Wheat.... A Story Of Men And Machines

The Missouri capitol building forms the background as a farmer combines a field of wheat in the Missouri River bottom across from Jefferson City. This year's early wheat crop is reported to be down in yield but up in quality in most areas.

Time out for refreshment. Near Preston, Kans., custom cutter Bus Edwards helps Randle Gorham to a swig from a vacuum jug.

On the way from field to breadbasket, golden wheat spews from combine spout during full-gear harvesting in Kansas.

Viet Nam Police Take Precautions

LONG TO FILE LARGE SUIT

By JOHN T. PAYTON United Press International

WINNFIELD, La. (UPI)—Gov. Earl K. Long retreated to his tin-roofed farm home in the Louisiana hills today and announced he will file a libel suit for more than two million dollars against national news magazines. Long also said he isn't leaving on his vacation tour until Saturday. In a telephone interview with Mrs. Margaret Dixon, managing editor of the Baton Rouge Morning Advocate, Long said his lawyer will file suit "in excess of two million dollars against Time, Inc., publishers of Time and Life magazines. He said he was "slandered" by articles and pictures appearing in recent issues of both magazines. Among other things, the magazines reported he received a visit from a strip-teaser during his stay in New Orleans last week. Long said he will "leave the farm early Saturday for Shreveport," where he will board a commercial airplane for Fort Worth, Tex. Reports concerning Long's condition were gloomy, although his aides attempted to present a rosy picture. His executive secretary, A. A. Fredericks, said a team of six physicians, psychiatrists and neurologists found him "so much improved" that they decided he didn't need a psychiatrist at his side any longer. Dr. Robert Heath, one of the psychiatrists, quickly refuted this and said that the position of the Doctors was still that Long's condition was a matter of "continued concern."

'Cindy' Is Expected To Die Today

United Press International

Hurricane Cindy was expected to die out over Virginia today while at the other end of the nation Los Angeles braced for another day of near-100 degree heat and stifling smog. Cindy, an ill wind that lost her punch, before hitting the eastern seaboard, dumped scattered showers and thundershowers over the central Carolinas and southeast Virginia Thursday night. But most of the rains totalled less than an inch. During her brief lifetime, Cindy caused one death—14-year-old S. C. attorney who was killed in an auto accident on a rain-slick highway—and relatively minor damage. But the storm was blamed for a series of explosions that injured a dozen firemen and a bystander Thursday in an old chemical plant in Charlotte, N. C. Official said rainwater seeping into the abandoned plant reached a vat of molten sodium and touched off the fire and blast. The temperature hit 93, highest of the year, in downtown Los Angeles Thursday, and more of the same was predicted today. In addition, smog coated the city with a thick blue cloud and drove thousands to relief on the beaches. Showers fell Thursday night along a front of cooler air from central Texas to the Ohio Valley and into New York state, over the northern plains and in the upper Mississippi Valley. Most totals were light with Bookville, Pa., reporting 1.38 inches. The Weather Bureau predicted afternoon thundershowers today from Texas into South Carolina and Florida, over the southern Rockies and in the upper Mississippi Valley.

Its four-man staff includes Brooks, Glenn Floyd, Paul Appleton, and soil scientist Tony Welker.

U.S. Military On 'Yellow Alert'

By DALE BRIX United Press International

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI)—Police ordered increased protection today for the 1,500 Americans in Viet Nam following the Communist assassination of two U. S. Army men and the wounding of a third. The Viet Nam government reported that the attack Wednesday night at Bien Hoa, 20 miles north of Saigon, had aroused "great indignation" among the general public. Extra Viet Namese guards were stationed at American government offices and the residences of American officials, and a close watch was placed on American vehicles. All packages brought to the U. S. embassy here were under careful scrutiny. The great majority of Americans in Viet Nam live in Saigon. About 230 work for such government agencies as the embassy, the International Cooperation Administration, the United States Information Service and the 11 military assistance groups. Members of the U. S. military—More than 300 in all—were placed on "yellow alert" after the raid and began packing sidearms. The Bien Hoa attack was the most daring staged by Communist terrorists since 1957 when the USIS library building in Saigon was bombed. Eyewitness reports filtering through official secrecy painted a grim picture of the 19-minute reign of terror which turned the peaceful river town into a bloody battleground. Six American military officers were in the mess hall of a two-story building watching the movie "The Tattered Dress" when the raiders penetrated a barbed-wire fence and invaded the compound in which the building was located. There were believed to have been between five and 30 men in the Communist band. The invaders waited until the lights were turned on in the mess hall to change a reel of the film. Then they brought the building under attack from three sides in a murderous crossfire. A Viet Namese cook and his 4-year-old son who were watching the movie from outside the building were cut down by small arms and automatic weapons fire and a Viet Namese guard was wounded fatally.

Jupiter Takes To Air In Good Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—An intermediate range Jupiter missile thundered down the Atlantic seaboard Thursday night in a six-second flight reported to have covered 1,500 miles. The Army said it landed in the predicted impact area, but did not say how big the area was. After the firing, the Army said for the third time that the missile now is "ready for operational use." The 55-foot missile with a maximum range of 1,700 miles will be employed tactically by the Air Force under a "Defense Department" program limiting the Army to use of 200-mile missiles. The Jupiter launching followed by three hours the successful continental ballistic missile test Tuesday night in the Florida desert. The Atlas probably will be fired during the coming week. Only one of 21 Jupiters fired has been deemed totally unsuccessful by the Army. The Jupiter was the missile used to hurl two monkeys named Able and Baker through space on a 1,500-mile flight down the Atlantic tracking range east May 28. Officials said there was no living creature in Thursday night's Jupiter.

