Winter Wraps Arms Around Texas

Faint Signals Revive Hopes

Some Survivors From Sunk Ship May Still Be Alive

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (UPI)—Faint radio signals were reported today from the area where the Danish ship Hans Hedtoft disappeared after striking an iceberg, reviving hopes that some of the 95 persons aboard survived.

A spokesman for the owners of the cargo-passenger vessel said the signals were heard simultaneously this morning by two company ships and a radio station in Greenland. The 2,857-ton Hedtoft reported it was sinking 37 miles south of Cape Farewell, Greenland, last Friday.

However, the U.S. Coast Guard cutter Campbell reported that it had received no messages on either of the two frequencies reported for the survival radio gear on the Hedtoft. The Campbell, which is in the area of the tragedy, said it had received unintelligible dots and dashes on another frequency used as an aircraft homing beacon.

"We are unable to say whether these dots and dashes are coming from a lifeboat, but it seems highly unlikely," a Coast Guard officer in New York said.

The Royal Danish Greenland Trading Co. spokesman said the signals "might be emanating from a hand operated emergency radio sender in one of the Hedtoft's lifeboats. He said the operator apparently had little or no knowledge of the Morse code and gave no information indicating that the message came from a lifeboat.

"But that possibility cannot be excluded," the spokesman said.

Hope Almost Gone

The signals were reported to have come from a position 120 nautical miles southwest of the scene of the tragedy. A company spokesman said a lifeboat might well have drifted that distance in the 40 hours that had passed since the collision.

Although the search for the survivors by 1,000 men of six nations continued, hope had almost been given up. If any of the Hedtoft's 40 passengers and 55 crewmen could have got away, the lifeboats would have had to buck 20-foot, ice-laden seas driven by 60-mile-an-hour winds.

The owners reported Sunday that an American search plane sighted what appeared to be an overturned lifeboat drifting in the sea near Greenland. The pilot, Maj. Emerson Fitzgerald of the U.S. Air Force, described the lifeboat as white with a black stripe, which did not fit the description of the Hedtoft's boats.

Find No Trace

The U.S. Coast Guard cutter Campbell and three other vessels searched all day Sunday without finding a trace of wreckage or survivors. Four U.S. Air Force planes, a Navy P2V, and a Canadian Lancaster scanned thousands of miles of ocean without success. Search conditions were reported to be extremely dangerous.

The Hedtoft was making the return half of its maiden voyage to Greenland when she struck the iceberg Friday afternoon. A German trawler searched the scene an hour later but found no trace of the vessel, which had been described as "unsinkable" by its owners. The Hedtoft was heavily reinforced against ice damage.

Two of the passengers believed lost were Augo Lyng and Ellis Lauf, members of the Danish parliament for Greenland. They had both demanded halting of winter passenger service between Denmark and Greenland as too dangerous.

White children were in a jolly frame of mind as they trooped back to classes that had been closed since September to keep the schools from being racially mixed.

Some schools also had been vacant in two other Virginia cities.

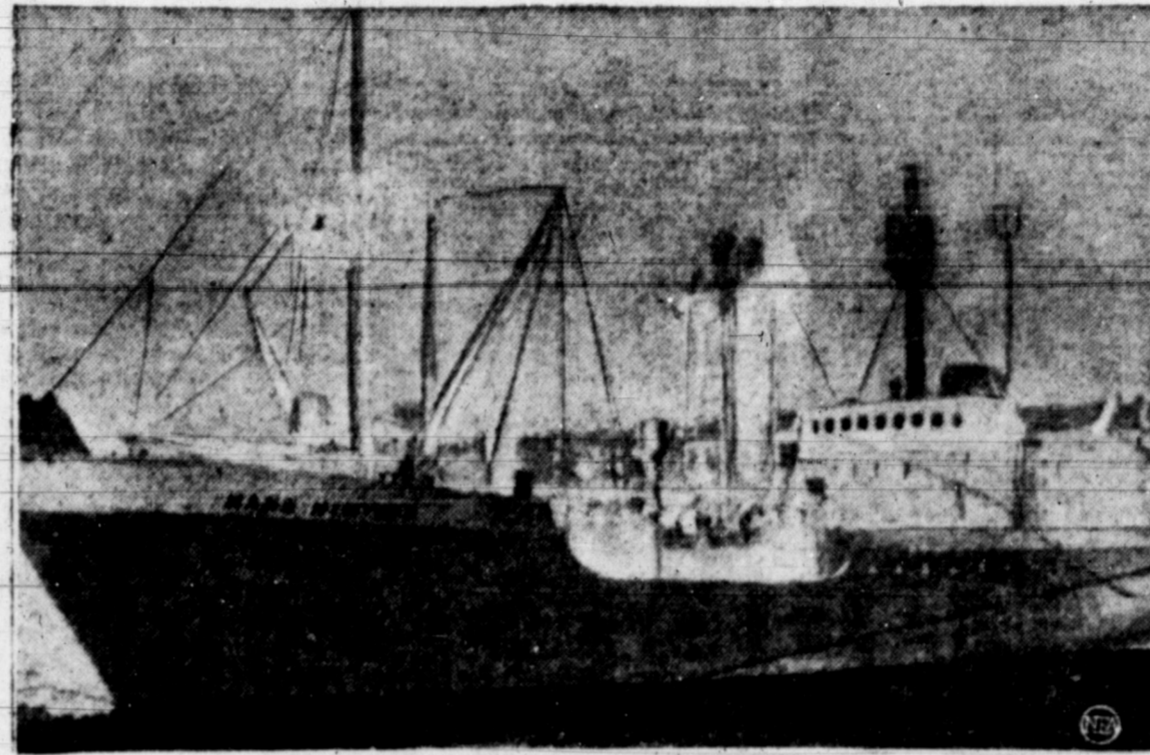

The Virginia massive resistance pattern against integration broke down following a special session of the General Assembly that enacted a program to soften the impact of the great social transition.

