Nasser Points Accusing Finger

By ADNAN INAYEH
United Press International

DAMASCUS, Syria (UPI)—U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser today accused Iraqi Premier Abdul Karim Kassem of working with international communism to sabotage Arab unity.

His bitter denunciation of the Kassem regime followed mammoth demonstrations Tuesday in Baghdad in which thousands of youths surged through the streets shouting anti-Nasser demonstrations.

The Baghdad newspaper Itihaf Al Shaab, a Communist organ, reported the firing in revolt-torn northern Iraq lasted until 7 p.m. Tuesday. Baghdad Radio had reported the fighting ended early Tuesday.

The newspaper said thousands of armed peasants and inhabitants of Mosul took command of the city last evening, hunted out rebel leaders, killed them and dragged their bodies through the streets.

Armed Students in Streets

Counter demonstrations broke out in Damascus where students demonstrated against the death sentence imposed from Baghdad on Iraqi rebel leader Col. Abdel Wahab Shawaf, reported slain in northern Iraq.

Nasser said Kassem was working with communism to sabotage Arab unity but that the United Arab Republic will not "surrender our mission" of uniting the Arab world.

UPI correspondent Zaki Salama reported from Baghdad that screaming students armed with sticks, axes and rope swarmed through the streets in an unprecedented show of hostility for Nasser whom the Iraqi government accuses of supporting Sunday's revolt.

"Leave our people alone," thousands upon thousands shouted in Baghdad. "We don't want your unity, Nasser. Down with Nasser!"

The demonstrators, some mere boys in knee pants, carried big portraits of Kassem and posters pledging their lives in defense of the republic. They also denounced the pro-Western Baghdad Pact and called for execution of the still-living leaders of the overthrown Faisal regime.

Planes Strafe Villages.

Nasser's speech was his first since the Iraqi government put down a revolt by anti-Communist army officers. It followed reports Iraqi government troops in Mosul executed 60 rebel army officers without a trial and indications the firing squads were still busy.

Damascus Radio said Tuesday night Iraqi planes were strafing villages in northern Iraq where the revolt started Sunday, an indication rebel units still were holding out in some parts of the country.

Another strafing attack by Iraqi planes was reported by responsible United Arab Republic sources on the Syrian village of Hamodi, three miles inside U. A. R. territory.

There was no immediate confirmation of the strafing report. Damascus is the capital of the Syrian region of the U. A. R. which has been sharply attacked by the Iraqi government and leftist newspapers in Baghdad which said Cairo fomented the plot against Kassem.

TEXAS TANS

The uniform worn the past 25 years by Texas Highway Patrolmen took on a new look this week when patrolmen were issued stylish "Texas Tans." Adjusting the tie of Sgt. E. G. Albers new uniform is McLean patrolman R. C. Parker. The uniform takes the place of a blue uniform that went into use 25 years ago. Chief differences include the western style hat and the new color ("Texas tan"). The uniform will be used by all members of the Texas Department of Public Safety. (Daily News Photo)

Quitaque Man Contracted For Rodeo Stock

A contract has been signed with Morris Stephens of Quitaque to furnish all stock for the 1959 Top O' Texas Rodeo. Bob Andis, Events Committee chairman, reported at a meeting of Rodeo directors Tuesday night. The big show is set for Aug. 24 in Recreation Park.

This will be the first year for Stephens to produce the Pampa show, but he has been in the business for many years and has produced some of the best shows in West Texas, according to Andis. Stephens is noted for his fine bucking bulls and stout hearted broncos.

The board also approved plans for holding a Quarter Horse Show during rodeo week after hearing Rex Barrett and Ralph Morrison, executive secretary of the American Quarter Horse Association, present their ideas in connection with the proposed show. Exact time and details have not as yet been worked out, but the matter has been placed in the hands of the Kid Pony Show Committee, headed by Wiley Reynolds and Buddy Price for organization. They will be assisted by the American Quarter Horse Association office of Amarillo in handling details.

Final plans and specifications regarding the Cowgirls Barrel Race were heard and approved. Mrs. Ruth Osborne will serve as official hostess and chairman of the contest. The standard cloverleaf pattern will be used this year.

Other routine matters regarding the show were discussed and interest in the 1959 show was described, as outstanding by association president, Jake Osborne.

Storm Damage In Fort Worth High

United Press International

A vicious thunderstorm and probably a tornado or two ripped across northeast Texas Tuesday night. Fort Worth was hardest hit. Damage was estimated at more than a million dollars in Fort Worth.

The storm itself in Fort Worth injured at least six persons. Ten more were hurt in automobile accidents. Marcello Edwin Stipp, 43, of Texas, was killed when his car rammed a flooded truck near Greenville.

Winds of 75 to 85 m.p.h. tore the roof from a barn and uprooted trees at Kemp, south of Dallas. Hall damaged a few other roofs at Kemp.

The wind was accompanied by big hail and heavy rain. The hail piled up 14 inches deep in Fleet Circle in Arlington, 15 miles east of Fort Worth.

Mechanical loaders, mounted on tractors, were used to clear the streets of hail in Arlington. Street Supt. M. D. Coke estimated that his men moved 60 cubic yards of hail from a one-block area in Arlington.

The wind picked up the roof of a new and unoccupied wing of the Lena Pope Orphans Home in Fort Worth and dropped it back in splinters.

Damage to the orphans home alone was estimated at $50,000. A windstorm hit Fort Worth a week ago and did considerable damage.

"It would appear that there was some tornado damage," R. O. Bland, a meteorologist in the Fort Worth Weather Bureau, said. "The nature of the damage looks like funnel damage."

Another forecaster said he saw tornadoes trying to form while he was looking at a radar screen, but never did actually see any form.

Funnel Stands Out

Carl Freund, a reporter for the Fort Worth Press, said he saw a funnel—"a long, gray tube-like cloud"—from his home and reported that many other persons saw it.

"It stood out sharply against other clouds because the other clouds were blue-black," he said. "It was moving with the clouds."

"I watched it about five minutes. Then the dust came and sheets of rain."

Mrs. Bobby Bragan, wife of the former manager of the Fort Worth Cats baseball team, said she saw a "whirlwind" smash the roof of the new wing of the orphans home. Her husband is now manager of the Spokane, Wash., baseball team.

Seemed Like Movie

She and Joe Logley and Mike Shropshire, 16, were on the way to pick up her son, Bobby Jr., who was playing baseball at nearby Arlington Heights High School.

"That cloud was coming right at us," she said. "Then the cloud just swirled around the roof. The roof just floated up. It seemed to bounce up and down in place."

"When I saw the roof go up to pieces, I just couldn't believe it. It seemed to be like a movie I was watching."

Runaway Bus Kills 2, Hurts 16

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—A runaway bus crashed through a crowd at one of the city's busiest corners at the height of the rush hour Tuesday, killing two persons, one a veteran Pittsburgh Press reporter, and injuring 16 others.

Sam Hood, 42, who worked for the Scripps-Howard newspaper away bus crashed through a crowd at one of the city's busiest corners at the height of the rush hour Tuesday, killing two persons, one a veteran Pittsburgh Press reporter, and injuring 16 others.

Hood, a native of Morehead City, N.C., died of head and internal injuries, while Mrs. Strait was slung across the abdomen.

Hood, a legal reporter and movie recently an art critic for the Press, once won television's Big Stray award for aiding authorities solve a murder case. He had just left the Penn-Sheraton Hotel where he had interviewed the president of the American Bar Association. It was believed that he was returning to the Press when he was struck by the bus.