With Khrushchev Today Averell Reports on Talk

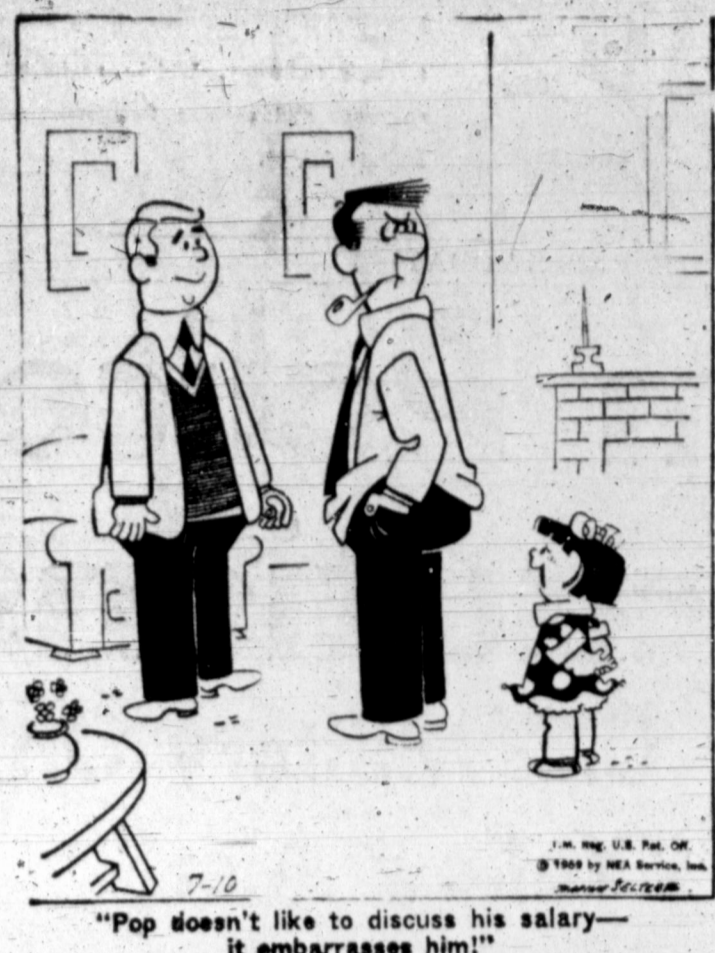

By THOMAS J. FOLEY United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—W. Averell Harriman reports to high U.S. officials today on what Soviet premier Nikita Khrushchev told him about Russian intentions in Berlin. The former New York governor is flying here to fill in both Congress and the administration in his recent Moscow conversation in which Khrushchev raised a threat of war. Harriman was to confer first with Vice President Richard M. Nixon and then with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter. He had an afternoon appointment with the Senate Foreign Relations committee behind closed doors. Harriman was expected to urge that the Soviet premier be invited to visit the United States to clear up misconceptions the Red leader may have about this country and its intentions. Herter told a news conference Thursday afternoon—his first as secretary of state—that such a proposal was "certainly worth thinking about." Herter was asked if there was a "fully agreed Allied plan on counter-measures" to maintain the West in Berlin if the Soviets take unilateral action to force the Allies out. The deadlocked conference resumes Monday after a three-week recess. Herter said the West intends to clear up some misconceptions that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko "contains the West is laboring under concerning Soviet proposals. The issue revolves around what the Soviet Union would do if a Soviet-proposed period of negotiations lasting a year and a half resulted in no agreement. The West has assumed from earlier statements that the Soviet Union considered that Western rights would expire at the end of that period. But Gromyko has said that this is a misconception.

Texans May Have To Cut Down Luxuries

By LLOYD IARRABEE United Press International

AUSTIN (UPI)—Although "sales tax" is a repulsive subject around the Texas legislature, the 181 million dollar "compromise" money measure being printed today is loaded with it. It's the best answer a blue-ribbon conference committee composed of five members from each house could come up with after seven days of secret talks. It should be ready for floor action tomorrow morning. By no means does the bill contain a general sales tax. But it is a top-sided to per cent heavy with new and increased "selective" sales taxes. Sacrifices Loom One thing is certain. If the legislature approves it as written, it will pay Texans to give up smoking. And drinking. And fishing. And radio and television. And air conditioning. And picture taking and private clubs and even airplanes, if you are thinking of buying one. Sentiment in both the House and Senate seemed to be that the lawmakers dislike the idea of passing any type of sales tax, but some kind of a money measure has to be passed quickly. Rep. Frates Seitzson of San Antonio, who sponsored the original draft of the new tax bill, said he thought it would receive swift approval. But Rep. Bob Eckhardt of Houston, administration floor leader, said he would lead a fight against any bill that was to per cent sales tax. "I don't think the House will take it," Eckhardt said. "The blame for this bill lies with the speaker." Carr Sees Crackup House Speaker Waggoner Carr countered that he has noticed in recent days that Eckhardt's "normally good disposition is beginning to crack under the strain." Several lawmakers expressed the opinion that the bill was objectionable because it put the biggest burden on the individual taxpayer and not industry. Gov. Price Daniel, who recommended a larger load be placed on natural gas, was out of state. He could veto any bill passed by the legislature, and call them back for a fresh start in another special session. "But J. P. Ellis, Daniel's fiscal assistant, said Daniel is a realist. "He doesn't choose this bill, but that's the facts you face," he said. "Political observers close to the scene say chances are good that the lawmakers will pass the measure. There is less than a week left in this second special session, and some kind of a tax bill has to be passed before another conference committee taps out its draft of an appropriation bill to program state spending. Most legislators are quick to stress that they are under no pressure from the feds at home to solve the problem immediately. But they still show the thought of possible criticism if taxpayers have to pay the cost of a third special session. Then, too, they are weary after months of focusing in Austin at temple to reach agreement on a way to finance proposed increases in state spending and still keep voters happy. They want to go home. Speaker Carr reflected this attitude when he said, "I urge the House to take the tax bill so we can go home. I think it's what the people want us to do." Further support of speculation that this bill may be the legislature's answer to the state's financial ills is that all 10 members of the conference committee signed the measure, recommending that it be passed.

Further Revolution Brewing On Layman's Place In Church

Religion In America.
By LOUIS CASSELL
United Press International

What is the layman's job in the church?

Recent years have brought sweeping changes in American views on this subject. And there are signs that further revolution is brewing.

