By CLIFF SESSIONS
United Press International

POPLARVILLE, Miss. (UPI)—Masked lynchers seized a young Negro accused of raping a white woman from the Pearl River County jail early Saturday, pistol-whipped him and dragged him away as he screamed for his life.

The fate of the slim, 23-year-old Negro, M. C. Parker, was unknown nearly 18 hours after the midnight abduction from the unguarded jail. Authorities feared, however, that he was slain.

The terrified Negro was bloody from gashes on his face and head, but was struggling and screaming when about 10 masked and hooded white men dragged him into a waiting car. He was taken from his cell on the third floor of the county courthouse in the middle of this little South Mississippi town, home of the late Sen. Theodore G. Bilbo. (D-Miss.), about 12:30 a.m.

It was the first lynching in the South in several years, and touched off international reaction. There were suggestions in Congress that the incident would give impetus to a drive for stronger civil rights legislation.

By definition, a lynching is the inflicting of punishment by mob violence, without due process of law. Mississippi leads the nation in number of lynchings, most of them against Negroes.

A posse of up to 100 law enforcement officers including six units of state highway patrolmen and state police acting on orders of Gov. J. P. Coleman sought to follow the lynch trail.

The abduction of Parker occured on a night of festivity in Poplarville. A gay springtime dance was in progress at nearby Pearl River Junior College, and the lynchers drove away in four or five cars unnoticed by townspeople on the streets. Attendants at a nearby hospital gave the alarm.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover ordered a squad of special agents into Poplarville and adjoining South Mississippi towns seeking leads and information about the case. Hoover pledged use of all FBI crime-detection facilities.

In Washington, the White House and Atty. Gen. William Rogers were kept informed about the investigation.

Parker, a dark, bushy-haired Negro, was scheduled to go on trial for his life here Monday for raping a 23-year-old white mother on a lonely highway the night of Feb. 24.

"The nine or 10 men who did this knew what they were doing," a highway patrolman said. "They knew where the sheriff kept his keys, and they knew which cell Parker was in."

One of the six other Negro prisoners in the jail said nine men staged the actual break-in and beating but others waited in the courtroom. He said the mob arrived in five cars about 12:30 a.m.

C. J. Monday, a Negro charged with murder, was Parker's cell mate. He said the men "swarmed all over" Parker. The dark-skinned truck driver was pistol-whipped, clubbed and hit with a garbage can, Monday said.

"I heard them hitting him," Monday said. "Parker kept yelling 'Help. I didn't do it. I didn't do it.'"

"He was yelling to me the whole time," Monday said. "He said 'Monday are you going to stand there and let them do this to me?' He kept yelling 'Monday, Monday' all the way down the stairs. But there was nothing I could do."

Jail Unguarded

The courthouse and jail, the dominant building in this small south Mississippi town of cattle and tung oil interests, was unguarded when the mob broke into (See JAIL, Page 3)

Unless this scandalous concentration of power is dissolved, corruption will not only continue, but will grow worse—and this regardless of the political complexion or personal honesty of the President of the United States.—Clarence Manion.

Khrushchchev Backs British Proposal

For Breaking Deadlock On Nuclear Ban

By HENRY SHAPIRO
United Press International

MOSCOW (UPI)—Premier Nikita S. Khrushchchev Saturday night endorsed a hitherto secret British proposal for breaking the deadlock on agreement for a ban on nuclear weapons tests. He rejected proposals from President Eisenhower because he said they "would not solve the problem."

In separate notes he praised the "positive attitude" displayed by British Prime Minister Harold MacMillan during his recent visit to Moscow.

He said MacMillan's proposals for "determining in advance for each country the number of annual trips, by inspections teams... might provide a sound agreement for success... in reaching a comprehensive agreement."

Eisenhower in a personal note to Khrushchchev had proposed a graduated ban on nuclear weapons tests, beginning with agreement to prohibit all tests below a height of 30 miles.

The official Soviet news agency Tass said Khrushchchev's reply to Eisenhower was delivered to the state department in Washington by Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov Friday.

It said the note to MacMillan was headed to Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd in London Saturday.

The Khrushchchev "strategy" required to communications from the Western leaders on the deadlocked Geneva nuclear test ban talks. The Western notes were dispatched April 13 and disclosed last Monday.

Eisenhower personally appealed to Khrushchchev to help get the Geneva talks moving again. MacMillan endorsed Eisenhower's appeal.

Khrushchchev, in the note to MacMillan, said the British Prime Minister expressed a "positive attitude" on his Moscow visit designed to "eliminate one of the principle difficulties... the procedure for one-of-the-spot inspections of phenomena suspected of being nuclear explosions."

Jernigan, Waggoner Top PHS Students

Bob Jernigan has been named valedictorian of the 247-member senior class, according to L. J. Edmondson, Pampa High School principal. Kay Waggoner was named salutatorian.

Jernigan's four year average was 97.26 compared to Miss Waggoner's 96.89 average.

Kay Layne ranks third in the senior class, Bernice Beuselink fourth, and Linda Skewes, fifth.

Jernigan has accumulated 22 1/2 credits but only 18 are required for graduation. Miss Waggoner's total is 19 1/2. To earn his 4 1/2 extra credits, Jernigan attended two PHS summer sessions. This year he made the semifinals of a Merit Scholarship competition.

Biology-loving Jernigan will be one of two Panhandle students entered in the National Science Fair in Hartford, Conn. next month.

On the lighter side, Jernigan has played in the Harvesters Band for three years and played in the pep band. He was picture editor of the Harvesters annual this year and president of the Quill and Scroll Society. He was president of the Spanish Club this year and president of the Latin Club his sophomore year.

He was an understudy in the 1957-58 junior class play and this year had a minor role in "The Skin of Our Teeth," the senior play.

Miss Waggoner has sung in the A Capella Choir and served on the Student Council. This year she was elected secretary of the senior class.

Woman Hurt In Auto Accident; Damages High

A 22 year-old Pampa woman, Donna Nell Crouse, 123 W. Tuke, was injured late Friday night in a two-car crash on S. Hobart near the Wilks St. intersection.