In Critical Condition

Mrs. Ida Cook, 65, was reported in critical condition this morning at Allegheny General Hospital following surgery for head injuries. Also among the injured was Miss Mary McCaffrey, 30, who is employed by Business Week Magazine, and who formerly worked for the Wall Street Journal. She was reported in fair condition with leg injuries.

The scene was one of panic and mass confusion as the lumbering conveyance—slammed into the midst of the huge, tightly-packed crowd, hurled three persons into a display window of Kaufmann's Department store, and crashed headlong into the window, itself.

Bus driver Jay Lane said he tried to stop the bus when a streetcar halted in front of him, but when the brakes failed, he attempted to stop by hitting the curb.

Aimed For Pole

"The bus jumped the curb," Lane said, "and I aimed for a pole."

The vehicle sheared off the pole, knocked over a nearby newsstand, injuring a newsboy slightly, cut down a fire alarm box and plunged through the huge window.

Mrs. Cook was pinned under the rear wheels of the bus for about 30 minutes while police and scores of persons tried to lift the bus from her before a jack was rushed to the wild scene.

Scattered over the area was blood, jagged glass, shoes and the injured whom bystanders helped.

U. S. Can't Win Fight On Ground

By STEWART HENSLEY
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower said today he does not believe the Russians would be unwise enough to start a war over Berlin.

Eisenhower said however that if the Russians should be foolish enough to start hostilities in the Berlin crisis, then would be the time to decide whether to use nuclear weapons to protect the Western position.

He said flatly that the United States could not win a ground war in Europe and there was no point in sending any more American force there.

If war comes in Europe, he said, he would not dread of trying to win it with ground forces but would have to use what he called other means.

The President made it clear his news conference that he contemplated resort to nuclear weapons only if it became clear the Russians was determined to push matters to the point of a conflict which could not be handled by the five American divisions now in Europe.

Again as he did last week, Eisenhower cautioned against any hysterical approach to the Berlin crisis. He called for sober study both in the United States and in Allied countries. This should be based, he said, on firm notice by Russia that the United States does not intend to abandon its rights and responsibilities or obligation in Berlin and to its Allies.

The President said he did not think very much of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's offer that taken Allied forces along with some Russian troops, remain in West Berlin, if it were made a "free city" as proposed by the Kremlin.

'It Sounded Like A Giant Explosion'

Editors Note: Robert Meecker, a teletypewriter operator for United Press International, was on route to work Tuesday when the brakes on a bus failed and it slammed into a crowd of people waiting to board a trolley. His eyewitness account follows:

By ROBERT MEECKER
United Press International

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—I was walking up Forbes Avenue on my way to work. Due in the office at 5:30 p.m., I glanced at a clock and saw it was 5:07 p.m. I decided to get a coffee and pick up an extra pack of cigarets at the drugstore located on the corner of Forbes and Smithfield streets. I never got either.

With one foot in the drug store I heard what sounded like an explosion, then the sound of rending metal and breaking glass. Across the street at the intersection was a Brentwood bus sliding up the sidewalk as though pushed by a giant hand. A woman and man were on the sidewalk trying to escape the path of the bus, but the vehicle continued its path of destruction, crushing them beneath it.

People started rushing in all directions and there were many screams from the injured and dying. The bus, which had apparently tried to miss a streetcar, (See EXPLOSION, Page 1)

Officer Is Critically Hurt In Truck

Pampa Police Officer Robert Crouch, 516 N. Warren was critically injured early this morning in a one-vehicle crash three miles west of Pampa on the Amarillo highway.

A woman companion, Ida Myers, 701 N. Wells, suffered less serious injuries. Both were taken by ambulance to Wocley Hospital.

Texas highway patrolmen reported that at about 2:15 a.m. a 1955 Chevrolet pickup driven by the Pampa woman, strayed off the left side of the highway and rammed a concrete culvert head-on. It is believed the driver went to sleep at the wheel.

Crouch suffered fractures of both ankles and a possible fractured skull. Doctors at Wocley have taken X-rays to determine the full extent of injuries. He was under an oxygen tent this morning.

Patrolmen said Ida Myers was jammed against the steering wheel and suffered chest injuries. The pickup was headed toward Pampa at the time of the wreck.

WOMAN 51, HAS QUADRUPLETS

CAPETOWN, South Africa (UPI)—A 51-year-old African woman gave birth to quadruplets today—three boys and a girl. All were reported doing fine.

Dr. James Louw, professor of Obstetrics at the University of Capetown, who assisted in the delivery, said he believed it was the first time a woman that age gave birth to four children.

ON THURSDAY ELECTION OF K-F CLUB SET

Directors of the Top O' Texas Knife and Fork Club will meet at noon Thursday to elect new officers, according to Clotilde Thompson, secretary. Three officers will be elected at this luncheon in the Pampa Hotel.

Major General Charles Willoughby, who served for many years as General Douglas MacArthur's right hand man, will be the guest speaker at the regular meeting Tuesday. Members will gather in the High School cafeteria for the 7:30-p.m. dinner.

Willoughby was MacArthur's chief of intelligence for 32 years, 1939-1951, and is credited with much of the success our military gained in the Pacific through the defense and supply plans he laid out.

Few military men have had a more brilliant or varied career than General Willoughby. It began in 1916 when he accepted an Army Commission as a second lieutenant and soon thereafter found himself in France serving with the Air Corp. There he flew Nieuport and Spad pursuit planes with considerable distinction.

The years after World War I found him an attaché in the United States Embassies in Venezuela, Colombia and Ecuador, until 1926 at which time he became an instructor in United States Service Schools where he taught tactics until becoming MacArthur's Chief of Staff in 1939.

Since retirement, Willoughby has been one of the few high ranking military men who has remained in the thick of things. Today he is considered one of the best—if not the best—informed man on military procedure and maneuvering in the critical areas of the world.

As editor of the Foreign Intelligence Digest, he is in constant touch with key people in every important theatre of activity and he is frequently called for consultation by the United States Congress on Un-American Activities, and problems arising in the Far East.

Dinner tickets are on sale at Malone Pharmacy. The purchase deadline has been set for Monday at 1 p.m.

IKE CHALLENGES HIS DEFENSE PLAN CRITICS

By JOHN A. GOLDSMITH-United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower today challenged congressional critics of his defense policies to have the courage to ask for higher taxes when they call for larger armed forces.

In his ninth consecutive weekly meeting with reporters since the first of the year, the President warned strongly against reacting to each new international crisis with demands for appreciably larger armed forces. He said some of these demands are hysterical.

He said Congress in the past had made some very serious mistakes on national defense. He thought it would be remiss at this point to change his announced program of military strength because of new crises generated by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Furthermore, he told reporters that if Congress forced additional military manpower on him at this time, he had no intention as commander in chief of sending added manpower to Europe, but would merely stick these extra troops away in some quiet and convenient place.

Seldom has Eisenhower shown more emotion and vigor in defense of his beliefs than he did at his news conference today.

He said the United States could not win a ground war in Central Europe over the Berlin crisis or anything else. He accepted the fact that nuclear weapons might have to be used if the Russians were so foolish as to start a war. But he said he did not believe anyone, even the Russians, would launch a self-defeating, self-destructing major nuclear war.

President Eisenhower spoke out at his news conference as the Senate prepared a subcommittee, headed by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, heard Gen. Maxwell Taylor, Army chief of staff, tell about his "reservations" on the President's defense budget. In an opening statement, Johnson noted that the subcommittee has been studying the nation's preparedness for more than 15 months.

"Throughout these hearings I have been unable to escape the conclusion that we are not doing enough, fast enough or thoroughly enough," Johnson said, restating a view that he has expressed frequently.