Before World War II, the average layman felt that he was doing about all that could be expected of him if he attended worship services and contributed financial support.

Virtually all of the work of the church—from evangelism to business management—was left in the hands of the ordained clergy.

The vast expansion of church membership after the war made this arrangement untenable. Churches learned that even when they overworked their ministers, they simply didn't have enough professional manpower to cope with their growing task.

So the layman was put to work. Gradually he took on many of the administrative responsibilities previously borne by the clergy.

Millions of Volunteer Helpers

Today there are millions of laymen, in every denomination, who are serving their churches on a part-time volunteer basis. They are planning budgets, conducting fund drives, supervising building and maintenance programs, leading youth organizations, editing church publications.

GIRL SPELLERS MATCH WORDS WITH CONGRESS

THE LIGHTER SIDE
By FRANK ELEAZER
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Three congressmen met three school girls in a spelling match and modestly admitted afterwards that the school girls had lost.

This is to file a minority report. The girls were robbed.

The eighth-graders flew in from California to take on the lawmakers after clobbering directors of the Santa Rosa Chamber of Commerce. The directors, reportedly had made the mistake of complaining that kids these days are not learning to spell like they used to.

This proved to be true, and thank goodness for that. Those businessmen apparently couldn't spell fire sale.

To ease their embarrassment, they kicked their victors on Congress. They figured no doubt that with the kind of gobbledegook they talk around here the lawmakers had forgotten all they ever knew about English.

Rep. Clement Miller (D-Calif.) was their first choice as a legislative sacrifice to the girl spelling champs. The girls got their start by winning a three-county bee conducted by the Santa-Rosa Press Democrat in Miller's congressional district. Miller couldn't very well say no. Anyway, yes is one word every congressman learns to spell right away.

Found Some Experts.

Miller looked around for support and came up with a couple of obvious experts, Reps. Jeffery Cochran (D-Calif.), a former Fulbright scholar at Oxford, and Ken Hechler (D-W.Va.), a Ph.D. and former college professor who helped write speeches for Adlai E. Stevenson.

The girls arrived for the contest unshaken and early. Miller was there, too, but his two experts were nowhere to be seen. They hurried in minutes late, and the word was they had been studying.

From the outcome, it would be hard to say what.

The photographers got things moving by asking the girls where they were from, and to spell it.

Mary McFarling, 14, said her home is Ukiah. Carolyn Storts, 14, said she comes from Gualala. Valerie Turner, 13, gave her town as Petaluma.

The congressmen saw right then, I guess, that these girls would be hard to beat.

The rules were read, and the trouble began.

Majority Would Rule.

Cochran said on the panel shows he watches the contestants get time to confer. Anyway, he said all decisions would be by majority vote.

The photos said please run through some warmups while they shot the pictures. Somebody offered the word Butler, as in Paul, which Miller promptly spelled "bolch" in an obvious effort to get the teenagers confused.

Then they got down to the contest.

Mary handled slavery, bachelor, grotesque, and chandelier without even trying. Valerie ran through scarce, committee, involuntary, and embroidery. Carolyn got breakfast, discrepancy, genesis, and laboratory, with no more than a sigh.

Miller got safely through romance. He staggered on aggregate, but got it right on the second try, in clear violation of rule 5, which said once is enough. He managed gullible and innocasin.

Licked On Mayonnaise.

Cochran handled bicycle and crescent but was licked on mayonnaise. He tried that one twice without getting close.

Hechler passed through available, geranium, abdomen, and fallacious.

On selenograph Carolyn rolled her eyes to the sky, tried C for a starter, and was ruled out under rule 5.

Miller collapsed under tonsillectomy.

Workers Build Concrete Border For Deadly Crop

Workers Build Concrete Border For Deadly Crop
By MYRON FEINSLBER
United Press International

WOOSTER, Ohio (UPI)—Workers here have started building a concrete foot-high border around an acre of farmland which is destined to grow perhaps the world's deadliest crop.

Next spring, agronomists will seed the land with corn, hay, soybeans and possibly wheat, then spray it with a potent solution of water and strontium 90, a radioactive material.

Then the field will receive the normal amounts of fertilizers and attention any farmer in the northern Ohio region would give his crops.

The purpose is to determine the effect of radioactive fallout on crops. The experiment could continue for half a century.

Ohio State University, which operates an agricultural station here, is conducting the research under an $85,000 Atomic Energy Commission grant.

Strontium 90, a material somewhat less dangerous but similar in behavior to strontium 90, the deadly by-product of a nuclear explosion, will be used the first year to cut the risk of contamination as farmhands with Ph.D. degrees tend the crops.

In 1960, the strontium 90 will be sprayed on natural virgin wooded areas near here and in other parts of Ohio to measure its effects on growing trees.

The experiment is the only one in the country to be conducted on farmlands under natural conditions, Mortensen said. Experimenters have conducted similar research in greenhouses, he said.

Parliament In Revolt Against Sukarno Plan

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

The question arises in a nation unstable both politically and economically, just how stable is the government of Indonesia's President Sukarno.

Sukarno, a successful revolutionary but so far a failure as an administrator, this week was forced into a decision he disliked. He returned from a nine-and-a-half-week round-the-world "god-will" tour to find his Parliament in revolt against his "guided democracy" plan, and national inflation in such a state that first families quietly were selling jewels, furniture, clothing for something to eat.

Sukarno promised quick, decisive action.

His action was to dissolve Parliament and, by decree, to abolish the nation's provisional constitution.

He thereby assumed to himself virtual dictatorial powers.

For Sukarno, it was an unpleasant decision on two counts.

First, he is by nature a compromiser and the easier course would have been once more to seek a compromise among Indonesia's warring political parties and by other compromises to look for a way out of the labyrinth of other difficulties ranging from inflation to revolt.

Second, it appeared the decision was not Sukarno's own, but the Army's.

For the first time in the history of independent Indonesia, Sukarno himself was on the spot, without the shield of a premier who might be blamed for national ills.

