U.S. Tape Angers Reds; Congress Wants Probe

Recording Called 'Transparent Fake'

LONDON (UPI)—Radio Moscow Saturday night denounced a U. S. tape recording of a Russian attack on an American transport plane as "a transparent fake."

Two Moscow commentators bitterly denounced the U. S. State Department for "scraping the bottom of a very dirty barrel" to try to upset a "thaw" in the cold war by publishing the tape that described Soviet pilots attacking the unarmed transport last Sept. 2.

School Bonds Are Sold Here

One and a quarter million dollars worth of 14 year school bonds changed hands in the Pampa Independent School District when the school board met with representatives of some 35 investment companies.

The bonds were sold to Rauscher, Pierce and Company, Lubbock, and associates at what was described as an "excellent rate of interest."

The bonds were authorized by property owners in a Dec. 8 election and on Dec. 8 the board met with its financial advisor, Howard Kenyon of Rauscher, Pierce, to arrange for the bond sale.

The sale was planned for this month since the bond market was loaded between Dec. 15 and Jan. 15. Construction has already begun on William B. Travis Elementary School. Other projects will soon be started along with a two story addition to Pampa High School.

PAUL KEIM ... hospitalized

2 Injured As Auto Flips Over

Two Pampa men were injured, and a third missed injury, when a car driven by Paul Keim, 42, missed a curve Friday night on the Lefors highway and rolled over.

Injured were Keim, 808 N. Gray, and Darrell E. Haas, 1312 Christina. A third Pampa man, Gerald Simms, was riding between Keim and Haas, and escaped injury.

Highway Patrolman Travis Underwood reported Keim and Haas both suffered lacerations and bruises and were taken to Highland General Hospital.

The accident occurred at about 7:05 p.m. at the Bi-City road intersection three and one-half miles south of Pampa. Patrolman Underwood reported Keim, headed toward Lefors, may have seen the cut-off too late to make the turn.

All three men are employed at the First National Bank.

Hays Hot Over Lack Of Details

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Wayne Hays D-Ohio, a key member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, Saturday demanded investigation of why the State Department failed to give Congress inside information on the shooting down of an American transport by the Reds. He will work this week to dig out the answer.

Hays told United Press International that committee members knew nothing about the existence of the State Department's tape-recorded evidence of the attack until it was disclosed in the press.

"We are told nothing, and it's about time we were," he asserted.

Senate Not Briefed—Reliable sources said the Senate Foreign Relations Committee also was not briefed on the information which brought banner headlines across the country.

"To the State Department, Congress is nothing but a necessary evil," Hays said. "About 75 percent of the people in Defense Department feel the same way."

Hays heads the House Foreign Affairs subcommittee on State Department Organization and Foreign Operations which pressed an investigation of the U. S. Information Agency last year. He said if Morgan did not want the matter taken up before the full committee he would seek approval to open an inquiry by his own unit.

Denied By Mikoyan—"If we had known the facts," Hays added, "the congressional reception for visiting Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan would have been much different."

While in Washington, Mikoyan personally denied that Russia's fighter pilots had shot down the unarmed Air Force transport which wandered—or was lured off course—into Soviet Armenia.

The Russians claimed the plane crashed in flames for some unknown reason. The bodies of six men aboard were returned to American authorities, but 11 others still are unaccounted for.

On Thursday the State Department released a transcript of the conversation of the Russian pilots as they attacked the transport. The State Department refused to divulge the source of its tape-recorded information, but said it authentically was unquestioned.

Other sources pointed out that as a result of the incident, the Russians now know the West has "electronic ears and eyes" which can follow their aerial operations right into control centers along the Iron Curtain. The extent of the surveillance is secret.

Eight Pampa civic clubs sent also a possibility that late mailers their members into the fray of city will bring in more donations from Gray County.

The five week campaign has brought in close to $10,000, including $1,500 from McLean and Lefors.

The Bucket Brigade contribution of $1,789.11 represents $610.69 raised by the Rotary Club, $302.24 by the Noon Lions Club, $228.96, Noon Kiwanis; $185.59, Jaycees; $185.09, Evening Long Club, Optimists, $178.29, High School Key Club, $83.73, and Evening Kiwanis, $74.52.

The dancing girls, Anite Guldry, Sara Gordon, Phyllis Parker, Gladys Finkbeiner, Anne Hofseas, Pamela Jean Parker, and Karen Anne Hoover, were equally well chosen.

Berux Arts dance extras made a big hit with their speaking parts. On stage were Diana Meyers; Jane Wells; Paula Seales; Judy Robinson; Jane Hendricks and Lufta Nation.

Cast as models were Kay Kolasha, Betty Sprinkle, Gloria Lewis, Judy Bond, Judy Wells, Marcia Miller, Karen Wells, Nancy Williams, Jim Scott, Billy Gene Wray, "Lucky" Dunham and Terry Joe Harrison.

Wahoo — Taking good advantage of Pampa's spring-like weather Saturday was Tommy Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Parker, 1705 Duncan. Garbed in vesper hoods and britches and a light-weight shirt, young Parker waves a pennant from California, a place he may cherish to be Sunday as the forecast calls for much colder weather and freezing rain or snow.

Castro Will Be Lenient

By FRANCIS L. MCCARTHY United Press International

HAVANA (UPI)—Revolutionary leader Fidel Castro hinted Saturday that if former U. S. Navy pilot Alan Robert Nye were convicted of participating in a conspiracy to assassinate him he might recommend clemency.

The bearded rebel leader told a press conference he had no intention of intervening in the case at this stage. He said he had received a letter from Nye's mother, Mrs. Daniel Lynch, 60, asking him to release her son.

"But I am too much personally involved," Castro said, to intervene in the case until it has passed through the normal channels of justice.

If Nye is tried and convicted of conspiring with supporters of former dictator Fulgencio Batista to kill him, Castro said, he would be inclined to "use my influence in a review of the case."

Meanwhile, the provisional Cuban government pruned 1,066 officers and men from the regular army Saturday.

A series of decrees proposed by the Defense Ministry and approved by the Council of Ministers permitted 806 officers to "retire" and arbitrarily separated another 560 soldiers from service.

Fidel Castro, 32-year-old hero of the Cuban revolution, moved in on the labor front meanwhile and appealed to Cuban workers to hold off on their demands "even though just" until the government gets on its feet.

In an early morning speech to employees of the British-owned Shell Oil Co., he emphasized that undue labor trouble might cripple the sugar harvest and other industries and effectively "boycott the revolution."

AUTO STRIKES FENCE, 1 HURT

M. C. Nelms of Pampa, injured slightly Friday when his car struck a fence near the White House Lumber Co., said Saturday he must have "blacked out."

Nelms, who lives at 413 Magnolia, was resting comfortably Saturday at Highland General Hospital. The accident occurred at about 3 p.m.

Officers reported his car left the road and hit a small wire fence before coming to a stop. Neither the car nor fence were damaged seriously.

Cold Front Heads For Top O' Texas

United Press International

A new cold front headed for Texas Saturday night to dispel a short warming trend over the state.

The weather bureau said the front would bring colder temperatures Sunday to the Panhandle and South Plains with some freezing rain in the upper Panhandle.

The forecast called for temperatures of from 20 to 30 degrees in the Panhandle early Sunday.

Meteorologist Gilbert Pitts estimated the new front would enter the tip of the Texas Panhandle about midnight Saturday and reach almost to Lubbock in the South Plains by noon Sunday.

Pitts said the cold air would spread over all of the state except the southern tip. Temperatures in the Dallas-Fort Worth area were expected to drop into the 30s by Monday morning.

Although there was no snow forecast for the Texas Panhandle, Pitts said conditions may become ripe for snow as the front moved in.

IN SCHOOLS HERE

Dental Talks Set

Eight Pampa dentists will appear before teacher-student groups this week to get in some good words on preventive dentistry. The occasion is National Children's Dental Health Week, pronounced by the hundred year old American Dental Association.

The Pampa group is led by Dr. F. H. LeBlanc, who will be doing his share of the speaking this week. The dentists' busy schedule calls for appearances at eight Pampa elementary schools.

"The best weapon against tooth decay is the most common weapon, a tooth brush," LeBlanc said in an interview. "If you can't brush your teeth immediately after eating, eat an apple or rinse your mouth out with water."

The Dentists have a three-point program which calls for correct tooth brushing after eating, a well balanced diet and periodic dental check-ups.

Pampa is more fortunate than some cities, Dr. LeBlanc observes, because the City water supply contains a natural element of fluorine. Children brought up in Pampa will get the full benefit of the fluorine.

The speakers' common goal is to halt tooth decay. They have no fear of talking themselves out of a job. "We have more work than we can keep up with," Dr. LeBlanc declared.

At 2:30 p.m. Monday, Dr. Emilly Hicks will address a group of fourth, fifth and sixth grades and teachers at Lamar Elementary School. At 3:30, Dr. William F. McCord will speak to a Stephen F. Austin group. Dr. Harbord Cox will speak at Woodrow Wilson at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday. His audience will be composed of fourth, fifth and sixth grade teachers and students. At 3 p.m., Dr. Harold Meador will meet a group of children, teachers, and parents at Carver School. At 3 p.m. Wednesday, Dr. LeBlanc will speak at Holy Souls School. At 3:30 p.m. Dr. George Snell will address Sam Houston teachers and Dr. Wetdon Adair will talk to parents and teachers at Baker School. On Friday at 2:30 p.m. Dr. Charles A. Branch will address a group of H.S.A.C.s. Mann teachers, including four from St. Matthew's Episcopal Day School.

A GROWING GIANT

Highland General hospital, built on N. Hobart in 1948 and 1949, once stood on the outskirts of Pampa surrounded on three sides by wheat fields. In the early-1950's, as Highland grew from 96 beds to 160, "Pampa," in the words of Administrator Chet Landers, "grew around the hospital."

Highland General, A Large Institution

By MARVIN OLSEN Daily News Staff Writer

Highland General Hospital opened its doors Feb. 15, 1950, and from the beginning has been managed by a determined businessman named C. C. "Chet" Landers. "We try to run Highland on a business basis," Administrator Landers said in an interview. "The hospital has shown a profit every year, and why shouldn't it? A growing hospital needs a profit to operate."

The hospital's growth, to put it simply, is amazing, and its future growth is certain. Cold statistics alone tell part of the story.

In 1950—Highland General Hospital's first year—the hospital had 96 beds and 117 persons on its payroll. This year Highland has 160 beds and a staff of 212.

In its third year (1953) operating expenses were $160,944—Landers says that expenses in 1957 were $320,134. Each day it now costs $2,200 to keep Highland operating.

Highland's payroll in 1953 was $217,532. Last year salaries amounted to $382,000 a figure reflecting an increase in both the number of employees and higher salary brackets.

More statistics reveal that Highland is caring for more patients and delivering more babies each year. Figures for each year are: 1953—5,519 patients, 25,508 "patient-days," and 683 births. 1954—5,582 patients, 26,390 patient-days, 603 births. 1955—6,316 patients, 27,807 patient-days, 633 births. 1956—6,789 patients, 32,040 patient-days, 699 births. 1957—7,762 patients, 35,197 patient-days, 756 births. 1958—7,063 patients, 30,227 patient-days, 787 births.

Landers believes 1959 will be another record year. He reports the hospital is operating at "100 percent occupancy," and births are still climbing.

Later in the 1940's a few years before Highland opened, the idea of a county-owned hospital was still a dream. But the need for a county hospital was very apparent, and in 1947 and 1948 Gray county commissioners made their first hospital plans.

A $1,000,000 bond issue was recommended and Gray county voters gave their approval. Within weeks the entire bond issue was sold. The bonds were sold under a 10 to 12 year retirement plan.

Construction began in 1948, continued through 1949, and in Feb. 1950 the hospital was completed. About eight months before completion, however, county commissioners contacted 17 applicants for the job of administrator. Among the applicants was Chet Landers. Landers, then 47 and with a long (30 years) and successful business background behind him, got the job.

Landers, now 56, is an ex-druggist with a shrewd business sense. He applies principles of good business to his job every day and is described by associates as "the force that has made Highland grow."

Highland hospital is directed by a six-man board of directors. Present directors are Ray McKernan,

Business Views

The House Ways and Means Committee agreed to levy about 240 million dollars in additional taxes on the insurance industry's 1958 earnings. The formula would apply to the industry's earnings in 1958 and future years, replacing a temporary stop-gap formula that has been in effect since 1955.

You'll probably pay less for food, but more for shelter and services in the year ahead, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York said. Still uncertain, however, is the outlook for manufactured goods. Since mid-1958 wholesale prices have increased for a number of key industrial products. At the same time there are reports of consumer resentment at the higher prices the bank said.

General Electric President Robert Paxton said electric utilities have stepped up their orders for turbines and other heavy equipment. He predicted demand for heavy equipment will reach record levels in 18 months to two years and since there should be a parallel rise in the market for household appliances.

The Justice Department has served a subpoena on General Motors calling for production of documents covering certain transactions in many General Motors divisions. The subpoena is returnable before a federal grand jury in New York in Detroit. Frederick G. Donner, GM chairman, said the company has not had an opportunity to examine the subpoena, in detail.

CHET LANDER Highland's head man

Arthur Teed, Fred Neslage, Don Conley, J. R. Sparkman and J. W. Meachem. All but Sparkman are Pampa residents. Sparkman lives at Lefors.

Each year directors are appointed by the county commission along with County Judge William Craig. Landers is directly responsible for the day-to-day operation of the hospital. His work involves buying and ordering hospital supplies, drugs, new equipment, linen, etc. Landers also believes a major part of his job involves public and employee relations. He describes employee relations at Highland as "good."

Public relations, according to Landers, are excellent. All effort is made to make visitors welcome and patients comfortable. Landers says complaints from patients are rare and seldom deal with hospital charges. He describes Highland's charges as "under the lowest anywhere else."

Two-bed rooms cost $8.50 a day, and private rooms $11, $12.50 or $15 a day. Most private rooms are located in Highland's porch wing, built in 1957 for $334,000. Does Highland need more space? Landers says that at present crowded conditions exist only on the main (or medical) floor. But in another year or two, who knows?

Poorly Nourished Mothers Not Likely To Have Twin Boys

NEW YORK (UPI) — Science can now show that poorly nourished women have less chance of becoming mothers of fraternal twins than well-nourished women. But it can't yet detail a mother-to-be diet which would increase a woman's chances of being doubly blessed.

Fraternal twins result from two fertilized eggs, whereas identical twins come from one egg which split at an early moment of development. The new scientific knowledge threw no new light on the causes of this splitting, but it showed the mother's nutritional state was not important.

This new knowledge comes from a statistical study by M.G. Bulmer, a noted British statistician, of birth rates in Norway, Denmark, Sweden, The Netherlands and France during World War II and before and after. The populations of Norway, The Netherlands and France were severely undernourished during the war. Those of Denmark and Sweden were not.

Bulmer established the proportion of both fraternal and identical twins to single births during the war years. A comparison of these proportions to those of the pre-war years showed a sharp drop in fraternal twins.

When this breakdown was made for the five post-war years beginning in 1946, when the food supplies were becoming normal again, the statistics showed that the pre-war rate of fraternal twins to single births came back almost at once and maintained it self steadily.

In the countries where food supplies were not greatly disturbed, twin birth proportions remained pretty much the same before the war, during the war, and after the war. That the nutrition of the mothers was involved was underscored in yet another way.

During the war years, north west France was much better nourished than the rest of France. Bulmer isolated the statistics for this region and showed that its proportion of fraternal twins to single births was like that of well-nourished Denmark and Sweden and was free of the dip shown in the rest of France, Norway, and The Netherlands.