Her condition at Highland General hospital was described as good. Injuries included lacerations of the head and a possible fractured hip.

Miss Crouse was a passenger in a 1959 Ford driven by Norman Lee Trolinger, 29, of Skellytown. Trolinger, according to officers, had made a left turn onto S. Hobart and drove over a concrete island into the path of a 1957 Chevrolet.

The Chevrolet was driven by Harold Malone, 1428 Francis, who was given first aid at the scene.

Trolinger was injured slightly but refused hospital treatment. He will be tagged for driving on the left side of the street.

Damages to the front ends of both cars was heavy and are expected to total $1,000 to the Trolinger car and $750 to Malone's Chevrolet convertible.

NATIONAL GUARD READY

Arsonists Set Giant Blaze

By JAMES R. BENNESEN
United Press International

HAZARD, Ky. (UPI)—A $500,000 fire believed set by arsonists destroyed the Ashio Coal Co. plant near Combs, Ky., Saturday, as battle-ready National Guard troops sent by Gov. A. B. Chandler moved into the strike-bound coal fields.

A tower of black smoke from the burning tipples greeted a convoy of guardsmen as they crossed a Kentucky River bridge several hundred yards away. Other troops arrived here Friday night but had not been sent to the mines.

Major Gen. J. J. B. Williams, state adjutant general, met with Brig. Gen. Jesse Lindsey, state civil defense director, and battalion commanders to decide deployment of the troops.

The 48-year-old United Mine Workers contract renewal strike already has resulted in two slayings.

The tippie burning apparently was arson, as an empty five-gallon gasoline can was found on the nearby railroad tracks.

Investigators said footprints indicated as many as three men may have waited near the tippie until company guards changed shifts at 6 a. m. He said they could have poured the gasoline Friday night, then waited by and tossed a match.

The Ashio plant was 90 per cent destroyed and Finley Davis, Lexington, Ky., president of the parent Sunfire Coal Co., said it would cost an estimated $500,000 to rebuild.

Davis' brother, Bruce, said, "We'll move all our coal operations to Harborside, Ky., if we are able to get the 24-hour protection we need."

Since the strike began in Harlan County March 9, an estimated 7,000 miners have been idled.

The main point in the dispute is the union's insistence on enforcement of a so-called "protective wage clause which would require small mines to pay the basic wage of $24.50 a day, a $2 increase. Small-mine operators say the increase would bankrupt them.

If it comes from a hardware store we have it, Lewis Hdwr. Adv.

Private Capital Best Hope For Castro Regime

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon has told Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro pretty plainly that his "best hope" of economic help from the U.S. is through private rather than government capital.

Nixon, it was reliably reported, advised the visiting Cuban leader that U.S. government capital is limited because of many demands and because of the current drive for a balanced budget.

The exchange of views took place at a three-hour private conference in Nixon's Capitol office last Sunday night. Only Nixon and Castro were present, but the vice president and Cuban leader have conveyed high lights of their discussion to others in their governments.

Would Invest U.S. Funds

Most of the views expressed by Castro in the huddle with Nixon have been stated publicly by the revolutionary leader during his current U.S. visit.

Gray County Has 14 March Rural Accidents

There were 14 rural highway accidents in Gray county during March, four less than during the corresponding month in 1958. Sgt. E. G. Albers of the Highway Patrol reported Saturday.

Five of the 14 accidents resulted in nine injuries, but luckily no fatalities.

The total number of rural accidents in Gray county has now reached 32, compared to 27 for the first three months of 1958.

Sgt. Albers commented that traffic deaths in Texas are now 10 percent higher than at this time last year.

Two Pampans Will Be Sent To 'Lone Star Boys State'

Pampa Post 334, American Legion, will send two boys to Austin this June to take part in the "Lone Star Boys State" program sponsored by the Legion's Department of Texas.

"Boys State" is held each year at the University of Texas to teach the youth of today the functional aspects of citizenship, according to D. E. Williams, a local Legionnaire. The week of June 7-13 will be allotted to Boys State.

The Legion arranges with the University to house and feed at least 500 boys. Free medical and hospital care is provided. The boys will follow a daily schedule under the guidance of capable directors and counselors. Organized recreation will be held each day.

Candidates for Boys State are selected with the cooperation of local school officials. They are not selected solely on their brilliance or athletic abilities but on the basis of their scholarship, character, ambition, leadership and ability to get along with their fellow students. They must be juniors in high school and must be physically fit.

The entire Boys State program is non-political and has no connection with existing political parties in Texas. The citizens of Boys State, however, will be divided into two imaginary political parties, for the sole purpose of enabling them to realize some of the responsibilities they will be called upon to perform as adults.

They will hold elections to select a governor, lieutenant governor, legislators, judges and other officials. The state will be divided into counties, judicial districts, cities and other governmental agencies.

American Legion Convention Opens With 125 Registered

District 18 of the American Legion and the Legion Auxiliary began its annual convention in Pampa Saturday.

Registration desks at the Pampa Hotel and the Legion counted 125 Legion members Saturday, and it is expected another 20 to 30 will arrive in Pampa today.

Saturday's events included an Auxiliary Tea in the Club Room at City Hall attended by about 20 Legion wives and members.

The tea was attended by state Auxiliary President Annie May Hardage from Sour Lake; May Flynt, the 18th district president from Dimmitt; and others including Pampa's 1958 Girl's State delegate Marilyn Steele.

Saturday evening the Legion held a barbecue at the Legion Home and a dance that began at 9 p.m.

Most of the district's top officials were in town Saturday, including District Commander Charles Mason and Grand Chef de Gare Charles Hopkin, both of Amarillo. The host commander from Pampa, Francis Schwind, helped keep the day's events on schedule.

This morning registration is to begin at 8, followed by the important joint session at 9.

Mayor Ed Myatt will read an address of welcome, and Legion

Daniel Pleads For Victory Of Budget Bills

By LLOYD LARRABEE
United Press International

AUSTIN (UPI)—Texas lawmakers, facing an almost-certain special session, had a blueprint of action Saturday from Gov. Price Daniel for the last two weeks of regular session.