His first aim was to abolish opposition from political parties. The government he planned would consist of a cabinet not based on parties, an advisory council composed of experts appointed by Sukarno, and finally, a peoples congress wherein presidential appointees also would hold the balance of power.

Question of Stability

From top to bottom, it is to be a Sukarno government.

The question of the stability of Sukarno's own tenure arises in the Indonesian army, and particularly in the attitude of its chief of staff, Lt. Gen. Abdul Harris Nasution.

Nasution is a 39-year-old officer who is as intolerant of communism as Sukarno is tolerant.

Nasution telegraphed Sukarno's punch days in advance by revealing the nature of Sukarno's coming decree. He also is believed to be the man who forced it upon Sukarno.

The present situation could be called a military coup with a difference. While all sessions are open to the public and will be of interest to all Bible students, the highlight of the gathering is the public Bible lecture "When God Speaks

International Trade Fair.

Fair officials said they honored a tour of the exhibits, containing products from all parts of the world, would be an eye-opener for the Russian official.

The trade fair's motto is "World peace through world trade." Richard Reeves, managing director of the fair, said fair officials wanted Kozlov "to see the interchange of experience and ideas which is creating better understanding among nations."

Kozlov and his party were to leave by plane for Pittsburgh after spending 30 or 45 minutes viewing the two miles of exhibits.

The Russian official got a look at widely differing aspects of life in Mid-America Thursday. He toured rich corn belt country 55 miles southwest of Chicago, then had a night out at an exclusive North Shore country club and music festival.

He pulled his ear lobes, scratched his nose and lightly applauded most of the number by the Chicago Symphony Orchestra at the Ravinia Music Festival but leaped to his feet and led a standing ovation when pianist Byron Janis concluded the program with Tchaikovsky's First Piano Concerto.

Kozlov, who heard Van Cliburn play the number during his triumphant Moscow appearances, diplomatically refused to say how he thought Cliburn and Janis compared.

The Russians, who faced 100 placard-waving pickets early in the day at City Hall, were picked up at a "Ravina" and the swank Indian Hill Country Club at Wilmette.

A single picket at the entrance to the music festival grounds carried a sign reading: "Keep Kozlov and company from infiltrating."

At the country club, three American Legionnaires picketed with signs reading: "Why isn't Mr. Kozlov behind bars?" and "Kozlov—Your embassy says Russia will murder a third of all Americans when they conquer us."

EPIDEMIC OF POLIO EYED

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—Health officials feared today that Des Moines' polio epidemic, the first in the nation this year, would spread throughout the state because of public apathy toward inoculation.

Des Moines, Iowa's capital city, and surrounding Polk County have had 69 polio cases this year. Three of the patients have died. One hundred chapters of the National Foundation in Iowa were alerted to battle the disease and Salk polio vaccine was shipped to all but three of the state's 99 counties.

Doctors pleaded with residents to get inoculations but said people in general, and teen-agers in particular, were not responding well.

Dr. James F. Speers, the city's health director here, said he "wouldn't be a bit surprised if the epidemic sweeps across the state."

"Iowa has a very poor vaccination record," he said.

Speers said Des Moines, with about one-tenth of the state's population, has used half the public health-dispensed vaccine in the last few years.

They wanted to worship God according to the dictates of their own conscience," he added.

Smith stated that some individuals would be equally alarmed to see Christianity practiced or abandoned. He cited the case of the man who didn't want to live in a church-less community but took no stand for any church.

The speaker was introduced by Bob Hamilton, B. G. Gordon presided in the absence of Boss Lion Byron St. Clair.

Human Energy

For thousands of years human beings existed precariously with hunger as their constant companion. To all but a tiny minority, comforts or luxuries were virtually unknown.

As quickly as some men discovered that they actually did control their own individual energies, they began acting as though they were true. The results of such actions are nowhere so evident as they are in this country.

Paternalism

We have expended considerable type, ink and effort in protesting the rise of paternalism in our nation. Soberly and like a man from some dank moor, our government has risen up over us to comfort and care for us from the cradle to the grave.

which we decry at the hands of government, has altogether too frequently been first practiced by these creative and productive souls. Governments are rarely, if ever, innovators. The concept that some people must take care of other people, can be traced immediately to the well-springs of the productive minority.

The Pampa Daily News YOUR FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is not license. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, The Ten-Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

BETTER JOBS

By H. C. ROUES Spirit Of Freedom Needed

As the various governments are infringing on man's inalienable rights, even much more so than they were in America prior to 1776, we need to reeducate our lives to bringing about the spirit that existed as expressed by John Adams at the Congress in Philadelphia, that was considering breaking away from the British government.

"Sink or swim, live or die, survive or perish, I give my hand and my heart to this vote. It is true, indeed, that in the beginning we aimed not at independence. But there's a Divinity which shapes our ends. The injustice of England has driven us to arms; and, blinded to her own interest for our good, she has obstinately persisted, till independence is now within our grasp. We have but to reach forth to it, and it is ours."

