

God's Design for a Better World

"BEHOLD, I MAKE ALL THINGS NEW," SAID JEHOVAH

Scripture—Genesis 1; Isaiah 55; 48:5-9; Mark 1:14-15; Luke 4:18-21; John 8:12-18; Revelation 21:1-5.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
 HOW TO condense this, the first lesson of a new series, into a short narrative or one-half hour of teaching is today's problem. There is so much in it; there are so many beautiful passages from both Old and New Testaments that should not be missed.
 The lesson begins with the Creation and we must content ourselves with a very brief mention of that wondrous event, until we come to the creation of man. "So God created man in His own image, in the image of God created He him; male and female created He them."
 Then God blessed them and told them they were to have dominion over all created things, and He said, "Behold, I have given you every herb bearing seed, which is upon the face of all the earth, and every tree, in which is the fruit of a tree yielding seed; to you it shall be for meat."
 I sometimes wonder how many people really appreciate this beautiful world that God created and find it good. Does the farmer who grows the food for his family and for others? Do we in our daily lives thank Him for the privilege of living in it? Also, are we willing to work hard to was brought up, Jesus went into the synagogue as he was accustomed, and stood up to read. A book (scroll) was handed to Him and He began to read from Isaiah:

 "The Spirit of the Lord is upon Me, because He hath anointed Me to preach the gospel to the poor; He hath sent Me to heal the brokenhearted; to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised, to preach the acceptable year of the Lord."
 Jesus handed the book to the minister and sat down, and while the congregation watched Him, wondering, He said to them: "This day is this scripture fulfilled in your ears."—Luke 4:18-21.
 "For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life. For God sent His Son into the world to condemn the world; but that He would through Him give life to the world."
 The last reference in the lesson is in Revelation, where John, on the Isle of Patmos, saw the New Jerusalem.
 "And I John saw the holy city, make it the world God has planned?

 Listen to the words of that grandest of all prophets, Isaiah:
 "Strengthen ye the weak hands, and confirm the feeble knees. Say to them that are of a fearful heart, be strong, fear not; behold, your God will come with vengeance, even God with a recompense: He will come and save you."—Isa. 35:3-4.
 Again from Isaiah: "Thus saith the Lord, He that created the heavens, and stretched them out; He that spread forth the earth, and that which cometh out of it; He that gave breath unto the people upon it, and spirit to them that walk therein."
 "I, the Lord, have called thee in righteousness, and will hold thine hand, and will keep thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, or a light of the Gentiles."
 "To open the blind eyes, to bring out the prisoners from the prison, and them that sit in darkness out of the prison house."
 "Behold, the former things are come to pass, and new things do I declare, before they spring forth I tell you of them."
 Coming to Nazareth, where He new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband.

 "And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and He will dwell with them, and they shall be His people, and God Himself shall be with them, and be their God."
 "And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain, for the former things are passed away."
 Earthly fathers and mothers love their children very much, care for them tenderly, but when the children are grown older, they lose their parents. But God is our Father always, and His Son, Jesus, we never lose them.
 There is so much talk these days about prisoners, war prisoners being released from captors, etc., criminals being sentenced or released from prison, that small children hear a bout them, too. Believe what they can do, as believers in and followers of Christ, to bring about a better world, according to God's plan.

Doctor Believes Oklahoma Priest Has Guardian Angel

HOBART, Okla. (AP)—Hobart doctor believes a badly injured Roman Catholic priest has a guardian angel.
 Dr. Jake Braun reported that the Rev. Richard Francis Dolan of Oklahoma City was brought into the hospital "as close to death as a man could get."
 That was two weeks ago following an automobile accident. The doctor today said the priest is alive and "downright jolly."
 Dr. Braun added: "All I can say is there was surely a guardian angel around him."
 Father Dolan suffered a crushed chest, punctured lung, crushed left arm, right hand, severe facial cuts, loss of blood and shock.
 Dr. Braun said "We thought he was a goner, but after the first 24 hours he regained his faculties and got downright jolly" despite losing the injured arm to amputation.

Old Glory Stuck On High Pole In Park

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP)—Old Glory still waves proudly over Lewiston's Pioneer Park, and city officials are trying to correct the situation.
 The U. S. flag is stuck atop an 85-foot pole. It's been waving gloriously up there all summer. And the last steeplejack who climbed the pole told a councilman he "wouldn't go up there again for anything."
 The fire department's ladder truck was out, too—its ladder will only reach up 65 feet.
 The City Council has decided to ask a local power company for the loan of a lineman with nerve.

Cordell Hull Has His 82nd Birthday Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cordell Hull, who served longer than any other man as secretary of state, celebrates his 82nd birthday today.
 He ran the State Department from March 1933 to November 1944, when he retired ill and exhausted. He lives here now in an apartment hotel, takes daily auto trips about the countryside and keeps up with world affairs through the newspapers, radio and television.

SUPPER FOR THREE

Three men ate supper together one night in the little town of Emmaus, near Jerusalem.

Two of them were sorrowing disciples whose Master had been crucified.

The third was the risen Christ. Himself, though His dejected companions had not recognized Him.

At the table Jesus broke bread as He had in the Upper Room. Suddenly, the eyes of the disciples were opened. They beheld their Master!

Next Sunday is WORLD COMMUNION SUNDAY. Christians the world over will gather in their churches to celebrate the Lord's Supper. Again in the breaking of bread men will realize that Christ lives—that He stands in our midst today.

And the joy of the disciples at Emmaus will be multiplied a millionfold in every city cathedral, every village chapel.

HOLY BIBLE
THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake; (2) For his children's sake; (3) For the sake of his community and nation; (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Texas winners in the State Talent Contest, a feature of the state convention of the Future Farmers of America, held in Fort Worth, will have an opportunity to present a 30-minute program for President Eisenhower before he speaks to the national FFA convention at Kansas City, Oct. 15.

The President will speak over an international hookup to the 10,000 Future Farmers who will attend the convention, held in conjunction with the American Royal Livestock Show, and who will assemble in the Kansas City Municipal Auditorium in their Silver Anniversary celebration. He is expected to give a further explanation of the administration's farm program to the young farmers and ranchers.

Among the Texas delegation, which is expected to number about 500, there will be 36 boys who will receive the highest FFA award, that of Successful American Farmer. Among those boys are Charles Bartley of Brownfield; Joe Dan Boyd of Winnsboro; Allen Hagens of Slaton; Bobby Joe Henderson of Lubbock; Billy Kamp of Sudan; Don Patterson of Slaton; Calvin Wiseman of Sudan; Donnie Yarbrough of Plainview, and the others among the three dozen.

The Big Spring High School Chapter of the Future Farmers of America met last night to install the new Chapter officers and to install the Green Hands.

Earlier the Chapter's executive committee, composed of Jim Dannon, chairman, and Melvin Daniels, Wiley Wise and Al Kloven, members, had met and set up the various committees for the year's activities.

These committees and the membership:

Supervised farming: Clarence Thompson, chairman, with Jesse McCormick and Kenneth Harmon, members.

Committee on cooperation: Johnny Burns, chairman, with Pete Rasmussen and Jerald Cox, members.

Community service: Billy Womack, chairman, with George Rackley and Kenneth Scott, members.

Leadership: Wiley Wise, chairman, with J. C. Prevo and Jerry Murphy, members.

Earnings and Savings: Jarrell Shortes, chairman, with Earl Rawlings and Harvey Brown, members.

Conduct of meetings: James Suggs, chairman, with James Hollis and Ben Faulkner, members.

Scholarship: Thomas Lynn, chairman, with Edwin Rawlings and Carl Thurman, members.

Recreation: Billy McIlvain, chairman, with Gerald Kennedy and Ronnie Allen, members.

Marion Everhart, work unit conservationist, with the Big Spring unit of the SCS, is quite enthusiastic about the cattle-growing, beef-building program being operated by Alvin Walker.

"It can't be beat in this country," says Everhart.

Walker, who lives about seven miles north of Big Spring, is making good use of Johnson grass and weeds by grazing with cattle, Everhart explains.

"He has had cattle in fields on his own farm and on rented land belonging to Mrs. Dora Roberts all summer, and he now has them on the H. H. Hurt farm, which he has leased for grazing," the conservationist explains. "Walker believes in utilizing what you have and he has his cattle in good shape as a result. He usually plants about 225 acres to wheat for winter grazing and has already dry sown 100 acres. Last fall he got his wheat in early and had abundant grazing all winter and until about the first of May, this spring. He then put these cattle in fields where Johnson grass and weeds were growing in spite of the drought, and those cattle are in good shape."

