38 Hostages Freed After Prison Revolt

By ELMER LAMMI
United Press International

MONROE, Wash. (UPI) — Prison guards got the drop on four convicts and tear-gassed them into submission early today, before they could carry out threats to kill 48 hostages.

The 12-hour revolt was ended without casualties and the hostages, including women and children, were freed.

Dr. Garret Heyns, state institutions director, helping direct strategy from his office at the state Capitol in Olympia, said the officers "conned" the four convicts into defeat.

"The guards armed themselves with tear gas after waiting until the hostages had bedded down," Heyns said. "Then with just the four men up and around, prison officials called the four to the window and told them that I was coming to talk to them.

"As soon as they came to the window, the guards let them have it with tear gas. There was no one hurt. The four prisoners were shook up by the tear gas, but will recover shortly. These things are serious and they will happen anywhere. It all depends on how well you handle them."

Short Slowdown

The move against the convicts, holding their hostages in the reformatory's visitors room, came moments before 4 a.m. Within five minutes, it was all over.

The guards from outside, helped by the three hostage guards within, pounced on the rebel convicts and wrestled from them the butcher knives and long meat forks they had stolen Monday from the kitchen in their escape plot.

United Press International reporter Dick Anderson, who watched the hostages being led to fresh air, said, "There wasn't a whimper from the children. Their eyes were red with tears streaming down their faces, but they looked relieved. They were in there for 12 1/2 hours."

Supt. Ernest C. Timpah led the rebels had announced they planned to kill their three guard hostages and "loss out the bodies one by one."

The hostages were taken out on to the administration building porch to clear their eyes in the misty morning air. It was several minutes before any of them could speak.

Constant Threats

One of the guards who had been held, Hugh DeWalt, 38, was asked if he knew the convicts had set a 6 a.m. deadline.

"Yes, I did," DeWalt said. "They were threatening us guards all the time."

One of the escape-minded convicts was reported bleeding slightly from the chest, a possible wound from a bit of exploding tear gas shell. His wound was described as superficial.

Heyns said the ruse didn't "bother my conscience a bit" because the prison guards used trickery to end the uprising.

"The end justifies the means in this case," Heyns said. "These fellows certainly were not using any ethical practices."

The convicts, two of them former mental patients, put their escape plot into action at 6:35 p.m. e.d.t. Monday when they used two knives and two forks stolen from the reformatory kitchen to capture their hostages.

They released one, Mrs. Bruce Oxford, Monday night when she became ill, from fright and shock. She had come here to visit her inmate husband. She appeared near collapse when 12 husky state patrolmen escorted her into Timpani's office.

Mrs. Oxford's husband, their four-year-old son and her sister were among the hostages left in the visitors' room. The 40 included

Congress Committee Is Back In Session On Bill

Carr Thinks Agreement Near

By LLOYD LARRABEE
United Press International

AUSTIN (UPI) — The House-Senate conference committee planned to go back into secret session today for more talks on a 192 million dollar tax bill that would take care of all but a small part of proposed State spending during the next two years.

House Speaker Waggoner-Carr said he had information the committee was nearing agreement.

Today is the fifth day the 10 member committee, five representatives and five senators, have met behind closed doors in an effort to break the legislative dead-lock on money matters.

The group met for 25 minutes late Monday, then broke up with the announcement there had been no final agreement reached, but discussions were "amiable" and the committee would try to rap out a "compromise" bill again today.

State Comptroller Robert Calvert advised the committee that the bill under consideration would be 16 million dollars short of necessary new tax funds to finance proposed spending.

More Filibuster Expected

Meanwhile, Sen. Henry Gonzalez of San Antonio was expected to resume his running filibuster of a bill to raise fees at state supported colleges. He charged the bill was a "revenue raising measure for the state, and was a reason for the youth of our state."

The bill, sponsored by Sen. William Fy of Victoria, would allow college administrators to charge up to $30 a semester for student services. The Senate gave it tentative 16-14 approval Monday, setting the stage for possible final action today.

It has been before the upper chamber for nine days. Gonzalez has been chipping away at the measure with proposed amendments and long debate attempts. Long since he freed himself from a state mental hospital June 26.

Long's nap was reported to have taken place during a talk close friends and associates who helped hustle Long a board of state on Long's ticket in the Democratic primary in December. Sieglin said he found the governor "very relaxed."

The legislative conference committee went to work after lawmakers bogged down on the tax question last Thursday.

The House passed a watered-down version of Rep. Frates' bill (See CONGRESS, Page 3).

GOVERNOR EARL LONG ... sleepy-time guy

Long Naps While Associate Gabs

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — Gov. Earl K. Long is so relaxed he dozed off during a visit with two of his direct-out-growths of his experience in the last month.

This was said to have caused irksome delays to legislators attempting a call to a special session next month, but to have pleased the doctors and law and a change in the state's psychiatrists who have cared for Long since he freed himself from a state mental hospital June 26.

Long's nap was reported to have taken place during a talk close friends and associates who helped hustle Long a board of state on Long's ticket in the Democratic primary in December. Sieglin said he found the governor "very relaxed."

Long vetoed a right-to-work law of Canadian, was injured slightly. DeWalt said the bill was a "revenue raising measure for the state, and was a reason for the youth of our state."

Pair of Pampa Girls Injured In Accidents

Two young Pampa girls were injured slightly in a pair of separate accidents involving automobiles Monday afternoon. They were Sherry Lynn Williams, 18 months, and Carolyn P. Dennington, 12 of 820 S. Reid.

The Williams tot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Williams, 6127 S. Dwight, was accidentally knocked over by a car backing out of the Williams driveway at about 5:35 p.m. Monday.

Police officer P. E. Bailey said the car was driven by her uncle, Charley Schivie, 1137 S. Dwight. The girl was treated at Highland General Hospital for a gashed head.

In an accident earlier in the afternoon, at 1 p.m., Carolyn Dennington, 12, was hit by a car while peddling a bicycle in the 800 block on Tignor.