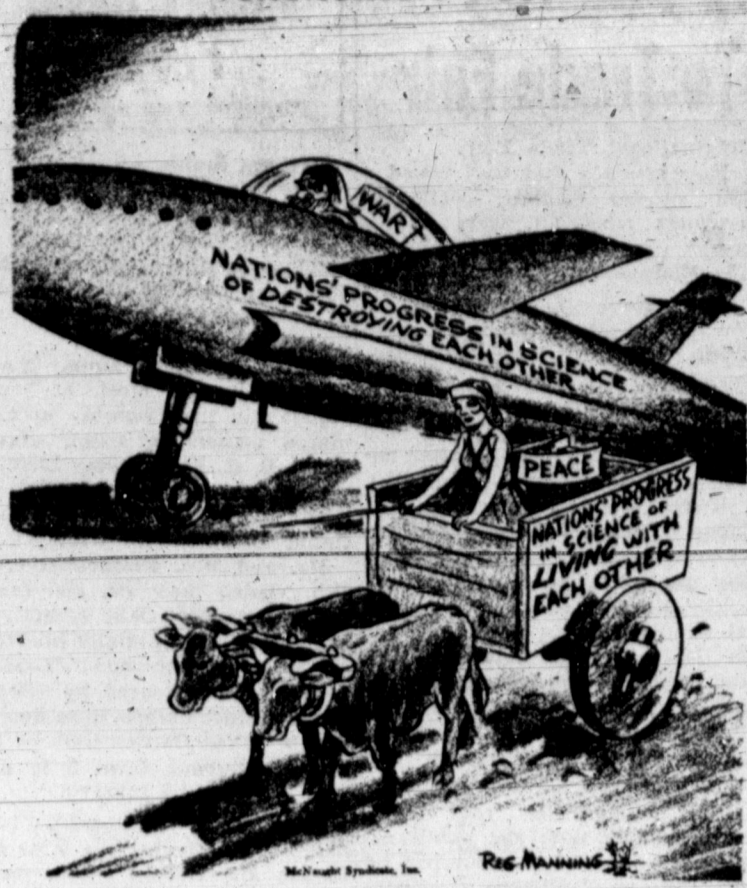

"If it be the pleasure of Heaven that my country shall require the poor offering of my life, the victim shall be ready. . . . But while I do live, let me have a country, or at least the hope of a country, and that a free country."

"Through the thick gloom of the present, I see the brightness of the future, as the sun in heaven. We shall make this a glorious, an immortal day. When we are in our graves, our children will honor it. They will celebrate it with thanksgiving, with festivity, with bonfires, and illuminations. On its annual return they will shed tears, copious, gushing tears, not of subjection and slavery, not of agony and distress, but of exultation, of gratitude, of joy."

England was not at that time trying to regulate the lives of the people in America as the various governments of the United States are trying to regulate the lives of American citizens today. Men were free to make contracts with each other. They were free to raise what they wanted to on their farms. They were free to work for anyone who wanted to hire them without the consent of a "union party."

dependents. On such a basis, the free market ideal of something for something is maintained. No one imagines that he is a special being. Rather, each one realizes that he is a mature person of dignity and resource who must be dealt with as an adult and not as some whiny, sickly child.

Fair Enough

'Exit Laughing' Not Rated As Funny Book

by WESTBROOK PEGLER

The dismalness of humor is so firm that I shudder violently whenever I chance upon a compilation. This is a matter of regret to a devotee of, say, Finley Peter Dunne or Robert Benchley, for these and other friends who brightened little corners are personally precious in memory. Yet, it is not that they have failed. Humor itself proves fraudulent and silly.

"I am now ready here to stake upon it and I leave off as I began, that live or die, survive or perish, I give my hand and my heart to this vote. It is my living sentiment, and by the blessing of God it shall be my dying sentiment. Independence now, and independence forever."

It is true that England was restricting how they could sell their goods to foreign countries, and trying to prohibit them from manufacturing certain things. But men were free to educate their children the way they thought they should be educated; were not obliged to pay for schooling that they did not want to use, and in most colonies they were free to worship as they saw fit.

On such a basis, the free market ideal of something for something is maintained. No one imagines that he is a special being. Rather, each one realizes that he is a mature person of dignity and resource who must be dealt with as an adult and not as some whiny, sickly child.

Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

NEW YORK — CUFF NOTES: All those gun-swinging Western TV gals may look as pretty as flowers as they draw a bead of the villains, but the prettiest gunslinger to come along in years is for real. . . . She is Haya Harareet, the girl star of the movie, "Ben Hur," and thanks to two years of training and service in the Israeli army she really can duty at the border, taken part in defense against one raid from across the border and her rifle range score is exceptionally high.

Sociologist of the Eastern area confesses himself puzzled by a 4 per cent drop in marriages in the last year. . . . What's so mystifying, when shoes you paid $12 for 10 years ago are now exactly $24 or twice the price? . . . And that goes for everything including rent, cars, clothes, food, taxes and so on. . . . I'll never understand the constant strikes and violence to achieve higher wages to meet the higher prices and so on until we are all stranded. . . . A famous vice-president of the United States once said, as we all know to the point of nausea, that what this country needed was a good 5-cent cigar. . . . What it also may need before this stifling spiral gets us all in a depression to shake things back to normal. . . . We are strangling ourselves in a never-ending race between climbing wages and climbing prices. . . . What good does it do to earn $38 more today than you did for the same work 10 years ago when prices set up $4.78 of the same money for the same goods?

It has been said times beyond count that two of the largest cities in the United States — New York and Los Angeles — contain the most insular areas: Broadway and Hollywood. . . . Probably true, as I have found recently in talks to visitors from other states and cities. . . . They see the plays the critics rave — and hate them; they see the big musical hits the critics loved — and hate them, saying they are tasteless, undistinguished shows. . . . Is a New York critic, having to see about 130 things a year, blunted and unable to match his thinking to that of the public? . . . Probably. . . . The only ground on which this reporter seems to feel secure and firm is in the area of restaurants. . . . He hasn't yet been told that some restaurant he has recommended is inferior or disappointing. . . . But, then, visitors are usually polite people and not likely to challenge a point of view or food as readily as a point of view on theater. . . . Which reminds: several prospective visitors have asked if New York has Hindu, Algerian, Japanese or Polish restaurants, among other national groups. . . . It certainly has and you find their names and addresses in the "yellow pages" immediately. . . . You look up restaurants in the classified telephone directory and there you also find a grouping of restaurants by nationality, usually about page 1512. . . . Ukrainian and Syrian restaurants, for example, are easy to locate and if you know and like Japanese cooking go to 38 East 58th Street to the East of Suzer. . . . Or pure Brazilian at 215 East 58th Street, a place called Semons.

Remember when a Hollywood wedding was a sure thing for the headlines? . . . Now they have to go to Paris, Istanbul, Hong Kong or Sumatra to claim attention. . . . Getting married in Hollywood is like getting married in the A.P. . . . Come to think about it, a wedding in the A.P. would get headlines. . . . It would be unusual enough.

Michigan Tourist Conceals Citizenship!