Walker has 355 acres in his own farm and 1,120 in the Roberts farm which he has leased for several

Long-Stalled European Common Army Plan Moving Ahead Now

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—The long-stalled European army, projected as the military heart of Western defenses against Russia, is reported by high officials here to be moving off dead center at last.

During the summer, State Department opinion took a gloomy line, but now it is strongly optimistic about chances for saving the plan to add the strength of an armed Western Germany to the strength of the West.

United States policy has been built on the assumption that German forces are an essential part of an effective defense of Western Europe.

The proposal took treaty form in May 1952, calling for a European Defense Community (EDC) which would put French, German and other troops into a common army. France provided this formula for getting German strength while guarding against revival of German militarism.

The treaty was supposed to be ratified, Secretary of State Dulles once said, by the fall of 1952. Actually, although West German ratification was substantially completed some time ago, successive French administrations have run into big obstacles in the form of internal political opposition to re-arming Germans.

That has been mainly responsible for stalling the whole undertaking, and, in the view of some officials here, endangering the very heart of Western defenses. Officials here, however, have privately expressed sympathy with the difficulties of the French position.

A few weeks ago the general years. The Hurt Farm which he has now leased covers 480 acres. On part of this land he planted Sudan grass and on parts of the farm he listed for cotton about four times. He has been keeping the Johnson grass under control by frequent workings and grazing. In 1954 when he took over the Roberts Farm the Johnson grass was almost solid. After several years he had it thinned down considerably. He lost the use of the land about 1940 and again the Johnson grass spread. He regained the land in 1943 and has had it ever since.

"Walker also believes in trench silos," says Everhart, "and he has one on his farm that will hold 350 tons. He says he would be putting up silage now if there was anything to put up. He also believes that it pays in this area to feed out steers. He tried it in 1941 feeding out 84 head. He fed them for 125 days and they averaged 1,124 pounds when they reached the Fort Worth yards."

Everhart says he and Walker figure that the Johnson grass and weed grazing this year has saved a monthly feed bill of at least $1,000, and that Walker says he believes one section of cropland in a good stand of Johnson grass is worth five sections of unimproved land.

Walker says he would like to get a start of Blue Panic grass for summer grazing, and that he realizes the need for cover crops in this area where droughts can come any year and where the winds are high.

feeling here was that the EDC project was likely to lag indefinitely, and that it could hardly be expected to make any progress until after the Western Powers had met with Russia in an attempt to find some other solution for the German problem. That gave the Russians a weapon for delays—a constant source of worry and concern here.

American ambassadors in the Western European countries met recently in Luxembourg with Asst. Secretary of State Livingston Merchant and reviewed EDC prospects. It has been reported here, following Merchant's return, that they found the outlook highly encouraging and, particularly, that there was confidence France would ratify the EDC treaty within the next few months.

Several things are advanced as justification for what are regarded as greatly brightened prospects:

1. The Sept. 6 election victory of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in West Germany stands out as a victory not only for Adenauer's policy of European cooperation but also for a moderate German leadership as opposed to extremists of right and left. This probably was reassuring to some elements in France and certainly discounted the argument that West Germany was tending toward a militarist revival.

2. The Adenauer victory also demonstrated a vigor in West German national life which meant to Western European leaders that developments with respect to Germany could not be delayed indefinitely. It demonstrated, too, that prolonged French stalling on a German solution might give a European-minded West Germany a claim on community leadership.

3. Russia's drum beating for German unification, and declarations in favor of unity by the Western Powers, caused some French leaders to consider the serious possibility that in the long run they might get a unified, independent Germany rearming without important restraints from either East or West. To these French elements, a divided Germany tied to the West politically and militarily appeared preferable. This is said to have entered influentially into French Socialist thinking. In the past, Socialists have formed the spearhead of French opposition to EDC.

4. Russia's apparent decision to pass up the Western proposal for a Big Four meeting on Germany at Lagano, Switzerland, on Oct. 15 presumably means Russian failure to exploit at this time France's fearful and divided attitude on the German problem.

Another factor which some experts believe may be influential was the announcement Wednesday of a French plan, backed by American dollars, for pressing the Indochina war against the Communists to a conclusion.

Kinsey Program To Be Given In Dallas Despite Houston Ban

DALLAS (AP)—Banned in Houston but apparently welcome in Dallas, a panel discussion of Dr. Kinsey's report on the human female is scheduled for State Fair Auditorium here tomorrow night.

The four-part program is entitled "Women Battling the Kinsey Report" and gives both comic and serious treatment to Dr. Kinsey's study. The program features Hollywood star Joan Blondell, who handles a comic role.

Mayor Roy Hofheinz of Houston, in announcing neither the music hall nor auditorium there would be available for the program, said: "That kind of entertainment does not meet the esthetic requirements of the city as a precedent to leasing of the city's premises."

Besides Miss Blondell, panel members include actor Reginald Owen, actor Lee Trent and the moderator, Author Lea Alden.

Polish Escapee On Way To Washington

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A 28-year-old Pole who "will do anything as long as I can be a good American" is on his way to Washington today on the last leg of his flight from communism.

Jan Hajdukiewicz arrived yesterday. He had slipped away from a Red inspection team in Korea Sept. 9 to seek asylum.

The former Communist interpreter said a Voice of America broadcast prompted his escape.

Telling of troop movements and stockpiled supplies he saw in his two months in Korea, Hajdukiewicz said he is convinced "The Communists don't want peace."

DATE DATA

By Beverly Brandow

Dating A Fresh Fellow

There comes a time in every girl's life, especially if she dates one fellow consistently, when she is faced with a fresh fellow.

For some reason he thinks he's special, and even if he is he thinks this entitles him to privileges beyond the line of dating duty. Naturally this puts a girl on the spot. If she knows what motivates his unwanted actions she can deal with the problem more successfully.

Should she haul off and slap him with all the strength she can muster? Is this the only way she can keep her reputation as a lady in the eyes of her too amorous escort? Or is there some other method just as effective? These are the questions that plague a girl when she least has time to ponder them.

If this boy is someone you've just met and don't know very well, he's just plain fresh. Slap him, hard! If he's a boy you've dated only two or three times, he's not necessarily "that type." More likely he's trying to discover what type you are and how you'll take his advances.

With him you must muster your most surprised expression. "I certainly didn't think I could expect this sort of thing from you," tell him. Then in a firm, but not angry tone, give him a short explanation that you don't approve and if he was just trying to find out how you feel on the matter, he knows. "So let's be friends and no more monkey business, please."

Then, just to complicate matters, there is the problem of the fresh steady. You can't box him over the head or laugh it off because he's driven by that powerful emotion he calls love. Aside from being flattered that he is so infatuated with you (okay, so it is the real thing) you've got to think for both of you.

Probably you've been seeing each other too long too often. Am I suggesting you give him up and play the field? No, I'm not. (It wouldn't do any good anyway, would it?) Just cut out one date a week and confine those dates you do go to double or triple ones. Go roller skating, horseback riding, bicycling, or bowling.

Another energetic will be better than romantic dates consisting of dark movies, picnics, or moonlight boat rides.

Here, too, firmness is required. Take your stand politely, but unmovably and never slap your steady when a simple explanation will do as well.

(What's your problem? Write Beverly Brandow in care of The Herald, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope. She'll answer you promptly and personally and your identity will be held strictly confidential.)

AEC Picks General As Its New Manager

By ELTON G. FAY
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) in a move dramatizing its intensified interest in nuclear weapons, has picked an Army general and A-bomb pioneer as its new general manager.

The commission announced last night the appointment of Maj. Gen. Kenneth D. Nichols, who participated in the original, secret "Manhattan District" project which developed and exploded the world's first atomic bomb.

Nichols will succeed Marion W. Boyer as AEC general manager on Nov. 1. The AEC said "arrangements were made with the Department of Defense" to permit Nichols' retirement from military service so he can serve as a civilian.

Nichols has been an Army officer since his West Point graduation in 1929. Ordinarily, general officers come up for retirement after 30 years service or 60 years of age. However, there is a provision allowing retirement after 20 years' service as a commissioned officer.

Boyer came to the commission in 1950 with the understanding that he would return to Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, of which he was a vice president, at the end of three years.

AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss said in a statement that Nichols "was a pioneer among military men engaged in the development of atomic energy in 1942." He commented also that Nichols had a continuous record of accomplishment in key positions in research and development, construction of plants, production, weapons manufacture and military application of atomic energy, along with military planning and weapons development.

The latter reference appeared to have particular significance in light of the AEC's stepped-up program for hydrogen bomb production.

Nichols' experience also includes work on development of guided missiles, including those designed to carry atomic warheads.

A native of Cleveland, Ohio, where he was born in 1907, he has lived for several years in Washington.

The Irish tenor retired seven years ago but his fame lingered on as a result of 23 years as a radio and recording artist.

Munn collapsed while visiting at the home of his brother-in-law Carl Weissner, in St. Albans, Queens. Cause of death was not announced.

He started work as a $3-a-week shuttle boy in an embroidery factory. It was said that he began his singing then, humming in rhythm with the roll of the factory machines.

Munn could not read music but memorized songs by playing recordings repeatedly until he could mimic every bit of "business" in putting over a ballad.

The "Golden Voice" subsequently became familiar to millions as he progressed to such NBC shows as the "Palmyra Hour," "Waltz Time" and "American Album of the Air."

Irish-Americans Resent Comedies Dublin Approves

By HERB ALTSCHULL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Show an Irishman in Dublin a play about a bunch of drunken, sloppy sons of Erin and he may think it's the funniest thing he ever saw.

But show the same play to an Irish-American and he'll throw things at you.

That's what actress-director Maureen Halligan, in town with the Dublin Players, said today.

"You people over here are very sensitive people, indeed," she added.

Miss Halligan and her husband, Roland Ibbes, have brought an Irish repertory company to this country for the first time in nearly 20 years.

The subject of Irish sensitivity cropped up after the opening performance of John Millington Synge's "Playboy of the Western World," a classic Irish comedy which offers some hilarious scenes of unkempt citizens of County Mayo in their cups.

"I suppose we set some sort of record when no one threw anything at us," Miss Halligan said after the show.

"I've been in the play in this country before, and performances in Boston and Philadelphia—they have big Irish populations there—ended in riots."

"Perhaps," she suggested, "the Irishmen who live in Washington are more polite."

Miss Halligan had other observations about Americans: "Your people are quite classical in taste. They would rather see old standbys, like Shaw and Synge, than modern Irish plays."

"I would love to do some of our contemporary comedies, but I'm afraid they wouldn't have much success. For one thing, Americans wouldn't understand the political connotations and the jokes about relations between England and Ireland."

All of which called to mind a somewhat different comment on the same subject by Winston Churchill, the British Prime Minister, on his last visit to Washington more than a year ago, was asked about Anglo-Irish relations.

"I never discuss American politics," he replied with a grin.

Eisenhower Exhorts State Civil Defense Leaders To Keep On

WASHINGTON (AP)—Civil defense leaders, sharply split over how to go about their task, were exhorted by President Eisenhower yesterday: "No matter what things look like at the moment, please keep going."

The President's appeal came when state civil defense directors left their annual conference to pay a White House call.

At the conference, Democratic Mayor Joseph S. Clark Jr. of Philadelphia said it is up to the President to rouse America from its civil defense apathy. He called on the federal government to assume most of the financial load.

But Arthur S. Flemming, director of the U. S. Office of Defense Mobilization, said the federal government's role is one of leadership and example. He said the "heavy work" must be done at the local level.

Over 300 Attend District Firemen's Meet In C-City

COLORADO CITY — More than 300 firemen and guests attended the 30th semi-annual convention of the Mid-West Texas District Firemen's Association here Thursday.

Highlight of the business meeting was a talk by former state senator Pat Bullock, who lauded volunteer firemen for their service to their communities, pointing out that their efforts often saved both jobs and properties. Their functioning as they do, he said, was one of the factors that made up our system of free enterprise.

Welcoming address was given by Walter Grubbs, mayor pro tem, and was followed by a response by Billy Walls, of Baird, vice president of the association. Albany was selected as the next convention site, and Colorado City's Chief Leonard Henderson was endorsed for the fourth vice presidency of the State Fireman's and Fire Marshall's Association.

Following the business session, pumper races were held with Haskell winning the first event in 22.3 seconds; 2nd, Baird, 23.9; and 3rd, Snyder, 26.4.

In the six man race, Snyder led the pack, coupling in 11.7 seconds.

Lewis Turns Coal Plugger

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—John L. Lewis, bushy-browed warrior of many a tussle with coal mine operators, presidents and courts, has turned salesman—to sell anthracite as the top fuel for the American home.

Gone from Lewis' latest role are the short, snapping phrases which have characterized his battles of the past. In their place is a straightforward, explaining approach to the problem of how to market more hard coal so John L.'s hard pressed miners can put more bread and butter on their dinner tables.

The latest phase of his role came last night when John L. stood up to speak at the golden anniversary dinner of the Anthracite Mine Conciliation Park Ball room near this northeastern Pennsylvania town.

Lewis talked about the need for increased production and efficiency to meet the threat of a competitive market if the anthracite industry is to retain its high standards. Competition from oil and gas interests has cut hard into the anthracite coal industry's sales to home owners. Bituminous or soft coal has not been affected since most of this grade is channelled to industrial uses in steel mills and similar enterprises.

"Great advances have been made in the coal industry," Lewis said. He cited the abolition of the "breaker boy era" when sons of miners had to work at an early age for long hours.

Lewis' message was the second he has delivered along these lines. Recently he outlined much the same material to the New York State Fuel Dealers Association.

Three Witnesses See Different Versions

OGDEN, Utah (AP)—Police had three witnesses to a hit-run accident yesterday.

One told officers 45-year-old Victor Coppers was struck by a taxi. A second witness said Coppers was hit by a truck and semi-trailer.

A third saw the whole thing. He told Officer Leroy Jacobsen it was a black sedan.

The victim, who didn't see what hit him, said he was crossing the street to catch a ride. He said he did see the traffic light and it was in his favor.

He was reported in satisfactory condition at a local hospital.

One Of The Hudson Models For '54

Heading the 1954 Hudson line is the Hudson Hornet, which is being shown to the public as the first of the new year's models. The '54 Hornet has a lower and longer appearance, with more luxurious interior design. Its "instant action" engine with super induction, develops 160 horsepower. Hudson power steering and improved power brakes are available as optional equipment. All '54 Hudsons have "step-down" design and lower center of gravity. Body and frame construction emphasizes safety and durability.

NOW ON DISPLAY

Many Improvements Noted In Hudson Models For 1954

Hudson Motor Company leads off the parade of 1954 model automobiles, and is unveiling for public inspection the new version of the Hudson Hornet, Hudson Wasp and Super Wasp, Hudson Jet, Super Jet and Jet-Liner.

The new line is now on display at 419 Main, and the public is invited to drop in for a complete examination.

All series have new power and newly developed "instant action" engines with super induction—an improved induction system which increases combustion efficiency and provides quicker response at every point in the driving range.

All '54 Hudsons have the sleek, sweeping beauty of "Flight-Line" styling, a fresh simplicity of classic lines which make the new models appear lower and longer viewed from any angle. Interiors are more luxurious, more richly appointed than in any models in company history.

Hudson power steering, which provides effortless parking and steering control at all speeds, and improved power brakes are available as optional equipment for the '54 Hudson Hornets, Wasps and Super Wasps.

All '54 Hudsons have "step-down" design and low center of gravity and the outstanding durability and safety provided by Monohilt body-and-frame construction.

Super Induction results from an ingenious departure from ordinary combustion chamber design, where the gas-air fuel mixture is used with greater efficiency. The redesigned combustion chamber, together with a silent Long-Dwell Camshaft, increases power production at all speeds, even at higher ranges where reserve engine power ordinarily begins to diminish.

All Hudsons for '54 offer the advantages of "instant action" engines with the mighty reserve of power and acceleration provided by Super Induction.

From front to rear, the '54 Hudsons present a look of balanced, symmetrical beauty. Classic hood lines blend smoothly into a massive, functional air scoop, which provides better engine ventilation. The newly designed grille has a look of clean-lined simplicity with the Hudson emblem set in the middle of the horizontal center bar. Frontal lines are designed to give a wider, lower-built appearance.

Ultramodern instrument panels have instruments grouped directly before the driver for instant viewing. Dials are illuminated by indirect lighting. Teleflash signals flash an immediate warning if oil pressure or generator charging rate drop. Panels are color-harmonized with interiors.