Officer Bailey reported the car driver was Billy Lewis Field, 22, 1030 S. Clark. Bailey said that Field headed the same direction as Mrs. Dennington, applied his brakes when the girl wavered into the wrong lane. The car skidded 108 feet directly into the girl's path, knocking both girl and bike into the left hand ditch.

Miss Dennington suffered a cut head but was not seriously hurt. Field was tagged for leaving the scene of an accident and having no driver's license.

Two cars, both driven by residents of Canadian, collided Monday afternoon at 3:02 at the intersection of N. Hobart and Alcock streets. A passenger in one of the cars, Dr. H. B. Spiller, 72, was injured slightly.

Drives of the cars were Walter Pendergrass and Vera B. Richardson, both of Canadian. Mrs. Richardson, driving a 1955 Chevrolet, was tagged for failure to grant right of way. Dr. Spiller was a passenger in the Richardson car. Damages were estimated by police at over $200 to each car.

Reds Hail Flight

Of Animals In Space

By DONALD R. SHANOR
United Press International

LONDON (UPI) — Soviet scientists today hailed the rocket flight of two dogs and a rabbit as proof that man will soon be flying through space. One said that day will "not be far off."

Western scientists saw it as proof the Russians are working desperately to beat the United States into space and said there was a chance the Russians might succeed this year.

They based their predictions on the fact the Soviet already has two major space "firsts" — the first satellite and the first missile to leave the earth's gravitational field and become a planetoid around the sun.

They also were impressed by the weight of the latest Soviet rocket payload which carried the monkeys, Able and Baker on a 1,500-mile flight over the Atlantic in May. Exact weight of the U.S. vehicle has not been announced.

The American target date for the first manned space flight is the autumn of 1960. British and other Western scientists think the Russians may make their bid this year.

One date often mentioned is the end of August when the 10th International Astronautical Congress meets in London.

The Russians seem to time their space shots to coincide with such international meetings. They announced their satellite plans at the 1955 congress in Copenhagen and put their Sputnik into orbit the day the 1957 congress opened in Barcelona and fired the first dogs into space during last year's Amsterdam congress.

Monday's announcement coincided with the opening in Moscow of the International cosmic ray conference.

CITY COMMISSION TALKS REVENUE

By MARVIN OLSEN
Daily News Staff Writer

Pampa's City Commission pressed for ways to stretch the tax dollar, talked over a number of issues this morning that would either lead to gaining more revenue or holding onto what it presently has.

Commissioner James Crawford Jr., during a discussion on the new Boyd Annex No. 3, suggested that the city restrict building on new additions until they are officially annexed into the city.

Crawford said the city could in this way collect for building permits and various inspection fees it currently does not collect. At present the city collects fees on only improvements made after the addition becomes part of the city.

The proposal, made by Crawford in the form of a suggestion, met with no success.

The commission also instructed City Attorney Bob Gordon to increase his efforts to collect delinquent taxes and past due paying obligations.

"It was also decided that a "dangerous precedent" would be set if it relieved some residents of paying a $1.50 per month fee for trash removal.

The decision followed the second successive appearance of pensioner Edn Mulanax, 908

DAYTON, Ohio (UPI) — Nine companies of firemen battled a $100,000 fire that swept through seven downtown buildings during rush-hour traffic Monday and threatened to ignite stores of gasoline in a basement. The fire began in a four-story salvage building, one of three structures belonging to the St. Vincent de Paul Society, destroying them and damaging four smaller buildings.

Who'll Be Miss Pampa?

Six Amarillo Jaycee judges will have the time of their young lives tonight when it comes to choosing Miss Pampa from ten young beauties on the Robert E. Lee Junior High School stage.

The Miss Pampa pageant is a show in itself since contestants are judged on talent performances, not on mention appearances in evening gowns and bathing suits.

Ticket sales are in their last day, with the contest set for 7:30 tonight. Adult and children's tickets, priced at $1 and 50 cents, respectively, are on sale at six locations and may be obtained from members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce or beauty contestants, themselves. Tickets will also be sold at the door.

Rox offices have been set up at Richard Drug, Hurland Pharmacy, Citizens Bank, First National Bank, Wilson Drug and B&B Pharmacy.

Only eight girls were entered in the 1958 contest. Linda Steele, a pianist, was crowned as Miss Pampa and two other pianists, Bonnie Lou Glaxner and Dianna Zachry, were named runners-up.

Miss Steele was sent to Amarillo to represent Pampa in the Miss Texas pageant and this year served as local contest agitator.

A wide range of talents — "bizarre" song, dance, piano, fashion and art — will be displayed in tonight's show. An added attraction will be a junior miss show, in which 14 youngsters age 4-7 will model children's clothes.

The 1959 Miss Pampa aspirants are:

1. Nora Stephens — White Deer singer, Celanese employee, sponsored by Pampa Motor and Transfer.
2. D'Anne Prince — pianist, lately of Pampa High School, tall, fragrant at Invariate Word College, San Antonio. Her sponsor is Somerville "64" Station.
3. Phyllis Burgess, former PHS cheerleader, 1958 graduate, Kisser Ford secretary. Her talents in modeling, home-sports, Couch Office Equipment.

Comedian's Daughter Getting Her Lifetime Ambition To Act

By RICK DU BROW
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Barbara, narcotics-plagued daughter of the late comedian Bob (Hanka) Burns, today realizes her ambition to act — only a week after being released from jail. She begins work in a bit part in the NBC-TV series, "The Law Years." The job resulted from her plea for help for a chance to act "because you can't kick the narcotics habit if you really want something, and acting is all I want."

CONGRESS

(Continued from Page 1) — The 106 million dollar measure was rejected in the Senate, and replaced with a 175 million dollar proposal that was written by a conference committee during the first special session. The House turned thumbs down on the Senate's bill.

