By MARVIN OLSEN
Daily News Staff Writer

Seven Santa Fe freight cars turned over in a 15-car derailment at White Deer shortly before 1 p.m. Wednesday. No persons were injured in the grinding pile-up.

The derailment occurred at 12:55 p.m. as a 105-car freight train passed through the White Deer freight yards at an estimated 55 miles-per-hour.

Santa Fe's Chief Dispatcher P. L. Beyers at Amarillo told the Daily News the derailment was caused by a "hot-box" and broken journal on the 68th car. A hot-box he described as "the overheating of the journal, which is part of the axle."

The 68th car and the 14 cars following jumped the tracks, with the first seven cars turning over and coming to rest in a pile of wreckage.

Troy Maness, an employee of the nearby Wheeler-Evans Elevator office, said he was sitting in the elevator office when the derailment occurred.

"I turned and saw a big cloud of dust out the office window," he was quoted as saying, "then I saw those cars headed toward the office."

"I began to make like Bobby Morrow and headed out the front door."

Santa Fe crews arrived at the scene later in the afternoon to begin the work of clearing the main trackage which was badly torn up in the derailment. The wreckage failed to throw Santa Fe off schedule, as "through trains" were switched onto other tracks at White Deer.

The Pampa railroad telegraph operator reported that the train, for the most part loaded with potash, was eastbound from Amarillo to Waynoka, Okla. The undamaged portion of the train — 90 boxcars and engines — passed through Pampa at 3:06, about one and one-half hours after the derailment.

Conductor of the ill-fated freight train was O. W. Garrison. His engineer was S. H. Chandler. Both men are from Amarillo.

No estimates of the total damage are as yet available from Santa Fe's office at Amario, but one official guessed that damages might exceed $75,000.

Rotary Views Film On Sub

Pampa Rotarians yesterday viewed a film titled "Episode of the Growler," the story of a second world war submarine. The film was introduced by Jack Miller, a Lt. Commander in the naval reserve, and was in recognition of Armed Service's Week.

Club president Don Cain announced that the annual inter-city meeting with the Berger Rotary club would be held this Tuesday, 7:30 p.m., at Frank Phillips College in Berger. Cain also stated there would be no regular meeting next Wednesday and that those who could not attend the evening event could pull their attendance card on Wednesday noon.

The club president also urged the members to attend the dedication of the Scout chapel at Camp Kiowa Sunday at 2 p.m. The chapel has been a joint project of the Rotary clubs in the Adobe Walls Council.

Armed Forces Day Breakfast Set Here

Officers of local units of the armed forces will be recognized at an Armed Forces Day breakfast Saturday, according to Warren Hasse, president of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce.

The breakfast is set for 7 a.m. in the Pampa Hotel dining room. Following an address by Rev. Richard Crews, chaplain of the local National Guard unit, an official flag raising will be held on the Post Office lawn.

The breakfast has been arranged by the Chamber's newly formed Military Affairs Committee. Commanders invited are Lawrence Hurdle, National Guard; Bill Cooper, Army Reserve; James R. Brown, Air Force Reserve and H. L. Gunter, Naval Reserve; P. A. Scoggins will represent the Marine Corps Reserve.

TWISTED TRAIN WRECKAGE

The early afternoon quiet at White Deer Wednesday was upset at 12:55 p.m. when 15 freight cars on an east-bound Santa Fe train jumped the tracks in the White Deer freight yards. Seven of the big cars turned over. Photo of the wreckage above was taken from a Cessna 170 single-engine plane shortly after the derailment. Pilot Morris Silver of Pampa flew at about 1,000 feet at 85 miles per hour when this and the accompanying photo were taken. At right lies the wreckage of five boxcars loaded with potash. At left lies a sixth boxcar along with two sets of wheels. Oil cars in the foreground were not present at the time of the derailment.

In lower foreground are five cars that turned over. The sixth overturned car is near the center of the photo, and the seventh is seen lying near the last car.

Blimp Falls; 17 Are Hurt

LAKEHURST, N.J. (UPI) — A U.S. Navy blimp plunged into a hangar roof while making an instrument landing during a dense fog early today at the naval air station here.

One officer was killed and all 17 other crewmembers aboard were injured.

The dead man was identified as Lt. (jg) David Malcolm Loyd, of Vega, Tex.

It took rescuers more than six hours to reach the body of the dead officer, trapped in the wreckage about 125 feet above ground. A second officer, also wedged in the wreckage, was pulled free several hours after the blimp crashed into the roof at 2:25 a.m.

Fuel leaking from the damaged blimp posed the danger of an explosion and fire. Fire trucks stood at the ready. However, by 8 a.m. the fire danger apparently had been eliminated.

The 343-foot balloon's helium-filled bag collapsed over the wreckage, hampering the efforts of rescuers and lending an eerie sight to the pre-dawn hours.

The blimp was returning from a 24-hour submarine patrol when it crashed into the hangar roof. Only moments before, the blimp had been advised to gain altitude and try a new landing approach.

Rescue Ladders
Fire extension ladders were used to remove the injured from the blimp's gondola, embedded in the hangar roof. Heavy metal cutting equipment was rushed to the scene to aid in the rescue operation.

One engine of the blimp penetrated the hangar roof. The gondola, which houses the crew, smashed a hole, 25 by 15 feet, in the roof.

The crash scene was only a short distance from where the German zeppelin Hindenburg ac-burst into flames May 6, 1937, and was destroyed with a loss of 36 lives. The Hindenburg, inflated with highly inflammable hydrogen, also was coming in for a landing when it crashed.

Some Descend Ladders
Lt. (jg) Lincoln A. Dexter, 23, of Wilbraham, Mass., was duty officer in the hangar, which houses a helicopter squadron.

"I was out sleeping in the radio room which is about 80 feet from where the ship went in," he said. "I woke up when I heard the blimp give full power with both engines. It got so close I hit the deck. Then I heard the crash."

Dexter said the first few men out of the crashed gondola were able to descend ladders to safety.

"They were only slightly in-

Herter To Offer Troop Cuts On Even Keel With Soviets

If Germany Is Liberated

By STEWART HENSLEY
United Press International

GENEVA (UPI)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter planned today to offer to match the Soviet Union in global troop cuts in return for swift liberation of all Germany, starting at once with Berlin.

Herter and the Western powers planned to challenge Russia to permit free elections in East and West Berlin as a test of how all German unification would go. Already dubbed the "Herter plan," the proposal is back by Britain, France and West Germany.

The Western foreign ministers led by Herter set a 2 1/2 year period for setting up German elections and establishing a provisional government that would be united and free.

They offered Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko three major concessions in return—big power troop cuts, guarantees against surprise attacks in Central Europe and a thinning of forces on both sides of the Iron Curtain. All three were demands previously made by Russia.

The Herter plan, first historic document sponsored by the secretary of state, was prepared for introduction at today's session of the big four East-West conference if no Soviet roadblock was thrown into the proceedings.

Advance Opposition
Gromyko, commenting Wednesday on advance leaks concerning the Western package, declared he would reject "intentions to muddle together various political problems into one tangle."

Gromyko said "such an approach would amount to a com-

Soil Engineer Sets Talk Here

O. F. Armstrong, planning engineer of the Texas State Soil Conservation Board, Temple, will speak on a Kiwanis Farm and Ranch Day program Friday, Jack Skelly, chairman of the Agriculture and Conservation Committee for the Pampa Kiwanis Club, made the announcement today.

Several special soil conservation awards will be made to local farmers. This phase of the program is under the direction of James Smathers of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service.

Local farmers and ranchers will be guests of the downtown Kiwanis Club at their noon meeting in the First Methodist Church Fellowship Hall.

West Wants Closed Talks

By K. C. THALER
United Press International

GENEVA (UPI)—The West moved today to determine once and for all Russia's sincerity by pressing for secret meetings that would cut off the Soviet propaganda flow from the four power talks here.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko has not yet committed himself on the Western proposal. But observers said acceptance of secrecy in the talks would indicate strongly Moscow wants genuine negotiations.

They said a rejection would be tantamount to admission that the Soviet government looks upon the meeting mainly as a propaganda forum.

The suggestion to negotiate behind closed doors came Wednesday from U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter. It was firmly endorsed by Britain and France.

The Western nations believe secret talks will allow serious negotiations and reduce any temptation to talk to the grandstands.

Closed-door negotiations would also free the conference from the possibility of unwarranted interference from East German "advisers" sitting in at Geneva.

The East German Communists, anxious to make their presence felt at the conference, may offer strong opposition to secret talks.

The West-Germans would have no objections since they are being informed by the Western Allies on every major move.

The opening policy statement made by Gromyko Wednesday gave the West slight encouragement.

In effect, the Soviet foreign minister conceded for the first time that the ministers must produce some results before a summit meeting is called.

Farmers Lease Land For 25c Collect $9 From Soil Bank

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Government investigators reported today that some New Mexico and Colorado farmers have leased state land for 25 cents an acre and then rented it to the federal soil bank program for $7 to $9.