All '54 Hudsons have huge one-piece curved windshields with no center bar to obstruct vision. Wrap-around rear windows and elongated corner windows provide extra rear-view safety.

Supplementing Hudson's well-known ease-of-handling is a highly efficient and safe power steering system. Hudson Power Steering is optional at extra cost on the 1954 Hudson Hornet, Super Wasp and Wasp.

Hudson Power Steering is the direct-action, linkage type which makes driving and parking practically effortless. It takes over when the steering wheel is turned as little as 2 degrees, providing as much as 80 per cent of required steering effort.

For 1954, Hudson offers new improved power brakes as optional equipment for the Hudson Hornet, Wasp and Super Wasp. Hudson's power brake system is a combined vacuum and hydraulic unit operated by a pendulum type foot pedal.

Dean Acheson Says Negotiation With Reds Possible, Desirable

NEW YORK (AP)—Former Secretary of State Dean Acheson says negotiation with the Soviet Union is both possible and desirable "and may—but only may—be productive."

Acheson, in his first major speech since leaving office in January, says the main principle that must be followed in any negotiation with the Soviets is that: "Never more than at present is the preservation of the (Western) coalition so essential. To sustain it and to strengthen it must be the foundation of our foreign policy."

Acheson adds that "The central point around which all else revolves is the health and strength and cohesiveness of the coalition."

The former Democratic Cabinet member spoke last night at a Waldorf-Astoria Hotel dinner given in his honor by the Woodrow Wilson Foundation.

He received the Woodrow Wilson Award for Distinguished Service, which is presented by the Foundation at irregular intervals for "meritorious service to the cause of liberal thought, public welfare and peace through justice."

The foundation, established through public subscription in 1922 to perpetuate President Wilson's ideas of world organization and international cooperation, gave Acheson a plaque. The citation praised his foreign policy.

Adlai E. Stevenson spoke at the dinner in praise of Acheson's work

Dynamite Blast Rocks Louisiana Paper Mill Town

PITKIN, La. (AP)—The second dynamite explosion in five days last night rocked this community, eight miles from the strike-torn paper mill town of Elizabeth.

State police said the blast took place 200 yards from the Pitkin High School gymnasium where about 500 persons were attending a fair and rodeo. No one was reported injured.

State police said the dynamite apparently was thrown from a moving car into a ditch near a residence.

The town of Elizabeth and surrounding areas have been the scene of violence since September, 1952, when AFL employees of the Calcasieu Paper Co., and the jointly-owned Southern Industries, Inc., walked off their jobs in a contract dispute.

Agreed Judgment Entered In Medical Negligence Case

DALLAS (AP)—An agreed judgment of $3,500 was entered yesterday in a District Court case in which two doctors and a Corsicana hospital were charged with negligence by leaving a surgical knife blade in a patient.

The judgment was in favor of Annie Laura Dempsey, Ruby Lee Tankersley, Willie Don Tankersley and David Washington Tankersley. They said L. V. Tankersley died Nov. 28, 1951, as a result of a surgical knife blade being left in the stomach and intestine after an operation Oct. 11, 1951, in the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic.

The defendants were Dr. William T. Sheel Jr., Dr. William B. Mayfield of Corsicana and the hospital.

PET SKUNK (DEODORIZED) IS MISSING

The animal involved is a pet skunk (completely deodorized, the Hornes assure) and it disappeared from their apartment Wednesday night.

The Hornes brought the pet skunk with them from Oregon, and it has two white stripes down its back instead of one, which is the usual dress of skunks. They had become attached to the animal and are offering a reward for its recovery.

ble that the whole farm program will be rewritten by the next session of Congress, and he reminded his listeners that the farmers represent only approximately 15 per cent of the population, and that only 17 per cent of the farmers are engaged in the production of the six basic commodities. He warned that in time the other 85 per cent of the American people may be able to drastically cut financial aid from the general tax funds, that the government is currently giving the small percentage of the farmers who are producing the six basic commodities.

The Farm Bureau had developed a new program, DeVaney said, but needs the membership of every farmer and rancher in the nation in presenting this program to Congress. This is a program, he said, that will not cost the other taxpayers a single cent, but he indicated it is going to be difficult to convince those members of the House of Representatives and the Senate who have been elected to office by the industrial centers.

Senator Sees Likely Board Disagreement

By JOE HALL.
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.), a member of President Eisenhower's commission on federal-state relations, said today he foresees a strong possibility the group could not agree unanimously on its recommendations.
Humphrey said in an interview the discussion at the first meeting Wednesday showed a "sharp conflict of opinion" in the 25-member Commission on Intergovernmental Relations.
"Some members are strong states' righters who feel the federal government should turn back to the state and local government many functions," he said. "Some have the opposite view."

The Minnesotan said, in reply to a question, that it was quite possible there would be one or more minority reports.
Humphrey said some persons want the commission to recommend that the federal government drop activities which others view as important to social and economic progress.
He said it might be possible for the group to propose some eliminations. But he added it was his view in general the federal government had an important role to play in furnishing services the people need.
"I think that it is not so important who does certain things which government must do, as it is that they get done," he commented.
"We are living in a vital, dynamic world, with expanding needs and greater challenges.
"Many times the answer is an integrated approach, with all levels of government playing a part. We must think of the needs of the nation as a whole and how they can best be met."
As to specific questions before the commission, Humphrey said he was dubious about the proposal to drop the federal tax of two cents a gallon on gasoline and turn over all highway financing to the states. The conference of state governors has advocated this. Sen. Hendrickson (R-N.J.), also a commission member, has called this an issue for serious study by the group.
As to the federal public housing program, which some sources have indicated might come under fire in the commission, Humphrey said he was convinced Uncle Sam would have to stay in this field.
"The low-rent public housing program is only a minor part of the drive to provide good housing for all of the people and to eliminate slums," he said, "but it is an important part."
Humphrey said he doubted whether the group could finish its work by next March 1, the date for its final report fixed in the law which created it. He said an extension very likely would be voted early in the next congressional session.

Sabre Jet, Out Of Order, Sprays Town From One Of Guns

FARRELL, Pa. (AP)—An Air Force Sabre jet plane, its electric firing device out of order, sprayed this western Pennsylvania town with machine gun bullets for several terror-filled seconds.
The whining .50 caliber slugs riddled 12 autos, setting two afire and tore into nearly 30 buildings and homes yesterday. No one was hurt although several persons had narrow escapes.
"Something happened to one of its machine guns," Police Chief John J. Stosito said after a conference with Maj. A. F. Martin Jr. of the Vienna Air Force Base near Warren, Ohio.
The plane was on a routine flight from the base. Name of the pilot was withheld. Witnesses said the craft was several thousand feet up as it zoomed over the city.
Martin, who came here to conduct an investigation, said there is "only about once chance in a million" of such a thing happening and added the Air Force would pay all damages.

Respected Pair Clean Out Vault Of Virginia Bank

NEW MARKET, Va. (AP)—A self-styled ex-shepherd and a former mayor of this Shenandoah Valley town faced charges today they cleaned out the vault of a bank where they were officers and fled across the Canadian border with $114,500.
One of the men returned later. The money has not been recovered.
News of FBI charges against the hitherto respected pair swept through town with teletype speed and caused folks to scratch their heads in amazement.
Former Mayor Theodore Roosevelt Beahm Sr., 56, was "just about one of the nicest guys you ever saw," a local police officer said. Beahm had been with the town's only bank about 20 years and had risen to the posts of vice president and cashier.
Don R. Simpson, 55, a bank director, was a comparative newcomer "but he seemed real pleasant," police said. Officers said Simpson came here 2 1/2 years ago, bought a fashionable estate and told folks he was a former sheriff in Somerset County, Pa.
Both Beahm and Simpson were charged with bank embezzlement. Accused of aiding the two men to flee to Canada, Simpson's nephew described by town officials as a "nice lad." The FBI said he chauffeured the other two to Canada.
The FBI said Beahm flew back Monday and complained he'd been forced at gunpoint to open the vault Saturday and give the money to an unknown man and the elder Simpson, who then kidnaped him and took him to Canada.
But the FBI said Beahm was unable to substantiate his story and, on further questioning, admitted he and Simpson followed a pre-conceived plan to clean out the bank's funds and take off. Beahm was quoted by the FBI as saying he last saw Simpson in Toronto, Canada.
The FBI said none of the $35,500 in cash and $79,000 in negotiables had been recovered. Beahm told agents he didn't get any of it. He posted $2,500 bond yesterday.

