West Can Expect Few Concessions

By K. C. THALER
United Press International

LONDON (UPI)—The Soviet Union made it plain today the West can expect no major concessions in Berlin at the forthcoming foreign ministers conference in Geneva.

Soviet diplomats said Moscow was determined to stand fast by its plan to hand over West Berlin to the Communist East German regime regardless of any settlement for the Western party of the city.

A series of Soviet diplomatic moves emphasized the tough stance the Russians were taking before the May 11 conference begins. Already the Soviets were accusing the West of trying to torpedo the talks.

Wednesday, Russia accused the United States of trying to wreck the Geneva conference by stepping up missile-base construction in Europe although the missile program is two years old.

U. S. State Department spokesman Lincoln White called the accusation "devoid of substance" and noted the Russians usually made such propaganda statements on the eve of important East-West meetings.

The Soviet Union, backed by East Germany, also built a major propaganda campaign around the U. S. Air Force high-level flights before the May 11 conference begins. Already the Soviets were

Extra Session Likely In Austin

AUSTIN (UPI)—A special session of the Texas Legislature day of debate on a gigantic tax bill today. But it has already been hope rapidly faded that lawmakers will be able to ram stripping away some 100 million through a tax bill to solve the state's financial problems before the proposed 300 million dollars sine die adjournment May 12.

Legislators felt some items might appear to be a sales tax.

A sales tax by any other name still smells, said Rep. Joe Cannon of Mexico, and apparently summed up the feeling of the majority of the House membership.

If and when the lower chamber gets a tax bill through which would provide enough funds to pay for the higher cost of state government during the next two years and wipe out a current state deficit, the bill still must go through committee in the Senate and then be approved by the upper chamber. There is less than three weeks left in the regular session.

The tax bill before the legislature is a substitute for recommendations made by Gov. Price Daniel. It was drafted at the urging of Speaker Waggoner Carr door sessions on the legislation who asked for a "broad-based" Wednesday and instructed its staff to draft a bill reflecting its

House May Kill Jobless Pay Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Organized labor's No. 1 proposal for jobless pay legislation appeared today to be destined for rejection by the House Ways & Means Committee.

Signs also pointed to a turn-down by the committee of the Eisenhower administration's bid to broaden the unemployment compensation program to cover 3,200,000 more workers.

These were understood to be views of a majority of the committee after it recessed closed-door sessions on the legislation Wednesday and instructed its staff to draft a bill reflecting its

No formal votes will be taken until the committee acts on the draft, but political observers feel it is doubtful members will support the bill.

Refuse to approve a federal standard for the amount and duration of benefits which must be paid by the states, the main goal of organized labor in this field.

Provide only a token extension of coverage to several thousand more workers, compared with the 3,200,000 sought by the administration.

Striker Hurt In Exchange Of Gun Fire

HENDERSON, N.C. (UPI)—Shots were exchanged between strikers and non-strikers at the Harriet-Henderson Mills Wednesday night when mill workers ended their second shift.

One striker was wounded and two non-strikers were arrested. A small fire broke out at the firm's South Henderson Mill.

Gov. Luther M. Hodges, who has been attempting to mediate the strike-torn strike, asked the company to halt night shift operations and cancel a proposed third shift, thereby confining work to daylight hours.

The second shift has been the focal point of stepped-up violence since a proposed strike settlement broke down Monday over the issue of the number of jobs available for returning strikers.

Hodges said Wednesday that negotiations toward a settlement had ended in failure. In a strongly worded statement, Hodges criticized both sides in the dispute and asked officials of the Textile Workers Union of America (AFL-CIO) for a written guarantee against further violence.

Japan Election To Test U.S. Strength There

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Surprise Senate approval of a "bill of rights" amendment to its labor reform bill aroused union opposition today and brought a warning that final passage may be jeopardized.

Sen. John F. Kennedy, D-Mass., chief sponsor of the bill, said ultimate approval was made "more difficult" by the Senate's 47-46 acceptance Wednesday of the "rights" proposal of Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon sealed McClellan's victory by casting a tie-breaking vote against the action.

Japan Election To Test U.S. Strength There

TOKYO (UPI)—Japanese voters went to the polls under clear skies today to elect 20 prefectural governors and 46 legislators in a test of strength between pro-American conservatives and Communist-leaning Socialists.

There were no reports of violence as between 30 and 35 million voters streamed to the polls.

The hard-fought campaign ended Wednesday with the murder of a Liberal Democrat (conservative) candidate and an anti-throwing raid by ultra-nationalist youths on a Socialist election rally in Tokyo.

The voting, the first of three ballots to be held between April and July, was seen as a test of the public popularity of Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's pro-American policies. No results were expected to be known before Saturday.

Other Amendments

Similar support, give or take a few crucial votes, was expected on his other amendments, including bans on:

- Secondary boycotts, by which unions apply indirect pressure on employers through others not involved in labor disputes.
- Picketing aimed at forcing employers to sign union contracts by strikes in which their own workers are not involved.
- Kennedy, who suffered his first setback on the bill, said the "rights" amendment "was poorly drafted and adds little to the protections already available under state law."
- The McClellan amendment would provide for a fine of up to $10,000, prison terms of up to two years, or both for labor leaders convicted of depriving union members of their rights.
- Labor Fears Harm
- These would include equal voting rights, equal protection under union rules and regulations, freedom of assembly, freedom against arbitrary dues hikes and excessive initiation fees, freedom to sue the unions or their officers, protection against improper disciplinary action and the right to inspect membership lists when running for office.
- AFL-CIO spokesmen said the amendment could subject unions to a flood of lawsuits by dissident members. They said the disciplinary provision could open the door for irresponsible minorities to stage wildcat strikes without fear of union discipline.

Nose Cone Recovered

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—A Thor intermediate range ballistic missile with a tape recorder in its nose cone made a 1,500-mile flight early today, and a recovery team picked up the ejected instrument capsule.

The Air Force said the data capsule was the fourth recovered from Thor nose cones. About six Thors have carried the packages on test flights.

The data capsules float on the ocean's surface, and a light on the top attracts the recovery team to its location.

"Good telemetry was received on all stages of the flight, which was programmed for less than full IRBM range," the Air Force said.

"The missile carried flashing lights to permit optical ballistic camera tracking and the re-entry vehicle nose cone was visually sighted by an aircraft and two ships in the downrange area as it reentered the earth's atmosphere."

The last data capsule recovery was on March 27. A Thor fired that night was equipped with a tracking light identical to the one fired Wednesday night.

Vice-President's Vote Was 'Break'

By WILLIAM THEIS
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon's tie-breaking Senate vote for a labor "bill of rights" placed him willingly on record today on a key issue of the 1960 presidential race.

His associates called it politically a "lucky break."

It enabled Nixon as the GOP presidential front-runner, to send a defeat to Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), the current leader in Democratic presidential polls.

It gave Nixon a dramatic chance to show his stand on the general problem of controlling labor union abuses. Vice presidents may only vote in the Senate when there is a tie.

It lined up the vice president with his own party on the issue.

Thirty-two of the 34 Republican senators voted for the "bill of rights" amendment of Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.).

Nixon's vote putting over the McClellan amendment is certain to incite the wrath of labor leaders. But the vice president's backers expect any labor support he gets to come from rank-and-file members rather than union leaders in any event.

On balance, it appeared, he scarcely could have voted otherwise.

Before the 45-45 tie vote developed, the Senate had registered its will in favor of the McClellan amendment by a roll call vote of 47 to 46. The tie came on a procedural follow-up motion designed to nail down the original vote.

Thus Nixon's action could be rationalized as one of mere confirmation.

COUNTY DOCKET WILL BE CALLED

County Judge William Craig said today the criminal docket of Gray County Court will be called at 10 a.m. May 11.

At that time a date will be set for all pending criminal cases to be tried before a jury.

The jury week is set to begin at 10 a.m. May 18, with non-jury matters disposed of at the call of the docket.

Police Smash Prison Mutiny

CONCORD, Mass. (UPI)—A purely and simply an escape mutiny in Concord Reformatory attempt. I told them to surrender or we will come in and get you," crushed in four hours by uniformed state police and prison authorities.

A force of 125 gas-masked helmeted troops, armed with riot gear, stormed the prison, offering no resistance.

The convicts had locked the barrages of tear gas shells Wednesday, subdued the convicts and recaptured 15 hostages. It was the second revolt in Massachusetts prisons in six weeks.

Fifty-one prisoners among the 150 inmates were involved in the uprising, officials said. Five were named as ringleaders. Authorities today planned to question all involved.

The revolt, termed by officials an escape attempt, was touched off by Charles (Bull) Martin, 38, an often-convicted robber.

Leader Has Pistol

A prison official told United Press International the whole uprising apparently began because Martin was "crazy drunk." The official said the convicts repeatedly stole small quantities of lemon extract, which has a high alcohol content, from the prison kitchen, and used it to brew a "space wine" and sent on a spree Wednesday.

Martin was the only mutineer who was armed. Where he got the .32-caliber pistol he carried was not known.

The other four ringleaders were identified as Thomas Carino, Peter Markarevic, Lawrence Wood and Eugene (Red) Heston.