The report by General Accounting Office (GAO) investigators was made to a House agricultural appropriations subcommittee.

The GAO agents said they found 12 cases in Curry County, N. M., where land leased from the state had been placed in the soil bank conservation reserve.

In one case, they said, "about 550 acres leased for 25 cents an acre was placed in the reserve at an annual rental rate of $9 an Agriculture department officials told the investigators the procedure is legal. They said that if a farmer holds a valid lease on state-owned land and if the land has actually been used for producing crops, it is eligible for conservation reserve contracts on the same basis as privately owned land.

Under the conservation reserve, the government pays farmers at a national average rental rate of $13.50 an acre to keep cropland idle under three-to-10 year contracts. The program is aimed at reducing production of surplus crops.

In addition to the rental payments, farmers entering the program can get federal checks to help cover the cost of putting grass or other conservation crops on the land.

In Colorado, the GAO investigators said, agriculture department records showed that 49 farm operators in 16 counties had 8,541 acres of state-owned land in the conservation reserve last April 1.

The land was rented from the state at rates ranging from 3 cents an acre for grazing land to $2.50 an acre for a relatively small number of tracts classed by state officials as agriculture land.

Conservation reserve rental payments on the Colorado state lands ranged from $1.94 to $12 an acre, averaging $7.77 an acre, the investigators found.

Dedication Of Chapel Is Set

A memorial chapel, built with John Justus, the late District Explorer donated by the Berger and estates of Guymon, Okla., and Pampa Rotary Clubs, will be dedicated Sunday afternoon at Boy Scout Camp Kiowa, Don Cain, president of the Adobe Walls Council, announced today.

Two members of the Council committee, Rey, William E. West and Rev. Richard Crews, both of Pampa, will dedicate the chapel.

The dedication ceremony, set for 2 p.m. Sunday, will be open to the public.

The chapel was erected in honor of those Scouters who were outstanding in youth work during their lifetimes and will stand as a memorial to Scout leaders who are still active.

The redwood chapel now honors Mr. Lee Johnson of Phillips, Mr.

Rep. McIlhany Will Speak To C-C Tomorrow

Grainger McIlhany, representative of the 8th Legislative District will report on the state of affairs in Austin to directors of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce Friday. Chamber committee chairmen as well as City and County Commissioners will meet with the directors to hear McIlhany's report.

Chamber President Warren Hasse has announced the luncheon meeting for noon Friday at Poole's Steak House. The meeting was originally scheduled for Monday noon. Governor Price Daniel, however, has called the Legislature back into session Monday.

A discussion on oil depletion legislation will be led by Griswold Rogers of the Pan American Petroleum Company.

With a membership luncheon set for May 25 in the P.J.M. Room, directors will consider continuing the monthly membership program through the summer. Membership luncheons have been held regularly for the past five months.

A report on finances and the recent membership round up will be made by Don Cain, Finance director; and a clean-up campaign report by Roy McMullen, Fire Prevention chairman. Woodrow Adcock will report on the work of his Aviation Committee.

U.S. Secrets May Have Been Stolen

By ROBERT J. SERLING
United Press International

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Army intelligence agents investigated today the possibility that military secrets were stolen from the briefcase of a defense specialist killed in a Capital Airlines crash near here Tuesday.

The victim was Charles W. Drannbauer of Kansas City, an employee of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. (AT&T), who was an expert in SAGE, a huge electronic system which aims of enemy attack and helps direct defenses.

A spokesman for AT&T in Kansas City was quoted as saying Drannbauer may have been carrying classified documents relating to SAGE. He was the supervisor of a group in charge of defense communications for the Eastern Defense Command.

Find Briefcase Empty

The Baltimore-News-Post said Drannbauer's briefcase was found in the wreckage but no documents were in it. The Defense Department refused to comment on the Army investigation.

Investigators for the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) uncovered evidence that the Capital plane, a jet-powered Viscount, "came apart in the air" during a violent thunderstorm.

All twenty-seven passengers and the crew of four perished. The plane was on a non-stop flight from New York City to Atlanta.

Drannbauer was en route from White Plains, N.Y., for conferences in Atlanta on defense communications problems.

After an incomplete study of the wreckage of the sleek turbo-prop airplane, the CAB and other sources reported a number of developments and pieces of evidence pointing toward the cause of the crash.

Wreckage Widely Scattered

For one thing, the wing of the plane was found some distance from the fuselage wreckage, indicating probable structural failure. Also, the wreckage was strewn over a two-mile path in a straight

Kim Novak Rocks 'Em

By ROBERT MUSEL
United Press International

CANNES, France (UPI) — Kim Novak stood in the Cannes Film Festival on its sunburned ear today with a demonstration of how Hollywood stars used to act in the days when everything was forgiven if they had beauty and some talent.

Since the big Chicago blonde filled both requirements she won a personal and professional success Wednesday night at the world premiere of her new Columbia film, "Middle of the Night," one of the two official American festival entries.

Miss Novak has been criticized for one thing and another since her arrival here Tuesday. But as any movie historian could have predicted, the complaints turned to cheers the moment she made her first public appearance Wednesday.

A clinging, revealing gown of white and sapphire jersey helped. The crowd outside the festival theater gasped and applauded as she stepped out of her car and Miss Novak with a smile of acknowledgment swept to her seat in the grand manner of her Hollywood predecessor, Jean Harlow.

And of a small band of international stars, Miss Novak alone produced the old-style star excitement.

— Ordered her chauffeur to outrun the press motorcade and disappointhundreds of autograph fans by going away to the villa of Prince Aly Khan instead of the suite prepared for her at the Carlton Hotel.

— Bluntly canceled all television and press interviews.

— Arranged a party tonight on Aly Khan's yacht for Cary Grant and others.

He was expected to follow that up with formal rejection when the western blueprint, already drawn up in full detail and printed in Russian, was laid before him.

It would be an embarrassing rejection because the provisions for troop cuts, European security and partial "disengagement" in Central Europe stemmed from demands made by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev when he proposed summit meetings in 1955.

If all went well the United States and Russia would cut back to 1,700,000 troops each by the end of the four stages of the Herter plan.

Here in detail is the plan as described in a document prepared for mass distribution around the world by the United States:

Details of Plan

On the political side, German unification is to be achieved by these steps:

1. The reunification of Berlin through free elections in both the western and Soviet sectors.
2. The creation of an all-German commission, to consist of 25 West German and 10 East German delegates nominated by their respective governments. The Commission is to take decisions by a three-quarter majority to increase technical contacts between West and East Germany, and to prepare an all-German electoral law.
3. All-German elections based on this law are to be held within 2½ years after the adoption of the whole of the Western package plan.

On the security side these four phases are:

1. A joint declaration by the Big Four powers that they will seek peaceful settlements of disputes.
2. An exchange of information by East and West on their military forces in a zone yet to be defined by negotiation. The U.S. and the U.S.S.R. also should reduce their armed forces to a global strength of 2,500,000 each. An inspection and control system to prevent surprise attacks is to be established.
3. A zone of comparable size, depth and importance on either side of a line yet to be defined is to be created. After the conclusion of the German peace treaty, foreign troops must be withdrawn from any Europe state at that state's request. The U.S. and U.S.S.R. are to reduce their armed forces to a global total of 1,700,000 each.
4. The government of reunited

Pampa Police Hold Berger Man

Pampa police are holding a young Berger man today for Berger probation officers after the man, Allan Ray Perryman, cashed a worthless $5 check at a Kingsmill service station Wednesday.

Perryman, who recently was placed on three years probation for passing worthless checks, was arrested at 2:30 p.m. while driving from Kingsmill to Pampa. Perryman, 21, passed the check at the Glover service station and garage in Kingsmill.

Cancer Unit To Elect Officers

The Gray County Unit of the American Cancer Society will hold its last board meeting of the 1958-1959 year at 8 p.m. Monday in Lovett Memorial Library.

The meeting is open to the public, according to Cameron Marsh, president.

The reports of all officers will be heard and new officers elected.

Frank Stockwell, field representative from Amarillo, will show a film, "Cancer, the Research Story."

Group Reports On Retarded Children

There are 30 handicapped children in Pampa who are not receiving any formal education, according to Mrs. O. M. Tigart, president of the Exceptional Child association. The directors are meeting on a survey completed by the local association.

Of 40 handicapped children in Pampa, only 10 are attending classes. The 30 children are in preschool, elementary and teenage groups.

A board of directors was approved at the last meeting of the association. The directors are: Henry Lane, curriculum coordinator of the Pampa Public School System; Dr. Doris Vendrell, Rev. David Mills, pastor of Lamar Christian Church; Mrs. Jack P. Foster, Mrs. R. A. Mack, Gladys Harkins and Gene Barber.

Mrs. Barber reported on an Exceptional Child Association convention that she attended in Lubbock. She discussed the "Problems of the Retardable in the Home and School."

