unnamed While Folks Think

ASHLAND, Pa. (UPI) — Mrs. Verna Lucas, 44, who gave birth to her 21st child in 29 years, said Saturday she and her husband have not decided on a name for their new son yet.

"When you get up to 21, it takes some thinking about what to call it," Mrs. Lucas said.

The latest addition, which arrived Friday, makes it eight boys and 13 girls, all born separately and all but one of them living.

A daughter died 20 years ago at the age of nine months from pneumonia.

The father, William, 49, operates an independent anthracite mine with his brother, Frank.

Benson Denounces Farm 'Straitjacket'

TULSA, Okla. (UPI)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has charged that price price supports and acreage controls cannot solve the problems of small farmers but instead has put them in an "economic straitjacket."

Benson told an audience at the annual "outstanding young farmer" awards banquet sponsored by the Tulsa Junior Chamber of Commerce that the national administration does not want to "offer a future of government-imposed acreage allotments and marketing quotas that cripple efficiency."

He said government controls and regimentation have put tough barriers in the way of young people who want to go into farming.

For instance, Benson said, the young man starting into farming today without any allotments faces a curious dilemma.

"Maybe his father will conveniently retire," Benson said. "Maybe he can buy a farm and take over its quota. Maybe he can marry a quota. But good farms come high these days.

"The legal requirement that the federal government support a few crops at unrealistic levels is pricing us out of the world market and may be doing irreparable harm to vital exports."

Benson said the solution to the

GRAPHO-ANALYSIS

Mrs. Eugene Leigh, left, takes a good look at her daughter Bethena's handwriting. One advantage of having a grapho-analyst for a parent is that you always know where you stand in your personality development.

"People are so different and you can't imagine how or why different," says Mrs. Eugene Leigh, 1008 Prairie. "More people are emotional than use their head really." And all this shows up in their handwriting.

Personality is revealed in the strokes that make up letters. Slanted strokes may indicate an emotional nature. But if people write straight up and down, they stop and think: "Will it pay? Will I get into trouble?" Mrs. Leigh says.

concerned with the loops and strokes that she doesn't have to read the words.

Beauty Operators Give Free Sets

Unit 81, of the Texas Beauty Association gave shampoos and sets to underprivileged women of Pampa recently. Arrangements were made by the welfare committee of the association which is chaired by Nadean Morse.

Having completed basic training, Mrs. Leigh is working for the post-graduate degree of Certified Grapho-analytical Psychologist. As she did with the general course, she is doing correspondence with the International Grapho-analysis School in Springfield, Mo.

Rogers Awarded PO Contract

WHITE DEER — A contract for the remodeling and modernization of the new Post Office building has been awarded to the Tony Rogers Construction Company of Amarillo.

The building is being constructed according to the latest Post Office Department specifications with every modern facility possible for this size of office.

The front of the building will be of Roman brick with a recessed front door of glass and aluminum. Adjoining buildings will be modernized to harmonize with the new Post Office.

Beauty shops and their owners who participated were: Moore's Beauty Salon, Alice Howard; Modern Beauty Shop, Gladys Scott; La Bonita Beauty Shop, Warren Phillips.

Beauty operators participating were: Rosemary Tinsley, Doris McClure, Melba Bruce, Jerry Bruce, Nelda Crouch, Ann LeBlanc, Nell Everett, Eva Gill, Autry Dixon, Eloise Sharp, Hope Osborne, Ella Phillips, Billy Kidwell, Caroline Billingsley, Imogene York, Opal Cullender, Jackie Tynes, Edna Prescott, Ollis Rolis, Naomi Weidler, Louise Brown, Nadean Morse and Margie Platter.

She observes that grapho-analysis is part of a recruit's training for the Indianapolis Police Force where Norris Starkley, a grapho-analyst, applies his skill to forging and detection.

PLAN TRADE TALKS

TOKYO (UPI)—Inejiro Asanuma will lead an eight-man delegation of the Japanese Socialist Party to Peking March 4 for trade talks, it was announced today. The delegation will discuss with Chinese Communist leaders the question of re-establishing trade relations between Red China and Japan.

Mrs. Leigh is getting plenty of practice at home. Her oldest daughter is 16 and displays decidedly artistic traits in her handwriting.

Of special interest is her collection of handwriting specimens, including Daniel Defoe's, Walter Pater's and Benjamin Franklin's. Each one of these reproductions, she believes, tells a story about the man.

Church Won't Help Teamsters

By WILLIAM J. EATON United Press International

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (UPI)—Roman Catholic Bishop James Davis has rejected a Teamsters Union bid for church support in organizing Puerto Rican workers, informed sources have reported.

They said Teamster organizer Richard Kayner visited the bishop in an attempt to win support for his drive to sign up 12,000 island truck drivers and warehouse and construction workers.

The bishop was reported to have rejected the request, telling Kayner that he would not cooperate with any union tinged with racketeering. The Teamsters Union, headed by James Hoffa, had been ousted from the AFL-CIO for alleged corruption.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council, holding its winter meeting here, mapped plans today for a concerted drive to get Congress to raise the federal minimum wage to $1.25 from its current $1 level and to extend coverage to include 10 million more workers.

AFL-CIO President George Meany told the council Thursday that the increase was long overdue because the present minimum wage did not provide even subsistence living for low wage workers and families.

He cited past increases in the minimum wage as evidence that such a step would not be inflationary and declared that it was better to have high prices and high wages than low prices and low wages with no money to buy anything.

The union also planned to ask Congress for free health care for the aged as part of the current social security program and higher social security payments for retired persons.

It suggested the Congress increase the social security fund by creating a new fund by taxing earnings up to $4,000 instead of the $4,800 top under the current law.

FLIP SIDE—Shirley Jones, who made her film mark as Laurie in the movie version of "Oklahoma," is currently turning from peaches-and-cream acting to sharp comedy and stark drama. Expert coaching is delivered by her husband, Jack Cassidy, at her side.

Wayne Smith Continues As Chi Member

CANYON (Spl) — Wayne Smith, Pampa junior, is continuing as a junior member of Alpha Chi, national honor society at West Texas State College in Canyon.

Ceremonies honoring new members and those promoted to advanced membership will be held Sunday. Approximately 50 students, representing the upper ten per cent of the junior and senior classes will be given recognition and awarded "shingles," or certificates of membership. The program will be at 4 p.m. in the Cosmos Hall ballroom, and friends and families of members are invited to attend.

Members will be given their certificates by the heads of departments in which each is majoring.

Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Smith, 700 N. Sloan, is majoring in English. He is active in Epsilon Beta, men's social club; English Club, Student Education Association, Buffalo Bills, honorary service club; Phi Alpha Theta, honorary history club; and the Baptist Student Union. He was recently named to Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges.

The lighter side of the battle was provided by Frank Eleazer, United Press International.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The irresistible force has met up with the immovable body. As everybody always suspected, something gave.

The epic clash took place in the House Rules Committee Thursday between congressional titans. Each has been considered to rule in his own domain, at least by fiat and possibly by divine right.

At one end of the long table, gavel in hand, reigned Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va.), 78-year-old chairman of the committee.

Judge Smith practically always has the votes on his 12-man committee to do what he wants done, or at least not to do what he doesn't want done. It is not true though that he once burned down his barn to provide and excuse for his absence. That, Smith contends, was an act of God.

They're Old Friends

At the other end of the table, 33 feet away, with glasses riding low on his nose, sat his adversary, Rep. Carl Vinson (D-Ga.), 75-year-old chairman of the Armed Services Committee.

Unlike Smith, whose committee does its voting in secret, Vinson makes all his committee ballots in public. He can afford to. He has never been known to lose.

Now, Vinson and Smith are old friends. On most vital issues, like disbandment with the Supreme Court, they see eye to eye. Vinson is a southern conservative, a term which falls considerably short of doing justice to Smith.

Smith considers spending, as applied to the federal government an ugly word. Vinson agrees, but does make exceptions, as for vital purposes like the national defense and the welfare of the 6th District of Georgia.

Don't Throw Away Key

You may have read about the government's "backdoor spending" and Judge Smith's efforts to curb it. Defining backdoor spending, it develops, is difficult. One definition emerging is that backdoor spending is the kind authorized by somebody else's committee. Whatever it is, here was Smith, with his resolution to stop it.

And here was Vinson, who said Smith was one of the great men of history, that other rules committee members were brilliant, and that if they didn't cut out this foolishness he no longer could answer for the national safety.

Vinson said his old and dear friend Smith was eminently right in trying to lock up the Treasury.

However, he intimated it was going a little too far to throw away the key.

"You have dropped a hydrogen bomb where a well-placed rifle shot might have sufficed," Vinson chided.

Smith then asked Vinson if he would help draft a new resolution, more of the rifle-shot type. Vinson allowed that maybe he would. "That," opined Smith, "is as near to a commitment as anybody will ever get out of Carl Vinson."

General Electric Co. reported net income last year fell 2 per cent on 5 per cent lower sales. GE said the earnings decline was kept small because of vigorous efforts aimed at cost reduction and improvements in efficiency.

Anacosta Co. reported lower earnings for 1938 although profits for the final three months was the best for any quarter in two years. R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. in 1938 attained highest sales and earnings in its history.

U.S. last month was 2.3 per cent above that for the similar month last year, according to the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. ### Thespians Will Present Play March 2

Rehearsals for the senior play, Thornton Wilder's "The Skin of Our Teeth," are picking up speed at Pampa High School. "Skin" will open March 2 for a two night run, according to Miss Helen Schaefer, director.

Adult tickets, expected to arrive Monday, will sell for 75 cents. Students will be able to see "The Skin of Our Teeth" for 35 cents. Tickets will be sold by members of the cast and will be available at the door.

In "The Skin of Our Teeth," Wilder plays every theatre prank that he doesn't play in "Our Town." The plot revolves around the Antrobus family and their general utility maid, Lily Sabina. Other characters complement the general looniness but persistence of the Antrobuses as they careen through the Ice Age, the Deluge and several wars rolled into one.

The senior play has a cast of 40, made up of Thespians and other talented seniors. The actors are already fitting into their costumes and putting on characterization for a play that is a lot wackier than "Our Town."

'THE SKIN OF OUR TEETH'

Four Pampa High School seniors pose for a family portrait after a rehearsal of Thornton Wilder's delightful comedy, "The Skin of Our Teeth." The Antrobus family consists of Mr. and Mrs. George Antrobus, Richard Newberry and Barbara Lunsford; and the children, Gladys and Henry played by Judy Baer and Douglas Redmon, Becky Gray, at far left, appears as Lily Sabina, the maid. The Wichita Falls Coyotes, who will play the Harvesters here Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the bi-district basketball playoff, are the type of team which has given the Harvesters the most trouble this year.

That is, they are of medium height, have good hustle, play a ball control game, and have a good defense. This kind of team, typified by Palo Duro, Denton, Monterey, and Borger, has given the Harvesters more trouble this year than the tall squads.

Perry Goolbsy's Coyotes will go into Tuesday's game as underdogs, but that will be no new experience for them. They have gone into almost every district basketball season in recent years as underdogs, and they won their district championship in three of the last six years.

In his eight years at the helm in Wichita Falls, Goolbsy has compiled a 145-81 record, despite the fact that he has had a rebuilding job to do almost every year.

This year is no exception to the rule. Only one of last year's starters is back, and Wichita Falls got a late start because of the state football playoffs. Despite that, however, the Coyotes have a 17-3 season record.

Wichita Falls three losses were to Denton, 50-43 and 79-42, and to Quanah, 50-43. The Coyotes have since defeated Quanah, 47-42.

Quanah and Denton were the only common foes for the Coyotes and Harvesters. Pampa defeated Denton, 76-55 and 63-56, and stopped Quanah 67-51 and 76-44. The Harvesters had their hands full with Denton, but had little real trouble with Quanah.

The Coyotes and the Harvesters are the only teams to beat the lanky Quanah crew this year.

Wichita Falls won eight straight district games, without a loss. They won over Arlington, Irving, Birdville, and Grand Prairie twice each.

Over the full season, the Coyotes have scored 1103 points to 840 for the opposition, an average of 55.2 to 47.0.

The Coyotes have six regulars, with two men alternating in the fifth starting position. Their regular average just over six feet, with only one man less than six feet.

Wichita Falls uses a ball control offense, and makes good use of screening. They depend a lot on outside shooting. On defense, they use a shifting zone or a man-for-man. Defense is their strongest point.

Their leading scorer is 6-1 Garland (Bubba) Bailey, a senior who is hitting at a 20 point per game clip. The Coyotes depend heavily on his ability to score on drives and short jump shots, and also on his outside shooting.

Bailey set a school scoring record this year when he scored 39 points in the Coyotes' 65-62 win over Birdville. In addition to being a good scorer, he is a fine rebounder. Goolbsy considers Bailey the best all-around player he has ever coached.

Descriptions of other Wichita Falls starters are as follows:

GERALD PHILLIPS, a 5-8 senior, is the team's floor leader and second leading scorer. He has scored 180 points in 20 games, for a 20-point average. He is an excellent clutch player, and is accurate with a running jump shot from 25 feet.

ALELAND ALLRED, a 6-3 senior, is the only returnee from last year's starting team. He is the team's top rebounder, but doesn't score often. He has scored 116 points in 15 games, for a 7.7 average.

AARON McDONALD, a 6-2 senior, is a fine post man and good rebounder, who occasionally gets a tip-in. He takes up the scoring slack when Bailey is bottled up. He has scored 148 points, for a 7.4 average, in 20 games.

JOHNNY WALBRICK, a 6-0 senior, alternates at the fifth starting position. He has scored 140 points in 19 games for a 7.4 average.

STEVE DEAL, 6-1 senior, is a great rebounder and a fine defensive man, but a weak scorer. He has tallied only 34 points in 19 games. He alternates with Walbrick at the fifth starting position. In recent games, he has been the team's best rebounder.

After the top six men, Wichita Falls has practically no reserve strength. The number seven and eight men are Joe Blackshear, 6-1 senior, and Richard Scott, 5-11 senior. They have scored a total of only 40 points, between them.

DANGEROUS COYOTE—Coach Clifton McNeely of the Harvesters might well put a bounty on the head of this Coyote, Gerald Phillips, Phillips, a 5-8 guard, is the playmaker and second leading scorer for the Wichita Falls Coyotes, who play Pampa here Tuesday night in a bi-district game.

Palo Duro Acts As 3-4A Spoiler

The Palo Duro Dons were the only district team still in action in Pampa, which meets Wichita Falls Tuesday at Pampa, in a bi-district game.

The defeat ended Carver's hopes of becoming one of the shortest state champions in history. The Wildcats, who average only 5-10 in height, had a 22-4 record during the regular season and went through their district undefeated.

In the Friday afternoon quarter-final game, Raymond Duke paced Carver's scoring with 23 points. Charles O'Neal tallied 14, and Larry Oats scored seven. George Duke netted four, and Williams scored six.

In an opening round game Friday morning, Carver edged Snyder in a real thriller, 47-46—the latter in a real thriller, 47-46.

