NATO Endorses Big 3's Germany Policy

By STEWART HENSLEY
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The NATO Council Saturday firmly endorsed the Western Big Three's German policy and warned the Communists to keep their hands off the free Allied sector of Berlin.

The 15-nation council expressed "full agreement on the broad lines of policy to be pursued" by Britain, France and the United States in their forthcoming show-down talks on the German crisis.

The council said in a communique issued at the close of its three-day spring session that it wanted to see "outstanding problems solved by negotiation" but would consent to no appeasement on Berlin.

The U. S. delegation, headed by Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, hailed the meeting as an inspiring example of western solidarity.

The delegation also was "impressed by the general confidence and support evinced by the other NATO countries for the four powers most directly concerned."

Following Eisenhower's statement, Khrushchev softened his ultimatum in an apparent effort to bring about a summit conference on the issue.

The State Department planned to forward a full report of the latest council proceedings to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, who because of illness is relaxing at Hobe Sound, Fla.

Wilson, Fatheree On School Board

Elmer D. Wilson and Warren Fatheree, the challengers for two seats on the Pampa School Board, scored a stunning upset over incumbents Rex Rose and J. M. Nation Jr. in a close election Saturday.

A record number of voters, 1,315, turned out to affirm the two young candidates.

Wilson, an active campaigner, was high vote-getter with 674. Fatheree followed with 659. Nation polled 637 and Rose, 590.

persons balloted from 7 a. m. to noon. By 3:47 p. m. a total of 751 ballots had been cast.

When the polls closed at 7, 1,315 votes were in. This, according to election officials, was the greatest turn-out in recent years.

In unprecedented action, voters ousted the incumbent trustees, Rose and Nation, Rose, the chairman of the board, was seeking his third term. He was appointed in 1952. Nation was appointed two year ago. Wilson, 25, is a partner in the Windsor Service Company. He is a graduate of Pampa High School and Texas Tech.

Fatheree, 31, attended Pampa High School and earned his Bachelor of Science degree at Oklahoma University. At present, he is an independent geologist. Like Wilson, he has two children.

Both men waged vigorous campaigns on the basis that the school board should represent the will of the people. Fatheree believes that the board should take the lead in informing citizens of what is going on in the school system.

The new trustees are already credited with creating interest in what is ordinarily a slack election. They will take their places with the hold-over trustee, Aubrey Steele, D. E. Holt and E. L. Green. Steele will be up for re-election next year.

Regdy, with ballot in hand, to step under the canvas of a voting booth at Pampa Junior High during Saturday's School Board election is Mrs. John L. Rankin of 2112 Mary Ellen. Mrs. Rankin was only one of 1,315 who enjoyed the American privilege yesterday.

Ike Won't Allow Another 'Munich'

By RAYMOND LAHR
United Press International
GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UPI) — President Saturday pledged the United States to follow a firm course in Berlin and prevent that divided city from becoming "another Munich."

not only dishonorable, it is the most dangerous one we could pursue," he declared. "The world paid a high price for the lesson of Munich—but it learned it well."

The President spoke at Gettysburg College's spring convocation, attended by 4,000 invited guests. The affair was held in windy, topcoat weather in the college football stadium.

Cites "Tension Point" — The President used the political crisis in Vietnam and the economic difficulties of Japan along with the Berlin problem, as examples of the need for mutual free world security as a buffer against Communism.

Berlin is a tension point just now, he said, "because the Kremlin hopes to eliminate it as a part of the free world."

"The Communist leaders have chosen to exert pressure there at this moment," he added. "Naturally they always pick the most awkward situation, the hardest to defend position, as the place to test our strength and resolution."

"There will never be an easy place for us to make a stand, but there is a best one."

As the President spoke, the 15-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council, meeting in Washington, warned Russia again of its determination to defend Allied treaty rights in West Berlin.

In a renewed defense of his foreign policy, which is under continuing attack in Congress, Eisenhower said the situations in Berlin, Vietnam and Japan show the need for firm answers to Soviet political challenges. U.S. foreign aid to keep the spirit of freedom alive in divided countries, and foreign trade to keep nations of the free world in economic good health.

Departs From Text — "We have learned too," he said, "that the cost of defending freedom — of defending America — must be paid in many forms. They are assessed against us in all parts of the world — in Berlin, in Vietnam, in the Middle East, and here at home."

"But wherever they occur and in whatever form they appear, they are first and last a proper charge to the national security of the United States."

Eisenhower departed from his prepared text to declare that "no matter what areas of federal spending should be curtailed and some should — our safety comes first."

THROUGH BERLIN

U.S. Tells Reds Planes Will Fly

By JOSEPH B. FLEMING
United Press International

BERLIN (UPI) — The United States told the Soviets Saturday that American military transports would fly through the corridors linking West Berlin and West Germany at whatever height they choose.

In a note the United States rejected a Soviet attempt to put a ceiling on the Western corridors over Communist East Germany.

The note was in reply to a Soviet protest against the "illegal" flight of a C-130 transport at 25,000 feet. The Russians said the flight created an air hazard.

Reds Harass Transport — Three Soviet jet fighters harassed the unarmed transport throughout its inbound and outbound flights March 27. The U.S. immediately protested the incident through its representative on the four-power Berlin Air Safety Center.

The center controls flights to and from Berlin.

The Soviet protest charged the high-altitude flight violated air safety regulations and could lead to collisions, loss of life and destruction of aircraft.

The United States made it clear it would not submit to any Soviet-imposed ceilings on the three Western air lanes between West Berlin and the West.

formed sources as a "written reply" to the Soviet protest, was delivered through the Air Safety Center.

Rejects Soviet Contentions — It rejected the Soviet contention that the American transport created a hazard to air safety by flying at 25,000 feet, or that any flight at that height violated any existing agreement.

It further declared that U.S. planes would continue to fly to and from West Berlin at altitudes of their pilot's own choosing.

Sources in Bonn, said the British and French embassies approved the position taken by the United States in the new controversy.

However, the sources said the British and French did not make any official protest because the incident involved a U.S. plane.

Final Plans For Hotel Are Ready

Representatives of the Farnsworth and Chambers Companies, Houston, will meet with directors of the Community Hotel Company Friday to present final plans and specifications for Pampa's new hotel, George Cree Jr. Hotel.

The Building and Operations Committees will hold a joint meeting at 1 p. m. and will be ready to make recommendations to the general board at the 4 p. m. meeting.

If the plans and specifications are approved, ground will be broken for the hotel in the near future. Bill Boehme, who will be construction superintendent on the project, has been in town for the past three weeks, making advance arrangements on construction details.

ALL BOOKED UP!

Insurance man Bob Hudson turned the tables on Librarian Lillian Snow Friday by bringing books to the library — not the overdue variety but 17 volumes of newly-published material dealing with insurance. The books, a gift from the Top O' Texas Underwriter's Association, will soon line the shelves of Lovett Memorial Library. Hudson, chairman of the Underwriter's service committee, said the 17 volumes were given in conjunction with the city-wide observance of Life Insurance Week.

Batista Backers In Bombing Raid

HAVANA (UPI) — Counter-revolutionary supporters of Fulgencio Batista blasted the home of a Castro police captain in a gangland-style machinegun attack Saturday.

Witnesses said the house in suburban Marianao was machinegunned from a speeding automobile whose occupants shouted Viva Batista. The attackers escaped. There was no report of casualties.

The hit-and-run attack was the first instance of counter-revolutionary activity in the greater Havana area, although there have been various incidents of terrorism and sabotage elsewhere in Cuba.

There also were mounting labor problems for the revolutionary government of Premier Fidel Castro. Some 500 unemployed construction workers occupied the headquarters of the Cuban Confederation of Labor to enforce demands for jobs.

A spokesman said they represented some 4,000 jobless construction workers and would be in the headquarters until Castro resolved the job situation.

There was trouble on the education front, too. Revolutionary police surrounded Baldo Institute in suburban Vedado when a score of representatives of the National Student Union, from the rival Vivers Institute, occupied the building.

Red China Sends In 100,000 Troops

By EARNEST HOBERECHT
United Press International
NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — Communist China has sent 100,000 fresh troops to smash the Tibetan rebellion before the stunning escape of the Dalai Lama, inflames some of the questions of how he regards the legal status of the Dalai Lama when he holds a press conference Sunday.

India, apparently intended to overthrow the Tibetan anti-Communist by sheer numbers as they tried to do to United Nations forces in Korea.

The rebels led by the fierce Khamba tribesmen, have used their superior knowledge of the mountainous country to ambush Chinese columns, raid their arsenals and harass them out of strategic locations.

Reports from the Indo-Tibetan border said shooting still was continuing on the outskirts of Lhasa, but not in the capital.

Information from Shillong, capital of India's Assam state, said the 25-year-old Dalai Lama had made it through the 14,000-foot Selin Pass and may arrive at Tsang Saturday night, 24 hours ahead of schedule.

One New Delhi newspaper, The Statesman, said he already had arrived at Tsang, site of a large Buddhist monastery.

Has Indian Escort — The Dalai Lama, who crossed the border from Tibet Tuesday, is traveling with 80 of his followers. They are being escorted by an Indian political officer and Indian troops. The only method of transportation in the mountainous area is horse or muleback.

United Press International correspondent Patrick J. Killem reported from the border town of Kalimpong that officials there estimated it would take the Dalai Lama and his party about a week to reach the nearest railroad at Tezpur.

As the young, temporal and spiritual leader of Tibet drew closer to safer grounds, the Indian government began to worry about repercussions from giant neighboring Communist China.

Newspapers and government leaders continued to insist that the Dalai Lama would do or say nothing to compromise India with Peiping, while he is on Indian soil.

Domestically, the Tibetan affair appeared to be a blessing in disguise to Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru's ruling Congress Party. The Communists, who had been gaining popularity among masses at the expense of the Congress Party, suddenly found themselves looked upon with increasing suspicion for supporting Peiping's version of the Tibetan rebellion and for making charges that India was letting Kalimpong be used as an anti-China spy base.

Nehru was expected to clear up some of the questions of how he regards the legal status of the Dalai Lama when he holds a press conference Sunday.

JOHNNY SAXTON

Ex Ring Champ Tries Suicide

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI) — Former welterweight boxing champion Johnny Saxton, the 28-year-old ex-fighter was committed to a mental hospital because he had threatened to bring his world fame and a cide attempt if returned to a quarter of a million dollars, tried to hang himself in a jail cell on Saturday, after he was caught

Dr. Carl Surrah and Dr. Frank B. Doggett, police surgeons, found Saxton suffering from dementia praecox and recommended his commitment to the state hospital at Ancon.

Doggett said he found Saxton very depressed and unhappy because he was unemployed, and because he had "been on top and now has nothing." He quoted the former fighter as saying he could not stand being kept in a cell and would try to hang himself.

N. D. Bartlett and Harry Hoare, both of the Amiatillo Globe News, and Rick Pedritz of the Pampa Daily News have been appointed members of the Press Committee to publicize the event.

The business of the meeting gets underway Thursday, April 23, with a welcome by Wayne C. Mobley of the Sunray Mid-Continent Oil Co.

Three addresses will be given Thursday, including "Ways and Means of Achieving Economic Drilling and Producing Oil," by L. E. Fitzgerald of Phillips; "The National Gas Industry," by Ralph E. Dancy of the Texas Gas Co.; and "Exhibition of Pure and Applied Chemistry," by Alex W. McCoy of McCoy Associates, Inc.

Only one address, that of the fighter, was suspended by his own sick from a pipe in a City Hall rest room. The National Gas Association, April 1959, by Ralph E. Dancy, who found him in a routine check, "Exhibition of Pure and Applied Chemistry," by Alex W. McCoy of McCoy Associates, Inc.

Firmly in Accord Spaak declined to give details of any specific accords but he said one area concerned "a number of principles" on which the Western defensive alliance will give no ground whatsoever. He did not list them.

The council also reaffirmed a statement made last December when it backed up the Big Three in its refusal to withdraw troops from Berlin until the whole German question is answered.

It said the opinions of the other 11 NATO nations also will be considered at a meeting of the Big Three with West Germany next month in Geneva. That conference will put the final polish on Western proposals to be presented at a foreign ministers' meeting with Russia there on May 17. The council said its endorsement followed a thorough study of reports from the Big Three and West Germany regarding "the present state of their thought in regard to the problems" which have arisen in Berlin.

The communiqué said the NATO ministers also discussed the threat of international communism throughout the free world; reaffirmed the determination of NATO nations to maintain a common defense effort; agreed that closer interdependence is needed to best utilize defense resources; recognized need for consultation in the fields of politics, defense, economy, science, culture and information; and reviewed progress made by the alliance over the past 10 years.

Saxton, broke and owing the government $16,000 in taxes despite earning an estimated $250,000 during the past 10 years, was captured on the roof of the variety store shortly after midnight after smashing through a tin ceiling in an attempt to escape.

More than a dozen policemen, including former heavyweight boxer Peter Nelson, 32, had surrounded the store after a passer-by reported someone was playing a flashlight around the counters inside.

Police said Saxton admitted he hid in the store before closing time Friday night. Then after everyone had left, he started filling several sacks with "cheap merchandise" according to the arresting officers.

The once courageous ring warrior was in handcuffs and sobbing when brought to City Hall for questioning.

"This will mean 10 years for me in New York," he wept. He referred to his having been freed in $1,000 bail in New York City last month after his arrest in a burglary in which a $100 Turbulent cigarette was stolen. He had been given a 10 day sentence earlier in Putnam County, N.Y., a rendered the championship to Basilio in September of the same year.

Life Insurance Week Observance To Begin

LIFE UNDERWRITERS PROMOTE ACTIVITIES

Life Insurance Week will be observed in the Top O' Texas area starting Monday as insurance men fill a dozen speaking engagements in service clubs and high school classrooms. Four out-of-town speakers have been secured for the civic club circuit, according to Newt Secrest, president of the Top O' Texas Association of Life Underwriters, Inc. Pampa underwriters will speak at high schools in the area.

The highlight of the week will be the selection of the person with the oldest life insurance policy still in force in Gray County. This person will be honored at an annual underwriters' banquet Thursday night.

The civic club speakers are Joe Nail, State Reserve Life, Amarillo; Glenn Wallace, vice president of Great American Reserve, Dallas; Zolzie Steakley, Texas Secretary of state, Austin; and M. S. "Si" Bennett, American National Life, Fort Worth.

The week will get off to a flying start at 8:30 a.m. Monday when Cecil Houchin and Gene Lewis speak at Lefors High School. Joe Nail will be the guest speaker at the 6:30 p.m. meeting of the Pampa Optimist Club.

Ott Shewmaker will speak at Pampa High School from 11 a.m. to 12 Tuesday. The speaker for the Jaycees, at their noon meeting, will be Glenn Wallace. Bill Garrett and Bennie Waller will be at Pampa High School from 12:30 to 1:30. Wallace will also speak at a 7 p.m. meeting of the Top O' Texas Kiwanis Club.

Wednesday's activities will begin at 9:10 a.m. when Durward Walker appears at White Deer High School. Bob Hudson and John

1958 Was Boom
Year For Life
Insurance Buys

Life insurance purchases set new records in all of the English speaking countries last year, according to the Institute of Life Insurance.

Preliminary reports indicate that 1958 purchases were up 20 per cent in both the United States and Canada, at least 15 per cent in Australia and over 10 per cent in the United Kingdom.

Still greater purchases are expected for the coming year, life offices in the United States seeing a 10 or 15 per cent rise over last year's record volume.

Survivors to provide for his other partner would assume the business under insurance providing for payment of the deceased's share in the concern. Business establishments and individuals take out insurance to pay for tax losses when a member dies. The big bite taken by Uncle Sam is provided for under this type insurance.

STANDARD LIFE ...

Group Insurance Shows Big Growth

Group insurance sales during 1958 recorded approximately $4,700,000,000 of annual premiums. It is estimated that 40,000,000 persons now own a total of $153,000,000,000 of group life insurance for an average of more than $3,800 for each person. Similarly, almost 50,000,000 persons are now covered by group insurance carriers under various accident and health plans.

These coverages, along with group annuities, comprise the group insurance industry which has more than tripled in size in the past years. Texas ranks seventh among the states in group insurance. Almost 2,000,000 persons in Texas are covered by a total in excess of $8,000,000,000 of group life insurance in force.

The greatest development in this industry has taken place in less than 25 years. Group insurance has completed a standardization process and is now employing new concepts of prepaid medical care. Flat indemnity schedules have been replaced by reimbursement plans with limiting maximums. Those plans are now undergoing changes which include sliding scales, deductibles, co-insurance and other features referred to as major medical or catastrophic insurance. Early plans which provided only hospitalization coverage have been expanded to include surgical expenses. Doctor calls, diagnostic procedures and specified diseases were later included, and efforts are currently directed toward still broader coverages.

The cost of medical care has increased 44 per cent since 1949. This represents an increase of 21 per cent over the cost of living, as measured by the consumer price index, which has gone up about 23 per cent since 1949. Much of this higher cost is represented by better diagnostic and treatment facilities and higher hospital overhead expenses. Without the aid of some type of prepaid medical plan, members of the profession say, the average person would be financially unprepared to cope with the cost of a serious illness or accident.

A developing trend in the progress of group insurance has been the increased participation by employers in the overall cost. For example, less than 10 years ago employees were paying all of the cost for 20 per cent of the total hospitalization benefits in force. At the present time, fewer than 4 per cent of the plans are paid wholly by the employee.

Recently, coverage has been extended to companies with fewer than 25 employees. Frequently, arrangements are made to provide for retiring personnel.

Only four years ago the largest single group plan in effect was created by an act of Congress to insure the $2,000,000 Federal Government employees.

This trend will continue in the development of methods to provide coverage where group insurance is now unavailable, professional spokesmen predict.

Who Holds The Oldest Insurance Policy Still Valid In Gray County?

Do you have an old insurance policy? If so, it may be worth a prize. The Top O' Texas Association of Life Underwriters, Inc. is still looking for the person with the oldest life insurance policy still in force in Gray County.

When they find him, they aim to treat him like a king. He will be honored at a steak dinner Thursday night and will receive a gift. The contest closes Tuesday at 12 p.m. Print your name and address and date of issue of policy on a post card and mail to Box C-11, Pampa Daily News.

This is not a sales promotion and persons will not be obligated or called upon, according to Newt Secrest, Underwriters president.

GLENN WALLACE

... Great American Reserve

Jaycee, Kiwanis Groups To Hear Wallace Tuesday

Glenn Wallace, vice president of a Dallas insurance firm, will speak at two service club meetings Tuesday as Life Insurance Week in Pampa enters its second day. Wallace is vice president of the Great American Reserve Company.