Authorities said there was apparently a vague plan to reach the main entrance of the reformatory. At one point Martin told Supt. Edward S. Brennan bluntly: "I want out."

COTTON JOHN AT PAMPA DINNER

Daylight Saving Time Slated To Start Sunday

CHICAGO (UPI)—The annual confusion that marks the start of daylight savings time descends on nearly half of the nation at 2 a.m. Sunday.

In daylight time homes, clocks will be set ahead one hour so that the family can enjoy an extra hour of early evening daylight throughout the summer and into the fall.

Confusion in daylight time states and cities is usually confined to the first day when people who forgot to set their clocks ahead find themselves late for church. But transportation creates a deeper summer-long problem because of time differentials between states and even between cities only a few miles apart.

Celanese Sets Safety Record

The Pampa Celanese Plant has logged 1,030,000 accident free hours since June 20, 1957, according to Bob Banks, safety engineer. Since the last lost-time injury, approximately 2,000 man hours per day have been worked without an accident or injury.

On March 26 the plant achieved its one millionth accident free hour and the record now stands at over 1,030,000 hours.

During this 22 month period, the volume of traffic in and out of the plant has increased to ten times the normal amount, necessitating the construction of an additional clock alley for contract personnel.

Despite an expansion program and the added exposure to hazardous conditions, no lost time accidents have occurred to Celanese employees or contract personnel. The three construction companies at Celanese employ about 254 workers.

The plant is shooting for a million and a half accident free hours by next April.

Two Plead Guilty To DWI Charges

Two drivers entered pleas to drunken driving charges in county court Tuesday.

Mrs. Anna May Riddle, Westcliff, Colo., entered a plea of not guilty but was found guilty after a short hearing before Judge William Craig. The Colorado motorist, involved in a four-car entanglement Feb. 12, was fined $100 and sentenced to three days in jail.

Testimony at the hearing was given by Police Officers J. O. DuMas and A. B. Bailey. Mrs. Riddle waived a jury trial.

Wesley Allen Baker, 24, 1037 S. Barnes, entered a plea of guilty to drunken driving charges and was also fined $100 and given three days in jail.

Lamar Christian Church Men Hear Cotton John Wednesday

Twenty-six new members of the Lamar Christian church, 1200 S. Sumner, were honored Wednesday night at a dinner at the church attended by 75 persons including "Cotton John" Smith of KGNC, Amarillo.

Smith, who made a belated appearance due to an earlier engagement in Amarillo, spoke several minutes on his 1958 European tour.

Cotton John said he was impressed by the growth of West Germany into a first-class world power, and the decline of England into a "second of third-rate" nation. He blamed England's decline on high taxes and socialism, and credited free enterprise for West Germany's latest role as a world power.

Before Cotton John's arrival, his film, "A Tenderfoot In Europe," was shown. The 37-minute movie describes in color a tour of Europe made last summer by a delegation of Golden Spread residents.

Master of ceremonies at the evening's dinner was E. C. Pulse. The Lamar church pastor is David E. Mills.

Pastor Mills said that Lamar church, now in its fourth year, has added 38 members since November and now has 150 resident members.

Lamar church was established by the First Christian church in 1955, and Rev. Mills has been pastor there the past two years.

Child Bitten By Mad Dog

EL PASO (UPI)—Army hospital officials searched today for an unidentified child believed bitten by a rabid dog and doomed to death if not treated quickly.

An unidentified sergeant came to the William Beaumont Army hospital's emergency room Tuesday night and told a medical officer his child had been bitten by a dog Sunday and the dog was "acting strangely."

A spokesman at the hospital said the sergeant was told to bring the child into a clinic Wednesday morning where rabies shots are given, but he failed to appear.

"For some reason, the officer on duty didn't get the sergeant's name," the hospital spokesman said. He said it was assumed the child lived in the El Paso area, but he might have been traveling and stopped at the base.

Doug Bickel, information officer at the hospital, said the child must be treated immediately if the dog is rabid. It could prove fatal if treatment is postponed for as short a time as one week.

The hospital asked all news media to urge any person having knowledge of a child bitten Sunday or the sergeant's name to contact the hospital.

Stinnett's Band Places In Contest

CANYON (Sp1)—The Stinnett High School Band made Division II in concert and sight reading performances here Wednesday.

The first day of Interscholastic League competition brought 16 Region XI bands to the campus of West Texas State College.

Three other area bands made Division III ratings in concert and II in sight reading. They represent White Deer, McLean and Canadian High Schools.

School bands from Pampa, Pertyon, Shamrock and nine other schools were to compete today.

Car, School Bus Brush Fenders

A car and loaded school bus brushed fenders Tuesday afternoon in the 100 block on S. Ballard.

The mishap involved a Pampa School District bus driven by Willie Jarvis, 1900 Christine, and a 1951 Plymouth driven by Henriette T. DeNardini, 418 N. West. Damages to Miss DeNardini's car were set at $75. No tickets were issued.

Cabot Garage Complete Loss

Pampa firemen early today were called to a garage fire in a housing unit at Skellytown. The garage, described as a total loss, was part of the Cabot Carbon Company's housing unit. The blaze was reported at 12:52 a.m.

Firemen also made two calls Wednesday afternoon and evening, one to a home at 745 E. Albert, and the other to a minor car fire two miles south of Pampa on the Lefors highway.

The house fire was confined to a bathroom which was damaged slightly by flames from a hot water heater. Tennant Arley Bentley reported the fire at 2:20 p.m.

At 7:38 p.m. firemen were called when a 1952 Ford driven by Roy Parks caught fire on the Lefors highway. Damages were described as very light. The fire was out on arrival.

Toastmaster To Enter District Speech Contest

Paul Ellison will represent the Pampa Toastmasters Club in a District speech contest Saturday in Amarillo. Ellison won an area contest here recently.

The District convention will begin at 7 p.m. Friday at the Sahara Sands Motel. The speech contest will follow a Saturday night banquet at the Amarillo Club. Ellison will face five other speakers from the District.

Griswold Rogers, Area 4 governor from Pampa, is on the program for a Saturday business session. Other Pampanos expected at the convention are Otis Petty, Lloyd Kuntz, Bob Swanson, Charlie Nix and Joe Pafford.

Dulles Named To Social Post

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An illness but "grateful" John Foster Dulles personally accepted from President Eisenhower today appointment as special foreign policy consultant and pledged to do all he can to help the nation attain a "just and honorable peace."

At a poignant swearing in ceremony in the former secretary of state's hospital suite, Eisenhower told Dulles that his acceptance of the special post "is but one more example of your magnificent spirit and devotion to the nation's welfare."

The President, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, new Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and other administration officials made a special trip to Walter Reed Army Medical Center for the private ceremony.

Planning Dinner For Fifty Guests? Use These Recipes For Large Groups

At this time of year, when club and church groups are entertaining once again, many of you home-makers are likely to find yourselves heading food committees for luncheons or suppers.

Although you may have gained reputations as outstanding home cooks, preparing food in large quantities presents an entirely different problem. Measurements of ten are different and cooking techniques may vary. Nor is it satisfactory to triple or quadruple a home-size recipe.

Fortunately, in recent years many of these difficulties have been solved for food committee chairmen.

Large quantity recipes specifically developed for the amateur chef frequently are available from food companies. Beatrice Cook, home economist at Meadow Gold Dairy, for example, has worked out a number of fine recipes which are easy for women to follow. They are the types of dishes most club groups seek.

Here are two of Miss Cook's recipes. One is a main dish, consisting of layered meat mixture and noodles. The other is for a cottage cheese filled molded fruit salad. Portions are for fifty.

TWO-IN-ONE CASSEROLE
(50 Servings)
7 pounds ground beef

2 pounds ground pork
2 cups chopped onion
1 1/2 cups butter
2 1/2 quarts tomato puree
1 1/4 quarts tomato paste
3 pounds creamed cottage cheese
3 tablespoons soy sauce
2 tablespoons salt
1 1/2 teaspoons pepper
2 1/4 pounds noodles
1 quart buttered bread crumbs

Brown meat and onion lightly in butter. Add tomato puree, tomato paste, cottage cheese and seasonings; stir until well mixed. Simmer for 15 minutes. Cook noodles as directed on package.

In buttered shallow baking pans, alternate layers of noodles and mixture. Sprinkle buttered bread crumbs over top. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes or until top is browned.

Honey Of A Cake Fresh From Oven

Mother's know that they can't always count on their family's good breakfast habits to work infallibly. So once in a while it's wise to feature a surprise at the morning meal. A coffee cake fresh from the oven is the answer.

HONEY-CRISP-COFFEE-CAKE
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup soft shortening
1-3 cup sugar
1 egg
2-3 cup milk

1 cup Kellogg's Sugar Frosted Flakes
3 tablespoons soft butter or margarine
1/2 cup honey
1/2 cup shredded coconut
1/2 cup drained crushed pineapple

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Blend shortening and sugar; add egg and beat well. Stir in sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk, being careful not to overmix. Spread in greased 1 1/2 X 7 1/2 inch pan.

Crush Sugar Frosted Flakes slightly. Blend butter and honey; stir in shredded coconut, pineapple and Sugar Frosted Flakes. Spread over batter. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 35 minutes.