Carver had led 5-4 after the end of a slow first quarter, but Snyder tied the score at 23-23 at halftime. Snyder went ahead 41-40 at the end of the third quarter, but Carver rallied in the fourth to pull it out of the fire.

Charles O'Neal led Carver's scoring in the quarter-final contest, with 21 points, Raymond Duke scored 12 points, and James Taylor followed close behind with 11. George Duke and Robert Lewis each tallied two, and A. Morgan meshed one. Larry Cash didn't score, but he played a fine floor game.

PRairie View (Sp) — Carver High's Wildcats lost in the quarterfinals of the Negro state class B tournament to East Liberty Center, by a score of 62-53, Friday afternoon.

Carver played the game with almost no rest. They began the contest at 1:30 p. m., after ending their first round game at about 10:30 a. m.

purely paydirt

At this time, in another of those cute little public services that have endeared us to the civilized world, we wish to announce that the Harvesters of Pampa should be favored over the Coyotes of Wichita Falls in Tuesday night bi-district sham-battling for the state meet here.

Last week heard, the gentils in the checkered vests were mumbling something about 12-5 for the Pampas and they were honoring an old basketball legend. You do not pick against the Harvesters in the hard-wood sport any more than you pick against Christmas and Mother.

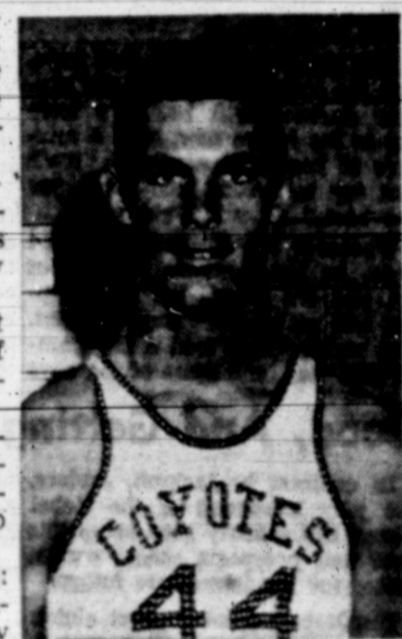

Therefore, if we were placing a small lump on the bi-district game, the Pampas would have to tote what few guineas we could muster.

Aside from the home-court advantage, the reason, of course, is superior height, experience and tradition.

Those three items of king-sized importance are to basketball or any sport what pepper is to chili, or bikini to Bardot.

PRE-GAME SIDELIGHTS: In a dozen seasons since coming to Pampa Clifton McNeely has now won an even 300 games while losing only 34. That's a percentage of 898.

And if there's aly better record in the country, quick tell us where! Pampa goes into the Wichita Falls game with a 68.7 offensive average and an even 50-0 defensive mark for this season. The Coyotes are 55.5 per game on offense and a steady 47.3 on defense. Coyote starter Leland Allred is one of the best all-around Wichita Falls players ever. He was all-district and all-state in football and along with White Deer's Jeff Bearden was named to the Scholastic Coach Magazine's 8th annual all-American schoolboy team... and have you ever stopped to think it was Pampa the Coyotes picked on in their opening football game on the path to the state title. The Harvesters figure to pay tic-for-tac Tuesday night. And it don't take much dough to attend, just a ticket of which there is a scarcity.

LELAND ALLRED ... Coyote star

Don't look now but White Deer High's fellow-District 2-A companions are sneering maliciously at the Bucks.

As if streaking undefeated through conference warfare in football on their way to the Class A title wasn't enough, Sam Christy's Bucks clobbered all six 2-A cage foes a couple times each to wind up 12-0.

The Bucks are 16-1 for the season. That means since school opened in Buckland last September White Deer athletic teams (football and basketball) have posted a sparkling 50-3-1 won-lost-tied record.

No, the arithmetic ain't as bad as it might appear. 'Cause you gotta remember Bob Moore's White Deer basketball team, which has a 20-2 record and also finished with a spotless 12-0 loop mark Friday night. Canadian playing the role of fall-guy in both the Bucks' and Does' games.

Here's hoping little ole White Deer wins both boys and girls Class A state crowns.

Carpenter bids to enlarge the WD High trophy case are now in order.

Our good buddy Ollie Wilhelm

That must be close to a record... Pampa's finishing a 14-game conference schedule, six full games' out front.

There are two major items of business that should be tackled by the people of Pampa and the Pampa School Board respectively. First, this city should plan a fund raising drive to build a regulation-sized baseball park for amateur, semi-pro, American Legion and high school games. Second, the school board should go ahead with plans for the construction of a cinder track at Pampa High.

And gentlemen, this ain't all one man's opinion either.

And then there was the newspaper man who told his editor he'd believe the sword was mightier than the pen when he saw someone writing a check with a sword.

Of Coaches & Needed Item

Dave Cook, cage mentor at Lubbock's Monterey High since the school opened in 1955, has announced his resignation. The former Lubbock High cage great is to enter private business.

Whose older brother, Jack Earl, is head basketball coach at Victoria High, coached both basketball and baseball at Lubbock High before switching over to Monterey when the school first opened its doors. His Plainmen-cagers finished with a mediocre 12-13 season record this season and wound up tied for 6th in 3-AAAA play with a 6-9 mark.

Despite Borger's Tex Hanna finishing with his worst season record (17-9) since he returned to the Bulldogs' cage helm from military service in 1948, the District 3-AAAA runner-up club finished with the loop's second best season showing.

Miami, Hedley To Meet Monday

The Warriors, coached by Bill Hines, have a season record of 20 wins and 7 losses. They have scored 1385 points for an average of 51 per game.

The Owls, coached by Don Haskins, have a season mark of 30 wins and 4 losses. They have scored 1681 points, an average of 56.4 per game.

Ky. Fractures Auburn Streak

LEXINGTON, Ky. (UPI)—Kentucky's speedy Wildcats sniped the nation's longest basketball win streak at 30 with a surprisingly easy 75-56 victory over startled Auburn before a capacity crowd of 12,750 tonight.

A tight fight broke out within three minutes to play when Auburn's Rex Frederick landed a solid right on the jaw of Bobby Slusher, sub center for the Wildcats. Officials expelled both Frederick and Slusher from the game since Slusher had poked the Auburn center with his elbow.

The Wildcats dominated the board, the baskets and the ball game, from midway through the first half. That was when forward Bill Lickert and guard Benny Coffman combined in a scoring spurge that opened a nine-point Kentucky lead with eight minutes left in the half.

Ky. Fractures Auburn Streak

WHITE DEER — White Deer's balanced Bucks had four players hit in double figures here Friday night as Canadian's Wildcats fell the sting of the four-barreled assault, 75-52.

The win ended District 3-A action for the champion Bucks, giving Sam Christy's charges an unblemished 12-0 loop mark and a 16-1 season record.

Coach Bob Moore's White Deer Does also finished their conference schedule with a perfect 12-0 mark, trimming Canadian Coach Grady Burnett's sextet, 60-43. The Does own a solid 20-2 season record.

White Deer's Mary Ann Freeman and Canadian's Sharon Riley staged a white-hot finishing duel Friday night, both finishing with 34 points. Riley accounted for all but nine of the loser's points. Freeman's torrid shooting upped her season per game scoring average to 29.6.

Behind Freeman, Juanma Jo Moore had 11 and Marilyn Kottara netted nine for the Bucks.

In the nightcap, all-state and all-American footballer, Jeff Bearden, swished in 25 points to pace the Bucks who got 11 points from Jackie Burns, ten from Tommy Lester and Ellis Knight, and eight from Ronnie Cade.

Canadian salvaged something in the game as Merland Clapper poured through 26 points.

The Bucks will play their bi-district playoff game either Monday or Tuesday night at a site to be determined after the conclusion of Saturday night's District 1-A tourney, with either Gruver, Surrency or Spearman to offer the opposition.

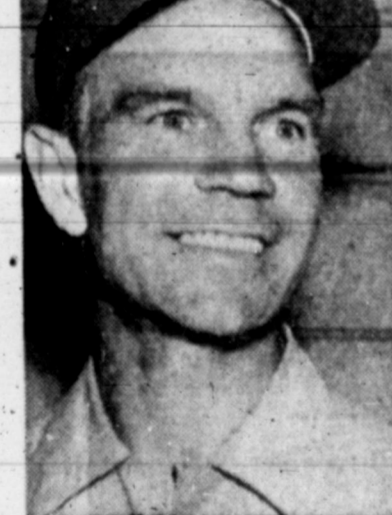

Moore's Does will meet Surrency in bi-district honors on March 2 or 3 at a site to be determined. The Does will tackle tough District 2-AAA champ, Friona, in a warm-up contest at neutral Canadian next Thursday night.

Woldt Ready To Un-sack The Bats

(Third in a series outlining the prospects of spring sports at Pampa High School. Today's installment deals with baseball.)

DECK WOLDT

By RICK PEZDIRTZ
Daily News Managing Editor

Deck Woldt, an old campaigner of the era not long ago when practically every village and hamlet with enough natives to post a population sign had a minor league baseball franchise, was mad at the weatherman last week.

"We were already for some batting practice and maybe some infield too when we were sent inside by the mid-week snow and cold weather. Maybe, it's too early in the year for baseball, but we've got a lot of kinks that need ironing out, and you really can't start too early, you know," Woldt said during an interview last week.

Actually, the veteran baseball man has three more weeks to round his 27 man Pampa High squad into a polished and smooth working combination.

In describing the type club he looks for this season, Woldt stated "Our pitching should be stronger than last year and the outfield will be as solid with regulars back at all three, outer garden spots, but we lost all but one infielder and one of our better catching prospects, and that could hurt us a lot." At 10' 1", Woldt has seven lettermen in the fold.

The three regulars returning for outfield duty are Gary Wills, Bobby Stephens and DeWayne Glover, the latter of which is regarded the top long-ball hitting prospect on the squad.

Biggest trouble spot for Woldt is likely to develop at the hot-corner, with a sophomore newcomer, Keith Gregory, given first crack at marring the team at third base.

"If Gregory doesn't work out right at third, we may move one of the outfielders (probably Stephens) into the infield," Woldt exclaimed.

Only veteran infielder back in harness is second-sacker Ruben Strickland, a terrific glove man but only a so-so stickler. The infield problem, however, doesn't appear to be a real major sore spot, what with American Legion graduates ready for first base and shortstop chores.

Hard-hitting Larry Stroud, a natural lefthander, is expected to handle first and slick-fielding little Wendell Ridgeway will man shortstop.

The loss of Clovis Shipp by illness put a serious dent in the catching department but veteran Terry Haralson should supply the Harvesters with a top-notch front line receiver.

Woldt's mound corps could easily come along and blossom into the big bright spot of the season with a pair of nifty lefthanders, Kippy Williams and Keith Yeager, expected to shoulder the brunt of the hill duties, along with righthander, Buddy Rawls.

Glover and Wills return with two letters for their senior year while Stephens, Haralson, Williams, Yeager and Strickland are lettermen in the fold.

WILHELM WINS GLOVES BOUT

FORT WORTH (UPI)—Willow Wayne Tedder slugged his way into the quarterfinals of the Texas Golden Gloves Championships at Fort Worth tonight with a bruising lightweight victory Friday night over Frank Garza that brought a crowd of 4,163 to its feet in standing ovation.

The stirring match, lauded by some as one of the best in the past 10 years, overshadowed all others despite three 1958 champions worked their way into the quarterfinals, and three heavyweights won by knockouts.

Heavyweight champion Bob May of Houston scored a first round TKO over Alfonso Iglesias of Corpus Christi; Pete Noah of Sherman, light heavyweight champion, outpointed Jack Coontz of Fort Worth, and welterweight champ Bobby Wilhelm of Corpus Christi cut the eye of El Pao's Manuel Anchondo in the third round and won by a technical knockout.

The other two knockout winners among the heavies were Ronald Jordan of Abilene who stopped Alfredo Andrade of San Antonio in the first round, and Pete Peterson of Sherman with a TKO over Benton Gary of Brownwood in the second round.

Elliott Was A Busy Man!

MELBOURNE, Australia (UPI)—Wonder runner Herb Elliott won two races Saturday, 400 miles apart.

During the afternoon the Australian world mile record holder scored a five-yard victory over Jerry Lincoln in an invitation mile race at Sydney in the, for him, slow time of 4 minutes, 7.3 seconds. Lincoln, also a four-minute miler, was clocked in 4:07.9 and world two-mile and three-mile record holder Al Thomas was a third in 4:11.7 in the race on a rain-soaked track.

Then Elliott was rushed by car to a Sydney airport where he boarded a plane for this city. On arrival at Essendon Airport, he was met by another car and rushed 34 miles to nearby Frankston.

Once arrived, Elliott spotted his brother, Laurie, 10 seconds and the rest of the field 15 seconds and beat them all in a three-quarter mile race by 2 minutes, 59.5 seconds. Laurie Elliott was second, five yards back, and Barry Rimmer was third, 10 yards behind.

Red Griggs the pipeline

Two junior high basketball coaches watched their teams end the season Friday. One of them could look back with some satisfaction, while the other could only sigh with relief that it was all over.

Bill Anders' Lee Rebels finished their season with a 12-7 record and a 6-6 mark in Panhandle Junior High Conference play. Sam Jackson's Pampa High Reapers had a 1-18 record for the year.

The Reapers' record was no reflection on either the Reapers or Jackson, because no coach and no team ever entered a season more handicapped. Many coaches get out the crying towel when they lose one of two starters from last year's squad. They'd shoot themselves if they landed in the same boat with Jackson.

The likeable pilot of the Reapers not only didn't have a starter back from last year's Pampa Junior High team—he didn't have ANYBODY who had ever played ANY organized basketball.

Better Luck Next Year

Max Patton was the only Reaper who had even been on the team during the '57-'58 season, and he didn't play any ball.

Working under a handicap like this, in his first year in the coaching business, it's a wonder that Jackson was able to teach his team enough basketball so that they would look good losing.

However, the Reapers did look pretty good in spots last season despite their losing record. They gave you the feeling that, with just a little experience, they could have checked.

But the past is dead and gone, and the sooner it's buried the happier Jackson will be. He's looking to the future now, with a mixture of hope and caution. "We'll just try to rebuild and hope for the best," he said Friday.

Whatever his difficulties next year, he has nowhere to go but up, and it's a safe bet the Reapers will make some improvement. The eighth grade won a few games this year, and some of the boys

Good, And Getting Better

In contrast to Jackson, Anders, the jolly head-man of the Rebel camp, had a fairly good setup this year and prospects seem even better for the immediate future.

The Rebels were a great clutch ball team this year, often snatching victory from almost certain defeat, in the final minutes. On one occasion this year, Anders called for a full-court press when the situation became desperate, and it worked so well that the Rebels scored 30 points in 10 minutes and won the game handily, after trailing by 12 points near the end of the third quarter.

Anders will have good material to work with next year, since John Dobson's Lee eighth graders won the conference championship with a 9-1 record.

The night next year will not be exceptional, but Jon Pitts and Darrell Doss both scale 5-11. Pitts and Doss, along with Mike Schale, have been carrying most of the scoring burden for the eighth graders this year.