Balkers' Relatives To Be Given Chance To Make An Appeal

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Relatives of the 23 POWs who have chosen to remain with the Reds in Korea are to be given an opportunity to appeal to them directly by recordings.
KECA and KECA-TV have started making one-minute spot announcements to parents and relatives of the men, asking them to come to the studio and have their appeals to reason recorded.
The recordings will be flown Monday morning from Travis Air Base to Tokyo, where the Far Eastern Command has arranged to take them to the true commission and have them played for the GI's who have refused to return to their homes.
Earl Hudson, vice president of ABC's Western Division, ordered the invitations to relatives to be broadcast throughout the weekend between programs.

Prof Proves Dawdling Affected By Weather

WASHINGTON (AP)—A psychologist has come up with scientific proof of what every schoolboy knows: It's hard to be prompt when the sun is shining, easy when the day is dismal.
Dr. Roland E. Mueser of Pennsylvania State College studied the punctuality of 101 men and 32 women research workers during a three-month period. The research showed it was easy to dawdle toward work when the skies were cheery, but dark days meant gulped coffee and a dash to the office without fanfare, he said.
Nevertheless, he found six per cent, all males, were eager beavers who got to work early every day regardless of the weather.

Woman Charged By FBI Let Out Of Jail

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—A young mother charged with impersonating an FBI official has been released from jail to care for her 2 1/2-year-old daughter.
U. S. Judge Carl A. Hatch released Mrs. Lorraine Piacenza, 22, of Harvard, Ill., and set date for trial on the charge for Dec. 2. Her child has been in an Albuquerque nursery since Mrs. Piacenza was arrested last week.
The FBI said she told military police at top-secret Sandia base here she was an FBI agent when they ordered her from a parking space reserved for the provost marshal.

Milkman Finds His Delivery Truck Gone

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Milkman Roger Voyles came back for his truck after making a delivery to find it gone.
He didn't have to wait long. A man informed him in no uncertain terms he had taken the truck and parked it astride some railroad tracks, then proceeded to hop Voyles in the nose.
Voyles filed a complaint against Bill Bob Gale who told police he was irked at the milkman for double-parking.

Five I-AAA Teams Favored

Five of the seven District I-AAA football teams which see action tonight are favored to enter the winner's circle. The other contingents — Big Spring and Plainview — face tough sledding.

'Go For Broke' Here Tonight

The 1953 edition of the Big Spring High School football team, which considers itself long overdue as far as victories go, tries the Brownwood Lions here tonight.

Gruelling Drills Ended, Big Spring Steers Face Lions

TEAM RECORDS: Brownwood 12, San Angelo 10, Kertville 10, Pampa 10, Abilene 10.

If the Big Spring High School Steers work as hard against Brownwood in tonight's football clash in the local stadium as they have all week, then something is bound to give.

The Steers have been 'putting out' for this one. Everyone seems to sense that the entire season may be wrapped up in tonight's game, despite the fact that it counts nothing in the state race.

Big Spring has dropped two games in two starts but both have been to AAAA clubs. The Longhorns will be wrestling a team in their own class tonight.

On the other hand, should they register a win over the Lions their stock throughout the state will have improved almost to the point it was before the 1953 campaign got underway.

Texas PGA Set October 14

A free trip to Florida next winter will be the big prize when veteran Texas golf pros gather at Midland's Ranchland Hills Country Club during the Texas PGA championship October 14-17.

Texas senior pros, two dozen strong, will be bidding for the trip to Dunedin, Fla., next January to compete in the PGA National Senior championship.

The winner at Dunedin next January will be the guest of Mr. Ronald Teacher of Glasgow on a trip to England next summer to meet the British senior champion.

One lone player represented the Lone Star State at Dunedin last winter — Charley Worley of Harlingen. Charley is expected to start at Midland with an eye to repeating the winter trip again in January at Teacher's expense.

A strong field of seniors is expected at Ranchland Hills, including such veteran stalwarts as George Aulbach and Vernon Farquhar of Amarillo; Harry McCormack and Bill Mackenzie of Dallas; L. W. Rowland and A. G. Mitchell of Ft. Worth; Shirley Robbins formerly of Big Spring; Dave Kober of Abilene; Murray Brooks of San Antonio; Tom Penick of Austin; Earl Scroggins of Longview; Lew Webber of Galveston and Jess Shuttle of Corpus Christi; Walden Haynes of Mercedes, and Gaither Newell of Bryan.

Knott Billies Seek Second District Victory Tonight

KNOTT — Fresh from a win over Courtney, the Knott Hill Billies seek their second conference six-man football victory of the season when they host the Borden County Coyotes of Gall here at 8 o'clock this evening.

Gall opened with a victory over Loop but lost to Klondike last week. Coach Bill Bollin's Knott team has been pronounced ready to go.

Phillips Stovall will again direct the Knott attack and will get help from such stalwarts as Richard Parker, Donnie Roman and Woody Long.

No one is more aware of the consequence of tonight's game than Coaches Carl Coleman and Wayne Bonner and their local charges. This is "the big one." That combined with the fact that it is the home opener for the provincials makes for football drama.

Despite a 19-0 shellacking they suffered, the Steers staged a great defensive show against Pampa last week. If their offense had clicked like their defense, chances are they would have brought home a victory.

To get ready for Brownwood, the Steers have spent long hours brushing up on their blocking, and scrimmaging as if the upcoming test were for the state championship.

The locals will go into the game shorthanded. Brock Johnson, a fine ball totter, will not be available due to a mild concussion he suffered in the Pampa game last week.

Brownwood's attack is built around the 190-pound Ray Masters, described by some observers as the best back in Texas schoolboy circles.

Brownwood runs off six different formations and makes great use of the spread, an attack which could give the Steer defense fits. Masters has plenty of help from a set of fleet backs and a mobile line.

Brownwood has been one of the big surprises in Texas High School football circles. The Lions were hit hard by graduation but have bowled over Stephenville, Kerrville and San Angelo in that order.

An 18-13 success at the expense of Angelo came only a week after the Bobcats had upset Big Spring, 27-26.

Coach Carl Coleman has often said he'd rather have his boys play and lose if they must, to a real good ball club than beat a bunch of lumpy-dumplings. You don't learn anything by playing the set-ups.

Big Spring will play tougher ball clubs than San Angelo this year but, on the night the Steers met them the Bobcats were not to be denied. They had lost 18 ball games in a row and played like a team possessed.

The Steers won't play any tougher club this year than Pampa. Coach Tom Tipps of the Harvesters says his team is better than it was last year and it won eight games in 1952. Pampa is as good a bet as any year to cop the District I-AAA crown and the I-AAA title-holder usually goes on to win the state. If the Harvesters were a bit deeper in reserves, I'd pick them to take it all.

You can discount a lot of the sensational scoring some of the I-AAA clubs have been doing. It's been done against clubs which couldn't beat Aunt Bessie's Sewing Circle.

FOR COMEBACK TEAMS, HOW ABOUT COYOTES? Not so long ago, a Wichita Falls team lost its first four games and then went on to win the state championship.

The district race starts two weeks from tonight for the Steers. The games are really the ones that count, in the eyes of the fans. Of course, the locals can while away the time by clopping the chops of the Brownwood Lions tonight and not make anyone here mad. They might do that very thing, too.

Didja know that: Buzz Clarkson, the Negro infielder of the Dallas Eagles, serves as manager of the Santurce team in the Puerto Rican Winter League?

Ex-Big Springers Julio Delatorre, Potato and Camillo Pascual, Bob Fernandez, Raul Sanchez, Juan Izaguirre and Mike Fornieles will all be busy in the Cuban Winter League again this year?

Delatorre and Potato Pascual will perform for Havana, Fernandez for the Cienfuegos Elephants and the others for the Marianao Tigers.

When the University of Texas football team dropped that verdict to LSU recently, was the Longhorns' 138th loss in 50 seasons. Texas has won 536 games, played 23 ties.

Berman Corbell, an all-around athlete at Colorado City High School last year, is seeking a place on the Texas Western football team this fall.

AT COUNTRY CLUB Junior Tournament Set For October 25

The annual Junior Golf Tournament for children of members of the Big Spring Country Club is tentatively set for Sunday, Oct. 25.

The linksters can begin qualifying rounds Monday. They will have two weeks in which to play 72 holes.

From those scores, Pro C. A. DeWees will handicap the entries and place them in the flights he thinks they ought to be.

Both boys and girls can enter the tournament, as long as their parents are members of the club.