"The problem of our preparedness effort has been brought home to us sharply and dramatically by the Berlin crisis. I believe we can all agree that there are few major steps that we can take between now and May to increase the strength of our military arm," said Johnson.

Johnson stressed that the nation's defense problems will not end with the Berlin crisis. The objective of the subcommittee's present inquiry, he said, is whether the defense program is based on the considered judgment of the Joint Chiefs of Staff as to what the nation needs "or whether it is based on other considerations."

That is the Democratic theme, that budgetary considerations, not military needs, have dictated the defense budget.

Taylor was the first member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff to be called for closed-door questioning by the subcommittee.

Welfare Index Members Talk New Services

Members of the Pampa Welfare Index Tuesday discussed ways of providing Pampa's needy people with clothing, shoes, glasses, hearing aids, and furnishings. One new club was represented at this quarterly meeting. The Top O' Texas Kiwanis Club split its president, H. E. Stanfield.

Mrs. William Leonard, representing the VFW Auxiliary and the Women's Bowling League, said that the League would consider providing hearing aids for needy children. This service is handled by no other organization.

The Lions Club has an eye glass program and the Elks are supplying shoes. Both clubs are represented by Joe Tooley. Tooley said that the Elks Crippled Children's Home at Oteim can accommodate 25 more children. The Lions Crippled Children's Camp, Kerrville, will also welcome new children.

Mrs. F. W. Shotwell of the Pampa Red Cross said that the Chapter needs more crutches for distribution since there are none in the Welfare Index warehouse.

Index President Sam Begert discussed the use of the warehouse. Representatives tried to arrive at a means by which articles in the warehouse can be distributed to all who need them. Nina Spoomore, Gray County Welfare director, said she would search her files for more cases.

Begert and Envoy H. C. Seago of the Salvation Army advised welfare workers to check all cases thoroughly before giving aid since a few cases of genuine fraud have been reported.

William Leonard, VFW commander, reported on a Christmas basket program.

The annual Welfare Index meeting is set for June 9. At this time new officers will be elected. Begert appointed a nominating committee composed of C. C. Lander, chairman, Mrs. Homer Kessinger and Kay Veale.

The Welfare Index is designed to coordinate the social services of organizations in Pampa.

Red Leader Returns Home With Draft

By WALTER LOGAN-United Press International

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev prepared today to fly home from Berlin to Moscow with the draft of a separate peace treaty for East Germany in his pocket.

He also claimed "full agreement" with the East German Communists on a secret plan for joint action to push the West out of Berlin if East-West negotiations fail.

An official communique announcing the result of his talks with East Germany's Red bosses was expected today or Thursday.

It was expected to restate the unyielding Communist stand on Berlin but not mention the secret Communist plans for joint action against the West.

In Washington, President Eisenhower was expected to re-assure the nation today that the West has not been divided by Khrushchev's tactics on Berlin and Germany.

Berlin Plan Opposed

Eisenhower was expected to tell a news conference that Khrushchev's offer to permit token Allied forces to remain in West Berlin if it becomes a free city could not be accepted.

The West rejects the idea of turning West Berlin into a "free city," and no apparent concessions by the Communist party leader changes that situation.

Reports from Paris said some differences remained between the French and British approaches to the Berlin crisis, but all spokesmen insisted the basic Western stand was the same.

The Paris reports said the West also was generally agreed on a mid-March foreign ministers meeting with the Soviet Union and possibly a summit conference later in the summer.

Mac Reports to Cabinet

But none of the Western Allies was prepared to accept the Soviet-dictated agenda for such a meeting—Berlin only. The West wants a full European settlement discussed, including the German question, disarmament and other related topics.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, back in London after his Paris talks with President Charles de Gaulle, called a cabinet meeting today to report on his mission.

Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd returned Tuesday night and reported they had reached "a great measure of sympathy and agreement" with De Gaulle on the stand to be taken against the Russians.

He sandwiched in the cabinet meeting and an appearance in Parliament before leaving for

Man's License Was Suspended

A 21 year old Pampa man, whose drivers license had been suspended four times previously, was fined $25 in county court today for again driving while his license was suspended.

The man, William Frank Smith, 728 N. Zimmer, entered a plea of guilty and will likely have his license suspended one more year. It was Smith's fifth driving offense since 1957.

loading passengers, continued its slide and came to rest against a department store on the corner.

After rushing upstairs to the office, so the story would move on our wires, and in order to get a photographer to the scene, I returned to the scene to help him copy and help out where I could.

The scene of the accident was by now under control of the police. When they pulled the bus away, all that remained was a pool of blood, a pair of woman's high heel shoes and fragments of glass.

It was the worst accident I've ever witnessed and I don't think I'll ever forget the people strewn about like rag dolls trying to get out of the way of the bus.

WOMAN REPORTS LOSS OF MONEY

Mrs. L. P. Fort, 129 S. Faulkner, reported to Pampa Police Tuesday someone entered her home during the morning hours and took $30 from her purse.

Mrs. Fort said she was hanging clothes in her backyard when the prowler entered her home. The prowler, contained $53. Police believe the money was taken by a youngster.

Red Leader Returns Home With Draft

By WALTER LOGAN-United Press International

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev prepared today to fly home from Berlin to Moscow with the draft of a separate peace treaty for East Germany in his pocket.

He also claimed "full agreement" with the East German Communists on a secret plan for joint action to push the West out of Berlin if East-West negotiations fail.

An official communique announcing the result of his talks with East Germany's Red bosses was expected today or Thursday.

It was expected to restate the unyielding Communist stand on Berlin but not mention the secret Communist plans for joint action against the West.

In Washington, President Eisenhower was expected to re-assure the nation today that the West has not been divided by Khrushchev's tactics on Berlin and Germany.

Berlin Plan Opposed

Eisenhower was expected to tell a news conference that Khrushchev's offer to permit token Allied forces to remain in West Berlin if it becomes a free city could not be accepted.

The West rejects the idea of turning West Berlin into a "free city," and no apparent concessions by the Communist party leader changes that situation.

Reports from Paris said some differences remained between the French and British approaches to the Berlin crisis, but all spokesmen insisted the basic Western stand was the same.

The Paris reports said the West also was generally agreed on a mid-March foreign ministers meeting with the Soviet Union and possibly a summit conference later in the summer.

Mac Reports to Cabinet

But none of the Western Allies was prepared to accept the Soviet-dictated agenda for such a meeting—Berlin only. The West wants a full European settlement discussed, including the German question, disarmament and other related topics.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, back in London after his Paris talks with President Charles de Gaulle, called a cabinet meeting today to report on his mission.

Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd returned Tuesday night and reported they had reached "a great measure of sympathy and agreement" with De Gaulle on the stand to be taken against the Russians.

He sandwiched in the cabinet meeting and an appearance in Parliament before leaving for

High-Waisted Coats In Rainbow Hues Stress Femininity

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK (NEA) — The coat with the high waistline and brilliant color is the one that will catch the admiring glances in this year's Easter parade.

It isn't just a high waistline that makes it new. It's the whole cut of the coat, wide, bulky and away from the figure. The waistline is usually marked by seaming or sometimes, as in case of the kimono coat, not marked at all. Where seaming appears, it's finished off by buttons or bows.

The Easter coat may have a wide, notched collar, a high, wide and square collar or no collar at all. The no-collar type is a natural for a fill-in of sparkling crystals or a delicate silk chiffon scarf.

There will be many plaids and checks on parade this year, many of them big and bold. And there are more white coats and pale-beiges than in many seasons.