With a final adjournment deadline of May 12 on the horizon, the Legislature had failed to pass a single one of Daniel's recommendations to retire the state's deficit of raise taxes to finance state government in the next two fiscal years.

Daniel issued a new plea for lawmakers to pass two budget-balancing bills which he said would retire all of the general revenue fund deficit but 20 million dollars.

Thus, he said, "if there is to be a special session, this would limit its labors to spending and taxing for future years and thus lessen the total sum required in any permanent tax bills."

The governor's appeal made Friday before the South Texas Press Association at San Antonio, came as a House-joint general tax bill to finance state government during the next biennium.

House members in four-day debate this week stripped the tax bill from an estimated 300 million dollars down to about 80 million dollars for a two-year period, then gave it a scant, one-vote margin on preliminary approval.

Whittles Away Proposals

The 73-72 vote on second reading included the vote of Speaker Waggoner Carr. In a rare move, Carr left the speaker's chair to make a dramatic plea from the floor of the House for passage of the tax bill last Thursday.

Final action on the tax measure, with the outcome still in doubt, was expected Monday in the House.

The House whittled virtually all proposals from the tax measure which carried the tinge of a sales tax, but left in the bill increases in levies on natural gas production, cigarettes, automobile sales, liquor, and new taxes on trading stamps and tobacco.

Daniel's appeal was addressed to lawmakers on two bills—a "bookkeeping" transfer bill which would credit an estimated 28 million to 35 million dollars to the depleted general revenue fund, and a temporary, one-year increase in the corporation franchise tax.

The "bookkeeping" bill, which would order the state comptroller to credit funds which he ordinarily carries over to the next fiscal year, has been approved by the House and now awaits Senate action.

The corporation franchise tax boost, sponsored by Rep. Joe Ed Winfree of Houston, received tentative approval of the House Friday and is ready for final passage Monday. It would bring an estimated $17,500,000 through a 75-cent increase.

Those two bills would retire a large part of the expected deficit of more than 65 million dollars by the end of the fiscal year Aug. 31.

Usefulness Of News

Ben Franklin used to say that he read his newspapers to only find out what was useful or entertaining. What is entertaining to one may not be to another. By useful we mean: How can a newspaper be useful to every person in the Top O' Texas, the State, the Nation and the world, whether they read the Pampa News or not, and at the same time not really injure or harm any person.

Problems In Cities

The fact has been reported previously in these columns, but it is important enough to deserve considerable repetition. The cities of this nation are in sore financial straits. And it turns out that the bigger the cities are, the greater are their difficulties. Right now, for example, New York City, the number one population center of the country, is in a terrible plight. Democratic Mayor Robert Wagner has come out with the familiar "austerity" budget of $2,122,000,000 for the next fiscal year, which is the first time in history that New York's budget has topped the $2 billion figure.

YOUR FREEDOM NEWSPAPER We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is not license. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, The Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence. This newspaper is dedicated to promoting and preserving YOUR freedom as well as our own. For only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

Cowboy's Letter Is One For The Book

By WALLACE TRUESDELL
Daily News Staff Writer

Every year the Chamber of Commerce receives 1,500-2,000 letters, ranging all the way from an industrial inquiry to a kid wanting to know about cowboys. "We answer every one," says E. O. "Red" Wedgeworth, Chamber manager.

This was proved recently when the local Chamber received an inquiry from a youngster in Santa Paula, Calif.

"Dear Sir," the letter began: "In our class in social studies we are studying cowboys and cattle. We would like to know about cowboys and cattle in your area. Would you please send this letter to a rancher in your area? We would like to know if you would answer some of our questions."

The student, David Atmore, listed 12 questions: (1) What does the cowboy do in the winter? (2) What time do they go to bed? (3) When do they brand the cattle? In other words, when we have a lot of snow the cattle will sometimes freeze to death as they do not put range cattle in barns.

(4) Do they have three meals a day? (5) What do the cattle eat? (6) Where do cowboys live? (7) What do they sleep in at night? (8) What is a round-up? (9) Why is the hat so big? (10) What is a cowboy's job? (11) How should a cowboy brush his horse? (12) Do they brand their horses?

Wedgeworth sent the letter to his old friend Ab Gunter, a former rancher who now sells insurance in Wheeler. Gunter's letter, of which the Chamber received a copy, is a literary masterpiece. It answers the boy's questions and a few more that he hadn't even thought of.

Gunter's answers are roughly as follows:

(1) "You asked what the cowboy does in the winter, he works feeding the cattle by wagon and team or by pick-up truck. The cattle have to have food and the winters here sometimes get very severe.

(2) "A cowboy goes to bed pretty early since on many of the big ranches they still don't have electricity out in the cow camps. You see there are some ranches that are many miles across and it would be terribly expensive to run post and wires just to one house. Normally they get to bed early as they are up around 4:30 in the morning to eat and get ready to go to work. They ain't in the union and their day is from sunrise to sunset and even later.

(3) "Cattle branding is going on right now so the branding will be done before the real heat of the summer brings out flies. Flies blow the brands and cause worms which eat away at the animal.

(4) "You asked if the cowboys eat three meals a day. I would say no on lots of occasions. If you are working far from the ranch you don't have any time or place to put the middle meal we call dinner. You learn to get by on little water and little food in certain parts of the Spring. Most of the time you get three meals but there are lots of times you don't have the time or are too far from a place to eat."

(5 & 6) "The cowboys sleep in many different types of houses. I know some that live in a house like yours and others that would look like one a hundred years ago. The cowboys that live in the little bunkhouses usually sleep on bunks that have no mattresses and have Siggins or heavy quilts.

(8) "A round-up means getting the cattle together to either ship them to market or work them. . . . get the netters in one pasture and the cows and steers in different ones. Round-ups are usually the time a rancher will ask his neighbors to come over and help do the work and then the rancher will go over and help his neighbor.

(9) "The big hat is to keep off the very hot sun and the rain, wind and snow. A cowboy will often use his hat to give his horse a drink. He will get the hat full of water and let the horse drink from it. This is when you have to get water from some place the horse can't get to.