She said that persons should work with family members as soon as a child's handicaps are diagnosed, since "harm and damage can be done before the parent has proper help."

She spoke of the emotional problems of parents whose children are retarded: "The parents start out with high hopes but turn bitter when 'barter with God' and finally 'gettle down to the problem.'"

"Every child has a right to fill his cup," she said, in reference to the 23rd Psalm, "and the parent must work with the school in order to fill all of it."

She said that parents and educators need a new standard of measurement for retarded children. "They may not be able to learn to read but they may become wonderful artists." She called for a total push by the homes, schools and churches of the community.

Joe Tooley, president of the Pampa Noon Lions Club, told of the Texas Lions' program for crippled children in Kerrville.

The group has taken the primary steps to set up an examining field center for children with speech handicaps this summer.

Kansas Man Is Fined $100 Here

A Liberal, Kan. businessman, Robert F. Mayer, 44, was fined $100 and costs in justice of peace court Wednesday on a charge of disturbing the peace.

Mayer was arrested Dec. 14, 1958 by Texas Highway Patrol officers on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He entered a plea of not guilty and was released on payment of bond. Wednesday in justice court Mayer pled guilty to the reduced charge of disturbing the peace.

To Be Fraulein Hostess With Mostest Try This Cook's Cruise To Germany

Those healthy complexions and sparkling eyes of the Germans didn't arrive by accident...

- spinach 2 strips bacon, cut into bits 1/4 cup onion, diced fine...

- 1 cup commercial sour cream Drain raw sauerkraut and squeeze with hands to remove as much juice as possible...

- VEAL STEAK WITH ONIONS 4 tablespoons butter 4 large onions, sliced thin 1 tablespoon paprika...

- SAUERKRAUT RELISH 1 lb. raw sauerkraut 3 cloves garlic, diced and crushed 2 tablespoons caraway seeds

- RHINELAND BUTTER CAKE 1/2 lb. butter, softened 1/2 cup granulated sugar 1 egg 2 1/4 cups flour, sifted...

New Recipe Is Important To Menu As Perky New Hat Is To Spring Wardrobe

Spring is the season when a new recipe is as important to menu planning as a perky new hat is to the wardrobe.

er, insert wooden picks perpendicularly through the outside edges of the two steaks and weave a string in a crisscross manner around the steaks between the picks.

- STUFFED VEAL STEAKS WITH HERB GRAVY Yield: 8 servings 2 veal round steaks, (2 or 3 pounds) cut 1/4 inch thick...

To make herb gravy, combine the meat drippings left in the skillet and the remaining consommé with enough water to make 1 1/2 cups of liquid.

To Be Fraulein Hostess With Mostest Good Things Come In Little Packages

Dinner party, sit-down supper, buffet — when your entertainment plans include any of these, appetizers of some sort very likely head your menu.

- SAUCY SUSANS 1/2 cup whole bran cereal 1/4 cup tomato juice 1 1/2 cups sifted flour...

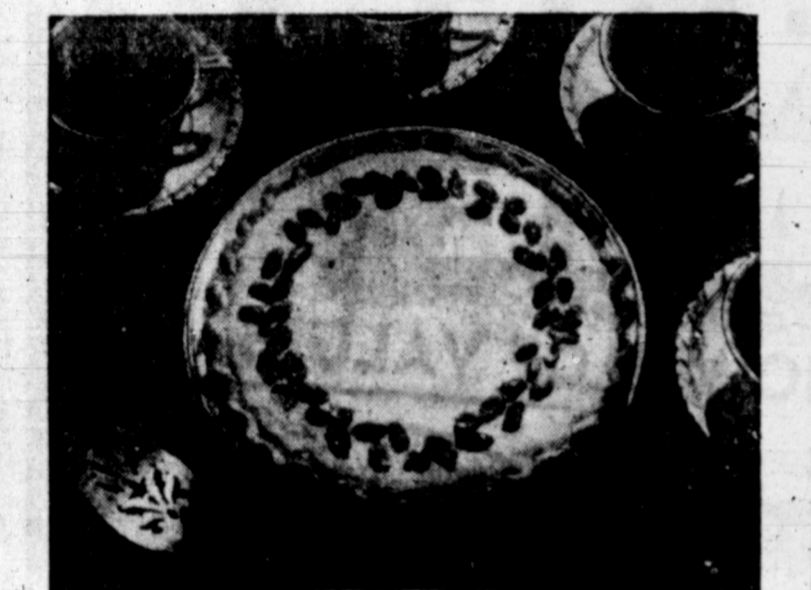

Combine whole bran cereal and tomato juice; let stand until most of moisture is taken up...

Hearty Dish For Gourmet

Hamburger Stroganoff is as rich and flavorful and as hearty a supper dish as ever tempted the gourmet.

- HAMBURGER STROGANOFF 1/2 cup butter 1/2 cup chopped onion 1 pound ground beef...

Beat cheese until slightly softened. Shape cheese into small balls, using about 1 teaspoon cheese for each.

TRINK COCA-COLA That's how the Germans say it. "Trink Coca-Cola." And they do drink it.

Lefors Girl Named Cheerleader At West Texas State

LEFORS (Sp) — Miss Janis Dunham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Dunham of Lefors, has recently been chosen one of the cheerleaders of West Texas State College for the 1959-60 season.

As a result she will be sent to Dallas, expenses paid, for a week of cheerleader training this summer and also receive her cheerleader uniform.

A freshman at WTSC, Miss Dunham was also recently elected president of the Mary Hudspeth Honor Society, a freshmen-sophomore organization which requires a place on the Dean's Honor Roll or in the upper five percent scholastically.

Miss Dunham is also a member of the Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority, and has been nominated for the best actress award in one act plays, and best supporting actress in three act plays.

FINDS NEW PROBLEM
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell came in from the beach to address the International Ladies Garment Workers Convention Tuesday, and he told the union delegates he'd found a new problem.

"I wondered where you are going to put the union label on the bathing suit," Mitchell said. "There doesn't seem to be much room left."

SNEAKING A PEEK ...
RENO, Nev. (UPI) — A major course at Stead Air Force Base's survival training school is "sneaking and peeking" — or how to move through enemy territory without being caught.

Four of the school's instructors were caught at it before dawn Tuesday, in the hall of a women's dormitory at the University of Nevada.

BEHIND THE TIMES
MIAMI (UPI) — Franklin S. Sampson told the Florida highway patrol Tuesday that his driving license is not out of date, even though it does show an expiration date of April, 1967. It's a Saudi Arabia license, dated by the Moslem calendar.

State Department Reported To Have Unusual Expenses

The Lighter Side
By FRANK ELEAZER
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sometimes when you don't know what we get for the money, all this government spending can make you feel sort of bad.

But when you take the trouble to look into it and find out where some of it goes, you feel terrible.

Today's spending report is courtesy of a House Appropriations subcommittee which has just completed its annual study of the world-wide activities of our State Department.

Subcommittee Chairman John Rooney (D-N.Y.) is among the first to concede we can't get along without the State Department. He even thinks it does a reasonable job. He does wonder, however, about certain items.

We are spending this year $200,000,000, plus $20,000 for million dollars to teach foreign languages to the people we are sending abroad. Congress agrees this is great. However, Rooney did think it was odd they assigned William I. Givens to Tokyo, just after teaching him French. Walter G. Walcavich learned Russian. Then they sent him to Frankfurt, Germany, at a cost of $7,772.76.

For our consuls we like to provide reasonable houses. In Munich, a reasonable home is $122,283. In Dakar, we will spend $200,000, plus $20,000 for million dollars to teach foreign languages to the people we are sending abroad. Congress agrees this is great. However, Rooney did think it was odd they assigned William I. Givens to Tokyo, just after teaching him French. Walter G. Walcavich learned Russian. Then they sent him to Frankfurt, Germany, at a cost of $7,772.76.

Our new machine for processing passports, contrary to what Rooney had heard, has been pronounced a success. It seems it just after teaching him French. Walter G. Walcavich learned Russian. Then they sent him to Frankfurt, Germany, at a cost of $7,772.76.

It turned out though the studied German, at a cost of money hasn't been spent. The de-

Anyway, the department says only about a fourth of this really goes to buy drinks. The rest is for food. Yes, Rooney said, like $16.40 for the lunch which one of our men in Beirut recently bought for another of our men in Beirut plus a local newspaper fellow.

Five of our consular posts are being raised to new rank. Our people there used to ride in Fords, Chevies and Plymouths, which cost us, delivered, $1,100. With their new status, our diplomats want Buicks, Mercurys, and Oldsmobiles. Even so, that could be a bargain. They could have asked for Cadillac, like some of our consular leaders. For these, we pay $11,000.

Thespian Troupe Appoints Officers For New Season

The Pampa High School Thespian Troupe has appointed officers for the 1959-1960 season. Miss Hel-Phyllis Parker, Doug Redmon, John Schaefer, Thespian sponsor, reported today. David Balch succeeds Barbara Lunsford as president of Troupe 1010.