Gordon Balch, Ronnie Chase, and Jerry Glover have also been doing a fine job for the Lee eighth graders, as regular starters. Lee has six starters since Doss and Glover alternate in the fifth spot. Jim Brashears, Frank Palmier, and Dale Mercer were top-line reserves for the eighth graders, and they may be fighting for positions on next year's Rebel squad.

As for long-range prospects for Lee, they couldn't be rosier. John Hale's seventh graders have just finished a near-perfect season, winning their first seven games of the year.

Things should be looking up for both junior high cage squads during the next two years.

Fullmer Beats Graves, Asks Title Shot

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ex-champion Gene Fullmer, who beat blond Wilf Greaves again Friday night, with an injured right hand, asked all boxing commissions today to vacate the middleweight crown and give him another shot at it.

Now boasting nine straight victories on the comeback trail, Fullmer petitioned the National Boxing Association and the New York State Athletic Commission to vacate Sugar Ray Robinson's 160-pound title if he signs to challenge Archie Moore for the light heavyweight crown.

At the same time, muscular Gene cancelled a fight with Paul Pender at Boston, March 17, to give his injured hand time to heal properly.

Although X-rays at Polytechnic Hospital today disclosed no fracture, Dr. A. E. Lichman said a hemorrhage had caused "free fluid in the middle finger, knuckle joint and he put the hand in a splint. Gene must wear the splint for a week or 10 days.

Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, injured the hand in the second round of his return bout with Canadian champion Greaves at Madison Square Garden Friday night, when he hit Wilf of Edmonton, Alberta, on an elbow.

Despite the pain and swelling, Fullmer insisted on continuing the bout and he came from behind in the second half to win a majority decision that snapped Graves' winning string at 13 bouts.

Judge Nick Gamboli called it a draw after giving each fighter five rounds and five points. But Judge Jack Gordon favored Fullmer five rounds to four, and referee Harry Kessler agreed, 5-4-1, as did the United Press International.

K-STATE CLINCHES TITLE TIE

STILLWATER, Okla. (UPI)—Kansas State clinched at least a tie for the Big Eight Conference basketball title with a 62-50 victory Saturday over Oklahoma State.

The Wildcats' Bob Boozer, who tallied 24 points in the game, poured one field goal through as the final buzzer sounded, and it was not until the final score had been announced at 60-50, and some fans had left, that the goal was awarded to Boozer and the score revised.

The victory also assured the Wildcats of a berth in the NCAA Regional Tournament, since they have already twice beaten Colorado, the second place team in the Big Eight.

The hip-and-tuck affair was played before 6,500 fans, many of whom also attended 25th anniversary celebrations for OSU Coach Hank Iba.

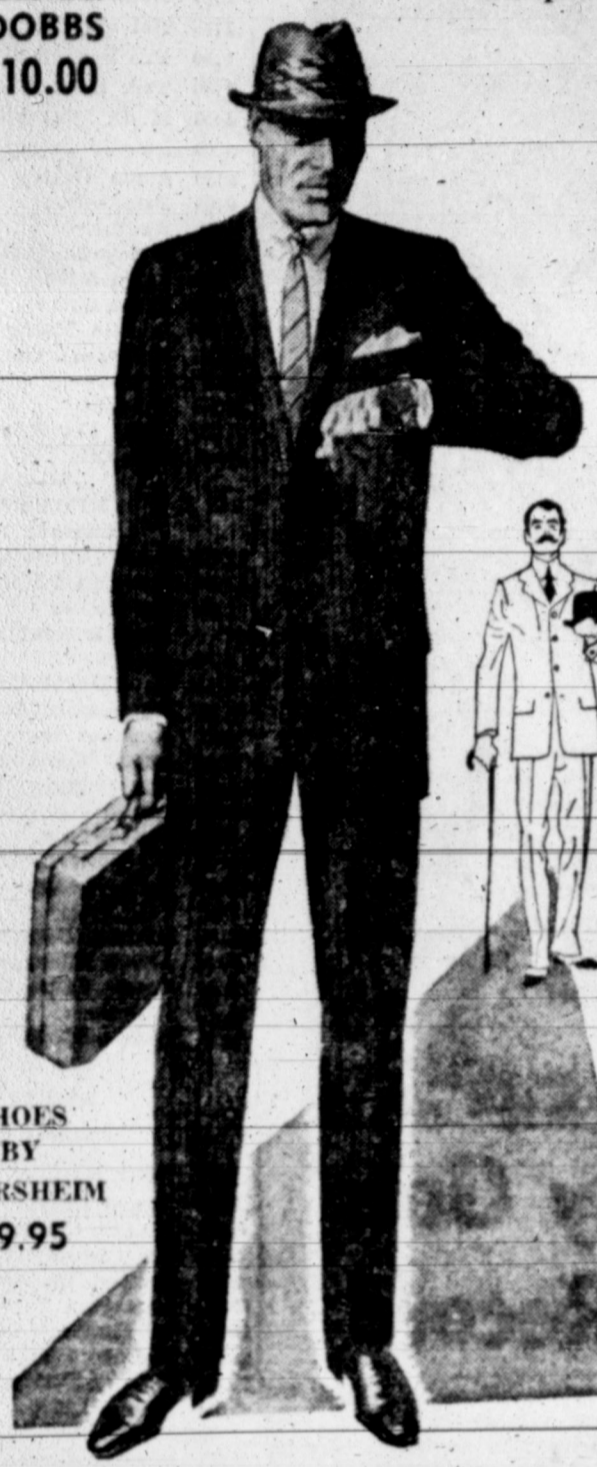

The Cowboys managed to filter both man-to-man and zone defense put up by Kansas State, but they could not hold down Boozer, whose fall-away two-handed shots hit consistently.

At halftime, Kansas State led 30-26. The score was knotted eight times, and the lead changed hands four times. Oklahoma State pulled within two points at 32-34 and 35-37 in the second half, but Boozer came through with seven straight points and the Wildcats built a lead of 44-37.

Duquesne Blasts Segregation In Rejecting Sugar Bowl Bid

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Mississippi State, Tulane, Western Kentucky, and Duquesne were invited Saturday to the 1959 Sugar Bowl basketball tournament, but Duquesne immediately rejected the bid because of Louisiana's segregation policy.

The versatile, 30-year-old Yankee veteran this season... insisted Yankee efforts to give him a $125,000 pay cut because his batting average fell off to .250 last year.

McDougald's signing left five Yankees still outside the fold. They are Mickey Mantle, Whitey Ford, Andy Carey, Virgil Trucks, and rookie John Jacut.

LAKELAND, Fla. (UPI)—Frank Jary ended a two-day holdout shortly after noon Saturday, bringing to full strength the Detroit Tigers' pitching staff in spring training here.

Lary, who beat the New York Yankees seven times last year and holds a lifetime edge of 16-5 over the world champions, came to terms after his second long bargaining session with General Manager Rick Ferrell.

BRADENTON, Fla. (UPI)—The Milwaukee Braves Saturday received the signed contract of outfielder Hank Aaron, reducing to eight the number not yet in the fold for the coming season.

Aaron is believed to have signed for $40,000, the same sum he received last year when he hit 326 with 30 home runs and 95 runs batted in. He will join the club next Saturday, one day late for full-scale workouts, the delay being caused by his appearance at a baseball clinic in the Virgin Islands.

VERO BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—It was "back-to-school" day for the Los Angeles Dodgers Saturday.

Manager Walt Alton turned over his catchers to Bobby Bragan, the pitchers to Joe Becker and Clay Bryant, the infielders to Pee Wee Reese and the outfielders to Pete Reiser for fundamental instructions. Bragan, Bryant and Reiser manage Dodger minor league clubs, while Becker and Reese are members of the varsity coaching staff.

For the afternoon batting session, Alton divided his squad, five pitchers throwing to eight batters on two fields. Roger Craig and Sandy Koufax took 15-minute mound turns for the second time in three days.

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI)—Veteran catcher Clint Courtney Saturday agreed to terms reportedly calling for an $18,000 salary for 1959 as the Washington Senators cut their holdout list to eight.

Courtney was said to have received a token raise of $500.

Baseball Briefs

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—Infielder Gil McDougald, conferred with New York Yankee officials for more than two hours Saturday and then ended his holdout siege by signing his 1959 contract for the same $32,000 salary he received last year.

Nelson Eddy Gets First Gold Record

Hollywood By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — He did it! He finally did it! Nelson Eddy has sold a million copies of a single recording. It took him 23 years.

Eddy is bursting with joy following announcement that his version of "Indian Love Call" waxed in 1936, squeaked into the million sale mark this week, qualifying him for a golden record award.

Moderately the operatic baritone credits his oldtime partner, Jeanette MacDonald—who warbled a duet with him on the platter—for the success of the Redskin mating number.

Long, But Steady

"That record has been selling a long time, but steadily," Nelson said.

"This is a new and wonderful experience for me, but I'm not bragging about it. Jeanette is just as responsible for the record as I am.

"Twenty-three years is a long time to wait when you think of some of these rock and roll singers who sell a million copies in 23 days. Maybe we were singing about a slow Indian."

Success hasn't gone to Nelson's head. He holds no-high hopes that his "Shorty's Bread" record will break the million mark.

"I doubt if it will come anywhere near selling that much," he grinned. "It's been banned on radio and television at the request of the NAACP. I still sing it in my night club act, but I've changed the words so it won't of-

Miami Steer Brings $9,500

SAN ANTONIO (UPI) — The grand champion steer calf of the 10th annual San Antonio Livestock Exposition and Rodeo was sold Friday for $9,500 to the Dumas Milner Chevrolet Co.

The steer was shown by Bill Breeding of Miami, Tex., a 17-year-old 4-H Club member. Last year's grand champion steer calf sold for $6,100.

Geometry as a name is derived from the Greek words for "earth" and "measure." Since geometry had its beginning in 3000 B.C. in Egypt this name is probably the translation of an Egyptian term. The word refers to the measurement of the earth. The Egyptians needed geometry for measuring pieces of their land that had been washed away by the Nile floods.

Southern Prisons Rated As Poor

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Southern prisons have been ranked lowest in the nation in a survey of correctional workers.

Prisons of California and New York were rated among the best. Those most in need of improvement, the survey said, were Mississippi, Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia and South Carolina.

At the top were California, the U.S. Bureau of Prisons, New York, Wisconsin and Illinois.

'Matt Dillon' Leads Salt Grass Trail Ride Today

By KYLE THOMPSON
United Press International

HOUSTON (UPI) — At 5:30 a.m. Sunday, television's Marshal Matt Dillon gave the signal for 2,000 riders and 100 covered wagons to get underway in the largest organized horseback movement in modern times.

The ride is the eighth annual Salt Grass Trail ride on a three-day, trip from Brenham to Houston. Heading the big movement will be James Arness, the Marshal Dillon of TV's "Gunsmoke."

Riders will reach Houston next Wednesday in time to lead a downtown parade of some 10,000 people to open the Houston Fair Stock Show and Rodeo. Arness and Gov. Price Daniel will lead the parade.

The Salt Grass trail ride began in 1952 when 17 persons decided to travel over roughly the same route used by pioneer cattlemen as they drove their longhorn cattle each winter to graze on the life-giving grass along the coast.

Four of the original riders — Brenham Mayor Reese Lockett, TV announcer Pat Flaherty, rancher Emil Marks and LHT Ranch foreman John Warnach — will be among the 2,000 persons making the ride this year.

The long-horse and wagon convoy will stretch in single file for a distance of more than a mile. For three-day-and-night busy executives, oilmen, ranchers, youngsters and people from all walks of life will forget their problems except for eating, caring for their horses and maybe an occasional blister or two.

Trail Boss Lockett said rules this year will prohibit trailer trucks, vans or floats at camping sites. He said enough food and firewood will be stored in the wagons to last the entire trip.

The fat stock show, Feb. 25 through March 8, also will feature 11,200 individual entries in beef cattle, dairy cattle, sheep, swine, poultry, rabbits, cutting horses

Peg O' Pampa

GOOD MORNING! and we are hoping that is an applicable salutation in the event you have received your paper on time. snatched it up and hurriedly turned first to this section in the event you have let it slip your mind until late afternoon, Monday or Tuesday, well, hi, anyway. The Forsythia bush which is fairly bursting with buds on our front lawn, we are literally bursting with news to impart so with no further ado, let's have with it. Friends are all talking about the lovely Valentine Tea with which Mary Ann Kelley entertained recently in the Country Club. It was one of those casually elaborate, well-planned affairs where everyone enjoyed themselves immensely. The serving table was quite elegant. It was centered with a stately argente holding pink carnations with red nylon tulle pouts each one looking like a gay little nosegay. The table was covered with a floor-length white satin cloth caught up at the corners with pink carnations backed with red nylon ruffling and tied with red satin streamers that fell to the floor. The tea tid-bits matched the elegance of the table appointments with Mrs. Ted Herriman out-doing herself again with her part in the affair. The bite-size, frozen-centered cream puffs were the piece de resistance, as well as the dainty tea sandwiches. The bread had been dyed red and filled with yummy pink filling. Chocolate-covered almonds and tiny, red, sugar strawberries added the right touch for the sweet-tooth. The hostess was her usual, lovely, gracious self in blue linen afternoon dress complemented with a pale pink corsage that matched the flowers in the centerpiece. Other members of the houseparty wore red carnation corsages. We note the versatility of entertaining advantages that living in this particular spot affords hostesses. Did you ever stop to think that here we can maintain a real authenticity in an afternoon tea complete with white satin cloths, silver and crystal flowers and dainties, or entertain with an outdoor barbecue with an iron skillet, brass and wood table service and be perfectly at home in either setting. We've attended affairs in other parts of the country where the more formal setting was accomplished with ease, but the western atmosphere, when it was attempted, fell flat and fakey. Did you ever stop to think about this? Well, frankly, we hadn't either until just now.

ANOTHER LOVELY PARTY given this week was the pretty bridal shower for an even prettier bride, Mrs. Jerry Ray Boston. Her favored colors of green and white were brought out in the table appointments with a green net overskirt over green taffeta centered with a tall espagne containing white, black and green feathered love-birds. The honoree wore an afternoon dress of green harmonizing in color with the cloth on the table. The mantle in the large parlor, of the First Methodist Church formed the focal background for the gift-laden table, which literally spilled over with intriguing-looking gifts wrapped in white, shiny paper tied with huge, green ribbon rosettes. Perched on the mantle was a lovely bride-doll flanked with burning, white tapers with a string of white rose-bud electric lights draped from one candle-holder to the other. Hostesses for the bridal courtesy were Ethel Clay, Thelma Lutes, Victoria Houchin, Eva Branson, Bea Goodnight, Jewell Nance, and Ruth Wooley. One of the nicest social gestures we can think of is a housewarming. The Ernest Croners were pleasantly surprised and honored. Sunday-Last, when a group of their friends called on them with refreshments and gifts in the Croners' lovely, new home northwest of the city. A housewarming, it seems to us, is what suddenly turns a lovely house into a home. We're not leaving our favorite subject, parties. We only want to give your eyes a rest and let you look at the star for a minute.