(10) "A cowboy's job is a big one, fixin' windmills, fences, doctor, cook, housewife, entertainer and many others. Fixin' fences that have washed out or new ones is probably one of the hardest. Sometimes the ground is hard and rocky and we have lots of rattlesnakes in this country, to make things a bit of a problem.

(11) "He brushes his horse with a curry-comb, always with the grain or with the hair. You get the kinks out of his tail with a knife, by putting the blade in the hair, and combing down like the tooth of a comb. This tends to thin the hair and not let the tail get too thick. Now don't you try this unless you really know what you're doing, could get the stuffin' kicked out of you or hurt the horse.

(12) "Horses are furnished by the ranches on most occasions and are branded by the Ranch Horse Brand usually different from the cows."

"Don't study too hard and for goodness sake, don't take this writin' too serious as I can't spell kat eyeen. Hal," Gunter concluded.

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—Police said charges would be filed today against a 75-year-old man accused of shooting to death Rush Jones, 31. They said the shooting arose from a family argument.

SORGHUM IN NARROW ROWS

Seen above are rows of sorghum in a Pampa area field that have been planted closer together than ordinary to lower soil temperature and cut down losses of moisture by evaporation. In a story written by the Soil Conservation District the further advantages of narrow-width planting are described in detail.

Narrow Row Planting Offers Advantages

Planting sorghum in narrow width rows offers advantages that aid in more economical crop production. Evaporation losses are reduced due to shading. There is less wind movement, and temperatures are reduced.

Nutrients are more efficiently absorbed, and from a farmer's point of view, this method is more practical because of weed control. Just as important as planting in narrow rows is the planting rate per acre. If two to five pounds per acre is the rate in 40-inch rows, the same seeding rate should be used in narrow width rows. The best planting arrangement is one that gives ample space to each plant, yet keeps evaporation, weeds, and temperatures at a minimum.

Water leaves the soil in two ways. The most costly to the farmer is direct evaporation into the air, and the other is transportation through the plant. With more shade and lower temperatures, the moisture loss is less in narrow width rows.

Soil temperature above 100 degrees is somewhat detrimental to sorghum plants. A test in Manhattan, Kan., showed that temperatures reached 107 degrees. The narrow rows gave consistent readings of near 29 degrees less than wide rows when air temperatures were over 100 degrees.

This shading effect of plants has another important function. Weeds cannot survive without sunshine. Tests have shown that 40-inch rows did not shade more than 60 percent of the area between rows at noon at the time of full heat. But 20-inch rows provided very good shading, covering about 95 percent of the area at high noon.

Narrow row planting can be done with a grain drill by plugging the extra holes. In most instances new equipment is not necessary to change to narrow row plantings. Almost all farmers can satisfactorily use their available farm implements.

It would be hard to say that narrow rows will always increase yields. We should expect the same yields as wide rows, but with less expense.

Sugar Beet Crop Should Be Planted

HEREFORD — Planting of the Texas 1959 sugar beet crop should be completed by this weekend in six Panhandle counties. Only a few of the 1,771 acres allotted the Lone Star State remain to be seeded, according to Odean Nixon, fieldman here for the American Crystal Sugar Co. which contracts the state's sweet beet acreage.

The production area in Texas is in the deep-well irrigated sections of the Panhandle — in Deaf Smith, Castro, Hale, Lubbock, Pampa and Randall counties.

According to Aubrey L. Steele, Executive Vice-President and Secretary-Treasurer of Security Federal Savings and Loan, the association now has more than $20 million in total assets.

"We are proud to be twenty million strong for the protection of people who save money here," Steele said, "and even prouder of the confidence of Security Federal savers who have made the Association's growth possible."

This week, Monday through Friday is "Twenty Million Week" at the Association's offices on West Francis and Gray. Steele pointed out that the celebration is Security Federal's way of saying "Thank You" to more than six thousand savers in this area.

During the Twenty Million celebration, valuable door prizes will be given away every day. On Monday, a Security Federal visitor will win a General Electric Vacuum Cleaner. Tuesday's door prize is a Westinghouse portable Electric Roaster and oven, and Wednesday's is a General Electric transistor radio with leather case and earphones.

A Sunbeam Mixmaster is Security Federal's gift Thursday, and Friday an eight-millimeter Kodak Movie Camera will be awarded.

The week will be climaxed Friday night by drawing for Security Federal's grand prize. Winner of a 21" RCA Color Television Set will be announced on Saturday night during the Association's regular 10:20 Weather cast on Channel 4.

Steele emphasized that each drawing entitles the person to the daily door prize and the grand prize, too, and that there is no need to be present to win. Security Federal also has gifts for children, and "old-fashioned" gifts. When you open or add to an account with $25 or more during Twenty Million Week, you get a decorative reproduction of an Early American copper kerosene lamp.

Guiding Security Federal Savings and Loan in its steady growth through the years are a group of well-known businessmen in the High Plains area. In addition to Aubrey L. Steele, they are C. P. Buckler, President; P. B. Carlson, Executive Vice-President; DeLea Vicars, Vice-President; Irene S. Cox, Robert W. Hare and Roy C. Sparkman, Assistant Secretaries.

MATTERS OF THE MILITARY

New Army Plan Offers Career Choice

The U.S. Army is now offering the finest choice in its history, it was announced today by Sergeant First Class John C. Dills, U.S. Army Recruiter for Pampa and Gray County. Under this new plan, you can choose the exact Career Group in which you would like to receive training. "Called the 'Choose - It - Yourself' Vocational Training System, the new plan offers a young man the opportunity to choose service in an Army Career Group that satisfies his own desires and aptitudes. The plan offers more than 50 Career Groups from which to choose; as a result, the enlistee is now able to receive precisely the training he desires.

For example SFC Dills said, if you want to work in electronics and have an aptitude for that kind of work, you are guaranteed on-the-job training or schooling in electronics after you complete basic training. The guarantee is entered in your Army record when you enlist. This plan is the most unique opportunity the Army has ever offered young men. Job training under this new program is also available to young women. The Sergeant said.

