

Mass Killer Given 2 Week Stay

By ELLIS RAIL, United Press International
LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI) — Mass slayer Charles Starkweather won a dramatic last-hour stay of execution today from a U.S. district judge. The stay was announced 90 minutes before the execution was to have taken place.

Robinson ordered the execution stayed for two weeks—until June 4—to allow Starkweather time to appeal to the district court of appeals. The judge said it appeared Starkweather "is and has been without the services of an attorney" and that he might be held in custody "in violation of the Constitution."

Robinson's action was unexpected by any state official, and it was presumed Thursday night that Starkweather's last hope to evade the electric chair had gone. His father, Guy, said he would make no further attempt to appeal to the circuit court because he had no counsel to aid him in making a last-minute appeal. He (See KILLER, Page 3)

Gromyko Needs To 'Cool It'

By STEWART HENSLEY, United Press International
GENEVA (UPI) — Responsible diplomats said today failure of Soviet Minister Andrei Gromyko to end his propaganda outbursts and get down to serious bargaining on the Berlin crisis was seriously jeopardizing chances of a summit conference.

A dinner was given for Gromyko and the other Big Four foreign ministers Thursday night by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter apparently was a flop. Gromyko made no move to end the East West deadlock as hoped.

Dallas May Abandon Its Public Schools

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Negro pressure for an immediate showdown on Texas integration ran into a road block today.

At the same time, Dallas school officials warned they may have to close public schools if the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) is granted an order for immediate integration of Dallas and Houston classrooms.

The NAACP, in separate petitions filed at the same time Wednesday in federal court at Dallas and Houston, asked for a hearing Monday on why the two Texas cities have, not complied with court desegregation orders that were handed down 18 months ago in Dallas and two years ago at Houston.

At the present, there is a conflict of federal and state laws. A 1957 Texas statute withdraws state aid from districts which integrate without approval of voters at a local option election. It also provides for stiff fines and penalties for school district officials, and loss of accreditation for the district.

Headlines Styled To Put FBI In Role Of 'The Goat'

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "Man suffers stroke," it says here, "after lynching quiz."

"FBI under fire," it says on another page. "On charges of tough tactics."

The foregoing is a head line style summation of reports from Poplarville, Miss., on the efforts of the Federal Bureau of Investigation to snare the lynchers of a Negro named Mack Charles Parker.

Mighty near everyone wishes Director J. Edgar Hoover and the FBI well in their effort to put the law on the Mississippi lynchers. It was a chilling crime, regardless of Parker's guilt about which law enforcement officials have no doubt. Neither did the FBI doubt its own ability to net the nine white men who murdered Parker.

The reasoning of lawmen that they would take the lynchers into custody went like this: There were nine of them and the community is small. Among nine conspirators in such an event, one, at least, is bound to talk. The talk will get around and in time it will get around enough so that the lynchers will become known by name.

agents having rubbed off harmful place now in and around widespread circulation of the Poplarville. This is accompanied, port that one suspect had suffered, however, by what seems to be a cerebral hemorrhage after collusive effort among some of FBI questioning, the diagnosing the Mississippians on the scene physician said well, maybe the to discredit the FBI. If the FBI man didn't suffer such an attack could be sufficiently discredited to all. The yarn was on its might be that the lynchers way, however, and the nation's would get off unharmed, even if FBI-haters had another scrap of their names became known, scrambled evidence to support their demand that the organization be dismantled.

The implications of the news reports out of Poplarville are that the FBI is doing a rubber-hose or bare-knuckle job on the in the developments reported suspects. No one says just that, from Poplarville—a smell of colic precisely, but the shadow of fusion among some of the townspeople and suspicion is put upon people to discredit the FBI quick-FBI methods by such reports asly before the agents can bring that one which said a Mississippi to justice the lynchers of Parker. The newsmen on the scene are a involved had suffered a cerebral hemorrhage after question-quoted the various local spokes- ing by the FBI. "FBI agents took men accurately, no doubt. Per- haps from his home," the story haps to keep the record straight the reporters should probe deep- er and demand to know whether putting suspects under day-and- night observation and so thereby shattering their health and men- tal processes.

Diagnosis Changed
The wife of another suspect was very reluctant to answer these reported under medical care, the accusations which, in fact, are soul-scorching treatment of her me insinuations—a nasty kind husband by the alien federal-of-double-talk.

Latin American Neighbors Have Distorted View, Says Nat

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Nat King Cole, back from a six-week tour of South America, said today our Latin neighbors have a distorted view of race problems in this country.

According to the Negro singer, South Americans hear and read about tensions and violence only—never the progress being made. As an unofficial goodwill ambassador Cole tried to set the record straight.

"They're being brain-washed down there," Cole said. "Most of the people think Negroes in this country live like they do in Africa. All they ask about is Little Rock and lynchings in the South. I didn't dodge any of the issues, but I told them there are two sides to the question."