By HENRY MCLEMORE

NURNBERG — There was no missing him the moment you walked into the lobby. "No," Mr. Smith said. "I am not. It isn't easy to do the habits and customs of a time in the time it takes to the Atlantic. But, if American tourists are the hores and boars I have been led to believe they are, noisy, demanding, bragging, getting upstairs, then I'll try to keep 'European' from knowing I'm one."

How could an American tourist possibly be a good-will ambassador, and win friends and influence abroad, if no one recognized him as an American?

Mr. Smith could not help but be critical of my sports shirt and jacket. "You are undermining the Department," he said. "As I was leaving, he asked in a whisper, what I would do if I heard 'The Star Spangled Banner' played over here. I told him I'd stand up. 'Gee, I hope I have the guts if I ever hear it,' he said."

WARMINSTER, England (UPI) — Pippa, a Siamese cat, chased a fox out of her mistress' chicken yard today, and then lost a fight with a mouse. Mrs. Maureen Aston said the fox fled after a bright with Pippa. But a few hours later, a field mouse bit the cat so severely she required veterinary treatment.

WELLS FARGO "HELD UP"

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (UPI) — J. T. Sprinkle locked the keys inside his Wells Fargo armored truck. J. T. Fani Jr., manager of a City National Bank branch, burgled it out for him, with pieces of chewing gum on the seat of a wire coat hanger, inserted through one of the truck's gaps.

The female lobster lays from 5,000 to 100,000 eggs. She carries them about for some 10 months, glued to the swimmerets under her tail. As soon as they hatch, the mother fans the babies away and they start out on their own. All through its life the lobster continues to grow and molt its armored skin whenever it outgrows it. During the first year, it molts from 14 to 17 times. When it grows older it molts not more than once a year.

There's a feeling of opulence and elegance in the new fall fashions. It's shown here in coats both with and without fur trim. Black-and-white striped tweed coat (left) by Montezano and Pruzan has half-belt at back to control fullness. Front is cut with wide, open dropped collar. Beautiful and luxurious coat (center) in honey-beige cashmere has enormous collar and tuxedo front of river offer. This is a wrap coat which is neither bulky nor heavy. It's an Originala design. Straight double-breasted coat (right) in oatmeal tweed is by George Carmel. It's cut with high, wide notched collar and half-belt at the back for slight shaping. All three of these coats are designed to go easily over suits.

Coats Feature Every Furry Pelt In Fashion's Forecast For Autumn

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK (NEA) — There's a look of opulence and elegance in fall coats for 1939. Some of this look derives from the lavish use of fur trim but even the untrimmed fabric coats have an air of luxury. This air of luxury is expressed in three important silhouettes: the loosely belted coat, the full coat and the straight coat with wide shoulders and big notched collar of fur or fabric.

Pretty Sun-Seekers

Two young halteres and a simple blouse — all in one pattern! Sew all three for suntime.

The double-breasted overcoat with notched fur collar is reminiscent of the Edwardian era when men wore just such coats. But for 1939, it has been translated into a definitely feminine and wearable version.

Coffee Parfait Is Dieter's Dream

It's not often that dieters can enjoy a lovely, sweet dessert — complete with whipped cream — and know that they're still within their calorie limit. Well, here's a confession that's both low in calories and truly delicious. It's Vanilla Coffee Jelly Parfait, a heavenly dessert with a deep, downy coffee — vanilla flavor. When it's served with tiny cups of demitasse coffee (no cream, please!), you have a combination that everyone, including those lucky non-dieters, will simply adore.

VANILLA COFFEE JELLY PARFAIT
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1 cup cold strong coffee
2 cups hot strong coffee
1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon vanilla
1 package dessert topping, whipped
Soften gelatin in cold coffee. Dissolve in hot coffee. Add sugar, stir until dissolved. Cool and add vanilla. Chill until slightly thickened. Reserve enough whipped topping for garnish. Fold remainder into thickened coffee jelly until a marbled effect is obtained. Spoon into parfait glasses. Garnish with reserve topping. Makes 4 to 6 servings, depending on size of glasses.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What can be done about telephone soliciting? I get so annoyed when I must run to the telephone in the midst of bathing the baby. Or am awakened from a much-needed nap to hear someone tell of a special offer the cleaners or photographers are having. I have always given a polite reply, but have been tempted to tell them off. If I removed the receiver from the hook, I'd risk throwing my line out of order. Then, too, I might miss an important call. I have considered complaining to the Telephone Company. Is there a solution?

DEAR MRS. S.: The next time you are annoyed by this way of the party calling you did not appreciate being disturbed. When merchants realize that they are defeating their purpose and building ill will, they will discontinue this annoying practice.

Pool Room Entrances Converted To Play-Off Places During Summer Time

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

Small, wet and slightly sandy trails tracking across the lead to a familiar summer scene — a soggy little pool of nothing suit and an equally soggy towel, waiting to be dispersed by mother and hung up.

MATURE PARENT

MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

A child Mrs. R. was often reared for "sulking."

she was silent and withdrawn punishment; her mother's reprimand. "In the sulks again?" she didn't laugh at her big brother's teasing. She was asked, "Are you sulking again?" If a visiting relative commended her bed, her brother, preparing her lumpy cot, old whisper, "Don't let Auntie see you sulking like that, don't know what she'll think."

LITTLE LIZZY

It's a slum, Mrs. R. at once she thinking, "Oh, well, we're only once. What if it is a lot night?" And she goes up to reverse her "No" — not because she's really changed her mind, but because she's terrified into lapse of good will between herself and other people.

The First Baptist Church of Pampa has secured two of the most outstanding evangelists in the Southern Baptist Convention to lead the church and community in a revival beginning Sunday and closing July 19.

These men are Angel Martinez of Fort Smith, Ark., and Frank Boggs of Atlanta, Ga. The services will be held daily, Tuesday through Friday at 10 a.m., and the evening services, Monday through Saturday at 7:30.