Breakdown of the legislative program urged by Almond, was a new law permitting the state to give tuition grants to pupils who do not want to attend integrated schools. The state compulsory school attendance law also was scrapped.

But, after almost five months without schools of any kind, the youngsters seemed in no mood for more vacation.

Four uniformed officers were on duty.

AN ICEBERG AWAITED

The Danish freighter Hans Hedtoft is shown prior to the start of her maiden west-east voyage from Greenland. The 2,857-ton vessel, carrying 95 persons, struck an iceberg in the frigid waters of the North Atlantic, 37 miles from the coast of Greenland. Faint radio signals, possibly from some of her survivors were heard this morning.

STATE ROADS ARE GLASSY

United Press International

Winter wrapped much of Texas in a dangerous sheath of ice and snow and dumped flood-spawning torrential rains on other sections today with little hope of relief before mid-week.

The ice crust ranged up to six inches thick in the mountains of West Texas, coated highways and byways with a hazardous glaze that forced closing of schools because of travel conditions—and the U. S. Weather Bureau indicated things would get worse before they got better.

All of West Texas and much of North Central Texas had either ice or snow, while rains ranging up to 5.87 inches over the week end flooded some residential sections in Houston.

Snow depths ranged up to eight inches or more, but this deep blanket seemed confined to the eastern and northeastern rim of the Texas Panhandle. Elsewhere, one to two inches of snow put a white cover over a wide area extending throughout the Panhandle and South Plains and as far southeastward as Wichita Falls.

Dozen Deaths Counted

Snow and freezing rain warnings have been issued for a 150-mile wide belt from Del Rio on the Rio Grande to the Red River above Sherman and the forecasters said the raw weather conditions would continue at least through Tuesday.

The rain, ice and snow were blamed for most of the deaths, most of them in traffic on state-slick highways. Separate crashes at George West and San Saba each claimed four lives. Three persons died in an airplane crash near Kerrville because of ice forming on the wings.

Utility lines, and shrubbery were hard hit throughout the broad belt from Texarkana southeastward through Waco to Del Rio. The loss of electric power caused added inconvenience in homes depending upon central heating because it shut off the fans which distribute the furnace heat throughout the houses.

The heaviest ice coat apparently was at Guadalupe Pass, where busy U. S. Highway 180 crosses the Delaware Mountain range between Carlisbad, N. M. and El Paso.

Freeze Area Extensive

Throughout the fringe areas of the ice storm, motorists found driving conditions tricky in that the streets and highways were free of ice and conducive to normal driving, but then suddenly they would speed onto a bridge or overpass glazed with ice.

However, from Brownwood westward to within about 100 miles of El Paso the ice was a quarter inch thick or more on all roads and driving was virtually impossible.

The heaviest snow cover was in a narrow belt stretching from bullet at the northeast corner of the Panhandle, southward through Canadian nearly to the Red River. Here the depth ranged six to eight inches.

Dalhart and Amarillo, meanwhile, had only one inch and the same amount prevailed at Lubbock and much of the South Plains, although Floydada reported three inches. Mulesboro, Matador and Ralls had two inches and Littlefield 1.5 inches. Wichita Falls had two inches.

Virginia School Integration Starts

By JACK V. FOX
United Press International

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI)—Racial integration of Virginia schools began today peacefully and smoothly.

Norfolk and Arlington schools led the way in the historic swing away from complete segregation of public schools.

There was not the slightest incident at either place in the first minutes after Negro children entered previously all-white schools.

Virginia authorities, led by Gov. J. Lindsay Almond, had pledged to resist integration as long as possible. But after the courts chopped down every barrier erected by the state Almond himself set the keynote for a peaceful transition. He said he would permit no trouble.

And there was none.

White Students Happy

The huge seaport and Navy center here at Norfolk integrated six schools without the slightest incident. Seventeen Negroes were enrolled at three high schools and three junior high schools.

Four Negroes were admitted to Arlington schools in Washington's suburbs, also without trouble.

White children were in a jolly frame of mind as they trooped back to classes that had been closed since September to keep the schools from being racially mixed.

Some schools also had been vacant in two other Virginia cities.

The Virginia massive resistance pattern against integration broke down following a special session of the General Assembly that enacted a program to soften the impact of the great social transition.

The rebel army judge advocate general, Humberto Sorí Marin, announced that mass war trials would begin in Havana and Santiago this week with six military tribunals trying more than 1,000 accused war criminals in the capital and 10 tribunals holding trials for 750 persons in Santiago.

Sorí Marin estimated that 3,000 to 4,000 "war criminals" were awaiting trial in Cuba's six provinces. No date has been set as yet for the appeal of Maj. Jesus Sosa Blanco, who was condemned to death on Jan. 23 following his conviction at a showcase trial in the Havana Sports Palace.

25 Escape Plane Crash; 3 Killed

By PAT CONWAY
United Press International

KERRVILLE, Tex. (UPI)—A charter C47 transport with 28 men on board, 18 inches of ice on its wings, its landing gear frozen tight and one engine out, crashed and burned Sunday night while trying to make a belly landing.

Twenty-five of the men escaped, but three were killed and the fire almost consumed the bodies. The victims were W. O. Epps, 42, Portland, Ore., first pilot; Harvey Hill, 36, Oswego, Ore., second pilot, and Idaho Air National Guardsman Robert C. Griffith, 39, Ols, Idaho.