Color will fairly sparkle in the Easter sun. Paris pink, vivid sapphire and turquoise blues, soft lilacs, bright golds and reds will all take part.

Fabrics are light, fluffily, softly textured woolsens, sometimes with nubby surface. Loopy and brushed mohairs are especially beautiful in white or the very pale beige which show them off to advantage. Sleeves stay at the three-quarter mark except for the kimono coat, where they are cut at just below the elbow length.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Von Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have heard that gentlemen prefer blondes so I decided to make a study of blondes for the sake of experiment. In 1938 I dated 156 blondes. They included silver blondes, strawberry blondes, platinum blondes and dishwater blondes. In order to compare them, I dated the same number of brunettes. My survey showed that 97 blondes were too stupid for conversation, 101 blondes were willing to park on the first date (67 suggested it) and only 23 blondes asked me if I was married. I found the brunettes to be brighter by far, much more discriminating and far more sincere. Now, what do you think of that?

SCIENTIST: I think I know why gentle men prefer blondes.

DEAR ABBY: My husband runs a grocery store. It is supposed to be strictly cash and carry but we extend credit to some of our good customers who can't pay cash all the time. One family has been six to eight months behind with their bills but we still give them groceries. I wouldn't take food out of the mouths of children but Abby, do you think it is right for people to ask us to charge (and deliver) beer and cigarettes? I told my husband to tell them we wouldn't stand for it, but he is afraid they will get mad and trade elsewhere and we will be stuck for what they owe us. Should he talk to them or not?

GROCER'S WIFE: Your husband should tell these people privately.

of course) that you are doing them a special favor by giving them credit and they should not abuse the favor by charging anything but necessities.

DEAR ABBY: Our son is 13 years old and he goes in for the sports boys of his age enjoy. We are worried about him because he is such a poor loser. When he comes home from a game we don't have to ask him how he did. It shows on his face a block away. He has even come home with the tears standing in his eyes. Is it natural for a boy to be such a poor loser?

CONCERNED: DEAR CONCERNED: There are no "good losers" — just good actors. Your son should learn how to control his feelings a little better.

DEAR ABBY: I am the oldest of five children. My father is sick and cannot work so our house is pretty run down. A boy who belongs to a very well-to-do family has asked me for several dates and I have accepted but I tell him to meet me at the show for I do not want him to see our house. He keeps asking me why he can't pick me up at home and also take me home. I don't know what to tell him. I am 16. What should I say?

ASHAMED: DEAR ASHAMED: You need not be ashamed of your home no matter how plain it is. By all means, have him call for you at home and return you there. If he's the right kind of a boy, it won't matter.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "SHEEP": ISH IN THE STOCK ROOM: Take it on the lamb. She's too temperamental.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

RUTH MILLEN

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Holding Paul's map up before the class, his teacher said, "This is pretty good work. It's not as neat as Harriet's but it's fairly accurate."

Later Paul showed the map to his mother. Laying it on the table where she was serving, cocoa to his Aunt Lou and little sister, he said, "Miss Purdy said mine was the best map any kid made in class today."

Something in his voice so irritated his Aunt Lou that she snapped, "Oh, for heaven's sake, Paul why do you always have to brag about yourself?"

This question so troubled Paul that he couldn't drink his cocoa and retreated to the solitude of the sunporch.

I don't wonder. As a first-born child he can't help exaggerating his achievements. It's how he expresses his old fear that he's an unsatisfactory child. By exaggerating Miss Purdy's approval of his map, he insists he isn't. His idea is, "Unless I brag I'll have to go on being the child who so disappointed Mother that she had to arrange for another one — and have sister."

Parents who have been first-born children themselves should find it especially easy to understand their oldest child's bragging.

We have only to recall our own childish explanation of our brother or sister's arrival. Like Paul, we accounted for the rival in only one way: we were a disappointment.

Even today, we may not be fully conscious of how we felt because the feeling was very scary. But out of that secret fear of our worthlessness we probably developed a need of our own to exaggerate our achievements. And may still be struggling with a tendency to boastfulness.

Bragging is a common way human beings express their fear that they are unwanted.

In a business recession, advertisements get awfully boastful. They insist quite shamelessly that their manufacturer's products are much, much better than any other manufacturer's.

Just as Paul has to declare his

Borger Sets Record Against PHS Golfers

Borger's entire high school golf team made like Sammy Sneed, Ben Hogan, and Byron Nelson all rolled into one at Pampa Country Club Tuesday afternoon. The Borger linkers shot a sizzling one-over-par 285 to set a high school team record for the course, and rout Bird Dog Trice's Pampa golfers in a practice match. Pampa had a team score of 237, as Don Fox fired 78, and Larry Tarvin, Gene Yeary, and John Ellis all carded 85's. Jerry Abbott captured medalist honors for the match with a three-under-par 68 for Borger. John Ward and Don Lackey each shot 72's, and Don Seamster fired a 73. Abbott and Seamster finished among the top four golfers in the state in last year's state Jaycee meet, and went to the National Amateur. With its decisive win, Borger marked itself as a top-heavy favorite for the district title. The Tuesday match was not, however, the Borger victory was made even more startling by the fact that the squad has been working out only about a week, and that there is only one senior on the team.

In a B-team match, Borger topped Pampa by 19 strokes, 328 to 345. For the Bullpups, Ronald Ward carded 74 (lower than the lowest Pampa A team score), Gary Grimes fired 82, Allen McNutt and Rocky Lister each shot 85's. For the Pampa B squad, Paul Machowicz had 81, George Smith 84, Ronnie Ethridge 85, and Robert Tidwell 95. For Pampa, Tuesday's matches were warmups for the Southwest Recreation meet in Fort Worth Friday. Some 35 or 40 high school teams are expected to be entered in that meet, the official season opener for Trice's linkers. The Pampa squad will leave for Fort Worth Thursday, play in the Southwest Recreation Friday, then move into Wichita Falls Saturday for a four-way meet with Broger, Plainview, and the home-standing Coyotes. Trice has back three of the four starters from last year's team, which placed third in the district. The three returning starters are Fox, Tarvin, and Yeary. The rest of the squad has had some experience. The golf championship is decided in three separate district meets, not one big district meet as in track and other spring sports. Trice explained the method of picking a champion Tuesday: "Each team plays on three separate courses, and the matches are rotated from town to town each year. Each team totals its scores for the three meets, and the team with the lowest total score is declared district champion." The winner and runner-up teams in the district go to a regional meet. The regional team winner and medalist team are eligible for the state meet. There has been one major rule change in district play this year. "Each team plays five men now," said Trice, "but only the scores of the four low men are counted. This helps cut down the home course advantage." "Previously, only four men had played for each team, and all four scores counted."