His first speech will be to the Jaycees at their noon meeting in the Palm Room of City Hall. Wallace will speak again at a 7 p. m. meeting of the Top O' Texas Kiwanis Club. He will be introduced by C. R. Howard, program chairman.

Wallace joined Great American Reserve as a salesman one week after being released from the Army, Nov. 12, 1945. Since then he has risen steadily in the company. He is a member of numerous state and national insurance organizations.

New Mortality Table Receives NAIC Okay

Big news to the life insurance industry is the approval of a new life insurance mortality table by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

Insurance men hope approval by the NAIC will give a green light to all state legislatures to enact laws permitting use of the table. The new table is to be called the Commissioners 1958 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table.

This new mortality table reflects the very substantial mortality improvement among policyholders over the last two decades. This becomes evident when one compares the death rate per 1,000 policyholders under the new table with the 1941 CSO table and the Old American Experience Table published in 1908.

Deaths per 1,000 policyholders are 1.79 at age 29 under new tables, compared with 2.43 in the 1941 table now in use and 7.50 in the 1908 table. At age 40, the current table rate is 3.53 per 1,000 compared with 6.18 under the 1941 table and 9.79 under the 1908 table.

Although it is highly unlikely that the adoption of the new mortality table will result in immediate lower costs to policyholders, it is possible that at some future date rates may be lowered, insurance spokesmen say.

Legislation will be introduced in the current session of the Texas Legislature permitting use of this new table by Texas insurance companies.

India has more than 225 languages and dialects, with 24 major tongues being used by 96 per cent of its population.

Records show that 16.3 per cent of all U. S. households own more than one auto, compared to only 6.2 per cent in 1949.

Trust Departments Vital To Insurance

Joe Doakes has an income of $40,000 a year and his savings and other assets total $100,000. If Joe dies, he wants to be certain the members of his family will be provided for in the manner to which they have become accustomed.

This is where trust departments in banks and insurance coverage enter the picture. Whether Joe is mindful of it or not, it costs money to die. The inheritance tax which must be paid Uncle Sam is one major cost.

The trust officer and vice president are concerned primarily of with estate planning to protect the individual when he grows too old to work and to provide income for his family if he dies.

When a man dies he leaves behind certain financial obligations and the other to provide for his survivors. Insurance, particularly insurance on the individual's life, is one basic means for the bank to provide estate planning for a client.

Trust departments also seek to make provisions for an individual's inability to work, whether because of poor health or old age. Other forms of insurance such as disability or accident insurance are then recommended in the client's plan. Insurance plays a vital role in business partnerships and other organizations where the loss of a "key man" would affect the operation.

Joe Doakes in partnership with John Doe would take out insurance on the life of his partner and vice versa. If one died, the other partner would assume the business under insurance providing for payment of the deceased's share in the concern.

Business establishments and individuals take out insurance to pay for tax losses when a member dies. The big bite taken by Uncle Sam is provided for under this type insurance.

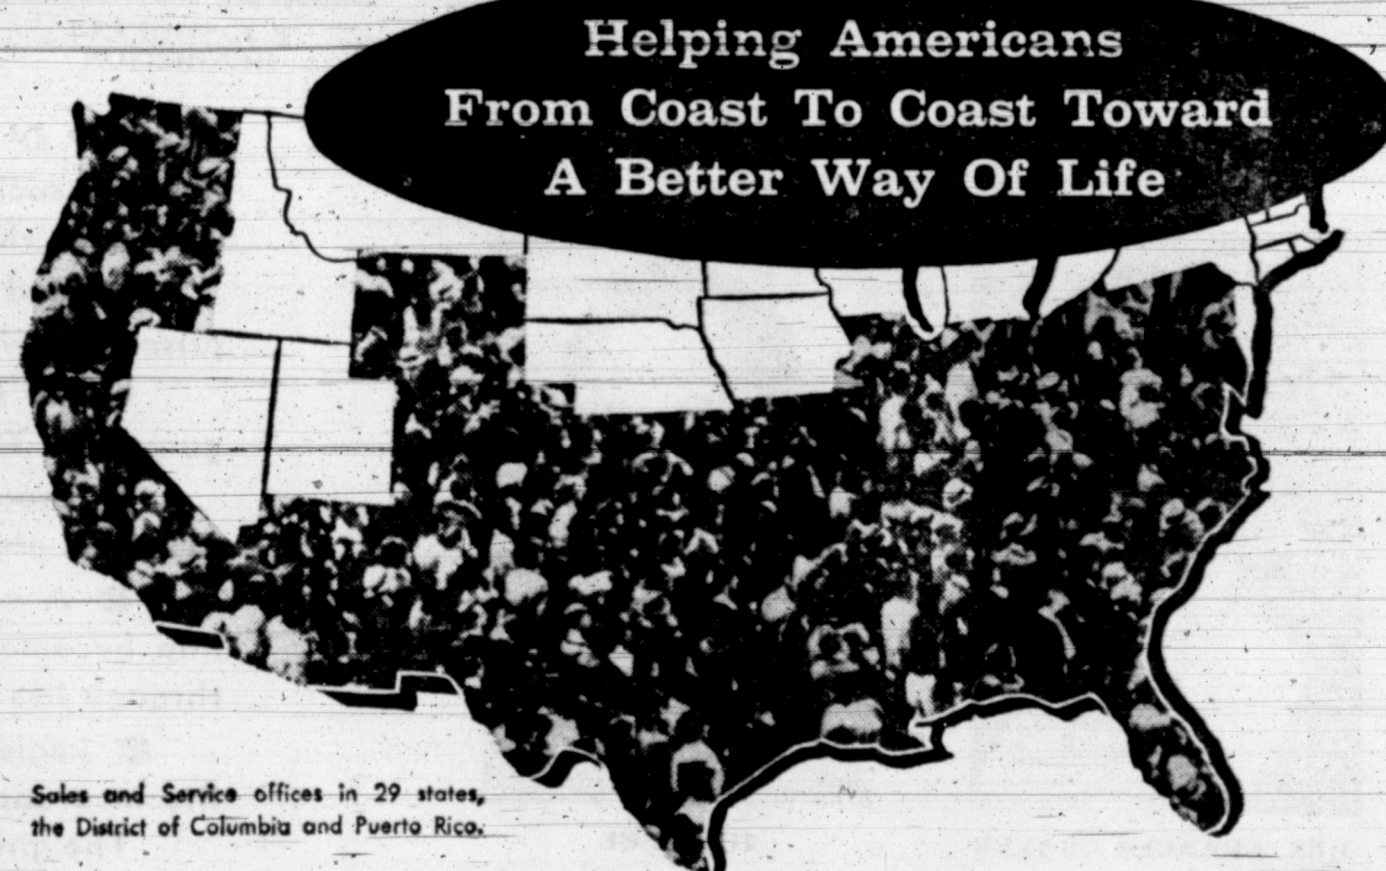

Insurance should be sufficient to cover any debts, mortgages or other obligations when an individual dies. The deceased should also have enough coverage to provide a substantial income for his widow and dependents.

Trust departments in banks are a close-knit organization, well trained to take care of the estate planning and other problems of individuals.

Through careful management and extensive experience in the field, trust departments assure the economic security of the client and his descendants. Determining the type insurance and the particular coverage best suited for the client remain part of the trust officer's job.

JEFFERSON STANDARD LIFE ...

Sales and Service offices in 29 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

Jefferson Standard in 1958 paid $25,951,727, more than ever before, in benefits to policyholders and beneficiaries... Bringing security, contentment and hope to the lives of these Americans from coast to coast. These benefit dollars helped pay for college educations, cared for widows and children, provided carefree retirement days for older people and blessed families with ready cash when it was needed most.

Premiums on new life insurance sales provided millions of additional dollars for sound investments in industrial sites, in mortgage loans and in government bonds... creating a stronger economy and a higher standard of living for all Americans.

Investment earnings again enabled Jefferson Standard to maintain its position of leadership in paying 4% interest on dividend accumulations and policy proceeds left on deposit with the Company to provide income. Now guaranteeing 2 1/2% interest, Jefferson Standard has never paid less than 4% interest since the Company was founded in 1907... the highest rate paid by any major life insurance company in the United States.

HIGHLIGHTS OF OPERATIONS FOR 1958:

- Payments to Policyholders and Beneficiaries amounted to $25,951,727
- Total Payments since 1907: $347,873,023
- Sales of New Life Insurance were $217,696,195, bringing total insurance in force to a new high of $1,803,871,538 as of December 31, 1958
- Net Rate of Interest Earned On Investments: 5.09%

Preamble:

The position of the Life Underwriter is unique in that he is the liaison between his client and his company. As a life insurance advisor he owes a high professional duty toward his client, while, at the same time, he also occupies a position of trust and loyalty to his company. Only by observing the highest ethical balance can he avoid any conflict between these two obligations. Therefore:

I BELIEVE IT TO BE MY RESPONSIBILITY:

1. To hold my business in high esteem and strive to maintain its prestige.
2. To keep the need of my clients always uppermost.
3. To respect my client's confidence and hold in trust personal information.
4. To render continuous service to my clients and their beneficiaries.
5. To employ every proper and legitimate means to persuade my clients to protect insurable obligations; but to rigidly adhere to the observance of the highest standards of business and professional conduct.
6. To present accurately, honestly and completely every fact essential to my client's decisions.
7. To perfect my skill and add to my knowledge through continuous thought and study.
8. To conduct my business on such a high plane that others emulating my example may help the standards of our vocation.
9. To keep myself informed with respect to insurance laws and regulations and to observe them in both letter and spirit.
10. To respect the prerogatives and cooperate with all others whose services are constructively related to ours in meeting the needs of our clients.

Zollie Steakley, Texas secretary of state, will pay his first visit to Pampa Wednesday when he speaks at the noon meeting of the local Rotary Club. Steakley will take part in the Life Insurance Week observance sponsored by the Life Underwriters Association of Texas.

Arrangements have been made to accommodate 50 additional persons at the luncheon, according to Lucian Young, program chairman. The regular luncheon price is $1.25.

Steakley is a native Texan. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree at Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, in 1929 and his Bachelor of Law degree at the University of Texas, Austin, in 1932. A lawyer by profession, he has an honorary Doctor of Law degree.

Insured Pension Plan Adjusts To Increases In Cost Of Living

The cost of living has more than doubled since 1940, as indicated by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics index of items for moderate income families in large cities.

This naturally has caused great concern among retired people living on fixed incomes and among the actively employed who are making provisions for their retirement years.

Employers and employees have been constantly considering the problem of inflation as it affects pensions. Although there is no sure way to set aside funds today for a definite amount of pension in the future so that the pensions will automatically reflect changing future price levels, several methods have been devised which will moderate the effect of rising prices on pensions.

An insured contract guarantees that a fixed amount of money will be delivered under certain circumstances at some time, in the future.

The insured pension plan can be flexible and can be adjusted for increases in the cost of living, making insured pensions and inflation by no means incompatible.

In designing a pension plan under which some provision is made for changing price levels perhaps the first consideration is the benefit formula. One of the simplest is the fixed benefit.

Under this the pension plan provides for a retirement income, such as $200 a month at age 65. No provision is made in advance for an increase or decrease in future living costs.

When a private pension plan provides for a pension equal to the difference between a fixed amount and Social Security benefits, any gain an employee might have through future increases in Social Security benefits because of inflation is eliminated.

By basing the amount of a pension upon years of service and average earnings of an employee a pension plan recognizes to some extent changes in price levels which occur during his active employment.

A typical plan of this nature provides a retirement income of 1 per cent of earnings for each year of service. If during such service the price levels rise, earnings would also normally increase and such increases would be automatically reflected in the pension accruing thereafter.

The "final salary" plan provides a cushion against inflation. Under this plan, an employee's pension is based upon a certain percentage of his average yearly earnings during the last five or 10 years of service.

While this formula does not adjust an employee's pension to changes in price levels after he retires, it does eliminate from consideration the salary levels during the earlier years of employment when they might have been lower, or higher, than in the later years.

The ideal pension benefits formula from the point of view of the employee, of course, would be one where his pension varies directly with the cost of living. This type of plan presents certain funding problems to the employer, as does the final salary formula, but it is the function of insured plans to work out such problems.

Lions Will Be First To Hear State Leader

M. S. "Si" Bennett, a Fort Worth life insurance agent, will make three speaking engagements, starting Thursday, to commemorate Life Insurance Week in Pampa. Bennett is general agent for the Lincoln National Life Insurance Company and vice president of the Texas Association of Life Underwriters.

He will speak at meetings of the Pampa Lions and Kiwanis Clubs as well as an annual Underwriters' banquet. His service club speech is titled "As to Life Insurance: What You Don't Know Can Hurt You — and Yours."

James O. Evans, program chairman, will introduce Bennett Thursday at the Noon Lions Club meeting. Bennett will be introduced Friday by Kiwanian Dale Stone. Both groups meet in the Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church.

Lincoln National Life

The Underwriters' banquet will be held there at 7:30 p.m. Thursday. Entertainment and music will be furnished by Maxine and Sissy Milliron. Ed Myatt will appear as master of ceremonies. The owner of the oldest life insurance policy in Gray County will be introduced by Gene Lewis.

Bennett has been extremely active in both the Fort Worth and Texas Associations of Life Underwriters. He has served as director of Region 2, and secretary-treasurer of the State Association. He will be introduced at the banquet by Marshall D. Farrell, branch manager of the Great American Reserve Insurance Company, Lubbock.

Insurance Men Prefer To Be Called 'Underwriters'

"My life underwriter" is a term commonly heard today when a person speaks of his life insurance man.

In the main, life insurance men like this identification because they feel it best fits the description of their work.

Today the public expects and is beginning to demand an underwriting service that goes beyond the mere purchase of a life insurance policy; members of the profession find. Many people accept life insurance now as a device to guarantee the success of their financial planning.

Financial planning differs from person to person, and so each individual situation requires specific consideration. The life underwriter feels this is where he can prove his worth.

Designing various plans of life insurance to fit the individual situation is called "analytical life underwriting." The training involves a time investment of several years. Life insurance men, of course, take pride also in the term "salesman," because many areas of life insurance marketing require salesmanship, and life insurance men consider themselves tops in this field.

The National Association of Life Underwriters conducted a survey among a cross section of the nation's life insurance men, asking them:

"Do you believe that the term 'life underwriter' accurately describes your job function and professional status, or do you prefer some other descriptive title?"

Fifty-two percent of those who answered favored "life underwriter;" 21.6 per cent preferred "agent," 14.2 per cent liked "life insurance salesman," and 12.2 per cent suggested some other designation.

Reasons for the various preferences included:

Life underwriter — "It's more professional sounding." "Helps to differentiate between general insurance agents and life insurance salesmen."

"Eighty-five per cent of the things that a good life insurance man does for his client are not of a pure selling nature. Therefore we are more than a 'salesman' or an 'agent.'"

Agent — "It's the most universally understood and accepted title." "It accurately describes the relationship between company and the person who merchandises its product." "Agent" is the title that most laymen use. If I say I'm an underwriter I have to go into a long definition of the term."

Life insurance salesman — "We have little to do with underwriting the risk we submit, except in initial selection, of course. Our job is a sales job." "It's clear to the point, and identifies us easily." "Use of this term leaves little doubt in the prospect's mind as to the business of the caller." The NAUL said suggestions for other designations included "fieldman," "special agent," and "counselor."

from Your Man from Equitable

Dear Friends,

This year, the Equitable Life Assurance Society celebrates its 100th anniversary — the completion of a century of security. And that's a pretty exciting thought! Especially to me, a man from Equitable. First of all, it's a BIG reminder of the people I've been able to help — and the many friends I've made — simply by being a Man from Equitable. And second, it really highlights the important role Equitable has played in our country's progress:

A century ago, this organization was only a dream in its founder's minds. But how real that dream has become! Over the past 100 years, for instance, more than 11 billion dollars has been paid out to policyowners and beneficiaries. And that course, is the heart of Equitable's Living Insurance benefits for the living for you while you live, for those who live after you if you die. Benefits that can mean funds toward your children's college education, a comfortable retirement for you someday, money for emergencies, an income for your family if you're not there.

The premiums you deposit with Equitable, however, not only return to you in the form of benefits... they also help build — through Equitable investments — turnpikes, shopping centers, power plants, and a wealth of vital industries. Naturally, this means new products and better services for us all. And it also means jobs and opportunity for the people of our state.

I'm proud to be associated with Equitable, a growing, living organization. And I look forward to more years of helping you, through Living Insurance, as your Man from Equitable.

Sincerely,

E. L. "Smiley" Henderson

EVERY SEVENTH FAMILY BUYS NEW LIFE POLICY EVERY YEAR

Every seventh family in the United States buys a new life insurance policy in any 12-month period. This is indicated in a new consumer survey made last year by the Survey Research Center of the University of Michigan for the Federal Reserve Board. The special tabulations on life insurance in this survey, covering 1957 buying and early 1958 ownership, have just been made available to the Institute of Life Insurance.

Farrell Will Be Big Man At Banquet

Marshall D. Farrell of Lubbock will be one of the high ranking insurance men in town Thursday for the annual Ladies Night banquet of the Top o' Texas Association of Life Underwriters, Inc. Farrell is branch manager of the Great American Reserve Insurance Company. The banquet is set for 7 p. m. in the First Methodist Church Fellowship Hall. The main speaker will be M. S. Bennett, vice president of the Texas Association of Life Underwriters. The owner of the oldest life insurance policy still in force in Gray County will be named at this banquet. Farrell is a graduate of the University of Missouri and a former vocational agriculture teacher. He entered the insurance business as a Great American agent upon discharge from the service in 1945.

"GOOD BUY"

... WHAT COMPANY SHOULD YOU CHOOSE?

There are hundreds of fine legal reserve life insurance companies that offer policies that will meet your needs. Many are represented by qualified agents in this community. It's easy for you to make the right choice.

... AND HOW SHOULD YOU SELECT A LIFE INSURANCE AGENT?

Yes choosing a good company can be easy; so is picking a good life insurance agent.

Of course, you want the best in life insurance counsel and services. That's why you'll want to do business with a member of your local LIFE UNDERWRITERS ASSOCIATION.

Presented in the public interest by ship, have just been made available to the Institute of Life Insurance. Analyzing the ownership of life insurance, the study showed that nine out of 10 typical American families consisting of father, mother and children, own life insurance. The amount they pay for premiums is well above average and they put a larger share of their income into life insurance than other types of family groups. Families headed by professional men, executives and self-employed business men made larger premium payments for more life insurance protection than any other occupational groups. Considering premiums as a proportion of income, the managerial and self-employed group was only slightly higher than unskilled workers, and professional people were actually lower than the unskilled group.