Wittliff said the main trouble was ice on the wings and a low engine conk out and his friend, fuel supply. He explained that Basic Airman Roderick Heiler, Epps couldn't see the lights on the runway because of ice on the windshield as he tried to make an emergency belly landing at Schriener Field, Kerrville.

He overshot and was swinging about for a second approach when one of his two engines failed and the plane went down in a cedar forest.

Wittliff said that when he saw the crash knocked him unconscious for a moment. He regained his senses, forced open a door and escaped just before fire swept over the wreckage.

The plane was about 10 minutes from Kerrville—about 60 miles through it, he said, but "Somebody gave me a shove or I don't think I would have been out."

PELLET BREAKS TRAILER WINDOW

A pellet from an air gun was shot through the window of a trailer home parked at 739 Faulkner Sunday evening, police reported today, shattering glass all over the trailer's inside.

Mrs. Herman James, an occupant, said her three months-old baby could have been lying near the window but luckily was not. She said the pellet was fired from a car traveling past their trailer.

None of the survivors were injured. Their injuries were bruises and broken bones. Basic Airman Deroin S. Spratt of Boise, Idaho, was held in a Kerrville hospital.

The others were released to the Air Force, which will take them to hospitals at Lackland Air Force Base at San Antonio, 60 miles from Kerrville. None was in critical condition.

"It was a miracle that any got out alive," said Sheriff Joe S. Price.

Some 25-30 bidders are expected from companies in Dallas, Houston, Chicago, Ill.; Cincinnati, Ohio; New York City, N.Y. and other financial centers.

The bond sale will finance school projects approved in a bond election last year. Foremost on the list are a new elementary school and an addition to Pampa Senior High School.

Construction on William Barrett Travis Elementary School will begin as soon as the weather clears. The school will be constructed in the North Crest Addition and will be a replica of Stephen F. Austin Elementary School. The C. S. Lambie Construction Company of Amarillo will erect the building from plans drawn by Cantrell architects.

The High School project, involving a two-story addition, will get underway at the same time. The addition is calculated to stretch facilities to accommodate 1,500 students. The present capacity is 900 but 983 are enrolled.

Pampa High School is also due for a new metal shop and vocational agriculture shop. These contracts will be let later. The bond election also called for an addition to B. M. Baker Elementary School and remodeling of Pampa Junior High School.

The remainder of the $1,250,000 will go for the purchase of two new school sites, exclusive of the Travis site, and purchase of the present site of Pampa Junior High School.

The snow was not looked on so kindly by Amarillo contractors, ready to start work in Pampa today. The company, C. S. Lambie, has the general contract for the construction of a new elementary school. Lambie's building equipment is snowed under at the North Crest site where William Barrett Travis Elementary School will be erected.

Snow Closes Schools Here

Pampa students lost another school day, owing to snowy, icy roads today. They will not have to make it up in June, according to Knox Kinard, Pampa Public School superintendent.

The Southern Association of Classified, Accredited Schools calls for at least 75 days of instruction. However, the Pampa school schedule allows for two extra days. One of these was taken during an earlier snow. It was made up the same week, which happened to be exam time.

Students still have one day of grace.

BUT, BUT SIR!

Air Force captains William Bradbury, above, left, of Houston, Tex., and Tom Bogan, right, of Goodland, Ind., have been notified that they are among the 110 candidates for the first U. S. manned space flight. Stationed in Alaska, the officers were bewildered by their selection. They didn't apply for the assignment, they said.

School Bond Sale Set Here Thursday

Representatives of nationwide investment companies will be in Pampa Thursday to bid for $1,250,000 worth of school bonds placed on sale by the Pampa School Board. Knox Kinard, superintendent of Pampa Public Schools, has announced the bond sale for 2 p.m. Thursday in the City Commission Room.

GREAT BALLS OF SNOW!

There may not be any snow-covered part of the Panhandle that looks quite like this but it's still mighty frigid and snowy outside. This photo is of Lake Flower, near Soranac Lake, N. Y., showing a mass of large snow balls rolled by quixotic winds. A rare combination of wind, snow, temperature and humidity made the phenomenon possible.

Shaky Coalitions Rule Italy Since De Gasperi Ousted

By PHIL NEWSOM IPI Foreign News Editor The European usually professes a complete inability to understand American politics — the verbal fireworks immediately preceding an election, and the comparative peace that descends after the decision is reached. But for a real lesson in political realism and for some really mixed up politics, let's take a look at Italy which at the moment is in the hands of a caretaker government. In the Italian Chamber of Deputies are approximately a dozen political parties, ranging from extreme left to extreme right. A strong and recognizable type are the Communists. They are the second largest party in the Chamber of Deputies, but are not represented in the government. Another group is the Liberals. But, instead of leaning left as the name might imply, they are conservatives. Some Parties Split Then there are the right-wing Socialists, who have participated in the government, and the left-wing Socialists who do not. These two originally were the same party, but split when the left formed an alignment with the Communists. In the center are the Christian Democrats. They have been the governing party since World War II. But they also are split between right and left. In between the major parties are others such as the Monarchists and Neo-Fascists, who have special interests, but in general lean left, and still others who chiefly represent language differences inside the country. Out of all these divisions have grown the present difficulties wherein weeks may pass before a new government is able to take over and which may take years to solve. Tied To West Italy achieved a reputation for political stability, and tied itself closely to the West, during the eight years immediately following World War II, from 1945 to 1953. Then it was under the leadership of Alcide De Gasperi. De Gasperi ruled the Christian Democratic Party with an iron hand and ran the government the same way, even though only once did he have an absolute majority in the Chamber of Deputies. It was De Gasperi, incidentally, who crushed the Communist threat to take over the Italian government in 1948. But in 1953 De Gasperi and the Christian Democrats made a mistake. They rammed through a law which gave 65 per cent of all the first college to build a student seats in the Chamber of Deputies union building.