Yield: 1 coffee cake.

Delicious Canned Ham With Regal Fruit Sauce Simplifies Maytime Entertaining

1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind
1 1/2 teaspoons prepared mustard
1/2 teaspoon poppy seed
1/2 teaspoon ground rosemary

In the top of a double boiler, beat eggs with a rotary beater until frothy. Gradually add orange juice, apricot nectar, lemon juice, sugar, salt, and orange rind. Heat water to boiling in the lower part of the double boiler. Place egg and fruit mixture over the water. Stir constantly until mixture thickens.

ena. Blend in remaining ingredients. Cover and place in refrigerator to cool.

These serving suggestions and recipe were developed for use with Swift's Premium Canned Ham.

For a winter celebration, serve Hot Spiced Lemonade Tea Punch with colorful sandwiches and gaily decorated cupcakes. Add a few baubles to identify a special holiday.

Magnetic Power Of Spicy Aromatic Tea With Lemon Will Attract Guests

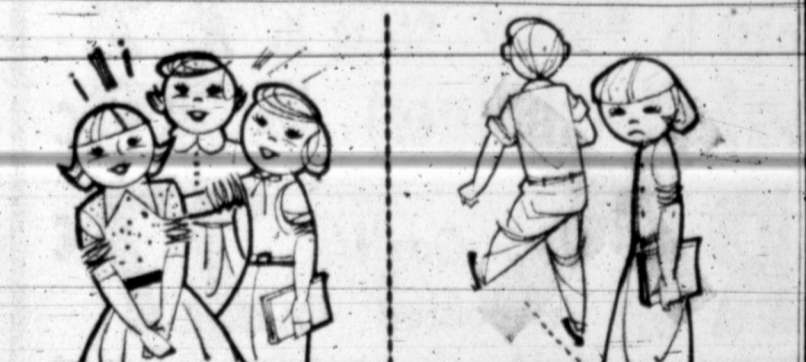

The following menu is recommended for a holiday party because it requires a minimum of effort, money and preparation. The main attraction is Hot Spiced Lemon Tea Punch served in cups or mugs, with cinnamon sticks as muddlers, and clove-studded lemon slices for garnish. Those who may be inclined to arch an eyebrow in consternation at the idea of tea serving as the main attraction, will be amazed at the magnetic power of its spicy aroma to draw the guests toward the punch bowl. The rest of the menu consists of a variety of assorted party sandwiches, plus quick cupcakes, (cut out of bakers' cakes with a round cookie cutter) decorated with icing and colors of your holiday choice.

As for the punch bowl if you don't have one, improvise by decorating a large pyrex or stainless steel mixing bowl with decals and placing it on a colorful tray or plastic dolly. A few seasonal flowers arranged as a garland at the base will produce effective results.

HOT-SPICED LEMONADE TEA PUNCH
(Makes 25-30 servings)
4 quarts water
1 teaspoon whole cloves
4 sticks cinnamon
1-3 cup loose tea (15 teabags)
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup orange juice
1 cup pineapple juice
1/2 fresh lemon juice

Add spices to cold water in kettle. Bring water to a full rolling boil. Remove from heat. Immediately add tea. Brew 5 minutes. Strain and add sugar; stir till dissolved. Add fruit juices. To reheat, (if necessary) before serving, place over low heat. Do not simmer or boil. Garnish with clove-studded lemon slices. Serve in mugs with cinnamon sticks as muddlers, if desired.

No breakfast or skimpy breakfasts are common practices among dieting teen-age girls. Nutritionists and doctors are concerned with the inadequate diets teen-agers follow when they try to reduce without supervision.

Research at The State University of Iowa has demonstrated that skipping or skimping on breakfast did not change young college women's weights provided the total number of calories for the day remained constant. In all cases the diets included an adequate breakfast which has been shown to be necessary to maintain efficiency in the late morning hours.

The recommended diet breakfast, shown on the left above, provides approximately one-fourth of the calories in a 1500-calorie diet. It provides one-fourth of the daily protein allowance, recommended by the National Research Council, for teen-age girls, 13 through 19 years of age. The orange juice, toast, and coffee breakfast falls far short of being an adequate reducing breakfast.

For health's sake, all dieting should be done under the supervision of a doctor.

GOLDEN FRUIT SALAD (50 Servings)

3-gluce packages orange-flavored gelatin
2 quarts hot peach sirup
2 quarts reconstituted concentrated orange juice
1 No. 10 can peach slices, drained
1/2 No. 10 can grapefruit sections, drained
1 pint maraschino cherries, chopped
2 pounds creamed cottage cheese
Dissolve gelatin in peach sirup. Stir in orange juice. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in remaining ingredients. Pour into shallow pans. Chill until firm. Cut into squares and serve on crisp salad greens.

NUTRITIONIST'S COMMENT
Lean meat is important in the reducing diet - it prevents too rapid a weight loss.

THE NEW LOOK
Serve leftover lamb slices topped with a tangy tomato sauce for new and unusual appetite appeal.

Mother's Day, graduations and bridal showers are just a few of the occasions for Maytime entertaining. Most of these parties accent feminine tastes but male guests should not be forgotten when the menu is planned. Delicious canned ham with a Regal Fruit Sauce takes honors with party trimmings and provides satisfying servings as well.

To prepare a canned ham, place it on a cutting board and remove gelatin. Slice in 1/2 inch thick slices, (or, have meat man slice on slicing machine). Tie a string around the ham to hold the slices together. Place the ham on the serving platter. Spoon the Regal Fruit Sauce over the ham and decorate the top surface with water-cress. Serve with avocado fruit salad and additional sauce.

REGAL FRUIT SAUCE FOR HAM
Yield: about 2 cups sauce
2 eggs
Juice from 1 orange (about 1/2 cup)
2-3 cup apricot nectar
1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
3 tablespoons sugar

Unopened, they may be stored in the refrigerator for many months. The sliced meat which is left after the party should be used within a week. Freezing ham is not recommended because when frozen cured meats deteriorate rapidly in flavor.

Because they are boneless and fully cooked, canned hams are a boon to the party planner. Carving is no problem. A sharp knife with a long thin blade is best for slicing the ham. Or if you prefer, chances are that the meat man where the ham is purchased will slice it for you on the slicing machine. A 10-pound pear-shaped canned ham will yield approximately forty-five slices. When shopping time comes around, it's wise to look for the brand name of the world's leading meat packer as a guide to highest quality meat.

The shape of the sliced ham is maintained by tying the slices securely together with string. The sauce or glaze and decorations are applied over it. At serving time the strings are snipped and each slice is easily transferred from platter to guest's plate.

Canned hams weighing 3 pounds or more should be refrigerated.

Cold Weather Hits North; Fair Elsewhere

United Press International

A fresh blast of cold air invaded the nation's north central section Thursday, but elsewhere mostly fair and mild weather prevailed.

The greatest warming, averaging 8 to 20 degrees, occurred from the eastern slopes of the Rockies and across the Plains to the mid-Mississippi Valley. Scottsbluff, Neb., had an early morning temperature of 55, as compared with 32 the day before.

Rain during the night was confined mainly to Virginia and West Virginia, and a few light showers in Montana and northern Wyoming.

Roanoke and Danville, Va., recorded 40-inch of rain, and a trace of snow fell at Flat Top in the mountains of West Virginia.

Cold air was expected to push south from Canada Thursday into Idaho, the Dakotas, Minnesota, northern Iowa and parts of Wisconsin and Michigan. Scattered showers were to accompany the colder air.

Fair and continued mild was the outlook for most of the rest of the country.

Troops Out For Buckskin

"Hunt for Buckskin" will be the theme of a District Scout Camporee set for the Billy Davis Ranch southeast of Lefors, this weekend. Troops from Gray, Carson and Roberts Counties are invited to participate in a competition based on Scouting skills.

The troop with the highest scoring average will receive a large buckskin banner, according to W. A. Morgan, chairman of the camping and activities committee. The camporee promises to be a significant experience, preparing Scouts for summer camp.

Members of the camping and activities committee have arranged for the events. Morgan's committee is made up of Denver Allen, Leon Fain, Parks Brumley and Carleton Nance.

brunette, is a senior at Lefors High School. She is 5 feet, five inches tall. Chosen best all-around girl in school, she is the sweetheart of the Lions Club.

She is a member of the National Honor Society and the Pirate Band. This year she holds the title of Football Queen.

Great Week Expected In Stock Market

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Investors Research Company "fully expects this week's rise to be the beginning of a great upsurge in stock values," with groups such as aluminum, automation, electrical equipment, airline, office equipment, steel, drug and building materials remaining in the Vanguard.

E. F. Hutton & Company's Joseph E. Granville says recent softness in coppers is expected to be temporary, and as the bull market approaches its more dynamic and final phase, it is likely to be topped off by a sharp upswing in the metals, principally copper.

L. O. Hooper of W. E. Hutton & Co. feels Norfolk & Western should be able to earn around $9.50 a share this year, and perhaps $11 in 1960. Says weakness in American seating provides an opportunity to make trading purchases in light of anticipated $3.50 to $3.75 a share probable for the year's earnings.