Group Works For Handicapped Kids

By WALLACE TRUEDELLE
Daily News Staff Writer

Something is being done for handicapped children in Pampa. Forty persons met in Lovett Memorial Library last week and formed the Exceptional Child Association, a specialized parent-teacher organization.

Mrs. O. M. Tigart was elected president; Mrs. Gene Barber, vice president; Mrs. Rex Spence, recording secretary; and Mrs. A. C. Patrick Jr., corresponding secretary. The main objective of the organization, according to Mrs. Barber, is to see that handicapped children get a decent education.

April 13 Last Day For Tax Aid

Monday morning, April 13, will be the last Taxpayers Assistance Day at the Internal Revenue Service offices, Room 303, Comba-Worley Bldg., 120 W. Kingsmill.

"IRS personnel will be available to help taxpayers who have tried and failed to complete their own tax returns for '58," Administrative Officer Wiley E. Davis, said.

"Persons needing aid will please bring along a complete list of their income items, business expenses, and such nonbusiness deductions as contributions, taxes, interest, medical and professional expenses. It would also help to include depreciation figures involving rental property, a copy of last year's tax return and W-2 Forms from every employer during 1958."

Deadline for filing Federal income tax returns for 1958, without penalty, is Wednesday, April 15, 1959.

One unit of mentally retarded children is already being taught in Pampa. The eight children are divided between the Lollypop School and Woodrow Wilson Elementary School. A major result of the meeting was an on-the-spot survey revealing that there are at least 26 handicapped children in Pampa who are not in the schools.

The group is working for another unit, this one for the orthopedically handicapped. It will be set up within the Pampa Public School System as soon as a qualified teacher can be secured.

Mrs. Barber stressed that the group exists only for the good of the child and is not a social organization.

Mrs. Gladys Harkins, director of the Lollypop School, spoke at the organizational meeting. She said that parents can best meet the problems of handicapped children by admitting that they are handicapped.

McHenry Lane, school curriculum coordinator, presented the system's congratulations on the forming of the organization. The system can do more toward helping these children if it knows where they are, he observed.

Sam Begert, principal of Horace Mann Elementary School, stated that the children would benefit from having more specialized training.

The meeting was called to order and guests welcomed by Mrs. Jack P. Foster.

A regular meeting date was set for the second Tuesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. The place has yet to be decided.

TESTS DRUNK-O-METER

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—City Judge Andrew Doyle took a deep breath and exhaled into the police department's drunk-o-meter. Nothing happened.

"I guess it's pretty accurate," Doyle said. "I haven't had a drink in three years."

PENSION INCREASE—Veterans Administrator Sumner G. Whittier will ask Congress for a 100-million-dollar annual increase in disabled veterans' pensions. Whittier has prepared a sliding-scale system based on income. Veterans now drawing pensions will be allowed to choose between the new plan and the present system.

Doris Day Popular Singer In Russia

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Know who's the most popular American singer in Russia? Discounting Paul Robeson? Doris Day!

No one is more surprised than the breezy, all-American blonde at the news that her recordings outsell any other U. S. platters in the U.S.S.R.—and she can't understand why.

"It's flattering, I guess," Doris laughed. "But I'm mystified. 'Maybe I should sing a special song in Russian and send it over. How about something like 'When the Communists took to Vladivostok.' It just might make their hit parade."

Doris, bright as a spring day in pink sweater, ruffled blouse and gray flannel slacks, also has the distinction of being the only consistent feminine vocalist among the top 10 recording stars in this country.

Among Rock 'n' Rollers
It comes as something of a shock to find her name among those of Ricky Nelson, Elvis Presley, Tommy Sands, Pat Boone and other rock 'n' roll fanatics.

"I must appeal to the same teenage group," she surmised. "But I don't sing the same kind of music. Maybe I've been fortunate in having so many good songs come my way. Now ones I mean."

"Personally I wish more girl singers were as popular as the young male vocalists. More women and girls buy records than men, and I guess the female population would rather listen to male voices."

To preserve her place at the top of the platter pile Doris records two albums a year and cuts four single records every six weeks. This in addition to turning out two movies a year.

It was Doris' voice, however, that brought her movie stardom. She succeeded where other big-name vocalists (Dinah Shore, Rosemary Clooney, Peggy Lee) failed. The others turned to television, with varying degrees of success, but the Cincinnati-born songbird is sticking to pictures.

No Time For TV
"I just don't have time for TV," she explained. "My only appearances were on 'What's My Line' and the Academy Award Show. I've thought about doing a spectacular, but I'd want it to be on the same scale as Fred Astaire's program. Too many people are watching not to give your very best."

Doris, 1958's boxoffice champ among actresses, currently is teamed with the male boxoffice leader, Rock Hudson, in "Any Way the Wind Blows" at Universal-International.

There is an animation, a melody in her voice even when she talks.

"Once the picture is over I head out across country to plug the opening of another movie," she said happily. "But I'm leaving early to spend some time in my home town—Cincinnati."

Library Week Will Be Observed Here

By The Staff of The Lovett Memorial Library.

From April 12 to April 18, Pam- pa and thousands of communi- ties throughout the United States will be celebrating the second National Library Week. This event is sponsored by the National Book Committee in cooperation with the American Library Association.

The objective of the week is to remind the American people that reading can help them to explore and to satisfy their need for a greater sense of purpose and meaning in their lives; to urge them to use more fully the libraries of all kinds in which the treasures of the printed word await throughout the land.

But there is a wider aim: to set apart a time when people can rededicate themselves to the ideas and ideals of a free society. Since ours is a society based on the choices made by the many rather than the few, its greatest concern must be the development of every individual to his highest capacity. Its vitality, its very ex- istence, depends upon the extent to which all the people have formed the habit of finding out, of in- telligently weighing alternatives, of reading to be informed. Limited horizons are dangerous to a free people; so, as we have discover- ed, is the mindless assumption of superiority and invulnerability.

Suddenly, a "better-read, bet- ter-informed America" has become a necessity. The printed word, the very basis of education, has as- sumed a new importance. Only a lifetime of continuing self-educat- ion through reading, after formal education is completed, can keep Americans in watchful readi- ness to exercise responsible citi- zenship. Only a wide variety of reading can keep us abreast of what has been, and what is, and train the imagination to forge ahead into what might be in the future.

National Library Week is a time

Twenty-Three New Lions Approved By Lefors Directors

PAMPA ROSE GARDEN

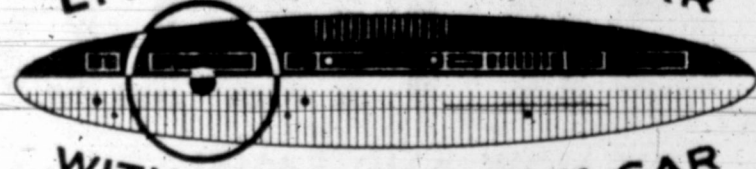

SHOWPIECE IN THE MAKING

A project many Pampa residents believe will become one of the city's finest floral showpieces — the Pampa Memorial Rose Garden — was diagrammed above for the Pampa News by Walden Moore and Gene Hollar, two of the many persons donating time and effort to the project. The ideas incorporated in the Moore and Hollar diagram were furnished by Mrs. Jimmy McCune, a member of the Pampa Garden Club. The project as a whole has been undertaken by the city's four garden and floral clubs. The unfinished project is located at Aspen City Park on Duncan St., north of the Stephen F. Austin school

Cubs Receive Awards At Pack Meeting

By FRANK ELEAZER
United Press International

A monthly pack meeting of Cub Scout Pack 4 was held in the Fellowship Hall of the First Christian Church recently.

Den 1, under the leadership of Mrs. Lonnie Kenney, was awarded the attendance banner for having the highest percentage for March.

Lonnie Kenney, Webelos leader, presented Parker Stewart and Calvin Calloway with their Webelos Badges and Graduation certificates into the Boy Scouts. Burl Graham, Scoutmaster of Pack 4, welcomed the boys into the Boy Scouts and issued an invitation to the boys to join Pack 4 if they so desired. Shelton Moore was received into the Webelos Den.

Kenneth Kyle, Awards Chairman, presented the following awards:

Den 1
Gary Stroble, Denner Bars; Kerry Parsley, Assistant Denner Bars; Bear Badge with Gold Arrow under the Bear.

Den 2
BERRY CRAIG, two Silver Arrows under the Lion, Webelos Badge; Richard Craig, one year pin, two Silver Arrows under the Wolf; Gold Arrow under the Bear; Mike Flarely, one year pin, Silver Arrow under the Wolf, Bear Badge; Jon Roy Graham, Gold Arrow under the Bear; Ernie Gilbert, Silver Arrow under the Wolf; Tommy New, two year pin, Silver Arrow under the Lion; Timmy New, one year pin, Bear Badge; Jimmy Powell, Three Silver Arrows under the Wolf, Bear Badge; Gold Arrow under the Bear; James Silcott, Silver Arrow under the Lion; Mike Thut, Two Silver Arrows under the Wolf, Bear Badge.

Great Plains Conservation Program Born Of Necessity

The Lighter Side
By FRANK ELEAZER
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Navy has a problem with absenteeism. But for a few months back there weren't enough of them, and this has loused up the budget.

It seems that when a ship is in port the captain always counts on a good-sized bunch of his sailors rowing ashore. There they hang around beer joints, dining on hamburgers and other civilian delicacies.

Hearings published today by the House Appropriations Committee disclosed that during recent parlous times off Formosa and Lebanon the fellows hung around aboard ship instead, and ate up $2,415,000 of unbudgeted GI chow.

Wants Paid Back

President Eisenhower now wants Congress to pay him back for this outlay. The sum is included in an extra $20,886,000,000 he says he needs to tide the government over till the end of June, when the fiscal year ends. This would be in addition to the $67,773,000,000 he already has.

Our lawmakers haven't decided

One Gold Arrow under the Bear; Joe D. Roth, Bobcat Badge.

Den 5
Carroll Day, one year pin; Mike Burnett, Denner Bars; Sherwin Cox, Denner Bars; Don Ross, Assistant Denner Bars.

Den 6
David Brady, Assistant Denner Bars; Lanny Kyle, Denner Bars; Chuck Weaver, Gold Arrow under the Wolf.

Webelos
Parker Stewart, One year pin; Webelos Badge and Certificate; Calvin Calloway, Webelos Badge and Certificate.

yet how much of this they will give him.

One $18,000 item though is a shoo-in. It's to cover increased postage charges on farmers' bulletins, agricultural yearbooks and other literary gems which congressmen like to mail out to the homefolks.

Those higher postal rates were voted by Congress last year to cut down the deficit in the Post Office Department. But now the other government agencies are back asking more money to pay the extra mail charge. Sometimes it looks like we can't win.

Need New Historian
Our Civil War Centennial Commission has discovered it needs a historian. Apparently it won't get him, though. Committee members said the commission had set a fine economy record and they wouldn't want to spoil it.

The pensions Congress provided last year for ex-presidents are costing more than expected. We put up $100,000; $600,000 extra is needed.

Hoover turns out to be a more expensive ex-president than Truman, though most congressmen had figured it vice versa. They each get $25,000 yearly as pension, plus office expenses. Hoover's are running $50,400 so far to Truman's $33,100. However, Hoover, after deduction of taxes, was reported turning his pension check over to charity.

Blames Autos For Surplus
Rep. Ben Jensen (R-Iowa) blames the farm surplus problem on automobiles. He said horses used to eat the product of 45 million acres. He didn't specifically say we ought to go back to the hayburner and thus save the $1,500,000,000 budgeted next year to help farmers.

The Civil Service Commission wants extra money to cover such expenses as the $335 it spends investigating the loyalty of each member of Congress who is named to an international body. A sure-enough loyalty check, by the FBI, costs $750.

The Agriculture Department needs an extra $600,000 to hire chicken inspectors. Some of these will be veterinarians. The others, naturally, will be called lay inspectors.

PLAN MALARIA CONTROL
MAKASSAR, Celebes, Indonesia (UPI) — The Malaria Eradication Department of the East Indonesian Islands said today that malaria kills at least 120,000 persons a year in Indonesia. The department said it is planning a 10-year program for controlling the disease.

PICTURE NEWS

AROUND THE WORLD

SPHERE HEAD—Russell Milton (No. 29) of North Greenville Junior College, Tigerville, S. C., made a ball-faced spectacle of himself as he took a rebound from Floyd Blair (No. 33), of the Paris, Tex., team during their game in Hutchinson, Kan. They were playing in the national junior college tournament, and the Texas team won, 73-68.

ROYALTY ON SKIS—Sweden's Princess Birgitta is looking forward to a lot of fun on the slopes as she waits to board the ski railway at St. Anton, Austria. As she enjoyed her winter vacation, the princess and some of her friends lived in a small, inexpensive pension nearby.

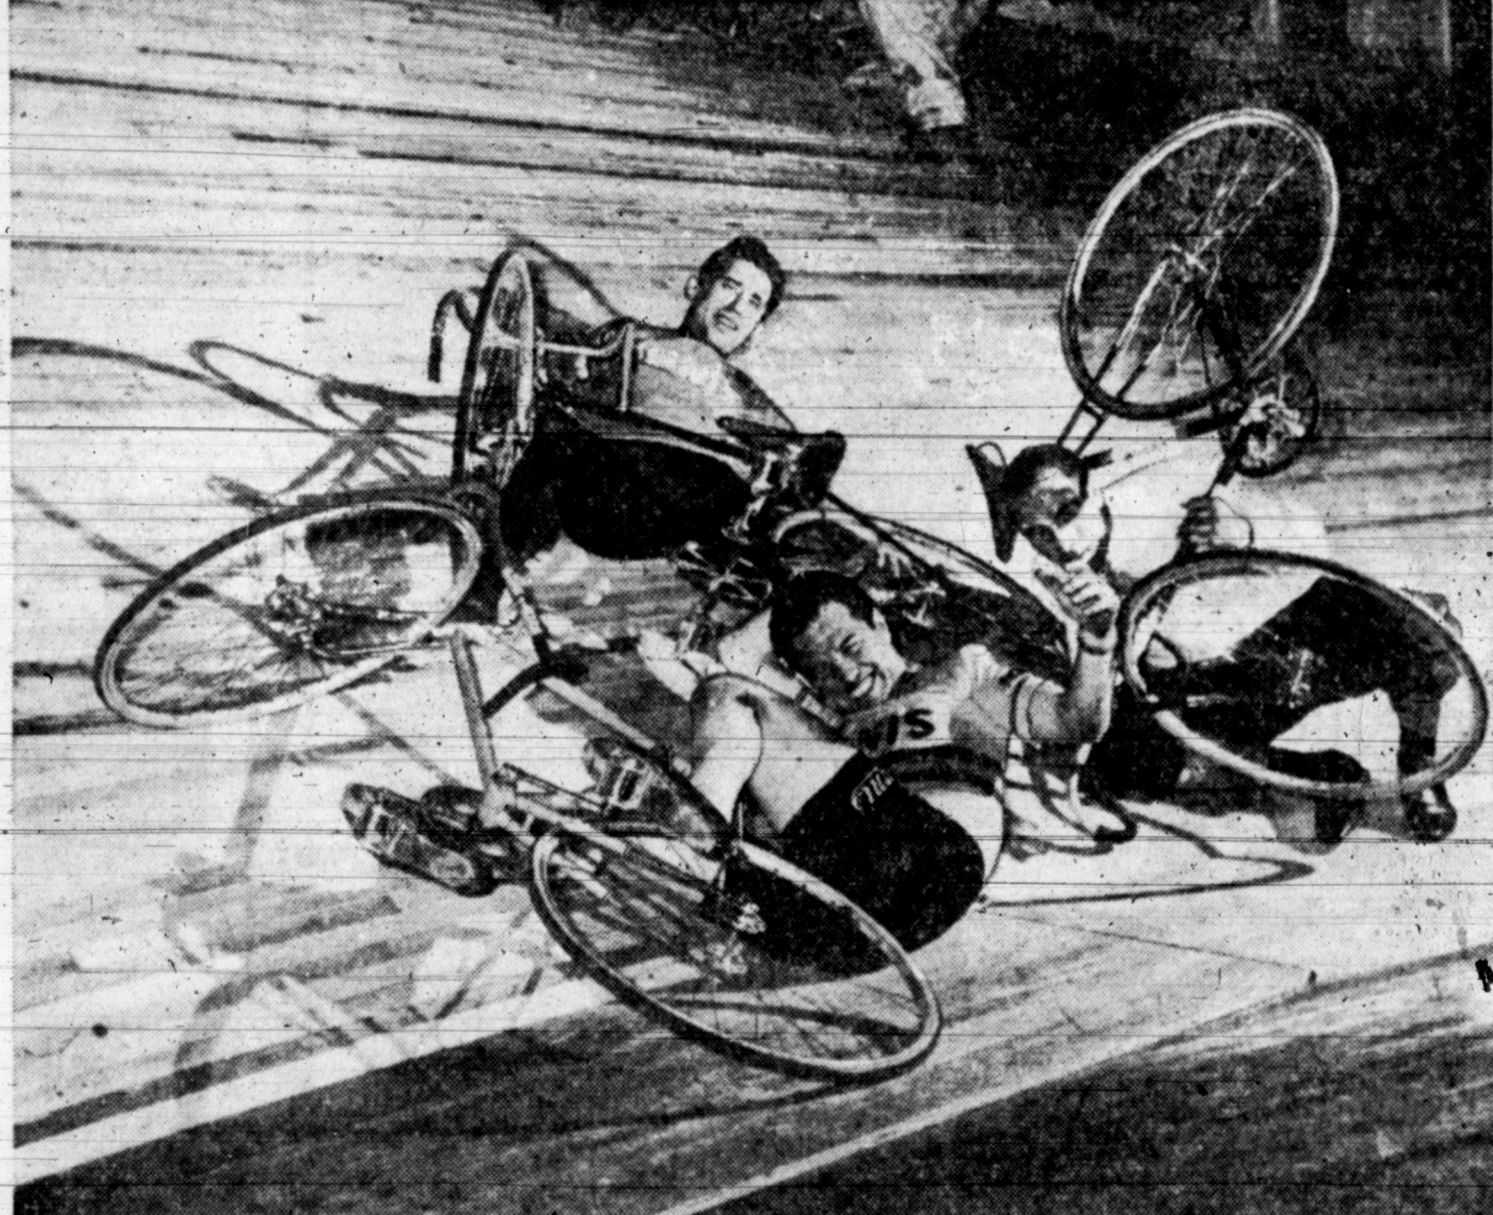

TIMES HAVE CHANGED—And so have beach styles, as illustrated by model Helen Connor (left), who's wearing a new version of the kind grandma used to wear 'way back in 1914. The old one is draping Mary Jane Morrison in Los Angeles, where the gals wore the suits at a style show. The 1914 model was a shocker then and, for a different reason, still is.

