

It's Happened, Half Million In Walkout

Basic U.S. Steel Mills Shut Down

By NORMAN L. BRAUN, United Press International

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Half a million steel workers shut down the nation's basic steel mills today in a strike for higher wages.

It could be the most costly walkout in the country's history, and might affect the life of nearly every American.

The strike by the United Steelworkers of America (USW)—sixth since World War II—cut off 90 per cent of the nation's steel production in the midst of the greatest output period in steel annals.

Picketing outside mills from coast to coast was reported orderly.

McDonald "No. 1 Picket" — Raising aloft a picket sign proclaiming him the "No. 1 picket," the union president said: "We're absolutely determined on this strike and by the eternal gods we will win."

A crowd estimated by police at 1,200 boared his approval.

After the rally, McDonald returned to New York where later today both industry and union leaders were to meet with federal mediation experts at the urging of President Eisenhower.

Pre-strike estimates were that the steel workers would lose $2 million dollars in wages and the industry $48 million dollars in production each week the walkout continued.

A 24-day strike in basic steel in 1956 cost the industry an estimated two billion dollars in lost wages and production. It also led to price increases in almost every item made of steel.

Daily Cost Up — But the day-to-day loss now would be greater since production was running at record levels of 11,500,000 long tons of steel a month.

In addition to the steel workers, about one million employees in other industries such as coal, railroads and Great Lakes ore shipping will be affected if the strike continues at length. Fabricators will feel the pinch first with the nation's automobile industry suffering later.

However, major auto firms in Detroit said they have enough steel stockpiled to carry them well into new-car production, and the steel strike will not affect 1960 model car production dates.

When the strike began at 12:01 a.m., the steel companies were prepared. They had spent the night hours in the slow and costly process of banking blast furnaces, tapping out open hearths and cooling coke ovens.

Although the walkout began officially at one minute after midnight, there were instances of scattered gun-jumping and premature picketing.

Steelworkers In Sixth Strike Since Last War

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The strike of United Steelworkers is the sixth industry-wide walkout in the 22-year history of the union, all after World War II.

The previous walkouts and settlements: 1936—34 days. A three-year contract which resulted in benefits estimated at 45.5 cents per hour per worker during the life of the agreement.

1935—12 hours. Wage increases averaging slightly more than 15 cents per hour. Wage increases founded union already had won averaging 16 cents per hour, a modified union shop and elimination of geographical differentials, at a cost of about 5 cents per hour.

1949—30 to 42 days. Company-financed pension and insurance programs, but no wage increase. 1946—29 days. A wage increase of 18 1/2 cents per hour.

The steel industry estimated that these walkouts cost the nation 55 million tons of steel production. The current walkout will mean the loss of about 2 1/2 million tons for each week it continues.

The first major strike called by the USW, then the Steelworkers Organizing Committee, was against Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp. in May, 1937. The newly-founded union already had won contracts with 119 companies, including giant U.S. Steel Corp. without a walkout.

The strike ended after 36 hours when J&L agreed to sign a contract if its employees voted for the union in a National Labor Relations Board election. The union won 17,028 to 7,207.

But other large independent firms refused to deal with the union. Within a week, the late Philip Murray, then president of the steel union, had called walkouts against Bethlehem, Republic, Inland and Youngstown Sheet & Tube. At its peak, the walkout idled 90,000 workers.

The violence marked strike continued into the fall, but eventually most of the men went back to work and the union had to fight win contracts. But in 1941, after strikes flared at a half-dozen Bethlehem mills, the company agreed to NLRB elections. Again the union won, and the four companies of so-called "little steel" came to terms in August.

Other major strikes in the steel industry occurred in 1889, 1892, 1909 and 1919, but they involved predecessor unions of the United Steelworkers.

The most noted walkout of the past was the 1892 strike against steel king Andrew Carnegie's Homestead, Pa., mill. On July 6 of that year strikers and company-hired Pinkerton detectives clashed in a pitched battle. Seven strikers and three Pinkertons were killed in a gun battle on the bank of the Monongahela River as the detectives sought to enter the mill from barges.

He said he was confident agreement could be reached without undue delay if there were good will on both sides of the bargaining table. He said the American people "will rightly expect steady progress toward a just and responsible settlement."

White House New Secretary James C. Hagerty declined to say whether the President had given any thought to calling steel spokesmen for labor and management to the White House for conferences.

