Reds Propose 'Friendship'

NEW DELHI (UPI) - The Chinese Communists have offered the Tibetan rebels a new "friendship agreement" in hope of putting down the widespread Tibetan revolt, reports from Kalimpong on the Indo-Tibetan frontier said today.

Tibetan poblemen fleeing to Kalimpong from the Tibetan capital of Lhasa said the Chinese Communists themselves ceased firing in Lhasa after offering to make a new deal with the Tibetans. The revolt was reported still going on outside Lhasa, however.

Reports reaching Gangtok, capital of the Indian protectorate of Sikkim which borders Tibet, said the Dalai Lama, spiritual and temporal leader of Tibet, was fleeing southwards to the Indian border but did not plan to enter India.

Domestic Strife May Be Related To Women's Tension, Doctor Reports'

"Many women who experience symptoms of premenstrual tension are not aware that they suffer, but their co-workers, relatives and friends often feel the full effects of the irritability and irascibility manifested by the patient," reports Dr. Edward Eichner of Mount

Sinai Hospital, Cleveland, Ohio. Interpersonal relationships are frequently inharmonious, and many domestic tragedies result in part from premenstrual tension, Dr. Eichner pointed out. Some may wonder which came first, but many husbands admit to being worn down by repeated episodes of tension. They give evidence that it is the monotonous regularity of the repetitious assault which finally causes the marital breakdown.

Though the one basic cause of premenstrual tension is still not are, and the result, Dr. Eichner said, is a physical condition that responds best to treatment aimed at these many causes is found in a non-prescription multidimensional drug preparation called Pre-mens.

By WHITNE' BOLTON NEW YORK - CUFF NOTES:

The men whose mission in tife it is to try and cut down on motoring accidents keep reiterating: "Keep your eyes on the road." ... A recent magazine feature says: "Not so.". . . You should on the long, dreary, uneventful new pikes, parkways and expressways keep the eyes constantly in motion: down to the instruments, side to side, up to the top of the windshield, a kind of revolving and constant series of glances which keep all pertinent facts constantly in view and, at the same time, keep things from becoming monotonous to the point of lull and danger. . . No argument, I go along with the magazine, and if I didn't I'd miss a lot of Manhattan curiosa while driving the cluttered streets. . . Like the tiny East Side restaurant with this sign in its window: "The Home Of The Purple Martini.". . . The poor martini, it has been trifled with, experimented with, changed, altered, become the source of a dozen odd formulae and now they are dyeing the defenseless little potion, . . NEW YORK (UPI) - Amateur 'psychiatrists' have a warning man that the business of digging deep into people's minds can be for the digger.

Dr. Philip F.D. Seitz was advising general medical practitioners on whether they could properly engage in psychotherapy despite their lack of specific psychiatric training, but his remarks applied as well to the amateurs who, martini in hand, try to find out what makes another party

Amateur Ranks Growing

Professional psychiatrists are remarking, with amusement but also worry as to the consequences, on the growing number in of amateurs who have read a ience with psychoanalysis and try stand still. "It's a psychiatric age," they say sarcastically.

But "psychotherapy has berequires years of study to master its principles and techniques." said Mr. Seitz to the doctors who have mastered only medicine in general.

As an example, Seitz told of a young non-psychiatric doctor who deep into the mind of a person w got in deep all right, and put in a hurry-up call for Seitz.

"He sounded upset and frightwas found in a violent abreaction the Capitol but that they haven't and downs on the travel plans of It put out, all right, but what of rage, with the very frightened it put out was mostly hums and doctor trying to calm him. I had p to take over the case because the doctor was clearly too terrified.' we can't build a public address moment, he said. This kind of person has adjusted well to his emotional problems in the past.