TURNING OUT FOR DAD—Mrs. Louise Larker, wife of Dodger infielder Norm Larker, strolled over with the rest of the family to watch the head of the household work out with his team at Vero Beach, Fla. Dyane, 3, and Wayne, 14 months, went along, and so did the pooch, which was carried in style.

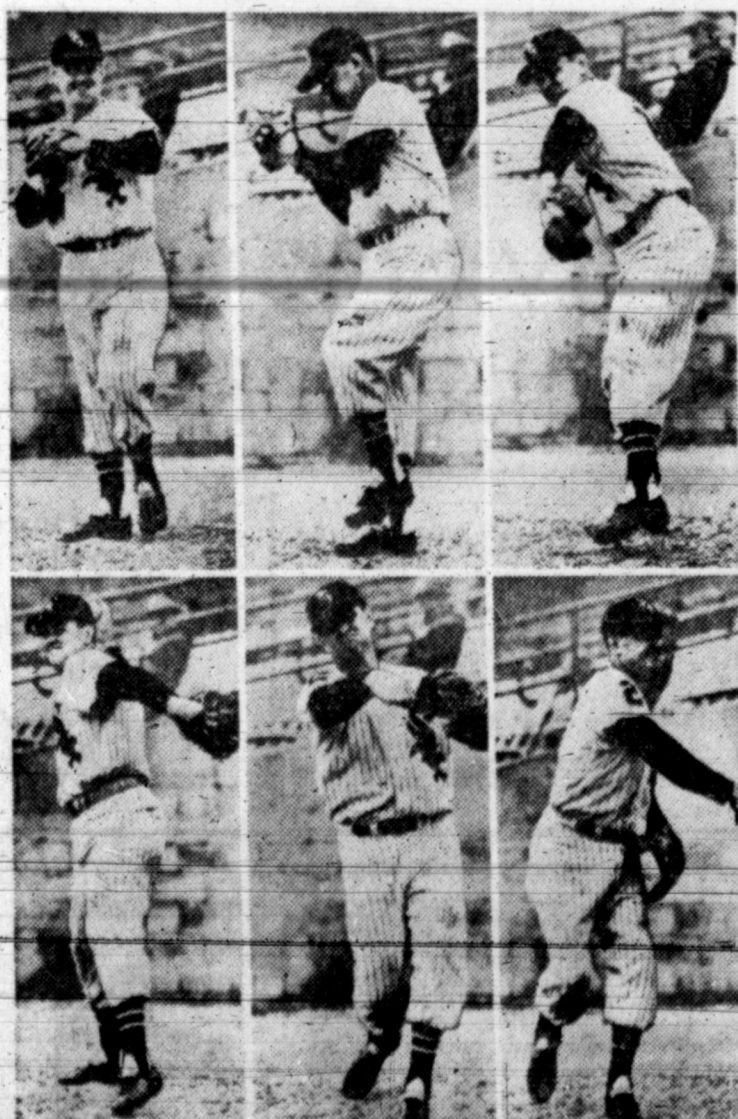

HIGH STEPPING REFEREE—He's Frank Udvari (right) and he had to move mighty fast to climb onto the glass partition to avoid battling Eddie Shack (left) of the Rangers and Canadiens Marcel Bonin. It took place in Madison Square Garden and no one got hurt but the Rangers, who dropped the game, 4-2, and lost out on a playoff berth.

SPILLED SPANIARDS—Sprawled on the track of an armory in New York are Spanish cyclists Alfredo Esmatges (upper left), Gabriel Saura (center foreground) and Andres Boher. They are among the 28 leading cyclists from nine countries, including the United States, who are participating in the 72nd international six-day bike race. It's the first time in nine years that Manhattan is playing host to a six-day bike race, and these lads were adding a bit of excitement to the event.

FOR SELF PRESERVATION—Before leaving New York for Philadelphia and the tryout of their new play, "Katakai," Japanese star Sessue Hayakawa practiced some of the ju jitsu he does with Ben Piazza in the show. The two-character play is due to open on Broadway in April, and Hayakawa has been teaching the Japanese art of self-defense to his co-star.

MAKING A NEW PITCH—Chicago White Sox ace second sacker Nellie Fox seems to be enjoying himself as he gives hurling a whirl at his team's training camp in Tampa, Fla. Although he apparently likes the idea of toeing the rubber, Fox did right well at the other end of the plate last season. He slammed out 187 hits and finished with a .300 average.

ANYTHING GOES—They may not have the best of equipment, but these skiers have plenty of spirit as they prepare for a race at a ski resort near Seoul, South Korea. They're using homemade skis, about half the size of the regular ones, while crude sticks serve instead of ski poles. Their equipment may not be that of the conventional sort, but these men undoubtedly have just as much fun.

IN THE BAG—Tossing baseballs into a bag during spring training in Tucson, Ariz., Cleveland Indians' pitcher Richard Stigman seems to have invented a new game. For people who dislike walking and carrying lots of equipment, this could be a golf bag substitute.

ALL AMERICAN SHOW—Tony Lavelli, the only four-time "All American" basketball star, substituted the accordion for basketball when he got out of college. Nowadays, Tony tours the country giving concerts on his accordion, but the small fry in attendance, such as those shown with him in Sioux Falls, S. D., like to see his trophies, too. So Tony carries a lot of them along as an "extra-added attraction."

REGULATED-ACCESS HIGHWAYS SAFER THAN ORDINARY ROADS

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A three-year, nationwide study of automobile accidents has blasted two popular myths about highway safety.

One is that modern superhighways are more dangerous than ordinary roadways.

The other is that high horsepower can be blamed for many accidents.

The reverse is true in both cases, according to the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads, which has just completed the most comprehensive research project on highway safety ever undertaken.

The bureau found that modern controlled-access highways are "at least two and one-half times safer than ordinary highways."

Some of the best sections of controlled-access highway, such as those found on major turnpikes or in the growing interstate highway system, have accident rates only one-fifth as great as the national average for all highways.

Narrow Roads Dangerous

At the other extreme, the bureau's study showed that the accident rate, per vehicle mile of travel, is sharply higher than the national average on highways that are less than 24 feet wide. This finding is particularly ominous in view of the fact that about 30 percent of the state primary-highway systems now serving intercity traffic have surfaces only 20 feet wide.

The bureau's study covered 3,700,000,000 vehicle-miles of actual travel by all types of cars and drivers over many different sections of open highway in all parts of the country.

One finding, which the bureau itself described as "somewhat surprising," was that lower horsepower cars had "significantly higher accident involvement rates than the higher horsepower cars."

Higher At Night

Cars with less than 110 horsepower had the highest accident involvement rate, both for day and night travel. Their accident rate was "exceptionally high" at night.

There was no support in the study, however, for any contention that "the greater the horsepower, the greater your safety." The daytime accident involvement rate remained nearly constant at all horsepower levels above 120. In other words, cars with 250 or 300 horsepower got into proportionately as many accidents as those with only 120 to 150 horsepower.

And at night, the highest horsepower cars had an accident involvement rate somewhat higher than those with moderate horsepower.

The bureau offered no interpretation of these findings. Other safety authorities say that a certain amount of reserve horsepower increases safety by enabling a driver to pull out of tight spots more quickly. But if extra horsepower tempts a driver to excessive speeds, particularly at night, it can be a hazard.

Car Age A Factor

The bureau's analysis of thousands of accidents showed no significant relationship between make of car and accident involvement rate, other than the matter of low horsepower.

But it demonstrated a close correlation between a car's age and its probability of getting into an accident. Cars less than three years old had much lower accident rates than older cars. Those more than 10 years old had an accident rate 250 per cent higher than new cars.

The bureau's report, more than three inches thick in mimeographed form, contains hundreds of other findings that will doubtless be studied closely by highway planners, automobile manufacturers and state officials.

Skidding is Serious

Here are a few examples:

—Skidding is a "far more serious factor in highway accidents than is generally realized." Routine maintenance operations should be used as a low-cost way of applying non-skid surfaces to slick stretches of road.

There is urgent need for better brakes on nearly all models of cars. The trend toward smaller wheels has reduced braking surfaces at the very time when the growing weight and horsepower of cars requires improved stopping ability.

Seat belts would greatly reduce the number of injuries and deaths in automobile accidents if Americans could be persuaded to install and use them. But "the public now seems unwilling to pay for seat belts or submit to the inconvenience of using them."

Better windshield wipers and defrosters—improving the rear windows—would substantially improve auto safety at modest cost.

Better Signs Help

Larger, more readable highway signs and better roadway markings would help to reduce accident tolls of many roads.

Considering the much higher accident rates of younger drivers, states should consider raising the minimum age for driving licenses.

A central clearing house should be set up so that each state can check, before acting on an application for a driving license, whether the applicant has had a license revoked or suspended in any other state.

Safety education must hammer home to all drivers the truth that "it can happen to YOU!" A recent survey revealed that nine drivers out of 10 rated themselves as "above average" in driving skill, and unlikely to have an accident. This kind of complacency keeps drivers from exercising the continual, alert, intelligent care that makes for true safety on the highways.

FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS

ELIZABETH, N.J. (UPI)—D. B. Brown, Inc., a poultry distributing firm, celebrates its 50th anniversary at a dinner party Saturday.

Among the guests: Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell and 14 truck drivers presently on strike against the company.

Company President Herbert J. Brown said it won't be a business meeting. He said some of the drivers had been with the firm for 30 years and "will all sit down as friends of the company." Mitchell is a friend and neighbor, and a long-time customer.

Cancer Can Come Back Under Strain

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo. (UPI)—Here are two new and astonishing facts about people and cancer:

—After long lapses cancer came back in six persons while they were under severe emotional strain.

—The blood of a woman whose cancer had been arrested for a long time killed re-awakening cancer cells more efficiently than the best cancer cell-killing drug.

Dr. Oscar Creech Jr., of Tulane University, New Orleans, who disclosed these facts, had no explanation for the first beyond its obvious suggestion that the emotional mind, which is known to influence many body functions, can also influence the body's relations with its own cancerous parasite.

Natural Chemical Defenses

The second, Creech took as more confirmation of what practically all cancer doctors have to come to believe. The body has natural chemical defenses against cancer just as it has against bacteria and virus diseases.

Creech and other cancer surgeons, in briefing science writers on the newest in cancer research at a seminar sponsored by the American Cancer Society, agreed the defenses exist and a thorough understanding of them could make them usable and go far in conquering cancer.

That would lead to vaccines to prevent cancer. Cancer experts are convinced that cancer is not one disease but many, since cancer cells are so diverse and behave so differently, and there would have to be many vaccines, one for each cancer disease. However, vaccines are far in the future. No one knows enough to make even one now.

Creech's famous New Orleans surgical colleague, Dr. Alton Ochsner, reiterated to the science writers his now well-known belief that cigarette-smoking is a direct cause of lung cancer and the tremendous increase in cigarette smoking.

Let's Modernize Pampa's City Charter

Here Is Why:

Pampa's city charter, under which we operate as a "home rule" city, was adopted in 1927. The charter is the constitution, so to speak, of our city government.

During the thirty-two years following adoption of our charter, Pampa has grown tremendously. In many respects the charter is no longer adequate to cover matters and problems which arise in the administration of a city the size of Pampa. It has been apparent for several years to many interested citizens, as well as those who have had the responsibility of operating our city government, that it needs to be revised and brought up to date.

Some laws passed by the Legislature, of beneficial value in good city government, cannot be taken advantage of by Pampa because there is no provision in the charter permitting same. We need to include the power to extend the city limits of Pampa by action of the city. At present, we depend upon the owners or residents outside the city to request to be admitted, when actually the city grows and territory becomes urban regardless of boundary lines and the wishes of the people next to the city. With the city having the right to extend the city limits as the city grows, we could lend assistance to the developing areas about the city in planning our utilities, streets and business centers, whereas we are now hampered in these matters.

We need a section in our charter permitting uniform insurance on employees, so that all employees may be insured and protected, on the same basis regardless of the department in which they might be employed; it would save the city expense in connection with city financing if the handicap we now have in our present charter could be removed, allowing the city to pay cash if it can do so, instead of requiring bond issues from time to time in certain instances. These are only a few of the many changes that should be studied relative to the administration procedure of the city which would permit a more efficient and modern administration of city affairs.

In order to modernize our city charter and frame an entirely new charter, the procedure required by the statutes is this: There must first be submitted to the voters the question of whether or not they want to rewrite the city charter. This is done by submitting the question of whether or not a charter commission be elected to frame a new charter, as shown on the sample ballot in this ad. At the same election, a charter commission composed of fifteen persons is elected. If the proposition carries, the charter commission thus will undertake to write a new charter for the City of Pampa. There is no time limit involved, and the charter commission will take as long as necessary with the assistance of all interested citizens, to prepare a charter which is deemed best for Pampa. This charter, thus framed by the charter commission, must be submitted to a vote of the people at an election for its adoption.

At the city election next Tuesday, April 7, the proposition of whether or not to elect the charter commission will be submitted.

THIS IS A COMMUNITY PROJECT AND NOT A MATTER OF POLITICS IT DESERVES THE SUPPORT OF EVERY CITIZEN INTERESTED IN GOOD CITY GOVERNMENT

Senate Bill No. 11 Begins Hard Trek Through Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Bill No. 11 is about to begin another tortuous journey through Congress with prospects of passage as uncertain as in years past.

"S-11," as it is familiarly known to the oil industry, was revived by chairman Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) of the Senate Judiciary Monopoly subcommittee and is cosponsored by 24 colleagues. It would outlaw "good faith" as a defense against federal price-fixing charges if it tends to create a monopoly or curb competition.

The Supreme Court set up the good faith doctrine Jan. 8, 1951, and as a result disrupted some segments of oil marketing. The decision also forced the price-policing Federal Trade Commission to take a new look at its suits under the Robinson-Patman anti-price discrimination act.

The court held that Standard Oil of Indiana was justified, "as a matter of business survival," in giving price discounts to some, but not all, of its Detroit area customers to combat a price-cutting competitor.

Oil jobbers and independent filling station owners barraged Congress for relief, claiming the edict put them in a price squeeze with bankruptcy the only way out.

Kefauver's subcommittee concluded hearings on S-11 last week. It closed the record on the hearing today and a spokesman said Kefauver will press the full Judiciary committee for early approval. The full committee cut the ground from under Kefauver last year by restricting the bill to food, drugs and cosmetics. The Tennessee had been aiming primarily at oil. In any event the Senate leadership let it die.

The new measure is an "across-the-board" version and has won unusually strong support. There are rumors that Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson from oil-producing Texas has even agreed to let it come to a vote.

Rain Benefits Crop Planting In State

COLLEGE STATION (UPI) — Scattered showers the past week enabled Texas farmers to give crop planting a big push.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service reported today that farmers rushed to take advantage of the much needed moisture before high winds sapped it from the surface.

"Cotton, corn and grain sorghum planters picked up speed as far north as Central and North Texas, some fields of rice have been planted near the Gulf Coast, and the first plantings of irrigated Pima cotton were made in the Pecos area," said Director John E. Hutchison.

Grains Improving

"Farmers in other areas have their land prepared and are waiting for favorable temperature and moisture. Irrigated fields are being irrigated prior to planting."

District agricultural agents report small grain, pastures and ranges in the eastern half of the state are improving, but slow due to low temperatures, and that most of West Texas, except in local areas such as Big Spring and Snyder where a little moisture fell, still is too dry for vegetative growth. Irrigated crops look good.

Feeding livestock still is general, but slacking in East Texas. Cattle are being removed from wheat in the Panhandle, where snow and some rain brought temporary relief, to allow growth of a grain crop.

Tomatoes Being Planted

Livestock generally is in good shape. Calf and lamb crops are reported good, goat shearing is about finished and sheep shearing is moving at full speed.

High winds and dust did further damage to small grain in the Edwards Plateau, and it is in critical condition in the Rolling and South Plains, and getting that way in the western sections of North Texas.

Fruit trees have passed their peak of blooming and many are being sprayed to control fruit insects and pecan buds are swelling in southern parts of the state. Tomato sets are being planted in fields in northeast Texas and watermelons are planted and some up in South Central Texas and on sandy land near the coast.

Dumas Romps To Jr. High Track Title Here

Thomson Is Disqualified

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — Peter Thomson of Australia was disqualified from the Masters Golf tournament Saturday night because he signed a scorecard for Saturday's round which contained an error in his score on one hole.

Chick Harbert of Northville, Mich., who was keeping the scorecard in the group, marked down a four for Thomson on the 18th hole instead of a five.

Thomson, who said he noted only that the total of 72 strokes was correct and missed the fact that the 18th hole score was incorrect, signed the card. Under PGA rules, a player signing an incorrect scorecard may be disqualified and the Masters tournament rules committee imposed that penalty Saturday night.

"This is very regrettable," said Harbert, "it's all my fault."

Spahn Will Pitch Opener

BRADENTON, Fla. (UPI) — Manager Fred Haney announced Saturday that Warren Spahn, nine times a 20-game winner, will pitch the season opener for the Milwaukee Braves at Pittsburgh Friday.

Ronnie Kline had been announced previously as the Pirate starter.

The Braves reached the opening day player limit of 28, plus returned service man Bob Giggie, by sending four players to their Louisville affiliate in the American Assn.

Lee Ties For 3rd; Reapers Are 5th

Most of the events in the first annual Pampa Junior High invitational track meet here Saturday were running events, but Dumas decided to walk away with the championship.

It was strictly no contest, as the Imps scored 48 points, almost as many as the next three teams combined, on a cloudy afternoon at the Pampa High School dirt track.

Austin of Borger took second place with 21 1/2 points, and Robert E. Lee and Houston of Borger tied for third with 16. Pampa Junior High was fifth with 13, followed by Phillips with 8 1/2, Perryton with 8, and Lefors with 7.

George Parsons of Dumas, in the outstanding single performance in the afternoon, as he ran a 10.2-hundred yard dash. His time would have won many high school meets, even on a regulation track. Parsons also won the 50-yard dash in 5.9 and ran on the winning 400-yard relay team, to become the second high individual, with 11 points.