McClore Fight To Be on TV Tonight

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ten amateur fighters will replace two pro battlers tonight when the finals of the five heavier weights in the western Golden Gloves championships takes over the usual Wednesday night network TV show. Only one of the amateurs, middleweight Wilbur McClure of Toledo, has been on video previously, and he appeared on the same show in 1958 when he won the 160-pound title. Tonight he will tangle with Herbert Willis of Cincinnati, one of the five bouts assured for TV fans. The other bouts will be Jimmy Jones of Chicago against Carl McClure of Fort Worth, in the heavyweight division, Don Sargent of Minneapolis against Fred Hernandez of Omaha in the welterweights, Jefferson Davis of Nashville against Cassius Clay of Louisville in the light heavyweights, and Norman Springs, Cincinnati, against Freddie Davis, Champaign, Ill., in the lightweights. Scheduling of the five bouts, should they all go the distance, should give the video fans the same amount of time for scrapping, but there might be more action. While the pros usually go to three-minute rounds, the amateurs will have 15 two-minute rounds, each taking 30 minutes overall. But, the amateurs usually are swinging from the heels at every opportunity, with not too much emphasis on defense. "And the

Tracksters Run Tuesday In Practice Meet, With Lefors

When the weatherman finally gave Dwayne Lyons' Pampa Tracksters a break, they wasted no time taking advantage of it. Pampa ran a practice track meet at the high school Tuesday, against a squad from Lefors High. This was the first time this year that any large group of Pampa tracksters had been timed in practice. Tuesday's practice event was a warmup for the Snyder Relay Saturday. The Pampa team will be entered, along with several other from the Panhandle area. Up until the beginning of this week, most of the running was done in sweat suits, because of cold weather. Lyons' tracksters scored only one point in their first meet of the year, at Fort Stockton, and finished fifth last week at Graham. As a whole, Lyons was dissatisfied with Tuesday's times, though he was not pessimistic. "We're mostly just working on conditioning now. We'll have to get in shape to run before we worry about the times." Lyons explained that his squad is so far behind that they have done no jumping at all in practice. In the other field events, discus and shot put, some work has been done, but the weight men are still not ready to make a serious challenge in a meet. "Our best shot put so far," said Lyons, "has been 47 feet by Rex Williams. It takes something like 50 feet to win most meets." Lyons added that Paul Brown has thrown the shot 46 feet, and that Rowland Stone has hit 40 feet, 11 inches. There have been no measurements on practice discus throws. Tuesday times in the 200-yard dash were Watkins' 24.3, Buddy Rawls 24.7 and Dwan Urbanczyk's 25.3. In the mile run, Gross turned in a 5:12, King a 5:18, and Davenport a 5:26. The mile relay team of Williams, Rawls, Locke, and Urbanczyk ran 3:41 and the 400 relay team of Williams, Locke, Rawls, and Watkins clocked 4:47 seconds. In Monday's workout, the only real practice session for the squad besides Tuesday's practice meet, Lyons ran most of his squad through time trials on the 160, 200, and 330 yard dashes. Millers ran four 660's, 880 men ran four 330's and 440 men ran a 110, a 220, and a 330.

Longhorns Name 1959 Captains

AUSTIN (UPI) — Fullback Don Allen of New London and end Monte Lee of Hale Center are co-captains of the 1959 University of Texas football team. They were elected Tuesday as Coach Darrell Royal sent his Longhorns into their final week of spring practice. Allen, a 195-pound hard hitting back, lettered two seasons. Lee missed last season after stand-out duty as a sophomore in 1957. Spring training for the Longhorns closes Saturday.

IN NCAA TOURNAMENT NAVY UPSETS N. CAR.

N.M. between Idaho State and New Mexico State, the stage is set for 16 teams to open NCAA regional play Friday night at four sites — Charlotte, N.C., Evanston, Ill., Lawrence, Kans., and San Francisco. Boston U. qualified to meet Navy at Charlotte, 60-58, and West Virginia at last overcome its NCAA jinx in truncating Dartmouth, 42-48, to earn a Charlotte berth against St. Joseph's (Pa.). Marquette earned an Evanston berth opposite Michigan State by flipping Bowling Green, 89-71, and Louisville earned an Evanston spot at state rival Kentucky by beating Eastern Kentucky, 77-63. The New York crowd stared in disbelief and then cheered in delight as the Middies stormed to a 34-22 halftime lead and built the margin to 59-40 with seven minutes remaining. They did it on: 1. Brilliant ballhandling; 2. A steel-trap "combination" defense; 3. Deadeye shooting; and 4. Above all, just plain grit. Jay Metzler, whose 6-6 is the Navy height limit, led the Middlemids with 28 points. Six-nine Mike Moran tallied 22 points and dominated rebounding to lead Marquette to its victory at Lexington. Little guard Jim Darrow tallied 26 in a brilliant but vain effort for Bowling Green. Red-haired Don Goldstein's 25 points paced Louisville as it repeated a regular-season win over Eastern Kentucky. The Cardinals were in front all the way after taking the lead in the opening minutes of play. Tonight's Idaho State-New Mexico State winner will go to the San Francisco regional against St. Mary's (Calif.). New Mexico State has won 24 straight games on its home court at Las Cruces. The quarterfinals of the small-college tournament are on tap today at Evansville, Ind., with these pairings: North Carolina A&T-American U., So. Dakota St.-Los Angeles St., Hope-Southwest Missouri, and Evansville-St. Michael's (Vt.). Also on tap are second-round games in the NAIA tournament at Kansas City. AVILA RETIRES — MIAMI, Fla. (UPI) — Bobby Avila, who led the American League with a .341 batting average in 1957, has notified the Baltimore Orioles he is retiring from baseball to become a salesman. The Orioles gain a 5-4 deadlock in Tuesday night's only league action. Moore now has totaled 37 goals and 46 assists against all comers this season for 83 points.

MICK'S SHOULDER MAY BE INJURED

By FRED DOWN
United Press International
The New York Yankees were faced today with the possibility that $80,000-sluggier Mickey Mantle will be hampered — at least during spring training and perhaps during the American League season — by a recurrence of his 1957 World Series shoulder ailment. Mantle, who hopes to shoot for the triple batting crown, was advised Tuesday not to throw for three days after he felt pain in his right shoulder. Dr. Sydney Gaynor, the club physician, found no calcium deposit and told Mantle to resume his workouts but to refrain from throwing. Nobody in the Yankee camp seemed inclined to push the panic button, but reporters were surprised when Mantle revealed he has had recent trouble with the shoulder and has undergone treatment. The Yankees had made no mention that anything was wrong with their super star. Mantle first suffered the injury when he collided at second base with Red Schoendienst of the Milwaukee Braves during the 1957 World Series. Like his predecessor, Joe DiMaggio, Mantle is a very slow healer and apparently is subject to recurring ailments more than most athletes. Braves Beat Yankees — The Milwaukee Braves didn't help Casey Stengel's disposition when they beat the Yankees for the second straight time, 5-2. Rookies Jerry Nelson and Bob Giggie and veteran Joey Jay combined to hold the world champions to four hits, including a two-run homer by Andy Carey. Hank Aaron homered for the Braves. The San Francisco Giants also received some bad news when pitcher Red Worthington was ordered to New York City for a possible knee operation. Worthington, a holdout, reported from Birmingham, Ala., that his knee has puffed up and Dr. Harrison McLaughlin will decide whether an operation is necessary. The Boston Red Sox remained the only unbeaten team on the grapefruit circuit when they beat the Giants, 8-2, for their third straight win. Jackie Jensen drove in two runs with a single and double and Frank Malzone delivered a two-run single to spark Boston's attack. Reds Defeat A's — Catcher Ed Bailey blasted a three-run, seventh-inning homer that carried the Cincinnati Reds to a 4-3 decision over the Kansas City Athletics. The blow came off Ralph Terry after doubles by Frank Thomas and Frank Robinson produced one run. Joe Nuxhall stopped a Kansas City rally in the ninth. Tony Taylor clubbed out two singles and a double for a perfect day and led the Chicago Cubs to a 9-3 rout of the Cleveland Indians. Cal McLish was rocked for five runs in the first inning. Taylor now has collected seven hits in his last nine trips to the plate. Rocky Nelson, battling for a major league job after many brilliant minor league seasons, connected with a two-run single in the seventh inning as the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-1. Ronnie Kline, P.G. Smith and Roy Face pitched a four-hitter against the Cardinals, who have dropped all four of their exhibition games. Johnny Groth delivered a sacrifice fly with the bases filled in the seventh inning to give the Detroit Tigers a 3-2 edge over the Los Angeles Dodgers. Joe Pignatano paced Los Angeles with two doubles and a single. Stan Lopata drove in Valmy Thomas with a ninth-inning single as the Philadelphia Phillies edged the Chicago White Sox, 3-2. Ken Lehman, Jim Hearn, Don Erickson and Bob Conley held the White Sox to seven hits. Pedro Ramos went five innings and allowed only four hits as the Washington Senators beat the Baltimore Orioles, 6-5, in a night game before 1,609 at Miami, Fla. J. W. Porter, Reno Bertoia and Julio Becquer homered for the Senators, who squared their exhibition record at 2-2.