Told The Truth
"I pointed out if things were as bad as they believed they'd have never heard of Nat Cole. Those people don't have a racial problem, so they can't comprehend what's going on up here."

Cole spread the word through Puerto Rico, Venezuela, Brazil, Uruguay, Argentina, Chile, Peru and Mexico.

He said he told the truth as he sees it. "I'm no middle-of-the-roader, and I could have made the racial situation look worse. But I had no such thoughts." Nat went on, "I try to be a U. S. citizen first, and then a Negro. I'm proud of being a citizen who can speak his mind. However, I only speak for myself."

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

The singer added he doesn't believe he is a spokesman for his race, nor does he believe any other Negro entertainers should speak for the colored population.

Lives In Mansion
"White performers don't represent me," Cole said. "I don't want to be a U. S. citizen first, and then a Negro. I'm proud of being a citizen who can speak his mind. However, I only speak for myself."

said he marvelled at how well his son had held up through the ordeal of waiting.

Starkweather said his son was "laughing and in good spirits" during much of the visit, apparently in an attempt to bolster the family's spirits and courage.

There were no tears, the elder Starkweather added, although his son "choked up several times."

In addition to his parents, the young killer met with his two brothers, his sister and other relatives. A partition separated the family from the condemned man during the visit, but officials permitted him to hug his mother and shake hands with his father as they left.

The father said he had no desire to attend the execution and his son had specifically requested that he not be present.

Young Starkweather, who took up Bible reading during his confinement in death row, wrote his parents a letter in which he said he would die with a "clear conscience" and had made peace with God.

Nine Lions' Sweethearts Sing, Dance

Nine Pampa High School girls, who have served the Noon Lions Club as official sweethearts since Sept., 1958, presented a festive thank-you program at the club meeting Thursday. The girls, led by May Sweetheart Phyllis Burson, sang and danced for the Lions.

Lion Jimmy McCune, program chairman, observed that the practice of honoring monthly sweethearts at club meetings, was begun during his presidency 13 years ago.

The first thing the girls did was to crown a sweethearts' beau, Dick Crews.

Linda Skewes, an accomplished pianist, played "Clair de Lune" and Phyllis Parker gave a portrayal of Romeo and Juliet, playing both parts.

Judy Baer danced a modern jazz number to the music of a phonograph.

Then the girls broke into a hopped-up version of "Grandma's Lye Soap," asking the Lions to join in the choruses.

Lion McCune thanked the sweethearts for putting a great show together.

F. D. Montgomery, Lions boys and girls chairman, presented plaques to Bob Jernigan and Kay Waggoner, the High School valedictorian and salutatorian. Another guest of the club was Paul Brown, senior class president.

The Noon Club will hold its annual installation and ladies night banquet at 7 p.m. June 18 in the First Methodist Church Fellowship Hall. Melvin T. Munn will be the main speaker. Boss Lion Joe Tooly is asking for perfect attendance at the installation.

These days, the mother of the bride is young in appearance as well as in spirit. Knowing this, designers have departed far from the old concept of what the mother of the bride would wear and turned out chic and beautiful dresses that are pure flattery. Most of them can lead a double life; after the wedding, they'll go to parties and dinners. A sheath (left) in aqua gros de Londres has slim lines balanced by a floating sack panel of sheer chiffon. Dress of pale yellow taffeta (center) has wide skirt inset of shirred organza. Both skirt and neckline are appliqued in Alencon lace. DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I recently bought a home and furnished it in Early American. For a housegift his sister gave us a Chinese Modern lamp. It stands three feet high, has a bright red base with a black lacquered shade and gold dragons all over it. It looks terrible and I don't want to put it where it can be seen. I know his sister from way back and she did it just to be mean. You'd never see such a cheap piece of junk in HER house. My husband says I should use it anyway so her feelings won't be hurt. I don't want to ruin the looks of my house. How can we settle this peacefully?

DEAR ABBY: In a recent column, a young girl tells of a quick wedding at the city hall over her lunch hour because she couldn't afford a "fancy church wedding." This woman and countless others have the wrong conception of a church wedding. Anyone who wants a church wedding can have one. It need not be expensive or fancy. Any clergyman will unite a couple in holy matrimony in front of the altar with only attendants and parents. It is still a Service, and has the blessing of God. I have nothing against city hall weddings, but "I now pronounce you man and wife - $10.00 please" type of ceremony is not nearly so memorable. Sincerely, REV. L. A. MEYER

DEAR ABBY: In our office there is a nice young man. He is very sweet and we wouldn't hurt him for the world, but he comes to work with holes in his socks. He is married. This makes a bad impression on all who see him and some folks snicker behind his back. Should we tell him it looks bad, or should we write his wife an anonymous note telling her to buy new socks? REV. L. A. MEYER

OFFICE GANG
Dear Gang: If the man consistently comes to work with holes in his socks, he knows they are there and doesn't care. Leave his wife alone. She darn well knows what to do.