High point honors were taken by his team-mate, Mike Boxwell, who defeated Wayland in the semi-finals of the National Women's AAU Basketball tournament here.

But Friday night the tables were turned as Wayland, shooting for its fifth crown in six years, stopped defending champion Nashville. The Tennessee club had been top-seeded in the week-long tournament and Wayland was ranked third.

Second-rated Iowa Wesleyan took third place last night with a 51-34 win over Omaha Commercial Extension and Northeastern Oklahoma A&M won the consolation title by defeating Atlanta Blues 54-34.

Wayland's Patsy Neal led the championship scoring with 17 points and Joan Crawford of Nashville netted 12. Nashville led until almost the end of the second quarter when Wayland overtook the Tennessee outfit 15-13. Nashville never came back.

The Wayland defensive wall, led by versatile Katherine Washington, stopped Nashville and forced the Tennesseans to take a lot of wild shots from the outside.

Wayland led at halftime 25-22. Peppy Rita Horky hit 23 points for Iowa Wesleyan, hitting 11 of 22 field goal tries. Iowa led 24-16 at halftime. The Iowans pulled away with ease after the first quarter.

Wayland Wins AAU Crown

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (UPI) — Wayland College of Texas ruled over Women's AAU basketball again today after ousting Nashville, Tenn. Business College 43-37.

It was Nashville that last year defeated Wayland in the semi-finals of the National Women's AAU Basketball tournament here.

But Friday night the tables were turned as Wayland, shooting for its fifth crown in six years, stopped defending champion Nashville. The Tennessee club had been top-seeded in the week-long tournament and Wayland was ranked third.

Reaper thinned, tossed the discus 127 feet, 9 inches, and put the shot 49 feet, 9 inches, to gather 10 of his team's 13 points.

Those playing in each event are as follows, in the order of finish: shot put — Matson, 49 feet, 6 inches; Dale Vick, Dumas; Larry Braly, Lee; Jack Gray, Phillips; pole vault — Woody Parker, Dumas, 9 feet; Dale Vick, Dumas and Johnny Osman, Houston (tie second); Jimmy Brooks, Austin and Fred Lewis, Perryton (tie fourth); High jump — Danny Witt, Perryton, 5 feet, 2 inches; Toby Hall, Houston; Mike Boxwell, Dumas; and Durwood Williams, Austin, and Phillip Johnson, Phillips (tie fourth); broad jump — Toby Hall, Houston, 15 feet, 7 inches; Mike Boxwell, Dumas; Jack Gray, Phillips; Danny Witt, Perryton.

Discus — Randy Matson, Pampa, 127 feet, 9 inches; Gray, Phillips; Jerry Gilman, Austin; Braly, Lee; 50-yard dash — George Parsons, Dumas, 5.9; Boxwell, Dumas; Robbie Robison, Lee; Ronnie Lane, Lefors; 100-yard dash — Parsons, Dumas, 10.2; Robison, Lee; Boxwell, Dumas; Billy Don Hunt, Phillips.

Queens Get 4 All-Americans

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (UPI) — Champion Wayland College of Texas placed four players on the Women's AAU All-American basketball team.

Nashville, Tenn. Business College, which wound up in second place in the week-long tournament that ended Friday night, landed three players on the All-American list chosen by the AAU: Nera White of Nashville and Kucera, Phillips; Snyrl, Houston; 230-yard dash — McLaughlin, Austin, 23.0; Boxwell, Dumas; Gray, Phillips; Wilson, Houston.

Red Sox, Giants Win Exhibitions

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Scoring a run in the ninth inning on two infield errors, the Boston Red Sox edged the Chicago Cubs, 8-7, at Burnet Field Saturday before a Colavito, McCordell, Brandt.

With one out in the ninth, Dick Bernert reached first safely on an error by third baseman Al Dark. Jackie Jensen followed with a single to center. Frank Malone hit a grounder to Dark who fired to Tony Taylor at second. Taylor was hit very hard by Jensen sliding in second and his relay throw to first was high and wild, allowing Jensen to score from third.

Race Crash Kills Driver

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — A high speed smash-up on the straightaway half a lap from the finish line killed little daredevil race driver Georgia Amick Saturday in a tragedy that marred the first Daytona Beach USAC 100-mile speedway race.

Amick, 38, of Rhinelander, Wis., led the world quarterly mark of 176.887 miles per hour at the New Daytona International Speedway and was one of the favorites Saturday. He finished second in last year's Memorial Day 500 at Indianapolis.

Ironically, the race was won when Amick's big, powerful but his body was pinned in the Howes Seal special flipped over and somersaulted on the last lap. He was killed instantly, smoking a heap of wreckage.

Amick was dusting with Bill Shriver (3) Brodowski (6), Briggs (8), Thomas (9) and Brown, WP — Kiehl, LP — Elston, HR — Gerhart, Moryn.

Wills Raps Grand-Slam Homer: Dumas Falls, 6-4

By RICK PEZDIRTZ, Daily News Editor

That Lucky Ole Sun made a belated 6th inning appearance at Harvester Park here Friday, but it didn't matter to Gary Wills.

The stocky rightfielder lit up the world for coaches Deck Woldt and John Dobson in the home half of the 5th frame with a grand-slam four-bagger that pushed Pampa High to a 6-4 baseball conquest of Dumas.

The Harvesters, in picking up their fifth win in six starts, had blown an early 2-0 lead and trailed by 4-2 when Wills picked a 3-2 pitch. The four-ply swat soared off Wills' Louisville Slugger into the cloudy overhead like something out of Cape Canaveral.

The first round tripper for a Harvester hitter this season came with nobody out in the 5th and the sacks choked with runners. Left-fielder Bob Stephens had opened the fruitful 5th by beating out a little trickler in front of the plate, Dumas pitcher, Al Taylor, then issued free passes to Larry Stroud and clean-up batter DeWayne Glover, setting the stage for Wills to make with the heroics. Wills also tripled in the 3rd to account for half Pampa's hits, and raise his average to .414, tops among the regulars.

Pampa's minute lefty, Kippy Williams, was extra stingy with the base-hits, allowing the Demons only two safe blows, both in the top of the 5th. However, sloppy defensive play that saw the Harvesters commit a season high of five errors, and four walks tended to keep Williams in hot water most of the cool afternoon. He did his own cause with ten timely strikeouts.

The win for Williams was his second, following on the heels of a heat four-hitter he flung at Altus, Oklahoma, exactly a week earlier. The Pampa ace draws Tuesday's starting assignment in Amarillo against the defending District 3 AAAA champion Sandies in both clubs' top openers.

Shoddy play afield staked Pampa to single runs in the first two innings.

Wendell Ridgway, left off the first for Pampa by gaining first on a Dumas infield error. The Harvester shortstop pilfered a second, Stephens walked and both runners scurried into scoring positions on a wild pitch.

Taylor settled momentarily, whiffing Stroud and Glover, before Wills was safe on another infield that brought home Ridgway. Gary Hill ended the threat by rolling out to third.

In the second, Ruben Strickland pitched first on a third Demon bobble and swiped second. Wills delivered a clutch single to left to score Strickland before Taylor retired the next two batters. Wills lashed a long triple to center for Pampa, in the third with two down but was left stranded.

Clovis Wins, 10-5, 9-2, But Gary Hits Another One

CLOVIS, New Mexico — Slugging Gary Wills walloped his second grand-slam homer within a span of only 22 hours here Saturday afternoon but the scrappy little rightfielder's big bat wasn't enough as Pampa's Harvesters were cycled down twice by Clovis High, 10-5 and 9-2 in an abbreviated five-inning affair.

The doubleheader dumping saw the Big Green's season record skid to 5-3. It was Pampa's third loss in four games during the week after they had captured victories in their first four games.

Clovis' minute, mated the Harvesters in the opener here Saturday, streaking to a 6-0 and then 10-1 lead before Wills connected for his bases-loaded circuit clout in the top of the 7th to make the score a little more respectable.

Pampa hurred a 1-0 lead in the after-math, but it was short-lived as Clovis came up with two tallies in the bottom of the second and then ran away and hid with a five run outburst in the third. Pampa spiked home one and Clovis two in the fourth and after the Harvesters were set down in order in the fifth, Coach Deck Woldt decided seven runs in two innings were too much to overcome and not wanting to weary his troopers before Tuesday's conference opener at Amarillo, threw in the towel and headed home.

In the opener, lefty Keith Yager ran into a streak of bad luck the moment he stepped onto the

District 3-4A Has Good Day

District 3-4A baseball teams had a good day Friday, winning four out of five contests. One scheduled game was cancelled, and two district teams were not scheduled to see action.

Saturday, Borger was to host Spearman in a single game; Palo Duro was to host Oklahoma City Northwest Classen in a twinbill; Dumas was at Tascosa for a single game; Amarillo played a doubleheader at Odessa.

Also, Lubbock played host to Midland for a doubleheader, Abilene was at Monterey for a doubleheader, and Plainview was at Hereford for a single game.

Besides Pampa's 6-4 win over Dumas' Friday, other victories were Tascosa's 5-1 triumph over Northwest Classen; Lubbock's 9-4 rout of Snyder, and Plainview's 2-0 squeak over Hereford. Amarillo was the only loop team to lose a game, as the Sandies fell before Odessa, 5-3. A scheduled game between Borger and Monterey was cancelled, and Monterey and Palo Duro were not scheduled.

Plainview rallied for two runs in the bottom of the seventh to take the first win of the year, against five losses. For Tascosa, Ronnie Sherrod hurled a four-hitter and second baseman Jackie Nichols drove in four runs.

Lubbock was outlived 7 to 6, but was helped along by five Snyder errors. Odessa came from behind with two runs in the fifth inning and one in the sixth to take their victory over Amarillo.

Browns Sign Cato

COMPTON, Calif. (UPI) — The Cleveland Browns have signed Earl Cato, former Compton Junior College halfback, to a 1959 contract. Cato played with the Ft. Belvoir, Va., Army team last year.

Golf, Track Teams Show Improvement

Linksters Keep 5th Place, Move Ahead of Plainsmen

AMARILLO — Pampa golfers, in the same order as they did last week, moved back into contention for a 1959 spot in the regional tournament. "I think we have a good chance here Saturday, as they fired a 318 of taking second place now," said Pampa golf coach Waldon Bird. "I'd like to see them move ahead of Monterey, which was second last week, but I don't think we'll take it, but I do believe we have a fighting chance."

Borger fired the low score Saturday, with a 607 score. Saturday's meet was the second in a series of three district tournaments. The third will be held in Pampa April 18.

Total scores of district teams are as follows: with Saturday's scores given after the scores of the last week's Lubbock tournament: Borger, 301-303 — 607; Amarillo, 310-311 — 622; Tascosa, 317-311 — 628; Tascosa B, 318-312 — 630; Pampa, 325-324 — 649; Monterey, 326-328 — 654; Lubbock, 338-319 — 657; Palo Duro, 340-324 — 664; Plainview, 342-312 — 654.

The district champion and runner-up will be the teams with the lowest total score for the three district meets. Both the winning and second place team will be eligible for the April 25 district meet in Odessa.

The only reversal of form this week was made by the Monterey team. Last week Monterey was second, but the Plainsmen dropped almost out of sight this week after some of their top players became ineligible because of grades. Otherwise, the teams finished in the same order as last week.

LARRY TARVIN low golfer DON FOX fires 76 JOHN GROSS places in mile CHARLES WARREN second in hurdles

Cinder Squad 4th at Duncan; Rex Williams High Point Man

DUNCAN, Okla. (Sp) — Pampa's small but talented track team continued their blazing pace of the past month Saturday in the Southern Invitational Meet here, as they scored 16 points to finish in fourth place.

Rex Williams of the Harvesters became the high man in his second straight meet by garnering 12 of Pampa's points. His closest competitors were Spencer Johnson of Tascosa and Bill Stoddard of John Marshall, with 10 points each.

Williams took the low hurdles with 20.1 and the high hurdles with 14.8, and finished third in the shot put with a heave of 49 feet, 11 inches.

Three other district 3-A teams were the only squads to finish ahead of Pampa, and two of those were barely ahead of the Harvesters. Amarillo won the meet with 30 points; and Palo Duro was second with 21; Tascosa had 18.

Charles Warren of Pampa was second in the low hurdles, only a yard behind Williams, with a time of 20.2. John Gross picked up the Harvesters' other point, with a fourth place finish in the mile run (time 4:56). Tommy Locke ran a good 22.4 in the 220-yard dash, but failed to place.

Johnson, the Tascosa strong man who set a state discus record last month at Snyder, won the discus with a throw of 151 feet, 6 inches, and captured the shot put event with a put of 52 feet, 11 inches.

Stoddard, the running star of the day, turned in a clocking of 9.9 as he won the 100-yard dash, and then ran the 440-yard dash in 49.2 to take first place.

Winners in other events were 4 mile run, George Beckett, Tascosa, 2:38.7; high jump, Don Allen, Altus, 6 feet; 880-yard relay, Amarillo, 1:22.8; pole vault, Garland Fox, Palo Duro, 11.6; broad jump, Alton Wood, Ada, 20.8; 800-yard run, Turk Hagen, Oklahoma City Northwest Classen, 2:00.1; 225-yard dash, Dennis Richardson, N. Gona, 21.2; mile relay, Amarillo, 3:29.3.

A squad of Pampa juniors and sophomores went to the Panhandle Relays Friday and Saturday, but failed to score a point. The 400 L.L. Jim Brown, of Texas won the shot put with a 59 feet, four inches throw, and Roy Charles Giese reached the finals, but placed only sixth, not high enough to get any points.

Aggies Complete Spring Training

COLLEGE STATION (UPI) — Texas A&M Aggies completed their first week of spring football practice Saturday with a controlled scrimmage.

Coach Jim Myers said he was pleased with the workout. "Our defense is ahead of our offense," he said, "but it naturally would be."

NATIONAL JAVELIN MARK SET

Kansas Captures Texas Relays

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Kansas' Phil Alley almost put the javelin into orbit Saturday, smashing a three-record, as the mighty midwesterners from the Big Eight Conference dominated the 32nd running of the Texas Relays.

Alley fired the javelin 271 feet, one and one-half inches to set new American, Collegiate and Texas Relays records, and was also named outstanding performer of the meet.

His Kansas teammates were named the best team in the huge track and field carnival as they captured the field in the four-mile relay and 400-meter hurdles Saturday, and picked up beyond jump and sprint medal titles on Friday. No official team championship is named.

Alley's mighty javelin throw broke the relays record of 257 feet, 10 and one-half inches set in 1923 by John Fromm of Pennsylvania; the Collegiate record of 257 feet, one inch, by Fromm and the American Standard of 270 feet by Franklin Field of San Francisco Olympic Club in 1924.

Six relays records were broken and three tied during the two-day running of the relays.

Texas' brilliant mile-relay team of Hollis Gainey, Wally Wilson, Drew Dunlap and Eddie Southern, captured the title of 3:10.4 set by the Longhorns in 1958. Oklahoma State ran a 3:11.3 second and Southern Methodist ran third.

Jim Graham of Oklahoma State scored 14 feet, eight and one-half inches in the pole-vault to break a record of 14 feet, three and three-quarters inches set in 1957 by Joe Rose of Temple State.

In the open division all new events — Bobby Morrow established the 100-meter dash record in 10.2 Friday night, while Cliff Cushman of Kansas ran a 32.2 in the 400-meter hurdles and Adhemar Da Silva of Brazil won the hop-skip-and-jump in 51 feet, six and three-quarters inches Saturday to set standards.

East Texas State in the 400-yard relay preliminaries Friday ran a 41-fift for a new college division record.

Texas A&I fashioned a 3:13.5 to break the college mile-relay record of 3:14.1 set in 1956 by Abilene Christian, and Howard Payne posted a 7:41.5 to tie the college, two-mile relay standard, turns. Wally Wilson led off for the Longhorns with Eddie Southern second and Ralph Asplugh on anchor, as they overcame an eight-yard deficit to win.

Oklahoma State finished second with a 41.1 and Abilene Christian ran third at 41.3.

An easterly wind that whipped some races at a five-mile clip faded into a near calm during the 100-yard dash won by Rice's Taylor Jones in an uninspiring 9.7. George Peterson of Abilene Christian ran second followed by Oklahoma State's Orlando Harley.

East Texas State's flashy sprint relay team, engraved of a new college division record of 41.54 on Friday, ran fourth Saturday after leadoff man John West pulled up lame, but finished his leg. Anchor man Sidney Garton came from last place to the fourth place finish for the Lions.

The Texas A&I foursome of Tony Gasca, Curtis Shad, Dick Watson and George Harris, came home first in 42.9.

Kansas' Cliff Cushman finished strong in the four-mile relay to pace the Jayhawk victory in 17:15.6. Nebraska, inspired by a great second leg by Joe American, Horse ran second and Arkansas third.

Abilene Christian College's Calvin Cooley edged Rex Stucker of Kansas at the wire for the 120-high hurdle crown in a fine 21.2 on a wind-free track. Stucker was time at 14.4.

Texas' Tony Joe Villarreal captured the open Jerry Thompson mile in 4:11.8, weathering a strong push by Thomas O'Neal of Abilene Christian, who finished second at 4:12.4.

Cushman of Kansas won the grueling 400-meter hurdles in 52.2 with Ken Sweeney of Iowa State second at 53.8 and Richard Murphy of Texas Tech third on a 54.3.

Adhemar Da Silva, the world's Baylor set a new junior-college freshman 440-relay mark of 41.7 and Roy Smalley of Baylor tied the 100-dash record 9.5 in the preliminaries Friday.

Colorado swept to an impressive 7:33.4 in the two-mile relay completely outclassing favored Oklahoma, which ran third.

The Colorado team of Bob Helming, Ralph Touche, Mike Peake and Bob-Greenfield, edged Notre Dame which ran 7:36.9 second place time.

Texas won a blistering third relay by Hollis Gainey who won the Christian, and Howard Payne posted a 7:41.5 to tie the college, fifth best time ever around two turns. Wally Wilson led off for the Longhorns with Eddie Southern second and Ralph Asplugh on anchor, as they overcame an eight-yard deficit to win.

Oklahoma State finished second with a 41.1 and Abilene Christian ran third at 41.3.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sugar Ray Robinson, always most dangerous when he's cornered, was put on one of the biggest spots in his boxing career Saturday by Gen. Krulwich about which the stern "sign" or "else" warning challenger Ray would have to meet.

Krulwich made it crystal clear that he doesn't think much of Germany's Gustav Scholz as a challenger.