Mum About Contents — Members of the committee declined to say what was in the 192 billion dollar bill they presently have under consideration. They decided to keep all deliberations secret until a final agreement is reached.

The House returned to work today after spending its time on the bill Monday. Most of the session local in nature. Action on a proposed 154 million dollar tax bill was sidetracked when Carr said he thought the House should wait and see what the compromise committee comes up with.

Cautions House — He said the House should not throw any obstacle in the path of possible agreement on a conference report of a major tax bill.

The House passed three Senate bills which would: — Authorize cities which have elected to sell their natural gas system to lease the system and grant the lessee an option to buy, applies directly to Throckmorton, Tex.

— Allow Fort Worth to pledge revenues of its ad valorem tax for improvements at Amon Carter International Airport.

— Give "Palatine, Ill." and Jacksonville the right to vote themselves out of the Upper Sches River Municipal water authority. Gov. Price-Daniel vetoed a bill Monday that applied only to Rush, approved in the first special session.

Among the House bills approved and sent to the Senate were measures to: — Authorize Texas to enter a 16-state Southern Interstate Nuclear Compact.

— Fix minimum and maximum salaries of certain Dallas county officials.

— Permit reciprocal agreements for hunting and fishing on common boundaries with other states.

— Authorize the Board of Water Engineers to grant water permits in certain counties for between 200 acre feet and 500 acre feet of water.

— Increase attorneys' fees for representation of indigent persons accused of felonies.

Triplets' Pop Seeks New Job Charlotte

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (UPI) — Nathan B. Miller, a plantation hand whose children doubled in number when his wife had triplets, planned to visit Charlotte today to discuss a job offer that may help him keep his brood together.

The 55-year-old Miller, who earns only $38 weekly at Clarendon plantation, said he and his wife were determined to keep the 8-day-old girl triplets they had earlier considered offering for adoption.

"We've decided we'll keep them and do our best for them," he said proudly as his wife and the babies left Doshier Memorial Hospital at Southport, N.C.

"I don't think I could ever forgive myself if we did part with them," said his 35-year-old wife, Pinkie.

Lefors New Ambulance Sees Service Enroute From East

LEFORS (Sp) — A tired fire chief, John Archer, returned Monday afternoon with a new red ambulance from Brooklyn, N.Y.

Archer left by plane Thursday night, and was ready for the return trip home by Friday at 3:30 p.m.

After the ambulance "they" were rushed to the hospital by Chief Archer, who had to make two trips, 15 miles to the hospital. Archer reported that the patrolmen were very appreciative of the aid given by him and the Texas Ambulance.

Donors Asked Four Questions

Some 150 contributions to the Chamber of Commerce July 4 Celebration have received appraisal cards asking four questions:

1. Did the program serve the purpose for which it was intended?
2. Was it worth the work necessary?
3. Was it worth the money it cost?
4. Should we make this an annual affair?

The July 4 Show is the biggest thing that the Chamber has put over in many years. Some 15,000 people packed Recreation Park Saturday night to see a thousand dollar fireworks display and a complete Independence Day program.

The production was backed by public contributions solicited by a Chamber finance committee. "We still need approximately $200 to take care of all expenses," Atkinson said today. Collections to date total $2,200.

Rich color and soft, dull textures combine to bring out the beauty of polished wood frames of new upholstered furniture. Featured above is a clear blue in the woven nylon furniture covers. Oriental chests are a deep black-brown shade.

One of Autumn's Brightest Forecasts Rainbow-Hued Upholstered Furniture

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

One of the brightest forecasts for fall furniture is given for the rainbow-hued upholstery. Home-makers who love color will revel in the range of shades ready to enliven rooms next autumn.

Quality-minded shoppers will also have something to cheer. At the International Home Furnishings market in Chicago, many furniture companies, including those making medium priced pieces, pointed with pride to the quality of their upholstery.

One example is seen on sofas and chairs which are covered with specially designed fabric. It was explained that this planning of a fabric collection for a furniture group means that both have a similar style feeling. Nylon, in a dull finish, is used for some of these fabrics in damask, shaded striped and diamond-patterned textures; printed-linen in co-ordinating colors is also used.

Other companies cite their careful selection of fabrics for certain furniture styles. One is using a worsted, woven to resemble closely handwoven Danish fabrics; another backs its upholstery fabrics with tags attesting durability and soft resistance.

One reason upholstery fabrics are so much in the limelight is freer use of color. Although the neutrals—including white—charcoal and beige, will probably always enjoy a top place in sales, color makes news because there's more of it, and more home-makers are asking for brighter upholstery to contrast with the pale and neutral walls in homes.

Rich blues are featured in many furniture groups. So are the shades of citrus fruits: lemon, orange and lime. Lavender, deepening to purple, turns up in the large-sealed sofas as well as dainty boudoir chairs. Green accents or plaids often team with violet.

Another point, too, is that rich colors bring out the beauty of wood and you'll be seeing a lot more wood in sofas and chairs.

Pampa News Women's Editor

Well, we can now stop worrying about the cultural aspects of our young country. The average American is reading more books, listening to more good music, dressing more fashionably and eating more sophisticated food than ever before.

This is part of the evidence, says Fortune magazine in its July issue, which indicates that American taste, often criticized, is changing for the better and will continue to do so.

According to Fortune, there are four major forces elevating American taste. They are 1) rising income; 2) more education; 3) the efforts of "tastemakers" to spread their gospel; and 4) the old American striving for self-betterment.

There are today 42 major American symphony orchestras, as against only six in 1905 and 32 in 1956. Counting those in colleges and smaller communities, the total is more than 1,100, at least 275 of which were formed between 1951 and 1957.

"One reason for the broadening of U.S. musical taste," the magazine says, "is that the sale of serious music on records is increasing at least as fast as the sale of all records. The fact is that many Americans with a record player today listen to more musical works in a year than even professional musicians once could do in a dozen years."