Johnny Groth delivered a sacrifice fly with the bases filled in the seventh inning to give the Detroit Tigers a 3-2 edge over the Los Angeles Dodgers. Joe Pignatano paced Los Angeles with two doubles and a single. Stan Lopata drove in Valmy Thomas with a ninth-inning single as the Philadelphia Phillies edged the Chicago White Sox, 3-2. Ken Lehman, Jim Hearn, Don Erickson and Bob Conley held the White Sox to seven hits. Pedro Ramos went five innings and allowed only four hits as the Washington Senators beat the Baltimore Orioles, 6-5, in a night game before 1,609 at Miami, Fla. J. W. Porter, Reno Bertoia and Julio Becquer homered for the Senators, who squared their exhibition record at 2-2.

McClore Fight To Be on TV Tonight

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ten amateur fighters will replace two pro battlers tonight when the finals of the five heavier weights in the western Golden Gloves championships takes over the usual Wednesday night network TV show. Only one of the amateurs, middleweight Wilbur McClure of Toledo, has been on video previously, and he appeared on the same show in 1958 when he won the 160-pound title. Tonight he will tangle with Herbert Willis of Cincinnati, one of the five bouts assured for TV fans. The other bouts will be Jimmy Jones of Chicago against Carl McClure of Fort Worth, in the heavyweight division, Don Sargent of Minneapolis against Fred Hernandez of Omaha in the welterweights, Jefferson Davis of Nashville against Cassius Clay of Louisville in the light heavyweights, and Norman Springs, Cincinnati, against Freddie Davis, Champaign, Ill., in the lightweights. Scheduling of the five bouts, should they all go the distance, should give the video fans the same amount of time for scrapping, but there might be more action. While the pros usually go to three-minute rounds, the amateurs will have 15 two-minute rounds, each taking 30 minutes overall. But, the amateurs usually are swinging from the heels at every opportunity, with not too much emphasis on defense. "And the

IN NCAA TOURNAMENT NAVY UPSETS N. CAR.

N.M. between Idaho State and New Mexico State, the stage is set for 16 teams to open NCAA regional play Friday night at four sites — Charlotte, N.C., Evanston, Ill., Lawrence, Kans., and San Francisco. Boston U. qualified to meet Navy at Charlotte, 60-58, and West Virginia at last overcome its NCAA jinx in truncating Dartmouth, 42-48, to earn a Charlotte berth against St. Joseph's (Pa.). Marquette earned an Evanston berth opposite Michigan State by flipping Bowling Green, 89-71, and Louisville earned an Evanston spot at state rival Kentucky by beating Eastern Kentucky, 77-63. The New York crowd stared in disbelief and then cheered in delight as the Middies stormed to a 34-22 halftime lead and built the margin to 59-40 with seven minutes remaining. They did it on: 1. Brilliant ballhandling; 2. A steel-trap "combination" defense; 3. Deadeye shooting; and 4. Above all, just plain grit. Jay Metzler, whose 6-6 is the Navy height limit, led the Middlemids with 28 points. Six-nine Mike Moran tallied 22 points and dominated rebounding to lead Marquette to its victory at Lexington. Little guard Jim Darrow tallied 26 in a brilliant but vain effort for Bowling Green. Red-haired Don Goldstein's 25 points paced Louisville as it repeated a regular-season win over Eastern Kentucky. The Cardinals were in front all the way after taking the lead in the opening minutes of play. Tonight's Idaho State-New Mexico State winner will go to the San Francisco regional against St. Mary's (Calif.). New Mexico State has won 24 straight games on its home court at Las Cruces. The quarterfinals of the small-college tournament are on tap today at Evansville, Ind., with these pairings: North Carolina A&T-American U., So. Dakota St.-Los Angeles St., Hope-Southwest Missouri, and Evansville-St. Michael's (Vt.). Also on tap are second-round games in the NAIA tournament at Kansas City. AVILA RETIRES — MIAMI, Fla. (UPI) — Bobby Avila, who led the American League with a .341 batting average in 1957, has notified the Baltimore Orioles he is retiring from baseball to become a salesman. The Orioles gain a 5-4 deadlock in Tuesday night's only league action. Moore now has totaled 37 goals and 46 assists against all comers this season for 83 points.

Dick Moore's fantastic sniping against the Detroit Red Wings is carrying him — to his second straight National Hockey League scoring championship. The rugged right wing scored his 11th goal against Detroit this season in helping the Montreal Canadiens gain a 5-4 deadlock in Tuesday night's only league action. Moore now has totaled 37 goals and 46 assists against all comers this season for 83 points.

Veeck Takes Over Chisox

CHICAGO (UPI) — Bill Veeck and his associates, the new majority stockholders of the Chicago White Sox, visit Comiskey Park today to see the baseball empire they have purchased.

Veeck and his syndicate, which includes former major league star Hank Greenberg and five investment bankers, paid $2,700,000 Tuesday to Mrs. Dorothy Rigney for her majority stock interest.

The purchase gave Veeck's group 54 per cent of the stock. The other 46 per cent is held by Mrs. Rigney's brother, Charles (Chuck) Comiskey, who battled futilely in the courts to prevent the sale.

Comiskey in Florida

Veeck hoped to meet with Comiskey, a Sox vice president, as soon as possible and discuss the sale and the future of the American League club.

Comiskey, however, was in Florida at the Sox training camp in Tampa. He was not expected to return to Chicago until Thursday, however.

"We'll keep coming back to Comiskey Park," Veeck said, "until we can sit down with him in what we pray will be a most amicable discussion."

Veeck emphasized he hoped to keep Comiskey in the organization as a "partner."

"We are not going on the muscle," he said. "We don't want any of the razzing and scrapping that has gone on for years now."

Veeck and Greenberg hoped to negotiate with Comiskey to obtain equal status for all three in running the club. John Rigney, the husband of Dorothy, will remain a vice president of the club for the time being, Veeck said.

Indicates Amicable Agreement

The colorful Veeck, who previously operated other American League clubs at St. Louis and Cleveland, indicated an amicable agreement with Comiskey would be the fulfilling of two purchase clauses in his contract under which the price he must pay could be trimmed. One clause would cut the price $175,000 if he failed to obtain control of 80 per cent of the stock within one year, while the second would reduce the price $200,000 if he failed to obtain control of the board of directors within three years.

AAA Champ Smiley Also Places Two

AUSTIN (UPI) — Class AAAA champion Pampa and AAA title-winner Houston Smiley won two spots each on the All-Star team of the 39th annual state schoolboy basketball tournament announced today.

The Texas Sports Writers Assn. announced Pampa placed Mack Layne and Coyle Winborn on the AAAA team, which also included Dave Somerville of runner-up Dallas Jefferson, Gonzalo (Chalo) Molina of Laredo and Alton Adams of Houston Milby.