Under the Taft-Hartley law the President, if he determines that a labor-management dispute has created an emergency threatening the "health or safety" of the nation, can request the Justice Department to seek an injunction stopping a strike for 90 days.

Eisenhower was understood to be gratified that both sides in the dispute agreed quickly Tuesday to his request that they confer with federal mediation officials.

Although it was obvious that the strike by 500,000 steel workers would start at midnight, Eisenhower warned both parties that they had a responsibility to continue bargaining "without interruption."

Ike Urges Talks To Continue

By MERRIMAN SMITH, UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower said today that the steel strike for the moment had not created emergency conditions warranting use of the Taft Hartley law, but he urged labor and management to continue negotiating.

The President told reporters it was obvious that if the strike lasted so long that steel inventories required by the government were exhausted, the defense production program would face a very serious situation.

He said, however, that he was in no position today to estimate accurately how long the strike would have to run before it interfered with the defense program.

He suggested the fullest possible use of free bargaining between labor and management before there is any direct federal intervention.

Under the Taft-Hartley law the President, if he determines that a labor-management dispute has created an emergency threatening the "health or safety" of the nation, can request the Justice Department to seek an injunction stopping a strike for 90 days.

Carr Challenges House to Nix Him

By ILOYD LARRABEE, United Press International

AUSTIN (UPI) — Speaker Waggoner Carr today challenged House members to remove him from office if it would help solve the state's tax problem.

Carr stepped down from the speaker's rostrum and made an unusual and dramatic appeal from the reading clerk's microphone.

"If you want to oust me, then at your work," Carr told the House.

"If the tax problem can be solved quickly by removing me, then move and move right now," Carr said.

Secret Meeting Held — Carr said he had exerted every effort to arrive at a compromise on the tax problem, but "my regard for all of these efforts has been a committee to report the speaker back to the rostrum."

Carr cited speculation that he will run for state-wide office next year. He has been mentioned as a possible candidate for attorney general.

"I recognize that some of you are dedicated to call me down before I even make the decision," Carr said, "and I recognize that some of you would do anything to cut me down, and create chaos."

Carr said he read of the meeting in newspaper dispatches, which he said told of a meeting of members whom he said "did not have the courage to be quoted by name."

"These allegations have been read in my home town by my wife and my boy, and they have become gravely concerned. I have been besieged by phone calls from friends over the state rallying to my support."

Proceeding the formal ceremonies Saturday, the Amarillo Air Force Band will play several numbers. Beginning at 2 p.m., Postmaster Powers will welcome the guests and introduce the master of ceremonies, Huey Laycock.

Rev. Edgar Hubbard, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will give the invocation. Mr. Laycock will introduce the special guests who include V. E. Bell, Lubbock, real estate officer; J. M. Benesh, Amarillo, field officer of the Amarillo postal district; George Coffey, president of the local Lions Club, which is sponsoring the event; L. D. McCauley, mayor of White Deer; J. C. Jackson, the first postmaster on record; and others.

After the flag ceremony by the Boy Scouts of Troop 81 and the National Anthem played by the Air Force Band, W. B. (Red) Weathered, senior field officer of the Postal Department, Fort Worth, will give the main address; and Rev. Marvin Menefee, pastor of the local Methodist church, will give the benediction.

Guests will then be at liberty to inspect the new post-office and refreshments will be served by Mrs. Powers, Mrs. Huey Laycock, Mrs. R. J. Saffor Jr., Mrs. C. C. Shuman, and Miss Claude Eversly.

U.S. and France Ignore Bid By West Germany for Summit

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG, United Press International

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States, Britain and France today shunted aside West German suggestions for an immediate summit conference and agreed to press Russia to put some Berlin guarantees into writing.

The U.S. delegation said it was too early to start talking about recessing a conference that had just resumed even if it has been discontinued since the start over Soviet demands for equal-billing for the "East German Communists."

The British regarded the Bonn suggestion as "unrealistic" and the French took an equally sour view. French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville was flying to Paris today to talk over with President Charles de Gaulle, however.

The Western foreign ministers were ready to pile pressure on Russia's Andrei Gromyko to confirm in writing that the Kremlin has junked its Berlin tie bomb and recognize the West's continued rights in the city.

The Western foreign ministers also reaffirmed their stand that there must be such fool-proof guarantees before there can be a summit conference in September.

The foreign ministers were meeting today for the second plenary session since the Berlin crisis talks were resumed Monday. The chief Western aim was some sort of Berlin agreement that would permit them to attend a summit conference with no loss of prestige.