Having arrived at these impressive statistical results, Bulmer proceeded to account for them. In mammals other than human, undernourishment of the female is known to result in a decrease in litter size, he recalled. In undernourishment, he continued, there must be a decrease in the ability of the ovary to produce double eggs. Perhaps this is due to a decreased secretion of the hormone of the pituitary gland which stimulates the ovary.

This year's Pikes Peak or Bust rodeo parade will be no place for him who thinks he has to outdo the Joneses' newest car because the older the rig that parades thru the parade, the better the committee will like it.
In honor of the Colorado Centennial celebration the Pikes Peak or Bust Rodeo parade will have a theme for the first time. "A Panorama of Transportation to the Pikes Peak Region from 1859 to 1959." Clay Banta, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce said today.
The parade entries can be anything from a travois strung on behind an Indian pony to a Conestoga wagon. Banta said, "If any one can find a Conestoga wagon, later models of transportation will be used also."
The parade is one of the highlights of the rodeo which is held each August at Penrose Stadium. Each year cowboys, military bands, colorful floats, riding clubs and many other groups who love the parade have a spot in the colorful event.
Last year the giant procession took more than two hours to pass thru downtown Colorado Springs. Phil Hendricks will be chairman of the parade committee again this year. A committee meeting to shape up and finalize parade plans will be held sometime before Feb. 15, Banta said.
"We have stayed away from rules for the parade for years," Banta said. "But I think this year in honor of the Centennial celebration we will encourage models instead of floats."
"We're announcing the plans early so everyone who plans to enter the parade will have time to search out already existing conveyances. The parade theme may entail some looking around. We expect to see a lot of ingenuity used which will result in a lot of color and interest to parade spectators."
Banta said some people were already talking of finding lumber wagons, buggies, surreys, stage coaches, trapper's rigs, and a variety of other types of conveyances.
"The rodeo association is giving the parade theme their full support," Banta reported. "They're all for our going ahead on a general basis."

Red Ship Nabbed, But Later Released

AALESUND, Norway (UPI)—The Norwegian Navy captured a Russian trawler inside Norwegian territorial waters Saturday, but later released it a few hours because there was no evidence it actually was fishing.

The trawler, the "Yukon," was taken into custody by an armed boarding party from the naval minesweeper "Ottora" and brought to this port.

Norwegian naval authorities in Bergen said the trawler had been caught two miles inside territorial limits off the west coast.

A police spokesman said the Russian skipper, Capt. Alexander Pamrakov, did not deny being inside Norwegian fishing waters but he did deny he was fishing in them.

The spokesman said crewmen of the Ottora conceded that the trawler had its fishing gear on deck but did not have any nets lowered.

Norwegian naval authorities said the trawler put up no resistance when the Ottora captured it.

A March 25 assembly will be taken up with campaign oratory. The big balloting will take place that afternoon and the following morning.

strike affecting its operations throughout the nation. The wire said a continuation of the slow-down would lead to eventual paralysis of the service.

Castro also called for an end to the boycott of British products, decreed by the rebel army after Britain sold arms to the regime of ousted Dictator Fulgencio Batista. He said the British people were behind the Cuban revolution and the arms deliveries were not their fault.

A revolutionary tribunal meeting at Cabaña Fortress turned down the appeals of condemned former police Cap. Evelio Mata and former policeman Hector Figueroa and they were expected to face a firing squad momentarily.

A revolutionary appeals board meeting at Camp Liberty reversed the death sentence of former Lt. Julio Fernandez Riquier and reduced his sentence to 20 years at hard labor.

More trials scheduled

More trials and appeals of "war criminals" were scheduled to start at Cabaña Fortress shortly, and reports from Camaguey Province said more than 100 defendants were on trial before various tribunals.

Informal sources said the ministry of state might resume safe conduct passes next week to permit ex-Batista colleagues who have taken refuge to leave. None have been granted since Jan. 22.

The U.S. Embassy reported that former U.S. Navy pilot Alan Robert Nye asked for its help in disproving charges he was hired by the Batista regime to kill Castro.

Nye, of Whiting, Ind., and Coral Gables, Fla., denied newspaper reports that he had confessed. The embassy said Nye asked to arrange an interview with Cuban Foreign Minister Robert Agramonte so he could prove his innocence.

ELECTRONIC SENTRIES 'BUG' IRON CURTAIN

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The United States has disclosed, with its tape recording of the Soviet attack on an unarmed U.S. Air Force transport, some details of the West's first line of defense against surprise attack. Here is a report on the most sensitive set of "ears" in the history of warfare.)

LONDON (UPI)—An Allied network of super-sensitive electronic sentries is eavesdropping against surprise attack all along Communism's Iron Curtain in Europe, and Russia has learned how effective it is.

The efficiency of the Western radio listening posts was publicly revealed for the first time this week when the State Department revealed for the first time that Soviet MIG-jet attack on an armed U.S. Air Force transport along the Turkish-Soviet frontier last September.

Diplomats in London said Saturday they believed American strategists kept the recordings secret for months in an effort to keep the Kremlin in the dark about the listening posts.

Small Grain Suffers From Cold Weather

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI)—Weather dealt another hard blow to Texas agriculture during the week, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service reported today.

Small grain suffered further damage from cold and a lack of moisture, coastal area fields again were too wet to plow, and freezing rain and drizzle meant digging deeper into feed bins for livestock.

The brightest outlook was in East Texas where added moisture meant relief to millions of suffering pine seedlings reported dying in some sections. Also more seedlings will be planted.

The freezing drizzle which covered most of the state caused further shrinkage to livestock, but will be of some benefit to small grain and native pastures when the temperature warms up.

Livestock in general remains in fair condition in most sections. However, heavy feeding is necessary.

Grazing, already nil in some sections of the plains, and getting more scant in central Texas, the Edwards Plateau and part of far West Texas, is causing a shortage in some sections of feed stored earlier for winter.

Clover, winter legumes and native pastures in East and South Texas need only mild temperatures to make rapid growth.

Vegetables are being planted in the San Antonio area when weather permits, and are reported making good growth in the Houston area. Strawberries are fruiting in Atascosa county but need warm temperatures, and tomato seed are being planted in hotbeds in DeWitt county.

Field work will be delayed at least another week or 10 days in counties within 100 miles of the coast. However, a break in the weather earlier allowed some "catching up."

From 60 to 90 per cent of farmland in some counties in the South Plains has been prepared for coming crops during favorable period of weather.

Stockpounds in the Rolling Plains, parts of the South Plains and the Edwards Plateau are reported dry or very low.

Woman Alright After Fainting

Mrs. F. B. Brown, 51, was taken to Highland General hospital by ambulance Saturday morning after she fainted in the Brown's home at 1121 Terry Rd.

Following treatment Mrs. Brown returned home early Saturday afternoon. She was reported resting comfortably.

An ambulance was called after Mrs. Brown phoned a neighbor that she was not feeling well. She was found lying in the Brown living room.

Church Sets Anniversary Celebration

By WALLY TRUESDELL
Daily News Staff Writer

The first Sunday in April will be a golden day for the 863 resident and 120 out-of-town members of the First Christian Church, 500 Kingsmill. On this day they will celebrate the Golden Anniversary of what, until 1935, was the Christian Church in Pampa. On April 4, 1909, First Church as signed into existence. Its first place was the three-room schoolhouse, now being demolished behind the Central Baptist church, 513 E. Francis.

John D. White, an Amarillo minister, presided at the organization meeting. Charter members were Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Lippold, Mrs. J. F. Meers, Mrs. J. M. Bell, Mrs. Sude Bell, Mrs. Francis Knox, Mrs. H. T. Bailey, and Mrs. T. Newman. A few weeks later, Mrs. Jennie Ledrick, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ledrick and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Lovett joined the church.

Funeral services for Mrs. Meers took place Jan. 31 in the Sanctuary. Mrs. Meers, the only charter member to be active throughout the first 50 years, died on Jan. 9 in Highland General Hospital. The church choir, directed by Mrs. James Webb, sang at the service. Rev. Richard Crews, pastor, was assisted by Roy King, a Pampa ministerial student, now serving the church in Saxxy.

In Sept., 1909, Orlin Hawkins held a revival in the red brick schoolhouse on the corner of Cuyler and Francis. Fifty-eight persons joined the church. Immediately plans were made to build a meeting house.

A neat frame building was erected on the corner of E. Kingsmill and Ballard where the Harvesters Filling Station now stands. On April 8, 1911, White led the dedication.

From 1911 to 1915, several ministers filled the pulpit on a part time basis. In 1915, T. A. Purcell became resident pastor and in 1915, a parsonage was built next to the church. Another addition was made to the church building during the five year ministry of Paul J. Merrill, which ended in Jan., 1919.

At the beginning of the oil boom, in 1925, James Todd Jr. became minister. A large influx of new people called for a new building. A quarter of a block on the corner of E. Kingsmill and N. Stark weather was bought and construction of the present brick building was begun. In Nov., 1928, the first unit was dedicated.

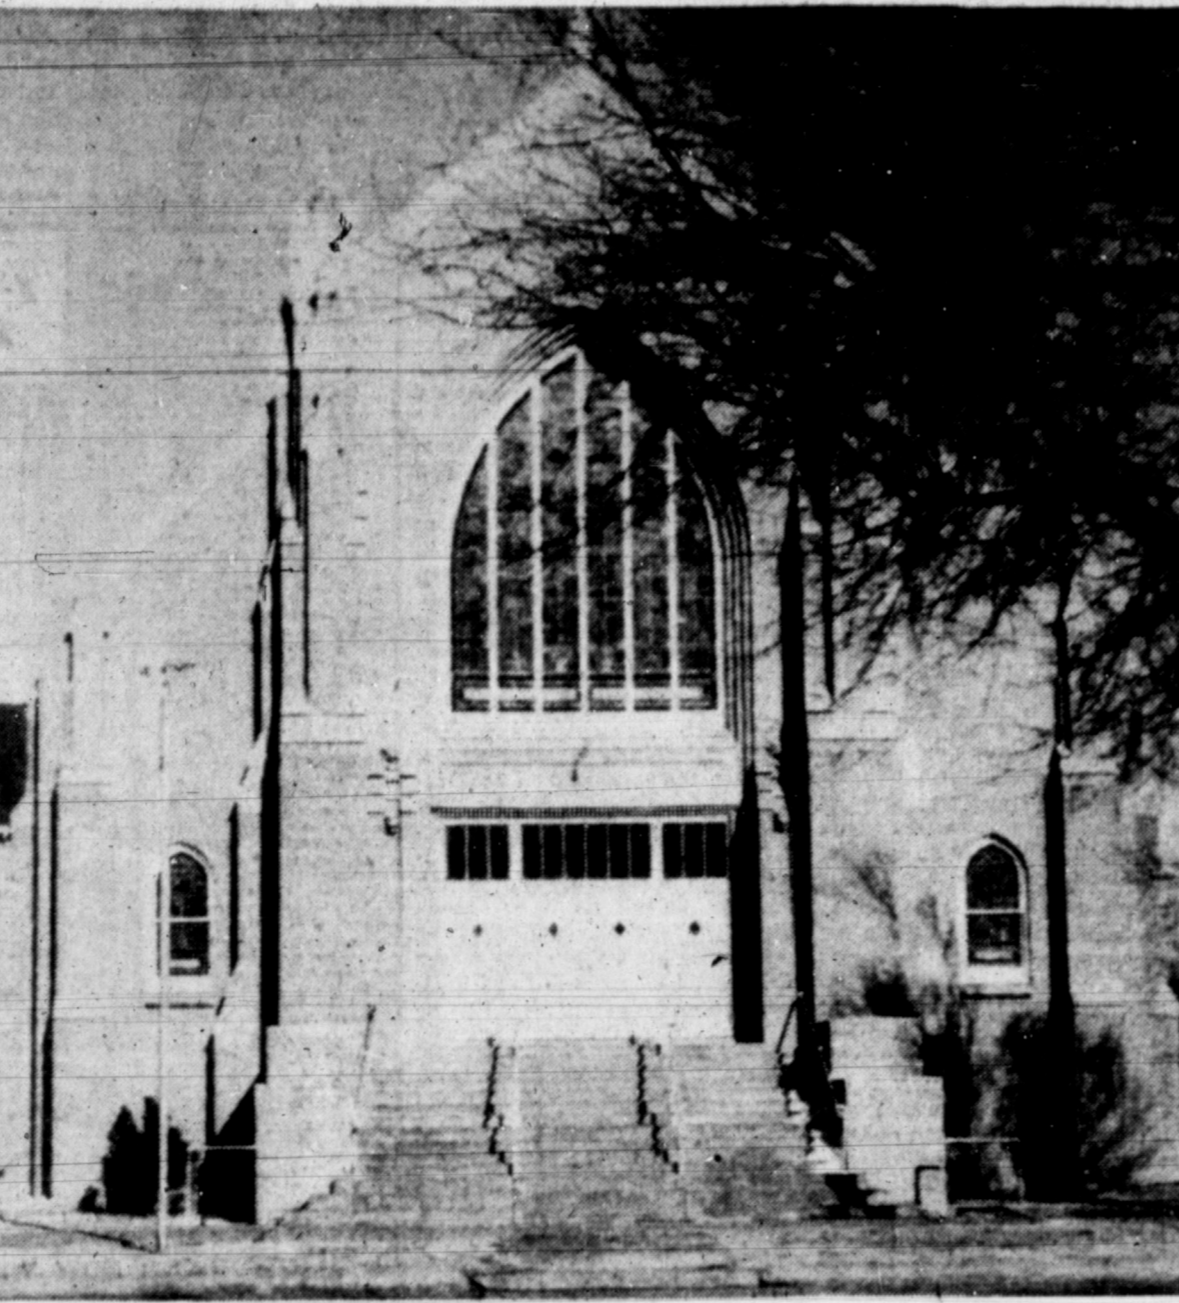

The second unit was built during the ministry of F. W. O'Malley who took over in 1929. At the time of the dedication, in 1931, the parsonage was moved to its present location, just south of the church. A Hammond organ was installed and dedicated in Aug., 1939. John S. Mullen was minister at the time.

Construction of the new parsonage, located at the corner of Kingsmill and Starkweather, began in the fall of 1950. Dedication services were held on Mar. 1951. The present sanctuary was remodeled in the spring of 1953.

Rev. Richard Crews, the present pastor, began his ministry on Nov. 1, 1952. Remodeling of the present educational plant was completed in the summer of 1953.

Lamar Church, the second Christian congregation in Pampa, was commissioned on April 3, 1955 with 29 persons transferring their memberships. The first service was held on Easter Sunday in the Lamar School cafeteria. The dedication service for the new building took place on Jan. 1, 1956. Lamar's first pastor, Bill Cloud, began his ministry on March 15, 1955. Rev. David Mills, now pastor, took over in March, 1957.

First Church built its new educational unit in the spring of 1957. Recently the official board recommended the purchase of approximately four and one-half acres at the corner of 18th and Nelson for the construction of a third Christian Church. The First Church congregation will hold a special meeting on Feb. 15 to consider the purchase.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Pampa's first Christian Church has come a long way since the April Sunday in 1909 when eight persons gathered in the first school house to sign the charter. A successful revival boosted church membership. Growth has never stopped.

Mental Hospital Treatment Advocated For Alcoholics

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — A groundswell is running in favor of confining alcoholics in mental hospitals for treatment and cure, but medical science is not ready with a workable, detailed program of treatment.

This is the warning of Dr. Melvin L. Selzer of the University of Michigan. He detected the groundswell both in the general public and among public health authorities, and the reason for it is only too clear, he said.

The public is realizing there are some 4,500,000 alcoholics in the country who are costing the taxpayers several hundred million dollars annually, he continued, and all this money is largely wasted because it doesn't permanently sober any appreciable number of alcoholics.

Many states already commit certain alcoholics to their mental hospitals. And in North Carolina and Michigan up to 41 per cent of those committed were rehabilitated, he said; "despite the fact that the hospital treatment program was not geared toward the specific therapeutic needs of the alcoholic."