Angel Martinez, the 37 year old dynamic, outstanding Baptist evangelist, was born in San Antonio, Sept. 20, 1922 of Latin-American parents. His father was born in Spain and his mother in Mexico. Angel Martinez was converted in a Baptist Mission in San Antonio in July, 1935, at the age of 13, and preached his first sermon in September of that year. Immediately he began to get invitations for revivals and has averaged better than a sermon-a-day during the past 20 years.

Martinez conducted 51 revivals in Louisiana during the four years of seminary life. The dynamic young man of God has preached in most of the largest Southern Baptist Churches, and has returned as many as three or four times to

ANGEL MARTINEZ ... evangelist

FRANK BOGGS ... song leader

He is author of four books: "Revival At Midnight," "The Fountain Of Youth," "The Logic Of Tragedy," and "The Destiny Of The Species."

"A genuine spiritual treat is in store for every person who hears this messenger of God," Dr. E. Douglas Carver, pastor, said today.

Frank Boggs is also a Texan, and is the son of the late Ivy Boggs and Mrs. Ivy Boggs of Dallas. He is a graduate of Baylor University with a B. A. degree with the class of 1938. He is also a graduate of the Southwest Baptist Seminary of Fort Worth with a Bachelor degree of sacred music. He studied in Princeton, N. J., with the Westminster Choir College. Boggs is a graduate of Columbia University, New York City, with a M. A. degree, which he received in 1934. He was elected to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" in his junior and senior years at Baylor.

Boggs will sing solos and direct the congregation during the revival effort, and will be presented with the choir of the First Baptist Church in special hymn arrangements and spirituals during the services next week.

The citizens of Pampa and surrounding territory are extended a most cordial invitation to attend any or all of these services, stated Dr. Carver.

ENJOYING ROUND UP

the team has reached youth and adults through a Fellowship Round Up Program. The week's activities will climax tonight with a Chuck Wagon supper.

Versatile Students Lead Round-up

By WALLACE TRUEDELLE Daily News Church Editor

Teenage youths come to the church seeking answers to four of the oldest questions of day-to-day existence, according to Bill Koberg, a Texas Christian University junior from Fort Worth.

Koberg and his partner, Audrey Long, a TCU junior from Albuquerque, N.M., wind up a Fellowship Round-Up week tonight at the First Christian Church.

The TCU students have met with the young people every morning in informal discussion groups. Koberg has preached in the evening, and held sessions with adults while Miss Long led recreation.

What are some of the questions that youth asks of the church? There are four big ones: 1) How did I get here? 2) What am I here for? 3) Where am I going? 4) Is there a God?

Miss Long points out that even great ministers doubt the existence of God at times. She suggests that there is room in religion for honest doubt. There is also room for plenty of recreation, as she proves every night.

Koberg is doing a good job of preaching and may decide to enter the ministry. Miss Long is determined to be an education director. As such she has gotten a good start.

Round Up week will climax tonight at 8:30 with a Chuck Wagon supper served in the roped-off street in front of the church. The kids are planning a talent show.

followed by communion. As of Thursday one act had been booked. A jazz combo.

"Every Round-Up is different," they say. And this is their fourth. They held the first program in Van Alstine in June. They came here from Plano and will open in Garland next week.

By September they will have conducted nine Round-Ups, with a week off for the State Youth Convention opening Aug. 1 in Fort Worth.

The pair went into spring training April 5 at TCU, taking their formal training in Cleveland.

They have found it necessary to adapt their program to meet the needs of each group and, judging by the response here, are as adaptable as they come.

This summer's Round Up theme is "That the World May Know." This is an evangelistic theme showing that the mission field is someplace besides abroad.

This is the third consecutive year that the local church has been host to a Round Up team. Most churches have Round Ups every other year.

The Pampa Round-Up is a highlight of the summer program and, like other Round Ups, draws in members of other churches and denominations in the area.

Groups from Amarillo, Borger, Stinnett, Shamrock, Spearman, Stratford and Plainview have vis-

Christian-Adventure Week Begins July 19 For First Methodist Intermediates

"Plow Your Own Field" will be the sermon topic discussed by the Rev. Woodrow Adcock at the two morning services of the local First Methodist Church. The 8:30 service is broadcast over Radio 8 & 10 on KPND. The special anthem for the 8:30 service will be "All Praise To Thee" by Tallis sung by the Carol and Wesley Chorus. The special music for the 10:35 service will be the anthem, "Rise Oh My Soul" by Palma sung by the Sanctuary Singers.

Sunday Evening Fellowship will begin at 6 with a light supper for the entire family in Fellowship Hall. At 8:30 children, youth, and adults, will separate for one-hour of planned activities, according to interest and needs. The Sunday night service at 7:30 will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. Adcock, who will speak on the subject, "Helping Without Hurting."

The special music for the evening service will be sung by the MYF Singers.

The adult course, "Know Your Bible," will be taught by the pastor at 8:30.

The Intermediate Department's "Christian Adventure Week" will begin July 19 continuing through July 24. The study theme for the week is "The Spirit of the Holy Ghost."

Some other questions asked by teenagers are: What is there about our religion that makes it different from other religions? Why are we Christians and not Mohammedans or Buddhists? How can we be Christian witnesses?

Koberg reports that older people are asking questions, too. They are most concerned with the needs of the youth.

The Round-Up leaders believe that local churches are meeting the needs of youth through Sunday night fellowships and summer activities.

"Keep them busy, keep their lives occupied," says Koberg. He says that teenagers would rather be in the coolness of church drinking cokes than out on the hot pavement.

In the morning sessions, young people are being taught the committees of the church and learning how to shoulder responsibility.

Davis Will Open Revival Sunday

A summer youth revival is set to begin Sunday evening at 7:45 at the Assembly of God Church, Skellytown, Pastor Robert Byars announced today.

Speaking at the two-week revival will be the Rev. Charles V. Davis, pastor of South Lawn Assembly of God Church, Amarillo. Davis has pastored in this district for a number of years and has conducted evangelistic campaigns throughout the nation.

Services will be conducted each evening except Saturday beginning at 7:45 during the next two weeks.