to the party winning 50.01 per cent of the votes in a general election. In the following election, they lost. Uneasy Coalitions Formed Shortly afterward, De Gasperi was forced to resign and a year later, died. From that day forward, only uneasy coalitions ruled in Italy, none with the power really to rule and each able to last only a matter of months. The last one, headed by Amintore Fanfani, one of Italy's most astute politicians, fell last Monday. Hence the confusion. There are predictions that in subsequent shifts two entirely new political blocs may emerge — both non-Communist, one of them "conservative" and the other "progressive." But they may be a long time in coming. Meanwhile, the Communists will be outside, waiting. Michigan State University was which gave 65 per cent of all the first college to build a student seats in the Chamber of Deputies union building.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been in love with a man for six years, but I feel cheap because he has never actually asked me out. We have spent a lot of time together but it has been all my doing. I manage to "accidentally" turn up where I know he will be. I have invited him over to my apartment and have asked him to be my escort to places I am invited. But, Abby, what gets me is that he always accepts, and seems to enjoy my company. He doesn't go with anybody else. WHY doesn't he ask me out? Am I making a fool out of myself or not? How can I get this man?

DISCOURAGED

DEAR DISCOURAGED: After six years, he knows it is no "accident" that you "turn up" wherever he is. If he had any serious intentions, he would have expressed them by now. Drop the scent. You'll never trap him while he is still young enough to run.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for almost a year and my husband's snoring keeps getting worse and worse. What causes it? He never snored a bit before we were married. Thank you.

CAN'T SLEEP

DEAR CAN'T: Better have him see a doctor. Maybe he has ALWAYS snored but you've never noticed it.

DEAR ABBY: My husband recently passed away after 28 years of philandering, lying and heavy drinking. My old sweetheart that I gave the brush-off to 30 years ago called on me. His wife passed away 8 years ago. Before he was in the house 10 minutes he was begging me to marry him. He said he never stopped loving me. His character is beyond reproach, which is more than I can say for myself. He is a loyal church-goer and a High Degree member of his lodge. I told him everything and he said, "Let me cast the first stone." Then the big dope put his arms around me and almost cracked my ribs. Do you think it is too late for me to turn over a new leaf and make this man happy?

DEAR SINNED (and who hasn't?): Of course you can make him happy. You have a winning combination: Humility, honesty and the willingness to do better. Good luck!

DEAR ABBY: I have trouble with blondes. Every time I go for a girl and she is a blonde she turns out to be a gold-digger. I notice on TV whenever they have a gold-digger she is a blonde. The last blonde I went with asked me to buy her a record every time I took her out. She kept me busted buying her records. Should I pass up all blondes or keep going with them until I find a good one?

BLONDE TROUBLE
DEAR B. T.: Plenty of golden heads have golden hearts. Pass at your own risk.

CONFIDENTIAL TO G. G.: You can't throw mud without getting a little on yourself. Skip it!

For a personal reply write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

If you want a collection of Abby's best letters, and answers in one book, ask your bookdealer to get "DEAR ABBY" for you.

Miss Lynda Kennedy, Former Pampan Is Bride Of Jim Anderson In Borger

A double-ring ceremony performed on January 24 at 5:30 p.m. united in marriage Miss Lynda Joyce Kennedy and Jim Anderson, both of Borger. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alton E. Kennedy, 124 Teague, Borger, formerly of Pampa. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Anderson of Borger.

Rev. Jack Burke of Phillips read the vows in the home of the bride's parents before a mantle decked with jade palm entwined with pale yellow roses. On each side of the mantle was candelabra with blue candles and greenery.

Candle-lighter was Miss Sherri Lassiter of Pampa, cousin of the bride, attired in a beige princess-style dress with a full skirt. She wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Matron-of-honor was Mrs. Floyd Lassiter of Pampa, aunt of the bride, dressed in a street-length gown of rose-beige lace over taffeta, complemented with a large picture-frame hat with matching accessories and white short gloves. She wore a corsage of yellow roses.

Best man was Jack Anderson of Slinnett, brother of the groom.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white and silver lace over blue taffeta balerina-length gown. A large bustle effect terminated in a short train. The gown was designed with a low scalloped neckline, trimmed with blue chiffon and a lace bodice. Her shoulder-length veil of white lace fell from a white feather cloche hat. Long white bridal gloves completed her attire. Her only jewelry was a cultured pearl necklace with a diamond in the center, a gift of the bridegroom.

She carried a bouquet of white phenopias and stephanotis with white streamers atop a white Bible. For something old, her girlhood white Bible; something new, her dress; something borrowed, her mother's engagement ring; something blue, a blue garter with a penny in her shoes.

Mrs. Kennedy, mother of the bride, wore a navy-blue two-piece taffeta dress with white accessories. The mother of the bridegroom wore a black silk dress with red accessories. Both mothers wore white carnation corsages. Mrs. P. B. Calloway of Pampa, grandmother of the bride, wore a navy blue lace dress over taffeta with a yellow rose corsage.

A reception immediately followed the ceremony. The table was laid with a lace cloth over blue. The two-tiered wedding cake was trimmed with blue roses and white lovebirds, with a miniature bride and bridegroom under an arch of flowers and wedding bells, flanked by crystal candle sticks. The cake was served by Miss Ann Powell.