Speech Workers Visit With Pampa Child Group

By WALLACE TRIEDEL, Daily News Staff Writer

Members of the Exceptional Child Association, a group organized to aid handicapped children in Pampa, received some professional advice from Charles Worth, field director of the Institute of Logopedics, Wichita, Kan., Tuesday night.

The meeting was a follow-up to the June speech examination clinic which disclosed at least 50 Pampa youngsters with speech disorders.

Worth told parents that ordinary speech difficulties can be corrected if training is begun in the preschool days. If a four-year-old misses eight sounds it will take him nine months to catch up but it will take a 12-year-old a couple of years, he observed.

Moreover, if a 12-year-old has gone this long with a communication problem, the psychological damage will be considerable. "Speech is judged as a sign of intelligence and a child who stutters is a loser," he said.

Speech correction is one of the most underdeveloped professions according to Worth. It has little relation to the speech arts taught in high school. A child with a speech impediment needs immediate attention.

Worth was on his way to a community clinic that has been set up in Garden City, Kan. He appeared with Leon Whitton, the Institute's field center director. The Institute of Logopedics is the largest residential speech and hearing clinic in the world. It operates extensively in Missouri, Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas. In 25 years the Institute has examined 34,000 cases, handles 1,500 cases a month in Wichita alone. Children are referred through parents or public health services.

More Rain Hits Pampa

Pampa soaked up a .24 inch rainfall Tuesday night, experiencing its second consecutive thunderstorm of the day. Sixty hundredths of an inch of moisture fell Tuesday morning, according to a reading of the Daily News rain gauge.

Rain fell with clockwork regularity last week, leaving only Sunday, Tuesday and Thursday dry. The four thunderstorms dropped over three inches of moisture on the Top-O-Texas.

$25,000 Suit Nearing Its Final Stages

A $25,000 suit for damages arising out of a fatal highway accident last summer on Price Road is nearing its final stages this afternoon in District Court.

Tuesday night, in a one-hour night session Attorney Ross Buzzard wound up his case for the plaintiffs, C. M. Bettis and Clarence Hughes, both of Canadian. Bettis is the father of J. R. Bettis, a 17-year-old who was killed June 21, 1958 in a head-on crash on Price Rd.

The defendant is Bill Terry, the driver of one of two cars allegedly racing on Price Rd. when the mishap occurred. The other driver involved was Donald Wayne Sands. Terry's defense attorney is Tom Morris of Amarillo.

In testimony Tuesday afternoon Buzzard presented Glenn Hughes, 17, driver of the car in which Bettis died. Hughes said he was hospitalized several months following the accident and is just now regaining the use of his legs.

Two other witnesses said they saw Sands and Terry racing on Price Rd. just seconds before they heard the collision. Sands' car, which struck the car driven by Glenn Hughes, was allegedly leading in the race.

Hughes' father is asking $5,000 for medical expenses and the loss of the services of his son. Bettis is asking $19,000 for damages and funeral expenses, and Glenn Hughes is asking $10,000 for injuries.

Terry is charged by the plaintiff with improper conduct which served to incite and encourage the misconduct of Donald Wayne Sands.

KE CAN HALT STRIKE F NATION THREATENED

By WILLIAM J. EATON
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower has available a powerful weapon to halt the steel strike if it gets to the point where the nation's welfare is threatened.

In that case, the President would seek an injunction under the Taft-Hartley law to bar the strikers for 90 days.

But informed sources said today that the President will defer decision on whether to use the broad emergency authority of the labor law. They gave two reasons:

—It will take several weeks at least for a steel shortage to develop that would threaten the nation's welfare.

—Top federal mediators generally feel that the 90-day interval provided by the injunction serves as a warning-up period instead of a cooling-off period as it is generally described.

However, if a strike drags on through the summer, the President may invoke the Taft-Hartley procedure. It would be the seventh time in seven years.

Here's how it works:

—If the President decides that a "threatened or actual strike or lockout affecting an entire industry or a substantial part thereof will imperil the national health or safety," he can name an emergency fact-finding board.

Separate Meetings Slated With Industry, Union Leaders

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—The chief of the Federal Mediation Service scheduled separate meetings with steel industry and union leaders today in an attempt to bring them to agreement they failed to reach by themselves in more than five weeks of talks.

Each side bitterly blamed the other for the strike which punctuated their failure to write a new wage contract for the industry's half million workers.