Americans are buying some 600 million books a year (including paper-backs and juveniles, but not textbooks). Fortune says, in increase of 300 million from 1949. While a large percentage of the paper-backs may be "trash", good books, "The Iliad," "The Odyssey" and "The Catcher in the Rye, 1894" have sold well, too.

As further evidence of improving American taste, Fortune points to the anticipated simpler, cleaner lines for automobiles and better design for appliances.

Furniture with gross stylistic excesses seems to be growing scarce, the magazine says, and "American food preferences are becoming astonishingly sophisticated."

"Dishes that could be found only in the haute cuisine of New York and a few other cities thirty years ago are now fairly common in millions of middle-class homes," says Fortune. "And the sale of dry table wine has increased no less than 64 percent."

American women, wearing clothes that can be copied quickly and mass-produced cheaply, are the most tastefully dressed in the world. The general level of taste in clothing is still rising.

"And it is merely recording the obvious to say that high culture in the US is not only very much alive, but is growing fast," says the magazine. "The American artistic output, as the whole world

Food Sense—Not Nonsense

One Catch to Being a Bachelor

Not every bachelor can enjoy being foot loose and fancy free. There's at least one catch to it, especially if one lives alone: The possibility of being caught up short at the breakfast bar, the lunch counter, the dinner table. Meals of those who live alone are apt to be deficient in essential vitamins, minerals and proteins. This word of caution comes to us from one who should know, a noted bachelor nutritionist.

With no one to take care of—or to take care of him—the bachelor or anyone who lives alone is likely to forget to take care of himself. Shopping and cooking for one is more difficult than for a family, and it costs more per head. His time schedule for meals may be so flexible that it disappears. Result: no meal at all.

Only those who take advantage of our adequate food supply to eat a variety of essential foods can hope for the health to live life to the hilt. These foods—meat or an alternate, milk or cheese, enriched or whole grain bread and cereal, fruits and vegetables—are calorie carriers all, as they are made up of proteins, fats, and carbohydrates. With these and the other nutrients calorie carriers offer—minerals and vitamins—live-aloners have the wherewithal to indulge their fancy.

Following this easy plan of choosing meals from essential foods, it is possible to sidestep the nutritional hazard of bachelorhood—illness caused by a deficiency of nutrients—and still remain foot loose and free for decency.

Misses Gail Culpepper and Susan Quible, rushes. Following a buffet, Miss White, president, gave a short history of the club and bids were distributed to rushes. The remainder of the evening was spent in entertainment furnished by Pat Carter and The Boys.

testifies is both sizeable and respectable.

"American writing, painting, sculpture, architecture and music were once merely imitations and extensions of European culture; today they influence the culture of the rest of the world as much as it influences them."

Makes Friends Manners

If you hear a compliment about a friend be sure to tell him about it. And if you can manage, tell him in front of others so that they can hear it, too. It's kindness.

Hot weather makes us uncomfortable all over. But our feet take the brunt of everything. It is wise, and more comfortable, to change to another pair of shoes during the day. When working home, wear shoes that give good support, not those run over the sides and splitting. A change these during the day. Treating your feet with more respect will make you feel better.

A slothful winter leaves many us half crippled, so to speak, for lack of exercise. And since most of us will be more active all during the summer months, it is time to stretch unused muscles. A few simple exercises each day will tone up muscles and also ward off aches and possible strains we get from unaccustomed energetic activity.

Good looks as well as good fit combine in this T-shirt. Left, Cellon-dacron mesh knit is porous and cool for summer, retains its shape after washing. On the outside, loose-weave, all-cotton shirt, right, is light as air, entirely wash and wear.

Sculline Wear Designed For Warm
Turns Summer To A Breeze

By DICK KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (NEA) — Some men, faced with a hot summer, turn to winter-weight shirts, summer-weight, but keep on wearing the same old underwear. They tackle the temperature problem by skipping undergarments, but still wear the shirts all year around. Or, they keep as cool as possible in summer, you should change wardrobe from the skin out. Should wear underwear — it's the cooling process by absorption — but try the lighter weights.

Men's has the ideal summer shirt in its cotton-dacron knit models. This is porous, cool, yet has enough body to the perspiration-absorbing comes in regular T-shirt and in the perfect form — V-neck T-shirt, which better with open-necked shirts.

These are briefs of the same material, so you can be cool from north and south. The top of the mesh knit undergarment finish the job with a design — hot-weather dress shirt. The years these summer have been improving. They've used to lose their collars which, after a day in the sun, looked like a faded spot.

Summer shirts are great, and stay that way. There's their advance this summer, from Van Heusen. They've known mostly as tie-facs, through the tie, thereby making

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: When you read this you'll have heard everything. Ten years ago I sold my home and moved out of the neighborhood to escape a gold-digger who was after my husband.

She divorced her husband to be ready when mine divorced me. When he realized that all the money and property was in my name, he changed his mind and decided to stick with me.

Now in his SEVENTIES he has started up this romance again. After putting up with him for 49 years I do not intend to disgrace my children and grandchildren by going through a divorce. How can I keep him in line?

NO DIVORCE
DEAR NO: Oftentimes the lack of cash in a man's pocket will keep him in line when his moral principles have failed to do so. One way to ground a live wire is to short circuit his allowance.

DEAR ABBY: I was disappointed in your advice to that woman who was arguing with her husband about what kind of funeral to give him.

Why didn't you tell her to promise him a military funeral like he wanted? He was a veteran and was entitled to it.

The wife said she wanted to "put him away in style." Maybe you didn't see pictures of Dulles' funeral? If that wasn't "style" I'd like to know what was? Some people are never satisfied.

MORRIS

DEAR ABBY: Someone should set you straight about government burial. The government doesn't "bury" anybody. They give you a certain amount toward the funeral. I lost my son (in Korea) ten years ago and at that time they gave me $150 towards the funeral expenses. They have since raised it to $250.