The new enlistment options consist of 10 major Occupational Areas: 1. Combat; 2. Electronics; 3. Electrical Maintenance; 4. Precision Maintenance; 5. Military Crafts; 6. Motor Maintenance; 7. Clerical; 8. Graphics; 9. General Technical; and 10. Special Assignment. Each of these Occupational Areas consists of a number of Career Groups from which the applicant can choose.

The 10 Army Occupational Areas are composed of more than 50 different Career Groups which cover virtually all of the Army's occupations. These new options assure the enlistee of vocational training, either at an Army school or in on-the-job training. Dills can explain in detail the different Career Groups for each Occupational Area to interested persons.

Young men interested in serving in the Airborne can enlist directly for that branch of the Army in a Career Group. More than 30 Career Groups are available for this dual choice.

If you have any questions about any phase of this new Army Career Group Plan, Dills asks you to please contact him, and he will be more than glad to answer them. Contact him at 112 E. Foster St., or call him COLLECT at MO 5-2022 in Pampa.

Harvesters Win Two Games On Pitching

Jim Walker Hurls Two-Hit Contest

Jimmy Walker hurlled a brilliant two-hitter Friday for Pampa against the Plainview Bulldogs, to give the Harvesters a 4-1 win, and a 5-3 record in District 3-4A.

SLIDE, JIMMY SLIDE!—Jimmy Walker, Harvester pitcher, slides into third base in Friday's 4-1 victory over Plainview. Ruben Strickland goes into second base on the play, in the second inning of the game. Walker and Strickland were the heroes of the game. ## Williams Fans 10 Rebs In 2-1 Win

The Pampa Harvesters played an alert, heads-up baseball game here Saturday to edge the Tascosa Rebels, 2-1, and remain in a two-way tie for second place in District 3-4A, a half game behind Borger.

Dean Hits 2 Grand Slam Home Runs

When Gary Dean of the Pampa Harvesters slammed two base-loaded homers in two days a few weeks ago, Pampa fans thought he'd set a record which would last for a while. But Bill Dean of the Amarillo Sandies had different ideas Saturday.

Table with columns: American League, W, L, Pct., GB. Lists standings for Cleveland, Baltimore, Chicago, New York, Boston, Kansas City, Washington, Detroit.

Ruben Strickland was the hitting star of the game. The Pampa second baseman, who went into the game batting a mere .151, looked like a 400 hitter as he collected two hits, sacrificed, scored once, and reached base one other time on an error. He tagged the ball solidly each time at bat.

Torgeson's Pinch Homer Beats League Leaders

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Pinch-hitter Earl Torgeson blasted a three-run homer in the ninth inning Saturday to cap a five-run rally as the Chicago White Sox came from behind to defeat the league-leading Cleveland Indians, 6-4.

The pair had been matching each other in putting goose eggs up on the scoreboard since the fifth inning after the teams had engaged in a slugfest the first four frames.

took their second straight from the Philadelphia Phillies, 4-2. Bill Mazeroski scored both of the winning runs, breaking a tie with his first homer of the year in the sixth, and then singling in the eighth, advancing to second on Dick Groat's walk, and scoring on Roman Mejias' single.

Sime Wins International 100 Dash

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI) — Sprinter Dave Sime of Duke University edged Peter Radford of England Saturday in a 100-yard international dash pitting the champions of three countries. Both finished in 9.5 seconds.

Cubs Top Frisco

CHICAGO (UPI) — Reliever Don Elston came on in the eighth inning Saturday to help rookie starter Bob Anderson to his second victory without a loss as the Chicago Cubs defeated the San Francisco Giants, 5-3.

Senators Romp

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Washington Senators scored five runs in the first inning Saturday and coasted to an 8-4 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Birds Bop Yanks

NEW YORK (UPI) — Chico Carrasquel, one of Paul Richards' latest reclamation projects, delivered a pinch single in the fifth inning Saturday that led Baltimore to a 5-4 victory over the New York Yankees.

Bucs 4, Phils 2

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Veteran Harvey Haddix scattered seven hits Saturday as the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-2.

Reds Nip Braves

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The Cincinnati Reds routed their long-time tormentor, Warren Spahn, Saturday and beat the Milwaukee Braves, 7-6, with the help of a three-run homer by Johnny Temple.

Delcour overtook Sime and Radford in the final yard to win the 220-yard dash later in the afternoon. All three sprinters were locked at 21 seconds but Delcour snapped the tape first.

Horns Tops Bears

WACO (UPI) — The Texas Longhorns came from behind with a big four-run sixth inning Saturday to defeat the Baylor Bears 5-3 and preserve their winning streak at 11 straight victories.

Williams probably saved the game with a great job of clutch pitching in the first inning. The Rebels scored a run on three consecutive singles by Gary Marsh, Ronnie Sherrod, and Eddie Ward, before Williams could get a man out. But the fireballing left-hander then bore down and struck out the side on ten pitches.

Williams also pitched himself out of jams in the fourth and seventh innings. In the fourth, Ronnie Graham doubled and went to third on a grounder to second baseman Ruben Strickland. But he stayed there as Williams struck out Cris Gibbs and got Austin Glover on a grounder.

Lewis Strauss Answers Interest Conflict Charge

The Lighter Side
By FRANK ELEAZER
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Lewis L. Strauss, in a dark blue suit and armed with a briefcase, looked just like the financier and big banker he formerly was. But he painted himself now as more of a cattle farmer with investments worth hardly a mention. He told the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee he sold most of his stocks and quit all his business connections, except for his farm, when he was named chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission in 1953, a job he held until last fall. That seemed to satisfy the senators that Strauss, a former partner in Kuhn, Loeb & Co., won't suffer any conflict of interest if they confirm his appointment as secretary of commerce. Strauss, who was named to the post by President Eisenhower last Oct. 24, said somewhat wistfully he hopes the Senate will act soon.

Mentions No Names

Chairman Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash.) said the record would show there had been some presidential nominees whose confirmations took longer. He didn't name any.

Strauss noted that there had been others that got through a lot quicker. Strauss didn't mention any names either, and didn't have to. Only two days before the Senate had rammed through its confirmation of Christin A. Herter as secretary of state before the ink was real dry on his papers.