It appeared unlikely that Mediation Director Joseph F. Finnegan could find a quick or easy peace formula.

His mediation services were accepted by both parties at the request of President Eisenhower Tuesday. Eisenhower had previously won a two-week contract extension, and a two-day renewal of bargaining after the talks broke down Sunday. He expressed

Steel Strike At A Glance

United Press International
The Union: The United Steelworkers of America, with 500,000 members in steel mills, iron mines, Great Lakes ore carriers and other operations.

The Companies: Twenty-eight steel producers, including the 12 biggest who participated in pre-strike negotiations. Included are the U. S. Steel Corp., Bethlehem Steel and Republic Steel, which represent 55 per cent of total national steel capacity.

Direct daily cost of the strike: Approximately 50 million dollars, with steel production losses estimated at 40 million dollars and union wage losses at 10 million dollars. The union has no strike fund.

Estimated production losses: About 300,000 tons daily at pre-strike rates of production.

Issues: Union is seeking package wage increase estimated at more than 15 cents an hour. Also seeks extension of cost-of-living escalator clause contained in three-year contract which expired June 30. Pre-strike steel wages averaged 43.10 an hour. Industry has proposed one-year wage freeze and elimination of escalator clause. However, companies have offered improved pensions and insurance benefits this year and a modest pay increase next year. If the union agrees to increased efficiency in steel plants, industry says wage increases would necessitate increases in steel prices and trigger new inflationary spiral. Union maintains that industry's profits and productivity are high enough to warrant wage increase without forcing increase in steel prices.

Strike history: Sixth nationwide steel strike since World War II. Last strike, in 1956, lasted 34 days, costing approximately two billion dollars in production and lost wages. Wages increased total of 42 cents an hour, including 15 cents provided by escalator clause. Steel prices since have increased an average of 34 per cent.

Expected effect: Steel consumers have supplies sufficient for from 30 to 120 days. Agreement, when reached, will set pattern for contract talks in aluminum, copper, canning and railroads. Also will have important effect on wage increases in variety of industries, ranging from autos to missiles.

No Aid For Strikers

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The nation's striking steelworkers will be ineligible for state unemployment benefits and will receive no financial aid from their national union during the strike.

The United Steelworkers Union has no strike fund from which it could make strike payments. However, a union spokesman said each local will form a strike welfare committee which will make financial aid available to "hardship" cases.

Top union officials, including President David J. McDonald, who draws an annual salary of $50,000 also will go without pay during the strike. Their pay was suspended automatically at the strike's outset in accordance with a 20-year tradition. Secretarial and clerical employes in union headquarters, however, will continue to work and draw salaries.

Retail stores in key steel centers have put signs in their windows informing steelworkers that they can buy now and pay after the strike. Local feed stores also have made a practice of extending credit to Steelworkers during strikes.

Since most steel companies pay on a two-week basis, some workers will still receive full pay checks two weeks hence.

Officials Look For Dynamite Booby Traps

By SMAUEL R. GREEN
United Press International
PETROS, Tenn. (UPI)—Prison officials searched today for dynamite booby traps believed planted by 95 convicts who surrendered after holding up for two days in a prison at Brushy Mountain State Prison.

Earl Hensley, about 50, one of four hostages held, said four of the convicts told him the prisoners had set booby traps in the mine.

The prisoners, haggard and worn, "fired out of the shaft Tuesday about 36 and Hensley, Lie-lie-t of four mine foremen held by the prisoners, walked out of the shaft ahead of the prisoners.

Neither they nor Tom Jones and Sherry Bunch, released earlier, were harmed.

A few hours after the rebellion ended eight ringleaders were taken to the state penitentiary at Nashville.

Woman's Billfold Found Tuesday

A small red woman's billfold containing a few dollars and a driver's license was found Tuesday afternoon by a Pampa historian and turned over to police.

Chief Jim Conner said the license belongs to Georgia Taply Edwards, Box 1122, Littlefield. The billfold was found by Robert Collett, 1104 Crane Rd. whose car was parked near the Motor Inn. Conner said the billfold can be claimed at the police station.

Man Charged With Indecent Exposure

D. F. Hook, 59, 801 E. Murphy was charged with indecent exposure to a child Tuesday by the Pampa police department. Hook was taken to county jail where his bond has been set at $2,000.