The Robinson camp, through Alvin Cooley, has informed the New York Commission that George Gainford, Robinson's advisor, has been negotiating with Scholz, the world's No. 4 middleweight in the latest ranking. And Scholz has wised the commission that these negotiations are in progress for a Robinson-Scholz fight in the United States or Germany sometime before December.

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston Celtics, extended by the surprisingly strong Minneapolis Lakers, topped all scorers with 34 points while Minneapolis had 23-15 of them in the third stanza when the Lakers outscored Boston, 34-19, through its semi-final playoffs against the Syracuse Nationals, the Lakers during a third-period comeback.

The last quarter began with the two teams tied 81-81, Bob Cousy's hook shot early in the session gave Boston its final lead, 91-50, 15 of 27 attempts. The Celtics and the Lakers edged away from missed only eight of 32 tries.

Red Griggs ★ the pipeline

Pampa's track fans saw their first home meet of the season here Saturday... the Pampa Junior High invitational meet. Some of them also saw a few of the Pampa high school thinclads in action at the Panhandle Relays.

But because Pampa doesn't have a track which is serviceable for high school teams, they'll be no such thing as a real home stand for the high school cinder men.

The closest things to home meets will be the Amarillo Relays next Friday and Saturday, and the district meet Amarillo April 18. While they're not exactly in Pampa they are in our southwestern suburban area, and are in easy driving distance.

Dwaine Lyon's tracksters have done a surprisingly good job this year in the meets they've entered so far, despite their lack of real depth and their inexperience. They've fooled just about everybody, including Lyon himself.

They certainly deserve the support of the Pampa fans, even if they don't have the opportunity of appearing before a home crowd. And the way Pampa people support all their athletic teams, we're pretty sure we'll see quite a few of you in Amarillo next Friday or Saturday.

Gary Wills, 2-Way Slugger

It seems as if Gary Wills is a slugger in more ways than one. He can hit about as hard in the ring as any amateur boxer around, and now he's trying to set some sort of record for slugging a baseball.

The little right fielder hit two bases loaded home runs for the Harvesters in two days—Friday against Dumas and Saturday against Clovis.

Now, in baseball, a grand slam home run is about as rare as a hole-in-one in golf or a 90-yard run in football. And this Wills gets two of them in two days! That's bound to set some kind of record for something.

In case you're interested in exact statistics the record for lifetime bases-loaded homers in the majors is held by the late Lou Gehrig, with 22—and he's way ahead of everybody else. The

Palmer, Leonard Take Masters Lead

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — Arnie Palmer, dead bent on repeating last year's triumph, and Stan Leonard, gambling as never before to win this big one for the first time, tied for the lead today in the Masters golf championship with 54-hole totals of 212. Palmer and Leonard's three-round aggregate was one stroke better than the 213 posted by Memphis dentist Cary Middlecoff. The crowd—the largest ever to witness a golf tournament anywhere—saw pre-tournament favorite Sam Snead take a 72 that left him seven strokes back with 219 and bantam Ben Hogan soar to 76 which put him at 223 and virtually eliminated him from contention.

For the second straight day, Palmer had to scramble all over the 6,980-yard Augusta National layout to break par with a 71. "It wasn't a good round," conceded the 29-year-old Latrobe, Pa. pro. "I drove well but my irons were terrible."

Even so he carded a pair of birdies and 15 pars in putting to together his 36-35 to go with his first two round scores of 71-70. He is the only golfer among the 41 competitors still left—Byron Nelson withdrew Saturday because of a virus infection which has managed to better par each day.

Used 29 Putts

Palmer, who won the Masters title with a 284 last year and stood at 211 after the first three rounds, took only 29 putts Saturday and that saved him.

Leonard, the six-time Canadian PGA champion who was the first day leader with a 69 and slipped to 74 Friday, abandoned all caution in posting his 35-34-69 to first two round scores of 71-70. This is getting a little harrowing," said the 44-year-old long-ball hitter from Vancouver, B.C. "But I think I can struggle out there again tomorrow. I've never led in the Masters before and I had to gamble to get back in front today, but who knows how this thing is going to turn out?"

Most of the crowd followed Snead and Hogan, who played together.

Snead took his even par 72 in stride and even seemed to feel he still had some chance.

Snead Not Upset
"I thought I'd get in with a 68 today," he grinned. "Then I thought I'd shoot a 67 tomorrow

Scott TKO's Isaac Logart
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rapid-punching Charlie Scott was in line today for a boost in the welter-weight rankings that would match his own soaring confidence as a result of his technical knockout triumph over veteran Isaac Logart.

Scott's triumph over the fifth-ranked Logart at 1:14 of the third round of Friday night's national-ly-televized bout was far more emphatic than his split decision nod over the Cuban on March 16. Anderson's Wst. 1 3 59 53

Logart, who weighed 145½ pounds to Scott's 148, took the opening round on the United Press International score sheet as he stung Scott's face with a series of jabs. But then the 22-year-old un-ranked Cuban started to roll.

The blow that set up the finish in the third round was a booming left hook to the jaw that dropped Logart for a three-count. The Cuban got up quickly but was obviously in trouble.

Scott swarmed in with a barrage of lefts and rights, knocking Logart partially through the ropes. Referee Marty Gallagher stepped in to grab Logart and stop the bout.

Efficient is what most people think they are until they try to do someone else's job.

Braves, Yanks, Pirates, A's Win Exhibition Contests

BRADENTON, Fla. (UPI) — The Milwaukee Braves cuffed Don Newcombe for 15 hits, including home runs by Frank Torre and Wes Covington, in handing the Cincinnati Reds a 9-3 pasting Saturday.

Every Brave except pitcher Lew Burdette and Don McMahon participated in the assault on Newcombe, who went all the way. Torre and Henry Aaron each had three hits.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) — Home runs by Mickey Mantle, Dick Sanders and Clois Boyer powered the New York Yankees to a 6-5 victory over the Detroit Tigers Saturday before a crowd of 5,047 in the final exhibition game of the season here.

Mantle's homer, his third of the spring, sailed over the center field wall at the start of the sixth inning and launched a three-run Yankee uprising. Elston Howard knocked home the remaining pair with a double.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Harry Chitt came through with a pinch double in the last of the ninth to drive in two runs and give the Kansas City Athletics a 6-5 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Saturday.

Rookie first baseman Kent Hadley hit two homers and singled to share honors with Chitt.

Peg O' Pampa

AAAAH, SPRING . . . isn't it wonderful to be alive and see the old brown and grey tones disappearing from the scene as spring begins to mix her palette of riotous colors and paint a dab of yellow in the form of jonquils or Forsythia, a touch of bright red here and there in tulips accompanied with clumps of green grass, dipping her brush again she adds pink and purple tones in the hyacinth blossoms . . . and here and there a red-breasted robin, or a bright blue jay . . . as good as any patented Spring Tonic, is a drive around town these days . . . the bright red Oriental Tulips that border the driveway of Frank and Mildred Smith's home bid a gay welcome through the matching red front door . . . Gladys Harvey's home on Charles is always such a joy to see in the Springtime with its bright yellow jonquil garden matching the yellow shutters . . . this year we noticed something new . . . pink hyacinths form pretty little circles around the grey-barked trees on the front lawn . . . a really breath-taking sight is the Mel Davis home on Christine with its huge hyacinths in varying shades of pink and purple . . . on Sunday we noticed a picturesque touch when some of the brightly colored Easter chicks were running through the hyacinths . . . another pretty spot is the home of Ethel Carr on Bell street with its pretty sidewalk border of Grape Hyacinths . . . bet some flower catalog would like to have a picture of it . . .

NOT ONLY EASTER BUNNIES but a lot of visitors came to town this past week end to visit with friends and relatives . . . Georgia Crutchfield has been entertaining for was it the other way around? her niece, Denise Barnard of Phoenix, Arizona, who brought along a friend, Sandra Gustasson, both girls are students at the University of Arizona and spent their Easter vacation here . . . Georgia's mother, Mrs. J. J. Crutchfield, is beginning to get a mite homesick after a couple of weeks' visit in Phoenix with another daughter, Mrs. Dennis Barnard, so she is expected home soon . . . Sally and Henry Butler's home was a gay place over the Easter holiday . . . they had their daughter, Mrs. DeWayne Strealey and grandsons, Tommy and Jimmy, as guests . . . the Strealey's live in Olney . . . Earl and Mary Lou Winegart and their adorable daughter, three-year-old Sabrina, visited with her mother, Edna Prescott and his folks in Lefors . . . Mary Lou and Sabrina are planning an extended visit for a week or two longer . . . Earl had to get back to his duties at the army base in Sherman . . . the Dr. Ed Williams had both sets of parents, one set from Plainview and the other from Lubbock, as guests over the weekend . . . lots of college youngsters home for the holiday, but so help us, we hardly recognized the few we saw . . . so much have they changed during this first year away at school . . . gaining a bit of sophistication to go with the wonderful poise they already had . . . Heidi Schneider was back, as we believe, we reported once before, with a lovely Empire hair-do and bubbling over with her enthusiasm for her school, TU . . . and the beautiful new home her sorority, Gamma Phi, has this year . . . Linda Steele we almost didn't recognize at all with her hair in a new up-swept fashion with a French Twist in back . . . and Jo Ann Jones, looking much slimmer was a charming and gracious hostess for a Welcome Home Coffee for all of her college friends . . . She's been attending Stephens College, but hear that she plans to go to Texas Christian University next year . . . speaking of young people as we love to do . . . did you see our two young lovelies, Nancy Williams and Joy Vanderburg on teevee Wednesday evening modeling gorgeous jewels for Zale's fabulous Display . . . we had to put on our dark glasses to be able to view the $42,000 worth of jewelry shown during the evening . . .

BRIEFIES . . . Joy Flanagan was missing from the hometown scene this week . . . she was down visiting with her father, who lives on a ranch near Big Spring . . . Betty Totum entertained a group of friends at a breakfast on Wednesday morning in her home to get everyone off to a good start for Kid Day on April Fool's Day in the high school . . . say, come to think of it, we didn't hear one April Fool joke this year . . . what's the matter? . . . is everyone getting serious? . . . saw T. V. Lane strolling towards town one day this week . . . enjoying a constitutional and soaking some of the old salt . . . The Paul Wileys have broken ground for a new home on the corner of 22nd and Beach and the foundation is rising fast . . . Mrs. Bill Deaton entertained with a Lullaby Shower on Tuesday afternoon in the Country Club for Rosalie Deaf Hollingwood . . . James Lee or Elizabeth Ann Hollingwood is due to arrive at this writing . . . saw Faye Smith and Margaret Tolbert of Miami buzzing around town on Wednesday . . . and did you know that that very distinctive building going up beside Highland Children's Shop will soon house the distinctive furniture business of Jack and Adrienne Foster . . . quite an addition on North Hobart, too, is the new building for Malcolm Hinkle . . .

NEW BABIES . . . Earl and Freida Wallin welcomed a new son just recently . . . a baby brother for Sharon . . . Charles and Alberta Jeffries have a new son, too . . . our blue-ribboned congratulations to these two families . . . and we guess you know by now about grandparents . . . Wiley Reynolds will now have to buy a larger-sized hat due to the recent arrival of granddaughter, Phyllis Jane . . . and the Stanley Brands and the Roscoe Pirtles join the growing crowd with the arrival of William in Cambridge, Mass . . . William's parents are Norma and Floyd Brand . . . he's a professor at Harvard, you know . . . one of the sweetest youngsters we know is about to celebrate a one-little-fat-finger birthday . . . Stephen, son of the D. O. Copelands, will be one-whole-year-old sometime in May . . . while on the subject of Young Ones, certainly was a group of proud parents who watched their sons receive badges at the Court of Honor held recently for Troop 14 in the First Presbyterian Church . . . it was one of the largest courts ever held . . . Warren Fatheree is doing a terrific job with these young lads . . . and Girl Scout Troop Five had a charming tea party on Wednesday afternoon during their meeting in Girl Scout Little House . . . each scout come dressed as a Japanese in gay-colored kimono and sipped tea . . . it seems to us, as we grow momentarily philosophical, that these Boy and Girl Scout activities are the perfect answer to delinquency prevention . . . they're "young manhood and womanhood in the making" . . .

ALOHA to the Marvin Overtons who are leaving today, we believe for the Islands . . . and later this month Ida Hughey is going to see what The New State is like . . . no doubt, they will be staying at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel . . . also, planning a gala Spring holiday are the Bob Triplehorns who are leaving soon for sun and sight . . . seeing in the romantic Old World in Mexico . . . no doubt, they will enjoy the sight . . . seeing so much more since they are taking their own car . . . Tom and Harlene Rose, Katy and Julian Key are flying away for an early Spring vacation at Myrtle Beach, Fla . . . while they are away, the Bob Clarks, former Pompanos, are planning to entertain them and take them to points of interest around Florida . . . believe, we heard they plan to leave Tuesday or Wednesday of this week . . . Harlene and her mother, Mrs. Howard B. Howse, entertained with an All-Day Party on Friday in Harlene's lovely re-done home . . . Coffee in the morning, entertaining hours and tea during the afternoon calling hours . . . understand her home is just lovely . . . the decorator who helped her is a new one who has taken over Clyde Harris' Shop in Amarillo . . .

DREAM GIRL . . . and isn't she, though? . . . we're speaking of Ruth Gwen Adcock, who has just announced her engagement to Duggan Smith . . . we read recently that she had been chosen "Dream Girl of P. K. A." of her fiancé's fraternity on the campus of Oklahoma University . . . wonder if Duggan influenced his frat brothers any? . . . another pretty girl and handsome guy with orange blossom plans for June are Jeannie

Miss Mitchell To Play In Amarillo Symphony Concert

Miss Johnlyn Mitchell, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell, 328 N. Faulkner, will appear with the Amarillo Symphony Orchestra this afternoon as winner of the College Division in the Annual Auditions. She will play the Liszt Hungarian Fantasy in E Minor.

The concert will be presented at 4 p.m. in Tascosa High School auditorium in Amarillo.

This is Miss Mitchell's fourth appearance with the Symphony. She is a seven-year international winner in the National Piano Guild Auditions and has played solo programs of twenty compositions each year.

Miss Mitchell is an eight-grade student in Robert E. Lee Junior High and plays flute in the school band. She is a piano pupil of Beckie Reeder Arnold of Amarillo.

Robert Richardson To Be Concert Soloist In Amarillo

Robert Richardson, nephew of Mrs. A. B. Bearden, 1017 S. Hobart and cousin of B. B. Bearden, 1821 Duncan, will be one of the featured piano soloists this afternoon with the Amarillo Symphony Orchestra, A. Clyde Rolter, conducting.

The Concerto Concert is open to the public at 4 p.m. in the Tascosa High School auditorium in Amarillo.

Robert will be heard in the Williams F Major Concerto. He is a student of Hursthelene Journey-McCarthy, piano instructor at Frank Phillips College, Borger, and teacher of piano in Pampa.

Thursday Duplicate Clubs Tell Winners

Thursday Morning Duplicate Bridge Club met at ten o'clock in the home of Mrs. E. J. O'Brien, 823 N. Somerville, with four tables playing the Howell Movement.

Playing with high scores for first and second were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Henricks, Mmes. P. V. Rowe and Bill Craig; Mmes. A. A. Schuman and E. J. O'Brien were third.

The club will meet again on Thursday at ten in the home of Mrs. O'Brien.

BETROTHED

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Robin Brooke Sumner to David Kent Gantz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman T. Gantz, 345 Sunset Drive, is being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Sumner of Amarillo. Wedding vows will be pledged on May 2 in the home of the bride-elect's parents with Rev. Richard Crews of the First Christian Church officiating. Both Miss Sumner and Mr. Gantz are students at West Texas State College in Canyon.

Approximately fourteen nurses from the eleven counties that are included in District 23, Texas Graduate Nurses' Ass'n., will be attending the fifty-first annual convention of the Association in Galveston on April 13-15.

The convention theme this year will be "The Forward Look." To carry out this theme, programs for the nurses will include a review of a survey of nursing needs and resources in Texas just completed; a look into the functions, standards and qualifications for the practice of nursing by Mrs. Judith G. Whitaker, executive secretary of the American Nurses Ass'n., and a talk on Public Relations and The Nurse.

Each of seven subdivisions of the organization will hold programs on the topic that will be helpful to their own professional nurse members; one of these will center around the care of the exceptional child.

Among the nurses going to convention from District 23 are Mmes. Beverly Russell, Mable Schmalz, Kay Neale, Dorothy C. McMurtry, Maude Violett, Misses Peggy Stewart, Margaret Wallace, all of Pampa; Mmes. Grace Pyles, Genevieve Clemman, both of Perryton; Mrs. Elinor Schultz of Borger;

RUTH MILLETT Cottage Prayer Meetings Planned By Central Baptist Women's Society

The business meeting of Central Baptist Women's Missionary Society was presented in the form of a "conventionette" on Wednesday opening with the WMU hymn and prayer by Mrs. Nolan Cole.

Mrs. Charley Thomas, president presided during the business meeting as reports were given by Mrs. Ralph Prock, secretary; Mrs. Harold McCreary, treasurer; Mrs. Jim Conner, community mission; Mrs. Charles Broxton, steward; Mrs. Mrs. Charles Terrell, YWA; Mrs. Bob Callahan, GA; Mrs. M. O. Burns, mission study report.

Mrs. E. B. Davis, vice president, welcomed Mrs. Paul Little, Mrs. Mary Jones as visitors, and Mrs. Bob Hartstield as a new member.

Mrs. T. O. Upshaw read the prayer calendar and offered prayers for anniversaries with birthdays for the day. Members were asked to attend the meeting next week. The program topic, "The Jew them; Among Us" was presented by the Richard Lunsford Circle with Mrs. R. C. Brown and Mrs. Frank Silcott in charge. Participating in the program were Mmes. L. G. McDaniel, Davis, A. P. Holligan, Dewey Lunsford, Ralph Prock, J. De Roth, Albert Taylor and L. R. Leonard Watson and Betty Jean Cooper, hostesses.

Following the meeting, the Ruth Prock Circle was hostess for a luncheon in the Fellowship Hall. The executive board of the WMS met preceding the general meeting with Mrs. Thomas presiding. She urged members to read mission books and return them to the WMU library so that others can read them.

It was announced that there will be Cottage Prayer meetings in the homes of Mmes. Thomas, Ralph Tyler, James Baird, Sam Battegro and T. O. Upshaw on April 10-11. Members were asked to attend the meeting next week. The program topic, "The Jew them; Among Us" was presented by the

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Mrs. D writes: "You recently advised that divorced parents should try especially to make 'direct expression of anger' safe for children. What specific action should a parent take toward an angry youngster?"