Miss Mariya White presided at the punch bowl. Guests were registered by Mrs. Ruth Ellen Hill.

The bride's going away costume was a melon-colored knit suit with black leather accessories and her corsage was the Phalopsis from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Anderson is a junior in Phillips High School, where she is a member of Semper Fidelis. The bridegroom is a 1957 graduate of Slinnett High School.

Approximately 50 close friends and relatives attended the wedding and reception.

Celtics Win By 137-135

United Press International
The Boston Celtics remain top dogs in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division, because they know a good team effort can overwhelm a rival star's performance.

The Celtics, with five men scoring in double figures, nullified Dolph Schayes' 50-point personal high performance Sunday to gain a 137-137, overtime victory against the Syracuse Nationals.

Boston had to battle back from a nine-point deficit late in the fourth period to swing the game into an extra session. Bob Cousy, who scored 32 points, netted a hook shot with a minute to go to knot the score at 127-all and set the stage for the Celtics' winning effort. Bill Sharman led the overtime period with seven of Boston's 12 points.

The St. Louis Hawks, led by Bob Pettit's 40 points and a 54.3 shooting percentage from the field, swamped the Detroit Pistons, 130-96. The defending NBA champions gained a 61-40 intermission lead and kept pouring it on. Chuck Noble led the Pistons with 18 points.

Andy Johnson, used sparingly, came into the game with about three minutes to go and quickly scored six points to give the Philadelphia Warriors a 113-100 decision over the New York Knicks. The Warriors lost Tom Gola, Paul Arizin, who had 36 points, and Woody Sauldsberry on fouls in the last period but still managed to beat New York for the sixth time in nine games this season. Kenny Sears had 25 for the Knicks.

BOB RICHARDSON ... trade bait?

Braves After Richardson To Replace Red

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—The Milwaukee Braves are trying to acquire second baseman Bobby Richardson from the New York Yankees as a replacement for Red Schoendienst, United Press International learned today.

Neither team would confirm it is conducting trade negotiations, but Milwaukee Manager Fred Haney revealed that a deal might be on the fire at Sunday night's annual dinner of the New York chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

"Last year Casey Stengel (Yankee manager) followed me around," Haney said. "Now I'm following him around. I see where they have a new assistant general manager, so maybe we can make a deal."

Schoendienst is undergoing treatment in a St. Louis hospital for tuberculosis. He isn't expected to return to the Braves until next year—if at all—so the National League champions have turned to their World Series conquerors for help.

Richardson batted only .247 in 73 games last year but Milwaukee may have to go high in its bidding for the little infielder, for the Cleveland Indians and Washington Senators also are dickering for his services.

Sunday night's dinner concluded a busy weekend for baseball brass who spent a good deal of time discussing possible trades when they weren't meeting in special business sessions. However, the only deal consummated was a seven-player trade between the Cincinnati Redlegs and Pittsburgh Pirates. The Redlegs received slugger Frank Thomas and three other Pittsburgh players for catcher Smokey Burgess, pitcher Harvey Haddix and third baseman Don Hoak.

Stengel, as usual, stole the show at the writers' dinner. At one point during his witty speech, the Yankee manager turned to honored guest, Francis Cardinal Spellman, and declared: "They offer 100-grand to 150-grand to some young kids starting out in baseball today. Just think, your eminence, if they offered you that to start out."

FURGOL COPS RICH SAN DIEGO CROWN

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—Marty Furgol, a 41-year-old golfer from Lemont, Ill., headed for Phoenix and more competition today after capturing the $20,000 San Diego open Sunday.

Furgol won his first tournament in five years and he picked up the $2,800 first place check in beating one of the finest fields of the winter tour.

Furgol fired rounds of 70-71-64-69 to win the tourney by one stroke with a 72-hole total of 274-14-under-par for the Mission Valley Country Club. There was a five-day tie for second place at 275 between Mike Souchak, Grossinger, N.Y.; Bill Casper, Apple Valley, Calif.; Dave Ragan, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Joe Campbell, Knoxville, Tenn.; and Bo Winger, Okla. City, Okla.

Furgol was trailing by two strokes with only nine holes to go when the front-running Souchak fell apart, taking bogies on the 12th, 14th and 15th holes. Meanwhile, Furgol moved smoothly along on the strength of some very fine putting. He knocked in 25-foot putts on the 12th (for a 25-foot putt on the 12th for a par), the 15th (for a par) and the 18th (for a par).

Bob Harris, Winnetka, Ill., came in with a final round of 68 for 276, good for 4900. And there was a five-way tie at 277 between Bob Rosburg, Palo Alto, Calif.; Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Tex.; Doug Sanders, Miami Beach, Fla.; Bob Duden, Oswego, Ore.; and Jackie Burke, Houston, Tex. Each collected $768.

LITTLE THINGS THAT COUNT

KELLEY'S ELIGIBLE

New Look Aggs May 'Chap' Rest of SWC Cage Family

By ED FITE
United Press International
The Texas Aggies, rocking and reeling with only a 50-50 South-west conference record after being touted as real title material, are looking for a change of pace as they make a desperate challenge against the circuit's No. 1 and 2 ranking outfits.

Coach Bobby Rogers Aggies winners of the conference tournament, and the rest of the league will find out for sure this week if it's true what they've been saying all season at College Station about Kelly Chapman, who becomes eligible this week.

Chapman is the Kentuckian who migrated to Texas and starred for two high-scoring seasons at Tyler Junior College before transferring to Aggie land.

The 5-3 junior is supposed to be a crack shot and great rebounder, despite his 6-3 stature and Aggie followers have been anxiously awaiting the time he could join the club.