Hook was the second Pampa man this week to be charged with exposure. He is alleged to have exposed himself to a granddaughter, age 10, in the Hook home June 28.

The granddaughter told police about the incident late last week. Chief Jim Conner said his department had been working on the case the past few days.

BULLET WOUND FATAL

EL PASO (UPI)—Joan Owen Frey, 2, died Tuesday from a bullet wound in his head fired from a pistol apparently held by his four-year-old brother. The father of the boys, John Frey, said he must have forgotten to put the gun away after cleaning it.

Sunglasses with nylon frames get added touch of Limoges ornamentation this summer. These are done in black nylon with ornamentation in white with pink roses.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

This June, because he was failing him in history, Sid's teacher told him he'd have to go to summer school.

As this meant changing his family's vacation plans, his mother was upset. Finally, she thought, "It doesn't really matter where Sid studies his history so long as he studies it. If I see to it that he works an hour on it every day at the beach house, he could take the summer school exam in the fall and our plans won't have to be canceled."

But when she asked Mr. Horne for an appointment to propose this solution, the teacher said impatiently, "This is a very busy time for me. If it's about Sidney's promotion, it depends on his going to summer school."

At once Sid's mother discarded her good solution. She told her husband they'd have to accept Mr. Horne's. After an angry scene with Sid, Father agreed that they'd have to rent the beach house.

If Mr. Horne had been "nice" to Sid's mother, she'd have felt quite safe in proposing her idea. But Mr. Horne wasn't "nice," and so insistence on a hearing became dangerous for Sid's mother.

We all have devices by which we try to organize safety for ourselves. One such device is never provoking anyone. Our secret belief is, "If I withhold all protest, if I never arouse anyone's resentment of me, I'll be safe. Though I may never get anything better for myself, I can at least keep what I've got by attracting no hostile attention."

We develop this safety device in childhood. Through long experience with authorities that always know what's best for us, we go on believing that other authorities possess all the answers. Like Sid's mother, we lose all trust in our own ideas the moment the Mr. Hornes of our world say, "I'm too busy to listen to you. Do as I say—or else."

It's only poor authorities who regard good as synonymous with good authorities, just because they're so busy, know they haven't time to create new answers to old problems. So we can usually tell a good authority from a poor one by the former's willingness to listen to new answers.

When we're up against a poor authority, we can't just knock it under. If America's founding fathers had discarded their new notion of freedom because it provoked George III, we'd have ended up with no country, just as Sid's mother has ended up with no vacation.

Sunglasses Are Plain Or Fancy

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

The day of the heavy frame in sunglasses is gone forever. In 1959, frames may look fashionably large but they are light on the face. The reason? It's because they're made of featherlight nylon.

There's something for everybody in sunglasses frames this year. Oversized sunglasses in tortoise or black are eye-stoppers for bright days. For streetwear, there are wrap-around and modified harlequin shapes that can go anywhere.

For patio parties and picnics, frames become dressier. Some are trimmed with pastel Limoges and others get a treatment of silver filigree or colored stones. Others have rhinestone or pearl trim to be matched to jewelry.

The lenses in your sunglasses should, of course, be ground and polished whether you use a prescription or not. They prevent distortion and give maximum protection.

The Boyntons Have Rose Society Meet

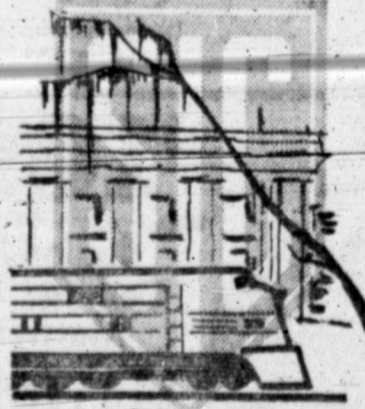

Pampa Rose Society met recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Boynton, 1035 S. Hobart, with Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Caldwell as sponsors.

Following a picnic dinner on the Boynton lawn, the president, Mrs. Boynton conducted a brief business discussion during which it was suggested that members help out each Thursday at the park to cultivate the roses.

Cecil Collum gave an interesting and informative talk on golf. To new members were welcomed into the club membership. Mr. and Mrs. William Bennick, Mrs. Cecil Parker of College Station, and Mrs. Elmer Gage.

If you like the look of fine jewelry at a small price, consider a circle of crystals set in sterling silver. It's a piece you'll have for a long time.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My neighbor must not have a brain in her head. She has two darling little girls under five-years old and she lets them run around outside naked. Not a stitch of clothing on!