PRETTY red and white polka-dot invitations were posted by Minerva Hobart and Mrs. E. L. Green Jr., bidding guests to the lovely luncheon given on Saturday in the Country Club and on Friday evening in the Club, the George, Crees Jr., the Joe Crees, the D. E. Hight, the C. A. Husted, the W. E. Jordans, the H. E. Stronfields, and the Vernon Watkins were hosts for a dinner-dance and come this Thursday, Dot Overton, Ann High, Teed Hicks, and Thelma Clark are having a Book Review Coffee in the club, which is always the hub for beautiful fun affairs almost any hour of the day or evening and way, way next month, which really is almost here, anyway, Evelyn Nace is planning a party for Lorene Chinn of Borger and her book, "The Unappointed" speaking of books, Delta Kappa Gamma Sorority is planning a rare treat for book-lovers on March 9 in the Robert E. Lee auditorium. They've engaged Evelyn Oppenheimer to review the best-seller, "Home From The Hill." We usually envy people their trips, but we didn't exactly envy Bill Hunt's jaunt to Galveston this week for the band activities there. He took off with carloads of girls, their chaperones and THEIR LUGGAGE. Heard that the E. W. Stevenson's also accompanied the band entourage. Friends are elated over the news of the proposed return of residence in Pampa of Betty Cree Reed and her family from Abilene. They will be the new next-door neighbors for Dot Overton for the Reeds are building that very interesting-looking home out on North, very North Duncan. We've heard that they had a show-place of a home in Abilene and the outside shape of the new one gives evidence of being very lovely, too. Around the first of March or the early weeks thereof, the Dr. H. H. Hicks, the Art Hollands, the Bob Triplehorn are Acapulco-bound. Probably little chance of running into like this trip, though, for he'll probably be back in his White House chair by the time they get there.

SAD STORY some weeks back we noted with printed congratulations that Marian Osborne had received the Thanks Badge, which is one of the highest honors that can be given to an adult worker in Girl Scouting, and one that is given only once in a lifetime. Well, it is true that Marian received the honor sometime back, oh, maybe back like two years ago. But the honor this year was accorded Martha Holt for all of her services throughout the years to Girl Scouting, which is what we should have said then and what we are saying now. Marian and Martha are good friends and we hear they laughed good-naturedly over our little faux pas as all Good Girl Scouts should do.

SOMETHING WE'VE MISSED THIS YEAR is the Beta Sigma Phi's annual table-setting contest. Or did they have it while our little nose was snow-covered. We do know that plans are well underway by the Sorority for the annual selection of the Woman of the Year. They are selecting a panel of prominent men who will submit a list of outstanding women's names for selection by the sorority. As usual, we can hardly wait to find out who she will be this year. Just one comment on the civic scene from a private citizen, us. We are glad that the traffic lights have been turned on at Hobart and Kentucky. Seems to help the traffic flow so much easier now. So much easier in fact that some, unaware of the light addition, have flowed right on through a red light takes a while to catch on. Or maybe just one traffic ticket. We simply can't close without a mention of the DAY OF THE SOUND. We've heard some amusing experiences that happened to people relating to the sound. For instance, a friend of ours had just turned up the furnace thermostat in her home at the moment the Sound was heard. You can just imagine what she imagined! And another friend of ours, an avid Bridge-player, had just absently trumped her partner's ace at the moment the Sound occurred. She swears the Sound came directly from her partner! mmmmm, sounds logical! See you next week.

Love, Peg

JUNE WEDDING

RUTH MILLETT

Let's hear it more about how easy things are for the modern housewife, just because she has a few electrical appliances to make short work of what used to be drudgery. Great-grandma used to spend hours over a scrub-board, beat her rugs to get them clean and preserve her own fruits and vegetables. But though there was plenty of back-breaking work for her to do, she didn't have to break her neck to stay young looking or wear herself out trying to be a companion to her husband. Great-grandpa didn't expect his wife and the mother of his children to look like a glimmer girl. Her hair was neatly combed and her apron clean, she looked all right to him. If she put on a little weight as she grew older and if her hair and skin showed the aging effect of time that was all right, too. She could look and act comfortably middle-aged. But look at how much time and energy a woman today spends on just trying to look young. Time at the beauty salon, time at the reducing salon, time shopping for just the right clothes, time spent on daily beauty routines. Not much was expected of Great-grandma as a companion, either. If she didn't have a sharp tongue or wasn't always ailing, Great-grandpa thought himself a lucky man. Now a wife is expected to share all of her husband's interests and enthusiasms. If he likes to hunt, she has to learn how to shoot a gun. If he is enthusiastic about fishing, she has to be enthusiastic about it, too. If he likes to dance, she has to learn to rhumba. It's safe to say that a modern wife spends as much time keeping herself young and being companionable to her husband as Great-grandma spent over the wash tub, the bread board, and the scrub bucket.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Baker of Deriden announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Barbara Anne to Joe Walton Tynes Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Tynes Sr., 1917 Hamilton. The wedding is planned for June 6 in the First Presbyterian Church. Deriden. Miss Baker was graduated from North Texas State College where she was a member of Chi Omega Sorority. Mr. Tynes was graduated from NTSC and is now attending the University of Texas Dental School in Houston, where he is affiliated with Psi Omega, professional Dental fraternity.

Attractiveness Is State, Not Age

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

A lovely actress named Cornelia Otis Skinner, who is currently appearing in a Broadway play, proves the truth of the idea that there is an ideal of beauty to be achieved no matter what a woman's age.

Miss Skinner is not an ingenue but she is a beautiful woman. In her current play, she wears clothes entirely suited to her age and therefore most becoming.

Her evening dresses have covered up her shoulders and arms, her suits fit perfectly. Her legs and feet are enhanced by sheer nylon worn with neat and perfectly plain leather or satin pumps. Her clothes tend toward simplicity. They are chic because they rely on handsome fabrics and expert cut.

That Miss Skinner was endowed with good looks to begin with is obvious. But it's also obvious that she's not trying to appear kittenishly young. She's a most attractive woman at an age which is her own secret.

The old-fashioned notion that a lady uses nothing but white linen handkerchiefs is, of course, silly. A good many ladies these days are using pastel cleansing tissues. They've discovered that this is an excellent way to prevent cold germs from spreading.

But there's no doubt that linen handkerchiefs are nice to own and add a certain touch to a costume.

Jewelry: fine suede gloves or a luxurious pure silk scarf. They do this, however, ONLY if they are immaculate. Nothing brands a woman as slovenly faster than a crumpled, used, grubby handkerchief.

The handkerchief you take from your handbag should be crisp, clean and dainty. If you can't manage this, the pastel cleansing tissues are a wise substitute.

About the only way a woman can maintain a reputation for being well-groomed is through constant attention to her clothes. And since few of us have maids these days, we must be prepared to do our own minor sewing and mending.

Collect all of the thread, needles, scissors, buttons, pins and trimmings that you will need and keep them in a small box in one of your closets. Each time that you see a hem that needs attention, a ripped seam or a drooping button, you can make the repair on the spot.

This saves those long evening mending sessions that none of us particularly enjoys.

Provocative Program Presented For American Ass'n Of University Women

"Who Makes Up Your Mind?" was the subject for an interesting and informative symposium presented to the February meeting of the American Association of University Women on Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the City Club Room.

"Acceptance and approval by one's fellow classmates is the most important thing in a teenager's life and helps him in making his decisions," stated Linda Skewes, president of the student body of Pampa Senior High School, as she stressed the importance of home-training, example, and tradition in forming opinions.

Miss Nova Mayo cited the impact of advertising, newspapers, radio, television, the influence of home and church life, and prejudices as factors in making up one's mind, and said that "we often rely upon the judgment of people whom we respect in formulating our opinions."

Mrs. J. E. Myers, speaking from the viewpoint of the mother and homemaker, discussed the positive effect of the parents' influence in molding children's minds, and some of the negative effects of outside influences such as television.

Mrs. Kenneth Walters, Junior High School counselor, described the typical attitude of the younger teen-ager in their group loyalty, and spoke of the needs for parents and teachers to teach discrimination.

Miss Henrietta DeNardini concluded the discussion with a comparison of her life in Hungary with that in America. "We were subjected to a constant barrage of propaganda and were told what to think. It is the freedom in this country that is 'so wonderful,'" she said.

Miss Sybil Turner was moderator for the group.

In a brief business session conducted by Mrs. Evelyn Milam, president, it was decided to purchase a Community Concert ticket to be presented to one of the schools for a student's use. Announcement was made of the play to be given by the Thespian group of Pampa Senior High School this spring and sponsored by the American Association of University Women. The proceeds are used for a scholarship for a senior girl.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Earl Casey and Mrs. Hershel V. Wilks.

The next meeting of the group will be a salad supper on March 17 in the City Club Room.

LITTLE LIZ

A lot of women seem to think a husband should wash up when he's asked and dry up when he's told.

MATURE PARENT

Mrs. P. is 49 years old. Her oldest child is 28 and her youngest—a girl is 9.

"She's a problem," writes Mrs. P. "She never completes what she starts, is saucy and untidy. At times she doesn't seem to care about anyone and says things she doesn't mean like 'You don't want me. You don't love me. I hate you.'"

At 49, Mrs. P. is weary of active motherhood. We want more rest than we used to. We like quiet.

Our middle-aged rhythms are slower so that we find the day-in-day-out presence of a 9-year-old person very strenuous.

If this resistance seems so sinful to us that we have to deny its existence, we will become an intolerant mother.

We'll demand the same ideal behavior of the child that we are asking from ourselves. Any carelessness, any misconduct he indulges in will be a special threat to us—a grim warning that we're failing in our duty to him.

If, like your daughter, he accuses us of not wanting him, we'll feel the same panic as the criminal confronted with the evidence he thinks he's successfully hidden.

We can't be afraid of children's accusations, Mrs. P. They are much too valuable to be afraid of.

When we reject them without examining them, we often lose some truth about ourselves that we need to become a happier, freer person.

So, together let's look at this accusation.

Suppose, instead of calling your daughter a "problem," we say, "Yes, what this child says has some truth in it. There certainly are times when I don't like being a 9-year-old's mother."

Where does this acceptance of truth lead us? To the realization that our 49-year-old's resistance to maternity isn't a sin but a most natural reaction.

It leads us to the knowledge that we've been hating ourselves without cause. It restores in us our sense of innocence.

It's then that we're ready to see that it's our truth-telling child who's restored it to us. The rest just happens by itself.

How do you know she doesn't mean them, Mrs. P.? Because you want her not to mean them? Because she possibly she's letting the truth in intolerable?

Suppose, instead of calling your daughter a "problem," we say, "Yes, what this child says has some truth in it. There certainly are times when I don't like being a 9-year-old's mother."

Where does this acceptance of truth lead us? To the realization that our 49-year-old's resistance to maternity isn't a sin but a most natural reaction.

It leads us to the knowledge that we've been hating ourselves without cause. It restores in us our sense of innocence.

It's then that we're ready to see that it's our truth-telling child who's restored it to us. The rest just happens by itself.

How do you know she doesn't mean them, Mrs. P.? Because you want her not to mean them? Because she possibly she's letting the truth in intolerable?

We'll demand the same ideal behavior of the child that we are asking from ourselves. Any carelessness, any misconduct he indulges in will be a special threat to us—a grim warning that we're failing in our duty to him.

If, like your daughter, he accuses us of not wanting him, we'll feel the same panic as the criminal confronted with the evidence he thinks he's successfully hidden.

We can't be afraid of children's accusations, Mrs. P. They are much too valuable to be afraid of.

When we reject them without examining them, we often lose some truth about ourselves that we need to become a happier, freer person.

So, together let's look at this accusation.

Suppose, instead of calling your daughter a "problem," we say, "Yes, what this child says has some truth in it. There certainly are times when I don't like being a 9-year-old's mother."

Oven Meal Topic For Merten Club

Merton Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday with Mrs. Walter Murphy, Cities Service Camp, "Oven Meals" was the topic of a program given by Mrs. V. A. D. Smith.

Mrs. Smith said that modern homemakers are more aware of the convenience of an electric oven for preparing a whole meal at once. "First, plan a combination of foods for the oven meals that can be cooked approximately the same length of time and at the same temperature. However, if one food should be cooked longer, place it in the oven first so the meal can be served hot." She added that meat and vegetables should be placed in the bottom of the oven and the dessert on the top shelf.

"When planning a long cooking meal, casseroles, gingerbread and upside-down cakes are the best desserts to fix," she advised.

Mrs. Smith said a delicate cake should not be baked in the oven with meat, as there will be steam from the meat and vegetables and the cake would be tough.

The business meeting opened with Mrs. Bob Brandon, president, presiding. Mrs. A. M. Nash, gave the secretary-treasurer's report.

Mrs. Clyde Edmundson directed the recreation with prizes awarded Mrs. Murphy and Mrs. McQuigg. Club adjourned with the singing of "Together."

Miss Thornton stated that the "smart children could go on and should not be held back by those who aren't interested. Russia has shown us with their satellite program, what education the smart students can accomplish."

Mr. Tucker said that those who wanted to go on with their education, as they do in Russia, could have a chance to study. We, in America, could have genius, just as Russia does. In Russia, they Keeping feet and ankles in trim calls for a little attention. It is unfortunate that most women neglect their feet and develop painful foot problems as a result. When- ever bathing, massage your feet and use a soothing cream on them. Rotate each foot while sitting down. This stimulates circulation and also trims the ankles. If your skin tends to pop out in red swelling or pimples, consider treating it to a mild soaping treatment. First start with cool water and follow with warm water. Then wind up the cleansing process with a gentle, antiseptic lotion.

Incredible Effort Of Will Power Enables Painter To Create Beauty

STRASBOURG, France (NEA) — Marie Daisy was born about 20 years ago without arms or legs.

This is a tragedy that might destroy most parents and eventually the child. Fortunately for Marie, her parents were of strong Normandy stock.

They gave her an education, and encouraged her to develop a talent to fill the long, lonely hours. That talent was painting. Now Marie has several awards to her credit — for paintings she creates by holding a brush between her head and her shoulder.

The story of Marie Daisy is perhaps the most extraordinary of those you hear at the Association of Handicapped Artists, which has its headquarters in Strasbourg, France's ancient city on the Rhine River.

Handicapped by a birth defect, or an accident or illness later in life, none of its students paints in the orthodox way with their hands. They all paint with their mouths or their feet.

Every oil or water color represents an incredible effort of will power, and is testimony to an inexhaustible fund of patience.

Few of the members of this unusual "academy" can be called great artists. But all bear in mind the example of Renoir, the French impressionist crippled with arthritis who painted masterpieces with his brush strapped to his hand.

Successful professionally are 35-year-old Madeleine Jars and German-born Arnulf Stegman. Both paint with their mouths.

When Madeleine, the daughter of a civil servant, was born the doctors soon realized that not only would she never have the use of her arms and legs but that she also was unable to talk.

"Thanks to the love and patience of her mother, Madeleine learned to read at an early age. Her memory was prodigious. The next step was to learn to write. Gripping a pencil between her teeth she would spend hours duplicating three or four letters of the alphabet. When at last she had mastered the two R's, she graduated to painting.

Her father invented a series of instruments which made it easier for her to mix her paints and hold her brushes. She needs from four to six weeks to turn out a small painting, working several hours a day.