He'll be in the lineup, although Rogers hasn't said whether he would be a starter, when the Aggies open a crucial two-game home stand this week against high-riding Texas Christian Tuesday night and runner-up Baylor on Saturday night.

It may be too late for Chapman to help the Aggies to a title, for when they dropped a 37-46 decision to Texas Tech last Saturday at Lubbock their loop mark skidded to 3-3, two full games back of TCU's 5-1 and 1-2 behind Baylor's 5-2 record.

TCU, meanwhile, not only will have to defend its lead against A&M, but on Saturday night must stage a challenge from the rearguarding Texas Tech Raiders at Fort Worth. If the Frogs can win both of these starts, they would be in a very enviable position for the stretch drive. The Frogs beat off Southern Methodist 72-60 last week.

SMU Meets Porkers
Coach Polk Robinson's Tech outfit, apparently none-the-worse off for the loss of its 6-9 and 6-10 centers to bad grades, bids to overhaul Baylor and gain a tie for second place Tuesday night at home when the Raiders entertain a Rice team that hasn't played since Jan. 16. A victory would boost Tech to 5-2 alongside Baylor, which plays only the one game this week after stopping Arkansas 64-58 last week.

Defending co-champs SMU and Arkansas, both at 2-3 and facing virtual tie elimination if they lose another, collide at Fayetteville Tuesday night and then play Rice at Dallas and Texas at Austin on Saturday night.

Hill Leads Scoring
Texas takes to the road to meet Oklahoma State at Stillwater Wednesday in the only non-league game of the week.

Idle Tom Robitaille of Rice held onto his season scoring lead with a 19.3-point average for 15 games, but TCU's H. E. Kirchner edged a bit closer with an 18-point figure. Robitaille has 289 points in 15 games; Kirchner 289 in 16.

In league play, Tech's Podd Hill got 21 against the Aggies to boost his leading average to 17.5 as compared with 17.1 for Kirchner, 16.7 for Arkansas' Clyde Rhoden and 16.1 for Baylor's Bob Turner.

Cincinnati, trying to track the grip Kentucky, North Carolina, Kansas State and N.C. State have held on the top four spots in recent weeks, has a relatively tough week ahead. The Bearcats, who romped over Wichita Saturday, 95-87, with national scoring leader Oscar Robertson netting 44 points, play Dayton on Wednesday and then hook up with Temple on Saturday.

Alabama ranked sixth despite an unblemished record in 14 games and the nation's longest winning streak of 25, plays Georgia Tech Tuesday and Georgia Saturday. The Tigers had a bad scare from Vanderbilt, the only team to beat Kentucky, Saturday, but kept their streak alive with a 64-61 victory over the Commodores.

St. John's, though, wasn't quite as fortunate. The Brooklyn Redmen, who conclude their tour tonight, took a 12-1 record to St. Louis on Thursday and lost to the Billikens. Then they fell in double overtime to Loyola (Ill.) Saturday, 95-86.

Pampa Home for Pair

Monterey Is Here For Tuesday Till

Coach Clifton McNeely's high-flying Pampa High Harvesters, who've had things their own way all season long, get a big break from the schedule makers this week in a seemingly unstopable march into the Texas schoolboy cage playoffs again.

The happy Harvesters, 8-0 in District 3-AAAA, 21-0 for the season and 34-0 since their last loss, are ready for two home-sweet-home events this week, both against lower division Lubbock teams.

Tuesday night the Monterey Plainmen who have come closer to upsetting Pampa's acclaim than any other quint this season invade Harvester Field House. The Plainmen of Coach Dave Cook with a meager 2-6 loop mark dropped to three-point squeakers—5-8 on their home floor to Pampa in the first round of the 3-AAAA family fueding. Friday night the Tom S. Lubbock High-Westerners, a 71-57 victim to Pampa in the first round, try to crack Pampa's fabulous victory string.

Meanwhile, second place Berger, a 64-50 loser at home against the Harvesters last Friday night after playing the Green and Gold clad invaders on even terms for three periods; has its work cut out. Coach Tex Hanna's perennial also-rans are at Plainview Tuesday night where another set of tough Bulldogs could snap a surprise, especially since they're playing in their own doghouse. Friday night Berger goes to Amarillo to face a hot-and-cold Palo Duro outfit and if the Dons are blowing hot, Hanna's Bulldogs could have frothing-mouth fits before the night's over.

Borger at 6-2 holds losses to Pampa trails the Harvesters by two games with six remaining before bi-district play opens. Pampa is rated a much better chance of picking up all the goodies and doing it undefeated than are the Bulldogs chances of even finishing sole owners of second place this year, with both Plainview and the Amarillo-Sandies breathing hot on the Bulldogs' necks; only one game behind at 5-3.

Even Palo Duro at 4-4 has hopes of no less than a split of second place honors while Lubbock and Monterey, both at 2-6, have a spirited little duel all of their own going to finish in sixth place, ahead of the other.

Amarillo's hapless Tascosa Rebels appear doomed not only to the cellar but to a wireless conference campaign on top of it all.

With the return of Pampa's ace playmaker Charlie Minor to the lineup in last week's Berger struggle, McNeely's Harvesters are liable to have clear sailing right up until an undefeated Odessa crew comes around for regional action. Pampa will probably face Wichita Falls (4-AAAA, kingpin) in bi-district competition. However, McNeely likes to tackle one opponent at a time and right now it's Monterey who has him biting fingernails and doing all those other strange things a coach with a long winning streak might do.