Hayden Stone's General Technical Survey says Standard Oil of Indiana is in a position to move above 60, with improvement in crude reserve position, re-entry into foreign field and increased production of crude and natural gas auguring well for earnings.

New York Air Brake should rebound sharply in 1960, with increase in quarterly dividend anticipated.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas
A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

Constitution Curbs Lawmakers

In an earlier column it was pointed out that our rights and freedoms as American citizens result from our state and national constitutions, our laws and our courts. To illustrate further, here are some of the restraints placed upon Congress and other agencies of government by our national constitution:

1. Neither Congress nor anybody else can suspend the writ of habeas corpus (unless the public safety demands it during rebellion or invasion). All officers or others must obey a court and bring in anyone in their custody to see whether he is held lawfully.

2. Congress cannot pass "bills of attainder," special acts to punish someone. Congress cannot by-pass the courts.

3. Congress cannot pass an ex post-facto law—a law which makes an act a crime which was not one when done, or which punishes the offender more than called for when done.

4. Congress cannot tax exports from any state nor by regulation favor one state's port over another's, nor make one state's vessels clear or pay duties to another state in order to enter.

Besides these denials from within the constitution curbs Congress and the executive and judiciary in the amendments, especially the first ten.

Among other things Congress cannot make a law respecting the establishment of religion or prohibiting its free exercise, or abridging the freedom of speech, of the press or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.

The constitution also curbs the courts (for example, they cannot deny a person a fair hearing duly represented by counsel). It curbs the executive (he cannot, for example, take private property for public use without just compensation).

The constitution, which divides the work of the three branches of government, winds up by telling where the rest of the power rests—just in case anybody gets any fancy ideas of dictatorship. There are things no state can do, for instance, "make or enforce any law which shall abridge the priv-

Shipbuilding activity at world shipyards during the first three months of 1959 continued to decline from last year's record peak-time high. Lloyd's Register of Shipping reported. It reported that 1,511 merchant ships of 10,001,761 gross tons were under construction throughout the world as of March 31, 1959.

CUP ON DISPLAY
BOSTON (UPI)—The Davis Cup, emblematic of world amateur tennis supremacy, will be exhibited by its creators for the first time since it was made 59 years ago. The trophy, will be at Shreve, Crump and Low, silversmiths who designed the cup, from April 23 through May 2.

Nun Faces Gigantic Job As Surgeon In India

By BILL THOMAS
United Press International

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—Near India, aboard a small freighter from the United States, is a Roman Catholic nun known as Sister Mary Martha. She has a big and unprecedented job ahead of her.

Read The News Classified Ads.

The tall, pleasant-faced sister is the first nun of her order, the Sisters of Charity of Nazareth, ever to become a doctor, much less a surgeon.

Scheduled to arrive in Bombay by April 15, Sister Mary Martha will travel to the town of Mokmah, where she will supervise a 100-bed hospital. Besides filling her duties as a nun, she will be the only surgeon in the entire Patna district of India. Her only aide will be a medical doctor.

Even though the 33-year-old nun is apprehensive about her new life, she looks forward to it.

Faced with thousands of people in a land where disease and superstition often walk hand in hand, and where sometimes the only medicine is that practiced by native doctors brewing herbs and roots, she will find plenty to keep her busy.

The sister has taken her five-year residency in surgery at St. Joseph's Infirmary in Louisville. Before that she was an honor graduate with a medical degree from Georgetown University, and took her pre-medical work at Ohio State University.

During her undergraduate days at Ohio State, Mary Wias was torn with indecision.

She wanted to be a surgeon, certain she had the talent, the aptitude and the intelligence to achieve that goal, difficult as it is for a woman. But she also wanted to be a nun, devoting her life to God.

She studied hard to become a doctor, but always wrestling with her conscience. Was it better to serve man or God . . . to heal the body or the soul? At that time, she did not know that she could do both.

Finally, in her junior year of college, the decision came. Religion won out and she entered the convent at Nazareth, a few miles from Badstown, Ky.

As a novice in the convent, many tasks fell to her lot . . . some pleasant, some distasteful and menial. She peeled potatoes, washed dishes and scrubbed floors.

She learned then that there was still a chance for her to fulfill her other dream . . . to become a surgeon. She made inquiries, learned all the details. It was agreed finally between the sister and her church that she would have the chance.

She was sent to Georgetown, where she worked as a laboratory technician. While working, she could enroll for some classes and thus finish her medical work. She enrolled in the school of medicine, which meant even harder work, sometimes sitting up all night poring over volume after volume of medical books.

Diligence was rewarded. After four years, she was graduated with honors and went to Louisville to take up her residency in the hospital.

Sister Mary Martha is one of the few American women ever to pass both the examinations of the American Board of Surgeons and the Royal College of Surgeons of Canada.

The white-robed nun knows she faces a monumental task in India, and she cannot forego her religious obligations . . . the four to five hours of prayer each day her order demands.

Her assignment is indefinite. She does not know if she will ever again see the United States or the little Illinois town where she was born.

But she faces the future unafraid. She heard two challenges and answered both. Her weapons are work and faith.

Eisenhower's Announcement Was Momentous Occasion

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Back stairs at the White House:

It was not until a day or two later that those who watched President Eisenhower announce the resignation of John Foster Dulles fully realized what a momentous occasion they had witnessed.

Probably never before, and certainly not as president, had Eisenhower displayed his feelings so demonstrably in public.

One well-known newspaper correspondent filed his dispatch and reported in the first paragraph that the President's eyes were brimming with tears as he announced Dulles' departure from government.

This fellow's editor promptly removed the reference to tears. Simply couldn't believe it.

Then the pictures showed up.

One member of Eisenhower's personal entourage at Augusta, Ga., where the President made the Dulles announcement said that in thousands of photographs of Eisenhower, he'd never seen the chief executive looking as dejected as he was in the shots made of him inside his car as he drove away from his Georgia news conference.

The White House staff, particularly the personnel in the residential section of the executive mansion, are looking forward with real anticipation to the visit next month of Sir Winston Churchill, the former British prime minister.

Sir Winston's last residence in the White House was in June of 1954. The house staff was utterly fascinated by him. A courteous "How are you this morning" sometimes brought only a grunt, but sometimes a voluble reply, replete with typical Churchillian phrases, would roll forth.

Anticipatory of Churchill's arrival here May 4, a friend of his recently brought back this story from Europe:

Not so many years ago, Sir Winston was noted for his love of brandy and scotch and his ability to consume same without missing a beat.

With the advance of age—he's now 84—and recent illnesses, the doughty World War II leader of the British has had to cut down on cigars as well as brandy.

He apparently doesn't relish the diminution of his robust reputation, however. Sir Winston has developed his own way of coping with the gossips who talk about how he's getting so old that he has to cut down.

He'll order a drink quite voraciously and even at an odd hour like 11 o'clock in the morning, accept it with great flourish, take a smackingly appreciative sip—then never touch it again.

Sub Crews' Mental Health Is Very Good

CHICAGO (UPI)—Mental breakdowns occur less often among submarine crews than in any other branch of the military.

Capt. Harry J. Alvis, director of the U.S. Navy's submarine medicine division, said today.

Speaking before the 40th annual meeting of the American College of Physicians, Alvis said that despite the cramped quarters, crewmen establish a workable community life.

They regard their medical officer as a family doctor and confidant, a sort of non-disciplinarian to whom they may air their troubles with at least a measure of freedom, he said.

Among themselves, the crewmen form small social clusters, congealing around a leader who possesses the same pattern of characteristics as the "leading citizen" of any community.

They tell one another their stories and troubles until "each has given his all and has heard everything the others have to say," Alvis said. Then the groups break up gradually, drift apart and realign themselves anew to start all over again.

Among 80 men, it takes considerable time for even a rather unpleasant person to inflict himself on all his companions, Alvis said. And since the group is composed entirely of volunteers screened for hidden undesirable characteristics, the chance of mental trouble is small, he said.

CIRCUS CLOWN

Clown Jeff Murphee will be part of Bailey Brothers Circus which comes to the Pampa Rodeo Grounds Monday for two performances. The Bailey Brothers troupe will give a matinee performance at 3:30 p.m. and a night show beginning at 8. The circus, first to reach Pampa since October, 1957, will be sponsored here by the Pampa Elks Club, with all profits going to the Elks Crippled Childrens Hospital at Ottine. Tickets are now on sale from all Elks members and at Richard Drug.

Western Powers Sadly Divided

By PHIL NEWSON
UPI Foreign Editor

On May 11, in Geneva, Switzerland, the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and Russia are scheduled to begin their conference paying the way to a session at the summit. It would be a sad day for the West if the conference were to start tomorrow. For the West scarcely ever has been more divided on basic issues than now.

Should the situation continue, it would fulfill a prediction made by the late Soviet Premier Josef Stalin.

Shortly after World War II, Stalin wrote that a war between the Soviet Union and the West was much less likely than a split among the Western powers, brought about by their own conflicting interests.

The present division among the Western powers arises from questions dealing with the West-Germany and is less a question of conflicting interests than one of conflicting ideas about how the German issue should be settled with the least risk of war.