Rev. Byars announced that the revival will be for both young and old of the entire church and community.

Christ Scientists Will Hear About 'Sacrament'

The spiritual power of Christ Jesus' teachings and example will be emphasized Sunday at Christian Science services in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Sacrament."

One of the key statements of Jesus to be read from the Bible is this from John (6:63): "It is the spirit that quickeneth; the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life."

Correlative citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include (25:26-31): "Imperfect faith in the Teacher and all the emotional love we can bestow on him... will never alone make us imitators of him. We must go and do likewise, else we are not improving the great blessings which our Master worked and suffered to bestow upon us."

The Golden Text is from II Corinthians (13:14): "The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all."

Brush-Arber Church Meet

Rev. E. C. Lagmay ... Filipino Evangelist

The Rev. E. C. Lagmay, Th. B., is holding a two-week meeting of real old-fashioned Brush-Arber evangelism in the Old Mobeette Assembly of God Church Sunday. Services are held at 7:30 each evening through July 19.

Rev. Lagmay is a graduate of Glad Tidings Institute (now Bethany College), Santa Cruz, Calif., and Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, Ill.

According to Rev. Jerry Holder, Pastor of the Mobeette Assembly of God Church, Rev. Lagmay (the Filipino Evangelist) has been holding meetings since 1925. He has preached in approximately 270 churches, in both the United States and Canada. He accompanies himself and the congregational hymn singing on banjo, guitar, mandolin and ukulele. He sings in English and Filipino dialects.

Defense Loan Funds Offered At Wayland

PLAINVIEW (SpL) Wayland Baptist College will offer $10,000 in National Defense Loan Funds available for superior students this fall, according to H. L. Mitchum, college business manager to whom applications should be sent. Only full-time superior students are eligible, according to the provisions of the grant from the United States Office of Education. However, students who commute to the campus daily are eligible if their academic records are sufficiently high.

The policy that prompted Congress's passing the National Defense Education Act includes these statements: "... the security of the nation requires the fullest development of the mental resources and technical skills of its young men and women. We must increase our efforts to identify and educate more of the talent of our nation. This requires programs that will give assurance that no student of ability will be denied an opportunity for higher education because of financial need."

Because of the shortage of qualified teachers which has developed in recent years and which is expected to continue to increase, the government has made a provision for the cancellation of a part of this loan as a special inducement. The law provides that up to 50 percent may be cancelled, including interest, for five years of teaching in an elementary or secondary school.

CAKE-BATTERED WIFE
APPLETON Wis. (UPI)—William Van Linn, 38, sentenced to two years' probation for beating his wife, told the court he did it because she wouldn't bake him a cake. "Bakery cakes aren't as good as my wife's homemade ones," he said.

A&M Scientists Study Results Of Radiation

COLLEGE STATION (UPI) — While the controversy over dangers of dumping atomic wastes into the sea rages in Washington, Texas A&M scientists are studying what effect it has on fish.

The Atomic Energy Commission gave the Texas A&M Research Foundation a $51,800 grant to support the study.

The controversy recently erupted when U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough of Texas criticized the AEC for allowing radioactive waste substances to be dumped into the Gulf of Mexico off the Texas coast.

He said it could endanger fish and humans.

Since then, the AEC has slowed down its program of authorizing the dumping of atomic wastes in the Gulf, and drew praise from Yarborough. The AEC said it would study results of the dumping.

Part of these studies are being done by the A&M department of oceanography and meteorology.

Dr. R. G. Bader, associate professor of oceanography, and Dr. K. M. Rae, director of the department's marine laboratories, are heading the study.

They said the important issue is whether radioactive substances dumped in the sea become trapped in deposits at the bottom and are permanently removed from circulation.

If it is possible, they say, that

REJECT AIRMAN'S APPEAL

LONDON (UPI)—The U.S. Air Force today rejected an appeal by M. Sgt. Marcus M. Marymont, 27, of Hobbesville, N.C., who was sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of his wife here last year.

Maj. Gen. Ernest Moore, Third Air Force commander, approved the court martial findings delivered against Marymont last December. The case was being forwarded to a military review board in Washington.

Ten Tips Issued On Cutting Wind Damage

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Ten tips on ways to cut down loss of life and property damage in hurricanes were issued Thursday by Robert C. Edson, disaster chief of the American Red Cross.

He prefaced the safety rules with a warning that two storms already have boiled up in the Gulf Atlantic and Gulf areas should stand on the "ready" until the end of October.

Edson's tips:

1. Follow official weather bureau reports closely in newspapers and on radio and TV.
2. Store garden furniture, tools, awnings and other such objects in a safe place. They could become lethal weapons in a storm.
3. Board up windows and put storm shutters in place.
4. If you're told to evacuate, don't delay. A minute could save your life.
5. Don't run the risk of being marooned. Get away and stay away from low-lying areas, beaches or other places likely to be swept by ocean winds and high tides.
6. Stay indoors, preferably in a brick or concrete building.
7. Stay away from windows.
8. If the center or "eye" of the storm passes directly overhead, there will be a deceptive lull, lasting as long as 30 minutes. Stay where you are. The wind will return from the opposite direction — with perhaps greater force.
9. Fill bathtub, bottles and cooking utensils with water. Keep extra food, which does not require cooking, handy. Be sure to have a flashlight or candle in the event of a power failure.
10. Don't touch fallen wires. Report such damage to police or power companies.

VETO PEN POISED

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower kept his veto pen poised today for possible use on a billion dollar public works bill which would give the green light to scores of new projects that do not want. Senate and House conferees will try to compromise differences in the separate versions passed by each chamber.

Eisenhower has recommended

RAPE-SLAYER TO DIE

Matter of FACT

It is not known exactly how many persons live in Latin America, but a reasonable guess would be somewhere around 165,000,000. This means that although Latin America makes up about one-fifth of all the world's inhabited lands, it has only about one-fourteenth of the world's people. These people are not evenly spread, however. The island of Barbados, for example, is densely populated with more than 1,000 people living in each square mile.