Interest in the meet has been growing every year and a reasonably large turnout of linksters is due to play.

McMurry Hosts ENM Saturday

ABILENE (Spl) — The McMurry Indians will field a strong running team against the aerial-minded Eastern New Mexico Greyhounds from Portales Saturday night at Indian Stadium.

It will be the Tribe's first home game in three starts. They outscored Sul Ross 13-7 in their season opener, and looked very much impressed last week in a crowd-pleasing 20-20 tie with the strong West Texas State Buffaloes of the Border Conference loop.

The Greyhounds, living up to their name, have been the fastest team in the New Mexico Collegiate Conference for the past three years. They will become a member of the Texas Conference next spring.

The Greyhound will be seeking their second victory in four starts. They dropped games to Southwestern Oklahoma and Panhandle A&M College before hitting the victory trail last week against Arizona State's Lumberjacks, 20-0.

McMurry will have a weight advantage in the line, averaging about 8 pounds per man heavier than the Greyhounds. The backfields are just about even in weight averages.

The Tribe will again be counting on Elroy Payne, big sophomore fullback from Ballinger, for heavy duty in its ground attack. Payne has accounted for 362 yards rushing and has scored two touchdowns in McMurry's first two games.

Also expected to gain some ground against the Greyhounds are Bill Atkins of Dallas and Bill Cantwell of Bowie, who alternate at the tailback slot. These three backs have each averaged about 7 yards per carry for the Indians so far this year.

Joe Bill Fox of Fort Worth will be the man-under in McMurry's Wing T formation. George Peel, freshman quarterback from Rotan, may also see action in the signal-calling role.

Grocery Concern Issuing Tickets LAMESA — A local grocery chain store is giving away 400 tickets for the Lamesa-Seminole football game here tonight with the purchase of $10 in groceries.

The Tornados have won one of two starts and will be favored to defeat Seminole handily.

Lamesa lost to Midland, then shed Thomas Jefferson of El Paso. Tonight's game opens the home season for the Lamesa club, who represented District I-AAA in bi-district play in 1952, after sharing the title with Vernon.

Bearcats Invade Blackwell Field GARDEN CITY — Garden City's Bearcats head for Blackwell today, where at 8 p.m. they launch their District 7 six-man football campaign.

The Kats, coached by Targe Lindsey, have defeated Flower Grove and Ackery in exhibition tests. In two games, Tommy Rich has scored nine touchdowns for Garden City.

Rice Fresh Booked HOUSTON — The Rice Institute freshmen opens its five-game football season here tonight against Allen Academy of Bryan.

Forsan Bisons Meet Water Valley At 8 This Evening FORSAN — The high-scoring Forsan Buffaloes, which suddenly has emerged as one of the hot favorites for the District Seven six-man football crown, host the Water Valley Wildcats in an 8 o'clock contest here tonight.

The Bisons open their conference race with the game. Forsan has scored 112 points in two games and the scoring has been general among Coach Frank Honeycutt's troops.

Water Valley has been unimpressive to date but could give the Buffs quite a tussle.

The Buffaloes surged past Knott, 45-6, after spotting the Hill Billies a touchdown, then walloped New Home, 67-0.

Veterans In Lions' Lineup

Erskine To Bear A Huge Burden

By GAYLE TALBOT
BROOKLYN—Unless Carl Erskine, the collar and man, can subdue a regular scorer against the Yankees today, it might very well be all over at an early hour tomorrow evening and the boys on their way home.

Erskine's pitching will have to be very good in his own Ebbets Field, for the man who opposes him on the hill—Vic Raschi—is an old hand at this game. Raschi, when he is rested and ready, is about as tough as they come. The job he did on the Dodgers in the second Series game a year ago still is fresh in memory.

The Yankees might not complete the four-game sweep. The odds against it would have been long before the playoff began. But when Mickey Vernon, the phenom from Oklahoma, poked the eighth inning home run deep into the shirt-sleeved crowd in left field to wrap up yesterday's second game, a few million witnesses on TV must have shared the thought that Brooklyn was through.

The National Leaguers had done their best. They had overcome a 1-0 Yankee lead and had hustled their tormentor, Ed Lopat, for a pair of scores in the fourth inning. Their pitcher, Elwin (Preacher) Roe, was working like a champion. And then, so easily that it didn't seem quite fair, the Yanks had knocked two into the crowd and the contest was over.

Having won the first two games, Casey Stengel's team holds an almost overwhelming advantage. Georgia is the favorite but here goes a flier on A&M; the Aggies in a close one.

Washington Place, victor over Morrison last week, draws the bye tomorrow but all players will probably be on hand to see how the others do it.

In addition to Washington Place and College Heights, West Ward and Park Hill achieved wins last week.

Top Contests Booked Today

By The Associated Press
 A battle between Ray of Corpus Christi and Port Arthur at Port Arthur and a scrap between Stephen F. Austin (Houston) and Miller at Corpus Christi feature the Texas schoolboy football program of more than 250 games Friday night.

These are unbeaten teams in Class AAAA and their games will narrow the favorites in South Texas districts.

Headlining the Class AAA division will be the step up of defending champion Breckenridge against Abilene, unbeaten, but once tied team of Class AAAA. They clash at Breckenridge.

Class AA features a tilt between Stamford, one of the highest rated teams, with Ballinger, also undefeated and untied. They play at Ballinger.

Wink, champion of Class A, also steps up but it's just routine for the mighty Wildcats. They've already whipped two Class AA teams and tied a third. Friday night they play Fort Stockton at Wink.

Arlington Heights of Fort Worth plunged out of the undefeated ranks in Class AAAA Thursday night as a smattering of games was played over the state. Sunset of Dallas toppled Arlington Heights 21-19 to remain among the unbeaten and untied.

Atlanta fell in Class AAA, taking a trimming from unbeaten Mt. Vernon.

Lyford remained undefeated and untied in Class A by downing Harington B. 26-6.

MIDWEST TEAMS IN BIG TESTS

By BOB HOOBING
NEW YORK—The Midwest, apparent stronghold of 1953 college football, faces a series of tough intersectional tests this weekend while the two top-rated teams, Notre Dame and Michigan State, tackle neighborhood opposition.

Ohio State, the nation's No. 6 team, travels to Berkeley for Saturday's nationally televised encounter with California's improving Bears. This is one of four Big Ten meetings with Pacific Coast conference representatives. In the others Indiana plays Southern California's seventh-ranked Trojans tonight, Iowa hosts Washington State and Illinois runs into Stanford.

Michigan's surprising Wolverines No. 4 power, flexes its single wing muscles against Tulane, one of the darkhorse powers of the Southeast. And two unknown quantities that looked impressive last week running over outclassed opponents—Army and Northwestern—meet head-on at Evanston, Ill.

Notre Dame, leading the field after its triumph over Oklahoma, clashes with Purdue in a Hoosier state match. The Fighting Irish are heavily favored to score their second victory of the season but the memory of the Boilermakers' smashing 28-14 upset in 1950 which stopped an Irish winning streak at 39 lingers in the background.

Michigan State, No. 2 in the country, pits its superior speed against Minnesota's deceptive attack led by All-America Paul Glief. Ohio State halfback Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy, won't be in top shape for California due to a shoulder injury but the well-balanced Buckeye unit will feature Johnny Horton's passing and a strong running attack. Pappy Wardorf is moving a fullback to guard to strengthen Cal's forward wall in anticipation of a rough battle.

Wisconsin has its traditional Badger State encounter with Marquette to round out major Midwest activity.

Elsewhere, Maryland's third ranked Terps begin their new Atlantic Coast Conference competition against Clemson with two non-loop victories already tucked away. UCLA, No. 5, meets Oregon in a Pacific Coast struggle while eighth-place Oklahoma invades Pittsburgh.

Baylor, after a week's layoff following its workmanlike exhibition against California, puts its ninth position on the line against Miami, Fla., in another contest tonight. Georgia Tech, the No. 10 team still unbeaten in 28 outings but tied by Florida last week, hosts Southern Methodist in the first game for the Mustangs.

Fordham opens its schedule at Detroit while Syracuse continues its Lambert Trophy defense, facing Boston University tonight.

Additional intersectional battles include Rice and Cornell, Boston College and Louisiana State, Georgia and Texas A & M, Wake Forest and Villanova, Harvard and Ohio and Mississippi State and North Texas State.

Fenn is casting a wary eye on Penn State in a series which stands 24 to 13 with 4 ties for the Quakers.