How far do you think $250 will go?
—ONE WHO KNOWS

DEAR ABBY: I need your help. My dad said to me, "Call the a smaller and neater closure. And the old style ones — with jewels like a single cultured pearl or a tiny diamond — are coming back. The newer creations — designs, tiny bugs, hobby motifs and the like — are also increasingly popular.

The tie-facs have the advantage of neatness. And with narrow ties, they go perfectly.

Mrs. Maria Martel Brings World
Of High-Fashion Into Sharp Focus

By AILEEN SNOODY
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (NEA) — When a hobby becomes a business, you don't have time for hobbies any more.

This is one drawback an amateur camera-bug discovers upon developing into a successful high fashion photographer. On the opposite side of the ledger are the advantages of traveling around the world and working with items any woman would love in her closet.

Reflecting on her present bride's eye view of haute couture, Maria Martel ruefully admitted, "Like most little girls, I knew what I wanted to be when I grew up."

As a child she had a piano in her Paris bedroom as proof of her desire to be a pianist. A few years later she was just as intensely interested in painting.

But a whirlwind courtship by an American businessman and also "L. O. L." on the back of his letters. Don't you think he is getting too serious?
DEAR LENA: "S. W. A. B. K." is not exactly grounds for breach of promise, but what does "L. O. L." mean?

She explained her present spacious quarters with, "My family was about to murder me so I moved."

Being a woman, and a creative personality, she doesn't agree with some "experts" who say a male photographer photographs a female model better.

"It's a matter of rapport and professional understanding between the two."

But sometimes she abandons a professional approach. A recent example involved a U.S. customs official who refused to allow her films from an Australian assignment to enter this country.

"I argued and cajoled for three days," she revealed. "Then I did the only thing a woman could do. I cried."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

At the Midland, Tex. tournament last month, every South player chose to open with a third hand spade bid. Most West players bid various numbers of diamonds and eventually landed at five diamonds down one. Those that doubted got a poor score; those that were not doubted did all right.

Two West players chose to jump to three no trump. One was allowed to play it for a top score. At the other table North bid four spades, East doubled and everyone passed.

South ruffed the second diamond and led a spade. West won and led a club. East played the jack and South saw that he had a chance to make his contract by a squeeze.

Obviously, the three no trump bid was based on long diamonds, the ace of spades and king of hearts. Maybe the king of hearts was only guarded once.

South let the jack of clubs hold and won the next club lead. Now he ran off all his trumps and discarded the nine of clubs from dummy on the last round.

East had to go down to three hearts in order to keep his high clubs. Now South finished the jack of hearts. The king dropped on the second heart lead and the queen and seven of hearts made the last two tricks.

"Drawing room" is a contraction of "withdrawing room," the original drawing room being a room to withdraw to.

Boggs is a recording artist for Word records, a regular soloist for "The Baptist Hour," has been a guest with the Billy Graham team and a soloist for three Southern Baptist Conventions. He has just re-entered the field of evangelism after nearly four years as minister of music at the First Baptist Church of Tallahassee, Fla.

Business Views

Business continues snappy although there are signs of the usual summer slow-down, a survey of purchasing agents showed. These persons, who do the buying for the nation's companies, reported high production, improving employment and strong new orders. But few buyers were showing any desire to make extended commitments.

The Southern and Santa Fe railways placed freight car orders involving more than $30 million. Southern said it placed $23,000,000 in contracts for 1,240 cars of which 1,250 will have aluminum bodies. Santa Fe ordered 200 refrigerator cars costing more than $5 million.

CONGRESSMEN'S WORDS COST FIVE CENTS EACH

By FRANK ELEAZER
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — As of today, the 86th Congress had talked its way through 17,837 printed pages of the Congressional Record. This includes several pages devoted recently to the proposition that not all that verbiage is necessary.

Since Jan. 7, an estimated 20 million words had been spoken, or so printed, as it appears to have been spoken, Sen. Winston L. Prouty (R-Vt.) reminded the Senate the other day these pearls of wisdom cost us taxpayers 5 cents each, for the printing alone.

"In Vermont," Prouty said, "we do not believe in wasting money or in wasting words."

According to Prouty's own scale, this succinct declaration came to exactly 64 cents, and if all our lawmakers talked as little as Prouty we no doubt could save most of the $1,800,000 the Congressional Record has been estimated to cost us this year.

The way things are going, however, the bill will run over rather than under the estimate. And the senators, as usual, will have to take most of the blame.

Senators Speak For Hours

Where House members measure speeches in minutes, senators run more 60 hours. Remarks in the House generally are limited to five minutes. A senator won't even say hello unless assured of more time than that.

As of today, the body of the record, in which actual proceedings of the two houses are printed, totaled 11,507 pages. Although there are 436 members of the House, and only 98 senators, the windier body had accounted for well over half of the total.

However, House members, chafing under the House restrictions on actual oratory, did their best to even the score in the record's appendix, of which 6,765 pages so far this year have been printed.

Rep. Charles M. Teague (R-Calif.) chided his colleagues recently for "littering the appendix with practically everything that wouldn't fit either in the refrigerator or the office files."

Kids Will Help Around House If Parents Request

By MARY PRIME
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Did you, teen-agers, help with the dishes or mow the lawn, Mom? Next time, ask them.

That's the solution as 2,500 junior high and high school students in 20 cities see it. The youngsters, 1,857 girls and 1,143 boys, were questioned by a manufacturer of household products (Dumas Miller Co.) to determine product use.

More than 68 percent of the students surveyed said they would be willing to help around the house — if asked.

"My mother doesn't give me a chance to show what I can do around the house," was a typical comment from a 15-year-old girl. "Even if I volunteer to do the dishes, she'll just brush it off and do them herself. I just stopped volunteering."

Would Pitch In

A 16-year-old boy said, "I know things are hard and I'd be willing to pitch in. If they only ask me. But they make me feel so useless. I just get out of the house as soon as I can and come back only when I have to."