Arnulf Stegman lost the use of his arms after contracting polio as a child. Now in his late forties, his works are exhibited in many countries. He also was the star pupil of the Munich School of Art in Germany.

Founder's Day was observed by Robert E. Lee Junior High PTA at the Thursday afternoon meeting held in the school auditorium. The meeting commemorated the organization of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers founded on Feb. 17, 1897.

Mrs. Bob Andis, president, in opening remarks to the PTA group gave an informative and inspirational talk on the predictions for achievement and progress to be made in the next 20 years. She stated that "Our atomic age is like a knife. In the hands of a surgeon, it can save a life. In the hands of an assassin, it can take one."

Reports were given by Mrs. Weldon Trice, secretary and Mrs. James Evans, treasurer. Mrs. Julian Key, radio chairman, announced that a live radio program, "The Life of Robert E. Lee" will be given at 9:15 a.m. Friday.

Members voted approval of the purchase of two tickets to the Community Concert Ass'n. for the school's music teachers to distribute to children interested in attending the programs.

Following the business session, members of the seventh grade presented the program with Myron Aftergut as master of ceremonies. "Thought For The Day" was given by Charlotte McCoy.

Mrs. Homer Martin Jr. directed the school choir in the presenta-

Why doesn't somebody offer a refresher course for housewives? This plaint comes from a wife and mother who says she is sick and tired of cooking the same food in the same way, would like to do something to brighten up her dull living room but doesn't quite know where to begin, and thinks there must be easier ways of doing housework.

A lot of housewives, bored with the same old routine week after week, probably would enjoy a homemakers' refresher course the way professional and business-

But the fact that there is no refresher course open to housewives doesn't mean that each one can't supply her own.

Here are a few tips that might make housekeeping a bit more interesting for any bored wife:

Get out your cookbooks and work out a menu for the week, cooking every single thing in a new and untried way. Cooking isn't boring and neither is meal planning for the woman who is always trying something new.

Spend an afternoon at the public library reading everything available on interior decorating.

Study pictures of rooms to see if you can't spark your own imagination and come up with a bright idea — that will give your own house a new look.

Plan a party that is a little different from your usual way of entertaining. In making out your guest list be sure to include a few persons who have never set foot in your house before.

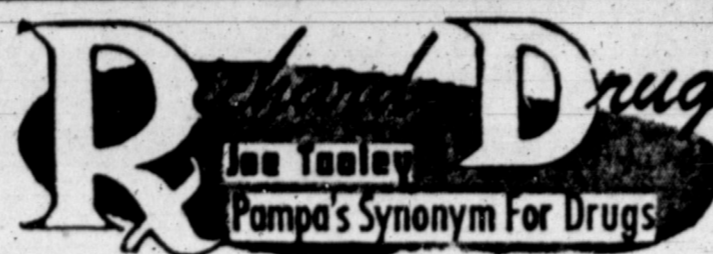

Look around and see if some of your rooms or some of your furniture couldn't use a fresh coat of paint. Then mix your own colors to get something a bit different from the ready-mixed colors and go to work.

Enroll in adult classes in cooking, sewing, interior decorating, art, or music — and see if you don't bring home some ideas that will make life more enjoyable for you and for your family.

In short, get busy and refresh yourself.

Both George Washington and Abraham Lincoln had been surveyed before becoming presidents.

Poor Posture Path To Weary Wrinkles

By ALICIA HART NEA Beauty Editor

The way that you hold your head when you read or walk has a good deal to do with the appearance of your neck. If you hold your head high when you're reading and look at faces as you walk, chances are your neck is smooth and wrinkle-free. But if you hunch over your book, digging your chin into your collarbone and if you stare at the sidewalk, chances are equally good that you're collecting a sizable web of wrinkles under the chin and a series of unlovely circles around your neck. Posture may sound like a dull word but it has a good deal to do with your being a beauty. The fact is, no woman can possibly be a beauty unless she has posture that's nearly perfect. The bent knee, the drooping head, the slouching walk, the curved back can all conspire to turn a woman into a caricature of what she might be.

Gals who find that their hands remain rough in spite of cleaning might resort to a trick of grandma's — white cotton gloves worn to bed at night. It works like this: Cream your hands thoroughly, using one, two or three coats, as necessary. Then don a pair of clean old white cotton gloves. The cream or lotion will stay where it belongs, on your hands, during the night. And it will have time to do a job penetrating the smoothing of the skin. The gloves can go into the washer during the day and be ready for the next evening. Floor-mopping, dishes and cleaning the bathroom are all essential to good housekeeping and rough on the hands. If yours are the kind you'd rather sit on at a tea or cocktail party, try giving them the old glove routine. It really works.

Delicious Dessert Surprise

This deliciously different dessert, teaming three wonderful "go-together" ingredients, is sure to brighten winter menus. Layered in sandwich fashion, there are crisp graham crackers for the base, then cream cheese and a crowning layer of grape-flavored gelatin. It's so easy to make too. Try it tonight.

Grape Gelatin Surprise
1 package grape-flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
1 cup cold water
1 cup graham cracker crumbs
1/2 cup butter, melted
1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese, softened
2 tablespoons cream
1/4 cup confectioners' sugar
Dissolve grape-flavored gelatin in hot water. Add cold water. Chill until slightly syrupy. Mix graham cracker crumbs with butter. Reserve about 1/2 cup of crumb mixture for garnish. Press remaining mixture into 10x6-inch loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 5 minutes. Cool. Blend cream cheese and light cream. Add confectioners' sugar and mix well. Spread over cooled crumb layer. Then pour gelatin carefully over cream cheese layer. Chill until almost firm. Sprinkle with remaining crumb mixture. Chill. Makes about 6 servings.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

The front doorbell chimes, and the mother calls from the kitchen, "Dave, there's the door. Answer it." But the obedient rush of footsteps from upstairs doesn't come and she calls again. When the bell-chimes once more, she jams her paring knife into a potato, walks into the hall, calling angrily, "Dave, didn't you hear?" From halfway downstairs, skates in hand, the child says sullenly, "It's just Stubby, Mom. It's just Stubby ringing for me." "As he closes the door behind him, he doesn't look at her. Is Dave's dawdling the problem? No, dear reader. The lady's need for immediate gratification of her wishes is the problem. Yesterday, driving downtown, she felt the same irritation at a red traffic light that she felt toward Dave just now. She roasts it whenever she has to wait for her turn in a queue at the bakery store. If the reception is busy when she calls she'll slam down the receiver with the same impatience that drove the knife into the potato. She's the lady who must have everything she wants the instant she wants it, including the obedience of her child. So getting his instant obedience won't solve her problem. The traffic lights will continue to interfere, and other bakery store customers and telephone callers will get in the way. She'll continue to get mad at them, never connecting the irritation they arouse with the irritation aroused by her dawdling youngster. Parents should always examine themselves for this shortcoming. Usually we develop this need in childhood by association with people who break promises. We learned the hard way that waiting for gratification of our wishes always ended in disappointment. Without knowing it, we began to distrust all waiting as disappointments, and trust only wishes that were instantly fulfilled. This distrust is our impatience with the dawdler. Because he delays the immediate obedience we

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for nine years and we have three children. My mother-in-law always refers to my children as ROY'S children. Whenever she is showing a picture of them she will always say, "These are ROY'S children — never ROY'S and MAXINE'S children. I get so burned up when she does this that I have to clench my fists and grit my teeth to keep from telling her off. Have you any advice on how I can correct this ignorant habit without getting into a fight with her?"
BURNED UP
DEAR BURNED: Listen closely. YOUR parents probably refer to the children as MAXINE'S children. This is a natural "habit" and you'd be wise to overlook it.
DEAR ABBY: I am a man who married a woman who was married twice before. Both of her husbands died. I bought her an especially nice wedding band. She wears it on the same finger with her other two wedding bands. I don't know if I have the right to ask her to please take off her other two wedding bands and wear only mine. Is it proper to wear three at once?
NUMBER THREE
DEAR THREE: A woman is entitled to wear only one wedding band at a time. Ask her to please put the first two away.
DEAR ABBY: Boy, oh, boy, oh, boy, did I ever see myself in one of your reader's letters! That mother who yelled at her daughter to get her off to school on time could have been me a few years ago. No more! I just wake up the kids, have breakfast on the table, let them help themselves want, we immediately conclude that we're never going to get it. And attack him with our old anger an expected disappointment.

Spring Hats High, Wide 'N Handsome With Brilliant Display Of Vivid Color

By GAILE DUGAS NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK (NEA) — Real brims, tall crowns and brilliant color give this spring's hat brand new dimensions. The overall effect is one of much more hat. Turbans, brims, rollers, cone shapes and even sailors show the new look of height. They also demonstrate a new femininity. This comes partly from the soft-straws and silk used for the hats and partly from the fact that even the ordinarily severe sailor has been softened by addition of trimming. Not all of the brims are wide, of course. Some are only an inch deep. But they're there in the true profile hat, they shadow the eyes mysteriously, lending the look made famous by Crawford, Garbo and Dietrich. Turbans are soft, intricately draped and often done in vivid silk prints. Brilliant pink is combined for instance, with a pale yellow. Green pairs up with white and royal blue takes to white, too. There are many cloches in the collections of top American designers, these often showing deep brims turned back off the face. Some of these are intended for wear with the suit or coat with standaway collar or no collar. Flower hats are back in great profusion and are prettier than ever. They're done in every conceivable shape, including the heightened wig type. These are cloches and small caps done in flowers and, of course, the wide-brimmed flower hat laden with beautiful blossoms. Sometimes the flowers are actually made of feathers. For these flower hats, the favorite shades are the pastels and white. Club goals were discussed and adopted; among these were to assist the library and 4H club. It was agreed to pay for a program for the library. Mrs. Elmer Williams was named to replace Mrs. Lee Hamby as reporter. Final plans were made for Valentine Dinner for members and their husbands to be held Feb. 24 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bahr. Attending the meeting were Mrs. F. J. Poe, Harry Bahr, C. T. ### Florida Oranges Fight "Cold War"

Protecting yourself from colds is the best way to fight the war against them. A large glassful of Florida orange juice insures you the vitamin C you need daily to keep your resistance to winter-time ills at a high level. It is a good idea to have it first thing and be sure you follow the healthful juice with a breakfast that is nutritious and satisfying. Poached eggs on toast served with crisp bacon would be a good send-off any winter morning. Oranges this time of year are priced low so that you can well afford to treat your family to freshly squeezed juice every morning, and during the day for refreshing pick-ups as well. From every five pounds of Florida's thin-skinned oranges, you will get at least a quart of that favorite of all fruit juices.

BURIAL OF AIRMEN DELAYED TO APPEASE VISITOR MIKOYAN

DARRELL KISSEE
...buys Pursley's
Kissee, New Ford Dealer

Erwin Pursley has announced the sale of Pursley Motor Company to Darrell Kissee and Wayne Jackson of Miami, Okla. The sale became effective Thursday and the establishment opened as the Kissee Ford Company.

Kissee and his partner have bought all the buildings and property of the former Pursley-Motor Company as well as all Chrysler equipment and parts. The company will continue to service Chryslers and will now service all makes of Fords, according to Kissee.

Kissee, 37, has been in the car business 11 years with the Ford, Lincoln, Mercury and Edsel line in Miami, Okla., and a Ford agency in Claremore.

He will move his family to Pampa after March 7. Kissee and his wife, Vera, have three children: Mary Elizabeth, 2½; Darrell Eugene, 13; and Ronnie, 11. His partner, 34, will remain in Oklahoma.

The new dealer said he will make no changes in personnel.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Postscript on Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan's visit here, the State Department intervened to scuttle Air Force plans to conduct internationally meaningful burial services in Arlington National Cemetery.

The bodies were unidentified. They were two of the crew of the U.S. Air Force C-130 which crashed last autumn in Soviet Armenia. The U.S. government has made public tape recordings of conversations between Soviet fighter pilots during an action in which it is charged that the Russians deliberately gunned down the unarmed American transport.

The date suggested by the Air Force for the burials with military honors in the cemetery just across the Potomac from Washington was Jan. 16. That was the day Mikoyan met with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to be told of angry American resentment. The Air Force proposed Jan. 16 only informally and did not press the matter when the State Department objected.

Seriousness of Matter
Rep. James C. Davis (D-Ga.) told the tale in Georgia three days ago. Some of the things Davis told his home folks in Georgia were these:

"If held then (Jan. 16) this would have demonstrated to Mikoyan the seriousness with which the American people took the shooting incident and their unflinching desire for the return of the other men, dead or alive."

He said the State Department counseled against the burial plan and insisted that the funerals be postponed until Mikoyan had left the United States.

"The exact words of the State Department official," Davis continued, "were: 'There is a feeling in the department that there would have been unfavorable attendant publicity. Mikoyan's attitude might have considerably hardened.'"

"Because of the appeasing attitude of the State Department and the apparent lack of courage on the part of the Department of the Air Force in this matter, another instance of appeasement goes into the already long and craven record of attempts to appease the unappeasable."

State Department officials acknowledged to United Press International that the Air Force wanted the Jan. 16 burials, and that the State Department counseled against that date. The department's position was that the tape recordings of conversation among the marauding Russian fighter pilots should be made public coincident with the burials for maximum impact on public opinion.

State desired to postpone release of the tape until both Dulles and Vice President Richard M. Nixon had challenged Mikoyan on the incident and after Mikoyan had reported to the Kremlin on those conversations.

Eleven members of the crew of the lost airplane still are unaccounted for. The Kremlin denies knowledge and responsibility; says the United States is lying about the tapes. Public opinion in the United States has been rocked by reports of missing or dead Americans.

Rites Held For Rancher

Funeral services for Mr. William M. Kemp, former manager of the Kell Ranch, were held Saturday in Plainview Hospital.

Born on Oct. 15, 1887 in Marion County, Ky., Mr. Kemp moved to Texas early in life. On Feb. 20, 1912, he married Catherine Annette Hendrich in Wichita Falls.

He was manager of the Kell Ranch, north of Pampa, for 15 years before moving to Hite County. From 1940 to 1955, he farmed in the Ellen Community, southeast of Plainview, moving to Plainview 12 years ago.

He is survived by his wife Catherine and his daughter Kathryn of Plainview, three sons, Marshall of Plainview, Clarence of Amarillo and Albert of Pampa; one brother, Oscar; and one sister, Mrs. Henry Harmon, both of Lebanon, Ky.; and 11 grandchildren.

Gambler Costello No Longer Citizen

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gambler Frank Costello, 58, was stripped of his American citizenship by Federal Court order.

The ailing gambler is currently in Leavenworth serving a five-year prison sentence for tax evasion.

Federal Judge Archie O. Dawson held that Costello had fully misrepresented and concealed material facts in obtaining citizenship Sept. 10, 1925.

The government claimed that Costello became a citizen fraudulently by concealing his bootlegging operations and a 1915 conviction for carrying a concealed weapon.

The action by the court today paves the way for the government to proceed with its deportation plans. Costello, after his tax evasion conviction, had volunteered to leave for Italy if the government would drop its prosecution. His offer was refused and his denaturalization trial began early in January.