Sue Foster is the new vice president, Marquette Cargill, secretary, and Eugene Weinheimer, treasurer. Robert Hamilton will take over next year as sponsor.

In a recent initiation, the Thespian Troupe acquired six new members to bring the total membership to 35. The initiates, Stanley Butler, Phyllis Parker, Doug Redmon, John Schaefer, Mary Sturgeon and Jere Teed, had to recite 20 lines of Shakespeare before they could become members.

Balch, the new president, played a minister in the junior class play, "One Foot in Heaven," this year. He was named the best one-year Thespian at an awards assembly this week.

Miss Lunsford, the outgoing president, received the best three-year Thespian award. She portrayed Mrs. Antrobus in Miss Schaefer's production of "The Skin of Our Teeth," and the wicked step-mother in Hamilton's Children's Theatre show, "Cinderella." Hamilton also directed the junior play.

CARDINAL TO VISIT

BONN, Germany (UPI) — Thomas Cardinal Tien, exiled Roman Catholic primate of China who was injured in a highway accident nine months ago, will fly to the United States at the end of June, it was announced Tuesday night. The 69-year-old prelate, who came to Germany to stimulate interest in the plight of Catholicism in Communist China, has been hospitalized in nearby Sieburg since the accident here last August.

Eddie, Liz Weary But Feeling Good

NEW YORK (UPI)—Newlyweds Eddie Fisher and Elizabeth Taylor arrived here today, "weary" but feeling "wonderful" after a wedding night on a jet airliner from Los Angeles.

Fisher said they sat up all night in the plane, sitting in the lounge for most of the 5 hour and 10-minute trip, talking to a friend, one photographer said, "Come on, Eddie, assert yourself!"

Saving Their Kisses

"Assert myself?" Fisher said. "Assert myself? So soon?"

Miss Taylor said they were saving their kisses "for ourselves."

The couple plan to spend three or four months in Europe, of which only "about 10 days" will be honeymoon. Miss Taylor is scheduled to begin rehearsals for a new movie in London and Fisher said he would do some TV spectacles abroad.

Married in a 15-minute, age-old Jewish ceremony at Las Vegas, Nev., three hours after Fisher shed Debbie Reynolds "for secret reasons" in a 12-minute divorce, the young couple flew to Los Angeles and boarded the plane for New York.

Only 14 months previously Miss Taylor, 27, and Fisher, 30, boarded another plane at the same airport, but that occasion was overcast by brief—they were going to Chicago for the funeral of Mike Todd, Miss Taylor's third husband.

Their sundown wedding in Las Vegas at the Beth Shalom Jewish Temple was almost delayed by a crowd of some 100 spectators, many of them children, who besieged Miss Taylor when she arrived.

Two policemen shooed aside part of the crowd so she could enter the modernistic temple, so new that it has not yet been landscaped.

Fisher and Miss Taylor exchanged gold rings, intoning the ancient ritual:

"Behold, thou art consecrated unto me by means of this ring, according to the laws of Moses and Israel."

They stood beneath the chuppah, embroidered and flower-garlanded canopy, to sip marriage wine and receive the seven blessings of the Jewish faith.

Fisher then broke the wine glass and the couple signed the keesubah or marriage contract.

Carries Prayer Book

About 30 relatives and close friends attended, with all the male guests wearing the traditional yamulka or skull cap. Miss Taylor had a swatch of fine material over her head.

She was dressed in a cocktail-length moss-green dress created for her by Hollywood designer Jean Louis. She carried a white prayer book and a bouquet of white lilies of the valley and green orchids.

Fisher charged Miss Reynolds with mental cruelty, the same grounds she used for divorcing him in February in Los Angeles. The Nevada divorce was necessary because the California decree does not become final until next February.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

The signing of a contract of sale is an extremely important step in the purchase of a home. Once buyer and seller have signed, they are bound by the provisions of the contract. Their respective legal rights in the transaction are there by set and determined. If the contract is poorly and haphazardly drawn, a harvest of regret may be reaped at a later date.

Sales contracts are often called by other names, such as earnest money contracts, binders, receipts, etc. All of them are for the same purpose and almost without exception involve the deposit of money by the buyer. Some require the seller to put up a good-faith deposit. The fact that such deposited sums are usually to be forfeited in event the depositor later fails to go through with his specified contractual obligations lends additional weight to the often stated admonition that no contract should be signed without complete understanding as to its terms.

But many home purchasers (and sellers) rush to sign a hastily prepared contract with very little knowledge of its contents. The pressure of time, the informality of the occasion, the casual appearance of the contract, and perhaps the fact that a partially printed form is used may contribute in causing the true importance of the act to be overlooked. At any rate, many are lulled into a "lapse of good business judgment."

Every significant detail of the bargain should be crystallized in unmistakable terms in the contract of sale. Land and fixtures being sold should be clearly described. A complete description of the property by lot and block, or by metes and bounds, is a must, the street number being inadequate by itself.

Articles and fixtures included in the sale but not always sold with houses generally should be specifically listed. Included in this category are such items as venetian blinds, removable floor coverings, draperies, air conditioning units and others. In purchasing property under construction, complete plans and specifications form an essential part of the agreement.

The price to be paid must, of course, be specified, along with method and terms of payment. If a certain sized loan is a prerequisite to the buyer's ability to complete the purchase, this fact should be noted. Sad indeed is the prospective purchaser who loses his earnest money when a contemplated loan transaction falls through, his contract requiring payment of the entire consideration in cash.

The sales contract should also state the quality of the title to be conveyed to the buyer and the type of title evidence to be furnished.

The buyer's individual circumstances and desires may require that various matters not mentioned above be provided for in the contract. All too often people try to squeeze a sales contract to fit the type of printed form on hand, omitting or leaving to easily misconstrued or forgotten oral agreement many vital provisions. Do not fall into the "pitfall of the printed form." Too many unfortunate entanglements have been announced by clients to lawyers with the words, "I have just signed a receipt for a house on Blunk Street. Will you take over—now and see that everything is O.K.?"

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Rory Calhoun Finally Finds His Audience

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Rory Calhoun, who jumped from movies to TV last year in "The Texan," has no regrets. He's found an audience at last.

"I wanted to move into television five years ago," Calhoun says, "but studio contracts kept me from making the change. There were millions of people who wouldn't go to see one of my pictures for free."

"But the same folks will stay at home to watch my TV show. His Audience Doubles."

"Every Monday night there are 30 million viewers in front of their sets, and 43 per cent of them are tuned to 'The Texan.' That's more people than ever went to see all of my 60 movies combined."

"Come to think of it, I only made two good pictures, 'With a Song in My Heart' and 'How to Marry a Millionaire.' The rest were terrible."

Many a movie star refuses TV offers for fear of killing themselves off in pictures. But Calhoun thinks differently.

"I don't know about the others, but I've had several offers for good roles in movies in the past year," he said. "Better pictures than I was making before I started the series. I turned them down because of time limitations."

Will Portray Fighter

"There's a possibility an actor can become too closely associated with his TV role. On the other hand you might build up a better following. There is no way to tell until you see the box office receipts."

Rory cranks up another series of 39 "Texans" in July. Until then he will loaf and appear in a pair of Desilu Playhouse programs.

"One of them is about a prize fighter," he grinned. "I won't have any Doubles doing the fight scenes. When you've been in as many reform schools as I have you learn to handle your dukes."

"When I'm through with those commitments I'm going to take a two-month vacation, my first in 14 years. I think I've got it coming."

Business Views

United Press International

The steel inventory buildup in the face of a threatened strike July 1 is not progressing as rapidly as hoped even though shipments will exceed consumption by more than one million tons this month, according to Steel Magazine. The weekly said that if the United Steelworkers strike, there will be more than a few consumers seriously threatened. If the walkout lasts more than three or four weeks some manufacturers may be forced to shut down.

Buyers for industry reported a "dramatic" pickup in production this month but continued uncertainty about a midsummer let-down as a result of strike-hedge ordering. The National Association of Purchasing Agents said 56 per cent of its members expect higher production this month and 53 per cent say new orders have increased.

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) urged Congress to make all transportation unions subject to antitrust regulation. The head of the rackets-probing special Senate Investigating Committee, said he had instructed the panel staff to draw up legislation of this kind. It would be directed primarily against the teamsters union and the two dock workers union.

FESTIVE is the name for this bride's cake. It's just as tasty as it looks and is ideal for the small home wedding reception.

Homemade Wedding Cake Is Both Beautiful And Festive

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

For a small "at home" wedding, a glamorous homemade cake is proper and can be a work of both art and affection.

FESTIVE HOME WEDDING CAKE

Four cups sifted cake flour, 5 teaspoons double acting baking powder, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 6 egg whites, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 cup butter or shortening, 2 cups sugar, 1 1/2 cups milk, 2 teaspoons vanilla, wedding cake frosting and filling.