The teams travel to new territory for games tonight. Victoria is at Amarillo, Corpus Christi at Austin, and San Antonio plays at Tulsa.

John Caffery, the third of three Senator moundsmen, came on in the eighth with the score deadlocked 5-5. He blanked the Giants the rest of the way for the win.

Leo Durocher May Return

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Leo Durocher is closer to returning to baseball today than he has been since he left the New York Giants four years ago.

The United Press International has learned that an American League club, quite possibly the Chicago White Sox, has dangled the type offer that could bring "Leo the Lip" back to the game — a high salary as manager and substantial stock in the club.

Durocher confirmed he is seriously considering the offer, which would make him a combination field and general manager.

Durocher was started when UPI put the question of his return to baseball to him, but he did not evade.

"If the terms are right, there's a strong possibility I'll come back," he replied. "I've had several offers since I've left the Giants but I wouldn't consider any of them unless certain conditions were met. The offer I'm thinking over now comes the closest of any to satisfying me."

Durocher tried to sidestep further questions but finally conceded under the UPI's cross-examination:

"I'm very happy with what I'm doing now. But this proposition is almost too good to turn down. We'll see how it turns out. Could be I'll be back."

Durocher, who'll be 54 years old on July 27, left as manager of the New York Giants just before the end of the 1955 season. He said then he never would return to baseball but modified his stand later to say he would if an offer that involved stock ownership in a club were included with an offer to manage.

UPI has learned, however, that White Sox big-wigs Bill Veeck and Hank Greenberg think Durocher is just what the White Sox need.

Veeck tried unsuccessfully two years ago to talk Leo into managing the Cleveland Indians.

Often called "baseball's bad boy," Durocher rose to playing stardom as a shortstop with the Gashouse Gang St. Louis Cardinals of 1934 and subsequently managed the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Giants. He led the Dodgers to a pennant in 1951 and piloted the Giants to flags in 1951 and 1954.

Durocher resigned in late 1958 and embarked on a radio and TV career that appears to have occupied all his ambitions until now.

Drysdale, Wynn Will Start On Mound In All-Star Game

By LEO H. PETERSEN UPI Sports Editor
PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The favored National League sends 22-year-old Don Drysdale against the American League's 39-year-old starter, Early Wynn, today in what may be the last All-Star game as the current baseball generation remembers it.

Some of the plaudits already has been rubbed off today's classic by the fact the two leagues will, for the first time in history, play a second All-Star game during the same season on Aug. 3 at Los Angeles.

Nevertheless, a capacity crowd of 34,000 is expected to jam Forbes Field today to witness the latest renewal of an annual mid-summer event begun way back in 1933.

Drysdale, the hard-throwing right-handed ace of the Los Angeles Dodgers who has won nine games and lost six so far this season, was manager Fred Haney's choice to face a preponderantly right-handed hitting American League line-up for the first three innings.

Left-handers Whitey Ford of the Yankees or Billy Pierce of the White Sox appear the best bets to pitch the middle innings for the American League, who are 13 to 10 underdogs in the game although they have won 15 of the 25 All-Star contests.

The American League has won the last two games by one run. They won the 1958 game at St. Louis, 6-5, and last year's contest at Baltimore, 4-3.

Most baseball men feel the American League's best chance today lies in home run threats Harmon Killebrew of Washington and Rocky Colavito of Cleveland, both of whom are in the starting lineup.

Big drawback for the American League, however, is that they have only one left-handed hitter in their starting line-up. That's second baseman Nellie Fox of the White Sox, whose specialty is singles.

The other American League starters are leftfielder Minnie Miñoso of Cleveland, centerfielder Al Kaline of Detroit, first baseman Bill Skowron of the Yankees, catcher Gus Tardif of Baltimore, and shortstop Luis Aparicio of Chicago.

The National League has two left-handed hitters in its starting lineup — third baseman Eddie Mathews, who has hit 25 home runs so far for Milwaukee, and left fielder Walko Moon, batting .299 with Los Angeles.

Johnny Temple of Cincinnati will start at second base, Orlando Cepeda of San Francisco at first base, Ernie Banks of Chicago at shortstop, Willie Mays of San Francisco in center field, if Aaron of Milwaukee is right field and Del Crandall of Milwaukee behind the plate.

Art Wall Takes Buick Open In Playoff With Finsterwald

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (UPI) — Art Wall Jr., golf's top money winner, was $9,000 richer today because history did repeat itself.

Wall, 35-year-old Masters champion from Pocono Manor, Pa., fired a one-under-par 71 Monday for a two-stroke victory over Dow Finsterwald, Testa, Fla., in the 18-hole playoff for the Buick Open title.

Exactly one year, earlier to the day, Wall and Finsterwald had tied for first place in the Rubber City Open at Akron. They tied off in a sudden-death playoff and Wall was the winner on the second extra hole.

Wall, who has won four tournaments and been runner-up in six others this year, never trailed in the Buick Open playoff on which $4,000 was at stake — the difference between first prize and the runner-up take of $4,000.

Wall ranks as golf's top "pressure player." He has engaged in six playoffs during his pro career and has won five of them.

The big purse swelled his earnings for 1959 to $55,236. He will skip the Western Open at Pittsburgh starting Thursday, because, he said, he needs a rest. It will be seven tournaments he has missed this year.

Finsterwald, last year's PGA champion, has appeared in four playoffs and has won only one.

Shamrock Boy Wins Golf Meet

ELK CITY, Okla. (UPI) — Three West Texans, one of them a Texas Tech golfer, finished among the top five players Monday in the Western Oklahoma Invitational Golf tournament.

One of them, 19-year-old Tech student John Shackleford of Shamrock, won the tourney. Another Shamrock resident, Don Dodgen, finished third and Harry Wilbur of Canadian won a sudden-death playoff for fourth place.

Shackelford fired a six-under-par 210 in the 54-hole medal play event on the Elk City Country Club course. His 73 round was offset by a seven-under 65 in the second round to earn him the crown.