Use Dividing Tactics

Meanwhile, the Soviets are grimly pursuing their usual divide-and-conquer tactics against the Western Allies and filling the air with accusations which later will become part of their arguments at the conference table.

In the space of two weeks, the Soviets have:

- Accused the United States of deliberately trying to torpedo the Geneva ministers conference by insisting on maintaining high altitude flights along the air corridors to Berlin.
- Warned Norway that NATO bases on Norwegian soil endanger the peace.
- Continued their stalling tactics at the Geneva nuclear conference where agreement is being sought to ban tests of nuclear weapons and set up an international inspection system which would guarantee its being carried out.

It may be predicted with some confidence that other similar tactics are in the cards which the Russians will play before the foreign ministers sit down to their Geneva conference.

Meanwhile, even without Russia's disruptive tactics, the West-Germany powers continue at odds.

West Germany's vacationing Chancellor Konrad Adenauer recently used words against Britain which one commentator described as words usually reserved for an enemy.

The British accuse the German re-unification, while the British, in the words of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, seek:

- "Pacification by negotiation and reasonable agreement."
- Before "pacification" between even the British and Germans is achieved, another meeting may be necessary between Macmillan and Adenauer.

At the same time criticism in the British press of the high altitude U.S. flights in the German corridors has been almost as strong as that carried by Pravda, the Communist Party newspaper in Moscow.

It became so strong that last week the U.S. State Department took pains to make clear that the flights had the approval of the entire U.S. government and were not just the decisions of a few U.S. generals.

There are only two real questions so far as Germany is concerned. The Allies already have expressed their determination not to be driven from Berlin by Russian threats. So the next move seems up to Russia. The next question deals with the terms and conditions by which it may be possible to reunify Germany.

The present bickering only contributes to Russian diplomatic initiative.

First Methodist Church Circles Meet For Study Program of "Isaiah Speaks"

Mrs. H. H. Boynton gave the opening prayer and Mrs. Paul Bowers brought the study on "Isaiah Speaks" at the CIRCLE ONE meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service, First Methodist Church, in the home of Mrs. H. H. Butler with Mrs. Virgil Drew as co-hostess. Mrs. Lee Harrah gave the devotional. Mrs. Clarence Lutes, chairman, presided during the business meeting. Mrs. J. B. Morrison explained the purpose of the Women's Auxiliary for the Texas Mission Home and Training School. It was announced that the circle will have a panel discussion for the May 6 program to conclude the study of Isaiah.

Other than those mentioned above, attending were Mrs. Frank Yealy, S. B. Hall, Joe Donaldson, J. B. Denson, D. M. Lowrance, R. Martin, Gene Groom, Raymond Dorsey, H. F. Johnston, El McCarley, F. L. Stallings, "God's Help In Time of Need" was the devotional topic given by Mrs. Aubrey Steele at the CIRCLE TWO meeting with Mrs. Carl Shafer, and Mrs. Ed Wiens as co-hostesses. Mrs. Charles Brauchle presided during the business meeting, as study leaders were selected. Mrs. Carl Shafer sang a solo "Seek Ye The Lord," accompanied by Mrs. Irvin Cole. Mrs. W. W. Adcock continued with the Isaiah study. It was announced that the next meeting will be with Mrs. J. E. Thompson, 1912 Dogwood.

Attending were Mrs. Carlton Nance, Doyle Osborne, Thurman Chine, H. H. Keahey, J. W. Lemons, T. C. Lively, Ralph Thomas, W. A. Wagener, John Gentry, J. C. McWilliams, S. T. Prater, Malcolm Douglas, and a guest, Mrs. F. L. Wilshire, and a new member, Mrs. L. W. Hamilton.

CIRCLE FOUR opened its meeting with a devotional by Mrs. S. C. Evans in the home of Mrs. Charles Wooley with Mrs. C. E. Boswell as co-hostess. Mrs. W. Purviance conducted the study on "Isaiah Speaks." Mrs. J. L. Bain spoke on the "Downfall of Babylon" and Mrs. W. R. Ewing gave the topic, "God and Modern History." Mrs. Purviance spoke on "Meaning of Salvation," "A Light To the Nation" and "Heralds of Good News."

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A few months ago my wife started going out "with the girls." I became suspicious when she stayed out so late and I followed her. She was meeting her boss in a bar. I caused a big scene and the next day I went to the president of the company they worked for and he fired them both. Since then five people have phoned me from the office expressing their sympathy over what happened and all said the affair had been going on for over three years (ever since she started working there). There are children involved on both sides. I forgave my wife for the children's sake but now she wants to get another job to help pay off some bills. Should I let her? I don't think she can be trusted.

DEAR ABBY: I doubt if either your mother or his sister would resort to such drastic measures; but you'd better refuse the bracelet. A girl can live without a girl-friend, but she definitely needs her brains.

DEAR ABBY: I am a divorced woman who is considered very attractive to men. My problem is this: Every man I've gone out with thinks that just because I've been married I have no morals. The first thing they suggest is their apartment or a motel or something like that. I love to dance. I enjoy good clean fun and I'd like to meet a man with the same ideas. Now I ask you, was I born forty years too soon or am I just old-fashioned?

LONELY
Dear Lonely: There is nothing "old-fashioned" about keeping one's self-respect. You are attracting the wrong kind of men. Change bait.

DEAR ABBY: Last week my little girl started scratching her head something fierce. I looked real good at her hair and it was loaded with lice. I killed all I could find. I scrubbed her head with a strong laundry bleach and combed her hair with a fine comb, but she still scratches. How can I kill all the lice eggs without damaging the roots of her hair? I am crazy with fear and fretting. Can you help me?

FEARFUL
Dear Fearful: Don't experiment on your child's head. Call your doctor and ask him for his recommendation.

Do your parents trust you? Get ABBY's booklet, "What Every Teenager Wants To Know." Send 25 cents and a large, stamped self-addressed envelope to ABBY in care of this newspaper.

Pre-Conference Meeting In Library

Following a tour of the Celanese Corp. of America Plant, state and district personnel of PTA District 19, Parent Teachers Congress, convened on Monday in Lovett Memorial Library for a pre-conference board meeting with Mrs. James E. Lewis, president presiding.

Mrs. Odell Bailey of Fort Worth, state council chairman, explained the functions of city and county PTA councils. Mrs. Robert Cross of Anson, state vice president, spoke on "Leadership in the PTA."

Approximately 50 delegates to the conference registered at the library on Monday with an additional number registering at the conference proper on Tuesday in Robert E. Lee.

During registration, delegates were served coffee and cookies from a yellow-cloth covered table centered with a bouquet of Spring flowers flanked with blue and gold tapers.

Hostesses were Mrs. T. M. Brooks and John Holt Jr. of Horace Mann PTA.

Attending the Board of Managers meeting were Mrs. H. E. Baum, Jack Foster, B. E. Tidwell, K. L. Green, James L. Lewis, all of Pampa; Mrs. Robert Cross of Anson; Mrs. Odell Bailey of Fort Worth; Mrs. M. V. Vandiver of Phillips; Woodville Jarvis of Spearman; W. A. Goad of Wheeler; Lawrence Neace of Clarendon; Raymond Zieger of Sherman; Herbert Cliff, Charles Mock of Childress; Harold Simpson of Perryton; George C. Boncutter of Sisseton; M. W. McCoy of Morse; Bill Thompson of Memphis; Doyle Alexander of Borger; Messrs. W. C. Harter, Guy Hazlett, Leason Steinkoeling, all of Borger.

(Editor's Note: The following article on Chrysanthemums has been received from Texas Technological College horticulture department whose director is Adrian Vaughan.)

LUBBOCK — Gardeners on the South Plains have a penchant for chrysanthemums have a choice of some 20 varieties and seven colors suggested for Test Texas this year by Texas Tech horticulturists. Results of chrysanthemum trials on varieties furnished by Yoder Brothers of Barberton, Ohio, have been reported by Edward Zukauckas, assistant professor of horticulture.

"We have found the variety 'Resolute' to have exceptional vigor and excellent color — a bright russet bronze," Zukauckas said. "Its high quality and good-sized flowers in mid-October make this variety a must for the average South Plains garden."

The trials also served to recommend "Andante" — a good quality, flesh-bronze flower that is moderately tall; "Candytuft" — light lavender pink, well-shaped plant and "Larry" — a medium to large white flower, borne on a relatively short plant.

Other general variety recommendations for 1959 include flowers in the following colors: White — Ochoa, Yellow — Astoria, Gold — Lobe, Honeycomb, Bright, Forest and Sunstone; Bronze — Resolute, Huntsman, Andante and Toronto; Red — Remembrance; Pink — Allegro, Lavender and Purple — Fuchsia Fairy, Orchid and Candytuft. Large flowered exhibition types include White Pink Chief, Pink Chief, Major Bowes, Peggy Ann Hoover and Kathleen Storer. Because many garden chrysanthemums have a tendency to overgrow when planted too early from cuttings or division, many gardeners want to know when is the latest possible date the garden mums may be pinched. Zukauckas said. "Favorable growing conditions last year produced plants by the end of August that would be too tall for normal garden use." Many of these plants were then sheared or cut back approximately one-half their height," he said. "Only a very slight delay in flowering resulted and the plant forms were not unattractive or affected by wind and rain," he said. Some slight delay was evidenced in flowering, but this amounted to one or two days delay in initial blossoming and a similar delay in peak bloom, the Tech horticulturist reported. They tended to shear those plants that were mid-October blooming types, or later, and had narrow branching tendencies. Avoid cutbacks or extremely woody plants or those showing much bud-ding at this time, he advised. It would probably be desirable not to cut back later than Aug. 15-20 on actively growing plants. Complete data on the Tech chrysanthemum trials and shearing practices are available from the Tech horticulture department.