The first denaturalization trial for Costello late in 1956 was tossed out by the court on the grounds of "tainted evidence"—the alleged use of illegal wiretaps by the prosecution.

The government appealed and the Supreme Court early in 1958 reversed on a technicality the dismissal of the action and remanded it back for another trial.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Morton S. Robson, during the second trial, introduced evidence that Costello, during the prohibition era, had an extensive rum-running career at the very time he had sworn to uphold the Constitution.

Foreign Oil May Be Controlled Soon

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Mandatory controls on foreign oil imports are just around the corner. The government, forced into a cul-de-sac on the explosive problem, is ready to announce late next week a quota system regarded as the best that can be devised in a very complex situation.

Two Factors Involved The program will replace a "voluntary" imports control system which failed miserably because some importers wouldn't cooperate.

Import assignment quotas are expected to be based on two factors: Domestic refining capacity of certain importers, and import ratios of established companies over the past nine years.

'Very Important Produce' Flies More Than People Do

WASHINGTON (UPI) — VIPs other than people are flying the airways these days. Fresh flowers, fruits, and vegetables — "Very Important Produce" — are flying high, wide, and wholesome by air freight.

Careful Preparation Necessary The problem was tossed to the Agriculture Department for solution. So, to find out what can be done, the biological sciences branch of the Agriculture Marketing Service (AMS) and the University of California recently studied 116 different perishable farm commodities.

Insulation offers further protection against temperature changes, either upward or downward. Insulation protects the produce against the sun's heat during stops as well as the threat of freezing at high altitudes. It can be provided by means of insulated compartments, load blankets, and special shipping cases.

Warn Against Mixing Humidity controls also may be achieved by pre-flight planning. To offset the low water content of the rarified air at high altitudes, careful packaging and handling are required. In the case of flowers, moisture can be applied to the package. Tomatoes, cantaloupes, citrus fruits, and cucumbers, frequently are waxed to reduce water loss.

OIL SCOUT IS A VITAL COG

TULSA (UPI)—The oil industry will never be able to get along without that legendary figure, the oil scout—but he's being brought up to date.

Even the swift modernization of the industry has failed to halt the use of scouts, who visit all the drilling wells to keep tab on the day-by-day approach to the pay zones.

Years ago, before geology and regional information was readily available and universally appreciated, the scout would keep his boss informed as to how fast or slow the drillers worked. A scout's greeting upon approaching a drilling crew, invariably was: "How deep are you today?"

Many famous scouts were once scouts. Col. E. L. Drake, the one-time railroad conductor who is credited with drilling the first oil well, scouted the salt water wells to gain knowledge for use on his own 69 1/2 foot discovery of Aug. 27, 1859.

DOUBLE DELIGHT—Apparently looking in a mirror, Helene Kessler, left, is actually swapping smiles with her identical twin, Alice. The German dancers are in Paris, France, to appear in a night club act.

EGGING ON THE PRESIDENT—Embroidered eggshell in a presentation jewel box was presented to Gen. Mohammad Ayub Khan, Pakistan's martial law president. An artist, known only as Yakkiluddin, used heavy gold thread to embroider on the empty shell an inscription in Urdu. It reads: "The saviour of Pakistan, General Mohammad Ayub Khan."

RIGHT ON TARGET—Chuck Conners took a chance when he quit baseball and went into TV as an actor. But he's doing all right, along with son Johnny, aged 13, in their popular western series, "The Rifleman."

HEIGHT OF FASHION—Comedienne Carol Channing peeks out from beneath the towering coiffure she sports while appearing at a New York night spot. It's a space-age creation dubbed the "Missile Cone." Studded with diamonds, it's valued at an astronomical $500,000.

ROUGH RIDER—Air Force Capt. Jack Recht comes to a jolting, literally hair-raising stop on the 20-foot steel "Bopper" sled during an abrupt deceleration test at Andrews AFB, Md. The "Bopper" is designed to measure the effects of any kind of crash or rapid deceleration. Recht and other volunteers ride the sled to help gather data on space problems, which man will have to face.

'Frozen Sleep' Has Infinite Possibilities

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A scientist says he is engaged in research aimed at eventually putting human beings in a "frozen sleep" that could last for many lifetimes before the subjects were awakened.

Dr. John Lyman of the UCLA bio-technology laboratory said the successful use of "frozen sleep" on humans could lead to fantastic developments in space travel, economics and medicine.

"A man suffering from an incurable disease could be put into a frozen state until a cure is found," he said.

"Or, suppose there is over population or unemployment. People could be frozen until times were better."

Lyman said humans in a "frozen sleep" could make long space trips, lasting several hundred years and then be thawed back to life at their destination.

The scientist admitted, however, that all of these ideas right now "are more or less wild speculation."

As a matter of fact, he said, he and his colleagues so far have only been freezing hot dogs to check out their equipment.

"In a few weeks we'll start freezing mice," he said. Other animals will then be put in a "frozen sleep" if the mice experiments are successful.

Lyman said he plans to freeze mice to temperatures as low as 100 degrees below zero by putting them in dry ice and alcohol and then attempt to bring them back to life.

UNDER MOTHER'S WING—Attached to a pylon under the wing of a B-52 jet Stratofortress, the X-15 high-altitude research aircraft is in position to be carried to drop altitude. Top and bottom photos show front and rear views respectively. The rocket ship—first to try to put a man into space for a short interval—will be fueled with nitrogen and liquid oxygen through quick-disconnect lines in the carrying frame. Two TV cameras on board the B-52 mother ship will observe the X-15 and its pilot leading up to the drop. The X-15 will be loosed at about 38,000 feet, where its own powerful rockets will take over. The piloted missile is designed eventually to reach an altitude of 100 miles or more. Preliminary tests at low altitude are scheduled for this month.

WALTER ROGERS REPORTS:

Congress' Celebration Of Lincoln's Birthday Elaborate

Ten days ago marked the 150th anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birthday. It has been traditional in the Congress to celebrate the birth of Abraham Lincoln by proper and fitting ceremonies and remarks. This year, being the 150th anniversary, the ceremony was much more elaborate. A Joint Session of the House and Senate was called to order by the Speaker. It was also attended by representatives of every branch of the government and most of the foreign powers represented in this country.

The invocation was delivered by the Reverend Bernard Braskamp, Chaplain of the House, and the benediction was delivered by the Reverend Dr. Frederick Brown Harris, Chaplain of the Senate.

The famous Gettysburg Address was delivered by Mr. Frederic March, who was selected for the role by the Motion Picture Association of the United States of America. This was followed by one of the most moving addresses it has been my experience to witness during my lifetime. It was delivered by a great historian, Mr. Carl Sandburg, who is probably the greatest authority of all time concerning the life of Abraham Lincoln.

I wish there was room in this newsletter to repeat the address, but there is not. However, I do want to quote a part of it and comment on it. Mr. Sandburg, in discussing the trials and tribulations of Lincoln, made this statement:

"He argued and pleaded for compensated emancipation of the slaves. The slaves were property, they were on the tax books along with horses and cattle, the valuation of each slave written next to his name on the tax assessor's books. Failing to get action for compensated emancipation, as a chief executive having war powers he issued the paper by which he declared the slaves to be free under 'military necessity'. In the end, nearly $4 million worth of property was taken away from those who were legal owners of property confiscated, wiped out by fire and turned to ashes, at the instigation and executive direction. Chattel property, recognized and lawful for 300 years was appropriated, seized without payment."

Mr. Sandburg, in this short statement, put his finger on the use of the War Between the States. Contrary to the beliefs of thy, slavery was not the question. The question was the unlawful confiscation of property. There has never been a doubt in my mind but that had those who sought these unfortunate people to this country and sold them to slavery been as anxious to hit a wrong boss of their action, they were to sell these people, they would never have been a slave between the States. To Christian human being would argue as an advocate of very the South would gladly relinquish any claim to property ownership in a human being, but they did feel that they had the right to ask for and receive a return of the price they paid to those who were claiming for the violation of a vested property right at that time.

Am glad that the reissues of Sandburg have been important in the Congressional Record, did a wonderful job in preparing his speech and it will serve as a rich source for reference in the future.

Old Home Week
Last week was like Old Home Week for Texans in Washington. The NRECA (National Rural Electric Cooperative Association) held its Annual Meeting in the National Capitol. Of the 7,000 delegates registered, well over 500 came from Texas. The Panhandle sent a sizable contingent of almost 30. Most of them were able to come by the office for a visit.

The Texas Delegation in Congress
entertained the Texas group at a coffee in the room in the Capitol originally occupied by the Senate of the United States, then occupied by the Supreme Court before it moved to its present building, and now used for committee and other purposes. This room is steeped in history and is one that should be visited when you come to the Capitol.

The NRECA group from Texas entertained the Texas Congressional Delegation at a wonderful dinner in Sheraton Hall at the Sheraton Park Hotel, the largest meeting hall for this purpose in the Nation's Capital. All of us enjoyed ourselves and had a good visit. Those attending, according to my register, are as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Buckles of Stratford; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Waide of Perryton; Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Robertson and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Elliott, Jr., of Dalhart; Mr. B. L. Smith, Jr., Mr. J. T. Summers, and Mr. D. D. Chewning of Paducah; Mr. L. C. Trent of Carey; Mr. W. L. Kiker and Mr. R. A. Yarborough of Childress; Mr. Leo Forrest and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Higginbotham of Hereford; Mr. A. W. Gohber of Farwell; Mr. and Mrs. Terrill Christian of Claude; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bloodworth at Matador; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Todd of Puma; Mrs. Jack Todd and Mrs. Doris Johnson of Happy; Mr. Selba Rainey and Mr. George Henry of Wellington; Mr. Fred Bourland of Quail.

We had some other special visitors in Washington last week. Mr. James A. Kone and his wife Ruth were up for a visit. Jim served as best man when Jean and I got married in Pampa 22 years ago.

A brook trout may lay as many as 4,000 eggs in a single "nest" scooped in a stream bottom.

Cameras Kibitz At Bridge Tournament

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—The kibitzer — that much maligned individual who always knows the card you should have played—is about to get a new lease on life. "He's about to change his status from gazing post to paying guest," said John B. Powers, executive secretary of the Assn. of American Playing Card Manufacturers. "And it's all due to the modern magic of the television camera, which has just proved that bridge and other card games can be exciting spectator sports."

The hands they were playing were shown on a nine-foot-square electronic board called a "bridge-arama." The players, of course, had to sweat it out without the help of electronics. They couldn't see the board.

But as each card was played in the booth, a light blinked behind the appropriate card on the electronic board, then went dark as the trick was completed. "Just like spectators at any other sports event, the kibitzers were free to cheer, boo, and shout when they felt like it," Powers said.

Behind Glass
"But this was one time when the kibitzers could not bother the players with their free advice. The players were safely quarantined behind soundproof glass walls like so many people-sized goldfish."

Kibitzers are named after a German bird, the kiezitz. The bird is noted for both its curiosity and the way it protects its eggs. The kiezitz flaps its wings in the face of an egg-hunter, annoying him greatly. Powers said the Germans coined the word "kibitzer" years ago when it became apparent that the buttinsky sort of cardplayer or spectator and the kibitz were alike.

It takes a lot of people to keep the kibitzers at bay the electronic way. Not counting television crews, 14 specialists pitched in at the international championship tourney.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

There is an old Wall Street adage that the bull gets a little, the bear gets a little and the hog gets nothing.

Hoggishness caused South to throw away a lay down small slam in an effort to score 30 points for an extra trick. He won the opening heart lead with his ace and led the deuce of clubs to dummy's queen. Now South cashed dummy's ace of spades, returned to his hand with the ace of diamonds and ran off his three top spades.

The three losing diamonds were discarded from dummy and the fact that the spade suit did not break failed to disturb South in the slightest. East would not be mean enough to fail to win the queen of clubs if he had held the king so the club finesse was proven. South was right about that. He led the jack of clubs and West covered with the king but East showed out. Now South was stuck in dummy with no means of avoiding the loss of a trick to West's nine-of-clubs, and once West got in with that card he held the king of diamonds to set the hand.

South's initial club play had been fine but once the queen of clubs held he should have played the ace of spades and then the ace of clubs. He still would have made seven if the king of clubs had fallen under the ace but in any event he would have made his six by giving up a club trick.

THE WORLD'S WARFARE SINCE 1945

YEARS OF CONFLICT—The so-called era of peace which the world welcomed after World War II has been anything but peaceful, as Newsmap above shows. The same year the war ended, fighting broke out between The Netherlands and Indonesia. All over the world, nationalistic feelings, held in check during the global struggle, rose to a tide that has swept in a wide series of "limited wars" since then. They have included overthrowing—or attempts to overthrow—foreign domination, civil insurrections and subversion, boundary disputes and the ousting of home-grown dictators, the most recent being the Cuban Revolution. Background to it all has been the continuing "Cold War" between Eastern communism and Western democracy. It has been the most war-filled "peacetime" era in history.

Some Males Start Life As Females

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—The newest fruit of science's continuing investigations into the mysteries of sex indicates that as many as one out of every 400 males began their lives as females.

The beginning of life here is reckoned from the first splitting of the fertilized egg cell which, it had been thought, inevitably established the sex of the resulting individual.

There's nothing inevitable about it, science now knows. Sex can be reversed in the developing embryo and the individual who began as female or male can be born a male or a female.

The first and highly tentative estimate of how often this happens in the case of female-to-male reversal was established by Prof. Keith L. Moore of the University of Manitoba, Winnipeg, Canada. It happens the other way—from male to female—but no one yet has any idea of how often.

Moore did it by establishing the "chromosomal sex" of every infant born in a Winnipeg hospital in the course of one year. That is the most basic sex there is—that is "genetic sex." A female has two "X" chromosomes in every body cell; a male has one "X" and one "Y" chromosome.

All life infants appeared to be normal, anatomically. There was no question about the sex of any of them. Samples of their body cells were subjected to microscopic examination, without the examining scientists knowing which cells came from which anatomical sex.

Of the 1,804 anatomically female infants, all were female of chromosomal sex. But of the 1,911 anatomical males, five were female of chromosomal sex. From

Moore assumed that the male-to-female reversal was so very uncommon that hadn't shown up even once in 3,715 newborns, labels," said Wallace. "I'm a registered independent and my wife is a registered Republican."

"I voted for Teddy Roosevelt in 1912, for Bob LaFollette in 1924, for Al Smith in 1928 and for Eisenhower in 1956."

Wallace's unorthodox way of voting may be explained by the fact that his father, Henry Cantwell Wallace, switched political affiliations in his day.

The senior Wallace was a Republican secretary of agriculture in the Harding and Coolidge administrations, but an antipathy developed between him and Herbert Hoover and the Wallace family transferred to the Democratic Party.

The former vice president now is living contentedly as a scientific farmer—a vocation he loves near South Salem, N.Y., called "Farvie."

With him is his wife, the former Mrs. Brown of Indiana, Iowa, whom he married 44 years ago. Mrs. Wallace also is interested in cultivation of the soil and is almost as much an authority on the cross-breeding of plants as her husband.