Unlike Herter, Strauss isn't a former member of Congress. And in his former post at the AEC he sometimes tangled with people who were, and are, members of Congress. Anyway, here he was, spending his fourth day as a witness at a hearing that begins to seem fated to be always continued next week.

Roads Under Commerce

Magnuson said people would be surprised to know all the government functions that come under the Commerce Department. Take roads, he said. Did Strauss have any plans to cut in the new state of Alaska on the interstate road building program?

Strauss said he didn't. Maggie said Strauss better get on the right away, so when we or the Russians build a tunnel under the Bering Strait every thing will be set for motorists to roll from Washington straight on to Paris.

Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.) said he'd go with Maggie on this as far as he could. "But I want the senator to know I will strongly oppose construction of a bridge from California to Hawaii," he added. Scott had his tongue in his cheek. Magnuson, who may or may not have been kidding, replied, "we are likely to have that proposal."

Tells Of Finances

As for Strauss' finances, Magnuson said he wasn't asking, unless Strauss wanted to tell. Strauss said he did. He said since divesting himself, to take the AEC job, he owns stocks only in hometown banks, government and municipal bonds, cash, and his farm.

Maggie said he wasn't asking how much Strauss was worth, but he said he assumed it was plenty. "I don't owe any money," Strauss replied, "and I'm solvent." Maggie wondered if Strauss would come back Monday.

"I'm at your disposal any time, next Wednesday."

U. S. Sends Guns To Moscow; Toy Guns, That Is

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — America will send a peaceful mission of toys to Moscow this summer. No tanks. No miniature atomic power plants. Only one gun.

But the little Russians will get the full treatment of the "American way of life," childhood vacation, with plenty of cowboys and Indians, electric trains, bikes, stuffed animals, construction sets and dolls that wet.

All are part of the American national exhibit, which will open in the Russian capital July 25 and run for six weeks. Other industries which will participate in the fair are the automotive, farm equipment, furniture, appliance and other hard goods manufacturers.

"We want to give the Russians an honest image of American playthings," said a researcher at George Nelson and Co., the design firm which, with the U.S. government, made the final selection of toys and other facets of Americana to be shown.

The one gun that made it ain't for fighting wars anyway. It's a replica of the "Fanner," a revolver which the heroes of the Old West used on varmints.

About 75 manufacturers have donated 400 toys for the exhibit, which will occupy a section of two giant exhibition halls in Sokolniki Park.

The industry said the playthings will be divided into these general categories: Pre-school, construction, learning and developing skills, miniature dolls and house-keeping toys, quiet fun, the Wild West, and active equipment.

Union Corruption Exposed In Committee's Report

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Right now would be a good time for the voters to read a book. Recommended reading for today is a newly published report on the Senate racketeering investigation conducted under the committee chairmanship of Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.).

The title of the book is "Power Unlimited — The Corruption of Union Leadership" by Sylvester Petro, published by the Ronald Press, New York. The price is $4 — which will discourage readership among the voters. There are no pictures, a further handicap to mass circulation.

There are sins and scandals in the book, however, beyond belief. They are as shocking as the revelations in "Confidential" and such publications which entrance the lip readers. These are not scandals of the bedroom and the gin mills, but of the underworld jungle in which bad apple labor unions captured by strong-arm hoodlums and their associates prey on employers, employees and the public like a tom cat in a bird's nest.

Question of Rights

Not all unions, far from most, are so tagged. But a trend of pattern of violence, coercion, mayhem, arson and blackmail is well disclosed in some areas of the union-employer relationships. The area is so large, the violence so brutal as to raise substantially the question whether the public peace is shattered by this kind of domestic warfare.

For those killed or maimed in the proceedings, the question arises whether they have thus been deprived of certain inalienable rights endowed by the creator — such rights as life, liberty and pursuit of happiness. After such rights as those, property rights come in no better than second but, even in second place, there they are.

All of this is part of the philosophical background of the proceedings now under way in the U.S. Senate. The U.S. Senate is considering labor legislation under circumstances of dispute and disagreement. Especially in dispute is whether the new labor legislation should provide protection for the public, for workers and for employers. This protection would be against those elements or organized labor which are in fact extortionist racketeers operating without much hindrance from present law.

Curbs on Conduct

Those employers, workers and the public who have been victim-

Candlelight, Pink and White Gladioli Form Settings For Tinkler-Brown Nuptial Rites

Miss Carolyn Tinkler became the bride of Eddie Brown on April 4 at seven o'clock in a double-ring ceremony performed in the Kellerville Baptist Church with Rev. J. R. Lawson officiating amid a setting of pink and white gladioli and candelabra.

Miss Tinkler is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Veri Tinkler of Kellerville. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Brown, also of Kellerville.

BRIDE

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz-length gown of net and lace over white tulle, fashioned with a fitted bodice and an escalloped bateau neckline outlined with iridescent sequins and pearls. Her elbow-length veil of illusion, scalloped around the edges and studded with pearls and sequins, was secured to a coronet encrusted with sequins and pearls. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, and carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations nested in lace and meline showered with white satin streamers tied in Love Knots.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. Bob Cadell, bride's sister, served as matron of honor wearing a light-tan dress with pink accents and carried a single, long-stemmed blue carnation tied with blue and white streamers.

Preparing Children For School Topic For Parent Education Club Meeting

Parent Education Club met with Mrs. Joe Reid, 2247 Mary Ellen on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Donald T. Beeman and Mrs. Patrick J. O'Connor presenting the program.

Mrs. O'Connor discussed "What Kind Of A Person Do We Want Our Child To Be?" "I'm sure," she began, "we would like for each one of our children to be tolerant, kind, gentle, self-confident, honest, friendly, likeable. We all have similar goals, and yet my children will be different from yours as they will be different from each other. How can all these differences occur when we plan to go in the same direction? We say that these differences are caused by the variance in personalities; and what actually is a personality?"

"According to some authorities, personality is the effect of each person, place or thing encountered vicariously or in person. A good many of these experiences occur in school; consequently, schools have a great sculpturing effect on the outcome of each child."