Recently, the nation has been somewhat shocked by the fact that numerous of our elected representatives in Washington have been in the habit of practicing nepotism. This little used word means that a person in office will be a relative or some other person to whom he is beholden, irrespective of that person's skills or talents, in an effort either to feather his own nest or to pay off a political debt.

Political Role For Business

By A Big Businessman

I was very much interested in reading a copy of an address made by Crawford H. Greenwalt, president of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., the world's largest chemical concern, at the annual meeting of the North Carolina Citizens Assn. at Raleigh, N. C. Du Pont had just built a large plant in North Carolina.

Under the heading of "A Favorable Atmosphere," Mr. Greenwalt observed: "Let me say also how proud we are to be associated with the growth and development of North Carolina, particularly because we have found here so many of the conditions essential to successful operation and to agreeable living."

...We have been grateful for this friendly attitude, but we are even more encouraged by the assurance that North Carolina is less interested in campaigns to attract new business as such than in the solid advantages of a responsible business community, taking its place with agriculture and the many other activities of a well-balanced state...

Robert Allen Reports:

Civil Rights Commission Will Probe Three Cases

WASHINGTON — The Civil Rights Commission is scheduling three more big discrimination investigations before winding up its operations in September. The new probes will be in Chicago, Los Angeles and Florida. Purpose of the Chicago and Los Angeles hearings, in May and July, is to air charges of discrimination in housing. Particularly to be stressed in Chicago is the lack of effective Illinois laws. In Los Angeles, the emphasis will be on inadequate enforcement of laws barring discrimination in housing.

Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

NEW YORK — The young at heart are brave and merry, uninhibited and forthright. It takes time and circumstance to blunt all these and replace them with inhibitions. For example, The Bride. She is the daughter of a friend of long-standing and was married about six weeks ago to a young man who has a useful, somewhat security-stiffened job in New Jersey. Finding their tiny house no major housekeeping problem and being a modern, bright and energetic girl, she got a job two weeks ago. It like her husband's, was near-Dover, her job was to train prospective telephone salesmen for a frozen food outfit. She liked it. And she did it so well that her bosses decided she should go here and there about the state and expand her training classes. This was fine, except that she did not have a driving license. So she made application and, never having had a driving license anywhere, was issued only a temporary one which required the presence in the car of a fully licensed New Jersey driver. Meanwhile, they gave her a date for her test: two days later at 12:30 p.m. Immersed in her job, she forgot all about it until 11:30 a.m., and then desperately tried to get a licensed driver to go with her. No one around her had a New Jersey license. Some had none, some had New York licenses, some Delaware licenses. But none of the kind she needed. We'd panic, of course. She did nothing of the sort. She called the police. A lieutenant finally was put on and she carefully explained her dilemma as, every third or fourth sentence, he muttered "uh-huh, uh-huh, I see." When she was finished, and probably motivated by a burning desire to get this tornado off his back, he said: "Giving for you to do call a radio station and have them issue a public appeal." If it was sarcasm, it missed its mark. She called the local radio station. After explaining to a switchboard girl, she got a young executive of the station. A time salesman. I guess they are executives. He was charming. "Never let it be said that we disappoint our listeners," he said. "I'll go with you." And he did. She passed the test and the inspection.

The Doctor Says:

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

"About seven years ago I had a rather removed, writes Mrs. F. "Since then I have put on a lot of weight and am sleepy and feel tired all the time. Could this come from the operation, and is there anything which might be done to help me?" An attempt to answer this question requires a little guesswork. Of course, Mrs. F. should check with a physician before doing anything. However, the question certainly implies that the patient had a part of her thyroid gland removed seven years ago for a toxic condition. At that time, presumably, this gland was producing an abnormal hormone secretion and the operation was doubtless done to restore its action more nearly to normal. It seems possible that in this instance more thyroid tissue was removed than necessary so that now not enough of the hormone is produced. This can be checked by having Mrs. F. take a basal metabolic test and other tests. If these reveal insufficient thyroid hormone production, she can be given just the right amount of thyroid extract. Aside from operation there are two well-known disorders resulting from insufficient hormone manufactured by the thyroid gland. One is known as cretinism and occurs in children. A child afflicted with cretinism fails to grow normally, either in a mental or physical sense. What causes cretinism is not completely understood. The disease is fortunately rare in most parts of the world, although even today there are said to be an unusually large number of cases in certain regions of the Swiss Alps. Thyroid extract prepared from animals contains the hormone which is lacking in cretinism. Therefore, if this extract can be given early enough and in sufficient quantities it will largely counteract the evil effects from the lack of secretion of the thyroid gland. Adults also may be affected by total lack of secretion of the thyroid gland. This is known as myxedema. It is a rare and extraordinary condition: the hair gets thick, coarse and loses its sheen; the skin becomes thick and dry; the pulse is slowed, and other symptoms such as anemia and joint pains are common. Any physician likes to make a diagnosis of myxedema. One reason is that it is more or less of a medical curiosity; another that treatment is exceedingly successful. Thyroid extract results in the complete disappearance of symptoms which may have been present for many years. Of course, the thyroid extract has to be kept up throughout life, but this is simple and not excessively costly.

Why Not Send A Pullman Roomette Into Space

By HENRY MCLEMORE

Thoughts While Thinking: With the disclosure of the measurements of the capsule designed to carry the first man into space, one wonders why the government didn't save the millions of dollars it will cost by borrowing a roomette from the Pullman company. Benjamin Franklin, for one, would be shocked at New York's plans to prosecute the man who saved enough from his wear and tear to start playing the stock market, and then ran it up to $21,000. Far from being prosecuted, the man should be appointed Wall Street advisor to all welfare recipients everywhere. Under his sagacious guidance, welfare payments might well be rendered unnecessary, with the possible exception of an occasional check for automobile and yacht repairs. It is possible that the English paid too high a price for their magnificent one-man stand against Germany at the start of World War II? Now then the English ask as if they had had it, and no longer want to stand up against aggression. Compromise appears to have replaced firmness, and talk of defending the right in the streets, on the beaches, and to the last man, belongs to another man, another era. Any talk of the reunification of Germany, until the West Germans are ready and able to take care of the matter themselves, is idle, foolish talk. At least that is my opinion after living among the Germans for nearly two years. They are a bit too realistic to believe that Russia will ever willingly see the country reunited, with Berlin as the capital. The most appalling sound in the world is that of a baby rolling off a bed. The more I see of TV Westerns, the more I am convinced that some young man is missing a chance to make a fortune by not going West and teaching the Indians how to shoot. My own survey, made over seven years of viewing, shows that an Indian fires 2,200-341 rounds of ammunition for every member of a wagon train hit. This is gross inaccuracy. Any Indian, even going to full gallop, should be able to hit Ward Bond once in every 2,000 rounds. "When the Earl of Bradford was questioned by the Lord Chancellor in a test of his sanity, he was asked: 'Does your lordship prefer to live sheep or a dead sheep?' 'Lord—'tis the same thing. 'But—Oh, no. A dead sheep has only two legs. The two forelegs are shoulders, and there are only two legs of mutton. 'Customer—'Is your word, waiter, what kind of soup is this?' 'Waiter—'It's bean soup.' 'Customer—'I don't care what it's been, what is it now?'"