To make the cake: Measure sifted flour, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Beat egg whites until foamy, add 1/2 cup sugar gradually, and continue beating until meringue will hold up in soft peaks. Set aside Cream meringue, add 2 cups sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add flour mixture alternately with the milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Blend in vanilla. Then add meringue to cake batter and beat thoroughly into batter. Pour batter into two 9x2-inch square pans which have been lined on bottoms with paper. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 45 to 50 minutes.

To frost the cake: Cut each layer horizontally to make four layers in all. Prepare wedding cake frosting and filling. Place one layer on cardboard underliner which has been wrapped in waxed paper. Spread with one-third of the filling. Repeat with two other layers and rest of filling, topping with last layer. Swirl frosting attractively over top and sides of cake. Place cake on large tray and decorate with fresh flowers, as desired.

WEDDING CAKE FROSTING AND FILLING

Three egg whites, unbeaten; 2 1/2 cups sugar; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1/2 cup water; 1 tablespoon light corn syrup; 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind; 1 1/2 cups finely chopped fruits and nuts. (Suggested fruits and nuts are 1/2 cup each finely chopped dates, white raisins, maraschino cherries, citron and almonds.) Combine egg whites, sugar, salt, water and corn syrup in top over a 2-quart double boiler. Beat about 1 minute, or until thoroughly mixed. Then place over boiling water and beat constantly with a sturdy egg beater (or at high speed of electric beater) 7 minutes, or until frosting will stand in stiff peaks. (Stir frosting up from bottom and sides of pan occasionally with rubber scraper, spatula or spoon.) Remove from boiling water. (For a smooth and satiny frosting, pour at once into a large bowl for final beating.) Add rind and beat 1 minute, or until thick enough to spread. Fold fruits and nuts into about half of the frosting and use for a filling. Makes about 3 1/2 cups filling and 3 1/2 cups frosting.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Fried ham steak, mustard cream gravy, noodles, green beans with onions, rye bread, butter or margarine, apple and cabbage salad, coffee cake with maple sugar icing, coffee, tea, milk.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Before leaving the house Steve was told to be home at 5:30. He disobeyed. He and a pal got the idea of affixing a crate to the wheels of an old express wagon. The front wheels fitted but the back ones didn't. Steve ignored the time to stick with the job until he'd completed it. When he finally got home he told his angry father why he was late — and was punished by being forbidden to play with anyone for three days. Yet his disobedience contained two highly desirable character qualities, initiative and perseverance.

What was it, then, that made his disobedience unbecomable? It was what always makes disobedience offensive: disinterest in his effects on other people.

I wish that this has been made clear to him. Disobedience often contains initiative and perseverance. When we punish children for it, they often get the impression we don't like these qualities.

Since we don't want to give them this impression, it's important for us to know exactly what it is we resent in their disobedience. Then we can say to Steve, "We think it's fine to remake an express wagon and stick to the job until it's done. What we don't like in your disobedience is the way you ignored its effect on us."

"You delayed our dinner. You made it a very unpleasant one by causing us worry over your safety. This we didn't like one bit." Criminals are very enterprising, persevering people. They show remarkable initiative in thinking up ways to abscond with bank funds and wring coins from parking meters.

They show wonderful perseverance in executing their ideas. But they destroy the value of these fine qualities by their disinterest in other people. It is their selfishness that makes their initiative and perseverance useless.

It is this same behavior in children that we resent. And should make this clear to them.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 17 years old and have been going steady with this particular boy for over a year. This summer my steady and his aunt and uncle are planning a trip to Mexico. They invited me to go along. His aunt, who is about 30, has agreed to chaperone us on this trip. When I asked my mother if I could go, she flatly refused me. When I asked her for a reason, she said the answer was NO and she didn't want to talk any more about it! Now I feel like she doesn't trust me. Do you see anything wrong with going on this trip with my boyfriend and an adult chaperone?

NOT TRUSTED
DEAR NOT: I agree with your mother, but she should have given you the reasons for her answer. Of course she trusts you, but she doesn't want you complicating your young life with unnecessary temptations. Even steel melts when subjected to enough heat.

DEAR NOT: Will you do a couple of thousand homesick guys a great big favor? Ask the people back home to write to us soldier boys stuck out here in Korea. Honestly, Abby, most of the guys are kids 18 and 19 years old who have never been away from home before, and you should see the tears in their eyes when day after day they get nothing at mail call. Tell your readers if they have a friend or relative or neighbor who has somebody serving overseas to please call up his parents and get his address and write to him. Home-sickness is the worst sickness in the world, and being forgotten on top of it is enough to kill a guy.

P. F. C. FRANKIE F. (TAEJON, KOREA)
DEAR ABBY: — live in a sorority house. It is located in back of a fraternity annex which gives the boys a view of our bedrooms. Realizing this, the boys have invested in more binoculars than a field division in Germany. My problem is my roommate. She doesn't care whether the blinds are closed or open. I close the blinds right after dinner and she opens them, saying she likes fresh air. I remind her that the boys can see and she says, "What's the difference?" Please give me a solution, Abby. At first it was funny, but now it's a problem.

WELL-KNOWN
DEAR WELL: What's the difference? If she doesn't know the difference, maybe she should get HERSELF a pair of binoculars. If you can't convince your fresh-air friend that modesty is the best policy — talk to your house mother.

NO SECURITY
DEAR NO: You have let this very important matter go far too long. Bring it up immediately and insist on the protection that a wife and her children are entitled to.

Scouts Honor Mothers At Tea

McLEAN (Sp) — Girl Scout Troop 101 members honored their mothers at a tea given Friday in the home of Mrs. David Fultz, troop leader.

Corsages of red and pink carnations, fashioned from Kleenex by the scouts were presented to the honored guests upon their arrival. Refreshments of cream cheese cookies and punch were made and served by the hostess scouts. During the business meeting plans were made to attend Intermediate Girl Scout Camp at Camp Mel Davis during the week of June 8.

Leaders for the ensuing year were appointed as follows: Mmes. Howard-Smith, leader; Reed Grogan, assistant leader; Bob Willoughby, telephone; Wayne Wilson, transportation; Ewing Smith, refreshments; and Hoyt West, finance.

Attending, in addition to those mentioned above, were Mmes. James Barker and Janie, Judy Smith, Joyce West, Brenda Smith, Carolyn Willoughby, Lana Grogan, Mrs. Dorothy Bnech and Phyllis, Mrs. John Anders and Jeannie, Kay Wilson, Mrs. Miro Pakan and

Sonny Myers, Art Nelson Rematch Set For Saturday

It will be the same song, second verse, Saturday night at Top of Texas Sportsman Club, when Sonny Myers and Art Nelson tangle in a rematch of last week's main event.

Myers lost an unpopular decision last week when he was disqualified for staying out of the ring too long. Myers and Nelson were wrestling on the ring apron, and referee Juan Humberto was making the "count-down" on both when Nelson suddenly jumped back into the ring in the nick of time, while Myers was counted out.

The fans were highly displeased about the decision, so wrestling commissioner Doc Miller, promoting the matches in the absence of Bob Geigel, promised a new referee for this week's match.

Nelson is one of wrestling's dirtiest fighters, and "survival of the fittest" is his only code of ring conduct. He has shown a tremendous capacity for taking punishment. He was laid up for only a few days recently in Memphis when an irate fan stabbed him in the ribs with a knife.

Nelson has held several titles including world's champion recently in Amarillo, when he carried title-holder Pat O'Connor to three falls. O'Connor won only Myers wouldn't take advantage of some illegal act by Bill Longson, who came into the ring and applied a hold on the champ.

In the semi-final Saturday, Indian princess Tomah Tomah will wrestle Arizona Belle, in a match of women wrestlers. Tomah teamed with Bob Geigel a couple of weeks ago to beat Kathy Starr and Nick Roberts in a tag team match. The fans almost rioted when Roberts threw the Indian girl to the canvas after the match was over.

Two bad hombres, Gory Guerrero and Taro Myaki, tangle in the opener. Myaki is the infamous "Japanese badman" of the ring, and Guerrero is not exactly known as a clean, scientific type-wrestler.

Advance tickets for Saturday's matches are on sale at Levine's Department Store. Ringside seats are $1.50, reserved seats $1.25, and general admission $1.00.

Myers, a more clean-cut, but still plenty rugged, type of wrestler, narrowly missed becoming world champion recently in Amarillo, when he carried title-holder Pat O'Connor to three falls. O'Connor won only Myers wouldn't take advantage of some illegal act by Bill Longson, who came into the ring and applied a hold on the champ.

Red Griggs the pipeline

Wednesday afternoon, on Harvester Park's practice gridiron, a line of 11 white-shirted Pampa football players tried to tackle several of the biggest and meanest backs Babe Curfman could send their way.