DEAR ABBY: I am asking advice for a helpless little child of four. She has a very poor appetite. Her mother tries to force food down her by holding her nose until she swallows the food.

Mrs. Wilson To Give Piano Recital
Mrs. Ramon Wilson will present a group of piano students in recital on Saturday evening at 8 p.m. in the City Club Room.

Appearing on the program will be Andrea Peters, Ronald Love, Larry Turcotte, Venita Turcotte, Perrie Gail Armstrong, Georganna Jackson, Susan Wagley, Carolyn Smith, Phillis Cole, Linda Holdaway, Bobby Adams, Peggy Griffin, Sharon Barton, Yvonne Oliver, Katharin Sadler, Diana York, Germaine Stoddard, Cynthia Rasco, and Judy Butler.
The public is cordially invited to attend.

I hate to see this child screaming and putting up a big fight. The child becomes nervous and throws up the food afterwards. I was told to mind my own business when I suggested they take her to a doctor. I work here so I hesitate to make any more suggestions. Maybe you can help.

DAY HELP
Dear Help: Food forced down a child does more harm than good. I hope they consult a doctor about the child's poor appetite before they are forced to see one about a much more serious problem later.

Modern Mother-Of-Bride Fashions Presents Young In Spirit Appearance

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—The mother of the bride, these days, is quite likely to be a trim-size 12 with glowing skin and a bouffant hairdo.

A decade ago she might have been billowing in motherly gray lace, her hair set in rigid waves, her skin sagging. But this picture in passe. In 1959 mom runs a home, goes to meetings, ferries the family about or possibly holds down a full-time or part-time job. She definitely cannot afford to billow and she knows it.

Designers have caught up with this fact. And they have given the bride's mother, this June, clothes that are chic, flattering and feminine. They think that a size 12 or 14 or 16 looks well in a streamlined, beltless sheath with the waistline emphasized.

Or the sheath is given a feminine, floaty look through use of silk chiffon back panels or organza bouffants. And since mom is not trying to pass herself off as the bride's younger sister, designers have used rich fabrics for her clothes. There are textured silks, silk taffetas, and re-embroidered lace. Jeweled appliques add mod modified glitter and depth to the fabrics.

And because mom is no longer shy about color, she can pick from pastels, turquoise, and other vivid colors right on through to the perennial dark shades. For naturally, her choice will be a dress that can go to dinner and parties after the wedding.

78,000,000 SAVED FROM SKIN AND MUSCLE DISTRESS

in over 4,000 hospitals by medicated DERMASSAGE!

At last the World's Foremost Professional Body Rub can be used in your own home to relieve dozens of agonizing skin and muscle conditions! Doctors in a majority of the hospitals—nearly 300,000 Nurses—Pharmacists the world over—now use and recommend soothing, refreshing DERMASSAGE... the creamy white body lotion that is replacing skin-drying rubbing alcohol forever!

CARES FOR YOUR BODY 5 IMPORTANT WAYS
In just one application you'll discover why Medicated DERMASSAGE is the best, safest, most invigorating treatment for skin irritations and muscle conditions. Thousands of letters have said "thanks for amazing relief" because DERMASSAGE, at the same time:

1. HEALS chapped, dry, cracked, irritated skin; chafed backs, knees and elbows.
2. RELIEVES sunburn, windburn, rough, sensitive, weather-dried skin; cold-irritated nostrils—that "all-over" itch!
3. COOLS and comforts hot, burning, tired, aching feet.
4. SOOTHES over-exerted, stiff, aching muscles; arms, thighs, back, chest, legs.
5. FIGHTS INFECTION with miracle Hexachlorophene.

DERMASSAGE SCUTTLES RUBBING ALCOHOL

It's no secret why your custodians of public health—the doctor, nurse, hospital administrator and pharmacist—have switched from rubbing alcohol to DERMASSAGE. They know that alcohol dries the skin, whereas DERMASSAGE lubricates it. Medicated alcohols are toxic, while DERMASSAGE is completely safe, even to children. Alcohol disinfects only temporarily, but DERMASSAGE containing G-11 (Hexachlorophene) destroys bacteria on contact and creates a continuous antiseptic action on the skin to resist new bacteria. Alcohol is flammable. DERMASSAGE is not.

Foreign News Commentary
By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

President Arturo Frondizi of Argentina is a man of contradictions and many problems.

He is relying on his contradictions to solve his problems. Should he fail, Argentina, beset by galloping inflation and labor strife, could sink into chaos even worse than that left by the defunct regime of Juan Peron. A new dictatorship then would seem to be the only recourse.

His contradictions are these: For nearly 30 years he fought dictators and was a champion of civil liberties. Yet as president, he has used troops against labor unions.

Politically he has leaned to the left, yet his government is tending more and more toward the conservative right.

He passionately supported nationalization of the Argentine oil industry and then overrode his countrymen's suspicions of foreign investments to negotiate a billion dollars worth of development contracts with foreigners.