Futch shot a 212, followed by Dodgen with 219, and Wilbur and Brinker, tied before the playoff at 223.

MAYO SMITH COULD BE OUSTED AT CINCINNATI

By OSCAR FRALEY United Press International
PITTSBURGH (UPI) — What they're saying at the All-Star game: It could have happened by the time you read this, but Mayo Smith is definitely on his way "out" as manager of the Cincinnati Reds with Freddie Fitzsimmons of Seattle favored over pitching coach Clyde King to succeed him.

The story behind the story is that General Manager Gabe Paul didn't want Smith to begin with but wanted to retain Jimmy Dykes. Owner Powell Crosley turned thumbs down on "Jimmy Cigar" and Mayo was the interim manager.

Casey Stengel of the Yankees and Fred Haney of the Braves (both will be back in harness next year) With Stengel it's a matter of prestige. With Haney, he is seen renege on his recent statement that he may quit at the end of the year. Haney is being outmaneuvered by the Yankees in their young pitching and his desire.

Hiland Wins First Farm League Game

The players on the Hiland Lumber baseball team feel today about like the Washington Senators would feel if they won a World Series.

After dropping nine straight games earlier, the Hiland squad finally won its first game Monday, 15-14 over Windsor We'll Service. Hiland scored four times in the bottom of the fifth inning to take a 15-12 lead, then hung on through a two-run Windsor rally in the sixth frame.

David Conklin hit a triple for Hiland, and Mike Edmonston rapped a home run. Jimmy March was 4-for-4 and Ricky McCloskey 3-for-4. Charles Campbell hit a home run for Windsor. Fred Tinsley was the winning pitcher.

In other Farm League games, Rex Rose walloped Tom Rose 1-0. Radcliff Supply rapped B. Parrish, 18-4; and G. K. took Compton apart, 17-1.

Rex Rose collected 31 hits, including three each by Luster Nash and Smith. Two of Smith's hits were for extra bases, a double and triple. Rice of Tom Rose also had three hits. David Archibald was the winning pitcher.

Sheddruff, Ennis, and Slater shared the mound duties for G. K., and allowed Compton only three hits. Ennis beland was G. K.'s leading hitter, with a homer, triple, and single. Ennis had a double, and Brummet and Adams were both 2-for-4.

Radcliff actually had to come from behind for his one-sided win, but Radcliff scored eight runs in the fourth and seven in the fifth. Danny Cowan was the winning pitcher, allowing four hits and fanning 13. He was also the leading hitter, with a double and single.

Clark Tops Pitchers After No-Hit Game

Mike "No-Hit" Clark became the full games for the first time last week, also has a 333 batting mark, and has driven in six runs with his six hits, in 18 times at bat.

Owens and Stroud are the only Rebel starters above the .300 mark, but Wendell Ridgway is leading .285. As a team, Pampa is hitting .255.

Next to Stroud in the RBI department are Terry Harshorn with 12 and Bobby Stephens with 11. Harshorn is also runner-up in home runs, with three, and Stephens has one home run to his credit.

Stephens leads the team in runs scored, with 17, followed by Stroud, who has 12. Two other Rebels are in double figures in the scoring department, Ridgway with 11 and Harshorn with 10.

Johnson Captures Support Of Georgia Democrats

By GLENN ANTHONY
United Press International
ATLANTA (UPI) — Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas appears to have captured the support of Georgia Democratic Party chiefs for the presidential nomination. But they admittedly are not showing their support behind him without some misgivings. Johnson is considered a moderate in the race issue.

Sen. Herman Talmadge, Gov. Ernest Vandiver and state Democratic Party Chairman John Sammons Bell of Atlanta have said publicly Johnson is the least "disasteful" of a prospective field of nominees. Bell has probably spoken the oddest, saying that he personally feels that Johnson will be acceptable to the rest of the South, and win the nomination next year.

President Hopes Vacationers Carry Bibles For Devotionals

By CLAIRE COX
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — The president of the National Council of Churches hopes all summer travelers are carrying their Bibles with them for daily devotionals during their vacations. The Rev. Edwin T. Dahlberg put this wish 10th in a list of "ten vacation commandments" he prepared for the council's monthly magazine "Outlook."