Tuesday night's home show with Monterey is set for 8 p.m. while the tip-off in the two school's B-team conflict comes at 6:30. Terry Culley's Shockers will be hustling to break a two-game losing skid, having been licked by Amarillo and Berger last week to lower their season mark to 16-3.

Nichols Lauded As Leading Back

LAWRENCE, Kan. (UPI)—Dwight Nichols the little Iowa State tailback who was the Big Eight's offensive leader despite a last place ball club, today was named outstanding back of 1958 in a poll of football writers in the Big-Eight—Missouri Valley Conference area.

Nichols previously was named the Big Eight's Back-of-the-Year by United Press International. Bob Harrison, Oklahoma's senior center from Stamford, Tex., Sunday was named outstanding lineman. He also was UPI's Big Eight Lineman of the Year.

Runners-up in the voting as announced by Don Pierce of Kansas University, secretary of the Midwest chapter of the Football Writers of America, were Prentice Gaut, Oklahoma; Homer Flood, Kansas; and Eddie Dove and Boyd Bowler of Colorado.

ZACK WHEAT ... voted in

ZACK WHEAT IS IN HALL OF FAME

NEW YORK (UPI)—Outfielder Zack Wheat, generally regarded as the outstanding hitter in Brooklyn Dodgers' history, became the latest entry into baseball's Hall of Fame today as the 11th player ever to be voted in by a special "old-timers committee."

The 70-year-old Wheat, one-time idol of all Flatbush fans said he was "tremendously honored and delighted" at his Sunrise Beach, Mo., home when informed of his election by a unanimous vote.

Wheat compiled a lifetime average of .317, batting over 300 during 14 separate seasons, while starting in Brooklyn's outfield from 1909 through 1926. He wound up his major league career with the Philadelphia Athletics in 1927, and is empowered to name two of the popular left-handed hitters who have been out of the league in hitting game for at least 30 years. Wheat with a .325 figure in 1918 and then was the only man elected Sunday.

compiled identical marks of .375 to Rogers Hornsby. "The idea of being in the Hall of Fame still hasn't sunk in," said the elated Wheat. "I wonder if I would have been any good with the live ball today."

Wheat undoubtedly would have been a star in any era. Here are some of the departments in which he tops all Dodger players past and present:

Most number of hits, 2,804; most singles, 2,038; most doubles, 464; most triples, 171; most total bases, 4,903; and most games played, 2,318.

The committee which elected Wheat meets every other year at the Philadelphia Athletics in 1927, and is empowered to name two of the popular left-handed hitters who have been out of the league in hitting game for at least 30 years. Wheat with a .325 figure in 1918 and then was the only man elected Sunday.

Good Bye Willie; Billiard King Dies

WILLIE HOPPE ... willis sticks

By ANDREW J. REESE JR.
United Press International

MIAMI (UPI)—Willie Hoppe, undisputed king of billiards, died in a sunlit hospital room Sunday after personally willing his magic cue sticks to a friend of "by-gone years."

Hoppe, 71, ruled the billiards world during the "golden era" of sports. He won 51 world championships during 47 glory-packed years.

Death came at 4:40 p.m. e.s.t. in a fourth-floor room bathed in late afternoon sunshine. His doctor said he apparently was the victim of a gastric hemorrhage, but he had been ill for years and was hospitalized since Sept. 18 following a heart attack.

Businessman Albert Hoppe of Miami, his brother, said the colorful billiards ace seemed in good spirits Saturday, but took a turn for the worse that night. One of his last visitors was Sidney Mayer of Chicago, a road paving firm executive and a friend of years.

Mayer said Hoppe's hands, which brought him his first world's title at the age of 18, were shaky and unsteady.

"He told me he didn't think he would be able to handle a cue stick again," Mayer said. "He said he wanted me to have them."

Hoppe's brother confirmed that the prized cue sticks would be given to Mayer in keeping with the body wish.

The body will be sent to Philadelphia for burial at White Marsh Memorial Park. Services will be held either Wednesday or Thursday at St. John's Roman Catholic Church. In addition to his brother, survivors include a son, William F., Jr. of Sonoma, Calif., and a daughter, Alice, also in California.

Hoppe won his first world's title in 1905, dethroning Maurice Vignaux, known as the "lion of France," at Paris. He won his last in 1952, when he captured the three-cushion world crown at San Francisco.

In between, he had one of the longest and most colorful careers in sports history, outlasting — by comparison — 14 heavyweight boxing champions, from Tommy Burns to Rocky Marciano.

His audiences included presidents, kings and ranking members of the world society who marveled at his quick skill and keen eye. He once played a command performance at the White House, which brought him his first world's title at the age of 18, were shaky and unsteady.

"I really wanted to be a professional baseball player," Hoppe told newsmen last summer. "My father wanted me to be a billiard player."

Feelings Mixed On 3-Point Goals

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—There were mixed feelings today on the practicability of permitting three points for any basket scored from behind a 23-foot arc.

Sienna and St. Francis of Brooklyn played an experimental game here Sunday, and while each team gave the plan a fair trial, neither was able to score with any degree of consistency.

St. Francis, which won the game, 67-50, attempted the long shot six times and only made good on one. Sienna, bowing to 3 wishes of the crowd which kept yelling for the long shot, tried nine, but also scored on only one attempt.

The fans hollered "shoot, shoot" every time a player was near an arc marked off on the floor 23 feet from each basket. Of Sienna's nine-point attempts, John Girard took seven and made one. Joe Healey took the other two shots. Fred Schneider took all six St. Francis shots.

CARDINALS ADD NEW INFIELDER

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—The St. Louis Cardinals today had more infield insurance in the person of Billy Harrell, former utility man for the Cleveland Indians.