Confining the alcoholic for treatment is a good idea because the true alcoholic won't do anything about his "illness" on his own, Selzer said. In fact, "most alcoholics either do not recognize that they have an alcoholic program or mistakenly feel that they can cope with it themselves."

Selzer laid down several principles for the forced treatment and cure of alcoholics. First, the state should commit them to one mental hospital so there would be enough to justify a treatment program for them, and not scatter them around among a number of hospitals.

And they should be committed and taken to the hospital while still under the influence of the jag, which got them into the toils of the law. Let them suffer the agonies of "the withdrawal syndrome" under medical supervision for its psychological effect. Under these circumstances, they hardly could deny even to themselves that they had "a drinking problem."

Keep them in the hospital for a definitely stated period, say two months. This would prevent them from devoting all their energies to schemes for getting out, and also prevent their well-meaning friends and relatives from abetting those schemes. It would cause them to relax, and divert their energies to breaking their alcoholic chains.

The actual treatment should be psychological and educational, Dr. Selzer said.

Three Units To Receive BS Charters

PERRYTON (UPI) — Charters will be presented to three Boy Scout organizations at the First Methodist Church tonight as a part of Perryton's observance of Boy Scout Week. Scout week will mark the 49th anniversary of the organization in America and will be observed through Friday.

The Methodist Men is the only organization in Perryton sponsoring a Scout "family" including a Cub Pack, Scout Troop and an Explorer Post.

Yorel Harris, Adobe Walls Scout executive, will present charters to Cub Pack 55, which will have a ten-year sticker on their charters; Scout Troop 49 and Explorer Post 55.

Other observances of a Scout Week will be the wearing of uniforms to school by all Scouting units in Perryton. Boy Scout Sunday was to be observed in churches today with Scouts and leaders attending services in uniforms.

Psychiatrist Has Say On Driving

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK
United-Press-International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Backseat driving serves a sound purpose if it's done when the man or woman behind the wheel is wool-gathering, according to a psychiatrist.

Dr. Louis J. West, who recently steered a New York disc jockey through 200 sleepless hours, explained that the nagging should be of sufficient intensity to raise the driver's ire.

"Otherwise, the driver's alertness won't be heightened. The University of Oklahoma medical expert said this is so because anger brings the "dreamer" back to reality—the task at hand.

Dr. West cautioned against nagging of a driver who is actually sleepy, not merely inattentive. In such a case he suggests that backseat drivers speak softly, inducing the driver to pull off the road for sleep.

Sleep A Mystery
For driving, riding, or whatever the circumstance, sleeping is the only thing to do when you can't stay awake, Dr. West said.

"Men and women abuse themselves all too often by looking on sleep deprivation in an all too casual way. If you must stay awake longer than usual, ask yourself if it's worth the risk involved."

Dr. West said science hasn't spelled out all the risks, since sleep remains one of the great biological mysteries. But he noted that science generally accepts the layman's notion that the brain "recharges" itself through sleep.

How much sleep you need and when you get it depends on your type, for, according to Dr. West, there are "morning" and "evening" types of sleepers.

Bright-Eyed Riser
The "morning" type, he said, is bright-eyed and bushy-tailed the minute the alarm goes off. This type also is cheerful through breakfast and full of get-up-and-go while the sun is high.

But when the sun fades, this type follows suit. Biologically, he heads for bed early in the evening.

At day's start, the "evening" type, according to Dr. West, has a terrible time getting out of bed. He said this type usually needs a couple cups of coffee to get the eyelids half-mast and tends to be grumpy until afternoon.

When the sun's on the wane, the "evening" type gets full of zip, cheerful and wide-eyed.

Presidential Farm Message Endorses Benson's Policies

The Farm Message
The President sent the Congress last week another farm message. It was in keeping with former farm messages he has sent to the Congress in that it gave a blanket endorsement to the policies of Ezra Tatt Benson, the secretary of Agriculture. In fact, the President used the memorandum submitted to him by Secretary Benson as a part of his message. The message actually had two primary points. The first point being the extensive criticism by the President of the present plight in which the farmer finds himself. The second point is that the President underwrites the practices of the Department of Agriculture under Benson which have placed the American farmer in his present plight — and, incidentally, have placed the government in its present position insofar as surpluses are concerned.

The President seems to forget that Benson has been in office for seven years and has had full control and operation of the Department of Agriculture. He has put over his recommendations and has refused to accept the recommendations of Congress on numerous occasions. In fact, when the Congress undertook to force the will of Congress on the Secretary of Agriculture, the President vetoed the bill. It will be remembered that Benson set up the soil bank and took great pride in claiming to be its author; yet, like many of his recommendations, he is now trying to sever all connections between his name and the soil bank. He has had full control and operation, insofar as the administration of the Department of Agriculture has been concerned for the seven years referred to, and the President has stood by him and given him every power he sought.

Under the circumstances, it is interesting to note that under the stewardship of Ezra Tatt Benson, the costs of the farm programs did increase from 300 million dollars in 1952 to over a billion 936 million dollars in 1958, according to the Agricultural Statistics published by the Department of Agriculture. This publication was under the stewardship of the same Mr. Benson, so they are his figures. The cost remained well above one million dollars in 1957 and 1958. It is also well to note that under the stewardship of Benson, the Department of Agriculture has increased its employees between 1952 and 1959 by almost 25 percent.

In other words, Secretary of Agriculture Benson is now employing 18,500 more people on the public payroll than were employed by the Department of Agriculture when he took over to settle the farm problems. It would seem to me that if the present Administration wanted to solve the farm problem, it would practice some of the business principles that it preaches. For instance, the operators of any business would certainly have difficulty in explaining to the board of directors why a manager should be kept on the payroll, who had increased the labor force by almost 25 percent and multiplied the cost of a program by more than 5 times.

Many find that the President is not primarily a farmer, even though he is a farmer. It is beginning to be suspected that the problems of gentlemen farmers differ from those of dirt farmers. I do not question the act that the President is a good man, but I do point out that there are thousands of farmers throughout this nation who are also good men (both dirt and gentlemen).

An Interesting Occurrence
During the hearings on the Hawaii Statehood Bill, the committee staff received a call from a person who asked to be heard in opposition to statehood. The person identified herself as Mrs. Joseph Fair of Philadelphia, Pa. She was told by the staff when and where to appear, which she did and testified. She was a young Negro woman, about 25 years old, extremely well educated, perfectly mannered and well versed on her subject matter. When she concluded her testimony, I asked her what prompted her to come before the Committee and how she found out where to come. She said that she was representing only herself, and when she heard that the hearings were in session, decided to come forward and express her views as an American citizen. She said she did not know where to go or what to do, but called the telephone operator at the Capitol and told her the problem. The telephone operator referred her to the Interior Committee, and she was in turn referred to the proper member of the staff who gave her the information as to when and where she could be heard.

Visitors
It was good to see several people from home last week here in Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Bice from the Nation's Capital. They included: Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Weathered a group of Texas Farmers University of Friona; Mr. and Mrs. Basion members who were: Mr. Bill com Nelson from Dimmitt; and Gentry, Mr. A. J. 'Ellery Queen' To Originate From Gotham

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Detective Ellery Queen checks out of movie town this month to do his sleuthing in New York City—so he can be close to his writers.
Trouble is, in doing so he will get so far away from the star, George Nader, that he'll lose him crossing the Mississippi.
Honest, that's what all the fuss is about with TV's only live dramatic hour show.
The furor began when NBC-TV announced it would move the Friday night program to Gotham, Nader, who plays Ellery, demurred, saying he wanted no part of moving to Baginhat by the Brooklyn Bridge.
Undismayed, the network kissed off George—in three weeks—"Ellery Queen" will originate from New York with a new actor in the title role.
Is Nader all shook up?
Not in the least. Leaving the program will afford him an opportunity to rest his feet.
During the 29-episode grind George worked six days a week with only 36 hours off between episodes. Few stars would have put up with the back-breaking schedule, but George accepted the conditions cheerfully.
"I didn't want to give up the show," he says, "and I'm not walking out on it. The program is walking out on me."
"Nor do I hate New York City, as has been reported."
"My reasons for staying here are simple. I was raised in southern California, my home and friends are here, I'm sort of a beach bum at heart, and I don't like the idea of getting that far away from the Pacific."
"There are hundreds of New Yorkers working in this town who can't stand anything about Hollywood. I'm not anxious to be in that position."

First Aid Film Set

Directors of the Pampa Red Cross Chapter will hold the first monthly meeting at 7 a.m. Tuesday in Johnson's Cafe.
E. B. Pemberton, First Aid chairman, will be in charge of the program. He will show the new First Aid film purchased by the Chapter.

And now, smart-looking new color phones come with a spring cord that stretches out easily when you lift the receiver, retracts neatly and compactly when you hang up. And you adjust the bell to suit yourself.

In a dozen big ways, and in a hundred little ones, your telephone is a part of today's good living. So if you haven't made a telephone check of your home lately, do it now. See if you don't need another extension or two.

Lunch will be served at noon for all the members and guests. Dedication services will begin in the afternoon at 1:30 with Singing. The Rev. John L. King, who became the second pastor of the church, will read the church history, and the Rev. E. M. Dunsworth, another former pastor, will pray the Dedication prayer. Rev. O. C. Curtis, District 10 Baptist Mission Secretary will bring the dedicatory message. The entire program will be highlighted by congregational singing, special music by our choir, and special numbers by Mr. Allen Greer, Mrs. Austin Ruddick and Mrs. Orval Bagley. The evening service will start with Training Union at 6:45 p.m. and the inspirational message will be brought by Rev. Collins Webb, a former pastor, and at present the pastor of the Clifton Heights Baptist Church in Wichita, Kansas.

Largent is secretary of the Sunday School. The present enrollment is 330. Those who serve as department superintendents are: Mrs. B. W. Mitchell, Adult II; Mrs. Frank Turpen, Adult I; Mrs. Ennis Hill, Married Young People; Mrs. C. H. Spencer, Young People; Mrs. E. W. Baker, Junior II; Mrs. Wilda McGabhen, Junior I; Mrs. Glyndene Shelton, Primary I; Mrs. Robinett Willis, Beginner; Mrs. Dorothy Holmes, Nursery II; and Mrs. Marie Haught, Nursery I.

AUSTIN RUDDICK building chairman

Ruddick Leads Committee

The Building Committee was elected on May 7, 1958 by the church to make a survey of needs for space. After several meetings it was decided that a new auditorium was the best way of solving the churches need. By building a new auditorium and remodeling the old auditorium into classroom space we could solve needs, present and future. Several meetings took place before the committee voted to recommend that the church build a new auditorium. The church voted to build and to have the plans drawn. Mr. Waldon Moore of Pampa drew the preliminary plans and after taking several bids the K & W Construction Company of Dallas was awarded the contract on October 5, 1958. The committee also recommended that a new parsonage be built and a site was secured at 920 S. Osborne Street. The contract for the construction of the new parsonage was also let to the K & W Construction Company.

NURSERY ALWAYS ACTIVE

Babies have always played a big part in the lives of people, and Calvary Baptist Church feels that they play a big part in our church life. Our nursery is open at all our services and we feel that we have two of the finest ladies who have put their hearts into this work. They take a personal interest in the babies and give them good care.

The average attendance in Sunday School last year was 273. There is a department and class for every age group. Seventy-six workers are serving as teachers and officers.

The Sunday School of the Calvary Baptist Church was organized at the origin of the church, and the first record of the superintendents who served was Mrs. Charles Batt. Through the years many have served including C. E. Fry, Mr. H. C. Blackshear, A. M. McConahie, Wes Langham, Truett J. Smith, C. H. Burzbee, Clayton Teague, and C. E. Humphries.

G. L. LUNSFORD music director

Calvary Choir Has Lunsford

Besides his regular job as County Commissioner of precinct 2 G. L. "Nat" Lunsford gives a great deal of his time to the directing of music in the Calvary Baptist Church. He believes that anyone who can and will sing good music will be a happy person. Nat, before coming to Pampa has had several years of training in music and has worked with several outstanding evangelists and preachers in revival work. Calvary Baptist Church has a wide variety of talent that enables it to furnish its members and visitors a good and varied program at all times. Working closely with the pastor and members, the choir composed of more than 30 members adds to each worship service in spirit and reverence. Mrs. Frank Turpen, our pianist has been at Calvary Baptist for about 10 years and has given faithfulness to her time and talent. Miss Estelle Lunsford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Lunsford, has served faithfully as Organist for two years. Nat is always looking for young talents because these are the ones who will fill our places tomorrow.

BROTHERHOOD UNITED IN CHURCH WORK

Christianity of yesterday, today, and tomorrow combines in no uncertain terms its appeal to both men and women. Jesus, our Redeemer, gathered about him a group of men who were taught and trained by Him. When these men became possessed by the Holy Spirit, they marched forth to turn the world upside down. Many many Christian conquests have been made by men, those who have been transformed by the Lord's power, who in turn went out to reach other men, causing the circle to be ever widened. We of Calvary Baptist, realize more and more the need for an organization that will not only attract men, but use them and present a challenge to them to be loyal to Jesus and his Church. Surely our Brotherhood is such an agency. Jesus said to go "unto the uttermost part of the uppermost." Certainly the Brotherhood is a simple and practical organization of the church to carry out this great commission. The Brotherhood represents the men of the church, working in unison, to carry out the tasks of the church and seeking out others to bring them to Christ. Therefore adding them to our church and it's great task set before it. With God's help our Brotherhood marches forward and strives for a transformed world. As David said long ago, "O magnify the Lord with me, and let us exalt his name together." Officers of our Brotherhood include: M. D. Snider, President; Dale Hamilton, Vice president; James Jennings, program chairman; Secretary-Treasurer, J. O. Brewer; C. E. Humphries, song leader; and Bud Patton, social chairman.

WMU HERE TO STAY

The Women's Missionary Union has been, through all the years, one of the most active organizations of the church, having been always ready and willing to assume any responsibility. They have been especially active in the benevolent and mission work. Some of those who have served as president are: Mrs. B. W. Mitchell, Mrs. J. M. Hill, Mrs. R. O. Clements, Mrs. Jack Robertson, Mrs. C. W. McGabhen, Mrs. Wes Langham, and Mrs. Lindon Sanders. At the present the organization is served by Mrs. Floyd Haught, as president.

Calvary Baptist WMU has a membership of 41, with seven circles. These chapters serve circles, Extension, Mrs. Jose McLaughy; Marie Mathis, Mrs. R. R. Hawkins; Kathleen Mallory, Mrs. June Rowe; Blanch Grove, Mrs. O. R. Turjington; Fannie Davis, Mrs. Maxine Bennett; Leola Ragland, Mrs. Lindon Sanders; and Business Women, Mrs. Doris Fuller. The outstanding things they do in benevolence are provide clothing and bedding for a girl in Milan Home for Girls at Lubbock, send two young preacher boys $5.00 each month. Give fruit baskets to those on our extension rolls, sponsor our youth fellowship with devotional and refreshments, and provide food for our members in times of need and bereavement. In serving our fellowman in these capacities, the members feel they best serve our Lord.