Hopeful SMU Ponies In Debut Saturday

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer
 Hopeful Southern Methodist makes its start under a new coach Saturday in the headliner of a bulging intersectional football schedule in the Southwest Conference.

The Methodists couldn't have picked a tougher one to open the season against—mighty Georgia Tech, which hasn't lost a game in so long you have to consult the record books to find out when it did.

The Methodists, with Chalmers Woodward at the helm, came to SMU from little McPherson College this spring—clash with the over-powering Yellow Jackets at Atlanta in one of the nation's major games.

Three other conference members will be playing outside foes. Baylor's widely-traveled Bears are in Miami, Fla., to play University of Miami in the Orange Bowl Friday night. Saturday afternoon, Rice journeys into the East for a whack at staid Cornell of the Ivy League. Saturday night Texas A&M tackles unbeaten Georgia in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas.

Of major importance to the conference family is the first game counting in the championship race Saturday afternoon. Texas Christian and Arkansas will be doing the honors at Fayetteville with the Horned Frogs, mild favorites to lick Arkansas and get away to a flying start.

Texas stays home to play University of Houston for the first time in history. This game will furnish a comparison of strength between Texas and Texas A&M. A&M last week was battered to a 14-14 draw by Houston.

Southern Methodist has the veterans and the desire to give Georgia Tech a tough afternoon. The Methodists start out, however, with a couple of fine backs—Don Miller and Roy Pace—on the shelf and they also will be playing under the T formation for the first time.

Georgia Tech hasn't lost a game in more than two years, although twice tied, and has the twin running terrors of the South in Leon Hardeman and Billy Texas. It appears too much to ask for SMU to upset the Jackets.

Veteran Rice is an easy favorite over Cornell, however, and Texas A&M is giving a good chance of licking Georgia. Baylor is a three-touchdown choice over Miami and Texas is expected to trim Houston but with some trouble.

All in all, the conference could win three of its four intersectional tests, which would give it a fine record for the season against outside foes. The league teams have won five out of seven thus far.

With a record of one victory and one tie out of three games selected on last week, this list of choices should do better.

Baylor-Miami at Miami — An easy vote for the fearsome four-some and that good old Baylor line.

Texas-University of Houston at Houston — Houston might give Texas a good scrap but not unless it has done more fruitful work on its pass defense than was evidenced last week against Texas A&M.

Rice-Cornell at Ithaca, N.Y. — It'll be a fine trip for Rice; the boys will enjoy the scenery and the Yankee twigs and they'll also win the football game.

Texas Christian-Arkansas at Fayetteville — An upset is probable here. Arkansas appears to have about as good a football team as TCU and will be playing at home, but the choice is TCU in a narrow squeak.

Southern Methodist-Georgia Tech at Atlanta—The SMU's should put up a better battle than they did last year but it doesn't look good enough—Georgia Tech by a touchdown.

Texas A&M-Georgia at Dallas—Georgia is the favorite but here goes a flier on A&M; the Aggies in a close one.

Washington Place, victor over Morrison last week, draws the bye tomorrow but all players will probably be on hand to see how the others do it.

In addition to Washington Place and College Heights, West Ward and Park Hill achieved wins last week.

Picture May Clear In Junior Tussle

It's still anybody's race in the City Ward School Football League, especially after the defending champion, Kate Morrison, was upset last weekend, but the picture may clear somewhat Saturday morning.

College Heights, which won its first game in two seasons last week, takes on Alport in the 8 o'clock game at Steer Stadium.

At 9 a.m., Central Ward has it out with Kate Morrison. At 10 a.m.,

EARL SANDE, 54, WILL RIDE AT BELMONT PARK

By ORLO ROBERTSON
NEW YORK—Earl Sande, turf idol of the Golden Twenties, has applied for a riding license and plans a comeback at the age of 54—probably during the current Belmont Park meeting.

It's been 21 years since the popular little "Handy Guy," winner of three Kentucky Derbies, hung up his tack for a brief night club singing career followed by several years as a successful trainer.

Thirty years ago he rode Zev to victory over Papyrus, British Derby winner, at Belmont Park. And the late Damon Runyon immortalized the great jockey in the now famous poem. Remember it? Maybe there'll be another, Ready and game, and true—Maybe we'll find his brother At driving them horses thru. Maybe—but, say, I doubt it.

Never his like again—Never a handy guy like Sande Booter' them babies in.

Green and white at the quarter—Say, I can see him now. Rating them as he orter, Working them up—and how, Green and white at the home stretch.

Who do you think will win? Who but a handy guy like Sande Kicking that baby in.

Who would have dreamt Sande would be trying to boot 'em in again, 23 years after he crowned to Gallant Fox as the Belair Stud three-year old swept the triple crown. He also won the Kentucky Derby with Zev in 1923 and Flying Ebony in 1925.

Eight years later he still was riding the crest of fame as a trainer.

'DOGS SEEK 4TH IN ROW

COAHOMA—Fred Salling's Coahoma Bulldogs journey to Bronte tonight, seeking their fourth victory of the 1953 schedule.

The Bulldogs, a mild surprise in West Texas grid circles have knocked off Class AA Slaton, Class B Grandfalls and Class A Stanton, in that order.

Coahoma had its toughest game last weekend, when it had to go all out to nip Stanton, 20-8. The game was played at Stanton.

Beaumont To Get Two Cub Hands

CHICAGO, Ill.—Outfielder Paul Schramka, 25, and pitcher Dick Verbeke, 27, who played with Des Moines of the Western League this year, will be on the roster of Beaumont of the Texas League next year. Both Beaumont and Des Moines are Chicago Cubs farm clubs. The Cubs announced yesterday the two players had been sold by Des Moines to Beaumont.

Tarleton Defeated By Aggie Freshmen

COLLEGE, STATION—All-state halfback Robert Keith of Breckenridge paced a Texas A&M freshman team to victory here last night over Tarleton State's Flows. 34-0.

Keith scored 22 points and gained 76 yards on 10 carries.

Yearlings Lose To Lamesans

In a game that was all offense, the Lamesas breezes defeated the Big Spring Junior High School Yearlings, 37-25, before a surprisingly large turnout of fans here Thursday night.

The Yearlings, still winless after three starts, scored their last touchdown in the final five seconds of play on a long pass.

Previously, the Lamesans had drubbed the locals by a score of 18-0.

Billy Johnson scored three touchdowns and Lee Underwood one for the Yearlings, all of which were either set up for scored on pass plays.

Johnson went one yard for the first tally and traveled 63 paces for the second. Underwood made the third on a play that covered 45 yards, at which time Johnson was on the throwing end.

Seconds before the final whistle sounded, Underwood flipped a pass to Johnson that carried half the distance of the field to a score.

Lamesa led, 18-0, at half time. Big Spring could not rally much in the way of a ground offensive. Only Merle Dean Harter, on a delayed kick, picked up appreciable ground.

North Texas Flies To Site Of Game

DALLAS, Ill.—North Texas State will leave Dallas by plane this afternoon on the first of two jaunts to meet tough opposition in Mississippi.

The Eagles destination is Scott Field in State College, where they'll meet the Mississippi State Maroons, eleventh ranking team in the nation on this week's poll.

Coach Odus Mitchell rates the Maroons as the toughest team NTS will face all year, followed by the Mississippi Rebels, whom the Eagles will play on a return trip to the Magnolia state Nov. 7.

Early-Day Peace Officers Recall Tough Spots In Taming The West

By FRANKLIN REYMONDS

The sheriff and his three deputies started through the back door with their saw men in that mob of almost 200 raise their guns and start shooting.

The sheriff dropped dead with a bullet hole through his head. One of the deputies went down shot through the body. Another deputy fell from a blow and members of the mob were slashing at him with knives and striking him with clubs and bricks.

But the fourth deputy was still on his feet with his sixshooter in his hand. The mob was falling back. The officer emptied his old Single Action 45 and then with his eyes on the mob he started punching out those empty shells, one by one, and with hands that didn't falter he started reloading, one cartridge at a time. Remaining members of the mob started closing in on him again, and so again and again he thumbed back that big hammer and dropped it, dropped it, dropped it on the primers of fresh cartridges.

When the smoke cleared away he was pretty much all by himself—except for the dead sheriff, two badly wounded deputies, and seven men he had shot down, two of whom were as dead right then as they'll be again.