It depends on how we feel toward his anger.

Sometimes a divorced mother will feel so afraid of disappointing her child that she can't take any action toward his anger. And she'll start despising herself for her helplessness.

This is pretty silly. The emotional storms produced by her husband's disappointment in her were bound to stir up the most painful memories of other's disappointments in her . . . her failures to please her parents, the playmates who snubbed her and the critical aunt who preferred her little sister.

With the humiliating awareness that she's failed to please her husband, all these old, ignored humiliations clamor to be remembered, too. If she doesn't deal with them, they will begin to fuse into a secret conviction that she's doomed to disappoint everyone forever.

So when her angry child shows disappointment in her, she'll shrink in fear from taking any action toward him lest it be another mistake and increase his disappointment in her.

Does any of this ring a bell, Mrs. D?

If so, let's examine this old fear of disappointing people. It's the only way to show it up for what it really is: the result of many, many impressions that there's something shameful in being an ordinary human being. That big fear that's kept us so miserable is just fear of being what we all are, inevitably disappointing, faulty human creatures. Once we see this, we have already begun to turn against the tyrannical pride that has paralyzed our power to act toward our angry youngster.

Turning on that pride, we'll suddenly shout words of indignation. We may spank the child. It won't matter. What matters is that we've found ourselves able to stand being a disappointment to him. Which is what he's needed all along.

He's needed to see us risk disappointing him in order to lose his fear of disappointing us.

To make him feel safe with his "direct expression of anger," we have to feel safe first with our own.

Hopkins and Paul Moore... this is sort of a "boy next door" and "girl next door" romance for they both live in the same block on North Nelson... but their romance began before they became neighbors.

IS PEG'S FACE RED!!! and we imagine other faces, too last week, we had Charles Hickman on the jungle safari with the George Crees Jrs and the Chick Hickmans to both when all along it was really Joyce our apologies to Hickman families.

JUST A THOUGHT... wonder if during the Top o' Texas Rodeo season coming up, we will see any of those blue denim tuxedos that are to be worn to evening social affairs? WANT A SPRING SNICKER?... if April flowers bring May flowers, what do May flowers bring?... the Pilgrims, of course. Plagiarist Peg.

First Baptist WMU Has RS Meeting

Women's Missionary Union of First Baptist Church met Wednesday in the church parlor for its monthly business meeting, Royal Service program and luncheon. Mrs. R. L. McDonald, president, conducted the business meeting as plans were completed for a May Houseparty for local GA girls. A special guest to be invited to the Houseparty will be a foreign student studying at Wayland College. Mrs. Owen Johnson, YWA director, reported plans of the YWA for going to Glorieta this summer for a six-day encampment. Correspondence was read from missionaries in New Mexico and Oklahoma expressing appreciation for the clothing sent them for distribution among Indians.

The Royal Service program, entitled "The Song of the Lord Begun" was presented under the direction of Mrs. Ronald Howell. Mrs. J. M. Hill read the prayer calendar and special prayer was offered by Mrs. Bob Stroble. Group singing of "Jesus Calls" was followed with a scripture melody given by Mrs. Wes Langham. Appearing on the program were Mmes. C. L. McKinney, R. Howell, Donald Denham, Earl Tarbet, Lewis Tarpley, E. L. Tarrant, Earl Barnett, Jerry Lunsford, E. G. Albers.

Meditation music was played with Mrs. Lester Ramsey singing a prayer. Closing thoughts were offered by Mrs. R. L. Edmondson. A covered-dish luncheon followed in the lower auditorium with Spring Garden flowers forming the centerpiece for the tables. Approximately 50 ladies attended the meetings.

Tom Braly Speaks To PALS Meeting

The newly-organized Pampa Association of Legal Secretaries (PALS) held its monthly meeting on Tuesday evening in the White-way Restaurant.

Tom Braly, local attorney, spoke informally on "Thanks And Hope." He concluded with suggestions for obtaining interesting after-dinner speakers for future meetings and assured the Association of the full cooperation of the local Bar Ass'n.

PALS has been organized, not only to promote an employer-employee relationship and understanding. The organizational committee has important plans in the making and plan soon to be affiliated with both state and national Association of Legal Secretaries.

At the next meeting, the first Tuesday in May, officers will be installed following a dinner.

Rough Hands Is Price Of Clean House

By ALICIA HART NEA Beauty Editor Dishpan hands, generally regarded as a big joke, are no fun at all to the women who have them. And any woman who keeps house has them at times. Plunging your hands into hot water several times a day, will turn the trick. But the average homemaker does far more than that. Despite the many electrical appliances, many cleaning tasks are still done with one pair of hands. And once the house is shining, the hands are usually rough and red. The nails are rough, too, and sometimes torn. This might seem the point at which you just give up and never clean house again. But this is rather drastic and not really a first-rate solution. Far better to reach for a tube of healing cream and give your hands a first-aid treatment. The best plan is to keep the tube handy in the kitchen so that you can use it each time you have dried your hands.

20-30 Club Adds Play Equipment

LEFORS (Sp) — 20-30 Club met recently with Mrs. Ernest Enshee with Mrs. Calvin Lacy, in charge of the business meeting. Report was given of the recent rummage sale. Ways and means were discussed for other, money-making projects to purchase a merry-go-round and wading pool for the club's park project.

It was announced that another stand had been donated by Paul Blankenburg. Mmes. Joe Archer, Calvin Lacy and Tony Bivins reported on the recent placing of the slides in the park by R. W. Beck. Sites were staked out for other play equipment, they reported.

Mrs. Bivins, a former member, was welcomed back into membership after a leave of absence. Mmes. Archer and Lacy were elected delegates to the Lefors Council of Clubs. Refreshments were served during the social hour. Other members attending were Mmes. R. E. McDonald, J. M. McPherson, Ray Dickerson, Ernest Foshee, Leonard Cain, Bob Wilson, and Joe Watson.

RUTH MILLETT

If you want to view real boredom drop in on a teen-age dance. Whatever else "going steady" has done for teen-agers it has turned them into a bored generation. Watching them at play is so dull it is downright depressing. When a party comes along there's no question about whom a girl will go with. That's all settled. As surely as though she were married, she'll go with her steady date.

And when she gets to the party, she'll dance with him all evening. That's understood. And since dancing with one boy every dance gets kind of tiresome, there'll be a lot of standing around and aimless sitting out of dances. You won't see any flirting. Teen-agers today have a strict code. Flirting with someone else's steady just isn't done.

Even conversation drags. After all, if you've been going steady with the same boy for months and talking to him on the telephone every evening, what's there to say when you get to a party? If any boys without dates turn up, they stand around like lost souls. There are no stag lines any more — which means there's really no place at a party for stags. If it's a formal dance are the girls thrilled with their pretty, fluffy dresses? Not much. They've been wearing formals so long the thrill has long since worn off.

Are the boys excited over having dates with pretty girls? Why should they be? Most of them started dating when they were so young their parents had to chaperone them on their dates.

So it's all cut and dried and strictly routine. And it's boring. Just look at the faces at a teen-age party and you'll be convinced that the steady-dating that offers teen-agers security is responsible for a malady that shouldn't afflict the young.

YOU... and YOUR HOME

by Jack Foster

We are hearing the term "Free Taste" used more and more frequently these days . . . and with good reason. It is the new concept in home planning and decoration. What it means, specifically, is that today's home-planners are declaring their independence from the dictates of "what's right in home decor?" and "finding new confidence in their own common sense and good taste, and using it to express individualism and personality in their homes.

"Free taste" is all that the words imply. It enables you to choose the furnishings you like regardless of period or style and combine them to make a home that is distinctly yours and yours alone. It also enables you to mix the best of the past with the best of what's new. Often you want to adapt old loves to new settings . . . adapt them to the new ways of today. With taste, you can.

Note how well this has been done in the bedroom sketched.

Seed Packets Blossom With Ideas For Menu-Planning Board, Flower Poster

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

Two of the more dependable signs that spring is about to smile upon us are the appearance of seed packets and boxes of bulbs on the kitchen table. Even though there's more than a hint of frost in the air, the brightly colored pictures of future gardening glories are so reassuring that homemakers start figuring how much of the harvest to freeze and can.

Although the abundance of that future harvest is still in doubt, most of us are anxious to plant the seeds in pots, flats or in the sunniest spot outdoors. Save the seed packages and the best of the catalog pictures and you'll have the makings for an entertaining "rainy day" project for the children.

One is a menu planning board;

the other a collage pasted-up of favorite flowers which might be put together as a gift for mother or grandmother on Mother's Day.

The problem of planning two or three meals each day that will be both nutritious and acceptable is all too familiar to most of us.

One way to simplify the problem, or at least to avoid last-minute decisions, is to plan the menus a week in advance.

Aids in accomplishing this for some of us are a chart of basic foods and a place where meals can be scheduled.

One suggestion: a boardboard with the days of the week listed and space for the meals.

As a timely and colorful border, packets from vegetable seed will remind you of the varieties available and growing — you hope.

Children will have little difficulty taping or tacking the packets in place.

When they are old enough to eat with the family, encourage them to select one or two vegetables to be served each week.

It's also helpful on a menu chart to leave space to jot down what meals and fruits will be plentiful that month, or week, as listed in your newspaper.

I have learned that planning a week's menus at a time encourages one to try new recipes and new ways of cooking familiar vegetables.

The gorgeous pictures of flowers on seed packages and in catalogues are fun to turn into a collage — a collection of all kinds of things pasted together into an artistic composition.

The base is a sheet of heavy paper.

Cut-outs are arranged and pasted down. If letters or words are desired, cut them from newspapers or magazines.

The collage might be a bouquet of favorite flowers. When the composition is complete and if it's to be a gift, put it between two sheets of glass clamped together with a metal picture holder and it's ready for hanging.

Ribbons, paper matchboxes, and other ingredients that can be incorporated into a collage.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is a news release from Life magazine regarding the planting and care of roses. The release offers a sub-head: Garden Rules. Where Grass Grows, So Can A Rose.)

NEW YORK — A little muscle and a lot of spade work go a long way in promoting the life and good health of a rose.

Most beginning rose growers have the idea that this lovely flower requires special soil and lots of fertilizer. Actually a rose needs less nutrient than a zinnia. Any well-drained soil that will grow good vegetables or even grass will grow good roses with one or two yearly applications of a mixed fertilizer.

Life magazine in its current issue devotes several pages in full color to the glories of the rose and gives some hints on its care and feeding.

Holes for roses should be large enough to accommodate their roots. For most roses a hole 18 inches in diameter, and 12 inches deep is required. If the soil is substandard, the best way to improve it is to add organic matter in the form of well-rotted manure, peat moss, leaf mold or compost. Combine the soil removed from the hole with the organic material, mixing it well.

The roots of rosebushes must be handled carefully. Before planting cut away any that are broken. From the tops remove injured wood or twiggy growth with a sharp, clean cut. In placing the plant in the hole, spread the roots out so that they slope downward at a 45 degree angle and are evenly distributed around the hole. If they do not fit without bending, make the hole larger. The crown — the knothlike swollen area on the stem, just above the roots — should be two inches below the soil in severely cold climates, one inch below in moderate climates. Cover the roots with loose soil, working it firmly around them so that no air pockets remain. Fill hole three-fourth full with soil. Tamp down firmly. Fill remainder of hole with water. After it has soaked in, fill in with soil.

WATER IMPORTANT

The one most important thing in caring for roses is water. Especially during hot, dry months, the plants should be watered at least once a week. The watering must always be thorough, enough to moisten the earth to the depth of eight inches. Early morning is the best time to water roses. Methods that saturate the earth but do not wet the foliage are best.

Better roses are produced if the bushes are mulched. Winter mulching protects the plants from injury by low temperatures. Spring and summer mulching reduces the amount of moisture loss after rain or watering, keeps the soil cooler, controls weeds and prevents soil matting. Good mulching materials are buckwheat hulls, peat moss, shredded sugar cane, lawn clippings, birch chips, wood chips or sawdust.

Every spring dead wood and twiggy growth should be cut away from roses. A minimum of healthy wood should be removed. Severe pruning, cutting plants down to the ground, is no longer considered good for rosebushes.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I was in a big store shopping for an Easter party. I was picking up bunnies and chicks and little things for table decorations. I couldn't hold everything in my hands so I asked the floor manager if he would give me a sack. While I shopped some more. He said, "No" and I said, "Why not?" He said, "Because you could walk out the door without paying for them." I said, "If that was my intention I would have brought my own sack." He just turned his back on me. I am still plenty bummed up about this and if I had more time I'd have dumped everything on the counter and shopped elsewhere. Don't you think a good store should provide baskets for their shoppers?

STILL MAD

DEAR STILL: Indeed I do. And the store where you shopped also could have provided a more tactful floor manager.

DEAR ABBY: A lady wrote to your column and complained that her husband "lost" four hankies in one week. Well, I have her beat. My husband lost two pair of underwear in three days! He comes home drunk and can't remember anything. When I accuse him of running around he says I'm crazy. How should I handle this?

HAD IT

DEAR HAD: Go with him and see that he doesn't lose his shirt.

DEAR ABBY: I went to my doctor for a check-up and he said I should lose ten pounds and he put me on a diet. My husband does not think I am over weight and said if I lost ten pounds I would be a bag of bones and he would have to shake the sheets to find me. Should I obey my doctor or my husband?

AUDREY

DEAR AUDREY: On matters of your health, listen to your doctor. Your husband is still dreaming about the Gibson girl.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were asked to be Godparents for a baby who was born to some so-so friends of ours. I don't mean to be snobbish, but we can't imagine why they asked up because we rarely see them and surely they must have closer friends than we are. My husband says to tell them we would rather not be Godparents and I say we should go through with it and get it over with. Have you any suggestions? By the way, what are the obligations and duties of Godparents, anyway?

JUST FRIENDS

DEAR JUST: Call their clergyman and find out exactly what the duties and obligations of Godparents are in their church. If you do not want the responsibility, by all means decline in a few very diplomatic words.

ARE YOU GETTING ALONG WITH YOUR PARENTS? Get ABBY's booklet, "What Every Teenager Wants To Know." Send 25 cents and a large, self-addressed stamped envelope to ABBY care of this newspaper.

Sloppy Dress, Straggly Hair Make Women Look Older Than They Are

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Young women who put comfort far before appearance have something elderly about them. For you is the time for looking spruce and pretty.

Yet large numbers of young married women trot on oranges every day in blue jeans, crumpled shirts, car coats and pony tails. Worse yet, their husbands find them in blue jeans and shirts when they arrive home at night.

Colette, the great French writer, once said that more marriages were ruined by bad manners than by infidelity. That's a grain of truth here. It's very pearily insulting to let your husband know that you care so little for his good opinion.

It's true that young wives are busy and that their budgets are often limited. But even so, a small and neat wardrobe is possible, with planning. And no young wife has a right to greet her husband in a sloppy outfit or to sit around with friends in the evening looking as if she'd spent the day chopping wood.

Circulation has a great deal to do with beautiful hair. Scalp massage can often return lank, limp hair to complete and glossy health. Any salon specializing in treatments for the hair relies heavily on scalp massage.

These salon methods can, to a large extent, be used at home. To massage your scalp, press your finger tips to it and move your scalp with a rotary motion. Cover one section and then move on to the next. You can do this while you're reading or watching TV but you should do it five minutes each morning and evening.

You may not get the technique the first few times but you'll gradually develop it. You'll know that your scalp takes on a tingly, alive feeling after each massage.

This is the time of year for spring colds and while they're usually the subject of much humor, they're no fun. Reams have been written on looking lovely while you have a cold. Actually, this is not nearly so important as getting rid of the cold and looking lovely without it.

To do this, you need, first, lots of rest. You also need plenty of orange juice and aspirin as seems warranted. You need to avoid drafts, sloshy rain, wet feet and a damp head.

All of this has been said before and yet people keep right on walking out into the rain and sitting in drafts. But there's still time for you to avoid a red, run-

Sensible Gal Knows That Corraling Fat Takes Time, Exercise, Diet, Patience

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

The pear-shaped teen-age figure is not one which makes a girl exactly happy. She looks funny in slacks, lumpy in a bathing suit and huge in a pleated skirt. Since it isn't the kind of figure that will improve with age, obviously something has to be done about it.

The most sensible thing is to reduce the hips and derriere. This cannot be done by dieting alone. An overall weight loss will help, of course, but many slim girls have large hips. The answer to the problem lies in spot exercise. In this case, it's just plain knocking off that accumulated fat.

To do this, sit down on the floor with legs straight out in front of you. Cross your arms over your chest and shift your whole weight from one side of your body to the other. This will actually "walk" you across the floor in a sitting position and will also knock off that fatty accumulation in the process.

Don't expect it to come off in a week; six months is more like it.

Offhand, it would seem that sent as many problems as straight hair.

For one thing, not many stylists understand the cutting of such hair. They tend to want to razor cut or taper curly hair. This spoils the curl and makes the hair impossible to handle. Curly and coarse hair should be blunt cut. You should ask your hairdresser each time to be sure to use this technique in cutting.

Further, curly hair should be cut with the wave. Cutting it or curling it against the wave simply pulls out the curl and creates a head full of sticklike ends. If your hair is only partially curly, it may need flat beer in the setting process to give it the needed body.

Fortunately, nature has equipped most of us to get comfortably through life without the help of sleeping pills, pep pills or other crutches. That is, she has equipped us if we will use the means she has given us.

If you know that coffee keeps you awake at night, don't give into that temptation to have just one cup. If you find it hard to unwind at the end of a busy day, find something to do that relaxes you.

Committee Battles Problem Of Big Crops, Little Income

The Lighter Side By FRANK ELEAZER United-Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Agriculture Committee, headed by Rep. Harold D. Cooley (D-N.C.) has been wrestling for 10 years now with the problem of big crops and little income for the people who raise them.

Not even Cooley would claim the committee in this continuing bout has won more than an occasional fall. Recently, as members fell to disagreeing among themselves, it hasn't even got around to attacking the enemy but has been wrestling itself to a draw.

So about 10 days ago Cooley looked out over the 82 shining new faces in the House and suffered a stroke of genius.

Most of the 63 freshman Democrats and even some of the 19 first-term Republicans, he reasoned, won their seats in hot campaigns against Ezra Taft Benson, the secretary of agriculture, who actually of course wasn't running.

Always Bog Down

Why not get up on the House floor, Cooley asked himself, and invite all the new members to come over and tell his committee how, at last, to solve the farm problem?

So he did. They've been at it now a couple of days.