One of these players taking part in tackling practice was a little ninth grader named Ronnie Ingle, who couldn't have weighed over 105 pounds soaking wet. The first back to come his way was a hefty lad of at least 180 or 190 pounds — one you'd think Ingle shouldn't have been on the same field with.

But Ingle drove in low and hard, hit the big man about the knees, and wrestled him to the ground in jig time. Ingle handled the next three backs who came his way in the same fashion.

Ingle's spirit and determination is typical of that shown by the entire Harvester squad during spring grid practice, which is in its 10th day.

New Gridders Doing Well

Many of the ninth graders (next year's Shockers) and sophomores are making last year's varsity players hustle to keep up with them. James Webb, a tackle on last year's Lee Rebel squad, spent enough time in the varsity backfield Wednesday to almost qualify as their "12th man."

Steve Dobbins and Jimmy Storm, two Shocker backs of last year, did a great job as defensive cornermen against the varsity. Head Coach Babe Curfman said Wednesday that he is well satisfied with the progress so far. "The boys are in great condition to have been working out just nine days," said the Babe, "and they're really looking good."

Curfman said that there will be a scrimmage Friday afternoon between the spring training gridders and the graduating seniors. These same two squads will meet next Thursday night, May 21, in the "senior-exes" game which will climax spring training.

The Harvesters have been concentrating heavily on defense this week. When on offense, the gridders have been running basic line plays, through the middle and off the tackles. At the same time the offensive team was learning the defensive squads had some practice in stopping them.

The springtime gridders have been sticking almost exclusively to the ground so far. Curfman said that he probably would not have his backs throwing until Friday, or possibly not until early next week.

Texas Has Boxing Contender

When Roy Harris was kayoed by Floyd Patterson last year, it looked as if Texas had lost its last chance of having a boxing champion.

But now Texas has a new contender, in the person of Joey Giambra, who fights Ralph (Tiger) Jones in Dallas Monday night, may get a shot at the winner of the forthcoming Robbinson-Basilio fight if he beats Jones.

Giambra is a newcomer to Texas, as he's been in Dallas only a few months. But already he considers himself a Texas citizen. "People in Texas are wonderful," he says, "they make you feel they're really behind you. People in my old home town (Buffalo, N.Y.) never got behind me like this."

The Phillips 66 Oilers, perennial champions among American amateur basketball teams until the past season, may be on the way back up the ladder.

The Oilers have corralled two of the top college cagers in the nation — Tom Robitaille of Rice and H. E. Kirchner of TCU. Kirchner, 6-9, and Robitaille, 6-8, could provide the height the Oilers sorely need.

Both Robitaille and Kirchner were All-Southwest Conference cagers for the 1958-59 season.

Alice Norris of White Deer, a North Texas State College student, has qualified for the national fencing tournament. Two other members of the North Texas fencing team, Marjorie DeLeon of Austin and John Turner of San Antonio, also qualified for the national meet.

Cubs Sign Porterfield

CHICAGO (UPI) — Pitcher Bob Porterfield has been signed by the Chicago Cubs as a free agent. Pitcher Joe Schaffernoth was placed on the disabled list to make room for Porterfield, who was released by Pittsburgh last week.

Porterfield, who was released by Pittsburgh last week, was a member of the Philadelphia Phillies last season. He was released by Pittsburgh last week.

Little League Meetings Set

All Little League and Pony League players and managers, and anyone who wants to manage a farm team, are requested to meet at Pampa Optimist Boys Club Friday at 6 p.m.

At this time, boys will be assigned to regular league teams or to a farm team nearest their school or home. All players are asked to bring their fathers with them to this meeting if possible.

All managers and assistants are also asked to meet at the ball parks both today and Friday, at 6 p.m. for work committee, and all day Saturday and Sunday afternoon, if possible. Work must be completed on the two ball parks, as no games will be played until the fields are in playing condition.

Little and Pony League games are tentatively scheduled to start on Tuesday, May 19. If all work on the parks is completed by that time, the farm leagues will start play approximately June 1.

Chevy pickup pulls through "bottomless" pastures to keep stock fed!

At the Hall Bros. Dairy Farm, Montgomery, Ala., they say this 4-wheel drive Chevy will go anywhere to keep stock fed—even through hub-deep muck that makes it a fight all the way. And yet after a full year of it—no mechanical trouble of any kind!

That Chevy pickup may not win any beauty awards (till it's cleaned up). But it's sure walking off with the top prize for dependability. And that's standard Chevrolet procedure. Put a Chevy truck to work and it keeps on working until you say quit. Not before.

We aren't claiming that every Chevrolet truck is turning out to be a miracle-worker and averaging 100,000 miles before a valve job. (Even though some are going 150,000!) You're sure to find, however, that you can't buy more truck dependability at any price. And that's borne out by the fact that more truck owners put their faith, and their payloads, in Chevrolets than in any other make.

Take your load and schedule figures to your Chevrolet dealer. He'll specify the best way to handle both and save in the bargain.

No job's too tough for a Chevrolet truck!
Now's the time — see your local authorized Chevrolet dealer for a real truck buy!

Will Signs With Warriors

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Towering Will Chamberlain signed a one-year contract with the Philadelphia Warriors professional basketball team Wednesday at an unannounced salary but believed to be in excess of $30,000, described as the highest ever paid a player in the National Basketball Assn.

The giant 7-foot, 2-inch product of the Philadelphia high school basketball courts who won All-America fame at the University of Kansas, and Warriors manager Eddie Gottlieb declined to name any salary figure.

But it was hinted the price tag was in excess of $30,000, much higher than the $27,000 reportedly paid Bob Cousy by the Boston Celtics.

Chamberlain left Kansas at the end of his junior year as a member of the Globe Trotters last season, reportedly earning between $40,000 and $45,000.

Veck Says Yanks Are Team To Beat

CHICAGO (UPI) — Bill Veck said today the New York Yankees despite their humble status are still the team to beat for the American League pennant.

"I said that at the start of the season and I still believe it," the new president of the Chicago White Sox said before a booster speech to a suburban lunch club.

Veck said that it is up to the other top clubs in the league to do something to rid the Yankees from any pennant notions, "namely us."

If we stick around the season with the same personnel as we have now—let's face it, no power—the Yankees will take it again," Veck said.

"But then," Veck smiled, "who said we're going to have the same personnel. Just because you're getting beat, you don't have to stand around and continue to have your brains knocked out."

Veck paid $25,000 Wednesday to bring back Larry Doby to the White Sox from the Detroit Tigers.

"I may be a bit prejudiced on this guy, but I believe that Doby has a couple of good years left. At least, he can still swing that bat," Veck said.

Doby Back With Chisox

BOSTON (UPI) — Outfielder Larry Doby was back in the Chicago fold today as the second-place White Sox sought a bit of added punch to their lineup.

The 34-year-old Doby, first Negro ever to play in the American League, was obtained from the Detroit Tigers Wednesday for a sum "over the waiver price" of $20,000. The figure was believed to be about $25,000.

It was with Chicago in 1956 and 1957 that the long-hitting Doby enjoyed two of his finest seasons, batting .268 and hitting 24 home runs in 1956 and adding 14 homers to a .288 mark the following year.

Since then, Doby has bounced from Baltimore, back to his original Cleveland Indians and to Detroit this spring.

Doby, who broke into the majors with Cleveland in 1947, was hitting only .218 for Detroit this season, though he enjoys a lifetime mark .284. He has whacked 253 home runs, none this year.

Prospecting while wondering how long before a Vegas marquee blinks, CANDY COHEN

The word is that Pampa's all-stater, Charlie Minor, will be a teammate of Lewis Qualls, the seven-footer from Smiley, at Texas A&M this fall. We're told from the College Station grapevine that Qualls wants to get married and that the Aggies have good on-campus housing, for married athletes. The 240-pound youngster, by the way, usually has to pay double price to have his clothes cleaned, The Aggie laundry, we feel sure, will do them for a single price, if not for free... and they might just slip a few folded bills in the sky-high hoopsters trousers if nobody's looking.

Polka-Dots & Forked-Tongue

Rather stupid, isn't it, all those recent protests against the Bostona farming out Pumpsie Green, implying that he was sent down because he was colored, and that the Red Sox ain't never had no Negro players. If Boston thought Green or a n-y-body else could help them beat the Cleveland, Chicago and them damn Yankees, they'd play him every day no matter if he was black, green or polka-dotted... Maybe it's time for the NAAWP to protest the Giants, Cincinnati or Milwaukee, NAAWP, that is.

19-YEAR-OLD BOY RATES AS TOP RACING DRIVER

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—They'll turn a boy loose with the men in a 150-mile stock car race at the Trenton, N.J., Speedway on Sunday and nobody expects the boy to get the worst of it.

He is Pedro Rodriguez, a 19-year-old out of Mexico City who looks like a miniature Rudolph Valentino and drives with the flair of a Juan Manuel Fangio. His qualifications include the Mexican motorcycle championship at 14, that nation's sports car title at 15 and competition at Sebring, Daytona and Le Mans.