Home Coming And Dedication Service Today For Calvary Baptist Church

History Of Calvary

The Calvary Baptist Church was organized in Pampa, Gray County, Texas, in the year of 1931 in a private home on South Barnes Street with the Rev. J. L. Ratliff as the Pastor and Organizer. There were thirteen Charter Members of the church. It was during Brother Ratliff's pastorate that the present lot was purchased, and the basement structure was begun. The work grew steadily under the leadership of Rev. Ratliff, and the Lord blessed the Church in many ways. Rev. Ratliff resigned his work in 1934 and was succeeded by Rev. J. L. King. Under his leadership the present basement was completed and the church continued to grow in numbers. After two years of successful work with the Calvary Baptist Church, Brother King resigned and was succeeded by Rev. E. M. Dunsworth. During the time Brother Dunsworth was pastor an auditorium was erected and additional Sunday School rooms were provided. It was under his leadership that an active church office was established and the present Sunday School and Training Union record system adopted. Brother Dunsworth served as Pastor for ten years and did a great work toward the advancement of the cause of Christ. In 1946 Rev. Collins Webb began his ministry with Calvary Baptist Church. A barracks building was purchased and remodeled to be used as an educational building. The church grew steadily in membership and advanced for the cause of Christ during his ministry. Brother Webb resigned as pastor of the church in 1950. Later this same year the church called Rev. Trustt Stovall as pastor. During his pastorate the auditorium was enlarged and redecorated. A three-story unit was added to the auditorium for educational facilities, and the Fellowship Hall was redecorated and kitchen facilities added. The Lord blessed the work in a great way under the leadership of Brother Stovall. He resigned the work in 1954. The present pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, Rev. Ennis Hill, moved on the field in June of 1954. During this time there have been 175 additions to the church by baptism and 256 by letter. The teaching staff of our church has grown to more than eighty members. All phases of the work has increased in numbers and spiritual growth. Our physical plant now includes the new auditorium, valued at $75,000, and the new home for the pastor, valued at $12,000. These additions are being dedicated today, and are lasting reminders of the work done for the Lord.

Training Unions Fill Basic Need

"Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed rightly dividing the word of truth" II Timothy 2:15. This is a scripture used much in Baptist training. We believe that to have a well trained membership we must learn to do by doing and to carry out this aim we must follow the instruction to the above scripture. Mr. Austin Ruddick is the Training Union Director of the Calvary Baptist Church. Enrollment now stands at 272 and average attendance is in excess of 150. The Sunday School is the teaching agency of the church and the purpose of the Training Union is to train the members for greater and better service. The following departments minister to every age group: Adult II, Mrs. W. H. Scott; Adult I, Mrs. R. O. Clements; Young People, Mrs. Dorris Fuller; Intermediate, Mr. Dale Hamilton; Junior II, Mrs. Janie Gee, Junior I, Mrs. Robbie Walker; Primary, Mrs. Robinett Willis, and Beginner, Mrs. Marvin Harvel. His education preparation for the ministry was gained at Wayland College at Plainview, and Hardin Simmons at Abilene. He married the former, Wilma Pettigrew of Post, and they are the parents of three boys, Garry 14, Danny's, and Bobby 3. They make their home in the new parsonage, 920 S. Osborne, for 1959.

HISTORY REV. JOHN L. KING
(CALL TO WORSHIP)
I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord. Surely the Lord is in this place. This is none other but the House of God. And this is the gate of heaven. Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, And into his courts with praise.

One thing have I desired of the Lord, that will I seek after; That I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life. To behold the beauty of the Lord, and to enquire in his temple.
How amiable are thy Tabernacles, O Lord of host! My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord: My Heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God.
Yea, the sparrow hath found an house, and the swallow a nest for herself, where she may lay her young, even thine altars, O Lord of host, my King and my God.
Blessed are they that dwell in thy house: they will be still praising thee.
Blessed is the man whose strength is in thee; in whose heart are the ways of them.

For a day in thy courts is better than a thousand; I had rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God than to dwell in the tents of wickedness.
For the Lord God is a sun and shield: the Lord will give grace and glory: no good thing will be withhold from them that walk uprightly.
O Lord of hosts, blessed is the man that trusteth in thee.

Deacons Set Good Example At Calvary

There may be many Baptist Churches who have more deacons than the Calvary Baptist Church, but there are none who are more loyal to the cause of Christ than the eight men the Church has set aside as Deacons. These men try to set the example before other members of the church. They feel they cannot seek the church to go along with the program if they hearts are not with all their deacons at Calvary Baptist are strict titheers and they urge all the other members to try God's plan of Church Finance. The pastor depends upon these men and they have given valuable assistance in planning and praying about the Lord's work. The pastor feels that great things have come as a result of these fine men. The deacons of the Calvary Baptist Church are: Mr. Travis White, Chairman; Mrs. J. C. Largent, Vice Chairman; Mr. E. W. Baker, Secretary and Treasurer; Mr. Raymond Hawkins, Mr. M. D. Snider, Mr. Jack Frost, Mr. H. D. Hale, and Mr. R. O. Clements.

New Shows Bring Tourists To Vegas

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI-Hollywood Correspondent
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—Paris is "busting" out all over dicetown these days.
Tourists who go bust in the gambling casinos are able to console themselves at the "bustiest" shows in the country.
Nude girlie shows aren't enough for this 7 come 11 community. A sport can see strippers in Baltimore, Chicago and dozens of other cities. But add the word "Paris" to the marquee, Charlie, and you've got the carriage trade standing in line.
Thus, four flossy Vegas "strip" hotels have emblazoned their canopies like so:
Show Imported
"Le Lido de Paris" at the Stardust (which set the trend for bare-bosomed shows), "La Nouvelle Eve From Paris" at El Rancho Vegas, "Carnival de Paris" at the Thunderbird, "Nuit de Paris" at the Dunes. The latter formerly was titled, simply, "Minsky's."
But both the Stardust and El Rancho management trekked to Paris and returned with stars, costumes, novelty acts and bosoms intact to bloom in this desert oasis.
So what goes on inside, when the footlights blaze up?
"La Nouvelle Eve" show opens with a line of some 20 girls scantily but modestly clad, performing a production number. It was a leggy routine based on newspaper salesgirls.
Before the dancers completed the act, 10 statuesque beauties straddled on stage elaborately dressed in multi-colored gowns and complicated headdresses. It could have been a high fashion show except for one thing.
Where the bodies were supposed to be there was just plain girl.
Eye-Stopping Costumes
There were three similar production numbers with eye-popping costumes. Between the girls' appearances specialty acts — an amazing French juggling team, a pantomimist named George Mai (whose antics stopped the show) and the singer Jeannie Cairo — took over the spotlight.
But it was the show girls, and 28 members of "La Charley Ballet," that had the audience in a dither.
None of the girls were overly endowed in the bosom department, which helped give the impression that the show was presented in an artistic vein, as, indeed, most of the packed house agreed.

Business Views

United Press International

There is sufficient thrust to the economy to assure continuing improvement for some time to come, the Guaranty Survey said. The monthly review of the Guaranty Trust Co. said that economic prospects do not seem to have been altered in any essential way either by the President's new budget or by the reaction to it.

Retail trade this week ran 1 to 5 per cent higher than a year ago, spurred by good weather in many areas, continued clearance sales and interest in spring merchandise, Dun & Bradstreet reported. The call for new passenger cars rose appreciably and substantial year-to-year increases were maintained, the firm said.

The federal aviation agency reported that shipments of complete civilian aircraft as measured by airframe weight amounted to 1,258,900 pounds in December. It said 412 planes valued at $37,700,000 were shipped. Unfilled orders totaled 637 at the end of December, down 16 per cent from the backlog a year ago.

Wheat flour mills operated at 87.0 per cent of capacity in December compared with 86.3 per cent a year earlier, the Census Bureau reported. December production totaled 21,072,000 sacks for an average of 958,000 sacks per working day. Average daily output in November was 1,063,000 sacks and in December 1957, it was 941,000 sacks.

Pampa Boxers Shut Out In Open Fights Friday

POW!—Durwood Williams of Borger tags Kenny Powell of Pampa with a solid right cross to the jaw in their high school featherweight semi-final Friday, in the regional Golden Gloves meet at Amarillo. Powell was the aggressor all the way, but Williams counter-punched well to take the decision. That was considered one of the best fights of the tournament.

AMARILLO — It was a bad night for Pampa boxers Friday in the regional Golden Gloves meet, as they lost all the close ones. All five of Pampa's open battlers were eliminated, and four of the six surviving high school boxers lost. Only Dickie James and Wesley Crites moved into Saturday's high school finals. Gary Wills and Carl McClure had no opposition until the open light-weight and heavyweight finals.

Crites didn't leave anything to the judges, as he lagged. Pete Martinez of Amarillo with a short but solid left, and sent him to dream land at 1:22 of the second round. It was a full minute before Martinez was revived. This was a high school heavyweight semi-final. James, a bantamweight, advanced to the finals with an impressive decision over Johnny Chavez of Amarillo. James used a long right to good advantage, as he landed the only solid blows of the fight. He staggered Chavez in the first round with a strong right to the face. In the best fight of the tournament, Norman Rexroat of Pampa, 155, lost a close decision to Jerry Reid of Levelland. It was strictly a slugfest all the way, with no defense whatever. The crowd was cheering all the way. Rexroat appeared to have the best of it in the first and third round, but Reid pulled it out of the fire with a strong attack in the second round. This was a high school semi-final. In the open division, Pete Garcia, Dickie Wills, Charles Coffee, and Jesse Ring all lost decisions. Glenn Ward was a TKO victim. Jimmy Bryant of Borger won a fairly clear-cut decision over Garcia, who gave away several pounds in the 112-pound semi-final. The 118-pound bout, between Wills and Angelo Rosendo of Plainview, was much closer. In a battle of left-hookers, Rosendo took the decision. A Rosendo rally in the third round was the turning point. Robert Vieille of Levelland, 126, took another close one from Coffee. Coffee landed a number of hard rights to the face, but they proved to be not enough. Ring, 147, counterpunched well and got the best of it in the first round, but Gary Watt of Levelland came on strong in the second and third rounds as Ring began to tire. Ring was forced to hang on in the second and third rounds, and was staggered several times. Bob Willis of Amarillo stopped Ward at 1:46 of the second round, for a clear-cut TKO victory. Willis was unopposed until the final.

Pampa Optimist Club coaches and boxers haven't exactly said that they were the victims of the biggest robbery since Jesse James died — though they well might have. Nor have they claimed that the judges at the regional tournament were laying especially for Pampa. But they might have said that they're mighty disappointed in the decisions involving Pampa fighters. In the Pampa camp, the opinion is unanimous that they've been "took."

Since Pampa won only one close fight during the first two nights of the tournament, it's hard to see how they could have any other opinion. To be even more exact, some of the fights lost by Pampa boys didn't even appear to be close fights, but one-sided wins for Pampa.

Five Pampa open fighters lost Friday night, and three of those bouts were close enough for an honest difference of opinion as to who won.

Of the three high-school open fights involving Pampa boys, lost by decision, none were so one-sided against Pampa that they couldn't have gone the other way.

Going back as far as Wednesday, only one of Pampa's four high school division losses was one-sided. Adding up the total, Pampa was involved in a total of nine close decisions and lost them all. Clark Morse took one close one Wednesday.

Rexroat Fight—Unbelievable

Now, when a team can get only put up a short flurry in the last one close decision out of ten, some-thing's wrong somewhere. By the Reid. Whether that influenced the law of averages, any squad should be able to get two or three of ten close decisions.

However, that isn't the whole story. One TKO scored against a Pampa fighter was of a questionable nature, and at least three of the nine "close" fights can only be considered close by the wildest stretch of the imagination.

Even mild-mannered Cliff Dunham (a Pampa coach), who isn't given to rash statements, reported that "I couldn't believe it when they announced the decision against Norman Rexroat." Dunham said this not in the heat of battle, but after he'd had time to think it over, Saturday morning.

"Rexroat clearly had the first two rounds," said Dunham. "Reid was completely out in the cold in the open division of the regional tournament finals Saturday night, as Gary Wills lost a close decision to Manny Perez of Amarillo, boxing club. Willis was the only Pampa fighter to reach the finals, and he was unopposed until the final.

Two Fouls—One Called

Of the actual close fights, the some room for honest difference of opinion. These were the Dickie Wills-Angelo Rosendo bout and the Charles Coffee-Robert Vieille fight.

One of the most flagrant abuses did not even involve a decision. It was the Durwood Williams-Kenny Powell bout, the first round was taken away from San Miguel for a low-blow. However, when San Miguel was fouled in the third round, the referee refused to acknowledge it and ordered the fight to continue. When San Miguel could not continue, Adams was awarded a TKO.

"Adams' foul was a lot worse than San Miguel's," Cliff Dunham opined Saturday morning. Lucky Dunham said that Adams butted San Miguel below the belt.

If the present situation continues next year, the Optimist coaches Dunham and other Optimist coaches had better train their boys to go for knockouts. They'll seldom win a decision, but concede here was a regional bout any other way.

James Cops Crown; Gary Wills Loses

AMARILLO — Pampa was left completely out in the cold in the open division of the regional tournament finals Saturday night, as Gary Wills lost a close decision to Manny Perez of Amarillo, boxing club. Willis was the only Pampa fighter to reach the finals, and he was unopposed until the final. Dickie James saved Pampa from a total shutout by winning the 115-pound high school crown, by taking a decision over Dale Gardner of Amarillo. Wesley Crites, the only other Pampa high school fighter to reach the finals, was decided by Thurman Adams of Plainview.

The same pattern was followed in the Crites-Adams heavyweight championship fight. Crites backed Adams with his left handed style in the first round, and tagged him with a solid right to the chin. However, Adams came back to take the next two rounds.

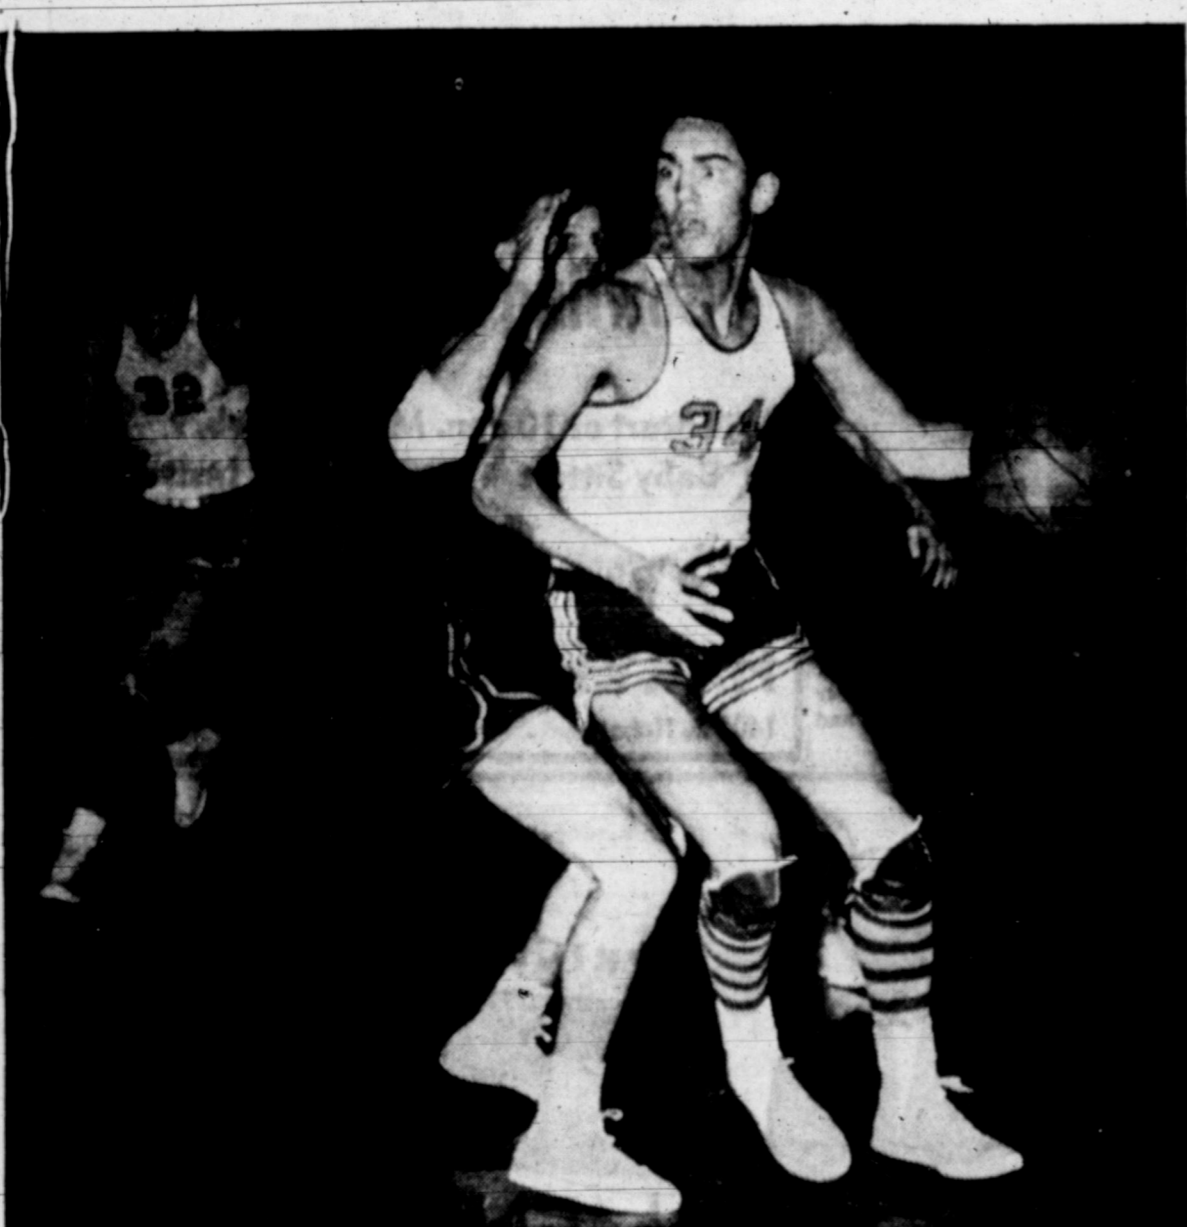

James landed most of the solid punches in the 115-pound high school-title fight. Possibly his best punches were two hard rights to Gardner's head in the first round.