Practical Results

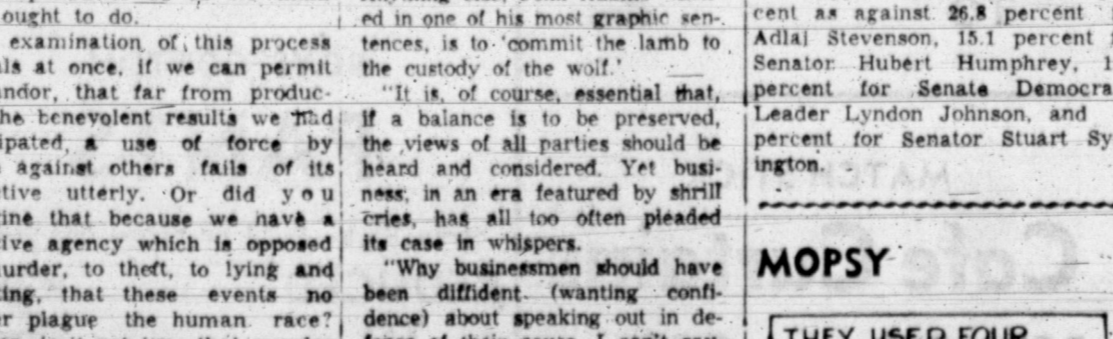

Aside from survival, when you get right down to it most of our problems stem from faulty human relationships. The human race for a number of centuries has had an excellent guide for its own conduct. Christians and Jews refer to the guide as the Ten Commandments. Non-Christians and non-Jews have other names for a set of similar rules. These rules relate to human relations. They don't tell us how to earn a living. Instead, they voice a certain amount of self-control in minimal areas of human conduct. Since we are accustomed to Western thinking, let us look at the familiar commandments. Without exception they are a charge to you as an individual to control yourself. Nowhere in the Decalogue do we find a commandment which says, "Get organized and see to it that no one else breaks this commandment." Apparently the author of the commandments trusted individual human nature. Eight of the admonitions tell you of things you are not to do. Two call for specific performance. But without exception the guidance is addressed to you as an individual. Ever since the commandments were first reproduced and widely distributed, they have been broken. But only a small part of our problem comes from these occasional lapses of individual self-control. Our major problem falls into a classification not covered by the commandments. It seems that instead of obeying the commandments and thus minding our own business, we have embarked upon a program of almost universal governmentalism, in which we fancy that we can organize agencies of force to compel other people to obey the commandments. It is in this area that we come to grief. For, whereas the author of the commandments charged each individual with practicing self-control, we have refused to believe that such a practice was practicable. Instead, we have imagined that we could improve upon the author's recommendation and have caused ourselves to be appointed and elected to positions in which we, in theory, supplement the enforcement of rules which were never intended to be enforced except by the individual himself. The true irony of our plight is discovered when we find so many saying that to expect everyone to control himself is a Utopian dream. That will never work. What we must do is to compel everyone to be controlled, not by self-discipline, but by a state-ordered discipline. That we are told is practical. One has only to examine the melancholy record of human progress to discover that the so-called "practical" approach to law and order is impractical in the extreme. There is scarcely a nation in history but has gone down to inglorious defeat and ignominious oblivion simply because it endeavored to compel everyone else to follow the commandments, or other similar rules. Those nations which have endured, at least for a few hundred years, have managed to endure simply because they permitted a maximum of individual discipline and kept coercive discipline in a minimum. It would seem that we ought to begin wondering if the author of the commandments was not better informed as to the true nature of life than we are. If there is such a thing as wisdom, then surely it would be the part of wisdom for us to explore the possibilities of trusting human nature to look after human beings voluntarily, rather than relying upon the oppressive and highly impractical device of a use of force to make everyone over in our own image. As we said at the outset, it all comes back to human relations.

Businessmen Lacking Confidence

In formalizing the political philosophy of the American system, the Constitution gave recognition to the fact that the society then in the making would always consist of minority groups. Wisely, it provided the guarantees which safeguard the rights of minorities against oppression by the more numerous and more aggressive. With such rights assured, the balance-of-power doctrine serves to curb excesses and offset efforts by any group to benefit at the expense of the other. Anytime, John Adams warned, in one of his most graphic sentences, is to "commit the lamb to the custody of the wolf." "It is, of course, essential that, if a balance is to be preserved, the views of all parties should be heard and considered. Yet business, in an era featured by shrill cries, has all too often pleaded its case in whispers. "Why businessmen should have been diffident (wanting confidence) about speaking out in defense of their cause, I can't say. The reasons, I suppose, are as irrelevant as they are various. Regardless of cause, business has not been active enough in its own behalf. Had the privilege of a hearing been removed by law, the injustice would have been decreed as an outrage. Yet, as Mark Twain once said about reading, there is little difference between those who don't and those who can't." Mark Twain's remark undoubtedly at that time applied to people who read to gain understanding rather than to people who read simply to escape intellectual growth.

NICK ROBERTS Myer's target

MIGHTY ATLAS ... match for Geigel?

Commission Orders Tag Team Match

Wrestling commissioner Doc Miller has ordered the Mighty Atlas and Nick Roberts to meet Bob Geigel and Sonny Myers in a tag team match Saturday night at Top o' Texas Sportsman Club.

Robinson May Lose Title

NEW YORK (UPI)—Sugar Ray Robinson, pinned against the legal ropes by the double attack of a New York state judge and the National Boxing Association, was in grave danger today of losing his world middleweight championship.

Robinson, who never has defended the crown he won last year from Carmen Basilio, was told Wednesday by state Supreme Court Judge Saul Streit that he must sign within 15 days to defend against Basilio or risk being stripped of the crown.

And the NBA, which rules boxing in states other than New York indicated it will take the title from the "Sugar Man" unless he signs by midnight Saturday.

Just how Robinson would react to these twin threats, as dangerous as any he ever faced in the ring, wasn't being made clear either by Robinson or by his handlers.

There was some chance that Robinson would meet the deadlines by agreeing this week to a defense against Basilio. He already has held several conferences with Madison Square Garden boxing officials on the subject.

Judge Streit slapped the new deadline on Robinson in handing down a decision in a court proceeding brought by Robinson. The champion had asked the court to stop the New York State Athletic Commission from fulfilling its threat to vacate his title unless he signed for a defense against Basilio.

Streit upheld the right of the commission to set a time limit on a champion and to name a suitable opponent. "Otherwise, he would freeze his title indefinitely by selecting inferior opponents for his defense of that title."

Yanks, Braves Get Great Pitching

By FRED DOWN United Press International It's axiomatic that the New York Yankees and Milwaukee Braves never look more like champions than when Whitey Ford and Lew Burdette are throwing goose-eggs at the opposition.

And, it's equally true that nothing can make a major league team look worse than to have its pitching collapse.

Both propositions were demonstrated dramatically Wednesday night when the Yankees and Braves scored brilliant victories on the strength of their pitching and the Cincinnati Reds and Kansas City Athletics suffered humiliating defeats through inability to hold big early leads.

Whiffs Fifteen Ford, pitching perhaps the finest game of his career, limited the Washington Senators to seven hits and struck out 15 batters in a 1-0, 14-inning victory while Burdette, off to one of the fastest starts of his career, out-dueled Robin Roberts to defeat the Philadelphia Phillies, 2-0.

And what poor Mayo Smith of the Reds and Harry Craft of the Athletics would have given for just a tiny bit of that kind of pitching!

Smith sat back comfortably when his Reds scored six runs in the third inning and led, 7-0, at the end of five innings. Then he groaned in despair as the Pittsburgh Pirates rallied to tie with seven runs in the seventh and went on to win, 9-8, on a ninth-inning single by Rocky Nelson.

Walk, Walk, Walk Craft was living it up like Casey Stengel when his Athletics ran three to one on the Chicago White Sox after two innings. But the one-hit relief pitching for 4 1/3 innings pitched the Red Sox lead.

Home runs by Jim Piersall, Rocky Colavito and Gene Lusk accounted for seven Cleveland runs and Gary Bell spaced out seven Detroit hits as the Indians continued their early-season slugging.

Jackie Jensen's four hits and Stengel when his Athletics ran three to one on the Chicago White Sox after two innings. But the one-hit relief pitching for 4 1/3 innings pitched the Red Sox lead.

Advance tickets for Saturday's matches are on sale at Levine's Department Store. Prices are $1.50 for ringside, $1.25 for reserved seats, and $1.00 general admission.

SET UP POINT SYSTEM NEW YORK (UPI)—Yonkers Raceway officials have instituted a new point scoring system for eligibility in the $50,000 national championship race July 3 and the $50,000 national championship trot July 25. Points will be awarded on a 4-3-2-1 basis in free-for-all races, with the highest in point standings being selected as starter.

Neither Roberts nor Atlas has endeared himself to the fans, so there's no doubt about which team will be the popular favorite. Myers has long been popular with area wrestling fans, and Geigel has been well received when he's appeared on his own card.

This week mark the third time since Geigel took over promotion of the Pampa matches, that he has broken an unwritten rule, and appeared on his own slate of matches.

PACKARD MAY RETURN TO LUXURY CAR FIELD

By JACK VANDENBERG UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT (UPI)—Packard, the name which symbolized the finest in automobiles for many years in the past, may return to the luxury car market in the next several years. Studebaker-Packard Corp., President Harold E. Churchill indicated Saturday.

Churchill, in answer to one of several questions submitted to him by United Press International about the effect of the entry of the "big three" manufacturers into the small car field, said:

"While Studebaker-Packard Corp. has concentrated on the convenience-sized market this year, the Packard name has been preserved for possible further use.

"In the meantime, of course, through Mercedes-Benz Sales Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary, we are offering a line of automobiles second to none in the prestige car field."

Another S-P spokesman, commenting on the same subject, said it was "probable" that Packard might reenter the prestige car field in the next several years, but ruled out any possibility that the name Packard would be used on any other type of automobile.

It would be "possible, but not probable" that this reentry could occur during the 1960 model year, the spokesman said.

The decision on whether to reintroduce Packard as a prestige car probably would depend upon the effect the new, smaller American-built cars have upon the market.

If they spread the market and pull the middle-priced cars down the price range, it would leave a bigger space in the top price range and make it more likely that a new luxury car with the Packard name might be introduced.

Churchill, in his other answers, indicated his company felt it could meet the competition from the big three producers in the small car market without any additions to its present lines, however.