Pedro's 17-year-old brother, being too young by one year to drive in New Jersey although he also has won Mexico's national motorcycle and sports car championships, will be the pit manager. They form an unusual pair, these five-foot, seven-inch sons of a wealthy Mexican industrialist who himself doted on motorcycle racing. Both are five feet, seven inches tall, dark and sedately dressed but quick to laugh or smile. Racing to them is almost a religion.

Spahn Wins No. 250 For Braves

By FRED DOWN
United Press International

Warren Spahn, his 250th victory in the record book, may be the top-winning left-hander in National League history by the end of the season.

Spahn became the 25th pitcher ever to reach the 250-mark when he hurled the Milwaukee Braves to a 3-2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Wednesday night. Carl Hubbell with 253 wins and Eppa Rixey with 266 are the only National League lefties ahead of him and above them are only American Leaguers Lefty Grove with 300 and Eddie Plank with 324.

At 38, Spahn has had a bit of trouble getting started this year but he picked on one of his favorites "cousins" Wednesday night. Spahn has scored two of his 1959 wins over the Cardinals and has a 33-29 lifetime edge over them.

The victory lifted the Braves back into first place when the Pittsburgh Pirates downed the Los Angeles Dodgers, 6-4, in a two-run eighth-inning homer by Dick Stuart. The San Francisco Giants beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-0, and the Chicago Cubs whipped the Cincinnati Reds, 10-0, in the other National League games. The Chicago White Sox downed the Boston Red Sox, 4-0, in the only American League activity.

Scott Upsets Ralph Dupas

CHICAGO (UPI)—Charley Scott, an upset victor over high ranked welterweight Ralph Dupas, looked today for a match with any scrap-fer with a better rating. Scott was ranked seventh among the world 147-pounders when he tripped Dupas, second rated, Wednesday night with a split decision in 10 rounds in the Wednesday TV fight. And despite victory, he wasn't pleased with his performance.

"I don't feel like I looked good," he said. "But he's a hard guy to fight. He's so fast, zip here and zip there, and hard to hit. But he didn't hurt me anytime, and he doesn't hurt you with his punches."

Referee Bernie Weissman and judge Lou Capparelli scored the bout for Scott, Weissman by a 46-45 count and Capparelli by 47-46. Judge Jim McManus had it 47-43 for Dupas and United Press International 47-44 for Dupas.

Bruton homered with two out in the eighth inning. Alex Grammas had nicked Spahn for a two-run double in the second inning but the Braves tied the score in the fourth on a walk, singles by Eddie Mathews and Wes Covington, an infield out and Del Crandall's sacrifice fly.

Stuart's winning homer for Pittsburgh overcame a 4-3 Dodger lead which resulted from Don Demeter's eighth homer of the season. Elroy Face, the Pirates' brilliant, 155-pound reliever, took over in the seventh inning and gained credit for his fifth straight victory. The loser was Don Drysdale, who yielded eight hits in seven innings. Smoky Burgess had three hits and started the game-winning rally with a single.

Sam Jones struck out an N.L. season high of 12 batters with a brilliant two-hitter for the Giants who clinched matters early by scoring five runs in the first inning. Willie Mays' three-run homer was the big blow of that frame and Leon Wagner homered in the third. Jones had a no-hitter until Willie Jones beat out a bleezer in the seventh. Gene Freese singled clearly for the other Philadelphia hit in the eighth. The victory moved the Giants into third place.

Ernie Banks hit a grand slam homer to cap a seven-run third-inning rally during which the Cubs routed Bob Purkey and the White Sox. Glenn Hobbie fired a three-hitter and struck out six in achieving his third complete game and fourth win. It was the first time Cincinnati was shut out this year.

Accreditation

The Council for Basic Education has asked a pertinent question regarding accreditation. "Who accredits accreditations?" Since it appears to be the ambition of all schools, government or private and independent, to secure the smiles and plaudits of the accreditors, a look at the process might not be amiss. At the present time there are six regional accrediting associations. These associations are composed of professors and teachers who have been selected, it is always presumed, because of their enormous skill at evaluating curricula. To serve as a guide for their efforts, a book of some 305 pages has been published which is called "Evaluative Criteria."

Don't Blame Monty, It's That Beret!

By HENRY MCLEMORE

How does one go about telling a man who is not only a Field Marshal but a Viscount to heel, that it is time to take off his beret? When without let-up, berets can be dangerous, and Field Marshal Viscount Bernard Montgomery has had one on for a solid twenty years. He adopted the Basque headpiece in 1920, and so far as anyone knows, has never taken it off. He has eaten in it, slept in it, prayed in it, fought in it, played in it, danced in it, made lectures in it, written books in it, retreated in it and advanced in it.

BETTER JOBS

Are You Complacent About Our Federal Debt?

If you love your children and grandchildren or even if you have goodwill to your fellowman and his children, it is well for you to understand what our real national debt amounts to. Of course, it is impossible to tell exactly what it amounts to, but some students with a lot of research have drawn approximate figures as to our national debt.

Medford Evans has taught English, history, government, and economics for years in various colleges. He has been a member of the Department of Social Sciences at the Northwestern State College in Louisiana. In an article in the October, 1957 issue of "The Freeman" magazine, he asks the question, "What is the National Debt?" and points out that our national debt must include what the federal government has guaranteed, what it has committed itself to pay, and its appropriations and its Federal Reserve notes that it has guaranteed to pay, plus the $275 billion it then admitted as a direct obligation.

Then Dr. Evans continues to write: "The evidence to support the truth of this statement is many times greater today than in 1776. And that our national debt has reached that certain degree there can be no doubt. For the admitted debt of some 275 billion dollars is only a fraction of the true whole. Panic over the amount we owe, as on the part of any debtor, would be bad. But complacency is worse. Complacency now means panic later, for the debt will not go away just because we do not look at it. Let's look."

Promises To Pay "How big is the national debt? To answer that we must first answer another question: What is it?" "It consists of promises to pay, commitments to spend, and obligations assumed."

Agency Funds "Oh, the we-owe-it-to-ourselves experts at once interrupt, but about $4 billion dollars of this debt is the government's own to its own agencies, which hold its bonds, such as those which provide social security, veterans' insurance, unemployment compensation, and other benefits which have been promised by Congress to defined groups among us. We ask them to consider this analogy. I have put aside one thousand dollars to finance my son through college next year. Meanwhile, I have borrowed this one thousand dollars to make the down payment on a new car. I have an 'IOU' in the book to show that I borrowed it. I now owe the money to myself. But the trouble is that, since my son is actually going to college, I shall have to pay back that one thousand dollars just as surely as if I owed it to somebody else. And the federal government must pay up that $4 billion dollars in bonds, which it owes these agencies, just as surely — and a lot sooner — than if the bonds were held by banks in London."

Then we come to the unexpended portion of approved federal budgets. Here the amount fluctuates with an annual cycle, being greatest at the beginning and least at the end of a fiscal year. Of these commitments, as of June 30, 1956, $72.3 billion was carried forward as still available in the fiscal year of 1957. So that was a committed obligation that has to be added to the national debt.

Then Dr. Evans says the commitments fluctuate between $70 billion and $130 billion, using very round numbers, making an average commitment of $105 billion. Adding this commitment to the $275 billion admitted in 1957, we have a subtotal of $280 billion that the federal government is obliged to pay.

Patton, Jr. How he would like to rise from his grave in Luxembourg and tell Monty off. General Patton would spare no words, for if there was one fighting man he had little or no use for at any time, anywhere, that man was Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery.

Robert Allen Reports:

Adlai Shrinking Away From Another Defeat

WASHINGTON — There is an overriding reason why Adlai Stevenson means every word he says in disclaiming any intention of again running for President. He literally shrinks from the possibility of another defeat. "It's very solacing to my ego to have people all over the country want me to try again," the former Illinois Governor told Washington friends, "but I have no illusions as to my chances in 1960. My getting the nomination is just not in the cards. And two 'hickings are enough. I couldn't take a third.'"

Then, in a reminiscent vein, Stevenson continued wryly: "The first time I ran, in 1952, I did so with utmost reluctance. I really would have preferred continuing as Governor. The second time, in 1956, I wanted the nomination very much. Perhaps too much. That campaign left imprints which are still very vivid to me. 'This time I haven't the slightest desire to run, and under no circumstances will I be a candidate.'"

"Does that preclude your being Illinois' favorite son candidate?" "Yes," replied Stevenson. "I hope to be a delegate to the Los Angeles convention, but no more than that." Stevenson is giving no hint about whom he favors for the Democratic nomination. His close 1956 Lieutenants are divided among Senator John Kennedy, Senator Lyndon Johnson, Senator Stuart Symington, and Senator Hubert Humphrey.

Curiously, none favor any of the gubernatorial possibilities. One veteran Democratic politician fully agrees with Stevenson about not making another try for the White House. "Jim Farley thinks that would be doomed from the start. 'This is one duck that can't be warmed over a third time,' says the one-time Postmaster General and National Chairman."