Overcame Suspicions
He overcame U. S. suspicions of his regime, originally backed by Peronistas and Communists, and obtained a phenomenal loan of $29 million dollars from the U. S. to fight inflation.

Among the nations of the world he is held in the highest regard, yet at home he often must feel he is fighting his nation's battles almost single handed.

Once regarded as a political "softie" who could not possibly last out the constitutional six years of his regime, he has shown himself steel-willed in dealing with boiling opposition to the auman and chief executive officer, announced. About $87 million or 60 per cent of the budget will be spent for exploration and production of crude oil, he told the annual stockholders meeting in Chicago.

erty campaign by which he hopes to restore Argentina to its nature-given prosperity.

But the task before him continues to be of vast proportions. In the last 12 months, the cost of living in Argentina has risen 115 per cent. Gasoline prices have trebled. Power tariffs have doubled. Credit is tight and available only at ruinous interest rates which sometimes go up to 25 per cent.

Inflation Spirals
Despite outside help, Frondizi has been unable so far to halt the inflation spiral.

Each month the government pumps from five to seven billion pesos of new printed money into circulation. It is printing press money only, and the pesos meanwhile has slipped from approximately 20 to the U. S. dollar to about 85 to the dollar or to about one-third of its former value.

The cost of the paper upon which Argentine newspapers are printed has nearly quadrupled in the last month.

In the year that Frondizi has been in office, his government has skipped from one crisis to another.

A few days ago, he survived a Strike Falls

A 24-hour general strike called by Peronist and Communist labor unions proved a total failure in the face of a government warning of "very harsh repression" in the event of disorders. Life in Buenos Aires continued practically normal. At the same time, Frondizi was battling an upheaval within his own cabinet. Four cabinet members quit.

But through it all Frondizi has remained firm.

There would be new faces in his cabinet, he said, but not new ideas.

A bright spot in an otherwise gloomy picture has been the oil industry. Each month, oil output has been exceeding the estimates.

But Frondizi's reward so far has been only to lose even the loyalty of his own party, and for stability he must count on the loyalty of the military.

Dr. Sadler Named To Newly Created Post of Chancellor

FORT WORTH (Sp) — Dr. M. E. Sadler, president of Texas Christian University since 1941, was named to a newly created post of chancellor at a special called meeting of the trustees recently.

In making the announcement, Board Chairman Lorin A. Boswell of Fort Worth emphasized that the development in no sense means any change in policy or administrative control.

Dr. Sadler will remain as chief executive officer and will devote his major attention to certain specific functions in the developing life of the university.

Dr. D. Ray Lindley, vice president since 1953, was named president of the 86-year-old institution and will continue to handle administrative details of the school's operation.

The action came after a study by a special committee of board and faculty members which made the recommendation to the trustees through its executive committee.

The new appointments are effective Sept. 1, 1959.

"This development implements several months of planning," Boswell pointed out. "For some time, it has been desirable that Dr. Sadler be able to confine his activities to certain major phases of the university's work. Under our previous organizational setup, this has been impossible."

As chancellor and chief administrative officer, Dr. Sadler will work with the trustees in determining the general plans and policies of TCU; he will work with the staff in helping select the key personnel for various phases of the university's life; he will speak in carefully chosen places; he will represent TCU in three or four of the major educational organizations; and will visit with foundations, organizations and individuals interested in helping the university substantially.

Dr. Sadler, now 62, became TCU's sixth president in September 1941. During his 18 years, the university has had by far its greatest period of growth.

Soul and Body To be Christian Science Theme

The healing power through an understanding of God as Soul will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul and Body."

Scriptural selections to be read will include Mark's account of Jesus' healing of Simon's wife's mother (1:30, 31), and also this verse: "And he healed many that were sick of divers diseases, and cast out many devils..." (Mark 1:34)

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the readings will include the following (2: 20:11): "Knowing that Soul and its attributes were forever manifested through man, the Master healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame, thus bringing to light the scientific action of the divine Mind on human minds and bodies and giving a better understanding of Soul and salvation."

A cordial invitation from First Church of Christ, Scientist, Pampa, is open to all of you at the church services on Sunday morning at 11, and Wednesday evening at 8. The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

ROBERT E. CALLAHAN
Minister of Music and Education
Central Baptist Church

"But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ." II Peter 3:18.

Every child of God should have a desire to grow spiritually. When one is born into the kingdom of God he is a "babe" in Christ. To remain a babe in Christ is as much a tragedy as it would be for a child to fail to grow to maturity physically.

When more than half the membership of most churches fail to take their religion seriously enough to be found doing really constructive things for God, there is without doubt too many people who have remained "babes in christ." Let us suggest some guides toward spiritual growth.

1. Be certain about your own salvation.
2. Join with one of the Lord's churches and go to work for him.
3. Give attention to your devotional life through Bible study and prayer.
4. Cultivate Christian friends.
5. Separate yourself from which hinders your spiritual growth.
6. Use your talents for the Lord.
7. Be honest toward God in money matters.
8. Live every day as close to Christ as you can.
9. Seek the counsel and help of your pastor.