Carl McClure, a Dumas fighter, boxing for the Pampa team, returned to the state meet by winning the heavyweight open title. McClure knocked out Bill Lunsford of Plainview at 1:28 of the second round, after earlier flooring him for a six count.

Harvesters In Weird Win Over Lubbock

DRIVING IN—Coyle Winborn dribbles around a Lubbock player, moving in for a crisp shot attempt in Friday's basketball game here, won by the Harvesters 62-50. Winborn was high point man for Pampa, with 15 points, and also grabbed 13 rebounds. Going in to grab any possible rebound is Mack Layne (32).

Pampa Takes 36th Straight By 60 to 52

By RED GRIGGS
Daily News Sports Editor

In a wild and weird basketball game here Friday, the Pampa Harvesters whipped Lubbock, 62-50, to stretch their winning streak to 36.

The Harvesters, by taking their 23rd triumph of the year, kept their three-game lead in district 3-4A, with only four games to go. The Harvesters, 10-0 in loop play, travel to Amarillo Tuesday to meet the Palo Duro Dons.

These are some of the things that happened in Friday's freakish contest:

1. The Harvesters went 7 minutes, 45 seconds during the third quarter without a field goal — but still outscored Lubbock in the period, 10 to 9.

2. One of the referees was caught over the eye by a player's elbow, cutting a gash in his left temple, during the fourth quarter. The game was halted for five minutes while the wound was bandaged. The referee returned to action.

3. Pat Carter, coming into the game in the last quarter, had to leave the game shortly before the finish with a bloody nose. The play got pretty rough near the end, but apparently none of the roughing was intentional.

4. A total of 32 fouls were called, almost all of them in the last three quarters. A total of 24 free throws were sunk throughout the game.

Rifles must be cleared and bolts open when entering the range. Bolts must be kept open except when firing.

The indoor range is located in Recreation Park, a half mile east of Pampa. This is one of the finest ranges in the Panhandle, with lights, heat, rest rooms, and concession stands. Floor mats and some rifles and sighting scopes will be available, but the number will be limited. The road is paved and plenty of parking space is available.

Lloyd Dugan, president of the Pampa Rifle and Pistol Club, said that the purpose of the meet is to promote safety, good sportsmanship, and good will among young people who have guns.

For further information on the tournament, call or write Tony Walker, 621 North First, Pampa, Tex. 79052, or John Schofield, 805 N. Dwight, Pampa.

Junior Rifle Tourney Slated Saturday at Indoor Range

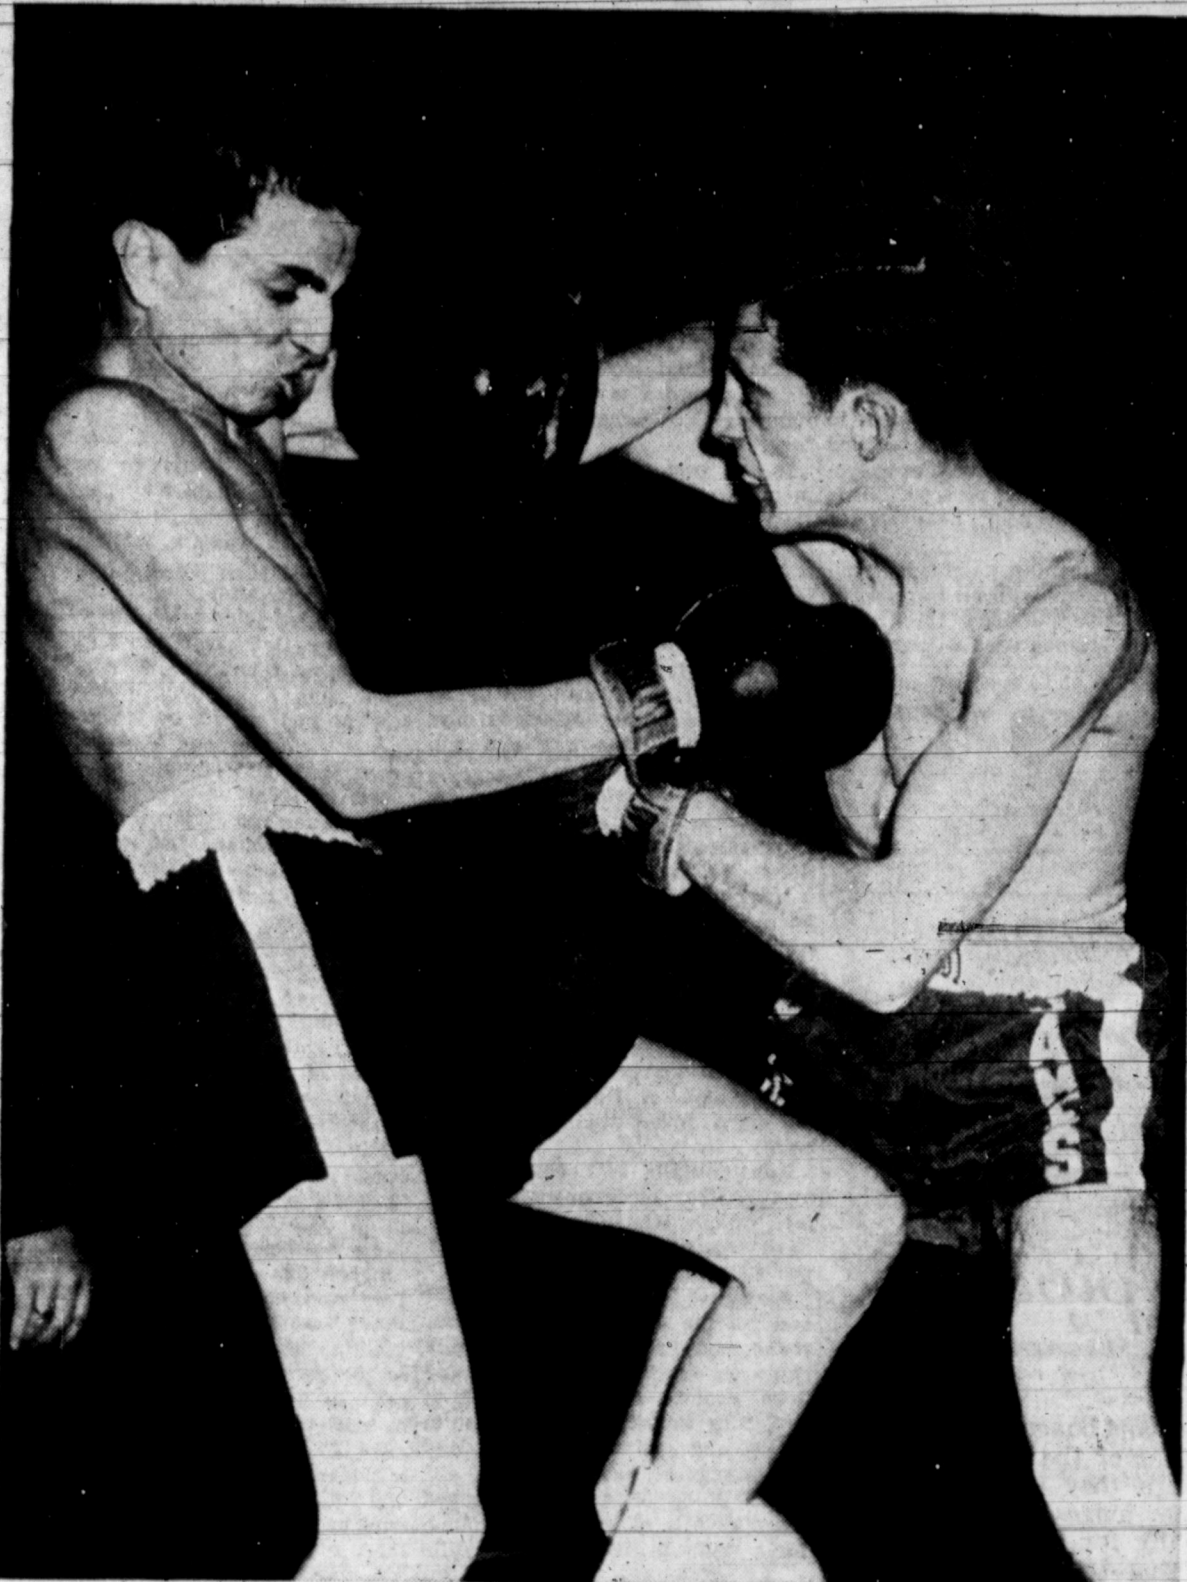

The sixth annual Invitational Junior Rifle Tournament will be held Saturday, Feb. 14 at the Pampa Rifle and Pistol Club's indoor range, beginning at 9 a.m. Any four-man team of juniors (under 19 years old) may enter. Both boys and girls are eligible. The team must be sponsored by an adult, but it is not necessary for team members to belong to the National Rifle Association, or to represent any organization.

The tournament is sponsored by Pampa Rifle and Pistol Club, and club members will serve as tournament officials. Range officers will be Les Newman, assistant range officer, Tony Walker, referee, John Schofield, executive officer, W. F. Huff, and statistician, John Ayers.

There will be no entry fee or charge for targets, but contestants must bring their own ammunition. They may use any .22 caliber rim fire rifle that can be fired single shot — except an automatic. Only iron sights may be used. The winning team will be awarded the Addington trophy and the high individual will receive the Sportsman Store trophy. They will remain in the winner's possession for one year. Pampa Hardware will donate a trophy to the second place team. Ribbons will be given to each member of the winning team, and to the high, second, and third individuals, and to the high girl.

Children's American Legion post number one was high team last year, with 1293. High individual was Harold Walcup, Childress, with 370; Gary Hassell of Childress was second with 348; Bruce Bauman of Perryton was third with 346; and Kay Balzer of Perryton was high girl with 268.

Ten shots will be fired for record Saturday in each of the prone, sitting, kneeling, and standing positions. Fifty minutes will be allowed for the four stages. A sighting bull will be permitted in each stage, sighting shots to be fired.

REBELS ROUT REAPERS IN CAGE GAME, 35-15

Phillips Oilers, West Texas; Flying Queens, Clarendon JC

In Pampa's second intra-city junior high basketball game, the Rebels routed the Reapers Friday, 35-15.

This was the second win this year for the Rebels over the Reapers. Earlier, they had taken a 32-22 triumph.

Lee also captured the eighth grade game, defeating the Pampa Junior-High Planters, 36-23. Both contests were played in Robert E. Lee Gymnasium.

The Rebels led all the way in the varsity game, even though they were outthrust and out-rebounded in the first quarter by the Reapers. At the half, the rebounds were only 14-12 for Lee.

Lee led 10-2 at the end of the first quarter, 17-4 at halftime, and 33-8 after three quarters. Rebel coach Bill Anders used a full-court press until the third quarter, when he put in his reserves. The press didn't seem to make any difference in the score, but it did keep the pressure on the Reapers.

Jim Crinklaw, hitting well on short jump shots, led Lee's attack with 13 points. Max Patton of Pampa Junior High scored seven, Godfrey one, Jim Stephenson one, Lee netted seven, and Mike Story one.

Both Anders and Pampa Coach Sam Jackson cleared their benches during the second half, using all their players. Jackson substituted liberally throughout the game.

The eighth grade game was much closer than the varsity contest. Pampa's Planters bowed, 36-23, but not before leading through much of the first half.

Wayland takes on the Clarendon Junior College Comets at 7 p.m., and the Oilers tangle with the West Texas State Buffaloes in the second game.

Tickets are $1.50 for reserved seats, $1.25 for general admission, and 75 cents for students. Tickets are on sale at Richards Drug, and are being sold by individual members of the Downtown Kiwanis Club, the sponsoring organization.

The Oilers, the big attraction on the bill, are having a rough year in the National Industrial Basketball League, because of injuries and other troubles. This, despite the fact that their squad included eight college or AAU all-Americans, and some outstanding former armed forces players.

LaJoie collected eight hits in a double-header on the last day of the season, six of them on bunts, but lost when Cobb's mark of 3848 topped his 3841.

The battle had a stormy aftermath when a league investigation of those six bunts drew an admission from the rival third baseman that he had been ordered to play back on the grass. The St. Louis Browns' manager and one coach lost their jobs.

At the turn of the century LaJoie's "Jump from the Philadelphia Phillies of the National League to the Philadelphia Athletics of the newly-organized American League proved to be one of the greatest factors in winning the new loop immediate public acceptance.

It also proved to be a political bombshell for the Phillies, obtaining a court injunction forbidding their ex-star to play for any other team in the state of Pennsylvania. LaJoie was saved for the American League when the A's traded him to Cleveland, and he was saved from jail when he left the rest of the Cleveland team and traveled "on the freight cars" whenever he had to pass through Pennsylvania during the two years the injunction was in force.

These troubles didn't stop the brown-haired, broad-shouldered native of Woonsocket, R.I., from hitting 422 in 1901. He also won the league batting crown in 1904 with a .381 average and in 1904 with a .381 mark. For his 21 years in the major leagues with the Phillies, (1896-1900), Cleveland (1902-1914), and the Athletics (1901-1902, 1915-1916), LaJoie compiled a lifetime batting average of .330.

His career total of 3,251 hits has been exceeded by only four other players—Ty Cobb with 4,191, Tris Speaker 3,515, Hans Wagner 3,430 and Eddie Collins 3,313.

LaJoie, who was the American League's greatest star until the appearance of Ty Cobb and Cobb's greatest-batting rival in the years their careers overlapped, staged a memorable duel with the "Georgia Peach" in the 1910 batting crown. Collusion Suspected In Aragon-Sawyer Fight

By JOE ST. AMANT United Press International

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The California Athletic Commission Saturday heard conflicting testimony on whether there was collusion in last Saturday's Art Aragon-Charlie Sawyer bout and held up purses of both men until it studies the transcript of a three-hour hearing.