A Good Story Deserves Good Coffee

Mrs. Oscar Martin, left, brewed the good coffee, and Dan W. Roberts, veteran New Mexico peace officer, second from the right, drew on his experiences for the good story. The others are, left to right, Franklin Reynolds, between Mrs. Martin and her father, Will H. Roberts, one of the two surviving members of the old Frontier Battalion of Texas Rangers; Dan Roberts from the Gallup country, and Oscar Martin, extreme right.

"I thought I'd never get that pistol loaded. While I was trying to get it done I could feel little bugs crawling all over the back of my neck. It was sure a funny feeling. I'll tell you," Daniel Webster Roberts, recalled a few days ago.

This 76-year-old veteran of many years of law enforcement, bears the name of one of the most famous Texas Ranger captains of all time—Captain Dan Roberts, and he may be so named, for the Ranger captain was his own uncle.

This Dan Roberts, has been in Big Spring visiting his brother, another veteran law officer, William Hays Roberts, at the home of the latter's daughter, Mrs. Oscar Martin at the Elm Courts on West Third Street.

"He's my kid brother," Will Roberts, who will observe his 92nd birthday anniversary Oct. 6, says proudly. And this older brother, let it be noted, is one of the two surviving members of the old Frontier Battalion of Texas Rangers, the other being Noah Armstrong of Coleman, who has already reached the age of 102 years.

The two brothers, according to Mr. and Mrs. Martin, have been having a mighty good time playing cards and talking over old times. The "Kid Brother" who served a couple of years as a deputy sheriff in Old Lincoln County, New Mexico, and who has since been either sheriff or chief deputy sheriff of McKinley County, at Gallup, for 30 years, and who was still later chief of police at Farmington, when the oil and gas boom hit there and the town really got tough, has some interesting experiences to relate.

He was born in Blanco County, Texas, July 26, 1877, and went to Lincoln County, in the Territorial days of 1898, where he stayed for five years working as a cowboy, a deputy sheriff and running a livery at Nogal, a little town northeast of Naga, north of Ruidoso and southeast of Carrizozo. The uncle for whom he was named had moved to Nogal where he had ranching and mining interests.

"I went broke trying to run a livery stable in Nogal," the younger Dan Roberts smiles, "and that's when I went up into the northwest part of the state, to Gallup in McKinley County."

Most of the Zuni Indian Reservation and a good part of the Navajo Indian Reservations are included in McKinley County where the altitude runs well above 6,000 feet.

The former sheriff at Gallup has nothing but a good word for the Navajos. "They're fine people," he says, "and someday they're going to be the richest Indians on earth. They're finding the best uranium ore in the world on their reservation."

He says the Navajo men are the finest specimens of any Indians, nearly all of them six feet tall, muscular and fine looking. Moreover, he says that while as an officer they caused him very little trouble. A good officer, he comments, can arrest a dozen or more of them at a time. "They'll just follow you to jail," he explains. Roberts says that the worst any of them ordinarily do is get drunk, but that once in a while one of the Navajos will kill another member of the tribe.

In New Mexico there is a limit of two two-year terms on county officers. An elected officer may serve his four years (two terms) then "lay out" one term of two years, and then again become a candidate for the same office. Roberts served several terms as the elected sheriff of McKinley County, but always during his two years of "lay out" he was retained in the office by whoever else was elected as chief deputy. He was also appointed to serve out two unexpired terms, one of them the term of M. R. Carmichael, the sheriff who was killed in the gunfight in which Roberts shot down the seven members of the mob.

He hates Communists, and well he may, because it was the early-day Communist influence, bridging the gap between the I.W.O. (Independent Workers Of The World) and today's Reds, that stirred up that mob with which he scrapped it out.

Gallup was the center of a large and active coal mining area. The Communists, or "Organizers" as they were then known, moved in and undertook the formation of a Communist union called the National Miners Union. They openly, and violently, advocated sabotage and the destruction of privately-owned property. One of them, imported from Mexico as an agitator, had been arrested.

On April 4, 1935, the prisoner, in custody of Sheriff Carmichael, Chief Deputy Roberts, and Deputies Hoy Bogges and Edison Wilson, was taken before a Justice of the Peace for an examining trial. The JP's office was about a block from the jail and the officers had been warned that the "Organizers" were getting a mob together to take the prisoner away from them.

The Justice delayed the prisoner and continued the case for three days to give the man a chance to get a lawyer. As the officers left the courtroom to return the prisoner to jail they started out the front door but the mob had formed there. They then sought to outwit the crowd by slipping out the back way into an alley. The mob anticipated this and ran around the building to intercept them.

Deputies Wilson and Bogges stepped out the door first. Wilson was immediately shot down and Bogges was just as quickly knocked to the ground. Sheriff Carmichael fell, dead before he hit the pavement. Roberts pulled that old sixshooter and went to work.

"What happened to the prisoner?" he was asked.

"The prisoner?" he laughed. "That sonuvagun got away and got back into Mexico. We never saw him again."

But Roberts did get a shot at the fugitive. He didn't hit him but the slug did strike and skid off a brick wall into the leg of the wife of one of the gang who had come along to encourage her man. Another one shot, if she is to be counted, too.

But of all the things he remembers about that fight, the most outstanding is his recollection of trying to reload that Colt .45 while members of the mob were still shooting at him, slashing at him with knives, throwing pieces of brick and wanting to close in on him, but hesitant to do so.

"A couple of days later," Roberts says, "a friend of mine came to me and gave me a new Smith & Wesson double action .44 Special. This friend told me my old gun was too slow and that I need a faster one. I reckon he was right at that. I wished I'd had it the day of that fight. With it I could dump all six empty shells out at once and I could load it faster. I've still got it and it's still a mighty good gun."

Roberts chuckled a few times and then went on: "But still I had it taken away from me once by some outlaws, but we got the four outlaws back, some of them whole and some of them in not such good shape, and I got my .44 back, too."

One cold winter night, and it does get cold on winter nights up there near the top of the West Slope of the Continental Divide—a Negro not very warmly dressed drifted his shivering way into the sheriff's office and asked if there was a warm place where he could sleep. Roberts had nothing to offer except a cell in the jail on the third floor of the Court House, and this man happily accepted. The sheriff put him in the elevator and up they went.

Now in the fall there were four particularly tough prisoners charged with murder and robbery. None of the quartet had yet reached his 20th birthday and not a single one of them weighed less than 160 pounds. Roberts had issued orders that these four men, regarded as dangerous, were to be confined in their cells at night and were not to be permitted to remain in the bullpen with the common drunks and chicken thieves. A deputy had forgotten to return them to their cells and since Roberts did not expect to find them where they were they quickly overpowered him, took his pistol and money, beat him up, and then tied him up with his head on the concrete floor and his feet about three feet off the floor and tied to cell bars.

While they were tying him up one of them suggested that they just kill him with his own gun.

"Just at this point," says Roberts, "the one who had my gun and wanted to shoot me was in front of me, and one of those who was tying me up was behind me. The fellow behind me kept the other one from shooting. I think he was afraid the bullet would go clear through me and into him."

The men then ran out of the jail and into the elevator. The sheriff's living quarters were on the same floor and his little seven-year-old daughter saw the men escaping. She knew something was wrong and ran to tell her mother. About that time the elevator reached the bottom where a deputy was sitting reading a book. Thinking it was the sheriff coming back down he didn't look up in time, so the prisoners tied him up, too, and took his gun and money on their way out of the Court House. In the meantime the position in which they had left the sheriff caused his pocket knife to slide down out of his pocket to where he could reach it and cut himself loose. Downstairs he released the deputy, they got some more guns and rushed outside. The outlaws had found a car the driver of which had left the engine running to keep it warm. They took this and away they went with the sheriff and deputy not far behind.

But the officers lost the trail in the Gallup area. Next the men showed up at Belen, escaped from there to Santa Rosa, and the following day were cornered by officers near Las Vegas, who shot two of the escapees and captured the other two, recovering Roberts' gun and most of his money. In their flight the men had stolen four automobiles. One of these they let run out of oil and burned it up. To replace it they stole one being serviced at a station. The old oil had been drained from it and no new oil put in. It lasted for about a dozen miles.

Dan Roberts says there has been a little rain in the Gallup and Farmington areas and that there the drought has even reached up there on top of the mountains. A late frost, he says, got the fruit this year, "but there's still plenty of oil and gas money floating around."

A man who has seen the excitement that has come the way of Dan Roberts probably finds it hard to settle down. He's looking forward to some fun this fall. Last year he got a 30-point buck and this year he plans to get another one.