GINDORF SIGNS — Bob Gindorf, third from left, becomes the third member of the 1959 state champion Harvester basketball team to sign with a college team. Gindorf inked a letter of intent Thursday evening with Texas Tech. Bob's father, Henry Gindorf, is at the far left. Next to him is Harvester coach Clifton McNeely, then Bob Gindorf, then Texas Tech freshman coach Gene Gibson. "Bobby was one of our top choices," said Gibson after the signing. There's no time like the present if the Yankees want to prove they're still alive and kicking. They'll have Bill Showron, their best hitter so far this season, back in the lineup when they open a four-game series with the Baltimore Orioles Friday night. And they're sending World Series hero Bob Turley to the mound to try to pitch them out of last place. But their work is cut out for them because manager Paul Richards is countering with flutterball pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm, who pitched a no-hitter against the Yankees last season and beat them, 3-2, on April 26. Wilhelm, whose dancing knuckleballs have been the pair of American League hitters, game losing streak with a 3-0 decision over the Chicago Cubs and the Red Sox scored their second win in nine games when they downed the Athletics 5-0. Haddix Stops Cards

Harvey Haddix struck out seven and yielded 10 hits as he raised his record against his ex-Cardinal teammate, to 3-1 and his season mark to 3-2. The Pirates routed Lindy McDaniel with three runs in the first inning and went on to pile up 12 hits, including three each by Bill Birdon and Don Hoak. Gino Cimoli, Gene Green and Chick King had two hits each for St. Louis. Ruben Gomez tossed a four-hitter to win his first game of the season for the last-place Phillies who broke a scoreless tie on a single. George Anderson's double, a sacrifice fly, an infield hit and another sacrifice fly produced the runs. Gomez, who walked one and struck out three, retired the last 13 Cubs in order.

Grudge Match, Colored Girls On Saturday Wrestling Card

BABS WINGO ... semi-final battler

Three of the biggest natural attractions in wrestling will be on Saturday's card at Top of Texas Sportsmen Club. They are a grudge match to the finish, with no disqualification; a match between two colored girls; and Sonny Myers. Art Nelson will go against Tara Myaki in the main event, no time limit, no disqualifications, falls don't count toward winning — and Babs Wingo will wrestle Ethel Johnson in a best of three falls, 45-minute time limit match between two colored girls. In the opening match, a one-fall event, Sonny Myers will take on Pepe Gomez. Myers takes a "breather" this week in the preliminary matches, after fighting in the main event during several of the past weeks. The Myaki-Nelson main event will be ended only when one of the two men is either unable or unwilling to continue. There will be falls, but they will not count toward determining the winner. Anything goes in this grudge match, and only by using force can referee Tommy Phelps keep the two foes from wrestling outside the ring, hitting the other man with a chair, or anything they happen to feel like doing. This grudge match to a finish came about last week when Myaki jumped into the ring during the Nelson-Sonny Myers bout and loudly and arrogantly challenged the winner. Myaki then hit Nelson with a judo chop, opening a cut on his forehead. The enraged Nelson then threw Myaki out of the ring, but he didn't stop there. He threw the referee out of the ring next. For this he was disqualified. But promoter Doc Miller thought that, since Myaki wasn't even supposed to be in the match, that Nelson didn't get a 100 per cent square deal. So he ordered this week's event to give the Canadian matman a chance to square things, if he can. Even in a normal match, neither Myaki nor Nelson are among the fairest and most clean-cut of wrestlers, so fans can expect a rough time in the old ring Saturday night. The first match on Saturday's card begins at 8:30 p.m. Advance tickets are on sale at Levine's Department Store. Ringside seats are $1.50, reserved seats $1.25, and general admission $1.00.

Veech Is Leader In Memphis Open

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — A field of 98 pros and 28 amateurs, headed by first round leader Tommy Veech of Milwaukee, hit the fairways today in the "cut-off" second round of the $25,000 Memphis Open golf tournament. Veech, 29-year-old 265-pound newcomer to the tournament trail blazed around the Colonial Country Club course in 63 strokes Thursday, his seven-under par tying the competitive course record set Wednesday in the pro-am by Don Whitl of Borrego Springs, Calif. Veech's brilliant play had to share top billing with a pair of holes-in-one fashioned in the same hole by pro Ernie Vossler of Fort Worth, Tex. and Dr. H. S. Humphreys, an amateur from Perrin Air Force Base, Tex. Vossler, playing in one of the early threesomes, knocked in a 175-yard four-iron tee shot on the par three 17th. Humphreys, in the day's last threesome, holed out his tee shot on the same hole. Veech played the front nine in three-under par 31, came in with a four-under par 22 for his record-tying score. He had seven birds, 11 pars and did not take a bogie. Smooth-stroking Al Besselink of Grossinger, N. Y. and Jay Herbert of Lafayette, La., shared second place with 65, two strokes behind Veech. Bracketed at 66 with Vossler were Masters champ Art Wall Jr., Pocono Manor, Pa.; Bo Winger, Odessa, Tex.; and Doug Ford, Paradise, Fla. Golfers finishing 67+ included Whitl; J. C. Goosie, Knoxville, Tenn.; Frank Stranahan, Toledo, Ohio; and Ted Dorius, San Diego, Calif. After today's round, the field will be cut to the 70 low pros and eight amateurs who will finish the 72-hole event Sunday.