"It looked as if it were rigged for the first round—that's my professional judgment," said referee Tommy Hart. Hart refused to call a knockout when Sawyer hit the canvas in the first round, though the transcript of testimony here Saturday.

A decision will be released at a later, but unspecified, date.

Paul Caruso, attorney for Aragon, was unable to get an approximate date for a ruling.

Sawyer said he remembered being knocked down in the first round, but could not recall anything else about the stanza.

Hart, in addition to contending the blows ricocheted off Sawyer's shoulders in the first round, said he did not believe Sawyer was putting out an "honest effort" through the rest of the fight.

But Aragon, after denying any complicity, had a different view about the so-called ricocheted blows.

48-34 at the end of the third quarter.

Pampa controlled the backboards in the first quarter, and hit 10 of 16 field goal attempts. Throughout the game, the Harvesters captured 53 rebounds, to 37 for Lubbock. Both teams shot rather poorly, as Pampa hit 20 of 49 shots and Lubbock dunked only 12 of 65 attempts.

During the second quarter, the fouling parade began. Lubbock sank six field goals, but the Harvesters managed only three. But Lubbock hit seven free shots, and Pampa sank 10.

During the third quarter, the fouls came even faster. During the first five minutes, there were so many personals that it was seldom anyone could get a shot from the floor.

Exactly five minutes deep in the third period, Kenny Hawkins of Lubbock sank a 20-foot set shot from the right, for the first field goal of the second half.

During the next two-and-a-half minutes, Jerry Parsons of Lubbock sank a hook shot and Hawkins dunked another set shot, but still Pampa was without a field goal.

Mack Layne, however, saved the Harvesters from the humiliation of being shut out from the floor, by sinking a crisp shot with 12 seconds left in the third quarter.

Seconds after the start of the fourth period, referee Steve Gurdandy was accidentally caught over the left temple by a player's elbow. He began bleeding profusely, and the game had to be halted temporarily.

The gash was bandaged, and the game resumed in about five minutes, when the referee returned to the floor.

During the fourth quarter, every man on the Harvester team and most of the Lubbock players saw action. Two of the Westerners fouled out in the final minutes (and another had fouled out in the first half).

Coyle Winborn, Craig Wingorn, and Bob Gindorf led the Harvesters throughout the game, on both offense and defense. All three players reached double figures, in both scoring and rebounds.

Coyle scored 15 points and grabbed 13 rebounds, to lead in both departments. Craig, having one of his best nights, scored 13 points on three field goals, and seven of eight free throws, and captured 11 rebounds. Gindorf tallied 11 points and copped 10 rebounds.

Audiences Hit By Bernstein's Enthusiasm For US Music

By DELOS SMITH
United-Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—Leonard Bernstein's efforts to create a large and enthusiastic audience for American composers may be succeeding. That is well because of all the things American music needs, it needs most of all people who will pay to listen to it.

He is back on the podium of the New York Philharmonic after a four-week vacation, and the paying customers are at least alert and interested. If not exactly rapturous. It should be added that probably there is a certain amount of resentment against Bernstein. While he was away, other conductors gave programs of German and English music and these concerts were more or less the present-day standard symphony concert. Returning, Bernstein took up where he had left off.

Has Weekly Preview
He had played the music of the "early" American composers and he had reviewed the American music of the 20's. Now he was ready for the music composed from the crash through the Second World War. His first examples were Samuel Barber's Cello Concerto and Randall Thompson's Second Symphony.

As Bernstein said at a weekly "pre-view" concert—when he comments (humorously and otherwise) as well as conducts—this music is in tune with its times. The crash had occurred, the depression was on, vast forces were loosed and mold creative musicians. Therefore, Barber and Thompson were not straining for originality, they were trying to express matters more personal and more human.

The anti-Bernstein note became detectable when he spoke of "Bernstein's folly." This referred to his having put the orchestra into uniforms for the "pre-view" concerts. He had done so, he said, because he had wanted a special atmosphere. That atmosphere now existed, and the uniforms were no longer necessary. So they were being abolished.

Planned Before Season
The whole season's concerts were planned by Bernstein before the season began. Here in mid-tune with its times. The crash had occurred, the depression was on, vast forces were loosed and mold creative musiment is the spice. Barber, for instance, was played between Haydn and Cesar Franck for three concerts. Then, in the fourth concert of the series, Barber was dropped and Thompson was substituted and he was played between Haydn and Brahms.

At the end of the month, Bernstein will be turning the orchestra over to other conductors for concerts of French music. When he takes over again in the last week of March, he'll deal with "the young generation." By then the 200th anniversary of the death of George Frederic Handel will be close at hand (April 14) and the programs will be heavily Handelian with only a touch of the "younger generation."

If the paying customers have been tired by the season of American music, they'll have to be much less so at the end. If they have been swept up in Bernstein's enthusiasm for it, we'll see the results in next season's programs.

Hollywood Ballots In Oscar Primary

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI-Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Filmmakers were busy this week marking ballots for the 31st annual Academy Awards nominations which will whittle-down-Oscar-contenders-to five in each category.

Because there is no single standout picture in the running, this year's Oscar steepchase holds more suspense than an Alfred Hitchcock whodunit.

Best bets to enter the finals Feb. 23 for the picture of the year are "Gigi," "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," "The Defiant Ones," "The Big Country" and "Separate Tables."

Liz In Running
Not to be counted out, but less favored are "I Want to Live," "South Pacific" and "Fascination."

The latter is handicapped because it is a straight comedy. Strongest, most exciting race is among Hollywood's leading ladies—and in a year that generally was devoted to films dedicated to strong roles for actors. No less than eight beauties are decided candidates.

Favored to contend as finalists are Elizabeth Taylor ("Cat on a Hot Tin Roof"), Susan Hayward ("I Want to Live"), Jean Simmons ("Home Before Dark"), Shirley MacLaine ("Some Came Running") and Ingrid Bergman ("The Inn of the Sixth Happiness").

Rosalind Russell (Auntie Mame), Deborah Kerr (Separate Tables) and Mitzel Gaynor (South Pacific) also loom as possibilities.

Many "Co" Favorites
Best actor category is confused this year by several possible nominees who co-starred in the same production. Strongest nominee contenders are Tony Curtis and Sidney Poitier, who co-starred in "The Defiant Ones."

Frank Sinatra and Dean Martin, another pair of possibilities, shared billing in "Some Came Running." The same is true of Maurice Chevalier and Louis Jourdan, co-stars in "Gigi."

Both Paul Newman and Burl

Ives, stars of "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," are under consideration for nominations.

Two other actors certain to get a heavy vote are Spencer Tracy ("The Last Hurrah") and David Niven ("Separate Tables").

When Feb. 23 rolls around the real race will be underway with players vying for Hollywood's Golden Oscars—the most treasured awards in the zany world of movies.

ANTIDROWNING KIT—Joe Greenwood demonstrates his do-it-yourself antidrowning post in Fort Worth, Tex. Greenwood, assistant safety director of the city's Red Cross, concocted the unit primarily for unsupervised farm ponds. It can be used at pools, as shown above. Improvements considered are replacing the glass jar with a plastic container (to avoid broken glass) and attaching a block of wood to the end of the heaving line to replace the tube.

ABOUT THE MOST POPULAR mode of transportation this week, nay for the past several weeks, have been sleds and toboggans. The young and very young have been out in masse taking advantage of the sleet-covered snow on the sloping trees and landscapes. We did a quick double-take the other afternoon at the Fred Hobart Old New England Sunday sleigh packed with riders. Everyone was bundled to eyebrows and having a very merry time. There is quite an interesting history behind the sleigh. It has been in the Hobart Family for many generations and was used for transportation to church on Sundays back in the olden days in New England. At the time of an estate settling back East, the present generation of Hobarts asked for the sleigh to be shipped to them here. And thus, it is on a snowy day in this western town our eyes are treated to a scene from the sleigh-age.

No person was ever honored for what he received. Honor has been the reward for what he gave.

INVETERATE PARTY-GIVERS and goers have long since recovered from the onslaught of the holiday-past parties and are coming on refreshed for the new season and reason for parties. Pretty red invitations are out for the Valentine Tea Mary Ann Kelley is giving on Thursday in the Country Club. Kitty Veale entertained Friday morning with a Coffee, courtesy for Margaret Deer who is leaving her circle of friends soon. Margaret's husband, Z. B. is to be associated as a salesman for, we believe, a farm implement company but maybe their new home won't be any farther away than Amarillo or Tulsa. Margaret's famous Pizza pies, which gained renown at the annual St. Margaret's Christmas Bazaar will be sadly missed, too. But, maybe the guild members can persuade her to ship some back come Bazaar-time again. Van Vanderberg entertained on Tuesday evening with a charming introduction party and bridal shower for Carolyn Barrett. The pretty, petite bride of Dick Barrett they formerly lived in Dallas, but plan to make Pampa their home. They were married not quite a year ago in Mexico. Freda LeMond, pleased as punch (pardon the cliché) at her son's selection of a bride, looked perfectly stunning at the party wearing a Valentine Red cocktail dress with her dark hair forming a heart-shape around her face, she looked like a picture of the prettiest valentine you would send your favorite Valentine. (By the way, do you have your Valentine hints in to the man of your heart?) never to early to start. Van, the perfect hostess, was attractive in a smoke-blue chiffon which brought out the pretty blue of her eyes. Assisting hostesses for the party were Mmes. Tom L. Lindsey, Burtout Doucette, Parks Brumley, Norman Fulps, Melvin Watkins, W. E. Jordan, Irene McElroy, and Barbara Zigler. Another charming new couple in town are Betty and Earl Horitor, who have just recently moved here from Kansas City and are making their home out in the 2400 block on Rosewood Lane. Earl is associated with the Hughes Co. nice to have them here. Isn't it wonderful of Anna Lee Gordon to open her lovely home on Tuesday for the Open House Benefit for the March of Dimes. And for all day, too, the benefit is being sponsored by Twentieth Century Club, but all those attending will be directly responsible for helping to put the current campaign across. Johnny Gikas, Viola Jordan and E. Roy Smith have done such a good job spear-heading the Drive. They've really dedicated themselves to putting the thing across and it seems they have had wonderful corporation.

WHAT'S THIS WE HEAR about the George Cree's and the Chick Hickmans planning a tiger safari? Can it really and truly be true? We quake at the thought of it! Our adventuresome spirit as pertains to Wild Life would extend only as far as sitting in the Zebra Room of New York's "21" undaunted by the recent ski article in the current issue of Life magazine the N. J. Ellis' and the Bob Clements with a party of friends, are planning a ski trip this next weekend. And off this weekend to partake of the revelry of the New Orleans Mardi-Gras on Shrove-Tuesday are Sandra Sullins, Marilyn Jo Wells, Vicki Osborne, Jerome Weinheimer, Paul Eakin and Don Dillman. We hear that our Top o' Texas Rodeo Sweetheart, Bobbie Lee Andis, is doing us proud at the Southwest Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth this week. Not only with her riding prowess but also with the beautiful wardrobe of a cowgirl outfits she took along to wear during the show. Really glamorous western fashion. Christine Jones is up to her neck with enthusiasm for the Legal Secretaries Club, which, we understand, has been organized for a while but has not really got to rolling in the fashion it should. The legal secretaries are planning a meeting for Monday night in the Pampa Hotel and will have a new lady law degree holder in town, Vauncine McGee, who will guest speak on "Lincoln the Lawyer". The B. G. Gordons are off this week end to visit with their bride-daughter, Joyce, and her husband, Howard in Fort Worth. The C. R. Hoovers have been busy this week getting settled in the Frank Carter home on Mary Ellen, which they have recently purchased. Bessie Lewis has been in Austin this week attending to some District PTA business. Saw Leora Rose this week looking as beautiful as the gorgeous bouquet of dark, dark red roses on her desk in the First National Bank. Some admirer had gifted her on her birthday. There was another bouquet of yellow roses on the desk of A. A. Schuneman. Don't know the occasion unless it was an overflow of Leora's gift. We hear that Margie Moore and Martha Holt's Girl Scout Troop have a very exciting trip planned for August. A week's camping trip to Colorado. You'll be hearing more about this.

STORK'S EYE VIEW there's a new sound at Tom and Charlene Atkin's home, which someday may develop into an excellent baritone or tenor. They welcomed their first born, David Thomas, just recently. Our congratulations to David for selecting such fine parents. And there's a new feminine member in the Smiley Henderson household. No less proud are Nina and Walter Spoonemore of their new grandson, Todd Adams. Todd's parents are Bill and Marilyn Spoonemore of Spearman. And Todd's little sister is "Pamie". About to "bust buttons" with pride are the Wesley L. Bruces over the arrival of a granddaughter, Rebecca Susan to Boyd and June Thurman in Amarillo. We always wax sentimental over the arrival of new babies, and in waxing, we remember "Where did you come from, Baby dear?" "Out of the Everywhere into the here." "Where did you get those eyes of blue?" "I touched the sky as I came through." "Why did you come to us, Baby dear?" "God thought of you and so I am here." And along same lines, happy wedding anniversary wishes to Hal and Mary Boynton. Cecil and Zelma Williams. The Dr. Joe Donaldsons. Richard and Dorothy Stowers. They all passed happy marriage milestones this week.

We can still remember the happy little jingle we concluded this Valentine Week column with last year. "Roses are red, Violets are blue. We like writing this column for you. The verse really doesn't merit a repetition. . . but the sentiments do. . . for we still, do. . . Love, Peg."

United Council Of Churchwomen Set Friday 13th For World Day Of Prayer

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article was taken from "Concern" Presbyterian Church magazine, written by Margaret T. Applegarth, author of "Twelve Baskets Full" and former chairman for nine years of the National World Day of Prayer Committee.

Neither the Navy, the Army, nor the Air Force has been able to invent a satellite which can encircle the globe in eighty minutes. But never underestimate the power of any church woman to do it easily on any first Friday in Lent. For it is proper to remember that Mr. Darwin, James discovered how to launch this swift and peaceful miracle as long ago as 1887. However, she made no attempt to go beyond the borders of the U.S.A. Hers was the era when hundreds of thousands of Europeans and Orientals were landing annually on our national doorstep, lured by tall tales of untold treasure and a life of luxury; only to be tragically betrayed, overcrowded, overworked, underpaid.

Other denominations began joining Presbyterians in an annual Day of Prayer for national mission work, seeking divine power to relieve such misery.

A few years later, a dramatic enlargement in range occurred when two Baptist leaders, traveled through the Orient. Both Mrs. Helen Barrett Montgomery and Mrs. Henry W. Peabody had a genius for seeing things! They noticed that every churchwoman was exactly like every other churchwoman. Earth turned out to be simply One Family, with identical concerns. They saw women in India, China, Japan, and Burma praying about stupendous problems of poverty and oppression in their native lands. So the two world travelers sensibly suggested: Why not acknowledge this sisterhood by meeting on one day for intercession, thus sharing one another's burdens.

This idea caught fire; and, by 1920, the first Friday in Lent was chosen as the World Day of Prayer. Almost at once leaders in Great Britain, Canada, Germany, Holland, France, Australia, New Zealand, South America, and Africa asked to join in its observance.