On the farm, Wallace experiments in the egg-laying abilities of chickens and also raises strawberries and gladiolus. He has long been a student of genetics.

The Wallace place is dotted with chicken coops and a variety of farm buildings. Wallace, employed three farm helpers and a part-time bookkeeper.

"I don't like to be bound by labels," said Wallace. "I'm a registered independent and my wife is a registered Republican."

"I voted for Teddy Roosevelt in 1912, for Bob LaFollette in 1924, for Al Smith in 1928 and for Eisenhower in 1956."

Wallace Voted For Eisenhower In '56

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
United Press International

SOUTH SALEM, N.Y. (UPI)—Henry A. Wallace disclosed for the first time last week that he voted for Dwight D. Eisenhower for president in 1956.

The 70-year-old former Democratic vice president of the United States, said he does not know whether he will vote Democratic or Republican in 1960.

"I will be for the person who will do a real, imaginative job on the foreign front, in the interest of world peace. That's why I voted for Ike."

Wallace said it "looks inevitable" that the House and Senate will go Democratic in 1960.

"I don't see any chance in 10 that it will be otherwise," he added.

"Will a Democratic president be elected next year?" he was asked.

"Not necessarily," he replied.

"The people are splitting their votes on a non-partisan basis more than ever. It will depend upon the personality offered and the kind of a campaign that is conducted."

Wallace merely smiled when it was suggested it was a surprise to learn that he, a one-time Democratic vice president, had voted for a Republican for president.

"I don't like to be bound by labels," said Wallace. "I'm a registered independent and my wife is a registered Republican."

"I voted for Teddy Roosevelt in 1912, for Bob LaFollette in 1924, for Al Smith in 1928 and for Eisenhower in 1956."

Bill Knowland Has No Regrets

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)—Bill Knowland firmly assures all corners that he has no regrets over leaving the U.S. Senate to pitch a campaign for governor of California on the explosive issue of right-to-work.

Moreover, Knowland very evidently means exactly that. Although organized labor teamed with the state Democratic organization to lick him.

"I'd do it all over again," Knowland said during an interview in the office from which he now supervises the publication of the Oakland Tribune, a solid evening newspaper.

"I would do the same thing," he continued. "I might change some campaign details but not that right-to-work issue. Someday we will have to come to grips with the issue of monopoly power. Too great a concentration of power is dangerous."

Thirteen years in the Senate preceded by a newspaper career and service in the California Legislature have given Knowland some insight into politics, government and such matters. He was hand-picked by the late Robert A. Taft to become Senate Republican leader when Taft, himself, was stricken.

Here's how some political and governmental matters appear to Knowland:

Presidential Politics: As of now Vice President Richard M. Nixon is well in front for the 1960 Republican nomination. Political conditions are subject to sudden change, however, and the public opinion polls might cut down Nixon as they cut down Taft before the 1952 Republican national convention.

Budget Balancing and Inflation: The federal budget probably will not be brought into control and balanced so long as foreign aid continues. Foreign aid starts a chain reaction of spending in which representatives and U.S. states and subdivisions argue that if billions of dollars can be spent abroad it should be possible to spend millions at home for their special projects. The time is coming when the federal government must choose between those priorities. The new federal budget does not appear to be actually in balance. Inflation already is here and could become deadly. If the United States became insolvent no country in the world could bail out the United States.

Rockets and Missiles: If two billion dollars given to Tito of Yugoslavia had been put into the first satellite and rocket projects, the United States might have beaten the Russians. The same amount of money, so spent, would have had greater impact on America's friends, enemies and the neutrals than it possibly could have as a grant to Yugoslavia.

Governors: Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, and Edmund G. Brown of California have similar problems and comparable states—the problems: two-billion-dollar state budgets, 200-million-dollar deficits which must be covered by taxes.

Personal Plans: Remain in the newspaper business although you can't absolutely foreclose a return to politics because you cannot know what may happen in politics in four, six or eight years.

The Navy developed "the first guided missile ever launched in wartime against an enemy." They were launched in the Pacific during World War II.

General Motors Corp. reported sales fell 13 per cent and earnings 25 per cent last year. But Chairman Frederic G. Donner and President John F. Gordon termed the overall outlook for 1959 encouraging. Sinclair Oil Corp. reported lower earnings for 1958 reflecting lower prices, higher costs and increased Venezuelan income tax rates. Sales set a new high, however.

Short interest on the New York Stock Exchange dropped in the month ended last Friday to 4,127,940 shares, least in a year. About one-quarter of the short position was centered in these five issues: Studebaker - Packard, General Telephone, U.S. Steel, First America Corp. and American Motors.

Japan led the world in 1958 for the third consecutive year in total tonnage of industrial ships, says a Register of Shipping reported. Germany was second and Britain third.

The Small Business Administration approved 399 business loans in January, totaling $20,278,000, compared with 438 approvals in December for $19,938,000. In January, 1958, there were 289 approved loans totaling $13,820,000.

Dairying contributed 25.07 per cent of the total farm income of Ohio during 1958.

Unordered Merchandise

Suppose the mailman delivers to you a package containing a necktie, a book, keyring, tag or a photograph record that you didn't order. Either with it, or by later mail, is a bill on request to remit the price.

Do you know your obligations, assuming you don't want the merchandise? Must you return it? Can you use it and not pay for it? Must you keep it, or can you throw it away?

Generally speaking, recipients of unordered merchandise are under no obligation (1) to return it; (2) to acknowledge its receipt; (3) to pay for it unless used; (4) to give particular care; or (5) to keep it beyond a reasonable time.

You are obligated to surrender the merchandise if called for in person by the shipper or his agent within a reasonable time. But you can demand storage charges before surrendering the item. If you mail it back at your own expense, you very likely will stay on the sender's mailing list and will receive other shipments in the future.

There are no postal regulations governing unordered merchandise, except where fraud is involved.

Congress is working on legislation that will cover the situation. However, if you know what is in the envelope or package, you can write "Refused" across the face of the piece of mail and hand it back unopened to the mailman. No further explanation is required. You don't have to accept any class of mail. Further, your refusal probably will result in the sender having to pay return post-

SHE'S REALLY HAPPY—Regardless of that paw in her eye, Diane Williams, 12, of St. Petersburg, Fla., is a happy girl. She cuddles Lucky, given her by a kennel owner after another pet dog she owned was killed by a car.

This column, prepared by the A ruling by the Federal Trade Commission holds it a violation of the Federal Trade Act for a sender of unordered merchandise, to any law without the aid of an attorney. "The receiver is under no obligation . . . to pay for or return the merchandise." Hence, if you don't use the merchandise, you may change the application of the law to pay for it.

If another person's mail is improperly delivered to you, do not open it, as such action might make you liable to severe legal penalties. Such mail should promptly be re-deposited in a postal box with an appropriate notation thereon, such as the proper address or "not 14 South Brown Street". Henceforth, broadcasts to Japan will be made regularly on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Cecil Has Lincoln's Devotion To Justice

Personality Spotlight
United Press International
LESTER L. CECIL
Nominated to Sixth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals

Lester L. Cecil, 65, President Eisenhower's nominee to the Sixth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati, has that devotion to the principle of justice characteristic of Lincoln, of whom he is an ardent student.
Tall, stocky and soft-spoken, Judge Cecil's zeal for his profession has not been dimmed by half a lifetime of presiding over a court.
When told of his nomination Wednesday, he quietly commented, "I love the law."

POPULATION UP
PARIS (UPI) — Figures released by the National Institute of Statistics today reported that the population of the city of Paris reached 2,029,000 on Jan. 1. The population of greater Paris was set at around 8 million.

Matter of FACT
The English Constitution is unwritten but strong through tradition. It is democratic, yet there is a House of Lords which holds office by right of birth. Parliament, begun as a king's council consisting chiefly of lords and bishops, has changed over the years to give the power to the House of Commons. The present-day House of Lords cannot vote on money bills, but it can hold up other legislation for two years though it rarely does.

President Eisenhower has often said he prefers experienced judges for the federal courts.
Made Few Enemies
Judge Cecil has had a third of a century's experience as a judge beginning with his election to Dayton, Ohio's Municipal Court in 1925.
During his 33 years on city, county and federal benches Judge Cecil has made few enemies and has won a reputation as a "lawyer's judge." He can't recall having heard himself classified "conservative" or "liberal," and he says he hasn't "the slightest idea" which term would best describe him.
For nearly 25 years he presided over the Montgomery County Common Pleas Court, sitting in Dayton.
From this obscure post, President Eisenhower elevated him to the federal district court in Dayton three months after the President entered the White House.
Cases Change
Almost overnight, Cecil saw the cases before him change from minor criminal charges to constitutional issues.
Such an issue was that of Dayton union leader Melvin F. Hupman, accused of falsely signing a non-Communist affidavit. The trial took four weeks. It resulted in a hung jury.
Cecil says in this and in every case he tries, he is guided by one principle: "I try to follow the law."
"My approach to a case has always been that of a lawyer," he says. "I won't change now."

SHORTAGE OF CLERGYMEN BECOMING MORE SERIOUS

By LOUIS CASSELS

United Press International
drive to recruit more young for the ministry is underway America's major religious denominations.

worse. The average layman doesn't think much about the clergy shortage — until his own church needs a pastor. Then he learns with a shock that the demand far exceeds the supply.

Statistics from the two largest U. S. denominations indicate the dimensions of the problem. During the last 10 years, the Catholic population of the United States has increased 31 per cent, but the number of priests has increased only 21 per cent. A recent survey showed, there are nearly 10,000 U. S. towns, of more than 500 population, in which there is no Catholic priest.

just because it may entail some sacrifices. At the same time, they are trying to clear away some of the misconceptions that young people have about a clergyman's life, and to make clear that a ministerial career brings many deep satisfactions as well as a few hardships.

Lutherans Have Program One of the most ambitious programs of this kind is being conducted jointly by four Lutheran denominations — the American Lutheran Church, Lutheran Free Church, Evangelical Lutheran Church and United Evangelical Lutheran Church.

Since last November, these Lutheran bodies have held "men for the ministry" conferences in 37 major cities. Four more will be held next month. More than 3,000 young Lutherans have attended the conferences to date. They asked blunt, hard questions about going into the ministry—and they got straight answers. The response was so enthusiastic that Lutheran leaders have decided to repeat the conferences regularly in the future.

The Methodists are using a somewhat similar approach. They have held convocations in several major cities recently to acquaint college students with the church's need for manpower, and to encourage more applicants, not only for the ministry but for other religious vocations.

Catholic parishes throughout the nation will observe "vocation month" in March, with special prayers and sermons directed to the church's acute need for additional priests.

FRAMED—Even standing way up straight, Ngoro the baby giraffe is dwarfed by the body of his mother, Lotte, at the Frankfurt, Germany, Zoo. Though only a few days old, the youngster is already a lofty six feet. But he still has to grow quite a bit to equal mom.

Membership Grows Membership of the Methodist church has grown 28 per cent since 1940, but the number of fully-accredited ministers has increased only 1 per cent. Untrained supply pastors are filling the gap. Methodists need at least 2,800 new ministers each year to staff their growing church, but they are getting only 900 a year from seminaries.

Similar figures could be supplied by Baptists, Lutherans, Episcopalians and Presbyterians. According to the National Council of Churches, clergy shortages exist in virtually all denominations. The council estimates the total deficit, in Protestant bodies alone, at 25,000.

Churches face a severe handicap in their efforts to interest more young men in seeking holy orders. Sociologists have noted a growing tendency among U. S. youth to choose careers primarily on the basis of the material rewards they offer.

They believe it is God Who calls men to the ministry, and that it would be blasphemous to try to substitute monetary bait for His divine promptings.

So the churches are doing their recruiting the hard way. They are trying to get across to their youth the message that there is more to life than making money, and that no sincere Christian can ignore a call to full-time service.

KIDS' DAY—School bus operator Harold J. Taylor, of Ica, Vt., places new, and quite appropriate, license plates on his bus. He is assisted by daughters Karen, left, and Pamela. Taylor requested and received the special plates from the state's motor vehicle department.

Homeowners Will Battle Termites

By EDWARD COWAN
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Spring brings the time of the termite and much distress to home owners. Termites venture out on colonizing flights to new homes—possibly your home—as the weather turns warm, the National Geographic Society points out. It estimates that in this country alone they chomp up about $250,000 worth of damage a day.

ous creatures, the expert says to reduce moisture around the house to a minimum. They thrive in damp, dark wooden places. So the drier your foundations, timbers and grounds are, the better prepared you are.

The geographic society notes that the termites' fame—or notoriety—is not limited. "They have chewed into Buddhist temples in Japan, infiltrated the Vatican, gnawed at the homes of Americans stationed on Okinawa, revealed in the famed Latin Quarter of Paris, and traveled to the Pacific's lonely Pitcairn Island in an organ destined for a church."

Soil Poisoning Helps
What can the beleaguered homeowner do?

Soil poisoning is one counterattack, suggests John M. King, assistant director of the Research Institute of the National Association of Home Builders. But the poison usually works only five years or so and then should be renewed.

King also recommends measures to reduce dampness. If you have a pipe that drips, fix it. The same applies to a rainspout which lets water pour onto the ground.

In the case of a crawl-space house, a plastic sheet or aluminum foil cover on the ground beneath the house will prevent water vapor from rising and condensing on the underside of the house, King said.

Even more effective, according to King, are anti-termite measures in the construction of a house. Many builders impregnate timbers of a house with a preservative and with a poisoning solution. Termite Avoid Daylight! Shields can also be placed on top of the foundation walls, blocking the termites' access to the up-house. Termites avoid daylight. Hence, they gnaw from the inside out—but not all the way out. To check timbers and boards, try poking them with an ice pick. If it slips in easily after breaking through the surface, it's a danger signal. Another clue to the presence of termites is the mud tunnels they lay over masonry and metal to the Soviet Union's ruling President. They build the earth-um, will arrive here Feb. 24 for a state visit. It was announced officially today.

BIRD GIVES NAME

Tortilla Express' Enters 75th Year As International Trolley

CHESTER SELTZER
 Press International

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI)—The Juarez trolley car, popularly known as the "Tortilla Express," celebrated its 75th birthday as the only international streetcar in the United States.

The streetcar, now operated by El Paso City Lines, made its first run from El Paso to Juarez on Jan. 15, 1886. It was pulled over a wooden bridge spanning the Rio Grande by a robust and loyal mule named "Dixie."

Guillermo Rojas Gonzalez, Juarez historian and newspaper columnist, said that when the "Animal Traction Co." put the first "tranvia de mulitas" (mule-drawn streetcar) into service over the first wooden bridge linking El Paso and Juarez.

Before the bridge was built, El Paso's floating population of exiles, sandbaggers and Indian fighters, as well as more settled residents who patronized Uncle Ben Dowell's Whiskey, Poker and Public Opinion Club, made their trips to Juarez by ferryboat when the river was high or by wading when it wasn't, he said.

Ex-Soldier Ran Car
 Don Jose Natividad Valenzuela, a Juarez pioneer who rode on the first mule-drawn car, said he remembered a driver named "Charles" who won the friendship of Mexican patrons of the line.