Basketball Tilt Set Tonite; Football Game Rained Out

By RED GRIGGS
Daily News Sports Editor
The future-execs basketball game will be played tonight at 8 p.m. in Harvester Field-House. Five seniors from Clifton McNeely's 1959 state champions will go against the 1959-60 varsity. The execs team will be composed of Coyle Winborn, Bob Gindorf, Charles Minor, Mack Layse, and Don McGuire. Three of these five — Minor, Gindorf, and Winborn — have been signed by major colleges. Gindorf signed his letter of intent with Texas Tech Thursday evening. The Harvester starters will be Pat Carter, Craig Winborn, Joe Timms, Phillip Gist, and Allen Wise. Billy Wray and Hershel Terrell are also expected to see action.

Richardson, Don CURRY. Ebenhents only touchdown of the game. Warner, Bill Neslage, Leslie Stanfield, and Harold Green.
Football Rained Out
The future-execs game scheduled for last night became one of the few football games in history to be rained out. It was raining almost from the start of the game, and it came down hard enough to cause Babe Curfman to pull both squads off the field with 4 minutes, 15 seconds remaining in the first quarter. The game, which was to end the three-week spring-training period for the Harvesters, has been rescheduled for Saturday. Game time is 9:30 in the morning. The future Harvesters scored just seconds before the game was washed out. They scored in three plays, after recovering a fumble at the execs 21-yard line. Buddy Rawls made four yards on a keeper; Terry Joe Haralson romped for seven yards; then Rawls went the final 10 yards on a keeper around right end. Each team had possession of the ball twice. The first time the Harvesters had it, they made a first down before losing it on a fumble. The execs, however, were kept completely bottled up in their end of the field. They were so thoroughly stopped by the "futures" that they lost 24 yards while gaining only one.

Eural Ramsey Will Coach at Shamrock

Eural Ramsey, backfield coach at Pampa High School for the past three seasons, has been named head football coach at Shamrock, replacing Bill Lalicker. Lalicker resigned recently to take the head coaching job at DeCATUR. Ramsey's resignation had earlier been accepted by the Pampa school board, but the announcement was delayed, so that it would not interfere with Ramsey's participation in spring football training. "Ramsey said Friday morning that 'I have enjoyed working with the coaching staff these three years in Pampa. But this job should be a good opportunity for me and my family. And of course, I'll be happy to coach where I played my high school football.' Ramsey played high school football for the Shamrock Irish, then went to Texas Tech, where he was a member of the Red Raider grid squad.

Bethea, Miteff In TV Fight

NEW YORK (UPI) — Heavyweight Wayne Bethea of New York gets his big come back chance tonight as substitute in a 10-round fight with Alex Miteff of Argentina at Madison Square Garden. Their bout — the first at the Garden in two months — will be televised and broadcast nationally by NBC. It will be 27-year-old Bethea's first important match since he was knocked out in the first round by contender Sonny Liston at Chicago last Aug. 6. Wayne scored minor victories earlier this year over Warnell Lester and Rudy Watkins. Miteff, 24, is favored at 2-1 because of his combined boxing and punching ability. The former Pan American amateur champion had two bouts this year. He lost to contender Zora Foley of Chandler, Ariz., and he knocked out Harold Carter. Miteff and Foley were slated for a return bout tonight, but Foley injured an arm in training. Bethea was called in as a replacement.

Robinson Makes Last-Ditch Stand

NEW YORK (UPI) — Middleweight champion Ray Robinson planned to take the stand today at his final hearing, and publicly challenge Carmen Basilio to fight. That would be a last-ditch effort to prevent the New York State Athletic Commission from vacating his title. "And if they do take my title, I'll appeal right on through to the United States Supreme Court," Robinson said. Whether the commission would permit Ray's dramatic appearance today was uncertain. When the hearing was adjourned last Wednesday, the commissioners seemed to be sharpening the axe for an execution today.

Softball Slate Washed Out

Thursday night's softball schedule was washed out by heavy rains. Two of the games, Panhandle-Packing vs. Phillips at Lions Park, and Electric Supply vs. Sinclair Oilers at Bowers Park, got underway before the rain began. The game between Kempa Humble and Somerville 66, scheduled for 9 p.m. in Lions Park, wasn't even started, since the rain was coming down heavily by that time. All three games will be rescheduled for a later date.