"The schools," she continued, "have, in general, the same goals for our children as we do; the principal difference being that the school is interested in groups first and individuals second. The school wants my child to do this or that to make him a good member of a group, while I want the group to help make my child a successful individual."

Adopt New Hair Fashions, Cosmetics For That Up-To-Date Smart Look

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

There's many a laugh in the old family album. When we see ourselves in styles of past years, we realize how clothes can date a gal. Yet many of us don't follow the thought through to the end. Fashions in hair styles and make-up have changed, too. Still some of us apply cosmetics the way we did when mom first gave us permission to use them. Others are reluctant to change a hair-do that was becoming 10 years ago. Yet such mistakes can truly date you.

Today's look is deceptively natural. Exaggerated make-up and flussy hair styles have no place in it. The basis of this natural look is a clean, stimulated skin and healthy, shining hair. So don't spare the soap and water. Foundation creams today are of a much lighter texture than they used to be, and should be chosen in the shade closest to your skin tone.

Miss Minnie Allen opened the meeting with prayer and conducted the business meeting.

Mature Parent

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Mrs. T. writes, "My daughter's 4-year-old boy makes such trouble if she plans to go out for the evening that she hasn't left the house for more than a year."

"Last night I was to sit with Bobby and the baby while her husband took her to a party. But as usual Bobby made such a fuss that at the last minute she refused to go."

Has Bobby's mother been reading the child psychology books which declare mother to be a child's most important person?

If so, it could explain her fear of leaving him for an evening. It's his fear to get rid of. Though it's flattering to be told you're a little son's most important person, we don't enjoy playing the part all the time. We want to be the most important person to ourselves occasionally.

But child psychology books can make us so ashamed of this wish that we can't know we wish it. If our husband offers to take us out for the evening, we're terrified by the very idea of removing Bobby's most important person from him. He senses our fear.

Like us, he suspects that we're about to do something awful to him. And not unnaturally, he will make a violent scene of protest to prevent the absence which we have made threatening to him.

Bobby's not an unborn baby still wholly dependent on his mother's presence for safety. It's high time he was getting acquainted with other people's importance to him.

So I suggest that next time his mother is invited out for the evening, she ignore his yells and leave him free to discover grandma's value to him and her ability to make him a cup of bedtime cocoa and tell him stories that may exceed his mother's in novelty and interest.

Today thousands of mothers are sick of being their children's big security.

We were idiots to let the child psychologists flatter us into taking on this most important person business in the first place. Now we're paying for our stupidity.

Every day someone else blasts us as "aggressive" and demands a return of father's authority in the home. And she says "aggressive" who saddled us with this big security thing blast us loudest of all.

Well, they can't have it both ways. If we have to be children's most important person, it logically follows that father takes a back seat and becomes their less important person.

C. E. Rhodes To Present Postponed Concert In First Methodist Church

Mrs. J. J. Rance

Tracy D. Cary

Mrs. Bob Perkins

Mrs. Willie Boyett

Due to inclement weather on Mar. 20, the piano concert planned by Pampa Music Teachers Ass'n to be given by C. E. Rhodes of Abernathy had to be cancelled. At the time, the Ass'n asked him to come back and play the concert at the first opportune time. That time will be at 3 p.m. this afternoon in the First Methodist Church. There is no admission charge and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Among the selections to be presented by Mr. Rhodes are Menuet in A Major (Paderewski); Valse Brillante (Chopin); Clair de Lune (Debussy); Liebestraume (Liszt); Rachmanoff's Prelude Op. 3 No. 2; Beethoven's "Sonata quasi una Fantasia"; Liszt's Rhapsodie Hongroise No. 2 in two parts, Adagio and Friska.

Mr. Rhodes, a retired farmer, father of 11 children, and brother of Mrs. Lois Fagan, local music teacher, with four full decades separating him from high school, resumed his formal education at the age of 60 at Texas Technological College, Lubbock as a freshman music student.

He appeared here on Mar. 19-20 in a two-day clinic sponsored by Pampa Music Teachers Ass'n. His talk "What Is Memory?" at a luncheon meeting in the Pampa Hotel attended by Ass'n members and guests and a discussion for teachers and parents on "Why Your Child Should Study Music" in St. Paul Methodist Church evoked much admiration from his listeners. So much so that the following who heard him have given the following statements:

Tracy D. Cary, former organ and music teacher in Fort Worth, now teaching locally stated: "Music has always been the one art that persons of all ages and nationalities have been able to participate in. Many think of it only as an activity for the very young. Mr. Rhodes, however, proves what can be accomplished by the student of older years, who seeks in A.L. Antique (Paderewski); Valse Brillante (Chopin); Clair de Lune (Debussy); Liebestraume (Liszt); speak more fluently in this univer-ern School of Business; "Mr. Rhodes' lecture meant so much to me and to my friend, Mrs. S. B. Crissey. It was especially interesting to me because of the many parallel experiences in our lives and the deep interest and determination to study and learn music, even though it was necessary many times to postpone and lay aside ambitions to devote time, energy, and money to the rearing and educating of a family. His emphasis of the fact that one is never too old to learn if she or he has the innate desire and will to do so. His talk gave me renewed faith in myself and encouragement."

Pampa Music Teacher's Ass'n extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend Mr. Rhodes' concert this afternoon at 3 p.m. in the First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Ingram Leads Royal Service Topic

Mrs. W. Baten was hostess recently to the Woman's Missionary Society of White Deer Baptist Church. Opening prayer was by Mrs. Baten.

Mrs. Tom Ingram led the Royal Service program, "The Song of the Lord Begun."

Mrs. Ralph Higgins led the closing prayer. Attending were: Meses. Andy Simon, W. E. Carey, Lansin Osborne, Ted McCurley.

Noise does little for the nerves. Homes with children especially need some form of soundproofing to cushion the daily racket. In heavy-traffic rooms, rubber tiled floors help cut noise as does acoustical tile. Also, draperies will cut indoor sounds and keep out street noises.