"The often forecast entrance of the big three manufacturers into competition for the smaller car market only confirms our decision to manufacture a convenience-sized car as the answer to consumer demand," he said. "The experience we gained in our early strong penetration should stand us in good stead in 1960."

Churchill said he felt the "announcements, counter-announcements and trial balloon announcements" by the big three companies was hurting their sales of 1959 models.

"Curiosity about these 1960 offerings may defer big three sales which could have been made in the 1959 (model) year," he said.

Churchill's company has made greater strides forward, on the basis of percentages, than any other company in the auto industry in the past year. And Churchill apparently is holding the Packard name as an ace in the hole if the sledding gets too tough in the small car market or if new opportunities arise in the years ahead.

Texas House OK's Liquor Tax Hike

By LLOYD LARRABEE

United Press International AUSTIN (UPI)—The House Wednesday voted a small increase in the state's liquor tax but killed a sales tax on lubricating oil.

The action highlighted a morning session of the lower chamber as it debated for the third day a giant 300-million dollar tax bill.

House members adopted, 98-40, a proposal by Rep. R. A. Bartram of New Braunfels to add 10 cents to the present tax of $1.408 per gallon on liquor. Earlier the House tacked on an amendment by Bartram to delete the entire increase.

That vote was 85-54.

Effect of the action was to strip $8,100,000 a year by knocking out the proposal to levy a 5 per cent retail sales tax on liquor, but add some three million dollars in revenue over the next biennium through the 10-cent increase.

Rep. H. J. (Doc) Blanchard of Lubbock, who served as chairman of a House Revenue and Taxation subcommittee which drafted the bill, called the 10-cent increase "ridiculously low amount."

"If you want to kill the bill," he said, "kill it gracefully."

The House by a vote of 75-50 adopted an amendment by Rep. Tony Korioth of Sherman striking from the bill a new two cent per quart sales tax on lubricating oil.

Korioth called the proposed levy "a straight out-and-out sales tax."

In other action on the tax bill, the house:

Killed, 69-55, a proposal by Bartram to double the present tax on wine, rather than triple it as proposed in the bill.

Failed, by a tie vote of 71-71, to adopt an amendment by Rep. John Crosthwait of Dallas seeking to strike from the bill a proposed tripling of present beer license fees.

Killed, 78-66, a proposal by Rep. Sam Parsons of Henderson seeking to strike a provision levying a 40 per cent tax on tobacco — including chewing tobacco, cigars and snuff.

Adopted an amendment by Rep. Joe Ed Wintree of Houston deleting a provision for a one-year, temporary increase of 35 per cent in the corporation franchise tax. Wintree has a separate bill providing the same increase.

Tacked on an amendment by Rep. Frates Seeliger of San Antonio levying a 12 per cent tax on cigars and other tobacco products. He said the 40 per cent levy proposed in the bill would be "unrealistic and too harsh."

On his amendment was 70-34.

Bartram, speaking on his amendment to knock out the sales tax on liquor, said "this sort of tax should be handled in a workable manner instead of creating 7,000 little tax collectors over the state."

Sullivan Is Burned About TV Awards

By VERNON SCOTT UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Normal ly placid Ed Sullivan was bouncing off the ceiling and walls this week, wroth to a froth over the ridiculous number of television Academy Awards nominations.

The frozen-faced one was particularly incensed that his own show failed to nail a single nominee among the more than 150 nominations.

Peculiarly, Ed's chief target was the TV academy itself, of which he is a member of the board of trustees. Sullivan attacked the ACAD as shortsighted, provincial and worse.

"The academy is making a laughing stock of itself," Sullivan said.

"I'm really burned up about the stupid number of awards and the outrageous fact that the Moikevay dancers show—the biggest show I've ever presented—wasn't nominated. It had one of the highest ratings in history, and the show was so good we re-ran it by popular acclaim."

Ed had worked his Irish up but good, adding that his Brussels Fair program and the Maurice Chevalier-Sophie Tucker show were worthy of nominations as well.

"The Chevalier-Tucker night was one of the great moments in variety shows," he said. "It was a charming blend of two of the great performers of our time. We never got so much mail."

"They weren't even considered. This is the most outrageous hoax ever perpetrated on the American public."

It Pays To Be A Hog!

AUSTIN (UPI)—A House-approved proposal calling for "hot meal for hogs" today received preliminary approval of the Senate.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. Grainger McIlhenny of Wheeler, received 19-7 tentative approval. Senators voted 19-7 on a motion to bring the bill up for final passage but the motion lacked the necessary two-thirds majority for immediate consideration.

McIlhenny's bill would require heating of all commercial garbage fed to hogs as a means of preventing vesicular exanthema—a disease which McIlhenny likens to hoof-and-mouth disease in cattle.

Before adjourning until 10:30 a.m. Thursday senators also began debate on a bill by Rep. V. L. (Bo) Ramsey of Beville to prohibit false advertising by misrepresentation of the word "wholesale."

Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas, Senate sponsor of the measure, told lawmakers the bill "has nothing to do with setting the price of merchandise."

The bill, Parkhouse said, "would keep the charlatans and thieves" from using the "magic word wholesale" to sell merchandise at prices other than wholesale.

Senators gave voice vote approval to an amendment by Sen. Frank Owen of El Paso to allow use of the word "wholesale" in advertising if the article specified was sold at the true wholesale price.

Religious Broadcast Expanded

ABILENE, Tex. (UPI)—A Texas-produced nationally broadcast religious program has expanded its outlets and boosted its annual budget from $387,000 to $470,000 annually.

The Herald of Truth, a half-hour program, has been carried for the past seven years over the ABC radio network and independent stations.

In early May, it will go out on the air from some 350 or more radio stations and 20 television outlets.

The program is produced and conducted by the Highland Church of Christ of Abilene. Hundreds of Churches of Christ and individuals help support it.

The Herald of Truth series began over the ABC network Feb. 10, 1952 and has been continuous ever since, adding both radio and television outlets each year.

Principal speakers are E. R. Harper and James D. Willeford of Abilene. Guest speakers have been used from time to time. A chorus of voices takes part.

Mutual will carry the program at 4:35 p.m. e.s.t., Sundays. The ABC and independent stations will continue the program at their customary time.

Well Dressed Woman Has Good Sense

By GAY PAULEY UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—The sixth sense which makes a woman well-dressed turns out to be just good sense. The good sense to choose the classics of design and skip the fads, says one group of experts.

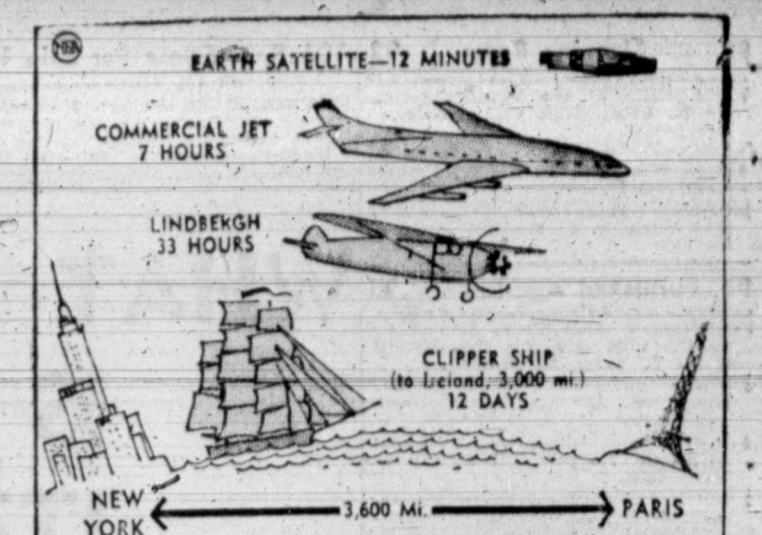

For there is permanence to fashion, even though some of us doubted it after the quick rise and fall of the sack.

The H. W. Gossard Co., does a continuing study of fashion trends because, it explains, what goes underneath is shaped by what's outside. It points to the shirt-waist, having a grand revival this year, as one of the classics of which it speaks. Its researchers traced it to around 1670 in Europe, when the girls copied the button-front style of men's riding habits.

A look at the shirtwaist's "family tree" shows it as a hunting dress in 1887, as the strict costume for the Gibson Girl era of 1895, as a tennis costume in 1915, and as revived in 1952 by designer Anna Fogarty, who put numerous starched petticoats under its full skirt.

Other classics the researchers listed were the pashmera, polo-wearers out. Fads are for fun, but not for fashion keeps.

You can tell whether the new will last by asking yourself whether it is flattering to most women, whether it has a family tree or "did it blossom overnight?" and whether it is comfortable to wear.

KILLING TIME—Man has come a long way since the days of sailing ships. It's possible now to fly at 500-m.p.h.—plus from New York to Paris and back again in the same day and still be able to spend a quiet evening at home. Supersonic military jets can do it even faster. And an earth satellite, orbiting at some 18,000 m.p.h., makes even a ballistic missile look like a slowpoke. But if you think that's not stuff, wait till man goes into space (25,000 m.p.h. is the minimum speed needed to escape earth's gravity.) Once out there, the "sky's" the limit.