Anarchy And Communism

Anarchy and Communism are both devices which have their existence within the socialist framework of reference. It is the aim of all socialism to eliminate private ownership or at least to reduce it to small areas. The socialist concept has it that all essential means of production and distribution should be collectively owned and managed.

Trip To Russia, Then Politics, No Thanks!

By HENRY MCLEMORE

I would go to Russia this summer, expensive as getting there is, and staying there is, except for one thing: I would indicate that I was a candidate for the presidential nomination in 1960, and it would plunge me into all the mess that goes with trying to become President.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOLES

FROM ASYLUM TO POWERHOUSE

I was very much impressed with an article in the last issue of "Faith and Freedom" under the heading of "From Asylum to Powerhouses." It was written by Jan J. Erteszek.

In order to appreciate the importance of the article, the editor has introduced Mr. Erteszek with the following statement:

"The significance of this stirring challenge to clergymen and laymen is not entirely in what it says, but in its coming from a committed layman who practices what he says as a successful businessman."

Mr. Erteszek speaks with the unique authority and experience of a man who fled the Communist regime in his native Poland and with integrity and intelligence made his way under the American free enterprise system. He is a thoughtful, dedicated member of the Board of Directors for Spiritual Mobilization.

Mr. Erteszek writes: "Not long ago, in London, I sat lunching with a British businessman. We were discussing the remarkable British economic recovery and her technological progress. He was proud of it and quite optimistic about the future; and yet, I could sense under all this enthusiasm a deep-seated uneasiness and awareness that economic progress and a better standard of living were no answers to all the problems."

"In the course of our discussion, we touched upon the role of the church in modern life, and my British friend was quite outspoken. Himself religious, he nevertheless stated that the church did not come to grips with the practical problems of modern man, and, therefore, the average man is estranged from her."

The European Emptiness "A few days earlier, I had been sipping coffee with an Italian lawyer in Rome. I was pointing out the splendor of the churches in Rome, and asked if the church had a deep influence on the daily lives of the Italian people. I was surprised at his reply: 'You know, we Italians are becoming increasingly religious. Look at our Communist Party; it is the largest in the world outside of the Soviet Union. The church, of course, has great political influence, but its ability to motivate the daily actions and decisions of the average Italian is definitely on the decrease.'"

"A similar comment was made by a Swiss businessman whose plant is located in the vicinity of Zurich. He was showing me through the small, ancient city of Aarau, and as we came across the Protestant Church, I asked him about the influence of the church in Switzerland. In his opinion: 'None to speak of.'"

"More recently, I was talking with a Danish writer in Copenhagen. He was telling me that the high standard of living in Scandinavia does not seem to solve the problems that perplex modern men. He pointed out the great number of mental illnesses and the rate of suicide in Scandinavia, both of which are on the increase, despite the high standard of living. 'It is perplexing to see in Europe, on one hand, a great economic dynamism and, on the other, a fear of tomorrow, fear of atomic destruction, and an underlying emptiness. Most of the men with whom I talked agreed that the answers to this emptiness are of spiritual nature but that the church has failed to come to grips with the problems of contemporary men and, thus, has failed to provide the answers.'"

Also in America "I realize that what I witnessed in Europe was not unlike the process which is going on in our own country. Our churches are increasing in membership and material well-being, but in an unprecedented rate. Religion has become popular, but almost in inverse proportion to its popularity, it is losing its central place of commitment in the lives of the people. 'To anyone familiar with the events of recent years it should be obvious that in the ideological and political struggle of the past century the Christian world has suffered staggering losses. In the few years since the end of World War II, we have lost to the godless camp almost one billion human beings and nearly one-third of our globe. Nor has this process come to an end. In Asia, in the Near East, in the dark continent of Africa, and even on our own doorstep—in South and Central America—forces are on the move which could spell the end of the Christian civilization.'"

The Boats We Missed "Why is it that we have been suffering such losses? At the end of the Second World War, certainly we had a tremendous superiority in military power, in industrial might and organization know-how, in sheer numbers of human beings whom we could influence, and in scientific achievement. We also had, and still have, the superior ideology. 'We lost because we were over-committed. Having only a lukewarm commitment, we lost our sense of destiny and our will to win.'"

"Born and brought up in Poland, I had the opportunity to watch some of these struggles in the places where they were occurring. I know that, in most cases, man for man, we were outworked, out-thought, out-imaged, and, I am sorry to say, frequently out-died. 'If the tide is to turn, it must start with our out-committing those who, by their own admission, are determined to destroy the Western world. In the present struggles, which are substantially of a spiritual nature, only a committed Church can be the powerhouse to generate a personal commitment commensurate with the demands of the hour. I am convinced that only the Christian Church has the answers, but it must be a committed Church if it is to be stopped.'"