Every year a different country prepares the 30 minute service of worship. They aim toward 30 minutes, but hardly a Committee achieves such neat brevity. No matter! The glory lies in the thousands of mimeographed copies mailed out early to each participating country in ample time to be translated, printed, and distributed to local groups. Ready for the first Friday in Lent. This year, it falls on February 13th. The 40-hour drama actually will begin on Thursday the 12th; how Europe, both the Americans and ever, for as you yourself will be Africans will have prayed, each going to bed, Friday morning in their own tongue. And Friday will have dawned on the Island of night, after you sleep, the closing Tonga in the Pacific Ocean. The observance will be held on Little famous Queen Shoote herself will St. Lawrence Island, off Alaska, meet with her people in prayer 30 miles from the Arctic Circle, for all the rest of us. Then the here a congregation once studied perishable beauty of the "Blessed company of all True Believers" most neglected, homeless, church-will start finding us each to each less people on earth. . . finally ecumenically. . . holding meetings of the Unlight will break over the Fiji Islands of New Zealand. Multiply this devotion by others, next over Australia and on over learning to say "Our. . . Our Father, thousands of towns you never heard of, each alive in the wonder of something swifter than a sat-of-the-Kingdom-of-God coming. . . chills sweeps around over a 25-day ends India, 600 mile circumference in 30 minutes. . . Dr. Doris Vendrell, Guest Speaker, For Parent Education Club Meeting Tuesday

Parent Education Club met Tuesday at 2:45 in the home of Mrs. Gene Fatheree, 1717 N. Russell. During a brief business meeting conducted by Mrs. Warren Fatheree, president, Mrs. Joe Reid was elected to membership.

Mrs. Robert K. Swanson introduced Dr. Doris Vendrell, speaker, on the topic, "Health of The Small Child."

In opening remarks, Dr. Vendrell stated people often differ in their ideas of a pediatrician. "Actually he is a specialist in children's diseases, growth and development from birth through adolescence. He teaches as much as he cures."

Dr. Vendrell continued, "Pre-natal care is just as important as the first nine months. Neo-natal period, which is the first four weeks of a baby's life, is very important. Here the baby faces things he never faces again. During this period 80 percent of deaths occur and one-half occur the first 24 hours. Deaths are caused by prematurity, birth defects and disease and infection."

"Babies at this age," she continued, "are different. They have no normal pulse rate nor normal kidney function, and they bleed easily. There is a difference in their muscle tone, digestive track and glands."

"Infancy is the first two years of a child's life. Here the most rapid growth takes place. They are less resistant to infection, subject to contagious diseases, but accidents cause the most deaths."

"A normal child is every child charts are often misunderstood. Normal on the chart means only 50 percent of children tested on any given subject accomplish the normal. Growth is natural increase in size. Development of children is emotional, mental, the motor field increasing in structure and function. Certain growth fields are never by-passed."

In closing, Dr. Vendrell quoted Dr. Waldo Nelson, "Every child is an actor in a play, each phase or deed is understood only as a part of his total role and that role is meaningless except as a part of the total drama. Children and actors differ markedly in what they do in their roles. Many in comfortable security accept and play the role given to them. Many are unprepared for the part they are expected to play. Exceptional Children's Needs Discussed At PTA City Council In Austin School

City Council PTA met at 9:30 Tuesday morning in the Stephen F. Austin School with Mrs. George Spill, unit president and the hospitality committee, Mmes. Martin Stubbs, George Henderson, Gerald Carter and Don Cain, as hostesses.

D. V. Biggers, school principal, gave the opening prayer.

Mrs. R. A. Mack, council president, introduced Mrs. R. F. Forsythe as the new council secretary. Mrs. Bill Leonard gave the treasurer's report.

A nominating committee was elected to prepare a slate of officers for the 1959-60 council year, as follows: Knox Kinard, chairman; Mrs. M. B. Warden, co-chairman; Mmes. Henry Gruben, Lamar; Boyd Bennett, Baker; Shirley Nichols, Pampa Junior High; Bob Andia, Robert E. Lee; Rex Rose, Sam Houston; Darrel Hogsett, Woodrow Wilson, and Gerald Carter, Stephen F. Austin.

Mrs. B. E. Tidwell, program chairman for the council, introduced Mrs. Jack P. Foster, who discussed "Education Inclusive or Exclusive" and presented Mrs. R. K. Robertson, who spoke on "A Special Room for Special Children."

Mrs. Robertson told the group that special education exists because some children present problems which cannot be solved by general education. "The exceptional child is a child with differences. It is the differences with which parents must adjust, and it is the differences which have dictated legislation at the state and federal levels. Main divisions in Pampa are mentally deficient, mentally handicapped and slow learners."

"Mentally deficient, often called the trainable child," Mrs. Robertson said, "can never be independent economically or socially. He cannot learn academic skills to any degree of competency. The mentally handicapped are so intellectually retarded that it is impossible to educate them in regular classrooms. But they can acquire sufficient knowledge and abilities in academic areas that the skills can and will become usable tools. They may become self-sufficient adults."

Mrs. Foster closed the program by stating that there is a great need for classrooms for these children. She reported that Mrs. Robertson was teaching eight children five days a week and that there is a need for more space and teachers who are qualified to help these children who need it so badly.

Those present were Mmes. B. E. Tidwell, William Leonard, W. M. Lemmons, Rex Rose, K. H. Cambern, J. R. Holloway, J. Kirk Duncan, E. E. Shelhamer, George Snell, Martin Stubbs, Don E. Cain, Elmer Darnell, Boyd Bennett, J. H. Trotter, Warren Jackson, T. M. Brooks, C. O. Strickland, Harry Gordon, C. S. Cobb, E. A. McLennan, Henry Gruben, Walter L. Book Reviewed At Parish Meet

The book "A New Way of the Cross" was reviewed by Mrs. Wayne Howell for the Parish Council of Holy Soul's Church recently in Parish Hall.

"Soul of Christ be my sanctification. Body of Christ fill all my veins!" was the exclamation in connection with each of the fourteen Stations of the Cross.

Further contemplation of each station written by Rev. Fr. Raymond, O.C.S.O., was read by Mrs. Howell while full view of the artistic works of John Andrew was shown to the 30 members and guests present.

"As a lenten devotional, I highly recommend 'A New Way of the Cross,' was Mrs. Howell's opening statement.

The observance is the outstanding event of the beauty world each year. During this Week, cosmetologists emphasize their year-round program of activities, special services to their communities, in addition to professional beauty care.

One example of the civic services is an institutional welfare program with volunteers from local beauty salons donating their talents to give personalized professional beauty care to patients and residents confined to hospitals and various institutions. The uplift of their beauty care to the morale of patients has been lauded for its therapeutic benefits and endorsed by hospitals throughout the nation. It has also been of tremendous help to lighten the work of staff personnel at many institutions.

Other public services to be conducted during National Beauty Salon Week will be fashion shows, lectures and demonstrations before women's groups with tips and information to help all women with their beauty grooming.

And the very next day, the World Day of Prayer offerings start their delicious visible miracles of maintaining established Christian work and invisibly creating divine new centers on earth, wherever love is needed.

EDITORS NOTE - Local World Day of Prayer services will be held at 1 a.m. in the First Methodist Church and at 9:30 a.m. in the First Presbyterian Church on Feb. 13.

YOU and YOUR HOME by Jack Foster

CURTAIN CALL
 Draperies and curtains play a more significant role in home decoration today than ever before. This is due in large measure to the structural importance that architects are currently giving windows. Generally speaking, windows are much more numerous and a great deal larger than heretofore, and it is not at all uncommon to see entire walls made of glass. When this occurs, the draperies become an important decorative factor.
 When planning your window treatments, the first thing to be decided is the general effect you wish to create. If you desire a quiet, spacious atmosphere, then the draperies will be treated as part of the background — colors close or identical to the wall color, and if pattern is used, it will be unobtrusive.
 If you prefer a more vivacious effect, you will then treat the draperies as part of the foreground — give them importance in their own right.
 Bold-patterned linen that picks up the colors in the foreground has been used for the draperies in the sitting room sketched. One chair cover matches the draperies. Large windowless wall has been painted white to lighten the room and give variety to the background. Other walls are sea-gull grey which matches the carpet.
 Our experienced decorators are available whether you need advice on draperies, color schemes, or the designing of your complete house. We cordially invite you to avail yourself of this professional service whenever the need arises. Do come in real soon.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Do you think it is wrong for a man who is married and has three children to go out with other women as long as it doesn't interfere with his home life? Please say it is all right, because I am that man and I swear to you that I love my wife. I only see these women once or twice a week. Please don't use my right name. Just sign it —

ONE LOVE: What do you think the "forsaking all others" means in the marriage vow? Skip the "other women" and call on your pastor. He'd be glad to explain your part of the marriage agreement.

DEAR ABBY: Our organization gave a party. Among the guests were some single people. As the evening progressed some married couples got going with jokes. Some were cute at first, but later they got pretty filthy. My husband thought this was great, and laughed until he fell off his chair and was all for telling a few of his own. I stopped him, saying in view of the fact there were unmarried guests, I didn't think it was proper. By this time the jokes weren't fit for mixed company. My husband said the single ones knew more than the married ones. In a situation like this, would you get up and go home, or sit and pretend to enjoy it?

DEAR MRS. A: Neither I'd speak up! When a party starts to show signs of "getting rough", whoever calls a halt uses good judgment.

DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend kisses me because he likes to taste my lipstick. This makes me very mad. What should I do?

DEAR ELSIE: If you are over 21... kiss and make up!

DEAR ABBY: My problem is financial in a way. We cannot afford to have two birthday parties for each child as we have five children. The reason why we have two parties is because my parents and my in-laws are not speaking and haven't for years. In order to have all the grandparents enjoy the children's birthdays I have to make two parties. I'd like to have just one but I don't want fights and arguments. I'd appreciate knowing how to accomplish this.

NOT RICH: Get your parents and in-laws together and tell them it's time they grew up. Make ONE party and invite them all. If they can't get along — let them all stay home.

Tropic Fashions For Winter Trips

NEW YORK (NEA)—Deep midwinter, with its snow, sleet and freezing temperatures, is the time when most of us think longingly of the tropics.

Some women feel that the winter vacation is more restful than two weeks in summer. And accordingly, they take off for Florida or Puerto Rico or Bermuda, there to acquire a tan, swim and gaze at blue horizons with winter-weary eyes.

Since the majority of these travelers are women who work for a living, their wardrobes for the tropics are planned to serve a second turn next summer. This means clever buying with the long-range point of view which avoids very high fashion. It's the kind of buying which turns to the fashion classics which have been newly adapted to the present scene.

We show two such here. The abstract print (left) in dacron and cotton has short sleeved bodice with wrap-around sash. Shirtsleeve dress takes on new significance—right through lavish use of embroidery on the bodice done in a rose-and-trellis pattern. Fabric is dacron-and-cotton in mint green.

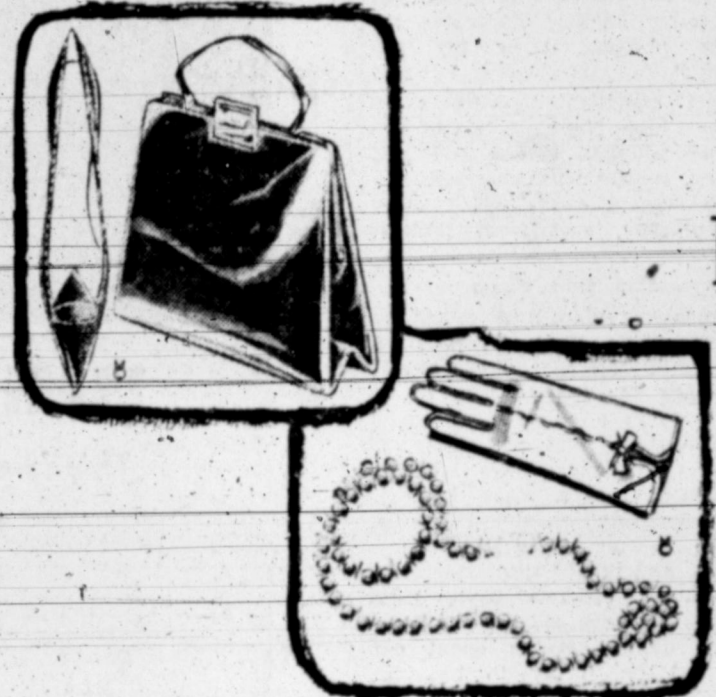

Cream-style cottage cheese is ideal for older folks who may have dental or digestive difficulties. point out Meadow Gold nutritionists. Cottage cheese is easy to digest, quickly assimilated and a nourishing food.

Labor's Stormy Petrel Going Through Period Of Peace

Personality Spotlight
United Press International
United Mine Workers President

John L. Lewis—once the stormiest figure on the American labor scene—has had a relatively peaceful career the past few years.

In fact, it took a major illness to bring labor's "stormy petrel" back into the limelight. Perhaps this is because the United Mine Workers Union—his headquarters—has gone out on strike against the coal industry since 1949.

Lewis will be 79 years old Feb. 12.

Age and health aren't the real explanation of Lewis' quiet period of recent years. Rather, Lewis and the coal operators have been working in concert to bring the industry out of a perilous period of "slackening demand for coal."

As impressive as the recent era of peace may be, it is probable that history will remember Lewis as the labor leader who for more than a quarter of a century battled presidents, Congress, courts, industry, and the rest of labor to promote the nation's coal miners.

Survives Mine Explosion
Born at Lucas, Iowa, Lewis was the eldest of six sons of Welsh immigrant parents. His father was a coal miner, and Lewis himself went to work in the mines at the age of 12. He survived a miner's greatest dread—an underground explosion.

A dramatic 240-pound man whose flowing hair and bush eyebrows became world famous, Lewis still dreams of the day when men no longer will have to go underground to dig coal. He thinks solar energy may provide the answer.

Lewis has described mining as a "mortician's paradise. Life in the mines is naked and elemental. Relations are not cushioned by sophistry."

Eloquent Phrase-Maker
Lewis has been pleading the miners' case since 1919 when he became UMW president. He pleaded it, in his own words, "not in the quavering tones of a feeble mendicant asking for alms, but in the thundering voice of the captain of a mighty host, demanding the rights to which free men are entitled."

Lewis is an eloquent phrase-maker. He quotes the Bible and Shakespeare at length and has all the marks of a scholar in his writing and use of language.

Most of his spare time is spent in reading, although he likes to take drives in the country for recreation. Lewis was married in 1907 to Myrtle Edith Bell, a school teacher at Lucas, Iowa. She died in 1942. Lewis still lives in their historic Alexandria, Va., home only minutes away from UMW headquarters in Washington.

His social life now is confined to visiting his two children and two grandchildren. His daughter, Kathryn, is confined to a New York hospital with a heart ailment. A son, Dr. John L. Lewis Jr., is on the staff of Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore.

Lewis runs the union's affairs from an old-fashioned office at mine workers headquarters. He is paid $50,000 a year. Until recently he drove himself to work in a Cadillac.

He chews or smokes from 15 to 20 cigars daily.

Warren Serene In Supreme Court

Personality Spotlight
United Press International
EARL WARREN
Chief Justice

Chief Justice Earl Warren, a silver-haired 6-footer, appears the essence of good humor.

When he says he is not at odds with President Eisenhower, the statement is easily believed. The 62-year-old Supreme Court Justice doesn't look like the feudin' type.

Last December he missed the annual White House dinner in his honor because he was ill with a virus infection, it was said at the court. Mrs. Warren attended alone.

When Warren presides over public sessions of the Supreme Court, he invariably welcomes new attorneys with a friendly word. He puts his questions pleasantly, even though they may have a sharp point.

To court visitors, he is a charming host.

Former California Governor
Warren is now in his sixth year of service on the high bench. A former governor and attorney general of California, he was the first chief justice from west of the Mississippi.

Asked then about his political philosophy, he said, "I am by nature conservative but I do like to make progress."

Then, quoting Lincoln "I'm a slow walker but I never walk backwards."

His critics might quarrel with this self assessment. Since taking his oath of office in October, 1953, Warren has emerged as head of a revived "liberal wing" in the court.

The most controversial decision of the "Warren court" was the school segregation ruling of 1954. This, and other Warren opinions, have been clear, unencumbered by legalism.