With so much in the papers lately about young boys and crazy men attacking children, I think there ought to be a law against mothers like her.

PLEASE PRINT THIS, ABBY: You might "save" some little girl's life.

DEAR WORRIED: Your neighbor is many miles from me. But she is near enough to you so that you could speak to her about it. Perhaps the dangers you so wisely point out never occurred to her. Tell her in plain language. If she doesn't then clothe her children—notify the police.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a mother who won't let her 14-year-old son go swimming alone after he has passed his Y.M.C.A. Shark test which is the step just before the Pre-Life Saving? I would appreciate your answer to this because it might help other boys with the same problem. Thank you.

DAVID: Dear David: I think your mother doesn't believe in taking foolish chances. Even a boy who can swim like a fish is a sucker to go swimming alone. If a lone swimmer is ever seized with a cramp, he's a goner. Be wise—go with the guys!

DEAR ABBY: Our 14-year-old daughter says we are "square." Are we?

She belongs to a club. Most of the girls are her age. They're planning a week-end slumber party at a cottage owned by one of the girls' parents. It's quite a distance out of town. The chaperone? A 70-year-old caretaker who is deaf. He lives in a cottage about a block away.

My husband and I discussed it and decided she couldn't go. She stormed around for hours accusing us of trying to keep her a baby forever, and ruining her socially. Are we wrong or not?

SQUARE PAIR: Dear Square: If there were more "square" parents like you there would be fewer kids going around

TROUBLED MOTHER: Dear Troubled: Tell the boy's parents that you enjoy having their son for a few days, but when he stays longer he keeps YOUR son from working. Either make it

Mrs. Charles Teas Has WSCS Meet

CANADIAN (Sp) — Circle 2 of the WSCS of the First Methodist Church met with Mrs. Charles Teas recently.

Mrs. J. B. Reid Jr., chairman, presided at the business meeting and gave the devotional. The program was presented by Mrs. P. D. Moseley.

Attending were guests Mmes. Ray Condo of Keok, Okla., and Oley Wilson of Penelope, and members Mmes. Lester Hodges, T. D. Rogers, P. D. Moseley, Lee George, Dale Nix, John Wilkinson, Marvin Longhofer, J. B. Reid Jr., W. A. Metrell, Geo. Tubbs, and Horace Rivers.

DEAR ABBY: We have a small business in the country. Our son, who is 16, helps us. He has his friends out on week-ends and we don't mind that. Except for this one boy.

He helps himself to candy and pop. His parents are having trouble with him and they think he is safe here. He rushes a round trying to help customers with his shirt tail out and a silly straw hat with flowers.

I don't mind him staying a couple of days at a time, but I don't want him here all summer. Our boy doesn't work very well when he has company.

We hate to hurt his parents' feelings, but how can we get rid of him?

TROUBLED MOTHER: Dear Troubled: Tell the boy's parents that you enjoy having their son for a few days, but when he stays longer he keeps YOUR son from working. Either make it

June Nuptials Are Held In Dallas For Miss Lowry, Luther Harold Ledbetter

Nuptials were read in Dallas on June 14 for Miss Mary June Lowry and Luther Harold Ledbetter of Pampa in a double-ring ceremony performed by Rev. Jack Riddlehooper, pastor of the Temple Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Lowry of Dallas. Mr. Ledbetter's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Luther Ledbetter of Mobeetie.

Miss Wynilou Wylie of Pampa served as maid of honor wearing a waltz-length gown of pale blue taffeta and shifren complemented with a corsage of blue Frenched carnations set in lace.

Bridesmaid was Miss Marilyn Ledbetter, bridegroom's sister, who was attired in a dress of pink taffeta and chiffon fashioned as the maid of honor's. She wore a pink carnation corsage set in lace. Each attendant wore matching gloves, flower hats and white shoes.

Carroll Lowry, bride's brother, served as best man. Groomsmen were Bob Baker (formerly of Shamrock and Derrell Lowry.

Miss Jan Williams at the organ presented nuptial airs and accompanied Larry Boyd, vocalist.

The ceremony was performed amid a setting of large crystal baskets of Blue-Pink gladioli tied with white satin ribbon.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the

Manners Makes Friends

Some parents apparently it is cute to have their child call them by their first names. It certainly sounds better to hear a child use the most respectful and conventional "Mr." and "dad."