So, I'm not going. I hate torchlight parades, caucuses, "I Like So And So" buttons, staying up late to listen to returns, and victory banquets at three in the morning. 'Make a trip, and the next thing you know you may be the subject of a keynote speech—that which there is nothing more boring.'"

Robert Allen Reports:

Quarles Leaving Important Legacy

WASHINGTON — The late Deputy Defense Secretary Donald Quarles is leaving a legacy that may turn out to be his most important and far-sighted service to the country.

One of the last things Quarles did, before leaving his office the day of his sudden death, was to approve a speed-up in the long-lagging atomic plane program.

For this purpose he recommended to Defense Secretary McElroy that the Air Force be given an additional $50 million for the construction of an airplane for a nuclear-powered plane.

No contract has ever been let for that. The only money so far spent for an airplane has been for design.

Fuel to start actual work has for some time been the biggest bottleneck in this 12-year-old project. Quarles proposed to finally break it by providing the Air Force with the needed extra funds.

What becomes of his action remains to be seen. McElroy had asked for Quarles' view, which the Defense chief usually followed. But in recent years the Budget Bureau, on economy grounds, has sharply slashed appropriations for atomic plane development.

In the pending budget, funds for this purpose were cut to $150 million, divided evenly between the Air Force and Atomic Energy Commission.

Whether the Budget Bureau will agree to Quarles' proposal is the big question. 'That is already being looked into by the Joint Atomic Research Subcommittee, headed by Representative Melvin Price (D-Ill.), long a vigorous advocate of full-scale measures to develop a nuclear-powered plane.

To ascertain what was being done to this, Price had arranged to have Quarles make a report to the subcommittee three days after his untimely death.

Previously the group had been informed by Major General Donald Keirn, director of the atomic plane project, that it could be completed by the fall of 1962, if work was begun this year on an airplane. Until that is started, he warned, development of a nuclear plane will continue to lag.

Keirn also told the subcommittee that shielding against radiation from the plane's reactor has a "progressed so far that this no longer presents a serious problem. 'We have reached a point,' Keirn said, "where it is now possible for a crew to fly an atomic-powered plane for 1,000 hours without receiving an overdose of radiation from the nuclear engine. Similarly there is now no danger of exposure to radiation of parts of the plane."

"What we are urgently in need of to make headway on this project is an airplane. Until we let contracts for that, our hands will be tied."

Since 1947, the Air Force and Atomic Energy Commission have spent approximately $750 million on various phases of this project. Among those on President Eisenhower's list as possible successors to Quarles is Admiral Ben Moreell, board chairman of Jones & Laughlin Steel Co. Moreell was head of the Navy's Bureau of Yards and Docks during World War II, and chief of its Materiel Division until he retired in 1947.

Born in Salt Lake City, Moreell will be 67 in September. FLASHES — Representative Joseph Martin, Mass., former Speaker and Republican Leader of the House, is writing the memoirs of his 35 years in that branch of Congress. Although Margaret Truman is shortly having her second child, she has signed up for a four-week tour on the summer theater circuit. She will act in "The Happy Time" that is booked in Nyack, N.Y., and Bristol, Pa. Defense Secretary McElroy may quit Washington, but his daughter Nancy likes it so much that she proposes living there after graduating from Radcliffe next month. Miss McElroy has taken a teaching job in one of the Capital private schools for girls. Alan's Senator Bob Bartlett is the keynote speaker at the American Public Power Association's annual convention in Seattle next week.

Inflation Could Crimp Housing Boon, Loan Officials Warn

By EDWARD COWAN
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Inflation could crimp the housing boom. This is the warning from two savings and loan industry leaders.

The boom, which carried housing starts in April to a record high, is "young and robust" with a life expectancy of at least two more years," according to James E. Bent of Hartford, Conn., president of the National League of Insured Savings Associations.

"There is no visible sign of a let-up in soaring housing output which began in 1958," Bent told the Texas Savings and Loan League in Galveston, Tex. "Rather there is every indication that the upsurge in home construction will continue well into 1960."

But he added: "There is no doubt that the potential home buyers are extremely price conscious and that industry must be guided accordingly if we are to realize the full potentials of the current boom in housing."

An even blunter warning came from C. R. Mitchell of Kansas City, Mo., president of the U.S. Savings and Loan League. He told the New Jersey Savings and Loan League that "continued inflation in land and construction costs will adversely affect the big building boom anticipated in the 1960's."

Inflation Prevents Financing

Mitchell said the toll of rising land and construction costs is reflected in savings and loan institutions' inability to finance an ap-precipately greater number of home purchases than five years ago, despite heavy gains in deposits.

"Inflation is causing the average size of our mortgage loans to rise so rapidly that year after year an ever-increasing number of dollars must be poured into the market to take care of essentially the same number of home buyers," Mitchell said.

"In 1954," he continued, "savings associations financed the construction or purchase of 810,000 houses with a total mortgage volume of nine billion dollars. In 1958, we financed 830,000 new or existing homes with a mortgage volume of $12,300,000,000."