Adams tied the Class AAAA single-game scoring record of 33 points.

Houston Smiley placed seventh-foot Lewis Qualls and Sammy Knight on the Class AAA squad, rounded out by Steve Slagle and Ken Clearman of runner-up Hereford, and Bobby Parks of Kilgore.

Qualls missed becoming a unanimous choice by one vote, while Layne and Somerville were two votes shy.

GIANTS SIGN KELLY

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Giants have signed rookie Ellison Kelly of Michigan State to a 1956 contract. Kelly, a 230-pound guard who played both offense and defense for the Spartans, was the Giants' No. 5 draft choice.

Archer Wins On Ruling

HOUSTON (UPI) — Joey Archer of New York won a split decision over middleweight Tony Dupas of New Orleans Tuesday night after ring officials and everyone else except a Houston newspaperman thought he lost.

Dupas accidentally butted Archer and opened an inch-long gash over his left eye. Trainer Bill Gore was unable to stop the flow of blood, and threw in the towel.

When Archer was unable to answer the bell, the ring announcer gave the fight to Dupas on a seventh-round technical knockout.

Southwest Missouri pits Hope of Michigan against Thursday night and the pay-off and consolation games the following night.

It's Bad Form

Quite a few folks are getting disturbed over this one. It seems that a Congressman from Iowa, Representative Steven V. Carter, a Democrat, has hired his 19-year-old son at a fancy salary to be his alter-ego in his tax-supporting office.

BETTER JOBS

Employer's Job Those people who do not employ labor are inclined to think that the employer does not have much of a job. To my way of thinking the employer has a difficult job. His principal job, it seems to me, is to get each one of his employes to realize how important what he is doing really is.

When I was working on a newspaper that I did not control I used to wish that I was in another line of business. I thought it was much more important to be manufacturing something of a national nature than producing a local newspaper.

So the big job of an employer is to get each one of the employes to do the best he can in fulfilling the job he has, no matter how minor his part may be.

The ideal employer should as nearly as possible let each employe work as long as and as hard as he wants to—and not limit him to any number of hours that he may work at his job.

Usually the successful employe is very enthusiastic about the service he is rendering. And enthusiasm is contagious.

But you know how people are. They don't seem to mind stealing, if only it's conducted in good form. You've got to wear the old school tie and carry on "for the good of the country."

Don't Talk To Me—

Robert Allen Reports:

One Million Asked For Twin Meetings

WASHINGTON — It's official now — there will be both a foreign ministers and a summit conference on the war-threatening Berlin crisis.

The State Department wants $1,000,000 especially for this purpose. This emergency fund to meet fateful parleys has been formally requested of the House Appropriations Committee by Assistant Secretary of State Francis Wilcox.

I'd like to use it on the head. Of dear-old Mao Tse-tung. I'm deeply interested in the immense cost of military missiles as disclosed in a special report to the House Appropriations Committee.

According to this backstage report, total Army, Navy and Air Force spending for missiles from 1954 to July 1, 1960 will be approximately $17 billion.

This huge sum is 6 percent of the national debt of $283 billion. Of the breathtaking $17 billion total for missiles up to July 1960, the Air Force accounts for around $7.5 billion; the Army $6.537 billion; and the Navy $3 billion.

The House Appropriations Committee, now deeply chagrined in the military budget for the fiscal year that ends June 30, 1960, is endeavoring to ascertain the exact cost of the much-discussed "shift from conventional weapons to rockets and missiles."

Two reasons were cited by Wilcox in explaining to the Appropriations Committee why the State Department deemed it necessary to ask for this extra $1,000,000:

(1) The Department's regular funds for international conferences are virtually exhausted, and money in the new budget will not be available until July 1, start of the fiscal year.

Looking Sideways

By WHITEY BOLTON

NEW YORK — There is a play in New York I did not like when I saw it. I have not come to like one whit more since it opened and I am convinced that it is a pretentious and contrived item in fairly feeble poetry. It is called "J. B." and a squadron of MacLeish's play based on the Book of Job was just great. So be it.

But my critical reservations have nothing — and had nothing — to do with a vast professional admiration for a young woman who is slugging her way through a difficult and demanding job without receiving much deserved acclaim for same.

Her name is Nan Martin and she is a whole of an actress. She plays what would amount to Miss Job and although I have never met the lady in my life I said at the time the play opened that she, as Sarah, plays her major moment of heartbreak and despair beautifully.

She did and at the time I did not even know that she was married to an old song — and a dance friend named Bobby Dolan. If I had known it, and she hadn't played the thing beautifully, I would have taken the bastinado to her, old friend or no old friend. She knows it and I know it.

Circumstance brought us together the other sunny moon in Absinthe House and we fell to talking and beneath the facade of an actress I found a fine young woman who has done a variety of work, including a stance as a high fashion model.

Then, as now, she is a creature of professional avidity. If there is anything to be learned, she hungers to learn it. It is unappreciable hunger.

"I did my full share of understudy things, they call them standby roles now," she said. "An elegant evasion, if I ever heard one. I understudied on Broadway, on tour, off-Broadway and in all possible ways. I used the opportunity to learn. I learned about English actresses, for example. They come here and paralyze everyone in sight and ear — about with their performances. They are looked upon as something magic and special. I understudied, too, and I discovered what the magic was: voice. They were not as actresses any better or any worse than any other actresses of any descent or kind. But they sounded so superb that it confused people, even critics, into believing them to be great. They weren't great. They were good — and augmented that with voice control and pitch such as precious few American actresses have. You just sit in a theater and listen to British players. That's what it's all about."

She has eyes fit to make a locomotive headlamp jealous, large, luminous, penetrating. Her mouth is strong and firm, her facial bone structure spare and interesting.

She is Irish and Scandinavian in equal parts and has a feeling that, as demonstrated in her own life, it is an explosive combination. Or can be. Both races owe to mood, particularly despair.

"We can sink ourselves deep into a wet marsh of despondency," she said. "The so-called Black Irish mood. I don't know the Scandinavian equivalent. But it exists and is devastating."

Generally, a person coming down with shingles will first have pain and tingling on part of one side of the body (or the face), for three or four days, usually associated with fever. It may be difficult to know what is happening at this time, but suddenly typical blisters appear on one side which make diagnosis easy.

Another curious thing about herpes is that it seems to be somehow related to the virus which causes chickenpox. Some people have developed herpes after exposure to chickenpox. Indeed, small epidemics of shingles have developed at the same time as epidemics of chickenpox.

Most medical textbooks say that there is no single specific treatment for shingles. I have, however, received several letters from people who have tried various preparations — for are marketing such preparations — who claim definite benefits for particular drugs. Certainly the pain should be treated by local preparations of pain reducing drugs. If the doctor thinks advisable, one or more special preparations could be tried since some of them have been reported on quite favorably.

As a rule, the victim of shingles recovers in two or three weeks or more without any harmful remainder. However, there are a few — particularly the elderly — and those with eye complications — who have long — lasting nerve pain following shingles.

This, when it occurs, is most troublesome since it may be prolonged and is resistant to most forms of treatment. In some surgery of the nerve or nerve ganglion may be necessary to bring relief.

Little has been done in the way of prevention for shingles. It is a disease which one could begin with prevention unless some vaccine could be developed.

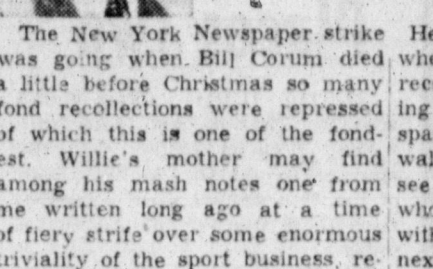

Ever then, since most people never have shingles at all, one would hesitate before recommending vaccination of the entire population.