Local Singers To Appear Monday In Frank Phillips College Voice Recital

Mrs. Lois Fagan

The Frank Phillips College music department will present two voice recitals on Monday in the college lounge at 8 p.m. Mrs. Lois Fagan, contralto, will sing "Indian Love Call" from "Rose Marie" by Friuli, and "The World Is Waiting For The Sunrise" by Ernest Seitz. She will be accompanied by Tracy D. Cary, Pampa piano teacher.

Mrs. Jeneane Thornburg, soprano, will sing "Mappari Tut

First Christian Church Young People Entertain At Mother, Daughter Dinner

Mothers and Daughters of the First Christian Church were honored at a Mother-Daughter Banquet on Thursday evening in the church.

An after-dinner musical program was presented by the young people of the church under the direction of George Taylor, education director. Misses Pamela Webb played "Yellow Butterfly" at the piano and sang "My Name is Queen Mary"; Misses Jeanette Sue, and Ruth Ann Guthrie sang "My Little Angel". Piano selections were given by Misses Joan Craig, "Londonderry Air" and "Fairest Lord Jesus"; Carolyn Willson, "Swinging Lanterns"; Debbie Nichols, "Copy Cat"; Nan Nichols, "Prelude Romantique" and Jenney Ledrick, a medley of "Where Is My Heart" and "Where The Deep Purple Falls."

Mrs. Thornburg, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Worrell and wife of Leroy Thornburg, is a sophomore Secondary Education major at Frank Phillips College. She is soloist with the College Choir and a member of Maak and Mike. She attended Baylor University after graduating from Pampa High School. She is the mother of four children and finds time along with her college work, to sing in the choir of the First Baptist Church. She is also active in the Treble Clef Club and Sam Houston PTA.

Mrs. Fagan, a music major at Frank Phillips has taught piano in Pampa for 22 years. She is the mother of four children and has three grandchildren. She is past president and present vice-president of Pampa Music Teachers Ass'n; is St. Paul Methodist Church organist; member of Treble Clef Club and the National Federation of Music Clubs.

The "Head of Christ" narrated by Miss Barbey Crews, as a spotlight shone on the picture of "The Head of Christ" followed by "If I Believe" sung by Misses Ruth Ann, Sue and Jeanette Guthrie concluded the banquet.

Miss Crews gave invocation preceding the dinner. Tables were decorated with colorful May-poles and lilacs. Approximately 120 mothers and daughters attended the banquet.

A short business session was presided over by Mrs. John Gill, CWP president, and reminded the group of the Spring District One convention to be held on April 28 at 10 a.m. in the Canyon First Christian Church; also of the United-Church Women's May Fellowship Luncheon on May 1 beginning at 10 a.m. in the Church of the Brethren.

Mrs. Gill reported that 77 new stainless steel place settings have been received for the church kitchen; also, the Sharp Group has shipped 36½ dozen cookies and one date-nut cake to Juliette Fowler-Children's-home-in-Dallas.

Women who like to decorate with flowers soon become adept at unusual arrangements, and turn up uses for materials for which they weren't designed. One such is to tuck stems into foam plastic. It makes a good base for dried floral arrangements.

Q: When a spot breaks out on my face, how should I treat it?

A: Usually, it's best to leave it alone until it disappears, but here are some do's and don'ts:

- Don't poke it with your hands
- Don't cover it with a lot of make-up
- Don't worry about it

Do ward off bacteria by keeping your face very clean. This means washing it thoroughly at least three times a day.

Do dab the spot with alcohol no day it

Do watch your diet. If you have a sudden breakout of spots, cut down on your intake of rich, sweet or fatty foods. Drink milk instead of soft drinks, eat fruit instead of candy and green vegetables rather than starches and heavily-fried foods. Get plenty of rest, at least nine hours every night.

Churchill Still Has Sense Of History, International View

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

Man of the week: Sir Winston Churchill.
The time: Monday night, April 20, 1959.
The place: Suburban Hall, Woodford, England.
Woodford voters cheered and shouted themselves hoarse Monday, in Woodford's plain Suburban Hall.

The stubby man in the polka dot bow tie standing before them had lived through and personally made more history than any other man now living. He was Winston Churchill and he had just announced that once more he would "offer himself" as a candidate for the House of Commons in the coming elections.

Most of those in the hall could not remember a time when this man had been anything but a towering figure in British politics.

On Nov. 30, Churchill will be 85. Time is catching up with his robust figure. His movements are slow and the resonance has faded from the voice which in 1940 stirred a world caught in the toils of a massive war.

Had The Rallying Voice
"I have nothing to offer but blood, toil, tears and sweat," he said then. At another time: "We shall fight on the beaches, we shall fight on the landing grounds, we shall fight in the fields and in the streets, we shall fight in the hills, we shall never surrender."

His was the rallying voice of the Western world then, and of those speeches it since has been said he "mobilized the English language."

But whatever the infirmitates of body or the declining resonance of voice, Churchill still has not been deserted by his sense of history nor the international scope of his view.

"If the war left us poor, it left us honorably poor," Churchill told his Woodford constituents.

And to charges by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev that he began the cold war, he replied:

Points Out Perils
"I am certainly responsible for pointing out to the free world in 1946, in Fulton, in America, the perils inherent in complacently accepting the advance of Communist imperialism."

It was in his Fulton, Mo., speech that he coined the phrase "Iron Curtain."

And to his Fulton speech, he added the ironic touch on Monday night that it was not Britain who advanced her frontiers or who absorbed sovereign peoples after World War II.

Such is Churchill's worldwide stature that it made no difference that he stood upon a local platform, addressing a local constituency. For when he came to the German problem, he actually was addressing the men who will sit down in Geneva next month as representatives of world governments.

Says Russian Fears Reasonable
He said the Western powers should never seek to make use of Germany as an offensive base against Russia.

He said Soviet fears of a re-born Germany are "reasonable even if they are not justified."

"We must look through other people's eyes as well as our own," he said.

But he added the West could not contemplate "a further increase in the number of countries and peoples they so tyrannically control."

And the man who foresaw the outbreak of World War II told the Russians it was not necessary for them to say that the use of armed force over Berlin inevitably would lead to a general conflict.

"We are aware of this," he said. "We are well aware, too, that there is no chance of the world being spared the use of nuclear weapons if war came."