Called "Thaddeus Stevens" in July, 1957, Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) referred to the Chief Justice in a Senate floor speech as a "modern Thaddeus Stevens," who is destroying the American form of government. Stevens, a congressman of reconstruction days, is a name hated in the South.

Sens. James O. Eastland (D-Miss.) and the late Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) accused Warren of following the Communist Party line.

Warren meets such attacks mostly with smiles.

The Chief Justice was recently in the news when it became known that he had dropped his membership in the American Bar Association. He has declined to say why.

Warren is intensely concerned with federal court administrative problems, deplored the "choking congestion" in lower tribunals. The judicial conference, which he heads, keeps pressing Congress to authorize more federal judgeships.

State Will Make Perryton Survey

PERRYTON (Sp)—An engineering survey will be made by the State Highway Commission to determine the best route for a proposed highway loop around Perryton. If the loop is approved, work should be started in about a year. The purpose of the loop is to keep heavy trucks, especially those loaded with explosives, out of the downtown area.

A meeting was held with the State Commission in Austin recently. Those attending from Perryton were Commissioners Fay Savage, Virgil Olmstead, Ivan Day and George Yates; City Manager J. B. Whigham Jr.; Mayor Drew Ellis, councilman I. R. Buchanan, Chamber of Commerce Manager John Mayfield; The judicial conference, which he heads, keeps pressing Congress to authorize more federal judgeships.

A Message from Your Neighborhood Pharmacy

There are many good reasons why you should always obtain your medicines and health-aids from a pharmacist.

The next time you are tempted to get them elsewhere remember these important facts.

We are taught how to protect and preserve potency. Medicines must be carefully stored to insure best action. Some must not be exposed to light. Others must be kept away from heat. Only a pharmacist studies the proper methods.

Every pharmacy is regulated by law. We welcome the unexpected visits of inspectors who make certain we have fresh high quality medicines.

Our professional reputation insures your satisfaction. Pharmacy's Code of Ethics directs us to consider your welfare more important than any immediate greater profits. We can advise you about precautions, that are often necessary when taking medicines or using health-aids.

The prices we charge are no greater. Super-markets or variety stores do not charge less for medicines, tooth pastes, shampoos or the other health-aids we have traditionally supplied. They are not open the long hours we find are necessary to make certain medicines available for your emergency need. Few of them will deliver. None of them can give you a pharmacist's personal, attentive, safer service.

Make this resolution. Since the prices we charge are the same and the personal service and safety we supply is better, get all your medicines and health-aids from us.

We will appreciate your preference.

A New Use Found For Champagne

WOMAN TO WOMAN
By MARY PRIME
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—When you get a bucket of champagne (real), nestled in "ice" of crushed rock candy, Candy "nails" are set in band of icing. A wood effect is painted on with coffee on a whipped cream surface.

"It takes me one hour to paint the cake—with knot holes," Greenberg said in an interview.

The cake is one of many fabulous desserts which he markets around the world from three stores in Manhattan and Scarsdale, N.Y.

Greenberg began baking as a child in Cedarhurst, Long Island, because his mother, a dress designer, didn't like to cook. He experimented first on plain butter cookies, then graduated to cakes which he sold to the local women's exchange.

Served As Mess Sergeant
Later he became a mess sergeant in the Army, taught field cooking at Fort Bragg and was sent to the European theater during World War II.

After the war, he set up shop as Desserts, Inc. For seven years he did the baking and decorating but today he just decorates because "baking tries my patience."

Most complicated desserts include a huge Napoleon tart of layers of whipped cream and puff pastry, topped with cherries.

His biggest cakes which serve 175 persons, cost from $174 to $200.

Has Had Flops
Greenberg also does cakes on special order. He has turned out a cake decorated with a small painting for the opening of an art gallery; a golfer's cake with a pole, flag, real golf ball and three china caterpillars blocking the path; and a stock broker's cake decorated with ticker-tape.

Has he ever had a flop?
"Oh, and how!" said Greenberg the father of two boys. "But friends still are perturbed to have us to dinner. We've spent our married life trying to convince people we like anything good."

"My wife cooks admirably, and I cook everything from soup to nuts. I invent recipes. But the other night I floored my wife. I made a curry and actually had a cookbook open."

BOY AND CALF
Billy Barnett

Panhandle Boy Tells How He Scrambled For Calf

The following account was written by a young Panhandle boy who got a calf in the calf scramble held in connection with the 1958 Top O' Texas Rodeo: "His name is Billy Barnett. He is a member of the Panhandle Future Farmers of America Chapter and will show his calf in the Top Livestock Show here in March.

"On August 10, 1958 after the calf scramble I was a tired, dirty and happy fellow. The calf scramble was over and I was among the lucky boys. I knew I had a good calf as soon as I grabbed him. One that could buck, kick, and drag like this calf had to be good.

"My calf rushed up to the feed trough early the morning of the eighth and has kept his head in it every since. I started him on milk pellets, calf feed and rolled milo. I fed bundles free choice through out the feeding period.

"After the warm up period of approximately twenty days my calf was eating about 12-14 lbs. of this ration per day. On December 1, I changed from calf feed to horse and mule feed, rolled milo, and oats. I have also fed wormy medicine with my ration all the way. My calf has gained approximately one and three-fourths pounds per day on feed.

"It is men like John Sims who donated my calf for the scramble that make me boys recognize the fact that the men of our area are interested in us. I have had a lot of fun and educational experience feeding this calf. I am looking for-

Top O' Texas Lost Settler On Titanic

By TRACY CARY

The tragic sinking of the Danish freighter Hans Hedtoft in the icy North Atlantic may seem remote to the land-locked Panhandle. But there are still those here who remember the horror that April night in 1912 when another lacerating iceberg sent 150 passengers of the White Star Liner "Titanic" to a freezing, watery grave.

While others mourned in Astor, Guggenheim or Strauss, the people of the Plains talked in stunned whispers about the fate of their neighboring rancher, Sir Alfred Rowe, who was returning from a trip to his native England aboard the doomed ship. He was never heard from again.

Sir Alfred and his younger brothers, Vincent and Bernard, began the 60,000 acre RO Ranch located near Clarendon in 1879. Known to the Plains cattlemen as "Sir Alfred" because of his fine aristocratic bearing, Rowe managed the ranch, usually at long range. He was somewhat erratic about his many trips, leaving in charge a local foreman named John Petrie.

Though a good cowhand, even a college graduate, Petrie was known as an enterprising rustler. In 1883, the Cowmen's Association, after discoveries by a cowboy detective, charged Petrie with rustling. The Rowe's, in doubt, kept Petrie on, risking expulsion by the Association. They later discharged him when convinced of his guilt.

News that Petrie was to be convicted spread 200 miles across the Panhandle and in 36 hours 24 known rustlers left immediately for "health reasons."

When the trial for Petrie and four of his men was announced in Clarendon in July, 1883, some of their unsavory friends from Tascosa poured in for jury duty. They came in two wagons loaded with whiskey. A half dozen rustlers and two or three shady ladies quickly made camp across the creek from the courthouse.

That night, Judge Frank Willis received a skull-and-crossbones cartoon, threatening the court. The trial was held the next day with Colonel Charles Goodnight and 18 armed men standing guard to insure a decent trial. The tension was awesome.

The jury fate picked, played both sides. It returned enough in-

GRAY COUNTY Soil Conservation District News

By GLENN FLOYD

A good farm or ranch pond can furnish a great deal of food and recreation if properly stocked with fish. If you have a pond on your ranch, now is the time to order fish provided by the Federal Hatchery at Santa Rosa.

The pond should have at least 1/4 inch surface area, two feet below spillway level. The pond should be 10 feet deep over 25 percent of its surface area with its drainage area protected from excessive siltage.

A pond should be free of all fish prior to stocking. If rough fish are present, they should be killed out with rotenone. If the pond is muddy, it can usually be cleared by applying 200 pounds of cottonseed meal and/or pounds of superphosphate per surface area.

The number and kinds of fish are determined by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service who supply the fish. Bass and bluegill or channel catfish are available.

For best results the pond should be fertilized with eight pounds of nitrogen and eight pounds of phosphorus per surface acre. Application should begin in March and be continued each week until the water turns green or brown. Undesirable pond weeds may be controlled with sodium arsenite.

Fishing can begin after the first spawning season and balanced so as to remove about four pounds of bream for each pound of bass. A pond properly fertilized should produce over 400 pounds of fish per acre annually.

For further information, or assistance in ordering fish for your pond, contact your local Soil Conservation Service office assisting the Gray County Soil Conservation District.

Financing The Reds

We are not exactly enamored of the idea of sharing the wealth of the people of this nation with various and sundry politicians around the globe. Whether we like it or not, however, this has become a fixed policy. And even in the year of Mr. Eisenhower's declared "austerity" budget of $7.1 billion, enormous sums of our taxes are going to be channeled abroad for the benefit of his governmental pals.

The Skinning Business

We are indebted to the American Progress Foundation for a splendid reminder of the way the federal government in Washington operates even supposedly profitable undertakings at a dead loss to the taxpayers.

The Pampa Daily News

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is not license. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, The Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

Jobs For All! I always read everything that Percy L. Greaves Jr. writes. I have never found him inconsistent with the moral principles of the Decalogue and the Declaration of Independence.

It is hard to think of anything more important than to have more people understand what will produce jobs for all at an ever-increasing wage. Here is the way Mr. Greaves puts it: "Life is an unfinished series of wanting things. From the day we are born to the day we die, we want things we don't have. If we didn't, we wouldn't be normal human beings. We would have no reason to eat, work, or get married. All life is a struggle to satisfy more of our wants."

Now here's a curious fact. Beginning about the same time we began shipping money and goods to these communist nations, the Soviet Union embarked upon its own foreign aid program. By a strange coincidence, and according to the figures available, the Soviet Union has advanced a sum of right around $1.5 billion to nations it has endeavored to stir up against us. Apparently, our willingness to finance some of these socialist states has made it possible for the master socialist state to pend an equal amount in trouble basking at selected places.

No Apparent Weakening Of Moscow-Peiping Relations

Foreign News Commentary
By PHIL NEWSON
UPI Foreign News Editor

In the long run it seems inevitable that Red Chinese and Soviet Russian interests must conflict. Some differences already are apparent.

But for the short term, there is no reason to believe there has been any weakening of the Moscow-Peiping axis. Each remains too dependent upon the other.

Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai voiced the party line when he told the 21st Communist Party Congress in Moscow:

"The Soviet Union and China share a common fate and joint interests. Their friendship is eternal and unbreakable."

Yet even in the last two years profound changes have occurred in relationships between the two.

The greatest is the fact that in that time Red China has emerged from the status of weak satellite of the Soviet Union to full partnership.

Expert Influence
That change in status has enabled the Red Chinese to exert great influence on Kremlin policy decisions. At times apparently even possessing the power to force Soviet premier and party leader Nikita Khrushchev to reverse himself.

These are several notable examples. In 1956-57, it was Chinese party leader Mao Tse-tung who encouraged Polish leader Wladyslaw Gomulka to take a more independent line in Poland and forced Khrushchev to swallow his own dislike for the Polish leader.

Last summer, Khrushchev brought every pressure to bear to bring about a summit conference among the United States, Britain, France and Russia. But after a hurry-up, secret trip to Peiping, Khrushchev abruptly reversed his stand.

Khrushchev has made no secret of his dislike for the Red Chinese commune plan which has engulfed some 500 million Chinese in a gigantic push to speed agricultural and industrial production.

But in the 21st Congress,

Khrushchev had to give lip service to the commune plan, saying it was a permissible instrument for "building Socialism."

Considerable has been made of the fact that of all the Communist party leaders, only Mao of Red China and Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia did not attend the Moscow congress. Tito long has been at odds with Moscow and his absence was anticipated.

It may be that Mao's health, never good, was got such that he could make the trip. Or it may be that he could not bring himself to take a public position against to Khrushchev and to say as Chou En-lai did say: "The practice of the Soviet people is showing the whole world the way to transition to Communism."

But whatever their differences, it is essential now that the two present a united front to the outside world.

Needs A Friendly China
Khrushchev could not afford an unfriendly China at his back while fomenting a new crisis in Berlin.

A public falling out between the world's two greatest Communist powers would create a hurricane such as to make Tito's defection seem a minor breeze.

Further, despite the great percentage increase in Red China's agricultural and industrial output, she still is dependent upon de-

Lolita Deacon Embarrassed By Name Of Book And Town

LOLITA, Tex. (UPI)—A deacon master General Arthur E. Sumner of the First Baptist Church of Lolita, embarrassed over what he called a "naughty, sex-filled book" with the same name as the town, after Lolita Reese, grand daughter of Texas patriot C. K. Reese, circulated a petition to re-name the town Jackson.

"We feel that our town has been smeared by this book," deacon R. T. Walker, 71, said.

"Lolita," the novel, was written by Vladimir Nabokov, a native of Russia who now is professor of English at Columbia University.

The book first was published in Europe when Nabokov failed to find a publisher in the United States to take it. It later was the best seller list for months.

Since the South Texas town of Lolita is unincorporated, Walker's petition is addressed to Post-Newsweek Publishing Co., publishers from Eastern Europe and upon Soviet Russian technical and financial help.

The long run outlook may be something else. There can be no such thing as co-equal dictators. One must lead and one must follow. And Mao shows no disposition to follow indefinitely.

"The book is one of the most controversial and yet one of the most beautifully written to come off the presses in recent years." But Walker, speaking for the 800 residents of Lolita, said he could find nothing beautiful about the book of the same name.

"The toughest break our town ever had is that this highly controversial book bears the same name," he said. "Knowing what a lovely little lady Lolita Reese, middle-aged man's love affair with a very young girl," Walker's petition says.

Lolita, the town, is a farming and ranching community some 15 miles from Edna, the Jackson county seat.

The Edna Herald, the county's weekly newspaper, said in an article concerning the book: "Fame or infamy, depending on the way you look at it, has come to the little town of Lolita in Jackson county. It's all on account of a book, 'Lolita,' by novelist Vladimir Nabokov, which recently was banned in Australia. Quite obviously the hamlet of Lolita is absolutely innocent of any connection with the book."

Texas Packers Subject Of New Study

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI)—A special report by two agricultural experts today showed that it takes more than 900 slaughterhouses to provide Texans with fresh and cured meat.

They range in size from small establishments, run by individuals, to commercial packing plants, which butcher at least 500 "animal units" a month.

An "animal unit" is one cow or calf, two hogs or five sheep or goats. Eleven plants in Texas slaughtered more than 4,500 "animal units" a month in 1956, the authors reported.

The authors are Jarvis E. Miller, assistant professor in the department of agricultural economics and sociology at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, and Donald R. Hammons, industrial engineer in the transportation and facilities branch of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Marketing Research Division.

They reported that cattle, sheep, goats and hogs are bought from terminal markets in Fort Worth, San Antonio or Houston, from 130 livestock auction markets throughout the state or directly from farmers and ranchers.

"With the exception of hogs, most Texas packers usually are able to obtain their livestock requirements within the state," Miller and Hammons reported.

"Large numbers of hogs are imported into Texas for slaughter."

Hog Shortage
Figures in 1955, they said, show that only about half of the slaughterhouses handle hogs, because of the shortage of them in the state.

"A number of plants purchase incured pork cuts such as bellies, shoulders and hams from plants located in the Midwest," they reported.

The greatest concentrations of packing plants are in the Dallas-Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio areas, because they are major population centers and major livestock marketing centers.

DOCK AT HALIFAX
LONDON (UPI)—The luxury liner Queen Elizabeth will disembark passengers at Halifax, Nova Scotia, if the New York tug stricken has not been settled, a Cunard steamship lines spokesman said today.

Enzo Pinza was born in Rome, Italy, in 1892.