Fair Enough

Always To Hold

Corum Above Reproach

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The New York Newspaper strike was going when Bill Corum died a little before Christmas so many fond recollections were repressed of which this is one of the fondest. Willie's mother may find among his mosh notes one from me written long ago at a time of fiery strife over some enormous triviality of the sport business, regarding a vow that, somewhat ever in public controversy, I would hold him above reproach as long as the waters should run. This is an ironic term often cited by the Chicagoans of Oklahoma whose treaties with the Great White Father all were of that duration as their historians often remind us, adding that the only treaties which we ever have honored are the latest ones.

Will Corum, like Harry Truman, came from the dark and bloody ground of Missouri and his mother, like Truman's was a little girl when the James and Younger boys were riding and Quantrell was the name of a terror whose passing left farmer-gentlemen drooping over the bodies of their men by the dawn's early light. Mrs. Truman was a strong-minded lady and the best she could do for Harry when he began messing around in civil rights was to keep a still tongue and Bill Corum used to tell us that when he was shipped up to the Yankee division as a platoon leader in 1918, his mother and her sister wrote him to succeed right away and come on home.

Will, himself, was a fellow on including some of the most notorious of the prohibition era. He came by this disposition honestly because when he was a boy, still, there was blood on the grass from the Centralia Massacre in which Jesse and Frank James, Bill Anderson and others held up a passenger train from St. Joe to St. Louis and, just incidentally, hauled out 32 sick and wounded Union soldiers and shot them all dead by the right of way.

How Inflation Works

It takes awhile before people catch on to the dangers of inflation. Most taxpayers are entirely ignorant of the pain and travail occasioned by taxation, particularly direct taxation. Indirect taxes are more devious and deadly. But the most indirect taxation of all is inflation, and nothing is quite so dangerous in the realm of financial management.

In this field could be illustrated by a conversation which ensued in 1775 in the Continental Congress. The representatives of the various colonies had gathered to discuss the chore of raising funds for George Washington's army.

"So you think, gentlemen," asked one member, "that I will consent to load my constituents with taxes when we can send to our printer and get a wagonload of money, two dozen sheets of which will pay the whole expense of printing?"

The idea was so popular that as a matter of historic fact, whole wagonloads of money WERE printed and circulated. The result, as most persons of school age already know, was the phrase, "not worth a Continent."

The money, so readily manufactured by the economically ignorant representatives of the people, became in time utterly without value.

There is, in any government, the tendency to turn to this type of practice. The reason for this tendency relates to two psychological factors: 1. a sense of guilt on the part of the politicians, for they are never willing to live within the economies they promise when they campaign for office; and 2. a sense of alarm that the people who voted for them may discover their double dealing and throw them out of office. Hence, it has become almost axiomatic in these United States for politicians to believe that a "little" inflation, say about a 3 percent inflation, is actually "good" for the economy.

Here's how it works. The government now doesn't order printing press money by the wagonload, but it accomplishes the same end by a more "devious" route.

The Treasury signs a promissory note or issues bonds for the desired amount. Our commercial banks accept these notes or bonds AS IF THEY WERE A CASH DEPOSIT. Actually, it is a debt. But the banks pick it up as though it were cash. The government then proceeds to write checks against those deposited bonds or notes and with such checks it pays for its everlasting programs, services, constructions, subsidies, aids, and so forth. Whoever receives a government check, deposits it in like manner and in turn writes checks against it.

Thus, the government borrowing process has created a vast new sum of checkbook money which is put into circulation by everyone who accepts a government check. The result is exactly the same as if the government caused a wagonload of greenbacks to be printed.

But this is only phase one of the operation. Phase two begins when the government notes or bonds fall due and have to be retired. Who is called upon to live these obligations? Why, the people are. Either taxes will go up when they campaign for office, or more bonds and notes will be issued in a similar manner to accomplish the same thing. If more bonds or notes are issued, the inflationary process continues.

Some economists tell us that for each $1 billion in direct taxation the government inflicts upon us, each family in the end will have to pay $20. But for each $1 billion in indirect and inflationary borrowing the government lays on our backs, each family in the end will have to pay $40.

The first $20 is paid in the loss in purchasing power which derives from the increase in checkbook money in relation to production; the second $20 is paid when the taxes are raised to retire the new obligation.

Inflation is harder to see than direct taxation. But it is far more insidious and deadly, and it is twice as costly.

On learning that "We Will Not Allow U.S. Capitalists to Ride Roughshod Over The People," was a hit, it would be a very incurious man who didn't wish he knew all the words to the song.

Even our own Tin Pan Alley would be hard put to make a catchy song out of that one. There are some fairly tough words there for rhyming.

"Capitalist" is one. What would a Chinese-tune smith do with that one? Something like this, perhaps. They asked me what I'd do. If I found my love untrue, I said I'd bread her wrist. For kissing a capitalist.

Or: My baby and I are as thick As two peas in a pod. The moon is blue, And she is true, And Yankees are all roughshod. Mao Tse-tung is okay for thumping. I wish I had a bang, I'd smash the highest rung. To lose my personal freedom. At the hands of Mao Tse-tung. I wish I had a bang, I wish I had a bang.

The song titles, all by themselves, are enough to set a pair of bound feet to dancing. And if you have ever heard Chinese music, in China, and played by Chinese, then you know there is no music on earth quite like it.

I was in Peiping, just before the Reds marched in, and there was a band at the Wagon-Lite hotel which played each night for dancing. No, dancing isn't the right word. An Occidental can't dance to Chinese music. If an Occidental does happen to get in time it's accidental.

My dance partner on several occasions was a Russian girl who worked in the hotel gift shop, and she was pretty enough to be a spy. What she probably was, we must have made a pretty sight on the

The Doctor Says:

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

A man who says his age is 78 has recently asked for a discussion of shingles.

He says he has been told that there is no help for his condition because of his age. It has attacked the sciatic nerve in the left hip. His right hip also is sometimes affected. Nothing which has so far been tried has given him relief.

This is a distressing situation, since the late effects of shingles are likely to be particularly difficult in elderly people.

However, the description is not exactly typical of shingles and one

Davis Issues Tips On 'Sale Of Residence'

Sale of residence is a subject that many area taxpayers are finding to be a tough problem when completing their Federal income tax returns for 1958.

Wiley E. Davis, administrative officer of Internal Revenue Service in Pampa, says that generally when you sell your home you must pay a tax on the profit you make with one big exception that is well known.

"If you sold your home during 1958 for a higher price than you paid in buying it and making permanent improvements on it, you needn't pay tax on the profit - if you buy another home in 12 months and pay as much or more for the home you sold."

If you sold your home and built a new one - instead of buying an existing house - you as a taxpayer and new homeowner - have 18 instead of 12 months. You must move in within 18 months.

According to Davis, if you buy or build a new house for less than you sold the old one, you must pay Uncle Sam's tax on part or all of the profit from selling the old.

On the other side of the ledger, suppose you have a loss on the sale of a home, the taxpayer's personal residence. In such cases the loss is not deductible even though the sale was necessary because the taxpayer's boss had him transfer residence to another locality due to job requirements.

It's difficult, however, to solve individual tax problems until IRS gets all the facts in each case. "Consequently," Davis said, "we have Taxpayer Assistance Day every Monday morning for those who have tried and failed to solve their own tax problems. Our telephone number is also an easy way to get tax answers. That number, MO 4-2131."