He said Charles, a portly man with mutton chop whiskers, was a former Confederate soldier "gallant but respectful with women and always willing to help children and invalids get on the car."

Charles, he said, drove a streetcar pulled by a mule he called "Dixie."

"Charles or 'Chale' as we called him, was always kind to Dixie and the mule responded by making all time points on schedule," Don Jose said.

He said Jan. 10, 1902, was a sad day for streetcar riders in Juarez.

Drivers Did Marketing
 "On that day the mule cars made their last runs," he said. "My countrymen, many with tears in their eyes, watched them go and waved goodby saying: 'Adios tranvias de mulitas. Ya vienen los electricos.' (Goodbye, mule cars, here come the electric ones.)"

Tom Prior, assistant superintendent of El Paso City Lines, said that in the days of the mule cars drivers often did the daily marketing for women along the line.

"The schedule depended on the amount of marketing the drivers had to do," he said.

Prior said the cars were "smaller than a piano box and drawn by small Spanish mules with bells jingling from their necks."

Now 75-streamlined streetcars, each driven by eight electric motors, carry an estimated 20,000 passengers daily over a 3.1 mile route running from El Paso's "Little Chihuahua" district through the Business section of Juarez.

Streetcars Loaded
 Passengers who board the streetcar in El Paso pay 10 cents for their international ride. But persons getting on in Juarez pay

DAVID LYNN THURSTON, above, has been added to the FBI's list of "Ten Most Wanted Criminals." Thurston, 29, is sought for unlawful flight to avoid confinement in Portland, Ore., for armed robbery and assault. He is 5 feet, 8 1/2 inches tall and weighs 135 to 145 pounds, with medium brown hair and hazel eyes. He bears a 1 1/2-inch scar under left eyebrow, appendectomy scar, and triangular scar below left kneecap. CAUTION: Thurston has used firearms in robberies and has escaped from custody on three occasions. He should be considered armed and dangerous. Any person with information concerning this fugitive should notify the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Washington, D.C., or the nearest FBI office.

PLANE SETS RECORD
 BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—A four-engine Delta Airlines DC7B set an unofficial flight record from Dallas, Tex. to Birmingham Wednesday of one hour and 27 minutes. It flew at speeds up to 600 miles per hour.

NO COWBOY MOOD
 SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—Mrs. Earl Rhodes, 65, who grabbed a gun and chased two would-be robbers from her store Saturday told police they were wearing western-style bandanas as masks.

"I just wasn't in the mood to play cowboy," she said.

BRUISED BULL BILL
 ATLANTA (UPI)—A bill in the state Legislature would require the use of electric buzzers or canvas flaps to be used in driving cattle.

Too many bruises on the beef has been costing Georgia cattlemen more than a million dollars a year.

COLD ROD—No roads are needed for this winter motorcycle. Inventor Reidar Berg of Oslo, Norway, astride the bike, added a ski to the front wheel and tracked belts to two rear wheels.

PRESS AGAINST THE WALL—Reporters covering the Korean armistice talks, still going on in Panmunjom, have to observe the proceedings while standing on a narrow platform outside the building. It's the 49th meeting of the Joint Korean Military Armistice Commission.

only 15 centavos (less than three cents).

Motorists aren't required to speak Spanish. But most do. They also act as conductors and make change in both U.S. and Mexican money. The streetcars are built to seat 75 persons. They usually carry 125, and even more during rush hours.

Prior said a celebration marked the streetcar's switchover from mule power to electricity 57 years ago. He said a mule named Mandi, one of the old streetcar company's oldest employees, made her last trip that day but for once she wasn't pulling the car.

"Instead she rode in state in a coach specially prepared for her," Prior said. "And along with her went a 12-piece McGinty band and officials of El Paso and Juarez."

SHIP FEARED SUNK
 REYKJAVIK, Iceland (UPI)—The lighthouse service vessel Hermodur was missing and feared sunk off southwest Iceland today with 12 men aboard. Authorities said the 200-ton vessel foundered in a storm Saturday.

San Francisco hosted 289 conventions in 1957 with 188,278 visitors who spent more than $75 million in the city by the Golden Gate, according to the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

US Frozen Food Sent To President

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter

ACAPULCO, Mexico (UPI) — Backstairs at the White House: President Eisenhower's diet while he is in Mexico will remain much like it would be if he were back in Washington or Gettysburg. On the suggestion of his doctor, Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder, a large supply of frozen American food was shipped down by air from the White House.

The U.S. Navy wanted the President to spend Wednesday night at the naval base in Corpus Christi, Tex., but the Air Force won the honor.

His base for a few hours sleep en route to Mexico, was the big Strategic Air Command center at Bergstrom Air Force Base outside Austin. The Army sought unsuccessfully to have the President revisit his old post at Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio.

The Hotel Pierre Marques where Eisenhower is staying tonight is in a big tizzy over its distinguished clientele. Manager Charles F. Rogers gently had to steer a lot of well-paying guests with long advance reservations to other hotels to make room for the Eisenhower party.

Eisenhower took over one of the four big wings of the hotel, as far removed as possible from the beach, the swimming pool and the center of the hotel. This was for security, as well as seclusion.

Eisenhower and President Adolfo Lopez Mateos are having dinner tonight at La Perla, a night club operated as part of the Hotel El Mirador. The hotel proudly calls La Perla as "the world's most spectacular night club." This may be true in a sense.

CO HANG—This is the latest for executive offices, a leaning strap. It was designed by Jack Waldheim and Earl Koepke, of Milwaukee, Wis. It is supposed to revive tensions and provide muscle stretching.

Certainly no night club in New York, Chicago or Los Angeles includes in the floor show a group of young men diving into the ocean from cliffs more than 100 feet high.

La Perla, after tonight, also can advertise itself as "the only night club in the world visited by President Eisenhower while he was in office." In fact, it would be almost impossible to imagine Eisenhower escorting a visiting president to the Casino Royal in Washington.

HEAD FOR BYPASS
ROCKFORD, Ill. (UPI) — A roadblock set up Wednesday to catch license plate violators netted only violators traveling south. Police found a resident around the corner was warning violators traveling north to take a bypass.

FRANCE STRAINS UNDER DEGAULLE'S REIGN

By PHIL NEWSOM
Foreign News Commentary

The honeymoon isn't over yet for Gen. Charles de Gaulle and la belle France but the marriage is showing signs of strain.

The bride is growing restive under de Gaulle's edict that the couple must live within its income, and they're also having trouble with the relatives in Algeria.

France was on the verge of civil war last May 15 when de Gaulle announced he was ready to come out of retirement and take over the government of France.

Committees of public safety in Algeria were in outright revolt against the weak Paris government of Premier Pierre Pflimlin. There were ominous signs that French paratroops in North Africa were ready to invade the mainland, link up with other dissidents there and march on the capital itself.

Planes Fly Over Home
In those closing days of the French Fourth Republic, French air force fighter planes flew in symbolic Cross of Lorraine formations over de Gaulle's home in open invitation for him to take power by whatever means he chose.

And so, whatever regrets or misgivings the professional politicians had, it was in an atmosphere of general rejoicing that de Gaulle first took over emergency powers and then on Jan. 8 of this year emerged as the first president of the French Fifth Republic.

De Gaulle, backed by new powers which placed him in a position similar to that of the president of the United States and by an overwhelming majority in the assembly, gained three main objectives. They were:

To restore France to its place among the great nations.

To place the nation on a pay-as-you-go basis, removing her from the list of Europe's sick nations.

To end the uprising in Algeria.

Meets Opposition
Before he could attain his first objective, it was necessary for him to be successful in the other two.

At home, his austerity campaign already is meeting widespread opposition.

In industrial Lille last week several thousand heavy industry workers went on strike to protest the lay-off of more than 800 workers in a plant making steel machinery. It was a token strike but it could establish a pattern for others.

The cause is two-fold: First the de Gaulle austerity campaign which virtually decreed a halt to pay increases while at the same time increasing taxes; and, France's entry into the European common market which lowered French tariffs and forced French manufacturers to convert to more efficient methods in order to compete in the common market.

The result has been widespread layoffs in such key industries as textiles, automotive and electrical home appliances.

It has given the Communists their first real campaign issue against de Gaulle.

Algeria Still Restless
Opposition to de Gaulle's policies also has heaped the violent stage in Algeria, not from the political left but from the extreme right. It is made up of French settlers, while Algeria must remain French, its political tie with France will be determined after peace is restored. The result was that when French Premier Michel Debre visited Algeria last week, he was met with cries of "down with de Gaulle."

Those are only two of de Gaulle's pressing problems. In addition, of course, he is beset by all the others hanging over nations today.

There must be many a night when the bridegroom wonders why he married.

LONDON (UPI) — The Soviet Union said Friday it will manufacture a new bantam car for now on display in Moscow. It of Moscow said the car has horsepower, two-cylinder, cooled engine at the rear top speed of 60 miles a hour. It weighs 1,500 pounds and about 50 miles to the gallon.

Bauler Not Worried About Harvard Trained Opponent

CHICAGO (UPI)—Mathias said: "They know more about me than I know myself." Bauler has represented the 43rd in the City Council since 1931 except for one term when he was defeated and served as city collector.

He serves up barrels of beer, promises to fight for lower taxes and better garbage removal and puts his chips on his veteran ward organization which has carried him to victory time after time.

Bauler said in one of his more voluble moments at his 69th birthday celebration Jan. 28. "I ain't worried only that none of my precinct captains should die before election."

If he wins, Paddy can be expected to reward his captains with an election night victory party workingman's exchange saloon. He'll don his black silk hat where the thirsty could buy the and warble "Happy Days Are 'biggest schooner of beer in the world for a nickel," Bauler likes low and the sun peeks up over to run his domain from his fav-Lake Michigan.

Medals Proposed For All Space Committee Members

The Lighter Side
By FRANK ELEAZER
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Talk in the House Space Committee was all about weather reports from our new satellite. There was a heavy cloud cover outside at the time but the stuff that seemed to hang so heavy over the committee was fog.

"We're a little confused this morning," said committee Chairman Overton Brooks (D-La.) in calling the meeting to order. Although other interpretations were bandied about by some observers present, what Brooks really meant was that the committee had trouble finding a place to sit.

Space, of its own, is one thing the Space Committee lacks. It got going finally, 13 minutes late, in a hearing room borrowed from the House Veterans Committee.

Hagen First Witness
Dr. John P. Hagen, the boss of the Vanguard project, was the witness, along with Dr. Abe Silverstein, one of his helpers.

In prepared statements, they told the committee what newspaper readers already knew: We have sent up a new 20-inch satellite equipped with rudimentary eyes that look down and spot clouds. What they see is committed to tape and broadcast to listening stations.

The satellite, they said, is the first of a series with many refinements to come. Eventually this will mean better weather forecasts. The key word here was eventually. But committee members Wednesday weren't inclined to split hairs.

Proposes Medals

Brooks proposed medals for everybody concerned. Members took turns praising first Hagen and Silverstein, who achieved the successful launching after a series of Vanguard failures.

Then Rep. John W. McCormack (D-Mass.), former committee chairman, came in for lavish credit. Last year's Republican flop, it appeared, had become this year's Democratic success.

That out of the way, then came the questions: "Have you received any pictures of cloud coverage so far?"

Silverstein: "Some data has been received."

Brooks: "When will the pictures be available?"

Silverstein: "If all goes well, within the next several days."

Brooks: "Then the weather bureau can go to work on it at once in improving its weather forecasts?"

First Step
Silverstein (squirming): "Well, this is just a first step."

Rep. James G. Fulton (R-Pa.): "Could this equipment spot a nuclear explosion anywhere in the world?"

Hagen: "I think anything of sufficient magnitude and different coefficient might be spotted."

Fulton: "Then we don't need any inspection agreement with Russia because we have the equipment to detect it and they don't. Is that right?"

Hagen (with raised eyebrow and emphasis on the second word): "It could be true, yes sir."

Rep. James M. Quigley (D-Pa.): "Is there a Mrs. Hagen?"

Hagen: "Yes sir."
Quigley: "Then I'd like to pay tribute to her."

MADISON, Wis. (UPI)—David Blanchard, Republican floor leader in the Wisconsin Assembly, has charged that the Democrats have recruited the Capitol page boys as spies.

Redhead Takes Command Of Lady Marines

Personality Spotlight
United Press International
MARGARET M. HENDERSON
Lt. Col., Women Marines

Command of the Women Marines will pass on March 1 to a red-haired, hazel-eyed officer who says the lady Leathernecks' value has been proved "beyond question" in their 16-year history.

She is Lt. Col. Margaret M. Henderson, who will succeed Col. Julia E. Hamblet as director of the Women Marines. She will get the eagles of a full colonel.

Miss Henderson is 48. She joined the Marines in 1943 at the age of 32 after teaching school in Lubbock, Tex., for 11 years.

She says she felt joining the Marines was the patriotic thing to do. Miss Henderson said she could think of no better way to render service than to join the newly organized Women Marines and "time has not changed that conviction."

Col. Henderson says with pride that the Marines have 2,343 occupational specialties and that Women

Marines are capable of filling 142 of these, ranging from stampographic work to jet engine maintenance.

When the Women Marines' new boss has a chance, her chief hobby is cooking from new recipes.

The 5 foot 9½ inch colonel was born in Cameron, Tex., graduated from high school at Kennedy, Tex., in 1928 and from the University of Texas in 1932.

She was commissioned in the Marine Reserves in June, 1943 after training at Ft. Holyoke, Mass. In World War II, she instructed woman Marines at Camp LeJeune, N.C., and served as officer in charge of the Business School, Marine Corps Institute, Washington.

She went back to school teaching after the war for two and one-half years and then rejoined the Marines.

Miss Henderson's parents are Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Henderson of 2420 20th St., Lubbock.

RING AROUND RUSSIA—While debate goes on in Washington as to whether Russia or the U.S. leads in development of an intercontinental ballistic missile, the Pentagon has revealed its strategy for using "hardware" now on hand. Newsmap above shows where the military hopes to place 1,500-mile Thor and Jupiter bases in Europe. Bases in several of the nations depend on working out of agreements.

EAST MEETS EAST—In Peking, Red China's Communist party boss Mao Tse-tung, right, greets Prime Minister Otto Grotewohl of the German Democratic Republic (Communist East Germany). Grotewohl, heading an East German government delegation, arrived in the Chinese capital on an official visit.

GOOD BUSINESS

By Edgar A. Guest
If I possessed a shop or store,
I'd drive the groceries off my floor!
I'd never let some gloomy guy
Offend the folks who come to buy;
I'd never keep a boy or clerk
With mental toothache at his work,
Nor let a man who draws my pay
Drive customer's of mine away.
I'd treat the man who takes my time
And spends a nickel or a dime
With courtesy, and make him feel
That I was pleased to close the deal.
Because tomorrow, who can tell,
He may want stuff I have to sell.
And in that case, then glad he'll be
To spend his dollars all with me.
The reason people pass one door
To patronize another store,
Is not because the busier place
Has better silks, or gloves, or lace,
Or special prices, but it lies
In pleasant words and smiling eyes.
The only difference, I believe,
Is in the treatment folks receive!