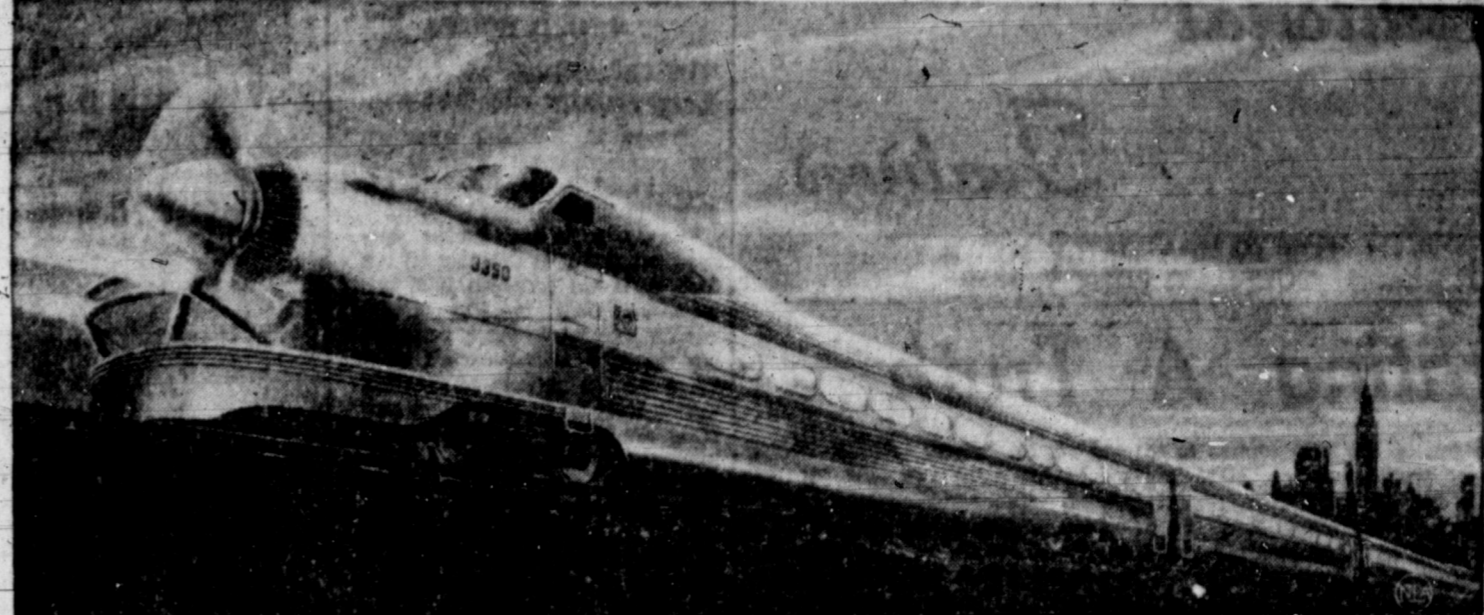

Dahlberg's summer advice ranges from warnings against poison ivy, shallow swimming holes and careless driving to a request for "continued church contributions even while away on vacation." Here are his commandments: I. "Thou shalt not dive off a strange dock without knowing how deep is the water at the end of it lest thou break thy neck against a stone." II. "Thou shalt not broil thyself all afternoon in thy new bathing suit, lest thy shoulders become raw the next morning and thy coat be a burden upon them. Neither shalt thou lay thyself down in a bed of poison ivy."

Pope May Vacation At Castel Gandolfo This Week

Foreign News Commentary
By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor
From the foreign editor's notebook:
PAPAL VACATION
Vatican sources indicate Pope John XXIII may leave for a much-delayed vacation at the papal summer residence at Castel Gandolfo sometime this week. But they say he probably will spend only two weeks there. The late Pope Pius XII spent most of his summers at Castel Gandolfo, making him a favorite of the villagers of the tiny town 15 miles south of Rome in the cool Alban Hills. Much of their economy is based on tourist trade attracted by the papal presence. But with Pope John's visit both late and brief, things have been tough for them this year.

IN LINE OF DUTY
TORQUAY, England (UPI) — A squad of policemen strode onto the crowded beach at this seaside resort Monday and began taking off their uniforms. Stripped to their bathing trunks, the policemen went for a swim. One explained cryptically to a questioning sunbather: "We were looking for stolen property on the sea bed."

TALENTED MONEY MAKER
LONDON (UPI) — Artist Derek Forbes, 25, was refused bail Monday because the court was afraid he'd go out and make money. Forbes was arrested for counterfeiting. "I have seen the one pound notes," said magistrate Seymour Collins. "They are so expert that I cannot agree to grant bail."

PROPELLER-DRIVEN TRAIN DESIGNED—A train driven by standard airplane propeller and engine is shown in this artist's sketch. A working model of a three-car, 276-passenger train will be shown at a series of international fairs, starting at Salonika, Greece, in September. Engineered by Curtiss-Wright, the train is aerodynamically propelled by engine at front and rear and so can run equally well in either direction. The reverse-pitch propellers provide all-weather braking. Several railroads are said to be studying the possibility of placing such trains in use within the next two years.

Congress Thinks of Setting Up International Health Institute

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House of Representatives would like to set up an international health institute to help solve health problems. At the same time, it would bring to America, in a systematic, useable form, the findings of foreign laboratories that may be far ahead of our own in some particular line of research.

Approved in Senate
Legislation to establish the institute, as part of the famed National Institutes of Health at Bethesda, Md., was approved in the Senate May 20 by overwhelming bipartisan vote of 97 to 10. This so-called "health for peace" bill is now before the House, where its fate is doubtful. A House Commerce subcommittee, headed by Rep. Kenneth A. Roberts (D-Ala.), has tentatively planned to begin public hearings on the proposal later this month. But a subcommittee source said there is only an outside chance that the bill will get to the floor before Congress adjourns, unless members of the House show more enthusiasm for it than they have to date.

Value To Americans
The House hearings, if they take place, will emphasize the value of the institute to Americans in bringing to U. S. scientists much valuable foreign research data which is now available only on a haphazard, catch-as-catch-can basis. House sponsors believe this

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK, Calif. — Mrs. Maria Lip, 38-year-old mother of three, who was rescued Monday after being lost and alone for five days in the Sierra Nevada wilderness: "I was worried more about the fangs than myself."
MIAMI — City Manager Ira Willard, after ordering investigation of a riot among Cubans here in which the Cuban consul general was beaten by police and arrested: "This is a serious matter. All frank appeal to self-interest may help to overcome some of the public and congressional apathy that greeted the bill when it emerged from the Senate with a "do good" label on it. They plan to call to the witness chair leading scientists who are prepared to testify that this country is by no means the self-sufficient trail-blazer in medical research that many Americans suppose it to be. Many of the most important modern medical discoveries now benefiting Americans have come from abroad. Penicillin, sulfa drugs and tranquilizers are examples."

BETTER JOBS

By H. C. HODGES

THE CROWNING ACHIEVEMENT

Howard E. Kershner sums up his commencement address on "The Moral Basis of A Free Society" in this manner: "Last night, socialism cannot succeed because it is doing on the trail. It is not progress, it is retrogression. God, in His infinite wisdom, seems to have been using the ages of the earth's existence for the purpose of creating unique individuals. One-celled animals are all about alike. In the masses of ocean plankton the individual is almost indistinguishable. As we go higher in the biological scale, individuality begins to appear. Sheep are much alike but they do have individual characteristics. Horses and dogs are more pronouncedly individuals, differing more one from another.