The bride was attired in a waltz-length dress of white imported Pima cloth fashioned with a square neck, line embroidered in Alençon lace topped with a short jacket. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a white Bible topped with white feathered carnations and lace showered with white satin streamers tied in Love Knots.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Baker, former Shamrock residents, were hosts for a reception following the ceremony. Misses Pauline Baker, Wynilou Wylie, Marilyn Ledbetter and Mrs. Roland Baker assisted with the hospitality.

The bride was graduated from Dallas High School and Business College. She was employed by an insurance firm prior to her marriage. The bridegroom was graduated from Shamrock High School and is presently employed by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mitchell in Pampa, where they will make their home.

U.S. - RUSSIAN MEET

Reds Hope For First Practice

By JOHN CLANCY
United Press International
PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Russia's track and field team, hampered by heavy rains and equipment difficulties, hoped today to get in its first full practice session since arriving in this country for a dual meet with American athletes this week end.

The 63 men and women track stars, along with 15 Soviet officials and interpreters accompanying them, went sightseeing this morning before reporting to Franklin Field where the meet will be held Saturday and Sunday.

BORGER — A season's success and sweat are the high stakes Pampa's American Legion Rebels and the Borger Stars will be playing for here tonight.

Malson Slicks Up Bank With Two Homers

First baseman Randy Matson had a mighty big night for himself Monday in Pony League play.

The power-packed slugger also took part in a double play in the fifth, going from Ronnie Chase at short to Ken Miller at second to Matson at first.

Malson, however, wasn't the only hero. There was Jimmy Lollar who pitched a nifty five-hitter, fanning four and walking three.

Duren Might Still Save 'Dem Yanks

By FRED DOWN
United Press International
An 0.83 earned run average and a string of 31 1-3 consecutive scoreless innings stamp Ryno Duren today as the fellow who may yet save the New York Yankees' hide and pride.

Kempa Drubs Phillips, 5-3

Frank Kempa humbled padded its Pampa Industrial League lead by a half game Tuesday night in a rain-abbreviated, six-inning, 5-3, victory over Phillips.

DENVER (UPI) — Dan Sikes Jr. is off to a better start in the National Public Links golf tournament than he was a year ago when he won the championship.

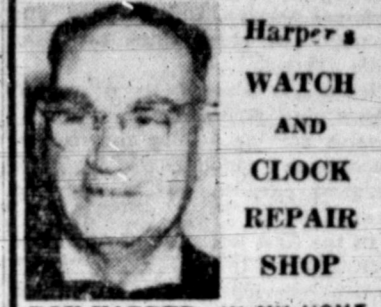

Sikes, a 28-year-old law student at the University of Florida, he came the tournament medalist Tuesday when he toured the 6,617-yard Welshire Municipal Course in 68 strokes, three under par. It gave him a two-day total of 137 over the 36 qualifying holes.

Medicine Into Orbit

Socialized medicine, as practiced in England and elsewhere, is allegedly "free" medicine. It's true that the patient doesn't pay his bill out of pocket each time he obtains medical service. But he pays, and through the nose, when tax time rolls around.

Form Of Enemy

People who were mature in the bygone 1930's will remember the anti-chain store campaigns of that era. They were based on the supposition that independent merchants would be swindled by the corporate chains, national and regional, unless drastic steps were taken.

If You Wonder

A special study on oil well drilling costs has just been issued by a group of industry associations and it gives dramatic testimony to the huge risks U.S. oil men are taking in their constant search for new sources and reserves of oil.

YOUR FREEDOM NEWSPAPER We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is not license. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, The Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. BOILES

Who Causes Living Costs To Go Up And Up?

Most every person knows that it is awfully hard to save money and that living costs are going up and up and things are costing more and more in dollars. Some people, of course, blame the labor unions. But they are not the primary cause.

It seems to me the primary cause is our legislators—the men who make our laws. We often hear it said that we are the government, but that is not true.

Another Cold War Thaw

WASHINGTON — An old story is being repeated in Russia. That's how U.S. analysts read what is behind Premier Khrushchev's extraordinary campaign to glorify himself. He is pulling out all stops at this time.

CRACKER BARREL

During World War II, President Roosevelt said, "We have nothing to fear but fear itself."

Little Davey also thanks "my wife, Elizabeth," who succeeded his No. 1 wife, Madeline. Madeline helped to work up Egbert Murrow's terrible turkey about prostitution as an auxiliary of ordinary business practice in New York City.