General Manager Bing Devine said Sunday he obtained the big right-hander in a straight cash deal.

Harrell, 30-year-old Negro, hit .218 and had 12 stolen bases in the 100 games he played with the Indians last year.

St. Francis, which won the game, 67-50, attempted the long shot six times and only made good on one. Sienna, bowing to 3 wishes of the crowd which kept yelling for the long shot, tried nine, but also scored on only one attempt.

The fans hollered "shoot, shoot" every time a player was near an arc marked off on the floor 23 feet from each basket. Of Sienna's nine-point attempts, John Girard took seven and made one. Joe Healey took the other two shots. Fred Schneider took all six St. Francis shots.

Commie Speakers Praise Khrushchev

MOSCOW (UPI)—The East Communist Party congress resumed today, with speakers hammering away at the main theme of praise for Premier Nikita Khrushchev's ambitious seven-year plan and attacks on Yugoslav "revisionism" and the "anti-party" faction.

First speaker at today's session was N. I. Novikov, minister of power station construction. Novikov spoke on the seven year plan.

He was followed by Presidium (Politburo) member Nikolai Ignatov who launched a bitter attack on Yugoslavia for misinterpreting the Khrushchev plan, which he said was "now the center of public opinion abroad."

First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan was the last major speaker before the congress wound up its first week Saturday. His address ranged over many topics, including the "anti-party group," Soviet-Chinese relations, the Berlin issue and prospects for a long-term trade agreement with the United States.

Party Punishment
Mikoyan indicated that Russia's leaders intend to prosecute the anti-party group—but only within the party itself. He reiterated there are no repressions of citizens for political reasons in the Soviet Union now.

Mikoyan gave the 2,000 delegates an exhaustive run-down of the sights and sounds of his recent U.S. tour. He said he found in the United States some people searching for "some kind of small crack" in Soviet relations with Communist China.

"These gentlemen are dreaming sweet dreams... but this is only a dream of these gentlemen, a dream that will never come true," Mikoyan told the applauding delegates.

Mikoyan reported extensively on his talks with U.S. leaders, from President Eisenhower to former New York Gov. Averell Harriman.

Answering "Questions"—He said no one avoided "thorny questions." He reported he asked

Punxsutawney Groundhog Saw Shadow

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa. (UPI)—The famed Punxsutawney groundhog, just back from a "successful" trip to the moon, bounded out of his hole hair atop Gobbler's Knob at 8:23 a.m. today, saw his shadow, and forecast six more weeks of wintry weather.

While members of the Punxsutawney Groundhog Club braved 6 above zero temperatures on Canoe Ridge, the world's foremost weather prophet waddled into a bright sunlight. He sat-up on his haunches and cast the largest shadow ever witnessed during the 59 years of his annual ritual.

Then in a brief interview with newsmen, before snuggling back underground to await the arrival of warmer weather, Brer Groundhog laid claim to being the first member of the animal kingdom to reach the moon.

He disclosed he made his space flight in a five-gallon milk can using three gallons of groundhog punch for fuel. The punch is a mysterious potion of liquids and herbs known only to the groundhog himself, and Lee Sullivan, official mixologist of the local groundhog club.

Before parting company with the "true believers" of the groundhog club, he got in a shot at "pretenders to his throne"—the rival groundhogs who are trying to steal his thunder.

"Neophytes. Pretenders of later years," he snorted. "Pay them no heed."

Three Nations Seek Practical Agreements On Atom Tests

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Editor

For nearly three months now United States-British negotiations on the one hand and Russian on the other have sought workable agreement to ban atomic tests. The issues go to the core of almost all cold war difficulties.

What are they?
Both sides agree on the danger to future mankind from continued, uncontrolled tests. Both sides profess to believe in the need for agreement, if only to halt one phase of the worldwide armaments race.

What then prevents it? The answer is, mutual distrust.

From the standpoint of the West at least, bitter experience has proved that any agreement with the Communists must be eopperiveted, every last detail written out. For example, it was Allied failure to write into the four-power agreement for control of Berlin a clause guaranteeing Allied right-of-access through Communist-controlled East Germany, that left open to the Communists a legalistic excuse for trying to cut off Berlin altogether.

Reds Want Unanimity
The issues which face today's negotiators and which threaten to delay agreement for months, if not forever, are these:
The right of veto.
How long to continue a test ban.
The amount of control and the number and nature of the personnel needed to police it.

On issue No. 1, the Russians demand that all decisions be unanimous among the three nations party to the agreement. That means a built-in veto—the same sort of veto Russia has used nearly 100 times in the United Nations Security Council to hamstring decisions there and the same sort of veto that virtually has wrecked the Korean armistice.

In Korea, the Communists agreed that neither side should be allowed to increase armaments beyond that existing on the date of the armistice agreement. But the agreement was nullified by Communist refusal to permit Alcedars, plowed about 100 yards through them and burst into flames. Sheriff Price said many of the survivors were thrown from the wreckage but Flak and Heller said they doubted this.

In any case, the survivors still in the wreckage had time to get away before the fire started.

Firemen from Kerrville, Comfort, Fredericksburg and Boerne, Tex., fought the fire for more than an hour before they finally put it out at 12:35 a.m. The plane crashed at 11:40 p.m., 54 minutes after it first reported trouble.

Basic Airman Sherman Anderson, 19, Ontario, Ore., said the plane broke open as it ripped through the trees, and he and his companions scrambled out "the best way we could."

The pilot told us to fasten our safety belts and to hold our heads down," he said.

Anderson's ankle was sprained. He said the plane left Boise at 10 a.m. Sunday.