"WHAT'S UP?" National leaders of both parties are warily eyeing a proposed drastic change in Wisconsin's presidential primary — one of the three most important in the country, with New Hampshire and Oregon. Under this plan, the Wisconsin primary would become a popularity contest instead of a battle of the state's 28 convention delegates.

Public education has now reached a point where abysmal ignorance is within the reach of even the upper classes. The society section of a Los Angeles paper the other night showed a photograph, taken at a masquerade ball, of a young socialite dressed as a Chinese Princess. She said she was impersonating Marie Antoinette. I see by the papers that Harold Stassen is down to running for mayor. I never understood that guy until I read an old Swedish proverb that says, "If you keep hanging around the river, somebody may row you across."

Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

NEW YORK — Did you ever see Toulouse-Lautrec, live and breathing? I can show him to you. He is a tiny, puckish, infinitely brainy young French comedian with tiny, slightly darkened glasses with silver frames and bows. He is named Pierre Olaf, he could so easily play Toulouse-Lautrec that three times in three different countries he has been asked to do so, and when he was 3 years old he embarrassed his mother to a point where she publicly ignored him. Olaf, who has a totally different real name, was the first actor I ever met who could clearly and concisely pinpoint that exact day, hour and minute when the great decision to be an actor for life was made. We were sitting in a shrouded and shadowed 45th Street bistro, so dark it was hard to see your hand before your face, and I peered through the gloom and said, "Pierre, do you know, right now sitting there, when you decided to be an actor, this horrifying your family, a long line of marine insurance specialists?" "Of course," he said, "I was 3 years old in a park in Paris. It was a sunny June afternoon and my mother stopped to talk to a friend. I heard music and went to the source. It was a blind man with an accordion. The music entranced me and I began to dance to it. In minutes I had a crowd. My mother's friend glimpsed me dancing in the distance and said to my mother: 'For heaven's sake, look at Pierre. You'd best get him away from there.' 'It is too embarrassing to claim him in front of all those people.' Later, she came and got me. 'But how do you know that that was exactly the moment?' 'It's very simple. I passed the hat. Instinctively, I wanted to be paid for my performance. Any child can dance to music — born actors expect to be paid for it. Later, when I was around 5 years old, we passed the summer at a noted beach resort on the coast and I became disgustingly rich. I danced in front of the cabanas for the bathers and always, without fail, passed the hat. You'd be amazed how much money people stuff into their bathing suits. Naturally, suddenly rich, I became grouch and could not hide my wealth. My parents wondered where all this money came from, since each night it tumbled in rain from my little pockets. They investigated and we left these — precipitately."

The Doctor Says:

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

A series of rather complex questions is presented by a reader. She quotes a newspaper report that a gynecologist had recommended that every woman over 40 should have a hysterectomy as a cancer-prevention step. She adds that among women she knows it is generally believed that it is virtually impossible to find a surgeon to perform a hysterectomy unless there is a clear and present need. Also, that the only unpleasant after-effects are a tendency to put on weight and become hairier, and that treatment to control the after-effects is very costly. Finally, the writer notes a widespread fear of the effect of this procedure on marital life. First, I think I should explain what is customarily meant by a hysterectomy. Ordinarily today this consists in the removal of the womb, or uterus, leaving in place the other feminine structures, including the ovaries. Occasionally an operation is performed known as a pan-hysterectomy, which involves removal of the ovaries and oviducts, or fallopian tubes, as well as the womb. In the latter case the effects are likely to be more profound, since it is the ovaries which produce hormones as well as eggs. I did not notice the press report to which the reader refers. But I believe the suggestion that every woman over 40 have a hysterectomy as a cancer-prevention step is a view not shared by the majority of students of this subject. It is an opinion which many would oppose. The correspondent is doubtless correct that most surgeons do not like to perform a hysterectomy unless there is a definite need for it. It is, after all, a major surgical procedure and carries some, though modest, risks. Therefore it is not something to recommend lightly. If there is a tendency to put on weight after an ordinary hysterectomy, this is probably the result of eating too much and not of the operation itself. As to increasing hairiness; I do not believe this is warranted by the facts unless there happened to be some change in hormone production simultaneously. Treatment of the after-effects of a hysterectomy is generally not needed. If the ovaries were removed in a pan-hysterectomy, it is possible that hormone treatment would be desirable. But I should doubt that this would be excessively expensive. Finally, there should be no physical or psychological effect on marital relations from a hysterectomy. In many women there are actually increased by losing fear of unwanted pregnancy.

Fair Enough

Now The Strikers Have The Sick Suffering

by WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK — To sincere, tenacious fighters against Communism, the public presentation of the recent threat of a big strike against the non-municipal hospitals in New York was a discouraging experience. Our political parties and our press say they are against Communism and pro-Communists. But when Leon Davis, the boss of this evil venture, in which the sick are hostages, was thrown into ugly prominence, a great mass of hand-dug verified material was ignored. Davis has a "background" as red as a cut throat. He was born in Russia and did not come here until 1921. He has never shown any opposition to the force which is the only enemy of the United States in the whole world. His union record is as bad as his own. Nevertheless, my own verified disclosure of facts was, with trifling exceptions, the only recognition of this phase of the story that was presented to the public in New York during this poignant crisis.

Is the New York Times against Communism? With a large staff of pundit reporters and editors, the Times, in one editorial, carefully investigated and we left these — precipitately. "I know the vast success you have had here in New York in 'La Plume de ma Tante.' I said, 'But did you ever go hungry to be an actor? Really hungry?' "Certainly. You are not really an actor until you have starved. I once went eight months without earning a penny. Not a cent. Then a movie producer got hold of me and said he might have a role for me in a picture to be made four months later. He would call me. I thought I could borrow and starve to last out. It didn't work. I was famished. Fortunately, he decided to formalize things by calling me in to sign a contract. In France, a sensible nation in these fiscal matters, you get an advance on salary when you sign a contract to perform. I owed the American equivalent of $150 here and there among helpful friends. I left there with a check for exactly the sum expressed in French money, of course. I was virtuous. I would go to the bank, get the cash and one by one pay what I owed. Did I do that? I ran into three friends on the way and I gave a sumptuous dinner for the four of us. With tips, it came to $12. You see what ship-shod people actors are!" "And you starved again?" "Yes. But I did make the picture and got the rest of my salary and paid off my friends, now suffering from certain anxieties. Then starved again until I judged a night club owner into accepting a dreadful little act I put together. One winter night, with snow falling, there were three people in the club. Me, the performer, and Robert Dery and his wife-customer. I had to perform. It is tradition. If there is only one customer, you perform. They liked what I did and asked me to join their company. That's how I am with them now. A night in a Paris blizzard. We have been together in a series of revues for six years. I take a vacation for a month soon and will see what I can of the United States in 30 days. Why go back to Paris for that time? I've seen it. If you worked in Paris for the first time and got a vacation, would you fly back to New York? Naturally not. I want to see all I can of what you have here. All the way to California. But San Francisco, I think — not Los Angeles."

A few lines later Davis declared that there was no Communist "menace" in this country. He said the Communist party was not an "enemy of the American Labor Movement" and praised the Communists because they were "a help to the advancement of the people of this country." The signature "Leon Davis" appeared on two nominating petitions of the Communist party in New York in 1940 and a third time the same name was written on an independent nominating petition, this one for the notorious Communist Israel Amter. Elizabeth Gurley Flynn and James W. Ford. Well, damnit, I am as much the press as any owner or publishing corporation. I say the "people's right to know" included this phase of this crisis right here in New York. I hear loud peevish howling from the publishers' conclaves about the reluctance of Washington bureaucrats to reveal information about scientific matters which we lack even type to print. We lack even the intelligence to understand it. Anyway, the remedy for that is good reporters and gaffly editors to make them get the story. I am discussing here suppression by the press, itself, of information in hand which the people have "a right to know," and easily could understand. Now this rotten union and Davis will get credit from their underpaid subjects for winning them raises which will be paid out of additional taxes.

United Press International
WASHINGTON—Chief Air Force scientist Dr. Joseph V. Charyk, saying decoy warheads on incoming missiles would confuse radar defenses:
"How do you tell the decoy from the decoy?"

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower, on the lengthy congressional hearings on some of his nominations:
"The kind of delaying tactics, the kind of attacks made upon them, upon their integrity, is something that must have some kind of purpose other than mere searching into their competence."

WASHINGTON—Sen. Gale McGee (D-Wyo.), on conflicting testimony before the Senate Commerce Committee on the nomination of Lewis L. Strauss to head the Commerce Department:
"Somebody's lying here. That's the understatement of the day."

MIAMI BEACH—AFL-CIO President George Meany, charging that Washington politics play a role in congressional labor investigations:
"Our enemies are using the exposure of the sins of a few against the entire labor movement. We will help to eliminate corruption but we will not approve anti-labor laws."