Rep. Byron L. Johnson (D-Co.), a former economics teacher, said the trouble is farmers are getting only about half the return they deserve. He said more crops ought to be exported and we homelinks also ought to eat more.

"That is where we always bog down," commented Rep. W. R. Poage (D-Tex.), one of the committee's less restrained members. "I think our problem is as you describe. But just what will we do about it?" Poage said maybe so, but Rep. Robert W. Levering (D-Ohio), the next witness, said Johnson's plan wasn't his cup of tea. He said people in Asia are starving, and that if we fed them, our farmers would prosper.

"As one of the details," needed Poage, "what do you suggest that we do?"

"My people in Ohio are very much interested in elimination of controls," said Levering. "Our people are interested in the expansion of markets."

Rep. Ken Hechler (D-W.Va.), said he came to talk about hungry people at home, and to try to get them some food. He said 300,000 West Virginians are subsisting on surplus food they get free from the government, and that many are close to starvation.

Cooley promised to look into that. Next he called Rep. Gerald T. Flynn (D-Wis.), who proposed that the government buy up 80-million acres of farm land. And he said if people ate enough there wouldn't be any surplus.

"I'll say this for Flynn. He's been doing his bit. He said he weighs 298 pounds."

Cooley isn't giving up yet. Some of the other new members are still to be heard. Meantime one truth has begun to emerge: It's easier to say that Benson is wrong than to agree on what he ought to do to be right.

ROBBERY JUST A RUMOR

EL PASO (UPI) — Police said Manuel J. Fraire wasn't telling the truth Wednesday when he reported he was robbed at the service station where he works. They held him for further questioning today and filed "false report" charges against him.

Lauritz Melchior, famous singer, was born in Copenhagen, Denmark, in 1890.

WEST TEXAS CANDIDATES — Wayne Griggs and Judy Neslage, Pampa students at West Texas State College in Canyon, are among six couples vying for Personality King and Queen honors. Elections were held last Thursday and Friday but winners won't be announced until the school's annual Personality Pageant next Saturday.

Four Pampa Area Girls Are Pledged

CANYON (SpI) — Four West Texas coeds from the Pampa area have been pledged by national social sororities during the college's open rush season.

Pledges, who are all freshmen, include Glynda Northcott and Janis Dunnam of Lefors, and Gay Nelle Leatherman and Donna Hoots of Perryton.

Miss Northcott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Northcott of Lefors, is a journalism major. She is a member of the West Texas Geological Society and Mu Kappa Delta, journalism fraternity. A pledge of Buffalo Gals, service club, she is also pledging Delta Zeta, social sorority. She was chosen secretary of the Delta Zeta pledge class.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Dunnam of Lefors, Miss Dunnam is pledging Zeta Tau Alpha. She is an English major and is a member of Buffalo Masquers, drama club. She is also a pledge of Buffalo Gals, service club.

Miss Leatherman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Leatherman of Perryton. A business major, she transferred to WT from Texas Christian University in Jan. She is pledging Alpha Delta Pi and was elected president of the pledge class.

Miss Hoots, who is pledging Alpha Delta Pi, was chosen vice president of the pledge class.

Miss Kay Sprinkle, daughter of Mrs. Helen Sprinkle of S. N. Somerville, has been chosen treasurer of the Zeta Tau Alpha pledge class. She is a freshman secretarial science major.

Three Coeds Are Installed

CANYON (SpI) — Three coeds from the Pampa area were among the number officially installed as members of the Buffalo Gals Service Club at West Texas State College April 4.

Among new members are Sandra Walsh of Pampa and Janis Dunnam and Glynda Northcott, both of Lefors.

Miss Walsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walsh of 701 Brownling, is a sophomore business education major. She is secretary of Chi Omega, national social sorority, secretary of the Student Senate, student governing body, and she is vice president of the Newman Club, Catholic organization.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dunnam of Lefors, Janis Dunnam, is a freshman English major. She is a member of the Buffalo Masquers, dramatic organization, and is a pledge of Zeta Tau Alpha, national sorority.

A freshman journalism major, Glynda Northcott, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas V. Northcott of Lefors. She is a member of Mu Kappa Delta, journalism fraternity, and is a pledge of Delta Zeta, national sorority. The membership ceremony concluded seven weeks of pledging.

Army Has Openings In Missile Field

Several vacancies now exist in the Guided Missile Field of the United States Army it was announced Friday by Sergeant First Class John C. Dills, U.S. Army Recruiter here.

Vacancies exist at the following locations: New York, N.Y.; Providence, R.I.; Boston, Mass.; Carroll, Maine; New Haven, Conn.; Manchester, Conn.; Baltimore, Md.; Washington, D.C.; Norfolk, Va.; Pittsburg, Penn.; Philadelphia, Penn.; Cleveland, Ohio; Chicago, Ill.; Gary, Ind.; Detroit, Mich.; Milwaukee, Wis.; Los Angeles, Calif.; San Francisco, Calif.; Seattle, Wash.; Richmond, Wash.; Spokane, Wash.; Buffalo, N.Y.; Minneapolis, Minn. and St. Louis, Mo.

Men who enlist for a guided missile (Nike Site) assignment may now also choose the city of their choice. If the enlistee progresses well in that assignment he can remain there for the full three year enlistment, the Sergeant said.

Qualified men who are interested in guided missiles are asked to contact SFC Dills, U.S. Army Recruiter, located at 112 E. Foster or call him at MO 5-2022.

Fillman Enlists In Army; Takes Boot At Chaffee

Raynor D. B. Fillman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray D. Fillman, 515 N. Frost St., enlisted in the United States Army it was announced Friday by Sergeant First Class John C. Dills, U.S. Army Recruiter here.

Fillman enlisted for specific assignment to the 6th Armored Cavalry Regiment now stationed at Fort Knox, Ky. The 6th Armored Cavalry is a Gyroscop unit and will be moving to Europe in the very near future, SFC Dills said.

Fillman will report to Fort Chaffee for processing and then reassign to the unit which he originally enlisted for at Fort Knox, Ky. where he will receive his training. Upon completion of required training, Fillman will move with the unit to Europe to replace a similar type unit. This unit exchange movement is known as Gyroscop.

Anyone desiring information on other choice enlistments in the U.S. Army are asked to drop by the U.S. Army Recruiting Station, 112 E. Foster or call SFC Dills at MO 5-2022.

LT. WILLIAM RICE ... ends basic Rice Ready.

For Training As AF Pilot

LACKLAND AFB, Tex. (SpI) — Second Lieutenant William F. Rice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Rice of Pampa, has completed training in the Air Force Officer Pre-Flight School here and will be assigned to Malden Air Base, Mo., for initial flying training as a pilot.

LA. Rice, a graduate of Pampa High School, received his degree at Montana State University. He was an aide for the Bureau of Land Management in Malta prior to entering the Air Force.

Completion of Lackland's pre-flight training school qualifies officer students for their flying training and integration into the Air Force Flying program. It covers a period when many of them are making a transition from civilian to military life.

Giesler Returns To USS Preston

LONG BEACH, Calif. (SpI) — Ronald D. Giesler, fireman apprentice, USN, of McLean, returned to Long Beach, Calif., recently aboard the destroyer USS Preston after a tour of duty in the Western Pacific.

During the cruise the Preston took part in anti-submarine warfare exercises and assisted in the replenishing of the small Japanese Island of Ammani Oahima after it was nearly destroyed by fire earlier this year.

Visits were made in Japan, Okinawa, the Philippine Islands, Midway Island and Hong Kong.

BREAKNESS "FOREIGNERS"
BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI)—Sixteen foreign-bred colts are among the nominees for the May 16 renewal of the $150,000 added Breakness at Pimlico.

TRACTOR CRUSHES DRIVER
SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—A tractor overturned and crushed Charles A. Hart, 48, to death Friday as he drove around a stock pond.

Heil Enlists In U.S. Navy

Walter Lee Heil, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Heil, 1408 E. Francis, has enlisted in the Navy and was sworn in at the Main Recruiting Station, Albuquerque, N.M.

Seaman Recruit Heil is receiving Recruit Training in the Navy Training Center, San Diego, Calif. Recruit Training consists of nine weeks, during which the recruit makes the transition from Civilian to Military Life. They are taught Seamanship, Navy Tradition, and Military Life.

Upon completion of Recruit Training, Walter will be allowed to take a 14-day Recruit leave, which is granted all recruits.

Heil was a 1958 graduate of Pampa High School and was employed by Rex Rose Motor Co. until enlisting in the Navy.

Brown Is Home On Naval Leave

Bobby Ray Brown, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Brown, 1101 E. Kingsmill, arrived home Saturday from San Francisco on a two weeks' leave of absence. Brown served aboard the attack air craft carrier USS Midway and arrived back in the States on Mar. 17 after a tour of duty in the Western Pacific.

The Midway, flagship for the Commander of Carrier Division Five, visited Hong Kong, British Colony on Jan. 12 after a 16-day period of fleet operations at sea. Brown, a Pampa High School graduate, will be discharged from the Navy in June.

CROCKETT IN DESERT DRILLS

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA (SpI) — Marine Pfc. Don Crockett, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Crockett of McLean, took part in a desert war training exercise March 10-20, in the Southern California desert near the 29 Palms Marine Corps Base.

The exercise was designed to round out the Fifth Marine Regiment's training which has already taken them through amphibious, airphibious, mountain and snow survival training.

STROM-LAURED — Mayor Hal J. Basham, left, Director of Candidate Advisory Service at the Air Force Academy, presents an appointment certificate as Liaison Officer for the Air Force Academy to Lt. Frank Storm, Jr., USAF Reserve, Air Force Academy Liaison Officer. Colonel Storm will provide information and assistance to qualified young men in the area, who wish to apply for nomination and admission to the Air Force Academy.

Storm Appointed Liaison Officer For AF Academy

AMARILLO AIR FORCE BASE (SpI) — Announcement of the appointment of Frank Storm Jr., Amarillo petroleum executive, as Liaison Officer for the U.S. Air Force Academy was made recently in the base Commander's office at Amarillo Air Force Base, where he received his appointment certificate.

Storm, a Lieutenant Colonel and pilot in the Air Force Reserve, received his appointment from Major Hal J. Basham, formerly of Wichita Falls and Pampa, who is currently the Director of Candidate Advisory Service at the Air Force Academy.

As Air Force Academy Liaison Officer, Storm will provide information and assistance to qualified young men in the area who wish to apply for nomination and admission to the Air Force Academy.

According to Storm, applications for nomination and appointment to the Academy are made directly to the congressman for the district in which the applicant resides. Senators also nominate and appoint candidates. Nominations are determined on the basis of competitive examination given by the Civil Service Commission, in which all applicants participate.

Prospective applicants for nomination and admission to the Air Academy may contact Storm through P.O. Box 1893, Amarillo, for information and fact sheets pertaining to the Air Force Academy.

NEW RACE-APPLICATIONS

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The State Racing Commission has received two new applications for a total of 99 racing days this year at Waterford Park, Chester, W. Va., and probably will act on them next Tuesday.

Next to Italy, U.S. Has More Practicing Roman Catholics

EDITORS: This is the 13th in an intermittent series of dispatches profiling America's major religious bodies.

By LOUIS CASSELS United Press International

At the start of this century, the United States was a "missionary territory" of the Roman Catholic Church.

Today it has more practicing Catholics than any country of the world except Italy.

The latest official Catholic directory reports a total U.S. membership of 36,023,977. This figure, based on diocesan records, is probably low. The Census Bureau estimates that more than 43 million Americans regard themselves as Catholics.

Even at the lower figure, the Catholic Church is by far the largest religious body in the nation, with four times as many members as the largest single Protestant denomination.

Relations Have Improved
Despite continuing tensions over some issues (such as government aid for parochial schools), Catholic-Protestant relations in America have improved notably in the past 30 years. One measure of the improvement is the often expressed belief that it is now possible for a Catholic to be elected president.

Objective observers believe that peaceful co-existence is the closest relationship that Catholics and Protestants are likely to attain in the foreseeable future. Although both sides are committed to the goal of Christian unity, they have made no detectable progress toward resolving the deep doctrinal differences that stand in the way.

Catholics believe their church is the "one true church," founded by Jesus Christ, and invested by him with infallible authority to teach and define the Christian faith. They believe that Christ committed to St. Peter the care of the whole church, and that this role has descended to each of Peter's successors as bishop of Rome. (The title "pope," applied to the bishop of Rome, comes from the Italian word for father.)

Catholics Accept "Tradition"

Catholics, like Protestants, regard the Bible as divinely inspired. But, unlike Protestants, they accept "tradition" as an equally valid source of revealed truth. They say that some important aspects of the Christian revelation were never set down in writing in the Scriptures, but were handed down through the ages, from the time of the first Apostles, by word of mouth.

On the basis of tradition, the Catholic Church teaches some doctrines for which Protestants are unable to find any warrant in the Bible. An example is the dogma, proclaimed by Pope Pius XII in 1950, that the Virgin Mary was taken up bodily into heaven (the theological term is "assumed") at the end of her earthly life.

Catholic worship centers around the Mass. Non-Catholics who have heard a Mass sung or recited, largely in Latin, sometimes have difficulty comprehending the tremendous significance this ancient service holds for Catholics.

The American Society of Composers, Author and Publishers was organized in 1914.

Today's Eve Has Wash, Wear Attire

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Eve had bearskin, the American pioneer her calico, and today's woman the "wash and wear."

Yet what has happened through the centuries in attire is minor compared with the "Wardrobe revolution" ahead, say experts in the textile field.

We are headed for an era of even newer fabrics than the current synthetics and chemically treated cottons, new lighter weights, new durability and lower prices, predicts an article in the current "Better Living," the employe magazine of Du Pont.

The publication said that only the 19th Century advent of machine-made, ready-to-wear garments compared in significance with the changes taking place today.

Reviewing what has happened in the last 50 years, since the first man-made fiber of rayon and acetate came along, the publication says that now, man-made number over four dozen, made in 25 U.S. plants, with a combined annual capacity of 51st Year 2,300,000,000 pounds.

New blends are part of the wardrobe revolution, say Du Pont experts. Even today, some clothes have four or five different fibers. A new-denim-sleeperwear fabric, for instance, is a blend of nylon, orlon, dacron and cotton.

Tech Choir Sets Concert Here Monday

The Texas Tech Choir from Lubbock will appear in Pampa Monday, sponsored by the Pampa High School choral organizations. A free concert is set for 8 p.m. in the PHS auditorium.

The Impressions, a male quartet will appear with the choir, according to William A. Hunt, High School choral director.

The tenth concert tour of the Tech Choir finds it under the direction of Gene Kenney. The quartet was organized and rehearsed by John Gilbert, a senior music major from Amarillo. Its repertoire consists mainly of arrangements and original compositions by Gilbert.

The choir is one of five choral organizations on the Tech campus. This is Kenney's second year at Tech and first year to be in charge of all choral activities.

Kenney came to Tech after serving as choral director at Amarillo High School for a year and Abilene High School for four years. Before coming to Texas, Kenney taught in Kansas where he received his undergraduate degree in music. He received his Master's degree from Southern Methodist University, Dallas.

Kenney's high school choirs received national and state recognition for their excellent performances at music education conventions and state contests.

TO APPEAR HERE

TEXAS TECH'S FAMED CHOIR has cooked up a musical menu for its 10th annual tour April 6-9 that includes 13 concerts in three days. Under the direction of Gene Kenney, the 43 Techsians will make the first appearance of the Tech Choir in upper West Texas and the Panhandle in five or six years. During this time the Choir has appeared on the Ed Sullivan Show in New York City and made other appearances on national television. The Choir will sing in Pampa at 8 p.m. Monday (April 6).

SETS PLEBISCITE DATE FIND BOMB DUMP

HONOLULU (UPI) — Gov. William F. Quinn Saturday set June 27 for the required Hawaiian statehood plebiscite and the same date for primary elections to select candidates for Congress and new state offices.

LONDON (UPI) — An army bomb disposal squad Saturday checked a dump where playing children found a pile of bombs, shells and grenades less than 100 yards from the parking apron of the Gatwick Airport, London's new airfield.

LONDON (UPI) — A British Overseas Airways Corporation jet airliner took off from London Airport Saturday night to inaugurate the first jet passenger service to the Far East.

Girl Scout Projects To Be Exhibited

The Top O' Texas Girl Scout Council's "Picture Your Home Frontier" project, which started in the fall, will be climaxed April 19, with an exhibit and tea from 2 to 4 p.m., in the Little House, 718 E. Kingsmill, according to Mrs. E. J. Griffin Jr., program chairman.

Girl Scouts have been working since fall to picture the places and objects which depict the frontier period of this area through photographs, drawings and paintings. Their work will be exhibited April 19, during which four entries will be selected to be sent to the National Roundup, to be held this summer in Colorado Springs, Colo.

From the exhibits at the Roundup, the national organization will select pictures to be used in traveling exhibits and national publicity in magazines and newspapers.

Judges for the Top O' Texas Council's exhibit will be Mrs. Rufe Jordan, Mrs. Howard Johnson, Mrs. Elaine Ledbetter and Mrs. Carroll Griggs. Entries will be judged prior to the tea, with the four winning pictures to receive blue ribbons and those receiving honorable mention to be marked by red ribbons. Prizes will be awarded for the four winning pictures at 3 p.m. by Mrs. Morris Silver, vice president. Refreshments of punch and cookies will be served.

Girl Scouts submitting entries will bring them to the Little House between 3 and 5 p.m., April 18, to

MILLER-HOOD PHARMACY Monthly News

A Message from Your Neighborhood Pharmacy

"DOOR-TO-DOOR PEDDLING OF DRUGS, VITAMINES AND OTHER MEDICINES will be outlawed by the New York City Board of Health" said Dr. Roscoe P. Kandle, Commissioner of the Department of Health.

DR. KANDLE SAID: "Many door-to-door peddlers make wild, irresponsible and fraudulent claims about the diseases their products will prevent or cure. The courts have forbidden such claims, but the individual peddlers make such claims orally."

ANOTHER SOURCE OF GREAT DANGER IS THEIR SALE OF FOOD SUPPLEMENTS, most of which have little value. Because potent vitamins, which can accomplish much good, are regulated by law for sale in a pharmacy under professional supervision, many opportunists skirt the law by calling them foods. To do this the strength is so reduced the results are negligible. Yet, the prices they charge are usually much higher.

THERE IS NO REASON FOR ANYONE TO GAMBLE WITH THEIR HEALTH. Our desire to protect and keep our good professional reputation is your assurance that your health will always be our foremost consideration. The products we supply will always be dependable and fairly priced. In this competitive age, no one can sell for less and give equal value or quality.
